United Fund tops goal

By PAT BLAIR
Managing editor

The 1983 Aransas County United Fund achieved its goal for the first time in three years as donations and pledges pushed the campaign collections to $30,354.72 before the drive ended last week.

United Fund Secretary Lois Gurley added that, although the 1983 drive officially ended on Dec. 15, some additional donations remain outstanding — which means the final figure will be even higher.

A jubilant Rex Turner, chairman of the 1983 UF drive, summed up the feelings of this year's officers and directors on Monday, Dec. 19, saying, "We're delighted with the results."

Turner noted the donation that sent the campaign over the top was a $500 donation from Casterline Fish Co. in Fulton.

Turner said Monday he was "disappointed in the returns from the Aransas County business community" but said, "The individuals came through" in helping make this the most successful United Fund drive in recent years.

'We're delighted with the results'

Turner also had praise for Gurley and the other officers and directors of the 2983 drive, for the work they put into the campaign to make it a success.

Several area residents and businesses made $100 contributions to the campaign, including Jackson Seafood, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Little, Miriam G. Ferrell, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Lohoefener, Jack Guillett, McMahan Inc., Sandpiper Real Estate, Coastal Bend Sound & Marine and Baker-Haldeman.

Other officers of this year's campaign included Bob Ledbetter who served as Turner's drive co-chairman; Joel Zapata, 1983 UF president; Louise Wilken, vice president in charge of special contributions; Paul Brown, vice president and business chairman; Bill Janecek, budget chairman; Jim Blankenship, publicity chairman.

All of the money collected by the Aransas County United Fund is used to help fund Aransas County organizations and residents, UF officials emphasize.

Organizations that traditionally receive funds from the Aransas County United Fund include the Aransas County Council on Aging, the Aransas County Emergency Medical Service (paramedics), the Youth Council, Aransas County Emergency Corps (fire departments), ABC Learning Center, A.I.M. Home Health Agency, the Red Cross, Girl and Boy Scouting organizations, the Family Counseling Service and the USO.

The United Fund officers and directors will meet on Jan. 12 to elect new officers and directors and begin plans for the 1984 campaign. Allocations of money raised in this year's campaign will be made in February, according to Gurley.

FIREWORKS FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON will be sold by the Rockport-Fulton Soccer Association Dec. 20 - Jan. 1 at a booth in Pearson's Garden Center parking lot. Shown above are Jennifer Robertson and Mindy Nixon who were "helping" their parents with the task of sorting all the different types of fireworks that will be on sale. Proceeds from the booth will benefit the RFSA. The booth will be manned by soccer association parents — anyone wishing to volunteer to help may contact an RFSA board member.

5-year plan priorities viewed

A report by two members of the priorities planning committee during the Dec. 14 meeting presented board members with goals, objectives and programmatic actions to be included in the 5-year plan drawn up by the Aransas County Independent School District board of trustees.

Rockport-Fulton High School Assistant Principal Russell D. Segler and Live Oak Elementary School fifth grade teacher Vickie A. Moon presented the report of the 15-member committee to board members. Along with three main goals, 5-year improvement objectives and implementation strategies and resources were given.

The first and main goal, as outlined by the committee, is "to develop a positive attitude toward school and toward the learning process." Improvement objectives toward this goal include improvement of teacher techniques through workshops; implementation of a career counseling program through the use of visual aids; use of advanced college courses at the secondary education level; employment of a counselor at the elementary level; initiation of a student-parent-teacher involvement program; implementation of a vocational counseling unit at the secondary level as well as a special services counseling unit for children in special education.

Programmatic actions suggested by the committee for attainment of this main goal include improvement of teacher techniques through individualized instruction, grouping students according to ability, enrichment at all ability levels, teacher workshops during the school year and during the summer, the possibility of advanced college credit for teachers, grade level and/or departmental meetings and supplementary materials. In addition, the committee calls for improvement of student counseling services at both the elementary and secondary levels, implementation of a student-parent-teacher involvement program and implementation of a broad vocational program.

A second goal outlined by the committee is "to develop to the fullest extent possible each student's mastery of the basic skills in the use of words and numbers." Improvement objectives for this goal include instituting a Computer Instructional Management System for teachers and a Survival Skills program for students at the high school level. The Survival Skills program would teach competence in the areas of financial planning and budgeting, taxes, financing and employment.

In addition to the Survival Skills program to be implemented for grades 9 and 10, a strong emphasis on basic skills in math, English and reading would be implemented in grades 3 through 8.

The third goal, as presented by the committee, is "to enhance communications between and within the district and community. Improvement objectives associated with this goal include implementation of a communications program through student project nights, intra-campus communication and the public news media; development of a community resource program; development of parent-citizens programs and organizations; and development of a professional ethics program for the faculty and administrative personnel of the district.

School district awards air conditioning, energy bids

The Aransas County Independent School District board of trustees awarded bids Monday evening on air conditioning and energy management work to be done at Rockport Elementary School, Fulton Elementary School and Rockport-Fulton Junior High School.

The decision came during a special meeting of the board at 6 p.m. Dec. 19. Consultant Dick Brown of American Management Engineering tabulated the four bids received and made recommendations to the board regarding the work to be done.

Bids were received from Axiom Inc., Ike Manning, Moody Electric and Powermaster of Texas. Firms were asked to bid the four portions of the work separately. Part I includes all electrical work, all air conditioning work, a hood for the dishwasher at Rockport Elementary and exhaust fans for Fulton Elementary. Included in Part II is installation of an energy management system at Rockport and Fulton Elementary and modification of the existing heating and cooling system in the junior high school. Part III includes installation of a solar film on windows where applicable and Part IV includes installation of a drop ceiling in the Rockport Elementary kitchen.

Brown advised disqualifying Moody Electric since the firm did not include a bid bond as was required in the specifications.

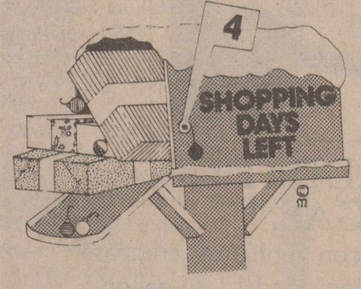

A motion by board member Jerry Brundrett Jr. to hire Ike Manning to perform the work outlined in Part I and Powermaster of Texas to perform Parts II, III and IV was seconded by board member Annabelle Henry and unanimously approved by the rest of the board. Board member Margaret Dick was absent from the meeting.

Manning bid a price of $240,000 for Part I and Powermaster bid a total of $50,380 for the remainder of the work. Board members will meet with Manning, the project's engineer and a representative of Central Power & Light Company at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 28, to finalize all plans and costs. Any savings on the project will be passed along to the school district.

All work on all phases of the project will be completed within 90 days from the time the contractor is notified to proceed with the work. The school board has up to 30 days from Dec. 19 to finalize plans for the project.

In other action, board members voted 5-0 in favor of giving a Christmas bonus to all salaried employees. Employees working less than four hours per day will receive a $100 bonus and those working more than 4 hours a day will receive a $200 bonus. Total cost to the school district is estimated at $53,000.

ACISD Superintendent E.J. Randow said that one reason for the bonus is that the 1983-84 budget did not include salary increases for district employees.

First freeze of season hits county

Aransas County residents who moved to South Texas to get away from the cold got a taste of what they were missing this week as the first freeze of the season hit home.

Residents awoke Monday to find the county ice-coated after temperatures hit an overnight low of 28 degrees. No major problems were reported although Central Power & Light Manager Joel Zapata said an "imbalance in the system caused by so many people turning on the heat" created "some problems" in the Copano Cove area.

Several area residents reported damage to unprotected plants and trees as a result of the frigid weather.

Tuesday night temperatures, although cold, did not bring ice and a slight warming was predicted until Thursday when another cold front was expected to move into the area.

