Attempt Made To Land Behind Finnish Lines

Operations Started Tuesday; Violent Fighting Reported

(By The Associated Press)

STOCKHOLM, July 5—Russian troops have begun large-scale landing operations on the northern shores of Viipuri bay in southern Finland in an apparent attempt to establish a bridgehead behind Finnish lines, the Finnish communique said today.

Red army troops began landing from many boats early Tuesday,

NAZI GENERAL CAPTURED

LONDON, July 5 (AP) — The Russians announced at midnight the capture of Lt. Gen. Yon Luetzow, commander of the 25th German army corps, the 22nd Nazi general killed or captured in three weeks in Russia and France. (The British radio said he was the 22rd.)

the Finnish high command said, supported by coastal batteries firing from the southern shores and by smokescreen.

Viipuri Is Captured

The town of Viipuri at the head of the bay was captured recently by Russian troops.

The Finnish bulletin also reported landings on islands in the Bay of Narva, and said the Soviets had been thrown back into the sea on two of them.

Landings are continuing with violent fighting, the bulletin added.

British Nearing Important City

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, July 5 — Eighth army troops, converging from the southwest and south, have driven within five miles of the important communications center of Arezzo on the road to Florence while American units on Italy's west coast have moved up to the outskirts of Rosignano, less than 13 miles airline from Livorno, Allied headquarters announced today.

Both advances were recorded against stiff German resistance and the Nazis gave every indication they intended to battle to retain the valuable port of Livorno as long as possible.

Heavy guns situated on dominant hills opened fire on approaching American infantry and tanks around Rosignano. At the same time heavy road movements westward were seen behind the enemy lines, indicating that reserves were being moved into position.

Strongly supported by artillery, the Americans finally broke into the town in strength and reinforced their position yesterday, while north of the town established road blocks against expected German counter-attacks.

By road the advanced troops were only 15 miles from Livorno but an official spokesman declared that only a slow advance could be expected.

"Livorno itself is defended by thick concrete pillboxes, extensive minefields, wire, anti-landing mines and ack-ack," he went on. "Further indications of our approach to long-prepared enemy defense lines is seen with the German employment aagin of heavy 170-mm. guns which have not

U. S. Subs Have Sunk 17 More Jap Vessels

Rate Of Sinking To Be Stepped Up; Big Battles Due

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Navy Secretary Forrestal reported today the sinking of 17 Japanese vessels, including a light cruiser and a destroyer, by American submarines operating in Pacific waters.

He disclosed the latest bag of American undersea craft at a news conference at which he reported that the submarines deserve "the lion's share of the credit for knocking the props from under Japan's conquest."

To Be Accelerated

Forrestal said that the rate of sinking of the Japanese merchant fleet would be accelerated "and has caught up with the Jap retreat."

Japan, he said, "is losing merchant ships faster than she can afford to" and continuation of the current trends "will leave her by the end of 1944 with a sizeable and growing deficit."

The war against Japan, he said, had moved at "a faster pace than we had hoped for."

But he warned against overconfidence, saying that the main battles are still to come and they will be "bitter and costly."

We are now approaching, he said, "the place where we can force the Japanese in the Pacific to stand up and fight."

Main Battles To Come

Main battles still to come, he predicted, will likely occur on land with infantry organizations beating the Jap army.

"The war goes well," Forrestal said, "but it still is a long war."

The new sinkings by American subs raise to 791 the number of Jap craft of all types sunk, probably sunk or damaged by American subs alone. The breakdown shows that of that total 640 definitely have been destroyed.

In the latest bag, in addition to the two combatant vessels, there were two medium-sized tankers of major importance in maintaining the Japanese war machine, five medium cargo transports, three small cargo vessels, a large cargo transport, three medium cargo vessels and one small cargo transport.

Forrestal also made public a chart showing the number of Jap merchant vessels sunk since Jan. 1, 1942, and including 740 merchant craft definitely destroyed, of which 570 are credited to subs.

S. E. Cone Suffers Attack Before Noon

S. E. Cone, about 50, longtime resident of Lubbock, suffered what doctors believe was a convulsion and fainting spell shortly before noon today and was taken by ambulance, in an unconscious condition, to West Texas hospital.

The attack came while Cone was transacting business in the offices of H. L. Cain, dealer in oil properties, on the fifth floor of Lubbock National bank building.

Cone regained consciousness about 15 minutes after being received at the hospital, one of the three doctors in the case reported this afternoon. He said diagnosis had not been completed; that Cone's condition is not considered to be "immediately dangerous," but that the patient probably will be kept in the hospital for several days.

Cone, engaged in the seed and oil business here, has not been in good health in recent months. A previous attack, similar to the one today, resulted in his taking a rest from business in the early part of this spring.

He resides west of Lubbock on the Levelland highway.

Yanks Wipe Out Five Jap Ships, 88 Planes

Victorious Finish To Saipan Invasion Said Imminent; Jap Navy Still 'Missing'

BY J. B. KRUEGER

Associated Press War Editor

An American fleet spoiling for battle has stabbed into Japan's Bonin islands 615 miles from Tokyo to destroy five ships, 88 planes and to deliver another compelling invitation for the Japanese navy to come out and fight.

The alarmed Tokyo radio today said the Fourth of July carrier plane-warship attack was still going on.

All four of the Pacific war fronts flamed into action, but the thrust of Adm. Raymond Spruance's Fifth fleet task forces into the Bonins and adjacent Volcano islands was a slap in the face the Japanese admirals could hardly ignore.

Paratroopers Hit Noemfoor

Paratroop landings on Noemfoor island in Gen. MacArthur's domain, imminent finish of the Saipan invasion and important gains in Burma filled out the picture of heightening Allied pressure on the enemy's buckling defenses. Only in China were the Japanese successfully on the offensive.

Adm. Chester Nimitz last night announced the Bonin-Volcano raids. On July 3 carrier planes blasted Iwo Jima in the Volcano group, destroying probably 79 planes against a loss of three.

The next day cruisers and destroyers moved in close to shell Iwo Jima's warehouses and harbor installations. Carrier planes firing rockets also hit Iwo Jima and flew northward to thump Haha Jima and destroy 25 more planes, against a loss of six.

These scores brought to 826 the number of enemy planes downed since the Saipan operations be-

German Supply Ship Explodes

STOCKHOLM, July 5. (UP) — The Danish press service reported today that the explosion of a German ammunition ship in the Aarhus harbor of Denmark's Jutland peninsula yesterday killed an estimated 80 persons, injured 300 others, destroyed or damaged more than 1,000 buildings and sank several nearby ships.

Confirming earlier reports that the terrific detonation in the harbor was caused by the blowing up of an ammunition ship, the news agency said that so far only Danish casualties were known and that the German casualties were believed to be still higher.

Sabotage Is Denied

Danish circles here emphatically denied the explosion was due to Danish sabotage, and said it was caused by German anti-Nazi sabotage or carelessness. The extent of the disaster was explained by the fact that the blast caused several explosions among large German ammunition stores along the quay.

(The Nazi-controlled Danish radio claimed in a broadcast recorded by the FCC today that only 13 persons were killed and 170 were injured in the explosion.)

Observers recalled similar explosions of German munition ships at Oslo and Bergen. The Swedish Telegraph bureau said the blast collapsed grain elevators and ignited illuminating gas storage tanks, which, however, did not explode.

Candidates Asked To Cooperate On Signs

AUSTIN, July 5 (UP) — State Highway Engineer Dewitt C. Greer today asked political candidates to cooperate in observance of a state law prohibiting placing advertising on state highway rights-of-way.

He said that a shortage of highway workers made it difficult to remove the political advertising, but in all instances where posters were found on the rights-of-way they would be torn down.

Toulon, French Rail Yards Hit In Wide Forays

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, July 5.—American Flying Fortresses completed a shuttle bombing tour of Hitler's Europe today by bombing French rail yards on the last leg of a Britain-Russia-Italy-Britain circuit while other U. S. heavies assaulted the naval base of Toulon where the French fleet lies scuttled.

Still other flights of Fortresses and Liberators struck from Britain at robot bomb sites in northern France and at airdromes in Holland and Belgium. Before dawn, fleets of RAF heavy and lighter bombers made devastating attacks from the channel coast to the German Ruhr.

The homing shuttlers, on the last leg of their historic 7,000 mile mission which proved every part of German-held Europe vulnerable to American bombs, struck in South France at the rail yards of Beziers near Montpelier.

Mustangs Bag 10 Planes

With the 145 returning shuttle-bombing Fortresses came 70 Mustang fighters which made the complete circuit, shooting down 19 interceptors on the first two legs. Col. Don Blakeslee of Fairport Harbor, Ohio, led the fighter wing.

The Toulon raid was the fifth from Italy. Harbor installations were attacked and no fighter opposition was reported. Other formations of Fortresses and Liberators attacked rail facilities in southern France.

American Marauders supported British ground troops by bombing two road bridges over the Orne river close to Caen. Both were valuable links for movement of German reserves and materiel into that embattled inland port.

Supply Dumps Bombed

Other Marauder formations bombed fuel and supply dumps in the Senonches forest, 20 miles southwest of Dreux; a rail junction near Laigle, 30 miles west of Dreux; and supply points in the wooded area 25 miles southwest of Dreux. Dreux is two-thirds of the way from Caen to Paris. The Marauders and their Thunderbolt escorts encountered no intercept-

Raising Of School Tax Rate Studied

AUSTIN, July 5 (UP)—Whether use of an anticipated surplus in the state available school fund to supplement the per capita apportionment to $4 above the maximum authorized by law will necessitate raising the school tax rate was subject of speculation today.

At its meeting Tuesday the state board of education set the 1944-45 per capita at the $25 maximum. Then members voted to supplement it $4 per capita from a surplus of $6,426,000 the available school fund is expected to have at the end of this fiscal year Aug. 31.

The supplemental apportionment is subject to consent of the attorney general.

Comptroller's Statistician Bob Calvert calculated using the surplus will result in the present 47-cent tax rate being raised. Ten cents of the rate goes to the school fund. Each cent the rate is raised represent increased collections of $340,000.

State School Superintendent L. A. Woods, who was not able to attend the board's meeting, said present tax receipts are more than sufficient to pay the $25 apportionment, and that an increased rate might not be needed. He said he was studying the board's action for details.

Dr. George W. Truett Is Critically Ill

DALLAS, July 5. (AP)—Dr. George W. Truett, internationally known Baptist and pastor of the First Baptist church here for almost 47 years, is critically ill, his daughter, Mrs. Robert Milliken of Dallas, said today.

The 77-year-old pastor, who has been in ill health for a year, is suffering from heart trouble and complications, Mrs. Milliken stated.

Dr. Truett, long prominent in Baptist circles of the nation, tendered his resignation to the Dallas church last month but members unanimously declined to accept it. The church voted, instead, to give him the assistance of an associate pastor.

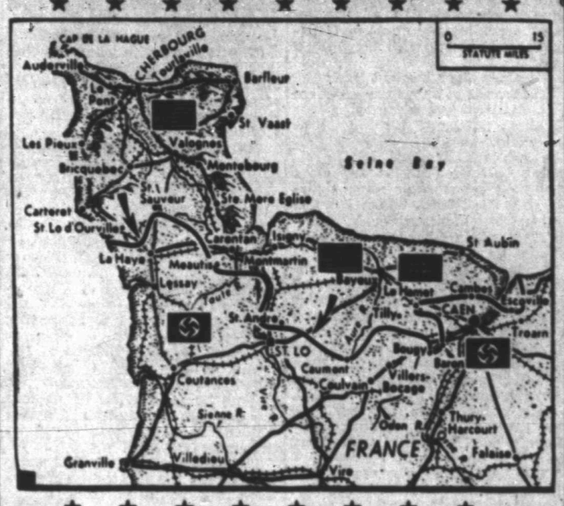

Illness has kept Dr. Truett from the pulpit since July, 1943.

