

WELLINGTON VETERAN AND NEW HOME

Eugene Hunter, left, is shown with his new home on Bowie Street, where open house was held Sunday, September 2. The young World War II veteran is suffering from paralysis, with which he was stricken shortly after returning from service in Europe, and the house was built especially to meet his needs. More than 200 friends have called since he, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hunter, and brother, Chester Hunter, moved into the house. A complete story of the Sunday event will appear next week.

District Court Criminal Docket Called Monday

The criminal docket of District Court will be called Monday morning, September 10, Judge Luther Gribble said this week. Two cases are docketed for this time, and if they come to trial they will probably take up most of the week, he added.

The first case is that of the State vs. R. L. Thompson of Samnorwood, charged with rape. This case was tried in November and resulted in a hung jury.

The other case is the state vs. Henry Seals, colored, charged with the murder of A. B. Fields, also colored. Seals was indicted December 11, 1950.

Five civil cases were disposed of by Judge Gribble in the term of court last week. A judgment was handed down overruling a plea of privilege in the case of J. S. McMullen and wife vs. D. B. Cline and Cline Appliance Co. This is a damage suit which the defendants had sought to have moved to Childress County, Mrs. O. E. Dodson, district clerk, said.

A temporary injunction was granted James Doneghy in the suit styled James Doneghy vs. R. L. Templeton et al. In this suit, Mr. Doneghy seeks to enjoin the county from collecting taxes assessed on bank stock for the years 1947 and 1948, Mrs. Dodson said. The plaintiffs include Judge Templeton; the four commissioners, Jack Brewer, Alfred Knoll, Pat O'Hair and Cortez Barnett; Hubert Mauldin, sheriff and tax assessor and collector; and Bob Barnett, deputy sheriff, Mrs. Dodson said. Edward Poole, county attorney, is representing the defendants, and Judge J. R. Porter of Clarendon is representing the plaintiffs.

The remaining three cases were divorce suits, all of which were granted. The grand jury will be called for some time in September, Mrs. Dodson said.

Restaurant, Milk Ordinances Pass

In a regular meeting of the City Council Monday night, September 3, two ordinances, one pertaining to public eating places and the other to milk and milk products, were passed by the third and final reading and became effective immediately, Bura Handley, city manager, said.

Ordinance No. 319, the Standard Milk Ordinance, is captioned: Defining Grade A milk according to Senate Bill 83 of the 45th Legislature, 1937 definition (P), section 1, prohibiting the sale of adulterated and misbranded milk and milk products, regulating the inspection of dairy farms and milk plants, place of bottling milk. The full ordinance can be read at the City Hall.

Ordinance 320, the food establishment ordinance, is captioned: Defining food establishments, requirements for building housing food establishments, requirement of sanitary sewer system where available, regulating sterilizing of dishes and utensils, regulating the

Drouth Broken in Dozier Area; Cotton Opening

Rain in the north and west parts of the county Friday evening, August 31, will benefit a large cotton acreage, but the southern and eastern parts of the county failed to receive even a shower. The heaviest rainfall was around Dozier, where as much as two inches was reported. The moisture in this vicinity will be of real benefit to cotton not too badly burned, farmers of the area report. The fall was somewhat lighter in the Samnorwood and Nicholson areas. At Quail, .3 inch of moisture was measured, but north of there, in the Marella community, the rain was reported at more than an inch.

Throughout the county, cotton on tight land has begun opening rapidly, and an unexpected shortage of pullers has developed.

John Harper of the Farmers Co-op Gin in Wellington said that if enough hands could be located by farmers in this vicinity, that gin would be handling quite a bit of cotton by next week.

L. A. Davis, manager of the Rolla Gin, said that he has ginned ten bales since August 31, and that quite a lot of cotton is opening in that vicinity.

Several farmers around Dodson are already pulling, Mrs. Nadine Birchfield of the First State Bank reported Wednesday.

Alfred Knoll, Nicholson, Commissioner of Precinct 2, said that if he could locate hands, he would begin pulling cotton the first of the week.

While most of this is burnt, that ginned so far is turning out better than was expected, most of it being middling 7/8 cotton.

Reports from the sandy land sections are that little if any of the cotton is opening in those communities, and in the west part of the county, the best crop in several years is reported.

Bi-District Meeting Here

Hammond to Speak at Farm Bureau Meeting

H. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, will be the main speaker at the bi-district Farm Bureau meeting to be held here Monday, September 10, Mrs. Eddie Smith, service officer for the Collingsworth County unit, has announced.

This will be an all day meeting, held at the community building, with Alex Coleman, president, in charge.

Mr. Hammond, who has not announced the subject of his talk, is expected to discuss some time during the day plans for the fall membership drive, accomplishments during the present year, and Farm Bureau aims.

He will be accompanied here by O. R. Long, an officer in the state set-up.

Farm Bureau officials and agents from surrounding counties will be here, Mrs. Smith said, as she urged a full turnout of the county membership and all others interested in farming.

The morning session will begin at 10:00 a.m. and the afternoon session at 1:30 p.m.

Missionary to China Will Speak September 14

Dr. Robert F. Ricketson, long-time missionary to China who has seen the conquest of both the Japanese and the Chinese communists, will speak at the Methodist Church in Wellington Thursday night, September 13, at 8:00 p.m., the Rev. J. F. Michael, pastor, has announced.

Dr. Ricketson's talk is sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service, the Wesleyan Service Guild and the Methodist Men's Organization.

With his wife and two sons, Dr. Ricketson is now living at Hollis, although he will later attend Teacher's College, Columbia University in New York City.

From his own experiences in China during one of the most turbulent periods of its history, the missionary will tell of conditions there. He remained in the country until February 18, 1951.

Dr. Ricketson was born at LaGrange, Georgia in 1903 and studied at Mercer University, Macon, Ga., and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth. He holds a Th. D. degree.

His wife is the former Bettie Abernethy of Hollis.

He was appointed by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention as a missionary to China in 1936 and has spent two periods of service there as an educational missionary teaching in mission schools.

He lived under Japanese control in China from 1937 to 1941. He was in China during the communist conquest of the city in 1949, remaining under their rule until

Farmers Supply Sold to South Plains Men

Sale of Farmers Supply by P. E. Starr to T. J. Buske of Floydada and G. B. Harvey of Crosbyton was announced this week, when the new owners took over the management of the business.

Farmers Supply is the Wellington agent for John Deere farm machinery.

"We are happy to be the owners of a fine business like Farmers Supply, and we are even before we came here, we were aware of the good will and friendship the owners had built up. We want to get acquainted with all of you as quickly as we can, and we want to do our part in working for the town and county," Mr. Buske and Mr. Harvey said.

Mr. Harvey was a drug store owner and theatre manager at Crosbyton for the past 13 months. Both he and Mrs. Harvey call Petersburg their home town, and both completed their high school work there. They have two children, Sue, a junior in high school, and Bill, a sophomore. They are living at 1203 El Paso St.

Mr. Harvey was city business manager at Petersburg three years, a director of the Business Men's Club and a member of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Harvey was a member of the PTA and a study club. They were active in the Baptist Church.

City Fire Loss Record For 30 Years Called Outstanding

A record of the fire insurance premiums paid, and the fire losses in the city for 30 years, as long as the records have been kept, was released this week by Olin Culberson, Secretary of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association to Wayne Cudd, chief of the Wellington Fire Department.

Fire losses for the period amount to $396,374.78, while property owners carrying insurance have paid in $796,815.55 in premiums.

Commissioners to Set Tax Rate Mon.

The regular meeting of Commissioners Court will be held Monday morning, September 10, in the Commissioners Court Room at 10:00 a.m., County Judge R. L. Templeton said.

The county tax rate will be set at this time, and will be the same as for last year, $1.00 per $100 valuation, Judge Templeton said.

The court will also set a date for some time this month to meet with Palmer Massey, state highway engineer, of Childress, relative to the county's next farm to market road program.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT A LITTLE UNDER 1950; FOUR NEW TEACHERS

Enrollment in the Wellington schools totals 1,089, and is believed that there are additional children in the district to begin their work, Supt. C. T. Roberts said Tuesday afternoon, following the opening of the term Monday, September 3.

The faculty has been completed, with four teachers elected during the past week.

Mrs. Bernice Welch and Louis Graham, both of Wellington, were elected to teach the fourth grade in Elementary School, Mrs. Latorna Curlee of Canadian will teach English in high school, and Clifford Nelis of Beaver, Oklahoma, will teach vocational shop work in high school.

Mrs. Welch is a former teacher in the Wellington school, and for the last two years was special service teacher at Samnorwood. She received her degree from North Texas State College at the close of the summer term.

Mr. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Graham, was reared here, graduated from Wellington high school and served in the armed forces during World War II. He received his degree from Canyon in June, after doing his practice teaching in the Wellington high school.

Mrs. Curlee is a former teacher in the Van and Tyler schools while Mr. Nelis has his degree from Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Oklahoma.

In announcing the enrollment, Mr. Roberts said that the number is 36 under the initial enrollment for 1950, when 1,125 students were listed.

