Truman Urges Tax Cuts, Big Increase In Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry S. Truman today proposed a five-billion-dollar tax cut for low and middle income taxpayers and urged a big increase in government spending.

The former president, who described himself as a retired Missouri farmer, delivered a wide-ranging discourse on the current economic situation to the House Banking and Currency Committee.

He larded his views with peppery jabs at the Eisenhower administration. The country, Truman said, would not be in the shape it is if the administration had taken quicker action.

He said he saw no need for periodic economic downturns and that both plans and policies of the government should be directed toward constantly expanding the economy.

"We might not be altogether successful in preventing economic downturns," Truman said, "but at least we can make that our goal and not try to brush recessions aside by pretending that they are a good thing."

In addition to a tax cut and higher spending, Truman urged immediate expansion of the unemployment compensation system and increased Social Security benefits.

He also backed a community public works bill providing two billion dollars in loans to states and local communities, and an area redevelopment program to help create new jobs in areas of chronic unemployment.

Finally, Truman urged relief to small business through making available additional equity capital for small firms.

Truman said he thought the present recession is very serious, especially because it weakens the ability of the free nations to meet the economic dangers threatened by the Soviet Union.

Big measures are necessary to meet the needs for bigger economic strength, he said, adding that greater and greater strength is a stark necessity for continued national survival.

The committee hearings marked the return of Congress from a 10-day Easter holiday for the last half of a session which must cope with the problems of unemployment and a business slump.

Truman contended the tax structure should be changed both to provide more purchasing power after taxes and to take special privilege benefits out of the tax laws.

His proposed five-billion-dollar tax cut for middle and low income families, Truman said, is the quickest way to put more spending power into the hands of the average American home.

Truman said such tax relief was also the surest and safest way toward a balanced federal budget because it would help restore maximum employment and help lift total national production.

To offset revenue losses from the tax reduction, Truman said Congress should close up what he called glaring tax loopholes. He said that could bring in about two billion dollars in tax revenues now being lost.

Another billion dollars would be saved by eliminating some of the inequitable benefits to privileged groups in the present tax law, he said.

Truman also said that a lowering of the interest rates on government debt would save another two billion dollars a year.

On the score of public works, Truman said "it would be a mistake to send a boy to do a man's job."

He not only argued for an immediate expansion of federal outlays for public programs, he said they should be planned for a long period ahead as well—at least for the next five years.

Joint Tax Valuation Service Is Proposed

A proposal by two members of the Snyder school board for the county and schools to join in hiring the same tax valuation engineer met with favor of the commissioners court this morning.

The two now use separate valuation engineers, the schools at a cost of $15,000 a year and the county at $25,000 a year. The board members proposed use of the same engineer, they said, because of the saving of money it would effect in contracts with the valuation engineer. The two groups would also have values more equalized to each other, some believed.

A large portion of the area covered by the county and the Snyder school district is the same area, and it is believed that a contract can be secured from a valuation engineer to handle both subdivisions at much less cost.

How the two groups would hire an engineer was discussed, and general discussoin centered on taking bids from valuation engineers for the handling of both the county and school district. The groups would reserve the right to reject the competitive bids. Both groups would have to agree to the engineer to be hired.

Max West and Ross Hemphill, the two school board members who met with the commissioners court, said they would discuss the idea further with the school board at its next meeting, which will be held tomorrow night. The school board discussed the possibility last week and generally favored the idea of use of the same valuation engineer.

In the discussion, it was brought out that probably neither of the firms now in use would be used if the two groups agreed upon joint use of a valuation engineer. The county's tax valuation work is now handled by Thomas Y. Pickett, the school work by the firm of Pritchard & Abbott.

In other business this morning, the commissioners court instructed W. J. Ramsey, county park superintendent, to install public address systems in the new softball field at Towle Memorial Park and at the baseball field in the new park in south Snyder. He was also instructed to build four picnic tables in the new park.

The court gave the library board, which was represented at the meeting by Mrs. Robert Patterson and Mrs. Gene Dulaney, permission to extend the period of work indefinitely of Mrs. B. D. Bruyere, assistant to the librarian, who had previously been employed for one month. The court also authorized the board to employ a clerk-typist for which the board was making arrangements today. The board and library staff are in the midst of work toward getting the library open.

Vehicle Registration Over 10,000 Mark

A total of 10,099 vehicles were registered here for 1958 by the end of March, according to Geral G. Greene, county tax assessor-collector.

This was revealed in a report completed during the weekend by Greene. The figure is slightly higher than that of the same period last year. By last March 31, 9,989 vehicles were registered here.

For the entire year of 1957, 12,721 vehicles were registered here.

Soaking Rains Fall Over Snyder Area; Snow Stabs Plains

The Snyder area reaped moisture ranging up to more than one inch from a soggy weekend that produced a steady drizzle for several hours.

Most of the rains came Saturday night and early Sunday, with smaller amounts during the day Sunday.

There was little runoff, and the new moisture restored content of the topsoil, which had been depleted by high winds during the past week.

According to reports this morning the rainfall was general from the Panhandle and Plains and down through Scurry, Nolan, Taylor, Mitchell, Howard, Borden and Dawson Counties.

The official gauge in Snyder recorded exactly one inch over the weekend, according to David Strayhorn, weather observer.

Skies cleared early today, and forecasts indicated that mild weather, with little precipitation will prevail in West Texas for the next five days.

Police said a small tornado struck a rural area eight miles southeast of Lufkin in East Texas early Monday, causing minor damage.

Reports relayed by the Department of Public Safety said there were no injuries. It swooped about 2:15 a.m.

The blow was in the Old Homer community. Lufkin police said one house was twisted off its foundation and the chimney toppled. Two sheds were blown away.

Roaring wind accompanied by torrential rain and large hail stones ripped through Lufkin about the same time. No serious damage was reported.

West Texas skies cleared, meanwhile, as an April storm bringing snow to the South Plains and showers across much of the state lost most of its force.

A 2.48-inch rain was gauged north of Falls City in South Central Texas early Monday.

Forecasters said clouds hovering over most of the rest of the state would disappear during the day, giving way to sunshine by afternoon.

Snow dipping into the Muleshoe area, between Lubbock and the New Mexico line, dumped a blanket three-fourths inch deep Sunday. Flurries fell between Muleshoe and Lubbock.

Rainfall was widspread in other areas, measuring up to 2 inches around Matador, also on the plains.

One inch of rain fell generally over the South Plains, further delaying farmers who already were behind on spring planting.

Cuba's Civil War Flares Fitfully

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's civil war flared only fitfully yesterday. Government forces trapped a rebel band in Oriente province and the army claimed it wiped out a large number of insurgents.

A communique said troops of President Fulgencio Batista surrounded a contingent of Fidel Castro's rebels as they were heading toward Guantanamo from the insurgent chief's Sierra Maestra hideout.

The army attacked, reportedly killing many rebels and forcing the band to abandon arms, documents and vehicles.

As yet, however, the army apparently had not run down the main rebel group led by Castro himself. The army claimed a week ago the force had been cut off and was being pursued.

Another large rebel group led by Castro's brother Raul also has been reported moving freely about Oriente's northern coastal areas.

Soldiers continued to tack up reward notices in rebellious Oriente offering $100,000 for Castro dead or alive. The rebels continued to tear them down.

Dissension split the rebel command in Havana. The dozen officers who make up the high command said they would no longer take orders from Castro's personal lieutenant, Fuastino Perez, whom they accused of bungling last week's abortive call for a general strike and uprising.

The dissidents warned that if Perez doesn't get out, they will join other rebel organizations. They referred by name to the group here which supports exiled former President Carlos Prio Socarras.

The U.S. Embassy reported no further moves by any of the 12,000 Americans in Cuba to leave the country.

In Miami, directors of baseball's International League voted conditionally to open the season at Havana April 16 as scheduled, "unless conditions materially change." But one club, the Buffalo Bisons, said it would not take its men to strife-beset Havana. The league's directors ordered the Bisons to observe the schedule or be penalized.

Hughes Rites Held Today

Funeral services for J. T. Hughes, 56, president and general manager of Snyder Broadcasting Co., which operates Radio Station KSNY, were set for 2 o'clock this afternoon in the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Hughes died about 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Snyder Clinic-Hospital, following a light heart attack during a pneumonia condition.

The Rev. G. M. Cole, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was to officiate in the funeral services, assisted by the Rev. Jimmy Nelson, pastor of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church.

Burial was to be in the Hillside Memorial Gardens under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Mr. Hughes is survived by Mrs. Hughes, one daughter, Mrs. Mel Zane Gilbert, Snyder, one grandson Paul Gilbert of Snyder, one brother; Gene Hughes of Sanger, and one sister, Mrs. Pearl Hellums of Austin.

Pallbearers were to be Max West Jim Mixon, Harold Bennett, Ralph Geisenhoner, H. W. Cargile, Russell Yorgesen, Bob Crowell and Nolan von Roeder.

Dulles Sees Early Preliminary Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today that preparatory talks aiming at a summit meeting may get started within a few days.

Dulles disclosed this in briefing about 200 editors and writers of the International Press Institute.

He said extensive preparatory work is urgently needed to establish a solid basis for any meeting by heads of government.

Dulles added that it is quite illusory to believe that world leaders could sit down and make meaningful decisions without prior detailed examination of problems by lower-ranking aides.

Dulles' remarks hinted strongly that the Western Big Three might agree to begin talks at an ambassadors' level Thursday in Moscow. The West, however, will almost certainly insist that these discussions leading to a summit conference be broadened more than Moscow has proposed.

In his off-the-cuff remarks, Dulles repeatedly emphasized that peace has to be organized and institutionalized in order to ease the continuing threat of war.

He said the free world alliances, now linking about 50 non-Communist nations, have precisely such a peaceful objective in mind.

Dulles said a big military establishment is repugnant. He said, however, this military might is being maintained as a sacred trust on behalf of the free world to help preserve peace.

"World War I and World War II would not have occurred had we been in the military posture we are in today," Dulles said.

He pledged that the United States would rush into any disarmament talks at any level, provided they gave hope of balanced reduction of the world's arms burden.

He said arms reduction is exceedingly complicated but that it would be possible to make some first-step agreements to control new, modern weapons.

