Cold Wave Grips South Plains; Snow Blankets Entire Section

New Blast Is Said On Way

LUBBOCK and South Plains residents awoke to snow on the ground for the second straight morning today and with a forecast for colder weather this afternoon and tonight it appeared likely that the white blanket would still be here Sunday morning.

The thick blanket—four to six inches over the Panhandle and South Plains—melted somewhat during brief sunshine yesterday, but sub-freezing temperatures last night threatened a more dangerous glaze or ice today than yesterday. The temperature reading at midnight was 19 degrees.

COLD TO CONTINUE
(By The Associated Press)
Freezing temperatures were general in the northern portion of Texas last night and prospects today indicated even lower temperatures.
Light snowfalls were reported in the northern part of the state.
Temperatures last night included Amarillo 24, Pampa 24, Dalhart 22, Houston 52, Brownsville 45, San Antonio 34, Waco 25, Dallas 31, El Paso 32, Tyler 32 and Fort Worth 25. Dallas, Fort Worth, Denison, Big Spring, Midland, Lubbock and other points reported light snowfalls.

Covers Entire South Plains

Measurements at the Texas experiment sub-tation, east of the city, showed six inches of snow which measured .25 inches of moisture. It is one of the biggest snows this area has received in several years.

Reports from the Santa Fe railway, highway department headquarters, the highway patrol and other sources, the blanket stretched, in varying thickness, all over the South Plains and most of the Panhandle. From reports of its agents at key points of the Lubbock area, Santa Fe division headquarters at Slaton estimated the fall at from 4 to 6 inches over the South Plains.

Heavy At Amarillo

The froth was reported light in the Plainview section but "heavy" in the Amarillo section and northwest of Muleshoe. A motorist reported that snow appeared heavier between Lubbock and Tahoka than in this immediate vicinity.

The Santa Fe report said most of the Texas area west of a line running from the corner of southwest Oklahoma to Sweetwater received snow.

Sgt. E. L. Stroud, of the Lubbock highway patrol office, said last night that no highways in the area were closed, but advised "if you have to drive, be careful." Highways were glazed over, he said, and suggested that it would be "good accident insurance" to

Oklahoma Badman Dies Of Wreck Injuries

Matt Kimes Dies In Little Rock Hospital

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 14—Matt Kimes, the Oklahoma badman, died in a hospital here today of injuries suffered in a traffic accident in North Little Rock while he was being hunted by the FBI in connection with a Texas bank robbery.

Kimes, 39, was struck down by a poultry truck Dec. 1 while he was crossing a street. He had a pistol and a large amount of currency. At Baptist State hospital, where he was taken, it was discovered that he had internal injuries.

Relatives Take Body

Last week he was arraigned at his hospital bed and waived extradition to Texas. The reports of physicians indicated yesterday that his injuries were more serious than first believed. An operation, found necessary at the last minute, preceded his death.

The body was turned over to relatives.

A sister was at his bedside when he died, Special Agent Dean Morley, in charge of the FBI offices here, said. His relatives were notified when the surgeons decided to operate.

The former convict, furloughed last July from the Oklahoma penitentiary after serving 18 years for murder, suffered a fractured left leg, scalp and hand lacerations in addition to internal injuries in the accident.

Unconscious when picked up after the accident, Kimes' identity was established when officers became curious about a pistol found at the scene of the accident and $1,635 found in his clothing at

Byrnes Arrives For Parley, Urges Better Understanding

MOSCW, Dec. 14. (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes said tonight that if no formal announcement of an agreement followed the meeting of Big Three foreign ministers here he would not regard it as a "bad sign."

Byrnes, relaxing at Spasso house after a harrowing hour in a plane lost in a blizzard over Moscow, made the statement in answer to a question at a press conference.

"I think it a far more important thing if we make contact for an exchange of views rather than meet to make announcements," he said. "I think great progress will have been made if we achieve a better understanding."

The Secretary of State said he wanted it understood that "this is no peace conference. No delegation. No formal foreign council meeting. Just exploratory."

He added, "I am now asking for a meeting in March, although I have no assurance there will be any agreements."

Talks Over German Setup

Byrnes said he stopped over in Berlin long enough to talk to Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay and others about the situation in Germany, and stated he believed civilian administration can be turned over to Germans in the American zone by next April 1.

Byrnes landed at the central airdrome today just before dark. "I am very happy to be here," were Byrnes' first words as he stepped from his plane, wearing only a light ton covert cloth topcoat, light grey hat, and only a silk scarf around his neck to combat a whirling snowstorm. He had no gloves or rubbers.

He was greeted by Deputy Foreign Commissar V. G. Dekanozov, who said. "We are very glad to have you."

Asked to say something for a recording to be played later over the Moscow radio, Byrnes repeated his pleasure at his arrival, then added:

"I am confident our conversations will draw our nations even closer together."

Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov was not present. He was conferring with French officials at a trade conference.

Fund Hits $1,854.82 As Names Are Asked

LUBBOCK Goodfellows, Friday turned their thoughts to preparations for a merry Christmas for all less fortunate children of Lubbock, their drive for funds having been a success.

Last night total donations to the Goodfellows totaled $1,854.82, all subscribed in less than a week's time.

Goodfellows were more concerned with seeing that every child in the city would have an abundant Christmas and Chief Goodfellow, anonymous leader of the campaign, urged that readers who know of boys and girls whose names should be on the list fill out the coupon found on Page 11 and mail it as directed. All listings will be complete by next Monday, final day for the coupon to appear.

The financial campaign Friday was as follows:

MAN DIES IN CRASH

AUSTIN, Dec. 14 (AP)—Buren T. Lowery, 28, was killed today when the automobile he was driving struck a culvert near Salado. Lowery was enroute home from visiting his brother, a veteran of the Pacific theater, at McCloskey General hospital in Temple.

Murder Charge Filed On Cline

DALLAS, Dec. 14. (AP)—Alfred L. Cline, whose arrest at San Francisco Dec. 3, was followed by an investigation of the deaths of four elderly women in various parts of the nation, was charged with murder here today in connection with one of the deaths.

"Murder is filed against Alfred L. Cline in connection with the death of a person whose true name to the affiant is unknown but who was known as Mrs. Alice W. Carpenter, by administering poison, the type of which is unknown," the charge, filed by Dallas Chief of Detectives Will Fritz, read.

Picture Is Identified

The woman died in a Dallas hotel on Oct. 17, 1944. The body was cremated on orders of a man who represented himself at the time as the woman's business agent.

Dr. W. E. Haley of Dallas, who attended the woman on three occasions prior to her death, viewed a photograph of Mrs. Eva Delora Krebs of Chicago, reported to have been married to Cline, and expressed belief the woman who died here was Mrs. Krebs and not Mrs. Carpenter.

Was Choir Singer

Cline, 56-year-old ex-convict and one-time Denver choir singer, was arrested in San Francisco on demand of Gerald Ryan, Chicago attorney representing the estate of the wealthy Mrs. Krebs. He is under a charge of suspected forgery of estate papers, filed in San Francisco.

The charge against Cline was filed in the court of W. L. Sterrett, justice of the peace.

District Attorney Edmund Brown of San Francisco had asked police at Macon, Ga., Portland, Los Angeles, Jacksonville, Fla., and Dallas to send officers to San Francisco to confer on the deaths of four women whose names were linked with that of Cline.

Brown said there is a pattern in all four deaths. All died shortly after being registered in hotels. The arrangements for their cremations were made by a man who identified himself either as their husband or their business agent.

Surplus Supplies Available To Civilians

Army Releases Goods

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Army is turning loose to civilians $400,000,000 worth of goods, ranging from sea-going tugs to wool socks.

In making this report to the Senate War Investigating committee today, the War department furnished a list of thousands of items valued at $203,721,370. Another $200,000,000 worth remains to be tabulated but will be available immediately, Walter Hehmeyer, a committee aide said.

Items Are Announced

The committee has been keeping a running check on the Army's disposal program, seeking to divert unneeded goods to the civilian market. The surplus articles will be disposed of through the usual channels.

Here are some of the important items:

2,000,000 Army blankets and 500,000 yards of lining for clothes.

11,937 trucks, including 2,142 one and one-half ton 4-wheel drives. Some of the vehicles range up to 7½ and 12 tons.

4,139 10-ton semi-trailers and 3,632 tractors.

Several million feet of iron pipe and culvert pipe for varying sizes; 244,319 telephone headsets; 771,000 pairs of combat boots; 1,493,000 pairs of wool ski socks.

There were thousands of other items—82,000 flashlights, 223,000 knit olive drab shirts, more than a thousand bridges, outboard motors, tool kits, insect spray, blasting caps, tugs, barges, railway cars.

No Clues Found In Search For Woman

HOT SPRINGS, N. M., Dec. 14 (AP)—Officers and relatives reported they still were without clues today in a search for a 43-year-old Hot Springs school teacher, Grace Wheeler, who disappeared last Saturday night.

"We haven't been able to turn up a thing," Sheriff Houston C. Berry said. He expressed hope that newspaper stories about Miss Wheeler might bring information of her whereabouts.

The teacher, described as quiet and retiring, was last seen at her rooming house. Friends said she appeared in good spirits.

Two brothers and a brother-in-law, Ralph and Curtis Wheeler and Marvin Acock of Lorenzo, Tex., remained here to aid in the search.

Committee On Sneak Probe In "Uproar"

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Controversy over the widening scope and copious detail of the Pearl Harbor inquiry shook the Senate-House committee today and produced:

1. Notice from the entire legal staff of four that they can continue work no longer than early January and want to be replaced. William D. Mitchell, chief counsel, said he had believed the "essential facts" could be presented in a relatively short period but that it has become apparent that some committeemen take a different view of what is essential and that the hearings will go on for months.

Lucas Hurls Charges

2. A statement from Senator Barkley (D-Ky) that he is considering resigning as chairman. He said he would make a decision in a few days, that he must decide whether his duty to the committee or to the Senate as majority leader is the greater.

3. An angry protest by Senator Lucas (D-Ill) against witnesses being asked "the same question over and over again."

"I cannot for the life of me understand why there are these repetitious questions," Lucas said at a time when Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) was questioning Lt. Gen. Leonard T. Gerow.

Ferguson Denies Charge

Barkley told Lucas that he as chairman could do nothing about repetitious questions except to express the hope that the committee members. In the interest of expediting the hearings, would not ask them.

Ferguson protested that he was not asking repetitious questions.

Gerow appeared the least ruffled of any of the principals as he related to the committee his recollections of War department events Dec. 6 and 7, 1941. He was chief of the War Plans division at the time.

Didn't See Jap Note

He testified he was in his office by 10 a. m. on Sunday, Dec. 7, but never saw the intercepted Japanese note to this country until he was called about 11:30 to a conference in the office of Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff.

It was after this conference that Marshall drafted a message to overseas commanders advising

Job Legislation Given Approval

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. (AP)—Legislation aimed at assuring plenty of jobs in the future was approved today by the House, 254 to 126.

The measure—a substitute for the so-called "full employment" bill requested by President Truman—lays down a federal policy of maintaining "a high level of employment, production and purchasing power."

It provides for creation of a three-man economic council to make recommendations toward achieving that goal.

HST's Plan Fails

Action on the measure came after the House rejected, 185 to 95, the original "full employment" bill and defeated a plan for an inventory of the nation's assets and liabilities.

The House also turned down, 243 to 136, a move to send all of the bills back to the Expenditures committee which drafted the measure finally adopted.

Final action came after two days of stormy debate and more than two months of controversy in the expenditures committee.

Must Iron Out Differences

The substitute now goes to a Senate-House conference committee, which will try to iron out differences between the bill and a modified version of the "full employment" bill passed by the Senate in October.

If the House bill finally becomes law, it would call on the economic council to study economic trends and make suggestions to the President, starting in 1947, regarding ways to keep employment and production at "high levels."

Plan Is Explained

The President then would report to Congress his recommendations. There a joint Senate-House committee established by the measure would act on his proposals.

The Senate- approved bill retains the goal of "full employment" but specifies it must be consistent with the "needs and obligations" of the federal government. It also carries the stipulation that all able-bodied Americans wanting jobs are entitled to an opportunity for them.

Both bills say that the government should step in only if private enterprise can't provide enough jobs.

GAUSS IS NOMINATED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. (AP)—President Truman today nominated Clarence E. Gauss, former ambassador to China, to be a member of the board of directors of the Export-Import bank. Gauss is a Republican.

'Fight To Bitter End' Is Pledged By UAW

Carlan Infant Is Found Dead In Own Home; Mother Being Held

CHELSEA, Mass., Dec. 14 (AP)—Tiny Ronald Carlan, sought for sixteen days as a kidnap victim, was found dead late today beneath a bureau in his parent's home and Police Chief Charles Finn said the boy's mother was being held on charge of "suspicion of murder."

Police quoted Mrs. James Carlan as saying that the six months old baby died Nov. 24 while she was attending a party in her mother-in-law's flat upstairs and that she planned the kidnap story because she was "afraid the people would say I neglected the baby."

Both Are Questioned

Chief Finn announced that he had booked the baby's mother late tonight. Several hours after the baby's body was found, and Police Lieutenant John Kirby said that Mrs. Carlan would be arraigned on the charge in Chelsea District court tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Carlan and her husband, a Nav. machinist's mate who never had seen his son, were questioned separately all evening at Chelsea police headquarters.

