

PAY INCREASES VOTED FOR ALL CITY EMPLOYEES

Tax Revenues Below Estimates, Govt. Moves For Reduction In Expenditures

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The administration, faced with failure of tax revenue to reach estimates, began tightening federal purse strings today.

President Roosevelt instructed heads of all government agencies to effect an immediate curtailment of expenditures for the remainder of the fiscal year.

Secretary Wallace promptly announced $50 workers would be removed from the agricultural adjustment administration payroll at the end of this month.

Mr. Roosevelt's order yesterday said the expenditure cut would be necessary to prevent the deficit from being far greater than the $2,652,454,000 estimate.

Treasury officials said they did not know how much could be whittled from the projected expenditures, but asserted substantial cuts probably could be effected.

There was conjecture over whether other department heads would follow Wallace's lead in slashing employment rolls.

The president will send to congress next week revised budget estimates for both the 1937 and 1938 fiscal years, together with his estimate of relief needs for the latter.

Led by Senator Byrnes (D-SC), some prominent democratic senators are proposing a cut in relief spending. Byrnes is surveying the financial conditions of states to determine whether they could take over a larger portion of the relief load next year.

Through April 10, the treasury had collected $1,532,645,000 from income taxes, or $440,000,000 less than the original estimate for the entire year. At $700,272,000, March collections fell about $140,000,000 under informal estimates.

Mr. Roosevelt recalled he had ordered departments to slash expenditures last year, but said the instructions did not go into effect until late in May. The earlier demand this year, he said, should make possible larger savings.

Wage-Hour Program May Be Put Ahead Of Court Measure

Roosevelt May Soon Submit Recommendations On Minimum Pay, Maximum Working Time Legislation

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Administration leaders, long insistent that the judiciary reorganization bill had precedence over wage and hour legislation, reconsidered their strategy today in the light of the supreme court's Wagner act decisions.

President Roosevelt's advisers expect to complete soon a new set of recommendations of minimum wage and maximum hour standards. These may be transmitted to congress regardless of the court bill's status.

Advances On An Average Of 11 Pct.

Adjustments On An Individual Basis Made By Commission

FIRST BOOST SINCE DEPRESSION CUTS

Annual Municipal Payroll Stepped Up To More Than $64,000

Big Spring city commissioners Tuesday night surveyed a sound financial position, operating needs for the new fiscal year, the rise in living costs, general advance in business and industry payrolls—and took action toward pay adjustments for all city employees with the result that every permanent worker was granted a wage increase.

Effective April 1

The increase was made effective as of April 1, start of the fiscal year, and will be reflected in checks issued April 15.

The pay hikes, coming at the first meeting of the reorganized commission since the annual election, were not "blanket" in nature, but were based on seniority, responsibility, class of duties, performance and future requirements of each individual employee. Commissioners spent considerable time in going over the entire payroll, making adjustments to fit each case.

Increases, as a result, varied, but the average was approximately 11 per cent.

The annual payroll outlay was advanced from $57,400 to $64,170. Uniform increases were granted to such departmental groups as firemen, etc.

Britain Sea Policy Attacked

BUS SERVICE DUE TO START HERE IN THE NEXT 10 DAYS

Inauguration of scheduled bus service in Big Spring within ten days was indicated in a letter received by the city administration Wednesday from the Hughes-White Truck company. The firm some time ago was granted a franchise for operation in the city.

The company wrote delay in starting scheduled here was occasioned by a hitch in delivery of buses, this being caused by labor troubles. It is planned, however, the letter said, to have buses here to start schedules within ten days.

Two buses will be put on routes here at the outset.

'Surrender' Is Charged

Refusal To Protect Food Ships In Bilbao Zone Draws Fire

LONDON, April 14 (AP)—Angry labor forces demanded a house of commons vote of censure today for Great Britain's conservative government, declaring in a bitter onslaught the cabinet of the greatest maritime nation had "run up the white flag" to help Spanish insurgents "starve out women and children."

The attack, led by Major Clement A. Attlee, leader of His Majesty's opposition, was pointed straight at the cabinet's refusal—in the interest of neutrality—to protect British food ships entering besieged Bilbao, capital of the Basque regime which is loyal to the Spanish government.

"Surrender of Right"

In stinging phrases Attlee called this refusal "a surrender of the right of this country."

He launched a full dress debate on the government's Spanish policy in the house of commons, while conservative ship owners, likewise angered, joined laborites in condemnation of the Bilbao decision.

An insurgent blockade has driven British food ships away from Bilbao, where hundreds of thousands of refugees, forced into the city by insurgent land armies, are described as hungry. Britain has sent the H.M.S. Hood, world's greatest warship, to the Bilbao vicinity, but has announced she cannot protect her merchant ships only while they are outside the Spanish territorial three-mile limit.

Attlee, moving a vote of censure against the government, cried that its action, designed to prevent international incidents, was "acquiescence in a grave breach of international law."

Farm Checks Nearing The $200,000 Mark

Over 1,000 New Payments Received In Soil Program

Benefit payments from the 1936 federal soil conservation and building program Wednesday neared the $200,000 mark with reception of 1,202 checks for 10 per cent of the original payments.

The 10 per cent checks amounted to $13,371.25.

In addition 24 full payment checks were received by the county agent for distribution and amounted to $5,344.53.

Total amount received by producers for participation in the program has amounted to $192,373.22. The payments were made in a total of 2,238 checks, about one-third of which were originally for full payment.

Whether there will be additional payments for compliance in the program remains problematical, however, there are indications that the end of the checks may be in sight for participation in the 1936 program.

First estimates on total amount of benefit payments for the year were pegged at $240,000, but adjustments and changes caused the figure to be hammered down to where the $200,000 mark may now be a top figure.

Narcotic Law Is Approved

Both Houses Complete Statute For Rigid Enforcement

AUSTIN, April 14 (AP)—The legislature sent the governor today a bill by Rep. E. H. Thornton of Galveston strengthening the state's anti-narcotic laws. Governor Allred had said in a special message that Texas statutes against dope dealers were among the weakest in the union.

Action became final when the senate concurred in senate amendments.

The senate resumed consideration of a constitutional amendment proposing a two per cent sales tax. The first subject under discussion was a substitute calling for higher natural resources levies instead of the sales impost. Governor Allred at his press conference reiterated his opposition to the sales tax.

The house killed a senate bill which would have permitted one school district to annex part of another without a vote of the majority of the people in the second.

A bill making a $15,500 emergency appropriation to the state water board, including $10,000 for the underground water surveys, became law when filed without the governor's signature.

Bills signed by the governor included one requiring use of the public auction method in lease of the University of Texas lands for mineral development, a second authorizing lease of A. and M. college experimental station lands and a third providing for state assumption of bonds issued for a state highway bridge between Weslaco and Freeport.

President In Peace Talk

Mutual Confidence, Positive Cooperation Are Urged

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today continued maintenance and improvement of democracy, mutual confidence and positive cooperation form the most important guarantees of a durable world peace.

The president, addressing the governing board of the Pan American Union of 21 American republics in observance of Pan American Day, asked a pledge to give practical effect to the 19 agreements to advance peace, trade and purchase, reached at the recent conference at Buenos Aires.

He recalled his own attendance at the conference, and told the gathering of diplomats in the white marble Pan American building near the White House:

"The deepest impression which I carried away was the potency of the unity of the Americas in developing democratic institutions in the new world and by example in helping the cause of world peace."

"Democracy can not thrive in an atmosphere of international insecurity. Such insecurity breeds militarism, regimentation, and the denial of freedom of speech, of peaceful assembly, and of religion. Such insecurity challenges the ideals of democracy based on the free choice of government by the people themselves."

Delegates to the Buenos Aires conference, he added, "well understand that peace is something more significant than the mere absence of conflict."

A durable peace, one that will resist the onslaught of untoward or temporary circumstance, he said, was something far more positive and constructive.

"It demands a policy based on positive international cooperation and mutual confidence, and our united efforts in the solution of problems of common concern."

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14 (AP)—C. V. McLaughlin, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, announced today that 8,500 Southern Pacific employees would strike at 6 p. m. Friday unless a satisfactory settlement of their demands was reached before then.

McLaughlin said he and C. H. Smith, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, had notified Southern Pacific officials of the impending action.

THREE KILLED IN KNIFE-GUN FIGHT

SAN MARCOS, April 14 (AP)—Three men were killed and another wounded seriously last night in a quarrel on a farm south of Martindale, about 12 miles from here.

The dead:

Justo Rodriguez, 24.
Felipe Tristan, 20.
Ernesto Tristan, 26.
Hilario Tristan, 33, father of Felipe and Ernesto, was in critical condition from a knife wound.