Forecasts call for decreasing cloudiness with cold temperatures Wednesday through Friday. Lows in the low 40s and highs in the upper 50s are anticipated.

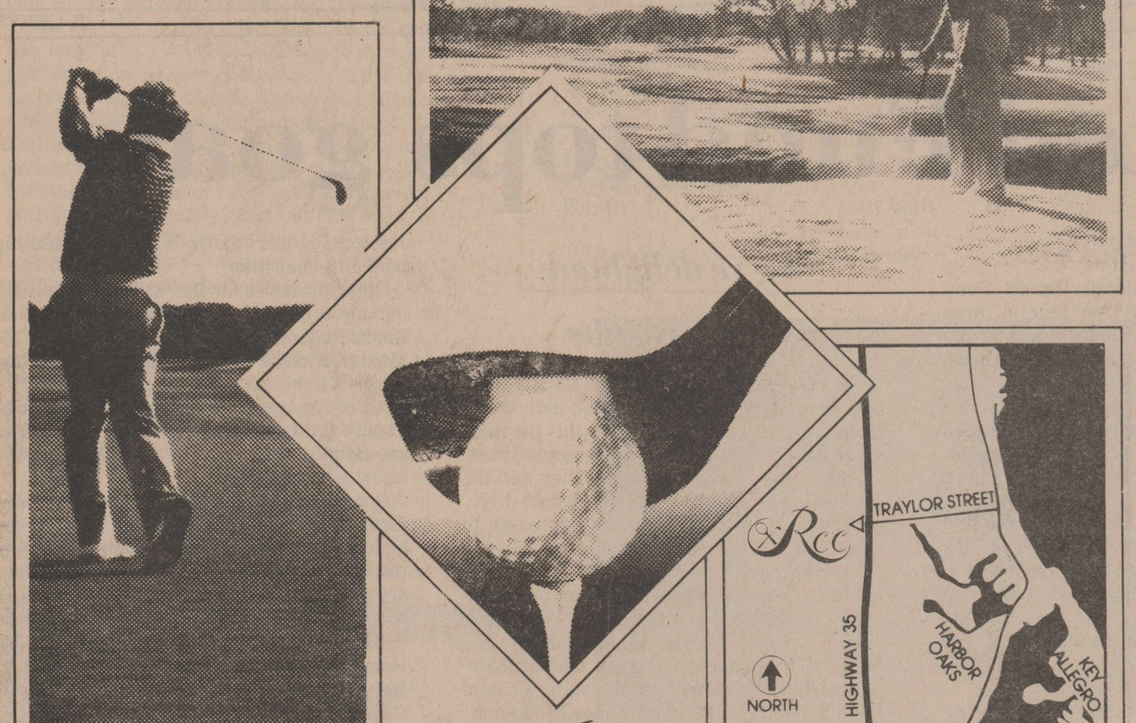

The weather that hit here was part of a nationwide chill from the Cascades to Cape Cod and brought record-shattering temperatures as low as 44 below zero to the Great Plains.

The Platte River froze in Nebraska and in Texas, where temperatures fell to near zero in the Panhandle and in the teens across the northern part of the state, water mains burst in several cities.

Traffic problems were reported in Corpus Christi where ice made going especially tough on the Harbor Bridge and caused some difficulties for Aransas County residents who commute to jobs in that city.

Care can keep Christmas merry

Accent on health

The stockings should be hung by the chimney with care — and care should be taken with a lot of other things at Christmastime to avoid a holiday tragedy.

"Once those presents under the tree are opened, gather up all the wrappings and remove them from the home," warns Dan Sowards, Chief of the Hazardous Products Branch of the Texas Department of Health.

"Many colored gift wrapping papers contain lead and sometimes chromium, copper and zinc. These materials can release toxic fumes if burned in the fireplace and can be harmful to children if they chew on them" he said.

Sowards has other holiday safety tips. In selecting a natural tree, the needles should be hard to pull from its branches, and branches shouldn't break when bent.

"Bounce the tree hard against the ground and you won't get a shower of needles if the tree is fresh," he said.

Christmas trees should be placed in a base containing water. Before mounting the tree, cut about two inches off the trunk to allow it to better absorb the water. Don't place the tree close to the fireplace or stove.

Check for the Underwriters' Laboratories "UL" label when selecting lights. Make sure all the connections are tight and that there are no frayed or bare wires on strings of lights. Never use Christmas lights on a metal tree, because they increase the danger of shock. Christmas tree lights should not be left on all night or while you are away from home.

If you have children who pop things into their mouths, avoid trimming the tree with small or shiny ornaments like tinsel, icicles or tiny lights that may look good enough to eat.

Some traditional Christmas plants shouldn't be kept in homes with very small children. Mistletoe, holly berries, Jerusalem cherry, amaryllis and poinsettia can cause severe gastrointestinal illnesses and even death if ingested.

Many homeowners dispose of their Christmas trees at the end of the holiday season by burning them in their fireplaces. If one branch is burned at a time, this shouldn't cause any problems. But piling up a big mound of branches could cause crackling and popping and a large number of sparks.

For more information, contact Dan Sowards, Hazardous Products Branch, Texas Department of Health, 1100 West 49th Street, Austin, Texas 78756. Phone: 512/458-7519.

White announces new job program

AUSTIN — Governor Mark White has announced a new job training program that will reimburse Texas businesses up to $10,000 for the cost of hiring and training long-term unemployed Korean and Vietnam era veterans.

Congress appropriated $150 million to fund this program nationwide under the recently adopted federal Emergency Veteran's Job Training Act of 1983.

Veterans who have been out of work at least 15 weeks can participate in this program. Private employers could receive a maximum $10,000 for the cost of training one veteran.

Money available for the veterans jobs program will be distributed on a first come, first served basis with no limitation on the portion available to Texas. The amount spent to assist Texas veterans will depend entirely on the number of veterans and employers participating in the program.

Texas has the third largest population of veterans — 1.7 million — of the 50 states. Out of this number, 237,000 are Korean era veterans and 490,000 are Vietnam veterans.

Governor White urged the 34 local Private Industry Councils, responsible for planning and oversight of job training programs throughout the state, to actively market this program to the business community.

"This program can greatly benefit unemployed veterans in Texas," Governor White said, "I strongly encourage veterans and Texas employers to immediately contact the Texas Employment Commission for further information."

The Houston Veteran's Administration Regional Office will distribute funds for this program nationwide.

Still 1-0 for District

RFHS Pirate varsity takes three losses in Calhoun tourney

The Rockport-Fulton varsity Pirates were disappointed this weekend in the Port Lavaca Calhoun tournament, losing three games in a row — first dropping a close first game to Calhoun; then losing 42-71 to Miller and finally falling 30-76 to Flour Bluff. This leaves the Pirates 3-7 overall but with a sound 1-0 district record.

"We should have won the Port Lavaca game," said Pirate coach Bobby Flanagan. "It looked like they tried to give it to us." In that first game of the tourney, the Pirates left the first inning four points ahead of Calhoun. They led by one point at the half but had fallen behind during the third. Trailing in the final quarter, the Pirates tried to catch up with Calhoun throughout the period but lost the contest 48-51.

High point for the first night and throughout the tournament was Bill Mott. He earned 17 points in the Calhoun game, six baskets and five of 10 free throws. Right under Mott, with 12 points for the night, was Jay Turner. Both outscored Calhoun's leader, who only managed 10 points.

Along with Trinelle Walls, Mott and Turner turned in the Pirates' 14 points for the first quarter. Leading 14-10, the Pirates went into the second where Turner only managed one basket, Mott none at all and Louis Solis got two. Steve Odom put two more buckets across for 28 Pirate points, only one ahead of Calhoun. Five of those were free throws from the much-fouled Mott.

