WOODWORK by Dalton

KEEPING IN MIND that most people don't enjoy reading about someone else's vacation, or looking at pictures of someone else's grandchildren, I nevertheless am going to give one more report about things I remember when I was growing up years ago (waving goodbye to Noah, and scrambling out of the way of Orville and Wilber Wright's flying machine).

A few weeks ago, I wrote about some things I recalled when I was 7 or 8 in Newport, and I was gratified by the positive reaction from many of my readers (two, actually). Now I am offering some recollections of my years living in Jacksboro, from about age 11 through 17.

As you enter Jacksboro on U.S. 380 from Graham, you can see, attached to the city limit sign, a smaller sign reading "Home of Dalton Wood." (What! You can't find it? That's okay; I couldn't find it either, last time I went through there).

Anyway, here are a few scattered memories about Jacksboro:

When I was in the eighth grade, they turned us loose after we finished mid-term exams one January, and me and another kid were walking through the snow across the elementary school yard. We noticed a window on a third floor classroom was wide open, maybe because all the heat in the building went up there.

We thought it would be fun to throw a snowball through that open window and then get out of there fast. We both had pretty good arms, and we threw hard at the same time. Both snowballs fell short, and the one I threw crashed through a closed window on the second floor. We fled, but were spotted, and I had to come up with 38 cents for a window pane, without telling my mother.

I took my first saxophone lessons from a guy named Roy Hensley, who was, I believe, a sort of musical genius. He played several instruments well, including piano, and wrote out the music we played. Later, I played in the high school band, where the director I remember best was mostly drunk while he conducted the class. He played trumpet himself, and when he'd play in front of the band, we all hoped he wouldn't aim the fumes our direction.

Years later I realized that a guy who has to try to control 50 kids at once in a classroom situation maybe has a reason for heavy drinking.

I once got in trouble for writing a parody of the school song.

I sold copies of the weekly publication Grit, on weekends, and sometimes made as much as two dollars profit.

I learned to swim at what we called "water crossing," because one end of the small lake crossed the roadway. Sometimes we youngsters would have to leave before we wanted to, because there were many water moccasins in there, and we'd see them swimming around several feet away.

I wouldn't swim there now for anything less than Bill Gates' annual income. But when you're 15 years old, you're not bothered by snakes, blister bugs or murderous humidity. Heat and humidity didn't bother me in those days; now I just about die when I go to Jacksboro in the summer.

Hamburgers were about 15 cents, and they were good. For a quarter, you could go to a double feature at the theater, seeing such stars as Tim Holt, Ken Maynard, Roy Rogers, Chester Morris (Boston Blackie) and Johnny Mack Brown. I saw a lot of westerns, and an occasional "eastern."

I recall a lot of other stuff, both good and bad, about those years in Jacksboro. But mostly it was a great time. Of course, anytime you are a teen-ager is the best time ever, although you may not know it until later.

Early Voting Period To Include Saturday, March 2

Early voting began Monday at the Lynn County Clerk's Office for the Democratic and Republican Primaries, with the courthouse also to remain open this Saturday, March 2 from 8:30 a.m. until 12:00 noon and 1:00-5:00 p.m. for registered voters in Lynn County to mark ballots in early voting.

For the remainder of early voting, which continues through March 8, the clerk's office will be open during those same regular business hours Monday through Friday. Voters should bring their voter registration cards, and may only vote in the one primary of their choice.

Iraan Squeaks Past O'Donnell In Playoffs

Iraan crushed O'Donnell's hopes in Class 1A Division I regional quarterfinal action Friday night, tossing in a game-winning basket with only 21 seconds remaining in the closely-matched battle to claim the 62-60 victory at the Odessa College Sports Center.

O'Donnell's Colt Lee led his squad with 23 points, Taylor Read tossed in 16, and Casey Gandy added 14 for the game. The Eagles had a slight lead at the half, 31-29, but Iraan gained 15 to O'Donnell's 12 in the third quarter, and both teams tossed in 17 points in the fourth. Iraan's Daniel Harris, idled by early foul trouble, came back to hit a 10-foot shot with 21 seconds left to squeak past the Eagles.

Coach Mike Read's squad finished a terrific season (24-2), with four seniors ending their high school basketball careers, including Lee, Gandy, Fidel Morado and Adam Ybarra.

On To Semi-State Tournament:

Leopards Take Area, Regional Titles, Head To Fort Worth

by CAITIE DALTON

The New Home Leopards captured Class 1A Division II Area and Regional basketball playoff titles on their road to the Semi-State Tournament in Fort Worth this Friday, where they will face powerhouse Nazareth in semifinal action. The game is set for 8 p.m. at the Wilkerson-Greines Activity Center, located at 5201 CA Roberson Street in Fort Worth. The winner will play in semi-state finals the next day.

