Hitler Uses Cupid In Jobs Campaign

MUNICH, Germany, Mar. 21. (AP)—Cupid was invoked by Adolf Hitler today to solve Germany's unemployment problem in a speech delivered from a dumping cart at Unterhaching.

The entire nation listened to his broadcast from upper Bavaria, on the first anniversary of the historic reichstag at Potsdam when the Nazi leader was given dictatorial powers.

"By setting aside 150,000,000 marks (approximately $59,550,000) for loans to newlyweds" the chancellor said, "we expect to see 300,000 girls married off by 1935."

CAPITAL STOCK LEVY GIVEN APPROVAL OF SENATE GROUP

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 21—The senate finance committee today unanimously approved a capital stock tax of one-tenth of one per cent to take effect July 1, 1935, and estimated it would bring in $95,000,000 in revenue.

The committee also approved a 5 per cent penalty tax on corporations if earnings exceed 12 1-2 per cent, as a guard against undervaluations in determining their own capital stock valuations. Both propositions were advanced by Chairman Harrison (D-Miss).

Other Changes Voted

As a partial offset for these new taxes, the committee eliminated the excise tax on soft drinks, which bring in an estimated $6,200,000, but increased the tax on colored matches from two to five cents per thousand to meet Japanese competition, and placed a 25 per cent tax on automatic lighters.

The tax on furs valued at $20 or less was struck out. This was expected to lop off another $4,000,000 in revenue.

Further excise and nuisance levies were left untouched because Harrison said the committee did not wish to stop proceeds from this source until the new revenue from the capital stock and excess profits levies begins to trickle in after July 1, 1935.

Estate Taxes Hiked

The committee also approved a Harrison amendment increasing estate taxes to a maximum of 50 per cent if valued at more than $10,000,000 as against 45 per cent now. The increases would range from one per cent on estates valued between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000 up to five per cent at more than $10,000,000.

A proposal by Senator LaFollette (R-Wis) to raise the estate levies to a maximum of 60 per cent was rejected.

The committee eliminated the house provision repealing the 2-cent bank check tax Jan. 1, 1935, and allowed the present law, wiping out the levy July 1, 1935, to stand.

Secretary Morgenthau laid a proposal before the committee for a reduction in the tax, on 10-cent packages of cigarettes from $3 to $2.70 a thousand. A hearing on this will be held later.

FIRE DAMAGES HATCHERY

LOSS IN SEED PLANT BLAZE LAST NIGHT EXCEEDS $800

Before hose used in fighting a seed plant blaze had dried, the Lubbock fire department was called about 8 o'clock this morning to Swain's hatchery, beside state highway 9 two and a half miles south of Lubbock. Fire destroyed the main incubator, about 500 baby chicks and some eggs. Some chicks were saved.

Handicapped by an insufficient water supply, and loss of time in making available water found nearby, firemen were unable to stem the flames, which were confined, however, to the hatchery. A brooder near it was not damaged.

Outside City Limits

An estimate of the loss was not immediately available. It would not affect Lubbock's insured fire loss total, however, as the hatchery was a mile outside city limits.

Damage caused by flames that destroyed the roof and main elevator and otherwise damaged the Acme Seed company plant, near Broadway and the Santa Fe rail-

San Augustine Man Is Out For Senate

AUSTIN, Mar. 21. (AP)—Guy B. Fisher, retired lumberman and lawyer of Bland Lake, San Augustine county, today announced his candidacy for the United States senate. He said he would run as an anti-Roosevelt man.

"I favor a graduated taxing system that will reduce the wealth of every person to not more than $1,000,000," he said. "No man ever earned that much and but very few, if any, ever made that much honestly."

He said he would not feel any pangs of regret in reducing excessive fortunes by taxation."

Grandmother Steps Into Line Of Fire

DENVER, March 21 (AP)—A white-haired grandmother was near death today after she had thrown herself against the muzzle of a revolver to save the life of her granddaughter.

The victim, Mrs. Laura Hall, 60, was shot seven times last night when she stepped between her granddaughter, Mrs. Marjorie Holloway, 23, and the younger woman's divorced husband, Donald Holloway, 25, an unemployed mechanic. He had threatened his former wife with a pistol.

After exchanging shots with police who had come to arrest him, Holloway committed suicide.

SON IS HELD FOR DEATH OF FATHER

BRECKENRIDGE, March 21 (AP)—Fred Aiken, 50-year-old farmer, was shot four times and fatally wounded with an automatic pistol at the home of his former wife ten miles southwest of Breckenridge last night.

His son, Hugh Aiken, 19, surrendered to Sheriff Morrow, saying he shot his father when he went to the house and raised a disturbance. He said his father had threatened him repeatedly and reached toward his pocket.

The shooting was witnessed by two other sons of Aiken, Hugh Aiken's wife, the wife of another son and the boys' mother.

A preliminary hearing was set for tomorrow before J. W. Castleman, justice of the peace.

LEADERS LOOK TO AMICABLE SOLUTION

NOTES EXCHANGED BY HULL AND HIROTA ON GOOD WILL

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—The United States and Japan today "shook hands across the Pacific" in a significant exchange of notes mutually pledging peace.

Koki Hirota, foreign minister of Japan, in a formal note to Roosevelt administration diplomatic chiefs here asserted the Nippon government "has no intention whatever to provoke and make trouble with any other power."

Hull Is Pleased

Secretary Hull, evidently scanning reported war clouds in the far east, based on strained relations between Japan and Soviet Russia, replied:

"I receive this statement with special gratification * * *.

"I am glad to take this opportunity to state categorically that the United States on its part has no desire to create any issues and no intention to initiate any conflict in its relations with other countries."

The Hirota-Hull exchange was the first such passage of good will notes since President Roosevelt took office more than a year ago.

In their messages, the diplomatic chiefs of the two nations uttered definite agreements, using the words of Hirota, that:

"No question exists between our two countries that is fundamentally incapable of amicable solution."

Hull concurred in this statement and added:

Spirit Of Amity Seen

"If unhappily there should arise in the future any controversy between our two countries, the Amer-

COURT REVERSES LEE CONVICTION

AUSTIN, March 21 (AP)—Lonnie Lee, given 99 years for murder by a San Pacinto county jury, in connection with the slaying of Amon Copeland, won a new trial today. The court of criminal appeals reversed and remanded the verdict.

J. Lee and Obie Lee were indicted jointly with Lonnie Lee for the homicide. Lonnie Lee's attorneys asked for a severance and request that J. Lee be placed on trial first. The higher court ruled that J. Lee would have given testimony favorable to Lonnie Lee and that he should have had the benefit of it.

The court affirmed a 99 year conviction against Frank Pueblo, convicted in Tarrant county. Pueblo was indicted for the robbery of Vernon Gray, a negro.

The court denied a rehearing for Charlie Outlaw, convicted in Angelina county and given death for the murder of Mrs. Frank McCall. The court previously had affirmed the verdict. Outlaw claimed he should have been given a change of venue.

Speaker Cites Drop In Value Of Cattle

SAN ANTONIO, March 21.—(AP)—An increase of 10,500,000 in the total number of cattle in the United States since 1928 with a discouraging drop of $76,000,000 in the total value of all cattle under the 1933 figure were the outstanding points drawn by Harry Petrie, chief of the cattle and sheep division of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, in an address here today before the annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association.

Assassination Plot In Berlin Rumored

BERLIN, March 21 (AP)—An attempt to assassinate Premier Hermann Wilhelm Goering of Prussia was rumored today when a hand grenade exploded in the fashionable boulevard Unter den Linden shortly after Goering's automobile was said to have passed.

A taxi driver was injured in the explosion.

FOLLIES OF 1929 ARE RECALLED AS PAPERHANGERS PUT MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF HEADACHE ON CLUB WALLS

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Mar. 21.—Paperhangers started plastering a million dollars worth of headache on the walls of the Union League club today.

The follies of 1929 lived again in memory as the workmen pasted stocks, bonds, mortgages and a tasty array of Insull securities on the club's "Million Dollar room," dedicated to the insanity of the big boom.

Amid the brushes and paste was paper once thought as good as gold and the only question asked about it was:

"Will it wear."

It would, said a paperhanger. He slapped a large expanse of green Insull paper into place after clipping two coupons which wouldn't fit into the pattern. The shorn pieces fluttered unnoticed through his fingers. He mused:

"If a fellow had all this money . . . ." his voice trailed away into a mumble.

Then he slapped paste across the top, where it read: ". . . Promises to pay bearer $1,000 and interest at six per cent per annum . . ." and then over the bottom.

A companion stepped back and squinted artistically.

"How's that for being straight?" the paperhanger asked, his brush ready to swish.

"I guess it's all right."

Then he pasted it on, neatly.

"This is a very valuable document," one legend ran. "Keep it in a safe place."

"Safe enough," said the brushman, as he dabbed it in a low corner.

At the windows are curtains of gold cloth, fringed with coins of immitation gold. The service will be gold, the dining set a walnut directors' table and chairs.

One man contributed 17 gold mine shares "worth" $1,000 each. Samuel Insull's autograph is conspicuous.

INSULL'S BOAT UNREPORTED

PORT SAID CONTINUES VIGIL FOR FUGITIVE FROM AMERICA

(By The Associated Press)

PORT SAID, Egypt, Mar. 21.—Long range telescopes were trained patiently on the horizon and radio feelers were sent out intermittently today in Port Said's second afternoon vigil for the appearance of Samuel Insull.

A glass capable of sighting his ancient little tramp of the seas, the Maiotis, two and one-half hours out was mounted upon one roof. This, however, like other angles of the search, proved fruitless.

Messages Unanswered

Meanwhile, numerous individuals and concerns continued unceasingly their efforts to get in touch with the former American utilities operator by wireless.

All messages flashed from here went unanswered. So far as Port Said was concerned the apparatus on the Maiotis was silent.

Late today, it was the consensus that the Maiotis need be expected no longer at Port Said if this vessel in which Insull is seeking a new haven from extradition to the United States failed to put in tonight.

Watch Continues

A watch characterized by tense anticipation such as that which might mark await for some transoceanic flier was started at noon yesterday when it was figured possible the vessel might arrive. Throughout the night it was continued.

Many persons—particularly port officials—were bleary-eyed after a sleepless night watching for the freighter on which friends have said Insull would remain indefinitely rather than face the possibility of

REV. JENNINGS QUITS POST

PASTOR OF CHRISTIAN CHURCH HERE TO GO TO PLAINVIEW

(Picture on Page 7)

Rev. Walter P. Jennings, for nearly 10 years pastor of the First Christian church here, will preach his last sermon as pastor on Easter morning and will leave two days later for Plainview where he will become pastor of the First Christian church there.

"I simply turned the pulpit back to those from whom I received it nearly 10 years ago, the congregation," Reverend Jennings said this morning. "I resigned Sunday.

Feels It A Wise Move

"For several months I have been considering a call from Plainview. I felt that it was a wise move for me to make and a week ago last Sunday the congregation there again called me."

Reverend Jennings came to Lubbock from Fort Worth in June, 1924. He had been pastor of the University Christian church at T. C. U. for five years before coming to Lubbock.

Born in Kentucky and educated at Transylvania university, Lexington, Ky., where he graduated in 1901, Mr. Jennings came to Texas immediately and has remained here ever since. He has held pastorates at Taylor, Amarillo and Fort Worth as well as Lubbock.

Eighteen months ago he was called to the Sweetwater First Christian church, but later decided not to make the change on the request of the local congregation.

Improvements Made

When Reverend Jennings came to Lubbock the local church had a membership of about 175 and a

TWELVE HUNDRED ENTRIES EXPECTED IN ANNUAL LUBBOCK MUSIC FESTIVAL

Contestants are to be here from as far away as Frederick, Okla., for the eleventh annual Music Festival which opens Thursday and continues through Saturday. Members of the South Plains Music Teachers association, the organization sponsoring the festival, this morning announced 1,200 individual entries in the contests and that most of the entrants would participate in more than one event.

In addition to the contestants, there will be several hundred other out-of-town folk here for the festival. Those entering the contests are principally public school children, although some who are too young to enter school are participating and some collegians are entered.

Auditoriums at Senior and Junior High schools, the First Presbyterian church and the engineering building at Texas Technological college will be used for the contests.

Miss Carrie T. Bier of Plainview is president of the South Plains Music Teachers association. Mrs. E. E. Key, one of the members, is festival contest chairman.

Association members are to attend an annual business meeting Friday afternoon at 5 oclock at the Senior High school music room and on Saturday at 12:30 o'clock these teachers will be hosts with a luncheon at the Hiltoon hotel honoring judges in the contests.

Judges are to be as follows: Piano scales—Miss Lily Larsen of Amarillo, a member of the board of examiners of the Texas Music Teachers association; Mrs. Gladys M. Glenn, Amarillo; piano solos and ensembles—Miss Elizabeth Leake, Denton, a member of the faculty at the College of Industrial Arts; Miss

TOLL REACHES TWENTY-FIVE IN GOTHAM

ONE MAN IS HELD FOR QUESTIONING AFTER VICTIMS TRAPPED

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—Seven persons perished today in a tenement house fire on the upper east side, bringing to 25 the number of deaths from similar fires in the last six weeks.

The fire swept through the three upper floors of an "old law" tenement at 1909 Second avenue and trapped a mother and her daughter, a father and his son and three others.

As firemen were taking the first two bodies from the building, Fire Marshal Thomas P. Brophy noticed a thin, short man, hatless and without an overcoat, following them.

Suspect Arrested

Brophy questioned the man who first said his name was "John Smith," but later acknowledged he was Raymond Montesino, 27, unemployed, and has a wife and two children. Taken to a police station for questioning, he said he was nine blocks away when the fire started. Brophy said the man could not have seen the fire if he had been where he said he was, and the fire marshal ordered him sent to Bellevue hospital for observation in the psychopatnic ward pending an investigation.

Brophy said the man told him he had an "invention" for curing insanity.

The identified dead were Mrs. Rose Brolo, wife of Salvatore Brolo, a CWA worker, and their six-year-old daughter, Anna; a man believed

VETS CONFEREES SEEK REDUCTIONS

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—Men from senate and house tackled a tough job of whittling today. Conferees faced the task of reducing veterans and federal pay benefits in the independent offices bill to a point where President Roosevelt won't veto the whole thing.

Democratic leaders expressed hope of a compromise, but the problem, which prompted both senate and house to revolt against the Roosevelt economy program, is far from settled.

