Methodists Go to New Church Sun.

Old church bells will call Wellington Methodists to worship in a new sanctuary for the first time this Sunday, May 21 when First United Methodist Church puts its new building into use. Morning services will begin at 10:55 a.m. and evening services at 7 p.m.

Two bells from Trinity Methodist Church were hung in the new bell tower this week. Trinity Methodist and First Methodist Churches combined last summer and the combined church has been meeting in the Trinity Methodist building since the old First Methodist building was torn down to clear a site for the new sanctuary.

The new building is the third Methodist church house to occupy the site.

Building committee chairman A.J. Fires said the committee made final inspection of the building Tuesday with architect Robert Pardee and contractors Claude Mathis and T.J. Walters, and took possession.

Installation of the pipe organ will take another month to complete and landscaping has not been completed, but otherwise the building is finished, Fires said. Consecration services and open house have been scheduled for Sunday, July 9.

The building includes a new colored glass window at the east end of the sanctuary, and glass from the old stained glass windows was refashioned into three windows along the north side of the sanctuary. The central section of the "Good Shepherd" window from the old First United Methodist Church has been hung and backlit on the west wall of the sanctuary.

The Rev. Jim Boswell of Friona, former pastor during much of the time the building was being planned, will preach the first sermon in the new sanctuary this Sunday. And Bill Hankins, former pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, will assist in the service.

Pastor Tom Thomson said several former pastors or members of their families are expected to be in the congregation on Sunday.

In addition to the building, the church paved two parking lots east of the building and

FASTEST IN TEXAS

Robert Chambers received special recognition at the annual Wellington High School All-Sports Banquet for his state championship win on Saturday, May 13. Chambers won first place in the 400 meter dash at the state track meet in Austin.

Chambers Wins 400 Meter Event at State UIL Sat.

Robert Chambers, wearing the Winged W of Wellington High School, ran 400 meters in 48.1 seconds to win first place in that event at the state UIL track and field meet at Austin Saturday, May 13.

With this performance, he became the first man to become a state champion in track from Wellington, in so far as can be determined.

Because this is the first year the contest has been run in meters, Chambers also set a record in his event, although this does not necessarily mean he broke a record, Coach Phil Bailey explained.

There is approximately 7 feet difference in the 400 meter and 440 yard events.

Chambers ran in Lane 3, a good one for him, and for his style of running, he got a good start. He has always had problems in the first 220, but this time he turned in a good 220 and then he just outran everybody else on he track.

Chambers gave this performance at Memorial Stadium, Austin, in 94 degree weather with 90 per cent humidity.

"That will drain the strength out of you real fast," declared his coach.

"We're just extremely proud of him," said Coach Bailey.

Chambers was .3 seconds ahead of the No. 2 man at the end of the race, three to four strides.

"We felt when we saw him hit the corner and was coming down the straight away I felt he had it won," Bailey declares. "I've never seen anyone pass him on the straight away, and this is the fastest he has ever run."

"It's a tremendous thrill to have a state champion in any sport and it doesn't come around very often in a lifetime."

"Robert has a tremendous desire to win and that is the key to success, except for God-given ability to run."

Bailey explained the timing of the race.

Mechanical stop watches are used, he said, because there has not been a standard set for the electronic stop watches. Mechanical watches are slower than those.

Three people time the first place.

The fastest and slowest times are thrown out and the middle time used.

The electronic clock on Memorial Stadium scoreboard timed Chambers at 47.89, and Bailey timed him at 47.86.

Do you feel like a state champion? Chambers was asked after the race was over. "No sir, I just feel tired," the champion replied.

Red River Compact Signed May 12 On Top of Denison Dam

The Red River Compact which divides equitably the waters of that river between the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, was signed at noon Friday, May 12, on the top of Denison Dam north of Denison.

It was the fulfillment of more than 20 years of work toward allocating the waters fairly.

The late Deskins Wells, publisher and editor of The Wellington Leader, served as the Red River Compact Commissioner for Texas almost three years beginning May 26, 1972. He is credited with doing much to move forward negotiation of agreements with each of the participating states respecting the use, control and disposition of the waters of that river.

At that time, Mr. Wells anticipated the agreements would be accomplished and possibly submitted to the legislatures of the four states and to Congress for ratification by 1977.

Signing of the compact came one year later, and ratification by the legislatures and be Congress should be approved soon.

John Clift, who covered the compact signing for the Denison Herald, has given this description:

The signing took place on top of the Denison Dam at the Texas Oklahoma State Line. For the first time since the dam was completed in 1944, highway traffic across the top of the dam was halted for a special event, signing of the four-state compact.

Maj. Gen. Robert C. Marshall, Corps of Army Engineers, Vicksburg, Miss., and chairman of the Compact Commission, sat on the state line, and he was flanked by Arthur Theis, commissioner from Louisiana on his right and Orville B. Saunders, Oklahoma Commissioner on his left.

John P. Saxton, the Arkansas Commissioner, was seated on the south side on the Texas side and Fred Parkey, commissioner from Texas, was on the Oklahoma side on the outside.

The general said briefly: "We are nearing high noon and on this occasion we are performing a significant event in the history of the southwest and the entire nation."

He said the meeting today which was opened at Lake Texoma Lodge, then recessed to come to the dam, was the 50th of the commission since it met originally March 6, 1956 in New Orleans.

