LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Dec. 26.—Application of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, Arctic explorer, for parole from his sentence of 14 years and 9 months for conspiracy to use the mails to defraud will be heard at the January meeting of the federal parole board.

Dr. Cook, admitted to the federal penitentiary here April 6, 1925, has served one-third of his term and automatically is eligible for parole on his record of good behavior.

Associates Paroled
All of his associates in the oil promotion scheme which led to his conviction were paroled three years ago.

Eighteen months ago Federal Judge J. C. Wilson of Fort Worth issued an order granting Dr. Cook freedom on probation. Courts determined the judge held no jurisdiction after service of sentence had begun.

Dr. Cook's health has been failing under confinement and friends say he cannot live through his full sentence. He is editor of the prison newspaper, the New Era.

OBJECT OF HUNT

Planes are scouring the icy waters of Northern Siberia in search of Pilot Carl Ben Eielson Arctic explorer and his mechanic Earl Borland, who have been missing since early in November. Soviet Russia, in answer to a request from Senator Borah, at the U. S. Foreign Relations committee, yesterday dispatched plane to join the search. Three other planes are to leave Teller, Alaska to join the other planes.

CABIN PLANES TO HUNT FOR MISSING MEN

HOPE FOR EIELSON AND BORLAND'S RETURN STRONGER TODAY

SEWARD, Alaska, Dec. 26.—Arrival here of three powerful cabin-type planes, with Canadian fliers to man them, revived today the hope of the northland that the search for Pilot Carl Ben Eielson and Mechanic Earl Borland, missing in Siberia since November 9, might prove successful.

The planes and fliers, brought here from Seattle on the coast guard cutter Chelona, were transferred to a train on the Alaska railroad and were proceeding today to Fairbanks, where they are to be flown either to Nome or Teller, Alaska, to engage in the search.

Each of the planes has room for six passengers in addition to the pilot and can lift sufficient gasoline to enable them to undertake long flights. They are equipped with everything necessary for safety to those flying them.

Although Alaskan pilots have been making strenuous efforts to find Eielson and Borland, they have been handicapped by lack of proper equipment. Prior to arrival of cabin planes, the only planes available in the north were open cockpit machines, incapable of carrying required amount of fuel and affording their operators little protection from the elements.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Pascual Ortiz Rubio, president-elect of Mexico, arrived in Washington at noon today for four days of ceremonies in his honor by the United States government.

He and Senora Ortiz Rubio were met at the station by Secretary Stimson and Mrs. Stimson, who were accompanied by Ambassador Teller of Mexico.

Greeted by Band

The Mexican ambassador introduced Senora Ortiz Rubio to Secretary Stimson, and then the party, including the President-elect's aides and attaches of the Mexican embassy, proceeded to the presidential waiting room of the Union Station through a corridor of marines. At the left of the station, they were greeted by four flourishes from the United States Army band, which then struck up the Mexican national anthem.

On entering waiting limousines, a guard of honor of the third United States cavalry presented sabers and escorted the procession from the station.

The parade led to the capitol grounds and down Pennsylvania Avenue past the treasury building and the White House and up Sixteenth street to the Mexican Embassy. A Washington police motorcycle corps led the party rapidly to the embassy where another cavalry detachment again resumed the military honors.

INSANE MAN KILLS FAMILY AND SUICIDES

WIFE AND SIX KIDDIES ARE SLAUGHTERED BY FARMER

WALNUT COVE, N. C., Dec. 26.—A farmer's wife and six children lay dead today, victims of a husband and father who had been kind to them until Christmas Day when he became insane. After slaying them he killed himself with a shotgun.

The dead:
Charles D. Lawson, 43, well-to-do farmer; his wife, 38, and six of their children: Marie, 17; Carrie, 14; Maribelle, 10; James, 7; Raymond, 5; and Mary Lou, 3 months.

Bodies Laid Out
Bodies of the mother and children, shot or beaten to death, were found yesterday in the bloodstained Lawson home and a tobacco barn on the place. The hands of everyone were folded across their breasts. Their heads pillowed and their eyes closed. The father had carefully laid them out for burial.

Lying in a wood half mile away was the body of the farmer. A shotgun was nearby and in his pocket was a crumpled piece of paper on which was scrawled:
"Blame nobody but I."
A coroner's jury found that Lawson acted in a fit of insanity.

Arthur Lawson, 19-year-old son, is the only member of the family who remains alive. He was visiting an uncle near Germantown when his father wiped out the rest of the family.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26. (AP)—A number of hospital cots were occupied today by the more severe of the 99 cases of alcoholism listed in newspaper tabulations over Christmas. There were no deaths.

With receipt of election returns from the Estacado polling box received by the county commissioners this morning, the exact total results of the $991,000 road bond issue election held in Lubbock county on Tuesday, December 17, shows 3,401 ballots cast for the issuance of these bonds and 863 cast against.

The Estacado box went 30 against the bonds, with none for them. This box and Idalou, Abernathy, Grovesville, Union, Slide, Foster, Center, Berton and Caldwell were the only ones out of 32 boxes in the county returning a greater vote against the bonds than for them. The following is a complete return for all boxes:

TWELVE THOUSAND HOMELESS KIDDIES OF ARMENIA ARE FETED WITH DINNER ON CHRISTMAS BY NEAR EAST RELIEF

LEHNAK, Soviet Armenia, Dec. 26.—(Delayed)—Within the shadow of Mount Ararat, traditional site of the landing of Noah's Ark, 12,000 homeless and parentless Armenian boys and girls rescued from starvation and massacre by the American Near East Relief organization, sat down today to a gigantic Christmas feast provided by the American people.

