Rockets vs Irish At Shamrock Fri.

Wellington Skyrockets meet the Shamrock Irish in the second district game of the season Friday, Oct. 14 at 7:30 p.m. at Shamrock.

"We're looking for a tough football game," coach James Williams said. "One loss won't eliminate you from the district race in the new two-team playoff system, so they'll still be thinking they have a chance to get in the playoffs."

Clarendon came from behind to beat Shamrock 21-14 in their first district game. Before that they had lost only one game, a 26-6 loss to Childress. The Irish tied Stinnett 22-22, beat Phillips 28-0 and beat Wheeler 23-0.

"We're going to have to get off the ball and not fumble," coach Williams said. "We had so many turnovers last week that we couldn't keep a drive going. And we're going to have to make sure that we don't have a penalty on the play when we score. We've had two touchdowns called back on penalties in the last two games."

Shamrock's offense employs lots of passes. "Their biggest asset is their quarterback Randall Hugg--he's good at passing," Williams said. "Their tight end Phillip Thomason is a good receiver too. And their all-district lineman back from last year, Roger Chase, a 210-lb. senior at right tackle, is also a big asset."

Joe Jernigan was hurt last week, but will probably play this week in his left end slot.

"They're going to try to throw the ball," Williams said. "We're going to have to cover the pass well. They've come from behind in some games with their passing attack. They run the screen pass well and they also run the option play well."

"They're an improved football team from what they have been in the past few years," Williams said. "They've got some size in their defensive linemen, and they're especially improved with a quarterback who can throw."

As for the Skyrockets this week, Joe Bill Munn is scholastically eligible to play this week, and may be seen

Mystery Santa Part of New Christmas Promotion

Five mystery Santa Clauses will highlight the Christmas shopping season in Wellington in a new Christmas promotion program for Wellington merchants organized by the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Monday, Oct. 10.

One mystery Santa Claus will be selected each week beginning with the Thanksgiving weekend. Clues to the identity of the Santa Claus will appear in participating stores each week.

Whoever identifies the mystery Santa first will receive $50 in script redeemable at participating merchants.

The Chamber also decided to encourage businesses to stay open two Thursday nights on December 15 and 22 to help shoppers who work during regular store hours. Santa Claus will make a visit with Wellington children one of these two nights.

Another new item in the Chamber's Christmas promotion is a $25 prize for best home Christmas decoration.

That contest will be judged the weekend before Christmas.

Businesses will also be encouraged to participate in Christmas decorations. A traveling trophy will be awarded to the business with the best Christmas decorations. The trophy will stay at the winner's business until next year's judging.

in the quarterback slot again, and on defense. Kenny Peeks will be back in action after missing last week's game with a dislocated shoulder. And senior Donny Weaver, who moved here this year and had to wait out a 30-day UIL waiting period before playing a game, will be able to play this week. He's been working out at guard and at defensive tackle. 155-lb junior Victor Willingham was moved up from junior varsity last week to play offensive and defensive tackle and he'll play again this week.

"I think we played well last week, but the fumbles got us," coach Williams said. "Our defense played very well. Quanah had a good running back, they controlled the ball a lot more of the time than we did in the last half, and we were still able to contain them."

"Our defensive secondary improved a lot," Williams said., "Quanah's quarterback threw the ball well and our secondary did a good job."

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Lame duck U.S. Sen. John Tower last week gave his studied answer to critics, some angry, who have wondered what he planned to do with the $1.6 million he recently raised for re-election.

Tower said he will use the funds to finance a Republican Party voter registration drive and to boost conservative candidates in '84 campaigns. His answer so far has angered only Democrats, and has breathed new hopes into the GOP.

His basic outline calls for voter registration of GOP and conservative independents in Texas, for a portion of money to be given to the national Senate Republican campaign, and for a portion to be transferred to selected candidates inside and out of Texas.

One new question now going around in GOP circles is how much of that money will go to the candidate who will replace Tower on the ballot.

Tower has said he will not endorse any candidate until after the GOP primary in May.

Republicans were crestfallen when Tower announced he was quitting, but his continued aid to the '84 election cause has them somewhat optimistic they can replace him with another of their own, particularly by utilizing the voter registration tool wielded so effectively heretofore by Democrats.

Texas Economy

As always, the general state of the Texas economy may be the biggest factor in '84, and things aren't looking so great in some places.

The drought has devastated parts of West Texas ranching and agriculture and a major Midland bank is in serious trouble because of the oil and gas business decline.

Last week a major survey revealed business failures in Houston may hit record levels this year, because of the energy business decline. Bankruptcies in Dallas have leveled moderately because of a more diversified economy; hardest hit there were energy, manufacturing, construction and real estate.

