30 Hour Truce Is Set For Viet Nam Troops

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. troops and South Vietnamese troops looked ahead today to a 30-hour Christmas truce. But the fighting continued its bloody course with a 50-plane raid on North Viet Nam's Uong Bi power plant and ground clashes in which 90 Viet Cong were claimed killed.

A U.S. spokesman said the power plant 14 miles northeast of Haiphong, which supplied 15 per cent of North Viet Nam's electricity, was "completely knocked out." But three U.S. planes were shot down, one by a surface-to-air missile.

Allied soldiers welcomed the possibility of a brief rest in the jungle war, although there will be no respite in vigilance against Communist attack. The cease-fire ordered by the U.S. and Vietnamese military commands will begin at 6 p.m. Friday and continue until midnight Christmas night.

There was no immediate response from the Communists to the U.S. extension of the Reds' truce offer. But like the Viet Cong offer two weeks ago of a 12-hour Christmas truce beginning at 7 p.m. Christmas Eve, the U.S.-South Vietnamese directive to the troops in the field did not ask for a Communist response. The allied commanders said their soldiers would not fire except in self defense and implied there would be no air raids on North Viet Nam during the 30 hours.

U.S. Navy planes ran through a barrage of ground-fire in the third attack in two weeks on the Uong Bi power plant. Two Skyhawks were shot down by conventional antiaircraft fire. A two-seat RA5C Vigilante reconnaissance fighter-bomber was the missile's victim. The losses raised the number of planes downed over North Viet Nam since last February to above 160.

Pilots sighted the parachutes of two of the four airmen but no rescue was possible because of the location, the spokesman said.

"Uong Bi is no more," he reported. The earlier attacks were reported to have knocked out the main power units.

On the ground, government forces inflicted losses on the Communists in three actions but the Viet Cong overran an important outpost guarding Route 9 near the North Vietnamese frontier 420 miles northeast of Saigon. The defenders were scattered or killed.

South Vietnamese troops and their U.S. advisers on a patrol near the Khe Son special forces camp caught a Viet Cong unit in a crossfire Wednesday, killing 25 Reds. But early today the Communists captured the nearby Huong My outpost and fought off a battalion of government reinforcements seeking to retake the position in the rugged mountains near Laos.

The fighting took place on the northern edge of Route 9, which leads from the Viet Cong sanctuary at Tchepone, in Laos, into South Viet Nam's northernmost Quang Tri Province.

Other government troops killed 52 guerrillas and captured a large store of weapons in the rice fields of the Mekong Delta in Chung Thun Province 105 miles southwest of Saigon, a U.S. spokesman reported. Vietnamese losses were light, he said.

South Korean Marines joined government paratroopers in a multi-battalion search-and-destroy operation northeast of Tuy Hoa, in the central highlands 240 miles northeast of Saigon. Thirteen Viet Cong were killed and 27 were captured, the spokesman said. Allied casualties were not known.

Three Tracts Acquired For New Lake

Three tracts, aggregating over 1,800 acres, have been acquired for the new lake near Robert Lee.

O. H. Ivie, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, said that purchase agreements have been signed by the district and three land owners, and that negotiations are underway on at least two others.

While the land under agreement is about one - tenth of that which will be needed for the entire project, it is approximately half of that required for the damsite. So far as possible, the district is attempting to get the land in the dam area first.

The CRMWD has reached agreement within appraised figures, the general manager said.

As rapidly as other appraisals and surveys are put in the land committee's hands, negotiations will be started, Ivie added. However, there will be a limit to what can be purchased until revenue bonds for the project are issued.

So far, the district has been making the purchases out of advances from the improvement and extension fund.

If progress continues at the present rate, CRMWD may still hold to its time table of a mid-year letting of the huge project to impound a lake of 488,000 acre feet.

YULE MESSAGE

Pope Makes Peace Plea

VATICAN CITY (AP) — In a clear reference to Viet Nam, Pope Paul VI appealed Thursday night in his Christmas message to the world for "just and sincere negotiation to restore order and friendship."

He put the Roman Catholic Church squarely behind all efforts for a settlement of the Viet Nam fighting, saying "is not the first contribution which the Church can offer, from her position in the midst of the world, to give, promote and teach peace?"

"At this very moment," he added, "we are making a new plea for peace — and this, not simply because peace is a good thing in itself but also because it is a good thing which is in such danger today."

The Pope did not specifically name Viet Nam but he spoke in unmistakable terms.

His urging for peace and negotiation carried forward his speech of just four days ago when he appealed for a Christmas cease-fire in Viet Nam and asked world leaders to pursue all possibilities for negotiations.

Word that a Christmas cease-fire was to be undertaken by U.S. and South Vietnamese forces was rushed to the Pope earlier today and he was reported to be "extremely gratified."

There was no mention in his speech of the cease-fire, however.

The Christmas message, the third of his reign, was prerecorded Wednesday for radio and television broadcast by the Vatican and by networks throughout Europe and elsewhere.

Storm Shifts To Central Plains Area

By The Associated Press

A snow and sleet storm described by the Weather Bureau as potentially dangerous shifted today from the Southwest toward the balmy Central Plains.

Heavy snow descended on the Rocky Mountains. A three-inch fall at Flagstaff in northern Arizona brought the ground cover depth to 17 inches. Salt Lake City and Casper, Wyo., picked up an inch as the storm developed and sent white cover across Nebraska.

Glaze developed north of the snow into central Minnesota and eastern South Dakota.

Movement of the distrubance was sped by contrasting cold from the intermountain region and record warm, moist Gulf air which gave Kansas City, Mo., a reading of 60 degrees around dawn.

Nighttime temperatures in the [illegible]

In the West, Burns, Ore., east of the Casades, had a low reading of 8 below zero.

The Weather Bureau warned travelers in the plains area to heed forecasts on the storm's rapid development, asserting, "this is a potentially dangerous winter storm." Livestock raisers in central Nebraska were advised to take precautions to protect cattle from heavy snow.

Soviet Aid To Cong Slowed By Chinese

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — East European diplomats claimed today that Communist China is seriously slowing the transit of Soviet arms and supplies to North Viet Nam.

"In normal circumstances it should take no more than 10 days for these goods to reach North Viet Nam from Soviet territory using railroad routes through China," said one diplomat. "The average time these consignments are taking now is about two months."

The diplomat declined to be identified even by nationality. Similar reports came independently from representatives of two other East European countries. They said Peking's obstruction is part of its struggle with Moscow for predominant influence in Hanoi.

The Soviet Union and North Viet Nam signed a new aid agreement in Moscow Tuesday. The East European diplomats said the Soviets have been sending considerable quantities of antiaircraft armament and jet fighters to North Viet Nam as well as medical supplies for which the Soviets have launched a nationwide fund campaign.

The informants said they assumed the Chinese were holding up the Soviet shipments in railroad depots or on side tracks where it could be kept out of sight.

There is no way of checking the claim of the European Communist diplomats, whose governments side with Moscow in the Soviet - Chinese power struggle. On Nov. 11 the official Peking People's Daily accused the Russians of "spreading the lie that China obstructed the transit of Soviet military equipment for Viet Nam." Peking also said at the time that Soviet "aid to Viet Nam is far from commensurate with the strength of the Soviet Union."

The city has twice turned down the club's applications for a cabaret license.

NOT JUST FAT MAN WITH WHISKERS—

Santa Is Spirit Of Love, Kindess

By The Associated Press

Around Christmas time people have to be careful about how they think of Santa Claus, or they'll wind up getting him stereotyped.

Sure, he's fat and rosy cheeked and wears a red suit.

But he also can be clean shaven and work the throttle of a train — or sit on top of a house and talk to toddlers over a telephone.

Santa Claus is this and much more. He's love and kindness and the spirit of good will that descends on mankind this time of year. Here are a few of his many faces.

