Opening with a "by invitation" preview of western art Friday night, this year art lovers will be able to survey the works of 35 of the best western artists at the Post Community Center on Saturday and Sunday.

Dalby Named to National Group

Giles W. Dalby, County Judge, Garza, Texas has been named Environment and Energy Steering Committee; Member of the National Association of Counties (NACo) Environment and Energy Steering Committee by NACo President Sandra Smoley of Sacramento County, California.

Arts and Crafts Added O.S.

One of the new events added to this year's O. S. Saddle Bronc and Art Sale in Post is an arts and crafts, gun and knife show at the Garza County Junior Livestock Association Barn near the rodeo grounds.

There are 60 arts and crafts and 30 gun and knife displays set to show and sell hundreds of items.

Old and new guns and knives will be included in the arts and crafts show.

Other items on display will be boots, tack, stain glass, silk flowers, western clothes, crochet, photos, wood craft, dolls, ceramics, pottery and china.

O. S. chairman of the arts and crafts show, A. C. Cash, says the response from participants has been great and he expects visitors to the arts and crafts show to have a wide choice of items.

You Can Say It Was Top Attended

In response to all the questions about attendance at last Friday's football game here, the answer is . . . "approximately 4,000 people went through the gate."

The football stadium will seat approximately 2,500, according to Post High School principal Joe Giddens, who took into consideration the number of folks standing along the fence.

Volunteers at the concession booths were worn out after four hours of serving people, and some estimated that 3,300 drinks were sold at the Post side concession stand.

"It was certainly one of the largest gates we've ever had," Giddens commented, "and was definitely more than last year's overflow at the Slaton game."

Few Box Seats Available for O.S.

There are still a few box seats left that will seat six people.

These seats sell for $75 and will be good for both nights of the OS Weekend.

If anyone is interested in obtaining these seats, contact Margie Pennell at the First National Bank, 495-2804

NACo's 11 steering committees form the policy making arm of county government. Each committee is composed of approximately 40 county officials who meet during the year to examine issues critical to local government.

Their recommendations on county legislative goals are presented to the nation's county officials at NACo's annual conference. If approved the recommendations become part of the American County Platform, NACo's official policy document.

Founded in 1935, the National Association of Counties (NACo) works to improve county government, to act as a national spokesman for counties, to serve as a liaison between counties and other levels of government, and to achieve a public understanding of the role of counties in the federal system.

With headquarters in Washington, D. C., the association has more than 2,000 member counties representing 42,000 elected and appointed county officials.

Bobby Cowdrey, a deacon at Graham, was master of ceremonies for the program. He introduced Orabeth White, who gave some of the events and a brief history of the church. Larry Moreman listed the preachers who had preached at Graham. Silas Short talked about some of the former happenings, salaries, contributions and events. Several of the long time members of the church talked about how it use to be. Several of the members had been baptized in Two Draw Lake, the Lofton Horse trough or the Wallace horse trough.

Letters to Editor

Dear Editor

I'd like to express my thanks to all those who helped make the bike-a-thon a success. The total amount the riders collected was almost $600.

Thank you go to Holly's Drive In for providing lunch to the riders; Dairy Queen for our afternoon ice cream; to United for keeping us in Koolaid through the day; to George R. Brown for furnishing ice to keep us cool throughout the day; to the City of Post for allowing us to block off the street; to Winns for streamers; to KPOS and The Post Dispatch for publicity; to Prairie Flowers for the balloons that brightened the afternoon; to Phil and Rhonda Alford and Gary Bilbo for running errands and to Benny Owen for his help in setting up the barricades and to the many, many merchants who donated prizes.

Thanks to the many people who contacted the riders and made their hard work pay off.

But a special thanks goes to the 13 boys and girls who gave up their Saturday to ride in the hot sun and wind to raise money for those kids who need so much help. "You're special kids, each and everyone of you."

Thanks
Tonya Rudd

It may be the first time in Texas history that the Attorney General of the state has been indicted but it is also the first time in the state's history, maybe in the country that a politician has stood up and called "a spade a spade".

It's no wonder that Mobil and their big-shot lawyers are trying to discredit him and push him out of office... he's working for us.

Thomas, Rogers vows read here Saturday

Wedding vows were exchanged between Rhonda Rogers and Kelvin Thomas, Saturday, September 24 at 2 p. m. in the First Baptist Church of Post.