He said since that time, it has had 20 commission members, and he named them all, including Deskins Wells, who was succeeded by the late Judge Otho Dent, and then by the current member, Fred Parkey from Iowa Park.

At exactly 12 o'clock he said, "Gentlemen, let's start signing."

He had the 5 copies of the compact and they all signed, then passed back and forth until all 5 signatures were on all 5 copies. Possibly 150 people were on top of the dam to witness the signing from the City Council Votes to Buy Pigg Bldg.

Wellington City Council has taken steps to buy the brick building located at the end of Amarillo and 9th Streets from Kelly Pigg. The purchase price was $7,000.

Tentative plans call for the city to tear down the present building and erect a new fire station.

The site is immediately north of Bura Handley Community Center.

The council voted unanimously to buy the lots, on a motion by Lyndon Crelia and second by Willie Gragson.

The fire station which is part of the community center has been too small for several years and part of the firefighting equipment must sit outside. Two new fire trucks are on order and are necessary if the city is to continue to hold down Wellington's insurance key rate.

The city, county, school and hospital district will work out an acceptable arrangement on taxes due.

Willie Gragson, was elected Mayor Pro Tem, on a motion by Crelia and second by Tom Wilkins. The vote was unanimous.

On a four to one vote, the council approved a salary increase for City Manager Glen Taylor, which will bring this to $1400 per month. He presently receives $1,260 per month.

Crelia made the motion that the salary increase be given and Gragson seconded. They, with Ralph Owens and Wilkins voted in favor of the measure, while Wayne Cudd opposed the motion.

There was considerable discussion on whether to charge contractors using heavy equipment who break

Youth Dies, Three Hurt in Pickup Rollover Near Hollis

A former Wellington High School athlete who went on to win Oklahoma state basketball honors, died in Harmon Memorial Hospital about 2:20 a.m. Friday, May 12, after he was graduated from Arnett High School Thursday.

He was Winford Keith Sherrill, 18, of Vinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.W. (Fudd) Sherrill who now live at Childress.

Three other young men were injured.

Willie White, 17, of Westview Boys Home, was critically injured and taken by helicopter to Comanche County Memorial Hospital in Lawton, Okla. His condition Monday was reported as somewhat improved and he was able to breath without assistance. Jack Sikes is his guardian.

Tane Moore 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bundy Moore, of Dodson, and Don Mitchell, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Mitchell of Vinson, remained in the Hollis Hospital overnight for observation.

Mitchell was identified by Harmon County Sheriff Ronald Zimmerman, as driver of the pickup.

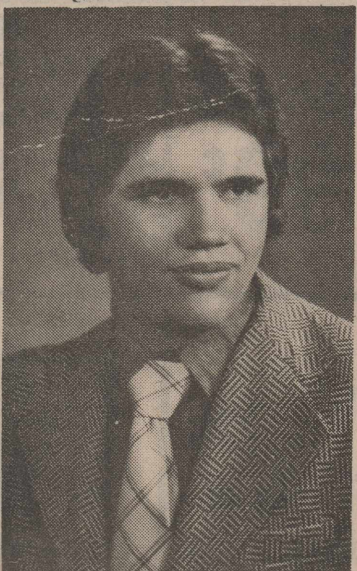

He said the accident occurred about 10:30 p.m. Thursday on Oklahoma State Highway 30, two miles west and five and three-fourths south of Hollis, near the Red River Bridge.

Oklahoma Highway Patrolman George Raper of Altus, who headed the investigation, said the pickup was traveling "at a high rate of speed and failed to negotiate a curve. The vehicle left the left side of the road, then went back across the paved portion of the highway sideways, overturning three times before coming to rest on its wheels after ejecting all four occupants."

All four of the boys were ejected through the roof of the pickup, Raper said.

He also said the roof section of the pickup was destroyed and partially removed from the pickup and the extreme rear section received heavy damage.

WINFORD SHERRILL

Sherrill attended the Wellington Schools through his sophomore year in high school, playing basketball and football.

At Arnett he was a star basketball player, and was named to the Cottonbelt All-Conference team two years, all area honorable mention two years, and was named to the all-state tournament first team during his junior year.

He planned to enter Cameron University at Lawton this fall to play basketball on a scholarship and major in math or accounting. He received scholarship offers from three other colleges.

Winford was senior class president, 4-H Club vice president, sentinel of the FFA chapter and a member of the senior play cast.

He was runner up for basketball king and a county 4-H Share the Fun winner.

He was living with an uncle, R.W. Sherrill of Vinson, superintendent of Arnett Schools, so he could graduate there.

His father is manager of the Co-op Feed Store at Childress. Sherrill and White were due to play in the all-area basketball tournament at Lawton May 27.

Winford was born in Wellington Sept. 9, 1959.

Funeral services were held

Firecracker Band Brings Home Honors

The 35-piece Firecracker Band came home from the area junior high band contest bearing a first division rating in concert playing, first division in sight reading, outstanding band in class honors, 27 first division medals and 7 denoting second division ratings. Some schools won third divisions—but not Wellington.

No other participating band could approach this.

The contest was held in Phillips Friday, May 12.

The Firecrackers were the only Junior High (sixth and seventh grades) in uniform. Other directors noted this.

The contest judge, Tom Hutchinson, was complimentary: "Good basic musicianship," he said. "Nice work and style, dynamics and articulation, very impressive group. I enjoyed your performance."

"I'm proud of them," said band director Jamie Larson.

En route home, the group ate supper at Sutphens in Borger. The band received compliments again, but this time for their behavior and politeness, Larson said.

