GEORGE STRAIT
...SCOOP benefit...

On stage tonight at 8...

Strait sought out benefit concert here

The planning process to schedule the George Strait concert here Thursday night — a performance to benefit SCOOP's Friendship Home — dates back several months.

The net result of this effort will materialize at 8 p.m. on stage at the Scurry County Coliseum. Reports indicate some 2,100 advance tickets have been sold with 960 available at the door.

Initially, Strait's representatives contacted the Snyder Chamber of Commerce about the possibility of the country and western singer appearing in a benefit concert here.

Reports are he wanted to perform in this area and aid a service organization at the same time, according to SCOOP's Executive Director Olivia Rogers.

Chamber personnel then contacted SCOOP representatives who began the negotiations. For a time the concert was an "off again/on again" project since they were not sure they could secure the coliseum because of the schedule of basketball games.

However, Rogers said SCOOP personnel, the county commissioners and Coliseum Manager Phil Ragland were able to work out the details, paving the way for the Strait concert Thursday night.

After several years of playing what is called the "honky tonk" circuit, Strait has recorded such Top 10 hit songs as "Amarillo By Morning," "Fool Hearted Memory," "A Fire I Can't Put Out," and "Right Or Wrong."

His most recent single is "Let's

Arms reduction...

Reagan seeks verification

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, saying he wants more than a "piece of paper" from new arms talks with the Soviets, is calling for a verifiable agreement guaranteeing deep cuts in the nuclear arsenals of both superpowers.

Reagan cautioned his senior arms control advisers Wednesday that they should have "no euphoria" about the U.S.-Soviet decision to resume negotiations that lapsed more than a year ago.

In a 20-minute meeting with members of the delegation that returned from Geneva with the promise of renewed U.S.-Soviet arms talks, Reagan said, "We can't rest on our laurels. This is the beginning of a process."

White House deputy press secretary Larry Speakes, who quoted Reagan's comments for the benefit of reporters, said the president told the group that although the United States wants an arms agreement, "if it isn't a good agreement, if it won't work, we just don't seek a piece of paper."

Secretary of State George P. Shultz, who led the U.S. delegation, said the negotiators were able to nail down an agreement and "get what we wanted in Geneva" because of their advance preparations and Reagan's instructions, Speakes said.

"We did not have to come back and ask for additional guidance," Speakes quoted Shultz as saying. "We knew as a negotiator that we were free to walk away from the table if we didn't get what we wanted."

Reagan met with the arms control advisers to congratulate them on their success in Geneva and to encourage them to continue working hard.

There was no discussion of talks between Moscow and Washington for setting a precise time and place for the resumption of talks, Speakes said. Nor was there any mention of who will head the American negotiating team.

Speakes said the president told the group he wants "comprehensive and thorough preparations" to be continued.

TG&Y here adds new in-store 'look'

Snyder's TG&Y, located in the Varsity Square Shopping Center, is becoming the second store of some 800 stores in the Southwest and Western United States to receive a new "look" designed for the nationwide chain.

Store Manager David Polk says the changeover is scheduled to be completed by March 3.

The major difference customers will notice is a changeout of the old display shelving and a new color scheme — with the store to be completely painted in two shades of gray.

What they may not notice immediately, Polk said, is a better organization for goods — a move designed to improve the "departmentalization" of the store.

In addition, with a switch to taller 6 ft. shelving, the store will gain the two-fold advantage of wider aisle space plus more area to display merchandise.

This added space will allow TG&Y to stock many items yearround which currently had to be stocked only on a seasonal basis, he said

He also noted they expect to significantly increase such sale areas as personal care products and home appliances.

Once the rearrangement and installation of shelving is completed, Polk noted further additions are planned as, beginning in April, the store gains a new computer checkout system.

In addition to insuring that customers are charged the correct amount, this system also streamlines the inventory and reorder process for merchandise. Every item that passes through the checkout is logged in a computer for re-order.

Mission status changes...

Local Guard unit to be reorganized

Officials with the Texas National Guard have announced a reorganization of the 111th Engineering Battallion effective Feb. 1 — a change which will see the local unit switch from a poontoon bridge company to combat engineer status.

Snyder Guardsmen serve along with individuals from Sweetwater and Stamford in Co. E of the 111th Engineers.

According to Staff Sgt. Charles Cromwell of Snyder, Co. E will become Co. D as part of its new mission assignment as combat engineers.

Other changes include upping the authorized strength of the Snyder detachment from one platoon to two and the moving of the company headquarters from Sweetwater to Stamford.

The additional platoon authorized for Snyder will entail the addition of one commissioned officer and 20 enlisted personnel. The local unit now has an authorized strength of 45.

Cromwell said this week the 20 new enlisted personnel will most likley be recruited locally. There is a possibility also of some personnel now assigned to Sweetwater or Stamford being reassigned here — a change that would entail them driving locally for guard meetings.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A statesman makes the occasion, but the occasion makes the politician."

We got our first "embarassing moment" contribution, and it too involved a car door.

Dave Harlin told it on his brother, Bob. It occurred a few years ago when Bob got out of his pickup, put the keys in the right pocket of his starched Levis and pushed down the knob to lock the pickup door.

Harlin slammed the pickup door with his left hand, but Bob had failed to remove his right thumb from the door closing. As the pain signals rushed to the brain, Bob's initial reaction was to quickly open the door and removed his thumb, but it was locked and the keys were in his pocket.

Think about it, everybody reaches into their right pocket with their right hand and their left pocket with the left hand. It's natural.

Reaching into the right pocket with the left hand is not impossible, but it sure is impractical—especially if you can't move your right hand or arm which is caught painfully in the pickup door.

