It's 'DID' In Snyder

Rails Deadline Close

By ROBERT A. HUNT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON AP — With no indications of a settlement in sight, President Nixon and Congress soon may be looking down the barrel again of a threatened nationwide rail strike.

Nixon has until Feb. 15 to submit a report to Congress on the dispute, along with his recommendations for settlement. And Congress has until March 1, when a legislated strike moratorium ends and the unions will be free to act.

There have been talks in the past few weeks involving both the Railway Clerks, largest of the involved unions, and United Transportation Union, but there have been few reports of progress.

Rep. J. J. Pickle, D-Tex., a member of the House Commerce Committee, which has legislative jurisdiction, commented:

"I would say to the President and to the executive department this is the time for some good old, healthy jawboning negotiations. I would call in the interested parties and with all of the force and power at their command try to get them to enter into meaningful negotiations."

If nothing comes of such efforts, however, the situation will be right back in the lap of Congress, which cut off the strike last December only hours after it began. The 81-day moratorium enacted gave nearly 500,000 rail workers an immediate 13.5 per cent pay raise.

It was the second nationwide rail strike in three years Congress halted with special laws after Railway Labor Act provisions expired.

At issue are union demands for a three-year contract providing an estimated 40 per cent boost over current wages averaging about $3.50 an hour, a cost of living increase and other benefits.

The industry had accepted a mediation panel's recommendation of a 32 per cent pay boost for members of the involved unions-the clerks, the UTW, Brotherhood of maintenance of Way and the Hotel and Restaurant Employes.

Should the problem end up in Congress again, time would become a critical factor.

Though House committee reorganization should be complete within a week, there remains the question of who will head the Commerce Committee's transportation subcommittee. Then, Congress recesses for Lincoln's Birthday from Feb. 10-17.

In 1898, an insurance policy covering the driver of an automobile-the first such policy in the world-was issued to Dr. Truman Martin of Buffalo, New York and promised protection against possible damage suits from owners of horses frightened by the sight and noise of the car.

In 1956, Authorine Lucy, a 26-year-old black student, was admitted to the University of Alabama on orders of a federal court-the first black student admitted to that university.

Five years ago: President Johnson asked Congress for $3.383 billion for foreign aid, a drop from the $4.170 billion appropriated in the previous year.

Session Set In Coliseum

This is Drug Information Day (DID) in Snyder.

Major event on the day's program is a public meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the Scurry County Coliseum.

At that time, a panel of six experts will present information and answer questions on drugs, drug abuse and the rehabilitation of drug addicts.

The meeting is open to all Snyder area adults, and all public school pupils from the 7th grade upward are invited. There will be no admission charge.

Dr. Wilton N. Jones will serve as moderator for the panel, which will be composed of Dr. Doyle I. Carson and Dr. John T. Gossett, both of the Timberlawn Psychiatric Center, Dallas; the Rev. William N. Parkey, San Antonio minister, formerly of Snyder; Bill Merkel, drug education specialist with the Texas Education Agency; George Jones, with the Texas Narcotics Bureau; and Ben William Warton, a former user of drugs who has been successfully rehabilitated.

Some two dozen people have been active in planning the DID session. Dr. Jones, the moderator for the panel discussion, will be assisted by John Short, counselor at Snyder High School, and Dr. Robert B. Pierce.

Hopes have been expressed that the colseum will be filled for the meeting, which will deal exclusively with information on drugs. It also is hoped that the information will be useful in developing a drug information program in Snyder Public Schools, which will be required by statute next fall. Also, community leaders are eyeing the possibility of establishing a community council which would be available continously to persons with drug problems, or those who desire information on drugs and the use of drugs.

Free transportation will be provided by Snyder Jaycees for those who need it to attend tonight's meeting in the Coliseum. Persons who need transportation to the meeting should call 573-3558 after 5 p.m.

Jobs Pledged In Economic Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon sent Congress today a pledge of more jobs and better business in 1971, plus a promise to use "all the effective and legitimate powers of government" to strengthen anti-inflation forces.

But Nixon rejected—perhaps more emphatically than ever before—any use of price-wage controls or voluntary guideposts. He called the latter "an elaborate facade that seems to be wage and price control but is not."

His annual economic report to Congress fixed no specific goals or deadlines for recovery. But in the accompanying 300-page report of his Council of Economic Advisers, these targets were posted and presumably approved by him:

—Unemployment—now at 6 per cent—would decline to 4½ per cent by the middle of 1972. The official definition of "full employment" is around 4 per cent.

—The inflation rate, which was 5 per cent across the whole economy last year, should be approaching 3 per cent by mid-1972.

—National output should total $1.065 trillion in 1971, requiring a record rise of $88 billion—so great some economists fear it might rekindle inflation.

Nixon said his $229.2-billion "full employment budget," sent to Congress on Friday, would provide a solid stimulus to expansion.

OAS Conference Victory Declared

WASHINGTON (AP) — A solution to the U.S.-Ecuador fishing rights conflict appeared as distant as ever today despite Organization of American States efforts to bring the two sides together.

A special weekend meeting of OAS foreign ministers passed a mildly worded resolution which refrained from passing judgment.

The resolution called on the two nations to negotiate their differences, avoid aggravating the dispute and rigorously observe the principles of the OAS charter.

American officials expressed satisfaction that their biggest pre-conference worry—a direct hemispheric censure of American policy—was avoided.