Rev. Joe Stansell of Milam, Tex., performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Rosemary Rogers and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Thomas.

Presented in marriage by her cousin, Jimmy Ticer, the bride paused to present her mother with a rose.

Her wedding gown was a formal length gown of white organza and chantilly lace. The Queen Anne neckline was edged in lace and adorned with seed pearls making sets of twos and threes in a pattern. The bodice was also made of white organza and overlaid with chantilly lace and seed pearls.

The Bishop sleeves were edged just below the shoulder and at the wrist with lace. The lace at the wrist hooked in back to form a scallop around the hands of the bride. At each side of the empire waist a thin row of chantilly ran the length of the dress which accented the icicle pleated center paneled skirt. The back of the gown was also of white organza and lace which hooked at the neck and made an open scalloped circle. The bodice was made of applied lace and extended from the empire waist to a circular lace inlay. The edged lace from the waist front came completely around the gown to form the cathedral length train.

Her large brimmed hat was also edged in chantilly lace and featured a crown of applied lace and seed pearls. The lace of the crown came to the back of the hat to form a large bow with panels of veiling and lace streamers down the back. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of real flowers featuring white carnations, orange rose buds, baby's breath, miniature blue carnations and ivy tied with white streamers.

Carrying out the tradition of something new, her gown; something old, a 1876

English six pence given to her by her grandfather and Ellen Crispin; something blue, two garters, one made by her grandmother with the brides' baby ring and necklace attached; something borrowed, her grandmothers pearls. She also wore a 1962 penny in her shoe depicting her birth date.

Serving as candle lighters were Velma Murillo of Canyon, friend of the bride and Jayta Ticer, cousin of the bride of Post. They wore street length dresses of Copen blue promise satin and a lace bodice overlay extending to the large blousen lace sleeves. The waist was adorned with a small copen blue velvet ribbon. They wore wreaths of assorted star flowers and leaves on their heads. They also wore identical bone colored low heeled shoes.

Serving as maid of honor was Raenell Rogers, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Melodie Yarbrow and Tracy Bartley of Wilson, cousin of the bride. They also wore street length dresses of rust promise satin with lace bodice overlays and lace sleeves. They wore flowered wreaths of rust and orange on their heads and carried wicker baskets with long stemmed orange carnations and baby's breath. They also wore low heeled bone colored shoes.

Serving as flower girl was Maggie Flanigan who was dressed identical to the bridesmaids and also carried a smaller wicker basket.

Doug Flanigan served as ring bearer and wore a tuxedo, gray jacket and black pants.

The groom wore a silver tuxedo with a white shirt and a silver ascot tie.

Serving his son as best man was B. L. Thomas and Kirk Thomas, brother of the groom and Bo Jackson served as groomsmen. They wore tuxedos with grey jackets and a silver ascot tie with white shirts and black pants. They all wore boutonnières of orange carnations.

Acting as ushers were Jim Rainbolt of Post, Sean Basinger of Southland and Jayson

Mrs. Kelvin Thomas

Bartley of Wilson, cousin of the bride. They were dressed identical to the groomsmen.

Wedding guests were registered by Sarah Williams of Post who was dressed the same as the candlelighters.

The Sisters in Song sang "Here we are", and "Surely the Presence" and the bride and groom sang to each other "For Baby, For Bobby" with the groom accompanying on the guitar. Nancy Flanigan provided the wedding music.

Upon leaving, the bride presented her new mother-in-law with a rose.

A reception followed in the Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was covered with an ivory hand made cloth from Belgium brought back by her sister. A wicker basket with a variety of the brides chosen colors served as the centerpiece. The bride's cake was white with four tiers high with each layer hexagon shaped with orange and blue flowers running in and out. It was topped with two doves in a tree.

Servers at the brides' table were Laurey Sharp of Lubbock and Denece Bilbo. They wore identical street length dresses of orange heather and white corsages.

The grooms' table was covered with a white linen cloth. The centerpiece was also a smaller wicker basket of real flowers. The grooms cake was identical to the brides in color with one tier being chocolate. The grooms table servers were Mrs. Linda Lewis of Post and Tanya Basinger of Southland. They were also dressed identical in a street length blue heather.

The rice roses of orange and blue were held in a white wicker basket by Charity Williams of Post.

Members of the houseparty included Mmes. Virginia Babb, Margaret Crispin, aunt of the bride, Nita Terry, Johnnie Willson, Mary Nelson and Eva Troxtell.

