Post Stores Completing Plans For Fashion Parade Tuesday

Fashion Parade of all Fashion Parades. That is what the residents of this county have in store at 8 p.m. Tuesday night in the Grade School auditorium. Sponsored by the Band Boost-

Band Concert Slated For 8 P.M. Today

The joint band concert by the Post Concert band and the Tahoka Concert band is slated for 8 p.m. today in the Grade School auditorium, band leader Bob Robbins reminded Post residents.

Admission prices for the show are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Monday night the Post band was to have presented a concert in Tahoka, but the sand storm prevented them from making the trip. Robbins said that they would go at a future date.

er's club, the Fashion Parade is to feature the latest Spring fashions of these Post stores: Herring's, Dunlap's, Maxine's, Parsons', Lavelle Shop, Fenton and Thompson and Stevens' Style Shop.

Store owners and managers are cooperating fully in this "Fashion Parade" to help the club raise money needed to pay off the $346 debt on the band uniforms bought last year. Admission prices have been set at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Each store will have local models displaying its latest fashions in a round the clock theme.

Complete rehearsal for all models and the managers has been called for 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Grade school auditorium by Mrs. Eleanor Webb, who is in charge of the show. Mrs. Webb also announced that stores should have their respective scripts to her by 5 p.m. Friday so that the commentator can study them.

A new commentator to replace John Stasney, ready-to-wear-merchandising manager of Dunlap's in Lubbock who will be unable to be here, has not been selected yet.

Nor has the complete script and appearance of models been decided upon. All of this is to be accomplished at the rehearsal. Several of the stores have released a complete list of their models for the benefit show Tuesday night. These models, both men and women, will model shoes, evening clothes, spring suits, Easter fashions and Western apparel.

Four Directors Elected Here By Rotarians

Election of four new directors was accomplished at the Tuesday meeting of the Post Rotary club.

Directors who will take office for the first time in July include Chant Lee, Powell Shytles, O. G. Murphy and Monta Moore.

Holdover directors include Lester Nichols, Carl Cederholm, Leo Acker and Bill DeWalt. Outgoing directors are S. E. Camp, John Lott, Bob Collier and Lewis Herron.

Slide pictures of Galveston, Houston, Grand Canyon and the Painted Desert were shown by Giles McCrary.

Visitors included Alex McDonald, Lubbock; and Lee Vardy and Claude Cravens, both of Slaton.

Artillery Btn. To Show Guns In Post Friday

Demonstrations by a 105 MM Howitzer and a 12 man gun crew of Battery "C" 132nd Field Artillery Battalion of the Texas National Guard will be made in Post from 2 to 5 p.m. Friday.

Captain O. W. McWilliams, commanding officer of the unit, notified Lieut. T. M. Cannon, Jr., of Post, that Lieut. Robert Craig will be in charge of the crew slated to put on demonstrations at the Post High school at 3 p.m. and downtown Post at 5 p.m.

Post members of the unit are Sergeant First Class R. L. Simpson, Corporals Melvin Williams and Carter White, Bob Mason and Privates John G. Berry and D. J. Caylor.

The 132nd Field Artillery Battalion is part of the 36th Infantry Division of the Texas National Guard. The 36th Infantry Division, commonly known as the "T-Patcher" division, has a record of service to its country dating back through both world wars, the Spanish American War and to the campaigns along the Mexican border.

The visiting unit will bring signal equipment, switchboards, rocket launchers and other equipment of interest. Plans are being made to fire blank rounds from the 105 MM Howitzer. WOJG James Eddins will accompany the group so that any person between 17 and 35 years of age might enlist in the National Guard. Battery "C" drills at Lubbock Airport on Monday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Men who join the National Guard between the ages of 17 and 18 and one half are exempt from the draft as long as their National Guard Service record is satisfactory. Should the National Guard be called into active service, the men enter the Army with the rank they hold in the National Guard unit.

Anyone desiring further information should contact Lieut. Virgil Short.

Post Transport Co. Wins Award

W. S. Duckworth Transport company recently was presented with the First Place plaque for Region 6 in the 1951 Fleet Safety contest according to an announcement by W. H. Carpenter, regional vice president for the Texas Safety association.

Carpenter made the announcement at the 13th annual Texas Safety conference held in Dallas. The plaque was in the Transport-Petroleum Products.

Duckworth said the plaque contains the number of miles trucks of his company drove last year without an accident. The plaque shows that the company trucks traveled about 750,000 miles last year without an accident.

Final '51 Ginning Tabulations Show Garza With 9,913 Bales

Final tabulations show that Garza county's 1951 cotton crop fell nearly 4,000 bales short of the 1950 season totals.

County gins processed a total of 9,913 bales of cotton this year according to the latest figures. In the 1950 season reports show that 13,494 bales were ginned in the county. Extensive drought caused the drop in cotton production, for county farmers planted a record 76,000 acres of cotton in 1951 compared to the 49,000 acres in 1950.

Reports from individual gins are incomplete. C. M. Murphy, manager of Planter's gin in Post, said the gin processed 2,290 bales of cotton. E. A. Hargrove, manager of the Close City gin, revealed his gin processed 1,775 bales. And Bill McMahon of Graham said his gin processed 736.

No final reports were received on the Southland, Pleasant Valley and Storie gins, but predictions by the managers in late December give some fairly accurate figures for estimation. Pleasant Valley gin should have run in the neighborhood of 2,750 bales and Storie should have ginned around 1,000 bales. Being estimates the figures will not make the same total as the final figure.

Last year the figures for the various gins ran Southland, 2,682; Graham, 3,370 plus; Planter's, 2,134; Storie, 1,287 plus; Pleasant Valley, 1,247 plus; and Close City, 2,853 plus.