Sailors On Review At Camp Wallace

CAMP WALLACE, July 5 (UP) —Ten thousand new sailors marched in review at Camp Wallace yesterday as the gates of the Southwest's only "boot camp" were thrown open to the public for the first time.

The Independence day regimental review was the first of its size ever staged by the Navy in Texas. Formerly an Army post, Camp Wallace was taken over by the Navy little more than two months ago for conversion to a boot camp. Capt. A. C. Wood, New Orleans, chief of staff of the Eighth naval district, was on the reviewing stand with Capt. William H. Green, commanding Camp Wallace.

Doughboys Battling Way Through La Haye Streets

Fierce Fighting Rages At Both Ends Of Front

BY WES GALLAGHER

Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force July 5 — Doughboys fought hand-to-hand late today through the streets of La Haye du Puits, German anchor on their western flank in France, after seizing the railway station 300 yards from the heart of that important junction town.

Fierce fighting raged at both ends of the Normandy battlefront as supreme headquarters disclosed that more than 58 French cities, towns, and villages had been liberated in the first month of the invasion.

Besides battering into La Haye du Puits, Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley's men scored advances of more than two miles along the entire front near the town, six miles inland from the western coast. A field dispatch said the railway station fell shortly after 9 a. m.

Nazis Counterattack

The Germans counterattacked with infantry and tanks, throwing in giant Tiger tanks for the first time on the U. S. sector in Normandy in a vain effort to save the town, the dispatch added.

Violent fighting flared also at the eastern end of the front near Caen. Field Marshal Erwin Rommel attacked heavily against the lower tip of the British wedge southwest of Caen, seeking to break through the Allied line, and Canadian troops were forced back in the battle for Carpiquet airfield, due west of Caen.

The Germans held all but the northern hangars of the airfield after counterattacking with 30 to 40 tanks, a field dispatch said, and the Canadians withdrew a few hundred yards. But the Canadians consolidated their hold on the town of Carpiquet itself, three miles from Caen and one of the fortress points guarding that bomb-blasted city of 61,000 population.

Drive Is Three-Sided

The Americans closed in on La Haye from three sides. The Germans resisted bitterly on the Cherbourg peninsula front, and little progress was made in the swampy country farther east from St. Jores to Carentan.

The doughboy drive on the peninsula had freed 17 villages and hamlets in 24 hours before the final assault that broke into the highway center.

Today's morning communique said the Americans had gained from a half-mile to two and one-half miles through swampy, canal-creased country.

Progress was far from easy. The Germans resisted heavily in all sectors, and a particularly violent engagement was going on one half mile south of newly-captured St. Jores, east of La Haye.

The long-quiet Carentan sector

Eisenhower Visits Front In Normandy

General Inspects All Battle Areas

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, July 5 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower returned to his headquarters today after celebrating the Fourth of July by flying with Maj. Gen. Elwood Quesada on an observation trip over the Normandy battle area.

Eisenhower flew in a Mustang over the combat area with Quesada, chief of the U. S. Ninth Air force fighter command.

Made Trip By Road

Eisenhower also made a trip by road which took him past an enemy pocket of resistance on the American sector of western Cherbourg peninsula.

On the aerial jaunt, the supreme commander and the young, intrepid Quesada led a flight which included six other planes.

It was believed to have been Eisenhower's first flight over the area, and the first in which two generals flew in a plane built for one person.

During his visit in France, Eisenhower conferred with Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, commanding all ground forces, and Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, commander of the American First army.

Studies Battlefront

The whole purpose of the trip was to enable Eisenhower to study the front himself, starting with the British Canadian eastern flank, and working over to the extreme western end of the American line.

He expressed admiration for the accomplishments of the American, British and Canadian divisions and Air force units in the field.

Although he bent over backwards to avoid it—because he is an Allied commander—he couldn't hide justifiable pride in the American divisions that won the upper Cherbourg peninsula.

Yanks Celebrate July 4 With Big Artillery Barrage

WITH AMERICAN FORCES in Normandy, July 5. (UP)—U. S. soldiers celebrated Independence Day noisily and earnestly by firing a blast from every piece of artillery promptly at noon.

"That," they said, acting on direct orders of Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, commander of ground forces, "will teach the dirty Heinies what day this is."

The fireworks display was probably the most concentrated barrage in history, with every gun blaring from the right flank of the American lines on the west coast of the Cherbourg peninsula to an area where the left flank links up with British.

Induction Unit Here To Close

DALLAS, July 5. (AP)—The armed forces induction station at Lubbock, will be closed July 31, Eighth Service Command headquarters said today, and inductees from Lubbock and nearby communities will be processed at Fort Bliss, Fort Sam Houston, Dallas and Oklahoma City.

The headquarters previously had announced closing of induction stations in Tyler, LaFayette, La., Tulsa, Okla., and Little Rock, Ark., July 1, and the station at Shreveport, La., July 31.

Conservation Is Aim

The move is one of conservation, made possible by reduced selective service quotas and inductees from the areas of the closed stations will be processed at other stations in the four states, said the announcement.

The West Texas recruiting district, with offices in the same building as the induction station, 1114 10th St., Lubbock, will remain in operation.

Holiday Death Toll Has Reached 380

(By The United Press)

With a civilian death rate greater than the wartime rate among America's fighting forces, the nation lost 380 lives in accidents during the four-day Independence day weekend, a United Press survey showed today.

Accidents claimed lives on the home front at the rate of 95 a day during the four-day summer holiday, as compared with the average daily battle death rate of slightly more than 60 among members of the United States' armed forces since Pearl Harbor.

Traffic accidents took 145 lives, drowning 116, and miscellaneous causes 120. There were no deaths reported from fireworks. The national safety council had predicted that 250 persons would die in traffic accidents during the four-day period.

The worst accident was the derailment of the Santa Fe's deluxe streamliner, the Chief, with a loss of four lives.

California, with 29 deaths, led all other states in the casualty list. Pennsylvania reported 24 accidental deaths and New York 22.

Soldiers On Furlough To Get More Gas

KANSAS CITY, Kan., July 5. (UP)—The Office of Price administration will liberalize its gasoline rationing policy toward servicemen on furlough within the next two weeks, Rep. Errett P. Scrivner, (R., Kan.), said today he had been notified by his Washington office.

Scrivner said that furloughed servicemen will receive five gallons of gasoline for the first three days of a leave and one gallon per day for each day thereafter, under the new plan.

Servicemen have received five gallons for their entire furlough up to the present time.

The representative said he had been informed that men on furlough would receive "leave slips" showing the length of their furloughs. Those slips would be presented to ration boards, which would then issue gasoline for the number of days indicated.

Scrivner, active in American Legion circles, has been active in fighting for a liberalization of this policy. He recently was informed by the War department that the plan required only the OPA administrator's approval, which now has been received, he said.

Bond Drive To Reach Climax In City Thursday; Sales Lagging

With success or failure hinging upon the outcome, the Fifth War Loan drive will reach a belated climax in Lubbock Thursday.

Campaign workers are confronted with the task of selling approximately $2,000,000 in all bonds, including more than $500,000 in Series E, before Saturday, when the national drive ends officially, to reach the Lubbock county quotas of $4,685,000 for all issues and $1,110,000 for Series E.

As County Chairman Neil H. Wright commented this morning, it is "a large order." Yet he was confident that the county's record of never failing to reach a loan drive quota will be maintained.

Meeting Scheduled

First events on Thursday's schedule will be meeting of the general campaign division headed by James L. Quicksall at 8 a. m. and of the big subscriptions division headed by C. E. Maedgen at 9:30 a. m. Both meetings are to be in the main ballroom of Hilton hotel. Jesse Jones Protests Curbs On Texas Electors, Says Conventions Cannot Shut Off Free Voting

HOUSTON, July 5 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones today protested against the Texas state Democratic convention's conditional binding of its electors, saying "Texas Democrats may be effectively prevented from casting their vote for the party nominee."

The Texas convention instructed its electors they were not bound to vote for the party nominee in the electoral college unless the national convention met certain conditions, among them restoration of the two-thirds rule for nominating candidates.

In a front page editorial in the Houston Chronicle, which he publishes, Jones declared "no political convention has the authority to deny a qualified voter the right to vote for any candidate he wishes to support."

He asserted that two resolutions passed by the Texas convention "place the Texas convention above the national convention."

Statement Jones' First

The statement was Jones' first on the split in Texas Democratic ranks which saw a pro-Roosevelt group leave the regularly constituted Texas presidential convention in Austin May 23 and name its own electors and delegates to the national convention.

In referring to the regular convention Jones said: "No one has contended that the convention lacked the support of the majority of its delegates. No one has even suggested that its proceedings were other than regular."

Jones said a majority of Texas voters "will in all probability" want to vote for President Roosevelt "or whoever may be the presidential nominee of the national Democratic convention."

"All Democrats, including those who participated in the Texas convention, and who will partici-

Sen. Wagner Turns Down Demo Post

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

Sen. Robert F. Wagner of New York, two-time chairman of the platform-making resolutions committee at Democratic national conventions, has declined the job again and party leaders were reported today to have offered it to a prominent House member.

The Democratic national committee expects to announce the name of the new chairman before the week ends. That will permit appointment of a subcommittee which will assemble in Chicago before July 17, hold hearings, and put up a scaffolding for erection of the 1944 national party platform.

The subcommittee will have no power to act. The convention itself, which begins July 19, must create the resolutions and all other major committees.

South's Demands Considered

It will be in the credentials committee that a scrap may develop over seating fourth term or anti-fourth term delegates from some states. The committee on rules and order of business will have to pass on southern demands for the restoration of a rule that a two-thirds vote is necessary to nominate.

Except for the Democrats' planning, the Fourth of July was largely a holiday politically. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the Republican presidential nominee, took things easy.

In Georgia a quiet Democratic primary was marked by the efforts of negroes to vote. They were refused permission but their efforts laid the basis for a court test.

George Wins Easily

Sen. Walter F. George easily won renomination. Rep. Cox of Georgia's Second congressional district, a critic of the Federal Communications commission, was apparently headed for return to the House.

George, in the Senate since 1922, polled 9,842 popular votes to 13,633 for his opponent, John W. Goolsby, a farmer of Washington, Ga. He carried every county reporting.

In Mississippi, Rep. John E. Rankin held a strong lead in the state's first district congressional race, heading his opponents by about four to one.

Organization Nearly Finished

Except for selection of the resolutions chairman, organization work for the Democratic convention is virtually complete. To take care of a few details, Sen. Sam Jackson of Indiana, who has been named permanent chairman of the convention, is coming back to Washington today.

The return of Vice President Wallace from a trip to Russia and China may shed some light in a few days on the vice-presidential situation.

Some Democrats reported before he left that Wallace got assurance from President Roosevelt that he still was favored for second place on the ticket.

Matter Said Wide Open

Other Democrats contend the matter is wide open and that an element in the party will oppose a Wallace renomination—unless Mr. Roosevelt hands down a flat decree that he won't go for a fourth term without Wallace as a running mate.

Four years ago, the chief executive turned on the pressure for Wallace through Harry L. Hopkins and James F. Byrnes.

Word was circulating among leading Democrats today, however, that Mr. Roosevelt wants to get away from any appearance of dictation to the convention. They said if the chief executive has to be represented in any convention negotiations, it will be through National Chairman Robert Hannegan.

gan June 10 and the toll of ships to 36. Three of the vessels knocked out July 4 were destroyers.

Tokyo declared without confirmation that a powerful U. S. task force was still prowling off Chichi Jima, main island of the Bonin group and that severe fighting continues. While Nimitz did not mention Chichi Jima, Tokyo said it was shelled yesterday by warships and that several hundred planes joined the attack.