The senate amendments, it is figured, represent an increase of at least $354,000,000 in veterans benefits and federal payrolls. The house went somewhat lighter, voting increases estimated at a minimum of $228,000,000 over budget figures.

Now the conferees have to obtain agreement. They plan to talk to President Roosevelt before presenting any solution to their respective branches.

Italians Saved As Freighter Founders

MANILA, P. I., Mar. 21. (AP)—The Philippine constabulary today reported receipt of a brief message saying the Italian freighter Otranto had foundered in the China sea 90 miles northwest of here, and that all hands had reached shore safely.

The report cleared the mystery which had shrouded the fate of the steamer since yesterday when her SOS was heard by the Japanese Kamo Maru. The Otranto sank off the coast of Zambales province on northern Luzon while the Japanese steamer was looking for her.

Three Men Charged In Theft, Burglary

EASTLAND, March 21 (AP)—Three men were in jail here today, charged with theft and burglary, after an investigation had been made by state rangers of the looting of the National Guard armory here last February 19.

L. D. Keel, Jim Vinson and Jim were the men charged in complaints sworn out by Ranger Captain J. M. Robbins of Austin and Ranger Sid Kelso.

OFFICERS PUSH SPY PROBES

PARIS POLICE HOT ON NEW TRAILS AS HUGE RING IS REVEALED

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, March 21—French secret police were hot on new trails today in their broadening investigation of what authorities call the greatest spy ring in history—a ring they say ferreted out naval and military secrets of the United States, England and France.

Fresh angles were uncovered in the first examination of documents seized yesterday when six persons were arrested as a result, authorities said, of revelations drawn from the two American prisoners, Robert Switz and his wife, Marjorie.

New Disclosures Seen

Judge Andre Benon, the investigating magistrate, led in a further scrutiny of the confiscated documents. Additional sensational disclosures were predicted.

Police said more arrests were in prospects—perhaps as many as 25. However, they maintained the utmost secrecy regarding those under suspicion. Including the Switzes, natives of East Orange, N. J., and New York, sixteen are in jail.

Judge Benon maintained silence in regard to the American and British ramifications said to have been disclosed by the American couple when the magistrate said they declared the spy syndicate had a New York recruiting center.

Russia, Germany Involved

While assertedly working in the interests of Soviet Russia and Germany, police believed the ring may

Mitchell Says U. S. Aviation Hopeless

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Brigadier General William Mitchell told the house post office committee today American aviation was "hopeless" compared with that of the rest of the world because "it is in the hands of this gang that had control of the airmail."

Mitchell, testifying on the administration's new airmail bill, denied vigorously that assigning the army to carry the mails was "legalized murder." He attributed deaths to "poor equipment, no flying experience, bad weather," reduced appropriations and "boneheadedness."

Cord Home Guarded Against Kidnapers

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., March 21 (AP)—Guards protected the home of E. L. Cord, millionaire automobile manufacturer, here today in answer to threats of kidnaping of his two small sons.

Disclosure of the asserted plot came after the boys, Charles and William, arrived from school in the east to spend Easter vacation with their parents.

RAILROAD MEN AGREE FOR EASTMAN TO BE ARBITRATOR

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—Railroad labor today rejected President Roosevelt's proposal to continue the existing wage agreement, but accepted his offer for Joseph B. Eastman, railroad coordinator, to arbitrate the dispute.

They took this action shortly before automobile manufacturers were scheduled to confer with President Roosevelt at the White House in an effort to avert a strike of motor car employes.

To Confer Tomorrow

The president will confer tomorrow with the automobile laborers who have agreed to hold off the strike pending further negotiations.

The decision of the railway laborers was presented to Mr. Roosevelt in a letter from A. F. Whitney, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives association.

Railway executives already have agreed to continue the present ten per cent wage cut for another six months. The laborers held out for a 20 per cent increase over what they are now getting.

The Whitney letter said:

"Share Disappointment"

"We share your disappointment that agreement has not been reached disposing of this controversy. However, the economic plight of the employes does not allow them to submit to the demands of the carriers.

"We accept your proffer of the services of the federal coordinator

AUCTION CANVASS IS STARTED HERE

A canvass of Lubbock business houses to obtain agreements to buy calves and pigs at an auction to be conducted March 30, last day of a three-day annual Quality Meat show here, was begun this morning.

After about 45 persons, members of an auction steering committee and others, met in the chamber of commerce and outlined plans, canvass assignments were made to committees. Most of them began soliciting immediately and were to report results this afternoon. The others were to begin this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

Dr. I. E. Barr, steering committee chairman, presided. Durwood Bradley, George Kuykendall, John D. Mitchell, and Alex McDonald spoke.

Members of a buyers' committee to bid for firms and individuals agreeing to make purchases at auction, are Doctor Barr, W. L. Stangel, Mr. McDonald, Sam C. Arnett, and George Simmons, it was announced this morning.

Object of soliciting orders, a spokesman said, is to assure success of the sale in that a fund would be available to "protect" all calves and pigs brought to the auction.

Immediately before the sale, the buyers' committee will fix a minimum below which no calf or pig is to be sold.

J. R. Readhimer's Appeal Withdrawn

Appeal of J. R. Readhimer, 57, a Hale county farmer, from a two-year penitentiary sentence dealt him here for murder without malice, was dismissed today by the court of criminal appeals at Austin at his request, the Associated Press reported.

A 99th district court jury last December set Readhimer's penalty after hearing evidence of the shooting to death of Stokes Campbell, a Floydada High school student. The homicide was an outgrowth of a liaison between Campbell and Readhimer's daughter, Grace. Readhimers' son, Vert A., was acquitted of murder.

You'll Keep In Step With Style In These New Shoes

BY MARIAN YOUNG
NEA Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 21—New spring shoes come down to earth as other wearing apparel flutters cloudward. Though suits, coats and dresses are wind-blown and breeze-swept, 1934's Easter bootery features lowered heels. This is one year when you can be comfortable and in style at the same time. And it's grand news for tall girls who go dancing. You can cling to high heels if you fancy them, but how pleasant that you don't have to!

After heels in importance are colors and fabrics. Black shoes, of course, are always good but many smart little girls are going to be shod in navy blue, yellowish brown, prints and paisleys, depending upon the costume to be matched.

As for fabrics—well, if you don't look individual, it's your own fault! Nobody says that you must stick to kid, suede or even plain leather, for that matter. Instead, those in the know tell you to go out and be as different as you please.

For instance, Palm Beach cloth, gaberdine, silk crepes and tweedish linens are used in profusion for street and afternoon shoes. And for evening there are satins, hand-painted linens and piques that are beautiful enough for the feet of queens. Some are cut so low as to reveal heels, toes and indeed everything but the sole.

Cocktail shoes to go with those long, slinky dresses have small glasses and sometimes shakers painted on the gleaming black satin.

Because the fabrics and their treatment are so exquisite, there's an almost complete dearth of cluttering bows, buckles and gadgets, for which fashion gods be praised!

Illustrated here are six pairs of shoes that are chic enough to grace any spring wardrobe. Stock up with these and your foot problems are solved until skies turn gray to announce that fall is on the way.

In the upper panel, reading left to right, are three daytime models. The first is a grand one-strap sports shoe that is the perfect complement for a very British tweed suit. Later on it will be smart on the porch of the country club. It's of tan calf with perforated brown calf trimming and has a suave built-up heel of medium height.

In the center is a smart street pump. It comes in gray or beige palm beach cloth trimmed with either black or tan calf. This heel, too, is lower.

The dressy pump which has been designed for a dressmaker's suit or a silk dress and coat ensemble is a flattering little number for the Easter parade. Nice enough to wear with any informal costume any hour of the day, it's of blue kid with a contrasting kid trimming.

In the bottom row are three pairs of fancy shoes for parties. The first one (left) is made of hand-painted pique and was designed to go with cotton or linen summer evening frocks. The heel is extraordinarily low and the toe is completely missing.

Cocktail pumps (center) have little gold glasses painted on them. These heels are quite high.

The newest wrinkle of all is the Cleopatra sandal (right) made of tiny multi-colored mirrors appliqued on white satin.

WITH BLACK GOWN

PARIS (AP) An emerald velvet scarf caught with a little plaque of diamonds and emeralds gives a brilliant note to an all-black costume which Madame Simon Rolo wears this season. Her coat is of black wool trimmed with silver fox, and her hat is a little black felt turned back from the face and finished with a short black veil falling over the eyes.

Subjects For Club Studies Are Varied

There was variety in programs heard by members of study clubs on Tuesday afternoon.

Three circles of the Child Conservation League heard a review of the history of the nursery school. Shakespeare club members continued a study of "Winter's Tale" and members of the 1933 Study club discussed some international problems of Russia.

Roosevelt circle. The next meeting

Mrs. J. T. Shaver was guest speaker at the meeting of the Lubbock, Progressive and Eleanor Roosevelt circles at Hotel Lubbock. This was the regular meeting date for the Lubbock circle and the other clubs were guests. Pupils from Mrs. Shaver's school presented a program of rhythm games, folk dances, songs and readings and Mrs. Shaver gave a history of the nursery school from its beginning.

Circles To Unite

The Progressive and Eleanor Roosevelt circles are to combine and will be known as the Eleanor Roosevelt circle. The next meeting will be in April.

The next meeting of the Lubbock circle will be in the home of Mrs. Paul Laverty.

Twenty-two women attended the meeting Tuesday afternoon. After the program there was a social hour.

Two Are Speakers

Mrs. O. W. Langlotz and Miss Lalla Boone were the speakers at a meeting of the 1933 Study club with Mrs. A. W. Evans, 2307 Sixteenth street.

Mrs. Langlotz discussed "Present Territorial Social and Economic Conditions of Russia." Miss Boone talked on "Russia's Relation to Other Nations."

Mrs. Wade Hardy was hostess to the Shakespeare club in the F. R. Friend residence, 2005 Broadway.

Mrs. Wallie Schmid was program chairman.

Talks on the text study of "Winter's Tale" were made by Mesdames W. A. Charless, H. L. Cain, J. A. Raley, jr., and C. D. Wiley.

Two Entertain With Party For Group

Mesdames J. B. Spearman and Arthur Wright entertained Tuesday afternoon for members of the woman's auxiliary to the painters' union in the Spearman home, 1920 Avenue P. Mrs. Sam Parkinson was received as a member. Games were played by Mesdames M. A. Waldtop, Hollis Allen, W. W. Roberts, Jess Hall, J. C. Dunkin, Lloyd Nelson, Mack Price, William Von Wolff, T. E. McNeil, L. E. Bell, Buel Hall and Pascal Peek.

Demonstrations To Girls Are Made

Ways of making outdoor fires and bread twists were demonstrated to Cheemi-Akipsia Camp Fire girls Tuesday afternoon at a meeting with the guardian, Mrs. J. E. Conner. Charlie Marie Moore and Marjorie Musick gave the demonstrations. Those who attended were Virginia Wells, Annabel Woods, June and Ruth Underwood, Amarie Lynch, Ruth Luce, Marthalea Montfort, Mrs. Conner, Miss Elizabeth Conner and Mrs. Jesse Q. Sealey.

Camp Fire Girls Are Exhibiting Work

Wakishaka Camp Fire girls have an exhibit of their work in the hall of the Senior High school this week, according to an announcement made this morning. The display consists of knot-tying, smoke prints, ceremonial gowns and headpieces and hobby collections.

How Common "Acid Stomach" Makes Itself Known to You

The Signs of Acid Stomach

Nervousness	Auto-intoxication	Feeling of Weakness
Neuralgia	Nausea	Sleeplessness
Indigestion	Frequent Headaches	Mouth Acidity
Loss of Appetite		Sour Stomach

What to Do For It

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

OR—Take the new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets—one tablet for each teaspoonful as directed above.

If you have Acid Stomach, you can easily trace it. The symptoms above, headaches, stomach pains after eating, "gas," "upsets" are the usual indications.

Now—to get rid of it, all you need do is follow these directions: TAKE: 2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed. Or—you can take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets; substituting one tablet for each teaspoonful of the liquid and get the same result.

Try It—You Will Be Amazed!

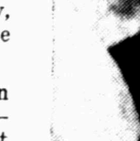

Try this and, chances are, it will make a great difference in your life. For this small dosage of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia acts to neutralize stomach acids causing distress.

After-meal pains and discomfort go. You feel freedom from dull headaches. That "afternoon fag"—you think is depletion or "nerves" disappears. You feel like another person. People are doing this—doctors advocating it, everywhere.

But when you buy, be sure to get the REAL article—Genuine PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia—the kind doctors endorse. Always ask for it by the name PHILLIPS'.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM

Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

MURDER TRIAL NEARS CLOSE

ARGUMENTS BEGUN IN CASE OF MEXICANS FOR SLAYING

SAN MARCOS, March 21 —(AP)—Completion of arguments by attorneys was in order today as the trial of Mateo Cuellar and Julian Ybarra, Mexicans charged with murder for the alleged "political feud" death of Claude E. Kelley of Weslaco, drew near the point for submission to a jury.

Judge M. C. Jeffrey submitted his charge and arguments began last night.

"Disregard Confessions"

The court instructed the jurors to disregard purported confessions introduced as evidence, if they believe the statements were obtained under duress or threats of if they had "reasonable doubt" that the statements were voluntary.

In rebuttal testimony, the state sought to refute the alibi claim of Cuellar that he was at a dance when the attack on Kelley occurred. State testimony also was adduced tending to refute the claims of Cuellar and Ybarra that they were threatened with death if they did not confess.

Statements Offered

Ybarra, in a statement introduced in evidence, said he arranged with Cuellar to kill Ed C. Couch, Kelley's father-in-law. Hidalgo county judge and political leader, after negotiations with George C. Beck, former Edinburg resident. Cuellar, in another statement submitted in evidence, said he struck Kelley with a dull hatchet when Kelley discovered his presence in Couch's home. Kelley was sleeping in a room usually occupied by Couch when he was attacked. He died three months later in a Dallas hospital.

Beck who gave evidence for the state, and Cam E. Hill, former Hidalgo county clerk, also are under indictment for murder for Kelley's death.

Three Men Facing Swindling Charge

CORPUS CHRISTI, Mar. 21. (AP) —Three men were in jail here today, charged with swindling for allegedly acquiring by fraudulent means six shares of Central Power and Light company stock from Joe Just, farmer of the Robstown community.

The men charged were H. C. Bates, L. G. Thigpen and R. L. Culver.

Shortly after the charges were filed yesterday, D. S. Purl, district attorney, telephoned Sheriff Paul Cox from Harlingen that the men also were charged with swindling there and that Harlingen officers were en route to Corpus Christi to return the men to Harlingen.

