INVASION!

Allied troops—American, British and Canadian—are streaming ashore on the continent of Hitler's Festung Europa. Of such magnitude are the various assaults that one can hardly conceive of the number of ships, planes, tanks and other pieces of materiel.

Two More Jap Ships Sunk

Destroyer Is Listed Among Latest Kills

By WILLIAM PHIPPS
Associated Press War Editor
Destruction of Japan's dwindling seaborne mounted today with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's announcement of the sinking of a destroyer and a freighter—losses which boosted the enemy's total to 20 ships reported in two days.
Liberator bombers, blasting the southern invasion road to the Philippines, pelted the Japanese destroyer off Halmahera and the freighter was bagged by attack planes in New Guinea waters. Other planes from MacArthur's command left a second enemy destroyer dead in the water and damaged two other supply ships.
The navy announced yesterday that providing American submarines had sent six transports and 10 cargo vessels to the bottom of the Pacific and navy planes got two more in the Truk area.
In land fighting, meantime, six Japanese columns lightened on Changsha, key city of the Hankow-Canton railway in China's Hunan province. Hunan's governor, Gen. Hsueh Yueh, said the fate of the nation depends upon the outcome of the present battle.
In the southwest Pacific, American invaders of Biak Island in the Schouten group off Dutch New Guinea outflanked the Japanese defenders and cut in on the Mokmer airfield from two directions. Nineteen enemy planes were added to the 30 announced as destroyed in this theater yesterday.
Bitter fighting for Japan's North Burma base of Myitkyna continued with Allied forces pressing their offensive inland and outside the town.

'Invasia Mae' Shall Be New-Born's Name

DALLAS, June 6, (AP)—Invasia Mae Renfrow was born in the early hours today as the sirens signalled news of the Allied invasion of western Europe.
City Ambulance Driver Harry Goldberg, who with Parkland Hospital Intern W. J. Garrett, made an emergency call at 2:25 a. m., said the baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Renfrow. "I'll name her Invasia," said the mother.

'This Is a Solemn Hour For Texans'

AUSTIN, Texas, June 6, (AP)—Of the Allied invasion of France, Governor Coke R. Stevenson said: "This is a solemn hour for Texans everywhere and it should give a renewed sense of responsibility to Texans to support the war effort until final victory."

Roosevelt Spoke As Troops Were Leaving

WASHINGTON, June 6, (AP)—In a speech which made no reference to invasion but was delivered in the certain knowledge that the climactic hour finally had come, President Roosevelt told the nation last night that victory over Germany is certain but "it will be tough and it will be costly."
The president broadcast on the fall of Rome at 7:30 p. m. Central War Time—about the time United States and Allied forces were jumping off from England for the air and water push across the channel.

King Vittorio Fulfills Pledge

NAPLES, June 6, (AP)—Italy's 74-year-old King Vittorio Emanuele III has made good his promise contingent on the liberation of Rome and stepped out of public life, turning over his "royal prerogatives" to his 39-year-old son, Crown Prince Umberto.
The king took this action yesterday in a decree counter-signed by Premier-Marshal Pietro Badoglio, which named Umberto "lieutenant general" of the realm.
Prince Umberto "will exercise all royal prerogatives without exception," said the decree, which was signed by the king at Ravello, just outside Naples, and delivered to the Council of Ministers.
Through his action the monarch remains a king without power and continues to head the House of Savoy. In effect, Umberto becomes the king's regent.

RINGSIDE FROM THE AIR

Gladwin Hill, AP, Observes Battle Royal From the Air

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Correspondent Representing the Combined American Press

A MARAUDER BASE IN ENGLAND, June 6, (AP)—From the cockpit of one of many hundreds of planes which supported the Allied landing in northern France early this morning I watched a battle royal rage on the sea and in the air.

The fields along the French channel coast were dotted with parachutes of Allied airborne forces who had landed a few minutes before, and in the air a battle royal was being fought among the paratroopers and the enemy fighters. The first signs of battle were flashed from the channel below, which through the mist and a naval smoke screen gradually became

Russian Armies Believed Ready For New Drives

MOSCOW, June 6, (AP)—Russian armies were understood today to be massing and preparing to perform their part of the joint Allied task of crushing Germany with a blow from the east, combined with the west and Gen. Alexander's thrust up the Italian peninsula.