Only eight points, four each from Turner and Mott, weren't enough to keep that slim lead up in the third and the Pirates trailed 42-36 going out of the quarter. Calhoun only scored nine points in the last period, four baskets and a free throw. The Pirates scored 12, four on buckets from Solis but the third quarter had hurt them and they couldn't catch up.

The Pirates had nine fouls for the first half to Calhoun's 15 and 10 fouls in the second to their nine. Making only 35 percent of their shots for the night, RF made 10 free throws out of 26. Calhoun was shooting 55 percent for the game.

The Pirates never seemed to be in the game for the Miller contest. Trailing 9 to 20 at the end of the first quarter, only Turner, Mott and Solis scored, with Mott making two baskets and a free throw.

Miller doubled the Pirates' 11 points in the second to take the half 42-20. The third was just as bad for the Pirates. With only 11 points again, they went out of the quarter 31-56. Eleven more in the fourth wasn't enough — Miller got 15 and took the game.

High point man Mott managed 15 points on six baskets and three out of 10 free throws. Steve Odom was closest to Mott with only five points. Walls, Turner and Adan Garcia were all held to four points each.

The Flour Bluff debacle was even worse for the Pirates. Mott still played well, taking 16 hard-fought points but Flour Bluff held RF at bay throughout the game. The Pirates were behind 8-18 at the end of the first; 14-28 at the half; 18-59 in their saddest quarter of the tournament, the third; and going out of the game at 30-76.

Public deer hunts are successful

AUSTIN — Deer hunting has been good during public hunts on Texas Parks and Wildlife Department wildlife management areas, although unseasonably warm weather held hunter success down in some cases.

Hunting has been good at the James E. Daughtery area in McMullen County, where about 50 percent of the hunters harvested deer. Wildlife Technician Kim Powell said the 107 deer taken were in good condition, with the bucks averaging 110-115 pounds field dressed.

However, some trophy bucks have been taken, including an eight-pointer with a 21½-inch spread and a 13-pointer that weighed 140 pounds field dressed. The heaviest brought in was an eight-pointer weighing 153 pounds, he said. The total harvest was 125 deer, 58 of which were bucks.

Excellent hunting was reported at the Kerr W.M.A. in Kerr County, where hunters harvested 151 deer and had a 70 percent success rate. Technician Mel Anderegg said the normal success rate is in the 35- to 40-percent range.

Biologist Hayden Haucke reported excellent hunting at the Gus Engeling W.M.A. near Palestine in East Texas. "We set a quota of 44 bucks, with a goal of harvesting 25 percent of the estimated number of bucks on the area, and we made the quota by the end of the third hunt," Haucke said.

He said hunters took 161 deer, which included the archery total, and all the deer were in excellent body condition. Hunter success was around 50 percent for the opening weekend, and remained almost that high in subsequent hunts, he said. One eight-point buck field dressed at 135 pounds, and another was 8½ years old which is unusual for buck deer in that region.

Hunting success was off somewhat at the Sierra Diablo W.M.A. in Culberson County, although hunter success was averaging around 50 percent on most of the hunts.

Hunting was excellent at the Matagorda Island W.M.A., where 44 hunters got 36 deer on the first two weekend hunts. Quail and waterfowl hunting also has been excellent, officials said.

New program focuses on children in intensive care

HOUSTON — One tube connects the sleeping 4-month-old boy to a respirator, another gives him intravenous feeding. Stuffed toys surround him in his crib, as bedside machines perform continuous cardiorespiratory monitoring.

Now weighing 10 pounds, he was born with heart and lung abnormalities. The lung defect has been corrected, but he must gain another 5 pounds before surgeons can correct his heart problem. Several nurses and doctors are within sight. As long as he remains in the pediatric intensive care unit, he'll be watched closely; he will be in careful hands.

Dr. Hugo Carvajal believes that, as good as the care that child receives is, it can get better. And better.

As head of the University of Texas Medical School at Houston's new Pediatric Critical Care Program, and director of Hermann Hospital's pediatric intensive care unit (ICU), Carvajal has some plans to ensure that the 1,000 or so kids who go through the ICU each year get the best care possible.

"If we are successful in organizing and standardizing care, as well as in developing new treatment programs," Carvajal said, "not only will the survival of these patients improve, but their hospital stay will become shorter in the ICU," he said. "We'll be able to take care of more patients.

"First of all, we want to standardize treatment," he said, "so that even though you have several physicians and surgeons who collaborate in the care of the patients, most major conditions will be treated according to a predetermined protocol."

That's similar to the way critically burned patients were handled at Shriners' Burn Institute in Galveston, where Carvajal spent 11 years as chief of pediatrics: all care there was standardized.

"To me that is extemely important," he said, "and I think that's the aspect that contribtuted most to the improved survival of burned children in Galveston.

"When you have multiple physicians, everybody is likely to introduce multiple treatments," he said. "So when you start analyzing the data as to which program may be superior, it becomes an insurmountable if not impossible task."

While responsibility for the ICU has been shared on a rotational basis by a number of doctors in the past, Carvajal and two other recently arrived physicians now have pediatric intensive care as their primary responsibility.

The other physicians are Dr. Nancy Glass, formerly of Children's Hospital in Washington, D.C., and Dr. Ambrose Vallone, who arrived in July from Yale University.

The three provide 24-hour care for patients in Herman's 15 bed- unit, which is almost always full. Having three physicians in the division "will allow us to provide continuous coverage for all of the patients, while at the same time giving us the opportunity to teach and to research," Carvajal noted, "and these are esential activities as well."

"I really think that if we are going to make an impact in the care of these patients, we will have to develop new methods of treatment and test new programs," he said. "And there's no doubt in my mind that many of the programs that we will be implementing in the future will be developed right here."

In the newly organized ICU, the three intensive care physicians are working closely with pediatric surgeons, plastic surgeons, cardiovascular surgeons and neurosurgeons, Carvajal said. "In essence, we have developed a true team approach to the patient," he said.

That's beneficial not only to the patients and the physicians, he said, but provides an ideal setting to teach medical students, residents and fellows.

Carvajal sees room for real improvement in the care of kids who are under intensive care.

One reason Carvajal cites for increased success with pediatric burn patients in Galveston is that treatment was addressed specifically to the child patient, instead of being extrapolated from data gathered in adults. The same approach is now being applied to pediatric intensive care.

"Pediatric intensive care is a new field," he said, "and I think the future is bright. It we take the management of these patients in a methodic fashion and we go step by step, there's no way that we cannot make strides."

Congressman Ron Paul urges President to strengthen defense

WASHINGTON — Continuing to press for defensive weapons, Congressman Ron Paul (R-Texas) has commended the Reagan Administration for plans to proceed with the development of weapons capable of repelling nuclear attacks.

"I am very heartened and encouraged by this news," Congressman Paul said in a letter to President Reagan, "for it means that the American people will actually be defended against a strategic attack for the first time since the age of the ICBMs began."

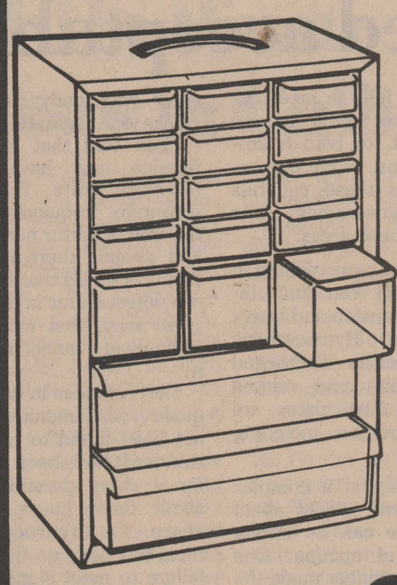

During the Eisenhower Administration, the United States possessed thousands of interceptor aircraft stationed within its borders, capable of stopping any bomber attempting to penetrate American airspace.