Vandals Reach Lowest Form Here In Stealing Shrubbery From Graveside

Recent reports of vandalism of the lowest form being committed here in Post are absolutely disgusting. Mrs. Rex Everett recently planted some rose bushes and shrubs around the grave of her husband. Saturday Mrs. Everett went to the cemetery to find that someone had stolen the largest rose bush and prettiest shrub. They had been pulled up by the roots and were not lying around anywhere.

Vandalism in any form is deplorable. But when anyone stoops low enough to steal shrubs from a grave it is downright criminal.

Perhaps they weren't stolen. Maybe someone was just playing a prank and pulled them up. Even so, such an act can still be classified as the lowest possible form of vandalism.

Persons who would degrade the human race by stealing or destroying property in a cemetery are not fit to be called humans. They are barbarians without the decency accorded civilized people.

We would like to pass on the statement by Mrs. Everett concerning the rose bush and shrub. "If anyone needs shrubs or rose bushes enough that they will rob a grave for them, all they need to do is come to me. I'll buy them some." And we second the motion.

Coach Bingham Releases 1952 Antelope Schedule

With only one open date to be filled the Post Antelope 1952 grid schedule is complete. Coach Bing Bingham announced this week.

No game has been scheduled for September 5 yet but Bingham said he hoped to fill the date soon.

At the present the schedule states five games to be played on Antelope field and four in enemy territory. Should the Sept. 5 game be slated away from home it would even the home and away games at five all.

Antelope gridsters this year won't have to face the two teams which dealt them so much trouble last year—Littlefield and Levelland. These two were dropped from the schedule and were replaced by O'Donnell and Sundown. Also added to the schedule this year was Rotan, filling a slot left from dropping Crosbyton.

Bingham indicated the Homecoming game would probably be the Post-Tahoka clash here Nov. 7.

The complete schedule reads:

Date	Opponent	Place
Sept. 5	Open	Open
Sept. 12	Floydada	Here
Sept. 19	O'Donnell	There
Sept. 26	Sundown	Here
Oct. 3	Rails	Here
Oct. 10	Rotan	There
Oct. 17	Open	Open
Oct. 24	Tulla	Here
Oct. 31	Spur	There
Nov. 7	Tahoka	Here
Nov. 14	Slaton	There

Fire Destroys Drive-In Cafe On Broadway

An early Tuesday morning fire destroyed the Barn Drive-In cafe on north Broadway causing an estimated $6,500 worth of damage.

Post Volunteer firemen battled the blaze, which began at approximately 1:30 a.m. from an undetermined origin, with both units. Extremely strong winds hindered firemen in extinguishing the blaze and caused them to concentrate on preventing the fire from spreading.

Mrs. Floyd Hines, who was leasing the building and operating the cafe, had between $3,000 and $3,500 worth of equipment which was destroyed. She had insurance covering approximately two thirds of the loss. The cafe had been open only a few months.

The barracks type building belonged to O. G. Hamilton and was valued at about $3,000. Hamilton is out of town and it is undetermined if he was covered by insurance. He purchased the building from C. T. Norris several months ago.

Very little, if any, salvage could be made from the building.

Three Locations Are Staked In The County

The staking of three new locations in the county summed up the oil activity for the past week.

Two locations were in the Rocker A field and one was in the Garza field. Ike Lovelady 1 Walker was staked in the Rocker A field about three miles west of Justiceburg. Also in the Rocker A was 1-C K. Stoker by the Union Oil Company of California, about five miles northwest of Justiceburg.

Alamo Corporation staked the 1 W. A. Cash four miles northwest of Post.

Earl Smith Acquitted By Jury In Gibson Slaying

Earl Smith, 29-year-old oil field worker, was acquitted last Thursday by a Garza County jury of the murder charge filed against him in connection with the shooting of Marshall "Monk" Gibson at a highway cafe on the night of Oct. 19, 1951.

The jury remained out only a few minutes more than an hour in making their decision. Judge Louis B. Reed read the "not guilty" verdict reached by the jury at approximately 5:10 p.m.

This final decision on the part of the jury drew many involuntary gasps of approval from the packed courtroom as it was read. It also ended the four day trial which had gotten underway Monday of last week following several months delay brought on by one continuance and one postponement.

Early Thursday morning, the ending of the trial was anybody's guess. Defense Attorney Tom Miller of Graham had called to the witness stand only seven of his approximately 40 witnesses. However, in a surprise move, he called only one more witness and then closed his case.

Court was recessed so that the charge to the jury could be prepared. Judge Reed read the charge at approximately 2 p.m. Thursday and the counsels began their pleas.

District Attorney Carl Clayton, who was assisted by Erwin Ernst, maintained that Smith took the law into his own hands when he followed Gibson and shot him down.

Miller countered that it was in self defense and the final shot was still a part of the initial act of shooting.

The jury retired for deliberation at approximately 3:55 p.m.

FFA TEAM WINS

HOLIDAYS...

