LABOR WANTS DUNCAN NAMED FOR CABINET

American Federation Executive Commitee Wires Request to President-Elect Harding.

Memorialize Next Chief Executive to Have Man Thoroughly Representative of Working Class.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Organized labor called upon President-elect Harding today to appoint to his cabinet as secretary of labor, "a recognized representative of organized labor" and a real spokesman of the working people of our country, and who understands the toilers."

The request, made in the form of a telegram to the president-elect at St. Augustine, Florida, was declared by labor leaders to be practically an endorsement of the type of man as James Duncan of Quincy, Mass., a vice president and member of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, whom they regard as a candidate who is a "recognized representative of organized labor."

The telegram was signed by President Gompers, the member of the executive council and representatives of the national and international unions affiliated in the American Federation of Labor and the representatives of the four railroad brotherhoods.

"In view of the fact that you have under consideration for appointment as secretary of labor several candidates," said the message, "and because labor is deeply interested in who the individual will be at the head of the department of labor, we, the representatives of the national and international unions, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and representatives of the railroad brotherhoods, respectfully ask you to appoint as a member of the cabinet to be secretary of labor a member of organized labor; one who is recognized as a real spokesman of the working people of our country and who understands the toilers; one who has lived, worked and counseled with them.

"We have no desire to name any special person for this office, but we respectfully request, as citizens of our country that the man to be appointed to represent us in your cabinet shall be a recognized representative of organized labor."

The resolution authorizing the telegram was adopted here today by the labor leaders after a lengthy conference at which the cabinet situation and the incoming republican administration was discussed. While approval of Mr. Duncan's appointment to the cabinet as secretary of labor was voiced by the speakers, it was learned that it was considered inadvisable to suggest any name to the president-elect.

Lower Branch of Legislature Makes Appropriation for Soldiers and Sailors Memorial.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 24.—The house today refused to repeal the Robertson insurance law when a motion to print the bill repealing the law on a favorable minority report failed to carry. The bill was introduced by Morgan of Bexar and was reported adversely by the committee with a favorable minority report, which the house refused to adopt. A motion to reconsider and table prevailed and the bill is now dead as far as this session of the legislature is concerned.

The Robertson law was enacted in 1907 and amended in 1909. With its passage twenty-one insurance companies withdrew from Texas, two of which later returned, together with a third, the later not for a general business but for investments only.

The house bill by Teer of Williamson and others appropriating $30,000 for erecting a monument to the memory of the soldiers, sailors, marines and nurses who lost their lives in the world war was passed finally by the house without a dissenting vote. The bill provides that the monument is to be erected on the capitol grounds.

The public health committee of the house and senate in joint session today reported favorably the bill proposing to strengthen the present medical practice law. Optometrists are also exempted from provisions of the bill by an amendment.

The senate also passed finally a bill by Senator Richards of Caldwell providing that private weighers need not be deputized; also a house joint resolution amending the constitution increasing the confederate pension tax from 5 to 7 cents. The house joint resolution amending the constitution so as to provide for the sale and conveyance of property for taxes due thereon and for redemption of the land by the former owner within two years was defeated.

Local bills received attention in the house today. A number of such bills that had been on the calendar for weeks were taken up and disposed of. Speaker Thomas, known as a "bear for work," urged speedy disposal of the bills and both reading clerks were well nigh "all in" when adjournment came.

Complaint Filed Against Health Officer Walker

EXTENSION IS GIVEN K. M. A. IN NEW SAND

Dee and Bellport No. 1 Test in Block 26 Produces 15 Barrels After Shot at 1900 Feet.

Shot in order to pull the casing at a depth around 1,600 feet, the No. 1 test of Dee & Bellport in block 26 of the Mangold subdivision, in the K.-M.-A. district, was flowing at the rate of 15 barrels daily, according to reports from the well Thursday night. It is believed that the development assured that a pay sand was passed up around the 1,600-foot depth, and that the producing area of the field has been extended over a mile to the southwest.

The flow, which started Wednesday a few minutes after the shot, came as a surprise to the driller of the test and to the local owners of the lease. The test had been drilled to a depth of 1,900 feet and abandoned as dry, although a strong oil showing was obtained at 1,800 feet and the test placed on the pump for a short time at that depth.

The log of the test shows a dry sand around 1,600 feet. It is now believed that the sand will show commercial production. The discovery is in line with recent developments in other sections of the K.-M.-A. district, where commercial producers have been obtained from sand shallower than the regular 1,710 to 1,765-foot sand depth of the field.

The closest production to the Dee & Bellport test is that in block 20, where wells have produced around 100 barrels from a 1,500-foot sand.

Reed states the taller man seized him and held him, while the short confederate cut off the part of his necktie containing the stud, and removed his ring and money.

He was then handled rather roughly and thrown down in an alley, the men making their escape. There is no clue to the hold-up men at present, it is stated.

City Commission to Probe Conduct of Official at Public Hearing Next Week.

Investigation of a complaint made by members of the Civic League public affairs committee against the conduct of the city health office, and alleged lack of medical attention in an emergency reported to have arisen at the Union station recently, will feature the next meeting of the city council, Mayor Cline stated Thursday.

The complaint was made to the mayor by members of the Civic League committee Thursday noon.

The committee stated that they made the complaint at the request of Y. W. C. A. authorities, the request originating from a report from the night travellers' aid secretary at the Union station.

It is also understood that Dr. M. M. Walker, city health officer, has complained to a member of the council that Mrs. Crozier, the night travelers' aid, has made frequent unnecessary calls upon him, calls arising from trivial complaints.

A complaint against the action of the Wichita General hospital in connection with the case may also figure in the investigation, which the mayor states will be a thorough one.

TARIFF BILL DIFFERENCES IRONED OUT

Conference Committees of Senate and House Get Together on Fordney Protective Measure.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Differences in the Fordney emergency tariff bill as it passed the house and senate were smoothed out today by conference committees, and the measure was sent back to the house for final action.

Although the bill has a parliamentary right to consideration tomorrow, it was deemed unlikely that it would be called up before Saturday. Some of its supporters, however, may compel earlier consideration in an effort to hasten its arrival at the White House, and enable an attempt to override the president's veto, if such is necessary.

As the bill went back to the house it carried a flat rate of 2 cents a pound tariff on the ordinary household brand of sugar. The senate amendment, which was considerably higher, was slashed to pieces in the threatened deadlock of the conference, and a new rate, in substitution for the present tariff on sugar, was accepted by both delegations. The proposed tariff, therefore, amounts to a doubling of the import duties on sugars of all grades, making Cuban sugar pay a duty of $1.60 per hundred pounds and a similar rate on molasses and kindred sugar products.

Representative Tincher, republican, Kansas, leading the fight against the appropriation, referred to the thirty-three-hour record flight between San Francisco and New York, completed yesterday, as a "demonstration pulled off to prevent opposition to this appropriation."

"They only killed one man, burned one plane and reached New York with a shirt tail full of mail," he declared. "I don't believe that justifies a raid on the treasury."

BRECKENRIDGE FIRE DESTROYS 27 BUILDINGS

Heart of Business Section Wiped Out in Destruction of Hotels, Apartments and Stores.

Half Million Dollar Loss Caused; Flames Brought Under Control by Bucket Brigades.

By Associated Press.

BRECKENRIDGE, Feb. 24.—Fire which destroyed 27 business houses, hotels and apartments in the business section here today, burned itself out and left but two buildings standing in an entire block. Total loss is estimated at half a million.

The Sager building, a modern hotel and office building, and the Stephens County garage, a corrugated iron structure, were saved, the latter by streams of water from a near-by drilling rig.

Buildings on opposite sides of the street were scorched and frequently on fire. Hard work with buckets and blankets and the fact that no wind was stirring saved them.

The city opened wide its doors, furnishing temporary quarters to hundreds of people driven from hotels and apartment houses in the block. No life was lost and none were seriously injured. Slight burns, cuts and bruises were sustained by many.

Hotels Destroyed.

Losses included a number of hotels familiar to thousands who have visited this section. The Colonial, California, Stephens, Grand and Central hotels were all destroyed.

The Maybelle apartments, recently erected at a cost of $40,000, the National theater, and the office of the Daily American were early victims of the flames. The amount of insurance carried by each is reported to have been comparatively light, due to high rates.

A supposed fire-proof filling station and hotel owned by Richardson & Miller, isolated on a prominent corner, was the last to burn. It was said to have been the victim of an inflammable roofing material.

Losses by removal of goods in adjoining blocks, including stealage were heavy.

The American saved most of its equipment and is issuing temporarily from the office of the Daily Democrat.

Starts in Bedroom.

The blaze started in a bedroom over the Base Oil company's filling station. The building, valued at approximately $30,000, will be restored in brick.

Other substantial brick structures are to replace the buildings, mostly frame, which were destroyed, according to rebuilding intentions expressed by a number of losers.

MERCHANTS SAY DOLLAR DAY SUCCESS

Satisfied Customers Find Bargains on Record News Second Merchandising Day.

The second Record News Dollar Day was an entire success. The merchants are unanimous in admitting it, and the satisfaction expressed in the faces of the customers, many of whom were waiting for the places to open, and who literally swarmed in to take advantage of the exceptional bargains offered, emphasied the statements of the merchants.

The downtown stores again took on the appearance they showed in the boom days when there were less of them, and there was a large floating population "gunning" for the merchandise which was not sufficient in quantity to go around.

A number of amusing incidents arose in connection with the rush on the various stores, at several of which it was so great that the customers waited on themselves, making their selections and taking them to the clerks to complete the sales. One of the most amusing of these instances arose through a heated argument between a feminine purchaser and a street car conductor over an attractive little frock on which both pounced somewhat simultaneously. The manager of the store, acting as umpire, finally adjudged the contest against the trolley pilot, declaring that the bargain was more in keeping with the needs of his fair antagonist.

The bargains offered in various establishments ranged from the smaller merchandise, to, in isolated instances, evening gowns or stylish new slippers which went to the first purchasers which they would fit, instances of a number of real finds offered.

Many of the store managers report the dollar day was such an entire success, that they are entirely cleaned out of smaller merchandise suitable to offer at such sales.

A number of the store managers, including the managers of several of the largest department stores, in remarking on the success of the day, warmly commended the Record News for its work in the promotion of the event.

"We were much pleased with the results obtained from the Record News Dollar Day" said the manager of one of the largest stores.

"Buying was general all over our store in all departments, and we enjoyed a splendid day's business over and above our special Dollar Day offerings. I feel that the paper should be commended in putting the proposition over in such a successful manner."

"Our sales reports show that our sales for today were not by any means limited to our special offerings," another said.

"Business was brisk in the ready-to-wear and millinery departments. The event was entirely successful and we congratulate the Record News upon the enterprising spirit which caused them to promote this successful sale event."

"Our store today took on the old boom day appearance," said a third. "Buying was brisk in all departments, and in saying that we are entirely satisfied with the result of Dollar Day is entirely too mild. The proposition was nicely handled by the Record News and we feel that the paper is due considerable credit for promoting the proposition.

And in conclusion, it may be stated that the Record News' own part of the Dollar Day was eminently successful, its special three months offer on the two dollar days resulting in the addition of several hundred new names to its city delivery routes.