With the development and deployment of the intercontinental ballistic missiles and the adoption of the "immoral and suicidal" policy of Mutual Assured Destruction, Americans were left totally defenseless and subject to devastation on a scale greater than that recently portrayed on national television, Paul charged.

"The decision of your administration to proceed with a genuine defense system is of the greatest importance; it signals a complete break with the MAD policies of the past two decades," Congressman Paul told the president.

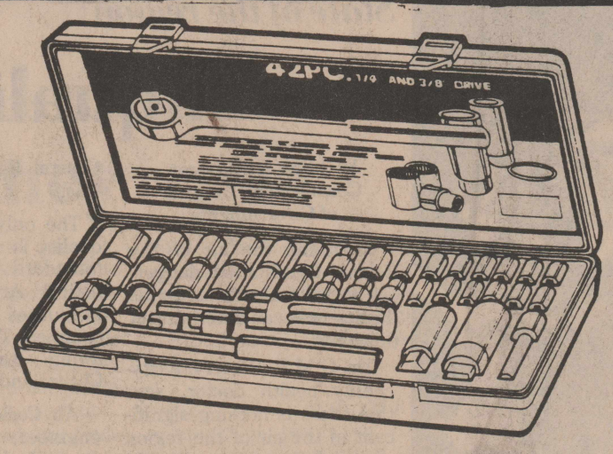

An active supporter of the space defense system High Frontier, Congressman Paul said additional appropriations would not be necessary to fund this program.

He recommended instead "diverting some of the funds now targeted for offensive weapons systems to the rapid development of weapons that will actually defend American lives and territory."

Air quality deemed acceptable

by Juliet K. Wenger
Coastal Bend Council of Governments

Breathing the air of the Coastal Bend is not dangerous to your health as far as the sciences can determine at this time.

Dr. C.M.P. Buttery, a city-county health doctor, says that there is nothing significant in the air of the region as it relates to your health. Asked what that cautious wording meant, he said that is means 20 years from now something could be learned that we don't know today about a detrimental effect.

The only things in the air that are known to cause health problems are seeds or pollen to which individuals are allergic. There is no pollen count taken within the Coastal Bend so no figures exist.

The only sampling of air quality is within the SMSA (Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area) which takes in Nueces and San Patricio counties. There is one monitoring station in Corpus Christi and one near Odem.

Ab Cock, a public health engineer, has advised the Council of Governments Environmental Quality Committee that the Environmental Protection Agency has requested the Texas Air Quality Board to move the Odem site to the west part of Corpus Christi.

There are no restrictions on other parts of the Coastal Bend on industry and construction because of air quality problems. However, the SMSA fails to meet the standards set by the federal government for both hydrocarbons and particulates. This makes these counties what the government calls non-attainment areas.

In extreme cases, falling in this category can limit industrial expansion and heavy construction. Hydrocarbons are by-products discharged by petroleum and related industries. Particulates are minute particles including dust.

Air quality is a complex and technical subject about which there can be strong difference of opinion. One industrial engineer made the statement that you could live and breathe for one year in the Coastal Bend and not inhale as many particulates as enter your body when you smoke one cigarette.

Cock said that most refineries now have sulfer recovery units. However, passersby frequently report the odor of surfur near plants and assume there is pollution. Cock said that the nose can detect sulfur in a quantity so small that monitoring instruments cannot measure it.

The instances in which air quality, when monitored, has not been found to be up to standards have been few and for a short duration, only about three hours in two years. On hydrocarbons, there has been no finding of failure to meet standards in the past year. Cock said he expects air quality to be acceptable in all respects within six months.

Static can cause computer glitches

When you give your home computer definite instructions and end up with a totally unexpected result, don't automatically assume you didn't read you instruction book properly. Experts say a prime cause of computer system interruptions is static electricity.

Static control specialists at ACL Incorporated, developers of Staticide® products, estimate that one out of three unscheduled computer service calls in industry result from static in the user's environment. Beside inconvenience and frustration, static can literally blow a computer's mind, damaging vital components.

Glitches caused by static can range from an occasional unexplained cursor jump to jumbled letters or numbers to loss of a diskful of data.

Home computerists face the same risks — because static can occur anywhere if proper preventive measures aren't taken.

Static is caused when any two materials come in contact and separate. Common sources are shoesoles against carpeting, chair casters against floor or mats, and clothing against clothing. Sliding papers across a table develops significant voltages; even the movement of air past a surface results in static buildup.

Static charges of a few hundred volts can distract your computer's memory. This can happen even if nothing touches your equipment — electrical fields around a charged object can affect computer circuits from several feet away.

Until recently, static control has been aimed at "bleeding off" charges after they have formed: Grounding wires attached to people and equipment, grounded floor mats and devices to create neutralizing ions in the air.

The new, much more effective approach is to prevent static from forming in the first place. An invisible, non-damaging, non-toxic, protective barrier is easily formed on any surface by simply spraying, wiping or dipping methods using an antistatic solution. This "antistat" treatment not only inhibits charge formation but also dissipates charges brought into an area on people or objects.

And there's a bonus. Antistats also work to keep dust particles from being attracted to surfaces, so your VDT display or TV monitor stays sharp and clear.

RFHS students named to 'Who's Who' publication

Thirteen Rockport-Fulton High School students and two Aransas Pass High School students are among those featured in the 17th annual edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students 1982-83," published by Educational Communications Inc. of Lake Forest, Ill.

"Who's Who" is the largest high school recognition publication in the United States. Students are selected by high school principals, guidance counselors, national youth groups, churches or by the publishing company, based upon students' performance in scholarship award contests or extra-curricular activities.

Final selection is based on criteria which include high achievement in academics and leadership in school activities, athletics or community service. Traditionally, 99 percent of "Who's Who" students have a grade point average of "B" or better and 97 percent are college bound.

Local students selected for this year's volumes are Keith Morrison, Tracy Schifano, David C. Perkins Jr., Amy Barlass, Robert Dingenary, Brady Laqua, Rhea D. Morales, Greg Shellenbergar, Mona Cowen, Sandra Drake, Milissa Mayes, Barbara Gail Satsky and Patricia Diane Wood, all of Rockport-Fulton High School. Aransas Pass High School students included are Edwin P. Barrera and Julie Torans.

The 17th annual edition of "Who's Who," published in nine regional volumes, features 375,000 students, or 5 percent of the nation's 6.5 million high school juniors and seniors. They represent 18,000 of the 22,000 public, private and parochial high schools in the country.

"Who's Who" students also compete for over $50,000 in scholarship awards. In addition, they participate in the publication's annual opinion poll of teen attitudes, a book of which is distributed on a complimentary basis to over 15,000 high schools, colleges, universities and public libraries all over the country.

A DANCE by butterflies in the Fulton Elementary Christmas program Thursday evening, Dec. 16, was just part of the evening's fun. The program also included performances by birds, grasshoppers, ladybugs, fireflies, rabbits, birds and angels, as well as the traditional Christmas characters.

Trade school information available

Information is available in the Rockport-Fulton High School guidance office for students planning to attend technical or trade schools after graduation from high school.

These schools have been approved by the Texas Education Agency and provide training in such fields as art, accounting, automotive and diesel truck mechanics, computer programming, court reporting, electronics, fashion design, secretarial skills, welding and word processing. Financial aid and scholarships are available for many of these programs.

Interested seniors should apply for for scholarships for the 1984-85 school year. Many organizations have applications in the guidance office.

It is important that students check the guidance office bulletin boards and read the monthly newsletter for more information. Students are also encouraged to speak with the financial aid offices of the colleges or other schools they plan to attend to find out about additional scholarships.

Financial aid forms are available in the guidance office during December. The counselor will conduct a financial aid workshop for interested parents in January.

The RFHS guidance office also reports that students in government classes will soon be administered the Vocational Interest Experience and Skill Assessment (VIESA) by Eleanor Venable, counselor. VIESA is a self-scored interest inventory which provides students leads on occupations in line with their interests, experiences and skills.