Every town in the United States is plagued with many annual holidays. In fact there are so many holidays, if a person were to observe them all, that a business place would have a hard time keeping the doors open at all. Therefore the businessmen in a majority of the towns get together and decide what days the town will observe. And in a majority of the towns when this decision is made everyone honors it as a pledge. Here in Post the same trouble arises every year. At the Chamber of Commerce annual meeting, which this year was attended by so few that a vote could not be taken, the days to be observed are decided upon. Yet when these days come around some of the places stay open and others close. There is no close harmony nor cooperation here as you will find apparent in many towns. This year the Chamber of Commerce decided to change the method of finding what days the places in town wish to observe. Ballots were mailed out to approximately 150 places of business requesting them to vote on the days they would close. The ballot listed nine days on which the places could vote. It also gave the days which most of the surrounding towns have voted to observe so that the Post places could vote accordingly. But many of the business places have not made any enthusiastic response to the idea. In fact they don't seem too interested in agreeing on definite days for the stores to close. For out of the 150 ballots mailed fewer than 50 have been returned to the Chamber of Commerce office. The observance of a holiday should be something on which every place agrees. And each town should definitely have a holiday criteria to follow, otherwise each place will observe the holidays it decides on. And when you do this decision is caused. However, it is our firm opinion that no criteria at all should be established if the entire town doesn't live up to it. Once the majority of the merchants vote on certain holidays the whole town should honor those dates as religiously as they would a day they wanted. The ballot idea of the Chamber of Commerce appears to be the most logical plan to establish a holiday criteria in Post. But if and when the announcement is made on what days the majority of the places voted for, the town should follow them. Otherwise it's a waste of time.

AIR FIELD...

Unless some decisive action is taken in the near future, the City of Post is going to be without the facilities of a CAA approved landing field. Apparently no one can make a definite decision on who should pay the cost of leasing the land occupied by the present air strip. Several weeks ago the Double U company, owners of the land, announced that the lease paid for by a private individual had expired and they were desirous of either leasing the air port to the City or the Chamber of Commerce or make a pasture out of it. However, the owners realize the importance of a recognized landing strip to any town, so they have not pushed the question too hard. But inaction on the part of those who should be interested has placed them on the spot. The company proposed to lease the airport for a mere $25 per year. Naturally the section would not contain as much land as it does at the present time. The fences would be moved nearer the strip so that the company could use the remainder as pasture. The fence separating the airport from the Double U land is owned by John Lott. He has offered to give the fence and posts to either the City or the Chamber of Commerce providing they lease the airport. Provisions stipulate that whoever leases the field must also maintain it. The cost of this maintenance would prove to be negligible. Therefore it is difficult to comprehend why no definite action has been taken on the project. To many the importance of a recognized landing strip to a small town would seem insignificant. For the traffic on such a field is comparatively light. Yet no town should be without the services of a CAA approved field. Emergency use of the field alone is worth the money the Double U company is asking for the lease. Then, too, once the CAA drops approval of a field because of its poor condition, the town will have a difficult time in regaining that approval. We are of the decided opinion that someone is making a mistake if the field is allowed to sink into oblivion. The cost is small and the upkeep small. So all that is lacking now is decisive action on the part of the City or the Chamber of Commerce or anyone else who is interested in maintaining a landing strip for Post.

Getting Out On the LIMB...

By EDDIE the editor

Providing I can keep the sand out of my eyes and off the type-writer, this column will be dashed off. If perchance it is somewhat grating, I feel certain you will blame it on the aerial migration of the area's terrain and not my writing ability.

As it is usual a subject to write about came hard this week. But on looking through stacks of magazines (trying to find something I could copy and not have to write), bulletins, letters and newspapers, I finally ran upon an article which could be of interest to readers of this column, providing they have time and a desire.

As most of us are aware, many men from Garza county are now serving in the Armed Forces — and more are entering the services in increasing numbers. These men are doing us a service, they are performing a difficult task for us and they are making sacrifices for us. We all realize that. And somehow we want to show our appreciation for their efforts.

The article which I found in the latest V. F. W. magazine shows us a way to extend that appreciation. Its title is almost self explanatory — "BE SURE TO WRITE TODAY."

With your permission and sincerely hoping it stirs up a little interest, I reprint the article.

—The V.F.W. "Be Sure to Write Today" campaign launched early in January is sparking public approval on a wide scale. The idea inspired John W. Miller, head of the Texadisc company, of Dallas, to write a song dedicated to this theme and featuring the same title, "Be Sure to Write Today."

As evidence of his enthusiastic endorsement of the V.F.W. project, the composer has announced that he will contribute 25 percent of the proceeds on the sale of this song to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Liberty Broadcasting System, which serves a nationwide network of 430 stations, has agreed to broadcast at frequent intervals a transcribed appeal by Commander-in-Chief Frank C. Hilton. The Miller composition is being used as the theme for this program. Other radio networks are carrying announcements of the project in connection with this tune. Among the nationally popular programs which will cooperate in furthering the V.F.W. project are the "Perry Mason" program on CBS, and ABC's favorite "music room" program, "Dr. Gino."

In this recording, which will be broadcast repeatedly during the next two months by stations affiliated with the Liberty Broadcasting co., Commander-in-Chief Hilton pleads with the American people to keep a constant flow of letters going overseas to the men in service whom they know or who are from their own communities, and particularly those serving in Korea.

"These young Americans in Korea, in Europe, and in distant parts of the world are eagerly looking for letters that will bring them news from home. Too often they are disappointed. They are writing to newspapers throughout the country, saying they are anxious for letters from home — and home means just anywhere in the United States.

"In a town I visited recently, a newspaper published the names of nearly 60 men — men in all branches of our active Armed Forces — who had written to the editor asking for mail from home. In other cities I have seen similar lists.

"The members of our own organization know from personal experience what 'Mail Call' means. This is why we are sponsoring this letter writing project, one which I ask the members of our 10,000 Posts and our 7,000 Ladies Auxiliaries to support vigorously — by writing such letters themselves, and by urging others to write also.

"Each time we put off writing a letter, some lonely man in uniform is going to turn away empty-handed from the eagerly awaited 'Mail Call.'"

Hilton has suggested that V.F.W. and Auxiliary members can do much to insure the success of this project by asking their friends and neighbors to write such letters; by emphasizing the importance of such letters — to the men overseas — when they attend the meetings of other civic and patriotic bodies, church groups or fraternal societies.