The feast did not consist of turkey, but of fatted calves, Pumpkin pie and cranberry sauce were provided by American nurses who had been preparing for the event for a month.

This is believed to have been the largest single Christmas dinner given by American charity in any part of the world. Nothing like it has ever been seen in Soviet Russia.

After Dr. Joseph Beach of Yale university, director of the Near East Relief, conveyed Christmas greetings to the children from the American people, the American nurses and relief workers presented each child with an outfit of warm winter clothing made by American women and girls. After that, the 12,000 youngsters, girls dressed in immaculate white and boys in blue, formed themselves on the field in front of Mount Ararat into gigantic human letters, reading:
"America, You Saved Us."

Employment for approximately 200 men, to last for 45 to 60 days, looms in the near future as a result of permission granted by the Lubbock County Commissioners' Court this morning to the South Plains Pipe Line Co. to lay a gas pipe line from Lubbock to Littlefield, via Shallowater, and to Leveland from a point northwest of this city.

The gas pipe line will measure 37 miles from Lubbock to Littlefield, and the junction from a point between here and Shallowater to Leveland will measure about 17 miles.

Size of the pipe to be used in the line was not known, according to information from the offices here of the South Plains Pipe Line company, and the total cost of the project could not therefore be estimated by them. Work is to start immediately, as the company is already engaged in getting its equipment and tools in shape for the job.

The line will provide natural gas for the towns of Shallowater, Amarist, Anton, Littlefield and Leveland, promise of completion being made to Shallowater folks, according to County Commissioner L. C. Denton, by next August.

Florida Section Has Record Cold Spell

MIAMI, Dec. 26. (AP)—Damaging frost extended southward to the Miami area last night in the wake of the coldest Christmas Day on record at the United States weather bureau here.

Man Is Killed By Bank Bandits

Word of the robbery was telephoned to Smith's Grove, and as the men drove through here a posse of citizens opened fire upon them. They fired back, and Kirby fell mortally wounded.

ENFORCEMENT TO BE RIGID

UNIFIED BORDER GUARD AND LIMITATIONS OF PORTS PLANNED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Plans for prohibition enforcement, which include a unified border patrol and limitation of the number of ports of entry from Canada, will be submitted by the treasury to congress as soon as a joint congressional committee to consider prohibition questions is named.

Under Secretary Mills, who made the announcement today, said President Hoover's suggestion that a congressional committee be named to study consolidation of enforcement agencies had not been acted upon.

To Submit Plan

He said that as soon as the committee is named the treasury will submit a plan for a unified border patrol which would require the consent of Canada because it will provide for limitation of the number of ports of entry to this country. In addition to limiting the ports of entry, the plan, he said, will provide for an intensive border patrol under the direction of the coast guard to prevent smuggling.

"I am Santa Claus," said Buck; "my friends who live here are away, and I thought I would seize the opportunity to slip in the window and deposit gifts about the place."

"You may," said Officer Sachs, "be Santa Claus to little children, but you're just a suspicious character to me."

Mrs. C. C. Rice, local woman, suffered bruises and cuts and was lacerated among the more seriously injured. Mrs. M. A. Wilson, of Lubbock, received minor injuries.

ACCIDENT QUEREST IN YARDS HISTORY

SWEETWATER, Dec. 25 (AP)—Four persons were seriously injured and more than a dozen suffered minor hurts when a Santa Fe passenger train was sideswiped by a tank car of crude oil in the railroad yards here today.

The seriously injured: H. W. Stanton of Lubbock, chest hurt and broken ribs; Mrs. M. D. Nichols of Bronte, cuts and bruises; Mrs. C. C. Rice, of Lubbock, bruised and cut.

Mitchell Conley of Amarillo, bruised and cut.

Among those suffering slight injuries were Mrs. M. A. Wilson of Lubbock, W. A. Myrick of Lubbock and Mrs. Zeil of Willow, Okla. They received emergency treatment and continued their journey.

The crash, one of the most peculiar accidents ever heard of by railroaders here, occurred just as the Santa Fe train No. 85 from Amarillo was entering the Panhandle and Santa Fe yards here at 1 p. m.

A box car had got loose and was blown by a high wind then prevailing into an oil tank car that was part of a train being made up on the east end of the yards. This oil tank car was turned over by the impact and buried into the side of the passenger coaches as they rolled by.

The side of the oil tank car was smashed.

The fact that a majority of the oil tank passengers had dressed and were in the aisle, ready to descend is thought to account for the relatively minor character of the injuries. A number of the berths that had been occupied but a short time before the crash were telescoped and splintered.

CHILDREN PLAY AROUND CHRISTMAS TREE AS AIRPLANE SOARS IN CLOUDS

(By Associated Press)

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 25.—The two children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams of Tampa, Fla., played about their lighted Christmas tree in the cabin of an airplane as it soared down the Atlantic seaboard from New York to Jacksonville yesterday.

The plane, "The Northern Star," of the American International Airways, Inc., left New York Wednesday morning on an attempted non-stop flight to Tampa, carrying the two children, their mother, Pilot McMahon, his co-pilot and Mrs. McMahon.

It was a jolly party, in spite of headwinds that slowed up the speed and forced the pilots to come down here before darkness came on. Presents for all aboard were distributed.

Airmen here believed it was the first case on record of a light Christmas tree being set up in an airplane in flight.