The couple will be going to their new home outside Gunnison, Colorado. The bride is a 1981 graduate of Post High School and attended West Texas State University. The bridegroom is a 1975 graduate of Post and attended Texas Tech University.

A wedding rehearsal dinner was given in honor of Rhonda Rogers and Kelvin Thomas Friday, Sept. 23 at the First Baptist Church. The dinner followed the wedding rehearsal with members of the wedding party in attendance. Jackson's Cafeteria provided the steak dinner.

1984 wheat program told

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced the provisions of the 1984 wheat program and set the signup period from January 16 through February 24, 1984, according to Victor Ashley, Director of the local Office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The 1984 wheat program includes a $4.45 per bushel target price, a $3.30 per bushel national average loan rate, an acreage reduction requirement of 30 percent, and no advance deficiency payments. To be eligible for program benefits, producers must limit 1984 wheat planted acreage to no more than 70 percent of the farm's wheat base and devote to conservation use an acreage of eligible cropland equal to 42.86 percent of the 1984 planted and payment-in-kind (OIK) acreage. The 1984 acreage base will be the average of the acreage planted and considered planted to wheat in 1982 and 1983.

Farmers participating in the acreage reduction program may divert an additional 10 to 20 percent of their wheat base and receive payment-in-kind equal to 75 percent of the established yield times the acres diverted.

PIK program participants will not receive wheat from commodity credit corporation stocks... Producers signing up in the PIK program will agree first to use their outstanding reserve or regular CCC price support loans. Producers with no outstanding loans agree to harvest for PIK. Those producers with no outstanding loans and who are unable to harvest for PIK will not receive a PIK payment.

Land designated for conservation use must have been devoted to row crops or small grains in two of the last three years except for a summer fallow farm. Under summer fallow rules the land must be acreage that would have been planted to small grains or row crops in 1984 in the absence of the 1984 wheat program.

Haying will not be permitted on the conservation use acreage. However, the acreage may be grazed except during the six principal growing months. Offsetting and cross compliance will not apply to the 1984 program.

There will be no immediate entry into the farmer owned reserve for the 1984 crop of wheat. Further, USDA intends to review the size of the reserve before regular price support loans for the 1984 crop reach maturity. A ceiling may be placed on the size of the wheat reserve at that time which will effectively preclude entry of the 1984 crop into the reserve.

Contracts signed by program participants for either the acreage reduction or PIK program will be considered as binding and will provide for liquidated damages for failure to comply with program requirements.

For further information contact the Garza County ASCS Office at 208 West Main.

PROGRAM FOR DISABLED FARMERS

A special conference aimed at helping disabled farmers will be held at Texas A&M University Oct. 4-5, announces a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The conference is designed to familiarize disabled farmers and ranchers with new technology to live more independent lives. Discussions will center on equipment and building designs and modifications, accessories in operating equipment and completing other farm-related tasks, sources of financial aid, farm family accident prevention and stress management.

Scout-O-Rama

Tickets on sale

Ticket sales will kickoff Oct. 3 for the South Plains Council Scout-O-Rama to be held Nov. 19 in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center. The Scout show is a booth event where area Scouts annually display Scouting skills and projects plus participatory programs for the whole family. Tickets will be available from area Scouts for $1 and included with each ticket is at least $10 in coupons.

David Seim, president of Southwest Lubbock National Bank has been named chairman of the 1983 Scout-O-Rama. In 1982 Seim served as the ticket sales chairman for the Scout Show which resulted in the largest ticket sales in the show's history. As chairman he is responsible for coordinating the efforts of the show's steering committee.

The Scout show will be manned by Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers representing most of the units in the council. Each booth is designed around a theme of the units choosing, and plans are developed by the youth members. The show's overall theme for 1983 is "Catch the Scouting Spirit."

The Scout show gives the youth members an opportunity to meet the public, both in ticket sales and at the show, working closely with other units and boys, building exhibits and decorating booths. This training most boys would never receive in normal unit operations.

The public viewing of the best Scouting creates a greater awareness of the Scouting program and hopefully will attract new boys, additional leaders and community support for all phases of scouting. The Scout-O-Rama is one of the largest youth shows staged on the South Plains.

Tahoka Bulldogs 'Lopes next outing

The Tahoka Bulldogs are on a one-game winning streak, following their 22-19 win over Plains last Friday night, and are expected to be in full gear this Friday to avenge the 79-0 drubbing they got last year from the Post Antelopes.