"At all times," says Commander-in-Chief Hilton, "let's remember what Kate Smith told her millions of listeners during World War II:

"If you don't write — You're wrong!"

I would like to tag a hearty stamp of approval to that project. Would also like to wonder (and will find out) if our local V.F.W. post has any ideas of backing the project locally. Readers of this column actually do not have to wait for someone to sponsor this project. So will leave you with this thought: "Be Sure to Write Today."

Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

Today's Pioneers

"Cotton may be king in Lamb county, with grain sorghum as queen, but their thrones are threatened by a new crop—castor beans—which will be planted this spring by 120 local farmers. The demand for castor oil is great, with the armed forces requiring more and more of the high grade oil for use in jet engines. Therefore, there is little danger that the 1,477 acres devoted to this crop will prove unprofitable. It is always a fine thing to try something new in any field. It follows the old theory that it is not wise to put all the eggs in one basket. Farmers who failed to make much on cotton this year may see a brighter future in a new crop. Another advantage of castor beans is the fact that harvest will not hinge so greatly on the labor supply. Castor beans are gathered and hulled mechanically. To be a pioneer, an individual does not have to travel in a covered wagon. There have been, and are, pioneers in all walks of life, from the restless folk pushing back the barriers in Alaska, to the engineer designing a better jet engine. And the Lamb county farmer who will try a new crop this year is a member of the same family.

Who's A Champ?

We have always resented the idea of movie stars and other so-called celebrities going into a printing plant for the sole purpose of having their pictures made seated at a linotype or some other complicated printing machines. Printing machines are no play things. If they were so simple to operate and such a toy, every kid in the country would have one of these machines. It takes years to learn to operate any kind of a printing machine efficiently. Yet here we have pictures of some so-called prominent person who has never before seen a machine in operation, comfortably seated before the machine, making the thing hum. Of course this is called stage stuff, and something that never actually happens. The readers get the impression that printers are a bunch of chumps because it takes so long to learn the trade. "Chump" is not applied to the right person—this descriptive adjective belongs to the people who get their pictures taken for mere publicity purposes.

Just Talk

Now that I am a farmer by adoption I find that I do not know how to talk the proper farmer's language. Last week Sug Robertson came into the office, got in conversation with Gordon Tompkins, who came from Fort Worth recently, after working for the Government Soil Conservation service, he and Sug got into quite an argument about whether Lallaploosa grass does well in this country and about whether cattle thrive better on Hindu Poodle grass or on Himalillian Hoola sprouts. The tide ebbed and flowed from sponzola grass to native buffalo weed and I stood in the middle with my face hanging out and not a word to say. Several times I wanted to stick in a suggestion about the value of Johnson grass or bermuda as being valuable in keeping the farmers busy trying to kill it when they busy being sitting around in town whittling up some cracker barrels, if they could find such things, but they left me so far behind that I gave up and started writing "Just Talk." The last I heard was that Balkan hiva grass does better on the hills while limping

MODERN LIVING

MODERN LIVING IS ELECTRIC LIVING!

There didn't used to be any choice on getting clothes clean. It was boil them or else. But that's all different under modern living — electric living. Wash day now is a matter of putting the clothes in the washer and turning the controls. One simple operation takes care of soaking, washing, rinsing, wringing. And then, if there's an automatic electric clothes dryer in your home laundry, clothes are dried just the way you want them—with more fluff than any other drying method known. Electric living is modern living. Electric living is efficient, economical living, too.

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY,

Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, P. — The federal government has poured $3,185,377,930 (B) into Texas in the last 18 years in various aid programs, a congressional report shows.

The report, prepared by the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures, show that the largest slice of this money was $756,850,304 (M) in various benefits for veterans of World War II.

The second largest item for the 18-year period was $697,750,024 (M) distributed to farmers and ranchers by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and in related conservation programs.

Last year, according to the report, a total of $290,169,320 (M) in federal funds went to Texas. The largest single item in this figure was $140,790,938 for veterans, including readjustment benefits, vocational rehabilitation and the GI training program.

Of the 18-year total, the old WPA and PWA programs accounted for $358,914,365 (M). The allocations under the Works Progress Administration amounted to $299,962,927; those under the Public Works Administration, $59,851,438.

The Federal Emergency Relief Administration, related to the WPA, spent $96,280,994 in Texas in the 1934-1941 period, and the Civil Works Administration used $31,708,000. Another depression era program was the Civilian Conservation Corps which spent $61,751,251 (M) in Texas.

Federal expenditures in Texas during the pre-World War II years of 1934-1941 amounted to $1,126,444,762 (B); during the 1942-1946 emergency war period the total was $623,098,325; the postwar total, through last year, was $1,435,834,843 (B).

Old-age assistance to Texans in the 1942-1951 period amounted to $282,483,478; payments to Texas under the Social Security Act between 1934 and 1942 totaled $24,214,954. Payments under the same program jumped to $105,806,522 in the 1942-1946 period.

Allocations of federal money for highway and road construction in Texas in the past 18 years, including that for forest roads, totaled $273,851,016.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Foundations Of Roads Blamed For The Added Expense To The Taxpayers Due To Damage

BABSON PARK, FLA. — I have had so many letters from readers, "pro and con", regarding my column in this paper about highways — see January 18, 1952 — that I have collected some more facts which for two reasons I should pass along to my readers. First, because I was perhaps unfair to the trucks, and second, because I wish to submit a constructive suggestion to road builders.

My first job after graduating from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a Civil Engineer was to build State Highways. I soon learned that the politicians want to spend money on the black tops which can be seen instead of on the highway foundations which the voters do not see. When a road cracks, these politicians blame it on the motor vehicles.