Hightower Firings

Texas' populist Agriculture Commissioner, Jim "Whole Hog" Hightower caught some unsavory press flack last week after disgruntled fired employees turned their guns on him.

Hightower has been "airing out" the department to implement his new program, which means letting some old hands go to make room for his new hands.

Some old hands resented losing their jobs, especially at the hands of a woman consultant who has reportedly recommended many of the personnel changes. Hightower has defended the personnel changes as a legitimate part of government changing hands.

Gunslingers

The growing political power of the Hispanic bloc has been touted for months and the man portrayed as most likely to benefit is San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros.

Now Cisneros is engaged in a legal shootout with the man who has probably drawn the most negative press of '83: South Texas multimillionnaire Clinton Manges.

Manges is spearheading the USFL San Antonio football team, the Gunslingers, and is in the process of renovating Alamo Stadium there under a city lease.

The San Antonio city council, headed by Cisneros, has moved to stop the use of the stadium after it was found to be prohibited under an old lease agreement. They want the new lease declared invalid.

"Snakes", Referendum

The legal saber rattling has increased and the words have been thrown across the table, Cisneros even calling the USFL franchise backers "a bunch of snakes."

For his part, Manges has challenged Cisneros to take a lie detector test, and circulated a petition to overturn the 1939 deed restriction.

Manges claims he has about 42,000 signatures, more than enough needed to force a city ballot vote on the issue.

The two-pronged battle, one in the courtroom and one at the ballot box, even though a local issue to Bexar County, could well decide whether Cisneros will rise or not to eventually become the first Hispanic statewide official, as has been predicted.

An Open Letter To All Translator Users:

This is a crucial year for all translator stations. The Federal Communications Commission has required all translators to move to lower frequencies. This change will cost much more money! Most translator systems do not have the money to make this change. Most translator systems in this area are about 20 years old so now would be a good time to replace those systems with new solid state translators. They would give better signals, require less maintenance and use considerably less energy. To make this change every translator user needs to pay their annual fee for use of the system. Memphis, Childress, Hollis, and Wellington translator systems are all required to make this change along with all other existing systems in the nation. Greenbelt T.V. Translator dues are $36.00 per year at the present; the lowest in this area; we would like to keep it this way. Most fees run $48.00 to $56.00. The only way to make this change and keep the annual fee down is for every user to submit their dues to the Greenbelt T.V. Translator, Box 272, Wellington, Texas 79095 or to the Farm Bureau office or to any director.

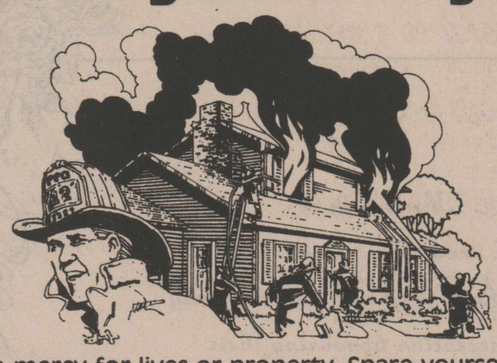

It may be necessary for some users to change to a different antenna after this change has been made for good reception. (Some antennas are 20 years old anyway.) We will advise which channels we will be using before the conversion is made.

Please support your translator system by sending your dues NOW. The names of all subscribers will be published in the near future. Ask your neighbor to pay their dues. WE NEED YOUR SUPPORT!

Rockets Slide Past Indians, 15-7

Wellington Skyrockets overcame 5 fumble turnovers to post their second conference win of the season over Quanah 15-7 at Powell Field Friday, Oct. 7.

It was too close to call until the final moments of the game. The Rockets held a 6-0 lead at halftime, and widened it to 9-0 in the third quarter, but Quanah came back with 7 points before Wellington put the final TD on the board in the fourth quarter.

The Skyrocket secondary defense played an outstanding game against quarterback Robby Harris who had plenty of opportunities to pass after the Rockets fumbled 7 times and lost 5 of them, repeatedly giving Quanah good field position.

The Rockets killed their first 3 drives with fumbles, but on the fourth Dewayne Culpepper burst out of heavy traffic and dashed the left sideline for a 56-yard touchdown that left Quanah defenders back 20 yards in his wake.

The extra point kick failed and the Rockets held a shaky 6-0 lead.

Rosendo Villanueva intercepted a Quanah pass at the Wellington 10 on the final play of the half to keep the Indians off the scoreboard.

As they have on several occasions this season, the Rockets scored on their first possession after the half. A heavy rush by the Wellington punt return team forced the Quanah punter to eat the football and turn it over to Wellington at the Quanah 23. The play set up a 30-yard field goal by Mark Hunnicutt which gave the Rockets some breathing room at 9-0.

