Senator Fears Country Will Go Communist

Strong Nation Is Urged As Bulwark Against Russia

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. — Sen. James O. Eastland, (D., Miss.), today bluntly called for an economically-strong Germany as a bulwark against Russia.

He told the Senate that Russia was a "predatory, aggressor nation."

Communism, he said, soon would take control of all Germany unless the United States abandons its "sadistic" policy toward "this late

MORE FOOD PROMISED

STUTTGART, Germany, Dec. 4 (AP)—The United States intends to move enough food into Germany to assure an average ration of 1,550 calories for everyone, Lt. Gen. Lucius C. Clay, American military government for Germany, said today.

"Hunger and starvation have never been the United States' objective," Clay told a meeting of the German officials in the American zone.

"We will approve with the start of the Jan. 1 ration period a 1,550-calory average ration for all. My government will support this by sending food from the United States, the cost of which will be paid for when Germany is able to pay."

enemy state." He suggested a new program to permit the Germans to find "contentment in prosperity," and thus remain in the orbit of western civilization.

Germany Must Recover

Eastland cautioned that "there can be no permanent European recovery without Germany recovery."

In a 5,000-word speech, Eastland charged that the United States was starving the German people, and letting their industries be carried off. If this is continued much longer, Eastland said, it will drive Germany into the arms of Communism.

"I shudder to think what a union of Russia and Germany under the banner of Communism would mean to the peace of the world," Eastland said. "This would be the most powerful combination in the world. The American people must realize that Russia is a predatory, aggressor nation and that she follows ~~the same fateful~~ road of conquest and aggression from which Adolf Hitler set the world on fire."

Has Served As Barrier

Eastland recalled that Germany "has served both as neutralizing agent and as a barrier between the Oriental hordes and a western civilization 2,000 years old."

Eastland called for re-uniting the four zones of Germany under an Inter-Allied control commission, ending of the peace-time "scorched earth" policy, and increasing the Germans' diet.

The United States, he said, must repudiate the doctrine of "collective guilt." Not even in the middle ages were rank-and-file individuals held responsible for acts of their aggression-minded leaders, Eastland said.

Policy Is Attacked

Attacking present American policy in Germany, Eastland said:

"Not since the days of Nero have Christians been treated so cruelly. This plan promises a prolonged era of pitiless hunger, a program of central European chaos and disorder to be ultimately presided over by the ghouls of revolution, starvation and atheism, to be followed by the cremation of Christianity in Europe.

Yank Forces To Be Evacuated In Iran

Russia Refuses To Accept Proposal For Jan. 1 Deadline In Withdrawing Troops

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 — The United States is going ahead with the withdrawal of American forces from Iran despite Russia's refusal to accept a Jan. 1 deadline for evacuating Soviet troops.

To this end, it was learned today, this government has sent an Army-State department mission to Iran to expedite the withdrawal and "windup" U. S. affairs.

U. S. Sets Example

Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala said the mission emphasized U. S. determination to get out of Iran by Jan. 1 even if Russia does not.

"The U. S. is setting the example by removing its portion of foreign troops in Persia," he said. "Of course, we'd rather see the other powers leave first and we are going to continue to press for it."

Ala reiterated that it was the presence of foreign troops that was responsible for unrest in his country.

Reds Reject Proposal

The State department announced last night that Russia had rejected the U. S. proposal that all foreign troops in Iran—U. S., Soviet and British—be withdrawn by Jan. 1 instead of March 2, 1946, the ultimate date provided under a Big Three agreement.

Ala revealed that Gen. Donald H. Connally, deputy commissioner of the Army-Navy liquidation commission, heads the U. S. mission to Iran. He will supervise the disposal of Army surpluses and the removal of some 6,000 U. S. serv-

Custody Of Kimes Is Denied To Oklahoma

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 4 (U.P.)—Oklahoma authorities today were denied custody of Matt Kimes, the southwest badman who behaved as a model prisoner, earned a leave from his cell and then took advantage of the furlough to organize a new gang.

FBI authorities here also announced that a cash bond of $75,000 would be requested for Kimes until he is brought to trial in Texas in connection with the holdup of the First State bank of Morton. Armed robbery is a capital offense in Texas.

The burley Kimes, who had served 18 years of a life sentence for murder, was apprehended here Sunday night after he had been run down by a truck in North Little Rock. He suffered a fractured leg, internal injuries and skin lacerations in the accident.

Stevenson, Smith To Pass Up Demo Meet

FORT WORTH, Dec. 4 (AP) — Neither Governor Stevenson nor Lieutenant Governor John Lee Smith will attend the state convention of the Young Democrats of Texas here Thursday and Friday.

Stevenson notified Jack Carter, chairman of the program committee that a previous engagement will prevent his attendance.

He had been invited by Young Democrats President C. L. Harris of Lubbock to speak, who later was informed by Carter that Smith probably would be "booed" if he tried to speak.

Mitscher And Towers Will Head Fleets

Forrestal Reveals New Organization Plan For Forces

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 — In recognition of the "increasingly dominant" role of aviation in the Navy, Secretary Forrestal today announced a new plan of organization which will give qualified naval aviators three of the six top jobs under the chief of naval operations.

As further evidence of the evolution of air power within the Navy, he said, aviators will be given fleet commands.

To Relieve Spruance

Admiral John H. Towers, the Navy's No. 1 aviator and now commander of the Fifth fleet, eventually will relieve Admiral Raymond A. Spruance as commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, Forrestal disclosed.

He said Vice Admiral Marc A. Mitscher "in due course" will leave his present post of deputy chief of naval operations for air to become commander of the Eighth fleet, based in the Atlantic.

"Because these men pioneered aviation in the Navy," Forrestal said, "the Navy looks to them, as well as to all their fellow officers of all origins, to be equally and fully alert to the effect of new weapons on the further evolution of sea power."

Six Key Positions

The office of the chief of naval operations consists of six key positions under the chief—a vice chief of naval operations and five deputy chiefs.

Forrestal said he and Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King, retiring chief, and Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz, successor to King, had agreed that three of these six positions would be occupied by flying men.

"Also, in general," he added, "the officer next in status to the key aviation officers mentioned will be a non-aviator whereas when a key officer is a non-aviator, the officer next in status will be an aviator."

Forrestal said the office of vice chief of naval operations, now held by Admiral Frederick C. Horne, will be assigned to Vice Admiral D. C. Ramsey, a naval aviator and now deputy comman-

Cold Norther Sweeps Texas

(By The Associated Press)

A warning to home and car owners to protect outside water pipes and automobile radiators was issued today by the weather bureau as the coldest norther of the season gripped Texas from the Red river to the Rio Grande.

Temperatures dipped to as low as 16 degrees at Dalhart.

Continued cold was forecast for today and tonight, with gradually climbing temperatures tomorrow.

Ice Over Wide Area

The weather was clear and no rain or snow was reported, although ice was general over a wide area.

Dallas, with 26.6 degrees, was the coldest of the season, with ice reported.

Sub-freezing temperatures in Texas today: Dalhart 16, Amarillo 19, Pampa 18, Wichita Falls 19, Wink 21, Gainesville 23, Pyote 24, Fort Worth 26, Big Spring 27, Sulphur Springs 29, Lubbock 22, Abilene 30, San Angelo 30, El Paso 27, Waco 30, Guadalupe Pass 30, Corsicana 29.

Speakers Claim Bond Election Will Provide Needed Projects

Progressively higher property valuations which will come as the city grows will keep the tax rate down and will offset to some degree the costs that would accrue to the city if the $5,894,000 bond proposal is approved by the voters next Tuesday, Robert H. Bean, attorney, declared in a talk today noon before the Optimist club in Lubbock hotel.

Bean said it was commonly estimated that the proposed issue would increase tax rate to 40 cents on the $100 aluation. "Personally, I don't believe it will ever be that much because of the city's constantly increasing valuations,"

Lions club members heard two speakers refer to Lubbock's bond issue election in talks today at their luncheon at the Hilton hotel.

"Dallas ought to come out here and get some real spirit," Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dallas, declared at the outset of his talk. "Why, it's predicted that Lubbock will have a population of 100,000 in the matter of two weeks . . . Auto Strikers Are Opposing Truman Plan

Week's Delay In Worker's Reply Said Necessary

(By The United Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 4. — Mounting labor resistance today virtually foredoomed President Truman's search for "patriotic" peace in the General Motors strike.

The powerful United Automobile Workers Union (CIO) said it would be at least a week before 175,000 striking GM employes act on the presidential back-to-work appeal.

Warnings Are Sounded

UAW leaders immediately sounded stubborn warnings that Mr. Truman's request would be rejected. They said his proposed fact-finding committee was "inadequate assurance of a just solution" for their demands.

There was no indication, however, that the White House would hold back its promised appointment of a public board to investigate the two-weeks-old shutdown of the giant General Motors empire.

At the same time, GM Vice President Harry W. Anderson arrived in Washington for discussions with Edgar L. Warren, chief of the Labor department's conciliating service.

Wants To Negotiate

Warren sought to restore immediate company-union negotiations over the UAW's demand for a 30 per cent wage increase — the 52 hours' pay for 40 hours' work issue which precipitated the production-paralyzing strike Nov. 21.

Anderson's meeting with Warren held significant possibilities since union officials already have conferred with the conciliation director and both company and union spokesmen hold collective bargaining as the swiftest agency for termination of the strike.

UAW Vice President Walter P. Reuther and Anderson met last week in the first discussion since negotiations broke off six days before the walkout. Afterward Anderson said that "so long as talks continue" there was a real hope that "all issues" of the dispute may be considered.

Complaint Discussed

In the first meeting, the officials discussed only the company's complaint of alleged picketing violations in barring office workers from their jobs. That will be the topic tomorrow when Anderson and Reuther meet again to seek settlement on picketing activities.

As for President Trumans appeal to the strikers, the union called a conference of delegates from General Motors locals for 9 a.m. (CST) Saturday in Detroit. The presidential message will be submitted to the 200 delegates without recommendation, and a ballot of the conference will determine the policy to be reported to 115 GM locals.

German Course Of Broken Treaties Traced In Trial

(By The Associated Press)

NUERNBERG, Dec. 4 — The twenty once mighty Nazi leaders on trial for their lives before an international tribunal were excoriated in the name of the British commonwealth today as "murderers and robbers" personally and individually accountable for breaking the world's peace.

Opening the British case against Hermann Goering, Rudolph Hess, Joachim von Ribbentrop and their fellow members of the fallen clique, Sir Hartley Shawcross, attorney general of the United Kingdom, declared that the defendants had piloted Germany into "aggression, naked and unashamed" and plunged the world into an appallingly costly war.

Not Merely Tools

"These men were no mere willing tools," Shawcross said. "They are the men whose support had built Hitler up into the position of power he occupied. They are the men whose initiation and planning perhaps conceived and certainly made possible the acts of aggression made in Hitler's name."

The attorney general's 30,000-word address introduced the British citation of proof that the accused were guilty of crimes against the peace. The United States has concluded its presentation on the first of three other counts in the indictment—that the Nazis engaged in a conspiracy to wage a war of aggression. Two remaining counts, charging war crimes and crimes against humanity, are to be prosecuted jointly by Russia and France.

Traces Course Of Ruin

Shawcross first sought to show that the Hitler gang violated firmly established international law through aggression and preparation for aggression.

Then from the long-concealed words of the Nazis themselves, he traced the German course of broken treaties, violated frontiers and ultimate carnage and misery.

"Their lust and sadism," he said, "their deliberate slaughter and the degradation of so many millions of their fellow creatures that the imagination reels incomprehensibly, are but one side only of this matter.

"Perhaps their guilt as murderers and robbers is of less importance and of less effect to future generations of mankind than their

U. S. Victory Loan Worries Treasury

E-Bond Sales, Designed To Put Stop To Inflation, May Not Reach Planned Goal

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. — The $11,000,000,000 Victory loan will be over-subscribed but it may fall short of success in one important feature—the sale of E-bonds to individuals—War Finance Director Ted R. Gamble said today.

The big goal is to sop up $2,000,000,000 of individually-held idle money and thus divert it from inflationary spending.

Have Sales Pattern

The treasury and its war finance division have a pattern of daily sales expectancy which, if realized each day, would meet the goal. But in the last 12 days sales met the pattern only once. During that time sales lagged a total of $77,000,000.

Actually, E-bond sales to date still are above the pattern. The total sold stands at $1,037,000,000 against $975,000,000 expected under the pattern.

But that margin is only $62,000,000—against a $77,000,000 lag in the last 12 days.

Millions Yet To Go

And there still is $963,000,000 to go to meet the $2,000,000,000 goal. The drive ends formally Saturday night, but E-bond sales will be counted through month's end, as

Five Dead In Car Collision

(By The United Press)

SEALY, Tex., Dec. 4 — A head-on collision of a produce truck and a Ford coach at the Austin-Colorado county borders last night cost the lives of five young Texans and another was hospitalized with severe cuts and bruises.

State highway patrol officials reported the car, carrying all the victims, was on the left side of the road near the San Bernard river bridge eight miles west of Sealy when it crashed with the truck.

Bodies Badly Mangled

The car was completely demolished and the victims' bodies were badly mangled, the patrol reported.

Dead were:

Robert Ross, about 20, San Felipe.

Emmett Ross, 16, his brother.

Richard V. Svinky, about 20, route 1, Sealy.

John A. Severin, about 20, route 3, Sealy.

Dorothy Loescher, 19, Sealy.

At a Houston hospital Lily Hinze, 20, of Sealy was in a critical condition. The truck driver, Ernest Chappell, 33-year-old Houston negro, suffered only minor injuries.

Four were killed outright while Emmett Ross was taken to a Columbus hospital where he died a few hours later.

Patrolman A. W. Weiss speculated that a strong wind may have pushed the car onto the wrong side of the highway as it left the bridge.

U. S. Gave Secret Method For Breaking Jap Code To British

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP) — The United States gave Great Britain the secret method of cracking the Japanese code 11 months before this country was plunged into war, congressional investigators learned today.

Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles, Army chief of intelligence at that time, gave this testimony to the Senate-House committee investigating the Pearl Harbor raid Dec. 7, 1941.

Miles told the committee, however, he couldn't say offhand now whether the British, in turn, furnished the U. S. with any of the information they later obtained from decoding intercepted Japanese messages.

The committee also received a report that President Roosevelt on Nov. 26, 1941, advised the high commissioner of the Philippines, Francis Sayre, that the "next Japanese aggression might cause an outbreak of hostilities between the U. S. and Japan."

The Roosevelt message, put into the record, said there were "no clear indications" where the Japanese might strike but expressed the opinion that invasion of Thailand apparently as a precaution against

Aid In Finding Son Is Asked

CHELSEA, Mass., Dec. 4 (AP) — Hundreds of school children responded today to the appeal of a sailor, James J. Carlan, to help find his kidnaped six-months-old baby, Ronald, whom Carlan has never seen.

City and school officials and police joined with Carlan and his wife, Rose, 23, in asking all school children of this Boston suburb to report any clues that may lead to the finding of the baby — taken from his carriage six days ago, apparently by an elderly woman.

A seven-year-old girl told the police that she saw such a woman, dressed in black, remove the baby from the carriage near the Carlan home.

The sailor, who hastened home from Oakland, Calif., went with Mrs. Carlan to a special assembly of the Williams grammar school today.

Mrs. Carlan was unable to speak, but the young sailor, told the children:

"My little son, whom I have never seen, is missing." And he pleaded,

"If you know anything which would help us to find him, please go to the police immediately."

State Troops Guard Negro Rape Suspect

LAUREL, Miss., Dec. 4 (AP) — While state troops stood guard with machine guns and bared bayonets, Willie McGee, 30-year-old negro, was arraigned Monday on a charge of raping a white woman Nov. 2.

There was no disorder, and no crowd formed near the courthouse.

The quaking negro muttered incoherently while a plea of innocent was entered on his behalf, and Circuit Judge F. Burkitt Collins set trial for Thursday at 9 a. m. in the same courtroom.

Fifty troopers under the command of Col. John O. Stagg of Jackson acted under orders from Governor Thomas L. Bailey in escorting McGee from Jackson, where he had been held for safekeeping.

Hero And Pretty English Girl Who Flew Atlantic To Join Him Instead Of Her Husband Reveal Plans To Get Married

DUBUQUE, Ia., Dec. 4 (AP) — Capt. Darrell Beschen, 25-year-old hero of the air war over Europe, and a pretty, titan-haired English girl who flew the Atlantic to join him instead of her husband, emerged from hiding this afternoon to announce:

"We are going to stay together and see what happens."

Beschen and the girl, Mrs. Jean Gloor Carbone, 19, wife of Army Lt. Harold Carbone, now a student at the University of Rochester (N. Y.), said they would marry as soon as Carbone obtained a divorce—which she said he assured her by telephone he would do at once.

Wants A Divorce

"I came to the States to see Darrell," Mrs. Carbone said to reporters and Police Capt. John Derreberry. "I want a divorce from Harold so that Darrell and I can be married. I'll be a mother soon."

"I'm the father of her unborn child," Capt. Beschen said. "I'm desperately in love with Jean. I'm sorry for her husband, but I want to marry her as soon as she is free. I hope that is not long."

Mrs. Carbone had been the object of widespread search since her arrival in Chicago last week and her subsequent disappearance which led to Carbone's appeal to the Red Cross to help find her.

Yawn Almost Costs The Life Of Youth

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 4 (AP) — Andres River Michel's siesta was interrupted today, but a yawn almost cost him his life.

The 16-year-old Los Angeles, Calif., lad stepped out on a ledge to wash a third floor office building window. He yawned, stretched and fell.

A passing ambulance picked him up from a concrete terrace and took him to a hospital where an examination showed him to be shaken but otherwise none the worse for his experience.

The red, sunny side of an apple contains more vitamin C than does the greener, shady side.

Does The Atom Bomb Explain Bible Miracles?

According to Edwin J. Dingle, world-renowned geographer, honored by leading geographical societies, the power of the atom as disclosed in the atom bomb, is small compared with little known and seldom used powers of the human brain. He maintains that man, instead of being limited by an average man power mind, has within him the mind power of a thousand men or more, as well as the energy power of the universe, which can be used in his daily affairs.

According to him, this sleeping giant of mind-power, when awakened, can make man capable of surprising accomplishments. It is as amazing as the atom bomb is compared with former sources of energy. Many thousands of people throughout the world have already tried his methods. Many report improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success. Others report improvement in health, increased strength, courage, poise or energy, or a more magnetic personality.

He tells how he found these strange methods in far off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitttd to visit it. Here, he discloses, he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. These immense powers, he maintains, are latent in all of us, and methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

As part of a great movement to make his methods available to more people, a 9000-word treatise is offered absolutely free for the time being. It reveals many startling results. Readers of this announcement can get their free copy by sending a post card or letter to the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 S. Hobart Blvd. Dept U-461, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, because this offer may be withdrawn at any time. Adv.

Jap To Learn Fate Friday

MANILA, Dec. 4. (U.P.) — Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, charged with responibility for the Japanese rape of Manila and the slaughter of 60,000 civilians and war prisoners, will learn his fate Friday, it was announced today.

The U. S. military commission which began trying him Oct. 29 on a 123-count indictment for war crimes was in recess today while prosecution and defense attorneys prepared their final pleas for delivery Wednesday.

Testimony Is Concluded

Maj. Gen. R. B. Reynolds, president of the commission, said the five members of the tribunal would begin weighing the evidence followin., the summations and would return their verdict Friday.

Testimony in the case was concluded in a session last night. Yamashita was the last witness. He was called by the defense as a surrebuttal witness to explain contradictory statements relative to Japanese jurisdiction in trying guerillas.

Throughout his earlier direct testimony and cross-examination, Yamashita denied ordering deaths or even knowing about the scores of atrocities which had been described by prosecution witnesses.

Portales Boy Hurt In Gun Accident

PORTALES, N. M., Dec. 4 (AP)—Jerry Simmons, 8, is in the hospital with a piece of steel in his head as result of a freakish accident.

He was injured by a fragment from a shotgun barrel which exploded as his father, G. R. Simmons, fired at stray dogs on their farm. Jerry was standing about 30 feet away.

Hospital attendants said the child, although in serious condition, was rational and alert.

Senator O'Daniel Hasn't Forgotten The Governor's Mansion; Likes Big Houses

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Senator W. Lee O'Daniel (D-Tex) is accustomed to large houses.

Testifying in an eviction case in which he is attempting to clear all tenants from a 14-unit apartment house he has purchased and proposes to remodel into a home, he said:

"The House I moved out of in Texas had 21 rooms in it."

Then he added:

"That was the governor's mansion."

The apartment building has 40 rooms, 14 kitchens and 14 baths. O'Daniel's attorney, D. Heywood Hardy, said "the senator needs the whole building for his family."

House Hopes To Put On Burst Of Speed For Truman's Plans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP) — The House military committee put on a burst of speed today in an effort to meet President Truman's pre-Christmas deadline for a law to forbid crucial work stoppages until the public can learn the facts.

Chairman May (D-Ky) summoned his committee to a 9 a. m. (CST) closed-door session to consider methods to permit a House vote within days.

Strikes To Be Barred

Specifically Mr. Truman asked Congress to authorize fact-finding procedures for important labor disputes, with strikes or lockouts barred for 30 days. In his special message the chief executive asked that the lawmakers pass such a law before they go home for Christmas December 20.

May told reporters he favors adding the presidentially-requested legislation to a bill which will be eligible for House consideration Thursday.

Might Go Further

There were indications the committee might go even further by providing for arbitration machinery coupled with stiff penalties on unions or industries which refused to abide by recommendations of mediation commissions.

Without waiting for Congress to act, Mr. Truman said he will appoint fact-finding boards of the type he outlined for both the General Motors strike and the current steel wage dispute.

He asked the 225,000 striking CIO United Auto Workers to go back to their jobs and appealed to the 700,000 CIO steel workers not to walk out. He sent appeals too to General Motors and United States Steel corporation heads for full production while the fact-finding boards carry out their assignments.

Let's Look at the Wage Record

Leaders of the UAW-CIO have never accused General Motors of paying low wages.

They have not because they could not. GM hourly wage rates are substantially higher than the average for industry in general.

Under these circumstances the wage demands of UAW leaders appear fantastic.

Without offering anything in return, they demand a wage jump that would add 30% to the pay of workers already among the highest paid in the country.

In 1941, the last peacetime year, the average GM factory worker received a wage that put his income among the top one-third of all incomes in the United States —not just labor incomes but all incomes.

The average GM factory worker can buy much more food, clothing and other necessities—as well as more of the comforts of life —than the average industrial worker can.

General Motors has always paid high wages to its employes. It always expects to.

Prayer Week Is Conducted

Church women of Lubbock met Monday afternoon for business and social meetings and programs on missions and the Bible.

A silver tea and apron sale conducted by St. Paul's Episcopal auxiliary netted $115.

Members of the Episcopal Needle Craft guild made the aprons for the sale. Mrs. S. B. Haynes, who was in charge of the project, announced that a few more aprons are available and that they may be purchased by calling 9985 or 2-2885.

Preceding the sale and tea, the new and old executive boards had a joint business meeting.

Nine women went to the Lena Lair circle meeting in the home of Mrs. Clarence Ratliff. The lesson was brought by Mrs. W. L. Pattillo. At the Louise Stapp meeting, 11 attended, Mrs. William Lowrimore was hostess and Mrs. Willie Brown, teacher. Mrs. Roy Bass taught the six Eloise Crutchen circle members in the John R. Hall home.

PIN-WORMS GO! New Treatment Gets Real Results

People don't like to talk about Pin-Worm infection. Sometimes they are too embarrassed to mention the tormenting rectal itching. And in many cases they have not known of any effective way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body.

Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug (gentian violet), a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

So if you suspect Pin-Worms in your child or yourself, ask your druggist for a package of JAYNE'S P-W right away, and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Speaking of the Red Cross, such a meager response has met calls for volunteers to work at the canteen maintained at South Plains Army Air field, it is thought the building will have to be closed. With the approach of the Christmas holidays and flu and other illnesses in many homes, women who have devoted long hours to the voluntary work are unable to go to the field.

Younger women who have been working at the canteen, cooking hamburgers, serving, cleaning up, washing dishes, etc., insist they do not want to close the place down. The snacks are served to fliers who are at the field to move the planes that have been stored there for several months.

Take Off Ugly Fat With This Home Recipe

Here is an inexpensive home recipe for taking off ungainly weight and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from any druggist, four ounces of Liquid Barcel Concentrate. Add enough grapefruit juice to make a pint. Then just take two tablespoonsful twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle and get your money back.

Sans Souci patronesses are planning a formal dinner for Wednesday night at 6:45 o'clock at the Tech Social center as a courtesy to members and pledges of the club composed of several Tech girls. Later, the group will go to the home of Mrs. Carden Green for a party and exchange of gifts.

Favors will mark the plates.

Hostesses will be Mesdames W. H. Evans, S. C. Arnett, John Spikes, Richard L. Douglas, Walter Alderson, Eunice Bondurant, C. C. Caldwell, Ford Benham, R. M. Chitwood, Floyd Beall, W. F. Eisenberg, Green, Olan Key, Hub Jones, Fredda Hunt, Retha R. Martin, Don Mitchell, Wayne Prather, J. N. Michie, Raymond Shook, J. H. Stiles, Waldo Trotter, J. E. Vickers, G. C. Turner, Newton Walton and Jack Henry and Miss Helene Blattner.

Holiday Relish Made Of Cranberries Will Keep

Home economists of the Department of Agriculture suggest this raw relish which can be kept covered in a jar in the refrigerator for a week or more, if necessary:

One cup cranberries; one orange; one apple, cored, one-third to one-half cup of sugar; one-eighth teaspoon salt.

Pick the berries, wash and drain. Cut the organge in quarters and remove any seeds. Grind berries, apple and orange—rind and all—through food chopper, using coarse blade. Combine with sugar and salt. Chill.

If you'd like the traditional red, tart jelly or sauce and cannot locate enough cranberries, use apple juice and cranberry juice combined.

KNAPSACK BAG: Koret's newest, in felt or gabardine, with outside zipper pocket, leather piping.

Congratulations To:

Capt. and Mrs. John R. Brooks of 1914 Seventeenth on birth of a son weighing 8 pounds 10 ounces at 4:43 p. m. Monday in West Texas hospital. The father is stationed at Camp Swift.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Flowers of 2617 North Second on the birth of a daughter weighing 7 pounds 8 ounces at 1:50 p. m. Monday in the residence, Porter-Sistrand clinic reported. The father is a carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Yelvington of 1936 Ave. G on the birth of a daughter weighing 6 pounds 5 ounces at 11:05 p. m. Monday in Porter-Sistrand clinic. The father is a mechanic.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jordan, route 6, Lubbock, on the birth of a son, weighing 9 pounds 2 ounces, at 5:15 a.m. today in Lubbock Memorial hospital.

Rummage Sale Plans Are Made By Baptist WMS

Mrs. Jeff Welch taught a lesson and Mrs. A. V. Womack led a prayer Monday afternoon when Central Baptist WMU met at the church with twelve in attendance. During a business session, a rummage sale was planned for Saturday.

Brief Bits Of Local News

M. L. Carter, Lubbock man named in a grand jury indictment charging him with wife desertion, was under arrest this morning in Colorado City, officials of the sheriff's department said. Dep. Sheriff Frank Mitchell, accompanied by Detective Pat Davidson of Lubbock police, left this morning to accept custody.

H. E. Singley, jr., of 2012 Ave. R, R. E. Harvey of Monroe route 3 and Lee Rieger of Slide route 4, have been named by Judge G. V. Pardue to compose a 99th jury commission. The sheriff's department will notify each to appear at 10 o'clock Saturday morning to name a 16-member grand jury panel.

