Further Military Cuts Seen

Believe Immediate War Threat Gone

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 — UP — The administration plans a further cut in the size of the armed forces in line with its belief that the threat of an immediate war has subsided.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson announced Wednesday night that military manpower will be reduced to "something less" than the 3,047,000-man level he had decreed earlier for the new fiscal year beginning July 1.

This reduction would be apart from any cut that might result if Congress adopts the President's proposed new plan for greatly enlarging military reserve forces.

No "Immediate Cutting" Assistant Defense Secretary Carter L. Burgess emphasized, however, that adoption of the broadened reserve program "will not give us a chance to do a lot of immediate cutting" in active military strength.

Wilson said he could not give any "particular figure right now" on the extent of the new cut in active military forces. The services currently are undergoing a reduction of 210,000 men which will be completed by June 30.

Wilson's announcement of a new reduction came as a surprise since military planners previously had indicated the size of the armed forces would stabilize at about the 3 million-man mark for some years. The announcement raised speculation as to whether the administration might further redeploy American troops in the Far East.

First Jury Board With Woman Set

The new history-making Gray County Jury Commission was complete today and will be sworn in at 10 a. m. Friday by Dist. Judge Lewis M. Goodrich.

Mrs. Finis Jordan, of 712 N. West, the Gray County chairman of the Texas Citizens Committee for Jury Service for Women which pushed the new amendment to the Texas Constitution requiring women to serve on juries, was named Wednesday to the commission—the first woman ever to serve on it.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan today announced the four others on the commission. They are: Amos Page, McLean, O. W. Stapp, Alameda, and E. L. Anderson and Joe Tooley, both of Pampa.

The commission, after being sworn in, will meet in Dist. Clerk Helen Sprinkle's office to pick a grand jury panel scheduled to meet at 10 a. m. Jan. 3 in the 31st District Courtroom.

Fire Damages Amarillo Hotel

AMARILLO, Dec. 16 — UP — Fire damaged a room on the 12th floor of the Amarillo hotel, one of the city's major hotels, Thursday but all guests left safely without panic.

Six companies of firemen answered the alarm at 5:14 a. m. The 12th floor corridor was filled with smoke but the only severe fire damage was to the room where the fire started.

The interior and all the furnishings of the room were destroyed. The corridor was damaged by smoke and water and to a limited extent by fire.

The room had been occupied but the guest left a short time before the fire broke out, hotel officials said. The cause of the fire had not been determined.

The Amarillo hotel was the site of a major fire five years ago in which there was extensive damage. No persons were injured in that fire.

TRAFFIC DEATHS CUT.

S-D Day Effort Draws Praise

By UNITED PRESS

The nation's motorists cut traffic fatalities by 10 to 15 per cent on S-D Day. Safety experts praised the achievement, even though it fell far below their earlier expectations.

A United Press tabulation during the 24-hour period that ended at midnight showed Thursday that 44 persons were killed in traffic accidents and 824 were injured in 2,457 accidents.

Returns continued to trickle in early Thursday and it was feared that new fatalities, particularly in the western time zones, might push the toll higher.

Toll Lower Than Average Rear Adm. H. B. Miller, director of the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety, said "depressed reporting, it looks as if the S-D Day toll will be 10 to 15 per cent below what it would have been normally for this day."

"Naturally we wish the S-D Day toll had been lower," Miller said. He "thanked the 'millions of Americans' who sincerely tried to avoid accidents and told them 'if we can do it on S-D Day we can do it every day.'"

The S-D Day deaths and injuries were well below those on two comparative days. On Wednesday, Dec. 16, 1953—the comparative day last year—60 persons were killed in auto accidents and 1,807 were injured.

Comparative Figure of '57 A special United Press "test" tabulation last Wednesday showed 67 persons killed and an estimated 2,144 injured.

Safety experts warned, however, that the final S-D Day toll would not be known immediately. They estimated 32 injuries for every death and pointed out that a number of persons will probably die of injuries received in S-D Day accidents.

A single accident which killed four persons near the tiny New Mexico town of Datil was the nation's worst S-D Day crash.

The hope is that world opinion will find Peiping in making a formal offer. Diplomats at the United Nations said Wednesday night they believe Red China is in fact drafting a price for release of the Americans.

In their opinion, this will call for other things for release of 35 Chinese students denied permission to leave this country and a U.S. agreement to hold some kind of East-West conference on the Far East.

Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland, meanwhile, sounded his opposition to any trade. He told newsmen in Los Angeles that this would be nothing short of "international blackmail."

He praised the UN effort to free the Americans. But if this fails, he said, he will again recommend that the United States clamp a naval blockade and economic sanctions on Red China.

These proposals recently brought Knowland into conflict with President Eisenhower. But he said "If it comes from a hardware store we have it, Lewis Hardware."

Post Office To Keep Stamp, Parcel Windows Open Late

Stamp and parcel post windows at the post office will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. through Dec. 24 in order to handle the increasing volume of Christmas mail, according to Postmaster O. K. Gaylor.

"We want to make sure folks will have ample opportunity to mail their cards and packages either before or after going to business," Gaylor emphasized.

He pointed out that it would be wise if three-cent stamps were used on all Christmas cards.

Stores Adopt Late Hours

Stores in Pampa will remain open until 8 p. m. every night from today until Dec. 23 according to Joe Tooley, chairman of the merchant activities committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Christmas Eve shops will close their doors at 6 p. m.

Today concludes free movie days at the LaNora and La Vista theaters. Santa Claus will be at the LaNora until 9 p. m. this evening.

Tooley said some 2,250 people, children and adults included, took advantage of the free movie day Wednesday. He expects as many at both theaters for today's performances.

Residents of Portland, Calif., and Lovelock, Nev., said windows rattled in their homes.

Bill Lee, who works in a feed store in Fallon, said the force of the quake dumped bags of seed onto the floor.

Sheriff George Wilkins of Fallon said the tremors were "about as strong" as those of last summer. However, he said the fact they were rolling spared the town the damage it suffered in the previous temblors.

Thousands Shaken But Damage Slight

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16 — UP — Two rolling earthquakes shook California, Nevada and Utah early Thursday, rousing thousands of persons from their sleep and causing minor damage.

Police and sheriff's offices reported the damage was limited for the most part to a few toppled chimneys, ceiling cracks and dishes tossed to the floor. The quakes touched off burglar alarms in one city.

The tremors apparently were strongest in Fallon, Nev., the scene of two severe quakes last summer. Sheriff's deputies said they would have to wait until daybreak to determine whether the area's extensive irrigation systems were damaged.

The first shock was felt at 3:09 a. m. and the second about four minutes later. Both the quakes were long and rolling. Had they been sharp jolts, they could have caused widespread major damage.

In Lovelock, Nev., electric power was cut off to one section. However, no other damage was reported from there.

Sheriff George Wilkins of Fallon said the tremors were "about as strong" as those of last summer. However, he said the fact they were rolling spared the town the damage it suffered in the previous temblors.

Irrigation Clinic Set Friday

200 Expected For Day-Long Meeting

Pampa's irrigation clinic at the Palm Room in City Hall will dominate local activities in the community Friday when some 200 participants interested in well irrigation possibilities for Gray County gather to hear a panel of six speakers discuss all phases of the problem.

Top specialists in the field who will attend the morning session beginning at 10 o'clock and the afternoon question and answer panel starting at 1 o'clock are Bob Thurmond, irrigation specialist, agricultural extension service, Lubbock; O. R. Bruner, district supervisor, Farm Home Administration, Amarillo; Swede Swanson, irrigation engineer, Amarillo; W. L. Broadhurst, hydrologic engineer, High Plains Water district, Lubbock; Milton England, head of the agriculture department, Panhandle A&M College, Goodwell, Okla.

Taking part in the afternoon question and answer session will be bankers, well drillers, farmers, and equipment salesmen who will answer questions along with those presented to the group of five specialists.

In referring to the possibility of drilling successful irrigation wells in Gray County at Agricultural Achievement Days here last August, Thurmond said, "The water is here, all you have to do is go down and get it."

There has been a rapidly increasing interest in irrigation wells in Gray County. According to Alben Hoover, equipment machinery specialist, there are some six wells at present in Gray County, and this area is beginning to emulate her sister counties with six planned for the immediate future. Wade Duncan is presently having a well drilled on his farm, five miles east of Pampa. He said this morning the drillers were down approximately 275 feet.

The pouring of concrete slabs on the Canadian River bridge, between Pampa and Perryton, today was 50 per cent complete.

Highway engineers reported that the 50th of the 100 slabs had been poured Wednesday afternoon and the 51st was scheduled to be done this morning. Work on the slabs got underway the first of November. At the time, engineers said the pouring of slabs would take four to five months—that makes progress ahead of schedule.

Once all the concrete slabs are laid, the installation of the hand rail and a quick paint job will wind up the job.

The weather is the main concern now, engineers pointed out. If the temperature is 40 degrees and falling, the concrete can not be poured. If it is 35 degrees and rising, it can be. Completion date is tentatively scheduled for April and dedication ceremonies are being planned.

Parking Snarls Traffic In City

Too many Pampans, who are streaming into the downtown area to do their Christmas shopping, are double parking and overstaying their time in time-limited zones. Police Chief Jim Conner today told in-town motorists that double parking must stop. Some drivers, he pointed out, even double park and leave their autos while they shop. Already, one patrolman has been taken off the post office to keep traffic moving.

More than once during the last week, vehicles on Foster have been stacked west into Cuyler, thereby tying up traffic going in all directions at Cuyler and Foster, Conner said. "If there was a big fire, it would be almost impossible to get fire trucks and ambulances through a mess like that. It could be a matter of life and death."

When motorists stay parked over the time limit, it just makes it hard on everyone else, the chief said in his appeal for drivers to cooperate with the police department and obey the rules during the Christmas shopping season.

Justice of the Peace John Andrews, acting as coroner, this morning said he would rule that the death Sunday afternoon of Hal J. Suttle, 53, of 802 N. Russell, was "accidental" and "self-inflicted."

It was not official at 10:30 a. m. today, because Judge Andrews had not yet received the death certificate. He said he would sign it only if it read the death was "accidental" and "self-inflicted."

The written police report of the shooting bore the notation "Judge Andrews ruled suicide." The report was signed by Patrolmen A. B. Turner and Preston Bailey, who along with Judge Andrews investigated.

A KGO-TV newscast Sunday night was first to report the Suttle death. The newscaster reported Andrews had ruled the death a "suicide."

Girl Denies Dad Foresaw World's End

EAST LANSING, Mich., Dec. 16 — UP — The daughter of a physician who resigned from the staff of the Michigan State College hospital Thursday denied that her father was selling his possessions to be ready for the "end of the world."

However, she conceded the doctor had told MSC students at meetings that there would be "some surface changes on earth Dec. 21 such as earthquakes."

Charlyn Laughhead said her father, Dr. Charles A. Laughhead, was a "student of ancient mysticism but doesn't believe the world will end 'Tuesday.'"

"Certainly he goes beyond orthodoxy in his religious beliefs, but has never made such predictions," she said.