Tokyo also conceded steady American advances on Saipan. Nimitz said U. S. forces have conquered seven-eighths of the island, including the cities of Garapan and Tanapag with the latter's good harbor.

Saipan Japs Pushed Back

Thousands of Japanese—soldiers and civilians—were crowding into Saipan's northeast tip for a last despairing stand.

Paratroops dropped on Noemfoor to back up Sixth army troops driving toward their second airport on the island, which lies 800 miles from the Philippines. Parachute landing of troops has been rarely used in the Pacific.

Chungking said its troops captured a village 22 miles west of Tengchung, narrowing to 26 miles the gap between these forces and Gen. Stilwell's troops in Burma. The latter, Chungking casually mentioned, has a force at Sanon 31 miles east of Myitkyina. Sanon and the captured village, Chanhsi, possibly indicate for the first time the route of the projected Ledo-Burma road Stilwell is straining to get in operation.

The Chipese surrounded in Hengyang refused to yield the city, Chungking said, despite fierce assaults of infantry, artillery and poison gas.

tensive last winter, pounding close to Narva on the bay.

Finns Regain Two Islands

(The DNB broadcast said counterattacking Finns regained two islands, Melansaari and Lammasaari, with heavy fighting continuing on a third, Teikassari. Light Finnish naval forces and German naval craft "successfully engaged" Soviet supply traffic, it added.)

Field dispatches declared the Germans appeared wholly unable to halt the Red army drives toward Latvia and Lithuania.

Russian planes hammered Wilno (Vilna) in softening-up attacks.

Beating back disorganized German resistance, Gen. Ivan Bagramian's First Baltic army pressed up the valley of the western Dvina towards Daugavpils (Dvinsk), key rail junction in southeastern Latvia, while to the south Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky's Third White Russian army made fast progress toward Wilno and Kaunas.

(The Berlin radio acknowledged that "the Soviet advance is sweeping so fast a considerable number of German forces suddenly found themselves in the rear of the Soviet lines."

(By London estimates the advancing Red army troops were within 10 miles of the Latvian border and 15 or 17 miles from Lithuania).

The railway connecting Berlin and Warsaw with Leningrad—a line which runs through Poland hitting Bialystok, Grodno and Wilno and connecting at Daugvapils with the line to Riga—lies immediately before the advancing Russian armies.

One Of Best Railways

This is one of Europe's best railways and is highly important to any German hopes of holding the Baltics or eastern Poland. Without it either task would be extremely difficult.

The sector where the Red army is exerting the most pressure toward the route is through the lake-dotted country between Wilno and Daugavpils, the northern prong of this advance carrying westward toward the latter city from Polotsk, which fell yesterday.

(It was believed in London that cutting of the railway would seriously affect the supply, maintenance and retreat of the German 16th and 18th armies in the north, possibly forcing them to retire to East Prussia or face entrapment.)

Key To Baltics

The Wilno-Kaunas sector is the key to the Baltics.

Wilno (sixth largest city in old Poland), stands astride the Warsaw-Leningrad railway, while Kaunas is an important junction on the route from East Prussia. The cities are 50 miles apart.

Some Red army units today were reported less than 60 miles from Wilno to the northeast and there were no indications that the Germans were stiffening. A huge fleet of Russian bombers hit Wilno Monday night.

The Nazis appeared strongest along the 66-mile-long highway and railway connecting Wilno with Molodeczno, to the southeast. Hard fighting was reported at numerous sectors along this line, the main route between Minsk and Wilno. The battle for Molodeczno, while in its last stages, was said to be still violent.

The Russian communique said that altogether nearly 900 places were captured in Tuesday's fighting, 40 of these on the northern front where the Finns were being pressed back northwest of Petrozavodsk.

National Health Program May Come Out Of Senate Hearing

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP) — Proposals for a national program to make Americans healthier may come out of a Senate subcommittee hearing which starts Monday.

Some of the top men of the Army, Navy and U. S. Public Health service will go before the subcommittee headed by Senator Pepper (D-Fla).

The committee will make recommendations after it learns the score on things like these:

The physical and mental defects found among the working population and men of military age what Army, Navy and civilian rehabilitation programs have found in medicine and dentistry; what the veterans' health needs are likely to be; and what planning is being considered for hospital and medical centers.

Defects Could Be Corrected

In working out the hearing schedule, committee staff members have said:

"Millions of citizens have physical or mental defects which could be but are not corrected. The failure to remedy this is due to poor national planning and organization."

Here are comments from the staff:

It is a national disgrace that there are 4 million 4F's and that an additional one million men have had to be discharged from the armed forces for mental or physical defects.

No Adequate Program

Probably one million 4F's have defects — like syphilis, hernia and educational shortcomings — which could be remedied.

The nation has had no adequate rehabilitation program and returning veterans will need one better than any now planned.

The Army has been averaging about 94,000 dental appointments a day, putting in more than 31 million fillings.

If the Army has found it worthwhile to give 94,000 men dental treatment and repair a day, such an opportunity would seem desirable for the nation as a whole.

Turn About Is Fair, Girls, So Watch Your Pockets

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 5 (AP) — Be careful where you hang those slacks, girls, City Judge Michael E. Zimmer says it's all right for your husband to go through your pockets.

Discharging Frank Wroblewski, accused of stealing $100 from his wife, Rose, the judge declared today the common law rule that one party to a marriage cannot be guilty of larceny of the other's property "is reciprocal." He commented:

"The court takes judicial notice that from time immemorial it has been the custom of the wife to dip her hands into the pockets of her husband (often unpleasant when detected). To rule that such a practice is larceny would, in the court's opinion, strain the marriage relationship."

Stevenson Criticized By Mrs. Cunningham

NEW WAVERLY, Tex., July 5 (AP)—Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, candidate for governor, yesterday criticized Gov. Coke Stevenson for "refusal to comment on public issues."

In a home-town campaign speech, the candidate referred to the governor as "no comment Coke."

"The people of Texas hear that Jim Farley spent three hours with our governor in Austin," she said. "So, through the press, they ask: 'What did he want of you and of Texas?' 'No comment,' says Coke.

"'No comment' will be a perfectly all right reply for Rancher Coke Stevenson to make when we have returned him to private life."

TYRONE AT CHERRY POINT

CHERRY POINT, N. C., July 5 (AP)—First Lt. Tyrone Power, former film star, has arrived at the Cherry Point Marine corps air station for duty as a pilot in the Ninth Marine Aircraft wing, the station public relations office announced today.

Avignon, France, was the seat of the papacy from 1309 to 1377.

SAN ANTONIO, July 5 (AP) — In response to the government request that civilian travel be curtailed as much as possible, the four-day convention of the Texas State Chiropractic association which was to be held in Austin Aug. 1 through 11, has been cancelled, Dr. Hugh Warren of San Antonio, president of the organization, announced today.

Texan Awaits Action On Swindling Charge

DALLAS, July 5 (AP)—Hillary Mayen, 57-year-old Texan, today awaited action of the federal court in connection with charges of the swindling of an Iowa woman and using the mails to defraud.

Mayen was brought yesterday to the Dallas county jail from Shreveport, La., where last week he was arrested on a fugitive warrant. He is charged with swindling Mrs. D. B. Flagg of Sioux City, Iowa, a widow, of $62,500 in a Rio Grande valley business transaction in 1939.

Arraigned before U. S. Commissioner James A. Van Nook in Shreveport yesterday, Mayen pleaded innocent to the charge of using the mails to defraud. Postal authorities said the mail fraud charge involves about $2,000,000.

Bond in each case was set at $25,000.

Early in the 19th century, the center of the tea industry shifted from China to India, Ceylon and the Netherlands East Indies.

Brief Bits Of Local News

Clyde Burleson, former Lubbock resident of California, and two of his California friends will be among visiting singers when Central Baptist church, at 1311 Eighteenth street, conducts a weekly singing service tonight.

Final examinations for the first term of the summer session at Texas Technological college will begin today, with the term ending Friday, when both new terms —the 6-weeks and 9-weeks accelerated plan.

S/Sgt. Billy Joe Louder, 20, an aerial gunner reported missing in action May 10, is a prisoner in Germany, according to information received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Louder, 1802 Avenue J. His plane failed to return from a bombing mission over Austria. He graduated from high school here in 1942.

Fire at 4:30 o'clock this morning slightly damaged a storehouse at Fourteenth street and Avenue C, firemen said. It was believed a cigaret set off the fire, which burned a small hole near the doorway.

A fine of $100 and court costs was assessed today against Jose Plata, a Mexican, two days in jail and costs against Elvis Ward, a negro, respectively for liquor law violation and for theft, county court officials said.

LIFE SPAN UP

NEW YORK, July 5 (U.P.) — The American people have gained 15½ years in length of life since 1900, the highest figure of 64.82 years having been recorded in 1942. More than two-thirds of persons 25-35 will reach 65 and almost three-quarters of 45-year-olds and four-fifths of the 55s will live to that age, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. statisticians said.

Sea water can be made drinkable by adding silver oxide, and tartaric or citric acid.

Church Construction Being Revolutionized

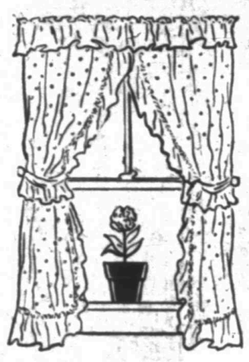

DALLAS, July 5 (AP)—Church construction is being revolutionized to make services more dignified and to bring more families to the church for recreation and social life, says Elbert M. Conover of the interdenominational bureau of church architecture, New York.

Addressing the Texas pastors' school being held at Southern Methodist university, Conover said yesterday that church members have pushed a trend toward worship halls designed with platform and altar to accommodate a normal attendance and buildings that may include an assembly room with stage equipped with a motion picture machine.

Rep. Hatton W. Sumners (D-Tex), another speaker, said America must return to the fundamental laws of God and nature "if its people are to have a practical and successful democracy."

A Switch in Time saved Mine...

I'm not losing face.

I guess you've seen pictures of those real ancient cars that are quite a fad with some prominent people. I'm no big shot, but folks envy me, even at that, for keeping this car like an heirloom. Oh, some say that any good motor oil would largely do the trick, and they're welcome to believe it. I simply say this: Keeping my engine OIL-PLATED ever since I switched to Conoco N*th* motor oil, has helped me beat the curse of engine acids. I got wise that acids from combustion always try to corrode an engine's inside finish, but OIL-PLATING furnishes special protection. A synthetic in Conoco N*th* oil, I've learned, behaves almost like magnetism. This makes the working parts attract OIL-PLATING, and hold on to it. It's fastened as closely as chrome plating to keep metal under cover from acids. That would certainly be a check on corrosion, from the minute you switch to an OIL-PLATED engine. So just get Conoco N*th* motor oil.

SMART STYLE—Hat and bag matchmates give a limited wardrobe the variety it needs. Trudy Marshall's striking stlye-stretching duo of rose, green and white striped cotton—which steals the scene from the star in the film "Ladies of Washington"—adds zing to the simplest basic dress or dark suit.

Stimson Talks With Pope Pius

VATICAN CITY, July 5 (U.P.)—United States Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson was received in a private audience by Pope Pius XII today.

He was accompanied by Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's personal representative to the Vatican and a 20 minute conference was held in the papal library.

Well informed Vatican sources indicated that important international questions as well as war problems were discussed.

Stimson and Taylor also visited with Luigi Cardinal Maglione, papal secretary of state.

Arrives On First Train

Stimson arrived in Rome yesterday aboard a train, the first to arrive since the Allies took over the city. He told Romans the Allies were in their city not as conquerors but as deliverers of a great ancient capital.

Before going to Rome Stimson stopped off at Naples and took a jeep ride to the Cassino battle field.

Stimson, wearing a light brown suit and a sun helmet, was met at the station by Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the Fifth army, and Maj. Gen. Harry H. Johnson, military commander of Rome.