DIEGEL UPSETS GOLF FORM; WINS JUST THE SAME

Considerable sentiment is linked with the trade whereby Grover Cleveland Alexander goes back to his first major league love—the Philadelphia Nationals. Old Alex started his major league career with the Phillies back in 1911 and now is likely to finish with the same club. Loss of Alexander will be regretted by St. Louis fans. They have not forgotten how he came to the Cardinals late in 1926 and helped them win their first pennant and how he went into that memorable world series and stopped the Yankees at a critical spot.

The old veteran has a dozen or so major league records to his credit, the latest of his collection coming last summer when he brought his total victories to 373, more than the former National League record held by the late Christy Mathewson.

During the last season Old Pete said over the line of the training rules and Bill McKelvie sent him a 9-year-old caddy at Detroit. He was shooting 76 when he was 13 years old. He won the Michigan Open when he was 17. He was 20 when he made his debut in the Western Open in 1919 and beat Hagen and the others to finish second to Jim Barnes.

Then he went to Inverness in 1920 and made that mistake of listening to people. "I spent several years trying to get my old style back," is his only message to his well-wishers.

He got it back, however, and has had some great years since, though he never has won a national open. "I never have played in the open in a proper frame of mind," is Diegel's explanation. "But I think the people who say you can't play golf if you're excitable are all wrong. I have made some great shots when my nerves seemed altogether out of control. I think an excitable person has to be keyed up to win."

Not only does Diegel tee his ball too high, but he has too many frantically crouched and own too many frantically nerves, but he plays a mangle pitch all wrong, making the shot too low to be classed as golfing form. They say you can't play golf and do that, either.

They can't put you in jail, either, but they do.

VARIETY ENJOYED IN DENVER SPORTS
DENVER, Dec. 26. (P)—Father Denver says "on the front porch" Christmas Day, fanning himself a little and watched oldsters and youngsters engage in all manner of outdoor sports.

He watched Willie and Susie Denver scooting up and down the sun-warmed sidewalks in shiny Christmas roller skates and marveled too at the sight of men and women carrying tennis rackets and golf clubs.

Sleds, earmuffs, mufflers and furred gloves, moved around the Christmas tree inside the house as motorizing, horseshoe pitching, golf and tennis became the order of the day. A few ice skaters were abroad in the morning but they retired from the ponds in the afternoon as the ice turned soft under the spring-like sunshine.

STANFORD-ARMY SQUADS TAPER OFF

DESPITE FORM STAR WINS IN BIG TOURNEYS

COMPLETE REVOLUTION OF STANCE MADE IN HIS PLAYING

BY WILLIAM BRAUCHER

NEA Service Sports Writer
Leo Diegel tees his ball too high and of course you can't play golf and do that.

When Leo Diegel goes to the green to putt he takes a sort of squatting position, that looks something like a cross between a Dutch windmill and an antique rocking chair. And of course you can't play golf and do that, either.

What is more, Leo Diegel has a set of high-jumping, pole-vaulting and hurdling nerves that leap and frolic about all over the place whenever Leo begins to play. You know you can't play golf and have those either.

But if you beat Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell on three days hand-running, you simply have to play golf to do that. That's what Leo did a few days ago at Los Angeles to win for himself the Professional Golfers' championship. And his victory over the professional field was his second consecutive offense.

Diegel has played that kind of golf, and with those same nerves in Canada, too, where he won the Canadian Open championship four times in six years.

In my mind there is an unforgettable picture of this unorthodox golfer, that goes back nearly ten years to the open championship at the Inverness club in Cleveland. It is a picture of Diegel surrounded by a battalion of golf advisors, and all telling him he never can get anywhere in golf without at least some semblance of a style recognizable on the golf course as that of a player going about his grim business.

Diegel took their terrible tip and tried to correct his swing. That advice probably cost him thousands of dollars in good tournament money. The people who advised him ought to send him something nice for Christmas to ease their consciences.

For, Leo had unlearned the swing and the form they suggested that he learn it a process that cost him several years of valuable time, he began to play golf with a vengeance, crazy style and all.

Diegel gave early promise of becoming a golf star when he was a 9-year-old caddy at Detroit. He was shooting 76 when he was 13 years old. He won the Michigan Open when he was 17. He was 20 when he made his debut in the Western Open in 1919 and beat Hagen and the others to finish second to Jim Barnes.

Then he went to Inverness in 1920 and made that mistake of listening to people. "I spent several years trying to get my old style back," is his only message to his well-wishers.

The Radicals
The word radical, as we use it in this country, has been a word to frighten children. It represents everything that we fear and hate; unknown and bewildering men, dangerous dreamers, long-haired men, dangerous to the state and to the future.

As it happens, though, we don't really understand the word. If we did, we might realize that our greatest radicals are not our socialists or our communists, but our wealthy, conservative industrialists.

Roderick Dutcher recently pointed this fact out very clearly.

Washington heard two proposals looking toward the abolition of the other day.

One of them came from Bertrand Russell, famous English socialist.

Russell proposed that war be ended by control of essential raw materials.
He would have such materials denied to all belligerents.

Thus, according to him, that war would be impossible.

Russell admitted that his idea was somewhat visionary, and said it would take years of education and study before it could be tried.

The other anti-war proposal came from Edward N. Hurley of Chicago, the very wealthy industrialist.

Hurley's idea was the same as Russell's except that it was more drastic.

