Plane Crash Kills Pilot

"SAY, BOY," says Pamela Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Williams, 512 Doucette, to two-year-old Kent Bowers, "I know all about this Easter bunny business. Now if you was three years old like me you'd know an Easter bunny left these eggs here. Did your mommy tell you Easter bunnies lay colored eggs? See? Get another one out of the basket and I'll show you."

KENT, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bowers, 427 N. Russell, throws his hat to one side so he can take a look at those things. He'll have to admit this is something new on him. But he isn't puzzled too long. For the rest of this Easter episode see Page 4.

County Races Tightening Up

Gray County's local political pot began to stew again over the weekend as two more county and precinct candidates filed for office and another precinct candidate announced, but did not file.

Horace S. Johnson, service station operator, of 425 S. Somerville, stepped into the sheriff's race making it a three-cornered affair. Sheriff G. H. "Skinner" Kyle, seeking reelection, is opposed by one other candidate, M. G. "Shorty" Strickland.

Late Saturday night County Commissioner "J. W. "Bill" Graham drew his second opponent in the county commissioner race for Precinct 2. The latest entrant is Robert R. "Roy" Sullivan, 57, of Box 44, Rt. 2, Pampa. Sullivan, a carpenter, spent most of his life as a farmer. The second man to file for that

Numerous Easter Services Scheduled

The highlight of the special Easter services in the Pampa area today will be the Apple Blossom Festival at Bruce Nursery, seven miles northwest of Alanreed on McClellan Creek.

The festival will feature gospel singing, speeches by local ministers, and an Easter egg hunt with prizes for the children. It will be an all-day affair.

In Pampa, the St. Matthews Episcopal Church will have special Easter Communion services at 7 and 11 a. m. Following the 11 a. m. Communion service, will be the regular morning service with Jack O. Andrews, Junior High School music instructor, guest organist, and Kenneth Baumgardner, of the High School music department, soloist.

The Rev. Earl M. Frantz, of McPherson College, McPherson, Kans., will be guest speaker at both morning and evening services of the Church of the Brethren. Kenneth Graham, director of music in the Congregational Church in McPherson, will direct the singing at both services. At the morning service, beginning at 10:45, Mrs. Dewey Bond of Borger will act as accompanist, and at the evening service Mrs. Harlan Yoder will play. A 30-minute children's program will open the evening service at 7 o'clock.

The Church of the Nazarene, 500 N. West, will have a special sermon by the pastor, Herbert Land, at the regular morning service. The sermon will be on the Resurrection.

The First Methodist Church, Dr. Orion W. Carter, pastor, will have two morning services, one at 8:30 and the other at 11. At the early morning service, the Knights Templar will be special guests, and ministerial music will be furnished by the High School choir. The 11 o'clock service will be identical to the earlier one, except music will be furnished by the adult choir.

"The Holy City," an oratorio on the Easter theme, will be presented in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church at 8 p. m. today, by the all-church choir. R. Virgil Mott, director of this choral group, is featuring several soloists, a duet and a trio with the full chorus choir. Accompanists will be Mrs. Virgil Mott at the console of the organ and Miss Eloise Lane at the Steinway Grand.

The Holy Souls Catholic Church will have four masses today, at 6, 7, 10, and 11:30 a. m. High mass will be at 10 a. m., at which time a special Easter sermon will be presented by Father Otto Meyer.

Celebrations already were in progress in ancient Jerusalem, where nearly 20 centuries ago Christ suffered, died, and rose. Bells thundered out their Easter messages from the Basilica of the Holy Sepulchre, and from dozens of other churches, as thousands gathered to pray.

Fire Damages Pampa Home

Shortly after Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Vaughn, 724 E. Campbell, left for Oklahoma at 3 p.m. yesterday to spend the Easter holidays, fire gutted the interior of their home.

The fire was discovered at 7:35 p.m. and Pampa firemen sent two trucks to fight the blaze. Fire Chief Ernest Winborne estimated damage at $1,000.