Jim Sangeron, Martindale deputy sheriff who investigated the case, said knives, guns and a hatchet were used.

He said he was encountering difficulty in obtaining details but had determined that Justo Rodriguez had knifed the Tristans, who shot him.

FRIDAY IS DEADLINE ON RAILWAY STRIKE

TRENTON, N. J., April 14 (AP)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman signed today a bill appropriating $25,000 to pay the reward offered by New Jersey for the arrest and conviction of the Lindbergh baby's kidnappers.

The governor, who under the law must decide who will receive the money, made no statement as he signed the bill, but his office said he planned to hold a private hearing to which all claimants would be invited.

PICK-UP OF TRASH TO BE REPEATED

B. J. McDaniel, superintendent of operations for the city, said today that city trucks would tour the city again in about 10 days to pick up trash.

The itinerary for the trucks was scheduled for this week, but very few persons had boxed or sacked trash. However, several expressed interest when the trucks called, and the city will repeat the performance, McDaniel said.

A. C. Hart left by train Wednesday for Albuquerque, N. M., where he will attend the Tri-State railroad convention.

Methods For Paving Street Work Mapped

Uniform Petition Agreement On Paving Adopted By City

Standard form of a petition for city paving, providing for three methods of financing the property owner's share of cost, was approved by the city commission Tuesday evening. The action was another step in the municipality's recently adopted plan of going forward with a surfacing program independent of federal aid, with the city and property owner dividing expense 50-50.

Petitions will be made available to those groups interested in getting streets paved, and formal work orders will be approved by the commission on a basis of priority and need for improvement.

Three Ways

The petition provides for property owners to pay in one of three ways:

1. Cash in advance of actual work.
2. Issuance of a promissory note to a bank or some responsible individual acceptable to the city, with statement from that bank or individual that the note will be paid on completion of the improvement.
3. Issuance of a mechanic's and materialman's lien contract on the property involved as security on a note to be paid within a year after work is completed, with attached agreement from a bank or satisfactory individual that they will purchase the note from the city on completion of the paving.

Methods of the financing agreed.

Water Survey

Other major items of Tuesday evening's commission meeting included the authorization of a voucher for $2,500 to be deposited with the state board of water engineers as Big Spring's share of the water survey to be made by the U. S. geological survey and the state board. This work, a $10,000 project, is expected to be started soon, and is designed to furnish detailed information as to future possibilities for the city's water supply, both surface and underground.

Returns of the April 6 election were canvassed at the start of the meeting, and Schermerhorn and Hall were declared elected, succeeding J. W. Allen and Lee Nall. Allen and Nall, present for that formally, retired after voicing their appreciation for work a $10,000 project, is expected to be started soon, and is designed to furnish detailed information as to future possibilities for the city's water supply, both surface and underground.

THE SPORTS CIRCUIT
Let The Other
Guy Pick, Then
Bet He's Wrong

BY TOM BEASLEY

THIS IS the week to make your baseball bets, writes George Kirksey of the United Press. Next Monday and Tuesday the season opens. The best system, so the experts tell us, is to let the other guy do the picking and then bet his wrong.

Here's what Kirksey has in his "little red betting book":
Detroit finishes ahead of the Yankees if Ruffing pulls into line.
Detroit, Cleveland or Washington wins the American league pennant, regardless of the Ruffing squabble.
The Cubs finish ahead of the Cardinals.
The Cincinnati Reds finish in the first division.
Brooklyn wins more games this season than last.
Neither New York club wins the pennant.
The Phillies sell a pitcher to a contender before June 15.
Schoolboy Rowe wins more games than Vern Kennedy.
Bob Feller wins 15 games and (2) strikes out more batters than Tommy Bridges, last year's leader.

Lee Grissom, Reds' rookie pitcher, wins more games than Cliff Melton, Giants' recruit.
Bill Werber, Athletics, steals more bases than Lyn Lary, Cleveland, last year's leader with 37.
Mickey Owen, Cards' highly touted rookie, doesn't hit .275.
The Reds engage in more fights on the diamond than the Dodgers.
Burleigh Grimes gets put out of more games than Frankie Frisch and Charlie Grimm together.

Gene Schott, Reds, wins more games than Lon Warneke, Cards.
Dixie Dean won't win 25 games.
Shanty Hogan, Senators' catcher, will outlast Ralston Hemsley of the Browns.
Billy Herman and Billy Jurge of the Cubs take part in more double plays than Dick Bartell and Burgess Whitehead of the Giants.
The Philadelphia Athletics finish ahead of the St. Louis Browns.
Van Mungo strikes out more batters than Dixie Dean.
Al Simmons hits more than 300.
Ernie Lombard, Reds, hits more than Al Todd, Pirates.
Hank Greenberg stages a comeback and (if he plays in 140 games) drives in more runs than Lou Gehrig.

JIMMY BATEMAN of Abilene, a visitor here today, said the Hollywood all-star football team (girls) drew a large crowd in Abilene, but not large enough. There was nothing left for the home club. Cold weather and a sand storm cut attendance.

BAYLOR'S BEARS may have compiled a poor hitting average in the Southwest conference baseball race, but this record is somewhat offset by the splendid field mark established by the Bruins. The Baylor players boast of a fielding average of .961, 15 points better than any team in the conference.

Home run leaders: Meyer (TCU) 2, O'Brien (TCU) 2, Dowling (A&M) 2.
3b hit leaders: Hurley (Rice) 2, 2b hit leaders: Dowling (A&M) 4, Meyer (TCU) 3, Rigby (T) 3, Williams (A&M) 3.
Stolen base leaders: Meyer (TCU) 4, Rigby (T) 3.
Pitching hit leaders: Russell (B) 2, Perry (T) 2.
Rigby is the leading hitter with an average of .347.

CHAMPION

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, April 14 (AP)—Four mayors prepared to throw four wild pitches and start the Texas baseball league on its forty seventh campaign at Dallas, Galveston, Houston and Tulsa today.

Threats of rain blended with summer temperatures and the weatherman wasn't too optimistic in forecasts for the opener.

Only one of the eight clubs, Galveston, appeared to be out of the experimental stage and actually set for the season. Others still had youngsters and unproven talent sprinkled through the lineup and indications were two or three weeks would pass before boxscores would carry the same names daily.

Greenest of all was Beaumont, with Manager Al Vincent and Mark Chrisman, infielders, the only veterans back from the '36 squad. Vincent, well supplied with the Detroit farm system's brightest rookies, was optimistic, however, and predicted a fast, first division club if the rookies got away on the right foot.

Fans were to be introduced not only to a flock of new players but managers as well. Only Alex Gasson of Dallas remained from the eight who started the '36 season. Outfielder Homer Post at Fort Worth, who jerked the Cats from dungeon surroundings into the pennant scramble at mid-season last year, was back.

At Tulsa, where the championship flag waves, Bruce Connater was at the helm; Jim Keesey at Oklahoma City; Hank Severid at Galveston; Zach Taylor at San Antonio; Johnny Watwood at Houston.

For the fifth season the clubs will scrap for berths in the Shughnessy playoff series, a titular round-robin for the first division teams. Tulsa romped on Dallas in the playoff last year and then went on to win the Dixie title.

Louie Litting has featured exhibition games with pitching suffering as a result. San Antonio's Missions, with an average of about ten hits per game, have looked as a potent offensive machine while Tulsa's hurling staff again appears strong.

Ed (Beartracks) Greer, veteran right-hander, will hurl for the Fort Worth Cats in the night opener at Dallas. Chick Autry will catch him. Manager Gasson has nominated Al Baker, young fast baller, for his mound chores with Frank Grube, a heavy hitting veteran, behind the plate. Umpires Naylor and Fells have been assigned to the game.

At Houston, either Lyons or own field this fall, writes Coach Tommy Thompson who has started spring training with a squad of about 30 players.
Following a couple of warm-up dates in September, the Yellowjackets will open conference play October 1 at Stanton. The following week-end Pecos will visit Kermit, and Wink and Kermit will tangle on the 29th of October.
The night of November 5 the Yellowjackets will take on the Midland Bulldogs in Midland, then return to Kermit to play Monahans Lobos on November 19, and the Crane team will visit Kermit on November 24 to close the season.

CHARLIE GRIMM GETS A GRILLING
Cub Boss Called On To Explain How He Picks Bench Warmers

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES, April 14 (AP)—The annual banquet tendered by the Chicago Cubs to Los Angeles and Chicago baseball writers went off in the usual style this year.

This means that it was a three-cornered exchange of insults, all in good fun and a lot of it clean, and a finale in which most of the razor-edged barbs were withdrawn with apologies.

