Sheriff, police chief hope to improve relations

Mayor stresses cooperation

Mayor Jim Baum plans to set up a meeting in the next few days between the sheriff and police chief to give them an opportunity to discuss plans for cooperation between the departments.

City and county officials will also be included in the meeting.

"I am very appreciative of the City Council in providing the leadership to improve relations between the Police Department and the Sheriff's Office. I am looking forward to meeting with Sheriff Toombs in the near future," said Police Chief David Montgomery.

Sheriff Patrick Toombs said he was also glad to hear about the meeting.

"I think being able to get together and sit down with each other would be a positive step in the right direction towards improving relations between the city and county but also with all the law enforcement agencies such as the DPS," said Toombs.

City Councilman Bob Reily is another city official who is attempting to help mend the rift between the two law enforcement agencies, which has become more public in recent weeks.

During the February city council meeting, in the middle of the sheriff's race, Reily told council members of efforts to get the city and county together for informal meetings to share information and discuss common issues. The group has since been called a Sounding Group.

"I think citizens are concerned now about the tension between the departments. Some have asked, 'Will the police, sheriff's deputies and DPS troopers be there to back each other up when needed?'" said Reily.

Montgomery and Toombs were quick to assure the public that there continued to be cooperation between the officers.

While communication between the departments isn't ideal and affects the sharing of information, the agencies continue to help each other when needed, officers have said.

Toombs gave a recent example. During last Friday's major grass fire, a DPS trooper stopped a van on the interstate and called for a drug dog to help in a search. A Colorado City police officer and sheriff's deputy

Conard, Edwards spar for district attorney post

Early voting for the runoff election to determine the district attorney will open April 1 and continue through April 4.

The Mitchell County Courthouse will not be open April 5 because the last day of the early voting period falls on the Good Friday county holiday.

The runoff between incumbent Frank Conard II and challenger Mark Edwards will determine the district attorney for the 32nd Judicial District since no Republicans ran for the post.

CONARD

Conard won the support of voters in Mitchell and Fisher counties but failed to carry Nolan County during the Super Tuesday primary.

The incumbent said he was confident he would carry more than 50 percent of the votes in the upcoming election.

In campaigning for the runoff, Conard is emphasizing his experience, both as district attorney for the last seven years and previously

Off again, on again... Barber is in a runoff

Pat Barber

On . Off. On again. Local attorney Pat Barber's rollercoaster ride on the-track heading towards the state appeals court was suddenly on again when he received a call Wednesday from the Republican Headquarters over a week after the primary.

Barber thought he had barely missed the runoff for the place 2 Court of Criminal Appeals post by 693 votes. However, a Hidalgo County clerk had recorded his vote as 14 instead 1,440.

During the March 12 primary election night, Barber appeared to be ahead until computer problems in Dallas County halted the vote count. The final results didn't come in until two days later.

After placing third behind Mike Kaasler, Dallas County district judge, and first place finisher Williamson County prosecutor Paul Womack, Barber declined to ask for a recount because of the expense.

He then went fishing at Lake Colorado City and everything started going his way. He caught a 31 pound catfish and returned home to find that the GOP headquarters had called him with the

Candidates rush to beat filing deadline for seats on local boards

Candidates for seats on the Colorado City Council rushed to file on the last day of the filing period Wednesday, March 20.

Three of the four candidates opposing incumbent councilmen are women. Two are employed at the Texas Department of Criminal Justice "80 John" Wallace Unit.

Early voting by mail for the May 4 election is underway and ends April 26. Early voting in person runs from April 15 until April 30.

CITY OF COLORADO CITY
All three incumbent councilmen had previously filed for re-election: Patrick Parker in district 6, Gary Redwine, district 3, and A. W. Rowe, district 4.

Rowe will face two competitors. Leslie Scott and Valerie Redwine filed for the seat last Wednesday.

Five groups vie for hotel/motel money

Four groups appeared before the Colorado City Council Thursday evening to request a portion of the hotel/motel tax.

The extra funds derive from money collected by the state from local hotels and motels and then returned to the city to be used to promote tourism.

The Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce requested $46,860. The request was $10,000 more than last year, although $5,000 was on behalf of the newly organized antiques association.

Windi Fuller, chamber executive vice-president, told council members that the chamber plans to increase promotion and the number of events. The Railroad Trade Days will be held three times this year instead of just annually. The chamber also hopes to hold additional types of shows at the Truss King Building and add basketball tournaments to the schedule of events.

The Heart of West Texas Museum, represented by Jay McCollum, requested $10,000. Last year the museum received $9,000. Increased promotion is planned for the coming year which includes distribution of a four color, eight page brochure to be placed in tourist information centers, hotels, and chambers of commerce.

Tom Kelly and Vince Gaona, speaking for The Boys' Club of Mitchell County, requested $7,000. The club plans to bid the Jr. Olympics again this year and to hold boxing tournaments in April, July and September.

The Colorado City Bass Club, represented by Ronney Conner, requested $500 to go towards the annual tournament.

The Cinco de Mayo Committee submitted a request in writing for $3,500. In the past the event has been included in the Chamber of Commerce's request for funds. This year's request by the committee was separate from the chamber.

Bob Reily, mayor pro-tem, told the 17 citizens who attended the meeting that the city would be able to determine the total amount available for distribution after it had received the fourth quarter payment from the state.

In other business, the council approved the agreement to change the cable franchise from Tele-Me-

STATE REPRESENTATIVE ROB JUNELL, the keynote speaker, addresses the audience at the Windham School GED graduation Saturday at the Wallace Unit.

Junell speaks at Windham graduation

"Make something happen with your life," State Representative Rob Junell told 16 Wallace Unit GED graduates during Windham ceremonies Saturday.

The honored guest speaker normally speaks before thousands of graduates in big university ceremonies. But last weekend he addressed the graduates, their families, the Windham staff and prison officials who had gathered in the small prison library for the ceremony.