The end of the world theory popped up Wednesday when the state board of agriculture, governing body at Michigan State, accepted Laughhead's resignation by mutual "agreement."

Dr. John A. Hannah, college president, said a delegation of students told him they were "disturbed" about what Laughhead was saying. According to the students, the doctor had been holding meetings and teaching the beliefs of some peculiar religious sect, Hannah said.

He said he understood the sect believes the world will end Dec. 21 and flying saucers from Mars will rescue some of the survivors.

"We understand Dr. Laughhead is disposing of his possessions and is getting ready to move to a spot to await the rescue," Hannah said.

DON'T CRY DADDY

In tears, five-year-old Mary Helen Fuller pleads with her daddy, Milton Fuller, not to cry about the death of her mother whose skull was crushed by a bare-footed burglar in their home in Brinkley, Ark., early Sunday. Mary Helen, sleeping nearby, told police, "I saw the burglar hit mommy." Officers, using bloodhounds and a walk-talkie in their search for the killer, found a shoe which they believe was lost by the intruder two blocks from the Fuller home.

Insurance Problems Face Texas Solons

AUSTIN, Dec. 16—UP—A Central Texas lawmaker warned Wednesday the furor over insurance failures this year may encourage "the

IT'S THE LAW ★ IN TEXAS ★

(This column, based on the federal constitution, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

The American "Bill of Rights," consisting of the first ten amendments to our federal constitution, all adopted at one time in 1791, specifies in some detail a number of basic civil rights of the individual citizen. Unaltered by subsequent amendments and jealously guarded by our courts, these privileges must still be respected by our governing bodies today.

Among the most familiar of our constitutional guarantees are those relating to freedom of religion, speech, and of the press. The same act protects the right of peaceful assembly and the privilege of petitioning the government for redress of grievances.

Another amendment secures our persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, and specifies that no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, and unless supported by oath or affirmation.

The due process of law amendment encompasses not one but several guarantees. Every American is secured against being placed twice in legal jeopardy for the same offense; against being compelled to be a witness against himself in a criminal case; and against having his private property taken for public use without just compensation.

He is also secured against being held for trial for a capital (death penalty) or other infamous crime, unless upon a presentment or indictment of a grand jury. And, of course, no person may be deprived of life, liberty or property without orderly court procedures, on due process of law.

The right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury, in the locality where the crime was committed, the right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, and the rights to compel attendance of defense witnesses and to have the assistance of defense counsel in all criminal prosecutions are secured by another section of the "Bill of Rights."

Excessive bail and fines, and cruel and unusual punishments, are prohibited in Amendment VIII. Other articles insure the right to bear arms and ban quartering of soldiers in private homes during peace time.

Then, to make quite clear to our governing bodies the underlying intent of the preceding provisions, the Ninth Amendment states: "The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

The Tenth Amendment further emphasizes this basic theory by providing: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Thus, that fundamental philosophy expressed in the Declaration of Independence, that men are endowed with certain unalienable rights, and that "to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their powers from the consent of the governed," has been carried into the highest law of "big-uns" to try to eat-up the "little-uns" in the insurance industry during the coming legislative session.

The warning was sounded by Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llano, one of 47 legislators replying to a United Press survey, a majority of whom pegged insurance law reform as one of the top problems confronting the 54th Legislature convening in January.

Ashley plugged for "passage of laws to protect the policy holders." "This is not to be construed as helping the big companies eliminate the smaller companies. Size is not necessarily a measure of merit."

"I anticipate that the much-publicized situation will encourage the 'big-uns' to try to eat-up the 'little-uns,'" Ashley said.

Insurance Held Major Problem
Thirty-two of the lawmakers listed insurance law revision as one of the major problems of the coming session.

Rep. Tom Joseph of Waco said he plans to sponsor or co-sponsor legislation aimed at plugging loopholes in the insurance laws.

"He advocated 'a measure that will prohibit the organization of any insurance company with less than $500,000 capital, plus a sufficient amount of undivided profit set up in its original capitalization to take it over its initial operating period, so that they will not have to use their original capital for their first year of operating expense.'"

Also, Joseph said, "we should have stronger laws in regard to the selling of insurance stock to protect the citizens of Texas."

Gov. Allan Shivers has urged more personnel, better pay and increased authority for the state board of insurance commissioners.

Rep. Robert Patten of Jasper concurred, suggesting more auditors be added to the board, and also expressed belief the insurance laws would be strengthened by increasing capital structure necessary for formation of a company.

Posse Catches Jailbreakers

BRENNHAM, Tex., Dec. 16—UP—Two West Texas jailbreakers who fled after pistol-whipping a Tyler county sheriff who tried to capture them, were run down by a posse Tuesday night near Caldwell.

One of the men, Pete Jackson, 25, a Negro, was shot in the shoulder while trying to escape in a stolen car, and was found later, wounded and hiding in a tree.

The other Negro, Herman Davis, also 25, was captured when the bullet that hit Jackson, who was driving the car, caused him to lose control and the car overturned.

The capture of the two men ended a 24-hour manhunt, one of the biggest in East Texas history, by a 50-man posse led by bloodhounds.

Davis and Jackson broke out of the county jail at Floydada last Saturday night and were spotted Monday on a country road near Woodville by Sheriff Dan Johnson. When Johnson stopped the car, the Negroes beat him with his own pistol and then fled.

Well-To-Do Woman Linked With Thefts

FORT WORTH, Dec. 16—UP—Tarrant county grand jurors Tuesday indicted a well-to-do Sansom Park housewife on charges of receiving loot stolen by a burglary ring which officers say took goods valued at more than $100,000 over a six-month period.

The housewife, Mrs. Cora Lee Cox, was accused of receiving and concealing a TV set stolen Dec. 4 from the Roy Arnold home at Everman.

Officers said they found the TV set when they raided Mrs. Cox's $30,000 home after questioning members of the ring.

Mrs. Cox and her husband, Troy C. Cox, have operated a chain of service stations here.

Attorneys Dave Miller and Charles Mays Sr., said they would post bond for Mrs. Cox.

"She's not guilty of a thing," Mays said. "She's a fine woman. Her husband has been crippled by arthritis and she has spent most of time helping him."

Husband Admits Torturing Wife With Red Hot Poker

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Dec. 16—UP—A 22-year-old laborer admitted Tuesday that he applied a red hot poker to his wife's arms and legs to try and force her to say some other man had fathered one of their three children.

The laborer, Luis Macias, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and was bound over for action by the district court at a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Fred White Monday. He was held under $750 bond.

His beautiful, raven-haired wife, Adelina, also 22, told the court Monday that her husband tied her to a chair with one of his belts, got a poker red hot over a gas flame and rammed it against her leg, muffling her screams with a radio turned on full blast.

Regular Air Mail
FORT WORTH, Dec. 16—UP—Central Airlines Wednesday began carrying regular mail along with airmail, as space is available. The plan began Wednesday over all of Central's routes, although regular mail has been carried in the past on some routes when space was available after air mail was loaded.

She said he also burned her on the arm and threatened to stick the poker "in my face," unless she admitted having affairs with other men.

Both the husband and wife testified she maintained her innocence throughout the ordeal at the small, frame home on the north side of Tucumcari.

Scout Crew Gets Food For Gifts

Crew 22 of the First Baptist Church plans to end its campaign to collect canned goods and other food imperishables Saturday, then spend the next week putting the foodstuffs into baskets and delivering them to Pampa's underprivileged.

Six hundred cans of food, "quite a bit" of old clothes and some old flour-sacks have already been collected, according to John Young, crew advisor. Crew 22 and Boy Scout Troop 22 contributed $50 to kick off the Christmas-time campaign a week ago.

Current plans call for the collection — you can call 4-3854 to donate — to end Saturday, Young said. Then crew members will basket it all and the foodstuffs will be taken around to homes of the needy during the week before Christmas.

Florida Has High, Low Temperature

Florida was both the coldest and warmest place on the nation's East Coast Thursday and a storm centered in New England brought snow as far south as Kentucky.

Northern Florida became the east's ice box with readings of 28 degrees at Cross City and 30 at Tallahassee. Miami's 57, however, was the warmest temperature in the country early Thursday.

The New England storm, meanwhile, spread rain along the east coast from New Jersey northward. Light snow fell in the Ohio Valley and eastern Great Lakes regions.

In the west a new blast of cold Canadian air dropped temperatures and brought snow in eastern Wyoming and northern Colorado. Although most snow falls were light, there was five inches on the ground at Morecroft, Wyo., and eight inches at Rawlins, Wyo.

Temperatures averaged in the 20s early Thursday in the Midwest, Central Rockies and western plains, while pleasant 50-degree readings were common in the far Southwest. One of the nation's chilliest spots was Lone Rock, Wis., where the mercury dropped to 10 above zero.

Texas Gets Warmer Days

Texas warmed up again Thursday but forecasters said another cold front was aiming for the state and might get as far as Central Texas by nightfall.

They said, however, it was not a severe cold front and probably would drop temperatures only about to freezing in the Panhandle, South Plains and the northern part of North Central Texas Thursday night.

Friday will probably be cool.

Another of those Top of Texas "blows" hit Pampa late this morning, sending the winds at Perry LeFors Field to a steady 45 miles an hour and gusts of 50 and 55. It was a cold front from the Pacific Northwest and was expected to drop temperatures in Pampa to the low 30s tonight. Estimated high in Pampa today was 40, the low 40s, Station KPDM reported. High Wednesday was 60, the low early this morning was 34 and at mid-morning it was 37.

they said, but the state should warm up by Saturday.

The cold front that is headed for Texas stood at mid-morning on a line from through Kansas and southern Colorado. It was expected to reach the Texas Panhandle Thursday afternoon and move to the upper Gulf Coast by Friday morning.

Low temperatures early Thursday ranged from 31 degrees at Lufkin and Dalhart to 52 at Galveston.

Del Rio had a low of 38, San Antonio 39, Marfa 40, Amarillo and Houston 41, Midland 43, Dallas 44, Waco and Fort Worth 45, Laredo, Wichita Falls and Abilene 47, El Paso 48, San Angelo 49 and Brownsville 50.

Texas S-D Crashes Total 240, 3 Dead

By UNITED PRESS

Three persons were killed and 50 others injured in 240 traffic accidents in Texas Wednesday as the state marked Safe Driving Day on highways and streets.

Two of the dead were killed outright in accidents and the third, Ronald McKend, 19, of Raymondville, died Thursday of injuries received in an accident Wednesday.

Police said McKend, riding a motorcycle, was trying to pass a car on the right when the car started to make a right turn. The motorcycle bounded off the right front fender of the car and then hit a stop sign.

McKend returned home after the accident, saying he did not think he was seriously hurt. Later he complained of pains and was rushed to Raymondville Memorial hospital, where attendants found head and spleen injuries.

The first person reported killed Wednesday was Clifton Smith, a Gallies, Tex. Negro, who was thrown from his car when it went out of control and turned over a mile from Huntville.

Mrs. Tommy Haas, 61, of Fort Worth, was killed Wednesday night as she crossed a Fort Worth street. Police said she was struck by a car driven by Dan E. Whelan.