"I am fat and I have blue eyes and rosy cheeks and a [illegible]" Raymond A. Harrey, a funeral director in Revere, Mass., [illegible] has taken his vacation in December to be Santa Claus in schools, hospitals, or any place there are children.

In Grinder's Switch, Tenn., Santa Claus wears an engineer's cap and rides the crooked rails through the wooded hills, tossing candy the year round to his young friends.

But at Christmas, Frank Easley pulls his train to a halt beside the Merrie Acres school, run by the Seven-day Adventists for underprivileged children.

"Here he comes," one youngster yelled at the sound of the diesel horn in the distance. The 15 youngsters were ready for Easley with a gift of their own [illegible] "Playing patience from ice cream [illegible]" [illegible] tributed four bushel baskets of gaily wrapped gifts. "I know what it is," cried one boy. "It's a model car. That's my hobby." And sure enough, it was.

For everyone, there was candy and nuts. For the girls, dolls, for the boys, model cars. And for Steve Dulworth, the biggest present is yet to come. Easley learned that the youngster is very nearsighted and he arranged through a civic club in Dickson to have him fitted with glasses. He'll get them next week.

The kids never see Eddie Rollins but they hear from him at Christmas. He's post office superintendent at Winlock, Wash., and he answers all the notes [illegible] Claus.

"I call the parent of each [illegible] how the youngster is doing in school, if he keeps his room clean and his toys picked up," Rollins said.

"Then, when I write back, I explain I can't promise to give them everything they want. This way I get the parents off the hook."

Charles Reisinger is an Olympian figure beaming down over a set of white whiskers from the top of his home in Miami, Fla. Down below the toddlers call him on a telephone to tell him of their heart's desires.

Draft Standards May Be Eased

By W. JOYNES MACFARLAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Department and Selective Service System officials are considering making draft-eligible some 2 million men previously rejected as unfit to serve except in an emergency.

Reporting this today, Selective Service officials said the military buildup to support the war in Viet Nam may make this necessary within two or three months. As of Nov. 30, there were 2,122,918 in this 1-Y category.

"We want to look hard at the possibility of using some of these men who maybe barely failed to qualify, who maybe were a few pounds under the minimum weight limit or had some minor physical or mental defect," one official said.

"It would take a change in the [illegible] group available for re-examination and possible induction but [illegible] up an individual for re-examination if it has reason to think he could qualify for induction due to a change in his physical condition," he added.

Any change in draft standards would be up to the Pentagon. The Selective Service official would only say that: "We've already started having discussions with defense regarding reconsideration of the 1-Ys, who have been examined and found qualified for service only in an emergency."

Standards for the draft have been revised periodically over the years. In recent years, for example, mental aptitude standards have been stiffened.

The reason for considering calling the 1-Ys, the official added, is simply that: "We are almost completely out of our prime source of manpower — the [illegible] through 25 who are single and [illegible] their physical examination [illegible]

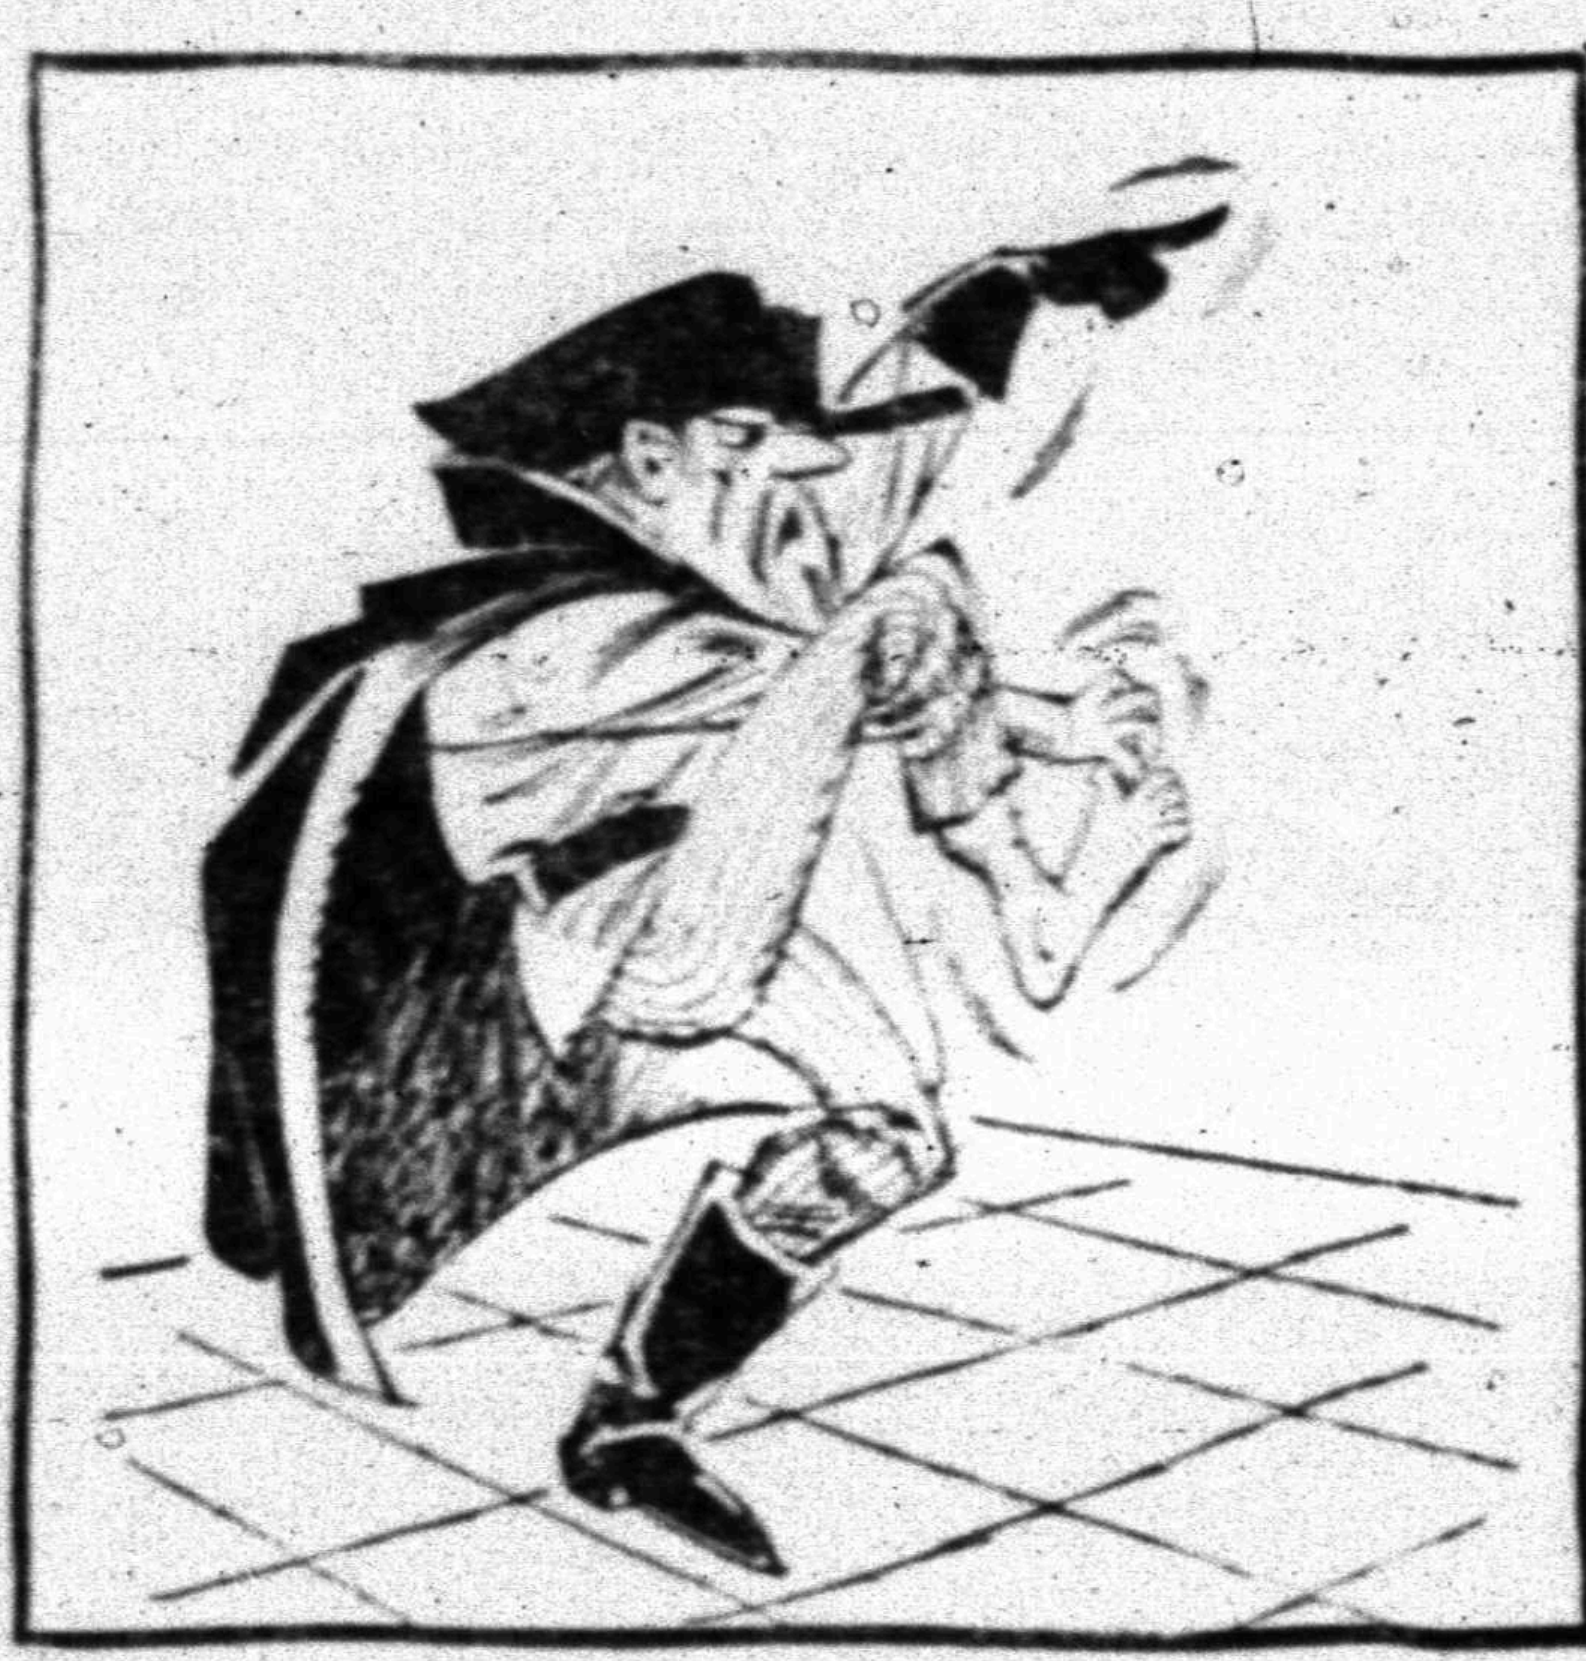
Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE



