LEADERS CHANGE FINANCIAL PLANS AT LAST MOMENT

Abandon The Idea of Issuing Script, And Will Issue Real Money Instead

Following a lengthy conference with his cabinet and financial advisors practically all of Wednesday, President Roosevelt announced that the idea of any script issue had been abandoned. During the past few days, plans of banks issuing script as they did in 1907 had been talked.

The new plans apparently would work out through the federal reserve system by issuing $3,000,000,000 in new currency. Sufficient gold has been received at the U. S. Treasury, it is said, to justify the issue.

Best information is that the issue of the new currency will have affected all the banks of the nation by tomorrow (Friday) enabling a re-opening. The new issue will be of the same kind as issued through the federal reserve banks in the past.

Regular federal reserve notes have been issued against commercial paper and a gold reserve and this is no new departure from the set rules followed for years.

President Roosevelt set a new precedent Wednesday when he sat with more than one hundred reporters representing the various press associations. He is said to have been plain spoken in making announcements of his plans. In some instances he asked that certain matters be not announced through the press until more definite details could be worked out. His requests will have rigid compliance according to established custom of reporters.

INFORMATION ON SEED LOANS FOR BENEFIT FARMERS

Applications For Loans To Be Made Through Secretary Chamber of Commerce

The following information is given through the Leader for the benefit of those who wish to secure seed loans:

Loans will not be made to exceed $3 per acre. The limit to any one individual is $300.

A loan of one dollar per acre will be made to secure feed for work stock or tractor fuel. A dollar an acre will be made for miscellaneous supplies such as hail insurance, food and clothing for the family. A dollar an acre will be allowed for seed for planting purposes.

Those securing the loan will be required to give a first mortgage lien on the crop exclusive of the landlord's share. In other words, the mortgage must cover the entire crop. The interest rate is five and a half percent per annum. The interest is deducted from the amount of the loan at the time the loan is made.

Repayment of the loan is to be made at crop maturity time variously named at October 1st to 31st.

Applications for seed loans in this section should be made through G. L. Boykin, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce who is in his office on afternoons through the week and all day Saturday. He receives no extra pay for this service and hence has no regular office hours.

The board to pass first judgment on the loans is composed of three local men. They are, U. J. Boston, J. D. Swift, and G. Milt Allen.

Other men on the Committee are Bill Bromley, Bill Meaders, P. O. Thompson, John Chamberlain, Slayton Mahaffey and Neise Robinson.

PARDON SOUGHT BY BROWN BOYS AT THIS TIME

Sentenced From Donley Co. On Assault to Murder Case Two Years Ago

The tragedy enacted at the Naylor home more than two years ago was revived here this week when the mother of Milam and Belk Brown asked various citizens to sign a petition asking that they be liberated from the state prison.

These men were charged with an assault to murder on the person of T. E. Naylor after being escorted to the home of his mother from the barn where it was alleged they were attempting to take a car from the garage. Naylor used his "finger in his pocket" as an arresting weapon.

After reaching the house and entering, a fight ensued between the three Brown brothers and the occupants of the home in which one of the Browns was killed with a shot gun and the other two held for the sheriff.

The two remaining men were tried in the district court here and on April 20, 1931 Milam Brown was given 2 to 5 years and Belk Brown 2 to 4 years on conviction of an "assault to murder" charge.

The jury trying the case was composed of E. S. Ballew, R. O. Thomas, G. D. Hunt, Dick Eichelberger, W. M. Mace, C. J. Talley, Carl Bennett Jr., J. R. Dale, P. H. Longan, C. L. Lewis, Clifford Johnson and J. H. Headrick.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT—Man of The Hour

(An Editorial)

Having given the matter serious thought for months, President Roosevelt was in office but a few hours until he began to take action on matters that vitally affected the nation.

With two hours after his inauguration, his cabinet had been sworn in, and each departmental head began to function.

Within twenty-four hours after his taking office, the President had issued two proclamations. The first calling for a special session of Congress, and the second declaring a banking holiday or moratorium until financial affairs could be ironed out.

His snap judgment and eagerness to remedy evils affecting us at this time reminds one of the days when his renowned relative, Col. Teddy Roosevelt occupied the same position.

It is apparent that we are to get action, and action of the right kind. The boldness of the President begets confidence. Sentiment is backing him. He is today the greatest leader in the world of nations.

Just what changes will be made in our financial system, no one seems to know. It is likely that bank deposits will be guaranteed by the government thus calling out hoarded money.

It is more than possible that government bonded indebtedness will be paid off before due date by issuing more newly printed greenbacks. This would stop payment of interest and increase circulation at the same time.

It is to be hoped that the postoffice will be taken out of business to the extent that postal savings accounts will be put into banks where they belong, and where they would be just as safe with a government depositor's guarantee.

Restored confidence means more than anything right now. It behooves every single individual to "carry on" in as nearly normal frame of mind as possible. There is nothing to be frightened about at this time. We are taking stock for the climb back up hill. The clean-up has begun. Offenders will be punished and the government restored to the people.

President Franklin Roosevelt needs and deserves our united support. We have plenty of sentiment and faith. Let's back him to the limit. Millions of red-blooded Americans are today taking new courage because of the fact that action to right the wrongs of three years have begun. Look straight ahead—be American.

RESIDENT OF 42 YEARS DIES AT HEDLEY SAT.

Mother of Frank A. White Came to Donley County Among First Settlers

In the death of Mrs. Anna Louise (Allen) White at Hedley early Saturday morning at the age of 86, Donley county lost one of her earliest pioneers and most useful citizens. Few women had experienced the vicissitudes of life as had Mrs. White.

Born in Columbiana, Alabama November 24, 1847 of wealthy slave owning parents, she was reared and educated in the atmosphere of old Southern aristocracy common to her class of people of that pre-war period.

Beginning with private tutor, she completed her literary education in the State University of her state. Her musical talent called for special training, she receiving her last instruction from masters of a large private musical conservatory located at St. Augustine, Florida.

Having suffered financial hardships in common with other citizens at the close of the Civil War, the family home was moved to Burton, Washington county, Texas in 1865. It was here that she met and married on October 29, 1873, a gallant soldier of the Southern cause in the person of W. T. White.

Mr. White had served the Confederacy for five years, a part of the time being spent in hospitals recuperating from wounds that bothered him up to the time of his death at Hedley on February 20, 1917. He served with distinction in such battles as Gettysburg, Antietam and was cited for bravery in action on more than one occasion.