Jr., a Texas Christian University student from Marshall, Tex.

One accident at San Antonio accounted for eight of the injured persons. A car in which Mrs. Ruby Hummel, 40, was taking five children to school, collided with another in which W. B. Mayraht, 35, and his daughter were riding. The five children in the Hummel car were thrown out, and the Mayrahts and Mrs. Hummel also were injured.

Suspect Held In Dallas Assault Case

DALLAS, Dec. 16—UP—Police arrested a 26-year-old Negro ex-convict for questioning Thursday about two rapes of white women by Negroes in the last week.

Police said they were called to a home in Oak Cliff—many miles from the North Dallas section where the rapes occurred—by a man who reported a burglary in progress.

A number of squads rushed to the area and found the man with two knives, a flashlight, four pairs of gloves and an ice pick.

The man was described as five feet, eight inches tall and weighing about 175 pounds.

A 28-year-old mother was raped in her home last Thursday by a Negro who threatened to kill her baby if she resisted. She described him as six feet tall and weighing 250 pounds.

A 20-year-old mother was raped Friday by a Negro whom she described as five feet eight inches tall and weighing 175 pounds. She fainted during the attack.

Film Planned On FDR Life

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 16 —UP—Research will begin at Hyde Park, N. Y., next month for a motion picture depicting the life of Franklin D. Roosevelt, a Hollywood agency announced Wednesday.

The William Morris agency said Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and her daughter, Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Halsted, granted permission for the picture on the life of the late President.

The agency said the film will be "a story of Roosevelt the man, and his family."

At a meeting with agency heads, Mrs. Roosevelt said she had previously felt it was too soon to make such a picture but that in view of the extensive research which will be required, she said she now was willing to go ahead with plans.

A screenwriter will go to Hyde Park next month to do research with Elliot Roosevelt, second son of the former president.

A spokesman for the Roosevelts said selection of a staff to do the screen play version has not been made.

Blast Injures Ag Students

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Dec. 16—UP—Two students and an employee were injured Tuesday when an explosion rocked the graduate laboratory of the Petroleum Engineering building at Texas A&M College.

School officials said research on gas under high pressure was underway, but the exact cause of the blast was not determined immediately.

Those injured were Robert J. Gephwin, Bryan, an employee of the Texas Petroleum Research Committee, who suffered shock and severe burns on the face and shoulders; Denton R. Willard, a graduate student from Falfurrias, burns on face, neck and hands; and Howard R. Andrew (2602 Ella Lee Lane), Houston, senior engineering student, received a brain concussion when he was hit in the face by a door blown loose.

A class of 15 undergraduates in an adjacent classroom were not hurt, although windows in the room were shattered.

Veterans Land Board Calls Meet

AUSTIN, Dec. 16—UP—The Veterans Land Board scheduled a special meeting, Thursday.

Land Commissioners Bascom Glina, who announced the meeting, didn't disclose the reason for it. Other members of the board are Gov. Allan Shivers and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, and the governor's office said he would attend.

The board normally meets twice a month, and at its Dec. 7 meeting it announced a general tightening of regulations. There have been complaints of fraud in connection with the $100 million program.

The General Investigating committee of the state Senate will open a special hearing on the veterans land program Dec. 27.

Trains Collide, But None Hurt

PARKE, Ill., Dec. 16 —UP—A crash of two New York Central freight trains early Wednesday sent boxcars hurtling through the air like shrapnel, ripping off the walls and roof of an apartment house.

Police reported that by a "miracle" no one was seriously injured, although four persons who escaped death by a whisker were treated for minor injuries.

The crash on the residential west side of Parke "shook about a two block area," whites said. Whites said the trains were spraying debris about a block and across the tracks and over leg jam.

Commissioner Jumps To Death

SAN MARCOS, Tex., Dec. 16—UP—Frank Opryshek, police and fire commissioner at New Braunfels, Tex., jumped to his death from the 100-foot water tower Wednesday at Kyle, Tex., Sheriff Jack Gary said Thursday.

Gary said no one saw Opryshek, 44, climb the tower, which is a landmark on U.S. 81, the San Antonio-Austin highway.

A suicide note, addressed to Opryshek's wife, was found in his effects, the sheriff said. A justice of the peace returned a suicide verdict.

Police at New Braunfels said they knew of no reason for the suicide. Opryshek was serving his first term, after his election last April. He owned a service station in New Braunfels.

Graveside Rites Held For Artist

WACO, Dec. 16—UP—Graveside services were to be held Thursday before the burial of Mrs. Marguerite Kirmse Cole, Bridgewater, Conn., artist.

Mrs. Cole died Sunday at her home in Connecticut. She was known for her etchings of dogs and horses, and also as a dog show judge.

She was buried beside the body of her husband, Ted, a Waco lawyer and New York Broker who died in 1945.

Highway 70 Near Completion

The stretch of State Hwy. 70 in Briscoe County between Clarendon and Turkey is expected to be completed by Feb. 15, according to Cole Boswell, ardent booster of the highway from Turkey.

In a letter to Red Wedgeworth, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, Boswell said excavations on this section of the road are 80 per cent completed and bridges and culverts are complete.

This section of the road in addition to the Canadian River Bridge will complete State Hwy. 70 through Texas from Perryton, to Bronte where the highway joins with U. S. Hwy. 277. Bronte is 350 miles south of Pampa.

Horatio Alger would have loved TV. Nothing to stop a clean-living boy from making his fortune. Take three boys — whom we will assume are clean-living — named Ely Landau, Oliver Unger and Harold Goldman. Last January, they formed National Television Associates, which distributes such TV shows as "China Smith" and "Orient Express," plus feature-length motion pictures. They'll Christmas items since Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" seems even better on record. Might make a good gift. It's Dylan Thomas' "A Child's Christmas in Wales," and Caedmon includes it on a record of Thomas reading his own works. It should serve as a good introduction to Thomas, the poet many people believe was the greatest the 20th Century has produced.

Pianist Jan August, who has lots of time between eighth notes, has fun giving pop titles to Shakespeare's plays. He likes these: "Hamlet" — "The Cat From Denmark"; "Comedy of Errors" — "Crazy, Man, Crazy"; "King Lear" — "The Mad One"; "The Winter's Tale" — "Cool, Cool, Romeo and Juliet" — "Crazy Mixed-Up Kids." How about "Much Ado About Nothing" — "Real Gone."

Robert Q. Lewis Paul Dixon

gross about $4,000,000 this year. Next year, they're starting a national game called TV Tie-Tac-Toe, which will be conducted in more than 100 cities and will have prizes of $1,000,000. Makes old man Alger seem like a shoe shine boy.

Robert Q. Lewis' remark about what happened to him at a 3D movie — "I walked in at the beginning of one picture and the middle of another."

Once upon a time, a few years ago, there was a boy playing football for a small high school in Iowa. Pretty good, too. Ordinarily this story would wind up with the boy going on to college and making the All-America team.

But it didn't happen that way. Our hero quit the team so he could go home and listen to the radio.

"That's all I ever wanted to do, be on radio," says Paul Dixon, who now conducts TV's best disc-jockey show over the DuMont network. "I used to eat, sleep and dream radio. I quit the football team just so I could study the announcers' techniques."

"Remember Pierre Andre? I can remember him to this day. What an announcer! And Jack Armstrong, the All-American Boy? I didn't give a darn about Jack Armstrong, but I listened every day."

All this extra-curricular study helped Dixon work his way up through radio until he was Cincinnati's leading disc jockey. He was there for 10 years, and he split his time, the last five years, between radio and TV.

Dixon pioneered pantomiming to records, which, he says, "is the only way a disc jockey can do a TV show." DuMont picked the show up from Cincinnati, and now Dixon has moved to New York, lock, stock and turntable.

"I had to move here," he says, "to sell the network show better. An advertising agency doesn't want to go to Cincinnati or someplace to buy a show. New York or Hollywood are the only places you can sell a show. The show will be a little better artistically from New York, too, because of some of the equipment — gadgets that Cincinnati doesn't have."

Dixon's preoccupation with selling is part of his estimation of his job.

"On radio or TV," he says, "you're only successful if you can sell."

Court Upholds Death Verdict

AUSTIN, Dec. 16 — UP — The Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday sustained a death sentence conviction which found Lonnie Brinkley, Houston, guilty of killing his wife of 29 years.

"We have given this case careful consideration. No reversible error appears in the record, and we would not be authorized to set aside the verdict of the jury who heard the witnesses and passed upon their credibility," Judge W. A. Morrison wrote in the court's opinion.

Brinkley's gunshot slaying of his wife climaxed what the court called a "marriage marked with turbulence."

Marvin Brinkley, a married son who shared a duplex apartment with his parents, was shot in the neck at the time his mother was killed.

He testified against his father, but the elder Brinkley protested that he shot his son in self-defense, that he "blacked out" and did not remember shooting his wife.

However, a daughter-in-law testified that when she attempted to aid Mrs. Brinkley after the shooting, Brinkley waved her away with the order, "don't touch her, Bessie, I want her to die."

A&M Man Is Livestock Judge

Dr. J. C. Miller, head of the animal husbandry department of Texas A&M College, College Station, will serve as judge for the Junior Livestock Show Jan. 24-26, according to Clyde Carruth, superintendent of the Top O' Texas Fat Stock Show.

Cul. Waller Britten, of College Station, was selected as auctioneer for sale Jan. 25. Britten was recently named Texas' outstanding 4-H Club alumnus.

Saucers Not Crafts From Outer Space

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 —UP— President Eisenhower said Wednesday that an Air Force official told him some time ago that so-called flying saucers do not come from outer space.

The President said this in response to a news conference question. He did not, however, say whether he thinks there are any such things, or, if so, where they come from.

The subject of flying saucers came up at Mr. Eisenhower's news conference after a long discussion of defense plans and the world situation.

A reporter said that some European governments are investigating "quite seriously" reports of flying saucers. The U.S. Air Force also has been making a long study of unexplained phenomena.

The President also was reminded that a recent book quoted some Air Force officers as believing some of the reported saucers came from out of this world.

Asked for his reaction, the President, natty in a double-breasted brown suit and matching bow tie, seemed a bit surprised at first.

He thought briefly and replied that nothing recently had come to him on the subject.

The last report he had on flying saucers — he did not say just when — was from an Air Force man whom he trusted.

This man, the President said, told him it was completely inaccurate to believe that the saucers came from any other orbit or planet.

Dies Wants Back On Probe Job

HOUSTON, Dec. 15 —UP— The first chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee, Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex.), says he wants to go back on it.

Dies, author of the resolution establishing the anti-subversive group in 1938, was its chairman from that year until 1945, when he didn't run for re-election. He went back to the House in 1953 as congressman-at-large from Texas.

He believes that my experience and knowledge of communism should be put to use," Dies told the Houston chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution Wednesday night.

"Every effort will be made to back my assignment," he said. But he thought public support would be with him in "renewing my campaign against the enemies within our country."

Asked what he thought about Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) he said:

"I think Joe made some mistakes he could have avoided. I think he should have acknowledged his mistakes, but on the whole he did more good than harm."

