THIRTIETH YEAR

TALCO, TITUS COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1966

ZIP CODE NO. 75487

NUMBER 17

Austin. — Comments by legislators and water leaders generally were favorable on the $3,700,000, 000 preliminary "Water for Texas" plan of the Texas Water Development Board.

This massive plan calls for a "rescue operation" for the Lower Rio Grande Valley irrigated region, where a recent court decision knocked out water rights of more than 100,000 acres.

Project, to be designed by the Bureau of Reclamation, would use two big reservoirs on the San Antonio River (Cibola in Wilson County and Goliad in Goliad County), two on the Guadalupe River (Confluence in Victoria County and Cuero in DeWitt County) and one on the Lavaca-Navidad Rivers (Palmetta Bend) to link to a 190-mile canal to the Lower Valley.

Water from the three watersheds could be used for a number of years. As needs in those valleys develop, a canal would be linked to the northern end of the pipeline-and-canal system which would start at Texarkana Reservoir, go west to Dallas and Fort Worth to meet their future needs, then down the Trinity, Brazos and Colorado Rivers to link with the southern portion of the canal. Then it could be said that water from Lake Texarkana was being used in the Lower Valley — after repeated use and re-use along the 980 miles of the State Water Project system. Irrigation in the Sinton and Baffin Bay regions also would be supplied from the canal.

In addition to the 14 reservoirs connected with the State Water Project, the big plan proposed 46 other reservoirs or enlargements. These would supply in-basin needs in all parts of the state except Far West Texas, where there simply is not enough stream flow to justify reservoirs.

For that region, a massive research and development plan is proposed. First, a special Texas office of the Water Development Board would seek ways to spread present supplies as far as possible. This would include recharge of the Ogallala formation from the 36,000 playa lakes in the High Plains, deepening of those rainwater lakes to cut down evaporation.

Plan also calls for West Texas to be designated by Congress as part of a study by the Bureau of Reclamation for finding new supplies for the Southwest, in the hope of bringing water from the Columbia River in Oregon by 1985, when Plains ground water supplies are expected to become severely depleted.

SENATE RACE NOW SPOTLIGHTED — Now that the Democratic primaries are over the U. S. Senate race moves to the center of the 1966 political stage.

Race between Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Republican U. S. Sen. John G. Tower is billed as one of top three Senatorial battles in the nation.

It's generally rated among state-house political pundits as very close. Each side can cite polls to prove its man is really out front.

Although the showdown election is not until November 8, both candidates are canvassing the state as though voting time was almost at hand.

Carr now will try to unite Democratic party factions behind him.

Tower's major job is to appeal to conservative Democrats and at the same time, ironically, to attract as many anti-Carr liberals as he can.

Both candidates outwardly are confident, and both are said to be well financed.

NATIONAL GUARD — Sunday 7,000 men from the 49th Armored Division and 5,000 members of the 36th moved into North Fort Hood for two weeks of extensive field training. But Texas Adjutant General Thomas Bishop said he has heard nothing to indicate a possibility of a call into Federal service for the Texas National Guard units.

Answering charges that the Selective Service office in Texas is shirking on draft calls, draft director Col. Morris Schwartz said 102,130 Texans who enlisted and another 16,274 who had been drafted were in the armed services as of March 31.

Although racial records are forbidden in the armed forces, Schwartz said it is evident from the places where the 53-percent draft rejection rate of Texas are greatest, the high proportion of rejections occur among Latin American and Negro youths, who failed some service tests.

In April, Schwartz said, Texas' draft quota was only 866, but 1,458 Texans volunteered and another 1,133 were inducted by draft.

OIL RULE CHANGES — Oil exploration companies got their third boost of the year from the Texas Railroad Commission when the Commission increased from five to ten the number of oil wells in a new onshore field which get bonus production allowances.

This 10-well rule was urged by spokesmen for major and independent oil companies as a way to speed up identification of new reserves to meet oil supply demands in the 1970's.

Earlier this year, the Commission extended from 18 to 24 months the period during which wells in newly-found fields get bonus allowances, exempt from proration, and granted higher discovery allowances for offshore wells to allow quicker pay-outs there.