Dave Harlin said he was laughing too hard to be of much help to his brother.

The following story is one of those kind of incidents that rekindles your faith in mankind.

In 1920 Marvin Gary came to Scurry County "to pick cotton and get rich." Gary says he has picked plenty of cotton over the years, but the latter was elusive.

About 1925 Mr. Gary needed his car repaired, so he went to a local shop and had the work done. As best he remembers, the work was properly done and the occasion was forgotten.

Late last year, Mr. Gary received a check and letter from the mechanic who had done the work nearly sixty years ago.

The note stated that the mechanic had overcharged Mr. Gary for the work and that fact had been bothering the mechanic all those years.

Enclosed was a check for $150 which the sender said hopefully would take care of the overcharge along with interest.

Like Mr. Gary said, things like that don't happen very often.

Ask-Us

Q. — Why are our council members not elected by districts?

A. — Historically, all Texas cities have voted council members "at large" rather than by specific districts since the turn of the century. Court action by minority groups has changed this approach in select Texas cities the past few years — the closest to Snyder being Lubbock. According to the Texas Attorney General's office, the basic legal question in these cases has been "does the at-large process constitutionally dilute the voting strength of minorities inside the city."

In Brief

Not guilty

NACOGDOCHES, Texas (AP) — An escaped mental patient who said he thought he was Jesus battling the devil when he stomped a 27-year-old man to death has been found innocent by reason of insanity.

The state district court jury deliberated seven and a half hours before reaching their verdict Wednesday.

The verdict means Donald Davis, 29, of Nacogdoches, will go back to Rusk State Hospital for evaluation. It will be up to state District Judge Jack Pierce to decide how long he will remain in the hospital.

Davis was on trial for the murder of Ricky Lee Wilburn, 27. Wilburn was stomped to death the night of Sept. 6, 1983, on a Nacogdoches street.

The company would wind up with more money by increasing fees for specialized services — such as WATS, private line and directory assistance.

Protest seizure of supplies

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Australia says it will protest Ethiopia's seizure of the cargo and crew of a ship carrying Australian famine-relief food and supplies to rebel-held areas of the impoverished African nation.

Ethiopia's Marxist government seized the cargo ship Golden Venture at the Red Sea port of Assab, and a spokesman for the Ethiopian Foreign Ministry on Wednesday described Australia's plan to aid rebel areas as "tantamount to interference in our internal affairs."

An estimated 7.75 million people are suffering from drought-related food shortages in Ethiopia. Many of the victims live in guerrilla-controlled areas of northern Tigre and Eritrea provinces.

In Australia, Foreign Secretary Bill Hayden said his government would protest the seizure.

"I have directed that our representatives in Addis Ababa should lodge a very strong protest and a demand that the commodities and other items be released," Hayden said in a radio interview in Sydney.

He stressed the estimated $1.2 million in aid for rebel areas was for humanitarian purposes and not intended to support guerrillas. "We only supply humanitarian aid because people are starving," he said.

Hayden said the ship had disregarded instructions and put in at the Ethiopian port Monday instead of one in Ethiopia's neighbor Sudan, where it was supposed to have unloaded the goods.

Diplomatic sources in Nairobi, who spoke on condition they not be identified, said the ship was carrying 6,000 tons of wheat for rebel-controlled areas and another 3,500 tons for elsewhere in Ethiopia, plus trucks, medicines, blankets and a well-drilling rig.

Each bag of wheat reportedly was marked as a "Gift of Australia" to the Eritrean Relief Association or the Relief Society of Tigre. Both groups work closely with the rebels who long have been fighting for autonomy in those provinces.

Australia's Freedom from Hunger Campaign, Community Aid Abroad, and the Melbourne Herald and Sun newspapers helped supply the water pumps, trucks, medical supplies and thousands of tons of food.

The Freedom from Hunger Campaign issued a statement calling on Hayden to take the matter to the U.N. Security Council.

"The Marxist-Leninist government of Ethiopia is committing regular and premeditated atrocities on its people with guns and bombs," said the director of Freedom from Hunger, Hans Paas.

"Now comes the hideous obscenity of the obstruction of vital aid from reaching starving people — aid shipped under the auspices of the Australian government and which is the property of the Australian people who donated for its purchase," he said.

The Ethiopian Foreign Ministry official, who spoke only on condition he not be identified, said his country will do whatever is necessary to prevent aid from reaching the secessionist rebels.

"We ask the government (Australia) to desist from this kind of activity and warn other groups or countries who may do likewise," the spokesman said.

State government workers continue pay raise push

AUSTIN (AP) — State government workers won't back away from demands for a pay raise, says the leader of a major employee group.

Gary Hughes, executive director of the Texas Public Employees Association, said the group's top priority in the 1985 Legislature is "the passage of a tax bill or bills to fund all necessary pay raises and benefit increases being requested."

His statement Wednesday came the day after Gov. Mark White, in his state-of-the-state address, urged lawmakers to avoid a tax increase this year.

But Hughes said state employees have been slighted already and deserve an emergency raise this year and a pay hike in the 1986-87 budget biennium that begins Sept. 1.

"TPEA will not accept the idea of no pay raises for state employees for the next two years, as is reflected in the Legislative Budget Board recommendation and the governor's budget request," Hughes said.

Hughes said a 6 percent pay raise, if it becomes effective March 1, would cost the state $98 million. A similar raise for the 1986-87 budget years would total $360 million more, he said.

Hughes said the governor's call for a freeze on replacing state workers who quit or retire is a good plan.

"It's something I think they've got to consider," he said, adding that White's proposal "still leaves room for the agencies to replace positions that are critical."