Even if McCarthy had been perfect, Dies said, he would have been denounced.

The truth is that there are thousands of Marxists in our country who are opposed to any investigation and exposure of communism," he said.

There were no Democratic vacancies on the Un-American Activities committee in the 83rd Congress, since the party shifted from a majority to a minority position and had only four seats, instead of 45 as in the 82nd. Since the Democrats again will be the majority party in the 84th Congress, there will be a vacancy to which Dies might be named.

Poland Gets Big Role In Red Plans

By CHARLES M. MCCANN

United Press Foreign Analyst

Poland, it is reported, is to become the general headquarters for staff operations in Russia's new eastern European military set-up.

Military planning for Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany are to be centered in Warsaw, according to advices from West Berlin.

It is reported also that Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, the Polish defense minister, may be named the commander-in-chief of a combined Soviet satellite fighting force.

These developments would not surprise anyone. Poland is the largest country in the Kremlin's satellites, with a population of 25 million. Its armed forces number about 450,000 men, and its army is modeled closely after that of the Soviet Union.

Poland, in fact, might be called a bulwark of satellite military strength.

Sustained by Red Overlords

But what a bulwark! Poland is a bulwark sustained not by the Polish people but by ruthless Communist overlords, secret police, spies and courts which mete out sentences to slave labor, prison or the gallows. And Poland is in the same situation as the other satellites — and of Russia itself, for that matter.

What it adds up to is that the Polish army would be completely untrustworthy in a war between East and West, and so would be the armies of East Germany and the other satellite countries.

Take Rokossovsky. He is Polish-born. But he had a pro-Russian background in Czarist days and went to Russia in 1914 when he was 18. He became a Communist and rose to marshal in the Russian, not the Polish army. In 1949, he went back to Poland as defense minister. He went not as a Pole but as a Russian Communist, to help whip the country in line with communism.

Take the army. The authoritative and objective "statesman's year book" says:

"Officers are required to learn Russian. A considerable proportion of the higher commanding posts is occupied by Russians or former Soviet officers (partly of Polish origin)."

A Red Example

The official Polish news agency PAP reported on Dec. 8 that the people of 11 small towns had been forced to go back to the polls and vote for candidates for Communist "people's councils." The reason was, PAP said, that people did not bother to vote in the real election on Dec. 4.

Cops Strymied In Kindling Stick Murder

BRINKLEY, Ark., Dec. 15 —UP— Police said Wednesday they were "almost at a standstill" in their investigation of the kindling wood murder of 25-year-old Mrs. Sue Fuller.

Nineteen men, picked up for questioning since the attractive matron was killed early Sunday morning, were held in the Brinkley jail. But officers said all of them gave a more or less rational account of their actions.

"We're just trying to pick up what we can," said Police Sgt. George Battle. "Things are almost at a standstill."

The men being questioned included a 37-year-old former mental patient, now a federal parolee. Officers said the man murdered an Illinois woman several years ago.

He was arrested Tuesday at his home near Devils Bluff, some 18 miles south of Brinkley. The man said he had been "grocery shopping" during the search for him.

A $1,000 reward was posted for information leading to the killer, and Police Chief Frank Henderson said it was "the best card I've got so far."

Mrs. Fuller was fatally beaten by an intruder and died two hours after she was found by her husband, Milton.

Fuller, who was cleared of any connection with the murder, had been away from his home for an hour, drinking a customary cup of coffee at a downtown restaurant.

Noted Attorney Dies Tuesday

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 —UP— Arthur Garfield Hays, 73, noted attorney and general counsel to the American Civil Liberties Union, died at New York hospital Tuesday of a heart ailment.

Hays entered the hospital five and a half weeks ago after a heart attack.

He had been a prominent participant in civil rights trials dating back to the early 1920s. They included such famous cases as the "monkey" evolution trial and the Sacco-Vanzetti case.

He is survived by his first wife, from whom he was divorced, Mrs. Blanche Marks Hays, and two daughters, Mrs. Lora Hays Spindell and Mrs. Jane Hays Butler.

Funeral services will be held from the Frank E. Campbell funeral chapel at 10 a. m. Thursday.

Nationalists Bomb Reds

TAIPEI, Formosa, Dec. 16-UP—Chinese Nationalist planes bombed Communist artillery positions at Tumen Island in the Tachen Island group before dawn Wednesday, setting huge fires, the ministry of defense announced.

A communique said four-engined bombers attacked the island north of here where Communist guns have been firing on nearby Nationalist-held Yichangshan Island sporadically for the past two months. Elsewhere on the 300-mile long island war front, Communist artillery on Yangyu Island in the Wenchow Bay shelled Nationalist-controlled Pishan Island with 15 rounds Tuesday. It was the first shelling of Pishan in a month.

Singer-Housewife Is Baking Champ

NEW YORK, Dec. 16-UP—An opera singer housewife took home the $25,000 grand prize Wednesday in a nationwide baking contest sponsored by Pillsbury.

Mrs. Bernard A. Koteen, wife of a Washington, D.C., statistician, was declared 1954 "cook of the year" at the conclusion Tuesday of the flour company's sixth grand national recipe and baking contest.

Her winning recipe was an "open sesame pie." The 37-year-old woman who taught herself to cook after careers as an archeologist and opera singer baked a prize-winning pie crammed with dates and sesame seeds.

It was the sixth year Mrs. Koteen had competed in the bake-off. She said Wednesday she would use the prize money to buy a new home.

Cream Puffs Go Well
With Various Fillings

By JANE MADRINO
Pampa News Women's Editor

A good dessert or party dish during this time of holiday entertaining is cream puffs, a specialty of Mrs. Bob Fugate, 1312 Garland.

A Pampa for three years, Mrs. Fugate cooks for her husband and two children, Judy 4, and Bobby, 7. Mrs. Fugate's home is Dodge City, Kans., where the family lives before coming to Pampa.

Mrs. Fugate likes to cook, and wishes she had more time to try out recipes. She has done most of her cooking since she was married, although she did make pies, cakes and candies before.

In addition to her household duties, Mrs. Fugate belongs to the Exemplar chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, for which she serves as reporter, to the Sam Houston Parent-Teacher Association and to the Ruth Class of the First Baptist Church.

She also raises tropical fish, which she says is very interesting.

CREAM PUFFS

Melt
1/4 lb. oleo or butter
1 cup boiling water
Add all at once

1 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt

Cook until mixture forms a ball. Remove from heat and cool. Then add 5 eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition until mixture is smooth. Bake for 15 minutes at 450 degrees; then for 25 minutes at 325 degrees. Make 12 large puffs. Fill with vanilla pudding, sprinkled with powdered sugar; chocolate pudding with chocolate icing; or whipped cream with fruit or cut up peppermint candy folded in.

For a party, Mrs. Fugate says you can make swan-shaped puffs. When you put the dough on cookie sheets, make S-shaped figures with part of the dough — as many as you have puffs. Then bake as directed. When you cut off a slice on top to add the filling, cut the piece taken off in half to form wings. After filling, stick the S-shaped pieces into the filling to form the swan heads.

There are unlimited possibilities for fillings, including ice cream and instant pudding. Mrs. Fugate cautions against filling the puffs until just before serving, as they will become soggy.

Pear-Prune Recipes

Here are some pear and prune combinations and single recipes that are sure to make delightful eating and enjoyable cooking.

PEAR-PRUNE RELISH

24 Washington Italian pears
6 ripe tomatoes
6 medium onions
4 green peppers
5 cups sugar
1 quart vinegar
2 tablespoons salt
1/2 ounce pickling spice
1 stick cinnamon

Finely chop fruit and vegetables. Mix with remaining ingredients. Seal in clean jars. Yields 11 half-pint jars.

PEAR-PINEAPPLE MARMALADE

4 cups mashed fresh Bartlett pears
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
2 cups orange slices
1/4 cup lemon juice
8 cups sugar
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin

Wash, peel, core and mash pears. Measure. Combine mashed pears, pineapple (undrained), with finely sliced peeled oranges. Add sugar, lemon juice, and ginger finely cut. Bring to full rolling boil. Stir and continue boiling for 10 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in liquid pectin. Skim. Pour into hot sterilized jar and seal. Yield: about 10 half-pints.

PEAR FRUIT CUP

3 Washington Bartlett pears
1 cup orange juice
1 cup gingerale
Sprig of mint
Toasted coconut

Wash pears. Cut in halves and place in 6 individual sherbet glasses. Put several mint leaves in each serving. Add orange juice, Chill about 15 minutes. Pour on gingerale just before serving. Top with coconut. Serves 6.

To keep cheese fresh, wrap it in a cloth dampened with vinegar and store in a cool place.

The first chain store in the United States opened in New York City in 1859.

Unique Fruit Cake
For Holiday Party

Something easy to prepare for your holiday entertaining? Is that what you'd like? Well — unbaked fruit cake is just this. All you have to do to prepare this full-of-fruit dessert is mix candied fruit with marshmallows, cream and graham cracker crumbs. After forming into a loaf and an overnight chilling in your refrigerator, it will be right for slicing.

Marshmallow Fruit Cake

32 marshmallows
1 cup coffee cream
4 cups graham cracker crumbs
1 cup chopped candied cherries
1 cup chopped candied pineapple

1 cup pecans
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Heat marshmallows and coffee cream over low heat, folding constantly until marshmallows are about half melted. Remove from heat and continue folding until marshmallows have formed a smooth, fluffy mixture. Cool.

Add three and one-half cups of the graham cracker crumbs and other ingredients. Blend well. Sprinkle remaining one-fourth cup graham cracker crumbs in well oiled loaf pan and pack mixture in pan. Chill in refrigerator overnight. Slice and serve with whipped cream.

A dab of whipped cream and a bright red cherry tops it off to perfection.

Free Fruit Gets Expensive

HONOLULU, T.H., Dec. 16.—UP—One dozen of the most expensive pineapples ever shipped from Hawaii were enroute Rome Thursday to satisfy the Christmas craving of a wealthy Italian engineer. The fruit is actually a gift from the Hawaiian Pineapple Co. to Terzo De Angelis. But by the time the sixty-pound shipment reaches Rome Monday, De Angelis will have a $100 freight bill.

Inspiration for a Holiday Morning

WHEN Christmas guests stay overnight, what are you going to feed them when they tumble downstairs in the morning? If you'll just keep a package of hot roll mix and some spices on hand, you can feed them this festive Christmas Tree Coffee Cake, all spicy and fresh.

And if you care to pop it into a hot oven for a few minutes while you're making the coffee, it'll be deliciously warm, too. (You'll have made the bread the day before, of course, so that you, too, can sleep a little later in the morning!)

A word about that coffee. Make it in healthy quantities! When you discover how much coffee one of last night's party-goers can put away, you're apt to find yourself humming "How Deep Is The Ocean?" in a slightly dazed fashion. Granted that the song originally described the depth of man's love for a maid, it also refers to the measure of man's love for his coffee!

Chilled orange juice or grapefruit juice, plenty of fresh sweet butter and marmalade or preserve will complete the simple but delectable spread.

