Bridge Repairs Near Completion

Plans to open the bridge between Wellington and Shamrock on Highway 4 Thursday or Friday were announced today by Riley Dunson, State section foreman.

The bridge across Salt Fork caved Wednesday afternoon, March 8, as a loaded truck crossed it. It was said that the bridge was considerably weakened by a car colliding with the railing earlier in the week.

Since the accident all cars have been forced to ford the river near the bridge, but the inconvenience has not actually made any difference in the amount of traffic across the river.

An entire span is being replaced in the bridge and Mr. Dunson said that it was hoped the bridge could be opened to traffic Thursday.

Fines Paid Here By Truck Drivers

Two truck operators were arrested here Monday by Ed Pryor, constable, and paid fines of $13 and $14.50.

The operators were charged with carrying excessive loads in contradiction with the highway laws of this state.

This makes a total of six fines paid here this month by truck op-

Little Gold Returned In This County

Wellington bank heads said today that circular governmental letters asking for names of persons who had drawn out large sums of gold were received

The proclamation was expected to have little effect here due to the fact that no persons had drawn large amounts of gold or gold certificates.

In accordance with the new governmental law local persons have turned in their gold coins to the banks and post office for exchange. The post office received $42.50 in exchange; one $20 piece, two $10 pieces, two $5 pieces and one $2.50 piece.

"This will serve as an invitation to ex-service men and we urge them to attend. The meeting will be given free of charge by the Legion and a short program with several out of town speakers will be featured. County To Have Baseball Team

Plans are now being formulated for a Collingsworth County baseball team with Ira Morgan as manager.

The possibilities of forming another league in this section nor the personnel of the team have not been decided as yet, but it was definitely announced that this county would have a team this summer.

Morgan served as manager of the Quail team last season and his team won the championship of the local league and defeated Tipton, winners of the Red River Valley league, two out of three games.

It is thought that the Quail and Wellington teams will merge this year and will have Ray Morgan, Jack Knight and Dick Morgan on their pitching staff.

Business Looks Up As Banks Open

As the banks opened here Wednesday morning business men over Wellington reported sharp increases in sales as persons made purchases which had been delayed during the past week.

Grocery stores, dry goods stores and drug stores noted the greatest increases. Numerous farmers were also seen bringing in feed and maize, the sale of which had been delayed during the past week because of the scarcity of currency in circulation.

Merchants said that they expected the best sales over the week end that have been recorded in this section for several months.

County Teams To Play Basketball Finals Saturday

Cross Roads Courts Will Be Hosts To Teams In Tourney Finals

Winning teams of the Bi-Precinct basket ball tournaments at Quail and Cross Roads Saturday will play for the county championship at Cross Roads on Saturday, March 18, according to the announcement of Logan O. Cummings, director, this week.

The games will determine the county winners in four divisions, senior boys, senior girls, junior boys and junior girls.

Precincts 1 and 2 played for the Bi-Precinct championships on the Cross Roads courts last Saturday with Aberdeen and Lutie equally dividing the honors. The Aberdeen senior boys and senior girls were victorious in their two games, while the Lutie junior boys and [illegible]or girls won their two matches.

The [illegible]nior boys game for Precincts 3 and 4 was postponed Saturday because of a ruling which disqualified one of the players. The Quail and Dozier teams are playing Wednesday afternoon at Abra for the championship of that Bi-Precinct division. Dozier won the senior girls and junior boys game Saturday, while the junior girls game went to Lillie.

Aberdeen senior boys also delayed their game until Monday afternoon due to the fact that the Dodsonville team was unable to be at the meet Saturday.

Federal Relief Work To Start When Banks Open

Plans to resume work through the Federal Emergency Relief program as soon as the local banks reopen were announced here today by Ben Hurst, local secretary of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"Although work has been temporarily delayed through the fact that we were unable to secure money because the banks have been closed, we do have the promise of more funds and expect to start the work as soon as funds are available," Mr. Hurst said. "It is not known at the present time just how much money will be allotted to this county."

During January and February a fair size pay roll was kept in operation here through this source and $2,200 in federal relief money has been paid out here since January 1, 1933.

After the work is resumed, money will be distributed as before, in the form of wages to persons who are actually in need of work, Mr. Hurst said.

