MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

By H. N. F.

Federal Reserve Agent W. F. amsey has resigned as vice-presi- ent and director of the Texas hamber of Commerce. His resig- ation was caused by the adoption the resolution criticising the Fed- al Reserve system. George W. rmstrong of Fort Worth introduced e resolution and the Fort Worth an is one of the most vigorous of ll critics of the deflation policy of e Federal Reserve System. It is ways well for a public official to ke his medicine and this reminds . N. F. that a federal reserve agent n't the federal reserve system or its oard of governors.

Editor R. H. Nichols of the Amarillo ribune is of the opinion that the pro- osal to levy a tax of one cent per allon on all gasoline used in the state a tax on industry and smacks of lass legislation. He advises the peo- le that they should lose no time in tting the members of the legislature nd the governor know what they hink about class legislation in general nd the gasoline tax in particular. Moreover the Amarillo editor says if he proposed tax should be used in im- roving the roads, it would not be so ad but when it is proposed the money e used for the general expenses of he state government, there is abso- lutely no excuse for it. Users of gaso- line are men of affairs and men of ndeavor in every section of the state, city or country. Now just why hould a special tax be levied on one lass of citizens in order that the gen- ral revenue fund of the state may be nlarged?

Hon. Andrew W. Mellon is secretary of the treasury; the Mellons control the Gulf Refining company and they control other gigantic oil companies in the Texas field. Now the announce- ment is made that one of the big Mel- on corporations has been given a con- tract to supply the American navy with a large part of the oil to be used this year. No political favoritism shown. The Gulf Refining company was awarded the contract because it underbid the Texas company by nearly 50 per cent. This too, after the Texas company had the contract for many years. According to the wise guessers in the city of Washington, the Mellon interests in underbidding the Texas company saved the government nearly a half million dollars. There are men high in the business life of America as well as men who are high in the councils of the two great political par- ties who unhesitatingly say that An- drew W. Mellon is the dominant figure today in the councils of President Harding and that his recommendations are all powerful and far-reaching when it comes to domestic affairs. This Pittsburg banker who represents interests estimated at half a billion dollars is one of the keenest business men and financiers on the continent of North America. Realism has been sidetracked. Business is business now.

Buford O. Brown of the Vernon Record is a stalwart editorial cham- pion of the five principal recommen- dations made to the lawmakers by the governor, but is more emphatically for the fifth proposal than the other four, and the fifth is a demand that the lawmakers shall redistrict the state into senatorial and repre- sentative districts as provided by the constitution. This is the advice given by Editor Brown: "West and north- west Texas has suffered too long this grave injustice. Surely we can get together now when there is a chance to right the wrong by pulling togeth- er." Redistricting, senatorially speak- ing, has been blocked for ten years. A million people have been added to the population of the north and north- west in ten years. There are four counties in Texas each with sufficient population to create separate sena- torial districts—Bexar, Dallas, Harris and Tarrant, although Tarrant may need a county or two added to make up a full quota of senatrial voting strength. All fair minded men who have studied the situation will agree that north and northwest Texas is entitled to at least three additional senators. Governor Neff pledged a fair redistricting; the Fort Worth convention pledged prompt and fair redistricting. Now the people should back it up and demand justice. They are entitled to their own.

A controversy that has been in progress a long time between President F. M. Bralley of the College of In- dustrial Arts and President W. B. Bi- sell of the Agricultural and Mechani- cal College at Bryan, as to which of those institutions should conduct the Home Economics Demonstration Ex- tension service, has been brought be- fore the legislature proper where it belongs and where it should be settled. Concurrent resolutions were presented in both branches to have the work done by the College of Industrial Arts. Under the Smith-Lever act, the A. and M. College for boys grabbed the work and now the College of In- dustrial Arts contends that in as much as it is a work for women, it properly belongs to that institution. The Col- lege of Industrial Arts is the pride of the parents of Texas. It is one of the great schools for girls in America —if not the greatest. All the women's clubs of Texas insist that the home demonstration work rightfully belongs under the College of Industrial Art, and that the 1915 resolution which directed that all Smith-Lever funds be turned over to the treasurer of the A. and M. College should be so amend- ed as to provide that these funds should be turned over to the treasurer of the College of Industrial Arts and home demonstration work directed by that noble institution of earning and training. President Bralley has a ca- reer dotted with brilliant achievements as an educator and executive and the women of Texas should see to it that the state college for the education and training of the daughters of the state should be given all that is com- ing to it from the state and the federal government.

GAS COMPANY WARNS USERS AGAINST SPIES

Head of Local Distributors Claim Other Interests Seeking Information on Wichita Properties.

Eleven Men Reported to Be in This City for Purpose of Ascertaining Information on System.

Issuing a warning to gas users to allow no persons representing them- selves as inspectors to enter their premises without proper credentials from the North Texas Gas Company, H. McLaughlin, local head of the com- pany late Friday took recognition of the arrival here of eleven men under- stood to be representing other gas in- terests who have come here for an in- spection of the local property.

"I know some of the men but I do not know who they represent," de- clared Mr. McLaughlin in a state- ment Friday night," and until they present their credentials and receive permission I have no intention of al- lowing them to inspect our properties if that is the purpose for which they came here."

Asked whether or not the men represented the Lone Star Gas Com- pany from which the North Texas Gas Company obtains the gas which it distributes here and twenty-one other Texas towns and cities Mr. Mc- Laughlin said that he did not believe that they did.

According to authenic information several men representing themselves to be gas inspectors arrived here Thursday night and Friday morning. Several reports were current here Fri- day as to their purpose in coming here. Others declare they are in some manner connected with the Ohio cities company, a subsidiary, alleged to now control the Lone Star Gas Company.

Public Utilities Commisioner Bon- ner said Friday that although he had not personally met any of the men it was his understanding that they repre- sented the Lone Star Gas Company and that they had come for the pur- pose of inspecting the property of the North Texas Gas Company probably in connection with the injunction suit obtained by the North Texas Gas Company which temporarily restrains the Lone Star Company from shutting off the gas supply of cities served by the former company.

Mr. Bonner also said that two of- ficials of the Lone Star company had called at his office Friday. Whether or not the men are connected with the inspectors is not known.

The injunction suit grew out of the supposed intention of the Lone Star Gas Company to refuse to sup- ply the North Texas Gas Company with gas for this city and the twenty- one other towns served by the dis- tributing company.

In connection with difficulties be- tween the producing and distributing companies it is claimed by the Lone Star company that the North Texas Gas Company is wasteful in its dis- tribution and it is for that reason the Lone Star interests are asking that the gas to be sold by meter reading be- fore distribution. Unconfirmed reports Friday in this connecton were to the effect that the inspectors had inspect- ed several meters in the city.

Efforts of representatives of the Record News to get in touch with the supposed inspectors proved futile Friday afternoon.

The following warning was issued by H. McLaughlin:

To Gas Consumers:

Allow no person or persons representing themselves as inspec- tors to enter your premises with- out proper identification signed by the North Texas Gas Com- pany.

H. M'LAUGHLIN.
Superintendent.

U. S. TO ACT ON PROPOSED CONFERENCE

Unless Checked by Attitude of Japanese Government, Harding Plans Calling Meeting Soon.

President Waiting on Definite Word From Nippo- nese Before Sending Out Formal Invitation.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Unless checked by unexpected developments at Tokio the United States govern- ment, it was believed today, will act without further loss of time in perfect- ing its plan for a conference of the principal powers on limitation of ar- mament and Far Eastern subjects.

The extent to which Japan is willing to participate in the discus- sions is understood to be under con- sideration at a meeting of the advisory council and there appeared reason to believe that the Japanese statesmen would reach a decision favorable to a discussion of questions arising out of the Orient, although, perhaps, with certain reservations.

Until the position of Japan has been more clearly defined, it appeared improbable, however, that the formal invitations would be sent to the va- rious governments.

KU KLUX HEAD AROUSED OVER ACTIVITIES OF KLAN IN THIS STATE

Special to The Record News.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 22.—Aroused by the press reports of recent lawlessness in Texas and Oklahoma, which is being ex- ploited by enemies of the Ku Klux Klan throughout the nation, Colonel Joseph Simons, imperial wizard of the knights of the Ku Klux Klan, has ordered a sweeping investigation into the activi- ties of the Ku Klux Klan in Texas and Oklahoma and is putting approximately thirty men of the department of investigation of the organization on the job in Texas and Oklahoma.

In discussing the matter, Colonel Simmons says:

"The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan does not stand for or en- courage lawlessness of any kind, but on the contrary is designed to strengthen and uphold the majesty and supremacy of the law and to make the machinery of the law so strong that the evildoer cannot live in peace and security in any community. If any mem- ber or branch organization of this body in Texas or Oklahoma have conceived any other idea in regard to this organization and have performed lawless deeds under misapprehension of the constitution and by-laws of this order they will be severely dealth with by the organization

"We stand for the purity of the country, but we also stand for the honor and integrity of the law and law enforcement officers of the city, state and government. I cannot believe that the Ku Klux Klan of Texas and Oklahoma have been guilty of the deeds charged against the organization in the public prints, but I rather believe that there is some force at work in Texas and Oklahoma attempting to shield their crime under the cloak of the Ku Klux Klan.

"I appeal to all civil and federal authorities to submit to me any tangible evidences which they may have going to show that the Ku Klux Klan of Texas and Oklahoma have been guilty of lawless acts in order that I may get to the bottom of the whole situation and purify the organization in Texas and Oklahoma of the charges made against the organization through the public prints."

"I am determined that this organi- sation shall be what its founders in- tended, namely:

"An organization co-operating with and upholding the majesty and su- premacy of the law and before it shall be anything else, I will revoke every charter in America, banish every member and burn all of the cos- tumes and paraphernalia of the or- ganization and as its founder and head, destroy the child of my own handiwork and furnish to all officers of the law a list of the membership in each local community in order that they may watch the conduct and acts of each former member of the organi- zation.

"In verification and proof of the sincerity of this statement, I last week suspended the charter of Pen- sacola, Fla., and revoked the charter of Mobile, Ala., and we are making complete and searching investigations to ascertain the real facts, regarding acts charged against our organiza- tion, in these two places and if they are sufficiently serious to justify and found it to be that our organiza- tion is involved, I intend to furnish the officers of these places with a list of the membership in that communi- ty."

"The offenses at both these places were minor, but I do not intend to allow even minor offenses against the law of the land. The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan has been organized not to tear down, but to strengthen the arm of the law in America and to clarify certain great fundamental principles, the same being an abso- lute adoration, single hearted, of the stars and stripes and the constitution of America, the perpetual reign, po- litical and social, of the native born man in America, under which all peo- ples have received their largest de- gree of freedom and justice; the as- surance of a perpetual separation of church and state in America and the rebuilding of the old spirit of wor- ship and the sanctity concerning the American home."

"In the face of these great objects and purposes to which every real American should and does subscribe, it is ridiculous for anyone to imag- ine that I, as imperial wizard, would allow this organization to degenerate into a lawless institution of any kind. We are increasing at the present time above five thousand new mem- bers per week, and the increase is double north of the Mason Dixon line what it is south of the Mason Dixon line. At the present rate of increase throughout the country, the membership will be doubled in the east and west to what it is in the south by the first of September. In a recent rough calculation the fig- ures showed that today the voting strength of the organization is north of the Mason Dixon line.

BEAUMONT ORDER ASSUMES RESPONSIBILITY

By Associated Press.

