Pulling Prices Are Increased

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

WITH the sun shining brightly over the South Plains, the critical labor shortage is being felt more than ever by cotton farmers and as a result the cost of harvesting the crop has risen an average of 25 cents per hundred.

Several groups of Mexican nationals or "braceros" arrived in the area the past week, but they weren't enough to make a dent even on the demand for laborers. Most of the "braceros" came from below Chihuahua City, Mexico.

The Griffith bros, Carl and Ray, who operate extensively in northwest Cochran county, brought in 200; V. T. Helbert of Acuff has 95 and J. E. Parks, also of Acuff, 33. Marvin McLaughlin of Ralls was expecting to receive 196 of the "braceros" this weekend.

Mexicans Good Workers

The Mexican nationals are proving good workers. In two hours the other afternoon, Helbert's crew pulled nine bales and Griffith's crew is running around 20 bales a day.

The Mexican "braceros" are secured through cooperation of the U. S. and Mexican governments, with individual farmers putting up bonds and making application for the workers through the Texas Employment Commission.

Boll pullers were drawing from $1.75 per hundred with crew leaders getting 25 cents for weighing and hauling to the gin prior to the recent rainy and cold weather.

But Thursday most prices had advanced to $2 per hundred for pullers and from 25 to 35 cents for weighing and hauling and farmers were reported frantically seeking laborers over a wide area.

Farmers are willing to pay crew leaders one cent per mile per head as expense in transporting crews from Central, South and East Texas, the Texas Employment commission office reported today.

A total of 59,360 laborers are wanted in 15 cotton counties in the area, the TEC reported. Large crews are in demand by a great number of farmers, who have called for groups ranging from 30 to 200.

The TEC's farm labor bulletin issued Thursday said mechanical

Stocks Reach New Highs As Traders See Strikes' End

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27—Stock traders put their chips on quick settlement of the coal and steel strikes today and the market rolled ahead to a new high for the year.

Leading issues advanced a few cents to more than $1 a share, many to the year's peak prices.

Allied Chemical, in a solo performance, jumped $7 to $200 a share.

Demand was also encouraged by a rich flow of extra or increased dividends, as well as numerous excellent earnings reports. Short covering purchasers helped keep the market pointed upward.

Trading was unusually heavy. Sales amounted to 1,760,000 shares, third highest of the year.

The market was the broadest of the year, with 1,138 issues changing hands. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 50 cents a share to $68.20, tops since $68.40 was touched Nov. 4.

CIO Leftists Seek 'Peace'

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 27 — Leftist labor leader Harry Bridges hinted tonight of a peace overture aimed at narrowing the breach between his longshoremen's union and the CIO in advance of the CIO convention.

It was the second apparently conciliatory move by a left-wing CIO affiliate threatened with expulsion at the convention here next week. The other was by the United Electrical Workers.

Bridges, at a press conference, disclosed that he and about a dozen "rank-and-file" members of his union will meet Saturday with CIO President Philip Murray.

He said his union wanted to "get straightened out" on two matters:

1. Autonomy—the right of individual unions and members to disagree with CIO policy.

2. The longshoremen's membership in the Communist-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions.

On the second point, Bridges said his union would be willing to withdraw from the WFTU to join a more right-wing organization being set up if it "can guarantee

HST Refuses To Intervene In Strikes

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—President Truman said today that he will use the Taft-Hartley law in the steel-coal strikes when such action is required but declared the country is a long way from a national emergency that would make such a step necessary.

Senate Republican leader Wherry, Neb., a short time later said the President "is about the only person in the country" who does not see a national emergency in the two strikes.

Wherry asked "must the country have a complete collapse of productivity to prove there is a national emergency?"

HST Still Optimistic

Mr. Truman told his news conference that he is not yet intervening in the twin strikes and said he is still optimistic that a voluntary settlement will be reached.

The President stood behind an earlier statement by White House Secretary Charles G. Ross who knocked down reports that the President is going to take drastic action if the steel-coal walkouts are not settled by this weekend.

Mr. Truman said that when the time comes he will comply with the Taft-Hartley law which authorizes an 80-day anti-strike injunction against any walk-out threatening the national welfare.

Will Enforce Laws

He bluntly declared as Chief Executive of the United States that it is his duty to enforce the laws and that is what he will do. He added, however, that the steel-coal strikes have not yet caused a national emergency warranting application of Taft-Hartley.

The President said he will determine when there is a national emergency as a result of the 27-day strike of a half million steel workers and the six-week walkout of 375,000 soft coal diggers.

The President declined to comment on the previous prediction of a high government official that he would move into the steel-strike picture this weekend. He said that he had answered that fully and completely earlier in the day and just the way he wanted it answered.

Ross said Mr. Truman was "keeping hands off" the strikes

ADM. LOUIS E. DENFELD

Denfeld, Foe Of Defense Setup, Ousted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, critic of the Navy's position under a unified Army, Navy and Air Force, was fired from his job as chief of naval operations today by President Truman.

Denfeld said some hours later that he will "step down if by doing so" he can help the Navy and the country.

But he made it clear that he hasn't changed his belief that the Navy's offensive power is being whittled down under the unified defense program.

"For thirty odd years I've been sticking by my guns and if they want to kick me out, I'm still sticking by my guns," he said.

"For Good Of The Country"

Mr. Truman said at his news conference that he was removing Denfeld from his post because Secretary of the Navy Matthews said such an action was vital "for the good of the country."

Matthews told the president "integrity of command" was "indispensable."

Some time after the news of Denfeld's removal, some 60 members of branch 90 of the Fleet Reserve association, called on Denfeld at his quarters at the Naval observatory to express their support of him. Denfeld told them:

"The Navy is bigger than anything else or any individual. The Navy will carry on and I will do my part to help the Navy and the country.

"I will step down if by doing so I can help them both."

Matthews said in a letter to the President:

"A military establishment is not a political democracy. Integrity of command is indispensable at all times.

"No Twilight Zone"

"There can be no twilight zone in the measure of loyalty to superiors and respect for authority existing between various official ranks. Inability to conform to such requirements for military stability would disqualify any of us from positions subordinate to the commander-in-chief."

Denfeld himself heard the news when an aide handed him a copy of a news ticker report. He was attending a meeting of the joint chiefs of staff. Incidentally, the development came on what used to be Navy Day, a day of celebration for the nation's sea forces.

Mr. Truman told reporters he did not know whether Denfeld would accept transfer to other duties or resign. Denfeld had no immediate statement.

The removal came even as some

Several Thefts Reported Here

A LARGE plate glass window was smashed at Penrod's ladies ready-to-wear store, 1104 Ave. J, about 8:35 p. m. Thursday in what may have been the beginning of Hallowe'en activities in Lubbock.

No merchandise was taken from the store window, C. M. MacLean, manager, told police.

Patrolman W. H. Verner, who investigated, said the window apparently had been kicked in during a scuffle between several boys.

The window, measuring approximately 5 by 8 feet, was covered by insurance, MacLean said.

Thefts Are Reported

It was a comparatively quiet Thursday for law enforcement officers, although several reported thefts were investigated in addition to the window breaking.

Two thefts were reported Thursday night in addition to two burglaries and a possible third break-in which were reported during the day.

Earl D. Burk of 908 Ave. M reported the theft of an automobile hub cap valued at $2.50, while another complaint said two dozen diapers had been stolen from 2222 Third street.

In the other three cases, investigation was continuing.

E. R. Mankins of 3102 Thirty-fourth informed the police that more than $100 worth of property had been taken from his residence by intruders who pulled a screen from a window and entered—not realizing that two doors to the house were unlocked.

Taken were three watches, a pair of ear screws, a strand of pearls, a shotgun, a rifle, and sterling rings from France, investigators were told.

Amarillo Man Dies In Crash

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Oct. 27—An Amarillo pilot reported tonight he had found the body of college student Harold Leland Jones, II, in a crashed light plane in Palo Duro canyon.

Kenneth Brown, pilot from Amarillo air terminal, told the Civil Aeronautics authority here he landed near the canyon, and went to the plane wreckage on foot.

He said Jones apparently was killed instantly, and that the plane was demolished as it flew into the side of the canyon.

Jones, 22, a student at Amarillo Junior college, had been missing since he took off for a spin from Amarillo Municipal airport late yesterday in a rented plane.

Terrain Rugged

The wreckage was sighted about 4:50 p. m. today. Ground parties found the terrain too rugged to reach the body tonight. It will be brought out tomorrow.

The CAA received Brown's report about 6 p. m. after the pilot had returned to Amarillo.

Fifteen to 20 planes engaged in a search of the Panhandle today.

Jones, a stepson of L. E. Kingman, an FBI agent in Dallas, took off from the Amarillo Municipal airport at 5:15 yesterday. Airport employes said he had enough gasoline for only three hours flight.

Planes from the airport had searched the area north of Pampa and the Canadian river break and the rugged Palo Duro canyon country to the south.

Three Die In Friona Car-Truck Collision

AMARILLO, Oct. 27. (AP)—Three persons, including a mother and her nine-months-old baby, were killed today in a car-truck crash in the Panhandle.

Three others were injured critically.

The dead were Mrs. R. H. Stone of Hereford and her baby and Frank Phillips of Farwell, a Parmer county commissioner.

Another child of Mrs. Stone's, about two years old, was injured seriously. "Bump" Phillips, son of the commissioner, and Mrs. Jerry Lou Pate of Bovina were also in critical condition.

At Hereford, Stone said his wife and children were riding with Mrs. Pate to Clovis N. M. Phillips and his son were driving a pickup truck toward Hereford. The accident occurred southwest of Amarillo, in Parmer county, two miles east of Friona.

Truman Appoints Allen New Ambassador To Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—President Truman today named Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen to be ambassador to Yugoslavia, a key post in one of the most important sectors of the cold war.

Allen called his new job a "terrifically challenging post." He returned to this country today from London where he attended a meeting of American ambassadores from the iron curtain countries of eastern Europe.

Along with Allen's appointment, Mr. Truman announced that he was accepting "with much regret" the resignation of Ambassador Cavendish W. Cannon from the Yugoslav assignment. Cannon is in ill health.

City, Air Force Officials Study Problem

RAFB Seeks Use Of Municipal Airport

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

PROBLEMS of possibly vital bearing upon the future of the newly named Reese Air Force base and Lubbock Municipal airport were brought frankly into the open at the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon.

While little progress was apparent immediately toward their solution, the extended and harmonious discussions closed in an atmosphere of confidence that satisfactory answers will be found.

They must be found or the alternatives may affect the extent, if not the continuation, of operations at RAFB as well as the civilian uses of the Municipal airport.

Base Is Renamed

It was an ironical twist of fate that the crisis was encountered on the very day of the announcement that the facility recently reactivated at Lubbock Air Force base had been named for First Lt. Augustus F. Reese, jr., of Shallowater. Lt. Reese was killed in action while flying a volunteer mission at Cagliaria, Sardinia, off the coast of Italy, May 14, 1943.

Participating in the discussions, with no attempts made to minimize the difficulties of the problem, were officials of the city, chamber of commerce and RAFB, representatives of airlines serving Lubbock and others interested in civilian operations at Municipal airport.

Use Of Field Asked

The problem had its origin in the formal request from RAFB for permission to use the facilities of the Municipal airport in connection with its advanced training of Air Force pilots, the first class of whom is scheduled to report at the base early next week.

The student pilots will receive most of their training at RAFB. But, to economically justify its existence, the base must train a minimum of about 200 pilots a year, the meeting was told by Lt. Cols. Chas. V. Eld, air installations officer, and Frank P. Wood, executive officer of training.

That many men cannot be trained at RAFB, they said. Therefore, they continued, additional facili-

Street Extension Studied By City

Members of the city commission studied estimates of cost of opening Nineteenth street eastward from the present deadend at Texas avenue and approved a new plumbing code on first reading as highlights of routine business at their regular meeting Thursday afternoon.

Action on the plumbing code followed a lively debate on whether copper pipe and fittings should be allowed on plumbing installed henceforth in Lubbock. Under the new code, which requires passage on a second reading for final approval, the metal may be used above ground.

Owners Ask $111,415

The commission was advised that owners of property now blocking Nineteenth between Texas avenue and the Fort Worth & Denver City railroad tracks at about Avenue G have asked a total of $111,415 for their holdings.

City Manager Steve Matthews said about $95,000 in bond money remains to acquire rights of way for thoroughfares in the city dispersal system, which includes Nineteenth.

The amounts asked by individual property owners for rights-of-way for the street were listed as including: F. D. Brown, $47,560; F. L. Hicks, $40,000; A. M. Leftwich, $8,625; John Toles, $4,600; J. K. Miller, $4,600; M. M. Crawford, $3,750; C. C. Burns, $1,280, and Mrs. W. F. Cole, $1,000.

Members of the commission agreed to meet again next week

SPYING ATTEMPT CHARGED

Czechs Demand Withdrawal Of Two French Embassy Officials

(By International News Service)

PRAGUE, Oct. 27 — Czechoslovakia demanded today the withdrawal of two members of the French Embassy on charges that they attempted to spy out secrets of uranium production, a large part of which is reported going to Russia.

The Communist-controlled government also arrested a former embassy employe and two Czechs.

The foreign office, in a note to the French embassy, gave military attache Georges Helliot and his assistant, Marcel Ealabert, 12 hours to get out of the country.

The note said the arrest of Gervais Garcette, who once worked for the embassy, and two alleged accomplices, Gustav Maran and Oldrich Adamek, led police to the French attaches.

The note, which followed a demand for the withdrawal of two attaches of the American embassy on espionage charges, declared that Helliot and Salabert actually managed to obtain a quantity of the ore used in the manufacture of atomic bombs.

According to the foreign office, a French diplomatic courier

SMU Refuses $5 Million Gift

DALLAS, Oct. 27. (AP)—A Southern Methodist university trustee said today SMU was offered a $5,000,000 endowment a few months ago by George W. Armstrong, sr., of Fort Worth if it would bar Jewish students from its classes.

He said Dr. Umphrey Lee, SMU president, refused the offer in a brief letter to Armstrong; that Armstrong then asked SMU regents to discharge Dr. Lee and to reconsider his endowment offer.

Dr. W. Harrison Baker of Dallas, the SMU trustee, said the board of trustees turned down the offer of endowment and the suggestion that Dr. Lee be fired.

Mississippi School Gets Grant

Armstrong, 84-year-old Fort Worth and Mississippi capitalist, this week offered Jefferson Military college—a prep school at Washington, Miss., land and mineral rights worth a potential $50,000,000 if it would agree to make two changes in its charter. One of them would "provide that the school shall be primarily for white Christians, with the stipulation that no African or Asiatic or person of African or Asiatic descent be admitted as a student or in the faculty."

In Natchez, Miss., three trustees of the Mississippi school said in a statement tonight they would not countenance any charter changes teaching racial superiority or barring persons of any denomination as students.

The school has accepted the $50,000,000 endowment and the trustees have agreed to two conditions, but final papers have not

Six Persons Die In London Crash Of Rome Bound Plane

LONDON, Oct. 28—(Friday)—(INS)—Six persons were killed early today when their Rome-bound amphibian plane crashed in flames soon after it left London airport.

The co-pilot of the plane was the lone member of the seven-man party to escape death. The impact of the crash threw him away from the flaming plane.

He was identified as Earl Oscar Sivage, 33, an American who has made his home in Egypt. The plane, owned by Superior Oil Co., was bound for Italy with four passengers and a crew of three.

Chest Campaign Gets Another Good Boost

Lubbock's 1950 Community Chest campaign got another good boost Thursday, although not as large as expected, as the total went to $28,062.72, Chest officials reported.

As reports from various firms started coming in, Chest officials reported contributions from Furr Food employes were made Thursday with 201 employes participating 100 per cent.

Continued solicitations and additional reports are expected today as the drive to speed up the campaign gains ground. However, reports and contributions are lagging behind expectations. Goal for the drive is $98,850.

Six Injured In Auto Collision

LORENZO, Oct. 27. (Special)—A total of six persons were injured, at least one seriously, in a two-car collision at 2:30 p. m., today, on Farm Road 387, about two miles southeast of Lorenzo.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. Frankie Duffey, 38, Clarksville, who, with her five children, was a pasenger in a 1940 Chevrolet sedan being driven by her husband, Wesley Duffey.

Mrs. Duffey suffered a broken leg and severe cuts and bruises. Her condition was described by hospital officials as serious. All others hospitalized are "doing fine," attendants said.

The accident happened when a 1940 Ford sedan, being driven by Earl Bonine, 38, who lives south of Ralls, swerved into Duffey's

542 Persons Injured In Area Mishaps

South Plains Traffic Deaths Climb To 57

By TOM DAVIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE ever-mounting traffic toll on the South Plains Thursday stood at 57 dead, 542 injured and an estimated property damage of more than half a million dollars, if dollars count for anything in a list of dead and injured.

Gunning down the home stretch of 1949, South Plains motorists have a little more than three months left in which to match the 1948 total of 91 dead, but they have already exceeded last year's injury total of 540.

Injury Record Broken

All injured from now on have the dubious honor of adding their broken bones to the record-breaking figure on injuries. The injury total was broken Thursday in a wreck near Lorenzo.

On July 9, the Texas Highway patrol, with 34 already dead on the traffic records for their 21-county area, said 57 more were slated to die to match the 1948 total of 91.

Those figures were just reversed Thursday night, with 57 dead and 34 to go before the slate is wiped clean on January 1 and the deadly game begins anew.

On Sept. 2, The Morning Avalanche files revealed that 45 persons had died in traffic mishaps in the South Plains area. Since that date, 12 names have been added to the death list, according to the newspaper files.

Highway patrol records, complete only through Sept. 30, show

Major Powers Face Atomic Impasse

Secret Talks In UN Seek Cold War Letup

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 27 —Secret consultations aimed at easing the "cold war" and the atomic impasse were revealed today to have taken place at the United Nations among representatives of the major powers.

Authoritative information made available to International News Service disclosed that top UN leaders like Secretary General Trygve Lie and Assembly President Carlos P. Romulo have been pressing every opportunity to create an atmosphere more conducive to international negotiation.

Several reliable sources disclosed in that connection that the Romulo and Lie soundings have been carried on and will continue with Philip C. Jessup of the United States, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky and chief delegates of other western nations.

Vishinsky Sends Deputies

Vishinsky several times sent one of his deputies, either Jacob Malik or A. A. Soldatov.

Concrete results are not in sight, but it is understood that progress has been made in the recurring exchanges of opinion. Agreement on a "truce" in the cold war and a concrete step toward declarations in principle on atom control would be viewed as valuable initial accomplishments by the current assembly session.

Failure of the big six powers to reach agreement on atomic control procedure as revealed in their report to the UN caused the small powers to renew efforts to get assembly action in some form on the atom bomb.

Romulo declared in that connection:

"I feel it my duty to redouble my efforts to achieve something constructive on the Atomic problem."

Jessup Is U. S. Spokesman

It is considered significant that Jessup is the spokesman for the United States, particularly in view of the fact that he was the one who conducted the secret negotiations with Malik which led to a solution of the Berlin blockade crisis last spring.

In addition, Jessup is the kingpin in the U. S. moves on China. He was in charge of editing the U. S. white paper on China and is head of a committee appointed by Secretary of State Dean Acheson charged with the further study of the Chinese situation.

Reports published outside Lake Success that Romulo and Lie are planning to persuade Pandit Nehru to accept the job of East-West mediation were not substantiated. It was pointed out that Nehru has made no secret during his U. S. visit of a disinclination to become involved in the conflict between Russia and the West.

5,000 Persons Jam Annual Carnival

LAMESA, Oct. 27. (Special) —A crowd of almost 5,000 people attended the Lamesa P-TA's annual Hallowe'en carnival held at McCullom field here tonight.

Miss Dianne Frazier, 10, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sam Z. Frazier, was crowned carnival queen. She was one of eight vying for the honor. Jerry Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones, was her escort.

Elementary school Principal T. L. Price estimated that total receipts from sales in the 35 booths and other attractions at the carnival probably would total $3,000.

Part of the money already has been earmarked for the purchase of 50 football uniforms for the elementary school teams. The remainder of the money will be used for other school activities.

Ecuador Aero Club Members To Make Goodwill Flight To U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—Arrangements are being completed today for a 20,000 miles "appreciation flight" of 10 members of the Aero club of Ecuador.

Civilian pilots flying five brand-new light planes (Aeroncas) plan to tour all of Central and South America. They will thank various countries for help given Ecuador after its disastrous earthquake in August. But first they will visit five U. S. cities.

Rafael A. Dillon, brother of Ambassador Augusto Dillon of Ecuador and Rene C. Borja will serve as flight leaders. The pilots are all from Guayaquil, Ecuador.

Plans call for the take off at 7 a. m. (CST) tomorrow. First stop will be at Atlanta, Ga., for refueling. First day's goal is New Orleans.

From there the pilots will fly on an indefinite schedule, to Houston, Corpus Christi and Brownsville, Texas; Tampico and Mexico City, Mexico; and on to various Central and South American countries.

Rites For Plane Crash Victim Set

Graveside services will be held at Feldman Memorial cemetery Friday at 11 a.m. for Jake Faverman, 35, of Hobbs, N. M., who died Wednesday enroute to a hospital after his plane crashed Tuesday.

Funeral services were held Thursday in the Griffin Funeral home in Hobbs with Rabbi Julius Kerman of Congregaetion Shareth Israel of Lubbock officiating.

Feverman lay 24 hours in the wreckage of the crashed Globe-Swife 125 horsepower monoplane before he was spotted by Frank Hines of Hobbs.

Planes Begin Search

Faverman had left Hobbs at 1:50 p. m. Tuesday to deliver the plane to Ralph Sellers, a rancher of 55 miles north of Roswell. When he had not been heard from Wednesday, 16 private planes of the New Mexico Civil Air Patrol took off in search of him.

Hines, not a member of the CAP, landed in rough, sandy terrain 65 miles west of Hobbs after he spotted the crashed plane and saw Faverman waving. It was 4:30 p.m. Wednesday when Hines started back to Hobbs. Faverman died before reaching the hospital in Hobbs.

Faverman was the operator of a Hobbs bar and was the nephew of Abe Bender of 2412 Twenty-sixth, Lubbock.

Faverman is survived by his wife and Bender.

Veterans will be pallbearers at the service Friday morning.

New Minimum Wage Law To Pose Major Problem Of Interpretation

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP) — You're an employer. There's a new minimum wage-hour law. You want to know right now precisely what each item in it means and how it affects you, your business, your employes.

At this moment no one can give an answer saying what the law means in every possible case. Generally, this much is true:

Most employes, employers and businesses covered by the old law, which was passed in 1938, are covered by the new law. But the new law has removed some people from coverage and has made some other changes as well.

Minimum Pay Boosted

The outstanding change: Every employe covered by the law now must be paid a minimum of 75 cents an hour. Under the old law the minimum was 40 cents.

But there were other changes, some of them stated in such clear language by Congress that no one can misunderstand them. For example:

A public telephone exchange, and its operators, are exempt from the minimum wage and overtime provisions of the law if—that exchange serves less than 750 stations.

A number of other businesses and their employes are also exempted, clearly, under the new law.

Court Decisions Required

But the law's effect on other businesses and their employes is far less clear. It's so unclear, in fact, that it probably will take years before court decisions say precisely what the effect is in different cases.

That's why—because of lack of clarity in the law—the wage-hour administration experts, who interpret the law and lay down the rules ,can't at this time give opinions covering every possible case.

So, if you have any doubts as to how this new law affects you, your business or your workers, do one of two things:

1. Ask the wage-hour administration for a ruling in your case.
2. Ask your lawyer.

Decision Is Binding

If you do No. 1 and don't like the decision the wage-hour administration gives you and then decide to ignore it, you'd better be ready for a court fight. It's the job of the wage-hour administration to see that the law, and its interpretation of the law, are lived up to.

Because no one at this time can give an explanation that will fit all possible cases, it's clear that the final answers won't be in for years. Why?

Because various employers and their lawyers will decide that rulings handed down under the new law by the wage-hour administration are contrary to what Congress intended when it wrote the law.

So they'll take it to court. Judges —including the justices of the Supreme court—in the end will have to clear up a number of questionable points under the new law.

Some Exceptions Made

In a general way the law applies to all employes of businesses that have interstate commerce or produce for interstate commerce. But this is only general. The law makes some exceptions.

And in some cases it's the work done by the individual employe—in a business covered by the law—which tells whether that employe is really covered by the law. For example:

Under the old law an employe was covered if he was considered necessary for production of goods in a firm engaged in interstate commerce.

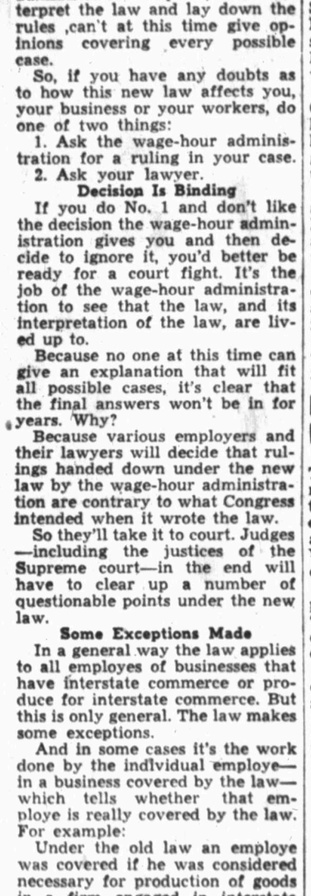

Say, for example, that John Jones was a window washer in such a firm. If the wage-hour administration ruled that Jones' window-washing was a "necessary" part of the firm's business, then he was covered under the old law.

But the new law knocks out the word "necessary" and says the law applies only to people considered "directly essential" to the production of goods in interstate commerce.

Now, then, under the new law is Jones covered? Can he be considered "directly essential" to the firm's business? The same question might arise in the case of elevator operators, scrubwomen, and so on.

If the wage-houg administration now rules that washing windows is "directly essential" to the firm's work, the employer may argue: "He's not essential. I can still run my business without clean windows."

Then he calls in his lawyers and the fight starts in court to have a judge finally decide whether Jones is covered by the law.

Third Harris Youth Nabbed After Holdup

HOUSTON, Oct. 27 (U.P.)—The last member of a Harris county trio that journeyed to California in a stolen car to hold up a liquor store was behind bars today.

Deputy sheriffs picked up Harold Holloway, 17, of Channelview last night because they knew he was a companion of Murray James Killion, 18-year-old Baytown youth who was shot with his own gun in the abortive hold-up attempt last Sept. 17.

Holloway signed a statement saying he drove to California in September with Killion and Cleo North, 21, of Highlands. The boy said he stayed in the car at Long Beach while Killion and North went into the liquor store.

Store operator James Hughes, 64, and a ju-jitsu expert, turned his tricks on young Killion, tossing him over his left shoulder. The gun went off shattering Killion's thigh.

After the incident, Holloway and North hitch-hiked back to Harris county. The stolen car was abandoned in Los Angeles, Holloway told officers.

North is held on a federal charge of transporting the stolen auto across the state line. Holloway is in county jail here, pending directions fro California authorities, where his age will place him in custody of juvenile authorities.

Benny, Douglas, And Damone Named 'Swoon Boys Of 1949'

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 27. (INS)—The Bobby Soxers of America, a national organization of 14,574 teen-age sweater girls, today picked radio comedian Jack Benny, actor Kirk Douglas and singer Vic Damone as the "swoon boys of 1949."

The group claimed that the trio possessed the greatest degree of "male magnetism." Said 17-year-old Sally Waters, president of the organization:

"Kirk Douglas and Vic Damone can carry our books home from school any day of the week and Sundays too. Jack Benny can come along too — to keep us all laughing."

OBJECT OF MANHUNT—Search for Jack Tatum, 26, above, who broke out of the county jail in Phoenix, Ariz., turned to Nevada and California after he was reported seen at Sparks, Nev. Two of Tatum's companions in the jailbreak were shot to death in the county courthouse. (AP Wirephoto.)

New 'Magic Eye' To Aid In Cancer Fight Shown To Doctors

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 27—A new "magic eye" to help in cancer research was demonstrated today for the first time at the annual meeting of the American Cancer society.

This new eye is a lens that for the first time makes it practical to to take sharp, high-magnification photographs of living tissues in the invisible ultra-violet light. The new process is so simple it is already everyday operation in some research laboratories.

Navy Aids Research

The new lens is the creation of David S. Grey, optics expert of the research laboratories of Polaroid Corp., Cambridge, Mass., who was assisted in his work by the office of naval research of the U. S. Navy.

The cancer society in announcing the new development said:

"The lens can bring to sharp focus, at a single setting, light of all colors from invisible wave lengths. Light rays too short to be seen by the human eye are brought right through the visible wave lengths to which the eye is naturally 'tuned in'."

Color Study Possible

The new lens is making it possible for cancer research scientists to observe certain human tissues in color which heretofore could only be seen in black and white. Such a development is significant because color as it pertains to normal tissue or cancerous tissue can be an important diagnostic tool as well as shedding light on the mechanism of cancerous growth.

The cancer society said that with the new lens it is now possible to focus a microscope in the usual way, using ordinary visible light, with the assurance that it will be in focus also for the shorter wave lengths, thereby giving the research scientists a true picture of what they see.

The new equipment already is in use for cancer research at Massachusetts Institute of technology, Cambridge, Mass., the Sloan-Kittering institute, New York City, [illegible] Corp.

Two Doctors Share 1949 Nobel Prize For Medicine, Physiology

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 27. (INS)—The 1949 Nobel prize for medicine and physiology was awarded jointly today to Dr. Walter R. Hess of Switzerland and Dr. Antonio E. Moniz of Portugal for their work on functions and diseases of the brain.

The prize is worth $31,000. Dr Moniz, 74, professor of neurology at Lisbon university, is the discoverer of a new method of localizing brain tumors.

In addition to his widely-heralded medical achievements, Dr. Moniz has had a distinguished career as a statesman and parliamentarian. He has represented Portugal at many international conferences and served as Portuguese foreign minister in 1918-19.

The Zurich specialist is credited with discovery of the functional organization of the middle-brain for coordination of the internal organs.

Police Seek Identity Of Man Shot To Death

BROWNSVILLE, Oct. 27. (AP)—Efforts to identfy a safecracking suspect shot down by police here early yesterday morning have thus far been unsuccessful.

Acting Police Chief Gus Krausse said today that a description furnished by Sheriff W. W. Lane of a Wharton county man failed to provide positive identification. Krausse said Lane will fly here for a look at the dead man.

