B-29s Hit Enemy Capital, Says Unconfirmed Report

Commandos Edge Inland On Flooded Island

Enemy Resistance Heavy; Canadians Advance 3 Miles

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 1—British Commandos stormed ashore today on the southern and western coast of Walcheren island, and were making good progress tonight in a pincers drive to smash the last Germans barring the sea lane to Antwerp.

The seaborne forces landed as Canadians burst across the steel-torn causeway onto the eastern edge of the island, establishing a small beachhead there despite heavy Nazi resistance.

Commandos Go Inland

A dispatch from Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's headquarters declared the commandos were biting inland across the flooded island.

Berlin earlier said Allied amphibious forces had landed near Vlissingen (Flushing), Walcheren's biggest city, with strong aerial and naval protection.

The Berlin radio said tonight "German reconnaissance planes have observed a battleship of the King George class, four cruisers and numerous landing vessels, which indicates that other attempts on Walcheren are to follow."

Reinforcements Fighting

The official German news agency said the first wave of forces landing in Flushing harbor were wiped out, but reinforcements fought on the outskirts of the town.

"The enemy used about 50 to 60 landing boats," the announcement said.

The Canadians cut out a foothold several hundred yards deep on the eastern edge of the island, eight miles northeast of Vlissingen, after crossing the long, narrow causeway from conquered Beveland island under a hail of bullets and shells.

Nazi Resistance Weaker

Resistance on the south shore of the Schelde estuary weakened perceptibly, supreme headquarters said, and Canadians in a three-mile advance fought into the coastal village of Knocke. Perhaps less than 2,000 Germans remained in this pocket, southwest

Top U. S. Officials In China Moved In Effort To Aid War

COALITION SOUGHT
(By United Press)

Chinese Communists today sought the establishment of a coalition government in China in order to wage a united front war against Japan, according to a broadcast by the Communists' Yenan radio.

The broadcast, recorded by FCC, said the aims were contained in a letter sent to representatives of the official Kuomintang party at Chungking by a Communist spokesman who also demanded the dissolution of "one-party dictatorship" in China.

attempt to reinvigorate the Chinese war effort under leadership of Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek.

Doubt that the move will succeed is already apparent in military quarters here where strategists speak with less and less confidence about China's future war role.

Hope For Shakeup

Diplomats are still hopeful that Chiang may be induced to shake-up his government and army command and reconcile himself to the Communists in North China in order to strengthen his government. The whole issue within China should come to a head in the Kuomintang party's central executive committee the middle of this month.

Apparently to save what he can in line with American policy of building up China as a power now and a great postwar nation, President Roosevelt has made these moves thus far:

1. Recalled General Joseph W. Stilwell from his triple China-Burma-India command at the request of Chiang and replaced him with Maj. Gen. A. C. Wedemeyer.

Resignation Announced

2. Announced at yesterday's news conference the resignation of Ambassador Gauss. Close official associates of Gauss had said virtually up to the time of the an-

Enemy Troops Abandon Large Hungarian City

Reds In 44 Miles Of Budapest; Fight For City Begins

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Berlin radio said tonight that German and Hungarian troops had abandoned Kecskemet, fourth largest Hungarian city 44 miles from Budapest, and a Moscow dispatch said Russian tanks were clanking over the flat Hungarian plain within 40 miles of the capital.

The battle for Budapest is "reaching its climax," Berlin said. Cannon fire already has been reported audible in the twin cities of Buda and Pest, which lie on opposite banks of the Danube.

Earlier, Berlin acknowledged Russian breakthroughs on both sides of Kecskemet, an agricultural center in 83,000 which lies some 20 miles beyond the Tisza river, last water line before Budapest.

Finnish Area Liberated

Marshal Stalin tonight issued an order of the day announcing the complete liberation of the entire Petsamo region, which Finland ceded to Russia urider armistice terms. The region is one of the world's richest nickel regions and contains the port of Petsamo, taken last month.

Soviet tanks, artillery and infantry are pouring into a 60-mile wide break in the enemy's defenses between the Danube and the Tisza rivers, the dispatch added. At captured Izsak, 17 miles southwest of Kaskemet, the Russians were only 43 miles below Budapest.

The army newspaper Red Star disclosed that the new offensive

Tight Blockade Put On Japs On Leyte

Torpedo Boats, Fighter Planes Break Up Attempt To Reinforce Japs On Island

BY WILLIAM B. DICKINSON
United Press War Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Nov. 1. — American torpedo boats and fighter planes clamped a tight air-sea blockade on the west coast of Leyte today, wrecking Japanese barges and luggers attempting to run reinforcements across the Camotes sea from Cebu for a last stand against American invasion forces.

(Radio Algiers said the Japanese have declared martial law in Manila.)

Carrier-based planes destroyed or damaged 20 barges at Ormoc, the enemy's last remaining stronghold on Leyte, yesterday, while torpedo boats blasted two luggers to the bottom of Ormoc bay and also sank two lighters in Surigao strait off the south coast of Leyte.

Final Stand Foreseen

It is at Ormoc, west coast sea and air base, that the Japanese are expected to make their final stand on Leyte in an attempt to delay the American liberation of the Philippines.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported his ground forces were continuing their advance up the Leyte valley "unchecked." Units of the 24th division driving toward a junction with the First cavalry corps on the north coast were only eight miles below the port of Carigara.

On the central sector, 24th corps patrols probed westward along mountain trails crossing the waist of the island. Enemy units near Dagami, 10 miles inland, were surrounded and destroyed, while the mopup of Japanese positions in the caves of Catmon hill was nearing completion.

Yanks Consolidating

"Behind the front lines," MacArthur said, "our forces are consolidating and establishing intermediate bases made necessary by the rapidity of our advance. Mopping-up of small, scattered enemy parties and snipers is in progress."

Eleven enemy planes were shot down during small-scale attacks on American positions and shipping.

(A Tokyo broadcast said Japanese planes "uninterruptedly carried out repeated violent attacks" on Leyte bay, causing "enormous damage to installations." There still were more than 30 American warships and more than 60 transports in Leyte bay yesterday, though the major portion of the transports already had been hit severely, the broadcast said.)

(A Domei broadcast reported by the FCC said Japanese planes sank a cruiser in "an effective raid against the enemy war vessels in Leyte gulf" early this morning.)

Reconquest Of Burma Is Seen

Drive Planned By Stilwell

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The author of the following dispatch recently returned to New York on leave after covering all phases of the Far Eastern campaign. He accompanied Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell on his retreat from Burma in 1942. The dispatch has been approved by censorship authorities in Washington).

BY DARRELL BERRIGAN
United Press War Writer

Following the recall of Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, American, British and Chinese troops have opened a drive which may lead eventually to the reoccupation of all of Burma.

The drive, planned before Stilwell left the CBI theater, is under the overall command of Lord Louis Mountbatten.

Stilwell's aides who planned the operation appear to have as their initial objective the clearing of a road to China. Opening of the campaign which coincided with the return of dry weather after the monsoon season was announced yesterday by Mountbatten's headquarters in Kandy.

May Be Major Thrust

Some India observers believe the campaign may develop into a major attempt to regain the whole of the British colony.

The Allied push southward toward Katha, on the west side of the Irriwaddy river, and Bhamo on the east side, will, if successful, drive the Japanese far to the south. This would permit a further offensive eastward to meet Chinese troops now moving down the old Burma road from the Salween.

The push also may continue farther southward to connect up with British troops cleaning the Japanese out of the central Indo-Burma mountains. Military observers in India believe that such a development is in the cards for this dry season and predict that an Allied army will be operating on the Central Burma plains before the monsoon rains slow military operations next May.

Chinese Push Southward

Connected with the operations along the Irriwaddy river are the activities of the Chinese Salween forces, who, with Stilwell's Amer-

Radio Lectures Tokyo Residents On Fire Danger

(By The Associated Press)

The Japanese radio said Superfortress raided Tokyo today and evidently started panics in some part of the enemy capital. There was no Allied confirmation of the reports. The U. S. War department said it had no information on any such operations.

Some factories in the raided area "lost their calmness," the enemy broadcasts said.

A Tokyo domestic broadcast, one of several picked up by the Federal Communications commission, told the Japanese people that "no matter what happens in the future, the determination to render your service and defend the imperial land with the air defense fighting spirit must be further strengthened."

Lectures Public

He lectured his public about taking fire precautions in future raids "because Japanese homes burn easily."

The reports agreed that the planes passed over the Tokyo metropolitan area. One version said they also appeared over Yokohama. Another reported that "several tens of large-type planes twice raided Truk island."

Assuming the reports were substantially correct, it was the first time American planes had raided the Japanese capital in more than two years. The other occasion was the epic bombing of Tokyo by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle April 18, 1942.

All the reports neglected to say whether the raiders dropped bombs.

Reports Confused

In a series of confused reports Tokyo radio said a B-29 apparently from a newly developed base in the Marianas islands appeared over the capital but left "without attempting attacks;" that several four engined planes were over the city; that at least one plane raided a factory district throwing workers into confusion.

The reports all agreed that an enemy plane or planes were over the Tokyo area around 1 p. m.

Nazis Evacuate Grecian Port

ROME, Nov. 1 (AP)—The German high command announced today its forces had evacuated Salonika, principal Balkan seaport and second city of Greece.

Allied headquarters disclosed earlier that British patrols had reached the city, which had a population of 240,000 before the war. A pall of smoke has hung over Salonika several days as the Germans carried out demolitions there.

"Disengagement Move"

The Germans said "Salonika was evacuated in the course of our disengagement movements in the Balkans, unimpeded by the enemy."

The communique was broadcast by the Berlin radio.

Salonika lies less than 50 miles from the borders of Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.

Pressure is being maintained by Allied forward patrols against the enemy rearguards north of Kozane, the headquarters communique said. British troops and Greek guerrillas pushing the Germans out of Greece were last reported within seven miles of the Yugoslav border in this sector.

Previous advices indicated the Germans had engaged in extensive demolitions in Salonika, approximately 70 miles northeast of Kozane. An estimated 10,000 Nazis out of a force of 25,000 were said to be left in Salonika.

HOUSTON, Nov. 1 (U.P.)—Some 600 discharged veterans of World War II are "making good" in a rehabilitation program at Todd-Houston Shipbuilding Corp., here, it was announced today.

The men, who work under a medically-discharged Army lieutenant, are given jobs suitable to their particular handicaps.

Company officials say the program is "working splendidly."

Political Meet Here To Be 'Open Forum'

Lubbock county women Texas Regulars, who had planned a political rally Thursday at 8 o'clock in the district courtroom, second floor of the courthouse, have thrown it into an open forum and are inviting every one, Democrats, Republicans and Texas Regulars, it was announced this morning.

The meeting will be preceded by a 15-minute program given by the Drugstore Cowboys.

Miss Joyce Halsey will introduce Mrs. R. G. Porter, women's chairman of the Texas Regulars, who will introduce E. L. Klett, attorney and Lubbock county leader of the Texas Regulars. Keynoters are to be two other attorneys, George W. Dupree and James O. Cade. After their talks, the meeting will take the form of an open forum with Dupree serving as mediator.

The women's meeting was changed to a public forum after a number of men had expressed a wish to see how Lubbock women would participate in a political gathering.

Cigaret Shortage Hits 'Rock Bottom' Throughout Nation

(By The United Press)

The cigaret shortage hit rock-bottom across the country today and United Press reporters in major cities found it virtually impossible to buy popular brands or, in some cities, any cigarets at all.

A United Press reporter in Atlanta asked for cigarets in 19

SHORTAGE AT PEAK HERE

Lubbock tobacco wholesalers and retailers say the shortage of cigarets has been more acute the last week than at any time since the beginning of the war. Retailers here receive allotments once or twice each week. Some prefer to sell out their entire supply at one time; others prefer to put out only a few for sale each day.

stores in the business district and found none.

A tour of Chicago's loop turned up a few packs of the not so well known brands, but no popular ones.

In 14 stores along Manhattan's 42nd street, the heart of New York, two had a few packs of Camels and Chesterfields, eight had no cigarets of any kind, and the rest had tiny stocks of less well known brands.

"No Cigarets Today"

In San Francisco, "no cigarets today" signs were being displayed by cigar stores through all of the bay area.

Boston merchants said the shortage never had been so severe. They had few cigarets of any kind.

Paradoxically, a reporter in Columbia, S. C., bought three cartons—cartons, not packs—of a well known brand from a merchant who never had seen him before. The merchant had plenty of cigarets.

Black Market Flourishing

A high executive of one of "the big five" of cigaret manufacturers told the United Press that a flourishing and growing black market was at least partly responsible. It starts with the jobbers who use to sell to sub-jobbers in a competitive field that kept prices low, he said. Now, knowing they can get almost any price they ask, some jobbers are selling to night clubs and to saloons and direct to retailers, this executive continued.

"Their price per case used to be $72.", he said. "Now it runs from

Unidentified Youth Killed Near Houston

HOUSTON, Nov. 1. (U.P.) — The identify of a youth, about 19, who was killed late last night when struck by an automobile, had not been established today.

The well-groomed youth had no identification papers on his person. His face was partially torn away, his legs were mangled and several ribs were broken when a car driven by a negro, Albert August, struck him on the Old Spanish trail.

Salvation Army Drive Is Started Today

The Salvation Army campaign to raise $10,000 in Lubbock got underway this morning with an enthusiastic breakfast meeting in Hilton hotel of more than 25 local workers.

Simultaneous with the launching of the drive came announcement that $1,450 already has been subscribed.

Morris Levine, chairman of Lubbock Salvation Army Advisory board, introduced Maj. Bernard C. Morris, public relations secretary from Dallas, who outlined work of the Army in wartime and instructed campaign workers.

He described Red Shield service centers operated by the Salvation Army and work of United Service organizations. Explaining the 40 per cent increase in this year's budget, Maj. Morris pointed out that one-half will go to maintenance of Lubbock Citadel and its work, while the other half will go for post-war building and expansion needs. Ten per cent of subscriptions will be used in international work of the organization.

The Salvation Army he described as a "religious organization with a social aim."

Guests at the breakfast included Mrs. W. L. Hester, Mrs. Fay Westmoreland, Harrell Keathley, Sam Leifeste, Maj. and Mrs. Damon Nichols (Lubbock Salvation Army leaders) and Miss Nichols; Lt. Martin A. Mayer, public relation officer at South Plains Army Air field; H. D. Woods, Dr. A. T. Stewart, Mrs. J. T. Hutchinson, J. H. Murdough, A S. Meinecke, H. G. Denman, A. C. Lamp, S. T. Camp, Irving L. FDR Planning Final Strategy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (U.P.) — President Roosevelt today mapped strategy for a driving finish against Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate, in the closing rounds of the 1944 presidential campaign.

Mr. Roosevelt planned to devote most of the day to finishing and polishing the radio address he makes from Washington tomorrow night. He also delivers four speeches Saturday in a brief tour of Connecticut and Massachusetts, and several impromptu talks on Monday in a tour of his home territory in the Hudson valley.

The President's Saturday night speech in Fenway park, Boston, is expected to be a bare-knuckled blast at Dewey in keeping with Mr. Roosevelt's custom of saving his heaviest ammunition for the closing days of a campaign.

FDR's Backers Confident

Mr. Roosevelt's advisers were increasingly confident of his victory, largely because of the reception given him in visits to New York, Pennsylvania and that with these states in the fourth term column, a Dewey victory would be virtually impossible.

The President yesterday attempted to remove one issue of the campaign by jesting away reports that contributors to the Democrats' "Thousand Dollar club" would have special influence in Washington. He said the idea of such a club started last summer.

A party of people, he said, were talking with him—presumably

Rep. Kleberg Casts Ballot For Dewey

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP) — Rep. Richard M. Kleberg, Texas Democrat, said today he had cast an absentee ballot for Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican presidential candidate.

Kleberg said he was opposed to a fourth term for President Roosevelt and to the "the host of petty tyrants" who, he said, serve in government bureaus and agencies. The representative was defeated for renomination in the Texas Democratic primary aftr serving in the House since the fall of 1931.

Kleberg made his views known in a letter to E. M. Dealey, president of the Dallas News.

Texas-Produced Gas Supplying Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1 (U.P.) — Texas-produced natural gas was flowing today through the longest 24-inch pipeline in the world to this heavily industrialized area where gas shortages in the past have resulted in plant shutdowns.

Traversing seven states, the 1265-mile length of pipe was built at a cost of $54,000,000, involving approximately 25,000,000 man-hours, and was completed after overcoming many engineering difficulties.

Fighting against time and nature, engineers finished the line in record-breaking time. The first pipe was welded on Jan. 10 of this year, and the final tie-in weld was made Monday on the east side of the Buffalo river, Perry county, Tenn.

To save every possible hour, engineers kept the line "packed" with gas held at 800 pounds pressure as they went along, resulting in gas pouring from the line's terminus almost immediately after the last weld was made. "Packing" saved the six days required for gas to travel through the line.

Gas is supplied the Tennessee Gas & Transportation Co., of Chicago, by reserves it owns or controls in Texas in excess of two trillion cubic feet.

'Two-Bit' Bet Could Cost President His Right To Vote

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 1. (AP)—President Roosevelt, a New Yorker, who laughingly told Washington newspapermen yesterday that he had made a "two-bit" bet on the outcome of next Tuesday's voting in an unidentified state, really started something.

A few hours earlier Nathanial L. Goldstein, attorney-general of New York, issued a more or less routine pre-election warning that New York voters could be denied a ballot if they bet on the election.

The White House last week announced the President, as usual, expected to cast his ballot at his Hyde Park, N. Y., home.

Mr. Roosevelt, as almost everybody knows, is a Democrat. Mr. Goldstein is a Republican.

Today the attorney-general was reported "out of his office." His assistants declined public comment, beyond citing the voting law quoted yesterday by Goldstein.

Law Resigns A. & M. Post

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (U.P.) — Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today appointed Erwin W. Harrison of South Bend, Tex., as a member of the A. and M. college board of directors, succeeding F. M. Law, Houston, resigned, and also named Dr. C. O. Terrell, Fort Worth, to succeed the late Dr. K. H. Aynesworth, Waco, as a member of the University of Texas board of regents.

Law's resignation was handed to Governor Stevenson yesterday when the Houston banker and 28-year member of the A. and M. board of directors called at the governor's office. For 22 years of the 28 he has been on the board, Law has been its president.

Figured In Controversy

He was head of the board during the recent controversy with Former Pres. T. O. Walton of the college—in fact, his re-appointment to the latest term on the board was at request of Walton, Governor Stevenson said.

In resigning, Law pleaded his other duties and reported that A. and M. controversies have been "worked out in a highly satisfactory manner."

The term to which Harrison, a farmer and rancher, was appointed runs to Jan. 10, 1949. He is an ex-student of A. and M., class of 1913.

Due To Be Re-Appointed

The term to which Dr. Terrell was named expires Jan. 10, 1945, but Governor Stevenson said it would be a reasonable conclusion that he will be re-appointed then for a six-year term.

Dr. Terrell is head of the medical alumni of the University of Texas. He is 56, was born in Eastland, lived for a time in Ranger and has been in Fort Worth for the past 18 years.

Stevenson said he had not been active on either side in University of Texas disputes, so far as he knew. Dr. Terrell would be eligible by taking the oath of office to participate in the university regents' present discussions at Houston but was in Fort Worth, the governor said.

