Henshaws Make Second West Texas Oil Deal For $3,000,000

PROPERTIES IN TWO STATES GO TO MARACAIBO

First Big Deal Brought $2,000,000 For Lease In Brown Field

ROYALTY RETAINED

Negotiations Completed In Conferences At New York City

Special to The Record News.

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Nov. 21.—Holdings acquired since it sold its 320-acre producing Lowe lease in Brown county to the Texas company two years ago for over $2,000,000 have been disposed of by Henshaw Oil corporation of San Angelo to the American Maracaibo company of New York City. The price was unannounced but is understood to have exceeded $3,000,000.

Scattered Properties

The properties include two producing leases in Brown county, one in Coleman county and one in Howard county, semi-proven acreage in Howard and Winkler counties and leases in Brown, Coke, Crockett and Ector counties, Texas, and in Blair county, Okla. Henshaw Oil corporation retains its royalties through the Metropolitan Royalty company, recently organized and which it controls, and will continue to operate in West Texas with headquarters at San Angelo.

The Metropolitan has producing royalties in Pecos, Winkler and Howard couties. Henshaw's sale to American Maracaibo was consummated in New York Saturday by George A. Henshaw Jr., president of the company that bears his name, and Fred Wickett, chairman of the board of the purchasers, and was announced to the San Angelo Morning Times by Walter Henshaw, vice president, then at Fort Worth, upon George Henshaw's arrival there by plane.

Other Land Sought

Henshaw will continue operation of properties for 30 days. American Maracaibo Co. is now consummating the purchase from Judge and Mrs. T. G. Hendrick of Odessa of the fee simple rights to their lands, including 32,000 acres in the Winkler county field.

The Henshaw brothers within three years have drilled in five discovery wells, two in Howard, two in Brown and one in Coleman county. The most recent is their No. 1-A Settles, which extended the Roberts-Settles pool almost three miles west and is rated good for over 7,000 barrels daily.

Mayor, Bands To Hail Poor Peanut Pusher

HARLINGEN, Texas, Nov. 21 (AP).—If Bill Williams' nose pushes a peanut across a finish line here at 11 a. m. tomorrow, as scheduled, he will be greeted by a brass band, mayors of two cities, county officials, and a big crowd.

At that hour tomorrow Williams plans to end his 11-mile peanut pushing stunt on the eleventh day—and all because he lost an election bet on Governor Smith. Williams started his trek at Rio Hondo, 11 miles away, and when he quit tonight was within finishing distance of Harlingen.

Disaster Relief Head Ordered To Kansas

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (US)—Following reports of increasingly serious conditions in the Kansas flood area, the American Red Cross today ordered Henry M. Baker, its national director of disaster relief, to take personal charge of the organization's relief work for hundreds of persons driven from their homes by the rising waters.

FRITTS AGAIN WINS DELAY

Illness of Defendant's Mother Is Cause

ANSON, Texas, Nov. 21 (AP).—Two men, brothers, were charged with attempting to assist a prisoner to escape here today when officers claimed they caught them scaling the wall of the jail confining Bill Fritts, awaiting trial on the state's allegation that he killed D. W. Hamilton and his son, Earl.

Roy and Shed Farrar, the brothers, of Rochester, also were charged with transporting liquor. Officers declared one of the brothers smashed a bottle of liquor when accosted by officers as he scaled the jail wall. Both were held without bond.

Special to The Record News

ANSON, Texas, Nov. 21.—Because the defendant's mother is seriously ill at her home near Rochester, trial of Will Fritts, indicted in the deaths of D. W. Hamilton and his son, Earle, at Rochester Oct. 27, was continued until Jan. 16 in district court here today.

This was the third continuance granted from Haskell county shortly after the slaying, and a second motion for continuance having been granted on Nov. 8.

The continuance was granted today by District Judge Bruce Bryant of Haskell, sitting in the absence of Judge W. R. Chapman.

Fritts surrendered to officers several days after Hamilton and his son were shot to death in front of their home late at night. The younger Hamilton had been called as a witness in a liquor case, in which Fritts was involved.

Honest 'Legger Warns Customers on Labels

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 21. (US)—Found, an honest bootlegger.

Prohibition agents, some of the 125 sent here to dry up the city's football crowd last week, today arrested a man who had in his possession a case of liquors and every bottle bore a skull and crossbones label under which were the words: "Drink this at your own risk."

Epidemic Scourge In Utah and Idaho Towns

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 21 (UP)—At least five deaths and more than 1,000 cases of illness from epidemics of influenza, spinal meningitis and scarlet fever were reported today by scattered cities of Utah and Idaho.

At Idaho Falls five members of the family of Jacob Moualin were put under quarantine, suspected of being human carriers of spinal meningitis.

REPORTER IN TOILS OF LAW DEFENDS NAME

Writer Accused of Taking $176,000 In Bonds Worries Police

ADMITS HIS GUILT

'Honored Name' of Old Kentucky Is Secret of Queer Suspect

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21. (AP)—A newspaper reporter charged with the theft of $176,000 worth of Liberty bonds from the First National Bank of Los Angeles today refused persistently to reveal his correct name, saying "it's an honored name of Kentucky and I'd die before I'd reveal it."

Sitting in his cell, dry lipped and grim eyed, he astonished his callers by saying:

"If I told my real name I'd be killed. My name is not O'Hare, neither is it O'Neil. It is an honored name of Kentucky and I'd die before I'd reveal it."

He Writes Verse

For two years he had been known in New Orleans as Kenneth Terrence O'Hara and under that name had written for a local newspaper. He also wrote verse which was published in magazines over the country. The police know him as John B. O'Neil, absconding bank teller.

"I am the man they want," he said, "they can call me what they please." The police circulars says he was born in Louisville, Ky., June 15, 1891, but the man says he was born there June 15, 1892.

He has a military bearing, rides like a centaur, and some months ago had his photograph taken in the uniform of a major of infantry, bearing several service bars. He speaks authoritatively of the service, indicates familiarity with New York, Boston, Los Angeles, and San Francisco, and Kentucky and knows intimate facts about prominent persons in these places. To his friends while working as a reporter here, he frequently spoke of better days, but while he lived in monklike frugality, he was always hard up and was as silent as the sphinx on details of his past. No one knew how or when he came to New Orleans.

Guilty, He Says

"I'm guilty of embezzlement, I suppose," he said. "But the sum mentioned astonishes me. The $151,000 of bonds returned to the treasury department of a 'W. H. Frost' is mystery. It goes back to 1922 but the real story will have to go untold because I am not the only one to be considered. If I could tell the story now I'd be killed before I ever got into a courtroom."

So he sits in his cell while the police strive to unravel the threads of his mystery.

Drive On High School Speakeasies Continues

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (AP)—The board of education, police department and prohibition authorities joined today in efforts to rid the city of illicit liquor establishments catering to school children.

The campaign was begun after the shooting of a high school boy by the proprietor of one such establishment a few days ago and today had spread to every school in the city where the police were making a canvass of the neighborhood and warning all suspected merchants against allowing school pupils to gamble or drink in their places of business.

State May Sell Lands Under Ruling Of Court

Forfeiture of Donley and Hutchinson County Tracts Upheld by Supreme Tribunal

AUSTIN, Nov. 21. (AP)—Millions of acres of state land, forfeited in 1925 because purchasers had failed to make payments, can be sold as the result of supreme court decisions today upholding the forfeitures under attack.

Sale of the land has been held up pending the outcome of the suits, as test cases. One was by S. H. Huggins and the other three by R. Edgar Thompson for mandamus to force the state land commissioner J. T. Robison to reinstate the forfeited land. The Huggins holdings were 111 acres in Donley county and more than two sections of land in Hutchinson county were involved in the Thompson cases.

The decision extends the date of mineral permits on the land for periods equal to the time between filing of the suits and final judgment, which may not be for some weeks on account of possible filing of motions for rehearing.

Theo W. Carter of Austin has permits on the Huggins acreage and 150 acres of the Thompson land, the Humble Oil and Refining company has a permit on a section of the Thompson acreage, and William Blakesles, Austin lawyer, also has a section of the latter covered by a permit.

Banquet and Reception Tendered Rail Celebrants At Hub City

Lubbock Entertains Special Train Crowds With Tour of City and Luncheon Served by Men

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 21.—A banquet and reception awaited the delegates on the four special "Denver opening" trains which puffed into Lubbock over the line's newly-laid rails just at dusk tonight.

The 500 or more delegates brought by this, the greatest railroad parade in Texas history, first marched in a procession down the main streets of Lubbock. Popular airs from the three bands in the party, enlivened the atmosphere.

Following the parade, the delegates were escorted in automobiles furnished by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce to the Texas Technological college where after a short tour of inspection they were taken to the college gymnasium for a buffet luncheon, furnished through courtesy of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Lubbock business men donned aprons and took the role of waiters in serving their guests.

Speeches during the banquet were made by leaders of visiting delegations and of Lubbock.

Members of the welcoming committee here included: C. E. Maedgen, Lubbock banker; W. W. Rix, manager of a large furniture concern; A. B. Davis, chamber of commerce manager; A. C. Ellis, banker; and others.

Following the buffet supper at the Tech College cafeteria, a program of speech-making was given.

B. Sherrod, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, was master of ceremonies. Mayor Harley D. Woods, interspersing a flow of repartee in his remarks, welcomed the visitors to the city. Response was made by J. H. Barwise, attorney for the Fort Worth and Denver railroad.

F. E. Williamson, executive vice president of the Denver, traced the history of the South Plains extension and asserted that his road had great confidence in the boundless possibilities of this section.

R. E. Harding, president of the Fort Worth Association of Commerce, stressed the fact that Fort Worth looked upon the South Plains as its "front yard," not its back yard. Congressman H. W. Summers of Dallas dwelt on the fact that in Texas there was room for every city and that inter-city jealousies were a thing of the past. He stressed cooperation for mutual benefit. Congressman Marvin Jones spoke for Amarillo a pledge in helping to build the South Plains. Dr. Paul W. Horn of Texas Technological college was the final speaker. He brought out the part the college was playing in building up the nation.

The trains from Dallas, Fort Worth and Amarillo left before midnight on their return to their respective cities.

Ship's Disipline Went To Pieces, Johnson Says

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP).—A picture of confusion in striking contrast to the popular conception of sea discipline during emergencies was painted in a federal courtroom today by Chief Officer Frank Johnson of the steamer Vestris, in telling for the second time the story of the ship's sinking nine days ago off the Virginia capes.

The release mechanism on the life boats failed to work in every instance, he said.

Aviators Find Body Of Two Crash Victims

VICTORIA, Texas, Nov. 21 (AP).—The bodies of Lieut. Frank V. Corson and Private James W. Snedaker, army aviators, drowned in Matagorda bay Friday after leaving their disabled plane in parachutes, were found today by army planes that have been scanning the waters since the accident occurred.

Corson's body was found in shallow water and recovered, but doubt was expressed that Snedaker's remains would be recovered.

Borah Demands Extra Session of Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (US)—Declaring that congress will have insufficient time to grapple with the farm problem at the short session opening Dec. 3, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, today demanded a special session of congress to pass farm legislation pledged by both political parties.

VICTIM TO FACE AXE SUSPECTS

Night Patrol Guards City Against Killer

OMAHA, Nov. 21. (AP)—Hundreds of police, reinforced by volunteers and bloodhounds, continued the apparently unsuccessful search for Omaha's "hatchet slayer" today. Fifteen negro suspects were under arrest, but police doubted the man sought was among the group.

An all night patrol with hundreds assisting the police will be maintained throughout the city again tonight.

The 15 suspects, with any that might be picked up during the night, will be taken before Mrs. Harold Stribling tomorrow for identification. Mrs. Stribling, recovering from a blow on the head from the slayer's hatchet, was kept prisoner by the young negro for three hours early Tuesday and said she was positive she could identify him.

Her husband, whose skull was crushed in four places by the slayer, was operated on today to relieve the pressure on his brain. His condition was reported "serious."

An effort to trail the "hatchet man" with bloodhounds failed. They were taken to the Stribling home and to where the negro released Mrs. Stribling after compelling her to accompany him. They followed numerous scents, none valuable.

Rewards totaling $1,775 were offered for the apprehension of the slayer who was believed to have killed an aged man and two young women here since Sunday.

Reports were received from many sections of the city during the day that the negro had been seen but each clue proved false.

Dr. George W. Truett Named In Damage Suit

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP)—Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church here, and head of the Southern Baptist convention, and Mrs. Truett were named co-defendants in a suit for $22,125 damages filed today by Fred Webster, a motorcycle delivery boy.

Webster charged he was injured Oct. 10 when struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Truett. He charged that Mrs. Truett was driving at a high rate of speed.

Investigation Of Death Of Druggist Dropped

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Nov. 21. (AP)—An investigation into the shooting of Ed Molloy, 48, Ferris druggist, who was found wounded fatally in his store yesterday, was dropped today after a daughter of the dead man disclosed she was in the store when the shooting occurred.

Molloy just had mixed her a drink at the fountain, she said, when he went behind the prescription case and a shot was fired.

SPECIAL TRAIN MEMBERS TO HONOR LEADER

Good Will Travelers To Pay Tribute at Rites For Bradley

LIVED HERE 20 YEARS

Owner of North Texas Furniture Co. Active In Civic Life

Members of Wichita Falls' good will expedition to the South Plains, along with hundreds of other Wichitans, will pay a last tribute to their leader and fellow member when funeral services are held probably Friday or Saturday for John W. Bradley, beloved figure in many of the civic and business enterprises of Wichita Falls.

Owner of the North Texas Furniture company, a leading church member, Mason, Rotarian, chamber of commerce worker and civic builder, Mr. Bradley died in his berth on the Wichita Falls special train at Plainview at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. He had just retired after joining others in Wichita Falls' participation in a day and night of joyous celebration at the opening of the new Denver and South Plains railroad.

Tour Cancelled

Members of the expedition immediately cancelled the remainder of the tour, which was to have extended west to Dimmitt and south to Lubbock. Gay pennants, hat bands and souvenirs of the expedition were discarded by common consent, and the men organized by Mr. Bradley as chairman of the chamber of commerce trade trip committee turned sorrowfully homeward with the body of their leader.

Officials of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad cleared the line for the special, and it arrived in Wichita Falls shortly after 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. The train was met by several hundred Wichita Falls residents. Members of the good will tour with bared heads formed a circle around the door of the train as the body was removed to a waiting funeral car by the Merkle undertaking company.

Complained of Pains

According to those with Mr. Bradley during the hours immediately preceding his death, he had apparently been in fine health and spirits during the early part of the night. He walked back to the train from the banquet at Plainview city auditorium, and retired to his berth shortly after midnight. Shortly before 1 o'clock Wednesday morning he complained of severe pains in his stomach, and friends immediately sought medical aid. As R. E. Shepherd and Harry Gray, two of the dozen who gave aid to the stricken man, entered the car with a Plainview physician, Mr. Bradley slumped back into his berth. Death came almost immediately, the physician said, although efforts to revive him were continued for some time. No definite cause for the tragedy could be assigned by the attending physician.

As news of the death became known in Wichita Falls Wednesday, many of his friends paid tribute to his service here as a business man and as a citizen. The

DONLEY VOTES BONDS DOWN

$1,000,000 Issue Beaten Overwhelmingly

Special to The Record News.

CLARENDON, Texas, Nov. 21.—Donley county's $1,000,000 road bond issue was defeated by the voters today but proponents of the road improvement program announced that efforts will be made immediately to have the issue voted upon again.

Four boxes containing about three-fourths of the county's voting strength reported tonight that they had gone 350 for the issue and 691 against. These boxes are located in Clarendon, Hedley and Lelia Lake. The heaviest vote against the issue was at Hedley. The unreported boxes do not poll enough votes to alter the outcome of the election.

Had the issue been passed, the proceeds from the bonds were to have been expended in paving all designated highways in the county. Definite plans for submitting the issue again for the voters had not been made tonight.

Federation of Labor Condemns Disaster

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21. (US)—The sinking of the Vestris "was plainly a disregard for safety regulation and laws, by two governments" and should be subject of a "searching investigation," according to two resolutions suggested by the American Federation of Labor convention delegates today.

MAN SUCCUMBS AFTER ELECTRA ROAD ACCIDENT

D. P. Beaty Hit By Auto; Negro Is Questioned But Released

RANCHER IS KILLED

Clay County Hunter Shot To Death By Accidental Fire of Gun

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Nov. 21.—D. P. Beaty, about 65, of 1320 Harrison street, Wichita Falls, died in the Parmley-Ogden hospital here late today from injuries received when he was struck by an automobile while walking on the pavement about one-half mile west of the city early this morning.

Mr. Beaty, officers said, was struck by a car driven by a negro, and from accounts received by police the accident was unavoidable. Mr. Beaty sustained a crushed leg, which was amputated at the hospital in an operation performed immediately after he was rushed there by an ambulance.

His condition grew worse during the day, resulting in death about 6:30 o'clock this evening.

Negro Questioned

The negro driving the car was taken in custody by a member of the police department, according to Chief of Police J. T. Taylor, and later was turned over to Constable L. S. Tinnin for questioning. Following this he was released.

The negro's account of the accident quoted by officers, was that Beaty, walking along the side of the road stepped from the pavement to allow a car approaching from behind to pass, and then stepped back to the pavement, unaware of the approach of a second car. The second car struck him, despite efforts of the driver to avoid a collision, the negro told officers.

Following the death of Mr. Beaty Tuesday night, Constable Tinnin said the negro would be questioned further.

Was Returning Home

Mr. Beaty was night watchman for the Texas Pipe Line company at Electra, and resided most of the week at a lodging on the lease, returning to Wichita Falls about once a week to visit his family. He was en route to town to catch a bus to Wichita Falls when the accident occurred.

The body was placed in charge of the local undertaking company tonight awaiting funeral arrangements.

WIDOW AND FOUR CHILDREN SURVIVE

D. P. Beaty, who died of injuries received in an automobile accident at Electra Tuesday morning, is survived by his widow and four children, Marie, 19, Winnie Beth, 11, Curtis, 21 and Thomas 16. Curtis Beaty is a student at the University of Texas, Austin, and he was notified Wednesday of his father's death. The other children live here.

Funeral arrangements had not been arranged Wednesday night.

RITES THURSDAY FOR VICTIM OF ACCIDENTAL GUN FIRE

Special to The Record News

HENRIETTA, Nov. 21.—Funeral services for Henry Williams, 28-year-old rancher who died late Tuesday from the accidental discharge of his own gun, will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Christian church at Henrietta.

Williams' body was discovered caught in a barbed wire fence about one mile from his home near Joly when members of his family became alarmed at his failure to return from a hunt Tuesday. His shot gun had been discharged into his right temple. A verdict of accidental death was returned by Clay Coleman, Clay county justice of the peace, after an inquest Wednesday.

The body was taken to the Moore Undertaking parlors in Henrietta. Burial will be in Henrietta.

Williams is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams, pioneer Clay county settlers, two sisters, Mrs. J. C. Miller of Thornberry and Mrs. H. J. Woodward of Jolly; two half-brothers, James Carter of Jolly, Wallace Carter of Wichita Falls, and a half-sister, Mrs. Jennie Carter of Denton.

Relief Work Follows Receding Flood Water

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 21 (UP)—Flood waters were rapidly receding tonight in the flood sections of Missouri and Kansas while the Red Cross, Salvation Army and other relief organizations went about their work of administering to the needy and taking toll of damages in those places where havoc was played by the rushing muddy waters of one of the worst floods in the history of the two states. Tonight the list of lives lost still remained at 14.

Three-State Search For Two School Girls and Escorts Centers Here

Wichita Falls was made the crux of a three-state search for two young girls and two boys Wednesday morning.

On advices from officials at El Dorado, Ark., local police immediately started a citywide search for Jeanette O'Brien, 14, and Marjorie Crowder, 12, who have been missing from the Arkansas town since the noon recess of school Tuesday.

Detectives Daves and McKelvie were assigned to the case, and the rooming houses and garages of the city have been checked and the word has been sent out to be on the lookout for the children.

Whether the girls have relatives in this city or district was not indicated either in the message the police received or in the news service dispatches to The Record News.

According to a United Press dispatch received Wednesday night, the girls got into an automobile with two young men during the noon recess period Tuesday and nothing was thought of it until the girls failed to return home after school. One of the missing girls had given a note to a schoolmate to be delivered to her mother. The note read: "We are going to Wichita Falls, Texas."

Police here say that their advices from the El Dorado authorities indicated that the girls had said they were going to join a carnival company.

Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas authorities have been asked to assist in the search, but up to a late hour Wednesday night nothing had been learned.

Student Flier's Desire to Do Fancy Stunts Held Cause of Fatal Crash

DALLAS, Nov. 21 (UP)—A desire to emulate a stunt flyer who was at Love field here last week is believed to have caused the instant death late today of J. D. Fisher, about 22, student pilot, who crashed to the ground with his plane when it failed to come out of a loop. Friends of Fisher said that he was the son of a California minister.