Using jokes and anecdotes from football and basketball, eye contact and occasional two-way banter with the audience, the veteran speaker charmed the audience while he encouraged the graduates.

"I hope to convey to you just how important this first step is," he told the inmates, who ranged in age from 19 to 33. "Let this be the first of many graduations you'll attend during your lifetime."

The saying—make something happen, not only on the football field, but in life as well—was one of Coach Bear Bryant's favorite sayings, Junell told the audience.

He reminded them that just as the time on the football field was temporary "so is this" and concluded his speech with a thought from Martin Luther King.

Christmas in April will repair 30 houses

Plans are underway for this year's Christmas In April to be held April 27.

The annual community-wide effort to repair homes throughout the county is held in conjunction with Christmas In April USA's National Rebuilding Day, the last Saturday in April. Volunteers from all walks of life come together in 480 cities and towns across America to rehabilitate the homes of those who are low-income, elderly or disabled.

Thirty houses will be repaired during the one-day blitz in Mitchell County. Some are major jobs; some need minor repairs and a few are finish ups from 1995, said Jan Lemons, CIA coordinator.

"Everything is coming along and we're looking forward to this year's Christmas in April being as successful as it's been in the past," said Lemons.

The inmates have been doing preliminary work to enable volunteers to complete the repairs in the one day blitz.

Donations are coming in well, she said. Contractors and other specialized professionals have agreed to support the program and churches, organizations and businesses are signing up to work on projects as a group.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Everyone in the community can help in one way or another, Lemons said.

"We welcome individual volunteers or a small team can be put together from a family, neighborhood, organization or business. Volunteers can pick up a sign-up form at the Chamber of Commerce or contact volunteer coordinators Bob and Laverne Chalket.

Volunteers will also be needed to prepare food for the workers. "We hope all of you who made cakes and helped with food preparation in the past will be willing to do the same this year," Lemons said.

Those who have been involved in CIA in the past must still fill out a new volunteer form this year to satisfy insurance requirements.

DEMOLITION HELPS CIA

City, county, Texas Department of Criminal Justice and Christmas In April volunteer work crews have been busy for months demolishing old, abandoned homes and setting aside the lumber to be used to repair homes during Christmas In April.

"Many of the contractors have requested use of the lumber be-

COOK'S CORNER

Sally Ventura

Rolled or Casserole Enchiladas

Recipe By: Sally Ventura
Serving Size: 8

- 3 ounces vegetable oil
- 1/3 cup flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons chili powder
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/2 teaspoon cumin
- Water
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 1/4 cup onion, chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/2 teaspoon cumin
- 1/2 teaspoon chili powder
- 1/2 pound cheddar cheese shredded
- 24 corn tortillas

Heat vegetable oil in saucepan to medium high. Mix flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons chili powder, 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder and 1/2 teaspoon cumin with water until smooth and creamy. Add salt and pepper to taste. Mix with oil. If sauce gets too thick, just add a little water to make it smooth again. You can add some chopped onions for taste. Brown ground beef with 1/4 cup chopped onions. Add 1/2 teaspoon garlic, cumin and chili powder with salt and pepper to taste. Let simmer for 15 minutes. At this point, you can either roll your enchiladas, or tear the tortillas into pieces to layer in your dish. To roll: warm tortillas on hot plate until soft, dip in sauce, add meat filling and onions and cheese, roll up. For Casserole: pour sauce on bottom of pan, take pieces from the corn tortilla and layer it on bottom. Add your meat, onions and cheese, pour some more sauce and repeat the steps until pan is almost filled. Bake at 350° for 40-50 minutes or until it bubbles in the middle. Can be microwaved 20-30 minutes. Sally's tip: she likes to use 1/2 ground beef and or 1/2 hot pork sausage.

- 4 1/2 cups flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/4 cup shortening

Sally Ventura, custodian and maintenance worker at First United Methodist Church, wife, and mother of two boys enjoys cooking "easy" dishes. When asked what her favorite thing to cook was, she answered "omelette with cheese, onions and peppers—it's good and it's quick."

Sally does cook more time consuming things than that, though. Mexican food is a specialty of hers and we all know that it is not "quick". She learned to cook such dishes from her mother. She doesn't use a recipe, she just learned the different ingredients in the dishes by asking her mother.

There are some things her mother didn't teach her to make, though. Chicken and rice soup is one. When her husband, Alfredo, wanted the soup, she said "no problem!" Well, everything was going pretty good until she added the rice—then it turned to RICE soup with a little chicken in it. The rice absorbed all the liquid and started to scorch. That was a couple of years ago, and she just recently made another batch of chicken and rice—not soup, but Alfredo said it was good just the same.

Sally said she does end up cooking a couple of meals at one time on occasions because Alfredo likes everything HOT and she and her sons prefer a milder approach. She said that started when grandmother started cooking anything the boys wanted. Now they have gotten spoiled to that. Oh well, that what grandmothers are for.

Sally is sharing three recipes with us today. Two are Mexican fares which she is famous for and the other is a punch that everyone asks her to bring on special occasions. It has no name, she just calls it "Some of my punch".

Greetings to everyone!

Rita Hardegree is quite a carpenter. She built herself some new cabinets while on spring break.

I saw Peggy Ratliff at the bank last Friday. She wanted me to tell everyone how much she appreciated their concern over her recent illness. She started chemotherapy Monday in Abilene. Bob was in the office Tuesday and said she was feeling pretty good that day.

What's for lunch? That's asked a lot around noon each day. But call 728-8331 or 728-8684 and place your order for a baked potato with all the trimmings for lunch this Friday. For $2.00 each, the piping hot potatoes will be ready at noon for you. With a minimum of 5 orders, they will be delivered to your office.