In the opinion of officers, the saw used had been secretly passed to the prisoners during the last few days.

BUSINESS REVIVAL IS UNDER WAY

Monthly Review of Financial Conditions by Ctiy National Bank Shows Industry Convalescing.

They used to say of a man, when he fell ill, that "he would be worse before he was better." Physicians may not feel that way now, but those who watch the development of American business might preach a sermon on that text, on the strength of these past years says the March business letter of the City National Bank of Commerce.

The American public may not have yet realized it, but business was seriously ill—feverish in fact—for a year and a half after the armistice. Manufacturers and merchants and all who worked for them showed it. Prices rose out of reason and production fell off amazingly. The people at large forgot their accustomed thrift, and fell into ways of unprecedented extravagance. Then the fever broke, some months ago, and there succeeded a period of lassitude.

But American business—to continue the metaphor—has a strong constitution. Convalescence is assured. It is, indeed, already under way, and it is reasonable to suppose that it will continue, provided that the patient is thoroughly nourished. Capital, of course, is the very life of trade. Today the nation's greatest need is of capital, available capital to finance its industries and commerce. The more rapid and steady the flow of capital—which is nothing more than the stored up purchasing power—into the channels of business the sooner will the nation's business be normal again.

Thrift, right now, as always, is a national as well as a personal duty.

Shipbuilding

For the first time since the war, British shipbuilding has shown a decline for the last quarter, due, of course, to the industrial difficulties which the United Kingdom has experienced these last months. Other countries, on the whole, have shown greater activity—especially France and the Netherlands.

During 1920, however, the British have largely increased their lead over the United States, and today their yards are busy with 51.6 percent of the tonnage in process of construction as against 38.1 percent a year ago. America's share has fallen from 37.7 percent to 18.2 percent in the same period.

Nearly half of the American shipbuilding effort is devoted to tankers, and the demand for craft of this type appears to develop steadily.

Canada's Grain

The depressed grain market is affecting Canada even as it has the United States. Grain in storge in public and private elevators increases steadily, despite unusual shipments overseas. Very considerable shipments over the border keep up the total.

It becomes apparent, in view of the release for export of enormous quantities of Australian wheat, that a very large proportion of American and Canadian wheat must be moved at a loss, unless some system can be evolved for financing exports to Central Europe. Just now the prospect of this desired and desirable relief seems remote.

New Clothes

The United States is just about ready to get dressed up again. This is the word from New York, center of the nation's clothing business, and thronged, just now, with buyers from every corner of the land.

The American people haven't been buying much in the shape of clothes for nearly a year. Silk shirts, expensive footwear, and smart clothing generally are showing wear. There will be largely increased buying in these next months, and, although the volume of such purchases will be enormous there is every reason to believe that it will be more careful buying than was the rule in the war years.

Manufacturers are opening their mills in preparation and merchants are stocking their shelves. The textile and shoe industries of the United States promise to come nearer a truly normal basis in this year 1921 than at any time in seven years.

And, since the retailer is the link between industry and consumption, economists are agreed that normal conditions in the retail market will speedily bring normal business conditions generally.

Rubber Imports Shrink

American rubber imports for 1920 shrank approximately 5 percent from the 1919 total, but the figures for the year do not tell the whole story. The falling off in demand became marked in midsummer, although earlier buying had been feverish. In December the shrinkage was no less than 55 percent from the figures of the corresponding month in 1919.

Depression in the tire market is held largely responsible although financial disturbances in Brazil are believed to be in some measure responsible. It is apparent, however, that only the fact that orders had been placed many months in advance made even the diminished totals possible.

In view of the announced determination of Straits Settlements planters to cut down on their output for 1921, American automobile owners are likely to be caught both ways, within a season or two.

The Creditor Nation

Nineteen-twenty was a big year for foreign financing in America, but 1921 promises to surpass it greatly. Last year's totals for this country approached $300,000,000.

Now France, Switzerland and Belgium are applicants for loans, and Italy, Norway, Sweden and Denmark would be glad to arrange for them. Cecho-Slovakia, also, if its credit position improves, is likely to ask financial aid. Latin America and Canada are also probable applicants, as is China. Chili, Argentine, and a Brazilian state or two are likely to be early in the market.

Fish Consumption Falling Off

Fish production and consumption in the United States, greatly stimulated during the war by government propaganda, have shown a marked decline in recent months. Advancing labor and material costs, and shrinking export trade have all tended to embarrass the fishermen of both coasts.

The salmon pack of Alaska and the Pacific Northwest is 3,500,000 cases short but a dull market has none the less forced prices on the cheaper grades below production costs. Canners of tuna, and of sardines, face a similar situation as do producers of salt, smoked and dried fish on both coasts and along the Gulf of Mexico.

Oil

Hamburg dispatches report the discovery of large oil fields to the south and east of that city—the first considerable petroleum deposits found in Germany. Prospecting has been proceeding actively in the republic for months, as it has been in both England and France.

Canada, also, is hoping to become self-sustaining in the matter of oil. At present, Canadian oil distributors obtain most of their supply from the United States and Mexico. Commercial production has begun within the year in the far Northwest, within one hundred and fifty miles of the Arctic Circle, and geologists and less scientific prospectors are busy in almost every corner of the Dominion.

Commercial manufacture of fuel alcobol from sugar molasses has been made possible by amendments to the internal revenue regulations in Hawaii. Within two years production of such motor fuel in the Islands is expected to meet all the requirements of the territory including those of the nation's military and naval forces.

Australian eggs are competing in the American winter market, and undersselling the native product despite their long journey. The difference in the season makes this possible, and the development of a lively trade is anticipated.

Despite increased unemployment, Chicago's savings deposits showed a 26.7 percent gain in 1920, and reports from other centers indicate a similar increase. Idleness, it is apparent, has not yet cut deeply into the nation's savings, and there is no likelihood that it will do so.

German manufacturers of railway cars are out after the world's business again. Large orders have just been placed with them by the Netherlands government, and by the Rhodesian railways, South Africa.

The Swedish-American line is building an eighteen-knot Diesel-engined vessel for passenger traffic, and the ship will be the fastest of its type in the world. Owners claim, also, that it will be more economically operated than any other passenger boat in the world.

The United Kingdom is minting a new silver coinage containing a larger admixture of alloy which is expected to make the new pieces much harder.

The Philippines, ever large producers of pineapples, guavas, and mangoes, are to have their own canning industry. The first plant was opened a twelve-month ago, and the success of its first season has led to plans for a large development.

French revenue for the year 1920 fell no less than ninety-two million francs ($18,000,000) short of government estimates. The principal deficit was in taxes on the business turnover.

China's 1920 peanut crop has provided a surplus for export of 120,000 tons of shelled peanuts and 84,000 tons of peanut oil. The best market is in America.

The stock of money in circulation in the United States increased by more than $400,000,000 in the year ending December 31, 1920. For the estimated population of 107,249,000 per capita circulation was $57.12, as against $55.89 January 1, 1920, and $59.41 on December 1, 1920.

SENATE BILL CHANGES STATE PENAL CODES

AUSTIN, Feb. 24.—The senate late today passed to engrossment the bill by Senator Hertzberg of Bexar amending the penal code of Texas prohibiting the use of the lash and chains in the penitentiaries of Texas and fixing the penalty for violation of the law.

Senator Hertzberg was a member of the recent senate committee that investigated charges of cruelty to convicts and introduced this bill after he had returned from the penitentiaries and prison farms. He said that he introduced the bill as an individual and not as a member of the committee but based on what he had seen while on the investigation. He read telegrams from wardens of penitentiaries of ten other states in which they said the use of the whip, bat and other corporeal punishment had been abolished in those institutions.

The bill provides that the prison commission may adopt such methods of punishment as may be necessary, such methods being always humane. Placing the prisoners in stocks and hanging them on chains is prohibited; whipping with a quirt, bat or rope is prohibited; striking any convict or inflicting bodily injury except in self defense, is prohibited. The bill also provides that white and negro prisoners shall not be worked together when it can be avoided, and should be kept separate when not at work.

NEW DISTRICT COURT IN THIS COUNTY TALKED

Possibility of Legislative Action to Create Tribunal Discussed in Legal Circles.

The possibility of a criminal district court for this county is again being discussed in local legal circles. The bill pending in the legislature which confines the jurisdiction of the present 30th District court to this county and creates the 92nd judicial district for Young, Clay and Archer counties is the cause of the revival of the discussion as to the need of a special criminal district court for this county.

The bill has been favorablely reported from the committee in the house and little doubt is expressed here that the bill will pass both houses.

Judge Ed Napier of the 78th district court Thursday declared to a representative of the Record News that he favored the creation of the criminal district court. He pointed out that the number of criminal cases now being handled in the county was practically as large as that of other counties in the state, for instance Dallas or Tarrant where the criminal court has been provided for by act of the legislature.

"Obviously the placing of a criminal district court here would mean the doing away with one of the three district courts that we now have" declared Judge Napier "but regardless of that fact I believe the situation merits the criminal court and it would greatly facilitate the handling of legal work in the county were the court created."

Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th District court refused to commit himself on the proposed change. He expressed the opinion under normal conditions the present courts would be more than sufficient to handle the legal cases within the jurisdiction of the county.

In court house circles Thursday the question was the topic of particular discussion with the removal of the offices of District Attorney Jones to the American National bank building and the frank statement of Mr. Jones that he would devote part of his time in the future to private practice.

"I was elected to the office of district attorney for two years and regardless of any cut in salary I intend to fill out my term," declared Mr. Jones, "but my present recompense is inadequate and with the decrease that will come when the 30th judicial district is confined to this county I will be compelled to devote part of my time to private practice.

Mr. Jones said that if the bill passed the salary of his office would not exceed $2,400 and work in his office would be further handicapped by the fact that there would be no fund available for the employment of an assistant as is now the case. He pointed out that Dallas, Tarrant and other counties with large cities had the criminal district court which provided an adequate salary for the district attorney with several assistants.

He declared that it would be useless to attempt to cope with the criminal element in this country from a district attorney's office which could only employ one man on part time.

Starving China Takes Place of Europe's Hungry

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Starving China is expected immediately to succeed the children of Europe in the hearts of generous America, said Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the China famine fund committee, in giving out today reports from Charles R Crane, the American minister.

In many ways the recent reports are regarded as optimistic. Money is needed—millions of dollars—but ample food is purchasable by Manchuria, and transport difficulties have been completely overcome.

"The question of getting relief to the starving is solely one of money," says Mr. Crane, and by relief he includes food, clothing and preventive measures against typhus.

Food and clothing, Mr. Crane reports, are the urgent needs, while medical units also are required for preventive measures against typhus. Five such units are already being organized, each consisting of one foreign and two Chinese doctors, six nurses and ten coolies, but in the probable event of typhus epidemic fifty similar units will be required.

Speaking of the improved transport conditions, Mr. Crane says that 3,000 tons of food a day are now being moved by railroads and this quantity could be increased immediately to 6,000 tons, if the money was forthcoming to buy the food available in Manchuria.