Fisher had expressed his desire to do fancy flying since the visit of the stunt flyer, friends said. He had 30 hours flying to his credit, 15 of which had been spent in solo flights.

Officials at the field said that the tragedy today was the first accident on the field which had proved fatal for a student on the flying school there.

Records at the field show that Fisher came to the Dallas airport about 10 weeks ago from Nevada, where he had been in the employ of the Union Pacific railroad.

Fisher apparently lost control of his Curtiss JN4 when he had it on its back at the top of the loop and was never able to straighten the ship out again, witnesses to the crash said.

1,000 ATTEND 'STARS' SHOW

Young Art Pupils Presented At Auditorium

(By The Record News Critic)

A thousand Wichitans enjoyed "Stars of the Future" Wednesday night as they watched a children's revue at the Memorial auditorium. The show was given under the auspices of the Loyal Order of Mosse as a benefit for Mooseheart, the national orphanage of the Moose lodge.

Tiny tots four years old, and older boys and girls of 15 were seen or heard in musical, dance, speaking or acting numbers. Each and every act received generous applause.

Following the title of the revue, the show presented the youngsters of the city who are studying some particular art. The teachers of the schools personally directed their own pupils, and Alec Ross directed the entire show.

One number, not originally announced or on the program, was Charlotte Sutton in "Tia Juana Peg" a Spanish-Indian dance. This number, "Behind the Scenes," a comedy skit by the Tucker school pupils, and Betsy Bain in an acrobatic toe dance were especially well received by the audience.

The Lions Club Boys band under the direction of Leo Underwood opened the evening's entertainment. Other numbers, outside of those mentioned, were:

Al Jolson as per Mr. Keith, pupil of Mrs. Pitman.

Ukulele Cuties, pupils of Pitman School of Arts.

Song, Lois Merle Daubert, pupil of Tucker School of Arts.

Harmonic King, Sonny Davis.

"The Story Book Ball," by pupils of Mathis School of Expression.

"The Nymph"—Elizabeth Garfield.

Tap Dance, Faith Galmische, pupil of Tucker School of Arts.

"On the Garden Shay"—A musical tab, by pupils of Elizabeth Howell.

Piano Solo, "The Brooklet"—Marguerete Ovise, pupil of Tucker School of Arts.

"School Days," by Ellen Wolf and Fay Humphries, pupils of Pitman School of Arts.

Jazz Dance, Phillis Seeds, pupil of Elizabeth Howell.

"Winning Ways of Grandma Days," pupils of Ella Merle Methis.

"Just Two Kids Trying to Get Along"—Mary Tom Fuqua and Mabel Johnson.

"Sidewalks of New York"—Ruth Finley, pupil of Elizabeth Howell.

Cornet Solo, by the youngest cornet player in the world, pupil of Lee Underwood.

The Queen Comedians—Marjorie Fay Hoendschidt, pupil of Mrs. Pitman.

Violin Solo—William Luther Donnell, pupil of Ethel Allen Nelson.

"Roma"—Evelyn Jane Hawkins from Howell Studios.

ANOTHER WICHITA WOMAN INDORSES ORGATONE

"It's Simply Amazing How Quickly This New Medicine Brought Me Relief," Says Mrs. Martin.

All over town people are now discussing Orgatone, the remarkable new medicine that is selling so rapidly at Allison's Drug store.

Amazing reports of gratifying results after taking the treatment are being reported daily as new tests of its remarkable health building powers are made and the medicine is the talk of the town.

As an instance of the enthusiastic praise for Orgatone now heard from people in every walk of life, the following from Mrs. Della Martin, 2405 Colquitt avenue, Wichita Falls, Texas, is given just as she tells it. She says:

"There are no ifs and ands about it, this Orgatone does the work. Why, it is positively amazing to me how quickly it brought me relief almost after the first dose. It is as different from other medicines as day light is from dark.

"I had been suffering misery for 15 years with my stomach. Every thing I would eat would just lay heavy on my stomach without digesting it. Then the food would sour and form gas until I was simply miserable from bloating.

"It was just agony for me after every meal and I felt weak and sluggish all the time. My stomach pained me all the time and I was worried continually about my condition. I was just about disgusted with taking medicine, for nothing seemed to help me and I thought my case was hopeless, but somehow, I decided to try Orgatone, when I heard everybody praising it so much.

"Well, sir, they haven't said half enough for this medicine. I have only taken one bottle so far, but it sure has fixed me up. All my stomach and indigestion troubles have disappeared and I feel like a new woman.

"I eat anything I want. It all tastes good and don't hurt me a particle. No more bloating or gas and no sign of a pain anywhere now. In fact, I just feel good all over all the time now.

"I'll boost Orgatone the longest day I live and I only wish I could find words to express my gratitude for what this wonderful medicine has done for me."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by Allison's Drug store, 716 Indiana avenue. Out-of-town customers are being supplied all charges prepaid upon receipt of price, one bottle $1.25 or six bottles $6.25.—Adv.

Queer Happenings in House of Gloom Linked With Brutal Murder of Baby

HOUSTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Officers and undercover agents tonight were attempting to work up evidence uncovered during the day to trap the slayer of a baby girl whose dismembered body was discovered here yesterday.

The attention of the investigators was turned from the pool in which the lard can containing the body was found to a house located on the bayou's edge and hidden in a tangle of vines and thicket.

Neighbors, although avoiding the two story frame structure which now is vacant, have noticed queer happenings there for more than six months, they told officers.

Investigators found that birdshot had been fired into the house, breaking some of the windows. New screens on the gloomy residence, however, which was posted against trespassers, contained no bullet holes.

Although officers kept their movements secret, it was learned that a young woman and child about the same age as the one brutally killed recently disappeared from the neighborhood near the bayou. The woman was last seen without the child a few days ago, it was said.

Red Cross Workers to Make First Report Today on Annual Drive

The first financial reports on the $7,000 annual roll call in Wichita Falls of the American Red Cross will be available Thursday, according to an announcement made Wednesday night by Mrs. T. B. Smith, executive secretary of the organization here.

Early Thursday morning 10 women from each of the Parent-Teacher associations of the city will meet in the drive headquarters, the office of Walter S. Curlee in the Perkins-Snider building. Under the leadership of Mrs. T. H. Lawson they will solicit the downtown and neighborhood business districts.

Group enrollments from corporations, stores, refineries and other places where many persons are centered, are continuing, and these enrollments are now being gathered together for return to the office. This work will be completed Friday night.

The number of persons bringing in their subscriptions to the office in the Perkins-Snider building increased Wednesday over other days, and Mrs. Smith urged that all who can possibly bring in their subscriptions to the office, do so at once.

Bradley Rites Wait Relatives

Optimist club cancelled its regular program, and devoted its period to tributes to the memory of Mr. Bradley, and resolutions deploring his death.

Relatives Awaited

The exact time for funeral services had not been completed Wednesday night, pending the arrival in Wichita Falls of members of the family.

More than 200 people met the train when it returned to Wichita Falls Wednesday. The body was taken to the Merkle undertaking parlors where it will be held until the funeral services which probably will be held Friday or Saturday.

The Wichita Falls lodge No. 635 A. F. and A. M., of which Mr. Bradley was an active member, probably will take part in the funeral services.

Mr. Bradley was one of the most active civic leaders of Wichita Falls during the last 20 years, being one of the foremost promoters in the construction of the First Christian and Highland Heights Christian churches, the junior college, and the Memorial auditorium. He was also interested in promoting the Boy Scout and Camp Fire Girl and Community chest activities in Wichita Falls.

He was born in Rochester, Minn., in 1875 and moved to Fort Worth in 1896 where he was associated with the Fakes Furniture company for 10 years. He moved to Wichita Falls in 1908 and purchased an interest in the North Texas Furniture company. Two years later he became sole owner of the establishment.

Active Lodge Member

Mr. Bradley was an active member of the Wichita Falls lodge No. 635 A. F. and A. M.; the Wichita Falls chapter No. 202 R. A. M.; the Wichita Falls council No. 140 R. and S. M.; the Wichita Falls Commandry No. 59 K. T. and the Maskat temple shrine.

He was a past president of the Texas Retail Furniture association and an executive member of the National Retail Furniture association.

Among the last public services rendered by Mr. Bradley was in October, when he served as foreman of the jury of the 30th district court.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Dr. J. W. Bradley of Rochester, Minn., one daughter, Miss Harriet Bradley, attending school in San Antonio; one brother, W. J. Bradley of Butte, Mont., and a sister, Mrs. N. R. Lyon of Rochester, Minn.

Optimists' Resolutions

Text of the resolutions passed by the Optimist club Wednesday follows:

"Whereas death has called one of the finest, bravest and most distinguished citizens of Wichita Falls in the person of John W. Bradley, whose life has abounded in joy and has been an inspiration to the club, social, business and church life of this city;

"And whereas we feel that the memory of his life and his cheerful disposition, like the rays of the setting sun, will linger long after he has gone, and we feel that with regard to him it is particularly true that

"'While yet in love with life and raptured with the world, he passed to silence and pathetic dust. And yet it may be best, just in the happiest, sunniest hour of all the voyage, when eager winds are kissing every sail, to dash against the unseen rock and in a moment hear the billows roar above a sunken ship'

"Therefore be it resolved that this club and we, its members as his friends, express to his family and loved ones our sorrow and deepest sympathy in this their darkest hour, and deplore the loss to this city of one of its most outstanding citizens."

Continental Wins Supreme Court Approval in Filling Station Row

Litigation involving the construction of a Continental Oil company filling station at Eleventh and Brook streets took another turn Wednesday, when the supreme court granted a writ of error calling for a rehearing of the injunction suit brought by the city of Wichita Falls, which sought to prevent the erection of the structure.

The city over a year ago brought suit for an injunction at the insistence of citizens who complained of the encroachment of business concerns on residential districts. The injunction at first was denied in a ruling by District Judges P. A. Martion, W. W. Cook and E. G. Thornton, and the station was built for the oil company by Charles Bailkowski, contractor.

Meanwhile, however, an appeal had been forwarded to the court of civil appeals, which later granted the injunction calling for the protection of sections of the city devoted to residences.

The supreme court ruling Wednesday revokes this ruling, favoring the oil company, and calls for a new hearing of the case.

ARTIST DRAWS NEAR 'IDEAL'

Violinist Coming Here Was 'Stage Presence'

The personality of Francis Macmillen, the distinguished American violinist, who will be heard in recital at the Memorial auditorium Friday night, and in a special children's matinee at 3:15 p. m., always has been a cause for much praise during his career.

"Macmillen the impetuous," "the courtly Macmillen," "the man who knows how to make a stage bow," "perfect stage presence," "the ideal virtuoso," "charming personality," are a few of the comments gleaned from recent newspaper reviews.

Attracts Crowds

Macmillen has a wide circle of personal friends who are familiar with his charming personality and exceptional stage presence about which the critics remark. This distinguished characteristic, no doubt, has been valuable in focusing great public attention on the career of this artist, and perhaps it is responsible in a considerable degree for his natural ability to attract large audiences throughout the world.

Many artists belong to that reticent company who are unbending in their dignity and sombre in their aspect, but Macmillen has established a vogue, which might be termed American, of meeting his public half-way, by bowing to them in the courtly and affable manner for which several of his American reviewers have commended him.

Ideal Virtuoso

Macmillen in appearance is the ideal virtuoso. He has grown to "look the part", the typical violinist. It is an interesting anecdote that the late Lady Gene Palmer of London, while conversing one time with Macmillen and Wilhelm Bachaus (German pianist of renown) turned to Mr. Bachaus and said: "You look like a piano" Then, addressing Mr. Macmillen, said: "And you look like a violin."

That Macmillen looks his part and acts his part on the stage is effectively stated by Blanche Furth Ullman, musical reviewer of the St. Louis Star. She said: "A simple and unaffected manner of playing, a slim and elegant figure, sensitive features lighted by a remarkable pair of fiery, deep-set eyes, make Francis Macmillen a most interesting recitalist."

Epworth League To Meet Saturday

Preparations are being made at the Floral Heights Methodist church for an attendance of 200 young people at the banquet Saturday night at 7 o'clock which will mark the opening of the district meeting of Epworth leagues in Wichita, Clay and Archer counties.

It was estimated by Ira B. Lynn, secretary of the district organization, that at least 100 out of town members would be present for the conference which concludes Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All sessions of the conference will be held in the Floral Heights Methodist church. The visiting delegates will be entertained in the homes of local people. The Saturday evening banquet will be served by the two senior Epworth leagues of the church in which the meetings will be held.

The complete program follows:

Saturday, 7:00 p. m., banquet; toastmaster, Glenn Haynes; address of welcome, Lemuel Parks; response, Rev. Ben Bell, pastor Sibley-Taylor Methodist church; address, Dr. Ed R. Bareus, pastor Floral Heights Methodist church.

Sunday, 9:30 a. m., missionary study, lead by M. C. Cartwright of Greenville, Texas; 11:00 a. m., sermon by Dr. Ed R. Barcus; 2:30 p. m., devotional lead by Lester F. Aldrich; 3:00 p. m. address, Rev. W. B. Swim, pastor Methodist church of Bellevue, Texas; 3:30 p. m., talk on first department Epworth league work by Miss Mary Lee Rann; 3:45 p. m., talk on second department Epworth league work by Mr. A. H. Kass; 4:00 p. m., business session.

C. C. Donaldson, president of the district league, will preside at the business session which will close the conference.

BULL THROWS SWORD INJURING SPECTATOR

MEXICO CITY. (AP)—A curious accident occurred at a recent bull fight here, in which a spectator was seriously injured. When the matador endeavored to drive his sword into the nape of the bull's neck for the kill, the animal hurled the weapon from him with such force that it sailed into the body of the spectator.

HOW TO FIGHT EXCESS FAT

There are hard ways, like starvation, but fewer and fewer employ them. There is a pleasant way, modern and scientific, which combats the cause. A vast number of people now use it. And the slender figures now seen everywhere are largely due to that.

That method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everybody, in almost every circle, sees the change. New beauty, new health, new vitality.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Learn the facts about Marmola, because of the good it has done. Ask your druggist—now—for a $1 box with the book. Then decide.

Firm Pays $25,000 For Turkey Crop

With approximately half of their annual crop of turkeys now assembled and packed, the Peoples Produce company, 102 Pecan street, reported Wednesday the shipment of about 5600 dressed turkeys, comprising a total of 70,000 pounds, in four cars billed to New York city.

H. Knaust, proprietor of the poultry concern, stated the turkeys generally this year were of much better class than in the past. The shipments to the East did not comprise the entire output of the Peoples Produce, he said, local dealers and individuals accounting for a large number of the Thanksgiving birds.

A price of 30 cents per pound to farmers was maintained, showing a total of about $25,000 paid by this concern to turkey raisers.

STOCK BULLS RECEIVE JOLT

Selling Hurricane Checks Upward Trend

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—A hurricane of selling orders struck the stock market with terrific force late today, checking the "bull" movement which has been moving along with considerable violence since election day. Although "bull" forces staged a moderate recovery from the low levels, final quotations disclosed a long list of net declines ranging from $1 to $5 a share, and a few specialties down $7 to $30 a share.

Total sales crossed the 6,000,000 share mark for the third time but were well below the record of 6,811,900 shares established yesterday.

Because of the delay of more than an hour in the stock ticker and the fact that the brunt of the selling took place in the last half hour of trading, the market was over before most traders learned the reaction had taken place although rumblings of it became apparent in mid-afternoon. The final quotation was printed one hour and 48 minutes after the close.

Beginning tomorrow, all sales volume of individual transactions, except at the opening, will be dropped from the ticker in the hope of greatly expediting the printing of quotations.

Sale of a New York stock exchange seat was arranged today at the record-breaking price of $525,000, an increase of $30,000 above the previous record established a few days ago. The identity of the purchaser was not revealed.

Police Arrest Man For Forging Checks

A man alleged to have forged the names of Wichita Falls residents on more than a half dozen checks at local business establishments Wednesday was arrested Wednesday night by L. N. McKelvey and N. Daves, city officers.

The man was picked up in the downtown section Wednesday night and was lodged in the city jail on "investigation" charges.

PIMPLES DRY UP AND GO AWAY

Eczema Relieved Quick and Skin "Cleared Up" With Wonderful Medicated Ointment That Works Like Magic

Here's a message to girls and boys, between the ages of 14 and 20 years, whose faces are covered with pimples, rashes and other ugly skin eruptions. It makes no difference whatever, how long you have been tortured with these unsightly blemishes or how many things you have tried to get rid of them, if you will simply follow these instructions you will be amazed and delighted to see how quickly your face will clear up and how easily you can get rid of pimples, eczema and blotches.

Go to the nearest drug store and get a jar of Heiskell's Ointment. At the same time get a cake of Heiskell's Medicated Soap. Before you go to bed tonight wash your face or the affected part with the soap and apply the Ointment. Do this night and morning for a few days and let your mirror tell you the delightful story. You have never used anything to compare with this combination treatment that is so effective in drying up pimples and leaving your skin in a healthy, clear, giving condition.—Advt.

Fight for Late Czar's Millions Turns To Chase for Phantom Fortune

By WILLIAM HILLMAN
(Copyright, 1928, by Universal Service)

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—The fight for the $160,000,000 supposed to have been deposited by the late Czar Nicholas in the vaults of an English bank, and for which Madame Tschalkowsky, championed by Mrs. William B. Leeds (the former Princess Xenia of Greece) has made claim, has become a chase for a phantom fortune.

There is no such fortune. The czar's millions were withdrawn from England years ago by the last imperial ruler of Russia himself and the recent international intrigues for their possession have been chimerical adventures. This is on the authority of Baron von Buxhaveden, steward to the late czar, former imperial ambassador to Copenhagen, and confidant of the dowager, Czarina Maria Feodorovna, who died recently in Copenhagen.

No Fortune There

Even if Madame Tschalkowsky is able to establish legal claim to the imperial fortune as the sole survivor of the tragedy which wiped out the family of Czar Nicholas, there are no millions to collect.

The original imperial fortune—one million thaler—was deposted in London by Peter the Great and grew to 160,000,000 thaler in recent years. The legal clauses under which the money was deposited have always been kept a closely guarded secret, but it was known to intimate friends of the czar that the fortune was deposited in the name of the "reigning" czar, whether of the Romanoff or any other dynasty.

The fear that this fortune might fall into the hands of another dynasty at the outbreak of the first Russian revolution, caused Czar Nicholas to withdraw the fortune from England in the spring of 1905. Czar Nicholas, according to Baron von Buxhaveden, confided to his adjutant, Prince Obolensky, that he had brought the money back to Russia, leaving only a small sum in England.

Rebuilt Fleet

The czar used the fortune to help upbuild the Russian fleet, which suffered badly in the Russo-Japanese war. The small sum left in England was believed to be a "colossal" sum. When the Grand Duchess Olga, sister of the czar, and now the wife of Capt. Nicholas Kulikowsky, applied for the fortune all she was able to get was $400.

Absolutely the final remainder of the czar's millions was paid not long ago to the dowager, Maria, who died in Copenhagen two months ago. This was equivalent to about $20.

MORE JEWEL PLOT ARRESTS

Agents Hope to Break Up Smuggling Ring

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (UP)—United States treasury agents believed today they were close to more arrests in a gigantic plot to smuggle diamonds into this country from Europe.

They already have arrested four persons, have the name of their alleged confederate overseas and claim to have enough confession material with which to convict on charges of "conspiracy against the United States government."

According to their information, the family of Morris Landau, John street jeweler, got an idea. It was this: Why should he pay 20 per cent duty on diamonds when he could escape such duty by a few small bribes?

Then, the agents say, his son, Sidney Landau, went to Antwerp, Belgium, to buy diamonds. Sidney took them to England, duty free. There, posing as "L. Steele," he allegedly handed them to William Ballyn, chief steward of the Cunard liner Berengaria.

No one would suspect Ballyn. He was a good churchman, handsome, with a good voice. He had organized a Berengaria choir.

Ballyn's job, the agents assert, was to hide the diamonds in his stateroom and when the vessel reached New York, hand them to Patrolman John T. McIntyre who in turn was to deliver them to Landau.

AGENTS SEARCH SHIP FUTILELY

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (UP)—Four special agents of the United States treasury boarded the incoming liner Olympic at quarantine today, brushed past passengers on a dead run, scoured through cabins, and left disappointed, when the ship pulled into its docks.

The agents, including two newly arrived from Washington, were believed to have sought four men they could not find.

It was believed their visit may have been in connection with a diamond smuggling plot in which four persons already have been arrested.

Prince to Pay For African Trip

LONDON, Nov. 21. (US)—The $35,000 necessary for the financing of his African tour will come out of the Prince of Wales' own private pocket, it was learned here today.