Dulles mentioned specifically both intercontinental and intermediate-range missiles and diverting atomic-hydrogen materials from weapons stockpiles into peaceful uses.

Cancer Drive Opens Here

The first segment of the 1958 Cancer Crusade will open here tomorrow when members of the downtown contact committee begin to see business owners.

The section is headed by Jim Thompson. Only heads of the businesses are to be contacted in the downtown campaign, while others will be contacted in the house-to-house campaign, headed by Mrs. Theo Lamb, next week.

The Cancer Crusade is both an educational and solicitation campaign, and the volunteer workers will hand out literature on cancer as they make their rounds.

The 1958 Cancer Crusade has a goal in Scurry County of $4,200. Those who desire to give to the campaign and who are not contacted may mail their checks to Ralph Geisenhoner, treasurer of the local unit, at the Snyder National Bank.

Sputnik II Goes Down In Flames

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Sputnik II fooled the professors by gliding around the world half a dozen times longer than expected but apparently broke apart last night and fell to earth.

Sections may have plunged into the jungles of Brazil.

A single sighting from Denver, Colo., indicated the heavy rocket motor may have completed one more orbit than the lighter fuel tanks and instrument section.

The dog rocket was seen glowing like a hot poker from air friction over New England at 8:47 p.m., the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said.

Eight minutes later it was reported in flames over the West Indies. If it continued a minute more, it would have been lost in Brazilian jungles.

Moonwatch teams in Milford, Conn., Millbrook, N.Y., and Bryn Athyn, Pa., reported sighting the satellite last night. The Millbrook and Bryn Athyn teams said it appeared to be glowing with a luminous tail of sparks.

The Smithsonian said the satellite would normally have been invisible in the shadow of the earth on its passage over the Northeast.

The sole report that indicated the heavy motor of the rocket may have continued onward another lap was from Kenneth Steinmetz of the Denver Moonwatch team. Observing with his family, he reported sighting an object as bright as the North Star at 10:12 p.m. Steinmetz said the object was glowing orange-red and was observed for half a minute as it orbited towards the southeast.

Numerous observers in the West Indies said they saw a flaming object overhead about 8:55 p.m., The master of the Dutch tanker Mitra radioed from a position south of the Virgin Islands that a fiery ball was seen hurtling downwards across the sky at that time. The Navy ballistic range at Antigua also said the flaming rocket was seen.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, Smithsonian director, said the rocket moon lasted 9 or 10 hours longer than predicted because it had apparently streamlined itself like an arrow when it plunged into denser atmosphere.

Jakarta Invasion Forces Are Poised

BUKITTINGGI, Sumatra (AP) — A government invasion fleet lay off the rebel post of Padang today as landing forces poised for a knockout blow against insurgent headquarters in Central Sumatra.

Braced for the attack expected within hours, the revolutionary command placed its troops on a round-the-clock alert and called on them to prevent a landing at all costs.

The alert went out as the Vanguard of the Jakarta fleet—a destroyer and four corvettes — loomed three miles off Padang.

A rebel spokesman said he expected the fleet to lay down a barrage to soften up key shore points for the landing troops believed to number more than 7,000.

Officials here believed Jakarta soldiers and Marines would attack West Sumatra within 24 hours from two sides under cover of air and naval bombardment.

The main thrust is expected around Padang where the rebel government originated two months ago.

In an appeal to the rebels to stand fast, their commander, Lt. Col. Achmad Hussein, said in a broadcast: "Make sure (President) Sukarno's forces do not land. Destroy them wherever you find them, as we are fighting now for the unity of our nation.

"We are now fighting against a dictator and to save our people and religion. Our sacrifices will not be unavailing."

Youth Center Vote Saturday

On Saturday taxpayers of Scurry County will vote on a $145,000 bond proposal for a youth recreation center which would be built in Towle Memorial Park.

The center was proposed on a petition presented to the county commissioners court several weeks ago. The original proposal came from the city council of Parent-Teacher Associations here, with Mrs. Frank LeFeuvre as chairman of the steering committee, and a steering committee of the High School P-TA headed by Dr. John Hamblen. Some other organizations have since endorsed the proposal.

The proposed recreation center would probably be just west of the locomotive in the park, which is located just west of the swimming pool, within walking distance of the high school. Of the $145,000 about $115,000 is proposed for construction of a 12,800-square-foot building at about $9 a foot, $5,000 for paving, and the remainder for furnishings and equipment. A kitchen would be included in the center with a snack bar arrangement.

The building would include 800 square feet for a community room with kitchen which would be a part of the building but with a separate entrance, to be used for meetings of such groups as 4-H and home demonstration clubs, committees, and agricultural groups.

The steering committee said that if the bond proposal passes the commissioners court will provide in the county budget for a fulltime paid supervisor for the center.

The center would be open after school hours and until 9 p.m. on weekdays, closing at 6 p.m. on Wednesdays, open from 2 to 6 p.m. on Sundays, and until 11 p.m. on Saturdays, except until about midnight on the occasion of supervised dances.

The proposed center, the steering committees said, would be open to all youths in Scurry County. The program would be designed mainly for teenagers.

Recreation would include such things as ping pong, dancing, folk dance, table games, and various organized activities, sometimes making use of other facilities available such as in scheduling tennis tournaments and using the county park courts or golf tournaments and using the Country Club course. There is also proposed, if enough money is available, a skating rink adjoining the building. It would be a rink with roof but with open sides.

"If the county's ever going to get a recreation center, now is the time to do it," the steering committee said, adding that it believes such facilities would provide teenagers a place to go and keep off the highways. The committee said the center would be especially useful in occupying the time of teenagers during the early part of nights and on Sunday afternoons. There are, now, the committee said, good facilities provided here for boys and for women, while there is little provided for girls. This would be the provision of supervised recreation for girls as well as boys.

CENTER

center would have lunches served, if teenagers preferred to eat there.

Tax-wise, the committee said, the center would be a very small item. The proposal to be voted upon is for bonds to be issued for a period not to exceed 10 years. There are days the bond financing could be handled. The county will have most of its present bonded debt paid by 1961. One way the financing could be handled would be issuance of bonds and payment of only interest until 1960, then payment over a period of five years, starting at $10,000 the first year, $15,000 the next year, and $60,000 per year afterward. Interest would be three and one-half per cent or less, or possibly up to $21,000. Another plan would be similar, starting principal payment in 1960, but complete payment in three years with an interest charge of $19,000 or less. That would provide payment of $10,000 in 1960, $15,000 in 1961, and the balance of $120,000 in 1962. By either of these methods, the committee said, the financing could be handled without a tax increase on the bond debt.

A third way would be payment of the bonds over a 10-year period at about $15,000 a year, but interest would run about $35,000 on such financing. Even by this method, the committee said, the tax levy would be small. Financing of the center could be handled so the cost to the average taxpayer owning a home in Snyder would pay only about 10 cents a year.

The steering committees plan to have speakers appearing before most of the civic clubs here this week.

In connection with the Saturday election, the Altrurian Daughters Club has offered free taxi service to the polls for any persons needing transportation. Those who desire transportation should call HI 3-6557.

Solons Get Word From Grass Roots

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress checked in for work today with word from the grass roots that people are worried—mainly about unemployment and the recession.

Many members returned with the belief a tax cut of some kind is needed, but only a few listed tax reduction as a major issue back home.

Nearly a third of the Senate and House members—172 of 531—responded to a nationwide Associated Press survey of what they found out back home during the Easter recess. Replies came from 142 House members, 30 senators; from 100 Democrats, 72 Republicans.

Four questions were put to each member:

1. What three problems seem to be troubling constituents most? The recession, unemployment and the farm question stood out.

2. Will he be inclined to favor a tax cut bill now? Among those taking a stand, the ratio was about 2-1 for a reduction, but with widespread disagreement on the type. Only 27 members mentioned taxes as an issue back home, with seven listing it first. The variety of tax-cutting ideas added to the difficulty of agreement on a bill that can be passed.

3. Do people want more, or less, federal spending? This was close, with the edge slightly for more.

4. Are the grass roots for or against foreign trade expansion, or is there indifference to the issue? There was plenty of indifference. But by a margin of about 2½ to 1 members reported that sentiment among interested voters leaned toward increased trade.

On the issues troubling constituents, the legislators put the recession and economic conditions in first place.

Others included the farm question in its multiple phases; the international situation, including peace, foreign policy and testing of nuclear weapons; high prices and living costs; inflation; foreign aid, national security, including unification of the armed forces; the social security program and reciprocal trade with other nations.

The farm problem was mentioned most in the Midwest and South. The halting of nuclear weapons tests was a matter of concern chiefly in the Far West.

Differences were widespread on the issue of a tax cut. A few legislators want no cut at all; a few more want any kind of cut. Like President Eisenhower, some want to wait and see how business gets along before making up their minds.

Many tied conditions to their support or objection to a reduction. Some want a general slash for everybody, or lower income tax exemptions, or tax concessions to low and middle income families or help for small business or a particular industry.

Houston Pair Found Shot

HOUSTON (AP) — A couple in their early fifties were found shot to death today in their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Claxton were found sprawled in the front room of their home. Claxton, an operating engineer was shot in the right temple, and his wife was shot one time in the back.

Detective A. E. Rockwell said a rifle was found near the bodies and that it appeared to be murder and suicide.

Neighbors said Claxton and his wife were about 52 years old.

Officers said the bodies were discovered by several persons who ride to work with Claxton.

Snyder Youth Rejoins Navy

Robert G. Ford, 1607 Twenty-eighth Street, and son of Mrs. Alton Ford, 2503 Avenue Z, has re-enlisted in the U.S. Navy.

Ford made his re-enlistment today, and will go to San Diego, Calif., in a few days for reassignment to a ship on the west coast.

He had served a tour of duty in the Atlantic and wanted some Pacific duty, so the Naval office in Dallas arranged for him to go west, Roy G. Treadaway, Navy recruiter here, said.

West Texas — Temperatures 2 to 4 degrees below normal. No important daily changes. Little or no rain.

Students At Lincoln To State Meet

Several students of the Abraham Lincoln School here qualified for the state literary meet of the Interscholastic League by winning the first places Saturday in the District II, Class B meet at Slaton.

