HUNGER MARCH AT CHICAGO IS ALARMING CITY

100,000 May Join in Jobless Trek, Estimate

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (UP).—Leaders in Chicago's unemployed today marshaled forces for the greatest hunger march in the history of the city. It was predicted that 100,000 would join in the march on the city hall.

A mob of 2,500 unemployed began a hunger march at 11 o'clock this morning, carrying communist banners and signs.

LONDON HORDE IS THREATENING

LONDON, Oct. 31. (UP).—Thousands in the hunger army which invaded London presented an ultimatum to government and municipal authorities today, threatening serious trouble unless they are allowed to present their relief petition to the house of commons. Leaders said that if the deputation chosen to go before the commons is balked, "we can't say what will happen."

Dobie Tracking Down Legends

VILLA ACUNA, Mex. (UP).—J. Frank Dobie, author of Coronado's Children, has begun a muleback trip through northern Mexico in search of tales for a book on Mexican folklore. Traveling with only a native guide for company, he is allowed to present their relief petition to the house of commons. Leaders said that if the deputation chosen to go before the commons is balked, "we can't say what will happen."

Dobie is on leave of absence from the University of Texas, where he is a member of the English faculty. He holds a Guggenheim research fellowship to further the folklore studies for which he is well known. He will sail for Mexico on the steamer "on the ground" from the people he meets, and particularly seeks tales about a cave he has heard of that hides 400 skeletons.

"I shall try to discern fact from fiction in the tales I hear," he said. "If they are interesting it doesn't matter whether they are true or not."

Besides his Coronado's Children—a collection of tales concerning buried treasure—Dobie is the author of a Vaquero of the Brush Country, and numerous articles on Southwest Texas and its legends.

Attack Fatal to Harold MacGrath

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Harold MacGrath, novelist, collapsed at his desk while working on his latest novel early Sunday and died in his wife's arms. He was 61.

The veteran writer of romances and mystery stories had half completed what would have been the latest addition to a long series of novels, among them "The Man on the Box," and "Arms and the Woman." Shortly after midnight his wife heard him call out from the study overlooking a garden, in which they had worked together. She found MacGrath collapsed on his desk. He died a few minutes later.

MacGrath began writing at 19, when he became a newspaper reporter on the Syracuse Herald. While on the Herald he wrote "Arms and the Woman," his first novel, in 1899.

George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, had called MacGrath a "slowly but surely writing man in the United States." Weighing slightly more than 100 pounds, MacGrath was known affectionately to his friends as "Skinny." His death was caused by heart disease.

He was a traveler and fisherman, and owned a villa on Lake Como, Italy, where he spent his summers. He enjoyed fishing the St. Lawrence river with Irvin S. Cobb and on these trips wore his "lucky vest," a red and brown striped garment without which, tradition said, fish refused to bite for him.

Bachelor Has Game Reserve

MT. PLEASANT, Mich. (UP).—A 64-year-old bachelor, who loves nature and wild animals, is slowly but surely building up Michigan's first one-man private game reserve.

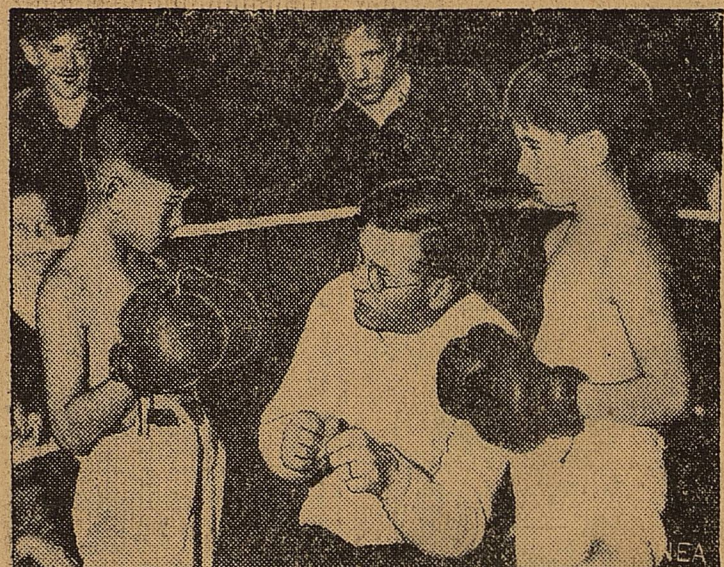

Jack "Spike Horn" Myers already has two elk, two bears, a buffalo and a fish hatchery on his 1,000-acre tract. And he says, there is room for a good many more animals. The big cabin on his property, the enclosures for the animals and the hatchery Myers built himself. He built a stockade of heavy timber for the bison pen after Grand Rapids had presented him with the animal. The elk roam about a fenced wood lot several acres in size.

