

Navy Refinery Bosses Aim For Production

HOUSTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—Production is the first consideration in the 22 oil refinery plants in the gulf coast area, Lt. Comdr. F. A. Westphal, U.S.N., district officer in charge of the refineries, said today.

Commander Westphal reached Houston yesterday and is opening offices in the office of the inspector of naval material. With him is a staff of naval officers and enlisted personnel.

A naval officer will be stationed at each of the refineries Westphal said, and will be responsible to him for the operation of the plant.

The district which Westphal will supervise extends from the Mississippi river to the Mexican border. It includes 25,000 workers, and embraces approximately one-third the total membership of the international union.

More workers turned out for the morning shift today and the staffs at each of the units was close to normal, it was reported from the plants.

Maintenance men have been going over the units placing them in readiness for the operators to start up refining work. All Houston refineries are expected to be back in full production by the end of the week.

Plants seized in Houston include the Shell, Sinclair, Texas Company and Crown Central refineries, and the Sinclair and Texas pipeline companies. Houston representatives of the Oil Workers International Union (OIU) served notice that the fight for 30 per cent wages will continue through negotiations.

Meanwhile, in the great Permian Basin of West Texas and New Mexico pickets were stationed in some areas but drilling operations had not been curtailed.

In a statement released here last night, J. T. Goodwin, secretary of District No. 4 council, OIU, said the policy of the international union shall be to extend to the United States Navy representatives 100 per cent cooperation.

"The fight of the union against wage cuts and for the reduction of the work week shall continue," he said. "It is our contention that through the reduction of the work week with the same take-home pay that the returning veterans and war workers will have a greater opportunity for securing jobs which will insure decent living conditions."

At Odessa, local 413 of the OIU announced Saturday night that the drilling department of the local had voted a strike. At least 12 pickets hearing picketers were stationed in Ector and Winkler counties yesterday but M. W. Taggart of the Odessa American said drilling operations had not been hampered. A report from Midland, headquarters for 156 oil companies operating in the Permian Basin, said no oil rigs were shut down today although pickets were stationed at entrances of leases. Another report, from Upton county, said no strike had been called from there.

Negro Scout Leaders Plan For Expansion

Thirteen negro Boy Scout leaders and four executives attended a conference Saturday in the basement of the First Methodist church and made plans for increasing the scope and effectiveness of scouting for negro boys in this council. T. P. Fowler of Loraine and Rev. Williams of Sweetwater made reports on the Tyler Scout conference. Pete Harderman gave a report on the Sweetwater camp and Dr. Latham of Midland spoke on value of scouting for boys.

Local delegation included E. M. Watson, Oliver Reed and Rev. I. C. Campbell.

Lieutenant Killed In Head-On Car-Wreck

CHICKASHA, Okla., Oct. 8 (AP)—Lt. James H. Doolittle, leader of the first bombing raid on Tokyo, was fatally injured and three others were hurt last night in the head-on collision of two automobiles one-half mile north of Pocomet, Okla.

Howell died in Borden General army hospital here. Capt. W. W. Harris, Sheppard Field, Tex., was in a critical condition at the hospital.

Doolittle Hopes To Find Job In The Air

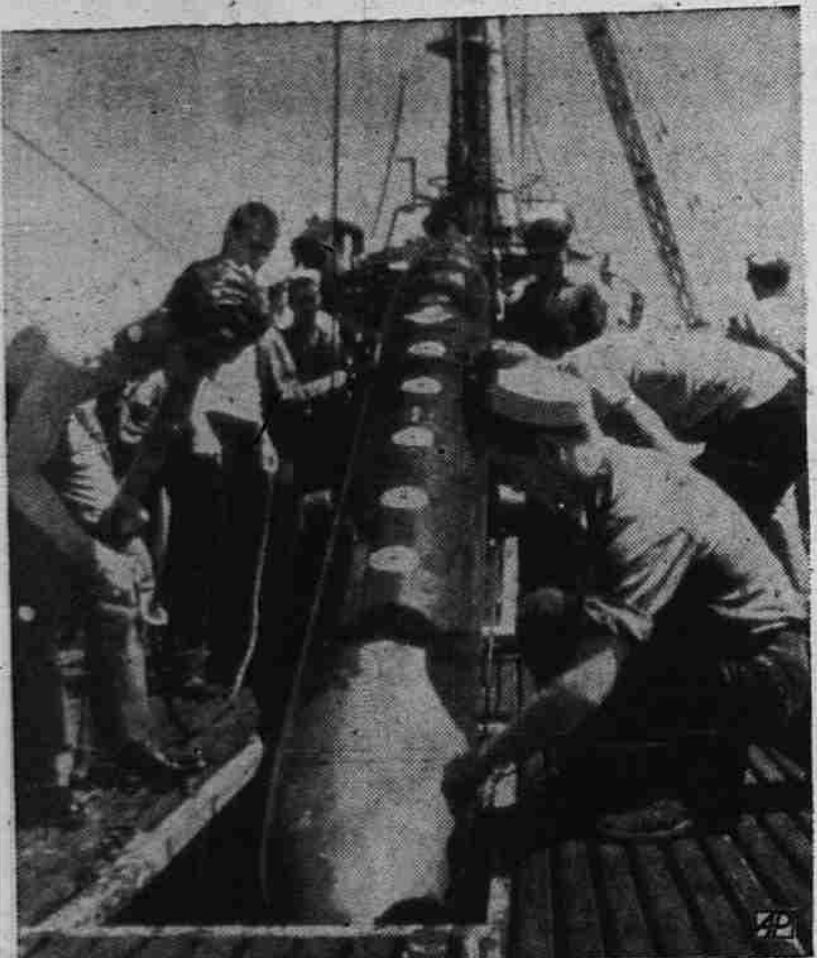

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 8 (AP)—Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, leader of the first bombing raid on Tokyo, says he will be leaving the army soon and is looking for a civilian job.

"It will be something in aviation—operation or production—but I don't know exactly what," he said at a press conference last night. "I've had some pretty good offers."

Gloomy Labor View Brightest In Weeks

By The Associated Press
The nation's labor picture, gloomy for weeks, takes on a brighter hue today as developments between labor and management pointed to a return of some 200,000 workers this week.

National attention was focused on Washington where Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach resumed efforts to bring about a compromise between John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and soft coal operators, to end a walkout and avert a nationwide coal strike.