Enrollment by schools for the two years are:

46 Men of Unit Attend

National Guard Home From Training Camp

National Guard members returned home Sunday after a rigorous two-week field training period at Camp Polk, La., in which 44 enlisted men and two officers from the Medical Company here joined with other units of the 142nd Infantry Regiment of the 36th Division.

The two weeks active duty training, a concentrated refresher course in everything the Guard learned during the year, was highlighted by a review for Gov. Allen Shivers. This is the first time in recent years the National Guard Division has trained outside Texas.

The first week was taken up in drilling and a showing of units at full strength.

During the second week, the Guardsmen participated in a mock battle with some of the men aggressors and others defenders.

Major D. V. Watkins, the commanding officer, and Lt. Don Kutch were in charge of the local unit.

"This is a fine record and I am sure your citizens will be justly proud and appreciative of what has been done by the department. This statement shows what a tremendous business investment the fire department is to your city," Mr. Culberson wrote Mr. Cudd.

Burton Love Seriously Ill

Burton Love, who returned to his home on the Bishop Ranch near Erick, O. La., last week after being hospitalized at Hot Springs, N. M. and El Paso since July 10, was brought to St. Joseph's Hospital critically ill Friday, but his condition Tuesday was reported improved.

Mr. Love underwent emergency surgery in Hot Springs July 10 for a ruptured stomach ulcer. He later suffered a heart attack.

He was removed from his oxygen tent at St. Joseph's Hospital for a short time Tuesday, Judge C. C. Bishop said.

Mrs. Love and his parents, Judge and Mrs. Bishop, were with him in Hot Springs.

Store to Hold Opening Saturday

Formal opening of Loyd's Grocery and Market, located on 15th Street between the high school and elementary school, will be held all day Saturday, September 8, Loyd Langford, owner, has announced.

Coffee and cookies will be served to all visitors.

"We extend an invitation to everyone to attend our opening. Our store is in a location that is one of the most convenient in town, with plenty of parking space and a complete line of strictly fresh merchandise," the owner said.

The building housing the grocery was completed recently, and is of white stucco with large windows across the front and green and white metal awnings. It is set back from the street to allow

AMC Office Calls Meeting For Review of Farm Policies

A county wide meeting of the committees selected to represent different communities of the county, business men and others interested in agriculture, will be held next Friday afternoon, September 7, at 2:00 o'clock in the district court room, J. A. Coleman, chairman of the Agricultural Mobilization Committee has announced.

The purpose of the meeting is to formulate the recommendations of the committee with reference to any changes of the programs of the various agricultural agencies operating in the county, in order to better serve the family farmers of the county and of our Nation.

From these recommendations the Secretary of Agriculture hopes to evolve final recommendations reflecting the broadest possible cross-section of the opinions and ideas of American farmers themselves.

"We believe that such an appraisal will make a valuable and meeting is extended to any one in-constructive contribution to the future guidance of the Department, and to the eventual formulation of improved national policies for the well being of American agriculture," Coleman said.

An invitation to attend this meeting is extended to any one interested in agriculture, by the agricultural agencies operating in the county as listed below. Cooperative Extension Service, Production and Marketing Administration, Soil Conservation Service, Farm Credit Administration, Farmers Home Administration, Rural Electrification Administration.

Family to Hospital in Columbia

FORMER RESIDENT, BACK FROM COSTA RICA, TO BE AT QUAIL SUN.

Dr. and Mrs. George Kollmar, who with their three small daughters have just returned from San Jose, Costa Rica, will speak at the Quail Baptist Church Sunday, September 9, at eleven a.m. and eight thirty p.m.

Dr. Kollmar, who was a captain in the medical corps during World War II, will head the surgical staff at the Baptist Hospital now under construction in Barranquilla, Colombia.

The entire Kollmar family have been studying the Spanish language in Costa Rica for the past nine months, and are now ready to start work as missionaries in South America.

Mrs. Kollmar is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Boston, formerly of Wellington, now of Goodnight, and the granddaughter of T. B. Starkey, of Wellington. She will be remembered here as Miss Rosemary Boston, and before her marriage she taught in the Wellington schools.

Everyone is invited to attend these services.

Rockets Will Scrimmage Wheeler There Friday

The Wellington Skyrockets will scrimmage the Wheeler Mustangs there Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Coach Masey McKnight announced Monday.

In the first scrimmage of the season, the Rockets met Borger Tuesday night here.

"We didn't show up too well, but then we weren't supposed to look as good as a 4-AAA team," the coach commented. "We learned a lot, though, and that scrimmage did us good."

Hoot Gibson, fullback and co-captain, got a sprained ankle in the play and will be out of practice for two or three days, McKnight reported.

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER
Thursday, September 6, 1951

Tidelands Ownership and "Oil for War"

Loudly the opponents of State ownership of the tidelands trumpet that these lands should be in the hands of the Federal Government because the oil they contain must be available to the nation in case of war. Assuredly this oil must be available for national emergency, just as every other thing in the nation of value in prosecuting war must be, but it does not follow that this necessitates Federal ownership and control of the offshore lands. What this argument ignores is the fact that the tidelands oil would be just as available to meet the demands of war—and perhaps more so—under State ownership as under national ownership.

A favorite assertion of the advocates of Federal ownership is that the oil must be conserved, must be "held in reserve" for war use. Just what is entailed in this idea of "conservation" is not clear. It could mean one or a combination of three things. One is that the Federal Government would lease the lands to private operators for exploration and development, as is done under State control, and the oil brought to the surface would be stored against emergency. Another is that the wells would be brought to production stage and then shut off in until the time when their oil is needed. The third is that the oil in the submerged areas would be left untouched as reserves until such time as it is demanded by emergency. Advocacy of any of these courses betrays ignorance of the necessities for maintaining adequate production and adequate reserves of oil. Oil brought to the surface can be stored only in such quantities as would be negligible in comparison with national needs in wartime. It either must be marketed in orderly fashion or not produced, and there is no reason to believe this can be done any better under Federal than under State control—if as well.

Wells closed and shut in are liable to such deterioration and loss of production efficiency as to make them undependable sources of oil in future emergency. An example is the Government's Elk Hills reserve, which developed in this manner, produced only a comparative trickle of oil to meet World War II needs. The third of the courses advocated by the pro-federal group would be dangerous and mistaken. No one can be absolutely certain of whether oil would be produced in a given area, much less what the rate of output will be, until he has tapped it with a drill stem. Oil research and development is a time-consuming process, as witnessed by the fact that only a small fraction of the oil used in World War II came from pools discovered after Pearl Harbor—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

OTHER EDITORS SAY:—

Bureaucracy's No Answer

"The answer to the problem of medical care will not be found in any political panacea or through the development of a super bureaucracy. The answer to the problem will be neither simple nor easy, but it will be found within the framework of our present economic system and our present constitutional safeguard."

That wasn't said by a spokesman for the medical fraternity. Instead, it was recently said by one of the most aggressive labor leaders in the country—Dave Beck, executive vice president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. He then added: "The answer as proposed by advocates of government-controlled medicine is contrary to our economic structure and goes beyond our traditional guarantees. Any system which proposes such modifications in our way of living and doing things would lead to a dangerous socialist trend and cannot be tolerated. Such a system would destroy our liberty."

It is often argued that those who oppose socialized or government-dominated medicine are sinister representatives of special interests, who have no concern for the problems of the "common man." That certainly doesn't apply to Dave Beck, who fights hard for what he considers the rights of labor. But, in company with a growing number of other labor leaders he knows that socialism destroys free labor just as it destroys free enterprise.

Mr. Beck pointed out, with complete accuracy, that much is being done to solve the medical care program—and is being done voluntarily. His final sentences should be read and remembered by all of us: "I say that we have built this great nation through individual initiative and intelligence. . . . Let us never make the mistake of socializing the medical profession. We have been born as a great people and we will continue to thrive as a great people only under a system of free enterprise—free for the business man, free for labor, free for the doctors and free for all of our people."

Recent action of doctors in Britain again emphasizes the undesirability of socialized medicine. The Labor Government received notice that all 20,000 doctors in the health service will put out

September 25th unless they get arbitration of their demands for higher pay—The Kilgore News Herald.

American Migration

The revolutionary transition of this country from a rural to an urban economy is shown in a Census Bureau report of a continued decline in farm population.

The total number of people living on farms was 24,335,000 in 1950, the lowest figure in recent history. There has been a decline of two million in farm population since 1949 and about five million since 1947. The import of these statistics may be gauged by the fact that in the early days of the nation's history 80 per cent of its people lived on farms.

Greater money income in the cities has been deemed the principal attraction for rural people who leave the farm, although many other factors have entered into the migration. Industrialization has required more workers, and reinforcements have come from the rural communities. Farm machinery has increased productivity and reduced the demand for agricultural workers.