Myers, who wears a heavy beard, and a trapper's cap, is a native of the old west. He once invented a threshing machine, and later manufactured a tractor adapted to logging purposes. A sugar beet lifter developed by him is still used on many Michigan farms.

TELESCOPIC MAST

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (UP).—The first telescopic mooring mast for lighter-than-air service in this country has been set up here as part of the Navy's base equipment for handling the dirigible Akron. It weighs 500,000 pounds and travels on railroad tracks set 64 feet apart. Its maximum height is 160 feet.

Pastor Wins Bout for Boys

Rev. Paul Arnold Peterson, pastor of a Presbyterian church in San Francisco, scored a knockout victory over a local boxer in a boxing bout as Sunday school prizes and showed fight movies in the church. The Presbytery upheld him. Here he is shown coaching Joe Maxine and Donald Shotwell, members of his gymnasium class.

EDWIN CALHOUN MADE PASTOR OF CORPUS CHRISTI

The Rev. Edwin C. Calhoun, for two years pastor of the First Methodist church of Midland, was assigned to the South Bluff church of Corpus Christi Sunday night, when appointments for the year were read, according to unofficial information received here today.

The Reverend Minter, pastor of the Corpus Christi church for seven years, was appointed to serve the Midland church, the two ministers' interchanging charges, the information further said. The membership of the Corpus Christi church is 750.

Mr. Calhoun was nominated to succeed himself on the Texas women's college board, and the Rev. S. L. Bachelor of San Angelo, presiding elder of this district, was elected trustee of the West Texas conference.

Enclosed in the conference minutes is a fund for supernumeraries. The Rev. Stanley Haver, former pastor of the Midland church and pastor of the church at Robstown, was named to succeed the Rev. Gaston Hartsfield of Waco as a trustee of Southwestern university.

ASSERTED INSULT TO WIFE RESULTS IN DEATH TO ONE

EL PASO.—An asserted insult to Mrs. Fannie Wood, wife of Staff Sgt. Henry Wood, 36, division headquarters troop, Ft. Bliss Saturday brought death to Pvt. Kenneth W. Smith, 25, headquarters troop, Seventh cavalry.

Smith was shot in his bed at his barracks at 5:50 a. m. while sleeping. Witnesses said the killer walked away calmly after shooting Smith in the head.

Sgt. Wood surrendered to Ft. Bliss officers shortly after the shooting. Ft. Bliss authorities said that Sgt. Wood complained Sunday that Smith had made improper advances to Mrs. Woods, following a dance at the Army Y. M. C. A., the night before.

They said that Wood told them he gave Mrs. Wood permission to accompany Miss Tommie Long and Smith to the dance. On the return trip from the dance, accompanied by several other persons, Smith took all the others home before driving Mrs. Wood to her home.

Wood quoted his wife as telling him that Smith made improper proposals to her.

Smith was arrested and held in the stockade, but since the witnesses were unable to substantiate Wood's complaint, and Smith was released yesterday.

Mrs. Wood went to Eastland, Tex., Monday. The Woods lived on the reservation at Ft. Bliss.

Smith is survived by a mother, Mrs. C. Baillie, and two brothers, Earl and Carl Smith, all of Beaumont, Tex.

Blind People to Carry White Canes

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP).—The traditional tin cup and dark glasses are not enough to symbolize blindness, Lincoln believes. As an additional identification, blind persons will carry white canes.

Mayor Zehrung has announced all traffic officers have been instructed to give special attention to anyone carrying a white cane in crossing traffic-congested streets.

It is believed that motorists will be more easily able to see the white canes than any other symbol of blindness.

CANNON CASE AGAIN

PLAY IN CLUB MATCH STARTS IN AFTERNOON

Twenty-four had qualified through Sunday afternoon for the country club match play handicap tournament to be held over the next two weeks.

A complete list of those who have qualified, together with their handicaps, will be furnished for publication Tuesday, according to Delo Douglas, general chairman of the tournament committee. Country club members who have not qualified will be given arbitrary handicaps and invited to play, Douglas said.