Carlan, on verge of collapse, left the building in charge of a doctor. And shortly after Chief Finn's announcement, Mrs. Carlan was locked up in a headquarters detention room.

Cause Of Death Not Given

After a telehone conversation the police chief quoted Medical Examiner William J. Brickley as saying that he had not determined the cause of death, but that he would make an autopsy report tomorrow;

State Police Inspector Michael J. Cullinane said that the mother had told him she found Ronald dead when she stopped at her own flat for a phonograph and records, that she tried unsuccessfully to breath into his mouth to revive him and that she then returned to party because she was "afraid she would be missed."

Writes Brief Note

Shortly after the Carlans were taken to Chelsea police headquarters separately, the baby's mother wrote a brief note and had a police matron carry it to her husband.

She wrote:

"Jim. Please believe me. I didn't hurt Ronnie in any way and God will help me prove it. Take good care of little Jimmy for me. Don't be too quick to judge me. Love, Rose."

The "little Jimmy" in the note was a reference to their older son, three-year-old James, Jr.

Carlan and his wife met momentarily shortly after she sent the note.

They embraced and Carlan said "I'll stick by you."

No Charges Said Filed

The father was taken to Chelsea naval hospital on the verge of collapse. No charges were placed against Mrs. Carlan, who was held at police headquarters.

After long questioning Mrs. Carlan was taken to the women's detention room.

Dressed in a flowered house coat and a long grey top coat, the 23-year-old woman walked beside a matron with her head bent low and her hands folded in front of her.

Her 28-year-old husband was taken into the chief's office as his wife's questioning ended.

Autopsy Is Made

A large man, Carlan was in a state of collapse and could hardly walk. As he staggered along, his body sagging, a police officer supported on one side and his mother on the other.

Police awaited an autopsy report from Medical Examiner Wil-

Woman Is Sought In "Lipstick Slaying"

CHICAGO, Dec. 14. (AP)—Detectives seeking a "lipstick killer," who scribbled a warning he would strike again if not captured expressed belief tonight for the first time that the slayer of an ex-Wave was a woman and that she is a "known killer."

Capt. Frank Reynolds of town hall police said police "now have reason to believe" that the wall-writing killer was a woman and that the slayer "was someone who knew" Miss Frances Brown, 33 year old former Wave, who was found shot and stabbed early Monday.

Reynolds said the belief was based largely on the details of the case and the "feminine phrase, "For heaven's sake," in the message written in lipstick on the apartment wall.

Ninety Officers Hear FBI Man At Session

About 90 law enforcement officers of the area around Lubbock heard Percy Wyly II, agent in charge of the Dallas field office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, discuss all phases of bank robbery and bank burglary at a meeting held in the Hilton hotel Friday afternoon.

Following the talk by Wyly, a question and answer session was held.

DOUBLE HOLIDAYS SET

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 14 (AP)—The New Orleans cotton exchange announced today double holidays for both Christmas and New Year. The exchange will be closed on Dec. 24 and 25 for Christmas and Dec. 31 and Jan. 1 for New Years.

Woman Kills Two Small Children, Shoots Self After Preparing Yuletide Presents

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 14. (AP)—St. Louis County Sheriff Arthur Moseley said tonight a mother in suburban Overland fatally shot the two youngest of her four children with a revolver and took her own life after spending several hours wrapping Christmas presents for her family.

The dead:

Mrs. Otto Trtle, 40; her daughter, Barbara Ann, 2, and her son, William, five months.

The revolver was found beside Mrs. Ertle's body, Moseley said, and deputies disclosed contents of a note to her husband.

"I guess I am just a coward but I can't take it any longer," the note read. "I am taking the two little ones as Jim and Ellie can do for themselves."

The note also referred to two insurance policies which were found with it.

County officers were summoned by a 16-year-old daughter, Eleanor, who Moseley quoted as saying she had been gone from the house about two hours and that she left her mother wrapping Christmas presents. The fourth child, 14-year-old Jim, was at school.

Moseley said Ertle, a soft drink bottling company employe, could give no reason for the triple shootings.

Butchery Of 6,000,000 Jews Is Revealed In Nazis' Trial

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

NUERNBERG, Germany, Dec. 14.—The butchery of 6,000,000 Jews, 4,000,000 of them in Nazi concentration camps and the rest in the ghettos of eastern Europe, was recounted today before the war crimes tribunal trying Hitler's 21 top henchmen.

This ghastly summation of Nazi bloodlust was made in an affidavit by Dr. Wilhelm Hoetty, right hand man of Ernst Kaltenbrunner, chief of the German military police, both were captured last spring.

Hoetti attributed the 6,000,000 figures to Adolf Eichmann, chief "Jew catcher" in the secret police. He said Eichmen told him of the estimate in 1944 when he began to fear that he would have to pay for the "millions of Jewish lives" on his conscience.

The affidavit climaxed the American case on the extermination of Jews, which had told, from captured German documents, of the slaughter of more than 60,000 in the 29-day Warsaw ghetto Massacre in 1943.

Quote From Nazi Diary

The prosecution quoted from Governor General Tans Frank's own diary to indicate his callousness toward wiping out millions of Jews, and read from an official war refugee report an estimate that 1,165,000 European Jews were executed at the Oswiecim camp in southern Poland.

Just before the tribunal recessed until Monday, Justice Robert H. Jackson obtained permission to present the American case against six Nazi organizations—a proceeding which he said may affect the fate of great numbers of individual Germans.

U. S. To Crack Down

The American chief prosecutor told the court that the prosecution intended to devote all the time remaining before the Christmas recess to presentation of evidence against the Reich cabinet. The Nazi party's leadership corps, the S. S. (elite guard), Gestapo, S. A., and the high command and general staff of the German forces.

He warned that the United States considered the determination of the guilt of Nazi organizations fully as important as the trial of the 21 leaders in the prisoners' box. Jackson conceded that there would be highly controversial matter introduced, and insisted on the right to present all evidence before defense arguments are presented.

Strong Chinese Army Is Urged

CHUNGKING, Dec. (AP)—China must have a strong, modern army patterned after that of the United States, plus some adaptation of Japanese methods, Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi reported to the National Military council today.

Pai, deputy chief of staff, urged one year of compulsory military training for all secondary-school graduates, establishment of retraining schools for the professional army, and creation of a non-professional reserve on American lines.

Use U. S. Materials

Since most of China's military equipment is of American origin, it is necessary for training programs and methods to follow the American model, he declared, but noted that changes would be made to conform with "peculiar conditions prevailing in China" with "no wholesale imitation of West Point."

The army already has undergone a sweeping change, Pai said, with the abandonment of mass recruitment in favor of a smaller but more highly-qualified force.

Copy Jap Army Schools

With a smaller professional army, the importance of training cannot be overestimated, he said, so that army schools along the lines of the former Japanese army would be established.

A Chinese dispatch received here today reported that government troops, in-a fighting advance, had reached a point 11 miles from Kupehkow pass on the border of Jehol province north of Peiping.

Another dispatch said that in Manchuria the Russian occupation troops would continue to be responsible for order in Changchun, territorial capital, until their departure, which is scheduled for Jan. 3, regardless of the presence of Chinese government troops there.

Three Missing, Seven Hurt In Hotel Fire

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., Dec. 14. (AP)—Smouldering ruins and perilously standing walls delayed a search tonight for any victims of a fire that destroyed the 59-year-old Glenwood hotel and drove nearly 125 guests into a snowstorm and near zero weather last night.

Three persons were reported still missing, seven required hospital treatment, mostly for injuries received in jumping from the raging flames. Police Chief Charles Wells estimated the loss at $200,000 to $300,000. The fire cause remained undetermined.

Rebels Demand Surrender Of Two Cities

Iran Tension Mounts

(By The Associated Press)

TEHRAN, Dec. 14—Leaders of the local autonomy movement in Azerbaijan province were reported tonight to be in virtual control of Tazriz, while 2,000 rebellious tribesmen were demanding immediate surrender of the government garrison at Ardabil, 110 miles to the east.

A high source in the Iranian government said fall of the two cities appeared imminent.

Troops Await Orders

Government troops in both the capital city and Ardabil were said to be awaiting orders from Tehran instructing them whether to fight or yield in the face of superior forces. Orders were dispatched to them in code last night, but their nature was not disclosed.

Provincial Governor Bayatt, who arrived in Tehran last night from Tabriz, said he had been forced to leave by leaders of the autonomy movement. Bayatt said he was accompanied to his plane by Jafar Pishevari, president of the newly formed Azerbaijan government, who had advised him to quit the province.

Meanwhile Sir Raeder Bullard, British ambassador, and John D. Jernegan, U. S. embassy representative, boarded a Russian plane for Moscow. Spokesman at both embassies said the purpose of the trip was "obviously" to discuss the Soviet attitude toward the revolt which has cut off the northwest province from the rest of Iran.

Labor Law Is Given Setback

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 14—The United Auto Workers (CIO) disclosed today that UAW Vice President Walter P. Reuther told General Motors corporation, "you are asking for a fight, brother, and, brother, you are going to get it."

The union said Reuther, who heads the UAW's General Motors division, also told the company, "if it's the last thing we do, brother, we are going to sweat this one out to the bitter end."

Accounts Are Given

An official UAW spokesman confirmed General Motors disclosure that Reuther made the statements during negotiating sessions Thursday as 213,000 General Motors workers in more than 70 cities remained idle in the strike that began Nov. 21.

General Motors today released a partial stenographic report on Wednesday's discussions between its representatives and UAW officials. The union later released an additional portion of the exchanges at the meeting, and Frank Winn, director of public relations for the union, said the portion released by General Motors was "apparently accurate."

Some Workers To Return

Other developments on the auto industry's troubled labor scene:

1.—General Motors and the UAW-CIO came to understandings to permit white collar workers and supervisory employes—all non-strikers—to return to work in some plants.

2.—President Truman's fact-finding board announced it would begin public hearings in the General Motors strike Dec. 20 but that a final report would be withheld until the board was certain its findings would "facilitate a settlement."

To Go To Washington

Representatives of both General Motors and the UAW will go to Washington to appear before the fact-finding board. GM said C. E. Wilson, president of the corporation; Harry W. Anderson, vice president in charge of personnel, and S. M. Dubrul, director of labor economy, will represent GM. Reuther and nine members of the top General Motors negotiating committee, will appear in behalf of the union.

3.—The Ford Motor company and the UAW-CIO, engrossed in problems of "company security" and the 30 per cent wage issue

Greyhound Bus Walkout Ends

FORT WORTH, Dec. 14. (AP)—The strike of Southwestern Greyhound Lines Bus Drivers and Terminal employes, in progress since Nov. 4, was settled today and operation of schedules will be resumed at midnight Sunday.

This announcement was made by Judge John L. Cone of Atlanta, Ga., chairman of the U. S. conciliation service panel, which has been negotiating a settlement for the past two weeks.

Working On Terms

Terms of the settlement of the dispute between the company and the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway and Motor Coach employes were to be worked out during the night by both sides, Cone said.

Terminals of the Greyhound lines will be open for business Sunday morning. Cone said both sides had "reached a mutually satisfactory settlement." The strike has affected 2,000 employes and was over wages.

Cone's fellow members of the panel were L. J. Smith, Amarillo, and C. P. Emory, Tulsa, Okla.

(A letter for men in service)

DEAR: - - -

Lubbock's promise of becoming a metropolis seemed sure following the $5,894,000 bond issue voted Tuesday approving 14 propositions that include city hall improvements, fire stations, police station improvements, park, street and traffic improvements, sanitary sewers, water supply system, water softening plants, auditorium-coliseum, etc.

Mayor O. W. Ribble said Wednesday morning that marketing of the bonds in the various projects would be pushed through to completion within the next 45 days and actual construction work on some of the projects would be started by that time.

There will be delay on the auditorium-colliseum because considerable steel will be required but it is hoped to have the building completed during the second year of the five-year program.

Continental Airlines will inaugurate service from the Municipal airport Feb. 15, Donald A. Duff, executive assistant, traffic and sales, announced Wednesday, of Lubbock's airport board and other city officials. There will be four departures daily, two for Midland and El Paso and two for Oklahoma City and Tulsa. This will make three routes operating through the city; Braniff and Essair currently are in operation.

Charles A. Wells, journalism and globe-trotter, gave a series of lectures at First Baptist church this week and appeared before civic clubs to discuss pertinent subjects such as the future of American capitalism, the racial problem, Russia and Protestants, Catholics and Jews in modern democracy. Wells, who was brought here four years ago by the Ministerial association, is a dynamic speaker and combines his remarks with skillful drawings of original cartoons.

Hugh Anderson, Lubbock attorney recently discharged from the Army after service in the Pacific, spoke on the soldiers' reaction to religion at a meeting of the Methodist Men's club at Hotel Lubbock Monday.

Maria Osmena, daughter of Sergio Osmena, president of the Philippine commonwealth, made a plea for the independence of her people at a meeting of Knife and Fork club Tuesday night at the Hilton hotel. Representative of the younger and more intelligent Filipinos, Miss Osmena presented the hopes and plans of the freedom-loving people in a capable and forthwith manner. She asserted they are poltically ready for their independence.

Police Chief Don Reeder is warning South Plains businessmen to be on the lookout for check thieves and forgers who usually become more active during the rush of the pre-holiday shopping season.