CHRISTMAS TREE COFFEE CAKE

Follow recipe for sweet rolls or refrigerator rolls on package of hot roll mix, adding 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg and 1/4 teaspoon all-spice to the dry ingredients. After mixing with liquid called for, work in 1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts. Let rise as directed. Shape dough in long rope about 1/2-inch in diameter. Coil rope in shape of Christmas tree, starting with trunk. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Cover and let rise again until doubled in bulk. Bake as directed for rolls. Cool. Decorate with white confectioners' sugar frosting, green sugar and Maraschino cherries.

Apple Sauce Molds
For Yuletide Meal

Apple sauce molds are beautiful in color, lively in flavor and perfect for a turkey dinner. They're made of canned apple sauce with give the crispness you like. Red cinnamon candies add color and flavor to this Christmas salad.

Apple Sauce Molds

1 tablespoon plain gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1 can applesauce (2 cups)
2 tablespoons red cinnamon candies

2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons sugar

1 cup chopped red apples
Few drops red coloring

Soften gelatin in cold water. Heat applesauce. Add cinnamon candies, stirring until candies dissolve. Add softened gelatin to hot applesauce and stir until gelatin dissolves. Mix in lemon juice, sugar, chopped apples and a few drops of red food coloring.

Pour into molds and chill in refrigerator until firm. Serve in crisp lettuce cups and garnish with whipped cream mayonnaise.

Whipped cream mayonnaise is made by mixing equal parts of whipped cream and mayonnaise.

Five Mau Mau Killed

NAIROBI, Kenya, Dec. 16.—UP—Five anti-white Mau Mau terrorists were shot and killed Monday in a skirmish with a police patrol in the farmlands northeast of Nairobi, it was reported. Police captured one of the band as well as a quantity of home-made guns, grenades and ammunition.

MIXING BATTER — Mrs. Bob Fugate, 1312 Garland, mixes the batter for her cream puffs, a good dessert for holiday entertaining and for parties the year around. Cream puffs can be served with a variety of fillings, and should not be filled until just before serving. (News photo)

Christmas-Time Is Time For Fruit Cake

No matter how early the stores display their exciting array of gifts, Christmas never really begins until it's fruit cake time in the kitchen. And it's about that time as of now for homemakers who like to age their luscious cakes before the holidays.

Port Wine-Pineapple Fruit Cake
2 cups (1 oz. package) mixed candied fruits

2 cups seedless raisins
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 (No. 2) can crisp cut crushed pineapple, drained
1 cup California port wine
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed

CHRISTMAS OPERETTA

An operetta, based on Dickens' "Christmas Carol," was to be presented today by students of the school. The operetta was directed by Mrs. Claude Speake, who was assisted by Mrs. Don Swadley. Shown terrifying the ill-natured Scrooge are the "Ghouls." The part of Scrooge (seated) was to be played by Allen Wise. The meeting was slated for 2 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Hobart Baptist Ladies Present Christmas Fete

Mrs. J. B. Barrett, 5 miles south of city, was hostess to the Christmas party of the Women's Missionary Union, Hobart Street Baptist Church recently. Decorations, including a large, lighted yule tree, followed the Christmas theme. Entertainment was under the direction of Mrs. Mage Keyser and Mrs. Harry Dean. Alton Winborne, Harold Beckham, Ed Gentry and W. D. Pate, all circle chairmen.

The devotionals were given by Mrs. Lawrence Barrett, and Miss Gwen Barrett played the accompaniment on the group sang Christmas carols. Refreshments of pie and coffee were served.

Ruth Class Has Christmas Party

The Ruth Class of the First Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Weldon Trice, 613 Deane Dr., for a Christmas party. Decorations followed a Christmas theme. Gifts were presented to Mrs. S. E. Waters, teacher, and Mrs. Leroy Head, from the group. Attending were Mrs. Bill McCulloch, Bob Puzate, Jim Johnson, Chuck Hogan, C. L. Bretthauer, Jim Dean, John Ramsey, David Shoup, Leroy Head, James Weatherly, O. G. Trimble, Joe Magee, Weldon Trice, John Jones, Bob Rose and S. E. Waters.

Women gossip about doctors almost as much as they gossip about babies. If your doctor suits you and baby—whether he's a pediatrician or a general practitioner—stay with him. There are fads for doctors because they may order solid food early or change formula often. If you trust your doctor, pay him the compliment of leaving his name out of the backyard chit-chat and comparisons.

If baby has a very sensitive bottom, you've discovered that rubber pants turn him red around the diaper area. Yet you struggle with laundry endlessly because he wets everything he lies on. There is a solution. There are thick cotton pants in very small sizes. They are processed to retain the wet, yet they're airy. They're made just for your kind of baby. Find them in your department store. One caution: Don't wash them in the machine or very hot water as this takes out the stuff that keeps the sheets dry.

At six months, baby's desire to get everything he touches into his mouth can be worked to your advantage. Let him have a crust of bread you've dried out in the oven, or a teething biscuit. He'll demolish it—with many crumbs, of course. After you've given him his few sips from a small plastic or metal cup, let him hold the cup. It'll go right to the mouth, maybe even right side up. Later, you can put a little milk in and let him experiment with trying to get that down. He'll hold his juice bottle, if you have a half-sized one.

BGK Group Gives Christmas Party

Beta Kappa Gamma sorority held its Christmas party Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Guy LeMond, 1221 N. Russell. Co-hostesses with Mrs. LeMond were Mrs. Bill Bridges, Mrs. Maynard Johnson and Miss Sue Johnson.

The program, a Christmas reading, was presented by Mrs. Rufe Jordan.

Decorations included a large replica of Santa Claus in a sleigh filled with toys; and a smaller stereoscopic Santa with the letters, "BGK," in gold gilt on his belt, surrounded by candy canes.

Refreshments of punch and hors d'oeuvres were served from a table covered with a pink cloth over red decorated at the corners with sequined felt Christmas trees.

Present were Mrs. Jack Benton, Bill Braly, Bill Bridges, Jack Foster, Gwen Gray, Ernestine Haslam, Byron Hilburn, Maynard Johnson, Guy LeMond, Tom Lindsey, Doris Mathis, L. C. McMurry, V. G. Nelson, K. D. Reeves, E. L. Stark, Jerry Thomas and Melvin Watkins; and Misses Jean Chisholm, Sue Johnson, Vivian Laferty, and Sara Parker.

Special Breakfast For Christmas Day

You'll have time to put extra little touches on Christmas morning's breakfast because no one in the family will realize he's hungry for awhile.

You can take care of the fruit in a few seconds the night before. Remove a carton of frozen blueberries or raspberries from the freezer compartment to the refrigerator to thaw and put a can of grapefruit sections into the refrigerator to chill. Next morning, all you have to do is drain the two fruits and serve them together. Serve them in pretty sherbet glasses.

Cook the sausage links slowly in a small amount of water in a covered pan 10 to 15 minutes. Then remove the cover and brown thoroughly. For the bacon curls, place a single layer of bacon in a cool frying-pan. Cook them slowly over low heat, pouring off drippings as they collect. As the bacon browns shape each slice into a curl with two forks.

To make colorful Cherry Cherry Muffins, fold a few well-drained red and green maraschino cherry halves into plain muffin batter; just before you put the batter into the muffin pan. Bake the muffins as usual. They'll be tender-rich if you use lard for the shortening.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend: After having followed your column for a long time and seeing the good advice you have for most of the problems, I must admit to being confused.

Your letter in answer to F.J.'s letter was understanding and fine, but the almost identical letter from Helene of Nov. 12 received an answer that seemed untrue and unfair and completely different from your reply to F.J.'s letter.

If our Medical Association did not maintain high standards for the medical profession, we would be the victims of many quacks and fakes. It is to protect us, the public, that these rules are laid down.

There are many fine general practitioners or family doctors. They work hard and do a good job inspiring the confidence of their patients, both young and old.

We have a family doctor who takes care of three generations of our family, and while we have only known him for about three years we trust his judgment and he has proven to be a good friend as well as our doctor. There are many such men working day and night to protect us and our children. They deserve the support of the Medical Association as well as their patients, and get it, too.

Respectfully,

Paula

Dear Paula: The two letters to which you refer were quite different. The first only asked the name of a family doctor. The second wanted an answer to the kind of treatment she had received and I attempted to tell her why such things can happen.

The Medical Association has not protected us from quacks and fakes. Actually it has made us more susceptible to their incompetency as we expect more from men who are members of that group. The fact that men complete a medical course at a recommended university and pass the examination laid down by the state and the Medical Assn. does not necessarily mean that they are automatically fine, dependable doctors.

There are always a few who are selfish, careless and lazy in practicing their profession.

Those doctors who are striving to live up to high ideals and benefit their fellowmen would be the same without the Medical Assn.

TURKEY IS A FAVORITE Christmas dish, although usually connected with Thanksgiving. Of course, ham and Christmas go together, too, but today I have some tips on buying a turkey for the holiday meal. I read an article recently that said turkey prices were up some earlier in the fall, but for below a year ago. So we may not have to spend so much for the traditional meal this year.

"SHOPPING FOR the Christmas turkey is like the rest of your holiday buying. Do it early. At least, that's the advice of Scott Hinner, poultry specialist at Southern Illinois University. Here is more of what he advises.

"Early shopping assures the homemaker of a choice turkey, and one also sized to the family's needs.

"Many families find that small turkeys, turkey halves, turkey quarters and even sliced turkey steaks are enough for the holiday meal.

"Allow 1/2 to 3/4 pound, dressed weight, of turkey for each person to be served. Small children do not require that much. A 15-pound turkey will provide about 20 generous servings.

"Cutting a turkey into halves or quarters does not affect its flavor in roasting. We find at our house that we get more of that good dressing with the turkey because there is more space in the roaster when halves are used. There is one objection to turkey quarters, though: your family has to be unanimous on their choice of light or dark meat.

"There may be some difference in flavor between large and small birds. Usually the large turkeys are the toms and the smaller ones are the hens.

"Most people prefer a large hen to the same weight tom, but large, fat toms are palatable. They normally cost less per pound and yield a higher percentage of edible meat, making them the most economical buy."

IN ADDITION to how much to buy, here are some tips on how to choose a good turkey.

"The high-quality bird has a moist, pliable, waxy skin with few pin feathers and no bruises or other discolorations. There is a well-distributed layer of fat under the skin. The turkey body should be relatively short with broad quarters.

During the business session, plans were made for the Christmas party, to be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the City Club Room. Members are requested to bring $1 for a gift for Girlstown, a gift for exchange among members and non-perishable foods for Christmas baskets.

CHILDREN LOVE TO MAKE these special Christmas butter cookies for their relatives and friends.

Even Children Can Make Christmas Butter Cookies

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Youngsters love to get into the act when mother is making Christmas cookies. Indulge their urge to make these gifts for friends and relatives—it's good for the true Christmas spirit.

Kate Stahl, food expert, tells us she began her cookie baking career in Denver as a very little girl. Used her grandmother's recipes. She learned to make 30 different kinds. They all were made with butter. Cookie expert Stahl still believes butter gives a rich and delicate flavor, especially when packed in paraffin cartons. She also thinks the cookies, gift wrapped, should be delivered on Christmas Eve.