It is little wonder that a man of his type should find sympathetic attention from a belle of the Old South in the home transplanted to historic old Washington county, Texas. Four children were born of this union, two of whom survive. They are Frank A. White of Clarendon and Mrs. S. A. McCarroll of San Angelo. Eight grandchildren also mourn the passing of their wonderful grandmother.

After their marriage, new hope was taken to restore lost treasures of war time, and some time was spent in Bell county where fortune favored their efforts. The next move was to Terrell, Texas where Mr. White became one of the first and a leading merchant of what was then a frontier town of Texas.

His health calling for more outdoor life, ranching became the business of the former merchant, McCullough county being selected as the proper location. San Saba included special inducements; until a long drouth coupled with a financial panic caused the family home to be moved to Hedley in 1891.

Mr. White engaged in farming and stock raising there until his death as above indicated.

Mrs. White had united with the Baptist church at an early age. She was a liberal contributor to the church and its causes including Buckner's Orphanage up to the time of her death. Her pastor, Rev. M. E. Wells, conducted the last service at Hedley Sunday afternoon with interment in Rowe cemetery beside that of her husband.

Mrs. W. W. Beaty of Memphis spent Tuesday here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Holland Sr. and brothers Joe and Lee.

Peabody Extortion Case Is Postponed Indefinitely

The case of C. M. Peabody set for trial in the Travis county district court at Austin March 13th has been postponed indefinitely due to the illness of Major E. A. Simpson of Amarillo, attorney for the defendant.

Mr. Simpson was severely injured in an auto accident on the street of Amarillo recently which sent him to the hospital for several days, and from which he has not fully recovered.

Twenty-eight witnesses had been summoned from here in connection with the case.

COMEDY-DRAMA PLAY AT ASHTOLA FRIDAY NIGHT

Benefit School Play Known As "Civil Service" Bids For Big Crowd

The comedy-drama to be presented at the Ashtola school Friday night of this week under the title of "Civil Service" had a good run four years ago when shown at Goldston, Chamberlain and Goodnight.

Sid Thomas, principal of the school, is directing the play which will require two and half hours in presentation, eight characters taking a part.

This play packed with alternate comedy and pathos has met with popular approval wherever presented. Rehearsals have been frequent and thorough and those who are responsible for the success of the play feel that the public will be well repaid for their presence.

The price of admission will be ten and fifteen cents, the proceeds going to the school athletic fund.

Chamberlain Boys And Girls Win Basketball Honors

Chamberlain school took first honors in rural and Class B basketball games of Donley county recently, an honor seldom enjoyed by any school. The games were played in the high school auditorium at Hedley Friday and Saturday.

The girls played Ashtola and Lelia Lake winning both games in a hard fought battle.

The boys plowed through to victory in games with Windy Valley, McKnight, Ashtola and Giles.

Patrons, teachers and pupils are so proud of the victory that a banquet is being planned in honor of the players of both teams.

COLE EXPLAINS BANK MORATORIUM TO ROTARIANS

Excellent Mixed Program Is Feature of Friday's Luncheon Hour

One of the best programs of months was enjoyed by Rotarians and guests of the Club at their luncheon hour Friday noon.

Misses Dorothy Powell and Joy McCanne favored with a March duet piano number. These young ladies are pupils of Mrs. Elizabeth Powell and reflected credit upon their instructor as well as themselves.

Mrs. Thada Hough, gifted reader impersonator and dramatic artist, was a guest of the Club by special invitation for her second appearance. Her first reading, "Shakespeare's Seven Ages of Man", elicited enthusiastic reception. Her encore number was "Hindu's paradise" in which the artist appeared at her best.

Judge Cole responded to a special request for an explanation of the bank "moratorium", handling his subject with clean-cut expressions and explanations. The speaker traced the machinations of the money power back East, its relations to the bond market, and the direct effect on banks over the nation. He explained that the moratorium was a protective measure to prevent large deposits being transferred to the eastern banks, thus weakening many banks of Texas. "Our local banks would not be affected", the speaker explained, "because they have banks were necessarily affected by no large eastern deposits, but local a state-wide moratorium."

Judge Cole gave a lengthy explanation of the "technocracy" idea that is causing much public comment at this time.

R. E. Drennon announced a play at the Colledge Auditorium given by pupils of the Junior High and South ward schools that night.

The program for Friday of this week will be in charge of F. E. Chamberlain, chairman of the Vocational Service committee.

West Texas Press Association

Historical.

Texas celebrated her 97th birthday on March 2nd. It's a great state, and some of her people are in a dicken's of a fix!

Political Handicaps.

This nation has been seriously handicapped by Republican and Democratic senators. We need more United States senators, and that would also apply to Congress, too.

Oil Corporations.

On the first day of the bank moratorium, agents for the oil corporations here were notified to send in to the district offices of their companies cash and checks received every day, instead of making a monthly remittance as had been the custom. This order was given by several of the companies, and likely by all so far as we know.

Agents were directed to buy postoffice money orders with the cash, but the main idea was to get the money to headquarters, although it cost some agents as much as five dollars a day. Talk about co-operation in times of a pinch--not the oil corporations.

Public Enemies.

One of, if not the greatest enemies of the public today is the medical fakir advertising through the country weekly. We are offered advertising that will be paid for with good hard cash making it difficult to refuse the sale of space to these companies who would ruin or endanger the health of our readers for the sake of profit.

Recently we have turned down advertising of this nature that included alleged cures for rheumatism, blood pressure, varicose veins, epilepsy, indigestion, constipation, acidosis, bladder trouble, tobacco habit, etc.

The sick are ready to grasp at straws. Any remedy that will hold out any hope at all, is instantly tried out. Only a very few patent medicines have merit. We refuse to pass on to our readers the wares of any questionable commodity of any kind, and more especially a medicine unless we know it to possess genuine merit.

Legal Highjacking.

The second article taken from the report of the Senatorial Investigating Committee appears in this issue of the Leader. Americans as a whole do not want the truth if they can be supplied with flattery and lurid statements. We have ignorantly patted ourselves on the back and boasted until we got to believing our own lies. We actually thought we were smart, highly civilized and a lot of other bunk that means nothing when the light of common sense is turned on.

Read this article referred to above on page six of this issue. Many of our readers will be surprised to learn about the bold legal highjacking that is going on, has been going on for some time while the taxpayers paid the bill.

These articles are printed for the information of those who want to know more about their state and the manipulation of our laws. It is well to obey an obnoxious law, but it is no disgrace to seek a change in such law at the earliest possible moment. If you favor a change, write your state representative and state senator making a complaint in such terms that there will be no mistake about what you mean.

Come For High Postage.