The permanent Ellis Cowden trophy will be awarded the winner of the tournament, which winner will play 36 holes in finals. A runner-up trophy will also be presented. In order to come into permanent possession of the Cowden trophy, one must win it three years in succession.

A meeting was called at the club house this evening at 7:30, at which time a Calcutta pool will be discussed. All members are asked to come.

SAME ALLOWABLE IN EFFECT UNTIL NOV. 3RD HEARING

AUSTIN, Oct. 31. (UP).—The state railroad commission passed over the usual 15-day oil allowable adjustment for the East Texas field, permitting the present 40-barrel limit to remain in effect until the hearing on November 3.

There came no indication from the governor's office that plans for a special oil session were any nearer.

Stockton to Stage Big Fall Round-up

FORT STOCKTON.—The fall round-up and race meet to be held at the fair grounds in Fort Stockton, November 5 and 6, promise to be a most interesting event for all who attend. Manager Dick Davis says that much interest is being manifested and that he is expecting a good attendance.

There will be three-eighths races for two year olds and no two year olds; two and three year olds; and three-eighths races for all ages in which none are barred.

Entrance fees in the two year olds races, $5; saddle horse races, $7.50 and $10 in the races for all ages. Eighty per cent of the gate receipts will be equally divided and the remaining twenty per cent from gate fees will be used on the fair grounds. In the rodeo exhibition, entrance fees only will be used.

The racing program will be Saturday morning, November 5. All rodeo events, such as calf and goat roping, country boy roping and bronc riding will be in the afternoon.

Everybody interested in good horse racing and rodeo sports will be welcome.

Woman Waitress Really a Man

TOKYO. (UP).—Yoshi Sugiyama, 19 and pretty, was the reigning favorite of all waitresses at the Shorin Cafe, until police spoiled "her" illusions.

For Yoshi, brought up from infancy as a girl, is no girl at all, but a young man, police said.

It all came to light when "Miss" Sugiyama came here from Atago-shita, Shiba, and went bathing in the Hashimoto public bath at 11 p. m. Women patrons objected and when police sought to remove him Yoshi learned of the hoax committed against him.

He told police he had been trained as a street singer in Osaka and that his parents had educated him as a girl. He showed police dozens of love letters and photographs given him by men patrons of the cafe.

Water Dog Loses Swimming Place In Big Reservoir

Aside from the customary mud, slush and mineral that is washed from the bottom of the city's tower-reservoir during its periodical cleanings, a wriggling water dog was the only "find" of any note this morning. The 100,000 gallon reservoir was being cleaned prior to having it repainted inside.

The water, being pumped from the Cloverdale wells, comes through a fountain arrangement, allowing all sediment to fall to the bottom while the clean water comes from a higher level and flows through the city mains. The water dog, evidently making the lower levels his habitat, was washed so the ground through a fire hose when the bottom of the tank was drained.

Customary pressure in the water mains is maintained during the cleaning and painting process by having the Cloverdale pumps constantly in operation.

COLLISION OF FIRE TRUCKS KILLS COUPLE

FT. WORTH, Oct. 31.—Two firemen were killed and six were injured when two pump trucks collided at Commerce and Twelfth streets shortly before 4 o'clock Sunday.

The dead are Fireman J. F. Powell, 43, and C. E. Wilson, 39, of No. 1 Station, who were swept from their rear step perch by the Central Station truck.

Of those injured, only one remained in a hospital last night. He is Fireman J. S. Adams, 39, who was aboard the Central Station pumper.

Adams, standing with a fractured left ankle, is in St. Joseph's hospital. Lieut. W. W. Phillips, 39, and Fireman E. D. Lavender, 36, both of No. 1 Station, received treatment for cuts and bruises at that hospital and were released. Lieut. H. H. Cotton, 36, and Fireman F. J. Brown, 35, of Central Station were treated at Methodist hospital. Cotton has a fractured back and bruises, while Brown was cut and scratched on the face, elbow and knee. Driver Fred Hicks, 32, of the Central Station hook truck given first aid for scratches and bruises.

FIRE ALREADY OUT

FT. WORTH, Oct. 31.—Flames bursting from a gas stove stove at the Longhorn service station, Seventeenth and Jones streets, early Sunday morning, caused D. Lawson, attendant, to take a fire extinguisher for aid in fighting the fire.

The passerby, a Mexican, ran to No. 3 Fire Station, a block away, shouting that the filling station was on fire.

