Volume XL.

Junction, Kimble County, Texas, Friday, April 4, 1924.

Number 50.

GEORGE B. TERRELL OUT FOR RE-ELECTION.

The Eagle editor is in receipt of a letter from Hon. George B. Terrell, present State Commissioner of Agriculture, who is now a candidate to succeed himself to this important office.

Mr. Terrell is a personal friend of the editor, and it is a pleasure to place his candidacy before the voters of this county for their consideration, knowing that he is a man that has filled an important State office with efficiency and marked ability that is seldom known in these days of Tea Pot Dome and Department of Justice investigations.

This office, while a most important one, but from a financial standpoint, is a rather undesirable one, as the salary is like most other State offices, very low.

When this editor was in the Legislature, it is recalled that Mr. Terrell was one of the two or three Department heads who asked for less appropriations than the Board of Control had recommended.

No stronger endorsement could be given a candidate for any office than that given Mr. Terrell by the people of his home town, which in part, is as follows:

"The undersigned citizens of Cherokee County commend Mr. Terrell to the voters of Texas as one of the cleanest men in public life, and a man of high honor and integrity and one of the best informed men in the State on agricultural conditions and the administration of governmental affairs. He was born and reared in this county and commands the respect and confidence of all our citizens, as evidenced by the support we have always given him. He has served us ably and faithfully in the Legislature for fourteen years, and always stood for economy, good morals, and clean government. His administration of the Department of Agriculture has been unsurpassed for efficiency and economy in the history of this State, and he is asking re-election on his past record."

RECEPTION GIVEN MR. AND MRS. F. E. GARRETT

The following appeared in Sunday's San Antonio Express, and refers to the new proprietor of Butt and Garrett Grocery which opened here this week:

Tuesday evening the ladies of the Baptist Church gave a farewell reception for Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Garrett, long associated with the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett are soon to take up their residence in Junction. A musical program was rendered. Eugene Butt, as master of ceremonies, gave a brief farewell address and presented the departing associates with a set of silver on behalf of the members. Mr. Garrett responded, expressing regret at breaking ties of a long association.

Mr. Garrett has long been actively interested in the Sunday School department and both he and Mrs. Garrett took active and effective part in all church work.

Gene Lightfoot has begun operating a passenger and express line between Junction and Menard, and recently had some advertising cards printed and placed an ad in this paper, and is going after business, which he expects to develop between these two towns by reason of the daily schedule and improved convenience to the traveling public.

P. T. A. PROPOSES A CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

While next week is to be observed as clean-up week in most places throughout the State, the local Parent-Teachers' Association have decided to designate the week beginning April 14th as Clean-Up week in Junction, as there is a great deal of preliminary work to be done in order to carry out the work as they plan.

Mrs. W. P. Riley, president, and other members of the Association, are working on the matter now. They are asking the support of the Commissioners' Court in the matter of providing a suitable dump ground. The Chamber of Commerce will co-operate, and it is hoped that the public generally will lend every assistance in this important work of cleaning up the town and making it more healthful and attractive to those of us who live here as well as to the visitor.

Arrangements will be made, if possible, to remove all trash and rubbish that the people will collect and place in sacks or other containers in the front of their premises.

It is not necessary to wait until the week designated, as the sooner you begin, the better. And those who have means of conveying the trash to the dump grounds, will assist the P. T. Association and save them the expense if you will remove your own rubbish.

It is hoped that suitable and permanent dump grounds can be arranged for and the announcement of this made in next week's paper.

Other details that are being worked out will also be announced next week.

W. D. Adams was in town from the Yates community Friday. Mr. Adams says the farmers are ready to begin planting in his community, as soon as the weather become warm. A considerable quantity of ranch land has been put in cultivation down that way and a number of new residences built by the owners of the smaller tracts and this is now one of the most productive farming communities in the county.

MR. AND MRS. KNETSCH LEAVE FOR SEGUIN.