One Precinct To Use Jail Labor On County Roads

Distance Proves Hinderance In Use Of Convict Labor Elsewhere

Road Changed

Road Just West Of Samnorwood Will Be Changed To Straighter Line

Members of the commissioners court put in a busy day at the regular meeting Monday, March 13, with a series of routine matters and the acceptance of two policies that will materially effect the county.

After experiment days with prison labor on the roads of the county, it was decided by the court that local prisoners would work on the roads in Precinct 1, and in no other precincts of the county.

"The court adopted this policy due to the fact that prisoners who worked in other precincts would have to be carried too far to work; that the plan would not be profitable," Luther Gribble, county judge, said. "All convict work done in Precinct 1 will be under the supervision of J. D. Hill, commissioner of that pricinct.

"George Corry, sheriff, and V. L. Williams, jailor, are cooperating with the plan to the extent that all prisoners doing convict labor will be furnished their meals from the jail and lunches will be prepared for the men to take with them before they leave each morning for their work."

The commissioners also adopted the plan for creating a new road in this county just west of Samnorwood. The action resulted from a bridge washing out in that section several weeks ago and a jury of view caused the recommendation of the new road, which will allow a straighter line and will cut one-half mile from the actual distance that must be traveled along the present road-site. The adoption followed an extensive discussion due to the fact that several of the residents feared their mail route might be cut

Firing Squad Is Formed By Legion

Members of the American Legion post here announced today that the local post has organized a firing squad and will practice at regular intervals.

"The squad will be composed of twenty Legion members and will be used in conducting military funerals," leaders said. "The firing squad is a regular unit of the Legion work and will be of access to veterans whose families desire military funerals."

Members of the squad held their first practice session Thursday night and leaders indicated that the size of the squad might be increased from 20 to 30 members in the near future.

Two Men Pay High Rent On Window Sashes

Two men this week paid high rent on four window sashes that they took from a vacant house belonging to Bill Price here in Wellington.

The men stole the four sashes, installed them in their own houses and were arrested by Sheriff George Corry. When their trial came up, they were fined a total of $40.20 for the theft.

Both men paid off, but left court muttering that the rent on the sashes was a bit high in keeping with present living conditions. The sashes were returned to Mr. Price.

Small Introduces Bill To Protect Government Heads

A bill to provide the death penalty for attempted assassinations such as the recent attempt upon the life of Franklin D. Roosevelt was introduced in the Texas Senate this week by Senator Clint C. Small.

Senator Small pointed out that under the existing law the maximum penalty for assault to murder is 15 years' imprisionment. In view of the recent attempted assassination of Mr. Roosevelt, such a penalty is inadequate, he said.

The bill stated that President Roosevelt and John Garner, vice president, would probably visit this state sometime during their terms of office.

Banks Operate Under Few Restrictions As Moratorium Closes

The four banks in Collingsworth County were among the first small town banks in the United States to open their doors for business following the national bank holiday called by President Roosevelt a few days ago.

According to instructions received banks in Federal Reserve cities opened Monday, a few of the larger city banks opened Tuesday and Wednesday a limited few of the small town banks over the United States opened their doors. All four Collingsworth county banks were among this limited number.

The soundness of the local banks and the faith of the people of this county in the institutions were established as hundreds of dollars poured into the banks for deposit and cashiers in every bank were overworked taking in deposits.

The banks are now operating under practically no restrictions. The government requested that no issuance of gold and [illegible] deposits be made and that no bank in the United States give out money for the purpose of hoarding. Otherwise the banks are operating just as they did before the national holiday.

Rent House, Furniture, Radio Burn As Two Fires Occur Within 12 Hours

Two fires within the past twelve hours resulted in small damages in this county.

The local department answered a call at the T. D. Sumner residence at 10:20 Wednesday morning as a radio broke into flames. The radio was carried into the yard and the blaze was easily extinguished with chemicals. No other damage occurred from this, which was attributed to ignition from electrical wiring.

A rent house belonging to Kinney Godfrey, located on his place three miles north of town on the Shamrock highway, was completely destroyed by fire Tuesday night at about 9 o'clock. The house was a small, three room structure and until the day of the fire had been occupied by Rev. John L. King, Baptist preacher. The origin of this fire was unknown as the family was attracted by the light

Farm Loan Division Applications Fewer In Number During Past Week

Applications for federal farm loans fell somewhat below the usual marks during the past week, according to the announcements of leaders today.

Directors of the local division of the Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation reported only 60 applications for the entire period and 50 of this number were reported last week.

