

THE GREAT FROG RACE - Tullie Struve and Bobby Ramage, descendants of Olton area pioneers, the late Mr. and Mrs. George Struve, are getting set for the frog races in the Sandhills Celebration Aug. 2. The celebration is planned for old-timers and present day residents and offers a fun time for all at the activities "on the square."

Sandhills Celebration Events Revealed

A new tradition is being born in Olton. Sandhills Celebration, a reunion of old timers and a day of old-fashioned fun, will get underway Saturday, Aug. 2 and is expected to be an annual affair.

Gala happenings will be launched with a 10 a.m. parade down Main Street. Lack of time has resulted in no floats being planned for the parade which will feature antique vehicles, bike riders, walkers, horseback riders and any other impromptu entries. Wendell Potts and Robert Sivley are parade directors.

Three gracious ladies will judge the beard contest which will be held immediately following the parade. That contest and other events of the day, will be held "On the Square" where a giant tent is to be erected.

Prevaricaters will be spotlighted next with Dr. Travis Hart presiding over the liar's contest. Dr. Hart, pastor of First Baptist Church, is not expected to be a determent to the abilities of several erstwhile contestants.

Olton Lions Club will be cooking dinner that day. Charcoaled "Lion-burgers" will be made to order on the Square. Serving will begin about mid-morning for early diners and will continue till the last hunger pain has been eased. Cokes and other soft drinks will also be sold.

After a lunch break, festivities will resume with a cow chip slinging contest. That will be followed by a rub board washing contest for the ladies.

Olton's own Sharla Nicholas, named runner-up in the Miss West Texas Pageant July 4th, will entertain with a repeat of her talent performance in the pageant, a twirling routine.

Mrs. Archie Sorley is in charge of the pioneer recognition program which will begin at 2:10 p.m. Special recognition will be given to the resident living in Olton the longest time, person traveling the farthest to attend and to the oldest attending man and woman.

Fiddles will tune up and competition for the younger set, including a frog race. (Youngsters must bring their own frogs.) Little ones will scramble in a haystack in a riotous search for hidden coins supplied by Olton State Bank.

Yesteryear's entertainment will offer old time fun of pitching horseshoes to determine the champion tosser.

During the day - weather permitting - thrill seekers may enjoy a lift to the sky over Olton in a hot air balloon. Bill Anderson of Miller Flying Service in Plainview will bring a giant hot air balloon to the city for this excitement.

There'll be square dancing on the streets Saturday evening beginning at 8:30 p.m. All "watchers" are asked to bring their own folding chairs for this event.

Finnish Girl Visiting In Noack Home Here

Leena Aunela, an unassuming little blonde from Finland, is visiting in the home of the Leon Noack's, as an exchange student in the Lion's Club program.

She is the seventeen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Veikko Aunela of Porvoo, Finland. Her hometown, of about 20,000 population, is near Helsinki, at the southern tip of the nation.

Leena describes her hometown as "very pretty". It is located near a river, and it sits beside an arm of the Baltic Sea. She is accustomed to much water in this land of many lakes, and she also states, "We have lots of rain in the summer." This is in great contrast to our vicious hot, dry season but she enthusiasticly says, "This is the hottest weather that I have ever seen - but I love it. Our summer weather is usually about 75 degrees."

Located in the southern portion of Finland her area is not subjected to the long dark winter days commonly associated with Finland. She thinks their winter days darken at about 4:30 p.m. and daylight arrives at about 8:30 a.m. Summer days darken at about 10 p.m. and daylight appears about 4 a.m.

In summer weather she states that shorts are acceptable but it is not warm enough to make them necessary. For winter, of course, very heavy clothing is worn.

Summer sports include swimming, especially at the lakes and beaches. She also enjoys sailing. Living as she does on an archipelago she loves to watch the ships sailing on the sea dotted with small islands. Ocassionally she is privileged to enjoy this sport also.

Winter sports, of course, include skiing and skating. She and her family ski in forest areas, but she prefers skating, "even if we have to push the snow off of the ice to skate. Her nation has many fine skiiers and she is anxiously awaiting the opportunity for Juha Nieto (her idol as a well known skiier) to prove his skills in Olympic competition.

During autumn months, Leena says, they sometimes have heavy winds. At that time the sea turns very black and looks threatening.