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 22.—The Beaumont local of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan today addressed long letters to both local newspapers in which they assumed full responsibility for the beating, tarring and feathering of Dr. J. The letters con- tain more than 4000 words explaining why and sums up with the quota- tion:

Their large professions and their little deeds,
Mingles with the selfish strife, lo; freedom weeps.
Wrong rules the land and waiting justice weeps.

LEGISLATURE GIVEN DATA ON GRAFTING

Evidence Transmitted to Representative Satter- white by Neff in Six Vol- umes and Letters.

Results of Prison Investiga- tion Constitute Large Part of Documentary Informa- tion.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 22.—The evidence of graft and extravagance in the state capitol which Governor Neff charged in speeches and messages to the legislature is now in the hands of Representative Satterwhite of Carson, chairman of the house appropriations committee.

The evidence was received by Rep- resentative Satterwhite this afternoon. He was authorized to receive it by a resolution passed the house this morn- ing. The resolution was a substitute for the Bonham resolution of yesterday proposing that a committee from the house and senate be named to receive the information, which the governor said he would give to any representa- tive named to receive it.

The evidence consists of six volumes of the prison investigating committee's evidence, letters of which the contents is unknown and other miscellaneous data. It has not yet been submitted to the joint appropriation committees and Representative Satterwhite does not anticipate giving publicity to the information before tomorrow at least. He said the committees would have some of the department heads con- cerned before it then.

Pass Resolution.

The house simple resolution author- izing Representative Satterwhite was passed after considerable debate in which Representative Williams of Mc- Lennan charged that the senate showed the "timber back," because it refused to pass a similar resolution.

The proposed amendment to the Dean prohibition law by Morris of Medina was set for special order in the house at 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning on motion of the author. He said later that he would accept the amendments offered yesterday by Fly of Gonzales and Burmeister of Mc- Mullen proposing to exempt from the law the receiver, possessor or trans- porter as well as the purchaser of the liquor.

The house engrossed and passed finally the senatorial redistricting bill by Hill of Wheeler.

The bills of Governor Neff's law enforcement program were introduced in the senate by Senator Burkett of Eastland who said he did so at the request of Atticus Webb, superinten- dent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas. He said he was not in favor of them in their present form. The bills are the quo warranto enforce- ment bill providing for additional methods of removing officers and the Dean law amendment, already intro- duced in the house.

Senator Burkett also introduced a senatorial redistricting bill.

Senator Parr introduced a bill changing the season on wild turkeys from March and April to November and December.

Now Comes Big Chief to Name Jack Co-Respondent in Suit

By Associated Press.

PAWHUSKA, Okla., July 22. —Defending a divorce suit brought by Steve R. Boulanger, wealthy Osage Indian, Mrs. Helen Boulanger today admitted that she had written to Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight pugilist, while she was still living under her husband's roof, and gave as a reason that she and Dempsey had been friends before she met Boulanger.

"I thought I was going far away and would never see my husband again," said Mrs. Boul- anger.

"I didn't know at that time that Jack was in Los Angeles, but I intended to go there and hoped to see him. He was an old friend and I did not think it was any harm to write him, knowing I was going to leave my husband."

Mrs. Boulanger, it was learn- ed outside the court room, said she had met Dempsey while she was a member of a show com- pany, her name then being Mrs. Helen Sleevy.

In her alleged letter to Demp- sey, Mrs. Boulanger was report- ed to have said:

"The people argue to me that you have lots of freckles. If you have, I don't remember you as having them. Maybe you looked so good to me that I never noticed them. Jack, I sure would like to see you before you go to Europe. I don't want you to give me away to my husband as I have not left him yet, but the day is coming. I wanted to hear from you and waited.

"I am just crazy to see you and I want you to answer this right away and tell me whether my cake is dough or not."

Mrs. Boulanger, 23 years old, declares she left Boulanger February 21, principally because he had accused her wrongfully of improper conduct with men. She asks for $25,000.

Mr. Boulanger took the stand today and placed charges of gross neglect, cruelty and improper correspondence against his wife, according to Judge Charles B. Wilson before whom the divorce suit is being tried. Mrs. Boulangr then took the stand to testify on these charges. She festified that she cared more for Jack Dempsey than she did for her husband, according to the judge.

One other minor witness was placed on the stand during the day. Mrs. Boulanger will present her case before the court tomor- row morning.

KATY WILL ERECT NEW WAREHOUSE

Construction of the new Katy freight warehouse and offices at Wichita Falls awaits only the court decision on the receivers certificates, issuance of which was recently applied for, according to C. N. Whitehead of St. Louis, chief operating officer of the Katy system. Mr. Whitehead headed a party of high officials of the Katy who were in Wichita Falls Friday in the course of a periodical trip of inspection. The receiver's certificates mentioned call for large sums of money to be used at various points on the Katy line in shop and terminal improvements.

New plans which have been drawn for the freight warehouse will eliminate objections raised by property owners here when the plans were first discussed, Mr. Whitehead said. These include the drawing in of the walls so that the loading of trucks from the warehouse will all be done on the company property, instead of on the street, as originally planned.

In this connection, however, Mr. Whitehead said that a number of their terminals in large cities were son constructed that this loading was done with the trucks standing in the street, and had not proved objectionable there.

COURT RULES BRIDE MUST REPAY FUNDS

Characterizing the woman in the case as a "vamp," Supreme Court Justice Norman S. Dike of Brooklyn handed down a decision in which Frederick Linde Ryon, a Princeton man and later an ensign in the navy, is given back three mortgages valued at $14,250, which he had assigned to John Wanamaker and others to pay for bills contracted by his war bride. The assignment of the mortgages was set aside by the court.

Ryon is described as wealthy, or was when he succumbed to a war romance and married Elizabeth Dargo of Greenwich Village. He was in the navy at the time, and soon after the nuptials he steamed away on his warship. He had charge accounts in many of the large department stores and, according to the opinion today of Justice Dike, as soon as he left his bride began an orgy of spending.

On his few visits to this city his bride also contracted large loans from him, according to the justice's opinion, with which to pay for legal processes on a mythical estate, from which his wife declared she was to inherit a large fortune. For a long time after the wedding, presents arrived at the home, and Mrs. Ryon always explained they were wedding presents. But the court declared today evidence points to the conclusion these were bought with the money "borrowed" from her husband.

"I have not found in an up-to-date dictionary a definition of the word 'vamp,'" said Justice Dike, "though it frequently and currently is used nowadays; but if the word can be defined as a female in pursuit of a male, a female whose physical attractions are as marked as her moral qualities are missing, then I may properly term the woman in this case a 'vamp.'"

Just how much money Mrs. Ryon spent before her nautical husband shut down upon her extravagance was not brought out at the proceedings yesterday. But an idea was had from one figure mentioned. When Ryon learned of the spending orgy he told his bride it had to stop. Three months later, however, bills came in totaling $16,292.81 from department stores, the majority of which were from Wanamaker's. To make good these bills, Ryon assigned his mortgages but on legal advice applied to set aside the assignment.

FIUME SLOW IN REGAINING TRADE

By Associated Press.

FIUME, July 21.—Fiume lingers in the doldrums so far as resumption of the once world-renowned trade of this port is concerned, while the new state of Jugoslavia is pressing forward in an effort to take the trade with America that Fiume held before the war.

Political quarrels in this city and international disputes keep the wharves of Fiume idle but in Jugoslavia a company has been formed to establish a line of steamers to operate from Spalato, Ragusa and Cattaro to New York.

Already small steamers are being operated along the whole Dalmatian coast under the Jugoslav flag but they do not touch at Fiume, formerly the chief port for this trade.

The Italian suggestion of a consortium for the management and amalgamation of the port of Fiume and the port of Baross, has been rejected by the Jugoslavs, who claim complete sovereignty over the port of Baross and with it the town of Sussak, all of which, they contend, is in keeping with the treaty of Rapallo.

An Italian naval commander, Captain Foschini, has been designated by the Italian government to take charge of the city of Fiume in an effort to adjust the differences between the contending groups inside the town.

HEATED PAVEMENT TOSSES CAR.

An Alton, Ill., real estate dealer was driving over the Alton-St. Louis road recently when he and his motor car were hurled several feet skyward. Excessive heat caused expansion of the bricks on the roadway and an explosion resulted. The bricks have been forced up before but this was the first time it happened under a passing car.

All Sections of U. S. Will Be Represented in 250 Soldier Guests of France Next August

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The 250 members of the American Legion, who will visit France in August and September at the invitation of President Millerand, will represent every section of the United States and all arms of the fighting forces in the war. Every state will have its quota and if possible every combat division will have representation, says an announcement by the Legion.

A fixed quota, based on legion membership, has been allotted to each state. Not all who have asked to be included can go, but it is the purpose of Franklin D'Olier, the former national commander of the legion who is in charge of the pilgrimage, to make a party "a cross section of our former fighting forces." Selection of the members is in the hands of the state organizations of the legion.

Details of the tour in France which have just been made public show that the Americans will visit again the principal American battlefields, attend various dedicatory ceremonies and will be entertained at numerous receptions.

The party will sail aboard the steamer George Washington on August 3, and will return about the middle of September. The principal events of the visit will be the dedication at Flirey of a monument to the American army, which is the gift of the French municipality and the people of Lorraine; and the laying of the cornerstone of the new bridge "Pont Roosevelt" over the Marne at Chateau Thierry.

President Millerand, Premier Briand and the marshals of France are expected to be present at the ceremonies at Flirey. Flirey is familiar ground to the A. E. F. It is situated in the old Toul sector which the American troops took over in 1917. The village itself is only 2,000 yards from the old front line of the sector which was held at one time or another by 17 American divisions.

Another reception of note to the Americans will be by the little town of St. Die in the old Luneville sector, also long-held by Americans. St. Die's claim to special attention in light of the legion visit rests on the fact that in St. Die stands the house in which the continent of America received its name. It is the one-time abode of Waldsee-Muller, the Alsatian monk, when he wrote the letter suggesting that the new world take the name of the Italian navigator, Amerigo Vespucci.

Marshal Foch will be "at home" to the visting legionnaires. He will receive them in the house in which he was born in the town of Taubes in the Pyrenees mountains.

There will be receptions to the pilgrims at Paris, Bordeaux, Toulouse, Lyon, Metz and Strasbourg. At Verdun the party will sleep in the famous citadel.

At Rheims the veterans will attend the presentation of the 3,000,000-france gift of the Carnegie foundation to the city library there. At Blois, St. Jeanne D'Arc will be honored. The legionnaries will witness the dedication of a statue to the French heroine which is the gift of the Joan of Arc committee of New York.

Under the terms by which the legion accepted the hospitality of the French government the expenses of the expedition will be borne by the delegates themselves or by the legion organization.

Mr. D'Olier says that the proposal for the visit has been received with such enthusiasm by the American veterans as to constitute a striking and spontaneous tribute to France as a former ally.

"The American veterans feel that the forthcoming expedition marks the entrance of the legion on the stage of international affairs an dthat it will tend to knit more closely a mutual understanding among veterans, not only of France and the United States, but of all allied countries," he said. It shows that in the hearts of Americans who wore the uniform there surely dwells an abiding affection for France and the pollu. It is noteworthy that many applications come from men who did not see foreign service during the war."

MAY OUTPUT OF OIL PRODUCTS EXCEEDS APRIL

BY BASCOM N. TIMMONS.
Record News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Petroleum refineries to the number of 302 were in operation during the month of May, with a daily capacity of 1,738,725 barrels of oil, according to the bureau of mines. The daily average production of gasoline for May was 14,169,631 gallons, larger by 262,758 galons than for April and larger by 1,129,640 gallons than the average daily production for the year 1920. Stocks of gasoline on hand were increased during May by 53,272,887 gallons.