The invasion of northwest France was the "second front" for which the Russians had called for three anxious years. But the "second front" already had ceased to be a political issue here before Eisenhower struck.
The controversy amounted virtually to a crisis in 1942 when Stalin called for a front in western Europe of "first rate importance" and urged the United States and Great Britain to fulfill their obligations "fully and on time." The "second front" talk died down after the Teheran agreement on "the scope and timing" of blows from the east and west.

Texas Oil Output Is Up for Week

TULSA, Okla., June 6, (AP)—United States crude oil production increased 13,000 barrels daily during the week ended June 3 to 4,523,250 barrels daily, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.
Texas output was up 17,600 barrels to 2,013,050 and Louisiana, 3,000 to 358,600.
Production in the East Texas area decreased 1,400 barrels to 362,600.

10 Seconds That Seemed a Month

(By The Associated Press)
A dramatic 10-second interval preceded the official announcement today that the invasion had begun.

Over a Trans-Atlantic radio-telephone hookup direct from Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, to all major press services and broadcasting networks in the United States came the voice of Col. R. Ernest Dupuy, Gen. Eisenhower's public relations officer.

"This is Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force," Dupuy said. "The text of communiqué No. 1 will be released to the press and radio of the United Nations in 10 seconds."
Then the seconds were counted off—one, two, three... and finally 10.
"Under the command of General Eisenhower," slowly read Col. Dupuy, "Allied naval forces supported by strong air forces began landing Allied armies this morning on the northern coast of France."

WASHINGTON, June 6, (AP)—Director Elmer Davis of the office of war information, advised Americans today to be wary of Axis reports on the progress of invasion fighting.
"Anything the Axis radio puts out, is in their own interest," Davis told a handful of correspondents gathered in his office in early morning hours.

Though Apprehensive, Pampans Appear Calm

Realization that victories cost lives tempered Pampa's receiving today the news of the Allied invasion of France.

Weak Resistance Meets 5th Army Now Above Rome

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, June 6, (AP)—Fifth army forces drove steadily beyond liberated Rome today, some units plunging as much as five miles out from the historic Tiber river against what was officially termed "only weak resistance."

(A British broadcasting company announcement said French troops have captured Tivoli, on the Avezzano highway 30 miles northeast of Rome.)
"The battle to destroy the enemy continues without pause," said a communique.
Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's troops have crossed or reached the Tiber all the way from Rome to the sea and enemy divisions still in the flatlands below the city are in desperate straits.

In the coastal area alone well over 2,000 prisoners apparently will be unable to scramble out of the Allied net because all Tiber bridges from Rome to the sea either have been blown up or captured.
In still-jubilant Rome, however, eleven crossings remained intact, and the fifth army poured across in a constant stream to chase the Germans fleeing northward in disorder.

Allied armored forces fanned out over a wide area. Infantry also has crossed the river in force and was reported driving west of Vatican City. The only resistance anywhere came from isolated rear-guard units.

In the mountains east of Rome German rear guards threw strong opposition against the British eighth army in the north. Some of the main enemy troops in that sector. The Allied air forces gave the German columns no rest. In the north, the British eighth army yesterday more than 375 of their vehicles were destroyed or damaged by fighter-bombers. Heavy bombers meanwhile pounded northern Italy, particularly in the Po valley. Four enemy planes were destroyed and the Allies lost one.

Admiral Says Doing All Right

WASHINGTON, June 6, (AP)—Admiral Ernest J. King told reporters at one p. m. (EWT) today that the invasion is "doing all right so far."

King, commander-in-chief of the fleet, made the remark as he, Chief of Staff, Gen. H. Arnold, chief of staff, and Gen. H. Arnold, chief of staff, left the White House after an hour and a half conference with President Roosevelt.

Three top officers appeared in good spirits as they left the executive mansion, but they would not discuss their conference further.

Avery Says Boards Conspired Together

WASHINGTON, June 6, (AP)—Severely Avery, chairman of Montgomery Ward and Co., contended today that the National Labor Relations Board and the War Labor Board "conspired together to bring about seizure of the Chicago plant in order to enforce instructions 'they knew to be illegal and unfair.'"
Moreover, Avery told the house special committee investigating the Ward case, President Roosevelt exceeded his authority in authorizing the seizure.
Avery was ejected by soldiers when he refused to leave the plant upon request.
The "illegal" order, Avery said, was the WLB decision that Wares sign a union contract.
"The post office, the department of justice, the NLRB and the WLB with the approval of the president, have acted together to give illegal and unfair assistance to the CIO union at Chicago," he declared.