It is pointed out by the China famine fund that Mr. LaMont has timed his announcement so as to reach the public when "Mr. Hoover's splendid campaign is nearly over and has been crowned with success."

REED THROWS HAT INTO CITY POLITICAL RING

Announcement Thursday of the candidacy of Dr. J. F. Reed, with almost sixteen years of practically continuous service as a member of the city council, in opposition to M. O. McDowell, present sanitary commissioner, the post Dr. Reed formerly held, injected an added element of interest into the municipal election in April.

With the announcement of Dr. Reed's candidacy came the announcement of warm support from former Mayor J. B. Marlow, who has been active in the circulation of Dr. Reed's nominating petitions.

"You can say that I certainly am strong for Dr. Reed's candidacy, notwithstanding that I am a personal friend of the present incumbent," said Mr. Marlow Thursday afternoon.

"Dr. Reed was the hardest worker on the council during my term as mayor, and I consider him the hardest worker and one of the most valuable men who has ever served on this council.

"Dr. Reed certainly ran the affairs of the sanitary department while I was mayor, and if it had not been for him, I don't know what we would have done."

Dr. Reed resigned his place on the council, at which time he was at the head of the public health and sanitation department, soon after the beginning of the present administration last year. He announced as his reason at that time that he felt that he had given enough of his time to the city affairs, and that he thought it was up to some of the younger men to get in and give some time toward caring for the city's affairs.

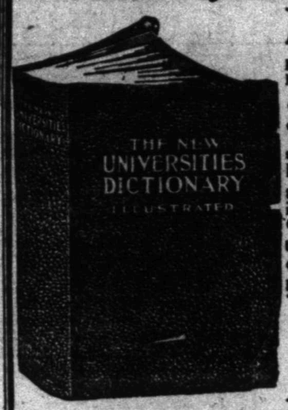

Mr. McDowell, the present incumbent, was named by the council to fill the vacancy created by Dr. Reed's resignation. It was generally thought at first that it was his intention not to again become a candidate, but he later consented to allow his name to be entered, following requests that he do so on account of the large amount of unfinished work in progress in his department, notably the extension of storm and sanitary sewers to care for the growth of the city. Petitions placing his name in nomination already have been filed.

Mayor Cline, while not expected to take an active part in the campaign, feeling such a stand out of line with the position of mayor, has, it is known, endorsed Mr. McDowell's candidacy. He has stated on several public occasions that he was satisfied with the present makeup of the city council, and hoped that it would remain unchanged until the completion of the program of public improvements inaugurated during his administration, and which are now in progress of construction. He has also on several occasions spoken in a commendatory way of the conduct of the sanitary department under Mr. McDowell's administration.

One feature of the situation which is a little out of the ordinary arises from the fact that since his resignation Dr. Reed has continued to serve as chairman of the park board, an organization belonging to Mr. McDowell's department.

This development brings out a second contest in the city election in April, at which time three members of the city council are to be named. The other contest is for the place now occupied by W. G. Bralley, police and fire commissioner, for which George Hodging, R. L. Yates and C. J. Arrington are candidates against the present incumbent. R. E. Shepherd, finance commissioner, is without opposition.

CITY LEAGUE DECIDED ON BY AMATEURS

Enthusiasm and the determination that Wichita Falls will have a strong city league this season, was evidenced Thursday night when 75 young men of the city met at a banquet specially prepared at the William-Mary hotel.

The features of the evening were the official presentation of the A. G. Spaulding cup, emblematic of the 1920 City League championship and discussion of plans by the various institutions that intend to ask for membership this season.

Co-operation was the key-note of the gathering and the assemblage was at various times urged by the speakers to do "each fellow's utmost" to put the league over in a business-like way.

Representatives from every team of the 1920 league and from teams who desire to enter the 1921 league were present.

Jack Culbertson, former republican candidate for governor and president of the company which won the cup, presided as toastmaster, calling for short talks from at least one of the representatives from each of the clubs.

The presentation of the cup was by Jack Bristol, president, pro tem of the league, to the Wichita Motors company team and the acceptance by Mr. McGee in behalf of the winners.

After making the presentation speech, Bristol asked that all present to not try to "pass the buck" during the coming season, but for all to pull together and make the league a firm and lasting institution in West Texas. Bristol also announced a meeting of all the executives of the league, which, according to last season's code means the managers and captains of each team, to be held at the Southern Electric company next Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

"At this time," Bristol stated, "we will try to work out a schedule and the rules for the season and hope that with the co-operation of the business houses and institutions to be able to play the first game in about three weeks from tonight."

Among those who made talks at the banquet were: Paul Larkin, Bright of the Texhoma company; Hemphill of the City National Bank; Hill of the First National Bank; Will Viner, owner of the William-Mary hotel; Brown of the American National; Hugh Baker of the First National bank; Hansen of the Presbyterian church; Huff of the White Produce company and several others.

Work on the paving of the county road between this city and Iowa Park will be resumed the first of the week, according to information Thursday from W. H. Prentice of the firm of Potts & Prentice, road contractors.

Mr. Prentice said that orders for building material were sent by wire last week as soon as the new contract was agreed upon, and the material already had begun to arrive. It is expected that sufficient material will arrive by the end of the week that work can be started the first of the coming week.

The laying of the paving between this city and Iowa Park, for which the excavation has already been finished, will be completed in ninety days, Mr. Prentice said.

Two mixers will start operation at once, one at the Wichita Falls & Northwestern railroad tracks on the north side, and the other at a point midway between this city and Iowa Park. Both will work toward Iowa Park.

District Courts Continue Cases

After all-day sessions, civil cases on trial in both the Eighty-ninth and Seventy-eighth district courts were continued until this morning for completion. It was expected Thursday night that both cases would be concluded with short sessions this morning.

The non-jury case before Judge P. A. Martin of the Eighty-ninth district court is the suit of the Southwestern National Bank of Oklahoma City against L. B. Chambers of this city and C. J. Benson of Fort Worth. The suit involves the payment of a note alleged to have been given by the defendants to the plaintiff, which, the latter alleges, is now past due.

In a jury case in the Seventy-eighth district court before Judge Ed Napier, M. L. Richards and George C. Cull is suing Thomas Van Every for money alleged to be due on a drilling contract.

Special Train Takes Gasoline From Refinery

A solid train of twenty-five tank cars loaded with gasoline from the American Refining company of this city to the Export Oil company of Avondale, La., left over the Fort Worth & Denver railroad Thursday. The shipment will be handled by the Fort Worth & Denver to Fort Worth, where it will be taken by the T. & B. V., also a Burlington road, to Houston, and from there by the Southern Pacific to Avondale.

This is the largest single shipment of gasoline that has been handled by this road lately. Business continues to improve in local railroad circles, according to reports, particularly in the handling of oil products.

Davis Holds Card in Iron Workers Union

By Associated Press.

GRANITE CITY, Ill., Feb. 24.—James J. Davis, banker of Pittsburgh, who is slated for appointment as secretary of labor in President-elect Harding's cabinet, holds an active membership card in local No 11, Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of North America, it was announced today.

The announcement was made by R. H. Larner, secretary of the local union, who explained that Mr. Davis has paid his dues regularly and has attended several meetings of the local. Mr. Davis formerly was a metal worker in Elwood, Ind., and was a member of the union there, but transferred to the local union when a number of his Elwood friends moved to Granite City. Mr. Larner amplified.

CHARGE BONUS BILL HELD UP DELIBERATELY

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Charges that the Felder bonus bill was held up in the finance committee until it was too late to pass it at this session of congress, giving ex-service men and the country "false impressions" were made in the senate today by Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi.

Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, member of the committee, replied that the committee was waiting for exact cost data which he had been charged to collect and present to the committee tomorrow.

"It is no use to give the false impression to the country," said Senator Harrison, "that the bill will be passed at this session. The committee has been holding it for months and months.

"I cannot say it will pass this session," Senator McCumber interjected. "If it does not, the facts will be ready when the extra session is called within a month."

North Wichita Citizens Will Talk Sidewalks

A meeting of all the residents of North Wichita Falls and Scotland addition will be held Friday evening at the North Side church for the purpose of considering the best means of securing sidewalks and street lights.

Persian Cossacks Capture Teheran

LONDON, Feb. 24.—The Persian cossacks under General Reza Kahn who occupied Teheran, the Persian capital on the night of February 20 profess loyalty to the Shah, according to the latest authoritative dispatches received here. They claim their action was taken because of the government's apathy toward the spread of bolshevism and because of the bolshevik tendencies among the ruling classes of Persia.

The position of the Europeans in Teheran, for whom the cossacks profess great friendliness, appears secure. It is not known whether a new government has been formed.

The opinion generally expressed in diplomatic quarters here today was that England would not interfere. The occupation of Teheren was effected with only about a dozen persons slightly wounded.

Contract for Grading Road Let by Kell

Additional contracts for grading and the laying of steel on the Wichita Falls & Southern extension south from Newcastle, including contract for the bridgework across the Brazos river south of Graham, were let by Frank Kell Wednesday and Thursday.

The first of these contracts were let by Mr. Kell immediately following the recommendation of the Texas railroad commission that a permit for the extension be granted, as published in the Record-News at that time—following which Mr. Kell began letting of contracts for work and material.

All the contracts carry a clause contingent to the permit being issued by the interstate commerce commis- during the present week.

Mayor Hopeful Free Clinic to Be Established

Hope that all physicians of the city will co-operate with hospital authorities in an effort to establish a free clinic at the Wichita General hospital, where all people in the city and county, who are unable to employ physicians can go for free treatment, was expressed Thursday by Mayor Cline.

Arrangements for space for the city and county health departments at the hospital also will be urged by the mayor, in order to centralize the work of caring for all the people in need of treatment, he said.

Revision of the ordinance requiring one year's residence in the city or county before being entitled to free treatment at the hospital and making the residence requirement 90 days or 30 days if possible, was one policy advocated by the mayor for increasing the usefulness of the hospital. He said that the residence requirement was only to protect taxpayers from being burdened by the charity patients of other towns and that he felt that 30 days would be a long enough residence period requirement to grant protection.

Amusements

EMPRESS.

Eugene O'Brien appears as a crook in his latest Selznick picture, "The Wonderful Chance," now showing at the Empress theater, and his characterization of "Swagger" Barlow may be ranked among the best of his many fine screen portrayals.

H. H. Van Loan's story of the man who tried to go straight, but who is practically forced down the "crooked lane," furnishes the spectator with a most unusual and entertaining photoplay.

As "Swagger" Barlow, the star is ideally cast, and demonstrates that in portraying virile roles that have a background of romance and mystery he is at his best. "The Wonderful Chance" has action enough for three photoplays, but it all truly belongs in the story, and has not been dragged in in order that the star may perform a few stunts, for which the average spectator will be truly thankful.

Martha Mansfield is a delightful leading lady for the star, and the balance of the cast is up to the standard of excellence demanded nowadays.

GEM.

All the romance and glamour with which the youthful mind invests the life of a circus performer actually has been a part of the career of Eddie Polo, the fearless star of Universal serials, who was recruited by the moving picture world from the world of big tents and gilded caravans. Raised in the sawdust ring from the time he was able to toddle, Polo has appeared as a favorite of the flying trapeze all over America, in every country of Europe, and in other parts of the globe. His latest picture is "King of the Circus," a serial based on his own life under the "big top," the first installment of which will be shown today at the Gem.

