Crime Rate Continues Upward Spiral!

The FBI's Uniform Crime Report for 1968, released this week by Attorney General John N. Mitchell, shows a continuation of the upward spiral of serious crimes throughout our nation. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said all Crime Index offenses registered substantial increases in volume.

Crimes of violence were up 19 percent, led by robbery up 29 percent, murder and forcible rape up 14 percent each, and aggravated assault up 12 percent. The crimes against property rose by 17 percent as a group. Individually, larceny $50 and over in value rose 21 percent, auto theft up 18 percent, and burglary was up 13 percent.

The report went on to say that crime increases were reported by all city population groups, with the sharpest change in volume noted in the large core cities 250,000 and over in population up 18 percent. The suburban areas recorded an overall increase of 18 percent, while the rural areas were up 12 percent in volume.

The figures released by the FBI disclose that in 1968 police arrests for all criminal acts, excluding traffic offenses, increased four percent. Arrests of adults rose three percent, while arrests of juveniles continued to climb in 1968 with an 11 percent rise.

The FBI Director noted that the violent crime of armed robbery had a sharp upswing of 34 percent and armed robbery made up 61 percent of all robbery offenses. Serious assaults where a gun was used as the weapon rose 24 percent and nearly one out of every four aggravated assaults were committed with a gun.

These are discouraging figures. They indicate a continuing increase in lawlessness on the part of our citizens, adult and youth alike.

The solid citizen of our nation reads figures like these and wonders why there is so much violence, lawlessness and disregard for the life and property of others. Does this mean we will have to have more and more policemen, bigger jails and penitentiaries, spend more and more of our public funds on investigations, legal proceedings, etc?

We must realize that despite the tremendous advancement our nation has made in past decades, bringing about one of the most sophisticated, technical, and wealthy societies the world has ever known, this same society is made of men and women, boys and girls with the same "human" faults that mankind has been plagued with since Eve enticed Adam to take a bite out of that apple in the "Garden of Eden" a long time ago. Mankind has been consistently breaking God's moral law ever since, and unless our "modern" man comes up with new solutions to age-old problems, sinfulness will continue to be the rule among those who refuse to hear God's warning concerning the wages of sin, and the civil arm of our government will have to continue to prosecute and punish law breakers.

As long as there are people who choose to break the laws in order to seek ill-gotten gains, to satisfy a grudge, to seek revenge, or satisfy a lust, then we are going to have to have as many law enforcement officers, courts, and prisons as are needed to check the tide.

What Other Editors Say

The Loyal Opposition

"The loyal opposition" is a phrase that must come back into the American idiom, Edmund C. Arnold, professor of Journalism at Syracuse University and well-known newspaper columnist, told a group of Utah publishers a few days ago.

"Too many people think that no opposition is loyal, and too much opposition thinks that there are no demands of loyalty upon it," Arnold declared.

And right there we think Ed Arnold said a mouthful . . . and we hope that a lot of people will take heed, and not just those in the newspaper business.

Professor Arnold was speaking primarily, of course, to the members of his own profession . . . but his words have meaning for nation.

"The newspaper plays an unusual role in the current atmosphere of violent controversy," Arnold told the Utah newsmen. "The good editor is always the loyal opposition . . . against corruption and incompetence, for the basic belief that in a democracy the will of the majority must ultimately be accepted by the minority."

Prof. Arnold added that newspapers must evolve some rules of thumb for handling protests.

"We'll cover an athletic contest with an audience of a thousand just because a thousand people are involved," he said, "but we won't cover a neighborhood pick-up game with a dozen people involved. But if those same dozen people grab picket signs and march around a public building, the media fall all over each other to give coverage."

Arnold called on U. S. editors to use discretion.

"I can't believe that the typical American wants pornography sold at the corner newsstand, despite what any court says," he declared.

"I don't think any typical American wants to pay taxes to give a subsidized education to campus anarchists," he added. "I don't believe that it is the choice of the majority to allow obscenity to be transmitted through mass media, to allow public display of the flag of a nation that is killing and torturing American servicemen, to allow youthful vandals and their parents to hide behind legal secrecy."

"And I don't believe that the typical American believes that the courts and our system of justice belong exclusively to the bench and the bar."

"It's time," declared the Loyal Oppositionist, "someone spoke for the majority . . . the big, silent, loyal, and bill-paying mass. No one will do that except the American editor."

Taxes and the poor man

Sydney J. Har's kinda shakes me up. He says:

It has been widely believed and disseminated by interested parties that the tax structure in the United States takes it out of the hide of the rich while favoring the less affluent. Not so reports the magazine. It is the poor as usual who get the dirty end of the stick.