County Attorney and Mrs. Fred E. Knetsch left Monday for Seguin where they will make their future home, and where Mr. Knetsch will continue the practice of law.

During the five years that Mr. and Mrs. Knetsch have been residents of Junction, they have made a host of friends who will regret to lose them as citizens of the community and who will wish the best things in life for them in their return to their former home.

During their residence here, both have been active in church and social activities of the town and their places will be missed at the local church where they were always counted on to take a leading part.

For some two years Mr. Knetsch has been county attorney and has handled the duties of that office in a most creditable manner. He was a director in the Chamber of Commerce and a very active member in this organization. As a member of the local school board, he has given his time and careful attention to this work which is often a very thankless job, and has been instrumental in the gradual and very noticeable progress that the school has recently been making.

The Eagle is informed that the partnership of Stevenson & Knetsch will continue as before.

J. A. Nixon and a number of persons from Ranger were fishing on the river Sunday, but the outing proved rather expensive, as Mr. Nixon was found with a bass which is a violation of the law. W. W. Taylor made the arrest and a fine of $16.70 was assessed against him in Justice Court. It is hoped that those living along the streams will admonish visitors not to violate the game and fish laws, and thus avoid trouble. The laws are going to be rigidly enforced in this part of the country, and no one is desirous of getting other people in trouble, but if we are to have plenty of fish for the open season, we must protect the bass during the spawning season.

ICE PLANT FOR JUNC- TION SEEMS ASSURED.

W. K. Snow of San Antonio, who has been negotiating with the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of arranging to erect an ice plant here, was in town Wednesday and the final arrangements are about worked out, that will insure a plant being erected here at an early date. In fact, Mr. Snow brought up a ton of cement and went back to Kerrville that afternoon to purchase other material for starting the building.

The location, pending the purchase of a lot now under consideration, has not been definitely decided on, but another location will be procured if the one now in mind cannot be bought at a reasonable figure.

An ice plant is a business addition to the town that is badly needed by the people who will become local customers, as well as for the heavy tourist demand that will be additional. It is rather distasteful to the average tourist to come here and have to pay 2 cents or more for ice when they have been accustomed to paying less than one-third that price.

The high price cannot be blamed on the local dealers, as they hardly make expenses out of the handling of ice, after the waste and extra freight is paid.

An ice plant here will help to keep a great deal of money in the town that otherwise goes to help build up other towns. If only three tons per day are sold here, more than $20 per day goes out of town for the purchase of the ice, exclusive of the freight.

At present there seems to be no obstacle in the way to prevent the construction work going along rapidly, and it is hoped that by the time this paper goes to press next week, it can chronicle the fact that actual construction is under way.

Attorney General Daugherty resigned last Friday. This is the second resignation in the President's Cabinet, the other being Secretary Denby of the Navy, since the Senatorial Investigation started. Both had stated repeatedly that they would not resign.

AMERICAN LEGION OUT FOR NEW MEMBERS.

About twenty-five ex-service men of Junction and vicinity met Wednesday night in the W. O. Wall for the purpose of reviving interest in the organization and bringing into the membership as many boys in the county as are eligible.

While the Legion has been an organization since shortly after the close of the war, and until last year, had a very creditable showing in the way of membership, interest has become lacking and during the past year only a very few were paid up members in good standing in the post.

After a good deal of general discussion of various subjects, it was decided that in order to be ready for a membership drive, a full stag of officers should be elected, and with R. I. Jarvis in the chair and Walter Buck acting secretary, the following officers were elected for 1924: Post Commander, B. B. Ragland; Vice-Commander, R. I. Jarvis; Adjutant, A. W. Browning; Finance Officer, H. G. Perry; Chaplain, A. J. Bierschwale; Sergeant at Arms, Ward Cross. On motion, the chair appointed Wm. Wilson assistant Chaplain, and Stewart Taylor, assistant Sergeant at Arms.

A. W. Brownink and Walter Buck were elected as leaders for the opposing sides in the membership drive and each chose an equal number from those present.