But Quanah came back on their next possession with an 80-yard drive, keyed by a 48-yard sprint by their outstanding back Stanley Payne. Mark Hunnicutt had to catch Payne from behind to prevent a TD on that play. (It was one of the few times during the evening that the Rocket defense did not contain Payne.) Payne finally took the ball in from the 1 for the score. Leonard Love kicked the extra point for Quanah to make it 9-7 in the third quarter.

The Rockets came right back, though. Michael Breedlove recovered a Quanah fumble at the Indian 37. From the 20, Dewayne Culpepper followed a terrific block by Darvin Nix to slash through the Quanah defense for a TD. The extra point kick failed, and Wellington held a 15-7 lead.

But the Rockets had to play 'til the final whistle. Two more turnovers gave the ball to Quanah at the Rocket 44 and 37 yard lines.

On their final possession Quanah moved to the Wellington 18 where Darvin Nix, Bill Reeves and James Benton put in outstanding efforts at pass defense to halt the Indians just before the game ended.

7th Graders Lose to Quanah

Quanah defeated Wellington 7th graders 30-0 there Thursday, Oct. 6.

The score was 16-0 at halftime and Quanah came back to add 14 more.

"We just didn't play well," coach Tom Johnson said. "We looked good for 3 or 4 plays at a time but we didn't have any consistency last week."

7th graders take on Shamrock for a second time this season Thursday, Oct. 13. In the first meeting Wellington beat Shamrock 30-0.

Connecticut is the only state in the U.S. with a law that specifically gives beavers the right to build dams.

'Crackers Crush Quanah, 24-0

Wellington Firecrackers beat Quanah 8th graders 24-0 there Thursday, Oct. 6.

Wellington's first touchdown came in the second quarter when a broken punt play forced James McIntosh to retrieve a hike that sailed over his head and run for a 100-yard touchdown. Alex Johnson ran the extra points and the 'Crackers led 8-0.

In the third quarter Shawn Cobb scored on a 5-yard dive. Alex Johnson ran the extra points and the score was 16-0, Wellington.

The Firecrackers struck again early in the fourth quarter. This time Alex Johnson scored on a 15-yard run. Curtis Nash ran the extra points to give the 'Crackers their final 24-0 score.

"We had a good defensive game last week, and on offense we're moving some people around and we're looking forward to an exciting game against Shamrock," coach Gano Wilson said. "Shawn Cobb's running is super and Alex Johnson is running well. And we're going to have a new big tailback in Arthur Pennon who we've moved from end to backfield this week."

"We're 5-0 for the season, and it looks like it will be a close race down to the wire. Panhandle has a good group and we only beat them 8-0. We play Panhandle the last game of the season there," coach Wilson said.

JV Shuts Out Quanah, 12-0

Wellington Junior Varsity shut out Quanah 12-0 there Thursday, Oct. 6.

Wellington saw two good drives stopped by fumbles in the first half and the halftime score was 0-0.

But early in the third quarter Wellington capped a 40-yard drive with a 1-yard touchdown run by Chuck Brown. The extra point run fell short.

Late in the fourth quarter Chuck Brown scored again on a 25 yard run. The extra point run again fell short and Wellington took home a 12-0 victory.

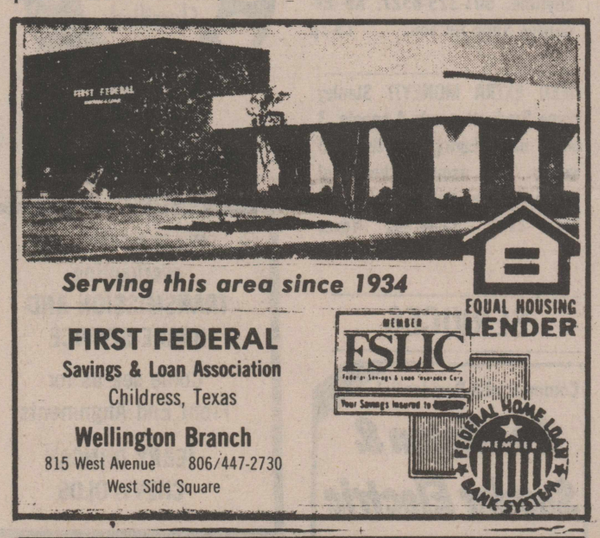

The Junior Varsity takes on Shamrock for a second time this season here Thursday, Oct. 13.

"We beat Shamrock 20-14 last time," Taylor said, "but we had them 20-0 and they almost beat us.