First Division solo recipients were Rosemary Castillo, flute; Toni Tramel, French Horn; Frank Montemayor, trombone; Teresa Pulliam, trombone; Leslie Birkey, baritone; Lisa Powell, alto saxophone; and Todd Roberson, cornet.

First division ensemble winners were Lisa Powell and four states and from Mississippi and Colorado. About 20 per cent were from television, radio and the press.

The Louisiana member, Theis, said a senate bill has already been introduced in the Louisiana Legislature which still is in session, they expect to pass it before they adjourn. All of the commission members agreed if this does take place, it will make it easier in January when the other three states meet to ratify the compact.

After the states have ratified, it goes to Congress for ratification and finally to the President for his signature.

Basically what the compact has done is to provide an equitable allocation of the waters of the Red River and all of its tributaries that make up the Red River Basin. It guarantees the states of Louisiana and Arkansas with ample water to operate navigation of rivers downstream. The North Fork of the Red guarantees Oklahoma with ample water to supply Jackson County with water for the town of Altus and for 48,000 acres of irrigation.

Present for the signing were Brig. Gen. Jim Donovan, Corps of Army Engineers regional division chief Dallas, and Col. Anthony Smith, district engineer from Tulsa.

All members of the Texas Water Board were present, headed by executive director Harvey Davis and the chairman, A.L. Black, and members of the other water boards of the compact states.

They had met Thursday evening for a get together to the signing. The 60th meeting was held Friday morning, then adjourned and members came in an escorted caravan for the signing.

Crop, Livestock Reports Needed

During late May and June, many Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Service's field staff. This is part of the continuous effort of keeping track of Texas' biggest business-agriculture.

The information gathered through the questionnaires and interviews provides the basis for determining the acreage devoted to the various crops and mid-year livestock numbers for the state of Texas and for each county.

With the depressed prices of many agricultural commodities, it is more important than ever that the statistics be as accurate as possible to aid producers in making the best production and marketing decisions. They are also essential in enacting wise legislation affecting agriculture and are used in determining the national program acreage and payment levels to producers under the various commodity programs. The primary beneficiaries of accurate estimates are farmers and ranchers themselves.

Prompt and accurate completion of the survey forms provides for more reliable estimates of Texas' largest industry-agriculture. It also helps to reduce survey costs.

All individual farm and ranch information is kept confidential, and only state and county summaries become part of the final published estimate.

water lines, as happened recently at First United Methodist Church when the ground was being prepared for a new driveway. Water pressure was lowered.

There has never been a city policy on this, and Taylor said that when Lone Star Gas breaks a water main the city repairs it, and vice versa. It was agreed that break at the church was accidental.

Taylor said the old water lines, including the one which was broken, have lead jointed pipe. If you nudge on them a little, they'll leak," he said. These lines are under only a layer of brick, 4 inches of concrete and three inches of sand, he explained.

Mayor Billy Hatch reported to the council that Margaret Carroll, city secretary, along with Nita Brantley, school business manager, are measuring new homes in Wellington preparing to place them on the tax roll.

Annual Dog, Cat Vaccination Scheduled Saturday Morning

The annual dog and cat vaccination for rabies will be held Saturday, May 20, at the Wellington Veterinary Clinic on the Dodson Highway from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Dr. Mark Fires will vaccinate the animals and he will be assisted by 4-H Club members.

Each dog or cat that is vaccinated will receive a tag which must be worn at all times.

Glen Taylor, city manager, pointed out that a dog problem has again risen in Wellington, and those which are found without tags will be picked up by the Sheriff's Department and destroyed.

The City Ordinance, passed June 15, 1972, states that dogs and cats must be registered and the registration tag worn on a collar continuously while the dog or cat is at large. The certificates issued to the owners lists his name, a brief description of the dog or cat, and the date of vaccination.

The ordinance further says that any dog or cat running at large in the city, whether accompanied by the owner or not, will be killed by law enforcement officers with out further notice to the owner or keeper.

The ordinance does not apply to persons traveling through with animals.

Violation of the ordinance is a misdemeanor and the penalty is a fine of not less than $1.00 nor more than $50. The same ordinance gives law enforcement officers the right to shoot or kill any rabid dog or any dog in the street which manifests a disposition to bite.

Representatives of one neighborhood met with the city council May 1 saying that there were many dogs running loose without tags in their area, and asked that they be picked up.

Yet when members of the sheriff's department went to pick up the dogs, they were met by others who did not want them picked up, Mayor Bill Hatch was told.

Farm Bill Too Little, Too Late, But it Helps

Congressman Jack Hightower stated the new Conference Committee agreement on the emergency farm bill is too little, too late but should provide some help to farmers. "I am pleased to see the cotton loan provisions changed and the target price for wheat raised to $3.40 a bushel. Because of the discount, a 48 cents a pound loan rate for cotton will mean approximately 40 cents a pound for most of our area producers. This still does not give farmers enough operating capital but will be an improvement."

"I do feel the need for help in the area of corn and grain sorghum is still great. I firmly believe it is in the best interest of not only farmers but the entire nation for target and loan levels to be increased for all major commodities. This bill in no manner solves the problems we face on the farm but should be of some help to keep a few more producers in business."

The House-Senate Conference Committee approved language that would raise the target price for wheat to $3.40 per bushel from the current $3.00 target level. The bill allows the Secretary of Agriculture the authority to increase target levels for feed grains and cotton if land diversion or set-aside programs are in effect. The cotton loan formula is changed plus the loan level cannot be below 48 cents a pound.