THIRTY-THREE MEET DEATH

BELATED REPORTS OF SOVIET WRECKS ARE RECEIVED TODAY

MOSCOW, March 21 (AP)—Thirty-three persons were killed and 68 injured in the wreck of two trains near Sverdlovsk, it was revealed here belatedly today as the latest in Soviet Russia's recent epidemic of serious railroad accidents.

The wreck occurred nine days ago, but word of it did not become public here until this morning.

Dispatches said that a local passenger train, traveling at high speed, ran through a closed semaphore at the station at Tavatui, and collided with a freight train.

Eight cars were smashed in the collision and both locomotives were wrecked.

The responsible employes already have been placed on trial. The maximum penalty for conviction in such a case is death.

This is the fourth such catastrophe reported within a month.

Japan Alarmed By New Bar In Brazil

TOKYO, March 21 (AP)—High government officials were described as "gravely alarmed" today at a Brazilian move toward inclusion of restrictive measures against Japanese immigration in that nation's constitution.

The situation was compared to that of almost exactly ten years ago when the congress of the United States voted to bar the Japanese.

Brazil in recent years has offered the largest outlet to Nippon's surplus population. In 1933, 22,310 Japanese emigrated there.

The foreign office instructed Kyujiro Hayashi, ambassador to Rio de Janeiro to handle the Brazilian affair tactfully, but firmly.

RETIRED RANCHER DIES

OLNEY, March 21. —(AP) —M. M. Burris, 82, retired rancher, died last night after a long illness. He was a native of Arkansas. Survivors are his widow and three sons, Clint E., of Graham, Tex.; Martin and Otto Burris of Olney. Funeral services will be held here today.

TERRORISTS SOB AT LIGHT TERMS

ROME, March 2 (AP)—Two alleged anti-Fascist terrorists for whom the death penalty had been asked burst into tears when they were sentenced to 30 years imprisonment for plotting against the life of Premier Mussolini and setting off a bomb at St. Peter's cathedral last June.

The two, sentenced late last night, are Leonardo Bucciglioni and Renato Cianca.

Claudio Cianca, son of Renato, for whom the prosecution had asked 30 years, was given 18. The fourth defendant, Pasquale Capasso, won acquittal.

Sobbing, the four brokenly thanked the court for the leniency shown them.

Most of the spectators at the trial had expected those convicted to be shot in the back by a firing squad at dawn.

DIVORCES ARE FOUND VOID

BOGUS DECREES GIVEN MANY AMERICANS BY RING IN MEXICO

MEXICO, D. F., March 21. —(AP)—Eighty-three American couples were victimized in the past six months by a mail order divorce ring operating in the state of Morelos, it was learned today.

Hundreds, perhaps thousands, of others also are believed to have received bogus decrees.

Fake Documents Used

These fake documents were obtained by procuring certified statements of the validity of genuine divorces and then attaching statements to the decrees filled in by the lawyers themselves.

The American consulate general here has informed the state department at Washington that one-third of the papers supposed to be divorce decrees were shown in an investigation in Morelos to be false.

Many of the official signatures and seals of the decrees had been authenticated by the consulate general before they were found to be fraudulent.

In this connection it was pointed out that the authentications merely certified to the signatures and seals of Mexican officials but did not certify the validity of the decrees themselves. No responsibility for the contents of such documents is assumed by the consulate general.

The Washington state department received a list of names of Americans who obtained divorces in Morelos, but refused to publish it. Americans receiving Morelos divorce decrees may have them investigated by the Mexican consulate general.

A high American source said it was likely many Americans who thought themselves legally divorced in Morelos have since remarried.

WEAK MARKET ON GASOLINE

EAST TEXAS AGAIN IS CENTER OF TROUBLE; CONCERN CAUSED

BY WILLIAM VOIGT, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

TULSA, Okla., March 21. (AP)—One of the weakest gasoline markets of the depression period, at a time of year when ordinarily the price would begin creeping upward, caused concern in the midcontinent area this week.

The center of the disturbance again was East Texas, and the mounting volume of distress gasoline there was given by marketers as the reason for the further slump in prices.

Prices At Low Ebb

Third (low) grade gasoline could be bought for 2 7-8 cents in tank car lots on a group three, Oklahoma, basis, from East Texas refiners.

Hundreds of cars of gasoline were reported available, with marketers using wire, telephone and personal solicitation in an effort to get rid of it.

The steady advance of crude oil production in Texas was the accepted reason for the unstable situation. East Texas produced more than 500,000 barrels daily during the past week.

Whether the plan of the Humble Oil and Refining company (Standard Oil of New Jersey) and other large companies to apportion a percentage of their runs to East Texas refineries will halt the movement of "hot" oil was in doubt.

Opposition Seen

A spokesman for one of these companies said informally that in his opinion the East Texas refiners would not fall in readily with such a plan.

"These fellows have been getting 'hot' oil for 50 and 60 cents a barrel ever since the posted price went up to $1," he said. "That is the regular price for 'hot' oil, our scouts report. Under this plan, to which we have agreed and which we would like to see succeed, the operators would have to pay the full price of $1 a barrel, plus gathering and delivery charges.

"That alone would be a serious impediment to the success of the plan."

Woman Makes Bond On Liquor Charge

Charged with possession of liquor upon which federal revenue tax had not been paid, Mrs. Ethel Hope, 26, of 2200-block Twenty-seventh street, was released upon bond of $500 late Tuesday, United States Victor H. Lindsey said.

About a quart of apricot-flavored liquor was confiscated and the woman arrested by police at her home at 2:20 p. m. Tuesday.

Police arrested a man there and subsequently released him without charge. A man arrested at the address by the sheriff's department ment was to be charged with vagrancy.

Local Men Escape Serious Injuries

Although an automobile in which they were riding was demolished after skidding off a highway sheathed in sleet and snow, Lonnie Sanders, a Lubbock laundry operator and his father-in-law, S. G. Brown, of Lubbock, escaped serious injury late Sunday near Glen Rose, it was learned Tuesday.

Sanders was driving the car, which he owned.

Sanders was on the way to Dallas, to attend an annual convention of the Texas Laundry Owners' association there Monday, Tuesday and today. He was to take his father-in-law to Clifton, where relatives lived. Despite the accident, Sanders went to the meeting.

Sanders suffered a sprained back and neck, bruises, and minor cuts; Brown, who is 83 years old, a sprained neck and minor cuts.

The proposed airway across the Atlantic, if found to be practic will cost $30,000,000 and provi employment to 10,000 men for tw years.

MEET HELD AT LITTLEFIELD

JACKSON AND DUGGAN SPEAK AT ANNUAL C.-C. DINNER

LITTLEFIELD, March 21 (Special)—A dinner of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce last night at First Presbyterian church attracted nearly 100 persons from Littlefield, Amherst, Muleshoe, Anton, Sudan, Olton, Levelland, Bainer, and Lubbock.

Principal speakers were Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of the department of government at Texas Technological college, of Lubbock, and State Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield.

Future Of Democracy

"What of the future of American democracy?" was the subject discussed by the Lubbock man.

"I'm thoroughly convinced that representative government will not do much more than popular demand calls for," Doctor Jackson said.

He declared that voters, instead of demanding statements of principle and policies coupled with real ability from candidates, listened to these "qualifications":

Qualifications Listed

"I'm a war veteran; I'm a scion of a war veteran; I'm crippled; I've got fourteen children; The job pays a salary; I've never held office; my opponent has held the office for two terms; My name is X or Y or Z or something else."

Doctor Jackson declared, "If my name were Terrell, I could run in Texas and get a pretty good vote."

After asking, "What is this nation of ours going to do with its greatness?" Senator Duggan said, "We've given no attention to the kind of people we bring into the world."

Statistics Given

He pointed out that an annual average of about 75,000 college graduates reared less than 2 children each; that about 85,000 persons entering insane homes annually had more than three children each, and that 110,000 persons sent to penitentiaries each year had families averaging four children each.

"I think we'd better begin paying more attention to our people," he said.

Dr. Ira Woods, chamber president, was toastmaster. J. W. Hale, chamber secretary, was a speaker, and invocation was said by Rev. J. W. Hendrix, Methodist minister. Lloyd Springer's orchestra played. Others appearing on the program included Orville Bernethy, tap dancer, of Lubbock; Miss Ellarene Vause, reader, and Mrs. Gus Shaw, vocalist, who was accompanied at the piano by Miss Bobbie Lee Skipworth. Brief talks were made by the visitors. The dinner was served by women of the church.

Annual chamber of commerce banquet will be conducted in June.

Lubbock visitors were Doctor and Mrs. Jackson, Sim O'Neal, and Gordon Webb.

Twelve Convicts Will Risk Lives To Help Science

DENVER, March 21. (AP)—Twelve convicts at the Colorado penitentiary are to risk their own health in an effort to help medical science determine whether a new serum can make all normal persons safe from tuberculosis.

The serum was discovered by Dr. H. J. Corper and fellow workers at the National Jewish hospital here. Dr. Corper said today it has been used successfully in hundreds of tests made on animals in the last 15 years.

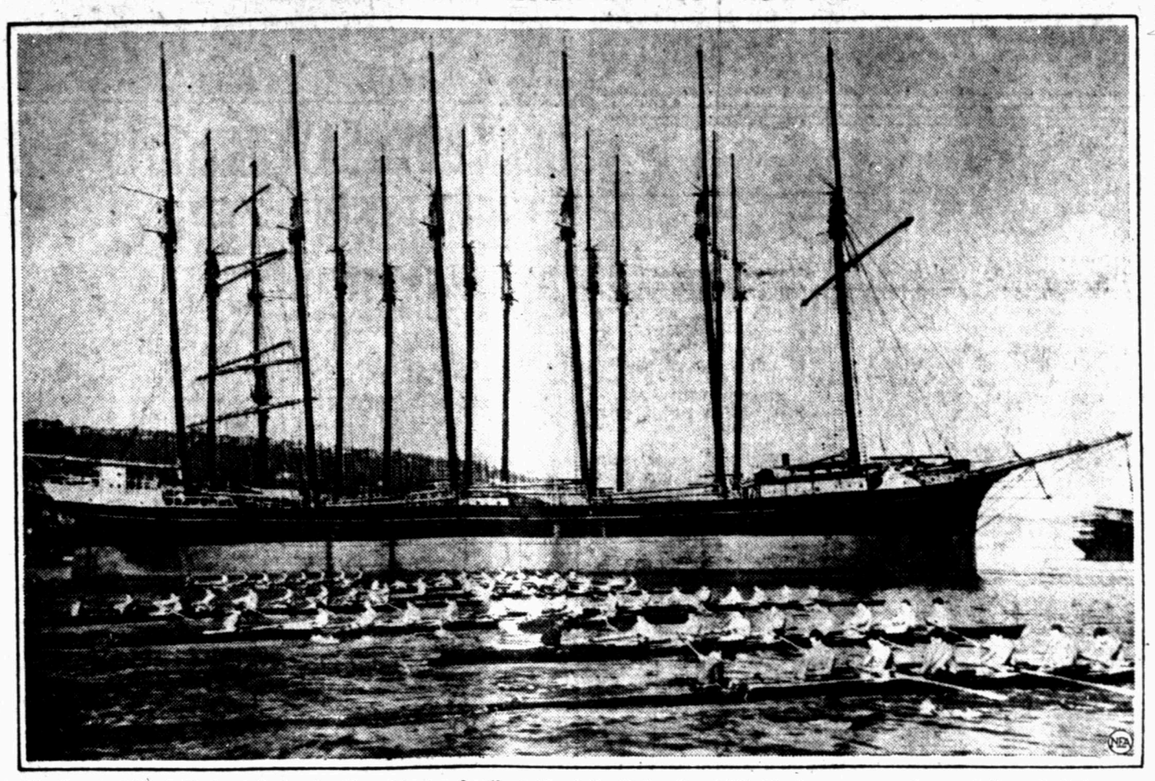

"It is now ready for trial on human beings and we hope that it will be the means of immunizing all normal healthy persons against tuberculosis," Dr. Corper said.

Governor E. C. Johnson has agreed to extend executive clemency to the convicts who are chosen for the tests. He said he would not permit any prisoner who is listed as an habitual criminal or a holdup or forger to be among the volunteers.

Raven Trap To Be Built By Dickson

(By Staff Correspondent)

SPUR, Mar. 21.—A trap for ravens that roost at the state experiment sub-station here is to be built soon, according to R. E. Dickson, superintendent.

Mr. Dickson estimates that between 6,000 and 10,000 ravens are now roosting in mesquite shrubs on the farm. Some of the shrubs have been grubbed out, but there is still a large number of them and the ravens are taking advantage of the shelter.

It also is planned to poison the ravens.

Heavy losses have been caused to the farm by the birds, especially during the harvest season, Mr. Dickson said.

Mr. Dickson and J. M. Hill, jr., of the U. S. Biological survey at Lubbock, conferred here recently on the work. It is planned to begin the work as soon as possible. Mr. Hill will assist in building the trap.

ADVENTUROUS IRISH GIRL STOWAWAY COLLAPSES AFTER CROSSING OCEAN

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, Mar. 21. (AP)—Adventurous Catherine Teresa Carr—who bought two loaves of bread and set out for Canada because she couldn't find a job in Scotland—is recovering in a hospital today from an 11-day Atlantic crossing in a freighter's lifeboat.

Huddled beneath the boat's flimsy canvas covering, she suffered intensely in the bitter cold of a winter passage. Still, not until she was carried yesterday from the Donaldson line freighter Sulairia, did the 24-year-old Irish miss collapse.

Weak From Hunger

Both her feet were frost-bitten and she was weak from hunger and exposure, yet she had clung to consciousness hoping for a chance to creep ashore under cover of darkness and begin life in Canada where it left off when she was deported more than a year ago.

She told officials at the immigration detention hospital—where she was held for deportation—that she worked in London, Ont., five years ago.

This winter she found herself in Glascow, Scotland, penniless and without employment. She was staying with friends. One night she left the house and bought two loaves of bread.

Thus "provisioned," she got aboard the Sulairia and hid. The bread was all she had to eat on the long voyage. There was water in the lifeboat, but that was all.

The girl might have made land undetected had she not been too eager for a glimpse of Halifax before the ship docked. The Sulairia was steaming up Halifax harbor when a keen-eyed sailor saw a head raised beneath the lifeboat covering.

He notified the officers and the girl was taken to warm quarters, to be landed a few minutes later.