The suspect was cut down in a burst of machine-gun fire. Police surprised the man and a companion at work on a safe in an auto firm.

A man held for questioning in connection with the case was released. Search for the dead man's identity continues.

Justics of the Peace Manuel Diaz Deleon today ruled the shooting by police Officer Douglas Ward, "justifiable homicide."

Austin School Official Urges Rewriting Of Fire Escape Law

AUSTIN, Oct. 27 (AP)—Rewriting of the Texas fire escape law was urged yesterday by the president of Austin's board of education.

R. W. Byram said the 20-year-old law is impractical and obsolete.

State Fire Insurance Commissioner Paul Brown earlier this week threatened court action against school boards which fail to provide fire escapes as required by the law for all school buildings higher than one story.

Byram said it would cost Austin more than $97,000 to comply with the law as now written.

Fireproof interior stairways now being built are much safer than fire escapes, Byram contended, but the old law requires the outdoor escapes regardless.

"I would like to see the January session of the legislature modernize the law and then see that it's enforced," Byram said.

Longtime Resident Of Lamesa Claimed

LAMESA, Oct. 27 (Special)—Mrs. Alta Ann Rhodes, 68, a resident here for 29 years, died suddenly at her home early this morning. Funeral services will be held at the Lamesa Church of Christ at 3 p.m. Saturday.

A native of Arkansas, Mrs. Rhodes had been a member of the Church of Christ for 53 years. Burial will be in Lamesa cemetary under direction of Higginbotham funeral home.

Mrs. Rhodes is survived by her husband, M. D. Rhodes of Lamesa; four daughters, Mrs. R. F. Griffis, Lamesa, Mrs. Lee Hancock, Lamesa; Mrs. Inez Donley, Compton, Calif.; and Mrs. Howard Kay, Stockton, Calif.; one son, Earnest Rhodes of Lamesa; her mother, Mrs. Harriet Webb of Amarillo; four brothers, E. F. Webb, Lamesa; H. C. Webb, Dimmitt; W. R. Webb, Amarillo, and H. Webb of Fort Worth; and two sisters, Mrs. John Parsley, Olney, and Miss Ruth Webb, Amarillo.

Petitions Required Of Tech Girls Seeking Princess Title

Texas Tech co-eds interested in being selected as the college's princess for this year's Sun Festival in El Paso must file petitions with the student council before Nov. 4, Curtis Sterling, president, announced Thursday.

Traveling expenses for the princess will be paid from the student council fund and her hotel and other expenses in El Paso by the festival. The celebrations are scheduled from Dec. 29 to Jan. 2.

All co-eds competing for princess will appear before the student council Nov 8, when the winner will be selected. Tech sends a representative to the festival every year, Sterling said.

The Woman's Angle

WHAT to do with the atomic bomb is a baffling problem for mankind but the number-one personal problem today is how to make ends meet.

"HONOR DAY"

HALLOWE'EN'S going to be different this year for many American youngsters. There will be less soaping windows, knocking down fences, overunning of the neighborhood property and the other traditional marks of Hallowe'en hilarity.

It will be just as much fun as ever, but without the destructive effects.

All of this has come as a result of a unique program established nationally by the Loyal Order of Moose in an effort to help kids everywhere celebrate Hallowe'en in a fun-filled (but safe and sane) manner.

THE idea back of it is to help the young people to develop a sense of honor embodying a divine concept of individual worth and a lasting respect for others and what is rightly theirs.

Focal point of the day's activities will be Mooseheart, Ill., the famed "child city" 37 miles west of Chicago maintained by the Moose for sons and daughters of deceased members of the organization. Typical of thousands of other communities throughout the country, Mooseheart will celebrate Hallowe'en Monday with elaborate costume parties, home talent shows, parades, dances and other events aimed at diverting the normal energies of kids to worth while activities.

The youngsters, 100 strong, have signed a pledge on their honor as citizens not to deface, mutilate or destroy property, or perform any act harmful to others during the Hallowe'en season.

We believe there has been less havoc in Lubbock since the parades sponsored by the City Recreation department than in previous years. That project gives our youngsters an opportunity to dyke themselves out in costumes and to model them before their classmates, parents and strangers. With the exception of soaping the windows, which we think is utterly senseless, youngsters recently have paid little attention to the downtown area when they celebrate Hallowe'en.

MISCELLANY

LITTLE Leete Jackson is distressed because his English sourmug bulldog, Judy, has disappeared from home. The big brindle and white animal has been his companion all of his life. If anyone sees Judy, he is asked to telephone 6442.

A pair of women's brown horn-rimmed glasses was found in front of a downtown jewelry store. The owner may call 2-2031 to identify them.

TEN-YEAR-OLD Arthur Snow, who is studying music for the first time and taking lessons at Central Ward school, is concerned over the loss of a trombone, which he put down for a few minutes Wednesday afternoon in front of a store on Tenth and Ave. T. He hopes the person who saw it will get in touch with him. The identification is in the pocket where the mouth piece is kept.

The instrument was played by Arthur's father, George Snow when he was a college student. Quite a musician himself, Mr. Snow is anxious for Arthur to play and to further his interest gave him the prized trombone. The address is 2009 Ninth; the telephone is 2-2818.

New Deal Clubhouse Opening Scheduled For Tuesday Night

The formal opening of the New Deal Community clubhouse will be held Tuesday when Monroe Home Demonstration club entertains with an open house and silver tea from 6 until 10 p. m. All residents of the county are invited to call.

Plans for the event were made when 10 members of the club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. W. H. Emery.

At the next regular meeting, Nov. 10, Mrs. L. C. Crews and Mrs. George Hunter will be hostesses at a kid party at 2:30 o'clock in the clubhouse.

Wedding Is Read

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Beason of 217 Ave. U are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss LaWanda Carter, to Alton W. Herring, U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Herring of 709 Hub Homes, which took place Friday, Oct. 21, at the Beason home. Rev. I. D. Walker performed a double ring ceremony before an archway of fern and arrangements of roses.

Given in marriage by Mr. Beason, the bride wore a white faille dress styled with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and long sleeves fastened at the wrist. Rolled pleats adorned the skirt. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid.

Mrs. Georgia Hendrix, sister of the bridegroom and matron of honor, wore a blue wool dress fashioned after the bride's. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Lloyd Bloodworth, brother in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man.

At Reception

At the reception held after the ceremony, the bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and arranged with crystal and silver appointments and a wedding cake. A bouquet was of chrysanthemums.

After Nov. 22, the couple will be at home in Philadelphia, Pa., where Mr. Herring is an x-ray technician at a Naval hospital. For travel, the bride is wearing a green gabardine suit with gray accessories.

Mrs. Herring attended school in Lubbock. She has been a member of Theta Rho Girls club and Y-Teen club. Mr. Herring, a graduate of Lubbock High school, attended Western Union school in Missouri and has completed x-ray school in the Navy hospital at Bethesda, Md.

Baker School Party Is Set For Today

The children of Baker school will have a Hallowe'en party this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the school, 1911 Eighteenth. Mrs. E. R. Vaughn and Mrs. Billy Jo Taylor are to be hostesses.

Mrs. H. P. Baker will direct the program.

Town Talk

DEBONAIRE DANCE CLUB will entertain tonight at the Hilton hotel with its first dance of the season, and music will be by C. A. Rodgers and his orchestra. Each member of the club may invite a guest couple.

Hosts for the evening will be Messrs. and Mesdames T. E. Patterson, Hugh McKelvy, Cliff Widener, Mickey Henly and J. D. Hinson, a group composed of old and new officers of the club.

From 8:30 until 9:30 p. m., a cocktail party will be held at the hotel preceding the dance for Debonaire members and their guests.

Parties Are Courtesies

As a courtesy to Mrs. Paul Olmstead, the former Miss Joyce Arant, a bridal shower was given at the home of Mrs. J. B. Johnston, 2428 Thirty-first, Wednesday afternon. Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Allen Arant and Mrs. Keeton Saunders were hostesses.

Mrs. Steve Meinecke presided at an antique tea service which was placed on a lace covered table. Pink chrysanthemums in a crystal bowl centered the table.

Mrs. George Stringer, jr., registered the 25 guests. They were greeted at the door by Mrs. Saunders.

MISS INEZ ROSS IS COMPLIMENTED

A miscellaneous shower given Wednesday night in the Rocket room of Womble-Olds honored Miss Inez Ross, who is to marry Woodrow Gipson.

Hostesses were Mesdames E. L. Seitz, R. L. Bandy and Ross Kirk.

Thirty guests called.

A program featured piano selections by Mrs. Frances Chambers; a reading, "My Husband," by Mrs. Ross Kirk and a reading, "Essay on Man," by Miss Lucille Coltharp.

Mrs. Bandy presided at the tea table which was laid with a linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink dahlias. Mrs. Bandy presided at the silver service and Mrs. Seitz registered guests.

Mrs. Corky Boseman and Mrs. Willis Woods were accepted as new members. Delegates to federation meetings who were appointed are Mrs. H. E. Searsy and Mrs. Ray Langford.

Guests were Mrs. Harold Vinson and Mrs. Rodney Heck. Other members were Mesdames Harrison Sage, Jack Lee, Sid Capshaw, Bruce Isom, H. G. Denison, J. R. Snodgrass, W. E. Jones, Jacky Driver and W. D. Power. Roll call was answered with health hints.

Texan Offers To Plead Guilty To Slaying, Reno Police Claim

RENO, Nev., Oct. 27 (AP) — A Reno police officer told a jury today that Mark James Donnelly, Houston, offered to plead guilty to slaying Walter Hempel if "I'll get no more than life."

"I know what you fellows are angling for. Without the gun, your case against me is pretty circumstantial. With that gun, you could send me to the gas chamber.

"It's my life I'm fighting for."

Authorities have not said whether they have located the gun with which Hempel, 73-year-old Lake Tahoe and Pasadena real estate man, was shot to death the night of June 17.

Franklin testified Donnelly made the statement to him and Deputy Sheriff William Driscoll as the two officers were returning Donnelly here after his arrest at Houston.

Donnelly is being tried for murder and District Attorney Harold Taber has indicated he will ask the death penalty if the Texan is convicted.

VA Frowns Upon Use Of Vet Hospital For State Purposes

TEMPLE, Oct. 27. (AP)— A citizens committee reported today that the Veterans Administration does not favor using a part of McCloskey VA hospital as a state eleemosynary institution.

The committee was in Washington last week and talked to VA Chief Carl Gray.

"General Gray told us that he has not received any request to release any McCloskey facilities for state use as an eleemosynary institution but that he did not want to share McCloskey or any other veterans hospital with any other agency," committee Chairman Frank Mayborn said.

Earlier this year a bill was introduced in the legislature proposing the establishment of a state medical school in a portion of McCloskey hospital.

Spur Experiment Station Seeks Low-Cost Control Of Range Covering Mesquite Plant

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 27 (Special)—Mesquite, the invading weed tree, which has infested some 55 million acres of Texas range land may soon be shivering to its bud zone. That is the report made by A. H. Walker, extension range specialist of Texas A. and M. college, upon his return from the recently held field day at the Spur Experiment station.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment station's research work on mesquite control has been concentrated at the Spur station since 1938. Station superintendent R. E. Dickson has directed the work; associate station agronomist C. E. Fisher has been working with various chemicals in an effort to perfect a cheap, simple way to kill mesquite and Dale W. Young, assistant station agronomist, has also assisted with the research.

Danger, Expense Noted

Kerosene, which works fairly well on sandy and porous soils but usually costs too much, and sodium arsenite which is cheaper but dangerous to both man and animals have been the chemicals most widely used and recommended in the past, says Walker.

Those attending the field day were told that 5,000 mixtures of various chemicals had been tested on mesquite at Spur during the past few years. Chemicals are first tried on individual trees in the nursery and then on 20 tree plots. Those showing promise are further tested on 5-acre plots and application is by airplane spraying. One hundred of these 5-acre plots have been treated with the chemicals that have shown best in the preliminary tests. Treatments were made during the spring, summer and fall of this year.

Results so far indicate that 2, 4,5-T and formulations thereof are far superior to any formulations of 2,4-D for mesquite control or eradication. Top kill of mesquites is running up to 95 percent and root kill 25 percent with solutions of 2,4,5-T applied in diesel oil and water in May of this year. Final permanent kill cannot be determined until next spring and Fisher advises ranchmen to wait and see before using any of the chemicals. The cost of the material and application, according to Dale Young, should not run over $3.50 per acre.

Fisher says if you have only a few mesquite trees to kill, an application of pure 2,4-D amine applied with a paint brush to the cut stump should do the job. Those with an acre or so, may spray a 1 percent solution of 2,-4,5-T in diesel or kerosene in a band around the tree from the ground up to 30 inches high and expect satisfactory control. Ranchmen and operators who have large acreages of mesquite to control are advised to wait and observe the results next spring at the Spur station.

Fisher and his co-workers do not expect to get a 100 percent permanent kill, but are hoping they'll be able to recommend a chemical which will give low-cost control of the mesquite for 5 years. The increased forage production during this period should more than pay for the control program. Spring applications of these chemicals have also given excellent control of such weeds as sunflower, Russian thistle, purple nightshade, annual broomweed, buffalo bur and many other troublesome range weeds.

Proper stocking to maintain a good cover of grass on the pastures will become even more important with mesquite control, says Walker. The mesquites, though robbing the grass of needed moisture, have served to protect a lot of our good grasses from livestock. Keeping a cover of better grasses on our range lands is the best insurance against mesquite seedling invasion, says Walker.

1,700 Tech Students Take X-Ray Exams

With only one day left, over 1,700 students of Texas Technological college had taken x-ray examinations offered by the state mobile unit through Thursday, officials reported last night.

The unit will remain on the campus until 6 p. m. today to x-ray students and faculty members. It will move downtown Wednesday for a 10-day stay to examine all Lubbock county residents over 15 years of age.

Sponsored jointly by the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association and the Hub City Kiwanis club, the unit was set up at Tech Tuesday. The x-rays are offered as a free public health service aimed at finding tuberculosis in its early stages and aid in an early cure of possible victims.

All Lubbock county residents wishing to be x-rayed may receive the service at the American Legion post next to the city hall any time between Wednesday and Nov. 12.

Houston Residents Appreciate Police, Press Study Shows

HOUSTON, Oct. 27—(U.P.)—The Houston police department has the support of about 60 per cent of the city residents, the Houston Press reasoned today in disclosing results of a telephone survey.

Reporters for the newspaper kept telephone lines busy on 20 of Houston's 23 exchanges, asking briefly, "What do you think of the Houston Police department?"

Most answers were brief, and in favor of the department, the press said in a front page banner story today. Other persons gave long-winded, scathing replies. In all, 100 calls were made.

The answers ranged, said the press, from "too many crimes unsolved" to "best in the country."

Police Chief B. W. Payne said he thought the 60 per cent figure was too low.

"If the average citizen only knew the police problems more intimately, more than 80 per cent of the people would say police are doing a great job under trying circumstances," Chief Payne noted.

Houston Mayor Pro Tem Tom Needham echoed Payne's statement, and commented, "Houston can be proud of its police department."

Two Men Critically Injured In Explosion Of Cannery Vessel

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Oct. 27 (U.P.)—One man was hurled 80 feet through the air and another was critically burned yesterday when the 73-foot Pacific American Fisheries Co. cannery tender, Howkan exploded and sank at the South Side pier here.

Regnar Jonasson, 54, was blown onto the top of a warehouse. He suffered severe burns and other injuries. Edwin Chapman, 50, in the engine room at the time of the blast, was critically injured with burns around the head and body. Both men are local residents.

The explosion occurred as Chapman turned on a switch to start an auxiliary engine he said.

Windows were shattered within a 200-foot radius of the vessel and parts of the ship were scattered over the water for some distance.

The warehouse which Jonasson landed on is located more than 30 feet from the edge of the wharf and is 80 feet tall.

Woman Warns U. S. Of New Party Threat

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27 (INS)—Vivien Kellems, Connecticut's fiery businesswoman who refuses to take withholding taxes from her employes, today warned that a new third party may be composed of women resulting in a woman president.

The woman industrialist addressed the Southern California Republican Women's association and told the group:

"If you dear, sweet men don't bestir yourselves, we women are going to take over. We'll form a women's party—if you men are nice, we'll let you have an auxiliary—and you can give us the money."

She said that the slogan of the women's party will be "Let's Put Housekeeping in the White House."

Miss Kellems bitterly criticized the nation's foreign policy as "confiscate the wealth and property of the American people by increasingly heavy taxes . . . (and) to take that wealth and squander it all over the world with a prodigal hand."

She declared that "Russia must be served and given everything she wants" and that American money is even "repairing the leaks in the gondolas on the Grand canal."

Kinsey Draws Full House For National Press Club Address

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—Sex reared a scholarly head today at Washington's National Press club.

The guest speaker was Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey of the University of Indiana, author of the best-seller, "Sexual Behavior of the Human Male."

Dr. Kinsey, who is working on the obvious sequel to his well-read treatise, drew a packed house.

Princes, prime ministers, potentates and pundits are regular attractions at the Press club, but nobody ever packed 'em in the way the Hoosier zoologist did.

The doctor's remarks were strictly off-the-record, by his own request.

It may be reported, however, that his dissertation was so technical that some members admitted it surpassed their scientific understanding of the subject.

John C. O'Brien, president of the club, observed in introducing the guest of honor:

"It is generally supposed that we of the National Press club are concerned only with the public behavior of politicians and statesmen. Today, in another field of behavior, we yield to a superior authority."

The club rule which makes such occasions strictly stag was suspended for the occasion and two women psychiatrists were admitted as guests.

However, their professional services were not required.

The official secrecy surrounding Dr. Kinsey's remarks was expected to be dissipated to some extent when married members of the club went home to dinner, thus becoming available for questioning by their respective wives.

The guest list was one of the most diversified in the club's history.

Public officials, business tycoons, professional men and even military leaders were present in formidable numbers.

One rather striking factor was the average age of the audience, which was by no means tender, as indicated by the gray or balding heads and impressive paunches.

This was explained, however, by a member who remarked:

"It just goes to show that a man is never too old to learn something."

Cochran Prisoners Placed In Jail Here

Three prisoners were delivered to the Lubbock county jail Thursday by Sheriff H. D. Crockett and Deputy John Goswick of Cochran county. They are:

Leo Nichols, 37, Whiteface farmer, under indictment by a 72nd district grand jury for murder in the gunshot death of his wife.

Jimmie Johnson, 38-year-old negro from Waxahachie, under grand jury indictment for assault with intent to murder in the non-fatal shooting of another negro, James Rocher, 30.

R. E. Starr, 21, Cochran county negro under a two-year penitentiary sentence for burglary.

Nichols, ordered held in denial of bail by Judge Dan Blair, was brought to Lubbock from the Hockley county jail in Levelland. Johnson and Starr were brought here from the Morton jail.

TEXAN KILLED IN WRECK

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 27 (AP) — A man identified by the state patrol through papers in his possession as Grant Hutson, of Fritch, Tex., was killed instantly today in a headon collision of two trucks, 35 miles northeast of here.

Veteran Houston Newspaperman Dies After Extended Illness

HOUSTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—Joseph P. Mellina Michetich, 58, died at 2:15 a.m. today in St. Joseph's infirmary, following an extended illness.

Michetich had been a proofreader at the Houston Chronicle for four years.

A native of Galveston, Michetich worked on the Galveston News-Tribune for 20 years, and at the time he left was mechanical superintendent for the paper. He served his apprenticeship on the old Galveston Tribune.

He was educated in the Galveston public schools and Jesuit college there.

Michetich was a member of Queen of Peace Catholic church, the International Typographical union, the Redmen tribe and the Royal neighbors.

B-50 Bomber Tested In Sub-Zero Weather

SEATTLE, Oct. 27. (AP)—The Boeing Airplane company reported today a specially-equipped B-50 bomber has completed successfully Arctic tests at temperatures down to 83 below.

The company said the plane went through a two-hour test at the 83-below temperature. It flew for prolonged periods at temperatures ranging upward from 40 degrees (fahrenheit) below zero.

Modifications for the superfortress included a self-contained engine pre-heating system, cold-starting accessories and a special oil dilution system. There were 640 installations to record temperatures in almost every portion of the big plane.

The tests were made while the plane was based at Ladd field, Alaska.

Fort Worth Pigeon Club Seeks 157 Birds Missing In Flight

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Fort Worth Pigeon club is missing 157 of its birds and would like very much to get them back.

Joe Rowland, vice-president of the club, said early today that nothing has been seen or heard of the pigeons since they were released in Beeville, Texas, last Sunday at 7 a. m. to race back to Fort Worth. The club's only clue is that the weather in South Texas was "bad" last Sunday.

The birds were all banded with the identification "AU-49-Fort Worth." Rowland's Fort Worth address is Route 2, Box 448, and he would like to hear from anyone who may have seen the missing pigeons.

Westerners, Lamesa Meet In District 3-AA Tilt Tonight

12,000 Fans Are Expected To Jam Jones Stadium, Tornadoes 'Ready'

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

The Lubbock Westerners open their bid for the District 3-AA football championship tonight, meeting Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes at 8 o'clock in Jones Stadium.

An estimated crowd of 12,000 is expected to jam the stadium for the tilt, and prospects of fair weather are good although partly cloudy skies is the forecast.

Both teams are sporting fine records for the 1949 campaign, with Lubbock considered the favorite in the battle because of six previous victories without defeat. Lamesa has won five games and lost one, that a 32-13 decision to Pampa last week.

Action-Packed Tilt Seen

An action-packed game is expected between the two friendly rivals, meeting for the first time in football since 1946 when Lubbock won a 7-6 victory, and Lamesa will have "upset" on its mind.

Several hundred Lamesa fans are expected to follow the team to Lubbock in anticipation of a big night against the number one team in the state.

Westerner Coach Pat Pattison has given the Cowpokes medium-heavy workouts all week, with a large amount of concentration on defense against passes. The possibility of a strong ground attack by the Tornadoes has not been overlooked, however, and this has come in for lots of attention.

DUCATS ON SALE
Tickets are still on sale at the high school athletic office, and reserved seats may be bought for $1.50. Radio station KCBD will broadcast the tilt.

Monday the second and third teams scrimmaged, with the first team seeing action in a rough workout Tuesday before the tapering off process began Wednesday.

Lamesa Suffers Injuries

All the Westerners are expected to be ready to go, and Coach Pattison is expecting an "all out" game by the Lamesans.

Tornado head Coach Bob Harrell is faced with injuries and sickness among his squad members, but the team is reported to be in fine mental shape and doing their best work of the year in practice this week.

The Tornadoes scrimmaged early in the week, and the Tuesday workout resulted in a broken right hand to second string Fullback Don Hackney.

The running game has come in for lots of attention from Harrell, last week's ground offensive netting but six yards against Pampa, with 19 of 40 passes clicking for 268 yards. A workout under the lights Thursday night was intended to get the timing right on plays and sharpen the attack to a fine point for the Westerners.

Missing the game will be Jamie Person, regular left tackle, who is confined to bed with a virus infection, and replacing him will be Phil Johnson. Others on the sick list are substitute Guards Don Holt and Donald Cotten, both out with the flu, but Cotten may see limited service.

Sparking the offense for Lamesa will be Bobby Hawkins and Ronald Chapman with their air warfare, and Dick Echols, Larry Lattimore and Delbert Dickenson will see plenty of action on running plays.

Lubbock 15 Pounds Heavier

Lamesa is considered as one of the best little teams in the state, but it will be outweighed almost 15 pounds per man against the Westerners.

The squad of 28 players will leave Lamesa at 12:30 today for Lubbock.

Back to lead the Westerners is Quarterback Bobby Brown, who had the most sensational night of his career last week against Amarillo as Lubbock turned the trick on their old rivals, 47-7.

Co-captains for the game are Guard Freddy Gary and Center Douglas Wienke, both of whom displayed fine team work last week. The two players have been standouts all season, and Wienke is rapidly coming to the front on defense, with Gray being one of the reasons for the large holes in the oppositions' right defensive side of the line.

Dunbar Defeats Vernon Gridders

Dunbar's Panthers kept their two year home record intact last night at Chapman field, defeating the Booker T. Washington Bearcats of Vernon, 20 to 6, before 500 chilled spectators.

The victory was the fourth for Dunbar this year against two losses—both on road trips—and the Panthers lost no time in scoring, taking the opening kickoff and marching 55 yards to paydirt in five plays, with Fullback Eddie Bullock carrying over from the one-yard line after Halfback Lawrence Robinson picked up 19 yards to that point on the previous play. Robinson plunged over for the point after touchdown.

Both teams scored in the second quarter, with Dunbar hitting with lightening like speed on Bullock's 60-yard scamper around right end on the first play after a Vernon punt. A pass from Quarterback Fred (Joe) Wright to End Arthur Jones made the score 14-0 in favor of the Panthers.

The Bearcats struck back late in the second quarter on a pass play from Milton Green to Beauford Berry which covered 70 yards. Green's long wobbly pass was batted up into the air by a Panther defender, with Berry coming in fast to pick up the ball and race 45 yards for the tally. The try for point was no good.

Dunbar kicked off to Vernon in the third period, and after three downs Fullback Berry kicked out of bounds on the midfield stripe. On the first play from scrimmage Halfback Otis Walker exploded over right tackle for the six-pointer on a beautiful run to conclude scoring for the night.

Vernon played on even terms with the Panthers in the last quarter, twice driving deep into Lubbock territory before losing the ball, once on downs and the second time on a fumble shortly before the end of the game. Vicious tackling by both teams marked play in the final half.

In addition to supplying game color with his weaving and waving, Center Odell Gary was at the bottom of many tackles for Dunbar, but the best defensive work was that of Tackle Dennis Sanders and Guard Joe Billy Hewing. Bullock was outstanding in the backfield for the Panthers.

Tackle H. B. Simpson played standout ball for Vernon on defense before he was injured in the fourth quarter and removed from the game. Berry, L. D. Favors and Chick Gates shouldered most of the offensive load for the Bearcats.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 27. (AP)—Three Texans—Warren L. Riepen of Harlingen, Joe Moore, jr., San Antonio, and Earl Stewart of Dallas—have registered for the Mexican National Amateur Golf Championship tournament which starts Saturday.

Cooper Bows To Petersburg

COOPER, Oct. 27. (Special)—Coach Joe King's Petersburg Buffaloes registered their third District 4-B grid victory of the year here tonight by outscoring the Cooper Pirates, 32-14, before a scant crowd of 100 fans.

The Buffs piled up all their points in the first three quarters, then coasted to triumph as Coach Sol Everett's Cooper crew took charge of the scoring during the final period.

Paul Main returned punts for 60 and 70 yards for two touchdowns as he sparked the Petersburg attack.

Herbert Welch also tallied two touchdowns for the Buffs, both on end-around plays, and Kenneth Meadows added the fifth Petersburg marker.

Meadows and Reagans each accounted for one extra point.

Both Cooper touchdowns came in the fourth stanza. Melba Thompson scored the first, with Don Greene adding the extra point. Bob Vinson ran 25 yards to score after taking a pass from Bobby Dodd, then ran across the extra point.

First downs were all square at 8-8.

The Petersburg line, led by Herbert Welch, Hal Hegi and John McCasland, outcharged the Pirate forward wall consistently.

WHITEFACE'S ANTELOPES BEAT FRENSHIP, 20 TO 0

WHITEFACE, Oct. 27—(Special)—The Frenship Tigers fought a game, but losing, battle here tonight as they bowed to the Whiteface Antelopes, 20-0, in a District 4-B football contest witnessed by 400 spectators.

Whiteface, the top-heavy pregame favorite, had a tough time besting Coach W. L. Willis' scrappy Tigers. But, although Frenship held a 10-9 edge in first downs, Coach L. S. Salser's Antelopes had too much overall power and walked off with the triumph —their fourth in five conference games this season.

Halfback Oscar Power launched the Antelope scoring in the first quarter by intercepting a Frenship pass and racing 25 yards to a touchdown. Max Dickerson added the extra point from placement.

Quarterback Johnny Plunkett scored the second Whiteface touchsweep in the second quarter. Wendell Walker's try for extra point was low.

The third Antelope marker came on Halfback Dean Reynolds' three-yard plunge in the third quarter. Dickerson again converted.

Frenship twice penetrated the Antelope's 20-yard line, going all the way to the four-yard stripe in the fourth quarter before the Whiteface defense tightened.

Walker, alternating at quarterback and halfback, and Center Tommy Galvin paced the Whiteface team, while Larry Cox, in the line, and Jerry Gladden, in the backfield, were outstanding for the losers.

Next week Whiteface plays host to Idalou in another District 4-B engagement.

Ralls Upsets Abernathy, 13-0

Strong Defense Stops Antelopes

RALLS, Oct. 27 (Special) — Ralls' Jackrabbits turned in one of the major surprises of the District 3-A grid season here tonight by blanking the favored Abernathy Antelopes, 13-0, before a crowd of 1,500 fans.

Coach D. W. (Doc) Brantley's Jackrabbits threw up a foolproof defense that kept Abernathy outside the 20-yard line throughout the game as Ralls dominated play most of the way.

The Jackrabbits, in chalking up their third conference win against two defeats, rolled up 16 first downs to six for the losers.

Ralls took the game's opening kickoff and powered 80 yards to score, with C. H. Verett, jr., going over from 13 yards out on a right-end play.

Bobby Gustin chalked up the second Ralls touchdown in the third quarter on a five-yard plunge over guard. Verett ran the extra point.

Abernathy's biggest scoring threat came late in the third quarter when Snodgrass intercepted a Jackrabbit pass and raced 55 yards before he was hauled down on the Ralls' 25-yard line.

Verett and Gustin sparked the Jackrabbit attack, while Guards Bob Jennings and Boyce Bryan checked in stellar defensive performances.

Warren Ramsey Leads Juniors

ARLINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP) — Warren Ramsey of Kilgore leads the ball-carriers in the Southwestern Junior College Conference with 540 yards on 88 runs.

But he's only five yards ahead of Jim McNeil, Lamar (Beaumont) halfback, who has 535 yards on 89 tries.

Dan Page of Tyler continues to top the passers. He has completed 30 for 645 yards. Second is Richard Harvey of San Angelo with 19 for 456 yards.

Billy Porter of Tyler leads the punters with an average of 42.1 on 26 kicks. Second is Rad Mitchell of Tarleton State with 37.9 on 42 boots.

Topping the pass receivers is Dan McGinty of Tyler with 13 catches for 331 yards. Earl Brite of San Angelo is next with three for 144 yards.