Manager Charlie Grimm was the pre-arranged nominee for this year's target of sarcasm. With Los Angeles' Gene Coughlin as toastmaster, he was subjected to a "slow burn."

Grimm took it like a soldier and threw back a few choice epithets of his own.

Annually the Los Angeles firemen want to know why so-and-so from the Pacific Coast league hasn't gone over with the Cubs. Of recent years, Grimm has had to make what amounted to an annual report on George (Tuck) Stainback, the young outfielder who went up from here and has pined away on the bench since.

Stainback, a good hitter out here, has failed to deliver for the Cubs as far as Grimm is concerned. He is the young player who allegedly reported at Brooklyn's Ebbetts field for a game scheduled against the Giants in the Polo Grounds.

Another time, according to the Cubs, Stainback had a good day in the first game of a double-header. He failed to show up for the second tilt. Grimm found him in the clubhouse, dressed. He didn't know they were playing a double-header.

Anyway, Grimm reported Stainback was headed for a big year this season—or else.

Grimm too a trifle ribbing on Gene Lillard, third-baseman who led Coast league batters in 1935, and joined Stainback on the Cub bench last year.

"Who is the best third-baseman you ever saw?" the toastmaster asked a speaker.

"Why, Gene Lillard, of course," was the answer in all seriousness.

"And was he a great third-baseman?"
"The best," came the response.

"And where is this great third-baseman now?"
"He's with San Francisco, learning to be a pitcher."

Grimm rocked with laughter at that one.

Title Not At Stake, Clowning Baer Takes Training Seriously

By GAYLE TALBOT

LONDON, April 14 (AP)—Some 15,000 Englishmen are expected to shell out around $100,000 tomorrow to see their new idol from America, Max Baer, perform 12 rounds or less against Tommy Farr, the "accidental" British champion.

The former world champion, whose invasion of Great Britain seems certain to carry him a long way on the comeback road, is virtually the whole attraction for this crowd.

Farr, little known before he recently won the British title from Ben Ford, is cast as the official "stooge" for the theatrical Baer's personality and "clowning" have made him a favorite with English fans although they haven't seen him fight.

Baer is a 3 to 1 favorite. He's due to get $25,000, tax exempt, for tomorrow's bout. A victory will win him another rich match with the German Walter Neusel, next month.

There's no doubt tomorrow's fight will be the biggest in years from a financial standpoint. Three hundred spectators will be occupying seats that cost $50 each, a price unsurpassed in England since the Carpenter-Beckett fight shortly after the war.

Baer has been quite serious about his training here and will enter the ring at about 212 pounds. Farr, whose British empire title will not be at stake, will scale around 200.

Peter Sarron, recognized by the United States National Boxing association as featherweight champion, will fight Harry Miller in a ten round preliminary.

The main bout is scheduled for 9:15 p. m., British time (3:14 p. m. C.S.T.).

Stevenson will start for Houston's Buffs with Myatt entering while the visiting San Antonians are expected to use Bob Manciet on the hill and Sam Harsanyi in the harness. Palmer and Colfer are the umpires.

Manager Vincent's crew of youngsters will open their Texas league campaigning against Galveston on the latter's field with "Boots" Poffenberger testing his curves and Dixie Parsons behind the plate. Eddie Cole, one of Skipper Severid's veteran twirlers, will aim his sinkers at Catcher George Sucoe. Umpires Pate and Welch will work the game.

Tulsa starts its bid for another pennant by entertaining Oklahoma City. George Milstead, veteran right-hander who has been around in baseball, drew the opening pitching assignment with Brookside's battery mate, Jack Brillheart, Oklahoma City's leading chunker of '36, will pitch to Calthamer.

Double Kill In 9th
Against Athletics
Bluege's Big Thrill

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Ossie Bluege of the Washington Senators, one of the classic fielders in American league history, regards a double play he started against the Philadelphia Athletics in 1928 as the most thrilling play of his career.

The Philadelphiaans and the New York Yankees were running down the stretch in a tight pennant race.

OSSIE Bluege

The A's were meeting Washington here in a Labor Day doubleheader. Washington was a run ahead as the A's came to bat in the first of the ninth. Connie Mack's crew filled the bases with one out and Mack sent Eddie Collins up as a pinch-hitter.

Collins struck a sharp hit between third and short and Bluege dove for it. How he got it, he doesn't know to this day. He flipped the ball to Bucky Harris at second. So quickly was the play made that Harris hadn't time to get to the bag and had to leap to get the ball. Bucky whirled and caught Collins at first for the final out.

"Collins tore his hair he was so mad. He still calls me a damnable Dutchman," Bluege says.

SEVEN GAMES ON SLATE
ARLINGTON, April 14—Loyola was added to Hardin-Simmons football schedule this week to bring the Cowboys' total to seven with at least two games pending final approval.

Loyola is tackling three Southwest toughies in Baylor, Centenary and Hardin-Simmons. The University of Arizona is the fourth major eleven in the South to rate the Loyola calendar.

Kimbrough's Hardin - Simmons season will open Sept. 24 with Kentucky State's invasion of the Cowboystadium. The other six games already closed are as follows:

Arkansas College, Abilene, Oct. 1.
Loyola U. of Los Angeles, Oct. 8.
West Texas State, Canyon, Oct. 15.
Fresno State, Fresno, Cal., Nov. 11.
Oklahoma City U., Abilene, Nov. 19.
St. Mary's, Abilene, Nov. 25.

Attendance Best Since The Palmy Days Of 1929 And 1930

By the Associated Press
SPARTANBURG, S. C.—Crowds of approximately 77,000 have turned out to watch the New York Yankees in their spring training games this season, the best attendance since the palmy days of 1929 and 1930.

THOMASTON, Ga.—The New York Giants were confident they would hit Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians today. Steve O'Neill announced Feller would go the nine innings.

NORFOLK, Va.—Watson Clark, one time ace left-hander of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is working only as a coach, although he is confident he can help the club on the mound.

WASHINGTON — The Senators play their first home exhibition game today against the Boston Bees. The infield now reads, from right to left: Joe Kuhel, Buddy Myers, Cecil Travis, and Buddy Lewis.

KANSAS CITY—The more Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox sees of Monty Stratton, his 6 foot, 5 inch right-hander, the more enthusiastic he gets. Stratton has shown so "much stuff Dykes is expecting 15 "wires from him this season.

WICHITA, Kas.—The Chicago Cubs had no casualty list today for the first time in a week. Gabby Hartnett's ailing arm has healed and Bill Jurges and Phil Cavarretta were recovered from leg injuries.

WICHITA, Kas.—Jim Walkup was on the mound for the Browns today as the St. Louis team resumed its cross country "feud" with the Chicago Cubs.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Eleven members of the "Gas House Gang" headed by Manager Frank Frisch and Captain Leo Durocher visited the United States veterans' hospital at Asheville, N. Y., yesterday. The team meets Knoxville today.

LAKELAND, Fla. — Manager Mickey Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers awaited word from home today on the condition of Pitcher Tommy Bridges, who was due in Detroit for an examination of his lame back.

TULSA, Okla.—Manager Pie Traynor of the Pittsburgh Pirates denied today that he would send Paul Waner and Waite Hoyt. Stories had said Traynor was displeased with their condition.

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C.—Holding a three-game edge, the Boston Red Sox swung north from Durham today to play the fifth game of a pre-season series with the Cincinnati Reds.

WASHINGTON—After tramping the Senators 8-1 yesterday at Gastonia, N. C., the Boston Bees invaded the capital today. They named Jim Turner for mound duty.

Eight Title Holders
To Be Crowned Tonight

BOSTON, April 14 (AP)—Eight title holders will be crowned tonight in the third and final session of the 1937 National Amateur Boxing championships.

They will be chosen from among 32 ambitious youths who still remain in the three-night tournament which so far has produced 17 1-2 hours of ring combat in 158 bouts among warriors from 26 states, Washington D. C., and Hawaii.

Performances of the winning heavyweight quarter-finals indicated plenty of stiff competition in that division tonight. The new champion will be decided between Lemuel Franklin, Cleveland; James Robinson, Philadelphia; Yancey Henry, Boston, and Abner Powell, New York.

SOPLY KRIEGER,
FRED APOSTOLI
CLASH TONIGHT

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Solly Krieger of Brooklyn and Fred Apostoli of San Francisco, two of the better challengers for Freddie Steele's middleweight title, will have it out at fistcliffs tonight, at the Hippodrome with the possibility that the winner will meet Steele in an outdoor bout.

Betting on the bout was light. Apostoli is favored at 9 to 5.