Each student will also receive a copy of job family charts and has the opportunity to investigate the level of formal preparation (education and training) required in the job of his choice.

The job family charts lists 500 jobs which employ more than 95 percent of the United States labor force. Additional information about specific jobs may be obtained from the school library and the guidance counselor.

Representatives from Princeton University and Texas A&I University in Kingsville were on campus in October to talk with students interested in attending these schools.

From time to time, information is posted regarding College Days at various colleges and universities in the area. On Saturday, Nov. 11, students were invited to the University of Texas at Austin and on Saturday, Nov. 19, students were invited to visit Southwest Texas State University.

Correction

The Dec. 14 edition of The Pilot erroneously stated that the Voice of Democracy contest at Rockport-Fulton High School was sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution. The contest was actually sponsored by local Stewart-Wendell VFW Post 3904. The Pilot regrets the error.

Early county history presented

Local realtor Raulie Irwin recently gave a slide presentation and lecture on the early history of the Rockport-Fulton area to the fourth, fifth and Allegro students at Fulton Elementary School. He showed slides of the people who were instrumental in the development of the area, their homes, hotels, schools and businesses, as well as some shots of the 1919 hurricane that destroyed parts of the town and area. The presentation was very educational.

Irwin made the same presentation to the third, fourth, fifth and Allegro students at Rockport Elementary School.

Possible curriculum changes outlined

Aransas County Independent School District Superintendent E.J. Randow outlined proposed curriculum changes during the Wednesday, Dec. 14, meeting of the ACISD board of trustees. The changes were developed by the Texas Education Association in response to a curriculum revision bill passed by the 67th state Legislature.

TEA has passed on first reading a course of study for grades Kindergarten through 12, complete with recommended time frames. The state board has established 12 subject areas which will constitute a well-balanced curriculum and is in the process of developing the "essential elements" of this curriculum by subject and grade level.

The proposed course of study for the elementary grades include instruction in English language arts for no less than 40 percent of the instructional day for students in kindergarten, no less than 120 minutes per day for grades 1-3 and no less than 90 minutes per day for grades 4-6. Mathematics requirements are to include no less than 20 percent of the instructional day devoted to mathematics for kindergarten students; and no less than 60 minutes per day of instruction for students in grades 1-6. The TEA proposals will also require daily physical education in grades kindergarten through 3, and 120 minutes per week for students in grades 4-6.

Other proposed requirements include weekly instruction in fine arts for students in grades K-3 and 120 minutes per week for students in grades 4-6. Health instruction is to be weekly in grades K-3 and should equal 60 minutes per week in grades 4-6. Science instruction will be required weekly in kindergarten, with 100 minutes per week required in grades 1-3 and no less than 45 minutes per day required in grades 4-6. Social studies requirements will be the same as those for science.

The proposed state junior high school requirements will include at least six 45-minute periods of instruction per day. Rockport-Fulton Junior High School now requires seven 50-minute periods per day.

RFJH currently meets the proposed state graduation requirements of two units of English language arts, two units of mathematics, one unit of life science, one unit of earth science, one unit of Texas history/geography, one unit of U.S. history/citizenship and two and a half elective units. The state will require one unit of physical education — RFJH currently requires two units. In addition, RFJH has a one and a half-unit reading requirement which the state does not have. However, the district will have to introduce a computer literacy program for one-half unit of credit to meet proposed state requirements.

"Just because in some areas we are at or above state levels, I don't think we should back off," the superintendent told board members.

The current and proposed high school requirements are outlined in the following table:

COURSE	CURRENT STATE REQUIRED	PROPOSED STATE REQUIRED	CURRENT LOCAL REQUIRED	PROPOSED STATE ADVANCED	CURRENT LOCAL COLLEGE BOUND
English	3 units	4 units	3 units	4 units	4 units
Mathematics	2 units	3 units	2 units	3 units	4 units
Science	2 units	2 units	2 units	3 units	4 units
American History	1 unit	1 unit	1 unit	1 unit	1 unit
World History	1 unit	1 unit	1 unit	1 unit	1 unit
American Government	½ unit	1 unit	1 unit	1 unit	1 unit
Health	½ unit	½ unit	½ unit	½ unit	½ unit
Physical Education	1½ units	1½ units	1½ units	1½ units	1½ units
Foreign Language				2 units	2 units
Electives	6½ units	7 units	8 units	5 units	5 units
Total Required	18 units	21 units	20 units	22 units	24 units

Of the high school elective units required, one unit must be in the area of computer science; one additional unit is to be required in math, science or language; and one unit will be required in the area of fine arts.

In January, TEA's recommendations for curriculum will be submitted to a meeting of the state board and the commissioner of education. If approved, the dissemination of rules and transition plan will be submitted to the schools in May so school districts may begin implementation of the rules and transition plan in August.

Priorities

Both Segler and Moon urged adoption of the 5-year priorities plan, which would then be sent to the Texas Education Association for approval. TEA would then require progress to be monitored through a series of annual reports.

The board thanked Segler and Moon, as well as the rest of the committee, and took the plan under advisement for possible inclusion in the district's 5-year master plan. A workshop on the master plan has been scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 7.

THIS WAS THE SCENE at the explosions and fire which wracked the storage tank facilities at the Redfish Bay Terminals in Aransas Pass Friday. Three men were hurt, two of them seriously, when a cutting torch touched off the explosions. Firefighters from several surrounding areas, including Rockport, were called to the scene to help fight the ensuing blaze. (Photo by Leslie Abrams)

Low interest housing loans available to veterans

Texas' 1.8 million veterans received the Christmas present Texas Land Commissioner Gary Mauro had promised them last week — housing loans below 10 percent — as the Veterans Land Board set a 9.97 percent interest rate on the first $85 million in bonds sold to fund the Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program.

The newly-created program offers $20,000 loans to veterans to apply toward the purchase of a home.

The Board also accepted a bid proposal from The Lomas and Nettleton Company of Dallas to serve as administrator for the housing program.

"We're pleased to be able to offer such an attractive rate to the thousands of Texas veterans waiting to participate in this program and to have the services of one of the largest and most respected financial consultants in the country," Mauro said.

Mauro, who serves as chairman of the Veterans Land Board, said the competitive rate was obtained by "aggressive marketing of our bonds and is significantly lower than other available fixed-rate commercial mortgages."

An investment syndicate headed by First Boston Corp. of New York submitted the winning bid to underwrite the initial sale of bonds. The bid followed personal visits by Mauro to the major bond markets in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Boston. Mauro said his presentations were intended "to draw attention to the strength of these high-yield, top-quality bonds in an uncertain bond market currently flooded with year end bond issues."

Nearly 4,000 Texas investors also received letters from Mauro urging them to "Buy Texas" and to "strengthen their portfolios through this exceptional investment opportunity."

Richard Keahey, Investments Director for the Veterans Land Board, said Mauro's efforts to obtain a more competitive bond rate may have reduced the amount veterans have to pay by as much as $1,500 on a 30-year note.

Keahey said by taking advantage of the 9.97 rate veterans can expect to save as much as $18,000 over the life of the loan when compared to other current conventional rates.

John Clayton, senior vice-president with InterFirst Bank of Dallas, the financial adviser for the bond sale, said aggressive promotion of the bond sale was a definite factor in getting such an attractive rate. "It's my belief that Commissioner Mauro's aggressive marketing of the bonds reduced the interest rate veterans have to pay by at least one-fourth of 1 percent. This is a significant savings over the life of the loan," he said.

Lomas and Nettleton are one of the nation's leading mortgage banking institutions with 1,157 employees in Texas and 30 branch offices throughout the state. They presently serve as administrators for housing agencies in Alabama, Ohio, Mississippi and Oklahoma.

A spokesman for Lomas and Nettleton said over 270 lending institutions have requested information on participating in the program. He said lender packets and application forms are now being mailed out and Lomas and Nettleton will begin qualifying lenders as quickly as they respond.