T/Sgt. James Sims, jr., former Texas Tech student who has been in the Air corps the last three and a half years, is visiting his wife, of 1908 Twenty-eighth, and his parents, of 2116 Twenty-fifth. His station is Nashville. His furlough expires Dec. 16.

Funeral services for Albert J. Smith, 52, of 2401 Fourteenth, insurance salesman who died Sunday night at his home, will be conducted at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Broadway Church of Christ with the minister, Norvel M. Young, officiating. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral home.

Mrs. Leverett L. Guess of 3505 Dixie drive has been informed that her father, J. B. McCrory, 62, who left Lubbock two years ago after seven years here as a carpenter-contractor, died Monday night at his Lawrenceburg, Tenn., residence. He had been ill six weeks of a heart condition which was aggravated Oct. 15 by a light paralytic stroke. Funeral services will be read from the Lawrenceburg Methodist church Thursday, and burial will be in the old family burial ground there. Other survivors are four sons, three of whom are of the South Plains: Lawrence McCrory of Levelland; Maj. John McCrory of Lubbock, stationed at Midland Army Air field; and Lt. Roy L. McCrory of Amherst, stationed at Camp Pickett, Va.; and six grandchildren.

A meeting of South Plains and Panhandle dealers of Piper cub aircraft will be held at the Lubbock hotel Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock followed by a banquet at 5:30 o'clock, M. F. Dagley and Emmett R. Morris, local dealers, announced today. Special guests will be C. W. Taylor, sales promotion manager for the Piper Aircraft company at Lockhaven, Pa., and W. Winters of New York City, editor of Air Trails magazine.

Cotton insurance rates for 1946 have been announced for the Agriculture Adjustment Agency through Walter Y. Wells, local administrative officer. All farms will have the same premium rates, whether irrigated or dry farms, Wells said. For 75 per cent coverage the rate is 19 pounds of lint cotton and for 50 per cent coverage the rate is eight pounds. Average yield per acre for dry farming is 175 pounds and for irrigated farms is 282 pounds.

The condition of E. R. Atkinson of 2421 Thirtieth, who underwent surgery in West Texas hospital recently, was said to be satisfactory today by relatives. He is assistant manager of Sears-Roebuck and company.

Corporation court officials said they had fined Willis D. Eddington, 33, of Lubbock $100 for drunkenness and $100 for abusive language to arresting members of the police. In another report, police were informed that two tires and wheels had been stolen from a trailer owned by John L. Griffin of three miles north of Broadway on College.

Two persons were taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital after a motorcycle-automobile collision at 1 o'clock this afternoon at Fourteenth and Ave. J: Lee Christian, 20, of 909 Ave. L, and Bab Holt, 17, of 2419 Thirteenth. Neither apparently suffered more than shock and bruises. They were on a motorcycle driven by Christian, and were in collision with an automobile driven by Louis Earl Hunt, 48, of 2318 Twenty-eighth, according to a collision investigation report of H. L. Krueger and Chester Morris, both of the police traffic department. The motorcycle was being ridden eastward on Fourteenth, the car driven northward on Ave. J, the patrolmen said. Rix ambulance took the injured to the hospital.

Ever Try Making Cough Syrup in Your Kitchen?

Gives Quick Relief. And It's So Easy! No Cooking.

If you've never tried mixing your own cough medicine, you've missed a lot. It's no trouble—needs no cooking—and gives you about four times as much cough syrup for your money. You'll say it beats anything you ever tried for coughs due to colds. And here's how it's done:—

Make a plain syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until it is dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from your druggist. Put this into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This makes a pint—a family supply. Tastes fine and never spoils. Children love it.

And as for results, you've never seen anything better. It goes right to work on the cough, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritation, and helping clear the air passages. You will like it for its results, and not merely for the money it saves.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

You can help put soap back in the stores... save more used fats!

YOU can help bring back the soaps you need so badly . . . just by keeping up the good habit of saving used fats. You did a wonderful job in wartime — keep it up now in peacetime! If you don't help, the soap shortage may get even worse than it is now! Supplies of industrial fats are far short of what's needed to make enough soap and other peacetime goods. So if you fail to turn in used fats, supplies will go lower still — and soap shortages may get even worse!

Russia Holds Key To Success Of UNO; To Insist Upon Veto

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 — The proposal to abolish the Big Five's veto powers in the United Nations organization is wishful thinking. The Soviet union would walk out. No one who followed the San Francisco conference doubts that for a moment.

Still more visionary, the same observers agree, is British Foreign Secretary Bevin's "parliament of Man," or "directly elected world legislature," which he hoped would eventually take the place of the UNO. Unless, that is, it takes the guise of a world Soviet, Moscow's design since 1917. The idea of Russia joining in a United States of the World, with free elections as understood in Britain and America, or of abiding by the will of the majority of a world parliament as long as the majority of a world parliament as long as the majority favored free enterprise, is regarded as utterly fantastic.

Russia Not Too Keen

In fact, Russia is none too keen about the present United Nations. At San Francisco there was tremendous opposition to the veto. The 40-odd smaller nations represented there were virtually unanimous against it as were some of the Big Five. But when I mentioned this to one of the top level delegates I was told that it was a case either of giving Russia the veto and having a UNO, or of no veto, no Russia and no UNO.

Since then, any change in the Russian attitude has been one of additional coolness toward the organization rather than of warmth. Her suspicion that it might lead to a "colition" against her seems to have increased rather than diminished. Thus she is expected to cling to the veto by which device she will be able to prevent any major move which she does not like.

Survival Big Question

So the big question today is not whether the UNO can be transformed into a more Democratic, "world legislature," but whether it will survive at all. Russia holds the key and is keenly aware of it. She knows the United States and Great Britain, like most members, attach the utmost importance to the UNO's survival and are prepared to make almost any sacrifice to that end. Thus far she has garnered one diplomatic success after another by jointly hinting that she might walk out if not given what she asked, and the coming meetings of the new League of Nations are likely to revolve around her in much the same way.

Not only is Russia expected to insist rigidly on her right of veto, but there are indications that she does not take any too kindly to President Truman's reluctance to further Big Three meetings and his preference for turning world problems over to the United Nations. Professing Democracy, she nevertheless is allergic to crowds.

Here, then, is a situation which the UNO must face in the not too distant future. The problem is whether all 51 of its members (1) will be dominated by the Big Three — or even by the Big One; or, (2) insist on a more Democratic organization and take rather frightening consequences. Some of the most ably-led smaller nations are known to be convinced that the second course may be forced upon them, whether they like it or not. Otherwise they will be mere rubber stamps.

Change Of Venue In Case Is Announced

BEEVILLE, Dec. 4 (AP) — The case of Sheriff Vail Ennis, charged with murder in the slaying of three men, opened in criminal district court today and Judge W. G. Gayle granted the state a change of venue to Victoria county.

The court previously had overruled motions of the state to disqualify the judge, suspend the sheriff for the time of the trial, and to try ouster proceedings pending against the sheriff in civil court before the murder case is heard.

Sheriff Ennis is charged in the slayings of Domingo, Antonio and Felix Rodriguez, three Bee county brothers. The three were slain by gunfire last July 7 after the sheriff went to their home to serve a court order.

Housing Situation Is Called Scandal

FORT WORTH, Dec. 4 (AP) — Terming the nationwide housing shortage a "national scandal," the executive council of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) in session here today, urged "the Truman administration, Congress and the Veterans administration to take immediate steps to provide housing for American veterans."

In a statement released by President O. A. Knight, OWIU, CIO, the council also declared:

"Hundreds of thousands of veterans are returning from victories abroad to find themselves without a roof to shelter them. In the face of all the promises made to our servicemen and the enactment of the GI Bill of Rights, the present housing situation confronting veterans is a national scandal."

New Police Chief Chosen At Corpus

CORPUS CHRISTI, Dec. 4 (AP)— S. O. Hamm, former captain in the Texas rangers and onetime assistant director of the Department of Public Safety at Austin, today was appointed Corpus Christi's chief of police.

The appointment was made by City Manager George A. Hight.

Hamm, 47, lately has been in charge of the guard and investigative office of a plant in Sweeney, Tex. He will assume his new duties Friday, succeeding S. J. Fritter, acting chief of police.

Texas Retail Boom Likely To Continue

AUSTIN, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Texas Business Review predicts that the current boom in retail sales will continue for several months.

The publication of the Bureau of Business Research, reviewing the economic picture in Texas, noted however that there is not as much cash in the pockets of Texas farmers and wage earners as there was in 1944.

Farmers have not raised as much cotton and wheat, shipped as much poultry and livestock or made as much butter and cheese this year as they did last. Wages and salaries are somewhat below the peak of 1944, the review reported, and this downward trend is expected to continue in 1946.

In spite of the decline in total income indicated by current figures, the Bureau of Business Research stated there is no reason to believe that retail trade will suffer, and the upward trend in retail sales is expected to continue for some months.

Young Robber Wins In Holdup Dispute

FORT WORTH, Dec. 4 (AP) — Mrs. M. L. Gosney, box office cashier at the Majestic theater, lost an argument with a teen-age robber last night when the youth, insisting on his robbery plans, escaped with approximately $36.

Mrs. Gosney was alone when the boy gunman, about 18, poked a small nickel-planted pistol through the box office window and said "this is a holdup."

The cashier shoved the gun back with her hand and replied "you are awfully young to be doing that."

The gunman insisted. He shoved the gun back toward Mrs. Gosney and said "you had better give me that money." She did. The robber fled on foot.

"PHOOEY!" I SAID, "I DON'T BELIEVE IT!"

But Famous Cereal Did Relieve His Constipation

Are you getting only temporary relief with harsh laxatives? Then read this sincere, unsolicited letter:

"For over 60 years I have been troubled with constipation. When I saw a package stating, 'ALL-BRAN is a Natural Laxative,' I said, 'Phooey, I don't believe it.' That was two years ago. Now I eat ALL-BRAN every day. I have passed my 84th birthday, and I'm as regular as clockwork." R. M. Hazeltine, 800 S. Chatham St., Austin, Minn.

If you suffer from constipation due to lack of bulk in your diet, eat a dish of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day and drink plenty of water. Do this for ten days and, if you aren't completely satisfied, send the empty carton to the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Michigan. You'll get double your money back.

ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. It's a highly nutritious cereal made from the vital outer layers of wheat. Supplies gentle-acting bulk, helpful to easy, natural elimination. Eat ALL-BRAN every day as a delicious cereal—or in muffins. Get ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg's of Battle Creek and Omaha.

Scout Finance Drive Mapped

Twenty members of the big gifts committee of the Boy Scouts finance campaign organization began work today in advance of a general solicitations group which will commence its campaign for a one-day effort Dec. 11.

C. H. Hamilton, big gifts chairman, said his group would complete its work this week. Members are John Broome, O. L. Byrd, J. T. Carter, Frank Ford, Jerry Fulton, R. P. Fuller, Roy Furr, Homer Grant, N. B. Hilburn, Charles Hogan, R. D. Erwin, G. P. Kuykendall, O. C. Kyzer, Dr. F. B. Malone, E. A. Manning, Retha Martin, Alex McDonald, Joe Nisler, K. L. Riggs, and Elliott Taylor.

Teams Being Completed

Earl B. Collins, general chairman for the campaign, said captains were completing their teams and that each civic club here would be represented with 32 men for the general drive. The plan is so arranged that no campaigner will see more than seven prospects, he said, "and we believe that on that basis we can close our drive in a few hours."

Dr. Malone, president of the South Plains Council Boy Scouts of America, which is composed of 20 West Texas counties, indicated that almost one-fourth of the Cub and Scout membership of the council is in Lubbock county and that the executive board was formulating plans for addition of a field executive to give his full time in Lubbock county. If the Lubbock drive is successful, as indicated, "we are sure that other Lubbock county communities will assist in the increased budget of $3,000 that this will require," said Dr. Malone and G. M. Unger, scout executive of Lubbock. The present budget, they said, is approximately $25,000.

Opposition Is Seen

Despite absence of formal suggestions by the UAWs high command, there will be no question in the minds of union members on the official opposition to Mr. Truman's peace bid.

President R. J. Thomas declared after a conference with union officers that the proposed fact-finding board "threatens the foundations of Democracy,"

"We do not like the president's proposal," he said.

Reuther, even more emphatic, said flatly that if he were a plant member "I would vote to continue the strike." Reuther and UAW Secretary-Treasurer George Addes agreed that the presidential proposal failed to protect the workers against injustice in recommended settlements.

"Collective bargaining in true good faith is the only permanently workable plan," Reuther said. "We invite General Motors to come into such negotiations with a willingness to reach a solution to the problem."

Death Toll High In Bombay Tidal Wave

LONDON, Dec. 4 (AP) — A Reuters dispatch from Karachi, India, said today 4,000 persons were believed to have been killed and 40,000 made homeless by the tidal wave which struck the coastal belt in the Karachi-Bombay area last Wednesday. The dispatch quoted relief workers just returned from the scene as saying the tidal wave washed away seven villages.

Grain Market

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Dec. 4 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard, 1.78¾-84¾.
Oats No. 3 white 86-88.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 4 (AP) — All grain futures, with the exception of corn, were depressed in today's trading, recording losses of as much as the permissible 5 cents on the nearby rye contracts.

Rye was off 5 cents at the start continuing yesterday's decline, and exhibited little inclination to recover.

Wheat was unchanged to 1⅝ lower than yesterday's close. December $1.80½. Corn was unchanged at ceiling. December $1.18½. Oats were 1⅝ to 2⅜ lower. December 73⅝-¾.

RAILS, AIRCRAFT RECOVER

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP) — Selective recoveries in rails, aircraft manufacturing issues, assorted industrials and utilities stemmed a profit cashing slide for the stock market today although many pivotals did little more than trim early declines running to better than 2 points.