Although acting as Britain's ambassador to the African colonies of the empire, the heir to the throne will bear the entire expenses of the trip himself. He is touring Africa in company with his brother, the Duke of Gloucester, and will not be back to London until early in the spring.

According to estimates here, the Prince's expenses include the following items: Traveling expenses, $7,500; special equipment, $3,000; transport, bearers and beaters, $3,000; entertainment, $2,000; gratuities, $3,000; camp provisions, $3,000; taxidermists, $3,500.

Coincident with this disclosure, it was learned that the Prince had sub-let his hunting quarters at Melton Mowbray, although they had been redecorated for his own occupancy. It was indicated that this was done as a means of meeting the increased demands on his own financial resources.

German Scientist Relates Strange Process

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 21. (INS)—Science is turning coal into rubber.

Dr. Fritz Hofmann of Breslau, widely known German scientist, today told more than 2,000 of the world's leading technicians at the second international conference on bituminous coal of the involved processes whereby coal may be manufactured into synthetic rubber.

During the war, according to Dr. Hofmann, when the central powers found themselves cut off from the importation of vegetable rubber, their scientists manufactured 2,500 tons of methol rubber as a substitute.

"Coal is no longer exclusively a fuel," Dr. Hofmann said. "The organic chemical industry with its artificial dyestuffs, its synthetic medicinal drugs, artificial sweetening agents, perfumes and pootographic developers is based on the by-products of the refinement of coal."

Process Outlined

The complicated process of manufacture of artificial rubber was outlined to the scientists by Dr. Hofmann, who pointed out that the process starts with the transformation of coal into coke calcium carbide and acetylene. Then through numerous chemical stages the decompositition leads finally to highly volattile, colorless liquid hydrocarbons, the butadines which thicken gradually on being heated, into substance similar to rubber.

Experimentation now under way may perfect the product to a state where it will show the marked resistance to nicking, fiber, elasticity, and resistance to exterior influence, he said.

Coal cleaning problems were discussed by Dr. Earl Glintz, professor of the Technical institute, Berlin, who discussed the corrolations between the chemical and physical constituents in the product and discussed the utilization of coal.

Methods of Cleaning

He went into technical detail on practical methods of cleaning lump, fine and sludge coal, the separation of fusian from coking coal, dewatering, removal of clay and drying of fine coal. He also discussed the importance of flotation and the value of using split-screens

Dr. R. Lessing of London was the author of a paper on coal cleaning utilizing a method of separation of specific gravity.

F. P. Sperr Jr., director of research for Koppers company, Pittsburgh, spoke on gas purification in relation to coal sulphur, while C. J. Jefferson of the United States Shipping board, Commander J. J. Broshek, U. S. N., of Philadelphia and Dr. I. P. Goossens of Aachen, Germany, presented papers on pulverized fuel.

Fertilizers were discussed in papers prepared by Rudolf Battig of Westphalia, Germany and Jean Desmors of Paris while in the afternoon, low temperature distillation, power and combustion, liquefaction and general discussions held the scientists' interest.

Rate Equalizing Order Is Upheld

AUSTIN, Nov. 21. (AP)—The state railroad commission order equalizing carload sugar and molasses rates from Houston and the gulf ports of Galveston, Texas City, Beaumont and Port Arthur, was upheld today by District Judge George Calhoun in a decision denying an injunction sought by Houston interests against enforcement of the order.

Judge Calhoun said it was within the discretion of the commission to make the order and the courts could not intervene unless flagrant injustice and discrimination were shown. Houston has no vested right to attack a rate merely because of its advantage of location further inland and the railroads' claimed loss of $30,000 to $40,000 a year did not give sufficient ground for disturbing the commission's order, the court held. Interstate commerce is not affected by the rate grouping as alleged, he said, and the commission has power to make rate groups.

Under the order the gulf ports can ship to interior Texas points for rates not more than Houston's.

Lindy's 'Betrothal' Declared False

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 21. (INS)—There is neither a betrothal nor any understanding between Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Miss Elizabeth Morrow, daughter of U. S. Ambassador Dwight Morrow, it was declared in circles close to the American embassy this afternoon.

Ambassador Morrow showed irritation over the repeated linking of his daughter's name with that of Colonel Lindbergh and refused to discuss the reported engagement at all.

During his 10-day visit here Colonel Lindbergh has often been seen with Mrs. Morrow and her younger daughter, Miss Anne. The airman twice visited the Morrow country home at Cuernavca.

Colonel Lindbergh said if weather conditions permitted he would hop off for Tampico to do a little lion hunting in the Huasteca jungles before leaving for New York. Bad weather prevented his flight yesterday.

GREEK SHIP IN TOW

LONDON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The owners and agents of the Greek steamer Alexandra, reported in distress off the Azores yesterday, have telegraphed Lloyds they received a message from the ship stating she was picked up by the American steamship McKeesport and was being towed to Horta today.

Sage Tea Dandy to Darken Hair
By DOROTHY LANG

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. It costs only 75 cents. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well known druggist, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.
Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.
This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Adv.

Ladies, Ladies, Ladies, I Like 'Em All Says Famed Bachelor Lipton

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 21. (US)—Sir Thomas Lipton has lots of hobbies besides tea and yachts.

But they are all the same kind—all ladies.

That is the reason he is a bachelor, he said today.

"I like 'em all," he said. "I couldn't seem to choose among them so I didn't choose at all."

Besides, Sir Thomas has another reason for confining his affections to "ladies of the sea"—his yachts.

It was his mother.

In a reminiscent mood, the big, gruff Irishman who is known throughout the world for his success as a tea magnate and his sportsmanship as a yachtsman, took an old daguerreotype of his "one love" from his dressing table and told huskily how he had never found another like the sweetfaced lassie there portrayed in garb of the early '60's.

"It wasn't only the pancakes she used to fry, and the pies she used to bake, it was the sweetness and wisdom of her," he said. "Never a time did I go to her in trouble that she didn't help me.

"'Course she's gone now, but I had gotten somewhere near the top before she died, thank heaven, and I repaid her a little. I used to tell her she could have a dozen fine carriages if she wanted 'em, but she never wanted much, more's the pity," he went on.

Mother Slays Two Sets of Twins In Fear of Her Husband's Threat

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 21. (INS)—Mrs. Anna Hlatky of Monessen, on trial in criminal court here charged with the murder of two sets of newly born twins, smothered the four babies because of fear that her husband would kill her, it was testified by Dr. M. E. Griffith, commonwealth witness and physician to the woman, this afternoon.

Dr. Griffith said the woman voluntarily told him that her husband threatened to kill her if any more babies were born to her alive. This is the first time in the case that the commonwealth has revealed the method by which it believes the children met death. The admission was made in Monogahela hospital, the physician said.

Pro-Liquor Addict on Whoopee Signs Name Herbert Hoover

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 21. (US)—Mothers in Uncle Sam's domain have become addicted to naming their new born offsprings for Herbert Hoover, but it remained for a man charged with intoxication to use the president-elect's name on the police blotter.

"What's your name," said the Omaha desk sergeant.

"Sark," answered the prisoner "I'm a good Republican so just make it Herbert Hoover."

And it's that way on the blotter.

Politics Sways Court, Is Claim

ATOKA, Okla., Nov. 21. (AP)—Fearing political reactions, members of the Oklahoma supreme court used their influence to induce withdrawal from the court of O. H. Searcy's contest of the nomination of Edwin Dabney for attorney general, Clark H. Whiteside, Tulsa real estate dealer, declared in a deposition read here today in the trial of a libel suit instituted by Supreme Court Justice J. W. Clark against O. O. Owens, Tulsa legislator, and the Tulsa World.

The suit was based upon a political advertisement, signed by Owens, appearing in the Tulsa newspaper.

Searcy, a Muskogee attorney, filed the suit for a recount in the supreme court when Dabney was declared nominated on the Democratic ticket at the primary election in 1926.

Justice Albert C. Hunt of Tulsa, came to his office soon before the court had handed down an opinion, adverse to Searcy, Whiteside's deposition averred and told him that the court considered that issues raised in the contest created a difficult political situation.

Whiteside alleged that prior to the decision, Justice Hunt told him that members of the court decided that Searcy might be prevailed upon to drop his suit if Henry S. Johnston could be persuaded to agree to appoint Searcy to an important position after Johnston's induction into office as governor.

LABOR WANTS STRICT IMMIGRATION BARRIER

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21. (AP)—Resolutions calling for stricter enforcement of immigration and release of workers serving time in prisons have been submitted to the convention of the American Federation of Labor.

One calls for the release of Thomas Mooney, imprisoned in California for participating in bombing that caused the deaths of several persons.

State Weddings

MAXFIELD-ALDRIDGE
Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 21.—It was not until last Saturday that Tillman county friends learned of the marriage on Nov. 4 of Miss Almeda Aldridge, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Aldridge of five miles north of Frederick, to Nelson Maxfield, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Maxfield, residing six miles south of this city. The ceremony was performed at Hobart by the Baptist pastor. At present the newly-weds are residing with the groom's parents. It is said the Maxfield's will soon move to Vernon, to which place the young married couple will also go.

A slave to
SORE THROAT
—needlessly. Gargle Listerine—
kills germs in 15 seconds
Are you miserable half of the time—a needless slave to sore throat?
At the first sign of sore throat, gargle with Listerine, full strength. Time and time again it checks sore throat before it gets serious.
Because Listerine, full strength, is powerful against germs that cause colds and throat irritation. For example, it kills even the stubborn B. Typhosus (typhoid) germ in 15 seconds. Repeated tests prove it.
You will be delighted to find how quickly Listerine checks ordinary cases of colds and sore throat. When it does not, call your physician.
Our helpful free book, "Personal Hygiene," is worth having. Write to Dept. S-6, Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

—And for COLDS
Countless colds start when germs are carried to the mouth on food. By using Listerine on the hands before every meal, you attack such germs and lessen the risk of cold. Remember this, mothers, when handling baby's food.

NEW BUILDINGS AT FREDERICK

Plans for Several Projects Announced

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 21.—Work began Monday on a 25 by 70-foot brick business building for A. C. Cunningham, prominent farmer from northwest of Frederick, on his lot on North Ninth street across the street from the Press office. R. P. Horne, local contractor, has charge of the work and it is to be completed by Jan. 5. Although several parties have spoken to him in regard to renting the building when completed, up to Monday afternoon he had not leased it.

Charles Brunk, well known Frederick capitalist, will build a filling station on the corner of Dahlia avenue and South Ninth street on the site now occupied by the county scales. The latter will be moved to the rear end of the lots, facing on Dahlia avenue. Work on this is now in progress.

Brunk recently purchased a tract 75 by 150 feet from E. J. Cowen, B. Robey and J. B. Cunningham.

Extensive improvements will be made by C. J. Hubbard on his brick property on West Grand avenue. In addition to a 40-foot addition at the rear which will make the structure 25 by 130 feet, a new edgegrain floor will be laid, the walls will be replastered, a new ceiling installed and a new front put in, with a tile base and nickle-framed plate glass. It has been rented to the C. E. Stone Dry Goods company of Dallas, who will get possession not later than March 1.

A. H. Krause and a crew of men began work a few days ago on a building on South Ninth street to be occupied by the Waurika Creameries, Inc.

Krause has not yet completed the interior of the second floor of the Masonic building on East Main street.

Frederick Legion Banquet Friday

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 21.—Every former service man in Tillman county, together with his wife or sweetheart, is invited and expected to be in attendance at a banquet and program to be given by the John S. Kerr post of the American Legion at its headquarters in Frederick Friday night, Nov. 23. George C. Davis, department commander, and Ted Pettit, department adjutant, both of Oklahoma City, have promised to be present, according to Fred G. McNeeley, post commander. A feature of the meeting will be appropriate songs by the local legion quartet, composed of Dr. J. J. Rogers, Dr. Trevor Longwell, Roy Moss and Frank McGinnis.

It has been the custom of the local post to give a banquet each year in order to increase the membership. It is expected that 300 new members will be added during the drive, which is now in progress. Suitable prizes will be awarded those securing the most points. Up until the meeting last Thursday night Walter Eisener of Tipton was in the lead with 23 new members.

All veterans of the civil war, both Federal and Confederate, together with Spanish-American war veterans, are invited to attend this meeting and banquet together with all other open meetings.

Effort Made to Throw Out Wewoka Ballots

WEWOKA, Okla., Nov. 21. (UP)—An attempt to throw out three Republican boxes in the recent county election here was made today before the election board, lawyers claiming voting was permitted after polling places were scheduled to close.

If attorneys are successful the board would certify J. E. Simpson, Democratic county judge, re-elected over J. S. Seger, Republican, and Joe Potter would win over Allen Crain for sheriff.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RECORDS

SALTILLO, Texas, Nov. 2. (AP)—H. H. Weaver, organizer of the first Sunday school in Mt. Vernon, Texas, 50 years ago, has put forward his claim for another record, that of constant attendance at religious services.

Weaver is authority for the statement that he has missed only three Sunday school services in 57 years. He served as Sunday school superintendent for 50 years and in recognition of his long record was made superintendent emeritus.

New Radio Allocation Praised and Scorned but Caldwell Is Pleased

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (US)—Barring scattered jams in the national broadcasting system, the allocation of wave lengths, power and time-division, set up Nov. 11, has accomplished a "tremendous improvement in long-distance reception," Radio Commissioner O. H. Caldwell declared today.

Ten thousand letters and telegrams from every state have been received by the commission since the allocations were established, many commending the setup, others registering complaints. These letters range from the comment "wonderful" to "go hang a mill-stone around your neck and jump in the nearest creek."

New Plan Praised

"The broad national highways of radio have been cleared and a sound basis established upon which can be built a radio system of maximum service to the public," Caldwell said.

"I note that many of the complaints are registered against the action of the commission in forcing some stations to divide time. For instance such complaints come from St. Louis and Iowa where popular stations have been required to share channels with others. The commission hopes to work out these problems equitably although much time division is absolutely necessary under the law."

Caldwell attributes a considerable portion of the listeners difficulties to the fact that they are not getting their favorite stations on the customary dial point.

"The antennas have been erected in many cases to catch signals of certain stations," Caldwell explained. "It may be necessary for the listeners to rebuild their antennas.

"An ideal arrangement might be to use two antennas, at right angles to each other. In tuning for north or south stations the antenna running in that direction could be used, the other for the east and west stations.

Antenna Trouble

"The listener should experiment with antennas of different length, as frequently too much aerial is employed, while this increases volume, it also brings greater interference.

"It may be found that cutting off the ground of the set will improve reception from certain stations."

There are yet several complicated situations to work out. In Chicago one station, backed by powerful interests, is seeking unlimited time and greater power; four groups in the New York metropolitan area, including one group in nearby Jersey, are fighting for additional broadcasting time; Iowa and St. Louis stations are dissatisfied with time division.

Reports to the commission from the South and Far West apparently are favorable.

TWO WINK MEN THOUGHT DYING

Pair Seriously Wounded In Hotel Shooting

WINK, Texas, Nov. 21. (AP)—Shot while standing in a hotel hallway, two men were near death here today while a third was at liberty under $500 bond, charged with assault with intent to kill.

L. M. Smith, 30, rig builder, was shot through the neck and shoulders. Physicians said he had only a slight chance to recover. M. Angeleisa, 35, rig builder, is dying with a bullet wound in his head.

L. M. Barnwell, formerly of Eldorado, Ark., was charged with assault with intent to kill and released under bond. He said he fired in self defense, and that Smith was not an intended victim but stepped into the line of fire.

The wounded men were unable to make a statement.

Mesdames Gilliland and Felder Entertain With Lovely Autumn Tea

Charming in its grandeur was the formal tea given by Mesdames C. B. Felder and C. W. Gilliland at the home of Mrs. Gilliland, 3000 Harrison avenue, Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The rooms were gorgeously decorated with bronze and gold chrysanthemums. Soft lights prevailed throughout the house adding color and beauty to the scene. The dining table was centered with a huge bowl of chrysanthemums of autumn colors with butterflies resting on the flowers. On each of the four corners of the long table were silver candlesticks tied with bows of gold tulle on which were brightly colored butterflies. Gold tapers were used in the candlesticks. The buffet bore a similar center piece. A refreshment plate, carrying out the bronze and gold color scheme, was served.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mesdames P. P. Langford, T. T. T. Reese, A. D. Bright, and R. D. Kennedy and other members of the house party were Mesdames Hubert Harrison, T. P. Duncan, Mack Thomas, Raymond Gutzler, F. E. Van Warner, W. P. Killingsworth, W. J. Johnson, Otis Nelson, G. D. Anderson, Walter Nelson, J. C. A. Guest, R. H. Hall, Charles R. Hartsook, T. B. SUGAR MAKES EATING A JOY

Why eat unflavored, unappetizing foods?

A change is coming over the well-informed eating ideas of this country. For a time, food faddists tried to make us believe that we had to eat all kinds of things we didn't like in order to be healthy.

Good sense is beginning to assert itself and we now know that the foods that are good for us may also be the most enjoyable. In fact, if we don't like the healthful foods, we probably won't eat them.

Prominent medical and other scientific authorities are now reminding us that appetizing flavors may be developed and improved by sugar. One well-known scientist, for example, states that "fruit flavors are developed by sugar. Fruit acids are softened by sugar."

The only safe rule for a healthful diet is to eat as large a variety of foods as possible, including healthful cereals, fruits and vegetables made appetizing to the taste by the judicious use of sugar. Sugar is not only nutriment in its least costly form. It is Nature's perfect flavor. Sugar develops the appetizing quality of nearly all fruits. Desserts of fresh or cooked fruits are growing more and more popular. Modern candy containing fruits, nuts and pure sugar is delicious and satisfying at the end of a meal.

No one should overeat or underexercise, but everyone, in order to be healthy, should eat plenty of healthful foods and enjoy them. The Sugar Institute.

School and College News

Three speeches by members of the Junior college senate featured the weekly meeting of the organization Tuesday night at the little auditorium.

"Tammany's Policy of Rule or Ruin," by Lem Park held the attention of every member present throughout the speech. Although the speech was directed against the organization, many facts were related that proved of interest to those present.

The next speech, "R. O. T. C.," by Oliver Fudge, former member of the Dallas division, proved the benefits of such an organization.

"World Peace" by Robert Trevathan proved a general review of world conditions today.

Two of the speakers, Lem Park and Robert Trevathan, presented their speeches as admittance examinations in the organization. Both were unanimously elected.

Durwood Park presented a violin solo as a special number. He was accompanied at the piano by Mildred Anderson.

Dr. J. W. Cantwell, city superintendent of schools, has consented to address the senate at the next meeting next Tuesday night on "Prospects For a Four Year College in Wichita Falls."

CHIC CHERIE — Latest Fashions

If Cherie goes to work (as she often thinks she should) what sort of winter clothes should she buy for $200? What do you think? She can imagine herself quite well walking briskly into her office at 9 o'clock wearing a black coat like this one of wool (diagonal weaves are so smart!) trimmed with civet fur.

If she goes to college (as she sometimes thinks she will) she'll have to have a different sort of wardrobe. What should she buy for college with $200? Maybe a coat like this one should be included—it's of a new woolly cloth that looks like beaver fur. Tailored and rough and loose—the perfect topcoat for sports wear.

If Cherie stays at home, of course, she'll want still different clothes. What should she buy then for $200? Perhaps a formal afternoon suit like this one of velvet trimmed with neat, not gaudy, astrakhan would be called for. It has a new silhouette (fitted) which would suit any wardrobe. It's a terribly hard problem.

Will you help her? She's offering three prizes—$50 for the best budget for a college girl, $50 for the best budget for a girl in business, $50 for the best budget for a girl at home. No budget must spend more than $200. Cut the styles from the newspaper ads, make a scrapbook

U. D. C. Annual Report Is Given At Convention

HOUSTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The annual report of the president-general, delivered by Mrs. W. C. N. Merchant, Chatham, Va., drew the greatest interest today at the 35th annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Merchant suggested that the name of Commodore Matthew Fontaine Maury, called the "philosopher of the seas," be included in the 1930 election to the hall of fame and said the claims of Commodore Maury to such recognition would be sent to the electors.

The president recommended that a committee be appointed to revise the constitution of the Children of the Confederacy to make it conform to that of the parent organization.

Mrs. Merchant further recommended that $200 be appropriated from the general treasury for the Stonewall Jackson Memorial fund.

Success has smiled on the efforts of the committee first appointed in 1911 to seek to secure the universal use of the term "war between the states" for the conflict between 1861 and 1865, Mrs. Merchant said.

Book Reviews On Program For Meeting at Forum

Special numbers on the program when the literature department will meet at the Woman's Forum Thursday afternoon will be a review of Ludwig's "Napoleon" by Roy J. Daniel and a review of Wilder's "Bridge of San Luis Rey," given by the Rev. N. F. Grafton. Mr. Daniel has visited scenes of Napoleon's boyhood and his review is expected to be very interesting.