He pointed out that a dozen or more industrialists of three or four different nations could control the supply of raw materials such as rubber, copper and the like, could end war overnight. He wants them to organize and get ready to do it. Unlike Russell, he doesn't think the plan is visionary.

He thinks it can be put into effect at once, and he wants to see it done.

So we have the strange spectacle of a conservative and wealthy industrialist going far beyond a daring socialist in proposing a remedy for the ills that beset modern society.

We needn't be surprised, though.
Our biggest business leaders are our greatest radicals. They are changing the conditions of life with a speed to make the theorist blink.

We don't notice it—so we call them conservatives.

Who ever proposed such a radical change in industrial procedure as Rockefeller put into effect? Who ever was half as radical about wages and prices as Henry Ford? What approach to international problems is as radical as the approach of our greatest bankers?

We are, when you stop to think about it, being ruled by radicals.
The only reason it doesn't excite us is that we don't realize it.

The Flu
This is an excellent time of year to keep one eye cocked on that familiar old enemy, the flu.

The flu is a puzzling sort of malady. It is almighty easy to acquire, a few hours exposure to bad weather in insufficient clothing usually suffice to give it a foothold.

And, once it gets established, it is hard to shake off. If it is trifled with it can lay a man up for weeks.

Avoid exposure, keep warmly dressed, get plenty of fresh air at night and don't let any little cold get the better of you—and, if one does, call a doctor at once. The flu is abroad in the land, and there's no sense in trifling with it. If you get a touch of it, lie low until it goes.

Investigation Needed
We had almost forgotten about Haiti. Our marines have been there for a good many years, and we had nearly lost track of them. Now, however, that troublesome island nation is restless again, and 5000 trained young men from Norfolk and Paris landed are going down there to sit on the safety valve.

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl of Broadway says many a girl has become an old maid because she said good-night too soon.

No wish. Christmas is gone again, to return not for another year, our thoughts turn to New Year's day, next Wednesday.
Just a few more days left on the 1929 calendar, then new calendars will show on the walls with their display of art and big letters.

No foolin'. folks. It won't be long now until resolutions task our fortitude. Some will permit the joys of scoffers to bid them out of keeping their good resolutions. Others will show the determination essential and make changes of habit for good.

Speaking of habit and New Year's approach. All of us can be thankful for the habit that Lubbock and the South Plains formed during the past few years—that habit of doing things on a big scale—going after big things in a big way and getting them—such as new high school buildings, new skyscrapers, road bonds, and all.

And there's another thing we can be thankful for. In the midst of our scramble to make this the leading paper of the great southwest, we are not paying all our attention to the business of making money and making it with rapidity. The several instances coming to The Plain-sman's notice Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, of a number of busy business men, when learning of unfortunate circumstances of needy families, have done in their own pockets, asking nobody, and took their own time to see that those families were supplied. Not merely supplied with toys and fruits and candies for Christmas, but with food and clothing and cash to tide them over until jobs could be secured or until sickness could be conquered.

That Man on Avenue Q offers this little verse:
"Sing a song of Christmas,
A pocket full of cash,
Today we eat turkey,
Tomorrow, maybe, hash."

Looking around the corner to next Wednesday and the other 364 days of 1930, The Plainsman likes to ponder upon Lubbock's building permits for the coming year, to think upon how many more new settlers are coming to put the remaining seven million, or so acres of fertile South Plains lands to the plow.

Many merchants of the South Plains report a greater volume of business during this holiday season than ever in their firms' history. They also remark about the evident change among the buying habits of folks, when selecting Christmas presents. The tinsel and flimsy presents of yesteryear have changed to articles of worth, things that can be used day in and day out. The greeting card habit is perhaps assisting in the change to better presents.

The Plainsman is anxiously waiting for the time to come when he can listen to Carl Williams, of Oklahoma, cotton member of the Oklahoma Farm Board, who will speak at the Second Annual Short Course to be held at the Texas Technological college on February 3, 4 and 5. Mr.
Williams is making only two speaking appearances in Texas this coming year, that we can learn about.
The other is at Dallas, and Lubbock and South Plains folks are proud to have him honor us. We are also proud to know that this county leads the state of Texas in members of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, the largest cooperative marketing organization among cotton farmers, and to know that 17 of the association's 34 Texas units are located in South Plains counties.
Lubbock can look forward to entertaining several thousand visitors when Mr. Williams is in town. He knows his cotton.

New Traffic Laws
To Be Carried Out
FORT WORTH, Dec. 26 (AP)—The new state highway laws, enacted by the last Texas legislature and providing several new departures for traffic safety, will be enforced rigidly in Tarrant county during the coming year, according to announcement from the office of Ed. Hall, chief of the county highway department.

The motorcycle officers will scrutinize closely the thousands of automobiles on the highways to prevent motorists from carrying large projecting objects on running boards. The law provides that objects must not extend more than three inches from car running boards on the left side and not more than six inches on the right side.

This would be an excellent time for Congress to adopt President Hoover's plan for a thorough searching investigation of the whole situation, finding out just what we are doing and setting forth some definite policy which we can follow in the future.

The present situation doesn't seem to be so very satisfactory to anybody. It is time that we looked into all the facts and decided just what we are going to do.

Wires Today

Takes Long Time
NEW YORK—Scientists are wondering what the next 2,000 years will bring in international relations with radio or its offspring as the medium of communication. Commenting on international exchange of Christmas radio programs, Dr.
Alfred N. Goldsmith, vice-president of the Radio Corporation of America, said it had taken 1,275 years for words spoken at Palestine to be spoken again and heard by all mankind at once.