Fifteenth Air Force, One Year Old Today, Has Great Record

15TH AIRFORCE HEADQUARTERS, Italy, Nov. 1. (AP)—Just one year ago, the 15th Air force was activated as a strategic long range bomb group; today all the folks gathered 'round to marvel at how the child has grown.

The 15th was weaned on Ploesti oil, and enemy factories and railroads. It cut its teeth on 5,624 Luftwaffe planes wiped out in the air and on the ground.

Altogether, the 15th has sprayed close to 200,000 tons of bombs over the Balkans, Germany, Greece, Austria, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Poland and France.

Hundreds of enemy locomotives and railway cars have been blown up; 15 per cent of the Axis ball-bearing manufacture has been wiped out; Nazi plane production is short because of the hammering of the heavies on Austrian, Yugoslavian, southern German and Hungarian assembly lines.

Dewey Denies Administration Able To Create Jobs For Vets

EN ROUTE WITH DEWEY To Boston, Nov. 1 (AP)—Welcomed to Massachusetts by Gov. Leverett Saltonstall, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey told a station crowd at Pittsfield today that the present Democratic administration does not have "even the understanding of how to create jobs for returning veterans of the war."

Carrying his campaign to New England for the first time, the Republican nominee spoke to a crowd estimated by Police Chief John J. Sullivan at 4,000 in the first of three stops on the way to Boston.

He will make a nationally-broadcast address there tonight in which he is expected to attack the Congress of the Industrial Organizations' Political Action committee and the "One Thousand club."

Two Other Stops

The Dewey special train also was scheduled to stop at Springfield and Worcester for brief talks by the candidate.

Paul E. Lockwood, the governor's secretary, told reporters the GOP presidential nominee would "discuss the question of who will outbid the One Thousand club for control of the Democratic party" in his talk to be broadcast (NBC)

Lubbock Man Going Back To His Native China For Service

Edward F. Pilley, China-born consulting engineer, has returned to China to serve in the Office of Strategic Services, which operates under the joint staff of the Army and Navy.

Pilley, whose home is at 2007 Thirty-first, is a "civilian officer," his officer's uniform bearing only a simple sleeve badge of "U. S."

Mrs. Pilley, who as Miss Katherine Tanner taught at the Hunt school and who now teaches in Roscoe Wilson school, said her husband had "not been allowed to explain much; he did six weeks of training this summer, but was allowed to say only that he was in Washington, D. C., for the course. I'd imagine his duties would have something to do with civil engineering, however."

Mr. and Mrs. Pilley have an 11-year-old son, Edward, jr., a seventh grade student here.

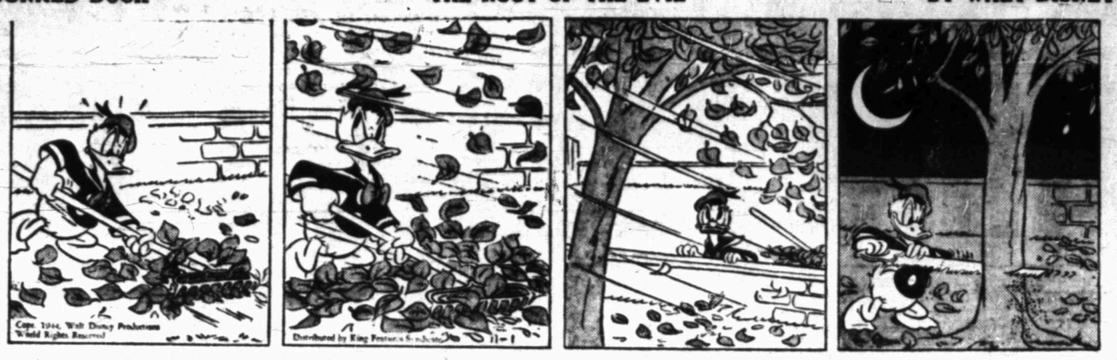

Pilley was born in Huchow, China, of Methodist missionaries, in 1906. Until 1926, he had spent only two years in America, when his parents took furloughs. He attended Shanghai American schools; registered at Washington and Lee university where he took his B. S. degree in civil engineering in 1930; spent 10 years as an engineer with the Texas Highway department, and was a civil engineer at Wichita Falls approximately three years, resigning to seek voluntary war service after a slight physical defect barred active duty with the armed services.

"He has wished to return to China several years; he feels there is much opportunity there for young men," Mrs. Pilley said. "He loves Chinatoo. A brother, a missionary teacher in China, has resigned and is serving there with military intelligence. We'll probably move to China after the war."

General Ent is at Brooks general hospital in San Antonio, recovering from a serious accident.

General Williams was a bomber command general with the Second Air force in its formative stage. He is a native of Albany, Texas, and has been in the Army Air forces since he was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1923 after graduation from Texas A. and M. with a degree in civil engineering.

Complete List Of Used Cars Must Be Posted

DALLAS, Nov. 1 (U.P.)—Effective Sunday, all used automobile dealers will be required to post a complete list of all vehicles held for sale on a sign at least 18x24 inches in a conspicuous place, the district Office of Price administration said today.

The move was taken in order to inform the public of the dealers' stock and to counteract actions of some dealers in withholding some of their better grade cars for the select trade.

Committee Studies Box Car Shortage

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1 (AP)—A shortage of box cars—serious problem for the grain trade—is being studied by a committee composed of Sen. Clyde M. Reed of Kansas, Walter R. Scott, secretary of the Kansas City Board of Trade, and Walter Holloway, secretary of the Kansas-Missouri River Mills association.

The committee started work Saturday studying reports from all the Class 1 railroads in the country as to the number of box cars available and their locations.

With the heavy movements of grain sorghums and rice in the south, wheat in the northwest and corn and soybeans in the middlewest, coupled with the heaviest military demands since the start of the war, grain men and flour interests have asked the committee to look into the serious situation.

"The shortage of box cars is more serious than we first thought," Senator Reed said.

Last Saturday 5,111 cars were needed for loading grain and the railroads were able to supply only 2,101. Elevators in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas have been forced to close down on account of the inability to obtain cars to ship out the wheat and bring in other grains."

Government Prepared To Settle Contracts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — The government is prepared to settle 20 billion dollars worth of war contract terminations after V-E day without delaying reconversion, Director Robert H. Hinckley of the Office of Contract Settlement reported today.

Most of the cancellations will come within three months after German collapse, Hinckley said in a report to Congress.

"This represents at least one-third of the outstanding war production program and equals approximately all terminations to date," a summary preceding the report stated. "V-E day cutbacks will release manpower and productive facilities from war production for other uses. Prompt settlement of terminated contracts will speed the shift to civilian production.

"Experience with contract settlement shows that the challenge of mass terminations can be met."

To date, 37,000 prime contracts, covering items valued at 21 billion dollars, have been cancelled by the Army, Navy and Maritime commission.

Pioneer Oil Man Dies In Ft. Worth Tuesday

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1 (AP) — William Austin Tunstill, sr., 68, a pioneer oil field developer who had holdings in 53 Texas counties and had participated in the development of every major field in the state except in the Gulf coast area, died at a hospital here Tuesday after an illness of 24 hours.

A former rancher at Cisco, Tunstill moved to Big Spring in 1904 where as an early day alderman he helped give that place its start toward development into a modern city.

Tunstill drilled his first well near Big Spring in 1912, one of the first such ventures in West Texas, abandoning it when the drill reached 1500 feet without striking oil and a tornado blew the rig down.

Near the end of the last war he made a strike in the Desdemona field and assembled acreage for the first well in the McCamey pool. He also financed the first oil well, a dry hole, drilled in Winkler county. He participated in the big oil booms at Ranger, Breckenridge, Mexia, Borger and other places.

Sergeant Out-Yorks York—

Military Pied Piper Becomes Hero By Making Wrong Turn

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AMERICAN FIRST ARMY IN GERMANY, Oct. 22. (Delayed) (AP) — Sgt. Thomas J. Gibbons had no intention of out-Yorking Sgt. York. He certainly had no idea he ever would capture 500 Germans singlehanded.

This military Pied Piper from Elmhurst, N. Y., became one of the heroes of his division — the famous fighting first infantry—by simple and unromantic error. He simply made a wrong turn in the road.

Gibbons was redballing down a road in a captured German vehicle thinking of everything except the enemy when he absent-mindedly took a wrong fork. He was jolted rudely out of his day dream by coming face to face with a 50-odd ton Tiger tank and 15 Jerry soldiers.

Is Given Third Degree

The New York lad became a prisoner and his captors marched him off to their headquarters for a third degree.

But Gibbons didn't know anything.

"Search me," he said when they asked him what unit he was from.

"I don't know—I just work here," he told them when they wanted to know what American forces were then attacking in that sector.

Disgusted, they dispatched him toward their rear lines. But here his captors ran into difficulty themselves. For they no longer had any rear. They had been encircled and what had been their rear was just another front now.

Search For Escape Route

Frantically they began searching for an escape route. American artillery pocked the fields around them. American planes whined down to strafe at them and then stab again into the sky.

Gibbons immediately went to work on an escape plan. He got a German soldier to talk two guards into helping him.

At the first chance the two German soldiers killed two other German guards and Gibbons took charge. The raced across a field leading other prisoners and such German soldiers as were met and overpowered on the way.

He headed for a distant hill, but looking back, he noticed that his little army was growing steadily in size—and that the addition in personnel was all German.

"Just Kept Going"

"I didn't know whether we were being followed or chased—but I just kept going," he said.

What was happening was that as he passed through the field little groups of hopelessly surrounded German soldiers just tagged on to his "army," thinking it the safest way for them to surrender.

Reaching the American lines, Gibbons convinced the outpost that he was an American and that there was no trick behind this arrival en masse. When he turned over his group of prisoners he found the number had increased from the original 22 to just over 500.

Crude Oil Subsidy Payments Extended

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (U.P.) — Crude oil subsidy payments were extended today to cover all "high-cost" wells where production costs run higher than ceiling prices and yet where the cost of production is not out of line with the quantity produced.

Earlier the Office of Price administration authorized price increases ranging from 20 to 35 cents a barrel for the output of "stripper" wells—those producing less than nine barrels daily. The increases are paid by the first purchaser of the oil who in turn is reimbursed by the Defense Supplies corporation in the form of a subsidy.

Today's OPA order extends the previous subsidies to oil pools with daily acreage production of nine or more barrels per day providing that (1) because of certain high cost factors the ceiling price of a particular pool is below the average cost of production and (2) that the cost of production is not cut of proportion to the output obtainable.

Prizes Given In Parade Here

Thousands of persons viewed a colorful, noisy Hallowe'en parade Tuesday night in downtown Lubbock, first-place honors being carried off by a group of small children representing Carlisle, Wagner and Burns parks.

Adjudged second best unit entry was the Junior High school "Mugs," and students from Booker T. Washington placed third.

Dan Davis of Junior High, wearing a huge "goon head" was awarded a $25 war bond first prize in the costume contest conducted after the parade at Central Ward school. Grade school student David Ruthledge was second, Warren White of Booker T. Washington, third, and Estelle Nunos of Guadalupe, third. A prize of one dollar each was given to 18 other winners.

Jaycees Sponsor Winner

The first place parade winner was sponsored by the Lubbock Jaycees, second by the Optimist club and third by the Negro recreation council.

Parade judges were Mayor O. W. Ribble, Mrs. Mable Chapman and Carroll Thompson. Costume judges were B. Sherrod, Mrs. L. L. Miller and Mrs. James G. Allen.

Family and community gatherings held sway throughout the city. The new civic youth center, Sixteenth and Ave. J, was the scene of a gay party for teenagers. At Hub Homes approximately 300 people attended a bingo party at the administration building.

Carnival At Becton

A carnival was held at the Becton school for benefit of the War Chest, but the amount of money raised was not announced.

A Hallowe'en dance at the Lubbock USO was attended by approximately 500 people, Miss Leona Gelin, director, announced.

The younger set got in a few mischievous licks Tuesday night but had kept their actions on the quiet side. There was the usual run of Hallowe'en pranks.

Youngsters blocked a southwest Lubbock street with barrels and boxes. They were removed by police. Several fire hydrants were turned on and one false alarm was given firemen. Police were given a report that youngsters were throwing rocks at a house. The pranksters had fled when police reached the scene.

PART OF KIDS' MISCHIEF RECORDED BY POLICE

This much of the kids' observance of Hallowe'en found its way to offciial records, police said: A wagon was left in the street at Broadway and College; shrubbery was uprooted on Arnett; cars "threw oil on people at the dance," on Nineteenth west of Senior High school; boys "marked cars with soap" at 2514 Twenty-fourth; chairs were taken from a porch at 2219 Fifteenth; a fire hydrant was turned on at Seventh and Ave. W; rocks were tossed at a house at 1312 Eighth; barrels and boxes were piled in the street before 1922 Ninth; signs at filling stations throughout the city were overturned; a "Board and Room" sign had not reappeared this morning at 1704 Ave. J. The sheriff's department and police said numerous garbage barrels were overturned, and some "disappeared." But there was no appreciable damage." All agreed to that.

RABBIT PROVES WORTH

DALLAS, Nov. 1 (AP) — Chinchilla rabbits apparently have something besides expensive furs. When an 80-pound dog attacked his chinchilla rabbit, Johnny Cayton of Dallas said the rabbit fought back, bit the dog on the neck, and then chased it down the street.

WHERE GERMANS HOLD U. S. WAR PRISONERS—The map above, prepared from American Red Cross data, shows locations of all camps and hospitals in the Reich and Poland holding five or more American prisoners of war or civilian internees. In addition a few Americans are held in a camp in Bulgaria, and hundreds of others, formerly held in northern Italy, have been transferred to Germany. "Stalag" indicates enlisted prisoners' camp; "Oflag" one for officers; and "Laz" is abbreviation for lazaret or hospital.

Gilliland, Deputy Marshal, Resigns

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 1 (AP) — Resignation of Ralph Gilliland, U. S. deputy marshal for eight years, and appointment of John A. Tilley of El Paso as successor was announced here today by U. S. Marshal Guy McNamara.

Gilliland resigned to become brand inspector for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association with headquarters here.

Tilley became a deputy marshal in August after 18 years with the U. S. customs service, working between El Paso and Brownsville.

Franco Government Attacked By Paper

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP) — The Communist Daily Worker bitterly attacked Generalissimo Francisco Franco's government today, as Madrid dispatches disclosed that Spain will send a special envoy to Paris tomorrow to complete arrangements for formal Spanish recognition of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's French government.

The Daily Worker asserted Franco's regime "could not survive without constant backing from abroad."

WOMAN IS SENTENCED

DALLAS, Nov. 1 (AP) — A 14-year penitentiary sentence was given Mrs. Anna Bell Turner by a jury in criminal district court here yesterday on charges of assault with intent to murder after it heard testimony that a bullet from her pistol grazed Mrs. Dora Turner's neck following a shooting in a Dallas cafe last August.

Guerrilla Forces In Spain Are Increasing

PARIS, Nov. 1. (AP)—Republican guerrillas now hold the Aran valley in northern Spain near the French border and throughout Spain hundreds of republican Maquis cells are forming in answer to a call for national insurrection, Spanish exiles of divergent political views declared here today.

Frontier reports to Republican groups in France said the guerrillas were holding the valley despite Madrid's claims that republican resistance to regular army forces had been mopped up in that area. They said also that Franco's troops in border towns had shot "a great number" and captured and imprisoned other republican leaders.

Dietrich Kisses GI's Until It Hurts—Head

PARIS, Nov. 1 (AP) — Marlene Dietrich has been kissing soldiers until it hurts—her forehead.

The actress, now giving USO performances before the 35th infantry division, got so bruised by the helmets of the eager G.I.'s that she finally had it issue a central "hats off" request to the osculation hounds, the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes, reported.

Have a Coca-Cola = Going our way?

...or meeting a comrade in Northwest Canada

Friendship comes easy to allies devoted to common causes and borders without guns. Have a "Coke", says the Yank sergeant to the Canadian mountie, and he's talking a lingo of friendship that both understand. That's the informal North American way to say Greetings, friend. It's the same informal way to put friends at ease in your own living room, too. From the Yukon to the Gulf, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—a symbol of a friendly way to get along with folks.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke"s

Erratic driving proves so inefficient in Wartime that it's no longer favored anytime.

Deftness is the style in motoring. Tactics like swooping in and out of line seem wasted, when the little coupe—from miles behind—presently shows up anyway in the "thrill-driver's" mirror.

That's skill—making a steady good average; not leaping and bounding to make it up. You'll show still greater regard for dutiful mechanism by having your engine OIL-PLATED—internally surfaced to resist corrosion by the unavoidable acids of combustion.

Changing to Conoco Nth motor oil will automatically give you an OIL-PLATED engine. Costly pioneer research created the special Conoco Nth ingredient that gives this popular-priced oil its magnet-like action. And that's what joins OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces, as if to stay.

Acids stay too, these days—infesting every cylinder in unreasonable quantities. Former chances of ousting corrosive acids are decreased these days by low engine temperatures—longer stretches of standing cold—mileage limitations of any kind. But you can keep your engine's fine inner finish under cover of protective OIL-PLATING—resisting corrosion! Just change to Conoco Nth motor oil at Your Mileage Merchant's. Continental Oil Company

Music Clubs At Convention

The role of the federated music clubs of Texas in providing entertainment at veterans hospitals was discussed at the 20th annual convention of the seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, this morning at Hotel Lubbock. Mrs. Charles M. Holt of Amarillo presided.

Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, president of the TFMC, was to be a speaker at the luncheon.

Interspersing the business sessions were musical numbers furnished by representative clubs in the district. Lubbock Music club and Allegro Music club are convention hostesses.

LaJune Kinard Is Married

Miss LaJune Kinard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Kinard, route 3, and 1st. Lt. Raymond B. McReynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McReynolds of Chickasha, Okla., were married Monday night at the home of the bride's parents with Chaplain Howard A. Long reading a double ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a soldier blue two piece crepe suit and carried a handkerchief for something borrowed, belonging to Miss Edith Noey. Her corsage was of white roses. She was attended by Miss Noey, maid of honor, who wore a purple crepe dress trimmed with sequins. Her corsage was of tailsman roses.

Best man was Lt. Edwin Lamb of Altus Army Air field.

Mrs. M. H. Kinard, jr., organist, played the tradional wedding marches and Mrs. Ed Wilson sang "I Love You Truly."

A wedding reception followed the ceremony and the couple was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Kinard, Mrs. C. B. McReynolds and Joyce McReynolds.

A center piece of roses and a lace cloth was on the refreshment table and a two tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and soldier was served.

Mrs. Kinard wore a black crepe suit with a corsage of pink carnations and Mrs. McReynolds wore a black crepe dress with a pink carnation corsage.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Raymond Hefner of Tipton, Okla., Mrs. Joe Rooch of Anton and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rooch.

The bride graduated from Lubbock High school and is employed at SPAAF by Southwestern Bell Telephone company. The bridegroom graduated from Frederick, Okla. High school. He recently returned from the India and Burma theater after 18 months service as a fighter pilot. Lt. McReynolds will report to Miami Beach, Fla., following his leave.

Hallowe'en Parties Given To Observe Age-Honored Customs

Hallowe'en, youngsters' favorite party time, found hundreds of men, women and children observing beloved old American customs of black-magic and "fixins' black cats, pumpkin jack-o-lanterns and orange crepe paper streamers.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Earles on east Broadway was the scene of a Hallowe'en party given for children and attended by eighty guests. Costumes were judged by Mrs. Paul Felty, J. G. Hufstedler and C. M. Price and Betty Jane Morris won first prize.