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has estimated that state revenues in the next two years will fall about $1 billion short of current spending. White and legislators have been looking for ways to cut costs and keep from raising taxes.

During a news conference, Hughes admitted that employees will have to sell lawmakers on the idea of raising taxes to fund a pay increase.

"It's not there now," he said of lawmaker support, "but by the end of the session it will be.

"I think once these (spending) cuts start taking effect ... I think the people of the state are going to be talking to the members of the Legislature when they come home and discussing priorities with them and state services. By the end of the session, we're going to see a lot more consideration for a tax bill."

Hughes also said he believes the state's financial crunch will last longer than this year, and that a tax increase may be inevitable.

"This isn't just a single-year problem. We're looking at a funding problem for probably the next six years," he said. "We've got to look long term ... not just wait until the session's over and be talking no new taxes."

Failure to give state workers a raise would mean more trouble for agencies, Hughes predicted.

"If they thought they're not going to have any kind of increase for the next two years, you're going to have a lot of good, solid state employees looking for employment elsewhere," he said.

"You're going to have a serious turnover problem. You're going to have a problem of maintaining, keeping competent people to administer a $32, $33 billion budget. The state budget is big business," Hughes said.

Mom Left Only With Memories When Couple Leaves No Will

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1985 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column you discussed the importance of leaving a will. May I add this:

Two years ago we lost a beautiful daughter and a handsome son-in-law in a house fire. They had no children and they left no will. According to Michigan law, if a couple has no will, the surviving spouse inherits everything the couple possessed.

Since it was established that our son-in-law died last, everything he and our daughter left went to our son-in-law's nearest of kin—a no-good bum who couldn't wait to sell everything he fell heir to.

We got nothing—not even the few personal items we had given our daughter. This hurt me so deeply I had to be hospitalized. All this could have been avoided if our daughter and her husband had left a will.

Abby, please tell your readers to make a will—regardless of how young they are, or how few possessions they have.

We are now urging our other children to have wills drawn up. Nobody should ever have to experience what we went through.

STILL MOURNING IN MICHIGAN

DEAR MOURNING: Please accept my heartfelt sympathy. I regret that you will never know how many strangers will read this, act on your valuable suggestion and avoid the nightmare you endured. Thank you, my generous friend, for caring enough to write.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young divorced mother, and my problem is that when I get asked out on a date, I end up paying the baby sitter.

I have had to turn down a lot of chances to go out because I couldn't afford a baby sitter. I'm on a tight budget, and things like food and clothes come first.

Correct me if I'm wrong, but isn't the man supposed to pay for the sitter? I hate to ask in advance if he plans on paying, but maybe that's what I should do.

Please answer in your column. I'm sure other young mothers have come up against the same problem.

MOMMY

DEAR MOMMY: The man is not "supposed" to pay for the baby sitter. But if he offers, it's all right to accept. (Do not ask him in advance.)

Consider making a deal with other young mothers in your neighborhood—sit with their children, and in return they can sit with yours.

DEAR ABBY: Please settle something for me, once and for all! Everybody tells me I am wearing my rings wrong. I think I'm wearing them the way they should be worn, with my engagement ring on the inside. My reasoning:

When I became engaged, the engagement ring was placed on my finger. When I married, the wedding band was placed on my finger right next to it, and that's the way I have worn them.

So why do people tell me I'm wearing my rings "wrong?"

RING PROBLEM

DEAR PROBLEM: Your wedding band should be worn on the "inside"—nearer to your heart.

Senate approves finance proposals

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate has approved three proposals to keep closer track of state funds and also to advise local governments how to get more interest for their money.

Sponsor John Leedom said his resolution directing the treasurer to check out the benefits of helping local communities earn a higher interest income was aimed at the "big brother relationship" between banks and government in smaller towns.

"As it is now, the banker might not quite be objective as to where funds are deposited," Sen. Leedom, R-Dallas, said Wednesday.

Another resolution by Leedom, chairman of the interim Senate Committee on Agency Funds Management, directs the Legislative Budget Board to study funds in the state treasury, with a report due Aug. 1, 1986, on whether there are any funds that can be abolished or consolidated.

Leedom said Texas has more than 400 funds and "there is now no control over the state funds that are established."

"This is like having 400 bank accounts — it's hard to have money in all of them at the same time," he said.

Leedom's committee has recommended limiting the number of funds.

A Leedom-sponsored bill, which also was approved, would create the State Cash Flow Policy Committee to "monitor and review the state management of its cash flow" and to make recommendations to the Legislature.

The recommendations, according to a printed bill analysis, would include "long-term cash flow problems, including the timing and methods of payments of state and local taxes."

The committee would include the governor, comptroller, treasurer and two members of the Budget Board.

The two resolutions and bill were sent to the House on Wednesday without a dissenting vote.

Leedom was asked about the resolution to provide local communities with financial assistance, and he said the treasury department would offer assistance in getting higher interest income, with the communities paying the department a small fee to offset the state's cost.

PUBLIC NOTICE

In accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act and the Rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. (AT&T Communications) gives notice to all of its Texas customers that a new procedure for long distance billing was made effective on an interim basis on August 6, 1984 in Docket No. 5800.

The procedure referred to is "Rate Period Specific Billing" and it applies to all message telephone service (AT&T Long Distance calls) including non-REACH OUT Texas calls within the State of Texas. This new procedure effects all AT&T Long Distance customers. All intraLATA long distance calls and all interstate long distance calls are currently billed using this procedure.

Under this procedure, customers are billed a specific charge for long distance calls according to the rate or rates in effect throughout the time of each call. If a call begins in one rate period and extends into a different rate period, the customer will be charged whatever rate is in effect for each portion of the call.