She insists that even rolled, aired, cookies are not difficult for children to make.

Butter Cookies
(Approximately 3 dozen cookies)
One-half cup butter, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt.
Cream butter. Gradually add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Mix in egg and vanilla. Stir in flour, baking powder and salt; blend well. Chill dough about 1-2 hour. Roll dough to about 1/4-inch thickness on lightly floured board. Cut with assorted Christmas cookie cutters; place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Decorate as desired.

Easy-to-Prepare Holiday Dessert

What do you like in a Christmas dessert? We say it must be rich, luscious, and colorful. Above all, it must be a dessert that can be prepared in advance and one that's easy. You will thank us for the recipe for Pineapple Delight, as much as we thanked our friend who passed it on to us.

Pineapple Delight

1/2 pound butter
5/8 pound powdered sugar
2 eggs, beaten
8 ounces vanilla wafer crumbs
20 marshmallows
1 small bottle maraschino cherries
1 cup drained crushed pineapple
2 cups whipping cream
Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Blend in well beaten eggs. Spread one half of vanilla wafer crumbs in bottom of pan (8" x 12"). Spread creamed mixture over crumbs. Place in refrigerator to chill.
Cut marshmallows into quarters and chop cherries. Whip the cream. Fold marshmallows, cherries and drained pineapple into whipped cream. Pour over chilled mixture. Sprinkle remaining crumbs over top. Place in refrigerator to chill. This is a perfect dessert for your home freezer.

Merry Christmas

Too early? Not at all; now is exactly the time to be baking the individual fruit cakes you love to make for those special holiday gifts.

Wise homemakers know fruit cake improves with age and always allow at least a month for the cakes to "ripen." However, keeping cakes as fresh and moist as when they came from the oven can be troublesome.

Now you can solve this problem by using a new saran plastic food wrap. This sparkling clear moisture-proof film provides perfect protection; cakes can be wrapped for storage in a jiffy because the film clings to itself, needs no rubber bands or string. If cake must be handled considerably, a transparent tape will insure a neat package.

When minutes are precious during the holiday rush, simply bring out the cakes, add a gay satin ribbon, and your glamorous gift is ready. See how easy? Just use your own favorite recipe or try this one which makes five one-pound cakes or, if you prefer, one large ring mold:

Christmas Fruit Cake
6 ounces butter (1 1/2 sticks), 1 tsp. cinnamon
1 cup light brown sugar, 1 tsp. mace
1 tsp. vanilla, 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
3 large eggs (1/4 cup), 1/2 tsp. allspice
2 1/2 cups cake flour, 1 lb. raisins
1 tsp. baking powder, 1 lb. candied pineapple, cubed
1 tsp. salt, 1 lb. candied cherries, whole
6 ounces pecan halves

Cream together the butter, sugar and vanilla. Add the eggs, one at a time, beating after each. Sift together the dry ingredients. Sift about half over the fruit in a large bowl and stir to coat well. Add remainder to creamed mixture. Combine the two, stirring to blend evenly. Bake in moderate oven (300° F.) two hours for small cakes or 3 hours for large. Cool; decorate with Christmas motif; wrap in saran, leaving top clear to show decoration; and store in freezer or cool place until time for giving. For best flavor allow at least one month for "ripening."

You'll find these little fruit cakes in their glamorous holiday costumes perfect for all those extra remembrances on your gift list.

Power To Executive

We don't know whether the censure of Senator Joseph McCarthy will give aid and comfort to the Communists or not — and really don't care a whole lot — for the important thing is not what happened to or for Russia but what happened to the United States.

Having given McCarthy his lumps — now what? There was no question in the voting presented on the censure question but that a New Dealer is a New Dealer regardless of what political party badge he may be wearing.

The fact that no one Democrat voted with McCarthy is pretty good evidence that the question of censure was not approached by the Senators in session on any other than a political basis. They were voting not as senators concerned with the right or wrong of the implications that were present in the censure proposal, but as men who were following the lead of those favoring the New Deal and opposing those who fight the New Deal.

And on the basis of the United States shows a pro-New Deal strength of 67 to 20, give or take a few votes. The softening of the Watkins resolution for censure of McCarthy strikes us as being merely a softening and not any real change of heart on the part of the anti-McCarthy forces.

Undoubtedly there are a good many Republicans who come from borderline or anti-New Deal states who want to have something they can hedge with so far as the voters are concerned at the next election and the balloting on the Zwicker charge will give them that something. Thus they can still accomplish the aim of the New Deal, to give more and more power to the central authority and the executive branch, while pleading that they "really weren't against McCarthy but blah, blah, blah..." We can expect a shouting approval of the resolution which generalizes that the Senate is opposed to Communism and that it is out to retain investigative powers. Just how those senators voting for censure of McCarthy can explain to their voters or themselves the criticism of McCarthy for fighting Communism in government and attempting to maintain for the Senate its right of investigation, including the executive branch, and at the same time be opposed to Communism and opposed to the loss of the right to investigate is something we haven't solved. Since it apparently is no trick for a politician to talk out of both sides of his mouth at the same time, no doubt a good many of them will be able to fool the voters again and again.

The censure of Sen. McCarthy actually isn't nearly as important as the fact that the Senators have said, in effect, that "we're in favor of big government with more and more authority in the executive branch which can do no wrong since the head of that branch is the top politician."

This is a far cry from the days when the voices of senators thundered in Washington and the executive branch was happy to have the job of carrying out the laws set up by the legislators. Now we have steadily and through successive years of the New Deal corrupted our form of government until it is the executive, not the legislative branch that is all powerful — that can ride over and dictate to the Senate.

So far as the action of the Senate against the junior Senator goes, nothing actually will happen. The fact that censure was voted may or may not work against him in the next election. By the time the next election rolls around the voters of Wisconsin may have determined that Sen. McCarthy has grown in stature and value to them and return him to office. Or he may be defeated and another take his place in the Senate. But in either event, the hand of the executive has been strengthened by the censure vote — and nothing more.

Where the New Dealers and their leftist supporters will turn next to carry on their nefarious work of undermining the Republic we cannot say. Certainly it looks as though Senator William Knowland will be high on the list of the "most unwanted" by the New Deal. He has just taken the same viewpoint that Senator McCarthy advocated previously in connection with Red China and any opposition to the Reds, Chinese or otherwise, is certain to stir the same forces that have done their best to discredit the nation's No. 1 Communist opponent.

If there is in America today any real strength in the conservative viewpoint as opposed to the New Dealers, now is the time for them to assert themselves in whatever fashion they can. A little more New Deal approval and control by bureaucracy and it will be too late to attempt to turn our country once more toward a goal of respect for the rights of the individual and a belief in the innate goodness and right of liberty.

FOREIGN AID FOREVER

(The Wall Street Journal)

The new Marshall Plan that Washington is cooking up for Asia will not, it is reported, boost total foreign aid spending over current levels. This result will be achieved by reducing aid to Europe and greatly increasing that to Asia. In fact, the total next fiscal year may be somewhat less than this year.

The taxpayer will no doubt be duly grateful for this intelligence. Before getting too elated, however, he will do well to consider a couple of other aspects of the matter.

The Foreign Operations Administration, which hands out the aid, is due to expire next summer. By all signs that means that foreign aid should end then, or as soon thereafter as present funds are exhausted. Yet the Administration evidently intends to ask Congress for large new appropriations for Asia aid and also for continued aid to Europe. Moreover, officials are still talking about the Marshall Plan as a long-term project.

They were never very sure about making an end to foreign aid when the expiration date came. And an excuse for postponing it was always found, and that will probably still be the case ten years from now. But let us look at the justifications for continuing foreign aid into the far future.

As far as Europe is concerned, there just isn't any justification. True, most of the aid is now military. But if a prosperous West Europe cannot by now support the military establishment the United States built up, then Europe never will be able to support it. Europe had better cut other expenses to military requirements or cut the military requirements.

Effects of Recognizing Russia

I want to quote from a radio address recently made by Clarence Manion on the results of recognizing Russia from here on Manion is speaking:

"It is significant that in their conspiratorial drive to destroy our Constitutional system, the Communists have made consistent, steady progress ever since our unfortunate recognition of this criminal conspiracy as the official government of Russia on November 15, 1933.

"Mark that date! Every time it rolls around, that anniversary should be one of universal mourning, here and all over the world. By that recognition we rescued the then tottering Communist Kremlin apparatus from serious impending trouble with Japan and from the consequent collapse of its tyrannical control over the tortured Russian people. The Kremlin repaid our generosity by immediately laying siege to our Constitutional system with a mobile army of spies and saboteurs which infiltrated every area of American life, with extra-special attention to our Federal Government. We are still reaping a perennial harvest from Communist seeds that were sown then in our fields of labor, industry, education, communications, agriculture, taxes, currency, immigration and foreign policy.

"After this eighty-year period of continuous conspiratorial conditioning, it was to be expected that a thoroughly hypnotized United States would glory in its wartime military partnership with the criminals of the Kremlin. We blessed all of their works with the sweet name of 'Democracy.' We put them in the driver's seat at every strategic international conference. The Kremlin had bitter enemies all over the world. We immediately made these people the official enemies of America, regardless of the fact that many of these enemies of the Kremlin were in fact our own friends. Nevertheless, at the direction of Stalin, we condemned many of these men to death — like Mikhailovich in Serbia, or to exile and infamy like Mikolajek of Poland, or to defeat and disgrace — like Chiang-Kai-shek of China.

"We were so completely bewitched by the glorious performance of the embattled forces of Communist 'Democracy' that we regarded the German siege of Spalingrad as a direct attack upon Washington D. C. itself, and so we deflected military supplies from our own troops and sent those supplies to Russia. Eleven billion dollars' worth of them. With the supplies went the specifications of every military device or scientific secret that our enterprising laboratories could devise. We threw open the doors of key American defense plants not merely to Communist spies — but to the open continuous inspection of Russian officers in full uniform — don't you remember?

"Before they surrendered, the German armies killed a million Russians, but so lightly is human life valued by the Soviet Government that this was a trifling price for it to pay for what it acquired, with our help, at our direction, or through our hysteria if not criminal carelessness. And what did the Soviet Government thus acquire? Undisputed mastery of a third of the world, hundreds of German war plants, fully equipped, many of them underground and therefore unscathed; countless American machines, raw materials, and blueprints along with its conspiratorial access to the super secret of our atom and hydrogen bombs.

"In 1933 the Communist Government of Russia was in decline and disgrace, here and all over the world. In the next twenty years we — yes, the United States — transformed it into the most powerful engine of terror and tyranny that the world has ever seen. While we were following its signals and running its interference abroad, we were twisting and turning to parallel the Communist party line here at home.

