Ruddick indicted

The Mitchell County Grand Jury returned an indictment against former Justice of the Peace Keith Ruddick Thursday afternoon.

Ruddick was indicted on a second degree felony count of theft by public servant.

The felony carries a possible two to 20 year sentence and/or a $10,000 fine.

According to Mitchell County Sheriff Pat Toombs, Ruddick turned himself in at approximately 4 p.m. Thursday afternoon and a $3,500 bond was posted by his attorney Pat Barber.

District Attorney Frank Conard said approximately $8,000 had been stolen from the JP's office Precincts 2 and 3.

According to Conard, Ruddick can either enter a plea bargain or take the case to trial.

Conard added that Ruddick has cooperated throughout the investigation.

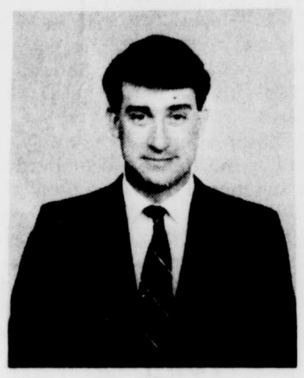

"He has cooperated fully with the [District Attorney's] office as far as being forthcoming with us," he said. "He has also indicated that he will make full restitution to the county."

Ruddick could not be reached for comment as of Friday afternoon.

Ruddick resigned as JP in July amid controversy of his handling of the finances for the office.

According to a spokesman for the county, the investigation into Ruddick was launched when county auditor Georgie Griffith found money unaccounted for.

No date has been set for a hearing, however, the case has been placed on a docket for review.

Sales tax rebates are up

Texas cities and counties show a total August sales tax rebate of $197.9 million, representing an increase of 8.5 percent in payments compared to a year ago.

Colorado City received a sales tax payment of $45,854.29, a 9.27 percent increase from its $41,963.49 in August 1993.

Westbrook is up 11.88 percent this year at $1,214.42. Last year's payment was $1,085.45.

The city of Loraine showed the county's largest increase of 23.34 percent from last year's payment of $1,277.25 to this year's $1,575.38.

The Mitchell County area has showed increased gains in employment and consumer spending.

These are attributed to the new state prison site and the construction of the state jail.

The activities surrounding these facilities have helped to attract more jobs and more spending within Mitchell County.

FRANK MYERS (L) AND RAY RITCHEY (R) discuss the Bollweevil Eradication Program prior to last Tuesday night's meeting, which was held at the C.C. Thompson Room. Myers is the statewide director of the Texas Eradication Program.

Cotton producers set vote date

About 30 cotton producers and landlords in Mitchell County met Tuesday night to discuss when the county should vote on the Boll Weevil Eradication Referendum.

The vote will be held November 15 through the local Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service.

Frank Myers, director of the Texas Eradication Program, gave a layout of the program for Mitchell County and answered the producer's many questions.

Lyndy Patton, representing Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, was also on hand to give an overview on how the zone could eradicate the boll weevil and answer questions.

Ray Ritchey, president of the executive board of the Mitchell County Cotton Producer's Board, said that after costs were looked at, many of the producers present had questions.

However. Ritchey added that the proposal did not meet with any opposition.

According to a handout on the eradication program, the estimated cost per acre without United States Department of Agriculture funding would be $74.28.

The cost for the program with USDA APHIS funding would be approximately $50.68 per acre.

Ritchey said if the program passes growers can choose between a four to ten year payment plan.

The possible assessment with bank financing per acre would be a $5 assessment for 1995, a $5 assessment for 1996, $10 assessment in 1997 and each year after that until the program is paid off.

With traditional USDA cost sharing the program would be paid for in no more than six years.

Pigskin Preview set for Monday night

The very popular pigskin preview is set for Monday night, 6:30 p.m. at Wolf Stadium.

Pigskin preview gives fans an opportunity to see the players as they are introduced and also meet them personally during the ice cream social that follows.

All football players in the CISD system (7th grade through 12th grade) will be introduced.

Also, the cheerleaders from the Middle School and High School will be introduced along with the varsity Wolf volleyball team.

The band, flag corp, and Wolverines will also be in attendence.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend and support our youngsters throughout the year.

CISD board adopts budget

The Colorado Independent School District Board of Education voted to adopt this year's proposed budget of over $9.3 million Thursday night.

CISD Business Manager and Tax Collector Geneva Findley said as part of the method used to figure out the district's proposed budget she "projects revenues to be low and expenditures to be high."

The expected revenue for the 1994-95 school year is $8.1 million. An additional $1.2 million will come out of the cash fund balance to meet this year's planned budget.

Local DARE program gets state grant

Mitchell County's Drug Abuse Resistance Education program will be among the recipients of a $14.7 million grant.

Democratic Senator Bill Sims of Paint Rock said the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse has approved the public funding for youth and adult prevention and intervention programs.

According to Mitchell County Sheriff Patrick Toombs, the county's D.A.R.E. grant will help fund a wide range of services including anti-drug information distribution, prevention education, training and administration.

The funds are made available through the Substance Abuse Prevention and Treatment Block Grant, the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act, and State General Revenue.

Sims said the grants would be used to fund 12 HIV outreach programs, five state wide prevention programs and 65 community based youth and adult prevention and intervention programs, including the Mitchell County D.A.R.E. program.