Dues will be taken at this meeting and those having their old membership cards will be admitted to the lectures upon presenting them. Memberships will be forfeited if dues are not paid by Dec. 1. All members of the forum were urged to attend the meeting.

O' These Women

By LEOLA ALLARD

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (US)—Speaking of the advent of fake jewelry for beauty's sake, a pretty little French girl in a smart new perfume shop on Fifty-ninth street, showed the customer a lovely necklace. Strange to say, the perfume shop sells very little jewelry, too.

"It is lovely," said the customer.

"Yes," said the girl, "and it really doesn't turn your neck very black either."

He looked like a traveling salesman. You know the look. He had his girl at a lobster cafe for dinner, and he asked the waiter to bring in the live lobster so that he could be sure it was fresh.

The waiter brought the lobster, kicking vigorously. He probably pinched it just a little. (Where would one pinch a lobster?)

The girl wasn't impressed. She looked away. She also looked as if the sight of it just about spoiled her dinner.

You men can't make a hit with women, showing them vivacious, wriggling lobsters. Anyhow, you don't know that the waiter doesn't stop at another table and show that same lobster. The fact is, it may be a property lobster and not the one you get at all. Har, har!

But pessimists are folks who want to follow the fellow with the lobster into the kitchen.

It is really too bad, but when a silly girl or very foolish grown woman tries suicide to make some man feel bad, all she ever succeeds in doing is giving him a pain in the neck.

So she might as well live and have a lot of fun. He will.

Then if the girl recovers from the suicide attempt other men hear about it, and the whole sex decides that she is the one they don't want. The only thing to do about a man who can't love you, is to decide that he isn't what you want. If he can make you that unhappy certainly he isn't. There are so many happy people in the world who would make your life a chocolate parfait with a brandied cherry on top. Snap out of it!

"Do you love your wife?" asked Judge Sabbath of Chicago. "Don't you think you two could go back and live together happily?"

"I love the girl I used to know, not the woman who is now my wife," said the man. "Love is a delicate plant and once trampled upon it is doubtful if it ever will bloom again. So it's a crime for us to go on living together."

And it is not recorded that the women said anything.

Which makes us wonder what her side of the story is.

A woman in San Raphael, Calif., sued for divorce because her husband wouldn't hold converse with her. He didn't talk with her for a year.

Probably she didn't hit on the right subject.

Marry Poor Man For Love and Work Up With Him, Writer's Advice

Shall This Girl Marry for Love or To Please Her Mother?—Sage Advice to the School Teacher Who Wants a Husband—The Elusive Bachelor.

Dear Miss Dix—I have two suitors—one a rich, middle-aged widower, the other a poor young man, but capable and ambitious. My mother urges me to marry the old one, although she knows I don't love him and do love the poor young man. She says she doesn't want me to have the hard life she has had. I hate to hurt her, but feel I must follow my heart. What do you advise? —DORIS.

Answer—Marry your poor young man. Work up with him and be happy.

There is something not a little pathetic in a mother's desire to have her daughter make a brilliant match. For in reality it isn't as avaricious and grasping as it seems. It is only her yearning to save her little ewe lamb from the hardship that she has known. She wants to protect the soft girl hands from the hard labor that she has had to do, and to save the tender feet from the thorny path that she has trod.

Mother should reflect that the man who can give his wife a fine establishment when he marries is, 99 times out of 100, either old enough to be her father or a gilded youth who is selfish and spoiled, and who regards marriage as lightly as he does a flirtation with a chorus girl.

We have all seen many young girls married to rich old men, but we've never seen such a marriage a happy one. It takes more than a six-cylindered car and point lace and diamonds to satisfy a woman's soul, and the most miserable women in the world are those who have sold their youth for money.

Furthermore, we have all seen many girls make so-called brilliant matches when they married young fellows who had inherited fortunes. We have also seen these same fortunes take wings and fly away and the brilliant match end in poverty. Every day we read of some such match finishing in divorce, because a youth which has been passed in self-indulgence doesn't fit a man to stand the disillusions and trials of matrimony.

The mothers who are disappointed that their daughters are marrying poor young lawyers and clerks instead of rich men will do well to consider this fact—that these poor young fellows are likely to be the big men of the future, while the brilliant catch of today is almost certain to be the nobody of tomorrow.

It is hardly too much to say that, in marrying in America, a girl has to decide whether she would rather be poor and struggle along with a man when she's young and be prosperous when she is middle-aged, or be rich and splurge when she is young and be poverty-stricken in old age.

To my mind it is a good match when a girl married a man who has ability and industry and pluck, and whom she loves well enough to be willing and glad to work with and help push on, and who makes every day a romance for her more thrilling than any novel.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I have taught school for eight long years. Now I feel that I should like to marry and have a home of my own, but men are not attracted to me. This is incomprehensible to me, as I am very good-looking. Perhaps I am too intelligent. Isn't it true that men prefer to tower mentally over the girls on whom they lavish their affection? Or perhaps I am too reserved. Petting parties make me shudder.

—SALLY.

Answer—I get thousands of such letters from girls, and the consensus of opinion among them seems to be: No petting parties, no beaux. They are a unit in declaring that the average young man expects to be paid for whatever courtesies he shows a girl by being permitted to kiss her.

So, perhaps, you are right in attributing your lack of popularity to your reserve, but if such is the case, you should be glad of being lonesome instead of repining. For, believe me, dear Sally, there are a lot of things for which you can pay too high a price, and the girl who sacrifices her modesty for the sake of being taken to a movie makes a sorry bargain.

As for your suggestion that the reason you are not popular is because you are too intellectual, that depends on how high-browed you are. If you begin a conversation with every young man you meet by asking him his opinion of the Einstein theory of relativity, or if you try to discuss the modern realists with your jazz partners, I don't wonder that they flee you.

The fear of a blue stocking is as much a hereditary fear with men as the fear of snakes is with women. Why this is so nobody knows, but even intellectual men seldom care for learned ladies. Furthermore, it is a curious fact in natural history that highly cultivated men very often pick out as wives henbrained women who never have an idea above the baby's bottle.

Not all knowledge comes put up in books, however, and many men who have little schooling have graduated from the University of Hard Knocks, and have more real wisdom than half a dozen colleges could teach them.

Some men like intelligent women, but they don't want a woman to thrust her education upon them, and show them how much more she knows than they do. They don't want her to make them feel small, and perhaps that is what you have been doing.

A clever woman, Sally, is one who is smart enough never to let a man find out how much she knows.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a widow 43 years old and have been keeping company for more than a year with an eligible bachelor who is very devoted and speaks often of love, but never of marriage. I am growing older, and my chances for marrying are diminishing. How can I find out his intentions? —WIDOW.

Answer—It doesn't take any seventh daughter of a seventh daughter to answer that question. The gentleman has no intention whatever of committing matrimony.

He enjoys your company. He likes the affection and admiration you bestow upon him. He enjoys having somewhere to spend his evenings, but as for curtailing his liberty by getting married and burdening himself with the support of a wife—never!

The man who is a gilt lovemaker but who stops short of popping the question is a philanderer, and any woman is foolish to let him waste her time and keep marrying men away. I am surprised that a widow isn't wise enough to know this.

—DOROTHY DIX.

CITY THRIVES ON ADVERTISING

Dallas' National Campaign Shows Results

DALLAS, Nov. 21 (INS)—Demonstrating the value of advertising when intelligently applied to the task of building and developing communities, the summary of results obtained from the $500,000 three-year national advertising campaign of Industrial Dallas, Inc., a subsidiary of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, made public today, showed that during a 10-month period from Jan. 1 to Nov. 1, 1928, 636 new business establishments began operations in this city. The corresponding period of 1927 showed 362.

This result was obtained, the survey showed, despite the fact that Industrial Dallas, Inc., did not get its advertising campaign properly under way until June 1 and was in effect only during the last six months of the 10-month period.

Further testifying to the effectiveness of the advertising campaign, the survey showed that 143 of the concerns were branches of concerns of sectional or national importance coming into the southwest for the first time and establishing branch factories, distributing branches or district offices in Dallas to service this major market area from within.

The Industrial Dallas campaign is utilizing a list of 30 publications ranging from general periodicals of wide circulation down to trade journals circulating among the 18 specific lines of industry for which the southwest territory is making a special bid.

Additional results of the advertising campaign to date show a total of 1302 inquiries and requests for maps, engineering surveys and other industrial information about the southwest. These inquiries came from factory and business executives in every state in the union, except Idaho, and from 19 foreign countries.

Nunnelee System Of Bus Lines Is Sold

TYLER, Nov. 21. (INS)—Actual control of the Nunnelee network of bus lines in East Texas has passed to the Southwestern Transportation company, subsidiary of the St. Louis Southwestern Railway company, following action of the Texas Railroad commission in giving its sanction to the deal.

Six bus lines reaching from Nacogdoches and Lufkin to the south, and from Corsicana to the west, to Marshall and Mt. Pleasant to the north, are involved in the sale.

W. E. Nunnelee of Tyler, owner of the properties sold, received $83,000 for 21 busses three sedan type automobiles, one open car, seven bus line permits and the good will of the company. Eight years ago Nunnelee was operating a single service car here. He built up his properties by the efforts of himself and family.

Best Remedy for Obstinate Cough Made at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It also promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and at the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs and "flu" coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Do You Dream—Or Prefer a Whoopee?

Profs Tell Youths How to Measure Selves

By W. F. SULLIVAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (UP)—Should you really want to know how you measure up in life, whether you are a dreamer with poetic soul and all that or whether you are the "up and at 'em type with lots of vim and vigor," Just take the "yardstick" which college professors have devised for the test.

The "yardsticks," three professors at Northwestern university say, will determine for you or your employer whether you are an introvert or an extrovert.

An introvert, they explained, is the poetic type with a desire for the quiet, home-like mode of living while the extrovert is not adverse to permitting life to take on a little "whoopee" now and then.

No "Moral" Test

"No implication of right or wrong is contained in the test," Dr. C. A. Neymann, associated professor of psychiatry, explained. "The list of statements, not questions, may be answered merely by 'yes' or 'no' indicating the person's likes or dislikes."

Mussolini, Gov. Alfred E. Smith and William Howard Taft, for instance, are extroverts while Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Herbert Hoover, President Coolidge and Woodrow Wilson have tendencies for the introvert.

Outstanding in the list of statements on the "yardstick" are two that seek point-blank to know whether you think of life in terms of pleasure or whether you think or dream of what you will do five years from now.

The "Yardstick"

Other statements to which you may say whether they are to your liking or not, are:

Enjoy social gatherings just to be with people.
Stay at home during a social affair.
Think about yourself.
Spend your vacation at a resort rather than at some quiet place.
Make others happy even though you are not happy yourself.
Go to see a game rather than listen to it on a radio.
Have excitement.
Chew gum.
Make friends very easily.
Speak in public.
Have your feelings hurt easily.
Have people watch you.
Talk to yourself.
Read about rather than do a thing.
Pay no attention to people you do not like.
Keep a personal diary.
Act on the spur of the moment.
Keep quiet when out in company.
Loan money freely.
Let yourself go when angry.
Dislike thinking about yourself.
Be very active.
Make friends very easily.
Work better when people praise you.
Play in competitive games.
Tell others the truth whether it hurts their feelings or not.
Take a nap in the daytime.
Do things you have never done before.
Enjoy the story more than the way it is written.

Physician Talks To Burk Rotarians

Special to The Record News

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Nov. 21. The Burkburnett Rotary club held its regular meeting Tuesday at noon in the annex of the Central Christian church, with President Bain Leak, presiding. Ike Harwell of the program committee, introduced a musical number obtained from the local high school by Supt. Butler Westerfield. Mr. Westerfield also introduced Miss Johnson, a member of the high school faculty, who is in charge of the Choral club. Miss Johnson presented a quartet which was composed of Misses Ethel Allen, Louise Wool, Estelle Rankin, and Vina B. Buts. The quartet entertained some 30 minutes singing "Bonny Boy," "Whispering Hope" and several other numbers.

The next number on the program was an address by Dr. O. C. Egdorf local physician, who gave a talk at some length on the history and uses of serums. He spoke particularly on those serums which should be all means be given to children from two to 14 years of age, for at this age they are most suspectible. He advocated that our local schools pass some law requiring all children take at least two of these serums, diphtheria and smallpox for it would be economy to both parent and community. He also gave stitistics from various states relative to deaths caused by diseases among children.

Visiting Rotarians from Wichita Falls were: L. R. Stringer, John W. Thomas, E. W. Merriott, Carl Doesch and Carl Williamson. The guests of the club were: Dr. O. C. Edorf, Miss Isebelle Johnson of the local high school faculty, and the following members of the Choral club: Misses Ethel Allen, Louise Wood, Estelle Rankin and Vina B. Buts.

Dangerous Business

Our stomach and digestive systems are lined with membrane which is delicate, sensitive and easily injured. It is dangerous business, then, to use medicines containing harsh drugs, salts or minerals, when we are constipated. In addition to the possibility of injuring the linings of our digestive system, these medicines give only temporary relief and may prove habit forming. The safe way to relieve constipation is with Herbine, the cathartic that is made from herbs, and acts in the way nature intended. You can get Herbine at Miller's Drug store.—Adv.

Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men

W. B. Caldwell M.D. AT AGE 83

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice, he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and placed it on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a public success as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us it helped when everything else failed.

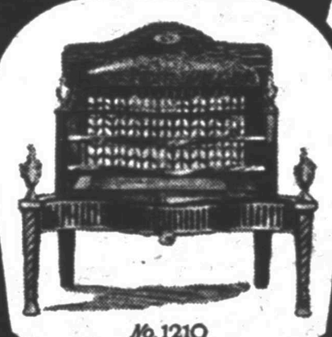

While women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, its mild, gentle action is promptly effective on the most robust constitution and in the most obstinate cases. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it willingly. Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, or this coupon brings a bottle for free trial.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

By GRANT DIXON

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—In this era of service as an indispensable business asset, New York department stores perform unique services for their customers. They find and return to the busy throngs that flow in and out their great caravanseries no less than a million dollars worth of lost articles—handbags containing money, papers and trinkets, valuable jewels, parcels of merchandise, pocketbooks—all sorts of more or less precious human belongings that have been dropped in the haste of shopping or forgetfully laid aside upon counters. Even lost babies have been found and returned within a few hours to distracted mothers.

The great shops of New York maintain lost and found bureaus to accomplish just this sort of service, and in and around them are to be found many little comedies and dramas of everyday life. The head of one of these bureaus drew a picture of its activities and of the general usefulness of these lost and found departments of New York's palatial indoor markets.

"The amazing thing," said this man, "is that the hundreds of thousands of people who struggle through traffic and fill our shops from morning until evening do not lose more valuables than the record shows. Most people are rather absent minded, you know. They go to the stores with one thing on their mind, to get such and such an article or list of articles, and when they find themselves in the midst of hurrying crowds almost every mental activity except concentration on what they want to buy and can pay for it seems to go to sleep.

"The result is that they drop things and are not aware of it. They put their packages or their handbags down upon the counter and go away and leave them, even though the articles are right under their eyes, in plain sight. Perhaps in the throng the insecure fastening of a necklace works loose and the string of pearls slips down to the floor, unseen and unregarded. Rings come loose in glove fingers and find their way to the floors.

"Many have the bad habit of carrying money in crumpled up wads or in loose bills, and often a bill becomes detached in the hurry of things and flutters unseen to the floor or loses itself in a pile of parcels. It is astonishing what can happen and how little really does. When one estimates, on the basis of such reports as we have, that probably a million dollars' worth of lost valuable and belongings is located by our bureaus and returned speedily to the owners, it is really a very small sum for such a city as New York and for the enormous shopping trade that goes on every day. The wonder is, human peculiarities being what they are, that it isn't 20 million. But the best of it is that the great majority of lost articles are found and returned through a careful, vigilant system that the big department stores have instituted.

"Now here's another thing that's worth mentioning. That is, the essential honesty of the great mass of people. Our own employes — the employes of every store—are honest folk, of course. That goes without saying, because their character is very definitely ascertained before they are employed. They recover a great amount of lost things on their own initiative. Their quick eyes see the fallen purse or jewel or bill that the eye of the hurrying customer has overlooked.

"But without the cooperation and honesty of the customers themselves, losses would be large. What happens is that the shoppers themselves find things that have been lost by other shoppers, and they promptly turn these articles into us. If the article is very valuable, something of the nature of a pearl or diamond necklace or a fine ring or bracelet, it goes at once to our safe and is there locked up to await further information. If no claimant appears within a reasonable time the article is carefully advertised, and of course the claimant is required to furnish indubitable proof of ownership. If advertising fails to bring a response we try other methods. Articles of small or moderate value, such as imitation jewelry, trinkets, parcels of merchandise, books, eyeglasses and so on are held by our lost and found bureau until the owner appears and identifies the property. Umbrellas, walking sticks, gloves, spectacles and spectacle cases, brief cases, books, cameras, lorgnettes, valises, even baby carriages (and how a woman can lose a baby carriage I don't know, except that they do) are constantly being picked up and returned to the careless ones. We have even found false teeth and had the satisfaction of seeing them replaced in the mouths of the distressed owners."

If you lose anything in a New York department store you can be reasonably certain of getting it back, but don't expect to get any information over the telephone. The lost and found bureaus of the department stores cannot discuss such matters over the phone, and the reason, of course, is to protect the real owners against false claimants. The thing to do, immediately after you have discovered your loss, is to go to the store itself and apply with proper identification to the lost and found bureau. Three chances to one a smiling clerk will hand you out your package.

Toward the Eternal

ARTHUR SCHNITZLER, famous Viennese dramatist, tells an interviewer that he is very well satisfied with the existing universe except for the fact that man's span of life is altogether too short.

The interviewer, thereupon, asks him if he would be content with a life the length of Methuselah's; and Schnitzler tells him that he would not.

"What," he asks, "are a thousand years compared with eternity?"

Probably most of us have much the same notion as Schnitzler, and this can hardly be encouraging to the medical specialists who are using every resource of science to add a mere 10 years or so to our life expectancy. They can expect scant thanks for that. Nothing less than an eternity of living will ever satisfy us. We call ourselves religious, and profess an abiding faith, but death remains a mystery which we are not willing to solve.

This, of course, makes for unhappiness. If we could once become reconciled to the fact that life is short and its joys fleeting, we could get along with a great deal less misery. That would seem to be the reasonable thing to do. We cannot live forever; why not admit it, make the best of it, and look for peace and contentment in the days that remain to us, instead of bustling about making ourselves and our fellows miserable by trying to cram the earth and all the heavens into a few short decades?

Unfortunately or otherwise, we are not reasonable creatures. There is in us somewhere a wholly irrational spark of divinity that refuses to concede that we are made of clay. Our imagination gives us a glimpse of the things that might be possible for us if we were only given the time to accomplish them, and we never can be satisfied with anything less. Immortal life, universal brotherhood, never-ending peace, happiness for every human being—these are some of the glittering dreams that we have built to plague ourselves.

The quick years pass and generations of men vanish and are replaced by their children, but always these dreams remain. And from being creations of our own desire, these visions end by becoming our masters. They compel us up and on, plague us, make us unhappy, keep is from resting—and little by little we bring them toward realization. We lift ourselves by our own bootstraps. Our discontent with life as it is leads us to the colossal task of remolding it into what it ought to be.

Nothing less than eternity and infinity will ever satisfy us; and that extremely unreasonable attitude is precisely the reason why we may look on the future of the race with hope. We are climbing because we are too fine to accept any place than that of master of all creation.

A Murder to "Blow Off Steam"

WHEN a man is in deep rage, his actions are apt to move in decidedly unexpected and illogical directions.

One James Nevins was locked up in the Cleveland jail, awaiting removal to the federal prison to begin a two-year term. Nevins was bitterly resentful against the judge who had sentenced him. He felt that he had been wronged, and as he sat in his cell he brooded until he could stand it no longer.

So he wrenched loose a section of iron pipe from the wall—and proceeded to hammer the life out of Donald Prentiss, his cell-mate. Later he admitted that he had nothing against Prentiss. It was simply his way of blowing off steam.

Of all peculiar murders, this one, committed inside a jail, with the victim playing the part of luckless object of the murderer's wrath against another man, is about the wierdest.

Owen Roberts' Job

OWEN ROBERTS, retiring as special government prosecutor in the oil fraud cases to resume private practice, deserves the wholehearted thanks of his fellow countrymen.

For a number of years Roberts and Atlee Pomerene have had the thankless job of rooting out the evidence about the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills cases. They have restored both of these vast reserves to the government, and if Messrs. Fall, Sinclair and Doheny are not in jail today, at least they were haled into court and revealed to everybody in their true colors.