She collapsed as she was borne ashore on a stretcher.

Koma Will Appear At Lyric Theater

Described as an Oriental seer and hypnotist, Koma will appear at the Lyric theater Thursday.

One of the features of his visit here will be the hypnotizing of a young lady who will make a blindfold drive in a new Ford V-8 through the downtown section. The drive is scheduled for 4:30 p. m. Thursday. Ray Fuji a member of Koma's troupe and world famous head balancer, will support himself on his head on the southeast corner of the roof of Hotel Lubbock as another feature. This will be done at 4 p. m.

A native of Japan, Koma is said to be a student of mindreading and will answer questions pertaining to love, marriage or business in his appearance at the theater, afternoon and night.

CHURCH THEFT IS CHARGED

SECRETARY OF CLASS SIGNS STATEMENT; FREED ON BONDS

Charged with two misdemeanor thefts from the First Baptist church, of which he was a member, R. W. Heim, 53, of 1500-block Nineteenth street, was released on bonds totaling $500 Tuesday afternoon, the sheriff's department said.

Heim, who said he had been secretary of the Bible Study class of the church for two years, admitted in a signed statement he took two $5 bills Feb. 4 and one $5 bill and one $1 bill Feb. 11. The charges were filed in county court by Hugh Anderson, assistant county attorney. Wiley L. Metcalfe, chief of police, signed the complaints.

While aiding in counting money received during collections at the church Feb. 4, Mr. Heim, in a signed statement to City Prosecutor Jess Levens, said, "I took two five dollar bills at that time and put them in my pocket. I never did spend the two five dollar bills. I used those two bills and two others to get the twenty dollar bill that I sent back to the church on the 16th of February."

The following Sunday, Heim said in his statement he took "one five dollar bill and one one-dollar bill and put them in my pocket. I intended to take them and appropriate them to my own use and benefit. After I took this last money I was searched and the money taken out of my pockets."

He denied taking funds from the church at any other time. In his statement, he said, "I was not hard pressed for money at that time. I had been under the care of a doctor for some three months for high blood pressure and was not at myself mentally or physically."

Heim was charged with theft of $10 and of $6. He was arrested by police at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

New Oil Field In Young County Seen

WICHITA FALLS, Mar. 21. (AP)—The Pitzer and West No. 2 R. Morrison was believed today by oil men to have opened a new oil field in north central Young county, after it came in yesterday flowing 100 barrels an hour from saturated lime, at 3,840-3,970 feet.

The well is located in the northeast corner of section 431, T. L. & L. survey. The Continental Oil company spudded in the No. 1 Mrs. P. C. Walker as a north offset, while Pitzer and West announced they would drill an east offset. The Texas company and Gulf Production company were preparing to make well locations on nearby acreage.

CHRISTIAN BRIDE OF BUDDHIST RULER IS SHIELDED FROM GAZE OF PUBLIC

HUE, Annam, March 21.—(AP)—A slim, striking girl bride of 18 who on Saturday is to become the queen of Annam was shielded from the public gaze today, the second of four days of Buddhist wedding ceremonials.

The youthful emperor Bao Dai yesterday was wed to the French educated, convent-reared N' Guyen Huu Hao, a commoner from neighboring Cochin-China.

All the gorgeous pomp of the east attends the ceremonies in this flower-decked city, but only a small part of the impressive ceremonies is witnessed by the public, the rest being conducted in official secrecy behind closed doors.

Accorded only a brief glimpse yesterday of the Catholic bride and queen-to-be, the populace was anxiously waiting for her public presentation.

There had been some discontent manifested at the union of the emperor and a Christian bride. Last week it was announced she intended to renounce Catholicism and embrace Buddism.

Reports from the Vatican, however, said the necessary dispensation had been granted to permit her to marry as a Catholic.

Crosbyton To Vote On 3.2 Beer Friday

CROSBYTON, March 20. (Special)—Crosbyton voters will decide Friday on the legal sale of 3.2 per cent beer within the corporate limits.

The Crosby county commissioners court recently approved a petition, signed by 20 per cent of the qualified voters within the city limits, asking for such an election. There are said to be slightly over 300 voters living within the city limits.

At the August, 1933, election the box went wet.

SEE ALL THESE SURPRISING NEW IDEAS IN THIS 1934 DODGE

Just a few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars

YOU HAVE TO COMPARE this Dodge 5-passenger, two-door Sedan with others to appreciate its amazing value. Costs only a few dollars more than many lowest-priced cars which haven't hydraulic brakes, Floating Power, and all-steel body. Only $695 F. O. B. Factory, Detroit.

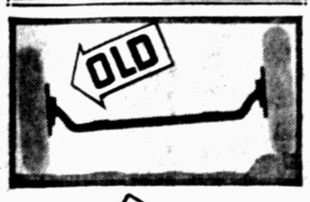

DODGE HYDRAULIC BRAKES—smooth, quick and sure! Work instantly, stop in a flash, when you need them most. Because they always stay equalized, brake pressure is always the same on all four wheels. They never cause the car to swerve. Safe and dependable in all sorts of weather. They don't need constant adjusting.

STURDY DODGE FRAME—BUILT CLOSE TO THE GROUND—The Dodge double-drop X-bridge-type frame is not only ten times more rigid than ordinary frame construction; it also brings the new, bigger Dodge low to the ground. Gives Dodge that extra-low center of gravity that lets you take sharp turns with safety.

AUTOMATIC CLUTCH†—start, stop, shift, reverse—and never touch the clutch pedal. You never need to use your left foot . . . and the Dodge has Free Wheeling too! Only Dodge in its field offers this combination.

DODGE "FLOATING-CUSHION" WHEELS—When either front wheel of the Dodge strikes a bump, the wheel—independent of the rest of the car—rises and falls with the bump. No tilting of the car. With "Floating-Cushion" Wheels, patented Floating Power engine mountings, hydraulic shock absorbers, shock proof cross-steering, Airwheel tires and long 117-inch wheelbase, Dodge is the only car in its field to offer a smooth, vibrationless, completely levelized ride!

NEW EASY WAY TO COMPARE CARS! Ask any Dodge dealer for a copy of the new 1934 Dodge "Show-Down" score card. It lets you compare all the brand new 1934 cars feature against feature. The "Show-Down" Plan is easy to use. Puts complicated mechanical terms in every day language. Lets you be the judge . . . in your own way . . . right at home.

BRIEF NEWS OF MAJOR LEAGUE TRAINING CAMPS

(By The Associated Press)

INDIANS

NEW ORLEANS, March 21 (AP)—Not to be outdone by Mel Harder and Clint Brown, each of whom predicts he will win 20 games this season, a third pitcher for the Cleveland Indians opines he can win 20 too. He is Oral Hildebrand.

Wes Ferrell, still a holdout, the only Indian missing.

REDS

TAMPA, Fla.—Joe Morrissey, lone holdout of the Cincinnati Reds, is dickering with the Boston Braves with permission of the Reds management. Manager Bob O'Farrell has his squad pretty well lined up, indicating the infielder's chances for a steady berth on the team are getting slim.

WHITE SOX

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. — It's going to be "hard boiled" Lew Fonseca from now on.

Exasperated at the listlessness of several players, the White Sox pilot, usually a soft spoken person, has issued a "hustle or get out warning."

ATHLETICS

FORT MYERS, Fla.—The Philadelphia Athletics are looking for some way to acquire punch. Inability to bring in the runners has figured in four of their five defeats. There'll be a lot of batting practice today.

CARDINALS

BRADENTON, Fla.—Leo Durocher's easily-injured right knee is causing some concern to Cardinal officials. The No. 1 Cardinal shortstop reinjured the knee yesterday and will have to take it easy for several days.

The signing of Outfielder Ernie Orsatti left the Cardinals with two holdouts, Pitcher Flint Rhem and Outfielder George Watkins.

BROWNS

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—The ax fell for the first time in the Brown's camp today when Howard Mills, southpaw pitcher, and Catcher Jack O'Flaherty were notified to report to the San Antonio club, the Browns' Texas league farm.

BRAVES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Ray Starr, purchased by the Braves from the Giants last year, is the first of the Tribesmen on last season's payroll to be turned loose. He has been released outright to Minneapolis.

CUBS

LOS ANGELES—Manager Charlie Grimm is worried over the condition of Bill Lee, one of his most promising rookie pitchers. Lee has been confined in bed almost a week under a doctor's care, and it is feared he has influenza. Woody English and Bill Jurges also are complaining of sore eyes.

TIGERS

LAKELAND, Fla.—After beating the House of David club 13 to 1, the Detroit Tigers hustled out on the diamond today to brush up for the Athletics who will be here Thursday. Manager Cochrane used recruits and stringers against the Prophets Tuesday, but he will have his regular line-up on the field Thursday.

AMERICAN TENNIS STARS TAKE LEAD

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—In two desperately fought matches, the United States gained a 2 to 0 lead over France last night in the opening of a series of five international matches.

Gregory S. Mangin waged a relentless uphill battle to overcome Christian Boussus, second ranking French player, 8-10, 7-5, 5-7, 7-5, 6-2, in a match that lasted two hours and a half.

Making his first appearance on an international team, Lester R. Stoefen, California giant who won the American indoor championship last week, turned back the bold and aggressive Andre Merlin, French indoor titleholder, in a stirring five set struggle, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, 7-9, 6-4.

Tonight Stoefen will pair with George M. Lott, jr., Chicago, in a doubles match against Jean Borotra, French veteran, and Boussus. Mangin and Frank X. Shields, top ranking American, will appear in an exhibition preceding the doubles contest.

The Public Works Administration has allotted $1,500,000 for construction of one-quarter section of an airplane seadrome for test purposes.

The highest speed anyone ever attained in an airplane is 423.8 miles an hour. Lieut. Francesco Acello of Italy set it.

Canada sent 6,390,000,000 seeds of various trees to Great Britain and to British dominions and colonies in 1932.

BILLY HALLAS MEETS CHARLEY HEARD IN SEMI-FINAL BOUT

A no-time limit, finish middleweight match and two excellent welterweight bouts are in store for wrestling fans at the Auditorium tonight, Promoter Sled Allen promises a good show.

Yaqui Joe, the Amerindian master of cruel holds from Sonora, Mexico, mingles with the turbulent cowboy, Battling Benny Wilson, of Fort Worth, in the three-fall main event that goes to a positive finish.

Indian Out To Win

The Indian always has hated gringo grapplers, and this evening he will bring all his wrestling wiles into play. For Joe believes that only the third man in the ring kept him from winning that all-important match with Otis Clingman last week.

Up until last week Joe was one of the favorites to take Dutch Mantell's middleweight tournament which carries with it the right to meet Gus Kallio in June at Amarillo for the middleweight championship of the earth. And tonight Joe will be battling with all his savage heart in the business, knowing that the course of his mat career may possibly hinge on his performance.

Hallas Meets Heard

Billy Hallas, second ranking welterweight in the country, according to Ring magazine, meets the challenge of that very tough youngster and very formidable mat man, Charley Heard, in thirty-minute time limit skirmish.

Hallas, a squatty, biscuit-bodied little fellow, with a 15 pound head and a Maurice Chevalier lip, says that he's going to show Charley how tough a veteran can be. Although he was matched with a man out of his weight last week, Billy set some kind of a record during the proceedings — that is he spit on Dutch Mantell, referee, and got away with it!

Austria vs. Germany

Jittery Joe Bauer, the confused clouter from Coblenz, Germany, starts the ear-twirling tonight, going in for twenty minutes of catch-as-catch-can with the Austrian gorilla-man, little Louie Koderick.

Austria and Germany are said to be on the verge of war right now. Jittery Joe and Louie have been on the verge of conflict for a long time. They don't get along even when they meet up in the dressing rooms. So tonight Koderick, the Strasburg vest-pocket Hercules, and Jittery Joe meet on the mat with an audience to observe them.

WOMEN VIE IN GOLF EVENT

COUNTRY CLUB HOLDS MEET FOR FEMININE PLAYERS TODAY

Feminine golf players of the Lubbock Country club started out this morning on a "Hocus Pocus" tournament, the first activity of the season for the women club members.

The field was to be divided into two flights, one of which will play 18 holes medal, and the other nine holes of medal play. At the end of the rounds scores will be ranked numerically.

Golf balls will be awarded as trophies, the winners to be determined according to the rotation of the list. In other words, the player finishing in first, and each player finishing in every third place thereafter will receive two golf balls as prize. Players finishing second and each third place there after will receive nothing, but players finishing in third places and third places there after will receive one new ball.

According to the women's schedule committee, today's tournament is the first of a series of monthly jousts for all women players of the club, and the rules of the tournament are such that the poorest players will have a chance to finish with the winners.

To make the tournament more interesting, each player will submit as a tournament green fee, one new ball instead of cash.

An intensive season schedule has been drawn up by the women's invitation tournament, August 27 to September 2. Invitations will be mailed to women golfers all over West Texas.

Memphis And Tyler Form An Agreement

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 21 (AP)—President Thomas R. Watkins of the Memphis Chickasaws, Southern association baseball club, announced last night that he had come to a "working agreement" with the Tyler, Texas, club of the West Dixie league.

Wray Query, part owner and manager of the Tyler club, has been here several days looking over young Memphis rookies and conferring with Watkins.

"We simply came to a friendly agreement, by which the Tyler club will have the privilege of obtaining our youngsters who are farmed out," Watkins said.

The six U. S. navy planes made the flight from San Francisco to Honolulu, a distance of 2396 miles, in 24 hours, 45 minutes.

AMATEURS PUT ON SHOW FOR CIVIC CLUB

COLLEGIATE RING AND MAT BOUTS OFFERED ON ARMORY CARD

Wrestling and boxing as it should and shouldn't be done ran the gauntlet of entertainment Tuesday night at the National Guard armory as members of the American Business club staged their second annual athletic carnival. Participants were mostly from the ranks of Texas Tech wrestling and boxing teams.

Ranging from slap-stick grappling to fast and fancy box-fighting the show last night kept a crowd of 500 often in a state of excitement and frequently in a condition of hilarity.

Leonard Willis (Primo) Curfman, large Matador fullback, and Malcolm (Doc Loughran) Martin, stellar Tech end, fought to a bitterly-contested three-fall draw in a thrill-packed mat drama that showed definite signs of having been well rehearsed.

Both Pat Mat

After three minutes in the third fall Curf and Moon got excruciating drop toe-holds on one another and both patted the mat simultaneously after considerable moaning and face-making.