The gasoline production for the month exceeded the domestic consumption, exports and shipments to insular possessions by more than 53,000,000 gallons. The average daily consumption of gasoline decreased 1,703,413 gallons from that for the year 1920.

The daily average production of kerosene for May was about 522,000 gallons less than in April. Stocks of kerosene decreased in May about 6,000,000 gallons.

The average daily production of gas and fuel oils for May was about 800,000 gallons less than for April. The daily average production of lubricating oils for May was about 300,000 gallons less than in April, although stocks increased 12,000,000 gallons during the month.

Ocean freight rates on wheat and cotton moving from north Atlantic points to the United Kingdom were approximately 50 per cent lower July 1 than November 1, 1920, according to a statement by the department of agriculture issued today.

The export lake and rail rate on wheat from Duluth to New York and the ocean freight rate to Liverpool makes a combined rate of 41.4 cents a bushel while the export rail rate from Kansas City to Galveston and the Ocean rate from there to Liverpool make a combined rate of 42 cents a bushel. The department compares this with a combined rail and ocean rate for wheat from Argentina to Liverpool of 35.2 cents a bushel.

By an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission, issued today, the operation of certain schdules is postponed from today to November 10. The schedules propose the establishment of through rates, higher than existing ones, on petroleum and its products from points in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas to destinations in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin.

OLD DAYS AND NOW

As usual the pessimists are wrong. The fact that some people go to the theater overmuch, sup and jazz till all hours is no real indication of national life. Such people there have always been from the time of Juvenal (and long before him) and they are only more conspicuous nowadays because a certain calss of newspapers thrives on giving them free advertisement. But the fact that a vast number of people, whose evenings once consisted of nodding over a book till they could decently escape to bed, now go out occasionally to the movies, the theater or if weather permits to golf course or tennis ground is to the good in many directions—if only that by living them all something to talk about, it makes everybody better tempered.

The cult of the family circle was far more real in its oppressiveness than is the modern taste for amusement in degeneratice influences. It meant the dead hand of the past on every outlook of life. Father and son may have spent more time around the same table, but they were not such good friends as modern habits make them. Thirty years ago when a young man got into a scrape, as the saying is, the one person he wished to keep away from was his father; nowadays he will probably be the first to whom he turns for advice; and for this improvement the theater and movies, with their constant reminder of days when wine was red and eyes bright and ginger was still hot in the mouth, are not without their claim to responsibility.

Every generation has its own ideas and pursues them in its own way, while its predecessor raises mittened hands in dismay at "such goin's on;" and any change in manners which brings gravity out of its bed and encourages it to cut a few capers may be welcomed. For if "'Tis love, 'tis love that makes the world go round," the outward and visible sign of it is a capacity to laugh, and in the approved home circle, to which some would drag us back, laughter was as the crackling of thorns beneath the pot.

"Nothing like a little judicious levity," says Michael Finsbury. There is plenty of seriousness in life and the world is not slipping back because in off-duty hours she flings her heels about a bit.

MAJOR DENIES ALLEGATION OF MRS. BERGDOLL

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Denial of the charge that he accepted five thousand dollars from Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll to aid Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, draft evader, to escape, was made today by Major Bruce R. Campbell.

Asked about a deposit of four thousand five hundred dollars with a New York brokerage firm about the time Mrs. Bergdoll swore she gave him the money, Major Campbell said: "I can tell the committee right now where I got the money but I may want time to produce evidence corroborating what I have to say."

The money, deposited with Wassermann Brothers, the major said, was a joint account with Laura E. Campbell, his wife.

Pressed to give the source of the money, Campbell said he had been paid in a cash sum from the sale of real estate.

"There was absolutely no connection between the money Mrs. Bergdoll said she paid me and the deposit I made with Wassermann Brothers," the major said.

"The old woman lied when she said she gave me five thousand dollars to hand to Grover. She did not give me a cussed copper."

In the heat of a cross-fire with Representative Lehring, republican, Indiana, Major Campbell said he had placed five hundred dollars with Colonel Milton Young of Lexington, Ky., in 1915 and that the investment jumped to six thousand dollars. Colonel Young, he added, is dead.

"The money was paid to me in 1917," he added, "by a man who is alive and whose name I will not give. Altogether my wife and I had twenty-four thousand dollars in banks in real money."

"How the fund increased", Major Campbell said, "I don't know. It may be that Colonel Young, a close friend of my father, gave me six thousand dollars on the investment. This same money was kept in cash through the war and deposited with Wassermann Brothers in 1920."

"Why did you not tell this at first?" Chairman Peters demanded.

"I did not want to bring family matters in," the witness replied.

"Who was the man who delivered the money?" Mr. Peters insisted.

"I'll give you his name later—oh, hell, it was my father," the witness said. "I wired him to come to Washington."

DANCE HALL IS PERIL TO GIRLS

PONCA CITY, Okla., July —The causes of the downfall of girls, at what ages they fall most frequently and to what extent the home is to blame, form the interesting parts of a questionnaire, national in its scope, which has just been completed and the results released for publication by the Rev. E. C. Cameron, pastor of the Christian Church at Fairfax and now finishing his studies at Phillips university. Mr. Cameron made this survey with the assistance of F. A. Wellman, professor of history at Phillips university.

"I tried to cover the entire United States," says Mr. Cameron in announcing the results of his questionnaire, which was sent to homes that receive fallen girls and care for them, "and I did succeed in eliciting responses from thirty-four states. The great majority of such homes are located east of the Mississippi River, while in most of the thinly settled states no provisions for the care of this class of dependents have been made at all.

Mr. Cameron believes that the dance hall has a lot to do with the ruination of girls and made this point an important one in his questionnaire, which showed:

Eighty-two per cent of girls in receiving homes were 15, 16, 17 and 18 years old.

Twenty-three per cent were 16 years old, which seems to be the most dangerous age.

Five per cent were under 15 years old.

Two per cent were more than 20 years old; the oldest reported was 26 and the youngest 12.

Of the total number it is estimated that 36 per cent plus were dance hall habitues and 28 per cent plus owe their present condition to the dance hall.

Each superintendent of a home was asked to give a remedy and the answers sum up as follows:

Forty-four per cent favor abolition of the dance hall.

Forty per cent suggest better supervision of such places.

Nineteen per cent blame poor homes.

Four per cent would offer other wholesome amusement.

Wasting Whey.

Even whey, which was once supposed to represent the acme of poverty, is now being utilized and comes out of the list of industrial wastes. This thin liquor, from which the curd has been taken in the making of cheese, is being conserved for its salts, protein, fats, milk, sugar and vitamines. Its utilization as a problem in nutrition and economy is discussed in the Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry by Yuzuru Okuda and Harper F. Zoller, who have been working in the research laboratories of the United States department of agriculture in Washington. Although the chemists describe only their experiments with Swiss cheese whey, they say that the principles used in their experiments may be applied to other types.

THEY RUN DOWN INCENDIARIES.

Incendiarism—man-started fires—is one of the evils with which the government forest rangers have to contend throughout the many national forests. One does not think of the average forest ranger as a detective, but that these employes of Uncle Sam are clever sleuths is impressively indicated by the remarkable records they have made during the last three years in running to earth and convicting rascals, rouges and careless hunters, campers and tourists who have been responsible for man-started fires in the national forests. Fire-warning signposts are placed throughout the government timberlands and the attention of campers, hunters and fishermen is especially directed to the absolute necessity for extinguishing camp fires before they break camp or move to a new location.

The forest rangers and special investigators of the department of agriculture have become very adept at locating the manner in which incendiary fires were started, and in tracking the guilty parties to cover. In these detective activities they make use of waterglass casts as well as impressions made by the use of dental plaster, plaster of Paris and ordinary cement, in making models of the foot tracks of either man or beast. They carefully collect and preserve all articles found around the abandoned camp fire or point where the forest fire started, which subsequently may be examined for finger prints. They search for unburned matches, the charred remains of the man-started ires, lens and other mediums used for kindling the flames.

It was in 1918 that the pioneer arson squad of Uncle Sam's forest service was organized for the prevention of incendiary fires in the forests of California and Nevada. Previous to the inception of the detective service, anywhere from one hundred and fifty to three hundred incendiary fires occurred annually in the national forests of California. Last year—the third year that the "Sherlock Holmeses" of the forest were on the job—the number of incendiary fires were reduced to twenty-eight, and there is every evidence that shortly the fires of human origin will be of neglible importance.

The mountain custom of always shoeing horses with reday made shoes has resulted in several malicious fire starters being tracked to their lairs and ultimately tried, convicted, fined and imprisoned. In each of these instances, the offenders rode horses which had been shod with sharp calks so that it was easy for the forest sleuths to follow their trail. Human footprints—in innumerable cases—have led to discovery and ultimate conviction and punishment. In some instances it was a worn heel, or turned over toe on the shoe for boot, which led to identification; in other instances, hobnails, peculiar patterns of rubber heels, abnormalities of foot conformation, or other peculiarities of the foot tracks, were responsible for the location and arrest of the vandals. Peculiarities in the foot marks of the horse, mule or burro ridden by the incendiary have as often aided in the trailing and discovery of the culprit. In one instance a lost handkerchief with a distinctive laundry mark was found near the scene of a fire. Through the laundry number, the owner of the fire was finally found. The peculiar treads, makes and tracks of automobile tires have also often facilitated the work.

Help came from the skies when a man walked off the sea wall into the Potomac river. The pilot of a seaplane, 500 feet in the air, saw him plunge into the water, and swooping down, enabled his companion flier to drag the drowning man to safety.

ARGENTINA INTERCEDES IN DISPUTE

By Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, July 22.—The fact that diplomatic correspondence has been in progress between the United States and Argentina regarding the boundary dispute between Panama and Costa Rica became known here today.

Publication by the Argentina government of documents exchanged in connection with Panama's futile appeal to Argentina to intervene in an attempt to settled the Panama-Costa Rican dispute disclosed that the United States holds that Panama ought to fulfill her obligations and stating belief that Costa Rica's position is justified.

In the memorandum, dated July 10, the state department said, it had knowledge that the Panaman special minister Harmodio Arcias, was in Buenos Aires trying to induce Argentine to take steps to reopen the award of Former Justice White, or at least to postpone measures which the United States would consider necessary to adopt in case Panama does not accede to the just claims of the Costa Rican government.

The memorandum as made public here, sets forth the reasons why the United States considers the White award binding and explains that, since the United States so considers and since Costa Rica is unwilling to submit a new arbitration, the United States is unable to propose that Costa Rica change her attitude.

The memorandum, according to the published version here, adds it is known that special Arcias has represented the United States attitude as that of an arbiter seeking the fulfillment of an award by force. The memorandum says it desires to explain to Argentina that the arbitration of Justice White cannot be considered as that of the United States, since both nations (Panama and Costa Rica) voluntarily chose him in a personal character.

Furthermore, the memorandum continued, the United States hopes that Argentina will understand the obligations of the United States, by reason of the treaty between Panama and the United States, to see that Panama fulfills her international undertakings.

AMERICANS BEST DANCERS, ASSERTS WEST COAST GIRL

If Miss Violet Oliver, "California's celebrity girl," kept a "memory book" as do many girls of 19, it would probably be filled with tales woven around beribboned dancing slippers.

As it is, her roseate memories of an entire year during which she ceased to be a private individual and became California's official representative in the United States, are dotted with dances. She has danced with royalty, mayors of great cities, governors of vast states, and persons of importance. And she has crammed the whole glorious terpsichorean episode into one year.

"I much prefer to dance with a graceful young American to dancing with royalty," she sums up her experience. "He's a better dancer."