The 'Lopes, coming off a hard-fought loss to Littlefield, are at full speed and looking to go into district play against Childress next week with a strong win in Tahoka.

Antelope coach David Thompson praised the team for its effort against the number one rated Wildcats, "we never gave up, we never quit," he comments. "We had some young players who really did some growing up and we were pleased with the overall team performance," the coach adds. He singled out James Mock for praise and said the defense and the offensive line blocking were highlights of the Littlefield contest.

The Wildcats were only allowed 258 total yards offense, while the 'Lopes picked up 223, with Milton Williams rushing for 156 yards on 29 carries, one touchdown and two kickoff returns for 58 yards.

Quarterback Joel Kirkpatrick was credited with four of seven passes for 47 yards and one interception.

"We're looking forward to Friday's trip to Tahoka," Thompson continues.

The Antelopes will face an I formation offense, spearheaded by senior tailback Steve Pierce (20) and sophomore fullback Johnny Moren (33). The Bulldogs are primarily a running team, having only thrown 16 passes in four games. They use a 4-3 defensive alignment.

Thompson reminds fans that the Antelope junior varsity will host Abilene Cooper's sophomores Saturday with a 6:30 kick-off. Tahoka does not have a junior varsity team.

Tannehill passes for 129 yards

Tim Tannehill, quarterback for the Post Antelopes during the 1982 season is another former 'Lope who is enjoying a good season with the Kilgore Rangers and was instrumental in their win against Henderson County College in Kilgore's first home game and won 19-13.

Kilgore had 129 yards passing while shutting down the passing of Henderson.

In the second quarter of play, Tim passed for 20 yards to Kilgore's Mike Jackson to set up the score and the Rangers led at halftime following a field goal which set a new TJCF record.

In the second half of play, Tannehill hit Dorsey Lewis from 40 yards out for a 16 to 6 lead.

Tim, in his first start of the season, completed nine of 17 passes for 129 yards and one touchdown.

New process takes 'beany' flavor out of soybean protein

COLLEGE STATION—A process that takes the 'beany' flavor out of soybean protein products used in baked goods, ground meats and other foods has been patented by a Texas A&M University researcher.

"Flavor has been cited as one of the main factors limiting wider use of soybean protein products in foods," explained inventor Jim Lawhon, a veteran oilseed protein researcher with the Food Protein Research and Development Center of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station.

"We believe this process may be the long-awaited 'missing link' in development and marketing of vegetable protein products without objectional flavors," said Dr. Ed Lusas, director of the food protein center.

Tower accepting for service academies

Senator John Tower (R-Texas) today announced he is accepting applications from Texas students who wish to compete for his nomination to the nation's four service academies.

Potential candidates must be between the ages of 17 and 22, unmarried and a United States citizen. High school seniors should specify whether they wish to attend the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colorado; the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York; the Military Academy at West Point, New York, New York; or the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland.

"The four service academies offer cadets and midshipment outstanding educational opportunities," Tower said in making the announcement. "In return, these young men and women commit themselves to serving as leaders in guaranteeing our national security."

Interested seniors may obtain an application from Tower's Dallas office at 1100 Commerce, Dallas, Texas 75242. Academy applicants need to provide a completed

Supervisors urged to think twice when giving raises

COLLEGE STATION—Many supervisors ought to think twice before giving higher salaries to prize employees who threaten to quit their jobs for another offer.

"Employers will sometimes do anything to keep high performers, but there's a limit to what's fair," said Dr. Michael Abelson, a Texas A&M University management professor.

"If you give an employee a 25 percent raise to compete with an offer from another employer, chances are other employees who perform as well but don't have similar offers will resent the action. They might ask for raises themselves, or start looking for other jobs."

Comptroller Rep. Here

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has announced that Pam Thompson from his Lubbock Field Office will be at the Garza County Courthouse in the Tax Assessor's office on Tuesday, October 4 from 2 to 4 p. m.

A Comptroller's representative is available to assist local residents at the courthouse the first Tuesday of each month. Bullock urges anyone with problems or questions concerning state taxes to contact Mrs. Thompson at the courthouse in person or call the Lubbock Field Office at (806) 795-0691. A toll-free number (1-800-252-5555) is also available to Texas taxpayers.