You can also add a slice of cheesecake for another $2.00. Healthy baked potato and cheesecake. Sounds good to me! Order deadline is 6:00 p.m. Thursday.

All proceeds benefit Colorado Middle School Washington D.C. bound students.

Along those lines, the parents involved with the fundraising wanted to thank all the businesses in town who have given donations and supported them during their

Revival set in Westbrook

The First United Methodist Church of Westbrook is planning a three-day revival April 28, 29 and 30.

The Rev. Shell Denison of Seminole will be the speaker and the Rev. Ken Northcutt and his wife, Sue, of St. Luke Methodist Church, Colorado City, will be in charge of the music. Visiting singers and fundraising.

Kristi Hartwick was a winner recently at the grilled hamburger dinner the group put on February 12th at the Wallace Center. She won a Dallas Cowboy afghan given away as a door prize at the event.

Wood's Boots and Mitchell County Marketplace were named in Southern Living magazine recently in a special Texas section.

Santos Reyes and his sister Elizabeth made the trip to San Antonio this past weekend for the Tejano Music Awards. They just didn't have as much fun as they had hoped. As soon as they got to the Alamodome, they noticed their keys were missing.

Santos said he couldn't enjoy the show because he was worried about the keys. As luck would have it, they ran into some cousins who gave them a ride to their motel.

The next morning, Santos called a locksmith to make two keys and unlock the door. When they got to the car (luckily it was all still there) the locksmith charged him $85. They didn't have that much fun!

If you haven't been inside C City Hayride in awhile, you might be surprised. Doyle and Debby Mitchell have added a dance floor musicians will also take part. Scott Willis of Big Spring is the pastor.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public and to all churches to attend these services. You can be sure of a warm welcome and a blessing.

and are going to start opening three nights a week. Thursday night will be senior citizen night, Friday night will be teen night and Saturday night will be their regular dance night.

I was especially glad to see the teen night. It will be a smoke-free, alcohol-free place for kids to go. Doyle said parents are welcome to come in anytime during the evening to check on their teenagers. There will be security. He also said the kids can bring their own CDs and tapes, if they would like.

A.W. Rowe stopped me on the street Monday morning to tell me he was ready for summer weather.

Let's all remind him of that when it's 110° outside!

Thanks to Kathy Bassham for the palm branch lesson!

Sylvia Reyna and I attended a beauty workshop Monday evening. It was great fun! The best part was all the laughing we did while there. If you see Shirley McPhaul check for her dark brown line; Margaret Munoz, see if she still has some white dots. And if you are having lunch with Martha Munoz, watch your tea glass, she'll stick something in there! No joke, it was fun! Thanks for the invitation.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

By Jim Baum

Wash day out on the farm was usually a family activity. Everyone in the family got to participate. Maxine (Mrs. Leonard) Morris dreaded wash day.

"Did I ever! It was work."

Another person who knew a thing or two about wash day was Mrs. Fred Acuff and she once gave us a step-by-step description of how it was done. After water warmed in the wash pot, the work was ready to begin.

"You separate your clothes," Mrs. Acuff advised. "Your white ones here and so on. And I remember, I would have such big piles of clothes I would think, 'How in the world? Just one piece at a time. How in the world will I ever get this pile done?'"

Mrs. Acuff had a saying she would keep repeating to encourage herself. "By keeping at it and doing your best, you'll win while others rest."

That's what she told herself. "That's the way I would do my washing on that rub board," Mrs. Acuff said with a laugh.

But there was one (or more) hazard to doing the wash. The most feared interruption was a clothes line that snapped. "That made me madder than anything in the world," she added.

While Mrs. Acuff wasn't so keen on wash day, she did enjoy sewing clothes (and quilts) for the family. She used "flour sacks, sugar sacks, chicken feed sacks and sacks of all kinds," she recalled.

She remembers using flour sacks to line quilts and she liked calico for dresses. "That made a pretty little girl's dress."

There were times when her husband, Bill, knew to get certain sack patterns when he went to buy chicken feed. "He usually kept up with it and knew what I needed. If I needed a certain type, he would go look and see what it was, then he would get me that kind. Sometimes he would buy two sacks ahead of time, if I needed that many."

Life on the farm was usually quiet at night. There was no electricity and no running water. Those were the good old days? Not according to Maxine Morris. Each family had to make its own entertainment each evening.

"We would read or play games," she told us. "Light was provided by kerosene lamps. Later I was thrilled when we got our first Aladdin lamp because it gave such wonderful light. It was a white, bright light. It was still kerosene, but it was an Aladdin with mantels."

Eventually 1942 arrived and with it came electricity to rural Mitchell County. Leonard Morris remembers he "turned on every light in the place" on their farm. "Everybody turned on their lights in the Westbrook area and we really had a celebration the night the juice was turned on."

That same year the Morris' made a wheat crop. "So," Maxine added, "we got electricity, I got a new refrigerator and a new gas range." They replaced an ice box, which was exactly what its name implied, a box of ice, and out went the kerosene stove.

But there was still wash day to contend with. Introducing another innovation: The washing machine!!

"Well," Mrs. Morris stated, "the first laundry was built here in Colorado City and we would come into the laundry. They had old Maytag wringer washers with three rinse tubs. That beat all to pieces rubbing it out on a rub board."

Gone are the rub boards...the Aladdin lamps...kerosene lamps...and ice boxes. But the memories live on.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

I am writing in regard to officer Negri's actions in the chase everyone is so upset about.

I stand behind him all the way and any other officer that would do the same thing. We want protection and complain about criminals getting off too easy. Now you want to crucify this officer for speeding through the city. It would be different if it was a populated area where innocent people would be hurt.

It does not matter what his age was or if he knew that road or not. He overpowered a man and took his car—he became a criminal at that point. Officer Negri did his job by trying to stop the vehicle and he refused to submit. He got what was coming to him.