According to a report of the Postmaster General, the loss on handling parcel post for the past year was $30,081,000. Premium paid American vessels carrying mail was $18,911,474.60. Excess paid for carrying mail by airplane above what the regular cost would have been by land totaled $17,167,501.04. Mail carried postage free for members of Congress cost the nation $723,671.

Here is a loss of $56,834,245.64 to be made up by first-class or letter postage. That is why we have 3-cent postage.

The parcel post item should be abolished. That job belongs to the railroads and truck lines.

It is not necessary to ship mail across the ocean on American vessels if there is a cheaper method. Some vessels have been paid more than $4,000 a pound for carrying mail under contract from the Carolinas to England.

Airplane mail is a good thing provided the sender pays the bill. If the interested parties are unwilling to pay the price, why compel every one who mails an ordinary letter to help make up the deficit?

If congressmen mailed nothing but official mail, the cost would be very small. Too often a member will make a rip-roaring speech either for or against a certain measure. This speech is printed at government expense and mailed at government expense to people on a broadcast basis to further sentiment or kill it as the desire may be. In other words, the franking privilege is frequently used with which to play politics.

Bank Moratorium.

After eighteen states had declared a "moratorium" on their banking institutions, it naturally followed that Texas would be forced to do the same thing to prevent the withdrawal of large deposits of companies wishing to get the money back east in the gambling section.

To have withdrawn millions of dollars from Texas banks, would have wrought havoc in financial circles. Bankers and business men conferred with the Banking Commissioner down at Austin and asked the Governor to issue a proclamation tying up deposits to hold them in the state until a law could be passed that would be fair to depositors, bank and every one interested. The Governor issued such proclamation upon request just as eighteen other governors of the various states had done within a few days.

Our local banks are strong and needed no such moratorium, neither did the Hedley bank, but to make it fair to all bankers over the state, the order was made state wide. Our local bankers were unwilling at first to abide by the order until they found out that such an order was compulsory, and to remain open would be a violation of the law. Our bankers are not to blame in any sense. The deposits are safe and there is no need to worry.

In connection with this "affair", one cannot help but think how people will become alarmed over nothing. There has been times when laws have been passed with reference to the manipulations of the Federal Reserve banking system that meant far more detriment to our people, but they said nothing because they knew nothing about it. They later found out something about it when they asked for a loan from a country bank that was operating in connection with the federal reserve system.

It is far better to bring the matter to a show-down right now. Suspense becomes wearisome and there has been plenty of suspense affecting millions of our people. We need more protection. We need more common sense. We need a banking system that will not permit the big fish to eat up the little ones--and it's coming soon.

Roosevelt's Address.

While his talk as a whole was and is most encouraging, the two outstanding points in the inaugural address of President Roosevelt Saturday were:

"Finally, in our progress toward a resumption of work we require two safeguards against a return of the evils of the old order; there must be a strict supervision of all banking and credits and investments; there must be an end to speculation with other people's money, and there must be provision for an adequate but sound currency.

Then after outlining the duties of the national law-making bodies, he said:

"But in the event that the congress shall fail to take one of these two courses, and in the event that the national emergency is still critical, I shall not evade the clear course of duty that will then confront me. I shall ask the congress for the one remaining instrument to meet the crisis--broad executive power to wage a war against the emergency, as great as the power that would be given to me if we were in fact invaded by a foreign foe.

"For the trust reposed in me I will return the courage and the devotion that befit the time. I can do no less.

In speaking of the condition of the common people, he expressed a warmth of feeling in the following language:

"Primarily, this is because the rulers of the exchange of mankind's goods have failed through their own stubbornness and their own incompetence, have admitted their failure and abdicated. Practices of the unscrupulous money changers stand indicted in the court of public opinion, rejected by the hearts and minds of men.

The President further dedicated his efforts to the service of his people in these words:

"The money changers have fled from their high seats in the temple of our civilization. We may now restore that temple to the ancient truths. The measure of the restoration lies in the extent to which we apply social values more noble than mere monetary profit.

"Happiness lies not in the mere possession of money; it lies in the joy of achievement, in the thrill of creative effort. The joy and moral stimulation of work no longer must be forgotten in the mad chase of evanescent profits. These dark days will be worth all they cost us if they teach us that our true destiny is not to be ministered unto but to minister to ourselves and to our fellowmen.

"Recognition of the falsity of material wealth as the standard of success goes hand in hand with the abandonment of the false belief that public office and high political position are to be valued only by the standards of pride of place and personal profit; and there must be an end to a conduct in banking and in business which too often has given to a sacred trust the likeness of callous and selfish wrongdoing. Small wonder that confidence languishes, for it thrives only on honesty, on honor, on the sacredness of obligations, on faithful protection, on unselfish performance; without them it can not live.

"Restoration calls, however, not for changes in ethics alone. This nation asks for action, and action now."

TEMPLE OF TRUTH

By the Apostle

Ever since coming to the rescue of the women who wanted to wear pajamas and things, some of the women who object, have made it plenty hot for the old Apostle. Look at that picture again and you can locate his hiding place. Many a fairly good man hiked down to shoot a little pool with the boys when his women folks made it so hot for him that he could not stay at home.

A man on the street yesterday said the sage of this column was always defending the women about something, but never said a word in defense of the rights of the men. Say, pardner, you never had any rights after you got married, and you did not have anything to brag about before.

Speaking of men's rights, the boys of today, or many of them who expect to be married men in the next few years, are taking home economics in our public schools. They are smart boys. They know that they will have to cook and tat, and sew and sing lullabies and they might as well learn it now and do a good job of it later.

Why down at Ft. Worth and Dallas the men folks can't see a boxing or wrestling match any more. Everything has been cut out. Did they sit down and bemoan the loss of what little liberty they ever had? Not much! The wisest of 'em got together and began to organize "tweedie clubs" and they have plenty of 'em now. They meet, look sad and sit around and tweedie their thumbs. That may be wrong, but it is far less harmless than playing dominoes.

Then this bank moratorium hasn't done us men folks any good—not a blamed bit. It won't be three weeks until most married men will have to sit on the front porch where the public can watch him, except for the time that his wife watches him in the kitchen while he cooks the family meal. He hasn't any money, and if he had, he couldn't get it.

Do something for the men? Wish I could, boys. This may sound like a lot of foolishness, but about half of it is a fact. When you come right down to the common sense of the whole thing, a few gossiping character assassins want everybody to live as they live, do as they do, and when they don't, it's just too bad. A few men and women in every section proceed to make life miserable for the rest of the folks who are always in the big majority, but can't help themselves.

If a lot of folks had about six inches of their mouths sewed up from each corner, the country would be a lot safer for democracy, personal liberty, decency and right living.