Toby Craft saves Indians win

Toby Craft, former middle linebacker with the Post Antelopes is making quite a name for himself in Abilene and the McMurry Indians.

Toby was chosen outstanding linebacker following their recent game with Austin College of Sherman, when he recorded seven tackles, an interception and a sack. In their win over Sul Ross at Abilene Saturday 20 to 17, Sul Ross was creeping into field goal range with 23 seconds left on the clock when Toby burst up the middle of the line and sacked the quarterback for Sul Ross for a 15 yard loss and they were unable to get another play off.

The entire McMurry bench emptied when the gun sounded and mobbed Toby for his great play.

The McMurry coach said of Toby "it was just a super play", "everything was exceptional and if it hadn't been executed perfectly, it wouldn't have worked. Our guy was there."

Several of Post Antelope coaches, along with friends and relatives were in the stands Saturday to watch the Indians and Toby Craft play.

New method tells age by using teeth

COLLEGE STATION—A new method using teeth to accurately determine the age of victims from natural disasters, fires or murders where bones are the only clues to identification is being developed at Texas A&M University.

Scientists have long known that teeth are held in their socket by a bony substance called cementum, explains veterinary scientist Dr. George Stott.

After a tooth first comes in, two new layers of cementum are added each year until the tooth is pulled or the person dies, said Stott. The two layers are known as an annulation, and each annulation leaves a ring like those on a tree trunk.

At Texas A&M, Stott and veterinary student Jay Naylor are devising a technique for staining thin sections of teeth so that the annulation rings are distinct enough to count. From that count, pathologists can determine the individual's age.

Stott said his research, supported by a two-year $118,087 grant from the National Institute of Dental Research, may prove to be of major assistance in police and fire investigations where victims are unidentified.

If the method is perfected, he said, pathologists may be able to pinpoint the victim's age at death with just a half-dozen samples from any tooth.

Jots and Tittles in a changing world

Pastor Steve Traw
First Christian Church

There are those clichés or one liners that remain in one's mind once heard. I have often recalled and applied the trite phrase first observed atop the page of my elementary school book. It merely stated, the only thing constant, is change itself. At first it was difficult for a young mind to understand such abstract wit and wisdom. But I found it always returning in thought and application to my world of fluctuation and variation.

Now a different line has occupied much of my thoughts. It too has weathered the test of time. Perseus and changelessness are promised. Isaiah put it thusly, the grass withers, the flower fades, but the word of God stands forever. Matthew's gospel attests, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass, till all be fulfilled. It is great to know that the smallest letter and the smallest stroke of the very letter of God's word is backed by his promise of faithfulness and constancy.

This very year has been declared the year of the Bible. May it be so personally to each who approach it. The 600th anniversary of the first English language translation of the Bible by Wycliffe also begins its celebration this year. And this year is the 500th anniversary of Martin Luther's birth, the man who shared his God of grace and holiness with the emerging Reformation. The present day is such a fitting season to reflect on the unchanging nature of God and his revelation to us.

I must admit, though, I still find many applications everyday for that saying which is long-standing, the only thing constant is change.

4-H leaders honored

Although no monetary value can be placed on the impact 4-H volunteer leaders have on the youth they work with, the value of their time and out-of-pocket expenses is estimated at about $1 billion annually.

The recognition of volunteers and their contributions to the 4-H program are given special emphasis during National 4-H Week, Oct. 2-8.

Last year more than 619,400 volunteer adult, junior and teen leaders assisted 4-H youth across the nation. Texas alone has some 22,000 adult and teen leaders.

"Volunteer leaders are the real key to the success of the 4-H program — the backbone of many 4-H events and activities," says H. T. "Tom" Davison, state 4-H leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "They give unselfishly of their time and resources to help young people grow and develop."

The average 4-H volunteer donates 220 hours each year in preparing for and teaching youth. That means that for each hour an Extension Service staff member spends in 4-H, a volunteer spends 12 hours. The volunteer drives 300 to 400 miles for 4-H each year, in a personally owned car, and spends $50 to $60 on teaching materials.

"Many of the contributions of 4-H volunteers cannot be itemized and counted," notes Davison. "Volunteer leaders have a big impact on the lives of 4-H'ers, not only in their projects and activities, but as they pursue careers often chosen as a result of 4-H experiences."

What kind of people volunteer? A 1981 Gallup Poll showed that 52 percent of American adults and 53 percent of teenagers had done volunteer work that year. This volunteerism included everything from traditional hospital volunteer programs and volunteer fire departments to baking cookies for the Cub Scouts and helping neighbors with home repairs.