The first place winners were Johnny Ray Gracia in senior declamation, the hobby craft department in art, and the team of Will Clay and Charlie Joe Archie.

Several second and third places were also taken by the Lincoln students in literary events.

Second place winners were Norma Gene Littles in vocal solo, Frederick Sanford in junior declamation and an octette composed of Johnny Garcia, Charles Joe Archie, Unice Braiezl, Will Clay, Norma Gene Littles, Barbara Durst, Louise Archie, and Jearldene Turner.

Taking third places were Dianne Sanders and Woodruff Powell in sub-junior spelling and Karen Sue Gift and Norma Gene Littles in essay writing.

Daniel Johnson, Lincoln principal and treasurer for the TIL district, said the state meet will be held Friday and Saturday at Prairie View.

Competing in the district meet Saturday were schools from Snyder, Slaton, Anton, Levelland, Floydada, Post, Muleshoe, and Sudan.

The district track meet, which had been scheduled for last Saturday, was postponed until today because of rain. It will be held at Anton. The Lincoln School was to send a track team of 16 boys to the meet.

VIC Members To Ft. Worth

Eleven members of the Snyder High School Vocational Industrial Club will attend the 10th annual VIC convention in Fort Worth this week.

The convention begins Wednesday morning and lasts through Saturday.

The local delegates will leave at noon tomorrow.

All the local students are taking projects to enter in competitions and all will enter contests at the convention, J. C. Jackson, Industrial Vocational teacher, said. Jackson and W. A. Mayfield, head of the industrial arts department of Snyder High School, will accompany the students.

Tours of industries in Fort Worth and Dallas will be held Wednesday and Thursday.

The Snyder students are Sandra Blacklock, Joy Green, Patsy House, Bobby Nolan, Nick Rakagis, Daniel Wood, Nell Crawford, Bill McKinney, Donna Neal and James Newton.

Benitez Service Is Set Here Today

Funeral services for Eddie Wayne Benitez, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Benitez, 1303 Thirteenth Street, are to be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon with graveside services in Snyder Cemetery.

The child died about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

The Rev. A. J. Martin, pastor of the Avenue D Baptist Church will officiate. Burial will be under direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Benitez; three sisters, Linda Benitez, Brenda Benitez, and Rosa Benitez; one brother, Ygnazio Benitez; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Benitez, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. D. B. Love, all of Snyder.

Cheryl Gets Homesick In Juvenile Hall

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lana Turner's daughter is described as homesick with 10 more days to wait in Juvenile Hall for a hearing at which attorneys will seek to free her from official supervision.

Her father, restaurateur Steve Crane, second of the movie queen's four husbands, visited 14-year-old Cheryl Crane yesterday at the hall.

Sure, she's homesick, he told newsmen afterward. "She's counting the days just like anyone else."

Lana visited the tall, shy teenager Saturday. Both parents said they had no discussion with Cheryl of the verdict of a coroner's jury Friday that her stabbing April 4 of Lana's boy friend Johnny Stompanato, 32, was justifiable homicide.

Crane took his daughter a gift-wrapped three-pound box of candy which he said was for all the girls in her unit.

Cheryl's fate will be decided April 24 by Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch at a court hearing in Santa Monica.

Atty. Arthur Crowley, who represents the girl and her father, said: "We will be fully prepared at the hearing to prove that there is no necessity to make Cheryl a ward of the Juvenile Court.

"We will prove this through witnesses who will testify that Cheryl is a healthy and normal girl and that the death of Mr. Stompanato was merely an unfortunate accident in her life."

Confirmation was lacking for speculation that Crane may have decided to go all out in seeking Cheryl's custody. He would say only that he is confident an equitable decision will be reached at the hearing.

Soviet Nuclear Tests Are Called 'Dirtiest' In World

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The recent Soviet nuclear tests were "the dirtiest radioactive debris tests the world has ever known."

That's the view of Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), who said yesterday there probably is a great deal of evidence to back a Danish report that a catastrophic accident caused a halt in the Soviet test series. The report said the mishap caused radioactive fallout to increase to the danger point over the Soviet Union and many neighboring states.

A State Department spokesman said, "We have no basis on which to substantiate the story."

There was no immediate comment from the Atomic Energy Commission.

Denmark's biggest newspaper, Berlingske Tidende, said in Copenhagen the accident was probably the real reason for the Soviet unilateral decision to stop testing nuclear weapons, saying the Soviets could not risk continuing tests of arms with serious defects.

The paper did not specify the nature of the reported accident, but said it was caused by an erroneous estimate of meteorological factors.

The newspaper quoted information it said came through diplomatic channels from Moscow.

Humphrey, chairman of a Senate Disarmament subcommittee, told a TV panel that heavy fallout from the Soviet tests fell on parts of the United States as well as on Scandinavia, northern Europe and Japan.

The Danish report came a day after Humphrey said the Soviets had touched off an underground blast March 25, and that this explosion was detected by seismic stations up to 5,650 miles away. Although Humphrey did not say so, the implication was that the test involved a nuclear device. He said data from seismic stations indicated the blast was in the northern Ural's.

The March 25 date mentioned by Humphrey was three days after the most recent AEC announcement of a Soviet nuclear test. However, AEC has said it does not announce all test blasts it detects.

Many scientists and political leaders differ on whether all major nuclear tests can be detected from long range. The question of reliability of ways to detect possible cheating is a key one in connection with proposals for agreements suspending such tests.

Humphrey said both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles had refused to make available for publication certain studies Humphrey said the administration has made on test detection. Thus, he said, his subcommittee has undertaken its own study and he has written 37 U.S. seismologists in this connection.

In his TV appearance, Humphrey suggested that after the United States completes its coming spring-summer test series in the mid-Pacific, Eisenhower should go before the U.N. Security Council and propose a halt to testing under an international inspection system.

Saying the United States still has a substantial lead over the Soviet Union in nuclear weapons, Humphrey added: "We have more to gain from a cessation of tests than anyone else, from a moral point of view, a political point of view and a technical point of view."

However, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said that only by continuous testing "can the versatility of our atomic weapons be increased."

Also, Twining said in a copyrighted interview in the magazine U.S. News & World Report, "only by continuous testing can improvements be made which will minimize the adverse effects from fallout, radiation and other factors on nonmilitary areas adjacent to targets and, in fact, on the peoples of the world."

Mother Will Face Charge In Slayings

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A mother described by a neighbor as "a lovable, church-going woman" will be charged during the day with the first- degre murder of her three children, police said.

Patrolman Jack Thomas said he will issue three warrants charging that Mrs. Kathleen King, 36, used a hammer to crush the skulls of her daughter, Charleen, 5, and her sons, Donald, 3, and Brian, 2.

The father, Charles, 34, found the bodies early yesterday in the family's modest five-room home. Coroner H. C. Schick said the children were killed 14 to 18 hours before King found the bodies.

Mrs. King, who police say tried to commit suicide, is in fair condition. She is unable to talk, apparently because her throat and mouth were burned by an oven-cleaning fluid she swallowed, they said.

Dr. Schick said she also attempted to cut her wrists, upper arms and throat. He termed the wounds superficial.

A nieghbor, Mrs. Betty Marshall, who characterized Mrs. King as a lovable woman, also said she was a "Doting mother, but a worrywart."

Dr. Schick said Mrs. King had a history of emotional instability and had been given shock treatment at a private institution about a year ago.

Tickets For Review Ready

Members of the high school instrumental and choral departments this week are selling tickets to the Friday night musical review to be staged by the two departments.

The review, which will be a variety show of light, popular, and novelty music, will be at 8 p.m. Friday in the high school auditorium.

The tickets are 75 cents for all seats. Tickets will be available at the door Friday night.

The two-hour program will feature the MAFR music groups of both departments, including the concert band, stage band, and studio band, the a capella choir, girls choir, and several choral ensembles.

Some numbers will be by the a capella choir and studio band together. The studio band is a newly-organized group which is something like a radio or TV studio group, playing mostly popular music. The stage band plays jazz and popular music. Some instrumental soloists will be featured in the show.

Cats and dogs with transected spinal cords have been taught to walk by researchers in the psychology department laboratories at Illinois Institute of Technology.

MR. AND MRS. PURLY WAYNE LAMPSON
(Lee Watson photograph)

Nannie Cooper, P. W. Lampson Exchange Wedding Vows

Nannie Ida Cooper became the bride of Purly Wayne Lampson, in a double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. R. Charles Spivey, minister, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Cooper, Route 2, Snyder, are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lampson, 3009 Thirty-ninth Street.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of blue linen with a matching net duster. Her accessories were in a delicate shade of pink. For something old and borrowed she wore a gold locket which belonged to the grooms paternal grandmother. For luck she placed a 1890 coin in her shoe. She carried pink and white roses atop a white Bible.

Marilyn Lampson, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. She was attired in a blue print dress with white accessories and carried white carnations.

Jeff Lemons, served as best man.

The bride's mother wore a blue dress with black accessories, and the bridegrooms mother was dressed in navy with white accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the recreation room of the church. The bride's table was laid with a crocheted cloth made by the bridegrooms maternal grandmother.

Mrs. Jerry Moomey and Miss Darla Bryant presided at the service table.

The bride is a 1956 graduate of Ira High School, attended Draughon's Business College in Abilene and is presently employed at the Snyder Steam Laundry.

The bridegroom attended Snyder High School and is employed by M & M Radio and Electric Co.

Rome, Paris Fashions To Be Shown Tomorrow Night

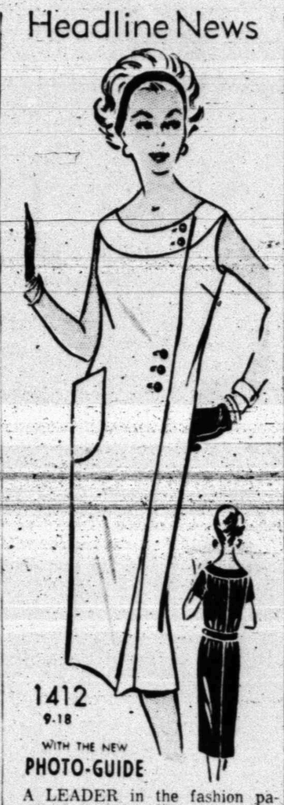

Europe's newest fashions will be previewed by probably the largest audience in history, who will see the latest, original gowns by "name" European designers on the occasion of the "Emmy" Award telecast, the night of April 15, on NBC-TV, 10:00 to 11:30 P.M., EST.