After games, refreshments were served.

Grown-ups present were Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Earles, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pecks, Mrs. George Fugett, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Legg and Miss Betty Jean Hill.

The Girl Scout Little House has been the scene of a number of Hallowe'en parties.

Monday afternoon six girls grom Troop 12, Bean school received their pins and the troop celebrated its third birthday. Girls receiving their pins were: Sandra Boydston, Leattrice Stone, Myrtle Wooten, Patricia Bailey, Jackie Lowry and Peggy Allen. Mothers present were Mesdames C. B. Boydston, G. W. Stone, O. B. Haynes, C. W. Reasonover, V. R. West, and Mesdames W. A. Beisell and J. S. Hollingsworth, leaders of Troop 12. Miss Mary Margaret Webb of Seagraves was a guest. Josie Bolen is president of the troop and Nancy Hollingsworth is secretary.

Monday evening girls of Troop 33, Dupre school had a Hallowe'en party at the Little House. After several Hallowe'en games, refreshments of cocoa and cookies and apples were served. Girls present were: Betty Jean East, Tommy Wynn, Patsy Logan, La Fon Edwards, Patsy Ruth Crites, Olla Mae Pierce, Wanda Jean La Fon, Betty June Deal, Patsy Haynes, Kay Campbell, Marva Ruth Chapman, Grace Ann Morris, Mary Bowron, Marian Gill, Wanda Roberts, Mary Beth Hill and Margaret Marquart. Mrs. J. B. Crites and Mrs. Elmer East, leaders, were assisted by Mesdames F. Haynes, C. O. Campbell and O. B. La Fon, troop mothers.

On Saturday evening Troop 2 with Mrs. C. R. Cagle had a party. Decorations included festoons of orange and black crepe paper hanging from the ceiling with witches, cats and bats at the windows and doors. Various Halloween games were played and refreshments of cocoa, doughnuts and popcorn balls were served. Girls present were: Betty Jo Gilliland, Thelma Cantrell, Dixie McGehee, Marilyn Swanson, Patricia Norton, Virginia Ann Butler, Patsy Smith, Dorothy Rountree, Betty Rountree, Carolyn Bledsoe, Alice Qualia, Romonda McMillan, Billie Catherine Weiss, Sylvia Winder, Maxine Boyd, Betty Louise Formby, Mary Ann Holt and Marcia Rogers, a guest. Mrs. Cagle was assisted by Mesdames C. B. Qualia, B. T. Formby and Frank McMillan.

Personals

Mrs. Peggy Wolfenden left today for her home in Fort Worth after visiting a week in the home of her fiance, seaman 1/c Joseph H. Boyd, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Boyd, 2705 Twenty-second. Mr. Boyd is leaving this afternoon for the West Coast and further assignment.

Misses Sue Standefer, Pat Fain and Carol Krueger have returned to Austin where they are students in the University of Texas, after spending the time between semesters in Lubbock.

Capt. and Mrs. J. P. Watt, jr., and son, Tommy, of Childress Army Air field and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Watt of Greenfield, Ohio, are visiting the younger Mrs. Watt's mother, Mrs. Adeline Rogers of 2318 Twentieth.

Hunter Tolbert, who is on leave from officer candidate school at Fort Benning, Ga., left today for Muroc, Calif., to visit a brother, Capt. W. V. Tolbert, and family. He has been the guest of his mother, Mrs. Frances Lee Tolbert.

Auxiliary Has Business Session Held At Hall

At a meeting of the American Legion auxiliary at the hall Monday night, a report on the recent rummage sale conducted by the Junior auxiliary was given by Mrs. J. O. Cade, who said $35 was realized. Mrs. Riley Duff presided.

Mrs. Charles Whitacre gave a report on flowers.

The auxiliary is to sponsor a traditional poppy day sale Saturday in downtown Lubbock. Miss Mae Murfee is chairman, assisted by Mesdames H. D. Stanley and Paul Hardwick.

Reception Given By Tech Art Institute In Keeton Home

An outstanding social event of the week was given by the Texas Technological college Art institute Tuesday night for members and friends of the institute and 150 persons called at the home of Mr and Mrs. Claud Keeton, 1902 Twenty-ninth, between 8 and 10 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Keeton greeted guests and presented them to a line made up of F. A. Kleinschmidt, director of the institute; Mrs. J. T. Hutchinson, E. L. Klett, Dr. Clifford B. Jones, Mrs. Roscoe Wilson and Bert Kahn, trustees.

The house party consisted of Mesdames Klett, Kleinschmidt, Kahn, Dr. M. C. Ooverton, Maj. C. F. Hartman, C. N. Hallmark, R. A. Mills, J. E. Maisen, Dr. Allen T. Stewart, J. C. Allensworth, C. E. Maedgen, Dr. Hutchison, R. G. Porter, Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Underwood, Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Lockard, T/Sgt. and Mrs. Ralph Keeton, Miss Elizabeth Hawley and Miss Vivian Johnson.

Mesdames M. C. Overton, E. L. Klett and J. C. Allensworth, presided at the refreshment table and were assisted in serving by Mesdames Maedgen, Stewart, Maisen, Jones, Misses Georgina Conner and Edna Houghton.

The refreshment table, laid with an Irish organdie cloth, was centered with a bowl of yellow and white chrysanthemums. An antique tea service was used.

Vocal Selections Given

During the evening Mrs. C. N. Hallmark, soprano, and Lt. Richard Chamberlain, baritone, sang; the former being accompanied by Mrs. Marlin R. Smith and the latter by WAC Sgt. Alice Ward.

Mrs. Hallmark's selections were: Giail Sole Dal Gange (Scarlotti), Plaisir d'Amour (Martini) and Dell Acqua (Villanelle); Lt. Chamberlain sang Ah Love But a Day (Beacit). And This Of All My Hopes (Bacon) and The Last Hour (Kramer).

Mrs. Sam Seay, a member of the board of the National Federation of Music clubs, spoke on "Promotion of the Fine Arts."

Other social activities for this season will be a Christmas party and a spring reception for new members.

Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Maedgen were co-chairmen of arrangements for the reception.

News Briefs

Sheriff George P. Humphreys, of King county, lodged a 17-year-old youth in county jail Tuesday night and released an older man to Army officials here. Both were suspected of having deserted the armed services, officials here said. The older man, Humphreys explained, had "told some people he was a short-order cook, but he couldn't cook; he told others he was a discharged Army major, and he prescribed medicine to a Guthrie woman and collected a fee, and our doctor heard of it and there may be charges filed in a state court." A third man brought here by Humphreys established he had been discharged, and so was taken back to Guthrie, where he was to be released.

Burglary of premises at 2408 Ave. H was reported to police this morning. Gasoline stamps "and the top off a cash register which had a metal box attached" were taken. Front door glass was smashed.

Firemen at 12:30 o'clock this morning answered an alarm from 714 Ave. A, where a chicken house caught fire. Damage was negligible.

Police Patrolman Bill Lamb said, "How somebody avoided serious injuries, I don't understand—yet no one was injured," when two cars were in collision at 8:09 o'clock this morning at Temple Ave. and Second and one of them overturned. Drivers were J. A. Harris, 38, of 100-block Temple and E. C. Amburn, 35, of route 2 Lubbock. Harris' car "rolled."

Mrs. Blair Is Party Honoree

Mrs. David Blair, who was Miss Barbara Frye before her marriage, was complimented Tuesday night at a party and shower given by Mrs. Alfred Holton, 2516 Twenty-seventh. Miss Mary Moore was assistant hostess.

Mrs. Walter G. Lester of Hale Center assisted in hospitalities.

A yellow and white color scheme was carried out in appointments through white tapers in crystal candelabra and chrysanthemums which centered the refreshment table.

Invitations were issued to fifty guests.

Sunday Mesdames Donna Roush and Harry Renek gave a party and shower in Amarillo honoring the bride. Lubbock guests included the honoree's mother, Mrs. John D. Frye, Mrs. Holton and Miss Moore.

Tea Given For Miss Levine

Miss Doris Mae Levine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Levine, 3017 Nineteenth and bride-elect of Lt. David Shoss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shoss of Houston, was honored Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Charles A. Lasky, 1702 Thirty-first, entertained with a tea.

Miss Levine wore a brown afternoon dress with sequin trim and a corsage of gardenias. Assisting Mrs. Lasky and members of the houseparty were Mesdames Sam Lipshy of Fort Worth, H. J. Jarret, Sam Rosenthal, Louis Freed, A. I. Glassman and Harry Amols of New York. Members of the houseparty also wore gardenia corsages.

The exquisite refreshment table was laid with an imported Normandy lace cloth and Victoria silver tray service centered with a fruit feast arrangement, "Horn of Plenty."

Six candles burned from silver antique candle sticks which marked the back of the table. Bouquets of white carnations and fern were on either side of the buffet which was also centered with assorted tea sandwiches. Napkins of white with "David and Doris" emprinted in gold were given to guests.

White chrysanthemums and carnations were decorations in the entertaining rooms.

Approximately 55 guests called between 3 and 6 o'clock.

Mary Emma Chapter Has Theater Party Monday

Paris Area Has Brief Air Raid Alarm Today

PARIS, Nov. 1 (U.P.) — The Paris area had a brief air alarm today, its first since the Allied occupation of Aug. 25, the alert and all-clear sounding after explosions were heard.

One or more German planes were believed in the area.

The alarm came on All Saints' day, a national holiday, and the Paris streets were crowded as the people honored their war dead and resistance heroes.

Pedestrians paid little attention to the sirens, which were weak and sounded like makeshift affairs compared with the screaming of London's.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle spoke at the Chateau de Vincennes in connection with the holiday ceremonies.

(NBC Correspondent Merrill Mueller reported from the French capital that Gen. De Gaulle, members of his government and Allied diplomats narrowly escaped death or injury in the raid. De Gaulle's official party had just left the scene of a memorial service to Paris' war dead when bombs began falling on the city, Mueller said).

Scottish Rite Club Dinner Is Tonight

With James G. Allen, dean of men at Texas Technological college, the principal speaker, a full program has been arranged for the annual fall gathering of South Plains Scottish Rite Masons here tonight, DeWitt Landis said this morning. Landis is president of the South Plains Scottish Rite club, sponsoring the dinner-program at 7:30 p. m., at Hotel Lubbock.

Others who will join Dean Allen on the Feast of the Tabernacle program include the Rev. Dr. Jack M. Lewis, KCCH; Parker Prouty, Lennis Baker, A. I. Glassman, Dr. James Marcus Gordon, Chas. A. Guy, Dr. Sam G. Dunn, Neil H. Wright and O. J. Sexton.

In addition to Scottish Rite Masons, the affair will be attended, Landis said, by numerous Master and York Rite Masons who will be guests.

Ed D. Parker is secretary of the organization and dinner plans have been arranged by C. H. Grollman.

Officer Is Killed In Crash Near Abilene

ABILENE ARMY AIR FIELD, Nov. 1. (U.P.)—Army officers today were investigating the crash and burning of a single-engine fighter plane near the field yesterday which took the life of 2nd Lt. Robert L. Kuhl, 23, of Corning, La.

Col. Harry Weddington, field commandant, said Kuhl was on a combat training flight when the crash occurred.

Tokyo Claims Peleliu Blow

BY LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Tokyo radio claimed today that "death-defying" Japanese troops had launched a counter-invasion of Peleliu island in the Palau group, 515 miles east of the Philippines. There was no Allied confirmation of the report.

Pres. Sergio Osmena of the Philippine commonwealth blanketed all recognized guerrilla troops into the Philippine army as the U. S. 10th corps began closing a vise on Japanese concentrating on the northern shores of Leyte island.

Japanese planes raiding American installations steadily decreased as Adm. William F. Halsey counted up at least 2,594 Japanese planes and probably as many as 2,846 destroyed by his carrier pilots over the western Pacific between Aug. 31 and Oct. 31.

Ace Has 30 Planes

Cmdr. David McCampbell of Los Angeles, naval ace, led the way with 30 planes to his credit, shooting down nine in less than two hours as he helped chase a Japanese flight home to Manila. The valiant light carrier Princeton accounted for eight ships and 186 planes—a record for its class—before it was sunk in eastern Philippine waters.

Chungking radio reported Japanese invasion armies were steadily tightening their grip on Kweilin, major Allied stronghold of Southeast China. One column broke into Kweilin's northern railroad station. Chinese engaged a second enemy force in fierce fighting in the eastern suburbs. A third column was nine miles south of Kweilin.

Tokyo radio said the city was completely encircled.

Southeast Asia headquarters reported British troops gained another two miles in their push down the Myitkyina-Mandalay railway in central North Burma.

Millions Switch To Mutton Suet Idea For Chest Colds
'Quickly Relieves Children's Colds' Coughs, Loosens Phlegm
Many mothers all over America are switching to this idea of getting fast relief for these chest cold miseries. They are simply following Grandma. For years she counted on mutton suet to help carry her home medication to do its pain-easing work on nerve ends in the skin. No wonder so many more now welcome Grandma's idea as improved by science—Penetro, with its multi-medicated formula in a base containing mutton suet—that acts both as counter-irritant and pain-reliever when you spread it on, and as a soothing aromatic when breathed in. And so today Penetro hurries along newer help in the old reliable way—help that eases painful misery, lessens coughing, loosens phlegm, soothes chest rawness—so that you can rest more comfortably and give nature a chance to restore vitality. That's why millions are switching to Penetro today—why druggists are recommending it. 25c, double supply 35c. For all your family's chest cold miseries, be sure you get white, easy-to-use Penetro.

Value of Spring Pigs Reduced

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP)—A farm leader declared last night the current break in hog prices was "wholly uncalled for" and had reduced the value of spring pigs yet on farms approximately $50,000,000, while a packing industry representative asserted that when hogs were selling at ceiling prices the packers were suffering "serious losses."

Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, issued a statement criticizing the administration and packers for what he termed the "unprecedented" break in hog prices, which sent the top quotation below $14 a hundred pounds for the first time since July 30.

Officials Fail To Agree

Smith, vice-president of the American Farm Bureau federation, declared government officials had failed to agree on livestock producers' recommendations, including one for lowered subsidies made last July.

He asserted there is a current high demand for pork and that packers had no valid excuse for breaking the market from 50 cents to $1.00 a hundred, adding that during the last few weeks packers have been buying all hogs at ceiling prices.

Commenting on Smith's remarks, the American Meat institute issued the following statement:

"Anyone familiar with meat packing operations knows that with hogs selling at ceiling prices, meat packers have been frozen at a loss. The industry has been working under a system of government established ceilings and floors on livestock."

Local Schools Will Close Election Day

Lubbock public schools will be closed for the election next Tuesday and all buildings, except Sanders, will be used for polling places, members of the board of trustees of Lubbock Independent School district agreed at a business meeting Tuesday night.

The board, meeting in its offices at 1007 Texas avenue, accepted the resignations of three teachers and approved election of their successors. Resigning were Mrs. John T. Howell, jr., Dupre; Mrs. Faye Woods, Central Ward, and Miss Carrie Belle Lee, McWhorter. They are succeeded by Mmes. Corinne Haynes, Imagene Amerson and Mary E. Vance.

Petition Is Presented

Business Manager A. C. Jackson presented a petition, handed him by J. A. Barton and bearing the names of approximately 40 signators, asking the board to consider the post-war opening of Fourteenth street west of Central ward school and between Avenues O and Q. Further study will be made by the board.

Superintendent R. W. Matthews presented the matter of employing a nurse for the system and the board instructed him to look further into the question and report at the November meeting.

Present at the session, in addition to Matthews and Jackson, were Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, chairman; Walter G. Alderson, Paul Hardwick, R. F. Bayless, Hubert L. Allen and Chas. A. Guy.

Money Is 'Weighty' Problem In China; Price Of A Good Meal And Show Is Sizable Load

By EMIL REYNOLDS
NEA Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN CHINA, Nov. 1 — If you want to be frugal, you can probably take a young lady out for an evening in Kunming and not spend more than $7000. But if you do she can't be blamed for putting you down as a tin-horn sport, and cutting you dead the next time you meet.

A very modest dinner for two will cost $6000. Then to keep within the budget you must pick the closest movie theater, for the shortest rickshaw ride costs $200. The movie tickets will be $200 each, and incidentals can easily bring the total to an even $7000.

Of course, if you want to try to make a hit by ordering a festive bottle of champagne with dinner, the waiter will add $35,000 to your check.

This is a typical example of inflationary living in wartime China. And for an American it's not like the inflation in postwar Germany, where dollars would let a person live like a king. For the official exchange rate is 40 to 1, which makes the modest evening described above add up to $175 in American money.

Physical Problem

Money is really a physical problem in China. A businessman must hire a coolie to carry large bags of bills to and from the bank. Shoppers go through the streets with bundles of currency tucked under their arms. Children play with money in the streets as American children play with jacks. China has more money than it knows what to do with. But its distribution creates difficulties and hardship.

Government employees and minor officials, clerks, teachers and railroad workers are still receiving 1942 wages, though living costs have risen 800 per cent since January, 1943. And their struggle to maintain decent standards is complicated by the fact that the black market, while not out of hand, continues to flourish, even though the government has instituted a form of price control.

Army Uses "Black Market"

The United States Army is getting the utmost cooperation from Chungking, but even so it has been forced to turn to the black market for much of its supplies. This is particularly true of items that cannot be flown "over the hump." The following prices, with their American dollar equivalent, are typical of what the quartermaster department has had to pay for black market articles:

Industrial alcohol, $1400 ($35) a gallon; 200-watt light bulbs, $350 ($8.75) each; typewriter eraser, $600 ($15); coffins, $9500 ($237.50); commodes, $11,000 ($275); 300-pound bag of cement, $7400 ($185); 2-inch nails, $15,000 ($375) a keg; pair of half-soles, $350 ($8.75); galvanized iron wire, $200,000 ($5000) a ton.

Future Settlement

On the other hand, the government exercises a rigid price control over such things as vaccines (all of which are made in China) and sells them to the Army for $32 a unit.

Incidentally, no actual payments are being made for Army purchases from the Chinese government. They are currently charged against some sort of future settlement, while money advanced to the Army finance department in China is being put on the books.

Perhaps the one redeeming feature of China's inflation is the fact that it is aiding the government in its fight against the opium traffic. There has been a high percentage of addicts in the Kunming sector, but prices have put the drug out of reach of all except the very well-to-do. Commercialized vice also carries a prohibitive price tag.

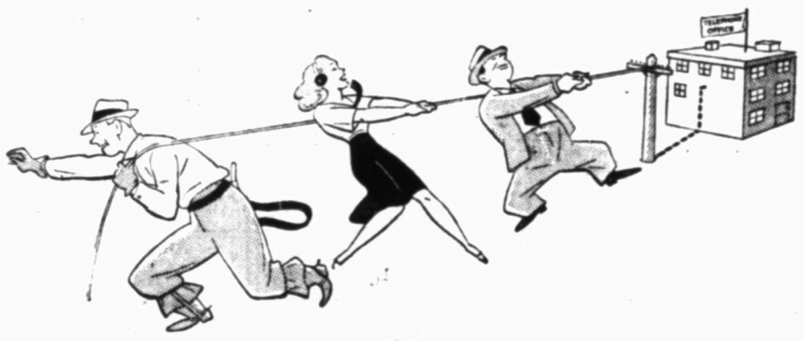

Even drinking is a pastime that few can afford. Champagne is the most expensive. But Scotch sells for 30,000 Chinese dollars, and a bottle of Bourbon is $20,000. That means $730 and $500 American—and a potent argument for moderation.