I respect our officers and I feel they are doing a fine job. They need to work more together and quit combating the others' actions. But if we are not going to let them do their jobs and support their actions why do we keep paying them.

My sympathy goes out to the family of the young man that died. But he made his own choice when he crossed the line.

Thank you,
Roger Upshaw

Samantha Miller enrolls in AQHA

Samantha Miller of Westbrook recently enrolled in the American Quarter Horse Association horseback Riding Program. The program recognizes AQHA members for time spent riding or driving American quarterhorses.

Current AQHA members complete a program application and pay a one-time $25 enrollment fee. Each enrollee receives an official AQHA log sheet to record their hours driving or riding their American quarterhorses. Participants need not own their own horses, but all official hours must be accrued with a registered American quarterhorse.

The first award, a program recognition patch, is given after 50 hours have been logged and verified. Patches and nine subsequent awards are presented at 100-5,000 hour levels and range from merchandise gift certificates from Drysdale Western Store to a Montana Silversmith trophy belt buckle at the highest level.

Carolyn Hudnell, AQHA director of the Horseback Riding Program, said, "The Horseback Riding Program is a unique opportunity to earn rewards outside of traditional competition. In some cases the program rewards people who already spend many hours riding American quarterhorses. For others, the Horseback Riding Program is an incentive to get out and ride."

Horseback riding provides good exercise. According to the U.S. Department of the Interior, more than 27 million people participate in horseback riding nationally. AQHA encourages horseback riding as a relaxing recreational activity that can be enjoyed alone or shared with family and friends.

A day in the life of a Wallace Unit inmate

Operation Outreach visitors learn of prison life

"This is not a good place to be," Major Joseph Schmidt told a group of San Angelo teenagers Wednesday.

Major Schmidt was guiding the troubled boys, who ranged in age from 13-16 years old, through the Wallace Unit. They were participating in the first "Operation Outreach" program at the local prison.

Operation Outreach is designed to give young people ages 10-16 a glimpse into the everyday life of a Texas prison inmate.

The program is a cooperative effort between the TDCJ "80 John" Wallace Unit, Representative Rob Junell, Tom Green County Juvenile Probation and the San Angelo Independent School District.

OPERATION OUTREACH: Troubled teens have a chance to talk with Wallace Unit inmates about the reality of prison life.

The youngsters arrived in a bus through the back gate just as "boots", new inmates, first enter the prison. They soon found that prison life had little resemblance to Hollywood's romanticized version where inmates run the prison.

Guards and a select group of inmates told them a different story, without sugar coating the harsh realities.

They experienced prison life—the feeling of a cell door locking, walking only within the yellow lines, hoeing a field in cadence and having a guard remind them to imagine what it would be like to swing the "aggie" hoe for five hours in the heat and cold.

Wearing prison green jackets they seemed to lose their identities and soon resembled the 1,340 inmates on the unit.

They saw prison life—the cell blocks and cramped cells, the hard steel benches, the solitary confinement cells, and the snarling dogs that are used to hunt escapees.

"You can see what it would be like if there were eight or ten of these dogs on a guy," Sgt. Bennett, the dog handler, told the teens.

And they heard about prison life from the inmates themselves. Six specially selected inmates spoke to the teenagers during two sessions.

"I look at you guys and I see myself when I was your age," said one inmate.

They talked about the lack of privacy, always living by a schedule, the lack of freedom, the memories of the things they missed like jumping in the car and getting a hamburger or pizza, gang violence, prejudice and racism among the inmates, and always watching your back.

"When you come in these gates it's about survival," said another.

"Your parents can't help you once you're in here," one said.

"It's the little things that get to you, like not being able to talk to your family for months," said another.

Prison officials and inmates shared a goal of getting through to the teens.