There were definite indications that the strike lines, hitting a record high of some 580,000 last week, would drop to around 350,000 this week if back-to-work orders are obeyed. The strike in the coal mines is by far the major labor problem, with 163,000 miners out of some 600 pits.

Of the number slated to go back to work today were about 60,000 automotive workers in Detroit, including 50,000 employees in the Ford Motor plants; today this week, and 43,000 CIO oil workers.

The labor strife in Detroit's big industrial area appeared considerably eased as back to work movements at two strikebound auto and car parts-producing plants were expected to leave the motor city without a single major work stoppage for the first time in more than six weeks.

A strike at the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co., which has kept 4,500 off their jobs since Aug. 23 was declared ended by CIO Automobile Workers officials and they said members would be back to work today. With the promised return of the strikers, the Ford Motor company said it was recalling thousands of its workers and expressed hope all 50,000 could be called back in another week.

Lewis Absent At Government Try To End Walkout

Schwellenbach Hopeful Coal Workers Will Return To Jobs

By HAROLD W. WARD
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—John L. Lewis was absent today when conferences were resumed between bituminous coal operators and United Mine Workers in a government-sponsored effort to end a strike of 163,000 soft coal miners.

An associate said Lewis had a prior engagement which kept him from attending the morning session, but the miners' president was expected to join the conferences later today.

At issue is recognition for Lewis' foremen's union.

Lewis wants to talk with the operators about recognizing the union. But the operators say they won't talk until the strikers go back to work.

Schwellenbach called in both sides Saturday for a fill-in on the strike background.

He called them back today, hopeful he would be able to convince them that coal production is so essential that both Lewis and the operators will have to give ground.

The mine owners asked the union chief Saturday to halt the spreading work stoppages. But Lewis refused.

After the Saturday meeting recessed Schwellenbach indicated to reporters he thought the wage strike might be lessened by a clear-cut government pattern—and set out to fix one.

He said he would seek the aid of the War Labor Board, which now is a part of his department, in pushing through a test case involving a demand for a 30 per cent wage increase and an employer's request for a higher price to offset such a raise.

It is estimated by most unions that the loss in take home pay with the change from a 48-hour work week to a 40-hour week amounts to around 30 per cent.

Laval Said To Be Locked In Dungeon

PARIS, Oct. 8 (AP)—Pierre Laval was reported by court attendants to be locked in a dungeon beneath the Palais de justice today as the fourth day of his treason trial started late without the swarthy defendant on hand.

The former premier's lawyers consulted Judge Paul Mongibeaux and told him Laval refused to "associate myself with a judicial crime." Thus, the former Vichy chief of government was maintaining a decision he reached Saturday not to attend the trial for his life.

Part of the hour and 33 minutes delay, was caused by the absence of one of the resistance jurors, Jean Germain. He was replaced by one of the two remaining substitute jurors.

The main witness of the day, Gen. Doyen, was delayed in reaching Paris because his plane was fog-bound. This also contributed to the slow start.

Continuation of proceedings against the former Vichy chief of government hinged upon the appearance of 12 members of the parliamentary jury.

Parliamentary jurors already have begun to absent themselves to conduct personal political campaigns for the Oct. 21 election.

COL. BROWN KILLED

First Of The War Crimes—

Boastful "Tiger" Pleads Innocent

MANILA, Oct. 8 (AP)—Boastful Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, erstwhile "Tiger of Malaya," pleaded innocent of war crime today after his counsel said the American army had no case against him—and immediately the prosecution countered with a bill of particulars that accused the men of his command of 64 atrocities in the Philippines.

Torture, mutilation, and massacre of more than 25,000 non-combatant men, women and children, were listed.

The atrocities were not attributed to Yamashita himself. Since his trial, scheduled to begin Oct. 29, is to be the first of a round-the-world series involving war criminal suspects, the question of responsibility held by the imperial general for the war in the Philippines is being debated.

The 59-year-old "Tiger of Malaya" won one round and lost one at the start of his fight for life. Soft-spoken chief council Colonel Harry E. Clarke, of Altoona, Pa.,

Game Tied Up In Eighth Frame

WRIGLEY FIELD, Chicago, Oct. 8.—Hank Greenberg's seventh inning home run, his second of the series, climaxed a four-run rally and enabled the Detroit Tigers to deadlock the Chicago Cubs, 7-all, in the sixth game of the 1945 series.

The official paid attendance was 41,708, the receipts amounted to $204,531.

Both starting pitchers had long since been routed when Greenberg strode to the plate with the bases empty in the big seventh and deposited his blow over the left field barrier.

Claude Passeau, the starting Bruin flinger, had to retire in the sixth round when he tried to field a hot grounded off Jimmy Outlaw's bat with his bare hand and had the nail torn from his middle finger.

Tommy Bridges followed the Detroit starter, Virgil Trucks, in the sixth and in turn gave way to Al Benton in the midst of a 'Cub uprising in the seventh.

Greenberg's home run came on a 3-2 pitch after the Bengals had put together two hits, a base on balls and a miscue by Stan Hack for three tallies.

Hits by Hack and Phil Cavarretta had produced four Chicago runs in the fifth, George Carter stopping the rally.

The Chicagoans came back in the sixth to add to their advantage when Mickey Livingston doubled and Roy Hughes followed with a long blow that also went for two bases.

Three hits and as many walks enabled the Cubs to widen the gap in the seventh.

Year's Cotton Crop Estimate Below Norm

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—The agriculture department today estimated this year's production of cotton at 9,779,000 bales of 500-pound gross weight, on the basis of conditions on Oct. 1.

This estimate compared with 12,230,000 bales produced last year and with 12,293,000 bales for the ten-year (1934-43) average. The estimate a month ago was 10,026,000 bales.

The condition of the crop on Oct. 1 was reported at 70 per cent of normal, compared with 79 per cent a year ago and with 68 per cent for the ten year average.

The per acre yield was indicated at 260.7 pounds compared with 293.5 pounds a year ago and 231 for the ten year average.

Hess Reported To Be On Way To War Trial

LONDON, Oct. 8 (AP)—The British air ministry announced today that Rudolf Hess had left England in an RAF plane this morning for Frankfurt on the first leg of a journey to Nuremberg, where he will stand trial as a Nazi war criminal.

The erstwhile number two Nazi, who parachuted down on the Scottish moors in May, 1941, was driven from his place of detention to the airfield in a British army car with the blinds drawn.

Unshaven and impassive, Hess appeared much thinner than his most recent photographs.