A fireman on duty, realizing such fires often are troublesome, called Central Station operator, who lapped in Box 215, summoning four companies to the scene.

But by the time No. 1 and No. 2 Station pumps crashed at Twelfth and Commerce streets, killing two men, Lawson had subdued the flames from the stove.

Driver G. H. Sanford, 27, of No. 1 truck, and Fireman L. D. Sewell, 37, of Central Station, were unhurt.

Powell's left leg was severed below the knee and was hurtled through the upper part of a glass door leading upstairs to the Salvation Army hotel. Powell was flung to the sidewalk on the east side of Commerce, about 25 feet from the point of impact. He was dead of a fractured skull when a Shannon ambulance reached St. Joseph's.

Wilson, catapulted along the street lay crumpled beneath the front part of the Central truck when it halted after breaking off a telephone pole at the southeast corner. He was pronounced dead when a Gause-Ware ambulance reached Methodist hospital. Wilson's left leg was broken in several places, his right arm was fractured and he had a gash on the back of his head.

The rear platform of No. 1 pumper, which Powell and Wilson were riding, was a broken and twisted mass. It was the right side of this platform which bore the brunt of the impact.

Sanford was driving No. 1 truck south on Commerce street.

"The other truck was on me so quick I couldn't turn," he said. "The collision turned my machine completely around and it skidded backward south on Commerce until I finally stopped it with my emergency brake."

The skidding No. 1 truck struck a light standard, leveled an iron parking sign post, and shattered a telephone pole into three pieces before coming to a halt. As it struck the latter obstacle, coiled hoses shot out the rear along the street.

Helmecke, said he had intended driving east on Twelfth to Jones. He saw truck No. 1 just as he entered the intersection.

"I swerved my truck to avoid the crash and applied the brakes," Helmecke said. "My truck almost turned over as we skidded into the other machine. A second more and we would have cleared it."

Helmecke was hurled over the hood of his machine and escaped a fractured skull by cushioning his head with his hands as he struck the curbing.

Fate of Republic Hangs in Balance

Germany veers back toward the "Iron Cross" days. With elections to the Reichstag bearing, republican Germany seems likely to fall back into the hands of the Junker reactionaries, perhaps even the Hohenzollerns.

MEXICANS HURT ON HIGHWAY; ONE MAY NOT SURVIVE

One of two Mexicans badly injured when struck by an automobile inside the eastern city limits of Midland about 11 o'clock Saturday night remained in a serious condition at a Midland hospital this afternoon.

The man, Rosendo Moreno, suffered chest and facial injuries when struck by the automobile of a Stanton man who is connected with the state highway department. The other Mexican, Jesus Reyes, sustained a broken leg.

With the injured men and also with the driver of the car, said the Mexicans were responsible for the accident, so far as he could determine, pointing out that the driver of the car swung over as far to the side of the road as possible, but that the Mexicans, who were walking, leaped in front of his vehicle.

Reyes will recover, hospital attaches believe. It is impossible to give that assurance in the case of Moreno, it was said.

Arnold Is Denied New Slaying Trial

BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 31.—Doye Arnold, who on Oct. 15 was given a death sentence for the murder of his first wife, Saturday was denied a new trial by District Judge C. O. Hamlin.

Defense attorneys, in their motion for new trial, charged misconduct on the part of the jury, but Judge Hamlin ruled the charges were not substantiated. Each of the 12 jurors was called as a witness at the hearing.

Arnold's former wife was stabbed and beaten with a rock on a downtown street here several months ago, the day after she had obtained a divorce decree.

Courtney School Is Opened Today

Courtney school in Martin county was opened Monday morning with a program given by Stanton and Midland speakers. The address of the morning exercise was made by Paul T. Vickers, secretary of the Midland chamber of commerce, his lecture before schools of this area this fall.

The opening speech was made by Judge J. S. Lamar, ex-officio county superintendent of Martin county schools. Judge Lamar particularly emphasized economy and complimented the patrons and board of trustees at Courtney. The Rev. W. G. Garnett, Baptist pastor at Stanton and formerly of Midland, made a talk pointing out to the boys and girls how youths may succeed.

Superintendent White made a talk urging parents to put their children in school now. The superintendent introduced faculty members.

The Midland speaker was taken to Courtney by W. G. Riddle, district manager of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company. The Midlanders said Courtney is one of the most progressive farming communities and has one of the best school buildings they had seen in any rural district between Big Spring and El Paso.