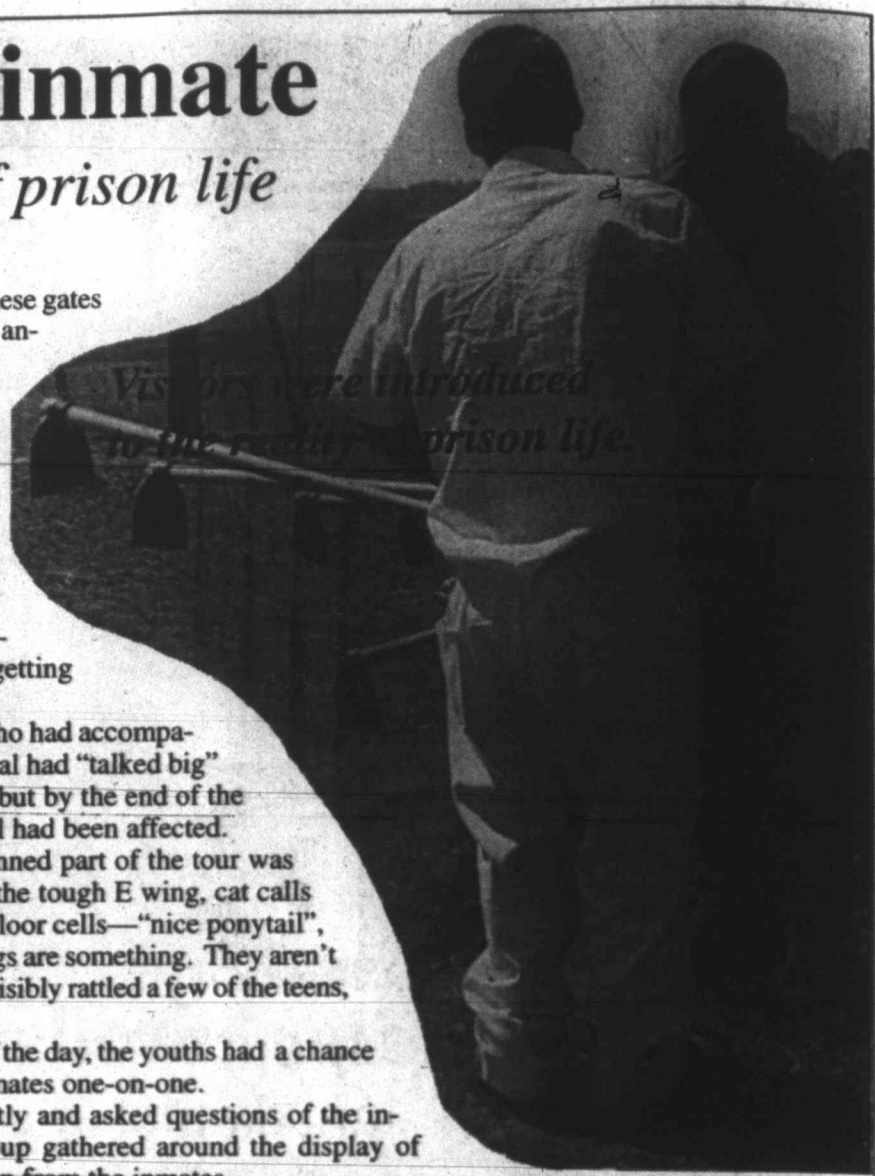

One of the teachers who had accompanied the group said several had "talked big" on the morning bus ride but by the end of the day she could tell several had been affected.

She thought an unplanned part of the tour was especially effective. On the tough E wing, cat calls from inmates in second floor cells—"nice ponytail", "you think your little gangs are something. They aren't compared to here"—visibly rattled a few of the teens, thought the teacher.

During the last hour of the day, the youths had a chance to talk to some of the inmates one-on-one.

Several listened intently and asked questions of the inmates while another group gathered around the display of homemade weapons taken from the inmates.

"The metal detectors at school wouldn't pick up a plastic knife like that," one was overheard to say.

DA RACE

as a defense lawyer.

"I have several years experience trying difficult criminal cases without one case being reversed on appeal," he said.

"My opponent claims to have all this experience. But in one county, out of 162 cases, only three were tried and he dismissed 50 cases.

"He put people on deferred adjudication who had been convicted of indecency with a child and burglary of a habitation and gave an even lesser sentence for cases such as aggravated sexual assault of a child and possession of a controlled substance (drugs).

"So the reality is he has very little experience trying difficult cases and has used tools for disposing of pending cases that every other prosecutor in the state uses," he said.

"For example there are seven pending capital murder cases. If, because of lack of experience, the prosecutor makes the wrong decision, he can cost the county over $200,000 for each case in order to try those cases to the death penalty.

"Good defense lawyers aren't going to hesitate putting a new inexperienced district attorney through the range of a trial in difficult cases of that sort. I've had experience trying capital murder cases and I know that."

EDWARDS

Mark Edwards said that well over 50 percent of the voters in the primary indicated they wanted a change in the district attorney's office.

"I think there are several reasons why a change has been voted for," he said.

"First, people now understand what deferred adjudication probation is and they do not agree with the current widespread use of it.

"Second, I believe people want a district attorney who will spend more time and effort in the d.a.'s office.

"The reason I'm the right person to make this change is how I believe crimes ought to be punished and my value system which is more like the citizens of this district than the current district attorney," said Edwards.

"The other thing that makes me the right person is people who know me know I take care of business and that's reflected by the fact that I carried Nolan County.

"I have a handle on the number of pending cases in the d.a.'s office and will live up to the statement I've made about the use of deferred adjudication.

"In spite of what the current district attorney is wanting voters to believe, I'm very experienced in trying jury trials both in criminal and civil matters," he said.

Edwards challenged Conard to show specific examples of his use of deferred adjudication. He said that the only case which received deferred adjudication while he was assistant district attorney in San Angelo was one for possession of marijuana.

"Both district attorneys in San Angelo had a policy against deferred adjudication and the judges had a policy against granting deferred adjudications so the cases where it was used were rare," he said.

Curfew questions to be discussed at upcoming meeting, April 10

What do you think about curfews for local young people?

The purpose of an April 10 meeting at the Mitchell County Courthouse is to find out how local citizens feel about a county-wide curfew.

Some of the questions that may be discussed include whether a curfew is needed, what it would be designed to do, what age group it would apply to and what time period it would cover.

A group of 12 representatives from local law enforcement, juvenile probation, judges, prosecutors, school officials, and the prison system met March 13 to discuss ideas on teaching children responsibility and accountability.

They called for a public meeting to find out people's opinions on curfews.

Mark Piland, county attorney and one of the organizers of the meeting, said that the public's input is essential.

It takes everyone in the community to support a curfew, he said.

Hospital board will not seek new dentist

February was an extremely busy month at the Mitchell County Hospital.

Hospital Administrator Wendell Alford reported to the Mitchell County Hospital District board of directors that there were a total of 180 admissions in February.

"This is the biggest spurt we've had since I've been here," he said. "It shows that people are utilizing the facility and the health care we provide."

In other business, the board decided to discontinue their search for a dentist, at least for now.

The board received an update on the search for a dentist during Tuesday evening's regular monthly board meeting in the Healthstyles Center conference room.

The board had discussed bringing in a dentist because of the impending retirement of Dr. Steakley.

Hospital Administrator Wendell Alford said he had spoken with Dr. Steakley and Dr. Bridgford. Dr. Steakley plans to send his dental equipment to Mexico but donate one chair to the Valley Fair Nursing Home.

The board also approved the purchase of additional equipment: a telemetry, cardiac monitoring package, for $34,000; small parts probe for the Ultrasound; $7,000; and a doppler [used to look at blood vessels] for the Ultrasound, $4,000.

A statewide canvass revealed that a clerk had recorded 14 votes for Barber instead of 1,440.