Miss A. Chesshir Dies Of Burns

Funeral services were held at 5 p. m. Wednesday at Bogata Methodist Church for Miss Audrey Nannie Chesshir of Bogata, who died of burns suffered Monday afternoon at Red River Haven, where she was a resident. Miss Chesshir sustained the fatal burns when her clothing and a chair caught fire, apparently from a lighted cigarette.

Miss Chesshir died about 5 p. m. Tuesday in a Clarksville hospital, where she was taken early Monday night.

Rev. John Streun, Methodist pastor, had charge of the rites and Bogata Funeral Home made interment in Bogata Cemetery. Pallbearers were James and Marcus Gibson, Joe Ford, E. E. Kirkland, Newt Bryson, Travis Hale.

Born at Rugby Feb. 9, 1895, Miss Chesshir was the daughter of Jasper M. and Lucy Francis (Hale) Chesshir. She is survived by three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Bill Edwards, Miss Mattie Chesshir, Jap and Hersell Chesshir of Bogata, Mrs. Mart Edwards of Dallas. Prompt action by members of the staff and adequate fire detection and prevention equipment held the damage to a minimum and prevented spread of the fire, according to E. E. Kirkland.

Diane Marshall At FHA Conference

Diane Marshall, treasurer of the Area VI Association of Future Homemakers of America, participated in the Leadership Conference held June 2-3 at East Texas State University. The eleven officers of the organization, their advisers, and chapter representatives began plans for the year's work and for the Area Meeting to be held in Commerce on March 18. The theme, "FHA — Skyway to New Horizons," was emphasized throughout the meeting.

A luncheon honoring FHA's twenty-first birthday was held in the Student Union Building on Thursday. Decorations carried out the birthday party theme. On Thursday night, participants enjoyed a weiner roast at the home of Susan Faires, Area VI parliamentarian, Commerce. The meeting concluded at noon on Friday, after reports of committee work.

Diane was accompanied by her adviser, Mrs. Anita Stubblefield, and Kay White, president of the Rivercrest FHA Chapter.

Light Vote Cast In Saturday Election

Just a little over 100 votes were cast in Titus County in the Democratic primary run-off election Saturday.

In the only local race on the short ballot, Eugene Morris of Cookville unseated the incumbent commissioner in Precinct 4, Dan Bynum.

Morris received 372 votes and Bynum had 310, a difference of 62 in the unofficial election totals compiled at the county clerk's office Saturday night.

In the attorney general's race, Crawford Martin carried Titus County by 33 votes.

He drew 517 votes, compared to 485 for Sen. Franklin Spears.

Very little interest was shown in Saturday's run-off election in Talco, as only 22 votes were cast in this precinct. The only names on the ballot were those of Crawford Martin and Franklin Spears for attorney general. Spears received 14 votes and Martin 8.

Titus Gets $3500 For Pest Control

Titus County is due to receive an allocation for $3500 for mosquito control, as a result of April flooding which greatly intensified the mosquito problem.

Jon Perry of the State Health Department was in Mt. Pleasant Thursday to discuss the program with county and city officials.

Besides Mt. Pleasant, spraying for mosquitoes also is to be done in Talco, Winfield and Cookville. The allocation is for labor, chemical spray and for expense of a truck to pull the fogging machine.

A short course was held Tuesday in Gilmer on mosquito control and several from the city and county attended.

FHA SUMMER NEWS

Many girls from Bogata, Johnstown and Talco are working in the pre-school sections at Bogata and Talco. They are using this as part of their summer experience. Acting as helpers to the first grade teachers, the girls are learning a great deal about children.

The FHA officers are meeting several times during the summer to plan the coming year. The programs, calendar, and other activities that will pertain to the FHA will be their goal. The first meeting is planned for Wednesday afternoon, June 8 in the homemaking department.

The entire FHA is having an all day picnic at Tyler State Park on June 13. Each member is urged to attend. The bus will leave Bogata at 7 a. m. Monday morning and will leave Talco at 7:15 a. m. You are reminded to bring lots to eat, suntan lotion, bathing suit and a spirit for fun.

Third Homecoming Fulbright, Sunday

Fulbright will celebrate its third homecoming Sunday, June 12, at the Fulbright Community Center. An invitation is extended to all former residents and friends to attend.

Lunch will be served at 1 o'clock. There will be a short program. Visiting will be the order of the day. Come, bring your lunch and enjoy the homecoming!

Mrs. Eldon Chaloner of Bogata, was in Talco Monday on business.