Her father, Veikko, is manager of a crayon company. Her mother, Lilli, is a teacher in secondary education.

She has three brothers, Anto, is 27 years of age. A student of economics, he is now married and his wife studied medicine. Jorma, who is 25 years old is presently a university student, studying therapy. Urpo, who is 21, is still at home. Leena, presently an eleventh grader, will have one more year at home and she explains, "I plan to go to school for higher education...almost everybody does. We all need to learn some trade, I am still not decided about what I want to do. I would like to study medicine, for I like to help people."

She says that hers is a family that likes to be together. She says they have a cottage near a lake where they have some wonderful times together. Last Christmas they had a family outing there, when all the family was present. It was a good time to remember. The lake was frozen and it was very cold..."we could not be out more than an hour or two at a time." Her father and mother ski, but neither of them skate.

This trip is not Leena's first time to be away from home. Six years ago, when she was only 11 years of age, she spent a month with a family in England. At that time she got very homesick, but she has not that difficulty this time.

Leena speaks English, with frequent use of her dictionary. She states that she has had eight years of English in school, and now wishes she had studied a little harder, that she might have better usage of the language.

Last year a girl from the state of New York visited in her home as a Lion's Exchange Student. This gave her a desire to make such a visit to America. She had hoped to come over next summer, but a friend of her father's invited her to become an exchange student this summer, and she could not resist the temptation.

She came to New York June 24, with a flight of 300 such travelers. Only three were allowed to come to Texas, although many more wanted to be sent to this state. One other girl was sent to Sundown and a boy to Brownfield. They are all due to meet again in New York, Aug. 6.

As a gift to her host family she brought a plaque which features a loaf of bread and some salt. Bread and salt are significant gifts, often used to give new neighbors as an indication of 'blessing the new home'.

She also brought a loaf of rye bread, standard food in her homeland. The round loaf is very hard and dry...but she explains it is served quite hard and crusty.

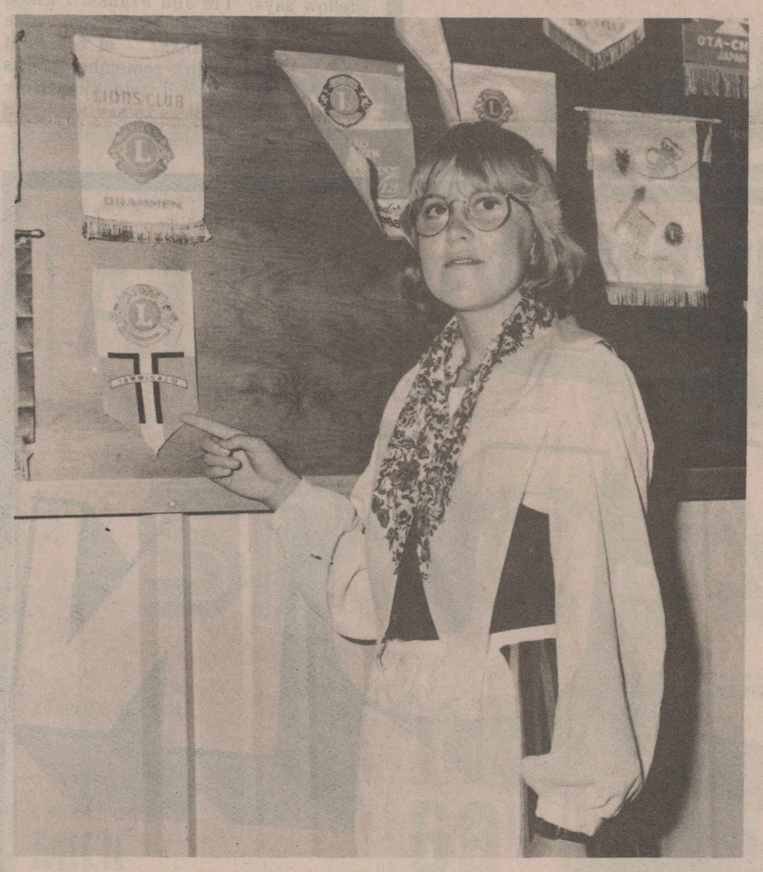

Leena does not mind walking across town. She laughs, "We do not ride so much as you people do here. Many people walk to work or ride a bicycle. Each family, at home, has only one car, and they are smaller than your cars here."