Twisting the ring on his toe, the Voodoo man screamed his curse.

Synopsis: The Voodoo man reveals his power is a ring on his toe. He discovers that Mr. D and the boy are not really Santa and the Princess.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN
THE X MARK

Santa and the Princess were hiding under a tin washtub in the palace kitchen. They heard the Voodoo man running through the palace hunting for them, and they knew he had discovered who Mr. D and the little boy really were.

"He'll find us!" whispered the Princess. "We can't stay here."

It was true they couldn't stay there, but they didn't dare come out from under the tub. They did the only thing they could think of. They started crawling out of the room inside the washtub.

At the moment the Voodoo man came into the kitchen. He stared at the crawling washtub in amazement. Then he beamed with pleasure, for he knew what made the tub move.

He took a mighty swing with his right foot and sent the tin tub high in the air and skittering against the ceiling. On the floor sat Santa and the Princess. Helpless.

But the Voodoo man gave a howl of pain and fell over in a faint. He had forgotten that his shoe was off. The mighty kick had smashed the toe that wore the secret ring of woven hair.

Mr. D and the little boy crept into the kitchen. When they saw what had happened Mr. D cried, "The ring is his secret power. Take it off quickly!"

But the Voodoo man's toe had swelled to the size of an orange and no power on earth could pull the ring over the bulge.

The Princess snatched a pair of scissors from the pantry shelf and tried to cut the ring. But the hairs from the beard of a ghoul are hairs of steel and cannot be cut.

Then Mr. D said, "Cut off his toe!"

But witches and fairies and elves and Voodoo men are not like ordinary folk. They cannot be cut up or killed like mortals. They can only be destroyed by spells whose magic is stronger than their own.

Santa knew this, and the Princess knew it. Santa said sadly, "The ring is there to stay."

At these words the Voodoo man recovered his senses and Santa and the Princess fled from his sight.

But the Voodoo man did not give chase. He had other plans. Hopping on one foot he passed down the corridors of the palace. He entered every room and twisting the woven ring on his toe he said these words:

"Whatever creature from the non-mortal world enters this room hereafter will turn into a rug and will carpet this floor forevermore."

As he left each room he took a piece of chalk and drew a huge X on the door to show he had been there and left his curse.

Mr. D and the little boy watched in horror. They knew that even if Santa and the Princess had gone out of the palace they would come back after the Voodoo man had left, and they would become carpets in the golden castle.

Then Mr. D got an idea. It was so big it made him shiver all over.

He pushed the astonished little boy into one of the rooms where the Voodoo man had [illegible] his handkerchief and rubbed out the X mark on the door. Then he went in the room with the boy and shut the door.

"Now, yell," said Mr. D. "Yell as loud as you can!"

Tomorrow: A Merry Christmas to All.

Visions Of Stock Profit Danced In Their Heads

NEW YORK (AP) — Some youngsters have other visions in their heads this week than sugarplums and toy jetfighters or space capsules. They want stocks — and the lowdown on how to make money from them.

About 8,000 letters from around the country seeking information tailored to young minds attests to the trend.

"I want to make money, but everybody says I have to learn more first," writes a Philadelphia schoolboy.

"I have saved $18 from my allowance, but when I asked my father if I could buy stocks he told me I had plenty of time for that," complains a youngster in Vienna, Ohio, seeking information on his own.

"I would like very much to have your report so as to learn about stock market terms," a Tacoma, Wash., youth writes. "I will go into business when I grow up."

The report that he and the others are seeking is "A Little Dictionary of Business Terms" included in "a message to children of shareholders" which accompanied the third quarter report of Avnet, Inc., of New York. Children took it to school and mention of it also found its way into newspapers around the country.

Then the avalanche of requests for copies poured in.

Not all the letters are from kids. Others came from the dean of a university school of business administration wanting copies for his faculty, from an Ohio high schoolteacher, from an accounting student in Springfield, Mass., from a student in a San Diego civics class, from a Long Island schoolteacher whose 30 pupils bought two shares of stock on the strength of the report.

The definitions are basic and aimed at the school child's level. Examples:

"Bear: someone who believes the stock market will decline. Bull: one who believes the stock market will rise. Growth stock: stock of a company with prospects for future growth — a company which over a period of time seems destined to expand materially."