Leading the scoring is Bill Lierman of Lamar with 49 points. McNeil and Jim Dan Pace of Lamar are tied for second with 42 each.

LORENZO CAGERS WIN

PETERSBURG, Oct. 27 (Special) —The Lorenzo VFW basketball team drubbed the ePtersburg All-Stars, 47-24, tonight in the feature game of a twin bill sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Petersburg's All-Stars won the girls' game, however, by edging out the Lorenzo sextet, 25-24.

Tech Picadors Meet Odessa Junior Team

Coach Allie White sent his freshman football squad at Texas Tech through a light workout yesterday, emphasizing blocking and timing for the second consecutive day until he expressed satisfaction with the Picadors.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in Jones Stadium, the Picadors make their second appearance of the current grid season, facing the strong Odessa Junior college eleven. A large crowd is anticipated to watch the fortunes of the junior Red Raiders, who have a powerhouse this year.

Coach Red Coats brings a powerful eleven of its own here, boasting many members of the former Odessa High school eleven that fought its way almost to a state championship. The junior college squad boasts a heavy forward wall and a swift backfield.

The Odessans probably will rely on a strong ground game mixed with an aerial attack that has scored about half of the touchdowns this year. And the Odessans have scored in all but one game, rolling up 97 points in five games to 65 for its opponents.

Odessa Junior college has a 12-0 loss to Cisco Junior college, and a 26-20 loss to San Angelo Junior college in which the winners scored the vital touchdown in the final 20 seconds of play. Victories have been over Big Spring Junior college 19-8, Ranger Junior college 26-19 and Clifton Junior college 32-0.

The Picadors have been tested only by West Texas State college's first year men, the junior Raiders winning 59-7. A game last week with New Mexico Military Institute was cancelled by rain.

Sparking the Odessa attack will be Quarterback Alfred Arnold of Odessa, a 175-pound signal caller and passer. He shares duties with Halfback Burr Reynolds, also of Odessa, who tips the beam at 172 pounds. Loy Mead, a 145-pounder from Breckenridge, at left halfback and Toots Mathis, a 180-pound fullback from Crane, round out the backfield.

The line is composed of Clinton Hill of Odessa, a six foot, two-inch, 175 pounder, and Ken Griffin of Odessa, another six-foot, two-inch, 175 pounder, at the ends. Tackles are Alvin Whaley of Crane, a 205 pounder, and Bill Cox of Carlsbad, N. M., a 240 pounder. The guards are Russ Young of Odessa, 185 pounder, and Robert Schutte of Odessa, 180 pounder. Center is Jack Walker of Odessa, a 198 pound boy.

Women's Golf Association To Hold First Tourney Friday

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 27—(Special)—The first annual tournament of the South Plains Women's Golf association will begin Friday with qualifying rounds at Brownfield Country club.

An entry list totalling 50 is expected for the event, in which match play is scheduled Saturday and Sunday.

Each tournament flight will have eight players, Mrs. Jack Shirley, tourney chairman, has announced.

The SPWGA, organized earlier this year, has members at Plainview, Levelland, Brownfield, Lamesa, Lubbock and Meadowbrook Country clubs.

GOOD BYE FIVE DOLLARS

WACO, Oct. 26. (AP)—A Waco man, gnashing his teeth and moaning in a slow-moving football ticket line, heard a kind offer today. A fellow sufferer said he'd buy the tickets. ## Seagraves Downs Coahoma, 34-19

COAHOMA, Oct. 27 (Special)—Seagraves' Eagles, of District 4-A South, tonight spotted Coahoma High's team a 19-0 lead, then came roaring back to gain a 34-19 triumph in a non-conference football encounter.

Paced by Wendall Shive and Bobby Cathey, Coahoma punched across three quick touchdowns to lead by 19-0 early in the second quarter.

But then the visitors came to life and completely dominated play the rest of the way.

Bob Dale passed 20 yards to Smith Bennett for the first Eagle touchdown and Bennett converted to leave the score at 19-7 at halftime.

Two brilliant, twisting runs by Nelson Smith gave Coach Frank Sonntag's Seagraves team two third-quarter touchdowns. The first gallop was for 30 yards and the second for 40. Dale's successful conversion after Smith's first scoring sprint provided the point that enabled the Eagles to take a 20-19 lead.

Two long drives featuring the work of Troy Martin, Benny Wright, Dale and Smith resulted in two more Seagraves tallies in the closing stanza. Dale scored both six-pointers on short plunges, with Jack Hale adding the conversions.

Jim Singleton, Red Berry, Max Townsend, Kenneth Davis, Billy Willis, Tommy Bicknell and Hale turned in top performances in the Seagraves line.

The Eagles play hosts to the Tahoka Bulldogs next Friday night in Seagraves' annual homecoming game. A junior high game between the two schools is scheduled for Thursday night at Seagraves.

Pioneers Drop Tussle, 18-13

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 27 (Special) — Lubbock's Pioneers bowed to the Littlefield B team, 18-13, here today in the last four minutes of the game.

The loss was the second for the Lubbock squad in as many weeks and avenged an earlier, 12-31, loss by Littlefield at the hands of the same team.

Lubbock scored on touchdowns by Robert Gibson and Charles Northington, and Ken Aldridge booted the extra point following the second six-pointer.

Littlefield opened scoring in the first quarter, but Northington tied the count with a 50-yard dash in the second period. The winners pushed across a tally shortly before halftime to take a 12-6 lead.

Lubbock went ahead in the third stanza on Gibson's plunge from the 10-yard line and Aldridge's successful conversion put the Pioneers ahead.

But in the final period Littlefield put on a drive that ended in a touchdown to sew up the game.

Pioneer Center John Pittman suffered an injury to his left hand in the contest, and an x-ray following the team's return to Lubbock showed a fracture of small bones in the hand. He is expected to be ready for action before the next game, however.

Hillsboro Junior College Is Winner Over Allen Academy

HILLSBORO, Oct. 27. (AP) — Hillsboro college eliminated Allen Academy, Bryan, Tex., from the Texas Junior College Conference football race today with a 32-6 win.

Allen scored in the first quarter on a 27 yard pass from Albert Brack to Jack Denton.

Hillsboro came back in the second quarter to score on a nine-yard run by Jerry Campbell. Tommy Cole kicked the point.

In the third period Hillsboro marched down the field from the kickoff with George McClinton going over from the eight. Cole converted.

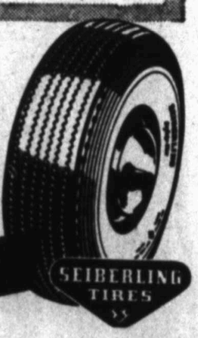

Hillsboro scored three times in the last quarter.

Red Raiders Leave For Houston Today

Underdog Tech Will Meet Owls

Texas Tech's Red Raiders, 37 strong, were due to board a Braniff International Airlines DC-4 at 9 this morning for Houston, where tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 they will meet Rice Institute in the eighth renewal of hostilities between the two schools.

Coach Dell Morgan settled on eight ends, seven tackles, five guards, four centers and 13 backs for the game, which is expected to be wide open and rough. Few members of the 1949 varsity squad were left behind, including three injured players.

After arrival in Houston, the squad was to go to the Shamrock hotel, famed multi-millionaire Glenn McCarthy's creation, which will be headquarters tonight. The squad will board their plane soon after the game Saturday night to fly back to Lubbock, returning about 9:30 p. m.

Injury Jinx Strikes

The injury jinx, which has been on the Raiders all season, struck again yesterday as the squad wound up preparation for the game against the Owls. Center Bob Hix, a senior this year, was taken to West Texas hospital for x-rays and observation overnight after colliding with End Bill Sharpley.

Hix and Sharpley ran together as Hix, on defense, attempted to break up a pass play during dummy scrimmage. Both fell to the ground, but Sharpley got to his feet seconds later. Hix had trouble breathing and spit some blood. He immediately was taken to the Raider training room and Trainer Mason Gorby took him to the hospital.

Tech's final drill yesterday was a light one, with only light contact work. Emphasis was on smoothing up Raider offensive plays and defense against Rice plays. The Raiders went through a snappy drill and, without more than token opposition, their plays looked good. And for the second day, the Raiders looked good against Owl offensive weapons.

Beat Owls In 1944

The Raiders hold only one victory over the Owls, beating them 13-7 in 1944. Rice won the first game in the series, in 1942, 19-7, and all other ones. The Owls took the 1943 game 13-0, repeated by the same score in 1945, won 41-6 in 1946, by 40-7 in 1947 and eked out a 14-7 victory in Lubbock last year.

Injured Don Williams Is Given Watch By Student Body At Tech

Don Williams, Texas Tech football player injured in the Tech-Texas A and M football game at San Antonio Sept. 24, was presented a watch by the student body Thursday.

Williams was moved to the campus hospital earlier this week, where physicians say he must remain for several more days. He suffered a dislocated left knee with complications as a result of a block in the Texas A and M game.

Curtis Sterling, president of the Tech Student Council, presented the watch to Williams on behalf of the student body. It was bought with money taken from the student's activity ticket fund.

Meadow's Bronchos Drub Plains, 44-6

PLAINS, Oct. 27—(Special)—Meadow's Bronchos notched their fifth straight District 4-B football win here tonight by crushing Plains, 44-6, behind a brilliant offensive paced by Halfback Robert White.

Meadow ran up a 25-0 lead in the first quarter, as White scored two touchdowns on runs of 52 and 26 yards and passed to Gene Johnson for anothersix-pointer. Fullback Jesse Upton accounted for the other first-period score with an eight-yard plunge, while Lawrence Joplin added an extra point from placement.

White got loose on a 65-yard ramble after taking a Plains punt in the third quarter for another tally, with Jerry Hinson passing to Gene Joplin for the extra point.

Hinson and Upton each scored in the fourth stanza, on plunges of six and four yards, respectively.

Newlon Rowland went over tackle for three yards to score Plain's lone touchdown in the third period.

Coach Lloyd Hunt's unbeaten, untied Meadow aggregation made nine first downs to seven for the losers, who have not yet broken into the District 4-B victory column.

White and Upton, in the backfield, and Jerry Roberts and Dan Evans, in the line, were outstanding for Meadow, while Rowland, Dubbie Bookout, Dean Light and T. R. Henson turned in good performances for Coach Bill Adams' Plains team.

The triumph enabled Meadow to retain undisputed possession of first place in 4-B.

BY CHOC HUTCHESON

Coach Pat Pattison, with Amarillo's bloodied scalp still dangling from his belt, sends his Lubbock High Westerners out after victim No. 7 tonight at Jones stadium.

Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes furnish the opposition this time, and Pattison indicated Thursday that he expects the visitors to put up a scrappy battle.

In view of Lamesa Coach Bob Harrell's earlier statement that "my boys played their worst game of the year against Pampa," tonight's tussle might be much closer than comparative scores indicate. Lubbock, you know, downed Pampa by 33-20, and the Harvesters in turn stopped Lamesa 32-13. So a direct score comparison would make the Westerners a 32-point favorite.

In any event tonight's tilt looms as a wide-open offensive battle.

Thursday afternoon, Pattison made no secret of his intention to have the Westerners do plenty of passing tonight.

"If the weather is favorable, we plan to do at least our share of the passing," he commented.

"Our share" might prove to be quite a bit, since Lamesa tossed 40 aerials against Pampa last week.

G. I. Madison, Andrews quarterback, had a field night against Monahans last week. Madison's passes gained 110 yards from scrimmage as his Mustangs thumped the defending state Class A champs, 19-14. One of the quarterback's aerials brought a touchdown, while both other Mustang scores were set up by his tosses. To date Andrews trails only Wink in total offense in District 5-A this season. The Mustangs have amassed 2,016 yards—1,402 rushing and 614 passing. . .Only four of the ten teams in the National Football league have gained more yards rushing than passing this year. They are Green Bay, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and the Chicago Cardinals, Chicago's big bad Bears lead in total yardage, and also in total passing gains. . .Bobby Brown must have grown considerably since I last saw him yesterday. An Odessa sports scribe describes the Westerner quarterback as "6 feet 2 and weighing 190 pounds. . .Actually, Brown stands an even 6 feet and weighs 157 pounds. . .The Phillips 66 basketball team currently is touring Chile—and, as usual, winning all its games handily. . .Nov. 11 is a big date on the South Plains schoolboy football calendar. In addition to the Lubbock-Odessa classic, there also will be Slaton at Post, Levelland at Lamesa, Crosbyton at Floydada and Olton at Hale Center. All are important conference clashes.

City Open Golf Winners Named

More matches in the City Open Golf tournament were reported Wednesday as weather continued fair, and all semi-final matches have been played in the three brackets. Play is at Lubbock Country club.

In the second flight both finalists have been determined, with A. C. Jackson advancing with a 2 and 1 victory over Ira Carpenter, and Jack Cole topping A. C. Becker, 1-up.

A minor upset in the championship flight saw Mance Allen score a 1-up win over Dick Jennings in their match. Jennings won medalist honors in the tourney with a five-under-par 66 and was rated as one of the top contenders for this year's crown.

Allen will play the veteran Chick Trout, who defeated Raymond Marshall, 1-up, for the right to advance to the finals.

In the upper bracket of the championship flight A. L. Holton dumped R. J. Dempsey, 6 and 5, and he now plays Jimmy Goldman. Goldman advanced by stopping Lindsey Telford, last year's champion, in a quarter-finals match.

In the first flight Dr. R. Z. Abell won by default from C. W. Nance; Dick Willbanks edged Joe Horne, 1-up, in 19 holes; E. A. Hindman ousted Major Steed Rountree, 2 and 1; and S. W. Tinsley beat O. A. Brock, 3 and 2.

First flight consolation winners were Roy Cooper over A. R. Alldridge, 4 and 3; Jack Trammel over Clyde Fortune, 4 and 3; H. R. Rankin by default over C. S. Mitchell; Houston Trammel over Cecil Horne, 1-up in 20 holes; and Sid Claiborne over O. C. Herrin, 1-up.

Second flight consolation winners were Capt. H. W. Gilmore over Jack Burke, 4 and 3; Dean Cole over Aaron Majors, 2 and 1; and M/Sgt. Leo Hess over Jack Crawford, 2 and 1.

Coaltown, Capot In Pimlico Track Event

BALTIMORE, Oct. 27. (AP) —You pay your money and you take your choice, but it won't make much difference financially either way in tomorrow's Pimlico Special.

The odds on both Coaltown and Capot are going to be small.

They'll start off officially at 3 to 5 (you put up five to get back eight) on Coaltown and even money on Capot. That will be the morning line according to Sam Keller, Pimlico's pricemaker.

After that, the winning payoff will be determined by the bettors, and they aren't expected to change it much. There's strong sentiment for both colts on the eve of the 13th renewal of the Special.

While the odds may be small, there's a big stake in the race—even bigger than the purse of $15,000 to the winner. It's the "horse of the year" title.

Calumet voluntarily put the title on the line by agreeing to run Coaltown alone and keep Ponder out of the Special. Both were eligible, but Greentree trainer John Gaver said he wouldn't start Capot against the Calumet pair.

Coaltown had "horse of the year" honors sewed up, but if Capot beats him tomorrow it's not going to be so certain. Particularly since Capot whipped Coaltown Oct. 5 in the Sysonby Mile.

If he does it twice in a row, Capot probably will knock off two 1949 titles at one swoop. So far he's been vying with Ponder for designation as the best three-year-old and undoubtedly will take that honor also by beating the four-year-old Coaltown.

Bob Foley Named Assistant Cage Coach For Rice Owls

HOUSTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—Bob Foley was named assistant basketball coach at Rice Institute.

Foley was a guard on last year's Rice team which finished in a tie with Arkansas and Baylor for the Southwest Conference championship.

He will handle the freshman team and assist head Coach Don Suman, who this year moved up after serving as an assistant to Joe Davis.

Davis now is devoting full time to football.

P. F. Brown Captures Elementary Crown

The P. F. Brown school rolled to the southside elementary school football championship Thursday by scoring in every quarter to defeat the George M. Hunt school, 25-7.

Coach Frank Latta's Brown school gridders will meet the northside champions Nov. 4, on Chapman field. The northside championship will be decided Monday with the George Wolfforth-Sanders school clash.

End Milton Daniel blocked a Hunt school punt with the game only four plays old, and raced over the goal line for the first score. Quarterback Delman Hilton and Fullback Larry Warren provided a backfield punch for the Brown school team for the remainder of the game.

Coach D. C. Heath's Hunt school eleven scored in the fourth quarter. The game was played on the George R. Bean school field.

Notre Dame's Coach Leahy Will Miss Saturday Game Due To Flu

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 27. (AP)—Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame went to bed with the flu today and the Irish squad departed without him for its Saturday game against Navy at Baltimore.

Athletic Director Ed (Moose) Krause took charge pending Leahy's recovery.

Baylor, TCU In Top SWC Tussle

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Three teams made their last stands in the Southwest Conference football race Saturday. At least one of them will be ushered out of the championship picture.

Baylor's unbeaten, untied Bears meet Texas Christian at Waco in the feature game of the week. It matches two great aerial attacks and it's the Chrisians' biggest moment. They must win this one or call it a season so far as the title is concerned. They've already lost a game.

Defeat for Baylor would leave Rice high and dry in first place. The Owls play Texas Tech of the Border Conference tomorrow at Houston.

75,000 At Cotton Bowl

At Dallas Texas and Southern Methodist will battle before a sell-out crowd of 75,000 in the Cotton Bowl. In this game the loser will be out of the race. Doak Walker returns to action for the Methodist game against a Texas team that will hardly be at the peak it knew last week against Rice.

All-America Walker missed last week's game with Kentucky because of illness.

Texas A. and M. journeys up to Fayetteville, to play Arkansas. This probably is the only chance the Aggies will have of winning a single Conference game. Arkansas is crippled but no more than it was last week when it upset Vanderbilt.

The Aggie-Arkansas game means nothing in the Conference race except perhaps to determine if A. and M. has company in the Conference cellar. Both have lost two Conference games.

The stadium will be jammed at Waco as the Bears fight to keep abreast of Rice in the Conference race and also to remain among the nation's undefeated, untied teams. It's homecoming at Baylor.

Lindy Berry, Texas Christian's great passer, matches throws with Adrian Burk, the greatest Baylor pitcher since Billy Patterson flung that pigskin for the Bears in the thirties.

There also will be another individual duel—Morris Bailey, Texas Christian's wingman who leads the Conference in pass-receiving, goes against J. D. Ison, Baylor's great catcher who is in second place.

Southern Methodist is a three and one-half-point favorite in local wagering circles to beat Texas while Baylor is given a 7½-point bulge. Arkansas is granted 16 points and Rice is a 28-point selection to blast Texas Tech.

Wayland Plans High School Cage Tourney

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 27. (Special) —Wayland college plans to hold its first annual High School Invitational basketball tournament December 16 and 17.

Each team will play three games making it easier to measure the individual strength of each squad. First, second, third and consolation honors will gain the winning squads trophies.

The eight teams picked by Wayland Athletic department to compete in the tourney are consistently strong in basketball. Says Coach Harley Redin, "The tournament should bring together some of the top teams in this area."

Basketeers that will compete for the trophies come from Plainview, Lubbock, Gruver, Sudan, Samnorwood, Childress, Shallowater and Hollis, Oklahoma.

Feature game of the tournament will be a tussle between East Central State college from Ada, Okla., and the Wayland Pioneers Friday night, December 16.

COWBOYS MEET REDSKINS

The Carroll Thompson Cowboys and O. L. Slaton Redskins will meet at 4 p.m. today in a crucial city junior high football game at Chapman field.

Lubbock Church Begins Building Program With 'Kick-Off' Banquet

Over 100 members and friends of Forrest Heights Methodist church last night attended a kick-off banquet for the church's building program. The gathering was held in Fellowship hall of First Methodist church.

Rev. H. D. Seago, pastor of the First Methodist church of Seminole, was principal speaker. In his address, "Our Challenge," Rev. Seago stressed that "our obligations to God can never be completely fulfilled because we always will owe more to Him than we can ever repay." The main challenge, he said, lies in fulfilling these obligations to God as much as is humanly possible.

Invocation was asked by Rev. George E. Turrentine, pastor of the First Methodist church at Abernathy. Ralph Krebbs was master of ceremonies for the banquet.

Other Speakers Given

Others who were recognized during the program and who spoke briefly were: Rev. Burgin Watkins, pastor of Forrest Heights Methodist church; S. S. Forrest, a member of the Church Planning committee, who spoke on the potentialities for service which Forrest Heights church has; Dr. J. O. Haymes, Methodist district superintendent, who pointed out that Forrest Heights is one of the fastest-growing Methodist churches in the entire area; and Mrs. S. Lamar Forrest, whose late husband donated the church building site at Thirty-third and Monroe Ave.

Gene Quest, chairman of the Church Planning committee, explained the set-up of the committee and how other committees — namely the finance, publicity, and building committees — have evolved out of it.

Committee Members Speak

Mrs. O. C. Southall, a member of the Church Planning committee, spoke on the aims of the committee in planning a church building which would incorporate comfort, economy, and beauty. Bill Cartwright, church member who is associated with the agricultural firm of O. R. Walker, told of plans for construction of the first unit of the church.

Elmer Tarbox, co-chairman of the Church Finance committee, presented plans for the financial campaign which will be launched soon.

Members and guests received copies of the brochure, prepared by a committee of church members, which contains detail drawings and elevations of the proposed church structure.

Board Chairman Present

Others who were recognized for reasons of special activities or duties included: Mrs. O. R. Copeland, president of the church W.S.C.S. and general chairman for the banquet; Mrs. Paul Brenneman, vice-president of the W.S.C.S.; Roger Poff, church school superintendent; F. H. Myrick, co-chairman of the Church Finance committee and chairman of the Board of Stewards.

Other guests attending the banquet were O. R. Walker, architect; Mrs. Jewel Roberts and Turner Kimmel, members of the O. R. Walker architectural firm; Mrs. S. S. Forrest, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Copenhaver.

Bright Light Seen Shooting Across Sky

Mystery Flash Is Observed By New York Area Residents

(By The Associated Press)

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 27—A mysterious "something," which gave off a bright light, shot through the sky last night, numerous observers reported. Descriptions varied widely.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Troidl said he saw "a big spot of blue."

"It turned white like the sun," he said. "It lasted long enough for me to have a good look. It was so big it lit up a whole park and the street I was on was bright as day."

David E. Lewis, an amateur sky gazer, said he saw "a green ball of fire shooting through the sky and trailing sparks." It was in the southern sky, he said, and traveling from east to west.

Mrs. Elizabeth Webster said she was chatting with a neighbor in her back yard when she saw what looked like "an immense skyrocket" to her.

Two guards at the Bell Aircraft Corp. plant near Niagara Falls, Leo V. Moynihan and Charles W. Hoagland, said they sighted what appeared to them to be a blue flame "falling out of the sky."

A Bell spokesman said one of the firm's engineers reported seeing what looked like "a blue wing tip of an airplane, but that it was traveling too fast through the sky to have been attached to a plane."

The Buffalo Courier-Express quoted a Bell official as saying "some tests" were under way at the plant last night.

George Davis, Buffalo Science museum astronomer, said "it" might have been meteors.

said three cases of canned deviled tongue and two cases of canned chili had been removed from a boxcar in the railway yards.

Police were investigating the possibility that someone had entered S & W garage, at 710 Thirteenth. The lock on a door had been pried off, but personnel employed there had not "found anything missing," police reports said.

Sold To Wrong Man

Daniel Stanley Jones, 31, of Nashville was $100 poorer as result of a "sale" he made to Gene Norris, a member of Moore's Bonded patrol, corporation court officials said.

He approached Norris and suggested he could deliver a case of eggs if the patrolman wanted any Norris said he could use the eggs. Jones left and came back in a brief time with a sack of potatoes instead. The patrolman arrested him. The charge said the potatoes came from a nearby produce company.

Jones pleaded guilty of theft under $5. He told the arresting patrolman, "I tried to sell to the wrong man."

Four persons have been cited to appear in 99th district court at 10 a. m. Nov. 9, and show cause why they should not be adjudged in contempt of court in connection with alleged trafficking in alcoholic beverages.

They are T. G. Simms, Harold (Schoolboy) Long, M. J. Williams, and Jake Hill.

The orders, signed by Judge G. V. Pardue, were based on petitions filed by E. A. Gordon, chief deputy supervisor of the Texas Liquor Control board. They accused Simms of having transported alcoholic beverages July 22 and July 31, Long with transporting and illegal possession Aug. 6 and July 13, Williams with illegal possession July 24, and Hill with illegal possession July 24.

Bond of $1,000 was set by D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, in binding Henry Drake, about 50, over to grand jury investigation of a forgery charge. Robertson also set peace bond of $250 conditioning that John Gschwend, described as about 50, keep the peace toward B. B. Gillean. Gillean had filed an affidavit charging that Gschwend had threatened to do him serious bodily harm.

Judgment fining David "Pete" Moncrief $225 and county court costs was on file Thursday. It was signed after County Judge Walter Davies had accepted a plea of guilty in a liquor law violation complaint dated April 1, 1949, officials said.

DEFENSE WORK OKAYED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—(AP)—President Truman today signed legislation authorizing $166,500,000 of defense construction in Alaska and Okinawa. The projects include housing, sewers, roads, electric power equipment and other improvements needed to maintain defense forces.

Short courses in agriculture are conducted by many universities and colleges annually smuggled four kilograms of uranium to France.

The foreign office claimed the Czechs who were arrested confessed they supplied Helliot and Salabert with information concerning uranium ore for $450.

The note asserted the two Frenchmen "abused their diplomatic position with hostile acts."

Move Seen As Reprisals

(French sources in Paris said the Czech authorities had been "agitating" against the French attaches "for weeks." They viewed the demand for thir recall as a reprisal for France's vote for Yugoslavia as a member of the UN Security Council against Czechoslovakia.)

The rich uranium mines in Eastern Europe have long been reported supplying Russia with important ore requirements for her atomic energy program.

U.S. embassy officials, meanwhile, renewed attempts to visit Samuel Meryn, embassy clerk imprisoned by the Czechs in connection with the previous espionage charges.

U. S. Also Involved

U.S. attaches John G. Heyn and Isaac Patch were ordered out of the country.

Initial attempts by American officials to see Meryn were balked by the Czechs who insisted that a Voice of America broadcast unfavorable to the government be corrected first.

The embassy issued the correction today.

(Secretary of State Dean Acheson said Wednesday that the charges against the Americans were "obviously trumped up to intimidate" the Czechs.)

Traffic Deaths

a total of 45 dead, while The Morning Avalanche statistics through the end of September list 49 dead. The difference of four is explained by the fact that Highway patrol records do not include all deaths in towns, and because the 21-counties in the patrol district do not cover the entire South Plains area. October deaths have pushed the gory toll to the 57 mark.

In addition to the 57 dead, two other South Plains residents have died since Sept. 2 in accidents near the area.

Lubbock county, exclusive of the city, has added twelve names to the death toll. In Lubbock itself, traffic mishaps have taken the lives of two persons, according to police department records, but another death came under the wheels of a car on private property.

One of the deaths came after the last survey on Sept. 2, and 45 injuries have been added during that period.

Property Loss Heavy

On the property damage side of the ledger, Highway patrol estimates through Sept. 30 place the figure at $320,374.50. This does not include mishaps in Lubbock and other large towns on the South Plains, and even the most conservative estimates last night pushed the total figure past the $500,000 mark.

Although not on the South Plains, a mishap at Amarillo resulted in the injury of six Texas Tech students and an Amarillo man on Oct. 21.

The Labor day weekend piled the greatest number of injuries for any three-day period during the past two months, with 30 persons hurt in 31 mishaps. Miraculously, no deaths resulted from this collection of accidents.

Other Highway patrol records through Sept. 30 show 265 accidents with injuries, 456 mishaps with property damage, a total of 684 accidents, and 512 injured.

Street Extension

to study the problem further.

Dispersal system planning calls for the eastward extension of Nineteenth to a convergence with East Broadway at a point several blocks east of the entrance to Mackenzie State park.

Objections to the portions of the new code which would permit the use of copper fittings above ground on plumbing installed in Lubbock were R. G. Scott, business agent of the plumbers' labor union, and R. O. Gibson, executive secretary of the Associated Plumbing Contractors of Lubbock.

Their contention that copper is not suitable as a material for such purposes was disputed vigorously by Thomas F. McDermott, representing the Copper & Brass association of America, and Floyd Read, manager of the J. W. Gray Plumbing company.

Use of the metal is forbidden in the existing code which, it was acknowledged, was not enforced during the period of wartime metal shortages.

Charges Are Considered

Charges have been made, members of the city commission said, that some of the opposition to the legalized use of copper has arisen from the fact that its installation requires less work, and consequently means less money for plumbers than when other metals are used.

Approval of the code on first reading was by the unanimous vote of Mayor W. H. Rodgers and Commissioners W. B. Price, E. K. Hufstedler, John Spikes and Clarence Whiteside.

The mayor announced further that when it comes up for second reading, probably on Nov. 10, he will urge that it be amended to permit the use of copper for underground as well as above-ground plumbing.

"I think copper is just as good as any other metal for most plumbing purposes both underground and above ground, and it would save a lot of folks a lot of money on their plumbing bills," Mayor Rodgers declared.

Other Action Taken

Officials said they did not know why the use of the metal is forbidden in the existing code.

Other routine actions included: The award of a contract to Elmer Terry to remove the base hospital buildings at the wartime Lubbock Army Air field to a site in northeast Lubbock for conversion into a city-county public health and welfare center. The total estimated cost of about $12,000 will be paid by the city and county.

Awarded a contract to the Holden Landscape and Nursery company to prune trees which are close to electric lines on a bid of $1.45 per man per hour.

Authorized the purchase of a Leroy loader for a city street sweeper from Fred Berryhill Equipment company for $1,836.71.

British Labor Regime Upheld In Test Vote

LONDON, Oct. 27. (AP)— Britain's Labor government, beset by economic problems, survived its eighth motion of no confidence in the House of Commons tonight by a vote of 353 to 222. But it was the largest vote mustered by the Conservatives since Labor took over more than four years ago.

The Labor government went on to sweep the field with its own motion of confidence, 337 to 5. Most of its opponents declined to vote. Conservatives, headed by Winston Churchill, offered the no confidence motion.

The tests came at the end of two days of debate on Prime Minister Attlee's slashes of £280,000,000 ($784,000,000) in the year's £3,300,000,000 ($9,240,000,000) budget. These were announced Monday.