Directors of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce have taken action to advance the financial campaign for construction of a $300,000 stadium at Texas Technological college. With $150,000 already assured for the project and an indeterminate sum to be raised by the alumni association, the directors voted to promte by public subscription whatever balance is necessary.

Walt Schlinkman has accepted an invitation to play on the East-West football game at San Francisco on New Year's day. The Tech senior, who is rated as one of the greatest backs in the land in most quarters, was selected on both the Associated Press and the United Press Little America eleven and given honorable mention on its major All-American eleven.

Four games Saturday will send the Texas schoolboy football race into the semi-finals: Highland Park (Dallas) plays North Side (Fort Worth); Odessa plays Wichita Falls; Waco plays Marshall and Goose Creek will go against Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio).

Applications for permits to erect business buildings have increased sharply in the last two days, according to City hall records. One of the largest permits to be issued since pre-war days was to Robert E. Maxey, local contractor, for the construction of a $110,000 reinforced concrete building in the Green Acres addition. A move toward closing a gap in the down town Broadway lineup of business buildings was taken when George S. Berry, Lubbock attorney, applied for permisison to build at $36,000 structure at 1302-04 Broadway. That location is directly north of the Lubbock Memorial hospital.

John Stelle, national commander of the American Legion and former governor of Illinois, will speak in Lubbock the night of January 9. He was elected commander at the recent convention in Chicago.

Marlin R. Smith, who is retiring this month as city manager of Lubbock, was surprised by fellow city employes in a City commission meeting Thursday afternoon and presented with fine wrist watch as their expression of appreciation for his more than 20 years' service for the city.

Judge Marvin Jones of the U. S. Court of Claims in Washington, is visiting his brother, Hub Jones, and family this week.

New Mexico Cattle Shipments Increase

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec 14. (AP)—Although New Mexico cattle shipments during November, 1945, showed a decrease compared with the same month last year, the over-all total for the past 11 months is greater than during 1944, Secretary Sam McCue of the state cattle sanitary board announced today.

November shipments this year totaled 217,589 head, as compared with 226,334 head last year. Shipments for 1945 now stand at 782,289—an increase of 125,334 over the same period last year, McCue said.

Masked Gang Warns It Will Stamp Out British Hitler Group

LONDON, Dec. 14. (AP) — A group of masked men, reported to have said they were determined to "stamp out this Hitler cult," last night raided the Kingdom House, headquarters of the Legion of Christian Reformers, and beat up the custodian.

Some of the raiders were in Naval uniforms, according to Arthur Schneider, who took the beating.

Schneider was seized, bound and gagged after he opened the back door to investigate noises, and later was driven in a motor car for three miles into Pentworth, Sussex, and dumped.

The Legion, whose spokesman have said they consider that Hitler was a divine instrument, first came to public attention two weeks ago at the auction of furniture, Nazi symbols and busts of Hitler at the former German embassy.

A massive bust of the former Fuehrer, described by the auctioneer as "this piece of granite," was bought by Capt. Gordon Canning for $2,000, and later was reported installed in the stone mansion on the 16-acre headquarters estate of the legion in Sussex.

Canning, onetime member of the British Union of Fascists and of Anglo-German society, the link, was detained under guard for two years during the war.

Pamphlets distributed by "Legionnaires" during the auction declared: "We Englishmen, true to God and to England, declare the judgment, the final struggle between God and Mammon, and the God-appointed mission of Adolf Hitler as God's judge."

U. S.-British Dispute In Siam Poses New Problem In Far East

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

Siam, the only independent country in southeastern Asia, has become a testing ground of conflicting British-American policy in the Orient.

The mild dispute between the two big powers over Siam has been in progress for three months. It has not been widely publicized, but its solution is regarded by high quarters in Washington as the key to a new order in Southeast Asia.

Would Soften British Terms

The situation briefly is that Britain is suspected of trying to dominate Siam politically and economically in the post-war settlement. The accusation has been made by Siamese officials sources, and Washington has exerted strong pressure to soften the British terms, apparently with some success so far but not entirely to the satisfaction of the United States.

Siam, as a technical ally of Japan during the war, has a peculiar position with respect to Britain and the United States in the peace settlement. Siam declared war on both countries at the beginning of 1942. The declaration was accepted and returned by Great Britain and some of the dominions, but the United States preferred to consider it a puppet declaration under Japanese pressure, and never classed Siam as an enemy.

U. S. Favored Siamese Aid

The United States, in fact, has cited the activities of the Siamese underground resistance movement during the war as a classic example of double-crossing the Japanese, and classified Siam as an ally rather than an enemy.

While under Japanese domination, however, Siam moved into parts of Burma and Malaya, causing British resentment. On the urging of the United States, British has waived the formalities of "unconditional surrender" and the usual imposed peace treaty, but has demanded concessions which the Siamese contend will make them a virtual British dependency for some time to come.

Terms Branded Harsh

The British demands have not been made public either by London or Washington. A summary of them, based on Siamese sources, was carried in a United Press dispatch from Bangkok last week, although British circles disputed the Siamese interpretation of what the demands meant.

The Siamese charged, among other things, that their country is to remain "under British rule" until accepted into the United Nations; that Britain is to control Siamese banks, business and trade; Siam is to pay British occupation and other costs and submit to British censorship the press and communications; Britain is to control Siamese trade in rice, rubber and teak until the world scarcity of these products ends.

British Deny Charges

The British have denied officially that their demands are anything like as sweeping, or that they are seeking to reduce Siam to the status of an colony or dependency.

Nevertheless, the United States is completely with odds with Britain on her policy. Washington has cited the Atlantic charter and contends that Siam should be politically and economically free. The United States feels that any tresspass on Siam's sovereignty will have a bad moral effect on Indonesia and other dependent nations of the Far East who are seeking eventual self-rule.

The British, on the other hand, fear that the American attitude will serve only to increase unrest in the East and make a colonial adjustment more difficult. They also are keenly aware of the fact that Siam flanks Burma and Malaya, including Singapore. The projected canal across the narrod neck of Siam which would provide a short cut between the Indian ocean and the China sea would be a serious blow to Singapore's value. The British evidently intend to have a full voice in whether such a canal shall be built, and by whom.

America First Chief Expects Opposition To Party In Texas

HOUSTON, Dec. 14. (AP)—Texas is the most nationalist of the states but he expects trouble when he tries to spread "the gospel of nationalism" next spring, Gerald L. K. Smith, number one voice of the America First committee, said today.

En route to Baton Rouge, La., to lay a wreath on Huey P. Long's grave, the graying ex-preacher said he stopped in Houston to make contacts for his mass meetings next spring.

He said he expected opposition upon his return.

"Opposition. Sure I'll have plenty," he boomed. I'll rent a building and then they will threaten to blow it up. And kidnap the manager. Then I'll threaten to sue . . ." beyond that he couldn't forsee.

"They," he went on were "The Commies—you know, the Communists."

He said if he didn't receive opposition in Houston next spring "it will be the first American city where it didn't happen. The amount of opposition I get here will be in exact proportion to the Communist strength."

MAN HONORED

BROWNSVILLE, Dec. 14. (AP)—Citizens of Marianske Lazue in Czechoslovakia have named an avenue encircling their town hall in honor of Brig. Gen. Leonard Pierce of Brownsville. Gen. Pierce commanded the U. S. Sixteenth division which spearheaded the drive into western Czechoslovakia last summer.

Wholesale And Retail Boot Factory To Be Operated In Lubbock

W. F. French, owner of the Texas Boot shop at 1203 Ave. G, has announced the establishment in Lubbock of a wholesale and retail boot factory to serve the Panhandle and South Plains area at an estimated cost of $45,000 for building and equipment.

The factory, which will start with a capacity of 50 pairs of boots per day, will employ 50 experienced bootmakers. French said it is hoped that as the demand increases that several hundred boots can be turned out in a single day.

Construction of the brick and steel factory, estimated to cost $20,000, will get underway immediately at 2224 Nineteenth and will be completed by the end of February. The building will be 60 feet wide and 120 feet long with a 60 by 50 foot balcony to be used as a fitting department.

Boot making machinery, including side seaming, finishing, reeling, leveling, inseaming, heel trimming and stitching, has already been ordered at a cost of $25,000. "We will continue to make high-grade handmade boots, utilizing machinery only when necessary to make a better boot," the owner said.

To Be Separate Unit

The Texas Boot shop will be maintained as a separate unit from the factory. French, who has operated the shop the last five years, said he now has 10 bootmakers and turns out 24 pairs of boots per week.

The factory will serve boot shops all over the South Plains and Panhandle area. A salesman, representing the boot company, will call on retailers over the territory, and as an extra service, a high class catalogue will be published to facilitate ordering by mail.

The company will be similar to boot manufacturing companies located at Henrietta, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Nacona.

Veterans' Hospital Program Is Boosted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Senate Appropriations committee today gave impetus to a huge Veterans' Hospital construction program.

The committee, in its report on a deficiency appropriation bill, agreed to the expenditure of $158,320,000 for hospitals, as approved by the House on Nov. 29.

The appropriation would provide $23,460,674 for completion of the regular building program proposed for the current fiscal year, and $134,859,326 for construction of 19 additional hospitals and improvements to 20 existing institutions.

The bill provides for the following in Texas:

New hospitals—El Paso, 500 beds, neuropsychiatric, $5,047,000. Big Spring, Tex., 250, G. M. and S., $2,570,753.

Addition to existing hospitals—Legion, Tex., 407, tuberculosis, $2,863,521; Dallas, Tex., 511, G. M. and S., $2,859,577.

Eleven Nazis Hanged For Crimes At Belsen's Concentration Camp

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS, Germany, Dec. 14 (U.P.)—Josef Kramer, beetle-browed czar of the Belsen concentration camp, and 10 other Belsen officials including three women were hanged in the red brick prison of Hamelin yesterday, it was disclosed officially today.

For more than six hours the 11 marched in turn to the gallows and were executed for committing mass murders and atrocities in the camp where thousands of Jews, Poles and other inmates died in the months before British troops reached it.

Woman First To Die

Kramer and Dr. Fritz Klein, SS doctor who picked the victims for the Oswiecim gas chambers, swung to their deaths simultaneously at 12:11 p. m., the announcement said.

First to die was Elizabeth Volkenrath, 26-year-old former hairdresser who led the SS women at Belsen. She was hanged at 9:30 a. m., half an hour later Irma Grese, blonde "queen" of the camp, went to the gallows.

There was no explanation why Kramer and Dr. Klein were hanged simultaneously.

Clemency Refused

All 11 were sentenced by a British military court at Lueneberg on Nov. 17 after a trial lasting nine weeks. Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery rejected their pleas for clemency.

Great secrecy had been attached to the execution date and the name of the town where the executions were to occur. On Tuesday British and German police mounted guard around the gallows at the Hamelin prison.

The others who died were:

Juana Borman, 42, a cringing little woman who set a huge dog at the throats of prisoners.

Peter Weingartner, 30, a Yugoslav peasant.

Franz Hoeszler, 34, SS guard and Kramer's lieutenant.

Karl Franzich, 33, SS guard.

Ansgar Pichen, SS guard and butcher shop employee.

Franz Starfle, 33, SS guard.

Dilhelm Dorr, SS guard.

Kramer maintained throughout the trial that he was only carrying out orders from superior officers. His wife described him as a kind-hearted family man who worried because the Belsen prisoners had to sleep on bare floors.

Carlan Infant Found

liam J. Brickley, who had taken charge of the baby's body.

Cullinane had quoted the mother as saying the baby died of natural causes and apparently had been frothing at the mouth before she found him.

Hid Body Beneath Bureau

A brief chronology of the story that Cullinane attributed to the young woman said:

The party was in her mother-in-law's flat and ended at midnight Saturday night; Mrs. Carlan hid her baby's body beneath bureau about 8 a. m. Sunday morning; on the follwoing Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons she put the child's empty baby carriage across the street in the hope that someone would report Ronald missing.

A neighbor's child did report the empty carriage late Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 28, and Mrs. Carlan immediately told police that her baby had been kidnaped.

Widespread Search Made

A widespread search began. James Carlan, the baby's father, a Navy machinist's mate who never seen his son, flew from his station in California to be with his young wife and their only other child, three-year-old James, Jr.

Clergy offered their services and school children were asked to aid.

During the height of the hunt, eight telephone calls were reported by Carlan or his wife and each time the person calling was quoted as asking ransom or saying they had the baby.

Last Search Made

There were many descriptions of the persons sought, but most publicized was a tall, thin man with a woman accomplice.

Within the past three days, Chelsea and state police have questioned Mrs. Carlan three times. This afternoon a last search of the Carlan tenement house was ordered.

While two detectives questioned the baby's mother, a third poked around the small flat.

A piece of blue cloth caught the officer's eye as he opened a bottom bureau drawer in a combination dining and bed room. Wedged beneath the drawer was baby's body, bundled in a blue bunting suit.

Mrs. Carlan fainted. Inspectors said her husband had to be restrained he was so upset.

Young Girl Held

A few hours before the denounment, a 14 year old high school girl was arrested in Springfield, Mass., as a juvenile delinquent after, police said, she had confessed telephoning a ransom demand to Carlan.

The father had gone to Springfield in vain last week in response to the message.

Rewards totaling $3,750 had been offered for information about the Carlan baby's whereabouts and the parents reported telephoned demands for a ransom ranging from $500 to $30,000. The babe was reported "seen" in many places during the sixteen day search.