Use care when selecting trees

By MIKE ROTHROCK
County Extension Agent-AG
San Patricio & Aransas Counties

Trees are an important part of any home landscape and homeowners need to be aware of the many varieties and uses of trees before making their selections.

Select trees to perform specific jobs or solve certain problems in the landscape. For example, they can be used as shade, as a windbreak or as a buffer against traffic or other noises.

They can have aesthetic qualities — enhancing a view, serving as a background or screening an objectionable sight. Limbs and foliage provide pattern and texture while a variety of flowers, fruit and foliage provide color and beauty.

Giving a little thought and consideration to selecting landscape trees can provide much satisfaction in the finished landscape planting. It can also prevent costly maintenance or even replacement at a later date.

Consider the different characteristic of trees — such as shape, ultimate size, foliage texture and color and growth rate — when making your selection.

Be cautious in selecting fast-growing trees, since many of these are also soft and brittle, easily damaged by wind or have a relatively short life.

At the same time, many slow-growing trees, like live oak, will grow rapidly if watered and fertilized properly.

When selecting a young tree, remember that the biggest size is not always the best. A young tree with a 1- to 2-inch trunk diameter will usually become re-established faster and surpass a much larger tree planted at the same time.

Two green lights cause auto accident

One man was ticketed for failure to yield right-of-way to oncoming traffic following a three-vehicle accident at the intersection of South Bronte and East Market Street Friday afternoon, Dec. 16.

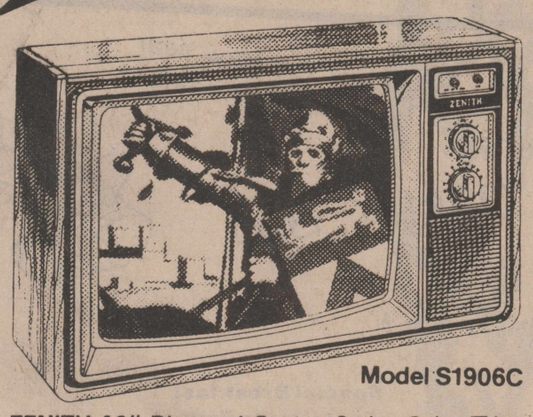

Pascual Torres Martinez of Sinton was traveling north on Bronte Street and Hortense Mitchell Huff of Rockport was southbound on Bronte when Martinez attempted a left turn onto Market Street, failing to yield right-of-way to Huff, resulting in a collision. The momentum carried Martinez' vehicle into a large truck driven by Laurence Erwin Bush of Mega, Ark. Bush was stopped for a red light at the time of the collision.

No injuries were reported in an accident at the intersection of Liberty and Austin Streets Thursday morning, Dec. 15. According to witnesses, both drivers Shirley Joan Justice of Rockport and T.E. Griffith of Rockport had green lights even though Justice was eastbound on Liberty Street and Griffith was northbound on Austin Street.

John Howard Jr. of Rockport was uninjured after a collision which occured when he fell asleep at the wheel Saturday afternoon on Hwy. 35 North. Howard was traveling north on Hwy. 35 when he fell asleep and his vehicle drifted off the road into the parking lot of Live Oak Real Estate, striking a sign there. He was not ticketed.

Chris Mealy meets with Aransas County Republicans

Hosted by the county Republican women's organization, the occasion gave Mealy an opportunity to meet Rose (Mrs. Richard) Smith, incoming president of the Republican Women's Club as well as other members of the county's Republican organization.

"When I found out about this party," Mealy said during a brief interview Thursday, "I told Peggy I wanted to come, even for just a little while."

A former assistant general counsel in charge of the anti-crime, anti-drug program under then-Governor Bill Clements, Mealy entered the campaign for Patman's post "full-time" this past Oct. 1, he said.

"I actually have been in the campaign since February of this year," he added. "I filed with the Federal Election Commission on Sept. 29." He added he will make a formal announcement of his candidacy and file with the State of Texas as a candidate in January.

Mealy said he began campaigning after being approached "by several people to enter the race against Patman.

"Many people," Mealy continued, "were disappointed in the failure of the current Congressman to take stands on issues affecting this district." He charged that Patman has demonstrated "an unwillingness and what I feel is an inability to take a possibly controversial stand.

"On all issues I can find affecting this district," Mealy added, "if it's controversial, he's not going to take a position."

Noting that "this area (Aransas County) is strongly conservative," Mealy said he felt a Republican candidate could offer the conservatism the people of this area desire and added he has demonstrated that he has a broad base of appeal to Democrats and independents as well as members of his own party.

As proof of this, Mealy points out he was Llano County attorney for seven years "during which I was the only Republican ever elected to county office in Llano."

In addition, he said, he was elected to the post of president of the Texas District and County Attorneys' Association at a time when, out of 334 elected prosecutors in the state, only five were Republicans.

Mealy said a 1982 survey of Patman's financial support showed that 45 percent of that support came from himself in the form of loans to his election committee and 22.4 percent was in the form of contributions from Patman to his committee.

"Only 13.3 percent of Patman's support came from individuals," Mealy said. He added this is an indication that "although he (Patman) has succeeded in getting elected twice, the support he has is not deep."

Mealy said he has already established election committees in the three counties showing the largest number of primary votes in the 14th district: Williamson, Guadalupe and Victoria. He added Aransas County ranks fourth in the number of primary votes.

The 38-year-old candidate is a resident of Georgetown in Williamson County, is married and has two daughters. He is a graduate of Ohio State University and the South Texas College of Law in Houston, a U.S. Air Force veteran and member of the Retired Active Reserve.

He was admitted to the Texas Bar in 1974, appointed Llano County attorney in 1976 after two years in private practice then was elected to two terms as county attorney. In 1982 he resigned to assume his position in Clements' administration, serving in that post until 1983.

Man arrested following chase

Aransas County sheriff's deputies arrested one man on charges of criminal trespass after he was found on the outside upper level of the Aransas County Jail at approximately 10:45 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 15.

Raymond Lee Ditmore of Rockport was arrested after a sheriff's deputy and two Rockport police officers gave chase on foot. Jailer Jerri Larrimore had observed Ditmore sitting on the concrete landing on the outside upper level of the jail facility and alerted authorities. Ditmore was apprehended in the back yard of a Liberty Street residence and was also charged with evading arrest.

Phillip Hernandez of Rockport was charged with aggravated assault on a peace officer following an incident at the Aransas County Jail early Thursday morning, Dec. 15.

Hernandez was reportedly being placed in a jail cell by sheriff's deputy Paul H. Brown, Rockport police officer Bob Hunnicutt and jailer Cynthia Moreno when Hernandez struck Brown in the face with his fist. Brown suffered a bloody nose, a cut on the right side of the mouth, a swollen lip and a bruised jaw.

The winners of game afternoon on Thursday, Dec. 15, were Arnold Korpi and Maxine Eckhart in bridge. Korpi's score was 5,130. The finale winners were Floyd Dailey and Van Moore.

The next game afternoon will be at 1 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 29, at the Paws and Taws Building.

Velma Ramsey, coordinator for the Tax Aid Program, advises that the school for training volunteers will be held on Jan. 9-12 at Allied Live Oak Center on Hwy. 35. Qualified instructors will conduct these sessions, beginning at 10 a.m.

Christmas trees can trigger asthma

Can Christmas trees produce a wheeze?

They can, according to the American Lung Association (ALA) of Texas. For the two million children under 17 who have asthma, the Christmas season harbors a number of triggers that can bring on an asthma episode.

First is the seemingly harmless Christmas tree. Mold often begins to accumulate on the branches, especially if the tree has been cut several weeks before. When the tree begins to dry out, the mold spores are released. These spores are a trigger for many people with asthma.