That these politicians are wrong is proven by driving along any state road with cracks or patches. If it were the motor vehicles which caused the cracking, then every slab or section would be cracked or patched. The fact that only a few are checked or patched proves that the foundation was skimped at certain points when being built. Let me here add that in 1950 motor vehicles paid about three billion dollars in taxes.

"Hoggin' The Roads

If motor vehicles do not move to the side when you blow your horn, or if they cross two solid lines painted on the center of the road, then you should report them. In this connection, state officials say that ignoring and crossing double solid lines is responsible for most of the bad accidents.

The real "hoggin'" is done by us privately owned car drivers who park on streets from which trucks are excluded. Furthermore, this parking by us is so choking the downtown business streets that — if not forbidden — it will severely harm retail trade and depress the value of business property. I am very serious about this and — if space permitted — would like to say a good word for the bus companies.

What About More Legislation?

I am opposed to the so-called ton-mile tax unless it applies to all vehicles. In fact, there are only three legitimate purposes for the regulation of highway traffic: (1) Safety of all cars and persons; (2) Honest foundations for all roads; and (3) Making both trucking and railroad rates so as to be fair to every business and section. When railroads or trucks object to any of these goals, they are "hoggin'" legislation.

It surely would seem reasonable to give the Interstate Commerce Commission the right to designate the construction of all highways to be used by trucks whose rates it now regulates. This Commission already closely watches the roadbed and traffic regulations of the railroads.

The Real Solution

Both the protection of our highways and lower taxes will come from the discovery of some alloy which will partially reduce the pull of gravity. Studies to accomplish this are being encouraged by the Gravity Research Foundation of New Boston, New Hampshire. In other words, the goal of all highway engineers, all vehicle owners, all consumers and all taxpayers should be to reduce weight. Excess weight is the real cause of highway trouble and excessive trucking rates.

I visualize before many years, large trucks will have "airtight" bodies such as are now being used by refrigerator trailers to carry perishable or frozen foods. The body of such future trucks will be made of an alloy which will partially deflect the gravity waves from the contents of the trucks thus reducing the weight of the contents from 30,000 pounds to perhaps 5,000 pounds. Such gravity resisting alloys have not yet been discovered, but some alloys have been found to partially deflect magnetic, heat and light waves.

ACTION... aldrin starts killing at once... bugs start in an hour or so. Even if it rains the next day, no matter how much insects are controlled!

POWER... Even in late season, just four ounces of aldrin in a standard formulation are all you need for control. A little aldrin goes a long way. And aldrin does more to beneficial insect parasites which help to do the job and mite build-up.

AT COST... You can use aldrin's matchless power at just cost-per-acre of any approved spray or dust. You spray it while cultivating, saving the cost of separate insecticide. And aldrin won't clog spray nozzles!

Birthday Gift Prompts Question, "What Will They Think Of Next?"

By Burnie Lawrence

New inventions, crazy gadgets, insane and novel ideas never fail to bring forth the puzzled and somewhat awe-stricken question, "What will they think of next?"

Being a frequent user of the question, I find it an appropriate expression when I want to exclaim about some object which manages to exceed the scope of my comprehension.

And a few days ago I had the opportunity to ask it about a birthday card, of all things. This was one I received from my sister-in-law (the prettiest one of course).

Always leery of any gift from an in-law, I contemplated a long time before I looked into this one. Actually it was nothing but an over-sized package of "gofer" matches. But I couldn't chase out of my mind the many bad things I had read of in-laws doing to guys like me, so I was more than reluctant to open it.

All dolled up in explosive looking marks, the outside of the matches was innocent enough. The inside, however, was an unknown quantity. I even tried to hand it to someone and let them open it, but they just exclaimed, "Why that's cute," and handed it back.

Open it I did, however, and nothing happened. In fact it was "cute" as it had been described. I even struck one of the matches (after considerable qualms and hesitations) without it exploding, spewing or anything.

All in all, fellow husbands, these in-laws are not too bad. And if and when you receive a birthday card of "book" matches from one of yours, go ahead and open it. It's not a booby trap.

Original as heck, the idea is. Nice words, too. Outside it reads: "Happy Birthday, Brother, and that's a sure-fire wish."

Inside the condolences for your addition of another year go:

"Sure hope you find this birthday is really up to Scratch—" "The brightest one you've ever known with a year ahead to match."

The book contains eleven matches with appropriate (I guess) and cheerful quips; among which are:

"This comes with warmest good wishes to you"; "may your cares be light and your troubles go up in smoke"; "here's wishing you matchless good luck"; "may your birthday set a shining example for the entire year to come," etc., etc.

Unique as all get out but as an aside to my sister-in-law, I would have found a case of beer more useful in making me forget how old I am.

Local Scout Man Attends Area Meet

Plans for a coordinated Scouting program were discussed in Plainview last week by representatives of the Scout Plains Council. Attending the meeting from Post was John Lott, chairman of the Council leadership training committee.

Lott demonstrated by chart a plan whereby institutions, committees and Scout leaders may coordinate efforts for creation of the most effective Scouting program. He added an inspirational note to his discourse and told the group that "it takes all working together to really do the job."

Starting in 1953 any adult Scout leader must have had training for the work and aims are to have sufficient eligible leaders to start off next year's program. This will be accomplished by sponsorship of adult Scout leadership training courses.

Additional Awards Slated For 4-H Members By New Donor Ford Motor

Here's good news for every 4-H Club boy and girl in Garza county!

Announcement has been made by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club work that county and sectional awards have been doubled, and eight college scholarships have been added to the national level in the 1952 4-H Achievement program as follows:

Gold filled medals of honor to winners in participating counties have been increased from two to four, and sectional awards of educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November now number 16 instead of eight, as was the case last year.