Eight More Japs To Face Atrocity Trials

TOKYO, Dec. 14. (AP)—Arrest of eight more Japanese guards and officials for abusing prisoners of war was ordered today by Allied headquarters as five already in custody were formally accused and slated for prosecution soon at Yokohama.

The new list included seven civilians and soldiers from the first branch camp at Muroran, Hokkaido, and a Major Umino, former commandant of a camp in the Pontianak area of Borneo. All are charged with "atrocities and offenses against the persons of United Nations nationals."

stay off the highways. S. C. McCarty, district highway engineer here, said absence of wind precluded the collection of drifts, and that apparently, traffic continued as usual yesterday.

County Agent Jason O. Gordon said: "This is what the farmers have been wanting." Declaring that it was an unusually wet snow, he said the county's small grains would be benefitted greatly.

NORTH ALSO HIT

(By The Associated Press)

A cold wave started moving into the Midwest last night on the heels of intermittent snow squalls which weather forecasters predicted would leave a snow blanket up to 18 inches in depth in northern Michigan.

Cold wave warnings were issued for Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan. The cold air mass last night invaded Minnesota, where temperatures are expected to drop about 30 to 32 below by Sunday. North Dakota was expected to have minimums of —35 degrees; Wisconsin and northern Iowa, —15 to —20; north and central Illinois, 0 to —5 and northern Indiana —5 to 5 plus.

The cold wave will move east, forecasters said, moderating on the way.

Since the county's acreage of small grains is light—only about 12,000 acres are in wheat—, the greatest benefit is that the snow is putting a good season into the ground for next year, Gordon said.

Another Huge Sum Is Voted For UNRRA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. (AP)—The Senate voted another $750,000,000 appropriation for UNRRA today, increasing the appropriation committee's recommendation of $400,000,000.

Action was on a voice vote.

The fund is included in a $2,500,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill. The House had set up nothing for the overseas relief agency in the pending bill.

Other items remained to be debated before the Senate finally votes on the whole appropriation bills, possibly some time tomorrow.

Negro C. Of C. Holds First Annual Banquet

Approximately 100 persons gathered at the Wagon Wheel on the Slaton highway cutoff last night to attend the first annual banquet of the Lubbock Nebro Chamber of Commerce.

J. E. Blackmore, pastor of the Messiah Presbyterian church, was toastmaster. Opening remarks were made by William Hamilton, president of the organization after which Geo. Woods introduced Hop Halsey, principal speaker.

Halsey, who recently returned from the Pacific where he served in the Marines, paid tribute to the growth of the negro community in Lubbock and especially lauded the service of negro boys in the war.

Chas. Deo, chief advisor for the chamber, reviewed the history of the organization and outlined some of the projects it hopes to accomplish in the future. These include designation of Ave. F from Twenty-second to Twenty-eighth as a restricted business district, paving of streets, improvement of police protection for the negro section and other improvements.

City Commissioners W. B. Price, J. Ray Dickey and Fred H. Childress, City Manager Marlin R. Smith and C. W. Ratliff were guests at the affair.

The FBI filed a fugitive warrant against Kimes a few days after his apprehension charging complicity in the $17,600 holdup of the First State Bank of Morton, Tex., Sept. 5.

Never Got His Story

The FBI never was able to get Kimes' story of where he had been hiding. Morley said that on the advice of physicians the FBI had not attempted to question the injured prisoner although he was conscious much of the time.

The FBI said Kimes had served two terms in the Oklahoma penitentiary, one beginning in 1924 on a burglary charge, another starting in 1927 for the slaying of the Sequoyah county, Okla., sheriff and the Beggs, Okla., police chief during a spectacular bank holdup at Beggs.

Oklahoma prison officials said Kimes had been furloughed on a plea that "crime does not pay." He had been declared a furlough violator by the Oklahoma prison authorities after the FBI announced he was wanted in connection with the Morton robbery. Three others charged in the Morton case now are in custody in Texas.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Settle of Abernathy on the birth of a son weighing 8 pounds 3½ ounces at 2:30 a. m. Friday in West Texas hospital. The father is a farmer.

that Japanese ambassadors were presenting the note at 1 p. m., and there might be some concurrent Japanese action at that hour.

Asked About Message

Gerow also testified that he never saw prior to Dec. 7 any Japanese message implementing the "winds code."

In mid-November, a decoded Japanese message disclosed they intended, if communications failed, to broadcast "east wind, rain" in event there was a break in relations with the United States.

The committee has been trying to learn whether there was such a broadcast before the Pearl Harbor attack.

Must Report By Jan. 3

Mitchell, chief counsel and former attorney general, had a similar complaint to Barkley's complaint.

He said he had accepted the position with the understanding that his services would not be needed longer than early January. The resolution creating the inquiry committee directed that it report by Jan. 3.

Mitchell pointed out that the committee began hearings Nov. 15 and thus far has completed the examination of only eight witnesses.

"There remain at least sixty witnesses to be examined," he said. "Many of these witnesses are quite as crucial as those who have testified."

The other members of the legal staff are Gerhard Gessell, chief assistant counsel, and Jule M Hannaford and John E. Masten, assistant counsel.

Mitchell said that securing new counsel should cause "no serious break" in the hearings and that the present legal staff would be willing to continue for the rest of December and for a short time in January.

Attack Against GOP's

Though Mitchell named no names, complaint obviously was aimed primarily at Republican members who have questioned witnesses in great detail.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) personally questioned General George C. Marshall for two days.

HOPE FOR PASSING LABOR LAW BEFORE HOLIDAY FADES

(By The Associated Press)

The administration lost its race Friday to get passage of new labor legislation before start of a scheduled steel strike Jan. 14.

The Senate labor committee recessed its hearings until after the Christmas holidays and Chairman Murray (D-Mont) said testimony then could continue for another month on the fact-finding bill advocated by President Truman.

Situation Said Explosive

The dashing of the administration's expectations that the new labor bill would become law before Christmas came as the courts took a hand in the General Motors strike and CIO President Philip Murray described the nation's entire industrial picture as explosive.

The Ford Motor company and the CIO United Auto workers recessed their contract negotiations until Monday after a session yesterday which both sides described as "brief and satisfactory."

Because of the Senate committee's action, the fact-finding board which President Truman has announced he will name to consider the steel dispute will be without legal authority, the same as the board he appointed to look into the General Motors strike.

Court Takes Action

Both boards must rely on cooperation of the companies and unions.

The new fact-finding bill, which may receive House consideration before Christmas, would prohibit strikes for 30-day "cooling off" periods pending study by a fact-finding body.

Meanwhile in the General Motors strike, which has accounted for 213,000 of the nation's 410,000 idle in labor disputes, the principal development came at Cleveland where Common Pleas Judge Frank S. Day limited picketing at the GM Fisher body plant to 55 members. He acted after General Motors sought a temporary injunction against striking UAW members on charges of illegal picketing.

The President's General Motors fact-finding board announced it would begin public hearings Dec. 20 but would withhold any final report until it was certain its findings would "facilitate a settlement."

Senators Refuse To Boost Own Paychecks

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. (AP)—A story of senators thumbing rides while government bureaucrats ride about this capitol in long black limousines with chauffeurs failed to win raises today for the nation's lawmakers.

Twice senators rejected chances to increase their take-home pay. Party lines broke on both votes.

First they voted down 47 to 24 a $2,500 increase in expense allowance for each of the 96 Senators. House members now get this.

Then they rejected 45 to 23 a temporary pay boost of 33 per cent, to be effective only six months pending action by Congress to lift all government salaries.

Patton To Be Flown Back To U. S. Soon

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Dec. 15. (AP)—Gen. George S. Patton will be moved back to the United States for hospitalization "as soon as his condition permits," Col. R. Glen Spurling, chief specialist attending Patton, said today.

He said the move to the United States would be by air, probably within the next four to six weeks.

Spurling, Army neurosurgical consultant who was flown to the 15th Army commander's bedside from Washington, said there was a "possibility" Patton never would be able to command his troops again.

"Barring unforeseen complications, Patton is out of danger of death," Spurling declared. "It cannot be said, however, that he is out of danger of partial paralysis for life."

RECEIVING BIDS

NATURALLY, DARICRAFT MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE!

Improved flavor means improved results . . . . in cooking, baking, frozen desserts, or infant feeding

Daricraft Lemon Pie

4 tablespoons flour
1 cup sugar
Grated rind of one lemon
3 egg yolks
Dash of salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup DARICRAFT evaporated milk
1 cup water
Juice of 2 lemons

Mix flour, sugar, rind, egg yolks, salt and butter. Heat DARICRAFT and water and pour over mixture. Cook in double boiler until thick. Add lemon juice and cool. Pour into baked pie shell and top with meringue made of egg whites; or cover thickly with whipped DARICRAFT

Add more milk to diets by making lemon pie with DARICRAFT!

Dari Ann says:

DARICRAFT gives a velvety smoothness and rich flavor to foods without adding extra weight-producing "fats." DARICRAFT is fresh whole milk, homogenized and evaporated, with nothing added except additional "sunshine" Vitamin "D," and nothing removed except approximately 50% of the natural water. DARICRAFT is not cream, but it whips and digests easily because of the special processes used.

Excellent Source of Vitamins

While all milk contains valuable vitamins, milk in its natural state does not have sufficient Vitamin "D." DARICRAFT has always had its content of Vitamin "D" increased. The special process used does not change the flavor or odor. You get large quantities of sunshine Vitamin "D" in DARICRAFT—400 USP units per re-constituted quart.

Ultra-Modern Plant with most Advanced Type of Equipment

The new DARICRAFT plant is considered one of the largest and most modern in the industry. Latest scientific methods used throughout. So clean you could almost eat off the floor. From the time the fresh, whole milk reaches the plant until you open the can in your home, DARICRAFT homogenized evaporated milk is never exposed to the air.

Daricraft Whips Quickly for Desserts

Yes, DARICRAFT whips deliciously when thoroughly chilled. Pour desired amount into freezing tray for 30 to 60 minutes, or lay unopened can directly on ice, or touching ice compartment, for at least 12 hours before whipping. Chill beaters and bowl. DARICRAFT can be re-whipped does not change to butter.

Can be Soured Instantly with Vinegar

If your recipe calls for sour milk, dilute DARICRAFT with equal parts of water, and for each cupful, add 1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice and you have a soured milk with the perfect degree of acidity. Soured DARICRAFT will always give the same results.

Improved Flavor

DARICRAFT tastes so delicious because of the special processes used. No "burnt" taste, no "caramel" odor. There's nothing in the DARICRAFT process which could change the flavor, and no "preservatives" added. Try it chilled on cereals—diluted for drinking—undiluted in coffee or tea. Taste it yourself to appreciate its delicious flavor.

Doctors Prescribe Daricraft for Infant Formulas

Doctors find DARICRAFT "right" for hard-to-feed babies. They know the seal of acceptance of the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association means DARICRAFT conforms to highest standards. Ask your Doctor about DARICRAFT formula for your baby. Convenient and simple to make. No boiling necessary. DARICRAFT comes to you sterilized, pasteurized, and homogenized.

Enjoy Daricraft Quality, Convenience

Gen. Marshall To Need Backing In Solving China's Problems

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14—Gen. George C. Marshall cannot be expected to accomplish alone the objectives of his possibly historic mission to China.

Official American concern and interest in China has never been higher. Short of President Truman himself, probably no one could be going to Chnugking as our new ambassador with greater personal prestige.

WHITE

Even so, Gen. Marshall will be faced with delicate and complicated problems. They are two-fold, but intimately mingled:

Faces Two Problems

1. How to complete the disarming and repatriation of Japanese troops in China and at the same time to keep American forces helping in this job from getting mixed up in China's long-threatened civil war.

2. How to help the Chinese avoid that civil war and unite for a strong and Democratic China that will strengthen the peace.

There is no question but that the Chinese, tired of war, would like to avoid civil war. Each side hesitates only at the possible price which it fears it may have to pay for peaceful unity.

The Communist hesitate to submit their independent armies to the Central government because they say that government still is a dictatorship and intends to go on dictating.

The Central government hesitates to institute Democratic reforms which would give the Communists the political voice they demand because it fears the Communists would take strong arm measures to control all China.

These fears and suspicions are rooted in 18 years of intermittent civil strife.

Right now the Central government has made it plain that it is in no hurry to complete the disarming and repatriation of Japanese troops in China until it has time to get enough of its own forces into the areas concerned to take care of Communist forces if necessary.

In many cases the Communists have demonstrated their readiness to rush into such areas and take over in defiance of Chungking's orders.

Moscow Meeting Watched

China is so big and so hard to get around in that not even the Chinese instinct toward compromise has been able to overcome this stalemate. For the impulse to compromise is baded on the human tendency to bargain and—if bargaining won't do the trick—to stall and try to use outside factors to advantage.

That is where we and Soviet Russia, (and, to an extent, Britain) come in. And that is where the success of General Marshall's mission may depend upon what happens at the Big Three foreign ministers' meeting in Moscow.

If the chief external powers concerned about China have or can find a common policy toward China, then China's internal deadlock—in the opinion of many—would dissolve.

But if these external powers contend against one another in their China policies, then the two Chinese factors may be expected to keep on trying to delay the time when one side or another sacrifices its bargaining power in the interests of national unity.