QUOTE RECORD NEWS IN TOPICS OF DAY

The Wichita Falls Record News has broken into the Literary Digest Topics of the Day, shown on moving picture screens throughout the country, and showing here at the Olympic theater. The quotation shown this week is a brief editorial comment from one of the issues immediately following the nomination of President-elect Harding, and is one which was intended to be humorous—expressing a desire for the incoming administration to give us a change in the flavor of the "stick-um" on the postage stamps.

CRIME—HERE AND ELSEWHERE

Prevalence of crime of all descriptions, apparently unbridled, in other Texas cities serves only to emphasize the comparative absence of crime in Wichita Falls—a circumstance for congratulation on the part of citizens of Wichita Falls, as well as their officers of the law—city, county, state and federal.

The brutal assault on a woman in a leading Fort Worth hotel only the other day, with the attempted robbery of a bank in the heart of the business district early in the evening, is only a culmination of a series of events of this nature—events including the brutal beating and robbery of a woman in an art shop during the daylight hours while crowds of shoppers passed the shop with its darkened interior, unaware of the tragedy taking place inside. In Dallas the series of hold-ups, robberies and murders has been such that a mass meeting of the citizenship has been called to devise ways and means of checking the situation, one with which the authorities are apparently unable to deal.

Nothing of this kind has happened in Wichita Falls. The city is busy and prosperous, and there is no reason to believe that it would have been passed by the criminal element, if there seemed a good chance to "get away" with acts of violence.

This brings us back to the local authorities, who are now strong enough to deal with any conceivable situation of this character. They have been building to this point during the past two years—beginning with a time, during the oil boom, when the situation was really out of hand.

Now, the city police have been entirely reorganized, and their strength increased until the business district of the city is thoroughly covered by uniformed men—with plainclothes men and motorcycle policemen thoroughly covering the entire city.

And much of this absence of crime is attributable to the plainclothes men, together with the state, federal and county authorities, who work effectively toward the prevention of crime—principally by keeping under observation those considered likely to indulge in a fling of this character, and nabbing them at the first sideward move.

In this work the force of Texas rangers maintained in Wichita Falls and Wichita county have been a great aid to the officers permanently stationed here, for these thoroughly capable officers, in addition to their work in the oil field, have found time to co-operate with state and county officers in a great many instances in the city of Wichita Falls.

The people of the city as a whole are confident that these various authorities will continue to be alert, as they have been in the past, and that they can continue to point to the absence of crime in Wichita Falls.

Split Second Editorials

By ROBERT QUILLEN

We have with us now the whine wave.

A man who is on the level seldom finds it necessary to square himself.

The thought of taxes in Europe does much to remove the hyphen in America.

Can it be that the scarcity of circulating money is due to the hoard of aliens.

Let us hope that disarmament will begin with the spurs worn by infantry lieutenants.

After a three-hour study of an income tax blank one is sorely tempted to leave it blank.

Along about the first day of each month the average man wishes he could strangle the chap who invented charge accounts.

Well, if the nations won't sink their own ships, eventually they will sink one another's.

Doubtless they call it a cabinet slate because it is easy to erase anything on a slate.

When a man's sins come home to roost, he always raises a howl about the unearned increment.

Normalcy will also mean the closing of a lot of factories that make play pretties for adults.

Of course, you understand that the purpose of a separate peace is to make America a separate piece.

If the hold-up men keep on, they will kill the goose that lays the golden eggs just as the profiteers did.

When everything gets back to normal, oyster stew won't mean oysters two.

Simplified spelling has been greatly encouraged by the advocate who referred to the curage of Russia.

When Europe speaks of exchange, it doubtless has an uneasy feeling that the "ex" stands for extinguished.

If the days set aside for prayer brought the allies victory, why not try it on this disarmament proposition?

"After you" may be good manners, but as a method of disarmament it doesn't show particularly good sense.

The modern trend of the drama has lightened the work of the property man. All he needs is one good bedroom set.

These visiting literary men from England will be able to teach us something if their minds are as broad as their a's.

The possibility that the world will be flat on its back doesn't worry Europe. She knows who will Yank it to its feet.

SO HE SHUTS HIS PIANO.

Even when he was most in the spotlight as a bushy-haired personage of luxuriant temperament and iron wrists, Paderewski was clearly much more than an emotional musician. If he had a manager it was for convenience, for he always was able to manage himself. He understood the public and his own capabilities and limitations. In spite of his platform affectations, there is no reason to suppose that he ever was an egotist to a self-blinding degree or that he ever permitted himself to be deceived regarding the conditions under which he could retain his hold on the public. While it is true that during the latter part of his activity as a public pianist he sometimes made exactions which caused local managers to despair and the public to all but rebel—it was like going into an ante-chamber of Tartarus to enter the super-heated auditorium where he performed — there were reasons why he permitted himself to make exactions and indulge idiosyncracies, which he would have avoided when he was at the height of his career.

Understanding himself and the world as he does, particularly after several years of excursion into the realm of statesmanship, it was to be expected that Mr. Paderewski would hereafter keep his piano closed so far as the general public is concerned. Regardless of his inclinations and desire or lack of desire, this man, who in his time was the greatest of the masters of the keyboard, would not be so mad as to attempt, at the age of 60, a recovery of the musical premiership he voluntarily abdicated in order to take a political premiership. At his time of life he could not hope to regain the super-suppleness of his fingers that once made him a marvel, nor the passionate enthusiasm that his years of work for Poland has dissipated. Paderewski might come back, in a way. He might go out next season and obtain big houses and much money and much applause, but he never would be quite the old Paderewski, and he knows it.—Detroit Free Press (Ind.)

Editorial Digest

BIG SHIPS, LITTLE SHIPS, OR NO SHIPS AT ALL?

While the senate committee's report in favor of a "big navy" has turned the thoughts of some of the editorial writers away from immediate plans for disarmament the majority of newspapers seem to feel that there is more merit in supporting the Borah plan for a "holiday" than accepting the logic of the committee report.

The New York World (Dem.) maintains the attitude which it has consistently taken and which is followed by many other papers. The following statement from its columns is quoted and endorsed by the New Haven Journal Courier (Ind.). Says the World:

"There is not a word of generous or enlightened impulse in the committee's report. It has seized upon the jagron of a German imperialism that has blown into fragments and has endeavored to fashion that jargon into an American policy. For Deutschland uber Alles it has substituted Amerika uber alles and presented this pinchbeck Kaiserism as a definition of American doctrine at a time when the economic back of the world is breaking under the burden of needless military expenditure."

Not only the spirit of the naval affairs committee is attacked by the New York Globe (Ind.) but its "logic" as well. They were asked, the Globe declares, "Are airplanes or battleships more effective," and they replied, "If airplanes are held off by other airplanes the battleships will be very effective." When "armament races," which the Globe asserts the committee is promoting, "must be promoted by logic like this, no wonder the nation wants disarmament." This "expensive, provocative and unnecessary policy," it concludes, "could never get the sanction of a popular vote." A similar view is expressed by the Brooklyn Eagle (Ind. Dem.), which remarks that "if economy is considered" the logic of the Borah resolution "is distinctly superior to the logic of the report." In other respects also "the report is in obvious error" while the resolution, without expecting the impossible simply asks to "determine whether navies cannot be reduced instead of expanded indefinitely at huge cost to the taxpayers." Of all the proposals, the Borah plan "alone is practicable and sensible," the Reno Gazette (Rep.) believes, although its supporters have been "skilfully divided" by "the naval clique, backed by interests that desire America to be a bully, belligerent nation." The Cleveland Plain Dealer (Ind. Dem.) feels that "there should be no question as to America's readiness to agree to any reasonable terms looking to a naval holiday."

The New York Post (Ind.) considers the senate committee's utterance a "jingo policy" which "fortunately" does "not represent the sentiment of the country" and the Philadelphia Record (Ind. Dem.) calls it "a repudiation of the nation's profession of a peaceful policy" and scores the inconsistency of a congress that would "avow militarism on the sea and reduce our means of defense on land. With this sentiment the Petersburg (Va.) Index Appeal (Ind.) is in perfect accord.

The best way, in the opinion of the Chicago Tribune (Ind. Rep.) "to proceed in naval construction just now, is to stop it," and while the St. Louis Globe Democrat (Rep.) suggests that "it would probably be poor policy to suspend naval construction already inaugurated," it seems "no necessity for starting new work until conditions" under which future building is to continue, "are made clear."

Many who express no sentiment whatever in favor of reducing our sea forces quarrel with senators' statement of their case. The New York Tribune (Rep.) for instance, finds that the document reveals the "chaotic state of mind" of its authors and without contradicting the proposition that the capital ship is the "backbone" of the fleet, declares that there must be "arms, legs, eyes and brains" as well. The New York Times (Ind. Dem.) finds the same flaw. It says:

"If the people do not protest against the general board policy of more, more and more construction and the tendency in congress to neglect development of the new auxiliaries it will be idle to expect a movement to reduce armaments or have faith in the calling of a conference for that purpose."

Bank Deposits Fall Off When Oil Runs Cut

Curtailment of crude oil purchases by the big pipe line companies, general until a few days ago, and still maintained by one of the big companies, bank deposits in Wichita Falls banks, nearly $27,000,000, showed but little effect on the call for statements of condition as of February 21, which was issued Thursday morning.

The total of deposits on Monday, as reported by local banks, was $26,934,541.75, compared with $27,062,568.44.

Four of the local banks report small gains over the deposits listed on their last statement. With the resumption of full oil payments it is expected that the next call will show an increase, in spite of another season of heavy tax payments on the middle of the coming month.

Since the last call substantial reductions in loans and discounts, and of borrowings from the federal reserve bank, have been effected. The figures announced by the local banks follow:

City National—February 21, $11,884,454.08; December 29, $14,476,799.01.

First National—February 21, $8,840,788.52; December 29, $8,658,169.95.

Wichita State—February 21, $2,761,814.33; December 29, $2,665,028.38.

Security National—February 21, $1,889,061.82; December 29, $1,740,960.42.

American National—February 21, $1,129,242.29; December 29, $1,008,055.76.

Exchange National—February 21, $429,190.71; December 29, $423,555.02.

IGNORANT ESSAYS

By J. P. McEVOY

A TWIN BED LECTURE.

(Mr. Doveleigh happened to remark at home that he saw a woman with a swell coat and hat on today. Little did he know what he started.)

So she had on a swell new hat and a new coat, eh? I am not surprised that you noticed them. You're not used to seeing them on me.' The last time you bought me a hat was to go to the world's fair, and even a beaver wouldn't wear a beaver coat as long as I have worn mine, and yet you have the nerve to come home and tell me how much better other women look than I do. I DIDN'T SAY THAT. Yes, but you insinuated that. If I ask you for a new hat or coat, you immediately begin to talk about the mortgage, but if you see them on other women, you come home and throw it up to me.