Coolie is hired by a business man to carry bales of paper money from the bank.

WE'RE S-T-R-E-T-C-H-I-N-G
THE TELEPHONE SYSTEM
but still folks must wait to get service

The telephone system here is crowded. It is being stretched to its limit to serve as many people as possible. But the waiting lists for service go right on growing.

The big factories that manufacture telephones, wires, cables, and switchboards still are working at capacity on communications equipment and electrical weapons for the army and navy. They cannot help us stretch the system further.

So we are making the most of what we have. Until the reserve behind the many allied invasions is ample for any conceivable demand upon it, we must repair and re-use every scrap of equipment that can do a wartime job.

Telephone users are helping, too. Voluntarily, they are eliminating unnecessary calls, being brief on calls that must be made. Many share party lines with others. Where that is practical, it makes one pair of wires serve two to four families.

We're trying to serve everyone we possibly can. When a present user discontinues service, we see to it that so far as the location and type of equipment permit, the facilities he gives up are assigned at once to whoever has been waiting longest. But despite all we can do, we are sorry to say that many folks may have to wait a long time.

Sooner or later, restored civilian production will bring us all we need to furnish the services you want. We look forward to tackling then the big job of catching up. But until then we can do no more than stretch the telephone system as far as it will go.

Widespread Raids Hit West Germany

LONDON, Nov. 1 (U.P.) — The U. S. Eighth Air force hurled more than 550 heavy bombers and fighters into a series of widespread attacks on synthetic oil and railway targets in western Germany today in the wake of a powerful RAF night assault that started new fires in the smoldering city of Cologne.

About 300 American heavy bombers centered their fire on the vital German oil refineries at Gelsenkirchen. Part of the big aerial task force also smashed at railway targets in Hamm, Coblenz and elsewhere in the Reich in a continuing effort to choke off the flow of supplies to the German armies in the west.

Fly Through Overcast

More than 250 Thunderbolt and Mustang fighters accompanied the bombers on the raid, flying through heavy overcast that curtailed German fighter opposition and at the same time forced the raiders to bomb by instrument.

It was the second strike on the Gelsenkirchen refineries in the past week and the fifth assault since Oct. 22 on Hamm, site of one of the largest freight yards in Germany.

A force of more than 500 British four-engined bombers struck Cologne during the night, blasting another big section of the doomed city and swelling the weight of explosives dropped on that target in the past four days to 10,800 tons.

Thus Cologne in the last 84 hours has been bombarded with 1,500 more tons of bombs than the Germans dropped on London during the entire 11 month blitz of 1940-41.

Twin engined Mosquito light bombers opened last night's assault on burning Cologne with a light stab at 7:15 p. m., then the four-engined Lancasters and Halifaxes followed through at 9 p. m. with a 2,500 ton attack that left spreading conflagrations below.

Germany's Fourth City

The raids were the seventh and eighth since Saturday on Cologne, Germany's fourth largest city, industrial and railway capital of the Rhineland and next major objective of the American First army in eastern Germany.

The Air ministry already has announced that the Allies intend to destroy Cologne to prevent its further use as a base for German armies.

Heavy clouds obscured the target area last night, but pathfinder planes placed markers over the objectives and a communique described the bombing as "concentrated."

Fires Burn Since Saturday

The mysterious radio Atlantik said fires had been burning in Cologne since Saturday with fire brigades unable to cope with the situation. Entire streets were said to be impassable.

Other Mosquito bombers last night bombed Hamburg, Germany's biggest port, while night fighters and Intruder planes kept enemy planes on the ground with attacks on German airfields. Three RAF planes were lost in all operations.

Drive On Budapest

aimed at Budapest got under way at least three days ago, and overran a defense zone where the enemy concentrated as many as 20 anti-tank guns to the mile.

Sweeps Up 200 Towns

Thus far the offensive has swept up 200 Hungarian cities, towns and villages, and more than 4,000 prisoners and control of several hundred square miles of new territory, the Russians declared.

Front dispatches said the Hungarian 23rd infantry division was virtually destroyed, its commander killed and the deputy commander and most of the staff captured as Soviet armor and a wave of tommygunners broke into Kesckemet.

Enemy Resists Stubbornly

Inside the city—a provincial seat with a population of 83,000—the enemy resisted stubbornly.

Russian tanks in superior numbers beat off German armored counterattacks.

A correspondent for Izvestia reported that Soviet forces increased the fury of their assault toward Budapest "tenfold" after they discovered bodies of four Red army prisoners tortured and slain by the Germans and Hungarians. The prisoners' arms and heads had been hacked off and their bodies showed traces of being tortured by fire, the correspondent asserted.

Fifteenth Air Force

ing enemy iarfields.

One Mustang group commanded by Col. Yancey S. Tarrant of Brownwood, Tex., has blasted more than 500 Jerry planes out of the sky.

But the bombers are the big story. Since April, they have wiped out 80½ per cent of the capacity within their range, 40 per cent of the aggregate available to the wehrmacht from all fronts.

Governor Dewey

from 8:30 to 9 p. m., (CWT) from Boston Garden.

"He will talk about the subversive elements who now seek to take over the country," Lockwood said. "He also will outline the principles by which we must live if we are to be free."

To Center On Hillman

Another Dewey spokesman said it was obvious that Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO Political Action committee which is supporting a fourth term, would be the center of attack, as well as the organization of $1,000 donors to the Democratic campaign fund. In Washington, Mr. Roosevelt said laughingly yesterday that he is a member of the club but doesn't know what the benefits were.

In his Buffalo speech last night the GOP nominee asserted there was no such club in his party, adding:

"I have not offered the government of the United States for sale at One Thousand dollars to any man and I never will to any one at any price."

Favors Tenure Limit

The Republican presidential nominee told a crowd police estimated at 18,000 in Buffalo's memorial auditorium that there ought to be a two-term limitation on presidential tenure in office. He asserted that to keep one man in the White House for 16 years offered "the most dangerous threat to our freedom ever proposed by anybody."

His Democratic opponent's promises of postwar jobs, aid to small business and help for the farmers were characterized by Dewey as "no good" and "worthless."

"When a man promises, in trying to win an election, that he will reverse the course of everything he has done for 12 years — then that promise, too, on the record, is no good, even though it is repeated again and again and again," Dewey shouted.

"Again And Again"

The "again and again and again" phrase, taken from Mr. Roosevelt's 1940 speeches when the President told of his desire to keep Americans out of foreign wars, was caught up by Republican partisans in the throng and repeated with whoops of delight. Dewey was greeted, when he first appeared, by a rehearsed chant from the crowd: "It's time for a change."

Dewey outlined eight proposals he said the Republicans would put into effect, if victorious.

Briefly, these pledged direction of government policies toward "full employment," adoption of a new tax system, expansion of social security, establishment of a floor under farm prices, merging of labor control agencies, abolition of many government reports required from business, prosecutoin of business monopoly by a "competent staff" in the Department of Justice, and establishment of a new basis of relations between the President and Congress.

Battle For Antwerp

of Vlissingen, 7,900 had already been captured.

Squeeze Play Captures Island

Adjoining South Beveland island, however, had been captured in the same kind of squeeze attack, with British forces landing on the southern coast while Canadians pushed across the land causeway.

Three-quarters of Walcheren had been flooded by Allied bomb-breaching of its dikes, with sea water sweeping over some of the German batteries controlling the estuary approach to Allied-held Antwerp.

Below the Maas river, Allied columns struggled through knee-deep mud in pursuit of Germans escaping over the river behind a screen of stubborn rearguard actions.

All field dispatches indicated the Germans had generally succeeded in escaping an Allied trap.

New Drive Is Seen

Berlin declared Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery had never drawn on the mass of his forces around Nijmegen for the battle to clear southwestern Holland, but was keeping them intact for an offensive aimed at reaching the North German plain.

The German radio also declared that on the front in France, a strong American attack supported by more than 100 tanks had captured Montigny, 15 miles east of Luneville. The German communique said French elements had entered Baccarat, 14 miles southeast of Luneville.

The skillful enemy withdrawal apparently already had saved a large proportion of the 40,000 German troops previously reported south of the Maas. The Allied closeup to the Maas was being slowed by every trick of minefields and sniping.

British Cross Maas

The Brazzaville radio reported that the British had crossed the Maas just north of 'S Hertogenbosch. But there was no confirmation at supreme headquarters.

A dispatch from Canadian First army headquarters said the Canadians had taken 18,000 prisoners and liberated 850 square miles of Belgian and Dutch terrain since Oct. 6, the day infantry veterans pushed across the Leopold canal to begin the battle to clear Antwerp's approaches.

A British column reached the Maas yesterday north of Capelle, the Allied communique reported, and farther west the Mark river was crossed due north of Oudenbosch and northwest of Breda on the main road to the Moerdijk bridge over Hollandsch Diep, the seaward arm of the Maas.

Bad Weather Slows Fight

Bad weather, which grounded Allied aircraft and kept infantry and armor struggling in knee-deep mud, contributed heavily to the failure to close the trap on the beaten German forces.

On the east flank of the widening Dutch salient, however, British infantry reinforced the hard-pressed American forces and hurled the enemy out of Liesel as bitter fighting continued in the Maas bulge west of the Dutch border city of Venlo.

Another German attempt to cross the South Willems canal at Nederweert, 15 miles southeast of Eindhoven, was smashed. Twenty prisoners were taken and 50 enemy soldiers were killed in this action, and a dispatch from headquarters said the German counterthrust in this area so far has cost the enemy at least 20 tanks and 400 prisoners.

On the American sectors of the front facing east toward Germany the activity remained confined to local actions. The U. S. Seventh army made some small gains in the Vosges foothills in France.

Advancing against stubborn resistance, Seventh army troops took the village of St. Benoit, five miles east of Rambervillers, and the villages of Laveline and Les Poulieres, just east of Bruyeres, a front dispatch said.

RICH in the flavor children love . . . and a dependable source of iron—Brer Rabbit Syrup is truly a mother's helper. It's such an appetizing and inexpensive way to add iron to the family's diet.

Not only is Brer Rabbit Syrup a good source of iron. Scientific tests show that this iron is in a form almost completely available to help fill the body's daily need.

You can't get too much iron! So why not give Brer Rabbit Syrup a regular place in your family's diet?

Serve this Delicious Syrup several times daily

Children and grown-ups need an abundance of iron daily... and they love delicious Brer Rabbit Syrup. Give them plenty every day:

AS A SPREAD—For pancakes, waffles, biscuits and other hot breads. Or on plain or buttered bread for between-meal snacks.

IN MILK—For a delicious Brer Rabbit Milk Shake, mix one or more tablespoons of Brer Rabbit Syrup with a glass of milk.

ON CEREAL—In place of other sweetening.

FOR DESSERT—As a sauce for ice cream or in luscious gingerbread or cookies. All of Brer Rabbit's iron is retained in cooking.

Dallas Transit Tieup Spreads

DALLAS, Nov. 1. (AP)—A street car and bus stoppage that tied up virtually all public transportation facilities in Oak Cliff early today was spreading to other sections of Dallas this afternoon.

Fifteen motor coaches and five street cars pulled into the East Dallas barns across the city from Oak Cliff and some 30 workers began milling around "waiting to see what the others will do."

Maintenance men of the East Dallas barns began to join the drivers at 1 p. m. and the Times Herald said those approached offered no explanation for their actions but replied that they just thought they'd "stop for awhile."

May Shut Down System

The Times Herald added that the report was that if a settlement was not reached between company and union officials by noon today, the entire public transportation system would shut down.

War Labor board files listed the workers as being represented by the Amalgamated association of Street, Electric, Railway and Motor Coach employes of America (AFL), Local 1336.

President W. R. Burns of the Dallas Railway and Terminal company, other company officials and union representatives began a conference at mid-morning but this afternoon had announced no decision.

An estimated 150 men and women were involved in the Oak Cliff stoppage.

Dispute Cause Of Strike

Dispute over appointment of a supervisor was believed cause of the strike.

At 8:30 a. m., not a one of the vehicles scheduled to begin leaving the barn as early as four and a half hours previously had started on its run.

Company and union officials were in conference seeking a settlement of the dispute, the second to arise over a minor point in recent months.

In the first instance, arising out of penalties assessed against a driver for infraction of regulations, drivers from the Oak Cliff barn struck for more than two hours before agreeing to arbitrate the trouble.

The lines affected serve a number of war plants and delayed "many hundreds" of other workers from making connections with other lines serving the big North American bomber plant west of the city.

MOCCASINS RATION-FREE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—Leather-soled moccasins of house-slipper type construction may be sold ration-free through Dec. 31, the Office of Price administration announced today. This counteracts an Oct. 5 order putting them on the ration list.

Truman Cites Racial Issues

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Sen. Harry S. Truman said last night that "Gov. Dewey and his campaign managers have encouraged, as a part of their political strategy, a vicious and un-American campaign directed against Americans of foreign birth."

"They have refused to repudiate those who seek to fan the flame of racial and religious bigotry," the Democratic vice presidential nominee added in a prepared address at a rally sponsored in Madison Square Garden by the Liberal party.

For the first time in the campaign, Truman shared a speaking platform with Vice President Henry A. Wallace, the man he defeated for renomination.

FDR's Tolerance Cited

Truman called for the reelection of President Roosevelt as the champion of "universal freedom and universal tolerance" whose talent and experience "constitute a national asset we cannot afford to waste."

Wallace, who made no mention of Truman in his first formal address of the campaign in Madison Square Garden several weeks ago, twice referred to Truman by name in his prepared speech last night.

Calls For Huge Vote

Calling for a huge vote for the Democratic national ticket in New York City, Wallace asked:

"As you bend over your radios a week from now with your hearts pumping madly, who do you want to hear has carried New York state—Bricker and Dewey, or Truman and Roosevelt?"

"Some people tell us," the vice president continued, "that here and there you can find someone skulking in his tent because he doesn't like something a reactionary Democrat has done. Well, Roosevelt isn't a reactionary Democrat. Neither is Truman a reactionary Democrat.

German Defenses In Norway Reinforced

LONDON, Nov. 1. (AP)—Adolf Hitler's Norwegian garrison, apparently fearing an Allied seaborne invasion linked with a Russian drive from the north, is throwing up extensive interior defense works, a Norwegian official in London said today.

Underground intelligence reports, he said, show that the Germans are concentrating on internal defenses, building tank barriers, bunkers and concrete strongpoints around towns and along communication lines.

The Norwegian report said that the Germans had ordered evacuation of the civilian population from northern Norway.

Norwegian officials in London estimated that approximately 50,000 Norwegians would be affected.

HOUSTON PASTOR DIES

Former Democratic Governor For Dewey

BOSTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—Joseph B. Ely, former Democratic governor of Massacuhusetts and this year a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, last night declared in a radio speech "I shall vote for Dewey and Bricker," Republican candidates on the national ticket.

Speaking over the Yankee network Ely, who placed the name of the late Alfred E. Smith in nomination for president on the Democratic ticket in 1932, added:

"What was once the Democratic party has been taken over, lock, stock and barrel, by a coterie of totalitarian socialists, city bosses, communists and disciples of a disciplined — polite word for regimented—democracy."

Baby Found In Truck Returned To Mother

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (U.P.)—A chubby 15-day-old son of a draftee, who was found in an automobile at the Texas Highway department last Thursday, was back with his mother today after having been temporarily in care of an Austin couple.

The mother had started to the home of relatives in West Texas with the baby when her newly-inducted husband sent her word he was being sent to an undisclosed location. In Austin, she told Dist. Judge Harris Gardner, she became exhausted and left the baby to complete her journey and arrange for his care. Judge Gardner ordered the baby restored to her.

OLDER MEN IN GUARD

MOSCOW, Nov. 1 (AP) — The bulk of Heinrich Himmler's German home guards is in the age group from 55 to 60, with boys of 16 comprising only about 120,000 to 135,000 of the force, Red Star said today.

Weather, Need For Port Slow Allies

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (U.P.) — Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press, said in a radio interview last night that the resumption of a ground-gaining offensive on the western front depended on a solid under-footing for the Allied forces, and the opening of a major port for supplies.

Baillie was interviewed by Richard Harkness, NBC Washington reporter, who asked the UP executive for his prediction on the end of the war in Europe based on his tour of the battle fronts and conversations with top Allied military leaders.

May Be Bogged Down

Baillie replied that the Allies might be bogged down in mud all along the front as long as present weather continues and until sufficient supplies could be brought up to start another drive.

"A few weeks of hard or frozen ground and clear skies would probably make a big difference," Baillie said.

The UP president said the port of Antwerp, captured by the Allies but blocked off by a German pocket along the Schelde river, was obviously the one wanted by military leaders.

Antwerp Favored Port

"That is the reason for all the fighting now going on to push the Germans out of the estuary so that our ships can move in and out. Antwerp is a big port and is close to the front," he said.

Baillie said only a guess could be offered as an answer to Harkness' question as to where the next offensive thrust would be. He pointed out, however, that offensives usually follow the line of heavy bombings and that Cologne and the cities between it and the American lines were taking a pounding from the Allied air force.

German resistance is now that of a desperate, cornered gangster, Baillie said. Many German soldiers are willing to quit now, but have little opportunity since their front has been reinforced by SS troops and officers.

Conserving Tanks, Planes

The German high command is conserving its dwindling supply of tanks and planes, Baillie said in reply to Harkness' question as to what had become of these weapons.

"The German tanks do show up occasionally — usually at places where they feel there is an immediate threat to their front," Baillie said. "Their planes appear very infrequently and usually only on strafing expeditions. They have little or no aerial reconnaissance. They do come over sometimes at night and drop pamphlets. I couldn't get any answer to the question of what has become of the luftwaffe when I was over there. They may be holding it in reserve. But let's not take for granted that they haven't any more air power. What they have — and what is quite noticeable — is increasing strength in flak guns, since the war from their standpoint has gone from the offensive to the defensive."

Civilians Surly

Baillie, who was present at the final capture of Aachen, said the general reaction of the homeless civilians toward their conquerors was surly. Baillie said some small children shook their fists at him and old men waved their canes. However, there was no indication that civilians were following any order by Adolf Hitler calling for personal resistance. There have been some civilian snipings, but they are leaving the fighting to their men in uniforms, he said.

"You may get an occasional smile bootlegged in a very surreptitious way — so the neighbors won't see, but for the most part, civilians trudge along, many times with averted glances," he said.

Baillie said that while a lot of young, tough, fanatical Nazis remained in the German army, most of their kind had been replaced by inferior troops, who, according to Field Marshal Montgomery are either too young or too old.

Campaign Committee Gets Contributions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP) — The Democratic Congressional Campaign committee reported today that from Aug. 18 to Oct. 27 it received contributions of $61,114.90 and expended $56,800.

Most of the expenditures listed in a report to the clerk of the House were in $250 and $500 allotments to various congressional races. Only one was higher. It was $1,000 for Chairman May (D-Ky) of the House military committee.