This is 1933 and we might as well make up our minds to that effect. Habits and customs have changed a lot in the past thirty years but some don't seem to have found it out. Most people are content to let well enough alone, attend strictly to their own affairs and let every one else do the same. It will be a great day when we all come to our senses.

I knew a man one time who rode to his wife's funeral with a woman to whom he was married three weeks later. He threw a fit at the cemetery and put on a sad show and all that, but I also found out later that it was the "expense" of getting married all over again that was eating on him, and not the death of his first wife. Folks are funny about some things, you know, and we all talk too blamed much about mortuaries and moratoriums, both being something alike.

Then the sun breaks through the rift in the clouds and Mrs. Lena Dilli brings in a fine home-made cream cheese and a jar of chili Saturday. She is a Swiss-German and what she has forgotten about making cheese isn't much. This is the second cheese she has given the old Apostle and there is nothing better made on a farm.

Mrs. Dilli was sick a long time last summer, I visited her because there is no better mother, finer neighbor or sympathetic friend than she. It was my pleasure to see that she got something to read and kill time while she was bed-ridden. She never forgets a kindness because she is willing to pass it on to some one else. She's able to get around in fine shape now and she has bushels and bushels of friends who are glad to know it. Thanks a lot, Mrs. Dilli.

How do you like the way the streets are being graded and dragged? The city force has been doing more work on the streets here lately than ever before and somebody is due a lot of credit for looking after the most neglected end of the city's business. That somebody happens to be Joe Holland Jr. Joe is on the City Commission and has charge of the streets. There is no partiality shown and all you folks ought to give him a hand. In the meantime, the writer wants to thank the workmen for the excellent class of work they are doing, and the folks who have nice things to say about it ought to go to the parties personally and express their appreciation. Most all of us like to know that we are getting "somewhere" with our good intentions at least a part of the time.

A man down at Childress last week was given 30 days for carrying brass knuckles. In the good old days, boys carried tub handles and one buxom brother made a pretty good instrument of destruction out of the ring off a neckyoke. He knocked down 8 men at one dance and no telling how many at the second, only he failed to show up at the second.

Some of the boys who happened to get hold of a real "knuck" used it as a pattern and from the impression of the one knuck in red clay molded several out of lead, babbitt or anything else that would melt. Boys don't do such things now, they've learned better.

Get Rid of That SORE THROAT!

Any little soreness in the throat grows rapidly worse if neglected. Crush some tablets of genuine Bayer Aspirin in some water, and gargle at once. This gives you instant relief, and reduces danger from infection. One good gargle and you can feel safe. If all soreness is not gone promptly, repeat. There's usually a cold with the sore throat, so before gargling take two tablets to throw off your cold, headache, stiffness or other cold symptoms. Bayer Aspirin relieves neuralgia, neuritis, too. You may use it freely, it does not hurt the heart.

Then the Pig Walked Away

I was out upon a flicker, And had much—too much of liquor And I must admit I was quite—very quite pie-eyed.

Then my legs began to stutter, And I lay down in the gutter, And a pig arrived and lay down by my side.

As I lay there in the gutter With my heartstrings all aflutter, A lady passed and was heard to say:

"You can't tell the man who boozes, By the company he chooses."

And the pig got up and slowly walked away.

THE GOOD-NIGHT ANGEL

The good-night angel comes at eve Across the quiet hills, And tucks the sleepy blossoms in Beside the meadow rills. On uplands wide each drowsy bird He cradles in its nest, And in the dewy valley far Rocks the wild winds to rest.

He pauses in his gracious guise Where little children play, And blesses each before he speeds Upon his kindly way.

And ere he passes back to heaven Beyond the sunset bars, To watch the babies, birds and buds,

For lamps he light the stars.

How to train BABY'S BOWELS

Babies, bottle-fed or breast-fed, with any tendency to be constipated, would thrive if they received daily half a teaspoonful of this old family doctor's prescription for the bowels.

That is one sure way to train tiny bowels to healthy regularity. To avoid the fretfulness, vomiting, crying, failure to gain, and other ills of constipated babies.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is good for any baby. For this, you have the word of a famous doctor. Forty-seven years of practice taught him just what babies need to keep their little bowels active, regular; keep little bodies plump and healthy. For Dr. Caldwell specialized in the treatment of women and little ones. He attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby.

Glenwood School News

Two of our pupils, J. P. and Roy Timmons have moved. We were very sorry to see them go and wish for them good luck.

The program of the B Natural Club was especially good this Friday. The small pupils are taking quite an interest in being on to do their best which is very good. Story telling and parliamentary rules of order are being especially stressed.

Since Thursday was such a pretty day, we began to feel 'springified' and went on a picnic during the noon hour. Everyone enjoyed it so much that we plan to go again.

Monthly examinations have been causing quite a stir, but they are over now. The grades are not out yet so we are still optimistic (that's a good word).

COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

By Sloan Baker

County Supt. Schools

A number of the Donley county schools this week have called meetings of the patrons and trustees to form additional appropriations for the public schools next year. The present appropriation will not allow but eight or nine dollars per capita next year, the schools of the county believe that sixteen dollars should be the minimum. The schools in general favor the following:

- (1) Retaining the six year age limit law.
- (2) Apportionment of a third of the gasoline tax.
- (3) A sales tax for public school purposes only.
- (4) State apportionment based on the Census.

President Stillwell of the State Teachers Association says, "The fight for the support of the schools cannot be won by any number of men working at Austin before committees or with individual legislators. It can be won only at home in the districts of the individual legislators." We the citizens of Donley County should petition our Representatives and Governor for the laws that will make enough revenue available.

The Principal-Trustees Association Executive Committee has been appointed by the President, Mr. G. G. Reeves. On account of the distance of the schools from a central meeting place, it has been thought advisable to divide the county into five districts, with one trustee and one principal from each district on the executive committee. The President and County Superintendent have made the following divisions: District (1), Watkins, Skillet, Glenwood, Whitefish with Trustee T. E. Crisp of Whitefish and Prin. D. P. Smith of Skillet on the county executive committee; District (2), Jericho, Goldston, Martin, and Ashtola, with Trustee Geo. Shoop of Jericho and Prin. Sid Thomas of Ashtola on the county executive committee; District (3), Chamberlain, Windy Valley, Hudgins, and Bairfield, with Trustee R. F. Wiedman of Bairfield and Prin. Clarence Jackson of Chamberlain on the county executive committee; District (4), Smith, Giles, McKnight, Bray with Trustee B. A. Keyser, Bray school and Prin. Joe Baker of Giles on the executive committee of the county; District (5), Fairview, Sunnyview, Pleasant Valley and Hackberry with Trustee K. C. Read of Fairview and Mrs. John Naylor of Hackberry on the county executive committee. The first meetings for each district will be in the following places on the night of Friday, March 31st: District 1 at Whitefish, District 2 at Martin, District 3 at Windy Valley, District 4 at McKnight, District 5 at Sunnyview. The members of the executive committee from each district will have charge of the organization at each meeting, and will outline the first program.