The game(s) will be aired live by Lubbock Radio Stations KJAK 92.7 FM or KRFE 580 AM, for area listeners who can't make the trip. School officials told The News that New Home ISD would let out at noon Friday to allow travel time to Fort Worth.

The Leopards claimed the Regional trophy with a 48-35 win over the Silvertown Owls Tuesday night.

after battling the Cotton Center Elks for Area Championship rights last Friday, bringing home the trophy with a 44-33 victory.

REGIONAL WIN

In the regional match, Silvertown scored the first bucket in the first few seconds of the game and the battle was on. New Home answered with 5 points and the Owls would never have the lead again.

In the first half, Jason Reyes tallied up 13 points and Matthew Cramblett dumped in 6 to give New Home the lead at the halftime buzzer, 25-19. With the start of the second half, the Owls came out strong tried to close the gap. They would get as close as 4 points with only a few minutes remaining in the ballgame. However, foul trouble, along with excellent defensive and offensive play by Coach Shawn Harrison's Leopards, kept the Leopard spirit alive. In the second half, Angel Silva with 7 points and Michael Wied with 6 points were top scorers.

High point makers for the game were Reyes with 17, Silva with 11, and Cramblett with 9. On the defensive side, Reyes snagged 10 boards while Silva and Cramblett hauled down 8 each.

AREA WIN

The Leopards faced off against the Cotton Center Elks last Friday night in Abilene to battle for the title of Area Champs, claiming the title with a 44-33 victory. The Leopards had played against Cotton Center before and defeated them handily. This time though, it was a close and exciting game. The crowd made lots of noise as the players all came to the court, and they got louder as the game continued.

In the first quarter, Michael Wied snagged four points, while Shaun Wied and Jason Reyes only nabbed two apiece. During that low-scoring but fast action period, New Home managed to foul six times; Cotton Center only fouled twice.

In the second quarter, Reyes scored a total of eight points, and Shaun Wied scored six. Again, New Home had slightly more fouls when the total was brought up to eight fouls for New Home, five for Cotton Center. When the buzzer sounded at half time, the score showed the Leopards leading by 12.

They fell a little behind in the third quarter as the Elks slowly gained a four-point advantage. Shaun Wied was doing his share though, scoring the only four points the Leopards had in that quarter.

The fourth period was definitely the best scoring period of the game for the weary but perseverant Leopards. Reyes dunked eight points, Matthew Cramblett and Michael Wied each got three, and Shaun Wied and Angel Silva both ended up with two points. The game came to a close with wild cheering and applause from New Home Leopard fans.

Reyes and Shaun Wied were the stars of the game putting in 18 and 14 points respectively. Reyes also had an awesome night of rebounding, grabbing 12, while Cramblett snagged eight boards.

Wall Too Tall Bulldogs Bow Out In Area Playoffs

Wall proved to be aptly named in Class AA Area round basketball playoff action Friday night, when a squad of Wall Hawks players, eight of whom were 6' or taller (including a 6'8" sophomore), blocked the best efforts of the Tahoka Bulldogs. The Hawks claimed the Area title with a 65-35 win over Tahoka, ending the Bulldogs' playoff hopes.

Wall took an early lead in the first period, leading 15-10 going into the second quarter and gaining another 15 points while keeping the Bulldogs to only 6 more points by the half. In the third quarter, Wall increased their lead by 20 points, leading 47-27 going into the final period. Coach Jody Bolin's Bulldogs, to their credit, never gave up and hustled for the ball until the final buzzer.

The game ended the final season for six seniors on the Bulldog squad, including Ren Ellis, Josh Thompson, Blandon Hancock, J.J. Scott, Cory Gardner and John Long.

Three Add Names To Candidate Lists

Three more persons filed for school and city elections in Lynn County during the past week, as the early days of the filing period continue. Candidates have until March 20 to file for seats on city and school boards.

Adding their names to candidate lists during the past week were incumbent Math Bartley for Tahoka ISD, Precinct 3; incumbent Jay Dee House for Tahoka City Council, District 4; and incumbent Charles Goad for O'Donnell City Council.

County Awarded $66,588 Grant

Lynn County will receive grant funding in the amount of $66,588 for victims services, the Lynn County Victim Assistance Coordinator, Lena Cloe, informed county commissioners during regular session Monday morning. The funding, which the county is not required to match, must be used for victims services.

Mrs. Cloe, who applied for the funding, said the grant will be used to fund a victim advocate/program coordinator position in the Lynn County Victim Assistance office, who would work under the direction of Mrs. Cloe to present victim assistance information to area city, county, school and civic organizations, as well as assisting Mrs. Cloe in victim advocacy. The grant provides funding to provide the position here for an 18-month period, and Mrs. Cloe is accepting applications to fill the full-time position.