The work of the special prosecutors has been ably done. The highest commendation is due Mr. Roberts for his services.

The Murder of Rothstein

THE big news of recent days, aside from the presidential election, has been the murder of Arnold Rothstein of New York, "gambling king." Nearly as much fuss has been made over this affair as though Rothstein had actually been a useful citizen. He was not, of course. He was famous simply because he rolled up a fortune of $10,000,000 by gambling. He was accused of various shady deals; he apparently was was not even that curious anomaly, a "square gambler."

But, after all, he had $10,000,000. And, in this day and age, any man who has that much money can be sure of fairly respectful attention when he passes on.

SUNDAY AMUSEMENTS

In revising the ordinance regulating picture shows, so as to permit their operation in Frederick Sunday afternoons, the city council was profiting by the experience of other cities, as to the desirability of providing clean and wholesome amusement to meet a popular desire.

The old way of handling youth was to attempt to enforce Puritanical regulations with stern repression and dire threats for disobedience. The new way, manifested in many organizations of young men and young women, boys and girls, is for adults to plan outlets for youthful activity to meet the innate demand for entertainment.

TERRIBLE PRICE FOR EFFICIENCY

The suggestion is being made in Dallas to have a single office for both the city and county tax collectors, it being contended that it is considerable inconvenience to taxpayers to be compelled to pay city taxes at the city hall and then go to the county collector's office to pay state and county taxes. There is something to that, but a joint office for all tax collectors would rob the taxpayer of at least half the pleasure he gets out of paying taxes. He would get mad only once. The way it is now he can start in on one tax collector and say all the ugly things he can think of and then think up some more epithets by the time he gets to the other tax office. We always feel that we can improve on a job after we have done it once. It doesn't seem right to deprive the taxpayer of any of his rights simply because of the demand for efficiency.

The INN of the HAWK and RAVEN

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

(Copyright, 1927, Dodd Mead & Co.)

(Copyright, 1928, Metropolitan Newspaper Service, New York.)

During the summer, Jonifer takes Gerane and his nephew, Peter, to Edelweiss on a pleasure jaunt. They are disguised as gypsies. While there, they see Starcourt acting as the escort of the princess, on her return to the palace. One look at Gerane's face, when she sees Starcourt, tells Jonifer that she loves him. Peter arrives at the same conclusion, and is none too pleased, for he secretly loves Gerane. However he knows he can never marry her, for not only was his father, Jonifer's half-brother, of illegitimate birth, but he himself was born out of wedlock. Jonifer, being the legitimate descendant of the Duke of Droon, who was made an outlaw, many, many years ago, after his attempt to seize the throne, exercises his prerogatives as head of the family in a way that the son of his deceased illegitimate half-brother often finds distasteful. Peter instantly becomes jealous of Starcourt, who, according to a spectator, is about to undertake the extermination of the bandits in the Forest of Droon and has been made a colonel, for he has voluntarily undertaken the task.

Urged on by his mother and his brothers, who hate Jonifer, Peter contemplates a revolt against his uncle's authority.

Jonifer, who, on learning that Gerane is in love with Starcourt, makes some secret plans that involve the soldier, takes a trip to Moscow. On his way home, near the Axphain border, the stage-coach is held up—not by his men however. The arrival of a troop of soldiers results in the capture of the robbers. The incident serves to inform Jonifer that Starcourt, with 500 picked men, is in the Forest of Droon to run down the Davos band, no matter how long the task keeps him there. Jonifer and his companion,

John Crispo, quietly disappear that night and MAKE their way home, realizing that the situation is too serious to permit of their running the risk of capture.

Jonifer's return puts an end, for a time, at least, to Peter's thoughts of rebellion. The chief's next move is an attempt to capture Starcourt in a surprise attack at night. He is defeated, however.

INSTALLMENT XVI

Starcourt was becoming a popular idol in Edelweiss. At Castle, Tower and Fortress he was called upon to relate over and over again the story of his "most pleasant" repulse of Jonifer Davos himself. He was never without an audience that harkened with glistening eyes to these recitals, albeit he did his utmost to avoid giving them, except to his superior officers.

One of his most eager questioners was the Countess Jabassy, at whose house in Prince Rudovic street he lunched on the occasion of his first visit to the city after the widely heralded exploit. She was vastly interested.

"But, oh, Gavan," she exclaimed, at one time, "what a pity it was that you did not capture the leader with the others."

"We did not capture any of them," he reminded her. "Those who fell into our hands were as dead as herrings, you know. Several of the wounded succeeded in getting away with—"

"Did you say they were all dead? But surely there must have been wounded men who were unable to escape in the rout that followed."

"There were three or four, Countess," he replied slowly; "but they shot themselves before our eyes. We had nine dead men on our hands, all masked."

She leaned back in her chair with what he and the other guests took to be a sigh of disappointment.

"Well, we must give the rascals credit for being brave," said one of the men.

"Or cowardly," said Count Jabassy, affecting a sneer.

"And you really saw this brigand Davos?" cried the countess. "What is he like, Gavan? Is he so terrible?"

Starcourt smiled ruefully. "He hasn't changed much since I saw him last fall, Countess," he said. "I thought he was rather terrible then. I had a shot at him the other night and missed. So we were even. He did the same by me last fall."

"It would have been a great feather in your cap, if you had brought him down," murmured the Countess.

"He bears a charmed life. A dozen of my men shot at him. He rode off, waving his hat—untouched, I believe. And, by the way, he already had a feather in his hat."

"Of course, you pursued the rascals at once," was the observation of a timid little gentleman.

Starcourt eyed him coldly. "You should not forget, sir, that they were already mounted. They had a long start before we could saddle and mount our horses. Nevertheless," he concluded, sarcastically, "we pursued them. Precious little good it did us. They had vanished like ghosts."

"Dear me, how uncanny," cried one of the ladies.

"You had three of your own men killed, I believe," said Jabassy.

"And several wounded," added Starcourt. "We cannot all hope to bear charmed lives, I am sorry to say."

"Better luck next time," said the Countess.

Count Jabassy coughed. "Ahem! Ah—er—have you any idea where their hiding place is, Starcourt" He was leaning forward, his gaze fixed intently on the young officer. Only his wife noticed the slight tremor in his voice. She frowned.

"Do not ask stupid questions, Emlon," she chided quickly. "You don't suppose Colonel Starcourt would tell anyone, if he—"

"I don't mind confessing that we haven't the faintest idea where their hiding place is located," interrupted the colonel frankly.

"It must be in heaven," remarked the timid little man facetiously.

"More likely to be the other place," scoffed Jabassy loudly.

Days went by. Starcourt's men not only kept up their ceaseless, dogged search of the hills and forest, but also the unremitting seizure and examination of the dwellers therein and the vagabonds who roved the roads and plains. But never a sight had they of the real bandits, nor were they any nearer to solving the mystery surrounding their hiding place. That they had succeeded in driving the robbers into their secret lair, from which they were afraid to emerge, was proved by the fact that not a single attack had been made upon coach or traveler in the Inn of the Hawk and Raven since the socalled blockade began. Troopers ranged the forest from the lowlands of Graustark to the borders of Axphain, covering a vast area from east to west, and even going far down toward the distant mountains in the south.

And all this time Gavan Starcourt was looking for a pair of deep, blue eyes. Every woman or girl he encountered, in city or forest, underwent a quick, searching scrutiny. He would know those eyes, if he ever saw them again. They haunted him. Nor would he ever forget the dark, brilliant face of the gypsy girl he had seen in the crowd on Castle avenue. At the time, he had been struck by her beauty, but more than anything else, he remembered the big blue eyes that gazed up at him from a brown, gypsy face, singularly out of place in such a setting.

He had climbed the mountains to the timber-line, only to be turned back by the unscalable peaks and crags that baffled all human endeavor. He was tired, worn out physically by the end of the summer, and was beginning to lose hope of success. In a short time winter would set in, and, unless he accomplished his aim within the next few weeks, the grim quest would have to be abandoned for that year, at least. He knew that, somewhere in these lofty hills, somewhere in the depths of the great forest, Jonifer Davos and his band were hiding, like animals driven to cover.

And the chieftain's daughter, the girl with the blue eyes, the stripling who so dauntlessly had confronted his conqueror that day in the Pass—she was hiding with the rest of them. Knowing the custom of the robbers, he found himself wondering whether she would ever allow herself to be taken alive.

He shrank from the thought of this wild, lovely girl shooting herself, rather than fall into his hands.

The second week in September was hot, even in the shade of the great forest cathedral, where nature worshiped in whispers. The soldiers stationed along the highway increased the frequency of their rather hazardous visits to the now sluggish stream at the bottom of the gorge, where they disported themselves in the cool water. Here and there were to be found quiet pools of considerable depth, approached with some difficulty because of the steep, jagged banks of the stream, contrasting sharply with the widely separated, swift-flowing "shallows," where it was possible, at certain seasons only, to cross to the opposite side by fording.

One evening shortly after dark, Starcourt, and two companions made their way down to the stream from a temporary camp pitched on the wooded slope not far from the glen known as "Night's Rest," but on the opposite side of the gorge.

Divesting themselves of their clothing, they slipped down into the shadowy black pool. Starcourt, being far the best swimmer, boldly, as was his habit, made his way with easy strokes to the lower end of the stretch, while his less expert friends contented themselves with timorous ventures and noisy splashings within easy reach of the bank.

The pool was several hundred yards long, ending in a swift current where its waters rippled over stony obstacles and surged down to a lower level. Starcourt's camp was nearly half a mile away. The men, a dozen in all, fatigued by a trying day in the hills, were asleep, except for the two sentinels who stood watch.

For the better part of the afternoon, these soldiers had been trailed by a stealthy group of horsemen who remaining far behind and more or less under cover, had come to a halt, a mile or so below the camp without being observed.

Even as Starcourt and his companions were picking their way down to the pool in the semi-darkness, a full score of silent men on foot were stealing cautiously through the trees toward the little camp when their progress was checked by scouts who came back with the word that three of the soldiers, one of whom unmistakably was Colonel Starcourt, had left the camp and were walking down to the river.

Whereupon all of Jonifer Davos' plans were changed with an astonishing suddenness. His original intention was to fall upon the helpless troopers, slay they all—save one—and depart triumphant. He did not relish the idea of killing men from ambush, but it seemed to be the only way to carry out his purpose—which was to capture young Starcourt alive and, if possible, unharmed.

The news elated him. He rejoiced. The feat now might be accomplished without killing anyone. A couple of well-timed blows on the head would put Starcourt's companions out of commission, for the time being, and the rest would be easy. It was with this purpose in mind that he led his men stealthily down to the edge of the stream.

And now, for the second time, his plans were altered. If it were possible to seize Starcourt, without alarming the two men at the upper end of the pool, and make off with him—"Why bless us all," he whispered excitedly, "his men will go on believing to their dying day that their leader was drowned, and for days they will be dragging the river for his body!"

And that is precisely what happened!

A strong, half-naked robber slipped into the water, 50 or 60 feet back of Starcourt, and swam boldly after him. The latter, on the point of beginning his return to the upper end of the pool, saw what he believed to be one of his friends in the stream behind him. As he swam toward him, the fellow began to gasp and gurgle, acting as if exhausted and in danger of drowning.

"Keep cool," warned Starcourt, close by. "Put your hand on my shoulder and—"

He never completed the sentence. A long arm shot up from the water and, for a second was poised above the head of the would-be rescuer. Then it came swiftly down. There was a stout bludgeon gripped in the hand that fell. Starcourt's groan was cut short as his head sank beneath the surface of the pool.

(To Be Continued)

Starcourt's groan was cut short as his head sank beneath the surface of the pool.

Moran—I give a man a ten dollar bill yesterday and he gimme this piece of paper.
Mack—That ain't no paper. Thattas STOCK CERTIFICATE, Oscar, they TOOK you GOOD.
Moran—Ain't this stifficate no good?
Mack—That's just as valuable as the stinger on a DEAD bee.
Moran—Man said I could put this away and FORGET about it.
Mack—He's hopin' you DOES.
Moran—Say, what kind of a boulevard is that Wall Street?
Mack—It's a place where a man can take his pick.
Moran—How come?
Mack—Well, there's a CHURCHYARD on one end and a RIVER on the other.
Moran—What's that to do with ME?
Mack—Well, you has your choice of EITHER ONE.

FATAL LIQUOR PARTY IS TOLD

Dallas Jury Hears About Beer Social

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP)—Vivid details of a "beer party," which resulted in the fatal shooting of Hugh Martin last Sept. 8 were related in court here today at the trial of Clarence A. Carter, charged with murder for Martin's death.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin spent a comparatively quiet evening with Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Boykin, doing a "little friendly drinking," witnesses said, until they decided to go to Carter's home. When they arrived, all of their liquor, save a pint of gin which was passed around, was gone, so they embarked in two automobiles for a fresh supply.

When the two machines had reached a South Dallas street intersection, Mrs. Boykin testified, Mrs. Martin, widow of the dead man, got out of one car and got into the one in which Carter was riding.

Martin jumped out of his automobile and "jerked his wife out of the other auto," Mrs. Boykin said. Mrs. Martin fell to the ground, and Mrs. Boykin said she heard someone yell. 'He's stomping her!' and when I got out he was standing over her."

Martin then started back to the other car, and Carter jumped out of the one he was in, the woman testified. "Martin saw him and began to run away with his hands in the air. Carter chased him and there was a shot and Martin fell to the ground."

Health And Diet Advice

Catarrhal Deafness

Practically every case of deafness not resulting from accident can at least be partially cured by dietary measures. Complete deafness does not come on suddenly without warning, as there is usually a gradual loss of the sense of hearing covering a period of several years before one becomes conscious that he cannot hear as well as his friends.

There are a few cases where the eardrum has been ruptured or some other portion of the hearing apparatus destroyed by accident; there are also a few cases where the sense of hearing is interferred with by a retention of wax in the external ear passage; some are caused by a chronic state of engorgement of the tonsils, which may produce deafness, and the inflammation may spread to include the eustachian tubes leading from the nose to the middle ear; but by far the greatest number of all cases of deafness are the result of chronic catarrh. I believe that over 90 per cent of all cases are caused by chronic catarrh.

An unusually severe cold in the nose and throat may cause such a change that it seems as if the deafness comes on quite abruptly, which is seldom true, as the chronic state of catarrh preceding the cold had been developing for a long time. The eustachian tubes leading into the ears have been slowly becoming more and more filled with mucus until finally only the cold was needed to cause the passage to stop entirely. Local treatment from your physician, in removing the wax from the external ear and opening the eustachian tube, will prove helpful in many cases, but you must remember the constitutional cause of your trouble and endeavor to remove this by the proper dietetic and fasting measures.

In most cases the orange juice fast will bring a quick relief from the annoying throbbing and in some cases hearing is restored in a remarkably short time. Of course this cannot be expected in those cases which have existed over a period of years since the delicate tissues of the inner ear have undoubtedly become thickened by the chronic inflammation.

If the trouble is purely catarrhal, one must not only avoid the starches but should leave out the oils and fats for a considerable period of time. Even the use of milk may retard a recovery. Remember that the blood stream must be cleared of its accumulated toxins of years. It must be literally starved of the mucus or acid-forming foods for about a year before the catarrhal inclination will disappear altogether. In many cases osteopathic or other manipulations of the neck are helpful in addition to the fasting regime.

It is a striking fact that while those with catarrhal deafness always improve on a fasting and diet regime, they often do not realize the change which is taking place. They are so used to not hearing well, and are often discouraged, when they are actually being cured, unless certain hearing tests are made and they can be assured of improvement. During the last few years some fine testing instruments have been devised and cures are more numerous because a patient seeing a report of these tests is willing to remain on a careful diet over the long time necessary to effect a cure.

One who is deaf should not give up hopes of having his hearing restored until he has tried this method persistently.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Correct Blood Pressure

Question—Ralph J. asks: "What, as a rule, is the correct blood pressure of a man 68 years old in good health and spirits? Mine is 160 systolic and 100 diastolic. Many thanks for your information and advice."

Answer: The systolic blood pressure should range between 118 and 123 millimeters at any adult age, but perhaps 145 millimeters would not be too high if you have a tendency to high blood pressure. Your present blood pressure is certainly too high but can be easily reduced through living on a careful diet.

Gaining Weight

Question—E. J. writes: "I would like to know the easiest way to gain weight."

Answer: Gaining weight is not an easy matter. It is first necessary for you to discover the functional cause of your thinness. One thing certain, you cannot gain weight and be healthy by using any stuffing process. You must first of all get well and your weight will then gradually come to its normal.

Pyorrhea

Question—A. J. asks: "What causes pyorrhea, and what is the cure?"

Answer: Pyorrhea is caused by an infection of the gums which have been irritated from hyperacidity of the stomach. In addition to following a correct fasting and dieting regimen (instructions for which I will send you upon receipt of a large self addressed stamped envelope) you should brush your teeth night and morning with lemon juice diluted with water, rinsing your mouth afterward with water in which a small amount of bicarbonate of soda has been dissolved.

FAVORITE JOKES OF FAMOUS FOLK

As Told by Them to FRANK E. NICHOLSON

By DOROTHY MACKAILL

Dorothy Mackaill was born in merry old England about 24 years ago. Joined the theatrical racket as a chorus girl in the London Hippodrome. Migrated to these states and got a job with the big "Follies" man, Ziegfeld. Wandered out to California and landed in one of the Hollywood movie mills, and has been a "moom vitchur" star ever since.

Dorothy Mackaill

"We English," said Dot, "like Scotch jokes, and my favorite is about a Scotchman who had all the usual characteristics of his race. He had left his old home town to get a job in the city. Arriving there, he met a business man who wanted to hire a gardener, but the gardener had to be a married man. So the Scot immediately telegraphed a proposal to the girl he'd left behind. After waiting all day at the telegraph office, he received the affirmative answer late that night.

"'Well, if I were you,' said the telegraph operator, 'I'd think twice before I married a girl who kept me waiting so long for an answer.'

"'Na, na,' replied the Scotchman, 'the girl for me is the girl who wa'its for the night rates.'"

New Methodist Pastor Arrives in Frederick

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 21.—Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Vanderpool and three children arrived last week from Holdenville and are now occupying the First Methodist parsonage. The Rev. Mr. Vanderpool occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church for the first time Sunday morning, when he introduced the members of the family.

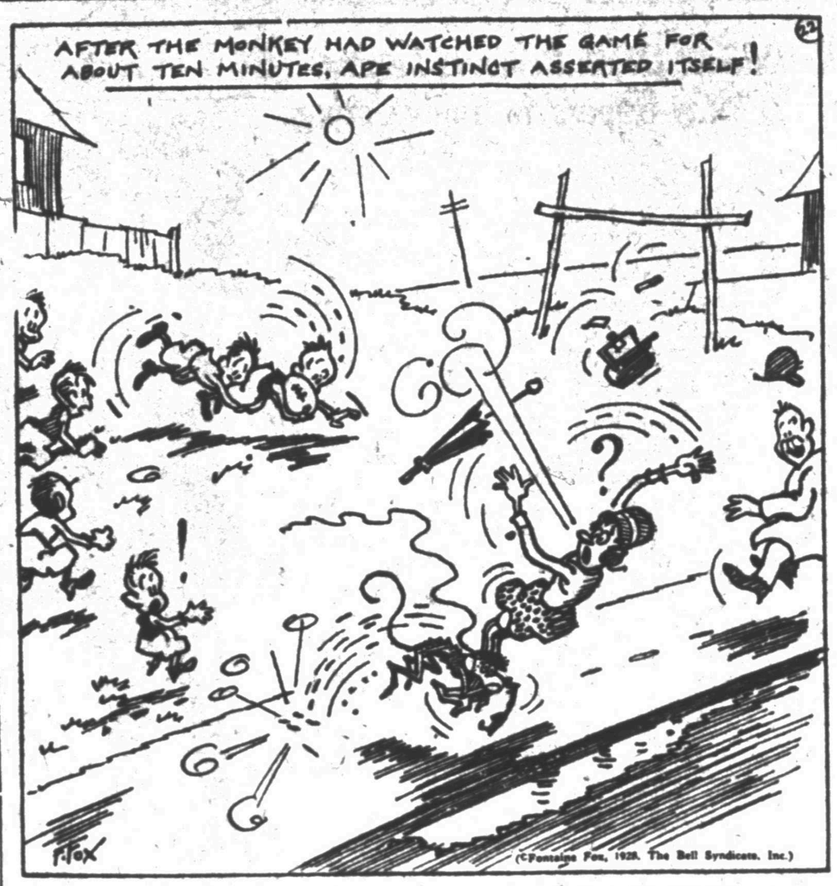

He is a graduate of the Kentucky Wesleyan college at Winchester, Ky. After preaching in the Blue Grass state a number of years he was sent to Albuquerque, N. M., where he stayed six years, first as pastor and later in the capacity of presiding elder. Two years ago he was transferred to Holdenville. He is a large man, with an attractive personality and is said to be one of the ablest men in Oklahoma Methodism.