The Pleasant Valley school pupils furnished an enjoyable program for the joint meeting of the patrons of the Pleasant Valley and Hackberry schools last Friday evening. It was decided at this meeting to consolidate these two districts and place the new consolidated school half way between the present schools. A committee was appointed to work out further plans. Mr. J. A. Meaders of Pleasant Valley is chairman of this committee which will meet at the home of Mr. Nelse Robinson Wednesday night of this week.

The Class B basketball meet at Hedley last Friday and Saturday showed that there was a number of teams in the county about alike as there were a number of games won by one and two point margins. Giles senior boys furnished the biggest thrill by beating Lelia Lake by a score of 41 to 13. Giles Junior boys won the finals in Junior class. Chamberlain Senior boys and girls took first honors in their class. Lelia Lake girls, Giles Senior boys and Goldston Juniors were runners up in the finals.

Interscholastic League contestants are working hard for the meet to be held in Clarendon, March 24th and 25th.

One of the added features of the basketball Class B Tournament in Hedley last Saturday night was the affray between two teams composed of the Coaches of the county, including Roy Stargel and the county Superintendent.

Coach Tarp Newman captained the Greens composed of George Kavanaugh, and Dave Waldron forwards; Sid Thomas and Bob Weatherly, guards; Capt. Tarp, center. The Blacks were captained by Bill Payne ably assisted by Roy Stargel and Kenny Lane, forwards with the goal being protected by Bowen, Gatewood and Jackson, while the center was played by the C. S.

The Greens took the lead with a long shot by Tarp Newman. From that goal to the end of the game the fans were on their feet. Tarp Newman charged to the goal time and again with two opponents hanging on to his arms. Bob Weatherly of the Greens proved himself to be a very practiced huffer, drawing penalties for the same. During the entire contest Roy Stargel showed himself to be master of every phase of the game. Kenny Lane awoke, untracked and played as in former High school days, being high point man for the Blacks. Dave Waldron was the most spectacular player with his hop skip and jump and airdrome shooting. Sid Thomas, the veteran of many a basketball fray, almost threw a goal in the third quarter. George Kavanaugh undoubled, making the longest field shot for the Greens. Baker was continually picking him self up after the charges by of Tarp, but this did not interfere with his passing to Kenny Lane. Jackson of the Blacks swung the cow hide to Stargel, who chunked the ball into the hoop. Bowen was the most consistent opposition against the Greens, continually blocking players and plays. Gatewood of the Blacks kept the Green Triple-threat men from scoring. The Blacks showed the excellent coaching of Bill Payne by emerging with the long end of a 34-28 score. The official of the battle was Dick Nichols, who had to make one decision by flipping a coin.

BUTCHERING BEEF

The following article was taken from Progressive Farmer and is being published by the request of M. T. (Doc) Howard:

The Jersey steer I kept for meat Was not exactly trim and neat, But rather coarse and rough and rangy.

And if the truth be known quite mangy.

His parents were without renown, His family tree was long since down;

A country bull by inclination, A steer by man's mean machination.

His faults we knew, but didn't figure

A beef calf need be any bigger— For beef is beef whichever critter You chose from out your bovine litter.

Or so we thought and so we planned it, Until we up and killed and canned it.

When we had stunned and stuck and bled it

We found we hadn't overfed it: Three hundred pound he weighed on foot,

One hundred when the meat was cut.

When we had turned him inside out,

Our T-bone dream went up the spout:

That the bone was there, no doubt of that,

On which was strung tough meat, not fat.

"A cat ham," laughed Si Smith, my neighbor,

Who shared with me my beef and labor.

"As steak your meat will make good chili—

I'd just as soon cut up my billy." The lesson that I learned is brief—

A Jersey steer darn sure ain't beef.

MELLOWED
MILLION

While fearful monsters sported on the shores of PENNSYLVANIA

A HUNDRED MILLION years ago—millions of years before even these strange monsters sported in the seas—nature formed the Bradford-Allegheny oil pool.

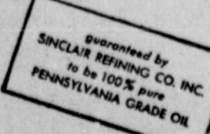

That was in the Devonian Age. In this age the conditions of heat, pressure and raw materials in the Bradford-Allegheny District were most favorable to forming high grade crude for lubricating oil—so favorable that today Bradford-Allegheny crude commands the highest price per barrel of all Pennsylvania grade crudes. Just note the prices in any petroleum journal.

When you buy the new, improved Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil for your car you get a pure Pennsylvania grade oil that is made 100% from Bradford-

Allegheny crude. You get an oil that has gone through the most up-to-date refining processes in the biggest single refinery using Pennsylvania grade crude exclusively—an oil that is triple-filtered, de-waxed at as low as 60° F. below zero—and guaranteed to flow at zero.

Have us change your oil to Sinclair Pennsylvania according to the Sinclair Law of Lubrication. Then examine this oil after long, hard driving. Note how it stands up—how it comes out of the crankcase almost as good as it went in. Note, especially, how little has been used up—positive, visible proof that this rich, Pennsylvania oil protects the last mile as well as the first!

A. MULTIPLE TRIALS

In a number of counties the Fee System has caused a multiplicity of trials and sentences. In our opinion the defendant could be tried under the "Habitual Criminal" Statute one time, and be imprisoned for the remainder of his life at a considerable less cost to the State of Texas.

For example, Cal English is now serving sentences aggregating 252 years in thirty-nine cases from Navarro County, one case from Limestone County and one case from Robertson County, for robbery, burglary, theft, and attempt to wreck a train.

Likewise Sonny Miller and Tom Henry Armstrong are serving sentences aggregating 254 years each from the same Counties, in companion cases.

In all, these three companion defendants were convicted in 134 cases in three Counties, and the State Treasurer paid the officials who participated in their trials, sums aggregating $6,322.95.

We further wish to call your attention to a press notice issued November 23, 1932, wherein a record is given of the convictions of one Jack Carter, as follows:

Convicted at Abilene of Robbery, given 25 years; convicted in Dallas of Robbery, given 99 years; convicted at Dallas of Robbery, given 50 years; convicted at Houston, of Robbery, given 25 years; convicted at Sulphur Springs of Robbery, given Life; convicted at Wichita Falls of Robbery, given 99 years; convicted at Wichita Falls of Robbery, given 10 years; convicted at Wichita Falls of Robbery, given Life—A total of 308 years, plus 2 life sentences.