HOUSTON, Dec. 14 (U.P.)—The body of Juan Carbajal who fell from a dredge in the Houston ship channel and drowned yesterday was recovered today.

Workmen on the boat on which Carbajal had been employed found his body near the spot where he fell into the water.

Interviews With Nazi Leaders Is Assailed

MOSCOW, Dec. 14 (AP)—Soviet Correspondent K. Taradankin, who is covering the Nuernberg war crimes trial for Izvestia, criticized the Associated Press today for interviewing former Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering.

"The world press represented at Nuernberg gives the press a great, important meaning," Taradankin wrote in a dispatch reprinted throughout the Soviet union, "but sometimes dangerous chasing after sensation leads some representatives—even of influential organs—of the press away from the correct procedure.

"This unprecedented interview happened thus: A representative of the Associated Press gave to Goering's defense attorney a list of questions which the lawyer gave to the accused.

"Regretfully, this is not the only case, a day or two earlier the same Associated Press correspondent received a written interview from defendants Joachim Ribbentrop and Eric Raeder.

"Such journalistic tricks are undeniably harmful. They do not help, but on the other hand do just the opposite. They disturb the most responsible and noble work of the international (military) tribunal. One must hope that publication of the interviews with Fascist criminals will cause a certain reaction and censure in order that in the future such 'sensations' will not be repeated."

Gen. Marshall Leaves Today On China Trip

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—General of the Army George C. Marshall will leave by plane at 8 a. m. Central Standard time tomorrow, weather permitting, for his special diplomatic assignment in China.

The new ambassador to Chungking called at the White House today, and Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said he spent 15 minutes with President Truman in a farewell consultation.

Ross said Marshall will take with him a directive outlining American policy toward China and that President Truman will issue a public statement on which the directive is based.

That statement, Ross said, will be released for publication on Sunday.

Littlefield Wildcats Take Region Two Football Crown

MONAHANS, Dec. 14—Littlefield's big, high scoring Wildcats realized a dream that was snatched from their graps just a year ago, and here today were crowned Class A schoolboy champions of Region Two by storming from behind to knock over the Monahans Green Wave in the final game, 20 to 7.

The game was played in perfect football weather, and before a crowd of 3,500 fans who turned out to see Coach J. S. Fikes' boys make their second bid in a regional final game in as many years. The Wildcats were beaten last year in a scoring spree by the Merkel Badgers, and their great back, Billy Wayne Frazier.

The game today was a bitterly fought struggle, with the home town boys getting off to a lead in the second period, but were unable to again deny the bid of the Wildcats for a regional flag.

Lyman Sparks Cats

It was Billy Lyman, star Littlefield quarterback, who sparked the Fikesmen to the title. He called a smooth game, he scored one touchdown and passed for two more.

Throughout the afternoon Monahans was a constant threat, with the running of Donaldson and the accurate passing of Turner keeping the Monahans club well in the gall game until the Wildcat explosion in the third period netted two touchdowns and gave the Lamb county lads a lead that couldn't be matched.

The first quarter was scoreless, both team feeling out the opposition, and waiting for a break. The break came in the second period, when Turner hit Scown with a perfect pass, and with some beautiful blocking on the part of the Green Wave, Scown roamed 55 yards for a touchdown, and Turner kicked the extra point.

Wildcats Come Back

But the score only seemed to arouse the fight in the Wildcats, and they stormed back. Lyman took to the air, made contact with Gene McCanlies, and the play was good for 35 yards. McCanlies crossed the double stripe standing up. Buster Owens tied the ball game with a perfect boot from placement for the extra point.

The closeness of the ball game was seen in the figures on the first half. The two teams were tied 7-7 at the intermission, first downs and penetrations were even, and there was little difference in yardage gained by the two teams.

But the Wildcats started rolling in the second half, and shortly after the third period started, Lyman fired a pass to his rangy win man, Owens. Owens took the ball 15 yards down the field, and scampered another 25 yards for the score. Owens again booted the extra point.

Champs Strike Again

Shortly before the close of the third quarter, the Wildcats iced away the title with another touchdown. Foy Bell, star guard of the Wildcats pounced on a Green Wave bobble in midfield. F2r2o2m there, the Wildcats rolled for the final touchdown.

A sustained drive reached the one, and from there, Lyman smashed over for the touchdown. Owens attempted to run over the extra point, but it failed.

The Wildcats ended the season with a record of ten wins, one loss and one tie. The club was beaten by Ballinger, Region Three champions, tied by Sudan in a conference game, and racked up wins over Dimmitt, Floydada, Morton, Olton, Levelland, Hereford, Muleshoe, Lubbock B, Denver City and Monahans.

For the season, the high scoring Wildcats hung up a record of 481 points, while allowing the opponents 70 points. The record gives the Wildcats a total of 843 points scored in two years under Coach Fikes, and a two year record of 20 wins, two losses and one tie, one of the best schoolboy records in the state.

Three Cities Seek Berth In Pro Loop

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (AP)—Mrs. Lou Gehrig, executive secretary and treasurer of the All-America professional football conference, said today franchise owners of the league will meet in Chicago Jan. 4 to 6 to discuss the possibility of New Orleans, Dallas or Philadelphia entering the circuit.

Mrs. Gehrig added that New Orleans' and Dallas' interests have been petitioning the league to enter for some time. Later, Philadelphia filed a request for a franchise. The league now has nine members, and will add a tenth.

Edgewood Club Wins Regional Grid Title

MT. VERNON, Tex., Dec. 14. (AP)—The Eedgewood Bulldogs defeated the Mt. Vernon Tigers 14-6 in regional Class A high school football play-off here today.

The Bulldogs scored in the first period after they had nabbed a fumble by Mt. Vernon on the kickoff. The Tigers scored in the second period but failed to make the extra point and trailed 7-6 at the half.

Mt. Vernon clinched the game with another tally in the fourth quarter.

Two Golfers Out In Tourney Lead

FORT WORTH, Dec. 14. (AP)—Lanky E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., who often breaks into the golf headlines, and Joe Zarhardt of Norristown, Pa., who has never won a tournament along the PGA trail, swept in with bristling 69's today to take the lead in the first round of the $10,000 Fort Worth Open.

Freezing weather and snow flurries brought complaints from the field of 108 players but didn't prevent the usual amount of par-busting as eleven performers registered better than the regulation 37-34—71 figures on Glen Garden Country club course.

Fans Pick Rams For Pro Title Favorite

CLEVELAND, Dec. 14. (AP) — Cleveland's football folks, who had their say early in the week with Jim Benton's flu that turned out to be a bad case of imagination, took news of Sammy Baugh's wrecked rib today with the general feeling that if they got away with it, why shouldn't Washington.

Now, of course no one came right out to deny that Slinging Samuel did hurt his rib last week and may not be at his pitching best for Sunday's snowball fight with Bob Waterfield for professional football's "world series."

And the football boys and girls, around and about, from the fans right up—or down—to the charitable bookmaking gentlemen, didn't budge from the firm belief in these parts that on Sunday the rahrah Rams would give the West cits ninth National Professional League championship in the 13 years of the East-West playoffs. Around the hotel lobbies. If you like Cleveland, you lay 8 to 5 and give four points. If you like Washington, you take 7 to 5 and 3½ points.

It was snowing again here today, and 125 shovelers were strutting their stuff at the stadium, while the Rams ran through their plays—and Washington's formations—in a local armory. The Redskins hit town tomorrow.

Switching from the sordid financial to the artistic picture of this game of skill and chance and legal assault, the "experts" tell you that the Rams are "it" because of their speed. They insist that a club that can scat has always made the Redskins reach for the aspirin bottle, Baugh to the contrary notwithstanding.

Phillips Blackhawks Cop Title Tilt, 14-0

BORGER, Dec. 14. (AP) — The Phillips Blackhawks defeated the Wellington Skyrockets 14 to 0 here today to win the Region 1 Class A schoolboy football crown for the fifth consecutive year.

In the second period, J. O. McClellan, Phillips quarterback, threw a pass from his 49-yard-line to Halfback John Ray Eldridge who caught it on the Rocket 24 and sprinted over. In the final quarter, McClellan drove over for a touchdown from the one yard line. Fullback Dick Jackson ran both extra points.

Phils Sign Infielder Just Off Navy Team

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14. (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies announced today the signing of Third Baseman Pat Ambrose of Oakland, Calif., who has just been released from the Navy.

Ambrose entered professional baseball at the age of 15 with Oakland of the Pacific Coast League in 1937 and played with the club until 1941. He has been playing with the Livermore (Cal.) Naval base while in service.

Sooners Impressed By Playing Of Bechtol

NORMAN, Okla., Dec. 14. (AP)—Four Oklahoma Aggie and four Missouri players were named to the University of Oklahoma's all-opponent football squad for 1945.

Hubert Bechtol, Texas left end, was the only player chosen unanimously. Other Southwest Conference players named were Moncrief, Texas Aggies, and Joslin, Texas Christian.

Three Clubs In New Deal Finals

Three teams—New Deal boys and girls and Cotton Center girls—were in the finals of the New Deal High school annual invitation basketball tournament at the end of the two days of play, with Abernathy and Cotton Center boys to play today for the right to be the fourth team.

Lubbock's Westerners advanced to the consolation semi-finals last night, beating the New Deal B team 48 to 18. Verdell Turner paced the Westerners with 12 points, while Crawford, Clark and Wall each contributed six points. Vaughn and James paced the losers with four points.

Abernathy Wins Opener

In the first round boys games Friday, Abernathy rolled over Tahoka in the opener, 33 to 16, as Lutrick poured in nine points and Rhodes eight. Jerry Edwards paced Tahoka with five points.

Cotton Center passed the opening round with a 24 to 11 victory over the New Deal B team. Burnett paced the winners with seven points. Chandler of Cotton Center and Vaughn of New Deal tied for second honors with six.

Whiteface survived the first round, winning over Hobbs, 30 to 10, as Thomas flipped in 12 points for the winners. Rucker and Reep each got four for the losers.

Abernathy eliminated Lorenzo, 35 to 23, to reach the semi-finals in the upper bracket. Rhodes took the scoring honors of this game with 12 points, while Lutrick tied Lorenzo's Kemp with nine.

New Deal moved into the finals with a 21 to 11 victory over Whiteface, with Hall setting the scoring pace with 12 points, closely followed by Jordan, who added six more. Taylor paced the losers with three points.

With West and Cannon setting a blistering pace, the Cotton Center girls rolled over two strong foes yesterday to reach the finals. West tossed in 24 points and Cannon 13 as Cotton Center won from Tahoka in the first game, 41 to 17. Peggy Dunlap paced Tahoka with nine points.

Cotton Center came back to nose out Whiteface, 29 to 28, in a battle that was a see-saw thriller down to the finish. Bowden of Whiteface was high scorer with 16, but West flipped in 15 and Cannon 10 to lead the winners.

Whiteface had earlier eliminated Post, 24 to 22, in another close thriller, and again a star on the losing team was top scorer, Cowdrey of Post getting 15 points. Robbins with 12 and Peters with 10 led the winners.

Host Girls Win

New Deal girls reached the finals with a 27 to 21 victory over the powerful Abernathy girls. Young paced the winners with 11 points, barely nosing out Fortenberry of New Deal and Ledford of Abernathy, each with ten.

Play will be resumed this morning at 10 o'clock. The opener will be a girls game in the consolation semi-finals, pairing Petersburg and Lorenzo. The other consolation semi-final game in the girls play will be at 12 o'clock, pairing Tahoka and Post.

The Abernathy-Cotton Center boys semi-final in the championship will be played at 11 o'clock.

Boys consolation semi-finals will be played off at 1:30 o'clock and 2:30 o'clock, with Petersburg playing Tahoka in the first game, and Lubbock and Hobbs in the second.

Third place championship games will follow. Abernathy and White face girls play at 3:30 o'clock. At 4:30 o'clock, Whiteface will play the loser of the Abernathy-Cotton Center morning game.

Finals will start at 6 o'clock, the girls consolation first, boys consolation at 7 o'clock. New Deal and Cotton Center girls play for the girls championship at 8 o'clock, and New Deal boys play the winner of the Abernathy-Cotton Center game for the boys title at 9 o'clock.

Wichita Falls Grid Tilt Rated As Tops

(By The Associated Press)

Odessa's Bronchos tackle Wichita Falls' big Coyotes in the top game of Texas schoolboy football Saturday as the championship race goes through its quarter-finals round.

This is the only tilt matching undefeated teams. Odessa's record is spotless while Wichita Falls has only a tie.

In the other games of the quarter-finals, Highland Park (Dallas) plays North Side at Fort Worth, Waco journeys to Marshall and Goose Creek tackles Thomas Jefferson in its San Antonio bailiwick.

Favorites are Wichita Falls, Highland Park, Waco and Goose Creek but Waco and Goose Creek rate narrow choices only.

Fifty-six thousand fans are due to witness the four games with the largest crowd at Fort Worth to see the defense-minded Steers try to halt the surge of Highland Park's versatile crew. Twenty thousand are expected for this game.

Marshall anticipates 8,000 to 9,000 for its game with Waco.

San Antonio forecasts 15,000 will look on as Goose Creek plays Thomas Jefferson.

Most of the offensive fireworks are expected at Marshall where a couple of passing elevens go all out. Each has lost one game but each also has made a great comeback after its defeat.