Miss Oliver isn't a very large person to have danced so indefatigably, but she is so very pretty that neither the prince of Wale's assertion that she was his favorite dancing partner, nor Prince Carol of Rumania's declaration at a dancing reception that "I would love to see such a wonderful jewel in the Balkan mounting" seem extravagant.

The dance was claimed when the pair strayed into a ballroom set where an orchestra was playing, and was danced before an audience of hundreds of interested movie people.

Sir Thomas Lipton, formally toasted her tripping toes at an international banquet and dancing party given in his honor at Chicago which was attended by Miss Oliver.

"Royalty's dancing? How does it differ from an American's?" Miss Oliver repeated a question.

"Oh, I don't know. About as their clothes differ, I presume. It is rather hard for them to catch on to our foxtrot steps, and they're so military and formal.

"Give me a partner who is an American to trip the light fantastic. It takes red blood, not blue, to step gracefully through a maze of syncopation. I told the prince of Wales so, and he said he believed that I was right. The others agreed, too."

What If He Had Been Irish Born

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 22.—Fearing that he might become a communist because he was born in Vienna, the police of Munich have refused to permit a chubby little baby boy, ten weeks old, to enter Germany.

The little fellow was adopted by a childless couple, residents of Munich, after they had searched for several months in Berlin and many other cities of continental Europe for a baby that fulfilled their requirements. Arriving at Munich with their new found treasure, the foster parents were told that the police regarded him as "a dangerous and burdensome foreigner who, in twenty years might become another Kurt Eisner."

SERBIA UNFRIENDLY TO BULGARIA.

By Associated Press.

BELGRADE, July 21.—Serbia still maintains an unfriendly attitude toward Bulgaria, despite efforts of some Bulgarian statesmen to compose the difference between the two countries.

M. Dimitroff, the Bulgarian minister of the interior, recently visited Serbia but this does not appear to have effected the improvement in the relations between the two countries that he hoped for. The press was anything but cordial to his mission.

Serbian newspapers reproach the Bulgarians with trying to avoid the fulfillment of their obligations toward Serbia and with persistently encouraging the hostile acts by Bulgarian armed bands on the Serbo-Bulgarian frontier.

The agitation fostered by the Macedonian committee on the Albanian frontier aggravates the tension.

RUSS-AMERICANS RELATE PITIFUL STORY OF TRAVEL

By Associated Press.

RIGA, Latvia, July 21.—Little groups of Russian-Americans, who were deported or volunteered to go from America to Soviet Russia, are trickling back across the Latvian frontier from the land of the Bolsheviki very frequently, these days, all with the hope of getting back to the United States.

These emigrants, according to American consular officials, who hear their stories and have to tell them there is not much chance for them to get back, are greatly disappointed with what they found in the "Promised Land."

They tell of starvation and long rides in trans so packed with people that there is scarcely room to breathe.

Besides those who have succeeded in getting to Latvia, there are many others who have written friends in Riga asking for money from America.

The Moscow correspondent of the Riga Rundschau writes as follows about the Russian-Americans inside the country:

"The numbers of Russian Communists expelled from America, who with wry faces are selling their last goods and chattles on the Moscow market places, are increasing every day.

"The soviet government is doing its utmost to keep these people above water by giving them eevey whole factories to run and to manage. But as these factories are very much run down, even American spirit and energy is not sufficiently strong to set them in operation.

"A little better off are those of the immigrants who have managed to take with them from America their tools or goods produced by their trade. Such people are doing a big business and can afford to live well. Thus, one party of emigrants has succeeded in installing a small sewing factory containing about 300 sewing machines.

"Formerly the soviet government would have simply confiscated this lucrative enterprise but at present the government is a little wary, the more so as in this case they have to do with immigrants whom they make a point of treating with the greatest possible courtesy and consideration.

"Quite recently there arrived a party of Americans whose specialty is the construction of small dwelling houses. They are welcomed and aided by the soviet government."

NDORSE TWO FOR JUVENILE OFFICER HERE

With two candidates receiving part the needed endorsement and the ual interpetation of the law still doubt in the minds of several the testants for office of juvenile of- r of the county made vacant by resignation of R. W. Morgan tinued to attract the attention of nty officials Friday.

During the day R. L. Yates, late ndidate for police commissioner, d present proprietor of the cigar nd at the courthouse received a re from Burl Brayant, county su- rintendent of scools, assuring him his endorsement and that of super- endent Woodward of the Burk- rnett schools. Judge J. P. Jones, the county court, who will make s appointment also received a wire om the two school officials who are tending summer school in Chicago, dorsing the Yates candidacy.

It is also known that Lenley umphries, former night chief of po- e has received the endorsement of e Clark, superintendent of the lo- l schools. Superintendent Clark is tending school at Austin.

In the meanwhile numerous wires d letters are being sent daily to e out of town school officials in the terest of the candidates mentioned d numerous others. Friends of W. Bralley, defeated candidate for po- e commissioner, have urged his ap- intment although it is not known hether he would accept the appoint- ent if proffered him.

A variance of opinion has been xpressed by county officials as to the nterpetation of the law under which e appointment is made. According Judge Jones the county superin- endent of schools and the superin- endents of the two largest independ- nt school districts each make a re- ommendation for the appointment o the county judge who makes final election. In the event all selected he same man the county judge, he aid Friday would have no other al- ernative but to appoint him.

In the opinion expressed by others he law presumes that the three chool officials consult together and elect three men out of the list of andidates to be submitted to the ounty judge who will select one of he three.

COUNTY TAX RATE MAY BE SOME LOWER

The county tax rate to be agreed upon by the county commissioner's court at its meeting Monday will be based on a total valuation in excess of $75,000,000 according to information Friday afternoon from Irvin Deaton, county tax assessor. The figure represents a substantial increase over previous estimates.

In accordance with instruction given at the last meeting of the county commissioners' court the office of Mr. Deaton has been compiling figures on the tax values for the current year with a view of establishing the tax rate Monday.

With some data still necessary on the unrendered properties the total taxing valuation for the county according to totals made Friday night was approximately $77,000,000. According to Mr. Deaton the figure is correct with the exception of a small amount of the unrendered property which is estimated.

The tax rate of the county will not exceed the 80 cent rate of last year, according to the opinion of a majority of the members of the commissioner's court and other county officials. Some have placed the probable rate as low as 75 cents.

IT SURELY WAS ONE LUCKY DAY FOR TEXAS MAN

Houston Citizen Was About to Give Up but Finds Just What He Most Needed.

"I never had much faith in medicine, but Tanlac has convinced me that there is one at least that does what they say it will do," said Harry Davidson, well known woodcarver and designer, living at 217 East Ninth street, Houston Heights Texas.

"I certainly would be hard to please if I wasn't satisfied with what Tanlac did for me. I was run down for a year and was mighty nervous all the time. At times my head ached so bad I could hardly stand it and I was awfully bilious and constipated. I got to where I could scarcely do my work and began to be alarmed for fear I would have to quit altogether.

"It certainly was a lucky day for me when a friend dropped in and advised me to take Tanlac. This medicine suited my case exactly and I believe reached every nerve and muscle in my body. My whole system just feels like it had been made over again, and it has been many a day since I was as full of life and energy as I am now. After what it has done for me I am convinced that it is just the thing for folks in a weak and rundown condition, for there is something about it that builds a man up and makes him feel fine."

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Store; in Electra by Tarlton Drug Store; in Burkburnett by West End Drug Co., and by all leading druggists.—Adv.

165 FIRMS HERE USING BOGUS NAME

One hundred and sixty-five unincorporated firms and individuals in Wichita county are using "assumed names." That number of the "Assumed Name Certificates" have to date been filed with the county clerk and it is expected that number will be largely increased.

A law passed by the last session of the legislature and which went into effect ten days ago makes it compulsory on all unincorporated firms and individuals using names indicating a form of business organization which does not exist, they must file certicates chowing their character with the county clerk.

ASK ME

Peggy—Rudolph Valentino is at present playing "The Conquering Power". His leading lady is Alice Terry, who played opposite him in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." Rudolph is ready to start work on "The Sheik."

Mandy—Priscilla Dean is now working on "Conflict." Oh, yes, I'm with you there. "Reputation" was one of the best pictures ever produced. Wanda Hawley's latest picture is "Her Face Value." Wanda is 26 years old. That other question you asked me does not refer to pictures and therefore I cannot answer it. If you are in doubt about any star or picture, let me hear from you.

Bee-bee—Alan Churchill in "The Sign on the Door," starring Norma Talmadge, is portrayed by Robert Agnew. Robert is 22 years old. An interesting fact is that he was a former comedian. I bet you never knew that. He played with Billie Burke, William Faversham and Norma Talmadge. It was reported that he was engaged to May MacAvoy but this has been firmly denied. In fact, in a recent interview May declared that she was never going to marry.

Do Uno—The cast Lessons in Love" follows: Leila Calthorpe, Constance Talmadge; Agatha Calthorpe, Flora Finch; John Warren, Kenneth Harlan; Ruth Warren, (John's sister) Florence Short; Robert (Leila's cousin) James Harrison; Priestly, (a lawyer) George Fawcett; Henry Winkley (Leila's guardian) Frank Webster; and Martha (a maid) Louise Lee. Constance is 21 years old. You can reach her if you address your letter to Constance Talmadge Studio, 318 East 48th street, N. Y. C.

Tabby—Oh, that sounds too cattish." Don't you agree with me? So you are an ardent admirer of Elaine Hammerstein? Elaine was on the stage before she entered the films playing in "The Trap" and "High Jinks." Her first picture for Selznick was "The Country Cousin", which was followed by "Greater Than Fame" and "The Woman Game." Her latest release is "Remorseless Love." "Handcuffs or Kisses" has also been completed. She is at present working on "The Way of a Maid." Her leading man in this production will be Niles Welch who plays opposite her in "Remorseless Love." She is 24 years old and the granddaughter of the late Oscar Hammerstein, operatic impresario. Address her at the Fort Lee Studios, Fort Lee, N. J.

Margie.—I am very glad to know that Niles Welch is your favorite screen actor. Yes, I enjoy his pictures very much. You want to know in what pictures you may see him? Well, I think I can answer that question. Niles plays opposite Priscilla Dean in "Reputation." You can also see him opposite Elaine Hammerstein in "Remorseless Love." "The Way of a Maid" also brings him in the cast with Elaine. It is now in production. He also plays opposite Claire Anderson in "Who Am I?" He is 32 years old and is married to Dell Boone. Address him, 6650 Leland Way, Los Angeles, Calif.

Songbird.—No wonder your letter sounds so musical. Now I understand, Jackie Coogan is 6 years old. He is starred in "Peck's Bad Boy." Yes, his parents were both vaudeville actors.

RAINS DELAY TRAFFIC ON DENVER ROAD

Passenger trains on the Fort Worth and Denver through from Denver and to points north of Amarillo are being slowed up about 7 hours, on account of the necessity of going around a washout at the Canadian river bridge at milepost 370, north of Amarillo. This washout occurred Thursday night, according to reports at the local office Friday and amounted to the destruction of ten bents.

Trains to and from Colorado are being transferred from Dalhart to Tucumcari, N. M., over the Rock Island and from Tucumcari to Amarillo over the same road. This routing delays the through trains about 7 hours, local Denver officials state.

The break is expected to be repaired by Saturday noon, unless further damage due to high water results, and normal time will be resumed.

No damage was reported by the M. K. & T. railroad at its Canadian river bridge on the Northwestern late Friday, the water having failed to reach a dangerous stage. This bridge has recently been rebuilt and strengthened, officials say.