No Substitutes
COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho—
Next Christmas, if no substitute is handy, young men should be given of trying to use a substitute.
Chief of Police Michael Roche horned into a street fracas. A young lad had slapped a beau brummel. "I'm not the type that can be mistletoed with spinach," he exclaimed. But when the chief offered to make an arrest, the girl winked.

Squall Subsides
NEW YORK—A squall has subsided, all the steamships have been patched up and Thomas Buchanan and Joan Lowell, his wife, author of sea stories, as they describe it, are trimming ship, taking on a cargo of kisses, and setting sail. Threatening clouds of divorce have vanished. They had a Merry Christmas together.

Daves Satisfied
LONDON—The old underslung pipe is working overtime.
The embassy staff made a hit digging up a jar of American tobacco as a Christmas gift.

Has Birthday
ROME—Princess Maria, youngest child of King Victor and Queen Helena, received gifts two days in succession every year. Today is her fifteenth birthday. Somebody remembered she was fond of fishing.

BARB'S
An American safety razor company has obtained a concession to build a big factory in Russia, and if you have never been able to picture a clean-shaven Bolshevik you'd better start imagining right now.

Mayor of a Wisconsin town, announcing that checkers is a dangerous form of gambling, prohibits it in all public places. Next thing, no doubt, that town will have a firmest strike on its hands.

The first meeting of Berlin's new city council the other night was marked by a wild riot between opposing members. Looks as if that Berlin mayor, who just finished a tour of the United States, is preparing to start a campaign against Old Joe, who has so many powerful factories to support him, but poor old Mr. Vare has so often fooled everyone else in Pennsylvania that a forecast at this moment would be almost vain.

There's All Watching
Old Joe comes plop into the Senate during the last throes of the tariff fight there. Every eye is squared upon him and all the Democratic and Progressive harpoons unleash. Nearly everyone is chuck-ling at the prospect of a good show.

Senator Grundy is already a different person from Mr. Grundy. He used to be regarded here as just a hard-boiled egg, very difficult to reach insofar as those he didn't want to see were concerned. The best newspaperman in Washington never got anything out of Old Joe.
But now he sees the correspondents and lets them interview him and grins and grins and grins.

And more than ever you get the impression that although both his political enemies and Old Joe himself expect to have the most fun out of this show it's just as likely to be Old Joe.

THE BUTTER-AND-EGGERS ARE LYING LOW NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The place at the ringside of Manhattan's night resorts, once held by the butter-and-egg man, is now occupied by his son, the young soup-and-fish lad, or his daughter, the pretty tea-and-toast girl.

In other words, youth seems to be taking over the invalid supper clubs, which for weeks have been suffering from falling of the market.

To be sure, they are not the sunders that their elders were.
But these places which have been on the middle-aged for support, are either closed entirely or waiting for the holiday season for a quick comeback.

A hasty survey of those night clubs which get the "money play" showed the vast majority at the tables to be youngsters of the subdued period. In the Montmartre one of the swankier resorts, the customers seemed—at least to these old eyes—to range around the nineteen and early twenties, with a thirty-year limit.

Rudy Vallee, of course, was certain to catch the young crowd.
While, as the searchers for reasons have pointed out, he may have a great following among the elderly ladies as well the idea of seeing and hearing Rudy is quite too much for the romantic maid-ens to pass up.

The Lido, Richman and similar nocturnal dance emporiums also seemed to be enjoying the trade of young folk who are now "sleeping out" while the old folk are in bed wondering if and when the market really will come back.

The fountain of youth has brought renewed life to a Broadway which was limping badly, and still has some slight trouble standing up straight. But never having had enough money to get burned in a stock crash, many a young man who was slightly ashamed of his few dollars now finds himself quite a spender.

In other days, when the "big money" was shooting around, the young man might have suffered from an inferiority complex. Today, he not only finds that he is more than welcome, but also that grilles who once exacted large spending are now grateful for being stepped out at all.

And while mentioning night resorts, if it means anything to anyone on the other side of Broadway, the Yacht Club boys are together again. I mention this chiefly because the case of the Yacht Clubbers is something of a typical Main Stem tale.

For some years the quartet went through the usual struggles, finally to emerge as the most popular entertainers in the big street belt. Then came European offers and all that, and off they went to London and Paris and the French winter resorts. What happened to them has happened to many. They began to squabble among each other—first about this and then about that. At any rate they broke up and scattered over the earth.

As individual units, each had his points. Chic Endor, for instance, could have been heard strumming his guitar again about the bright light spots. But it wasn't the old quartet. So they all came home and got together again. And maybe they've learned the moral of the story.

Manhattan's one effort at hiring women bellhops in hotels has failed.
It was an interesting experiment, but habit had entered the boys in the being paid in bellhops.

MENTAL READJUSTMENT WILL OFTEN CURE ILLS, DOCTOR
PETERS AVERS

Electrical Appliances
Mrs. M. I. place no faith in any electrical or magnetic or other appliances that are advertised over the radio or elsewhere to the public for the cure
of disease.

Electricity is a very powerful
therapeutic agent
but it is productive of much
harm unless it is handled by licensed practitioners. If these advised appliances are incapable of good,
with the exception of any good thoughts that may be obtained through the use of powerful suggestion. It is well known that the state of hope and faith have their effects on the ductless glands and the nerve system, and will often give such a decided result that the depression caused by fear and worry will bring bad results. There are many who suffer solely from wrong mental attitudes.
Re-adjusting the mental life often results in a cure.