BILLY SOUTHWORTH NAMED MANAGER OF ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

ROCHESTER JOB FOR M'KECHNIE

Breadon Says Shift Made To Aid Discipline

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21 (AP).—Billy Southworth, one of the heroes of the world's champion St. Louis Cardinals of 1926, and an idol of St. Louis fandom, today was named to manage the team in 1929.

Southworth will be the Cards' fifth manager in five years and the youngest manager and the only playing manager in the National league. He is 34. Bucky Harris, Detroit pilot, is two years Southworth's junior and the only other playing manager in the two major circuits.

In naming Southworth, President Breadon said he expected him to inject more fight and stricter discipline in the Cardinal team which, under the managership of William McKechnie, won the league pennant this year but lost four straight to the Yankees in the world series.

McKechnie will exchange places with Southworth, who managed Rochester, N. Y., a Cardinal farm, and led it to championship of the International league this year. Breadon praised McKechnie's ability and expressed pleasure he would remain in the Cardinal organization.

Hagen Indorsed As Pro Captain

Golfers Name Walter to Head British Invasion

CLEVELAND, Nov. 21. (AP).—Walter Hagen was indorsed by the Professional Golfers' association of America today to captain the United States Ryder Cup team of professional golfers, which will go to England next spring for the bennial meeting with the Great Britain team.

The honor went to Hagen when Leo Diegel, who defeated the former P. G. A. titleholder demurred in favor of him. Notwithstanding the fact that he took the national pro championship from Hagen after the latter held it for four consecutive years, Diegel said he considered Walter the logical man to head the American team.

The association recommended a list of 12 leading professionals of the United States from which the American team, numbering 10 members, will be selected. In addition to Hagen and Diegel, they are Gene Sarazen, Joe Turnesa, Johnny Farrell, William Klein, Billy Burke, and John Golden, all of New York; Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo.; Al Espinosa, Chicago; Ed Dudley, Los Angeles, and Al Watrous, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Nocona Revenged On Ryan, 25 to 0

NOCONA, Texas, Nov. 21.—Nocona High school defeated Ryan, Okla., high school, 25 to 0, in a football game here Wednesday afternoon. The victory was the first time that Nocona has succeeded in defeating the Oklahomans in several seasons.

The formidable passing attack and hard line plunging of the Nocona team kept the score well ahead of the Sooners from the early minutes of the game. Hall, Evans and Tribble were the outstanding Nocona players.

Dallas Steers to Open Corsicana Camp March 1

CORSICANA, Texas, Nov. 21 (AP).—The Dallas baseball club's spring training camp will be pitched in Corsicana on March 1, Fred McJunkin, president, and Bob Tarleton, business manager, said here today.

The Texas league club will train at Municipal park, home of the Corsicana Oilers of the Lone Star league, and will remain in Corsicana until April 4.

Commish Says Loughran Must Stay Light Heavy

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (UP)—Harry Ebbets will collect no money for his bout with K. O. Phil Kaplin at Madison Square Garden Friday night until he fulfills his contract to fight Joe Zelinsky in Holyoke, Mass., Monday, the New York Boxing commission announced today.

Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight king, must confine his fighting to the light-heavy class, the commission also ruled. Loughran had sought permission to fight in the unlimited heavyweight ranks.

PAMPA HIGH WINS

PAMPA, Texas, Nov. 21. (AP)—Pampa high school defeated Shamrock, 6 to 0, in a football game here today.

A New Bill at St. Louis

The annual change of managers of the St. Louis Cardinals has been announced. Billy Southworth succeeds Bill McKechnie, or rather they trade jobs. Southworth takes up the Red Bird leadership and McKechnie goes to Rochester as manager. Southworth won the 1928 International league pennant at Rochester.

COACHES MAY LOSE POSITIONS

Harvard and Yale Mentors Face Loss of Jobs

By FRANK GETTY

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (UP)—The open season for football coaches is on.

At some universities the alumni have not even waited to take out licenses before firing both barrels.

Where a coach has a big game against a traditional rival, it is customary to await the result of that contest and then forgive and forget early season disappointments if his team comes through with that ultimate victory.

Up at Harvard, where they have their own way of doing things, the alumni already are sniping at Arnold Horween, without waiting to see how the annual, picturesque and historic battle with Yale comes out.

It is said that Horween is to be replaced by Eddie Casey, an all-America halfback nine years ago, who has had some success as coach of the Crimson Yearlings. It may be that the wish of certain disgruntled alumni is father to the thought, for no alumni get disgruntled quite as easily as those of Harvard.

Other Coaches Shaky

Horween is not the only coach who is apprehensive as a turkey these days. College football has arrived at a stage where success means money in the treasury, and sentiment takes second place when the cash register rings.

Some coaches, on the other hand, can look forward to better things as a result of their success this season. Out in the Western conference they point to the case of Glenn Thistlethwaite, Wisconsin mentor, when the subject of short shrift for coaches comes up.

Thistlethwaite formerly coached at Northwestern, where he produced two "Big Ten" champions, only to be ousted by alleged campus politics. Now Wisconsin has an excellent chance of winning the Western conference championship under Thistlethwaite, in which case Glenn will have the laugh upon the critics of Evanston.

Of the coaches of the erstwhile "Big Three," Horween is not the only one who has had his troubles this year. Mal Stevens at New Haven apparently has had a rough row to hoe. Yale alumni are scarcely more charitable than those of Harvard, and the Yale eleven has been anything but a success this season. At the start it looked as though Stevens was about to inaugurate his career as head coach with no little measure of success. Aside from his wingmen, he had great material, and seemed to be handling it with discretion. Then came defeat at the hands of the Army. Maryland and Princeton, and Stevens now faces the prospect of either beating Harvard or having his scalp in demand by the graduates.

Fraternities Blamed

In the case of Stevens, it is whispered that university politics, possibly connected with the fraternity system at New Haven, have hampered him in his handling of the team. Alumni see the effect, rather than the cause, however, and will not be reticent in criticism unless Harvard is beaten next Saturday.

Outstanding coaching successes of the 1928 season must be credited to Wally Steffen of Carnegie Tech, Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech, Charley Dorais of Detroit and "Smiling Joe" McKenny of Boston college.

Bill Roper of Princeton seems to have welded his unweildy material into a truly great eleven. The game with the Navy this week will tell the tale.

As for the master of them all, Knute K. Rockne of Notre Dame, this season will not be remembered as one of his successes. It is true that "Rock" hadn't the material of old, but there are few teams which couldn't find a place for Neimiec, Chevigny and Collins in the backfield or for Moynithan and Miller in the line. Notre Dame's failure to make a better showing this year cannot be attributed entirely to lack of material. If it has come to a point where Rockne has to have "four horsemen" such as rode roughshod over the country's gridirons a few seasons ago in order to win ball games, then the time has come to admit that he may, after all, have been over-rated.

DAILY DOPE

By LARRY DAILEY

SPUDDER PARK will be dark this week, for all football intents and purposes. Only one of the four Wichita Falls teams will engage in play this week, the junior college Indians meeting Wayland college at Plainview Saturday. Coaches McCallum and Morris are drilling their high school Coyotes for their engagement Thanksgiving day here with Amarillo and the Reagan and Zundelowitz Junior High lads are working for their annual game, next Monday at the ball orchard.

• • •

Amarillo figures to defeat the Coyotes by a decisive, if not overwhelming score. The Sandies are sole unbeaten leaders of the district while Wichita Falls has sustained three defeats. By a week from today, however, the Coyote mentors may have whipped their team into its best playing condition and with no game this week the Pack gridders should be in the best physical shape since the start of the campaign. While victory of course in view of the teams' records is conceded to Amarillo, grid enthusiasts here hope for a low score and something of a moral victory for the Pack.

• • •

I DROPPED OUT to Zundelowitz and Reagan this week to see the proteges of Coaches Golden and Beck workout. Both squads looked good to me. They ran through their plays with a precision and snap highly commendable and surprising to junior preps. This, in view of the long rivalry between the teams, assures another colorful and hard game for the "city championship."

• • •

THE PURCHASE of Milton Gordon, a young third baseman from the Wilkes-Barre club of the New York-Pennsylvania league, indicates further that J. Alvin Gardner wasn't talking only to get his name in the papers when he announced a Spudder rebuilding for 1929. Of course, Gordon isn't the third baseman — yet. Wally Swenson, a young man himself, is expected to regain the brilliant form of 1927, following a disappointing year last season due to injuries or illness. But Gordon, like a flock of other kids purchased, drafted or signed this winter, will be brought to spring training camp and given every opportunity to deliver.

• • •

The acquisition of other players by the Wichita Falls club may be made when Gardner and Manager Jim Galloway attend the various baseball conclaves next month. They will be among those present at the minor league meeting at Toronto and at the American and National loop powwows and the joint session of the majors. Disposal of other players to follow the sale of the seven who already have gone to big league or other Texas league clubs also may be made. Except for Payne, Turgeon and Fitzgerald none of the Spudders is sure of retention, though it is likely that Steengrafe, Lapan, Swenson, Benton and Eldred also will again wear Spudder regalia.

• • •

THE 1929 SPUDDERS are going to form an interesting team. There will be just the blend of newcomers, dashing, ambitious kids, and of popular veterans to comprise the sort of a nine the fans love. And that revamped Spudder team is going to be in the pennant race. Fans need not worry about that. Indeed, the main concern about baseball here for next season is over the support accorded the club. Patronage for last summer's winning team wasn't any too good—and had it not been for the sale of players J. Alvin Gardner would have been a financial loser on baseball for the year. Which, in view of the near-approaching yuletide prompts this admonition:

Rothstein's Death Removes Leader Of 'Stay-Uppers' in Giddy Gotham

By DAMON RUNYON

(Copyright, 1928, by Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The removal, by murder, of Arnold Rothstein, the gambler, leaves an aching void in the ranks of the rapidly thinning clan of stay-uppers, which can illy spare staunch members.

He was one of the greatest exponents of the manly art that is assuredly on the decline in this country. He could stay up as late as any man I ever knew, employing no artificial stimulant other than Bismarck herring.

While he may have been slipping a little of late years, he still stood out as a stay-upper in an age that is giving itself over to going to bed before 5 a. m. I am convinced that this increasing practice is a sign of deterioration of mankind.

I have carefully investigated a number of other theories, including golf, the 18th amendment, inferior coffee, and the radio, but am compelled to discard them all. The fact of the business is, men ain't what they used to be.

I have even given some thought to the suggestion that the decline of the stay-uppers is largely due to the intensive instruction in domestic science in our schools, which teaches the gals how to make their homes more comfortable for old pal husband.

We're Carpet Slipper Crazy

I have come to the conclusion that this theory is untenable, because I do not believe that comfort at home ever entered into the calculations of a confirmed stay-upper. No, my friends. No. And yet again, no. Men are going to bed early because the race is becoming soft. It is not becoming carpet slipper crazy.

I wot me well of the brave old days when a bloke traveling about the country could find in any city any number of highly experienced and congenial stay-uppers eager to sit out the watches of the night with him.

Now in most cities a man cannot find company beyond 3 o'clock in the morning with a search warrant, and such as he finds is apt to doze off on him. A sleep-besodden lot they are at best.

Take Chicago, for example.

In other years a visiting stay-upper was welcomed to the loop by such worthy insomniacs as Mr. Fat Matt Foley, Mr. Bald Nate Lewis, Mr. Sammy Wolff, with two "F's," if you please; Mr. Nick, the Greek; Mr. Sam P. Hall, Mr. Harry Hochstadter, Mr. Mike Fritzell, Mr. Jim Mullen, Mr. Tommy Kelly and hundreds of others.

They have nearly all foldedd up.

Even Lewis Is Slipping

Only Mr. Nate Lewis, the bald eagle of the Boul' Mich', remains, maintaining but a petty pretense of carrying on as a stay-upper, for my loop operatives inform me that of late years Mr. Lewis has been found in bed at the unearthly hour of 4 a. m. on several occasions.

Clearly the former manager of Left Hook Charley White, Joe Burman and Joe Welling, is about done as a stay-upper. His decline is probably due to his environment. He is surrounded by men who have developed a fondness for the weeping willow, or pillow, and has fallen in with their decadent ways.

I mention the case of Mr. Nate Lewis with regret. Some years ago he was sent to New York as the representative of the city of Chicago in a staying-up contest with the late Rothstein, and he held the dead gambler to a draw. It was no mean feat. The contest was held in front of the Hotel Astor and lasted all one summer. One yawn counted 80 points against a contestant, and a one-minute lapse in conversation counted 94 points against.

The late Rothstein was 5 to 1 favorite in the betting when the contest opened in June, but by the end of July, the old bald eagle of the Boul' Mich' was at even money.

The contest was played standing up. It began at 1 a. m. daily, and terminated at 9 a. m., so that each contestant might devote the balance of the day to his personal business, if any. As Mr. Lewis had no business at the time, some of the Rothstein adherents claimed that this recess gave him advantage in that it enabled him to keep in practice staying up until the contest resumed at 1 a. m.

Nate Lags Once

Only once during the summer did Mr. Lewis lag behind. It was largely accident. A gentleman passed the Astor carrying a mattress on his back, and Mr. Lewis was detected by the judges in what they declared a longing look at the mattress. They scored 41 points against him.

Mr. Lewis has always maintained that he was thinking of the mattress only as a nice thing for Charley White to fall on, and he claims that he would have won the contest but for this unjust scoring.

Take the city of Los Angeles, for another example.

It once boasted of some of the greatest stay-uppers on this continent, including Mr. Hayden Wadhams, the matchmaker; Mr. Walter Blubber Naughton, the newspaper man; Mr. Bob Perry, the movie actor, and others.

I recently requested information on the situation out there from my west coast operative, T-69, otherwise, Mr. Hap O'Connor, and he replied that he goes to bed too early himself to know who stays up late up there, a most discouraging answer, as you can see.

"I understand," he added, "that some of our local night watchmen stay up late, but I am unable to positively confirm the report."

I hear that Mr. Mark Kelly, the sporting editor, was seen out as late as 2 o'clock one morning not long ago, but it developed afterwards that he was walking in his sleep.

Amateurs at Boston

Boston is just as bad. Of all the great stay-uppers of other years in the city of culture, only Mr. Eddie Mack, the pugilistic entrepreneur, is sticking it out, and he is little better than a semi-pro. Boston, my friends, is a lonesome town after midnight on the Charles.

There isn't even a good prospect up there. Benson, the rain coat king, an excellent stay-upper in his day, is reported hopelessly addicted to the ostermoor. Mr. Nick Flatley, the sports writer, who at one time displayed great promise, turned out to be a morning glory. Big Dan Carroll, the pugilistic manager, went all right for awhile, only to blow up.

One of my Boston operatives ventures the suggestion that an epidemic of sleeping sickness has hit the town. However else, he demands, can I explain the fact that Mr. Bill Duffy, one of the greatest of the New York stay-uppers, visited Boston not long ago and was found sound asleep in bed at 5:30 a. m. and the sun not even up?

NEW FOOTBALL KINGS CROWNED

Sectional Champs of 1927 Are Dethroned

By ALLAN J. GOULD

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—The parties in football power at the close of the 1927 season seem to have been tossed out of the picture this year with little or no ceremony.

In fact, of the seven main groups scattered about the country, only two of the erstwhile officeholding teams have a chance to repeat. These two are Southern California in the Pacific coast conference and Georgia Tech in the Southern conference, and neither had an altogether undisputed hold on the top last season.

U. S. C. and Stanford were deadlocked on the coast last year. This season the Trojans are being paced by California. Their best chance to be established alone at the top is for California to be knocked over by Stanford this week in the Far West's annual "big game."

Georgia Tech dislodged its old rival, Georgia, from the top rung last year. The Yellow Jackets figure to repeat this victory but even so, they may have to debate the Southern leadership with Tennessee or Florida, if not Virginia Poly and Louisiana State, the two "long shot" contenders.

Champions Bumped Off

Elsewhere the carnage among the old champions has been heavy. Yale and Pittsburgh, which disputed the mythical Eastern title last year, are in the background now, while Carnegie, Boston college, New York university, Army, Princeton and Georgetown figure in the concluding arguments.

Illinois has been bumped off the Big Ten peak with Wisconsin now in the lead, but needing a victory over Minnesota, no trifling assignment, to keep the top.

Nebraska has all but clinched the big six championship in the Missouri valley, where the University of Missouri set the 1927 pace.

Texas Aggies and Colorado Aggies, rulers of the Southwestern and Rocky mountain conference realms last season, both have slumped. Texas and Utah universities now are out in front in these races.

No National Champ

No team stood out substantially above the rest last year when it came to awarding the national palm. Pittsburgh and Georgia were perhaps the most conspicuous by the end of November, but they were thrown for losses in their final games, Georgia by Georgia Tech and Pittsburgh by Stanford.

The situation gives every indication of being more complicated this year with about a dozen undefeated major teams having a voice in the debate.

Nowhere has the rivalry been any keener this year than in the Southwestern conference scrambie. The Texas Aggies lost to Texas Christian, 0-6, but tied Southern Methodist, which in turn beat Texas university, 6-2, and lost to Baylor, 0-2. Texas nosed out Baylor and Texas Christian each by 6-0 and beat Rice only 13-6.

Meet in Valley Feature

For 36 years, football fans in the Missouri Valley have looked forward to the Missouri-Kansas game as the sectional headliner. Above are the big four of this year's game, at Columbia, Saturday.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 21. (AP)—When the Kansas Jayhawk swoops down to the Missouri Tiger's lair November 24, football fans throughout the Missouri valley will await eagerly the outcome of an annual battle which since 1891 has been to them what the Yale-Harvard struggle is to the East.

Though beaten 20 times out of 36 encounters with the Jayhawk, the Tiger hopes to pluck the thirteenth feather from the bird's tail. And the Jayhawk is equally determined to win, for victory in this game means more to either school than the conference championship.

Last year the Tiger was at the top when final standings were tabulated and the old Missouri Valley said adieu to the sports world. But Kansas, though low in the percentage column, had beaten Missouri, 14 to 7, and therefore considered the season a success.

This fall the teams meet as members of the new "Big Six" circuit, in which Oklahoma, Nebraska, Iowa State and Kansas State make up the other four corners. Each eleven has a veteran end for captain. Miller Brown is in command at Missouri and Harold Hauser at Kansas.

Though the ledger dating back to 1891 credits Kansas with 19 victories and the Tiger with anly 12, the two schools have divided honors in the last seven years, each winning three games and tying one. There have been five draws since the rivalry started.

The 1928 battle revives an old feud between Bill Hargiss, the new Kansas coach, and Gwinn Henry, the Missouri mentor. These men formerly coached schools that are bitter rivals in a circuit of small Kansas colleges. Henry was at the College of Emporia, and Hargiss at the Teachers college in the same town. Henry made his team the best in the conference, beating Hargiss twice.

Although dope has been upset many times in the annual tilt, enthusiastic followers of the Tiger and Jayhawk make out a sheet every fall. This season they take into reckoning the fact that both elevens suffered at the hands of the Nebraska Huskers. Missouri losing 0 to 24 and Kansas 0 to 20. Kansas played a scoreless tie with Iowa State, a team which Missouri defeated 28 to 19.

Montreal Hockey Team Beats New York Rangers

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—The Montreal Maroons got some revenge tonight for their defeat at the hands of the New York Rangers in the Stanley cup play-offs last spring by taking the first game of the new season between the two clubs by 1 to 0 at Madison Square Garden.

The Stanley cup emblem of the world's championship was presented to the Rangers just before the game.

BURK DEFEATS ZUNDY BY 27-7

Juniors Tie at Half, 7-7; Game Is Well Played

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Nov. 21.—Burkburnett high school defeated Zundelowitz Junior Preps of Wichita Falls today in an interesting football game. The score was 27 to 7.

Though Burkburnett was superior to the visitors the junior scholastics fought hard and played fast and prevented the game from being a rout.

Zundy scored its touchdown in the first quarter when Peacock intercepted a forward pass and ran 15 yards for a touchdown. Hunter passed to Mulligan for the point.

Burkburnett evened the count in the second period when Maloney recovered a fumble and ran 65 yards before downed on the Zundy 8-yard line. Moore then took the ball over and a pass, Green to Willingham, scored the point and made the count 7-7 at the half.

Burkburnett made a sustained march down the field and Roye lugged the oval over for a touchdown in the third quarter and Taylor kicked the goal for the point. A 50-yard run by Moore scored the fourth Burk touchdown in the last quarter and the try for point failed.

