NEWBERRY AND 133 OTHERS INDICTED

MEXICAN SITUATON MARKS TIME AS U. S. GATHERS INFORMATION ON JENKINS AND WALLACE CASES

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—William Wallace, a vice-president of the Gulf Refining Co., who was believed to have been murdered in Tampico, Mexico, is safe in that city, according to a message received by the company late today. Information is lacking as to the identity of the Wallace who was killed by soldiers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The Mexican situation marked time today, while the government continued to gather further information on the Jenkins case and the murder of William T. Wallace at Tampico Wednesday. The identity of the murdered man had not been established tonight.

The Jenkins case and the Wallace murder are being treated separately.

The state department already has directed the American embassy in Mexico City to make inquiries of the Carranza government and forward further information of the new phases of the Jenkins case raised in the Mexican note declining to accede to the request for the release of the consular agent.

In the Wallace murder case the government has about all the information considered necessary and the interval is being used in framing the details of a course of action.

Note Being Drafted.

A note to Carranza, which some officials think will be about the last, was being drafted in the state department today but, so far as could be learned, it had not been started on the way to Mexico tonight.

Senators and representatives gathering for the reconvening of congress were showing active interest in the course of the situation and there were some indications it might be discussed in both chambers Monday.

Up until tonight the government had received no official word of indication of an offer of mediation by Argentina, Brazil and Chile and some officials thought it doubtful it would be offered.

If such an offer came the opinion of most officials who considered it, seemed to be it would be acceptable only under certain conditions which they thought Mexico would be unwilling to accept.

Simplifies Situation.

Reports direct from Mexico City regarding yesterday's border rumors of an uprising with fighting in the streets served to simplify the situation in that they removed one complicating factor and left the issue a clean cut one involving only the continued murder and molestation of Americans.

There was no outward indication of whether President Wilson would touch on the subject in his message to congress next week.

Cabled advices from Mexico City today probably explained the report yesterday of a new revolution there. They told of a street fight between the two political factions such as occurred frequently, it was said. Political excitement was increased yesterday by the unexpected arrival of General Alvaro Obregon and the message said a street parade of his supporters resulted in rioting in which fire arms were used with no casualties.

Would Postpone Election.

Some weeks ago a child was killed and bystanders and paraders wounded in a similar fight. Luis Cabrera, minister of hacienda, used the incident in his argument recently to postpone the elections next year and keep Carranza in power indefinitely. At the same time he asked to continue the 1920 budget beyond the end of that year owing to the probability that the new congress would not have been installed or a president elected by that time.

Cabrera was quoted as saying two governors and two legislatures were now functioning in the states of Tabasco and San Luis Potosi while in Guanajuato, Nuevo Leon and Coahuila a candidate had been imposed against the indicated choice of the people.

The Mexican congress apparently is powerless to settle these conflicts as in the only case in which it has intervened in the state of Mayarit, formerly the territory of Tepic, where Governor Godinez was deposed by a military clique, a senate order that he be reinstated was ignored.

CHARGE OF CONNIVING WITH BANDITS ABANDONED

LAREDO, TEXAS, Nov. 29.—The state of Puebla, Mexico, has no intention of trying Willim O. Jenkins, American consular agent, on a charge of conniving with bandits in connection with his recent abduction, Governor Alfredo Cabrera of Puebla told press representatives, according to a Mexico City newspaper, Excelsior, under date of Thursday, a copy of which was received here late today. The only charge, it is said, is that of perjury in judicial declarations, which is solely within the jurisdiction of the court where the crime is committed.

REPUBLICANS PLAN TO ORGANIZE THE STATE

FORT WORTH, TEX., Nov. 29.—W. P. Cage, newly elected chairman of the Texas Republican Council today issued a call for volunteers from the Republicans of the state to organize county and local councils. One of the first activities of the state council, Mr. Cage declares, will be to cover the state with a network of local republican organizations and make a systematic drive for poll tax payment and a strenuous effort will be made to get truant republicans to vote.

A meeting of the executive committee of the council will be held next week and the annual budget prepared according to Mr. Gage.

LADY ASTOR ADDRESSES DOCK YARD EMPLOYES

PLYMOUTH, ENG., Nov. 29.—The vigorous electoral campaign conducted by Lady Astor, American born woman, who will be the first of her sex to sit in the House of Commons, has not diminished her energy.

Lady Astor addressed a mass meeting of government dock yard employes this afternoon, advising them to consent to one day less weekly, in order to prevent laying off of workers, until the government could prepare a scheme for the construction of mercantile vessels.

BAPTIST CAMPAIGN WILL BEGIN TODAY

NASHVILLE, TENN., Nov. 29.—Notwithstanding unfavorable weather over a large part of the territory of the Southern Baptist convention, Dr. L. R. Scarborough, general director of the Baptist campaign for $75,000,000 which begins tomorrow, announced today that advices received from a majority of the 25,000 churches indicated that there would be no slackening in the pace set by the various churches to quickly secure their quotas.

PARTY NOT FAVORING FORMER CROWN PRINCE

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—The newspaper Germania declares today that the clerical party is not identified with attempts to start a presidential boom for former Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria. The newspaper brands the statement that the Catholic party is favoring his candidacy as a pure invention.

MAY PROVIDE A SOLUTION FOR PRINT PAPER SHORTAGE

KETCHIKAN, ALASKA, Nov. 29.—Alaska's panhandle stands on the threshold of its "paper era," according to statements made by government officials and newspapers of this section.

Forests of this north country, it is predicted, will soon be supplying pulp to mills now being served by eastern forests, which are gradually disappearing. According to records here Alaska's wood pulp timber supply is greater than the supply of any other section of the United States.

PLACE RESTRICTIONS FOR CONSERVATION OF THE SUPPLY OF FUEL

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 29.—Orders eliminating electric signs and display advertising, limiting industries, except public utilities and plants engaged in continuous operations, to 48 hours' operation a week, restricting the hours of stores and office buildings to those between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., and theaters, moving picture shows and allother public amusement places to the hours from 1 p. m. to 10:30 p. m., were announced tonight by the regional coal committee, effective throughout the southern region, at noon Monday.

ROCK ISLAND TO BE OPERATING IN CITY WITHIN A SHORT TIME

"The Rock Island will be operating trains into Wichita Falls within a very few months, in much shorter time, in fact, than most people realize," said a local railroad man Saturday who is in close touch with the building plans of that company.

"Practically all of their building plans are complete, and construction work will follow the work of the surveyors, which will be rushed with all possible dispatch."

Arrangements for terminal facilities in Wichita Falls have been made by the road, it was learned Saturday, but the details of these arrangements were not made public.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR COMING WEEK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29. — Weather for the week beginning Monday, issued by the weather bureau today are:

West Gulf States: Fair weather indicated with a return to normal temperature after Tuesday.

Eighteen Hundred Troops Sent To the Coal Fields of Kansas

TOPEKA, KANS., Nov. 29.—Eighteen hundred state and federal troops have been ordered into the Kansas coal fields in connection with proposed plans to re-open the mines next week under a state receivership, it became known tonight. Six hundred of the troops will be regulars and 1,200 of them will be guardsmen, it was said. Governor Allen late today issued the necessary proclamation calling out the state troops.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29—Developments in the government's efforts to insure an adequate fuel supply for the country awaited tonight the outcome of attempts of soft coal operators to induce miners to return to work for a wage advance of 14 per cent and assurances of federal protection. Notices of this wage advance suggested by Federal Administrator Garfield were posted at the mines immediately following the Thanksgiving holiday. Resumption of work it might produce was not expected until next week, at the beginning of the second month of the strike, which technically was called off November 11.

Operators here expected Monday to see many of the miners, especially in outlying districts not in the central competitive territory, back at work.

Standing Firm.

Standing firm on their announced intention to spare neither operators nor miners who interfered with the restoration of production to normal, Fuel Administrator Garfield and Attorney General Palmer awaited developments in the mining centers. It was indicated no further steps by national authorities were contemplated while state and local officials handled the situation satisfactorily.

Assurance that the government would not tolerate any attempt to destroy trade unions or the principle of collective bargaining on the part of employing interests wishing to take advantage of the present situation, was given today by Dr. Garfield before leaving for his home at Williamstown, Mass., where he will spend the week-end.

Refers to Report.

"Report has come to me that the present crisis in the coal industry will be used to break down the labor unions," Dr. Garfield said. "I wish to say that I am as much opposed to an attempt to destroy the principle of collective bargaining an the union of working men as I am to the efforts of labor leaders to keep labor satisfied by a constant boosting of wages regardless of the public interest or to the effort of leaders in the industrial world to boost profits unduly to the hurt of the public.

"Any attempt to complicate the issue at this time by seeking to destroy the union of the mine workers or the principle of collective bargaining will be resented by the public and opposed by me."

Fifty Per Cent Normal.

Official statistics showed production to be approaching fifty per cent of normal at the end of the first month of the strike as compared with 29 per cent during the first week and 33 per cent the second week. The weekly report of the United States geological survey today showed 44.8 per cent of normal was produced during the third week.

Dr. Garfield also issued today a detailed analysis of the figures on which he based his conclusion for a 14 per cent wage increase. Explaining wherein he differed from Secretary Wilson he called attention to "the fact that the principle involved is of far greater importance than the figures arrived at."

Average Impossible.

"The principle applied in arriving at 14 per cent is different in kind and character from that applied in arriving at 31.61 per cent and hence any attempt to average the two or to compromise the results is impossible," Dr. Garfield said.

A wage advance of 31.6 per cent as suggested by Secretary Wilson would give a total wage advance since 1913 of 107.4 per cent, as compared with a maximum advance of 79 per cent in living costs, he added.

"Miners are paid by the ton," he said. "Other mine workers are paid by the day. The day laborers generally have received advances of wages since 1913 equal to and in some instances in excess of the increase in the cost of living.

General Proposition.

"The proposition that a general wage increase of 31.61 per cent be given is simply a proposition to give to all mine labor the percentage of the increase required to bring the class of labor that has received the lowest percentage up to the present level of living cost, even though that advances other groups far above the amount necessary."

Dr. Garfield pointed out that statistics of the national industrial conference showed only a 73 per cent increase in the cost of living and that on that basis the miners would be entitled to only 9.8 per cent wage advance.

On an annual output of 500,000,000 tons, Dr. Garfield said, the additional wage bill would approximate $28,000,000 with a 31.61 per cent advance, $107,000,000 with a 14.1 per cent increase and $74,000,000 with a 9.8 per cent advance.

The average earning of all mine workers in 1918 was $1,550.56 or $6.18 per day worked, Dr. Garfield said. This conclusion was based on information taken directly from the monthly cost sheets on which the operators reported to the federal trade commission.

OHIO HAS TERRIFIC RAIN AND SNOW STORM

TOLEDO, OHIO, Nov. 29.—A terrific rain and snow storm during which the wind velocity was said by weather bureau officials to have reached 78 miles an hour, swept northwestern Ohio late today, creating damage estimated at $100,000.

Telegraph companies report wires down in all directions. The storm area is said to extend as far east as Cleveland and virtually to Chicago.

SOUTHWEST IN WINTER'S GRIP; SNOW FALLING

Railroad Traffic Crippled and Wires Are Damaged Over Big Section

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 29.—The southwest today was in the grip of winter, snow or sleet falling in nearly all sections, railroad traffic being interfered with and telephone and telegraph lines damaged.

Much colder weather tonight, with the cold spell continuing several days, was forecast.

Because of the serious shortage of fuel, the sudden onslaught of winter has forced some towns to make drastic efforts to secure wood or coal. At Salina, Kan., arrangements have been made to set up a saw mill at which all available wood will be sawed for distribution to the needy. Other communities took similar steps.

OHIO HAS TERRIFIC RAIN AND SNOW STORM

TOLEDO, OHIO, Nov. 29.—A terrific rain and snow storm during which the wind velocity was said by weather bureau officials to have reached 78 miles an hour, swept northwestern Ohio late today, creating damage estimated at $100,000.

Telegraph companies report wires down in all directions. The storm area is said to extend as far east as Cleveland and virtually to Chicago.

SOCIALISTS DEMAND THAT ITALY SUPPRESS GABRIELE D'ANNUNZIO

ROME, Nov. 28.—Socialist deputies meeting today passed a resolution demanding the government act energetically to suppress Gabriele D'Annunzio's activities at Fiume and along the Dalmatian coast, according to a dispatch today.

The socialists also demanded Government enforce a stringent blockade to curb the poet.

LEADERS ARE RELEASED AND STRIKE CALLED OFF

SARAGOSSA, SPAIN, Nov. 29.—The general strike here has been called off. The syndicalist labor union leaders whose arrest and deportation to Barcelona was the cause of the strike and the declaration of martial law, having been released, the workmen decided to resume work today.

GOVERNORS OF NINE STATES TO DISCUSS THE COAL SITUATION

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., Nov. 29.—Governor Frederick Gardner left here this afternoon for Chicago, where he has called a meeting of the governors of Illinois, Ohio, Iowa, Kahsas, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Kentucky and Indiana to discuss the coal situation tomorrow.

Governor Gardner originally called the meeting for St. Louis for tomorrow morning but changed his mind and decided to follow his inclination of last night to hold the meeting in Chicago.

INTERNATIONAL LABOR CONFERENCE QUITS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—After a month's continuous session, the first international labor conference adjourned at 2 p. m. today to meet again subject to the call of the governing body. The delegates from more than a score of countries immediately began preparations for their departure for home, but it probably will be a fortnight before the last of them leave.

Women wage earners, including those engaged in commercial as well as industrial work, would be indemnified for time lost during child birth under a convention adopted today for submission to the various governments for approval.

The convention as originally drafted was amended so that reimbursement would be paid by the state or "by means of a system of insurance."

YARDMEN AND TRAINMEN GO OUT ON STRIKE

Fifteen Hundred at Kansas City Quit Their Work Saturday Afternoon.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Nov. 29.—Fifteen hundred yardmen and trainmen of the Kansas City terminal and railroads entering the city went on strike late today, early reports tonight indicated. Day crews left their work at 4 o'clock this afternoon and night crews coming on at that hour did not go to work. Eight roads are affected so far.

BEGIN WALKOUT AT 4 SATURDAY AFTERNOON

KANSAS CITY, MO., Nov. 29.—Local railroad yard men and trainmen began to walk out at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Reports to the office of the Kansas City Terminal company shortly after four o'clock said twenty Santa Fe crews, twenty two crews of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railway yardmen and trainmen and forty of the Terminal's men had quit work. It was said the men who walked out composed a late shift and had gone to work about the middle of the afternoon.

H. A. Carroll, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of the Kansas City Southern, predicted there would be a general walkout of the local trainmen and yardmen. "We can't stop them," he said.

Railroad officials after conferring in Kansas City tonight addressed telegrams to governors of Missouri and Kansas asking them to appeal to the federal government to supply troops to insure operation of trains during the strike.

BROTHERHOOD PRESIDENT DECLARES STRIKE ILLEGAL

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 29.—W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen, today wired W. M. Corbett, government railroad representative at Kansas City, that the proposed strike of trainmen there is illegal and that no protection or benefits of the brotherhood will be given to men engaging in illegal strikes at Kansas City or elsewhere.

Mr. Lee fully upheld the warning issued to trainmen at Kansas City by H. A. Carroll, general chairman of the trainmen.

EUROPEAN AND ASIATIC SOCIETIES TO APPEAL TO THE U. S. SENATE

PARIS, Nov. 29.—An appeal to the American Senate for ratification of the peace treaty with the League of Nations will be made by the convention of European and Asiatic societies favoring the league which is to be held in Brussels beginning December 1, it was learned today.

The convention will be under patronage of the Belgian government. Eighty delegates representing eighteen nations will attend.

REV. THOMAS ASHBURN DIES FRIDAY NIGHT

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Nov. 29.—Rev. Thomas Ashburn, D. D., formerly pastor of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church of this city, died last night at Dyersburg, Tenn.

STEAMSHIPS COLLIDE BUT DAMAGE SLIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The steamship Adriatic, which sailed today for Cherbourg and Southampton with a long list of distinguished passengers, collided with the steamship St. Michael off the Statue of Liberty while moving down the harbor. The St. Michael's stern was badly damaged under the water line and the ship is leaking but apparently in no serious danger.

The Adriatic is at anchor off Liberty Island. It is not yet known whether she was damaged in the collision.

The British freight steamship St. Michael, in collision with the Adriatic, cleared today with a general cargo for Maceio and Pernambuco. Her displacement is 3,796 gross tons.

The Adriatic was not damaged, according to information received tonight at coast guard headquarters. It was stated the liner probably would remain at anchor in the bay until the fog lifted, then would proceed on her voyage.

Captain F. C. B. Harris, superintendent of the Booth line, which chartered the St. Michael, said tonight he had received a wireless message from the vessel stating that she was "not seriously damaged."

Shortly after midnight the Adriatic hauled up her anchor and again started on her way to Liverpool.

GO TO INVESTIGATE UNREST IN EGYPT

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Viscount Milner, secretary for the colonial passessions, left London this morning for Egypt with the 17 members of the commission appointed to investigate the unrest in that country.

ACTION FOLLOWS INVESTIGATION MICHIGAN SENATORIAL ELECTION IN WHICH HENRY FORD FIGURED

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 29.—Truman H. Newberry, United States senator from Michigan, was indicted by a United States grand jury today for corruption, fraud and conspiracy in connection with the election by which he obtained his seat in the Senate, defeating Henry Ford, his Democratic opponent.

With Newberry 133 other persons were indicted by the grand jury on the same charges. The names of all but twelve most prominent were withheld from publication by Judge Clarence W. Sessions, presiding, until warrants could be served on them. Among those named were W. A. Hopkins of St. Clair, Mich., assistant secretary of the United States senate; John S. Newberry, brother of the senator, Detroit; Frank McKay of Grand Rapids; James B. Bradley, Eaton Rapids, Mich.; and Gladston Beattie, Paw Paw, Mich., and Paul King of Detroit. King was manager of the Newberry campaign committee.

Others Indicted.

The others named were Allan K. Templeton of Detroit, president of the Newberry campaign committee; Frederick Smith, Detroit, manager of the Newberry estate; Charles A. Floyd, Detroit; Mart P. McKee, Detroit; Judd Yelland, Escanaba, Mich.; Milton Oakman, Detroit, formerly county clerk of Wayne county, and Harry O. Turner, Detroit. Judge Sessions indicated the evidence before the grand jury disclosed the fraudulent expenditure of between $500,000 and $1,000,000 in connection with the election.

The blanket indictments were returned dealing with the primary and elections campaign of 1918 in which Henry Ford was Senator Newberry's chief opponent.

Exceed the Limit.

The first indictment charged that both federal and state laws were violated in that sums far in excess of legitimate expenses were used in the campaign. The second indictment cited the affidavits which Senator Newberry made while serving at the Brooklyn navy yard in which he swore no campaign money had been spent by him or with his knowledge. This affidavit, the indictment charged, was a part of a general conspiracy to aid the senator to obtain office illegally and to aid him also in concealing violations of election statutes.

There were six counts in the first indictment. The first four were devoted to charges of excess campaign expenditures. The fifth alleged conspiracy to violate the federal corrupt practices act of October, 1918, which penalizes payment of money to voters. The sixth count to which Frank C. Dailey, special assistant to the attorney general, attached especial significance, alleged that the mails were used "to defraud all the people of the state of Michigan."

Reveal Political Scandal.

Government officials asserted the testimony presented to the grand jury had revealed a political scandal that in many respects was without parallel in American annals. They said it extended from the most populous wards of Detroit to the Indian reservations where aborigines were voted according to the behest of the Newberry campaign organization.

It was alleged voters were bribed, election boards corrupted, editors subsidized and moving picture theatres brought up in the endeavor to defeat Henry Ford first in the primaries of both parties and later, when he had won the Democratic nomination in the election itself.

Officials were secretive as to how the alleged conspiracy was uncovered but a general outline of their methods was made available. It was revealed an attempt was made to repeat the suspected tactics of the 1918 campaign. Under this plan a corps of investigators were sent into the state under direction of Earl J. Houck, who with Frank C. Dailey, special assistant to the attorney general, was a central figure in the election fraud cases of Terre Haute, Indianapolis, Evansville and Frankfort, Ind.

Some 200 Convictions.

These cases beginning in 1915 resulted in some 200 convictions.

Dailey and Houck came to Michigan last August. Bank records were inspected and the visitors lists of safety deposit vaults gone over. With the tale of these as a starter, the investigators were sent out. They visited "small fry" politicians first, offering them vague hints of what might come from a mythical campaign of a certain Michigan politician. Objections to small returns were followed by "confidential" comparisons with the Newberry campaign.

Generally, it was said, these lesser political leaders fell into the traps, telling what they had received and explaining what "ought to handle the money" in given wards of towns. The next grade of political leaders was then approached and by this method, it was stated, a clear trail was blazed to the "higher ups." When brought into the grand jury room and confronted with accurate accounts of their conversations with the agents the men generally, it was said, repeated their stories.

Basis for Indictments.

The government's legal experts, headed by Mr. Bailey, Mr. Dale Carter of Grand Rapids, a former district attorney and Oliver Pagan, industrial expert for the department of justice, took both state and federal laws as the basis for the indictments. The federal corrupt practices act of 1910 limits the expenditures of senatorial candidates to $10,000 and requires that four statements be filed with the secretary of the senate, one preceding and following each of the primary and then the election. The Newberry affidavit cited in the second indictment was filed in correspondence with this act.

The second federal corrupt practices act which the indictments alleged was violated, was passed in October, 1918. It made bribery of voters a crime after several federal courts held that such an act was a matter of defense against the laws of the United States. This law came into being after the Michigan primary, but just ahead of the election.

Expenditures Limited.

The state laws were brought in by the act of 1910 which provides that if a state limits campaign expenditures to less than the $10,000 named in that act, then the state law shall apply to campaigns within the commonwealth. The Michigan statutes limit campaign expenditures to a fourth of the yearly salary of the position sought for each primary or election campaign. An amount for United States senator in this state, may therefore, it was argued, spend only $2,875 on the primary and an equal amount on the election campaign.

The law forbidding use of the mails to defraud was first used in election cases by Mr. Dailey in the Terre Haute indictments.

It was applied to the Newberry case as probably covering various letters sent to campaign contributors, which letters, it was charged, were worded so as to deceive the recipients as to the amounts already collected by the Newberry treasury.

Persons Plea of Ignorance.

To meet a probable defense that Senator Newberry was ignorant of the amount of money and its sources used in his campaign the government intends to use a statement issued by the senator's managers shortly after the first rumors of corruption began to be heard. This statement showed receipts of $478,856 and expenditures of $176,588. Of the contributions John S. Newberry, the senator's brother, was credited with $99,000, A. Victor Barnes of New York, president of the American Book Company and a brother of Mrs. Truman Newberry with $25,000; Henry B. Joy of Detroit, another brother-in-law of the senator, with $25,000, and Mrs. Henry B. Joy, the senator's sister, with $10,000.

The government will attempt to show that all these persons conferred with Truman H. Newberry while he was a candidate, thus indicating his knowledge of the campaign. It also has a number of letters which he wrote to politicians while the campaign was on. Frederick Carr, formerly a Detroit school teacher, but now of New York and connected with the American Book Company, was named as one with whom the candidate conferred.

Charge General Conspiracy.

These circumstances were also used as a basis for the allegation of the second indictment, that there was a general conspiracy to aid the senator to obtain office illegally. There are two counts to this indictment, one in relation to the primary violations and the other to the election statements.

The second indictment starts with a count which charges expenditures in excess of the legal limit in the primary and election combined, and second count alleges the same charge with relation to the primary alone and the third repeats it, as to the election alone.

The fourth count charges violation of the state election law in that more than $6,750 was spent in the two campaigns.

In this connection it was pointed out that while the federal law does not forbid advertising in newspapers, the Michigan statute specifically excludes such a pre-election practice. The statement of expenditures listed by the Newberry campaign managers includes items which total about $148,000 for newspaper advertising.

The count details that with the excess campaign funds, district and county agents and managers and numerous secret propagandists and detectives were hired and their expenses paid; moving picture films were bought and much literature distributed—all of which acts are alleged to be in violation of the Michigan law. The government agents said they had proof one movie film alone cost $8,000.

The fifth count charges conspiracy to commit thousands of offenses against the federal act of October,

OKLAHOMA OPERATORS PLAN TO OPERATE MINES UNDER GUARD

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 29.—Dorsett Carter, president of the Oklahoma Coal Operators association, announced at a meeting of the state council of defense today that Oklahoma coal operators would throw open their mines to nonunion labor and would finance the calling out of the state guard, to protect nonunion workers in event the state's request for federal troops was refused.

Carter told the council of defence, which had met to further discuss the coal situation after yesterday's announcement that volunteer labor would be called for to operate Oklahoma mines, that a meeting of the full membership of the operators' association would be held at McAlester, Okla., Monday, to appoint a committee to cooperate with the state in operating the mines. This committee will be empowered to open offices at the state capitol building to cooperate directly with the state council of defense.

KELL AND ASSOCIATES PERFECT PLANS FOR OPERATING SOUTHERN

LINE TO NEWCASTLE WILL BE TAKEN OVER IN VERY SHORT TIME.

CONNECTS WITH NEW ROAD

Provides Connection Between Wichita Falls and New Line Now Being Constructed.

Operation of the Wichita Falls and Southern will be taken over within a very short time by Frank Kell and associates, it was announced by Mr. Kell Saturday, following notice from the railroad commission that the attorney general had passed favorably on their contract for the purchase of the lease held on this line by the Katy.

Final details such as the basis on which the line will use the present joint terminals and the like have about been worked out, and nothing now stands in the way of an early transfer of the operating control.

Building operations on the new line which will extend the Southern to Ranger and Dublin and the North Central Texas oil fields, is progressing at a highly satisfactory rate, Mr. Kell states, despite adverse weather conditions. He expects the new line to be in operation both ways from Ranger to the new towns, Jamesmon and Frankell, by the first of the year.

Extension of the present line from Newcastle to connect with the part of the new line building north of Ranger will probably begin within a short time, Mr. Kell states, and the entire line will be in operation as soon as the construction can be pushed to a finish. The new line, the line from Newcastle to Dublin, was chartered as the Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth. Under a ruling of the attorney general's department the separate corporation entities of the Wichita Falls and Southern and the Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth, will be maintained, but through trains will be operated from Wichita Falls through Newcastle and Ranger to Dublin.

NEW Y. W. C. A. ROOM TESTING COMMITTEE

A new Y. W. C. A. room listing committee to secure both permanent and temporary rooms for business girls where such can be obtained at reasonable rates has been named, Mrs. T. T. T. Reese, a member of the executive board of the Y. W. C. A., being the chairman. Mrs. Reese named her own committee, which consists of the following: Mrs. Peyton Gwynn, 2613 Ninth; Mrs. Ben G. Oneal, 2011 Eleventh and Mrs. C. J. Hunter, 1667 Elizabeth.

Anyone who has rooms available at reasonable rates, either for permanent use or for use in an emergency, is requested to call Mrs. Reese at telephone 135, or to telephone any of the other members of the committee.

S. S. KOURI INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY AUTO

Struck by a speeding car, flung to the pavement, and partially stunned, S. S. Kouri, an oil operator prominent in all the North Texas fields early Saturday night sustained a broken shoulder blade and narrowly escaped more serious injury. The accident occurred on Tenth street just below Brook, shortly after 8:00 o'clock. Mr. Kouri was struck while crossing the street to re-enter a car on the opposite side of the street. He was picked up and given emergency medical treatment at a downtown office, and was later taken to the Wichita General hospital where it was ascertained that his injuries were not serious, except for the injury to the shoulder.

The driver of the car which struck Mr. Kouri did not slacken speed, and escaped without the number being secured. The police, however, believe that they have a clue which will lead to the arrest of this driver.

THREE DAYS UNTIL THE LOCAL Y. W. C. A. CAMPAIGN BEGINS

Drive Proper Will Start on Wednesday of This Week—B. F. Johnson Manager.

There are three days remaining until the Y. W. C. A. Quarter of a Million Building Fund campaign begins in Wichita Falls, but Saturday the work of the advertising committee began to impress upon the public the fact that there was a Y. W. C. A. campaign pending.

A big banner stretched across the middle of the Eighth-st. block between Ohio and Indiana tells of the object of the campaign succinctly: "$250,000 for the Y. W. C. A. To Build a Home for Business Girls. Do Your Part. Give." Smaller banners, placards and posters were put in store windows, on automobiles, in office windows and displayed prominently in every possible place.

B. F. Johnson, the campaign manager, has made plans which will keep the "issues" of the campaign before the public in various unexpected ways, and the drive will be pushed from the beginning, December 3. Today the achievements of the association since its organization last spring and its plans and hopes for the future are being presented to the congregations of the various churches by speakers who are members of the campaign committee, who are presenting a plea for the financial support of all the churches, for the institution, which is essentially Christian and entirely nonsectarian. Every church with the exception of those who are having special meetings under way are giving the Y. W. C. A. a special part in the program.

Local Clubs Co-Operate.

Endorsements of the campaign, and a promise of hearty support of the organization in the drive have been received at headquarters from Mrs. T. B. Smock, president of the Civic League; Norris H. Martin, president of the Wichita Club, and Dr. C. R. Hartsook, president of the Rotary club. The association has just recently co-operated with the Rotary and Wichita clubs in taking over the management of the Charlotte Kemp hall, where fifteen school teachers are given room and board at reasonable rates, as a means of helping to solve the difficult housing problems in Wichita Falls, and is now asking that the two clubs, as well as all other business interests of the city, and the Civic League and the women of the city give their support in this compaign, so that funds may be secured with which the association can serve all the girls of Wichita Falls instead of a few, and can provide comfortable, pleasant housing accommodations for many more than fifteen, and for girls in every business and profession, as well as teachers.

Believe Amount Small.

In asking $250,000 the men and women who constitute the financial committee have considered the needs of Wichita Falls carefully and believe that they are asking a moderate sum, in fact a relatively small sum from the viewpoint of the great good to be accomplished. The great need for housing accommodations does not need elaboration on. Every one who has been in Wichita Falls, even if only for a few days, knows how difficult it is to find a place to stay in the city, even with the most scanty of accommodations, and with a price entirely incommensurate with the accommodations. What the Y. W. C. A. is planning to do in Wichita Falls, with the quarter of a million to be raised by the coming campaign, is to provide, as it has in other cities, a home for the women and girls who are so important a part in the business life, and who have to live in some one else's home, or in a boarding house or hotel. Trained, efficient women have been forced to leave positions where they were badly needed because they could not find adequate accommodations at a reasonable price, and the business world of Wichita Falls stands to lose more, if conditions are not bettered.

Since the Y. W. C. A. was actively organized, and the cafeteria and recreation room, at 614 Ohio, opened, the association has made what is considered a splendid record, considering the cramped quarters, and the other difficulties under which it has been working.

The cafeteria is the branch of the work that the public knows the most about, and its success is apparent to any one who has seen the long line of girls, women and men also, for the food have quickly come to appreciate wholesome food, well cooked, served in cleanly surroundings and for a reasonable price, as well as have the women. In June, the first month of the cafeteria's operation, a total of 2,800 meals was served. Five months later, the October report shows the patronage had increased so that the total of meals served during the month reached 14,317. In this latter month 8,000 of the persons served were girls or women, and their tickets averaged 45 cents a meal. The cafeteria is serving luncheon and supper each day except Sundays. The space is limited, and the equipment also, because of the lack of space, though through enlargements in the kitchen, it has been possible to continue serving the men. Limiting the service at the noon hour to girls and women only had been considered as necessary for a time.

The new building program, which the $250,000 will make possible, calls for a much larger cafeteria, where many more people can be served, and where it will not be necessary to place any restrictions on the patronage. This is one of the numerous things that will be accomplished with the money that Wichita Falls will be asked to give this coming week.

FORT WORTH MAN TO DELIVER ELKS MEMORIAL ADDRESS

Joe B. Hines of Fort Worth, prominent in B. P. O. E. circles of the state, will deliver the address for the annual memorial services for the Wichita Falls lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, to be held Sunday, December 7. Two members of the local lodge have died during the past year, Ed Gardner and J. B. McKee, who was a transfer to the Wichita Falls lodge, and who was killed in an automobile accident at Cherryvale, Kansas. The memorial eulogies for these two departed Elks will be given by Albert E. Myles.

Final arrangements for the service will be made at a meeting of the committee to be held today, E. G. Hill, the chairman, states. The memorial committee consists of Lloyd Weaver, J. S. Bridwell, A. E. Myles and A. L. Huey, with Mr. Hill.

MORE THAN HUNDRED RECEIVE ODD FELLOWS ENCAMPMENT DEGREE

The occasion of the removal of Wichita Encampment No. 6 of the I. O. O. F. from Iowa Park to Wichita Falls was made of increased significance by the initiation of a class of 126, the largest number to take the Encampment degree that has been recorded at a single meeting in the history of the lodge in Texas, Saturday night, at the Odd Fellows hall, supervised by the Queen City degree team from Fort Worth and attended by a large number of prominent state officials of the lodge.

The incorporation of the Iowa Park encampment with the local body was supervised by District Deputy Grand Patriarch W. D. Pouncey, of Vernon, Grand Patriarch W. A. Stewart of Mineola and Grand Scribe E. Q. Vestal of Dallas of the grand encampment.

After the Encampment degrees of Patriarchal, Golden Rule and Royal Purple, were conferred upon 126 Odd Fellows by the Fort Worth crack degree team No. 103, comprised of 41 members under the direction of Captain F. A. Howell, a class of 105 took the highest degree that can be bestowed upon an Odd Fellow, that of Patriarchs Militant degree.

The officers of the lodge taking part in the initiation were: Brigadier General F. A. Howell, department commander of Fort Worth; Major W. R. Dill, assistant adjutant general, of Fort Worth; Major A. H. Nelson, assistant inspector general, of Fort Worth; Major F. E. Utter, assistant chaplain general, of Fort Worth; Major T. S. W. Verreer, assistant quartermaster general, of Fort Worth; Major C. C. Jennings and Lieutenant Colonel E. Q. Vestal, of staff of general commander, of Dallas.

Preceding the meeting of Saturday night the visitors were honored with a very satisfying banquet at the First Methodist church, at the corner of Lamar and Seventh.

A LEAGUE OF NATIONS

By MARION FORSTER GILMORE.

A League of Nations—such a federation
Great Tennyson once prophesied in song.
But little dreamed what world-wide conflagration
Would make it needful—what stupendous wrong!

Singer and seer, he heralded the hour
When Mars should thunder in the upper air,
But had no vision of that Hunnish power
Which sows its fruitful evil everywhere.

He had not seen, as we, the war cloud creeping
Across a continent, nor heard the cry
That we have heard—Humanity's vast weeping:
No voice proclaimed the millions who would die.

Yet, moved by some celestial inspiration,
His soul beheld the glory of the time
When nation would co-operate with nation
In freedom and integrity sublime.

Another soul today, has seen that vision—
Yet lesser minds oppose his mighty plan,
As though their blind and impotent derision

CAMPAIGN TO SECURE SHRINE TEMPLE IS OF NATION-WIDE EXTENT

A nationwide campaign among Shriners to bring about the authorization of a Shrine temple for Wichita Falls at the next annual convention of the Shriners is being carried on from the local Chamber of Commerce offices, Hubert Harrison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, having been designated by the local Shrine club to direct this campaign.

It is understood that only one new temple will be authorized for Texas during the coming year, and that there will be a contest between Wichita Falls and one or more other places for this designation. Letters bringing to the attention of the Shriners the size and present importance of Wichita Falls, together with statistics as to the phenomenal growth it has experienced in the past year, and asking their support to the efforts of the local Shriners to secure this temple, are being sent to all Shriners in the United States in connection with this campaign. The Shriners are also being advised of the great number of Shriners in Wichita Falls, and their prospects of having a Shrine club of over 1,000 members by the time the temple can be authorized. In the meantime the local Shriners are carrying on a campaign to increase the membership of the club, Joe Ward being in charge of this work.

It is understood that the local Shriners expect in the near future to buy a lot, expecting that the temple, if not authorized this year, will be authorized the next. Present plans are for the erection of a temple to cost about $250,000. At present the nearest temples are Mosiah temple at Fort Worth, and Hella temple at Dallas.

This campaign is the second now being carried on from the Chamber of Commerce offices, that office handling the detail work of the Y. W. C. A. drive.

SUNDAY SERVICES FOR DR. HENDRICKS REVIVAL MEETING

A men's meeting, to be held at 3 o'clock at the Majestic Theatre by Dr. E. E. Hendrick, will feature the day's services of the revival party, which has been at the First Presbyterian Church for a week. The musicians, Dale Haven and Lauris Mallard, will have charge of the music at the men's service, and a cordial invitation is extended to every man young and old to attend the service.

The Sunday school hour will be a Decision Day service, Dr. Hendricks and his party to have charge of the services. The usual 11 o'clock service will be held by the evangelist with night services at the usual hour, 7:30.

There were no services Saturday, but Friday night's service is reported to have especially inspirational, despite the bad weather and resulting small attendance. Dr. Hendricks subject was: "The Christian's Wealth," preaching from the text "For all these things are yours, life, death, things present and things to come; all these are yours, and ye are Christ's and Christ is God's."

ARREST MAN WHEN HE OFFERS RAISED STOCK CERTIFICATES

A man was arrested in the Peoples Stock Exchange Saturday night when it is alleged, he offered for sale two raised stock certificates. Detectives Overby and Jackson of the city police made the arrest, and the party was afterward turned over to the county authorities. He denied any knowledge of the alleged raising of the certificates, declaring that he had purchased them from another party in good faith. Both certificates, which were on the Comanche-Northern Oil Co., a corporation having its central office at Fort Worth, were, it is claimed, raised to 20 shares, one of them being originally drawn for one and one for two shares. The par value of the stock in the Comanche-Northern is $10.

Officials of the stock exchange say that this stock was first offered on the Central Stock Exchange, and that the exchange asked Fort Worth over their wire to investigate the stocks, and were told that the certificates were raised.

Considerable trouble has been encountered with the stock of the Comanche-Northern, more than perhaps with the certificates of any other company, officials of the stock exchange assert, and that this was the reason for the query.

Other stocks which they state have given them trouble on account of either raised or forged certificates are those of the Mona Marie Oil Co., the Waurika Oil Co. Nos. 1 and 2 and the Double F, all having shares of par value of $10 or less.

PRESIDENT MARTIN CALLS MEETING WELFARE WORKERS

Norris H. Martin, president of the Welfare Council, organization of which was commenced at the Union Thanksgiving Services last Thursday, has called a meeting of the committees named from the various societies and churches of the city Monday, December 1, at the First Presbyterian Church at 8:30 p. m. The meeting had been called for Friday night, but was postponed on account of the weather.

Completion of the organization of the Council will be effected at the Monday night meeting. All members of the committees named to act in the organization of the council are urged to be present.

GREENBERG WINS THE FIRST LEG OF CONTEST IN GUN CLUB SHOOT

Charles Greenberg won the first leg of the battleship painting trophy with a score of 38 birds out of 50 broken with a handicap of 8, which put him ahead of the field, at the regular weekly shoot of the gun club Saturday afternoon at the local traps attended by eight members and two visitors. The shooting conditions were adverse and probably accounted for the low scores.

Two visitors, in addition to the regular members present, waded through the deep mud between the city and the grounds and there was keen competition between the seven number present, especially one event between five of the members which resulted in a triple tie. The shoot off brought forth a second tie and darkness prevented a further shooting.

Shooting next Saturday will start promptly at 3 p. m. and will have as an added attraction a contest among the younger sportsmen for the Junior Championship of Wichita Falls. There are many boys in the city who can handle the shot gun nearly as expertly as their elders among whom are Frank and Preston Wood and Young Pope.

RETAIL MERCHANTS DISCONTINUE PAYING FOR TRASH HAULING

Saturday night the Retail Merchants Association discontinued the trash and garbage collection to a downtown district, according to a statement by John W. Thomas, secretary of the organization, and in future business concerns will have to make individual arrangements to have this work done.

The Retail Merchants Association took over this work just one month ago, when the city, which had taken care for this work for a number of years, making only a nominal charge, announced their discontinuance of the service due to the fact that the expense incurred by this service was far in excess of the returns, and that the business men would not "stand a sufficient raise" to make the service self-sustaining. "After one month's operation, during which the trash and garbage was not removed in anything like a sanitary manner, I find that there is a shortage of something like $500 to $600 between the amount paid by the merchants and the cost of the service, which was $1400," said Mr. Thomas in commenting on this decision. "So many of the merchants have made arrangements to have their trash hauled independently, and others, who have had their trash hauled by the city for a nominal sum, objected to paying the increased assessment, which, with our showing this first month, convinced me that we could not handle the proposition and come out on the right side of the ledger. So we have just decided to step out."

The matter will be left up to the individual property owners, at least for the present, as far as the city is concerned, it was indicated Saturday by Dr. J. F. Reed, chairman of the sanitary commission. "They must get rid of the trash individually, the best way they can," was Dr. Reed's comment.

Nothing further has been heard from the Denver parties who made an offer to the city to take over this work for a certain sum. Dr. Reed stated, further negotiations being held up awaiting receipt and examination of the Denver ordinance under which this system is being operated in that city.

NO SUNDAY SHOWS ON SCHEDULE TODAY

Neither the Wichita theatre nor any of the picture shows will be open Sunday, according to statements by the management.

Positive statements that the Empress and Gem shows would not attempt to run Sunday shows were made at those theatres. At the Majestic the statement was made that that theatre would not open on this Sunday, but as to their course on Sundays in the future the management was non-committal.

In the case of the Wichita theatre, where an intention of remaining open on Sundays was announced during the latter part of the week, inability to secure a company to put on the show was given as the reason for their decision not to hold a Sunday show.

"The company which is to put on this week's bill could not arrive from San Antonio in time to put on a Sunday show," Manager Charles Kirkpatrick announced Saturday night. "I could not hold the company which was here this week over, so the result is that we have no company to put on a Sunday show."

Shows will be given on Sundays at the Wichita theatre as soon as arrangements to have a company here on that day, it was announced.

SAW GERMANS SIGN THE PEACE TREATY AND MADE A TRIP THROUGH ARMENIA

C. G. Hursh, nephew of District Clerk A. F. Kerr, returned last week from service overseas. Mr. Hursh went to France with the 140th Infantry of the 35th Division and was in the fighting. After the armistice he was transferred to the peace commission guard and saw the Germans sign the peace treaty at Versailles. Later he went to Armenia with Major General Harbord who was sent there on a special mission by the American government. He spent several months in Asia and in European Turkey.

"If experience makes a man rich, I ought to be a millionaire," said Mr. Hursh Saturday.

BANK CLEARINGS FOR WEEK SHOW A SLIGHT DECREASE

Bank clearings for the week ending Saturday showed a decrease of $491,691.47, compared with the figures of last week, probably on account of the holiday on Thanksgiving. The total amount of clearings was $1,181,582.55 against a total of $5,673,274.02, reported by the local banks last week. The figures were as follows: Monday, $1,117,506.31; Tuesday, $941,248.62; Wednesday, $878,078.88; Friday, $1,138,913.07; Saturday, $1,045,835.

SOON TO BEGIN A HEALTH CAMPAIGN OVER THE COUNTY

With the perfection of the organization of the unit which will assist him in his work in Wichita county, Dr. A. W. West, the new whole-time county health officer expects shortly to begin a county-wide health campaign with the object of eradicating as far as possible all preventable diseases, and the stopping of the immense economic waste which results from this preventable sickness, together with the education of the people of the county into the latest methods in public and home sanitation.

Control of soil pollution, through the installation of sanitary toilets throughout the county, and the resulting control of such complaints as are spread in this manner, such as hookworm, typhoid fever, and similar complaints, will be one of the first ends to which Dr. West and his assistants will bend their energies.

Innoculation against typhoid fever and small pox vaccinations, together with the examination of school children for physical defects such as defective hearing, defective vision, adenoids, defective teeth and incipient pulmonary tuberculosis, will also come in for early attention from this department.

J. A. Little, who has been an inspector with the state board of health for a number of years, is the latest addition to Dr. West's staff. He is to be permanently stationed here as a sanitary inspector.

Other additions to the staff which will be made shortly are a registered nurse, who is to be furnished by the Red Cross, a stenographer and a clinical assistant. The nurse is to work with the health officer in working as a community nurse.

The organization of this work was made possible through the offer of the Rockefeller foundation to give $5,000 annually for such work in the first five counties of Texas which made like appropriations. Dr. West and his staff are working in co-operation with Dr. M. M. Walker, the Wichita county health officer. Offices for the new staff have been established at the Wichita county court house.

THIRTEEN ADDITIONAL ENUMERATORS REQUIRED FOR THOROUGH CANVASS

Thirteen census enumerators are necessary for Wichita county, in addition to those secured up to the present, to insure a thorough canvass, it was stated at the Chamber of Commerce office Saturday. Two of these additional enumerators are needed for Justice Precinct No. 1, excluding Wichita Falls. One is needed for Call Field and one for Justice Precinct No. 4, the town of Electra being excluded in this. Five will be needed in the Justice Precinct No. 2 Burkburnett excluded, and four will be required for Electra, and one for Precinct No. 4, outside Electra.