Ecuadorian Foreign Minister Jose Maria Ponce Yepes declared the conference was "a complete victory" for his side. He said the OAS call for adherence to charter principles carried with it an implicit denunciation of what he has described as American coercion.

The use of economic or political coercion against a member state is prohibited by the charter. Ponce Yepes said the United States was guilty of coercion insuspending military sales to Ecuador two weeks ago following a series of seizures of American fishing vessels off that nation's coast.

He also said Ecuador would not agree to negotiate the issue with the United States as long as the suspension remains in effect and warned that his nation would continue to seize American vessels operating without proper documentation within the 200-mile limit Ecuador claims as its territorial waters.

For its part, the United States held firm to its allegation that international law specifies that all waters beyond 12 miles from any coastline are international territory. It has repeatedly said the solution to the problem lies in independent mediation or through the four-nation talks begun in 1969 involving the United States, Ecuador, Peru and Chile.

Reds Attack Six U. S. Positions

SAIGON (AP) — Communist-led forces slammed about 100 rounds of rockets and mortars into six U.S. positions today and followed up one attack with a ground assault, killing six Americans and wounding 26 in all.

The most devastating attack was a 50-round mortar barrage and a ground assault on a reconnaissance team from the 198th Brigade that had set up an ambush position four miles west of Chu Lai, headquarters of the U.S. Americal Division 50 miles south of Da Nang.

The U.S. Command, in a revised casualty report, said five Americans were killed and eight wounded in the attack near Chu Lai. A command communique earlier reported seven U.S. troops killed and seven wounded. Five enemy also were reported killed in the 50-minute fight.

The enemy forces apparently had traced the movements of the team from the 198th Brigade.

The other five American positions attacked were hit by rockets and mortars. They included the air bases at Da Nang and Cam Ranh Bay, a military adviser's compound at the Tuy Hoa air base, a helicopter unit seven miles northwest of Cam Ranh Bay and an artillery base 32 miles south of Pleiku City. The U.S. Command said one American was killed and 18 wounded.

The attack at Da Nang touched off a huge fire that destroyed thousands of gallons of fuel and damaged some aircraft. No casualties were reported.

Meanwhile, the most sustained bombing campaign of the war stretched into its 115th day today with more U.S. raids on the Ho Chi Minh trail through southern Laos.

Informed sources said some 30 B52 bombers, each carrying up to 30 tons of bombs, and about 200 smaller fighter-bombers and gunships pounded the 200-mile-long trail network in the latest round of attacks.

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston AP - The Apollo 14 crew, using a flashlight and radioed do-it-yourself instructions, tried unsuccessfully today to pinpoint the cause of a malfunction that threatens to wipe out their long-sought landing on the forbidding moonscape of Fra Mauro.

Alan B. Shepard Jr., the patriarch of American spacemen, and rookies Edgar D. Mitchell and Stuart A. Roosa deliberately tried for more than an hour to make a linking mechanism fail to work—as it had when they attempted to dock their command ship with the lunar lander earlier.

"It works," Roosa said finally. "Just real fine."

The apparatus must be able to work for its next use, when Shepard and Mitchell would return from the lunar surface to link again with the command ship piloted by Roosa.

"We will have to convince ourselves ... that the thing is indeed satisfactory for docking," said Sigurd Sjoberg, director of flight operations.

Asked whether the astronauts will go through with Friday's landing attempt on the moon's craggy highlands, Sjoberg said, "I'd like not to speculate on that right now."

The astronauts worked the latches by hand on instructions from Houston without a single failure.

"You've exhausted our imagination for right now on trouble-shooting the probe," said Mission Control. "We'll worry about it some more overnight and be back with you in the morning."

There was no argument from the astronauts, who had been awake for more than 19 hours by that time and in the spacecraft for 16 of those. No threat to their safety was involved.

Experts who had watched their efforts via television studied the problem during the crew's 10 hours sleep time.

Unlike Apollo 13, which was endangered by an explosion, this was a little—but frustrating—problem. Sjoberg said, if the landing could not be made, the astronauts would attempt an alternate mission of orbiting the moon.

The trouble confronted the astronauts three hours after launch Sunday when they turned their command ship for docking.

On previous flights the maneuver was routine. The mother ship would edge forward from its stack, turn around, and hook onto the lunar lander nose-to-nose. Then the command ship can pull the moonship out of the spent third stage of the Saturn 5 rocket.

This time, three small latches on the docking mechanism—shorter than a cigarette and not much wider—failed to lock into position in five move-up, back-out tries. On the sixth, using an unorthodox procedure, the ships mated.

Once past that hurdle, the astronauts were able to pull the troublesome mechanism inside. They found some small scratches on the polished face of the cone-shaped docking probe. They were made, Shepard said, by the capture latches.

Houston radioed tests and the mechanism passed each one flawlessly. It was something like a toothache that disappears in the dentist chair.

Shepard crawled into the tunnel formed by the joining of the twoships

"I looked in here with a flashlight and I didn't see anything out of the ordinary," he said. And later: "Right here in the very tip of the probe, it's clean. I don't see anything fishy about that."

Then he found the scratches. Mission Control had no clue on their cause.

Greene Is Named DA Here

A 1963 graduate of Snyder High School, Greene attended Texas Tech and then enrolled in the Baylor University Law School, receiving his Doctor of Jurisprudence degree in 1969.