RAFB Seeks Use Of City Airport

ties must be available. The only satisfactory airport available for that purpose is the Lubbock Municipal, although Colonel Eld said he has requested an appropriation to rehabilitate the wartime Abernathy Air field. But, even if the money is provided, Eld continued, the Abernathy facility cannot be put into condition for use before next year. Lubbock's is the only airport available for use now.

Needed Several Hours Daily

So the base officers requested that the Municipal port facilities be made available for training during four daylight hours starting at once and, later, for eight hours, daily.

The training program as outlined, would involve the continuous flying during those hours of 12 B-25 training planes over Municipal airport. Each plane would land and take-off from 7 to 12 times per hour—or a total of 84 to 144 landings and take-offs per hour for the 12 planes.

This proposed program brought quick objections from several sources. The most startling was expressed by Robert F. McKee, of Denver, chief engineer of Continental Air Lines—one of the three airlines now serving Lubbock. The others are Braniff and Pioneer.

Flying Hazard Seen

McKee said the proposed program would create traffic of such large volume and of such hazardous type that the air lines might be compelled, because of considerations for safety, to suspend service to Lubbock.

If the airlines did not discontinue service themselves, they might be compelled to do so by the Civil Aeronautics authority, he declared.

The hazards to other air traffic involved in the proposed RAFB program also drew comments from Robert H. Bean, chairman of the Municipal Airport board, Ed Colby, airport manager, and Roy Neal, private operators who conducts the GI aviation training program for Texas Technological college.

Colby said the landings and take-offs proposed are far in excess of the maximum allowed any civilian airport by the CAA. He asserted also that the high landing speeds of B-25 planes—ranging from 115 to more than 140 miles an hour—would be highly destructive to runways. These speeds compare with about 70 miles for a passenger airliner.

Would Hit Civilian Traffic

Neal declared that the presence of Air Force training planes would mean virtually an end to civilian traffic at the airport. Farmers, ranchers and many others who now fly in steadily increasing numbers to Lubbock to transact business would go to Plainview, Amarillo or elsewhere, he asserted, rather than risk the dense traffic at the Lubbock port. He said also the continuation of the Tech course would be gravely imperiled.

A suggestion that spaces between present asphalt runways be graded and surfaced for the landings and take-offs of light and private craft would not improve the situation materially, if at all, Neal declared.

This proposal, however, is being studied but with the question unanswered as to who would pay the cost, mounting possibly to as much as $100,000, involved in this improvement.

Danger Is Discussed

Several participants in the discussion referred to the danger that one of the training planes might collide with an airliner, killing many people.

"Such a tragedy would be a blow to Lubbock, the airport, the airline, the Air Force and aviation in general," Bean commented.

The city commission closed the discussion by taking the RAFB request as to Municipal airport under advisement.

Individual commission members, however, were unanimous in asserting they will not approve the use of the airport for training purposes if that should imperil or seriously curtail its use for civilian airline and Tech training purposes.

This was a view upon which Mayor W. H. Rodgers, Commissioners W. B. Price, John Spikes, E. K. Hufstedler and Clarence Whiteside and City Manager Steve Matthews agreed.

But they expressed the hope and confidence that some plan can be worked out whereby the airport can be utilized both for military and civilian purposes—with the RAFB training program there reduced considerably below the one proposed.

The other participants in the discussions included Spencer Wells, chairman of the chamber of commerce air base committee; A. B. Davis, chamber manager; Bob Walker and Ray Hinchey, members of the airport board, and J. J. Boydston, Lubbock agent for Pioneer Air Lines.

car as they were passing each other.

Sheriff Foy Addison, who investigated the accident, charged Bonine with driving while intoxicated. Bonine was released late tonight after posting $500 bond set by Justice of the Peace W. H. Nickson, at Crosbyton.

Driver Also Injured

Bonine, who suffered lacerations and three broken ribs in the accident, was treated at Spikes hospital in Ralls and then released.

The entire Duffey family was taken to Crosbyton Clinic-hospital by a Marr Funeral home ambulance from Ralls. The accident was reported by T. J. Hendricks, who lives near the scene of the collision.

Pounds said Hendricks had to use his auto to pull the Duffey car upright to free Mrs. Duffey, who was pinned under a door.

The other injured members of the Duffey family were: The father, Wesley Duffey, who suffered abrasions and bruises; Marion Earl Duffey, 4, a broken left leg; Effie Loraine Duffey, 16, badly swollen jaw and abrasions and other bruises; Lethadell Duffey, 11, sprained wrist and bruises; Carl Duffey, 8, and another of the Duffey children whose name was not known, were uninjured.

Deputy Sheriff Pounds said the family had come to Lorenzo to help in the cotton harvest. Duffey's car was practically demolished us full support in time of strikes."

This was considered a concession on the West Coast union leader's part. The WFTU issue has been a thorn in the CIO's side since the CIO itself voted to pull out of the federation.

Rough Session Seen

On the less conciliatory side, Bridges predicted that this convention "is going to be rougher than all hell."

But he added, "the only way we'll get out of the CIO is to get thrown out."

Leaders of 11 other left-wing unions had hinted that they would wait to be thrown out of the CIO rather than bolt from the parent group. The 12 unions, representing about 1,000,000 of the CIO's 6,000,000 members, are accused of violating CIO policy.

Varying reports as to the strategy of unions led by pro-Communist sympathizers circulated around pre-convention meeting places.

The consensus seemed to be, however, that if the CIO wants to get rid of its left-wing elements it will have to revoke their charters. The leftists leaders, who refused to be quoted, said their unions would not get out voluntarily even if every form of "encouragement" along that line is given them by the powerful right-wing majority.

May Bar Leftists

One such "encouragement" reportedly would be to refuse the left-wing unions representation on the CIO executive board. One right-wing leader described this as "the equivalent of taxation without representation" since their per capita taxes still would be turned over to the CIO.

An indication that the left-wing leaders may try "passive resistance" came today when the resolutions committee adopted unanimously a statement praising CIO President Phillip Murray's leadership. The committee includes a right-wing majority and two left-wingers.

Even in the absence of a formal secession movement, the left-wing leaders may wage a vigorous fight on the convention floor.

If their unions then are expelled, they probably would be in a position to draw more sympathy from all labor elements not satisfied with Murray's right-wing leadership.

STEEL CLAIMED SEEKING TO DESTROY UNIONISM

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP) — CIO President Philip Murray charged tonight that "the destruction of true trade unionism is the object of our foes" in the nationwide steel strike.

"But with all their wealth and all their power, I tell you that they are not big enough to defeat us," the union head declared in his first major speech since the 27-day-old strike began.

Murray's speech was delivered at a Madison Square Garden labor rally attended by AFL, CIO and railroad brotherhood officials along with Vice President Barkley and other top political figures.

Urging the election of former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman to the U.S. Senate and the reelection of New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer, Murray said:

"Reactionaries" Hit

"Behind the steel industry are some barons of wealth—the house of Morgan, to be specific—who are seeking, in this election, to restore the same kind of reactionary government which marked that era of yesteryear when the very lives of men were not free.

"You in New York will never let that happen again in government.

"And I can assure you that we in the steel workers and the CIO will never let it happen again in our economic life."

He said Lehman and O'Dwyer "have supported every piece of enlightened labor legislation in all their public acts."

VA May Apply Vet Dividends To Debts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—(AP)—The Veterans Administration said today it may dip into the forthcoming ex-GI life insurance dividend to collect up to $30 million that veterans owe the government.

"Somewhere between $20 million and $30 million of such debts may be collected from National Service Life insurance dividends," it said in a news release.

"All of th individuals concerned are aware of their indebtedness to the government and know that it is deductible from other VA payments to which they may be entitled."

The agency said around 600,000 veterans owe it about $70 million. The individual dividend payments will be sufficient to wipe out less than half of the total.

Most of the indebtedness consists of overpayments of subsistence allowance for veterans in colleges or training under the GI bill.

ALMOST 3,500 VETS IN SOUTHWEST FACE CUT

DALLAS, Oct. 27—(AP)—Almost 3,500 World War II veterans in the Dallas-Fort Worth area will get smaller insurance dividend checks in 1950.

This was caused by overpayments in subsistence allowance and other veterans benefits.

Baylor University Homecoming Celebration Scheduled Today

WACO, Oct. 27. (AP)— Baylor university's biggest homecoming in history will get under way tomorrow.

Waco hotels have been booked solid for weeks in reservations made by returning alumni. Tourist camps on highways for miles around report the same situation.

Ralph Wolf, business manager of athletics, said that all reserved seats in Waco Municipal stadium—where the yet undefeated Baylor Bears meet Texas Christian's Horned Frogs in the homecoming football game Saturday—have been sold out for a week. All he has to offer today are unreserved bleacher seats behind the goal posts.

Jack Dillard, secretary of the Baylor Ex-Students association, said several thousand alumni will be on hand and probably as many more will be prevented from coming because of inadequate seating at the football game.

TRAIN IS DERAILED

BIG SPRING, Oct. 27 (AP)—Fifteen cars of a Texas and Pacific freight train were derailed at a siding 15 miles west of here about 10 p.m. today. No injuries were reported. The derailment was expected to tie up T&P traffic six to eight hours

Naval Chief Fired

Congress members demanded that the admiral not be "purged."

Solon Is Stunned

Rep. Short (R-Mo) who had warned against any reprisals arising from testimony given by admirals and generals in the recent House Armed Services committee hearings, said when he heard the news that he was "stunned."

Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) said he "regretted" the actoin, and Rep. Sasscer (D-Md) called Denfeld's removal "a setback to unification."

Criticising what he termed "goose-stepping subjugation," Sasscer declared it is now a question whether congressional committees will be able "to get information from high government officials without their being threatened with removal by the President."

But Rep. Kilday (D-Tex) said Denfeld has challenged civilian control of the armed services and had impaired his usefulness.

The demotion of Denfeld to unspecified "other duties" came just two weeks after the 58-year-old admiral, testifying on Capitol Hill, accused the military high command of waging a campaign to strip the Navy down to a mere "convoy and anti-submarine service."

Slash Is Planned

Navy advocates of strong naval power took another blow earlier in the day when the Defense department, headed by Secretary of Defense Johnson, announced plans to slash about 11 per cent of the Navy's manpower.

The cutback in Navy strength, sweeping out 54,891 of the present 516,000 officers and men, will be completed by next June.

Officials explained the reduction is part of Secretary Johnson's economy program to cut the present $14,400,000,000 military budget down to $13,000,000,000 next year. Reduction in personnel for the Army and Air Force had previously been announced under this program.

Mr. Truman declined to comment on reports that Vice Admiral Forrest Sherman, commander of the Sixth U. S. Task Fleet in the Mediterranean will succeed Denfeld. Sherman was reported enroute to Washington to take over the key post.

pending the outcome of critical steel strike peace talks now underway.

The President said he is still hopeful that collective bargaining will succeed in ending the steel-coal disputes.

Mr. Truman rejected a proposal that the presidential fact finding board which investigated the steel dispute last summer and made recommendations for a settlement be recalled to clarify its report.

The President bluntly stated that the board was appointed, did its job and had been discharged and no other board was to be appointed.

In the steel controversy, a three man panel recommended an industry-financed 10 cents an hour pension-insurance program for steel workers. The union accepted the report but the industry demanded that the workers also contribute a share to the program.

Power Not Determined

Mr. Truman said in response to questions that he had not determined whether he had any power to seize either the strike bound steel or coal industries.

Mayor Burke of Cleveland telephoned the White House this morning that his city was approaching an emergency as result of the coal strike and urged government action to end the walkout.

The President said he had not talked to the Cleveland official but that such calls had been coming to the White House every day since the strike started.

Aids Mediation Chief

The White House "hands off" announcement reinforced the hand of Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching who is conducting 11th hour talks with U. S. Steel executives in New York and may also confer with CIO President Philip Murray.

Ching and other government officials are concentrating on efforts to end the steel pension dispute before moving into the coal deadlock. Northern and western operators broke off the negotiations with miner chief John L. Lewis last week.

There was speculation that the government's ultimate course of action may be as follows:

1. If Ching is unable to obtain settlement of the steel strike, Mr. Truman may call both sides to the White House and issue a strong statement demanding that they get together in public interest.

2. In the coal case, the government may use the 80-day injunction weapon of the Taft-Hartley law to return the miners to the pits.

Rites Slated Today For Lubbock Woman

Mrs. Luimesa Giles Dunscomb, 88, died Thursday at 5 p.m. at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. T. M. Abel of 2118 Main.

Mrs. Dunscomb had been a resident here for 12 years.

Funeral services will be held in the McDonald Funeral chapel Friday at 4 p.m. with the Rev. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be in Tech Memorial park.

Mrs. Dunscomb is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Abel; a son, Finas Rayburn Dunscomb of Atlanta, Ga.; seven grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Murray Owens, M. L. Stiles, Leo Baggett, Harold Deering, Harvey Austin and Tom Abel, jr.

The three board members said it was Allen J. Armstrong, son of George Armstrong, rather than the donor himself, who was quoted as saying that the school would teach the "superiority of the Anglo-Saxon and Latin-American races."

Allen J. Armstrong is business manager of the school.

Dr. Baker, pastor of the Oak Cliff Methodist church here, and SMU trustee for the North Texas Methodist conference, said the Armstrong offer to SMU was $5 million.

He said SMU was asked to "dissociate itself from Jews and from the Jewish community course."

Dr. Lee was ill today and could not be reached for comment on the Armstrong offer.

ANTI-NAZI GROUP ATTACKS ENDOWMENT ARRANGEMENT

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—An anti-Nazi organization asked the War department today to withdraw support from the Jefferson Military college in Mississippi for accepting an endowment with the suggestion that it would teach "the superiority of the Anglo-Saxon and Latin-American races."

The school accepted oil lands and leases estimated as potentially worth $50,000,000 from oil millionaire George W. Armstrong who made it a condition of the endowment that the school would be primarily for white Christians with the stipulation that no African or Asiatic or person of African or Asiatic descent be admitted as a student or in the faculty.

The league branded the arrangement "Hitler-like" and declared it would "guarantee the large-scale perpetuation of the most blatant and extreme forms of un-American propaganda."

The Anti-Nazi League is a nonsectarian organization founded in 1933 by the late Samuel Untermeyer to oppose Fascist activities. It now devotes itself to fighting religious and racial hatred in general.

Rep. Miles Hints He May Enter New Mexico Gubernatorial Race

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 27. (INS)—Rep. John E. Miles today came as near as possible, without definitely committing himself, to declaring his candidacy for governor of New Mexico in 1950.

Miles, in an interview in Albuquerque, said, "If my friends and the people really want me to run for governor I will enter the race."

The U. S. representative and former governor added, however, "provided I feel I can meet the demands of the governor's office.

Asked to elaborate on this point, Miles said, "If the demands of the office are no greater than they were when I formerly held that post, I will run for the office."

Indian Prime Minister Visits Harvest-Heavy Illinois Farms

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India, who brought his code of "peace through humility" to the western world, visited today the quiet, harvest - heavy farmlands of Illinois.

The political leader of the world's second most populous country visited three typical Midwest farms, ate a bountiful farmer's meal, and returned for a visit at the University of Chicago.

It was a crisp October day and the golden fields bid a warm welcome to the 59-year-old statesman as he and his entourage strolled about the three lush farms.

School Buses Stop

School buses filled with children stopped by the roadside as the pandit, his daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, and his sister, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshimi Pandit, appeared.

Farmers came from miles around to glimpse the scholarly figure whose abhorrance of violence and love of peace are legend.

And Nehru seemed delighted by what he saw. He chatted easily with those who greeted him and smiled constantly.

At Albert Mighell's 100-year-old farmhouse, the pandit and his party enjoyed a sumptuous dinner of roast chicken with brown gravy, cranberry sauce, apple pie, cheese, milk, coffee, mashed potatoes, dumplings, three kinds of vegetables, pickles, relish and ice cream.

At dinner, Nehru relaxed into smiling affability and talked eagerly about farm methods with W. G. Randels, a county farm agent who sat at his right in the spotless dining room.

Mrs. Mighell jokingly told the pandit that because of his visit she was to deliver a speech on Indian affairs before a church society.

When she asked him to suggest a topic for her address, Nehru politely replied:

"I don't know. Whatever you think is best."

Last night, the slender statesman told the world that "if we can get rid of fear, we can get rid of war."

He declared that lack of national freedom, racial inequality, and want and misery were the causes of war. Solemnly, he asserted:

"There is enough in the world for all—if we use it properly."

RODEO STAR KILLED

GEYSER, Mont., Oct. 27. (INS)—A well-known Montana rodeo star, Wade Buffington, was killed early today when a truck he was driving missed a turn on a road 12 and one-half miles east of Geyser, Mont. The body of Henry Holland of Windham, Mont., was also found in the overturned truck. The highway patrol said the truck—brand new—had missed a turn at an approach to a bridge, and cleared the 53-foot wide stream before crashing.

Arms Aid Program To Use Texas Ports

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (Special)—The national military establishment has agreed to use Texas ports where possible to ship arms aid to Europe, Sen. Tom Connally said today.

At the request of the Texas Ports association, through E. H. Thornton, Galveston, general manager, Connally took up the matter with Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

Thornton reported that a resolution had been passed by the Ports association setting forth the advantages of Texas ports. They are as good as any section in the U. S. and some are better, Thornton set forth. Inland freight rates from inland points to Texas ports are no greater than to other seaboard points, he added.

In replying, Johnson promised to give the Texas ports the business subject to these considerations:

When it is in the government's best interests to use them from the standpoint of convenience, and destination of articles, and freight rates are satisfactory.

Costs and temporary storage must be considered.

Johnson promised that the senator's request that the Texas ports be used would be given every attention.

Final Presentation Of Play Twelfth Night Set At Tech

The final presentation of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night will be given by the speech department at Texas Technological college tonight in the speech auditorium, Director Cecilia Thompson said Thursday.

Only a few tickets remain for tonight's final presentation of the play, which has run since Monday night. All costumes and props were made by the students themselves and proceeds go to pay operating costs.

Final Chapter Of Teapot Dome Scandal Nears End In Denver

DENVER, Oct. 27. (INS)—A final chapter may be written into the history of the Teapot Dome oil scandal of the 1920's in Denver U. S. district court next week.

Court attaches announced today that the second hearing in the case of Henry M. Blackmer has been placed on the docket for next Wednesday.

Blackmer, now 80, was a central figure in the notorious oil deal. He fled to Europe in 1924 to avoid telling federal investigators what he knew about the sale of Naval oil from the Teapot Dome reserves in Wyoming.

He was later charged with evading income taxes and perjury, but efforts to extradite him failed. The aging financier returned to the U. S. last month and Sept. 26 he pleaded guilty to the tax violation in Denver federal court.

His attorney moved for dismissal of the perjury count. But Judge Orie L. Phillips said he would make a personal investigation before concurring.

Blackmer was released under $5,000 bond and left for Boston to enter a medical clinic.

Judge Phillips was expected to rule on the dismissal motion and possibly pronounce sentence on the tax charge at the hearing Nov. 2.

Blackmer faces a maximum sentence of four years in jail and a fine of $40,000. Federal prosecutors indicated they would not seek a prison term.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Hawkins Signs New Confession

JERSEYVILLE, Ill., Oct. 27—(U.P.)—Leonard (Lucky) Hawkins, who was captured in Dalhart last week after one of the greatest manhunts in the Texas Panhandle in recent years, has changed the confession he gave to police, state's attorney Alvin Pettit said today.

Pettit said Hawkins, who will have a preliminary hearing in connection with the fatal shooting of Albert Clark next Tuesday, had signed a statement admitting he fired the fatal shots which killed Clark.

Body Found In Field

Clark's body was found in a field near here three weeks ago. He had been shot and robbed. Hawkins, a former bush league ball player who was Clark's traveling companion, was captured last week and returned here.

At first Hawkins told police that he and Clark had picked up a hitchhiker known as "Mildred" and begun arguing near here over his attentions to her. In that statement he said Clark pulled a gun and was shot accidentally during the scuffle.

Pettit said that after questioning by the state criminal investigation and identification officials yesterday Hawkins signed a statement in which he said that no woman was involved. Pettit said that in the new statement Hawkins said that he and Clark got into an argument over whether to drive to New York to the world series.

Pettit said that in the statement Hawkins said he wrestled the gun away from Clark and shot Clark.

Three-Way Truck Crash Claims Life Of San Antonio Resident

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 27 (AP)—Charles Walker Davis, 40, San Antonio, was burned to death in a three-way truck crash six miles east of Seguin today, officers said.

Constable Charles Grimm said Marvin Haas, who was riding with Davis, was in critical condition in the Seguin hospital.

Drivers of the other two trucks escaped injury, Grimm said. They were Robert Alexander DeJardo of Port Arthur and Ward Kilgore of Austin.

Actress Required To Obey Husband On Hollywood Set

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 27. (INS) — Actress Gloria Grahame said today that she is legally bound to obey the whims and orders of her director-husband, Nicholas Ray, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. every day for the next 35 days.

The odd arrangement is purely for the best interests of the actress' new picture, "In a Lonely Place," in which she co-stars with Humphrey Bogart.

Temptation Restrained

Robert Lord, producer of the picture, calculated that with Ray directing Gloria's emoting in the movie, Gloria might be able to have the final say about her screen technique.

Just to be sure, Lord provided a contract to be signed by both Ray and Gloria which stipulated that the blonde actress can neither "nag, cajole, tease or in any other feminine fashion distract or influence" her husband during studio hours.

Gloria claims that it's a different story off the lot.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27—The prosecution played a trump card against confident Sigmund Engel today when his self-styled "true" wife, Mrs. Pauline Langton Engel, was called as a witness against the aged Lothario.

Mrs. Langton-Engel — called "Cleopatra" by the gray-haired Romeo—testified with obvious reluctance against the man she calls her "Marc Anthony."

But it was obvious her testimony was damaging to the elderly "knave of hearts," accused of fleecing Mrs. Reseda Corrigan of Chicago, of $8,700.

Couple Married In June

Mrs. Langton-Engel declared she married Engel last June 14 in Arlington, Md., when he was using the name of Carl A. Laemmle, jr.

The New York divorcee said she had known Engel only two weeks when they were wed.

She declared Engel always called her "Cleopatra" and she always referred to him as "Marc Anthony."

Earlier, Mrs. Langton-Engel had been among the numerous women who had accused Engel of swindling her. But they became reconciled after his arrest and she has been accompanying him to court daily.

Later today, Mrs. Corrine Perry, Los Angeles widow, testified she had married Engel as Eugene Walter Gordon in Las Vegas, last March 26.

Earlier, testimony of a divorcee that the aged Engel had fleeced her of $5,000 was allowed to stand in the court records.

Criminal Judge George M. Fisher, who is sitting on the complicated case, said he was admitting the testimony of attractive Mrs. Annette Kubiak on the theory that her marriage to Engel was not legal. The judge declared:

"The state has shown this marriage was not consummated and that the defendan. disappeared with certain property."

The "certain property," the South Bend, Ind., ex-beautician testified, was $5,000 in cold cash.

Woman Sells Home

Mrs. Kubiak, 39, said she gave Engel the money after she sold her home and went through a ceremony with the aged Lothario in South Bend on Oct. 24, 1948.

Mrs. Kubiak remarked:

"He ordered $1,000 worth of champagne for the wedding reception. Everybody in South Bend got new dresses for the reception."

The gray-haired Engel, strutting about the packed courtroom in a new black suit, set off with a red and gray tie, was as cocky as ever.

He told reporters:

Engel Refers To Glass

"When I get on the stand I'll stay there for hours and I'll rip everything apart. I have nothing to hide—I'm like a piece of glass. All that has been said is lies, lies, lies."

Mrs. Kubiak's testimony followed that of Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, also 39, of Chicago, who accused the smooth-talking Engel of swindling her of $8,700.

Defense Attorney Allan Bloch had argued unsuccessfully since Mrs. Kubiak said she had married Engel in front of witnesses, she could not testify against her "husband." He also argued that no fraud had been proved.

Greenville Man Files $2 Million Damage Suit Against Tool Firm

DALLAS, Oct. 27 (AP) — A $2 million damage suit was filed in district court today by a Greenville man who said a tool firm did not live up to a contract on an oil well drill.

Edward B. Williams, jr., said he invented the drill. He brought action against the Wheel Truing Tool Co., and others. The petition concerns royalties from sale of the oil well drill.

Third Production Attempt Is Scheduled On Borden Wildcat

A wildcat in northwest Borden county is scheduled for its third attempt to develop petroleum production.

Thomas W. Doswell of Dallas has filed an application with the Railroad Commisstion of Texas requesting a permit to deepen his No. 1 Cantrell from its present bottom of 8,754 feet to 10,100 feet starting immediately.

The venture is four miles north and three quarters of a mile east of the discovery well and lone producer in the Borden field, and 12 miles northwest of Gail.

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of the east half of the northeast quarter of section 22, block 32, T-6-N, EL&RR survey.

Rotary tools will be used to drill the project to explore into the Ellenburger.

It was originally drilled to a total depth of 5,024 feet by Doswell in 1945 and plugged as a failure.

Carraway Drilling Company then entered the hole and drilled it out to its present depth of 8,754 feet where it was abandoned in April, 1949.

APPLICATION FILED ON SCURRY WELL

R. W. Sutton of Dallas, has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill a 7,500-foot rotary wildcat in central Scurry county, four miles northeast of Snyder.

The project, No. 1 M. H. Thornburg, will be located 1,996.3 feet from south lines and 2,618.1 feet from east lines of section 77, block 3, H&GN survey.

It will be four and three-quarter miles southeast of L. M. Lockhart of Corpus Christi No. 1 B. M. McHaney, which is now trying to develop production from the Canyon reef one mile south of the nearest producers on the southeast side of the North Snyder field.

It has been reported in some circles that Rancho Oil Company of Dallas was planning to drill a wildcat at this location.

DEEPER DRILLING ON NO. 1 LEWIS PLANNED

S. B. Roberts, and associates No. 1 Lewis, central-west Scurry county wildcat, between the Kelley and the Diamond M fields and 467 feet from south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 246, block 97, H&TC survey was reported by unofficial sources to

HIZZONER THE MAYOR: SUNDOWN—Meet L. S. Dudley, who is serving his first term as mayor of the booming little oil community of Sundown. Born in Italy, Tex., in 1908, Dudley married Kathleen Lamb of Sudan in 1931. They have lived in West Texas for 13 years and have three children, Sandra Sue, 12; Morris Elie, 8, and John Lester, 5. Dudley came to Sundown four and a half years ago because he believed the town was going to grow. It has. A new football stadium has just been completed, a new high school is being built, and a $480,000 bond issue for civic improvements was voted in last July. Dudley said the population of the town has risen to at least 2,100. Dudley operates the Dudley Grocery at Sundown. (Staff Photo.)

Planning Group To Meet Nov. 3

Four new requests for zoning changes and three old requests are due to be considered when the City Planning commission convenes Thursday night, Nov. 3, K. N Clapp, chairman, announced Thursday.

Requests for zoning changes must be submitted by the 25th of the month preceding the regularly scheduled meeting to be considered, according to rules of the commission.

Apartment Zone Sought

New requests received by C. J. Griggs, ex-officia secrtary of the commission, are as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Nelson, to change lot 1, block 2, College View addition from "A" single family residence to "C" apartment zone to allow construction of eight units of 700 square feet each. The property is at 2501 Thirty-first.

Mrs. Grace Davis, to change west 50 feef of east 100 feet of north one-half of tract 59, Arnett-Benson addition from "B" residential zone to "F" local retail business zone for installation of a beauty shop. The property is at 2709 Maple street.

W. I. Peters, to change lots 13 and 14, block 30, Maddox addition, from "B" to "F" zone to allow construction of a retail grocery store. The property is at the southeast corner of Ruby street and Van Buren avenue.

Provisions Of New Pay Bill Clarified

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (Spl.)— The Navy and the Air Force have clarified the status of retired personnel who may be entitled to increased pay under provisions of the new military pay bill, Col. Oscar Abbott, executive of the Texas Military district, has announced.

Eligible personnel retired for reasons other than physical disability will automatically receive increased retired pay.

Other former members of the Army and Air Force, retired or receiving retirement benefits for physical disability, who believe themselves eligible for increased retirement pay under provisions of the career compensation act of 1949, should address inquiries to respective Army or Air Force department headquarters, furnishing full name, last grade or rank held, and serial number. Army personnel should write the Adjutant General, U. S. Army, Washington 25, D. C. Air Force personnel should write the Deputy Chief of Staff Personnel, Attention Director of Military Personnel, Washington 25, D. C.

All inquiries will be acknowledged, and subsequently each applicant will be advised whether he is eligible for increased retired pay.

Naval personnel previously retried for physical disability will be notified by the Navy as soon as possible of any change in their pay status, and have been specifically requested by the Navy bureau of supplies and accounts not to write to the bureau concerning their individual cases.

Workers Sought By Girlstown Project

In order to speed construction of the large residence being built at Girlstown near Whiteface, additional carpenters, plasterers and laborers are needed, it was announced Thursday.

Persons who will help either on a volunteer basis or for pay were asked to telephone C. J. Lightholder of the Building Trades council of Lubbock. Present workers are receiving pay five days weekly and are donating two days' work weekly, but in order to rush construction Miss Amelia Anthony, director, is prepared to pay workers, it was stated.

The residence will have 32 bedrooms, making it possible for Girlstown to increase its residents to 64. Ten girls now live there.

Nov. 13 has been set as the goal for completion of construction.

Earthworms are found all over the world except in frozen regions, dry sandy soils and in certain parts of North American prairies.

Reserve Officers To Attend Army Course

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (Special) — The special two-week associate course of the Command General Staff school, Fort Leavenworth, will be conducted in the southwest during the period Jan. 8 through April 15, Col. Oscar Abbott, executive of the Texas Military district, has announced.

This is the second year that the associate course has been given in the southwest.

Approximately 200 Texas Organized Reserve corps officers will attend the various courses, which will be held at Fort Sill, Camp Hood and Camp LeRoy Johnson.

The purpose of these courses is to provide instruction in the light of war lessons and modern developments to insure effective employment of the Organized Reserve corps divisions and the efficient administration, intelligence and logistical support of those divisions.

Qualified Organized Reservists wishing to attend must submit their applications to ORC instructors in their respective areas not later than 30 days prior to the reporting date of the course requested.

Vernon Population Doubled, Newspaper Survey Reveals

VERNON, Oct. 27 (AP) — The Vernon Record took its own survey of its hometown and concluded that the 1950 federal census will show that population has doubled.

