4,200 Bales Ginned of 1983-4 Season

Approximately 4,200 bales of the 1983 cotton crop had been ginned by Tuesday, Nov. 22, at 5 p.m., in what is one of the strangest harvests the county has had in recent years.

With Thanksgiving just two days away, one gin was having its first day of operation; another had been ginning for about a week—all due to the rains that stopped the harvest just as it was getting under way. A third had ginned one bale when the rain came.

In contrast to some years when the county has already had a snow by Thanksgiving there is a large acreage that still needs a killing frost to make the cotton defoliate naturally. On some sandy land the leaves are still nice and green. There are higher spots where the frost has already killed the leaves.

The outstanding plus for this crop is the turnout—the best in several seasons.

James Shepard, manager of Wellington Farmers Co-op Gin agreed that a good frost was needed.

He called the turnout real good, 27 percent or higher.

Some farmers having harvesters equipped with bur extractors are getting a turnout of over 30 percent

Children to be Fingerprinted Dec. 5-9

A voluntary program to fingerprint Wellington Children will be conducted Monday, Dec. 5 through Friday, Dec. 9 at Wellington Elementary School.

The Wellington Parent Teacher Organization and Wellington Business and Professional Women are sponsoring the program along with the Sheriff's Department and Sheriff's Reserve Officers.

The Sheriff's Department will furnish at no charge a large certificate with space for the fingerprints and a place for a picture of the child.

If parents want to record the fingerprints and additional information about their child in book form, a Child Registry Handbook is available.

Parents must order the Child Registry Handbook by calling Debra Belew at 447-2487 by Monday, Nov. 28 at 5 p.m. The cost of the handbook is $2 per copy.

The handbook includes places for pictures, fingerprints, medical history, addresses, phone numbers, emergency numbers, dental records, footprints, and immunization records.

The program is primarily designed for elementary-age children, but pre-school children, and junior high and high school students will also be accepted.

Elementary students will receive a request form which must be signed by their parents before their fingerprints will be taken.

The fingerprints will not be kept on file at the Sheriff's office. The original will be given to the parents, and the parents may give a

9 Skyrockets Take 15 Places in All-District

Nine Skyrockets were named to 15 places on the District 2-AA All-District team, head coach James Williams announced Monday in Wellington.

These included first and second teams and honorable mention.

The all-district teams are traditionally not announced until the district winner is defeated in the playoffs or wins the state title.

Mark Hunnicutt was named to three places, the most of any Skyrocket: linebacker on the 1st team; kicker on the 2nd team and honorable mention tight end.

Darvin Nix, Chad Holland, Dewayne Culpepper and James Benton were each named to two places: Nix: 1st team guard and 2nd team linebacker; Holland: 1st team tackle and 2nd team end; Culpepper: 1st team running back and honorable mention secondary; Benton: second team running back and honorable mention secondary.

The other four players were named once each: all honorable mention: Bill Reeves, wide receiver; Kacy Davis, down lineman; Michael Breedlove, linebacker and Rosendo Villanueva, secondary.

"We should have had more boys selected for all district," coach Williams commented.

Christmas Blessing Fund Organized for 2nd Year

A second annual Christmas Blessing Fund has been organized for Wellington and Collingsworth County to help under-privileged families in the area enjoy a happier holiday season.

The fund last year raised $1,669.95, and the money was distributed to 86 people in 17 families.

This year the fund hopes to raise $3,000, a group spokesman said.

The fund is organized along the lines of the "Empty Stocking Fund" that has been a successful program to help needy families in Amarillo for the past 8 years.

Donations to the fund may be made to an account opened at Wellington State Bank. Judy Forrester is handling the account, and donors should contact her when making a donation. Wellington State Bank president O.L. Cooper will serve again this year as treasurer. Checks should be made to "Christmas Blessing Fund." Donors names will be published each week in The Wellington Leader.

Applications for help from the fund may be picked up at The Wellington Leader, the County Judge's office on the second floor of the courthouse, the Community Action Center, and at local church offices.

Most, if not all of the boys teams will go into the Wellington tournament after only a few days of practice and one or two games since the close of football.

There will be two sessions Thursday and Friday and one on Saturday.