The new vote totals were Womack 214,415 votes, Barber 148,773 and Keasler 148,172 votes. Keasler decided against calling for a statewide recount.

Now Barber said he's campaigning hard for the April 9 runoff election.

"As fast as I can go," he said. "I have a lot of catching up to do."

"The relationship between the city and the county has always had problems and perhaps they're more acute now," said Reilly. "But there are also several efforts now that may very well make relations between the two better than they've ever been before."

DID YOU KNOW

My opponent claims he will not use deferred adjudication, but while assistant district attorney in San Angelo, he used deferred adjudication for cases such as indecency with a child and delivery of a controlled substance. He gave an even lesser sentence (regular probation) for cases such as aggravated sexual assault of a child, attempted sexual assault, injury to a child, burglary of a habitation, possession of cocaine and unlawful possession of a firearm by a felon, just to name a few. This is exactly the opposite of what my opponent claims he will do.

DID YOU KNOW

Out of 162 cases my opponent handled in San Angelo as an assistant district attorney, only 3 cases were tried by a jury, while 50 cases were dismissed.

- * One guilty verdict was reversed on appeal.
- * One was found not guilty.
- * One drug possession case was sentenced to only 5 years.

DID YOU KNOW

As Assistant District Attorney in San Angelo my opponent averaged disposing of only 9 cases per month (and 1/3 third of those were dismissed). Presently, I average disposing of 40 cases per month.

DID YOU KNOW

My opponent has only 1 1/2 years experience as a felony prosecutor...I have 7 years experience.

Keep a district attorney whose experience shows he can and will do what he says...

Loraine News

By BESSIE ANN VAUGHN.
 Greetings from Loraine.
 Tuesday morning was cold, dark and dreary, yet I heard the most glorious sound.
 Ice pellets began hitting my window though they never hit the ground.
 This just whets one's appetite for precious rain upon the earth.
 Where things turn green and come alive, the miracle of rebirth.
 I'm getting my umbrella out of the closet and will put it in the car.
 It most likely will start raining before I get very far!
 ***
 How beautiful is the rain!
 After the dust and heat in the broad and fiery street
 And in the narrow lane:
 How beautiful is the rain!
 Longfellow
 ***
 Curtis Jaratt and his wife Joy attended church last Sunday at First Baptist in Loraine and shared their musical talents with the congregation. Mr. Jaratt played the violin and both he and his wife sang.
 ***
 Friends and relatives helped Effie Wheeler celebrate her 85th birthday Thursday the 21st by taking her out to dine at the Ranch House restaurant in Sweetwater. Since Annie Belle Jones was also a March "Birthday Baby" she was invited to join in the fun.
 Donald and Marie Adrian, along with Donna Lyder from St. Petersburg, Fla., Nola Taylor and Jimmie Jacks were all present for the occasion.
 Congratulations to Effie and to Annie Belle. May you both have many more.
 ***
 Grady and Elnora Mitchell enjoyed having their daughter Judy Macha from Lockney visit this past weekend, also going to church with them. Sunday their dinner guests were Herman and Penny Mitchell, Judy, Bro. Dan Marshall, Denise and little Treton.
 ***
 Royce and Margaret Mahon

just returned from Ft. Worth, where they visited with their children, Cindy Mahon and Barbara and Charles Couk.
 On Saturday, Eldon and Novalee Mahon visited with Royce, Margaret and their children.
 ***
 Kimberly Onsteen and children from Lewisville, Texas visited with Bobby and Wanza Graham last Sunday. Also visiting were Debby, Cade and Mindy Carlock, and there was Kim, a granddaughter of Mildred Martin, formerly from Comanche and now residing at Trails Nursing Home in Big Spring.
 ***
 The gas station and cafe once operated by Ben Martinez on Pacific St. is now open and under new management.
 Eloy and Minnie Briseno are now in business to service your vehicles and also to feed you when you are hungry. Minnie told me that the menu changes daily but a breakfast burrito is available every morning for .99.
 The name of their establishment is "Everyone's Number One Stop."

 Last year when I wrote about Mike Kridel, his constant friend and companion, Brandy, had just died. Brandy was Mike's seeing eye dog and as you can imagine an important part of the family, providing his master with loyalty, love and independence.
 Another trained dog was applied for right away but Mike had to wait until the third of February to get his new helpmate.
 Dog and man trained for three cold, hard weeks in New Jersey before passing required training.
 Dogs chosen for such training must show qualities of a good disposition, intelligence, fitness and responsibility. I learned that many blind people are unsuited by temperament to work with dogs, with only about a tenth of the blind finding a guide dog useful.

 Mike's new companion's name is Kajun, a German shepherd who is very protective of his master.
 Mike lives in Midland with his wife Carol and young son Wayne. A company uses his computer wizardry, making it possible for him to work from his home.
 It has been three years since Mike graduated from Midland College. We wish him all the best.
 Mike is a nephew of Mary Helen Price, Loraine.

It's A Beautiful Day In Texas.

Naturally, We're Preparing For The Worst.

Everyone knows that here in Texas nothing changes faster than the weather.

While you probably take it in stride, here at TU Electric it's the biggest challenge we face when it comes to providing you with safe, reliable electricity. We also know how many different ways you and your community depend on that service. That's the reason we're always prepared for the worst. That way, when bad weather does cause an outage, we're able to restore your service as quickly as possible. It's our commitment to do everything we can to keep outages brief and to a minimum. For instance, at our distribution with over a century of experience with Texas storms, we're able to move the right people and equipment to the right locations faster than ever.

Year after year, TU Electric's rating exceeds 99.9 percent on the national Reliability Index. That's a great score for companies working in normal weather, so we know that our crews here are fulfilling their commitment to provide you with the most reliable service possible.

Although you never know just what the weather's going to do here in Texas, we thought you'd like to know that we're always working hard to find new ways to serve you better, come rain or shine.