North Side also has dropped one contest while Highland Park has been tied.

At San Antonio Goose Creek will show a record of two losses and Thomas Jefferson three.

Knockouts Featured On Boys Club Show

Three knockouts on the ten card fight featured the grand finale show of the boxing events at the Lubbock Boys club Friday night, with Norman Lindsey hanging a first round kayo on the whiskers of Buddy Edge to sap the feature bout.

Wayne Deabley hunk a kayo on Donald Decker in the first round, and Grady Brooks tacked another on Harld Doss in the second. Dell Moore was a winner over Waldo Keith by a technical knockout in the first round of their battle.

Perhaps one of the best fights of the night was the struggle between Carl Ince and Leslie Cross in the 80 pound class. Ince punched out his fourth straight victory in a fast match.

Don Stewart won the opener over Don Ray Smith by a decision. Thomas Somers gained a decision over Jim Smith. Gerald Loyd got the nod over Pat Warren. Oscar Greenhall won over Don Carter in a slam-bang battle that was rate done of the best of the night. In the remaining bout, Willie Gleeton won over Bobby Sizemore.

These bouts closed the fight shows until after the basketball season, and closed one of the most successful seasons in the history of the club. Last nights battles drew a scrowd of 420 fans in spite of the adverse weather conditions.

All-Star Game Back On Baseball Schedule

CHICAGO, Dec. 14. (AP) — The major league All-Star baseball game, a war casualty last year, will be resumed next season on July 9 at Fenway Park in Boston. President Will Harridge of the American League announced today.

The day-time contest will mark the 13th renewal of the inter-league classic in which the American League holds an eight-to-four edge over the National circuit.

It will be the first time the Boston Red Sox have entertained the All-Stars who last played in Boston in 1936 when the Braves were host.

Nocona Winner Over Grand Prairie, 19-6

NOCONA, Dec. 14. (AP)—The Nocona Indians defeated the Grand Prairie Gophers 19 to 6 today to win the Region Four Class A schoolboy football crown.

Jones scored two touchdowns for the Indians and Cole one. Quinlan scored for Grand Prairie. Grand Prairie made 17 first downs to Nocona's eight and gained 245 net yards to 175 for Nocona.

In Massachusetts in 1675 one man in every 16 of military age was killed in King Philip's War.

Case Goes To Tribe In Deal For Heath

CLEVELAND, Dec. 14. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today traded Jeff Heath, their "problem child" outfielder, to the Washington Senators in exchange for fleet flychaser George Washington Case.

The deal, reported in the making at the major league meetings in Chicago early this week, was a straight player swap with no cash involved.

In making the deal, the Indians lose an outfield slugger they have been trying to peddle for three years because of his temperament and receive in return a fast-moving, sharp-hitting gardner who won the American League base-stealing championship five years in a row before being dethroned by the New York Yankees' George Stirnweiss.

CASE HAPPY OVER TRADE TO CLEVELAND

NORRISVILLE, Pr., Dec. 14. (AP) —George Case, fleet Washington outfielder the Cleveland Indians today announced they had procured in a baseball trade for Jeff Heath, said tonight he was "happy to become a member of the Cleveland club" and would "give it all I've got."

Case said it would be "awfully hard" to leave the Washington American League club of which he has been a member for nine years but added "that's baseball."

He expressed the opinion that the exchange "will do both clubs good."

Ballinger Romps To Victory Over Anson

BALLINGER, Dec. 14. (AP)—Powering their way almost at will the Ballinger Bearcats took a 52 to 12 victory from the Anson Tigers here today to win the Region 3 championship in Class A schoolboy football.

Scoring in each period, Ballinger tallied eight touchdowns and kicked four extra points. The first touchdown came early in the initial quarter when Russell of the Bearcats ran 40 yards for the score. Later during the game he added three more touchdowns to the Ballinger score.

Frazier and Sykes made two touchdowns each for Ballinger. Anson tallied in the second and fourth quarters, Sampson and Rodgers making the touchdowns. Ballinger made 24 first downs against Anson's nine.

East Eleven Complete For Annual Grid Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14. (U.P.) —The Eastern college all-star football squad was completed today for the 21st annual Shrine East-West game here New Year's day.

The east roster includes:

Ends—Engelo Acocella, Syracuse; Leo Skladany, Pitt; Joe Distasio, Cornell; Leslie Thompson, Columbia.

Tackles—Jack White, Florida; Bob Fitch, Minnesota; George Savitsky, Penn; Mike Prashaw, Michigan; Dick Hollingshead, Yale.

Guards—Joe Dickerson, Penn; Bob Dobelstein, Tennessee; Jim Groh, Colgate; William Kolens, Illinosi.

Frogs Nose Out Raiders, 46-42

FORT WORTH, Dec. 14—Led by towering Tilley Sneed of Idalou the Texas Tech Red Raiders tonight threw a mighty scare into the TCU Horned Frogs but dropped a 46-42 basketball game which was the fastest and hardest fought of the Frogs' six victories this year.

Once toward the middle of the first period and once early in the second period the Raiders held a single point lead, 6-5 and 23-22, and twice had a tie but were unable to gain a win.

A seven-point lead at 21-14 was the longest of the evening for the Frogs and most of the way the Raiders were within five points of their foe. The half score was 22-18.

Leroy Pasco of Evansville, Ind., one of five Hoosiers on the TCU tteam tonight, was too hot for Tech, Breaking away to tally eight baskets, most of them on quick drives. Sneed's height proved a great advantage to the Raiders as he rubbed in six baskets, five of them follow shots after teammate misses.

Tech concludes its four-game road trip with a second encounter at TCU Saturday night.

Box score:

Semi-Finalists Are Named At Levelland

LEVELLAND, Dec. 14. (Special)—Two cage teams from District T-AA and two from District 5-A were named for the semi-finals of the annual Levelland invitation basketball tournament here tonight with Sudan, Brownfield and Levelland winning today's games.

Sudan will tangle with Brownfield Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. An hour later, Levelland plays Plainview. The winners of these games will meet Saturday night in the finals.

In afternoon games today, Sudan nosed out Springlake 26 to 24 in a nip and tuck battle. Brownfield showed some potent power in rolling over a highly rated Andrews five, 37 to 21.

In the night game, Levelland's undefeated Lobos romped to a 52 to 22 victory over Olton as Joe Garrison poured in 17 points and Jess Clardy followed him with 15 as the pair accounted for 32 of the Lobo points. Perry Gullet and Jack Coleman paced Olton with nine points each, as the pair accounted for all but four of the Olton points.

Thompson Heads For Wichita Falls Game

ODESSA, Dec. 14. (U.P.)—J. W. Thompson, Texas' top scorer in the Class AA high school football race, left an Odessa hospital today to rejoin his teammates at Wichita Falls where they are underdogs in a quarterfinal grid game tomorrow.

Thompson, 181-pound backfield ace, awoke this morning with a normal temperature, ate a breakfast and announced he was "feeling fine."

He had been hospitalized Wednesday with a fever indicative of influenza.

Team Physician Dr. Emmett Headlee accompanied Thompson to Wichita Falls.

Thompson said: "I hope Coach Hopkins will let me start."

Slaton Cagers Beat Cooper Five, 28-20

The Slaton Tigers clawed out a 28 to 20 basketball victory over the Cooper High school five Friday night at the Cooper gym.

Elder poured in 16 points to pace the winners, while Ross added another eight points. Elkins paced the Cooper five.

VULCAN BOWL FOES

TYLER, Tex., Dec. 14. (AP)—The Texas College Steers of Tyler will meet Tennessee State college of Nashville in the Vulcan Bowl football game at Birmingham, la., Jan. 1, officials of the local college announced tonight.

"Boo!" Screams Smith

And Texas Replies, "Aw, Nuts!"

THE "HON." GERALD L. K. SMITH is wrong. That isn't exactly news, since he's been wrong before. But this time he is wrong in Texas.

In San Antonio Wednesday for the first of a series of "meetings" in Texas, the raucous voice of the "America First" party said, regarding planned activities of his group in the state: "My opposition in Texas will depend on how strong the Communist party is. I know there are Communists in Texas, but I haven't had an opportunity to look into the matter."

We are not one whit surprised—or upset—over the fact that Smith says there are Communists in Texas. Of course, there are. You'll find rats wherever there is grain; you'll find snails under every log. You'll find a few Communists in every state of the Union. But wherever Smith goes, there seem to be scads of Communists. He sees them behind every tree, under every bush—even under his finger nails. He sees Communists like some drunks see purple monkeys. They are, in a political sense, pretty safe things to see. Anyone who hollers Communists long and loud enough is bound, in some sections of the country, to gather a following. Smith has a good pair of lungs; his flock put him on a pedestal and hailed him as a messiah.

But the Louisiana bred Detroit rabble-rouser is as wrong as drouth when he intimates that the only people in Texas who dislike him are Communists. In fact, with the possible exception of the Communists that Smith fancies, we cannot think, offhand, of anybody in Texas who do not dislike him.

He is not Texans' kind. While some people might be misled into eating out of his hand, enlightened Texans have him pegged for what he is—a dangerous fourflusher who seeks to fatten on domestic discord. Now, with this country's participation in world affairs imperative to the peace of the globe, he would have us draw into the thinly-protective shell of isolation.

No, Mr. Smith, don't flatter yourself into thinking that you rate only the dislike of the Communists. Texas is a big state—and most of it is filled with good Americans who don't like your stripe.

How To Save Lives

IF automobile accidents continue at the present rate, one out of 14 persons in the United States will be hurt or killed in a traffic mishap in the next 12 months.

This is the awesome prediction of the National Safety council, which points out that traffic accidents kill more persons between the ages of 22 and 28 than disease.

October traffic deaths were 3,440, or 53 per cent more than for the same month in 1944, the council says. Indications are that the national death toll for 1945 will be 29,000 persons.

First splashes in the highway blood bath came soon after gasoline rationing was lifted following the surrender of Japan. Mileage-starved motorists, forgetting their paper-thin tires and impaired vehicles, went on a traveling spree, many of them at speeds inviting disaster. As the morgue counts show, the spree is gaining in intensity. If the people do not realize what death traps their faulty automobiles and the crowded highways and streets combine to make, traffic fatalities will continue upward until general replacement by new vehicles.

Traffic safety largely is up to the motorist. He is not only the master of his own destiny but that of the other fellow. He has within his power an instrument which, in a moment of carelessness or "pig-headed" driving, can be turned into a tool of death. If the driver could be made aware somehow that he is a potential killer, there might be fewer accidents and grave markers.

Now, with general use of aged and decrepit cars, it is more important than ever to observe a policy of sane, careful and considerate driving. Its a good way to save your life—and that of others', too.

An "Unknown Sailor," Too

THE American Legion is acting in good faith and with appropriateness in its suggestion that in regard to World War II we should honor an Unknown Sailor as well as an Unknown Soldier.

Why the honor was not bestowed also on the Navy dead of the first World war has never been made quite clear. To many people it has seemed an injustice.

Now we should undertake to rectify the mistake. We cannot rightly do otherwise, in view of the part the Navy played in the war just ended, and the many thousands of lives that were taken among its members.

It would be suitable, we think, that the soldier come from the European theater and sailor from the Pacific. It was in the fight against Germany in which the greater part of our Army participated, and against Japan that our Navy rose to glory.

Then, in a burial ceremony in Arlington national cemetery—precluding any identification—one could be selected as a symbol for the dead of each principal branch of our fighting forces.

Marshall's Report On The War

By Gen. George C. Marshall
Wartime Chief Of Staff

(This is the 25th of 42 installments of material selected from General Marshall's report on the winning of World War II.

OFFENSIVE IN BURMA

IT was decided that an offensive in North Burma should be undertaken in the winter of 1943 and 1944, and that the Ledo Road from Assam, then under construction by American engineers, should be extended to the old Burma Road at Mongyu as rapidly as the offensive operations progressed. It was also decided to build a pipe line from Calcutta to Assam and another one paralleling the Ledo Road. These lines would greatly increase the flow of motor fuels to China.

MARSHALL

At the same conference it was decided to enlarge the capacity of the Hump route to 20,000 tons a month. The plan for the bombing of the Japanese Islands by B-29's operating out of China was reviewed and accepted at the QUADRANT Conference. The air plan for the reduction of Japan, adopted at the conference, foresaw the establishment of super-fortress bases in the Pacific to subject Japan to the same devastating air attack that was to prepare Germany for assault by our ground forces. The target of the air route and new overland supply route to China established at this first Quebec conference, was 85,000 tons per month of general stores and 54,000 tons of petroleum products, which would move via the pipe line.

These decisions regarding the Ledo Road, the increase of Hump tonnage, the construction of pipe lines, and the campaign in North Burma generally presented a most difficult and trying problem to the Combined Chiefs of Staff. Ocean tonnage, transport planes for possible airborne operations to break the stalemate in Italy, an increase in the inflow of troops into the United Kingdom for OVERLORD, assistance for General MacArthur's campaign in the Southwest Pacific, and other urgent requirements all had to be taken into consideration in the light of our limitations in resources. Sacrifices would be required somewhere but if made at the wrong place they would cost the lives of Allied soldiers and delay final victory.