All of the furniture in the living room was demolished and smoke damaged the rest of the inside of the home.

At press time yeterday Vaughn's brother was trying to locate Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn, but he did not know what part of Oklahoma they were visiting.

Tenth Candidate, Borger Man, Enters Congressional Race

Ten Democrats and one Republican are seeking the 18th Congressional District seat vacated by Eugene Worley of Shamrock. Still more may get into the race.

The campaigning is brisk because less than a month is left before the May 6 special election — more than two months ahead of the regular first Democratic primary.

County judges from the 28 counties in the district met here Friday and fixed April 17 as the deadline for further filings.

Worley was appointed by President Truman to the U. S. Court of Customs and Patent Appeals in Washington.

Walter Rogers, former Pampa city attorney and district attorney, has demonstrated strong support. Sheriff G. H. "Skinner" Kyle gave a barbecue Thursday evening to kick off Rogers' campaign. Pampa business men have organized a city-wide "Rogers for Congress" club and plan a tour of the entire district.

Altavene Clark, Worley's former secretary and a Washington government worker since 1933, is aiming her campaign at the women voters. Talking to Home Demonstration Club women at Matador last week she said "there is no bigger stake for women than the future peace of the world."

Powell Services Slated Monday

Funeral services for Seth H. Powell, 76, who died at 7:30 a.m. yesterday at Worley Hospital, will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Assembly of God Church.

Burial, under the direction of Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral Home, will follow at Fairview Cemetery. The Rev. H. M. Sheats, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, will officiate.

Mr. Powell, a retired plumber, resided at 928 S. Wilcox with his wife, Flora. He was born April 28, 1873, in Jasper County, Mo., and moved from Arkansas City, Kans., to Pampa in 1922.

Beside his wife, he is survived by five sons, H. R., Joplin, Mo., V. H., Albuquerque, E. J., Newkirk, Okla., O. F., Robstown, Texas, and O. G., 405 Hughes; two daughters, Mrs. Olive Frost, Shawnee, Okla., and Mrs. Edith Baggerman, Mobeetie; two brothers, Ben, Oklahoma City, and Henry, Lake Stevens, Wash.; 15 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Two Men Held After Attack On Woman

Two Mount Pleasant, Texas, men were in the county jail today in lieu of $7,500 and $3,500 bonds following the rape and $1.10 robbery of a 53-year-old missionary worker Thursday night three miles east of Groom on a county lane.

Charged with rape and robbery is James H. Stogner, 23, of Mount Pleasant; charged with robbery is his companion, R. L. Freeman, 20, also of Mount Pleasant. Another man, unidentified, was exonerated by statements made by the two jailed men, the victim, and his own statement.

Accounts by officers, taken from the statements, revealed that the woman, an evangelist of the Church of Missions, was hitchhiking from Phoenix to her home at Haiti, Mo., and approached the trio in Groom, asking for a ride east. She asked for the ride after Stogner told her they were going to Shamrock in his car.

The released man told officers and a reporter yesterday afternoon they had bought a pint of whiskey earlier and had each taken about one drink from the bottle. The victim also stated none of the men were drunk. Stogner, however, claimed he was "two-thirds drunk."

Officers added, from the statements, the trio and the woman headed east from Groom along Highway 66 toward Shamrock. About three miles out of Groom Stogner turned off on a private lane leading to a farm. About 50 yards up the lane he stopped the car, ordered his two companions to get out and head for the highway. Inside the car, he forced his victim to the back seat of the car and, with an upraised clawhammer, threatened to kill her if she refused to submit. The woman was then assaulted.

Stogner then, with his victim, backed his car to the highway where he picked up his two companions. The released man had previously protested to Stogner, but was ordered to keep his "mouth shut." The other companion, Freeman, indicated condoning Stogner's action by saying and doing nothing, according to the statements.