As the Post is in good financial condition, it was decided that no Post dues would be assessed for the year and those desiring to become members can do so by paying the State and National dues.

To stimulate interest in the contest, it was decided that the side securing the greater number of new members would be given a supper as a treat from the losing side.

The meeting date was set for the first Saturday night in each month and all ex-service men who are eligible to membership are invited to attend the next meeting and become members.

KIMBLE CO. PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED

An organization for the better protection of fish and game in Kimble County, has been organized and assessments paid in. This money will be used for paying rewards for evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of persons violating the game and fish laws. The members of this organization are to co-operate with the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission in enforcing these laws.

The organization was started last Saturday by W. W. Taylor, District Deputy Game Warden, and the following members were enlisted that day: H. G. Perry, John B. Wilson, M. Huffman, W. G. Moos, Oren C. Reid, Forrest J. Weldon, Roy Williams, A. L. Mudge, Ragland and Riley. Others will be secured later.

Judge and Mrs. James Cornell were in Junction Monday and went on to London Tuesday to look over the Ellis ranch. Judge Cornell is interested in this land as an attorney, which is advertised to sell next month to satisfy a judgment issued out of the Federal Court. This ranch if sold to parties who will cut it into small tracts and sell to farmers, will become a great asset to the east end of the county, as it contains some of the finest farming land in the county and is adjacent to the town of London.

To the Voters of Kimble County

Because of the solicitations of a number of friends, I have agreed to submit my name as a candidate for the office of County Judge, soon to be made vacant by the expiration of Judge Baker's term of office.

In doing this I am asking for the position, from the people of Kimble County, as I would for a position in a corporation, a bank or other business institution, expecting those who would employ me to investigate my qualifications, and ability to perform the duties required of me.

It is no small task for a candidate to canvas this county, and solicit the support of each individual voter. The cost of the primary election, announcement fee, and expense of transportation, together with the loss of time from business, is quite a handicap that I would ask the people to consider.

So, if during my campaign, I do not happen to meet you, remember I am making this appeal to you for your support, assuring you of my appreciation.

If at any time you wish to know my position on any public question, I shall be glad to tell you how I stand.

Respectfully,
A. G. FARMER.

BOSTON COMMON

Boston was founded in 1620 and Boston Common, distinctive and unique among municipal parks or open-air gathering places has been in existence from the very beginning of the community—having been set aside in 1634 as a "place for a training field as well as for the feeding of cattle."

The Common occupies approximately fifty acres. In the early days the Charles river bordered on one side. Atop its highest point stands the Army and Navy monument "to the men of Boston who died for their country on land and sea in the war which kept the Union whole, destroyed slavery and maintained the Constitution," occupying the site upon which the British erected a redoubt during the siege of the city in Revolutionary war times. The present pool is of artificial origin. A gigantic elm tree that was old when the Common was laid out, from the limbs of which executions were said to have taken place in early times, was a feature of the landscape until blown down by a storm in 1876.

To remain a fixed institution in progressive America for practically three centuries is an accomplishment extraordinary, yet here is a park—the Common, which has been a common in reality as well as in name since 1634. Its walks and lawns have been enjoyed by rich and poor, old and young, not only by Bostonians, but by citizens of every state in this Union as well as by citizens of practically every country on the face of the earth.

Despite the growth of the town and the pressure to commercialize large open spaces adjacent to the business part of the town, no street car lines have been permitted to encroach on the Common, neither has its size been reduced—the law of 1640 which declares that "There shall be no land granted either for house, plot or garden out of ye ground of common field," having been strictly complied with.

Pleasingly rolling—hill and slope—probably no other open space in America is in more general use, due unquestionably to the large population which resides within reasonable walking distance plus the fact that it is "right here in the center of things and does not need going to."

While admiring him as the one candidate who has entered the race for governor on a strict ly business platform, friends of Lynch Davidson of Houston, have discovered no small amount of amusement in his method of travel and appearance as a speaker.