GRAHAM TO RUN TRAIN ON JULY 26

An excursion train of two cars of Graham representatives will be attached to the construction train which enters Eliasville July 26 when the laying of the tracks is completed, according to reports from the local office of the Wichita Falls & Southern railroad. No arrangements have been made to charter a car for Wichita Falls passengers, the train being a special which will start at Graham on the morning of the 26th.

Regular train service between Wichita Falls and Eliasville will commence about the first of August according to present indications at the local office. No change in the present schedule which sets the time for leaving here at 7 a. m. is contemplated at present and one train a day will be run as usual.

As soon as connection with Breckenridge is made by the extension of the present line to Jimkurn the plans call for a train each way every day.

FAVORABLE REPORT ON WATER LAW

A favorable committee report on the change in the general irrigation sought by the Wichita Falls irrigation district was returned to the house early Friday, acording to word received here just after noon Friday.

No opposition is in evidence to the bill, which is of a technical nature, and an early and favorable action on it by the house is expected.

J. A. Kemp, president of the board of trustees for the irrigation district, who has been in Battle Creek on account of his health, was in Chicago Friday on business connected with the irrigation work, early beginning of which is expected with the change in form of the law now pending.

APPROVE TRANSCRIPT FOR BONDS

The transcript of the $1,500,000 bond issue voted on June 19th for the continuance of the county's good road program has been approved by the attorney general's department according to a wire received Friday by W. T. Harris, county clerk from R. L. Fulton, county attorney. Mr. Fulton left Thursday afternoon for Austin to take personal charge in the matter of having the transcript approved.

According to Pat Murphy, county auditor, under the contract which the county has with Frank Kell and W. M. McGregor for the purchase of the bonds money from the issue for the county roads should be available within the next fifteen days.

In expectation of the approval of the bonds a proof of the bond certificates has already been approved by Mr. Murphy and Friday afternoon the engraving company at Galveston was authorized to start work on the issues which will be sent here for signatures in batches of 500. After being properly signed here the cerificates are then forwarded to the state comptroller for final signature. They are then ready to be turned over to purchasers.

It is expected that the the approval of the bonds will mean that work will also start on the tentative contract work that has been let for the paving of six miles beyond Iowa Park and from the Wilbarger line to Electra.

WASHINGTON THE MECCA OF THE TITANS.

According to well posted Washington correspondents, Standard Oil politicians hope to bring about intervention in Mexico. Edward L. Doheny, the California millionaire, and his lieutenants hope to bring about intervention. William Randolph Hearst and his interests are for intervention. Secretary of the Interior Albert W. Fall is friendly to the interventionists. Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes is said to be for justice alone and not moved by oil or land concessionnaries and immune at all times from insidious attacks on the part of the most resourceful and the most plausible expounders or interpreters of the intervention plan. More than this, Washington will be the battle ground of the contending petroleum interests until September. Now the house tariff bill will be sent to the senate where there are contending blocs of senators and where there are vigorous champions of the policy of admitting oil importations free of duty. President Obregon is standing pat on his export tax. He refuses to be moved. First, two small war ships were dispatched to Mexican waters and this created a nationwide sensation. Then the warships were recalled and this added to the oily maize of petroleum politics. Geologists laughed at the stories published in American newspapers by publicity agents and propagandists to the effect that Mexican wells have exhausted themselves or have been ruined by an invasion of salt water. They declared that there is little prospect of exhaustion of Mexican fields for twenty years to come and there are reports of very rich discoveries in the states or rather the fields adjoining those already developed in the Tampico district. It is the old story "When you see it in print it isn't."

REDISTRICT THE STATE.

Governor Neff should hold the legislature in session until the state has been redistricted. There should be senatorial redistricting before adjournment. More than twenty years ago the present districts were carved out and they have remained intact ever since. There are districts having more than 300,000 population; there are districts having less than 150,000. All Texans who are fair minded are interested in fair representation. This is a platform pledge, a pledge made to the people by Governor Neff when he made the race for the position which he holds. Pledges are not make to be broken. Platform demands should not be ignored and the west should come into its own.

DAWES AND HIS WORK.

Gen. Charles G. Dawes, director of the Federal budget, hopes to save one hundred and twelve million dollars this fiscal year. General Dawes is an economist and financier and a man of action as well as a man who never hesitates to state his convictions. He knows that expenditures must be reduced and a drastic policy of economy and efficiency inaugurated by the heads of all governmental departments. If a private corporation were to conduct its affairs as the head of a governmental department plays the same, the concern would go bankrupt. This has been the verdict for years of the foremost business minds of America. President Harding made no mistake when he named the Chicago banker director of the budget.

THEY WORK THEIR WAY BACK.

Col. Edward M. House avers Germany can pay with "real effort and work." Sure. So can all other nations and individuals who are heavily in debt. It is impossible to win without real effort and work. It is impossible to pay without real effort and work. Why shouldn't Germany be able to find 3,000,000,000 gold marks per annum in the form of foreign exchange, raw material or labor or the finished products? There is one labor organization in Germany with 8,000,000 members. And this organization is said to be the greatest force in all Germany in bringing about orderly conditions in critical times. It is the story of four centuries. Germans are gluttons for work; they are gluttons for thrift. They always come back. As the Louisville Courier-Journal says, "It is in the blood." They work their way back.

GERMANY AND THE WORLD TRADE.

President E. W. Decker of the Northwestern National Bank of Minneapolis is a man of vision. He sees stiff competition from Germany for the United States. He sees the rapid industrial recuperation of Germany. He sees Germany going forth as a dangerous competitor for world trade. All men who are close observers see it without the aid of glasses. Germans are working longer hours. They are doing more efficient work than ever. They are working for smaller wages. Their government is subsidizing to a considerable extent the cost of living to all workers in order that Germany may come back. Germany is coming back, in an economic sense. This is the history of the Teutonic people. This is the record of more than four centuries. They always came back. They are tireless workers; they are the thriftiest of people; they never waste; they cultivate every inch of soil—and they have faith in themselves. These are some of the reasons why Germany is coming back.

Congressman Treadway of Massachusetts favors tariffs on manufactured goods and raw materials on the free list. He is a fighting free trader when it comes to the importation of a tariff on hides. "Hides must be free" is his slogan. The Record News is for a tariff for revenue only, but if all the wares and finished products are to be protected just merely for information the Record News asks why free oil, free hides, free long staple cotton, free frozen meats and free leather? Does it all depend on whose ox is being gored?

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

GREEN OLD AGE.

So live that when your head is gray, and you are bent and tired, you're fixed to throw your tools away, and have the rest desired, and let the young men bale the hay, for which they have been hired. Like many other ancient men, I threw my tools aside; and then I picked them up again—I can't be satisfied with resting, rusting in my den, while toilers round me stride. But if I had to buckle down in these, my wintry years, to earn the shilling and the crown, I'd earn the same in tears, and on my brow a dismal frown would reach back to my ears. But I could quit my job tonight, and ply my harp no more, and live in indolence, all right, on coin I saved of yore; and knowing this, with much delight, I do my daily chore. There's nothing sadder, I maintain, than old men making tracks, by stark need driven, through the rain, to toil with aching backs, until they die beneath the strain, and in the grave relax. I work by day, burn midnight gas, and leave a trail of smoke, but I don't need to put up grass, and so the job's a joke; if I were forced to earn the brass, how bitterly I'd croak! Oh, I could sit and chew my thumbs, if that were my desire; but when for me the summons comes, I'll still be at my lyre; you'll hear its tinkling tumpty-tums, played like a house afire.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

BE WISE

Oh, man, vainglorious, feeble creature
Think not, to gather golden dross
Is life's supreme, important feature;
To you, when gone, it is dead loss.
What you accumulate in head and heart,
That only, that remains, endures
And goes with you, when you depart,
And only that is absolutely yours.
—Gus Hainsch.

"I simply cannot get to sleep without drinking a bottle of ale," says a man at our club. I do not see how he has been able to get any sleep at all for the last six months, unless he is worth millions. Has he ever tried drinking hot milk?

We watched a chap take a drink of "bootleg" a few days ago and he grumbled something about personal liberty. His hand trembled so that he could hardly hold the glass. This liberty stuff is fine if you know how to use it.

A newly appointed judge had a "bootlegger" brought into his court, and he was in doubt as to how much he should give him. He telephoned to one of his older colleagues and the following conversation took place:

"How much do you think I ought to give him?" asked the young judge.

"Not more than $2 a quart, and get a couple of bottles for me?" said the old judge.

PROF. STEINBRUGGE SAYS

Men who are good looking and whom women like are often going through life with a handicap. It is according to the natural law that a man should be loved by a woman. There is a something that permeates the character of the man who is the victim of adoration from too many women. He soon shows it outwardly and seems less forceful. Worldly success is hampered and too much time is wasted with the insane, pointless and frivolous side of life.

Love one woman and you will find that a liberal education and a great help. Leave the others alone and you will avoid trouble and suffering.

Get a good one and leave the rest alone.—Marcel Steinbrugge.

The Burlington railroad is telling its young women employes how to dress, which is another indication that railroads can be foolish.

B. Flatte, according to advertisements, is a cloak and suit representative, but shouldn't he be in the music business?

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN ORANGE

Smoke and flames from newly made fuel in the hardening boxes at the Madden-Morrison file works on Dodson avenue Sunday night caused Officer Roy H. Rogers, to turn in an alarm of fire from box 416 at the file shop at 10:45 o'clock. On investigation the cause of the alarm was discovered. All companies except Eagles and Ontarios answered Chief Higham responded in his recently painted chief's car, which has been given several coats of bright red. The alarm attracted a large number of spectators to the scene. The recall was sounded at 11:30 o'clock. — Orange County Times-Press.

Breakfast Stories

A young scholar, taking his first lessons in natural history, had the existence of animalcules, the minute creatures too small to be seen by the naked eye, which are to be found in liquids, explained to him. After the lesson he was asked to tell what animalcules are.

"They are animals you can't see," he said.

"Well, that may do for an answer," said the teacher. "Now, will you give me an example of animalcules?"

"The hippopotamus, the gorilla, the whale——"

"Stop! What makes you think those animals are animalcules?"

"'Cause I never saw one of them."

When their father died Ike, Abe and Benjamin found that he had left each of them $500. Benjamin decided to open a tailor shop; the others thought they would wait a bit and see how he got on.

As he did quite well Abe took the shop two doors away, and thinking to profit by Benjamin's success, had it decorated in exactly the same style. Each bore the sign, "Mosenstein, the Famous Tailor."

After a few months the cautious Ike decided that he, too, would become a tailor. He took the shop between those of his brothers and consulted the same decorator.

"I suppose you want something striking and original?" said the decorator.

"Yes," said Ike. "I vant a shop vit von great big door. Over it you can write: 'Mosenstein, Tailor, MAIN ENTRANCE.'"

IN LIEU OF BONUS
Wichita Falls, Texas,
July, 1921.

Record News:

As an ex-service man I have taken keen interest in the proposed Bonus bill now pending in Congress.

My suggestion, in lieu of that proposed measure, that the establishment of a government loan bank be made, with the purpose of making low interest loans to ex-service men with which they may be able to make an initial payment on homes.

Furthermore, that portions of governmental lands be set aside at a mere nominal price, for a period of years untaxable, to ex-service men, guaranteeing the development of same upon taking possession. This would insure the government's remaining holdings of lands, valuations considerably more than at present, by the development as made by the ex-service men. This is merely an inconcise foundation from which a "bill" might be drawn that to the majority of ex-service men would be more appreciable and of greater future prospects than the proposed bonus bill.