After the two men got into the car, Stogner took the woman's purse and emptied it of its money, $1.10. The released man also protested to this action but was again threatened by Stogner who said "keep your — — shut." Stogner turned the money over to Freeman, told the woman to get out and said, "this is as far as I go."

In the process, Stogner emptied the woman's suitcase in the back seat and searched her belongings, and dumped them in a heap on the floor. The unnamed man repacked her suitcase and handed it to her.

The trio returned to Groom after dumping the victim on the road. A passing motorist took her to the Groom deputy sheriff, Grady Stapp, who with the woman's help, spotted the car at a Groom service station. The woman was admitted to the Groom Hospital in a semi-hysterical condition and was kept overnight. Physicians there described her in "a bad way" at the time of her admittance.

Stogner, Freeman and the other man were held by Carson County Sheriff Clarence Williams at Panhandle and surrendered them to Sheriff G. H. "Skinner" Kyle after authorities determined the assault happened in Gray County.

The woman and the trio were questioned at length yesterday and Friday by Williams, Kyle and District Atty. Tom Braly.

Both Freeman and Stogner waived examining trials before Justice of the Peace D. R. Henry at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

Stogner's bond was set at $7,500 and Freeman's at $3,500. A few minutes after the bonds were set the third man was released and taken back to Groom by Sheriff Kyle and Constable Bill Langley.

In the presence of officers and newsmen, Stogner and Freeman gave insolent answers to Judge Henry and Chief Deputy Rufe Jordan. Stogner smirked and asked if he would be down to Huntsville in time to pick cotton.

Famed Dancer Nijinsky Dies

LONDON — (AP) — Mad Vaslav Nijinsky, the greatest ballet dancer of all time, died Saturday of nephritis—inflammation of the kidneys. He was 60. He went insane 31 years ago.

The brightest star of the Imperial Russian Ballet had lived in a world of melancholy fantasy since his mind began to break in 1917 under constant brooding.

He was only 27 years old then and at the height of his career—hailed as "the man of whom the gods are jealous." Two years later he was pronounced insane. He suffered from schizophrenia, a split personality.

He was without peer as a dancer. His tremendous leaps that seemed to defy gravity and his easy grace were best shown perhaps in his role in Scheherezade—that of a half naked slave driven to furious passion by a lustful Oriental princess.

Green Backs Guill in Race For Congress

PAMPA, — (AP) — A Texas Democrat, a 1948 delegate to the state and national Democratic conventions, announced his support last night of a republican candidate.

Oil and gas executive Gene Green of Pampa told the Associated Press he is supporting Ben Guill, a fellow townsman, because "I know him to be a patriotic Texan who believes in states rights and true democracy."

Green, speaking of his election as a Democratic delegate in 1948, said:

"I have been a lifelong Democrat. I was elected a delegate to a convention I assumed was a meeting of Democrats who believed in the principles of democracy. But I soon learned that the Democratic party, as such, was in the control of a group of Eastern big city political bosses and their socialistic stooges. They had nothing whatsoever in common with the democratic ideals in which the people of Texas believe."

Green had praise for congressional candidate Guill, 40-year old businessman and former school teacher. "He is opposed to the socialistic inroads being made into our national society and economy," Green said. "I believe the best way to combat this trend is to send to Congress an independent, courageous citizen that will not be committed to those principles in which we Texans do not believe."

Green added, "I am still a Democrat at heart, although supporting a GOP candidate. The Democratic party has been stolen by a group of carpetbagger politicians who have nothing in common with loyal Texans."

Probe Targets Say McCarthy Bleating

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator McCarthy, in a new attack on the State Department, Saturday omitted his specific charges of spying and communism, and the department asserted he was now "bleating like a lamb."

And Owen J. Lattimore declared that the Wisconsin Republican senator's speech amounted to a retraction of his accusation that Lattimore is the top Soviet secret agent in the State Department.