Millions of American television fans will be the first to see many new styles, including a "trapeze" original Paris Dior and a new "chemise" by Maria Antonelli of fashion silhouettes of 1958.

The Paris Dior "trapeze" gown, of apricot-tinted gros de londre, will be worn by movie starlet, Mary Beth Hughes. On the same show, Carol Byron will wear the original Antonelli of Rome, a draped "chemise of blue satin organza. Both creations will be shown and described by actress, Laraine Day.

To enhance each girl's appearance on the show, created specially designed "ultra-feminine" hair styles will complement these new fashion silhouettes.

Even efficient housekeepers sometimes forget to clean the spouts of teapots. Keep a package of pipe cleaners handy in a cabinet drawer for this important task. Rinse the teapot, insert a doubled pipe cleaner in the spout and carefully turn to remove tannin stains; you may have to do this once more but this method usually leaves the spout spotlessly clean.

A PERKY BREAKFAST WILL START the whole family out on the right foot these lazy Spring days. Tasty muffins will add much to comment to the cook, and yet are so etsy to make.

How about a Spring pick-up for a lagging breakfast? Something good, yet easy enough not to disturb that lazy Sunday feeling. And Date Jelly Surprises fit the bill!

Luscious, light, date muffins with currant jelly tucked in the center will perk up an appetite . . . and be loved because they're so easy to make.

Use the Date Muffin Mix now on the market, fill the muffin cups about a third full, then drop a teaspoon of jelly in the center. Now more muffin batter on top, and these light delicacies are ready for the oven.

Just watch your family smile when they break open a muffin and find the jelly! While the muffins are baking, pour the juice, soft cook some eggs, and set the table. You'll be ready for that family in a scant 20 minutes!

DATE JELLY SURPRISES

1 package Date Muffin Mix
½ cup water
1 egg
currant jelly

Blend egg and water in a bowl. Add mix and stir with fork just until blended. Fill greased muffin cups 1-3 full, top with 1 tsp. jelly and cover with muffin batter so cup is ½ full. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 to 20 min.

Get Baby's Playpen Early

"A PLAYPEN NOW? But Molly can't even turn over yet." Mrs. Ridgeway was surprised at my suggestion.

Even little babies like a change of scene. As soon as your baby is old enough to have long waking periods it is wise to have a special place for him to look around at the world. He is not really old enough to play yet, but he likes to watch things.

Of course he can watch many things from his crib but he likes new and different things. You can put him on a blanket on the floor — and this is all right in the very early months — if the floor is not draughty. But before you know it he can turn over and you will find him a long way from the safe spot where you put him.

If you accustom your baby to the look and feel of the restriction of the pen he will accept them as he grows a little older and will be willing and happy to go in his pen. However, if you postpone the playpen until he has learned to creep around the room the chances are pretty good he will not be pleased to be restricted.

When a baby is old enough to have real play times he is old enough to begin to have a real bedtime too. It's a good idea for the baby to associate sleep and crib: so he knows that when he is put into his crib he sleeps. If the crib is used both for playing and sleeping the baby all too often decides he is going to play instead of going to sleep when you lay him in his crib.

RE-ENACTING THE EMERGENCY ROADSIDE REPAIR JOB that recently saved him from a long, lonely walk, attorney Will Cowan watches telephone repairman Carl Norwood (his Good Samaritan) go to work under the hood.

"I never knew Good Samaritans drove telephone trucks"

A grateful motorist will always remember telephone man Carl Norwood . . . and the Spirit of Service

by Don Davis
Telephone News Reporter

It was almost dusk as attorney Will Cowan steered his auto homeward along the highway. He had spent the day in another city, 75 miles away. Not even a farmhouse was in sight, when, suddenly, the car's water hose burst. He braked to a stop. Stranded.

Thoughts of a pleasant supper with the family faded fast. He'd be lucky just to get the car towed in and repaired by 10 or 11 o'clock, he thought to himself.

But almost before Mr. Cowan had decided what to do about looking for help, a gray Southwestern Bell repair truck came down the highway. Headed home, too. But instead of "zipping past," as he expected, it eased to a stop alongside him.

Telephone man Carl Norwood, the driver, leaned out and asked if he could help. He sure could. Out of his tool kit (like all telephone trucks carry) came just what it took to repair a broken radiator hose. After that, a push into the next town for a fresh supply of water and Mr. Cowan was on his way again. Home in time for supper, too.

Impressed with the kindness, courtesy, and resourcefulness of Carl Norwood, Mr. Cowan took time to write and tell us about it. "I'd like to commend the entire Southwestern Bell company for having employees such as Mr. Norwood, who give so generously of their time and patience in an effort to help their fellow man in distress," he said.

Yes, there is a special sense of responsibility that goes with telephone work: The Spirit of Service. Frequently it shows up as a very warm and human thing—like the way Carl Norwood stopped to help Mr. Cowan. But for many thousands of other telephone men and women, it's simply the way they go about their daily jobs.

You find it in the friendly, helpful way your service representative answers when you call the telephone business office. The way Long Distance operators speed your important calls. The way installers, linemen, repairmen go about their tasks.

Next time, watch how a telephone man works. Carefully, diligently, safely. He has the tools and training to do the job correctly. But more important, we think, he works with a desire and a determination to do his job well.

J. T. Hughes, Good Citizen

The death of J. T. Hughes has removed a community leader from Snyder.

Mr. Hughes, an asutute businessman and a working civic leader, made his imprint upon Snyder and Scurry County during the relatively brief period of his residence here.

Several communities felt his influence and no doubt profited from his citizenship; because Mr. Hughes gave full recognition to civic responsibility and displayed keen concern for his fellow man wherever he lived.

Consequently many honors, all earned by distinguished service, came to him during his life time. In all communities where he lived and worked, he held posts of civic responsibility, and even when ill health forced curtailment of active participation, his counsel was widely sought on numerous community problems.

To this newspaper, Mr. Hughes was a friend as well as a dignified, ethical and respected competitior in the business world.

In his death, Snyder lost a valuable citizen.

An Untimely Suggestion

President Eisenhower's suggestion that individuals may fight the recession by buying something is enough to make any American breadwinner wince.

A full appraisal of the situation lends some authority to the "buy something" plea. There is evidence that buying power of the country's citizens remains at a high level. Savings are up, and there is indication that financial obligations are being liquidated.

This should mean that many citizens are in a financial condition that would make buying something less painful on the pocketbook than in previous years.

However, the president's suggestion was ill-timed, according to the calendar. Few people we know are in the mood to buy anything except items they are accustomed to purchase on a regular basis around income tax time.

Tuesday is the deadline for income tax returns. So, perhaps the temperment of the buying public will swing back into a better climate for such a suggestion after April 15.

'Human Satellite' Ready To Travel

PALISADES PARK, N.J. (AP) — Memo to government booking agents for the first flight to the moon.

G. Hugo Zacchine has sequin-studded cape, will travel. He is experienced, high-minded and amiable. The G in his name stands for great.

Famous for 30 years as "The Human Cannon Ball," Zacchine this season raised his sights a bit, in deference to the times, and now is introduced as "The Human Satellite." The altered billing bespeaks his new aim in life.

"As a sensational man," Zacchine says, "I would deem it an honor, duty and thrill to be the first one aloft in a rocket. Whenever the government wants me, I am at their disposal—but perhaps that is the wrong word. Disposal means to get rid of, and I insist on coming back."

While waiting the call from Cape Canaveral, Zacchine bides his time as project director of a one-man crash program here at an amusement park across the Hudson River from Manhattan. Nightly, without benefit of nose cone, countdown or destruct button, he is launched above the Jersey cliffs at a speed, he says, of 200 miles an hour. It is the closing act in the Clyde Beatty, Hamid-Morton Circus.

Zacchine is the only attraction to play in all three rings, almost at once. On a good night—warm, not too-humid and with no trapeze artists cluttering his minitrack—he can cover 350 feet before landing on his perigee in a huge cargo net.

Since the circus was noisily in progress at the time, Zacchine was interviewed in the only available quiet spot: inside the 21-foot barrel of his aluminum cannon, which originally was designed to fire two rounds.

"My brother Mario," he explained, "overshot the net and had to give up the act. Went all to pieces over it. Now I go alone. Human cannon balls are hard to find."

Most of the world's supply, in fact, happens to be in the Zacchine stockpile. Two nieces do the act for the Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus, now at Madison Square Garden. A simultaneous miscalculation in trajectory might set off a family reunion somewhere in the vicinity of Grant's Tomb. Elsewhere, six Zacchine brothers and two sisters hold steady jobs by getting fired every night.

"My father," says Hugo the Great, "dreamed up the act while painting posters for a circus in Peru. He had been a portrait artist, but the camera put him out of business. My older brother was fired off first, with real gunpowder broke a leg and got discouraged. I was next in line.

"After many fizzles, not unlike Vanguard, Father got me off the ground with a combination of compressed air and a huge spring, just as we use now. George Hamid the circus impressario, took one of the first commercial flights in 1928 to catch the act in Paris and signed me for an American tour. Now I am a citizen and anxious to help out wherever I can."

Khrushchev Tries Out A New Recipe

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph Stalin looked like a bomb-thrower. Nikita Khrushchev looks like a short-order cook. But that's only one of the differences that make him dangerous to this country.

The three early Communists saints — Lenin, Stalin, Trotsky — had faces tense enough to scare babies. They had fanatic eyes. Khrushchev kisses babies. And you can hardly see the eyes in his fat, round face.

Stalin outlived Lenin and Trotsky but not their fanaticism. He became a symbol of what communism meant to millions: death and cruelty, and a willingness to sacrifice living generations for future generations.

There was something else he didn't outlive either: his own brand of isolationism. This was in part self-imposed and in part forced upon the Soviet Union by the big powers which hemmed her in.