He served on the Lubbock County legal staff briefly before serving in the U. S. Army. He had returned from Army service recently and had just been appointed assistant county attorney at Lubbock.

Greene is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Geral G. Greene, Route 2, Snyder.

Mills had held the district attorney's post since last April when he was appoointed to the post, which had been left vacant with the appointment of Wayland G. Holt as District Judge.

Stone Named To Commission

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Preston Smith named Jack R. Stone of Wells today as a member of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, giving Smith two appointees on the board.

Stone, an East Texas banker, succeeds L. P. Gilvin of Amarillo, who with Commissioner Harry Jersig of San Antonio has been locked in a controversy with commission Chairman Pearce Johnson and Smith over purchase of a state park site on Mustang Island.

Welfare worker missed the point

By Abigail Van Buren

[© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.]

DEAR ABBY: Why did you tell the young mother who wanted to get rid of her 3-week-old baby girl to talk to her doctor about it? Would you go to your dentist for legal advice? Does your rabbi give you flu shots? Who cuts your hair? A garage mechanic?

Doctors, lawyers and ministers may be expert in their own line of work, but they are not social workers. Occasionally they might place an unwanted baby with the right couple, but, believe me, doctors [especially] have made some serious blunders. Their idea of a "good home" is one in which there is a lot of money.

Please, Abby, correct your advice and tell Unhappy in South Carolina that if she wants to get rid of her baby girl she should go to a licensed adoption agency—not to her doctor. WELFARE WORKER

DEAR WORKER: You [and many other welfare workers] missed the point. The young mother said she "hated" her infant daughter, had considered killing her and even contemplated suicide. The poor woman was so clearly psychopathic that I wanted first and foremost to get her to her doctor without delay so he could see how disturbed she was. That is why I advised her to talk to her physician about getting rid of her child.

DEAR ABBY: There is a lot of talk about letting barbers charge double for cutting the hair of those shaggy-maned hippies. I'm all for it. How about you, Abby? LEXINGTON

DEAR LEXINGTON: Only on the condition that they'll give half-price haircuts to their bald-headed brothers.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem which irks me to no end. I have a friend whom I like a lot and see quite often in the day time. When I give a party, I always invite her and her husband. Whenever she gives a party, she leaves me and my husband out. But she asks many of our mutual friends, whom she has met at our place. She even has the gall to ask me for their phone numbers.

The only time she has ever invited my husband and me over is to help her and her husband entertain some bores. What would you do in my place? I hate to be anyone's . . . SECOND CLASS FRIEND

DEAR SECOND: If you "like her a lot," invite her as you have always done, but if it's going to "irk you," do without her company, at her house as well as your own.

DEAR ABBY: I have passed my 85th birthday and am still quite active, but I need some help.

A nice, kind lady has lived in my house for years, taking care of my general welfare. She cleans and cooks for me and also looks after some rental property I have, collecting the rent and so on. I don't pay her any money, but she lives in my house and pays no rent.

She has promised to stay with me until the end. I would like to leave this woman one of my houses to show my appreciation for all she has done for me, but my friends tell me that my letting her live here for free is enough.

I am alone and have no relatives. What shall I do? Your advice has always been highly regarded by this reader. UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: Your instincts are good. Leave the lady one of your houses as you had intended.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Farmer Equity Gain Is Small

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers increased their ownership equity in what they operate only $3.5 billion in 1970, the least in a decade, a new Agriculture Department report shows.

High interest rates, tight credit, rising expenses and the general inflation in the economy last year were the big factors.

The Outlook and Situation Board says in a summer report that some relief may be on the way this year.

"Interest rates on farm loans made in 1971 are expected to average about one percentage point lower than last year," the report said. "Both long and short-term farm loans will carry lower interest rates."

Total assets of farmers were estimated as of Jan. 1 at another record high of $317.2 billion, about two per cent more than a year earlier.

But proprietor's equities—what farmers actually own among their assets—totaled $256.8 billion, a gain of only 1.4 per cent or $3.5 billion from the $253.3 billion equity they held on Jan. 1, 1970.

The gain in equity has been less in recent years. It was $8.8 billion or a 3.6 per cent gain from 1969 to 1970. But the latest figure is the smallest, according to USDA records, farmer-owned equity declined from $178.8 billion in 1960 to $177.8 billion in 1961.

Farm debt on Jan. 1 was put at $58.6 billion, a six per cent increase from a year earlier.

"Three-fourths of the increase," the report said, "was in non-real estate loans. Growth of farm mortgage loans was restrained by the reluctance of farmers to seek long-term loans at prevailing high interest rates."

As a result of the pressures net farm income last year dipped 2.5 per cent from $16.2 billion in 1969. This would mean a net farm income of about $15.8 billion, the lowest since 1968.

And despite some improvement this year, farm expenses are expected to keep rising. Thus, the report said, 1971 net income will undergo "further decline" but cited no specific level.

City Firemen Are Kept Busy

City Firemen were kept busy again over the weekend.

They answered three calls Saturday. At 4:35 p.m., they extinguished a grass fire at the China Grove cutoff of the Colorado City Highway.

At 7:25 p.m., a truck fire occurred on the north side of the Courthouse. Firemen said the rear bearings were putting off smoke. Driver of the vehicle was T. L. Young. Damage was minor.

A fire in a wall heater prompted a call to the Floyd Payne residence about seven miles northwest of town at 10:15 p.m. Saturday. There was fire damage to one wall and slight smoke damage throughout the house.