The game was the last for both teams before their season's final contests next week, in which Zundy meets Reagan Junior at Wichita Falls Monday and Burkburnett plays at Henrietta Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. Today's lineups:

BURKBURNETT (27)	Position	ZUNDELOWITZ (7)
Tucker	Left End	Greenwood
Strickland	Left Tackle	Evans
Roye	Left Guard	Glass
Campbell	Center	Cameron
Bryan	Right Guard	Rusk
Hunt	Right Tackle	Barthos
G. Smith	Right End	Mulligan
Alexander	Quarterback	Peacock
Taylor	Left Half	Jenkins
O. Smith	Right Half	Hunter
Garland	Fullback	Holton

Howard Payne Runs Up 96-0 Score On Burleson

BROWNWOOD, Texas, Nov. 21 (AP).—Howard Payne college's Yellow Jackets established an all-time scoring mark for the school by defeating Burleson college of Greenville, 96 to 0, today. The Jackets scored almost at will, even after Coach Cheaney sent in platoons of substitutes.

COYOTES DRILL FOR AMARILLO GAME THANKSGIVING

PACK HOPEFUL OF LOW SCORE

McCallum Says Preps Will Not Play This Week

By GORDON FULCHER

Training for their hardest game of the season, Coach Bud McCallum's high school Coyotes began preparations this week for their closing engagement of the season here Thanksgiving day with Amarillo high school.

Lubbock and Vernon high schools, both of which are beaten by top-heavy scores by the Amarillo Standstorm, humbled the Coyotes in earlier engagements during the season. The best that the Coyotes can hope to get from the Amarillo assignment is to hold the Sandies to a respectable number of touchdowns.

Plenty of Competition

The competition that is promised by the Sandies for their tilt here Thanksgiving will furnish more than enough entertainment for the Coyotes.

All of the injured members of the Coyote squad probably will be in shape for the contest, though the number of ineligibles cannot be determined until the scholastic reports for last week are announced Thursday morning.

Hodgkiss Crippled

Monk Hodgkiss, versatile high school forward, returned from the Lubbock game with a slightly sprained ankle and a large carbuckle which will slow him up in practice for several days. Jud Bell, another lineman, who has been out of the game since the skirmish with Electra in the opening conference game of the season, should be able to resume his duties at guard in time to take part in the Thanksgiving game.

The Pack will not play the week-end, Coach McCallum said Wednesday, and the remainder of the time until the Thanksgiving day game will be spent in perfecting an attack with which to combat the Amarillo aggregation.

Bare Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGGS" BAER
(Copyright, 1928, by Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Hoover lamms for South America this week proving that you aint nothing if you aint a good-will ambassador.

That's a new racket among the totally elite.

The business of a good-will ambassador is to shake hands until the other fellow's cuff links drop out.

The fixtures always go along with the good-will.

Mr. Hoover's fixtures are big guns on a battleship and 16 American newspaper men.

The good-will diplomat is outnumbered by the old free silver ratio of 16 to 1. It looks as if the trip will be all right if Mr. Hoover keeps the newspaper boys away from the guns.

The vice president will not be on the trip with Herbert.

Mr. Hoover's last words to him were:

"You might as well stay home and get used to being alone."

The president will occupy the admiral's bungalow on the Maryland.

Al Smith is summering down on the gulf. Al had nothing to say about Herbert's trip on the Maryland.

His only remark was:

"I wish I had that battleship before election."

Mr. Hoover will not stop long in any country. Recent records indicate that a good-will ambassador is popular provided he keeps on traveling.

Another bit of good-willishness for Mr. Hoover. Don't try to put those 16 newspaper men in sailor's uniform.

Newspaper men's skulls are so peculiarly constructed that a flat hat would not stay put on their heads.

Here's a load of good-will for the ambassador. And if he needs any help we will rush more newspaper men down to him.

Around The Ring

By EDWARD J. NEIL

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—Along with "quod erat demonstrandum," "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and a few other good old standbys the youth of the nation learned back in primer days that "youth will be served."

Many of those same youths, now grown to full-fledged fight fans, apparently have a cause of action against the chap who wrote the primers. Youth certainly is not being served in the case of Jack Britton, Mike McTigue, Johnny Dundee, Battling Levinsky and some of the comparative ancients whose very names still carry enough memories of power to dominate the heavyweight division.

Consider that callow youth, Jack Britton. Back in 1922, a fading veteran of almost 400 battles, the marvelous old man bowed to Mickey Walker in a 15-round match and lost his welterweight crown. It was the end of a glorious career, the closing chapter of an individual ring history crowded with feats of defensive brilliance, canny generalship, and masterly ringmanship such as the present fistic generation hardly understands.

Yet, with all of these well laid plans, Jack is back in the ring and some of the toughest youngsters of the present period find that they can hardly muss the hair of the old master, who has still to stretch his length on the canvas. He is taking them on as fast as they came at 43 years of age. A few nights ago in Boston he amazed a beantown audience with his speed and stamina and the masterly way he went about dazzling Larry Bathelon, a rugged youth from Cambridge.

Jack is rebuilding his old-time popularity so cannily as he picks off left hand jobs. He makes his home now in a section of Boston, rather with the home-town populace, and in a few weeks becomes the local pride. They follow him in droves to the ringside and the Britton fortunes again are looking up.

Possibly more amazing still is the comeback of Johnny Dundee, the Scotch wop, who has been blocking and shooting punches now for 17 years as a professional. Johnny could not stand inactivity, so after listening long to the arguments of his friends, he turned his back and signed for a bout with Gaston Charles.

A year of inactivity and all those years of warfare were behind the bounding marvel of Benny Leonard's day. Yet he fought with the speed and assurance of youth against one of the strongest featherweights in the game, and came on in the final rounds with an amazing display of vitality and endurance to outclass the youngster and win the decision. Johnny, hero of 350 fights, admits 35 years of age.

Two other famous perennials, Mike McTigue and Bat Levinsky, have been waved to the sidelines many times, but to no effect. Mike admitting 36, is closer to 40, and yet he plans a South American tour.

Levinsky was a veteran when Jack Dempsey started his furious career. Yet from the distant precincts, every so often, come small dispatches, relating the rise of the battler and the downfall of some aspiring youngster who was no match for age and cunning. Levinsky now must be on the shady side of 40.

The name of Jack Dempsey, a mere youth of 33, is still able to bring back memories of halcyon days in the fight racket, mammoth crowds and mighty purses. Luis Angel Firpo, now 32, is training madly in Buenos Aires, planning another try at the heights he reached the night Dempsey climbed back through the ropes and smashed out the most sensational ring victory of modern times.

Then there is Tom Heeney, on his way back from a honeymoon in New Zealand, fully recovered from the beating Gene Tunney gave him. Tom says he is 29, but there are many signs of age on his face and his hair is graying majestically at the temples.

Dawes and Governors To Attend Game Saturday

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 21. (US)—The Army-Nebraska game is practically a sell-out, it was announced by the Army athletic authorities today.

A special review of the Cadets corps on the grass plain will be held in honor of Vice President Dawes, prior to the game on Saturday afternoon.

General Dawes is expected here along with Governor McMullen and Governor-elect Weaver of Nebraska, Governors Dern of Utah and Christiansen of Minnesota and possibly General Pershing to witness the game. Dern is a former captain of a University of Nebraska football team.

The hour of the game has been set ahead to 2 o'clock instead of 2:30 as previously announced. The Varsity squad practiced until after dark today by aid of the electric lights. The Cadets are in good physical condition and the Varsity players were used sparingly today to avoid injuries.

The work-out featured a long defensive drill against Nebraska plays and as a finale, Coach "Biff" Jones sent his team through a period of offensive tactics designed to impart polish to the plays with which the Cadets have been equipped for use on Saturday.

Notre Dame Schedules 10 Grid Games for 1929

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 21. (UP)—Notre Dame will meet 10 opponents on the gridiron in 1929, Coach Knute Rockne announced today, three of whom will be Western conference teams.

Eight of the 10 games have been definitely contracted, although the dates have not been arranged. Two other games, one of which is expected to be with Southern California, will be added. The scheduled games include:

Army at New York.
Navy at Baltimore.
Wisconsin at South Bend.
Northwestern at Evanston.
Indiana at Bloomington.
Georgia Tech at Atlanta.
Pittsburgh at South Bend.
Drake at Chicago.

Carnegie Tech will not be played in 1929, Rockne said, but a contract has been made for a game in 1930.

Heavies Dodge Young Stribling

'Contenders' Want Nothing of Georgian's Game

By EDWARD J. NEIL

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—If the heavyweights gathered in Tex Rickard's pastures show as little inclination to mix with each other as they have with Young Stribling, the southland's particular fistic pride, the current crop of elimination contests promises nothing but wide yawns and a general absence of customers.

The Georgian's hope of doing some work on the job of eliminating was blasted for a month at least by the New York State Athletic commission today. Stribling was destined to fight Jack Dorval in Madison Square garden Friday night but inflammation of the joints put the Pennsylvanian out of action. A substitute was named in Andy Mitchell of Long Beach, Calif., record and ability almost totally unknown to the fistic fathers.

Promptly, at their meeting today, the solons removed Mitchell from the lists as an unsuitable opponent. During the removal, it was revealed that none of the aspirants for Tunney's throne cared to mingle with the Macon youngster, a veteran at 23 of 333 battles, 105 of them knockouts sprinkled through every division from the lightweights up. The bout was abandoned and Stribling must wait a month for Dorval to recover.

It seems as though a shot at Stribling, who knocked out Johnny Squires in two rounds where it took Johnny Risko 10 to win a decision, failed to appeal to Paulino Uzcudun, Jack Sharkey, Knute Hansen, or any others considered in the top flight. Tommy Loughran would fight him, but wanted more time for training and Tom Heeney has not yet returned to active work.

Notre Dame Coach Praises Conqueror

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 21. (UP)—Knute Rockne, veteran coach of the Notre Dame football eleven, in praising Carnegie Tech's squad today said that even if the Irish had been in peak condition they could not have defeated Tech last Saturday. Tech defeated Notre Dame, 27 to 7.

Carnegie was one of the finest teams that ever played here, Rockne said. Notre Dame, for all its mistakes, he said, played more football than it knew. He said the Irish would be in top shape for the Southern California game as they were for the Army game, and if Southern California won, the Westerners would know they had been through a football game.

Longhorns Work Hard For Aggie Battle

AUSTIN, Nov. 21. (AP)—Stressing offensive tactics in particular, the Texas university Longhorns swung into their second day of football practice today, in preparation for their contest with the Texas Aggies here Thanksgiving.

The team was divided into groups, and each group went through lively sessions of dummy scrimmage, followed by the real article. The first string eleven then scrimmaged the freshman squad and the afternoon's workout ended with a 20-minute signal practice.

Shelley, Wray and Meadows are still far from their best form, but by the end of the week Coach Littlefield expects them to round into shape for the big battle.

Favored by perfect football weather, the Steers enjoyed their best workout since returning from the T. C. U. game.

"Stopped-Up" Nose

A Simple, Pleasant Method of Prevention

There is no disease more offensive or disagreeable, or no disease that will lead to as much serious trouble, as Catarrh or chronic colds. It often produces chronic headaches and deafness, affecting the eyes and voice, and frequently weakening the lungs. Get rid of catarrh by a simple, safe, pleasant home remedy, discovered by Dr. Blosser, a catarrh specialist.

Dr. Blosser's Remedy is composed of medicinal herbs, berries and flowers, which you smoke in a small pipe or cigarette. The smoke vapor is inhaled into the air passages of the nose, head, throat and lungs, and carries medicine where sprays, douches and ointments cannot possibly reach. Its effect is soothing and healing, and as it contains no tobacco or cubebs is perfectly harmless, and may be used by women and children, as well as men.

If you suffer with catarrh, catarrhal deafness, asthma, hay fever, bronchial irritations, or if subject to frequent colds, get from your drug store a pocket-size package of Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes. Prove for yourself their pleasant and beneficial effects.

Indigestion
Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—A moderate early decline under liquidation was followed by an advance in the cotton market here today, on trade buying and covering which was in considerable volume and sent prices for all months into new high ground for the movement. Winter and early spring deliveries sold above the 20-cent level, with January advancing from 19.62 to 20.05 or 27 points above yesterday's final quotation. That delivery closed at 19.98 with the general market closing very steady at net gains of 16 to 23 points.

The opening was barely steady at an advance of 5 points on near months, influenced by the covering of December shorts, but 5 points lower on late deliveries and selling became a little more general right after the call. The census report showing 11,320,302 bales ginned prior to Nov. 14 was about in line with expectations, but its failure to have a more stimulating effect on immediate demand, was evidently a disappointment to recent buyers. This was reflected by quite a flurry of liquidation which carried prices off to 19.70 for December and 19.60 for March or about 15 to 19 points net lower.

Offerings were absorbed by trade buying and covering at these figures and later contracts appeared to become comparatively scarce. As a result the market was quite sensitive to buying orders, and the demand seemed to broaden as prices worked higher. Brokers with trade connections continued to buy while there was an increased demand for local or Wall street account, accompanied by talk of a probable firming up of the spot situation, and a reiteration of bullish views of the statistical situation.

Some stop orders were uncovered on the advance which extended to 20.10 for December and 20.07 for March or the highest prices touched in the market here since these deliveries were selling around the 17¼-cent level last September. The more urgent demand appeared to be supplied at these figures, and last prices were 6 to 10 points off from the best under realizing. Some southern selling was reported during the early trading but offerings from that source were said to be comparatively light later in the day. Private cables reported trade calling and covering with local and continental buying in Liverpool.

Exports today 16,014 making 3,218,485 so far this season. Port receipts 62,114. U. S. port stocks 2,214,850.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21. (AP)—The cotton market was active today and after extensive fluctuations prices at the close showed net gains of 16 to 22 points for the day. The census bureau report of ginning of 11,320,302 bales prior to Nov. 14 at first was construed as bullish and prices advanced 4 to 14 points from the opening but liberal liquidation of long interest and in December position caused a sharp decline which carried December down to 18.90, January to 19.00 and March to 19.08 or 20 to 22 points down from the early highs. Early Liverpool cables were 5 to 6 points better than due.

Late in the morning the market rallied slightly on a report showing bullish consumption figures and better spot demand. A sharp upturn occurred in the afternoon on active trade, speculative buying and price fixing, particularly in the December position. At the crest December reached 19.36, January 19.45 and March 19.55 or 45 to 47 points up from the morning lows.

Prices eased off 11 to 12 points in the final trading on realizing. December closed at 19.24, January at 19.34 and March at 19.44.

Port receipts, 62,114; for week, 251,995; for season, 5,271,994; last season, 4,903,537. Exports, 16,014; for week, 158,912; for season, 3,162,833; last season, 2,879,800. Stock Prices Drop Nominally In Another 6,000,000 Share Session

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (US)—Stocks sold off in another 6,000,000 share day today. At times drastic reaction appeared threatened, but support was thrown in when needed and except in the technically cornered stocks, the losses were confined to from 1 to 4 points.

Whispers that money powers would "apply the brakes" and fear of the showing to be made in the Federal Reserve statements tomorrow afternoon were the main influences to the heavier liquidation that made its appearance.

Growing belief that the unprecedented increase in volume of trading alone warranted corrective measures also influenced short selling by the more courageous professionals. Montgomery Ward lost 12 points net for the day while Radio, after reaching a new high in wild fluctuations closed at a net gain of 1 point.

Nickel was off 4½, General Motors 3½, Westinghouse 3, and American Smelting 5. Curtiss dropped 3¼ but Wright Aeroplane continued to climb to a new high record gaining 8 points for the session. Money held at 6½ per cent but floor brokers reported a lesser supply during the afternoon.

Report Is Awaited

The federal reserve report tomorrow afternoon is expected to give further reason for expecting more drastic action to check the speculative furore.

The money powers in applying the brakes have to be careful as too bad a smash in security prices would cause widespread nervousness throughout the business world. However, continuation of the orgy in stock speculation to the degree witnessed in recent weeks would have even more harmful effect on general business. It is folly to believe that the reserve has lost its power to control the money market and those who think so are likely to be convinced otherwise in the very near future.

Outside of the increasing demand for money for stock trading, there is no reason for tighter conditions in the money market until the middle of December. There has been some very wise profit taking, in industrials especially, in recent sessions and the reason therefore should be made plain before long.

Sinclair Goes Ahead

Sinclair started ahead in the morning as though it were going to repeat the performance staged on announcement of the investment therein by the Cutten group. News from Washington was the main incentive to the larger demand. Those in Sinclair have plans for expansion which for success require carrying out of the stabilization measures.

The program of stabilization has the sponsorship of the leaders of the industry but there is no individual more actively engaged therein than the head of Pan American Petroleum. While Sinclair and other oils slumped in the afternoon reaction, there was a good scale buying orders reported to be in the market.

In their search for the "special stocks" that would be best in time of the threatened reaction, many traders seized on Yellow Truck. Buying therein was largely based on expectation that the fourth quarter of this year would show the corporation working in the black, and mark the first of a series of periods of improving earnings.

Underwood was quietly absorbed by those who think it is out of line with other business machine stocks as earnings last month were the highest on record and further betterment is indicated.

The Iron Age in reporting increasing demand for first quarter delivery bolstered the steel shares for awhile. General Motors unsettlement caused nervousness in other automobile shares as in addition to entering a period of less active business there are devolpments behind the scenes not pleasing to market followers.

Cable advices from London will be watched with interest tomorrow morning as there is worry that the Bank of England will raise its rate. Such action would be the forerunner of an advance in the rate here.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 21. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Liberal hog receipts around the 11-market loop resulted in prices slumping to the lowest level of the season. Prices were generally 10 to 25c lower with some centers reporting a 25 to 50c decline on underweights. The day's top of $9.00 was paid at Chicago for two loads of strictly choice 230@240 pound butchers. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 123,900 as compared with 103,525 a week ago and 89,094 the same day last year.

Packers continued bearish toward most killing classes of cattle except low cutters and cutter cows. Beef steers, yearlings and fat she stock ruled weak to unevenly lower. Country demand for Colorado stockers was especially narrow with many buyers from Missouri showing a decided preference for kinds of southwest origin. Chicago had a top of $17.25 on strictly choice 1379-pound steers and secured $16.50 for best yearlings. Total offerings were around 40,000, a shortage of 10,500 from last Wednesday and about the same as a year ago.

Fat lambs received a price set back of 25@50c but no material change was registered on aged stock. Top lambs at Chicago brought $13.40. The supply was around 48,900 against 57,562 a week ago and 34,845 a year ago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 32,000; 10c to 15c lower; top $9; bulk 170 pounds-up $8.75@8.90; packing sows $7.75@8.25.

DANES FIND SUBSTITUTE FOR CALIFORNIA WINES

COPENHAGEN (AP)—California wine found a ready market in Denmark in the days prior to prohibition in the United States. The Danes liked the full flavor of California Burgundy, which, in their opinion, was superior to the French brands.

Chilean wines will probably take the place of the American product. Certain observers have traced their popularity to the fact that the Chilean ambassador, Harry Wessel's dinners have become famous for the quality of their wine.

Grain

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Big trading and prices that overtopped the season's record made corn today the grain market leader. Aggressive buying of corn future deliveries followed word that Germany has cut corn import duties in half and that this cut implies increased demand for United States corn during the next six months.

The corn market finished strong at the day's top level, 1¼@1⅝c a bushel net higher, with wheat ⅛@⅜c up, oats showing ⅜@⅝c advance, and provisions ranging from 10c decline to a raise of 5c.

Corn quickly began to ascend, almost as soon as trading commenced. Except for brief transient setbacks on account of intervals of profit taking, the market continued thereafter at a brisk rate upgrade.

Scantiness of receipts of corn in Chicago today, arrivals totaling only 94 cars, gave added momentum to the upward swing of the corn market. Besides, corn belt weather conditions were more or less unsatisfactory for accelerating the movement of corn, and the country was not offering freely. Meanwhile, stocks of corn here and at other important market centers are notably small, Omaha in particular advising that stocks of corn there amount to but 128,000 bushels compared with 1,719,000 bushels a year ago.

Wheat and oats borrowed strength from the corn market. There were also advices from Rosario Argentina, referring to unwelcome rains, and this was regarded as of significance in view of the fact that the Argentine wheat harvest is under way in sections north of Rosario. Winnipeg messages said lake shipments of 50,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat are to be made between now and the close of navigation.

Provisions averaged lower, influenced by a downturn in the value of hogs.

INTERNATIONAL PRINTING INK CORPORATION

Five-Year Record

The International Printing Ink corporation is a consolidation of the Ault and Wiborg companies of Ohio and New York, the Queen City Printing Ink company and Philip Ruxton, Inc., formed in May, 1928. The company has 13 ink plants in this country and control subsidiaries here and in England, Argentine and China. The company makes various kinds of printing inks and typewriter ribbons and carbon paper as well as varnish enamel and lacquer.

The earnings of the combined companies reached a high point in 1924, declining somewhat in the next two years and then recovering in 1927 to $1,694,470. This was equivalent to $24.21 a share on the present preferred and $4.98 a share on the present common.