She is very pleased that she has gotten to see "so much of Texas." She has visited Lubbock and Seminole. And the Noack family has taken her to Lake Texhoma, to Childress and to Wichita Falls. She thinks she remembers seeing the results of the terrible Wichita Falls tornado on television at her home.

Now she is looking forward to seeing part of Oklahoma. She attended a meeting of youth at First Baptist Church, and they have invited her to accompany them as they make a Choir tour into that state. She is excitedly hoping that she will get a glimpse of a "real Indian".

Leena is not a member of the Baptist Church, but her faith is similar. She is very pleased to be associated with these young people, she likes the music very much and hopes that she can be of help with lighting during the programs.

She comments, "When I first came over, I thought six weeks was a very long time...but it has gone too quickly. I have enjoyed my visit so much. All the people have been so friendly. I would like to come back to the United States sometime in the future...but because of the distance I cannot make such plans."

LIONS CLUB EXCHANGE STUDENT - Miss Leena Aunela represents her native Finland at a recent noon meeting of the club. Wearing a native costume of her homeland she indicates the Finnish emblem as it hangs among a group of emblems of International Club.

COW POKES — By Ace Reid

Everything But The Kitchen Sink!

By Mozelle Trotter

It was a "toad-ally" new experience! How could I have made it past the half-century mark and never have played with frogs?

"Frogs will make warts," they said. That wasn't what made me leave the little critters alone. It's just I never had the frog urge.

Frantically working my Grey Matter this week for a photo idea to promote the Sandhills Celebration, I came up with the thought - a boy and his frog - getting ready for the frog race. Not such a bad idea - everyone likes pictures of kids!

First thing to do, of course, after persuading busy, busy parents to bring their little sons into town, was to get my prop - a frog. That seemed simple enough, I'd spotted one just that morning in the cool of my squash patch.

Off on my safari, I did immediately locate Mr. Frog. Trouble was, I didn't really want to touch him. But then, neither did he want me touching him.

Squat, reach -- whoops, missed him. Hop, hop. Get up, move closer, squat, reach. So goes the hunt. Poor squash!

Mr. Frog had never come up against such a stubborn, determined predator. With the help of my big paper bag "cage," I finally cornered him so that his helplessness turned into my success. Poor creature, he objected so!

Now having seen the TV show "That's Incredible" this week, thoughts raced through my head. "I'll train him - if someone else can stroke a frog's tummy and make him lie still on his back or do tricks, I ought to be able to teach him to race."

Just remembering that momentary touch of his flesh when I caught him was persuasion enough to discourage further pursuit of that. Let the little fellas have him, I decided.

All the more, I appreciate some little graffiti written on a tiny plaque, "If it weren't for little boys, frogs would go unappreciated."

"You'll have to kiss a lot of toads before you meet the handsome prince." --Who wants to marry royalty?

Mercy me! Is that a wart I see?

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Thoroughly enjoy the Enterprise. Reading all the names of the people I grew up with and what they're doing and etc., but am sorry to read about those who have passed on.

To tell Olton how small a world we live in - read this: I travel and in my area I call on Oil Industrail accounts. In Giddings, Texas, population about 2700 I walk in, introduce myself and this fellow says, "I'm Jim Franks. I asked "Are you from Olton and is your name James Eldon Franks?" - of course it was - but he didn't remember me as Wayne, but when I told him Greer Dellis, well, needless to say we had a good chat. Although we hadn't seen each other in 40 years, his facial expression and smile were the same. He's supposed to come to Houston soon, so am sure we will live old times.

By the time you get this Louise and I will be on our way for a vacation cruise to Puerto Plata in the Caribbean, San Juan and St. Thomas, V.I. - needless to say I am ready for it and from all whom I've talked to, that have been on a cruise, it's terrific!

I've noticed that a lot of Oltonites live where I travel, so I make notes - I go to the Valley, Dallas-Ft. Worth, Waco, San Antonio, Austin, El Paso, New Mexico - sometimes I have time to call, sometimes I don't.

The paper this week shows the clock that was in Mr. Webb's office. I've been there and I've seen it. Trembling, of course, especially when one of the Hedges boys (not the twins) threw a torpedo against the wall while Miss Wells was out of the study hall - she walked in just after it happened. Apparently I had a guilty look on my face, I knew who threw it - but, guess who goes to the office - me!!