The little dictionary explains dividends thus: "payments designated by the board of directors to be distributed equally among the shares outstanding ... may be omitted if business is poor or the directors decide to withhold earnings to invest in plant and equipment. Sometimes a company will pay a dividend out of past earnings even if it is not currently operating at a profit."

Castro Makes Waiting A Hardship

By ISAAC M. FLORES

HAVANA (AP) — The Castro regime is threatening Cubans who want to go to the United States with hardship in the months they wait to leave.

Orders have gone out in the past week to many government-controlled offices, businesses and public utilities to fire all employes who plan to join relatives in the United States. Hundreds have been fired in the last few days, according to informed sources.

Cuban officials have made no comment.

The American Embassy in Havana, which the Swiss run, is being bombarded with questions from would-be refugees as a result of the pre-Christmas crackdown. Swiss officials tell them they have no control over the situation and cannot hasten the Cubans' departure for the United States.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime apparently has decided not to support in any way those persons who expect to leave the country via the refugee airlift between Varadero, Cuba, and Miami, Fla.

Cuban sources say this appears to be the first official large-scale move to get these people off government payrolls. Previously there had been only scattered dismissals of such employes since Castro announced his open-door policy Sept. 28.

Many of these people may have to wait many months, some possibly years, to leave. With other jobs difficult or impossible to find, they are faced with a critical situation in providing food, shelter and clothing for their families until they leave.

Those with bank savings are no better off. Recent government regulations provide that all money withdrawn from private bank accounts since Sept. 28 has to be returned to the state before the owner can leave the country.

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Charges of interstate transportation of stolen money orders were filed Wednesday against a Fort Worth, Tex., couple.

Lucas and Miss Davis were unable to make bonds of $2,000 each and were ordered held in jail.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A sweet little neighbor boy stops by our house every morning to walk to school with our son, who is in the same grade. In the coldest weather this child wears only a thin, thread-bare coat (obviously a hand-me-down) which is much too small for him, and offers no protection against the cold. He doesn't own a pair of galoshes or rubbers and his tiny shoes are soaked by the time he gets here. I know several people who'd gladly give me some good hand-me-downs far better for this lad than what he's been wearing. How do I make the offer without hurting his feelings? I don't know his mother. And if I did, I wouldn't want to hurt her feelings, either. My husband says that this boy is our son's friend and any such gesture of charity might affect the friendship and I should mind my own business. I'd like your opinion.

SOMEBODY'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Write your son's teacher a note, or call her, and tell her what you have told me. Perhaps she could call the boy's mother and tell her that "a mother" (using no names) offered some good winter clothing that would fit her son, and she is welcome to it. Let the teacher take it from there. That way the boy will benefit without embarrassment to either himself or your son.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I say if a man will lie about one thing, he'll lie about anything. And the same goes for a cheat. My husband says I'm wrong. He claims he knows men who are the soul of integrity in business, but they can't resist cheating just a little when it comes to golf. He also maintains that because a man lies about his age doesn't mean he will lie about more important things. Nor does it necessarily follow that a man who cheats on his income tax cheats on his wife. I wish you would settle this for us, Abby. I loathe lying and cheating and have never been guilty of either. Thank you.

IDA

DEAR IDA: People who lie or cheat about one thing are likely to lie or cheat about another — but not always. And people who have "never" done either should be mummified and museumed.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband, our 14-year-old son and I have always been considered a "perfect" family. We are well-known and respected in our community. I just found out that when I was pregnant 4 years ago, my husband was unfaithful to me. He even took that woman to our apartment when I was out of town. When I approached him with the story he admitted it was true. He said he had forgotten all about it, had never done anything like that since, and would never do it again. He begged me not to leave him. He swears he loves me and our son more than anything in the world and all he wants is a chance to prove that he is sorry. He has always been such a devoted husband and father. I can't understand it. I want to be broad-minded about this, Abby, but I just can't forgive him. I trusted him completely. Do you think it's possible for a man to make one mistake and stop?

BETRAYED

DEAR BETRAYED: Yes, a husband CAN make one mistake and stop, providing his wife doesn't keep reminding him of it. Forgive him, and tell him you forgive him. And never mention it again.

WOMEN

Christmas Tea Held Monday

Recently the Cogdell Hospital business offices were remodeled and enlarged and the Board of Managers asked the help of the Ladies Auxiliary in completely redecorating the lobby.

Mrs. Flo Joyce, Mrs. Wayne Eubank, Mrs. A. C. Floyd Sr. and Mrs. Larry Hall were in charge of the project. Dove White draperies were hung to accent the turquoise blue grass cloth on the east wall. This wall was especially important to the auxiliary as the portrait of the late Mr. D. M. Cogdell was to be hung on it, so that all who sees it may know the deep appreciation for his concern for an organization such as the auxiliary, which does its best to aid in providing the best possible medical care for citizens of this area; and this wall was designed with this thought in mind.

The furniture was sprayed white and turquoise in keeping with the chosen colors. A television was also installed in the lobby, for the enjoyment of visitors.

The public is invited to view the lobby at anytime. This is another of the many projects the auxiliary has undertaken to keep up with the rapidly moving times.

Two Pumpkin Chiffon Pies

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1½ cups firmly packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1½ cups milk
6 large eggs, separated
3 cups solid - pack canned pumpkin
½ cup granulated sugar
Graham - Cracker Shells
1 pint heavy cream whipped with ¼ cup sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla

In a 3-quart metal mixing bowl, thoroughly stir together the gelatin, brown sugar, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg. Stir in milk. With a whisk beat in the egg yolks, then the pumpkin. Place the bowl over a saucepan of boiling water; cook, stirring often, until heated through and gelatin and sugar have dissolved — about 10 minutes. Chill until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until they hold soft peaks; gradually beat in granulated sugar; fold into gelatin mixture. Turn into pie shells; chill until firm. At serving time cover each pie with half the whipped cream.

Graham - cracker Shells: Mix together 2 cups fine graham-cracker crumbs, ½ cup medium - fine chopped walnuts and ½ cup melted butter. Press over bottom and sides of two 9-inch glass pie plates, having crumbs come to top — but not over — rims. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 8 minutes. Cool before filling.

Discriminating Modern Collection Is Touring

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Between now and next fall, North Americans will have an opportunity to see a very choice, very interesting collection of "School of Paris" paintings.

It is worth a bit of travel to see this exhibit of really top - notch paintings from a private collection.

The full title of the show is "School of Paris Paintings From the Florene May Schoenborn and Samuel A. Marx Collection,' 'and it will be at the Museum of Modern Art here, through Jan 2.

From next Feb. 11 through March 27 it will be in Chicago; April 26 through June 13, in St. Louis; from July 2 through Aug. 2 in Mexico City, and from Sept. 2 through Oct. 2, in San Francisco.

Comparatively speaking, it is not a large exhibit — 44 paintings. But it has such stunning quality that it ranks as one of the best collections of modern art in the country.

The late Samuel Marx was an architect and designer of interiors. He and his wife Florene, now Mrs. Wolfgang Schoenborn, began collecting in 1939, just as the war was shutting down imports.

They were not interested in quantity, nor in discovering new geniuses on the way up. They sought prime examples from the established modern masters.

In a little under 20 years they acquired their carefully selected gems. In his introduction to the show's catalog, James Thrall Soby says they assembled these with the rapt attention of diamond cutters.

There was a lot of competition for the modern masters in the 1940s and 1950s, but the Marxes were adroit in catching the masterpieces that were just around the corner from temporary fads. They were not afraid of large - dimensioned works that might not fit into their rivals' apartments.

The works of Matisse are the real heart of this collection, which contains six prime examples. One is a key painting of 1916, "The Moroccans," which some may visualize as a bridge between Cezanne and the abstractionists that were to come.