For example, if a customer places a call at 4:58 p.m. on a weekday and talks for ten minutes, the first two minutes of the call would be charged at the full weekday rate which extends from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The remaining eight minutes of the call would be billed at the evening rate which extends from 5:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. and includes a 25% discount. If Rate Period Specific Billing were not in effect, the entire call would have been billed at the higher day rate. Calls which extend from the evening rate period (25% discount) to the night and weekend rate period (40% discount) or from the night and weekend rate period (40% discount) to the day rate period (no discount) would also be billed according to the actual minutes of use during each rate period.

AT&T Communications anticipates a minimal increase of approximately .02% in its revenues or approximately $250,000 annually.

A complete copy of the "Rate Period Specific Billing" tariff is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Authors win extra success with book

THE TALISMAN. By Stephen King & Peter Straub. Viking. 644 Pages. $18.95.

Stephen King and Peter Straub have proven that 1+1=3 in "The Talisman," a novel so good it's hard not to gush.

We know them recently for "Pet Sematary" (King) and "Ghost Story" (Straub) but their collaboration in "The Talisman" produces a work that is better than the sum of their talents.

"The Talisman" is a quest tale. Jack Sawyer, 12, is the son of a B-movie queen who has come to the East Coast to die of cancer.

But that's in this world. In a parallel world, the Territories, Jack Sawyer is Jason, son of a dying queen. And the only thing that can save either woman — and perhaps either world — is the Talisman, which is on the West Coast, and Jack Sawyer is the only one who can make the journey.

It is a journey that takes place in worlds filled with characters so real that the reader is quite as ready to accept a heroic werewolf as he is to accept the description of an American small town as a "sort of place where they eat what they run over on the road. Gorillaville. You eat the beer, then you drink the glass."

If there is a best thing about this book, it is that the authors have managed to make Jack Sawyer a real 12-year-old boy, the kind that thinks in the terms of someone just atop the long slide to adulthood. He is not just a short adult, and any male reader who remembers being 12 will be able to peer back to a time when things were at once both more simple and more complicated than the weary certainties of adulthood allow.

That's hard to do. Mark Twain did it in Tom Sawyer, and for many authors, giving a character the same last name and closing the book with Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer" close would be a presumption. For these, it's fitting.

Vessel retraces Columbus' route

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands (AP) — A 104-year-old Italian sailing ship is en route from the Canary Islands to San Salvador on the final leg of its voyage tracing the route of Christopher Columbus.

The 72-foot wooden vessel "Felice Manin" has a crew of nine. It began its journey from Genoa, Italy, and plans to visit several American cities after completing its Atlantic crossing. It is to appear in the "HarbourFest '85" celebration next Fourth of July in New York City.

It is to participate in the Boating Week-USA and Miami International Boat Show in the last half of February. Then it will travel up the East Coast with stops at Cape Canaveral, Jacksonville, Savannah, Charleston, Wilmington, Elizabeth City, Norfolk, Washington, Annapolis, Baltimore, Wilmington and Philadelphia before reaching New York.

Eight-card suits are a little like a full moon on an autumn night — they can be mind-boggling. Thus South pre-empted five clubs over the weak two-heart bid by East. West doubled cheerfully and led the king of diamonds. His cheerfulness quickly turned to gloom.

Declarer was John Wignall of New Zealand, playing a match last November against Luxembourg in the World Team Olympiad. Wignall ruffed the opening lead and saw a glimmer of hope. He could make his contract if he could ruff a heart with dummy's singleton club. Perhaps the weak two-heart bidder had originally held the A-K-Q of hearts and a void in clubs. He did need to keep West off lead, so he led the heart jack from his hand. Sure enough, East had to win the trick and, wonder of wonders, he had no club to lead. The contract was made, with more than a little bit of luck.

In the qualifying rounds of the World Team Olympiad last fall, a total of 1,910 matches and 38,200 deals were played.

Training can improve memory

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am s 64-year-old female. I feel fine and am in good health, retired and loving it. However I have a problem remembering things. I go into the other room for something and when I get there, I have forgotten what I went for. I think of something while doing the dishes, and by the time I dry my hands I have forgotten what it was.

Some nights, after going to bed, I think of different things and repeat them over and over in the hope of remembering them. The next morning I know I wanted to remember something but can't remember what it was.

Am I losing my mind? I understand that there is a vitamin that helps to improve memory. Which one is it? I am extremely concerned about this and feel that if I don't do something, it will only get worse.

DEAR READER — With the current concern about the effects of age on the mind, one would think children never forgot their books, left a coat behind or forgot anything. I'm afraid that is not the case. Youth is not a guarantee of having a good memory, and getting older is not necessarily associated with a decrease in memory.

What do the child and the older person have in common? Most often, they both lack concentration. A child hasn't learned to concentrate yet and is easily distracted, while you may be "woolgathering" partially because you are retired and don't have the same degree of responsibility you once had. You may improve markedly not by taking vitamins, but by training your memory and improving your concentration.

People usually do not have significant changes in brain function until their late 70s or 80s. Then they usually retain verbal memory, and many of them have memory functions that are as good as those of young people who were tested the same way.

Acetylcholine is important in brain chemistry regarding impulses that are related to memory. However, one can't count on getting it into the brain by taking lecithin, choline, vitamins or minerals. This is why recent studies have used a pump to gradually infuse acetylcholine directly into the brain in the hope of alleviating Alzheimer's disease.