Shepard said. The operator of one of these gets an added plus: all the burs go back on the land to fertilize it.

Grade and staple are getting better as the time goes by, Shepard reported.
The staple is averaging an inch and the grades averages strict low middling spot and strict low middling light spot.

Yields on dry land are better than expected.
"We're seeing a lot of half bales per acre, some a third of a bale. The average is between a third and a half," he estimates not more than 15 percent of the cotton in the Wellington area is out, the co-op manager believes.

The price of cotton was 55 cents to 60 cents Tuesday and cottonseed this year is $175 per ton.

Kathryn Barjenbruch of Wellington Gin, which was having its first day, said the harvest among its customers
"just broke loose." She also said the turnout was "real good so far."

"The turnout is good but it takes a lot of acres of dryland cotton to make a bale," said Lois Knoll of Lutie Gin.

Some farmers north of Salt Fork River with irrigated cotton report yields of 600 pounds of lint per acre, although most are reporting around a bale.

Mrs. Knoll agreed that a hard frost was needed. Lutie Gin has been in operation about a week.

At Dodson Farmers Co-op
Yvonne Canada reported yields about average with almost all the cotton that is coming in now being from irrigated land. Again, a good turnout was reported.
"Lots of the cotton has not had a killing frost," Mrs.
Canada said.

Because most of the farmers have not finished harvesting, an average yield on the irrigated is hard to determine at this point.

Grover Graham, of the Davis Gin said he had ginned one bale when the rain came. He called the turnout fair but the yield's real poor, especially on dry land.

He added that some of the dry land cotton is making around a quarter of a bale, but there is also some cotton where up to 8 acres must be covered to get one bale.

4 Garden Club Members Attend District I Meeting

Four members of Wellington Garden Club attended the Northern Zone, District I meeting of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. in Tulia Thursday, Nov. 17. They were Mrs. Joe Terry, vice president, Mrs. H.L. Jenkins, Mrs. Annie Caison and Mrs. Russell Hill.

Sessions were held in the Swisher Memorial building, with Tulia Garden Club as host.

Mrs. Bayard Sadler, Northern Zone chairman, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. John Jacobsen District I director, gave a detailed report on the Texas State Garden Club meeting in Texarkana. She spoke of the number of scholarships given deserving students and of donations given to Texas state parks.

She also stated that the date of Arbor Day will be changed to Jan. 18, and on that day, two Ginkgo trees will be planted at the Texas Garden Clubs state headquarters.

"Propagating and growing Poinsettias" was an informative program given by Marlin Andrus, Kress greenhouse owner.

Mrs. A.H. Kennamer presented "Gardens of the Bible."

Mrs. Jenkins chaired the resolutions committee.

Thirty five garden clubs were represented. District I includes all cities in the Panhandle, from Tulia north to the Oklahoma State line.

1924 Study Club Sees Slide Showing of Flowers, Gardens

Mrs. Boyd Derryberry was hostess when the 1924 Study Club met November 15 in the Heritage Room.

Mrs. H.L. Jenkins gave a slide presentation on nature's beauty, showing landscapes, wild flowers, trees and shrubs as well as beautifully kept yards.

These included those made in Collingsworth County as well as the Fiji Islands and New Zealand. Mrs. Jenkins pointed out that most wild flowers depend on insects for pollination. "Nature has developed a mutually beneficial relationship between wild flowers and insects. Also different colors lure insects. For instance, bees are attracted to yellow blooms," she said. The president, Mrs. B.M. Sims called the meeting to order.

Mrs. Truitt Holland, vice president presented new yearbooks and commented on programs and projects for the year. Members voted to provide a place for an art exhibit and demonstration by James Ivy Edwards of Clarendon College in March, 1984. Details will be announced later. Mrs. Sims presented replicas of the 1734 Center in Washington to each member. As chairman of Women's History and Resource Center, she told of plans to restore and preserve the building whereby each Federated Club member may contribute ten cents a day for the month of November and present these funds at the December meeting.

Mrs. Boyd Derryberry was designated to represent the club as associate board member of the Satellite Center for the club year.