Be sure to pick gifts for the child with asthma carefully, ALA officials say. Pets are often poor gifts, because of their dander; stuffed toy animals too can be a problem. They retain dust and can become a home for the house dust mite.

The Lung Association warns that all clothing should be washed or dry-cleaned before it is put on for the first time to remove the finishing materials used by the manufacturer to which many children with asthma are allergic.

Even colognes, perfumes, scented soap and other such products can produce an allergic reaction in the asthmatic child.

The American Lung Association of Texas and more than 200 other Lung Associations throughout the United States fight asthma and other lung diseases. Christmas Seal contributions are a major source of funding for this important work. Each Texan is urged to answer their Christmas Seal letter promptly and generously.

For more information about asthma and other lung diseases contact the American Lung Association of Texas, 7701 N. Lamar Blvd., Suite 104, Austin, Texas 78752-1088.

Attendance is up in 1983 at Six Flags over Texas

ARLINGTON — More than two and a half million persons visited Six Flags Over Texas during the 1983 season that ended Nov. 27.

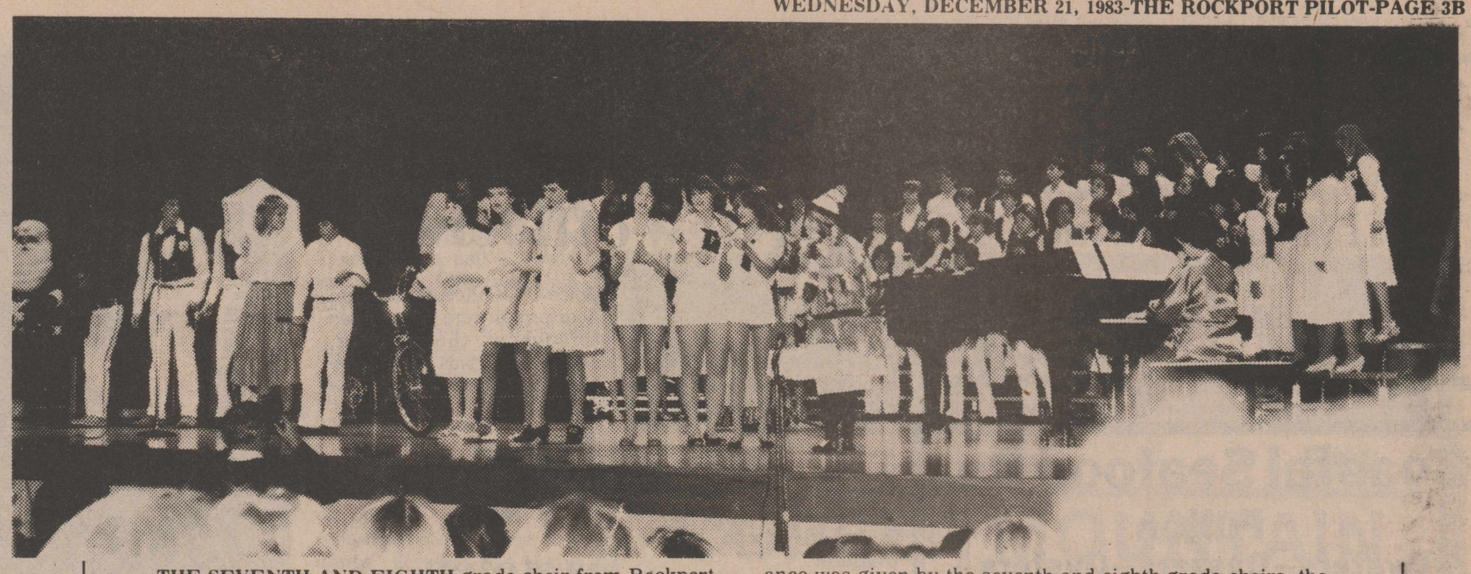

The final attendance figure represented an increase of almost five percent, or 120,000 guests, over the previous year's total.

The theme park's General Manager Ray Williams attributed the boost in attendance to the drawing power of new rides which were added for the 1983 season and an increase in tourist traffic flowing into the Dallas/Ft. Worth area.

"Our new river rafting adventure, Roaring Rapids, and our new children's section, Pac-Man Land, both appeal strongly to the family audience and we feel the season's results reflect that fact," Williams said.

"In addition," he noted, "attendance from outside the Dallas/Ft. Worth area grew by nearly 60,000 persons. The numbers would seem to indicate continued strong growth of this region as a tourist destination."

Six Flags will begin its 1984 season on March 10. During the winter months a major new ride will be constructed. Williams said details of the new attraction will be announced within the next few weeks.

IRS suggests following checklist for avoiding errors on return

The Internal Revenue Service offers the following time-tested approach to avoiding errors on your federal income tax return.

First:

— Do you have all your necessary records and forms easily accessible?

— Do you have plenty of time? (Rushing leads to errors.)

— Have you received a Wage and Tax Statement (W-2 form) from each employer you worked for during the past year?

— Do you anticipate any questions or problems? Are you puzzled about any particular law changes? If so, check your instructions. Also, check with IRS — they may have a free publication that will answer your questions.

— Are all W-2 forms attached?

— Are all supporting schedules attached to your Form 1040?

— Is the arithmetic correct?

— If you rounded off numbers, did you round consistently?

— Did you use the correct tax table, and did you follow the line across to the correct figure?

— Is the return signed and dated (by both spouses if a joint return)?

— Did you use the peel-off label, and, if so, is the information correct?

— Is there a stamp on the pre-addressed, coded envelope?

— Did you make a copy of the return for your own records?

Pet talks: Give your pet his bill of rights

1. The Right to be Wanted

A dog's devotion to his master is legend, but the master should be devoted to his dog.

2. The Right to Privacy

When he is tired, he needs a bed where he can go and not be disturbed.

3. The Right to Good Schooling

An ill-mannered dog that will not obey is certainly not a joy to own. On the other hand, a dog that has been taught obedience is usually welcomed by most everyone. Obedience training, to be truly effective, does take a lot of time and practice, but it is a time you and your dog will enjoy together.

4. The Right to Have a Safe, Secure Home

Every dog that is allowed outdoors should have an enclosed run or yard, as well as a dog house for shelter. So your neighbors will enjoy your dog, make sure your dog has learned not to bark when left in his pen.

5. The Right to Good Health

This includes the proper innoculations against the infectious diseases. Having a veterinarian examine your dog annually against internal parasites and heartworms. If lab tests are positive, give the proper treatment. Give heartworm tablets daily to prevent heartworms.

6. The Right to a Long Life

As your dog gets older, you may have to make special accommodations for him. Special attention needs to be paid to his diet. Older dogs may get arthritis and may need daily medication.

7. The Right to Die When it's Time

When your pet has an incurable disease that cannot be corrected, and the pet is obvious in pain, then you should consider euthanasia. This is the time when consideration must be given to the dog, not the owner. It is not fair to have your faithful friend suffer if nothing more can be done.

As you notice, a dog's wishes are very limited.

Check your return

Newlyweds and others who changed their names last year should report their new name to the Social Security Administration (SSA).

The name and Social Security numbers on tax returns are matched with those of the SSA in processing the returns. Refunds can be delayed if the name and Social Security number do not match, IRS says.

Another good way to guard against unnecessary refund delays, IRS officals say, is to use the peel-off identification label provided with the tax package.

USDA announces 1984 rice program

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced a 1984 rice program which Congressman Bill Patman, D-Tx, said "is not as good as it should be but not as bad as it could have been."

The program requires a 25-percent acreage reduction, which is a compromise on the main point of disagreement between the USDA and Texas rice growers.

Patman had written to the USDA under secretary for commodity programs Nov. 25 to urge "at the very least, a compromise program, an acreage reduction of not over 20 percent."

The announced 25 percent figure is a compromise between the 20 percent urged by Patman and 30 percent proposed by others.