February Begins Cold

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold-winded butler opened the door for February today but promised no moisture anywhere in Texas.

White caps slapped at piers and moorings ahead of 30-mile-an-hour winds along the Gulf Coast as the arctic front seeped into every corner of the state.

Temperatures before dawn sagged to the 20s across the northern part of the state while 60-degree readings enveloped the Rio Grande Valley.

Weathermen said cloudiness in East and South Texas would drift east out of the state with temperatures turning even colder in extreme southern areas.

Small craft warnings flags along the coast were being whipped by strong north winds which topped 30 miles an hour in Galveston Bay.

Most of the state was clear and cold.

Anxious Texans particularly farmers and stockmen fretting over winter grazing lands, have been awaiting any sign of rainfall as the state slumps into winter drought.

The National Weather Service said Dallas County had recorded its driest January on record with only .16 of an inch of moisture on the books for the month.

Weathermen said the November - December - January period—with only 1.48 inches of rain—is the driest winter period yet recorded in Dallas County.

Explosion Rips Tyler Plant

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—A series of explosions ripped through the National Cylinder Gas Co. northeast of Tyler today, severly damaging the plant and setting it afire.

There were no reports of injuries.

The series of explosions began about 2:30 a.m. and rattled windows as much as 10 miles away.

Tyler Fire Department Lt. George Morris said the heat from the fire which followed the explosions was so intense that his men were not able to get near the fire at first.

Firemen preferred to use foam in the attempt to extinguish the fire because water could increase the explosions rather than stop them.

Morris said the explosions, thought to be from exploding bottles of gas which the company produces, awoke his men in the fire station in downtown Tyler.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY McKINNEY

Couple Exchange Vows In Candlelight Ceremony

Jeannie Huestis and Jerry McKinney exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony at Union Methodist Church Jan. 9 at 8 p.m. Rev. Jesse Dea, minister of the church, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Huestis of 806 East Fourth St., Denver City and Mr. and Mrs. Bob McKinney of 3718 Ave. U, Snyder.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight peau de soie with long petal point sleeves, bateau neckline, fitted bodice with A-line skirt extending into a bouffant chapel train. A cabbage rose with a full length veil of imported silk illusion formed the brides headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white mums centered with peppermint carnations. The traditional something old, something new was carried out with a lavaliere belonging to her grandmother, new earrings given by her brother, a borrowed veil and a blue garter.

Linda Huestis, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Betty Hall and Kathy Cox, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore formal length gowns of red bonded crepe fashioned with empire waistline and trimmed with pearls around the waist. Opera length white gloves complimented their costumes. They carried a long stemmed peppermint carnation. Shelby McKinney, niece of the groom, was flower girl.

Lane McKinney served as his brothers best man. Billy Ray Browning and Rusty Teague, both cousins of the groom, were groomsmen. Ushers were Terry Huestis, brother of the bride and Roxie Small.

Candles were lighted by Glenda and Randy Vaughn, cousins of the bride.

Lou Ann Mathis played traditional wedding music at the piano and accompanied Jane Womack, cousin of the bride, as she sang "Wither Thou Goest" and "Wedding Prayer."

As the bride entered the church she presented her mother with a long stemmed carnation. During the candle light service the bride and groom stood before an archway laced with greenery and two baskets of flowers and two candle trees flanking each side of the altar. The couple lit a life candle together and took Holy Communion while kneeling at the altar. Leaving the church the groom presented his mother with a long stemmed carnation.

A reception followed in the fellowship hall of the church. The brides table was covered with a red cloth and overlayed with lace. The three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom and punch was served by members of the United Methodist Youth Fellowship.

For the wedding trip to points in East Texas the bride chose a white double knit two piece suit with red and white long sleeve blouse. Carnations from the bridal bouquet completed her outfit.

The bride graduated from Denver City High School in 1969 and attended school at Charles and Sue's School of Beauty. She is employed at the Highland Beauty Center.

The groom is a graduate of Snyder High School and is employed by Bob McKinney Construction in Snyder.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were from Austin, Colorado City, Denver City, Andrews, Lubbock, Abilene, Alpine, Fort Sill, Okla., and Hobbs, N. M.

Economic Theme Is One Of Expectation

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A common theme of all the dollar sign news contained in President Nixon's three massive documents on the nation, the budget and the economy appears to be that of great expectations.

Total output is seen rising by $88 billion, or far more than expected by private forecasters; inflation is to be lessened while the economy is being stimulated; a deficit is expected but, we are told, it won't be damaging.

The expectations appear all the more inclined to the sunny side when it is noted that inflation got worse rather than better in December, that unemployment is still rising and that in the past, deficits often were inflationary.

But now take a closer look. Embodied in the economic scheme for the next year is an anticipated 4.2 per cent inflation compared with 5.3 per cent last year, and unemployment is expected to be just under 5 per cent, as in 1970. The big difference is that rates will be falling rather than rising.

Results of this sort certainly do not constitute great expectations. They are modest instead, and perhaps serve to illustrate the necessity of a budget deficit and the need to shoot for that huge increase in output.

What appears at first glance to be daring may only be the reaction of an administration that has no choice, like the infantryman whose only chance for survival is to attack.

Nevertheless, can it attain the expansion it seeks? You'll find many doubters among the private economists, but doubts are what they sell to their clients. Bullish forecasters are suspect, so they tend to hide behind bearskins.