Also, $300 college scholarships will be presented to 12 national winners, instead of two $300 and two $150 college scholarships to the highest rating and second place winners, as heretofore. All awards are provided by the new donor, the Ford Motor Company.

Previous awards of a set of statues, symbolizing 4-H achievement, for the State-winning boy and girl, and a silverware trophy for the national-winning boy and girl—the latter presented in the name of the President of the United States, are being continued.

Recognition in this program for top records of general achievement—either on county, state, sectional or national levels—is considered one of the highest honors a 4-H Club member can receive.

In the past several years Garza county has been well represented at the 4-H Club Congress and at the National 4-H Camp in Washington, D. C.

County 4-H members who have made the educational trip to Chicago include Alvin Davis, Carter Gene White, E. P. Wicker, Lois and Doris Ritchie. Wicker and White also made

Iowa Farmland Costs More Today Than Ever

AMES, Ia. P — An acre of Iowa's good dark farm soil costs more today than any time in the last 30 years.

Not since the 1920-21 land boom has the state's farm land commanded such high prices.

Iowa farms are now selling on the average for $212 an acre. W. G. Murray, head of the department of economics and sociology at Iowa State College, reported in his annual survey of farm land prices.

This is a $15 increase over last year's average acre price of $197. It is one more step upward in the steady climb of Iowa farm prices which started from a low of $69 an acre in 1933.

Old Law Classifies Group As Criminals

NEW DELHI, India, P. — Under an old law still lingering on the statute books in most of India, 77,000 members of so-called "criminal tribes" have been set apart from society because of accident of birth.

They must report to the police station daily or weekly, as specified by local officials, and in some instances live in government settlements under permanent observation.

So far Madras and Bombay States have repealed the Criminal Tribes Act, which the British regime in India initiated in 1871 to control the activities of "tribes and communities found to be often engaged in committing crimes against property almost as a profession."

County Home Demonstration Members Select District Voting Delegates

Three official voting delegates and possibly several other delegates will represent the Garza county Home Demonstration clubs at the District II Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting to be held in Dimmitt on Wednesday, May 7, Miss Dorothy Harbin, HD agent, said.

The Professional Committee of Phi Upsilon Omicron (Phi Beta Kappa of home economics), member of the International Homemakers of America.

Miss Davenport, who is a member of the Gallery of Greats in Contemporary Journalism, writes regularly to more than 7,000 home economics instructors and home demonstration agents in the South and Southwest.

Committee of the American Home Economics association; and an honorary life member of both the 4-H club and Future

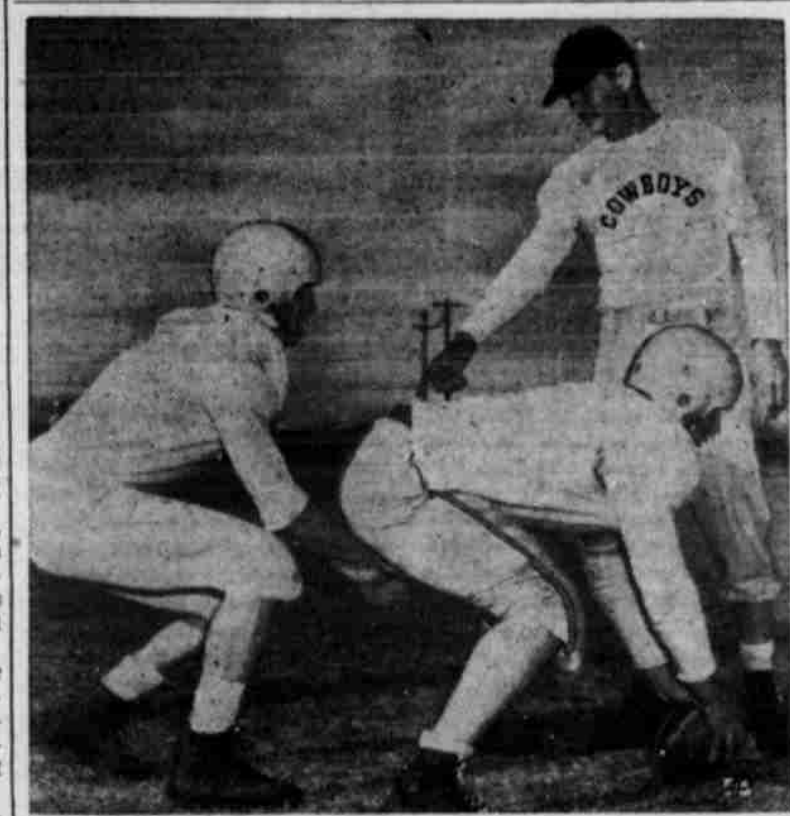

She began her home economics career as a teacher, later becoming head of the home economics department at Georgia State Normal. Miss Davenport brings to her readers both a scope and surety in interpreting personal and homemaking problems, gathered from long experience, thorough understanding and genuine interest.

Alternate delegates, who will possibly attend the meeting too, are Mrs. Georgia Cook, Mrs. W. A. Long and Mrs. D. F. McWhirt. Other Home Demonstration club members have indicated they will go to the meeting, Miss Harbin said.

At the meeting the women are given information on what HD groups are doing on a whole and possible legislation they are making. Women make nominations at the district meeting for the district vice president position. This officer is elected at the state meeting, which is to be held in Kingsville this year.

For identification purposes each county works up an original shoulder tag emphasizing some home product. Miss Harbin said this year Garza posts would probably play up the Post-Cotton Mills.

Miss Iris Davenport, editor woman's department of the Farm and Ranch—Southern Agricultural magazine, has been scheduled as the event's principal speaker. She will speak on "Achieving Distinction in Dress."