Miss Katherine Boverie, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, which organization has been handling seed production loans for this county, said that a total of more than 125 applications were made the previous week. It is estimated that $14,500 has been applied for through this division.

It was also stated that borrowers might apply for enough money to secure hail insurance to protect their crops during the coming season.

SPELL IT "MUSCLE"

There are still a few writers who assume to exhibit superior knowledge by spelling it "Mussel" Shoals. They base their vagary on the supposition that this is the only correct spelling of the name of the bivalve from which the Shoals take their name.

As a matter of fact, the name of this marine animal is spelled either "mussel" or "muscle," as consultation of any standard dictionary will disclose. But "Muscle Shoals" early came to be recognized as the official form, as evidenced by that spelling on the following maps:

"A Correct Map of the Georgia Western Territory," published by C. Dilly Poultry in 1798.

"Map of the Tennessee Government from the Latest Surveys," engraved for Payne's Geography, 1799.

Smith's Atlas, published at Hartford, Conn., in 1843.

Morse's Geography, published by Harper Brothers, 1851 edition, etc.

All documents of the United States government employ the usual form as do all writers of standing, whether of newspapers, magazines of books, excepting only the few who like to display their eccentricities.

The spelling of Muscle Shoals has long been settled, even though the disposition of the important development there has not.

DANGERS IN THE HOME

Figures compiled by one of the largest insurance companies show that accidents in and about homes cause 23,000 deaths and three million injuries in the United States every year. Of these deaths about 8,000 are caused by falls; 5,400 from burns, scalds and explosions. 3,600 from esphyxiation, and 2,000 from poisoning.

To avoid such accidents, the National Safety Council recommends the following precautions:

Have rugs on polished floors anchored or rugger-lined.

Keep stairways properly lighted, free of objects on which one might stumble, with treads and hand rails in good repair.

Keep sharp instruments, such as scissors, ice-picks, pins and needles out of reach of young children.

Have all medicines, washing powders, insecticides and other household articles containing poison properly labled and kept in a safe place.

Keep all open fires screened, chimneys cleaned, and all heating apparatus in safe condition.

Never allow an automobile engine to run with the garage door closed.

Keep steps and sidewalks clear of snow and ice.

A SQUAW'S MONUMENT

When Sacajawea, a Shoshone Indian woman, aided the Lewis and Clark expodition by acting as a guide for the intrepid explorers of the Northwest in 1805, she never dreamed that her name would be perpetuated throughout ages to come.

But it will be so perpetuated through action of the United States Geographic Board, which has given the name Mount Sacajawea to a mountain more than 13,000 feet high, in the Washakie National Forest in Wyoming.

The grave of Sacajawea is nearby, in the Indian cemetery at the old Fort Washakie, and the headquarters of the remnant of the once powerful Shoshone tribe is in a village not far away.

While formal recognition of Sacajawea's valuable service has been delayed for a century and a quarter, it is good to know that at last she has been honored in such a fitting manner.

OUR CHANGING BODIES

If you weigh yourself today, and then weigh yourself three weeks from now, your weight will probably show little change. But, according to Dr. Adolph of the University of Rochester, at least 93 per cent of the real substance of your body will have been changed in the meantime.

For, he asserts, that water content of a human body changes every 21 days, of an average, and the body is 93 per cent water. He also figures that the nitrogen of the body, which is the chief element in the chemical composition of muscle, is renewed every 290 days, while the iron component is changed in a slightly longer period.

It used to be thought that the actual substance of ones body was completely changed about every seven years, but Dr. Adolph's researches indicate that the time of renewal is much less than that.

So, when you look in your mirror you may see what appears to be the same object you saw there a year or two before. But the real substance will be almost entirely different, and the change will generally be for the worse rather than for the better.

Miss Lucy Diane ... a call at the Leader office this week. She is just learning to talk and the two words she says best are "Daddy" and "Dog." In the Leader office there is a calendar with a picture of a big dog on it. Diane rather exasperated her father by continually pointing at the picture and saying, "Da-Da." At that one could hardly blame Deck for getting peeved.

WHERE IS LONG DISTANCE?

Mrs. Dewey Ellis now has a real, old fashioned New Orleans negro girl working for her around the house. The girl, it seems, is a hard worker but is not versed in the most modern social manners. One of the girl's most troublesome duties is answering the telephone. One day last week Mrs. Ellis was in town and central called the house to get sameone to cross the street and call a lady to answer a long distance call.