Stalin's combination of isolationism and fanaticism — plus his own inflexibility — had two results:

1. He turned inward and concentrated on building the Soviet Union. In this he was amazingly successful, although at terrible cost in lives. He laid the foundations for the Soviet Union's present enormous power: in science, industry, education and armament, including nuclear weapons.

2. There was nothing persuasive about Stalin. He relied on the only means he knew: naked force. As a result, Soviet Communist expansion was limited.

True, he seized the European satellites in World War II. He had to hold them by force. But when he tried force after the war — in the Berlin blockade, pressure on Greece, Turkey, Iran and war in Korea — he failed.

Instead of attracting his neighbors to Soviet communism, he drove them out of fear to seek the help and protection of the West. A drastic change was needed if communism was to expand.

It's no wonder Khrushchev made the change after Stalin died. Basically there was no change, as Khrushchev demonstrated last week when he warned the satellites the Soviets would crush any anti-Communist revolution.

That should seem sufficient warning to all Soviet neighbors of what to expect if they go Communist. It probably won't. Khrushchev mixes his fast balls with slow curves.

He practices what Stalin refused to learn: if you can't move by force, try persuasion. He's doing it at home and abroad by adopting a policy of reasonableness, neighborliness and togetherness.

Radio Hams Help Obtain Medicine

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two Miami radio "hams" helped a North African amateur get emergency medicine at Miami for his daughter in Oran over the weekend.

Bob Aaronson said a Belgian ham relayed to him a message from Edouard Rya in Oran, asking that polymyxine be sent from the United States to help his child.

Aaronson enlisted the help of Dr. Eduardo Pena of Miami. Pena got the antibiotic, which he said is used in emergency treatment of blood poisoning, and went it by National Airlines plane to New York for relay to Oran by Air France.

Police Sergeant Has A Tough Day

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) A woman driver had smashed into the police car Sgt. Guy Wilson was driving. Newspaper reporter Kathryn Miller was sympathizing with him.

"When bad luck's on you, there's nothing to do but grin and bear it," said the sergeant, finishing his story.

"Yep, grin and bear it," Mrs. Miller said.

With that, she left City Hall, climbed into her automobile and backed into Sgt. Wilson's personal car.

Plants Subject To Vascular Disease

By LEIF ERICKSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Just as blood clots cause heart attacks in humans, a vascular disease plugs the circulatory systems and causes strokes in tomatoes, cotton and other crop plants, a University of Wisconsin researcher reported today.

Dr. Mark A. Stahmann, biochemistry professor, told the American Chemical Society the same disease mechanism is believed to occur in oak wilt, killer of many trees in the Midwest; Dutch elm disease; and Panama disease of bananas, costly to the banana industry.

The discoveries on the nature of fusarium wilts by Dr. Stahmann and Prof. J. C. Walker, a Wisconsin colleague, are expected to lead to control of the siseases, a serious threat also to such vegetable crops as cabbages and peas.

Dr. Stahmann described the course of the disease causing stroke-like attacks in plants this way:

Fusarium fungi, which lurk in the soil, invade a plant's vascular system.

Once in the plant's circulatory vessels, the fungi produce an enzyme, an accelerator of biochemical processes, that attacks some of the pectin in the vessel walls.

Pectin fragments then break off into the vascular stream. They form gelatin-like masses that plug the circulatory vessels, just as a clot blocks human blood vessels.

Dr. Stahmann said the work seems to be the first to demonstrate clearly that the fungi cause pectin gels blocking the transport of water and nutrients to the whole plant.

The Wisconsin researchers followed through with investigation of disease resistance.

Dr. Stahmann said the studies indicated control of the banana disease would be accomplished best by selection and breeding of resistant varities.

"This already has been successful in the case of tomatoes with the closely related fusarium wilt."

Regional Track-Field Meet Features Sports Slate

Four baseball games and three track meets are on tap for the local athletes this week.

The feature event will be the regional track meet set Friday and Saturday at Lubbock. Nine Tiger athletes qualified for the regional meet at the District 3-AAA meet here Thursday.

The other two track meets slated for local athletes this week involve the junior high and Tiger freshmen.

First of the two meets will be the completion of the Snyder Junior Invitational meet here tomorrow. This meet was interrupted by rain Saturday after preliminaries had been run.

The meet will take up tomorrow afternoon where it left off Saturday, starting at 3:30. Fifteen school are entered in the meet.

Making up the field are four junior high schools from Midland (Alamo, Bowie, San Jacinto and Cowden), three from Abilene (North, South and Lincoln), two from San Angelo (Lee and Edison) and Sweetwater, Lamesa, Colorado City, Silver, Big Spring and Snyder.

Second of the meets on tap for the locals this week is the Abilene Junior Invitational Saturday.

The Tiger baseballers open a four-game week's schedule tomorrow at Midland.

Then the Bengals will meet Rotan here Friday and finish out the week with a doubleheader at Abilene Saturday. One game of the Abilene doubleheader is a make-up game.

The Tigers who have qualified for the regional meet are Rex Wilson, Bud Morgan, John Ward, Lynn Atkinson, Israel Hinojos, Mickey McGrew, Bill Rinehart, Dickie Martin and Ronnie Giles.

Preliminaries in the regional meet will start Friday at 1 p.m. with the finals slated Saturday at 1 p.m.

Winners and runnerups at the regional meet will qualify for the state meet.

Following are the Snyder boys who qualified for the finals in the preliminaries that were completed Saturday:

50-YARD DASH

7th grade — Stuart Long, Keyes.
8th grade — David Gan, Spencer Dyer.
9th grade — Larry Patterson, Jesse Crawford.

75-YARD DASH

BUCKIN' THE LINE

BARRY ADDISON OF the Lamesa golf team is a "mudder" on the fairways.

Addison opened with an 85 on a dry course in the District 3-AAA tournament here Friday.

Then the following day, Addison fired a 75 on a rain-swept course. On the first nine Saturday, Addison had a 43 during a slight drizzle.

But when the drizzle turned into rain on the back nine, Addison caught "fire." The Tornado golfer carded a sizzling 32 on the back nine despite the rain.

And it's well that he did have a "hot" back nine because it meant the difference of his team winning and finishing second in the tournament.

Lamesa edged out Sweetwater by four strokes for the title. Anything over a 36 by Addison on that final nine would have handed the title to Sweetwater.

The Tigers finished well off the pace in the 3-AAA golf tourney but the Bengals came closer than one might think.

Coach Hal Battle's lads were just three strokes behind the leader after the first 18 Friday. But the rains came and the Tiger scores soared Saturday.

Had the Tigers equalled their first round in Saturday's play they would have won the title. The Bengals had 328 for the first 18. Double this figure and you have 356.

Lamesa won the title with 357.

Trouble Ahead

The Tiger baseballers may run into a "hornets nest" when they trek to Midland tomorrow.

Midland is setting the District 4-AAAA race afire at the moment with victories over Abilene and Odessa last week, the top favorites in that loop.

In beating Odessa, the Bulldogs handed the Broncs their first defeat of the season after 17 straight victories. And Midland made no bones about it, either, in beating the Eagles and Broncs.

Midland clipped Abilene 8-4 Tuesday and then blanked Odessa on just two hits, 3-0, Saturday.

The Tigers could certainly regain some "lost" prestige by topping the Bulldogs tomorrow.

Pick Cards, Yanks

Little Guys Now Getting Fat Purses

By MURRAY ROSE
The Associated Press

The little guys in boxing aren't fighting for peanuts any more. Not the champions, anyway.

Argentina's world flyweight king, undefeated Pascual Perez, will cash in to the tune of a $40,000 guarantee Saturday night in Caracas when he faces Venezuela's latest boxing idol, Ramon Arias, in a 15-round title fight.

This follows on the fat purses collected in their last outings by Halimi of France and featherweight ruler Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria.

Halimi received $50,000, as did loser Raul (Raton) Macias of Mexico, for their title scrap at Los Angeles Nov. 6. That fight grossed $209,884.

Bassey picked up $70,000 for knocking out Mexico's Ricardo (Little Bird) Moreno at Los Angeles in the third round April 1. The plucked Little Bird earned $38,000 for the loss of his feathers. They drew $215,047.

Perez, 32, undefeated in 45 fights since he turned pro in 1952, is a big favorite to keep his title.

Arias, 22 and a pro two years, has a 13-1 record with only two knockouts.

Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson and ex-champ Rocky Graziano will face each other again —as seconds— tonight at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

Sugar Ray will be in the corner of sparmate Otis Woodard of New York, who faces hard-hitting middleweight Eddie Andrews, Lowell, Mass., in the 10-round television feature. Graziano will whisper words of advice to Andrews (27-7-2), who is a 3-1 favorite over the oft-beaten Woodard (9-14-4).

Du Mont will telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

Bobby Boyd, Chicago, and Neal Rivers, Las Vegas, two strong-punching middleweights, collide in the Wednesday night TV feature at Chicago Stadium.

Alex Miteff, 23-year-old Argentine heavyweight contender, is favored to beat Germany's Willi Besmanoff again in their return 10-rounder at Washington's New Capitol Arena Friday night. It's a TV fight.

Kingston was paralyzed from the waist down in the accident.

Kingston tossed the discus 154 feet three inches in the Canyon Reef affair. This would have won most meets but not when Odessa's Walter Myers is entered. Myers, who is unbeaten in the discus this season, won here with a 163 feet toss.

Kingston had qualified for the regional track meet at Lubbock this weekend.

Texas Leading By Full Game

By The Associated Press

The Southwest Conference baseball race rolls past the halfway mark this week with Texas leading by a full game but having shown that its not invincible.

The Longhorns took an 11-3 trimming from Southern Methodist last week. Now Texas is a game to the good over SMU, 2 over Texas A&M and 2½ over Rice.

Texas meets the Rice menace at Austin Tuesday while Southern Methodist draws downtrodden Texas Christian at Dallas. A&M tries to keep its hopes alive in a game with Baylor at Waco.

Saturday Southern Methodist engages Texas A&M at College Station, Texas plays TCU at Fort Worth and Rice and Baylor tangle at Houston.