SPORTS
ROUNDUP
by EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Thousands of Japanese rag pickers have started a fund to train Shigeo Michikawa, one of their number, for the 1940 Olympics. . . . The rag pickers will each fork out a quarter of a cent a day until 1940. . . . They say the lean southpaw pulled another of his famous pouts when they took him out of the Atlanta game the other day. . . . West coast scribbles insist the new, Henry Armstrong, will nickle Lou Ambrose say "uncle" if he ever gets the chance. . . . All baseball is pulling hard for Tris Speaker to come through.

Spencer Abbott, Seattle manager, says former Mayor Jimmy Walker may bob up as part owner of the Dodgers one of these days. . . . Is that a scoop, Spencer? . . . Corl Hubbard's screw ball is a disaster than ever. . . . Willie Hagan, Haverhill (Mass.) writer recently turned pro, craves action. . . . The 44 medals awarded in the A. A. U. swimming championships at New Haven last week cost $185. . . . His friends have started another whispering campaign to get Tony Casoneri to hang up those mittens while the hanging is good. . . . The New Mexico contingent at the A. A. U. boxing tourney blew into town wearing tea gallon hats. . . . The dope is Don Gutteridge, Card third sacker, may be Columbus bound at most before you read this.

If Dick Walsh of the Albany Times-Union has the right dope, the Senators picked up Al Simmons for less than the $7,500 waiver price. . . . Ceterino Garcia, who still hopes Barney Ross will live up to his promise to fight him for the welterweight title, may have to undergo an operation on his left elbow. . . . Bill Pierre, Birmingham scout, is considering starting a baseball school for kids between 10 and 14 years of age. . . . Frank Grayson, veteran Cincinnati baseball expert, says Frank McCormick, young Red infielder, looks like another Nap Lajoie to him.

START WORK ON MIDLAND PARK

MIDLAND, April 14 (Sp.)—Preliminary work on the construction of a fence around the Midland baseball diamond and a club house was started today with a survey of the grounds and ordering of material needed.

Material for the erection of the fence was not available when work was scheduled to start on the actual building this morning, officers being forced to wait until it can be delivered here.

Although some doubt remains as to whether a club house will be built or whether some building in town will be leased or bought and moved to the grounds, the club house is a certainty. Officers have favored gaining possession of building to house the players, thereby saving time and money.

The need for the building is imminent as the players, now in Albuquerque, are ready to come here. Joe Schultz, official of the Cardinal "farm" system, is expected here today to see Wray Query, Midland manager, and complete all arrangements in the new West Texas-New Mexico league.

Silent Driscoll
Not A Pessimist

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 14 (AP)—That silence you hear around Marquette university is John J. (Freddy) Driscoll, new football coach, expressing his opinion of the 1937 prospects.

He's not a pessimist. He's just making no predictions yet. Says Driscoll, who took over one of the strongest teams of 1936 after Coach Frank J. Murray got through—

"We haven't seen enough of the boys as yet. Our most difficult problem is to develop a backfield from raw material. The spirit in practice is excellent and that fact alone bodes well for the future."

Driscoll has been impressed by the size of his squad—more than 80 gridlers turned out—as well as by his enthusiasm.

Red Wings Back Into Fight To Retain Cup

DETROIT, April 14 (AP)—The Red Wings of Detroit, National league and Stanley cup hockey champions, roared back into the fight to retain the "old mug" today.

On Marly Barry's spectacular third period goal from an almost impossible angle at left wing, the Wings beat the New York Rangers in the fourth game last night 1-0 to even the series standing at two games each.

The fifth game here Thursday will decide the 1937 Stanley cup champions.

Chile has 56 radio broadcasting stations now in operation.

Managers Are Counting On 60 New Men

Minors Produce 33: Rest Move From One Major League To Another

By SCOTTY RESTOR
NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Every major league club except the world champion New York Yankees, Detroit Tigers and Chicago White Sox will have a new lineup opening day, and even the Tigers and Sox may break down and change the old cast before Tuesday.

An Associated Press survey revealed today the 16 major league managers are counting on using 60 new men more or less regularly. The minors produced 33 of these and the rest moved from one major league club to another during the winter.

A quick roundup of the changes follows:

Yankees—They're so stable now that if Babe Ruth, in his prime, came back he'd have a hard time breaking in. Only pitchers Frank Maloney and Spurgeon Chandler from Newark are given the slightest chance of sticking.

Giants—First baseman Johnny McCarthy, Newark, and third baseman Lou Chiozza, Phillies, are the two main changes. Cliff Melton, pitcher from Baltimore, also is likely.

Indians—Lyn Lary, shortstop, and Julius Solters, outfielder, both acquired from the Browns, are the only sure changes.

Cardinals—A free-for-all, but it looks as if Jimmy Brown, Rochester, will be at third; Mickey Owen, Columbus, behind the bat and Stan Bordagaray, Brooklyn, in center. Lonnie Warneke, former Cub will be the No. 2 pitcher.

Tigers—Happiest change for Detroit fans is the return of Hank Greenberg at first.

Pirates—Johnny Dickshot, Buffalo, figures to be in the outfield. Lee Handley, former Red, will try to stick at second base. Ed Brandt, veteran from Brooklyn, is the new pitching regular.

White Sox—Only pitcher John Rigney from St. Paul, is expected to stay, though some think Steve Mesner, Los Angeles, will replace Manager Jimmy Dykes at third before long.

Cubs—Their gamble in sending Warneke to St. Louis for pitcher Roy Parmelee and first baseman Jim Collins will be watched. Charlie Grimm also gives Gus Frey, from Brooklyn, and Joss Marty, young coast outfielder, a chance to come through.

Washington Senators—Al Simmons, purchased from the Tigers, is the only newcomer sure of a regular job.

Reds—Phil Weintraub, Rochester, and pitcher Lee Grissom are the sure starters. Jimmy Outlaw, Nashville, and Charley Gelbert, former Cardinals, are given the edge for third and second, respectively.

Joe Cronin of the Red Sox, is counting on young Bobby Doerr, from San Diego, at second and is hoping Fabian Gaffke, Minneapolis, and Colonel Mills, Rochester, will be able to stick in the outfield. The Bees are trying pitchers Bill Weir from the University of New Hampshire, and Jim Turner, Indianapolis, Elbert Fletcher, Buffalo at first, and the veteran Frank McGowan from Buffalo, and Vince DiMaggio, San Diego in the outfield.

Philadelphia fans will scarcely know their ball teams. The Phils are counting on six new men and the Athletics claim they have nine new "regulars" including five pitchers.

The Brooklyn Dodgers are trying Cookie Lavagetto, former Pirate, at second, alternating Tony Maloney from Louisville, and Woodie English, former Cub, at short and are counting on the veteran Helme Manush in the outfield.

The St. Louis Browns will have the ex-Cleveland players, Bill Knickerbocker and Joe Voornik, in the lineup. There's some possibility Harry Davis, Toledo, will replace Jim Bottomley at first.

COSDEN OILERS TOO TOUGH FOR
OWENS OUTFIT

Owens' Stationmen combined with Anderson's Devils to score a smashing 21-0 victory over Lee's Store in the first game of a double-header Monday night on the "Munty diamond, but the Owens' outfit found a crew of Cosden Oilers too tough to handle in the second game and fell, 19-3, in a seven-inning affair.

The Pirates were never given a chance in the opener. The locals smashed Derrill Jones in the early innings and coasted to victory behind Harold Creek's pitching.

Roland Swatzy proved very effective on the hill for the Cosden Oilers while the Oilers were smashing the offerings of Johnny McGee and L. D. Cunningham.

Reading + AND Writing

By John Selby

Any subject will do for a novel, today, provided it is written in the proper way. A brief glance back through the last few years will prove literally no possible human situation has been neglected.

This freedom of subject is considered, without the slightest truth, to be something modern. Dreiser and a few others are credited with having blown the dust of Victorianism out of our minds. The eager '20's, so it is said, did the rest.

All both. The climax of the first published American novel was a threatened incestuous marriage as the result of an earlier seduction. That's quite modern enough for the best of us, and should you want proof, you may have it today with the republication of this novel by the Facsimile Text Society. The reproduction is in two volumes, as was the original. The novel is very rare, inasmuch as it was voluntarily suppressed when the author learned that the text offended some of his neighbors. There are possibly 15 copies in existence, and the one used for reproduction is that of the New York public library.

Come to think of it, the suppression has rather a modern ring about it too, for it happened in Boston, where such things occur once in a while even today. And just what led William Hill Brown, the author, to think that his novel would not offend his neighbors in the first place is beyond me, inasmuch as the text described a situation which has caused a suicide in the offed family only a few months before publication of the book early in 1789.