Truman To Rest

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., Oct. 8 (AP)—President Truman left here by automobile today at 10:08 a. m. for Tiptonville, Tenn. He will rest near there for two days in the famous Reelfoot Lake area.

Three occupants of a twin-engine ambulance plane escaped injury last night when the craft made a forced landing in a muddy field five miles south of Garland.

Both wings were stripped off by trees and the ship was otherwise damaged when it plowed through power lines. The plane had carried a patient to Opelousas, La., and was returning to Dallas.

The occupants were J. C. Brooks, 38, pilot; John T. Ivy, funeral home operator and Ben Bradford, reporter for the Dallas News.

UNRRA Aid May Be Used To Free Shackled Press

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—A world free press drive shaped up today around President Truman's request to congress for $550,000, 000 for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

It took the form of a proposed ban against use of any of UNRRA's funds in foreign countries which do not accord free access to all news and do not permit freedom of the press as it is understood in the United States.

Speechmaking the drive for the free press requirement is Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio), a newspaper publisher.

Brown told reporters he would offer an amendment to accomplish his objective when the legislation carrying the new funds reaches the house floor, probably in several weeks.

Under Brown's plan a finding as to which nations would be ineligible for aid would be made by the head of UNRRA, now Herbert H. Lehmann of New York.

Brown said he believes it essential that a free press be guaranteed in European countries "so we can know from our own reporters, just what is going on and what our money is being spent for."

Too often in the past, he asserted, United States newsmen in some foreign countries have not been accorded the same access to news that native reporters have.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) said the appropriations committee will begin hearings on the UNRRA bill within a few days.

Mr. Truman's request for the funds was made in a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Women Picket Home Of Fort Worth Mayor

FORT WORTH, Oct. 8 (AP)—Mayor Roscoe Carnrike's home is being picketed by three women, employees of the Blynson-Okeefe Fireproof Storage company. The women, who had been picketing the city hall, yesterday moved to the sidewalk in front of the mayor's residence.

The mayor is president of the storage concern. The union employees have asserted they are picketing Carnrike to force the concern to recognize the union as a collective bargaining agent.

Three Escape Injury In Forced Landing

DALLAS, Oct. 8 (AP)—Three occupants of a twin-engine ambulance plane escaped injury last night when the craft made a forced landing in a muddy field five miles south of Garland.

Observers Predict It Unlikely To Survive

TOKYO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Aging, dapper Premier Kijuro Shidehara completed his "safe and sane" government for a hungry, restless Japan today, and planned the first meeting of his 15-man cabinet immediately, even before reporting its roster to the emperor—an unprecedented procedure.

Domei news agency said he would outline bluntly the headaches ahead for the government, which most observers say cannot survive more than a few months.

A brand new domestic trouble was added to Shidehara's burdens today—strikes. More than 6,000 Korean coal miners in the Yubari mine near Sapporo, Hokkaido, have struck. Domei news agency said, and the "unrest seems to be spreading" to an adjoining mine. Cause of the strike was not announced.

Marines Land In Tientsin To Help Troubled China

TIENTSIN, China, Oct. 8 (AP)—U. S. marines landed in force at three points on the shores of troubled North China yesterday to assist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek regain control over the last major area still dominated by Japanese.

While a force of 200 U. S. 7th fleet transports and warships stood off the Taku River bar, veterans of the First marine division, accustomed to "pay as you go" jungle warfare from Guadalcanal to Okinawa, took possession of Taku and nearby Tangku port facilities and moved progressively inland toward the famous treaty port and railroad hub of Tientsin.

At the same time, a smaller landing team from the Sixth division swept ashore at Chinwangtao, an all-weather port and outlet for the rich Kailan coal mines on the Gulf of Chihli.

Third amphibious corps headquarters, commanded by Maj. Gen. Keller E. Royce, Washington, D. C., made it plain that return of the marines to China was for the purpose of maintaining law and order and not to participate in internal disputes.

Tensions have mounted in this area of North China, where the Japanese have more than 250,000 troops supported by puppet forces who have been under their domination since the Marco Polo bridge incident touched off the Sino-Japanese war eight years ago. Chinese communist Eighth route army forces, while not in control of any major cities, have more than 35,000 troops camped in the country outside Peking and Tientsin.

Shidehara indicated a cautious start on his pressing problems by taking two and a half days to complete his cabinet. He told interviewers frankly that he had been out of domestic political affairs for so long that he would depend heavily upon political advisers.

Newly-rising liberal parties possibly can draw only slight comfort from the makeup of the new government, however. It is predominantly politician, observers noted—for the first time since 1937—and its liberalism probably does not extend to the more aggressive of the new parties.

Domei said one Allied order—to eliminate political or thought police—already is being met, and that "the nation's entire political police" has resigned, including 1,238 officers and key officials in the home ministry.

MacArthur meanwhile called for a full accounting of stocks and production of narcotics, asked a sweeping inventory of Japan's chemical industry, and allowed a 25-day period for completion of previously-ordered reports on health.

Resigned premier Prince Hiroshi-Kuni told newsmen today that the emperor's plans for the attack on Pearl Harbor had in general been known to Emperor Hirohito—but that the emperor had expected a formal declaration of war to precede the attack.

Forty Men Will Inaugurate Gift Fund Drive Here

Forty men, selected to serve on the special gifts committee, will officially inaugurate the Community Victory Chest fund drive here Tuesday.

G. H. Hayward, chairman of the special gifts committee, urged all workers to attend a kick-off session at 8 a. m. at the USO club Tuesday. After coffee and doughnuts, instructions will be given for the opening work, which Hayward hopes will not require more than a week.

Within a week, General Chairman R. R. McEwen hopes to launch the general campaign to cover individual givers in every section of the city and county.

Objective of the chest, which includes the National War Fund as well as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Salvation Army, is $29,760. Of the total $6,000 is earmarked for scouts, $3,000 each for Girl Scouts and Salvation Army in Big Spring.

The National War Fund embodies the USO, Seaman's relief, allied refugee relief, and a host of other humanitarian agencies operating under one financial structure. The funds raised this year for the National War Fund portion are for 18 months, when it is anticipated it will be liquidated.

Leaders' Training Course Set Monday

Scoutmasters training course is to begin at 2 p. m. Sunday in the basement of the First Baptist church, announced Rev. Dick O'Brien, training chairman of the Big Spring district, today.