Do you remember what you told me when I said my coat was too long? You said it would be much longer before I got another one. But other husbands are not like that. They buy new coats and hats for their wives. A wife gets little enough as it is. She stays at home and toils and slaves while her husband is running around town admiring other women's hats and coats?

How does it come that you are so interested in other women's clothes all of a sudden? If I wore a new hat—not that I ever do—you wouldn't say boo about it, except when you got the bill. Then you'd holler enough. The last time you got a bill for my clothes the neighbors thought you had appendicitis.

I should think it would hurt you worse to see other women dressed up when your wife is looking like a tramp, but then that doesn't bother you, does it? OF COURSE IT DOES. See, you admit I look like a tramp. Why don't you buy me a new spring hat? WHAT DO YOU MEAN—SPRING HAT IN FEBRUARY? Suppose if I let you buy a spring hat for me I shall get it for a Christmas present. I don't want a spring hat for this spring, but for last spring, or maybe it was the spring before last. And why should it be necessary for me to say anything to you about it when I want a new hat or coat? Do you ask me when you are going to get one? No, you don't. You go and dress yourself up like a Fourth of July parade while I sit at home like little orphan Annie.

Well, I'm not going to do it any longer. I'm going to blossom out in a new spring coat and hat and have people look at me. What do you say to that? DREAM ON. Don't you think it's a dream. I don't say much, but when I make up my mind, I go through with it. I'm going to get a new spring hat and coat, and you are not going to have anything to say about it. YOU WILL LET ME PAY FOR IT, WON'T YOU? Yes, and that's all you will have to say about it. THAT'S PLENTY. It will be plenty, too, don't worry.

(Note—Mr. Doveleigh has made a resolution that he will not tell his wife any more about the new coats and hats he sees down town.)

Judge Dictionary Settles Disputes

In case of doubt concerning the meaning of a word the dictionary is the court of appeal to which the average individual must resort. When Dr. Johnson compiled his celebrated dictionary, offered to the public in 1755, it represented a movement initiated by Swift, Addison, Pope and other noted English writers of that period to compose a dictionary that would fix forever and unalterably the English language in one perfect form. But the lapse of years has demonstrated that fashions in words change with the times and that a dictionary to be authoritative and accurate must be up to date.

A popular demand for such a work has been answered by the offer this paper is making to its readers of the New Universities Dictionary, in which thousands of words not found in any other dictionary are fully defined. Many of these words have been brought into general and proper use by the great strides made in science, business, religion and the various arts. Specialized activities, such as aviation, golf, baseball and other forms of sports have also given currency to many new terms and definitions of which will be found in one or the other of the twenty-five supplementary dictionaries that have been incorporated in the New Universities Dictionary.

Honoring Miss Katheryn Brown of Cleburne, who is the charming house guest of Mrs. Leslie Stringer, Mrs. John W. Thomas entertained Wednesday with a pretty bridge luncheon. A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out and fragrant jonquils in those colors were used in huge bouquets on the table. After an elaborate five-course luncheon, bridge was played during the afternoon, and Miss Agnes Reid was presented with the high score favor, a dainty smelling salts bottle. The honor guest was given a pretty French corsage. The guests present were Misses Katheryn Brown, Sibyl Kell, Marion Maer, Helen Stone, Thelma Kahn, Berenice Jackson and Leslie Stringer. The hostess was assisted by her sister, Mrs. E. W. Marriott.

YE OLDEN ENTERTAINMENT PRESENTED AT KEMP

Ye Olden Entertainment, an elaborate colonial pageant in which 35 of Miss Alsada Knickerbocker's expression pupils took part was presented in the ballroom of the Kemp hotel Thursday afternoon with more than 150 guests present. The children were all dressed in the George and Martha Washington costumes and a program of unusual interest, consisting of readings, costumes monologues and sketches with a dialogue and several dialect readings was given.

The numbers were all well taken and careful training and much talent was displayed. A minuet in which six couples took part was an especially attractive feature.

Miss Knickerbocker was assisted by several mothers of the pupils costumed in the colonial style. Accompaniments were played by Mrs. H. D. Knickerbocker and little J. R. Staley Jr., and Nathan Chenault also in costume acted as ushers.

KELL RECEIVES ADDED SUPPORT FOR MAYFIELD

Additional assurances of support for Allison Mayfield for a place on the interstate commerce commission has been received by Frank Kell from prominent and influential Kansas shippers. The Kansas business men and shippers also state that they are pushing an attorney from Kansas City, a Mr. Hogueland, for the republican vacancy on the commission, and are asking that the Texans, democrats and republicans, endorse his candidacy. The interstate commerce commission is a bi-partisan organization, and there are three vacancies, two democrat and one republican, to be filled by the incoming organization.

A few years ago, two or more funnels would have been placed on a big steamer whether she needed them or not, just for appearance sake. But this idea has been disposed of and the new liner Scythia, of 20,000 tons and 600 feet long, is being built with one funnel.

HOMER JOPLIN AND MISS LILA SCHOFIELD WED

Miss Lila Scofield of Paterson, N. J., and Homer A. Joplin of this city were quietly married Wednesday afternoon at the church of the Good Shepherd, the Rev. F. T. Datson officiating.

On account of the Lenten season, the wedding was a quiet one, only relatives and a few immediate friends being present. The bridal party entered to the strains of "The Wedding Chorus," from "Lohengrin," which was played softly by Mr. A. E. Murdock.

With Mrs. Lucy J. Smith, matron of honor, preceding the bride, who entered on the arm of J. C. Joplin, a brother of the groom, and who gave her in marriage, they were met at the altar by Mr. Homer Joplin and his best man, Frank A. Messenger of Decatur, and the Rev. Datson, where the ceremony was read.

The bride wore a handsome gown of gray and blue and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The matron of honor wore a blue and gold gown and carried a shower bouquet of pilk Killarney roses.

Mr. Joplin is a business man of this city, being connected with the firm of J. C. Joplin & Co., a contracting firm. The wedding is the culmination of a romance which commenced while the groom was in a training camp in Paterson, N. J., during the war.

After his return from France he located here, and was recently very ill at Call Field hospital.

During his illness when it was feared that he might not live, Miss Scofield was sent for and came here, accompanied by her sister. She has been the guest of friends of her family while here. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Joplin left for Fort Worth, Dallas and other North Texas cities for a three weeks' trip, after which they will be at home at 1713 Eighth street.

MISS M'CONNELL BECOMES BRIDE OF CARRINGTON

The attendants were Miss Francis Lynn, bridesmaid and Mr. William H. Merrick, best man.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. McConnell of 1108 Sixteenth street and the groom is connected with the Republic Tire Company, both are well known and popular young people of the city.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Carrington left for points in South Texas for a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home in the city.

FRUIT OUTLOOK GOOD THIS YEAR, ALLEN DECLARES

The outlook for a good fruit year is an excellent one, according to A. W. Allen, one of the oldest of the Kemp & Kell employes, who has recently acquired the old Thompson orchard of 40 acres, one mile east of the city.

The recent cold weather came so early in the season that it did not in any way affect the coming crop, Mr. Allen says.

Since acquiring the Thompson place Mr. Allen has made extensive additions to the orchard, setting out a considerable number of new trees of all descriptions, including a number of paper-shelled pecans. He plans other extensive additions to the place, and intends to make the orchard one of the best in Northwest Texas.

A Californian, fully experienced in every detail in the care of a modern orchard, has been secured to take active charge of the orchard. Mr. Allen intends to make his home on the place.

NEBRASKA AIR COMPANY SUES LOCAL FLIERS

The Nebraska Aircraft corporation, a company incorporated under the laws of Nebraska, brought suit Thursday in the Eighty-ninth district court against the Wichita Aircraft corporation, a local concern, for the payment of an alleged promissory note of $3,500.

According to the plaintiff's petition, the above amount represents the price of an aeroplane which the plaintiffs delivered to the defendant concern in November, and for which the promissory note was given. The petition alleges that the note is now past due and the defendant concern has refused to make payment.

JACKSON AND DUNDEE WILL FIGHT FRIDAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 24. — Johnny Dundee and Willie Jackson will add another chapter to the history of their feud when they clash in a 15-round bout tonight at Madison Square Garden.

The quarrel between these lightweights started in 1917 at the Olympia A. A., Philadelphia. They entered the ring for a six-rounder and Dundee, then at the apex of his career, started out to treat Jackson, the newcomer, to a roughing. Suddenly, without warning, the usher-aided Jackson's right shot out from the shoulder, clipped Dundee on the chin and stretched him out on the canvas for the doleful count of ten. Dundee has always attributed that defeat to carelessness, but in subsequent bouts he has failed to get even with the Harlem boxer by returning the compliment.

Tonight's bout will be the ninth between these rivals and although they have fought many times they continue to attract interest, because, like Britton and Lewis, they generally put up a rattling good battle.

Jackson, with youth on his side, is the favorite over Dundee in tonight's mill. The little "Scotch Wop," with some 10 or more years of ring experience under his belt, is slowing up fast, and though still a willing scrapper is not capable of putting up the kind of a scrap that made him such a prime favorite a few years ago.

The last time Jackson and Dundee met was before the Manhattan A. C. here in November, 1920. On that occasion Dundee won a draw from Referee McPartland after the judges had disagreed. The verdict, however, was not a popular one, for Jackson had apparently piled up a comfortable lead on points.

For tonight's battle the rivals will make 135 pounds at 2 o'clock and they will scramble through the ropes with a possible match with Benny Leonard as an incentive for winning.

If Dundee makes a good showing against Jackson tonight, regardless of whether or not he wins a decision, he will take the trail for a bout with Johnny Kilbane. Dundee claims he can make 126 pounds for Kilbane, weighing in at 2 p. m., and if Johnny will meet him at that weight he promises to post a substantial forfeit to make the poundage. A meeting between Dundee and Kilbane would be nothing in the way of an innovation, for they have boxed several times before. Shortly after he defeated Abe Attell for the featherweight title in 1912, Kilbane boxed Dundee in New York and was forced to set a fast pace in final rounds of their 10-round encounter to win a popular decision. At that time Dundee was classed as a second rater.

SPORT BRIEFS

Dode Paskert, veteran outfielder, is a hero. During an apartment house fire in Cleveland recently, Dode rescued five small children and ten other persons.

Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, defeated Jabez White for the second time within a month, when he turned the trick in Philadelphia, Wednesday night. The fight went eight rounds.

Miss Sybil Bauer of the Illinois Athletic club lowered the swimming mark for the fifty-yard back-stroke a few nights ago when competing in the Central A. A. U. senior events, by one-fifth of a second. Miss Ethelda Bleibtroy held the former record of 36 seconds flat.

Jake Atz started his fifth year as the pilot of the Fort Worth Panthers this morning, when he returned from "wintering" in New Orleans.

The Western league will play a schedule of 168 games this year in the period of April 13 to September 27. Each club will make a tour of the circuit four times, playing three games at each stop.

Frank Allison, who played on the Abilene team of the West Texas league last season, was killed in an elevator accident at Ralls, Texas, recently.

Commissioner Landis is playing no favorites. Having promised to attend the raising of the American league pennant at Cleveland some time ago, he has recently promised to witness the Brooklyn "rag raising," some time during the late spring.