The Colorado Wolves had a mission and that mission was to win their own tournament. To do that, though, the Wolves would have to defeat a fundamentally sound Snyder JV, a high scoring Hamlin team, and state ranked Coahoma. The Wolves did just that as they took the tournament title.

The Wolves' first victim was Snyder JV. Michael Hoyle was big on the mound and the plate. On the mound, Hoyle, along with Abel Bonilla, allowed only two base runners. Each gave up only one single as they combined to strike out six.

Hoyle did damage at the plate as well, leading the team the three RBIs. Lynn Boyd added a home run as the Wolves shut out Snyder JV 8-0.

The Wolves' next victim was Hamlin, who scored 24 runs in their first round game. The Pied Pipers took the early lead on a home run by Scottie Nichols. The lead was short-lived, however, as the Wolves clawed their way back by scoring four runs in the second inning off only three hits.

Despite good relief pitching by Adam Molina and Abel Bonilla, the Wolves found themselves down 5-7 going into the bottom of the fifth inning.

Frank Espinoza and Jesse Rivera started things off for the Wolves with back-to-back singles. Michael Hoyle followed and with one swing of the bat gave the Wolves the lead as he sent the first pitch over the fence. The Wolves held on to win 8-7.

"Michael's homer was huge for us," said Wolves Coach Gerald James. "He stepped it up for us at the right time."

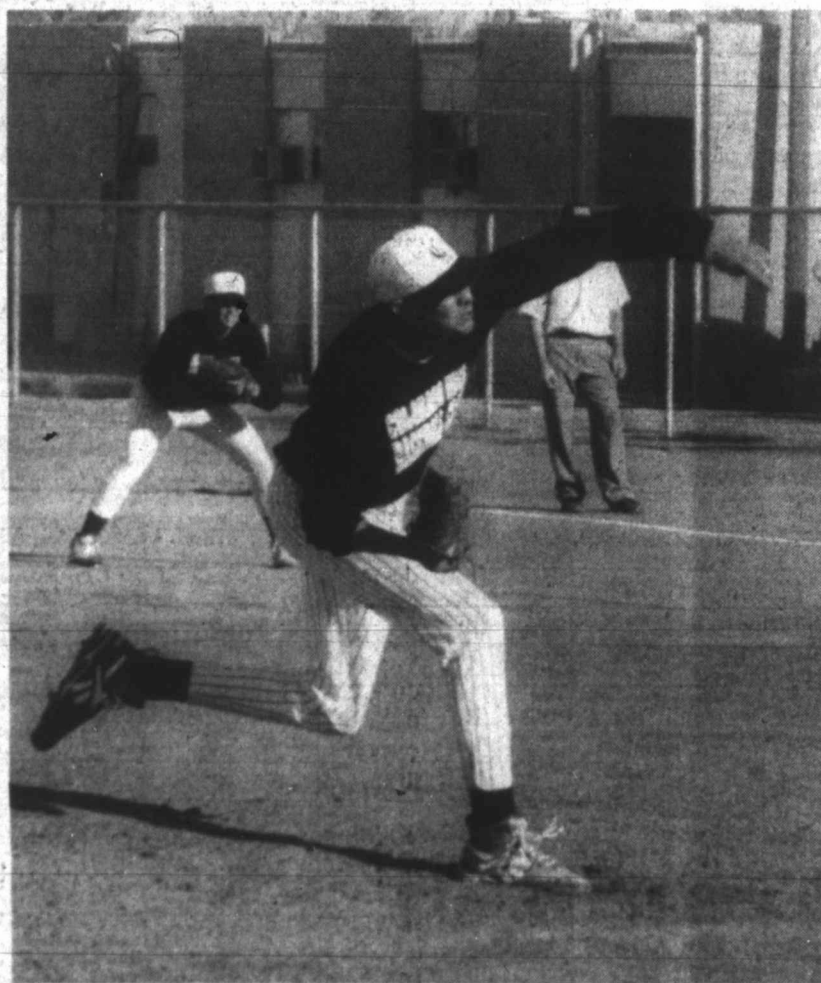

The Wolves' magic continued into the championship as they took on Coahoma. Lynn Boyd gave perhaps his best pitching performance of the season. Boyd struck out the side in the first inning and had accumulated eight strikeouts by the sixth inning. Boyd's pitching clinic continued as he used only eight pitches to dispose of the final three batters.

Lynn also helped himself out by driving in the winning run in the fifth inning. The Wolves went on to pull out a 2-1 win.

"I knew Lynn was capable of having a game like that and it couldn't have come at a better time," Coach James said.

The Wolves played a perfect game defensively. "We are now playing as a team, not as individuals," said James. "We had to work through some things but the kids are responding and we're coming together at the right time."

The Wolves are now 8-7 and have won four in a row. They will travel to Odessa Friday and take on Odessa High's JV.

EDWARDS FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

A District Attorney's trial experience is important. That's why I want to let the voters know my trial experience. In the past four (4) years, in addi-ties to West Texas and law enforcement such as Senator Bill Sims and Russell Smith, San Angelo Chief of Police, who knows my reputation as an attorney and character as a person.

tion to the jury trials I have had in Sweetwater I have also had jury trials in Eldorado, Houston, Fort Stockton, San Angelo, Fort Worth and Snyder. Many of these controversies involved well over $100,000.00. These trials are in addition to the numerous felony jury trials I had while Assistant District Attorney in San Angelo.

Even though my opponent has hired a professional political consultant from Austin, I am supported and helped only by people with law enforcement such as Senator Bill Sims and Chief of Police, who knows my reputation as an honest person.

About Mark Edwards:

About Mark Edwards:
I have known Mark Edwards since he was an Assistant District Attorney in Tom Green County back in 1984. He had the qualities you want in a prosecutor. He was honest with integrity beyond question. He would go the extra mile, meeting with us at times after regular working hours, making sure everything was where it should be and then doing his best in an imperfect world to get a conviction. I have reason to know these things about Mark Edwards.

prosecution. I was in the courtroom for an extra mile, meeting with us and then everything was where it should be and then to get a conviction. I have reason to know these things about Mark.