REAGAN BANK IS ROBBED OF $227,800; GAS TORCH USED

REAGAN, Tex., Oct. 31. (UP).—The First National bank of Reagan was robbed today of $227,800. The robbery was discovered by Horne Kirkpatrick, assistant cashier, when he opened the bank today.

Bandits gained admittance over the week end through a window and cut their way into the vault with an acetylene torch. A barrel, half filled with water, and a handkerchief were the only objects left by the bandits.

50th Anniversary Will Be Observed

AUSTIN.—Texans next year will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the University of Texas, held early in September of 1883, with some 220 students and 12 faculty members.

Plans are already under way for the campus celebration at the Fourth Annual Texas Round-Up, probably on the second week-end in April, when the student, faculty and ex-student bodies will join in their own jubilee.

When the University's first classes assembled, the west wing of the Main building, first structure on the campus, had not been completed. Hasty arrangements to hold classes in the temporary capitol building at Eleventh and Congress were made, although the makeshift quarters, penetrated through the thin partitions and notes were passed through knot holes from one class room to another.

The original campus situation, incidentally, had been held in the incomplete west wing, the audience sitting in chairs placed on rough improvised flooring and listening to a lecture and scholarly dissertation on the future of Texas education. During the Christmas holidays, 1883, all equipment was moved into the west wing on the present campus.

Visitors on the campus next spring or at any date in 1933, will find an amazing growth in physical equipment during the 50 years since those days in the temporary capitol. Nine new buildings, under way since last February, will be almost completed by next spring. Students, offices, class rooms, laboratories, and even extra-curricular activities will be occupying some 24 buildings, a stadium, a baseball field, and other playing fields. The original campus of 40 acres will have grown to more than 150 acres. The fiftieth anniversary celebration will have reason for pride in growth and effectiveness of the university.

TECH HOMECOMING

LUBBOCK.—November 11, Armistice day, has been set as home coming day this year for graduates and ex-students of Texas Technological college. On this date Texas Tech plays its second Southwest conference team of the year with the Bears of Baylor university. W. E. Street, chairman of the Tech alumni association, announces that there will be a luncheon and program at noon for the visitors and that a dance will be given in the gymnasium that night. The game is to be in the afternoon.

Reichstag May Be Dissolved

This is likely. There seems no chance that Von Papen will command a working majority in the new Reichstag. The experience of the last one shows he will not tolerate votes of "no confidence." So the new Reichstag must either be silent and "rubber-stamp" Von Papen's decrees or face dissolution.

The campaign thus far, has been much less hectic than the usual German elections. Voters are weary of frequent elections. They feel that the present one is unreal and fruitless. All parties are nearly bankrupt from recent campaigns, and Adolf Hitler, Nazi "spark plug" of recent campaigns, has talked himself out and is recuperating in a Bavarian mountain resort.

HOOVER FLAYS GARNER'S PLAN TO AID RELIEF

Roosevelt Swings to Maine to End Speaking

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 31. (UP).—President Hoover, en route to New York for a speech tonight, spoke to an audience at the station here, attacking John Garner for sponsoring a measure to issue $2,300,000,000 in greenback currency.

Hoover termed it one of the most glaring attempts to violate the stability of the nation's currency. Hoover will make eight speeches en route.

ROOSEVELT GOES INTO MAINE

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 31. (UP).—Franklin D. Roosevelt swung his campaign into Maine today, with several speeches en route and with a scheduled short address here later in the day. He will go to Boston for a speech tonight.

SPIKES REMOVED ON RAILS HOOVER RODE

ATHENS, Ohio, Oct. 31. (UP).—Authorities learned today that 67 spikes had been removed from the rails on a high curve on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad over which President Hoover's special train passed Saturday. The spikes had been pulled from a section of the inside curve, four miles west of here. Officials believed the angle iron held the track, preventing a wreck down the embankment. A man was questioned but released.

GARNER TO VOTE STRAIGHT TICKET

DALLAS, Oct. 31. (UP).—John Garner, in a letter made public today by Maury Hughes, described as "absurd" that anyone would question whether he would vote the straight democratic ticket.

"I am sure that neither Roosevelt nor Garner appreciate the effort on the part of Bullington to elect himself governor by swinging on to their coat tails," Hughes said. "Garner said he would vote straight."

DEMOCRATIC SLUSH FUND REPORTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (UP).—The Democratic campaign committee reported to the house clerk today that it had received $1,065,654 for campaign activities, from June 1 to October 22.