Offerings began to crimp motors, steels and recently strong air transports after a fast and fairly steady opening. Bidding revived somewhat in the final hour and prices near the close were no worse than moderately irregular. Transfers of around 2,300,000 shares were among the largest since last June.

Advances of fractions to a point or so were recorded for Erie, Canadian Pacific, Southern Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Lockheed, United Aircraft, Gruman Aircraft, Sperry, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Electric Power & Light and Western Union "A."

Bonds were hesitant.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 4 (AP) —Cotton futures advanced to new seasonal highs here today on continued price fixing and short covering. Closing prices were steady, 30 to 60 cents a bale higher.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP) — Cotton futures market advanced into new seasonal high ground today on aggressive commission house and mill buying. Some trade buying in the March position was associated with the French purchase of cotton. After reaching gains of 85 cents a bale, the market reacted partially on profit taking and hedging with buying less aggressive.

Futures closed 35 to 55 cents a bale higher.

me add that money is not anything compared to the destiny of your city."

Wood Also Speaker

W. C. Wood, president of the Lubbock Kiwanis club, was the other speaker, detailing his remarks on various propositions of the proposed bond program.

"Economically, we're still a big country town and there are certain responsibilities we must assume if we are to furnish the people of this vast territory a great city," Wood said.

Dr. Criswell, who is here for the Tech Religious Emphasis week, declared "It does us good to remember the debt America owes Almighty God . . . How indebted to Almighty God we are for this great and vast land of ours with all its resources . . How indebted we are to Almighty God for the government under which we live . . . For on the personality of God our forefathers launched our great ship of state . . . We are indebted to God not only for our spacious land, our kind of government, but the character of our people . . . The strength of our nation lies in the religious convictions of its people."

Spirit Is Praised

Wood declared that "the Lubbock spirit" had been responsible for the growth and progress of our city thus far but next week we will be standing at the crossroads and we must decide whether we will go forward or stand still.

He listed the water improvement program as the No. 1 item of importance in the bond election and declared that "Lubbock has gone as far as it can without an ample water supply."

Wood listed the auditorium-coliseum project as next in importance on the bond program, declaring that Lubbock should furnish facilities for cultural and recreational activities of a vast territory.

Airport improvements, fire stations and equipment, street improvements, street lighting, parks and recreation, city hall improvements, police station enlargement, city storage and garage and the water softener plant items were also discussed briefly by Wood in his talk.

Dr. Criswell was introduced by Lattimore Ewing; Wood by Elmer East. Out-of-town guests at the luncheon included: H. C. Munn, Amarillo; Capt. Chas. D. Brodie, Little Rock, Ark., Bill Carpenter, Dallas. Returning service men introduced were: Don Davis, Dale Vannoy and Pete Cheney.

Farmers To Vote For AAA Committeemen

Election of community committeemen for the coming year's Agriculture Adjustment Agency program will be held Saturday in 11 Lubbock county communities, Walter Y. Wells, AAA administrative officer here, has announced. Polls will be open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Any farmer participating in a AAA program is eligible to vote or to hold office.

Voting boxes in the various communities will be placed as follows: Hardy, Monroe, Becton, Roosevelt, Wolfforth, Woodrow will vote at their respective schools; Shallowater at the Club house; Idalou and Slaton at the respective City Halls; Hurlwood at the Hurlwood gin; and two boxes for Lubbock in the county court house.

Federal Court Issues Three Judgments Here

Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, presiding over U. S. district court, Lubbock division, handed down three judgments Monday in civil cases and dismissed three more. Court continued today with one civil case being tried. It was expected to go to the jury early this afternoon.

The suits of Paul Panosian and Edward Ingalls, plaintiffs in two separate cases, against the Dickey-Devis company as defendant and third party plaintiff and against the Plains Cooperative, Inc., as third party defendent, were dismissed. Suits were for damages resulting from an automobile accident.

A suit filed under the Farm Credit administration by the United States against John H. Taack was also dismissed.

H. B. Foster was awarded $1,250 for damages resulting from an automobile accident in his suit against Cecil D. Guthrie.

The U. S. government was awarded treble damages amounting to $300 in the case of Chester Bowles, OPA, against Bert Whitefield, doing business under that name. Suit was for alleged violation of price ceilings in the sale of automobiles, and the court enjoined the defendant against sale or transfer of used cars at prices above ceilings.

In a second OPA suit on the same charges C. J. (Jack) Reynolds, doing business as Jack Reynolds Used Car Lot, the U. S. was awarded $213.25 treble damages.

Skipper Pleads Not Guilty To Charges

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP) — Capt. Charles B. McVay, 3rd, skipper of the ill-fated cruiser Indianapolis, entered formal pleas of innocent to charges of negligence and inefficiency in the loss of the vessel today.

The charges were read to him at his public court martial and when asked how he pleaded he replied, "not guilty."

Asked if he had any admission to make in open court with regard to the charges and specifications, he replied through his counsel, Capt. John P. Cady, that he was commanding officer of the cruiser Indianapolis on July 30, 1945, the date she was sunk and that the ship was en route from Guam to Leyte.

War-Shifted Millions Facing Housing, Maferial Shortages

By BILL GLOVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—Home, sweet home is a nightmare crisis instead of a song for America's war-shifted millions, and their housing problem is a top priority headache in every section of the nation, an Associated Press survey shows.

The scarcity picture, which has intensified since V-J day, is a sorry composite in which thousands of families are doubling up, living in substandard dwellings, sleeping in cars, sheds, railroad stations, streets, garages, cellars or trailers.

It is a problem created by several primary causes. Millions of servicemen are returning. Many have married and want homes of their own. Other thousands of families which crowded in with parents and in-laws while the war was on are pressing for larger quarters. Still other thousands who moved into manufacturing centers for war work are staying on.

Big, Little Cities Hit

Here is a sampling of immediate urban housing needs in a dozen big and little cities based on estimates by public officilals and real estate men:

Kansas City, 19,000 family units; Omaha, 5,000; Jefferson City, Mo., 400; Topeka, 1,250; Danburn, Conn., 500; Nashville, 4,000; Detroit, 30,000; Washington, 25,000; Atlanta, 2,500; Chicago, 100,000; Houston, 21,200; Denver, 15,000.

There are shortages all along the line, from one room apartments to materials for new residences. Estimates of building cost increases range from 35 to 60 per cent over pre-war years; yet as an Albuquerque real estate dealer commented:

"It would be cheaper to build a house, if materials were available, than to buy one three or four years old."

In Baltimore a seller can get almost any price if he can guarantee immediate occupancy. In San Francisco a few new houses sold by builders at $6,500 are resold immediately by private citizens for as much as $10,000.

Rents Double In Altus

In contrast, home rental prices have been held by OPA ceilings to within about three per cent of 1941 rates, compared to an overall cost of living increase of between 30 and 60 per cent. A case in point occurred at Altus, Okla., where rents doubled soon after ceilings were removed Sept. 1.

A few scattered communities such as Columbus, Ga., Laredo, Tex., Pryor, Okla., Brunswick, Ga., and some small towns in Nebraska and Washington have seen housing ease as military installations shrink and factories close.

Many college communities have felt the impact of the postwar boom in higher education for returning servicemen, many of whom arrive on the campus with wives and children.

The University of Texas estimates it lost 500 potential students because of lack of housing, and many other colleges, especially in the New England states, have similar stories. One girl at the Texas State College for Women slept for a time in a pup tent on the campus.

Varied Subjects Face Meeting Of Officials

FORT WORTH, Dec. 4 (AP)—Discussion of postwar highways, airports, health and social security in this state will hold the attention of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas, which today will begin a three-day convention here, with 800 expected to attend.

Four state officials are on the program, including John H. Winters, Austin, director of the department of public welfare; John S. Redditt, Lufkin, chairman of the highway commission; Dr. George W. Cox, Austin, state health officer, and D. C. Greer, Austin, chief engineer of the highway commission.

Gilbert Smith, of Anson, is president of the association.

Miss Mary Blackwell Is Taken By Death

Miss Mary M. Blackwell, 66, former resident of El Paso, died Monday night after a long illness at the home of her brother, George Blackwell, 1507 Ave. U.

A native of Dardanelle, Ark., Miss Blackwell resided there until 1900 when, with her family, she moved to Denver, Colo. In 1937 Miss Blackwell moved to El Paso where she lived until 1943, when she came to Lubbock.

Other survivors are an aunt, Mrs. Mattie Halliburton, Little Rock, Ark., and a brother, Roy Blackwell, Lubbock.

The body will be carried overland to El Paso for funeral services and burial to be held there Thursday. Rix Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Three Men Killed In Trailer House Blast

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 4 (AP)—An explosion and fire in a trailer house at the edge of Wichita Falls last night resulted in the death of three men. Firemen were searching for a possible fourth victim today.

The dead were identified as Ellis Smith, 67, owner of the trailer house; Frank Herring, 59, and J. D. McCracken, 37.

Police said that all three were painters.

Fire chief George Osteen said a can of coal oil near the stove was believed to have exploded, causing the fire. Osteen said neighbors reported flames spread with lightning rapidity after a small muffled explosion in the trailer house.

Only a few pieces of charred wood and metal remained of the structure.

Fort Worth Man Gets Scottish Rite Post

FORT WORTH, Dec. 4 (AP)—W. Steve Cooke yesterday was crowned Scottish Rite inspector general of Texas by John H. Cowles of Washington, sovereign grand commander of Scottish Rite.

In a secret ceremony, witnessed by only two persons, a symbolic crown of leaves was placed on the Fort Worth man's head by the sovereign grand commander, titular head of Scottish Rite Masonry in 33 states, the Philippines, Alaska and the Panama Canal zone.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. adv

"Don't Watch," Says Bandit, Takes $1,000

HOUSTON, Dec. 4 (U.P.)—Police searched today for a bashful gunman who robbed a department store of $1,000 last night.

Entering the store at closing time, the gunman told four employes and two customers "turn your backs," and added, "don't watch me."

In the self-imposed privacy he scooped up $1,000 from a safe and cash register and turned down another $200 in wrapped tubes of silver.

"Don't watch me," he told them again as he started for the door and made a successful getaway.

Fewer than 600 of the total 2500 rural communities in the United States are provided with whole-time health officers.

Shanghai Is Wonderful City As Long As You Stay Above It—As Long As You Do Not Become A Part Of Its Teeming Life

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Dec. 4—The bald, old man bent over his piano with nervous fingers as his son, Herbert, strolled with an accordion among the booths lining the small, smoky nightclub, playing the favorite tunes of soldier and sailor friends.

In Prague, the father had played the piano only as relaxation from his business and the son was a well-known concert pianist and music arranger. But that was before the war, and now Herbert played the accordion so that his father could have a job in the night club, too.

Room Is Crowded

The room was crowded and hazy and full of loud talk. Soldiers and White Russian bar girls overflowed the small dance floor and their liquor glasses left sticky rings on the piano. The old man said nothing.

In one booth Herbert saw again a young soldier he wished was his brother. The boy's face was set in sullen lines. There was a White Russian girl with him. They had been quarreling. Suddenly the girl drained her glass of cherry soda—she called it "poison" and got a commission from the house for each drink—and walked over to sit down in another booth with two officers. The soldier called the waiter and ordered six cognacs.

He was still toying with the glasses when Herbert came over. He did not look up until Herbert said:

"I wish you were my brother so I could talk to you."

"Go ahead," said th esoldier.

"She Is Not For You"

Herbert played softly with one hand as he pointed at the empty glass left by the girl. His dark eyes, luminous behind thick, horn-rimmed spectacles, were kind and his trin, white face was strained.

"Keep away," he said gently. "She is not for you. If I were your brother, I could tell you about Shanghai. The first night you came here I liked you because you looked decent and clean. Shanghai is a wonderful city. Every kind of life is here. In Prague, I know only classical music. In Shanghai, I learned life working in places like this. You can get a lot from Shanghai as long as you stay above it—as long as you do not become a part of it."

Herbert moved silently back to the piano, nodded to his father, who shifted over, and sat down and began to play. His fingers had struck only a few bars when the noisy talk began to die down. Herbert smiled around the room and looked to the soldier.

Thoughts Of Home

The tinkly piano began to throb with new chords of deeper pattern, music heard in no night clubs. It rose in lilting melodies and the soldier thought of the laughter of girls he had known fleetingly in Paris. The music shifted and sobbed like the wind he had known at night lying in a foxhole in Belgium. Then it broke out in a fast emotional crescendo, like the Caucasian folk song the Russians played the day he drank vodka with them by the river Elbe in Germany. And then the pattern changed again with a thread of soprano loneliness crying up from the white keys and the soldier thought of home. The music ended and the room was still for a long moment.

The soldier got his cap and stumbled over.

"What was it, Herbert?" he asked. "What was it?"

"It has no name," said the musician gently. 'It was you, my brother."

The soldier turned and slowly walked through the blue smoke toward the door. The White Russian girl glanced up and tried to catch his eye, but he was looking the other way.

Religious Emphasis Talks Heard By 600

Opening convocation of religious emphasis week at Texas Tech was attended by about 600 students, largest group ever to attend this annual gathering, Monday morning with Rev. H. G. Gantz, pastor of the First Christian church, delivering the main sermon on Christianity.

Vesper Services

Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist church, Dallas, spoke last night at the First Christian church for first night's vesper services. He will speak at 7 o'clock each evening at the church, his presence here as principal speaker for the week's services being sponsored by the Student Religious council.

Dr. Criswell will devote his time to students, both in public services and conferences. Informal meetings, not to be scheduled, will be held on the campus and at the church.

A tea was to be held this afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock attended by members of the Tech faculty, the Student Religious council and all local ministers at the Tech social center.

Morning Watch Service

A morning watch service will be held from 7 to 8 a. m. Friday in Annex G of the home economics building. Coffee and doughnuts will be served from 7 to 7:30 a. m.

Activities will be concluded Friday evening with vesper services at the First Christian church, to be followed by a student get-together.

Sunday is being featured as "go to church" day for all Tech students. Traditional observance of this day follows religious emphasis week. All students are being urged to attend the church of their choice.