Normandy Area Initial Objective

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 6, (AP)—Allied forces landed in the Normandy area of northwest France today and have thrust several miles inland against unexpectedly slight German opposition and with losses much smaller than had been anticipated.

The grand assault—scheduled for yesterday but postponed until today because of bad weather—found the highly-vaunted German defenses much less formidable in every department than had been feared.

Prayer Services Were Held Today For Service Men

Pampans this afternoon joined in prayer for the success of the United Nations invasion of Europe and for the safety of our fighting men in a ceremony held from 2 to 3 at the First Methodist church.
The service was sponsored by the Pampa Ministerial Alliance of which A. L. James is president, and was arranged through the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce.

Loan Concerns Are Charged In Federal Cases

WASHINGTON, June 6, (AP)—Thirteen chains of small loan companies in the south and west, involving 40 corporations and 75 individuals, and operating more than 400 offices, were charged today with conspiracy to violate the Sherman Anti-Trust Act by agreeing to fix interest rates.
Attorney General Francis Biddle announced that a federal grand jury in San Antonio, Texas, has returned an indictment charging the defendants conspired to maintain interest rates and charges ranging all the way from 60 per cent to 1,000 per cent a year on loans of $5 to $50.

The indictment charges that in a majority of loans, the interest rates and charges ranged from 120 per cent to 240 per cent a year.
The defendants operate in 23 states from the Carolinas to the Pacific coast.

The two largest "chains" are the United Operating Company, Atlanta, and Triangle Securities Trust, Nashville, Tenn. The indictment says both groups are controlled by Rufus Dewitt King and John M. Ogden, both of Miami, Fla., and that during the last three years the two chains have operated more than 200 small loan offices in all of the 23 states.

Bridges Reported Captured Intact

State Mostly 'Napping' As 'Greatest Story' Is Broken

(By The Associated Press)
Most Texans did not know that "a great crusade" had been launched against the continent of Europe until some four or five hours after the announcement.
The report, coming at 2:32 a. m., found most residents asleep and the first news many of them got was from extra editions of newspapers.
Papers "sold like hotcakes" reported the newsways.
As they had planned, the churches of Texas called the people to prayer.

Airborne troops who led the assault before daylight on a history-making scale suffered "extremely small" losses in the air, headquarters disclosed tonight, even though that great plane fleets extended across 200 miles of sky and used navigation lights to keep formation.

Naval losses for the seaborne forces were described at headquarters as "very, very small," although 4,000 ships and several thousand smaller craft participated in taking the America, Canadian and British troops to France.

Coastal batteries were virtually silenced by the guns of the British, American and Allied fleets, including battleships, and the beach-heads were speedily consolidated.

The German radio said the scene of the landing was a 100-mile stretch of coast from Cherbourg to Le Havre, around the bay of the Seine and the northeast shore of the Normandy peninsula.

British Prime Minister Churchill, in announcing the successful invasion to the house of commons at noon—six hours after the first seaborne troops landed—said the landings were "the first of a series."

Churchill disclosed that 11,000 Allied planes were available as needed.

L. H. Dillman Is Best Guesser

L. H. Dillman, Box 233, Pampa, proved to be the best invasion date picker among Pampans who have been making guesses on D-Day.
Yesterday morning Dillman wrote down his selection as "12:30 a. m. London time June 7." That would be 5:30 p. m. this afternoon, Pampa time. Dillman missed by only 17 hours.

J. M. Nichols, 801 S. Somerville was second-best guesser. He predicted midnight tonight.

Mrs. F. H. Baker, 704 E. Brown, was a close third when she predicted the invasion would come between 6 and 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

New York Takes News Calmly

INVASION REACTION
NEW YORK, June 6, (AP)—News of the long-awaited Allied invasion of Europe was received with calm in the Times Square area, today where relatively few people, mostly servicemen, were on the streets at the early hour.

Here and there groups of servicemen and civilians collected around taxicabs and listened to radio reports of the landings on the coast of France. There were no demonstrations.

About 25 persons gathered in front of a newsreel theater at 4 a. m. when a radio loudspeaker blared forth the latest headlines.

At the Bendix Aviation Corporation Marine Division plant in Brooklyn 500 swing-shift workers gave a spontaneous cheer when the news was received but, the management announced, the workers remained at their jobs and "not a second was lost."