Catholic Priest To Lecture Here

The Reverend McGrath, Catholic priest missionary, will be in Midland to conduct an eight-day dramatic series of lectures between November 30 and December 7. The Reverend McGrath, according to those who heard him in Big Spring, is an interesting lecturer and will bring to his Midland audiences an instructive series of talks.

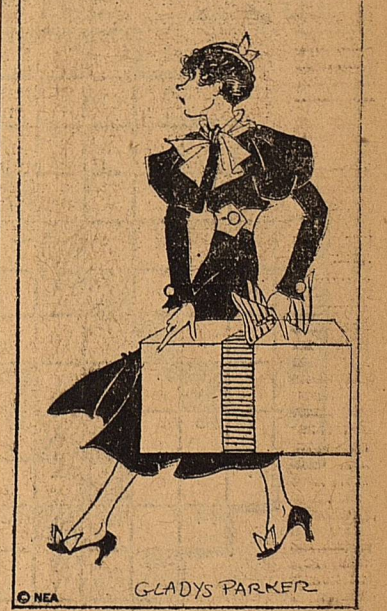

Children Narrowly Escape in Blast

HARTSHORNE, Okla., Oct. 31. (UP).—Children playing in the yard of a non-uniform home here narrowly escaped death when a dynamite bomb exploded last night, it was learned today. The explosion was the third instance of bomb violence in the coal strike affecting this area.

Three Killed as Plane Crashes

MOORESVILLE, N. C., Oct. 31. (UP).—Three persons were killed when a pilot evidently lost his way in a fog and crashed here today, making a forced landing. The dead were Edward H. Byars, 45, Earl Padgett, 42, and his daughter, Eileen, 19.

"PRESSURE"—OF RIGHT SORT

One heartening campaign pronouncement from big business is that posted in the bulletin boards of Thomas A. Edison Industries, Inc., by order of that corporation's president, Charles Edison. Declaring that the firm, as a firm, "has no political faith," the statement says that all employees owe it to themselves and to their country to vote in the coming election, but that they are to vote independently and according to their own conviction.

Their bosses will not even suggest to them how they should vote.

A statement of this kind is extremely refreshing. Such an attitude is an ideal one for a corporation to adopt. If it were more common, there would be less excuse for the charges of "coercion" which are so frequently hurled at leaders in the industrial world.

The Town Quack

homestead tax-free amendment November 3. If you don't have to pay taxes on your home the state will lose about 10 million dollars, I have been told, and don't think for a minute that the state can spare 10 million. It will have to come out of your other pocket, sure as the world.

The old saying that nothing is certain except death and taxes is true. If you try to get out of the tax paying, it is going to cost you in the long run. The citizen has to pay, and he might as well pay it through the same old channels.

How's this for a girl's get-back? I read it in a movie paper: I'm not a Garbo, I'll admit. Nor am I any Shearer. I don't resemble them a bit. When gazing in a mirror. A Crawford? Carroll? Golly, no! To sub for Harlow I'm not able. I'm not a Bennett nor a Bow— But, boy friend, you're no Garbo.

Maybe I haven't forecast the sort of games to be played by the Bulldogs exactly right, so far, but I do say they will give Pecos a good game this week. I haven't been taking my own advice on these trips out of town. I've urged the public to go and then stayed at home myself, but I haven't missed a single Lockett field. There are only two more home games, so you had better be on hand to see the one against Pecos. You remember the pups had to work pretty hard to beat Stanton 20 to 0, and Pecos tied Stanton, so look out for some stiff fighting by the boys from the alkali.

I am looking for a recipe to rid our office of flies. Something like this mosquito recipe would be acceptable: "If mosquitoes are bothering your guests, burn a piece of camphor gum and they will vanish at once." Referring, I suppose, to the mosquitoes and not the guests.

Swapping Yarns with Col. True

Col. True maintains a standing invitation to others to write to him and tell of their own extraordinary experiences. No holds barred. Address Col. True, in care of The Reporter-Telegram.

Dear Colonel: While driving home the other afternoon I could not help but admire some of the vast canyons, craters, swamps and what have you in some of the streets of this fair little city. In all my travels there is but one place that rivals North Carizzo street, and that is the Bad Lands of South Dakota. I have heard that a Scotchman lost a nickel in a gutter hole, hence the Carizzo Caverns, but believe me he must have lost a quarter on North Carizzo.