You'll find a lot of these gentlemen encouraged now to re-evaluate their forecasts, and one thing they'll be examining closely is the rising productivity rate. It began last year and almost certainly will continue.

This means that America's factories and farms and stores will, in general, be turning out more for the same expenditure of time and money. The machinery of production has been tuned up during the past year as competition rose. Inflation will be undercut.

Moreover, that downturn in the economy has left the nation with considerable unused ability in its production system, with something like only 75 per cent of capacity being utilized.

This fact is significant, because it means that output can rise 10 per cent and still leave the economy utilizing only 82.5 per cent of capacity, compared with a 15-year average of 83.9 per cent.

What disturbs some readers of the budget is the assumption that the economy can be stimulated without paying a price in more inflation.

They understand that the nation has the capacity to produce more, as shown by the unused space, machinery and manpower, and they realize that inflation may not result from this source.

In other words, with supply exceeding demand, they do not fear what is called demand-pull inflation, in which too many dollars chase too few goods and therefore force prices higher. But they do fear cost-push.

This latter type of inflation results when rising costs push prices higher, one of the reasons being the existence of a mass belief that inflation will continue.

Such an inflationary psychology, like a full-employment budget, is also in the nature of a self-fulfilling prophecy. If a manufacturer believes his workers will demand higher wages he might compensate in advance by raising prices. If a worker is convinced that prices will be higher, he also attempts to cover himself in advance.

All in all, is the economic scheme daring? Perhaps in the sense that it hopes for a lot and could fail. It is hardly daring, however, when you realize that it takes a great effort to produce small results, and that there may be no choice anyway.

Junior Editors Quiz on HIPPOPOTAMUS

QUESTION: Why does the hippopotamus stay under water so much?

* * *

ANSWER: "Hippopotamus" comes from two Greek words meaning "river horse." It seems ridiculous to compare this ungainly creature with the graceful horse, to which it is not even related. However, the hippo has very horse-like ears, even if small, and his heavy head, with square muzzle, has a certain grotesque resemblance to a horse's head. Hippos love to lie in water with only the ears and eyes showing. Why is the water so attractive to a hippo? One reason is that the animal's skin is covered with large pores and, when out of water, the skin dries up rapidly. Since this would crack the skin, the huge beast can spend little time on land but must get quickly back to water to keep his skin wet. Another reason why hippos love water can be seen in the picture of a hippo opening his huge mouth. Look at those immense tusks. They are exactly right for rooting up juicy water plants, which a hippo thinks truly delicious. His idea after an enormous meal of roots and stems is to float on the surface for hours, with only eyes, ears and nose above water. Sounds kind of pleasant, especially in a hot African country.

Boyle Learns From Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you are inclined to blame your parents for everything that goes wrong in your life, it isn't hard to find a reason. Science has discovered nearly 2,000 diseases that may be hereditary.

Freezing makes most things shorter. Perhaps that explains why the Laplanders of northern Europe are that continent's smallest people. They average only 4½ to 5 feet tall.

The average American child under 15 years of age gets $55 worth of toys a year. Although dolls are the most popular items in the $3 billion spent annually on toys, another long-time favorite, Teddy bears, still account for $40 million a year.

Here's the only sure way to have the last word in an argument with a woman: hang up the phone on her—and go away before she can call back.

A sobering thought: Did you ever think while at a cocktail party that one of the next 13 people you have a drink with is or will become an alcoholic. Of course, if you have a separate drink with each of them, there's no doubt who the alcoholic is.

Quotable notables: "Liberty is the right of any person to stand up anywhere and say anything whatsoever that everybody thinks."— Lincoln Steffens.

The price of intelligence: Porpoises, believed to be the most intelligent of sea creatures, have a brain that is in some ways more complex than man's. Also like man, the porpoise is high strung, and when overworked it may develop stomach ulcers.

It was Oscar Wilde who observed, "To become a spectator of one's own life is to escape the suffering of life."

Belli To Get Screen Test

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Attorney Melvin Belli says he is going to be tested for the title role in "The Godfather," movie version of Mario Puzo's book about the Mafia.

Belli said he would make the screen test this week in New York.

He already has a little acting experience—he and his son Caesar appeared in a sequence of the "Star Trek" show on television.

Belli was here to address the Oklahoma Press Association.

School Issue On Calendar

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith's plan to put the state in hock for $450 million to avoid new taxes for burgeoning school costs was expected to face its moment of truth today.

Smith's $450 million public school bond issue was on a long House debate calender that included five other proposed constitutional amendments.

Also on the calendar were amendments that would set up a legislative pay and ethics commission, allow the use of oil and gas income from public school lands for immediate school expenses, partially remove the $80 million annual welfare ceiling enlarge the Senate from 31 to 39 members and permit lawmakers to submit constitutional amendments at special sessions of the legislature.

Legislative leaders sought to complete action this week on all emergency-type amendments that would affect the work of the legislature, which adjourns May 31.

They settled last week on May 18 as the earliest possible date for a special election on constitutional amendments, allowing 100 days to satisfy publication and notice requirements.

Interview Tips For Graduates

FOR COLLEGE GRADS
(1st of 3 parts)

Career Corner
by Joyce Lain Kennedy

Last week we noted likely job prospects for college graduates through the decade of the 1970's: According to recent Federal Labor Department projections, the supply of college-educated personnel is expected to roughly equal the demand, a forecast which suggests that the wise college graduate will sharpen his (and her) job search skills. Toward this end, here is sound job interview advice from . . .