A scene probably typical of that in many public places was enacted at an east side restaurant where about 20 diners rose and listened with bowed heads as the first reports came in via radio.

Mayor F. H. La Guardia, informed of the invasion by police, called upon the people of the city to carry on at their jobs to give the men in the invasion forces their utmost support.

He announced plans for a mass prayer meeting at 5:30 p. m. today in Madison Square, where the eternal light, a memorial for soldiers of the last war, burns.

We Keep the Faith

The sons of America for the second time in a quarter century this day have set foot on the soil of Europe to curb the hand of a tyrant who would rule the world.

Many sons of America have died today, and others will die. And, as they offer their lives in the best tradition of American freedom, we pay our humble tribute to them.

There are many gray countians participating in the assaults, either first-hand or from the British Isles. And for that reason, as well as the standpoint that the nation's future is at stake, news of the next several weeks or months will be of vital importance to them.

It is well for us all, therefore, to remember that the enemy will attempt at all times—and especially within the next 10 days or two weeks—to color the developments and many cases alter the facts, to the interest of the Germans.

It is not only our duty to continue our appointed tasks here at home, but also not to accept any German news—good or bad—with the thought in mind that it is enemy information, and that there is no reason why he should present it to us for our own benefit.

There may or may not be great losses in human life—it will be several days and possibly weeks before an even partly accurate perspective can be attained.

But with the faith in our arms, in our men and in the righteousness of God's direction, we can feel that the day of world liberation is another step nearer.

Poets and Poverty

The starving poet, living on crusts in a garret, may not be a figure of popular tradition only. This is proved by the tragic experience of Edgar Lee Masters, author of the "Spoon River Anthology" and many other poems, also lives of Lincoln and Mark Twain. Friends recently found him in dire straits and were able to do something for him.

"It is impossible," said Masters, "to live on royalties from books published 30 years ago." The "Spoon River Anthology," a series of bitter epigrams on village life, was a best seller of its day, but its day was 1915. Since then his books have commanded attention, but not sales.

Kingdoms have often put poets on the pension list because their work reflected credit on the country. Theodore Roosevelt did something like this when he gave Edwin Arlington Robinson a sinecure appointment, so that he could have time to write poetry.

Poets have better claims on their country than many others, and they also have to eat.

The Nation's Press

IF THEY DON'T KNOW

(The Daily Oklahoman)

Many of our highest government officials have made a strenuous effort to make the Atlantic charter the avowed and recognized objective of the current war. Some of the extremists have talked as if we are fighting for the Atlantic charter and nothing else. And from the beginning of the conflict there has been constant complaining in high places that the people are complacent or even positively indifferent.

And now, a poll conducted by the office of public research at Princeton university reveals that 30 percent of the American people have never even heard of the Atlantic charter.

While the accuracy of the result of that poll may be questioned seriously and while it is impossible to believe that more than half the people of America have never heard of a code of principles that has been stressed so emphatically and discussed so interminably, the poll for all its doubtful perfection does establish the folly engaged in by the government when it undertakes to convince the people that they are fighting for anything at all except home and country and flag.

Just how can the American people unite in an all-out, every-man-war for something that more than half of them never even heard of? And why should there not be widespread complacency and some indifference when the people are told that they are fighting for something they know nothing about and have slight interest in? Can Washington expect a citizen to make every necessary sacrifice and even offer his life to win something that he never even heard of?

When flag and country and national security were attacked at Pearl Harbor every citizen of the republic knew what the issue was. He knew mighty well what we were fighting for. Complacency and indifference developed later. And they developed in exact proportion to the efforts of the country's leaders to submerge the plain objective of the war and choose a fancied objective in which millions of Americans have no interest at all. There was no lack of interest anywhere until world planners attempted to substitute abstract principles for the American flag as the real objective of the war.

Common Ground

By E. C. MOILES

"I speak the good word, I give the sign of democracy. By it I mean nothing which all cannot have their counterpart on the same terms."

—WALT WHITMAN

He's A Die-Hard

Quite often one hears the expression made by those who are advocating a planned economy that a person who opposes such planning is a die-hard. They would stigmatize the man who believes that collective bargaining is a violation of God's laws.

The real meaning of the word "die-hard" is any person who is an irreconcilable opponent of a winning measure.