It is often said that what the imagination causes the imagination can cure. This, however, is not always true. Sometimes the "imagination" will bring on such disturbances that medical or surgical therapy must also be employed, as well as mental therapy.

A lecture I heard recently in a lecture hall here on this point.
The speaker was a man in a depressed mental state that he wanted to commit suicide and jump into the river. The shock of the cold water makes him realize he doesn't want to die, and he changes his mind, but unless he uses physical means, he doesn't get out.

I know how plausible the ad of the electrical or magnetic contraption you want your opinion on, sounds on the radio, Mrs. M. I. listened in one morning, and heard the talk.

Much of the radio advertising makes me recall what Prof. Joseph Jastrow says about the radio:
"After centuries of struggle by minds of one type slowly accumulating the facts of nature and penetrating into the laws of their being, there emerges such a triumph of scientific logic as the radio, binding the world together by invisible threads of broadcast speech; and this awe-inspiring achievement is actually used to disseminate ideas cherished by a totally different kind of mind that flourished in the days of ancient Babylonia and was revived in the darker ages when the mind went into an eclipse. What a contrast in the fruits of the tree of knowledge!"

Why Neck
Mrs. A.—I will tell you what Aba, famous baby specialist, says about congenital wry neck. If it is of slight degree, the condition sometimes can be overcome by the very persistent, methodical stretching of the shortened muscle in babyhood.
(The doctor must do this.) If it is marked, the treatment is operative.
The shortened muscle is divided and the head prevented from movement by a plaster of paris cast or splint, for some time.

Certainly there is no reason why you shouldn't have a consultation get the opinions of other baby specialists, before you have the operation your doctor says is necessary. It's your baby.

the Care of the Hair and Scalp which takes up the latest treatment of dandruff. See column under obtaining this. (Your other questions

PERSONNEL DIVISION OF U. S. ARMY DESCRIBED
By Brigadier General A. J. Bowley, Assistant Chief of Staff, U. S. Army (Albert Jesse Bowley was born at Westminster, Calif., Nov. 24, 1875.
He is a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy, from 1897 to 1900 he was an instructor at the U. S. Military Academy. In 1901 he was made brigadier general, having been promoted through the grades. He participated in the Spanish-American war, served in the Philippines and on the Mexican border, and in France during the World War. He has received numerous foreign and American citations, including the Distinguished Service Medal.)

The personnel division of the war department, general staff familiarly known as G-1, is the agency which, under the direction of the chief of staff,

PRICES MIXED
ON EXCHANGEGAINS AND LOSSES ARE RECORDED ON FIRST
TRADES TODAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 26 (AP)—Stock prices were decidedly mixed when business was resumed on the New York stock exchange today after the Christmas holiday. Initial gains of a point or so were recorded by American Smelting, Nash Motors and Paul, preferred, while U. S. Steel common, Westinghouse Electric and Radio improved fractionally. American Telephone, Auburn Auto, May Department Stores and Mack Trucks all fell back more than a point each on opening sales. The market gathered strength as trading progressed with public utilities in the forefront of the advance. Initial declines in these and other issues were cut down, or wiped out.

Crude Oil Increase

A small increase in crude oil production was reported for last week, the two leading major oil houses cut prices of a wide assortment of articles on an average of 10 per cent, there being a conspicuous exception. Increasing activity was reported from automotive centers. Standard Oil and Electric led the early rally with a gain of 6 points. Auburn Auto converted an early loss of 11-1/2 into a gain of 41-1/2 and General Electric, which opened unchanged, advanced 3 points before the end of the first half hour. Atchison, Coca-Cola, American Water Works, Abraham & Strauss and U. S. Steel common all sold 2 or more points above their previous closing quotations.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with sterling unchanged at $4.84 1/4.

NOTICES AID
COTTON PRICEACTIVE MONTHS SELL
UP ON ESTIMATE
OF 70,000

NEW YORK, Dec. 26 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 5 points to an advance of 1 point. Near months were relatively easy under liquidation incident to the circulation of January notices estimated at 70,000 bales. The market soon steadied on covering. Except for January liquidation offerings were light with the market showing net advances of about 4 to 8 points and at the end of the first half hour, January sold up from 16.95 to 17.05 and May from 17.50 to 17.67.

Initial offerings of January were readily absorbed by spot houses at a slight widening of the difference, and the position firmed up later on covering. This helped the tone of the general market, with prices advancing to 17.20 for January and 17.75 for May before the end of the morning or about 14 to 16 points net higher. The market was within 2 or 3 points of the best at midday.

MARKET IS UP TO 2 DOWN IN ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 26 (AP)—Although today was first notice day for January deliveries, both here and in New York, the market opened steady, 1 point up to 2 points down. Notices for as many as 1,200 bales were issued here and for 71,000 bales in New York. While notices were responsible for monetary easiness at the start, prices soon turned upward on belief the notices were being promptly stopped. January traded at 17.60, March at 17.65 and May at 17.60, or 8 points above the previous close. The market though quiet, was steady at the end of the first hour.

The market was steady all morning on reports there was fair trade buying and January notices issued earlier in the day were being stopped or taken care of. January advanced to 17.60, March to 17.65 and May to 17.60, or 13 to 16 points above the low of the early trading. At noon the market was quiet and near the high. Trading was light.