Memories - oh memories - one of these days I'll come for a visit.

INSUR-MATION

My roof was damaged by hail and I had it repaired. If it leaks after another storm will this additional damage be covered by my insurance?

If you have all ready collected on one roof repair necessitated by a storm, you must prove through receipts, etc., that the roof was in fact repaired by a reputable repairman. This would qualify you for collecting from your insurance should another storm cause a leak. If your certification of repair is in order, the insurance company would look at the cost of repairs as necessitated by two separate catastrophes. However, in order for your insurance to pay for the damage caused by the second storm, the deductible must once again be met. It is important to notify your company as soon as possible after such damages are incurred.

Good news is best when it works out to be good for everyone. Such was the case early this summer when the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Sciences issued a new report on dietary recommendations. Their report meant good news for both producers and consumers because it essentially said there is little if any cause for concern about the relationship between heart disease and cancer and dietary considerations. According to the prestigious panel of 15 top scientists, the only reason for a healty person to lower fat or cholesterol intake is to lose weight. Among notable quotes from the report ... "Food should be eaten and enjoyed" ... "The excellent state of health of the American people ... could not have been achieved unless most people made wise food choices". Truely a "good news" report for everyone.

CLEO ARCHER

Recipe Revue

By Mozelle Trotter

The whir of a sewing machine motor is a familiar sound in the home of Cleo Archer of Kerens. An artist with seams, Cleo has been visiting here with her sister, Era Maye Walthall.

Accepting the total responsibility of rearing her son, James Keith, when he was just a little boy, Cleo began working at a trade she knew well -- sewing. Countless hours were spent at her sewing machine and she became a familiar sight to neighbors and passers-by as she stitched near the window of her East Texas home.

"Saw you sewing close to midnight," a neighbor was apt to recall the next day.

James Keith went on from high school to earn bachelor and master's degrees in college. He received a doctorate in nuclear chemistry from Texas A&M University and today is dean at Austin Community College's Rio Grande campus.

When an old family friend at Kerens expressed her pride in James Keith, he answered, "There are a lot of stitches in this."

Cleo bought her first sewing machine in time to sew her own maternity clothes. That portable Singer lasted her well so that when it came time to buy a new one, the salesman told her it was the most worn out of any he'd seen.

Sewing for the public and being an expert seamstress, Cleo soon had enough regular customers that there was no time for others. Those women were crushed when she announced it had come time for her retirement.

Through the years of sewing, she has made just about everything, including a wedding dress and gowns for all the attendants of that bride. She also became expert at tailoring and made most of James Keith's suits, up until he finished college.

Perhaps the most unique work she turned out was a king's costume, resplendent with "jewels" and including his crown and staff.

Becoming a football fan when James Keith played in high school, Cleo says she loves the game and is a special follower of the Cowboys and Oilers.

Cleo's pride in her son encompasses the girl he made her daughter. That pride is revealed when Cleo speaks of Patricia's accomplishments. She too, has earned a doctor's degree.

Typical grandmotherly love is evident when Cleo talks about thirteen-year-old Suzanne and seven-year-old Jeffery.

During her visit here, Cleo has learned to crochet and is excited over the afghan which she has begun. She anticipates lots of pleasure from the new craft.

Born and reared in Kerens, Cleo has continued to make that her home. She has been "honorary mother" to nieces and nephews who, as Era Maye says, "go to her for 'mothering'." She is a faithful member of First Baptist Church in Kerens.

Cleo shares recipes for a delectable dessert and for other good eating.

Three Classes Meet In Reunion

Dozens of Olton grads gathered during a recent weekend to recall "the days of yore."

Re-enacting events of the roaring fifties, members of the classes of '54, '55 and '56 assembled in mid-afternoon July 4 in community room of Olton State Bank for registration and coffee.

Those interested in doing so made a tour of the hallowed halls of Olton High School to note improvements and recall long forgotten incidents.

Ex-students joined other visitors and area residents at the holiday barbecue served during evening hours at Olton Recreation Center. Hosting the event were members of Olton Women's Golf Association.