The Chamber of Commerce is very anxious that the public realize the great importance of a correct census enumerations, and has undertaken to assist the district census enumerator in securing a sufficient number of assistants to make the census.

In the Womanhood of Wichita Falls

Hundreds of young business women in this city are looking to the Young Women's Christian Association to assist them in finding comfortable living quarters at a reasonable cost.

These young women are the trusted clerks, loyal assistants and stenographers who make the wheels go around in your office and mine. These young women are not looking for charity. They are important persons in the business scheme of our city. They want to pay their way. They must be given the right kind of surroundings.

It is to protect these young women from influences that would not be wholesome, to make this city a little more comfortable and more homelike—that the leading citizens of Wichita Falls are now asking for

$250,000 FOR THE Y. W. C. A.

This money is to be spent wisely and carefully for the construction of suitable living and recreation quarters for the business women of Wichita Falls. They will be given a proper place to live, wholesome meals at a reasonable cost, and the right sort of recreation and entertainment and social life.

Wednesday, December 3 to December 10

The week beginning next Wednesday will be devoted to the solicitation of funds for this worthy cause. YOU cannot escape your own individual responsibility in this matter. Suppose YOUR SISTER were asking for the comforts that the Y. W. C. A. provides.

THE BLUE TRIANGLE stands for a fully developed womanhood along the highest American ideals.

Do your part—Give something. Invest in a proposition that will pay you dividends in a satisfied conscience always.

To Fight Buddhism in Hawaiian Islands

Japanese Mother and Children

Japanese Girls playing Games in the Yard of St. Mary's Mission, Honolulu

Chinese Girls at St. Mary's Mission

Japanese Girls at St. Mary's

More schools for the children of the Hawaiian Islands will be one of the direct results of the Nation-Wide Campaign of the Episcopal Church, which has been inaugurated to raise more than $4,000,000 and to enlist 1,500 new workers for the development of missionary work in all its phases.

Children's schools, both day and boarding, have been established with great success by the Episcopal Church in Honolulu and on all the other islands of the group, but the Chinese and Japanese children, the Portuguese and Hawaiians who live there are still in great need of the influence of Christian schools and modern educational methods. Already the Buddhists have twenty-five schools and a temple for the educational and religious training of the youth of the islands, although the native Hawaiians are largely Episcopalian in their religion, more work must be done if the spread of Buddhism throughout the islands is to be checked.

The schools of the Episcopal Church in the Hawaiian Islands have been successful beyond expectations in their results. The influence of the schools has been felt not only in the islands themselves, but also back in Japan and China, the home countries of a large percentage of the population. Dr. Sun Yat Sen, China's first, and provisional president, received his education in one of these Christian schools in Hawaii. Boys' schools, girls' schools and co-educational schools have all done untold good among the Chinese and Japanese element. All nationalities in the islands are taken into consideration by the Episcopalian missions, but since the Japanese and Chinese predominate, most of the work is done with them. About one-sixth of the 217,744 inhabitants of the Hawaiian Islands is pure Hawaiian.

In order to continue and expand its work of educating and Christianizing this important group of islands, known as "the crossroads of the Pacific," the Episcopal Church needs $225,110, according to its latest prospectus. This budget includes the establishment of schools, orphanages and church buildings.

In its early missionary days in the Hawaiian Islands, the Episcopal Church was instrumental in breaking down one of the most vicious religious systems that ever existed, and brought the native from a state of barbaric superstition to a condition of enlightenment and education that has practically regenerated the islands. Their old religion was taboo, and consisted of a series of prohibitions that made life absolute slavery. Certain foods, places, persons, things, customs, were declared tabu at stipulated times. Fire, light, bathing, work, were prohibited; liking was against the divine law. Dogs' mouths were tied to prevent their barking.

All this has been overcome now, and the islands stand in a fair way to become more thoroughly Christianized and modernized when the Nation-Wide Campaign of the Episcopal Church carries out its plans to counteract Buddhism there.

LOCAL AUTO DEALERS MAKE DELIVERIES IN SPITE OF HANDICAP

Despite the bad weather of the past week the local automobile dealers have made a number of deliveries and the only trouble seems to be the difficulty they have in securing enough cars to fill their orders. The bad roads between Wichita Falls and nearby points like Ringgold, Waurika and Henrietta where the dealers are accustomed to have cars shipped and then drive them overland, caused by the continued rains have rendered problematic the delivery of many cars already sold, but as soon as the weather clears up dealers are anticipating a rushing business.

"One thing I know," declared C. W. Nolen, of Nolen-Stringer, who handle the Haynes and the Garford truck, "if we have business in spring as large in comparison as we are enjoying now, in what the trade calls the dull season, we will have no kick at all." The hints to the dealer, in the current "Motor Age," as to methods of combatting the slow business during the winter, by introducing an extended number of sidelines, evidently has little application for all of the firms seem to be doing "business as usual."

Lloyd Weaver reports the delivery during the past two weeks of the following cars: Mrs. Wilhelm, 7-passenger Hudson; Rex Canon, 4-passenger Hudson; J. W. Nolen, 4-passenger Hudson; Morris Pois, 4-passenger Hudson; A. W. Gieske 4-passenger Hudson; Dr. Burlson, 4-passenger Hudson; M. B. Walker, Essex Sedan; O. L. Bahl, Hudson 4-passenger; C. E. Atherton, Essex roadster; Shamrock Oil Co, Essex roadster; Robert and Hill, Essex roadster; E. B. Boykin, Essex touring model; C. D. Shamburger, 7-passenger Hudson; Texhoma Oil and Refining Co., Hudson 4-passenger; S. S. Kours, 4-passenger Hudson; F. T. Wileds, Stutz roadster. The past two weeks have been record breakers for this concern in spite of the bad weather.

The Franklin and Holmes automobile agency has sold quite a large number of cars during the past week, according to C. J. Waebler, the manager, who reports having delivered three Franklin Sedans, four Franklin town cars, one three passenger Holmes, three seven passenger Holmes and three four passenger Holmes. The Holmes air cooled car bids to rival the popularity of the Franklin, locally this agency declares, to judge from the number of admiring comments they hear about the cars every day.

Eckman & Von Allmen, distributors in Wichita and surrounding counties for the Hupmobile and Westcott cars, report the delivery of Hupmobiles to the following people: W. H. Garrett, Bernard Martin, L. O. Brooks and G. C. Davis. They expect a carload of Hupmobiles, including a Sedan and a Coupe, by the first of next week.

The first Hupmobile in this city to be equipped with wire wheels is owned by Mrs. E. M. Conway, who had the local dealers put in a special order for the equipment. The car is a roadster and makes quite a neat job with the white wire wheels.

The Nolen Stringer Co. have delivered a Haynes 4-passenger model to Mrs. J. W. Stringer, also one of the same design to Bud Merritt. Two Garford trucks have been delivered by this firm during the past week, both going to Ralston Brothers. As soon as the roads are passable between here and Ringgold and Dallas this firm will drive three carloads of Haynes through. Included in these shipments are a Sedan and a Coupe.

The 4-passenger model Haynes, with its graceful lines, is proving the most popular of the list, the agents say, and they are having trouble to secure enough of this model to meet the demand.

SYMPATHY AROUSED FOR "PUSSY FOOT" JOHNSON AS A RESULT OF INJURY

LONDON, Nov. 29.—"With all the million of eyes there are in the world it will not matter much if there is one less," "Pussy Foot" Johnson, American prohibition agent, declared after physicians had removed one of his eyes Thursday.

Scores of messages of sympathy was received by the American dry leader today. Sympathy for the courageous American, who was injured when "ragged" by London medical students, was unanimous throughout England. Both "wets" and "drys" expressed their admiration of his grit.

"One eye is almost as good as two anyway," Johnson declared, although his physicians admitted his remaining eye may be affected.

The Evening News has started a fund for Johnson "as a token of admiration for his pluck, courage and unfailing good nature" and headed the list of subscriptions with 100 pounds.

"It will not compensate for the loss of his eye, or the suffering he has sustained but will be a tribute of practical sympathy from thousands of Londoners and some acknowledgement that this side of the water is adopting that phrase Americans admire, 'white man's sympathy,' the News said. "The British people admire a sportsman, no matter what his political opinions," the newspaper added. "They have not forgotten that when Johnson's suffering was keenest he exonerated the taggers from blame and assured them he did not believe their attack malicious."

BAKER WAS LOOKING FOR A BUCK PRIVATE

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 29.—Secretary of War Baker, who visited Camp Zachary Taylor when he came here to attend a meeting of the National Consumers' League, reached the first division for a "buck" private, he met while in the battle area of France.

The entire division turned out for inspection during which Mr. Baker looked for the lad who made him laugh "long heartily" while "over there."

"I want to make you a bet," said the secretary, addressing the division and asking that the man step forward at present.

"It was like this," he began. "With several general officers, I was visiting the troops near the front. We sat in a big touring car. A soldier of the First Division came along with a gun and a pack on his shoulder. looked shyly into the car and remarked: 'Say, bo, you sure have got it soft.'"

The doughboy was not in the ranks and he slightly he missed a "chicken dinner" which Mr. Baker said he would pay for.

LOCAL BAPTISTS EXPECT TO RAISE $150,000 QUICKLY

"One Hundred and Fifty Thousand in Ten Minutes" is the subject of Rev. O. L. Powers sermon, to be preached this morning at the 11 o'clock service at the First Baptist church, and Mr. Powers stated Saturday that at the service it was the purpose of the local Seventy-Five Million campaign committee to raise the entire local quota in ten minutes. There have been weeks of preliminary organization to make the campaign a success, all efforts being bent toward raising the quota early in the campaign, which starts Sunday, November 30 and continues for one week. Mr. Powers, who was district organizer and has worked incessantly for the campaign, is confident that not only his church but every church in the county and the district will go over the top, and finish the campaign in very short time.

The canvass of Wichita Falls for this campaign has revealed that there are more Baptists in the city who have not united with the churches than there are members of the churches, Mr. Powers stated. These Baptists are to be solicited for the campaign so that they may have a part in the big program of the southern Baptists.

DECLARES THE PUBLIC WILLING TO BE GOUGED

DALLAS, TEXAS, Nov. 29.—From the apathy shown by the public, the people are willing to be "gouged" by profiteers, according to F. M. Spencer, special agent of the department of justice in charge of the bureau of investigation here. Without co-operation of the public, he said, the department's hands are tied in its efforts to suppress profiteering.

"I have received numerous complaints about profiteering, but when I suggest prosecution the complaining witnesses hold up their hands in horror and ask me not to get them mixed up," said Mr. Spencer. "The Lever act has teeth and they are sharp, but the department cannot proceed against profiteers unless victims will act as prosecuting witnesses.

"When any one buys anything and has reason to believe he or she has been charged an excessive price and will testify against the accused I will gladly arrest and prosecute, but I must have the co-operation of the public before I can do any effective work.

"If the people are willing to be gouged, let them stop howling about profiteering. The Lever bill gives this department ample authority on which to operate and I am willing and anxious to arrest and prosecute profiteering munitionaires and will be stopped if men and women who buy anything will tell me when they think they have been victimized."

PLAN TO REHABILTATE SHEEP RAISING INDUSTRY

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Rehabilitation of the sheep raising industry, said to be in a sad plight as a result of the war, is being planned at a conference here today. Eighteen experts in sheep raising and wool culture representing the industry's interests in the same number of states, comprise the assembly.

Important recommendations are expected the meeting to the department of agriculture on the wool industry as it affects clothing prices.

LOCAL BAPTISTS PREPARE TO DRILL THE FIRST TEST WELL IN DALLAM COUNTY

Special to The Times.

DALHART, TEX., Nov. 29.—Complete standard California drilling rig, including extra large and heavy tools, six-inch ideal rig irons and material for an 8-ton standard derrick arrived in Dalhart yesterday. This rig is owned by the Dalhart Oil and Gas Company of Dalhart and despite the recent rains and snow, is being moved on to the site of their Dalhart No. 1 well on the James ranch, 14 miles north of this city.

W. J. Bell and crew of rig builders arrived from Los Angeles today to erect the rig. Contract for the well was let to E. Byron Hines of Los Angeles. This is Dallam county's first well and will be drilled to 4,500 feet if necessary, and is creating much interest among the oil fraternity.

Mr. McBride, rig builder, and Pat O'Connell, drill contractor, for the Prairie Oil and Gas Co., have been here several days looking over drilling sites, making necessary arrangements before commencing several wells for three companies.

Material for three rigs is being unloaded 30 miles southeast of Dalhart for wells in that vicinity.

Two carloads of machinery to be used in the R. E. Taylor Syndicate well No. 1 in Dallam county are en route from Petrico, 25 miles southwest of Dalhart.

A. M. James, president of the Dalhart Oil and Gas Co., a prominent southwestern banker and cattle man, is in Fort Worth closing an important drilling contract on a portion of his Dallam county ranch.

Representatives of the Prairie Oil and Gas Co., Sinclair Consolidated Oil and Gas Co., Texas & Pacific Coal and Oil Co., Emerald Oil Co., Humble Co., Tidewater Oil Co. and many independent lease brokers have been very active here assembling for 10 days. Fifty dollars per acre is the highest price record for leases, this being paid for a quarter section near the Dalhart No. 1 well.

SALTON SEA IN THE IMPERIAL VALLEY IS A WONDER OF WEST

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29.—The Salton Sea in the Imperial Valley, one of the natural wonders of the West, is constantly shrinking. At present it is about 18 miles long and nine miles wide at the greatest point. During the last five years the water is said to have retreated about a mile a year, leaving a salt encrusted alkali land which is eagerly seized by homesteaders. Often their location stakes are planted in the water.

The sea which lies 169 feet below the level of the ocean abounds in fish, shellfish and carp, which local and Arizona capitalists are planning to utilize by erection of a fish factory.

The United States Department of Agriculture reports that the level of the Salton Sea has been receding at the rate of [illegible] daily producing [illegible] land.

Geologists say the Salton "Sink" as it once was known, in prehistoric times has changed from a desert to a sea and from sea to desert [illegible] years or more. For centuries the Colorado River would flow quietly to the Gulf of California and gradually build up a sand bar across its mouth. Then some spring flood would cause a washout in the river's bank further north and the whole torrent would course toward the Salton Sink. The desert would become an inland sea, remaining so for centuries, perhaps, until some great flood would cause a shorter way to the ocean. The sea would be drained and the river would take into a desert.

Mud volcanoes abound near the sea, great alfilaree inland. They are small sizes up to crear mounds 10 feet in height. They all emit steam, some in a steady streams, others intermittently and alternately. Many of them give out a sulphurous gas. At times the [illegible] can be heard for miles.

More and more the sea is being visited by tourists and during the heated season, when the temperature is from 10 to 20 degrees cooler than in the valley towns, dances are frequently held on an old wharf, which once served as a landing place for fishing boats but which has been left high and dry by the receding waters.

Of special interest to the tourist are the bubbling "mudpots." As the water retreats it is in a state of constant shifting. Gases from some unknown subterranean source are continually finding escape through unexpected events in the bottom. Layer after layer of colored pigment is deposited. The retreating waters have left uncovered acres of this deposit, said by experts to be fully equal to the dry sienna and umber colors, of which so much is imported.

It is thought that the shrinkage of the Salton Sea will continue until it finally becomes a salt "pan," with a pool of brackish water in the center, unless a fresh outburst of the great Colorado should replenish its waters.

1918, forbidding payment of money to voters.

Over Contribute.

The state court alleges that certain defendants in such contributed more than the total amount allowed by law, knowing all the time they were violating the statutes and that certain of the defendants induced others to give falsely representing the amounts already contributed to the campaign.

It is alleged further that more than one-fifth of the amounts so contributed were converted to the personal use of certain politicians. It is also charged that more than $100,000 was paid to newspapers, compilers of all degrees, for office and hall rent, dinners and other entertainment.

The charge that James Helm was hired on salary and expenses to run against Ford in the Democratic primary follows and then come accusations that Republican candidates for county offices were paid money upon condition that they support the Newberry senatorial aspirations. The count concludes with allegations of wholesale bribery of voters, election boards and other officials.

The [illegible] penalty which may be imposed under the indictments is a fine of $10,000 and two years imprisonment.

The court proceedings today lasted less than 30 minutes but served to wind up the activities of a grand jury that was first convened six weeks ago. After that week's work the jury retired for a week but the last twenty-five days have been a steady grind for the inquisitors and the federal officers connected in the case.

It was learned later that the men whose handiwork appeared would be arraigned Monday, Oct. [illegible].

Complaints Are Filed.

Investigation by grand jury of the election of Truman H. Newberry to the United States senate, was ordered by the department of justice and was handled was announced, on [illegible] complaints and public charges of fraud and corruption made by the lieutenant governor of Michigan and others. United States District Judge Sessions presided over the jury, which was conducted by Frank C. Dallas and H. Hale Bouvé, special attorneys to United States Attorney General Palmer.

Witnesses were summoned from every part of the state and represented both political parties. They numbered into the hundreds and included both men and women. Chase S. Osborn, former governor of Michigan and one of the Republican candidates defeated for the nomination by Mr. Newberry in the primary election, was the first witness summoned.

Truman H. Newberry, secretary of the navy, in the cabinet of Theodore Roosevelt, was declared elected over Henry Ford, Detroit automobile manufacturer, the Democratic nominee, in Michigan's last senatorial election. Mr. Ford's name appeared on both the Republican and Democratic tickets in the nominating primary and this fact, together with the charge that money was freely spent in the election of Mr. Newberry, resulted in the making of radical changes in the Michigan election laws by the last legislature. Mr. Newberry's expense statement for election showed disbursements of $176,000.

The Republican nomination was carried by Mr. Newberry after a very

FORTY-FIVE THOUSAND WITNESSED BIG EVENT

By HENRY FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Midshipman Charles King of Idaho, right tackle on the navy team, gave Uncle Sam's sea force a six to nothing victory over the army in the renewal of their annual gridiron battle here this afternoon.

In the second period King was called back from his position in the line to try for a goal from placement. From the 36 yard line the Idaho boy booted a perfect goal from the hands of Quarterback Koehler.

Again in the third period, the navy sent an S. O. S. to King and he repeated from the 35 yard line.

The feat of this new navy hero gave Annanapolis a victory that it had almost despaired of and it caused the rain soaked midshipmen on the side lines to leave their seats and engage in a wild snake dance and parade past the grand stands of the army, where they hurled jubilant shouts at the glum cadets.

The score does not indicate the extent to which the navy had the soldiers outclassed. The vaunted impregnable line of the army was crushed to pieces before the eyes of Secretary Baker, Generals Pershing and March and other high ranking officers of the army.

Clark and Cruise, two navy stars had Secretary Daniels, Admiral Sims and the navy notables on their feet time after time with brilliant runs and smashes through the West Point line.

Responding to the yells of "fight like hell!" the army took hold of itself within its inner sanctum and by grim, desperate fighting hurled back the navy charges when a slip would have meant a touch down.

The navy lacked the punch to penetrate the army line when a gain meant a touch down and had it not been for the toe of the Idaho middle kicker honors would have been even.

McQuarrie, the big full back of the army, was the shining light of the soldier squad. His punting was a defensive factor which pulled the army out of frequent holes. Twice, standing behind his own goal line, he was hurried to get a kick away when the navy forwards broke through but he succeeded both times and booted the wet, slippery ball for 45 yards.

From a technical standpoint the game was very ordinary. It was unusual, however, because of the absence of fumbling, which would have been pardonable in the drizzling rain which fell throughout the entire game.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The navy wrote another football upset into the 1919 season by defeating the army here this afternoon by the score of 6 to 0. The army came on the field of battle a favorite but at no stage of the game did the West Pointers seriously menace the navy goal.

The Annapolis score was represented by two goals from placement. King, right tackle for the midshipmen showed superiority over their opponents in all departments of the game.

At the final toot of the whistle the midshipmen with one accord hurled their golden megaphones into the air. It was like a shower of sparks descending on the field.

Then for the navy came a glorious rush to midfield and a rally around the colors. Cheering madly, the middies, their sea-faring goat stamping proudly at their head, passed in triumphal procession under the army's goal post.

The cadets took their beating like the soldiers they are, facing the navy's music until the last note of the gridiron celebration had ended. Remaining with them were their leaders, Secretary Baker and Generals Pershing and March, who, with Secretary Daniels, of the victors, followed every play of the contest with the zest of youth.

Forty-five thousand pilgrims from north, south, east and west fought their way to the polo grounds today to see army and navy clash on the gridiron for the first time since the United States entered the world war.

On the West Point side was Secretary Baker with his staff; on the Annapolis side, Secretary Daniels, equally well supported.

But these were only the visible spectators. Along the Rhine and the Rio Grande, in far away Hawaii and the army posts of the west were grizzled veterans who in imagination lived over again football dramas they once had seen. On warships riding the seas and at shore stations at home and abroad men in blue awaited the crackle of the radio which would bring to them the tidings of victory or defeat.

All the ceremonies of the service classic endeared by tradition to graduates of the two academies were faithfully observed.

Army Wins Toss.

At 2:00 o'clock Captain Owen of the navy and Captain McQuarrie of the army met Referee Langford in the field and army won the toss.

Captain McQuarrie selected the east goal with a slight wind at his back.

Clark kicked off to the army's 30 yard line.

After one line plunge McQuarrie punted, the ball going out of bounds on the navy's 30 yard line. Clark broke through army's right wing and made it first down on the 48 yard line. Cruise gained eight yards. Clark tried a field goal from the 37 yard line but it fell five yards short.

After three unsuccessful line tries McQuarrie punted to navy's 45 yard line.

Clark made six yards around the army's right end. Koehler made it first down on the army's 35 yard line.

The navy lost the ball to the army on the soldiers' 35 yard line with an incompleted forward pass. McQuarrie immediately punted to the navy's three yard line. The middies kicked out and Schabacher made a fair catch on the navy's 35 yard line. McQuarrie tried a field goal from placement but the ball went wild and the navy put it in play on their 20 yard line.

The army line was adamant and Clark was forced to punt. Wilhide caught it on the army's 45 yard line and was dropped without gain. Three savage line smashes picked up seven yards and then McQuarrie punted for a touchback. The sailors reopened the play on their 20 yard line.

An end run by Benoist from a kick formation was good for four yards. Here the first period ended. Score: army 0; navy 0.

Second Period.

After the teams changed goals the navy in three line plunges made a first down on their 42 yard line. The cadets' defense stiffened and the navy punted to the army's 20 yard line.

On the second, lien-up the cadets punted to navy's 47 yard line. Here White replaced Kieffer as army left end.

The middies steadily battering at center made it first down on the army's 42 yard line.

Clark and Cruise with similar plays made another first down on the army's 33 yard line. Clark, from a fake forward pass formation made eight yards around White's end. Clark followed with a dive off the army's left tackle for a first down on the soldiers' 22 yard mark. Benoist picked up four yards outside army's right tackle. The third play was simply a shift across the field to get in front of the goal posts. From the army's 25 yards line King kicked a field goal. Score: navy 3; army 0.

The kick was made from a scrimmage placement. Army kicked off from their 40 yard line. Koehler was thrown on the navy's 35 yard line. Two plays gave the middies eight yards. A dive by Cruise made it first down on the navy's 48 yard line. Herrick replaced Vogel at right guard and Gregory replaced Lyndt at left half back for the army. Cruise made four yards outside of Travis. Clark three more through center. He then dropped back and punted for a touchback over the army goal line. West Point from their 20 yard line made five yards inside of Captain Owen. The navy line held here and McQuarrie punted out of bounds on the navy's 39 yard line. Benoist pierced the army's left wing for seven yards and here the second period ended. Score: navy 3; army 0.

Exchange Courtesies.

Between the halves Secretary Daniels, wearing a soft felt hat, advanced to the center of the field where he met Secretary Baker, his silk hat drenched by rain. With Mr. Baker were Generals Pershing and March and after the exchange of courtesies in midfield, Representatives of the army paid a visit to the navy stands.

In the third period Vogel had replaced Herrick as right guard for the army.

McQuarrie's kick off crossed the middies' goal line for a touchback. From his 20 yard line, Clark hammered his way forward four yards. Clark then punted to the army's 37 yard line where the ball was permitted to roll dead.

Schabacher made four yards out side of King and Wilhide added two more. McQuarrie punted to the navy's 24 yard line where Blaik was hurt. Koehler made four yards over Vogel and then Clark punted to the army's 20 yard mark where Wilhide was chilled without gain. Schabacher picked up four yards outside of King. McQuarrie next punted to navy's 27 yard line where Koehler was tackled by Blaik without a gain.

Two line plunges and a delayed end run netted but five yards and Clark punted to Wilhide on the army's 20 yard line. Wilhide ran it back 10 yards. After two short ground gaining line plunges, Koehler intercepted Gregory's forward pass and the middies put the ball in play at exactly midfield.

Three line plunges were shot of 10 yards and Clark punted out of bounds on army's four yard line. Standing well behind his own goal line, McQuarrie punted to Koehler on the army's 36 yard mark. On a quick drive through Vogel, Benoist made it first down for the navy on the soldiers' 28 yard line.

Kicks Second Field Goal.

King kicked another field goal for navy. Score: navy 6; army 0.

Blaik spoiled Koehler's attempted end run. Here Wilkie replaced Moore, navy right guard. Three navy line attacks were repulsed and on the fourth play the middies forward pass grounded back of the goal line.

There was no middie near enough to receive Koehler's heave and on the touchback play the West Pointers received the ball on their 30 yard line. Koehler slipped and fell as he caught the ball. Benoist gained eight yards and then made a first down on army's 44 yard line. Storeck replaced Travis as left tackle for army. Here the third period ended. Score: navy 6; army 0.

Navy put the ball in play in the fourth period on the army's forty yard line and Benoist advanced three yards. Cruise made it a first down on the cadets' 33 yard line. Two plunges were good for eight yards and Benoist made it another first down on the army's 18 yard line. Davidson replaced Vogel, army right guard. On the fourth down King dropped back to army's 23 yard line and kicked a clean field goal from a scrimmage replacement. Score: Navy 6; army 9.

The play was an exact duplicate of the Annapolis first score.

McQuarrie kicked off and navy put the ball in play on its 31 yard line. Low replaced Woodruff, navy left end.

Clark punted after two line plunges. Gregory caught the ball on the cadets' 25 yard line and returned it back 15 yards. Two line plunges gained three yards and McQuarrie punted to navy's 28 yard line.

On a criss-cross doublepass Benoist circled Blaik's end for a first down on the navy's 38 yard line. George replaced Blaik, army righ tend. Cruise went through in two drives for another first down on the forty one yard line. Clark punted over the army line for a touch back. Gregory and McQuarrie in two attempts gained a yard. Captain McQuarrie's punt went out of bounds on the navy's 38 yard line.

Parr replaced Captain Owen, navy end.

Koehler gained six yards but Clark could not gain a foot. Clark punted to army's 2 yard line where the ball was permitted to fall dead.

Byers replaced George for army. Captain McQuarrie's punt from behind his own goal line went to navy's 33 yard line.

With less than two minutes to play the navy began trying end runs hoping to break through for a touchdown.

Koehler and then Benoist, in a cross field run gained by a scant three yards and the play ended with the ball in possession of the navy close to the army's 30 yard line.

SUIT OF ELLA PAPPAS FOR DIVORCE ON TRIAL; LETTER INTRODUCED

The suit of Ella Pappas against Nick Pappas for divorce and for possession of property and for an order to restrain the sheriff from selling the homestead to satisfy a judgment in favor of Pete Anastopolis, a cousin of Pappas, and Pappas' cross action for a divorce and for property in the possession of Mrs. Pappas is on trial before a jury in the 78th district court. Mrs. Pappas alleges fraud and conspiracy in connection with the foreclosure on the homestead.

An automobile which is involved in the suit, Mrs. Pappas testified, had been "stolen" by Pappas from the streets when she drove it downtown, and had sold it appropriating the proceeds.

Mrs. Pappas was on the witness stand most of the day Saturday. On direct examination she testified that Pappas had beaten her and had attacked her with a butcher knife. On cross examination she admitted that Pappas had provided well for her and that most of their quarrels had resulted from Pappas' charges of unfaithfulness charges which she denied emphatically. A great deal of her testimony was taken up with her cross examination concerning letters received from her former husband, a man named Buchi, after she had married Pappas. She identified the handwriting of a letter introduced by the attorneys for Pappas as that of Buchi. She said that she had received a letter by special delivery but that Pappas seized it and that she did not get to read it. She was cross examined for several hours concerning this letter, which follows:

Copy of Letter.

"Richmond, Va., Jan. 8, 1917.

"Mrs. Ella Pappas:

"Your sweet letter received Saturday and was more than glad to hear from you. I was beginning to think that you wasn't going to answer my letter. Glad that you did, as I am always glad to hear from you. I also received the box and I am sure proud of the present, and, as for the picture, you know that I want both.

"Ella, dear, as for your plans, I think they are great but don't get in a big hurry; take your time and get all you can. Specially the ready money so when we do go, we will be able to go some. So, Love, don't get disheartened because I will be out there before the winter, so try to get all you can. As for the house, fix it so when we get ready to go you can sell it and get the money. Also think it is a good idea about the car, but don't let him get a Ford; get a good one so we can go some, but for the car, I have one now myself, but if you get a good one when we get ready to go I will sell mine so we can have the money, as money talks.

"Also, dear, get him to start a bank account in your own name and get all you can. So dear take your time and get all you can so we can have a good time. Now, dear, don't take so long to write as I am anxious to hear from you. You can also depend upon me going. I am ready any time you are, but get all you can. With love,

"DADDY."

SIX SONS OF G. E. BARKER OF THIS CITY FIVE HAVE BEEN IN SERVICE FOR U. S.

Any father might well be proud of such an intelligent and successful appearing sextet of sons as those shown in the accompanying illustration, but he has occasion to feel doubly proud because of the fact that five of the six have rendered service either in the army or the navy of their country, and one is now representing his country in a responsible and important position in a foreign land. The young men are sons of G. E. Barker of this city, who is auditor on the Wichita Falls & Northwestern between Wichita Falls and Burkburnett, and is well known to many people in the city. Reading from left to right, the young men are:

Wayne Barker, Katy timekeeper at Denison, who served six months on the battleship Arizona.

Carl Barker, manager of the ice plant at Henrietta, and who also has been in the service.

William L. Bearker, U. S. vice consul at Hong Kong, China, and who served five years in the navy. Young Barker speaks three langnages and prior to entering the consulate service held important positions in the East.

Omar H. Barker, of Denison, three years in the service, being wounded in the Argonne forest.

Lloyd Barker, diamond merchant at San Antonio, the former home of the family.

Brice Barker, superintendent of the M. K. & T. railway at Denison, who also saw service.

Mr. Barker, their father, has been a railroad man in Texas for 21 years, being located at Waco, San Antonio, and other points before coming to Wichita Falls.

TWO CARS OF COAL RECEIVED SATURDAY

With the receipt of two cars of commercial coal Saturday by a local dealer it is believed that the acute fuel shortage which for the past several days has existed in Wichita Falls, will be for a few days considerably ameliorated. The coal was unloaded Saturday immediately after the spotting of the cars and was dealt out to the rush of customers who gathered immediately on hearing of the receipt of the coal with an apportionment of 500 pounds limit to each customer.

These cars were rushed here thru the effore of J. W. Chatham, manager of the traffic bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. Several other carloads of coal are enroute, and Mr. Chatham has hopes of their receipt within a few days.

FIFTY CHILDREN ATTEND STORY HOUR AT LIBRARY

Fifty children were at the Library, despite the sleety, slippery sidewalks and muddy streets, for the Saturday story hour, which was featured by a musical program given by Dale Haven, pianist of the Hendricks Revival party now at the First Presbyterian Church. A guessing contest was first held, Mr. Haven playing a medley of patriotic airs and the children guessing the name. The children were also allowed to name their selections, and with endless good nature, Mr. Haven complied with all requests, the choices ranging from jazz to hymns.

Miss Katherine Brothers was the story teller of the afternoon, and told some Thangsgiving stories as well as stories with varied themes, and also, by way of preparation a Christmas story. The program ended with the prime favorite of the children "Epamanandos."

What "Makeup" Means to the Movie Picture Star

Many An Ordinary Looking Actress Becomes a Beauty When Filmed, Due to Paint, Powder, Dress and Properly Focused Lights.

THE art of "making up" in actor or actress, who also possesses that inherent power of emotional visualization, coupled with a resourceful producer and a director of fertile perspicuity, are the outstanding prime requisites absolutely necessary in the evolution of motion picture masterpieces. Lacking any one of the foregoing fundamentals invariably results in a production of merely common scope. The very indispensability of any one of these essential factors becomes quite apparent in a production where they are missing.

And yet how many film manufacturers realize this? Few indeed. Moreover, there is little to be credited to the manufacturer who, though cognizant of this all important angle, still adheres to the mediocre and the improbable in the construction of a play. Other manufacturers and directors have realized this, but only after being hit by failure.

One, however, finds some among these producers and directors who aim to whip into line those component parts above mentioned, and though not always reaching their goal, their efforts to give the public worth-while plays are to be commended. The successful producer or director is the one generally found to steadfastly adhere to the above principle. He knows what will bring results, and he goes about it without limitation to his purse, to attain that end.

To this type of producer or director the public feels itself indebted. And justly it should. It makes for a contented solution all around.

Consequently it needs be reiterated that of such composite blending into a compact whole great plays are born, plays that leave a deep impressin on the mind for many years after. In not a few instances I have seen a play fall flat where every possibility for greatness and success balanced in its favor, for no other reason than that the producer or the director failed to embrace the three essential requisites with which this story opened.

One can finally run the whole gamut of motion picture making from its inception to the present time, despite all of its vastness, and it will be seen that but few names illumine the roster of greatness. And these few great ones can attribute their eminence in the industry to the fact that they have found the solution of success through the one and only medium that it can be had—that of a harmonious assembling of the three essential ingredients.

Then in the line of performers one finds names equally as famous as the producers and directors we have mentioned. And in this connection it is an accepted fact that the actor or actress who is adept in the art of "making up" and who possesses the emotional twist achieves the greatest success. This fact has never been disputed. Of this number Dorothy Phillips, Priscilla Dean, Nazimova, Mary Pickford, Mrs. Charlie Chaplin, William S. Hart, Monroe Salisbury, William Stowell, Robert Anderson, Tsuri Hayakawa, the Japanese emotionaliste; the Gish sisters and Geraldine Farrar stand preeminent. There are many more stars in the motion picture firmament who have won success but hardly of the lasting glamour that attaches to the others.

The public knows little of the real beauty of the screen stars. The art of "makeup" has become a science, and more than one famous actress holds the attention of the public through her ability to put "makeup" properly, when in reality she is below ordinary in looks. But with brains, makeup and properly focused lights the ordinary-looking actress becomes a beauty when filmed, is heralded as a beauty, while in truth she is not. Bedtime with her tells a different story.

FILM LINGO.

Violet—The player who is always talking about his work.

Vamp—Short for blood-sucking vampire. The villainess in a picture play who steals a man willing to be stolen, or that some other woman is trying to steal.

Vamped—Past tense of the verb "to vamp." Meaning that the villainess has completed her nefarious work of stealing the other woman's man.

Are Real Love Scenes Real?

FILM fans criticise everything that happens in films, everything but screen lovemaking. If the 'ansome 'ero walks into a room needing a shave and walks into another set with the moss removed, or if the creases in his shoelaces are a bit out of press, or the canary looks like a mugwump, then the old reliable film fan vents his wrath on the company, calls them everything except sapheads, and then promptly goes out and spends another sad evening picking the films apart. If the films are designed to give pleasure, this fan loses all he is supposed to get.

Miss Blanche Sweet, who receives many letters from ardent admirers, paused long enough during a strenuous day, to remark:

"Judging from the fact that no one writes to me about lovemaking on the screen, I can only suppose that the fans are apparently satisfied with the way love is registered on the silver sheet. Frankly, I am not. Lovemaking on the screen strikes the one blue note of production values. Here is the real point on which we fall flat, and so far not one single fan has caught us napping.

"Nearly in every case hate is registered with force, fierce and real. In moments of fear we shrink, grow stiff, and I have even known one girl who controlled her emotions so well that she could make the perspiration pour from her brow in icy drops. That's fear.

"With hate, I have seen the poison darts flash from the eyes, the fingers open and close with vengeance and the chest fall in anger.

"But when it comes to making love, genuine dyed-in-the-wool, passionate love-making, we fail miserably. That's been my experience.

"Perhaps I'm a trifle exacting, or perhaps the fans like the style of love-making that just about reaches the real, but just falls short. As for myself, I believe the only kind of love that should be served to the hungry patrons is the kind that reflects two hearts in harmony, soulful, inspiring and real."

FRENCH FORTUNE TELLERS REAPING A GOLDEN HARVEST

ALL Paris runs after fortune-tellers, casters of horoscopes, clairvoyant girls and dwellers on the threshold.

It is a grand result of the war.

After believing in nothing, they begin to believe in everything; and cultivated people tell strange tales of innocent damsels and doddering crones, on whom they leaned for guidance or hope, among the blind risks and lugubrious complication of four years of bloody war in a directionless universe of blankety-blank science.

Tut, tut! Who could stand such a universe?

When the heart is torn it sees clearer and believes in direction. It prefers Mother Balbine to Professor De Dantec.

Mother Balbine is a strange old woman who lives in a very ancient house that leans worse than the Tower of Pisa, north of Notre Dame Cathedral. Half her clients were little working girls and cooks and chambermaids—with their hearts straining to the trenches; and the other half, by gum! are now the rich and great. All get the same treatment.

You ring. The door opens of itself. You mount one flight, and find that nobody lives there. The flat is empty, swept and garnished. Seven pale-faced boys take you by the hand and lead you up another flight. The door opens of itself. They usher you into the smallest room you ever saw.

And not a word has been pronounced. Those pale kids are horrid, and they disappear. You wait alone.

You wait for the most celebrated of the straight old-fashioned card-laying fortune-teller of Europe to send for you. Some say she is Italian. Much of this dope is Italian.

You ask Mother Balbine why the house is empty.

"I have taken a lease of all the floors," she says, "to keep it empty," she whispers. "I shut out vibrations, rapid emanations. All the world shrieks with them in the midst of what you think is silence. The soul is mobbed. But not here, where the rooms cut off the riot. Nobody lives here but myself and these dear orphans."

Then the idiot girl arrives. She's one of them.

Taking it all together, you feel queer. Outside, in the silent Parvis Notre Dame, sinister old beggars whisper together, not to start anything. If emanations count, here's emanation:

A Sinister Quarter.

This house is built on ground of the Parvis, where folks were burned, broken on the wheel, maimed, dragged apart by four horses, or just quartered with an ax century after century. Half the French wizards of the Middle Ages lived around here. Nicolas Flamel's house was six doors up.

"You come for the great game?" whispers Mother Balbine; and when you say yes, the idiot girl hands her the pack. (The idiot girl looks real nice.) "An innocent," explains the strange dame, lowly. "She makes lace, and trains her pet blackbird to whistle 'Madelon.' She never reads; and I don't let her gossip. So her mind is an unruffled pond. Throw a stick in it, and you see the circles widen."

Instead, she throws a pack of cards on the floor, scattering them in great disorder. A boy—the ricketiest white-faced orphan of the bunch—picks up diligently, and hands the pack to the girl. (How does he come there? I don't know. He is there.)

"Why, mother, don't you lay the cards yourself?" you ask.

"Hush! I used to do so," comes the silky answer. "Now I have too many interesting thoughts. This girl-child does better. Anyone can learn to read the cards. It has never been a secret. But where shall you find the docile hand moved by the empty and exquisitely receptive mind, which, having no thoughts, is not falsified by the messed emanations of a rioting subconscious world? You are dark and unmarried. (How did she know it?) Your card is the jack of clubs. If you were married, it would be the king. Blond men take the jack and king of hearts. Women, married or single, take the queen of hearts or diamonds when blonds and clubs or spades when brunettes. Cut with your left hand." (This cutting seems to be enormously important.) It is all that you do, in the reading of your fortune. And she keeps you cutting all the time.)

The idiot girl lays the cards.

"Eight of spades, eight of diamonds, ten of diamonds," reads Mother Balbine. "Ten of diamonds, change of residence or a great voyage."

(Each time, the girl shuffles and lays them after you cut.)

"Nine of hearts, nine of diamonds, jack of hearts. A blond young man who is a good friend. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven—ten of spades. Oh, my poor monsieur! A ball card. Tears, heart worries and sadness. Seven and eight of spades and queen of diamonds—a dangerous and talkative woman. King of clubs, queen of clubs, eight of clubs—money negotiations. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, the jack of hearts. The good blond young man again! You have a friend there. Here he comes a-running. Trust him!"

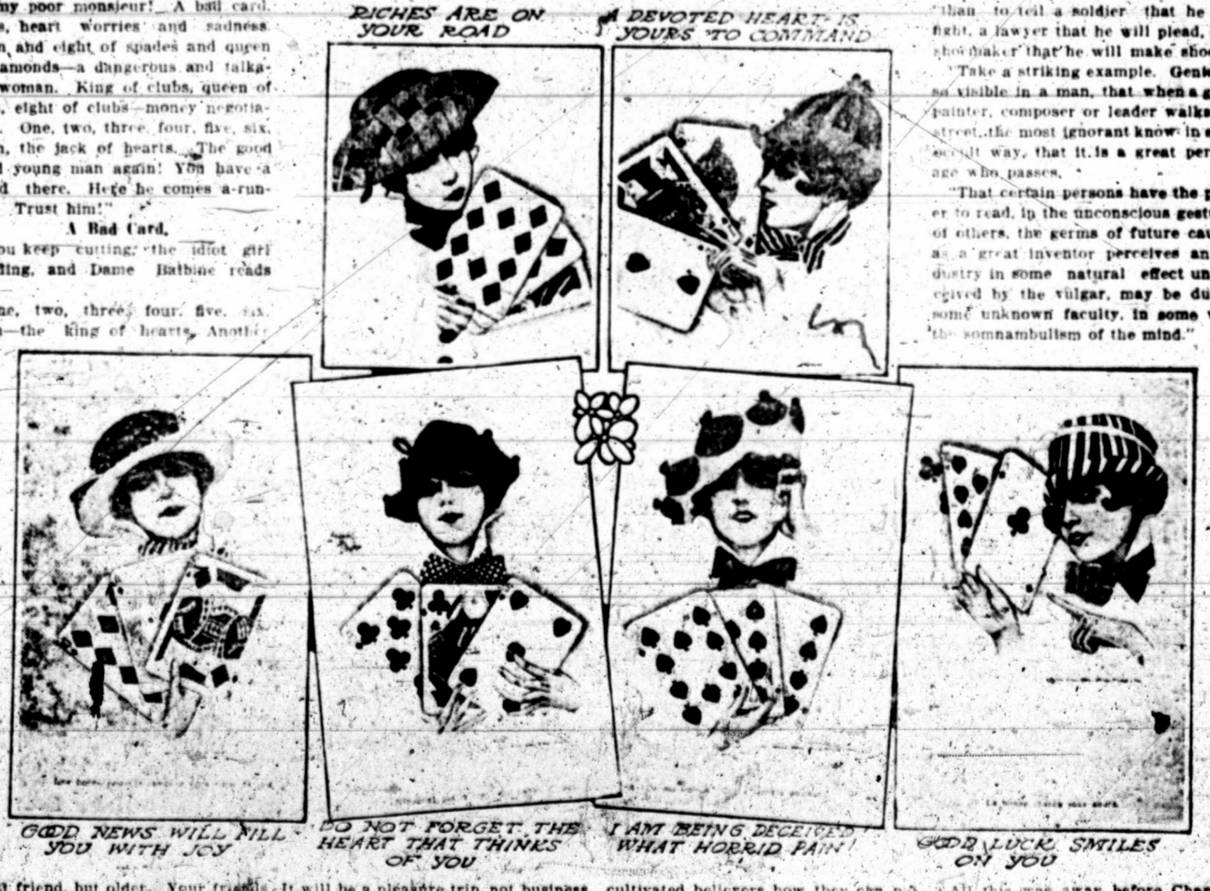

A Bad Card.

(You keep cutting; the idiot girl shuffling, and Dame Balbine reads 'em.)

"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven—the king of hearts. Another good young man who is blond, the change of residence, the news, the change of residence, the news the crooked, dark young man. And as this Ma'am Balbine reads, she hits on happenings well known to you, weaving them into predictions that seem to be direct answers to vague questionings of your mind.

"Ten of diamonds, eight of spades, honest friend, but older. Your friends rush to your aid, monsieur! One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, the jack of diamonds, a news-bringer. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, the jack of spades—a crooked, dark young man. Beware him."

And the queer thing is, you recognize them all—the talkative lady, the

It will be a pleasure trip, not business. King of clubs, ten of hearts—success will be due to a middle-aged, dark man. Jack of diamonds, ten of spades. You will not go to prison.

And, by gosh, you don't! And, after two weeks, when you do go unexpectedly to New York or Naples or elsewhere, on a trip that is certainly agreeable but so expensive that you get all balled up and can think of nothing better than drawing a sight draft on somebody at home, you will surely pick a dark, middle-aged party to back it, if you can find one. And you will meditate about Dame Balbine much on the return trip.