Martin won the second fall, throwing Curf about with a jarring body scissors and then rendering him unconscious with a "sleep hold." A doctor was summoned to the ring, but the big fullback snored on until somebody thought of an alarm clock.

Five speedy three-round boxing matches and a couple of amateur wrestle bouts were also on the program, most of them going to a draw or no-decision.

Winston Watkins defeated Cy LeMaster in four minutes of a scheduled eight-minute time limit bout, with a body smother. Kid Brown and Mix-up Williams grappled to a draw in a close exhibition.

Smells Of Grudge

Holley Taylor, a 200 plus pound townsman, rassled Billy Halcomb, gigantic Picador tackle, in a finish match that had the smell of a grudge battle.

With a chain around his neck and led by Referee Jack Van Bebber, Taylor entered the ring and was immediately staked out to a ring post. Halcomb came in late with a large rotten onion in his hand and his tights stuffed with boiled sweet potatoes.

Seeing Holley chained to the ring post, Billy strutted over and began to give Taylor's face a brisk rubdown with the onion.

Whereupon Taylor rushed his opponent and applied a head-scissors for the first wrestling of the bout. Things had to be stopped here long enough for the referee to remove the football shoulder pads under Holley's sweater.

At this stage both rasslers got raw with Van Bebber, and had to be hauled out of the ring.

Farr, Grissom Draw

Francis Farr and Tuffy Grissom fought to a draw in the first of the three-stanza boxing events. Mosely and Mason, 155 pounders, were stopped after two rounds when Mosely received a bad cut over the eye. Mosely was coming in with windmill-like, open glove upper shots in the first round, but slowed up in the second.

Madame Way, mysterious and exotic female wrestler, wrestled Buster "Tubby" Graves in her twitchy and shy manner to no-decision. Incidentally, the Madame lost considerable of her chest development during the course of the fight, Tubby doing most of the damage with a safety pin.

In the battle royal between four members of civic clubs—Bill Evans, Dutch Leunberger, Mendell Hughett, and Dell Morgan—a scheduled "bum's rush" on delicate Dell failed to materialize. Dell, apparently got the best of a lot of jumping around, holding his punches in a very suggestive way.

Holds Demonstrated

Jack Van Bebber, Texas Tech mat coach, and James May, Tech wrestler, gave a demonstration of various holds and postures in amateur wrestling. Jack topped this off with a fine exhibition of leg-wrestling.

Mike Mitchell and Walters, lightheavies, fought three rounds to a draw, both fighters getting in a lot of thumping blows. Lucy Luttrell and Red McDuff, welters, pounded one another hard, also for a no-decision. McDuff clearly took the last round with a stiff attack to Luttrell's body. Gibbs and Huitt, tickling the scales at 115 apiece, fought three rounds to another draw.

In identifying Benny Wilson as a former bulldogger, press agentry hit upon an item more pertinent than the overworked label of "ex-bronc buster," which is used by athletic show, movie studio, and historical society promoters alike. Some tamers of wild horses, of courses, also are wrestlers of wild steers,

This fellow Wilson's purported background however, hints of discrimination. After twisting the necks of rodeo-worn steers, he decided grappling with men, and an occasional referee, would be more profitable. Whether it proved to be cleaner and less elemental is beside the issue.

Steers have been known to toss journeymen cow-pokes high and not altogether handsome(ly). Before brass knobs were used on horns, a steer, irritated by the vainglorious efforts of a puny little two-legged animal, often would rip it open before tossing. And no professional steer would remind: "I told you I'd open up if you didn't lay off that sore shoulder."

Incidentally, Wilson and Yaqui Joe will do the head-on collisions and grapevine acrobatics in tonight's main event of a weekly mat card at the Auditorium. The sports editor, on short leave of absence, suggested that mention of the wrestling matches would be timely in this article. So this substitute Sportometer operator does just that, in his own way.

By defeating the University of Wyoming Cowboy five, champion of the Rocky Mountain conference, the Tulsa Oilers won a tournament finale and another national A. A. U. basketball championship. More out of hope than expectation, a few cage-court enthusiasts, removed from the tourney scene, picked the Cowboys to turn back the Oilers. Wyoming probably had a club more nearly comparable to the better independent teams than has any other school the last several years.

However well conditioned, excellently coached, possessed of natural abilities and adaptable physiques, college basketeers rarely withstand national tournament strain. Collegians may match the more seasoned performers stride for stride, and basket for basket, in the early rounds but almost inevitably wilt upon reaching, as they do occasionally, a semi-final or final contest. Why should any other outcome be anticipated?

College players are in their late teens and early 20's, usually still developing physically and as players; few college clubs as a whole can match a big-time independent aggregation physically; not many are accustomed to several games a week in varying climates and other conditions.

There's a chuckle in this yarn by John Lardner, of the New York Evening Post, son of the late Ring, who himself began his writing as sports reporter. The tale, as told to Lardner by Manager Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers at training camp:

"I had a tough bug in here the other day. He told me he was a pitcher, plenty good. I asked him how much he weighed, and he told me about 150.

"'You're pretty small for a pitcher,' I said.

"'How big is Gomez?' said the bug.

"'About 160.'

"'How big is this Grove?'

"'About 175.'

"'Well,' said the bug, 'I'm as good as them.'

"I had him out at practice that day, and he couldn't break a window with his fast one. I told him he'd better chase along home. He got kind of tough. 'So,' he said, 'you're going to send me away without seeing me hit.' And he claimed to be pitcher."

NATIONAL LEAGUE TAKES EARLY LEAD IN ANNUAL "GRAPEFRUIT LOOP" PLAY

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—If it weren't for the New York Yankees, the American league wouldn't even be a close second to the National in early returns from the annual "grapefruit league" competition.

Twelve inter-league contests have been played so far and the American leaguers trail by a margin of only two games, seven to five. The Yankees, picking on the Boston Braves, have won four of their five victories. The other was chalked up to the credit of the Philadelphia Athletics who were beaten in five other jousts with National league outfits.

Giants, Cubs Set Pace

Setting the inter-league pace for John Heydler's loop are the world champion New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs. The Cubs have a perfect record against the American league with two successive triumphs over their city rivals, the White Sox, while the Giants have won four and lost one. The Brooklyn Dodgers earned the seventh National league victory, handing the A's one of their setbacks.

The Yankees, Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators alone have escaped defeat so far. Joe McCarthy's fusileers have won four in a row, all from the Braves. The Red Sox defeated the Detroit Tigers in the only game they have played so far. Washington hasn't even begun its exhibition schedule.

ATHENS' BID REJECTED

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 21 (AP)—Coach Harold Miller of the Oklahoma City Classen Comets, state high school basketball champions said last night school officials here had rejected a bid from the Athens, Tex., High school champions, for a post-season game.

Purvis And Azteca Booked For Match

DALLAS, March 21 (AP)—Mickey Riley, fight promoter, announced he had signed Jack Purvis, Indianapolis, Ind., welterweight, and Kid Azteca, Mexican welterweight champion, for a 10-round bout here next Tuesday night, March 27. Riley said the winner would be pitted against Tracy Cox, hard-hitting fellow townsman of Purvis, a week later. Cox having agreed today to fight the winner of the Purvis-Azteca match. Azteca will arrive here Thursday from El Paso and go into training.

DEAN BOYS SAY THEY'LL WIN FOR CARDS

DIZZY AND PAUL ARE WILLING TO TAKE ON MAIN BURDEN

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

BRADENTON, Fla., March 21. (AP)—The Dean boys of Oklahoma have done their best this spring to relieve Frank Frisch of worry about how far his pitching staff will carry the St. Louis Cardinals in this year's National league pennant race.

Frisch has some pretty fair flingers on his staff otherwise, including Wild Bill Hallahan, Jesse Haines, Tex Carleton, Bill Walker and the ubiquitous Burleigh Grimes, but the brothers Dean, Dizzy and Paul, have separately and collectively expressed an entire willingness to shoulder the main burden. Twenty victories apiece is the minimum they have set for 1934. In fact, Paul, the family's freshman who won 22 for Columbus last year, assured Branch Rickey he would turn in 25 triumphs just to prove he has more stuff than his brother.

Half As Well Would Help

Even if Paul only does half as well as he predicts, the Cardinals will be that much better fortified to challenge the Giants and seek their fifth pennant in nine years.

Outside of their mound staff, the Cardinals have a number of star players but it is a question whether they have the right balance and enough batting punch. The trade of Jimmy Wilson to the Phillies for big Virgil Davis, who hit .349 last year, increases the batting power but Wilson's skillful backstopping will be missed.

Several new combinations have been tried and recruits tested, but the infield seems certain to start the season with Jim Collins at first, Manager Frisch in the keystone spot, Leo Durocher, baseball's premier "jockey" at short and the acrobatic Pepper Martin on third. The Cardinals who lost a great shortstop when Charley Gelbert filled a leg with buckshot, earnestly sought Dick Bartell of the Phillies, and still have hopes of adding strength to the infield. Burgess Whitehead, Columbus recruit, and "Pat" Crawford will be reserves.

Martin Leads Hitters

Martin made the switch from the outfield to third base last season so successfully that baseball men consider him the defensive superior now of the great Pie Traynor, in addition to which Pepper's batting, baserunning and aggressiveness mean much to the club's pennant chances. Martin led all the Cardinals regulars at bat last season with .316.

Joe Medwick's first full year in the outfield stamped him as another fine product of the Cardinal farm system. His fly-snagging mates, Ernie Orsatti and George Watkins, have given the club so much argument as holdouts that the camp is filled with trade rumors, including one report that Orsatti would go to the Phillies in a deal for Hick Fullis. Jack Rothrock, who hit .347 with Columbus last season, is a candidate for outfield duty and has had enough major league experience to make him useful.

Bobby Jones To End Retirement

FORMER MASTER WILL MATCH STROKES WITH LEADING PLAYERS

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 21 (AP)—Under circumstances that make this golfing affair one of the outstanding sports events of the year, Robert Tyre Jones, jr., emerges from retirement tomorrow to match strokes with the pick of North American amateurs and a crack brigade of professionals.

For official purposes, its the Masters' Invitation tournament. There's $5,000 in prize money, including $1,500 for the top professional. It's to be over the regular 72-hole route, with one round scheduled for each of the next four days, at the beautiful August National course designed and built under the personal supervision of Jones himself.

Most Stars To Compete

With a few notable exceptions such as Gene Sarazen, National P. G. A. champion, and Johnny Goodman, national open champion, all the great figures of American golf have accepted the invitation and challenge to renew a rivalry with Jones that was broken off in 1930.

The professionals have rallied in force, led by Denny Shute, British Open champion, Walter Hagen, MacDonald Smith, Bobby Cruickshank, Johnny Farrell, Willie MacFarlane, Craig Wood, Bill Burke, Wiffy Cox, and Paul Runyan, biggest money winner of the winter campaign. The field also includes George T. Dunlap, jr., of New York, national amateur champion, and Canada's amateur ace, Ross Somerville, who won the United States championship in 1932.

Jones Is Favored

Based on the old prize ring theory that the king is still king, until some one knocks him off the throne, Jones will tee off tomorrow morning at 10:35 as the favorite in this all star field. His playing companion will be none other than Runyan, who is generally the choice of the professionals to make the strongest bid for victory.

Their first day shot making should offer the gallery plenty of personal drama but it may not be conclusive, for there are at least a half dozen others, notably the veteran MacDonald Smith, Ed Dudley, and Leo Diegel, whose practice performances prove they are at their best.

"Chance Jeopardized"

To "Sandy" Somerville, as well as others, it appears Jones has jeopardized his chances by taking over too much of the responsibility of host to one of the biggest golfing parties in years. Bob has attended personally to detailed arrangements, joined all social gatherings and played at least one round of golf daily with professional arrivals.

Whether this was responsible or not, Jones lacked anything like his usual control yesterday and appeared somewhat concerned about his putting touch or, rather, the lack of it.

HITLER OPENS WORK DRIVE

NATION - WIDE SPRING CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED BY CHANCELLOR

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Foreign Staff

MUNICH, Germany, Mar. 21. (AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler opened a nation-wide spring drive against unemployment today with a speech in which he declared that "never has any government succeeded to a worse inheritance than ours did a year ago."

He spoke at Unterhaching, near here, one of 22 places at which jobless men numbering 100,000 began work on a network of highways on the first anniversary of the historic reichstag convention at Potsdam when Hitler was given dictatorial powers.

"Approaching Abyss"

"Step by step," Hitler loudly declared, "Germany was approaching an abyss. Farmers were doomed. The middle class ruined and—above all—6,000,000 Germans were unemployed, which meant that every two employed persons supported a third unemployed."

Radios were installed throughout Germany that the chancellor's speech might be carried to every ear. School children listened in and pedestrians were directed to gather around loud speakers set up at strategic corners.

Before Hitler spoke, while he marched up and down the ranks of spade-wielding, hitherto jobless thousands, Dr. Joseph Paul Goebbels, propaganda minister, preceded the chancellor to the platform with a speech in which he asserted Germany stands in the forefront of nations fighting unemployment.

Dr. Goebbels filled in the gap between Hitler's dramatic arrival at the scene of the automobile road construction and his stepping onto a dumping cart for the radio speech delivered as most of the members of his cabinet and other dignitaries stood by.

MUSIC FESTIVAL

Roxy Grove, head of the music department at Baylor university and president of the Texas Music Teachers association; theory—Miss Pauline Brigham, West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon; violin and wind instruments— Herschel Coffee, West Texas State Teachers college; organ—Mrs. Glenn; voice—Frank Beech, music director in State Teachers college, Emporia, Kans.

On Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock rural school choruses will sing at the First Baptist church auditorium and on Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock all awards in the festival contests will be made in the Senior High school auditorium. At this latter gathering, Misses Mary Angeline Russell and Louise Warren of Plainview will give a two-piano program of music.

Most of the contests of the festival are scheduled for Friday and Saturday, although violin and a part of the piano scales contests are to take place Thursday. In addition to ensemble and vocal contests in voice and instruments there will be 21 choruses participating in contests, Mrs. Key said.

Towns sending contestants, according to entries received, will be Slaton, Ralls, Crosbyton, Spur, Levelland, Plainview, Tahoka, Hale Center, Floydada, Brownfield, Lockney, Olton, Cone, Vernon, Post, Lubbock and Frederick, Okla.

WHERE'S INSULL?

being returned to Chicago for trial on charges in connection with the fall of his once-vast utilities structure.