"It's long distance," central said.

"You all wait jus'a minit," repled the negro and I will see."

After some minutes she returned to the phone and told central, "I can't fin no long distance 'round heah. Call Mrs. Cochran, she might know where its at."

J. L. Anderson has been selected as Boy Scout executive of this county. That is certainly a fine thing. J. L. is a good worker—and most of all—the boys like, admire and obey him. By next fall Wellington should have some Star and Eagle scouts.

A REAL OLD INDIAN RAID

The bank moratoria (which is plural for moratoium and absolutely correct) is heartily approved by one man—and caused the first Indian raid recorded in the United States in several years.

News of the banking holidays reached the Black Mountains, wildest and most inaccesable region of the Navajo reservation near Gallup, N. M., and they sent a message to find out "if Uncle Sam is in trouble."

An Indian trader said that when the news came back to the Black Mountain Indians they started a run on his store and cleaned him out of groceries. Furthermore, they bought with gold after the trader refused to accept goats, lambs, Navajo rugs and other articles in trade.

A lot of people got their first dissapointment from the hands of the democrats this week when they decided not to issue scrip. They base their protest upon the grounds that they need something to use for money.

A FEW WORDS ON ECONOMICS

Peculiar thing, this economics. Learned people always advocate the theory that price is fixed by the law of supply and demand, ie., if the supply is low and the demand is great, the price is high. Here we are cut off from our money and what does the markets do but start climbing a little. Cotton is up a little, live stock jumps a fraction; sugar rises a little; and the curb stocks show a slight increase. Economicsts will say, of course, it is due to the difference betwen real value and money value. Real value is the amount it will exchange for in trade for other commodities and money value is what it will bring in money. Another peculair thing about economie is economists. They are always right. If things don't work out like they said they just invent a new law, and there you are, they are still right according to the new law.

Mrs. Ferguson Asks That Courts Desist From Entering Judgments

Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson this week issued a proclamation asking all trial courts to desist from entering money judgements in any ligitation.

She "earnestly" requested and recommended that the moratorium proclaimed by her on courts be respected until March 25.

The proclamation was handed to the newspaper reporters by the governor's husband, James E. Ferguson. He pointd out that the moratorium in this respect was not "mandatory" as was the case when the woman chief executive a week ago yesterdey ordered all banks and financial institutions to close.

"You will notice the governor has 'earnestly requested' the courts to refrain from issuing money judgements," he said. "We are trying to give debtors as much protection as was offered the banks in the financial moratorium. The banks cannot pay, so we are asking the courts not to require any one else to pay."

The governor said she would transmit to the legislature "a message pertaining to this cation by me and to the necessity for legislation affording a more permanent relief to meet the distressing conditions now existing."

She said the action was taken "after due consideration and because of the fact that an extraordinary financial emergency and depression exists within this state and elsewhere threatening many citizens with destructive suits," and because it is impossible "by reason of the financial conditions of the state . . . to obtain funds to meet lawful demands."

Rockefeller Has Confidence In People Of U. S.

John D. Rockefeller stated recently that he had every confidence in the American banking institutions and in the "good people of the United States.

At his winter home "The Casements," in nearby Ormand, isolated from the stress of the financial world but nevertheless in constant touch with northern centers of finance, the 93-year-old philanthropist today consented to deliver, through the Associated Press a message of cheer to the millions of bank depositors affected by the moratorium.

"Tell them just this," the aged financer said, "I have every confidence in our bankers and in our good people."

He refused to coment further.

Rockefeller today was in the best of health and spirits. He played his usual round of golf, his partners today being Mr. and Mrs. John Dick of Daytona Beach.

Newspapers Lead In Advertising

A very informative survey was recently made by the Better Business Bureau of Tulsa, Okla., who conducted an exhaustive inquiry into the various forms of advertising used in these modern days, among its citizens. Over 1,000 letters were received. In answer to the question "What form of advertising influences you most in making your purchases?" 817 or 80½ per cent stated that newspapers were the best medium; 1½ per cent said billboards; 10½ per cent said radio; 1 per cent said house to house circulars and not a single one approved of automobile cards and circulars.

Out of thirty business executives queried, nineteen said newspapers were the best advertising mediums and they obtained the best results from their use; only three of the thirty believed in house to house circulars and only two in direct mail advertising.