The 1940 census listed Vernon's population as 9,277. The survey completed this week by the newspaper placed the present population at an estimated 17,737.

Crisco's Cocoalight Cake

One of the many Crisco Success Cake Recipes you'll find in the Crisco Cook Book

Here's a chocolate-lover's dream cake—yummy-rich and moist—that even a beginner can bake the can't-fail Crisco way! For pure, all-vegetable Crisco has a baking secret. And each of Crisco's famous Success Cake recipes is built around that secret. Result? A lighter, richer, moister, more tender cake than you'll get with any other type of shortening or ordinary recipe! Just be sure to use Crisco and follow the recipe carefully. For though Crisco will make any cake a better cake, Crisco plus a Success Cake recipe is double insurance of success!

CRISCO'S CHOCOLATE CAKE
WITH ORANGE ICING
(Makes two 9" layers)

Measure into mixing-bowl: (All Measurements Level)

2 cups cake flour (sifted before measuring)
2 cups sugar
⅓ cup Crisco • 1 tsp. salt
3 squares melted chocolate
1½ tsps. soda
¾ cup milk

Fluffy Crisco needs no creaming! Beat vigorously by hand or with mixer (medium speed) 2 mins. Now stir in (yes, all by itself):

¾ teaspoon double-acting baking powder
Add: ½ cup milk • 3 eggs (unbeaten) • 1 tsp. vanilla

Blend by hand or in mixer (medium speed) for 2 mins. (See! Total mixing time's a mere 4 minutes! And only one bowl to wash.) The batter will be smooth and thin. Pour into 2 square layer pans (9" x 1½" deep), rubbed with Crisco, lined with waxed paper. (With smaller pans, fill half full; bake cup cakes with remaining batter.) Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 40 minutes. Cool cake in pan on rack for 15 mins. before removing. Loosen edges from pan with spatula. Place rack over cake and pan; invert together. Cool and frost with orange icing—see recipe in the new Crisco Cook Book.

Texas Baptists To Open General Convention In El Paso Nov. 1

DALLAS, Oct. 25. (Special)—For the first time in its 101 years, the Baptist General convention of Texas, meeting in El Paso Nov. 1-3, will hear a recommendation that half of a five million-dollar budget be designated for world-wide causes.

Denominational causes within the state, which would receive the other two and one-half million dollars, have generally been allowed more than 50 per cent of the receipts. Besides the regular budget, the convention is expected to accept another five million dollar goal for individual gifts to Baptist institutions. This would be the second consecutive year for the $10 million project.

3,000 Expected To Attend

Annual pre-convention meetings of the Woman's Missionary union and the Men's Brotherhood are scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1, in El Paso. The general convention will begin Tuesday night. Approximately 3,000 Baptists are expected for the general meeting.

Well-known win denominational leaders from Texas, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Louisiana will sapeak during the three-day convention. Among these are Dr. Duke McCall, executive secretary for the Southern Baptist convention, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. Forrest Feezor, pastor of the First Baptist church, Waco; Dr. J. Howard Williams, state executive secretary, Dallas; and Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor, First Baptist church, Dallas.

Dallas Pastor Is Head

President of the convention is Dr. Wallace Bassett, for 31 years pastor of the Cliff Temple Baptist church, Dallas. Dr. J. H. Landes, Wichita Falls, is to preach the annual convention sermon. Both Bassett and Landes were elected at the centennial meeting in Houston last year.

The convention will hear financial and service reports from the 20 departments of denominational work and from the nine Baptist colleges and the six Baptist hospitals in the state.

The most powerful radio station ever owned by a Baptist group and the only one operated by a state Baptist convention will go on the air in Dallas Friday, Oct. 28.

KYBS, a 90,000-watt frequency modulation station is owned and operated by the Baptist General convention of Texas. Now in its initial testing period, the station is to be formally opened at 2 p.m. Oct. 28.

16-Hour Operation Planned

On the air 16 hours a day, from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m., KYBS will carry a complete program of entertainment, education, religion, agriculture reports, news and sports. R. Alton Reed, Dallas, is general manager of the station and head of the radio activities for Texas Baptists.

Dr. J. Howard Williams is to speak the first official words over the new station. The opening ceremonies will be heard also by delayed broadcast at 6:30 p.m. the same day.

Studios for KYBS are located in the Baptist building and at Buckner Orphans home, Dallas; at Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary in Fort Worth. The 599-foot tower and the transmitter are at Cedar Hill, between Dallas and Fort Worth.

The station is to be the key unit in a proposed system of FM stations in the state to be operated by Baptist institutions. One station, KMHB, is already on the air at Mary Hardin-Baylor college, Belton. Others are to be at Beaumont, Brownwood, Abilene, Houston and Plainview.

Ground Storage Of Cottonseed Rejected

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (Spl.)—Cottonseed will not be stored on the ground in Texas under the government loan program, Sen. Tom Connally's office was informed today by Agriculture department officials.

Faced with the lack of storage, some West Texans here recently from Lubbock, headed by George A. Simmons, told USDA officials that the only hope of many sections of Texas to participate practically in the price support program on cottonseed would be for the government to permit storage on the ground. Simmons' group left here hopeful that would be possible.

However, letters already drafted by officials which reached Senator Connally's office stated that the loan program could contemplate only the use of clean cottonseed and as it would have to be stored on the ground between now and next April, obviously seed would deteriorate.

Some future conferences on this subject may occur.

A San Angelo farmer had written the senator to beg that some plan be worked out so that farmers in the state would not have to haul their cottonseed to the gin, only to be told there that the ginner could not handle it. Under the loan program, then the farmer would have to haul his seed back home again.

Remains Of Russian Slave Labor Camps Found In Pacific

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 27. (U.P.)—University of California archaeologists today announced they have discovered a "slave labor" settlement left by the Russians near San Francisco.

The site was located on the Farallone islands, 25 miles off the Pacific coast, where the Russians conducted seal hunting operations in the last century with gangs of Aleuts imported from Alaska.

Tools, Weapons Found

Evidence, of the Russian occupation included a valuable collection of Alaskan weapons and tools, beads and ornaments made by California Indians, animal and bird bones, English china, glassware and metal implements from fur trading ships.

The Russians occupied the Farallones from 1812 until 1833. From fragmentary accounts of the occupation and the excavators' findings, archaeologists have deduced the camp was as unpleasant as the present-day camps are reputed to be.

Natives Held On Islands

According to Franklin Fenenga, university archaeologist, "successive groups of Alaskan natives, together with some California Indian wives supplied by the Russians, were held on the bleak islands to gather seal pelts and provisions for the Russian fur traders."

"The Aleuts and Indians lived in earth huts. One account describes the death of two of them from scurvy and the 'great misery' of their existence, caused by inadequate provisions, scurvy and lack of fresh water and firewood."

The excavators also found remnants of a later period in the island's history. Still standing are the buildings used by an American company which supplied San Francisco with sea gull eggs during the gold rush period. They sold for $1 a dozen.

Legal Liquor Takes Toll Among Texas 'Moonshine' Stills

DALLAS, Oct. 27. (INS)—The 20 "reevenoorers" in Texas don't have much to do nowadays, except to talk about the old times when stills were as numerous as rattlers and twice as dangerous to pass.

Texans are drinking legal booze instead of moonshine, said R. S. Daniels, investigating agent-in-charge for the Treasury department's alcohol tax unit in North and East Texas.

61 Stills Captured

Daniels said that a mere 61 stills were captured by revenue men in Texas during the year that ended June 30.

Some of the agents recall that in the days before the Volstead act was repealed it seemed every third man had a bathtub full of red-eye.

The homemade booze traffic took a beating during World War II just when whisky was hardest to get since repeal. Sugar was impossible to get legally because of rationing, explained Daniels.

The few moonshiners who weren't in the Army or in war jobs had to run the double risk of federal law enforcement. They had to violate OPA laws and then worry about the Treasury department.

"Two factors seem to work strongly against moonshining in Texas now," said Daniels. "The first is the availability of taxpaid whisky and wine—which everyone knows is safer to drink. The other is high employment and good wages. Should there be another depression, a lot of hungry ex-moonshiners will go back to their old profession."

And until then the 20 federal revenue agents will have time enough to sit back and dream about the old days.

Firemen Win Battle In Rose Bowl Fire

PASADENA, Calif., Oct. 27. (AP)—Firemen battled a smouldering blaze in the Rose Bowl from 11:30 p. m. yesterday until 7:30 a. m. today before geting it under control.

The fire was started from cigarette butts dropped during last night's Marines-Navy football game. Spectators complained during the game of having "hot feet." The flames were burning wooden supports in the concrete structure at that time. Firemen had to drill through concrete in 12 different places in tunnel three before quelling the fire.

Firemen said cigarettes were dropped through cracks in the wooden seats.

A fence made out of shrubbery of any sort is known as a "living fence." One of the oldest is the hedge, whose sharp barbs kept animals in as well as out.

Mongolian invaders of the Near East in the 13th century brought with them Chinese works of art whose designs were soon copied and used on clay tiles for walls.

Russo-German Union Feared By France As Major Future Threat

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, INS

PARIS, Oct. 27.—French statesmen are becoming increasingly concerned today over developments in Germany.

Growing evidence of nationalist sentiment in western Germany; establishment of the Communist government in the eastern zone, and Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin's message to that puppet regime have strengthened the conviction of French leaders that Europe's great danger of the future is a Russo-German alignment.

The French see a definite bid for the support of German nationalism in Stalin's statement that the peoples of Germany and Russia "possess the greatest potential in Europe for accomplishing great actions of world importance."

Offer Seen As Encouragement

This virtual offer of political cooperation with its implication of a deal to dominate Europe is seen by the French as deliberately intended to encourage those German nationalists who are known to believe that Germany's future as a great power can be secured only through an alliance with Russia.

In this connection, considerable interest has been aroused in diplomatic circles in Paris by a document which has come into the possession of the western governments. This document is purported to be the joint testament of Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz and the late Field Marshal Von Keitel.

Doenitz, who succeeded Hitler as head of the German government during the last days of the European war, was sentenced to life imprisonment by the Nuernberg tribunal. He is now in Spandau jail in Berlin with some of the other leading Nazi war criminals.

Von Keitel, who was chief of the German high command under Hitler, was sentenced to death and this correspondent witnessed his execution by hanging on Oct. 15, 1946.

The document which has come to the attention of the western governments bears the initials of these two military and naval leaders of Nazi Germany. It is dated April, 1945, and purportedly was drafted a few weeks before Germany's surrender.

Entitled "The Overcoming of the Catastrophe," the document advocated a post-war German lineup with Russia as the only hope of securing the restoration of Germany as a world power.

Authenticity Still Uncertain

The western governments possess copies of this document, but American and French diplomatic officials are not absolutely certain of its authenticity.

Nevertheless, the French feel that its contents undoubtedly reflect the current views of some leading German nationalists.

Strangely enough, one passage of this document bears a striking similarity to Stalin's statement about the "potential" possibilities of the German and Russian peoples to accomplish great things together.

Referring to the results that could be achieved through future Russo-German cooperation, the document states:

Future Possibilities Stressed

"The two great peoples, the Russians and the Germans, have extraordinary possibilities for development without collision of their interests."

The document proposed that Germany and the Soviet Union should "join together in creating a socialist union." It said this could lead to a "colossal bloc of world dominating greatness, economci power and energy" extending from "ocean to ocean."

"Not only would the danger of future wars for generations be eliminated from Europe but also from the double continent of Eurasia," the document added.

Chief Emphasis Shifts

Asserting that the chief emphasis in this bloc would shift more and more "to the racially superior and intellectually more active and more energetic people," it concluded:

"Thus, would be formed an alliance between the young socialist forces against the old rotten entrenched powers of the West."

Whether this document is authentic or not, the French fear that current events in Germany indicate there is a definite trend in the direction of a future Russo-German alignment.

Danger of that development is becoming today the nightmare of French diplomacy.

Dallas Commissioners Accept Final Payment In Cobb Case

DALLAS, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Dallas county commissioners court accepted today a $1,139.27 check as final settlement from a bonding firm in the Ed Cobb case.

The amount covered shortages in accounts of the late Ed Cobb, who was county tax officer at the time of his death two years ago. The bonding firm was the Maryland Casualty Co. of Baltimore.

The commissioners had put in a claim for $1,331.44, but accepted the $1,139 on advise of the county auditor and district attorney. The difference, it was pointed out, involved interest charges.

Scientifically, the grey fox is known as the Urocyon cinerecarganteus.

32 Honor Students Are Listed At Wilson

WILSON, Oct. 27. (Special),—J. P. Hewlett, superintendent of Wilson public schools, has announced the names of 32 honor students for the first six week's term.

They are Bessie Kindrick, June Covey, Thomas Mason and Joe Wayne Moore of the high school division.

Gunmen Injure Eight Political Workers In Philippine Ambush

MANILA, Philippines, Oct. 27 (AP)—Eight supporters of presidential candidate Jose Avelino were wounded, three seriously, by unidentified gunmen who ambushed an Avelino motorcade between Bamban and Mabasacat in Tarlac province Tuesday, the Evening News said today.

Avelino arrived on the scene three minutes after the ambush. The gunmen were believed Communist-led Huk guerrillas. The Huks also were blamed for an ambush earlier this year in which the widow of former President Manuel Quezon was killed.

Bamban is about five miles north of Clark field.

Third Attempt At Production Slated For Borden Wildcat; Scurry Activity Continues At Busy Pace

have reached 6,702 feet in shale and to be drilling deeper.

At that point it was still in shale according to the best available information. The project is being drilled "tight." Elevation is 2,438 feet.

ELECTRIC LOG SURVEY NOW BEING RUN

Glasco, Chambers, Zonne and Olson No. 1 Green, central Scurry county prospectors, two miles north of the town of Snyder, and 660 feet from north and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 157, block 3, H&GN survey, was bottomed at 7,528 feet in a Pennsylvania lime, and was running an electric log survey.

This venture was low on the Canyon reef and it had only a thin section of that formation. It has not reported having logged on possibilities of petroleum production.

It is two miles south and three-quarters of a mile east of the closest completed oil well on the southwest side of the North Snyder field.

PRODUCTION TEST PLANNED AT WELL

C. L. Norsworthy, jr., and associates No. 1 Feldman, east-central Scurry county deep wildcat, ten miles east of Snyder, is slated to perforate casing between 7,308 feet and 7,340 feet before the end of the week so a production test can be made on that interval.

That section developed several hundred feet of free oil on a drillstem test before the casing was set at 7,340 feet.

This possible Ellenburger discovery had swabbed small amounts of free oil from the open hole between 7,340 feet and the total depth at 7,357 feet.

The development was allowed to stay shutin for 60 hours at the first of the week while the rotary drilling rig was being moved out and a cable tool unit was moved in to use in the testing.

When the well was opened up after the 60-hour shutin it started flowing and in 14 hours produced 186 barrels of oil. There was a shakeout of two per cent sediment and drilling water. No formation was developed.

At last report operators were allowing the well to continue to flow at intervals from open hole at 7,340-57 feet.

It is understood that this activity was to be continued for a short time and the flow was then to be killed so the 7,308-40-foot section could be perforated and tested.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 63, block 3, H&TC survey.

NO. 1 O. C. ROSSON IS NEW PRODUCER

Lone Star Production Company has completed its No. 1 O. C. Rosson as a producer from the Canyon lime reef on the northwest side of the Kelley field of central Scurry county for a daily production of 409.75 barrels of oil.

Gravity of the new oil is approximately 43 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 796-1. It also made 16 per cent water.

The flow was natural from open hole between the 5½-inch oil string set at 6,838 feet and the total depth at 6,865 feet.

Flowing tubing pressure was 324 pounds and the flowing casing pressure was 610 pounds.

The new well is 660 feet from west and north lines of the lease in section 209, block 97, H&TC survey.

1,481 POTENTIAL FOR SCURRY WELL

Standard Oil Company of Texas has completed its No. 9-3 Brown in the north Snyder field of north-central Scurry county for a calculated 24-hour potential of 1,481 barrels of 43-gravity oil from the Canyon reef.

The flow was natural through a one-half inch tubing choke. There was no formation water reported. Gas-oil ratio was 892-1.

Flowing tubing pressure was 1,200 pounds and the flowing casing pressure was 850 pounds.

Completion was from open hole between the 7-inch oil string cemented at 6,530 feet and the total depth at 6,870 feet.

The new well is 467 feet from south and 600 feet from west lines of the lease in section 449, block 97, H&TC survey.

LOCATION STAKED ON NO. 3 MUSGROVE

J. J. Nolan has staked location and is to start drilling soon at his No. 3 Musgrove, located on the southeast side of the North Snyder field in north-central Scurry county, five miles north of Snyder.

No. 3 Musgrove will be 467 feet north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 21, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Contracted depth is to 7,000 feet to test the Canyon reef lime.

DUAL COMPLETION IS REPORTED MADE

Dual Completion has been made by The Pure Oil Company at its No. 31-SE A Cowden in the Dollarhide field of extreme southwest Andrews county. It was completed from the Silurian and from the Ellenburger.

It flowed natural through a 18/64th inch tubing choke from perforations in the casing between 8,348 feet and 8,704 feet to rate a daily potential of 214 barrels of 44.1-gravity oil and no water. Gas-oil ratio was 550.1.

Flowing casing pressure was 150 pounds.

From the Ellenburger completion was from open hole between 9,888 feet and the total depth at 10,098 feet.

It flowed natural through a 14/64th inch tubing choke for 13 hours to arte a 24-hour potential of 265 barrels of 45.3-gravity oil, with a gas-oil ratio of 448-1.

Flowing tubing pressure was 475 pounds. There was no formation water.

The new producer is 660 feet from east and 661 feet from south lines of the lease in section 17, block A-52, psl survey.

Pure also completed its No. 29-E-A Cowden, 1,983 feet from north and east lines of the lease in section 17, block A-52, psl survey, for a calculated 24-hour potential of 296 barrels of oil from the Ellenburger.

It was completed from open hole between the top of the pay at 10,050 feet and the total depth at 10,100 feet. That zone was treated with 1,500 gallons of acid.

Flowing tubing pressure was 490 pounds and there was a packer on the tubing. The flow was through a 14/64th inch tubing choke.

Gravity of the new oil was 44.4 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 484-1.

TERRY COUNTY TEST TO BE ABANDONED

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1 Carl Golden, stepout from production from the San Andres-Permian in the Adair field of central-south Terry county is being plugged and abandoned at total depth of 5,005 feet.

A drillstem test was run for one hour at 4,920-5,005 feet. Recovery was 360 feet of drilling mud and 2,250 feet of salty, sulphur water. There were no shows of oil and gas.

Location as 1,650 feet from east and 30 feet from south lines of section 7, block C-37, psl survey. It was 13 miles south of Brownfield.

Land Grant Colleges Elect New President

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 27 (U.P.)—Arthur S. Adams, president of the University of New Hampshire, was elected president of the Association of Land Grant colleges and universities in the closing session of the 63rd annual convention today.

Adams succeeds John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State college, the latter becoming automatically chairman of the association's executive committee.

The association chose Washington, D. C., for its 1950 convention, Nov. 13-16.

Dean Ava B. Milam, school of home economics, Oregon State college, urged today that more attention be given the family in dealings with foreign nations, contending the development of democracy in a nation is going to be largely in relation to democratic practices in the family.

Zone Changes

northeast one-quarter of section 14, block B, from "A" to "F" zone. The property is between Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth streets from Adams to Jefferson avenues.

Also to be heard is a report from the zoning committee on the request signed by approximately 16 property owners for a change to retail business zone on all property abutting Thirty-fourth street from Ave. X to Adams avenue.

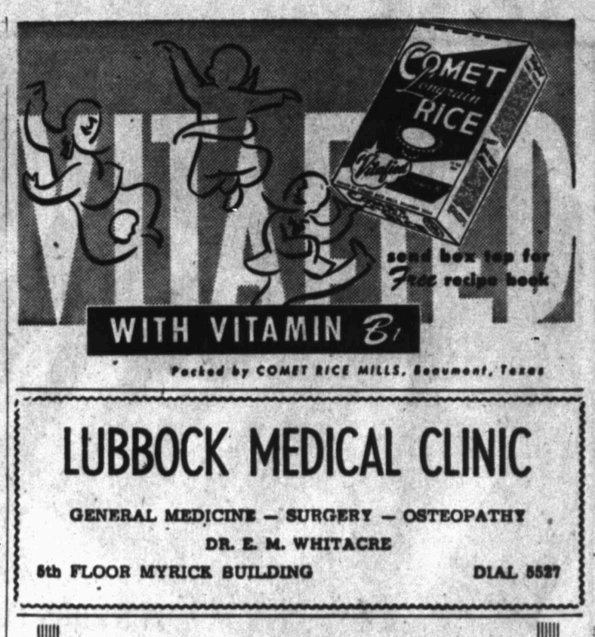

The zoning committee will make its third report on the request of J. Y. Yeager to change lot 3, block 5, Summers - Cockrell addition, from "B" to "H" zone. The property is at 1906 Avenue P.

Because of his early efforts with KDKA, Pittsburgh, the late Dr. Frank Conrad still is rated as the "father of broadcasting."

PICKPOCKETS TRY IDEA

CAIRO—(AP)—Two men stopped pedestrians on the street, explained they were political police, and searched them. A detective passed by, took one startled look and arrested both men.

They were two of Egypt's best-known pickpockets trying out a new technique.

HURLEY GIVES HIS STORY

Communists Claimed To Have Led Bonus March On Capital

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—Patrick J. Hurley says that the 1932 bonus marchers, by the time they reached Washington, were led by non-veterans—"for the most part, either criminals or Communist agitators." Hurley was Secretary of War at the time.

The march was started by a group of veterans on the West coast to petition Congress to enact a soldiers' bonus bill.

"Before they reached Washington their leadership had been, to a great extent, taken over by non-veterans," Hurley writes in the current issue of McCall's.

The Communists among the non-veteran leaders, "taking advantage of the unsettled conditions of the country, sought to promote violence and bloodshed as a step toward Communism," Hurley continues.

This has been confirmed, he adds, by Benjamin Gitlow, former Communist official, in his book, "The Whole of Their Lives." Gitlow declared that the Washington representative of the Communist international was bitterly disappointed that his Red followers did not succeed in provoking a massacre of the bonus marchers.

Hurley says that when Washington police tried to clear the marchers from certain downtown buildings they were occupying, several policemen were seriously injured and two of the marchers killed. The city authorities then asked President Hoover for help, and he directed Hurley to take measures to restore law and order.

MacArthur Headed Army

Hurley ordered the army chief of staff, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, to clear the city of rioters. Hurley stresses that none of the orders given—neither the President's nor any other—directed that the troops open fire. Instead, he says, all orders cautioned the troops to avoid bloodshed if possible.

Hurley says that the evacuation of the marchers was accomplished without serious casualties; that no shots were fired, and the only weapons used were tear gas bombs.

The ex-secretary said he wrote to correct an impression given by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in her autobiography, "This I Remember," also published in McCall's. Mrs. Roosevelt had said she had a feeling of horro "when I realized that the Army had actually been ordered to fire on the veterans."

The widow of the late President said in a note published with Hurley's explanation that "I am glad to have an authentic account published and I only wonder why it was not done much sooner."

'Foolish' Legislation Results In Fines For Mexican Solons

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 27—(INS)—A decision without precedent was handed down by the Federal Supreme court this week when members of the state legislature of Durango were fined 100 pesos each for "legislating foolishly in matters of which they knew nothing."

The case arose when an amendment to the banking laws of the state was passed and the bank of the Banco de Mexico, the federal central bank, asked relief of the courts.

Court Upheld Bank

The court decided in favor of the bank, granting it an amparo, a sort of injunction, and suspending the operation of the law. The legislature maintained its point of view and appealed to the Supreme court.

Each member of the Durango State legislature there was fined 100 pesos ($11.56 U. S.) for foolish legislation, invading the sphere of the Federal Congress and for obstinacy in refusing to accept the decisions of the lower court.

National Guardsmen To Collect Pay Boost

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (INS)— Texas National Guardsmen will get substantial pay raises under a law signed Oct. 12 by President Truman, according to Adjutant General K. L. Berry.

Gen. Berry said the new pay scale affects all but recruits with less than four months service.

After their initial four months, Guard recruits receive an increase to $2.66 for each drill, privates $2.75, privates first class $3.18, corporals $3.92, sergeants $4.65, sergeants first class $5.63 and master sergeants $6.61.

Pay increases are automatic with length of service.

The adjutant general also noted that the increase in pay will increase the amount of retirement pay National Guardsmen will receive.

Retirement pay for guardsmen with 2 or more years of satisfactory federally-recognized service is a percentage of the pay of the highest grade held during service.

Survey Places Texas U. Seventh Among State-Supported Schools

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (INS) — The University of Texas, with approximately 15,500 students, ranks seventh in enrollment among state-supported institutions.

A preliminary survey by Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati, included only the Texas enrollment for the main campus.

Enrollment at professional branches at Houston, Galveston, Dallas and El Paso would rank Texas higher than seventh.

Estimates and actual figures reported to date by 471 institutions place state-supported universities in this order:

California, with a total of eight campuses including 22,491 on the main campus, 43,359; Minnesota, 25,000; Illinois, 23,179; Ohio State, 22,500; Michigan, 21,400; Wisconsin, 17,690; Texas 15,500; Michigan State, 15,100; Indiana, 13,489; and Purdue, 13,239.

Two Texas U. Doctors Named As Consultants At Oak Ridge

GALVESTON, Oct. 27. (INS) — Two members of the University of Texas Medical branch faculty, Doctors Charles R. Allen and William C. Levin, have been appointed as consultants to the medical division of the Oak Ridge institute of Nuclear studies, at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The institute is operated by a score of southern universities, including the University of Texas, for the Atomic Energy commission. It is concerned with research and training in nuclear science.

The Medical branch is one of a score of medical schools cooperating in the medical program of the institute which given particular attention to cancer and other malignancies.

Dr. Marshall Brucer, formerly of the Medical branch faculty, is now chairman of the medical division of the institute.

Paintings By Texas U. Students Praised By Magazine For Artists

AUSTIN, Oct. 27 (INS) — Paintings exhibited by University of Texas art students in the annual show at Addison Gallery, Andover, Mass, drew special praise from "Art News," leading publication for artists.

Of the 25 art schools invited to participate, the University of Texas and one other school sent the "most skilled individual works," said the magazine.

"The Owl," by Joy Anna Adams of Austin was cited as one of the two outstanding pictures in the show. Also mentioned was "On the Cross," by Ferrell Dickinson of Yoakum.

Octopuses used jet propulsion in swimming long before man thought of the idea.

Tip for Halloween hits! crisp molasses cookies and hot, fragrant coffee

Make it a party—with crackling-crisp molasses cookies that are easy to bake—and steaming flavorful Hills Bros. Coffee. A blend of the world's choicest coffees, Hills Bros. Coffee has a hits-the-spot flavor that's always the same. "Controlled Roasting," an exclusive Hills Bros. process, roasts the blend a little at a time —continuously—to insure an even roast of every coffee bean—none overdone, none underdone. Hills Bros. Coffee is vacuum-packed for utmost freshness.

OLD-FASHIONED MOLASSES COOKIES

3 cups flour
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
¾ cup shortening
1 egg, unbeaten
½ cup molasses
½ cup cold water
2 teaspoons soda
¼ cup hot water
Blanched halved almonds

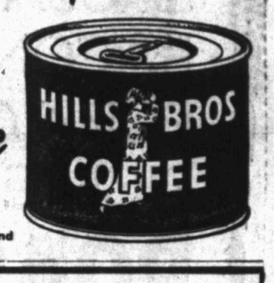

Mix and sift flour, sugar, salt, cinnamon and ginger. Drop shortening on top of this mixture and unbeaten egg on top of this. Mix molasses with ½ cup cold water. Pour on top of mixture, stir until well blended and beat until smooth. Dissolve soda in ¼ cup hot water and stir into batter. Drop by tablespoon on greased baking sheet, 2 inches apart, and bake in moderately hot oven (425° F.) about 10 minutes. While hot, press halved almonds into cookies. Yield: About 3 dozen cookies.

Children Look To Hallowe'en Events

Carnivals Slated At Five Schools Here

Excited school children are continuing plans for Hallowe'en carnivals which will serve the double purpose of providing entertainment for children and adults and of raising money which will be used for equipment and projects for benefit of the schools.

Five carnivals will be conducted tonight and at each food will be served by women from Parent-Teacher associations of the schools. Sanders, Cottage, Walter S. Posey, Roscoe Wilson and P. F. Brown schools will conduct carnivals tonight, continuing the series which opened last week. Overton school conducted its first annual carnival at 6:30 p.m. Thursday and McWhorter school had a fun night program at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Plans For Friday

Plans for the Friday night carnival include:

Hot dogs, cold drinks, ice cream and candy will be sold at Sanders school, beginning at 6:30 p. m. Hallowe'en features in rooms will include a boxing match, circus, fortune telling and witches stew, motion picture comedy, dart throwing, "Feed the Kitty," fishing pond, magician's act, music, and forty-two games for adults. At 9 p. m., a queen election will close and the little girl receiving the most votes will be crowned queen and her escort will be crowned king. Other candidates for queen will be princesses. Each of 15 rooms has had a candidate in the election. Children have cast penny votes.

At Cottage School

At Cottage school, the carnival will open at 6 p. m. and serving of food will open early. Events will include a children's talent show, fishing pond, grab bag, "ginger bread boy" game for small children, ghost town, fortune telling, country store, game room for adults and showing of movies, "Jack and the Bean Stalk" and an Abbott and Costello movie. In addition to food to be served for meals, peanuts, candy and popcorn balls will be served.

At Roscoe Wilson school, serving will open at 5:30 p. m. Hot dogs, sandwiches, cold drinks, coffee, doughnuts, potato chips and homemade candy will be served. Room features will be offered at different times, some opening as early at 5:45 and 6 p. m. A floor show arranged by Larrymore Dance studio will be presented. Boxing matches will feature two sets of six-year-old twins, Sidney and Brian Griggs and Donald and Ronald Key, with LaVerne Roach, boxer, as referee. Other features will include motion picture comedies in two rooms; cowboy songs; a tumbling act presented by Larrymore Dance studio; selections on an electrical guitar, by Charles Tosh and Betty Tosh; songs by negro radio entertainers; dart games fortune wheel, "House of Magic" in which a perpetual horseback rider, "ball rolling up hill" and other features will be offered; "House of Horrors," beauty bar where make-up will be put on children and their photographs will be made while they wait; cake walk; grab bag; fishing pond; fortune telling booth; musical melodies, and sale of used comic books for two cents each.