A true liberal would, of course, be classified by those who believe in the present trend of government as a die-hard. The man who believes that collective bargaining adds to the misery and poverty of the people as a whole and still opposes it is regarded by those who believe it improves the lot of the worker as a die-hard. Invariably it is used as a stigma against a man.

There is no more chance of a man who believes in liberty (that is, in all men being equally free) giving up his belief and coming to accept the current, popular belief of collectivism than there is of a man who really believes in the teachings of Christianity (which respects the inherent right of every human soul to follow his belief in Christianity).

True liberals and true Christians do not give up their beliefs no matter how often they are called die-hards.

Solving the Tax Problem

Taxes would not be much of a problem if the government attempted only to protect men's lives and property from outsiders. Taxes would be so small they would not be a burden.

The framers of the Constitution did not pay very much attention to taxes because they did not believe taxes would amount to very much. Their conception was that the government would be limited only to protecting man's life and property.

The tax problem has become a problem only because we have departed from this philosophy of government. Taxes will continue to mount higher and higher, taking a larger and larger fraction of everybody's production so long as we believe it is a governmental duty to protect men from their own inefficiency, indolence and bad judgment. This is not the function of any liberal or true democratic government.

Kleberg Didn't Know of 'Touch'

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Rep. Kleberg (D-Texas) says he doesn't know "what arrangements, if any" were made with a Capitol page boy on his patronage list who a radio commentator reported, had been compelled to contribute $50 monthly from his pay toward maintaining the legislator's secretarial staff.

In a prepared statement, Kleberg, commenting upon a report broadcast Sunday night by columnist Drew Pearson that the boy, Robert Jackson, 13, was discharged because his mother, Mrs. R. H. Jackson, protested against the boy paying back part of his earnings, said last night:

"Certain charges were made in morning newspaper today and over the radio last night concerning the firing by me of a boy on my patronage list, because he complained of deductions being made from his salary. I have investigated the case of this boy and the following are the facts:

"The boy was placed on the payroll under my patronage by my late secretary, Bill Elliott, who died of a heart attack some weeks ago. Bill Elliott had my implicit faith and confidence and he was in complete charge of the running of my office and the making of my congressional patronage appointments. I do not know what arrangements, if any, Bill Elliott might have made with this boy when he was placed on the payroll.

"I now find that deductions were made in his salary that went to defray office expenditures for duties which he could not perform. This arrangement was operated from the time of his employment on February 4, 1944. The boy was not fired by me and my office has given no instructions to anyone to remove him from the payroll. In pursuing my investigation of his case, I was informed this afternoon by Mr. R. R. Roberts, doorkeeper of the House, that he, Mr. Roberts, had fired the boy for failure to report for duty.

"This is all I know of this case and these are the facts."

More Wartime Books To Be Published

The Council on Books in Wartime yesterday announced a new publishing venture under the exigencies of wartime conditions. This will be a series of books published for the Council, with the cooperation of the Office of War Information, the Navy Department and other government agencies, by established publishing houses on a non-profit basis.

The first of these books, "A War Atlas for Americans," prepared by the OWI, was published by Simon and Schuster on June 2. Elmer Davis has written a foreword for the book, whose 60,000 word text was prepared by Prof. Howard Sprout of Princeton University. The text is accompanied by 84 new maps illustrating the story of the war on the five major fronts.

The Council has also undertaken to publish for the Navy Department on the same basis the official story of the Navy's role in the war. An impartial drawing to determine the publisher of the first volume will be made within two weeks and the book will be published early in the fall.

Through its editions for the armed services, the Council is also responsible for publishing more than 35,000,000 books a year for shipment to service men overseas.

32 Candidates File for Office

Pointing with pride and viewing with alarm as at a new day this year, with fewer candidates than ever coming out for office. Only 32 candidates have filed.

Out of 28 places on the list of district, county, and precinct positions, there are only seven that are contested, six have no entries, and 15 offices have only one candidate.

The official list of candidates who filed with the county chairman to have their names placed on the primary ballot shows that no one has yet filed for county judge, county treasurer, county surveyor, justice of the peace 1 and 4, and constable 4.

June 17 is the final date for precinct and county candidates to have their names placed on the primary ballot. Deadline on state office filing was June 5 while the district office deadline was May 15.

The sheriff's race, usually the one that draws the biggest number of candidates in Gray, sometimes a greater number than for governor, to date has only one candidate to file. G. H. Kyle is up for re-election.