The net result has been accepted as progress, although the social and economic impact of the great migration to the cities must be recognized. The decentralization of industry to permit its workers to live on small tracts of land and to retain some of the benefits of rural life as well as the advantages of industrial employment would cushion the effect of this mass movement. Basically, the durability of a nation and individualism must have its roots in the soil. Urban civilizations, despite their appeal, are ephemeral from the standpoint of history—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's notes For this hot weather, the Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek is writing pretty seriously. It's the heat, no doubt. Dear editor:

I was out here yesterday sittin' around in the shade waitin' for cooler weather, some people want to do something about the weather but I find waitin' is the best plan, seems like it's been hotter this summer than it's ever been before, but I felt the same way about last summer and the summer before and will feel the same about next summer, and a little whirlwind not stirrin' up more air than the fourteenth candidate on a ticket for governor passed and dropped a lot of trash near me, includin' a copy of the Wichita Falls Record News, and since I needed something to fan with I picked it up and after I got through fannin', after decidin' the amount of breeze I generated wasn't worth the effort it took, glanced over it and noticed an article sayin' the United States is in for a period of austerity.

That is, with more and more money being spent for defense, with more and more money goin' for taxes to pay for it, with more controls loomin', etc., the American people may not be able to keep up prosperity indefinitely and harder times may arrive, the experts contend, addin' that with all this soft livin' we been havin' there's some doubt whether we could stand up to austerity.

Personally, I ain't worried. It's true this country has more comforts than any country on earth, but it's also true at one time we had the fewest, and neither condition has gotten the best of us. I know a few people right now who ain't got no bode of roses, and I know a lot who can remember nickel cotton and two-bit corn. There's one thing about Americans, they can stand hard times as well as prosperity, or prosperity as well as hard times, and I know people now who started out pretty prosperous but have wound up broke, but they seem to be gettin' along about as well as anybody else, and I know some prosperous people now who, if the bottom should fall out, will fall out with it, carryin' a few creditors along, but people who say Americans have been ruined by soft livin' just don't know Americans. Why, I been takin' things easy out here for years and I got just as much strength of character as I started out with and about the same amount of money and, like the rest of the country, a few more debts.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Bible Comment FOR SEPT. 9

Micah Defines Religion as Duty

Among the most often quoted of Biblical precepts is the simple and exact definition of religion by the Hebrew prophet, Micah. You will find in the book of prophecy that bears his name the definition written by this man who lived in the eighth century before Christ, and that definition of religion is duty.

And such duty demands a full and subservient humility and obedience to God who is the source of life and love and the true object and end of man's worship.

"He (God) hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" (Micah 6:8.)

There, above, in the words of Micah, is the marrow aspect of religion. The gospel defines the Godward view.

Here is a similar explanation by James, the brother of Our Lord: "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unpolluted from the world." (James 1:27).

Religion is defined by James in particular and specific acts, but acts that are symbolic of the entire Christian spirit and attitude. The definition in Micah is in more general and all-inclusive terms.

But both have in common the same simple, forward expression that allows of no mistakes in meaning and too, does not confuse by a clattering of excess and meaningless phrases no matter how reverent the intention. Both definitions are clear-cut, concise.

And something else to be noted about these definitions of religion is that they stand in contrast to, and in protest against, formal profession and elaborate practice of ritual that lacks the soul of sincerity, and the reality of goodness in words and deeds.

Looking Ahead With George S. Benson

AN ATHEIST TEACHING TEACHERS!

An impassioned letter just received from the mother of two college-age sons has disturbed me deeply. "I have one son," she writes, "who attended both a church-supported school and a State college. He came out of both schools believing there was something fundamentally wrong with the American way of life and that something must be done to remedy it. Try as hard as I could I have not been able to erase these thoughts from his mind. If he had any teaching at all which would strengthen his faith in this country and help him appreciate it I could never tell it."

"I have another son who is now attending (a State teachers' college). Last year he had an atheist as his English teacher. This same teacher taught a book (name of book deleted — GSB) the contents of which prompted my son to write a formal criticism of one of its essays," she sent me a copy of the criticism.

RELIGION CONDEMNED

"This essay," wrote the son, "is the most frank and direct Communist propaganda that I have ever read. The very subject itself depicts the idea which the master mind of Communism has worked on for years. The over-all aim and purpose is to reduce modern civilization to the puppet stage. Modern man must be completely manageable. . . ."

"I call attention to the fact that many of the things which we cherish and enjoy as Americans are belittled and condemned herein. For instance, religion is labeled as having failed. Such statements appear as: 'Now just suppose that there were a God of the sort that you and I were taught about when we were children. . . . The son continues his criticism pointedly: "This essay as well as the book in which it appears is a disgrace to our nation. Our minds should not be corrupted with such Communist filth. If a country wishes to continue to exist, its children and youth must be taught appreciation of and love for that country."

ON ACADEMIC FREEDOM

Every American college youth should learn all there is to know about Communism and Socialism—but not from an atheist who might try to convert the student to Socialism or some other collectivism that denies God and the worth of the individual. At Harding we have many textbooks on Communism and Socialism. The professor's responsibility, we think, is to point out the consummate evil of Communism and the danger and weakness of Socialism. We teach that the American way of life and the American economic system, while not perfect, are far superior to anything yet devised—based on the facts of history.

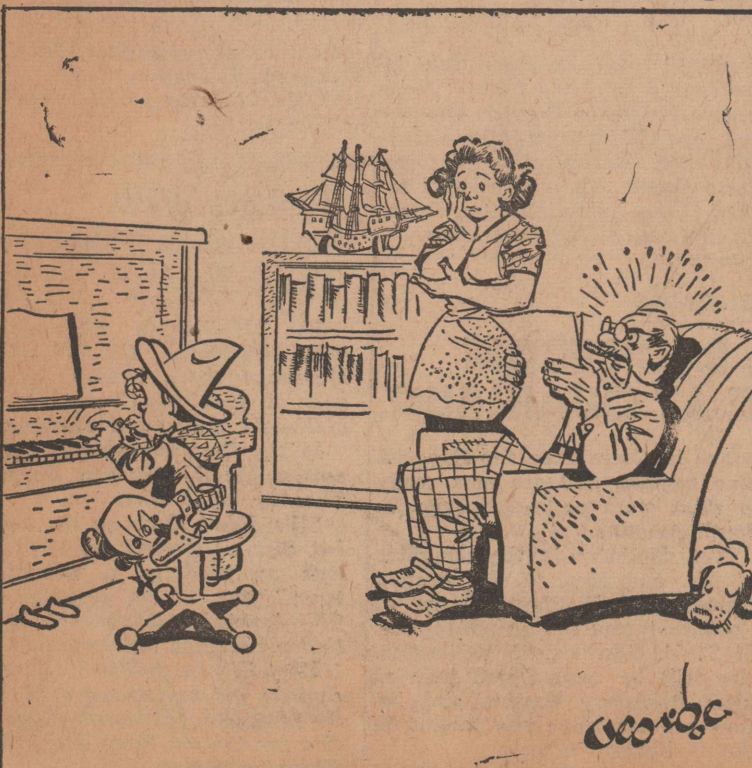

Benjamin H. Namm, Brooklyn business leader and chairman of the Board of Trustees of New York State Technical Institute, has reasonably suggested that "academic freedom" and "freedom of speech" entitle an American college to teach its students to be Socialists—if it makes its "mission" clearly evident, and its patrons are satisfied. His views were the subject of a recent Saturday Evening Post editorial.

CITIZEN INTEREST NEEDED "My major premise," says Mr. Namm, "is that all universities, schools and colleges should stand up and be counted." If their mission is to teach Socialism, then so be it. Parents who want their children reared in that philosophy may then know what to expect. I believe that those institutions which prefer to remain "neutral" and feel they have no "mission" in life, should make this fact known to all of those who are properly concerned. My main concern has to do with the university, college or secondary school which creates the false impression that it believes in, and teaches according to, the American way of life and then conveys to young and immature minds the ideas and ideals of an alien philosophy."

I believe, of course, that the great majority of American teachers are devoted to the American way of life. However, there are so many instances like those described by the mother who is concerned for her two sons that we must also recognize there is great danger in classrooms where teachers choose to undermine the fundamentals of our American way of life. With Mr. Namm, I feel strongly that the presence of such influences should be known to the parents.

Funeral For Drowning Victim Held Thursday

Funeral services for Bobby Brown, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown of Loco, were held at the Assembly of God Thursday afternoon, August 30, with the Rev. R. A. Jolliff, pastor, and the Rev. Mr. Runyon in charge.

The little boy was drowned in a farm tank near his home Tuesday morning, when he left the house alone to play in the water. Members of the family became alarmed when his dog returned without him, and his body was found at noon.

Pall bearers for the funeral were Wilford Hamon, Riley Hooper, Harold Scott, Larry Jesse, Charles Prince and Billie McDaniel. Flower bearers were Ruth Arthur, Wanda Jolliff, Nell Wilkerson, Loretta Phipps, Zonetta Phipps and Naomi Runyon.

Burial was in the Wellington cemetery under the direction of the Kelso Funeral Home.

Bobby was born April 20, 1945, and had spent his entire life in the Loco community.