AIR MAIL PILOT GRINS FROM BEHIND
BANDAGES AFTER PLANE TAKES CRASH

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Dec. 26.—Thomas Hill, Kalamazoo, Mich., air mail pilot, whose plane, loaded with last minute messages of yuletide cheer, crashed in the blinding snow-storm Christmas Eve, grinned from beneath a mountain of bandages at St. Anthony's hospital here today and observed that "It wasn't such a bad Christmas after all."

He had just been assured that his injuries, which "physicians first thought might prove fatal, were not that serious. Hill suffered fractures of both jaws, a crushed face and minor body injuries. First intimation that his ship was in distress was secured by country folk when flames were dropped. The plane was invisible in the blackness of midnight, but the muffled drone of a motor, working faultily, sounded nearer as Hill circled in an attempt to land.

The plane crashed and Hill was pinned beneath the wreckage. He was lifted from the torn fuselage and rushed to St. Anthony's hospital where a preliminary examination indicated grave injuries. Today a more detailed examination and in the fashion of those who daily bathe in the sea.

QUINEBAUG, Conn., Dec. 26 (AP)—While the family party around the Christmas table awaited his coming here Wednesday, Mark Friselle, 70, drove up from a visit at Webster, Mass., in a taxicab, paid the driver, stepped behind the barn and shot himself, dying instantly.

Talks Of Trouble

She Suffered For Five Long Years Despaired Of Ever Seeing A Well Day Again

The remarkable experience of Mrs. B. F. Tackett, residing at 303 South Camden, Breckenridge, Texas, is another striking evidence of the extra ordinary merits of Orgatone. In speaking of her long time suffering from indigestion and gas formation crowding her heart and subsequent relief Mrs. Tackett said:

"I am telling all my friends about Orgatone and if they suffer the same as I have, I want them to take it for I am thoroughly convinced after the way it has helped me."

"My trouble had been growing worse instead of better, all the time," she continued. "It was almost insupportable for me to eat, without suffering from gas and sour stomach afterwards. Gas would form on my stomach and it would crowd my heart and make me short of breath and I always felt tired and worn out and I could not find anything to relieve my pain or build me up."

"After I had suffered month after month without getting any relief, some one gave me a statement on Orgatone that convinced me and I haven't felt a sign of that old indigestion pain since I started taking Orgatone. I can eat anything I want without any ill effects. I am no longer troubled with gas on my stomach and I have no spells with my heart. I feel better than I have ever felt in a long time. I have only taken one bottle of Orgatone but from the way I have improved already, I am glad to recommend it to anybody."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store.

QUARREL ENDS IN SHOOTING

TWO ARE KILLED IN OHIO AFFAIR; MAN
DIES IN BRONX

TOLEDO, Ohio, Dec. 26.—A quarrel which began as a "friendly argument" ended in the deaths of two men here Christmas day.

Edward Shofner, 45, widower and father of a nine year old son, was killed, and Paul Smith, 34, left his wife, a young son and daughter when he was fatally wounded in the altercation which took place in front of the Smith home.

Patrolman Leonard Mills and Odolph Rosenblatt, who were summoned to the scene, were unable to learn the exact cause of the shooting other than that "Shofner wanted to leave the house to visit relatives and Smith insisted that he stay."

Shofner lived at the Smith home. When the police arrived Shofner was lying dead on the sidewalk with a bullet wound in his head and Smith was on the front porch threatening the officers.

Patrolman Mills accepted the challenge and ran onto the porch grabbing Smith who the officer reported was flourishing his loaded revolver. A struggle ensued the officer's report stated, and Mills grabbed Smith's hand holding the gun and pointed it toward Smith.

The gun was discharged, Smith being shot in the head.

The wounded man was taken to a hospital where he died without regaining consciousness. Mrs. Smith said the men had been the "best of friends."

JEALOUSY CAUSES MAN TO TAKE OWN LIFE

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Double misfortune resulted from a Christmas party attended by several married couples in the Bronx last night.

In the midst of the festivities, Louis Saul, 36, a butcher, walked into his hostess' kitchen and stabbed himself in the breast with a carving knife. In falling, he fractured his skull against the kitchen sink and died. Police were told he was unhappy because his wife had kissed every one at the party.

Police bundled the others present into a patrol wagon and started for a station house, on the way the patrol collided with an automobile driven by an intoxicated reveler. Six of the occupants of the patrol, including one policeman, were slightly injured.

HOOVER SETS UP OFFICES

HISTORIC STUDY OF THE
WHITE HOUSE WILL BE USED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—In a famous old room that has witnessed much of the drama of American history, President Hoover will receive his business callers during the next few days and administer the affairs of the nation.

Until suitable headquarters are provided for occupancy during restoration of the west wing of the White House, destroyed in the fire of Christmas Eve, Mr. Hoover has elected to use the historic presidential study on the second floor of the executive mansion.

No Time Is Lost

No time is to be lost, either in rebuilding the executive offices or in providing accommodations for the period that process will take. Constant for bids, expected today, and arrangements made for housing the executive staff in the adjoining state, war and navy building.

By the first of the week, it is expected headquarters will have been established there for the president, his secretaries, the White House clerical force and newspapermen assigned to the president.

Used By All

Meanwhile, all business will be transacted from the presidential study. This is a room which Mr. Hoover is much attached because of its historical associations, where he likes to work and where many a president has worked before him. It was used by all the heads of the nation from President Adams to President Roosevelt. Mr. Hoover recently restored it after two decades and a half of disuse.

An old mahogany table around which gathered the cabinets of a score of presidents was placed outside the door for the use of Mr. Hoover's secretary, George Akeron.