Other candidates, up for re-election in precinct races are Eunice Favors, representative; Walter E. Rogers, district attorney; Charlie Thut, county clerk; P. E. Leech, tax assessor and collector; Arlie Carpenter, Commissioner 1; Thomas O. Kirby, Commissioner 3; C. M. Carpenter, Commissioner 4; D. R. Henry, Charles E. Rogers, J. H. Bodine, justices of the peace; Earl Lewis, C. G. Nicholson, constables; John V. Andrews, county chairman.

Leading the field is the race for Commissioner 2, with five candidates wanting this office.

The list, prepared by Norman C. Minter, secretary of the Gray County Democratic executive committee, shows the following as unopposed:

Associate justice of the court of civil appeals, seventh judicial district, Amarillo, W. N. Stokes of Vernon.

Associate justice of the court of civil appeals, seventh judicial district, Amarillo, Clayton Heare of Shamrock.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—(AP)—An increase of $1 a barrel in the price of oil was advocated yesterday by Rep. Winter (R-Kas.) as "the best way to solve the apparent crude shortage."

While the House has passed and sent to the Senate legislation increasing the price limit 35 cents a barrel, Winter, in an interview, expressed the opinion there was little chance of opposition from the Office of Price Administration and the director of economic stabilization.

A $1 increase would bring the total price to $2.17. Winter pointed out that during the first world war, oil sold for as high as $2.50.

Oil Price Increase

WASHINGTON, June 6.—(AP)—An increase of $1 a barrel in the price of oil was advocated yesterday by Rep. Winter (R-Kas.) as "the best way to solve the apparent crude shortage."

While the House has passed and sent to the Senate legislation increasing the price limit 35 cents a barrel, Winter, in an interview, expressed the opinion there was little chance of opposition from the Office of Price Administration and the director of economic stabilization.

A $1 increase would bring the total price to $2.17. Winter pointed out that during the first world war, oil sold for as high as $2.50.

Ray Mueller, Cincinnati's ironman catcher, broke into organized ball with Harrisburg in the New York-Tenn league in 1932.

Dinner Attended By 60 Concert Workers

Pampa's Community Concert association members and guests attended a dinner in Holy Souls school last night with the Rev. Robert Boshen, minister, First Presbyterian church, acting as master of ceremonies.

Tables with places for approximately 60 persons were centered with red roses arranged in low bowls and with runners of roses tapering to table ends. Placecards were silhouettes carrying out a musical theme.

The Rev. R. G. West, minister, Church of the Brethren, gave the invocation after which ladies of Holy Souls served dinner with Mrs. P. N. Rosch, Mrs. D. C. Kennedy and Mrs. R. H. Grammam in charge.

After introduction of the board of directors, T. E. Keefe, member of the board, commented upon the importance of a concert association within a community.

He said, in part, "This organization is one of the finest things any community may have in that it is a democratic movement, limiting no one."

Mrs. Edgar W. Henshaw in commenting on the organization said, "I believe this will fill the longest for place in Pampa and I feel too, that the more fine things a community has to offer the less it will have to condemn the youth for good or wrong. If we do nothing but work for this organization in the interest of youth it will be well worth the youth deserves finer things for themselves."

Mrs. Harold Staffelt spoke briefly giving her experience with the organization in Batonrouge, La.

Leading ticket sales was Mrs. E. C. Sidwell who has sold 45 tickets. Miss Marion Evans, concert representative of New York City, who is in Pampa to assist with the drive expressed her appreciation for the splendid cooperation that Pampans have shown in getting organized.

In giving suggestions to those attending for selling tickets, Miss Evans asked that the drive get underway immediately with members checking in Wednesday to see the progress of the drive and in order that prospective ticket buyers may be allocated. The meeting will be held at the Junior High school auditorium at 7 o'clock.

She also asked that persons who desire a ticket, but who have not been contacted, be asked to call telephone number 5 or come to the association headquarters at the Schindler hotel which will be open from 10 until 12 o'clock and from one until five o'clock.

"Tickets are interchangeable," Miss Evans said, "If you cannot use the ticket, then a member of your family or a friend may use it. There must be a certain amount of money in our budget before we can determine the attraction brought to Pampa."

Winston Savage, chairman of the campaign, introduced workers and guests and gave instructions on selling tickets.

According to the rules of the association, none but members will be permitted to attend the concert.