He is survived by his parents; seven sisters and five brothers, Mrs. S. J. Griggs of Stockton, California; Pfc. James Brown, Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio; Grady Brown, Corona, Calif.; and Kay, Judy, Joyce, Linda, Cathy, Theresa, Tommy, Clyde and Harold Brown of the family home. Other survivors are his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Mills of Arlington, Calif.; and a great grandmother, Mrs. Irene Mills of Whitesboro.

News of Men in Service

The following is a letter from Pfc. David L. Browning, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Browning of Dumas, who have lived in the Quail and Samnorwood communities for many years before moving to Dumas.

Pfc. Browning has gone to school most of his life at the two schools and graduated from Quail High School with the class of 1947. He entered the Army in September 22, 1950.

His wife is making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Parker, in Wellington while her husband is overseas.

Dear Folks, I thought it was hot in Texas, but it is cool compared with the heat over here.

We got off the boat late yesterday evening and then got on a train and stayed on it for 3 1-2 hours and it took us to where we are now, at Camp Drake, Japan. We got here about 12 last night. We got paid $20.00 each this morning and took another shot. Today is Sunday so we get the rest of the day off.

I am so tired of laying around I don't even have the energy to go downstairs and get a drink, and I sure am thirsty.

The commanding officer said we would be here several days. There is about 400 men to each barracks.

Well, I got my mail while I was on the train; it beat me over here; and there were nine letters.

We have to get up at 3:30 in the morning to get in line for breakfast in order to be through to get in line for dinner and the same thing again at supper.

Your son, Lee Roy Pfc. Browning has requested that his address be published so that his friends can see it. He wants very much to hear from everyone he knows.

The address is as follows: Pfc. David L. Browning U. S. 54065137 Prov. Co. 793 A. P. O. 613, c/o Postmaster San Francisco, California

Pfc. V. L. Vaughn Jr. graduated July 20 from an Air Force Technical school in communications at Brooks Air Force Base in San Antonio. This is the third school from which he has graduated, the other two being in Keesler, Mississippi.

He is now stationed with the Air Force Security Service at Brooks as a radio instructor.

He and his wife visited friends and relatives last week end here. They included his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Epps and Glenda, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hartman, Mrs. Blanche Rodgers and Ruth.

Pfc. Vaughn is scheduled to go overseas in February. He is now with the 8th Radio Squadron.

Bill R. Davis, SA, on the USS Lanning 55, has reported back to duty after spending three weeks at home with his mother, Mrs. Noah Johnson and other relatives. Davis went into service January 2. He took his boot training at Great Lakes, Illinois, and his advanced training at Norfolk, Va. He expects to receive sea duty soon.

A letter to the Leader this week from Mrs. P. J. Haralson of Midway Park, N. C., tells that four of the Haralson brothers, all formerly of Wellington, are in service.

Lt. Percy J. Haralson is with the Marine Observation Squadron One, Aircraft F. M. F. Lant & 2nd M. A. W. F. M., Peterfield Point, Camp LeJeune, N. C. He graduated from high school here in 1936.

Roy Browning Haralson is with the Army in Germany; Rudolph William Haralson is with the Marines stationed at Seattle; and Hodges Haralson is with the Marines in Korea.

Lloyd Sullivan of Las Cruces, N. M., formerly of this county, and a member of the Army Reserve, was recalled to active duty about three months ago with the rank of first lieutenant.

He was sent to Fort Hood, then picked among a group of officers to go to Fort Bragg, N. C., to help in training 10,000 troops stationed there.

He will return to Fort Hood within a few days.

Lt. Sullivan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sullivan of Wellington.

Cpl. Aubrey Harrison, who has been here on leave visiting his mother, Mrs. Maudie Harrison, and his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Nelson and children, left Tuesday for Camp Kilmer, N. J. From there he will fly to Wiesbaden, Germany, where he will be stationed.

Cpl. Harrison is with a teletype unit. He has been stationed in California.

Charles Richard Brown, seaman, USN, cousin of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Barker of Wellington, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Hopewell which recently arrived in the Far East.

Since arrival, the destroyer has been attached to the destroyer screening force of a fast carrier Task Force, and with the United Nations Blockading and Escort Force.

The Hopewell was recommissioned in March, from the mothball fleet, at San Diego, Calif.

Woodrow Murray, Yeoman First Class, USN, formerly of Wellington, has reported for duty with the U. S. Fleet activities, Yokosuka, Japan.

Murray, who was ordered back to active military service Septem-Navy November 28, 1941.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs.

Famous White Cross Plan

Hospitalization has increased in popularity in the Wellington area to such an extent that we do not have sufficient personnel to service the hundreds of inquires. We need 5 clean cut sales-minded men who can stand up under the strictest type of investigation and who have late model cars to call on these ever-increasing leads. Possibilities $150 per week and up.

The number of inquires coming in from Wellington and surrounding area have presented a problem where we need 5 men immediately to service these leads. Write W. B. Hobson, 252 Cotton Exchange Bldg., Lubbock, Texas.

1950-51 Financial Statement ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT Wellington High School

We publish this statement in order that patrons of the Wellington Schools and supporters of the Skyrocket athletic teams may know how much money was taken in by that department during the 1950-51 year, how much was paid out, and how we now stand.

Our expenses for equipment and supplies were extremely heavy this year due to almost of our equipment on hand wearing out at the same time. In addition, we had 95 boys out for track who had to be outfitted. These are expenses not confronted in previous recent years.

Your splendid support of the teams is appreciated by all of us, and we know we can count on your continued support.

Sincerely,
C. T. Roberts

Wood-O'Neil Vows Read In Beautiful Home Ceremony

Miss Joyce Wood and S/A Walter Lee O'Neil were united in marriage Saturday, September 1, in a beautiful ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Woods, at 1301 Bowie in Wellington at 5:30 p.m.

The double ring ceremony was read before an improvised altar of a large floral spray of white lilies of the valley connected by wide satin ribbons on each side to seven branched candelabras holding cathedral tapers low palms at the base completed the arrangement. The Rev. J. F. Michael, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Wellington, officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a cocktail length gown of white net over white satin fashioned with a full skirt and fitted bodice with a deep sweetheart yoke of illusion with a high neck closed in the back with tiny white satin buttons extending the length of the yoke, and leg-of-mutton sleeves with wide cuffs fastened with tiny satin covered buttons. Her finger tip veil of illusion was caught into a small half bonnet of the same material encircled with tiny lilies of the valley. White satin slippers and a colonial bouquet of gardenias encircled with white glamelias completed her attire. She carried out the tradition of something old, something new, borrowed and blue.

Miss Betty Wood, sister of the bride, acting as maid-of-honor chose a cocktail length gown of dusty rose satin fashioned with a full skirt and a fitted strapless bodice complimented with a stole of dusty rose net completed with satin slippers. Her bouquet was a nosegay of pink roses and she wore a garland of pink roses in her hair.

The mother of the bride chose for the occasion a street length blue crepe frock with black accessories. Her corsage was of talisman roses.

The mother of the groom wore a navy blue linen street length dress completed with purple accessories and a corsage of purple asters.

Ted O'Neil, brother of the groom, served as best man and Pat O'Neil, nephew of the groom, was the candle lighter.

Peggy Riggs, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Anderson, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony. Mrs. Anderson played Lohengrin's wedding march. And the beautiful "Liebestraum" by Liszt was played by Mrs. Anderson during the ceremony.

The bride attended Wellington schools for eleven years and graduated with the class of 1948. She attended college at Texas Tech her freshman year where she was pledged to the Kappa Sorority. She attended Texas State College for Women in Denton her sophomore and junior years.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin O'Neil, and a member of one of the oldest families of Collingsworth County was also educated in Wellington schools and graduated with the class of 1949. He was very active in sports and won many honors. He joined the Navy in January of 1951 and is now stationed at the U. S. Naval hospital at San Diego, California, where the young couple left immediately after the ceremony to make their home.

As they left for their new home in San Diego, the bride wore a blue faille suit with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Only close friends and relatives of the young couple attended the wedding.

after the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with a cut work Irish linen cloth and arranged with the four tiered wedding cake with the miniature bride and groom on top and appointed with forstoria and silver. After the bride and groom had cut the traditional first piece of the wedding cake it was served by Miss Yvette Schaded, Miss Lennie Lou Coleman served the pineapple punch. Mrs. Bill Adams, sister of the groom, presided over the register.

Birthday Dinner Honors P. E. Starr

P. E. Starr was honored Sunday, September 2, at a surprise birthday dinner, following his 68th birthday, which occurred Friday. Hostesses were his two daughters and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Earl Hunter and Mrs. Horace Small of Wellington, and Mrs. Mildred Starr of Amarillo.

The dinner was given in the Hunter home.