FRIEND OF INSULLS WILL FACE TRIAL

ATHENS, Mar. 21. (AP)—Mme. Couyoumjoglou, wife of a Baghdad date merchant and close friend of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Insull, will be tried for perjury in connection with information she gave regarding the fugitive Chicagoan's secret getaway from Greece last week.

The public prosecutor, in announcing that the action would be taken, explained his move was made at the recommendation of Sub-Director Petounis of the Athens police force.

Petounis charged Mme. Couyoumjoglou testified falsely during a long interrogation in which authorities failed to elicit any definite information from her or Mrs. Insull.

SOURCE OF INSULL REVENUE PROBED

CHICAGO, March 21. —(AP)—The source of Samuel Insull's revenue is a major mystery to federal operatives.

Chicagoans recalled the remark Insull made when, reputedly a poor man, he left Chicago and his crumbling utility empire behind.

"I am," he said, "no longer newspaper copy."

He was reported to have no income other than $21,000 in pensions voted him by four of his former companies —which were cancelled Jan. 1.

Despite this, he financed litigation in Greece for almost two years, finally chartering a ship which is rumored to have cost $10,000.

One report said a Chicagoan visited Insull in Athens to deliver him $200,000. Federal investigators are checking it, but are unable to determine if the money was paid or whence it came.

Reports are that Insull's wife has pawned most of her jewelry, said to be valued at nearly $1,000,000; that he received cash shipments regularly from safety deposit boxes; that

RUTH SNYDER PLANNED TO KILL GRAY, NEWLY REVEALED EVIDENCE INDICATES

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—The New York Daily News in a copyrighted article said unrevealing evidence that the late Ruth Snyder plotted to slay both her lover, Harry Judd Gray, and her husband, Albert Snyder, has been in the possession of the police for seven years.

The evidence, the News says, was a small whiskey bottle containing a mixture of poison (bicloride of mercury). Gray had in his pocket when he was arrested in Syracuse, N. Y.

At the time he told detectives that the bottle contained "just a shot" Mrs. Snyder had given him before he trussed her up and left her with her slain husband. Detectives, as a routine affair, had sent it to Dr. Alexander O. Gettler, city toxologist, who reported it was poison.

The News says that, fearing the introduction of evidence that Mrs. Snyder planned a double murder would confuse their clear cut case against the pair, detectives sidetracked the evidence.

For seven years the bottle containing the poison has been a part of the exhibit at the police museum —viewed by thosands of persons and visiting police each year. Mrs. Snyder and Gray were electrocuted in Sing Sing prison in 1928 for Snyder's murder.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 21. (AP)—Cotton opened quiet but steady. Liverpool was slightly better than due and sterling was firm. First trades here were 5 points up on May and 1 to 2 points up on later deliveries. As stocks started irregular, cotton subsequently eased 2 to 3 points, May trading down to 12.06, July to 12.16 and October to 12.30, or two points net up to one down compared with yesterday's close.

The national labor situation was being closely watched by traders.

The market ruled rather quiet all morning. Prices eased off steadily in sympathy with lower stocks. Lack of buying support was evident and May traded down to 12.00, July to 12.09 and October to 12.20, or 9 to 12 points below the early highs and 4 points on May and 9 to 11 points on later months below yesterday's close.

Near noon prices rallied one to three points from the lows on some improvement in stocks.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—Cotton opened irregular, unchanged to 7 higher, with steadier cables offset by liquidation. March 12.05; May 12.12; July 12.22; Oct. 12.38; Dec. 12.43; Jan. 12.46.

Near months were steadier on a fair trade demand while Liverpool bought the distant positions. Commission house selling, which was more pronounced in the later months, increased toward the end of the first half hour influenced by easiness of stocks, grain and silver. Trading, however, remained restricted as the trade awaited developments from Washington with reference to cotton control legislation and the automotive labor situation. May contracts eased from 12.12 to 12.04 and October from 12.38 to 12.27 with the general list 2 to 6 points net lower at the end of the first half hour.

The decline extended to 11.98 for May and to 12.22 for October with the general market establishing losses of about 8 to 11 points net. Selling came from the continent and commission houses apparently representing further liquidation, while New Orleans and locals also sold, in sympathy with easiness of other markets. Later this pressure tapered off somewhat and the market rallied a few points on a little covering and trade buying. At midday the market was quiet and about 4 to 7 points net lower.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Mar. 21. (AP)—Labor trouble fears dominated the financial markets today and most speculative categories exhibited a heavy tone.

Presidential intervention in the motor and rail situations brought hopes of an early adjustment of existing differences, but traders generally showed an inclination to step out of the picture until further reassurances are received from Washington.

Brokerage opinion was rather bearish as the chief executive prepared to confer with the automobile manufacturers this afternoon and with union leaders tomorrow. Whether a compromise can be arranged was a question widely debated.

Stocks failed to follow through on their yesterday's rally and losses of 1 to around 3 points were suffered by leading issues. The activity expanded moderately on the decline. Intermittent rallies failed to get far.

Commodities, including grains, cotton, rubber and silver eased. Bonds were hesitant. International dollar rates recorded insignificant changes.

Shares of Homestake Mining, on the first sales in several days, yielded some 20 points. U. S. Smelting was off more than 3, and others, down 1 to more than 2, included General Motors, Chrysler, Du Pont, American Smelting, Allied Chemical, American Telephone, U. S. Steel, American Can, Case, Bethlehem Steel, Liggett & Myers B, American Tobacco B, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Western Union, Santa Fe, Union Pacific and N. Y. Central. The oils, alcohols, aircrafts and utilities were fractionally lower.

Education Leader Claimed By Death

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 21.—(AP)—A cerebral hemorrhage suffered four days ago proved fatal to Randolph B. Binnion, treasurer and former provost of Peabody college. He was 55 years old.

Mr. Binnion, who came to Nashville in 1924 after 27 years of educational work in Texas, died yesterday in a hospital.

He served as provost of Peabody college from 1924 to 1928, when he assumed the post of treasurer. He was also director of the Peabody extension division.

English friends raised a $40,000 purse.

RAIL LABOR

of transportation, Joseph B. Eastman."

In a letter to W. F. Thiehoff, chairman of the conference committee of railroad managers, Mr. Whitney concluded:

"It is evident that nothing can be gained at this time by further discussions between our respective committees."

In response to inquiry at his regular press conference on the government's attitude towards meeting strikers, President Roosevelt replied that only one rule prevailed and that was when people were in dire want and lacked food the government was going to try to keep them from starving. He said this rule applied to all people alike.

Asked whether he would seek a renewal of the licensing power under the National Recovery act which expires in June the president said he had not given consideration yet to this subject but probably would talk it over very soon with Gen. Hugh Johnson, recovery administrator.

Motor Leaders Silent

The motor executives declined to talk to newspapermen before their White House visit.

Meanwhile, it became known that William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, will urge representatives of automobile labor to simplify their demands to two key points before they confer with President Roosevelt.

The labor program is to narrow demands to creation of a neutral review board to pass on charges of discrimination against union men and to the immediate selection of employee representatives for collective bargaining.

Life Insurance Talked — Two speakers, Jack Randal and C. A. Sanford, talked on life insurance at the luncheon of the Lubbock Rotary club today noon at Hotel Lubbock. Mr. Randal stressed the importance of life insurance in modern business and gave a brief history of insurance. He said it had grown until now 63,000,000 people in the U. S. alone are policyholders. Mr. Sanford spoke briefly on the accomplishments of insurance companies, citing the great aid they gave policyholders during the depression. A large number of out-of-town visitors were guests at the luncheon.

to have been Samuel Floria. There was an unidentified body, believed to be that of Floria's daughter, and two bodies, apparently those of children, burned beyond recognition but believed to be members of the Floria family. The seventh body was that of a boy.

Awakened By Smoke

Brolo was awakened by smoke. He aroused his family, but in the darkness and smoke he could not see them. He reached a fire escape where he collapsed. Firemen found him there. A son, Gerlando, 14, also made his way to the fire escape and was rescued.

A greater loss of life was prevented by the presence of balcony fire escapes leading to adjoining tenements. Sixteen families lived in the building, including Joseph Garcia, the owner. He was asleep in a top floor apartment when the fire broke out and was aroused by the crying of a pet cat. He ran to a front window and climbed out on the sill. It was a window which had no fire escape.

Cat Disappears

Firemen shouted to him to remain where he was until a ladder could be raised, but he leaped for the fire escape on the next window, grasping a side rail with his fingers. Firemen reached him soon afterward. The cat was seen no more.

In one of the previous tenement fires of this year nine persons perished. The city administration is making a drive to improve the safety and living conditions of tenements, and programs have been drawn up calling for replacement in some instances of tenement blocks with modern new buildings.

BUSINESS MEN ARE HONORED

DINNER IS GIVEN AT PLAINVIEW BY CLUB BOYS AND GIRLS

By Staff Correspondent

PLAINVIEW, March 21—Thirty Hale county club boys and girls last night gave a dinner for Plainview business men to show their appreciation for the support given the clubbers last year and especially at the Amarillo and Lubbock stock shows and fairs. About 75 persons were guests of the club members, including Lubbock and Amarillo men and parents of the boys. The program was given in the city auditorium.

A huge ham, home cured and baked and brought to the affair by the parents of one of the boys, was auctioned off by Bill Messick, Bill Gouldy and Herbert Hilburn. The ham brought in all $104 and the money was donated to the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce to be used at the coming fourth annual Lubbock Quality Meat show.

Ham Awarded To Gist

"Uncle John W. Gist of Odessa, who had sold many of the club boys calves, was awarded the ham.

Leader Presides

Bill Buntin, county club leader, presided at the opening and introduced W. W. Evans, county agent, as toastmaster. Club boys and girls then introduced their guests for the occasion.

A number of club boys spoke, telling of their feeding experiences. These included Doss Buntin, Wendell Churchwell, Bill Day, Bill John Messick, and James Churchwell and Jim Fletcher.

Wayne Johnson played a trombone solo and a girl's quartet, composed of Louise Buntin, Latrice Messick, Mavis Churchwell and Lucille Fletcher, sang.

Is Awarded Medal

Bill John Messick, who won a Santa Fe trip to the Chicago International Livestock show last fall, was awarded a Thomas E. Wilson medal for his club work.

J. D. Tinsley, Santa Fe general agricultural agent; John M. Gist, Odessa breeder from whom many of the boys and girls bought club calves; P. C. Bennett, Potter county agent; Dr. I. E. Barr, of Lubbock; W. M. Bill Gouldy, Amarillo; Garnett O. Reeves, Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, and H. S. Hilburn, Plainview editor, were also called upon for brief remarks.

A tableau, showing a calf that is being fed out for 1933 shows, a 1934 show calf and half a dressed beef, was given. Jim Fletcher and James Churchwell showed their calves.

"The fine spirit of cooperation shown by Plainview people at former shows here, and also the good start given at the coming affair should encourage Lubbock citizens to do as much and more in supporting the Lubbock Quality Meat show," Dr. I. E. Barr, chairman of the meat show committee, said last night after the Plainview meeting.

Scout Committee Is Chosen At Lamesa

LAMESA, March 21. (Special) — Southern district committee of the South Plains Area Boy Scout council here last night elected J. T. Herd of Post as chairman, Rev. M. C. Bishop of Post vice chairman, Joe Spikes of Lamesa activities chairman, and L. B. Reed of Lamesa court of honor chairman.

Spikes was chosen to succeed himself.

District field meet will be May 29-30 at Two Draw lake near Post, it was decided.

The committee will meet at Slaton, May 8 to examine preparations and complete arrangements for the meet.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION IN PROBATE
THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County, Greeting:

Sunday school attendance of 125. A thousand members have been received into the church in the decade and the membership now consists of between 500 and 600, not including students at Texas Tech. An annex has been built to the church, much new equipment added and a parsonage built in that time. A church debt of $10,000 was paid off, the annex and parsonage nearly paid for and street paving at the church paid. The debt now is about $1,000.

Reverend Jennings has been active in religious, civic and other affairs. He has been chairman of the Red Cross, head of the ministerial alliance and active in the Rotary club, as well as in many other groups.

The Jennings family includes Mrs. Jennings and three daughters, Miss Louise Jennings, graduate of T. C. U. and a teacher in the Lubbock schools; Miss Jean Shelley Jennings, Tech graduate and teacher at Lorenso, and Mrs. John Gammon, wife of a rancher near Lazbuddy, Parmer county, where she taught school as Miss Grace Jennings.

way tracks, last night, was estimated tentatively this morning by D. A. Forbess, city fire marshal, at $800 to $1,000, plus water damage to seed. The building and machinery were insured for $1,250, he said.

Both the seed plant and the hatchery previously had been damaged by fire.

Firemen spent more than an hour and a half combatting each of the blazes.

With no water immediately available at the hatchery, the fire-fighters dug a canal permitting flow of water from a pit beside a windmill on the other side of the highway. Elsewhere the water was sucked up by pump-attached hose.

Explosion Blamed

Origin of the fire was attributed tentatively to explosion of an oil-burning pilot light in the incubator. Fire virtually destroyed the hatchery about two years ago.

The seed plant blaze was believed to have been a result of explosion of dust accumulated in the top of the building. An electric motor which in the fire fell from the top of the shaft to the ground floor had been running, Fire Marshal Forbess said.

Two alarms were sounded as a result of the stubborn blaze.

McFarland Driver Of Auto In Crash

That Fred McFarland, instead of Rayburn Hale as first reported, was driving an automobile struck by another near here late Sunday, was determined Tuesday afternoon.

First report by police and a consequent newspaper report naming Hale as pilot of a car in which he and three other high school students were riding were erroneous.

Young McFarland's father, L. E. McFarland, owner of the car, told police his son was driving the automobile when its rear end was struck by one driven by Riley F. Huey, also of Lubbock.

Condition of Mrs. Huie, most seriously injured of the persons in the two cars, was improved slightly at noon today, attendants at West Texas hospital reported. Her husband and young daughter had been dismissed late Monday.

Norman Seitz of Lubbock, also hurt in the crash, was released from Lubbock sanitarium Tuesday.

JAP-U. S. PEACE

ican government will be prepared, as I believe it always has been in the past, to examine the position of Japan in a spirit of amity * * *."

Further the two statesmen spoke favorably of an extension of trade between the two countries.

The notes were released simultaneously to the press at the state department here and in Tokyo.

The Japanese note was delivered by Hiroshi Saito, Nippin's new ambassador here, just one month ago, but only today was its receipt disclosed.

Some close observers here saw in it a friendly attempt by Japan to lay the groundwork for opening discussions with the United States on several questions on which the two nations are not in complete accord.