At the time of writing this report we are unable to give the exact cost to the State in the above cases, but we are of the opinion that this multiplicity of trials and sentences is wholly unnecessary and involves a useless expenditure of vast sums of State moneys in fees paid to the various officials taking part in these trials. In our opinion, if no fees were paid to our officials, one sentence of "life" or a large number of years would suffice, and that more criminals of this type would be tried under the "Habitual Criminal" Statute, thus effecting a huge saving of our tax money and at the same time more permanently rid society of our habitual High-Jackers.

B. Concurrent Sentences.

Closely related to the above type of practice prevalent in this State is the subject of duplication of fees in concurrent sentences. There exists throughout the State to some extent, and in some Counties to a great extent, the practice of agreement between the prosecuting attorney and the defendant, where the defendant has two or more cases pending in the same or in different Counties, whereby the defendant pleads guilty to one offense, receives a sentence of perhaps two years in that case and a like sentence is assessed in each of the other cases and made to run concurrent with the one two year sentence.

For example, a defendant was indicted in cases Nos. 3412 to 3420, inclusive, for selling liquor in a certain County. He was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary in each case, all to run concurrent. Eight of the cases cost the State $62.00 each, while one cost $30.00, making a total of $526.00.

Another defendant was indicted ten times in another County for selling liquor. He was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary in each case, two cases to be cumulative, the other eight to run concurrent. The State paid fees of over $30.00 in each case in addition to approximately $20.00 each in five other cases that were dismissed.

The following is a copy of a transcript taken from the records of the Texas Prison System, showing ing the abuse of concurrent sentences in several Counties in this State:

B. 1.—The Donald Sessions Case. Feb. 26, 1929. As Donald Sessions No. 60823, received Huntsville, Texas Prison, from Harris County, charge felony theft (2 cases) sentenced Feb. 23, 1929, to serve 2 years (2 & 2 con.)

June 12, 1929. Released on bench warrant to Sheriff of Austin County.

June 22, 1929. Returned from bench warrant Austin County with a new conviction of 5 years which absorbs the unexpired portion of sentence as No. 60823. See No. 61770.

June 22, 1929. As Donald Sessions, No. 61770, received Huntsville Texas Prison, from Austin County, charge robbery with firearms; sentenced June 17, 1929, to serve 5 years. (Concurrent herewith is the unexpired portion of sentence from Harris County under No. 60823.)

Feb. 9, 1930. Released on bench warrant to Sheriff of Bastrop County.

Mar. 2, 1930. Returned from bench warrant Bastrop County to Huntsville Prison, with two new convictions. (Was bench warrant from Bastrop County to Hill County while on bench warrant from Huntsville Prison) of 6 years (2 to 6 & 2 to 5 concurrent. See new number No. 63423.)

Mar. 2, 1930. As Donald Sessions, No. 63423, received Huntsville Texas Prison from Hill & Bastrop Counties, charge burglary (2 cases); sentenced Feb. 11, 1930, to serve 6 years (2 to 6 & 2 to 5 concurrent.) Concurrent herewith is the unexpired portion of the 5 year sentence from Austin County as No. 61770.

April 14, 1930. Released on bench warrant to Sheriff of Bosque County.

April 16, 1930. Returned from bench warrant Bosque County with two new sentences aggregating 6 years. See new No. 63488.

April 16, 1930. As Donald Sessions, No. 63488, received Huntsville Texas Prison, from Bosque County, charge burglary & theft over $50.00; sentenced April 16, 1930, to serve 6 years (2 to 3 & 2 to 6 concurrent). Concurrent herewith is the unexpired portion of sentences from Harris, Hill and Bastrop Counties.

June 12, 1930. Released on bench warrant to Sheriff of Bell County.

July 12, 1930. Returned from bench warrant Bell County to Huntsville Prison with two 2 year sentences concurrent. (While on this bench warrant, Sessions was transferred from Bell County to McLennan County where he received 8 new convictions cumulating into 24 years (8—2 to 3's cumulative), which absorbs the unexpired portion of sentences as No. 63488. See new No. 64184.

July 12, 1930. As Donald Sessions, No. 64184, received Huntsville Texas Prison, from McLennan and Bell Counties, charge burglary & theft over $50.00; sentenced June 23rd, 1930, to serve 24 years. (8—2 to 3's cumulative and 2—2's concurrent). Concurrent herewith is the unexpired portion of sentences from Harris, Hill, Bastrop and Bosque Counties.

Oct. 25, 1930. Released on bench warrant to Sheriff of Midland County.

Jan. 19, 1931. Returned from bench warrant Midland County with a new conviction of 2 years which is cumulative herewith, making a grand total of 26 years.

May 21, 1931. Released on bench warrant to Sheriff of Hill County.

June 3, 1931. Returned from bench warrant Hill County with 2 new convictions of 7 years (2—2 to 7's concurrent).

Oct. 14, 1931. Released on bench warrant to Sheriff of Reagan County.

Sessions has not, as yet, been returned from this bench warrant to the penitentiary.

It is obvious from a study of the above case that only two purposes were served in these many concurrent convictions of this convict taken from the penitentiary on a bench warrant. First, the officials were interested solely in collecting fees from the State and second, the convict was interested in possibly making an escape and at the same time enjoying the scenery of this State and getting out of work. In this instance Sessions was taken from the Penitentiary on October 14, 1931. He escaped from Reagan County four days later and his whereabouts are still unknown at this time.

The case of Sessions is not an isolated one, but one of numerous cases that could be cited.

In the majority of cases in which sentences are made to run concurrent there is only one real trial, but there is a complete set-up of fees paid in each case as though there had been separate cases, entirely unrelated. We are recommending that such fees be paid in only one case of this type.

Examining Trials.

Your Committee is convinced that many Justices of the Peace and County Attorneys of this State have collected fees for holding examining trials when in truth and in fact no such trials were held and no testimony was taken down in writing as provided by law. Said officials merely have copied lists of names from the Grand Jury Docket and sent in their claims to the State and received their fees.

The cost of holding examining trials in this State is stupendous. For example, in the case of Cal English of Navarro County, which will be mentioned in this report elsewhere, English had 39 examining trials for which the peace officer received $4.00 for each trial, Justice of the Peace $3.00 for each trial and the County Attorney $5.00 in each trial or a total of $12.00 in each case for the 39 cases, or a sum total of $468.00 paid by the State of Texas.