The survey showed that of the volunteers, 56 percent were female, 90 percent were white, 42 percent were between 18 and 24 years of age or 50 and older, 35 percent were high school graduates, and 48 percent had completed some education beyond high school. More than half the volunteers reported an annual household income of $20,000 or more.

Besides the medical services available at 172 Veterans Administration hospitals and 225 outpatient clinics, various levels of health care are provided at state veterans homes in 33 states.

The 45 facilities offer services ranging from hospitalization to nursing home care and domiciliary living arrangements for those able to do for themselves. Six facilities — in Yountville, Calif.; Quincy, Ill.; Marshalltown, Iowa; Chelsea and Holyoke, Mass.; and Sulphur, Okla. — offer all three levels of care. One at Rocky Hill, Conn., provides hospitalization and domiciliary care only. Twenty-three state homes provide both nursing-home and domiciliary care, while 15 others are domiciliary only.

The federal government partially reimburses the states for such veterans health care, which might otherwise burden the VA system. It will contribute some $48 million this year, based on the daily patient load and services provided at each facility.

Eligibility requirements vary by state. Some only admit veterans who are destitute, homeless or totally disabled. Others take care of honorably discharged vets who served at least 90 days of active duty and their dependents, spouses and widows as well. A few limit care to veterans who lived in the state before their military service.

Cotton Talks

A day-late start of spraying in the High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program September 21 zapped hungry weevils in some 50,000 acres of cotton along the rim of the Caprock just East of the High Plains, program officials report.

Spraying was scheduled to begin September 20 but high winds grounded aerial applicators until the following day, according to Ed Dean, Field Service Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. The control effort, now in its 20th year, is a PCG producer service program that has held weevils out of the concentrated cotton acreage West of the Caprock since 1963.

When completed, the first application of ultra low volume malathion will have covered an estimated 140,000 to 150,000 acres. These acres, plus others when and if additional weevil migration occurs, will be treated on a 12 to 14 day schedule until the weevil's food supply is terminated by frost or harvest, Dean says. If normal conditions prevail, he adds, the program ultimately will involve an aggregate of 500,000 to 600,000 acres. Just over 450,000 acres were sprayed in the 1982 program.

This year's spraying contract went to McAdoo Flying Service, which bid for the job at $5.20 per gallon, the lowest of bids received from eight applicators. Twelve ounces of insecticide is applied per acre, Dean notes, meaning the bid equates to an application cost of about 49 cents per acre.

Malathion was acquired for the program at just over $15 per gallon ($1.41 per 12 ounce application), bringing the cost for application and insecticide to $1.90, Dean states.

Total cost of the program, expected to reach about $1.5 million this year including survey, mapping and other costs, is borne jointly by High Plains cotton producers, the U. S. and Texas Departments of Agriculture. USDA is matching contributions of producers and TDA.

Earlier it was expected that the 1983 program would require spraying of over a million acres. But the summer drought and the acreage idled under this year's payment in kind program have reduced that figure. Drought conditions, Dean explains, have caused plants to shed young fruiting forms that weevils depend upon for food and reproduction sites, thereby cutting total weevil populations.

"However," he continues, "this same situation has caused greater than normal westward migration of existing weevils as they move to irrigated fields in search of more favorable habitat. So we are being forced to spray more acres above the Caprock than we've sprayed in several years."

Current indications, Dean says, are that at least some of the cotton acreage will be sprayed in 11 counties, including Borden, Briscoe, Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Garza, Kent, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley and Scurry Counties.

POST, TEXAS — RODEO GROUNDS & COMMUNITY CENTER

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Austin Sen. Lloyd Doggett's governor-for-a-day ceremonies couldn't have come at a better time for Lloyd Doggett, or a worse time for Bob Krueger. Doggett, who is in the midst of a tough campaign against Krueger for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate, was feted Saturday as governor-for-a-day.

That is the day when the governor and the lieutenant governor traditionally leave the state for 24 hours to allow the president pro tempore of the Texas Senate—in this case Doggett—to serve as acting governor.

The honoree gets to serve just long enough to sign a few proclamations and resolutions, but not long enough to take any real action.

However, the day does provide the honoree with a chance to pull out all the stops, invite in a lot of friends and political support-

The Republicans also have a carload of candidates who already have announced for that Senate seat, the one being vacated by Republican Sen. John Tower.