Out of people answering the questionaire 778 said they read only 12½ per cent of the cards and circulars received.

The majority of those answering the bureau's queries stated that the practice of distributing circulars from house to house was annoying and should be stopped by law.

"Advertising by calling on the phone is rank," said one. "Nothing is more infuriating than to drop everything and run to the phone and find it is only a business firm soliciting business."

The byreau simply gathered the data; submitted it without comment to the Tulsa business firms ... formation. — Canyon

High School Outlines Work During 1932-33

The High School unit of the Wellington Parent-Teacher Association will close a successful year in two more months. Many difficulties appeared, many obstacles had be be overcome—yet the ideals of the parents, teachers and citizens in this community are so powerful, inspiring, and compelling as to outweigh the cost of personal effort. The results are as we know them—an organization of which we may well be proud.

The enrollment of 105 paid members for 1932-33 shows the largest membership in the organization's history. Their motto, "Better Cooperation of Home and School in the Interest of Children," has been demonstrated and through united efforts and cooperation the officers and committees have served the organization—not resting on their oars but with firm steady strokes, pushing on to their goal.

It is both challenging and interesting to watch the mental development of children from year to year. Many difficult problems would vanish if we had a clearer insight into the workings of the child's mind. Thus an effort on the part of the parents and teachers to discover, nourish and direct the inherent potentialities of children.

While character education begins in the home, it finds its expression in the school and community. We find home, school and church closely linked together with the P. T. A. chain.

This year's work had been under the leadership of the following: Mrs. R. C. Dryden, president; Mrs. Chester Fires, first vice; Ples Masten, second vice; J. A. Moore, third vice; Mrs. Henry Holcomb, secretary; Mrs. T. T. Fain, treasurer; Mrs. S. G. Henry, historian.

Projects for Year

Some of the projects for the year were as follows: Standard Association, Dean of Women, Library Extension, Beautification of School Campus, Study Course—six weeks, and Compiliation of History.

As a money making scheme a mascot contest was held in connection with the membership drive.

Educational and interesting programs were held during the year as follows:

State Birthday

Observation of state birthday was held in October and a gift sent to headquarters. In connection with this program a membership rally was held using the Emblematic Tree in demonstration.

Book Week

Book week in November was stressed. A Spanish program was held which was conducted by Miss Louise Harle, high school Spanish teacher.

Christmas Play

In December a Christmas play was given by the students of Mrs. S. G. Henry.

Thrift

Thrift was the topic discussed at the program held in January with Ples Masten as leader.

Founders Day

A. ingredients were dropped in as the cake was being stirred by the bakerman. An offering was sent to national headquarters. Mrs. G. L. Farrar acted as leader of this program.

Dodsonville P. T. A. Shows Record Report

The Dodsonville P. T. A. will close a very successful year after the next two months of school. The records show that the services extended during the year 1932-33 gained over last year. The achievements demonstrated the unfailing interest with which teachers and parents have worked.

They realize that child conservation and aid is an American problem which should have the aid of every intelligent teacher and parent.

Teachers Co-Operate

The part played by the teachers in the success of the Dodsonville P. T. A. has been very important. They have always responded graciously and willingly to anything asked of them by those in charge of the different activities. The officers of the P. T. Purina Trademark Originated In Humble Country Store Of Missouri

Famous trademarks, like famous men, often evolve from humble beginnings. Such is the fascinating story of one of America's most distinguished business symbols—the Checkerboard of Purina Mills—a familiar design that for nearly 40 years has so prominently identified every bag of livestock and poultry feed manufactured by this international concern, and so familiar to those who visit Eads Produce.

Known from coast to coast, the Checkerboard trademark traces its origin to a small country store in southeast Missouri. Here in this store—his father's store—worked Will Danforth, the lad who was destined later to become founder and president of Purina Mills. Even at an early age young Danforth showed he had the instincts of a business man. He liked to keep store. Whenever a farmer drove up with the family he would see to it that with dispatch and courtesy, they were supplied with all their needs.

In those days, farm women made the clothes for the family. They bought their calico by the bolt instead of by the yard. Each family had a bolt of an individual pattern. Shirts for the boys and dresses for the girls all came from the same bolt, making it easy to identify the members of any one family by the pattern of the cloth that made up their clothes. It was quite like the Highland clans of Scotland and their plaids.