Japs To Seek Parity

Included in this category would be Japan's unofficial proposal for a preliminary two-nation conference for a discussion of naval armaments before the general naval conference which is to be held in Washington in 1935. Japan has already served notice she will seek parity at that time.

Others considered it significant that the note had been dispatched just one week before Pu-Yi, the former boy emperor of China, became Emperor Kang Teh of the Japanese-sponsored empire of Manchukuo, on March 1.

In general, however, Japan's note was interpreted as an auspicious introduction of Ambassador Saito, accredited with being closer to the military party in Japan than was his predecessor, Ambassador Debuchi.

"I do not doubt," Hirota said, "that all issues pending between the two nations will be settled in a satisfactory manner.

"It is the sincere desire of Japan that a most peaceful and friendly relation will be firmly established between her and her great neighbor across the Pacific, the United States. And to this end I have been exerting my best efforts since I took the post of foreign minister."

After reading in kind, Hull added:

"I feel I should also avail myself of this opportunity to express my earnest hope it may be possible for all of the countries which have interests in the far east to approach every question existing or which may arise between or among them in such spirit and manner that these questions may be regulated or resolved with injury to none and with definite and lasting advantage to all."

Continuation Seen For Demo Majority

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—A prediction that "the Democratic supremacy throughout the nation, established in 1932, will be continued" was made today by Chairman Drewry (D-Va) of the Democratic national congressional executive committee.

A preliminary survey at the executive committee meeting last night, Drewry said in a statement, "warrants that assumption."

"Prospects are very good that the present Democratic majority in the house will remain as it is now," he continued.

CONTROL BILL ACTION NEAR

DEBATE ON BANKHEAD MEASURE IN SENATE MAY OPEN TODAY

WASHINGTON, March 21. — A possibility of starting the Bankhead cotton bill along the road of senate debate today was seen by advocates of the compulsory production control measure. It hinged on quick disposal of the Philippine independence bill.

Backers of the cotton bill, approved Monday by the house, were anxious to push it speedily to a vote and a presidential signature before this season's planting of the crop begins.

Passage Predicted

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) joint author with his brother in the house, has expressed confidence the bill would pass.

He planned an amendment to the measure as it came from the house that would increase the tax on surplus cotton from 50 per cent of market value to 75 per cent. This change, he said, originated in popular demand from the south that the tax on cotton in excess of quotas be made prohibitive.

Rumblings of Republican opposition apparently foreboded a renewal of attacks the measure weathered safely in the house, where charges were sounded that the bill would be the precedent for government control of all farm commodities.

As it left the house, the bill called for a 10,000,000-bale limit on the next cotton crop. It is designed to stabilize prices and reduce a huge carryover.

LONDON, March 21. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Switz, the two Americans held in Paris in the investigation of an international spy plot, were pictured today as catspaws of the vast organization.

The real director of operations in Britain, the Daily Mail said, was a woman who has now left the country.

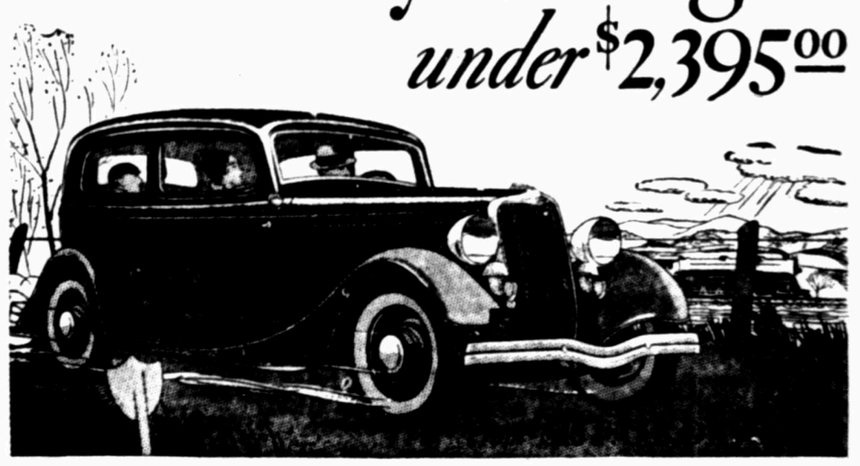

Mr. and Mrs. Switz, natives of East Orange, N. J., and New York, left London hurriedly 18 months ago, leaving behind them a book containing puzzling entries indicating a code to which different styles of handwriting were the keys, the Mail said.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 21. —The army's airmail fiasco opened President Roosevelt's eyes. He had supposed he had a strong military air service.

Gen. Benjamin Foulois, air corps chief, told him the army could handle airmail. Foulois is a good soldier and he knew his superiors already had given assurances.

Foulois privately expressed doubts. So did another high air corps officer, who, after preliminary conferences, said he'd be surprised if there were less than 20 casualties.

Turn to the general staff for an answer. Ordered last year to cut $15,000,000 from the military budget, it unloaded 40 per cent of that slash on the air corps.

Instead of $8,000,000 for new planes the air corps got $1,500,000. (That was an example of general staff policy.)

The air corps had to restrict flying to 200 hours per man per year. The airmail job found it short of modern planes and untrained in night flying.

Coast artillery generals dominate general staff. There are eight such generals and 14 generals in the cavalry, but not one air corps general—since Foulois is only a colonel, with temporary higher title. Foulois is cowed.

Army aviation is under the nine corps area commanders, divided into nine geographical sections and trained to function with ground troops—not for long flights.

When Foulois wants to visit an aviation corps unit, he must ask the corps area commander's permission.

Neither army nor navy has a 1,000-horsepower plane, though they've been talking about one for years. European nations run them up to 3,000 horsepower.

Army and navy consistently violated legal provisions requiring competitive bidding for plane contracts. The two corporations monopolizing air engines produce almost identical types. Lack of competitive bidding discouraged development.

The Morrow committee's five-year plan, far from completed, was based on the world warplane armaments of 1925. Other nations have been leaping ahead.

Secretary Dern dragged in Lindbergh for the committee to investigate the air corps in an effort to save face. Reaction to the White House rebuke to Lindbergh had shown him still a popular hero.

He also is a master pilot, whether or not he qualifies for the job. Numerically, the committee is dominated by members of the general staff.

Cuba Is Worry Source

State department officials boast that 117 Cuban sugar mills are grinding under the Mendieta administration, which they helped create, recognized and now support.

None operated during the Grau administration, which fell largely because they wouldn't recognize it.

Pressed, these officials admit that the four months of Grau's regime were no part of the grinding season.

Cuba worries the administration. If Mendieta falls—and that might mean subsequent anarchy—it won't know what to do.

Meanwhile, underlying policy is to protect American banking, sugar, utility, and trade interests in Cuba—which Grau threatened.

Canners Fight Code

The NRA management is fighting the canners, whose code calls for minimum wages as low as 15 cents an hour and unlimited hours during the canning season.

Though canners have been lobbying on Capitol Hill, bringing congressional pressure to bear on NRA officials, a better labor code is almost certain.

The Consumers' Advisory Board, however, is making headway in its frenzied effort for provisions which will insure customers an idea of the quality of a can's contents.

CHAPTER THE ELEVENTH
Part Two

WHEN that morning began to dawn, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary, and some other women, came to the sepulchre, with some more spices which they had prepared. As they were saying to each other, "How shall we roll away the stone?" the earth trembled and shook, and an angel, descending from Heaven, rolled it back, and then sat resting on it. His countenance was like lightning, and his garments were white as snow; and at sight of him, the men of the guard fainted away with fear, as if they were dead.

Mary Magdalene saw the stone rolled away, and waiting to see no more, ran to Peter and John who were coming towards the place, and said "They have taken away the Lord and we know not where they have laid Him!" They immediately ran to the Tomb, but John, being the faster of the two, outran the other, and got there first. He stooped down, and looked in, and saw the linen clothes in which the body had been wrapped, lying there: but he did not go in. When Peter came up, he went in, and saw the linen clothes lying in one place and a napkin that had been bound about the head in another. John also went in, then, and saw the same things. Then they went home, to tell the rest.

But Mary Magdalene remained outside the sepulchre, weeping. After a little time, she stooped down, and looked in, and saw two angels, clothed in white, sitting where the body of Christ had lain. These said to her, "Woman, why weepest thou?" She answered, "Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid Him." As she gave this answer, she turned round, and saw Jesus standing behind her, but did not then know Him. "Woman," said He, "Why weepest Thou? what seekest thou?" She, supposing Him to be the gardner, replied, "Sir! If thou hast borne my Lord hence, tell me where thou hast laid Him and I will take Him away." Jesus pronounced her name "Mary!" Then she knew Him, and starting, exclaimed "Master!" —"Touch me not," said Christ; "for I am not yet ascended unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and to your God!"

Accordingly, Mary Magdalene went and told the disciples that she had seen Christ, and what He had said to her; and with them she found the other women whom she had left at the sepulchre when she had gone to call those two disciples. Peter and John. These women told her and the rest, that they had seen at the Tomb, two men in shining garments, at sight of whom they had been afraid, and had bent down, but who had told them that the Lord was risen; and also that as they came to tell this, they had seen Christ, on the way, and had held Him by the feet and worshipped Him. But these accounts seemed to the apostles at that time as idle tales, and they did not believe them.

THE soldiers of the guard too, when they recovered from their fainting-fit, and went to the chief priests to tell them what they had seen, were silenced with large sums of money, and were told by them to say that the disciples had stolen the body away while they were asleep.

But it happened that on that same day, Simon and Cleopas—Simon one of the twelve apostles, and Cleopas one of the followers of Christ were walking to a village called Embaus at some little distance from Jerusalem, and were talking, by the way, upon the death and resurrection of Christ, when they were joined by a stranger, who explained the scriptures to them, and told them a great deal about God, so that they wondered at his knowledge. As the night was fast coming on when they reached the village, they asked this stranger to stay with them, which he consented to do. When they all three sat down to supper, he took some bread, and blessed it, and broke it, as Christ had done at the Last Supper. Looking on Him in wonder, they found that His face was changed before them, and that it was Christ himself; and as they looked on him, He disappeared.

THEY instantly rose up, and returned to Jerusalem, and finding the disciples sitting together, told them what they had seen. While they were speaking, Jesus suddenly stood in the midst of all the company, and said "Peace be unto ye!" Seeing that they were greatly frightened, He shewed them his hands and feet; and invited them to touch Him; and, to encourage them and give them time to recover themselves, He ate a piece of broiled fish and a piece of honeycomb before them all.

But Thomas, one of the twelve apostles, was not there, at that time; and when the rest said to him afterwards, "We have seen the Lord!" he answered "Except I shall see in His hands the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into His side, I will not believe!" At that moment, though the doors were all shut, Jesus again appeared, standing among them, and said "Peace be unto you!" Then he said to Thomas, "Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither they hand, and thrust it into my side; and be not faithless, but believing." And Thomas answered, and said to Him, "My Lord and my God!" Then said Jesus, "Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed. Blessed are they that have not seen me, and yet have believed."

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

DELINQUENT TAX WEEK

Taking advantage of the legislature's tax penalty moratorium which ends March 31, Junior Chambers of Commerce of Texas are behind a movement for payment of delinquent taxes. This week has been designated as "Delinquent Tax Week" and property owners all over the state are being urged to pay up their taxes now and avoid the penalty.

There is some 120 millions of dollars in real and personal property delinquent in the many tax assessing units of Texas, and if this is paid in, there will be no necessity of finding new methods of raising tax revenue, leaders in the drive point out. They point out that a tax paid does not breed other taxes.

"This public service is a real one and will be appreciated by the good taxpayers who meet their bills but have to bear added burdens because of delinquents," W. B. Ruggles, editorial writer of the Dallas News, says regarding the campaign. "In addition, it is a sharp notice on official tax collectors that the young business man of Texas will have no further patience with the man who does not make every effort under the law to bring in tax money.

"Constitutionally and by belief ours is a nation of equal taxation. In practice it is far from it. There is no equal taxation where one man pays his bill and another is allowed to let his remain on the books. The best service that good citizenship can render Texas now is to make tax delinquency an obsolete term. The Junior Chambers of Commerce are taking the lead in that vital reform, with their graphic urge: 'Collect—don't create new taxes!'"

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PABLITO, a hansome youth, works at the palatial Florida home of millionaire JIM FIELD. When Field's daughter, ESTELLE, arrives Pablito falls in love with her.

Pablito knows nothing of his parents—a titled Englishman and a servant girl. He makes his home with NORRIS NOYES, wanted for a murder years ago. Noyes flees when a guest of Field's sees him and recognizes him. Pablito, dressed as a toreador, goes to a masquerade at Field's home to see Estelle. There is a tender love scene between them.

The same night Pablito strikes a man he has seen mistreating a child. He thinks the man is dead. LOTTIE and BEAU, two thieves, see this. The next thing Pablito knows he is in a motor boat with these two. Beau has a gun and tells Pablito to head the boat for Cuba.

At the Field home search begins for Pablito. It is believed he killed TED JEFFRIES and stole the Jeffries pearls. MARCIA TREADWAY knows this is not true but fears scandal if she tells the truth.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XV

"The 'Siler Dart' has been found." Field announced as Marcia joined the group. "It was sighted by Jo Janvier who's headed for Rio in his yacht. He wirelessed."

"Empty?" Marcia asked.

"Yes. Signal up — perhaps for help. It was well below Cuba."

"Can Pablito swim?"

Field laughed. "Swim?" he echoed. "My God, can he swim! He's a fish. He was one of those dock rats, the sort you toss coins to when you sail for Havana."

"Do you think he's in Havana? Will they look for him there?" Marcia asked feverishly. She could at least warn Pablito. Thank heaven she had enough money to hunt for him and care for him if the need arose.

Field said. "He couldn't swim to Havana. The theory is that the boat got half way there and then ran out of gasolene. Someone else may have picked him up or he may have jumped overboard, seeing something bearing down on him. He wasn't a coward. He once licked big Zeke, who had all the other servants afraid of him. They said Pablito took a lot of punishment in that fight. Zeke doesn't eactly follow the Queensberry rules. I saw him land one fellow a blow in the stomach that sent him 20 feet and afterward the man walked doubled over like a nut cracker for a week.

"Jim," Marcia said, "why are you so frightfully certain Pablito killed—Jeff?" She could not help the break in her voice nor the hesitation between the words.