Fall colors were used at the refreshment table where the following were served: Mrs. Raymond Ross, Mrs. R.R. Crawley, Mrs. Holland, Mrs. Sims, Mrs. Chester Fires, Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Murray Dodson, a guest, Mrs. Joe Terry and hostess, Mrs. Derryberry.

Fourmentin and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Smith were absent because both men were ill.

Those present for the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilbur, Willie Smith, Coy Vaughan, Mrs. Ruby Ball, Mrs. Janie James, Mrs. Bill Cason, Mrs. Patricia Bowden, Mrs. Violet Potter and Mrs. Mary Karnes.

Mr., Mrs. Ross Swift Honored On 50th Wedding Anniversary

A reception was given Saturday, November 19, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Ross A. Swift of Dodson on their 50th wedding anniversary.

The American Legion Hall was the setting for this gala event.

Hosts were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Bundy (Jeanette) Moore of Dodson and Mr. and Mrs. Glen (Zenith) Warrick of Wellington. Joining them were the five grandsons--there are no granddaughters: Tim Moore of Addison, Tane Moore of Stephenville, Marty Warrick of Amarillo, Jim Warrick of Arlington and Jay Warrick of Wellington.

Because this couple has been so vital in their community, friends called through the afternoon to honor them. It was an occasion for visiting and renewing friendships for some, as many were from out of town, coming from as far away as California.

Ross Swift and the former Wilma McGinney were married November 18, 1933, in Mangum, Okla. She was born at Dodson, and received her education there. Through the years, she has been active in the Order of the Eastern Star, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, The Dodson Civic Club and the Dodson American Legion Auxiliary. She belongs to the Church of Christ.

The Heat Pump the most efficient system for heating and cooling.

A heat pump can actually produce more than 2 units of heat for every unit of electricity used, in a properly insulated home.

Unlike a conventional furnace, the heat pump doesn't make heat. It transfers or "pumps" heat. Even on cold days, there is some warmth in the air. The heat pump transfers this heat into your home to warm you and your family.

THE ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP WILL SAVE YOU MONEY! If you have plans to buy, build or remodel, or need a new heating and cooling system for your home, call a local factory trained HEAT PUMP DEALER or talk with WTU. We will arrange for a WTU heating and cooling specialist to contact you.

Energy savings may vary according to home construction, family size or energy usage habits.

David Woodruff, Patricia Nunnelley Wed in Amarillo Church Ceremony

Patricia Lee Nunnelley of Amarillo and David Woodruff of Azle were married Saturday, November 12, in Central Christian Church, Amarillo. The Reverend Denzil Teague, minister of the church, performed the ceremony at eleven o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Ms. Melba Nunnelley and Don Nunnelley, both of Amarillo. She is also the granddaughter of Mrs. Ernest Nunnelley and the late Mr. Nunnelley, and of Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Pendergrass, all of Wellington.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID WOODRUFF

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Mack Woodruff of Azle.

The altar area was decorated with pink, white and burgundy silk roses arranged in white pedestal baskets. Baskets of foliage with baby's breath completed the arrangement.

Marie Howard of Amarillo, organist, provided wedding music.

Mr. Nunnelley gave his daughter in marriage.

Her wedding gown was of white lace, with white sheer yoke and full sleeves. Lace covered the high neck, the shoulder caps and cuffs. Her illusion veil was attached to a headpiece of pearls, decorated with pink silk rosebuds. She carried a bouquet of burgundy and pink silk roses with baby's breath.

Tina Nunnelley of Denver, Colorado, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor.

Her pink silk street-length dress was trimmed with beige lace with pearl accents. Her bouquet matched that of the bride.

Brant Woodruff of Azle, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and ushers were Jay Estes and Donna Estes of Amarillo, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

Alanna Woodruff, of Amarillo, the bridegroom's daughter, was the flower girl.

After the ceremony, a reception honored the couple at the Royal Motor Hotel restaurant.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth and held the two-tiered white wedding cake.

A candelabra entwined with burgundy and pink roses held candles in matching shades, and punch was served from a crystal bowl.

near Azle, where they will make their home.

The bride graduated from Amarillo High School in 1978 and attended Amarillo College where she graduated as an x-ray technologist.

A graduate of Azle High School in 1978, the bridegroom is presently employed by Woodruff Motors in Ft. Worth.