Claude B. Freeman, a consultant to the American Rice Institute in Washington, expressed appreciation to Patman for his effort on behalf of rice farmers.

Other provisions of the USDA rice program include these:

— A target price of $11.90 per hundredweight.

— The loan rate will be $8 per hundredweight.

— There will be no cash land diversion payment.

— There will be no payment in kind (PIK).

— There will be no advance payment. The acreage base will be the average planted and considered planted in 1982 and 1983.

DPS projects 51 holiday deaths

The Texas Department of Public Safety has estimated 51 persons will be killed on Texas streets and highways during the Christmas holidays.

The estimate is based on previous holiday death statistics and the number of hours during which motorists are anticipated to travel.

"Last year, 44 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the actual holiday period. However, persons injured in various accidents across the state brought the final death toll to 52," said Colonel Jim Adams, director of the DPS.

Adams said while Texas is experiencing a significant decrease in traffic deaths statewide this year, the holidays can reflect a deadly time for motorists.

"As of noon, Friday, Dec. 16, we had an 11 per cent reduction in traffic deaths and that is 412 fewer people killed. We attribute the reduction to increased DWI enforcement, widespread attention to the drinking driver and a renewed effort by drivers to obey traffic laws."

The DPS director said holiday weekends are dangerous times to travel.

"We find the volume of traffic increases. Also, we still have some drivers who insist on drinking and driving and others who exceed the speed limits. These drivers are risking accident involvement," he said.

"We'll have additional available troopers to assist the motorists and to be especially watchful for the drunken drivers and those who speed."

Adams praised local police authorities for their work in reducing the traffic death toll and he applauded the various local programs to help keep the drinking driver from getting behind the wheel.

Civic clubs, local police agencies and other organizations have begun programs to help prevent drunk driving and this could help tremendously toward accident prevention. "However, we will still find a few who will be on the road while drinking or speeding and will be involved in a tragic accident," he said.

The DPS "Operation Motorcide" program begins at 6 p.m. Friday Dec. 23 and ends 78 hours later, at midnight Monday, Dec. 26.

The program is designed to inform motorists of the number of traffic deaths occurring during the holiday in an attempt to increase public awareness of the dangers of holiday driving.

Strake criticizes early prisoner release

Texas Republican Chairman George Strake has strongly urged Gov. Mark White to immediately abandon his "dangerous and deliberate" policy of seeking to commute the life sentences of habitual criminals and undermine the judges and juries of this state who believe in a strong criminal justice system.

"Why should the Governor subject our citizens to the proposition that these habitual criminals should be back on the streets one day sooner than juries and prosecutors intended," Strake said.

"I think Mark White is showing more compassion for the repeat offenders than for victims and creating a policy that sends the wrong signal to those who contemplate crimes against out citizens," said Strake.

On Sept. 26, Gov. White wrote the Board of Pardons and Parole directing them to review and recommend possible commutations of life sentences for habitual criminals not yet eligible for parole.

Recently the board sent letters to district attorneys advising them of possible commutations for several hundred inmates.

District attorneys in Harris, Dallas, Tarrant and Bexar counties — one republican and three democrats — loudly criticized White for these actions since many recommendations were for repeat offenders whom juries had purposely given life sentences.

Strake noted that in Harris County, District Attorney John Holmes had received 20 letters in which commutations were suggested — in one case for a felon with 20 prior convictions and another with 10 priors including heroin possession and theft.

In San Antonio, it was reported that an inmate with seven prior convictions was considered and another with five priors.

"These people for whom Gov. White is asking possible relief are not in for robbing a candy store," said Strake. "These are mostly habitual robbers, drug users and forgers, people who have already shown that they will steal again."

According to the 1982 Texas Department of Corrections report, 43 percent of all inmates are repeat offenders and 10 percent have been convicted more than twice.

"That's why the juries of Texas put them away for life," Strake said. "Does White want these people back robbing houses and stealing cars in our neighborhoods one minute before it's absolutely necessary."

If White does commute any of these life sentences, a set term for the crimes will be established and the inmate will be eligible for parole when one-third of the term has been served. In one Harris County case, the Parole Board is considering a 35-year term which, under the new system, could put an inmate back on the street in just four years.

Strake also noted a disturbing trend in the number of years which inmates serve life sentences. According to the TDC report, in 1981, the average time served on a life sentence was 14 years, one month and 26 days; in 1982, the average time dropped to eight years and under the White proposals would decrease even more.

"As leader of our state, Gov. White should not send a signal to criminals that the state is looking to reduce life sentences, and he should not degenerate the work of juries, judges and prosecutors."

Strake made his comments in a letter to Governor White and at an Austin news conference last week.

All We Want For Christmas Is A New Bank Vault...

You're looking at the staff for Allied Live Oak's new mini-bank. For those of you who don't already know them, they are (clockwise from lower left) Hazel Parke, Tommie Wilkerson, Ann Robbins, and Tammy Stephens.

They're ready — even anxious — to open the new facility in Live Oak Plaza, because they know how much more convenient it will make banking for a lot of you in Aransas County. But, you can't have a bank, even a mini-bank, without a vault, and the vault hasn't come yet.

So, for the next few days or so when everybody's waiting for Santa Claus, Hazel, Tommie, Ann and Tammy will be waiting too — not just for an elf in a sled, but for a bank vault in a truck too! And in the meantime, they'll still be glad to see you at the original Allied Live Oak Bank, to take care of any banking needs you may have, and to wish you a very Merry Christmas.

Against Mobil Oil

Agreement announced in lawsuit

Attorney General Jim Mattox announced this week a tentative agreement has been reached in a lawsuit against Mobil Oil Corporation involving oil and gas leases on state owned land in Duval County.

The lawsuit originated from charges filed by Duval County rancher Clinton Manges in 1982, claiming that Mobil owed him money for royalties from oil production on land owned by him. The state of Texas joined the suit to collect unpaid royalties on state-owned land adjoining Manges'.

In describing the negotiations, Mattox noted, "These negotiations were so stormy that every party just packed up and walked out at one time or another.

"They were as intense and detailed as any debate I ever participated in while in Congress," he said. "It now appears that we have reached the basis for a settlement that will greatly benefit our Permanent School Fund and public education in Texas."

The tentative settlement comes at the end of a year-long, often bitter, legal battle which arose after Manges researched oil drilling records for land that he has owned since 1981 and discovered both Mobil and Exxon leases on his property might have terminated 50 years ago.

Manges filed suit to collect $1.7 billion from Mobil in 1982 and invited then Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong to join in the suit since the minerals in 14.720 acres of the 64,646 acres in question belong to the state.

The state joined the suit charging that leases between the state and Mobil were invalid and the state was owed for all the oil and gas produced since 1932.

"The dedication and energy that Land Commissioner Garry Mauro spent in pursuing the negotiations were critical to reaching this tentative agreement," Mattox said. "I'm pleased to have worked with him on this case. He's a fine bargaining partner."

Mattox also commended other state officials, including former Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and Governor Mark White, for entering in the case on the state's behalf in 1982.

The agreement was signed Friday by all parties. One element of the agreement's becoming final is court confirmation, which could come as early as this week.

Final details for the settlement are not expected until some time later in the week.

Current Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro said this past Friday he was extremely pleased to have the Mobil Oil lawsuit behind him.

"I know that everyone, the people at Mobil, Attorney General Jim Mattox, the people at the Duval County Ranch and myself are pleased with the settlement," Mauro said after signing the agreement. "We could not have reached such an historic agreement without a true spirit of cooperation on everyone's part."

"I also have to praise the tenacious bargaining on the part of Jim Mattox," Mauro said. "The state could not have received such a tremendous boost to the Permanent School Fund without his leadership and diligent work on the behalf of our state."

Mauro said the credit for creating such a tremendous boost for education in Texas starts with the people who had the courage to first get involved in the lawsuit.