ARTHUR ECKBERG, director of placement and career planning at Roosevelt University in Chicago. Although directed to college grads, much of his counsel applies to non-grads, as well. I suggest job hunters clip-and-save this and the following 2 columns in this series.

REALITIES. The majority of job interviews conducted on college campuses are of a screening nature. You are looking them over – and they are attempting to assess your assets and liabilities in light of THEIR NEEDS. For years this process has been slanted in favor of the applicant; our economic situation this past year has turned the process around so that we now have more applicants than jobs.

The campus interview is unlike most others in its manner of structure. Applicants have 30 minutes in which to be briefed, questioned and listened to. The campus recruiter must make a decision regarding those applicants who will be invited to the home office for a 2nd interview. The applicant must use his portion of the 30 minutes with dispatch, ingenuity and effectiveness.

THE APPROACH. Most interviews will touch on such areas as your interests, goals, aspirations, family background, educational achievement, work history, domestic situation, abilities and attitudes. Some interviewers will structure the session, while others will seem to proceed without an organized plan. A few will even give you the opportunity of setting the interview stage.

Although the style of interviewers tends to vary (the life style of employer interviewers encompasses a broad spectrum of individuality), there are certain techniques applicable to most job interviews. An effective interviewer will avoid excessive chit-chat, preferring to move along quickly to the business at hand. He'll do his best to probe your background and interests to achieve an in-depth analysis. You should respond with clarity, enthusiasm and creativity.

EXPECT broad open-ended questions designed to stimulate a free-flowing conversation, in which you are evaluated by the manner in which you verbalize your response. Realize that a certain degree of tension is bound to develop in any interview process, making accurate evaluation difficult. The experienced interviewer is aware of the tension factor and allows for it. As you gain interview experience, you will probably become more sophisticated, more articulate and more effective.

The experienced interviewer utilizes his time to obtain data and information about you that may not be found on your college interview form or resume. He will take appropriate note of your grooming, poise, tact, verbal fluency, enthusiasm, and ability to organize your thoughts in a cogent manner. He will rate you also according to your non-verbal approach. The skilled interviewer will be searching for evidence of judgment, creativity, initiative, decisiveness, leadership and enthusiasm on your part.

Conference On Cities Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is planning an international "Conference on Cities" next spring, but intends to keep America's racial problems in the background.

The conference, which opens May 25 in Indianapolis, is expected to attract some of the world's leading experts on urban problems. Its focus will be kept firmly fixed on the difficulties common to the 15 NATO countries, an administration spokesman said.

NATO is collaborating in planning the conference, which developed out of its Committee on the Challenges of Modern Society.

"We are trying to deal with problems that have a high level of commonality," said the administration aide, who asked not to be identified. "With the exception of Great Britain, there's not a European country with a severe racial problem."

President Nixon is considered a likely speaker at the four-day conference. West German Chancellor Willy Brandt, former mayor of West Berlin, may also attend.

The guest list is still not complete but among those likely to receive invitations are the renowned Greek architect and planner, Constantinos Doxiadis, economist Barbara Ward and designer-builder Richard Buckminster Fuller.

Five hundred delegates are expected, half of them from Europe. Among the U.S. delegates will be mayors from cities over 100,000 in population and several governors.

The agenda, which is still being shaped, now includes transportation, housing, fiscal affairs, the environment, public services and planning and development.

Former presidential counsellor Daniel P. Moynihan, a certain participant, said the conference represents an attempt to "establish relations among people who have surprisingly similar experiences."

Mayor Richard Lugar of Indianapolis, president of the National League of Cities and Moynihan spawned the idea for the conference last April while attending a NATO committee conference in Brussels.

SNYDER VS. LAMESA

Showdown Battle Set Here Tuesday Night

One thing is for certain. The Bengals will need all the support they can get when they tangle with Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes in a District 3-AAA showdown basketball match in the Scurry County Coliseum Tuesday night. Tipoff is on tap for 8 o'clock following the B team tussle between both schools.

Lamesa is 23-4 for the season while Snyder is 19-4 for the distance. The Tornaodes won the first half of the double round robin slate with a perfect 7-0 record. Snyder finished in second place with a 6-1 mark. The only loss was a 55-51 setback to the same Tornadoes. Now, both teams sport 2-0 marks in the second round of play. The winner will be favored to win the second half.

Both teams are talented. The Tigers have a smooth-operating crew in senior Bid Cooper (5-11), juniors Kent Horsley (6-7) and Dubby Preston (6-4), and sophomores Jerry Brooks (6-2) and Tommy Washington (5-11).

The Tigers all function well together as a team. Also available for duty are sophomores Gary Brooks (6-2), Jim Fred Liner (6-1), and Kevin Jones (6-4) and junior David Thompson (6-0).

Preston perhaps is the best outside shooter in the district. Brooks and Washington also are good shooters. Horsley has made tremendous improvement of late and is dangerous on the inside. Cooper, Liner and Thompson are good play makers.

The Tornadoes also have some talented shooters, led by senior Cecil Davis, who is averaging 15 points per game. He also averages about 11 rebounds per game. Not far behind in shooting are sophomores Harry McCurley, who averages over 12 points per contest, and Robert Hardberger, with better than an 11-point per game average. Hardberger is the tallest Tornado, but he's not quite as tall as Horsley. Other starters for the Tornadoes are guards David Sisson and Russ Baldwin.