Present were all members of his immediate family except one grandson, Sgt. Clifton Earl Hunter, stationed with the Air Force in Japan. Also present were a brother, living here, and two sisters from Wilbarger county.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Kester of Odell; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Bourland of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Grady Burch, Miss Patricia Starr and Miss Mary John Starr of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Starr, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen and daughters, Vicky Ann and Charlotte, Miss Mary Ann Hunter, Horace Small, Earl Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Starr.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Cleveland and the sisters of Mrs. Cleveland all met in the Cleveland home Sunday, September 2, for a family reunion.

A bountiful dinner was served buffet style to the guests at noon. Those attending were the Cleveland children: Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Cleveland, Clinton Ray and Tommy of Lutie and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Elbert, Gleyne and Marsha of Wellington; sisters of Mrs. Cleveland; Mrs. W. L. Wright of Fort Worth, Mrs. Callie Wilson of Petrolia, Texas; and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Donald of Wellington and Mrs. Cleveland's cousin, Miss Bonnie Baker of Amarillo.

Also calling were friends, Mrs. James Dokey of Petrolia and Mrs. Charles Little of Wellington.

D. W. Crawford is in Palestine, Texas, visiting his father.

Norma Kiepe, daughter of Mrs. Roden Smart of Garfield, Arkansas, became the bride of Sam Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Carter, Sr. of the Arlie community, in a quiet single ring ceremony read in the parsonage of the First Baptist Church of Wellington Saturday, September 1, at 3:30 p.m. with Rev. Howard Jones officiating. Only close friends and relatives of the young couple attended.

Mrs. Carter attended schools in Colorado Springs, Colorado, before moving to Wellington several years ago. She has been employed by Williams Machinery Company for two years and will continue there after a wedding trip to Arkansas.

Mr. Carter was reared in Collingsworth County and attended schools at Cross Roads and Wellington. He served in the armed forces in 1946 and 1947. He is now employed at Scott Truck and Tractor Company in Wellington as a mechanic.

The bride chose for the occasion a tailored wine gaberdine suit which she complimented with a lavender crepe blouse, a small lavender felt hat with a tiny black veil, wine suede pumps and lavender gloves. Her corsage was of white stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Feemster attended the couple as maid of honor and best man. Mrs. Feemster chose a light brown suit complimented with beige and green accessories. Her corsage was of white gladiolus.

After a short wedding trip to Arkansas the young couple will make their home in Wellington.

Reunion Sidelights

Perhaps no Wellington graduate has received as wide recognition as Jan Isbell, a member of the first graduating class, in 1910. Now Mrs. Justin Stone of North Hollywood, Calif., she is a novelist, short story writer, poet and biographer of international note. She could not come to the first alumni reunion, but in a letter to Miss Katherine Boverie, sent three days before the celebration, she wrote frankly of some of her memories of Wellington.

Dear Katie:
The wire came from Clyde today, and I would reply to him, except I am afraid he would have left before it got there. It—Clyde's wire—touched me deeply. Likely it was just the same sort of wire he sent to all the other recalcitrant class members, but just the same, it meant a lot to me when he said, "We need you." Maybe you don't remember, but I do. I was NOT the village belle when I lived in Wellington. I was anathema to most people, except you and Harry Couch and Clyde and a few others who didn't see in me a limb of Satan headed for the burning.

Never let anybody tell you that you outgrow such things and eventually they are but thistle down upon the air. They lie, as any psychologist will tell you. I bear the scars upon my soul after forty years, and they will go with me to my grave. Of course, now, my world is not bound by those who disapproved of me in 1910. It has a larger scope. They do not matter — or rather, their present opinions of me do not matter. But their opinions in 1910 were the difference between a heaven and a hell for a high strung girl, who so wanted to be liked.

When I tell people now that I was not popular in my teens, they look at me like they think I'm fishing for a compliment. They say, "But it's impossible! You're joking! Who could fail to like you?" But they did. And it hurt.

I shall always remember Clyde, with his worn out shoes and his shabby clothes — but such a grand guy. — being kind to me. I shall always remember with a little heart clutch, Harry Couch stopping on the path to my Aunt Ruth's to let me do my little weep upon his shoulder — (purely a figure of speech, I assure you!) because so many of our class were going away to college, and my Uncle didn't think the money would be well spent sending me, not even to let me work my way through.

Harry was so understanding that day — and so sympathetic. I cried, like the kid that I was, because I seemed doomed to the cotton patch or the wash tub; and he stood and looked away and his throat worked a little and he said nice consoling things. Oh, I shall never, never forget. Just as I shall never forget your friendship and kindness; nor that of Mrs. Williamson; and Rollie's mother. When she baked me cookies that I loved — sugar cookies — to take with me on the train when I left Clyde's wire dredged from my subconscious all of the happiness and hurts of my years in Wellington. No, time doesn't take it away. It is still there — all of it — and I shall remember to my dying day. I am enclosing a picture — in case anybody cares to see my well-worn puss. It was snapped one day by a publicity man at Sam Goldwyn's about six years ago. I'm ancient-er since then. But still haven't settled down into a nice ripe old age, as I should.

The man who wired the lights for our pool a year ago can still testify to that. I think that I shall never see such a look on a human's face as was on his when my husband called him and read him off because he had cut the wires leading from the eaves and left them un-taped, when he ran the pool light underground. Said my husband, in all seriousness — in fact, mad as hell: "A fine thing! I'd never have known about this if my wife hadn't just happened to be on the roof yesterday."

And I had been, too. When I couldn't get the man in my life to nail up a trellis so the Virginia Creeper would keep the sun from my kitchen window, I got the stepladder and like Humpty Dumpty, I "went to do the deed myself." The stepladder was aluminum, and I had been in the pool and was barefooted, and when my arm hit those exposed wires, it knocked the holy heck out of me. Down on my backsides in among the azaleas I landed. Scared spittless and mad as a wet hen. But the look on that electrician's face! That it should be a normal, everyday thing for a woman to "just happen to be on the roof." I laughed my head off, but Justin didn't. He didn't see anything odd in me being on a roof if I took the notion; and he considered it a bad piece of business for an electrical company to go off and leave high voltage wires exposed to knock me on my can when I got on the roof.

Honey, look: Won't somebody get a kodak picture of the class that is there? I do so want to see them all again. I am also mailing, under separate cover, a copy of "Miss Abbie's Honor" for Professor Calloway, for whom I hold the highest regard. If he's already gone when it gets there, forward it, will you, please?

And look: This is why I can't come. Z. Wayne Griffin, producer, who bought my Colliers' serial, "The Iron Butterfly" for pictures, has got to have me to give a polish job to the picture script. I can't walk out on it. I can't come now. If, as I wrote you before, it was just to come to Wellington for a day and right back, yes, I could manage that by plane. But my family would die the death of a duck if I went to Wellington and then didn't go on to Dallas to see my mother, who is still on crutches; and then on to Dalhart, to see my Uncle, who is still bedridden. I couldn't fail. I'd have to. And I can't.

Love, Katie, to you and all others who care.

Jan

A poem especially for the reunion was written by Mrs. Constance Schulz of Washington, D. C., who as Connie Boverie was a member of the second graduating class, that of 1912.

To the Class of 1912, et al: Once we had our big diplomas

And our bracelets and all that And our heads were so inflated We could hardly wear a hat. But those days were the good days

And I'd love to live them o'er, But of course days n'er turn backward

They are gone forever more. But I love to think about them

And the joys that we all knew, For the friendships that we formed then

Still are with us staunch and true.

So I send you my warm greeting Sorry I can't be with you; But the next Alumni meeting Surely should include me too. * If you don't believe it, look at the picture in the Leader.

The only class to perfect formal organization during the reunion was the 1929 graduating class, which met at Fellowship Hall of the First Christian Church, with members still living here as hosts.

Ralph Long of the Rolla community was president of that class, and he was chosen president of the association Saturday. Leon White, now of Hollis, Okla., was vice president, and he was elected to that office in the alumni group. Mrs. Frank Pope — Dorothy Hunt in 1929 — was elected secretary-treasurer.

Plans for next year were discussed, but mainly, the graduates of 22 years ago talked about their school years — White recalling the junior-senior fight in which he got stranded on the water tower and had to stay there all night — and another class fight when somebody on the square got a plate glass window broken out.

Returning for the reunion were Mrs. Idabel Templeton Minter, Dallas; Mrs. Lois Templeton Scott, Brashears; Jesse Coleman, McLean; Mrs. Sykes Curry (Norma Wildman) Hobbs, N. M.; Mrs. Estes (Emma Goodson) Pampa; Mrs. Day Wood Doshier, Childress; Oliver Wildman and family of Eunice, N. M.; Mr. White of Hollis; Ina Handley Conner of Arlington; Mrs. Walter Hartford (Evelyn Conner) of Oklahoma City; Harold Hite of Hammond, Okla.; Mrs. Jack Whisenant (Maurine Moore) of Amarillo; and Mrs. Sandown Smith (Marie Barnes), Donald Curry, Mrs. Loren Thompson (Eva Glenn) Velman Warwick, Mr. and Mrs. Long, Mrs. Pope and Mrs. C. A. Bradford of Wellington.