OLD TIME CABBY NOT GONE; HAS MERELY MIGRATED

NEW YORK, July 21.—What has become of the old cabmen who fifteen or more years ago contributed so much to the gayety of our city life? They were familiar with all of the city's haunts and institutions, and a fare needed only to whisper his favorite pleasure to be whisked away on the highway of adventure. They had all manner of vehicles, from snug-fitting hansoms to roomy victorias. There were cabmen to suit all tastes—aristocratic cabmen in resplendent liveries and shabby, faded cabmen in battered plug hats. The high hat, by the way, was the emblem of their trade.

When the swifter taxi superseded the horse-drawn conveyance this army of cabmen melted away like dust in a wind. Some still kept going for the accommodation of certain bibulous gentlemen. A few still survive on Broadway, despite the discouragements of a dry town and an early-to-bed hour.

Admirers of these ancient servitors will be cheered to know that they have not passed with the epoch to which they belonged. Although it is true that they have been sadly depleted in number, they are still very much alive and "on the job". They have migrated to more favorable lands, that is all.

Many are backing at neighboring seaside resorts. They will tell you that for some reason vacationists like to ride in an open carriage behind a safe old nag. It is a pleasure enjoyed by young and old who like to get away from gas and gasoline and hot city pavements for a brief spell. These ancients are to be found in Hudson River towns and at the railroad stations of our inland villages. They never were cheap to patronize; they charged pretty much what they pleased.

One of the fraternity was discovered recently at Coney Island. He was a weasened, toothless old fellow in a faded brown livery, with a horse and rig as ancient as himself. He was "Doin' up and down Surf Avenue."

"I get a lot of old fellers," he confided. "They like to ride in the old caboose 'cause it remnds 'em of their gay, old, devil-may-care days. They lay back amid the cushions and whistle or hum some old air that was popular thirty or forty years ago. I had an old feller a few days ago. He had me drive him up and down the avenue a couple of times. He kept shakin' his head and mutterin' that the island wasn't what it used to be. I asked him what he meant by it, and he said that the island was all right 'cept that the gay laughter and noise was missin.'

"I began hackin' more years ago than I can remember in front of the old Grand Central station. In those days we used to stand at the curb in front of the station a-shoutin', 'Hack, hack!' at the top of our lungs as folks came out from the trains. We weren't cheap, either, and how we did rob strangers. Later, I got a better rig and joined the company of night-cruising cabbies on Broadway. There was a real night life in the town in them days, and it was easy to pick up a fare and make a comfortable living. Many a party I piloted from the Old Haymarket to a well known all night restaurant. Sometimes the fun in these places became so bolsterous that it was a common occurrence to hear wine corks popping on Broadway.

"In my many years of hackin' I always tried to give the public a square deal, and I guess that's why I'm in business today. There were some cabbies who were pretty raw, and resorted to all sorts of low down tricks, takin' advantage especially of strangers. A fare would want to be taken some place, and a cabby would drive him around the block two or three times, and then deposit him half a block from where he picked him up. I used to get my price, too, but I was never a robber or a cutthroat, and say, mister, the majority of us fellers are on the level and always were!"

English Sparrows.

At least one good mark may be set down for the English sparrow so commonly regarded as a pest. He is fond of the seeds of dandelion, and when the flowers have given place to the fuzzy "blow-balls" spends much of his time cleaning them from the lawn. In this country, as in England, the sparrow is also fond of young peas and often ruins the early crops by picking off both flowers and leaves. In some Chicago suburbs it is now impossible to raise peas without protecting them with a net. Whether the sparrow's good offices in ridding the lawn of dandelions will offset his attack on the peas is a problem.

Who's Who

MARTIN B. MADDEN.

Should Martin B. Madden, republican congressman from Chicago be selected as chairman to head the all-important house committee on appropriations, the life's ambition of that gentlemen would be realized.

M. B. MADDEN

Mr. Madden has been a hard worker on the committee for many years. If the seniority rule is followed Congressman Davis of Minnesota will get the post. But considerable opposition to Davis has developed, and and Madden, who has been in congress since 1905, bids fair to be the beneficiary of much of that opposition.

Martin Barnaby Madden was born in Darlington, England, on March 20, 1855. He received a rather scant education in the public schools and night schools, and began work at the age of ten in the stone business. He came to the United States while very young, settling in Chicago.

Madden actively took up politics in 1890, when he became a member of the Chicago city council, a position he held for eight years. He was a delegate to the republican national conventions of 1896 and 1900. He has represented the first Illinois district in congress since 1905.

African Cloves.

Ninety per cent of the world's supply of cloves comes from two tiny islands off the coast of Africa—Zanzibar and Pemba. Born in the tropics, the clove takes into itself some of the intense heat of the broiling sun. To pass through a clove plantation in the harvest is said to experience one of the most fascinating sights on earth. The high trees, some of them nearly forty feet, and closely resembling the olive tree in appearance, are suggestive of giant perfume bottles disguised in leaves. The air is saturated with the delicious scent, and for many days afterward one's clothes carry the seductive aroma.—Detroit News.

NEW YORK COFFEE.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Coffeef futures continued quiet today, most of the business being confined to switching operations from September to May at 9.8 points.

Although special Rio cables were firmer, noting an advance of 125 to 150 reis in that market, it exerted little influence and trade continued slow throughout the entire day. December sold at 6.70 and March at 7.08.

A Santos cable received just at the close reporting a decline of 25 to 125 reis probably influenced some of the selling which occurred in the last few minutes. July, 6.02; September, 6.21; December, 6.65; March, 7.00; May, 7.19.

Spot coffee, steady and more active; Rio 7's, 6⅝@6½, Santos 4s, 9⅛@9¾.

CHICAGO PRODUCE.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Butter lower; creamery extras, 40½c. Eggs, higher; receipts, 8061 cases; firsts, 27½@28c. Poultry alive, unchanged.

NEW YORK SUGAR

NEW YORK, July 22.—Raw sugar was steady and unchanged with both Cubas and other varieties now quoted on the basis of 4.51 for centrifugal. There were sales of 35,000 bags of Cubas to a private buyer and 40,000 bags to local refiners at three cents cost and freight, equal to 4.61 for centrifugal all for July shipment.

There was more activity in raw sugar futuers and prices were firmer, owing to steadiness of the spot market. July closed at 3.05; September 3.10; December 2.86; March 2.73, all bid.

No changes occured in the market for refined sugar with fine granulated listed at 5.20 to 5.90.

Refined futures were without transactions and closing bids were unchanged to 5 points net lower. July closed at 5.85; September 5.90; December 5.85, all bid.

ROME TO BE CITY OF FLAT ROOFS

ROME, July 21.—Rome will become a city of odd appearance i fthe plans for the solution of the housing problem proposed by some Italian engineers are put in operation. The proposal is to build on the flat roofs of most of the buildings in Rome light houses of three and four stories.

The engineers have placed their ideas before Henry Coit MacClean, United States Commercial attache to the American embassy. They have asked that American capital become interested in the project. The material for the whole of the scheme, according to the engineers' suggestions, would come from America because of the adaptability of American light construction methods in the choice of materials and means of assembling.

Mr. MacClean has succeeded in interesting several American business men in the project and other projects along the line of building construction in Rome.

LITERARY CLUB FORMS BRANCH.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, July 21.—The Companions of Intelligence,' an organization of prominent literary, scientific and public men and women, formed to further the interchange of art and learning among nations, has formed a subsidiary branch called "Group for Action Abroad," to work actively along this line. It is a movement for the development of world advancement.

Dinners and lectures are given at which leaders in almost all branches of learning from abroad are brought into contact with those sharing their interests. An information bureau is maintained where men of learning, engineers or other specialists may be put in touch with their fellow workers or aided in research.

COTTON HAS BAD DAY ON POOR CABLES

NEW ORLEANS, July 22.—It was a day of small declines in the cotton market, prices being depressed on the opening by poor cables and remaining depressed during the entire session becaus of lack of support and more or lss liquidation of long cotton. Trading appared to be restricted by the nearness of the bureau day and the great uncertainty prevailing over what to expect from the government in th way of condition figures. At lowest of the session October stood at 12.24 and the list showed losses of twelve to fifteen points. Closing prices were at net losses of 8 to 11 points with October at 12.30.

Pressure against the market in early trading probably would have been more severe judging by comment over sales of but five thousand bales on the spot in Liverpool but for the fact that too much rain fell overnight in the central and eastern portions of the belt. A little later the market was steadied further by a private bureau report on condition of 67.5 against the bureau's own figures a month ago of 70.1. This, according to the report, indicated a yield of 8,433,000 bales and was considered bullish.

NEW YORK COTTON.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Further hedge selling from the south adn a sharp drop in spot sales at Liverpool following recent activity at that point prevented the cotton market from responding to bullish news in other quarters today and final prices were 3 to 23 points net lower.

Additional rains over the belt, with a renewal of boll weevil talk and activity in textile circles inspired a moderate volume of speculative purchases but there was little aggressive support, partly because of the crop of a prominent southern reporting agency which indicated a condition of 67.5 against 70 a month ago. Compared with the June government report this only indicated a desline of 1.7 points whereas the ten year average decline for the month is 7.7 points and some traders were inclined to take the position that private reports to be received next week of the bureau figures on August 1 might show less effecs of boll weevil active than had been generally expected. The view previous to the private report received today was that the boll weevil and excessive rains together would cut down the condition figures in the next report. Opinions on that point now are somewhat unsettled.

Around the opening which was 5 to 13 points lower, Liverpool and Wall street buying absorbed the offerings from the south and October sold at 12.84 and December 12.23 or 2 to 4 points net lower which proved to be the best levels of the day. Under subsequent pressure October sold as low as 12.68 but the close was steady at 12.77.

WORKMEN TURN LAUGH ON OFFICIALS

By Associated Press.

VIENNA, July 21.—Workmen officials have jurst turned the laugh on the Allied Military Control commission in retaliation for two searches made of their cooperative bakery for arms.

The British officer in charge, unsatisfied by a first investigation of the premises, returned with a large force and opened a number of heavy cases. He found them filled with brass tags used in the distribution of bread.

Next day the workmen secured warrants and went to the house of a man named Novotny, a high official of the association of officers of the front. They got five machine guns in perfect condition, a number of rifles, a quantity of hand grenades and ammunition.

SOVIET MINISTER'S CHINA DINNER SET BUTT OF JOKESTERS

By Associated Press.

RIGA, Lativia, July 21.—The comic press of the Baltic states has recently indulged in much humorous sarcasm regarding the reported order by M. Ganetzky, the Soviet Russian minister to Latvia, of a hand-painted china set for his use on state occasions to cost 500,000 rubles. This is equivalent, at present rates of exchange in Riga, to something more than $1,200.

The dinner service, according to reports widely circulated in Riga, is to be painted by hand, with each piece representing a scene from Bolshevik life.

One of the comic papers depicts, in a cartoon, Ganetzky seated at a table, surrounded by this spectacular china, but pushing away the plates and asking for something to eat.

In all of the Baltic states, where the Soviet government has legations, the ministers and their aides live in luxurious contrast to conditions said to prevail in Moscow and Petrograd, says the Baltic newspapers. Each of the ministers has a large automobile and summer villas at the seaside have been engaged for the Riga legation personnel. Some of the ministers have also bought elaborately-furnished town houses. Their legations are housed in large hotels in Helsingfors, Reval, Riga and Kovo, the entire buildings having been taken over for them.

Between Riga and Moscow, and Reval and Petrograd, luxurious saloon and sleeping cars are operated for the benefit of Bolshevik officials, while all other passengers must crowd into unupholstered, packed, third-class cars. The newspapers here and in other Baltic states frequently point to these conditions and contrast them with Communistic ideals.