Meet With Chiang Kai-shek

Since the operations in Burma could not begin until the monsoon had ended in Assam and the floods had receded, the Allied staff chiefs with the President and Prime Minister had the opportunity to meet with Chiang Kai-shek in Cairo in November 1943 before our projected offensive began. At the Cairo Conference the Combined Chiefs of Staff made further efforts to find the resources to increase the scope of the Burma campaign by adding amphibious operations in the Bay of Bengal. These resources were available nowhere in this world unless we abandoned the great basic decision to close with the Germany enemy in Western Europe in 1944. The alternative would have permitted the Japanese to exploit their prizes of conquest in the Pacific islands. It was determined, however, that by means of the projected Allied attacks across the India-Burma frontier, it would be possible to drive the Japanese from Northern Burma and achieve the objective of reopening surface communications to China.

The preliminaries to these operations began late in October just prior to the conference at Cairo and Teheran. The Chinese 22d and 38th Divisions moved from their forward positions in front of the advancing Ledo Road into the Hukawng Valley. These troops had been trained in the center established at Ramgarh, India, through the energy and wisdom of General Stilwell and with the approval of the Generalissimo.

In February the Chinese advances down the Hukawng Valley were joined by a specially trained American infantry combat team known as the GALAHAD Force commanded by Brig. Gen. Frank D. Merrill. These troops had been bathered in a call for volunteers that went to all United States jungle trained and veteran infantry units in the Pacific and in the Western Hemisphere. Marching over the most difficult terrain under intolerable weather conditions, the Chinese and American forces virtually destroyed the Japanese 18th Division, which had captured Singapore in the Japanese advance. In May 1944 they fought their way into the airfiel dat Myitkyina, the key to Northern Burma.

Wingate's Jungle Troops

During most of this campaign the Japanese were effectively blocked from reinforcing Northern Burma through the Irrawaddy Valley by columns of seasoned British and Indian jungle troops, commanded by the late Maj. Gen. Orde C. Wingate. These columns were known as long-range penetration groups. Some of them marched from India to establish their strangleholds on Japanese communications; others were taken in by glider in an airborne operation directed by U. S. Col. Philip G. Cochran, who commanded a specially organized composite air group known as Air Commandos. While General Stilwell's forces were advancing on Myitkyina troops of the Generalissimo commanded by Marshal Wei Li Haung crossed the Salween River from the east.

Patrols of the two forces finally met at Tengchung in the summer of 1944, establishing the first thin hold on Northern Burma.

During the fall of 1943 the Japanese, anticipating the attack in Burma, had been building their strength for a counteroffensive to prevent the reestablishment of surface communications with China. Japanese forces attacked eastward across the Salween in the Lungling area and were met and stopped by the Chinese in time to permit completion of the road from Ledo. Another strong Japanese force struck toward India while the Allied operations were in progress in an effort to seize the large British base at Imphal and sever the Bengal-Assam Railroad below the bases on which Hump air transportation and General Stilwell's operations were dependent. By April 1944 Imphal was cut off and the Japanese threatened Dimapur on the railroad. British and Indian troops flown to the sector met the attack, turned it back, and reestablished contact with the Indian divisions in the Imphal plain. After heavy and prolonged fighting, the hostile divisions were dispersed and cut up with heavy losses. At the same time, British and Japanese troops in the Arakan to the south were engaging in see-saw fighting along the coast of the Bay of Bengal.

Europeans In China To Be Repatriated

CHUNGKING, Dec. 14 (AP)—All Germans and Austrians in China, including Jews, will be repatriated unless they obtain permission of the ministries of foreign affairs and interior to remain in the country, it was announced officially today. Pending repatriation, they will be interned unless they produce "valuable guarantees," either Chinese or foreign.

All such nationals who were suspected of syping, sabotage, or collaboration with the Japanese during the war will be punished according to Chinese law, the government statement added.

The decisions, which affect approximately 20,000 European Jews in Shanghai alone, approved by the executive Yuan Nov. 27, the announcement explained.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

MAYBE you read a column of mine in which I poked a little fun at the opera and said that a lot of people only went to it because it is considered "the thing to do."

Well, a lot of people agreed with me, and a few criticized me as an uncultured lowbrow who doesn't appreciate the finer things of life.

We folks who write for a living or act for a living or sing for a living have to expect criticism as well as praise, and I don't mind it if somebody throws a rotten tomato at me, even if it be only in the form of an anonymous letter.

But I wish some of my critics could have been with me when the Metropolitan Opera opened in New York a few day ago.

BRANDEIS

If you had gotten as far as page seventeen in your next morning's newspaper, you would have seen that it was actually an opera and not a horse show or some other society event.

Some people did sing on the stage and a new Swedish tenor did a very creditable performance of Lohengrin, that noble Wagnerian hero who has to be a combination singer and acrobat really to do his job well.

But that wasn't really the important part of the affair. If the stage had been in back or in one of the many smaller rooms of the Opera House it would have been just as well.

Because—

On page one of my morning paper there is a big headline: "Opera Opening is Brilliant; President's Wife Attends." Then it talks about the "extra gala occasion" and gives a complete list of all the society people who were present and a detailed description of what they wore.

Another headline informs me that "the traditional elegance and pomp of the opening of the Metropolitan Opera House was given additional drama last night by the presence of the wife of the President of the United States" (the President being the gentleman who, at the same moment, certainly must have had his hands full with many more pressing things than the opera).

Another headline tells: "Richness of Furs Noted At Premiere As Fashion Brilliance Again Marks Opening"—and if you are trying to make up your mind just what fur to choose, let me tell you that "ermine took honors in popularity, with versions ranging from voluminous capes to charming little jackets," but that sable, mink and baum marten were also permissible, although very little muskrat was visible in the boxes and the orchestra.

YES, it was a brilliant occasion indeed, and there were also lots of music lovers, in addition to millionaries, duchesses, earls and diplomats.

Oh, just another little society note: "Devotees stand in line for hours. Standing room went on sale at 7 p. m."

There were also a few boxholders among the standees. They utilized mostly egg crates on which they sat while waiting in line. Very little fur was noticed among that kind of boxholder.

Hurrah for Culture! Hurrah for Opera! Hurrah for Democracy!

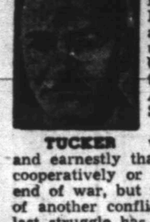

U. S. Stands For Peace

Will Fight For It If Necessary

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE UNITED STATES Congress has just issued a double-barreled warning to the world that reflects rather accurately the present-day temper of Capitol Hill, the White House and presumably the American people. The legislators would not have taken such seemingly contradictory action unless they thought they were satisfying their constituents, for 1946 is a re-election year.

Their votes express the Western Hemisphere's earnest hope for the establishment of peace by the war-weary nations and its fearful exasperation at the slowness with which the statesmen are marching to that objective. Their action also reveals the confusion and concern which prevail here and elsewhere over the delay in solving postwar problems.

TUCKER

Within a few days the House adopted by unanimous vote the Vinson bill which lays the keel for the most powerful peacetime Navy in all history, while the Senate committed this country to the use of arms by the United Nations Organization at the discretion of the President acting through the American delegate, Edward R. Stettinius, jr.

In other words, the Congress wants assurance of peace so deeply and earnestly that it is willing to fight for it — cooperatively or singly. Washington prays for an end of war, but it is preparing for the possibility of another conflict before the termination of the last struggle has been officially roclaimed.

The Vinson bill, which will probably pass the Senate without a single objection, does not enumerate the number or classes of warships which the United States will keep on hand or build in the future. But it does fix the size of personnel at the figure — approximately 500,000—that will be required to man the greatest ocean-going fleet the seas have ever seen.

ATOM: The Congress did not make these first plans for a mighty military machine in defiance of the White House. Although their views on details differ, the legislators have discovered that President Truman believes in a strong Army-Navy-Air establishment, if only because it may reinforce his peace aims.

Besides the authorization of a great postwar fleet, here are other signs that the Administration, unlike some past regimes, intends to have a "big stick" to back its idealistic program for making the UNO work:

The Foreign Ministers of the U. S., Britain and Russia — not the "Big Three" or even the Council of Foreign Ministers, to which China and France belong — will meet soon to discuss the future of the atom bomb.

But Mr. Truman will not offer the cosmic weapon for international manufacture and possible use until he is more convinced that it will improve rather than handicap the chance for perminent peace and good will to men.

SUBSTITUTE: Mr. Truman has his doubts about the political wisdom of advocating universal military training, although he favors the idea. But he reserves as an alternative a program which will provide the U. S. with a land force that he regards as ideally suited to our national defense needs.

The President has always been an enthusiast for the National Guard, which cradled his early military yearnings and ambitions. Should he conclude that a plan for compulsory military service cannot get through Congress in a re-election year, he will propose a substitute almost as good.

He expects that regular enlistments will bring the Regular Army to at least 500,000 men. Enlistments and re-enlistments since V-J Day have totaled more than 200,000. Future dischargees who want to stay in the service should raise that figure to 500,000, or perhaps 750,000. They will be young, trained, experienced fighters.

His National Guard program will probably call for an annual three months' encampment of about a million men. They will be so trained and equipped that they will be ready for active duty or shipment overseas in 30 days.

TOTAL: Meanwhile, a skeleton force of Selective Service experts is working quietly on the blueprints of a future draft system. By comparison with their tentative plans, the World War II procedure was a hit-or-miss, hodgepodge and inefficiently indiscriminate lottery.

The SS men are, in reality, framing a National Service act, which was advocated by President Roosevelt in the closing days of the war but never accepted by Congress because it was too far-reaching. Under this program every man and woman, including invalids and cripples, will be subject to the government's call on their services for military duty, factory assignment, agricultural, mining, transportation, retail or domestic performance.

In short, every available American will be enrolled in the war effort. Nobody will be immune from a total military mobilization such as Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito never imagined in their wildest dreams of world conquest.

The logic of the last war and the doubts of an uncertain future are cited as justification of these preparations. As an Army topnotcher fully acquainted with these secret plans explained: "We hope we won't have to fight no more, but we have no assurance of that. But if we do have to fight, why not fight witheverything and everybody we got?"

TEXAS
By Gordon Shearer

AUSTIN.—Supplying Texas school children with text books is big business. In fact the state purchase of books to be furnished free to pupils makes up the biggest book transaction that takes place anywhere.

Twenty-four states furnish free school textbooks but none ranks with Texas in the extent of purchases. No other state can buy an adopted book cheaper, for a part of the contract is that if the book is sold cheaper anywhere else, the price to Texas must come down to the minimum.

Currently the State Board of Education has set aside a $2,225,000 fund for the school book purchase for the school year to start next September. How much actually is spent is dependent on how many books are ordered.

SELECTION: The selections that were made recently by the Board of Education resulted in readoption of about half the books that already are in use in the public schools. Orders for those texts will be required as replacements for worn-out books and to care for increases in the number of scholastics.

Mathematics are among the most stable books in use. For next term the schools will have a new geometry text book for the first time in 11½ years. New arithmetics will go into service after 10 years use of the same text book.

Free school textbooks in Texas date back to an act of 1918 which became effective in 1919. Since that date there have been many changes in the system.

Even before that time, the state adopted a list of approved text books. The state then was what was commonly termed "open territory" into which agents for the approved text books could go and argue with each school for purchase of the firm's particular book.

DECISION: In early days the selecting committee was made up of a group of state officials including the governor, state school superintendent, secretary of state and the state comptroller.

At one time the selection of an approved list was left to a committee made up of the heads of the state supported colleges and the University of Texas.

Then the task went to a state Board of Education assisted by a committee. Now the assisting committee consists of a group of class room teachers who make recommendations to the members of the Board of Education. The board then gets bids and makes the awards.

Plight Of Sharecroppers Spotlighted

More Democracy Needed At Home

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The more we do to extend the principles of Democracy in other lands—in Japan and Germany, for example—the more clear is our failure in some cases, and slowness in others, to do the same things for ourselves at home.

STOKES

It's like a mirror.

Take the latest reform decreed by General MacArthur in Japan to seize the land of absentee landlords and non-operating owners and to finance its distribution to Japanese tenants and sharecroppers.

Such farmers in Japan, of course, are much worse off than the same classes here. But too many of ours, particularly in the South, farm and live in distressing circumstances which shame us as a great Democratic nation. We have been tardy in doing anything about it.

We still have a long way to go to set up our farm tenants and sharecropper on their own land, to fulfill an American ideal of the independent farmer living and working and raising his family in comfortable circumstances on his own farm.

When the last statistics were compiled in 1940, a total of 2,360,000 of the 6,100,000 farm operators of the United States were tenants, or 38.7 per cent. There were 541,000 sharecroppers in the Southern states, mostly in cotton and tobacco.

The sharecropper system in the South has long been recognized as a feudalism all its own. The attempt of the luckless tenant to struggle out of his dependency and misery is impeded on all sides by severe state laws, not only in the South but elsewhere, affecting liens on his crop and foreclosures. He is, in some cases, a veritable vassal, getting deeper and deeper into debt, or moving his brood of ragged, ill-fed children aimlessly from place to place to try somewhere else.

THE states, which have jurisdiction in tenancy laws, are notably backward. Reform is sadly needed.

The federal government has made a good beginning in the field open to it, largely under the impulse of reform legislation of the Roosevelt administration. This includes the Bankhead-Jones act providing for 40-year, three per cent loans to tenants to buy farms of their own. The Farm Security administration has charge of the program.