Well, I finally skidded, plunged, galloped, jerked, lurched, and staggered into the second block and I noticed a man's hat lying in the mud. As my hat is a last year's model, I thought I was in luck, so I procured a long pole and started to rake the hat toward dry land.

Lo, and behold! there was a man's head under the hat. I put the pole under his chin and pried his head up and asked him what he was doing down in the mud that way. He said he was bringing a load of cotton to town and his team and wagon mired down with him standing on the wagon seat.

I offered my help but he refused, saying the price of cotton was going to pull him out of the hole.

Shock absorbingly yours, L. D. WHITE.

Sir: Mud is sometimes caused by rain, and we have had a lot of rain recently. I don't see anything yet. I recollect a shower that fell one summer afternoon in the Panhandle. That was really a rain, and followed a dry spell of 16 years.

It rained so hard one man drowned while leaning up against a building. Everything got soaking wet, even members of the W. C. T. U., and when the sun came out later, everything began to shrink up like a 50-cent wool shirt. My clothes shrank to fit a six-year-old, but I shrank in proportion. Before the rain, Main street was six blocks long; after the shrinkage it was only a block and a half. Even the bank deposits shrank and folks who had money in there got out a few per cent of it.

I had just bought a new box of shotgun shells and left them on the back porch. After the rain I shot them in a .22. My car was parked out in the rain and after the sun had been out half an hour all I could find was a bicycle.

The worst damage of the day was when the telephone wires began to shrink. By nightfall every telephone in town had been pulled through the wall by the shrinking wires, and lay in the telephone office yard.

The mud in the streets was neck deep to a papa gruff. There was so much of it, in fact, that the mayor sold it by the carload to republicans and democrats for use in the presidential campaign of that year. Surely someone besides me has seen unusual spells of weather. Let's hear about them.

You 'cross' different kinds to make a BETTER KIND

Chesterfield

CROSS-BLENDED for Milder Better Taste

HERE are entirely different kinds of tobacco. Blend them and you get a different taste. Cross-Blend them and you get a better taste. While blending mixes the tobaccos together, Cross-Blending "welds" and "joins" their flavors into one. Imagine doing this with the world's finest cigarette tobaccos—many kinds of Bright tobacco, a great many types of Burley tobacco and numerous grades of Turkish tobacco! What you have when you've finished is Chesterfield tobacco—better than any one kind, better than a blend of all kinds—really a new kind of tobacco flavor that's milder, more fragrant and a whole lot more pleasing to the taste.

Doctors Give Creosote For Dangerous Coughs

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.

Creosolium with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops all coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of all colds and coughs no matter how long standing, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.

Your own druggist guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolium on hand for instant use. (adv.)

FOOTBALL SKETCHES

By R. C. HANKINS

After the San Angelo game Saturday, Bloddy Cross, Bobcat sports-writer, sent this department a 50-word telegram summing up the game nicely. At the end, after saying San Angelo beat the Bulldogs 61-0, he appended the following query: "More if you like." Sounded like a crack to us.

For the edification of the town fans, we'd like to issue a forecast. On Nov. 18 Midland will not lose. Our calendar marks the date as "Open."

This is the most disastrous season Midland has ever known. One hundred and forty-one points have been carted across the Bulldogs' last parallel and Midland has not scored yet. But clubs have to have that sort of season occasionally. Take the University of Missouri, for instance. The Tigers have lost all season, one game going 65-0 against them. And Carriedo, famous Rambler back, is head coach.

Notre Dame, Harvard, Stanford, Fordham, Chicago, North Carolina State and Dartmouth went down before underdogs Saturday. MAN AND GIRL HUNTED LIKE BEASTS IN SPECIAL YUCCA PREVIEW TONIGHT

Wanderers in the earth's forgotten places, Merian C. Cooper and Ernest B. Schoedsack have pooled their knowledge of jungle stratagems to bring to the screen RKO-Radio's production of "The Most Dangerous Game." to open at a special Halloween Carnival program tonight at 11:15 and to run Tuesday and Wednesday.

Cooper and Schoedsack, makers of the screen classics, "Grass," "Chang" and "Four Feathers," have injected into this, their first studio-made film, the same daring and primitive realism that has made their names synonymous with colorful adventure.

In an eerie setting—a jungle island of the Caribbean—the film-makers have woven into celluloid the startling theme that dominated the prize winning story by Richard Connell, "The Most Dangerous Game."