As an orator even Lynch, himself, says that when he started he was not "worth a continental darn" but adds that his friends will be surprised at the manner in which he is getting better and better. Politically, he is not in line with the long haired, frock coated variety. He is rather "runt", about 50 years old, but of a seriousness of purpose and earnestness which, coupled with his record as a business man, brand him a man who knows what he is talking about and can accomplish what he promises.

Today he is touring West Texas in a Ford sedan for a criss-cross journey of 2,000 miles to El Paso and back. He will make half a hundred speeches and should be a real orator by the time this is completed.
Some of his enemies have applied the name of "Aristocrat" to his sedan and his friends are wondering where the idea of aristocracy comes in on his method of travel.

Mr. Davidson, himself terms it "the great adventure" to "determine whether or not the people of Texas have come to the point of again turning their state's affairs over to the same old bunch of politicians or placing their billion dollar corporation in business hands." He adds that he can save the State $10,000,000 biennially by applying the same business acumen which he employed in putting the defunct State railway on a cash basis.

If you and I did as much boosting for Kimble County as is done by people living in many places where they have only a very few of the natural advantages found here, this little country town and this county would double in population in two or three years.

We are too self-satisfied with ourselves. The fact that we know about the wonderful pecan shades, the beautiful streams, the fine camping places, the pure mountain air, is no reason for lazily assuming that other people know about it. A man said to us a few days ago: "Everybody knows about Junction" That statement shows that this person did not know much about Junction or about people away from here.

We may know something in a general way, about New York, but it doesn't follow that New York knows about us.

During the past ten years the Plains country has seen unparalleled development—the population of many counties has increased ten fold. Why? They have told the world about their country, and the world has gone to see it, and a good part of them have remained.

We have the environments that thousands are looking for,
but the only way to get them here is to tell them what we have, and keep on telling them until we get them here. They'll like our country and will tell their friends about it.

Let's wake up. Let's get out of that attitude of "Let John do it," and pull together. It will pay us all.

During the past year we have been so busy and renewals and the gradual addition of new subscriptions have been so satisfactory that we have not taken occasion to mail out subscription notices. There have been a few however, whose subscriptions have expired and who have not renewed. We are mailing notices to those who are not paid in advance and we hope we will receive the same prompt response that we have been receiving in the past.

We are making every effort to give you the best paper in Texas for a town of this size, and good business methods demand that we run on a cash basis. We are very grateful for the many kindly expressions of commendation that we are receiving.

If you are one of the few whose time has expired (as is shown on the date stamped after your name), we shall be glad to have your remittance at once, as all delinquent subscribers will be dropped after next week. If it is not convenient to pay now, if you will see or write us, we will be glad to carry your account a reasonable time. If there is an error in the date, it will be cheerfully corrected if brought to our attention. In handling nearly a thousand names, it is impossible to prevent some errors, and there is no occasion for any one getting mad at a mistake in dates, for everyone is liable to errors.

FUNNY THINGS HAPPEN.

Funny things happen in the newspaper game, sometimes.
Some two or three months ago,
word came to the Messenger that a certain gentleman and his wife had remarked some-very unladylike and ungentlemanly remarks about the Messenger. They told Mrs. So-and-
So that they "did not like the Messenger," etc., and so-on, and they didn't even like the editors of the splendid publication.
That was their right, constitutional right, to express their dislikes, and the Messenger editors granted 'em those rights. But, when the lady approached this editor one day recently, smiling, gracious, and patronizing, and asked: "Please don't publish that report about my boy," and so-forth, we wanted to swoon and tumble in it. And, the report was not published. Yes, funny things happen—sometimes—in this newspaper game.
—Wise County Messenger.

INDIVIDUALS AND EXCEP- TIONS.

Shall we condemn the church because there are a few hypocrites holding membership in same? No! Shall we condemn Congress and the President's Cabinet because there have been a few members involved in a nation-wide scandal? The answer is the same. Neither should the Anti-Saloon League be held in contempt just because one of its officers is serving a term in a State prison.