The novel, done after English models, is in the form of letters. These have extraordinary charm, although the obsolete form of the letter "u" makes ready a chore for most of us. It is easy to see why the book was attributed to Sarah Wentworth Morton until well into the 190's, for the elegance and "sensibility" of the author is un-masculine, to say the least.

"The Power of Sympathy," by William Hill Brown; two volumes (Columbia University Press, for Facsimile Society; $2.60 both volumes).

Marguerite Newby Complimented With Anniversary Party

Friends of Miss Marguerite Newby gathered at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Cook, Tuesday evening for a surprise party that complimented Miss Newby on her birthday anniversary.

After the guests had arrived they went in a body to the movie, returning to the Cook home later for refreshments.

Guests were Misses Lillian Hurt, Nellie B. Burns, Lorene Anderson, Dorothy Lay, Emogene Barnett, Dorothy Dean Sain, Emogene Lay and Louise Berger.

Mrs. Emory Duff Is Rummy Club Guest

Mrs. Emory Duff was the only guest of the Bon Ames Rummy club Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. L. C. Graves entertained the club at her home.

Mrs. T. L. Layne was highest scorer and Mrs. T. L. Williamson won at bingo.

A refreshment plate was served at the conclusion of the games to Mrs. Duff, Mrs. Layne, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. F. F. Blum, Mrs. Garner McAdams, Mrs. A. M. McLeod and the hostess.

Mrs. Tyree Hardy Guest
Of Triangle Night Club

Mrs. Tyree Hardy of Sonora was a guest of the Triangle Night club Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Johnson was host and hostess at the Settles hotel.

High score prizes were awarded to Mrs. Hayden Griffith and Dr. W. B. Hardy who also won a floating gift as did C. E. Barker.

Others playing were Mrs. W. B. Hardy, Miss Jens Jordan, Mr. Griffith and the host couple.

Miss Jordan will be the next hostess.

"ALL-BRAN SAVED
ME FROM A LIFETIME OF SUFFERING"

"I had suffered from constipation for three years. My condition was becoming really serious, when I read of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN."

"I bought a package. Within two weeks, my bowels were regular, and I began to enjoy living again. It has saved me from a lifetime of suffering."—Mrs. Lloyd Baird, 884 S. Baumack St., Denver, Colo.

Try ALL-BRAN yourself. It corrects the common type of constipation. Within the body, it absorbs twice its weight in water, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system. Just eat two tablespoons daily. Three times daily in severe cases. As a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes.

Try it better to eat this wholesome food than to take pills and drugs that may be harmful and often lose their effect. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Cluny Lace Imitation

NEWS NOTES FROM THE OIL FIELD COMMUNITIES

C. L. West and brother, C. B. West of Midland, were called to Austin Saturday due to illness of their father.

Barnett Hinds, teacher in the Forsan school, was a visitor in Tyler last weekend.

Arnold Bradham, student at Texas Tech, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bradham, in the Sun camp last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Miles of Sapulpa, Oklahoma, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thompson in the Amerada camp until Mr. Miles has completed construction work in Royalty, Texas.

Miss Aquilla West and sister, Mattie Mae, were guests of friends in Midland last weekend.

A good crowd attended the services at the Church of Christ Sunday night.

Church services were conducted by Rev. A. Short of Abilene Sunday at the Baptist church with an attendance of eighty-three in Sunday school. Eleven members attended the district Sunday School association meeting at the First Baptist church in Big Spring Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. H. A. Hobbs of the Humble camp has as her guests, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Sharp, and Mrs. Hobbs' mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bennett of Weatherford, Texas.

Mrs. H. E. Heathering has returned from Mingo where she has been visiting her mother, Mrs. E. G. Harrison.

Mrs. Guy Rainey, who has been in Ranger nursing H. E. Snyder, returned to her home Sunday. Mr. Snyder succumbed Saturday. He was formerly general superintendent of the Magnolia Oil company, before he retired from business.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Porter of McCaney were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Phillips of the Humble Oil company Saturday.

Woman's Missionary Society met with Mrs. Carl Blackwelder Monday afternoon to review the chapters of Ruth and I Samuel in the Bible study. Visitors in the Bible study were: Mrs. T. A. Miles of Sapulpa, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Sharp from Weatherford. Others present included Mrs. J. E. Thompson, Mrs. E. T. Sewell, Mrs. W. B. Dunn, Mrs. H. Bartlett, Mrs. H. A. Hobbs, Mrs. L. H. Hayes, Mrs. John Scuddy, Mrs. C. V. Wash and Mrs. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. William Alkire of Odessa announce the birth of a boy, born April 10. Mr. and Mrs. Alkire formerly lived in Forsan where Mr. Alkire was superintendent of the Amerada Oil company.

Miss Elizabeth Madding spent the weekend in Abilene with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Madding, who is attending school at Draughon's Business college.

Members of the home economics class of the Forsan high school, with their teacher, Mrs. Onita Pierce, acting as hostess, honored their mothers with a tea Tuesday afternoon. The living room of the home economics department was decorated with lilies and hydrangeas. The tea table was covered with lace cloth and tea service, tea being poured by Wilda Ray White. Delicately tinted sandwiches, cream puff, and tea were served to: Mrs. Vera Harris, Mrs. Dolan, Mrs. John Benton, Mrs. Leon Barber, Mrs. L. L. Martin, Barnett Hinds, Ira Watkins, L. L. Martin, Brady N., and Norman Malechek. Miss Eloise Nelson, Mrs. Bill Conger, Mrs. Poy Johnson, Mrs. Nora White and Mrs. D. C. Rogers.

HOUSTON MECHANICS VOTE FOR A STRIKE

HOUSTON, April 14 (AP)—Houston automobile mechanics today awaited sanction from national headquarters for a possible strike they voted for last night.

The union announced after a closed meeting the vote for a strike was 702 to 20. R. C. Cole, business agent, said the strike would be called if dealers did not agree to negotiations and if the grand lodge of the International Association of Machinists gave its permission.

An answer from the Washington office of the organization was expected shortly. Cole said the union "had heard" the dealers would institute a lockout if the strike were called.

The mechanics have asked wage increases.

New Solvent That Affects Nearly All Substances Shown By Chemist

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor) CHAPEL HILL, N. C., April 14 (AP)—A new straw-colored liquid that can dissolve almost every substance in the world except glass, platinum and tungsten was reported to the American Chemical Society today.

Somewhere in the universe a world possibly exists with this liquid, selenium oxychloride, substituted for water, said Prof. Gilbert B. L. Smith of the Polytechnic Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"In such a selenium liquid world," he said, "the temperate zones would be studded with huge glaciers of white crystals, the frozen solvent, which has the freezing point of 63 degrees Fahrenheit."

"Mountains would consist of glass or feldspar, and all bridges and boats would have to be constructed of platinum or tungsten, virtually the only metals which do not react readily to it."

"Snow would fall every time the temperate zone dropped below the mild warmth of spring. Men would have to carry umbrellas of glass, tungsten or platinum."

"Animals would have to have glass lined stomachs to drink the stuff."

In the Brooklyn laboratory, one cool night, a bottle of the stuff froze, broke the glass, warmed up and dripped on the wooden floor. Before morning it dissolved a hole completely through the floor, dripped into the physics laboratory below, partly dissolved some instruments and started to eat a hole in the bakelite.

For practical human purposes, said Prof. Smith, "this opens a new world for the chemist, with industrial possibilities. Reactions which heretofore would not occur can proceed smoothly in this and other solvents."

Theoretically, he said, the selenium solvent will cause a rewriting of some of the most important chemical definitions, such as acids, bases and salts.

With the new stuff, water, which has always been considered a "neutral compound," forms a "base."

Blaze On Sun Leaps Out For 577,000 Miles

PASADENA, Calif., April 14 (AP)—Along with the sun-spots which now show signs of exceeding records of more than 20 years, the sun is also turbulent with huge flames.

One gigantic blaze 577,000 miles high, more than twice the height from earth to moon, is reported by

SUN-SPOTS
May Break Records
The Mt. Wilson observatory of the Carnegie institution.

Whether the great fires are directly connected with the spots is not known. But some huge flares of hot calcium gas which appear near the spots are apparently closely related. These flares, incidentally, are known to cause fading on short-wave radios.

The flames "prominences" to astronomers, shoot out from the edge of the sun with velocities of 150 miles a second. They are photographed with a spectroheliograph, a device which shuts out all but the edge of the sun, creating an eclipse effect. They are composed largely of hydrogen, calcium and helium.