Stockholders of the Cincinnati National league team will not get their usual annual passes this year. As there are several hundred holders of the stock, it was believed it was better to use the passes as "paid admittances" instead.

At their scheduled meeting held at Wilson recently, the Virginia league directors decided to play a split season of 148 games, all told. The season opens April 21 and closes September 24.

Pitcher Waite Hoyte, 21 years old, has been in and out of the big leagues for the past six years. He broke in from a Brooklyn high school when only 15 years old.

SENSATIONAL SPITBALLIST WAS STAR OF WORLD SERIES, WINNING THREE, LOSING NONE

Started on Rocky Road to Fame in Baseball With Shamokin Way Back in 1908 and His Rise to Top Was Not Meteoric; Expects to Continue His Winning Streak This Season With Speaker's Indians.

BY JACK VEIOCK,
Record News Staff Bureau.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Anyone who believes the road to pitching fame is paved with roses may find proof to the contrary in the record of Stanley Coveleskie.

JACK VEIOCK

The star of the 1920 world's series found the highway that leads to baseball's hall of fame steep and rocky. He had to work harder than the average pitcher, because he is a disciple of the spitball, and, as such, suffered from wildness, which he was unable to remedy for a good many seasons.

Today the star of the Cleveland Indians stands out as one of the most sensational pitchers baseball has known, and enjoys the distinction of being one of a select quartet of twirlers who have won three games and lost none in a single world's series.

In addition to this fine record, Coveleskie ranks as one of the greatest pitchers of the age, and, thanks to a sane ruling made by the major league rules committee, after the spitter was put under the ban, "Covey" will be enabled to continue in the use of his pet delivery until he comes to the end of his trail as a big league star.

During the 1920 campaign Coveleskie and Jim Bagby were the men who shouldered the burden of pitching Tris Speaker's Indians to their first American league pennant. On the season's wrok Bagby finished with a better record for games won, but in spite of this fact it was Coveleskie who stepped into the breach when victories were most needed and turned back the opposition. It was Coveleskie's consistent pitching in crucial series and his fine work in the world's series that landed the Indians their world's championship.

Back With Indians.

"Covey" will be back in the harness with the Indians again this year, and Cleveland fans are hoping that his good right arm will not fail, and that his control of the sputter will be just as effective as it was last year. Last season the world's series star took part in forty-one games. Out of this number he turned in the fine total of twenty-four victories against fourteen defeats, for a pitching percentage of .632. He faced 1,130 batsmen and gave up 3.48 earned runs per nine innings.

Opposing batsmen got sixty-one bases on balls off of him and base runners managed to steal fourteen bases while he officiated in the box. He won the strike-out title for the season by fanning 133 batters, and four hit batsmen, coupled with one lone wild pitch all season, offer mute evidence to the manner in which he has learned to control the moist delivery.

What will Coveleskie do this year? Indications are that with the spitter given a new lease on life and the same fine team that won the world's title behind him, he may continue on his winning way. He may even turn in more victories for the tribe than he did last year, and, in the Speakerites manage to battle their way into another world's series, he wil lhave another chance to show the baseball world what a hard-working "fogballist" can do.

Started in 1908.

It was back in 1908 that "Covey" first broke into the box scores as a professional player, and it took a big part of his twelve years to land him in the select class of pitchers who won rank among the greatest the game has produced. He got his start with Shamokin, Pa., in the Atlantic league, an independent organization, and from there went to Lancaster in the Tri-State league.

In 1912 he was purchased by the Philadelphia Athletics. As a member of the Mackmen Coveleskie was anything but a success, and Connie Mack sent him to Spokane of the Northwestern league, because the percentage of earned runs made off his delivery in games pitched for the "A's" was so great that Connie evidently figured him dead weight on the payroll. In 1915 Portland purchased "Covey" from Spokane, and the following year he came back to the American league as a member of the Indians, where he has been ever since.

One of his best years up to 1920 was the season of 1919, when he won twenty-four games and lost but eleven for the Indians, appearing in forty-three pastimes.

Mainstay in Series.

"Covie's" work in the recent world's series was altogether brilliant. He started the first game for the Indians in Brooklyn and turned in a 3 to 1 victory, pitching against Marquard, Mamaux and Cadore. He came back in the fourth game against the same pitchers, with Jeff Pfeffer to boot, and the Indians romped away with the victory, 5 to 1. In the seventh game he pitched shutout ball, downing the Robins, 3 to 0. It was this victory that gave him entree to the select set of pitchers who have won three games in a single world's series. Eight pitchers now hold this distinction, though only half of this number, among whom Coveleskie ranks, have turned in three victories against no defeats. The records of the class to which the Cleveland star belongs, follow:

CHANEY LEADS FAVORITES FOR KILBANE CROWN

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Johnny Kilbane's fighting days are nearly over.

The good-natured little boss of the featherweight division is no longer a chicken, and no one realizes it better than himself.

But even though he doesn't expect to continue his ring career over a long period, he means to make somebody go the limit to win the title unless he decides to retire because of a lack of worthy opponents.

Digging up featherweights to topple Kilbane from his throne has been a favorite pastime of managers and promoters for a number of years. But they never got anywhere with it.

Today the situation, insofar as danger to Kilbane's skypiece is concerned has changed but little. There is enough of a change, however, to make it noticeable.

Four or five featherweights who are active in fistic circles today are worthy of tabulation as likely looking aspirants to the Kilbane halo.

Two boys who have attracted quite a lot of attention lately stand out from the others. They are Andy Chaney and Billy DeFoe.

Chaney seems to have the edge as far as general sentiment goes and Kilbane himself believes the Baltimore boy is the toughest of the crowd trailing at his heels.

"If you ask me," said Kilbane during a recent visit to New York, "I'll tell you that as far as opposition goes I figure this Chaney the best of the lot. But I'll meet anyone the promoters and the public want me to meet, providing I get the right sort of a guarantee.

"And right here," he added, "I want to make it plain that I consider the featherweight limit 122 pounds, and I don't care what the limit is in New York or any other state. I won the title at 122 and I have a right to say something about the weight at which I will risk it."

In addition to Chaney, who is a stablemate of Joe Lynch, the bantamweight champion, DeFoe ranks second, Charley Beecher and Sammy Sieger third or fourth—take your pick—and the other close behind these two.

Kilbane, realising that inaction is anything but profitable, is anxious to resume fighting and willing to box but so far he has been too high in his demands, and this alone has kept him from the ring. Of course, that is Kilbane's business, yet the public would be better satisfied with him if he would show willingness to take a chance with the promoters and gamble on what he can draw to the gate.

TRAINING CAMPS FROM COAST TO COAST READY FOR MAJORS

One week more and every team in both major leagues will be on their respective training camps. Some of them have started practice, others are on their way to limbering up places, while several clubs have sent their pitchers and catchers ahead of the main body, which will report between now and March 2.

The camps are strewn from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific coast and even beyond that for the Chicago Cubs are scheduled for a trip to Santa Catalina islands just a few miles off the California coast.

The New York Giants and the Detroit Tigers train at San Antonio with the queer coincidence of having Hughey Jennings, former Bengal leader working out the "rooks" and "vets," while his former underling, Ty Cobb, will be handling the "Ford City" team.

The Brooklyn Dodgers under "Uncle Robby," work out at Hot Springs, Ark., while the Yanks and their gang of sluggers drop into Shreveport for pre-season workouts.

The St. Louis Browns are also booked for Louisiana, the Lee Fohl ball-tossers training in the lumber town of Bogolusa.

The Cardinals under Branch Rickey are marooned in the one-hotel town of Orange, Texas, just a few miles over the state line from Connie Mack's Athletics, who are at Lake Charles, La.

Pat Moran's bunch of "holdout" Reds are supposed to train at Cisco, Texas, but it is doubtful whether he will have more than a few of his stars on the job, five of them having signified their unwillingness to go south this spring. The Pirates from smoky Pittsburg are scheduled for West Baden, Ark., although part of the time they will be cavorting with the Dodgers at Hot Springs.

Champs Go To Dallas

The Cleveland World Champs go to Dallas, the Cubs to Santa Catalina Islands, off the coast of California, the White Sfx to Waxahachie. The lowly Phillies are due to arrive in Gainesville, Florida in preparation for their usual bid at the cellar. President Baker perhaps thinking that the law of reverse lower will take the team higher in the race after coming north.

George McBride, the new manager of the Washington Senators, also go to Florida, making their camp in Tampa. None of the managers are claiming pennants, but all of them are working their hardest to give the home fans a "look-see" at a world series.

Another "Rookie" Signed

Lee Fawcett, ball player for Corsicana, Texas signed up for a tryout with the Spudders Thursday morning. Whether or not Walt Salm secured the consent of his fellow townsman when the Spudder leader visited Corsicana last week, is not known, but the fact that Fawcett who is rated as a mighty good prospect, has signed with the Wichita Falls team is a sign that Walt was not as idle as he said.

Marines Change Name

The Dallas Marines want to change their monicker, nick-name, cognomen or whatever else you desire to call it. That is, the fans want the name changed and before the season is open, if possible.

Asking Ham Patterson, Marine pilot what he thought about it, the Tall Boss replied moodily:

"I dunno, a lot of 'em are talkin' 'bout it. If that fans want a new name they oughta have it. It's their club in the long run."

"Some of the day-to-day fellows think that changing the name will shoo the hoodoo. Get into a hole (or should I say cellar) and they want to assume an alias. Suppose its the best way anyhow, as many a guy would be in the pen if they dropped around to police headquarters and told their real name."

The Marines were first known as the "Giants" in 1906 and kept that name for years. Then at the instigation of A. K. Stone, sport writer of the News at that time, the name was changed to the Submarines. Thus it stuck, with the "sub" being dropped during the war on account of the name sounding somewhat "Hun."

All of which gives us the "brilliant" idea of suggesting (far be it maliciously) the Marines change to "Ham and Beaners," the first part of the cognomen being taken from the moniker sported by the Tall Boss.

Pirate Fans Like Zinn

That Jimmy Zinn, premier Spudder hurler of 1920 is virtually lost to Walter Salm's outfit is indicated by the glowing tribute paid the flinger by Ralph S. Davis, veteran Pittsburg sportswriter. Davis says:

"The Buccaneer Boss will be delighted if two or three of his recruit pitchers show a lot of stuff right off the reel, for he can use them to advntage. Jimmy Zinn was given a regular tryout last fall, and showed more than medicore ability. Indeed, the fans here are strong for Jimmy and believe he will win his full share of games in 1921, and that Gibson will give him a place as a regular member of the slab staff.

BAN JOHNSON TO HAVE NINE UMPS ON A. L. STAFF

Nine umpires will make up the personnel of the American League staff this season, according to announcement made by Ban Johnson. Although it has been customary in the past to work only two men in a game, Johnson plans to use three in some games to keep the extra man on the staff from getting rusty. The extra man will be Frank Wilson, who officiated last season in the Western League. He has signed a contract for the year and will be put right to work as soon as the schedule begins.