SHOWER

A surprise shower was given Miss Nunnelley at three o'clock Wednesday, Nov. 9, by Royal Motor Hotel employees. Hostesses were Jean Merchant and Susan Gill.

The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth and punch was served from a crystal bowl, along with a burgundy and pink sheet cake.

The centerpiece was an arrangement of burgundy and silver flowers.

The bride received a money tree and other gifts.

Auxiliary Raises $420 at Coffee

Collingsworth General Hospital Auxiliary celebrated its second birthday Tuesday, Nov. 14, with a silver coffee which brought the organization $420.61 in money gifts, to be used in continuing its work.

During the calling hour, the hospital administrator Perry Foster, was presented an appreciation gift for his work.

The Auxiliary's first scrapbook was displayed by Hildred Vaughan and Dollie Mae Wilson, while several Auxiliary members took visitors on tours showing new hospital improvements.

The curtain committee showed samples of the new curtain material and miniblinds to be put up in patient rooms, the emergency room and respiratory therapy department.

With the hospital lobby as the setting, a serving table was laid with a beige cloth, and centered with an arrangement of fall flowers. Party cookies were served from silver trays, while Mary Sanford and Janet Britten presided at the silver coffee and spiced tea services.

The registration table, also covered with a beige cloth, held a silver bowl where guests left their donations. An added attraction to this table was a Barbie doll in official auxiliary uniform of white pants and blouse with rose colored snook.

The overall committee for the coffee consisted of Corky Bowen, Lottie Handley, Agnes Ewing and Paralee Coleman.

Auxiliary members finishing the cookies were Lois Allred, Edna Wooldridge, Helen Peeples, Mrs. Vaughan, Irene Yarbrough, Myrtle Yarbrough, Ruth Phipps, Loretta Wright, Bertha Mae Keller and Veta Bryan.

Loretta Wright, president, announced that 71 visitors registered and that the auxiliary was pleased with the interest of the public, and with the donations which were received.

Excelsior Club Has Discussion on Proposals

Mrs. Russell Yates was hostess when the Excelsior Club met Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 16.

Mrs. James R. Ross of Quail was the program speaker and included in her discussion the work of the State Select Committee on Public Education, appointed by Governor Mark White and headed by Ross Perot, Dallas industrialist.

Perot, chairman of Electronic Data Systems, Dallas, recently released his "First Impressions" after his study of Texas Public education from primary grades through high school and the University system.

This serves as a preliminary report of a full report to be made later. It reveals recommendations for a "back to basics" educational system, with more emphasis on studies and less on extra curricular activities.

"Our committee recognizes the value of extra curricular activities, Perot pointed out, adding that his committee and the University Interscholastic League are not opponents.

asking that extra curricular activities be placed in their proper perspective.

Perot cited, in some schools, the classroom hours spent on extra curricular activities, and he quoted statistics relating to the scholastic standings.

He emphasized that some students carry athletic, other extra curricular activities, and their academic studies with equal achievement, making of themselves well rounded students. Some students cannot.

Mrs. Ross rounded out her report with information on the UIL recommendations which in some ways are similar to the Perot Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Manley Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haralson, Mrs. Louise Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wilhelm, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Long and Sara, and the Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Hughes and James.

Each member received a guide for preparing the family history.

Mrs. Bowen also told of the need for volunteers to help in the different departments and several club members offered their

Scoopin'

If you think fish stories get out of hand, you should have heard the turkey stories that were flying this week at First Wellington Agency.

Ruby Bearden started this with a story about Herbert Bearden. She said that a few seasons back Herbert shot two turkeys with one shot. Not only did he get two with one shot, he killed both turkeys with a clean, direct shot through the side of the head. She said they must have been right beside each other when the shot was fired.

Well, Kirby Campbell said he had one better than that.

Kirby said that Don Reeves was out in the Crossroads Community with Carroll Nunnelley a few years back when they saw some turkeys. Nunnelley didn't have a rifle, but he took out a .38 pistol and fired a hot.

Campbell said that Carroll got not one, not two, but three turkeys with that one shot. He said that they loaded the three turkeys into the back of Nunnelley's pickup and headed for town. After a mile or so, they looked back and saw one turkey stumbling around in the pickup bed, apparently only injured and stunned from the shot. So Nunnelley made Reeves get out and finish off the final turkey with a blow from a stick.