Rice jarred A&M with a 7-1 upset last week and Texas made it more dismal for the Aggies with a 12-1 trouncing. Southern Methodist stayed on Texas' heels with a 7-6 victory over Baylor.

UT Freshman 2nd In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—University Texas freshmen finished a strong second behind Puerto Rico in the Mexican National Invitation Track and Field Meet yesterday.

Texans posted two of nine meet records set in the second day of the international competition.

Puerto Rico took the team title with 102 points and the Texas frosh wound up with 89. The University of Mexico tallied 62 for third place.

New records hung up by the Texas frosh were Ralph Alspaugh's 10.5 seconds in the 100-meter dash, trimming one-tenth second off the old mark, and Jim Allison's discus toss of 43.65 meters, erasing a 42.99 standard.

A third Texas victory yesterday was in the 400-meter relay, in which Bill Conner, Dick Walden, Jack Slides and Alspaugh were clocked at 41.8 seconds.

Arkansas and Southern Methodist lead the Southwest Conference golf and tennis races.

Arkansas jumped into first place in the fight for the team title in golf last week by beating Rice 6-0 and playing a 3-3 tie with Texas A&M.

Texas Christian, which had topped in the race, was tied 3-3 by Southern Methodist and dropped to second.

In tennis, Southern Methodist swept its only match—against Texas Christian—6-0 and became the only undefeated team in the league.

Tiger Cage Schedule For 1958-59 Set

Tiger basketball coach J. P. Ward released his 1958-59 basketball schedule today.

The Tigers will open at Stamford, Dec. 2, and close Feb. 17 against Lake View here.

Ward has 16 games plus two tournaments lined up for the Tigers. The Tigers will play in their own Canyon Reef Tournament, Dec. 12-13, and in the Vernon Tournament, Dec. 19-20.

Seven teams have been lined up for the Canyon Reef tournament with one more to be added. Already in the Canyon Reef fold are Brownwood, Tom S. of Lubbock, Kermit, San Angelo, Vernon, Borger and the Tigers.

The eighth team is expected to come from Brownfield, Lake View or Lamesa.

The Tigers will open defense of their District 3-AAA title Jan. 16 at Colorado City.

Following is the 1958-59 Tiger basketball schedule:

Dec. 2 — At Stamford.
Dec. 5 — At Brownfield.
Dec. 6 — At Seminole.
Dec. 9 — San Angelo, here.
Dec. 12-13 — Canyon Reef Tournament.
Dec. 16 — Brownfield, here.
Dec. 19-20 — Vernon Tournament.
Jan. 2 — Borger, here.
Jan. 6 — At San Angelo.
Jan. 9 — At Midland.
Jan. 13 — Open.
Jan. 16 — At Colorado City.
Jan. 20 — Sweetwater, here.
Jan. 23 — Lamesa, here.
Jan. 27 — Open.
Jan. 30 — At Lake View.
Feb. 3 — Colorado City, here.
Feb. 6 — At Sweetwater.
Feb. 10 — At Lamesa.
Feb. 13 — Open.
Feb. 17 — Lake View, here.

Rookie Wins At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Professional golf's youth movement caught up with 45-year-old Sam Snead in the final round of the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament.

Snead had set his sights on his seventh Greensboro victory (he won the 1938 inaugural) and seemed in great position to achieve his goal after moving into a two-stroke lead after Saturday's third round.

But when the payoff time came shortly before dusk unheralded Bob Goalby accepted the $2,000 winner's check. Snead was surrounded in a runnerup tie by four others whose total pro experience is some four years less than the 24 Sam has put in.

The 27-year-old Goalby, whose home is in Belleville, Ill., plays out of Darien, Conn.

He has been a professional only 14 months and has played the tournament circuit steadily since last December. He achieved his first victory by making birdies on the last two holes. That gave him a 66, five under par for the 6,631-yard Starmount Forest Country Club course. His 72-hole total of 275 was best by two strokes.

Snead, who had been fighting bad iron shots since the Masters tournament a week earlier, blamed three such mistakes on the last nine holes for costing him the tournament.

His 277 was worth $1,080, the same amount won by Don January of Eastland, Tex.; Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla.; Tony Lema of Napa, Calif., and Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa.

Dodgers One Million In 'Red' Before Season Even Starts

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

MIAMI (AP) — If Walter Francis O'Malley doesn't make a million dollars this year he'll be in trouble.

The man who moved the Brooklyn Dodger baseball franchise to Los Angeles is stuck for more than a million even before he plays a game in the Coliseum.

Here is the first official rundown on expenses confronting the Dodgers in their franchise shift:

1. The Los Angeles Coliseum has been guaranteed $300,000 in rent for 1958. Originally, O'Malley sought to build his own stadium in city-owned Chavez Ravine. The taxpayers must vote on the sale in a referendum in June. There is expectd to be opposition from some politicians and businessmen, especially after the Dodgers draw a few capacity crowds of 94,600 — the opening day goal set by O'Malley.

2. Six National League teams (excluding the San Francisco Giants) will be guaranteed $25,000 each traveling. O'Malley plans to seek an adjustment soon after advance ticket sales are completed.

3. Lights and Coliseum alterations will run close to $300,000 for the two years the Dodgers plan to use the big stadium.

4. The Pacific Coast League will be paid $450,000 over a three-year period for damages caused by the shifting of the franchise.

5. For nine straight games O'Malley must surrender 10 per cent of food concession money which figures to amount to $100,000.

6. Although the Dodgers sold Ebbets Field late in 1956 they have a 1958 tax obligation of $65,000.

7. Twenty Dodger officials will be reimbursed about $1,500 each for moving to Los Angeles.

8. The Dodgers bought Wrigley Field in Los Angeles from the Chicago Cubs and the tax for 1958 is $27,500.

9. The Dodger option for 1958 on Ebbets Field costs $25,000.

10. The Pioneer League is to be reimbursed $15,000, the result of the shift to Salt Lake City, of the 1957 Pacific Coast League Los Angles team.

11. Rent for 1958 at Jersey City's Roosevelt Field is $10,000.

"We could draw almost 2½ million people in Los Angeles this year," says Dodger Vice President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi. This would mean about five million dollars in gate receipts.

O'MALLEY'S HURDLE

1. Rent for Coliseum	$ 300,000
2. Transportation Guarantees	150,000
3. Alterations on Coliseum	150,000
4. Pacific Coast League Damages	150,000
5. Losses on Concessions	100,000
6. Taxes on Ebbets Field	65,000
7. Executive Reimbursements	30,000
8. Taxes on Wrigley Field	27,500
9. Option on Ebbets Field	25,000
10. Pioneer League Damages	15,000
11. Rent for Roosevelt Stadium	10,000

Sens-Bosox Put Show On Road Today; Others Open Tuesday

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

With today's traditional Washington opener out of the way, major league baseball opens the 1958 season for real tomorrow.

The San Francisco Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers, late of New York and Brooklyn, renew their long rivalry on rookie grounds in San Francisco as heroes of the National League's new West Coast outposts.

For the first time since 1950, neither the Giants nor the Dodgers will hoist a new National League pennant.

That honor belongs to Milwaukee, where the Braves will run up the NL bunting along with the world championship banner before taking on the Pittsburgh Pirates in County Stadium.

The full schedule, with expected attendance and 1957 pitching records, looks like this:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Pittsburg at Milwaukee (43,000) — Bob Friend (14-18) vs. Warren Spahn (21-11).
PHILADELPHIA AT Cincinnati (30,000) — Robin Roberts (10-22) vs. Brooks Lawrence (16-13).
Los Angeles at San Francisco (22,000) Don Drysdale (17-9) vs. Ruben Gomez (15-13).
Chicago at St. Louis (Night) (19,000) — Jim Brosnan (5-5) vs. Wilmer Mizell (8-10).

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York at Boston (25,000)—Don Larsen (10-4) vs. Willard Nixon (12-13).
Washington at Baltimore (27,000)—Chuck Stobbs (8-20) vs. Connie Johnson (14-11).
Detroit at Chicago (25,000) — Jim Bunning (20-8) vs. Billy Pierce (20-12).
Kansas City at Cleveland (35,000)—Ned Garver (6-13) vs. Herb Score (2-1).

National League President Warren Giles will attend the Dodgers-Giants game.

In Cleveland, Score starts the trip back from that terrible eye injury of last season—a dreadful accident that almost ended what may be the most promising career in baseball.

Score, the 24-year-old, fire-balling southpaw; new manager Bobby Bragan, the guy who joked his way out of the National League, and new general manager Frank Lane, the man who made contenders of the Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Cardinals, spearhead the Injuns' comeback bid in the AL. They finished sixth last year.

Spahn, the NL's only 20-game winner last season, will be going for his 225th victory, tops among active NL pitchers.

The New York Yankees are after their ninth American League pennant in the last 10 years.

Ike To Launch 6th Baseball Season

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, an old ballplayer himself, goes out to Griffith Stadium today to make the pitch that launches another baseball season.

Following a custom established in the heyday of Mathewson and Cobb, he will toss out the first ball as the Washington Senators meet the Boston Red Sox.

Close to 28,000 fans are expected for the 1958 debut of major league baseball. The game is the only one scheduled today. Other clubs start tomorrow.

Eisenhower, who played semi-pro ball one summer as a youth, will be making his sixth pitch as a president.

After he performs, Washington's Pedro Ramos and Boston's Frank Sullivan will get down to the real business of pitching. Like Eisenhower, both are right handers.

Managers Cookie Lavagetto of Washington and Mike Higgins of Boston chose their hurlers for obvious reasons. Ramos, with an 11-5 career against Boston, has been more effective opposing the Red Sox than against any other club. Sullivan, a 6-foot-7 giant, is 10-4 against Washington in five seasons.

Ramos, 22-year-old Cuban, had a 12-16 record throughout last year, when the Senators wound up in last place. Sullivan was 14-11 for third-place Boston.

Higgins pondered one big question—whether to start league batting champion Ted Williams. An ankle injury has slowed Williams down in spring training, but in five recent pinch-hitting appearances he has socked two homers and a single, driven in four runs and walked twice.

If Williams stays out, Gene Stephens will open in left.

Braves Will Repeat—Haney

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Fred Haney said today he thinks his world champion Milwaukee Braves will capture the National League pennant again this season.