Hum, hum! When you look the more that the wise of their day condemned the steam engine, the printing press, lithography and photography. (What might not Balzac add, now!)

"To predict the future events of a man's life from the way in which his hand unconsciously cuts a pack of cards is no more," continues the philosopher of the Comedie Humaine, "than to tell a soldier that he will fight, a lawyer that he will plead, or a shoemaker that he will make shoes.

"Take a striking example. Genius is so visible in a man, that when a great painter, composer or leader walks the street, the most ignorant know in some occult way, that it is a great personage who passes.

"That certain persons have the power to read, in the unconscious gestures of others, the germs of future causes, as a great inventor perceives an industry in some natural effect unperceived by the vulgar, may be due to some unknown faculty, in some way, the somnambulism of the mind."

All this was away before Charcot; and Charcot, when his time came, although he passed for a materialist, arrived at a lot of strange views of this kind, which he usually kept to himself.

About 30 years ago, the Royalist newspaper offices of Paris were plagued by a singular priest. He was strong on Nostradamus, a prophet of the Middle Ages who predicted what would happen to France. A great nobleman became interested, but all the same, as a preliminary, he had the party examined by Charcot—who asked him how he came to be the authoritative interpreter of Nostradamus.

"Nostradamus predicted my coming," he answered. "He speaks much of a certain Denys. Now, my name is Dennis, and when I was in the active ministry I was cure in the parish of St. Denis."

Shortly after, when out of the main predictions turned out, suddenly, all wrong, Charcot found the Abbe undiscouraged.

"The prophet had predicted my error," he said, and, turning to a page of the old Latin book, he pointed out the line: 'Denys shall say a thing which is not true.'"

"Now, can you beat it?" said the Comte de Paris. But Charcot told him to forget it.

"Your Abbe is only a shrewd lunatic," concluded Charcot. "He has nothing of the true seer."

"Why, do you believe in seers?" gasped the other.

Visionaires Are Ill.

"My dear friend," said Charcot, "the ordinary visionary is a sick person; but there are other beings, who live on the borderland and whose visions offer something quite peculiar to themselves, beyond the investigations of normal science."

"But," said the Count, "how can anyone see the future when it does not exist yet? As yet the future is nothing."

"A metaphysician might answer," said Charcot, "that there is nothing absolute in the idea of time—that it springs simply from the relations which exist between the diversity of phenomena and our intellect, which can not perceive them all together. The notion of time differs absolutely according to the notions of different beings.

"An insect which lives only a day might imagine that it had lived as long as a whale which attains 100 years. A dream which has lasted 10 minutes may have covered 10 years, according to the dreamer.

TEST TO BE DRILLED 5 MILES NORTHWEST OF TOWN OF NOCONA

Special to The Times.

NOCONA, TEXAS, Nov. 29. The Red River Valley test on the W. W. Jones farm, seven miles out north, is making progress drilling ahead and underreaming the 8 inch below 1,309 feet. The formations are considered to be coming in favorably in this well.

The Salt Creek Oil & Gas Company with headquarters over the Nocona National Bank, has been organized for the purpose of drilling a test well with ... location on the Wilson farm, about five miles northwest of Nocona. This enterprise is backed by Nocona, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth capital. It is the intention to begin work with as little delay as present conditions will permit. The geological features of this block of leases are said to be such as to give the locality a good recommendation for a test well.

The unusual activity in the Hewitt field about 22 miles northwest of the Nocona gas well and on the Oklahoma side, and the wonder is whether Montague county may not possess a field that will attract as much or more attention. Geological conditions are all the prospector could ask. The Red River county test will not down. Even Grayson county, which has been considered by some to be too far east is likely to break into the oil game and smear up the map. This would put Montague county away inside of developments on the east and west and northeast and southwest. Jim keep a weather eye on Montague.

GENERAL OIL COMPANY'S WELL IN ACTION GOING OVER THE TOP

The talent is practically unanimous in declaring their belief that the General Oil Company's well, shown above in action, will test out one of the biggest ever brought in in the district. It is a matter of much disappointment to the company officials that the well has not been permitted to run at full force until a gauge can be taken, the weather having held up the work on the tank and pipe line connections so that practically nothing has been accomplished during the last week. Further drilling operations of the company has also been held up by the bad weather, which has made it almost impossible to transport materials to any part of the field.

The General well is of exceptional interest from many standpoints, one of them being the fact that in the river bed controversy it has been unmolested up to the present. The company holds a double claim to the tract on which the well stands, it is said, having leased the property from Sam Sparks and associates, under the state of Texas, and also having perfected a placer mining claim, with title from the United States government. A placer mining claim is not proven, and title made, until minerals in this instance petroleum, are discovered.

NINETEEN WAGONS PASS IOWA PARK LOADED WITH RIGS FOR K. M. A. FIELD

Special to The Times.

IOWA PARK, TEX., Nov. 29.—Perhaps the longest procession of oil machinery that has ever been seen by Iowa Park people passed through here on Saturday morning en route to the Kemp-Munson field from the North-west Burkburnett field. Nineteen wagons loaded with oil rigs, beds and several wagons loaded with feed and ... went through on time, ... the day several more wagons ... found for the new field ... Brough. The road from here to the field is in fine travel conditions and we may see many more such processions pass through Iowa Park from now on. Much travel is going on every day to and from the field out of Iowa Park.

The National Bank of Commerce specializes in banking service to oil men and places at their disposal the intelligent, friendly co-operation of its officers who have a broad knowledge of the oil industry and a thorough comprehension of the needs and problems of those engaged in it. 184-1tc

STRIKE VEIN OF COAL IN WELL AT BELLEVUE

HENRIETTA, TEX., Nov. 29.—A new angle was given to the mineral possibilities of the county when on last Monday the Clay-Tex Acreage syndicate drilling on the Campbell farm three and a half miles north of Bellevue, struck a vein of coal at 750 feet. A good deal of secrecy is evident as to the thickness of the vein, but it is believed that it may turn out to be a paying discovery. Many years ago coal was found east of Bellevue on the Denver road at a point called Mound City. A shaft was sent down to a considerable depth, and the mile of dirt and rock taken out of the hole is still in evidence. But after spending a large sum of money the company abandoned the proposition. This new find may revive wildcatting for coal in that vicinity.

The Holmes-Schuman well on the Stanfield ranch being drilled by the Lesh Oil & Drilling Co., recently spudded in, is getting along nicely. Mr. Kegan is the manager for the owners of the property, and he makes his home in Henrietta.

The well on the Edwards ranch seven miles northwest of Henrietta, is now down to a depth of 2200 feet. The recent bringing in of a big gasser a few miles to the northwest of this location is believed by oil experts to be exceedingly favorable to the outcome of this deep test. They say that wherever there is gas there must be oil as well around the edge somewhere, and they believe the Edwards well has a splendid chance of striking the pool.

Howard Clay, with C. L. Koethe driller, on the Huggins ranch seven miles east is past 400 feet deep. They are setting a 15 1-2 inch casing, indicating that they are going to make a very deep test if necessary.

H. H. Temple has a rig upon the Boddy ranch and is just ready to spud in.

The Silk well, just 200 yards across in Archer county, is down 3500 feet.

Mo-Tex Refining Company

UNINCORPORATED

CAPITAL $1,000,000

S. E. DAVIS, President J. O. ROHER, Vice President H. C. HARKINS, Sec'y-Treas.

The men behind this company launched successfully the Mo-Texas Oil Co., and the Mo-Tex Pipe Line Co,. and the harmonious co-operation of these two companies and the Mo-Tex Refining Co. will wonderfully assist the latter in making a big success.

This company will build a 10,000 barrel refinery adjoining the Mo-Tex Pipe Line Co.'s loading racks at Devol, Oklahoma. We will refine crude oil, making everything that can be made from gasoline to parafine wax.

NO PROMOTION STOCK

Not one share of this stock will be given to the officers of this company as promotion or FREE stock.

Stockholders of Mo-Tex Oil Co., and Mo-Tex Pipe Line Co. have an opportunity to make money on these shares. They know these companies, their officers and their reliability.

REFINERIES PAY WELL

It is a well-known fact that refineries pay good profits—the refining companies you know of for instance—and the money, experience and business of the officers of the Mo-Tex Refining Co. will be your assurance that this company will also pay well.

Shares in this company may be had now at our office at 710 1-2 Indiana Ave., Wichita Falls, Texas, and we invite your co-operation.

Don't put this matter off, otherwise you will pay a higher price.

LONE STAR REFINERY CONSTRUCTION WORK NEARS COMPLETION

THREE HUNDRED MEN HAVE BEEN EMPLOYED ON RECENT ADDITIONS.

LARGE STILLS ARE ADDED

Refinery Has Been Overhauled and Reconstructed in All Its Parts.

The big program of construction work of the Lone Star Oil and Refining Company which has been in progress during the past six months is now rapidly approaching completion, the enlargement to the refinery, the building of the pipe lines and the development of the production, having been to a great extent, finished. Over 300 men have been employed most of the time during this period, and practically all of the work has been of a permanent character and is a great addition to the business and resources of Wichita Falls and Wichita county, affording work for a considerable addition to the population and establishing a permanent industry that will be of continuous benefit to the community.

At the refinery probably the largest pipe stills ever built have been constructed, one of which was put in operation during the past week, having a capacity for refining over 3,000 barrels of crude oil daily. Another similar still has been constructed and will be placed in operation within a few weeks, which will add 3,000 barrels more to the capacity of the refinery, making it by far the largest in North Texas. The system installed by the company insures the greatest recovery of gasoline yet discovered, and a uniformity of high grades—the gasoline being dry and free from the unpleasant odor accompanying lower grade gasoline. This affords higher efficiency and more comfort and pleasure in automobile use and it is already largely used and dispensed by a great many of the filling stations in Wichita Falls.

The plans of the company contemplate specializing on high grade gasoline for automobile use, which will be good news to the motor world because of the present tendency on the part of nearly all refiners to unify their production of gasoline to low grades in order to produce greater quantities.

Tank Farm Busy Scene.

The tank farm on the hill back of the refinery is a busy scene at present, with numberless 55,000 barrel steel tanks being constructed to enable the company to store large quantities of crude oil and refined products, thereby also maintaining a large supply available for shipment.

The refinery has been overhauled and reconstructed in all parts, making it far more efficient than when the present company headed by Frank Brown and under the management of Frank B. Wilcox started the property in July last. Three 150 h. p. high pressure boilers have been installed to furnish fuel, additional steam capacity, large reservoirs have been built for cooling water and a big pumping station is now insured by the establishment of a pumping station close to the Wichita River, from which water is pumped from the river gravel direct to the reservoir at the refinery.

A very large new pump house at the refinery is nearly completed and in it will be installed all of the pumps which are now located at different places on the refinery site.

The use of acid in the refining process has been done away with. An additional gasoline pump has been necessary to install at the filling station at the entrance to the refinery on the Burkburnett road, because of the big demand for gasoline by automobiles and trucks going that way, which have learned by experience the excellence of Lone Star gasoline.

For the convenience of the employes at the refinery a 50 room hotel has been recently constructed and comfortably furnished, heated by steam, obviating the necessity of a continuous string of travel to and from work during bad weather, and helping along the line of securing a better class of refinery employes because of the more comfortable living quarters.

Another Loading Rack.

An additional loading rack has been built on the Fort Worth & Denver R. R., and connected with the refinery, and several pipe lines, so that all production can be shipped over either the Katy or Denver railroads as desired.

In the pipe line department, the two pipe lines, one being 3-inch and the other 4-inch, have both been completed to block 88, and the largest pump in the district, being 15,000 barrel daily capacity, Ramsey pump driven by a 200 h. p. General Electric motor, has been installed as a relay pump station on the northwest corner of the Hardin land, just northwest of Burkburnett. The pipe lines run in all directions in the field, affording transportation from practically every block in the Northwest Extension, and a three mile extension of the lines will be completed during the coming week to the new oil pool in of the General Oil Co., and the numerous other wells being drilled in adjacent territory, which is at present the scene of the greatest drilling activity in the entire district.

The Lone Star has adopted electricity for the pumping of its numerous wells and already installed electric motor at nearly all of them, thereby eliminating the danger of fire loss and also insuring economical pumping of the wells.

Wichita Falls may well feel gratified with the building up of a big producing and refining company like the Lone Star, which will benefit for many years the productivity of this field and the permanent character of all its constructive work insures stability.

SHALLOW OIL SAND FOUND AT CHILDRESS AT A DEPTH OF 170

Special to The Times.

CHILDRESS, TEXAS, Nov. 29.—The striking of a shallow oil sand that is claimed to be in paying quantities, in the well being drilled by the Shores Creek Oil & Gas Co. southwest of Childress, has caused considerable interest in this section. According to claims of the company there the seven feet of pay sand was found at 150 feet. A still shallower sand is reported to have been found in the well, but it contained no oil.

There are nine deep tests being drilled surrounding the town of Childress, all showings have been reported in nearly all of them. In the Dexter-Gulf well, located southwest of the city, a seven-foot pay oil sand is reported at only 107 feet. This company's well now is down about 400 feet and is fishing for the tools.

Interest in the Collingsworth county district continues to grow. More than two hundred persons visited the derrick of the Barnes-Buster company, located nine miles west of Wellington, last Sunday. This company has two outfits board cars for drilling deep tests near Wellington. There are five other deep tests in the vicinity of Wellington that are scheduled to start at once.

The Magnolia and Empire companies hold more than half of the land in Collingsworth country that has been found by oil and gas. All of the drilling is being done by wild-catters.

STATE'S ANSWER IN YOUNT LEE OIL CO. CASE IS PREPARED

AUSTIN, TEX., Nov. 29.—The state's answer in the case of Yount Lee Oil Company vs. J. T. Robison and commissioner, which involves the ownership of the Texas mineral survey, is prepared and will be filed today, according to information received from the general's department. It is in the fifty-third district court.

The answer denies all allegations of the plaintiff in his petition for temporary injunction to restrain W. M. Flores and M. K. Fletcher, who were granted permits to prospect for oil upon the disputed land which is in Liberty county, from molesting the property. The answer also sets out that title in the general land office are subject to correction when errors are found and that the state is not stopped from claiming lands obtained by those who were misinformed by state officials.

BURKBURNETT-PETROLIA SYNDICATE FINDS ELEVEN FOOT SAND AT 900 FEET

Eleven feet of sand in the No. 1 hole of the Burkburnett Petrolia Syndicate was found at 900 feet, Maurice B. Smith, secretary of the Syndicate stated Saturday. This test, on the west side of the Petrolia field, has encountered three previous oil showings, from 2 to 4 feet in thickness, at the following depths: 625 to 625 feet, 725 to 7— feet and 790 to 794 feet. The fourth sand at such a shallow depth with a much greater thickness makes the test exceedingly promising. The drilling was continued, a depth of 827 feet being reported Saturday.

The Syndicate's No. 2 is drilling around 645 feet and No. 3 is rigging up. All are cable tool tests, prepared to go 2,200 feet, and at least one will be made a 3,500 foot test unless the pay is struck at a lesser depth. The syndicate is prepared to make a thorough deep test of the western extension of the Petrolia field and have the equipment and the working force to accomplish their purpose. Mr. Smith states. The field operations are under the direct supervision of E. E. Osman, general manager for the Burkburnett Petrolia Syndicate, former superintendent of production for the Globe Oil Company of Oklahoma, which has just merged with the big Oklahoma Oil Corporation.

FRED-TILL OWNERS SHOW CONFIDENCE IN SUCCESS OF WELL

Special to The Times.

FREDERICK, OKLA., Nov. 29.—Owners of the Fred-Till well have covered a bet of $2,500 that was offered to be posted at a newspaper office here. A pessimist who claimed the Fred-Till well would be brought in as a "duster" had made the offer to post the bet. It was announced by the newspaper. Later, however, the bet was called. "I'll take twenty-five thousand," is the reply that is said to have been made to the pessimist and the amount was quickly covered. Owners of the well put up the money, it is stated. Under the terms of the wager a producing oil well is to be brought in during the next sixty days.

Acreage in the vicinity of the well continues to change hands. The top price is from $350 to $400 per acre.

Late reports are that the well will be drilled in during the coming week. The workers are still engaged in laying the pipe line to the well, and building the tanks.

Drilling continues at the Armstrong well located near the town of Davidson. A shallow sand is reported in this well at about 900 feet.

The Sammies company which is drilling nine miles northeast of Frederick is down 1,140 feet with a 14 inch hole. The casing will be set at 1,600 feet.

SINCLAIR LINE NOW RUNNING OIL TO THE HEALDTON MAIN LINE

Oil is now being run through the Sinclair pipe lines from the Northwest Extension through to their main line at Healdton and on to Chicago, it was announced at the local offices of the company Saturday. The oil is being taken from the field through the company's four inch pipe to Devol and there turned into the eight inch line to Healdton. The new eight inch line from Devol to the Northwest is not yet completed, and consequently the amount of oil being run through the line is nothing near the capacity which the line will have when completed.

MO-TEX PIPE LINE TO DEVOL, OKLAHOMA, NEARS COMPLETION

Completion of the new pipe line of the Mo-Tex Pipe Line Company from the north part of block 818 in the Northwest Extension to Devol is expected within the next few days, according to an announcement issued from the local offices of the company Saturday. The new line will be a double one, ten and six-inch, and will have a combined capacity in excess of 35,000 barrels per day. Loading racks are being erected in Devol.

The company also announces the purchase of five acres in block 818, near the holdings of the Mo-Tex Oil Co., on which they propose to drill three wells.

The same announcement carries with it the declaration of a second dividend of ten per cent to the stockholders of the Mo-Tex Oil Co., and that of the purchase of a refinery site for the Mo-Tex Refining Co., now in process of organization, at Devol, Oklahoma. The capital stock of the latter concern is $1,000,000 issued in shares of $1 par each. The refinery will have an ultimate capacity of 10,000 barrels per day, it is stated.

CITY TAX RECEIPTS DOUBLE LAST YEAR; TOTAL $17,009.06

Collections of city taxes during the month of November were almost twice the collections of November a year ago, it was announced Saturday by H. D. Anderson, city tax assessor and collector. During November of this year the total collections were $17,009.06, of which $10,145.93 were for city taxes and $6,863.13 the amount for school taxes for the Wichita Falls school district. Collections for November, 1918, totalled $7,921.93, $3,272.49 of this amount being for the city taxes and $2,652.44 for the school district.

For the first time notices are being mailed out to taxpayers notifying them that the taxes for the year are due and can now be paid, this step being taken in the hope of avoiding the rush to pay taxes during the last days of January. City taxes can be paid by checks mailed to the collector, it is announced.

To the service of the industrial interests of Wichita and adjacent counties, the National Bank of Commerce brings complete equipment, large resources, experienced officers and carefully trained organization. Both small and large accounts are welcomed by the bank. 184-1tc

LEGAL NOTICES.

CITATION by Publication.—The State of Texas to the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita county, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon Mrs. M. A. Looney, J. E. Gilcreast, J. A. Wilson and any others claiming title to lots 7 and 8, block 137, Iowa Park, Texas, by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there is a newspaper published therein, to appear at the next regular term of the 30th district court of Wichita county, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls, on the third Monday in December A. D. 1919, the same being the 15th day of December A. D. 1919, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 15th day of November A. D. 1919, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 7,360 wherein Mrs. Nancy Jane Wisdom, joined by her husband J. W. Wisdom are plaintiffs and Mrs. M. A. Looney, J. E. Gilcreast, J. A. Wilson and any others claiming title to lots 7 and 8, block 137, in the town of Iowa Park, Texas, are defendants, said petition alleging: That about Oct. 15, 1891, Nancy Jane Wisdom, plaintiff, was seized and possessed in fee simple of the hereinafter described property, by warranty deed from George Tagg, the wife Eugenia M. Tagg, of record in book Z, page 45, Deed Records, Wichita county, Texas; that plaintiff has never conveyed or alienated in any way the property conveyed to said plaintiff in said deed; that on the 5th day of August, 1895, said property was conveyed to Mrs. M. A. Looney by sheriff's deed signed by R. M. Moore, sheriff, by C. W. Bean, deputy, said sale being made by virtue of order of sale issued out of the county court of Wichita county, Texas, in favor of J. E. Gilcreast vs. J. A. Wilson on certain judgment and decree of sale rendered the 20th day of February, 1892, said lots being lots seven and eight in block 137, town of Iowa Park, Wichita county, Texas; that title to said property did not vest in J. A. Wilson at any time after Nov. 28, 1890; that all judgments, order of sale etc., by which said Mrs. M. A. Looney claims title took place after the above date, to-wit: Nov. 28, 1890, when said title passed from J. A. Wilson and wife Sarah Wilson; that about the 13th day of October, 1891, plaintiff, Nancy Jane Wisdom, was lawfully seized and possessed of the above described premises and lands, to-wit, lots 7 and 8 in block 137, Iowa Park, Texas, holding and claiming the same in fee simple; that defendant, Mrs. M. A. Looney, became a claimant to said lots through said sheriff's deed; that the claim of said defendant caused a cloud to be upon plaintiff's title. Wherefore plaintiffs pray judgment of the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition; that plaintiffs have judgment for the title and possession of said above described lands, and have title thereto forever quieted, that writ of restitution issue, for costs of suit and for general and special relief, etc.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 15th day of November A. D. 1919.

(Seal) A. F. KERR,
Clerk District Court Wichita Co., Texas.

THERE'S PROFIT SECURITY IN PROPERTY. Two mighty interesting things about real estate are that it is a profitable investment and an absolutely secure one. Buying real estate is not a sporting proposition. It is a matter of real, solid business.

IS A HOUSE A GOOD INVESTMENT? If you don't think buying a house is a good investment, talk the matter over with some one who has bought and sold houses here. Not every house offered for sale has a reasonable price on it, and not every house bought is a bargain, but every house sold in Wichita Falls that we know of—and knowing these things is our business—has been sold at a profit. IS A HOUSE A GOOD INVESTMENT? decide it.

The ones listed above are some we offer for sale on and close to pavement. We have many others. In the Record News you will find a similar list of some of the homes listed with us that are on or near the car line. On our lists we have many at higher prices, many at a lower figure; we have them with a $1500 cash payment and up to as high as you desire to go. We have them from a modest four-room cottage to a palatial twelve-room brick residence.

For anything in real estate you will do well to remember that, "If it's for sale Mann & Dougan have it."

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

New York Stocks, Grain and Provisions, Cotton and Livestock.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The stock market was heavy, verging upon weakness in the first half of today's short session, mainly as a result of the materially lower range of prices established by several of the highly speculative leaders.

Early declines of five to sixteen points in General Motors, Crucible Steel and American Tobacco with 1 to 3 point reactions elsewhere were not conducive to bullish enthusiasm. Pressure was plainly of professional origin, however, some stocks making full recovery at the first signs of support while others made partial response.

Investment rails were among the first to rebound, their improvement being accompanied by the publication of numerous statement of earnings for October. These were favorable in the main as to net returns, although several of the important systems, especially the Pennsylvania reported heavy decreases.

Aside from its sentimental effect, another break in exchange on London and Paris to new low records exerted little influence. Dealers in exchange regarded today's quotations as nominal rather actual in view of the small offerings.

The clearing statement disclosed only a small contraction of loans—slightly more than $800,000 but excess reserves increased by $31,000,000, lifting total actual reserves to $71,333,000.

There was further active and lively trading in Liberty and Victory bonds at lower levels, but rallies marked the close in those issues, as in the stock list. Total sales (par value) aggregated $13,250,000. Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call during the week.

Liberty bonds final prices today were: 3½s, 99.90; first 4s, 93.90; second 4s, 91.20; first 4½s, 94.20; second 4½s, 91.98; third 4½s, 93.80; fourth 4½s, 92.04; victory 3¾s, 99.02; victory 4¼s, 99.04.

COTTON MARKET.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Early declines were followed by rallies in the cotton market today. Sentiment was still nervous and unsettled but spot advices were bullish, while the weather map was unfavorable and a firmer later tone in the stock market led to considerable covering of present crop months, December was relatively firm, selling up to 38.10 or 45 points net higher and closing at 38.00 with the general list closing firm at a net advance of 12 to 50 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 5 to 15 points on December and January, but generally 4 to 13 points lower under a renewal of yesterday's selling movement. Active months soon showed net losses of 15 to 18 points, with January selling at 35.82 and March at 33.70, but offerings were less active after the break of approximately a cent a pound from recent high levels and the market steadied on covering. Bullish spot advices seem to increase the nervousness of the remaining December short interests, and there was some trade buying on the advance which extended to 36.24 for January and 34.15 for March in the late trading when the general list showed net gains of 24 to 45 points. The close was 5 or 10 points off from the best.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29.—While political and labor news was against values in the cotton market today around the opening and again on the close, in between the tone was steady and there were advances to substantial net gains over the close of yesterday.

During a good part of the session, shorts were inclined to cover and a fresh demand for long account sprang up on the better impression left by statistics owing to large mill taking and exports. The initial decline amounted to 17 to 26 points, after which the market recovered and went 27 points over the final prices of yesterday. Closing quotations were 10 points off to 20 points up net.

The weather map again was unfavorable.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Liquidation on the part of the unlicensed holders of December contracts routed the bulls in the corn market today. The close was weak at ⅜c to 2c lower. Oats finished ⅝@1⅛c down and provisions varying from 90c decline to an advance of 50c.

Corn prices turned a complete somersault in the last hour. Previously the market had been jumping upward from the outset as a result largely of rain or snow that threatened serious delay to the crop movement. Besides, higher quotations on hogs together with uneasiness over the coal strike and in regard to the Mexican situation tended also to put the bears at a disadvantage. Purchasing, however, was apparently overdone, for when holders who had no government license began to unload as the day approached an end the market underwent a sudden reversal of form. In consequence, values tumbled headlong and thereafter showed but little power to rally.

Oats are, as in corn, sold licensed dealers could have December trades open after today.

Provisions were depressed from the beginning on account of slackness for demand in lard.

Market Review

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—One advance after another has ensued every single day this week in the corn market. Among the chief reasons given has been the likelihood that railway transportation of the crop would be seriously interefered with by the coal shortage. Compared with a week ago, corn prices were 5¼c to 9¼c higher this morning, oats up 2¼@2¾c and provisions varying from 20c decline to an advance of 90 cents.

Although at first owing to fresh moves by the government to reduce the cost of living, the bear side of the corn market seemed to have an advantage, the fact soon became apparent that coal strike developments resulted almost continuously as a stimulus to demand for corn.

Oats ascended with corn.

In provisions, considerable irregularity resulted from conflicting influences.

By JAQUELINE.

"THINK OF ME" is the name of this LADY DUFF-GORDON MODEL and what gown can emphasize the charms and grace of the young matron to a better advantage than this daring combination of black crepe georgette embroidered in heavy silver thread, draped over white satin. Dull silver ribbon and tassels compose the girdle and sash. An American Beauty rose of satin ribbon at the low waist line gives a touch of vivid coloring to this artistic creation. After all what is style? A piece of fabric? A combination of colour? Yes, but it should be either, or more than both of these, it really should be you, it should portray your own characteristics, and imbued with these thoughts the designer fashioned this charming dinner gown.

NEW CENTURY STUDIES LOWELL ON WEDNESDAY

Meeting Wednesday afternoon in regular session at the Kemp library club rooms, the New Century Club began its study of James Russel Lowell. The program follows: "Our Most Representative Man of Letters," "Our Famous Relative," Mrs. J. S. McDaniel; "His Work as a Journalist," "His Diplomatic Career," Mrs. W. E. ANNOUNCING HAPPINESS TIME

"All who joy would win, must share it; Happiness was born a twin."

Have You Tried on the New Winter Coats Yet

Just looking at their pictures, makes one eager to see how she would look with the great big collar that is so important and impressive.—

But have you TRIED THEM ON?

You'll never know how wonderful they are until you realize how becoming they are to YOU!

Each season we marvel that newness can be so definite and decisive—so winsome and practical. Surely coats for women were never more handsome; yet never before were they quite so protective. Come and try them on.

"It is more blessed to give than to receive."

But you, yourself know it—you have felt the joy of giving to others and seeing the pleasure that you have created.

And now HAPPINESS TIME is just ahead—CHRISTMAS, the greatest institution the world has ever evolved—the Day when every normal human being takes joy in giving Happiness to others.

The symbol—the gift—is the small thing; the thoughtfulness, the sentiment, the GOOD WILL expressed is everything.

It is yours to express the Good Will—it is ours to provide the symbols of your friendliness—the Gift-Things.

Never have we presented quite so complete and satisfying an assemblage of Things to Give for Christmas as are now gathered here, for the celebration of the Greatest Peace and Good-Will Day of all time—Christmas, 1919.

All ready for first and choicest selections, now.

Winter Suits of Assured Style and Equally Assured Warmth

General utility as well as smart style entered into the designing of these handsome Winter suits. New mixed woolens and woolens of soft, suede-like finish, are used to fashion these modish suits, while their snug collars and the added length of their well lined jackets, easily offer the warmth of a winter coat.

Suit values $25.00 to $195.00—at 1-4 off

Why Not Make the Gift? This Needlework—

Have you had a look through our Art Needlework section lately? Some women tell us that they just love the place. There are so many beautiful things to see—so many suggestions of pretty things to make—things that you never see ready-made. Then everything is ready to make the home work easy and the results are so delightful.

Come and see the new things for Christmas handiwork.

A Box of Gloves is a Splendid Gift!

So many gloves are needed nowadays. So many different kinds are necessary to right dressing. Yet so many women have three kinds when they wish they had six.

Such a fine opportunity for a delightfully thoughtful holiday gift.

Gift Specials—Fashionable Bags and Purses

It seems that every smart style in these charming accessories, is included in this special holiday gift group. Besides any number of leather bags and purses, there are elaborately beaded bags, chiffon velvet bags and bags of suede, moire silk and plush. Fancy frames have a silver, gold or oxidized finish while others are of celluloid.

Draperies that Make the Home Look Home-Like

There's all the difference in the world between the home that looks as though some one loved it, and the house that is lived in by peope who don't care.

The artistic woman, who takes a pride in having beautiful things around her home, thinks first of the graceful Draperies that soften the lines of the furnishment and give the rich blooms of color that are so effective.

Here are the choicest Drapery Fabrics that have recently come from the looms. The woman who wants to beautify her home will enjoy an early inspection.

MISS GWINN HOSTESS FOR HOUSE GUESTS

The Thanksgiving season has been marked by a number of social affairs, of more or less informality among the younger set of high school age, among the most pleasant being the afternoon and evening spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Gwinn, 215 Ninth street, when the young daughter of the house, Miss Gay, entertained to honor her house guests, Misses Helen Gertrude Starks and Linda Bellows, both of Fort Worth.

The afternoon event took the form of an 'at home' for the girls to meet the visitors, a program of music and readings providing entertaining. The hostess and her mother served a refreshment course of marshmallow dainty, cake, stuffed dates and tea. The guests included the honorees, Misses Starks and Bellows, and Misses Ella Merle Mathis, Leona Maricle, Hallie Adams, Helen Snider, Lorraine Breedlove, Mary Smith, Cecil McCurdy, Jo Betsy Miller, Janie Frost, Mildred Nettie, Mildred Martin, French Fowler, Gertrude Jones, Thelma and Inez Basham, Eleanor Allen, Fay Boyd, Inez Adrian, Ruth Nolen, Ruth Crowell, Ruby Avis, Ethel Moran, Sadie Adickes, Kathleen Lynch, Inez McMillan, Thava Simmons, Georgia B. Leath, Karma Yeager, Earin Yeager, Mabel Haley, Emily McCullough, Lora Fisher, Mamie Wiley, Minnie Bell Sowell and Stella Hill.

The informal dance of the evening was also very enjoyable, the boy friends being invited in to meet the visitors at this time. Refreshments of turkey sandwiches, stuffed dates and hot chocolate were served to: Misses Janie Frost, Leona Maricle, Ella Merle Mathis, Mabel Haley, Hallie Adams, Inez Adrian, Frances Greever, the two honorees; Messrs. Frank Wood, Henry Hackbush, Bristol Hackbrush, Nick Oechsner, Clifford Summers, Justin Green, Henry Ford, Billy Talbot, Jack Talbot.

MISS TANCRED HOSTESS TO THE BRIDGE CLUB

Miss Lucile Tancred was hostess on Saturday to the Girls Bridge Club, entertaining members and several guests. There were three tables of players who enjoyed the game until late in the afternoon, when a luncheon plate was served. The high score prize, a box of Maderia handkerchiefs, went to Miss Adele Adickes, and Miss Myra Hassell of Fort Worth received the guest favor, also handkerchiefs. Misses Selma Harris of Chicago, and Hassell of Fort Worth, were the out of town guests, the others enjoying Miss Tancred's hospitality including: Misses Margaret McMahon, Adele Adickes, Ruby Moore, Ellen Adele Robertson, Marion Maer, Agnes Reid, Pauline Richolt and Sibyl Kell, and Mesdames J. H. Barnard, Clarence Moore, Harold Hanes and J. D. Hanes and J. D. Wells.

UNITY CLUB MEETS FRIDAY AFTERNOON

"Illiteracy in the United States" formed the study of the Unity Club at its meeting Friday afternoon, when Mrs. O. E. Maer was hostess. Under the leadership of Mrs. W. Newton Maer, the following program was carried out: "Immigrants," Mrs. Newton Maer; "Mountaineers," Mrs. H. P. Patterson; "The Negro," Mrs. G. D. Anderson. The accustomed social half hour was spent over the refreshment course, the members present being: Mesdames G. D. Anderson, Geraline, Langford, O. E. Maer, Newton Maer, R. L. Miller, H. B. Patterson, O. E. Maer, W. M. Priddy, Wiley Robtreson, Eugene Sherrod and Marvin Smith.

GUY BESSIRE AND BRIDE TO RETURN TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bessire are expected to return today from their wedding trip of Southern points. Mrs. Bessire was Miss Maude Hutches of Dallas, who formerly resided in Wichita Falls, and will be remembered pleasantly by many Wichitans. The wedding occurred in Dallas two weeks ago.

Mr. Bessire is a long time resident of Wichita Falls, and has been secretary for J. A. Fisher and C. W. Gilliland, prominent local oil operators, for some time. His many friends who heard of his wedding with interest will welcome the return of himself and bride.

RECEPTION FOR NEW PASTOR LAST TUESDAY

On Thursday evening the congregation of the First Methodist Church was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Friberg, 1511 Tenth street. Rev. and Mrs. P. E. Bingham, the new pasaor of the church and wife, being the honor guests. Despite the unfavorable weather the reception rooms were comfortably filled, and the occasion proved one which will long be a pleasant memory for all those present. Mrs. G. E. Friberg and Mrs. V. Friberg formed the reception committee. The host, speaking for the congregation, expressed the earnest desire of the congregation to assist the new pastor in every way possible, and gave to Rev. and Mrs. Bingham the cordial welcome of the entire church. An impromptu program then followed. Houston Simmons giving an original negro dialect selection which was highly entertaining, as were readings by Mrs. Marquande and vocal selections by Mrs. Lysle. Then followed the telling of funny incidents in the personal experience of those present in which Dr. W. W. Swarts carried off the laurels.

Dainty refreshments were served a late hour.

NEW JEWISH SYNAGOGUE TO BE ERECTED AT 11TH AND BURNETT

Contract is to be let in a short time for the new Jewish Temple, to be built at the corner of Eleventh and Burnett, the plans for which have been prepared by E. Stanley Field, architect, and which as the accompanying architect's picture shows, will be a very attractive addition to the church edifices of Wichita Falls.

Following the accepted lines of Hebrew architecture handed down from ancient traditions both on the interior and exterior, Temple Israel, as the new home of the Congregation of Temple Israel will be known, the building will not only be a handsome structure but will provide for the needs of the rapidly growing congregation in a thoroughly up to date and ample manner.

Two vestibules, up to the main auditorium, and down to the basement, are at the main entrance, on Burnett street. Rest rooms and toilets will be located off the landing.

The auditorium will have a seating capacity of 500. The choir loft will be immediately behind the pulpit, and above, the Ark of the Covenant and the Tablets occupying the center at front of the choir. Space is left for the future pipe organ.

Parlors and committee rooms will be located at the rear of the auditorium, and the rear will have an Eleventh street entrance. There will also be an Eleventh street entrance at the front.

The basement for the present is to be left unfinished. There will be room for a large lecture room, which will also be available for banquets and social affairs, and arrangements also in the basement space are made for the installation of a heating plant in the future.

The exterior of the Temple will be of dark tapestry brick, laid in white joints, and trimmed in white stone. The ceiling of the auditorium will have exposed beams, finished in dark oak.

REVIVAL SERVICE AT MAJESTIC TODAY FOR MEN AND BOYS

There will be a revival service at the Majestic Theater this (Sunday) afternoon for men and boys. Dr. Hendrick will speak on: "Chickens Come Home to Roost." Mr. Mallard will sing: "We Will Reap What We Have Sown." Dale Haven will give some special piano numbers. This will be a clean service from start to finish. You will enjoy it. Warm room, comfortable seats, good music and splendid preaching. Every man in the city is invited.

The oil interests of the prosperous territory surrounding Wichita Falls are demanding in their banking service an intelligent, prompt and cordial understanding of their requirements and opportunities. The National Bank of Commerce supplies this, and welcomes consultations looking toward the opening of new accounts. 184-1tc

TESTIMONIAL OF THE HIGH ESTEEM IN WHICH E. J. SMITH WAS HELD

The following account of the death of E. J. Smith, published in the Daily Press of Paragould, Ark., November 24, is a splendid testimonial to the high esteem in which deceased was held in the city in which he formerly resided:

E. J. Smith, for many years a resident of Paragould, died at his home in Wichita Falls, Texas, yesterday morning at seven o'clock. News to this effect was received early in the day by Miss Annette Hays, niece of Mrs. Smith, who left this morning for Wichita Falls to attend the funeral. Miss Hays, in this morning's mails, received a letter from Mr. Smith asking her to come to Wichita Falls, and take a position with the Smith Auto Sales Co., a concern composed of E. J. Smith and his three half brothers, who had been in the Texas city for a number of years. E. J. Smith, who owned the first automobile ever seen in Paragould, and who was local manager for the Paragould Auto Sales Co., organized the Smith Auto Sales Company on East Indiana street in Wichita Falls early this year, and was making a remarkable success of the business. He was a natural mechanic and took great pleasure in working with mechanical appliances. His attention early in the year was attracted to the possibilities of the automobile industry at Wichita Falls, and resigning his position with the Paragould concern, he took up the proposition with his kinsmen and the company was launched. It was successful from the very start. The agency for Packard trucks and pleasure cars, also the agency for half a dozen other well known trucks and cars, was secured, and the machines were being rapidly sold, many going to those made newly rich by the oil industry around Wichita Falls.

The message received by Miss Hays was exceedingly brief, and merely stated that death was due to a ruptured blood vessel. It is assumed that high blood pressure was the direct cause of his death. Mr. Smith was exceptionally energetic and was always on the move. He was the embodiment of industry and jumped about here and there on his various business deals with remarkable alertness. The Smith Auto Sales Co., had a branch office at Vernon, about 60 miles from Wichita Falls, and Mr. Smith frequently drove between the two places. Griffin Smith, who returned the early part of last week from the oil fields, stated this morning that he took supper with Mr. and Mrs. Smith the night before leaving for Paragould. At that time E. J. Smith called attention to a story that had appeared in The Daily Press three or four years ago, in which a recital of the advent of the first automobile on Paragould's streets was made. He was apparently in the very best of health and full of vigor at that time, and stated that he contemplted making an airplane trip from Wichita Falls to Fort Worth the following morning. Recently he had become particularly interested in aviation, and the Smith Auto Sales Company was at that time considering the advisability of accepting the agency for a flying machine.

E. J. Smith was in Paragould in July of this year, at which time he was selling stock in the Burk-Ark oil well, in block 59. He first interested a number of Paragouldians in the possibilities of the oil fields, and took C. W. Highfill, Herbert Wood and others back to Wichita Falls and the Northwest field to look over the properties. After the stock had been sold a derrick was erected on the lease, and Mr. Smith stated to a representative from Paragould two weeks ago that drilling was to begin within a short time.

Mr. Smith moved to Paragould as a young man from Jackson county, Ill. He at first accepted a position with the Wrape people as bookkeeper, but later went into the poultry business with Goodwin & Jean. Later he was married to Miss Annette Glasscock, and soon thereafter moved to New Orleans, where for a year or more he worked as an employe in the office of a large exporting concern. Returning to Paragould, he entered the real estate business and at one time owned extensive land interests scattered over Greene and adjoining counties. The panic of 1914 and the calling in of loans worked to his disadvantage, resulting in a reversal of splendid financial prospects. Not to be counted out, however, he at once rallied his energies and landed on his feet again, and those who are familiar with his prospects in Wichita Falls are authority for the statement that he was making good in every particular and would have forged ahead rapidly had not the Grim Reaper seen fit to end his career.

The people of Paragould owe a debt of gratitude to E. J. Smith that few men can appreciate or understand. It was due to his untiring energy, industry and agitation, more than to any other single factor, that the streets of the city were [illegible]. He was a town builder and a booster twenty-four hours a day, and [illegible] never too busy to give his attention to public enterprise. He was one of the three commissioners of Street Improvement District No. 1 and helped not only in getting the initial petitions signed up, but in the months of tedious work and worry which followed. He was a member of Masonic lodge, the Elks, the I. O. O. F., and other fraternal organization, as well as a member of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Anna Trice left yesterday afternoon for Wichita Falls to attend the funeral. A message was received from the Masonic lodge at Wichita Falls this morning by C. W. Stedman, asking if the local lodge desired that the funeral services be conducted under the auspices of the order. Albert H. Glasscock, brother of Mrs. Smith, who is in the state highway department at Little Rock, has also gone to Wichita Falls to attend the funeral.

BAPTIST 75 MILLION

What is this to go to? To build a broader shelter for the orphans. To throw a cloak around the old preacher's shoulders. To help poor boys and girls secure an education. To preach the gospel to a lost world. To give scientific medical help to the poor and needy sick.

FREDERICK AUGUST OF SAXONY SERIOUSLY ILL

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—(Via. London.)—Former King Frederick August of Saxony is seriously ill at Sybellenort, in Silesia, according to the Riechenberg Zeitung. With his family he has been residing in Silesia since he quit the throne after the revolution a year ago.

DITTERFIELD DISTRICT IN GERMANY VOTES STRIKE

BERLIN, Friday, Nov. 28.—The semi-official news agency says the workers of the Ditterfield district voted six thousand to four thousand this morning to declare a general strike. The men, however, declare they will do emergency work so that Berlin may be supplied with electricity.

LARGELY FROM REPUBLICANS.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram's argument is persuasive that the new Labor party's strength will come largely from the republican party because its appeal will be to the organized industrial element which, in the nature of things, is segregated largely in the industrial centers of the North and East. Refuting the somewhat general belief that, on account of Mr. Gompers' recent friendliness for President Wilson, labor has been voting the democratic ticket, our Fort Worth contemporary proceeds:

"A comparison of election returns however, will quickly disabuse any unbiased man's mind of that. The truth seems to be that organized labor, so far as it plays any part in politics at all, is impartial according to local preferences. It is Republican in traditionally Republican states, Democratic in traditionally Democratic states. It is Republican in Pennsylvania and Democratic in Texas. But that does not tell the whole story, however. It happens that it is in states that are traditionally Republican or that have voted the Republican ticket in recent national elections that organized labor is strongest. It is not too much to say that fully two-thirds of the union men of the United States live in states that were carried by Mr. Hughes in 1916."

It is, however, not to be overlooked that Mr. Fitzpatrick, in announcing the new party, proclaimed with a flourish that while it would oppose both the old parties, its principal object was the defeat of the democrats, whom he accused of anarchy in its coal strike injunction.

The Labor party's platform, we think, makes a bid not only for organized labor's support, but its adoption of the Plumb plan and other socialization theories is put forward, we believe, in the effort to attract to it also all the radical elements that have outgrown the old socialist party and the unsatisfied and disgruntled elements generally, of whom it is to be admitted there are many just now.

There have been formidable third parties in the past, and there will be formidable third parties in the future. But third parties have been short-lived because they have invariably been unsuccessful, and the undertaking of forming a third party from class consciousness will follow the same route as those third parties which have gone before.

PRINT PAPER SITUATION.

"It is not possible today to say at what price any publisher can buy print paper," says a trade journal, the Publishers' Auxiliary. "Mill quotations on roll print range all the way from 7 to 13 cents * * * an 8-cent price would be very much below the general average." The Auxiliary figures that at 8c a pound "the publisher of a 7-column, 8-page newspaper pays $1.02 for 100 papers."

The Times is printing an average of sixteen pages—at 8 cents a pound using blank paper worth over 2c a copy. Time was, and not so long ago, that print paper was worth little more than one-fourth as much as it is worth now. Moreover, then it was easy to get, being a question merely of ordering. Today the most serious question about the whole situation—more serious even than the tremendous price—is getting an order filled.