Hightower concluded, "I still feel we should send the

Consider Safe Deposit Box for Records, Papers

Some general guidelines can help a family decide where to keep personal and family records and papers, says Dr. Carloyn McKinney, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Consider getting a safe deposit box—annual rental is fairly inexpensive, she suggests.

However, don't use it as a "catchall" for souvenirs and unimportant papers.

As a general guide, keep only those records that cannot be replaced or would be extremely costly or troublesome to replace in the safe deposit box.

This might include items such as:

- birth, death and marriage certificates,
- deeds and titles to real estate and personal property, citizenship, adoption and veteran's papers,
- divorce decrees,
- carbon copy of a will,
- copy of household inventory,
- important contracts, and
- bond and stock certificates.

Other important papers such as tax receipts, cancelled checks, loan payment books, insurance policies, and family health records are usually easily replaced, the specialist explains.

So, keep these in a well organized household file. Keep a current list of where family papers are located so that they can be easily found, she adds.

Mr., Mrs. L.B. Boyd Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary Sat.

A couple who spent most of their married life in major oil fields of middle America, then came home to the Wellington area for retirement, observed their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday, May 13.

A reception was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Boyd at the Heritage Room by their daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Owen (Billie) Larrison of Hacienda Heights, Ca., and Mr. and Mrs. Merlin (Joanne) Clark of Bartlesville, Ok., and the six Boyd grandchildren.

These were Karl Larrison, barge engineer with an off-shore drilling operation on the coast of Mexico, Becky Larrison of Hacienda Heights, Mrs. Ed House, Brad Clark, Russell Clark and Tom Clark, all of Bartlesville.

Relatives and close friends in Wellington attended, along with out of town guests from San Angelo, Odessa, Hale Center, Wichita Falls, Happy, Childress and Dodson, Texas, Roswell and Truth or Consequences, N.M., Hawthorne, Calif. and Hollis, Okla.

At the time he retired, Mr. Boyd was division drilling superintendent for the Rowan Drilling Co., Inc., based in Houston.

But his career in the oil fields started as a roughneck on a wildcat test in northwest Collingsworth in 1921.

This was on the YOU Ranch, owned by Henry Franks.

"I forget the name of the draw we were drilling on, but it had running water all year," Boyd recalls. Casper (Cap) C. Campbell had the rig leased and drilling went to 700 feet before the company went broke.

"We sued for our wages and Judge Templeton handled the case. They foreclosed on the rig and we got our money."

They were married on May 12, 1928, in Childress.

Mrs. Boyd was teaching school, and the couple eloped the day her school closed, after a 5-year engagement. Later that year, he went to work for Rowan Drilling Co.

MR., MRS. L.B. BOYD

Mrs. Boyd is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hall, long time Childress County residents. At the time she married, the Halls farmed, and operated a grocery store and filling station at Loco.

She was the only daughter and her family sent her to high school in Childress (she boarded during the week) then to West Texas State Teachers College, Canyon, until she received her teaching certificate.

She taught at Brea, Childress County, one year before she married. At that time, the school consolidated with Loco and so well prepared were her students they were all advanced a grade.

Boyd is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Boyd of the White's Creek Community in Childress Co.

In the years of their married life, Boyd drilled in Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, North Dakota and Oklahoma. Many of the wells he drilled were wildcats.

He was in charge of drilling a large number, in the Borger, Stinnett, Pampa, Dumas and Canadian areas, north almost to Darrouzett.

As drilling superintendent for Rowan, he brought in the discovery well in the Barnhard Field on University of Texas land at Big Lake for Amarada Petroleum Co.

He also was involved in another discovery well at Plentywood, Montana, a well drilled for Amarada, also to a depth of around 7,800. It was a producer.

The highest well he drilled was at Deadline Ridge in Western Wyoming, 9,800 feet. This one was a dry hole.

The deepest well, to 23,000 feet, was about half way between Ft. Stockton and Monahans.

Asked to compare drilling in his days as a roughneck, to the present, he replied, "Oh my

Mrs. Farris Wood Entertains Senior Girls With Luncheon

Mrs. Farris Wood was hostess at a luncheon for girls of the Wellington senior class on Tuesday, May 9, at her home. Her mother, Mrs. Paul Bell, assisted.

Girls were seated at tables centered with roses from the hostess garden. Hand-made place cards were small button faces with felt hats, which were decorated with straw flowers and feathers. Appointments were china, crystal and silver.

The luncheon was served buffet style.

Guests were Darla Anderson, Starla Anderson, Margie Anderson, Kloette Camp, Kathy Daniels, Margie Dixon, Barbara Ellifritz, Cindy Hernandez, Susan Kimbro, Katy Mote, Nanette Needham, Debra Norris, Jackie Seitz, Lee Ann Sessions, Deana Simpson, Leigh Ann Vassey, Debra Wood and Mrs. P.M. Scott, sponsor.

Personal

Mrs. Janie Collier and children, Chris and Amy, of San Antonio are visiting her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Howard Smith of Dodson. The children have been here several weeks. Mrs. Collier is convalescing from surgery and they will be here for another 10 days or two weeks.

god, there's no comparison." For one thing most of the drilling was with fish tail or drag bits. Derricks were of wood.

The rig body was leased and the cones bought from Hughs Tool Co. of Houston. The driller paid the freight to and from Houston.