When the church is criticised we note that it is the worldly element and the spineless class of members who offer the abuse.
In politics we find disgruntled politicians ever ready to abuse.
The same may be said with reference to the Anti-Saloon League of New York. The man who criticises the organization simply because one of its officers was convicted of forgery, is not striking at the forger, but merely showing his hatred for prohibition. He is against the things the Anti-Saloon League stands for.—Exchange.

Blinding Headaches

"For about twenty years," says Mr. P. A. Walker, a well-known citizen of Newburg, Ky., "one of our family remedies has been Black-Draught, the old reliable. . . I use it for colds, biliousness, sour stomach and indigestion. I was subject to headaches when my liver would get out of order. I would have blinding headaches and couldn't stoop about my work; just couldn't go. I used

Theford's

BLACK-DRAUGHT

and it relieved me. "About eight years ago my wife got down with liver and stomach trouble. . . We tried all week to help her, . . . but she didn't get any better. One day I said to the doctor, 'I believe I will try Black-Draught, it helps my liver.' He said that I might try it and to follow directions. She was nauseated and couldn't eat or rest. She began taking Black-Draught and in two days she was greatly improved and in a week she was up." Try Black-Draught. It costs only one cent a dose. Sold everywhere. E-99

INDUSTRIAL CHEMICALS ARE MADE FROM RESIDUE

The big coke ovens of the River Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Company stand as monuments to engineering progress, marking the elimination of waste of heat and daily extracting enormous quantities of by-products from their charges of soft coal.

These great ovens every day produce 2,000 tons of coke, 2,300,000 cubic feet of gas, 18,000 gallons of benzol, 60,000 pounds of ammonium sulphate, 17,800 pounds of tar and 4,500 gallons of refined light oil. Processes by which these by-products are taken from the gases liberated by the coal are among the most interesting of the many manufacturing marvels seen by the visitor to the River Rouge plant and entails the use of a maze of enormous tanks, stills and decanters.

COCKLEBURS KILL PIGS.

Fields infested with cockle-burs should not be used for grazing pigs in the spring when the cockle-burs are sprouting, advises A. L. Ward, Swine Husbandman Extension Service A. & M. College of Texas.

The most dangerous time is just as the cocklebur plant pushes up through the surface of the soil. The pigs like these young sprouts, which contain a poisonous substance which results fatally if eaten in sufficient quantities. Experiments have proven that 12 ounces of these sprouts contains sufficient poison to kill a 50-pound shoat. Death usually results quickly, somewhat like sorghum poisoning of cattle.

When pigs are first affected the entire bunch should be removed to a dry lot for a short time, where they should be given whole milk, grease or lard. The surest preventive is to keep pigs from fields infested with burs until the plants reach a height of 4 to 6 inches. The plants at this stage lose the poisonous properties.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS TO SPEAK AT BROWNWOOD

Hon. Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the Navy in the Wilson Cabinet, will deliver a lecture in Brownwood on Thursday, April 10, according to a telegram received this morning by Cameron Marshall, who has been negotiating with the former cabinet member for several days past in an effort to secure a Brownwood date.

Mr. Daniels will be available for only a few addresses in Texas, and it is expected that his Brownwood engagement will attract a large attendance of people from neighboring towns and cities. He is regarded as one of the leading Democrats of the country, and his messages are of peculiar interest because of his intimate acquaintance with governmental affairs during the World War period while serving as head of the navy department.—Brownwood Bulletin.

TO THE END OF THE ROAD.

Screaming headlines shouting murder, suicide and scandal. Lawling billboards directing attention to immoral spectacles on screen and stage. International cables chatting of intrigue and impending hostilities. The face of the world, battered and bleeding, beseeching pity from people of a frozen conscience.