Newspaper publishers know the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association has not overdrawn the picture when it declared that unless drastic steps to curtail consumption are taken by the larger users of paper, it means that some of the smaller papers will be forced to suspend.

Every blooming practical joker in the country seems to be sending in postal cards to the newspapers signed "Bill Carlisle." The bandit in person, seems to be as elusive as a sand-flea, but at that we don't see how he could be in Erie, Pa., Atlanta, Ga., Claremore, Okla., Denver, Col., and San Antonio, Texas, all in one day.

The Labor party could agree on many things. Little questions like declaring war on Mexico, demanding political, industrial and economic equality for the negro, abolition of the senate and other changes that would be revolutionary were passed apparently without a dissenting vote. But it couldn't last. And that the Labor party is much like unto other olden parties was conclusively proved when it almost split on the prohibition question! And that this talk about labor being overwhelmingly "wet" was largely camouflage is shown by the wets' acceptance of the party's action as a victory for the drys.

HOROSCOPE.

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

This is not a fortunate day, according to astrology. The Sun and Saturn are in malefic aspect.

There is a sign read as presaging religious troubles, for Saturn is in a place making for unjust suspicion, prejudice and unkindliness.

The stars that are held to give warning of church difficulties seem to indicate extreme activity in organizing and spreading the doctrines of one great sect.

Ministers and other speakers who address audiences while this configuration prevails probably will find a lack of responsiveness.

Warning is given by the seers that in the reaction after war when spiritual possibilities are forgotten and material ambitions permitted to replace higher aspirations, new dangers arise.

This is not a favorable day for visiting friends or relatives who occupy places in the Sun; since the stars that encourage egotism and the consciousness of power are forceful in their influence, and critical moods are engendered.

It is not a promising day for mines and mining interests and there is danger of losses, strikes and even fires

Disappointment is presaged to persons who have political ambitions, since supreme surprises are indicated for the next presidential campaign.

Increase of beauty is foreshadowed for Americans and children born in the new year have the prognostication of unusual physical endowment.

Labor continues under a sign presaging great progress and many benefits.

Community plans that bring all classes of inhabitants into closer touch in many cities will bring about a great national movement, astrologers predict, and this will take the form of some theatrical enterprise.

Music is subject to the best sort of plantetary government and will make great headway in the United States in the sense that public interest will focus on the best compositions and will demand popular concerts.

Persons whose birthdate it is should keep their business affairs well in hand.

Children born on this day are likely to be exceedingly kind and affectionate. They may be too unselfish to succeed, and should be trained to conserve their energies.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

THE SIMPLER LIFE.

Go for the honors if you will,
And treat the stony heights to fame;
Fight for the rich rewards of skill,
And seek life's jeweled crown to claim.
But as for me, I'll plod along
Where humble people line the way
And common pleasures day by day.

Fight for the glory of the great
And clamor for their brief success:
I know a little swing gate
That leads to lasting happiness.
I would not shirk my duties here,
Nor fail the purpose of my birth,
But I would live from year to year
And claim the lasting joys of earth

I choose to tread the simpler ways,
Where men and women nod and smile,
Not over eager for men's praise,
Nor over fond of pomp and style,
But glad when I can play the friend,
And proud when men are friends to me.
Contented that I've time to spend
With any man whoe'er he be;

I choose to know my children well.
To live my little life at home,
To take from toil a resting spell,
And let who will forever roam.
I'll find beneath my roof tree gay
The sweet and simple joys that live,
And reap along the humble way
All that a span of years can give.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

FIGHTING GHOSTS.

"I have a feeling," a neighbor of mine said to me one day, speaking of her mother-in-law, "that she thinks I don't spend as much time as I should on the house. If she ever says it to me I know just what I'll say. I've got it all planned. When I think how hard I work to keep the children neat and to help John with his accounts, it just makes me boil to think of her thinking I don't spend time enough on the house. I guess if I had her little house and nothing else in the world to do and not even a husband to litter it up, I could keep it as nice as she does hers."

She Just Had a Feeling It Was So.

"But what makes you think she thinks you don't keep your house neat enough?" I mildly expostulated. "She didn't ever say so, did she?"

"No, she never said a word, but I just have a feeling she thinks so.

"She's so poison neat herself, she probably doesn't see why I can't be. But I'll tell her all right if she ever says anything."

A veritable battle light was in my neighbor's eye and a call to battle in her voice. To battle against what? Against a point of view that she felt someone else held.

I have an idea that a great deal of energy that is wasted in ways like this.

She Would Dwell on Her Disapproval.

Another woman once told me that before she recognized the folly of it, she used to let her thoughs run for hours on what she would like to say to a sister-in-law whom she did not like or approve of. She would conduct long mental conversations in which she freed her mind of all the disapproval that she had been storing up in it.

Watch yourself sometime and see if you ever hold any of these imaginary conservations, or if you are all ready to do battle against some idea which you think some friend or relative holds in regard to you.

And if you do, just stop and ask yourself if there could be a more foolish waste of energy, a more ridiculous way of raising the blood pressure and wearing out your arteries.

The Worst Of It Is You Keep Doing It.

Of course, you don't get as angry as if you really talked the matter out with these imaginary offenders, but you do get more wrought up than you realize. And the worst of it is, that you don't do it and get it out of your system, but you do it over and over again.

One cannot help disliking and disapproving of certain people, one cannot help feeling that certain people judge one unfairly, but one can help dwelling on such matters in a way that does no one any good and oneself much harm.

SOWING THE SEEDS OF PROHIBITION IN GERMANY

BERLIN—(By Mail)—The first seeds for national prohibition in Germany are now being sown. America's example is held up by many thinking Germans as one Germany ought to follow with respect to intoxicating liquor.

And while Germany so far hasn't any campaign against alcohol such as England is now experiencing, there are distinct signs that the thoughtful men of the nation are beginning to realize that "schnapps" could disappear from Germany advantageously from a standpoint of food conservation, health and finances.

True, this thought is slow in percolating. But, it is significant that recently a prohibition convention was held here. And just now in the magazine "Die Glocke," a serious paper dealing with social subjects, appears an article strongly urging the nation to follow America's example.

"The procedure of the rich and powerful United States of America in instituting prohibition," wrote Dr. Ernst Neumann, "which one here now no longer passes over with a smile or a stupid joke, should give us food for thought."

The pre-war expenditure of Germany for beer, brandy and wine amounted to 3,510,000,000 marks a year, according to Neumann's figures. This amount has been altered by wartime regulations reducing the consumption of alcoholic beverages, but still the liquor business, Neumann adds, "takes millions of centners of grapes, fruit, grain and potatoes which could be employed for nutrition purposes."

He called on all political parties to make prohibition an issue inasmuch as this would relieve the food situation, help Germany in paying her war debts, and assist materially in reconstructing the country mentally, morally and physically. If mild beer were permitted, he said he believed a complete prohibition on strong drinks would be overwhelmingly adopted. "Such adoption," he concluded, "would show all the world that we do not merely talk earnestly but can also act earnestly."

Didn't Eat a Square Meal in 6 Months

Statement after statement is now being made about Orgatone, the celebrated treatment that is accomplishing such remarkable results in Wichita Falls and vicinity. Clayborn Ake, who resides at 2219 Clinton avenue, Fort Worth, is one of the latest to testify to its powers and when in Renfro's Drug Store, a few days ago, he made the following statement to the Orgatone representative:

"My stomach has been out of order for the past year and I suffered terribly with indigestion and heartburn and nearly everything I ate soured on my stomach. I got to where I didn't want anything to eat and for the past six months I never ate what you would call a square meal. I slept pretty well at night, but I felt tired and worn out when I woke up in the morning. My liver gave me a lot of trouble, too, and I had a heavy feeling like I was congested nearly all the time. I wasn't fit to do a day's work, and to tell you the truth, I felt like life wasn't worth living, because I just seemed to be getting worse all the time and nothing seemed to do me any good.

"After hearing of so many people suffering like I was who said Orgatone had done them so much good, I decided to give it a trial and this medicine just walked away with my troubles. I have only taken four bottles so far, but I'm entirely rid of heartburn and I haven't had a touch of indigestion since I began taking it. I eat good hearty meals three times a day now and enjoy every mouthful and never suffer any distress afterward. I've got my energy back and just feel like a man again. Yes, sir, I feel a thousand times better and I wouldn't take anything for the good Orgatone has done me. It's the only thing that ever brought me any permanent relief and I think I owe it to the medicine to tell other suffering people how it has put me back on the job a well man."

Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by the T. F. Young Drug Co., under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. (adv.)

NEW PETITION OUT ON POLICE MATTER TO BE PRESENTED

ASKS THAT CHIEF BE RESTORED TO POWERS FORMERLY EXERCISED IN DEPARTMENT.

MANY SIGNERS ARE REPORTED

Hinted That Referendum Will Be Invoked in the Event Petition Is Denied.

Petitions asking for the reinstatement of Fred Smith, chief of police, to the control of the city police department, and the removal of such authority from the hands of Robert C. Goodfellow, assistant police commissioner, are again being circulated with the declared intention of presenting them to the city council at their Thursday night meeting for action.

Petitions of this character were circulated about two weeks ago and were widely signed by members of the local labor unions, but were not presented as scheduled on learning from Mayor Marlow and other members of the council that action along these lines was not likely. The petitions will be presented to the council for definite action this time, however, whatever the attitude of the council, according to one individual who is active in circulating them.

"We elected Fred Smith to be chief of police, and to control the police department, and we do not think that the council is showing the proper spirit by practically nullifying our votes and turning this authority over to Mr. Goodfellow, who was not elected by us, but was appointed by the council," this party stated. "We have nothing against Mr. Goodfellow personally, but we did not elect him to hold this authority. It is the principle of the thing, and not personal feeling, which prompts us to our action."

It is declared that a greatly increased number of signers have been secured on the second circulation of these petitions, and that in addition to the signers from the ranks of the laborers, that the new signatures include those of some of the most prominent and influential men of the city. "The council cannot ignore this petition. They will simply have to take some action or other," was the comment of one of the men engaged in the circulation of these petitions.

It is intimated that the plan announced at the time of the failure to present the first petitions, to ask a referendum election on the matter, is not given over, and that this provision of the city charter will be invoked in the event of unfavorable action by the council. They declare they will at least get the council on record in the matter.

The attitude of the council on the matter is expressed by M. A. Bundy, who as ex-officio police commissioner, is head of the police department:

"We have not taken from Fred Smith any of the powers which were conferred on him by his election. So far as we know, none of his powers are being exercised by Mr. Goodfellow, except in a case where Mr. Smith has failed to exercise these powers.

"The authority exercised by Mr. Goodwellow is the authority belonging to myself, as police commissioner, he having been named by the council as my assistant.

"As for his efficiency, the council merely has to point to the record made by the department while he has exercised this office."

While no positive statement has been made in this connection by members of the council, it is not believed that they will recede from their original position in this matter

SLEET BREAKS WIRES INTERRUPTING TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH SERVICE

Telephone and telegraphic communications between Wichita Falls and the outside world were partly resumed Saturday afternoon following the interruptions due to poles blown down and wires broken in the sleet storm. The Western Union was the heaviest hit by the wire trouble, reporting 35 poles blown down on the Northwestern near Bacon and all but five wires broken on their line to Fort Worth, the interruption being west of Bowie.

The telephone office here has had no trouble with the local system, according to C. C. Kirby, the manager, but the long distance service has been very badly interrupted. However, at noon Saturday all of the damage to their lines had been repaired except breaks a short distance south of Amarillo and near Bowie, where 15 poles are reported down. This company also had a crew of linemen at work repairing the breaks. The increased facilities for handling the locs' service and the high degree of efficiency maintained by the local department, the manager says, enabled them to go through the sleet and ice storm without a single telephone in Wichita Falls being put out of commission.

The local light and power office also have been able to give uninterrupted service although the lines, in many cases have been covered with ice. The cold weather has made the linemen's work very hazardous but they have been able to keep the lines in good order.

GRAND JURY RETURNS SEVENTEEN BILLS AND ADJOURNS SATURDAY

The special grand jury convened last Monday to act on a number of cases in which the persons charged were held in jail and on other cases adjourned Saturday afternoon after finding about forty bills of indictment. Seventeen were returned Saturday afternoon.

A special sitting of the 30th district court for the trial of criminal cases will be held this week starting Monday. It is expected that a number of those indicted will be tried.

Among those indicted Saturday was William Hayes, charged with burglary of the R. H. Henry store at Electra. An overcoat left in the building furnished the clew that led to the arrest of Hayes.

Other indictments returned Saturday included:

J. A. Bowers, forgery, two indictments charging forgery of checks, one for $1585 and the other for $591.99.

W. M. Cook, forgery of a check for $500.

James Roe, theft of Hudson automobile from J. C. Owens.

E. C. Lassiter, two indictments charging forgery.

Lena Boring, Francis Drennan, R. L. Drennan, and Dan Knox, theft of property valued at more than $50 from John Eskridge.

Nerve Force is the Life Spring of Good Health

A Sufficient Supply of Life Force Means an Abundance of Good Health

This life force is that intangible element, originating in the brain, and transmitted through the nerves to the organs of the body, bringing the organs into activity and life. A little study of the nerve system of the body readily illustrates the Chiropractic claim that nearly 95 per cent of the diseases which inflict the human body are directly traceable to a pinched condition of the nerves, which condition cuts off the supply of life forces and thereby causing a deadened, or diseased, condition of the organs which the particular nerves supply. For an illustration, put a pressure on a nerve that leads to any organ. You will immediately have a numbed, deadened effect in the organ, and if the pressure is severe enough, or remains long enough, the organ will become diseased and devoid of life activity.

REMOVE THE PRESSURE AND THE LIFE FORCE WILL SPRING BACK INTO THE ORGAN, AND A NATURAL CONDITION WILL RESULT.

To remove this pressure is the science of Chiropractic. The body is so constituted that the most probable place for the nerves to become pinched is directly at the point where they leave the spinal column to diverge to the organs. At this point a great many things can contribute to this pinched condition. A sudden cold, and consequent drawing up of the muscles, an unusual jarring of the body, due to a fall, a slip on a walk or any other slight accident, apparently harmless in itself, may cause a pinched nerve that will later result in a diseased condition of an organ, and the patient will not be able to trace the effect to the cause.

THE CHIROPRACTIC LOCATES THE IMPINGED NERVE WHERE IT LEAVES THE SPINE, AND BY ADJUSTMENTS ON THE SPINE, REMOVES THE CAUSE.

No medicine is used, and no surgery is employed. Chiropractic is absolutely drugless and is the most wonderful health agent that has been discovered in a century. Practically every spine can be put in perfect alignment, causing a 100 per cent of life force to circulate through the body and a consequent improving in the life and energy in every organ.

LET US EXAMINE YOUR SPINE

NEW POWERFUL DRAMA FOR PAULINE FREDERICK

True to the standard set in her first Goldwyn Picture, Pauline Frederick is again presented under the same auspices in a powerful drama of modern society. It is "One Week of Life," by Cosmo Hamilton, which comes to the Gem theater Monday and promises her admirers all that they expect of the colorful and fervent star.

As Marion Roche she is persuaded to step from her inconspicuous position into the shoes, not to mention gorgeous frocks, of Mrs. Kengsley Sherwood, to ride in the latter's limousine, sit in her box at the opera, meet all her friends and—dine occasionally with her husband. But as he is usually obscured by too-frequent libations, there is practically no chance of discovery.

It will be a week of life for Marion and for the other woman it will be also a week of life—of another kind. She will be free to enjoy herself as she has never dared before. Why the society woman wishes to substitute herself and how it happens that Marion is willing to enter into such deception—this is brilliantly depicted in the photodrama, together with the strange situation which grows out of the exchange. Pauline Frederick plays both roles, but as the women never meet conventional "double exposure" is not employed.

URGES TEACHINGS OF JESUS AS A PROPER SOLUTION OF WHOLE INDUSTRIAL PROBLEM

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Ninety-six hundred Presbyterian churches in the United States, were advised today that the teachings of Jesus Christ would solve the whole industrial problem. These churches were urged by Dr. John McDowell, director of the social service division of the Presbyterian New Era, movement to apply the teachings of Jesus understandingly to the solution of industrial questions.

Dr. McDowell declared that the 15th verse of the 18th chapter of Matthew constituted "the law of brotherhood, conciliation and arbitration" and he urged its application to present day industrial moves. The Bible reference reads:

"Moreover, if thy brother trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother."

Dr. McDowell urged the church members and pastors to get in touch with outstanding groups of their communities, such as employers, and employes, boards of education and teachers, political, recreational, press, health, official, social and disturbing groups, learn their points of view and side with them when right.

"I believe," he said, "that eventually there will be industrial courts, similar to city, state and federal courts, in which labor disputes can be solved. These courts would be graded as are the present local courts with the right of appeal."

Dr. McDowell called attention to the following Social Creed adopted by the Presbyterian General Assembly in 1910:

"Acknowledgement of the obligations of wealth; application of Christian principles to the conduct of industrial organizations; more equitable distribution of wealth; abatement of poverty; abolition of child labor; regulation of the conditions of the industrial occupation of women; release of every worker from work one day in seven; conciliation in industrial disputes and development of a Christian spirit in the attitude of society toward offenders against the law."

MEXICO WILL EMERGE FROM HUNGER THIS YEAR

EL PASO, TEXAS, Nov. 29.—Mexico will emerge from hunger this year for the first time in two decades, according to Ivan Ragaz, a Swiss mining engineer in charge of extensive properties in Sierra Mojada, Coahuila. "The crops this season are bountiful in almost all parts of the republic," said Mr. Ragaz, during a recent visit to the border. "When the harvest is made, Mexico will be one of the cheapest places on the globe in which to live."

Mr. Ragaz reports considerable railroad building during the last three years. One line from Cuatro Cienegas to Sierra Mojada, Coahuila, 120 miles long, has already been built; another from Canitas to Durango, 150 miles long, has just been completed; still another from Cuernavaca Morelos, to Puerto Diamete, Guerrero, 200 miles long, is under construction and a fourth, about 500 miles long, is being planned between Pachucha, Idalgo, and Tampico, Tamaulipas.

EIGHTY THOUSAND HAVE RETURNED TO ITALY FROM U. S. SINCE JANUARY 1

NAPLES, Nov. 29.—About 80,000 immigrants have returned to Italy from the United States through the port of Naples since January 1. The number is increasing month by month, and with the recent release of ships hitherto requisitioned by the Allies, it is estimated that 10,000 Italians will greet Vesuvius again every month.

The fortunes brought by the returning Italians are gladly welcomed by their relatives, made needy by the war. The prosperous appearance of the passengers is generally commented on, being probably the result of five years of savings at war-time wages in America, and their well made clothes and substantial baggage, form a striking contrast to the bags and rags in evidence when emigrants leave for America.

Emigration of Italians to the United States by way of Naples, the most important embarkation point of emigrants in Southern Europe, is still very far from pre-war levels. Data from the Italian emigration office in this city indicate that, aside from returning reservists, 3217 Italians sailed to the United States from Naples during the first eight and a half months of 1919. The great majority of these were wives, children and other near relatives of Italians already in the United States, who have hitherto been prevented from joining their families because of conditions incident to the world war. The number of actual emigrants as the word is ordinarily used, is practically negligible.

In contrast with this condition, it may be noted that in 1913, the last year before the war, 198,664 emigrants left Naples for the United States. The difference between the two totals is ascribed to the results of the operation of the Literacy Law of 1917, dearth of ships and abnormally high passenger rates, and the continuance of American passport restrictions.

TWELVE HUNDRED TEXAS SHOOLS WITHOUT TEACHERS

HOUSTON, TEX., Nov. 29.—Twelve hundred public schools in Texas are without teachers because of low salaries paid, Professor A. Caswell Ellis, of the University of Texas, told the Rotary Club at a meeting here.

"Unless the people of the state act upon the gravity of the public school situation in Texas the next generation of Texas will be only half-educated and unfit to compete with the children of other states where adequate educational facilities are provided," Dr. Ellis said.

Dr. Ellis pointed out that teachers' salaries have been increased only 28 per cent, whereas the cost of living has increased 128 per cent. The result he said, is that more than one-third of the trained teachers in the public schools have quit, and their places cannot be filled.

Low salaries, Dr. Ellis said, not only have caused loss of many teachers but have forced boards of education to employ inefficient teachers.

A Difficult spot Beautified

NOT infrequently, home owners instinctively feel that something is wrong with the appearance of their garden or estate but withal are unable to tell what it is.

To attempt a solution without a definite knowledge of what is really needed is to invite defeat of the purpose in mind and also to entail monetary loss.

Sometimes the difficulty is due to too wide an expanse of ground. A sunken garden with terraces or a fountain may be just the thing to break the monotony.

Our intimate knowledge of how to overcome garden defects will prove of inestimable value to you. Our beautifully illustrated booklet "Outdoor Art" will be of much interest to you.

ZIEGLER SISTERS TO BE WEEK'S HEADLINER

The Ziegler sisters, two pretty twins, who are accompanied by a novel jazz band, are the headliners on the Pantages bill which opens here Monday night. A tin whistle solo is one of the features in the work of the jazz band, which consists of three men.

The Jarvis Footlight Revue, a tabloid musical comedy with stage life as the theme, and with a rube stage manager in the comedy role, is the most pretentious number on the bill, bringing in two men, a lavishly gowned prima donna, and a good looking chorus of six young women. There is also an Oriental scene with Jarvis playing the pasha and the chorus representing the women of the harem.

Bell and Eva, a man and a woman, do a trampoline act, the setting of which is given by a soda fountain in a drug store. The young woman also does some acrobatic dancing.

Some of the favorite songs of a generation ago, such as "Old Black Joe" will be rendered by Miss Rosa Velyda, a stately looking woman, who sings in bass and contralto and with a double voice. To further demonstrate her versatility, Miss Valyda closes her act with a yodeling selection. The gorgeous gowns worn by this singer, advance notices say, are a feature of the act.

Wallace Clifton's master picture, "The Inner Ring," one of the series of the stage women's war relief series, and which depicts modern-day politics and the crookedness of political gangsters in a large series, will be one of the offerings for this week, in addition to which there will be a comedy picture.

Use Famo Regularly on the Children's Hair

Start early to assure the children healthy scalps by using FAMO on their heads every day.

Playing children can't escape dirt. Dirt stimulates the growth of the seborrhea germ which causes dandruff.

FAMO is actually a medicine. It kills this germ, and keeps the hair and scalp healthy and clean.

It also makes stubborn hair easier to train and gives the hair of both boys and girls a beautiful sheen, of which all mothers are proud.

The child who uses FAMO regularly will never suffer from itchy scalp and the boy can look forward to manhood without fear of early baldness or gray hair.

FAMO is a wonderful treatment for the hair and scalp, that was developed in one of the old pharmaceutical houses of Detroit.

Not only does it destroy the deadly dandruff bacilli, but it makes the hair soft and luxuriant.

Every member of the family should use FAMO every day—as any good medicine is used.

FAMO is sold at all toilet goods counters, in two sizes—$1 and 35 cents.

The larger bottle contains a third more than the average.

If it does not give satisfaction, money will be refunded.

Seborrhea is the medical name for a morbidly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The seborrhean excretion forms in scales or flakes, and is commonly known as dandruff.

"ERSTWHILE SUSAN" IS A MAJESTIC ATTRACTION

Constance Binney's first Real-art production is a pronounced success, in "Erstwhile Susan," at the Majestic Tuesday. Miss Binney brings to the screen the rare artistry of her acting, coupled with a type of beauty all her own, and a charm of personality equally foreign to present day stars. That this is a combination to be reckoned within the next years (or perhaps months) is openly admitted by some of the screen's principal critics and directors.

Miss Binney's presentation of the character of Barnabetta does not show the outward signs of a director's efforts to bend her peculiar adaptability to phases of acting of "the old school" nor to any whim of his own. In this one very important detail Miss Binney's director is entitled to and receives our meed of praise. To those who have followed the utter originality of this young woman's stage and screen work it is everywhere apparent that she must have an entirely free hand to exploit a personality that differs completely from any we know. And results show that Miss Binney can be counted upon to make the very best of every least opportunity.

In this photoplay Miss Binney makes the transition from the poor little drudge, limping about in tawdry garments, to the graceful wife of the Governor, in a manner that bespeaks an art that is very nearly a finished art. That there will come changes, as time goes on (and always changes for the better,) we doubt not. Miss Binney's performance as Barnabetta in itself creates an atmosphere of suspense that the story lacks. Her upward climb out of intellectual darkness is appealing. We follow her through school, and see her at the threshold of womanhood, adored by every one but her crabbed old father, who adheres almost to the last his belief that women were made to work and slave.

"Erstwhile Susan" has the particular appeal that will make it loved by young and old, and by all classes. In precisely the same measure that the author in fashioning her characters, worked in common clay, in just that measure and with the same clay has the director labored to reproduce the human beings who work out the story. The direction throughout shows a pronounced ability to master details and leaves nothing within reason to be desired.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE IN "SCANDAL" AT PLAZA

In her new Select picture, "Scandal" which is scheduled for showing at the Plaza Theatre Monday and Tuesday, Constance Talmadge portrays the character of a high spirited society girl, spoiled and capricious, with the depths of her real womanliness unstirred. The story has been written for the screen from Cosmo Hamilton's fascinating novel of the same name, and is filled with amusing complications an dtense action.

Beatrix Vanderdyke, child of rich parents among the socially elect, is pronounced one of the most successful debutantes of the season. She is spoiled to her heart's content and insists on her own way with the royal arrogance of a young queen. Left much to her own devices by a father and mother too busy to inquire into her ways, she has only the adoring Mrs. Keane, her chaperone, to guide her. Mrs. Keane is a charming English woman, too foolishly fond of Beatrix to curb her headstrong impulses and the girl is allowed to do pretty much what she pleases.

Beatrix becomes interested in Sutherland Yorke, whose portraits of society women bring him in a comfortable income, and more enamored of his wicked reputation than of himself, enters into a flirtation. She recklessly visits his studio at night, but at Yorke's first mis-step leaves him in icy anger. Her visits to the artist's apartment become known to the family who determine to send her West out of harm's way. In order to avert the sentence of exile, Beatrix, on the spur of the moment declares herself secretly married to Pelham Franklin, a wealthy young eligible of her set, whose apartment is directly across the corridor from Yorke's and explains that she was in Franklin's rooms, not Yorke's.

The family is delighted with the news, for Beatrix has been somewhat of a problem, and hasten to welcome Franklin into the fold. She reaches him first and implores him to play the game which he does, inwardly angered, however, at the deception. Franklin is more or less the caveman type and he determines to give Beatrix the scare of her life. He accompanies her to her room and refuses to leave, declaring that she has brought his presence on herself. After a battle of wits he retires worsted and goes up to his rooms in town.

"PAID IN FULL" AT BLAIR'S TENT THEATRE

Jesse Blair's Comedians will present Eugene Walters' metropolitan success entitled "Paid In Full," Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

This play needs no introduction to the theatre goers of the city, having been previously presented here, though it is not perhaps too bold an assertion to make that a more capable or carefully selected organization has never made bid for public approval than the cast who will essay the various roles next week.

The story is complete, and a beautiful lesson is told. Special scenery and elaborate costuming will add greatly to the performance. The management is sparing neither time nor expense to make the offering a metropolitan production.

"UNDER SUSPICION" AT THE MAJESTIC MONDAY

"Under Suspicion," showing at the Majestic, is the kind of comedy-drama that rivets an audience's attention from the start and holds it to the finish. It is a cleverly constructed photoplay, skilfully directed, beautifully screened and well acted. Rich in humor, yet pleasantly sensational at times, with plenty of heart sensational and human appeal, this attraction deserves to be listed among the season's best films and one that is likely to earn a high degree of public popularity.

There is nothing like a judicious blending of melodrama with clean, incisive comedy to win the approval of movie fans, and in this respect the adventure of Betty with her lover pickpocket protege and arch-crook, "Tuxedo Frank," establishes a 100 per cent record. Director William Dowlan has handled his subject with true artistic craft, which is responsible for the delightful smoothness of the action and sincere, energetic work by the entire cast results in a performance of undeniable merit.

DIVIDEND CHECK IS CASHED AFTER 27 YEARS

DALLAS, Texas.—Asleep for twenty-seven years, the Rip Van Winkle of Texas bank checkdom, awakened recently when a dividend certificate on the First National Bank of Ladonia, issued July 6, 1892, was presented for payment. The "story" of the check is told by D. E. Waggoner, a Dallas banker, who at the time the check was issued was cashier of the Ladonia bank.

The dividend check, for $25, was issued in favor of H. M. Moody, a stockholder. Pigeonholed by Mr. Moody among other papers it remained unforgotten until discovered recently by a relative of Mr. Moody. It was cashed by a bank at Bonham and in due course reached the Ladonia institution, where it was honored promptly. The piece of paper is to be framed and placed in the Ladonia bank as a curiosity.

"WITCH'S GOLD" CAST GOES TO LOS ANGELES FOR INTERIOR SCENES

The members of the "Witch's Gold" staff left Friday for Los Angeles where they will spend the next few weeks at the studio making the interior scenes for the photoplay. The company will return here before January 1st for a few days to complete the local scenes which were interrupted by the weather man. Some of the most important scenes on the streets are yet to be done.

The studio manager wired yesterday that the members of the company will find the interior "sets" ready. The interiors of the homes have already been constructed and are standing on the studio floor under the open glass roof of the studio which can be brilliantly lighted day or night. Additional "sets" in course of construction include brokers' offices, the interior of the Peoples Stock Exchange, the Westland hotel lobby and others. A completely equipped derrick is to be built on the little 4 acre lot adjoining the studio on which many thrilling stunts will be performed.

The members of the cast and executive staff enjoyed their trip to Wichita Falls and appreciated greatly the many courtesies extended to them. They were loathe to leave, although forced to do so by the weather.

The organization of the company making this production, the Wichita Falls Film Company, has been completed, the board of trustees, consisting of Judge Wm. N. Bonner, Dr. T. A. Hartsook, H. J. Robson, A. D. Stratton, and M. A. Dodge. Mr. Dodge has gone north on a visit to his Kansas City and Milwaukee offices, but will return to supervise the completion of the film and to keep in close touch with various oil projects in which he is interested.

Items of Interest to "Movie" Fans

Vitagraph's production which will be released in December are Corinne Griffith in "The Tower of Jewels," Harry T. Morey in "The Darkest Hour," Bessie Love in "Pegeen," Earle Williams in "When a Man Loves" and Anita Stewart in "The Suspect."

May Take Flying Trip.

As William Duncan has just decided "Smashing Barriers," he may take a flying trip east. Many film men who are attending the formal opening of Vitagraph's new offices in Albany and Buffalo, N. Y., have wired Duncan, asking that he augment the crowd of screen notables expected on this occasion. Duncan is now reading over the lengthy script of the serial to follow "Smashing Barriers." He figures that he may be able to finish this duty on the train, while speeding east.

Goes Duck Hunting.

Larry Semon has just finished a comedy which will be released directly after "The Headwaiter." In company with his assistant director, M. S. Pebbles, he has gone duck hunting—his first vacation in two years.

New Leading Lady.

Lillian Webster, formerly with D. W. Griffith, has been engaged by Montgomery and Rock as new leading lady for their new Big "V" comedies.

"The Invisible Hand"

Vitagraph plans to release its new serial, "The Invisible Hand," during the month of December. Antonio Moreno is the star, playing the role of a fashionable society detective. Albert E. Smith and Cyrus Townsend Brady wrote the story.

Alice Joyce Special.

"Slaves of Pride" is the title selected by Albert E. Smith for the next Alice Joyce special production. It is an adaptation by William B. Courtney of a successful novel and was filmed under the working title of "Pride." Miss Joyce is now at work on "The Sporting Duchess," Vitagraph's screen version of the famous Drury Lane melodrama.

Director Is Switched.

Tom Terriss, who recently directed Corinne Griffith in "The Climbers" and "The Tower of Jewels," has been switched to Earle Williams, and is directing him in "The Fortune Hunter." He will also act as director for "Captain Swift," another early production in which Williams will be starred.

Goes for School Dresses.

Jean Paige plays the role of Betty Gasham, the daughter of a poor village druggist, in "The Fortune Hunter," the screen production of the famous stage play. She has sent to her home near Paris, Illinois, for some dresses she wore while attending high school there. She will wear these dresses while portraying the leading lady's role in "The Fortune Hunter."

Human Collateral.

Corinne Griffith's recently completed feature will be called "Human Collateral." It will not be shown until early in the new year. Her next release will be "The Tower of Jewels." Lawrence C. Windom directed the former play and Tom Terriss the latter.

J. Rufus and Blackie.

J. Rufus Wallingford and his side partner, "Blackie" Daw, made famous through the pen of their creator, George Randolph Chester, are to be seen on the screen with the assitance of Vitagraph. Mr. Chester has written a scenario around new and recent exploits of the famous characters. The play is based on hitherto unpublished Wallingford stories and was not adopted either from the novel or from the play entitled, "Get Rich Quick Wallingford." It will be filmed early in the new year.

Out of the Weather.

Harry T. Morey has abandoned the making of exterior scenes for "The Mightier Strength" until more favorable weather arrives. Rain, snow and cold weather got to the Adirondacks before Mr. Morey and his supporting company got there, and made outdoor scenes almost impossible. He has now started on another picture in which he will appear as a detective—a new role for him.

Earle Williams Hero.

Three separate and fully equipped drug stores have been built for the screen production of Winchell Smith's famous rural play, "The Fortune Hunter." Much of the action takes place in a drug store and three were necessary to show how they improved under the management of the hero. Earle Williams is playing the hero. Tom. Terriss is directing the production.

MOHAMMEDANS WEAR AMERICAN GOLF CAPS

ELBASA, ALBANIA.—Mohammedans of Elbasan are wearing American golf caps instead of the red fez which from the time Mohammed laid down the religious tenets for his worshippers, has been the immemorial head covering of the Turk.

The Austrian occupation left scarcely a scrap of cloth in the country. Many of the Turks went bareheaded. Then an American Red Cross unit arrived, bringing thousands of outing caps.

The Mohammedans, abandoning their religious scruples, clamored eagerly for these head pieces.

Today most of the Turkish school boys of Elbasan wear the conventional caps of their Yankee brothers across the ocean and look the better for it.

FOE OF MORMONISM

Miss WINIFRED GRAHAM

Winifred Graham, who represented not fewer than nine European nations at the recent conference on Mormonism held at Pittsburg, arrived recently in New York. The authoress is known as Mrs. Theodore Cory. Mr. Cory, who matches his wife's literary activities with that of a collector of antiques, also is here, both having attended the conference at Pittsburg. Perhaps the United States, Great Britain and at lease eight other European countries have no more ardent champion of the anti-Mormon cause than this writer of some two score and ten novels, most of which deal with the plural wives question. It is through her books that she hopes to help check the spread of what she calls a national and international menace.

REV. KNICKERBOCKER TONIGHT TO DISCUSS HOW TO STAY MARRIED

Rev. Hubert D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the First Methodist church, corner Tenth and Lamar streets, believes that the successful preacher must preach on subjects in which there is the greatest interest. He says that there is the greatest interest in the everyday problems of our lives.

"My opinion that human interest subjects—heart and home subjects—are always very popular was certainly demonstrated as sound psychology by the overflowing crowds that sought admission to the auditorium last Sunday night, when I gave the first of a series of sermons on "How to Get Married, Stay Married and Be Happy Though Married." The fact that scores stood through the whole service shows they 'stood' the preaching well.

"This Sunday night I am going to talk on "How to Stay Married." This is a much more difficult proposition than getting married. Down in Houston, the village of my former pastorate, there was a judge who granted divorces by the hundreds at the rate of one a minute when his court was grinding. This is literally true. Anybody can make money, it takes a wise man to save it. Anybody can get married; it takes a wise man to remain in the great state of matrimony. My sermon will be full of genuine, practical counsel that has been helpful to thousands who have heard it. A touch of local color will be put in by two interviews that I had with two Wichita Falls men, one of whom confessed he fully needed the line of counsel I was handing out as he had been married three times. All three wives are living; he was paying alimony to two and proposes to marry a fourth wife on January first. He promised to be out Sunday night.

"My morning subject will be "Reward and Judgment, or Startling Revelations of the Soul."

DELAYS CROWDING THE COUNTY COURT DOCKET

For every suit that gets off the docket in the county court about three suits are filed, the records show. A very large number of suits are being filed in the county court but the litigants show little disposition to go to trial. The result is that the docket is filled.

HOUSTON REPORT ON GULF COAST WEATHER

How Can I Have Beautiful Hair And Skin?

In most cases by making Cuticura your every-day toilet preparations. Thus you have the delicate Cuticura medication applied in a natural and wholesome way, calculated to restore clogged, irritated skin pores to health, and health means beauty and purity.

If Your Complexion Is Marred

by clogged pores, pimples, blackheads, redness or roughness, gently smear the face, on rising, with Cuticura Ointment on the end of the finger. Wash off in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water, using plenty of soap, best applied with the hands, which it softens wonderfully, continue bathing a few minutes. Finally dust on a few grains of Cuticura Talcum, the most fragrant and healthful of Talcum Powders.

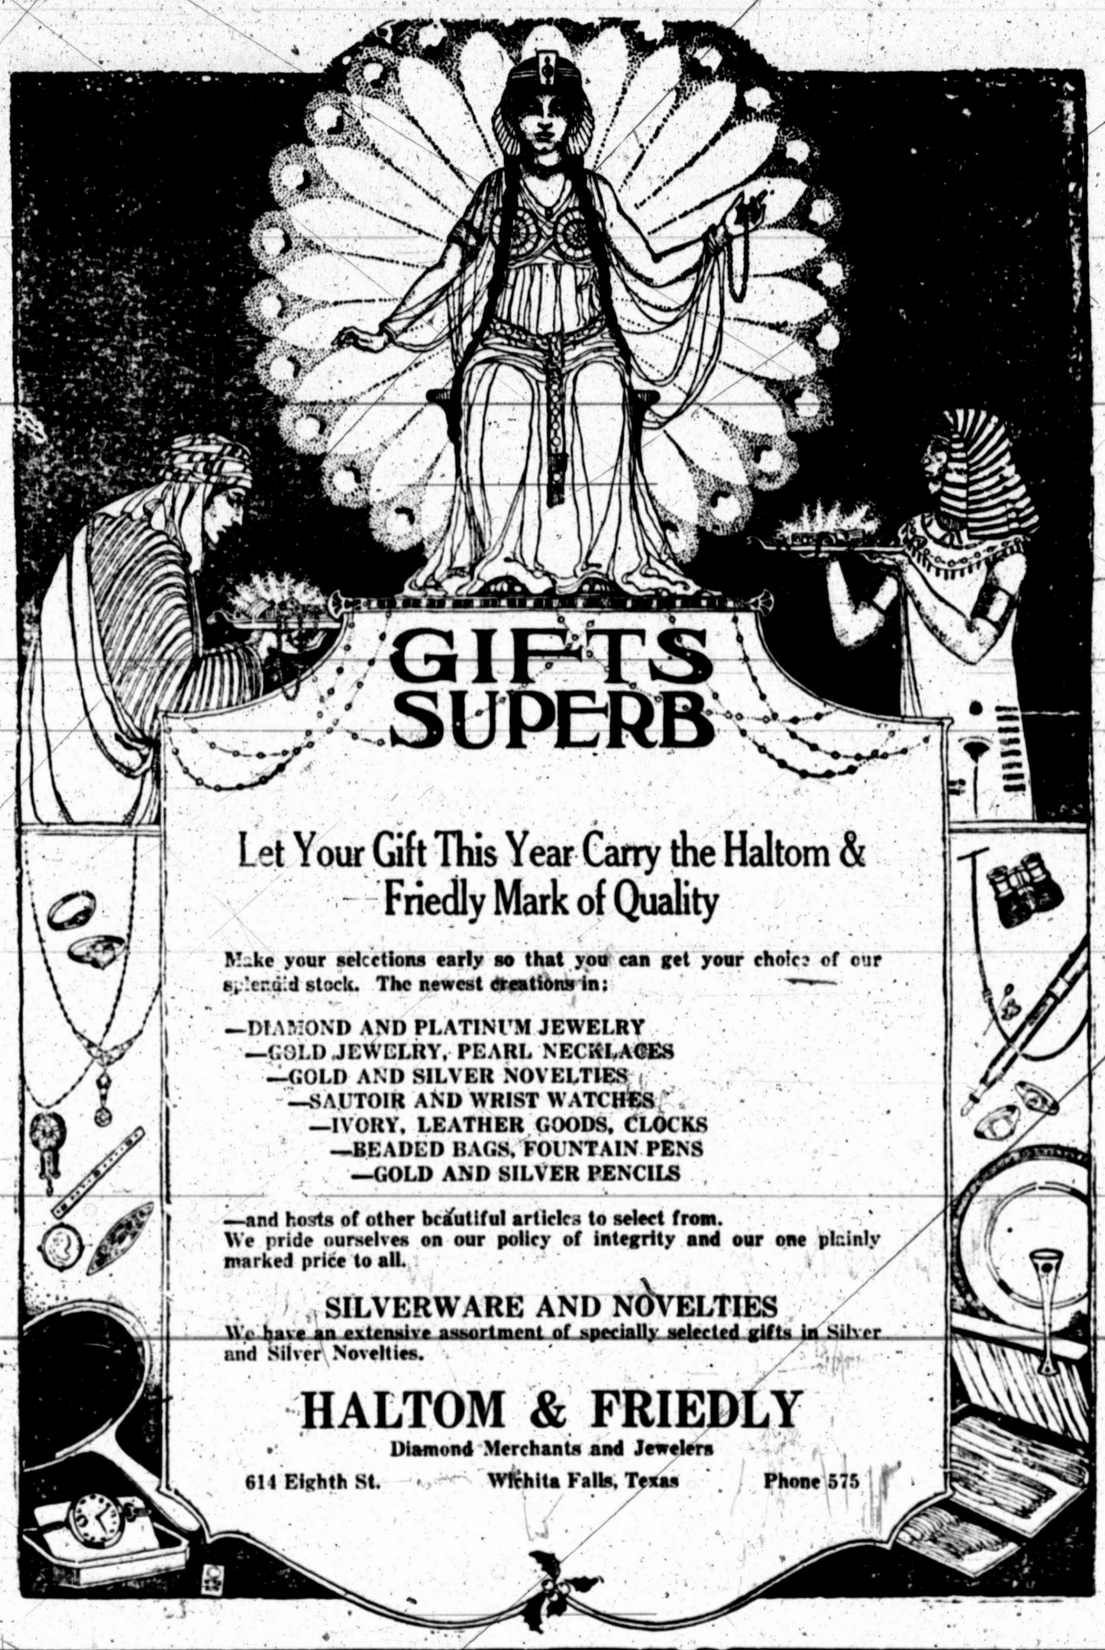

If Dandruff Menaces Your Hair

touch spots of dryness, dandruff or itching, on retiring, with the Ointment on end of forefinger. Cover head for night. Next morning shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Rinse with tepid water. Repeat in two weeks if needed.

Then make these fragrant supercreamy emollients your every-day toilet preparations, and have as a result in most cases a clear, sweet, healthy skin, clean scalp, good hair and soft, white hands with little trouble and trifling expense.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold throughout the world. For sample each free address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. O, Malden, Mass."

You Are Invited To Join in the Making of

"WITCH'S GOLD"

The making of this feature motion picture is a project in which every man and woman in Wichita Falls should be vitally interested.

The first important scenes have been made here. The company of actors and technical workers is now speeding to the Los Angeles studio but will return within a few weeks to complete the final scenes.

Before the completion of the production we wish to enlist the co-operation of every man who wishes to see Wichita Falls placed on the screens of the theatres throughout the country. And we feel that those who co-operate will take great pride in owning shares in the project.

It will mean a great deal to every man living or doing business here to have the facts of the great oil and other opportunities of this section placed before the people throughout the land.

The leading men of this city have endorsed this undertaking and are co-operating heartily. Well known and responsible local men are on the board of trustees.

In no sense are we conducting a stock-selling campaign of the usual kind. But we feel that those who are interested in the film should have the opportunity to buy some of the shares as long as any are left. And we shall be pleased to place all of the facts before you so that you may quickly decide whether or not you wish to participate.

We have published an interesting book that contains these facts and we will gladly send you a copy upon your request. Just fill out and mail or bring coupon printed herewith.

To the President and Directors of the Chamber of Commerce:

Gentlemen:

We, your Publicity Committee, have carefully investigated the proposition of making a moving picture feature to be known as "Witch's Gold" and the formation of a company to be known as the Wichita Falls Film Company for the purpose of filming and producing said picture.

We are of the opinion that this picture as planned will result in much helpful publicity for our city and will serve to convince the public generally of the permanence of and the sound future in store for Wichita Falls.

We have pledged the moral support of the Chamber of Commerce to this undertaking.