Experts have reported to the president that in their opinion the fire of Christmas Eve was caused by defective wiring.

Fire Boats Check
Fire On Steamer

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Two fire boats and two engine companies were required to check a fire in the hold of the Coosulich line freighter Lucia C. at its pier in Brooklyn Wednesday.

The damage was mainly to the cargo. The ship arrived Tuesday from Mediterranean ports.

JOYS AND SADNESS BROUGHT TO CITY IN CHRISTMAS; RED CROSS WORKING OVERTIME TO AID IN NEEDY FAMILIES

Christmas brought its joys and tragedies to the city of Lubbock and perhaps there was no institution that worked harder to turn tragedy into joy than the local Red Cross.

Some idea of the many calls coming to the office may be obtained from a perusal of the following excerpts from telephone conversations occurring the past week. Miss Vera Murre, secretary of the chapter:

"Hello! Yes, Nurse Smith, this is the Red Cross. What are you telling me? Sixteen bitten by mad dog and some of them not able to buy the serum? What did you say it would cost—$50 per child? Well, that may make it a bit hard to get by Christmas, as we have received no funds this fall, but we'll find a way."

"Hello, doctor. Yes, we have just been talking about those cases bitten by the dog. And, doctor, don't run any risk. Send for the serum for any child that you suspect needs it. We can't risk a child having hydrophobia."

Serum Sent For

The serum was sent for. "Good morning, Mrs. Stubbs! What? This woman not able to care for her child and work at the same time? Lived here three years, did you say, but the county has all it can care for just now? Well, yes, we can't refuse a mother who needs help, we will allow so much a month for the keep of the child."

"Hello! Yes, Mrs. Hall. Some children in the tourist park that you want us to help."

Women Are Deserted

This case, when groceries were carried, disclosed the fact that men folk had deserted the women folk. They had been asking help in other towns, also.

"Good morning! What? You wish to bring back the groceries we brought you yesterday, because they did not quite suit you, sir? I'll go with you to help you get a job, but you are not sick and simply going to work."

"My dear little child, to be sure I will go out and carry some groceries and we will see if Santa Claus can't find you, too."

"Hello! Yes, this is the Red Cross. You say that is the hospital? What is that? An automobile accident and four little children who were being carried to grandmother for Christmas left alone without a place to go, or funds to carry them home? Why, carry them over to the hotel and give them some warm supper. Yes, we'll send them home."

"They were sent home."

"Hello! You want several families?"

HOTEL DE GINK IS CLOSED TO TRAMPS

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Hotel De Gink, a hostelry for homeless men which had become known throughout the greater part of the country, closed its doors Wednesday after serving a Christmas dinner to more than 1,000 outcasts.

The institution has been sponsored by Mayor Frank X. Schwab, who will relinquish his office Jan. 1.

Complaint was made that the De Gink attracted thousands of undesirable to Buffalo, where the hostelry provided free board and lodging. The real reason for the closing, however, was said to be lack of funds with which to carry on the work.

STORM SWEEPS BRITISH ISLES

TWENTY-FOUR LIVES
ARE BELIEVED LOST;
SHIPS WRECKED

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Dec. 26.—A storm area extending from the Orkney Islands to Spain made shipping dangerous over the holiday. At least 24 lives were believed lost; vessels put into port at every hand to escape lashing by wind and sea.

A Norwegian ship, believed to be the Askaut, of 585 tons register, sank with all hands off Parallones, Spain, early Wednesday. The ship Panjon later wirelessed Vito, Spain, it had recovered eleven bodies of the crew of 24, but could not identify them.

Craft In Trouble

Lloyd's reported numerous steamships in difficulty with propeller or rudder trouble, but the Norwegian craft was the only instance where loss of life was reported. The wind measured 70 miles an hour off the Orkneys. Mails were held up at Kirkwall, and the North Orkneys were without Christmas letters. Sea services were suspended.

Not a vessel has entered or left Aberdeen harbor since last Monday, and for the first time in 40 years no trawlers were in with fish. The harbor bar was not passable. In Ireland gales and hurricanes forced trees were uprooted, and there was minor damage in towns.

Rain Falls In Torrents

The wind was out of the southwest. Rain fell in torrents in England, ending a period of summer weather. There was hail in London, and coast routes watched giant combers batter at beaches and sea walls. The temperature was moderately warm. Christmas morning 34 stalwarts, ranging in age from 72 to 17 years, swam across Serpentine Lake in Hyde Park in competition for the silver cup presented annually by Sir James Barrie.

St. Louis Gangster Is Found Murdered

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 26.—Frank Costeneno, 36, alleged gangster, was found shot to death in a vacant lot in outlying north St. Louis today with his blood-stained automobile parked nearby. The body was in a shallow ditch and partly covered with mud. Three men were rounded up by police for questioning.

Episcopal Bishop To Be Buried Tomorrow

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 26.—The funeral of Rt. Rev. Davis Sessums, D. D., Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Louisiana, who died suddenly of heart trouble Christmas Eve, will be held Friday at 11 a. m., from Christ church Cathedral.

Beginning this morning, the body will lie in state until the hour of the funeral.

The Rt. Rev. Thomas N. Gallor, bishop of Tennessee, will officiate at the services, assisted by the Rev. Theodore D. Bratton, bishop of Mississippi.

Bishop Sessums died at his home on Jefferson avenue after 38 years as Bishop of Louisiana.

The first postage stamp used in England was sold in London recently for $250.