"But anybody who says we'll win in a runaway is crazy," he added.

Most of his players agreed although big Ed Adcock declared emphatically, "We'll win by 12 games—at least."

Haney would gladly settle for the Braves' eight-game margin of last year.

"We're stronger," he said, "but so is the rest of the league. I think the race will be just as tough as last year. Nobody is likely to pull away from the field until September, if then."

"We've got to bear down from the start," he continued. "I think the players know that. I haven't found the need for cautioning them against overconfidence. They know they have to work just as hard as last year."

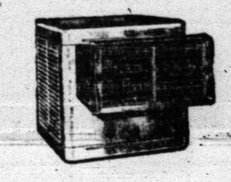

Catcher Del Crandall said, "I know it sounds corny, but the club to beat is the club you play today. I don't care how many games we win by, one game or half a game. It doesn't matter as long as we win."

The NL's Most Valuable Player, Hank Aaron, figures the Braves can win by eight or nine games.

"I think eight is a close race," he said with a grin. "Twenty would be a runaway."

QUONSET-STYLE buildings are among the metal structures built by Burchett Iron Works, Lubbock highway. This small one is used for a sheep feeding project of Aubrey Headstream. Other type metal buildings are also built by the firm.

SUPPORT ANGLES which will later be welded on trusses used in steel buildings are cut in the Burchett Iron Works shop, Lubbock highway, by a welder's helper, Clarence Reagan. The firm does all kinds of custom metal work.

Firm Specializes In Farm Buildings

Metal buildings which are especially suited for fam uses and other uses are the specialty of Burchett's Iron Works, which is just completing a move to a new location on the Lubbock highway.

The firm has moved to the large metal building formerly occupied by Waukesha, Inc., next door to Canyon Trucking Co. At the same time, the company is consolidating its Lubbock and Snyder shops in one main office.

Gilbert Burchett, owner of the firm, is moving here from Lubbock. He and Merle Burchett, partner who has been operating the Snyder shop, will be co-manager here. Henry Burchett is secretary of the company.

Burchett's Iron Works does any type metal work, but among its specialities are:

Quonset-style buildings, 21 feet wide and 20 feet or more long in multiples of four feet. An average quonset-style, 21 by 40 feet, installed on the farm or other location, complete with foundation and reinforced concrete floor and all-metal building, costs $1,680. This building is ideal for grain storage and will hold 360,000 pound of grain.

Pole-type buildings, 20 feet wide and 40 or more feet long in multiples of 10 feet, installed complete with foundation and reinforced concrete floor and all-metal building. The 20 by 40 building would have a basic cost of about $1,600. Doors, ventilators, etc., make a difference in the cost.

Utility buildings, quonset-style, 10 feet wide by 12 feet long or longer in multiples of four feet, installed complete for $135. This building is best suited as a well house or hog house but can be used for a number of things. Burchett's also sells and installs the building.

One thing which has made Burchett buildings popular is that they are engineering-approved. The firm uses the services of J. B. Maschek of Abilene, architect and structural engineer, at no extra cost to the customer.

The firm fabricates its buildings at the shop, then loads them and takes them to the location to install them on the foundation.

Burchett's Iron Works does not limit itself to the three types of metal buildings. It does much work in fabricating steel joists for commercial buildings and erecting them, putting up steel roof deck. The firm does this work on any size buildings. It sub-contracts to do steel and other metal work for general contractors.

Custom ornamental iron work is also done at Burchett's and one of its specialties is a metal carport. The average carport is 10 by 20 feet and costs $165 installed. Any type custom metal work is done by the firm, and it invites residents of this area to inquire about the type building or metal work they need.

The firm's quonset-style building is best adapted for grain storage because it can be filled to the top with grain. Other uses, however, include implement sheds, milking parlers, farm shop, and others. It is designed to take winds of more than 100 miles per hour. The building is 14 feet high.

The pole-type building has much the same uses but is best suited as a feeding barn or hay for hay storage. It will stand winds of 70 miles per hour. This building can be eight to 12 feet high.

The utility building can be used as a well house, portable brooder house, or for small storage. Or it could be made into a hothouse with a cover of vinyl plastic. It is eight feet high.

Burchett's now has five persons working in tis fabricating business and it may add two more now that it has consolidated its Lubbock and Snyder operations here.

The firm has invited those who would like any information on metal buildings or other metal work, including prices and types, to go by the office on the Lubbock highway, call the office at 3-6832, or send in to the firm:

Address
Type building

Members of the firm will be glad to figure with anyone on the types of buildings in which they are interested.

Snyder Drugs Set For Gift Season

Graduation is just ahead for schools and colleges, and it is one of the big gift giving times of each year.

For almost everyone, that presents a problem, because everyone at least knows a few — and most persons know many — graduates from either high school or college.

In Snyder that problem is greatly simplified by the two Snyder Drugs stores, the Snyder Drugs No. 1 on the west side of the square and Snyder Drugs No. 2 at Thirty-seventh Street on the Big Spring highway.

R. E. Patterson, owner, said that both stores specilize in a wide selection of gifts which are highly appropriate for graduates.

"We choose the gifts with the thought that each gift purchaser looks for something 'different', yet something that is not too expensive," he said.

The gift items at the Snyder Drugs stores cover a wide range of merchandise appropriate for any graduate.

Patterson points out that now is the time to be thinking of and purchasing your graduation gifts while the selection is complete and while there is no rush of last-minute shoppers all looking for the same thing.

"We have gifts appropriate for both young men and young women graduates who are completing high school or college — and many gifts appropriate for giving to brides and newly married couples, he said.

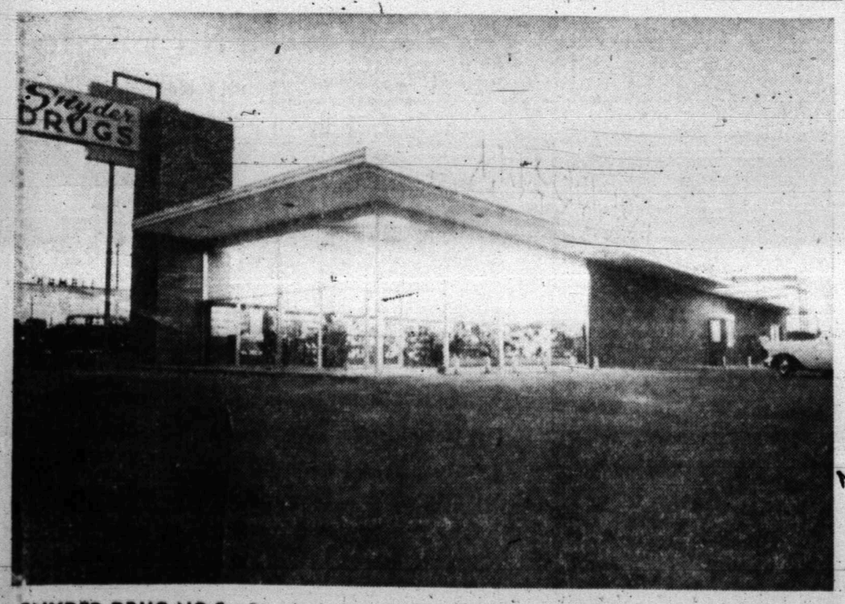

One feature of both stores is the drawing for cash awards that hundreds of customers participate in each day.

You do not have to be present to win — all you have to do is sign a registration card once and then sign the guest register the day your name is drawn.

The drawing jack pot is increased $5 each day at each store until there is a winner.

For any drug item or prescription service call at either store, or have your doctor call in the prescription and your medicine will will be ready when you call for it.

Emergency prescription service is offered at all times of the day and night.

Holdup Men Get $11,000

DALLAS (AP)—Holdup men fleeing in a car driven by a blond woman made off with $11,000 or more from a supermarket at suburban Seagoville, police reported.

The robbery was staged at Branson's market soon after it opened yesterday. Witnesses told officers the fleeing men were spotted transferring to another car about one and one-half miles distant a few minutes later.

Police reports indicated the haul may have amounted to as much as $16,000. Store manager Ralph Horne, 51, said a check indicated it probably was no more than $11,000, however, and included a number of checks.

New Jersey has had three state constitutions, adopted in 1776, 1844 and 1947.

Duke Wants Britain To Enter Space Race

LONDON (AP)—The Duke of Edinburgh said today he thinks Britain ought to get into the space race with the United States and Soviet Union.

"I personally cannot believe that the British people or the people of the Commonwealth will be content to sit by and watch others explore the universe around us," Queen Elizabeth's husband said in opening a discussion on guided missiles and space travel.

The discussion was organized by the Air League of the British Empire, of which he is patron. An audience of 2,500, most of them young people, attended.

Margaret Whiting Weds Third Time

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Margaret Whiting and movie equipment manufacturer John Richard Moore were married yesterday in a two-minute ceremony in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Martin Covel.

It was the first marriage for the 32-year-old Moore, the third for Miss Whiting, 33. She was married previously to CBS Vice President Hubbell Robinson and pianist Lou Busch. She has a 7-year-old daughter, Deborah Louise, by Busch.

Junior Editors Quiz on PEARLS

QUESTION: Are pearls found at Pearl Harbor?

ANSWER: Pearl Harbor, which the Japanese attacked in 1941, is an American naval base in the Hawaiian Islands, about ten miles west of Honolulu. In the center of the harbor is Ford Island. It may be that the location of the island — like a pearl in a shell of an oyster — gave the harbor its name. But it is not a source of pearls.

The main pearl fisheries of the world are off the coast of Ceylon, India, in the Persian Gulf and among the Polynesian Islands of the Pacific. Pearls also are found in great numbers in the Sulu Archipelago, along the northern and western coasts of Australia and off the coast of Lower California.

FOR YOU TO DO: The diver in our picture is gathering oysters, in which pearls are found. If you can find an oyster shell, examine the pearly lining, and find in a dictionary or encyclopedia how pearls are formed.

• • •

(For today's question, $10 has been mailed to Glenn Branch of Burkburnett, Texas. Mail your question on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper. Tomorrow: Do animals have a sense of humor?)