Respectfully submitted:

(Signed)

B. F. JOHNSON,
C. W. REID,

INTEREST IN OIL DEVELOPMENT CENTERS LARGELY IN TERRITORY ALONG COURSE OF RED RIVER

New drilling operations in the Waggoner pool, and the extensions at the present time have practically come to be confined to the larger companies, there being a very few wells above 1,000 feet in depth, and very few locations, as can be noticed in the reports from the field operations for the last several weeks. Many companies and individual operators also, have completed their drilling program in the field for the present, and are waiting on storage and pipe line facilities to bring in the wells. Low on the sand, so that the field may now be said to have settled down on a production basis, rather than being a district of fresh developments. That the pipe line situation is not yet cleared up may be seen, from one company's condition. Take for instance the Daisa Oil Co., the Burkburnett subsidiary of the Allied Oil Co. On one 20 acre tract in block 93 the company has 12 wells, all to sand depth with casing set, and standardized. One of these wells is producing, the others not yet having been drilled in, though they have been completed for a number of weeks, some of them for several months. The company has between 16,000 and 20,000 barrels storage, which stays full practically all of the time. As soon as adequate pipe line connections can be secured this company will have a production of at least 10,000 barrels daily, it is estimated, where there is now perhaps much less than 1,000 barrels which shows on the run. This is not an unusual situation in the field, and it shows how short of the actual potential production of the field are the figures of less than 90,000 run from the Burkburnett Northwest daily by the present pipe line facilities.

New Operations.

The new operations in the Burkburnett northwest extension are along the course of the Red River, both up and down stream from the General, Burk Senator and Burk Bet wells. The bad weather is holding up materials from the river territory, where numerous new locations made since the General well came in, indicate an extensive and thorough test to be made immediately of both the Texas and Oklahoma side of the river.

There have been no new developments reported from the Dawley Brothers test on the Oklahoma bank of Red River, south of section 33-4-14 which is believed to indicate an extension of the river sand about two miles east down the river from the Burk Senator and Burk Bet wells. The location is also north of these first two river tests to strike the sand. The sand was reported to a depth around 1650 feet, but for reasons not stated operations have been discontinued here for a time. Bad roads on the Oklahoma side are also proving a deterring feature to operations.

Fisher Whaley Test.

The Fisher Whaley's cable test, which was in progress before the Burk Senator and General wells attracted attention and speculative interest in Tillman county, Okla., has been having some caving trouble, which is now being remedied by setting an additional couple of joints of 12½ inch casing. The hole is about 1,000 feet down at present, progress with cable tools being necessarily slow. This property is leased from the U. S. government, being Indian leases, and the cable test was specified. However several rotary tests, which are expected to prove much speedier, will be under way in a short time, as soon as the weather permits. The rains are reported to have delayed beginning of drilling operations of Ed Sheegog in section 5-4-14, where the rig is already in place. The Carter Oil Co. is reported to have considerable acreage in this vicinity, and their first location is reported in section 8-4-14. Another new location in this vicinity is in section 12-5-15, Hogan et al. To the west, directly north of block 835, Frederick parties are drilling in section 5-5-15, their depth being reported around 800 feet the close of the week.

As soon as the condition of the roads will permit hauling of materials rigs will line the river bed, both east and west, according to the present reports of new locations to be made. At present there are no new locations available at present, not already covered in reports.

South Burkburnett District.

From the Texhoma-South Burkburnett district comes the report of several new locations. Two of these, the Gulf Production Co.'s No. 1 H. Willis, and the Rowe et al, No. 1 Willis, are north of the Arlington Oil Co.'s No. 1 H. Willis, which was reported on the sand some time ago. One thousand feet of the Texhoma's No. 1 Daniels, the B. M. C. Oil Co. has made location for their No. 1 Daniels. A new rotary is reported going up on the Willis, the Packard Eld Oil Co.'s No. 1 Hy Willis. The Whale Oil Co.'s No. 1 Daniels, an old hole being deepened, is reported drilling around 1200 feet. The Owen & Shappell No. 2 Daniels is reported rigging up a rotary, and the Ridge Oil Co.'s No. 1 Dodson, in this same section, is reported drilling around 225 feet. The Texanna Petroleum Co.'s No. 1 A. Dodson is reported drilling around 350 feet, while the No. 2 is a derrick. The Badger Texas Oil Co.'s No. 1 also on the Dodson is reported drilling around 550 feet. The No. 1 Daniels of Bob Lincoln et al is reported drilling around 355 feet.

About the only new development in the Waggoner pool is the second sand at 1703 feet that the Willis & Breedlove No. 1 Taylor, block 77 of the Knights subdivision of block 97, found, after the hole had been practically given up as dry. The sand was encountered at 1680 feet, the usual depth for that section, but tested out dry, but before abandoning the hole the owners decided to drill deeper, finding the second sand about 23 feet deeper. Water broke in, and a liner is now being set. If this sand tests out pay, it will be of considerable interest, since this has been considered "edge stuff."

The Whole Secret of A Better Tire

Simply a Matter of the Maker's Policies

This you will realize—once you try a Brunswick—that a super-tire is possible only when the name certifies that the maker is following the highest standards.

For tire making is chiefly a matter of standards and policies—cost plus care. Any maker can build a good tire if he cares to pay perfection's price.

All men know Brunswick standards, for Brunswick products have been famous for 74 years.

Formulas, fabrics and standards vary vastly in cost. Reinforcements, plies and thickness are a matter of expense. And these variations affect endurance. It rests with the maker how far he wishes to go—how much he can afford to give.

For there are no secrets nor patents to hold one back.

To ascertain what each maker offers one must analyze and test some 200 tires—as our laboratories have done.

Then it is a matter of combining the best features and building according to the highest standards.

Once you try a Brunswick you will understand how we have built model tires, regardless of factory expense.

Yet Brunswick Tires cost you the same as other like-type tires. Our saving is on selling cost, through our nation-wide organization.

We realize that you expect more from Brunswicks, and we assure you that you get it. ONE Brunswick will tell you the story.

And then you'll want ALL Brunswicks. No other tire, you'll agree, gives so much for your money.

EXPERTS DECLARE OTTOMAN EMPIRE FINANCIALLY SOUND

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 28.—American experts who have investigated the financial condition of the former Ottoman empire say they are convinced that it is fundamentally sound. Several considerations are advanced to support the conclusion.

First, it is stated that the popular point of view that Turkey was bankrupt before the war was partly created artificially for the benefit of foreign financial interests with the object of frightening other would-be investors and for political reasons of establishing spheres of influence.

The fact that Turkey was always able to secure loans is cited as evidence of her financial soundness, though against this may be advanced the observation that she was a political center coveted by many powers who were played, the one against the other, and that financial considerations were sometimes subordinated to political purposes.

It is pointed out that Turkey did not default on her indebtedness, in recent years, but funds for the payment of interest and amortization were continually increasing, and doubling at the rate of every fifteen years.

The revenues of the country as a whole were increasing at the normal natural rate of other prosperous countries in Europe.

An enormous percentage of revenue never reached the treasury, the loss being estimated by some as high as fifty per cent. This was partly ascribed to the system of farming out the taxes by districts, collectors paying in advance a certain sum and then colecting in what they could.

For Americans who are considering the mandate question or of doing business here under whatever government is established, it is pointed out that the above facts show revenues already adequate to conduct the old government and that with good government, the old Ottoman empire would have been financially strong.

Before the war foreign investments amounted to the equivalent of $1,078,000,000 of which $783,200,00 was in the public debt or loans to the government and the difference in private enterprises and concessions.

The bulk of these investments was in loans to the government. What was done with this money? Many of the loans were issued below par so that all of the money never reached the treasury. Enormous commissions are believed to have been paid to European bankers and in "gratifications" to various local ministers to get their support for the loans. Sums that did reach the treasury are said to have been squandered on palaces, harems, and in other unproductive ways.

So the loans did not, on the whole, create sources of new revenue and therefore the public debt continually increased. It is to be noted that in the late seventies and the early eighties the government could not pay interest on its loans and so large sums were written off by various refunding operations in recognition of the doubtful manner in which most of the loans had been made, and new issues were put out with the old ones being taken in at reduced face value.

Suggestion has been made these facts may lead the peace conference to write off more of the national debt.

The object of such loans, it is stated, were partly yith the political intent of making Turkey default so interested powers could take over her finances and control the country, as was done in 1881. This led to the creation of loose spheres of influence, Germany taking Konia Plain, the French, Syria, with the Italians wanting the province they at present occupy, and the British and Russians seeking Constantinople. In the council of administration of the Ottoman public debt, which continued until the war and has been resumed in some fashion, there was one Englishman, one Frenchman, one German, one Austrian and one Italian, with the presidency alternately occupied by an Englishman and a renchman. Of the public debt, France owned 60 per cent, Britain 14 per cent, Germany 21 per cent, and four per cent was owned between the Italians and the Austrians.

The conclusion of the investigators is that if the investments had been made for productive enterprises and had created sources for meeting interest and the debt, it would have been child's play to carry the debt and pay it off. However, as the debt was lowered, in spite of the above attempts, additional loans were made. Not all of the sums borrowed by the government were wasted: for example, about $50,000,000 were used to help build the Bagdad railway. Although the Germans would have built the line with their own money, they actually got Turkish money to finance what they considered a German enterprise.

AMERICAN CHARGES GET BIG BRUSH CONTACT

BELGRADE. (By Mail.)—The children in the American orphanage here have just received a contract from a Danube steamship line for $5,000 worth of brushes. All of the work is done by children under 10 years of age in the school room.

This orphanage was established some months ago by Miss Clara Lewis, of Chippewa Falls, Wis., head of the war orphans bureau of the Red Cross here. It is a model orphanage, established not only to care for about 360 children, but to serve as a model for many that the Serbian government is planning to build. Serbia had no modern orphanages previously, but it had about 300,000 orphans.

All the children are taught vocations, which is quite a new idea in Serbian orphan work. Brush making is one of the principal vocations taught and the children have shown such aptitude that they have received a number of contracts, in addition to the latest one for $5,000. The profits, of course, go toward maintaining the home, and very shortly they will be sufficient to make the home self-sustaining.

One way Miss Lewis interested the children was to take them all out to a place on the Danube, where the right kind of brush-grasses grew, and to have a picnic lunch after the grasses were gathered. The children were so delighted with these little tips, that making the grass-brushes became popular almost immediately.

The Tmes Job Printing Company has a nice line of stock certificates and nearly always delivers a certificate job same day order is placed (no waiting, no excuses, no disappointments). Telephone 2175. 184-1tc gives good service—always. 184-1tc

NATIONS RAISE FUND TO BEAT U. S. AT OLYMPICS

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—England will spare "not a shilling" to win premier honors in the 1920 Olympic games.

Such are the reports that are drifting from the British Isles where steps are already being taken to get a team ready for the Antwerp games.

Lieut. Col. A. N. S. Jackson, former president of the Oxford university athletic club, and who served with distinction as a battalion commander of the Royal Rifles in the war, is the prime mover in the preparations.

He recently recommended the raising of a $500,000 fund to train the British team. He outlined plans for the erection of a training camp, the employment of competent instructors and trainers and accommodations that would encourage the best athletic talent of the kingdom to try for places on the team.

France is figuring on assembling valuables to pawn for an Olympic fund. Sweden has already subscribed several thousands dollars for the purpose and in many of the smaller nations organizations have been named to handle the teams. In America, however, nothing has been done to get the team ready that every nation has resolved to oeat.

From Germany wails have arisen over the decision to bar the "kultured" athletes from the 1920 games. The Germans have not only been denied admission for the coming games but if France has here way about it, they will never be allowed to enter the international competitions.

SWEETHEART FAITHFUL TO HER CONVICT LOVER AND WEDDING BELLS RING

AUSTIN, TEX., Nov. 29. — Bus Wyers and Miss Johnnie May Sparks are finally married, and "the end" has been written on one of the most unusual courtships that has come to the attention of state officials.

For Bus and Miss Johnnie May were engaged six years ago, when Bus was accused of murder. Later he was convicted and sentenced to hang. But his plucky financee came to Austin, and her pleadings with the governor secured a commutation of Wyers sentence to life imprisonment. So, three years ago, he went to the penitentiary.

Then Miss Sparks began to work for a pardon, and a short time ago she convinced the governor that Wyers deserved further clemency, and the pardon was granted.

The last chapter was the letter to a friend here from Mrs. Wyers announcing the marriage and telling of her happiness. The couple now live at Henderson.

STEAMSHIJ SERVICE VERA CRUZ TO EUROPE

GALVESTON, TEX., Nov. 29.—Announcement that direct steamship service between Vera Cruz and important European ports is to be established shortly has just been received by Maude Fierro, Mexican consul here. It was said "a number of first class steamers" would be employed in the new service.

Another message received by Mr. Fierro said that closer commercial and diplomatic relations betwen Mexico and Spain had been established as a result of the recent visit to Spain of General Candido Aguilar, special envoy, who was granted an audience by King Alfonso in Madrid.

To find three sisters all of whom are qualified druggists is rather unusual, but such is the case in the family of Mrs. A. B. Dunlap of Albany, Ore., whose three daughters are joint proprietors of a flourishing pharmacy.

POLITICAL UPHEAVALS CASTING MANY REFUGEES ON THE SWISS

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BERNE, SWITZERLAND, — (By Mail)—In the efforts of the peace conference to reweave the torn political and social fabric of Europe only nations have been considered to date.

The rights of individuals have not even been mentioned.

And yet, Switzerland, for example, today is filled with individuals from every overturned government of Europe, each one of whom has legal and moral claims against some government that has either disappeared or is being reformed.

Until these claims can be re-established these individuals are tiny bits of shipwreck on the turbulent sea of European political and social life. Some are without means of existence, some are without country or nationality, some are without legal or civil rights.

In many cases their respective rights ceased to exist when some government disappeared or was succeeded by another. More often the new government refused to accept the obligations of the old one and thousands of individuals were thus left stranded.

No authority short of the peace conference itself could possibly hear adjust and enforce the rights of each one of these individuals as it is now trying to hear, adjust and enforce the rights of each nation. That it will never be able to take up the cases of individuals is certain. That they will never succeed in re-establishing their rights themselves seems equally certain. Apparently only one fate awaits them and that is to live out their allotted existence without ever again becoming worked back into the new social and political fabric of Europe that is becoming woven, leaving it to the coming generation to adjust itself into the new order of things.

These individual cases, in Switzerland, now amount to thousands while those who still remain in the countries where their legal, civil and financial rights formerly existed unquestionably number millions. The recital here of a few typical examples of individual cases now in Switzerland will give some idea of how varied, how pathetic and how helpless they are, and of how finely and delicately the social and political fabric of Europe was before it was torn asunder, and how long it may take before it can again be re-woven into a smooth serviceable piece of cloth.

Living in the most modest quarters of Berne and yet still surrounding herself with a little of the dignity that pertained to her former station as the wife of one of the highest admirals in the former Austrian navy is the neatly woven social and political fabric of before the war, she was entitled to a pension as the widow of a high naval officer. It amounted to about 6,000 crowns a year, which was sufficient to enable her to live. With the heavy depreciation of Austrian currency her pension now nets her 18 cents a day. By knitting, sewing, darning and taking in mending she is able to get along. If her health holds out she will probably never become dependent on charity.

There is also at Berne the former professor of economics at the University of Czernovitz. Before the war, because of his international reputation he had been designated as exchange professor at Yale. When the Roumanians occupied Bukovina and the adjacent provinces, the Germans as well as the local universities were closed and the faculties dismissed if not actually chased out.

The professor is now more than sixty years of age. Under the system in vogue in most of the European countries before the war where the universities are a part of the state system of education, the professors are pensioned and retired at the age of sixty. The Roumanians, however, have seen no necessity of accepting individual obligations that were part of the system of government in territory which they have taken over, and so this distinguished professor of economics has developed some theory if not a practice of how to live without an income.

As the peace conference at Paris never succeeded in forcing the Roumanians to recognize any of its mandates which had to do with big national and international problems, it is hardly likely that it would be able to impose on that country, or as far as that is concerned on any of the new countries to which it has given birth, the carrying out of an individual obligation.

Without doubt the greatest number of social and political shipwrecks now in Switzerland are those left by the peace conference without either country or nationality. The great bulk of these have come out of the breaking up of Russia and the Austro-Hungarian empire. According to the dictates of the peace conference, if a former Austrian subject happens to live in Bukovina which is to be given to Roumania he must become a Roumanian citizen regardless of what his nationality or race may be.

As a consequence these individuals who formerly had Russian, Austrian or Hungarian passports, find themselves men without a country for the time being. They apply at once to the legation, embassy or consulate of the new state to which the territory in which they reside has been assigned by the peace conference and ask for a passport or other official recognition that they are citizens of the new state. For various reasons, but usually because the applicant was unusually loyal to the old government, the request is refused. The individual, therefore, rests without a country. The Swiss government, as every other European government at present, demands a passport of every foreigner within her boundaries.

The political and social outcasts, however, are rather difficult to expel because to pass into another country they must again have a passport. For the time being she is permitting them to remain in the hope that the peace conference will eventually force the new states to which their homes have been assigned to recognize them as citizens.

If the peace conference doesn't, Europe will be filled with a veritable floating population of "wandering Jews" without country or nationality. The only solution that has been suggested to date is for the League of Nations to create an international state where these individuals who are refused citizenship by the new states which the peace conference has created can find refuge and legal and civil rights.

At one of the cheapest music halls in Berne the orchestra conductor is one of the most famous piano players in Europe and a doctor of music from the conservatory of Vienna, one of the most difficult musical degrees in the world to obtain. This man, however, is suffering from social rather than the political overturning of Europe and as long as he has musical education, he at least is sure of a living. As a matter of fact, he gave every indication of taking his particular social upheaval with considerable grace and the smile on his face as he conducted the incidental music to a low German dialect comedian was the same as when he conducted symphony concerts at the philharmonic halls of the leading capitals of Europe.

RED CROSS SUPPLIES SENT BY AIRPLANE

PINSK, Poland. (By Mail)—By an aeroplane flight from the Polish aerodrome near Vladimir-Volynski, in Ukrainian Poland, to one of the villages near Pinsk, Captain E. B. Schoedsack, of Los Angeles, brought a trunkful of medical supplies that arrested a threatened cholera outbreak. It was the first aerial delivery of civilian medical supplies in the history of Poland.

A refugee camp had been formed on the outskirts of the Pinsk marches. Bad roads and in some places absolute lack of them due to heavy rains, had made communication with the medical warehouses in the rear absolutely impossible by horse or automobile.

Captain Schoedsack, who was formerly an aero photographer in the signal corps of the American army, suggested the aeroplane as a means of delivering the much needed supplies.

Major H. S. Diehl, of Clear Springs, Md., the officer in charge, instantly got together a trunkful of medicines and other necessary supplies for the emergency appeal. The local aerodrome of the Polish air service had agreed to furnished the aeroplane.

DISCREDITS REPORT JAPAN AND GERMANY HAVE AN ALLIANCE

TOKIO, Nov. 29.—Viscount Ishii, formerly Japanese ambassador to Washington, asserts in a magazine article published here that the reports which have been circulated in some other countries of an alleged secret alliance between Japan and Germany are directly traceable to the interpellations hich were made in the Japanese Diet in the winter of 1916. These inquiries were in relation to London compact between the Allies to make no separate peace with Germany "It will be recalled that this was formed in the early stages of the war.

Viscount Ishii says the rumor has caused serious harm to Japan's war-[illegible] and has injured Japan's interests in her post-bellum [illegible].

He points out that in the interpellations prominent members of the Diet contended that Japan had shouldered a grave responsibility of no separate peace at a time when the issue of the great war forbade any forecasts. The Viscount, who was Foreign Minister when the London pact was signed, says the Japanese Cabinet answered these criticisms by declaring that the government had no intention whatsoever of concluding a separate peace with Germany. Adherence to the pact ministers pointed out, was in consequence with article 2 of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

"It was but natural," writes Viscount Ishii, "that foreigners should be impressed with the notion that the Japanese nation was really opposed to the London declaration, and that Japanese had an intention to conclude a separate peace with the enemy, and even perhaps, to form an alliance with Germany after the war.

"Of course, it is the height of violation of international morals for a country to betray her ally or allies and shake hands with the enemy in the course of war, and yet history furnishes us examples of such violation of international morality as in the case of Russia in the Seven Years' War. It is not unreasonable that foreign people should have been impressed with a suspicion that the Japanese nation had a dislike for the non-separate peace pact and might any time betray her allies and shake hands with Germany when an available opportunity presented itself. But the ministry considered the Diet interpellations more of a political attack on itself than as opposition to the London pact. Parliamentary attacks for political purposes are frequent in almost all countries. In Japan this is an unfortunate tendency.

"The current of the tide of the world's affairs now flows in one and the same direction and no country is any longer a distant neighbor in these days of closer international relations. Every utterance of any individual not only in parliamentary discussions but also at public functions outside parliamentary halls and in the columns of the press, is echoed and re-echoed abroad and very frequently it reflects on international interests of the country, occasionally culminating in the birth of wild and groundless rumors. The famous Germano-Japanese approachement story is nothing but a crystallization of fabricated rumors and suppositions."

Viscount Ishii expressed sympathy with Marquis Saionji who, on his return from the Paris conference, remarked with great regret that occidentals are prone to compare Japan to Germany, regarding Japanese as a nation of warlike propensity and strong military principle like the Germans. The Viscount agreed with Marquis Saionji in saying that this "misconception" of the occidentals was deep-rooted and tat the Japanese people should seek to remove it. The government authorities, he declared, should pay more attention to the matter.

MORMON TEMPLE IN HAWAII A MONUMENT OF MUCH MAGNITUDE

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 29.—Completed at a cost of approximately $150,000 the magnificent new Mormon temple at Laie, 40 miles from Honolulu on this island, Cahu, stands a monument to seventy years of effective work by the church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Hawaii.

On December 1°, 1850, only three years after the great migration of the Mormons to Utah, the first party of Mormon missionaries landed at Hawaii, a little more than 30 years later than the first Christian missionaries from Boston.

In the first Mormon party was Elder George Q. Cannon, later a counsellor to the first presidency of the church in Salt Lake City. He remained in the islands a number of years, learned the native language and translated the Book of Mormon into Hawaiian.

Joseph F. Smith, the late president of the church, came to Hawaii in 1854 as a missionary, being but 16 years old at that time. He remained in the islands four years and returned in 1886 for a stay of two years, during which his son, Elias Wesley Smith, now here as president of the Hawaiian Mission, was born. Twenty years ago President Smith made his last visit to Hawaii.

At present the Mormon church has more than fifty places of worship on the different island of Hawaii, with a membership among the natives of approximately 10,000. Its property, including the big sugar plantation at the Laie settlement, is worth millions of dollars. A year ago the church paid $600,000 for 800 acres of sugar cane land, adjoining its plantation, eleven miles of railway and an irrigation system.

The new temple at Laie has a beautiful setting in a tropical garden of five acres, crowning a small hill.

The temple, constructed of pulverized lava rock and re-inforced concrete, is built in the form of a Greek cross, occupying a space of 78 feet [illegible] by 120 feet. The architecture is classic in design and dimensions of Solomon's Temple, and is rather suggestive of the Aztec style of architecture.

Japanese oak and Hawaiian oak were utilized for interior work, while many of the rooms are heavily tapestried. Mural decorations in certain chambers are allegorical of events described in the Book of Mormon and in the Bible.

The Hawaiian temple is the seventh to be erected by the Latter Day Saints. The first temple erected still stands at Kirtland, Ohio, but it is no longer owned by the church. The temple at Nauvoo, Ill., was burned and the charred walls were later wrecked by a tornado. Four other temples are located at Salt Lake City, Logan, St. George and Manti, Utah.

Independence, Missouri, originally was designated as the temple site in a revelation said to have been made by the Prophet Joseph Smith. No work ever has been undertaken but the church holds the commission to erect a temple at Independence to be a sacred trust, and it is expected that it will be built later. Another temple is under construction at Cardston, Alberta, Canada. It is said that the next temple probably will be erected in Arizona, where there is a large Mormon colony.

The church of Christ of Latter Day Saints, among the many sects and churches professing Christianity, claims to stand alone in the teaching and practice of temple ministration.

GALVESTON TO GIVE BANQUET TO READ

GALVESTON, TEX., Nov. 29.—One of the features in connection with the visit of the navy's famous seaplane NC-4 will be a banquet tendered Lieutenant Commander A. C. Read and five officers of the original crew of the vessel by the Aero Club of Texas, it is announced. The ship, which is due here December 20, will remain one day, returning to Pensacola, Fla., her base, completing one of the longest recruiting voyages ever taken by a naval plane.

President Wright of the aero club who is personally acquainted with the seaplane commander, plans to make the banquet one of the most notable given to an aviator.

UNITED STATES WINNING IN SOUTH AMERICA TRADE WAR

By H. B. ROBERTSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

RIO DE JANEIRO, (By Mail.)—The United States is winning easily over all opponents in the trade war which began in Brazil with the close of hostilities in Europe, according to statistics just issued by the ministry of finance.

During the first five months of this year the United States received more than one-third of Brazil's total exportation, and supplied nearly two-thirds of the imports to Brazil. The figures also show enormous gains in Brazil-United States trade over all previous records.

The gains were made in spite of a vicious anti-American propaganda which was published in the Brazilian press through paid advertisements for about a year, and over the most strenuous efforts of European commercial interests to United States in not only holding its own but in making new gains is due to the fact that while Europe was sending "trade missions" and entertaining missions from this country, the United States was manufacturing, transportating and delivering the merchandise.

No European country made any remarkable gains in exports to Brazil, and France is the only country that made any notable advance in absorbing Brazil's exports, that country receiving nearly half of all of Brazil's shipments to Europe. The much-touted Japanese invasion of the Brazilian markets does not loom very large on the statistics although the imports from Japan show a steady increase. Brazil's trade with other South American countries showed small changes.

For the purposes of comparison the figures published by the ministry of finance, referring to the principal countries in point of quantity of trade, are given as follows in values at pounds sterling, together with the figures for corresponding periods of previous years:

SILVER FOXES LIVE ON FAT OF THE LAND

REGINA, SASK., Nov. 29.—Silver foxes on a ranch near here are epicurians and live on the fat of the land. This need not be wondered at for silver foxes literally are worth their weight in gold.

The little aristocrats are fed as expensively as guests in the best hotels. The meat served them is kept in a perfectly regulated and spotless refrigerator. It consists of the choicest cuts of tenderloin steaks and pork chops with a little horse meat added by way of variety. The foxes have shredded wheat prepared as carefully as it might be for some wealthy and querulous invalid. Other breakfast foods, cereals and vegetables pamper the appetites of the little beasts.

The ranch is tightly fenced in with wire eight feet high and sunk in the ground several feet. The fox houses are constructed on scientific hygenic plans. They are kept scrupulously clean.

The success of this fox ranch and of several others near Winnipek has demonstrated that the prairie provinces are as well adapted to breeding silver foxes as Prince Edward Island which is the world's center of the industry. Some of the fox ranches in Prince Edward Island are operated by corporations capitalized at several hundred thousand dollars. Many of them have made immense fortunes for their owners. Others have lost heavily. Breeding foxes seems to depend as much on "know how" as any other business.

A number of silver fox farms are operated in the United States. In the possibilities of enormous profits, the industry seems as alluring as gold mining. The United States government recently issued a pamphlet advising amateurs to try their hand first with red foxes. Silver foxes at from $2,000 to $15,000 a breeding pair, it was pointed out, are too valuable to experiment with.

One rancher started two years ago with two pairs. He now has fifty-six animals. He has sold $15,0000 worth of pelts. A silver fox pelt brings from $200 to $2,500. Two-year-old animals sell at $400 to $2,000. He sold eight months old pups this year at public auction at $900 a piece. His breeding stock is valued at close to $100,000.

JAPAN IS DRAFTING A PROHIBITION ACT

TOKIO, Nov. 29.—(By Mail)—Secretary Tago of the home office is engaged in drafting a drastic prohibition bill that will be laid before the forthcoming session of the diet. The bill would prohibit drinking of liquor by men and women under 25 years of age.

This is the first time the government has looked with favor on a temperance measure, although similar measures have been introduced from year to year by Nemoto, a member of the diet, and an ardent Christian.

The need of conserving rice has caused the peers to favor limiting the drinking of sake. The bill probably will make an exception in case of the time-honored custom of drinking sake at wedding ceremonies.

Not A Tack—Not A Nail

Billiken Shoes

Are made without a tack or nail; of the softest, toughest leather known, on broad, sensible, improved foot-form lasts—the most perfect child's shoe ever made. The one that a child outgrows.

Buy "Billiken" Shoes and let the children romp and play to their heart's content without annoyance to you, injury to the home or discomfort to themselves.

The growing feet of children are easily irritated by stiff soles or narrow shoes. "Billiken" Shoes are made by specialists in the largest shoe factory in the world, devoted exclusively to the manufacture of Children's High Grade Shoes.

The soles on "Billiken" Shoes are Pure Oak Flexible Leather—the softest and most pliable leather known, being especially prepared to withstand hard service. The absence of nails, tacks, etc., prevents the children scarring the floors and furniture. The soft soles render the shoes noiseless. Flexible soles make them as comfortable as a moccasin. The durable leather makes them as lasting as a man's heavy shoes. And they are extremely stylish.

Let Us Show You "Billikens".

STARR TO SING YOUR CHRISTMAS CAROLS

How it will fill to overflowing the cup of Christmas cheer when "they" delightedly behold a beautiful Starr besides the sparkling evergreen.

How enjoyable will be the lovely songs of Christmas as they swell forth—so life-like, so free from metallic tones and nasal twangs—from the sweet, clear-voiced Starr "Singing Throat" of Silver Grain Spruce. This vibrant, century-old music-wood has always been used for the sound boards of pianos and violins, and makes possible the rich and charming melody of the Starr Phonograph which succeeding seasons will but mellow in sweetness—as the years have added tone beauties to the violins of the Masters from the self-same wood.

The beautiful Starr Phonographs, the product of a musical workshop where for half a century famous musical instruments have had their inception, are rich in tone, artistic in design, play records just as the artists themselves made the original are offered in a variety of finishes in oak, walnut and mahogany, and have every refinement and convenience.

MURDER MYSTERY TO BE TRANSFERRED TO TEXAS

TOPEKA, Kansas.—Developments in the Maple Hill murder mystery, surrounding the finding of the skeletons of three men, are to be transferred to Texas, following the continuance of the trial of Rufus King, charged with the murder of the three men, whose skeletons are alleged to be those found on property formerly occupied by King at Maple Hill.

Assistant Attorney General Maurice McNeil declared attorneys for King would not be alone in their search for evidence that John Woody, one of the alleged victims, was seen in Texas three months after King was alleged to have slain him. The st te of Kansas also will get into the search.

It was on a clue obtained by the defense that the trial was continued until the April term. Senator C. F. Carroll of Alma, an attorney for the defense, under oath at the opening of the trial, declared that he left the trial of the clue in Texas to enable him to appear in court at Lyndon. He told of evidence as far as obtained, declaring the defendant should be given further opportunity to investigate it.

Senator Carroll said he had been informed that Sam Riggs, formerly a ranch foreman near Texhoma, Texas, knew John Woody after he was alleged to have been killed. Carroll went to Texnoma, but learned that Riggs no longer resided there. Carroll said he was told that Riggs had gone either to California or to Dallas, Texas.

By agreement of attorneys at the trial the other cases pending against King—the alleged murders of Ringer and Gutshall—also were put over until the April term. King's bond was fixed at $15,000 in the Woody case and $20,000 in the Gutshall case. Unable to give bond in these two cases no bond has been set in the Ringer case.

King was returned to the Shawnee county jail.

FAVORS CERTIFICATES OF HEALTH BEFORE MARRIAGE

DALLAS, Texas—Both sexes should be required to present certificate of good health before being permitted to marry, according to Dr. F. N. Duncan, head of the biological department of the Southern Methodist University. "For the good of society, unhealthy persons should not be permitted to contract marriage," he declared.

In a recent address Dr. Duncan described what other states were doing to insure the physical fitness of posterity, and urged that Texas enact suitable legislation.

"An average of five children to a family will be necessary if the United States is to maintain its birth rate at the proper standard," Dr. Duncan said. "Investigation has shown that the people of good germ plasm are not maintaining this rate, while immigrants and benighted classes are exceeding it. This does not augur well for the future of the nation."

DALLAS MAN GOES TO BEDSIDE OF MOTHER

DALLAS, Texas.—Duke Machold has gone to Chicago to the bedside of his mother, Mrs. Mary Machold, who was rescued from Lake Michigan and identified after she had wandered for six months among strangers while the police of many states sought her.

Mrs. Machold and Duke came to Dallas from El Paso, and the son enlisted for the war. From France he wrote frequently at first, then less frequently, and at last no letters came.

Believing her son had been killed the mother, grief-stricken, left Dallas in May without giving any information as to her destination. Search for her was fruitless.

When Duke Machold was discharged from the army in July he came to Dallas to meet his mother. He remained here a month then gave up the search and returned to El Paso.

Another brother, now in Chicago, identified his mother.

PROFITEERING BY THE TEAMSTERS OF WACO

WACO, Texas.—Profiteering in wood for fuel, which caused the city to engage in the business of buying and selling wood to consumers at cost, has extended to teamsters, according to the city's agent in charge of sales of this fuel.

Wood haulers, the agent says, are demanding $2.50 a cord to haul wood five blocks. The mayor and the chief of police are endeavoring to procure teams and drivers and have the wood delivered to purchasers as sold, at a reasonable charge.

The city is selling the wood at $9 a cord, half the price previously charged, but no more than one cord may be bought by one family at one time.

SANTA CECILIA CLUB CELEBRATES WITH DANCE

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas.—The Santa Cecilia club of twenty-four Mexican girls of this city, founded in 1917 for the purpose of persuading the Mexican boys of Corpus Christi to enlist in the service of the United States and not "to go over the river" has celebrated with a Victory dance for former service men here.

The men themselves credit the club with gaining many recruits for the army. The club, considering that its work was not yet done, had the commander of the local post of the American Legion make an address at the dance urging the men to join the Legion and the American Red Cross.

ROOSEVELT WAS "GODFLY" WHO STUNG WASHINGTON INTO ACTION

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Theodore Roosevelt was the "gadfly" who, in 1898, stung Washington bureaucracy and pacificism into preparation for the war with Spain, says Joseph Eucklin Bishop, the colonel's biographer, in fresh revelations of the former President's public service, which will appear in the forthcoming issue of Scribner's Magazine.

The article, the third of a series, was compiled from public records and some of the 150,000 letters written by Colonel Roosevelt during the course of his active life. It deals entirely with his part in the Spanish-American war, a period of about one year but a period "rich in material of historical value," says Mr. Bishop. In it the biographer of the former President tells of Roosevelt's work as Assistant Secretary of the Navy, declaring that although the war was only 12 months away when he entered office, until he began "an energetic and systematic agitation for preparation not a step had been taken to get the army and navy ready for it."

Action taken by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, he says, "in the fact of the persistent opposition of Secretary Long, his superior officer, and over that officers head while he was absent from office, made it possible for Dewey to fight and win the battle of Manila." Roosevelt's gift of foresight is again touched upon, the letters showing that nearly 20 years before the revolution in Russia he predicted that unless her rulers changed their conduct they would "some time experience a red terror that will make the French Revolution pale." At the same time, in 1897, he predicted: "Germany is the power with which we may very possibly have ultimately to come into hostile contact."

Mr. Bishop also brings to light an address delivered by Roosevelt before the Naval War College on June 2, 1897, soon after he became assistant secretary of the navy, showing that "he was saying at that stage of his career precisely the things about national preparedness that he said with such courage, pertinacity and force 20 years later when war with Germany was upon us."

Senator Lodge's long and unbroken friendship for Roosevelt and the part he took in establishing him in Washington is interestingly shown in the letters which passed between them during this period. They contain intimate personal characterizations of the big men of the time, notably President McKinley, Secretary Long, John Hay, Speaker Reed, Senator Hale, Secretaries Day and Gage, Admirals Dewey and Crowninshield, Generals Funston and Shafer and others.

When the battleship Maine was blown up on February 15, 1898, in the harbor of Havana, Roosevelt, who had previously denounced the Spanish regime in Cuba, emphatically declared himself in favor of war with Spain. Writing to Elihu Root on April 5, 1898, he said: "You would be amazed and horrified at the peace-at-any-price telegrams of the most abject description which come in multitudes from New York, Boston and elsewhere to the President and senators." Two days later, after saying that McKinley had taken "a position from which he cannot back down," Roosevelt wrote: "We have our plans in the navy and beyond that there is absolutely nothing. The President doesn't know what message he will send in or what he will do if we have war."

What Mr. Bishop regards as "the most interesting and illuminating letter in the collection" is one written to Roosevelt by Senator Lodge on September 31, 1898, after the peace protocol had been signed with Spain. In it he tells of preparing articles on the war and of seeking from Secretary Long the facts regarding Roosevelt's order to Dewey on the previous February 25 when he called the admiral at Hong Kong:

"Order the squadron except the Monocacy to Hong Kong. Keep full of coal. In the event of declaration of war Spain, your duty will be to see that the Spanish squadron does not leave the Asiatic coast, and then offensive operations in Philippines Keep Olympia until further orders. Roosevelt."

Senator Lodge wrote that in seeking the text of the cablegram he met with the opposition of Rear Admiral A. C. Crowninshield, chief of the Bureau of Navigation, who told him Secretary Long was unwilling to give him the "exact language" because, to do so, "might appear to put us in a light of being almost over prepared; in other words, it might seem that the department had, as early as February 25 the date of the order, made up its mind that there was going to be a war anyway."

In a letter to Dr. W. Sturgis Bigelow, of Boston, an old friend, on March 29, 1898, shortly before he resigned his post in Washington to organize the Rough Riders, Roosevelt wrote: "A man's usefulness depends upon his living up to his ideals as far as he can. I like life very much. I have always led a joyous life. I like thought and I like action and it will be very bitter for me to leave my wife and children; and while I think I could face death with dignity, I have no desire before my time has come to go out into ever-lasting darkness. So I shall not go into a war with any undue exhiliration of spirits or in a frame of mind in any way approaching recklessness or levity.

"I have consistently preached what our opponents are pleased to call 'Jingo doctrines' for a good many years. One of the commonest taunts directed at men like myself is that we are armchair and parlor Jingoes who wish to see others do what we only advocate doing. I care very little for such a taunt except as it affects my usefulness but I cannot afford to disregard the fact that my power for good, whatever it may be, would be done if I didn't try to live up to the doctrines I have tried to preach. Moreover, it seems to me that it would be a good deal more important from the standpoint of the nation as a whole that men like myself should go to war than that we should stay comfortably in offices at home and let others carry on the war that we have urged."

HALF MILLION BALES COTTON TO GERMANY

GALVESTON, TEX., Nov. 29.—Total imports of cotton into Germany, which normally are 3,000,000 bales, are not expected to exceed 500,000 bales this year, according to N. Nakamura, representative of an Oska, Japan, manufacturing concern. Mr. Nakamura, who has just returned from an inspection tour of European countries, was in Galveston inspecting the plants of the two firms through which his company imports cotton from this port.

During the war, Nakamura said the mills were in many cases left idle and in other instances the utilization of the machinery in handling war-time substitutes for cotton had caused great depreciation. This run down condition of operating machinery added to the strikes and other labor difficulties and the lack of capital, which is aggravated by the low exchange rate on the mark, are responsible in great measure for the failure of German cotton industries to create the demand which was expected of them, he said.

Asked if there were many labor troubles prevalent in Japan, Mr. Nakamura said:

'No, not yet; the workmen of Japan have through their representatives to the labor conference at Washington asked for and received an eight hour basic work day, which has firmly planted this American work standard in the Orient."

SULPHUR LOADING PLANT FOR GALVESTON WHARVES

GALVESTON, TEX., Nov. 29.—Work has begun recently on the construction of a modern sulphur loading plant on the wharves here which when completed promises to put the port of Galveston at the head of all world ports in both domestic and foreign export of crude sulphur. The plant, which is promoted by private capital, will cost approximately $150,000, and is expected to be completed by March, 1920. Export of crude sulphur has become one of the principal marine industries of Texas.

When the new loading plant is put into operation it will be able to load vessels at the rate of 1,000 tons an hour, which will permit steamships of ordinary size to receive full cargoes in a half day's time.

Bankers & Merchants Petroleum Co.

Acquires Tract in Heart of Great Homer Field

Twenty Acres in Famous Parish of Claiborne Close to Wells Yielding 10,000 to 30,000 Barrels

SHREVEPORT, LA., Nov. 8—Representatives of the BANKERS & MERCHANTS PETROLEUM COMPANY today acquired an extremely valuable 20-acre lease in the heart of the now world-famous Homer Oil Field. This piece of property, considered one of the best in this territory, is situated in Section 32-20-6. Being located close to the great gusher of the Standard Oil Company which startled the country with its initial flow of 30,000 barrels last August 8, and in the neighborhood of new wells of large capacity, geologists and oil men are of the opinion that the BANKERS & MERCHANTS PETROLEUM COMPANY have obtained an acquisition of great worth and steadily increasing value. It is understood the new owners contemplate drilling in the near future.

With the addition of this 20 acre Homer tract the BANKERS & MERCHANTS PETROLEUM COMPANY looms up prominently as one of the rising companies. It will be remembered that together with this new asset the company owns a five-acre lease in the Northwest Extension to the Burkburnett field and close to the Texas Chief well. The value of this property and the probability of finding oil beneath it are well known to all those who have followed the tremendous development of Burkburnett and the Northwest Extension, the world's greatest oil pool, during the last nine months. The company's drilling sites 3 and 4 are situated in Block 96 of this field.

LEASES IN MANY COUNTIES.

Besides these two valuable leases BANKERS & MERCHANTS PETROLEUM COMPANY hold leases aggregating 682 acres in several of the oil counties of Texas. These properties are located in Parker, Clay, Calhoun, Montague, San Saba, Knox and Baylor counties.

Acquisition of the 20-acre lease in the Homer field of Louisiana has caused activity in the purchase of stock in the BANKERS & MERCHANTS PETROLEUM COMPANY. Investors throughout the country are exhibiting confidence in the company because of its holdings in two such proven areas as Burkburnett and Homer and stock subscriptions are coming in rapidly.

Many Texas investors knowing the BANKERS & MERCHANTS PETROLEUM COMPANY has been organized by Couch & Winfrey, two well-known progressive, experienced and unquestionably honest oil men are adding their subscriptions to those from points outside the state.

Bankers & Merchants Co. Close Contract For Drilling Its Tract in Homer Field

FORT WORTH, TEX., Nov. 19—The Bankers & Merchants Petroleum Company, of this place, today closed a contract for drilling on its newly acquired 20-acre tract in the famous Homer Field of Louisiana. This lease is situated close to the great gusher of the Standard Oil Company in the Oakes tract and to where the Standard is making further drilling locations.

The Bankers & Merchants Company on November 10 paid its first guaranteed monthly dividend of 2 percent from production proceeds of its two wells in Burkburnett and forwarded the checks to its stockholders. The Company will pay its next two per cent dividend on December 10 and on the tenth of succeeding months.

Stock of the BANKERS & MERCHANTS PETROLEUM COMPANY is now on sale at $1.50 per share. Investors recognize this is a bargain, and are flocking to buy. It is felt that with the company holding properties both in Burkburnett and Homer this price cannot help but advance within a short time.

Increase in the value of its leases alone could prove sufficient to cause an advance in the price of stock. Big gushers of oil are coming in every few days on tracts close to the company's leases, and with the advent of each of these the value of the company's ground jumps.

So the People May Know

The story in the columns to the right needs no explanation. It speaks eloquently for itself. It relates details of a real achievement. No person who has not been in the great oil fields of the south—who has not encountered the frightful competition for ground after a new field has been opened up can realize the difficulty the BANKERS & MERCHANTS PETROLEUM COMPANY met in obtaining 20 precious acres in the wondrous Homer field in the Claiborne Parish of Louisiana.

Do you realize what that means to this Company? Can you not see what a tremendous asset it is to those who have invested in our stock? Do you not feel that any further hesitancy in buying stock in the BANKERS & MERCHANTS PETROLEUM COMPANY at $1.50 a share is a sort of reckless conservatism?

If you ever mean to win your shares of profits from the great oil fields of the south—unless you intend to permit these miraculous days to pass without bringing to you your quota of wealth—this is your time to invest. These memorable hours of opportunity are gilding stealthily away. In the years to come your children will wish they had been able to win fortune in the southern oil fields, just as you often wish you had been in Dawson City when the Creeks of the Yukon were yielding to the adventurous prospector the nuggets of precious gold. Will you permit this chance—the grandest you have ever had—to slip from your fingers and disappear in the vortex of lost hopes? You must not.

REVIEW OF WORLD-WIDE ADVANCE OF PROHIBITION

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The world-wide advance of prohibition wi reviewed by Mrs. Anna A. Gordon, president of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, in an address before the forty-fifth annual convention of the white ribbon organization here recently. In it she saw grounds to "dare to prophesy world prohibition by 1925." She denied the W. C. T. U. contemplated a campaign for a federal constitutional amendment to prohibit the sale and use of tobacco but urged that the educational campaign concerning the harmfulness of tobacco, especially to children be kept up.

Mrs. Gordon admitted it was difficult to define the status of prohibition in Europe, Asia, Africa and the islands of the sea, but she pointed out that the map of Canada, with the exception of Quebec province, is "white" Mexico and Central and South America are in need of educational prohibition propaganda and the W. C. T. U. soon is to have a continental organization in South America, she said.