I was a narcotics detective with the San Angelo Police Department while Mark was with the District Attorney's office. I watched him prosecute some of the numerous cases he tried during that time. I remember well one narcotics case; the offender was one of the most violent people I'd ever dealt with. The conviction and sentence had helped keep San Angelo and it's quality of life intact.

Mark has the real qualities of people, and I got to know Mark. I appreciate what he did for our community. What was right, even if it was hard.

Police officers in San Angelo are not alone in appreciating Mark Edwards. Numerous cases he tried in the past few years have been successful, and the offender was one of the most violent in the area. The sentence and sentence has helped keep San Angelo and it's quality of life. Police officers get to know the real qualities of people, and I got to know Mark. I appreciate what Mark Edwards did for our community. I appreciate what he did for the victims of crime. I appreciate his dedication to do what was right, even when what was right was not the most popular. He's one of the finest people I've ever known.

Sincerely,

Bulldogs hold their own in tough games

The Loraine Bulldogs were hoping the Colorado City tournament would help them to get back on the right track and give them momentum heading into district. Instead, the Bulldogs were handed two defeats in their three games.

The Bulldogs drew a strong Coahoma team in the first round. Coahoma got on the scoreboard first by scoring three times in the first inning. Loraine would answer back by scoring four runs in four innings.

Loraine would still find themselves down by one run going into the bottom of the seventh. Kyle Moore then hit a clutch double that scored Ronnie Garcia. That would send the game into the eighth inning.

From there, Coahoma took control as Loraine just ran out of gas. Loraine lost 10-5.

Loraine ran into tough pitching in their second game. In fact, Loraine had so much trouble against Odessa JV's pitching that they didn't get their first hit until Cory Wooddell led off the fourth inning with a home run. It wouldn't be enough, though. The Bulldogs eventually fell 2-5.

In the Bulldogs' final game to see who would take seventh place, Aspermont took advantage of Loraine errors to build a 4-0 lead.

Loraine scored the next five runs to take a 5-4 lead. But with the bases loaded in the bottom of the fourth, Aspermont's Jason Gilley launched a Cory Wooddell fastball over the fence for a grand slam.

Loraine scored the next three runs, making the score 8-8. Loraine escaped with a win on the tie-breaker rule.

The Bulldogs will return to action on the 29th when they take on Anson at home. Gametime is 5 p.m.

GED opens doors of opportunity

Almost a dozen people have earned their high school equivalency certificates this year after attending GED classes at the Wallace Center.

One of the graduates hadn't been in school for almost 35 years, said Bob Reily, one of the instructors.

A couple of those who graduated this year are now planning to continue their coursework to prepare for careers as LVNs in the health field. Another former student now is looking forward to further education to prepare for a career in computers.

Every year the graduates prove that having their GED certificates opens the door to opportunity.

Reily emphasized that now is the time to take that step towards getting the certificate.

"With the opening of the state jail this year, there will be even more jobs available for people with a high school diploma or high school equivalency," said Reily.

Those interested in getting their GED can begin the classes now just by dropping by the Wallace Center on Monday evenings. There are at least two full months to go this season, said Reily.

Classes are held from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. each Monday. Schedules are flexible and students receive individual instruction from the Wallace Center's two teachers, Orphie Conner and Bob Reily.

All books and instructional material are published free of charge.

Too dry to plow; weekend gardeners feel effects also

By JOE RAFF, CEA-AG

We need a rain. I have talked to several farmers the last couple of months and most can't get into their fields to plow because of the dry conditions. These dry conditions not only affect growers in Mitchell County, but also weekend gardeners.

Most of the growers are dry land, and without a rain soon there's not much we can do. We do have some growers that have irrigation systems and they need to be watering now if you want to see a crop.

Same goes for the weekend gardener. Everyone needs to start watering (if you aren't already) to get the soil ready for planting. Without pre-watering this year, you may not see many vegetables in your garden.

It's a problem that we haven't experienced in several years. It's been dry through summer, fall and winter, and for the average home gardener that means it's going to be difficult to prepare a good seed bed. It's like building an expensive house on top of a poor foundation. It's throwing money away.

You need to water and water a lot. The moisture needs to reach two or three feet into the ground. Once the soil starts to dry out, add more water. But there's a drawback to heavy watering if you have salts in your water supply. The salts can build up unless you get a good soaking rain to flush them out. The best way to know if your water has high salt content is to get a sample in a sterile glass jar and send the sample to a lab. I have some forms in the office for this if you need some.

In the meantime, pray for rain.

Workshops and CEU opportunities offered

By JOE RAFF, CEA-AG

There will be a predator appreciation day on Thursday, April 18 starting at 8 a.m. at the community center in Aspermont. The all-day workshop will cost $10 and be worth 5.75 CEUs.

Topics will include predator biology, predator management for livestock and wildlife, predator management alternatives and code of ethics. There will be a catered lunch available. Call Dale Rollins at the Texas A&M Center in San Angelo for more details.

There will be a drip irrigations seminar and trade show on April 9 at the Office Center in Plainview. The program will start at 8 a.m. and end at 3 p.m. Topics for discussion will include drip tape, filtration, crop requirements, fertigation/chemigation, pre-irrigation and scheduling.

The cost of this program will be $10 if pre-entered by April 3 or $15 after April 3. For more information call John Walker at (806) 763-5943.

If you are still short on your CEUs you may want to attend the following meetings in April:

• April 2, Abilene, eight CEUs. Call Larry Franke at (910) 620-4440.

• April 19, Lubbock, five CEUs, call Nancy Surley at (800) 527-9919.