"Prevention is a key element to ending the cycle of addiction in Texas," Sims said. "Energetic enforcement of law, combined with effective prevention programs, particularly those that target our youth, are the most cost-effective ways to curtail the demand for drugs."

Sims said he regards the HIV outreach programs as particularly significant because they address the direct correlation between substance abuse and HIV.

ANDREW SOSA, MICHAEL LUERA AND ADRIAN ARELLANO are deep into their studies on the first day of school in Colorado City. They are members of Brenda Johnson's first grade class.

Stenholm picnic is set for September 10

"Welcome to Ericksdahl" will be the greeting on Saturday, September 10 as neighbors gather in Stamford for their annual picnic honoring Charlie and Cindy Stenholm.

Swedish immigrants first gathered in 1906 on 80 acres along California Creek that were once a part of the S.M. Swenson ranches and now belong to the Lutheran church.

A publication of 1918 records, "The land occupied by the Swedish and Danish people stretches from Stamford to Lueders with some of it lying in the western part of Shackelford County. Most of it is upland intersected by hills and valleys."

The first church building was a white frame structure completed in the summer of 1907 at a total cost of $2520.

Today a magnificant rock building dominates the area. Men of the congregation began digging rocks in 1932 and the building was completed in 1941.

Dr. Hugo B. Haterius had come to serve the church and the community in 1919. He dedicated his life to improving living conditions with emphasis on better farming practices.

The California Creek Soil Conservation District was organized in 1938. One of the early officers of the group was Lambert Stenholm, father of Charlie.

On September 10 a western band will provide music as friends reminisce and get in line for barbecue and watermelon. Charlie and Cindy have a farm home two miles from the picnic area.

The event will start at 4:30 p.m. For more information call (915) 773-5521.

For Your Health

Health emergency declared due to rabies outbreak

Governor Ann Richards and public health officials have declared a public health emergency due to rabies in an area extending from the Midland/Odessa area to San Angelo and south of San Antonio.

There have been no confirmed cases of rabies in Mitchell County.

Gov. Richards and state and local health officials are urging Texans to take precautions to prevent human exposure to rabies.

"Last month, I declared a public health emergency due to a wildlife rabies epidemic," Gov. Richards said. "My office has brought together state and local health officials to discuss ways to prevent the spread of rabies.

"One way to do that is through public awareness," she added.

Among the ways to prevent human exposure, health officials advise:

- Make sure pets are vaccinated annually against rabies.
- Make sure other animals in close contact with humans are also vaccinated. For example, horses, calves and lambs that are kept as pets or have regular contact with humans should be vaccinated. If in doubt, ask your veterinarian.
- Avoid contact with wildlife, particularly those exhibiting unusual behavior. During early stages of rabies, wild animals that normally avoid humans may appear friendly or be seen roaming during daylight hours. This is a danger sign. Do not approach such animals.
- Report all animal bites or exposure to a local veterinarian or public health officer immediately. Rabies is a fatal viral infection that strikes the nervous system. While there is effective medicine to treat humans, it is best to avoid exposure.

Anyone who needs help locating a veterinarian, should call the Texas Veterinary Medical Association at 1-800-489-7347 or the Texas Department of Health, Division of Zoonosis Control at (512) 458-7255.

However, without any federal help the loan could be paid off in nine years.

The boll weevil has cost Texas cotton producers an average of $25 million a year in crop loss and chemical treatments.

But, Ritchey said, the successful implementation of the program in Mitchell County "could easily amount to $1 million minimum" in production gains for the county.

Notice of Public Hearing on Tax Increase

The City of Colorado City will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1993 by 12.37 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on August 30, 1994, 5:30 p.m. at City Hall, 180 W. 3rd Street, Colorado City, Texas

FOR the proposal:	Jim Baum, Bob Reily, Walter Staats, A.W. Rowe, Patrick Parker
AGAINST the proposal:	None
PRESENT & not voting:	None
ABSENT:	Gary Redwine, Sammy Contreras

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the effective tax rate that the unit published on August 14, 1994. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$17,235	$19,721
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemption)	$ -0-	$ -0-
Average taxable value	$17,235	$19,721
Tax rate	.3763/$100	.4186/$100 (proposed)
Tax	$64.85	$82.55 (proposed)

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $17.70 or 27.29 percent compared with last year's taxes. Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by $.0423 per $100 of taxable value of 11.24 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

WOLF ROLL-OUT: Wolf quarterback Jason Castillo rolls out to attempt a pass against Bangs last Thursday. Blocking is Tim Edwards, Ty Henderson and Lynn Boyd. The Wolves host Winters next Thursday for their final scrimmage of the pre-season.

Wolves "show promise"

The Wolves scrimmaged Bangs Thursday night in Ballinger, and according to head coach Mark Howeth, "showed a lot of promise."

"We lined up with our first team offense and marched the length of the field our first two possessions," Howeth said.

"But what I was most pleased about was our intensity. "We won the hitting contest," Howeth added.

The Wolves sent three teams to Ballinger. The freshmen, JV and varsity teams all saw a lot of action.

"Our JV still has a little work to do but they will come around," Howeth said.

"The freshmen did a super job, scoring twice and holding Bangs scoreless," Howeth added.

"Winters will visit Wolf Stadium next Thursday for the Wolves' final tune-up scrimmage before their season opener against Coahoma.

The Freshmen, JV and varsity teams are expected to scrimmage Winters.