"The depth of the Communist-inspired Socialistic drive into our free American institutions during these fateful, frightful years is literally incalculable. Radical violations of centralized Federal Executive power were hastily and continuously stamped into law — then promulgated and amplified in Presidential Executive orders, nearly all of which were finally congealed in a revolutionary series of unprecedented Supreme Court decisions. Unchallenged, Statism became the order of the day. Individual moral responsibility, family responsibility, local community responsibility and Constitutionally reserved states' rights — all were in full retreat before the rising flood of Federal controls, regulations, rationings and regimentations.

"Somehow, some way, major segments of education, press, radio and the theater were marshaled into an approving chorus for the New Socialistic order. Scores of well-known actors, writers, lecturers and editors who persisted in their addition to old-fashioned Americanism disappeared from the stage, the magazines and public platforms. Upon anyone who had the temerity publicly to trace the controlling Communist curve in this Statist trend of events, a damning destructive barrage of ridicule was sure to fall heavily and immediately.

"It was unfashionable — nay, even unsafe — to direct any criticism at our noble 'Democracy,' although still Communist ally. The lightning bolts of instant retaliation flashed from the highest peaks of American power and influence. Here is a sample, from President Roosevelt himself. Listen to it: 'There are here and there, evil

Prominent Dems Disagree With Plans To Attack Ike

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Many prominent Democrats disagree sharply with the Butler-Stevenson-Rayburn strategy of attacking President Eisenhower personally and politically in an attempt to strip him of public esteem, should he run for re-election in 1956. They fear that smearing of the President will reflect adversely as did Senator "Joe" McCarthy's recent vituperative outburst.

With the exception of Speaker-designate Rayburn of Texas, and he now denounces Clifford H. Russell of the Mankato Press in an attempt to strip him of public esteem, should he run for re-election in 1956. They fear that smearing of the President will reflect adversely as did Senator "Joe" McCarthy's recent vituperative outburst.

More astute Democratic politicians and after all, Chairman Butler is still an amateur — might be more willing to jump on the President, if it had not been for the demonstration of his popularity in the 1952 and 1954 elections. In the 1952 campaign, Eisenhower ran far ahead of every GOP candidate, as that Party's narrow control of Congress indicated.

This year, the Republicans would have suffered an even more serious reversal had it not been for the Eisenhower-Rayburn leadership. Both Adlai E. Stevenson and Butler's predecessor, Stephen A. Mitchell, have publicly conceded the effectiveness of Eisenhower's political efforts.

Ironically, President Eisenhower is now making a bid for the independent vote which, he assumes, will not respond to the sort of partisan exhibitions envisaged by the Butler-Stevenson-Rayburn leadership. He has defined his politico-economic position as that of a "progressive, moderate." He has said that he will avoid war until such a posture means national dishonor.

In short, every day in every and baseless rumors against the Russians. When you examine these rumors closely, you will observe that every one of them bears the same trade-mark — "made in Germany." That was in January of 1945. One month later, President Roosevelt, Alger Hiss and Joe Stalin went into a private Executive session at Yalta and decided to give Russia 3 votes to our one in the U. N.

"This 1945 Presidential proclamation will recall the temper of those times. Mind you, it declares that not just some of the rumors against Russia, but every one of them, was of German origin. That made every critic of Communism an ipso facto Nazi agent. Is it any wonder that Americanism lost its voice?

"It was months later that we pulled the last of the Kremlin's hot chestnuts out of the fire of war at Potsdam. Since that time we have spent two hundred and fifty billion dollars building military defenses against the Communist genie that we let out of the bottle in 1933 — that we were forbidden to criticize in 1945 — and whose evil influence in and upon the integrity of our Constitutional system is so passionately protected from full investigation, even to this day."

Big Foundations Attempt To Hide Fabianism Progress

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

There seems to be a desperate determination among those who operate the enormous mass of wealth in the tax-exempt foundations to prevent a public disclosure of the nature of Fabianism and its progress in Great Britain. You may remember that the so-called Buchanan committee of the House of Representatives, organized to investigate "lobbying," actually caused Dr. Edward A. Rumbly, of the committee for constitutional government, to be sentenced to prison for refusing to name individuals who had bought from that organization quantities of John T. Flynn's warning against Fabianism here, entitled "The Road Ahead."

Rumbly's conviction was reversed by the Supreme Court, but the old boy had plenty of courage and he would have gone, if it had been necessary, to dramatize the determination of certain forces to silence anyone who makes an effective fight against Communism and Fabianism, which is admittedly a way-station on the way to Communism.

Frank Buchanan, the chairman of that committee, was a common, cheap swindler and the disclosure in these despatches of three indictments against him doubtless drew attention to the perfidy of the job which the committee was doing.

In this work, Buchanan had help from Ildore Lipschutz's non-sectarian anti-Nazi league, which also has the privilege of "tax deductibility" even though I have written the Coleman Andrews, the commissioner of internal revenue, offering to prove that it spends some of these "tax-deductible" contributions spying on individual, law-abiding citizens and stealing documents from them. It enjoys "tax-deductibility" on the ground that its work is "educational."

Andrews does not seem interested in receiving evidence to the contrary. It is my conviction that the Eisenhower administration is not sympathetic with inquiries into tax-exempt foundations. We will all be better able to judge as to that when the report of the Reece committee is published.

There have been two great American books on Fabianism, "The Road Ahead," which got the business from the book-burners and log-rollers of the metropolitan book-departments, and Sister Margaret Patricia McCarran's "Fabianism in the Political Life of Great Britain."

Congressman Wayne L. Hays, of Ohio, a Democrat who did a job of obstruction on the Reece committee's investigation of tax-exempt foundations, caught his tail in a crack in the service of his party. It was bad enough to sabotage the inquiry and to engage in conduct so brazen as to provoke Carroll Reece, the chairman, to a formal complaint on the floor of the House. But his insulting remarks about Sister Margaret Patricia McCarran have been taken up on her behalf by Bishop Bryan McIntegart, the rector of Catholic University, Washington, and on behalf of the university.

And there is now on record a strong letter from Arthur L. Conrad, of Chicago, president of the Heritage Foundation, Inc., which published Sister Margaret Patricia's work.

Incidentally, there are available only 3,000 copies and Mr. Conrad expresses a hope that they will be bought by libraries, colleges and sincere students. He obviously will have no trouble selling them but there is a risk that they will fall into the hands of the New York book-burners.

Mr. Conrad's letter to the Reece committee is much too long for this space, but I will try to summarize the main points. By the way, Drew Pearson wrote on Nov. 1: "The attack on Hays for allegedly 'insulting' a Catholic nun is about the silliest accusation of this campaign of smear, half-truth and political graft."

Anyone who knows Hays knows he would be the last man here, entitled "The Road Ahead," in Congress to assail someone incapable of hitting back, particularly a religious person."

Mr. Conrad flatly says in the record: "The remarks by Congressman Hays are so full of insinuations that this attack on the integrity of the university and upon the character of a nun should not be allowed to stand unexamined. The obvious smear technique used by Hays to discredit the reputable work of a reputable teacher in an outstanding university must not go unchallenged."

Conrad then said Hays' insinuation that Sister Margaret Patricia took an unusually long time to get her degree of doctor of philosophy was absolutely false. On the contrary, she earned her degree in "an unusually short period of time." He explained also that the Coleman Andrews, the commissioner of internal revenue, offered to prove that it spends some of these "tax-deductible" contributions spying on individual, law-abiding citizens and stealing documents from them. It enjoys "tax-deductibility" on the ground that its work is "educational."

As to Hays' charge that the sister's degree was obtained on "pressure," Bishop McIntegart wrote that it was "absolutely false."

Conrad wrote that the university had never granted any degree which was not deserved. He then said as the published record shows:

"The remarks of this congressman constitute a stigma on the faculty of Catholic University; on the honesty and character of its students who, for the most part, are devoted, self-sacrificing nuns, priests and brothers of every religious order in the Catholic Church. The attack upon the character of Sister Margaret Patricia as a nun, devoted to a life of teaching with a vow of poverty and complete worldly abandonment, is one of the most irresponsible, thoughtless and uncharitable acts that has ever come to my attention."

Sam Rayburn, of Texas, picked Hays for this job and will receive a share of the responsibility. The reason why he selected Hays is commonly known in Congress. There was a "job" to be done to protect tax-exempt foundations from successful inquiry and Hays' character and reputation recommended him as the obvious one.

However, Rayburn could not foresee that Hays would attack a Catholic institution of learning, nor that Eisenhower, by forcing through the "condemnation" of Joe McCarthy for much less offensive conduct would put him and Hays and, for that matter, Ike himself on the spot.

Nothing Tests A Marriage Like Picking Christmas Tree

By HENRY McLEMORE

Mary is doing roadwork and working out afternoons in a gym these days, and I am skipping rope and punching the light bag.

All this athletic stuff is in preparation for the only really big, 15-round, championship, bare-knuckle fight we have all year.

It is held on the day we go out shopping for a Christmas tree, and both of us usually wear braces until well along into the spring.

Nothing tests a marriage as severely as the selection of a Christmas tree. If a man and wife can hold together during this trying time, then you can be sure they are mated for life.

No husband ever wanted the same tree his wife did, and what wives think of the trees their husbands pick out would curl the ears of a flying squirrel.

I am not the least bit biased, but I am quite sure that the blame for the violent disagreements that go on over trees can be placed squarely on the shoulders of wives. Wives are entirely too demanding of a tree. They fully expect it to be cut down, shipped, unloaded from a truck, handled by the sellers, and still have every branch as tidy, every needle in place, and standing as straight and true as it did when its feet were planted in the forest from whence it came.

There is no convincing a wife that this is asking the impossible.

Try to, and she'll reel off the names of fifty friends who had perfect trees last Christmas while she had to get along with a moth-eaten thing that looked as if it had been washed up by the sea.

To find this non-existent perfect tree she will go to every place that has trees for sale within a 100-mile radius. Once the search is on, she becomes as tireless as a Polar explorer, and before the day is out will look at more trees than Daniel Boone did in a lifetime.

Time and again she'll find a tree, that nearly suits her, but she'll always manage to find some flaw. It is too high for where she wants to put it in the living room. It is too short to show up properly through the window. It's too bushy. It's too scraggly. It lists a bit to port. It tilts to starboard. One needle out of a hundred thousand is less green than its brothers, so that means the man is trying to sell her a dead old tree that'll look a fright in two days.

There is no use suggesting to a wife that she go out and choose the tree all by her lonesome, and the not have to bother with a husband's feelings about the matter. This only brings out the answer that buying a tree is a man's job, and all the other husbands she knows get the trees for their wives, and so what's wrong with her husband helping out?

WHIRLWIND COACH -- Newt Oliver, who has coached the fabulous Bevo Francis to several years of sensational basketball, will be in Pampa tonight with the Boston Whirlwinds professional team. The Whirls will meet the Harlem Globetrotters at Harvester Fieldhouse.

Trotters, Bevo Move In Tonight

Mighty Clarence (Bevo) Francis of Rio Grande College fame is coming to Pampa tonight in his new role as a professional basketball star with the Boston Whirlwinds, who face the Harlem Globetrotters at Harvester Fieldhouse.

With Bevo, as coach of the Whirlwinds, is Newt Oliver, his mentor and pal through high school and Rio Grande days. When the box office will open at 6 tonight for the big basketball doubleheader at Harvester Fieldhouse.