In a public speech at Passaic, N.J., where he did not have the immunity from suits which surrounds remarks in the Senate, McCarthy noticeably softened his charges against Lattimore and two State Department employes.

For example, he said that Lattimore, Johns Hopkins University Far Eastern expert, is "selling our State Department" a program "identical to the planks in the platform of the Communist party."

Last night John E. Peurifoy, the State Department's security chief, issued a statement saying: "Senator McCarthy roared like a lion when he wore the cloak of congressional immunity. Now he discards his immunity, strikes the pose of a hero and bleats like a lamb.

"When he dropped his cloak of immunity, he also dropped the substance of his first charges."

Those accusations were made originally in two speeches on the Senate floor, one last February and the other a little more than a week ago, and before a Senate committee where he also had immunity.

Peurifoy did not refer at all to Lattimore, who the department says has never been employed by it.

Lattimore spoke up for himself, declaring in a statement that McCarthy's speech Saturday was "a retraction of his libelous and fantastic accusations."

"Again the senator weaseled," Lattimore said. "He knows that the charges are false, and he is frantically trying to hide behind his senatorial immunity while pretending to come out in the open. . . He must have a low opinion of the intelligence of the American press and the public."

McCarthy made his speech before a meeting of the Marine Corps League which presented him its Americanism award.

The speaker said that the Institute of Pacific Relations which he called "Jessup's organization," had championed in 1943 a smear of Chiang Kai-shek and started "the myth" that China's Reds weren't really Communists. He said "Communist money" helped pay for the campaign.

Jessup has replied that he wasn't in charge of the institute at the time.

McCarthy recalled that John

'Hosses' Run Neck 'n Neck In C-C Drive

Running neck and neck in the last lap of the Chamber of Commerce "Hoss Race," the hosses are two-thirds or $10,000 through with the $15,000 membership race.

George Newberry's "Assault" held first place all day Friday and at press time yesterday it had $1,892 in cash and pledges.

"Ponder," horse jockeyed by Paul Crouch, at one time in first place, has dropped into second with $1,767.

"Seabiscuit," jockeyed by Paul Carmichael, and "Man o'War," with Charlie Robison, are next with $1,639.50 and $1,600, respectively.

The prospective hay and corn eaters at the victory banquet are the "ShooFly" team members. Under their captain, Ed Cleveland, they have $1,520.

Cole will have an opportunity at 10 a.m. tomorrow to rid himself of the horse collar. The final report coffee will be held in the Court House Cafeteria.

After the drive is completed Tuesday, a victory dinner will be held at 7 p. m. at the Pampa Country Club, at which time the winning team will be served steaks; the second team, roast beef; third, chili and beans; fourth, hamburgers; fifth, hot dogs; and sixth, corn and hay.

Airport Rush Caused By Circling Plane

A circling Air Force plane last night had more Pampans excited than the instrumentless pilot bringing it into Pampa Municipal Airport.

A stream of about 25 cars swarmed to the airfield, all of them ready to use their headlights to light up the field or call for an ambulance.

Finally the plane came in and a relative called "Is that you Paul?" The pilot answered in the affirmative, worrying about a place to park his plane.

He came in shortly before the rain, without the aid of instruments.

Accident Near Miami Fatal To Californian

ec- The 469, Mo. adv.

A veteran California pilot enlisted in Top o' Texas farmers' fight against green bug infestation was fatally injured Saturday morning when his spray-loaded bi-plane tripped a power line near Miami and plummeted into a plowed field.

Robert B. Burton, 34, San Gabriel, Calif., died in Highland General Hospital at 11 a. m. Saturday, an hour after the crash on the John Haggard ranch, 12 miles northwest of Miami.

Burton was employed by the Moore Aviation Co., of Tulare, Calif., to spray wheat land on the Willis Clark ranch, adjoining Haggard's.

Before the eyes of Burl Walker, former Pampan and general manager for the Moore Aviation Co. in the Southwest, Burton's airplane nipped a Southwestern Public Service Co. highline, nosed over and fell 30 feet to the ground.