Appreciative Crowd Hears Nino Martini

Nino Martini, leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera association, won a new audience at last night's Texas Tech Artists course program as a mood of gaiety and light heartedness was evoked by his singing.

Lubbock High school auditorium was filled with an appreciative, applauding crowd. They heard good music sung by a great artist.

Another service Martini performed while in Lubbock was selecting from eight contestants, the four top Texas Tech beauties who will have a full-page picture in La Ventana, college yearbook. The remaining four will have a half-page picture in La Ventana. Selections were not announced by the college.

Copper is believed to be the first metal used by man.

Defendant In Trial Heard

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4 (AP)—Annie Irene Mansfeldt, on trial for the murder of Nurse Vada Martin, fought to control her emotions on the witness stand Monday, testifying in her own defense.

Mrs. Mansfeldt was suddenly called to the stand following testimony by members of her family, including her three children. The jurors leaned forward and listened intently as she testified in a low, even voice.

Denied Accusation

She is accused of slaying Mrs. Martin, who in her dying breath denied Mrs. Mansfeldt's accusation that she had stolen the love of the socially prominent Dr. John H. Mansfeldt, 48. The physician committed suicide a few hours after the shooting.

Mrs. Mansfeldt pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

Under the gentle guidance of Defense Attorney Vincent Hallinan, Mrs. Mansfeldt told the following story:

She graduated from music school in 1920 and went to live with Mrs. Mansfeldt and there met her husband. "John Mansfeldt was the first sweetheart I ever had."

Was Very Bashful

John did not smoke or drink, but was very bashful and self-conscious. He was a corporal in the first World war and afterwards was under the care of a psychiatrist, Dr. Milton Lennon.

"One night I told John he could be a very fine doctor and if he studied medicine I would marry him. He was in love with me and followed me around in a dog-like, trusting way."

Her mother-in-law, Eva Mansfeldt, gradually went insane and thought she could teach subnormal children through telepathy, the defendant said. Later, John told Irene his mother had turned against her and he thought it was not safe to allow her her freedom. She was committed to an asylum.

Mrs. Mansfeldt said she was married six years before her first child was born. She underwent an operation to induce child birth and then visited another doctor when the operation was not successful.

The second doctor told her she should "be in an institution for the insane."

Mrs. Mansfeldt will resume the stand today.

Gave Strong Sedatives

Attorneys for Mrs. Mansfeldt contended that Dr. Mansfeldt gave his wife strong sedatives after she became hysterical while upbrading him for the association she believed he had with the nurse. That was on the night of Oct. 3.

The three Mansfeldt children—John, 14; Irene, 15, and her 12-year-old sister, Terry, were called to tell what they could of events of the fatal day.

John was awakened that morning about 7 o'clock by his mother screaming upstairs—about 5 or 6 screams then I heard a loud thump or fall on the floor. I ran upstairs with sister Terry, but father told us to go back downstairs, that everything was all right." Later, he said, he saw his father leading Mrs. Mansfeldt down the staircase. She was staggering and dazed, the boy added, "and not conscious of what she was doing." He said that his mother drove him to school that morning—just a few hours before Mrs. Martin was killed—but drove in an erratic manner. Normally, he testified, she drove carefully.

The other children gave similar testimony.

Latest Contraption: "Ideal Baby Keeper"

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4. (U.P.)—Meet the man American mothers may some day nominate as their favorite guy.

Meet E. H. Lamm, who made his own postwar job.

The San Antonio man manufactures a little gadget called "the ideal baby keeper."

With two friends, Lamm opened a factory to turn out the unique contraptions and he says he has more orders than he'll ever be able to fill.

The "ideal baby keeper," like most successful inventions, is simple but effective. It consists of two plywood discs separated by adjustable braces and a swivel chair. Baby is strapped in like a flier in a cockpit, and Lamm claims the young ones stay quietly amused for hours without attention.

WHALING TO START

TOKYO, Dec. 4 (AP) — Japanese whalers will put to sea again this winter in waters off Iwo Jima and other islands in the Bonins.

An Allied headquarters directive today announced whaling would be permitted under rigid restrictions and regulations in former Japanese areas of control in the Pacific.

Millions Released From Armed Forces

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP) — The Army said today that 3,634,000 men had been released through Nov. 30, more than 40 per cent of the 8,300,000 Army strength on V-E day.

More than half of the peak strength of the Army will be demobilized before New Year's day the statement said.

Meanwhile, the Army and Navy announced that nearly 4,000,000 soldiers, sailors and marines had been brought back from Europe and the Pacific since V-E day and that another million will come home this month.

Exact length of a year is 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, 45.51 seconds.

Highland Park And Wichita Favorites

Lufkin, Waco And Odessa Also Among The Leaders; All-State Nominations Made

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS, Dec. 4—There is no change in the rankings of Texas schoolboy football teams this week except after you get below the first ten. Jefferson (San Antonio) is moved to the top of the second ten but probably will make this selection look bad this week by trimming No. 9 Brownsville in its bi-district play-off game.

There are other changes in the lower brackets but here's the ranking of the top 30:

The Top Rankers

1. Highland Park. 2. Wichita Falls. 3. Lufkin. 4. Waco. 5. Odessa 6. Amarillo. 7. Paris. 8. Goose Creek. 9. Brownsville. 10. Milby (Houston). 11. Jefferson. 13. Plainview. 13. Marshall. 14. Crozier Tech. 15. Breckenrdidge. 16. Sweetwater. 17. El Paso High. 18. Galveston. 19. Austin. 20. Brackenridge 21. Pampa. 22. North Side. 23. Palestine. 24. Orange. 25. San Jacinto. 26. Brownwood. 27. Port Arthur. 28. Electra. 29. Paschall. 30. Longview.

Nominations for All-State are now rolling in. The All-State will be picked this year by the Texas Sports Writers association. Plans are for it to be named at the winter meeting of the association in Dallas the day of the Cotton bowl game.

The Texas Coaches association is working with the sports writers in picking the team. Nomination blanks will be mailed soon to both coaches and sports writers.

Nomination In Early

Jack Woodward of the Plainview Herald gets his nomination in early. He suggests that Quarterback Jack Williams of Plainview, who handles the quarterback job in Coach W. C. O. Harris' T formation, should be considered strongly.

Williams, a 6-foot, 170-pounder, besides directing the offense in Plainview's nine victories this season did these things:

1. Completed 57 of 101 passes for 947 yards and 10 touchdowns.
2. Averaged 33 yards on 38 punts including several short coffin corner kicks.
3. Averaged 4.9 yards per carry from scrimmage despite 83 yards lost when trapped on passing attempts.
4. Scored five touchdowns running, added 23 points after touchdowns and in all passed, ran and kicked for 113 points of the 204 made by the Bulldogs this season.
5. Intercepted 10 enemy passes.

Williams, who is quite a golfer in addition to being a football star, favors T.C.U. He's a senior.

Tunnell Is Boosted

From Coach Babe Webb of Van High school comes a letter boosting Mac Tunnell. Mack is a brother of Gus Tunnell, who played at Southern Methodist several seasons back.

Mack is 6 feet 2, weighs 165 and is fast. He is a backfielder on the Van High school team and Webb thinks he should be spotted in the annual All-Star game of the Texas coaching school.

Doc Osborn of the Brownsville Herald praises the work of Marshall Alford, Brownsville high school back.

Alford, 15 years old, is 6 feet tall and weighs 175. "He is the best punter I ever saw in high school anywhere and I have never seen a better passer," declares Osborn.

Alford has averaged 40 yards kicking the pigskin this year.

Basketball Leagues Open Training Here

The Lubbock Boys club basketball leagues, three in number, started training Monday for the coming club basketball season with a good turnout reported for the first day.

Tentative dates for games with Wichita Falls have been set for Jan. 18 in Lubbock and Jan. 26 in Wichita Falls. There has been no discussion of dates with Amarillo as yet.

The leagues will be composed of the Midgets, Juniors and Seniors. The Midgets will take in boys 10 to 12 years of age, juniors will be boys 13 and 14 years of age, and seniors will be boys 15 to 17 years old.

The Midgets will have eight teams, the juniors eight teams and the seniors six teams. The two younger leagues will play each day, the Midgets starting at 4:30 o'clock, the juniors at 6 o'clock. The seniors will play on three nights, Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, starting their games at 7:30 o'clock.

Jack "Spider" Dillon, well known Texas Tech athlete stepped into the coaching job at the Boys club Monday afternoon, and will work with L. L. Taylor with the basketball leagues.

Many of last year's star players are back in action again this year, but some are missing. Jimmy Clark, a star of last year is playing with the Lubbock Westerners this season as a regular. Johnny Lawson is playing on a Junior College team in Colorado this season. Benny Gunn is at Texas A. & M. and out for the cage team there.

Among the new boys coming in for places this season will be Gaylon Brand, a promising star from Portland, Oregon, and Jack Gailey, who moved here from Denison, Texas. Both are ineligible for high school ball, but will get some valuable experience with the Boys club.

League captains named in the Midget league are Pat Warren, Ira Owens, Tommy Elliott, James Owen, Billy Wayne Goodrich, Loyd Smith, Jerry Holloway and Jimmy Crawford.

League captains named in the Junior league are Jerry Golden, J. B. Elliott, Dudley Stanley, Duane Scott, Melvin Lindsey and M. D. Stevens.

League captains named for the Seniors are Leon Littleton, Gaylon Brand, Joe Parham, Frank Clark, Jack Gailey and Jack Chaney.

Army Is No. 1 Team Of 1945

Navy Second And Alabama Third

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—Without a single dissenting vote, Army's eleven has been named the No. 1 college football team of the country for the second year in succession.

In defeating Navy decisively 32-13 Saturday for their 18th consecutive victory in two seasons, the Cadets convinced the 116 experts who voted in the final Associated Press rating poll that they stand in a class by themselves.

Service Teams Not Included

This year service teams were not included in the poll.

As a result of a stalwart second half stand against Army in the service classic, Navy garnered enough second and third place support to wind up in second position while the Rose bowl-bound Alabama gridders took third. Army piled up 1,160 points on a basis of 10 points for first, nine for second and so down the list.

Indianas Big Ten champions grabbed off fourth place while Oklahoma's Aggies, another unbeaten and untied combination, moved up from sixth to fifth.

Notre Dame, which was fifth a week ago, dropped down to ninth as a result of the South Benders, 39-7 licking at the hands of Great lakes Saturday.

Michigan finished sixth followed by St. Mary's, Pennsylvania, Notre Dame and Texas.

The ranking teams:

Team	Points
1—Army	1,160
2—Navy	942
3—Alabama	932
4—Indiana	720
5—Oklahoma Aggies	651
6—Michigan	378
7—St. Mary's	320
8—Pennsylvania	212
9—Notre Dame	217
10—Texas	163

Others: 11—Southern California, 121; 12—Ohio State, 82; 13—Duke, 74; 14—Tennessee, 73; 15—Louisiana State, 62; 16 — Holy Cross, 56; 17—Tulsa, 35; 18—Georgia 29; 19—Wake Forest, 11; 20—Columbia, 10.

Memorial Trophy Is Voted Army Eleven

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP)—Army's peerless gridders are beginning to reap a champion's harvest.

The collegiate football kings were unanimously voted the August V. Lambert Memorial trophy, symbolic of Eastern football supremacy, while Doc Blanchard, the Cadets' All-America fullback, captured two "outstanding player of the year" awards yesterday.

Blanchard polled 860 votes to 638 for his teammate Glenn Davis to win the Heisman award in New York and also was named winner of Philadelphia's Maxwell club trophy.

Mustangs Capture Most Of The Top Places In The Southwest; Hoffman, Joslin Outstanding

(By The Associated Press)

Southern Methodist captured most of the top places in Southwest conference football so far as the statistics go, leading the way in individual punting, pass-receiving and punt returning and in team passing, but the major individual prizes — ground-gaining and passing — went to John Hoffman of Arkansas and Leon Joslin of Texas Christian.

Howard (Red) Maley of Southern Methodist turned in the most amazing performance of any player, averaging 41.7 yards on 59 punts. In conference games only, Maley showed 43.4 on 29 boots.

Hoffman Top Gainer

Hoffman, the big Arkansas freshman, rolled up 587 yards net on 1939 carries to top the ground-gainers, but was only 25 yards ahead of Preston Smith of Texas A. and M. who had 140 tries. Sammie Pierce of Baylor was third with 537 yards and Rob Goode of A. and M. fourth with 506.

Joslin, the slender T.C.U. freshman, whipped the ball out 142 times and 69 of those times found a receiver for a total of 955 yards. Jack Price of Baylor finished as runner-up with 59 completions in 125 attempts for 708 yards. Doak Walker of Southern Methodist had the highest percentage on completions with 38 out of 55 for 387 yards.

In punting Maley was far ahead of second-place Jimmy Plyler of Texas, who averaged 38.7 on 49 boots. The most prolific kicker was Goode with 87 punts for an average of 37.0 and third place.

Walker Best Punt Returner

In punt returns, listing only those making 10 or more runs, Walker was No. 1 with an average of 15.8 yards on 15 gallops. In pass-receiving Gene Wilson of Southern Methodist caught the most with 31 but Hubert Bechtol of Texas gained the most yards. Wilson got 311 yards while Bechtol made 389 on 25 catches.

In team offense, Texas had the largest average per game. The Longhorns in ten contests rolled up 2831 yards—an average of 283.1. Southern Methodist in 11 games made 2977 yards for an average of 270.6. In passing, S.M.U. was tops with 1319 yards while Rice was the leading ground team with 1879 yards in 11 games.

Raiders Will Start Season

Texas Tech's Red Raiders finally found somebody to play basketball with, and will open the home cage season Thursday night at the Tech gym in the first of a two game series with Eastern New Mexico State college from Portales. The series will be concluded Friday night.

The visitors won their only game this year in defeating New Mexico Military institute by a close score last week. Coach Al Garten said in booking the games here by telephone Monday that his team is fairly fast and includes some tall rangy lads. He promised good games for the Raiders and expressed the hope his team could win.