Each spring and fall, new supplies of dry goods would be received at the store, and always the farm women hurried to town anxious for first choice. Young Danforth observed how favored were the checkerboard patterns. The largest and brightest checkerboards were always first out of stock. He noted, too, how prominent and distinguishable was this pattern, how attractive.

And so it happened that a few years later when Wm. H. Danforth founded Purina Mills, his memory carried him back to boyhood days and his country store experience, as he sought a trademark to distinguish Purina products. He recalled the checkerboard calico, its vividness, popularity, snap, and four-square-ness. Even though several years had elapsed, the checkerboard design still stood out so strongly in his mind that, as he says, it seemed only natural to choose that symbol to distinguish the profit producing feeds and supplements made by Purina Mills.

Now, thirty-seven years later, the Purina Checkerboard and Checkerboard feeds are known everywhere. Such is the story back of the Checkerboard on the bags of feeds and supplements at Eads Produce.

Happy "New Deal" With Roosevelt » »

Wellington, Texas.
April 15th, 1933

Dear Friends:

We feel that now it the time to say "Happy New Year" for we feel that we have really turned that corner we have all looked for so long, and are just now entering a "New Year," with a "New Deal" for us all.

We believe that Franklin D. Roosevelt is a Leader of Destiny, and his promises will continue to be backed by action. His firm hand in the recent banking situation has put the nation on a sound basis. Other matters of vital importance especially balancing the national budget, will be speedily acted upon.

We admire his thorough and straight-forward manner in handling the Nation's business—and when the Nation's business is in order, your business and our business will have the chance it deserves to prosper. Foreign countries are showing restored confidence in us as a Nation. The American Dollar is again at par.

With this in mind, permit us to wish you a successful 1933—the year of the "New Deal" and a new business era.

We want to tell you how much we value your friendship, and how we want to merit your continued business by constantly maintaining the high quality of Nowlin's Supplies, and Home Service.

We cannot tell you every day in the year that we appreciate your loyalty and co-operation, but we THINK it every day, and bend every effort to give you the high standard of quality and business dealing that you justly expect.

Again, let us wish you a HAPPY NEW DEAL.

Yours very sincerely,

SENIOR SERIES

By Mary Frances Templeton

NUMBER FOUR

Each year for the past seven years, The Leader had carried this feature, giving in a few weeks, write-ups of all members of the senior class of Wellington High School. The feature is being repeated and during the ensuing weeks each member of the class will receive mention in this exclusive feature of The Leader.

Richard Reed Carter

Richard Reed Carter was born June 27, 1914 in Wellington, Texas. He is the son of Mrs. John W. Breedlove of Wellington. He has attended the schools of Wellington for nine years, and the schools in Norman, Oklahoma for two years. Richard is president of the Senior Class and he also held the president's office in his Junior year, and was president of the Senior English Club.

His favorite subjects are mathematics and dramatics. He showed his dramatic ability in the Junior play of '32 and the Senior play of '33. We remember his character representation of Reverend Archibald Perry, the pastor of the village flock, in the Senior play which was presented this term. Richard is praised for his ability to handle the most difficult character with the ease of the best actors.

Rich, as he is known to the coach and the football boys, won a sweater in football this last season. He participated in football three years and basket ball one year.

He plans to enter Texas Tech and major in Spanish. After his education is finished he plans to be a foreign language instructor.

Richard played in the band two years, and now plays the trombone in the Senior orchestra. He plans to enter declamation this spring.

We are sure of Richard's success in the future because of his ease in the ability of making friends. He has always been an active member of his class and holds the admiration of his friends.

Dale Vikor Watkins

Dale Vikor Watkins was born March 11, 1916, in Wellington, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Watkins of 1303 South Amarillo Street. He has attended the schools of Wellington for eleven years.

He was the secretary and treasurer of the Sophomore class of '31 and he is the vice president of the Senior class of '33.

Dale participated in tennis in '31, '32 and '33 and in football in '29, '30, '31 and '32. He won letters in these fields of athletics. He was a member of the band in '29, '30, '31; he now belongs to the Senior Orchestra. Other organizations of which he has been a member are I. L. S. Fraternity in '32 and '33, the Radio Club in '32 and the Senior English Club in '33.

Dale says his favorite subject is study hall. He plans to major in science. In keeping with Dale's flash of color displayed during his senior year, we anticipate permanent displays of skill and intelligence in whatever lines he choses to excel. You may be assured that Dale has capabilities for such.