But to some eyes the most engaging example may be "Variation on a Still Life by de Heem," a large (71" by 87") composition that combines cubism with Matisse's love of color.

There are 14 Picassos. They provide a cross - section. We see first - rate specimens of everything from African masks a touch of surrealism, analytical and synthetic cubism, to the grotesque, kindergarten glops of the painter's later years. The Marxes caught on to seven examples from the 1906 - 1909 period, which now are tops with the fashionable collectore — because they are related academically to the celebrated incubation of Les Demoiselles D'Avignon."

There are six beautiful Braques, most of them nontypical because they are quite large. But they have a subtle, pastel glow that will entrance many viewers.

The Marxes were admirers of Miro and the early Roualt (four examples each), as well as Gris, Leger, Bonnard, de Chirico, Modigliani and Soutine; and somehow one of Dubuffet's smears has sneaked into their collection (one mistake can be forgiven.)

How did they bring together such an array of significant works in the competitive market? Partly because they saw clearly the esthetic values of unusual works. They bought Matisse's smashing "Woman on a High Stool" — its starkness shakes you — when others were collecting his odalisques.

This exhibit is an example of wonderful, intuitive taste. It is a proud lesson in discriminating American collecting.

Heat canned pears in a little of their own syrup with lots of grated lemon rind; serve the warm pears topped with vanilla ice cream and chocolate sauce. Call the dessert Pears Helene.

Quick company dessert: heat canned sweet red cherries in a little of their syrup, add warm brandy, flame and serve over vanilla ice cream.

J. N. Dunns Honored Recently

Mr. and Mrs. J. Nelson Dunn were honored with an open house Sunday in the home of their daughter, Mrs. C. D. Reon, 4008 Austin Avenue. The event commemorated the couple on their golden wedding anniversary.

The serving table was centered with an arrangement of golden flowers between two golden candles surrounded by greenery and golden balls. Assisting in the serving were Carolyn Gleney, Debby Shaw, Linda and Julie Reon.

The fiftieth wedding theme was carried out on the register table and throughout the serving rooms by several bouquets, potted plants of lovely yellow chrysanthemums and other items.

Over 75 guests registered including the following from out of town: Mrs. John L. Stewart and Marjorie Stewart of Fort Worth; Emmett Dunn of Odessa; Florence, Buddy, Debby and Rocky Shaw of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn were married December 14th, 1915 in Pittsburg, Texas.

Their two children are Mrs. C. D. Reon of Snyder, and Jane C. Dunn of Sumter, South Carolina.

An item of interest was an original announcement of their wedding in a frame.

WHAT'S GOING ON

Recent visitors in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nelson Dunn and Mrs. C. D. Reon and daughters were Mr. Dunn's sister, Mrs. John L. Stewart and daughter, Marporie of Fort Worth, and his newpew, Emmett Dunn of Odessa.

Humphrey Stays Busy In Assigned Role Of Sir Echo

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey is the busiest vice president in history—unless Lyndon B. Johnson was—but in a very unsensational way, which is the way President Johnson wants it.

This is a switch from those days 16 years ago when Humphrey first arrived in the Senate, a noisy, controversial liberal who talked too much and antagonized the old-timers.

He's still a liberal but over the years he learned how to do business in the Capitol, got along with the old-timers, worked smoothly with Johnson when Johnson was Senate majority leader.

And now he is a Sir Echo of all Johnson wants and stands for. His liberalism hasn't diminished but as he says: "I did not become vice president with President Johnson to cause him trouble."

It's an impressive sight to go through a newspaper library folder on Humphrey and look at the pile of stories which show how he has been hopping around.

Just in the early part of this month alone on one day he spoke in Washington on better cities and on the same day in New Hampshire talked on disarmament; on another day he talked in New York about nations and on the same day in Massachusetts about propaganda.

This was after returning from a Western speechmaking trip in which he denounced antiwar demonstrators as irresponsible, indecent and unpatriotic. In between speeches this year he has been mixed up in the Peace Corps, voting rights, school drop-outs, antipoverty, talked with mayors, dashed to Paris with Gemini astronauts, presided at a carnival.

If it seems strange all this activity has not stuck in the mind, and it hasn't, it's because Humphrey is carrying out the role assigned him by Johnson, a busy one but secondary.

This is exactly the position Johnson was in when he was vice president under President John F. Kennedy. As presidents, Kennedy and Johnson seemed to have had an identical view of vice presidents:

They should be seen, but not in critical situations; heard, but in a minor key; and they should always be on deck to run errands, patch up various kinds of bruises, and play handyman on a moment's notice.

Now after Christmas Johnson is sending Humphrey to Japan, Korea, Formosa, and the Philippines on a goodwill mission, which makes him the highest U.S. official to visit the Far East since Kennedy sent Johnson there in 1961.

And before either of them, back in his first year in office in 1953, President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent his vice president, Richard M. Nixon, on the grand tour of Asia.

Through it all Humphrey has been his bouncy, cheerful self. He'd better be if he hopes Johnson will back him for the presidency in 1972. This is assuming Johnson runs and is reelected in 1968, which is likely, to say the least.

But before Humphrey can hope for Johnson's backing in 1972, he has to please Johnson enough between now and 1968 to get Johnson's backing to run for the vice presidency again. He's sure trying.

Zull was a retired carbon company employe.