HOW IT'S DONE—Sammy Baugh, in one of his first practice sessions with the Hardin Simmons University Cowboys, points out how it's done to the boys. He stands over Roy Carter, center, and Jim Riddle, quarterback, as the two players brush up on details.

Charlotte Kay Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor, underwent a tonsillectomy in Lubbock Memorial hospital Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Flowers spent the weekend in Dallas with her sister, Mrs. W. E. Box, who accompanied them home Sunday.

Opening Date Set For New Theatre

Opening date for the new "Sunset" drive-in theatre here has been announced for April 13 by Manager John Hopkins.

Colorfully decorated with a beautiful neon sunset, the new theatre will be as complete and modern as any theatre of its type in this section of the state.

Pictures are to be about half first run movies and the rest definitely first-class, Hopkins said. "In keeping with the policy of the company, the theatre will bring the movie fans of the area jam up entertainment," he said.

The picture which is to introduce the new drive in to the movie fans has not been decided upon. However, the prices have been set and are to be 44 cents (including tax) for adults and 9 cents for children.

Complete rebuilding of all phases of the drive in has been the main effort. The projection booth and concession will be one of the finest in the area, with the concession booth being fronted with a plate glass window. It will feature cold drinks, popcorn and hot dogs.

In front of the stand a terrace is being constructed and provided with chairs for the convenience of those persons who do not wish to remain in their cars.

All equipment, sound system included, is the latest and best available. At the present time plans call for warning devices by which a person may know if any parking places are available in the ramps. If the ramp is full, small lights will be turned on at the end of the ramp.

TRACE ACE
 DURHAM, N. C. AP — One of the top prospects on Duke's outdoor track squad is Joe Shankle, all-around ace who starred at Randolph-Macon Academy. His top prep school record for the high hurdles was 14.4 — only one tenth of a second off the Southern Conference record set in 1930.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

It Isn't the Heat— It's the Hide!

Rig discussion after the Grange meeting Friday night. Tik Anderson was arguing that hogs were lots more affected by the hot weather than cattle. Skeeter Morgan declared that it wasn't so—that he never saw any hogs bothered by the hot sun like his cows were.

I was glad when Rusty Robinson stepped in.