Other routine business was conducted at the commissioners meeting, including approval of monthly bills and a bond for a county employee. Precinct 2 Commissioner Mike Braddock was given permission to purchase a new tractor.

County Judge J.F. Brandon presided at the meeting, with all four commissioners present.

REV. BOBBY FERGUSON Wilson Church To Host Revival

Faith Chapel Community Church in Wilson invites area residents to attend their revival, "Revival in the Land," Wednesday through Sunday, Feb. 27-March 3. Speaker will be Rev. Bob Ferguson, the current minister of the First Church of the Nazarene in Cisco. Ferguson is originally from Floydada and was the minister of the Grassland Community Church for 10 years. He has been in the ministry for over 40 years.

Services are at 7 p.m. nightly except Sunday, when services will be at 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. The revival will feature praise music and a live band.

Phebe K. Warner Club Seeking Sale Items

Phebe K. Warner Club members will host a grant "Junque and Treasure" sale Friday and Saturday, April 5-6 at the Life Enrichment Center, located at 1717 Main Street in Tahoka. Proceeds from the event will benefit the Lady Stewart and Maurice Bray Scholarship funds.

"Now is the time to clean out closets, garages, store houses, attics, and basements and get rid of unused items," said one club member. "Then call a member of Phebe K. Warner Club to donate them to this worthy cause."

Members will welcome household items, furniture, appliances, clothes, games, bicycles, books, craft articles, tools, decorator pieces, etc. Items may be taken to the Life Enrichment Center Thursday, April 4 between 1-5 p.m. Donors who are unable to bring their items to the center may call 998-5040 before April 1 to arrange for a pick-up.

The scholarships are awarded annually to a Tahoka High School senior boy and girl. The students not only receive a scholarship for their first year of college, it is renewed each year they remain in college and earn good grades. Most years the club awards over $2,000 to deserving students.

Celinda Leverett Attends NYLC In Washington

Celinda Leverett of Lubbock, the granddaughter of Natt and Pat Park of Tahoka, attended the National Young Leaders Conference (NYLC) from Feb. 5-10 in Washington, D.C. This unique leadership development program invites high school students — based on scholastic merit, community involvement, and leadership contributions — to interact with today's national leaders. NYLC scholars work through many issues facing the nation today through a series of simulations and meet face-to-face with members of the U.S. Congress or their staff as well as other influential personalities.

"The National Young Leaders Conference motivates exceptional high school students like Celinda to responsibly meet challenges head-on and provides confidence in creating positive changes in communities throughout the world," said Michael Lasday, executive director of the Congressional Youth Leadership Council (CYLC), the organization that sponsors the NYLC.

U. S. Representative Lynn Rivers of Michigan welcomed the students to the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives, an honor usually reserved for members of Congress and their special guests. The students filled the chamber where the State of the Union Address takes place. She told the students, "If you look at the face of America, it's certainly different from that of the United States Congress. For instance, while women make up fifty-two percent of our total population, perhaps only fifteen percent of the House of Representatives is comprised of women. Similar conclusions can be drawn regarding ethnic diversity. To adequately represent everyone, there needs to be variety in the backgrounds of individuals in leadership." Rivers concluded: "If you don't participate in government by either voting or running for office, you're totally turning over decisions that affect your life to other people. Democracy is not a spectator sport."

Because leadership goes beyond what happens on Capitol Hill, Leverett had the opportunity to interact with a panel of renowned journalists, including Ceci Connolly of the Washington Post, Jonathan Karl of CNN, Toni Loey of USA Today and Juan Williams of National Public Radio. Students had the chance to ask questions regarding national and international current events, journalistic ethics and news prioritization, as well as advice and perspectives on how to start a career in journalism.

FCCLA MEMBERS EXCEL.—These Tahoka High School students competed in Regional FCCLA events in Odessa last weekend, with 14 qualifying for state competition in April. Members include (back) D'Lea Autry, Clayton Chancy, Crista Amador, Haleigh Ross, Lana Jones, Randy Chapa, Bradley Paschal, Kelsey Hammonds, Mandy Sanders, Sarah Hawthorne, and (front) Nina Follis, Britni Engle, Jessica Pesina, Diana Pena, Lesley Chapa, D'Lynn Stone, Kyndel Byrd, Carla Jolly, Jennifer Cisneros, and Nicole Green.

14 THS Students Qualify For State FCCLA Event

Twenty Tahoka High School students, members of the Tahoka chapter and Madeline Hegi chapter of Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA), attended the Region I Conference held in Odessa Feb. 22-23, with 14 advancing to state competition to be held in Corpus Christi in April.

The chapter members were among 1,300 delegates attending the two-day conference. The youth developed theme, "FCCLA: Saddle Up For Success," was carried out through workshops and general sessions where members discovered ways to become actively involved in the issues facing the youth of today. Some of the issues addressed at the meeting were: scholarships, date rape, team building, personality profiling, eating disorders, STOP the Violence, community service, depression, stress management, leadership, STAR events, underage drinking, public speaking, self-esteem and attitude check.