Since enactment of this law in 1937, some 40,000 tenants have been set up on farms of their own. This is a start, but only a start when compared to the great flood of farm tenancy. Some restrictions have been imposed in more recent legislation which would be corrected in the pending Bankhead-Flannagan bill.

Work Is Tribute

There is one encouraging and inspiring thing about what is being done in Japan.

It proves that our war aims mean something. It was not all fine oratory, though some of us had our doubts when it was being proclaimed from platform and stump in the high exultation of patriotism. Some of us remembered what had happened to our aims after that other war for Democracy 25 years ago.

Tribute must be paid to men and women of the past, working through the slow, hard years, lonely and misunderstood and slandered, who fought for the reforms that have come to reality here and now are being transplanted elsewhere.

FOR finally achieving these reforms here, and for inculcating them in our war aims, we can not forget Franklin D. Roosevelt and the leadership that made them such a part of our thinking that they survive him and are being carried out.

The program for alleviating farm tenancy was attacked as Communistic, especially in the South.

Under orders, General MacArthur is now putting it into effect in Japan, with improvements.

Better watch out, General. They'll call you a Communist.

Two Dead, Five Hurt In Mexican Wreck

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 14. (U.P.)—Two persons were killed and five injured in a train wreck last night in Puebla state which railroad authorities today said was the work of union saboteurs.

Three passenger cars of a Puebla-bound train overturned when the train hit an open switch a few miles out of San Lazaro. Only a short while before the accident the crew had stopped the train to remove a barricade of rocks from the track.

National railway lines officials said that the wreck confirmed their belief that a series of minor accidents this week was due to sabotage on the part of members of rival union factions.

Numerous illegal strikes have occurred because of an inter-union feud between the fraternity of railroad workers and the syndicate of railroadmen. The fraternity has vigorously protested a presidential order that its members must join the syndicate—which is the majority union—in order to be employed by Mexican railroads.

President Avila Camacho made the order in an attempt to stop unannounced strikes by both unions over recognition rights.

The last battle between white men and Indians in the Wyoming country occurred 65 years ago.

ANTIQUES
Just a little old shop,
Where the crowd hurries by,
But it catches the colors,
Of moonlight and sky.
Full many a gem,
As rare as a dream,
Has graced its wide shelves,
And reigned there supreme.
It may be a plate, or
Perhaps it's a vase,
That reigns for a day
With its bright, cheery face.
They never stay long,
Are soon on their way,
To another new home,
And help make it gay.

OPA Sets Prices For New Mercury Car

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. (AP)—Basic retail price ceilings for Mercury automobiles will be up an average of 4 per cent over those of January 1942, and additional increases for design changes range from $30 to $65.

Announcing this today, the OPA said manufacturers' prices for those Ford-built cars would be boosted an average of 8.4 per cent.

Increase Explained

Under the cost absorption program in effect for all makes of autos, Mercury dealers will be required to trim their prewar discount from manufacturers by 2.5 percentage points.

The purpose of this discount cut is to prevent the full manufacturers' increase from being passed on to the public.

Here are the new Mercury ceilings, inclusive of design change price increases, as compared with 1942 ceilings:

Prices Are Announced

Two-door sedan, $1,114, as compared with $1,330 in 1942; 4-door town sedan, $1,162, in 1942, $1,065; sedan coupe, $1,151, in 1942, $1,055; club convertible, $1,320, in 1942, $1,215; station wagon, $1,333, in 1942, $1,260.

OPA set a retail ceiling of $835 for a Mercury chasis with open or closed front end. A comparable 1942 pricce for this chassis was not listed in the OPA price regulation.

None of the prices given include federal excise taxes, transportation, or preparation and handling charges.

The average 4 per cent retail increase for Mercuries compares with an average boost of 2 per cent for Ford cars announcced earlier.

STOCK SHOW SLIGHT BOOST

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Rails, liquors and aviations pulled the stock market into a selective recovery today although the comeback was the slowest in nearly three months and many leaders continued to inhabit minus territory.

Timid buying was attributed to the persistence of idle cash and reinstatement of sold-out commitments at the lower levels occasioned by Wednesday's reaction. Business prospects and inflation thoughts still provided bullish arguments but the cloudy labor picture remained a brake on sentiment.

Transfers of 1,130,000 shares compared with 1,320,000 Thursday and were the smallest for a full session since Sept. 27.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .1 of a point at 76.

New highs were posted for South American Gold and Platinum, St. Paul Railway (when issued) common, Illinois Central, Hiram Walker and Consolidated Vultee. Eastern Air Lines, up 3 at the best, ended with a net gain of 4.

U. S. Steel was up ¼ and Bethlehem off as much. Chrysler added ¾ and General Motors conceded ⅝. Losers ncluded American Telephone, Aanconda, Texas Co., American Smelting, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Allied Chemical and Johns-Manville.

Railways bonds attracted support.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Cotton futures rushed up to gains of as much as $1 a bale in a late flurry of trade and outside buying today which met a scarcity of offerings. The upward movement was accelerated by local short covering with final prices at or near the best of the day to show gains of 45 to 95 cents a bale.

The aggressive demand for spot cotton, the increasing export inquiry and improving statistical position supported the rally. France purchased additional cotton, at least 2,000 bales, against trade bids submitted this past Monday and it was expected that country would continue in the market next week. The announcement by the Export-Import bank on the Finnish cotton loan estimated that Finland will buy about 46,000 bales here. Further progress on plans to ship low-grade cotton to Japan for textile manufacture under government control was also reported. Some quarters estimated Japan's cotton needs at upwards of 500,000 bales. Atlanta advices reported several large mills inquired on price for cotton to be delivered first and second quarter next year.

The cotton futures markets reached new highs for the day in a closing rush of mill buying which induced short covering.

Futures closed 45 to 95 cents a bale higher.

Christmas Mail For APO 729 Said Lost

DALLAS, Dec. 14. (UP)—This story is for those who sent Christmas mail to APO 729.

That Army post office address is in the Aleutian islands, a region of violent storms at sea, and Postmaster J. Howard Payne said today just such a storm caused a small surface craft bearing Christmas mail to be lost in that area.

All mail aboard the vessel, he said, consisted of gifts and letters mailed between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15.

Anyone who has reason to believe the Christmas parcel he mailed to APO 729 was among those lost may send a replacement until Dec. 20 without a request from a soldier in the Aleutian area, Payne said.

Government To Crack Down On Violators In New Housing Setup

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (UP)—The Civilian Production administration intends to crack down hard on any builders who attempt to divert priorities materials into high-priced home construction.

A high-ranking OPA official said today that there will be strict enforcement of a forthcoming regulation which will set up priorities on building materials. The regulation, designed to channel the flow of building materials into homes costing $10,000 or less, probably will be announced next Monday or Tuesday.

To Inspect System

Enforcement will be carried out by the CPA's compliance division and by officials in the field offices of federal housing agencies

The CPA official said that the regulation will be "rather complex" and that it will delegate part of the administrative responsibilities to other government agencies and particularly to field offices. This, it was felt, would provide for decentralization and better administration on a regional basis.

The official said it would be difficult to draw the regulation so that set quotas of building materials would flow into homes at speccific price levels within the $10,000 limit. Consequently, he said, there would be nothing to prevent a contractor from using priorities materials to building houses at the top limit only.

However, he added, past experience shows that a lot of buildings prefer to build lower price houses because they can produce more of them with a smaller investment. For that reason he felt confident there wiuld be a good proportion of houses in the lower-price brackets.

Previously officials of other government agencies expressed doubt that the priorities regulation would be of much assistance to veterans because it would tend to encourage building at the $10,000 level. Most veterans, War department survey shows, cannot afford houses costing more than $6,000.

Frank W. Cortright, executive vice president of the National Association of Home-Builders, said it was "nonsense" to assume that builders would take advantage of the priorities regulation to produce only $10,000 homes.

New Junior Colleges Planned For Texas

AUSTIN, Dec. 14 (AP) — New junior colleges planned in six Texas communities may bring the state total to nearly 50 junior colleges within the next two years, Dr. C. C. Colvert, professor-consultant in junior college education for the University of Texas, said today.

Dr. Colvert has just returned from a conference with Nolan county school officials, all of whom favor a junior college in Sweetwater. Schools are also planned at Big Spring, Alvin, Pampa, Freeport and Wharton.

Younger Voters, Including War Veterans, Heavily Democratic

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—One of the basic problems of the Republican party today, as in other years, is its lack of support among the younger voters of the country, the "new blood" of the voting population.

GALLUP

Veterans of this war, for example, most of whom are in their twenties, show a marked preference for the Democratic party.

In a poll just completed by the Institute among discharged veterans more than six in every ten who expressed a party preference said that if a presidential election were being held at this time, the Democratic party would get their vote.

The division of their sentiment between the major parties is as follows:

"If the presidential election were being held today, which party would you vote for—the Democratic or Republican?"

Vote Of Veterans

Democratic	63%
Republican	37

Twenty-eight per cent (nearly three in ten were undecided.

The problem of winning greater support among the veterans is part of the larger problem facing the Republican party—how to win over a larger proportion of all voters in the youngest age brackets 21 to 29, who are now predominantly Democratic.

It is apparent that the chief reason that veterans tend to be Democratic is their age rather than the fact that they have been in service. This is shown by the fact that Democratic preference is as high among voters in their twenties who have not had military service as it is among veterans, on the basis of replies to the question in the present survey.

21 to 29	Without Military Service	Veterans
Democratic	63%	63%
Republican	37	37

The undecided vote among the 21-29 age group above is 29 per cent.

The problem is not a new one to Republicans. Polling evidence that young people are inclined to be more Democratic than older voters is to be found in a comparison of the percentage of young people who said they voted Democratic in 1936, 1940 and 1944, as compared with the percentage of all voters who voted Democratic in these elections.

Per Cent Democratic of Major Party Vote	All Voters	Age Group 21-29
1936	62.5%	68%
1940	55	60
1944	53.8	58

Amended Estimates, Incomes Due Jan. 15

Taxpayers have until Jan. 15 to make final amended estimates of their yearly income, although statements have been mailed by the local Office of Internal Revenue reminding that Dec. 15 is the closing of the last quarter for 1945 payments, L. B. Barkley, chief of the local office, has announced.

Barkley said that originally Dec. 15 was the deadline for filing final estimates but that due to the confusion it caused the time had been postponed until the later date.

March 15 is the deadline for filing regular returns, Barkley added.

Underinflation is most frequent cause of automobile tire failure.

Soviets To Withdraw From Iran In March

MOSCOW, Dec. 14. (U.P.)—The Communist party newspaper Pravda said today on the eve of the Big Three foreign ministers conference that Soviet troops will withdraw from Iran strictly in accordance with treaty—in March, 1946.

Pravda's outspoken commentator, David Zaslavsky, at the same time raised the question of why British troops still were occupying many countries and what American troops are doing in China and Egypt.

Zaslavsky said that while Russian troops would pull out of Iran at the treaty date it was not known whether or when British or American troops would leave there.

He also reiterated an argument previously used by the Russians that the Americans came into Iran without any treaty arrangement whereas the British and Russians had a formal pact with Iran covering their troops.

The Soviet attitude on Iran was expected to be explored by the foreign ministers along with Far Eastern problems including control of Japan which ranks No. 1 on the problem list.

Men Must Live Up To Ideals, Speaker Says

Charles A. Wells, cartoonist-lecturer and journalist, told the American Business club at their luncheon Friday in the Hilton hotel that "there can be no peace until men quit fooling themselves, nor can there be peace until men are ready to live up to such ideals as those of Christ and men and like Abraham Lincoln."

Reviewing the thoughts war has brought to America, Wells outlined, by way of sketching and speech, national thinking of the last four years. He said the cloud of war was distant, at first, then it shadowed America. Came Pearl Harbor and the sound of marching men was heard round the world later to be partially silenced by signing of the peace.

"Pretty Dirty Peace"

"Nations and all people remain in the grip of the war's great emotional experience and as it stands now it is a pretty dirty peace," the journalist declared. "We are missing the bridge of peace and if we continue in this same direction it is as though we had poured treasure and blood into a great abyss," Wells said in stressing the importance of men fighting for ideals which must be upheld.

Selfishness, greed and hatred make wars—justice equality, fairness and brotherhood make peace, the speaker explained. "Until we are ready to live up to ideals that men really fight for, until we come to realize that religion is the foundation for these ideals, we can have no peace," Wells concluded.

Jake Mason, club member, announced the names of nominees for club officers soon to be elected. They are Hobart Nelson and J. B. Watkins, president; Joe Carr, Porter Garrett, first vice-president; Bill Pittman and Cliff Widner, second vice-president; W. E. McCarty, secretary; W. C. Bigham, Bob Rose, sergeant-at-arms; Douglas Adams, Henry Buell, J. D. Jenkins, V. L. Ellis, Hugh McKelvey, Carl Sutton, H. V. Horn, and Lester White, governors.

Luncheon guests were Dick Roberts, recently discharged from four years service as a captain with the paratroopers; Dixie White, Otis Fincher, recently discharged from the Navy, Jim Williams, Sgt. Otis Cowan, Dale Buckner, Dexter Walthall, Guy Casey, D. O. Purcell, Gus Pothiel, jr., C. B. Bydston, Dick Roberts, Dr. C. E. Hereford.

W. M. Mullen was introduced as new member. Jimmie Wilson, president, presided and J. O. Fortenberry was program chairman.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.