This End-of-Day Pep Program Promises an Evening of Glamor

If you work all day at one job and take on another at night—perhaps a canteen hostess in demand as a dancing partner—you'll need some tricks up your sleeve for tapping reserves of glamor.

Because Adelle Dillingham, a Texas-born girl transplanted to New York, is so successful at this business, let's see what we can learn from her. She has exactly an hour between leaving her office, where she holds forth as merchandising editor of a fashion magazine, and arriving at the Hotel Delmonico, where she serves as hostess at an officer's dance.

"I take a bath so hot that I almost boil in it," says Adelle. "Then while I'm cooling off I lie down to relax for 10 minutes, with my feet higher than my head—another good circulation rouser."

While her head's down, she says is a good time to smear a mask over her face; a minted cream that tingles and draws more blood to the skin's surface. When it's whisked off, the skin is pretty certain to stay in the pink. To clench the glow, however, she wears rosy make-up. Her trick of changing a workaday mood is to switch her hair from up to down or from curly to smooth and to change the color of her costume from dark to bright.

Many doctors prescribe nose drops for the relief of nasal congestion or a common head cold. The solution is usually put up at drug store in bottles that have a dropper extending down into the solution and attached to the stopper.

Since it is common practice to insert the dropper well into the nose when applying the drops, it becomes loaded with bacteria that are carried back to the solution where they continue to multiply and thrive. It has apparently become the habit, in some families, to keep the nose drop bottle in the medicine closet until it is needed again by the same person, or by some other member of the family. Thus the germs of one infection are carried on to another. Instead of giving the needed relief they may complicate the situation or cause serious trouble.

PROTECTS FAMILY

There are several points for the home nurse to bear in mind in the use of nose drops, which may protect her family from unnecessary illness.

1. When buying nose drops ask to have them put in a plain screw cap bottle, and buy a separate dropper.

2. When using the drops pour out a small amount in a clean medicine glass, and insert the dropper in this. Never pour what remains back in the bottle.

3. Wash the dropper with soap and water after using it and stand it in the medicine glass until needed again.

Frisch Confident Balanced Pirates Will Hold Their Own

Frank Frisch... everything's a problem.

Fifth of a series
By FRANK FRISCH
Manager of Pirates

In view of the long established fact that one of baseball's most appealing features is its uncertainty, the present season should be a record-breaker for interest and consequently general success. There never has been anything so uncertain as a year in which nobody could tell what was going to happen.

I'm positive that applies to the National league. Somebody was playing a campaign like the current one when he coined the old wheeze about taking nothing for granted in baseball. Even as things stand now, no one can tell what to expect from one day to another. The probability of more players being canned by the armed forces adds to the uncertainty.

When an average number of players are lost to each of the clubs through calls by the service, the stronger clubs are going to lose more strength than the weaker ones. That is, the players taken from them on an average will be better players than those taken from second-division clubs. That tends to equalize things.

NO SOFT SPOTS IN NATIONAL
If one thing to a greater extent than another has surprised me, it is the fine exhibition that has been given by all the clubs. During the off-season the general opinion heard expressed was that the loss of so many top-drawer players would greatly reduce the quality of play. As far as my observation has extended, this has not been the case. Clubs encountered by the Pirates have played well.

There isn't a club in the league that can be viewed as easy to beat. True, there are three or four that appear more formidable than the others. The best we have seen are St. Louis and Cincinnati. Both are strong all around and look like the arrays that must be beaten.

The Braves had not won a road game this year until they beat us at Forbes Field, May 11. Then they suddenly showed a remarkable burst of power. The Cubs are not to be measured by their unfortunate start. The Phillies mean it.

HANDLEY'S LOSS HURT BUCS
I see no reason for altering the opinion I held at the start that the well-balanced Pirates are going to be in this thing all the way. It was a blow to lose Lee Handley for more than a month through a leg injury just as our regular lineup was becoming settled, but we have good infield reserves, as shown by the fact that we won seven of our next nine.

With Al Lopez back, Pittsburgh's catching is as good as any. Pitching has been excellent in the main; just how consistently good has been you may judge from the fact that it was not until our 16th game that a pitcher was knocked out.

Preacher Roe looks like one of the most accomplished freshman hurlers. Art Cuccurullo has made a favorable impression. Nick Strincevich appears to have found himself. Xavier Rescigno ought to be much improved after a year's experience. We can depend on such veterans as Rip Sewell and Max Butcher, Johnny Gee will help.