The "Thousand club" which gave $25,000, was the largest contributor listed. Others included Mrs. Darryl F. Zanuck, wife of the Hollywood film director, $3,000; Bernard M. Baruch, special presidential advisor, $2,500; R. W. Morrison, Alamo National building, San Antonio, $2,500; Frank Phillips, Bartlesville, Okla., $2,500; and House Clerk South Trimble, $500.

Fort Worth Banks Form Credit Group

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1 (AP) — Formation of a small business bank credit group by member banks of the Fort Worth Clearing House association was announced today by Ed H. Winton, president of the clearing house.

He said the group would make available $20,000,000 for loans to small business men of the state, on a participation basis, and the credit fund also will be available through correspondent banks.

Sixteen enlisted men and one member of the Women's Army corps detachment at Lubbock Army Air field received promotions this week.

Included among the non-coms upped in grade are four Lubbock men: Cpls. George W. Tate, jr., and Dexter Walthal, promoted to sergeant, and Pfcs. Orville C. Stevenson and John R. Wells, who now hold the rank of corporal.

Cpl. Rendia L. Hackleman, of Dimmitt, was promoted to sergeant. WAC Cpl. Dolores M. Lichtenfeld, of Cincinnati, O., a control tower operator at LAAF, was raised in grade to sergeant.

Other LAAF enlisted men now wearing new stripes are: Sgt. Ernest F. Triplett, Weatherford, Okla., to staff sergeant; Cpls. William L. Hummer, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Russell E. Durst, Little Rock, Ark.; Melvin Larsen, Minneapolis, Minn.; Richard I. McCosh, Valley City, N. D.; Henry Patten, Ft. Worth; and Elzy N. Bennett, Anson, all promoted to sergeant; Pfc. Donald C. Halterman, Detroit, promoted to corporal; and Pvts. Beryl C. Brewer, Nashville, Tenn.; Riley B. Wills, jr., Fluvanna, Tex.; and Raymond E. Ongale, Forest Hills, L. I., New York, all promoted to private first class.

SHERIFFS SCHOOL PLANNED

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (AP) — A school for sheriffs and their deputies sponsored jointly by the department of public safety and Sheriffs Association of Texas, will be held here Nov. 12-25. State Police Director Homer Garrison said this school will cover major administrative and field duties performed by sheriffs.

Walsh Resents Isolationist Tag

BOSTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Sen. David I. Walsh (D-Mass) said today he resented "being called an isolationist if the term means being put into a type" with Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin.

"The two most outstanding isolationists in the world today," he added in a statement, "are Churchill and Stalin, who are always doing everything possible to protect, and in some cases expand, their imperialistic powers.

The senior Bay State senator, who on Sunday endorsed the state and national ticket of his party during a visit here of Sen. Truman, vice presidential nominee, said he stood "with those who believe in fullest possible international cooperation for peace consisten with our constitution."

Prompted By Truman

Wash's remarks on isolation were prompted by an assertion by Truman in an interview yesterday in Providence. There, asked by a reporter, what the difference was between the isolationist record of Sen. Walsh and that of the eight Republican senators Truman had urged Governor Dewey to "repudiate," Truman had replied "no difference except that Walsh has two years to serve and we have a chance to reform him."

Some reports of the Truman interview stated this exchange was in a bantering mood.

OPA Fixes Texas Cotton Storage Fee

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — The Office of Price administration today fixed temporary price ceilings for emergency open-yard cotton storage in Oklahoma and Texas.

The action was taken to alleviate a critical shortage of warehouse storage space in the two states.

The new ceilings, effective immediately, are the existing maximum prices for warehouse storage, plus 60 cents a bale in Oklahoma and 25 cents a bale in Texas. They apply to cotton received prior to Feb. 1, 1945.

OPA said the increases will compensate warehousemen for the increase is less in Texas because open-yard storage has been provided in the past in that state and that in many cases facilities need only to be expanded.

The higher ceilings do not apply to open-yard storage facilities used during the 1943-44 season or to space converted prior to last August 1.

Lost Wallet Arrives Home Before Colonel

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1 (U.P) — Here's a fine example of this city's "welcome" to returning servicemen.

Lt. Col. O. F. Fischer, home after 19 months overseas, lost his wallet containing $107 in cash and a $100 check in downtown Fort Worth.

He dropped by a newspaper office to seek aid in getting it back.

When he arrived home, the wallet, with contents intact, had beat him home. The finder, Sterling J. Lett, U. S. courthouse superintendent, had found it, turned it over to MP's, who in turn had rushed it to the colonel's home.

PLANT UNIT INSTALLED

LA PORTE, Nov. 1 (U.P) — Installation of a new 30,000-ton continuous polymerization unit at Goodyear's synthetic rubber plant here will increase production by 50 to 75 per cent, C. H. Smith, plant manager, said today.

Surgeons Remove Live Shell From Chest Of Yank

BY DEAN SCHEDLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

AMERICAN HOSPITAL UNIT, Leyte, Nov. 1 — Army surgeons at Leyte removed from a doughboy's chest a live artillery shell that might have exploded and killed surgeons, attendants and patient.

An X-ray showed the small caliber artillery shell entered above the hip and lodged against the ribs. The cap, or fuse, still was in place.

An ordnance expert was called. He told surgeons the shell might explode if it were struck sharply but that it could be removed by small forcepts with great care.

Maj. Charles Appleberry of Platte River, Mo., assisted by Capts. Nathaniel Cohen and K. K. Johlman of Gardiner, Mass., and Pfc. James Howren of Keokuk, Ia., bent over the operating table. Perspiration, caused not entirely from the intense operating light and the sun beating on the canvas tent, streamed from them.

They made a long incision down the chest and stomach because they had to have extra room to extract the shell gently.

On the table the game soldier clung to life, unaware that the group of tense medics were risking their lives.

Major Appleberry firmly grasped the shell in the forceps and lifted it to a tray.

The ordnance men took it and carefully walked through the brush, to a safe distance, to dispose of it. The medical men took a sigh of relief and sewed up the Yank. They said he had a "fighting chance" at recovery.

Eagle Badge Will Be Given Matador Scout

MATADOR, Nov. 1 (Special)—The Eagle Scout badge, highest scouting award, will be presented to Billy Wason of Matador Troop 60 Thursday night at a combined Scout, Cub and Parents meeting in the First Methodist church.

G. M. Unger, Lubbock, South Plains Scout executive, will present the Eagle award and preside at the meeting.

Other Scouts to be recognized at the Court of Honor beginning at 8:30 o'clock will be Norman Neighbors, Billy Ray Neighbors, Don Wason, Charles Herbert Sanders, Melvin Spray, Norman Glenn Spray, Bobby Harp and R. T. Hammersley.

Before the Court of Honor and beginning at 7:30 o'clock boys of Cub age and their parents will meet to discuss the organization of a Cub pack with J. Tom Hamilton, Scoutmaster.

The eagle has been universally regarded as an emblem of might and courage since ancient times.

San Angelo Rated Top Schoolboy "11"

Waco Goes Down To Second Place

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

San Angelo's Bobcats are No. 1 in Texas schoolboy football in the opinion of the sports writers.

For the first two weeks that the Associated Press conducted its poll, the Bobcats, defending state champions who took a 7-6 licking at the hands of Lubbock more than a month ago, has rested in the runner-up place while Waco's Tigers received encomiums as the top team of the season.

But with San Angelo's 47-0 walloping of Odessa last week-end, the Bobcats surged upward, going 12 points ahead of Waco. They got their top spot like this: Nine first places, six seconds, two thirds, one fourth and one ninth. Waco received seven No. 1 ballots, six seconds, three thirds, one sixth and one seventh.

Highland Park Third

Moving into third place was Highland Park (Dallas) which held fourth spot last week. Amarillo thus went down a peg to fourth. Vernon arose from seventh to fifth, Lufkin stayed in six place, Sunset (Dallas) advanced from eighth to seventh, Austin fell from fifth to eighth, Sweetwater came up from thirteenth to ninth and Port Arthur, which was tied for ninth with Tyler, fell to tenth and Tyler dropped to eleventh.

Lubbock, which lost its second game in a row after winning four, fell out of the first 20. The Westerners were eleventh last week.

Here's how they stand in the poll, participated in by sports writers from every section (10 points for first place, 9 for second, etc., and with the first places in parentheses):

1. San Angelo (9)—169 points; 2. Waco (7)—157; 3. Highland Park (Dallas) 0—132; 4. Amarillo (2)—110; 5. Vernon (0)—74; 6. Lufkin (0)—68; 7. Sunset (Dallas) (1)—48; 8. Austin (0)—46; 9. Sweetwater (0)—41; 10. Port Arthur (0)—37.

Second ten: 11. Tyler (0)—32; 12. Marshall (0)—27; 13. Kerrville (0)—17; 14. Breckenridge (0)—15; Temple (0)—13; Goose Creek (0)—12; 17. North Side (Fort Worth) (0)—11; 18. Jefferson (San Antonio) (0)—8; 19. Abilene (0)—7; 20. Paschal (Fort Worth) (0)—6.

Big League Baseball Draft Begins Today

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Major league baseball officials, many short of outstanding stars by virtue of Uncle Sam's draft measure, were ready for their own draft business today—taking their picks of minor league talent—admittedly scarce.

The minor circuits have been quite thoroughly drained of big time material ever since Pearl Harbor and major league talent scouts haven't evinced much enthusiasm of the material offered at today's third wartime draft meeting. Some owners, however, were ready to lay cash on the line at draft prices—in efforts to bolster wobbly lineups.

"There doesn't seem to be much left that is worth $7,500," said the veteran Connie Mack, of the Philadelphia Athletics, referring to the price tag on any player drafted from a class AA league. Previous drafts and the military draft have weeded out just about all of them," he added.

The Hungarian city of Szeged is of prehistoric origin.

Manpower Troubles Threaten To Trim Westerner Squad

Selective service may be put into effect at Lubbock High school as Coach J. Mule Davis scrapes the bottom of the manpower barrell to find enough forces to hurl at the Brownfield Cubs Friday night at Brownfield.

The reported "indifference to training regulations" of 15 members of the Westerner squad has threatened the roster with a drastic cut in personnel.

The boys have been given until practice time today to return to the fold and abide by the training rules, and still be allowed to play against the Brownfield club. The blow struck Monday evening at practice, and Tuesday afternoon two of the 15 were back in the fold.

The boys can be returned by the secret ballot of those left on the squad, and just what practice time today will bring out will be left entirely to the boys "on the outside." Listed among the 13 still out of the fold are six regular starters of the club.

The rebellion of the boys may erase the thin thread of hope that was left to the Westerners for a district championship club, but those who are left on the squad are preparing to muster a lineup that will carry on.

Missing Boys Named

Those still missing from the fold Tuesday afternoon were Co-Captains Clinton Benefield and Johnny Pearson, Charles Pressley, Eldon Giles, R. W. Moyers and George Brewer from the starting lineup. Others on the list include tackles Elmer Reed and J. Don Baldridge, guard Dennie Sanders, center John Paul Jones and backs Johnny Gamble, T. J. Price and John Kennedy.

The squad was left Tuesday with only 19 members, and they began to work on building an offensive for Friday's game. A lengthy scrimmage session was held with Coach George Philbrick's Cowhands Black team to get them ready for the battle in case they are called upon to carry the load.

Additional hard blows dealt to the club came this week, and Billy Bob Harris, letterman end, reinjured his knee again Tuesday afternoon. The knee injury kept him out of the Big Spring and Lamesa games, and allowed him to see only limited service against Abilene and Plainview. It is hoped that the injury to the knee will not keep him out of Friday's game.

Club Loses Crawford

Another blow was dealt the club when Charles Crawford, an outstanding guard, turned in his suit and retired from football for the season because of illness that had slowed him down too much. Crawford's loss in the line will be sorely felt by the Westerners.

O. C. Foster, another letterman tackle, was still confined to the sidelines Tuesday with an injured ankle, which will very likely keep him out of the game Friday night.

The greatest loss in the "flare-up" was noted in the center position Tuesday afternoon with the club's two centers both missing from practice. Stoney Wall, a guard, was working at center Tuesday, but his snapbacks were very uncertain.

The play of the Westerners Tuesday afternoon was ragged, but the backfield, composed of Johnny Davis, Pinkey Lowrey, Johnny Trout and Noel Sikes were looking good with their ball handling, while Johnny Cole, regular quarterback, will also be available, but was taking little part Tuesday afternoon because of injury to his leg that slowed him down.

If Harris and Foster are able to go Friday, the Westerners will be able to muster a "fair" line to work in front of the five backs available for plenty of service. Then there still remains the chance that some of the boys will seek reinstatement in time to play in the Brownfield game.

Raiders Continue Long Drills For Saturday's Battle With Title-Bound Owls At Houston

There was no letup Tuesday afternoon as the Texas Tech Red Raiders continued to work toward Saturday's battle in Houston with the "self admitted" pennant bound Owls of Rice Institute, and the club had another scrimmage session lasting until dark.

Coach Dell Morgan's Red Raiders gained their first taste of victory last week by beating West Texas State Teachers college at Amarillo, but will be facing a much tougher test this week in the Houston battle. But the club hopes to be ready for a real battle in this game.

MELTON VISITS TECH

Buster Melton, who last year did a lot of playing in the backfield of the Texas Tech Red Raiders, and this year is doing a lot of the same thing in the backfield of Tulane's Green Wave in New Orleans, was a visitor at Tech stadium Tuesday afternoon.

Melton was loud in his praise of the way the Red Raiders looked Tuesday afternoon, and the size of the squad, and also dropped a few praises for his team mates at Tulane, which has been beaten only by the Notre Dame Irish this season.

He also warned the Red Raiders that they were due to face plenty of trouble this week against the Rice Owls. Tulane defeated the Owls recently, and Melton saw a lot of service in this game.

For the second day in a row, Coach Morgan worked the boys until far after sundown, and most of the session was taken up with a game condition scrimmage session with plenty of rough action.

Costin Bufkin, the Hobbs, New Mexico, scat back, was cutting loose for the first time Tuesday afternoon, and was looking good. Bufkin cracked a rib in the Oklahoma Aggie game, and missed the next two battles, but was back in the lineup part of the time last week at Amarillo.

His work in that game was limited, but this week he has been cutting loose in his old time form for the first time. He ripped off a number of nice games during the Tuesday afternoon "head butting" and appeared to be ready to go this week.

But there was a fresh shadow of doubt cast over the club's injury list, and Walter Schlinkman, the Dumas Demon, was having additional troubles with his injured side. Another checkup of the team captain and fullback is planned for today, and his chances to see much action against the Owls will depend on the outcome of this examination.

Tahoka, Seminole To Clash Friday Night

TAHOKA, Nov. 1 — Tahoka's battling Bulldogs are sharpening their fangs in the hope of scalping the Seminole Indians here Friday night in a district 6-A conference battle.

The Bulldogs, beaten only by the stampeding Denver City Mustangs, see little hope of the Denver City eleven being upset, but are hopeful. A defeat to the Denver City club would hurl the Bulldogs back into the running, so the boys are pulling no punches for Friday night.

The team has been hard hit with cripples and losses to the armed services, but Coach Leo Jackson has done his best to patch the leaks and keep the Bulldogs at top form.

COACH NAMED

BOSTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—Del Bissonette yesterday was named coach of the Boston Braves to replace Tom Sheehan who resigned. Bisonette managed Hartford in the Eastern league last year.

Transfers Change SWC Grid Teams; T.C.U. Hard Hit

DALLAS, Nov. 1 (AP) — Changes were being made in Southwest conference football today through Navy transfers and Texas Christian university, holding second place in the standings, was hardest hit.

But it was not only transfers that bothered the Horned Frogs. Scholastic difficulties and injuries also took toll.

Arkansas and Texas A and M, the only conference members that do not play trainees, were undisturbed. There was not even a draft call.

Texas Loses Starting End

Texas lost Phil Bolin, first string end, but will pick up E. R. Felfe, starting guard for Southern Methodist. Going with Bolin to the Midshipman's school at Asbury Park, N. J., was Robert Lemmons, substitute guard, while Jim Fortenberry, reserve end, was sent to Notre Dame's Midshipman school.

Texas Christian lost Johnny Sherrod, top passer, in the draft, and Joe Kucera, another fine passer; N. B. Thomas and Albin Houdek, starting guards, were sent away in Navy transfers. Then the squad lost Monroe Harrelson, reserve back, because of a broken leg suffered last week at Oklahoma City against Oklahoma. Added to this scholastic ineligibility took Albert Cragwell, regular tackle; Bryan Taylor, starting center, and Embrey Walton, reserve tackle.

Rice Loses Four Men

Rice lost Cholly Howard, regular tackle; Bucky Sheffield, reserve fullback; Dan Chrisman, substitute center, and Fred Brechtel, reserve back, in naval shifts, the latter two going to Southwestern university.

Felfe was the only departure from Southern Methodist.

A. and M., while not losing any players to the service at this time, had several due for call. However, there was no indication of when they would be taken.

Football Attendance Is Up 25 Per Cent

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Attendance at college football games has increased nearly 25 per cent over 1943, a national survey by the Associated Press showed today.

Reports from 72 colleges disclosed that with the season only half over an aggregate of 3,243,330 fans have ringed gridirons compared to 2,598,581 at the same period a year ago. This is an increase of 644,749.

The top percentage increase is in the Southwest with 60.2. Turnouts in the South have jumped 43.4 per cent; 28.3 in the East; 16.5 in the Midwest and 15.3 in the Far West.

TO QUIT BASEBALL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—Jake Powell, outfielder of the Washington Senators, scheduled to be sworn in today as a member of the Montgomery county (Md) police force, is expected to quit baseball.

Oklahoma Ags' Coach Honored

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP) — He had no illusions that his team was going anywhere this season, but as explained happily today, "the kids had a mind of their own," so right now they're riding high with a five-game winning streak that includes one of the season's most startling upsets.

He is the United Press coach of the week, 42 year old Jim Lookabaugh of Oklahoma A. & M., who hit the jockpot of his coaching career last Saturday when his underrated, lightly-held Aggies gained a 46-40 victory over bowl-minded Tulsa.

When the Cowboys toppled Tulsa to smear the Golden Hurricane's perfect record and simultaneously preserve their own, it wasn't the first time that the resourceful Lookabaugh shocked Southwest football by performing the "impossible" charged with the job of leading the Aggies out of the football doldrums, he pointed them to a 9-7 upset win over Tulsa in his first season as head coach, six years ago, a hard-hitting hint of things to come, a harbinger of the scoring melee of last Saturday that will become a legend in Aggie football annals.

Studied For Law

Originally, Lookabaugh studied for the law but great natural ability in athletics turned his footsteps to the playing field. As a roaring cowboy at A. and M., he was center on the football team, all-conference center with the championship Aggie cagers of 1925, and pastimed on the baseball team.

Following his graduation in 1925, Lookabaugh coached state championship high school teams in Jet and Oklahoma City, and in 1939 his alma mater nominated him as the Moses to lead the Cowboys out of the football bullrushes.

His all-civilian team was slammed around last season, with the dynamic Tulsa team pouring it on to the tune of 55-6. But the Aggies bounced right back to whip Arkansas and Denver to close the season and added five straight as ver before toppling Tulsa.

Whole Navy Line Rated Top Linemen Of Country; Hubert Bechtol Outstanding

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP) — The whole Navy line, which in its last two games against Georgia Tech and Pennsylvania has thrown the opposition for a net loss of 35 yards while tearing open big holes for Navy backs to gain 498 yards, won this week's Associated Press press poll as the outstanding football linemen of the week.