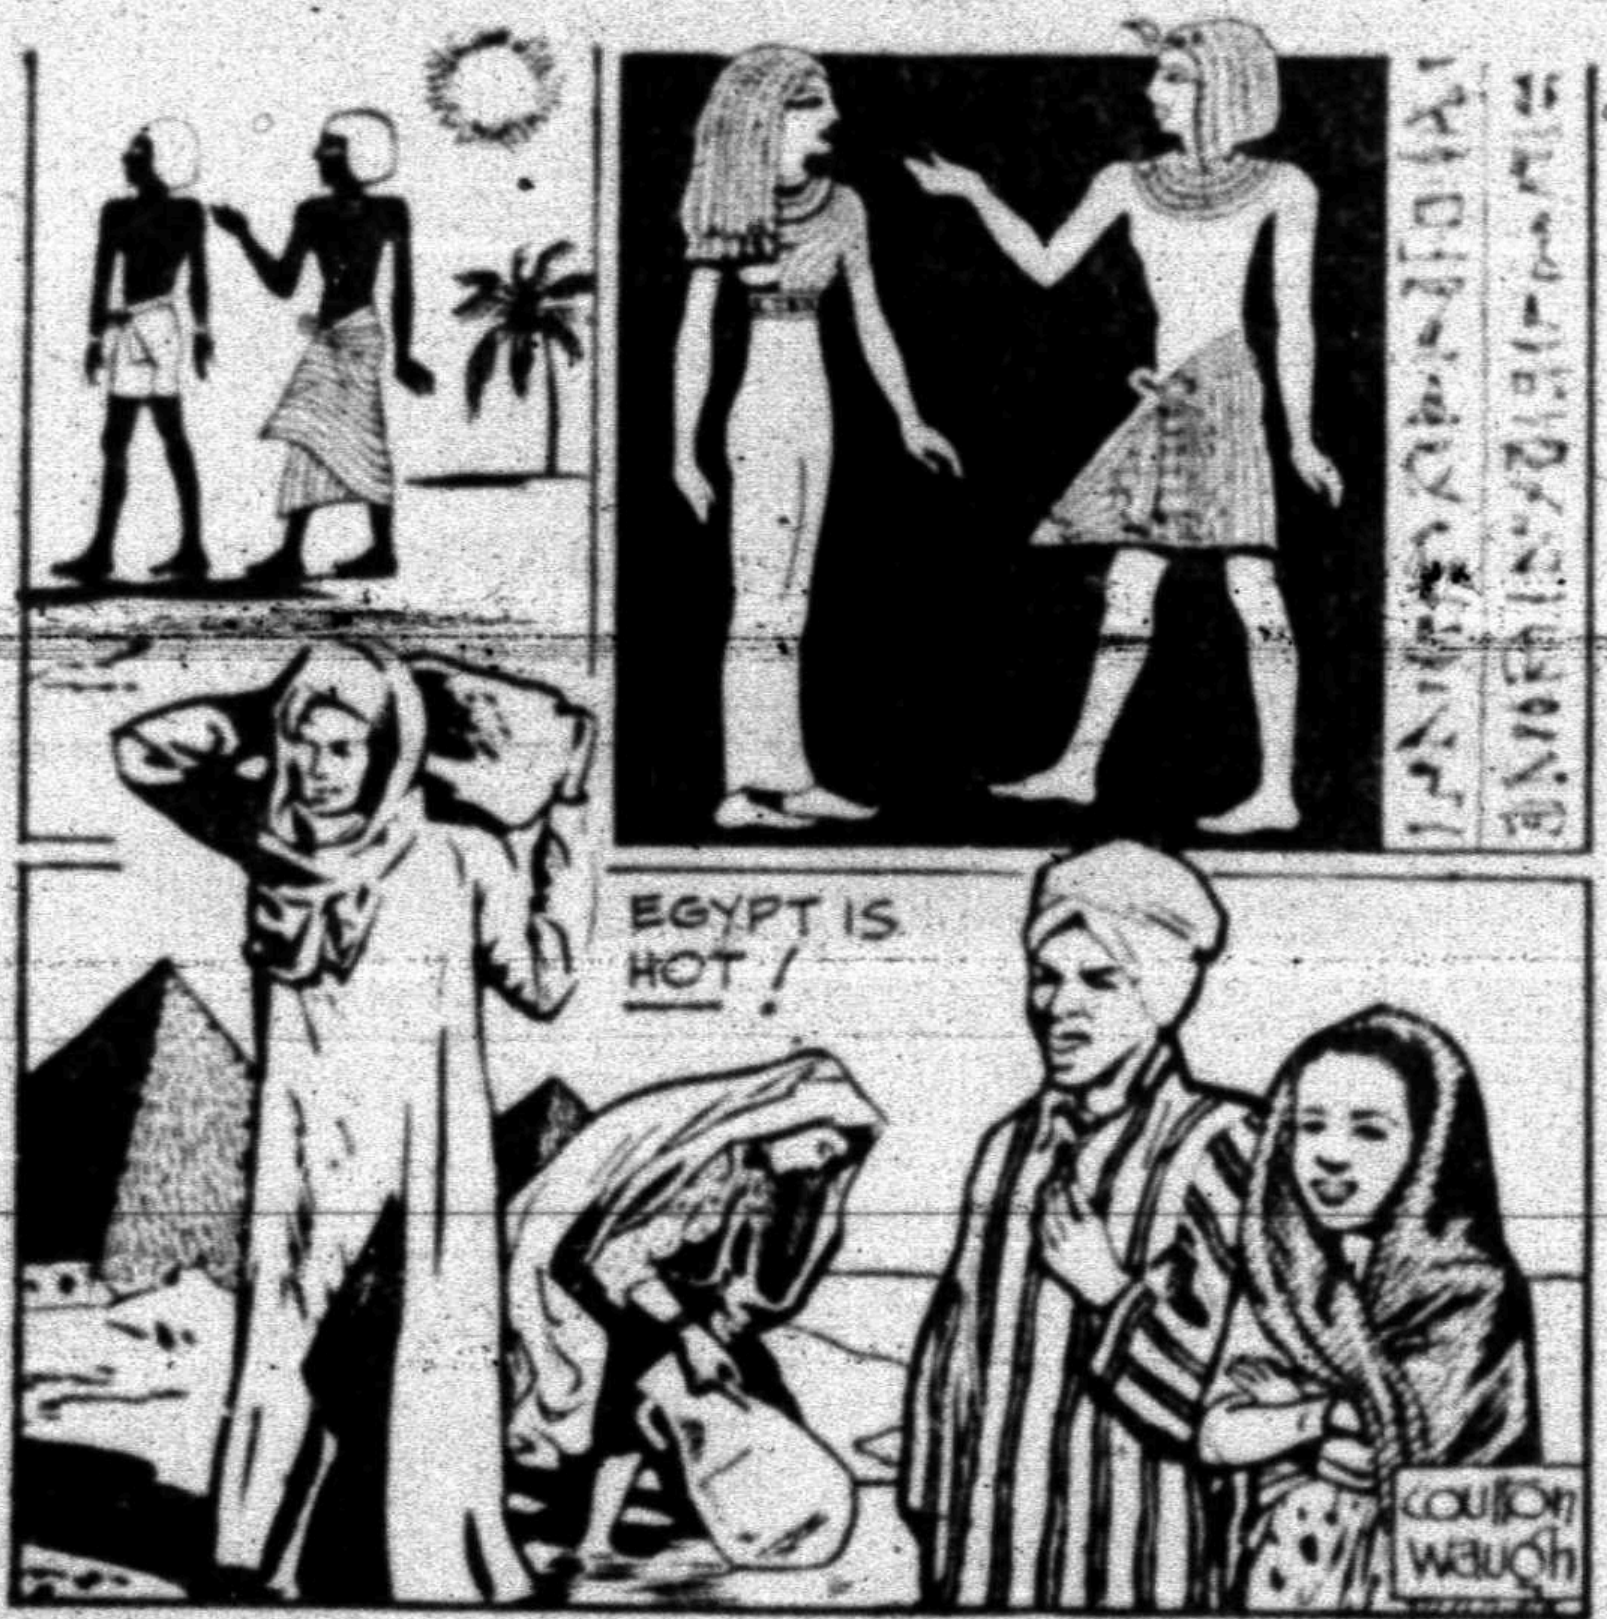
EGYPTIAN DRESS



EGYPT IS HOT!
COULTON WAUGH

QUESTION: What is Egyptian dress like, now and in ancient days?

• • •

ANSWER: To understand Egyptian clothing, we must go back to the beginning of Egypt's civilization, some 5000 years ago. The climate of the Nile valley is even and warm. Clothes were a protection from the heat first, and a means of ornament second. In the earliest days, Egyptians had hardly any clothing. As cloth came into use, men began to wear short skirts (upper left) with a head covering; the skirts lengthened and became elaborately folded (to right). Women's dress, as shown on black background, was a sheath-like dress reaching down to the ankles. Both sexes wore wigs, often highly ornamental, the main purpose of these being to cool the head, for the hair was usually shaved off underneath. Nowadays, for the men, the wig has changed into a turban, usually white and neatly wound. The man's main costume resembles a nightshirt. It is called a galabia. These are very loose and free, tending to keep the body cool in the heat. Women wear loose, flowing clothes too, but instead of using turbans, cover their heads with shawls. In urban centers, such as Cairo, one will find, in addition to the traditional costumes, the kind of light summer clothes we wear in America.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can find [illegible] pictures of Egypt or the Near East in books or magazines and check the peoples' clothing. You will find much white in use. This is because white tends to repel heat better than other colors or black. 12-23

(Sharon Olson of Fonda, N. Y. wins this week's grand prize of a [illegible] set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia for this question.)

Compare The Christmas Of Yesterday

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Is Christmas what it used to be?

Many middle-aged and elderly people say it isn't. They say Christmas—like everything else nowadays—has gone downhill.

They say it has been merchandised to death, and the warm human spiritual glow has departed from it.

"Kids get too much now," they grumble. "It spoils them. They don't appreciate anything."

They like to make a comparison of Christmas past and Christmas present. And the old-fashioned Christmas always gets the better of it.

Curiously, as they grow older, the more they seem to remember with pride the depriviations and hardships rather than the joys of some long ago Christmas of their youth.