In Walter S. Posey school, sale of sandwiches, pies and other refreshments will open at 6:30 p. m. Features will include "House of Horrors," fortune telling, fishing pond bowling alley, forty-two tournament for adults, shooting gallery, doll throws, motion picture shows, magic show by E. Y. Gibbs and coronation of the king and queen. The school rooms candidates in the king and queen election votes will be counted Friday afternoon.

At P. F. Brown school, sale of hot dogs, sandwiches, cake, pie, coffee, cold drinks, popcorn balls and homemade candy will open at 6 p. m. A series of boxing matches in which students will take part will be conducted. Other features will include amateur hour, games of skill, make-up room, fishing pond, motion picture comedy and others.

Directory Shows New Gains For Lubbock

New Phone Books Distributed

Distribution of 21,250 new telephone directories began in Lubbock Thursday morning, and as might be expeeted, the new books show an impressive gain over the last issues distributed in March.

Cecil H. Cale, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone company here, said 38 persons are at work delivering the directories. Distribution is being made by the Directory Distributing Associates, Inc., of St. Louis, Mo.

The new books contain 17,270 separate listings as compared with only 15,087 listings in the last directory. The net gain in number of telephones in Lubbock during the first nine months of the year was 3,001.

"We expect to have the distribution of new books completed by Monday night," Cale said.

The 21,250 directories being passed out currently shows a sharp increase over the 19,500 issued last March.

That noble clan, the Smiths, once again took the honors for having the greatest number of listings in the directory—with 198 separate listings.

Trailing behind were the Joneses with 127 separate listings, the Browns with 101, and the Johnsons with 92.

The treasured position of first in the directory once again went to the American Automobile association, who carried its listing this way: "A American Auto Assn". Second place passed from the hands of the A-1 Repair shop on Slaton highway to the A Travel bureau at 820 Main. A-1 Cleaners also squeezed in ahead of the repair shop this time.

John Zournas, veteran Lubbock restaurant operator, lost his place as the last name in the new telephone book to Morris I. Zukav, manager of Zale's jewelers. As yet, apparently, no one in Lubbock has changed his name to Zyzzu to get the last place in the book.

For telephone users who want to talk to the other side of the world, the new book contains some typical week-day rates for a three-minute call.

Calls to Argentina, Australia, Denmark, Italy, the United Kingdom and the U. S. S. R. now run $12 for the three minutes, the book says.

To Colombia, Hawaii, and Venezuela, that rate is only $9, and to Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands and Bermuda, $7.50. Reduced rates apply in some cases on Sunday.

For those frequently-placed long distance calls, the directory contains a cardboard folder, attractively illustrated, with space for listing long distance numbers by name and town. The folder also contains instructions for placing long distance calls and definitions of persons-to-person and station-to-station calls.

Some unusual classifications found in the yellow pages:

Aluminum fabricators, alcohol (of the rubbing variety), art galleries, artists, barbecue, calcium chloride, caskets, decalcomania transfers, detective agencies, driverless autos, embroidery, heat exchangers, hides, mailing service, mausoleums, oysters, pottery, punch boards, rabbitries, sawdust, solvents, telephone message bureaus, time service, wake-up service and wrestling promoters.

Birthday Party Brightens Confined Life

Film Actress Cheers Youth Fighting Against Slow Death

By FREEMAN FULBRIGHT
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 27—The pale young face which has seen nothing much but four walls for 26 months was turned happily today toward the homemade screen across which flickered a first-run movie.

There was a fleeting grimace as "The End" marched across the sheets and plucky but apparently doomed Paul Nelson, jr., of Chicago seemed afraid that the best part of his birthday party was over.

But then the screen parted and through it stepped pert Celeste Holm, co-star of the movie, "Come to the Stable," which Paul had just viewed.

Star Greets Youth

"Happy birthday, Paul," greeted the film and musical comedy star and the thin face of the 18-year-old boy brightened.

Then up stepped Tommy Bartlett, host on radio's Welcome Traveler show, and for nearly half an hour the two entertained the youth who doctors say can't live because his spinal cord is severed.

Paul, 16 then and a husky, football-playing youth, was injured in an automobile accident in July, 1947. A month later he collapsed while swimming and physicians pronounced the awesome verdict.

The courageous young man, now wasted away to 70 pounds, has lain paralyzed since that time. But he hasn't given up hope.

Boy Continues Education

He has continued his education with the help of a twice-a-week tutor and hopes to graduate with his class (from Amundsen High school) next January.

Also he still hopes to star on the gridiron for the University of Illinois where he was headed before being injured.

Chicagoans have contributed a television set and occasional movies and visits from celebrities, like those of today, to brighten his days.

His parents, Paul, sr., and Christine, who have another son, 14, say Paul doesn't know how badly he was hurt. He thinks only that a nerve has been pinched.

DALLAS WOMAN DIES

DALLAS, Oct. 27. (AP)—Mrs. Louise Holland Myers, 79, widow of the late George E. Myers, pioneer Dallas newspaperman, died today after a long illness. Myers was at one time part owner and business manager of The Times Herald.

Men Sought By Reserve Units

Two Lubbock Organized Reserve corps units need a number of enlisted Reservists to bring the organizations to required strength, local Reserve corps officers announced Thursday.

Headquarters company, 411th Transportation Truck battalion, needs 36 enlisted men to be at required strength, Capt. Charles T. Forrester, commanding officer of the unit, said.

The 912th Quartermaster Depot Supply company is 10 enlisted men short of required strength, according to its commanding officer, Major Harvey C. Bowdle.

A recent directive received at the Lubbock Reserve corps instructor's office from the Texas Military district in Austin stated that unless the local units are brought up to required strengh by Dec. 15, they will be considered for relocation to some other city in Texas.

All veterans, regardless of former branch of service, are urged to apply to room 255, Cotton Exchange building, 1005½ Thirteenth, Lubbock, for membership in one of these two organizations.

Armory meetings are held every other Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Naval Reserve Training center on the Texas Tech campus. For each attendance, a Reservist receives a day's pay in the rank held. Veterans can enter the Organized Reserves in the rank they held when separated from the service.

Full information regarding assignment to these units may be obtained by contacting Major Samsel, telephone 7574, Lubbock.

EGG QUOTATIONS SHOW DROP

Soaring Coffee Prices Boost American Consumers' Food Bill

(By The Associated Press)

Sharply rising coffee prices and skidding quotations for best grade eggs topped the consumer food news this week as meat prices continued irregular and most produce items held about steady.

Coffee was up five cents a pound or more in many markets as big roasting concerns and retailers were forced to meet higher prices for imported coffee beans. The green beans which roasters could buy at around 26 cents a pound early last spring were hard to find at 46 cents this week.

Consumption Rises

During the 1930's the world supply of coffee greatly exceeded the demand and prices fell so low that many plantations were abandoned. But then consumption started increasing sharply, and traders say this year world demand is about equal to maximum potential production.

This year's crop was disappointing, and drouth and other unfavorable weather conditions during the flowering season of the new Brazilian crop, to be harvested next summer, have dimmed the outlook for next year.

Suppliers also were worried about the shortage of tinplate for cans. Some can-makers warned that if the steel strike continues, container requirements cannot be guaranteed beyond the next two or three weeks.

Egg Prices Slump

Large grade "A" eggs dropped as much as 16 cents a dozen wholesale in some places during the past eight days, and by midweek some highly competitive store chains had slashed retail prices up to 10 cents or more a dozen. More retail cuts were expected later.

Traders said greater receipts from producers were largely responsible, but they also credited consumer resistance to the recent high prices of large eggs compared with medium-sized and pullet eggs. Production was increasing seasonally and commercial buying for storage purposes was slow.

MEET THE WOMEN—Mrs. Bernice Carnahan, owner and manager of South Plains Music Co., 1316 Broadway, is a past president of the Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club and past vice president of Altrusa and Lubbock Music clubs. She is a member of First Baptist church and has been a Lubbock resident since 1938, moving here from San Antonio. Mrs. Carnahan has been connected with music stores for 20 years. Her principal hobby, in addition to music, is reading. She has one son, Bob Hayes, student at Southern Methodist university, Dallas. Mrs. Carnahan's home is at 3312 Thirty-third. (Staff Photo.)

Hat, Gown Collection To Leave Paris For Fort Worth Showing

PARIS, Oct. 27. (AP)—A Paris loan collection of gowns and hats will leave by plane tomorrow for showing at Fort Worth.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram has arranged the showing for the wives at the annual meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editor's association, in Fort Worth Nov. 2-5. Sponsors say this is the first Paris loan collection ever sent to the United States.

Ten dresses, each selected by a fashion house as the most sensational models in its collections, will go on display. With each showing there will be a recorded message from the designers — Pierre Balmain, Jean Desses, Jacques Fath, Robert Piguet, Molyneux, Jacques Griffe, Gres, Manguin, Marcel Rochas, and Patou.

Legroux Freres is supplying seven high fashion hats.

Miss Dora Miller, who is handling the Paris arrangements for the Star-Telegram, said the collection will be back in Paris after an absence of one week.

Houston Bar Group To Honor Allred, Connally At Dinner

HOUSTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—James V. Allred and Ben Connally, newly-appointed federal judges for this district, will be honor guests of the Houston Bar association at a dinner here next week.

Invitations have been extended U. S. Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon B. Johnson, and to Congressman Albert Thomas of Houston. The affair will be held Wednesday night.

Allred, named resident judge of the southern district, will move to Corpus Christi and will be sworn in Saturday. Connally will remain here, and expects to be sworn in in November.

The two appointees were nominated by President Truman and have been confirmed by the Senate.

Army Seeks Means Of Adapting Use Of Sound Waves As Weapon

BY DON WINKS
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. — The Army's leading authority on supersonic weapons indicated today that full-blown research is underway on a weapon which could deliver a lethal stream of high-frequency sound waves in combat.

Maj. Gen. Henry B. Sayler, assistant chief of Army ordnance and chief of the department's ordnance research and development division, declared:

"Scientists working for the Army have thought along the lines of a supersonic weapon.

Work Still In Research

"However, such work is still very much in the research stage."

The question of supersonic weapons — long looked on as in the Buck Rogerish realm — has come to the forefront in recent months.

Scientists say the weapon would work on a principle long known to physicists — the tendency of high-frequency sound waves to generate heat.

Experiments have been conducted showing that small, fur-bearing animals such as guinea pigs and rabbits can be killed by a burst of high-frequency sound.

Weapon Considered Possible

Howard D. Hardy, supervisor of the acoustics and vibration section of Illinois Institute of technology in Chicago, backed up the theoretical possibility of such a weapon.

Hardy declared that a supersonic weapon was "possible" and pointed out that sound waves of an intensity of 160 decibels can raise the temperature of the human skin.

The scientists declared that these waves must have a frequency of 20,000 cycles per second or higher — a pitch inaudible to the human ear.

(Middle C on a piano vibrates at a rate of 256 cycles per second and the level of ordinary speech is about 70 decibels.)

Ray Efficiency Doubted

Another scientist, Dr. Horace O. Parrack, chief of the bio-acoustic unit of the Aero Medical laboratory, air material command, expressed doubt that such rays would be lethal to humans.

Dr. Parrack declared that animals died from the high-frequency noise because they cannot get rid of the accumulated heat, which then causes the body proteins to coagulate.

He said that man, because of the efficiency of his skin ventilating system, is safe at energy levels 120 times higher than those which prove fatal to animals.

Besides being lethal, a weapon such as that envisioned by the scientists would be inaudible and could strike without warning.

A Chicago scientist already has announced development of a "supersonic pistol" which he has reportedly used to kill small game.

His work now is being conducted under Army supervision.

Western Culture At Greatest Height In Texas, Briton Says

NEW YORK, Oct. 27—(AP)—The celebrated British conductor, Sir Thomas Beecham, said today that "in Texas, western culture has arrived at its highest peak."

He arrived on the S. S. Queen Mary. His program this season includes guest conducting with the San Antonio, Dallas and Houston symphony orchestras.

Beecham also commented on other subjects:

Promises Remain Unfilled

Modern classical music—"A continuous succession of promissory notes. Composers are always promising but only keep on promising."

[illegible] England — The Attlee regime is "professing to govern Great Britain."

Asked what he thought of bebop, he asked, "What the devil is that?"

Reporters knew all the things that bebop is not. It isn't jazz or swing or classical music. They told him it was "a recent development in modern American music."

Texas U. To Hold Workshop On Development Of Visual Aids

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (INS) — Development and use of visual aids will be the subject of a University of Texas workshop to be held in Austin Nov. 7-18.

The workshop is designed for state supervisors and teacher trainers of industrial education.

The U. S. Office of education, the Texas State Board for Vocational education and the Industrial and Business Training bureau of the University's Department of extension arranged the workshop at the request of the Southern Regional conference.

Trade and industrial personnel and teachers will be trained in analyzing and mastering the techniques used in developing visual aids.

Conducting the workshop will be James R. D. Eddy, director of the training bureau; D. W. McCavrick, director of the University's Visual Education bureau, and M. L. Barlow of the University of California at Los Angeles.

'IN GOD WE TRUST' ADOPTED

Letter, Believed To Have Led To Motto On U. S. Coins, Unearthed

BY ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. — Sen. Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) discovered in the national archives today a letter believed to have kindled the religious flame which led to adoption of the motto "In God we Trust" on U. S. coins.

The letter was written Nov. 13, 1861, by a Pennsylvania clergyman, the Rev. M. E. Watkinson, who began a campaign for "recognition of the deity on our money," shortly after the fall of Fort Sumter plunged the nation into civil war.

The minister wrote Salmon P. Chase, President Lincoln's secretary of the treasury:

"What if our republic were now shattered beyond reconstruction? Would not the antiquaries of succeeding centuries rightfully reason from our past coins that we were a heathen nation?"

Watkinson called for the minting of a coin bearing the words "God, liberty, law."

Treasury records show that Chase was impressed by Watkinson's plea and by the flood of letters on the same subject resulting from a campaign carried on by the Pennsylvania preacher.

Chase, presumably after consultation with Mr. [illegible], wrote mint Director James Pollack that "the trust of our people in God should be declared on national coins."

Thus the wheels were started, but the machinery of government then, as now, moved slowly. In 1863 Chase wrote Pollack that either "In God We Trust" or "God Is Our Shield" should be stamped on new coins.

Congress, having debated the matter, enacted a law on April 22, 1864, authorizing the director of the mint to use the motto "In God We Trust" on new two-cent pieces, and subsequently on other coins.

Famed Motto Threatened

Abolition of the motto was threatened during Theodore Roosevelt's regime, when "T.R." asserted that the pious sentiment had lost its effectiveness because of the irreverent signs in many saloons, reading:

"In God we trust — all others pay cash."

However, letters demanding that the inscription be retained deluged the White House and the treasury and the President was overridden.

Later, the motto was omitted from the buffalo nickel, it being thought inappropriate to place it on that coin. However, Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, present director of the mint, saw to it that the Jefferson nickel, which replaced the buffalo coin, carried the slogan.

Air Force To Seek New Fighting Power

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)— The Air Force will go to market for new medium bombers, fighter-bombers, night fighters and big transports when it finds out how much money it will get for new planes.

The size of the Air Force purse rests with President Truman, who urged less than Congress voted, and secretary of Defense Johnson.

Mr. Truman has before him a bill authorizing $6,081,000,000 for 58 combat groups, their size varying according to type of plane. He originally recommended $5,025,000,000 or a 48-group appropriation.

When the President signs the bill, he may indicate whether he might withhold some of that money. In any event, Johnson must tell Congress before Jan. 1 if he cuts down on the amount to be spent, and explain why.

Rent Decontrol Celebration To Be Held In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27 (U.P.)— The first Texas Apartment and Property Owners association convention will be held here Friday and Saturday to celebrate "freedom from rent control."

Property owners from Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Louisiana will gather for the "victory convention," Mrs. Mildred F. Chadwick, publicity chairman, said.

The convention will end late Saturday with a barbecue at the Grand Prairie home of Lyndon J. Goodson, regional vice-president.

FRENSHIP SCHOOL WILL BE HOST FOR CARNIVAL

WOLFFORTH, Oct. 27 (Special) — Three queens will reign over the Frenship school's annual Hallowe'en carnival here Friday night.

The identity of the queens will not be revealed until the coronation ceremony to be held shortly after the masquerade parade at 9:30 p.m., but two will be chosen from the elementary school and one from the high school.

Cash awards of $2.50 each will be presented to those judged to have the prettiest, the ugliest, and the most original costumes in the masquerade parade.

Concessions and booths in the high school building will include fortune telling, a shooting gallery, basketball shooting, a fish pond, chunking at teachers, movies, a traveling race, a food booth, and others.

U.S. Soon To Sign New Marshall Plan Agreement With Germany

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

In a paradox produced by the cold war, the United States, which has no peace treaty with Germany, is about to sign one with her for Marshall plan aid.

The treaty is a political rather than a financial transaction. Assistance has been going to Germany all the time through occupation authorities.

To Deal With Bonn

Now allotments are being made to the three western zones as one, and soon will be handled directly with the new western republic's government at Bonn, just as with any Marshall plan country.

West Germany also becomes a member of the organization for European economic cooperation, which administers the European end of the recovery program.

This is her first step of re-entry into the western orbit nations, toward which much Allied occupation effort has been directed.

It is a sign of diplomatic rehabilitation and, indeed, approaches diplomatic recognition. The new republic wil have her envoys at the Marshall plan's council in Paris.

Dollars Major "Pull"

It serves to balance Russian diplomatic recognition and exchange of envoys with the new eastern German government. While full recognition by the Russians may be more striking for some Germans from a propaganda standpoint, the ruble has none of the persuasive power which the dollar wields in the western deal.

The western Allies also are studying the possibility of admitting Western Germany to the specialized agencies of the United Nations.

Another step may come soon, with admission of western Berlin as the new republic's 12th state. America's allies in Europe have been feaerful that Berlin, included in the republic, might become the center of German nationalistic revival.

SHOEMAKER WANTED — Photographs taken at the opening of Philadelphia's Community Chest drive — with a loud-speaker "message" by William Penn, atop City Hall—revealed that the founder of the Commonwealth has a poorly shod right foot (see inset). The toe was removed two years ago to strengthen the statue, and will be replaced.

Chief Reasons For Neglect Of Eyesight Explained By Doctor

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (INS)— Vanity, indifference and carelessness are three of the chief reasons for neglect of eyesight.

That's the opinion of Dr. George W. Cox, Texas State health officer, who believes that penalties are bound to occur for inexcusable negligence in eye care.

"The eyes of any person, whether young, middle-aged or old," Dr. Cox declared, "are one of the most priceless of bodily possessions. "To take care of them promptly and properly is a responsibility which never should be side-stepped."

He asserted that parents should be especially watchful for danger signals in the eyesight of their children. Among the symptoms of weak eyes, he said, were frowning, squinting, persistent headaches, eyeache and water eyes.

If a youngster reads too closely or too far away from his face, he added, that situation may also be significant of trouble.

"No child likes wearing glasses," Dr. Cox said. "Nevertheless it is the obligation of those responsible for the future of young folks to have their eyes examined by a reputable specialist if there is a suspicion that normal vision does not exist. It is much better for a child to wear glasses for a few years during early school life than to have permanently defective vision in later life."

Lubbockites Told Of Tulsa Kiwanis Meet

Roy Bass, president elect of the Lubbock Kiwanis club, Thursday gave fellow members a report on the recent Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis convention at Tulsa.

Speaking at a luncheon meeting in Hotel Lubbock, the loquacious lawyer reiterated speeches he had heard at the convention while occasionally inserting his own opinions about the various orators and their topics.

He also kept his fellow members chuckling throughout his talk with funny but inoffensive jokes and humorous quips.

Bass pointed out that the Texas-Oklahoma district is now the third largest Kiwanis district in number of clubs and second largest in number of members. Present status of the district, according to Bass, is 180 clubs and 12,921 members.

He was introduced by fellow member and lawyer George W. McCleskey. He also showed members an achievement plaque awarded the club for its work in 1948 while under the leadership of Jack Davis.

Fred Sparks presided and Dr. M. Norvel Young gave the invocation.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (U.P.)— Lessie Van Ziglar was given six months in jail on her 59th arrest. William Lowrence, blind negro, said she was "scratching around in my pocketbook" when he looked to see if he had 50 cents in change to lend her. After she left, he said, he was missing $20.

Remains Of Ancient Eskimo Life Found In Arctic Wastes By Smithsonian Expedition

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Evidence has been discovered that a cultured race flourished more than 500 years ago in the Arctic wastes of Canada, well to the north of the magnetic pole. Dr. Henry B. Collins, of Washington's famed Smithsonian institution, made the discovery on an expedition last summer. In this exclusive article he suggests that deteriorating living conditions may have driven the mysterious island race elsewhere).

By DR. HENRY B. COLLINS
(Staff of the Smithsonian Institution; Written Epressly for International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 — On Cornwallis island, far north in the land of the midnight sun, I found the remains of an ancient Eskimo civilization that must have flourished five centuries ago.

The expedition of which I was a part was undertaken last summer at the direction of the Smithsonian institution. I was assisted in my work by J. P. Michea, of the National Museum of Canada.

Permanent Houses Used

Our excavations showed that the Eskimos living on the lonely island dwelt in permanent houses with stone floors and walls and roofs of stones, whale bones and turf.

They had hunted the bow-headed whale, an animal no longer found in those waters, for we unearthed a bone knife on which had been incised a pictograph showing five men in a skin boat, or umiak, in the act of harpooning a whale.

The many animal bones from the old sites showed that these ancient, now vanished Eskimos depended primarily on seals, walrus and whales for their food, supplemented by caribou, polar bear, foxes, muskox, birds and fish.

Bone Implements Found

We found harpoon heads and other implements and weapons, skillfully carved from bone, walrus ivory and caribou antler. There were many other objects of wood, stone and baleen.

We also discovered skin bags, feather ornaments, and even articles of clothing such as seal skin boots and mittens of polar bear fur, all perfectly preserved in the permanently frozen ground.

It seems apparent that the men who lived in this barren land belonged to the thule stage of prehistoric Eskimo culture, an outgrowth of the still earlier Eskimo culture known as the birnirk and old Bering sea, centering around the Bering strait.

These long-ago island men and women obviously descended from tribes that came from Asia, the original home of the Eskimo race and culture.

Eskimo Livelihood Threatened

Centuries ago the island inhabitants must have found their livelihoods threatened by the vanishing bow-headed whale, which no longer is found in the waters of the arctic archipelago, possibly because the passages have become too shallow with the rising of land and sea bottom.

Driftwood, which must have been available to the early island dwellers, does not reach the shores now, suggesting that changes in currents or ice conditions may have occurred within the past several centuries.

It may have been for these reasons that the island was abandoned.

Whether the early people went northeast into Greenland or moved south into Canada cannot be determined until the collections have been studied in detail.

Earthworms swallow soil and digest the vegetable matter from it.

ADD TWO SPORTS

EAST LANSING, Mich.—(AP)— Ice Skating and bowling will be added to the regular physical education program at Michigan State this fall. The skating will be conducted in the new Michigan State Ice Arena, and the kegling on the 16-lane alleys in the new Student Union building. Ice skating instructor will be Harold W. Paulsen, hockey coach. Bowling will be tutored by Leon D. Burhans.

Drop In Price Of Eggs Is No Longer Just Plain Economics

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 27—To show you how cockeyed we've become in the matter of what used to be a two plus two problem, let us quote from a recent story dealing with the decline in the price of eggs.

They had dropped with a sudden crash as much as 16 cents a dozen. To explain this minor miracle to a new generation of Americans, the writer of the piece added, cautiously, "an exchange spokesman said this was mainly because there are plenty of eggs around."

Only "mainly," he says in his Calvin Coolidge prose.

Seems to me that a plentiful crop used to result automatically in lower prices. But those days seem gone forever. This is the era of the fix, the peg, the iron-clad subsidy. Before the price of an egg can drop we must think of repercussions in China, Denmark, France and the other countries whose eggs we are buying, powdering and storing.

The foreign egg, Sen. Joe McCarthy (R-Wis.), was telling us the other day in Washington, has become something of a yolk on the taxpapers' shoulders.

We buy 'em at our own high U. S. price levels, subsidized, in order to spread some dollars around the producing countries. This (and the sale of potatoes and other foodstuffs to us) causes certain food shortages in countries already crushed by same. To right this, we give them the food or the equivalent to make up for the shortage we caused by buying their stuff in order to bury it.

So the man who wrote the piece was quite correct in stating that the abundance of U. S. eggs was only a contributing factor to that oddest of all modern news flashes: A drop in the price on anything.

Move Gains Following

Father James Keller's Christopher movement, the organization that collects no dues and holds no meetings, is attracting thousands each month, judging from the mail coming to the New York desk of the youthful Mary Knoll missionary. The members are of every faith, and of no faith at all.

Keller describes the unique organization in these terms, in his latest book, "Three Minutes A Day," which Doubleday has published:

"Less than one per cent of humanity have caused most of the world's recent major troubles. This handful—no matter what their labels—mutually shares a militant hatred for the basic truth upon which this nation and all Christian civilization is founded (and without which it cannot endure): That each and every human being shares the common fatherhood of God, deriving his rights from God, not from the state.

"Driven by such hatred, those few become missioners of evil, striving to reach the many, not merely the few. They usually get into one of the four spheres that touch the lives of all people the world over: (1) Education, (2) government, (3) Labor management, (4) Writing—newspapers, magazines, books, radio, motion pictures, television.

"The aim of the Christophers is to get another one per cent to go as Apostolic workers—as Christophers or Christ-bearers — into the same four fields, and strive at least as hard to restore the fundamental truth which the other one per cent are working furiously to eliminate . . . 'It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness.'"

Johnny Toker, the Brooklyn sports fan, having recovered from a mild apoplexy caused by the loss of the Dodgers in the World series, emerges long enough to comment:

"How come nobody ever 'wins' a football game any more? They crush, sink, crumple, upset, swamp, annihiliate, squeeze, eclipse, trap, trample, smash, KO, top, drub, romp, rout, roll over, rip, tear, repulse and slaughter."

Dear Johnny:
You win.

Lubbock Officer Leaves For California Burial Of Father

Mark V. McCurry, police patrolman of 2416 Thirty-first, left at midnight for Glendale, Calif., after learning his father had died after a brief illness.

The parent, W. B. McCurry, about 78, was a retired farmer who was a native of the Girard area of Kent county.

Funeral services will be read Friday afternoon at Glendale.

The widow and several sons and daughters, some of them West Texas residents, survive, friends of the family said.

Civics Book Banned In Houston Defended

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 27 (U.P.)—James H. Burgess, a member of the Oregon textbook commission, today described Texans as "notoriously hotheaded" and defended Dr. Frank A. MaGruder's civics textbook banned by the Houston school board.

MaGruder is a retired Oregon state college political science professor. His book "American Government" was banned in Houston because the old editions in use in Houston included one paragraph stating that there were some socialistic, and even communistic, tendencies in the U. S. capitalistic system of government.

"The book only states the facts —unpleasant ones—and it should be supplemented with a course studying communism," said Burgess.

"The way to abolish communism fastest would be to put a course in high school teaching it."

The Portland Oregonian today editorially referred to the Houston school board as "dumb" and said its action in banning the book showed that "stupidity can go no further."

"That's the payoff," said the newspaper.

MaGruder said he had "no interest in communism."

"All my books are opposed to revolution. I even think our own revolution never accomplished much. I have never voted for socialism or communism," MaGruder said.

Funeral Rites Conducted For Mrs. J. C. Freeman, Crosbyton

CROSBYTON, Oct. 27 (Special)—Services were conducted at 2 p. m. today in the First Baptist church here for Mrs. J. C. Freeman, 62, who died at 5 a. m. Wednesday in the Crosbyton hospital.

Rev. Carl Grissom, assisted by Rev. Lloyd Hamilton, officiated. Burial took place in Meadow cemetery under direction of the King Funeral home.

Mrs. Freeman came to Crosbyton 28 years ago from Graham.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. J. S. Wheeler of Gordon, Neb., and Miss Nell Freeman of Crosbyton; two sons, Joseph and Willis Freeman, both of Garfield, N. M.; a sister, Mrs. Sally Godfrey of Tahoka; two brothers, John and Bill Timmons, both of Tahoka, and five grandchildren.

Demos Would Hold Big Edge If Congressional Vote Held Now

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 27 — President Truman has declared that the 1950 eelction race is already underway. How would the two parties stand if the nation were voting for Congress this November instead of next?

All evidence points to a marked Democratic advantage in popular strength at this time. In fact the situation now, one year before the 1950 Congressional voting, closely parallels the situation which existed one year before the 1948 election.

Voters interviewed by the Institute say that if they were voting for Congressmen today they would favor the Democratic party rather than the Republican. Here are the figures which show this present day Democratic strength.

"If you were voting for Congresman TODAY, would you be most likely to vote for the Republican, the Democratic, or the candidate of some other party?"

|---|---|
| Democratic | 45% |
| Republican | 32 |
| Other parties | 3 |
| Undecided | 20 |

To interpret these findings properly at this early date in the 1950 campaign, several factors must be kept in mind.

Many Undecided

First, even though people were simply asked how they would be likely to vote at present (not a year from now), a substantial number say they would have a hard time making up their minds.

Second, the low turnout of voters in mid-term Congressional elections normally works to the advantage of the Republican party because a higher proportion of habitual voters are in the Republican party than in the Democratic party.

Only 34,000,000 voters went to the polls in 1946, the last mid-term Congressional year. This represented slightly more than one-third of all persons over 21 years of age and was substantially less than the 48,700,000 who voted in the Presidential election two years later.

The low turnout in 1946 was one of the factors accounting for the Democratic loss of the House and the Senate.

Results of special by-elections held to fill vacancies—elections which are always studied by political observers for signs of trend—must also be interpreted with turnout in mind, as well as local factors.

Sources Of Strength

A number of different elements combine to give the Democrats their popular strength at the present time.

One is the substantial body of voters who regard themselves as Democrats. Whereas the Republican party was the majority party from the Civil War to 1932, keeping control of the White House in all but four elections, the Democrats have now become the majority party, with the great reservoir of votes which this implies. A total of 48 per cent of the electorate considers itself Democratic, a recent survey found, as compared to 32 per cent who classify themselves as Republican and 20 per cent as Independent.

Another factor favorable to the Democrats is the great appeal which the party has for the young voters. In recent Presidential elections the vote of persons under 30 years of age has been strongly Democratic.