Illinois Guard Praised

Ralph Serpico, Illinois guard; Felto Prewitt, Tulsa center; Barney Poole, Army end; Tommy Smith, Yale's watchfob guard; Art Young, Dartmouth guard; John Ferraro, Southern California tackle; and Jack "Speedy" Fathauser, Iowa State tackle, received high praise elsewhere in the country.

Serpico, a 181-pounder, was mainly responsible for holding Notre Dame's Bob Kelly to a comparatively poor performance of only 2.4 yard average in 18 rushes. Walley Weber, Michigan scout, described Serpico as the best lineman on the field "by far."

Monte Moncrief, Texas Aggies tackle, was singled out for compliments in the Southwest. Coach Homer Norton said Moncrief was the outstanding lineman against North Texas Aggies and "all other games this year. He gives signals on defense, is a hard tackler while his experience makes him hard to fool. He is good at rushing the passer and punter."

Other outstanding linemen from the southwest:

Ends—Hubert Bechtol, Texas; Jack Russell, Randolph field.

Tackles — Fred Land, LSU; Mike Castronis, Georgia; George Savitsky, Penn.; John Woudenberg, St. Mary's Pre-Flight.

Guards — H. J. Nichols, Rice.

Fight Show Slated Tonight In Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 1 (AP) — Two welterweights, Paul Altman, 146 pounds, of Houston and Chino Lopez, 146, of San Antonio meet here tonight in the 10-round main event of a fight card featuring four six-round battles.

Altman won a decision over Lopez in their last fight in Shreveport last May. Lopez, 26-year-old fighter who has taken on such top-rank stars as Fritzie Zivic and Sammy Angott, has sought a return match ever since. Altman has floored every opponent at least once in his last 44 fights, and has won 25 by knockouts.

ZURITA BOUT PLANNED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1 (AP) — Juan Zurita, NBA lightweight champion, arrives today from Mexico City to begin training for what his manager, George Parnassus, said would be a title fight here before Christmas against Willie Pep, Ike Williams or John Thomas.

Tourney Match Play Begins

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 1 (AP) —Match play begins here today in the first all-Southwest invitation tournament with a field of 75 golfers from five states entered.

Mrs. Bettye Mims White of Dallas posted an 80 on a par 77 course to win medal honors yesterday. Mrs. H. R. Beherans of Brownwood was runner-up with an 82, Mrs. Al Lever of Houston was third with an 83 and Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth and Mrs. Joanne Barr Tracy of Dallas tied for fourth with 84's.

Pairings in the flight matches.

Mrs. Bettye Mims White, Dallas (80) vs. Mrs. J. R. Bradford, Dallas, (86).

Mrs. Joanne Barr Tracy, Dallas (84) vs. Mrs. W. C. Abbey, San Antonio (91).

Mrs. Al Lever, Houston (83) vs. Mrs. B. O. Winter, Dallas (89).

Mrs. J. H. Ball, Wichita Falls (85) vs. Mrs. Bob Duncan, Dallas (92).

Mrs. H. R. Behrens, Brownwood (82) vs. Mrs. Gene Root, Amarillo (87).

Mrs. H. L. Reynolds, Amarillo (85) vs. Mrs. J. L. Rush, Dallas, (91).

Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, Fort Worth (84) vs. Mrs. W. G. Wood, Dallas (92).

Mrs. R. E. Winger, Fort Worth (85) vs. Mrs. George Noble, Dallas, (89).

Kubale And Bridges Brooklyn Co-Coaches

BROOKLYN, Nov. 1. (AP)—Ed Kubale and Frank Bridges, former assistants to Pete Cawthon, are the new co-coaches of the Brooklyn Tigers of the National football league.

Tom Gallery, general manager, reports that Capt. Dan Topping, club owner, has advised him to accept Cawthon's resignation if submitted.

The year's longest day lasts about 15 hours; the shortest, nine and a half.

Money Interests Of Mentally Unsound Veterans Protected

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 — If he's drawing government pay—pension, insurance or retirement pay—the government protects the money interests of an insane war veteran.

And if they are getting government money as a result of his military service, this protection also extends to:

1. A veteran's insane survivors or dependents.

2. A veteran's minor children. The government doesn't make payments to minor children.

Guardianship Service

The protection starts with the Veterans administration (VA) guardianship service. It was established by law in 1926. It works like this:

Private Jones is released from military service as mentally disabled. For that disability, he asks for a pension. Or someone asks for him.

His request goes to a special VA rating board which includes a doctor and lawyer. The board could call him in personally. But most of the time it makes its decision on his military medical record.

Data Given Regional Office

The board decides he is mentally incompetent and is entitled to a pension. This information is given to the chief attorney in the VA regional office nearest Jones' home.

Then the chief attorney investigates Jones, his family and social life, his job if he's working, and his ability to handle money.

If the attorney decides that Jones can handle his funds in a reasonably prudent manner, he is paid directly by the VA whatever pension is due him.

But if the attorney decides that Jones is mentally incapable of handling his money, then a way is sought to make the payments so he will benefit by them.

May Pay His Wife

The payments may be made to his wife, if she is found "suitable," to quote one VA official. If the wife is found unsuitable, or if there is no wife, a guardian is appointed in accordance with the state's laws.

This appointment of a guardian often involves going to court. Under certain circumstances the VA pays these initial court expenses.

If there is an accumulation of funds beyond the veteran's needs, the guardian is advised to invest them in accordance with state laws. The majority invest in government bonds.

VA Checks Report

The VA checks to see that the guardian has made a truthful report and that the veteran's federal income is being properly used.

If a guardian embezzles a veteran's funds, it is a punishable federal and state offense.

Very often a bank or trust company is named guardian for a veteran's money. In this way so much is regularly paid out by the bank to the person taking care of the veteran and the balance is invested for the veteran.

There are various methods of payment when a veteran is kept in a hospital, depending upon the number of his dependents if any.

When any survivor or dependent of a veteran—due federal pay because of his disability—is found insane, a guardain is appointed.

The VA tries to avoid court appointment of a guardian for a minor child whose soldier-father has been killed or died. This is done by recognizing as custodian the person—usually the mother or grandmother—taking care of the child.

All of this guardianship program is under the solicitor of the VA.

Stassen's Backers Renounce Sen. Ball

ST. PAUL, Nov. 1 (AP) — Gov. Edward J. Thye of Minnesota and ten other men and women who spearheaded the campaign to obtain for Comdr. Harold E. Stassen the Republican presidential nomination today declared that Senator Joseph H. Ball (R-Minn.) "does not now speak for this committee or for any of Mr. Stassen's friends."

The statement was made in letters to all delegates and alternates to the Republican national convention.

Sen. Ball recently declared he would support President Roosevelt's candidacy for reelection because the President's declaration of foreign policy more nearly paralleled his own views.

The reader will note that this speech has been carefully constructed so it may be translated in any language — including New Deal, Old Deal, Raw Deal, and the Scandanavian.)

MY friends and fellow citizens: It is good to be back here again in (fill in name of city, and/or state). I feel at home here among you who have exhibited upon so many occasions that staunch American courage which, at the polls, protects our land from the predatory politicans of the (here fill in name of the OTHER party).

I am happy, too, to share this platform with my great and good friend, your outstanding (fill in office and name of most important local political figure who belongs to candidate's party) and to be able to tell you that on November 7 he will be overwhelmingly re-elected. (Pause for applause.)

I am here to discuss with you some of the ga-reat problems of our country and this age; to unequivocally state my views in these regards, especially as they differ from those of my opponent. I want you to know, from me, WHEN (never if) I am elected on November 7, just what I propose to do in regard to these burning issues.

My opponent publicly stated in (here fill in date when opposing candidate put his foot in his mouth at an unguarded moment) that he favors inspecting all fire departments 10 days before each and every fire. That, as you know, my friends, is ridiculous.

You know, as I know, that there is no sense in inspecting a fire department 10 days before a fire. A great deal can happen in 10 days to lessen the efficiency of a fire department. I tell you—and I hope my opponent is listening—that WHEN (never if) I am elected, I shall have all fire departments inspected NINE days before each and every fire! (Long pause for applause, whistling, foot-stomping and bell-ringing, led by previously trained stooges.)

MY opponent tells you that he favors world peace. He tells you he will support a move in this country to co-operate with all the other nations in a great postwar organization by which world peace will be maintained. He says he will see that we send representatives to meet with the representativs of other countries which will be a part of this world organization. Yes, he tells you that. But what does he say about our representatives? What kind of men are they going to be and how well will they be able to represent us?

Let me tell you this. I favor world peace, too. I favor sending our representatives to meet with the representatives of all other peace-loving countries in a great world organization, too. But I will go farther than that. Much farther than that, my friends.

WHEN (never if) I am elected, I shall not only appoint a regiment of representatives to the world peace organization, but I shall make sure they go equipped to serve our country. Each of our representatives will be furnished with four pairs of spats—one pair yellow, one pearl gray, one brown and one black. Each will have two high silk hats, both at least two inches higher than the hats worn by representatives of other nations. Each will have a cane, three pairs of striped trousers, two Prince Albert coats, four batwing collars and two Ascot ties.

And, my friends—AND, I shall have delivered to each representative thrice daily a fresh gardenia for his coat lapel!

Now what has my opponent to say to that?

Since I have shown you how simple it is to work out the problems of world peace and all other global affairs, let us turn our attention now to the home front.

What will be the most important thing to every man, woman and child in our country after Victory? I can answer that question in one word: "Jobs."

Ah, yes, my friends—jobs will be important. There must be jobs for everybody.

But not just any old kind of jobs. No, my friends. Instead, they must be a particular kind of jobs.

My opponent says he is in favor of jobs for everyone—but he doesn't say what kind of jobs. Of course, he doesn't say what kind of jobs, for he favors the kind with WORK to them—the kind of jobs which require at least three hours of work per week. That sort of an attitude, my friends, is typical of the horse-and-buggy thinking of my opponent and his party. It is that sort of reactionary thinking which testifies to the basic doubts in the minds of my opponent and his party in the virility of our country. Let me tell you, my friends, that anybody can promise jobs with WORK connected with them—but I'm not for that type of jobs.

WHEN (never if) I am elected, every man and woman in our land who wants a job will have a job—and it will be a job without any work connected to it.

(Pause for tremendous applause, led by those who don't work, never did work and never expect to work.)

AND what about the rate of pay for these jobs, my friends? It is on this point that my opponent again exhibits that he is (fill in here either "a tired, quarrelsome, old man," or "an inexperienced tool of Wall Street"). He expects free Americans to work 30 minutes—or one-sixth of their weekly time—on "straight time," and only five-sixths on "overtime."

Is that the sort of a job our American working man wants?

I think not, my friends. In fact, I know not. And that's why I say it (fill in "is," or "is not") time for a change!

Here is the sort of pay rate you may expect WHEN (never if) I am elected on November 7.

Since the jobs I furnish aren't going to have any work connected with them, there cannot be any "overtime work." But just because there will be no overtime work is no reason why we can't—and won't—have plenty of overtime pay. WHEN (never if) I am your choice on November 7, I propose to pay every worker overtime for the hours he doesn't work—which means that every hour of his night and day will be paid for in overtime!

My opponent and his supporters among (fill in here "the members of well-stocked clubs," or "the heinous Big City political machines") won't approve of this idea, my friends. No, of course not. Because he and they still cling to the theories of a barbarous age—to the jungles of American industrialism — under which honest work was both welcomed and respected. But I say to you, AWAY with such principles which could have been spawned nowhere save in (fill in "godless Russia," or "the councils of the Tories of our land").

Now, my friends, you see we're going to get along fine after November 7, WHEN (never if) I am your choice at the polls. Everything will be ducky, even too, too divine, PROVIDING you leave it to me.

So to you, my gallant supporters in this crusade against fiendishly well-plotted villainy, let me say, under the bright stars of our Heaven— I thank you!

(Prolonged applause, considered well worth the radio cost of $10,000 a minute!)

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT
(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

WATCHING your friends who once thought they could smoke only their chosen kind of cigarettes smoking anything they can buy, have you been reminded of how many ways the war has forced people to get acquainted with the unfamiliar?

MILLETT

The Southerners who once swore they would never live anywhere but in the South are somehow managing to get along in other parts of the country.

Sheltered girls, following their young husbands to army camps, find themselves living in one shabby room and not even turning up their noses at their new homes.

BUTCHER'S BUDDY

WOMEN who haven't cooked an honest meal in years getting acquainted with recipes and dirty dishes.

Neighbors who never bothered to be neighborly borrowing lawn mowers and riding in one another's cars.

Rich women and poor women working side by side in Red Cross rooms and becoming interested in one another's lives.

Clinging vines standing on their own two feet and managing to be both mother and father to their children for the duration.

Ladies getting on chummy terms with their butchers, who never before knew their butchers' names.

Maybe all this getting acquainted with the unfamiliar will have lasting effects on our lives.

And maybe it won't—with everyone anxious to go back to the old way of thinking and doing things, just as they'll go back to their old brands of cigarettes the minute they can buy them.

Star Beams

OPTIMISTS and Pollyannas to the contrary notwithstanding, a person can't keep his chin up when bowing to the inevitable.

"How can I get my wife to study Spanish with me?" some one asks. He might try faking talking in his sleep, and inject a number of feminine names in his remarks.

Today's couplet: We've never seen a woman bare who said, "I haven't a thing to wear."

"A woman's heart is 20 per cent smaller than a man's," asserts a surgeon. And 17 times as tough.

Men are fortunate in that they can't understand women. Women understand women — and they don't like them.

Liberty and freedom are becoming scarcer every day. A Baltimore man was fined $100 a few days ago for merely kicking his wife out of bed. Imagine! Whither are we drifting?

* * *

"The silent girl has a much better chance of marrying than her talkative sister," asserts a psychologist who seems to think that the best way for a girl to catch a man is to keep her trap shut.

Today's Journal Editorial

NO PARTY SHOULD BE ALL-POWERFUL

For a variety of reasons, chief among which is the fact that many people think it illogical to change Presidents in the middle of a global war, we anticipate the re-election to a Fourth Term of President Roosevelt.

We are fully aware that the President's opponent, Gov. Tom Dewey, is making an effective campaign and during the past several weeks has had the tide of public favor running in his direction. Judging from reports of various polls, and from other sources over the nation, Governor Dewey may be expected to receive a tremendous popular vote. But unless he is able between now and next Tuesday to uncover some sort of smashing blow to the administration in Washington, we feel Mr. Dewey will be unable to surmount the obstacles which stand between him and the White House.

Governor Dewey is, first and foremost, attempting to win an election and to become President of the United States. But even if his effort fails in that regard, he is performing a service to the nation which should be appreciated by thoughtful Americans, regardless of their political leanings. For even though he likely will be defeated, if Governor Dewey comes out of the campaign with a large popular vote the New Dealers, from Mr. Roosevelt on down, will have notice served upon them that public opinion regarding their policies is sharply divided. Thus the excesses to which they might otherwise go will be curbed, to some extent, by the knowledge that they do not have everything their own way.

A heavy popular vote for Mr. Dewey will have a sobering effect upon the Congress. It will light the way toward a return to Constitutional government and away from a continuation of executive rule by "directive." And that is very important, because only through Constitutional government may we expect to retain any semblance of basic American freedom in the future.

Two days after the elections of 1936, when the New Deal stood at its highest tide, we voiced the opinion that it is not good for the nation for any political party to hold overwhelming power. Later events have borne out the logic of the opinion and to it we continue to subscribe.

Political Cases Have Capital Wondering

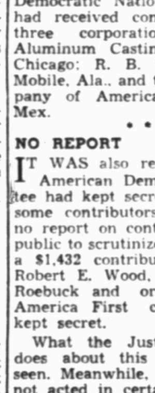

Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 — One thing capital observers will especially watch should Governor Dewey enter the White House, is whether he will prosecute certain political cases now before the Justice department.

Dewey has been hammering home the promise that he would clean up Washington and it so happens that some new political cases have just come up.

They involve alleged violations of the Corrupt Practices act, which requires that all political parties file a list of their contributions at regular intervals, and that no contributions be received from corporations.

PEARSON

Just a few days ago, the Senate Campaign Investigating committee unearthed the fact that Roosevelt-hating American Democratic National committee, whose high-sounding name is not to be confused with the regular Democratic National committee, had received contributions from three corporations — Advance Aluminum Casting company, of Chicago; R. B. Walker Co., of Mobile, Ala., and the Potash Company of America, Carlsbad, N. Mex.

NO REPORT

IT WAS also revealed that the American Democratic committee had kept secret the names of some contributors and had filed no report on contributors for the public to scrutinize. Among others, a $1,432 contribution from Gen. Robert E. Wood, head of Sears, Roebuck and organizer of the America First committee, was kept secret.

What the Justice department does about this remains to be seen. Meanwhile, however, it has not acted in certain other political cases, one being that of Cong. Eugene Cox of Georgia, Democrat, who was shown to have received $2,500 in compensation for getting a new wave length for a radio station in Albany, Ga.

This column is now in possession of certain hitherto unpublished official documents in the Congressman Cox case.

One document, a report signed by Wendell Berge, then assistant attorney general in charge of the Criminal division, categorically for violating Section 203, Title 18 of the U. S. code, which provides that a congressman cannot receive payment for representing anyone before a government agency.

COMPENSATION

ASSISTANT Attorney General Berge recommended to his superiors as follows:

"The case is quite complete now; we are prepared for, and I recommend, immediate presentation to the grand jury in Washington."

Berge reported:

"Receipt by registered mail of compensation in Washington in the shape of a certificate for 25 shares of stock in the Herald Broadcasting company of the par value of $100 per share is likewise established."

"Venue, in my opinion, consequently lies in Washington, although there is a 'wash' transaction involving the exchange of $2,500 checks between Cox and the radio station in Georgia, which the defense may argue demonstrates payment was made in Georgia."

Berge also transmitted to his superiors a long report prepared by an assistant, Raoul Berger, giving the detailed evidence against Congressman Cox. Among other things, it stated:

NO PROSECUTION

"THE documentary evidence leaves no doubt that Cox clients regarded him as their legal representative, that they believed Cox 'compelled' the Federal Communications commission to grant the license — as, in fact, he did —and that he was paid for his services."

However, Congressman Cox, an intimate poker-playing friend of Speaker Sam Rayburn, was never prosecuted. Should Governor Dewey be elected, the statute of limitations will not have run on this case. It would be interesting to see what Dewey would do.

NOTE — While not prosecuting Cox, the Justice department did indict Congressman James Curley, Democrat, former governor of Massachusetts, who helped manage Roosevelt's campaign for nomination at Chicago in 1932.

GLAMOR GIRL JUGGED

NEW DEAL glamor girl Evie Robert, wife of the former secretary of the Democratic National committee, was driving through Maryland, the other evening, with 70-year-old Charley Michelson, Democratic publicity sage. They had been visiting the farm of Julius Lally, proprietor of Harvey's restaurant, and were returning to Washington.

Mrs. Robert, who never does anything at a snail's pace, suddenly heard a policeman's siren behind her. She pulled over to the curb.

"Let me see your driver's license," demanded an irate Maryland state policeman. Mrs. Robert fumbled at length through her purse, finally pulled out a driver's permit.

The policeman looked at it unsatisfied. "Now let me see your registraton card," he demanded.

"Well, you can just find it yourself," replied Evie. "It's some place in this car and you will have to look for it."