Then she continued:

"Iceland, Greenland, and the Faroa Islands are under prohibition as also are to some extent the countries where Mohammedanism, Buddhism, Confucianism and similar religions prevail. These nations include China, Manchuria, Japan, India, Persia, Afghanistan, Turkey and Arabia. x x x Romania and Russia, previous to the war, including Finland, were prohibition countries. England, Scotland, New Zealand, Australia, Denmark, and Sweden are fast gaining prohibition ground through the efforts of the Allied temperance forces.

"In Norway war-time prohibition of the sale and private importation of spirits and strong liquors, not including wine and beer, was made permanent by the plebiscite taken October 6, 1919. x x x Europe and the Balkan states, so sadly suffering from the tragic world war, need temperance education along scientific, health and economic lines. The new Czecho-Slovak republic has a president who has said, 'I wish our country would be dry.' An international agreement for the cessation of the liquor traffic in Ag- January 16, 1920, the exportation of alcoholic liquors from this country will cease. This will help safeguard the weaker races which for many years Christian governments have exploited."

"The largest item in the "Jubilee budget" of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Gordon said is for $300,000 to spread prohibition propaganda in foreign countries "America has safeguarded her own homes and America will safeguard the homes of the world." she declared.

CANADA'S DEBT GROWS SINCE THE WAR ENDED

OTTAWA, Ontario—Federal government officials, who have been pointing out that Canada's net debt has been steadily increasing since the armistice was signed, and that Canadian credit and currency value have been impaired, seemingly are beginning to see daylight. Official statistics of Dominion finances for October, show sharp reduction over the September increase which was $65,000,000.

Canada's net debt is officially totalled as $1,749,331,000. This is slightly more than $500,000,000 higher than the debt was a year ago. War expenditures since April 1, of this year, totalled $206,000,000, according to federalstatistics. According to Dominion officials, it was more expensive for the Dominion to mobilize its forces than it was to keep them in the field. est report is an increase in revenue.

One encouraging feature of the lat- The total for the seven months since the beginning of the fiscal year, April 1, is $186,400,000. The total for the corresponding period of 1918 was $164,400,000.

Great increases in ordinary expenditures were reported this year, because of renewal of building activities. During the period from April 1, to October 31, the government spent $24,000,000 for public works, including railroad construction. The 1918 total for this period was $9,000,000.

TO STOP SPEEDING WITH FIRE WAGONS

HOUSTON, Texas.—The practice of automobiles racing through city streets with fire apparatus which is answering alarms sometimes so crowds the streets about burning buildings the fire apparatus is unable to reach the place with hose for several minutes, Fire Commissioner Allie Anderson told the city council. An ordinance to prohibit such speeding is under consideration.

"The practice of auto drivers racing with the fire apparatus has got to stop," said the fire commissioner. "Also, the crowding of streets around a fire by cars in such numbers that the engines and trucks cannot get through."

Commissioner Anderson announced when the ordinance making this an offense is passed he will see to its enforcement.

HURRICANE CHASERS SUGGESTED BY BUREAU

HOUSTON, Texas.—Swift vessels to follow in the wake of tropical hurricanes and report by wireless to United States weather bureaus the course of the storm would be of incalculable value during equinoctial storms, according to C. F. Marvin, chief of the Federal Weather Bureau at Washington, after a recent survey of the Texas gulf region.

These hurricane chasers, Mr. Marvin said, "would be efficient in solution of the chief difficulty of the weather bureau during the hurricane season of the year—the obtainment of reliable information of the movement of the storm."

The weather bureau chief expressed the opinion that eventually vessels would be designed and built and equipped for weather bureau service.

Discussing weather reports from Washington during the recent tropical hurricane which devastated a large part of Corpus Christi and nearby towns on the Texas coast, costing more than 300 lives, Mr. Marvin said:

"The weather bureau is not seeking to shift any responsibility for error or misunderstanding that arose at that time. We recognize the elements of optimism that was conveyed in some of the reports issued. And because the weather bureau did not know exactly what the hurricane was doing, or in precisely what direction it was traveling, the very meager information available was of a nature to encourage belief that the storm was headed for the coast at the point designated in the reports.

GRAIN AND HAY SHOW TO CROWN CORN AS KING

CHICAGO.—A giant ear of corn, believed to be the largest ever exhibited, Grain and Hay Show to be held here is to be shown at the International in connection with the International Live Stock Exhibition, Nov. 29 to December 6th. This "International Ear," as it has been termed, is 37 inches long and 30 inches in circumference. It has 82 rows of kernels with 255 to the row, a total of 18,450 kernels on the ear. The exhibitors are said to have insisted that the big ear be shown under glass to prevent efforts to steal kernals for seed. However not many such attempts are expected when it is shown generally that the ear was produced by the use of a glue pot.

The Grain and Hay Show will crown the Corn King of the United States, the entry list already being large and leading growers from all sections of the country promising to compete for the $10,000 in prises offered by the Chicago Board of Trade. In addition to the corn on display from several states, fourteen agricultural colleges are to have exhibits of an educational nature.

It will be the first national grain show since 1914. The first national corn show was held in Chicago in 1907 under the auspices of the Chicago business men. An association was formed then and the next national shows were held in Omaha in 1908 and 1909. National corn expositions followed in Columbus, Ohio, in 1911, in Columbia, S. C., in 1913, and in Dallas, Texas, in 1914. While there was a big demand for the expositions it was found the attendance was not large enough to justify the expense.

When Dean C. F. Curtiss was elected president of the International Live Stock Exposition Association, he decided to combine the stock and grain shows and got the Chicago Board of Trade to contribute the $10,000 in cash premiums. The live stock management is to meet the overhead expense.

WANT MORE ATTENTION PAID TO THEIR SECTION

THE PAS, Man.—A campaign for more attention from federal government and private railroad company officials has been launched by residents of this far north city and John Campbell, member of parliament, has become leader of the movement. The Pas is the clearing house for the gold camps which sprung up this summer in the Copper Lake district, north of here. The Pas is practically at the end of steel.

According to local business men, a railroad built into the undeveloped northland, not only would greatly stimulate mining activities but would increase the fur trade and encourage trappers to penetrate still farther into wild regions. It also is claimed that there are salmon waters within hours of Winnipeg that would provide an output of fish to compare with the supply available for canneries in the far west.

Until last year, when the first gold strikes brought scores of prospectors to Athapupuskow lake, the few residents of this district had sufficient dogs to enable them to make winter journeys. This winter, however, the gold rush has greatly increased the population of miners but not of dogs. It is said that trained dogs are worth practically their weight in gold, at present.

GANG OF SWINDLERS OPERATE IN DALLAS

DALLAS, Texas.—Police have arrested five men and two women and are expecting to take into custody a number of others in an effort to break up what is believed to be a clever gang of swindlers, who have been operating here.

Recently a visitor from Whiteright, Texas, Texas, was sold "shares in the Canadian wheat market," for which he paid $5,000 to an alleged broker. When he discovered the shares were worthless the man wired his partner in Joplin, Mo., and together they sought and found the "broker" and demanded return of their money. When this was refused the victim appealed to the city detective department.

Some of the money, detectives say, will be recovered.

You Dont Need a Big Roll To Play the Oil Game in the Big Man's Way

THE OIL AND LEASE INVESTMENT SYNDICATE of The Oil Exchange and Board of Trade, Inc., Fort Worth, Texas

The Oil & Lease Investment Syndicate of Fort Worth, now being organized by the investment department of THE OIL EXCHANGE AND BOARD OF TRADE, Inc., offers the conservative investor a REAL BUSINESS MAN'S INVESTMENT and the five hundred to five thousand dollar man a chance to play the oil game THE BIG MAN'S WAY.

Are You Among Those Who Sigh But Cannot Act?

How many hundreds and thousands of men all over the land read the daily page of oil news from Texas and lay it aside with a sigh of regret, knowing only too well that the opportunities pictured out there in the fields, where the big gushers are coming in almost daily, mean nothing to him with his small means, as it takes the BIG MONEY to really get in on these things and play the game where the winning is sure. How many times have you said to yourself, "Oh, well, it's easy enough for the big fellow to make money." The trite old saying, "to them as have gifts" seems more applicable to the oil business than any other. It is said that John D. Rockefeller's favorite maxim is "opportunity comes only to the man with ready money." Witnessing this condition every day, the officers and directors of the Oil Exchange and Board of Trade, Inc., have determined to do what they can to change this situation and make it possible for the small investor to profit on his five hundred or a thousand dollars just as the big fellow with his big roll.

No Money Will Be Collected Until $50,000 Has Been Subscribed

To this end and purpose we are organizing the OIL & LEASE INVESTMENT SYNDICATE, and ask you to join with us with any amount from $100.00 up. To make it a big success, the SYNDICATE will have to have not less than $50,000 in the treasury to start with. For that reason we are not going to accept or collect any money until at least $50,000 in bona fide subscriptions are received. We want to make this plain, as we are confident many would GLADLY subscribe to a fund of $50,000 and up, who would not be interested in a smaller fund.

Our Purpose Is Profit—Our Management Sound

The management of the Oil & Lease Investment Syndicate will be vested in the following well known business men as trustees: D. W. Young, W. H. Brown and Col. J. O. Williams, owners and active members of the Oil Exchange and Board of Trade, the pioneer institution of its kind in Texas, having among its members the leading banks of the city of Fort Worth. We are also owners of Peoples Stock Exchange of Wichita Falls, Texas. Our purpose will be to keep a close watch on developments all over the fields and be READY WITH THE CASH to take advantage of opportunity, WHENEVER and WHEREVER it presents itself.

Seventy-Five Per Cent of Profits Goes to Members of Syndicate

Our policy will be to charge no commission for the organization of the syndicate and the collection of funds, but leave this wholly intact for investment; to give the syndicate our time, experience and full benefit of the unparalleled connections afforded by our daily touch with developments over the whole field through the extensive private wire service of the Oil Exchange and Board of Trade, Inc. As compensation for this service the trustees are to have 25 per cent of the profits that accrue from the investments made with the syndicate's funds. In other words, we agree to back our time, experience and connections against your money for 25 per cent of the profits.

All Money Subscribed Will Be Used for Investment

We just want to emphasize this feature right here and then leave it to your own judgment as to what to do.

In the organization of an oil company—and it is absolutely necessary that companies be organized, else there would be no new development or expansion in the oil business—it is necessary to set aside a large portion of the money derived from the sale of stock for organization expense. The percentage, of course varies; but, taking them as a whole, a fair average would be about 50 per cent for organization expense—the balance going toward development. This is unavoidable, necessary and legitimate, but the inevitable result is that the investor is paying practically two for one for his stock, as only half the money is actually put to work on the proposition he buys into. Understand we do not mean by this to discourage the purchase of original stock. We often buy it ourselves and encourage our friends to buy it if it appeals to us as being especially attractive. But by calling your attention to this we feel that you will more fully appreciate the advantage to you of an investment in the OIL & LEASE INVESTMENT SYNDICATE when we agree to use ALL the money subscribed for investment and wait until we have made you a profit before we ask for compensation for our services. As a further evidence of our good faith to act honestly and squarely in this capacity we will have made for you a monthly certified accountants' statement of our purchases, sales and profits. In this you get the longest run possible for your money and in addition get to play the game the BIG MAN'S WAY.

We believe that within a radius of 100 miles of Fort Worth there is at least 100 men with $1,000, 500 with $500 and 1,000 men with $100 ready and waiting right now to place their money with us for investment with this syndicate. If you are one of them, fill out the subscription blank and mail today to the Farmers & Mechanics National Bank, Fort Worth, Texas, depository.

FRANKELL

—A town that ten thousand people are waiting for in the biggest oil field in Texas

WILL BE OPENED DECEMBER 8TH.

Frankell is on the line of the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth Railroad, in the middle of the famed and growing Caddo oil field in Stephens county. It is named for Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, one of the builders of the railroad, a man whose business successes and civic prominence, coupled with his successful railroad enterprises and industrial and banking business, have made him known and respected and followed all over Texas. Associated in the railroad enterprise with Mr. Kell is Jake L. Hamon, of Ardmore, a railroad and city builder whose towns are always successful and whose business ability has placed him in the front rank of American captains of industry and capitalists. Read what Mr. Hamon has to say about Frankell in this advertisement.

The Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth Railroad is being built to serve the oil fields of Texas. It was laid out for that sole purpose. Its towns are located in strategic positions that command the oil fields. Frankell was made to order for the service that oil fields demand. It is in exactly the right place for supplying the fields with material from the railroad tracks. It is designed from the location of the freight depot to the laying out of the streets and alleys to meet the needs of the oil industry in the field. It was purposely placed in the middle of the biggest field so far developed in the biggest oil county in Texas. From its freight depot and supply houses the materials for a thousand oil wells will be taken to the leases at the lowest cost and in the most direct way. Frankell will be the link that connects the lease with the steel mill and with the forest where the lumber comes from. It will be the ideal site for the refineries and shops and all manner of oil fields supplies that are demanded for a domain of oil production that is unequaled in the United States. It was conceived by an oil man whose operations are extensive and whose knowledge of the situation is beyond dispute. It is a made-to-order oil field center that has the field awaiting it and the people of the field longing for its service.

What Jake L. Hamon thinks of Frankell.

"This town is located in the center of the Caddo oil fields. I can stand on the townsite and count 1,000 drilling wells. It will be the center of the supply houses for Stephens county. A town where refineries should and will be built. This, in my opinion, will be the best town I have ever platted and sold. I believe that every investor will make money and that there will be 10,000 people on the townsite of Frankell making money faster than any other like number on the American continent within ninety days. No lots will be sold through the mails. We have no advertising matter. The purchaser, in order to make an investment in this splendid town, will have to be on the townsite and make his selection and purchase. This, however, will not prevent persons making purchase of lots by agents or attorneys representing their principals. I invite my friends to make investments here, and assure them that in my opinion they will reap a splendid return.'

Jake L. Hamon

From the heights of this most sightly townsite the eye can vision a thousand oil wells from Caddo to Breckenridge, and within the radius of vision are a dozen camps that will at once take advantage of the opportunity to make this first Stephens county railroad town their headquarters.

The millionaires of America are sending their wealth to develop the oil fields of Texas. They are taking from these fields in return other and more millions in oil. The oil production of Stephens county at this time is worth $100,000 a day—and Frankell is the railroad town that will become at once the center and supply depot of this vast wealth producing area. The new town will start out with a daily payroll of approximately $30,000 within its immediate territory. The production of oil in this territory has just begun. The payroll is yet in its infancy.

America has never before seen such an opportunity to profit by the building of a great oil field city as that here presented in this new oil field town that has been made the pet of men whose dreams come true and is the Mecca of practical pilgrimages to prodigious possibilities.

Investments in new towns that have good settings are always good investments. Some of the world's best fortunes have been made from advances in real estate values. The opportunities to make investments in towns that are destined to become cities in a few months are few. They are becoming fewer. There are not many open places left on the American continent. Stephens county has for forty years been one of the few such places. It remained for oil to be discovered in Stephens county to bring the people to realize the possibilities of that section for constructive effort. It has since been discovered that the farming possibilities of the county are superb. Coupled with the impetus that a score of years of increasing oil production will give to it this section of Texas should, and will, become one of the great industrial regions of the Southwest. The man who accepts this invitation to make an investment in the new railroad town of Frankell will see his profits piling up month after month indefinitely.

Frankell is 12 miles north of Ranger. It is 15 miles north and east of Eastland. It is about 20 miles northeast of Cisco. It can now be reached from either place by conveyance. In a very short while it will be reached by trains on the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth Railroad, a $5,000,000 enterprise that is being put through for no other purpose than to bring transportation to the oil fields and farms of an empire that is clamoring for them through the medium of towns that are designed to serve the territory. Frankell is the oil field railroad town of Stephens county.

Plats of Frankell will be available at the townsite on the opening day of the sale. All business and residence lots will be sold beginning December 8 and continuing from day to day. No lots will be sold in advance of the opening day of the sale and none will be reserved from sale.

Thirty per cent of the purchase price is payable on the day of the sale, the remainder in seven equal monthly installments.

High-Grade Oil Discovered

In the town of Tuttle, which tested 52 gravity and contained such a high gasoline content that it was used in an automobile without refining. Our geologist points out that this oil has been forced up fro ma considerable depth by a tremendous gas pressure, and refined itself in transit.

Our Property Completely Surrounds This Discovery

$10,000.00 cash has been deposited with the Bank of Tuttle, Okla., as a guarantee that this well will be completed.

NOW DRILLING

The United American Oil and Gas Co. is now drilling on this property which is located one and one-half (1½ miles south of Tuttle in Grady county, Oklahoma.

Large Profits Made in Leases

You could have bought leases near the Fowler, Burk-Waggoner, Texas Chief, Kemp-Munger-Allen, and in fact practically all discovery wells for a few paltry dollars per acre, when drilling first started. The value of these leases invariably increased as the well went down. These same leases have since sold up to $30,000 and $40,000 per acre.

HERE IS ANOTHER BURK-WAGGONER OPPORTUNITY

A few dollars invested now may make your fortune.

Leases now being offered in blocks of 10 acres or more. Prices range from $5.00 to $50.00 per acre.

400,000 MOTOR CARS WITHIN FIVE YEARS

Dodge Brothers Again Achieve Record for Rapid Development of Great Industry.

When Dodge Brothers motor car number 400,000 rolled from the assembly line and swung around the factory test track for a final inspection before delivery, it marked a manufacturing achievement of exceptional importance in the history of the motor car industry.

The achievement is unique because 400,000 motor cars were produced and marketed during the first five years of operation, which is a record in the automobile industry.

Less than five years ago, on December 4, 1914, to be exact, the first motor car bearing the Dodge Brothers name plate was shipped to a bona fide purchaser. It was the first material evidence of Dodge Brothers' determination to devote their wide manufacturing experience to the production of complete motor cars. Since that day the shipments have been growing in volume until, a few days ago, the 400,000 mark was reached.

In 1914 Dodge Brothers works covered approximately twenty acres of floor space, and even then was considered one of the large manufacturing plants of America. But unit after unit has been added with unfailing regularity until the original twenty acres have grown to ninety, and the number of employees to more than 18,000.

The first hundred thousand car, was completed October 31, 1916, the second on October 31, 1917, and the third on December 13, 1918.

Car number 400,000, which is a four-door sedan, was alloted to Thomas J. Dolye, Dodge Brothers dealer in Detroit.

FIRST OF THE NEW 1920 MODEL BUICKS

The first of the new 1920 model 7-passenger Buick Sedans, to be brought into the state was delivered last week by Dixon-Keim Motor company to A. ... Vieas, of this city. Other deliveries for the past week were Norwood Drilling company, Staley Langford and Chenault, Texhoma Oil and Refining company, and Humble Oil company, roadsters equipped for "tool pushing," W. H. Peters, Petrolia and Humble Oil and Refining company got 5 passenger touring cars. The cars delivered were driven in from Waurika by this enterprising firm.

ONE-PIECE HOUSING OF THE NEW REAR AXLE OF LOCOMOBILE COMPANY

"Notable among the recent improvements embodied in the Co. Aero-Eight," asserted Locomobile Cole company, local distributors of the Cole, "is the one-piece housing of the new rear axle. It is one of the most stalwart and rigid units to be found in any passenger car.

"This one-piece pressed steel housing in tests made at Cornell University was found to be 200 per cent. Stronger than those of the two-piece type. Equipped internally with helical bevel gears, it operates with positive silence and the car has a smooth, quick pick-up. The housing is absolutely tight and requires no grease or oil cups.

"The large inspection plate of the Aero-Eight rear axle renders the interior mechanism accessible always, and when removed affords a large opening through which adjustment may be made. The axle is of the full-floating flange drive type, underslung in its attachment and the drive is through the springs. This provides a more flexible and secure attachment to the chassis, eliminates the use of a heavy torque arm, and reduces the weight of the axle.

"Metallic bumpers have been substituted for the rubber bumpers, and instead of being attached to the frame to protect the housing and brake shafts from coming in contact with the frame when severe bumps are struck, are fitted on top of the rear spring seat. The metal bumpers are substantial enough to sustain the most severe jolt and prevent any injury to the brake shafts and housing, and once installed, are permanent.

"The over-size braking surfaces insure safety in operation. They grip instantly and give simultaneous and even application. The service brakes are of the external contracting type, and the emergency brakes are of the internal expanding toggle type. They are easily adjusted to meet the varying conditions to which they are subjected."

THOUSAND DOLLAR PURSE FOR DOG DERBY

THE PAS, Man.—One thousand dollars is the amount agreed upon for the purse for the Hudson Bay Dog Derby to be held on March 17, 1920, and the start... distance will be 120 miles from The Pas to the northern Manitoba gold-fields, and return. This is the third race to be run since the classic was started, and it is opened to the world, for dogs of any breed, not exceeding teams of five.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THIS?

HARLEY MOTOR CO., Iowa Park, Texas,
Wichita Falls, Texas, Nov. 18, 1919

Gentlemen:

I bought a Liberty Chummy Roadster, which had been driven 9,000 miles, in July 1917 and since that time have driven it practically every day in the oil fields through sand and mud. I have driven around New Town, Texas a good deal of this time and was never pulled out in that territory. I have only had to be pulled out of the mud once and that time by four horses, as the mud only lacked three inches of running into the doors.

At the present time this car has been driven about 100,000 miles and is in perfect condition. All told I don't believe it has cost me $200 for repairs.

If anyone wants to know anything about the "LIBERTY" tell them to ask me.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) J. E. KARR,

DALLAS LEGION WILL HOLD MOTOR CLASSIC

Auto races, sponsored by the John W. Low Post of the American Legion of Dallas, will be the crowning number sport event for the southwest on December 6-7, when 15 dirt track stars of international reputation will participate in the final automobile race meet of 1919 under sanction of the International Motor Contests association.

Arrangements have just been completed in Dallas for the great motor classic which will include auto races, motorcycye races, auto polo contests and a motor style show to be held at the state fair grounds track. A fifty-mile derby to be competed in by professional drivers who have made their marks on the dirt tracks of the country will be the leading race event while other fast short distance events will add zip to the races which will be held for the benefit of the Legion and auxilliary.

The teams to compete in the auto race polo contests will be the original American and British teams, who recently battled for international supremacy at Detroit, Michigan, when America won the world's championship. The motorcycle races will be 15-mile events with crack drivers competition.

The style show of motor cars with women drivers will add a social touch to the big race meet, which gives promise of drawing the largest crowds to the city since the recent successful state fair.

The assured entries of George Clark, world's dirt track champion and Dallas' own star race driver competing against Larry Stone, English, dirt track champion; Earnie Fosnaugh, Belgian racing demon; Harry Demster, Atlantic coast champion and a host of other drivers, promises a card of intense interest to national dirt track racing circles.

WOODCHOPPING IS ALL THE RAGE IN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Introducing wood-splitting, king of outdoor sports, successor to golf as a waist line reducer and the newest fad of the wealthy tourist.

D. M. Linnard, manager of a string of California tourist hotels, sponsors the sport.

Linnard has installed at his hotels in Santa Barbara and Pasadena just a common, old-fashioned woodpile, well equipped with axes of various weight and too sharp.

Guests are welcome to chop to their heart's content. Linnard is willing to furnish all the wood they want.

The sport is popular. Henry Ford was responsible for its introduction in southern California. When he was here last winter he and his son, Edsel seldom missed a day without an hour at the woodpile.

At Santa Barbara it was whispered that William G. McAdoo raised a calloua on his right hand at the woodpile last winter.

Native Santa Barbarans, who expect President Wilson to join their colony for at least a few weeks when he gets a real vacation, have a tree all selected for him to demolish.

But it was Linnard who has brought wood-splitting to the masses—that is the masses of tourists.

OCTOBER BIGGEST MONTH IN CADILLAC PRODUCTION

"The month of October recorded the largest production, for a similar period in the history of the Cadillac Motor Car company," says Lynn McNaughton, general sales manager of the Cadillac. "Nevertheless, the reports from our dealers and distributors make it plain that even this huge output fell far short of supplying cars to all those who wanted them.

"It is gratifying to us that this should be the state of affairs; but at the same time, it is somewhat embarrassing. It seems to be a condition which we are powerless to remedy, no matter to what volume we build up our production.

"This process of building up Cadillac production has been going on steadily ever since the armistice a year ago. At that time, the company was engaged very largely in war work, with a very restricted output of cars for public consumption. The release of our activities from the war sphere enabled us to reconvert our factories, as rapidly as possible, to our regular lines. In spite of the speed with which motor car production was resumed and increased, our distributors and dealers have been and continue now under the necessity of turning away many orders.

"So far as we see into the future, this condition will not be materially altered during the next year. It appears that those who are now fortunate enough to get a Cadillac when they want it, are those who sensed the situation some months in advance and acted accordingly. No doubt many people who want Cadillacs at a certain time next year will take steps in advance to secure themselves against disappointment."

NEW STANDARD OF TESTING BY WILLIS-OVERLAND CO.

The testing of motor cars, like the building of motor cars, has undergone marked advancement during the last few years. New standards have been created and new mechanical testing devices have been perfected to keep pace with the development of the automobile itself.

It remained for the Willys Overland company, however to supply the supreme test to its latest model, Overland 4 which has just been announced. This test, it is believed has established new standards of testing and refinement of details to make a car practically perfect mechanically before it goes to an owner.

The history of the development, building and testing of Overland 4, which introduces the new three point spring suspension, covers a period of years. The car is the product of a decade of progressive engineering achievement toward the ideal light weight car; of a year's intensive engineering experiment and two year's actual demonstration and test in all kinds of weather and all sorts of roads.

During the two years of test, Overland 4 was given 250,000 miles of actual road demonstration. That's ten times around the world before a single car went on the market.

These tests were of great value to the engineering and the production departments of the Willys-Overland company and, finally, to the man who buys the car. A staff of engineers studied the car during these 250,000 miles of test to determine every refinament and improvement that might be necessary to make the car when it went on the market free from service troubles and of assured economy in operation and perfect ease of riding because of new three-point springs.

The value of 250,000 miles of exhaustive testing may further be judged from the comparison with the usual custom of sending a new car into the market after it has been pounded on roads in some 25,000 to 75,000 miles of demonstration. Overland 4, it is said, is the first car that has gone on the market with a pedigree of perfect production after two years of constant testing.

The section of the country picked for these tests was in Nature's laboratory of the Southwest—Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. There nature sooms unfinished, a rough, rock-strewn, tortured country. It was there that the engineers decided that the new three point suspension springs could be given a supreme test to develop the unexcelled ease of riding which they have now introduced.

Accordingly a fleet of Overland 4's were sent into this section. A staff of engineers accompanied the cars to watch every hour of performance. In Colorado the cars were set to work scaling mountain sides, twisting and turning around the hairpins turns of the precipitous cliff and mountain sides and rolling over the boulder-strewn roads. There was plenty of mud—seas of it, thick and sticky as glue, hub and running board deep.

In New Mexico, there were great stretches of deep shifting sand, which threaten to rack and twist the frames of ordinary motor cars. In Arizona, there were great stretches of plain, innumberable rivers and streams to ford, worse mud than ever before and stretches of road that were so rough and tortuous that they resembled sawtooth blades of scraggy, sharp rocks. No better testing ground can be found than in the Rocky Mountains.

Over these roads, Overland 4 was pushed to the utmost. Days were spent in mud, in streams, twisting through rocky defiles, scaling boulder-sprinkled hill and mountain sides. The drivers were amazed night after night with their freedom from fatigue because of the easy riding of the cars due to the wonderful three point spring suspension.

The three point springs had saved the cars, had given a new ease and comfort to the drivers; the balanced light construction had conquered the worst of the roads; the power of the car itself had pulled it out of road situations in which horses were found hopelessly mired and dozens of automobiles were passed, sunk deep and immovable.

While these tests were going on, other tests were being made in the country within a radius of 200 miles of the factory.

The new three point suspension springs had gone everything the engineers had hoped for in introducing an almost uncanny ease of riding; the all-steel construction of the car gave it a stamina unusual in any light car it was in these tests that the Willys-Overland company developed the phrase which describes Overland 4 because of its three point springs, as the most important improvement in motor car construction since pneumatic tires.

WAS ACCOMMODATING AND ENJOYED DRIVE

WESTMINSTER, B. C., Nov. 20.—To strangers, evidently Americans, in a great hurry to reach Vancouver hailed the smiling driver of a small car which came chugging up the street.

"Time to hustle us over to Vancouver? Pay you what's right."

"Sure," said the driver. "Hop in."

When he reached the outskirts of Westminister the driver "stepped on his steed," and the little car leaped groaning and swaying along the road. When Vancouver was reached the strangers, with some relief at the end of the wild ride, asked the driver his charge.

"Not a cent, partner. I had just as much fun as you did," the driver told the astonished Americans, and turned his car and started back on the road to the Royal city.

The two strangers did not know a reception committee from the insane asylum at Essondale met the driver at Westminister. He had escaped from the institution earlier in the day, appropriated the first automobile to attract his attention, and had spent a very pleasant afternoon.

The JORDAN Silhouette Five

EASE of handling is comparative. The ocean liner is easy to handle on open ocean with leagues of water in which to maneuver. But the Silhouette Five is like the swift white launch darting in and out among the harbor shipping.

It is instantly responsive to the gentlest pressure. The Jordan arrangement of the steering apparatus is a marvel of precise control. The perfect balance of the car, the careful distribution of weight, the length and strength of springs and the delicate suspension all contribute to inerring forward motion, with no side-sway. In its application of power, the Jordan Silhouette is supreme. Acceleration is not a leap but a swift, plane-like glide. There is no jerking or struggling—the road simply flows past.

Women appreciate the ease and restfulness of driving the Silhouette Five as they appreciate its fashionable lines, its harmonious coloring and its perfect appointments.

They welcome a distinctly fine light car—a five passenger car in which quality has been made the compelling ideal.

Maxwell is but another name for Quality

THE goodness, the efficiency, the quality in previous Maxwells created a demand for the current Maxwell which 100,000 cars (the number now being bulit) cannot satisfy.

This shows a rare liking for Maxwell; and the appreciation that every dollar devoted to its manufacture has been wisely expended.

Think what the making of 100,000 axles means, the making of 100,000 frames, 100,000 engines, 100,000 clutches, and 100,000 transmissions.

Think of the great saving that comes with the purchase of so many materials.

Consider the accuracy that follows as one after another of 100,000 axles is constructed.

Consider the vast use of capital it requires to turn them out—300 a day.

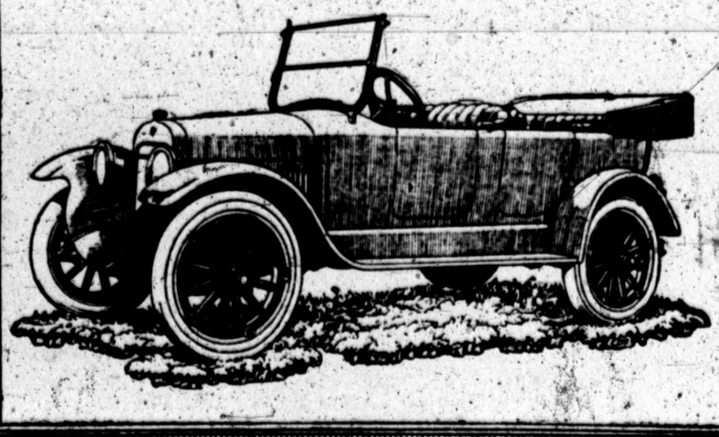

Estimate the confidence the Maxwell executives had in the Post-War model to rest the future of the Maxwell name on a year's production like 100,000.

They knew; 300,000 previous Maxwells had told them; the public was their judge.

You can look for high engine efficiency, or merely comfort, or long mileage on gas and tires, or improvements the war developed, or style, or value—you'll find it in the Post-War Maxwell.

RAPID INCREASE IN THE OUTPUT OF THE JORDAN DURING THE PAST YEAR

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 29.—A striking example of the rapidity with which motor car manufacturers are increasing production to meet the growing demand, is that of the Jordon Motor Car company, Inc. The Cleveland compar in the second quarter of the current year produced 100 per cent more cars than in the first quarter. Their production increased 50 per cent during the third quarter, and at the present rate will show an increase of 400 per cent for the last three months of this year as against the first three.

The Jordon Company has effected this remarkable increase in production by building a new plant which affords three times the floor space of the original factory and is now in operation. It includes a complete new power plant, a japanning building, a motor test building, also a new assembly room, and a two-story storage warehouse.

In addition to this new equipment, the Jordon company has bought the property of the Metal Parts Manufacturing company, which adjoins their own factory. The incorporation of this building as part of the Jordon plant will make possible an increase of more than 30,000 square feet in floor space used for production.

It is the Jordon policy to expand as fast as the increase of business warrants without waiting for possible lower costs of construction. Their expansion is in line with the general optimistic attitude of the automobile trade.

In commenting on the marked success of the Jordon Motor Car company, Inc., Edward S. Jordon, president of the company, points out the strong foundation on which the remarkable growth of the automobile business is based. "The motor car industry in the United States," says Mr. Jordon "is already a million cars short of the demand. It will be many months before automobile manufacturers can begin to catch up on present orders. Every one who produces an honest car honestly built finds a ready market for his product.

"Recent records of automobile registration throughout the country show that people are buying more cars than ever before. This is especially true of the farming classes, who are now in the position to buy the high-grade automobile they have always desired, and that their wives have always wanted them to own for the sake of their children.

"There is now one motor vehicle for every nineteen persons in the United States. The registration for the first half of this year, 6,383, 233, is almost a half million more than for the same period of last year.

"As for the continued demand for automobiles—I believe it will grow until every one in the country has an automobile and none of these cars ever wear out."

AMERICAN GOODS IN DEMAND IN RUMANIA

BUCHAREST.—American manufactured goods are in demand in Rumania. The stores in Bucharest are doing almost as great a business as in pre-war days. France has been sending large quantities of goods into the country, particularly light wearing apparel, silk stockings, toilet soaps and cosmetics.

Prices still are abnormally high. One sees American shoes in the shop windows at the normal equivalent of $28 a pair. Any article stamped "American" has a ready sale. Rumanians are keen for anything from the United States, whether it be food, articles of wear, or manufactured objects.

"Why doesn't America send more goods here?" the business man constantly asks. "There is a wonderful field in Rumania for American commerce. We would rather trade with the United States and any other country. We need your manufactured products, your automobiles, farm implements, gas engines, lathes, sewing machines, cash registers, typewriters."

Canada is preparing to send its products to Rumania. The Canadian government, following its course in Greece and Serbia, has lent Rumania fifty million dollars to pay for these goods.

The fact that The Times Job Printing Company always gets a job out when it is promised (every time—no exceptions) is worth your consideration if time is an important item with you. 184-1tc

TRUCKS ASKED TO AID RAILWAY CAR SHORTAGE

Director General Hines of the United States Railroad Administration in a statement made public recently predicts a serious shortage of freight car transportation facilities. The statement is addressed to shippers and receivers and urges them to help relieve the impending congestion.

Commenting on the announcement, R. E. Fulton, vice president of the International Motor Co., said: "Director Hines' appeal prompts the question, 'In what way can the motor truck best serve to assist the railroad administration?' To answer this is but to emphasize the necesity of co-operation with the railways rather than competition. Let the motor truck take over completely the traffic it has already proved itself to be more efficient to handle. Let them be, in effect, branch lines and feeders of the railroads to unload the freight at the outlying railroad yards and deliver it to the consignee's door, incidentally at a lower cost and more quickly. This would release valuable car space that is ordinarily tied up in switching around within a city, and eliminate the necessity of leaving cars on sidings or spur tracks until they can be picked up by a locomotive.

"The development of motor express routes to handle tonnage over shorter distances should be encouraged because they relieve freight cars for long distance transportation. Shippers as well as the motor express companies should do all in their power to provide capacity loads and eliminate every bit of waste space they possibly can.

"This appeal by the railroad administration has a vast significance to the motor truck industry. It is proof that the railroads do need the co-operation of all the participants in the nation's transportation scheme, and that the motor truck will be called upon more and more each day to take over the traffic that the railroads cannot accommodate. To the dealer it offers unlimited encouragement and should be an incentive to intensify selling efforts. To the general public it will mean better transportation service at a lower cost. The goods shipped by motor truck will reach the consignee quicker and in better condition. As far as cost is concerned, the motor truck has already shown that it is more economical than the railways in this form of transportation. Yet a great many people have still to be educated to these advantages, and it requires forces of circumstance such as this to provide that education. When there is anything that has always been done in a certain way, the general concensus of opinion is that it cannot be done any other way until the pinch of necessity gives another method an opportunity to demonstrate its value."

The average man's religion is elastic enough to approve any activity that will get a profit without losing the respect of the neighbors.

WAR RISK INSURANCE WILL BE MAINTAINED BY THE GOVERNMENT

DALLAS, Nov. 29.—Emphatic denial is made by W. H. Kemper, district superintendent of the War Risk Insurance Bureau, to reports in circulation that the war risk insurance is to be turned over to private insurance companies. The war risk policies will be maintained by the government and Mr. Kemper says the name of any one circulating stories to the contrary will be appreciated by his office.

"The responsible officials of all large insurance companies have cautioned their agents to encourage soldiers, sailors and marines to keep their government insurance," said Mr. Kemper. "If any man advises a former service man to drop his life insurance which he has with the government or advises him not to reinstate it the name and address of such a man would be appreciated by this office. If this is done the agent will not write any more insurance in Texas.

"The new converted insurance policies carry a high cash and loan value. They are now being held in the bureau pending the passage of the Sweet bill, which will permit the insured to exercise his option by having the proceeds of the converted insurance paid in a lump sum. The Sweet bill passed the house of representatives and is now before the Senate."

MAXWELL STOOD SUPREME TEST OF ROAD SERVICE

The supreme test of road service has been administered by Eugene F. Cox, of Los Angeles, who has driven a 1916 Maxwell over more than 50,000 miles of good, bad, and indifferent highways in the territory lying between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast, according to Mr. S. Bemrod of the S. Bemrod Auto & Supply company, who has just received word of the remarkable record established.

Cox declares that the car is still in good condition, and that he will turn it in at Los Angeles for a 1920 model.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox are musicans and give entertainments on the saxophone and other instruments, and claim to have visited every village west of the Mississippi. Their car is specially equipped for touring, with seats that may be converted into beds, and boxes and cabinets built on the fenders and running boards. When weather conditions permit they camp by the roadside at night.

"We have covered an average of 17,000 miles each season for the past three years," said Mr. Cox while in Portland last week, "and the only serious trouble we have had with the car was a broken spring while passing through Fourth of July canyon between Couer d'Alene and Wallace, Idaho. This is the poorest stretch of road we have encountered during three years' wandering across mountain ranges and deserts. For two miles of the distance the grade is fully 25 per cent and the road is full of sharp rocks and chuck holes. We wore out a set of tires going through the canyon."

After three years' companionship with the Maxwell on all kinds and conditions of road Mr. Cox is thoroughly satisfied, he declares, and will continue his wanderings in a 1920 model next season. Many special conveniences and built-in lockers will be added to the equipment of the new car and provisions will be made for carrying an extra supply of gas.

EMMETT DALTON TO UNDERGO OPERATION

COFFEYVILLE, KAN., Nov. 29.—Emmett Dalton, only survivor of the notorious Dalton gang of bank robbers that terrorized the Kansas-Oklahoma border country in the early '90s has gone to Rochester, Minn., to undergo an operation on his arm which was broken as a result of a gunshot wound during the raid his gang made on this city twenty-seven years ago, according to word that has reached here from Los Angeles.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs so little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon any corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off with your fingers. Truly! No humbug!—Adv.

FAITH ...AND... FACTS

Thousands of Texans are investing their money in the Spencer Petroleum company because they have an abundance of faith in Spencer Brothers.

The facts of the company's vast holdings, including 15 producing wells, 780 acres near the Kemp-Munger-Allen gusher, 2776 acres around the new Sipe Springs findings, 56 acres near Big Hawk gusher in Folsom county and 4,000 acres in Eastland county and more than 30,000 acres in other oil producing counties, make the company the strongest of any ever organized to do business in Texas.

25 WICHITANS RECEIVE D. O. K. K. PYTHIAN DEGREE AT FT. WORTH WEDNESDAY

Twenty-five Wichitans took the ritualistic work of the Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorrassan at Fort Worth Wednesday. In addition to the 25 Tyros, there were 20 Wichita Dokeys who made the trip to Fort Worth to witness the degree work and to attend the big dance and banquet. Tyros were also present from Amarillo, Abilene, El Paso, Big Springs, Midland, Odessa and various other towns of north and northwest Texas.

The degree work of the Eighth Order was given between 6:30 and 9:00 o'clock in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce. A big ball was staged at the Metropolitan Hotel following the completion of the degree work. Dokeys and Tyros from various west and north Texas towns paraded through the streets in the afternoon. The parade was followed by a big banquet at the First Christian church Wednesday evening at 6:00 o'clock.

MONTENEGRO UTILIZES GIFT FROM RED CROSS.

PODGORITZA.—A gift of $20,000 made by the Junior Red Cross of American, for hospital and educational work in Mentenegro, is being utilized here.

The Podgoritza hospital of seventy beds, established some months ago by the American Red Cross, and which has been daily turning away enough patients to fill 500 beds, is being enlarged [illegible]. Two additional wards, made of barracks and set in the [illegible] Prince Mirko's palace are being added to the hospital. A section of the bospital will be devoted especially to the treatment of children.

To the only boys' school in Podgoritza there is being added a large dormitory barracks. Hundreds of mountain boys, eager for education, tramp into Podgoritza to attend this school, but they do not have money for lodging and so they must sleep in barns or open fields. After school they walk up and down the roads studying, regardless of the weather. The dormitory will accommodate all those boys, and will be within a stone's throw of the school.

For the younger boys, mostly orphans who live about the market place a school colony is being built. It is a small group of buildings in which the boys will sleep, be fed, be taught lessons and given vocational training. Just as soon as this colony has been organized, and is functioning well, it will be turned over to some Montenegrin relief organization to operate.

Other work, dispensary service, soup kitchins, and education of the public in matters of personel and social hygiene, will be carried on all winter.

POSSESSED A FORTUNE AND DID NOT KNOW IT

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Gustof Gillman, a Chicago lapidary, was at work in his shop. John Mihok of Omaha entered. His appearance proclaimed the laborer. Reaching into his pocket, he drew out a rough, red stone and handed it to Gillman.

"I want you to cut and polish this,' he said.

Gillman's eyes almost popped out out his head.

"Where did you get this?" he gasped.

'My father picked it up in Hungary 50 years ago,' replied Mihok. 'He thought it was a pretty pebble. When I landed in this country in 1903, I found it in my valise. I guess my mother had chucked it in. It has been lying around my house ever since. The children played with it. My last baby cut his teeth on it. Once a rat dragged it into a hole and I found it by accident. It was lost several other times but it always bobbed up again. I came to look on it as my luck stone. One night I dreamed it was a diamond and worth a lot of money. But it's not a diamond—it's red."

'No," said Gillman, "it's a pigeon's blood ruby."

"What might it be worth?" asked Mihok.

"I'd say anywhere from $100,000 to $250,000," answered Gillman and Mihok learned against the door.

The big rough stone cut to a flawless ruby of 23 9-10 carats. It is believed to be the largest ruby in this country and possibly the largest in the world.

John Mihok has been a laborer all his life. Michael Mihok, his father, was a laborer before him. For 50 years, father and son toiled to keep the wolf from the door and all the while they have had in their careless possession a gem that an emperor might have coveted.

WINNINGS IN ENGLAND ESTIMATED AT $390,000

LONDON.—Baron James Rothschild's winnings when his horse, Brigand, won the Cambridgeshire at Newmarket recently are stated to total approximately $390,000. The betting against Brigand fluctuated about the odds to 33 to 1, and Baron Rothschild backed his horse heavily. The day before that he won $40,000 on his horse Tagrag, which captured a race at 8 to 1.

Lord Rothschild has always been noted for the large amount of money he has spent in endeavoring to bring off "long shots" in connection with his own horses. During the final big meeting of the flat racing for the season at Newmarket he had several horses entered and two of his notable "long-shots" were winners.

Lord Rothschild is a popular figure in the racing world and is famous for his quick decisions in betting. Apart from this he is noted for his wit and is a brilliant conversationalist. He has a fine war record, having driven motor lorries in Serbia and served with the French flying corps. He was lamed by a bad motor smash during his war services.

Recently he lost the sight of one eye which was struck by a golf ball while he was playing in France.

Some People Think

That because our "WHO CAN BEAT IT" Coffee is cheaper in price than some of the high priced tin can Coffees it is inferior in quality. Without egotism we believe "WHO CAN BEAT IT" to be the best blend in America at any price.

That we have a minimum expense in selling in comparison with the New Orleans roaster who sells in New York and the New York roaster who sells in New Orleans. Our business is local and we don't have to charge for expensive tin cans, lithographed labels, shipping boxes, local freight, traveling expenses and a thousand and one items incident to national distribution. We buy our green coffee as cheaply as any roaster in America.

Our Coffees are delivered FRESH FROM THE ROASTER to all Grocers. If you are not now using them we respectfully request you give them a trial.