The course runs for six indoor sessions and one outdoor meeting. Representatives are expected to attend from Coahoma, Knott and Forsan. It is a course for scoutmasters, assistants, troop committee men and other adults interested.

Tentative faculty set up includes Charles Watson, George Melear and Jake Morgan, troop committee; W. O'Brien, scoutmaster; W. D. Willbanks, scribe; Coley Anderson, songmaster; Rev. W. L. Porterfield, gamemaster; and patrol leaders, Cecil Nabors, W. D. Berry, Elra Phillips, Arnold Seydler, E. M. Watson and A. Ceniceros.

Vet Tries To Fan Dying Embers Of Bruin Hopes On Hill Today

By SID FEDER
CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (AP)—The sixth—and what could be the last—game of the Hank Greenberg baseball world series comes off in Wrigley Field on the north side of town today.

This is going to be one of the richest fall classics of them all by the time they finish counting noses at 12:30 p. m. (CST), but forgetting sordid finance for the moment, the accent right now on these Greenberg gaities is the possibility the Detroit Tigers might wind it up today, just because the big guy and his big bat are around.

They're going to go all out to do it, too, these Bengals, who've shown very little except an ability to produce hits and runs in one big spurge at any given moment.

The Tigers are sending out Virgil (Fire) Trucks, 4-1 winner of the second game, to pour in his blaze-ball in the hope he can pick up the whole pot today after the merry-go-round on which they grabbed the brass ring yesterday to go in front for the first time in the series.

Against him, the Chicago Cubs, trailing three games to two and desperate, are cutting Claude Passeau's vacation short after two days' rest in the hope the 36-year-old Mississippi tung-nut farmer can keep them in the series with a reasonable facsimile of his all-time series mound masterpiece of Friday, when he let the Tigers down with one hit, one base on balls and no runs.

And, they'll also probably have to use the uncertain Len Merullo at shortstop in place of Roy Hughes, who was hit on the ankle with a batted ball during pre-game practice yesterday.

But, whether it's Fire Trucks or Hal Newhouse, who was credited with yesterday's 8-4 victory, there's apparently no Tiger twirler going to do a thing unless Greenberg is effective up there on the firing line.

series' press headquarters last night, expounding on the three two-baggers the big guy busted yesterday, were trying to show how the Cubs might have won in four straight if he hadn't been on hand.

His three-run second game homer and his big hit knocking in the first marker in the game winning rally Saturday accentuated their talking point. He's also topping the series swatters at the moment with a .375 mark.

Furthermore, he's murder in the clutches—with men on base. Twelve times, he's wheeled out his cannon with "ducks on the pond." Ten of those 12 times, he's gotten "on" in one way or another, knocking in five runs.

On the other hand, his turn to pull the trigger turned up eight times with the bases empty. And on those eight occasions, he's hit only once.

He was the head man again yesterday in getting "hunk" on Hank Borowy, who blanked the Bengals 6-0 in the series opener last Wednesday. All told, he chipped in with those three doubles, knocked in one run, and scored three more.

This has been one of the sillier series, bouncing from the sublime to the ridiculous so fast and regularly Gus Fan and the missus are now about to the point where they're figuring they're seeing baseball ballet and burlesque on the same stage at the same time. The Detroit defenses have been "out-outfielded and infielded" in the first five games. Their catching has been mad, and if their pitching is any better than the other guys', the Cubs are no worse than a photo finish.

But through it all, there's been Hank and his hammer up there to straighten matters out. Through the first 36 innings of this scramble, the American league league larruppers scored in just two frames—each time collecting four runs.

Steers Oppose Sooners, SMU Faces Okags

The Southwest conference, whose international record is nothing to brag about, hardly will improve it this week although four of the five games are with teams from other areas.

In the headliner—the annual Texas-Oklahoma tussle at Dallas which is due to draw 30,000 or more—the Southwest's representative will be a top favorite. But in two other intersectional tilts, there appears no chance of a victory and the fourth game is little better than even money.

Southern Methodist, humiliated by a 10-7 defeat from twice-beaten Missouri, and Rice, defeated by a Northwestern University team that Texas virtually ran out of the park, play Oklahoma A. & M. and Tulane respectively.

Oklahoma A. & M. is one of the top teams of the country. It holds decisions over Arkansas and Denver. SMU meets Oklahoma A. & M. at Oklahoma City Friday night with a record of one victory over a weak Blackland Army Air Field eleven and defeats from Corpus Christi Naval Air Station (crushed 35-7 last week by Jacksonville Naval Air Station) and Missouri.

Tulane opened the season last week by playing a good Florida team to a 6-6 draw. Rice has lost three straight, one of them being a 42-0 drubbing from Louisiana State.

Texas A. & M., unbeaten in three games, faces veteran Louisiana State at Baton Rouge Saturday night. LSU was turned back 26-7 by Alabama last week while A. & M. was triumphing over Oklahoma 19-14. The Aggies may rate a light nod in this game.

But should Texas and A. & M. come through the conference's intersectional record still would be only 50-50. Thus far this circuit won three and lost three.

The other game on the conference schedule for Saturday matches Arkansas with Baylor. It's a family tussle with Arkansas due to improve its title chance. The Razorbacks opened the conference last week by trimming Texas Christian 27-14 and looking very impressive while so doing. Baylor, which lost to TCU 7-6 in its conference opener, rested last week.

Texas enlarged its stature as championship favorite last week when it bounced Texas Tech 33-0. Tech was the team that beat Southwestern, conqueror of Rice, and gave Texas A. & M. a battle before falling 16-6. Oklahoma goes to Dallas Saturday with a record of two victories and one defeat. The Sooners beat Hondo Army Air Field and Nebraska before stumbling against Texas A. & M.

Texas Christian does not play this week.

Looking Em Over

With ANGUS LECESTER
Back to the Minneapolis baseball club of the American Association in 1946 will go Sgt. Pat Stasey, if the USAF doesn't insist on renewing its option on his services through next spring.

Patrick, the most popular player to ever carry local colors into the professional ranks, is here visiting his attractive wife, Beatrice, from Fort Worth where he is currently crewing AT's for the Training Command.

Stasey's last year in pro ball was 1942, when he outlit the veteran Joe Vosmik to win the club batting championship with a margin of .308.

Known throughout the WT-NM circuit in 1939 as a long ball hitter, Pat eased up when he reached AA ball to attain more finesse as a steady puncher. He collected only one round tripper in '42 and that at the expense of one of the league's best tossers—Ted Wilks of Columbus, who later was a Cardinal.