All seniors are looking forward to the future success of their vice president.

Elmer Knox Jones

Elmer Knox Jones was born March 6, 1916, in Wellington, Texas. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Jones of Wellington, Texas. He has attended the schools of this city for ten years.

He held the office of vice president for the freshman class of 1930, and that of the reporter for the sophomore class of 1931.

Elmer Knox has demonstrated his musical ability as a member of the band for three years and as a member of the senior class orchestra. He was among those who belonged to the Radio Club and during the present year he is of the I. L. S. Fraternity.

A very prominent place in athletics has been held by Elmer Knox throughout his four years in high school. He has lettered two years years in tennis, and one year in track. Most faithfully has he played football for his Alma Mater during his entire high school career. His election as captain of the football team represented the esteem with which his fellow players regarded him.

University of Texas or S. M. U. is Elmer's choice of colleges, which he will enter next year. There he will major either in medicine or in aeronautical engineering. As to the profession, which he will follow upon completion of his study, he still wavers between surgery and aeronautical engineering. Despite which of the two he selects, we predict with one accord complete success for him, judging by his excellent scholarship in Wellington High School and by his enviable personality.

Floy Mae Willis

Floy Mae Willis was born September 28, 1915, in Sebastople, Mississippi. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vander Willis of Wellington, Texas. She has attended the schools of Wellington for eleven years.

Floy Mae was a member of the pep squad in '31 and '32; and a member of the Dramatics Club in '33; a member of the Home Ec. Club and the Commercial Club in '33. She depicted the character of the canny chaperon in the Senior play which was presented this term. She was also a member of the cast in the junior play in '32.

Dramatics and English are her favorite subjects. She plans to enter Texas Technological College, in Lubbock and major in dramatics. After her education is finished, she plans to organize national literary sororities and clubs. We are sure she will have a bright and snappy future because she always does her work well.

Floy Mae is that kind of a girl who is a good friend to all, and a girl whom to know is to love.

Dysart Holcomb

Dysart Holcomb was born May 1, 1917, in Wellington, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Holcomb of Wellington. He has attended the schools of Wellington for nine years.

Dysart is a member of the following orbanizations: I. L. S. Fraternity '32 and '33, Physics Radio Club '32, and the Senior English Club '33.

Although chemistry and physics are Dysart's favorite subjects, he has been a good student in all other subjects.

He plans to study in University of Texas next year, majoring in radio engineering. After completing his University course, he plans to become a radio engineer.

Dysart is the type of person who enters either work or play wholeheartedly, and he is a good friend to all.

WE COULD TELL YOU in many words how chicks live and grow when fed Purina Chick Startena and Purina Chick Growena. We could tell you of their extra size and weight. We could tell you about the big money-making type of pullets they'll be next fall. But in a few short words, this is what we want to say about Purina Chick Startena and Purina Chick Growena:

The money paid for both Chows will be refunded if baby chicks when fed Purina Chick Startena and Purina Chick Growena according to the Purina 2-7-11 Plan do not develop twice as fast the first five months as when fed straight grain feed.

That's our guarantee to you if you follow the Purina 2-7-11 plan. You can't lose. So come in and let's get together on this plan that will make money for you this year.

"Ma" Appoints New Officials

Reports from Austin this week stated that Larry Mills, Dallas and W. A. Morrison of Milliam county were appointed to members of the state board of education.

They would like the places surrendered by C. H. Chernosky of Houston and Ben F. Tisinger of Garland, whose reappointment by former Gov. R. S. Sterling to the board during the last few days of his administration, lacked a two-thirds majority vote for confirmation by the senate.

It was contended that Mrs. Ferguson was entitled to make those appointments instead of the retiring governor.

It was likely there would be a contest over confirmation of Mills, several of the senators expressing dissatisfaction with submission of his name by the chief executive. Mills has been active in politics for a number of years.

The governor also appointed L. J. Wardlaw of Fort Worth and Guy T. Anderson of Robertson county to the board of directors of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college, and J. K. Brim of Sulphur Springs, Mrs. Doak Roberts of Dallas and Mrs. J. M. Loving of Austin to the College of Industrial Arts board of regents.

Dr. J. B. Brady, El Paso dentist, was named to the state board of health to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Ralph A. Erickson, deceased.