If examining trials are necessary for the proper enforcement of the law, your Committee recommends that the above mentioned law be strengthened by compelling the County Attorney to file all transcripts of testimony on each case with the District Clerk at the time of filing his own account, and that the District Clerk shall keep such testimony in his file for a period of not less than five years.

Directly in point is the following record: In a certain County in this State two hundred and sixty-three felony cases were dismissed during the February, 1930, term of the District Court, at a cost of $9,152.15 to the State of Texas in fees alone.

The following summary shows the above 263 cases classified as to nature of crime:

Violation of Liquor Laws, 222; Burglary, 14; Felony Theft, 7; Murder, 5; Forgery, 4; Cutting Fence, 4; Hog Theft, 3; Cattle Theft, 2; Chicken Theft, 1; Perjury, 1.—Total, 263.

Below is submitted a detail of fees paid by the State of Texas in the above 263 cases:

County Attorney—Examining Trials, $1060.00; Justices of Peace—Holding Examining Trials, $621.00; Sheriff—Examining Trials, $836.00; Sheriff—Mileage and Fees for making arrests, summoning witnesses, approving bonds etc., for District Court after indictments, $4005.15—$4811.15. tion, Dis

District Clerk—Final Disposition Dismissed $2630.00. Total $9152.15

On investigation we found that the County Attorney and the Sheriff had hired a negro "undercover man" to gather information of prohibition violations, and that said informant's own reputation was in such bad repute that no convictions could be had on his testimony.

The present law provides that the testimony in examining trials be reduced to writing before the County Attorney can claim his fee. Our attention was called to the excessive number of examining trials held in a certain County.

There were purported to have been 100 such trials held on one day and 64 such trials on another; and since this County is very small with a population of only 9,711 people, we subpoenaed the County Attorney to appear before this Committee and bring with him the testimony taken as provided by law in these trials.

The County Attorney appeared before the Committee, but did not produce the testimony. He testified that the testimony had actually been reduced to writing and that it was subsequently misplaced.

Your Committee is convinced that examining trials as now conducted in a large number of Counties of this State serve little or no use whatever in assisting the State in the prosecution of those charged with crime, and is being used solely as a pretext for collecting fees from the State.

A Bill on this subject has been prepared and will be introduced in the Regular Session of the 43rd Legislature.

Our Weekly CHURCH CHAT

W. E. FERRELL
Minister First Christian Church

Theme: "THE CHURCH LOST AND FOUND."

V. The Restoration Movement. We have learned that during the Reformation Period of Church History, that great leaders gave their lives trying to reform the church, and its program. Through many years they labored in this Reformation work. They did much and lasting good, but the movement was a failure, but it paved the way for the next great religious movement, the Restoration Movement.

The aim of the leaders of the Restoration period was different from that of the leaders of the Reformation. The aim of Luther was to reform the Roman Catholic church, while John Wesley lived and died in the Church of England, and had no intentions of organizing another religious body. The aim of the leaders of the Restoration movement was not to reform, but to restore the New Testament church. They sought to go back beyond England, and the Episcopal church, they went back beyond Germany and the Lutheran church, still backward they pushed beyond Geneva and the Presbyterian church, beyond Constantinople and the Greek church, back of Rome and the Roman Catholic church, backward they went until they reached the starting point of the church which was in Jerusalem.

These leaders labored to restore the purpose and the plan of the New Testament church. Its organization it was shown to be a democracy, with no place for the ecclesiastical spirit which had been handed down from the Dark Ages.

DOROTHY DARNT

The New Testament plan of congregational government, consisting of two groups of church officers, known as elders and deacons, was adopted. They diligently sought to restore the divine creed, for all could not accept the Augsburg Confession, the Westminster Confession, or the Thirty-nine Articles or any of the many man-made creeds which were in existence at that time.

These leaders discovered that the Scriptures taught that members of the church were all members of the same family and should wear the family name. They found that the early disciples were called Christians, they also found that human names caused strife and jealousy among the various religious bodies, and that they were contrary to the teaching of Christ and the apostles. These leaders appealed to all religious bodies to cast off every man made creed, name, or doctrine and accept and hold on to the New Testament and its teaching only. (Next week, "The Church Found.")

BOOK TALK By Lallah Wright

Cellini (1500-1571) created a beauty through his prolific art which bestowed upon the Italy of the Renaissance its greatest glory. Because of his great accomplishment, and because of his interesting voluptuous life, his friends urged him to leave the world one more gift: his autobiography. He dictated to a fourteen year old boy the story of his life when he was 58, believing that autobiographies should never be written until after the age of fifty. In spite of his meritorious review, I believe that his aim in writing was too self-centered: he wrote magniloquently to let the world know what a great fellow he had been. The entire book is imbued with laudatory terms of himself, never omitting a space available to egotize. Cellini is wonderful, says Cellini. The book's merit lies in its definite description of the social life of the sixteenth century, its revelation of the Italians' sensuous enthusiasm for the creation of beauty, its versatility, idealism and abounding vitality. Cellini is not remembered by his success as a sculptor only, but by his specialty in love-making seducing women with delight.

Jacques Casanova, "the liveliest expression of the eighteenth century," ended his "Memoirs" November 17, 1797, and permitted it to be used, finally, in any way desired by his literary friends. His book is similar to Cellini's because of its erotic quality; both tell incredible stories. The only difference, according to French critics, is that Cellini lied three-fourths of the time and Casanova told the truth, even if the truth damaged himself. Casanova was not so pre-tentious. His "Memoirs" were so entertaining, so frank, and so incredible that for many years over fifty authors devoted their time and wits to the study of Casanova and to the authenticity of his accounts. The results of these studies was a complete review of the things Casanova had written in his book, and a convinced group of authorities. Casanova became famous by a host of distinguished readers and by "underhand" readers—the envious, the hypocritical and the presumably ascetic but actually and secretly vulgar members of society.

George Sand wrote of him: "A strange man who made himself valued everywhere and was everywhere worthless." The truth of this statement is manifested in Casanova's account, for he was truly an obscene but delightful fool, and a peripatetic chooser of sweethearts, who was welcome in any company, and worthless in every country. Activity, energy, inventions and courage were his elements.

Casanova's "Memoirs" excel in thrilling adventures, told not in the monotonous day-to-day diary form, but in a series of narrative chapters. This is another of the book's axioms. Its versatility delights the modern reader; the charm of the lucky libertine is exciting.

Casanova has become a class in literature on adventure, and an immortal in literature on love.