Lamesa has compiled 1,691 points for an average of 62.6 per game while giving up 1,360 for an average of 50.3 per game. Snyder has a slightly better offensive record, averaging 63.3 points per tilt with a total score of 1,457 points. The Tigers have yielded 1,307 points or 56.8 per game.

The game rates as a tossup.

Baseball's Hall Of Fame Doors Opened

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The doors of Baseball's Hall of Fame swung open today for seven old timers elected by a veterans' committee after the regular ballot of the Baseball Writers Association of America had failed last month to name any moderns to the shrine.

Legendary pitcher Rube Marquard, who shares the record of 19 consecutive victories in a single season, and George M. Weiss, the executive genius who built the New York Yankees into an awesome powerhouse from the late 1940s until the 1960s, led the advance of the oldtimers.

Also named were outfielders Harry Hooper, Joe Kelley and Chuck Hafey, first baseman Jake Beckley and shortstop Dave Bancroft.

Marquard, who won 201 games pitching mostly for the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, from 1908-25, Hooper, who hit .281 in 16 American League seasons and Kelley and Beckley, both pre-1900 stars, were named as "real oldtimers," whose careers ended by 1925.

"I was surprised," said Hooper, now 83. "I've been eligible for this honor for 40 years. Naturally, most all the people who ever saw me play are dead, so it's pretty hard to get in."

Hafey and Bancroft both starred in the 1920-30 era when the others players named Sunday were winding up their careers.

"That was great news," said Hafey, 67, who batted .317 in 13 seasons with St. Louis and Cincinnati and led the National League with a .349 mark in 1931. "I've been out so darned long—'37 was my last year—I didn't think I was ever going to get in there."

Bancroft, a switch-hitting, fancy fielder, had a career .279 average in 16 NL seasons.

Weiss was the unanimous selection of the 12-man committee in the executive category. He served first as farm director and later as general manager of Yankee teams which won 19 American League pennants and 15 World Series.

Weiss ruled the Yankee front office as GM from 1947-60 and over that period the Yankees won 11 pennants. After he was let out by the Yankees, he moved across town to become the first president of the expansion New York Mets in 1962. He retired in 1966 after 47 years in baseball.

The oldtimers committee that elected the seven men Sunday includes Hall of Famers Joe Cronin, Charley Gehringer, Frank Frisch, Waite Hoyt and Bill Terry. It used the option given for this year only, to name four players in the "real oldtimers" category covering players whose careers ended by 1925. Previously only two players and one executive could be picked each year.

To be eligible for election by the veteran's committee, oldtimers must be out of baseball for 20 years and no longer eligible for election by the Baseball Writers Association.

The Hall of Fame announcement came Sunday afternoon, a few hours before the New York chapter of the BBWAA held its 48th annual dinner.

The New York Writers honored Cincinnati Catcher Johnny Bench as 1970's top player and also presented key awards to Fritz Peterson, of the New York Yankees, and Donald Davidson, traveling secretary of the Atlanta Braves, Baltimore third baseman Brooks Robinson and Pie Traynor, legendary third baseman of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Bench won the Sid Mercer Award as player of the year, Peterson took the Ben Epstein Good Guy Award for his cooperation with the press, Davidson received the William Slocum Award for long and meritorious service to baseball, Robinson won the Babe Ruth Award as the outstanding performer of the World Series and Traynor took the Retroactive Award.

Tiger Golf Team Wins 3 Trophies

SAN ANGELO — The Snyder High School golf team won three of the four trophies at the Golf Meet here Saturday. They competed in the AAA division.

Glen Rambin won medalist honors with a 74-73-147. He and Sammy Baker teamed up to win the partnership low ball event with a 70-70-140.

The team low ball trophy went to Andrews with a 129. Snyder finished with a 132.

NY Knicks Win 125-95

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"They're very good against the fast break and get back so fast," said Baltimore Coach Gene Shue after the Knicks whipped the Bullets 125-95 in the National Basketball Association Sunday. "We wanted to run them all game, but couldn't do it."

It appeared that Shue wasn't quite expecting a pepped-up Knickerbocker team. And he wasn't.

"I just thought the Knicks were ready to be beat," said Shue, pointing to their busy schedule of late that included Saturday night's 106-105 loss to Philadelphia. "But we didn't generate enough offense."

Coach Red Holzman of the Knicks pointed out that Baltimore's loss of Gus Johnson and Eddie Miles, both injured, didn't help the Bullets.

Elsewhere in the NBA, it was Boston 132, Philadelphia 126; Atlanta 131, San Diego 120; Cleveland 117, Buffalo 108; Chicago 131, Cincinnati 99; Los Angeles 133, Portland 120 and Milwaukee 131, Detroit 104.

In the American Basketball Association, it was Carolina 125, New York 121; Floridians 95, Texas 92; Virginia 126; Pittsburgh 122; Utah 138, Kentucky 129 and Indiana 124, Denver 104.

On Saturday night in the NBA, besides the New York-Philadelphia game, Cincinnati whipped San Diego 116-110; Phoenix stopped Seattle 134-116 and San Francisco tripped Los Angeles 87-85.

New York held big leads mounting to 18 points in the first half, but a late surge by Baltimore whittled it to 56-47 at intermission. Then the Knicks pulled away behind Walt Frazier's 29 points.

Dave Cowens and Jo Jo White hit clutch free throws as Boston scored its last 13 points from the foul line to beat Philadelphia.