The officer, unaccustomed to taking orders, nevertheless began to search. He started to look in the side pocket of Evie's car. "Why, officer, you are not even warm," taunted Mrs. Robert.

This was too much. The beauteous Evie promptly was locked up. She stayed there until Charley Michelson raked up some cash.

BIDS FOR CONGRESS

ELIZABETH Chilton Murray, first woman candidate for Congress in Virginia, is unique in that among the Virginia horsey set she doesn't ride a horse. She has three sons in the service, one of them named Phillip Murray, and friends of her opponent, Cong. Howard Smith, plan to use this against her. No relation to CIO leader Murray, she is the daughter of the late Senator Chilton of West Virginia, Woodrow Wilson's Senate leader.

Mrs. Murray's boosters have devised the campaign slogan, "Vote for a three-star mother against a triple-plated heel."

NOTES of an Innocent Bystander—The First Nights: It was the court jesters week in the theatrical kingdom. Main Stem palaces displayed three comedies. All of them attempted to put their best funnybones forward, but not all were knighted by the critical royaly that make aisle-seats their thrones . . . "Violet" was thrown into the dungeon. Mirrorman Coleman's epitaph: "A windy bore." The only thing that received a worse trimming last week was the Jap navy . . . The king of farce producers, George Abbott, offered "Snafu" (Army lingo). Some reviews tarnished Abbott's crown and others draped the show with purple robes. The H. Trib's Howard Barnes was among those who curtsied with: "A new hit has arrived" . . . "The Perfect Marriage" was the third comedy. The play was ordered to the guillotine, but the players were treated mercifully. Louis Kronenberger's verdict said: "An extremely disappointing play."

The Moom Pitchers: Lana Turner, whose marriages are always headlined, now appears in "Marriage Is a Private Affair." Lana carries on an absorbing cinema romance as though she invented kisses, while your eyes carry on a romance with Lana's Turners . . . A comedy, "Rainbow Island," stars a sarong, ably supported by Dotty Lamour. The lilts are infectious enough to have a juke box named after them . . . "Abroad with Two Yanks" exhibits some lusty, hair-on-the-chest humor, but more often the wheezes are tripping over their beards . . . "San Fernando Valley" offers a batch of scenicknacks — until the script ruins the view . . . A post-war theme is handled shabbily in "My Buddy," making it the first atrocity of peace . . . "Murders in the Blue Room" searches for goose-pimples and gets lost in a deep yawn . . . Hollywood entertainers overseas were shoved a fortnight ago. Last week Olivia DeHavilland was stricken with pneumonia while touring the Pacific war zones.

THE Radioracles: After expertly filling in for a popular comedy show during the summer, the brilliant "Words at War" program has been exiled to a Siberian spot on the dial—11:30 to midnight on Tuesdays. Most listeners are in dreamland at that time. What public-spirited sponsor will do the nation a favor by rescuing the exciting program? . . . You could clothe a line of chorines with the fur that flew while Mutual Forumites debated post-war treatment for Germany. Louis Nizer's potent common sense toppled the nice-neilyism arguments of his opponents . . . The Ozzie Nelson-Harriet Hilliard show is a pleasant diversion.

The Magazeens: Liberty's pages display Ray Josephs' thoughtful essay — revealing rusty spots in our Good Neighbor machinery . . . Another good piece is Ernest Lehman's short on a double-cross . . . If you absorb Sen. Ball's penetrating piece on Willkie in the Sat. Rev. of Literature, you'll understand why the senator refused to be confined by party lines . . . This is a repeat boost for John Roy Carlson's sizzler concerning lady Hitlers who aren't ladies (via The Woman). These gullible and dangerous females are used by vicious male Hitlerooters, who hide behind their showing slips . . . Norman Corwin composes literary music by playing his typewriter. He proves it again in Mademoiselle with an eloquent array of words saluting writers and other artists who were stung by the agonies of fascism long before the newsreel evidence arrived at the neighboring movie house.

THE Press Box: Add swelegant rapier retorts: The reply by the Times to the story about Laval's effects being auctioned: They went, was the observation, as he himself went, to the highest bidder . . . A Boston journal acidly commented that a major speech is an address in which a candidate calls his opponent a big bum, instead of a little one . . . Senator R. E. Willis (Rep. of Indiana) probably wrote an epitaph to his career with these words last week: "Democracy is majority rule and nothing is more ruthlessly dictatorial. Thank God we don't have it in the U. S."

Quotation Marksmanship: Chas. Dana Gibson: A lady is a woman who always remembers others and never forgets herself . . . Dwight Moody: I never met a man who has given me as much trouble as myself . . . J. Hamilton: Only a wise man knows if he fell in love or was trapped into it . . . Will Rogers: I don't make jokes. I just watch the government and report the facts . . . Olin Miller: A candidate has two distinct advantages in mud-slinging. He does not have to stoop far to reach mud; he is smaller than the average target . . . H. R. Warfel: He made words march like warriors against ignorance . . . Margaret Halsey: Bleak as the end of a love affair . . . M. Dooley: The man who gets fat under the belt isn't as bad as the man who gets fat under the hat.

Today's Thought

But take diligent heed to do the commandment and the law . . . to love the Lord your God, and to walk in all His ways, and to keep His commandments and to cleave unto Him and to serve Him with all your heart and with all your soul.—Joshua 22.5.

Memory Of Searchlights Long To Remain With Invasion Crew

Pyle Records Story Of "Miracle Of Sicily"

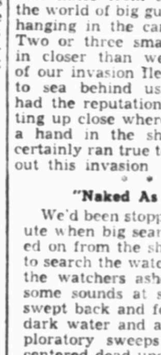

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ernie Pyle is resting following his service with frontline troops in Europe and next plans to go to the fighting zones of the Pacific. While he is on leave The Journal will puolish here some of Ernie's earlier articles, not previously printed in Lubbock, upon which first was built the mutual esteem between Pyle and "GI Joe.")

By ERNIE PYLE

WITH THE U. S. NAVY In The Mediterranean, July, 1943.—As long as this ship of ours sails the high seas, even after every member of the present crew has been transferred away, I'm sure the story of the searchlights will linger on in the wardroom and forecastle like a written legend.

It is the story of a few minutes when the fate of this ship hung upon the whim of the enemy. For some reason which we probably will never know the command to obliterate us was never given.

ERNIE PYLE

Our great, bad moment occurred just as we had ended our long invasion voyage from North Africa and stopped at our destination place off the south coast of Sicily. Our ship was about three and a half miles from shore, which in the world of big guns is practically hanging in the cannon muzzle. Two or three smaller ships were in closer than we but the bulk of our invasion fleet stood far out to sea behind us. Our Admiral had the reputation of always getting up close where he could have a hand in the shooting, and he certainly ran true to form throughout this invasion.

"Naked As Babies"

We'd been stopped only a minute when big searchlights blinked on from the shore and began to search the waters. Apparently the watchers ashore had heard some sounds at sea. The lights swept back and forth across the dark water and after a few exploratory sweeps one of them centered dead upon us and stopped. Then as we held our breaths the searchlights, one by one, came down with their beams upon our ship. They found their mark.

All five of them stretching out over a shore line of several miles pinioned us in their white shafts as we sat there as naked as babies and just as scared. I would have been glad to bawl like one if it would have helped for this searchlight business meant the enemy had us on the block. We not only were discovered, we were caught in a funnel from which there was no escaping.

WE couldn't possibly move fast enough to run out of their beams. We were within simple and easy gunning distance. We were a sitting duck. We were stuck on the end of five merciless poles of light. We were utterly helpless.

"When that fifth searchlight stopped on us all my children became orphans," one of the officers said later.

Another one said, "The straw that broke my back was when the anchor went down. The chain made so much noise you could have heard it in Rome."

A third one said, "The fellow standing next to me was breathing so hard I couldn't hear the anchor go down. Then I realized there wasn't anybody standing next to me."

We got all set to shoot at the lights but then we waited. Our admiral decided there was some possibility they couldn't see us through the slight haze, although he was at a loss to explain why all five lights stopped on us if they couldn't see us.

Not A Shot Fired

We had three alternatives—to start shooting and thus compel return fire; to up anchor and run for it; or sit quiet like a mouse and wait in terror. We did the latter.

I don't know how long the five lights were on us. It seemed like hours. It may have been five minutes. At any rate at the end of some unbelievably long time one of them suddenly blinked out. Then one by one, seemingly erratically and with no purpose in mind, the others went out, too. The last one held us a long time as though playing with us. Then it too went out and we were once again alone in the blessed darkness. Not a shot had been fired.

ASSAULT boats had been speeding past us all the time and a few minutes later they hit the beach. The searchlights flashed on again but from then on they were busy fanning the beach itself. It didn't take our attacking troops long to shoot the lights out from close range.

I'm not sure some of them weren't just turned out and left off for good. We've never yet found out for sure why the Italian big guns on the shore didn't let us have it. Several of us inquired around when we got ashore after daylight. We never found the searchlight men themselves, but from other Italian soldiers and citizens of the town we learned that the people ashore were so scared at whatever was about to attack them from out there on the water that they were afraid to start anything.

I guess I'm always going to have to love the Italians for anybody else behind those searchlights and guns that night and we of this ship would be telling our searchlight yarn to St. Peter by now.

Hunger Adds Edge To Greek Political Strife

ATHENS, Nov. 1 (AP) — Hunger is lending a new edge to the political strife in Greece and unless Premier George Papandreou can find a formula to reestablish and stabilize the drachma and organize speedy distribution of relief supplies further disorders appear almost inevitable.

In the last fortnight the drachma has depreciated from 700,000,000,000 (billion) to 8,000,000,000,000 (trillion) to a gold sovereign $(4.87).

A series of clashes have taken place in Athens between EAM-Elas partisan bands and members of the so-called "Exe" forces, whose members term themselves pro-royalists.

A large force of police patrolled the streets of Athens last night in an effort to prevent further disorders but bursts of small arms fire was heard.

Cases of malnutrition are frequent and the clearing of the streets of ordinary refuse is at a standstill for the lack of transportation. As a result authorities fear outbreaks of epidemic.

New Burma Drive

ican advisors, weapons and ammunition are forcing a slow way southward along the old Burma road.

The combination of the Salween Chinese, the Anglo-American-Chinese south of Myitkyina, and the British in the Imphal area has already spread the Japanese forces thinly over a perimeter more than 500 miles long.

London statements that strong British naval units are en route to the Far East increased an already strong belief that naval action in the Bay of Bengal may be forthcoming.

Naval Bases Limited

Although naval bases in India are limited, it is believed Indian ports could supply enough naval vessels to carry out landings on the coast of southern Burma in support of land action in the north. Last month British naval forces shelled the Nicobar islands. They saw no sign of life on those Jap-occupied islands and encountered no return fire from shore. Only desultory fire has been met with by British naval units shelling the South Burma coast.

Although any South Burma landing will undoubtedly be opposed, the area where possible landings may be made is so great that observers believe strong opposition would not develop until too late.

Allied air power in India and China both in supply transports and fighters and bombers, is so great that Japanese aircraft virtually has been driven from Burma airfields. When the Allies move by sea and land against Burma they will be almost continually under a protecting umbrella of American and British planes and land and sea supply will be greatly supplimented from the air.

The monsoon may very possibly break next May on an Allied army well on its way toward the reoccupation of Burma and the reopening of the old Burma road from Rangoon.

Idalou Boy To Attend National 4-H Meet

Bill Tanner of Idalou, Lubbock county 4-H club boy, has been selected as one of 19 Texas boys to attend the National 4-H club council in Chicago Dec. 3 to 6, it was announced today by Jason O. Gordon, county agent.

A 4-H club member for the last seven years, young Tanner has compiled an enviable record of achievements, which was a contributing factor in winning for him the expense-paid trip. His ability as an outstanding leader among the youth of his community was another.

Possibly the outstanding achievement was his personal sale of $24,750 in war bonds during the Fifth War Loan drive.

Tanner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Tanner of Idalou.

Allied Beachhead In Po Valley Improved

ROME, Nov. 1 (AP) — Eighth army forces have improved their beachhead across the Ronco river south of the Po valley stronghold o. Forli and have cleared the Germans from Meldola on the stream's west bank, Allied headquarters announced today.

German troops facing the Fifth army on the central sector south of Bologna were thrown into a series of heavy counterattacks yesterday in an effort to wipe out several Allied salients. American forces, sometimes fighting hand to hand, hurled them all back.

Only patrolling and artillery duels occurred elsewhere.

Medium bombers attacked bridges in the Po valley and lighter craft shot up enemy concentrations and communications. A small force of heavy bombers attacked targets in Yugoslavia.

Below Bologna the most determined enemy counterattack was launched against Americans holding a 2,000-foot hill about five and one-half miles southwest of Castel San Pietro on the Po valley highway.

It was a costly fight for both sides.

Shakeup In China

nouncement that they knew of no plans for him to come home.

3. Stated that Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, his special roving envoy, was still in China. Hurley, by most responsible accounts, went to China to try to help step up the war effort and get Chiang together with the Communists. The fact that he is still there suggests a belief in the continuing possibility of some success.

Clash Of Personalities

The President told reporters there was no connection, evidently meaning no direct connection, between the recall of Stilwell and the resignation of Gauss. He said that Stilwell's return was purely and simply a result of a clash of personalities between the general and Chiang Kai Shek and had nothing to do with strategy or policies.

For himself, Mr. Roosevelt said, he thinks that Stilwell has done supremely well.

Dispatches from correspondents recently returned from the China-Burma-India theater meanwhile reported deep-rooted Chinese-American difefrences over U. S. proposals to intensify China's war role.

Lloyd Stratton, writing in New York, said that during his visit to parts of unoccupied China in January and February, "the statement was made to me that it would be largely up to the American forces to win the war in China, with the aid of the British and the Chinese, in that order."

Chiang Feared Reprisal

"The basic reason," Stratton said, "why a relatively paltry amount of Chinese manpower was made available was due to Chiang Kai-Shek's reluctance to permit any large number of Chinese to be foreign trained or commanded in fear that in the course of time these same Chinese troops might turn against him."

Recognized reports of military, economic and financial fraternizing by the Chinese with the Japanese and vice versa were common in Chungking, Stratton related, adding:

"Dealings in contraband, including open barter and sale between the Japanese and Chinese near the front, were going on with the knowledge of the government, in some instances actually being encouraged.

Cigaret Shortage

$75 to $80 to retailers and saloons and up to $90 to night clubs. We cigaret manufacturers know the jobbers who are selling illegally, but we can't cut off their supplies legally."

Eric Calamea, president of the Retail Tobacco Dealers of America, confirmed the existence of the black market, but said it merely was causing an uneven distribution rather than contributing to the shortage.

Exports Running High

All manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers agreed that the basic causes of the shortages were, in order of importance; 30 to 50 per cent of popular brands output going to the armed forces; large but unknown quantities going to occupied and liberated countries; greatly increased civilian demand; a slight reduction in manufacturing output due to the manpower shortage; uneven distribution.

The cigaret shortage was causing some women in Cleveland to buy pipes. Co-eds on the campus of the University of Tennessee in Knoxville were smoking pipes, "dogpatch style."

Face Revenue Loss

States which tax cigarets were faced with reduced revenues. New York and Wisconsin were examples. New York's cigaret tax income was off $220,453 so far this fiscal period as compared with the same period of the last. Wisconsin's will be off an estimated $150,000 for the last quarter of this year.

Manufacturers insisted that civilian quotas of the popular brands—40 to 70 per cent of total production—were entering trade channels. Jobbers and sub-jobbers said they were passing them along to retailers. Yet a leading Chicago retailer said he was getting only 25 per cent of the limited stocks he got last fall. Chicago merchants were getting one small shipment each week.

No popular brands entered the San Francisco retail trade for 10 days in August, and for two weeks in September retailers got only one half of their quotas. Some 500 United Cigar stores scattered across the country were being rationed by their management. Each store may sell a specified number of packs each day and most of them selling their allotments before noon. A Chicago chain of tobacco stores was selling cigarets three hours a day, five days a week.

AIRCRAFT SHARES ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP) — Aircraft shares gave the stock market a bullish nod today but other departments were unresponsive and at the close prices were irregular.

Rails and some industrial leaders had support at slightly better levels in the early proceedings but many of the gains disappeared in the final hour. Transactions totaled about 700,000 shares.

Grumman was the best of the aviations, rising more than a point on a substantial turnover.

Stocks fractionally higher near the close included United Aircraft, Sperry, Lockheed, Bell Aircraft, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Kennecott and Texas Pacific Land Trust. Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, Philip Morris and Goodyear were among the losers.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP) — Cotton prices moved in a narrow range today as traders awaited further information on the export subsidy plan and the amount of cotton which farmers are going to sell under the purchase program. Light hedge selling and liquidation was offset by mill buying and local covering.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP) — The weakness of corn disturbed grain futures markets today and prices broke under the pressure of hedge selling and profit taking. Dealings were limited in all pits, indicating pre-election nervousness and the local character of the trade.

Wheat dropped more than a cent a bushel below the previous close late in the session and there was more activity as prices worked downward. The setback was in sympathy with other grains.

A late break in corn futures carried prices to new lows for the week.

At the close wheat was 1⅛ to 1¾ lower than yesterday's finish, December $1.62¾. Corn was down ⅝ to 1. December $1.08⅝. Oats were off ⅞ to 1¼, December 63-63⅛. Rye was off 1⅛ to 2⅛, December $1.69-1.69⅛. Barley was ¾ to 1⅝ lower, December $1.02½.

Navy Photographer Is Heir To Island Throne

HOUSTON, Nov. 1 (U.P.) — Jack Richburg, an honest-to-goodness New Hebrides prince, was home from the war today with an invitation to return some day and claim his wild and woolly Pacific kingdom.

Richburg, a 23-year-old Navy photographer, revealed on his return home that his photographic skill won the favor of the king of the New Hebrides and made him an heir to the native throne.

The king — Frank was his name —was overwhelmed when Richburg photographed him and urged the sailor to "come back and stay with me as long as you wish."

Richburg says he's thinking it over — but not very seriously.

Agreement Is Believed Under Study To End Texas U. Rift

Ed Kelly, Sen. Lucas Accused In Removal Of Ballot Officer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said last night Mayor Edward Kelly of Chicago and Senator Lucas (D-Ill) had obtained removal of a naval ballot officer.

He identified the officer to a news conference as Lt. Comdr. Edward McGinnis and said the fact that the officer was a Republican was the only reason he knew for the removal.

Undersecretary of the Navy Ralph Bard, informed of Ferguson's statement, said he had found that McGinnis, who was to have directed distribution of service ballots in the Pacific area, had been an active partisan political worker in Chicago.

Requested Transfer

And, he said, "to save both McGinnis and the Navy from any possible criticism," he was transferred to other work in the Navy which he requested.

Ferguson reported that Mayor Kelly, at a Washington party last June, had said he was going to the White House, protest McGinnis as a ballot officer, and see that he was removed. A few days later, he said, Bard advised Navy Captains Edward A. Hayes and William D. Puleston that Lucas reported he had informed Kelly he would carry McGinnis' case to the secretary of the Navy.

Subsequently, Ferguson said, Bard put McGinnis in another position, telling him no reflection was intended and that he (Bard) was doing something he didn't want to do.

Quadruplets Born By Caesarean Operation

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1. (U.P.)—Quadruplets, three girls and a boy, were born today to Mrs. Joseph Cirminello, 30, Upper Darby, Pa., at the Lying-In hospital.