Drill bits lasted from 30 minutes to two or three hours. "They can be used up to 300 hours now, to my knowledge," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd took their daughters with them wherever they moved. The girls had no difficulty in adjusting at school, says Mrs. Larrison. "We'd miss our friends for about a month, but

Mrs. J.E. Hall of Brownfield visited her nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kiker and Lon, Wednesday thru Friday last week.

Johnny Harris of Houston is visiting this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Harris.

We'd usually meet someone we had known earlier," she recalls. Both girls found this to be true when they attended Texas Tech.

Looking back, Boyd says: "It's changed so much since I retired, I'd be almost completely lost on a rig."

He believes drilling will go deeper and deeper, but new types of pipe will have to be used. Already, the weight of the pipe in the well is so great that it will pull in two.

"My old company (Rowan) has a rig at Twitty and the rig capacity is two million pounds," he said. This is for drilling in the 17,000 to 22,000 feet.

An average cup of coffee contains about 100 to 150 milligrams of caffeine, reports Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Remember The Man

TEXAS VOTERS HAVE managed to confront us with another Don Yarbrough situation, or one roughly comparable to it, after Saturday's Democratic Primary election...and only a reversal of stupidity in the run-off election next month can save us from it.

Voters in Hemphill County and state-wide gave almost a majority in the race for an unexpired term on the Texas Railroad Commission to old politician Jerry Sadler.

We are saved, temporarily, by the fact that there were four candidates in the race and there will be a run-off...we'll have a second chance. And Jerry Sadler, who counts on name recognition to give him an edge in a big field, hasn't done so well in recent elections in one-on-one competitions, where voters are forced to look at the man as well as the name and recognize him for what...and who...he is.

If Texas voters can be made to recognize Jerry Sadler, candidate for the important Railroad Commission seat, as the same Jerry Sadler who turned the office of Commissioner of the General Land Office into a three-ring circus a few years ago, maybe they will have sober second-thoughts about voting for that familiar name again.

The Railroad Commission has only three members, and they are elected for six-year terms. And those three long-term members have more power over the day-to-day affairs of more citizens of this state than perhaps any other elected officials. Regulation of railroads is not the primary responsibility of that mis-named Commission...but regulation of commerce is: regulation of the oil and gas industry, and regulation of the rates charged to the public by almost every public utility conceivably connected with the oil and gas industry.

The Texas Railroad Commission is a vital regulatory body, and election of its members is not a matter to be taken lightly.

Election of an ancient incompetent such as Jerry Sadler to wield one-third of the power on that regulatory body is certainly not a matter to be taken lightly. It is a cause for alarm.

When another totally unqualified candidate was elected to the Texas Supreme Court two years ago because of apparent voter confusion over name identification, newspapers of Texas were faulted for not warning the voters that the Don Yarbrough they were electing was not the Don Yarbrough who had been a respected candidate for governor a few years earlier, and was not related either to highly-respected U.S. Senator Ralph Yarbrough. That Don Yarbrough had to be removed from the state's highest court by criminal proceedings against him.

The case of Jerry Sadler is a little different. In this case, Texas voters may need to be reminded that Jerry Sadler is the same Jerry Sadler they have known from years past...and reminded of his sorry record in long years in public office.

He is a persistent candidate. After finally being removed by the voters from the General Land Office, he made a run for the Railroad Commission two years ago, and led a field of eight candidates in the first primary election. A month later in a run-off against one of them, Jon Newton, he was handily defeated.

Let's hope that it happens again. He will go into the June run-off as the leader in a field of four candidates, and will face the second-place candidate, John Poerner, who is currently serving on the Railroad Commission by appointment, for election to the unexpired term. Commissioner Poerner is a capable and decent man, highly recommended to us by friends who know him well in his south Texas area. We hope you'll vote for him next time around.

And if you voted for Jerry Sadler because you were familiar with his name, get familiar also with his record in public office.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texas incomes are zipping along ahead of the rest of the nation in all major categories of business this year.

A Commerce Department report for the first quarter said the overall increase in Texas is 4.9 per cent. compared with a 3.6 percent national average.

And the national increase, according to the Bureau of Economic Analysis, was the biggest quarterly gain since the present economic expansion began.

During the period, consumer prices increased about one percent. Incomes surpassed price hikes in all states except West Virginia which had a major coal strike.

Biggest Texas gain was in the area of farm income, which went up 41.1 percent during the first quarter. The national average farm income jump was 28 percent.

A nationwide $700 million federal payment to wheat farmers during December and higher cash receipts from crops accounted for the farm income increase.

Mining (including oil and gas) income bounced upward 6.8 percent in Texas, though the national figure was less than one percent.

Manufacturing personal income rose 5.2 percent in Texas, compared with three percent nationally.

Ten other states—North Dakota, Montana, South Dakota, Nebraska, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Kentucky and Mississippi had bigger increases.

Tough Contest Due

Republicans promised to field their most-formidable statewide group of candidates this fall.

U.S. Sen. John Tower has multi-million-dollar war-chest for his re-election drive against U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger, who won the Democratic senatorial nomination over Joe Christie. In spite of their bruising primary campaign, Christie pledged his help to Krueger.

Attorney General John Hill won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination from Gov. Dolph Briscoe and three others without a runoff, but he is promised a run for his money by Republican William P. Clements of Dallas. Clements spent $1.6 million in the little (130,000-vote) Republican primary, and said he probably will spend about a million more in the general election.