Members of the C I. A. board of regents whose terms expired were H. Nugent Fitzgerald of Austin, Mrs. E. P. Turner of Dallas, and Ed Mays of Sweetwater. Terms of P. L Downs Jr., of Temple and W. T. Montgomery of San Antonio on the A. & M. board expired.

Mexican Mountain Lion Is Captured Near Eagle Pass

That wide, brush-covered border wilderness known as the Indio ranch country south of Eagle Pass, has given up another of the fierce animals that roam its wilds.

Measuring a fraction of an inch less than eight feet from tip of tail to nose, the grey-colored male was slain with two shots from the gun of Antonio Muzquiz, a trapper who lives in Eagle Pass. Muzquiz, who is 23 years of age, has been capturing coyotes, wildcats and other fur animals in the Indio section for a number of years, but of three mountain lions he has shot, the latest kill was the largest.

The teeth and claws were over an inch long. Scars on its head and flanks showed that it had a combative and destructive existence, taking possibly a goodly shore of the scores of sheep and goats lost every year.

Muzquiz captured his first lion at the Indio on January 20, 1931. It measured 6 feet 7 inches. The second, killed on July 11, 1932, measured 7 feet 2 inches.

Another untamed inhabitant of the Indion section also was taken on the same day. Luis Casablanca and two fishing companions brought home from their four-day trip the skin of a huge diamond back rattlesnake which measured nearly six feet and had eight rattles.

Col. Miller to Organize Farm Colony On "101"

Establishment of a farm community for 300 unmarried men on the historic and picturesque 101 ranch it planned by Col. Miller.

Explaning his project here, the pioneer plainsman said it depended on succes of his effort to have discharged the receiver for the ranch.

Col. Miller proposes to pay the men in "workcoupons," buy all supplies and at the end of the season distribute all crop proceeds among them.

"If I can get the receiver discharged," he said, "I'll plant 6,000 acres in broom corn and cotton. I'll use tractors to break the ground, but all cultivation will be hand. The work should employ 300 men from April to November."

Explaining his favoring unmarried men, Miller said:

"All of us have talked about the hardships of married men and their families, but few of us have thought of the unmarried man. He can get just as hungry as a married man and his problem is just as great as that of the married man."

Mrs. Ghandi, wife of the famed Mahatma, has been given another six month sentence in jail for agitation among the farmers of India. If our memory serves us, the lady has been getting six months about twice a year for quite a while.

Blaze In Vacant Residence Halts Robbery Of Bank

LEONARD, Tex.—It took a fire to stop a bank robbery here.

Three unmasked men had captured Night Watchman, J. H. Sanders and J. D. Hyde, a boy they found standing on the street near the Leonard National Bank, had tied them up and placed in the back room of the bank. They had started work with an aceylene torch on the bank vault, when the clang of the fire bell resounded. Citizens began running past the bank on their way to the fire, and, fearing they would be caught, the bandits left their torch and fled.

City Marshal J M. Blackwell was returning from the fire and, glancing toward the building, saw that a window had been broken. He investigated and found and released Sanders and Hyde, also taking charge of the acetylene torch.

Hyde said he was standing on a street corner waiting for a friend to come by in his car and take him to his home several miles in the country. One of the men thrust a gun in his side, ordering him to march into the bank and be quiet about it. Hyde obeyed.

Sanders was making his regular rounds when the three men pounced on him, overpowered and tied him and forced him into the bank.

The torch had only made a slight hole in the vault door, and it would have taken several hours' more time for the bandits to have drilled a big enough opening to let one of them slip into the vault. The acetylene equipment was turned over to the Sheriff's department at Bonham.

The fire was in a vacant residence. It was considerably damaged.

Human Shields Used In Kansas Bank Robbery

CHANUTE, Kans.—Four men robbed the Bank of Commerce of between $2,000 and $3,000 shortly after it opened recently and escaped by forcing five persons present at the robbery to act as a shield.

After picking up the money in the cages, the four men commanded William Gough, assistant cashier; A. C. Bowman, a farmer; W. W. Turner, a railroad switchman, Ruth Gray and Lettie Mae Hudson to accompany them to their automobile.

The bottom has been reached. There is no way to go except up. The "Corner" has been turned and better times are in sight. Our leaders are smart, our workers are industrious, our banks are sound. If we go to work, buy what we need, forget our fears and keep our face to the sun, our shadows will fall behind us. The spirit of America is on the job at last.