Yes, aging does cause changes in the brain, but most of the people who have significant changes also have some medical disorder — and I don't mean Alzheimer's, which has been over-emphasized. I have discussed some aspects of changes in the brain with aging in The Health Letter 14-2, The Aging Mind, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Recent studies show that metabolism is decreased with mild amounts of atherosclerosis (fatty-cholesterol deposits in the arteries) or very mild high blood pressure (which is detected by a PET scan). All of this suggests that brain slowing and dysfunction can be related to disease. The studies also suggest that the things one does to prevent heart attacks and strokes — such as eating a proper diet, controlling weight control and blood pressure, and not smoking — also may be very useful in preventing changes in the brain with increasing age.

GOP debates benefits of SS freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration and congressional budget writers are in agreement that this year's deficit-reduction plans should spare programs designed exclusively for the nation's neediest.

But Budget Director David Stockman, after meeting with GOP leaders of both House and Senate on Wednesday, conceded that there is sharp disagreement among Republicans over whether a spending freeze should include Social Security benefits. "It's an open question," he told reporters.

Senate Republicans are working on a proposal that would include such a freeze while House Republicans have shown little enthusiasm for altering the formula for Social Security benefits.

"We don't see that there's that much mileage in it. That's not the route to go," said House Minority Leader Robert Michel, R-Ill., after the meeting with Stockman.

House Republican leaders were meeting today with Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger, who has advocated large increases in defense spending in the face of pressure to cut spending in other areas of government.

Michel said many GOP members of the House "have serious questions in the defense area." He said he himself may put on the table a proposal to trade GOP support for the MX missile for a commitment by the administration to limit its request for defense spending increases to around 4 percent.

Stockman said that the administration's budget for fiscal year 1986 is nearing completion and that while there are bound to be disagreements over specific spending cuts, "In the end there is going to be a consensus, at least among Republicans, on a target."

The budget will be submitted to Congress early next month.

Stockman confirmed that cost-of-living increases in programs containing a "means" eligibility test would be left alone. These programs include food stamps, disability benefits and supplemental security assistance.

"We felt at the outset that they shouldn't be freezing low-income programs. They're back where they ought to be," said Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole, R-Kans.

Participants in the meetings with Stockman also said that cost-of-living increases in veterans' pensions would likely not be frozen. However, Stockman said that scheduled increases in other government pensions and salaries would be frozen, under the administration's proposal.

Michel said Stockman told GOP House leaders that the administration's budget would call for reductions in the deficit "in the vicinity of $40 billion" next year.

Senate Repubican budget writers are working on a plan to write a 1986 budget that would include plans for reducing the deficit from about $200 billion a year to half that amount by 1988.

Teachers opposing competency tests

AUSTIN (AP) — The law requiring competency tests for teachers should be repealed or substantially modified, the Texas Classroom Teachers Association says.

"Our first choice is that it be repealed," said Jeretta Thompson, president of the 25,000-member group.

If the testing law isn't repealed, then the teacher's association believes it should be amended so exams could be given on an individual basis and as part of a broader evaluation, she said.

Ms. Thompson said teachers are concerned because, as stated in the school reform law passed last summer, "It's written as the sole thing to make up a teacher's competency."

Susan Crocker, a high school English teacher from Grand Prairie and chairman of the TCTA's legislation committee, said the morale of many longtime teachers is suffering.

She said teachers who have received undergraduate and advanced college degrees now are finding that the state apparently doesn't consider that proof of their abilities.

"You'll find that low morale comes from the fact that we feel like the things we've done in the past, that we did in good faith based on the system that Texas education had, are no longer recognized as valid," Ms. Crocker said.

"Teachers feel that through course work, they've demonstrated their competency. And they're rather insulted that they have to prove it again," she said.

"But more than that, they don't feel that the problem with incompetent teachers rests primarily in subject matter knowledge. It rests in communication skills with students," Ms. Crocker said. "It's difficult, almost impossible, to test communication within the classroom through a pencil-and-paper test. It should be tested through a means of evaluation and observation."

The TCTA also said it wants the Legislature to modify the so-called "career ladder" system which awards teachers salary bonuses based on additional education, experience and good evaluations.

One needed change, the group said, is a provision to allow teachers with many years of experience to quickly advance up the ladder, rather than making them wait the same amount of time as new teachers who enter the system.

"A person with 20 years experience will be placed on the career ladder in the same manner as a person with three years experience is," Ms. Crocker said.

"It will take a person with 20 years experience as long to make 'master teacher' as it will the person with three years experience," she said.

Henry Lucas, Toole indicted

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Multiple-murderer Henry Lee Lucas and former traveling companion Ottis Toole have been indicted in the 1976 shotgun death of Huntington Police officer Clemmie Curtis.

The indictments on first-degree murder charges were returned Wednesday by the Cabell County grand jury, said Prosecutor John Cummings.

Last November, Huntington city and state police traveled to Texas to question Lucas in jail about his claim that he killed a police officer off Interstate 64 in the Huntington area. Authorities later matched the description to the death of Curtis.

Lucas on Dec. 11 led authorities to the site where Curtis, 30, was found shot to death on Aug. 3, 1976. Curtis was found with his hands bound with his own handcuffs. He had been shot once in the chest. In a note to his family, Curtis wrote, "I think he's going to kill me."

Two separate investigations determined that the death was a suicide, but Lucas' claim caused authorities to take another look at the case.

Cummings declined to comment on evidence presented to the grand jury but said, "there's no question in mind that he did what he said he did."

Toole and Lucas traveled around the country together for several years beginning in about 1975, and Lucas claims to have killed scores of people during a 20-state trek. His claims have ranged from 150 to 360 slayings.

A drifter until his 1983 arrest in Texas on a weapons charge, Lucas has been convicted of eight killings.