And the latest of those candidates is College Station Congressman Phil Gramm.

Gramm threw his hat into the ring last week, joining Houston Republican Rob Mosbacher, Houston Congressman Ron Paul and a host of other potential candidates who are sizing up the race.

Gramm is the "Boll Weevil" Democrat who bolted the party earlier this year after being unceremoniously kicked off the House Budget Committee.

For the GOP, Gramm could prove to be a very good candidate.

During a time when statewide Democratic candidates have been running roughshod over Republicans, Gramm provides name identification and a strong following in at least part of the state. Gramm's switch to the Republican Party did little to hurt his political strength in the Central Texas district in which he resides—a district that will be very important in the 1984 Senate contest.

However, the Democrats also are more than a little pleased to have Gramm in the race.

Democratic leaders are confident that Gramm cannot win a statewide race in Texas, that he has not yet built a strong enough following in the GOP to pull votes away from more established Republican candidates and, most importantly, his entry into the Senate race gives Democrats an outstanding chance to recapture the congressional seat they lost when Gramm rebelled last year.

The GOP primary contest could be one of the most interesting Republican battles in years, particularly if former Senate candidates Jim Collins of Dallas and Walter "Mad Dog" Mengden of Houston make the race.

Phone Rates

While Mattox was vowing to fight on against big oil, another giant, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., was bringing out its big guns in an effort to convince the Public Utility Commission that it really does need the $1.7 billion rate hike it has requested.

Southwestern Bell trotted out former Carter administration economic advisor Alfred Kahn to tell a PUC hearing examiner that consumers must pay the price for "luxury" telephone service.

Kahn, the 65-year-old economist who served as "inflation czar" for President Jimmy Carter from 1978 to 1980, said the current local telephone rates are far below the cost of providing service.

"If you want a Cadillac, I'm happy to let you have a Cadillac as long as you pay for it," he said.

That testimony drew sharp criticism from the PUC's new public counsel Jim Boyle.

Boyle called Kahn the telephone company's "hired gun."

The $1.7 billion rate hike request is the largest ever presented to the PUC and has brought howls from consumer advocates who feel the phone company is trying to take advantage of the court-ordered break-up of American Telephone & Telegraph, Southwestern Bell's parent company, to gouge consumers.

The request, if granted in full, would result in a tripling of local basic telephone service charges, a situation which many feel would price the poor and elderly out of phone service altogether.

PUC members have vowed they would do whatever possible to make sure that did not happen and to preserve the concept of "universal" telephone service.

Carriker clears up misunderstanding

State Representative Steve Carriker announced that the "correct it about 15 minutes after we learned about it" he said after Wednesday's actions. Lanier agreed to the exemption after Wednesday's actions. Lanier said that "we felt the intent of the legislature was to regulate agricultural implements to move short distances."

Carriker, upon learning about the actions of the commission, met with the Highway Department attorneys with the Highway Department a frustrating experience but it has been worked out, the exemption is back in place, and I appreciate the Governor, Commissioner Hightower and the Commission in for their assistance.

Water institute seeks well-managed brush program

COLLEGE STATION—The Texas Water Resources Institute has posted "wanted" signs for rustlers that annually steal millions of acre feet of water each year from along river banks, springs and reservoirs.

Heading the most-wanted list are saltcedar and mesquite, but also included are willow, cottonwood, hackberry and elm trees that, along with other plants with little or no economic value, consume 37 percent of all the rain which falls on the Lone Star State each year.

Carriker contacted Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower, Governor Mark White and Highway Commission Chairman Robert Lanier. "They all pledged their assistance in solving this ridiculous problem," said Carriker.

Ultra-cold restores animals' eyesight

Ultra-cold freezing of glaucoma-damaged eyes in dogs, cats, horses and other animals can now cure the disease, says federal animal-disease expert John R. Gorham in Pullman, Wash.

Japan leads in insurance

If you compare the ratio of life insurance in force to national income, the latest figures show Japan leading the world with 300 percent. Canada is second with 169 percent and the United States third with 156 percent.

What a degree's worth

The average 25-year-old American male with a bachelor's degree will earn about $1.3 million during his working career, nearly $400,000 more than a male high school graduate. A woman with a bachelor's degree will earn $772,000, about $205,000 more than her high school counterpart. The figures are from the American Council of Life Insurance.