Alcorn Takes A Wry Look At Proposal That 4-Year-Olds Belong In School

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur, has heard of the latest educational proposal, his letter this week indicates.

Dear Editor: According to an article I read in a newspaper which a bunch of high school kids threw out of a car as they drove by my Johnson grass farm the other day whooping and hollering over the start of their summer vacation, a special committee sponsored by the National Education Association has come out with the proposal that all children ought to start school at age 4.

The committee reported that there are over 8 million four- and five-year-olds in this country, they're capable of being taught, and they ought to be in school. Add two grades below what's now the first grade and get these kids off the streets or out of their backyards or play pens or wherever they are and into school, although the committee didn't use exactly that language.

While I hadn't known before we had a problem of 4-year-olds ripping around on their tricycles, still it's a fact that they do get under foot, and if you can turn them over to somebody else at 4 instead of 6, that's two years gained. Baccations are not just for children.

I have not heard it proposed yet that when the starting age is lowered to 4, the draft age will automatically drop to 16, but I suppose it will follow, if some way can be worked out to give a boy of that age a license to drive a tank. Naturally the retirement age also will drop a corresponding amount, which I'm sure in favor of, as I've always thought it was ridiculous to wait till you're too old to enjoy it to retire.

After we get the 4-year-olds in school and eliminate the 3-months summer vacation, with night classes for all pupils at least four nights a week, plus some school-sponsored activities on the weekends, raising kids will be a snap. Nearly anybody ought to be able to stand his own kids the first three years of their lives.

Yours faithfully, A. A.

USS Chicago Wins Gray Ghost Award

The USS Chicago, with Captain Sam H. Moore as commanding officer, was recently voted the best missile ship participating in Exercise Gray Ghost.

Gray Ghost represented one of the largest fleet exercises ever conducted off the West Coast. With almost 70 ships involved, the purpose was to conduct training exercises in simulated combat conditions. Special emphasis was placed on NTDS and weapons coordination. Chicago especially shone in these areas, proving a real value in the system, and the excellence of her crew and equipment.

A trophy attesting to this triumph was presented to Captain Moore. Moore is a nephew of J. B. Griffin and Mrs. Dyke Skaggs, Deport.

And You Can Too, ... STOP IN!

Mr. and Mrs. James Logan and

Nancy Devlin Weds Warren L. Kelly

Miss Nancy Carol Devlin of Grand Prairie, formerly of Minter and Warren Ledford Kelly of Grand Prairie, exchanged wedding vows in a double-ring ceremony Friday at 6 o'clock in the evening at Calvary Methodist Church, Paris.

The Rev. Kerby Edwards, pastor of the church, officiated. The com-ple made their pledge before the church altar graced with two baskets of white gladioli and greenery and lighted by green votive candles in two seven-branched candelabrums.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walker Devlin of Minter are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Warren Kelly of Hubbard and the late Mr. Kelly.

Miss Jean Pulliam, organist, presented a program of nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a three-piece white silk suit with white silk coat, accented with a white tulle veil. Her flowers were a shower of white rosebuds tied with white satin ribbons and centered with a white orchid.

Miss Mary Ann Cox of Cunningham and Houston served as maid of honor. She wore a pastel blue suit and her flowers were white carnations tied with blue ribbons.

Bill Waller of Grand Prairie was the bridegroom's best man. Wiley Beesley and James B. Nixon, both of Grand Prairie, seated guests.

Mrs. Kelly is a graduate of Paris
Junior College and East Texas State University. She is a member of the faculty and seventh grade mathematics teacher at Adams Junior High School, Grand Prairie. Her husband is a graduate of Navarro Junior College and East Texas State University. He is employed with the state comptroller's office, the regional branch, Dallas.

The bride's parents were hosts at the wedding reception which was held in the reception rooms of Ramada Inn.

Mrs. Robert Price of Garland presided at the bride's book at the registry.

The serving table was laid with a white satin cloth and was centered with a mass arrangement of white carnations and snapdragons.
The bride's three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a nosegay of fresh flowers. It was served with fruit punch, nuts and mints.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Jack Rodus of Paris, Mrs. Edwin Cox of Cunningham and Mrs.
James B. Nixon of Grand Prairie.

Following a honeymoon in Old Mexico, the couple will reside at 810 Caesar Drive, Grand Prairie.