The mid-fifty classes assembled Saturday afternoon in Community Agriculture Building to visit, compare pictures and after much thought and consideration to name, by secret ballot, eleven recipients for awards from each of the three classes.

All awards were presented during the catered banquet held during the evening hours.

Northwest Texas Shorthorn Field Day Held July 12

Approximately 45 people attended the northwest Texas Shorthorn/Polled Shorthorn field day Saturday, July 12. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. J.O. Bass III of MJ Shorthorns, Plainview.

Four classes of breeding stock were judged in the morning. The official placings were made by Dr. John McNeil, Beef Cattle Specialist, Amarillo; Ollie Liner, Extension Agent-Hale County; and James McAnear, 7 M Shorthorns, Clarendon. High point junior was Jason Stroud, Plainview. He had the overall high score and received a Polled Shorthorn belt buckle and Shorthorn frisbee. Second place junior was Sheila Acker, Nazareth. High point senior was Jeff Harrell, Plainview. He was member of the high placing senior team - Hale County 4-H composed of Harrell, Davis Kerns and John Young. Second place senior was Jamie McAnear, Clarendon. Winner of the adult division was Robert Dahl, Gruver. He received a Polled Shorthorn belt buckle and donated his winning share of the pot (adult entry fee) to the Texas Junior Shorthorn Association. Second place adult was Cordell Green of Brownfield.

Dr. John McNeil, Beef Cattle Specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, presented a slide presentation on improved management techniques. He covered estros synchronization and using Lutalyse in an artificial insemination program; feed additives for improving yearling weights, minerals and vitamins essential for a cow herd, and testing pasture grasses for mineral content. He also discussed the officials on the classes judged, and responded to questions and comments.

Miss Lisa McAnear, National Shorthorn Lassie Queen, from Clarendon reported on the World Shorthorn Congress during the picnic lunch. The Congress was held in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, July 3-10 with approximately 400 in attendance. She was a guest of the Canadian Shorthorn Association. She said there were eleven member nations, including the American Shorthorn Association and the Canadian Association; and that several associations required their members to have certain number of registered stock and to have a show string. She noted the Canadian Association accepts Lincoln Red cattle in their herd book, while the American group does not. Miss McAnear observed that the Canadian Shorthorns are a heavier body type than most U.S. show winners this past year, and they lack the height and scale of her cattle. She concluded by saying that the American Shorthorn Association will host the next Congress, scheduled for summer of 1983, with possible site of Louisville, Ky.

During the afternoon, a meeting of the Big Country (west Texas Shorthorn Association was held. Luke Acker, president opened the meeting, with Cordell Green, secretary, giving a report of the last meeting and the financial standing. Mary Bass, secretary of the Texas Shorthorn Association, reported on a meeting of area breeders held last March. The group voted to retain the association, but to work closely with the 5-State Shorthorn Association and the Texas Shorthorn Association.

Cordell Green, Brownfield, was elected president for 1980-81, and Luke Acker, Nazareth, was elected vice-president. Mrs. Fred Acker, Route D, Nazareth, was elected secretary-treasurer. Directors elected include J.O. Bass III, Plainview; Morgan Dennis, Dimmitt; Jimmy Harmon, Tulia; and Dale Hart, Friona.

In other business, Mr. Green mentioned the Curry County Fair, Clovis, N.M. the week following Labor Day, and urged members to exhibit animals. He also urged members to exhibit in the Tri-State Fair, Amarillo, Sept. 15-20. The members voted to have a Dutch-treat supper for all Shorthorn exhibitors and area breeders following the Shorthorn Show, Sept. 18, at Sutphen's Restaurant, Amarillo. The group also decided to look into a possible exhibit of Shorthorns at the Floyd County Fair, Lockney, in September.

Following the meeting, the group journeyed by cars and trucks for a tour of the M J Shorthorns cow herd. On hand for the field day and tour was G.M. Kahoa, Oakridge Farm, Cheyenne, Okla., vice-president of the Oklahoma Shorthorn Association.

Electric Cooperatives Establish Scholarship

Eleven electric cooperatives in the Panhandle and South Plains have joined to establish the West Texas State University Electric Cooperative Scholarship Fund with a gift of $13,750.

Interest from the endowment will be used to provide scholarships each year to majors in agriculture, accounting, computer information systems and management.