Dusters and Westerners...

WTC goes on road to New Mexico JC

HOBBS, N.M. – Western Texas College basketball teams take a familar role here tonight - that of visitor.

Tonight's meetings will be the fourth conference road game for Western Texas' Dusters and Westerners, who do doubleheader battle with the Thunderbirds at 6 and 8. The Dusters have played only one home conference game this season and that was earlier this week when they defeated Clarendon. The Westerners are 1-1 in home WJCAC games. They also defeated Clarendon this week, and lost in overtime to New Mexico Military Institute in November.

In other men's games tonight, South Plains (0-5) is at Clarendon (0-5), Frank Phillips (3-2) is at Amarillo (3-2), Howard (1-4) is at Midland (5-0) and NMMI (4-1) is at Odessa (5-0).

In women's games, South Plains (0-3) is at Clarendon (1-3) and Frank Phillips (0-4) is at Amarillo (3-1).

Westerners vs NMJC

"We may play better on the road than we do at home," said WTC men's Coach Phil Spradling after bemoaning his Westerners' lackluster play in the 69-67 win over Clarendon.

The Westerners are 13-5 for the season, and 3-2 in conference play. New Mexico Junior College, an 80-70 loser to Frank Phillips on Monday, is 10-8 and 1-2.

Western is actually 5-1 at home and 8-4 on the road this season. Three of their four road losses have been in the last four games.

The Westerners are led, pointwise, by 6-5 freshman James Dawn, who is averaging 17.5 points. Floyd Singleton is averaging 13.5, Alvin Hicks 12.7 and Victor Spencer 10.2.

The Westerners are shooting .559 from the field and .662 from the line while averaging 92.7 points and allowing 81.0.

New Mexico is led by Eddie Newell's 13.7 points. Newell is an 83 percent freethrow shooter.

Other key players for the 'Birds include Clark White, who is averaging 13.2 points and Frank Bagley, who averages 10.4.

NMJC is shooting .513 from the field and .583 from the line while putting up 84 points a game and allowing 79.

Western's biggest task will be contending with the 'Birds' rebounding. NMJC averages a whopping 46.2 rebounds a game - Osby King leads with 8.3 - while WTC is pulling down 34.8.

Dusters vs NMJC

With a 20-4 record, Coach Joe Cushing's Dusters are perhaps the nation's best unranked team.

The Dusters boast a spotless but diminutive home record. They've played only five home games, but won them all. On the road, they are 15-4.

Western will take a 3-1 conference record into tonight's ballgame. NMJC will counter with marks of 14-5 and 2-2.

The Dusters go inside to 6-2 post Clara Campbell for 17 of their 75 points a game. Patti Hayes, Renvy Evans and Lyndy French, all sophomores, are averaging 12.2, 10.4 and 9.8 points respectively.

The Dusters are shooting .441 from the field and .591 from the line. They are giving up 63 points a game.

New Mexico is scoring 84 points and allowing 73. The Thunderbirds shoot .494 from the field and .617 from the line.

Jackie Haynes leads in scoring with 17.8 points. Joyce Barnes averages 11.

Key 2-4A games scheduled for Mustang teams, Snyder

Coaches will say when you get this far into district play every game is important, but there's no doubt that all concerned will be leaning an ear towards two specific District 2-4A matchups this weekend.

The contests involve Sweetwater and Andrews, two schools that are in the thick of both boys and girls action.

Friday night's contest is crucial for Sweetwater's boys, who fell to third place in the standings after a 53-46 loss to Snyder earlier this week. The red and white clad Mustangs, 2-2 in district and 2-3 overall, travel to Andrews.

Andrews is currently in second place with a 4-1 record, a half-game in front of Snyder, which is 3-1.

Snyder travels to 3-2 Pecos, another team which an ill afford a district loss. Also, loop leader Lamesa, 5-0, will play host to 0-4 Fort Stockton, while Monahans, 1-3, and Lake View, 0-5, also tangle.

In girls action, the Andrews-Sweetwater shootout represents the first and second place teams in the 2-4A standings. Andrews, 7-0, is ranked No. 6 in the state. Sweetwater, rated No. 7, is 5-1. Sweetwater's lone loss came at the hands of Andrews.

Snyder, in third with a 4-2 mark, will entertain the 3-4 Pecos Eagles. Other games have 1-5 Lamesa at 0-6 Fort Stockton and 4-2 Monahans going against 2-5 Lake View.

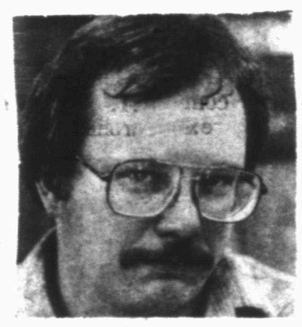

The varsity games between Snyder and Pecos will both start at 8:30 p.m. They are to be preceded by junior varsity contests at 7.

Also coming up for the Tigers will be makeup games with Fort Stockton this Saturday. Snyder's varsity boys will stay on the road and play in Fort Stockton at 6 o'clock. The Lady Tigers will entertain the Panthers at 2:30 in the Snyder High School Gym. There will be a 1 o'clock junior varsity girls game in Snyder, but there will be no boys JV game at Fort Stockton.

Signing day close; area talent courted

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

February 13 is national signing day, the first day for colleges to ink high school football talent.

According to an article in today's Abilene Reporter News, Sweetwater tackle John Layfield, a 6-6, 215 all-state selection, will sign with Abilene Christian University. Layfield is reportedly being checked out by most of the Southwest Conference schools, Oklahoma and Oklahoma State, among others.