What do they recall? Here are typical memories:

"I used to come downstairs in my long wollen underwear. We didn't have so much central heating then. The living room was colder than an igloo. The first thing I had to do was light a fire in the coal stove to warm up the place.

"The tree looked real nice. It was an honest-to-goodness wooden tree, not one of these plastic jobs they sell now, and you could smell it all through the house.

"We didn't have so many fancy baubles and ornaments then. We usually decorated the tree ourselves with home-made red and white strings of cranberries and popcorn and topped it with a star made from the tinfoil from a package of cigarettes.

"Nobody opened his presents until all the family had come shivering downstairs, and warmed themselves by the stove.

"Each kid found a stocking filled with fruit and nuts and cheap hard candy. There was always a big golden orange at the bottom of the stocking, and it was highly prized. About the only other time in the winter a child got a fresh orange was when he was given castor oil.

"There weren't very many packages around the tree. Most of the presents were useful."

At this point the old-timer wipes a misty eye and says, "I can still remember the taste of that orange at the bottom of my stocking."

But if you hand him an orange now and tell him, "Live it up, Pops," he thinks you're out of your mind.

Well, maybe those good old Christmases were better. Maybe prosperity is wrecking us. Perhaps it is undermining our character today because we gather around our Christmas tree in a well-heated living room instead of one half-warmed by an iron stove.

It is possible that we now overdo it in the matter of giving children gifts.

But, on the other hand, no parents who see the excited delight in their child's eyes as he opens his Christmas presents really feel that they have ruined the child for life.

The best Christmas is the one that makes you happiest, whether you celebrated it 50 years ago — or do this week. But each is filled with wonder and glory.

Butler Beats Wolverines

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

What has happened to the University of Michigan Wolverines, the team many picked to win the national collegiate basketball championship before the season opened?

Hard on the heels of their 100-93 overtime defeat to top-ranked Duke in Detroit on Tuesday, the No. 3-ranked Wolverines took it on the chin for the second straight night Wednesday. They lost to Butler 79-64 at Indianapolis. It wasn't just a defeat, it was a drubbing.

"This was the worst game Michigan has played in three years," said Dave Strack, coach of the Big Ten champions. That was his only comment. On Tuesday when Michigan had blown a 14-point lead in losing to Duke, Strack said, "We missed too many easy shots."

"Michigan was tired from its game with Duke," said Tony Hinkle, veteran Butler coach. "We worked for almost every shot and took very few bad shots."

Hinkle added, "Larry Shade was the difference with his floor play and team leadership."

The victory was in the nature of a Christmas present to the veteran Hinkle, now in his 37th year as coach at Butler. It was his 501st career victory. He hit the 500 plateau on his 66th birthday last Saturday when his Bulldogs defeated Indiana State 76-70.

All-America Cazzie Russell scored 22 points for Michigan, now 4-3 in seven games, but high scoring honors for the game went to Ed Schilling of Butler with 26.

The Michigan drubbing overshadowed Marquette's equally decisive 95-76 victory over eighth-ranked Wichita at Milwaukee. Unbeaten Kentucky, No. 10 in the Associated Press poll, made it seven in a row by whipping Texas Tech 89-73 on the road at Lubbock, Tex. The other teams in the AP Top Ten were idle.

Dayton, Temple and Texas Western also extended their unbeaten streaks. Dayton, playing at home, crushed New Orleans Loyola 88-57, paced by Don May's 31 points. It was the Flyers' seventh straight.

Temple upped its record to 8-0 with a 70-58 conquest of Canisius at Philadelphia. Texas Western similarly made it eight in a row by trouncing Nevada 86-49 in the final of the Mississippi Valley holiday classic at Rock Island, Ill.

Mike Silliman of Army scored 30 points in a hometown appearance at Louisville, Ky., but it was in a losing cause as the Cadets were beaten by the University of Louisville 84-56.

Washington turned the tables on Florida 78-69 at the Edmundson Pavilion in Seattle. Florida had beaten the Huskies there on Tuesday. Michigan State whipped Drake 61-50 at Des Moines and Cincinnati scored a decisive home court victory over Wisconsin 87-74.

Crockett Is Hogs 'Gravy'

By ED SHEARER

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Split end Bobby Crockett of Arkansas tends to stay away from other players on the football field — especially opposing pass defenders.

Coach Frank Broyles says of the second-ranked Razorbacks' star pass-catcher.

"Boy, he is tremendous. I just can't believe he's that wide open. I can't understand how he gets out in the open like that."

Crockett evaded Texas defenders last October when the Titans of the Southwest Conference collided here.

Crockett pulled in five passes for 68 yards to spark an 80-yard drive which saw Arkansas score in the final minute of a 27-24 comeback victory. For the game Crockett grabbed eight passes for 102 yards, one an 11-yard scoring pass.

Crockett is readying for a New Year's Day battle with LSU in the Cotton Bowl.

'Cats Clip Red Raiders

By The Associated Press

Kentucky beat Texas Tech 89-73 as expected Wednesday night and it closed out Southwest Conference basketball for the week, but major interest centered on player-coach disagreement that night cut star Dub Malaise of Tech from the squad.

Malaise, all-conference leader of the Red Raiders, was sent to the showers in the first half by Coach Gene Gibson, who said the player failed to follow instructions. Gibson added that when he criticized him Malaise "talked back."

"If he comes back it's going to be with the understanding that I'm the coach and I'm running the team," said Gibson.

General opinion seemed to be that Gibson and Malaise would settle their differences and Malaise would stay on the squad. It will be six days before Tech plays again.

Georgia Tech football coach Bobby Dodd played his football at the University of Tennessee. Dodd, born Nov. 11, 1908, in Galax, Va., first played organized football at Kingsport, Tenn., High.

BOSTON (AP) — The American and National leagues have voted Rookie of the Year Award trophies in honor of retired Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick.

The trophy awards, voted annually by the Baseball Writers Association of America, were announced jointly by American League President Joe Cronin and Warren Giles, National League president, Wednesday.

The first trophies honoring Frick, who retired recently, will go to outfielder Curt Blefary of the Baltimore Orioles and sec[illegible] the Los Angeles Dodgers. The BWAA recently voted Blefary and Lefebvre the top rookies of 1965.

Best Defense May Win NFL Playoff

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Fran Tarkenton's success in running against Green Bay raises a faint hope for Tom Matte and the underdog Baltimore Colts in Sunday's National Football League playoff game. If Matte could throw like Tarkenton, the hopes would be much brighter.

Tarkenton is a scrambler who dashes hither and yon, eluding linemen and linebackers, until he gets set to throw a pass for the Minnesota Vikings. Sometimes he keeps the ball and runs.

Matte, the converted halfback who must carry the load for the Colts in the game that will decide the Western Conference title, is a rollout artist who simply slides out and runs as planned. A college career based on Woody Hayes' three-yards-and-a-cloud-of-dust philosophy discouraged any inclination to throw the ball.

Although there is a vast difference between the two men, it remains a fact that both Tarkenton and Matte do run with the ball often. In the first Minnesota-Green Bay game Nov. 21, Tarkenton was the leading rusher with 54 yards on eight carries. That was the day the Vikings took a 13-10 lead into the last period only to have the Packers click with four touchdown passes for a 38-13 victory.

Tarkenton ran six times for 29 yards in their next meeting, also won by the Packers 42-27, but the Vikings piled up 251 yards on the ground. In fact, Green Bay was way down the list for the season, 13th in defense against the run although it gave up only 11 touchdowns on the ground.

The Packers probably got a big edge in the flip of a coin that made them the home team. They are used to the ice and snow of Wisconsin at Christmas time. If the field is frozen, the pass receivers usually have an edge over the defenders.

In a game such as this between two tough defensive units, the first score will be most important.