The cooperatives include Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association; Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, Inc.; Dickens Electric Cooperative, Inc.; Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Inc.; Lamb County Electric Cooperative, Inc.; Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Inc.; Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, Inc.; North Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc.; Rita Blanca Electric Cooperative, Inc.; South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc.; and Swisher Electric Cooperative, Inc.

According to the fund agreement, the donors will make annual contributions to the West Texas State University Foundation on or before Sept. 1 of each year.

Each donor will contribute a minimum of $250 until that cooperative has awarded $1,250.

Scholarship recipients will be selected on a merit basis by a committee which includes the dean of the WTSU School of Business, dean of the School of Agriculture, and two faculty members each from the business and agriculture faculties.

Lyle Robinson, general manager of the Swisher Electric Cooperative, Inc., of Tulia, which serves portions of six counties, said he believes the cooperatives and WTSU are members of the same community.

"We appreciate WT," said Robinson, who has been with the coop for 21 years. He said students who leave the rural areas to attend colleges and universities in larger towns and cities often do not return to their home areas.

"We need the young people who love small communities and we feel that many of these will be coming from WT," he said. "We need to bring people back to the rural towns."

Representatives of cooperatives in Texas, eastern New Mexico and the Oklahoma Panhandle met on the WTSU campus for the annual meeting in January.

Lions Club Hears Exchange Student

Lena Aunela of Finland, guest of the Leon Noack family, was a special guest Tuesday of Olton Lions Club. The seventeen-year-old miss is visiting America as part of the Lions International Youth Exchange Program.

Miss Aunela showed color slides of her homeland and spoke briefly about her family and country. She was dressed in the traditional Finnish costume but said that fashions in her country are much the same as here.

Charles Couch of Plainview presented Lion Boss Bill Yoakum with a framed certificate in recognition of the club's one hundred percent participation in the Lions Crippled Children's Program.

"It is the thirteenth or fourteenth consecutive year for this club's one hundred perecent participation," he noted. "Thank you for being a part of the grass roots of the Crippled Children's Camp."

Couch said that the camp is used year 'round now with adults participating in self-rehabilitation programs during the winter.

Lions voted to charcoal hamburgers and sell them during the Sandhills Celebration. They also approved operation of a Coke concession.

Other guests attending Tuesday were Lionesses Junett Noack, Joy Hawkins and Miss Koni Hull.

RETURN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith returned home Monday from Eagle Nest, N.M., where they attended the golden wedding anniversary of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fuchs. The Smiths were accompanied on the trip by DeAnne Gary of Hale Center.

Computation shows that a mature apple tree with about 100,000 leaves transpires, or evaporates, about 96 gallons of water a day.

from the desk of the Chamber Maid

We have a lot of fun events planned for every member of the family at our "Sandhills Celebration" next Saturday. All we need now are participants.

We'll kick off the day with a big parade. Bill Dickenson will be Grand Marshal and lead the parade. If you have an old car or piece of farm equipment, bring it to the parade, and let us all see it. We have some horses and riders lined up and we invite any group to join us. We will give an award for the best decorated bicycle entered by a child under 12.

Following the parade, we will have our Liar's Contest and Beard Contest. We have procured the three biggest liars in Lamb County to judge the contest....Bill Kemp, Delmer Givens and Fred Long. Believe me, these men know a good lie when they hear one, so practice up. The winners will receive an award proclaiming him Champion Liar.

Anyone who hasn't started his beard yet can still get into the contest...we are giving an award for the ugliest beard as well as most pleasing, fullest, scragliest and tickliest.

At noon, we have plenty of good food planned for sale by various local organizations and plenty of visiting with old time residents. We are renting a tent to set up on the "square" so no one will have to sit out in the hot sun.

In the afternoon, we will have a cow chip sling and I know of a few men who are pretty good at that. There will be a rub board contest for the ladies and maybe an impromptu event or two.

There will be a horse shoe contest and games for the children. Each child must find his own frog for the frog races.

We will have an old time fiddlers' contest in the afternoon as well as recognition and awards for our pioneers. Sharla Nicholas, runner-up for Miss West Texas, will be presented and will perform her twirling routine. Starting at 8:30 p.m., there will be square dancing in the streets with dancers from area towns coming to join us.