Tom Royal, of Amarillo, who was in Detroit, Michigan, when time came to start for the reunion, drove 1375 miles with only five hours sleep to get home on time.

He graduated with the class of 1931.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Holmes, who graduated with the class of 1932, came from Oklahoma City, where they live at 1804 North Wickliff. Mrs. Holmes is the former Opal Brown. He is with Collins, Dietz and Morris, wholesale grocers.

Corena Graham Vaughan, class of 1926, came down from Amarillo, where she is a collector in the display advertising department of the Globe News Publishing Co. She has been away from Wellington 17 or 18 years, and lived in New Mexico before going to Amarillo about 10 years ago. Mrs. Vaughan has four children, Arthur, 23, now a fourth year architectural student at Tech; Bobby, 20, in the Air Force at Ladd, Alaska, and his twin, Betty, now Mrs. Betty Casey of Amarillo, and Joy, 19, student in an Amarillo business college. Mrs. Vaughan's father, R. E. Graham, lives with her. She is a niece of Grady Graham, Charlie Graham and Cleve Graham of Wellington.

The graduating class of 1924 was one of those for which present addresses were not worked up this year, and seeing this, Mrs. Percy Wells found the diploma of her son, Orvell Wells, a member of the class, along with the commencement program.

Names of graduates appearing on the diploma were:

James Roy Butler.

Winifred L. Fain, now Mrs. Paul Allingham, Atchison, Kansas.

Raymond J. Stafford.

Edwin V. Shields.

Edna Odessa Mims.

Iula Ruth Boardman, now Mrs. Vance Swinburn, Tulsa.

Plevna Stall — now Mrs. Wynn. Clem B. Boverie — 3210 23rd St., Lubbock.

Robert A. Selby — Amarillo.

James O. Hopkins.

Raymond L. McClure — with Sears Roebuck, Dallas.

Albert Helvey Caperton — with Dr. Pepper Co., Dallas.

Gladys Rosalyn Farrar.

Marguerite E. Carter.

Allen B. Loter — 2017 35th St.

Percy Orvell Wells — 321 N. George Mason Drive, Arlington, Va.

Gladys Gayle Croft.

Elizabeth Bess Boverie — deceased.

Pat O'Hair — Quail.

Okla Lucille Howard — Mrs. Richard Cocks, Mercantile Bank Building, Dallas.

Eugene H. Pullen, Shamrock.

Additional names listed on the commencement program, but not on the diplomas were these class members:

Trezevanta Sisk.

Myrtle Kelso — Vernon.

Eunice Andreson — Greenville.

The Rev. J. F. Matthews, pastor of the First Christian Church, gave the invocation and Helvy Caperton the salutatory address.

Martha Champlin gave a piano solo; Raymond McClure the class history; Plevna Stall a vocal solo; Gladys Farrar the class prophecy; and Rev. T. J. Beckham the principal address and Pat O'Hair the valedictory.

The class flower was white carnation; the colors green and white, and the motto "On the Heights But Still Climbing."

Dear Wellington Leader:

We found out about the class reunion too late. Happened to see a paper and it still gave me as Marilyn Edwards. I graduated in 1943, have been living at Lubbock since 1944, married Roy L. Taylor in 1945 and we have a little two year old boy. Our address is 2501 Avenue S., Lubbock. My husband is a cabinet maker at Texas Tech College and is going to college, too. I am a comptometer operator and bookkeeper at Nunn Electric Supply Corp., 25th and Texas. Would love to hear from any of the school kids I knew. I think a lot of all the people around there.

Thank you.

Dear Mr. Wells,
Since I could not possibly write all the letters necessary to thank all the people responsible for one of the most memorable occasions of my life, let me thank them through you. However, words are so inadequate when I try to express what homecoming meant to me, because, with the exception of one overnight visit in 1932, it was the first time in 22 years that I had been to Wellington.

So thanks again to everyone and I pray that all of us will be there next year.

Mr. Deskins Wells, Editor
Wellington Leader
Wellington, Texas

Dear Deck:

Thank you for sending the Leader of August 9. It brought back fond memories and made me wish that I could have been there for the homecoming. It would have been nice to see all my old schoolmates, teachers, etc. It would have also been a wonderful opportunity to show off our two boys, neither of whom has been to Wellington. Tom, the older, is two years and one month and Dave is only three months old.

Your mention of alfalfa seed in your column reminds me of an article that appeared recently in the Wall Street Journal. The alfalfa and clover seed farmers in California and Oregon have doubled and in some cases tripled their seed yields by the use of honey bees. They use from three to five colonies of bees per acre. Since there isn't enough honey to go around, the bees become frantic and search diligently for blossoms that haven't been robbed. They thereby fertilize many blossoms that would have been overlooked and increase the yield of seed. The beekeepers who are troubled with overproduction anyway rent their bees to the seed producers (I believe they get $3.50 per hive but I'm not sure of that) and they also get a one cent per pound royalty on the seed produced.

It might pay progressive Collingsworth County farmer or farmers to try this on a small scale to see if it works there.

Thanks again for the paper.
Very truly yours,
Ed Parker

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McClaskey entertained the class of 1944 August 18, bringing together Wellington graduates and those who have moved away. Refreshments were served throughout the evening and pictures were taken of the group.

Mrs. Earl Clement, Wellington, was appointed secretary for the class.

Present were Mrs. George Cristy (Sue Leach) of Canyon; Ray Woodbridge, Pampa; Sam W. Holcomb, Dohran, Saudi Arabia; Mr. and Mrs. Don Leach, McLean; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tipton (Betty Godbey) Amarillo; Mrs. Roy Snyder, Twitty; Mrs. Ray Woodbridge, Pampa; George C. Cristy, Canyon; Bobbie Lou Brewer, Louis Graham; Mrs. Earl Clement (Wynona Smith), Mrs. David Armstrong (Mary McClaskey), Billie Earl Wallace, J. N. Glasgow, and David Armstrong of Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Pink Sullivan held open house for the members, teachers and friends of the first four graduating classes of Wellington high school.

The serving table was covered with a network and lace cloth. The centerpiece was of red roses. Mrs. R. R. Crawley served punch and cookies. Miss Katherine Boverie was co-hostess with Mrs. Crawley and Mrs. Sullivan.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Calloway of Cisco, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Penrod of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Couch of Childress, Mrs. Nora Stall Greenhaw of Memphis, Mrs. Minnie Wiles Hammon of Plainview, Mrs. Vivian Street Pate of Dallas, Mrs. Eula Anderson Benson of Shamrock, Mrs. Frances Somerville O'Hearn of Lockney.

Messrs. and Mesdames R. F. Curry, Frank Anderson, Cecil Street, R. R. Crawley, Mesdames H. A. Wynn, Joe Baumgardner, Ralph Ball, Misses Katherine Boverie and Sara Jones, Messrs. Clark Anderson and John Jones, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan.

Dear Sir:
Thank you very much for the copy of the Wellington Leader. It was very interesting to read about my old home town and its population.

As it has been nearly two years since I was home, reading your paper brought back many fond memories.

I am requesting that you send me a year's subscription starting with the August 23 issue. Please send me the amount due for said subscription.

Thank you for your consideration.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Darrol Peacor
(Doris Lamkin)

Mrs. Ida Austin and daughter, Katherine Brown, visited their son and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Austin, in Dimmitt over the week end. Mr. Austin is formerly of Wellington and is the proud parent of a new son.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Light are visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Strickland, in San Diego, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Deger and Mrs. Walter Deger visited Mrs. Paul Williams in Burkburnett the first of the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hoy of College Station visited Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Elliott this past week. Accompanying them were Mrs. Hoy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Graham, of Fort Worth who are visiting relatives. The Grahams are former residents of Wellington who lived here for many years before moving to Fort Worth. Mrs. Hoy will be remembered by her many friends here as the former Jerry Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Duke and Gary of Lubbock visited his aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Luther McPherson, recently. Mr. Duke is formerly of Wellington.

Herman Clyde Childress underwent a tonsillectomy in St. Joseph's Hospital August 21.

Mrs. E. M. Hicks returned home recently from a two week trip to Roswell, New Mexico, where she visited her daughter, Capt. and Mrs. O. K. Neal, and Hereford where she visited another daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Draper.

Mrs. Arthur Dakil and son, Floyd, are in Lansing, Michigan, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Adado. She also attended the wedding of her sister, Vila Jane Adado, to Bill Dobbs of Quebec, Canada.

TRAIL BLAZER - with plenty on the ball

How long since you lifted the hood of a car, and took a good look at what's beneath? We like to have folks do that with a Buick. You'll find that broad bonnet isn't put there for show. It's packed with horsepower—high, wide and handsome—more horsepower than normal drivers will ever use in full. And—if you're up to date on modern features—you'll find that this bonnet is packed with these too. Do you know, for example, that every new engine introduced or previewed in recent years is built on the valve-in-head principle? Score one for Buick. No Buick engine has ever been built in any other way. Do you know what it takes to make full use of high compression? A valve-in-head engine!