All the Pirates require is a batting brace. We haven't done much hitting so far, but that's because bad weather kept the squad indoors during the training period. I am hopeful that the Pirates will be able to hold their own in what promises to be one of the tightest races in history.

Pampa Oilers Beat Amarillo Nine, 7-4

Home games are in prospect for the Pampa Diamond Shop Oilers. Manager Bill Bailey said today, as he outlined the possibilities of games to be scheduled here with the Amarillo Bombers and the Dalhart Flyers. The Oilers beat the Amarillo Dodgers in a game there Sunday, 7 to 4. Pulewider's homer scoring Arrington from first, and Arrington's three hits, two doubles and a single, powered the way for the locals win. Errors were even at two each. The Oilers got 12 hits to the Amarillos five.

Oiler runs were one each in the first, third, and sixth innings, and two each in the fourth and seventh. A crowd of 300 saw the game at Malin field.

The Oilers batting order: Mangel, ss; Ridgeway, 2b; Arrington, 3b; Pulewider, cf; Stevenson, c; Bain, lf; Hogan, rf; Bailey, 1b; Stephens, p. Cook went in for Bain in the fourth inning. W. J. Brown and Pierce were others on the Oiler teams.

Sports Shots

By HAROLD V. RATLAFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS, June 6.—(AP)—Bill Longson, who has found crowd hysteria a means of pulling out a fortune, will be back for a wrestling appearance in Dallas June 20—less than a month since he was conked with a bottle by an irate fan.

This time Bill, who for more than a year has been defending his heavyweight championship claims without a bobby, may get something better than the crowd when he crawls into the ring. At least they'll probably like him until he starts to wrestle. Longson can do more things to make the crowd mad than any matman your correspondent ever saw.

June 20 Bill donates his services for the war effort, headlining a show that goes all out for the war effort, with slights on $5,000,000 in war bonds.

Old Diz Dean is coming back to the Dallas league to see if he still packs the gate appeal that once made him a prize chafed at baseball.

There's no Texas league these days but there still are Texas league parks and Diz will appear in those at Houston and Dallas, pitch a few innings and get 40 per cent of the gate.

Thut Misses Putt But Wins Prize Anyhow

Although postponed from the original date, May 27, Pampa day attracted 75 members and guests at the Pampa Country club Sunday. Pampa day is the first of a series of seven tournaments planned for this summer on the local links. The initial event was merged with the city tournament in which qualifying began Saturday, and will end this Saturday, June 10. Match play begins June 11 and the final round will be played June 25.

C. P. McGinnis, 1943 city champion, showed he was in good form to repeat by gaining the low score prize with a 71 in the Pampa day event. Other prize winners were Roy Showers, for least number of putts, 26; Carl Shaw, longest drive on No. 1, 240 yards; Charlie Thut, nearest to pin on No. 7, 30 inches. Ironically, Thut missed the putt on No. 7.

To C. P. Buckler went the title of biggest duffer and to Rex Reeves, the blunder boy.

McGinnis, Thut, Showers, and Shaw each received $15 in merchandise; Buckler and Reeves, $10 in merchandise each. Winner of the grand prize, a matched set of wood clubs, was O. M. Primrose. Virgil LaSalle was the winner of a $25 war bond.

Besides these awards, there were 22 door prizes of $1 each.

Aging Sports Editor Seeks Tennis Games

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON

Does anybody like to play tennis enough to want to play four times a week, at least three sets daily on Sunday, Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday?

If so, I'd sure like to meet them and to arrange for four matches a week.

This doesn't mean that I'm putting up any brag on my tennis ability, but it does mean that I like tennis, and don't get to play half as much of that game as I want.

Let's get this point over before I go further:

I'm not making any claims to tennis prowess, and the idea is merely I want to arrange a definite tennis singles schedule for all this summer. I can play anytime Sunday afternoon, and generally will be available for games after 3 p. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays.

In case anyone is interested, just call The Pampa News sports editor, 686.

—BUY BONDS—

Since there is no tennis organization here, it's difficult to find someone to play regularly and therefore I'm taking this means to arrange a tennis singles schedule for all this summer.

I'm not making any claims to tennis prowess, and the idea is merely I want to arrange a definite tennis singles schedule for all this summer. I can play anytime Sunday afternoon, and generally will be available for games after 3 p. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays.

In case anyone is interested, just call The Pampa News sports editor, 686.