After being called to service, Stasey played considerable ball at Liberal, Kas., where he starred with a batting mark of something like .345 for the 1943 campaign. He enjoyed even better success in the Kansas State Semi-Pro tournament that year, tearing the cover off the ball with a .348 mark.

Mike Moore, who himself wore Uncle Sam's khaki until recently, tells us that Pat Ramsey, another ex-Big Spring fly chaser, is now in China with the air forces.

Representing the town at the World Series this year is E. B. Dozier, the local bowling lanes impresario.

Odesa football fans will soon be greeting Joe Coleman, the head football coach at the Ector county capital's high school, who has been on leave for several years. When Joe departed the job for the service, he checked it to the very capable Clayton Hopkins.

Dana X. Bible, head grid mentor at the University of Texas, is now in his 34th year as a coach. Thirty-three of those have been spent as head man of a senior college eleven. In years past, he tutored the game at Mississippi College, LSU, Texas A&M and Nebraska.

Those of the sporting gentry who think that Jessie Owens, the great track star of the 30's, is in bad financial straits because he apparently can find nothing more profitable to do than test his still blazing speed against that of a race horse, and that as an added attraction to baseball exhibitions between two touring nines, might be surprised to learn that the dusky athlete's income runs into five figures annually.

Jesse is hired as a physical training director for the Ford Motor company and his stipend for that job alone amounts to something like $8,000 or $10,000 a year. Then, too, he's paid something like $1,500 each time he goes to the post against the gee-gee, and is worth it, for his name alone usually attracts the cash customers.

Hines' 272 Wins Open At Tacoma

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 8 (AP)—Drama lurked in the towering firs and sun-bathed fairways of Fircrest yesterday as Chicago's affable Jimmy Hines fought back the delayed challenge of Harold "Jug" McSpaden to win the $10,500 Tacoma open golf tournament by a single stroke with 272 for the 72 holes.

Byron Nelson of Toledo, whose game was sour throughout the meet, finished with a 283 and said it was his first time over par for a tournament since "sometime in the summer."

might turn out even better for the future generals. After blanking the bulky Personnel Distribution Command squad 32-0, the Cadets made the Wake Forest Deacons wish they had "stood in Carolina" by marching to a 54-0 triumph over the Southern conference representatives Saturday.

The Deacons were rated as one of the south's best. Michigan will test the Army power next Saturday in New York in the weekend's top game. The Wolverines bowled over Northwestern 20-7 for their third triumph in four starts, Indiana being the only team to defeat them.

Rated one step behind the West Pointers are Navy, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Alabama, Minnesota, Southern California, Oklahoma A. & M., Texas A. & M. and Virginia. Navy's attack sputtered against Duke. The Midshipmen looked impressive in the first period when they racked up two scores but they couldn't dent the Blue Devils' goal again until the last quarter when Clyde (Smackover) Scott dashed off an 82-yard scoring run. Penn State, eastern darkhorse and 27-7 winners over Colgate, will give Navy a further chance to oil its "T" machine at Annapolis.

Notre Dame showed its hand against Georgia Tech by derailing the rambling wreck 40-7 in Atlanta. The Irish shouldn't have too much trouble with twice-beaten Dartmouth at South Bend.

Ohio State opened its Big Ten competition with a 42-0 shellacking of Iowa while Minnesota rumbled over Nebraska 61-7. The Buckeyes next oppose Wisconsin, 13-7 losers to Purdue with Fort Warren's Broncos slated to be the Gophers' victims.

Alabama led the south in on what they had by humbling Louisiana State 26-7. Southern California's Trojans were smelling Pasadena's roses after their 26-14 conquest of St. Mary's Pre-Flight.

Oklahoma A. & M. followed up its 19-14 conquest of Arkansas with a 31-7 win over Denver Friday night. Texas and Texas A. & M. only unbeaten teams in the Southwest conference, each carded their third triumphs. Texas trampled Texas Tech 33-0 and the Aggies trimmed Oklahoma 19-14.

Burrus Standout In Texans' Win

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 8 (AP)—The Army Air Forces Training Command of Fort Worth, Tex., has wound up its pre-conference campaign with straight victories and now has its sights set on Nashville, Tenn., where next Saturday the Skymasters clash with the Air Transport Command Rockets in a game counting in the National Air Forces Football league.

The Skymasters stowed away their third victim of the season here yesterday when they struck through the air for a 19-7 victory over the Fort Pierce Naval Amphibious Training Base eleven as a crowd of 10,000 looked on.

Herman Hohrig pitched to Harry Burrus, formerly of Big Spring, for the first score. Dinky Bowen passed to Bruce Alford for the next and Hohrig brought the third with a four-yard throw to Burrus.

PARKER ADVANCES
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 8 (AP)—U.S. Champion Frank Parker meets Alfredo Ramos of Mexico and second-seeded Pancho Segura of Ecuador plays Vincent Paul of New York in the second round of the fourth Pan-American tennis tournament today. Parker drew a bye yesterday while Segura, defending champion, disposed of Luis Galvan of Mexico, 6-1, 6-1.

Locals Must Cop Friday To Prove Railbirds Right

Most of the railbirds who went out on a limb to predict that the Big Spring high school football team would win just two games this autumn also committed themselves by heralding that one of those triumphs would come at the expense of Lamesa.

The winning skivoo over Tahoka some weeks ago, the only one the Longhorns have been able to carpenter in four outings, sent the batting averages of these cynical oracles soaring and Friday night they get a chance to be as right as rain when the Tornados cruise into the village to do battle with John Dillrell's crew in an 8 o'clock outing.

Whether or not the Steers can operate to the prognosticators' satisfaction depends largely upon a young gazelle by the name of Orville Nieman, a potential all-district star who operates at left half in the Tornado secondary.

The Lamesans haven't been world-beaters by any means this season but Nieman and Company are expecting to give the locals plenty of trouble. The invaders will also be looking for their second win of the campaign and it wouldn't surprise the boys along the midway if the homelings found their visitors to be very un-cooperative. In fact, after what has happened to the Black and Gold thus far, nothing would surprise the ponderers, any more.

Lubbock's Westerners rang up a 25-8 triumph over the Dawsons last week and before that Brownfield had humbled the Tornados, 12-9. The monotony of defeat was broken up somewhat in between those tests when the Lamesans succeeded in clipping a weak Kermit clan, 18-6.