MEXICAN SITUATON MARKS TIME AS U. S. GATHERS INFORMATION ON JENKINS AND WALLACE CASES

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—William Wallace, a vice-president of the Gulf Refining Co., who was believed to have been murdered in Tampico, Mexico, is safe in that city, according to a message received by the company late today. Information is lacking as to the identity of the Wallace who was killed by soldiers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The Mexican situation marked time today, while the government continued to gather further information on the Jenkins case and the murder of William T. Wallace at Tampico Wednesday. The identity of the murdered man had not been established tonight.

The Jenkins case and the Wallace murder are being treated separately.

The state department already has directed the American embassy in Mexico City to make inquiries of the Carranza government and forward further information of the new phases of the Jenkins case raised in the Mexican note declining to accede to the request for the release of the consular agent.

In the Wallace murder case the government has about all the information considered necessary and the interval is being used in framing the details of a course of action.

Note Being Drafted.

A note to Carranza, which some officials think will be about the last, was being drafted in the state department today but, so far as could be learned, it had not been started on the way to Mexico tonight.

Senators and representatives gathering for the reconvening of congress were showing active interest in the course of the situation and there were some indications it might be discussed in both chambers Monday.

Up until tonight the government had received no official word of indication of an offer of mediation by Argentina, Brazil and Chile and some officials thought it doubtful it would be offered.

If such an offer came the opinion of most officials who considered it, seemed to be it would be acceptable only under certain conditions which they thought Mexico would be unwilling to accept.

Simplifies Situation.

Reports direct from Mexico City regarding yesterday's border rumors of an uprising with fighting in the streets served to simplify the situation in that they removed one complicating factor and left the issue clean cut one involving only the continued murder and molestation of Americans.

There was no outward indication of whether President Wilson would touch on the subject in his message to congress next week.

Cabled advices from Mexico City today probably explained the report yesterday of a new revolution there. They told of a street fight between the two political factions such as occurred frequently, it was said. Political excitement was increased yesterday by the unexpected arrival of General Alvaro Obregon and the message said a street parade of his supporters resulted in rioting in which fire arms were used with no casualties.

Would Postpone Election.

Some weeks ago a child was killed and bystanders and paraders wounded in a similar fight. Luis Cabrera, minister of hacienda, used the incident in his argument recently to postpone the elections next year and keep Carranza in power indefinitely. At the same time he asked to continue the 1920 budget beyond the end of that year owing to the probability that the new congress would not have been installed or a president elected by that time.

Cabrera was quoted as saying two governors and two legislatures were now functioning in the states of Tabasco and San Luis Potosi while in Guanajuato, Nuevo Leon and Coahuila a candidate had been imposed against the indicated choice of the people.

The Mexican congress apparently is powerless to settle these conflicts as in the only case in which it has intervened in the state of Mayarit, formerly the territory of Tepic, where Governor Godinez was deposed by a military clique, a senate order that he be reinstated was ignored.

CHARGE OF CONNIVING WITH BANDITS ABANDONED

LAREDO, TEXAS, Nov. 29.—The state of Puebla, Mexico, has no intention of trying Willim O. Jenkins, American consular agent, on a charge of conniving with bandits in connection with his recent abduction, Governor Alfonso Cabrera of Puebla told press representatives, according to a Mexico City newspaper, Excelsior, under date of Thursday, a copy of which was received here late today. The only charge, it is said, is that of perjury in judicial declarations, which is solely within the jurisdiction of the court where the case is committed.

REPUBLICANS PLAN TO ORGANIZE THE STATE

FORT WORTH, TEX., Nov. 29.—W. P. Cage, newly elected chairman of the Texas Republican Council today issued a call for volunteers from the Republicans of the state to organize county and local councils. One of the first activities of the state council, Mr. Cage decides, will be to cover the state with a network of local republican organizations and make a systematic drive for poll tax payment and a strenuous effort will be made to get truant republicans to vote.

A meeting of the executive committee of the council will be held next week and the annual budget prepared according to Mr. Cage.

LADY ASTOR ADDRESSES DOCK YARD EMPLOYES

PLYMOUTH, ENG., Nov. 29.—The vigorous electoral campaign conducted by Lady Astor, American born woman, who will be the first of her sex to sit in the House of Commons, has not diminished her energy.

Lady Astor addressed a mass meeting of government dock yard employes this afternoon, advising them to consent to one day less weekly, in order to prevent laying off of workers, until the government could prepare a scheme for the construction of mercantile vessels.

BAPTIST CAMPAIGN WILL BEGIN TODAY

NASHVILLE, TENN., Nov. 29.—Notwithstanding unfivorable weather over a large part of the territory of the Southern Baptist convention, Dr. L. R. Scarborough, general director of the Baptist campaign for $75,000,000 which begins tomorrow, announced today that advices received from a majority of the 25,000 churches indicated that there would be no slackening in the pace set by the various churches to quickly secure their quotas.

PARTY NOT FAVORING FORMER CROWN PRINCE

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—The newspaper Germania declares today that the clerical party is not identified with attempts to start a presidential boom for former Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria. The newspaper brands the statement that the Catholic party is favoring his candidacy as a pure invention.

PLACE RESTRICTIONS FOR CONSERVATION OF THE SUPPLY OF FUEL

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 29.—Orders eliminating electric signs and display advertising limiting industries, except public utilities and plants engaged in continuous operations, to 48 hours' operation a week, restricting the hours of stores and office buildings to those between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., and theaters, moving picture shows and allother public amusement places to the hours from 1 p. m. to 10:30 p. m., were announced tonight by the regional coal committee, effective throughout the southern region at noon Monday.

MAY PROVIDE A SOLUTION FOR PRINT PAPER SHORTAGE

KETCHIKAN, ALASKA, Nov. 29.—Alaska's panhandle stands on the threshold of its "paper era," according to statements made by government officials and newspapers of this section.

Forests of this north country, it is predicted, will soon be supplying pulp to mills now being served by eastern forests, which are gradually disappearing. According to records here Alaska's wood pulp timber supply is greater than the supply of any other section of the United States.

ROCK ISLAND TO BE OPERATING IN CITY WITHIN A SHORT TIME

"The Rock Island will be operating trains into Wichita Falls within a very few months, in much shorter time, in fact, than most people realize," said a local railroad man Saturday who is in close touch with the building plans of that company.

"Practically all of their building plans are complete, and construction work will follow the work of the surveyors, which will be rushed with all possible dispatch."

Arrangements for terminal facilities in Wichita Falls have been made by the road, it was learned Saturday, but the details of these arrangements were not made public.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR COMING WEEK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Weather for the week beginning Monday, issued by the weather bureau today are:

West Gulf States: Fair weather indicated with a return to normal temperature after Tuesday.

Eighteen Hundred Troops Sent To the Coal Fields of Kansas

TOPEKA, KANS., Nov. 29.—Eighteen hundred state and federal troops have been ordered into the Kansas coal fields in connection with proposed plans to re-open the mines next week under a state receivership, it became known tonight. Six hundred of the troops will be regulars and 1,200 of them will be guardsmen, it was said. Governor Allen late today issued the necessary proclamation calling out the state troops.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Developments in the government's efforts to insure an adequate fuel supply for the country awaited tonight the outcome of attempts of soft coal operators to induce miners to return to work for a wage advance of 14 per cent and assurances of federal protection. Notices of this wage advance suggested by Federal Administrator Garfield were posted at the mines immediately following the Thanksgiving holiday. Resumption of work it might produce was not expected until next week, at the beginning of the second month of the strike, which technically was called off November 11.

Operators here expected Monday to see many of the miners, especially in outlying districts not in the central competitive territory, back at work.

Standing Firm.

Standing firm on their announced intention to spare neither operators nor miners who interfered with the restoration of production to normal, Fuel Administrator Garfield and Attorney General Palmer awaited developments in the mining centers. It was indicated no further steps by national authorities were contemplated while state and local officials handled the situation satisfactorily.

Assurance that the government would not tolerate any attempt to destroy trade unions or the principle of collective bargaining on the part of employing interests wishing to take advantage of the present situation, was given today by Dr. Garfield before leaving for his home at Williamstown, Mass., where he will spend the week-end.

Refers to Report.

"Report has come to me that the present crisis in the coal industry will be used to break down the labor unions," Dr. Garfield said. "I wish to say that I am as much opposed to an attempt to destroy the principle of collective bargaining an the union of working men as I am to the efforts of labor leaders to keep labor satisfied by a constant boosting of wages regardless of the public interest or to the effort of leaders in the industrial world to boost profits unduly to the hurt of the public.

"Any attempt to complicate the issue at this time by seeking to destroy the union of the mine workers or the principle of collective bargaining will be resented by the public and opposed by me."

Fifty Per Cent Normal.

Official statistics showed production to be approaching fifty per cent of normal at the end of the first month of the strike as compared with 29 per cent during the first week and 33 per cent the second week. The weekly report of the United States geological survey today showed 44.8 per cent of normal was produced during the third week.

Dr. Garfield also issued today a detailed analysis of the figures on which he based his conclusion for a 14 per cent wage increase. Explaining wherein he differed from Secretary Wilson he called attention to "the fact that the principle involved is of far greater importance than the figures arrived at."

Average Impossible.

"The principle applied in arriving at 14 per cent is different in kind and character from that applied in arriving at 31.61 per cent and hence any attempt to average the two or to compromise the results is impossible," Dr. Garfield said.

A wage advance of 31.6 per cent as suggested by Secretary Wilson would give a total wage advance since 1913 of 107.4 per cent, as compared with a maximum advance of 79 per cent in living costs, he added.

"Miners are paid by the ton," he said. "Other mine workers are paid by the day. The day laborers generally have received advances of wages since 1913 equal to and in some instances in excess of the increase in the cost of living.

General Proposition.

"The proposition that a general wage increase of 31.61 per cent be given is simply a proposition to give to all mine labor the percentage of the increase required to bring the class of labor that has received the lowest percentage up to the present level of living cost, even though that advances other groups far above the amount necessary."

Dr. Garfield pointed out that statistics of the national industrial conference showed only a 73 per cent increase in the cost of living and that on that basis the miners would be entitled to only 9.8 per cent wage advance.

On an annual outnut of 500,000,000 tons, Dr. Garfield said, the additional wage bill would approximate $238,000,000 with a 31.61 per cent advance, $107,000,000 with a 14-1 per cent increase and $74,000,000 with a 9.8 per cent advance.

The average earning of all mine workers in 1918 was $1,550.56 or $6.18 per day worked, Dr. Garfield said. This conclusion was based on information taken directly from the monthly cost sheets on which the operators reported to the federal trade commission.

SOUTHWEST IN WINTER'S GRIP; SNOW FALLING

Railroad Traffic Crippled and Wires Are Damaged Over Big Section

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 29.—The southwest today was in the grip of winter, snow or sleet falling in nearly all sections, railroad traffic being interfered with and telephone and telegraph lines damaged.

Much colder weather tonight, with the cold spell continuing several days, was forecast.

Because of the serious shortage of fuel, the sudden onslaught of winter has forced some towns to make drastic efforts to secure wood or coal. At Salina, Kan., arrangements have been made to set up a saw mill at which all available wood will be sawed for distribution to the needy. Other communities took similar steps.

OHIO HAS TERRIFIC RAIN AND SNOW STORM

TOLEDO, OHIO, Nov. 29.—A terrific rain and snow storm during which the wind velocity was said by weather bureau officials to have reached 78 miles an hour, swept northwestern Ohio late today, creating damage estimated at $100,000.

Telegraph companies report wires down in all directions. The storm area is said to extend as far east as Cleveland and virtually to Chicago.

SOCIALISTS DEMAND THAT ITALY SUPPRESS GABRIELE D'ANNUNZIO

ROME, Nov. 28.—Socialist deputies meeting today passed a resolution demanding the government act energetically to suppress Gabriele D'Annunzio's activities at Fiume and along the Dalmatian coast, according to a dispatch today.

The socialists also demanded Government enforce a stringent blockade to curb the poet.

LEADERS ARE RELEASED AND STRIKE CALLED OFF

SARAGOSSA, SPAIN, Nov. 29.—The general strike here has been called off. The syndicalist labor union leaders whose arrest and deportation to Barcelona was the cause of the strike and the declaration of martial law, having been released, the workmen decided to resume work today.

GOVERNORS OF NINE STATES TO DISCUSS THE COAL SITUATION

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., Nov. 29.—Governor Frederick Gardner left here this afternoon for Chicago, where he has called a meeting of the governors of Illinois, Ohio, Iowa, Kahsas, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Kentucky and Indiana to discuss the coal situation tomorrow.

Governor Gardner originally called the meeting for St. Louis for tomorrow morning but changed his mind and decided to follow his inclination of last night to hold the meeting in Chicago.

INTERNATIONAL LABOR CONFERENCE QUITS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—After a month's continuous session, the first international labor conference adjourned at 2 p. m. today to meet again subject to the call of the governing body. The delegates from more than a score of countries immediately began preparations for their departure for home, but it probably will be a fortnight before the last of them leave.

Women wage earners, including those engaged in commercial as well as industrial work, would be indemnified for time lost during child birth under a convention adopted toda, for submission to the various governments for approval.

The convention as originally drafted was amended so that reimbursement would be paid by the state or "by means of a system of insurance."

GO TO INVESTIGATE UNREST IN EGYPT

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Viscount Milner, secretary for the colonial passessions, left London this morning for Egypt with the 17 members of the commission appointed to investigate the unrest in that country.

YARDMEN AND TRAINMEN GO OUT ON STRIKE

Fifteen Hundred at Kansas City Quit Their Work Saturday Afternoon.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Nov. 29.—Fifteen hundred yardmen and trainmen of the Kansas City terminal and railroads entering the city went on strike late today, early reports tonight indicated. Day crews left their work at 4 o'clock this afternoon and night crews coming on at that hour did not go to work. Eight roads are affected so far.

BEGIN WALKOUT AT 4 SATURDAY AFTERNOON

KANSAS CITY, MO., Nov. 29.—Local railroad yard men and trainmen began to walk out at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Reports to the office of the Kansas City Terminal company shortly after four o'clock said twenty Santa Fe crews, twenty-two crews of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railway yardmen and trainmen and forty of the Terminal's men had quit work. It was said the men who walked out composed a late shift and had gone to work about the middle of the afternoon.

H. A. Carroll, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of the Kansas City Southern, predicted there would be a general walkout of the local trainmen and yardmen. "We can't stop them," he said.

Railroad officials after conferring in Kansas City tonight addressed telegrams to governors of Missouri and Kansas asking them to appeal to the federal government to supply troops to insure operation of trains during the strike.

BROTHERHOOD PRESIDENT DECLARES STRIKE ILLEGAL

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 29.—W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen, today wired W. M. Corbett, government railroad representative at Kansas City, that the proposed strike of trainmen there is illegal and that no protection or benefits of the brotherhood will be given to men engaging in illeg strikes at Kansas City or elsewhere.

Mr. Lee fully upheld the warning issued to trainmen at Kansas City by H. A. Carroll, general chairman of the trainmen.

EUROPEAN AND ASIATIC SOCIETIES TO APPEAL TO THE U. S. SENATE

PARIS, Nov. 29.—An appeal to the American Senate for ratification of the peace treaty with the League of Nations will be made by the convention of European and Asiatic societies favoring the league which is to be held in Brussels beginning December 1, it was learned today.

The convention will be under patronage of the Belgian government. Eighty delegates representing eighteen nations will attend.

REV. THOMAS ASHBURN DIES FRIDAY NIGHT

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Nov. 29.—Rev. Thomas Ashburn, D. D., formerly pastor of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church of this city, died last night at Dyersburg, Tenn.

STEAMSHIPS COLLIDE BUT DAMAGE SLIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The steamship Adriatic, which sailed today for Cherbourg and Southampton with a long list of distinguished passengers, collided with the steamship St. Michael off the Statue of Liberty while moving down the harbor. The St. Michael's stern was badly damaged under the water line and the ship is leaking but apparently in no serious danger.

The Adriatic is at anchor off Liberty Island. It is not yet known whether she was damaged in the collision.

The British freight steamship St. Michael, in collision with the Adriatic, cleared today with a general cargo for Maceio and Pernambuco. Her displacement is 3,796 gross tons.

The Adriatic was not damaged, according to information received tonight at coast guard headquarters. It was stated the liner probably would remain at anchor in the bay until the fog lifted, then would proceed on her voyage.

Captain F. C. R. Harris, superintendent of the Booth line, which chartered the St Michael, said tonight he had received a wireless message from the vessel stating that she was "not seriously damaged."

Shortly after midnight the Adriatic hauled up her anchor and again started on her way to Liverpool.

ACTION FOLLOWS INVESTIGATION MICHIGAN SENATORIAL ELECTION IN WHICH HENRY FORD FIGURED

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 29.—Truman H. Newberry, United States senator from Michigan, was indicted by a United States grand jury today for corruption, fraud and conspiracy in connection with the election by which he obtained his seat in the Senate, defeating Henry Ford, his Democratic opponent.

With Newberry 133 other persons were indicted by the grand jury on the same charges. The names of all but twelve most prominent were withheld from publication by Judge Clarence W. Sessions, presiding, until warrants could be served on them. Among those named were W. A. Hopkins of St. Clair, Mich., assistant secretary of the United States senate; John S. Newberry, brother of the senator, Detroit; Frank McKay of Grand Rapids; James B. Bradley, Eaton Rapids, Mich.; and Gladston Beattie, Paw Paw, Mich., and Paul King of Detroit. King was manager of the Newberry campaign committee.

Others Indicted.

The others named were Allan K. Templeton of Detroit, president of the Newberry campaign committee; Frederick Smith, Detroit, manager of the Newberry estate; Charles A. Floyd, Detroit; Mart P. McKee, Detroit; Judd Yelland, Escanaba, Mich.; Milton Oakman, Detroit, formerly county clerk of Wayne county, and Harry O. Turner, Detroit. Judge Sessions indicated the evidence before the grand jury disclosed the fraudulent expenditure of between $500,000 and $1,000,000 in connection with the election.

The blanket indictments were returned dealing with the primary and elections campaign of 1918 in which Henry Ford was Senator Newberry's chief opponent.

Exceed the Limit.

The first indictment charged that both federal and state laws were violated in that sums far in excess of legitimate expenses were used in the campaign. The second indictment cited the affidavits which Senator Newberry made while serving at the Brooklyn navy yard in which he swore no campaign money had been spent by him or with his knowledge. This affidavit, the indictment charged, was a part of a general conspiracy to aid the senator to obtain office illegally and to aid him also in concealing violations of election statutes.

There were six counts in the first indictment. The first four were devoted to charges of excess campaign expenditures. The fifth alleged conspiracy to violate the federal corrupt practices act of October, 1918, which penalizes payment of money to voters. The sixth count to which Frank C. Dailey, special assistant to the attorney general, attached especial significance, alleged that the mails were used "to defraud all the people of the state of Michigan."

Reveal Political Scandal.

Government officials asserted the testimony presented to the grand jury had revealed a political scandal that in many respects was without parallel in American annals. They said it extended from the most populous wards of Detroit to the Indian reservations where aborigines were voted according to the behest of the Newberry campaign organization.

It was alleged voters were bribed, election boards corrupted, editors subsidized and moving picture theatres brought up in the endeavor to defeat Henry Ford first in the primaries of both parties and later, when he had won the Democratic nomination in the election itself.

Officials were secretive as to how the alleged conspiracy was uncovered but a general outline of their methods was made available. It was revealed an attempt was made to repeat the suspected tactics of the 1918 campaign. Under this plan a corps of investigators were sent into the state under direction of Earl J. Houck, who with Frank C. Dailey, special assistant to the attorney general, was a central figure in the election fraud cases of Terre Haute, Indianapolis, Evansville and Frankfort, Ind.

Some 200 Convictions.

These cases, beginning in 1915 resulted in some 200 convictions.

Dailey and Houck came to Michigan last August. Bank records were inspected and the visitors lists of safety deposit vaults gone over. With the tale of these as a starter, the investigators were sent out. They visited "small fry" politicians first, offering them vague hints of what might come from a mythical campaign of a certain Michigan politician. Objections to small returns were followed by "confidential" comparisons with the Newberry campaign.

Generally, it was said, these lesser political leaders fell into the traps, telling what they had received and explaining what "ought to handle the money" in given wards of towns. The first grade of political leaders was then approached and by this method, it was stated, a clear trail was blazed to the "higher ups." When brought into the grand jury room and confronted with accurate accounts of their conversations with the agents the men generally, it was said, repeated their stories.

Basis for Indictments.

The government's legal experts, headed by Mr. Bailey, Mr. Dalesouter of Grand Rapids, a former district attorney and Oliver Pagan, indictment expert for the department of justice, took both state and federal laws as the basis for the indictments. The federal corrupt practices act of 1910 limits the expenditures of senatorial candidates to $10,000 and requires that four statements be filed with the secretary of the Senate, one preceding and following first the primary and then the election. The Newberry affidavit cited in the second indictment was filed in correspondence with this act.

The second federal corrupt practices act which the indictments alleged was violated, was passed in October, 1918. It made bribery of voters a crime after several federal courts held that such an act was not an offense against the laws of the United States. This law came into being after the Michigan primary, but just ahead of the election.

Expenditures Limited.

The state laws were brought in by the act of 1910 which provides that if a state limits campaign expenditures to less than the $10,000 named in that act, then the state law shall apply to campaigns within the commonwealth. The Michigan statutes limit campaign expenditures to a fourth of the yearly salary of the position sought for each primary or election campaign. An aspirant for United States senator in this state may therefore, it was argued, spend only $1,875 on the primary and an equal amount on the election campaign.

The law forbidding use of the mails to defraud was first used in election cases by Mr. Dailey in the Terre Haute indictments.

It was applied to the Newberry case as probably covering various letters sent to campaign contributors, which letters, it was charged, were worded so as to deceive the recipients as to the amounts already collected by the Newberry treasury.

Persecution of Ignorance.

To meet the probable defense that Senator Newberry was ignorant of the amount of money and its sources used in his campaign the government intends to use a statement issued by the senator's managers shortly after the first rumors of corruption began to be heard. This statement showed receipts of $178,856 and expenditures of $176,568. Of the contributions John S. Newberry, the senator's brother, was credited with $99,960; A. Victor Barnes of New York, president of the American Book Company and a brother of Mrs. Truman Newberry with $25,000; Henry B. Joy of Detroit, another brother-in-law of the senator, with $25,000, and Mrs. Henry B. Joy, the senator's sister, with $10,000.

The government will attempt to show that all these persons conferred with Truman H. Newberry while he was a candidate, thus indicating his knowledge of the campaign. It also has a number of letters which he wrote to politicians while the campaign was on. Frederick Cody, formerly a Detroit school teacher, but now of New York and connected with the American Book Company, was named as one with whom the candidate conferred.

Charge General Conspiracy.

These circumstances were also used as a basis for the allegation of the second indictment, that there was a general conspiracy to aid the senator to obtain office illegally. There are two counts to this indictment, one in relation to the primary affidavits and the other to the election statements.

The second indictment starts with a count which charges expenditures in excess of the legal limit in the primary and election combined; and second count alleges the same charge with relation to the primary alone and the third repeats it, as to the election alone.

The fourth count charges violation of the state election law in that more than $6,750 was spent in the two campaigns.

In this connection it was pointed out that while the federal law does not forbid advertising in newspapers, the Michigan statute specifically excludes such a pre-election practice. The statement of expenditures listed by the Newberry campaign managers includes items which total about $148,000 for newspaper advertising.

The count details that with the excess campaign funds, district and county agents and managers and numerous secret propagandists and detectives were hired and their expenses paid; moving picture films were bought and much literature distributed —all of which acts are alleged to be in violation of the Michigan law. The government agents said they had proof one movie film alone cost $8,000.

The fifth count charges conspiracy to commit thousands of offenses against the federal act of October,

OKLAHOMA OPERATORS PLAN TO OPERATE MINES UNDER GUARD

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 29.—Dorset Carter, president of the Oklahoma Coal Operators association, announced at a meeting of the state council of defense, today that Oklahoma coal operators would throw open their mines to nonunion labor and would finance the calling out of the state guard to protect nonunion workers in event the state's request for federal troops was refused.

Carter told the council of defence, which had met to further discuss the coal situation after yesterday's announcement that volunteer labor would be called for to operate Oklahoma mines, that a meeting of the full membership of the operators' association would be held at McAlester, Okla., Monday, to appoint a committee to cooperate with the state in operating the mines. This committee will be empowered to open offices at the state capitol building to co-operate directly with the state council of defense.

KELL AND ASSOCIATES PERFECT PLANS FOR OPERATING SOUTHERN

LINE TO NEWCASTLE WILL BE TAKEN OVER IN VERY SHORT TIME.

CONNECTS WITH NEW ROAD

Provides Connection Between Wichita Falls and New Line Now Being Constructed.

Operation of the Wichita Falls and Southern will be taken over within a very short time by Frank Kell and associates, it was announced by Mr. Kell Saturday, following notice from the railroad commission that the attorney general had passed favorably on their contract for the purchase of the lease held on this line by the Katy.

Final details such as the basis on which the line will use the present joint terminals and the like have about been worked out, and nothing now stands in the way of an early transfer of the operating control.

Building operations on the new line which will extend the Southern to Ranger and Dublin and the North Central Texas oil fields, is progressing at a highly satisfactory rate, Mr. Kell states, despite adverse weather conditions. He expects the new line to be in operation both ways from Ranger to the new towns, Jakehamon and Frankell, by the first of the year.

Extension of the present line from Newcastle to connect with the part of the new line building north of Ranger will probably begin within a short time, Mr. Kell states, and the entire line will be in operation as soon as the construction can be pushed to a finish. The new line, the line from Newcastle to Dublin, was chartered as the Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth. Under a ruling of the attorney general's department the separate corporation entities of the Wichita Falls and Southern and the Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth, will be maintained, but through trains will be operated from Wichita Falls through Newcastle and Ranger to Dublin.

NEW Y. W. C. A. ROOM TESTING COMMITTEE

A new Y. W. C. A. room listing committee to secure both permanent and temporary rooms for business girls where such can be obtained at reasonable rates has been named, Mrs. T. T. T. Reese, a member of the executive board of the Y. W. C. A., being the chairman. Mrs. Reese named her own committee, which consists of the following: Mrs. Peyton Gwynn, 2613 Ninth; Mrs. Ben G. Oneal, 2011 Eleventh and Mrs. C. J. Hunter, 1657 Elisabeth.

Anyone who has rooms available at reasonable rates, either for permanent use or for use in an emergency, is requested to call Mrs. Reese at telephone 135, or to telephone any of the other members of the committee.

S. S. KOURI INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY AUTO

Struck by a speeding car, flung to the pavement, and partially stunned, S. S. Kouri, an oil operator prominent in all the North Texas field, early Saturday night sustained a broken shoulder blade and narrowly escaped more serious injury. The accident occurred on Tenth street just below Brook, shortly after 8:00 o'clock. Mr. Kouri was struck while crossing the street to re-enter a car on the opposite side of the street. He was picked up and given emergency medical treatment at a downtown office, and was later taken to the Wichita General hospital where it was ascertained that his injuries were not serious, except for the injury to the shoulder.

The driver of the car which struck Mr. Kouri did not slacken speed, and escaped without the number being secured. The police, however, believe that they have a clue which will lead to the arrest of this driver.

THREE DAYS UNTIL THE LOCAL Y. W. C. A. CAMPAIGN BEGINS

Drive Proper Will Start on Wednesday of This Week—B. F. Johnson Manager.

There are three days remaining until the Y. W. C. A. Quarter of a Million Building Fund campaign begins in Wichita Falls, but Saturday the work of the advertising committee began to impress upon the public the fact that there was a Y. W. C. A. campaign pending.

A big banner stretched across the middle of the Eighth-st. block between Ohio and Indiana tells of the object of the campaign succinctly: "$250,000 for the Y. W. C. A. To Build a Home for Business Girls. Do Your Part. Give." Smaller banners, placards and posters were put in store windows, on automobiles, in office windows and displayed prominently in every possible place.

B. F. Johnson, the campaign manager, has made plans which will keep the "issues" of the campaign before the public in various unexpected ways, and the drive will be pushed from the beginning, December 3. Today the achievements of the association since its organization last spring and its plans and hopes for the future are being presented to the congregations of the various churches by speakers who are members of the campaign committee, who are presenting a plea for the financial support of all the churches, for the institution, which is essentially Christian and entirely nonsectarian. Every church with the exception of those who are having special meetings under way are giving the Y. W. C. A. a special part in the program.

Local Clubs Co-Operate.

Endorsements of the campaign, and a promise of hearty support of the organizations in the drive have been received at headquarters from Mrs. T. B. Smock, president of the Civic League; Norris H. Martin, president of the Wichita Club, and Dr. C. R. Hartsook, president of the Rotary club. The association has just recently co-operated with the Rotary and Wichita clubs in taking over the management of the Charlotte Kemp hall, where fifteen school teachers are given room and board at reasonable rates, as a means of helping to solve the difficult housing problems in Wichita Falls, and is now asking that the two clubs, as well as all other business interests of the city, and the Civic League and the women of the city give their support in this compaign, so that funds may be secured with which the association can serve all the girls of Wichita Falls instead of a few, and can provide comfortable, pleasant housing accommodations for many more than fifteen, and for girls in every business and profession, as well as teachers.

Believe Amount Small.

In asking $250,000 the men and women who constitute the financial committee have considered the needs of Wichita Falls carefully and believe that they are asking a moderate sum, in fact a relatively small sum from the viewpoint of the great good to be accomplished. The great need for housing accommodations does not need elaboration on.. Every one who has been in Wichita Falls, even if only for a few days, knows how difficult it is to find a place to stay in the city, even with the most scanty of accommodations, and with a price entirely incommensurate with the accommodations. What the Y. W. C. A. is planning to do in Wichita Falls, with the quarter of a million to be raised by the coming campaign, is to provide, as it has in other cities, a home for the women and girls who are so important a part in the business life, and who have to live in some one else's home, or in a boarding house or hotel. Trained, efficient women have been forced to leave positions where they were badly needed because they could not find adequate accommodations at a reasonable price, and the business world of Wichita Falls stands to lose more, if conditions are not bettered.

Since the Y. W. C. A. was actively organized, and the cafeteria and recreation room, at 614 Ohio, opened, the association has made what is considered a splendid record, considering the cramped quarters, and the other difficulties under which it has been working.

The cafeteria is the branch of the work that the public knows the most about, and its success is apparent to any one who has seen the long line of girls, women and men also, for the men have quickly come to appreciate wholesome food, well cooked, served in cleanly surroundings and for a reasonable price, as well as have the women. In June, the first month of the cafeteria's operation, a total of 9,800 meals was served. Five months later, the October report shows the patronage had increased so that the total of meals served during the month reached 14,317. In this latter month 8,000 of the persons served were girls or women, and their tickets averaged 45 cents a meal. The cafeteria is serving luncheon and supper each day except Sundays. The space is limited, and the equipment also, because of the lack of space, though through enlargements in the kitchen, it has been possible to continue serving the men. Limiting the service at the noon hour to girls and women only had been considered as necessary for a time.

The new building program, which the $250,000 will make possible, calls for a much larger cafeteria, where many more people can be served, and where it will not be necessary to place any restrictions on the patronage. This is one of the numerous things that will be accomplished with the money that Wichita Falls will be asked to give this coming week.

FORT WORTH MAN TO DELIVER ELKS MEMORIAL ADDRESS

Joe B. Hines of Fort Worth, prominent in B. P. O. E. circles of the state, will deliver the address for the annual memorial services for the Wichita Falls lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, to be held Sunday, December 7. Two members of the local lodge have died during the past year. Ed Gardner and J. B. McKee, who was a transfer to the Wichita Falls lodge, and who was killed in an automobile accident at Cherryvale, Kansas. The memorial eulogies for these two departed Elks will be given by Albert E. Myles.

Final arrangements for the service will be made at a meeting of the committee to be held today, E. G. Hill, the chairman, states. The memorial committee consists of Lloyd Weaver, J. S. Bridwell, A. E. Myles and A. L. Huey, with Mr. Hill.

MORE THAN HUNDRED RECEIVE ODD FELLOWS ENCAMPMENT DEGREE

The occasion of the removal of Wichita Encampment No. 6 of the I. O. O. F. from Iowa Park to Wichita Falls was made of increased significance by the initiation of a class of 126, the largest number to take the Encampment degree that has been recorded at a single meeting in the history of the lodge in Texas, Saturday night, at the Odd Fellows hall, supervised by the Queen City degree team from Fort Worth and attended by a large number of prominent state officials of the lodge.

The incorporation of the Iowa Park encampment with the local body was supervised by District Deputy Grand Patriarch W. D. Pouncey, of Vernon, Grand Patriarch W. A. Stewart of Mineola and Grand Scribe E. Q. Vestral of Dallas of the grand encampment.

After the Encampment degrees of Patriarchal, Golden Rule and Royal Purple, were conferred upon 126 Odd Fellows by the Fort Worth crack degree team No. 103, comprised of 41 members under the direction of Captain F. A. Howell, a class of 109 took the highest degree that can be bestowed upon an Odd Fellow, that of Patriarchs Militant degree.

The officers of the lodge taking part in the initiation were: Brigadier General F. A. Howell, department commander of Fort Worth; Major W. R. Dill, assistant adjutant general, of Fort Worth; Major A. H. Nelson, assistant inspector general, of Fort Worth; Major F. E. Utter, assistant chaplain general, of Fort Worth; Major T. S. W. Verreer, assistant quartermaster general, of Fort Worth; Major C. C. Jennings and Lieutenant Colonel E. Q. Vestal, of staff of general commander, of Dallas.

Preceding the meeting of Saturday night the visitors were honored with a very satisfying banquet at the First Methodist church, at the corner of Lamar and Seventh.

A LEAGUE OF NATIONS

By MARION FORSTER GILMORE.

A League of Nations—such a federation
Great Tennyson once prophesied in song.
But little dreamed what world-wide conflagration
Would make it needful—what stupendous wrong!

Singer and seer, he heralded the hour
When Mars should thunder in the upper air,
But had no vision of that Hunnish power
Which sows its fruitful evil everywhere.

He had not seen, as we, the war cloud creeping
Across a continent, nor heard the cry
That we have heard—Humanity's vast weeping;
No voice proclaimed the millions who would die.

Yet, moved by some celestial inspiration,
His soul beheld the glory of the time
When nation would co-operate with nation
In freedom and integrity sublime.

Another soul today, has seen that vision—
Yet lesser minds oppose his mighty plan,
As though their blind and impotent derision

CAMPAIGN TO SECURE SHRINE TEMPLE IS OF NATION-WIDE EXTENT

A nationwide campaign among Shriners to bring about the authorization of a Shrine temple for Wichita Falls at the next annual convention of the Shriners is being carried on from the local Chamber of Commerce offices, Hubert Harrison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, having been designated by the local Shrine club to direct this campaign.

It is understood that only one new temple will be authorized for Texas during the coming year, and that there will be a contest between Wichita Falls and one or more other places for this designation. Letters bringing to the attention of the Shriners the size and present importance of Wichita Falls, together with statistics as to the phenomenal growth it has experienced in the yast year, and asking their support to the efforts of the local Shriners to secure this temple, are being sent to all Shriners in the United States in connection with this campaign. The Shriners are also being advised of the great number of Shriners in Wichita Falls, and their prospects of having a Shrine club of over 1,000 members by the time the temple can be authorized. In the meantime the local Shriners are carrying on a campaign to increase the membership of the club, Joe Ward being in charge of this work.

It is understood that the local Shriners expect in the near future to buy a lot, expecting that the temple, if not authorized this year, will be authorized the next. Present plans are for the erection of a temple to cost about $250,000. At present the nearest temples are Moslah temple at Fort Worth, and Hella temple at Dallas.

This campaign is the second now being carried on from the Chamber of Commerce offices, that office handling the detail work of the Y. W. C. A. drive.

SUNDAY SERVICES FOR DR. HENDRICKS REVIVAL MEETING

A men's meeting, to be held at 3 o'clock at the Majestic Theatre by Dr. E. E. Hendrick, will feature the day's services of the revival party, which have been at the First Presbyterian Church for a week. The musicians, Dale Haven and Lauris Mallard, will have charge of the music at the men's service, and a cordial invitation is extended to every man young and old to attend the service.

The Sunday school hour will be a Decision Day service, Dr. Hendricks and his party to have charge of the services. The usual 11 o'clock service will be held by the evangelist with night services at the usual hour, 7:30.

There were no services Saturday, but Friday night's service is reported to have especially inspirational, despite the bad weather and resulting small attendance. Dr. Hendricks subject was: "The Christian's Wealth," preaching from the text "For all these things are yours, life, death, things present and things to come; all these are yours, and ye are Christ's and Christ is God's."

ARREST MAN WHEN HE OFFERS RAISED STOCK CERTIFICATES

A man was arrested in the Peoples Stock Exchange Saturday night when it is alleged, he offered for sale two raised stock certificates. Detectives Overby and Jackson of the city police made the arrest, and the party was afterward turned over to the county authorities. He denied any knowledge of the alleged raising of the certificates, declaring that he had purchased them from another party in good faith. Both certificates, which were on the Comanche-Northern Oil Co., a corporation having its central office at Fort Worth, were, it is claimed, raised to 20 shares, one of them being originally drawn for one and one for two shares. The par value of the stock in the Comanche-Northern is $10.

Officials of the stock exchange say that this stock was first offered on the Central Stock Exchange, and that the exchange asked Fort Worth over their wire to investigate the stocks, and were told that the certificates were raised.

Considerable trouble has been encountered with the stock of the Comanche-Northern, more than perhaps with the certificates of any other company, officials of the stock exchange assert, and that this was the reason for the query.

Other stocks which they state have given them trouble on account of either raised or forged certificates are those of the Mona-Marie Oil Co., the Waurika Oil Co. Nos. 1 and 2 and the Double F, all having shares of par value of $10 or less.

PRESIDENT MARTIN CALLS MEETING WELFARE WORKERS

Norris H. Martin, president of the Welfare Council, organization of which was commenced at the Union Thanksgiving Services last Thursday, has called a meeting of the committees named from the various societies and churches of the city Monday, December 1, at the First Presbyterian Church at 8:30 p. m. The meeting had been called for Friday night, but was postponed on account of the weather.

Completion of the organization of the Council will be effected at the Monday night meeting. All members of the committees named to act in the organization of the council are urged to be present.

GREENBERG WINS THE FIRST LEG OF CONTEST IN GUN CLUB SHOOT

Charles Greenberg won the first leg of the battleship painting trophy with a score of 38 birds out of 50 broken with a handicap of 8, which put him ahead of the field, at the regular weekly shoot of the gun club Saturday afternoon at the local traps attended by eight members and two visitors. The shooting conditions were adverse and probably accounted for the low scores.

Two visitors, in addition to the regular members present, waded through the deep mud between the city and the grounds and there has been competition between the small number present, especially one event between five of the members which resulted in a triple tie. The shoot off brought forth a second tie and darkness prevented a further shooting.

Shooting next Saturday will start promptly at 3 p. m. and will have as an added attraction a contest among the younger sportsmen for the Junior Championship of Wichita Falls. There are many boys in the city who can handle the shot gun nearly as expertly as their elders among whom are Frank and Preston Wood and Young Pope.

Saturdays scores follow:

Deatheridge	42 out of 50
Pate	41 out of 50
Sheldon	39 out of 50
Greenberg	38 out of 50
Nabb	31 out of 50

RETAIL MERCHANTS DISCONTINUE PAYING FOR TRASH HAULING

Saturday night the Retail Merchants Association discontinued the trash and garbage collection to a downtown district, according to a statement by John W. Thomas, secretary of the organization, and in future business concerns will have to make individual arrangements to have this work done.

The Retail Merchants Association took over this work just one month ago, when the city, which had taken care for this work for a number of years, making only a nominal charge, announced their discontinuance of the service due to the fact that the expense incurred by this service was far in excess of the returns, and that the business men would not "stand a sufficient raise" to make the service self-sustaining. "After one month's operation, during which the trash and garbage was not removed in anything like a sanitary manner, I find that there is a shortage of something like $500 to $600 between the amount paid by the merchants and the cost of the service, which was $1400," said Mr. Thomas in commenting on this decision. "So many of the merchants have made arrangements to have their trash hauled independently, and others, who have had their trash hauled by the city for a nominal sum, objected to paying the increased assessment, which, with our showing this first month, convinced me that we could not handle the proposition and come out on the right side of the ledger. So we have just decided to step out."

The matter will be left up to the individual property owners, at least for the present, as far as the city is concerned, it was indicated Saturday by Dr. J. F. Reed, chairman of the sanitary commission. "They must get rid of the trash individually, the best way they can," was Dr. Reed's comment.

Nothing further has been heard from the Denver parties who made an offer to the city to take over this work for a certain sum, Dr. Reed stated, f urther negotiations being held up awaiting receipt and examination of the Denver ordinance under which this system is being operated in that city.

NO SUNDAY SHOWS ON SCHEDULE TODAY

Neither the Wichita theatre nor any of the picture shows will be open Sunday, according to statements by the management.

Positive statements that the Empress and Gem shows would not attempt to run Sunday shows were made at those theatres. At the Majestic the statement was made that that theatre would not open on this Sunday, but as to their course on Sundays in the future the management was non-committal.

In the case of the Wichita theatre, where an intention of remaining open on Sundays was announced during the latter part of the week, inability to secure a company to put on the show was given as the reason for their decision not to hold a Sunday show.

"The company which is to put on this week's bill could not arrive from San Antonio in time to put on a Sunday show," Manager Charles Kirkpatrick announced Saturday night. "I could not hold the company which was here this week over, so the result is that we have no company to put on a Sunday show."

Shows will be given on Sundays at the Wichita theatre as soon as arrangements to have a company here on that day, it was announced.

SAW GERMANS SIGN THE PEACE TREATY AND MADE A TRIP THROUGH ARMENIA

C. G. Hursh, nephew of District Clerk A. F. Kerr, returned last week from service overseas. Mr. Hursh went to France with the 140th Infantry of the 35th Division and was in the fighting. After the armistice he was transferred to the peace commission guard and saw the Germans sign the peace treaty, at Versailles. Later he went to Armenia with Major General Harbord who was sent there on a special mission by the American government. He spent several months in Asia and in European Turkey.

"If experience makes a man rich, I ought to be a millionaire," said Mr. Hursh Saturday.

BANK CLEARINGS FOR WEEK SHOW A SLIGHT DECREASE

Bank clearings for the week ending Saturday showed a decrease of $491,691.47, compared with the figures of last week, probably on account of the holiday on Thanksgiving. The total amount of clearings was $1,181,582.55 against a total of $5,673,274.02, reported by the local banks last week. The figures were as follows: Monday, $1,117,506.31; Tuesday, $941,248.62; Wednesday, $878,078.88; Friday, $1,138,913.07; Saturday, $1,045,835.

The oil interests of the prosperous territory surrounding Wichita Falls are demanding in their banking service an intelligent, prompt and cordial understanding of their requirements and opportunities. The National Bank of Commerce supplies this, and welcomes consultations looking toward the opening of new accounts. 184-1tc

SOON TO BEGIN A HEALTH CAMPAIGN OVER THE COUNTY

With the perfection of the organization of the unit which will assist him in his work in Wichita county, Dr. A. W. West, the new whole-time county health officer expects shortly to begin a county wide health campaign with the object of eradicating as far as possible all preventable diseases, and the stopping of the immense economic waste which results from this preventable sickness, together with the education of the people of the county into the latest methods in public and home sanitation.

Control of soil pollution, through the installation of sanitary toilets throughout the county, and the resulting control of such complaints as are spread in this manner, such as hookworm, typhoid fever, and similar complaints, will be one of the first ends to which Dr. West and his assistants will bend their energies.

Innoculation against typhoid fever and small pox vaccinations, together with the examination of school children for physical defects such as defective hearing, defective vision, adenoids, defective teeth and incipient pulmonary tuberculosis, will also come in for early attention from this department.

J. A. Little, who has been an inspector with the state board of health for a number of years, is the latest addition to Dr. West's staff. He is to be permanently stationed here as a sanitary inspector.

Other additions to the staff which will be made shortly are a registered nurse, who is to be furnished by the Red Cross, a stenographer and a clinical assistant. The nurse is to work with the health officer in working as a community nurse.

The organization of this work was made possible through the offer of the Rockefeller foundation to give $5,000 annually for such work in the first five counties of Texas which made like appropriations. Dr. West and his staff are working in co-operation with Dr. M. M. Walker, the Wichita county health officer. Offices for the new staff have been established at the Wichita county court house.

THIRTEEN ADDITIONAL ENUMERATORS REQUIRED FOR THOROUGH CANVASS

Thirteen census enumerators are necessary for Wichita county, in addition to those secured up to the present, to insure a thorough canvass, it was stated at the Chamber of Commerce office Saturday. Two of these additional enumerators are needed for Justice Precinct No. 1, excluding Wichita Falls. One is needed for Call Field and one for Justice Precinct No. 4, the town of Electra being excluded in this. Five will be needed in the Justice Precinct No. 2 Burkburnett excluded, and four will be required for Electra, and one for Precinct No. 4, outside Electra.