When total taxes - federal and state, the city and Social Security and sales along with property and all the hidden bites - are taken into consideration it turns out that poverty - line families making $3,000 a year or less pay 24 per cent of their total earnings.

Only slightly better off are the struggling families in the $5,000 to $7,000 a year bracket who pay 23 per cent of income, or about $1,980 a year out of their meager income.

Best off are the people in the $15,000 to $25,000 bracket and those over $25,000 who pay only about 28 per cent in total taxes, which still leaves them a goodly sum for other purposes.

Mrs. Jack Boone Is Board Member Of Dallas Opera

The Southwestern Hospitality Board of the Metropolitan Opera season in Dallas has asked Mrs. Jack B. Boone of this city to be a member of the Board for this year. She will represent the Board in this community, providing information about the opera to be presented by the New York Metropolitan Opera company in Dallas May 15-17, and also assisting with special social activities that are being planned for visitors to Dallas for the opera season.

Of the four operas to be presented in 1969, two are new productions and one is a revival of an opera created for Renata Tebaldi in 1963. This last, Francesco Cilea's "Adriana Lecouvreur," will open the season on Thursday May 15 at 8 p. m. at the State Fair Music Hall. In addition to Miss Tebaldi as Adriana, the cast will include Irene Dalis, Franco Corelli, Anselmo Colzani and Morley Meredith. Fausto Cleve will conduct. This sentimental, turn-of-the-century story is a favorite vehicle for Miss Tebaldi.

New productions to be seen include "Il Trovatore" on Friday evening, May 16, at 8 p. m., and "Der Rosenkavalier" on Saturday, May 17, at 7:30 p. m. The former stars Gabriella Tucci as Leonora, Nell Kozakin as Azucena, James McCracken as Marico, and Sherrill Milnes as Mount di Luna. Carlo Franci will conduct.

Richard Strauss' "Der Rosenkavalier" has Regine Crespin as the Princess of Werdenberg, Judith Raskin as Sophie, Rosalind Elias as Octavian, Otto Edlemann as Baron Ochs, John Alexander as the Singer and Morley Meredith as Von Faninal. The conductor will be Franz Allers.

The Saturday matinee at 1:30 on May 17 will be the favorite "Rigoletto" with Roberta Peters as Gilda, Betyah Godfrey in her Dallas debut as Maddalena, Gianni Raimondi as the Duke, and Cornel MacNeil as Rigoletto. Bonaldo Giaiotti will be Sparafucile, and John Macurdy, Monterone. Fausto Cleve will again be on the podium.

For more information about the operas, ticket prices, etc. contact Mrs. Boone or write to the Dallas Grand Opera Association, 5925 Forest Lane, Suite 420, Dallas, Texas 75230.

National FHA Week Is Set For March 23-29

"Focus on Positive Action" is the theme of National FHA Week which will be observed by Memphis Chapter, Future Homemakers of America, March 23-29. They join 1550 chapters throughout Texas in carrying out special projects and activities during this week to give exposure to what youth is doing in a positive way to promote the principles of good citizenship.

There are more than 600,000 members of this national organization for home economics students in over 12, junior and senior high school chapters throughout the country.

These young people are preparing themselves for the responsibilities of leadership through such experiences as serving on committees, planning and presenting programs, planning and carrying out individual and group projects, presiding at meetings, and working with others in both school and community. Such participation helps prepare them to be responsible, contributing adult citizens and work toward good home and family.

The Memphis FHA chapter has scheduled a number of activities in observance of National FHA Week.

Barry C. Ferrel Is Awarded Two Army Citations

A former Memphis resident, Barry C. Ferrel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ferrel of Pampa and formerly of Memphis, has been awarded two citations for "heroism" and "meritorious service" while serving with the U. S. armed forces in Vietnam.

Ferrel's first citation was for "exceptionally meritorious" service in support of allied counterinsurgency operations in the Republic of Vietnam between July, 1967 and July, 1968.

The second citation, dated Aug. 21, 1968 noted that the infantryman "distinguished himself while serving as a Rifleman on May 16, 1968. He was a member of an 11-man team conducting a mission on Hill 1124 when an enemy force initiated a ground attack. Specialist Ferrel was wounded but continued to throw grenades and to assist other wounded to evacuate."

Specialist Four E-4 was recently separate from active service and he and his wife are now at home in Dallas where he is associated with Oil Well Supply Co.

A graduate of Pampa High School, Ferrel attended Kemper Military Academy, Boonville, Md., and Frank Phillips Junior College before entering the service.

There seems to be two things that are almost impossible to do: Putting toothpaste back in the tube and getting off of a mailing list.