Dillrell will have his charges out on the drill field this afternoon and every day this week working on an offense that he hopes can offset the Nieman threat. Despite the embarrassing rout by Odessa, the Longhorns put on their flashiest aerial show of the season and may go overhead exclusively this time out.

The aerial circuit unraveled in the Bronco bout was perhaps one born of desperation but, at any rate, the locals have a weapon that will add appreciably to their offense if they improve on the job of screening their flipper. Both Jack Barron and Bobo Hardy can toss the swingskin with precision and Hugh Cochran and D. D. Douglass have shown an aptitude to be in the right places at the right time as downfield receivers.

Fortunately, the Steers emerged from the Odessa disaster in fairly good physical condition and all the regulars are expected to open against the Lamesans.

Now 4 Points For Used Fats

Help Increase Supplies of Soap and Other Peacetime Products By Saving More Used Fats

Industrial fats far short of last year! We are almost down to the bottom of the barrel. The nation's industrial fat supply is millions of pounds less than it was in 1944. We need fully as much as last year to help make the soaps and other civilian goods you want and need so badly. So...

If you want more soap and soap flakes... if you're dreaming of nylons, sheets, cotton fabrics and want them to hurry back to the store counter... you can help by saving those used kitchen fats as you never saved before! Save every drop, every day!

These fats are vitally necessary to help speed greater supplies of soaps and hundreds of other things—like new cars, electric washers, irons, refrigerators and tires. Industry must have these fats... to help get to you more quickly the peacetime products you've been longing to have for years!

So skim and scrape and scoop just as you did so faithfully before V-J Day. It is a peacetime job now—a job that will help you. And to prove how important it is, your government has increased the point bonus. So help meet this nation's need by continuing to save used fats.

WTCC Has Sound Program

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has some mighty good planks in its referendum ballot this year. Most of them will be accepted. There may be some controversy over the proposal to retain the present type of business convention as opposed to the showy type of several years ago. The suggestion that West Texas or Texas stage an industrialization campaign will draw considerable debate, perhaps not over the advisability, but over the scope.

Appreciable results have come from a trial campaign and it perhaps is a good idea to follow up. There may be some danger in undertaking too pretentious a campaign since the cost might prove a deterrent. However, a sustained program could be carried out with a shift more to trade publications as well as to mass circulation mediums. While it will be expensive, a steady hammering in the right places might do a good selling job. It wouldn't take too many industries to justify a considerable program. Whether all the cooperating towns shared in direct results would be immaterial, for what helps our section will help all of us.

D. A. Bantzen, manager of the WTCC, is putting much effort into a program designed to keep the WTCC in the fight to gain still other freight rate relief. On the basis of inquiries following the ICC decision to equalize class rates, there is every reason to believe that a more complete victory in the field would be beneficial to the section.

Mr. Bantzen does not believe that this territory enjoys lower commodity rates as is frequently reported. On the contrary, he quotes figures to show that we suffer by comparison with the official territories. Since we are a commodity territory, relief here would mean vastly more to the section than in the class rate field.

The WTCC proposal to organize a veterans opportunities bureau has much merit, for it would be a means of helping young men find better situations and to get into something for themselves where they are qualified. As a supplement to this, it may be that communities will be wise to provide training in business management fields for young men so that their chances of success will be enhanced.

How About Homecoming Support?

No one likes to lose and certainly, the experience at Odessa last Friday won't provoke anyone to cheers. But it seems to us that we have reason to believe that the high school football team now has a chance to point up to better days from here on out.

So, we should like to propose that the young men be given a good homecoming crowd this Friday eve-

Washington's decision to abolish Shinto as a state religion in Japan may prove to be the key to that misguided country's reformation, for much of the hold which the militarists had on the people was attributable to the fact that the government spoke through the mouth of sacred Shinto.

Let there be some who fear this is a blow at freedom of worship, it should be said that it is not. The plan merely dissociates the religion from the very obvious evils of government control, but leaves the individual Japanese the right to worship as he chooses. If he clings to the ancestor and hero worship, which is the basis of Shinto (the way of the gods), then it is his prerogative to do so.

The Shinto-state setup has been a "natural" for the industrial tycoons and militarists, who have worked hand in hand to conquer neighboring states and reduce them to vassalage. Government schemes, which ordinarily might have been objectionable to many of the Japanese public, became acceptable when passed down via the Shinto route.

The efficacy of this dual control was multiplied by the fact that the Mikado was head of both state and religion. As a direct descendant of the Sun-Goddess Amaterasu was regarded by a goodly portion of his subjects as a living god.

Because of this circumstance it strikes me as almost a foregone conclusion that Hirohito must abdicate as emperor when the separation of religion and state becomes effective. Obviously he can't hold both positions, and it looks as though fate has selected the one which he must abandon, for while a god may discard temporal rule it's hard to see how he can divest himself of a divinity which Japanese legend says runs back 2600 years and more.

ning when Lamesa comes here for a district 3-AA game. Odessa, for one reason or another, was due to defeat the Steers easily. We just weren't in that class. Lamesa, however, has a team somewhat like ours—small, willing but light and unproven. It ought to be an interesting game and it would be encouraging to see a large crowd on hand for it. The following Friday we meet Midland, and here again we have a good chance to win. Against San Angelo we are hoped to be the underdog and Abilene is more in the Odessa class, but Sweetwater might be our meat. Thus, the boys do have a chance to about break even from here on out. A little support and encouragement might help them.

The Timid Soul

Hollywood—

That's A Cow Of A Different Color

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—Remember the quatrains by Gellert Burgess: "I never saw a purple cow," "I never hope to see one," "But I can tell you, anyhow," "I'd rather see than be one!" I wonder how he would have felt about a cow with false eyelashes and pearl ear rings. And a John Fredericks hat. And surrounded by Goldwyn girls.

Well, sir, that's just what I encountered on the set of "The Kid From Brooklyn," the Danny Kaye starrer. The scene was a musical number depicting Hollywood's idea of a super-elaborate dairy farm: shiny floors, sheer curtains and polished woodwork. I arrived between scenes and was introduced to two beautiful headshots, who were described as having some knowledge of cows. One was Ruth Valmy, who said she once had a cow of her own in Ft. Smith, Ark. The other was Karen X. Gaylord of Minneapolis, Minn., who said she has vacationed on farms. Both abandoned the rural life to model for the Powers and Conover agencies in New York.