If Green Bay gets out front by more than a touchdown, the Colts will be in a desperate position because the Packers will close off the outside to Matte and force the Colts to try to move up the middle. If Baltimore scores early, its defense might be able to contain the Packers.

When figuring out the San Diego-Buffalo championship game in the American League Sunday, don't forget that Lance Alworth didn't play last year when Buffalo won 20-7.

Alworth will be un the line-up at San Diego Sunday although Keith Lincoln is doubtful. It was Lincoln who was knocked out of action last Dec. 26 in a memorable tackle by Mike Stratton in the first period.

The Chargers are 1-3 in title games, including 1960 when they represented Los Angeles. Buffalo is 1-0.

In their two regular season meetings, San Diego won the first 34-3 and tied the second 20-20.

Celtics Edge Knicks, 123-120

By The Associated Press

Larry Siegfried was a 17-year-old high school senior when Bill Russell made his National Basketball Association debut. Russell celebrated his ninth anniversary with the Boston Celtics Wednesday night and Siegfried was the life of the party.

Siegfried, a third-year pro from Ohio State, came up with [illegible] the NBA champs wiped out a 21-point New York lead in the last nine minutes of regulation play and edged the Knickerbockers 123-120 in an overtime thriller.

The streaking Baltimore Bullets also blew a fourth-quarter lead before Jim Barnes' steal set up the winning basket in a 129-127 overtime decision over Cincinnati. Rookie Rick Barry and Nate Thurmond paced San Francisco to a 114-104 victory over Detroit at Sacramento, Calif., in the only other game scheduled.

Russell, who has led the Celtics to nine straight Eastern Division titles and eight NBA championships, scored 21 points against the Knicks and hauled in 25 rebounds. He is 25 rebounds short of the 16,000 career mark.

It was Siegfried, however, who sent the game into overtime with a long jump shot that knotted the score at 111-111. The 6-foot-4 backcourt hustler then broke a 118-118 tie in the final minute of the overtime period with two free throws and wrapped it up seconds later by clearing a New York rebound, driving downcourt and hitting another jumper.

Sam Jones, the game's high scorer with 37 points, came off the bench and teamed with John Havlicek for 23 of 27 Boston points in a furious comeback that brought the Celtics from a 103-82 deficit to a 109-109 tie in the closing minutes of the fourth period.

Havlicek finished with 26 points, three less than New York's high man, Walt Bellamy. Siegfried had 16 for the Celtics.

Papa Bear Gets NFL Coach Of Year Award

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — George S. Halas, the Chicago Bear patriarch just voted Coach of the Year in the National Football League, never was further from retirement.

"First of all, I am only 70 — not 71 as many authors erroneously insist," smiled the NFL pioneer who received the same honor in 1963 when his club won the NFL championship.

"Secondly, I have a philosophy ba[illegible] on an epigram written by a noted attorney, Louis Nizer, that goes:

'Nothing is work unless you'd rather be doing something else.'

[illegible] doing anything else than being with football, football people [illegible] my coaches and my team."

The Coach of the Year title went to Halas Wednesday in closely contested balloting by a panel of 42 sports writers and sportscasters — three from each of the 14 NFL cities — polled by The Associated Press.

Halas, whose Bears wound up with a 9-5 season and widely regarded as one of the league's best clubs, received 14 votes. Next was Blanton Collier of the Eastern champion Cleveland Browns with nine. Allie Sherman of the New York Giants received eight and Jack Christiansen, whose San Francisco 49ers, like the Bears, finished strong, six.

[illegible] rookie [illegible], primarily in halfback Gale Sayers and linebacker Dick Butkus, the Bears shook off three straight defeats and won nine of their next 10 games before a Western title tie chance eluded them on the final weekend of the season.

Halas, who will be 71 on Feb. 2, said:

"The honor belongs, not to me, but to the entire Bear coaching staff and the great players who performed so well after our slow start."

Halas makes football a year-around job. The day after the Bears lost their finale 24-17 to the Minnesota Vikings Sunday, Halas started private interviews with each player.

"I talk to each player about 20 minutes in review of the season, ask his plans for the winter and tell him what we hope he can do next season," he said.

Top Porker Assistant Joins Sooner Ranks

By JERRY SCARBROUGH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Jim MacKenzie, named head football coach at Oklahoma Wednesday, faces two major problems at Soonerland — revitalizing an inept offense and pleasing hordes of football-conscious alumni and fans.

Gomer Jones, who bowed out as coach Dec. 6 after an unsuccessful try at filling the shoes of Bud Wilkinson, said, "I just got tired of all the criticism."

Criticism is a by-product of Wilkinson's era. When Wilkinson resigned to enter politics two years ago, he left a legacy which included a 17-year record of 145-29-4, three national championships and 47- and 31-game winning streaks.

Jones, who assisted Wilkinson throughout his tenure at Oklahoma, got the nod as his successor. But, after a 6-3-1 season in 1964, the Sooners fell to 3-7 last season, their worst record in modern history.

That was it for Jones. He resigned as head coach, although retaining the athletic directorship.

Now, Mackenzie enters the picture. A 35-year-old defensive genius who was Frank Broyles' top assistant at Arkansas, he's hailed as the man to solve the Sooners' problems.

Mackenzie, who learned his football under Paul (Bear) Bryant at Kentucky, is a former All-Southeastern Conference tackle and he looks the part.

The first problem, pepping up an offense which failed to score against Navy, Texas, Colorado and Missouri last season, likely won't trouble Mackenzie nearly as much as the second.

Mackenzie has promised to build a top staff and both he and Dr. George L. Cross, OU president, pledged to find "the very best offensive assistant coach" to install the pro-type offense Arkansas uses — and the Razorbacks have a 22-game winning streak going.

But the second program, fans and alumni, could be a bigger hurdle. Sooner boosters remember the Wilkinson days well and they are anxious for more of the same.

Mackenzie was eager for the Oklahoma job. "I'm extremely pleased to be the head football coach at Oklahoma," he said. "I think it's a wonderful university with great tradition and I certainly hope . . . I can come on there and produce a real football program."

Broyles said Mackenzie "is well qualified for the assignment. He has done a great job for me in every respect."

Mackenzie was with Broyles nine years, one at Missouri and the last eight at Arkansas. He says he will stay with the Razorbacks until the Cotton Bowl game with Louisiana State Jan. 1, then take over the Oklahoma job.

ALL-STAR FULLBACK

Jim Brown Wins Renown

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Brown, everybody's choice for All-Star fullback, has been named the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League in an Associated Press poll.

A total of six athletes received votes from the 42-man panel, three in each of the 14 league cities. Brown drew 34 of them, John Unitas, Baltimore's crippled quarterback, got three and Dave Parks, San Francisco's great end, received two. The others were scattered one each to Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears, Ken Willard of San Francisco and Pete Retzlaff of Philadelphia.

Brown, always a controversial figure, easily won his eighth rushing title in nine years as a pro with 1,544 yards in 289 carries. It was his second best year but short of his record of 1,863 in 1963. He broke Lenny Moore's touchdown record with 21 but finished second to Sayers, who wound up with 22.

The Cleveland Browns' ace, who will be 30 on Feb. 17, has said repeatedly that 1966 will be his last year. He is working on a term contract that expires after the next season.

"I feel with Gale Sayers in the league I can really leave," Brown said at a recent luncheon honoring the two players. "I most likely will play next year and then call it quits. Art Modell, who owns the club, has talked about it with me. He knows how I feel."

Brown, of course, has been the big man in Cleveland's offense that led them to the championship last year and to a repeat Eastern Conference title this year. The entire club has made 2,331 yards running for the league lead in that department and Jim has contributed 1,544 yards of the total.

In addition to scoring 17 touchdowns running, Brown caught four TD passes and even threw a scoring pass in a game at New York.

Brown's NFL totals for nine years show 126 touchdowns, 12,312 yards and 2,359 carries, all NFL records.