HEDGE SALES COUNTERACT EXPORT BUYING

CHICAGO, July 22.—Pressure of hedging sales more than counterbalanced in the wheat market today the effect of export buying. Prices closed nervous 1c to 1½c net lower, with September 1.25 to 1.25 1-4 and December 1.28 to 1.28 1-4. Corn finished 1-4 off to 1-4 up and oats lost 3-8 ¾ ½ to 3-4c. In provisions the outcome was a gain of 2½ to 10 cents.

At first the wheat market was chiefly influenced by Russian famine reports and indications that business with Europe was in progress on a considerable scale. On all bulges in price, however, hedging sales were in evidence. Messages from Kansas City and Omaha indicated that consignment notices from rural sources were heavy and that receipts would remain large for some time. Declines were the rule after midday.

Dry weather complaints of a scattering character received some attention in the corn market, but were offset by the late downturn in the price of wheat. Increased movement of the new crop tended to depress oats.

Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions.

RAIL SHARES HOLD OWN IN DULL TRADING

NEW YORK, July 22—Apart from the comparative strength and activity of railway shares, trading in the stock market today was dull and insignificant.

All classes of transportation figured in their advance of one to two points but the principal beneficiaries were standard issues comprising the transcontinental coal and cotton carrying groups.

Representative steels, oils, equipments and kindred issues were steady to firm in the first half of the session but forfeited most of their moderate gains in the gradual reaction of the final hour. Sales amounted to 300,000 shares. The money market took further heed of lower discounts fixed by federal reserve banks and the Bank of England. Call loans fell to five per cent from their opening rate of 5½ and offerings of time money were freer with a liberal purchase of commercial paper.

Bonds were relatively more active than stocks and the tone for almost all issues was firm to strong. The liberty division closed mainly at gains and the new French 7½'s hardened on closing of the subscription books. Rails improved with Burlington six halves leading on their advance to par. Tptal sales par values $12,350,000.

BRADSTREETS SEES SIGNS OF BETTER TIMES

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Bradstreets tomorrow will say:

Trade and industry as a whole seems slightly quister than any time since early in the current year, the most activity at retail being shown by wearing apparel, evoked by well-advertised price reductions. The prevailing quiet, however, does not obscure the fact that fashionable cotton goods for next spring, notably, ginghams, opened at about the present seasons' prices, have sold well; that cotton goods as a whole are fairly firm; that woolens for next spring are to be opened next week by the leading interests; that shoes, and, to a lesser extent, leather and hides have sold better, with some shoe factories reported exceedingly well employed; that the matter of funding the railway debts to the government for capital outlays is making headway; that rilways are speeding up shop repair work and that plans for financing cotton and wheat shipments needed by Europe are under active consideration. SPUDS BOOT 'EM AND MARINES SLUG 'EM---AN HAM PAT WINS A SOUR, SLOPPY EXHIBITION

By C. F. CARTER.

There was a powerful report in circulation all over the merry village yesterday to the effect that a deal had been consummated whereby Moses Yellowhorse, Jimmy Zinn, Urban Faber and Bob Shawkey would be added to the Spudders' hurling staff immediately. All we've gotta say is this: That "Red" Faber couldn't beat Floyd Kroh's Anson semi-pros, if the team behind Faber kicked 'em and booted 'em and muffed 'em as the Sudders did yesterday.

Some days we roar loudly for pitchers, and other days we feel like yelling for an entire new ball club. At the moment of writing this daily outburst we feel like calling for both—a collection of twirlers and an assortment of the latest summer styles in outfielders and inner gardeners.

The Marines handed us an 8 to 4 drubbing yesterday in the final game of the series. The Spudders made only 5 errors in the field, while Jim Sewell and Abe Bowman were both hit a-plenty by Ham Pat's swatsmiths. It was a loose, sloppy game, a grand and gallumptious disgrace to this alleged Class A league, and the Airdome fans exhausted several wonderful vocabularies expressing themselves during the course of the burlesque.

A ball game as idiotic as yesterday's cannot be scored on a basis of earned runs. The scorer doesn't live who can tell you how many runs Dallas earned yesterday. And when comic opera is substituted for baseball, the starch leaves our young life and we do not feel that we have any right to cheat the subscribers to The Record News by attempting to describe something the fans didn't pay to see. This paper could be sued heavily for libel if we asserted that a ball game took place in Dallas yesterday between the Spudders and Marines—and one of the first things a newspaper man learns is never to get his paper in the hole with a libel suit.

So we quit right here. Read the box score, if thou carest. Oh, fan. We'll start writing again when the team starts playing. Today the boys open at home against the Galveston Crabs. The Spudders will be home for 23 games. Let's pull Ekoll for 'em while they're here, that's all we have to say. That's all; it's enough. Home, James.

WILL BENCHING OF DONIE BUSH SOLVE TIGERS' INFIELD AND OUTFIELD PROBLEM?

Ira Flagstead.

The sudden slipping of the peppery little veteran, Donie Bush, in recent weeks has hit Detroit a tough blow. It is believed certain that Cobb will have to build up a new infield without Bush if he hopes to keep the Tigers in the race. While he hasn't an infielder of Donie's regular speed at hand, there's a good chance that he will take a chance on Ira Flagstead. Flagstead, who startled the league with his hitting, is a good infielder. With Ira, Harry Heilman, Bobby Veach, Chick Shorten and himself for outfield duty, Cobb has had a surplus of gardeners, all good hitters. Shifting Ira to the infield will solve this problem at least.

NAVY ALREADY GETTING READY FOR GRID SEASON

ANNAPOLIS, July 22.—There is much talk of football at the naval academy, despite the hot weather. While the regulars of last year in eight positions will again be available, every place on the team is regarded as available if a better man can be found. It is declared that the naval academy never has had such an array of high grade backfield material as that which will be put at the disposal of Coach Folwell when the season opens.

BARNES WINS NATIONAL OPEN GOLF CROWN

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Playing as fine a two days' session of golf as the most pessimistic critic could desire, James M. Barnes of the Pelham Bay, New York Country club won the open national championship on the course of the Columbia Country club here late today with a score of 289 strokes for 72 holes.

Nine strokes in his wake came Walter Hagen of New York, champion in 1919 and Fred McLeod, professional of the local course, each with a score of 298.

National Amateur Champion Charles "Chick" Evans of Chicago was fourth with 302, the first amateur of the original score or more of entrants to finish. Another amateur of national golfing prominence, tied in the next group of three in the persons of Robert T. (Bobby) Jones of Atlanta, whose score of 303 placed him alongside the professionals, Alex Smith of New London, and Emmett French of Youngstown, Ohio.

Of the half dozen foreign entrants who gave an international aspect to the twenty-sixth national open championship only one, George K. Duncan, winner of the 1920 English open championship, finished well up in the struggle for the American title. He was tied with Clarence Hackney of Atlantic City for eighth place with 305, two more strokes than he had required in his championship win at Deal, England.

Following this pair came Emil Loeffler of Pittsburgh, with a 306 and A. T. Hackbarth of Parkridge, Ill., who was one stroke behind Loeffler. From these figures the survivors of as hard an open championship battle as has ever been staged in this country, trailed along in little squads until the final score approximated 340.

Barnes in winning his first national championship, gave a remarkable exhibition of brilliant yet consistent golf especially on the greens. While he had an occasional short lapse from his almost perfect play, his game for the complete 72 holes established a standard which probably will stand for some seasons to come.

Barnes came within three strokes of the championship record made by Chick Evans in the open of 1916, when the western amateur played around the Minnekahda course of Minneapolis in 286. The strain appeared to tell on Barnes on the final greens and he missed several putts which earlier in the play would have been easy for him.

Many close followers of Barnes feared that he might crack under the strain, for the new champion has frequently shown a tendency to have at least one bad round in his big tournaments. Today, however, he refused to depart far from his high standard and the result was a victory after nine years of struggle for the title.

Barnes first tried for the championship in 1912 at Buffalo. In 1915 he came well to the fore when he finished in four place with 301. In 1916 he was fourth with 290 and in 1919 was tied for eleventh place with 315. Last season he tied with "Chick" Evans for sixth with 296.

After his victory Barnes was presented with the national championship cup by President Harding on the green in front of Columbia's club house. The president was introduced by Howard S. Whitney, president of the United States Golf Association, and after Barnes had thanked the president for the cup, the chief executive shook hands with the new champion, Hagen, the former champion; Hutchison, holder of the English open title and McLeod.

In addition to the cup which is held by Barnes' club for one year, the champion received a handsome gold medal and $550 in cash.

SPUDDERS GET SOUTHPAW MILLER FROM WESTERN ASSOCIATION; TRADE WITH CRABS BEING TALKED TODAY

There's a new Spudder twirler in town. His name is Al Miller, he hurls the applie with his left flipper, and Salm got him from the Enid, Okla., club of the Western Association. Whether he can beat Texas League batting remains to be seen. His record on paper is good, taking into consideration that the Western Association is a Class D circuit.

Miller, who arrived in Wichita Falls yesterday, was with Okmulgee last season and stood second from the top among the twirlers of the Western Association. He worked in 14 games, and pitched 96 innings, winning 11 ball games and losing 2. He issued 38 bases on balls, struck out 56 batters, cut loose with 2 wild pitches, allowed 24 earned runs—and hit for an average of .222.

This season with the Enid Club Miller had won 10 and lost 7, when Salm grabbed him. The new southpaw worked out at the local park yesterday morning with Jake Miller and Froggy Rothfuss. He isn't a big fellow, but, according to both Jake and Froggy, he has some nice curves and an extra good fast ball.

Mister Al Miller is the only new acquisition of the Spudders. Today Galveston is here for a three-game series and N. E. Leopold, Sand Crab boss, will be with the team. R. O. Harvey admitted to the writer last night that face-to-face negotiations with Brother Leopold will be started immediately. Both clubs have been dickering by wire and letter for several days. The Crabs have some twirlers the Spudders could use (You can guess who they are), and the Spudders have some players Leopold longs for—and a trade of players with cash thrown in may be consummated before Leopold leaves.

The Spudders offered cold cash, and a good sum of it, to the Kansas City club of the American Association for Pitcher Gus Bono three days ago—but yesterday the Kansas City management answered by wire that Bono rates as the leading twirler of the circuit, and that there isn't enough dough in this town to get him away from Kansas City. The Blues are fighting hard for a pennant just now, and Bono has turned in seven straight wins—wherefore no Gus Bono for us.

Harvey reiterated that every effort is being made to purchase good pitchers. Barney Dreyfuss, he said, had fine-combed the International League to pick up a few good twirlers for the Spudders, but in vain. The real pitching class of that loop is centered in Jack Dunn's Baltimore club—and Dunn isn't selling anything. Other clubs have pitchers they would gladly sell, but in the opinion of Dreyfuss they would blow up and fail to stand the gaff here in the Texas League. Dreyfuss is also keeping an eye on the pitching staffs in other eastern loops, according to Harvey, and the best we can all do under the circumstances is to keep on hoping—also let's hope the new southpaw may turn out a winner. If the Spudders have only three consistently good boxmen, they ought to cling somewhere up there near the top—but the twirlers can't do it alone, that's a cinch.

ORIGINAL COPIES OF GRAND JURY CONFESSIONS BY CICOTTE, JACKSON AND WILLIAMS VANISH STRANGELY

CHICAGO, July 22.—Original copies of the grand jury confessions in which Eddie Cicotte, Joe Jackson and Claude Williams, White Sox players, declared they had been paid from $5,000 to $10,000 to throw games in the 1919 world series, and the statements they signed waiving immunitq, are missng, it became known today when the state began its fight to introduce the confessions as evidence in the baseball trial.