The Chamber of Commerce is very anxious that the public realize the great importance of a correct census enumerations, and has undertaken to assist the district census enumerator in securing a sufficient number of assistants to make the census.

In the Womanhood of Wichita Falls

Hundreds of young business women in this city are looking to the Young Women's Christian Association to assist them in finding comfortable living quarters at a reasonable cost.

These young women are the trusted clerks, loyal assistants and stenographers who make the wheels go around in your office and mine. These young women are not looking for charity. They are important persons in the business scheme of our city. They want to pay their way. They must be given the right kind of surroundings.

It is to protect these young women from influences that would not be wholesome, to make this city a little more comfortable and more homelike—that the leading citizens of Wichita Falls are now asking for

This money is to be spent wisely and carefully for the construction of suitable living and recreation quarters for the business women of Wichita Falls. They will be given a proper place to live, wholesome meals at a reasonable cost, and the right sort of recreation and entertainment and social life.

Wednesday, December 3 to December 10

The week beginning next Wednesday will be devoted to the solicitation of funds for this worthy cause. YOU cannot escape your own individual responsibility in this matter. Suppose YOUR SISTER were asking for the comforts that the Y. W. C. A. provides.

THE BLUE TRIANGLE stands for a fully developed womanhood along the highest American ideals.

Do your part—Give something. Invest in a proposition that will pay you dividends in a satisfied conscience always.

To Fight Buddhism in Hawaiian Islands

Japanese Mother and Children

Japanese Girls at St. Mary's

More schools for the children of the Hawaiian Islands will be one of the direct results of the Nation-Wide Campaign of the Episcopal Church, which has been inaugurated to raise more than $42,000,000 and to enlist 1,500 new workers for the development of missionary work in all its phases.

Children's schools, both day and boarding, have been established with great success by the Episcopal Church in Honolulu and on all the other islands of the group, but the Chinese and Japanese children, the Portuguese and Hawaiians who live there are still in great need of the influence of Christian schools and modern educational methods. Already the Buddhists have twenty-five schools and a temple for the educational and religious training of the youth of the islands, and although the native Hawaiians are largely Episcopalian in their religion, more work must be done if the spread of Buddhism throughout the islands is to be checked.

The schools of the Episcopal Church in the Hawaiian Islands have been successful beyond expectations in their results. The influence of the schools has been felt not only in the islands themselves, but also back in Japan and China, the home countries of a large percentage of the population. Dr. Sun Yat Sen, China's first, and provisional president, received his education in one of these Christian schools in Hawaii. Boys' schools, girls' schools and co-educational schools have all done untold good among the Chinese and Japanese element. All nationalities in the islands are taken into consideration by the Episcopalian missions, but since the Japanese and Chinese predominate, most of the work is done with them. About one-sixth of the 217,744 inhabitants of the Hawaiian Islands is pure Hawaiian.

In order to continue and expand its work of educating and Christianizing this important group of islands, known as "the crossroads of the Pacific," the Episcopal Church needs $225,110, according to its latest prospectus. This budget includes the establishment of schools, orphanages and church buildings.

In its early missionary days in the Hawaiian Islands, the Episcopal Church was instrumental in breaking down one of the most vicious religious systems that ever existed, and brought the natives from a state of barbaric superstition to a condition of enlightenment and education that has practically regenerated the islands. Their old religion was tabu, and consisted of a series of prohibitions that made life absolute slavery. Certain foods, places, persons, things, customs, were declared tabu at stipulated times. Fire, light, bathing, work, were prohibited; talking was against the divine law. Dogs' mouths were tied to prevent their barking.

All this has been overcome now, and the islands stand in a fair way to become more thoroughly Christianized and modernized when the Nation-Wide Campaign of the Episcopal Church carries out its plans to counteract Buddhism there.

LOCAL AUTO DEALERS MAKE DELIVERIES IN SPITE OF HANDICAP

Despite the bad weather of the past week the local automobile dealers have made a number of deliveries and the only trouble seems to be the difficulty they have in securing enough cars to fill their orders. The bad roads between Wichita Falls and nearby points like Ringgold, Waurika and Henrietta where the dealers are accustomed to have cars shipped and then drive them overland, caused by the continued rains have rendered problematic the delivery of many cars already sold, but as soon as the weather clears up dealers are anticipating a rushing business.

"One thing I know," declared C. W. Nolen, of Nolen-Stringer, who handle the Haynes and the Garford truck, "if we have business in spring as large in comparison as we are enjoying now, in what the trade calls the dull season, we will have no kick at all." The hints to the dealer, in the current "Motor Age," as to methods of combatting the slow business during the winter, by introducing an extended number of sidelines, evidently has little application for all of the firms seem to be doing "business as usual."

Lloyd Weaver reports the delivery during the past two weeks of the following cars: Mrs. Wilhelm, 7-passenger Hudson; Rex Cannon, 4-passenger Hudson; J. W. Nolen, 4-passenger Hudson; Morris Pois, 4-passenger Hudson; A. W. Gieske, 4-passenger Hudson; Dr. Burison, 4-passenger Hudson; M. D. Walker, Essex Sedan; O. L. Rahl, Hudson 4-passenger; C. E. Atherton, Essex roadster; Shamrock Oil Co., Essex roadster; Robert and Hill, Essex roadster; E. B. Boykin, Essex touring model; C. D. Shamburger, 7-passenger Hudson; Texhoma Oil and Refining Co., Hudson 4-passenger; S. S. Kouri, 4-passenger Hudson; F. T. Wileds, Stutz roadster. The past two weeks have been record breakers for this concern in spite of the bad weather.

The Franklin and Holmes automobile agency has sold quite a large number of cars during the past week, according to C. J. Waelder, the manager, who reports having delivered three Franklin Sedans, four Franklin town cars, one three passenger Holmes, three seven passenger Holmes and three four passenger Holmes. The Holmes air cooled car bids to rival the popularity of the Franklin, locally, this agency declares, to judge from the number of admiring comments they hear about the cars every day.

Eckman & Von Allmen, distributors in Wichita and surrounding counties for the Hupmobile and Westcott cars, report the delivery of Hupmobiles to the following people: W. H. Garrett, Bernard Martin, L. O. Brooks and G. C. Davis. They expect a carload of Hupmobiles, including a Sedan and a Coupe, by the first of next week.

The first Hupmobile in this city to be equipped with wire wheels is owned by Mrs. E. M. Conway, who had the local dealers put in a special order for the equipment. The car is a roadster and makes quite a neat job with the white wire wheels.

The Nolen Stringer Co. have delivered a Haynes 4-passenger model to Mrs. J. W. Stringer, also one of the same design to Bud Merritt. Two Garford trucks have been delivered by this firm during the past week, both going to Ralston Brothers. As soon as the roads are passable between here and Ringgold and Dallas this firm will drive three carloads of Haynes through. Included in these shipments are a Sedan and a Coupe.

The 4-passenger model Haynes, with its graceful lines, is proving the most popular of the list, the agents say, and they are having trouble to secure enough of this model to meet the demand.

SYMPATHY AROUSED FOR "PUSSY FOOT" JOHNSON AS A RESULT OF INJURY

LONDON, Nov. 29.—"With all the million of eyes there are in the world it will not matter much if there is one less," "Pussy Foot" Johnson, American prohibition agent, declared, after physicians had removed one of his eyes Thursday.

Scores of messages of sympathy was received by the American dry leader today. Sympathy for the courageous American, who was injured when "ragged" by London medical students, was unanimous throughout England. Both "wets" and "drys" expressed their admiration of his grit.

"One eye is almost as good as two, anyway," Johnson declared, although his physicians admitted his remaining eye may be affected.

The Evening News has started a fund for Johnson "as a token of admiration for his pluck, courage and unfailing good nature" and headed the list of subscriptions with 100 pounds.

"It will not compensate for the loss of his eye, or the suffering he has sustained but will be a tribute of practical sympathy from thousands of Londoners and some acknowledgement that this side of the water is adopting that phrase Americans admire, 'white man's sympathy'," the News said. "The British people admire a sportsman, no matter what his political opinions," the newspaper added. "They have not forgotten that when Johnson's suffering was keenest he exonerated the raggers from blame and assured them he did not believe their attack malicious."

BAKER WAS LOOKING FOR A BUCK PRIVATE

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 29.—Secretary of War Baker, who visited Camp Zachary Taylor when he came here to attend a meeting of the National Consumers' League, searched the first division for a "buck" private, he met while in the battle area of France.

The entire division turned out for inspection during which Mr. Baker looked for the lad who made him laugh "long heartily" while "over there."

"I want to make good a bet,' said the secretary, addressing the division and asking that the man step forward if present.

"It was like this,' he began. "With several general officers, I was visiting the troops near the front. We sat in a big touring car. A soldier of the First Division came along with a gun and a pack on his shoulder. looked shyly into the car and remarked: 'Say, bo, you sure have got it soft.'"

The doughboy was not in the ranks and incidentally he missed a "chicken dinner" which Mr. Baker said he would pay for.

LOCAL BAPTISTS EXPECT TO RAISE $150,000 QUICKLY

"One Hundred and Fifty Thousand in Ten Minutes" is the subject of Rev. O. L. Powers sermon, to be preached this morning at the 11 o'clock service at the First Baptist church, and Mr. Powers stated Saturday that at the service it was the purpose of the local Seventy-Five Million campaign committee to raise the entire local quota in ten minutes. There have been weeks of preliminary organization to make the campaign a success, all efforts being bent toward raising the quota early in the campaign, which starts Sunday, November 30 and continues for one week. Mr. Powers, who was district organizer and has worked incessantly for the campaign, is confident that not only his church but every church in the county and the district will go over the top, and finish the campaign in very short time.

The canvass of Wichita Falls for this campaign has revealed that there are more Baptists in the city who have not united with the churches than there are members of the churches, Mr. Powers stated. These Baptists are to be solicited for the campaign so that they may have a part in the big program of the Southern Baptists.

DECLARES THE PUBLIC WILLING TO BE GOUGED

DALLAS, TEXAS, Nov. 29.—From the apathy shown by the public, the people are willing to be "gouged" by profiteers, according to F. M. Spencer, special agent of the department of justice in charge of the bureau of investigation here. Without co-operation of the public, he said, the department's hands are tied in its efforts to suppress profiteering.

"I have received numerous complaints about profiteering, but when I suggest prosecution the complaining witnesses hold up their hands in horror and ask me not to get them mixed up," said Mr. Spencer. "The Lever act has teeth and they are sharp, but the department cannot proceed against profiteers unless victims will act as prosecuting witnesses.

"When any one buys anything and has reason to believe he or she has been charged an excessive price and will testify against the accused I will gladly arrest and prosecute, but I must have the co-operation of the public before I can do any effective work.

"If the people are willing to be gouged, let them stop howling about profiteering. The Lever bill gives this department ample authority on which to operate and I am willing and anxious to arrest and prosecute.

"Profiteering must stop and will be stopped if men and women who buy anything will tell me when they think they have been victimized."

PLAN TO REHABILTATE SHEEP RAISING INDUSTRY

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Rehabilitation of the sheep-raising industry, said to be in a sad plight as a result of the war, is being planned at a conference here today. Eighteen experts in sheep raising and wool culture, representing the industry's interests in the same number of states, comprise the assembly.

Important recommendations are expected the meeting to the department of agriculture on the wool industry as it affects clothing prices.

PREPARE TO DRILL THE FIRST TEST WELL IN DALLAM COUNTY

Special to The Times.

DALHART, TEX., Nov. 29.—Complete standard California drilling rig, including extra large and heavy tools, six-inch ideal rig irons and material for an 84-ton standard derrick arrived in Dalhart yesterday. This rig is owned by the Dalhart Oil and Gas Company of Dalhart and despite the recent rains and snow, is being moved on to the site of their Dalhart No 1 well on the James ranch, 14 miles north of this city.

W. J. Bell and crew of rig builders arrived from Los Angeles today to erect the rig. Contract for the well was let to E. Byron Hines of Los Angeles. This is Dallam county's first well and will be drilled to 4,500 feet if necessary, and is creating much interest among the oil fraternity.

Mr. McBride, rig builder, and Pat O'Donnell, drill contractor, for the Fairie Oil and Gas Co., have been here several days looking over drilling sites, making necessary arrangements before commencing several wells for three companies.

Material for three rigs is being unloaded 30 miles southeast of Dalhart for wells in that vicinity.

Two carloads of machinery to be used in the R. E. Taylor Syndicate well No. 1 in Dallam county are on sidetrack at Perico, 25 miles southwest of Dalhart.

A. M. James, president of the Dalhart Oil and Gas Co., a prominent southwestern banker and cattle man, is in Fort Worth closing an important drilling contract on a portion of his Dallam county ranch.

Representatives of the Prairie Oil and Gas Co., Sinclair Consolidated Oil and Gas Co., Texas & Pacific Coal and Oil Co., Emerald Oil Co., Humble Co., Tidewater Oil Co. and many independent lease brokers, have been very active with lease buying for 10 days. Fifty dollars per acre is the highest price record for leases, this being paid for a quarter section near the Dalhart No. 1 well.

SALTON SEA IN THE IMPERIAL VALLEY IS A WONDER OF WEST

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29.—The Salton Sea in the Imperial Valley, one of the natural wonders of the West, is constantly shrinking. At present it is about 18 miles long and nine miles wide at the greatest point. During the last five years, the water is said to have retreated about a mile a year, leaving a salt encrusted alobe land which is eakerly seized by home steaders. Often their location stakes are planted in the water.

The sea which lies 169 feet below the level of the ocean abounds in fish, mullet and carp, which local and Arizona capitalists are planning to utilize by erection of a great cannery.

The United States Department of Agriculture reports state that about the Salton Sea lies the largest area of date producing land in the country.

Geologists say the Salton "Sink" as it once was known, in pre-historic times has changed from desert to sea and from sea to desert fifty times or more. For centuries the Colorado River would flow quietly to the Gulf of California and gradually build up a sand-bar across its mouth. Then some spring flood would cause a washout in the river's bank further north and the whole torrent would sweep toward the Salton Sink. The desert would become an inland sea, remaining so for centuries, perhaps, until some great flood would carve out a shorter way to the ocean. The sea would be drained and the region reclaime into a desert.

Mud volcanoes abound near the sea, a short distance inland. They are of all sizes up to great mounds 16 feet in height. They all emit steam, some in a steady stream, others steam and mud alternately. Many of them give out a sulphurous gas. At times their roaring can be heard for miles.

More and more the sea is being visited by tourists and during the heated season, when the temperature is from 10 to 20 degrees cooler than in the valley towns, dances are frequently held on an old wharf, which once served as a landing place for fishing boats but which has been left high and dry by the receding waters.

Of special interest to the tourist are the bubbling "paintpots." As the water retreats it is in a state of constant ebullition. Gasses from some unknown subterranean source are continually finding escape through unseen vents in the bottom. Layer after layer of colored pigment is deposited. The retreating waters have left uncovered acres of this deposit, said by experts to be fully equal to the dry sienna and umber colors, of which so much is imported.

It is thought that the shrinkage of the Salton Sea will continue until it finally becomes a salt "sink" with a pool of brackish water in the center, unless a fresh outburst of the great Colorado should replenish its waters.

The National Bank of Commerce specializes in banking service to oil men and places at their disposal the intelligent, friendly co-operation of its officers who have a broad knowledge of the oil industry and a thorough comprehension of the needs and problems of those engaged in it. 184-1tc

RIOTS AT BOSTON AS RESULT FREE-FOR-ALL

Over Contribute.

The sixth count alleges that certain defendants each contributed more than the total amount allowed by law, knowing all the time they were violating the statutes and that certain of the defendants induced others to give by falsely representing the amounts already contributed to the campaign.

It alleges further that more than $100,000 of the amounts so contributed were converted to the personal use of certain politicians. It is also charged that more than $100,000 was paid to newspapers, campaigners of all degrees, for office and hall rent, dinners and other entertainment.

The charge that James Helm was hired on salary and expenses to run against Ford in the Democratic primary follows and then come accusations that Republican candidates for county offices were paid money upon condition that they support the Newberry senatorial aspirations. The count concludes with allegations of wholesale bribery of voters, election boards and other officials.

The extreme penalty which may be imposed under the indictments is a fine of $10,000 and two years imprisonment.

The court proceedings today lasted less than ten minutes but served to wind up the activities of a grand jury that was first convened six weeks ago. After one week's work the jury recessed for a week but the last twenty-eight days have been a steady grind for the inquisitors and the federal officials concerned in the case.

It was learned later the men whose names were announced would be arraigned Monday, December 8.

Complaints Are Filed.

Investigation by grand jury of the election of Truman H. Newberry to the United States Senate was ordered by the department of justice and was based, it was announced, on filed complaints and "public charges of fraud and corruption" made by the lieutenant governor of Michigan and others. United States District Judge Sessions presided over the inquiry, which was conducted by Frank C. Dailey and H. Hale Souter, special assistants to United States Attorney General Palmer.

Witnesses were summoned from every part of the state and represented both political parties. They numbered into the hundreds and included both men and women. Chase S. Osborn, former governor of Michigan and one of the Republican candidates defeated for the nomination by Mr. Newberry in the primary election, was the first witness summoned.

Truman H. Newberry, secretary of the navy, in the cabinet of Theodore Roosevelt, was declared elected over Henry Ford, Detroit automobile manufacturer, the Democratic nominee, in Michigan's last senatorial election. Mr. Ford's name appeared on both the Republican and Democratic ballots in the nominating primary and this fact, together with the charges that money was freely spent in the election of Mr. Newberry, resulted in the making of radical changes in the Michigan election laws by the last legislature. Mr. Newberry's expense statement for election showed disbursements of $176,000.

The Republican nomination was carried by Mr. Newberry after a very hard fight. Mr. Ford received the Democratic nomination. The election campaign became bitter, charges and counter charges being preferred by adherents of the two candidates. Mr. Newberry, who, it was claimed, spent no time in the state during the campaign because of duties in the New York naval district, was finally declared elected by a majority of 7,567, days after the election. The vote was: Newberry, 220,054; Ford, 212,487.

Mr. Ford filed a petition with the Senate at the last session, contesting Senator Newberry's right to a seat. A resolution proposed by Senator Pomerene, Democrat of Ohio, asked a Senate investigation but received no action in the committee on privileges and elections to which it was referred. The resolution was reintroduced in the present session but, at the suggestion of Mr. Ford's counsel, action was deferred.

Navy Defeats Army 6 to 0

By HENRY FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Midshipman Charles King of Idaho, right tackle on the navy team, gave Uncle Sam's sea force a six to nothing victory over the army in the renewal of their annual gridiron battle here this afternoon.

In the second period King was called back from his position in the line to try for a goal from placement. From the 36 yard line the Idaho boy booted a perfect goal from the hands of Quarterback Koshler.

Again in the third period, the navy sent an S. O. S. to King and he repeated from the 35 yard line.

The feat of this new navy hero gave Annanapolis a victory that it had almost despaired of and it caused the rain soaked midshipmen on the side lines to leave their seats and engage in a wild snake dance and parade past the grand stands of the army, where they hurled jubilant shouts at the glum cadets.

The score does not indicate the extent to which the navy had the soldiers outclassed. The vaunted impregnable line of the army was crushed to pieces before the eyes of Secretary Baker, Generals Pershing and March and other high ranking officers of the army.

Clark and Cruise, two navy stars had Secretary Daniels, Admiral Sims and the navy notables on their feet time after time with brilliant runs and smashes through the West Point line.

Responding to the yells of "fight like hell!" the army took hold of itself within its inner sanctum and by grim, desperate fighting hurled back the navy charges when a slip would have meant a touch down.

The navy lacked the punch to penetrate the army line when a gain meant a touch down and had it not been for the toe of the Idaho middie kin honors would have been even.

McQuarrie, the big full back of the army, was the shining light of the soldier squad. His punting was a defensive factor which pulled the army out of frequent holes. Twice, standing behind his own goal line, he was hurried to get a kick away when the navy forwards broke through but he succeeded both times and booted the wet, slippery ball for 45 yards.

From a technical standpoint the game was very ordinary. It was unusual, however, because of the absence of fumbling, which would have been pardonable in the drifting rain which fell throughout the entire game.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The navy wrote another football upset into the 1919 season by defeating the army here this afternoon by the score of 6 to 0. The army came on the field of battle a favorite but at no stage of the game did the West Pointers seriously menace the navy goal.

The Annapolis score was represented by two goals from placement. King, right tackle for the midshipmen showed superiority over their opponents in all departments of the game.

At the final toot of the whistle the midshipmen with one accord hurled their golden megaphones into the air. It was like a shower of sparks descending on the field.

Then for the navy came a glorious rush to midfield and a rally around the colors. Cheering madly, the middies, their sea-faring goat stamping proudly at their head, passed in triumphal procession under the army's goal post.

The cadets took their beating like the soldiers they are, facing the navy's music until the last note of the gridiron celebration had ended. Remaining with them were their leaders, Secretary Baker and Generals Pershing and March, who, with Secretary Daniels, of the victors, followed every play of the contest with the zest of youth.

Forty-five thousand pilgrims from north, south, east and west fought their way to the polo grounds today to see army and navy clash on the gridiron for the first time since the United States entered the world war.

On the West Point side was Secretary Baker with his staff; on the Annapolis side, Secretary Daniels, equally well supported.

But these were only the visible spectators. Along the Rhine and the Rio Grande, in far away Hawaii and the army posts of the west were grizzled veterans who in imagination lived over again football dramas they once had seen. On warships riding the seas and at shore stations, at home and abroad men in blue awaited the crackle of the radio which would bring to them the tidings of victory or defeat.

All the ceremonies of the service classic endeared by tradition to graduates of the two academies were faithfully observed.

Army Wins Toss.

At 2:00 o'clock Captain Owen of the navy and Captain McQuarrie of the army met Referee Langford in the field and army won the toss.

Captain McQuarrie selected the east goal with a slight wind at his back.

Clark kicked off to the army's 30 yard line.

After one line plunge McQuarrie punted, the ball going out of bounds on the navy's 30 yard line. Clark broke through army's right wing and made it first down on the 48 yard line. Cruise gained eight yards. Clark tried a field goal from the 37 yard line but it fell five yards short.

After three unsuccessful line tries McQuarrie punted to navy's 45 yard line.

Clark made six yards around the army's right end. Koehler made it first down on the army's 35 yard line.

The navy lost the ball to the army on the soldiers' 35 yard line with an incompleted forward pass. McQuarrie immediately punted to the navy's three yard line. The middies kicked out and Schabacher made a fair catch on the navy's 35 yard line. McQuarrie tried a field goal from placement but the ball went wild and the navy put it in play on their 20 yard line.

The army line was adamant and Clark was forced to punt. Wilhide caught it on the army's 45 yard line and was dropped without gain. Three savage line smashes picked up seven yards and then McQuarrie punted for a touchback. The sailors reopened the play on their 20 yard line.

An end run by Benoist from a kick formation was good for four yards. Here the first period ended. Score: army 0; navy 0.

Second Period.

After the teams changed goals the navy in three line plunges made a first down on their 42 yard line. The cadets' defense stiffened and the navy punted to the army's 20 yard line.

On the second lien-up the cadets punted to navy's 47 yard line. Here White replaced Kieffer as army left end.

The middies steadily battering at center made it first down on the army's 42 yard line.

Clark and Cruise with similar plays made another first down on the army's 33 yard line. Clark, from a fake forward pass formation made eight yards around White's end. Clark followed with a dive off the army's left tackle for a first down on the soldiers' 22 yard mark. Benoist picked up four yards outside army's right tackle. The third play was simply a shift across the field to get in front of the goal posts. From the army's 25 yards line King kicked a field goal. Score: navy 3; army 0.

The kick was made from a scrimmage placement. Army kicked off from their 40 yard line. Koehler was thrown on the navy's 35 yard line. Two plays gave the middies eight yards. A dive by Cruise made it first down on the navy's 48 yard line. Herrick replaced Vogel at right guard and Gregory replaced Lystadt at left half back for the army. Cruise made four yards outside of Travis; Clark three more through center. He then dropped back and punted for a touchback over the army goal line. West Point from their 20 yard line made five yards inside of Captain Owen. The navy line held here and McQuarrie punted out of bounds on the navy's 39 yard line. Benoist pierced the army's left wing for seven yards and here the second period ended. Score: navy 3; army 0.

Exchange Courtesies.

Between the halves Secretary Daniels, wearing a soft felt hat, advanced to the center of the field where he met Secretary Baker, his silk hat drenched by rain. With Mr. Baker were Generals Pershing and March and after the exchange of courtesies in midfield, Representatives of the army paid a visit to the navy stands.

In the third period Vokel had replaced Herrick as right guard for the army.

McQuarrie's kick off crossed the middies' goal line for a touchback. From his 20 yard line, Clark hammered his way forward four yards. Clark then punted to the army's 37 yard line where the ball was permitted to roll dead.

Schabacher made four yards outside of King and Wilhide added two more. McQuarrie punted to the navy's 23 yard line where Blaik was hurt. Koehler made four yards over Vogel and then Clark punted to the army's 20 yard mark where Wilhide was spilled without gain. Schabacher picked up four yards outside of King. McQuarrie next punted to navy's 27 yard line where Koehler was tackled by Blaik without a gain.

Two line plunges and a delayed end run netted but five yards and Clark punted to Wilhide on the army's 30 yard line. Wilhide ran it back 10 yards. After two short ground gaining line plunges, Koehler intercepted Gregory's forward pass and the middies put the ball in play at exactly midfield.

Three line plunges were shot of 10 yards and Clark punted out of bounds on army's four yard line. Standing well behind his own goal line, McQuarrie punted to Koehler on the army's 36 yard mark. On a quick drive through Vogel, Benoist made it first down for the navy on the soldiers' 23 yard line.

Kicks Second Field Goal.

King kicked another field goal for navy. Score: navy 6; army 0.

Blaik spoiled Koehler's attempted end run. Here Wilkie replaced Moore, navy right guard. Three navy line attacks were repulsed and on the fourth play the middies forward pass grounded back of the goal line.

There was no middie near enough to receive Koehler's heave and on the touchback play the West Pointers received the ball on their 30 yard line. Koehler slipped and fell as he caught the ball. Benoist gained eight yards and then made a first down on army's 44 yard line. Storeck replaced Travis as left tackle for army. Here the third period ended. Score: navy 6; army 0.

Navy put the ball in play in the fourth period on the army's forty yard line and Benoist advanced three yards. Cruise made it a first down on the cadets' 23 yard line. Two plunges were good for eight yards and Benoist made it another first down on the army's 18 yard line. Davidson replaced Vogel, army right guard. On the fourth down King dropped back to army's 23 yard line and kicked a clean field goal from a scrimmage replacement. Score: Navy 6; army 9.

The play was an exact duplicate of the Annapolis first score.

Clark punted after two line plunges. Gregory caught the ball on the cadets' 25 yard line and returned it back 15 yards. Two line plunges gained three yards and McQuarrie punted to navy's 25 yard line.

On a criss-cross doublepass Benoist circled Blaik's end for a first down on the navy's 38 yard line. George replaced Blaik, army righ tend. Cruise went through in two drives for another first down on the forty one yard line. Clark punted over the army line for a touch back. Gregory and McQuarrie in two attempts gained a yard. Captain McQuarrie's punt went out of bounds on the navy's 28 yard line.

Parr replaced Captain Owen, navy end.

Koehler gained six yards but Clark could not gain a foot. Clark punted to army's 3 yard line where the ball was permitted to fall dead.

Byers replaced George for army. Captain McQuarrie's punt from behind his own goal line went to navy's 35 yard line.

With less than two minutes to play the navy began trying end runs hoping to break through for a touchdown.

Koehler and then Benoist, in a cross field run gained by a scant three yards and the play ended with the ball in possession of the navy close to the army's 30 yard line.

The line-up:

Army	Position	Navy
Kieffer	le	Woodruff
Travis	lt	Murray
Vogel	lg	Benfield
Greene	c	Larson
Briedster	rg	Moore
Daniels	rt	King
Blaik	re	Ewin
Wilhide	qb	Koehler
Schabacher	lh	Cruise
Lystadt	rh	Benoist
McQuarrie	fb	Clark

Score by periods:

SUIT OF ELLA PAPPAS FOR DIVORCE ON TRIAL; LETTER INTRODUCED

The suit of Ella Pappas against Nick Pappas for divorce and for possession of property and for an order to restrain the sheriff from selling the homestead to satisfy a judgment in favor of Pete Anastopolis, a cousin of Pappas, and Pappas' cross action for a divorce and for property in the possession of Mrs. Pappas is on trial before a jury in the 78th district court. Mrs. Pappas alleges fraud and conspiracy in connection with the foreclosure on the homestead.

An automobile which is involved in the suit, Mrs. Pappas testified had been "stolen" by Pappas from the streets when she drove it downtown, and had sold it appropriating the proceeds.

Mrs. Pappas was on the witness stand most of the day Saturday. On direct examination she testified that Pappas had beaten her and had attacked her with a butcher knife. On cross examination she admitted that Pappas had provided well for her and that most of their quarrels had resulted from Pappas' charges of unfaithfulness—charges which she denied emphatically. A great deal of her testimony was taken up with her cross examination concerning letters received from her former husband, a man named Buchi, after she had married Pappas. She identified the handwriting of a letter introduced by the attorneys for Pappas as that of Buchi. She said that she had received a letter by special delivery but that Pappas seized it and that she did not get to read it. She was cross examined for several hours concerning this letter, which follows:

Copy of Letter.

"Mrs. Ella Pappas:

"Your sweet letter received Saturday and was more than glad to hear from you. I was beginning to think that you wasn't going to answer my letter. Glad that you did, as I am always glad to hear from you. I also received the box and I am sure proud of the present, and, as for the picture, you know that I want both.

"Ella, dear, as for your plans, I think they are great but don't get in a big hurry; take your time and get all you can. Specially the ready money so when we do go we will be able to go some. So, Love, don't get disheartened because I will be out there before the winter, so try to get all you can. As for the house, fix it so when we get ready to go you can sell it and get the money. Also think it is a good idea about the car, but don't let him get a Ford; get a good one so we can go some, but for the car, I have one now myself, but if you get a good one when we get ready to go I will sell mine so we can have the money, as money talks.

"Also, dear, get him to start a bank account in your own name and get all you can. So dear take your time and get all you can so we can have a good time. Now, dear, don't take so long to write as I am anxious to hear from you. You can also depend upon me going. I am ready any time you are, but get all you can. With love,

"DADDY."

SIX SONS OF G. E. BARKER OF THIS CITY FIVE HAVE BEEN IN SERVICE FOR U. S.

Any father might well be proud of such an intelligent and successful appearing sextet of sons as those shown in the accompanying illustration, but he has occasion to feel doubly proud because of the fact that five of the six have rendered service either in the army or the navy of their country, and one is now representing his country in a responsible and important position in a foreign land. The young men are sons of G. E. Barker of this city, who is auditor on the Wichita Falls & Northwestern between Wichita Falls and Burkburnett, and is well known to many people in the city. Reading from left to right the young men are:

Wayne Barker, Katy timekeeper at Denison, who served six months on the battleship Arizona.

Carl Barker, manager of the ice plant at Henrietta, and who also has been in the service.

William L. Bearker, U. S. vice-consul at Hong Kong, China, and who served five years in the navy. Young Barker speaks three langnages and prior to entering the consulate service held important positions in the East.

Omar H. Barker, of Denison, three years in the service, being wounded in the Argonne forest.

Lloyd Barker, diamond merchant at San Antonio, the former home of the family.

Brice Barker, superintendent of the M. K. & T. railway at Denison, who also saw service.

Mr. Barker, their father, has been a railroad man in Texas for 21 years, being located at Waco, San Antonio, and other points before coming to Wichita Falls.

TWO CARS OF COAL RECEIVED SATURDAY

With the receipt of two cars of commercial coal Saturday by a local dealer it is believed that the acute fuel shortage which for the past several days has existed in Wichita Falls, will be for a few days considerably ameliorated. The coal was unloaded Saturday immediately after the spotting of the cars, and was dealt out to the rush of customers who gathered immediately on hearing of the receipt of the coal with an apportionment of 500 pounds limit to each customer.

These cars were rushed here thru the effore of J. W. Chatham, manager of the traffic bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. Several other carloads of coal are enroute, and Mr. Chatham has hopes of their receipt within a few days.

FIFTY CHILDREN ATTEND STORY HOUR AT LIBRARY

Fifty children were at the Library, despite the sleety, slippery sidewalks and muddy streets, for the Saturday story hour, which was featured by a musical program given by Dale Haven, pianist of the Hendricks Revival party now at the First Presbyterian Church. A guessing contest was first held, Mr. Haven playing a medley of patriotic airs and the children guessing the name. The children were also allowed to name their selections, and with endless good nature, Mr. Haven complied with all requests, the choices ranging from jazz to hymns.

Miss Katherine Brothers was the story teller of the afternoon, and told some Thangsgiving stories as well as stories with varied themes, and also, by way of preparation a Christmas story. The program ended with the prime favorite of the children "Epamnandos."

What "Makeup" Means to the Movie Picture Star

Many An Ordinary Looking Actress Becomes a Beauty When Filmed, Due to Paint, Powder, Dress and Properly Focused Lights.

THE art of "making up" in actor or actress, who also possesses that inherent power of emotional visualization, coupled with a resourceful producer and a director of fertile perspicuity, are the outstanding prime requisites absolutely necessary in the evolution of motion picture masterpieces. Lacking any one of the foregoing fundamentals invariably results in a production of merely common scope. The very indispensability of any one of these essential factors becomes quite apparent in a production where they are missing.

And yet how many film manufacturers realize this? Few indeed. Moreover, there is little to be credited to the manufacturer who, though cognizant of this all important angle, still adheres to the mediocre and the improbable in the construction of a play. Other manufacturers and directors have realized this, but only after being hit by failure.

One, however, finds some among these producers and directors who aim to whip into line those component parts above mentioned, and though not always reaching their goal, their efforts to give the public worth-while plays are to be commended. The successful producer or director is the one generally found to steadfastly adhere to the above principle. He knows what will bring results, and he goes about it without limitation to his purse, to attain that end.

To this type of producer or director the public feels itself indebted. And justly it should. It makes for a contented solution all around.

Consequently it needs be reiterated that of such composite blending into a compact whole great plays are born, plays that leave a deep impressin on the mind for many years after. In not a few instances I have seen a play fall flat where every possibility for greatness and success balanced in its favor, for no other reason than that the producer or the director failed to embrace the three essential requisites with which this story opened.

One can finally run the whole gamut of motion picture making from its inception to the present time, despite all of its vastness, and it will be seen that but few names illumine the roster of greatness. And these few great ones can attribute their eminence in the industry to the fact that they have found the solution of success through the one and only medium that it can be had—that of a harmonious assembling of the three essential ingredients.

Then in the line of performers one finds names equally as famous as the producers and directors we have mentioned. And in this connection it is an accepted fact that the actor or actress who is adept in the art of "making up" and who possesses the emotional twist achieves the greatest success. This fact has never been disputed. Of this number Dorothy Phillips, Priscilla Dean, Nazimova, Mary Pickford, Mrs. Charlie Chaplin, William S. Hart, Monroe Salisbury, William Stowell, Robert Anderson, Tsuri Hayakawa, the Japanese emotionaliste; the Gish sisters and Geraldine Farrar stand preeminent. There are many more stars in the motion picture firmament who have won success but hardly of the lasting glamour that attaches to the others.

The public knows little of the real beauty of the screen stars. The art of "makeup" has become a science, and more than one famous actress holds the attention of the public through her ability to put "makeup" properly, when in reality she is below ordinary in looks. But with brains, makeup and properly focused lights the ordinary-looking actress becomes a beauty when filmed, is heralded as a beauty, while in truth she is not. Bedtime with her tells a different story.

FILM LINGO.

Violet—The player who is always talking about his work.

Vamp—Short for blood-sucking vampire. The villainess in a picture play who steals a man willing to be stolen, or that some other woman is trying to steal.

Vamped—Past tense of the verb "to vamp." Meaning that the villainess has completed her nefarious work of stealing the other woman's man.

Are Real Love Scenes Real?

FILM fans criticise everything that happens in films, everything but screen lovemaking. If the 'ansome 'ero walks into a room needing a shave and walks into another set with the moss removed, or if the creases in his shoelaces are a bit out of press, or the canary looks like a mugwump, then the old reliable film fan vents his wrath on the company, calls them everything except sapheads, and then promptly goes out and spends another sad evening picking the films apart. If the films are designed to give pleasure, this fan loses all he is supposed to get.

Miss Blanche Sweet who receives many letters from ardent admirers, paused long enough during a strenuous day, to remark:

"Judging from the fact that no one writes to me about lovemaking on the screen, I can only suppose that the fans are apparently satisfied with the way love is registered on the silver sheet. Frankly, I am not. Lovemaking on the screen strikes the one blue note of production values. Here is the real point on which we fall flat and so far not one single fan has caught us napping.

"Nearly in every case hate is registered with force, fierce and real. In moments of fear we shrink, grow stiff, and I have even known one girl who controlled her emotions so well that she could make the perspiration pour from her brow in icy drops. That's fear.

"With hate, I have seen the poison darts flash from the eyes, the fingers open and close with vengeance and the chest fall in anger.

"But when it comes to making love, genuine dyed-in-the-wool, passionate love-making, we fail miserably. That's been my experience.

"Perhaps I'm a trifle exacting, or perhaps the fans like the style of love-making that just about reachs the real, but just falls short. As for myself, I believe the only kind of love that should be served to the hungry patrons is the kind that reflects two hearts in harmony, soulful, inspiring and real."

FRENCH FORTUNE TELLERS REAPING A GOLDEN HARVEST

ALL Paris runs after fortune-tellers, casters of horoscopes, clairvoyant girls and dwellers on the threshold.

It is a grand result of the war.

After believing in nothing, they begin to believe in everything; and cultivated people tell strange tales of innocent damsels and doddering crones, on whom they leaned for guidance or hope, among the blind risks and lugubrious complication of four years of bloody war in a directionless universe of blankety-blank science.

Tut, tut! Who could stand such a universe?

When the heart is torn it sees clearer and believes in direction. It prefers Mother Balbine to Professor De Dantec.

Mother Balbine is a strange old woman who lives in a very ancient house that leans worse than the Tower of Piasa, north of Notre Dame Cathedral. Half her clients were little working girls and cooks and chambermaids—with their hearts straining to the trenches; and the other half, by gum! are now the rich and great. All get the same treatment.

You ring. The door opens of itself. You mount one flight, and find that nobody lives there. The flat is empty, swept and garnished. Seven pale-faced boys take you by the hand and lead you up another flight. The door opens of itself. They usher you into the smallest room you ever saw.

And not a word has been pronounced. Those pale kids are horrid, and they disappear. You wait alone.

You wait for the most celebrated of the straight old-fashioned card-laying fortune-teller of Europe to send for you. Some say she is Italian. Much of this dope is Italian.

You ask Mother Balbine why the house is empty.

"I have taken a lease of all the floors," she says, "to keep it empty," she whispers. "I shut out vibrations, rapid emanations. All the world shrieks with them in the midst of what you think is silence. The soul is mobbed. But not here, where the rooms cut off the riot. Nobody lives here but myself and these dear orphans."

Then the idiot girl arrives. She's one of them.

A Sinister Quarter.

This house is built on ground of the Parvis, where folks were burned, broken on the wheel, maimed, dragged apart by four horses, or just quartered with an ax century after century. Half the French wizards of the Middle Ages lived around here. Nicolas Flamel's house was six doors up.

"You come for the great game?" whispers Mother Balbine; and when you say yes, the idiot girl hands her the pack. (The idiot girl looks real nice.) "An innocent," explains the strange dame, lowly. "She makes lace, and trains her pet blackbird to whistle 'Madelon.' She never reads; and I don't let her gossip. So her mind is an unruffled pond. Throw a stick in it, and you see the circles widen."

Instead, she throws a pack of cards on the floor, scattering them in great disorder. A boy—the ricketiest white faced orphan of the bunch—picks up diligently, and hands the pack to the girl. (How does he come there? I don't know. He is there.)

"Why, mother, don't you lay the cards yourself?" you ask.

"Hush! I used to do so," comes the silky answer. "Now I have too many interesting thoughts. This girl-child does better. Anyone can learn to read the cards. It has never been a secret. But where shall you find the docile hand moved by the empty and exquisitely receptive mind, which, having no thoughts, is not falsified by the messed emanations of a rioting subconscious world? You are dark and unmarried. (How did she know it?) Your card is the jack of clubs. If you were married, it would be the king. Blond men take the jack and king of hearts. Women, married or single, take the queen of hearts or diamonds when blonds and clubs or spades when brunettes. Cut with your left hand." (This cutting seems to be enormously important. It is all that you do, in the reading of your fortune. And she keeps you cutting all the time.)

The idiot girl lays the cards.

"Eight of spades, eight of diamonds, ten of diamonds," reads Mother Balbine. "Ten of diamonds, change of residence or a great voyage."

(Each time, the girl shuffles and lays them after you cut.)

"Nine of hearts, nine of diamonds, jack of hearts. A blond young man who is a good friend. One, two, three, four, five, six seven—ten of spades. Oh, my poor monsieur! A bad card. Tears, heart worries and sadness. Seven and eight of spades and queen of diamonds—a dangerous and talkative woman. King of clubs, queen of clubs, eight o clubs—money negotiations. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, the jack of hearts. The good blond young man again! You have a friend there. Here he comes a-running. Trust him!"

A Bad Card.

(You keep cutting, the idiot girl shuffling, and Dame Balbine reads 'em.)

"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven—the king of hearts. Another good young man who is blond, the change of residence, the news the crooked, dark young man. And as this Ma'am Balbine reads, she hits on happenings well known to you, weaving them into predictions that seem to be direct answers to vague questionings of your mind.

"Ten of diamonds, eight of spades, honest friend, but older. Your friends rush to your aid, monsieur! One, two, three, four, five, six seven, the jack of diamonds, a news-bringer. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, the jack of spades—a crooked, dark young man. Beware him."

And the queer thing is, you recognize them all—the talkative lady, the

It will be a pleasure trip, not business. King of clubs, ten of hearts—success will be due to a middle-aged, dark man. Jack of diamonds, ten of spades. You will not go to prison."

And, by gosh, you don't! And, after two weeks, when you do go unexpectedly to New York or Naples or elsewhere, on a trip that is certainly cultivated believers how they can put faith in the one system which has always been deemed the most vulgar and fraudulent, they answer much as Balzac did in his famous theory:

"To imagine that the past and future events of a man's life may be represented by the cards which he cuts, may be absurd; but it was as absurd that the wise of their day condemned the steam engine, the printing press, lithography and photography. (What might not Balzac add, now!)

"To predict the future events of a man's life from the way in which his hand unconsciously cuts a pack of cards is no more," continues the philosopher of the Comedie Humaine, "than to tell a soldier that he will fight, a lawyer that he will plead, or a shoemaker that he will make shoes.

"Take a striking example. Genius is so visible in a man, that when a great painter, composer or leader walks the street, the most ignorant know in some occult way, that it is a great personage who passes.

"That certain persons have the power to read, in the unconscious gestures of others, the germs of future causes, as a great inventor perceives an industry in some natural effect unperceived by the vulgar, may be due to some unknown faculty, in some way, the somnambulism of the mind."

All this was away before Charcot; and Charcot, when his time came, although he passed for a materialist, arrived at a lot of strange views of this kind, which he usually kept to himself.

About 30 years ago, the Royalist newspaper offices of Paris were plagued by a singular priest. He was strong on Nostradamus, a prophet of the Middle Ages who predicted what would happen to France. A great nobleman became interested, but all the same, as a preliminary, he had the party examined by Charcot—who asked him how he came to be the authoritative interpreter of Nostradamus.

"Nostradamus predicted my coming," he answered. "He speaks much of a certain Denys. Now, my name is Dennis, and when I was in the active ministry I was cure in the parish of St. Denis."

Shortly after, when out of the main predictions turned out, suddenly, all wrong, Charcot found the Abbe undiscouraged.

"The prophet had predicted my error," he said, and, turning to a page of the old Latin book, he pointed out the line: 'Denys shall say a thing which is not true.' "

"Now, can you beat it?" said the Comte de Paris. But Charcot told him to forget it.

"Your Abbe is only a shrewd lunatic," concluded Charcot. "He has nothing of the true seer."

"Why, do you believe in seers?" gasped the other.

Visionaires Are Ill.

"My dear friend," said Charcot, "the ordinary visionary is a sick person; but there are other beings, who live on the borderland and whose visions offer something quite peculiar to themselves, beyond the investigations of normal science."

"But," said the Count, "how can anyone see the future when it does not exist yet? As yet the future is nothing."

"A metaphysician might answer," said Charcot, "that there is nothing absolute in the idea of time—that it springs simply from the relations which exist between the diversity of phenomena and our intellect, which can not perceive them all together. The notion of time differs absolutely according to the notions of different beings.

"An insect which lives only a day might imagine that it had lived as long as a whale which attains 100 years. A dream which has lasted 10 minutes may have covered 10 years, according to the dreamer.