Score two: Buick has been stepping up compression ratios for years. But Buick has blazed one trail which other engines still haven't followed—don't ask us why. Every Buick has a Fireball Engine which, as we've said before, is like having a string of comets by the tail. Fact is, in every flame-packed cylinder there is a comet—rolled into a swirling ball by a special turbo-top piston—touched off by a flashing spark every 5 inches you travel in a Buick. That's why we're proud to show folks that Buicks have a Fireball Engine—and prouder still to have them take one of these thrilling performers out on the road. Want to try it? Come in and see us soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Lord Jim Says--

By Bill Hughes

See yourselves toil, backs bent, sweating, bleeding, crying. Thousands upon thousands, hour after hour, day in and day out, for years and years. Look at you, all of you. All of you with your eyes cast down, all of you bent and chained to the Will of man, one man, the Pharaoh of Egypt.

Your span of life was short for the toil was murderous, the food and water less than enough, the only joy was sleep. Millions of people, you build a wonder of the world, the pyramids, for what? Did it prevent wars? Bring peace? Banish hunger? Prolong life? Win freedom, happiness or salvation?

It produced security so long as you were able to bend your back to a hellish load. The few hours of sleep were donated free by his most, most gracious Majesty, so long as you obeyed his will.

With eyes cast down, your wills chained to the will and brain of one man, you build the pyramids just so that a man and his family might slowly turn to dust in eternal earthly glory and their dust and their treasure produced by you could be secure for you.

Even these monumental wonders of the world were not enough to keep robbers from plundering and museums from intruding upon the will of an all powerful man.

Look now to the birth of America, to the men and women who dared to throw off the bondage of Imperial Royal state of the old world, who lifted their eyes from the bloody old soil of Europe, who raised their eyes from earth to heaven.

For 176 years Americans have won a land, peopled a nation and built a system that was founded upon the belief that man's supreme source of power and guidance was derived first from seeking the will of God, secondly from freedom of the individual to develop by his own initiative and will the powers of his brain and the skill of his own hands to be used to serve God's Will first and then to take care of himself and his obligations.

Finally, they established a government of the people, for the people, and by the people to serve the people, not to rule them; to provide justice according to the will of God, not material equality according to the will of man; to furnish by example leadership of sacrifice, of wisdom, of integrity and of moral strength, not leadership by ornate show, sharp practice and half truths for creating and perpetuating that earthly power which can only build pyramids.

Your men and women selected to serve in the government of the United States are given that one most supreme trust of preserving freedom, not bartering it for personal or party popularity, for a personal livelihood, or for personal or party perpetuation by means of appealing to mankind's animal instincts of greed, hatred, selfishness, and immorality.

That trust was not given to barter your freedom, the Will of God, for man's weakness for Social Security that destroys individual initiative and responsibility; for false peace with a man-made power that denies God and the individual's right to be more than a slave; for government ownership of production which not only has never produced enough for all but never will do so because it depends for power and guidance upon the weaknesses and lusts of mankind rather than on the strength and the will of God.

That you have deviated from the aim and faith of your founding fathers can hardly be denied. That you shall pay the price for this deviation there is no doubt. However, whether America hurtles into oblivion as rapidly or even more rapidly than you rose; or perhaps catches herself and you rise to much greater achievements shall depend upon what national qualities developed over the past 176 years shall survive the punishment you face in the immediate future.

If the love of God, if faith in self, if the flame of freedom is snuffed from your individual souls by reason of the fact that more masses of individuals than ever before have fallen victims to corrosion of the best qualities of mankind because of the greatest luxury, ease and security ever achieved in the course of all man's history, then you are cooked goose and your usefulness to the cause of a better world will be finished, washed up and done.

Your monumental wealth will be less than the pyramids of Egypt, but the spirit of Americanism disowned by you will one day be reclaimed as the way out of chaos and darkness to a better world. It will then be The Wonder of ancient achievement in some future day.

On the other hand if the folly of worshipping material wealth, of seeking more and more and giving less and less, of trying to sneak into paradise on the pitch fork of the devil, if this folly of arrogance, of stupidity, of weakness is castigated instead, though your cities may crumble and your people suffer the pain of thirst, of hunger, of death, you will win, you will come back, and you will yourselves have won the right to continue to carry the light and the hope of the world, One God, freedom for all individuals on earth, the only way to "peace on earth good will to men."

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Edward Poole, Bob McAlister, Donald Briggs, Peggy Riggs Walker, the honoree and the hostess, Miss Schaded.

DOZIER

By MRS. E. L. RANKIN

(Intended for Last Week)

Light showers fell in this area last week. The fall varied from one-half inch at Dozier to a trace a mile or two farther south.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mayo and children, Kathie and Lindon, are visiting friends here. They had made their home here many years until they moved to Sadler, Texas, last winter.

Tom Rankin and wife of Florence, Arizona, visited their cousins, Effie Rankin and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rankin, last week. They were on their way home from an extended visit with relatives and friends in Arkansas.

The Roy Hoffman family and Mrs. Hoffman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Montgomery, of Amarillo spent last week vacationing in Colorado. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shields took care of the store while the Hoffmans were away.

Cpl. Ray Clark is home on a furlough to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clark; his brother, Troy Clark; his sister, Mrs. W. E. Marchant and family, and other relatives and friends. Cpl. Clark, a personnel clerk, has been serving with the armed forces at Fort Lewis, Washington, since he entered the service a year ago, but has been instructed to report to Camp Stoneman, California, by September 13. From there he will be sent to Japan.

Miss Effie Rankin spent the week end in Quanah visiting her sister, Mrs. Dewey Womack and family.

Mrs. Dewey Clark, who was a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital several days, is home and improving slowly.

S. W. Norwood, who was seriously ill for several weeks this summer, is able to be up and around in the house. Mrs. Norwood and her daughter, Mrs. Clay, are having vacation in the Mountains of Colorado. Another daughter, Mrs. Jackson, of Dallas is taking of Mr. Norwood while Mrs. Norwood is away.

A. F. Wischkaemper harvested some sweet clover seed last week and put up some clover hay for feed.

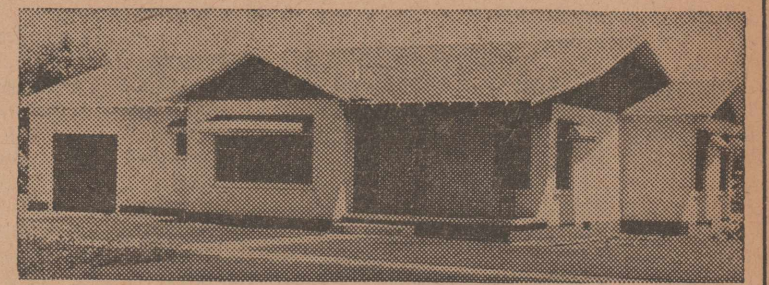

Rev. Bean of Shamrock filled his regular appointment Sunday morning and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hetherington and daughter, Carolyn, and Mrs. Hetherington's niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Shuck of Hannibal, Mo., have been here visiting in the home of another niece, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Parsons and children. They left for their home Friday. This was the first visit to Texas for the group.

Coke Party For Class of '40

Mrs. R. L. Sisk entertained the girls of the graduating class of 1940 with a coke party in her home in North Wellington Tuesday, August 21, at 3 o'clock.

Those attending were Meses. J. M. Moore, R. C. Patrick, Joyce Reiley, Jack Kopp, John Southier, Charles Hughes of Seattle, Washington, Winifred Payne of Wichita Falls, Jess Wilson, Peck White, the hostess and children of ladies which included Janelle Hughes, Ann Payne, Bobby Jeannie and Margaret Rose, and Johnnie, Gale, Dale and Jane Gardner who visited from next door.

A beautiful home built by Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts. Concrete block walls can be laid in any of many pleasing patterns. They are attractive if left exposed or may be painted with portland cement paint in any color, or stuccoed in one of many beautiful textures.

"I got the story on 50,000 Miles-No Wear and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil"

says Park Dobson Kaiser-Frazer Dealer Alliance, Nebraska

"Every car that leaves my showroom is lubricated with Conoco Super Motor Oil," reports Mr. Dobson. "A man can get top performance with Conoco Super."

"50,000 Miles - No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

ASS'T FIRE CHIEF

TRAVELING SALESMAN

"Our engines sit idle for many hours and then are driven at high speed," says Alex Barnes, Ass't Chief, Volunteer Fire Department, Santa Fe, N. M. "That's why we use Conoco Super. Any oil that takes that kind of punishment must be 'super'."

"I've put 26,000 miles on my DeSoto," says Jim McCabe, Traveling Salesman, Idaho Falls, Idaho. "I've used Conoco Super since the car was new, and I still enjoy new-car performance, and no oil consumption between drains."

PLEASE NOTICE

Effective September 1st 1951, a new law regarding the 1.1 per cent auto sales tax. This law is made to be very complicated on any and all transactions on automobiles. The sales tax affidavit, as has been the law for the purchaser to sign, must be signed both by the purchaser and the seller regarding the sale price and the amount of tax to be paid, if the joint affidavit is in-correct the seller of said vehicle is subject to fine.