One of the men studied his cigar thoughtfully, the other looked out to sea. Field thought. "Steady, old girl! You're giving yourself away!" He said more patiently and slowly than was usually his way, "I know he did, Marcia. His foster father is a man named Noyes, wanted for a murder years ago. Jeff saw Noyes on one of the small keys and recognized him. He thought Noyes recognized him, too. Noyes must have told Pablito about it and the boy obviously decided to seal Jeff's lips once and for all."

"I think you're working on very little," Marcia said sharply.

"My dear," Field answered irritably, "the whole thing's clear. We have the proof in Pablito's dagger which my own poor little girl recognized this morning. There's the fact, too, that the boy knocked down an old man who tried to stop him—close to killed the old chap—and this fellow's child described Pablito. It all ties up—not a doubt in the world!"

"Perhaps it was Noyes who did it," Marcia persisted.

Field laughed. "Noyes!" he said and laughed again. "Remember him, Fortney?" he asked, turning to the man at his right. "So easy-going he'd do anything to avoid a fight!"

"Then how did he murder anyone?"

"Oh, Lord!" Field broke out as Fortney drawled a lazy, ginslowed, "Rather good — come to think of it."

Marcia was tapping a toe on the sand and looking down. "It's no sign the boy did it because he knocked down an old man," she said.

"Pablito was in a big hurry," Field pointed out. "And there's another thing, too. Nobody but Pablito could run the 'Silver Dart' for more than 10 feet lately. The damned tub had developed a heart leak. So you see?"

"Jim," said Marcia. "If you don't mind I'm going on to Havana. The carnival's starting and I think it might do me good."

"Flying over?" Field questioned.

"Yes." She answered quickly, and her face grew keen. She could get there promptly, she realized. She felt herself responding to the promise of action. She could warn Pablito, protect him and care for him after she found him. In that way she could discharge at least a part of the debt she owned him. She had a curious certainty that he must be in Havana or near there. This ertainty persisted despite all the testimony that made it seem impossible.

"Will you make my excuses to Norma and say goodby to her for me?" she asked, turning to Field. "I judge she's too busy to see me—"

"She's rather absorbed," he admitted, frowning. "Estelle's quite ill. This affair has upset her. It seems that she was fond of Pablito. He had taken her boating a good deal. I think Noma would not want to leave her."

Fortney looked after Marcia as she turned to go back to her bungalow. Watching her he said, "All that Therese Jeffries lost were her pearls and rings."

The implication was understood.

"I'm glad Marcia's getting out," Field stated bluntly. Then he forgot her and her interest in the late Mr. Jeffries who had been so unwise as to object to a stranger's opening the small safe that held his wife's pearls. Field forgot because Alvarez was hurrying toward him, an important message making his lean face keen and intense.

Field left his guests to move toward Alvarez.

"There is news," Alvarez stated. "A fisherman last night saw a light in the shack where Pablito lived. It is thought that he has not left Florida at all but, in order to set us off on a false trail, he started the 'Silver Dart' to sea with his red sash—if it was his — tied to the mast. I've sent men over to the shack to search—"

Noyes realized that it was not safe for him to stay in or near the shack. He had crept there after he had been knocked out, robbed and taken to a hovel in a pine woods from which he had escaped after two long, misery-packed days. Nevertheless he had come back to get the Pennell etching and the Winslow Homer water color. He hoped to sell one or the other or both in order to get his fare to Cuba where Pablito, whom he so needed now, would be waiting for him.

Hiding himself, Noyes had heard nothing about the tragedy at the Field camp.

He peered nervously from the doorway of the shack toward the mainland, suspecting that the once white human vulture that had already picked his bones might be following. But the vulture had quitted him to go on to another carcass.

Then Noyes looked farther and on the water saw a boat bearing toward the island. He poked the etching and the water color under an oilcloth table cover and wriggled through a small rear window of the shack.

He knew, as his heart pumped hard, that they were after him.

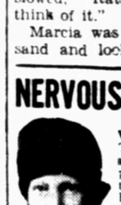

That was during the early afternoon when Marcia Treadway, with the arrogance of those who can buy whatever they want, commanded an airplane and set forth for Havana. That was when Pablito and Beau, soaked with salt water and shaking from fatigue, sank to a cleared patch in the jungle. That was when Jim Field said to his wife with relief, "Marcia's gone on to Havana—"

And that, oddly enough—such odd things do happen—was at the approximate time when, in New York, an Englishman of great height with gray, lifeless hair that had once been blond was answering a baffled detective's question. The detective had asked "But are you searching for a boy or girl, Sir Aubrey?" and the Englishman replied, "So difficult to say, you know. I hardly—that is—er—know myself!"

The Englishman in New York wandered out into the crowded streets. Here he signaled a taxicab and was whirled toward a hotel which faced on an avenue known as Park. In the hotel he settled in a deep chair to look at a newspaper but he saw it not at all. He could think only of the young thing for whom he was searching. He felt that, from an ironic gesture of fate and because of the wickedness of his youth, his search would result in finding another girl. He almost cringed at a picture which, floating through his mind, gave him a vision of five blond, round-faced, dutiful daughters. His desire for a son mounted but the sturdy conscience that was his had made him decide that, no matter what the sex of the child, his offspring, he would do the proper thing for a man of his world to do. He sighed deeply. He was tired of the noise and the confusion around him and he was isolated by his loneliness.

For Hard Coughs Or Colds That Worry You

Creomulsion is made to give supreme help for coughs or colds. It combines seven helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is for quick relief, for safety.

But careful people, more and more, use it for every cough that starts. No one knows where a cough may lead. No one can tell which factor will do most. That depends on the type of cold.

Creomulsion costs a little more than lesser helps. But it means the utmost help. And it costs you nothing if it fails to bring the quick relief you seek. Your druggist guarantees it. Use it for safety's sake. (adv.)

365
perfect drying days
GUARANTEED
every year

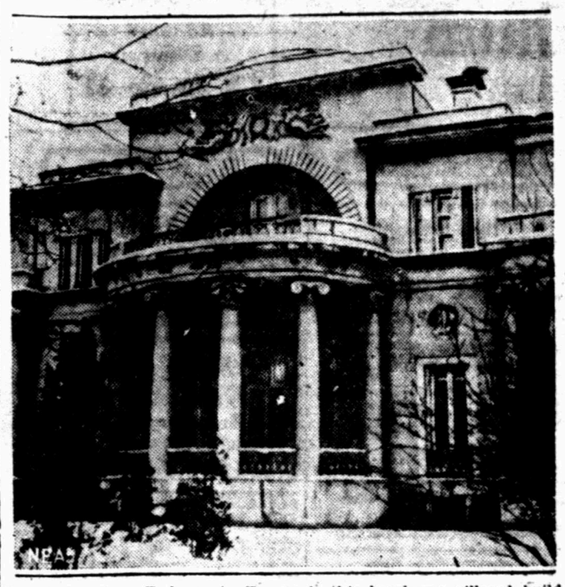

Every woman wishes for good weather on washday. But winter is no respecter of washdays; spring showers refuse to be controlled; and a mid-summer storm can spoil a morning's work in five minutes.

There is one way—a sure way—to guarantee that any day you choose will be a perfect day for drying. Put a Gas Laundry Dryer in your basement. It will save time, steps, spoiled clothes and frazzled nerves. In less time than it takes to wash them, clothes are dried snow-white and sweet-smelling as in a sunny summer breeze. The cost? Much less than you think. See your gas appliance dealer.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS GROUND FROM THE GRIST OF THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Good Fireman

PHILADELPHIA — The fire department sent one man to put out a fire and he succeeded in jig time.

Thomas Tobin, dispatcher at the fire bureau, got a telephone call from a worried huckster. "I left the gas burning when I ate breakfast," said the voice. "Could you send a fireman to put it out?"

Tobin saw the logic.

March Of Progress

WEIRTON, W. Va.—A stone house that was erected in 1792 and which served as headquarters for first settlers in wars against the Indians is going to be moved to make way for a modern type of warfare.

The ancient structure must go to provide space for a new athletic stadium the Weirton Steel company is building for the high school.

A Stern Judge

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Given the unusual privileges of sentencing her husband after his arraignment for drunkenness and disturbing the peace, Mrs. H. C. Wren said:

"He must have ten days."

Wren protested.

"Ten days," repeated his wife firmly.

"The judge says ten, and ten days it is," said Judge N. M. Hickman.

R. W. BARRY

Under Texas' Massive Capitol Dome

With R. W. Barry
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 21 (AP)—Scores of people who visit the capitol every day scan the faces of the legislators whose pictures line the walls of the two legislative chambers. There they are—every member of the house and every senator who has ever served.

Many who come to the capitol have a relative who was a lawmaker at some time. Some go around to "pick out grandfather's picture." A mother hunts out the likeness of her son or others search for the picture of a brother.

Changes Are Swift

It is interesting to study the pictures of members of a legislature of four or five years ago and note how many have dropped out of the active legislative "picture." Changes in politics are swift. Looking at the pictures of senators of five years ago one may count 15 faces that no longer are in that body with its membership of only 31. The picture of Senator Archie Parr of Benavides appears oftener than any other. He is the dean of the legislative contingent. His countenance smiles out from 10 frames.

Some of the legislators have their pictures in groups of both houses because they served either in the house before going to the senate or vice versa.

Report Erroneous

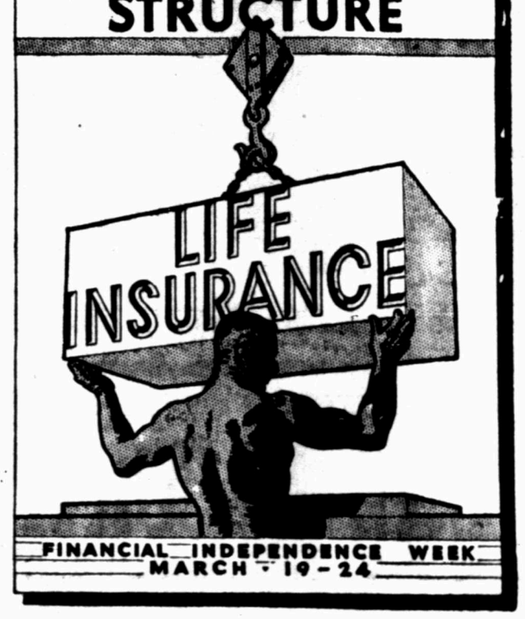

Somebody circulated an erroneous report that the Texas railroad commission planned to employ 40,000 men for work in the East Texas oil field. Of course, it was preposterous but that didn't keep job seekers from writing, telephoning and telegraphing members of the commission. They swamped Carl Estes of Tyler, seeking his "influence" with the commission until he was forced to place a notice in his newspaper asking them to cease. He explained, in addition to correcting the report, how far he fell short of having influence with the railroad commission.

RELICS UNCOVERED

MOSCOW (AP)—An expedition of the Academy of Science has excavated on the Desna river, near Briansk, sites of six mud huts containing household implements of the paleolithic age of 20,000 years ago. Bones of the mammoth, great northern elk wolf, bear and fox were found.

THE CORNER STONE OF MAN'S FINANCIAL STRUCTURE

It Continues to Shine

We all know the expression, "Behind the clouds the sun is always shining." We have had many clouds in the last four years; but life insurance continues to shine day after day, month after month, year after year.

It continues to do its job as it has done it for over one hundred years, bringing benefits to the people—keeping homes together, giving schooling to children, and giving mothers an opportunity to rear their families; making happy and serene the future years for thousands of men and women.

FACULTY BODY WILL MEET

PARLEY ON RELIGIOUS AND MORAL VAI ''ES TO BE AT T. C. U.

FORT WORTH, March 21. (AP)—A Texas faculty conference on moral and religious values will be held at Texas Christian university, March 23 to 25, under the auspices of the Southwest Council of Student Christian associations, Prof. C. R. Sherer of T.C.U., chairman of the local planning committee, announces.

"The purpose of the conference is to secure the counsel of interested faculty members as to the best way to foster moral and religious values in the colleges and universities of Texas," Prof. Sherer explained.

Wieman To Be Leader

Dr. Henry Nelson Weiman, professor of the philosophy of religion in the divinity school of the University of Chicago, will serve as leader of the conference. He will be assisted by Miss Winnefred Wygal, executive head of the student division of the Y.W.C.A.

The sessions of the conference will be held in the chapel of Brite college of the Bible, according to Prof. Sherer who said that between 35 and 40 Texas universities, colleges and junior colleges were expected to send delegates. Lists of delegates from 27 institutions totaling 103 persons have been received by Prof. Sherer.

"The conference is to be one of real discussion," Prof. Sherer commented. "Dr. Wieman will open each session with a short presentation of the topic. This will be followed by an hour or two of discussion."

DIRECTORS SELECTED BY MERCHANTS AT ANNUAL DINNER

SLATON, March 21 (Special)—Six directors of Slaton Retail Merchants association for the ensuing year were elected at the conclusion of the association's annual dinner last night in the community clubhouse.

N. R. Carter, H. H. Edmondson, W. M. Cates, Dr. Roy G. Loveless, Fred Schmidt, and Marvin Abernathy were chosen as directors.

Play Presented

Toastmaster at the dinner was Fagan Genn. After invocation by G. J. Catching, and mass singing of "America," with A. J. Payne at the piano, a one-act play was presented. Troy Pickens, Katrina Brewer, Mary Harlan were the cast, directed by Mrs. Ray Darwin.

A secretary's report was given by Mrs. Lee Green.

Speaks On History

John W. Hood spoke on "Slaton History, 1924," Mr. Payne on "Slaton At The Present, 1934," and Mr. Edmondson on "Slaton, Future, 1944."

A roundtable discussion and the election followed.

Trappers Realize Profit From Furs

BRADY, March 21. (AP)—Approximately $200,000 was realized by trappers in McCulloch, San Saba and Mills counties during the fur season which recently closed.

Figures compiled by Game Warden H. R. Morrell show that opossum, skunk, ringtail and civat cat, fox and raccoon were the principal fur bearing animals taken by the trappers. More than 100,000 of these pelts were marketed.

Badger, mink and beaver also brought lucrative returns to a number of hunters.

A total of 774 wildcats and 230 wild hogs were among the skins marketed in the three counties.

Taxpayers To Hold Greenville Confab

DALLAS, March 21. (AP)—Headquarters of the State Taxpayers association of Texas announces the annual statewide meeting of the association will be held at Greenville, Friday and Saturday, March 30 and 31.

The meeting will open at 2:00 p. m. Friday with an address of welcome by Dr. E. Williams of Celeste, president of the Hunt County Taxpayers association. D. M. Jones, Dallas, president of the state association, will make his annual address Friday afternoon.