He entered a four star car and rode three blocks through flag decorated streets to his hotel.

Elaborate Welcome Prepared For De Gaulle In Washington

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP) — General Charles de Gaulle, leader of the French National committee, is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow in his first visit to this country.

An elaborate welcome has been prepared for the French general who is coming for a series of talks with President Roosevelt. How much substantial accomplishment they will be able to wring out of the formalities remains a question.

America's Idealism Praised

Just before leaving Algiers, De Gaulle made a Fourth of July statement praising America's idealism, power and courage which was regarded here as unusually friendly for the French leader. Diplomats studied it as possibly preshadowing the attitude he intends to maintain in his conversations with the President.

The talks will begin immediately upon De Gaulle's arrival. He will be met by a cabinet group and escorted to see the President. The French leader is expected to be accompanied by Gaston Palewskey, chief of the civil cabinet, chief of staff General Emil Marie Bethouart, and other officials.

Will Go To Canada

De Gaulle will be in town for several days and later is expected to go to Canada.

His plan to see the President apparently was based originally on the hope that it might result in substantial progress toward De Gaulle's goal of formal recognition for the French National committee of Liberation as the provisional government of France.

Former Texan's Death Is Due To Poison

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 5 (AP) —A Davidson county coroner's jury has ruled that the death of Army Lt. John E. Carrico, 38, former El Campo, Tex., school superintendent, whose partly-clad body was found in a hotel room here, was caused by a poison "by hands unknown."

"Dr. W. J. Cole told the jury traces of poison were found in the body. Army officials did not testify at the coroner's hearing.

The jury's report gave no additional information about the manner in which Lt. Carrico, a one-time president of the Texas State Teachers association, died.

Lt. Dennis McGee of the Nashville military police detachment, said Carrico had been stationed at Randolph Field, Tex., had been transferred to Berry field here, and had arrived in Nashville two days before his body was found yesterday.

McGee said earlier there was evidence Carrico had received a blow on the jaw and indicated he might have died from foul play.

Carrico's parents live at Denton, Tex.

Steve Mesner, Cincinnati third baseman, first played organized ball with Ponca City of the Western Association when he was only 16.

PIN-WORMS
At Last—
A Real Treatment!

You may not realize how many of your neighbors—grown-ups as well as children—have Pin-Worms at this very moment. People don't talk about this nasty infection. Sometimes they are too embarrassed to mention the tormenting rectal itching; and up to now they have usually suffered in silence because they have not known of any effective way to deal with this dreadful pest that lives inside the human body.

Important Medical Discovery

Today, thanks to a valuable scientific discovery, a remarkable new treatment has been made possible. It is based on a special drug, known as gentian violet. This drug is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm tablets developed by Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines. P-W tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special, gentle way to destroy Pin-Worms.

It is very easy to "catch" this nasty infection, and the ugly creatures can cause real distress. So watch for the signs that may mean Pin-Worms: itching seat, uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, nervous fidgeting. If you suspect Pin-Worms, get a box of P-W right away and follow the simple directions carefully.

P-W means Pin-Worm relief! Adv.

Nazis Facing Great Disaster In Russia

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The Red avalanche, having torn the Germans loose from the strategic strongholds of Minsk and Polotsk, has continued to roll the Nazi line back in what bids fair to be the greatest disaster that yet has overtaken the man who three years ago marched his conquering legions over this old invasion route in his arrogant quest of world domination.

Berlin itself has admitted that the Russian advances have been so rapid that big German units have been left in the rear of the Muscovites. The Nazi losses have been colossal—something like a quarter of a million men killed or captured in the past thirteen days. This sacrifice has been imposed by Hitler himself who has ordered his men to fight to the death and, according to captured Nazi General Bauemler, has been enforcing his bloody command by exacting reprisals for disobedience.

We have here a picture of German distress which strengthens the belief of obsefvers that the battle of Minsk will prove to be one of the decisive engagements of the entire war. The conservative London Times yesterday in describing the position declared that "part of the eastern front today presents a spectacle that has not been seen in Europe since 1918—that of a broken German army."

This analyst doesn't make it his business to prophesy, but only to indicate trends—possibilities and probabilities. There's the possibility of a German debacle in White Russia. However, the facts don't warrant us in assuming a collapse at the moment. A bit more time will tell whether Prussian military skill will again enable a withdrawal to other defenses.

In any event, the disaster already visited on the Hitlerites and the great military advantage gained by the victory in the Minsk sector rank this as one of the decisive contributions to Hitler's rapidly approaching downfall. Possession of the ancient citadel of Minsk is permitting the Red armies to roll westward towards East Prussia, Warsaw—and Berlin!

County Officials Meet At 3 A. M., Help In Harvest

KANSAS CITY, July 5 (AP) — The Stafforx county commissioners could hardly be seen for their yawns today in their meeting in St. John, Kans. They struggled into their gathering at 3 a. m.—so that by 6 a. m. they could be in the fields harvesting wheat.

All over Kansas similar stories could be told—of barbers allowing whiskers to sprout unmolested, of jewelers forsaking their gems, of preachers leaving their congregations—or, rather, of going with them to the fields.

For Kansas is harvesting a golden wheat crop estimated by the United States department of agriculture at 174,640,000 bushels. For comparison, last year's crop was 144,201,000 bushels, and the 10-year average was 125,965,000.

Labor, of course, is the chief problem. In other years, transients have wandered in to help. But this year it's mostly up to the Kansans themselves.

British Subs Sink Nine Jap Vessels

LONDON, July 5 (AP)—British submarines sank nine Japanese supply ships and damaged two others in recent patrols in far eastern waters, the Admiralty announced today.

Submarines also penetrated to within 25 yards of the main breakwater at Lho Seumawe on the north coast of Sumatra and shell shore installations. A freight train was almost completely destroyed.

Military objectives on Ross island in the Andaman group also were shelled and damaged considerably by British submarines, the communique said.

Southworth, Sewell Envy Of All Pilots

(By The Associated Press)

Pennants aren't won on the 5th of July and they don't pay off until October but Billy Southworth and Luke Sewell are the envy of every manager in baseball today as the St. Louis Cardinals and Browns sit on top of the world with the traditional Independence Day landmark behind them.

The Red Birds are regarded as a shoo-in to the National pennant with a 10½ game lead but the Brownies face the toughest sort of a struggle from all sides, currently from the Boston Red Sox who trail by only 1½ games after winning seven of 11 since returning to Fenway Park.

Cards Win 6 Straight

Southworth's Cards are hotter than the provervial cannon cracker with six in a row, the latter pair at the expense of the New York Giants, 6-2 and 9-1. Mort Cooper, who has been overlooked because of a shaky start due to a sore arm, rang the bell for his seventh straight in trimming Harry Feldman and Harry Brecheen boosted his record to 6-1 by downing Rube Fischer in the second game.

Brooklyn's toboggan slide continued as the Dodgers slumped to their eighth straight loss by bowing twice to Cincinnati, 6-2 and 2-1 in 10 innings. Rookie Arnie Carter and Harry Gumbert were the winners over Hal Gregg and Ralph Branca but Gee Walker's grand slam homer in the opener was the thrill of the day.

Chicago hopped out of the basement by three percentage points over the Boston Braves by stopping Bob Coleman's crew, 7-1 and 4-2 on neat mound jobs by Les Fleming and Claude Passeau with the help of Dom Dallessandro's slugging. Red Barrett and Ben Cardoni were the losers.

Pirates Hold Second Place

Pittsburgh hung to second place by five slim percentage points over the Reds by taking the second game from the Phillies, 4-0 after bowing to Al Gerheauser in the opener, 3-2.

The Browns divided two with Philadelphia, winning the early game 4-0 as Sig Jakucki tossed his third shutout in his last four starts to decision Bobo Newsom. Al Hollingsworth failed in the finale as Luke Hamlin cuffed the leaders, 8-3.

Cleveland beat the New York Yankees' prize rookies, Walt Dubiel and Joe Page, 3-1 and 7-2, with Manager Lou Boudreau showing the way in the field and at bat. Chief Reynolds and Ray Poat were the Tribe's winners.

Boston clung to the runnerup spot as Joe Bowman decisioned Detroit Johnny Gorsica, 7-4 and Bobby Doerr batted in five runs after Hal Newhouser had hung up his 12th win at Clem Hausmann's expense 4-3. Washington split with Chicago, the Nats scoring 2-0 behind Johnny Niggeling and the Sox copping the second, 3-2.

CAMP LUNA WINS

EL PASO, July 5 (AP) — The Camp Luna, N. M., Airtrancos today held the championship of the southwestern semi-pro baseball tournament following a 6-0 victory over the Hobbs, N. M., Army Air field team at Dudley field.

Holiday Sports Crowds Heavy

Attendance Totals Over 1,100,000

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—More than 1,100,000 sports fans—1,102,192 to be exact—pushed their way into baseball parks and race tracks over the three-day July 4 holiday. This is an increase of 184,219 over the 917,973 spectators who turned out during the three-day Memorial Day holiday.

Led by a two-day turnout of 346,828 for 16 major league doubleheaders a total of 593,411 paid their way into the ball parks of the American and National leagues as well as those of the five top minor circuits, the American Association, International, Pacific Coast, Eastern and Southern Association. Other thousands attended games in the class B Pony, Interstate and Piedmont loops.

Betting Heavy At Races

Turf followers to the number of 508,781 jostled into 13 race tracks over the three-day span, betting an aggregate of $24,950,000, an increase of $2,715,689 over the $22,234,311 tossed into the pari-mutuel machines Memorial Day.

Other thousands of sports hungry fans saw fights in New York, Los Angeles, Galveston, Chicago, Baltimore and Newark, N. J. Still more attended the people's regatta on the Schuylkill river in Philadelphia and the Red Cross tennis exhibition matches at Forest Hills.

Yesterday's betting at the country race tracks—$8,947,344 by 199,418 persons—was the second largest on record. It is topped only by the $10,326,027 wagered Memorial Day.

Dean's Service Nips Hemphill-Wells 5-3

Ed Robertson and Phil Ragland ganged up on the Hemphill-Wells Cats Tuesday afternoon at Chapman field and pitched the Bill Dean Service nine to a 5 to 3 victory and undisputed possession of the junior baseball National league lead. It evened the season's series between the two teams.

Higginbotham singled in the first innning for the Cats, the second batter to face Robertson, and from there on, the Cats were held hitless. Higginbotham stole second and scored when Ragland errored on Cope's grounder. Dean's tied the score in the second inning, and iced away the game in the third with a four run splurge.

Bob Galey did the chunking for the Cats, holding the Deanmen to four hits, but suffered one bad innning that proved his downfall.

John Thomas Wins Over Armstrong

LOS ANGELES, July 5 (AP) — Twenty-one-year-old John Thomas battered his way to a unanimous 10-round decision and revenge last night in a furious encounter with former triple titleholder Henry Armstrong, 10 years his senior.

Last April Hammerin' Henry, who once wore simultaneously the feather, light and welterweight crowns, won a decision here over Thomas. He took seven rounds to Thomas' three. Last night, the count was reversed, Armstrong collecting only the first, seventh and tenth chapters.

Thomas delivered a circling barrage of jabs and uppercuts, piling up a big margin of points in the second, third and fourth rounds. There were no knockdowns. Thomas weighed 130, Armstrong 139¼. Both are Los Angeles fighters.

War Bond Ring Shows Staged

Former Champions Are On Program

SAN ANTONIO, July 5 (AP) — Three former world's champions took part in a huge Independence Day benefit boxing show here last night, while undefeated Army and Navy champions tangled in the main display of fistic fireworks.