"Prominences have three-dimensional forms," says Dr. Edison Pettit of the observatory, "like the flat flame of an old fashioned lamp. They are 3,700 to 7,400 miles thick. Those shorter than 37,000 miles are rare, as are those more than 375,000 miles high."

The next maximum of sun-spots, according to Dr. Seth B. Nicholson

"Is not expected to occur before the end of 1937. The present cycle will undoubtedly be much more active than the last and may even exceed the cycle whose maximum was in 1917."

At the beginning of a cycle the spots appear in high latitudes far from the sun's equator. They can best be traced by the calcium clouds which are near them, since the clouds are large and some of the spots too small to appear in photographs, although in many spots are several times as large as the earth.

As the cycle progresses, the spots of activity draw in toward the equator until, when a maximum occurs, the spots are all in low latitudes.

GILDA GRAY SINGING MOVIE PRODUCERS

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 14 (AP)—Gilda Gray, the shimmy dancer of a decade ago, was plaintiff today in a $250,000 breach of contract suit against Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

She charged her entire performance in "The Great Ziegfeld" was eliminated in the cutting room after her connection with the picture had been widely heralded by the studio. As a result, she said, her reputation was damaged.

MRS. EMORY DUFF TO CONDUCT SCHOOL PROGRAM ON KBST

Mrs. Emory Duff will conduct a program on questions and answers pertinent to public school topics on the Parent-Teacher radio forum between 11 and 11:15 o'clock Thursday morning. Musical numbers will be given by students of the East Ward school.

All parents are urged to tune in on this program that is arranged for their benefit to better acquaint them with the school work.

The Paris International Exposition which opens in May calls for an expenditure of $45,000,000.

The American Red Cross operates under a charter granted by congress in 1905.

Oil Officials Are Silent On Union Efforts

Mass Campaign Of CIO A New Occurrence In The Industry

HOUSTON, April 14 (AP)—The oil business, its condition reflected in numerous pay hikes to employees, was experiencing today a new situation—a national drive to unionize all branches of the industry under the banner of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The drive, being pushed by the CIO-backed International Association of Oil Workers, was the first wholesale effort to organize an estimated million workers in the big industry.

Oil company executives voiced no reaction and declined to comment on the matter.

The only outspoken opposition to the drive came from two large groups of employees—at the Humble company's Baytown refinery and the Texas company's Port Arthur refinery—and from the American Federation of Labor. A. F. of L. leaders planned to open a counter drive at a mass meeting here tomorrow night. John Frey, president of the federation's metal trades department, will speak at the meeting and lead in the competitive campaign for recruits.

At the same hour, the Houston local C.I.O. union will meet to assign each member a specific duty in the unionization move.

AUTO COLLISION IS FATAL TO TWO MEN

TYLER, April 14 (AP)—Authorities sought identification today of a man killed with A. T. Freest, 42, Tyler, in a collision near Wilda Point.

Freest and his companion were headed toward Dallas when the accident occurred and officials admitted the unidentified man was a hitch-hiker. On his person were found papers bearing the names "Fred Grege", "Hogan" and "John E. Trough."

ARE YOU NERVOUS? SICK?

Mrs. C. C. Carson of 2836 Ave. E., Houston, Texas, said: "I was a sick, nervous, jittery person. I was weak and nervous and suffered from cramps and headaches, associated with functional irregularity. I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic and I found great relief—I had a keen appetite and felt just fine when I was well."

THESE YOUNG DEBATORS

Those who want to find out how thoroughly a public question can be dissected, analyzed and explored, should attend a few of the interscholastic debates staged at this season. The young people who participate in these forensic contests overlook no bets. Each team must be prepared, on a moment's notice, to take either the affirmative or negative side. It is no job for anybody with a closed mind. And every possible avenue of argument is explored before the last word is said.

The interscholastic debate question this year is "Resolved, that the manufacture of munitions should be a government-owned and operated monopoly." It is a live question in that there are many in public life who believe that such a step should be taken. Its bearing on the very present topic of neutrality is direct and important. The young people who debate it should have a very personal interest in it.

The chief argument for it is that it would do away with the racketeering features of munitions, in theory, turn into the public coffers the vast profits which munitions makers amass. A very plausible case can be built up for the affirmative, if the debaters deal gingerly with facts and abundantly with theories. The negative has two very powerful arguments. One of them is that when a country goes to war, the source of its munitions and the price it pays for them, become relatively unimportant. The nation's job is to win the war quickly as possible, and it can't stop to haggle over prices or to wait for bureaucratic machinery to function efficiently. The other argument is that whenever a government invades the field of private industry, it runs into a mess of red tape, inefficiency, favoritism and graft.

These arguments seem so compelling that you are inclined to feel sorry for the affirmative before the debate starts. But the affirmative debaters do not feel sorry for themselves. And quite often they present their side effectively enough to gain the judges' decision. Listening, you come to feel that a nation whose youth can grapple so effectively with the issues of the day need have little fear for the future citizenship. (Wichita Times).

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — The opening of the "King Cole" bar at the St. Regis brings back a bit of the sentimental, roccoco part of New York that has been missing a long time. Surely you remember this extraordinary Maxfield Parrish mural which used to hang in the old Knickerbocker, at 42nd street and Broadway, where Caruso was wont to have his spaghetti and Diamond Jim Brady his orange juice — where George M. Cohan, the late DeWolf Hopper, and others of like celebrity tarried under the affectionate gaze of the old monarch.

John Jacob Astor paid Parrish $50,000 to paint this canvas especially for the Knickerbocker bar. What is more important, it quickly became famous, and now there is no price that could lure it away from the Astor estate, so great has become its sentimental value.

Astor was appreciative of the work his friend had done, and several months after old "Cole" had proved the town's delight he sent him an additional check for $10,000, just as a measure of appreciation.

This was in 1905, and the King hung there until prohibition drove most of New York behind closed doors. Later, the King bobbed up at various places, but the surroundings were never entirely compatible. Then, when the Astors decided to bring the old King out again, they built the bar especially for him — that is, they hung the mural and then built the bar around it.

A minor problem at the time was the 30 years' accumulation of dirt on the classic features of the monarch, his fiddlers, pages, guards, and assembly.

Usually varnish remover is the cleaning agent for such canvases. Had they gone ahead with these plans, tragedy would have resulted. In mixing his paints, Parrish used varnish instead of oil. It doesn't take much imagination to guess what would happen if the remover had been daubed on the canvas. As a matter of fact, the artist was compelled, grumbling every step of the way, to quit his Vermont hide-away and come to New York to oversee its cleaning.

With fitting ceremony the old King was undraped and most of the town's better artists, close friends of the monarch and of Parrish, dropped around to make obeisance and reaffirm their allegiance. Among those have been Carl Mueller, James Montgomery Flagg, Dean Cornwell, McClelland Barclay, John LaGatta, Bradshaw Grandell. Each lifts a mug of foaming brew to his highness on the wall — certainly the finest and most sentimentally treasured mural of the kind in existence today.

BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

Copyright, 1937, by Paul Mallon

Some hold labor ruling gives government limitless power. But interstate and local industry are still separate. Theory of interstate commerce changed by decision. Danger seen in broad authority of Wagner act board.

WASHINGTON, April 14 — Snap judges on the side-lines seem to be giving the supreme court decision in the Wagner cases whatever opinion they happen to desire.

There is a general tendency to accept the interpretation of the court minority in its decision, implying that almost limitless power was placed in the hands of the federal government, including "control over purely local industry." However, in courts as in politics these days, minorities do not count.

Better lawyers here have noted that Chief Justice Hughes, in the majority opinion, referred repeatedly to the Schechter case decision in such a way as to stress that it is still in force. There seemed to be a clear distinction in his mind as to what business is local and what is national, what can be regulated federally and what cannot. Hughes attempted to define his distinction, but as is the case in most court decisions, the definition was largely negative. Also the court specifically reserved the right to handle each case separately as it comes along.

Effect

On the advice of counsel, the following suggestion may be offered to the confused man with a hot dog stand on the corner:

The foremost test of whether a business is in interstate commerce (and therefore subject to federal regulation) is whether a strike of its employees would cause any interference with the flow of interstate commerce. Another one is whether it buys more than 50 per cent of its raw materials from other states and sells more than 50 per cent of its product in other states.

If your business meets both of these tests, it is clearly in interstate commerce and can be regulated by the federal government, certainly as to collective bargaining and probably even further. If it meets only one of the tests, it may or may not be subject to federal authority. If it meets neither, it is probably beyond federal jurisdiction.

This new theory replaces the old one holding that only the movement of goods across state lines is interstate commerce, but any manufacturing done before the actual movement starts or any selling done after the goods reaches its destination is not interstate commerce.