Wilson will be the youngest man on Johnson's staff. He is not more than 30 years old and has had only two years' experience officiating on the field in professional ranks. Yet he is said to be a clever umpire with good judgment in handling men and in running a ball game. Wilson will be the third man on the field, but will take his turn behind the plate the same as the veterans, as it is President Johnson's system to give a new man a chance to show his worth there as well as on the bases.

East Wichita Will Employ New Driller

Unless the present driller makes preparations for immediate drilling in of the test by Saturday, the directors of the East Wichita Oil Company will employ another driller to complete the company's Honaker wildcat, reported on sand with a showing of oil for the past several weeks, according to a statement by Judge E. W. Nicholson, secretary of the company, Thursday.

Judge Nicholson denied that the stockholders assumed the management of the company at the stockholders meeting Wednesday afternoon, but said that the directors and the stockholders at this meeting mapped out a plan of action which was agreeable to all concerned.

On the quaint and picturesque Isle of Man, made famous by Hall Caine's fiction, an ancient pump of the chain-bucket variety, built in to a masonry abutment on the face of a rock cliff, lifts its endless load of water some eighty feet from the pool below, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. For many years a big steam engine of obsolete form, slow and extravagant of fuel, attended to the duty of turning the chain shaft. But now the old boiler and cylinder are gone, and in their place a modern wind motor has been installed, its slim efficient steel form rising from the cliff top in striking, yet not inharmonious, contrast with the primitive ruggedness that marks the earlier work of man and nature. The whirling twenty-six-foot wheel of the new motive power now is drawing up 14,300 gallons of water an hour as an average figure and it is significant of the value of modern method that the saving of fuel, no longer needed for a hungry boiler, soon paid the cost of the mill.

STORK POSTPONES TRIAL IN COURT

Record News Staff Bureau.

WORCESTER, Mass., Feb. 24.—"I don't know whether it will be a boy or a girl, but I have to excuse the jury and call off the trial for the day," said Judge Webster Thayer in Superior court. "The wife of District Attorney Edward T. Esty is at the hospital. We expect glad tidings at any hour."

Spectators smiled when they learned the unusual cause for adjournment of the trial of Oscar and Hugo Willgerodt, father and son, jointly charged with arson in the setting of the Slater building fire.

COTTON DROPS 77 POINTS ON POOR MARKET

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 24.—Prices were lower in the cotton market today from the opening and lowest prices, which came in the last few minutes of the day when the market sold 46 to 77 points down. New low levels for the season were made. Closing prices were at losses of 65 to 77 points.

The market staggered under a flood of bearish news throughout the session, and had bearish traders been more aggressive prices would have been even lower than they were. As it was most tradrs on the short side appeared to be in a conservative frame of mind and their realising of profits furnished the ring with a good part of its demand. Much of the selling was caused by unfavorable accounts from interior spot center, pointing to further liquidation by holders.

The decline was due to the weakness of silver in the London market, reports of mills shortening running time on both sides of the Atlantic and to increased reports of spot at some interior points.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The cotton market was extremely weak and unsettled today with all deliveries but October making new low records for the season. The general market closed barely steady at a net decline of 55 to 71 points.

The tone was fairly steady at the start, first prices being unchanged to 9 points lower, which was better than due on the weak cables as a result of covering and some scattered buying inspired by the hope of a rally after the stopping of March notices yesterday.

There was a good deal of southern selling, however and the market soon weakened on the unfavorable reports from Manchester, and renewed apprehensions of increased old crop offerings before the new crop was planted. The latter were inspired by reports that southwestern bankers were advising liquidation of cotton, grain and cattle, inorder that farmers might reduce their obligations. The close was within a point or two of the lowest, although Japanese and southern mill interests were reported good buyers on a scale down. Only one March notice was reported and the May premium was reduced to about 50 points.

Exports today, 194 bales, making 1,-294,326 so far this season.

Record News Staff Bureau.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Joseph W. Hopley, of the Bucyrus (Ohio) Evening Telegram, is a boxing fan. He also believes in the old saw about "the early bird," etc.

When he received the story of Tex Rickard's plan to build an arena and stage the Dempsey-Carpentier bout in New York over the wires of the International News Service, Mr. Hopley promptly ordered a pair of the best seats available by special delivery. This was the first order for seats following Rickard's latest announcement.

TRADE SHOWS NERVOUSNESS ON EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The stock market was very nervous and unsettled today, various developments in the course of the fairly active session given material acceleration to the further downward course of quoted values.

Chief among these was the announcement that one of the largest of the independent steel manufacturers in the Pittsburgh district, following the example set by its competitors, had ordered a 20 per cent reduction, effective March 1.

This was accompanied by gossip on the stock exchange that an opn market or severe price cutting fould ensue, but th well-informed quarters such action was regarded as highly improbable or at least premature.

Another favorable incident was the suspension of the quarterly dividend on Ajax rubber.

Steels, equipments, shippings, oils, motors adn their accessories, as well as copper, food and tobacco shares were involved in the decline, with sundry specialties, including the mail order group at net losses of 1 to 5 points. Reductions among rails were relatively unimportant.

Call money again held at the fixed rate of 7 per cent and time funds were available in moderate amounts for the shorter dates. Exchange on London eased and the entire continental list of remittances eased appreciably.

The feature of their bond market was the decline of Liberty 3½s to below 91, most other domestic and foreign issues were variably lower especially industrial.

Total sales par value were $10,175,000.

BEARS RULE WHEAT PRICES IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Bears had a decided advantage in the wheat market today, owing to uneasiness regarding the industrial outlook. Prices closed heavy 2¾ to 4¾ net lower, with March 1.67 to 1.67½ down, and oats off ⅝ to 1 c and provisions at a setback of 7 to 22c.

Wheat values began to shrink as soon as the market opened. Washington dispatches telling of the militant position which labor unions had taken as to injunctions and other related subjects was clearly the main factor. Much of the selling was said to be in the nature of liquidation. Rallying power failed to develop special reason being a report that the head of the federal reserve bank at Dallas, Tex., was advising farmers to sell. On the decline Italy bought 400,000 bushels.

Corn and oats sagged with wheat, despite assertions that Germany would import 18,500,000 bushels of corn to cut down wheat requirements. Big arrivals of corn had considerable bearish effect. Weakness in provisions was ascribed to the downturn in grains.

Meat
—then and now

THE meat peddler of the old days, who killed his own live stock and then sold the meat from the tail of a cart, is gone from our larger towns and cities. He was a pioneer and did good service but he couldn't keep up with his job. Crude methods had to give way to new ideas in sanitation and distribution.

Concentration of population drove the peddler and his wagon out and brought the modern packing industry and the neighborhood retailer in his place.

And the modern packing business means this:

That near the farms and ranches, the centers of live stock production, are packing plants that assemble and manufacture the meat products you use.

That swift and sanitary refrigerator cars carry your meat from these packing plants to every part of the country.

Dealers in towns and villages are supplied directly and regularly from these refrigerator cars.

And in cities the refrigerator car is unloaded into branch houses, chilled and sanitary, from which deliveries are made to your meat shop. And all the time the meat is kept so chilled that deterioration is prevented.

Swift & Company's plants and branches are co-ordinated, interchanging supply and supporting each other, when necessary, so that no section of the country may ever lack its daily meat.

TALL TURBAN EFFECT IN NEW PARIS HATS

Record News Staff Bureau.

PARIS, Feb. 24.—Straw hats for women have made their appearance and are already ousting velvet and satin creations.

There is a very praceful large hat with a high dome-shaped crown and sweeping brim, and for small tosques there is a wide brim folded upward with tall turban effect.

The preference for ragged trimmings seems likely to be carried into spring hats, and a fringe of cosse or a long fluffy silk tassel is to be see on some.

Pedograph Replaces Palmistry As Method of Reading Character

Record News Staff Bureau.

LAWRENCE, Kans., Feb. 24.—Exit the palmist, enter the "pedographist," who reads one's character from the lines of the feet. Here we have Hannah Mammerstein taking a "soleful" look at Miss Abby Harris. Both of them are New York dancers and their characters should surely show in their feet if anybody's does. That characters may be read from the soles of the feet as well as from the hands is the conclusion reached after the revelation of the "pictures" of the feet of Kansas university women, on file in the western state's department of education. Dr. Martha M. Bacon is in charge of the pictures.

According to Dr. Bacon, by their feet shall the brides of the future be known. Bridegrooms of the new order will demand pedographs of their wives-to-be, for therein lie the index to character. Flat feet, calloused feet deformed feet and feet with things on them that ought not to be there were shown on the pedographs of the university women.

The curious thing about the little black and white pictures is that there is only one girl who even approaches the standard of perfection in development of feet. She is Claire Newton of Chanute, Kans., who is the daughter of a missionary and who was born and reared in China, the land of cramped feet.

"These pedographs," said Dr. Martha M. Bacon, "are a guide to character. You can tell what kind of a life the owner leads."

Eager to keep well up with developments of science, the curious one sought a friend who has modestly designated himself as a pe-diognomist.

"No, you will not find it in the dictionary," said the friend, "but it is easily explained. It is the very opposite, you might say, of physiognomist. I have made a study of the feet and ankles, just as the physiognomist does from the face.

"It is wonderful how much of character is revealed in the feet and ankles. There is one type I have paid particular attention to. It is what I call the 'ingenue droop.' As I recall it there is an exquisite curve of the inner line of the ankles, so full of youthful insouciance, of hesitant sophistication. This type is languid, dreamy—always expectant of the joys of life—a devotee of the movies, without doubt."

"Is this type pretty?"

"I cannot say as to that, I do not study the face.

"There is another type, too, that is exceedingly interesting, and you will see lots of that type since the war. It's the efficiency girl. She always has her heels together, toes pointing outward at just the proper angle, firm but not obtrusive ankle lines and straight military lines above. There ought always to be a uniform to go with those feet and ankles.

"The worse type of all is the one that runs down one shoe on the outside and the other on the inside—she is the kind, I imagine, that reads in bed, likes kimonos rather than house dresses and makes her husband run the carpet sweeper.

"There is one class I never have solved. The foot is perfect, slender, graceful in all its lines. Instep inspirational. Toe tender and affectionate. Ankle lines thin and delicate. Everything fine but—her toes turn in—pigeon-toed. It seems to me that the turning in of the toes shows misdiretion of purpose. She will spend all her life dreaming of things she will never attain."

Doctor Files Damage Claims Against Wormer

Damages to person and automobile totaling $26,750, with exemplary damages of $5,000 are asked by Dr. J. W. Powers, local physician, in a suit brought Thursday in the Eighty-ninth district court against Frank Van Wormer. The suit is an outgrowth of an automobile collision on October 29 on Tenth street, near the Grace avenue intersection, in which, the plaintiff alleges, he was injured and his automobile damaged. The plaintiff further alleges that the accident occurred because of the negligent and careless driving of the car owned by Van Wormer.

In the suit the plaintiff asks for the recovery of damage done to his automobile and also for the payment of his hospital bill. He also alleges that he was unable, on account of the injury, to practice his profession for thirty days and estimates his loss of income during that period at $50 a day. He further alleges that his present health and condition is such that he is unable to practice his profession as formerly and asks $20,000 for this alleged permanent condition.