Al Hostak, former middleweight champion and present Texas light-heavyweight titlist, fought Tom Attra, former national Golden Gloves light-heavyweight champion, in a three-round exhibition, and Fritize Zivic, ex-welterweight king, boxed New England's amateur welterweight champion Eddie Bang. Bob Pastor, one-time light heavyweight champion and leading heavyweight contender, refereed the main events.

One Knockout Scored

Only one knockout was scored during the evening, Joe Marino, former Golden Gloves titlist from Ohio, scored a technical knockout over Herbert Prewitt, of Randolph field, in the third round of their three-round fight.

Dick Jackson, Navy fighter from Houston, decisioned Billy Grombacher, Camp Normoyle, in the main event.

NEW ORLEANS PUNCHER KNOCKS OUT TEXAS CHAMP

GALVESTON, July 5 (AP) — Manual Villa, the welterweight champion of Texas, was knocked out last night in the ninth round of the huge war bond show here by belting Pat Saia of New Orleans, who taught the rugged El Paso Mexican that he was more than a rugged puncher at all times.

Saia, a southpaw, who has beaten some of the best welterweights in the game, dropped the tough Mexican with a lethal left in the third for a count of six.

BERGSTROM ALL-STARS WIN

AUSTIN, July 5 (AP)—Bergstrom field all-stars last night defeated Austin all-stars to win the annual July 4 American Legion softball tournament here. Bergstrom got into the finals by defeating Randolph field Monday night.

Villa rallied after this trip to the canvas and appeared to be a bit ahead in the brawl until Saia lowered the boom on him in the ninth. Saia started with a left hook and almost knocked Villa through the ropes. He then followed up with at least a half dozen killing punches and the Mexican took the count.

The war bond show netted approximately $12,000,000.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says every day this world is becoming a more hazardous place for an innocent bystander.

TODAY'S POME

The candidates feed the voters hokum,
But they never can feed 'em enough to choke 'em!

THE Plainsman has neither desire, inclination, nor reason to criticize the recent action of the Roosevelt administration in breaking off diplomatic ties with Finland.

In the first place, we don't know anything about international relations.

In the second place, we're willing to take the word of the administration that it is best for us to sever our ties with Finland.

And, in the third place, it is extremely doubtful that the final break in ties meant anything, anyhow. For months our diplomatic connections with Finland have been little more than theoretical.

The rank-and-file of Americans, we think, are content to let Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hull run their international affairs as the two men see fit and without any prompting on the public's part. We agree with the position of the rank-and-file.

The break with Finland, however, proves that war, as well as politics, makes strange bedfellows.

Before the outbreak of the current global war, the people of this country had more admiration for the Finnish government and people than for any other European group. The reason was readily apparent. Of all the nations to whom we gave financial support during World War I, Finland was the only one that was honest about paying us back. Small in numbers and poor in resources, the Finns never-the-less lived up to their obligations, thereby shaming the chiselers of the larger, richer nations. By their actions, the Finns earned our respect.

Therefore, when the Russian-Finnish hostilities first broke out, the American people preponderantly were "for" the Finns. Many still are, although to say so isn't very popular in some quarters these days.

BUT time has partially erased from the memory of the American public the financial welshing on the part of other nations following World War I.

Expediency—and no doubt well grounded expediency—has bracketed us again with Britain and France. It also has placed us in the same bed with Russia, whose then and current dictator for years dispatched to our shores all sorts of scummy people to "bore from within;" to foment trouble and to urge outright revolution against the American government.

In fact, it is largely because both Russia and we are fighting the Germans that the U. S. has broken with Finland. This in spite of the fact that the Finns are not fighting us and the Russians are not fighting the Japs, who are fighting us.

We're perfectly willing to accept the Roosevelt-Hull policy as regards Finland just as it has been presented to the American public.

If they say Finland is now governed by a Nazi puppet regime, we're willling to believe it. If they say it is to the best interests of the U. S. to believe that, too.

But it would be interesting to get, if such were possible, the innermost thinking of every "garden variety" American citizen regarding Finland and Russia.

Would the majority say they respect and trust Finland more than Russia, the Finns more than the Russians? Or would it be the other way around now that the Russian contribution against the common enemy, Germany, has been so necessary and so great?

We wouldn't be able to answer these questions with any degree of finality.

Neither would any other living person, because the underlying facts are not known.

But they are questions interesting to contemplate.

That Man on Avenue Q says in the case of many a person, the periods of first and second childhood overlap.

* * *

A physician reports there has been an increase in bowlegs among young women.

Perhaps this is a result of the current feminine craze of loading oneself down with costume jewelry!

DON'T ever let anybody tell you that the American public is not religious. It is—and deeply so. The rank and file of us may not act like it most of the time, but when the going gets the toughest nearly all of us realize the necessity of looking above our own ranks for divine support and solace.

The Plainsman has just finished studying the front pages of 42 newspapers, all published on June 6, 1944—D-Day. Of the 42, 30 gave varying degrees of space to prayer and church meetings held on D-Day.

These 42 papers represent every section of the country and cities of every size—from the smaller daily publications to the very largest. Some of the 30 which included the religious angle in reports on the home front's observance of D-Day published prayers of their own—as did The Avalanche-Journal. Still others presented supplications written by eminent divines residing in the cities where the papers are published.

Some of the papers fully reported, as did The Avalanche-Journal their local services—just as they reported other news events of the day. Some used small headlines over their religious angle stories, others large ones. The Charleston, W. Va., Mail, for instance, gave the local church story a three column headline. So did the Boston Traveler.

Of the 12 papers which had no religious mention on their front pages, at least five had some reason for not being with the majority. The invasion caught the Des Moines, Ia., Register, with a state election on its hands. The Flint, Mich., Journal, the Kannapolis, N. C., Independent, the Oskaloosa, Ia., Herald, and the Inglewood, Cal., Daily News, all had "trick layouts," with "simulated" photographs prepared in advance and apparently did not anticipate the interest in the religious angle of the great story.

Editors of seven of the 42 appeared to have "missed the boat" entirely—since their D-Day pages had space, filled by less generally interesting items, in which the religious angle of the story might better have been played. They were the gentlemen in charge of the Oklahoma City Times, the Chicago Sun, the Reno, Nev., State Journal, the San Antonio, Tex., Evening News, the St. Paul, Minn., Dispatch, the Portales, N. M., Daily News, and the Peoria, Ill., Morning Star.

Since undoubtedly more Americans prayed on D-Day than on any other day in the nation's history, the religious angle of the invasion story was one which touched practically every person of more than tender years.

Therefore, the angle was one which drew the attention of the nation's more alert editors.

AS even those outside the newspaper business well know, newspaper space on D-Day was at a higher premium than it has ever been—or will be until the Day of Victory.

Newsprint is sharply curtailed and on D-Day there was a tremendous over-supply of news.

Therefore, when editors took front space for the religious angle it was not because they, as individuals, necessarily were religious men. It was because they knew the religious angle was of top news interest and, as such, deserved precious space.

The prominence given prayer and religion on the nation's D-Day front pages stands as mute testimony, we think, to the fact that nearly all Americans are religious.

Millions who do not wear out church pews on Sundays—along with other millions who do—are bound together by an invisible bond of prayer upon more occasions than most of them may imagine.

SERVICEMEN are to get their old jobs back at the war's end. That's right and good. But that is only part of the story.

What is to be done about jobs for the women who, because of the war, can no longer count on a husband or son for support? What of the woman whose husband is killed? Will there be a job for her?

MILLETT

What of the wife who is married to a man who through some physical injury or war-induced psychoneurosis is not able in ordinary times to be the sole support of his wife and children, but who will need help with the responsibility? Will his wife be sure of a job?

What of the wives of men who come back home unwilling to go on with a settled life, who, to put it bluntly, desert their families? Will their wives be sure of a place where they can earn a living?

What of the widowed women, getting on in years, who lose the sons who have been their support? Will they get jobs, even though they are older than women employers like to hire in ordinary times?

The war is going to force many women, who once were taken care of, to earn their own livings in the post-war world. What is going to happen to them?

DECIDE NOW

ARE they going to get special consideration when jobs are scarce again? Or will they just be included with women as a whole, who will surely be told—for they are already being warned of it—that women's place is in the home?

Unfortunately a woman's place can't be in the home unless there is an able-bodied man to support her. Let's start worrying now about what is to become of such women. It is high time, with all of the talk that is going on about the necessity for women's giving up their jobs as soon as men are ready to take them over.

"If you'll quit eating before you have enough, you will always have an appetite," asserts a physician. Perhaps so, but who wants to go around hungry all the time?

Today's Journal Editorial

DON'T LEAVE IT UP TO "GEORGE"!

The next three days are going to decide whether the people of Lubbock county maintain their record of never having failed to meet a quota in a War Loan drive.

Starting tomorrow morning and working through Friday, several hundred men are going to carry the appeal in behalf of the Fifth War Loan drive to as many individuals as they can. More than a half million dollars in Series E bonds must be bought by Saturday if the county's quota is to be reached.

Will patriotic people of the county reach this goal? We believe they will. Almost everyone believes they will. And, in this very feeling of confidence may lie the biggest danger to the success of the drive.

Because the county's record has been so outstanding in previous campaigns, too many of us may have the notion that the quota will be reached in this one without our help. Too many of us may adopt the attitude of, "Let George do it." If that happens, we may discover after the drive ends that Lubbock county has failed. We may have made a record of failure which will seem to proclaim: "Lubbock county thinks more of its dollars than of the lives of the boys in the innumerable Over Theres throughout the world."

People of Lubbock county do not want to fail in a matter of this kind. They aren't that kind of people. Nor is there any reason why they should fail. They have the money not merely to meet this quota. They could over-subscribe it many times over, and still have money in the bank. It simply is a question: Do they think more of their money than they do of the lives that their money might save?

So, when called upon to do your part, don't pass the buck. Don't wait for "George" to do it because, if too many of us do that, the job won't be done.

Remember, too, that outstanding records in previous drives won't put this campaign over.

It will take dollars to do that—many dollars, your dollars and mine. Let's take them out of hiding and send them to war.

Stalin Sure Of Post-War Allied Unity

Russian Says German Socialism Unlikely

Wants Poles To Form Government Of Own

Seeks Friendly, Not Communistic, Poland

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two columns describing Premier Stalin's views on Polish-Russian problems, and on other phases of Soviet co-operation, as expressed in his interviews with Prof. Oscar Lange and Rev. Stanislaus Orelmanski.)

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Stalin's interview with Prof. Oscar Lange, of the University of Chicago, Polish-American leader, lasted two hours and 20 minutes, during which the strong man of Russia sipped tea and smoked an endless chain of cigarettes. Present at the interview were Foreign Commissar Molotov and Secretary Pavlov of the Foreign office.

It is considered significant that Polish Premier Mikolajczyk, during his recent visit in this country, spent considerable time with Professor Lange, who had recently returned from his talk with Stalin. It is believed that the Lange - Mikolajczyk conferences in Chicago, together with those the Polish premier had with President Roosevelt in Washington, have had much to do with the reported favorable trend of Polish-Russian relations recently.

PEARSON

However, Stalin did not talk only about Poland. At one point, he was asked about the danger of Anglo Soviet-American harmony breaking up. His reply was that he was not worried.

"This alliance is not built merely on an agreement between three men," Stalin said. "It is the result of a deep and compelling fundamental community of historical interests. It is assured by the fact that we all need each other. As one of your American statesmen once said, 'If we do not all hang together, we will hang separately.' So I am confident that, despite minor disturbances and occasional irritiations, our friendship will continue and will assure peace to the post-war world."

SOCIALISTIC GERMANY DEEMED UNLIKELY

STALIN was also asked about the chances of Germany becoming socialistic after the war. He replied that he did not believe that likely.

Foreign Commissar Molotov, however, expressed disagreement, pointing out that 5,000,000 anti-Nazi votes were cast in the last free election before Hitler came into power.