The announcement came as a dramatic sensation near the end of today's sesion of court when the state placed Hartley Replogle, former assistant states attorney, who directed the first grand jury investigation of the baseball scandal, on the stand and revealed that it would have to depend on carbon copies of the confessions and on the testimony of men who heard them and are said to have seen the immunity waivers signed.

The defense plans to contend that the confessions were made involuntarily.

Judge Hugo Friend sent the jury from the court room and will hear al evidence in the matter before deciding if it is admsable. Indcations are that Williams, Cicotte and Jackson will take the stand during this private hearing to testify that their confessions were not made voluntarily. Replogle, Judge Charles A. McDonald and grand jurors wll be the states' witnesses.

This is the second loss of papers in the baseball case, copies of the grand jury testimony having been made and offered for sale in Chicago sometimes ago.

Previous to beginning the fight over the confessions the state introduced testimony naming Carl Zork of St. Lous, now on trial as an instigator of the alleged sell out, and Ben and Louis Levi of Kokomo, Ind., as bet placers for Abe Attell during the series.

Harry Redmon of East St. Louis, testified that Zork during a conversation with him the day after the fourth game of the series in which the allaged game throwing was discussed, said "and I, the lttle red head from St. Louis, started the whole thing."

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

According to the Dallas News, Salm asked waivers on Leland McElwee last Thursday morning. We draw the assumption that a trade has been completed which is bringing new timber to the Spudders, or Salm wouldn't be preparing to turn Mac adrift. McElwee has worked hard for the Spuds, and we will hate to see the Maine boy leave—but under present conditions it must be admitted that the team is pretty well fortified without Mac. With Froggy Rothfuss ready to step back into the game very shortly, McElwee isn't needed in the outfield, while Works, Griggs, Tanner, Clark, McDonald and Gross furnish sufficient infield timber—and if new players are coming, as we are confident they are, the player limit has to be observed. You can't carry a small army of athletes and get away with it in this league, even if you stall around a bit by sticking some of 'em on the suspended list.

Good luck to you, Mac, wherever you hang your hat. Don't forget old Brunswick, Maine. As one New Englander to another, we've got to say we're sorry, mighty sorry—good luck.

"Did you associate with Villa while you were in Mexico?" Attorney Michael Ahearn asked Bill Burns, ring leader in the 1919 world series frame up.

"No," heatedly returned Burns, "I wouldn't associate with Villa or with you either, Mister Ahearn."

Which prompts the reflection that Bill Burns sure has hit the sawdust trail since the fall of 1919.

If the naval salute to the British sovereign is 21 guns, the office boy rises to inquire, what is the salute to the almighty dollar?

"Fort Worth Post Denounces Johnson"—headline. And just when we were wondering if B. Frank had pulled a boner at Austin, we discovered it to be Jack Johnson receiving all this Tarrant county abuse.

"Certain species of ants kill their fellows if they refuse to share their food supply in times of wars with other tribes," states a scientific authority. Ball players do the same thing when they can't mooch a chaw o' spittin' terbacker during a tough series on the road.

Owen Moore, the news dispatches state, "picked a beauty for second mate." Down East along the Atlantic seaboard, where we spent our childhood, they always picked a tough guy for second mate; one who shook a nasty belaying pin, wielded a wicked marlin spike and could cuss in English, Cockney, Norwegian and Portuguese.

"Fourteen to 25 Carloads of Lemons Being Shipped Daily"—and darned if we didn't start to read the story thinking it would be all about some major league flashes-in-the-pan being shipped back to the bushes. Thought we might find a pitcher for the Spudders.

ELECTION ON FIVE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO BE HELD TODAY

An election on five proposed amendments to the constitution of Texas will be held today. All qualified voters are eligible to vote in this election.

The proposed amendments as they will appear on the ballot are:

FOR THE amendment to Article 17, Section 58 of the Constitution, abolishing the Board of Prison Commissioners.

AGAINST the amendment of Article 17, Section 58 of the Constitution, abolishing the Board of Prison Commissioners.

Supporters of this amendment propose to substitute three prison commissioners in the place of the board, which it is claimed to be cheaper and more efficient.

FOR the amendment to Section 5 and 21 and 22 and 23 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing for Compensation of Executive officers.

AGAINST the amendment to Sections 5 and 21 and 22 and 23 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing for Compensation of Executive Officers.

Salaries now paid the executive officers are: Governor, $4,000; treasurer, comptroller and land commissioner, each $2,500 and secretary of state $2,000. It is pointed out that these salaries were fixed under the constitution of 1866, 55 years ago, a time when living conditions were much cheaper than the present. Also it is pointed out that practically every other salaried person has received an increase in pay since that time.

The new salaries proposed under this act are: Governor, $8,000; attorney general, $7,500; treasurer, land commissioner and comptroller, $5,000.

FOR the amendment of Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been a resident of this state since January 1, 1910.

AGAINST the amendment of Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows.

Advanced as a worthy cause for a worthy people, who will soon be passed away and which will take but little from the pockets of the taxpayer.

FOR the amendment to Section 24 of Article 3 of the Constitution relating to the mileage and per diem of members of the Legislature of the State of Texas.

AGAINST the amendment to Section 24 of Article 3 of the Constitution relating to the mileage and per diem of members of the Legislature of the State of Texas.

This amendment proposes a fifty per cent reduction in the traveling expenses of representatives and asks that the legislative sessions be increased to 120 days with the pay of legislators raised to $10 per diem. The expensiveness of special sessions, is argued as one of recommendations for supporting this amendment. The 60 day session is declared too short for enacting the regular business and $5 per day too little pay to cover the expenses of the lawmakers, while attending.

FOR the amendment to Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that only native born or naturalized citizens of the United States shall be qualified electors in this state and providing that either the husband or wife may pay the poll tax of the other and receive the receipt therefor and permitting the Legislature to authorize absentee voting.

AGAINST the amendment to Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution that only native born or naturalized citizens of the United States shall be qualified electors in this state and providing that either the husband or wife may pay the poll tax of the other and receive the receipts therefor and permitting the legislature to authorize absentee voting.

WOUND FATAL TO CHAMBERS

R. Clint Chambers, prominent Abilene attorney, who was shot while sitting in his office Wednesday, died early Friday night, according to a message received here by G. R. Holcomb from James P. Stinson, law partner of the deceased.

Henry Carter, cafe proprietor of Abilene, surrendered to the authorities following the shooting, according to Abilene dispatches.

THE HOUSE THAT LOVE BUILT

A street song of Tibet is quoted by a correspondent of the London Post as providing an interesting oriental parallel to "The House That Love Built." It is entitled "The Love of the Archer Prince," and the translation is by Edward Powys Mathers:

The khan,
The son of the kahn.
The love of the son of the khan.
The veil of the love of the son of the kahn.

The clear breeze that lifted the veil of the love of the son of the kahn.

The archer prince whose love kissed the buds of fire that scented the clear breeze that lifted the veil of the love of the son of the kahn.

And the maid who wedded the archer prince whose love kissed the buds of fire that scented the clear breeze that lifted the veil of the love of the son of the kahn.

The National School of Business will be closed until Tuesday on account of the death of J. R. Bilyeu. —Adv.

ASK ECONOMY OF SOLONS IN APPROPRIATION

Exercise of the most rigid economy in the making of appropriations in order that the tax rate may be held down, is urged upon the legislature in resolutions adopted at a meeting of local business men at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Friday morning. Present business and financial conditions were cited by those present as reasons why the tax burden should be kept as low as possible.

Those present included: G. Clint Wood, Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, Walter S. Curlee, Frank Kell, C. H. Clark, E. Stanley Field, C. J. Shumake, Orville Bullington, C. C. Caviness, R. E. Shepherd, N. H. Martin and J. W. Chatham, Jr. Mr. Curlee was the presiding officer and Mr. Chatham acted as secretary.

LIFE TRAGEDY SUBJECT OF DR. KNICKERBOCKER.

The Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the First Methodist church, south, will speak from the text, "The Most Thrilling Moment in Your Life," it was announced Friday.

At 9:30 a. m. Dr. Knickerbocker will address men only at the Olmpic theater on the subject, "Who Is the Most Important Man in This Community?" His subject for the 11 o'clock service will be "Is the Bible a Man Made Book?"

JUDGE WON'T ALLOW COUPLE TO SEPARATE

"I believe that it would be a shame for you two people not to spend the few remaining years of your life together," declared Judge W. E. Fitzgerald, acting judge in the 78th District court, as he overruled the petition of Mrs. M. Whitaker for divorce from her husband, John A. Whitaker, to whom she had been married over 40 years. The Whitaker's are residents of the Sibley-Taylor addition.

"Well, we can't get along and never will," declared Mrs. Whitaker shortly after the decision.

The trial of the divorce suit with several of the grown sons, daughters, and grand children of the couple in attendance, consumed the greater part of the afternoon. Taking the stand the plaintiff told at length frequently emphasizing her remarks with gestures, parts of the 40 years of their marriage life. She claimed that they were unable to get along together without frequent quarrels.

The husband taking the stand, claimed that he had done everything possible to get along with his wife without quarrels. He denied the statement of his wife that he had not contributed in a substantial manner to the support of the family. Both stated that the trouble beween hem started about twenty-three years ago.

Just before Judge Fitzgerald had concluded the decision attorney for the plaintiff took a non-suit.

Obituary

MISS LONELLA BURTON.

Funeral services for Miss Lonella Burton, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Burton, 505 Mississippi street, who died Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock after a lingering illness, will be held Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the family residence, with the Rev. W. A. Betts, pastor of the Wichita Falls Methodist Mission church, officiating.

The deceased was struck by an automobile last spring while walking on the Burkburnett road, just north of the river bridge. She was immediately removed to a local hospital, where her condition was pronounced critical and physicians expressed fear that she would not survive the accident. Later the child rallied and belief that complete recovery would result was expressed. On last Sunday she is reported to have suffered a serious relapse, after which no hope was extended for recovery.

Burial will be at Riverside cemetery.

MRS. W. A. BARRON.

Succumbing to an attack of heart disease, Mrs. W. A. Barron, 48 years of age, died Friday afternoon at about 2:30 o'clock. The deceased was ill only about 30 minutes, when death came, according to members of the family.

Besides the husband, the deceased is survived by several small children and her parents, who reside at Brownsville.

PAVING ON EIGHTH IS TO START

Work on the Eighth street paving from Brook to Bluff streets probably will be commenced Monday morning, according to the announcement Friday of City Engineer Montgomery. This stretch of paving is to be laid with a crushed rock base and bitulithic covering.

Laying of the crushed rock base on the Ninth street project was commenced Friday morning and, according to Mr. Montgomery, should if fair weather prevails be completed by the end of the week. One block of this stretch of paving, near the car barns, will be delayed pending the lowering of the street car tracks to the proper level, Mr. Montgomery announced.

THIS YOUNG MOTHER

Tells Childless Women what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Her

Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are very fond of children and for a considerable time after we married I feared I would not have any owing to my weak condition. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I have a nice strong, healthy baby girl. I can honestly say that I did not suffer much more when my baby was born than I used to suffer with my periods before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound years ago. I give all the credit to your medicine and shall always recommend it very highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wisconsin.

How can women who are weak and sickly expect or hope to become mothers of healthy children? Their first duty is to themselves. They should overcome the derangement or debility that is dragging them down, and strengthen the entire system, as did Mrs. Janssen, by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and give their children the blessing of a good constitution.