Net income in the first six months of 1928 was $871,000 and for the next two months it is reported sales showed gains of about 10 per cent above those for the corresponding period of 1927. There is no funded debt. Capital stock outstanding includes $7,000,000 in six per cent cumulative preferred of $100 par and 256,022 shares of no par common. Preferred and common have equal voting power. The preferred carries warrants detachable after Dec. 31, 1928, entitling the holder to buy common at $60 a share in the ration of one common share for each two of preferred held. Initial dividends were started on Aug. 1, 1928, at the regular rate for the preferred and at 41 2-3 cents a share on the common. On Nov. 1, 62½ cents a share was paid.

The pro forma balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1927, giving effect to the reorganization showed total current assets of $7,971,277, current liabilities of $1,918,881, net working capital of $6,052,696 and book value of the common of $15.30 a share.

PERSIAN WOMEN REACH FOR GREATER LIBERTY

ISPAHAN, Persia. (AP)—Equal rights for Persian women has become the dominant question of public interest, with bewildering suddenness.

Reform projects are said to be ready for presentation at the next session of the Persian parliament. There is evidence that public opinion would welcome a change.

Persia, moreover, as the greatest all-Moslem state, would stimulate the movement toward the emancipation of women in all countries of the orient. The change has gained great momentum in Teheren, where it is no longer an uncommon thing for women to attend theatrical performances and enter cafes.

FRANCE DROPS BEHIND IN AIR FIELD GROWTH

LE BOURGET, France, (AP)—The world known flying field, immortalized in the United States by Lindbergh's epoch making flight from New York to Paris and up to a few years ago regarded as the finest in the world, is becoming too small to handle the French air traffic.

Croydon in England and Tempelhof in the heart of Berlin are acknowledged here to have left Le Bourget behind.

"It takes only two hours to fly from Paris to London," an American passenger said recently, "but it requires an hour to crawl from Paris to Le Bourget."

LECK DISTRICT MOST ACTIVE

Drillers Use All Speed In Race For Oil

Special to The Record News

WINK, Texas, Nov. 21.—The Leck pool is today the most active in new drilling operations in West Texas, according to the scouts.

Amerada No. 1 Leck has been making a remarkable number of oil and gas shows at various depths. It is now making 15,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day from the following depths' 2970-75, 2980-83, 2996-3000, and 3020-30 feet. It is now drilling ahead at 3035 with another increase in gas.

Amerada Nos. 2 and 3 Leck are down approximately 1200 feet.

All of the Empire Leck wells have set surface casing and are drilling at approximately 1100 feet.

Both of the Prairie Leck wells have spudded.

The Roxana on the Leck is drilling at approximately 700 feet.

It is rumored that the Texas Pacific is to make an important new location in the northeast corner of section 4, block 74, adjoining all of these Leck wells on the west. This T P. well is to determine whether the new Leck pool can jump the gusher area over to the west of present activities.

Fast Time Made

All of the Leck pool wells have been making unusually fast drilling time, with no serious accidents or fishing jobs causing protracted delays since the Gibson & Johnson discovery was brought in.

It is apparent, by the way the tool-pushers are speeding up all of crews working on the Leck, that the big companies drilling there are racing to get the new gusher production, and their field superintendents also figure that the well down first will establish channels of circulation that will keep the lion's share of flush production going to that hole. Special precautions are being taken at every drilling rig to avoid possible fishing jobs from now out.

Humble Pipeline company has extended its north line from the Hendricks pool to the Leck area and is prepared to handle all of the oil expected to come with a rush when half a dozen wells are completed within the coming week. By Friday and Saturday, the big gushers should be roaring in, focusing attention of the whole Wink district on the Leck pool. Fifteen tentative new locations outside of the present drilling areas have been spotted, and drilling equipment probably will start moving on very soon after the surveyors have made their measurements from side lines of the leases of the various companies holding stuff around there.

Magnolia-Scarborough Favorable

East of the Leck, near the old Lano test, in extreme northern Winkler county and near the Lea county line, a considerable distance northeast of the Hendricks pool, Magnolia No. 1 Scarborough hit some lime at 2365 feet. It looks favorable to hit any line at that depth. And though the lime encountered was not the big lime, the present condition is quite encouraging, and the Magnolia may open production here.

Midway between the Leck area on the north and the Hendricks on the south, the important wildcat Cranfill & Reynolds No. 1-F, upon which the fate of about seven miles of intermediate territory depends, is shut down at 2900 feet in anhydrite and red rock, an admitted failure as far as the upper pay is concerned. It is located in section 16, block 26. The surface elevation at that point is 2875 feet. The well is still running lower than had been expected.

Deep Test Is Failure In Coleman District

Special to The Record News

COLEMAN, Texas, Nov. 21.—One of Coleman county's deep tests, Howard Samuell and associates No. 1 J. B. Pitts, J. Johnson survey, four miles west of Coleman, is being plugged a dry hole at 2,500 feet, contract depth. A show of gas, estimated at 50,000 cubic feet, was found at 3110-90 feet.

Another of the county's deep tests, Independent Oil and Gas company's No. 1 Featherstone, southeast corner section 52, G. H. & H. railway survey, 15 miles north of Coleman, has been shut down for a fishing job at 4300 feet. A showing of oil, encountered at 4225 feet, was drilled through.

Continental Et Al Get Producer in Coleman

Special to The Record News

COLEMAN, Texas, Nov. 21.—Continental-Anzac Sealy-Smith No. 2, section 13, G. H. & H. railway survey, eight miles southwest of Coleman, topping the upper Overall pay at 1604 feet several days ago, is now making 15 barrels of oil daily, according to officials of the company. The well was put on the pump at a total depth of 1614 feet.

E. W. Price No. 1 Stickney Lefevre northeast corner section 70, G. H. & H. railway survey, half-mile south of the new Sealy-Smith producer, is being plugged as a dry hole at 2395 feet, after missing the Overall pay. A showing of oil was found at 1634-40 feet.

Fisher County Test Looks Promising

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Nov. 21.—That the good fortune which smiled on the Huconey Oil company in the Tiner field in Jones county is following the company into Fisher county now looms as likely, due to the prospects which are encouraging drillers on the company's E. F. Mayberry No. 1 about one mile east of Sylvester.

The test late last week encountered a gas formation at around 2745 feet. On account of the log running some 54 feet high on the sub-surface unusual interest is being manifested upon the part of the oil fraternity generally.

GAS ENCOUNTERED

Special to The Record News

COLEMAN, Texas, Nov. 21.—Gas, estimated at 6,000,000 cubic feet, was encountered in the Ross Drilling company's No. 1 Hays, Bond and Sanders survey No. 82, mile south of the Jennings pool, it was reported here Tuesday.

ATWELL WAITS JURY REPORT

Judge Clears Docket Of Minor Cases

Judge W. H. Atwell cleared the United States district court docket of misdemeanor cases before noon Wednesday and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon adjourned the court to wait the findings of the federal grand jury in its report at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

$5,200 in Fines

Eighteen additional convictions and the only acquittal of the session so far Wednesday morning disposed of the "information" beer cases and left the way clear for the handling of the felony trials immediately after the report of the grand jury. More than 100 cases were dealt with in the three day session, 22 defendants were given jail sentences and $5,200.10 in fines were imposed. Of the few cases which were contested, only one defendant, C. W. McDaniel, negro, was cleared by the jury.

The government has been represented so far by E. Crippen, assistant district attorney. Mrs. Sarah Menezes, the other assitsant district attorney, has been in charge of the grand jury investigations and will handle the felony cases. Court officials expect the findings of the grand jury to be light. Among the most important investigations said to be under way is a review of a $53,000 mail robberv on the Texas and Pacific railroad.

Both the heaviest and the lightest sentences of the entire term were assessed Wednesday morning. Alfred Jennings, convicted on four counts, drew a 75 day jail sentence.

Ten Cent Fine

Young Elmer Coffelt of King county, who told the court he was 19 years old and had already been in jail 46 days on a possession charge, was told to give the marshal 10 cents and go free. Coffelt said he had been unable to make a $500 bond.

Wednesday morning's session resulted in the following sentences: Clarence Peters, $100 and car forfeiture; Bill Cook, bond foreitture; Roy Gilbert, $75 and car forfeiture; R. B. Gunn, $125 and car forfeiture; O. C. Heither, $150 and car forfeiture; Roy Piaster, $150 and car forfeiture; Paul Hunter, 40 days and car forfeiture; O. R. Tetmeyer, $30; Alfred Jennings, 75 days; Ed Williams, $125; Sarah McDaniel, 30 days; R. Tiver, bond forfeiture; Bailey Williams, $125; Genevieve Ellise, 30 days dated back five days; Mrs. Joe Chambers, $150; Elmer Coffelt, 10 cents; Bennie Hall, $5; E. P. Vaughn, $75, and N. G. Bagley, $250.

Hoover's Visit Thrills Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Official Brazil is so interested in the coming visit of Herbert Hoover that it wishes to welcome him in several states of the republic and to entertain him as a guest of the government during his stay.

Circles close to the administration of President Washington Luis said today that the chief executive had expressed the view that Mr. Hoover's visit to the Sao Paulto coffee district would be most important from the standpoint of Brazilian growers. He also was quoted as expressing the hope that the president-elect of the United States might prolong his stay beyond the time that present plans contemplate.

Wolf Hunters to Stage Another Two-Day Chase

Special to The Record News

NEWPORT, Texas, Nov. 21.—The Cross Timbers Wolf Hunters association will stage their annual hunt Firday and Saturday nights, Nov. 23 and 24, three miles west of Newport at the Antioch school house. Citizens of Newport and Post Oak communities will entertain members of the association on both nights with a barbecue of goat and beef, bread, pickles and hot coffee around a huge campfire. Plenty of good music will be furnished through the night for those that remain around the camp fire. Cards have been sent out to all members and 100 dogs are expected to be entered for the chase on both nights. This is the place where the association staged a big chase on Saturday night, Nov. 10, the dogs catching a big gray wolf that weighed 60 pounds after a hot chase that lasted six hours.

Order of Arrow To Hold Meet Friday

Local Boy Scout headquarters announced Wednesday that the Order of the Arrow will meet at the Y. W. C. A. rooms Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

This organization is a fraternity open to honor campers in the scout ranks, and now has a membership of about 23 in this district.

Friday's meeting will be marked by giving of the first degree to two members, and will be in charge of Taylor Cash, Electra Boy Scout master.

Next Saturday, the entire day will be test day at scout headquarters in Memorial auditorium.

Today { At the Theaters

MAJESTIC: Anatole Friedland heading a Keith-Albee-Orpheum vaudeville program. On the screen: Matt Moore and Alice Day in "Phyllis of the Follies." Comedy. Paramount news.

STRAND: Last times of Audrey Ferris and William Collier Jr., in "Beware of Bachelors," a vitaphone show. Pathe news. Two vitaphone shorts.

MISSION: Last times of Gloria Swanson in "Sadie Thompson." Comedy.

OLYMPIC: Last times of Phyllis Haver in "The Wise Wife," and also of the Zippity Zip company's show "In Hollywood."

GARDEN: "Ladies Night in a Turkish Bath." Comedy.

◇ ◇ ◇

Fred Ewen, who is known to many Wichitans and remembered for his work in front of the footlights at the Mission theater last season when musical tabloid shows were being presented there, is coming back Friday.

◇ ◇ ◇

Fred will join Lillian Murry, Elmer Wright and their Zippity Zip company at the Olympic theater Friday in the opening of a new show called "Old Folks." In "Old Folks," Fat Wyles will play the part of an old man and Miss Murry will play the part of an old woman. Elmer Wright, as usual, will play the part the folks like best—that of Elmer Wright.

◇ ◇ ◇

There is a romance of modern note for the Strand theater opening Friday on the vitaphone. It is Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky in "The Two Lovers." The show made a good record back in Al Smithville, and we are willing to say in advance it must be a pretty fair bill to get the okeh of the world's hardest boiled "critiques" in New York.

◇ ◇ ◇

The name of Anatole Friedland, composer and night club merry merry artist, headlines the Majestic's new vaudeville bill opening Thursday. He will have a regular revue with him. Jack Waldon, Leblanc and Ducharm, Lucille Hayes, Al Jockers, Thelma Harris, Belle Davey, Miriam Heider, Muriel Harrison, Joy Findlay, Peggy Fay, Evelyn Kearney, Mel Elwood, Allan Sterling and Gus the Waiter are among the artists and acts announced on the bill.

Alice Day and Matt Moore in "Phyllis of the Follies." is the screen attraction along with a short comedy and the Paramount news.

◇ ◇ ◇

Thursday is the last chance to laugh at the whoopee show, "Beware of Bachelors," a talkie, at the Strand theater.

◇ ◇ ◇

Looking ahead just a bit and listening to Manager Charlie Moorehead of the Mission, the public will learn that John Barrymore is going to be at the Mission in "The Beloved Rogue" next Tuesday and Wednesday. Shows don't cost quite so much at the Mission, and they are rather good.

Grading and Drainage For Oklahoma Roads

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 21. (UP)—Only grading and drainage work is expected to be let by the state highway commission in December, J. G. Parker Jr., vice chairman of the commission, said today.

The commission in session today, discussed the closing of gaps in state highway paving, but took no action. The gaps are in the Oklahoma City-Shawnee highway north of Memphis, from Covington east to connect with highway 77 and highway 77 between Perry and Marland.

Escaped Alligator Is Found Near Newport

Special to The Record News

NEWPORT, Texas, Nov. 21.—The big alligator that disappeared from Coyle lake early last fall when the drouth caused the water in the lake to get low has been located about three miles from the lake at a big water hole that is fed from a spring in the mountains. An effort made to catch the alligator and bring him back to the lake was unsuccessful as the animal had crawled beneath two large boulders and could not be caught.

Art Company to Open Wichita Store Nov. 24

Stock is being unloaded and the store being put in readiness for the opening of the Oriental Art company, a new local enterprise, at 813 Indiana avenue, on Nov. 24.

The new firm, it was said, will display an extensive line of Japanese and other art pieces from the Orient. Many of these items were included in exhibits at Philadelphia two years ago at the sesqui-centennial exposition, it was stated by owners of the new business.

JUDGE DENIES DAMAGE CLAIM

Boyle Suit Against Morgan Ruled Out

In an instructed verdict Wednesday morning, Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court denied $3,000 damages sought by Mr. and Mrs. James Boyle against Frank Morgan, et al, on grounds of alleged false arrest.

The case originated last May when Boyle was acquitted on a charge of the theft of $28 worth of bed-clothing. At that time Jim Rogers, special deputy constable, was held by Judge C. M. McFarland as not properly commissioned to execute search of the Boyle home. Judge Martin Wednesday ruled that an officer holding a valid warrant and believing himself properly commissioned, serving a warrant in good faith, can not be held liable for civil damages for his actions under such authority.

Naval recruits from the Wichita Falls district during November included Luther Mayes and Lyman S. Ward of Wichita Falls, A. F. Clayton, naval recruiting officer, announced Wednesday. Edwin E. McCafferty of Borger and Robert E. Hall of Iowa Park were also enlisted.

The four young men have been sent to the United States naval training station at San Diego, Calif., for eight weeks' training.

New port Farmer Is Champion Cotton Grower

Special to The Record News

NEWPORT, Texas, Nov. 21.—Jim Farmer, prominent farmer and stockman, three miles north of Newport is the champion cotton grower this year of Clay county. Mr. Farmer gathered in spite of the weevils and worms 49 bales of cotton from 112 acres of land. No fertilizer was used and the cotton was of the Half and Half variety and planted in April and was not sprayed for insect ravages.

SMIDDY TO REPRESENT IRELAND AT LONDON

DUBLIN, Nov. 21. (UP)—Timothy A. Smiddy, Irish Free State minister to Washington, has been appointed Free State high commissioner to London, Patrick McGilligan, foreign minister, announced in the dail today.

It was said on good authority that Sen Murphy, secretary to the foreign ministry, would succeed Smiddy in Washington.

NEW AIRPLANE ARRIVES HERE

Air Transport Heads To Decide on Line

The new four-passenger Stinson monoplane of the Wichita Falls Air Transport company, flown from Detroit by Dudley Rider, accompanied by three other Wichitans as passengers, landed at the company's field on the Henrietta road before noon Wednesday.

Officials of the company said Wednesday afternoon announcements would be made within the next few days regarding the proposed daily passenger service to and from Dallas, for which purpose the new ship was purchased.

The new five-plane, 40x120 hangar, which has been under construction for some time at the field is nearing completion, and is expected to be ready by the end of this week.

R. C. Schroeder, factory representative of the Eaglerock Airplane company, who has been in the city for 10 days, left Wednesday by plane for Dallas.

Burkburnett School Faculty to Give Play

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Nov. 21.—Friday evening, Nov. 23, the Burkburnett faculty will present "The Old School at Hickory Holler." This play takes us back to "ye olden times" when the school master spared not the rod. It is an amusing entertainment, depicting the manners and dress of the boys and girls of a one-teacher school of 50 years ago. The play is being given under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher association, and the proceeds will be used to buy fiction for the high school library.

Son of Leo Tolstoy To Speak in Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Nov. 21. (INS)—County Ilya Tolstoy, son of the famous Russian novelist, Leo Tolstoy, will lecture at Texas Christian University here Nov. 27 on the subject, "Leo Tolstoy, His Life and Teachings." Count Tolstoy is making the American tour on the hundredth anniversary of the birth of his father.

He comes to interpret to America the philosophy of the elder Tolstoy and to speak of the results of the Bolshevist revolution in Russia 11 years ago.

ALLEY NEARLY READY

Wichita Falls' steepest alley, which has been made less and less steep each day for the past month, is to receive a coat of rough cement Thursday.

The alley, which runs from the rear of the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital to Seventh street immediately in front of the new Memorial auditorium, was almost impassable until about a month ago when the hospital decided to have it paved.

E. A. DEGREES CONFERRED

Entered Apprentice degrees were conferred upon two candidates Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock at a meeting of Wichita Falls lodge No. 635, A. F. and A. M., in the Masonic temple at Tenth street and Scott avenue, according to George W. Lawler, secretary.

Lions Speaker Tells of Training Journalists for Papers in China

Assisting in the training of journalists for the rapidly increasing number of progressive daily papers in China is the calling of Vernon Nash, who addressed the Lions club at its weekly luncheon Wednesday.

Mr. Nash went from Kansas City to China for the purpose of establishing a school of journalism. He has just completed an additional year's work in the school of journalism at Missouri university and plans to leave within a few weeks for five more years work with future Chinese journalists.

There are now more than 1000 daily newspapers in China, the speaker declared, with an urgent demand for trained newspaper men. American publishers, he said, already have given more than $30,000 to aid the work of his school, to which Missouri university also has voted its aid.

Since going to China, Mr. Nash has organized two Lions clubs, the first to be formed outside of continental North America.

W. S. Curlee spoke in behalf of city zoning here.

JURY ACQUITS ELECTRA BOY

He Faced Charge of Attacking Mother-in-Law

After less than five minutes deliberation, a jury in Judge C. M. McFarland's county court Wednesday morning found Gerald Gillum, 19, Electra school boy, not guilty of simple assault against his mother-in-law, Mrs. R. P. Prince.

The defendant was tried on charges of aggravated assault, but Judge McFarland first ruled out the more serious charge in his instructions to the jury and later defined the limits of simple assault. The verdict of not guilty followed immediately. Gillum was accused of having struck and kicked his mother-in-law in his efforts to eject her from his home in Electra on Thursday of last week. Similar charges, concerned with his alleged treatment of Miss Vera Prince, his sister-in-law, are not expected to come to trial, court officials said.

WATCH FOR THIS MOST USEFUL SHOPPING GUIDE!

From December 1 until the day before Christmas, there will be a special heading in the Classified Section known as the Shop-o-scope, consisting of a wide variety of Christmas Gift Suggestion ads.

Wichita Falls people have found the classified ads indispensable in saving time and money throughout the year, and the Daily Times and Record News Classified Department, with the co-operation of leading merchants, is going to present a holiday shopping service that will enable everybody to do their Christmas shopping more pleasantly and more economically than ever before.

Shopping in the stores is far more satisfactory when you know just what you want and just where you can get it. That is where the Shop-o-scope will come in handy. Under its interesting headings of "Gifts for Her," "Gifts for Him," "Gifts for the Children," "Gifts for the Home," "Gifts for Everyone" and "Dinner and Decorations," everything that helps add to Christmas cheer will be listed alphabetically, with details, prices and the names of the shops.

Thousands of holiday shoppers will turn to the Shop-o-scope columns for practical ideas as to what to give and where to get it. You just can't afford to start out to do your shopping without first reading over the better-than-average offers which will be made by the representative stores in order to win a personal visit from you.