A beautiful girl, her clothes torn to shreds, is at the mercy of a mad nobleman whose lust is to kill his fellow-creature!

The barbarian, who for days has entertained the girl and her sweetheart in the courtliest fashion, drives the pair into the jungle to hunt them down like beasts!

About this situation, critics have agreed, revolves one of the strangest man-and-woman themes that has ever been screened.

Leslie Banks, of the New York stage, portrays Count Zaroff, whose weird trophy room holds the skulls of his countless victims. Robert Armstrong enacts one of the roles—a victim of Zaroff's deadly Tartar war bow. Joel McCrea and Fay Wray portray the romantic pair whom the aristocratic man hunts in the jungle fastness.

CLARK GABLE, JEAN HARLOW CLOSE RUN

"Red Dust," closing at the Yucca theatre today, presents the interesting combination of Clark Gable and Jean Harlow in a lurid story of Cochise, China. The picture is based on the Wilson Collier stage hit of the same title, in which is depicted the dramatic triangle which results when the aristocratic wife of a French engineer visits a tropical rubber plantation and falls in love with its overseer, thus endangering the hatred of a defiant, hard-boiled girl of the dance hall variety, who has prior claims on the man.

Gable, of course, has the role of the overseer, a part totally different from his recent successful portrayal of Norma Shearer in "Strange Interlude." Miss Harlow, fresh from her triumph in "Red Headed Woman," plays the hardened plantation girl, whose life is sacrificed at first, subsequently proves that sufficient sex appeal and strength to live the brutal life of the tropics give her an indisputable advantage over her rival, Mary Astor, who is seen as the engineer's wife and Gene Raymond as her husband who returns from a distant engineering job to find his wife and the overseer in a compromising situation.

AT THE LIBRARY

New books on the shelves are: "Christians Everywhere" compiled by Sechrist and "Etiquette" by Emily Post. The following will be found on the rent shelf: "Riders of the Night" by Cunningham; "A smashing, fast-moving story of the Texas range"; "The Sheltered Life" by Glasgow; "The tragic story of Eva Birdsong, a famous southern beauty whose whole life is sacrificed to her love for her charming, improvident, unfaithful, but devoted husband, and of little Jennie Blair, whose first experience with love comes through this same man. Miss Glasgow's never failing wit, her beautifully lucid style, and her deep understanding of human nature combine to make this one of her finest novels." (A. L. A. Booklist)

"Washington Swindle Sheet," by Helm: "In bookkeeper's slang the expense account is known as the swindle sheet. That meaning was in mind in choosing the title for this book. For this is the tale of the world's greatest swindle sheet—the expense account of the senate of the United States." "Younger Sister" by Norris. "Home from the Sea" by Rostron: "The author writes of his experiences as an apprentice in a shipper in San Francisco and as commodore of the Guard fleet on the Berengaria in Southampton. Storms, mutiny, starvation, icebergs, the saving of the Titanic passengers, as well as social events of the great liners, appear in this straightforward account of a sailor's experiences."

In the high school race the leaders stand about like this:

District 1—Amarillo, Lubbock and Pampa battling it out along a possible three-way tie with the first two looking stronger.

District 2—All Ranger and Breckenridge so far, with Abilene displaying latent power in mid-season.

District 3—San Angelo's Bobcats broke into strong consideration by beating Midland 61-0 while Sweetwater, the favorites to date, were idle. Donado also idle.

District 4—Ysleta was toppled a bit in the percentages through Austin high's 21-0 win.

District 5—All Quanah and Vernon.

District 6—Denton and Sherman.

District 7—Poly, Central and Masonic Home, all of Fort Worth.

District 8—Sunset of Dallas, so far.

District 9—Marshall and Greenville.

District 10—Athens.

LUCKIES PROGRAM

The following orchestras will be heard on Magic Carpet programs for the week:

Tuesday—"The Shasta Limited"—Federal Crime Case Dramatization—and—Hal Kemp and his Orchestra playing from Chicago.

Walter O'Keefe is pilot of the Magic Carpet programs which are broadcast at 10 p. m. (EST) over WEAF and a nationwide NBC network.

QUEERED HIMSELF

LYNN, Mass.—Leonard Hope was out on probation and was reporting to Probation Officer Colby. Hope appeared before the officer and got through his questioning in good shape. As he turned to leave, however, Hope staggered a bit. As he went down the stairs he fell. Colby ran to his aid and found him drunk again. He was locked up for violating his probation.