STAR events (Students Taking Action for Recognition) are competitive events that allow the members to showcase their skill in different areas of competition. Diana Pena, Jessica Pesina, and Haleigh Ross, all sophomores at THS, participated on Focus on Children, senior division. Focus on Children is a team event which recognizes participants who use family and consumer sciences skills to plan and conduct a child development project that has a positive impact on children. The project this year was "The Power of Careers: Career Education for Elementary Students." These high school students planned a Career Day in the elementary school on Jan. 18 featuring 20 speakers who presented a variety of careers.

Jennifer Cisneros, a freshman, received first place in Focus on Children, junior division. She conducted a seat belt safety project with first grade students. A puppet show was presented to the students along with other activities reinforcing the importance of wearing a seat belt. With the win, Jennifer advanced to state competition.

Applied Technology, senior division, is an individual or team event recognizing participants who develop a project using technology, and shows evidence of problem solving, critical thinking and integration of applied communication, math and/or science skills in a family and consumer sciences area. Lesley Chapa and D'Lynn Stone, both seniors, developed the display and spoke on behalf of the Tahoka FCCLA chapter.

Chapter Showcase, senior division, is a team event that recognizes chapters that develop and implement a well-balanced program or work and promote FCCLA to the community. Nina Follis, Nicole Green, and Sarah Hawthorne, all seniors, developed a display and spoke on behalf of the Tahoka FCCLA chapter.

Entrepreneurship is a senior division team event that recognizes participants who develop a plan for a small business using family and consumer sciences related skills and knowledge of sound business practices. D'Lea Autry and Lana Jones, both juniors, developed plans and a presentation on "Impulse," a unique apparel boutique. Their project placed sixth and they will advance to state competition.

The Illustrated Talk event recognizes participants for their ability to make a presentation about life issues concerning family and consumer sciences. Crista Amador, a sophomore, presented "Wounds: The Scars are Permanent," a project on child abuse. Crista placed second and will advance to state.

Parliamentary Procedure is a team event recognizing chapters that develop a working knowledge of parliamentary law and the ability to conduct a FCCLA business meeting. This year's team consisted of Kyndel Byrd, Randy Chapa, Britni Engle, Kelsey Hammonds, Carla Jolly, and Bradley Paschal. Tahoka ISD Superintendent Jimmy Parker trained the team. They placed first in regional competition and now advance to state.

Skills for Life, senior division, is a team event that recognizes participants who develop a "how to" presentation that explains life skill used to plan and/or implement a project related to a national FCCLA program. Seniors Mandy Sanders and Clayton Chancy presented "Ticked Off at Teens," placing second and advancing to state competition.

FCCLA is a dynamic youth organization that has the family as its central focus. FCCLA is sponsored locally by Mrs. Patti Rambo and Mrs. Donna Stone.

NOW AT THE LIBRARY
Flesh and Blood

by Jonathan Kellerman

Lauren Teague is a beautiful, defiant, borderline delinquent teenager when her parents bring her to Alex Delaware's office. But for all Alex's skill and effort, Lauren resists — angrily, provocatively. Reluctantly, the psychologist chalks Lauren up as one of the inevitable failures of a challenging profession. But years later, when Alex comes face-to-face with Lauren in a shocking encounter, both doctor and patient are stricken with shame.

And then the ultimate horror takes place when, soon after, Lauren's brutalized corpse is found dumped in an alley. Alex disregards the advice of his trusted friend LAPD detective Milo Sturgis, and jeopardizes his relationship with his long-time lover, Robin Castagna, in order to pursue Lauren's murderer.

As he investigates his young patient's troubled past, Alex enters the shadowy worlds of fringe psychological experimentation and the sex industry, and then steps into mortal danger where lust and big money collide in Southern California.

Available at the City-County Library, located inside the Life Enrichment Center, 1717 Main Street, Tahoka, phone 998-4050. Open Mondays and Wednesdays, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (closed 12:30-1:30 p.m. for lunch); Tuesdays and Thursdays, 2-7 p.m.; and Saturdays 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

News from the Tahoka Care Center

by Connie Riojas

Tahoka Care Center would like to thank Villa Craig for her generous donation, and to Sweet Street Baptist Church — we appreciate you all greatly for coming out each week for gospel singing. The residents really enjoy it.

The Center's monthly birthday party was held Friday, Feb. 22. Olen Harrison was the only resident who celebrated a birthday this month. The residents had a great time at the party. Employee Vanisa DeLeon will be celebrating her birthday on Feb. 28. Happy Birthday!

Residents had a nice week starting the mornings with exercises and a morning activity (bingo), then finishing up with our afternoon activities of bowling, basketball, and table games.

We are saddened by the loss of