Iran Princess To America

GENOA, Italy (AP) — Princess Soraya left for the United States aboard the liner Constitution today, just one month after the Shah of Iran divorced her for failing to bear an heir to the throne.

In contrast to the clamoring crowd that nearly mobbed the attractive princess when she arrived by train from Geneva yesterday, only a handful braved a drizzling rain to see her off.

Soraya wore the same red coat and brown hat she had on when she arrived. She was accompanied by her German-born mother, Mrs. Eva Esfandiary; and her younger brother Bijan, who may enroll at the University of Colorado.

Soraya, 25, plans to remain in the United States six weeks.

Texas Pianist Wins Over Communists

MOSCOW (AP) — Van Cliburn, a 6-foot-4 Texan whose piano playing excited the Soviets even more than their own products, today was named the winner of a grueling international music contest that drew contestants from all over the Communist world.

The 23-year-old pianist from Kilgore, Tex., was one of two Americans who reached the finals of the Tchaikovsky international piano competition. Daniel Pollack of Los Angeles was rated last among nine finalists.

Even before Cliburn played in the finals Friday night, music-loving Muscovites had heard of his keyboard skill. They jammed the hall for his appearance and called him back for an encore despite contest rules against it.

Cliburn, who won 25,000 rubles (officially $6,250) as first prize and a short concert tour in the Soviet Union, said he was exhausted but happy when the news was leaked to him and the other winners late last night.

They learned about their prizes when the Soviet government asked them to remain at the conservatory to appear for documentary film shots of the contest.

Soviet pianist Emil Gilels, chairman of the judges' panel, formally announced the results this morning and kissed the lanky, curly headed blond Texas winner on both checks. Other contestants and fans jamming the small hall in the Moscow Conservatory applauded wildly and chanted Cliburn's name, and he blew a kiss back in thanks.

Gilels said his jury had had an extremely difficult task, because of the caliber of the contestants. He congratulated the schools of the countries from which the finalists came.

In Kilgore, Cliburn's mother, a onetime concert pianist who taught her son until he went to New York to study in 1951, said she and her husband Harvey, an oil company executive, were thrilled.

Cliburn began playing the piano at the age of 3. He won his first contest in Texas at 12 — playing the Tchaikovsky Concerto No. 1 that was one of the pieces in the Moscow competition.

He also played the Tchaikovsky concerto at his debut with the New York Philharmonic, where he will return this fall for four concerts. He was originally booked for only one, but the engagement was extended after he did so brilliantly in Moscow.

Soviet pianist Emil Gilels headed the jury for the piano contest. Communist China's Liu Shi Kin and the Soviet Union's Lev Vlasienko tied for second place. The other finalists included one each from Bulgaria, France, Japan and two more from the Soviet Union. They were weeded out of 50 entries.

Two other Americans entered but did not make the finals. They were Jerome Lowenthal and Norman Shelter, both of Philadelphia.

Cliburn's New York teacher was Rosina Lhevinne, who studied at the Moscow Conservatory in pre-revolution days.

Cliburn had scheduled a tour of European concert halls in February and March but cancelled it to prepare for the contest. Cliburn was drafted into the U.S. Army in 1957 but released after two days because of what doctors described as a blood condition.

Pollack, who came to Moscow with his wife for the competition, finished his final round last night. He said he and Cliburn both lost about 10 pounds during the contest, which opened early in April, and declared that he wanted "to sleep for 20 years."

The piano competition followed one for violinists. Joyce Flissler of New York, the only American entered, placed seventh.

ANOTHER TELEVISION FIRST—Bright-eyed fan dancer Rhoda Rodgers, 27, who left little to the imagination of a British television audience, hides her shapely structure behind a pair of fans which were almost the only thing between her and TV cameras during performance. Fans removed, Rhoda's only covering was a g-string around her middle and a pair of rosebuds on her chest. The TV network said no complains were received. "But they would have had them had I gone on in anything but my g-string and rosebuds," beamed Rhoda. (AP Wirephoto)

LONE STAR PERFORMER DEEP IN THE HEARTS OF MUSCOVITES — Lanky, 23-year-old Van Cliburn of Kilgore, Tex., moves through difficult passage at piano during final round of Tchaikovsky international piano and violin competition in Moscow. The young pianist brought 1,500 Moscow fans to their feet cheering with a dazzling display of technical skill. He received a 10-minute ovation for his rendition of Tchaikovsky's First Piano Concerto.

Family Thrilled At Victory News

KILGORE (AP) — A Kilgore youth who started thumping the piano when he was 3 telephoned his mother from Moscow last night that he had won first place in an international music contest.

"We're thrilled to death," said Mrs. Harvey Cliburn, mother of Van Cliburn, 23.

"Have you heard the news?" Cliburn asked his mother. "It's official."

Mrs. Cliburn, wife of an oil company executive, said: "He sounded very calm and so pleased and overjoyed. He was as happy as could be."

She started giving her son piano lessons at 3. "I recognized he had an unusual talent then," she said.

Cliburn studied later in New York's Juillard School of Music.

A U.S. radio-television network (CBS) arranged the call by Cliburn. Later last night it broadcast a tape recording of the conversation, and also telecast a film of his performance in the Moscow contest finals Friday.

Mrs. Cliburn said she was not expecting the trans-Atlantic telephone call. Her son is on his first trip outside the United States.

What will he do with the prize money?

"I don't know," his mother said.

He told her he plans to give a concert in Moscow Friday and then make a concert tour of several Russian cities.

"He said they have been wonderful to him over there," she said.

Cliburn won the G. B. Dealey Memorial Award in Dallas in 1952 and has appeared in two Dallas concerts.

Carlos Mosely, press director for the New York Philharmonic, said yesterday the young pianist's engagement with the Philharmonic next season had been extended from one performance to four under conductor Leonard Bernstein.

Cliburn also was awarded a grant in 1953 from the Olga Samaroy-Stokowski Foundation. In 1954 he won the Edgar Leventritt Award, which gave him opportunities to appear with the New York Philharmonic and symphonies in Cleveland, Denver and Pittsburgh.

The tall, blond youth won a standing ovation from the Russian audience Friday in the contest finals. One judge called him "another Rachmaninoff."

He played with a bandaged finger, the result of strenuous rehearsals. Cliburn was further distracted when one of the strings broke on the piano during his performance.

Traffic Accidents Kill 17 In State

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents killed 17 persons in Texas and six other deaths swelled the toll from violence to 23 during the weekend.

There also were two shootings and one death each from fire, electrocution, stabbing and strangling.

Drivers of two automobiles died in a headon collision 10 miles north of Ennis Sunday night. They were Miss Nellyne Wicker, 52, Ennis school teacher, and Joe Derrough, 27, Ennis Negro.

Ronald Jones, 87, was killed Sunday in a car which struck a bridge railing 20 miles south of Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Twist, Greeley, Colo., were killed Sunday when their car hit a bridge near Houston.

Robert Lyons, 19, a construction worker, was found stabbed to death in Houston Sunday.

Ollie Kilgore, 71, Waco grocery clerk who was shot during an attempted holdup Saturday morning, died Sunday night. Police sought his assailants.

Donald Smith, 19, was killed late Saturday in a two-car crash at Houston.

Richard Beach, infant son of Lt. and Mrs. Lewis Beach, died at their Killeen home Sunday. Police said he strangled after his head stuck between the slats of his crib.

Esiquel Torres, 75, Weslaco, was killed Saturday night on a farm road near Weslaco. Police said he was walking and one car hurled him in front of another.

Frank Moczygemba, 26, Hobson, died in a one-car accident 3 miles north of Karnes City early Sunday.

Lawrence John, 13, was electrocuted Saturday when he brushed against a metal light pole beside a swimming pool in San Antonio. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon John, San Antonio.

Kenneth Cunningham, 32, San Diego, Calif., was killed Saturday when a car overturned near Dickens.

Alberto Torres, 22, was killed Saturday in a two-truck collision 7 miles east of San Angelo.

Alice Beverly, 35, burned to death Saturday when fire destroyed her Bay City home.

Mrs. Edna Smith, Cleveland, and Nathan Simon, Cleveland Negro, were killed Saturday in an auto collision south of Pasadena. Four other persons were injured.

Robert Utterback, Nebraska City, Neb., was shot to death in a Galveston tourist court. A rifle was found beside the body.

Gus Hutchins, 58, Rice, Tex., and Charles Meissner, 19, Brookshire, were killed Friday night in a two-car collision north of Navasota. Four others were injured.

Robert Goodall, 19, Memphis, died Friday night when his car overturned after it apparently hit an iron bar protruding from a truck. The accident occurred north of Memphis.

Mrs. Rebecca Ramirez, 35, was killed Friday night when a car crashed into a utility pole on International Bridge Road near Brownsville.

A car slammed into a palm tree at Harlingen and killed Clifford Washington, 24.

Labor Party Makes Gains

LONDON (AP)—The British Labor party piled up more sweeping gains today in county council elections, underlining what Labor leaders described as the declining popularity of Prime Minister Macmillan's ruling Conservatives.

The Laborites, who claim the results indicate the way Britons will vote at the next general election, regained control of Essex, one of five counties which the Conservatives captured from them three years ago.

Conflicting claims by the rival parties made it difficult to measure the exact degree of the Laborite successes. The Laborites said they had gained 171 seats and lost 25—a net gain of 146. But the Conservatives put the Laborite gain at 65 seats.

Radio Announcer's Wife Is Killed

BEAUMONT (AP) — Mrs. Jane Pearson, 23, of Port Arthur, was killed yesterday when a car driven by her husband, Charles, turned over at a highway intersection south of Beaumont.

Pearson, announcer for Radio KOLE at Port Arthur, was injured seriously.

Soviets Say Dam Is Built

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today that engineers in the Turkmen Soviet Republic have dammed the Murgab River by setting off a huge explosion which blasted 13,000 cubic yards of rock into the stream.

The broadcast said the irrigation reservoir being built would enable farmers to put 25,000 acres of land into cotton.

Neither the date nor the exact location of the explosion were given by the Communist radio.

U.S. Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) last week reported an underground Soviet explosion had been detected March 23. Data indicated it had taken place in the northern Ural Mountains, he said. The Turkmen Republic is just above Iran, well south of the Urals but straddling the same longitude.