Many towns smaller than Olton hold successful celebrations with up to 5,000 visitors. We can do it too! This will be good for our town and a sure moneymaker for our organizations so everybody please get behind this and make it a big success -- and we'll plan to be even bigger and better next year.

IN ABERNATHY

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith visited recently with his sister, Mrs. Chester Pierce, in Abernathy.

IN AMARILLO

Mrs. Joe Alcorta and Cindy Walden were in Amarillo Thursday, to visit Gregg Cannon, a patient in Northwest Texas Hospital.

Record Usage For Natural Gas

Responding to hot, dry weather in West Texas, Pioneer Natural Gas Co. delivered more gas to customers Tuesday, July 15, than on any other single day in the company's history.

Tuesday's deliveries exceeded 900 million cubic feet of natural gas. The Pioneer Natural Gas service area covers about 50,000 square miles in West Texas, from the Panhandle to south of Odessa.

Company officials attributed the record demand for gas primarily to increased irrigation, resulting from the abnormal heat and absence of rainfall in the region. Deliveries for irrigation currently average about 250 million cubic feet per day.

The amount of gas supplied Tuesday exceeded any prior day's deliveries by about 85 million cubic feet. The previous record was approximately 815 million cubic feet July 16, 1971.

The one thing that could make you change your mind.

Valley® gearboxes.

Nobody makes them tougher. Here's why:

- Withstands 60,000 in.-lbs. of torque.
- Low gear ratio moves the system with less strain.
- Special gear tooth design spreads the load, reducing friction.
- Built-in expansion chamber seals out moisture. Not an add-on so it can't be knocked off.
- Big, tough bearings and double-lip seals.

That's why when gearboxes on other make center pivots wear out, they turn to Valley for replacements by the thousands.

Valley dominates the field.

Pornography Fight Needed By Society

If civilized values are to prevail in our society, it will be necessary to turn back the tide of filth that has been released by hoodlum-dominated pornography operations.

Over the past two decades, the porn operators have had a field day. They have been allowed to establish "adult" bookstores that sell the most depraved materials. Their diseased fantasies have filled the pages of slick magazines. They have created a huge underground traffic in films that appeal to sick minds.

There has been very little resistance to this pornography which conditions people to anti-human attitudes and unnatural experiences. Happily, the situation seems to be changing. Influential public figures are beginning to speak out against the brutalization of society.

For example, Gov. William P. Clements of Texas recently told a meeting attended by more than 1,000 concerned citizens in Houston that he will support new measures to fight the cancerous spread of pornography. It's to be hoped that other governors will call on their legislatures to give police officers the tools they need to combat pornography.

In cracking down on smut-peddlers, police need to hit at the operators, not simply their hired hand. In making arrests at porno movie operations, Dallas police have begun the practice of carrying warrants for the arrest of the corporation officials who own the theaters involved. That's the way to proceed.

In many communities, public officials want to deal with the underworld elements responsible for the showing of perverted scenes and degrading spectacles, but they don't know how to proceed. Many prosecutors aren't prepared to deal with the pornographer's lawyer in the courtroom.

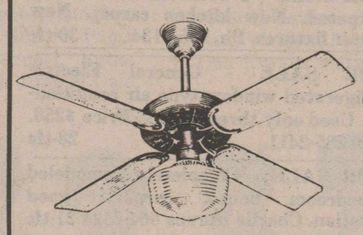

The National Obscenity Law Center has developed an important tool to aid police, prosecutors and concerned citizens. This is the "Obscenity Law Bulletin" which is available for $10 a year. The address of the Center is Suite 239, 475 Riverside Dr., New York, N.Y. 10115.

This journal is designed to keep prosecutors abreast of the latest cases. For example, recent issues have been devoted to the complex area of search and seizure in porn cases. This is an area in which many prosecutors and police aren't sufficiently informed, and on which many obscenity cases are lost.

In the United States, there are approximately 2,800 county district attorneys; 5,700 municipal attorneys, as well as 650 state prosecutors. All need up-to-date legal data on how to deal with the thugs who run porn operations.

Much more could be done by the federal government if the Justice Department were concerned and active. The smut-peddlers would be put out of business if the Justice Dept. fought porn operations with a fraction of the effort that the government puts into OSHA violations. It's time that the federal government set new priorities and dealt firmly the traffic in degenerate films, literature and merchandise.