The babies were delivered by a Caesarean operation, probably the first in the history of quadruplet births, performed by Dr. John C. Ullery of the hospital staff.

The hospital reported the condition of Mrs. Cirminello and the babies as good.

The babies were not weighed but physicians estimated that each weighed between three and 3 3/4 pounds. Their birth was six weeks premature.

Dr. Ullery, her personal physician, said that the delivery was by a continual spinal anesthesia, and that Mrs. Cirminello was conscious but had no pain during the birth.

Her eyes were bandaged, and she did not know that she was giving birth to four children. The delivery, at 11:12 a. m., took approximately fifteen minutes.

Transfusions Kept Gunn Alive 72 Hours

WITH FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION, Leyte, Oct. 29. (Delayed) (AP)—Stanley B. Gunn, 31, of the Fort Worth, Tex., Star-Telegram and the Houston Chronicle died today in an Army hospital here, second war correspondent victim of a Japanese aerial bomb explosion on Oct. 26, which also resulted in the death of Asahel Bush, 32, of the Associated Press, formerly of Salem, Oregon.

Only his fighting spirit and whole blood donations in large quantities by his fellow correspondents kept Gunn alive for more than 72 hours in the opinion of the 58th evacuation hospital surgeon who attended him.

Capts. Walter N. Boyd, of Denver, Colo., and Elmer S. Eddins, of Memphis, Tenn., said the immediate cause of death was an embolism.

Gunn's body was interred alongside that of Bush in the U. S. Army cemetery. Airforce Chaplain Howard Johnson of Fort Worth, Tex., conducted simple services attended en masse by war correspondents.

Hearing On Slaughter Pool Set For Nov. 28

AUSTIN, Nov. 1. (AP)—The railroad commission gave notice today of the following hearing:

Nov. 28—To determine whether or not the northern confines of the Slaughter pool in Cochran county should be extended to include all wells and leases lying as far north as labor 8 in league 62 of the Midland county school land.

HOUSTON, Nov. 1 (U.P.) — The University of Texas board of regents, a three-man university faculty committee and the ex-students association committee split up for meetings among themselves at noon today, indicating they had begun consideration of an agreement to end the controversy between regents and President Homer P. Rainey.

The four-man ex-students committee, headed by Judge W. H. Francis of Dallas, went into a closed session with Dr. Rainey and J. Alton Burdine, university vice president. Simultaneously, the faculty committee, headed by Dr. Frederick Duncalf, began a separate conference, and the regents continued their discussions.

Only One Statement

No official word, further than a possibly significant statement by Malcolm Wallace, president of the U. T. student association, last night, had come out of the conference rooms.

Wallace had been authorized by the regents to tell newsmen: "Things don't look so bad."

Wallace had conferred for his first time with the regents for more than an hour yesterday afternoon. Meeting reporters as he left the Rice hotel conference room, Wallace said the regents had authorized him to say that progress was being made toward a solution.

Meet Ex-Students' Group

Earlier in the day, Dr. Rainey and Vice President J. Alton Burdine—who also has figured in the dispute—met a group representing the ex-students association council for an hour and a half conference. They would not say what was discussed.

The regents opened their meeting with the ex-students and faculty groups at 9 a.m. yesterday, and were in session until 10 p. m., except for a brief recess for lunch and for 30 minutes yesterday afternoon out of respect for the late Dr. K. H. Aynesworth, one of their members who died Monday in Waco.

Four men representing the ex-students group are Judge W. H. Francis of Dallas, Judge Joseph Hutcheson, jr., of Houston, R. L. Bobbitt of San Antonio and H. C. Pitkin of Amarillo. The faculty committee included Dr. Frederick Duncalf of the history department, Dr. T. S. Painter of the biology department, and Judge R. W. Stayton of the law school.

Yesterday's and today's extraordinary and executive sessions are the outgrowth of the regents' regular two-day meeting in Houston last Friday and Saturday.

At Saturday's meeting, Dr. Duncalf asked both sides to iron out their differences for the good of the university, and charged the regents with "nearsightedness." He offered the faculty's co-operation as a third party," in arriving at a solution, and praised the faculty as a conservative group.

Earlier in the meeting, Dr. Ralph Himstead of Washington, secretary of the powerful American Association of University Professors had asked the regents to re-employ three economics professors who had been fired after participating in a labor meeting in Dallas two years ago.

LEGISLATION PLANNED

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 1. (AP)—Legislation to force presidential electors to vote for their party nominees is to be introduced at an extaordinary session of the state legislature called to convene here Thursday at noon.

REPORTER FOUND DEAD

BEAUMONT, Nov. 1. (U.P.)—A. R. Kriechbaum, 58-year-old Beaumont Journal reporter, was found dead in his hotel room here early today. Death was believed to have resulted from natural causes.

News Briefs

Martin W. Waldron, manager of the local U. S. Employment Service office, has been elected president of the Amarillo chapter of the International Association of Public Employment Service for 1944-45, he was informed today. The chapter has 46 members.

Mrs. A. R. Osborn of 1924 Twenty-fourth reported to police today a lawn chair had been stolen there.

Maj. Bernard C. Morris of Dallas, public relations secretary for the Salvation Army, addressed the Rotary club at its weekly luncheon today in Hilton hotel, on work done on the battle and home fronts. Mrs. O. L. Byrd, past member of the Girls Scout council in Lubbock, spoke briefly on that organization, which this week is observing National Girl Scout week. Out-of-Lubbock guests were O. L. Peterman and Homer Winston, both of Brownfield, and Adj. William Pike of Dallas, Salvation Army, youth director for Texas. New members recognized were George Walters and N. F. Nelson. Fred McDonald was introduced as Junior Rotarian for November. C. A. Bestwick is club president.

The Texas State Highway patrol in Brownfield reported to Lubbock police this morning theft of a black 1942 Ford coupe bearing Texas license number K88-816, and a four-wheel cotton trailer, both stolen at Brownfield Tuesday night.

Services for L. B. Mathis, 54, of route 2, Post, who died suddenly at Anson late Tuesday, will be conducted at Southland at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Real Estate Loans Relaxed For Vets

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — National banks can make "second loans" on real estate to veterans without violating the federal reserve act.

A Treasury ruling said the action was designed to help the 5,000 National banks take a large part in lending money to veterans to buy or build homes under the serviceman's readjustment act (G. I. bill of rights) of 1944.

The federal reserve act prohibits a National bank from making real estate loans on property put up as security for a previous loan.

But Preston Delano, comptroller of the currency, said that when such second loans are guaranteed by the Veterans administration, in accordance with the G. I. bill, they will not be considered real estate loans within the meaning of the federal reserve act.

The reason, he said, is that the bank's primary security is the loan guaranty certificate issued by the Veterans administration.

Under the G. I. bill, second loans may not be more than 20 per cent of the purchase price or cost of a home.

Lubbock Man Is Held In Denver Burglary

Dale N. Hall, 22, held in Denver for investigation into church burglaries there, gave Lubbock as his home—"but the record shows penitentiaries and reform institutions would be a more apt description of residence," police said after checking the man's record.

Hall, captured by a priest when in the act of taking a large sum of money from a Denver church, was sentenced Oct. 22, 1939, from Lynn county for burglary; on May 21, 1942, from Briscoe county for burglary; on July 8, 1943 from Lynn county for burglary, and was arrested Oct. 22, 1940, by the U. S. deputy marshal and sent to a federal institution for postoffice burglary, "presumably at O'Donnell."

Captured in Denver with Hall was William E. Crutcher, 23, who, according to FBI records, was sentenced for burglary in Dallas county Oct. 9, 1942, as outgrowth of three burglary cases.

Lone B-29 Attacked By 79 Jap Planes; Escapes Undamaged

A B-29 BASE IN WESTERN CHINA, Nov. 1 (AP)—Seventy-nine Japanese fighter planes ganged up on a single American B-29 bomber over their own home islands recently and not only failed to so much as scratch it but had seven of their own planes shot down and two damaged by the bomber's gunners, interrogation officers disclosed today.

This four-hour running battle, described as undoubtedly the severest test ever made of a B-29's defenses, began over Kyushu when a flight of nine new Japanese pursuit planes jumped the bomber just as it was heading home after a bombing raid.

The Japanese were skilled and determined, and the American pilot, Maj. J. C. Sigenmann of Springfield, Ill., said, "they came so close I could read their dog tags."

Lt. Col. Edward J. Potter of Austin, Texas, who was a headquarters observer aboard the bomber, reported the gunnery system functioned perfectly and the gunners coordinated their fire so well that they put a metal "fence" around the besieged Superfortress. Three of this attacking force were shot down before the others broke off after a 150-mile chase.

Immediately ten new Japanese fighters showed up and began a series of eager attacks. After 125 more miles, four of them had been downed and the others gave up the chase. They evidently had called up the reserves, however, for off the China coast 60 fighters rose to meet the bomber.

These last attackers were described as reluctant to close, and Superfortress gunners, running low on ammunition, reserved their fire for the few who meant business. Two of these were damaged.

As a final quirk to an exciting trip, the B-29 landed unscathed.

Tokyo Raided, Japs Report

Wednesday (Tokyo time).

One broadcast, recorded by the Federal Communications commission, giving detailed instructions on combatting fires in inflamable Tokyo, said "an enemy plane suddenly raided part of the Kanto region," an important industrial area covering the entire area around the capital and embracing several prefectures.

Planes Said Driven Off

"Several enemy four-motored bombers" roared over the capital at 1 p.m. but were driven off, the first Tokyo report said.

A later broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said:

"Latest reports disclose only one enemy plane, a B-29 bomber, and not two as believed earlier, appeared over Tokyo early this afternoon." Half an hour later, the broadcast continued, "without attempting attacks, the enemy plane fled in a southerly direction."

Doolittle Raid Recalled

The contradiction of succeeding reports recalled the confusion among Tokyo broadcasters when Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle's bombers struck the city, April 18, 1942. This is the first report of American planes over the city since then.

At the time of the Marianas invasion there was much speculation that engineers would build a huge base on Saipan for Tokyo-raiding B-29s. There has never been any confirmation that such a base was developed.

Neither China-based Superforts nor any other land-based bombers have previously been reported over Tokyo.

Fire Precaution Urged

Tokyo announcers issuing detailed fire precaution instructions, and warned "Japanese homes are firetraps."

An air raid alarm was sounded, and the "air defense central headquarters" issued instructions concerning an "enemy raid."

The broadcasts first reported the planes were driven away by fighters, "before they could do any mischief."

Later, Tokyo radio reported "an enemy plane suddenly raided part of the Kanto region," an important industrial area on the southeastern side of metropolitan Tokyo.

Believed From Marianas

It added, "the plane is believed to have come from an American base in the Marianas." Americans hold air bases on Saipan, Tinian and Guam in that group.

The use of the term "four-motored bombers" indicated the planes were B-29 Superforts. Although these giant planes have hit the Japanese home islands six times before, they had not previously reached Tokyo.

The capital was raided last on April 18, 1942 by carrier-launched bombers under Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle.

FCC monitors said reception of the broadcasts was poor, and a complete text could not be obtained. A series of broadcasts followed the first reports of the enemy flight, and Japanese propagandists swiftly claimed the planes had been sent as a "Roosevelt face-saving aerial stunt" to cover the alleged "American debacle" off Formosa and the Philippines before the election.

The announcer said "if one follows instructions he will be able to put out the fire easily."

This indicated havoc had been caused, although none of the broadcasts reported that bombs were dropped, beyond the blanket implication of the "raid" by one plane.

Roosevelt-Campaign

about party finances—and he said why not start a "hundred thousand dollar club," according to his version, the idea was laughed down, as was another suggestion for a "ten thousand dollar club."

Suggested By President

The President said he then suggested a "thousand dollar club" and his conferees thought that might be of some help. And that, the President said, was the last he heard of it until a gentleman from Chicago—Frank J. Lewis, president of the "thousand dollar clubs"—saw him sometime later and gave him a certificate of membership.

The President said he hadn't thought he was eligible but he had made his regular campaign contribution of $1,000 to the Democratic party and got in turn the certificate of membership worth, as the President put it, about half a cent.

Jesse Jones Broadcasts

Elsewhere on the fourth term front, Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones said in a radio speech last night that the "best interests of the United States and the world call for the continuance in office of Franklin D. Roosevelt at this time."

He stressed that no one could say or promise definitely now as to the day of full peacetime reconversion, what tax rates will have to be, or when all government controls can be removed.

"We do know," he added, "that President Roosevelt has said that the controls will be released at the earliest possible moment."

PRESIDENT WILL SPEAK ONLY FIFTEEN MINUTES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — President Roosevelt's radio address from the White House tomorrow night will take up only 15 minutes of a half-hour political program starting at 8 p. m. (CWT).

The White House said today the remainder of the program will be filled in by the Democratic National committee.

The President's speech will be broadcast by NBC. White House Secretary Stephen Early said he could not give a line on the subject to be discussed.

Cooperation Of China Lessened

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The overall picture of the events surrounding Chiang Kai-Shek's successful demand for General Stilwell's recall (on charges which Washington doesn't accept) is that of the generalissimo gambling heavily with the international relations and prestige of the globe's most populous country.

Chiang's insistence on Stilwell's recall appears to have been incidental to broader issues involving American attempts to strengthen China's war effort. To recapitulate these on thumbnail, they included a request for reorganization of Chiang's cabinet to eliminate reactionary and anti-foreign members, and a request that an American general be placed in command of Chinese operations not only in Burma but elsewhere.

Fails To Make Agreement

Disappointment also is said to have been expressed with Chiang's failure to make an agreement with the northern Chinese Communists so that both the Red troops, and the central government forces which are blockading them, could be combined and thrown against the Japanese. This civil strife is one of China's greatest weaknesses.

The generalissimo gave way only on the appointment of an American commander for field operations, and even then demanded Stilwell's recall — possibly as a face-saving expedient. Thus in effect Chiang has adopted an attitude of greatly lessened cooperation with the Allies.

No longer ago than the recent Dumbarton Oaks conference to lay plans for a world peace organization, China was accorded the position of one of the "Big Four" — along with America, Britain and Russia. The idea was that China, with her 500,000,000 people, would assume leadership in the post-war Orient.

Now the Chinese weaknesses which have been emphasized by the present imbroglio immediately give rise to the question whether China can expect to qualify for membership with the Big Three. That's something which we shouldn't answer hastily, pending developments. It depends on China's further attitude.

News Briefs

The body of Mrs. John Straw of White Deer was sent to Bartlesville, Okla., by Rix Funeral home this morning for burial. Mrs. Straw died late Tuesday in Lubbock General hospital. She is survived by her husband, three sons, mother, brother and four sisters, none of whom live in this area.

Mrs. Alyene Furgeson, district clerk, said Tuesday that Mrs. Winnie Williamson had taken the oath as deputy district clerk and her bond will be presented for action of the county commissioners court at its Nov. 13 regular session. The appointment is temporary, pending her selection of a deputy to replace Elmo Payne, who Tuesday afternoon left for Amarillo, where he was appointed last week as clerk of the court of civil appeals for the seventh supreme judicial district.

The War department made public today the names of 2,389 U. S. soldiers wounded in action, including Pvt. Thomas M. Garland, grandson of William Osburn McCamant, Route 1, Lubbock, and Pvt. Frank Skinner, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skinner, sr., 1305 Ave. R.

A representative of the National Nursing Council for War service, Alice Marcella Fay, conferred this morning with Texas Tech students and faculty members about openings now and after the war in the fields of nursing education and administration. Miss Fay, assistant professor of public health nursing at Incarnate Word college, San Antonio, also discussed the U. S. Cadet Nurse corps.

Recovery Tuesday afternoon of a heavy automobile stolen Sept. 30 from Mrs. Roscoe Wilson of Lubbock was reported by the sheriff's department, which had been informed it had been abandoned in Slaton. Ernest Ward, chief of Slaton police, said a motorist had pushed the car to a curb when the driver of the Wilson car, a youth who later disappeared, indicated the machine had run out of gasoline. Mrs. Wilson was out of Lubbock and it had not been determined whether the car had been damaged. It had women's clothing and blankets in it.

Thief of gasoline coupons worth 150 gallons of gasoline, an Army discharge and other papers was reported to police Tuesday by A. R. McMurtrey of route 1 O'Donnell. Charles Walters said someone had ransack his car and taken the title papers to his light truck, insurance policies and his marriage license.

Police asked this morning that persons who have had bicycles stolen from them in recent months go to the police station and "look over the stack of approximately 20 bikes and parts of bikes we have recovered." Owners of missing "wheels" were asked to bring identification papers to facilitate transfer of their property.

Theft of a 1937 Oldsmobile sedan, license 971-385, from J. H. Bellomy of Country Club addition was reported to police. It was parked at Tenth and Ave G. A tire and wheel were stolen from the automobile of Mrs. Arthur Pierce of 1517 Twenty-third.

Police records this morning showed that no arrests had been made since 8:25 o'clock the morning before—"decidedly unusual in the harvest time." Only three arrests had been made all Tuesday, for vagrancy and for drunkenness and disturbance.

In 1846, the U. S. Navy condemned the USS Allegheny, second U. S. iron warship, as unsuited for war purposes.

Douglas A. Chism Is Given Air Medal

AIR TRANSPORT COMMAND BASE, India.—The Air Medal has been awarded to Pfc. Douglas A. Chism, of 2016 Sixth, Lubbock, Texas, for "meritorious achievement," according to an announcement by Brig. Gen. William H. Tunner, commanding general of the India-China division, Air Transport command.

Pfc. Chism has been serving with the division since Sept. 2, 1943, as an aerial radio operator on the giant transport planes which haul vital military cargo to Allied forces fighting the Japanese in China, crossing the treacherous north Burma "Hump" of the Himalayas.

The citation making the award credited Pfc. Chism with "more than 150 hours of operational flight in transport aircraft over the difficult and dangerous Assam-China air routes where enemy interception and attack was probable and expected." The order adds:

"Flying at night as well as by day, at high altitudes over impassable mountainous terrian through areas characterized by extremely treacherous weather conditions necessitating long periods of operation on instruments . . . requiring courageous and superior performance of duties to overcome . . . he accomplished his mission with distinction. . . ."

CIO Members Take AFL Seats On Board

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — Two members of the CIO stepped up to occupy American Federation of Labor seats on the War Labor board today, as the AFL withdrew temporarily from WLB proceedings.

Thus supplied with its full complement of four labor representatives, the board went ahead with consideration of so-called "fringe" demands of the CIO steelworkers, who also are seeking wage hikes above the level of the little steel formula.

Objection to consideration of such cases until some general policy has been enunciated on whether the little steel formula should be breached led to the withdrawal of WLB's AFL members, George Meany and Matthew Woll.

John Brophy and Neil Brant of the CIO were designated to take their places temporarily, joining with R. J. Thomas of the CIO auto workers and Emil Rieve of the CIO textile workers to close up the gap in labor representation, and go ahead with the steelworkers' "fringe" demands.

Committee May Aid In Solons' Defeat

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Sidney Hillman, chairman of the National Citizens Political Action committee, predicted today that the organization's campaign efforts would result in the defeat of at least 25 U. S. representatives.

He told a luncheon meeting of the religious associates of NCPAC that "it is my opinion that we will make at least 25 changes to the good in Congress." He explained he was referring only to the House of representatives.