But Stalin argued back: "The cadres (meaning cells) of the rank and file of the German labor movement have been completely destroyed by fascism. The comeback of the German labor movement is a matter of one or two generations. Meanwhile, we can take no chance with Germany."

Stalin Becomes Emotional

When the subject of Hitler and the German atrocities came up, Stalin became emotional. He told how the Germans had burned villages, slaughtered children, destroyed everything they saw.

"How can you expect a people who have indulged in such sadistic brutal atrocities to be socialists or communists? They are murderous barbarians. Human beings never could do such ruthless, savage things."

During his conversations, Stalin frequently referred to Lenin, leader of the Bolshevik revolution. "I am only following in the path laid down for us by Lenin," he once remarked.

NO AMG FOR POLAND

REFERRING to Polish problems, the main subject in which both Professor Lange and Father Orlemanski were interested, Stalin stated categorically that there would be no AMG for Poland in the wake of Red Army advances.

(NOTE—AMG, or Allied Military Government, is the service largely trained at the University of Virginia, under the U. S. Army, to take over occupied areas after the advance of Allied armies.)

Stalin expressed deep distrust of the Polish officers trained by AMG in the United States, England and Cairo to re-establish Polish rule in re-occupied Polish territory. He described these men as bitterly anti-Soviet and almost pro-German.

"There will be no AMGOT rule in Poland," Stalin said, calling AMG by the name which was originally used but which was changed when the Allies discovered that "amgot" carried an unfortunate connotation.

"The Poles must form their own government," Stalin continued. "The Polish government must emerge from Poland itself."

ASSURANCE OF POLISH INDEPENDENCE

HE was told that many of the Polish people in Russia are now more radical than citizens of the Soviet. He said that this did not surprise him. The political feeling of the Poles, he said, approximated that of the Russians at the time of their revolution.

He said that, if the Polish people wanted to nationalize their industries and introduce substantial agrarian reforms, it would be a good thing. He added, however, that Russia had no intention of telling them what kind of a government they should have, or how they should run it.

"Interested In Peace"

"We are only interested in the future peace of Europe," Stalin said, "and in not having Poland used as a doormat over which an aggressor nation can walk to assail our country."

In this connection, he made a pledge considered most significant to Polish-American leaders—namely, that the Union of Polish Patriots would not be used to form the basis for a new Polish government. The Union of Polish Patriots is the organization of Poles formed inside Russia and working closely with the Soviet. It has always been suspected that the Soviet planned to construct a new Polish government, perhaps with communist leanings, using the Polish Patriots as a nucleus. But throughout his interviews, Stalin gave assurances that he was not interested in a communistic Poland, but that he was very much interested in a friendly Poland.

Ernie's Ack-Ack Crew Is Sure It Is The Best

By ERNIE PYLE
Special Correspondent

IN NORMANDY (By Wireless)—This ack-ack crew of mine is having its first taste of war. And after three weeks or so of it they feel that they are the best gun crew in the best battery of the best ack-ack battalion on the beachhead.

ERNIE PYLE

If would be close to impossible for a German bomber to pick out their position at night, yet this crew feels that the Germans have singled them out because they're so good. As far as I can learn, practically all the other crews feel the same way. That's what is known in military terms as good morale.

My crew consists of 13 men. Some of them operate the dials on the gun, others load and fire it, others lug the big shalls from a storage pit a few feet away.

Their Work Done At Night

These big 90-millimeter guns usually operate in batteries, and a battery consists of four guns and the family of technicians necessary to operate the many scientific devices that control the guns.

The four guns of this particular battery are dug into the ground in a small open field, about 50 yards apart. The gunners sleep in pup tents or under half tracks hidden under trees and camouflage nets.

The boys work all night and sleep in the daytime. They haven't dug foxholes, for the only danger is at night and they are up firing all night.

THE guns require a great deal of daytime work to keep them in shape, so half of the boys sleep in the forenoon and half in the afternoon while the other half work.

Their life is rugged, but they don't see the seamiest side of the war. They stay quite a while in one place, which makes for comfort, and they are beyond enemy artillery range. Their only danger is from bombing or strafing, and that is not too great. They are so new at war that they still try to keep themselves clean. They shave and wash their clothes regularly.

Their service section has not come over yet from England, so they have to cook their own meals. They're pretty sick of this and will be glad when the service boys and the field kitchens catch up with them. They eat 10-in-one rations, heating them over a fire of wooden sticks sunk into a shallow hole in the ground.

Sergeant Is Farm Boy

The sergeant who is commander of my gun is a farm boy from Iowa, and none of the crew are past their middle 20s. Only two of the 13 are married.

They have been overseas more than six months, and like everybody else they are terribly anxious to go home. They like to think in terms of anniversaries, and much of their conversation is given to remembering what they were doing a year ago today when they were in camp back in America. They all hope they won't have to go to the Pacific when the European war is over.

My crew are a swell bunch of boys. They all work hard and they work well together. There are no gold-brickers in the crew. As in any group of a dozen men, some are talkative and some are quiet. There are no smart alecks among them.

Only one man in the crew speaks French. That one has already made friends with the farmers nearby, and they get such stuff as eggs and butter occasionally. They have been promised some cickens, but it hasn't showed up yet.

ALTHOUGH the noise and concussion of their gun are terrific, they have got used to it and none of them wears cotton in his ears. They say the two best morale-boosters are the Stars and Stripes and letters from home.

My boys are very proud of their first night on the soil of France. They began firing immediately from a field not far from the beach. The snipers were still thick in the surrounding hedges, and bullets were singing around them all night. The boys like to tell over and over how the infantry all around them were crouching and crawling along while they had to stand straight up and dig their guns in.

It takes about 12 hours of good hard work to dig in the guns when they move to a new position. They dig in one gun at a time while the three others are firing. My gun is dug into a circular pit about four feet deep and 20 feet across. This has been rimmed with a parapet of sandbags and dirt until when you stand on the floor of the pit you can just see over the top. The boys are safe down there from anything but a direct hit.

They Hit Nazi Planes!

Their gun is covered in the daytime by a large camouflage net. My crew fires anywhere from 10 to 150 shells a night. In the very early days on the becahhead they kept firing one night until they had only a half a dozen shells left. But the supply has been built up now, and there is no danger of their running short again.

The first night I was with them was a slow night and they fired only nine shells. The boys were terribly disappointed. They said it would have to turn out that the night I was with them, would be the quietest and also the coldest they had ever had.

So just because of that I stayed a second night with them. And that time we fired all night long. It was indicated that we had brought down seven of the 15 planes we fired at, and the boys were elated.

Negroes Plan Test Of Georgia Rules

ATLANTA, July 5 (AP) — Negroes laid the basis for a court test of the Georgia "white" primary Tuesday when they were refused permission to participate.

They contented themselves with token efforts and left the polls without incident when the managers informed them their names were not on the lists.

The Democratic state executive committee several days ago announced that the state-wide primary today would be restricted to white voters, and instructed the election managers to refuse ballots to negroes.

A. T. Walden, leader of the State Association of Democratic clubs, an organization composed of negroes, announced that he planned immediately to seek a court test of the Georgia primary regulation.

Nazis Rolled Back

In other sectors along the entire front the Germans were being rolled back steadily against the outer fringes of the so-called Gothic line believed to extend from the mountains south of Rimini westward toward the Pisa-Livorno area.

French troops moved more than three miles north of Siena despite fierce resistance and many minefields. Seven miles to the east Eighth army units fighting through heavy rain captured the town of Castelnuova Berardegna.

In the mountainous area farther east the Germans fought fiercely to retain key positions peeded for safe withdrawal of main forces, who, the Allied spokesman declared, "sometimes are more eager to be captured than to continue fighting."

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP) — A heavy demand for wheat futures developed today when it was reported the Commodity Credit corporation had ordered the purchase of top grade cash wheat at prices six cents over the loan.

Prices advanced nearly three cents from the day's lows before the buying began to lag. Short covering and substantial commission house buying had caused an earlier rally after the market opened lower under pressure of hedge selling.

Rye futures advanced sharply and offerings dwindled with the report CCC was supporting wheat prices. Oats also responded with a sharp upturn.

Wheat closed 1¼ to 2 ⅝ cents higher than Monday's finish, July $1.58¼. Oats were 1⅞ to 2 cents higher, July 78½. Rye was up 1¾ to 2½, July $1.16-1.16½. Barley was 1½ to 2¼ higher, July $1.35½.

Stock Market

STOCK MARKET ADVANCES

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP) — Under the leadership of U. S. Steel the stock market today continued to advance on a wide front with dealings topping 2,000,000 shares.

Gains in pivotal industrials and rails in the final hour ranged from fractions to around 2 points, and prices on average were at the highest mark since October, 1937.

Big steel set the pattern for the bullish surge with a 5,000 share opening transaction at 62, up a full point. Other steels, motors, rails, gold mines and specialties moved along with the leader in the early proceedings and after a brief recession the advance was renewed with coppers, communications, air transports, and industrial blue chips as added starters.

Transactions for the five hours were the largest since June 16 at approximately 2,400,000 shares.

U. S. Steel at its best was up nearly 2. Sizable gains also went to Republic, Crucible, Chrysler, Willys-Overland, U. S. Rubber, Oliver Farm, American Can, Johns-Manville, Anaconda, American Smelting, Kennecott, Atlantic Coast Line, M. K. T., Great Northern, Dome Mines and Homestake.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 5 (AP) — Cotton futures closed very steady here today 61.75 to 62.40 a bale higher and the market made seven-year highs. Most of the buying resulted from inflationary talk and private reports on acreage of under 26,000,000 acres for the coming season.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP) — Expectations of higher ceilings, an increase in the Commodity Credit Corp. selling price for government owned stock, and private forecasts of a low government acreage report rallied cotton futures into new seasonal high ground today.

Aggressive trade and commission house buying met only scaleup profit taking and liquidation.

A renewed burst of commission house and trade buying in the final hour, coupled with a scarcity of offerings lifted values to the best levels of the day.

Futures closed $1.35 to $1.95 a bale higher.

REINFORCEMENTS REPORTED

LONDON, July 5 (AP)—Berlin radio said today U. S. forces in Normandy had been reinforced with the 83rd infantry division landing from Britain. There was no Allied confirmation.

Garnets are used in non-skid, fire-proof mats for battleship decks to prevent slipping accidents.

Fighter Pilot Gets 28th Plane Today

A. U. S. EIGHTH AIR FORCE Fighter Base In Britain, July 5. (AP)—Lt. Col. Francis Gabreski of Oil City, Pa., became the top scoring U. S. Army Air force fighter pilot today by shooting down his 28th plane near Evreux, France.

This latest victory for the Thunderbolt pilot came after he drew a blank yesterday when his flight failed to sight a German plane.

Two other American fighter pilots, Maj. Robert S. Johnson of Lawton, Okla., and Maj. Richard I. Bong of Popular, Wis., have shot down 27 enemy planes apiece. Gabreski's 28th plane was a Messerschmitt-109.

He previously had made up his mind to shoot down 28 German planes before accepting a 30-day leave to return to the United States to marry Kay Cochran of Grand Rapids, Mich., whom he met in the Hawaiian islands three years ago.

Unrest Is Spreading In Central America

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, July 5. (AP)—Unrest was reported spreading today through the Central American republics of Honduras and Nicaragua, and information available here indicated the presidents of both may have resigned.

A dispatch from El Salvador to the Costa Rican newspaper Prensa Libre said Gen. Tiburcio Carias Andino, president of Honduras, already had quit, delegating his powers to Vice President Abraham Williams. The Salvadorean radio announced later a passive resistance movement had sprung up in Nicaragua against President Anastasio Somoza. Nicaraguans here said his resignation was expected momentarily.

The causes of the unrest in Honduras and Nicaragua were not immediately apparent.

(A dispatch from Tegucigalpa to the Associated Press in New York, yesterday's only direct word from Honduras, reported demonstrations in many cities but said "there were no events to be regretted.")