Of course, no one will be able to classify each business until further tests cases have fully explored the judgment of the court. The safest thing to do now is to ask your lawyer.

Motive?

If you ask the average well informed authority on the supreme court the "why" of its decision in the Wagner labor cases, you will be informed:

"Chief Justice Hughes wanted to save the court."

Damages

Expert trade estimates of the production lost by the C.I.O. strikes in the auto industry thus far certainly indicate that Mr. John Lewis has been interfering with interstate commerce.

Cran's authoritative guess is that General Motors and Chrysler production was 300,000 cars below what it would have been if there had been no strike.

Dangers

The worst angle of the court decision being mentioned by many a good friend of President Roosevelt (but not publicly) are these:

The national labor relations board appears to have been given powers which it will need to use cautiously unless it wants to get into the dictatorial field of Messrs. Mussolini and Hitler. For all practical purposes, the individual business man or laborer in interstate commerce can be temporarily regulated arbitrarily by the board without much restraint except the conscience of the men on the board and the federal statutes against corruption and collusion. Also, the men on the board are generally known not as leaders but officials whose national reputations are yet to be made.

A live danger also exists in the possibility that labor may get what is known outside the supreme court as "the swelled head."

If it seeks to use the board for the purpose of lording itself over employees and to run the business, there may be trouble which even the supreme court will not be able to handle.

These two things are worrying more than one official.

Censorship

Another realistic danger lies behind the so-called A.P. decision.

The alertness of some members of the new order against press criticism and newspaper opposition is engendering fear that the new powers may be used for more than labor purposes. Actually what the court said was that newspapers may not be fired for joining their labor union, but may be fired for incompetence or any other legitimate reason.

States Turn To Wage Laws

Legislative Action Picks Up Following Court Decision

WASHINGTON, April 14 (UP) — The women's bureau of the department of labor said today the supreme court's recent decision upholding the Washington minimum wage law has spurred efforts to enact similar measures in several states.

In a letter to state commissioners of labor, Miss Mary Anderson, bureau chief, cited the following developments:

"Wisconsin has introduced a bill to restore the cost of living provisions of its old minimum wage bill. "The District of Columbia minimum wage law declared unconstitutional in 1923 has been re-established. "New York has introduced a bill providing that a minimum wage shall equal the cost of living, as well as the fair value of services rendered.

"The governor of Nevada signed a minimum wage bill providing $18 for a 48-hour week for women on March 26, the day of the Washington decision."

Renewed efforts to obtain passage of minimum wage bills were reported in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Texas, South Carolina, and Oklahoma.

FARM WORKER IS FATALITY SHOT

SILVERTON, April 14 (AP) — The body of Lewis Gregory, 28-year-old unemployed farm worker, was found in his parked automobile on the main street of Silverton Monday night. A single shot had been fired through the forehead from a .22 caliber rifle. Officers who investigated the death reported finding the rifle in the car with the dead man, whose body was discovered at 9:15 o'clock, probably an hour after death. No one reported hearing the fatal shot.

EVE'S ORCHARD

By MARGARET WIDDEMER

Chapter 14
UNCLE HENRY'S WING

Turning from the door, Denny made a face.

"I say, did we put our feet in it?" He could hear how could he? At sight of her stricken face, he wheeled suddenly.

"Eve—I say, Eve, I didn't realize you minded." He sat down again, an expression of mingled anger and amusement on his face. "Eve, if you can tell me what to do about it I'll be as grateful as a pup. It's all the fault of that idiot Mitzel, with her fatal-female complex. Somebody must have killed her, she's so crazy about letting on every man she knows is in love with her."

"Go on," Eve said.

"Why, it's George's father has the publicity job in his pocket! It's Northern Steel that's planning a publicity department of its own. That's why I had to go on buttering up the old lady. Mitzel gave me this grand chance to contact her personally. You remember I dined there the night you came out here. Everything going like a charm when Mitzel had to indicate to Mrs. Cleveland that I was her hopeless adoring, just like Dillard and the rest of the baseball nine. I thought nothing of it, of course. And then Mrs. Cleveland had to take it seriously, go all romantic and gushing! I'd have put Mitzel in a lie . . . well, it's perfectly sickening; but hang it, darling, it may make the difference between our getting married or not, letting the old lady's crazy idea ride till Mitzel herself lets her see she's mistaken, by telling about another half dozen worshippers."

He caught Eve in his arms hungrily. "Oh, I do love you, my beautiful—my blessed—Sweet, if you say so I'll go straight after the old idiot and tell her that I didn't contradict Mitzel's line because I had to have a job to marry you."

Denny's arms had magic. Nothing mattered but the feel of them tight around her, the pressure of his mouth close on hers, after the long week apart. Suddenly, his long eyes looking deep into hers, she knew she had been a fool to be hurt, to take it all so seriously. It had a tricky feeling she didn't like . . . and yet, if she insisted, just to vindicate her possession of Denny, wasn't it pure vanity?

"Tell you what, let's let it ride a little longer. Give Mitzel a chance . . . Or I'll obediently avow myself yours to the world and damn getting married to you!"

Put that way, it did seem silly. She laughed as one did who Denny wanted it to happen, and stooped to put another apple-wood bough on the fire.

The Kind Phantom Hands

"I say this is no farmhouse," said Denny, lying back on his spine in the big chair across from her in the old familiar way, and taking another cake. "Eve, I call it. Fix it up a bit, and some summer millionaire would bite. We could never get any of this stuff in an apartment, but even these days they ought to do us something. Don't let Mrs. Cleveland get the cabinet she was wangling for too cheap. Plutocrats is plutocrats!" He glanced around, impressed, as could see. "Did your people collect?"

"No, they preserved!"

"Good goin', the things have pedigree then! Why, lamb, they'll start us on an apartment and furnish it, and give us theater money for a winter."

She didn't know why she wasn't as excited as he was. She would have been, before she came. It was all perfectly true—but she had played house with her dolls in the lacquer cabinet; her people had bent to lay applewood from their orchard on those andirons for 200 years. She shook herself to throw off the kind phantom hands that were beginning to hold her, and laughed down at her lover.

"That is, if you aren't maddened and swept off your feet by Mitzel! By the way, did you mean that about staying?"

"May I? Ellen really isn't coming till tomorrow morning. Heaven above, what prudes!"

Eve began to laugh. Everything was light and right again. "And that isn't the half of it, dearie! Psychoanalysis isn't in it compared with what everybody knows about everybody else. Summer people have a sort of legal right to be criminal, but from what I can get I guess I don't come under that head. It looks as if I was still the Mannersfields' little girl Eve."

Though she was laughing, something in her thrilled, she didn't quite know why, at the idea.

"And Uncle Henry—is he your uncle — guarding your virtue fiercely out of Shore Acres? Eve, it's priceless."

"Please don't laugh at him, he's pretty fine," Eve heard herself say. And hastily: "No, he's no relation, only as Aunt Lina hadn't any menfolks, he always rather had us under his wing."

"Wing seems to be working overtime," commented Denny, strolling about and looking over the furniture.

"I say, you could have sold these antiques, at the top of the market, for some good money."

"Yes, couldn't I? What an idiot. Oh well, it would have gone for parties or stocks, and I wouldn't have it. At least here they are."

"Yes, and here you are—" He caught her close again. "Eve, I simply can't stand it without you."

"I say, it was pretty fine of the old fellow to stand up to me like that, and to stand up to the old girl too," Denny said, his mood sensitively changing as he saw Eve's face.

It was a Cordial Request

As if he had been summoned by the talk of him, Uncle Henry reappeared.

"Will you walk upstairs now, Mr. Carter? I'm putting you in the ell on the second floor," he said rather stiffly.

"All right, sir. Thanks a lot," Denny smiled his winning smile, and clattered up the stairs with his suitcase. Uncle Henry lingered in the doorway.

"Eve, I intend to sleep here. I don't wish to discommode you, but whatever the new ways are, you don't stay alone in a house with any young fellow."

She leaned against him affectionately.

"Why, Uncle Henry, I'll love to have you! It's just Denny's carelessness, Ellen Walton was coming, and I suppose he never thought whether it was tonight or tomorrow."

He put his arm around her as he used to when she was little. "I don't want to intrude, but I have to think what your Aunt Lina would have wanted I should do."

She spoke impulsively, knowing his stiff pride. "Why, Uncle Henry, I only wish you could manage to stay with me till I rent!"

His eagle-like old face changed, softened. He tried to speak, but his voice broke. "Why—why, Eve!"