Four Vets Ready

Coach Polk Robison plans to start four veterans and a freshman Thursday night. Lettermen Gene Hardey, Jiggs Jackson and Jay Kerr, Squadman Bill Kelley of last year and Freshman Tilley Sneed of Idalou will makeup the starters. Sneed at 6 feet, 8½ inches is the tallest lad ever to report to the Tech coaches.

Robison said his squad has been rounding into shape rapidly and is expected to be much stronger than last year. Reserves will consist entirely of freshmen but several likely prospects have appeared, including Don Dollar of Dumas, Leon Schoup of Dublin, Ardis Barton of Spring Lake and Jim Putnam of Throckmorton.

Club Shows Class

The Raider coach said he was pleased with improvement in play of his veterans and is hopeful the season will produce a majority of victories.

The games this week are scheduled to start at 7:30 p. m.

In workouts last night two former Raiders were on hand to assist. They were Don Groves, 1944-45 center, and Dale Cooper, 1943 letterman. Groves is on leave in the Army, while Cooper, who played considerable basketball for Amarillo Army Air Field last year, recently was discharged.

Chicubs Plan Camp For Returning Vets

CHICAGO, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, champions of the National League, will pioneer a special training base for GI's at no expense to returned soldiers to aid them in making a successful baseball comeback.

The plan, an innovation in major league baseball, was announced today. It provides for establishment of a camp at Lake Worth, Fla., to operate from Jan. 15 through March 14.

Eligible to attend are any servicemen reinstated from the Cubs' list of 237 players on the national defense list. Jack Sheehan, Cubs' farm system chief and director of the program, said 30 Cub-owned players already have been discharged from military service and the total may reach 100 or more before the camp opens.

The Cubs will pay all travel and boarding expenses for camp candidates and have arranged for housing at 65 private residences at Lake Worth with two to five players staying at each home.

Also eligible to attend the camp are returned veterans who sign as free agents with the Cubs or their 11 minor league farm clubs.

Plans are being developed by 19 airlines in the United States to handle nearly one billion pounds of air cargo in the near future, according to Distribution Age.

Cage Tilt Is Set Tonight

Levelland Lobos Seek Second Win

The highly rated Levelland Lobos, seeking to make it two in a row over the Lubbock Westerners, will roll into Lubbock High school gym tonight at 7 o'clock for the second meeting of the year between the clubs, and the first home game for the Westerners.

The Westerners and Lobos opened the season last week at Levelland, with the Lobos winning the game, 22 to 18. The play of both clubs was typical of the opening round, and there were ragged spots, but both gave promise of showing plenty of power this season.

Team In Top Shape

Coach Hayhurst said that his Westerners would be at top strength for tonight's battle, and expressed hope that the local club could even the score with the Lobos.

Gerald Davis and Bob Crawford likely will start at forwards for the Westerners. Verdell Turner, only letterman, will be at center. The guards will be Jimmy Clark and Don Finley.

Levelland played the game last week with only five men, and those same five are expected to start against the Westerners tonight. They are Clardy and Garrison at forwards, Pierce at center, Pearcy and Harkins at guards.

Veteran Lobo Club

The Lobos have a veteran ball club, and one that is expected to go far in the Class A race this season. The Lobos have been the powerhouse club of West Texas for several years.

The show tonight will be started by the B game, with the Lobos the club this week that will be seeking revenge. The Westerner B team won at Levelland last week, 21 to 12.

Lubbock will take on the fast Abernathy Antelopes Friday night, at Abernathy, and back in Lubbock next Tuesday with the Antelopes. The Antelopes opened the season last week, winning a close 15-13 decision over New Deal.

The Westerners were somewhat bolstered Monday afternoon with the reporting of Jack Alderson to the club. Alderson is a guard, and has been counted on for this season. He has been delayed in getting out because of an attack of the flue.

Bill Carter is another promising cage prospect that has been held back by the flu, and still has not reported to Coach Hayhurst. The coach hopes to have Carter on the squad before the Antelope games.

DOGS FIND COVIES

CORSICANA, Tex., Dec. 4 (AP)—An average of two covies of quail were found today per thirty minute course, in the 12 braces of the all-age division of the Texas Open Field Trials association's annual meet, President A. P. Mays of Corsicana, said.

All-Southeastern Eleven Is Chosen

ATLANTA, Dec. 4 (AP) — Alabama's Rose bowl-bound eleven placed four players on the Associated Press All-Southeastern conference team to dominate the selections for 1945.

Here's the complete 1945 team:

Ends — Rebel Steiner of Alabama, and Bill Hilderbrand of Mississippi State.

Tackles—Bobby Davis of Georgia Tech, and Tom Whitley of Alabama.

Guards—Bob Dobelstein of Tennessee, and Felix Trapani of Louisiana State.

Center—Vaughn Mancha of Alabama.

Backs—Harry Gilmer of Alabama, Charlie Trippi of Georgia, Harper Davis of Mississippi State, and Gene Knight of Louisiana State.

Y. A. Tittle of Marshall, Louisiana State player, was given honorable mention.

Rassel-Royal To Be Staged Wednesday

Promoter Pete Hallas named the six wrestlers scheduled for the rassel-royal Wednesday night at the Lubbock Horse and Mule Auction arena, and revealed that six familiar faces would be back for the weekly card.

Tony Ross, the Hood, Ivan Jones, Charley Trejo, Milt Olsen and Gorilla Poggie were named as the six to start the show off at 8:30 o'clock.

The first two wrestlers pinned will return for the one fall, 30 minute time limit match. The second two defeated will be back for the semi-final for two out of three falls with a 45 minute time limit, and the two final survivors of the rassel royal will return for the main event, with a 90 minute time limit.

IT'S too late to do very much in the way of a concerted effort for this year, but plans should be laid now to make Lubbock's 1946 Christmas season something superduper in the way of Yule decorations.

Back in the days before the war, Lubbock was slowly but surely getting interested in holiday decorations which would "stand out like a sore thumb." Civic leaders were about to make up their minds that downtown streets should be well decorated every year and that contests, stimulating lighting displays on homes and business buildings, should be sponsored.

Recently, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest L. Lindsey, of 3114 Twentieth, made an automobile trip to their old home section of Missouri. Their route led them through the little Oklahoma town of Miami, population around 8,000, in the extreme Northeast corner of the Sooner state.

"When we saw Miami's Christmas decorations," Mrs. Lindsey says, "we were amazed. They were both beautiful and striking."

Mrs. Lindsey said Miami's downtown section was a mass of holiday greenery; bells with silver balls were in profusion and light standards were fixed to look like Christmas candles, complete, even, with what looked like dripping wax.

The effect, Mrs. Lindsey says, was stunningly attractive.

THE time to lay plans for 1946 decorations is right now, with the Christmas season just around the corner and people naturally thinking about it.

A committee should be appointed by the chamber of commerce to begin concrete thinking in this regards and to which Lubbockites may pass on information about other towns which, like little Miami, Okla., have something outstanding. Between now and Yuletide, 1946, our decorations should be purchased and details worked out for the downtown and residential lighting and display contests.

If we don't start now, while Christmas is "in the air," the first thing we know it will be "too late again" for next season's activities.

"In the United States," says Dr. Alvin H. Hansen, professor of political economy at Harvard, "we should systematically demolish 600,000 substandard homes a year for 20 years to make way for new buildings."

Yeah, Doc, maybe so—but starting in the future, not now. "Sub-standard homes" are renting everywhere for seven times their worth and without 'em we'd have even more people minus places to live!

A YOUNG man with the proper interest in his school is Harold Franklin (Stony) Wall, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Inglefield Wall, 2409 Twentieth. It seems to us that young "Stony" does about everything there is to do at Lubbock Senior High with the exception of acting as principal.

He's on the football team, the basketball team, the Student council. He has time to write pieces for the Westerner World, as its sports editor; to yodel in the mixed chorus and take a prominent role in the Quill and Scroll club. He also has been Junior Rotarian.

In short, "Stony" is a valuable young citizen of our community, as well as a student who contributes to a lot of the better things at the high school.

We imagine his mother and father are proud of him and if they are, they have a right to be.

* * *

Chicago hotels were so crowded one night last week that several convention visitors spent the night in Turkish baths.

Sweating out vacancies, no doubt!

That Man on Avenue Q says turning green with envy has a habit of making you ripe for trouble.

The Astoria, Oregon, Budget, a newspaper there, makes sense when it says:

"Most of the talk about the atomic bomb is sheer nonsense. Very few people know enough about the subject, or have given it enough thought, to have opinions worth airing."

Think it over.

IT is no exaggeration to say that more Lubbock motorists ignore "stop signs" than obey them. This is especially true in outlying residential areas, where drivers know the odds are 9,000-to-1 that they can "run" the signs and never get caught.

We hold no brief for "stop sign runing." It is a dangerous practice; it is illegal and it is morally wrong.

But we submit that most, if not all, of Lubbock's "stop signs" are difficult for newcomers and visitors to see and interpret, even during daylight hours. And after dark, it is difficult to see the darn things and even oldtimers who know that an iron button in the street means "stop" overlook them because their eyes, naturally, are focused on the cross street, and possible traffic.

When the first few iron button "stop signs" were installed here, we asked a couple of city officials "how come?" This was way before the war, or any tire shortages.

The then officials explained that the rubber signs wore out; the iron buttons didn't. Hence the iron buttons.

We observed that if the main idea of "stop signs" was to keep them from wearing out, going without any at all would be the most efficient. But, on the other hand, if "stop signs" were to be signals to drivers, then first they should be of the type that the driver could more easily see and read.

We lost out there, however. More and more of the dinky buttons were put in and while they certainly do wear well, they aren't such a much for any other purpose.

IF a miracle should happen and someone should be given a ticket for "running" a "stop sign" somewhere in our fair city after dark, the offending motorist could "beat the rap" hands down by taking the matter into a jury trial. Even the most unreasonable juror in Lubbock would have to admit that the iron buttons—bad enough in daytime—are useless at night.

Maybe so in the brave new postwar world we're going to have some day, Lubbock will get some "stop signs" that can be seen and read at night as well as in the daytime—signs on standards erected each near-side, righthand corner affected, as are used in the more traffic-enlightened communities. Such an innovation, with a more generous assignment of traffic cops, should improve matters no end.

In case anybody at City Hall is interested, those standards and signs can be purchased for $6.45 per each—according to testimony from cities which have them. That may be a little more expensive than the "iron lumps" we have now. But if expense is the principal item, we can save money by not even buying the "lumps."

They don't work, anyhow.

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT
(Copyright, 1945, For The Journal)

A CAMPAIGN to prevent mothers-in-law from meddling in marriages is under way in England, backed by the "society for the Prevention of Family Interference."

MILLETT

If such a movement is ever to start in America, now would be the time.

For parents and parents-in-law have had a field day while husbands have been away fighting overseas.

WIVES NEEDED HELP

IF a war wife didn't move in with her own or her husband's family—where they could advise her on everything from how to discipline junior to how to spend her allotment check—she at least, in most cases, came to spend more time with her family and his, and to depend more on their advice than she would have if her husband had been with her.

This has in many cases encouraged both families to take more than a normal, healthy amount of interest in the wife's life, her problems and her marriage.

And it is going to be hard for the older folks to step out of the picture now. They're used to having their say. And because it makes them feel needed it is going to be hard to give up.

IT'S THE MAN'S JOB

NEEDLESS to say, the men are going to come home not wanting any parental or in-law fingers in the pie when they settle down to face all the problems of postwar readjustment. It was fine for Mary or Susie to have someone to turn to in their absence—but it isn't going to be so fine if she keeps right on turning to the older generation for sympathy, advice and help when her man is back home and feeling plenty capable of looking after his family all by himself.

We won't need any "Society for the Prevention of Family Interference" if the wife, her parents and her husband's parents will look straight at the problem and see it for what it is. It has to be a back seat for the parents and parents-in-law now—and no back seat driving.

"People are losing their fear of hell," asserts an evangelist. Well, no wonder—it is said that familiarity breeds contempt.

"Try And Stop Me"
By Bennett Cerf

ALMOST every year, some manuscript that has been kicked around from pillar to post by a dozen publishers pops up as a huge best seller.

Publishers never know just where the next success is going to come from, what obscure little writer is suddenly going to blossom into another Sinclair Lewis or Ernest Hemingway.

John Galsworthy used to tell about a luncheon he had with his publisher near the beginning of his career, just before he sailed to the Far East on a P. and O. steamer. "There is no new talent coming along in London," sighed the publisher. "The writing profession is going to the dogs." "Cheer up," said Galsworthy. "Maybe I'll run across something while I'm on my trip."

Several days out of England, while his boat was steaming down the West African coast, Galsworthy was approached by a diffident ship's officer, with a manuscript under his arm. "Mr. Galsworthy," he said, "may I impose upon you to read this manuscript for me? English is not my native tongue, and I have never tried to write a book before. I won't be too disappointed, therefore, if you think I've been wasting my time." Galsworth promised the officer he would glance through the script. The officer's name was Joseph Conrad. The book was Almayer's Folly.

Today's Journal Editorial

WHY NOT GO ALL THE WAY?

During the war years, Selective service did not always make sense. The coming of peace seems not to have deterred it from occasionally doing things which are a little difficult to understand, or things which go a little too far or not far enough.

Last Friday, Selective service announced it had set up standards for deferment of draft registrants, 18 through 25, engaged in certain technical and scientific fields.

In the light of a world recently much advanced, Selective service was motivated, one gathers, by the desirability of staffing and keeping our physical sciences and engineering on par, if not ahead, of those of other nations.

Its standards make eligible for deferment instructors of these subjects; graduate students; those employed in college and university research on subjects pertinent to the "national interest," and undergraduates with certain qualifications. To be eligible for deferment, the undergraduate must have completed three years of college and served at least two years in a project "directly connected with the war effort."