Reports Spain Aided Robot Trials Denied

LONDON, July 5 (U.P.)—Reports that Germany tested her robot bombers in Spain, with the aid of the Spanish government, before turning them loose against England were denied by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today.

"The Spanish ambassador has just informed me they are absolutely untrue," Eden told Commons in response to a question about the reports, which were published in the British press and broadcast by the Moscow radio.

Eden said he had received no official communication from the Russian government charging Spanish cooperation with the Germans in developing the robot bombs.

He added that he had made inquiries through British sources in Madrid and was "absolutely satisfied" that the reports were untrue.

Fire Threatens Home Of Teddy Roosevelt

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—Priceless relics of Theodore Roosevelt were saved today when fire broke out in a garage on the Sagamore Hill estate of the late president and spread to the main house, damaging a wing of the mansion.

Firemen fought the blaze for more than an hour, confining it to a section of the home away from where the Roosevelt mementos are kept.

The Long Island home was unoccupied. Mrs. Roosevelt, widow of the 25th president, was reported vacationing in Connecticut.

Battleship Skipper Made Honorary Texan

AUSTIN, July 5 (AP) — Capt. Charles A. Baker, skipper of the battleship Texas which participated in the European invasion has been made an honorary Texan by Governor Coke R. Stevenson.

Baker is a resident of Washington, D. C.

The governor's proclamation gave Baker honorary citizenship as of July 1.

REVENUE DEFICIT LOWER

AUSTIN, July 5 (U.P.)—Deficit of the state's general revenue fund today was $2,699,865 after Treasurer Jesse James issued a call for warrants drawn on the fund through May 30, amounting to $785,687. The fund's deficit a year ago was $23,050,416.

CAT MOTHERS FOXES

CHANUTE, Kas. (AP) — Clayton Ward, fox rancher, advertised for a mother cat with new born kittens or a small dog with new born puppies. From more than 30 offers, he finally chose a maltese cat to nurse three fox puppies whose mother was suffering from mastitis.

Jones' Statement

pate in the national convention, should cooperate in making this possible and simple."

One of the resolutions to which he referred, said Jones, "is that, upon failure of the national convention to restore the two-thirds rule, the electors named by the Texas convention, if elected in November, are morally obligated to vote for someone other than the nominee of the party.

"In this circumstance people who want to vote for the party nominee will have no way of doing it.

"The other resolution is that if the national convention should seat delegates from Texas other than those named by the Texas convention the electors are instructed not to vote for the nominee of the party, but for some other Democrat.

Will Not Be Operative

"However this will not be operative if the national convention seats only the delegates named by the Texas Democratic state convention.

"It must now be obvious to the thousands of Texas voters who did not participate in the state convention, as well as to some who sat in the councils of that convention, that the effect of its action was to change the rules of the game as we have always known them in Texas, or indeed, as we have known them since this country settled down to the two-party system."

Consideration Urged

Jones said that "the situation growing out of the action of the state Democratic convention warrants close examination and consideration by every Democrat of the state.

"No one has contended that the convention lacked the support of the majority of its delegates. No one has even suggested that its proceedings were other than regular."

"There is, however, reason to question the wisdom of some of the convention's action. On reflection, there is good reason to believe that the convention—acting in the heat of political controversy, as such bodies so often do—went much further than many of those participating in the deliberations realized at the time. The bolters at Austin did not help the situation, but that fact does not excuse extreme measures by the majority.

Rights Not At Issue

"The right of the Texas Democratic convention to express its feeling by resolution is not at issue. That right is assured in the Constitution by the guarantees of freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, and the right of petition.

"Again, Texas Democrats cannot be criticized for instructing their delegates to the national convention to work for the things that, in their opinion, should be in the party platform. Especially does this apply to the restoration of the two-thirds rule. Through the operation of this rule, southern Democrats—the Solid South—were, in the past, accorded the influence in the party's deliberations to which their consistent loyalty to Democratic party principles entitles them. Without it, they are deprived of the place at the party's council tables they justly deserve.

"The widespread southern desire for the restoration of the two-thirds rule could not affect President Roosevelt. The President obtained his first nomination under the two-thirds rule. Its retention would have had no effect upon his subsequent nominations, nor would the two-thirds rule, if applicable this year, serve in any way to prevent the overwhelming nomination of President Roosevelt as the party nominee."

Resolutions Adopted

Jones asserted that two resolutions adopted by the (regular) Texas convention (at Austin) "place the Texas convention above the national convention."

One of these, he said, "is that, upon failure of the national convention to restore the two thirds rule, the electors named by the Texas convention, if elected in November, are morally obligated to vote for someone other than the nominee of the party. In this circumstance people who want to vote for the party nominee will have no way of doing it.

"The other resolution is that, if the national convention should seat delegates from Texas other than those named by the Texas convention, if elected, are instructed not to vote for the nominee of the party, but for some other Democrat. However, this will not be operative if the national convention seats only the delegates named by the Texas Democratic state convention.

Wanted To Change Rules

"It must now be obvious to the thousands of Texas voters who did not participate in the state convention, as well as to some who sat in the councils of that convention, that the effect of its action was to change the rules of the game as we have always known them in Texas, or indeed, as we have known them since this country settled down to the two party system.

"The essence of the two party system is that the two major political parties shall meet in national convention, name candidates for president and vice president and enunciate a platform or charter of their belief. The Texas election laws, including the one under which the 23 electors were chosen by the Texas Democratic convention, were written in conference with the fact that for well over a hundred years the elected president of the United States has been a man chosen in national convention by one of the two major political parties. For voters who do not wish to support the nominees of the two major parties, provision is usually made on the ballot.

Right To Cast Ballot

"A qualified voter has a right to cast his ballot for the candidate of his choice. Yet many Texans are now threatened with the loss of this right. Voters of the state of Texas which gave President Roosevelt a greater majority in 1940 than came from any other state in the union may be prevented from voting for him in 1944 if he is the nominee of his party. In all, 840,151 Texans voted for President Roosevelt in 1940. A majority of these voters and many who have since qualified will in all probability want to vote for him or whoever may be the presidential nominee of the national Democratic convention.

"No political convention has the authority to deny a qualified voter the right to vote for any candidate he wishes to support, and as it appears today, Texas Democrats may be effectively prevented from casting their vote for the party nominees.

"The Democrats of Texas will insist upon their right to vote for the man of their choice for the high office of president in the November election. All Democrats, including those who participated in the Texas convention and who will participate in the national convention, should cooperate in making this possible and simple."

PRESSURE BELIEVED ON TEXAS DEMO LEADERS

AUSTIN, July 5 (AP) — Criticism by Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones of the state Democratic convention's action in only conditionally binding its delegates to vote for the party's presidential nominee today gave some weight to recent political talk here that pressure was being brought to bear upon the convention leadership to modify its position.

National Committeeman Myron Blalock of Marshall has been in the capital for several days, but he was not willing to comment on the purpose of his visit. He said he hoped to see Gov. Coke Stevenson.

Stevenson, Wirtz Silent

Neither Stevenson nor Alvin Wirtz, former undersecretary of the interior and a leader of the Texas pro-Roosevelt forces, would comment on Jones' statement. Blalock announced soon after the party rupture that resulted in two conventions and two rival delegations to Chicago that he hoped to bring about a compromise to heal the rift, but he has never indicated on what basis he sought a compromise.

One pro-Roosevelt leader who would not permit the use of his name noted that Jones' editorial followed much of the reasoning of the Roosevelt faction, which has argued that the convention's action could result in depriving party members of a vote for the presidential candidate.

An unanswered question was how the regular convention's delegation could go about modifying the instructions as contained in the convention's resolutions.

Going Will Be Rough, But We Shall Not Quit, Hitler Says

LONDON, July 5 (AP)—Adolf Hitler, in a second speech within a week, declared that "we shall not capitulate before any difficulty," but acknowledged that "enormous courage and strength of nerve are necessary to stand up in these times," Berlin radio said today.

His speech, not delivered to the German people, was reported by Nazi broadcasts, which said it was made to a meeting of the Reich's war production leaders. The time was not disclosed, nor was the text broadcast, Berlin giving only what excerpts it wanted to reach foreign ears.

Not since Jan. 30 has the German leader spoken directly to his people. He warned them then that they faced the "hardest task imaginable."

Just last Saturday night, the German radio reported a speech given by Hitler at the funeral of Gen. Eduard Dietl, Nazi commander in Finland, in which he sounded the same note of "difficult" situations facing Germany. The date and place of that address were not given.

Confers With Speer

A German Transocean broadcast recorded today by the Associated Press said Hitler received the production chiefs at his headquarters following a conference with Prof. Albert Speer, minister of munitions.

"This war cannot be judged on daily events," Hitler was quoted as saying. "In a battle of such historical extent a timely success or defeat does not make any difference. In this war of destiny for the German people everyone must fight and work for final victory.

"I know that enormous courage and strength of nerves are necessary to stand up in these times, but we shall not capitulate before any difficulty."

Lauds German Soldiers

Speaking of "the courageous German soldiers" at the front he asked:

"Should the German leadership which has been lucky enough to say for four years that we have had only successes now say that we will fail?"

In answer he said:

"No. We will triumph this time and in the end win this war."

Hitler asserted this war was not only one of soldiers "but also of engineers" and technicians. He said in this respect the Allies sometimes were as efficient and on rare occasions better than the Germans "but the German inventive spirit is on its way to regain the balance again."

Speer announced an increase in armament production which he said had "been achieved in spite of enemy air attacks." The extent of the increase was not mentioned.

News Briefs

When Harold Case, 14, son of L. R. Case of route 1 Lubbock, stopped his car at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night a mile east of Lubbock on Broadway's extension, more cars stopped than one—but after they had piled into each other. William J. Wilkerson, 51, of 304 Hub Homes in Lubbock was driving behind young Case, Miss Arie Elizabeth Howell, 20, of Star route Aspermont behind Wilkerson, and three cars bumped or got bumped. Wilkerson suffered slight neck and shoulder injuries, Miss Howell a minor head injury, members of the state highway patrol wrote into their records, further explaining that the juvenile's father was charged in the court of J. T. Inmon, justice of peace, with having allowed his minor son to operate a car without an operator's license.

German Canal Traffic Blocked For 10 Days

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, July 5. (AP)—RAF Mosquito bombers, carrying mines for the first time, blocked traffic in Germany's Kiel canal for 10 days in a swift, low-level attack on that "most heavily-defended waterway in the world" less than a month before the invasion of France.

Only one of the plywood bombers was lost from a single Mosquito squadron staging the attack May 12, the British air ministry disclosed today, estimating that "not less than 1,000,000 metric tons of cargo to and from overseas, and about half that amount of coastwise cargo were held up."

The canal connects the Baltic and North seas. The mines were sowed along a three and one-half-mile stretch at the Baltic end, and aerial photographs indicated that after a barge blew up in the waterway, more than 100 ships were halted in the Baltic.

The feat halted movement of Swedish iron ore and coal just when breaking of the ice had opend the season for peak traffic.

Light Carriers Built On Hulls Of Cruisers

WASHINGTON, July 5. (AP)—The Navy disclosed today that nine light aircraft carriers, built on cruiser hulls, have taken over a big and important tactical role in the war against Japan—protection for big carrier task forces.

"They have a deadly sting," reported the navy in revealing for the first time some of the duties to which the USS Independence, Princeton, Belleau Woods, Cowpens, Monterey, Cabot, Langley, Bataan and San Jacinto have been assigned.

"Airmen from a light carrier," the Navy continued, "join up with the larger air group from a big carrier to add a greater punch in a strike upon enemy shipping or islands.

"Or the light carrier's pilots assume the vital job of protecting the task force against enemy attack, thus freeing the larger carriers entirely to concentrate upon the mission of assault.