"How do you milk the beasts?" I inquired, although I wasn't terribly interested. "The first thing to do is to approach the cow from the right side," said Karen. "That's important. Then you just start milking."

However, the girls will not be allowed to demonstrate their prowess in the picture. It seems that the Hays office has a rule which prohibits showing the milk department of a cow.

Going from the sublime to the ridiculous, I visited the cows, which were waiting offstage for their big scene. They were brown and white and pretty, although not as pretty as the Goldwyn girls. The star of the troupe was a bovine named Betsy.

"That dear cow is a veteran," said a cowhand who could get a job at Republic any day. "She's been acting on the screen for 10 years."

Surely enough, Betsy performed like a trouper. She waited as patiently as any other actress while a makeup man applied fake eyebrows made of horse hair. Then came the ornate ear rings and the fantastic hat.

"Doesn't she look too, too cute?" someone asked.

All I could think of in answer was: "Udderly."

Master Of Espionage In Orient Says Japs Fought From Hunger

MANILA, Oct. 8 (AP)—If Mr. Aung Than would just tell his own story it would read like an E. Phillips Oppenheim thriller and justify everybody's beliefs about intrigue and espionage in the Orient.

However, since he chooses to remain close-mouthed on most details of his personal doings the past four years, perhaps it would be well to record for what they're worth a few of his impressions about our late enemies, the Japanese, and what made them so bloodthirsty.

In his role as Burmese military attaché he picked up a great deal of vital information around Tokyo. This he says he methodically shipped out to the Allies via his only available outlet—the Soviet embassy.

In any case, the American government is sufficiently grateful that the army now is preparing to evacuate the Aung family back to Burma in pretty fair style. He kept his eyes open; he wanted to know why the Japanese people went to war—and he thinks he found out.

"Starvation is the answer," says the Burmese. "The militarists took hold in Japan when fruits of the Manchurian conquest showed up in the market places of the country." Prior to that time, he adds, there was simply a venture of the military class, and did not have the people's support.

King's Exit Presages Navy New Deal

By DREW PEARSON

KANSAS CITY, MO.—Navy insiders are hoping for a new deal regarding discharges, recognition of reserves and other navy injustices, following the shake-up in the navy's bureau of personnel and the impending exit of Navy Czar Adm. Ernest King. In fact, some fresh air already has blown into the navy department.

To get the full picture of what's happening, it's necessary to realize that for about five years the secretary of the navy has chiefly been the performing puppet of hard-boiled, high-handed Adm. Ernest King. The late Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox was at sword's points with King most of the time. The admirals would meet in formal session with him, show him a few routine cables and then adjourn.

Later, King and his close associates would handle the really important cables, which neither Knox nor Under Secretary James Forrestal knew existed.

Admiral King pulled his own Annapolis classmates all around him. He formed the most powerful clique the navy has ever seen, with no one able to penetrate it, least of all the secretary of the navy. The older men of King's time at Annapolis (he is 65) got the chief plum, and the younger men bore the brunt of the fighting. Antagonism against King was especially bitter among Annapolis men between the classes of 1917 to 1933.

Navy Storm Breaks
With the end of the war, however, the storm broke. Reserve officers and regular navy officers found strict censorship lifted and began to speak out.

Long before this, however, some of the younger officers on Secretary Forrestal's staff had tipped him off as to what was going on. They suggested that he go up to the communications room himself and look them over. Forrestal did, and from that time on, he has had more to say about running the navy.

The man who handled promotions, transfers and discharges for King was Adm. Randall Jacobs, chief of the bureau of naval personnel or "bupers." If you control "bupers," you can pretty much dominate the navy. And between them, King and Jacobs did. But the end of the war caught both King and Jacobs completely off guard. They had never expected it so soon.

In fact they were making all preparations for a full-scale invasion of Japan this fall. Furthermore, King did not want to see the navy reduced to anywhere near its peacetime size, so was the last man to want to speed naval discharges.

Forrestal Gets Tough
It was at about this point that Jim Forrestal, for the most part a meek and mild little man, began to get tough. Though he had been wise to King for a long time, he had been handicapped by the fact that King was the special pet of FDR, and the late president considered it his job to run the navy. Forrestal was almost helpless.

With Truman, however, it was different. Truman not only believes in each cabinet member being responsible for his own department, but he also knew something about the way Admiral King had ridden roughshod over the civilian secretaries of the navy. So the first move made by Secretary Forrestal was to remove Admiral Jacobs, the man with the key to promotions, transfers and discharges. Jacobs never wanted to go. He had a fine house at the naval hospital supplied him by the government, together with a couple of Filipino servants. However, he had no choice in the matter.

At first a special job was created for Jacobs. He was to be a full admiral with the magnificent title of "inspector general of the Pacific."

By this time, however, Forrestal was really feeling his oats. He was determined to run the navy himself. And public criticism against Jacob's slow discharge system strengthened Forrestal's hand. He took away the glittering job in the Pacific and reduced Jacobs to the humdrum chore of running the Bremerton Naval Base near Seattle, Washington.

Furthermore, Forrestal brought into the navy a man who does not play on Admiral King's team, Adm. Lou Denfeld, and made him chief of personnel. King kicked like a Missouri mule, but Forrestal overrode him.

The mothers, wives and sweethearts of navy men have a lot to be thankful for as a result of this transfer. Both Denfeld and Ginchgrich, though Annapolis graduates, believe in recognizing the reserves, believe in speeding discharges, and understand the problems of navy men. There should be a new hurry-up of navy discharges as a result.

The Navy's Eisenhower
Then, to make matters worse, Forrestal brought in as Denfeld's assistant, Capt. John Ginchgrich, another man who does not play on King's team.

Ginchgrich's career, in a way, might be compared to that of General Eisenhower. Like Eisenhower, he is the product of the Kansas prairies. Born in Dodge City, Kan., he graduated from Annapolis and did a great job in the war as commander of the Cruiser Pittsburgh. It was Ginchgrich who largely towed the flaming Carrier Franklin out of danger, incidentally covering up some glaring mistakes by other commanders which have never leaked out.

It was Ginchgrich who nursed the Pittsburgh all the way across the Pacific when 100 feet of her bow was torn off by a typhoon—once again covering up some faulty construction which the navy didn't want advertised.