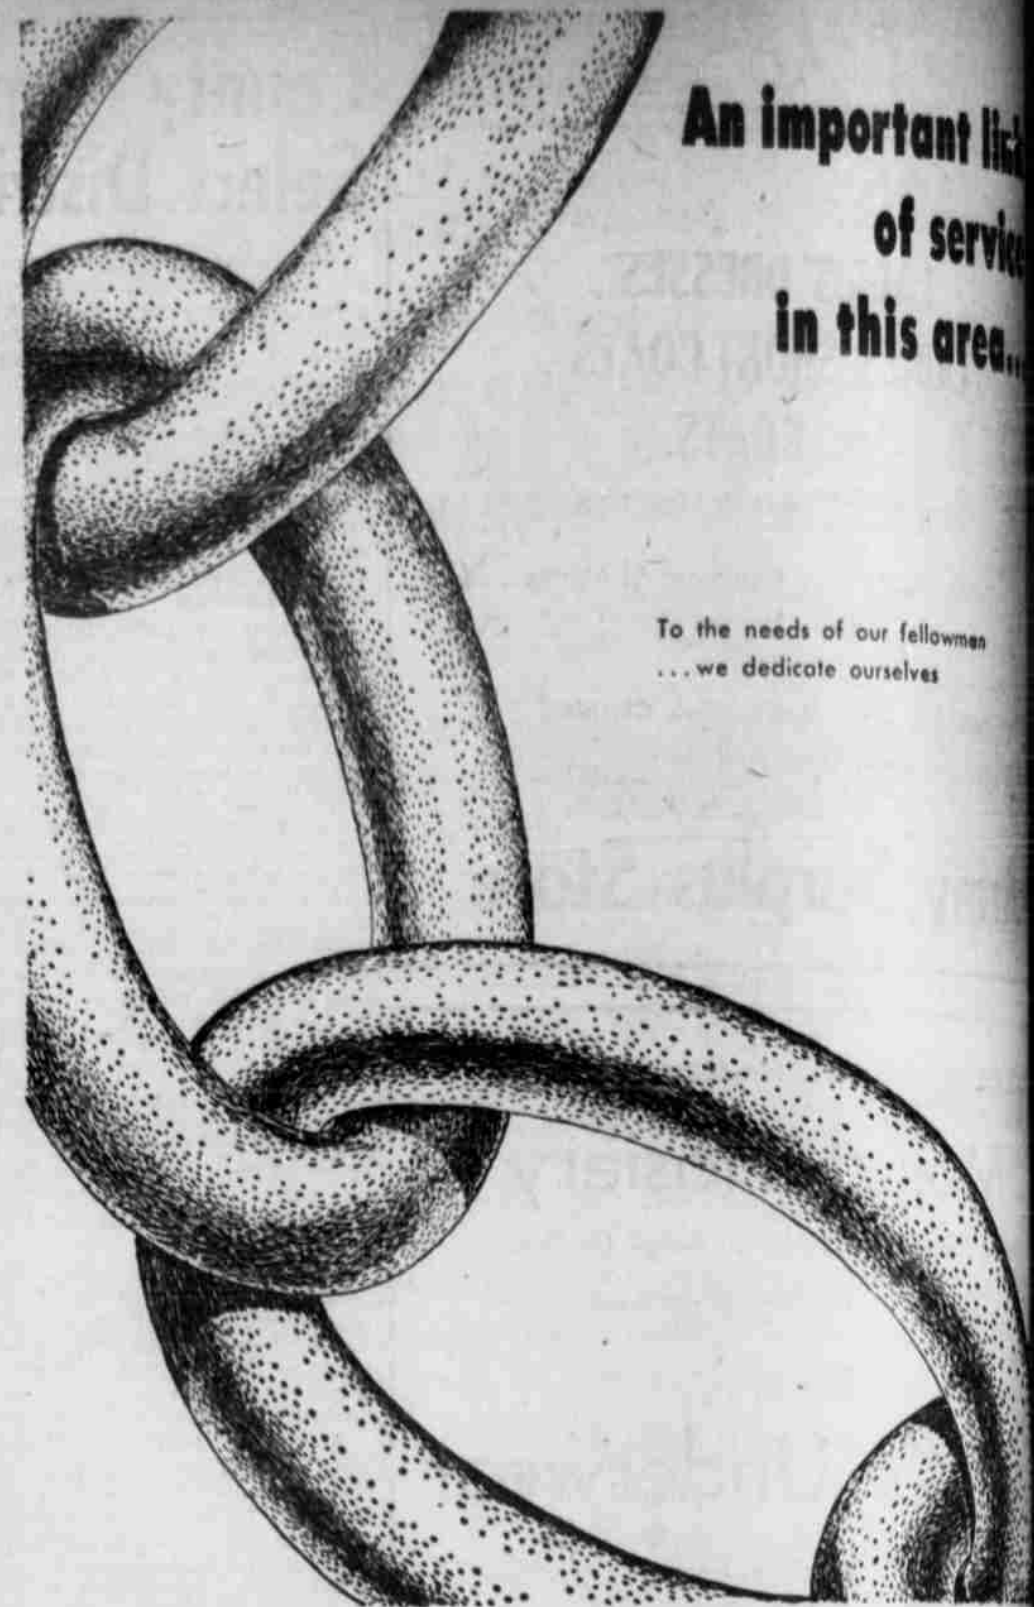

"Boys," he says, "don't get so riled up. It all depends on what color the livestock are. Hogs or cattle, the ones with light-colored coats absorb less heat from the sun's rays than animals with dark coats. So you're both right!"

From where I sit, so many useless arguments could be avoided if a person would remember he doesn't have all the right on his side. Reminds me of folks who insist that coffee, for instance, is the only drink, forgetting that other people have a right to a glass of beer now and then. If we wouldn't get so "het up" about our prejudices—we'd all be better off!

Movie of the Week

Movies are improving this week (in my opinion at least).

The menu at the TOWER contains three GOOD pictures this week. One a romantic weekend for two (but is actually a riot for eight, his kids, her kids and ex-flame and a bewildered hotel clerk); a GREAT BIG STAR SPANGLED musical; and a hilarious comedy.

My pick of the week will be the comedy, "LET'S MAKE IT LEGAL," which runs Wednesday and Thursday. All about two b-e-a-u-t-i-f-u-l girls who are out to make their way in the world—and Mother's showing them the way.

Barbara Bates and Marilyn Monroe as the beautiful girls and Claudette Colbert as the mother. It seems Mother didn't tell them about married life, they're telling her.

Opposite Miss Colbert is MacDonald Carey. The two are husband and wife, but after twenty or so years of wedded bliss, they have that inevitable tiff and come to the parting of the ways. That's where the old flame, Zachary Scott comes in. Or goes out—or stays—or does something anyway. No how, the "LET'S MAKE IT LEGAL" is 10 percent illegal, 40 percent improper and 100 percent hilarious. See it Wednesday and Thursday and you won't regret it.

Mr. and Mrs. Ozell Williams, I am certain, would enjoy laughing at "LET'S MAKE IT LEGAL." So they have two tickets, good for any performance, awaiting them at the box office.

Crowd drawing picture of the week (and also close to the top as best) is the Sunday and Monday presentation of "STARLIFT," Warner Bros' song'n Star-spangled story of how Hollywood rides the skies to bring joy to our G.I.'s.

This outstanding picture has 18 big name stars in it with Doris Day, Gordon MacRae, Virginia Mayo, Gene Nelson and Ruth Roman leading the way. "STARLIFT" is big, it's great and it's entertaining. Sing with the stars as they bring you such songs as "You're Gonna Lose Your Girl", "What Is This Thing Called Love", "It's Magic", and many others the world loves to hear.

Friday and Saturday the Tower presents "WEEK END WITH FATHER." The story of two persons wanting to get married, but before they can all their troubles are little ones.

And troubles they are! Van Heflin has two daughters (and no wife) and Patricia Neal has two sons (and no husband). So the two decide to combine the households by falling in love. But—herein lies all the uproarious antics. Van has been going with another girl who, naturally, doesn't like for him to marry Patricia. And Patricia complicates matters more by making goo-goo eyes at the Mr. Physical Culture man in the show.

Yet, the four kids go into a huddle and start calling the plays and what happens then should never happen to any father or mother.

"WEEK END WITH FATHER" stars that talented nine-year old actress Gigi Perreau. And it gives you an added taste of the Perreau talent. For in this picture Gigi's seven year old sister, Janine, makes her acting debut. And get these two together, you have an enjoyable and talent-filled show.

Horrors! Horrors! If you are a fan of the chilly-thrilly pictures filled with horrible characters, fiendish torture machines and various other devices to bring agony to the human body and soul, then don't miss the Tuesday night presentation at the TOWER. Those masters of horrors, Charles Laughton and Boris Karloff join the beautiful Sally Forrest to bring you "THE STRANGE DOOR." It's a terror. Enough said.

Movie Facts

Everyone should be able to remember the show which won the laurels of the year in 1950. Judges chose as the picture of the year "All About Eve." Best Actor of the year was Jose Ferrer for his portrayal in "Cyrano de Bergerac." And of course you remember the outstanding actress of the year—that beautiful but dumb blonde star of "Born Yesterday"—Judy Holliday.