There will be a $5.00 tax on all even trades, whereas the present law does not require tax to be paid on an even trade.

There will be a $10.00 tax on a bona fide gift, the present law does not require tax to be paid, on Bona Fide gifts.

On any and all out of state vehicles purchased and brought into Texas to be licensed, the purchaser must present either a title or manufacturer's certificate. Some states do not have the Title law or do not have the manufacturer's certificate. In this case the auto must be licensed in the state purchased, and then will be licensed in Texas

When a person makes application for the initial certificate of title in this State on a particular motor vehicle, he shall pay a use tax on that motor vehicle in the sum of Fifteen Dollars ($15). No title will be issued until such tax is paid. It is the purpose of this subsection to impose a use tax upon motor vehicles brought into this State by new residents of this State.

We suggest that you contact your county tax collector or any reliable source before making purchase of automobile.

13 Boys Enroll

DRIVER EDUCATION AND SAFETY COURSE ADDED TO QUAIL SCHOOL

A driver education and safety class is being organized in Quail high school, to be taught by Miss Evelyn Fancher, Supt. Herman Moseley announced this week.

The course will be a full year in length and will include both classroom work and actual driving, and upon completing the course and passing the driving tests, the students will receive their drivers licenses.

A Wellington car dealer is attempting to secure a dual control car especially for this type of teaching, Mr. Moseley said.

Thirteen boys are now enrolled in the course, Don Keith Wells, Virgil Patterson, Glen Norman, Richard Beall, Troy Brown, Wayne Lacy, Tony Winkler, Cleo Kirkland, Van Parrigin, Dale Needham, Charles Wright and Ray Bradshaw.

Miss Fancher, who came to the Quail system this year from Oklahoma, has taught drivers education and safety classes in that state.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Jenkins, Bobby Antoon, Mrs. J. L. Watts and Mrs. I. C. Strickland have just returned from a two weeks vacation to points in Rapid City and Kadoka, S. D., Mt. Rushmore, and points in Wyo., and Colorado. They visited Mr. Strickland in Kadoka, S. D. He is in the harvest there.

Return From Trip Through Mid-West

Mr. and Mrs. Darvin Nix have returned from a trip of several weeks through the midwestern states, going as far north as Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minnesota.

The trip up was made by way of Colorado Springs and Denver, and most of their time was spent in the Rochester, Minnesota, area, with side trips to points on the Mississippi and through Southern Minnesota.

Their return trip was made through eastern Nebraska and Kansas.

Quails, Bobwhites To Meet Hedley At Quail Tuesday

Quail Quails say no one is going to be second to them on the basketball court, and to back this statement up, they've done lots of hard practice in hot August weather—but in an air conditioned gym—under the coaching of W. F. Howard.

Fundamentals of the game will be studied for the next few weeks, along with their application.

"There has already been much improvement over last year's team, and we are looking forward to a much better year," Coach Howard declared.

By Quail standards, this year's team is a short one—averaging around five feet eleven, but it is a surprisingly fast team.

The first game of the season will be played with Hedley at Quail Tuesday night, September 11, beginning at 8:00 p.m. The return game at Hedley will be played September 18 at the same hour. A small admission will be charged.

Eight lettermen are back, Jack Neeley, Garland Fielding, Gene Pegram, Jesse Young, Loyd Parker, Jasper Peebles, Leon Shields, and Wallace Blasingame.

Other members of the squad are Jerry Smith, Dale Johnson, Fred Maxwell, Tommy Davis, Don Wells, Gaylon Tow, Gene Daugherty and Alvin Homer.

Anaus Raisers Set Field Day

An Aberdeen-Angus field day, sponsored by the Lower Panhandle Angus Association, of which two Wellington men are directors, will be held at the C. A. Rapp farm near Estelline Tuesday, Sept. 11.

More than 500 persons are expected to attend. The program will include a barbecue at noon. Speakers will be Jess Alford, Paris, president of the Texas Aberdeen-Angus Association, Tommy Stewart, secretary and Milt Miller, field man for the American Aberdeen-Angus Association.

Directors include E. S. Hale and J. W. Smith of Wellington; Edwin Eanes, Clarendon; J. D. House, Parnell; David Hudgins and N. M. Orr, Lakeview; D. C. Messick, Memphis; and Ed Rutledge, Childress.

Those from this area interested in the Angus cattle are invited to attend.

Former Residents Visiting Here

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dickson and son, James, of Luling were here this week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dickson, and his sisters, Mrs. Steve Owens and family and Mrs. J. T. Thomas and daughter.

They are en route home after three weeks on the west coast, visiting in San Diego, Los Angeles, and with her brother, C. C. Price of Balboa, Calif. They returned by way of Salt Lake City and Denver.

Mr. Dickson is South Texas representative of the Farris Watson Seed Co., which specialized in cotton seed breeding. He estimated that the 68 counties in his territory, which normally raise around 35 per cent of the cotton in Texas, will produce no more than a half crop this year.

"You're worried about dry weather here, but on our entire trip of around 3,500 miles, it has not rained on us once," Mr. Dickson said.

The family formerly lived here, and Mrs. Dickson, before her marriage Miss Lota Price, taught in Wellington high school.

Each year, this world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength. During the last fiscal year, for example, 257 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 35 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Islands of the Pacific.

A. L. Nowlin was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday, Sept. 1, as a medical patient.

Mrs. E. W. Jones visited in Dallas last week with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Broyles.

Charles Jones III Admitted to Bar

AUSTIN — Charles B. Jones III, of Wellington is among 46 law students from the University of Texas who licensed by the Supreme Court of Texas in public ceremonies in the State Capitol at 11 a.m. Wednesday, August 29.

Jones recently passed the state bar examination. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Jones of Wellington.

Jones and Charles Trout have opened law offices in Lubbock, and on January 1 will move into a new professional building now under construction.

The two went through Texas Technological College and the University of Texas Law School together, both graduating in the upper one-third of their class. Trout's home is at Lubbock.

Campfire Girls To Craterville

Campfire Girls of the Tejas Tribe took their first overnight camping trip — the first of their lives for some of the girls — to Craterville Park, Oklahoma, Wednesday, August 29.

In addition to the fun of camping out and cooking their meals out of doors, highlights of the trip for the girls were seeing buffalo and longhorn cattle and a trip up Mt. Thomas. The girls returned Thursday afternoon.

An overnight camping trip is one of the requirements which the Campfire girls must meet to gain the Wood Gatherers rank.

Another recent activity was helping with the Chest X-Ray program by distributing literature and urging people to have their chests X-rayed. This, with additional similar work, will earn each member a service badge in community service.

The Craterville trip was directed by Mrs. Clyde Drake, advisor, and Mrs. E. K. Jones, assistant. Going were Carolyn Couch, Carolyn Wright, Janet Jones, Mary Parsons, Joan Henry, Vasa Bell, Frances Drake, Faye Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Drake, Dr. and Mrs. E. K. Jones, Sandy Parsons Jr., and Jim McDowell.

KIDNEY DISORDERS

A great deal of mystery has existed in the popular mind as the kidney difficulties and to one unacquainted with the facts it might seem that the application of Chiropractic for the relief of such disorders is but another addition to the mystery.

The function of the kidney is that of elimination to filter out and excrete the excess water and waste products from the blood circulation. This function is made possible by the selective action of the cells of the kidney tubule. After the kidney cells remove the harmful substances from the blood, the unwanted materials are washed out of the tubules into the pelvis of the kidneys, down the ureters into the bladder, and then cast off by act of urination.

the kidney is dependent upon the integrity and condition of the epithelial cells that line the little tubules with which each kidney is honeycombed. These in turn depend for their health upon normal nerve impulses the nerves that supply the kidney controlling the distribution of blood to the kidney and the excretory function of the organ can be traced to the center of the spine where any spinal displacement or irritation will interfere with their harmonious action.

The chiropractor is able to determine by modern diagnostic methods when kidney trouble does exist. He is thoroughly trained to remove any disturbance with the vital nerve supply to the kidneys restoring the normal health of the organ.

It is easy to see that the function of

To Play Offensive Tackle

JIMMY GRAVES GETS BERTH ON N. M. AGGIES UNDER COLEMAN

Jimmy Graves, star lineman for the Skyrockets during the past four seasons, is playing this year with Joe Coleman's Aggies at New Mexico A&M College, Las Cruces, where he is listed as one of the "promising tackles" of the team.

Graves is one of more than 80 men who reported to Coleman for practice. The team opens its season September 15, with the University of Arizona Wildcats.

Graves, a 6'3", 189 pounder, was an all district and all regional tackle while a Skyrocket. He has been assured by Coleman that he will play offensive tackle this year on the varsity team, the player's father, Allen Graves, said. He is considered one of the fastest tackles out for A&M this year.

Coleman, former Skyrocket coach, has kept in close touch with the players on his old team since he was appointed head football coach at New Mexico A&M last spring, and during a visit here, he talked with a number of the Rocket men.

Congratulations