But, somewhat like Eisenhower, who was fired by General MacArthur when they served together in Manila in 1933, Ginchgrich was "fired" by Admiral King. As a reward for his heroism, he was relegated to the sidelines, removed from command of the Pittsburgh, and given the innocuous job of chief of personnel at Miami, Fla. Ginchgrich had been offered several important jobs by admirals in the Pacific, but King "sent him to Siberia" instead.

At this point, however, Secretary Forrestal stepped in. He ordered young Captain Ginchgrich back to Washington as deputy chief of the powerful bureau of personnel.

The mothers, wives and sweethearts of navy men have a lot to be thankful for as a result of this transfer. Both Denfeld and Ginchgrich, though Annapolis graduates, believe in recognizing the reserves, believe in speeding discharges, and understand the problems of navy men. There should be a new hurry-up of navy discharges as a result.

Harold Holder Liberated From Japanese Prison

Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Holder, route No. 1, have received notice from the war department that their son, Pfc. Harold Leon Holder, has been liberated from a Japanese prison camp.

Pfc. Holder, a member of the famous "Lost Battalion" with the 131st field artillery on Java, has been a prisoner of war since the spring of 1942. For more than a year he was listed as missing in action.

His liberation took place on Sept. 14, according to the war department notice. Before going overseas, Pfc. Holder trained with his national guard unit at Abilene and Brownwood.

Besides his parents, Pfc. Holder has two sisters, Mrs. B. W. Gunter, Monahan, and Glyndia Joyce, 14 months old, whom he has never seen.

Brief But Wild Fighting During Hollywood Strike

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 8 (AP)—At least twelve strikers and two policemen were injured early today in brief but wild fighting at the entrance to Warner Brothers studio when officers charged a mass group of approximately 200 pickets to clear a passageway for studio workers.

Approximately 150 police and sheriff's deputies and the pickets fought for about 15 minutes as the officers, using nightsticks, cleared a way through the movie strikers and formed a double line through which the workers passed into the studio.

Witnesses said some of the pickets used canes and clubs in the battle.

Two ambulances took the injured pickets to hospitals.

Court injunctions were issued Saturday ordering the studio and workers to refrain from violence.

Following the affray this morning, approximately 350 studio workers passed into the film plant through the passageway formed by police.

Herbert K. Sorrell, strike leader and head of CSU, was hit in the eye during the affray.

Annulment, Divorce Granted In Court

Annulment of the marriage of Mary Eloise Lands and G. Harold Lands was effected by Judge Cecil Collings in District Court this morning.

Divorces were also granted in the cases of Iris Nelson Rittmer vs. Earl Rittmer, Bobby Williams vs. River C. Williams and Ruth Wright vs. L. W. Wright.

Custody of a minor child was given to the plaintiff in the Rittmer decision.

War Loan To Absorb Surplus Cash Money

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson wants banks to sell as many bonds as possible to individuals during the coming Victory Loan.

The idea is to absorb surplus money in the government's drive against inflation.

The $11,000,000,000 Victory Loan opens Oct. 29 and continues through Dec. 8. Of the total, individuals have been assigned a quota of $4,000,000,000.

DECORATED—Lt. Charles Austin Burch, Big Spring, is shown receiving his Silver Star decoration from Col. Sloan G. Stewart, director of the medical division of McCloskey General Hospital. Lt. Burch, who was with the engineers, earned his decoration for clearing reginal mines by hand under fire to permit a halted Yank task force to advance near Kirchellian, Germany. The incident, which cost him an arm, occurred just after the 8th armored division had crossed the Rhine river in the Ninth Army sector on March 27, 1945. To the right, Mrs. Burch looks on as does Capt. Lloyd E. Hatley, Monroe, La., also decorated for gallantry in action.

The Nation Today—Hotels Are Jammed -- And Will Be Until After Christmas At Least

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—Hotels—nationwide—are jammed. It's a jam likely to last through Christmas, at least.

Trying to explain the reason for this, a spokesman for the American Hotel association here says:

The crowded situation spreads from New Orleans to Seattle, from New York to Los Angeles.

In many of the New York, Chicago and Washington hotels 60 per cent of the rooms are occupied by service men and women.

Now that the war's over, they have longer leaves, keep rooms longer. So do civilian guests.

They used to average 1 or 2 days to a room. Now it's 3, 4 and 5 days.

New York hotels are so crowded they've practically stopped accepting reservations.

You can write to a New York hotel, and maybe you'll get a reservation. Maybe you won't.

In Chicago the army used to have 1,500 rooms a day set aside for service people.

The rooms were in an army pool and were made available as needed by service people.

Recently the army asked for—and got—a total of 3,000 rooms daily.

Washington hotels are packed, not only with service men and women but with people here on business or labor errands.

It's so tight that Washington hotels are trying to keep organized groups—like conventions—away.

The Washington hotels are co-operating with one another in trying to find rooms for people needing them.

The army has predicted that the number of service men and women moving around the country won't reach a peak until December.

It seems therefore, that hotel rooms will be packed at least until then.

Sgt. Earl Baldock Comes Home At Last

Sgt. Earl Baldock, recently liberated after spending some 47 months in Japanese prison camps in Java and Thailand, arrived in town Sunday to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel L. Baldock, 604 State street.

Baldock landed in New York Oct. 2 and flew to Big Spring. He is a member of the 131st field artillery.

Texas Today—

Surprise Visits May Get A Little Crossed

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Garvin Elrod of Harlingen is cured of trying to pay surprise visits.

He drove from the Lower Rio Grande Valley to East Texas to visit his parents. Upon arrival he found his parents had left six hours before for the valley to visit him.

So Elrod decided he'd surprise his brother, who lived in a nearby town. He drove over there, only to learn that his brother had moved to the town he, Garvin, had just left.

Joe Tufts isn't interested in traveling. He'd much rather stay home—if he can find a home.

Tufts is the regional National Housing Agency director. He has probably controlled more housing than any other man in the southwest.

But he can't control his own situation. He is about to be evicted from his Dalas home. He admits he wasn't exactly surprised. He knows how things are.

He was still looking for a home, at last reports, and says he was just about a month in which to locate one.

Flora Joy Hooks of Alvarado is taking no chances about a roof over her head.

Miss Hooks is a sophomore in high school. She plans to go to Denton three years from now to enroll at Texas State College for Women.

When she read about the housing shortage which forced one young 1945 co-ed to sleep in a pup-tent on the campus, Miss Hooks promptly took steps.

She wrote to reserve a room—three years hence.

School officials say 2,000 students have been turned away from two Denton colleges this year because of housing shortages.