Mark White was the upset winner over Price Daniel Jr. for the Democratic attorney general's nomination, and will be challenged by James Baker III of Houston. Baker indicated he is prepared to raise $1 million for the campaign.

Ratios Decline

Though estimated market value of Texas property was $232.6 billion, it was valued at $36.4 billion in 1975 by tax assessors, according to Texas Research League.

Average assessed value was 15.6 percent of market value on local tax rolls.

The ratio of assessed value to market value varied from 2.6 percent in Real County to 35.6 percent in Reeves County. TRL said.

The league said assessment ratios dropped from 19.6 percent in 1966 and 17.1 percent in 1971.

Counties levied $388 million in taxes during 1975-76. Other values were set by districts (hospitals, junior colleges and road and water service) for tax purposes. About 164 school districts use county assessments.

Courts Speak

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a four-year prison term assessed ousted Duval County District Judge O. P. Carrillo on conviction of theft.

The Supreme Court said counties can be sued for deaths and injuries due to flooded crossings if they don't provide adequate warnings.

Court of Criminal Appeals dismissed a murder conviction against a Central Texas man on grounds the trial should have been moved from Hill County.

A conviction of a father for castrating his son by radiation was affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The Supreme Court held county mutual insurance companies are not covered by the deceptive trade practices laws.

Improper jury instruction resulted in reversal of the murder conviction of Delmond Randle in Amarillo.

A Bryan court verdict that nothing could be recovered from the estate of a dead Texas A&M University health center physician on a malpractice suit was upheld by the Supreme Court.

FIRST SERMON

The first sermon in Collingsworth County was preached at Fresno when the first wing (above, left) of the Robert A. and Ella Jane Dysart home was under construction in 1890. A Methodist circuit preacher, W.Y. Seale, gave the sermon and organized a church on the spot. Construction of the house had just started and the congregation sat on the unfinished floor. The wing at right was added in 1897 and the photograph was made by a traveling photographer in 1901. In other new opinions, Hill concluded:

Top Athletes Chosen by Teammates

James (Junebug) Thomas, who competed in state UIL athletics just 20 months after open heart surgery, received the Larry Wright Fighting Heart Award Tuesday night, May 16, as Wellington honored what is probably the finest 100 plus athletes it has ever had in one school year.

Three other awards were given: First to be called was Jon Sessions, the Outstanding Basketball player. Ricky Jones, was named the Outstanding Back. Richard Garcia, was awarded the plaque as Outstanding Lineman.

This year the award recipients were selected by their teammates rather than by a panel.

Garet Von Netzer, sports editor of the Amarillo Globe-News recognizing state 400 meter champion Robert Chambers, reminded how few athletes have the opportunity to be a part of such a championship program as the school has had.

He predicted an upsurge in the number of 400 meter runners for Wellington. "Any time you have a champion in track there will be lots of boys who want to come out in that event," he said.

Von Netzer, a former state high hurdles champion, speaks to athletes informally and much as if he were visiting with them, and the thrust of his talk Tuesday night was the long term values of athletics.

"I'm not talking about win at all costs," he told them, and then named three ways in which their athletics will be of value:

- As a medium to learn to know themselves
- As a medium to learn to work.
- As a medium to learn to win, but to know how to cope with failure.

"No one knows you better than you," Von Netzer believes. "You will come to know if you are willing to pay the price to win. Many games are not decided until the last few minutes and it is good to know you can count on yourself," and again he told them "You can never look your self in the mirror and be proud if you have not given 100 per cent."

"If you know deep down you will give whatever it takes, it's a good feeling," he said a little later.

Von Netzer, who is from Fredericksburg where the work ethic is still strong, challenged the Rockets "to say you have worked harder outside athletics than inside." They cannot, he believes.

"To get 100 per cent results, aim for 110 per cent, he told them.

You are the type athletes who are willing to push yourselves.

For every winner, there is someone who has to have a setback, said the sports writer who has done much to spread word of Rocket achievements. He urged that they develop the spirit of to "not take 'no' for an answer. You have that spirit here."

Head Coach James Williams was master of ceremonies, and assisting him in introducing members of the various teams were members of his staff, Phil Bailey, Robert Hicks, Bruce Dollar and Ronnie Glenn.

Present for the all sports banquet was one of the largest crowds to attend this annual event.

Social Security Beneficiaries Can Earn More

"Social security beneficiaries (except those receiving disability benefits) will be allowed to earn more in 1978 and still receive their full social security benefits," Jim Talbot, Social Security District Manager, said today. "New legislation signed into law on December 20 included the following provisions:

- "1. Beneficiaries 65 or older can earn as much as $4,000 without any cutback in their social security checks. Once a person's earnings exceed $4,000 for 1978, $1 in benefits will be withheld for each $2 in earnings.
- "2. People under 65 can receive all benefits if their annual earnings are $3,240 or less. The $1 for $2 reduction applies to earnings above $3,240.
- "3. The retirement test monthly provision in the law in effect through 1977 has been eliminated except for the first year a beneficiary receives benefits. In 1977, for example, a person could receive his social security check for any month he didn't earn over $250 or work at his business, regardless of the total earnings for the year. This will no longer be true.
- "4. Provisions are in the new law to increase both the $4,000 and the $3,240 amounts each year, starting with 1979," Talbot said.

Some Australian tribesmen believed they would lose weight if they stood in a woman's shadow.