Suddenly she realized what she had said. To a man accustomed to the sparing speech of the Connecticut farmer, it was a cordial request.

Well, why not? It would only be a couple of weeks—a month at most. And she had always been fond of Uncle Henry. He had perhaps felt himself none too welcome at Emily's. She was suddenly sorry for him, the brave old man, alone, a failure, fighting on valiantly for his old-fashioned standards! But as it was said, she found that it was true. It was good to know that he cared, that he had no motive where she was concerned except old kindness, old love, old unselfish concern for her interests.

He only said: "Glad you didn't feel I was interfering. Daughter, you've always seemed like kin, you and Lina."

She saw the slow thick flush climb up under his skin, and realized with the quick understanding that was always hers how he, too, felt that it was nice to have someone to belong to and care for. Suddenly she was almost intolerably moved for him. Her world was young; in a year or two the glittering wild expensive age might begin again for her and Denny, back in New York together, playing, earning big money, going to the top of the tree; a big apartment, parties regardless of expense, success—same—exciting prosperous life. Not Uncle Henry! Nothing could do so very much for him, she supposed. . . .

"I do need you," she said impulsively. "I'd feel so much safer—" "I don't deny I'd like to, Eve, if I wouldn't be a burden."

Eve laughed. Who had said that last? Why, Denny! Little Judge Featherstone, Uncle Henry would like Judge.

"You'd be a help."

"I know I could raise high enough greenstuff to pay for my keep," he said, trying to mask his eagerness with business like talk. "I can run a bill with the grocery till I pay them back in produce, like always. And I'll bring my fowl over from Emily's, soon's I clean the chicken run."

She felt a moment's dismay—chickens and greenstuff sounded like settling in! Well, she could reserve the vegetable garden when she rented. And fowls could be moved again.

"If I don't Emily I'd be back to supper, but I'll be here tonight."

He walked down the back hall with an almost springy step. (Copyright, 1937, Margaret Widdeemer)

Ellen Walton and the rest of Eve's crowd arrive at the farm, tomorrow.

GAS PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — The production of natural gasoline during February averaged 5,347,000 gallons daily, the bureau of mines said today. The average compared with 5,066,000 gallons a day during January and 4,629,000 gallons in February, 1936.

CRUDE PRODUCTION FOR WEEK DECLINES

TULSA, Okla., April 13 (AP)—National production of crude oil declined 2,593 barrels daily to a total of 3,425,853 daily for the week ending April 10, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Oklahoma's production was down 7,100 barrels for a daily total of 641,625 while the Texas total declined 27,004 barrels daily for a total of 1,374,785 barrels.

Production in Louisiana increased 200 barrels daily to 240,335, California showed an increase of 39,780 barrels daily to 625,000, and Kansas production was down 10,400 barrels daily to 178,773. Eastern fields including Michigan increased 1,751 barrels daily to 156,963 and the Rocky mountain area declining 1,770 barrels daily to 69,460 barrels daily.

MORE FOREST VISITORS

BOISE, Idaho, April 13 (AP)—The nation's forests are gaining in popularity. R. G. Rutledge of Ogden, Utah, regional forester, said today the number of visitors in national forests increased from 92,000,000 persons in 1935 to 97,000,000 in 1936.

Ford Unworried By Labor Act Decision

DETROIT, April 14 (UP)—Henry Ford made clear today that employees of the Ford Motor company are "free to join anything they want to" but that he considers it
"foolish" for them to enroll in labor unions.

Ford, in an interview late yesterday, indicated that he was not concerned about the supreme court's decision upholding the Wagner national labor relations act. The "useful" provisions of the act, he said,
long have been policies of the Ford Motor company.

He declined to say what he would do if a union presented formal demands to him.

"Ask me that when the demands are made," he commented.

Ford appeared not the least perturbed by the furor created by his recent statement that his company never would recognize the United Automobile Workers of America or any other union.

He did not repeat that statement in his interview, but reiterated his advice to workers not to join any union.

A few hours before the interview
the U.A.W.A. announced that it would start an intensive organization drive among Ford employees.

TO SEEK WRIT FOR THOMAS J. MOONEY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14 (UP)—
Thomas J. Mooney's attorney said he planned to complete his argument today in behalf of the prisoner's petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

George T. Davis, attorney for the man convicted of the 1916 San Francisco Preparedness day bombing, said he would conclude his argument at the session scheduled to open today at 2 p. m.

ment are preliminary to the city's proceeding with paving projects.

11th Place Order
The commission passed an ordinance accepting as completed the paving on 11th Place and ordering the issuance of paving certificates against those property owners who have not already paid their assessments or furnished mechanic's lien covering the amounts due.

In additional steps toward widening and improving Third street through the city, the board instructed the city manager to obtain letters from property owners having obstructions on the highway 1 right-of-way, to the effect that they will agree to remove obstructions on or before start of the street improvement. The highway department will be notified
when these letters are completed.

Also adopted was a resolution regarding traffic regulations on highway 1 within the city limits.
This was a formality to meet state department requirements in connection with the Third street improvement.

No Action On Oil Tax Boost

Senate Committee Hears Arguments On House
Measure

AUSTIN, April 14 (UP)—The bill proposing to boost the tax on oil production was little farther advanced toward senate action today despite another hearing on it.

The senate state affairs committee yesterday listened to more arguments on the measure, passed by the house of representatives several weeks ago, and then recessed without taking action.

The same committee tomorrow night will conduct a hearing on another house bill which would increase the tax on sulphur production. Other tax measures awaiting committee consideration would increase the rates on natural gas and corporation franchises.

The senate itself was engrossed with a proposed constitutional amendment to authorize a sales tax for social welfare purposes, including old age assistance. In order to consider the amendment first, it had laid aside temporarily a bill which would remit ad valorem taxes to all counties.

Opponents of the proposed oil tax, which would increase the rate from two and three-fourths cents per barrel to six cents, argued perpetual already was overtaxed and moreover there was not a need for the $15,000,000 additional revenue it was estimated the measure would produce. They also said it would destroy stripper wells, discourage exploration and increase gasoline prices.

Proponents asserted taxes should be placed where there was money to pay and that oil men profited $500,000,000 last year.

Speaker Says Flying Safe

More Dangerous In Auto
Than In Airplane,
Golden Asserts

Aviation, despite reports of accidents, is safe, and flying is one of the less dangerous modes of travel, Golden said, the Golden Airlines terminal manager, told the Lions club today.

Since 1928 only 181 persons have been killed in commercial aviation flights, Golden said, or an average of about one death for every two millions miles flown. During 1936 the mortality rate was reduced to one death for every 18 millions miles traveled.

Golden quoted statistics showing that death was much more common in railroad, bus line, and steamship lines, and that a man was in vastly more danger of death in his car on the highway than in an airplane. "In fact," he said,
"since we have sat down at this table, some one in the nation has been killed in a car crash."

Crashes in California this year were attributed by Golden to the inability of pilots to properly locate their positions. This, he said, might be attributed to the old type radio beam in use in that section.
He added that the trend appeared to be toward the radio compass beam which would permit a pilot to locate his position anywhere and to use his compass instrument as a homing device.

Another major obstacle to overcome, he pointed out, is adverse weather, particularly the hazard of ice forming on wings. He illustrated a de-icer now in use and said that development in this field is in prospect.

Because aviation has made rapid strides within the last 10 years and because today the United States is leading the world in the manufacture of commercial planes, Golden saw a need for training to youths in the field of aviation. In this connection, he pointed out that the United States is the only country boasting more civil than military planes, and contemplated production along the trend.

Aviation is opening a new avenue of progress and offers a means of meeting modern speed demands, said Golden. It has experienced and will continue to experience a phenomenal growth and development, he said.

At the meeting, Mrs. Thomas E.
Pierce, who instructed the Lions club sponsored household service courses, reported on courses offered to Mexican women in which there was an aggregate enrollment of 78. Of the number, 33 are now employed, most of them at a daily wage not less than $1, she said.
Courses offered included home hygiene, foods, laundry, and child diet. The courses were offered at a total expense of $321, of which the club bore $80.25 and the state the balance. Mrs. Pierce said there was a possibility of another course being offered to the women.

James Eddy, state director of diversified occupations work and vocational training, spoke briefly, outlining legislation pending whereby funds would be provided for the work. He said the George Dean act passed last year had everything except the clause providing clause, and that funds would likely be provided for the work.

Visiting the club for the day
were Mrs. Pierce, Leland L. Martin, Forsan school head, Forrest Mc-Duffy, Iva Honeycutt, Dave Merkin, and Eddy.

court this year. Two other cases were for swindling by bogus checks and the other for malicious mischief.