Layfield is also a starter for the Mustang basketball team and is considered to be the best "big man" in the district. Though he didn't have a particulary good game against Snyder here Tuesday night, he did show flashes of talent. The Mustangs have played only five games this season and Layfield should improve a bunch before the campaign is over.

Another area player drawing the interest of college scouts is Doug Chitsey, a former Snyderite who played quarterback and defensive back for Colorado City.

Chitsey, whose father still teaches at North Elementary here, has reportedly been looked at by Brigham Young, among others.

Some local players have also drawn the attention of smaller colleges and junior colleges.

Among those who have reportedly been contacted are Jimmy Cain, Willie Greathouse, Paul Thompson and Kyle Freeman.

Speaking of the gridiron, you might be able to scale the fence at Tiger Stadium for a free football game, but don't try it at the Super Bowl this Sunday.

There will be approximately 500 police and security agents around and in the stadium. An 8-foot fence will surround the area, and it's topped with six rows of barbed wire. Ouch.

A check with SHS Athletic Director confirmed that the school is still hunting for a volleyball coach.

"The amount of applications coming in has been slow," said Tomlin, who said he expects interest in the position to pick up following the basketball season.

"We wanted to get somebody before the semester, but since we weren't able to we are going to take our time, now. We're in a good position. We're going to get the best person we can for the job."

Two NITs now

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - NCAA convention delegates approved a 16-team preseason National Invitation Tournament in basketball, while rejecting a proposal to waive exemption to the five-year eligibility rule for service in armed forces or on church missions.

The preseason NIT tournament, approved overwhelmingly, would be played starting next season during the last two weekends in November. The postseason NIT would be unchanged.

In other action, delegates adopted a proposal setting strict limits on the number of games that can be played for many college sports.

Raiders shock Hogs

by The Associated Press

Arkansas coach coach Eddie Sutton was feeling tired and philosophical over the worst conference game loss one of his teams has ever suffered in Southwest Conference play.

"We've had a lot of great games here in Lubbock, but this wasn't one of them," he said after Texas Tech drubbed his Razorbacks 64-48 Wednesday night. "We've won a lot of close games here, but this certainly wasn't very close. Texas Tech displayed its maturity and shot extremely well."

Senior guard Bubba Jennings canned 20 points and Texas Tech hit a school record 67.5 percent from the floor en route to the thumping.

In other Southwest Conference play Wednesday night, Texas A&M overcame Texas Christian 65-60 in overtime, Texas squeezed past Baylor 68-65 and Houston beat Rice 77-73.

Texas Tech coach Gerald Myers was quick to credit his defense after the Raiders limited Arkansas to just 19 of their 55 field goal attempts.

"We came out in the second half and played with great effort on defense," Myers said. "I have to give everybody on our team credit for the job they did. Our defense was good throughout the game and we just had a tremendous effort by all of our guys."

Jennings fueled Texas Tech's hot-handed effort by hitting nine of 12 field goal attempts, including seven of seven in the first half, as the Raiders withstood a tremendous 32-point performance by Arkansas senior center Joe Kleine.

The Raiders are now 3-1 in conference play and 10-4 overall, while Arkansas fell to 3-2 and 12-5.

Texas A&M's squad also showed its mettle in their overtime victory over Texas Christian.

Only seven players - six in the second half - played in the entire game, and they'd fought to a 51-51 tie before going into overtime and pulling out the victory.

"I am really proud of our guys," said a relieved A&M Coach Shelby Metcalf. "They showed a lot of courage down the stretch. We only played six men in the second half and they had to be tired."

A&M raised its record to 10-5 overall and 2-2 in the conference, while TCU slipped to 9-7 and 1-4.

Houston guard Eric Dickens scored six straight points and Braxton Clark hit a layup in the final 1:36 to rally the Cougars to their narrow victory over Rice.

IRS has changed some medical deductions

EDITOR'S NOTE: This third article in a series of five on preparing 1984 income tax returns discusses deductions.

By JIM LUTHER
AP Tax Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over-the-counter drugs are no longer deductible against federal income tax but it will be a little easier to write off prescriptions at return-filing time this year.

Another change allows a medical deduction for some lodging expenses incurred in connection with treatment in an out-of-town hospital or clinic. The bad news for taxpayers with big medical bills is that they still may deduct only unreimbursed expenses that exceed 5 percent of their adjusted gross income.

The change in treatment of drugs — there is no longer a separate income-related threshold to cross — makes it simpler to calculate the deduction for medical expenses but denies a write-off for any non-prescription drug except insulin.

On the revised Schedule A that accompanies Form 1040, add together your prescriptions, doctors' and dentists' fees, cost of transportation and lodging and other medical expenses, including eyeglasses and medical insurance premiums, and subtract from that total 5 percent of your adjusted gross income (AGI). You may deduct whatever remains, assuming your deductions of all types exceed the standard deduction ($3,400 for a joint return, $2,300 for a single return).

(AGI is your income minus such adjustments as employee business expenses, moving expenses and contributions to Individual Retirement Accounts. It appears on Line 32 of Form 1040).

For the first time, you may include as a medical expense the cost, up to $50 a night, of staying in a hotel if that is essential to treatment in a hospital or clinic. For example, if a cancer patient must go out of town for regular chemotherapy treatment and the distance from home is sufficient to warrant a hotel stay, the cost up to $50 a night is deductible. If the patient is a child accompanied by a parent, the deduction is $50 each.

The Internal Revenue Service generally considers a deductible medical expense to be an amount paid to diagnose, cure, treat or prevent disease or to affect any structure or function of the body. That definition has been interpreted to include expenses as far-ranging as electrolysis to remove facial hair, to the purchase of a wig that a doctor considers necessary for a patient's mental well-being, to the full cost of special education to alleviate a mental or physical handicap.