Views On Issues

Surveys have found that the voters have more confidence in the Democratic party than in the Republican party in the matter of handling certain tough national problems.

For protecting farm income, preventing unemployment, protecting civil rights, cutting the cost of living, dealing with Russia and handling strikes and labor troubles, voters express a preference for the Democratic party.

For cutting down on government expenses and handling American Communists, voters expressed a preference for the Republican party.

More Than Half Of American Families Drive In Own Cars

WASHINGTON, Oc. 27 (AP) — Fifty-one per cent of 50,400,000 American families own at least one automobile. One out of 17 owns two or more.

Seventy-seven per cent hold life insurance policies with premiums above $100 a year. Seventy-one per cent have bank accounts on government savings bonds, and 45 per cent own a home or a farm.

But only nine per cent have an interest in a business, and only eight per cent own corporate stock.

Savings Bonds Favored

The Federal Reserve board so reported today on the basis of a sample survey it took early this year. It counts only those families living together and pooling incomes for expenses.

The survey also included a question to this effect:

Suppose you had more money than you needed for expenses would you think it wiser to put it in a savings or a checking account, buy government savings bonds, invest in real estate, or buy common stock?

"Only savings bonds met with overwhelmingly favorable comment," the board reported, adding that it found 92 favorable comments on savings bonds for every 41 on savings accounts, 18 on checking accounts, 14 on real estate and eight on common stock.

"Safety and the rate of return"—the rate being 2.9 per cent a year on bonds held the full 10 years to maturity—were the reasons given in explanation of approvals for savings bonds.

Objections Are Listed

"Those few people who commented adversely on savings bonds said their return was not high enough or that they were not liquid enough," the board reported

Among those who commented unfavorably on the choices, there there were 69 "against" holding common stock for each 63 "against" real estate, 39 against savings accounts, 19 against checking accounts, and 12 against savings bonds.

The most frequent adverse comment on savings accounts was that "the return was too low." but anti-checking account feeling was on an entirely different basis:

"They would not put money into checking accounts because the ease of withdrawal provided too great temptation to spend."

Inclinations against real estate were because "its price was too high and therefore by buying it now one would probably lose money."

Opposition to common stick investment was laid to "lack of familiarity" or fear of loss.

Interpreter Will Aid Area Farmers

Farmers who have difficulties with the Spanish language in dealings with Mexicans or "braceros" from the interior of Mexico now have a man at their disposal who can interpret any of the "lingos."

He is Miguel Ordonez, a native of Colombia, South America, who is now stationed in Lubbock with the Texas Employment commission.

Ordonez, who talks English and Spanish fluently, may be contacted by telephone at the TEC office, 4661 or the Mexican Labor camp, 1002 Edna, by dialing 2-7646.

Students Seeking Pharmacy Training Must Apply Early

AUSTIN, Oct. 27 (INS)—Students who want to start professional pharmacy studies at the University of Texas next September must apply for formal acceptance, Pharmacy. Dean H. M. Burlage has announced.

Pharmacy college courses begin in the sophomore year. A candidate must apply the semester or term before the semester he wishes to enter professional study and not later than Aug. 1 of that year.

Final candidate selection will be made by the college on previous scholastic records, if the number of applicants exceeds the number for which facilities are available.

Young Convict Undergoes Brain Surgery In Search For New Life

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
INS Staff Correspondent

MIAMI, Oct. 27.—A handsome convict underwent brain surgery today as a 25-year-old criminal—and emerged with what doctors believe will be "the emotional instability of a baby."

If the three-hour "operation reform" and follow-up psyciatric treatment is successful, Charles Hinkley will be free of "criminal emotional upheavals" in one to three years.

Attorneys Arthur Kent and Harvey Klein hope he will also be free "on clemency basis" of dozens of bogus check-passing charges in four states.

Convict Enters Room

Hinkley, who gave his address as swanky Sutton Place, New York, entered the Coral Gables doctor's hospital operating room saying:

"Everything's okay. I don't think I'm gonna kick off. Even if I did, I'd be better off than now."

The convict, who faces a lifetime of penal sentences, read about the unusual operation in a magazine last May while awaiting trial in Dade county jail.

Telling jailers, "I'm better off dead than this way," he asked that such an operation be performed on him.

Holes Drilled In Head

The operation, which demanded two surgeons and nearly three hours, although the anticipated time was 45 minutes, is technically a prefrontal lobotomy. It consists of drilling holes in the skull and inserting a spatula-like instrument to separate the prefrontal lobes.

Attorney Klein, interpreting doctors' reports, said:

"When the lobes are cut apart, the intellect is separated from the center of the emotions. Once the tissue between the lobes is separated, a patient has his native intellect intact, but is entirely free of emotional upheavals.

"Then he must be trained, emotionally, as if he were a child."

Next week, Klein said, the convict will be moved to an undisclosed part of Florida, to be "brought up like a synthetic little boy, by psychiatrists."

They will teach him to use initiative of the "right kind," and at the end of six months he should have reached the six-year initiative maturity level. It will be one to three years before he reaches an emotional level comparable to his actual age.

Former Marketing Manager For Oil Firm Dies At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27. (U.P.)—Funeral services for William O. Gatton, sr., former manager of the Fort Worth district for Magnolia Petroleum Co., will be held here tomorrow.

Gatton died at his home here late yesterday, after having been in poor health the past two years.

Born in Parsons, Kan., he came here as a youth with his parents. His first job was as a clerk with the Standard Rope and Twine Co., in Houston in 1901. Later, he joined the Southwestern Oil Co., at Houston.

In 1914, Gatton went to work for Magnolia at Dallas, becoming assistant manager of the marketing department. From Dallas, he went to Little Rock, Ark., as assistant manager of that district.

Three years later—in 1919—he was made manager of the Amarillo district and became well known there for his civic efforts. He was made manager of the Fort Worth district in 1930, retiring in 1939 after 25 years with Magnolia.

Big Spring Man Wins $43,680 Damage Suit Against Railroad

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27. (U.P.)—L. M. Parker of Big Spring today held a jury verdict awarding him damages of $43,680 from the Texas and Pacific Railway Co.

Parker sought $90,000 for injuries received in an accident in July of 1946 at Big Spring where he worked as a switchman for the railroad. His right leg was amputated below the knee.

However, the U. S. district court jury found he was entitled to damages amounting to $58,240, then deducted $14,560 because it held he was 21 per cent negligent himself in the mishap.

Oysters Commended As Valuable Food, If Properly Protected

AUSTIN, Oct. 27 (INS) — Some people claim oysters are good only during the months which have R in their spelling.

But the Texas State Health department says oysters are not safe any month, with or without the R, if the seafood has not been cultivated, shucked, packed, and shipped under sanitary conditions.

Texas' veteran state health officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, says oysters have much to commend them as a source of food.

"They have protein of good quality, iron, and copper (important as a protection against anemia), iodine, which is essential to proper working of the thyroid gland, and a fair amount of vitamins," Cox says. But he adds emphatically, "Beware of uncertified oysters."

According to the doctor, each oyster grower in Texas is given a certificate of approval for the oyster bed he uses, provided health department officials find the beds are free from pollution, and the shucking houses are clean and well-kept. Otherwise, no certificate.

Each shucking house (where oysters are opened) must have a certificate showing all employes are free from communicable diseases, especially typhoid fever. The certificates are issued annually.

The federal government cooperates with the state by keeping a list of all certified shippers in Texas. If a shipper isn't certified by the State Health department, the oysters can't be shipped in interstate commerce. And since Texas has some fine oyster beds, Dr. Cox says the interstate commerce ruling is an incentive for oyster shippers to adhere to sanitary practices. Otherwise they miss the out-of-state market.

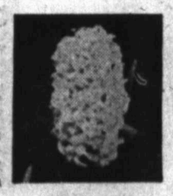

Icebergs are never seen in the Arctic Ocean because there are few glaciers around it large and active enough to produce bergs.

Lower Food Costs Indicated In Farm Price Drop

Income Is Still Over Prewar Top

INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 — The government forecast tonight that prices paid to farmers will continue to fall in 1950 and renewed prospects that lower retail food costs may be in the offing.

The Agriculture department predicted that farmers' margin of profit will be narrowed still further next year.

The general downtrend in cash crop prices has been underway since mid-1948. But up to now possible benefits to the consumers have been largely nullified by rising transportation and other marketing costs.

Retail Decline Seen

Tonight's prediction of lower prices for farm production again raised the possibility, however, that retail prices may decline.

Agriculture department officials noted that land values, farm wage rates and some other cost items turned downward in 1949. But they added:

"Lower prices of farm products and comparatively high cost rates with resulting high operating costs in 1949 are definitely lowering farmers' net returns.

"For the country as a whole, however, operators' net returns are expected to average around three times the prewar. The extent of the decline will depend upon the type of farm and the area."

Seed Costs Increase

For example, New England dairy farmers who perform their own labor are expected to net about $700 less on the average than in 1948. This income lag results from high seed costs following last summer's drouth.

The squeeze on farm profits is pointed up by the fact that from 1948 to 1949 the index of prices received by farmers fell 34 points while the index of farm costs dropped only seven points. Officials said:

"Further declines are expected in 1950, with prices received declining again somewhat more than those paid."

Other phases of the farm outlook for next year:

1. With industrial employment leveling off, the supply of farm workers available is expected to be slightly greater and wage rates slightly lower. Some local shortages may develop.

2. The end of the "sellers market" on machinery seems to have been reached. Dealers are offering better prices for trade-ins.

3. The total feed supply for the 1940-50 season is at a record level. "It should pay to feed livestock heavily this fall and winter."

4. Except for some tight spots,

Strike Action Is Urged By Texans

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (Special)—Texans are beginning to bring pressure to bear on their senators to try to do something about the steel strike.

Mostly appeals so far have come from iron foundrymen or steel fabrications who serve other consumers, but who are quick to point out that the curtailment in steel supplies now may hold up the output of machinery on which other businesses and many other employes will depend in the first quarter of next year.

Connally Pushes Action

Senator Tom Connally after receiving requests from Texans to do all possible took up the matter with Cyrus Ching, federal mediator. Ching replied he was doing all possible to bring about a strike solution as soon as he could.

President Truman today said the strike had not yet produced a national emergency.

Amarillo iron foundry and steel fabrication firms wired Connally, "Must small business men lose their life savings before the situation is deemed a national emergency." They said further they did not approve of "labor controlling business."

A Dallas manufacturer of machinery for cottonseed oil mills and cotton gins said, now is the time for restocking to produce at peak periods in the first quarter of 1949. "Many employes will be out of work if we cannot operate," they wired. "This is a mounting catastrophe."

Texas Military District To Reorganize Headquarters

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (Special) — The reorganization of the headquarters of the Texas Military district will take effect Dec. 1, Lt. Gen. LeRoy Lutes, commanding general of the Fourth Army, has announced.

The reorganization is designed to standardize, in each state, a uniform plan to administer and develop such civilian components of the armed forces as the Organized Reserve corps, ROTC and National Guard.

The principal advantage of the reorganization, say Army officers, is incident to the decentralization of individual records of members of the ORC to the state level. It is believed this decentralization will increase the efficiency of the administration and training.

District English Workshop Is Slated

Teachers Meeting To Open In City Today

The second annual District IV English Workshop-Conference will open at 1 p.m. today in Lubbock Senior High school, with teachers of English in junior and senior high schools and colleges within District IV of the Texas State Teachers association participating.

Registration of teachers will be held from 1 until 1:30 p.m. today. The first general session of the conference will get underway in the high school auditorium at 1:30 p.m., at which time Dr. W. B. Gates of Texas Technological college, president of the Texas Conference of College Teachers of English, will welcome attending teachers. Following, chairmen of committees will make announcements.

Reading Is Theme

The theme for the first session will be "Problems of Reading Comprehension," with Kline Nall, faculty member at Texas Tech, as chairman.

Discussion leaders will be Mrs. J. L. Teal, of the Lubbock schools; Mrs. Mary W. Blomshield, of Big Spring Junior High school; Dr. Everett A. Gillis, of Texas Tech; Thomas B. Livingston; and Dr. J. Davis Armistead, Lubbock optometrist.

From 4:15 to 5:45 p.m., a special performance of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" will be given for teachers attending the conference. The performance is scheduled for the speech auditorium on the Tech campus with Miss Cecilia Thompson as director. The play is being produced by the Tech Speech department and Alpha Psi Omega.

Dinner Program Slated

There will be no admission fee for the performance.

At 7:30 p.m. today, a dinner pragrom will be held in Luby's suburban cafeteria, 2410 Broadway, at which T. C. Janeway, Tech librarian, will speak on "The Role of the Library in the Improvement of Reading." The general theme of the session will be "Quantity and Quality of Students' Reading."

Discussion leaders will be Mrs. Gladys Sims, of the Lubbock schools; Mrs. L. H. McElroy, of the Seminole schools; Mrs. R. Briggs Irvin, of the Lubbock schools; and Dr. Alan L. Strout and H. N. White, members of the English faculty at Texas Tech.

The third and final general session will be held from 9 to 10:30 a.m. in the Lubbock Senior High school auditorium. Mrs. Nils Akeson, of the Plainview High school, will be chairman. The theme for the meeting will be "Development of Critical and Judicial Reading Attitudes," and program leaders are Mrs. James G. Allen, member of the journalism staff at Texas Tech; and Mrs. Robert Dobson, of Wayland college, Plainview.

Discussion Is Set

From 10:45 to 11 a. m., a meeting is planned on the State Committee Recommendations concerning the ACE English Co-operative test and Remedial Reading Program. Dr. Alan M. F. Gunn of Texas Tech, general chairman for this year's workshop-conference, will be in charge.

From 11 to 11:30 a. m., Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of secondary education for the Lubbock public schools, will lead a question period, in which all attending teachers are to participate.

A business meeting for officials of the District IV Workshop-Conference is planned from 11:30 to 12 noon Saturday, after which the conference will be concluded.

Various committees and their chairmen for the English Workshop-Conference were announced this week by Dr. Gunn, general chairman. They are as follows:

Chairman of local arrangements, Miss Irene Arms of Lubbock Senior High school; dinner chairman, Mrs. Lois Keeton, of Lubbock Senior High school.

Committee on Recommendations and Resolutions, Miss Anne Louise Jones of Odessa, chairman, Mrs. J. M. Burleson of Sundown, Mrs. Louise Hair of Levelland, Mrs. Suttle Purcell of Lamesa, and Mrs. Grace Wellborn of Texas Tech.

Committee on Nominations, Miss Ione McAlister of Big Spring, chairman, Dr. T. W. Camp of Texas Tech and Miss Nell Wylie of Lubbock Senior High school.

Miss Glenys Honey of Lubbock Senior High school is program chairman.

Shivers Defends State Efficiency

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (AP)—Managing the state's business is much like managing private business except that the state is forced to take detours—sometimes expensive ones—to protect Democracy, Gov. Allan Shivers said tonight.

He spoke to personnel and management leaders from throughout the Southwest here for the two-day 11th annual personnel conference at the University of Texas.

Earlier today the business leaders had been urged by speakers not to let their personnel lose their dignity or responsibility and to make science the instrument of good human relations.

Some Toleration Required

Gov. Shivers told the delegates that a democracy must be willing to tolerate a certain amount of "systematic inefficiency" in its government in order to keep the system democratic.

State's business, he said, could hardly be streamlined to private business standards without concentrating too much authority in one man or a few men.

"That does not excuse inefficiency inside the system, however. A state office ought to be run just as efficiently as a private business office, insofar as individual effort and the expediting of work is concerned. And, by and large, they are," the governor said.

Shivers said there might be a few instances of overstaffing in the state government but for every such instance, he said, there is another state office or employe who is giving the taxpayer "more than their money's worth."

At an earlier session James E. Newsome, division superintendent of a large Chicago corporation urged the businessmen to "believe in the integrity and the ability of the individual" in spurring their business to bigness.

Somewhere along the line in the fight of business to become big, Newsome said, "our concept of people got enmeshed in our concept of size. We lost the feeling of personal responsibility on the part of the individual and we lost sight of his contribution to the success of the venture."

To correct the situation and set the state for employe cooperation he urged employers to:

1. Help the employe visualize

$341,025 Asked In Damage Suits

Judgments in damages totaling $341,025 were asked in four suits filed here Thursday.

Actual damages of $317,100 and punitive damages of $10,000 were asked in one of them, B. R. Engel against Lavon Ernest Gray.

Engel pleaded he was injured and his car damaged Aug. 3 when his car was struck by one driven by Gray. The action was filed by attorney C. L. Harris.

Three Others Filed

The other three cases were filed by Sam Allred, of the law firm of Allred and Bedeker. They and judgments asked follow:

Paul Harris and wife Arlene Harris against Lubbock Bus company, $4,575, setting up allegations that the woman was injured Aug. 24 when a tree limb broke her glasses and injured an eye when riding on a bus;

Alveh Willingham and wife Annie Jean Willingham against A. E. Hindman, $6,400, in which it was pleaded that her car was struck July 26 by a truck owned by the defendant and operated by an agent of the defendant;

Elbert B. Hallmark and wife Joyce against Montgomery Ward, $2,950, in which it was pleaded that she was injured Aug. 13 in a fall resulting from slipping on a floor.

The suits were filed in 99th and 72nd district courts.

Status Of Air Bases To Be Reconsidered

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (Spl.)—The National Military establishment is taking a new look at all the air bases in the nation, particularly those of Texas, to see whether or not some which heretofore were thought unnecessary might be made permanent in view of the atomic weapon developments in Russia, Sen. Tom Connally's office disclosed today.

At the Pentagon, Air Force officials said they were having to revamp their plans considerably in view of the fact that Congress voted a 58-group force when they had previously planned on 48 groups.

Connally's office said plans for enlarging the national defense in line with greater atomic development here might mean the use of more bases than the Air Force had previously planned.

Mercator, the man who invented the term "atlas" for a book of maps, said it derived from a mythical astronomer King Atlas of Libia and not the god Atlas, formerly supposed to support the world on his shoulders.

CONFUSING REPORTS EXPLAINED

Truman And Johnson Expected To Continue Military Economy

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—Are you confused somewhat by the general tone of announcements one day to the effect that Defense Secretary Louis Johnson is going to cut Army expenditures, then the passage of the largest military money bill in peace times, then the news about the Army's hiring some 25,000 to 50,000 new civilian employes, the pleas for more recruits, the speech of Secretary Gordon Gray that draftees will be released, and the prediction about expansion from a 48 to a 58-group Air Force?

Rep. Paul J. Kilday, San Antonio, member of the House Armed Services committee, says he is just as confused as any one. He therefore thinks some discussion of the confusion is in order.

Abilene Man Explains

At the National Military Establishment, when one asks to discuss general policy, one is referred to Lt. Cmdr. Herschel Schooley of Abilene. He's a top-notch troubleshooter in the NME's information section.

Here are some of the things he points out which may help clear up the situation, most items of which are taken from formally released recent speeches or congressional testimony.

Defense Secretary Johnson plans to continue his economy drive. He plans not to spend all the money Congress appropriates for him through the hard work of Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex). (And Congress cannot pass a law to make a man spend the government's money, said Kilday.) He told the House Armed Services committee hearing which Kilday attended recently that he had not talked with the President about the matter but that he rather imagined the President would impound the funds for the 10 extra Air Force groups, and that this sum would not be used.

Johnson is still committed to a policy of saving money in his department at the rate of $13 billions annually. He expects to be well embarked on that policy by the end of 12 months. This year he expects to save $7 or $8 billions of which $353 millions would come from the Navy's account, $300 million from the Army's funds, and $150 million from the Air Force.

All this talk about the increase in civilian employment of the military stems from the military assistance program. That is to be administered with MAP funds and is a separate thing apart from the national defense's program for U. S. military strength.

Johnson told the House committee that General McNarney has other plans and operations underway to lop off even more funds from the U. S. military.

HUSBAND REFUSES TO RETURN

Deanna Durbin Granted Divorce After Husband Refuses Reunion

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 27 (INS) — Deanna Durbin, the film star who waited two and a half years in the hopes that her second mate would come back to her, was granted a divorce today from film writer-producer Felix Jackson.

The singing actress, who at the height of her screen fame was a box office sensation, testified that Jackson, 20 years her senior, deserted her in January, 1947.

Deanna, 27, told the court that she vainly hoped that her marriage could be saved, but the producer refused to return home.

Producer Becomes Restless

Deanna and the German-born producer were married in June, 1945, two years after she divorced her first mate, Vaughn Paul. She related that everything was idyllic for a while. But a year after the wedding Jackson began to exhibit restlessness and be subject to unhappy moods. She said:

"About six months after that, he told me that he was unhappy being a married man and preferred being single and was going to do something about it.

"He left me, went to New York City and hasn't been back. I haven't seen him since that time."

Husband Writes Letter

The actress said that a year ago Jackson wrote her:

"I still feel confused and mixed up . . . I am better off in New York and I won't come back . . . somehow the basis for our marriage seemed to have disappeared; I don't see how we could possibly try again . . . I waited as long as I could to tell you that; but I know now our marriage is definitely over. The next step is up to you."

Deanna's testimony was corroborated by her actress-friend, Anne Shirley. Miss Shirley testified that Jackson also wrote her and declared that his marriage to Deanna was "definitely over."

Durbin Gets Child

The screen star was awarded custody of their child, Jessica Louise, 3.

The actress' lawyers filed a property settlement by which Jackson agreed to pay Deanna back a $12,000 loan and make good some $60,000 worth of bank loans.

Jackson currently is in New York in connection with play and television ventures. He once said that he was "through with Hollywood."

Deanna said that she is uncertain about her film plans. She said that she had a few Hollywood offers to make pictures, but that she may accept an offer to appear on the concert stage in Europe.

Chief Hurdles In Operation Of Church Schools Recounted

CINCINNATI, Oct. 27. (AP) — Poverty, confusion of purpose and an anti-intellectual bias were listed today as three things which have plagued the Disciples of Christ in their operation of schools and colleges.

Perry Epler Gresham of Detroit listed them in a speech at the international convention of the Disciples of Christ.

He recounted the history of the church's establishment of colleges —Bethany in West Virginia, Butler in Indianapolis, Texas Christian in Texas and others — and then said:

"Our colleges have been pauperized by meager support . . . Buildings are inadequate, libraries and laboratories are skimpy and faculties are notoriously underpaid . . . The total gifts of the churches in the lush crusade year which ended June 30, 1948, amounted to only a quarter of a million dollars — enough to operate the schools for only a little more than a week."

On the subject of confusion of purpose, the speaker said:

"Pity the poor executive who must promise the chamber of commerce on Monday that his school exists to serve its constituency on a purely non-sectarian basis as a community institution.

"On Tuesday, he must promise the state convention of churches that he knows no other purpose than to train laymen and train ministers."

Work Of Missionary From Dallas Brings Chinese Boy To U. S.

WACO, Oct. 29. (INS)— The work of a Baptist missionary from Dallas has brought a 17-year-old Chineses lad to the campus of Baylor university at Waco.

The youth, Liu Liang-Chu, is called Sammy by his classmates at Baylor, but his name means "pillar of uprightness" in Chinese.

Mother Attended School

Sammy probably would have remained in China had not his mother attended a missionary school in Shanghai. The principal of the school was Miss Hannah Sallee, a Baptist missionary who apparently had a litle time left over from her church work to put in a few good words for the State of Texas.

At any rate, after she became Mrs. Liu, the former student firmly resolved that her children would receive some of their education in America—which, in her eyes—was Texas.

Her dream has blossomed threefold, for two of Sammy's sisters are freshmen at Mary Hardin-Baylor at Belton. Both of the girls are attending school on scholarships. Eighteen year old Irene will major in sociology and Hannah, her 20-year old sister, is an education student.

Future Studies Uncertain

Sammy isn't so sure about what course of study he will take up at Baylor. His own preferences lead him to engineering and a chance to rebuild his native China, but his mother would like to see her only son study medicine.

In the meantime, the 5-foot, 2-inch freshman is fast becoming an adopted Texan. He is most impressed by the spirit of friendliness that prevails among his campus associates. He says that his classmates are more neighborly than in his own land, and he enjoys the informality of the professors.

His only complaint concerns western victuals. "American food," says Sammy, "is tasteless."

Notebook Of Poet Added To Texas U. Byron Collection

AUSTIN, Oct. 27 (AP)—A notebook containing revealing memoranda written by Lord Byron, the English poet, in Italy nearly 130 years ago has been added to the University of Texas' Byron collection.

"Interest in the notebook lies in the curious vividness with which bits of Byron's living personality emerge from these intimate fragments," say Dr. Willis W. Pratt, English professor, who has written an article about the contents of the small green leather notebook.

DENUNCIATION AROUSES PROTEST

Czech Music Lovers Defend Criticisim Of Crooner Crosby

PRAGUE, Oct. 27. (AP)—An overflow Prague Music theater audience tonight burst out with a storm of angy protests when a program commentator criticized Bing Crosby as a "greedy American money-seeker who sacrifices his art for gold."

The Czech audience, including many bobby-soxers, had stood in long queues to jam into the little theater to hear a two-hour program of Crosby recordings. It loosed salvoes of shouts and whistling in defense of Bing.

The crowd didn't even relent when the anouncer said some kind words for Bing's rival, Frank Sinatra.

Jazz Presents Problem

Some of the feelings loosed tonight may have been pent up from the little war over American jazz which is currently rocking Prague's youth. Ardent Communists in the Czechoslovak youth front have been campaigning against jazz and jitterbugging as decadent examples of western culture.

The young folk huddled together in the lounges and on the steps of two flights of stairs leading to the street, where they could hear the music over amplifiers.

Disregarding reserved signs on some seats for representatives of the government ministry of information, the youngsters grabbed these and refused to budge. Many had come to the theater direct from their factory jobs.

Speaker Precedes Program

Before the program started, an unidentified announcer speaking over the amplifying system declared:

"Now first let us consider this Bing Crosby. He's a typical example of a man who sacrifices his art to get money. He sings in a way so sentimentally sweet it makes you sick (Czech expression unprintable.).

The audience burst out with whistles and boos, but the voice over the amplifier continued:

"And politically, this Crosby stands for nothing that could be identified with the principles of Jefferson or Lincoln."

More indignant boos and cries of "pfui" from the audience.

Sinatra Claimed Better

"Frank Sinatra is much better, but they (the Americans) wouldn't give him a chance," the commentator continued.

The audience ignored this.

Then the program started. But it turned out to be composed of old records, mostly prewar songs. Some youngsters in the audience —who keep up to date on American popular music by listening to the American Army radio from Germany—declared that a selection of old records had been apparently made deliberately in an effort to make Crosby sound bad.

A final touch to the noisy evening came when the closing song was announced—"Irish Lullaby." When it turned out to be a recording by a Czech singer instead of Crosby there was another noisy outburst.

U. S. Soldiers May Get Chance To Marry Unwed German Mothers

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 27. (AP)— American soldiers who have left illegitimate children in Germany may get a chance to return temporarily to marry the mothers.

The U. S. Army in Europe has no objection to the return of military personnel on leave or furlough for this purpose, officials said today.

The burbot, a fish in northern U. S. waters which has been regarded as a pest because it eats game fish, have been found to yield a liver oil richer than that from cod fish.

Major Railway Lines Serving Southwest Escape Service Cut

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (Special)—No major passenger line going from north and east to the Southwest is going to be taken off because of the coal strike, a check of several railroads revealed here today.

At the same time, a Washington newspaper screamed from headlines that 600 trains in the North and East would be taken off.

The reason is that coal mines west of the Mississippi river employ men who are not involved in the present wage and retirement battle of John L. Lewis. The employes belong to the United Mine Workers, but another division of it. At Lewis' headquarters here, it was explained today that these employes had been involved but were no longer in the strike. Officials there gave as the reason the fact that the coal produced in those mines is not in competition with the great bulk of coal which feeds industry on the eastern seaboard. These mines will continue to supply railroads servicing the great Southwest. The mines are located in the following states: Arkansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas, Missouri, Washington, New Mexico and other states.

Another reason for the little effect the coal strike is having on passenger service and freight in the Southwest is the diesel engine.

The Pennsylvania railroad, which had just taken off a sleeper for Rochester, New York, said the Southwest could be assured that no major trains like the Sunshine Special would be taken off. The Baltimore and Ohio said the same thing, adding largely because coal mines in the West are not involved. The Missouri Pacific, glad to be running again, after a strike, said none would be cut. So did the Missouri-Kansas-Texas.

Missing Plane, Two Men Sought

SULPHUR SPRINGS, Oct. 27 (AP) — Search for a small plane missing since Friday night with two men aboard shifted to the wooded bottoms around the Sulphur river today.

Sheriff Avery Rasure of Hopkins county set out to investigate a report of a plane crash 20 miles northwest of here Friday night.

Aboard the missing plane was George Harrington, 44, Houston geologist, and his pilot, Orville Sweitzer, 31. They were en route from Tulsa to Houston.

Woman Reports Crash

Mrs. Bill Cundiff, who lives in the Posey community west of here, informed both Rasure and the sheriff's air patrol in Tulsa that she saw a plane go down Friday night. She said it crashed in flames in a river bottom 20 miles northwest of Sulphur Springs.

Earlier today, the Civil Air patrol said it had two good leads from persons who heard a plane in distress in the Troup area nine miles southeast of Tyler Friday night.

However, the Civil Aeronautics administration at Tyler said it had planes over the area for an hour and could find no sign of a crash.

Air Search Intensified

Twenty planes from the Oklahoma Civil Air Patrol were searching in the Kiamich mountains of southeastern Oklahoma for the plane.

In Houston, a friend of the Harrington family said they were particularly interested in searches of the Paris-Dallas area because of reports of clearer weather last Friday night west of the normal Tulsa-Houston flight line.

Mrs. Harrington has posted $1,000 reward for location of the plane.

Lamar county Sheriff Willie Lane said he had searched the area for two days from Paris north to the Red river and was convinced the plane had not gone down there.

Alaska Gold Strike 'Has Struck Out,' Officials Declare

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(INS)—The Alaskan gold "strike" has "struck out."

The Interior department reported today that its Fairbanks office says all the gold recovered to date in the "strike" is probably less than $50.

Fairbanks office chief Fred Miller reported that only about 50 persons are still hunting gold. He said:

"The only persons making money are the bush pilots who flew the prospectors in and are flying them out."

In Fairbanks, territorial assayor Art Glover valued the latest nugget return in at exactly 76 cents.