The game of croquet does not develop experts and enthusiasts to the extent that golf and tennis do; but more people play it and more wood is consumed in providing the balls, mallets and stakes than in the production of golf clubs and tennis rackets combined, says the American Forestry Magazine. The entire playing outfit of croquet is made of wood except the arches and sometimes these are of bent wood.

DODSON SOUNDS CALOMEL'S DOOM

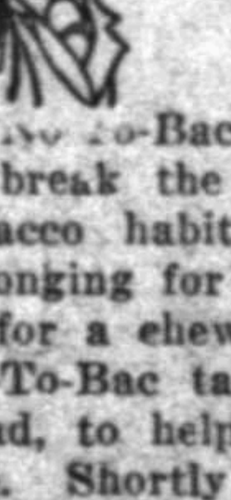

The "Liver Tone" Man Warns Folks Against the Sickening, Salivating Drug.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you lose a day.

Calomel is mercury! When it comes into contact with sour bile, it crashes into it, breaking it up. Then is when you feel that nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish, if liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach is sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodsons Liver Tone tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous, go back to the store and get your money. COUNCIL GOES INTO SECRECY OVER MANDATES

Note From United States Regarding Protectorates Discussed at Executive Session of League.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Feb. 24.—Secrecy of proceedings of the council of the League of Nations today provoked lively speculation as to the effect of the American note upon members. It became known when the full text of the note was made public today that the United States, in addition to making reservations with respect to the island of Yap, attributed to Japan as mandatory, claimed an equal concern and interest with the other principal allied and associated powers in the disposition of the overseas possessions of Germany.

The theory has been advanced that the only possible friendly solution of the question would be for Japan to say that she did not insist upon the mandate for the island of Yap and would be agreeable to the internationalization of Yap under Japanese supervision.

Thus far the Japanese government has not committed itself and the general impression is that the whole matter must go to the supreme council, members of the council of the league being unable, in any event, to take a decided position on a question of international policy without approval of their governments.

The adversaries of publicity in connection with the proceedings of the council succeeded today in hermetically closing both sessions. The mere announcement was made this evening that the council had continued to consider the Polish-Lithuanian conflict.

D., 1920, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 8840-C, wherein, Hustead & Tucker is plaintiff and International Petroleum company and I. Ruby, individually, are defendants, and said petition alleging: That about Jan. 21, 1920, the International Petroleum company made, delivered, and duly accepted by I. Ruby, its manager, and I. Wherefore plaintiff prays that defendant be cited in terms of law to appear and answer this petition, for judgment against said defendants, and each of them for the sum of $3,124.50, with interest thereon at the rate of interest allowed by law from the 9th day of May, 1920, until paid and the additional sum of $312.45 as attorneys' fees for costs of suit and for general and special relief, etc. Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular terms, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same. LEONARD BEATS WELLING.

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 24.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, easily outfought Joe Welling of Chicago in an eight-round, no-decision bout here tonight, according to newspaper men.

The champion was given the decision in every round for aggressiveness and ring generalship.

In the fifth he caught Welling off guard and delivered a stinging right to the point of the chin, knocking him down. Welling took the count of eight, and, on arising, fell into a clinch. Welling fought on the defensive throughout the contest. He continually held Leonard around the neck with his left, simultaneously striking with his right.

The men fought at catchweights, and, as such was the case, there was no title at stake, even should Leonard have been knocked out, according to fistic experts.

ROTARY CLUB CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

"While rightfullly proud of the past, the Rotarian club has nothing to do with the past—its entire concern in the in future," declared Bert Bean, in tracing the growth and development of Rotary, whose sixteenth anniversary was celebrated by the local club at its Thursday luncheon.

"The Rotarian has no yesterday—his only days are today and tomorrow," Mr. Bean continued.

The talk, the principal event on the program, was a thoroughly typical Bert Bean talk, with the usual sharp and tingling witticisms intermingled with a number of solid bits of real philosophy.

The speaker touched on the history of the development of the organization only in a cursory way, devoting the principal part of his talk to the Rotary ideal, "service," and to the "Rotary spirit."

"When you get along toward the end of life, the question that will be up to you will not be how much you've got, but how you got it and what you are doing with it—not whether you won or lost in the game of life, but how you played the game," he said.

In speaking of the Rotary ideal of service, he mentioned the local street car franchise controversy.

"If they want to run a street car line down a certain street which will aid the growth and development of Wichita Falls, I, if I have the true Rotary spirit, am not going to stop to consider whether it will hurt my little piece of property here, or help my investment there, but will be guided solely by the good it will do for the town."

Other features of the program, which was arranged by a committee of which Rev. N. F. Grafton was chairman, included two selections by a quartet composed of John W. Bradley, Tom Bergin, R. E. Strange and E. S. Goodner, under the direction of A. E. Murdock, at the piano, and two solos by Walter Robbins, all of which were very warmly received.

Talks by J. C. Mytinger, E. S. Goodner and Alfred Burnside, scheduled for the meeting, were deferred until the next meeting.

Four new members were introduced by I. H. Roberts, the president—H. J. Foerster, manager Kemp Hotel cafe; Julian Montgomery, city engineer; J. Emold, merchant tailor, and Edward Bebb, florist.

Reports by Harry Bray of a new procedure in the admission of new memmbers, and by Lee Clark for the work of the educational committee, preceded the special program.

UNITED STATES DEMANDS PART ON MANDATES

Note to Council Meeting in Paris Declares America Must Have Voice in Awards.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The American government, has taken an unequivocal stand with regard to its right to a voice in the disposition of the former overseas possesion of Germany.

Secretary Colby, in his note to the council of the League of Nations, made public tonight, submits that disposition of these possesions "cannot be undertaken or effectuated" without the assent of the United States.

Furthermore, he states that the United States, as one of the "principal allied and associated powers," has "an equal concern and an inseparable interest" with the others of these powers in the territories taken from Germany and "concededly an equal voice in their disposition."

Declaring the American government cannot regard itself as bound by the terms of the mandate given to Japan over the Pacific Island of Yap by the league, the secretary requests that the council "having obviously acted under a misapprehension of the facts," in assuming that the United States had approved a Japanese mandate over the Island, re-open the question for "the further consideration, which the proper settlement of it clearly requires."

Officials declared that on the acting now the present administration had strengthened the position of incoming administration. The opinion also was expressed that there might be a conference of the interested powers to discuss the question. It is understood that such a course would be acceptable to the United States.

Refers to Yap

Referring to the Yap mandate, Secretary Colby's note said that at the time of the discussion of the question at Paris, President Wilson "was particular to stipulate" that it should be reserved for future consideration and that subsequently the United States, in notes to Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan "set forth at length its contention that Yap had in fact been excepted" from the proposed mandate to Japan for the Pacific Islands north of the equator formerly held by Germany.

"The information was further conveyed," Mr. Colby states, "that the reservations which had previously been made by this government regarding the island of Yap were based on the view that the island of Yap necessarily constitutes an indispensable part of any scheme or practicable arrangement of cable communication in the Pacific, and that its free and unhampered use should not be limited or controlled by any one power."

Under-secretary of State Davis made it clear today that the controversy was between the United States and the allied powers and not between this country and Japan. It is around the future status of this island that much of the controversy in the international communication conference has centered.

Cables Under Fire

Advices today said the Netherlands government had become a party to the controversy over the German cables seized by Japan and emanating from Yap.

One of the lines connects Yap with Menado, Dutch East Indies, and the Dutch government is said to have addressed a request to Japan for possession of this cable.

Japan, according to the advices, replied, proposing joint ownership of the line, but the Dutch government is said to have reiterated its request for outright possession.

Pending the decision of the international communication conference as to the disposition of cables, all of the lines, both in the Atlantic and the Pacific, have, since last January, been operated under the joint account of the five allied and associated powers participating in the cable settlement.

'EL HERALDO' PLEASED WITH CABINET MEN

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 24.—Except for brief mention in El Heraldo, editorial comment on the selections of President-elect Harding for his cabinet was lacking in the Mexican press today, although the selection of Henry P. Fletcher, former American ambassador to Mexico as under secretary of the interior, El Heraldo says:

"The vast influence he has had as a senator now is passed to the cabinet, but if the lessons he learned while heading the commission of investigation into Mexican affairs are justly applied, Mexico has nothing to fear."

Government officials have refrained from comment on the cabinet selections, but a symposium of opinions gathered by the Excelsior from representative Mexican and foreign business men here indicated a general belief among them that Messrs. Fletcher and Fall would mould the Mexican policy of the administration.

Something of a stir was created in the American colony today by the publication in El Universal of the first of a series of articles by an unnamed author purporting to give an authentic history of the interventionist movement in Mexico. Many men prominent in business here are declared to be supporters of the movement, which the newspaper asserts "menaces Mexican sovereignty more than ever before."

No loan may exceed $4,000 which sum is to be paid back to the state under an amorization plan by which the principal and interest is paid in 144 equal monthly payments, thus terminating the loan in twelve years.

The state will obtain the money for its loans by the issuance through the rural credits board of $500 bonds to the extent of $3,000,000.

By Associated Press.

TOKIO, Feb. 24.—Extension of the Japanese electoral law of Korea must await the time when the people of that country are capable of exercising the duties of citizenship, declared Baron Saito, governor of Korea, upon his arrival here today. The baron asserted that at the present time the Koreans were insufficiently educated to reap the benefits of the franchise. He described Korea as "comparatively quiet," and said the authorities were guarding against intrigues.

LOCAL SCHOOL KIDDIES UNDER NORMAL WEIGHT

Twenty-five per cent of the children of the first three grades of the city schools were found to be ten per cent or more under the normal weight required by rules of health, for their heighth, according to Miss Elsie Berry, nutrition expert of the Home Economics Extension department of the University of Texas, who left Thursday night for Austin, after finishing a test of the children in this city, at the request of the local Red Cross chapter.

Miss Berry said that children, who were found ten per cent or more underweight were considered, by expert dieticians and other students of children, to be in a serious condition.

Children found underweight are often the victims of the wrong kind of food for their particular case, said Miss Berry and are as often found in the family of the millionaire as of the poorer people. Candy, coffee, tea and foods, wrongly proportioned, were given as the causes of many cases of poorly developed children.

Two visits were made to each school at which a survey was made. The first to measure the children and weigh them, and the second to report the results found and to send notes to the parents, advising them of the condition of their child and advising a special diet.

Milk, fruits and vegetables were recommended by Miss Berry as the best foods to increase the strength and build up the bodies of stunted children.

To make the courses clear to the minds of the children and to straighten the imprint of the lectures on their memories, the lectures were all given in an imaginative vein, and illustrated with pictures and drawings. In these milk was given the part of health captain, leading the stunted ones against the forces of ill health and under nourishment, past the land of headaches and poor concentration to the strongholds of rosy cheeks, health and happiness. On the other hand coffee, tea and various beverages were classed as the enemies of good health, who must be overcome by faithful following of Captain Milk.

Miss Berry is scheduled to make a similar survey of the primary pupils of the Corpus Christi schools next week. She was the guest of Mrs. M. M. Addicks, 2001 Lucile street, while in this city.