The Harlem Globetrotters will meet Pampa's Celanese team for one-half of the first game with the Boston Whirlwinds taking on the local five in the second half. Then the Trotters and Whirls will clash in the featured game starting at about nine.

Tonight's doubleheader will be spiced with several vaudeville acts. Ticket prices for the big cage attraction are $1.80 reserve and $1.25 general admission. The Pampa Kivans Club is sponsoring the game.

The Harlem Globetrotters will meet Pampa's Celanese team for one-half of the first game with the Boston Whirlwinds taking on the local five in the second half. Then the Trotters and Whirls will clash in the featured game starting at about nine.

FABULOUS CAGER -- Bevo Francis, holder of many college scoring records, is in his first year of playing professional basketball. He will be with the Boston Whirlwinds tonight who take on the Harlem Globetrotters at Harvester Fieldhouse. Francis astonished the basketball world the past two seasons when he scored more than 100 points in three different games while playing for Rio Grande College in Ohio.

Harvester 5 Preps For Tilts At Vernon, Quanah

Vernon First Stop For PHS Quint Friday

Another busy weekend lies ahead for the Hustlin' Pampa Harvester basketball team who leave tomorrow on a two-day tour.

The Green and Golders will meet the Vernon Lions at Vernon tomorrow night and then will meet Quanah at Quanah Saturday.

With their 63rd straight victory tucked away as result of a 61-48 win over Plainview Tuesday night, the Harvesters will be favored to extend that streak to 65 in the two games this week end.

After this week's games, the Harvester five will wind up their pre-Christmas schedule next Tuesday night against the Childress Bobcats at Harvester Fieldhouse. Then the Harvesters will return the game at Childress, Dec. 28, which will be their first outing after Christmas.

SOUND SPOONER -- Karl Spooner, who had a badly-torn cartilage removed from his right knee at Long Island College Hospital, is helped to a glass of water by his wife, Carol. The young Brooklyn southpaw struck out 27 and pitched successive shutouts last fall in his first two major league games. (NEA)

Press Box Views

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

YOU PAMPA FANS who don't mind driving a few miles for some fine sports entertainment this weekend, there's a fine possibility down south of us.

As you know, the Harvester basketball team will be playing in Vernon Friday night and in Quanah Saturday night. Then Saturday afternoon in Vernon, the Class AA semi-final football game between Phillips and Terrell will be unveiled.

There will be plenty of time for fans attending the football game Saturday afternoon to get to Quanah for the Harvester basketball game that night since Vernon and Quanah are only 23 miles apart.

Vernon is 160 miles from Pampa while Quanah is 137. You could be back in Pampa by midnight Saturday even if you stay within the speed limit.

Our fine Chamber of Commerce office was "on the ball" in this respect as she invited all of the teams gaining the playoffs in our immediate area to use Harvester Stadium as their "home field" for the playoff games.

This letter was received in the office this week from Mobeette: "In behalf of our school and community, I wish to express our gratitude for the offer of your football field and facilities for the bi-district playoff game. As you know, we lost when we played off the field in the district. Otherwise, we would have been very happy to have come to Pampa for the bi-district game, and we hope we may have the opportunity to do so at some future date.

Our sincere thanks, Yours very truly, L. R. Reeves, Mobeette School Supt.

Invitations were also sent to McLean and Phillips High Schools to play their playoff games in Pampa.

McLean wanted to play both of her games in Pampa but couldn't persuade her opponents to do so.

IT'S UNUSUAL to say the least, but three prominent members of the Fighting Harvester football team are undergoing surgery today in Dallas for the same thing -- shoulder separation.

The three boys are Ben Sturgeon, J. R. Cross and Ray Bonshon. Sturgeon is the Pampa High School student body president; Cross is the Pampa High School "Pump"; and Bonshon is captain of the 1954 Harvester football team.

It has been reported that the boys will be in the same hospital in Dallas.

All three are expected to be back in time to celebrate Christmas at home.

We're certainly hoping for satisfactory results from the operations.

JIMMY BOND, TWO-TIME ALL-STAR for the Harvester basketball team is home for the Christmas holidays.

Bond has been pretty busy on the court already this season. His team, Pasadena Nazarene College, has played 10 games to date. Modest Jimmy told us yesterday he thought his average for the 10 games was about 12 points.

Passadena Nazarene was runner-up in the Redlands Invitational Tournament recently which drew some of the finest college quintets on the West Coast.

Bond was named on the "All-Tournament" team at Redlands. Of course that's nothing new to Jimmy.

Jimmy's brother, Marvin, is having to forego this basketball season due to a knee operation. Marvin re-injured his knee playing basketball at Pasadena. The operation will likely correct the knee ailment and Marvin will return to the court wars next season.

COMPETITION IN OUR OWN bowling leagues here gets pretty heated at times.

In the City League the other night, three teams bowled within three pins of each other for total pins (3 game series).

Your Laundry was high for the night with 2,472 but right on their heels were Noblitt-Coffey with 2,471 and Friendly Men's, 2,470.

Willie Mays

Mays Named NL's 'Player Of Year'

NEW YORK, Dec. 16-UP—Amazing Willie Mays, already on his way toward becoming one of the New York Giants' all-time greats, Thursday was voted the most valuable player in the National League for 1954.

The spectacular, 23-year-old center fielder, now playing winter ball in Puerto Rico after winning the National League batting title and helping the Giants to a world championship, captured the MVP award with a total of 283 points out of a possible 336.

Mays, putting in his first full season in the majors, received his strongest competition from Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati first baseman, who was runnerup in the balloting with 217 points. Mays received 16 votes for first place while Kluszewski received seven.

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli, the Giants' 21-game winner, wound up third with 154 points, followed by Dodger outfielder Duke Snider with 135 points and Giant shortstop Alvin Dark with 110 points.

Dark received the only other first place vote cast by the special 34-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Three writers from each city in the league were on the committee. A first place vote counted 14 points, a second place vote nine points, and a third place vote eight points, and so on down to one point for 10th place. For Mays, who batted .345, drove in 110 runs and smashed 41 homers, the award climaxed a brilliant season during which he starred consistently from the moment he returned to the Giants from the Army last spring.

Following Dark in the voting came Cardinal slugger Stan Musial, in sixth place with 97 points, rubber-armed Robin Roberts of the Phillies, seventh with 70 points, and first baseman Joe Adcock of the Braves, eighth with 60 points. Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers, with 53 points, and teammate Gil Hodges, with 40, rounded out the first 10.

Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella, winner of last year's MVP award with 17 first place votes and 297 points, failed to receive a single vote in the 1954 balloting. Two Contracts Signed CHICAGO, Dec. 16-UP—The Chicago Cubs have announced the signing of their doubleplay combination, shortstop Ernie Banks and second baseman Gene Baker to 1955 National League contracts. Banks batted .275 and hit 19 homers in his rookie year, while Baker batted .275 and hit 13 homers in his initial season in the third place vote eight points, and

Perryton Five To Defend WD Tourney Title

WHITE DEER, Dec. 16 — The Perryton Rangers will defend their title in the annual White Deer Invitational basketball tournament here this week end.

Eight teams are entered in the all-boys tournament. They are Lefors, Memphis, Clarendon, Panhandle, White Deer, Groom, Stinnett and Perryton.

Perryton defeated White Deer in the tourney finals last year. These two teams will meet in the first round this year, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Following is the complete first round schedule:

THURSDAY AFTERNOON
3:00—Lefors vs. Memphis.
4:30—Clarendon vs. Panhandle.

THURSDAY NIGHT
7:30—White Deer vs. Perryton.
9:00—Groom vs. Stinnett.

There will be four more sessions Friday and Saturday. The Friday and Saturday sessions will start at 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. The consolation finals will be played Saturday at 7 p.m., to be followed by the championship game at 8:30.

The White Deer girls will play at 6 p.m. Thursday and Friday. The White Deerettes will meet Lefors Thursday and Dumas Friday.

Fordham Quits Grid Program

NEW YORK, Dec. 16-UP—Fordham's official discontinuance of football due to "continuing financial loss" left Columbia University as New York City's lone survivor Thursday on the major collegiate gridiron scene.

The end of Fordham's 63-year competition in varsity football came Wednesday night on the heels of a disastrous 1954 season during which the Rams won only the opener of their nine-game schedule and Ed Danowski resigned after nine years as head coach.

In dropping football, Fordham followed a pattern set by such New York schools as New York University, Long Island University, Brooklyn College, Manhattan College and City College of New York.

Bobo Keeps Title On TKO In 11th

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16-UP—Carl (Bobo) Olson, king of the middleweights, can look for new worlds to conquer Thursday.

He finished off the last of the top foreign contender Wednesday night with an 11th round technical knockout over the unhappy Frenchman, Pierre Langlois.

He already has defeated the top British contender, Randy Turpin, and the leading Cuban threat in Kid Gavilan.

His next foe, if everything goes well, probably will be an American—Joey Giardello.

In any event, the Hawaiian-born battler still is ready for all comers.

$50,000 in Winnings

He was able to take home a check for well over $50,000 Thursday for his fight with Langlois Wednesday night. The promoters had anticipated a crowd of only about 11,000 and a $100,000 gate.

But a last minute rush at the gate sold out the huge Cow Palace and 16,543 came through the turnstiles and the gate, as yet unannounced officially, ran well over $120,000.

The Langlois camp claimed after the battle that they had lost the fight to Dr. Robert Laddan, state athletic commission doctor, who stopped the bloody brawl with Langlois bleeding heavily from his mouth, his nose and his eye. It was a cut eye that halted proceedings.

"We lost the fight to the doctor," claimed George Kanter, American representative of the Frenchman, "when he went to look at that eye cut, he pulled it wider apart."

Dr. Laddan claimed this charge was nonsense. "Langlois could have suffered severe, permanent impairment to his eyesight if the bout had continued," he said.

Out of Class

Actually Pierre put up a fine battle—but he just wasn't in Olson's class. The officials were nearly unanimous in this. Two of them gave only one round each to the French challenger; the other gave none.

On the point basis used in California Referee Ray Flores and Judge Jack Downey each had it 59 1-2 to 50 1-2, while Judge Vern Bybee had it 59 to 51 for the champion. United Press score sheet gave a little more of a break to the challenger, with the count 57 1-2 to 52 1-2 for Olson.

It was a bruising contest all the way, and although the fans knew that Olson was winning easily, they booed lustily when the doctor ordered the bout stopped. There were no knockdowns, but in the third round and again in the eighth, Olson battered Langlois around the ring.

AFL, CIO
Merger Seen

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 16 — UP — David J. McDonald, head of the CIO United Steelworkers, predicted Tuesday that in 1955 the 16 million members of the CIO and AFL will merge in a "new united labor union."

"We can work all our problems out, every single one of them, as men of good will, as men believing in one another, as men believing in the fundamentals of American trade unions."

McDonald, who joined John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers in the CIO-AFL split in 1935, said there should be no "pre-conditions" for an organic healing of the 19-year-old schism.