Democrats Send 18 Resolutions To State, Name Three Delegates

Collingsworth County Democrats passed eighteen resolutions and elected three delegates and three alternates to state convention at the county convention, Saturday, May 13. Forty delegates to the county convention had been elected at precinct conventions on May 6.

Elected to state convention were (along with their vote tallies) Kirby Campbell, 25; Doug Seale, 24; and Denzil Lacy, 22. Alternates (who will vote if delegates cannot be present) are Charlotte Myrick, 16; Tom Sanderson, 12; and Denzil Phipps, 7. Danny Davis also received 7 votes but withdrew in favor of Phipps.

The Democrats passed several resolutions dealing with the American Agriculture movement's goal of 100 per cent parity. They included resolutions calling for 100 per cent parity prices for all domestically consumed and exported agricultural products, and 100 per cent parity prices for all agricultural products produced for national and international food reserve programs.

Other resolutions asked that all meat and livestock imports be halted until parity beef prices are reached on the market; that all government farm programs be announced early enough to allow farmers sufficient time to make planting decisions; and that the government set up a structure to handle marketing of American farm products at 100 per cent parity.

In other farm-related resolutions, Collingsworth Democrats asked the party to consider rural Democrats as a legitimate minority and receive special representation at state and national conventions.

They also called for the direct election of ASCS committee members, asked that they have a right to recall those members, and asked that the committee members have "substantial input in the development of agricultural programs."

The Democrats also called for the abolition of the Texas Agriculture Products program, and asked that it be replaced with "an aggressive state agency to sell Texas products to both domestic and foreign markets." And they asked that the state inheritance tax exemption be raised from $25,000 to $200,000 to help preserve family farms.

The group further asked that Texas pass a constitutional amendment making it illegal for aliens to purchase or own land in Texas.

In other resolutions the Democrats 1) opposed federal gun control; 2) opposed the Equal Rights Amendment with two resolutions 3) opposed abortion with two resolutions and supported a "human life" amendment to the U.S. constitution that would make abortions unconstitutional unless required to prevent the death of the mother; 4) opposed federal funding of the "National Commission of International Women's Year;" 5) opposed federal and state "early child development" programs and asked that all pre-school child programs be controlled by the private sector or at the local level; and 6) commended Collingsworth County Judge

Retirement Brings New Career as Inventor

Tom E. Harwell grew up in Collingsworth but has lived in Wichita Falls a number of years. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harwell and brother of Ernest Harwell, Mrs. Doc Turner and Mrs. Marie Harper.)

By Leon Hooten
Business Editor
Wichita Falls Times

Tom E. Harwell of 4114 Seymour Road retired four years ago as a salesman for Proctor and Gamble but he has been busy ever since inventing things that he saw a need for.

The Wellington, Texas, native's latest invention is a "pressure device" that unclogs sink, lavatory or bathtub drains without using acids or chemicals.

Instructions that come with "Mr. Clean Out" tell the user to connect it to any cold water hydrant with a strong water hose and cover all vent holes in the sink, lavatory or bathtub that is to be cleaned before applying pressure. Then press device firmly over drain hole and apply water pressure gradually as needed to maintain constant pressure.

Harwell said his "invention" can be purchased at several discount stores and lumber yards in Wichita Falls.

"I saw a need for something like this, so I just sat down and invented it," Harwell said with a twinkle in his eyes.

Other inventions he's cranked out during the past four years include a "holdtight Anchor" for mobile homes and a grease adapter for cars that have lubrication points that are almost impossible to get to.

Asked how many anchors he's sold he quipped, "a whole bunch."

He was challenged to invent the grease adapter when he took his small car in for a grease job and the mechanic got out a cutting torch. When he asked the mechanic what he was going to do with the cutting torch, he was told he would have to cut a hole in the car body to get to the lubrication point.

"Then the cars should be recalled," he told the mechanic.

"If you are so smart why don't you invent something that will solve the problem," the mechanic said in retort.

So he invented his grease adapter and says they are sold as fast as they can be fabricated here in Wichita Falls.

He's been a resident here 36 years and was with Proctor and Gamble 33 years. And probably more inventions will come out of this man who apparently can't stay retired.

Keep unripe tomatoes at room temperature away from direct sunlight, advised Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Students Told Of Rights Lost By Convictions

The loss of civil rights a person may face if convicted of a felony are described in a leaflet which is being distributed to high school students by Glynn Moore Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Auxiliary Unit. Entitled, "Don't Do It, Son, Don't Do It Daughter," the information contained includes:

"So, you were stopped for a traffic violation and were discovered in possession of pot. And you were convicted of possession, just enough--a felony--and received a suspended sentence. Do you think that is the end of it, son?"

"NOT QUITE!" You also lost your right to vote, to own a gun or to run for public office. You lost the opportunity of ever becoming a doctor, dentist, certified public accountant, engineer, lawyer, architect, realtor, osteopath, pharmacist, school teacher, barber, or a stockbroker.

"You can't ever hold a job where you must be licensed or bonded and you can never work for the city, county or the federal government. You can't be admitted to West Point, Annapolis or the Air Force Academy--"

"Son, take it from some guys with a lot of mileage behind them: To you--with a lot of mileage still ahead of you--it just isn't worth it! Don't do it!"

FHA Students Hike-Bike For Retarded

Nine students participated in a Hike-Bike for Retarded Citizens which was sponsored by the Wellington FHA chapters recently.