Well-fed fires continued to thaw the tundra and scores of test shafts were being sunk near Fishwheel, scene of the "strike."

Not until bedrock is reached will anyone be able to say whether Fishwheel is "boom" or bust, but the hardy prospectors still on the scene kept the thawing fires burning night and day.

Glover said the 76-cent nugget, turned in by a university student who got it from a bush pilot back from the "strike," was well-worn, inlicating it had been sluiced many miles by action of a river. Glover added:

"Definitely, it is not a product of an alleged bedrock reef at or near Fishwheel."

When a bat gets mad he ruffles his fur and bares his teeth like a cat. He also gives a low-pitched buzz, which is his warning snarl.

Strike Vote Is Set At Houston

HOUSTON, Oct. 27 (AP) — A union official said Houston's bus drivers probably will not strike before midnight Wednesday.

John J. Ryan, New York, chief negotiator for the 1,100 drivers and mechanics of the CIO Transport Workers union local said he will make such a recommendation when the union begins a strike vote at 2 a.m. Friday.

Meanwhile, union and company officials agreed that negotiations for a contract still are deadlocked. Negotiations were continuing tonight.

The strike vote results probably will be announced at 9 p.m. tomorrow, with voting to continue until 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

"We aren't fighting the public," Ryan said in explaining why the strike probably will not begin until next Wednesday.

"We are fighting the company. We owe it to the public to give ample warning of any possible strike."

He also plans to recommend to negotiators for the Houston Transit company that efforts to avert a strike continue until midnight Wednesday.

Union and company officials began negotiations with Federal labor conciliator James O. Hubbard at 9:30 a.m. They stopped during the day only for two brief recesses.

Some 25-issues still are said to be deadlocked, but the primary trouble appeared to center on a wage hike.

The drivers and mechanics, seeking their first contract with the company, have asked a 30-cent hourly increase. The company has offered 10-cents.

Military Economy

grams will be carried on, however.

Maintenance of the armed forces will be cut. Draftees will be let out and more volunteers will be taken in, so local editors can keep on giving recruiting offices publicity.

Much of the confusion originating about the draft was caused by the fact Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey indicated recently that the Army would be taking more draftees. Immediately the Army issued a statement in denial and later confirmed it with a more official statement. Secretary Gordon Gray set Hershey right on this at the Alabama meeting of the National Guard.

But why is the Army cutting down just as General Omar Bradley, head of the joint chiefs of staff, says Russia has 175 to 190 divisions with prospect of getting 300 more ready from 60 to 90 days.

National Military Establishment's answer on this was that these are the same figures General Bradley used in Budget talks before Congress in 1948 and 1949.

UNIVERSITY, Miss.—(AP)—Mississippi's Rebs are frontrunners in furnishing individual football scoring leaders in the Southeastern Conference. The Rebs have had four champs since the league was founded in 1933—Ray Hapes ((74 points) in 1935, Parker Hall (72) in 1938, Merle Hapes (72) in 1940 and Charley Conerly (54) in 1947. Georgia has three champs.

NOTHING IS FREE

Capitol Handouts

FORMER House Speaker Joe Martin, of Massachusetts, cited some illuminating information, backed by figures, the other day which will be worth remembering when anyone talks about getting anything "free" from the federal government.

The gist of Mr. Martin's report was this: For every dollar the government takes out of a state, it returns, at the most, about 5 cents. Even such doubtful and pivotal states, like California and New York, get only that much. "Solid" Democratic states like Texas get less.

A large share of the remaining 95 cents, or more, of the federal tax dollar, Mr. Martin pointed out, is expended for what he termed "brokerage" charges — meaning the cost of the agencies which administer the various funds.

So, when there is any talk about a handout from Washington for any purpose, it may be well to bear this fact in mind: The money for the "gift" comes out of the taxpayers' pocket and, before any benefits get back to them, the dollars they provide will shrink to pennies during the processes of government handling.

Truth Vs. Politics

THE report by Republican minority members of the Congressional Atomic committee the other day criticising the U. S. Atomic Energy commission headed by David E. Lilienthal was expected.

It was in the nature of a rebuttal to the report a few days previously by the Democratic majority of the committee which said — to quote the words of Senator McMahon, of Connecticut, chairman of the group — that charges of "incredible mismanagement" leveled at the commission were "not proven."

Reports by committee groups thus far have followed strict political party lines. Democrats have defended the commission; Republicans have condemned. Both bear the suspicion of a political taint which must cause the average American, interested only in the truth, or falsity, of the charges, to view them with much skepticism.

But they are significant when considered along with what may happen in the congressional elections next year. They are strongly indicative that the present AEC must depend for survival upon the reelection, not alone of a Democratic Congress, but one controlled by members striped with the peculiar brand of administration Democracy.

The division in the congressional committee hints strongly that Mr. Lilienthal, et al, might be wise to start looking around for other jobs if the elections result in a Congress Mr. Truman cannot control.

The committee reports as to the AEC, therefore, are meaningless — they are exactly as expected — except for what they might portend in the future.

Texas And Tourists

AGREEMENT seems to be general that Texas is neglecting the business opportunity represented by tourists. They are a source of substantial revenue practically without effort on the part of anyone in the State. But those who have studied the matter say Texas is getting pennies when it would be collecting dollars if a systemative and organized effort should be made to attract more tourists to the Lone Star State.

The Legislature has refused to make modest appropriations to go after the tourist trade. That would be the fairest way to finance a campaign because everyone benefits from such business — the State most of all from the many taxes tourists would pay.

Since the Legislature has refused to attend to this job, indications are someone else will have to do it, if it is attended to at all. The best answer might be a Texas Tourist association, as advocated by Dr. Rex Z. Howard, of Fort Worth, when he visited Lubbock recently.

The plan certainly is worthy of study, because every day of delay in seeking tourist business means the loss of cash which could contribute to the assurance of continuing prosperity in Texas.

Strikes Don't Shrink This Stock Pile

Someone To Love

BY IRENE LONNEN ERNHART
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: Jenny's marriage to Ted Duncan has not been happy. Ted is unable to forget Liz Conover, who jilted him before his marriage. He shows no attention to his infant twin sons. They live in a squalid basement apartment. The only bright spot for Jenny is Ted's old friend Rick Morris, but Ted suspects Rick is in love with Jenny. Jenny also has quarreled with her friend Nina Cushman because she doesn't like Ted. Unhappy over everything, Jenny cries herself to sleep after looking over the little velvet bonnet she had worn the day she broke the news to Ted of Liz Conover's elopement.)

XXIII

JENNY was sleeping soundly when Tod came in that night. Even his turning on the light in the bedroom did not awaken her. He looked down at her for a moment, seeing the shadowy hollows of her throat and cheeks, the dark circles under her eyes, the wild scattering of her brown hair on the pillow.

Then he caught the sight of the velvet hat lying on the dressing table where she had flung it. He picked it up, reminded suddenly, as Jenny had been, of that day at the railway station.

He sat down on the edge of the bed turning the hat in his hands. If only he could have used some sense and waited. Ma had known it wouldn't work out. The longing for Liz, subdued, crushed down through two long years, was a live pulsing agony in him.

He raised has head and looked again at Jenny. And the only feeling he could summon toward that inert small figure was angry, overwhelming pity. She looked so pathetic and helpless and beaten. He had failed her in almost every way possible for a man to fail a woman. He had been physically faithful; that was true. But in his heart and mind he supposed he had been unfaithful countless times.

Liz phoned again the next day. "Please, darling, come to the party. Father's anxious to talk to you again. Besides you'll see lots of people it would be nice for you to meet. You do want to get ahead, don't you, darling?"

A small voice inside him whispered, "You know none of those are the real reason Liz wants you to come." He said to himself, "Why not go? More men get starts on the road to success at cocktail parties than anywhere else. Where does all this dullness get you?"

He went, and the party was everything he had expected it to be.

JENNY, meanwhile, was hurrying to the grocery because Mrs. Slattery could only watch the twins half an hour. It was a misty, rainy day.

Rick came around a corner and almost ran into her. "Jenny!" he exclaimed.

Rick took her elbows and gave her a little shake, looking down grinning with little wrinkles fanning out from his eyes. "I've missed you like the very dickens. I was on my way to see you — parked my car around the corner so I could surprise you. But this is even better—just like that other day. Remember?"

"When we were living in the trailer!" Jenny remembered that golden October day when she had hardly known Rick, but what fun they had.

"You're on your way to the grocery I'll bet."

"How can you tell?" Jenny's laughter bubbled up.

"That old shopping bag, I'm sure it's the same one you were carrying that other day I went to the grocery with you."

Rick took her arm. "You were wearing a bright red beret and a short red coat with some kind of fancy striped scarf and you looked cute as a button."

"Why, Rick, you do have a memory!" Jenny cried. "It's incredible. That was a long time ago."

She was uncomfortably aware all at once of her old black shoes, a bit run down at the heels, the too short skirt.

Rick noticed her quietness. "The babies okay?"

She nodded.

"Tod?"

She nodded again. He grinned and gave her arm a squeeze. "Remember that other time all the crazy things we bought, and when Tod got home I was wearing one of your aprons cooking up some crazy thing?" He opened the door and they went into the market. Rick got a cart and began pushing it.

It was so good to laugh with Rick. Now if Tod would only get an early bus home, the three of them could have a wonderful evening together.

RICK was delighted with the twins, tottering about now on unsteady legs, and making delightful though bubbly efforts at conversation. He was glad to take over from Mrs. Slattery.

A hilarious time ensued, with Rick crawling about on all fours from behind chairs and the twins making the room echo with laughter.

"I'll never get them to go to sleep," Jenny cried happily. It wasn't often they had such a romp. But Rick helped her get them into their sleepers, and he washed their faces while Jenny got their milk ready.

It was now 6 o'clock and no sign of Tod. Rick's gayety did not di-

Instead of living one life of sixty or seventy or eighty years, try to live three hundred and sixty-five lives every year (and one more each Leap Year).

BRANDEIS

I think I spoke about it a year ago last June while I was sick in bed. But if I did, it bears repeating, since it has worked so well for me for more than eighteen months.

During my sickness I was scared. When I went to sleep at night I never knew whether it was going to be the last night or not.

When I woke up the next morning, I'd look around and say to myself: "Well, here I am again. Isn't that swell? Let's see what the day will bring."

Now that I am up and about again, better than ever as my doctor says, I have kept up that same idea, and it has done wonders for me.

When I wake up in the morning I don't just continue yesterday's life. I start an entirely new life.

I look at each tree, each flower, each piece of furniture, each human being I meet as something I have never seen or met before.

Thus, every new day is an adventure. Every new day is a separate short story, full of suspense and thrills. And every night when I go to bed is the end of the story and its climax.

There has to be some planning, of course. If you are in business you have to think ahead. If you are a housekeeper you have to buy the stuff before you can cook your meals.

And a short story has to be thought out, too. You can't just sit down at the typewriter and knock out a piece, without having a plot and a general idea.

But the ingredients of the meal are not what you enjoy.

It is the finished product that counts in a dinner, and it is the result of planning that counts in business.

Your work—be it housework or office work—is not your life. It is only one of the ingredients of life.

The finished product is what you get out of life. It's how life tastes to you that counts.

YOU may have a job that is dull routine. Yet, you may get a wonderful thrill out of living if you will remember what I just said.

Let your routine just be an ingredient.

Let your spirit, your soul, your outlook, your brain, your heart, be the other ingredients.

Then the meal of life will be tasty, and everyone with whom you live will want to share it with you.

You don't need the jolt of illness to let you enjoy what God has handed you on a silver platter.

All you need is to learn how to mix the ingredients of life in the proper proportions.

Try it, will you?

French Hopes Hiked

By ROGER WARREN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Europeans in Washington look upon the recent French cabinet crisis as a hopeful sign.

Heretofore most continental government upheavals were tense, idealogical struggles between free men and the Communists—with revolution lurking around the corner. The recent upset in Paris was based on the normal issues of low wages and high prices.

The premiership, which Radical Socialist conservative Henri Queuille dropped and was given to Rene Mayer created an embarrassing situation for the French correspondents here. "We don't know what our government is," complained one of them during the days of politicking behind scenes. "We go to bed thinking the boss has been chosen. We wake up and receive a cable saying another has been suggested. Schuman, Bidault, de Menthon, Moch, Mayer and others parade through our dreams.

"However, it does not matter a great deal. The under secretaries run France. Like the proverbial rooster, we can get along for some time without a head."

CONTROL: There is an old French saying about government "The more it changes, the more it is the same."

Until the next election, the powerful coalition which managed France for three and a half years, will be in control, even though the chief seat at the table has a new occupant.

Even though Mayer did not hold the Premiership long, the Communists and the extreme left wing still howl. The Reds hate the hard-boiled head of the police and impartially cracked down on both the de Gaullists and the Communists.

Thorez and his Marxists also hate Mayer, whom President Vincent Auriol summoned to take over. This Radical Socialist banker and former Minister of Finance once proposed marriage to a fabulously wealthy American girl. She rejected him because she thought he had no future. Now he is one of the top men of France.

BONUS: After the liberation France was prostrate. Hopelessness and hunger drove five million people to support the Communist party. But the Marshall Plan and the energy of the French people brought a substantial measure of recovery.

The recent crisis was percipitated by the Socialists, who feared that their underpaid followers again were going over to the Communists. But the crux of the battle was in economics and not in a change to Stalinists.

Every six months since the end of the war labor's pay had been raised. But for more than a year Queuille resisted demands for wage jumps. Mayer favored a temporary bonus.

OUTLOOK: Members of Congress back from Paris say that last summer's drought pushed up the price of food. Rising living costs have pinched the "white collar" class. The French school population has increased sharply but the pay of teachers with crowded class-rooms has not gone up.

The housing situation also is a headache. France has had rent control since Marshal Foch beat the Germans in World War I. Landlords have had no money for repairs. Dwellings, which look so picturesque on the postcards American tourists mail home, are worse in many cases than our cold water tenements and share cropper hovels.

The general overall outlook, however, is encouraging. Before Paul Hoffman's ECA began to pour materials into the stricken country, the Paris stores were closed three days a week and the shelves were bare. Now the shops are filled with goods. Food is plentiful, though expensive. The black market has slumped.

PRIDE: The output of coal, steel and cement has soared above the prewar level of productivity in 1929. Peasants have the money to buy modern equipment. The big farms are well stock and mechanized.

Approximately 60 per cent of imports are now covered by exports. A year ago only 48 per cent were covered. Exporters are eager to ship mining machinery to Poland and other eastern countries if reliable trade pacts can be written.

French pride at first suffered a staggering blow when Frenchmen discovered that they no longer were a great power, after centuries in high places. But young France, recognizing that the old might has gone, is out to dominate the intellectual world and a stream of poems, philosophical works and other forms of literature is gushing forth.

MINES: The new government will have its hands full. Labor has scheduled a 24-hour general strike next month to call public attention to the problems of workers. Both de Gaulle and Thorez want a national election.

So does Paul Reynaud, the Premier in office when France collapsed. This aged figure leads a splinter party, described by Washington French newspapermen as "a little to the right of right." He observed the success of Adenauer, West German leader, who campaigned for free enterprise, and things he can win in France on the same issue.

Other buried mines are in the path, including a bitter religious issue over the support of state schools or church schools. The Catholic M. R. P. is on one side and the Socialists and independents are violently opposing.

The strength of free Europe may depend on how France gets along with West Germany. Socialist Moch personally objected to the entry of the new state into the Council of Europe.

Down Memory Lane

(Taken from the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche, Oct. 28, 1928.)

An informal dance honoring the pledges of the Alpha Tau Alpha sorority of the Senior High school was given Saturday evening at the home of Miss Rosemary Leaverton, 1820 Thirteenth. Pledges of the society are Misses Juanita Mills, Louise Lawson, Edith Phipps, and Reba Williams.

Attending the attractive affair were Misses Juanita Mills, Louise Lawson, Edith Phipps, Reba Williams, Margaret Stanton, Martha Alice Penny, John Anna Boyd, Mae Tom Simmons, Frances Snyder, Maxine Clark, Johnnie Jo Whitley, and Rosemary Leaverton; Messrs. Billie Murray, Bub Lawson, R. E. Hardberger, Bob Crawford, Bob O'Hair Edgar Neal, Felix Ballenger, Joe Leaverton, Billie Stanton, Jack Fryer, Moody Smith, Bob Pressley, Will Ed Watson, Mina Watkins, Carl Alverson, Lofton Baugh, Malcolm Martin, Orval Marshall, O. H. Britton and Jess Holms.

Petitions were prepared here Saturday afternoon and will be placed in circulation Monday morning for the purpose of securing a sufficient number of signers to ask the Lubbock county commmissioners' court to order an election for voting $1,025,000 bonds for paving highways in road district No. 2.

The new petition, prepared by the Lubbock County Good Roads association, of which Charles F. O'Neall is chairman, leaves routing of the highways to the decision of the state highway department.

GOP HAS MUCH AT STAKE

Politics Taking Over New York

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — Former Senator Henry Fountain Ashurst (D-Ariz.) who is quite a droll gentleman and was a persistent puncturer of stuffed shirts among his colleagues, once remarked in the Senate about the profession to which he had devoted a large part of his mature life:

"Politics is like being on roller skates. Sometimes you go where you want to go and sometimes you go where the skates take you."

Which seems appropriate somehow to the special senatorial election in New York where two otherwise distinguished citizens, neither any longer tender in years, have been dragooned into service for the benefit of political higher-ups and are being roller-skated about the state. They are falling into the customary awkward poses of elders on roller skates.

STOKES

Both Hurling Charges

For men of their reputation and dignity, they are saying things, too, that candidates for county clerk rarely say about their rivals.

John Foster Dulles, the Republican candidate, who is 61, tries to hang the old familiar albatross of Communist sympathies about his banker opponent, Herbert H. Lehman, which is just about as absurd and out of character as for the Democratic candidate, who is 71, to accuse the Republican aspirant of bigotry.

Reading such fulminations, the observer suddenly has to remind himself that Senator Dulles is a prominent New York lawyer and churchman who in these latter days had become a world figure as U. S. representative in the United Nations and as an adviser and consultant of the Truman administration on critical matters of foreign policy, and that Mr. Lehman, a prominent financier, served for 10 years as governor of his state with great credit and likewise represented his government on international agencies.

IN THEIR advanced years they have become Charlie McCarthys for political leaders who have much at stake.

Mr. Lehman was drafted by the Truman administration for this test in New York which is regarded by both major parties as so important for the Congressional elections next year and the 1952 presidential contest. He was needed because he has proved he can get votes in New York.

Governor Dewey also has much at stake, judging from his course.

He impressed Mr. Dulles into this race, the prominent lawyer's first try at an elective office, despite an understanding which, it is reported on the best authority, Mr. Dulles had that he would not have to be a candidate for the remainder of former Senator Robert F. Wagner's term, but would only serve the interim appointment by Governor Dewey until the special election.

Consequently, Mr. Dulles had made arrangements meanwhile to accept a commission in the State department at Secretary of State Acheson's invitation to help formulate a Chinese and Far Eastern policy when he had finished his appointive term.

May Cost GOPs

But he was called in by Governor Dewey who put the heat on him to run. He was reminded that it was through Governor Dewey that he originally had entered the high councils on foreign affairs. That was when the governor had made him liaison with the State department in the 1944 Dewey-Roosevelt election campaign during the war. That bipartisan arrangement was made with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull to maintain a harmonious and consistant foreign policy in that wartime campaign. Confronted with this argument of obligation, Mr. Dulles acquiesced and consented to make the race.

This may turn out to be quite a sacrifice for the Republican party. Mr. Dulles has been the contact for his party with the administration in foreign policy matters, a link in the bipartisan policy. As such he has been most effective, both for his party and for the Truman administration.

BECAUSE of his attacks on the Truman administration domestic program in his New York campaign, it hardly seems likely that, win or lose, he would be welcomed back into its councils on the same basis as formerly.

As for Governor Dewey, it may be only that he is seeking vindication by the lengths to which he is going to win this election through Mr. Dulles, or it may be that he still has ambitions for 1952 despite his two unsuccessful tries for the White House.

At any rate, politics is being well served in both parties.

MARKET CONTINUES GAINS

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—The stock market pounded ahead to the highest level in almost a year today.

It was the third advance in a row. In the three-day period the market value of all stocks listed on the exchange has increased by more than $1,000,000,000.

Heavy trading pushed leading issues ahead fractions to more than a point in the broadest market of 1949. Volume expanded to the third highest of the year.

The rise appeared to be powered mainly by the hope that the steel and coal strikes will be settled quickly—despite the absence of any concrte evidence pointing that direction.

Volume stepped up to 1,760,000 shares from 1,620,000 Wednesday. This was a trifle under 1,790,000 reached two weeks ago and compared with the year's high of 1,850,000 established March 30.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .5 of one point to 68.2. This was a peak since 68.4 on Nov. 4 last year and just under the pre-election high.

Both the industrial and utility groups reached new highs for 1949. The railroad section made a little headway but still has a short way to go to climb to the year's top.

A total of 1,138 individual stocks changed hands, the broadest market of the year and tops since the record of 1,180 last Dec. 28. Of these 590 advanced and 269 declined.

New highs for 1949 were chalked up for 126 issues, one lone stock Chesapeake & Ohio—touched bottom. C & O lost a full point but recovered to close ⅜ lower at 28⅜.

Steel, auto, aircraft and air line stocks tended to hang back. U. S. Steel, the most active issue, finally managed to get into the plus column and ended ¼ up at 25¼. Republic added ¼ at 22 and Inland ¾ at 37¼. Fractionally lower, though, were Bethlehem at 29⅛ and Youngstown Sheet 69½.

General Motors tacked on ½ point at 67 but Chrysler at 54⅝ and Studebaker at 24⅛ backed down fractionally.

Union Pacific advanced 1¼ to 82½. Fractional gains appeared for Santa Fe 86⅝, and Southern Pacific 45⅛. Rock Island lost ⅝ at 33⅜.

Allied Chemical outdistanced the field with a 7-point jump to 200.

Others up included Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Warner Bros., Canadian Pacific, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Homestake Mining, Du Pont, Westinghouse Electric, International Paper, Texas Co., Twentieth Century-Fox, and U. S. Gypsum.

Losers included Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Admiral Corp., Radio Corp., Union Carbide, Pure Oil, and United Air Lines.

Railway issues improved in the bond market. U. S. governments in the distant maturities made further progress in over-the-counter dealings.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—Cotton futures were steady in active trading today on mill and commission house buying, although part of the gains were pared by profit taking and hedging. Distant deliveries were slightly under the previous close. With the balance of the market showing small gains. Expectations of a tight situation next season in free market supplies of good quality cotton stimulated buying.

Mills were also believed to be protecting raw cotton requirements. Their cotton stocks were reported still low in the face of an active demand for cotton goods. Dealers also felt that the premiums on good cotton will be boosted because the crop is running lower in grade compared with last season.

Some quarters estimated the next government cotton crop forecast will be around 15,000,000 bales or lower compared with the October official estimate of 15,446,000 bales.

The ECA issued additional cotton purchases credits to foreign countries.

Increased hedge selling and profit taking depressed cotton futures into the low ground for the day in late trading.

Futures closed 40 to 65 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP)—Grains ended ended lower on the board of trade today, soybeans recording the widest losses.

The market suffered a sharp sinking spell in active dealings around mid-way in the session. Soybeans losses extended to more than 4 cents, the November contract dropping to its lowest level since last July. The July contract made a new seasonal low.

A rally then started which lifted most grains well above the day's lows, although only the July wheat delivery was able to get back above the previous close. Some speculative buying appeared to be attracted by the sell-off, and there also was considerable short-covering.

Wheat closed ½-1⅛ lower, December $2.13¼-⅜, corn ⅜-1⅝ lower, December $1.17¼-⅜, oats were ¼-⅝ lower, December 72, rye was 2½-3½ lower, December $1.42-$1.42¼, soybeans were 1 to 3 cents lower, November $2.23-$2.23¾, and lard was 17 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, November $10.27.

MUTUAL DEFENSE REQUIRED

U.S., Western Europe To Begin Work On Arms Aid Agreements

By JAMES E. ROPER
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 — Diplomatic quarters disclosed today that the United States and eight western European countries soon will begin negotiating the agreements that will start U.S. military aid moving abroad.

These agreements will pledge the European nations to carry out mutual defense plans and otherwise make the best use of the equipment they receive under America's billion-dollar military assistance program (MAP).

American authorities said they already have written drafts of the proposed agreements. They will be submitted to representatives of the eight European countries within the next few days.

Pact Must Be Signed

The military assistance act requires that the pacts be signed before the United States starts distributing arms to western Europe. The law specifies certain safeguards that must be in the agreements. But President Truman, it was learned, has ordered additional provisions written in.

American authorities, however, said that they expect no difficulty over the negotiations.

They said at the same time that the United States will be in constant touch with Great Britain as that country trims its defense expenditures as part of the new austerity program.

Maximum Effort Needed

The military assistance act contemplated that each of the European states participating in the plan must make the maximum effort toward its own rearmament—provided it does not upset its civilian economy.

The United States, as the chief arsenal for the north Atlantic alliance, must satisfy itself that the British are doing all they can to help their own defense, rather than depend unnecessarily on the United States for weapons.

So far, there has been no American criticism of British plans, which include a 20,000-man cut in the Army and an $84 million reduction in the defense budget.

Countries Involved Listed

Great Britain and France will be the key countries starting negotiations for the mutual aid agreements with the United States. Other countries will be Norway, Denmark, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

The eight European countries are the ones that will receive aid under the military assistance program. In the agreements, they must pledge to:

1. Use the aid in a manner consistent with policies and purposes of the mutual assistance legislation.
2. Refuse to sell or transfer the goods to any other nation unless Mr. Truman approves.
3. Furnish reciprocal aid to the United States.

Jump Reported In Engineering Construction Awards In Nation

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP) — Engineering construction contracts awarded this week rose to $135,843,000, a 122 per cent gain over last week's $121,542,000, Engineering News-Record reported today.

However, this was 24 per cent decline from the $179,052,000 in contract awards during the corresponding period last year, said the engineering construction weekly.

The cumulative total for the year to date reached $6,724,618,000, 16 per cent above the total a year ago.

Solicitations Begin For Yule Decorations

Block captains met in the chamber of commerce building Thursday morning and immediately began solicitations for the fund to pay for downtown decorations during the holidays.

Approximately 24 blocks are included in the area proposed for decorations.

Co-chairmen O. W. Ribble and Ruel Martin said, however, that blocks will be excluded from the area unless the merchants contribute enough to pay for the decorations.

Free Rides Taken

The total cost will be about $3,500. The cost to merchants on decorated streets will average about 65 cents a front foot. The co-chairmen said that last year, approximately two-thirds of the merchants paid the whole cost. The remaining one-third got a "free ride."

Block captains were asked to complete their work by Monday. Of the 24 appointed, 18 attended the meeting.

Someone To Love

minish. He insisted on going out to the kitchen to help prepare dinner. Jenny kept running to the front windows of the living room every time a bus was due.

At seven still no Tod. The potatoes, delightfully fluffy half hour ago were stiff now. The gravy, made by Rick's own recipe, with sherry wine, had congealed a trifle.

Jenny filled two plates, while Rick poured the chilled wine. He held Jenny's chair for her. "Don't worry so, Jenny. Nothing's happened," he said, smiling down at her.

They had just unfolded their napkins when the door opened and Tod saulted them from the doorway. He came unsteadily into the room.

Texas Company Reports Net Decline For Quarter Period

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (U.P.)— Texas Gulf Sulphur company, Inc. today reported that net income for the September quarter declined to $5,672,092, equal to $1.70 a common share, from $6,065,887, or $1.58 a share, for the similar quarter of last year.

Since the end of the third quarter in 1948 the number of shares of common has been reduced from 3,840,000 to the present 3,340,000 shares, acounting for the rise in per-share earnings in the face of the decline in net.

Mexican Agents Halt Smuggling Ring

MEXICO CITY, Ost. 27. (U.P.)— Treasury ministry agents broke up a vast silver smuggling ring that spirited more than $425,000 (U. S.) worth of old silver coins into the United States, the ministry announced today.

The ring counted on the aid of at least six Nogales, Sonora, customs agents, the ministry said.

A Mexican engineer, Ignacio Bolivar Cisneros, headed the smuggling operation. According to the ministry, he purchased the coins, which are freely and legally bought and sold inside Mexico, in Guadalajara and trucked them to the border in his own vehicles. In Nogales, with the aid of customs agent Enrique Martinez Ramirez and, at different times, five others, Cisneros smugled the silver into Nogales, Ariz., where it was sold.

In evading the payment of the customary export taxes on the coins, Cisneros made a profit of almost $64,000 (U. S.) on the operations.

The ministry said Cisneros' contraband activities were similar to those of a million-dollar smuggling ring brought to light last August, which resulted in discharge of 70 Cuidad Juarez agents and disciplinary action against 130 others.

Four varieties of trout inhabit streams and lakes of New Mexico.

Parents Of Students, Musicians To Crowd Texas U. Campus Nov. 5

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (AP)— "Dad's day" and "band day" will bring hundreds of parents of university students and some 4,200 musicians in 66 Texas school bands to the University of Texas campus Nov. 5.

The two groups will witness the Texas-Baylor football game that afternoon.

The University of Texas Dads association was formed last year. Officers are J. Lee Dittert, Bellville, president; Dr. S. E. White, Port Arthur, first vice-president; M. C. Bradford, Amarillo, second vice-president; Alex F. Cox, Beeville, third vice-president; and Eugene Sanders, Austin, secretary.

Baylor Farmers Harvest Second $2,000,000 Crop Of Year

SEYMOUR, Oct., 26 (AP)—Baylor county farmers are harvesting their second $2,000,000 crop of the year.

County Agent Ray McClung estimated the value of the present cotton crop at $2,135,000. And last spring Baylor county farmers collected $2,132,000 from their wheat crop.

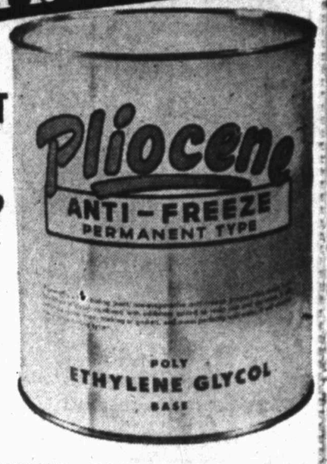

And 74.6 per cent of the county's total area is in pasture.

Only 5,000 acres in cotton would produce $3,000 more revenue than 102,000 acres of wheat.