What we cannot understand is why Selective service makes a show of setting up deferment standards when nine out of ten students able to qualify will be veterans, who are already exempt from the draft. Certainly one would have to look far and hard for an undergraduate, physically qualified for the draft, with three years of college work, who has not done service in the Army or Navy.

It seems to us that the youngsters just coming into the draft ages might have the ability to contribute to our scientific and technical fields. In view of the indications that the next war, if it comes, will be fought to a great degree with test tubes and electronic devices, we don't think it would be amiss for Selective service to authorize blanket deferments for all students desiring to enter a field associated with our national security.

Foreign Policy Worries Administration

Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Harry Hopkins, now hospitalized in New York, is not improving. Always a living skeleton, Harry kept himself alive because of his love of FDR. Now that FDR is gone, Harry has no more zest for work. . . . Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida is returning from a three-month tour of Europe to blister the administration's handling of foreign policy. Coming on top of Sen. Fulbright's two-fisted attack, perhaps somebody around the State department will wake up to the fact that the seeds of World War III can be planted right now . . . The Strategic Services unit of the War department (it was formerly the "oh-so-secret" office of Gen. "Wild Bill" Donovan) has just set up a very interesting project which will not keep the peace. It is working on a "plan for an order of battle for a war with Russia." The job is under direct supervision of Maj. Raymond Cromwell, former Tokyo correspondent for the Wall Street Journal . . . Postmaster General Bob Hannegan has told intimates that he is genuinely concerned about the administration's handling of domestic and foreign problems. He adds that the president is aware of the difficulties and will remedy them.

INSIDE MANAGEMENT PARLEY

LABOR isn't the only group split wide open at the labor-management conference. Management is in the same boat.

At the start, AFL and CIO delegates presented a divided front which made management delegates chortle with glee. Now the shoe is on the other foot.

Eric Johnston, astute president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and usually mild-mannered David Sarnoff, president of Radio Corporation of America, both are storming mad at the more conservative block of management delegates who just don't want to get along with labor.

Johnston and Sarnoff believe unions are here to stay. Also they feel that industrial harmony is essential to reconversion prosperity. So they want to see the conference get somewhere, have carefully refrained from union-baiting.

On the other side of the fence are Almon E. Roth, head of the powerful National Federation of American Shipping, Inc.; Ira Mosher, president of the tory-minded National Association of Manufacturers; and Charlie Wilson, of General Motors.

The first issue facing the management delegates was on the broad principle of general cooperation with labor. Johnston urged full cooperation. So did Sarnoff. However, Mosher and Roth spearheaded the conservative management group, which wants repressive labor legislation from Congress. They feel that if the conference ends in failure, anti-labor legislation is certain.

In his opening address to the conference, Nam's Mosher urged that where the conferees disagree, they "not gloss over" their disagreements. "Let's state them frankly." To Johnston and his colleagues, this was a clear-cut bid to Congress to step in with anti-union laws.

Management delegates have revealed four separate splits in the conference thus far.

FOUR MANAGEMENT SPLITS

NO. 1 split was over a resolution to enforce existing labor-management contracts. The unions had agreed that all grievances arising during the life of a contract be arbitrated. This would avoid irritating work stoppages which have been the source of much industrial disunity. The Johnston-Sarnoff group strongly favored the proposal. However, Roth and Mosher opposed arbitration. They had the measure referred back to a management caucus and have kept it buried.

No. 2 split arose in the committee on collective bargaining. The AFL and CIO had presented a joint proposal—the only proposal on which both were in complete agreement. However, when the resolution came before the executive committee, Roth bullied other management delegates into opposing the resolution. He insisted on rewriting the proposal to include a suggestion for emasculation of the Wagner act.

No. 3 split occurred when Roth and Mosher proposed changes in the anti-trust laws and advocated abrogation of the La Guardia-Norris law which protects unions from paralyzing court injunctions. Roth knew that labor delegates could not accept his proposals. Yet he refused to withdraw them, leading to another stalemate.

Split No. 4 came at last week's executive committee meeting. Eric Johnston recommended that a continuation committee carry on any unfinished business after the conference adjourns. John Holmes, president of Swift & Company; M. W. Clement of the Pennsylvania Railroad; and H. W. Prentiss of Armstrong Cork all opposed. In the end, Johnston had to appeal to his colleagues for unity on even this simple issue before the meeting could continue. At this writing the question still is not settled.

NEW AIR CHIEF

GEN. Carl Spaatz will definitely succeed Gen. Hap Arnold as head of the Army Air forces . . . Maj. Gen. Edmund H. Leavey will succeed Gen. Charles P. Gross as head of Army transportation. This may help to speed troop movements . . . Congressman Hugh DeLacy of Seattle demands that all American troops be withdrawn from China immediately and that use of all American lend-lease for the Chinese civil war be stopped. He'll have a hard time putting this across as long as the policies of Ambassador Patrick J. Hurley prevail in China . . . Those very cooperative Swiss have now informed us that we can't recover the Nazi loot Hitler stole and hid in Switzerland—if it was stolen before 1940. No, their five-year statute of limitations has expired, say the Swiss; which means that any Nazi who stole from the Allies in the first two years of the war and took his booty to Switzerland can now escape scot free . . . Maybe we shouldn't blame the Swiss too much, however. Congressman Hatton Sumners of Dallas, Texas, has just reported out a bill which would reduce the U. S. statute of limitations to a mere one year (not five as in Switzerland) when it comes to violation of national bank laws, wage-hour fraud, or surplus property scandal.

CAPITOL CHAFF

ED PAULEY is so desperate to stick the political knife into Harold Ickes' back that his close crony, Judge Wellburn Mayock, made a special trip to Puerto Rico and issued a blistering report damning Governor Rex Tugwell and the Ickes administration of Puerto Rico. Mayock, who uses his office in Democratic National Committee headquarters to lobby for oil legislation, owes his job to Pauley. Both are dead opposed to Ickes' plan of rescuing submerged oil lands — from whence Pauley derives most of his large income . . . President Truman is worried about the Bretton Woods agreements, which only three countries have ratified. Unless two-thirds of the countries ratify Bretton Woods by January 1, the whole thing will collapse. However, it looks as if the British were holding things (or us) up until the signing of the British-American Loan agreement. After that, London and its satellites will probably fall in line . . . The State department hopes it won't leak out, but Chiang Kai-Shek has sent a pleading cable to Marshal Stalin asking him to keep the Red army in Manchuria longer than the 90 days agreed to in the Chinese-Russian pact. Stalin, however, refused. He informed the Chinese chief of state that if the Red army were to remain one day longer than the agreement called for, Russia would be accused of violating its word. So the U. S. Army now plans to use American transports to carry Chinese troops to Manchuria

(Copyright, 1945, For The Journal)

THE Big City—The iron coughing trolleys as they rumble from corner to corner . . . New York servicemen (just back from overseas) strolling along Bright Light Lane and warming their spirits over familiar sights . . . The sunrise festival of vivid hues celebrating the birth of a new day . . . Broadway's visual poetry punctuated by skyscraper exclamation points . . . Hot-dawg addicts gulping the delicacy as if it was the last h. d. on earth . . . The numbing surgery of a comely waitress' sharp glare cutting off a Romeo's spiel . . . Cabbies bullying their way through traffic . . . A beanery with a caviar tag: Rendezvous de Leon . . . Film box-offices growing tails of waiting patrons blocks long . . . Shadows scribbling grotesque murals across the street.

WINCHELL

The furry waves of mink-coated first nighters drowning a theatre in luxury . . . Vain Stem thespians basking in the spotlight of their bragging tongues . . . Weary night-workers squatting on the masses' throne—a subway seat. Their cobwebbed orbs peer at each other as if they weren't there . . . The well-heeled set pulling themselves up by their own booty . . . Salesgals tucking the frayed edges of their patience under a smile and pinning it with a dimple . . . A deep, blue-eyed noon sky twinkling with sunshine, scarcely noticed by lunch-hourites.

Morning stripping the Big Alley of its sparkling fig leaves, while the sun exposes its nude ugliness . . . Shooting galleries recruiting customers by playing martial music . . . Dusk prowling about the horizon as The Street puts on its mazda apron and goes to work impressing passersby . . . Professional mendicants who are skilled window-dressers of their sympathy display . . . Five ayem, when Broadway's raucous roar subsides into a comforting purr . . . The Saturday evening jubilee spree, when Neon Valley is packed to the brim with humanity attempting to smuggle a little amusement into their harried lives . . . Midtown's paralytic traffic snailing its way forward . . . Tin Pan Alley's jittery tempo striking up an overture for songwriters' insomnia.

THE hum of crisp breezes serving as background music for Autumn . . . Recordings spilling out of music shop loudspeakers into a noisy inferno . . . Pushcart peddlers taking up the shabby threads of their existence and weaving a tapestry of loneliness . . . Grimy alleyways leading to stage doors, where the theatre's glamour rep is buried in a dusty corner . . . A traffic cop powerdiving on a clumsy motorist who lit the fuse of his temper . . . Broadway going to sleep light by light, until only the dim glow of all-night eateries squints in the darkness . . . A flea circus barker setting off vocal fireworks by rocketing adjectives . . . Marquee-deep in lights, the electric conflagration hides nature's Great White Star Way . . . A tiny, white puppy zig-zagging through the human maze—probably lost.

The forlorn characters blabbing they are on the verge of success, but they never get off that precarious perch . . . The latest celluloid rave barging into Lindy's with a fighter escort of press agents . . . Mobs cozing out of theatres at show-break time . . . The sidewalk philosopher bellowing: "How can anyone be an egoist? There are more stars in the sky than people on earth—and the earth is only one small star!" . . . A slick chick putting a wolf back in his cage with the finalty of a dropped egg . . . The quilted softness of silence blanketing the Grandest Canyon at dawn—as welcome as a baby's hushed cry.

THE beautifools who would rather be looked over than looked up to. They have memorized all the words of love but have seldom enjoyed its music . . . A human etcetera shouting: "I am not a bum; I am a vagabond" . . . Newsstands generating explosive black headlines . . . Ugly whispers crouching in the minds of Broadwayites ready to pounce on anyone who clicks . . . Chorines headed for home during the early ayem hours, escorted by fatigue . . . A visiting movie actress lassoing stares as she cruises along on a wave of perfume . . . Honky-tonk penny arcades flushed with excitement and bubbling with activity . . . The silly symphony of Big Apple sounds reaching a crescendo at midnight . . . The Bright Light Artery's natives who never admit they love the place—but rarely leave it.

The veteran stars of the New York show: The lights. They have had a longer run than any of the names they have spelled . . . An Upper Broadway barbershop which caters to musicians. After they get a "haircut," it looks as if they still need one . . . A sailor and a blonde locked in an embrace in the middle of 45th Street, completely ignored by crowds inching along . . . The majestic candy stand in the Roxy lobby, which has a million-dollar showcase for nickel candy bars . . . Novelty shops sprinkled with gay doodads and souvenir trinkets . . . A million fingers of rain leaving their prints on window-panes . . . Clouds aimlessly roaming through a desert of sky . . . Broadway: Cinderella with a pebble in her shoe.

"Big Enough To Handle Him, Boys?"

Byrnes Calls Former Assistant To Reorganize Setup

State Department Antiquated, Understaffed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Thirty-four year old Col. Frank McCarthy was called in by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes to reorganize the State department. As one of General Marshall's aides, he had won a brilliant reputation as an administrator and organizer.

McCarthy, with the rank of assistant secretary, stayed in the department from September 1 to October 11. Resigning, he gave illness as the reason. A contributing cause to that illness may well have been the mess that he found in the department.

CHILDS

In McCarthy's place Byrnes appointed his law partner from Spartanburg, Donald Russell. Russell, who was with Byrnes in the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, has some experience in government but only a limited knowledge of foreign affairs.

Byrnes Cites Shake-ups

At a recent press conference, Byrnes was asked about the reorganization of the department. He said it was proceeding slowly and added that he thought it ought to proceed slowly. He pointed out that there had been several shake-ups at the top which had added to the confusion.

While that may be partly true, the fact remains that a thoroughgoing overhauling is essential if the State department is to do the job that so vitally needs doing. No mere reshuffling of functions will suffice. A few changes at the top will not be enough.

Byrnes himself must do what no secretary in recent recent times has done. He must carry the cause of the State department to Congress, because only with the aid of Congress can the necessary reconstruction be carried out.

THE plain fact is that for years the department has been pitifully understaffed and overworked. No one has ever gone to bat with Congress to get a really adequate appropriation. The deficiency is not merely in experts and officers in the department and the foreign service. There are not enough stenographers, not enough telephones, not enough paper clips, not enough of anything unless it be red tape inherited out of the past.

For foreign service officers in the field, from young secretaries up to ambassadors, the pay is shamefully low. This is one reason why we have so often had rich amateurs instead of trained professionals in our top diplomatic posts.

The State department is just now having to take over new functions. It is important that the American point of view be presented to the press of the world. Therefore some of the staff of the disbanded Office of War Information have been taken over by the department.

People Should Know All

They should be fitted into a revitalized division of information. The objective should be not to keep back information, but to tell the American people everything it is possible to tell within the bounds of national security.

Pressure is growing for a scientific division within the department, with scientific secretaries attached to our principal diplomatic missions. Some such method of scientific exchange would seem to be imperative.

Yet the creaking framework of the department resists these intrusions. It is narrowed by hidebound tradition and narrowed by a pinch-penny policy.

THAT happened in the case of Cordell Hull is, perhaps, typical. He became absorbed in the day-to-day conduct of foreign affairs in a perilous time. On top of that, he was distracted by a feud within the department that owed not a little of its bitterness to the petty jealousies of some professional diplomats.

With his great prestige and popularity in Congress, Hull might have got an aedquate appropriation for a modern department. But he never had the time or the extra energy necessary.

Byrnes now has that opportunity. He, too, has strong personal friendships on Capitol Hill out of his years in the House and the Senate.

But the opportunity will not wait forever. The department of today could deal with the foreign problems of, say, 1910. For the job of 1945 and '46, it is hopelessly handicapped.