By obtaining and collecting pledges these students were able to raise $141.20 to be used to aid retarded citizens of Texas.

The money will be sent to the state headquarters of the Texas Association for Retarded Citizens, Inc., in Austin.

Child Care Homes Must be Registered

Anyone who uses her home to give regular care to between one and six children not related to her, is required by law to register with the state, but many such individuals may be unaware of this requirement.

Wanda Minchew of Tulia, Day Care Licensing Representative for the Texas Department of Human Resources, said that 4 such homes are registered in Collingsworth County, and she invited caregivers who have not yet registered to contact her for the necessary forms and information.

"Registration differs from licensing," she said. "Licensing is required of facilities which care for more than six children regularly. Registration is a simpler procedure, whereby the caregiver checks her home by standards which are furnished and sends us a signed statement that she meets the state's minimum requirements for the health and safety of the children in her care."

The local fire marshal and health inspector will inspect the homes in Collingsworth County for fire hazards and sanitation. Other than this, no other outside inspections are routinely required.

"I will be glad to talk to the caregivers at their request regarding meeting the standards," Ms. Minchew said. "The law requires the representative to visit a home

Half of the money is to be returned to be used for retarded citizens in the Wellington Area.

The Students on bikes rode 10 miles, and those afoot walked 5 miles.

Those participating were: Peggy Popwell, Kelly Covey, Lupe Martinez, Josie Martinez, Suzie Kellison, Max Kellison, Tresa Benton, Tawanna Benton, and Molly Aguerro. FHA advisors are Mrs. Larry Henard and Mrs. P.M. Scott.

if a complaint against the home has been received or if it was selected from a random sampling for inspections for compliance with standards. Our state office chooses one home in a hundred each month to be inspected.

"Placing a home on the agency's list of Registered Family Homes does not imply any guarantee from the state about the facility," Ms. Minchew said. "We do make our list available to parents who are looking for someone to care for their children. But the parents are still responsible for getting acquainted with the caregiver and her home so they can assure themselves that the type care they want for their children will be provided."

Regular care means that care is provided more than four hours a day, more than two days a week, and for at least five consecutive weeks.

The state makes no charge for registration, she said. She invited individuals in Collingsworth County who wish further information about registration or licensing to contact her. Her telephone number is (806) 995-2321, and the mailing address is 105 Hospital Avenue, Tulia, Texas 79088.

Mrs. Minchew explained that no license is needed for children, grandchildren, nieces or nephews if less than six are kept at one time. Hygienic methods must be used for preparing food, and fire drills are advised.

There is no inspection by the state.

The fine for failing to comply can be from $50 to $1,000 for each child per day, said Mrs. Minchew.

For those wanting to know more about registered family homes, Mrs. Minchew said she is available for programs in this community.

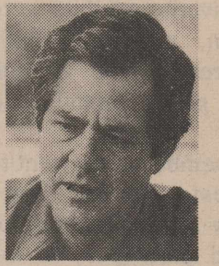

The heart is only about 5 1/2 inches long and 3 1/2 inches wide.

Lone Star Gas has already laid the groundwork for your energy future.

The jobs of more than 100,000 Texans employed in plants served by Lone Star depend on gas for heat processing or as a product ingredient. Long-term gas supplies are needed to preserve existing jobs, create new ones, and meet the requirements of our residential customers. Fortunately, Lone Star is in an excellent position to continue energizing our area's economy.

Lone Star has an 11,400-mile gas gathering and transmission pipeline system that connects with basins estimated to contain 50% of the remaining onshore gas reserves in the United States.

This same network also enables Lone Star to accept gas deliveries from growing offshore production in the Gulf of Mexico.

No other gas company in Texas has a pipeline network as extensive or versatile as the one we've put together and constantly modernized during the 69 years Lone Star has been in business.

No other gas company in Texas has the built-in opportunity to buy gas as selectively, to bargain as well for the best prices on new gas, as Lone Star.

Our pipelines can have an important effect on your energy future, because it's here where Lone Star is strongest that gas companies from across America will be shopping hard for new gas reserves.

Here's your key to the energy storehouse.

We fully understand the efforts of other gas utilities and transmission companies to get new gas supplies. Their areas also want this most economical of fuels for industrial use.

Nevertheless, Lone Star's obligation is to the million-plus residential, commercial and industrial customers who depend on us to meet their energy needs in the decades ahead.

We're determined to meet our obligation in full by getting our area's fair share of new gas reserves as they enter the market in volumes large enough to be handled economically.

It can be done because of Lone Star's pipeline system.

Our gathering system goes into areas where other gas companies haven't begun to build. Our far-reaching transmission network gives us excellent capabilities. Our underground storage system often lets us take deliveries when many companies cannot.

All we need to buy the gas you'll need in the decades ahead is your understanding that we must recover the actual cost of the new gas we buy.

Give us that, and we'll deliver you the best gas bargains that money can buy. But the longer we wait, the more expensive the bargains will be. And we're eager to get on with the job.

Lone Star Gas Company
We're working energetically for your area's future.

Don't Request Certain Teacher Copeland Asks

Bob Copeland, elementary school principal, this week asked that parents not make requests for student placement with specific teachers for the school year beginning in August.

"It appears that there will be some teacher shifting for next year," he said. "A lot of parents start making these requests about this time of year."

He and his family went to Livingston in southeast Texas where he was also with the school system. Later they lived in Lubbock, where they were in the motel business.