Jerry Chambers, Walt Hazzard and Bill Bridges combined for 73 points for Atlanta. Elvin Hayes led San Diego with 39.

Johnny Neumann Paces Ole Miss

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

They call him a Rebel, the Hot Hand Luke of the Southeast.

"He's a great athlete and a great shooter," says Louisiana State's Press Maravich of the dazzling Mississippi sophomore.

When you're talking college basketball scorers, Maravich should know. He coached a great one for three years—his son, Pete.

Although some are comparing Neumann with The Pistol because of his run-and-gun penchant, Press bows out of a serious discussion.

"I've only seen Neumann once," said Press, referring to Saturday night's 113-90 licking of LSU by Mississippi. "I really can't make a comparison. But I know Neumann will probably be No. 1 in the country, just like Pete was.

"I was impressed by Neumann's great movement without the ball, his strong grip and good finger control. Pete, of course, was a great playmaker. And I think Neumann will be ... in time."

Neumann, at 6-foot-6 an inch taller than Pistol Pete, added 63 points to his nation-leading total Saturday night. He's averaging over 42 points a game, which is up in the rarified Maravich stratosphere.

Austin Carr, Neumann's closest competitor with a plus-37-point average, only could manage 23—and that cost seventh-ranked Notre Dame a 69-66 overtime upset loss to No. 18 Illinois Saturday night.

There were few other surprises in the Top Ten. Other than ninth-rated Utah State's 76-72 defeat by Air Force, the rest won.

Top-ranked Marquette took the night off, but No. 2 UCLA blew by UC-Santa Barbara 74-61; No. 3 Southern California stomped Chicago Loyola 97-73; No. 5 Kansas whipped Iowa State 95-72; eighth-rated Tennessee smashed Auburn 90-68 and 10th-ranked South Carolina throttled No. 15 Virginia 92-70.

Neumann, who's been packing arenas around the Southeastern Conference a la Pete Maravich, had the LSU defenders hogtied and hypnotized.

Neumann shot the eyes out of the basket, hitting 26 of 40 from the floor, to fall only six points short of Pistol Pete's conference record 69.

While Carr was running out of gas, Illinois' Nick Connor put on a high-octane performance by hitting two crucial field goals in overtime for the Irish upset.

Curtis Rowe scored 28 points to pace the UCLA success, but Coach John Wooden wasn't entirely happy.

"We were not playing well as a team," said Wooden, after directing the Bruins' 135th victory in their last 140 games. "We're missing the open man, we're not reacting on defense and we're just not playing well."

He was enthused, though, about Rowe's performance—the star's highest output in a month.

Southern California's victory over Loyola of Chicago was its 16th without a loss, a rarity among the Top Twenty. Only other undefeated clubs in the blue ribbon group are Marquette and Penn, No. 4.

Among Second Ten clubs, No. 11 Kentucky smacked Vanderbilt 102-92; 12th-rated Western Kentucky beat Middle Tennessee 80-66; No. 13 Oregon was upset by Denver 93-83; No. 14 LaSalle clouted Hofstra 79-62.

Now Tie This!

Officials ruled, however, an exhibition race was still to be held. Instead of a Sandia victory, the final score ended in a tie.

Raiders Host Bruins Tuesday

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ

Texas Tech basketball fans are hoping Baylor's road show won't be as good as the scoring act the Bears performed before the home folks in Heart 'O Texas Coliseun Saturday.

The high-scoring Bear machine drilled defending champion Rice 119-96 to tie an all-time Southwest Conference scoring record and gave the Bruins momentum for Tuesday's showdown in Lubbock against Texas Tech.

With Texas Christian sitting high and dry in first place with a 4-0 record, Tech and Baylor are knotted for second with 3-1 records in the tight SWC race.

"This is certainly a crucial week for us," said Baylor Coach Bill Menefee. "We play a conference contender in Tech Tuesday and then Saturday we have to go to Fort Worth to play the leader in TCU. So we've got a tough week."

But it won't be easy for Tech either. After Tuesday's showdown for second place with Baylor, the Raiders must go on the road Saturday against Rice. In other games Tuesday night TCU goes to Arkansas, Rice is at Texas and SMU is at Texas A&M.

While Baylor was whacking the defending champs Saturday, Tech defeated A&M 76-65 in College Station; SMU nipped Arkansas by an eyelash, 90-88 and TCU tipped Texas 76-70.

Menefee said the biggest difference in Baylor's victory over Rice and last week's upset loss to SMU was balanced scoring. The Bruins hit 56 per cent from the field against Rice and had eight players in double figures.

"That was the biggest difference," Menefee said. "We had more boys hitting this week. Of course, everything looks better when you are hitting."

It also might have helped that the Bears were able to play their running game.

"It looked like when the game started both teams wanted to run," Menefee said. "When we built up a lead, all they could do was put it up quicker.

"Our game is based a lot on running and we like to play that way. So we usually welcome a team running with us."

TCU's victory over Texas ended 11 years of frustration with the Frogs in Austin's Gregory Gym. TCU Coach Johnny Swaim called time with the Frogs trailing 58-53 and put in a full court press that spurred the Frogs to victory. "We've still got a long way to go," Swaim said, "But it's sure nice to win one here."

Gene Lowery paced Tech to an important road victory over A&M with 24 points. Bill Cooksey and Steve Niles each hit 19 for A&M.