Then, in the obscure corners of our universe—dusky-skinned mothers crooning to contented babes. Illiterate races living their unknown lives in happiness and peace. Unread, unthinking, undressed and undeveloped Indians and Eskimos and "lost tribes" pursuing their noble, unexalted careers without the rasping bitterness of their enlightened cousins.

Has civilization gone mad? Is modernity, as we construe it, an empty advantage? Have the ideals of Christianity burst like fickle bubbles on a summer's day? Is the shadow of another Dark Age settling close about us?

These are our reflections in the moments of discouragement. These are the actualities behind our civilization, as contemplatives committing thunderous suicide.

But because "hope springs exulting on triumphant wings," mankind shall probably continue to climb and to fall, to persevere and to meet defeat, to work and to be over-come with momentary weariness. It is the nature of the human soul to aspire toward the Heavens, just as it is the habit of the human body to maul every other human body with which it comes in contact. It is not for our frail minds to attempt to fathom the divine plan. It is ours only to serve our fellow men, to serve God, and to "carry on" to the end of the road.—Farm and Ranch.

LADIES' AFTERNOON CLUB.

A charming five-table bridge party was given by Mrs. Jim Moore on Wednesday of last week at her home, honoring the Ladies' Afternoon Club and a number of guests.

The tallies were hand-painted U. S. flags and shamrocks. Mrs. A. L. Mudge won the club prize a green flower bowl; Mrs. L. L. Skaggs received two green linen handkerchiefs as the guest prize, and Mrs. John Martin was consoled with a Briggs, framed cartoon.

Green fruit salad on lettuce leaves, saltine wafers, hot tea and green and white cake, were served. Little green Irish crepe paper flags were used as plate favors and green shamrock-shaped mints were served during the afternoon.

MISS CARLISLE HONORED.

Mrs. W. W. Allen and Mrs. Nannie Summers entertained with a delightful dance Saturday evening at the W. W. Allen ranch, complimenting Miss Winnie Carlisle.

Mrs. Summers and Mr. Ed Allen furnished music for the dancers a while, then Mr. Edison was started.

Little Miss Elizabeth Summers honored the many guests with a solo dance.

Orange ice and cake were served and punch was also served throughout the evening. Everyone present report a lovely time.

BLUE BONNETS ENTERTAIN

On Monday afternoon, March 31, the Blue Bonnet Society of the Methodist Church gave the first of their fifth Monday socials at the home of Mrs. M. Wilkinson.

The living room was tastefully decorated with green and blue crepe paper streamers, while a bowl of blue bonnets graced the table. As the guests entered they were served with fruit punch. Miss Merle Blackburn and Mrs. Clarence Jetton presided at this table. A pretty boudoir cap was presented to Mrs. Coke R. Stevenson, who was the most successful guesser in an interesting contest that was held.

A program of vocal and instrumental music and readings added to the attraction of the occasion.

Chicken and pimento sandwiches, cake and chocolate were served at the close of the evening.

The Society will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. A. E. Bissett next Monday afternoon.

Frank Cowsert, deputy game warden, who has been stationed near Mountain Home during the past few months, has moved here and will probably cover Menard and Schleicher Counties, but will make his home here at the residence of his father.

On Page Six will be found the result of the Kimble County Interscholastic Meet held at the Junction school building last Saturday. A goodly number of patrons of this and other competing schools were present. While more schools in the county should have taken an interest in the meet, it was more successful than any heretofore.

Looking Forward

THE COMMON Honey Bee furnishes us a fine example of preparation for the future. In the spring and summer when the flowers are laden with sweets, these tireless little workers lay in a supply for the days when it will be difficult to find food. If they followed the idea of letting each day take care of itself, they would naturally feel that there was and would be plenty of food.

SO IT IS With us. There appears to be a period of prosperity with us. Wool and mohair are selling at splendid prices; range conditions are good and all kinds of livestock are doing well; a good season is in the ground and the future looks bright.

NOW IS A Mighty good time to plan that crop of feed stuff for it will be needed this winter. Don't overstock your range because it is showing up so well, but conserve it and raise feed to help it out.