Deductible transportation costs include 9 cents a mile (or actual cost of gas and oil) for trips to a hospital or doctor's office, plus parking and tolls. IRS Publication 502 lists medical expenses that may and may not be deducted.

The single largest deduction for most of the 35 million couples and individuals who itemize is interest, including a home mortgage. Although there is talk of limiting that deduction in the future, most nonbusiness interest remains fully deductible on 1984 returns for those who itemize. But you may not deduct interest paid on a loan to finance tax-exempt securities or to buy single-premium life insurance.

Otherwise, include on Schedule A interest paid on your mortgage, on your credit cards (but not the annual membership fees), on revolving charge accounts such as offered by department stores, and on installment loans. If you were charged interest last year for late payment of taxes, that is deductible — but any penalty is not.

Most taxes you paid to state or local government last year are fully deductible against your federal taxes. These include income taxes, real estate taxes, personal-property taxes and sales taxes. If you keep records of the sales taxes you paid, you may deduct that amount.

Most people prefer to deduct the average amount, based on income, allowed in the sales tax tables that are included in the Form 1040 instructions. Remember to consider all available income, including tax-free interest, as you figure your sales tax deduction.

Killer receives part of mate's estate

BAY CITY, Texas (AP) — A former hairdresser sentenced to life in prison for her husband's murder reached an out-of-court settlement with the dead man's mother to accept $20,000 from his estate.

Fran Turner, convicted of murder in the hired killing of her husband, Robert Turner, agreed to the settlement with Turner's mother, Roberta Turner, of Bay City.

Turner was killed in March 1982 at a roadside park near Richmond. An autopsy showed he had been stabbed more than 60 times.

Real estate law offered at WTC

Real estate law has been reinstated in the spring semester courses offered at Western Texas College, Bill Halbert, chairman of the business and mathematics division, has announced.

The course is listed as RET 132 on the original schedule. Classes will meet on Wednesday nights rather than on Thursday nights as the original schedule stated.

Real estate law includes a study of law and procedures as they relate to the nature of land, real estate property acquisition and ownership and transfer. The study includes deeds, liens, contracts, homesteads, wills, estates, trusts and the Texas Real Estate License Act.

Instructor for the course will be Jeri Daugherty. She holds a degree in agriculture with a specialization in real estate.

Textbooks for the course are available in the college bookstore and may be purchased at the time of registration. Students beginning registration are to go to the administration building.

headquarters is expected to have little effect on local staffing or operations, he said.

Along with the increased personnel levels brought about by the change in mission assignment, the total number of vehicles stationed at the Snyder Armory will decrease.

All of the bridge trucks and support equipment now based here are scheduled to be assigned to guard detachments in South Texas.

Cromwell noted the primary task of combat engineers includes clearing land for helicopter landing areas and the demolition of minefields along with the construction of temporary buildings and small timber bridges for the support of combat infantry and armored units.

Two dump trucks and two pickups are the only vehicles expected to be stationed here immediately along with hand and power tools to compliment this type work.

Bulldozers, front-end loaders and other heavy earth moving equipment may be assigned to the Snyder unit in the future, he said.

Great gray owls hunt as efficiently by day as by night. Partly because feathers surrounding each eye function like a dish antenna, directing sound to the ears. Using this combination of senses, the owls can pinpoint their prey with deadly accuracy.

Will dun vets for money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration, armed with enhanced enforcement powers from Congress, is trying to recover $1.4 billion owed by more than a million veterans who collected money they weren't entitled to.

Delinquent debts totaling $367 million were collected last year, according to VA officials, but the amount of money owed to the agency by veterans actually grew during fiscal 1984 — from $1.2 billion the year before and $1.1 billion in fisal 1982.

Some debts stretch back to the end of the Vietnam War, and agency officials doubt they'll ever be able to close the books on all the money owed.

"We keep adding and we keep collecting," Milt Jones, chief of benefit payment and accounting policy in the VA controller's office, said.

"The collection of debt is an ongoing process," added Douglas Bartow, a VA collection official. "Paying public benefits sort of lends itself to that."

Of the nation's 28.2 million veterans, 1.16 million of them owe the agency some amount of money as a result of VA benefits, agency spokesman Ozzie Garza said. Individual veterans owe amounts ranging from $5 to as much as $20,000, he said.

Most of the money is due the government as a result of overpayment of VA benefits, defaults on VA insured home loans and unauthorized VA medical care.

"Education is the large portion of our debt portfolio," said Bartow. "By and large, the way the debt is created is a student who is entitled to benfits changes his enrollment somehow so he is not entitled or entitled to less, and doesn't notify us.

"So maybe it takes us three months before the school notifies us he's out of school, and he owes us $800."

Warning given on paving deal

The Scurry County sheriff's department Thursday issued a warning to local residents concerning transient paving contractors operating in the area.

It was reported that several indictments have been returned in Andrews against a transient contractor offering to repair driveways.

It was reported that most of the victims were elderly persons. "Be sure you know who you are dealing with," warned Andy Anderson, chief deputy, he added that persons who feel they may have been a victim of such a contractor should contact the sheriff's department.

Store planning interior change

As part of this change, the store has already gained a new central checkout station, Polk noted.

The renovation now underway will eventually entail moving every counter in the store, work which is going on during regular business hours. While some inconvenience to customers is inevitable, Polk said "we're trying our best to work around it."

TG&Y opened here in November of 1977. Polk has served as manager for about two years.

The store currently employs some 65 fulltime staffers.