"Some of the interceptions accomplished by protective planes from the light carriers have been spectacular; entire formations of attacking Jap bombers have been shot down before they could even get within sight of the fleet."

Gen. Eisenhower

dust the supreme commander careened wildly along roads in France through many scenes reminiscent of the last war. Most of the time he was in exposed positions within easy reach of enemy fire. Twice German artillery barrages were laid down at points he had just left.

Six times he crossed a bridge plainly marked "bridge under fire." He ignored a helmet and wore only a felt cap.

General "Ike" decorated 26 men of the American First division. He examined flying bomb launching sites.

After flying over in an unescorted transport Saturday, the general spent the rest of the day conferring with Bradley. They discussed plans and objectives of the present attack on the western side of the Cotentin peninsula, and the admirable protection of the British flank.

Refused A Chateau

Eisenhower refused a chateau as trespassing on private French property, and slept in an improvised tent near Bradley's headquarters.

On Sunday Gen. Montgomery was surprised when he left church services in the field to find Eisenhower beside him. A study of the British sector followed, during which the supreme commander highly commented the British advance in the face of seven enemy panzer divisions.

Eisenhower also expressed his understanding for British troops who were anxious to get moving.

He emphasized that their past performances were far from thankless and were vital to the campaign and fully appreciated.

Few Troops Saw Him

Because of the speed maintained by his driver, Sgt. Alex Stout of Opelousas, La., few of the troops got a good look at the supreme commander, but wherever he went their eyes and yells followed him.

Sometimes the Tommies surpassed the Americans in the reception given him, but in most cases it was about equal.

The general would lean out of the jeep, wave at astounded and gaping troops and they would fumble between a salute and a wave.

"Did you see that?" they asked each other. "The old man himself."

But one negro sergeant topped them all with this crack to a road crew:

"Yeah, that's the general. Now let's get this road fixed before he comes back and tears his hide off."

The visit to Montgomery's headquarters ended with a lecture for the two generals on the new German Panther tank, one of which was captured intact by a crack British armored unit.

Bids On Textbooks Called For Oct. 9

AUSTIN, July 5. (U.P.)—Bids on textbooks for Texas public schools have been called for Oct. 9 by the state board of education, Director H. A. Glass of the textbook division of the education department said today.

The bids will be on 100 different types of texts, he said.

erupted into bloody fighting when the Americans launched an attack down the Carentan-Periers road. The doughboys advanced half a mile in an attack starting at noon yesterday.

Artillery Covering Advance

Each foot of the advance had to be covered with artillery. Swamps and canals channelized the fighting to the narrow area along the road.

On the Carentan - Tilly - Sur-Seulles sector of the front there was only patrol activity.

East of Gavrus at the butt of the Odon river bridgehead the Germans launched a night counterattack, but it was smashed by Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's big gun batteries. Another similar attack to the south three hours later also was smashed.

"The Germans have lost a large number of men killed and considerable numbers of tanks," the Allied supreme command said in describing the repulse of a long series of German counterattacks.

British Capture Verson

The British advance which captured Verson, two miles below Carpiquet and four miles southwest of Caen, encountered only light opposition. But to the north, where the Canadians captured Carpiquet, three miles west of Caen, the Germans resisted violently and beat back all attempts to capture the airfield.

Field Marshal Gen. Erwin Rommel had tanks dug in on a ridge overlooking the airfield. These tanks swept the field with fire and even rocket-firing Typhoons failed to dislodge them.

Latest reports from the front said the Canadians were fighting at close quarters for the airfield, which is only 300 yards south of the town which the Canadians now hold firmly.

Nazis In Dangerous Salient

However, the British-Canadian advance had placed the Germans north and east of Carpiquet in a dangerous salient where they may be cut off.

British warships standing off the coast supported the fighting in Caen area.

There was an upsurge in naval activity along the coast. After some days of inactivity German E-boats appeared again and tried to attack the eastern flank of the convoy route off Le Havre, but were beaten off in darkness.

British light coastal forces engaged two convoys around the channel islands and in one convoy of five German ships off St. Malo two were sunk by torpedoes and others damaged. Some British casualties were sustained.

Another convoy off the Isle of Jersey was driven inshore under the protection of shore batteries.

ors, but German flak brought down two of the medium bombers.

5,000 Planes Used

During the sweeping overnight operations, which climaxed a July 4 display of aerial might in which nearly 5,000 planes ranged over the continent yesterday, RAF Lancasters and Halifaxes pounded railway yards at Villeneuve St. Georges on the southeastern outskirts of Paris and at Orleans, 75 miles to the south.

The blows renewed a campaign—recently interrupted by bad weather—to disrupt the movement of enemy supplies and reinforcements to the Normandy battlefront.

Another formation of British heavies plastered launching ramps for flying bombs in northern France—the second heavy attack in less than 24 hours on the lair of the robot raiders which continued to drone across the channel during the night.

27 Planes Are Lost

Fourteen heavy bombers were reported lost in the attack on rail yards below Paris while 13 planes were lost in raids on the Ruhr and the rocketbomb nests and in minelaying operations. The Germans asserted 40 four-engined bombers were downed during the night.

Mosquitos and Bostons of the second tactical air force also ranged over France during the night, making what Allied air headquarters described as a record number of attacks on German communications.

Airmen returning from these forays said they had had the "best hunting" since D-day and declared they had shot up numerous locomotives and railway cars and bombed tunnel entrances despite sharp anti-aircraft fire.

Other light bombers attacked German reinforcements in the battle zone during the night.

Enemy Shipping Raided

RAF coastal command planes kept up attacks on enemy shipping off the French coast yesterday afternoon and last night. Beaufighters scored six hits on six small German vessels off Boulogne and Mosquitos damaged two minesweepers off Britanny.

Allied planes crossed the channel this morning at intervals and English coastal residents frequently heard explosions on the French side. The weather over the battle area, while improved, still was not conducive to the best aerial operations.

A tally of yesterday's operations, still incomplete, listed 15 Britain-based Allied planes, including two heavy bombers, lost against not less than 23 German planes shot down, 17 of them by American Thunderbolts in a 15-minute dogfight over a Nazi air field in France.

Texas Holidays Cost 12 Lives

(By The United Press)

At least 12 persons met violent deaths in Texas over the four day, July 4 holiday period, a United Press survey showed today.

Traffic accidents claimed six persons—more than half of the total—while three persons drowned, one burned to death, another died from heat prostration and another was struck by a train. All but one of the deaths occurred in North Texas.

The three drownings happened yesterday. Roberta Ellen Smith, 14, drowned in a stock tank at her home near Arlington; Ansel McWilliams, 18, of Irving, was drowned in Lake Dallas near Denton, and a 29-year-old negro guide at Caddo lake, Edward Lewis, was either drowned or burned to death in attempting to snuff out a fire which destroyed a motorboat on the lake. The negro was burned in combatting the flames, then jumped overboard.

Dies Of Injuries

Victims of traffic accidents were Frank Newcomb, 33, of Denison, who died of injuries received Monday when a Katy freight train hit his truck on the road between Denison and Denison dam; J. L. Welborn, Max Stavinsky and Eddie R. Tosch of Dallas, all killed in accidents around Dallas; Ben Catching of Paris, struck by a bus near Rockwall, and S/Sgt. Louis L. Lusk of Gallatin, injured fatally when his motorcycle collided with a truck near Gallatin.

Burned to death was Charles B. Claghorn, 40, of Dallas, who died when flames destroyed his trailer home early yesterday.

Major E. Turner of Houston was killed when struck by a train in Houston, and Alfred L. Van Deren died of heat prostration in Dallas.

Easing Of Air Travel Control Is Predicted

HOUSTON, July 5 (U.P.)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, president of Eastern airlines, predicted today that priority on air travel may be "a thing of the past" by next summer.

Airlines by the early months of 1945, Rickenbacker said, should be able to return to a "nearly normal" schedule of flights because the armed forces are releasing more airplanes every month for commercial purposes.

"By next summer, priorities will be nearly eliminated, or quite possibly a thing of the past," said Rickenbacker, America's top air ace of World war 1. He said the prediction was based on the assumption that the present favorable trend of the war would not be reversed.

Rickenbacker believed that despite the nation's "air consciousness" at least 10 years would be required to fulfill the bright prophesies of "an airplane in every garage."

Caen, France, was founded in the eleventh century by William the Conqueror.

Bartzen, Ray Annex Title In Doubles

ELIZABETH, N. J., July 5 (AP)—The Texas team of Bernard Bartzen, San Angelo, and Edward Ray, Sinton, today held the doubles championship of the Elmora invitation tennis tournament by virtue of their three-set win over Billy Smith, Orlando, Fla., and Glenn Bassett, Santa Monica, Calif. The score was 6-4, 8-6, 6-3.

In the singles finals, however, Charley Oliver, Perth Amboy, N. J., successfully defended the championship he won last year by defeating Bartzen—who last week copped the National Interscholastic tennis title—in a hard-hitting match, 6-4, 6-1, 9-7.

Oliver played a more accurate, steadier game with well-placed shots than did Bartzen, seeded second, who last week upset Oliver in the quarter-finals of the National Interscholastic tournament, also won by Oliver last year. In the final set, Bartzen led 7-6 when Oliver won his service, broke Bartzen's and held his own again.

Earlier in the day, Bartzen and Ray had eliminated Alan Watson, Short Hills, and John Riiheluoma, New York, 6-2, 6-2, to gain the doubles finals.

Pensive Finishes Out Of Money At Chicago

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP)—The little man who wasn't there caused no end of consternation yesterday at the Washington park track as Pensive, the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner, finished out of the money in the $59,350 Stars and Stripes handicap, won by Georgie Drum, once a West coast sellingplater.

The tiny absent gent, of course, was Jockey Conn McCreary, who has made a habit of shooting the prize three-year-old Pensive up from nowhere to cash and glory. McCreary, injured in an automobile accident virtually on the eve of the big holiday race, watched, with some 36,000 other spectators, as Pensive found the going too tough against a crowd of fleet oldsters and finished fourth.

George (Iceman) Woolf, imported from the East expressly for the race, brilliantly rode Georgie Drum to a one length victory over seven-year-old Equifox, which beat out Rounders by a length and a half for second. Pensive, touted as a stretch runner, appeared to tire in the closing drive and wound up seven and a half lengths behind the winner.

Big Housecleaning Job Scheduled This Summer At Capitol

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP) — "Freedom" at the United States capitol is going to get cleaned up this summer for the first time in five years. So are the 8,909,200-pound iron dome and part of the building — all for $40,000.

The bronze statue which has looked out over the vast political stamping ground of Capitol Hill from atop the dome for 81 years, will get a linseed oil bath.

And it will take 2,000 gallons of paint, seven weeks and 35 painters to do the job on the dome and central part of the capitol.

Lady Cost $23,796

Freedom, probably the only lady ever to get a 35-gun salute (at her dedication), stands 19½ feet high, weighs 14,985 pounds and cost $23,796.82.

But withal, she's one of the lesser worries of David Lynn, capitol architect, and Arthur (Gus) Cook, supervising engineer, bosses of the nation's number one housecleaning job.

This year the political campaign will complicate matters. Many offices normally vacant in summer will be in use throughout the congressional recess.

14 Acres Of Floor

But in the capitol itself there will remain to be cleaned 14 acres of floor, 430 rooms, 679 windows, 550 doorways plus 17,376 feet of skilights, 108 windows in the dome and 12 main staircases.

Gus, the nation's number one housekeeper, is a bachelor. But he probably knows more of the fine points of housekeeping than many a matron.

Gus' pet postwar project is new rubber mats to go under the spitoons, replacing those given the rubber drive.

Congressional tobacco-chewers (only a few left now) have "pretty good" aim, says Gus. But that doesn't mean a bull's eye ever time.