"Anything Can Happen . . ."

BIBLE LESSON

SEATTLE, (AP) — The Rev. R. A. Ofstedal, Lutheran minister, suggested that the person who stole a set of visual education slides here the other day would do well to view them through a projector.

"They concern a man who traveled from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among thieves," said the pastor. "They were stolen from the car of a young minister who traveled from Stanwood to Seattle and fell among thieves."

LOOK, O'REILLY!

ALBANY, Calif., (AP) — Patrolmen reporting to headquarters stared in amazement at unquestionably feminine lingerie hanging on a line in the squadroom.

Sgt. Arthur K. Smith explained he had found Ruby Reaves, 20, and Patricia Bitney, 21, standing on the sidewalk outside a naval housing project from which they had suddenly been evicted with their wash half done.

He said he had invited them—laundry and all—to take temporary refuge in the police station.

IT WAS THIS WAY

ROSEBURG, Ore. (AP)—This story didn't go over very well.

A Drain, Ore., man was fined $500 and received a six months jail sentence when he pleaded guilty to swearing out a false complaint that two sailors had assaulted and robbed him, starting police on a long and fruitless search for the attackers.

The robbery story, he explained, seemed a good way to explain to his family why he didn't come here one night.

BRING 'EM BACK ALIVE

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—Patrolman Orville Lashbrook brought in a tough customer after a stiff fight. The boys around the police station say the tough customer brought in Patrolman Lashbrook. At any rate, the culprit is jailed and Lashbrook can vouch for the fact that the prisoners resisted the strong arm of the law.

The culprit was an apple stealing opossum with sharp teeth. Lashbrook captured him and then didn't dare let go. He was forced to dangle the animal from the patrol car window while his partner drove eight blocks to the station.

Today's Thought

When thou hast eaten and are full, then thou shalt bless the Lord thy God for the good land which he hath given thee.—Deuteronomy 8:10.

Missing Plane Being Hunted

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Dec. 4 (U.P.)—A U. S. Army plane with 14 passengers and crewmen aboard was more than 24 hours overdue today on the first leg of a return flight to the United States. Authorities feared the ship had crashed between Asuncion and Montevideo.

Paraguayan Army planes were ordered out on a search of the entire 325-mile route between Asuncion and Montevideo on the possibility that the plane might have made a successful forced landing at some remote point.

No Word Of Plane

The plane left Asuncion at 9 a. m. yesterday and had not been heard from since.

Army authorities said the plane ran into bad weather that forced it off its course and may have made an emergency landing.

There had been no radio contact with the ship, a Douglas C-47, since shortly after the takeoff when the pilot, Lt. Orville Michaelson, California (home town not given) reported that he was flying into a storm.

Also aboard the plane were J. Cordes Delworth, legal attache to the American embassy in Asuncion, and eight members of a U. S. Army geodetic commission.

A full list of the nine passengers and five crewmen was not immediately available. But Army authorities said the following were known to have been aboard, in addition to Michaelson and Delworth:

Lt. Zane Gilcher, Ohio; Lt. Reuben Kline, New York City; Lt. Nunnemaker, Kansas, and Lt. Chester Lowe, Washington.

Boy Burns To Death When Coat Ignited

BEAUMONT, Dec. 4 (AP)—Richard Calhoun, six-year-old son of Mrs. A. S. Calhoun, was burned to death yesterday when his raincoat ignited as he stood before a gas heater.

His mother is under treatment for burns on her hands and arms suffered when she attempted to remove the coat. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at Pitkin, La.

News Briefs

Mrs. Lee Hayslip, 66, who lived with her son at Ropesville, suffered a heart attack about 2 o'clock this morning and died a few hours later in a hospital at Levelland. The body is at Sanders Funeral home. No other information was available from the funeral home early this afternoon.

Optimist Club

he said.

Bean recalled that the county issued approximately $600,000 in road bonds in 1929 but increased valuations precluded the necessity of raising the tax rate. However, he granted that some of the bonds were assumed by the state.

He ventured that not all the $5,894,000 will be needed, pointing out that the estimates for the various projects are based on present labor and material costs. Since the money is to be expended over a period of five years, it is highly likely that a great deal may be saved" as costs drop, as they are expected to do in the near future, he said.

Approval Said Imperative

Bean listed most of the proposed projects as non-controversial, saying that the need for them was so great at this time, and so vital to the future growth of the city, that most citizens realize that approval is imperative. He did not elaborate on these.

He said that there exists some opposition, though not formidable, to the propositions to construct a $1,750,000 auditorium - coliseum and to expend $300,000 on airport improvements.

Mentioning that there was great need in Lubbock for such a project, he said: "If we have the city which we hope for, we must give some attention to cultural and entertainment facilities. They are a necessary part of a progressive city."

The attorney said that improvements must be made at the airport to care for a boom in commercial and private aviation.

"Everything which will be built at the port will be used by somebody, who will pay rent to the city," he said. "The improvements will provide the city with a steady income and should pay the operations costs of the port."

He observed that six scheduled commercial flights now operate through Lubbock, that, at least, two more are in the offing and that many more are certain to come. Six airplane agencies now desire to establish businesses there, he revealed.

He predicted that between 100 and 150 people will be employed at the port in the next few years.

Bean declared that aviation had now reached the point where it was a "vital part of our transportation system" and that "we should not neglect it."

crime of fraud—the fraud by which they placed themselves in a position to do their murder and their robbery."

Halter Around Necks

He said the British Empire was determined to prove "that the waging of an aggressive war is not only a dangerous venture but a criminal one," and that "persons who, in violation of this law, plunge their own and other countries into an aggressive war, do so with a halter around their necks."

Shawcross turned to a detailed analysis of German moves and motives, asserting: "From the moment Hitler became chancellor, with the defendant von Papen as vice-chancellor, and with the defendant von Neurath as his foreign minister, the whole atmosphere of the world darkened."

"Treaties," Shawcross said, "seemed no longer matters of solemn obligation, but were entered into with complete cynicism as a means of deceiving other states of Germany's warlike intentions."

Navy Changes

der in chief of the Pacific fleet.

Has Been Selected

The deputy chief of naval operations for operations—an officer in charge of strategic plans, actual fleet operations and fleet readiness—also will be a naval aviator. He has been selected by Admiral Nimitz and will take over when he completes his present assignment. He was not identified.

Rear Admiral Richard L. Conolly, an amphibious commander, holds the post now.

The third key position assigned to an aviator will be that of deputy chief of naval operations for air, now held by Mitscher. The office has charge of all aviation plans, determination of aircraft characteristics and aviation logistics.

The other three deputy assignments are now held by Vice Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, personnel; Rear Admiral Bernhard H. Bieri, administration; and Vice Admiral William S. Farber, logistics.

Forrestal called the changes "another stage in that evolution" which he described recently by saying:

"Aviation is an integral part of the Navy and is becoming increasingly dominant. The influence of air power on the Navy will be an evolution, not a revolution."

In making today's announcement, the secretary said he wanted to "emphasize that although the carrier is the cutting edge of the present Navy, it must be backed up by the full complement of a well balanced fleet.

ice troops left in Iran. The "greater part" of the surpluses, Ala said, will be purchased by Iran.

In spite of Russia's rejection of the U. S. withdrawal proposal, Ala declared he was more optimistic about conditions in Iran and that the U. S. note was "beneficial." He cited the following "favorable" developments:

1. The Russians are evacuating Tehran.

2. The Iranian governor-general of Azerbaijan province, scene of recent unrest, arrived there safely and has "taken charge of affairs in that region."

3. The Russians have assured Iran, Ala said, that they fully respect the Tehran declaration, which guarantees Iran her territorial integrity, as well as the three power agreement which provides the March 2, 1946 ultimate withdrawal date for occupying forces.

Bought Big Bonds

Gamble said apparently many people, at the beginning of the loan on Oct. 29 and for a few days thereafter, bought $1,000 bonds and then stop, not buying.

Many of these people, he said, possibly would have bought a greater amount of bonds in dollar value if they had spread the money out.

He expressed the fear interest in the war loan drives is waning.

"This should not be the case," Gamble declared. "There is still a debt to pay and as far as money is concerned we undoubtedly will oversubscribe the $11,000,000,000 goal.

"But the debt can only be met if the people will put their money to holding off of inflation."

Your Drinks To Have That Cosmopolitan Taste When G. I. Joe Becomes A Barkeep

By ROBERT C. RUARK
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4—While sipping my semi-weekly bottle of near-beer in a joint the other night, I was assaulted by a horrible thought:

The drinking man of the future—after allowing a decent interval for the old hands to retire — will be served by bartenders who are ex-GIs!

This is enough to make the central character in "Lost Weekend" sign the pledge.

After observing the drinking habits of the American soldier, sailor and marine, especially overseas, I do not think the Bomb will destroy mankind. I do not believe that the hardiest atom concoction ever sundered can do anything to the lining of the average GI stomach.

Has Withstood Everything

Since Pearl Harbor, the GI gullet has withstood Australian whisky, most of which tastes like a boiled sweatshirt. It has been subjected to Tunisian eau-de-vie, which is a potion fit to make Little Lord Fauntleroy go around kicking sick old ladies.

Marsala in Italy. Ersatz calvados in France. Chungking gin, jungle juice — which can be made of anything from shoes to raisins —in the South Pacific. Tuba and aguardiente (known as Aggie) on Guam. Sake and vodka and our own delectable hellbroths made of neutral spirits steeped in brass filings.

After four years, the average drinking veteran has no more palate than a goat. His taste buds are ground smooth from contact with uncultured alcohol.

And this, by bibulous friends, is the man who is going to mix your drinks in 1955!

Sees The Prospects

One man has seen the fearful prospects, and has taken steps for which he should be awarded a platinum bungstarter. He is Oscar Haimo, president of the International Bar Managers' ass'n. which is a refined way of identifying barkeeps.

Under Mr. Haimo's eye in a New York hotel, a covey of would-be cocktail architects, fresh out of the uniform, are taking a 10-weeks course in dispensing canned courage. Mr. Haimo values his course at $300, but is giving it away in this instance. He figures that all men will be immediately placed as full-fledged barkeeps when they've finished ground school.

Being a bartender does not concern itself merely with slopping a short snort of bar booze into a cloudy tumbler, or pouring a mouse's liberation into a four-pound shotglass with a phony bottom. Under Mr. Haimo's steady hand, the neophytes are learning such nuances as not to serve Napoleon brandy in a beer mug, and how to mix a Martini so dry it's practically de-hydrated.

Unless the bartenders of the world unite, and follow Mr. Haimo's lead, the future is bleak indeed. You will ask for a Scotch and soda, and get a beaker of lighter-fluid.

Your Martini is apt to be equal parts raisin wine and potato spirits, with a sliver of laundry soap instead of an olive. Our boys just don't know. Drinkin' licker, to them, is apt to be anything in a bottle that costs twice as much as it should and makes buddies suddenly assault each other with stools.

Housing Problems May Perplex Congress, But Kermit The Hermit Just Ignores 'Em

BY FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (U.P.) — My old friend, Kermit the hermit, is the only American still ignoring the housing shortage. He takes his case in a cave in the Hollywood hills, reads philosophical books, and hobnobs with the movie cuties who sometimes ride his way.

Lack of caves has left everybody else in a mess. If you've got a house, you're plagued by involuntary guests. If you're homeless, you take desperate steps.

One gent set up a tent in front of Los Angeles' Biltmore hotel, which had turned him down. A wild-eyed highschool teacher in upstate New York moved his wife into the classroom apartment where feminine students learned the art of bed-making. An advertiser in an Iowa paper offered for sale as living quarters a butcher's refrigerator. Cut in a couple of windows, he said, and call it home.

Congress Tries A Hand

Things are tough for everybody but Kermit, who won't be reading this, anyhow. So we come automatically to Congress, now trying to get roofs over the heads of the voters before the voters turn you-know-who into the cold. The outlook is bleak.

First scheme before the House Banking committee was that of Rep. Wright Patman of Tex., to appoint a housing czar, who'd make the builders build small houses instead of $100,000 night clubs.

The youngish-looking Patman, with a pinkish second chin and a well-tailored suit, did all right with his prepared statement until he got to a pesky word, spelled c-e-r-a-m-i-c-s. He couldn't pronounce it; this, he said, was because he got it out of a book and was unfamiliar with it. (Ceramics, Mr. Congressman, mean those pretty white tiles in your bathroom).

Then the committeemen jumped on him. Rep. Brent Spence of Ky., the chairman, said he didn't like the idea of appointing a special OPA-man for houses. Rep. Paul Brown of Ga. said what we need is more lumber and fewer laws.

Rep. Patman said yes, but when people pay $6,000 for $8,000 houses and builders cheat 'em all over the lot, a good czar is the only answer. The czar even could subsidize the lumber mills, he said.

These government babies get their claws in the claybank and you can't stop 'em from climbing, objected Rep. Fred L. Crawford of Mich. He said Patman's law would force a man to sell a house for less than it cost to replace, that it would set off a series of volcanos, and probably start a revolution.

No Absolute Justice

"But nothing is exactly right," insisted Patman, getting pinker. "You can't have absolute justice. Why, the man who wears a size six shoe, pays as much as he would for a size 12. And a bald-headed man (he glared at Crawford's shining dome) pays just the same for a haircut as a man with hair."

Looks like we somehow got off the subject, but you know Congress. The argument will go on from there for many a week, everybody'll have his say, and what comes out of it is anybody's guess. I have guests, myself, poor devils, who can't find a home. My sister-in-law (whom I love dearly) wonders if she could use one of our beds for a while.

Kermit, here I come. How's to move over until I can dig a cave of my own?

BODY IS FOUND

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 4 (AP) — The body of Pfc. Charles Burkart, 22, was found hanging in an office at Peterson field, where he is stationed, the field's public relations department announced. An investigation was continuing. Burkart was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burkart, Ridgefield, N. J., and the husband of Mrs. Nellie Burkart of Greenville, Tex.