I have purposely not confirmed any of these stories with the principals, lest the facts get in the way of the tales.

I liked them the way they were, and I believed every word. So, to all you turkeys who join me in believing them too, a very happy Thanksgiving week.

—Henry Wells

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The building courtroom drama pitting Attorney General Jim Mattox against Mobil Oil Corp. heightened last week when prosecutors discovered three tapes of evidence in a safe.

The tapes allegedly contain evidence that Mattox threatened the law firm representing Mobil Oil during a telephone conversation. That alleged threat is what led to an indictment of Mattox on a charge of commercial bribery.

Mattox, who styles himself "The Peoples' Lawyer" and predicts his innocence, said the three missing tapes will actually help his defense because of how the taped conversation will be interpreted.

Two lawyers for the firm Fulbright and Jaworski of Houston allege that Mattox threatened to hold back approval of the firm's bond agreements, which meant a substantial loss of revenue, unless the lawyers agreed to stop their efforts to question Mattox's sister in deposition. The firm was seeking to remove a Laredo judge who was to hear the Mobil lawsuit.

The lawyers said they were given two days to "back off" that effort, and that 12 minutes after the deadline passed, they received an anonymous phone call telling them: "Sorry, but you're out of the bond business."

Prosecutors said that five tapes of conversations had been given to them, but two apparently had been "overlooked" in the safe.

Settling Suit

Meanwhile, the controversial lawsuit which sparked the separate charges against Mattox may be headed towards settlement. Attorneys for Mobil Oil and Clinton Manges, the South Texas millionaire rancher who is suing the oil giant for $1.7 billion, agreed to draw up papers for a possible settlement.

Under the offer, Mobil would give up its oil and gas leases on 65,000 acres owned by Manges, and Manges, in return, would give up claim on back payments of oil and gas.

Reportedly, Manges would make almost $2 million in oil and gas production.

Still to be resolved is whether the state's claim is settled for back-payment of 50 years of oil production on Manges' ranch. The state holds mineral rights to some of the acreage.

Mattox is joined in pressing that claim by Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, and stands to gain $1 million a month to the public school fund.

Official Salaries

About 20 of his appointees make more salary than Gov. Mark White does, according to a list of the 25 top-paid state employees in Texas. Heading the list at $143,000 is the Texas A&M chancellor closely followed by the University of Texas System chancellor. The top 20 salaries all go to academicians on Texas campuses until the list reaches the Governor at $88,900 a year.

The attorney general and other statewide elected commissioners receive $69,000 yearly.

Three-Term Speaker?

At the Texas House of Representatives, Speaker Gib Lewis has already claimed enough pledge cards to assure him the victory votes for a second term at the gavel.

Lewis reportedly is also dropping hints he may seek a third term, since he says he has received several unsolicited pledges for that far down the road.

One of the speaker's key chairmen, Rep. Gerald Hill of Austin, is considering giving up a re-election bid to become a top aide for Mark White. Hill wanted to run for speaker after Lewis' second term, but apparently doesn't want to wait until after a third.

Hill is a conservative who is generally well respected by other members of the House. His expertise and contacts are considered a potential boost to White's legislative team.

Mondale-Bentsen?

Hill was a top staffer in U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen's 1982 re-election campaign, and on that subject, Bentsen enjoys wide support from other Texas officials as the vice presidential choice.

Four of the state's top elected officials support a Walter Mondale-Bentsen ticket: Mauro, Mattox, Comptroller Bob Bullock and Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby is Texas campaign chairman for John Glenn.

Both Mondale and Glenn draw good support from Texas congressmen and state legislators. Reportedly, virtually all of them support Bentsen as the vice presidential nominee and disregard Gov. Mark White as a serious choice for that spot.

Presnal Retires

The quiet, handsome legislator who has wielded the appropriations gavel for the past 8 years, Rep. Bill Presnal of Bryan, announced last week he will not seek another term in the Texas House.

Presnal, who guided lawmakers through budget-cuttings in a low-key, gentle style, is thought to be taking a job with Texas A&M University, perhaps on their legislative team.