WINDY VALLEY SCHOOL NEWS

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in a basketball game which ended in a score of 18 to 20 in favor of Chamberlain, the curtain on the 1933 basketball season for the boys of Windy Valley came to a close. The boys have played a 14 game schedule and have come out on the little end of the score only twice. They have played clean, hard fought games and the sportsmanship which they have portrayed was of the highest quality.

It is our spirit to let by gone be by gone, so with the passing on basketball we will with all the spirit and enthusiasm that is ours to arouse we will go in to win honors in the coming County Track Meet and in the County Base Ball League.

Literary Society met last Thursday night with the best program and the largest crowd of the year. The next program will consist of a Three Act Farce Comedy entitled "The Man from Borneo" together with Current Events, jokes and music.

Windy Valley will be the first place in the county to have the honor of entertaining the Donley County Trustee-Principal's Organization, which was organized in Clarendon last Saturday. Under the leadership of Mr. Robert G. Dillard, to whom was given the responsible office of Corresponding Secretary, the plans for their entertainment are readily taking form. This meeting will be on the 14th of April and every one is cordially invited and urged to attend.

Mr. Dillard received the following books for the library this week: Little Men, Little Women, Joe's Boys, Old Fashion Girl, Men of America, Our Presidents, Statesmen of the old South, Call of the Wild, The Story of a Bad Boy, Robinson Crusoe, Swift Family Robinson, O Henry's Short Stories, Declaration Books, Coronado's Children, Treasure Island, Roosevelt's Book, together with 14 copies of McMillan's Pocket Classics.

The Amarillo Daily News is sent complimentary to the library, and one of the biggest problems that Mr. Dillard has is to keep the children from fighting over the paper to see who will read it first.

The one big thing for which we are grateful this year is the fact that through the cooperation of the Book Club of Clarendon and the work of our teachers we have made a long step in encouraging the children to read better literature. Windy Valley was adopted by the Clarendon Book Club and they have supplied many many magazines of the leading, recognized standard type. For this kindness mere words cannot express our gratitude. To supplement this list Mr. Dillard subscribes to the following list for the High School, Readers Digest, Times Magazine, Review of Reviews, American Magazine, Colliers Magazine and the Literary Digest. The children say that it would be impossible for Mr. Dillard to teach school without these magazines.

WANTED: TWELVE MILLION JOBS:

If an individual analysis could be made of the lives of a majority of the people who are out of employment it would, no doubt, be a revelation. Not in all cases, of course, because thousands of people in all professions who are well qualified are out of employment. In a majority of cases we would likely find that the individual failed to realize soon enough in life the importance of a practical training in some good vocation or profession.

For instance, look what Radio is doing. Could our fore-fathers have had the opportunities that Radio offers to prepare themselves, we feel sure they would have welcomed them with outstretched arms. This is the age of Radio and it is THE means of communication of the future. It is true that radio is yet a mere infant, and only a few people have any conception of what a giant it is to become. With its growth is coming a new order of things.

Never in the history of the world has the future held such opportunities for a real service for those who are well trained in radio. Unlike most of the professions, Radio is not over crowded. So far, it has attracted only young men into the profession, and this means more jobs with better pay for those who are qualified.

Every young man who is casting about for a suitable vocation would certainly do well to investigate the possibilities offered in Radio. The South's foremost School of Radio is operated by the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration at Tyler, Texas. An interesting booklet descriptive of this big school will be sent to any interested. Address the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration, Tyler, Texas, and ask for booklet "R-6."

SUNNYVIEW

A great surprise awaited Mrs. Sada Gray Payne (who recently married Mr. Gene Payne of Ash-tola) in her school room Friday afternoon. When on being asked to open the door of one of the class

Chamberlain School News

Each basketball player came home last Saturday night with a glad heart. Both boys and girls won the rural and class B meet. The Chamberlain motto is to win "fair and square." We won, but not easily. We really played ball and played hard. The result was that we won. The boys played Windy Valley, McKnight, Ashtola and Giles. The girls played Ashtola and Lelia Lake. We enjoy playing basketball and regret that the season is over.

A banquet is going to be given in honor of the boys and girls of the ball team. This is the first year the boys have won 1st, but is the third consecutive year the girls have won.

Mr. Jackson has started training his boys for track. They hope to win in several events at the Inter-scholastic League meet.

Miss Crawford has charge of the Essay writing and Declamation. Miss Watters has charge of the Spelling.

We are going to enter voley ball tennis and base ball and we are going to do our best to win.

SEVENTH GRADE

There are just two pupils in the 7th grade, both being girls and having boy nick names, Jack and Bill.

We have been studying Asia in Geography and had an interesting study of Manchuria. We are going to draw a map of it to-morrow. We have drawn a map and made an outline of every country we have studied.

We have also been studying very hard in History, Arithmetic, English, Spelling, Reading, and Civics. We have had excellent lessons every day.

THOSE WHO WATCH FROM WISTFUL WINDOWS

By Martha Haskell Clark
Those who watch from wistful windows while the world keeps holiday,
Lord, send down Thy love to fold them; take the loneliness away.

There are many, ah, so many, Lord for whom the dawn-light falls
On barren fields of bitterness, and mocking, empty walls.

Some are weary with false hopes
Some are bound by crippled feet,
Some are mother-hearted, yearning for lost foot-falls down the street

Some are sick for dreams long vanished, some for questings never known;
Some have lost a comrade's shoulder and must take the road alone

Little, watching, wistful windows—white farms ringed with northern fir,
Pillared portico and lattice where the jasmine dusk-winds stir;

Sun-baked cabin flanked with sage brush, city marble terraced white,
Or a steamer's port-holes streaming gold against a starless night.

Bless the patience and the waiting with the tread of homing feet,
Pour the wretched and the weary, wine of courage, golden-sweet;

To the fettered bring the promise of fair trails and sunny skies,
For the doubting and the lonely, set new faith within their eyes.

Those who watch from wistful windows, Lord, look down on them we pray;
Let Thy love and comfort fold them, and their hearts keep holiday.

Taylor Infant Dies Early Tuesday Morning

Funeral services were conducted at Citizens cemetery Tuesday afternoon by H. A. Harrison for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Taylor of the Chamberlain community. No minister was available at that hour due to other funerals in progress, and the fact that the parents selected Mr. Harrison to conduct the services is not only unusual for a church layman, but an indication of his character and reputation among those who live near and know him best.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. McLean of Grand Prairie visited her aunt, Mrs. Monica Harvey Friday.

Ray Wadsworth of Longview spent the week end here as a guest of Ray Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Bones Jr. attended the Fat Stock Show at Amarillo Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wilson have temporarily taken up residence at Alanreed where Mr. Wilson can more conveniently look after his extensive farming interests near there.