Walker told a reporter Burton took off from Pampa Municipal Airport at 9 a. m., flew to the Clark farm where he landed and loaded up with a tank of parthion spray and took off. Burton, he said, was making his first swath over the field when the plane's tail wheel hit the high line. Walker said Burton apparently miscalculated his altitude and attempted to zoom over the wire, but caught his tail wheel. The plane was almost completely demolished when it struck the ground on the Haggard ranch, across the road from Clark's property. It hit a plowed field about 100 yards beyond the power line.

When it came to earth the parthion tanks burst, but the plane's gasoline tanks did not explode.

Another witness, W. R. Cowan, who lives near the Clark property, was watching the spraying and said he was nearly hit by the falling power line.

Burton flew here last week from California and has been spraying wheat lands since that time.

Alvin Bell, who also witnessed the crash, drove a half mile from the scene and called a Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance. Burton was still alive but unconscious when the ambulance arrived. He died about 11 a. m. at Highland General, where physicians said he had suffered fractures of the skull, jaw and neck.

When ambulance men arrived Burton had already been taken from the plane and laid on the ground, a blanket over his unconscious form.

A former pilot with the Army Air Force, Burton was mustered out with the rank of captain. He was married and the father of three children.

Sears Services Set in Lefors

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Elizabeth Spears, who died at 8:05 p.m. Friday at Highland General Hospital, will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today at the Lefors Church of Christ.

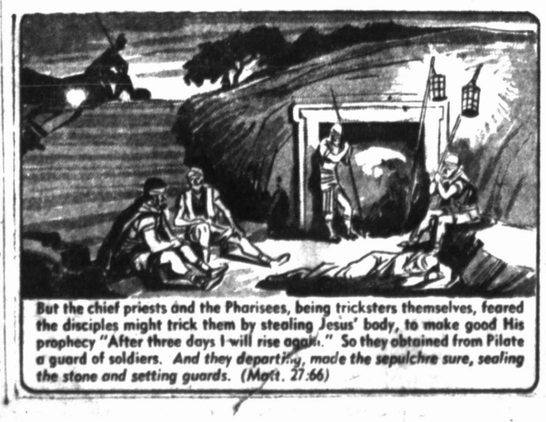

Thomas McDonald, minister of the Pampa Central Church of Christ, will officiate. Burial, under the direction of Blackburn-Shaw-Sims Funeral Home, will follow at Quanah, Texas.

Mrs. Sears, 37, died after a lingering illness. She was a member of the Lefors Church of Christ.

Survivors include her husband, Joe Sears of the Grayco-Phillips Camp; one daughter, Sandra Jo; three brothers, Moore Jones, Pampa, Sid Jones, O'Donnell, Texas, and Clifton Jones, Kirkland, Texas; one sister, Mrs. Ernest Thomas, Kirkland; and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Jones, Kirkland.

Pallbearers will include Frank Poarch, Bill Wyatt, Babe Umphres, Sam Holding, Joe Bevington and D. S. McDowell. Honorary pallbearers will be Abner Conway, C. H. Butrum, E. O. Pullium, R. E. Warren, Earl Scarbrough, Clarence Anderson and Earl Mayo.

THE EASTER STORY — The Resurrection — Drawn by John J. Sunley

But the chief priests and the Pharisees, being tricksters themselves, feared the disciples might trick them by stealing Jesus' body, to make good His prophecy "After three days I will rise again." So they obtained from Pilate a guard of soldiers. And they departing, made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone and setting guards. (Matt. 27:66)

But to no avail. Toward dawn of the appointed day there was a great earthquake. An angel of the Lord rolled back the stone and sat upon it. And those about were dumb with fear, including Mary Magdalen and Mary the mother James and Joseph. But the angel reassured them, say He is not here, for he is risen, as he said. (Matt. 28:6)

Hughes Flying Boat Will Fly Again, Date Still Indefinite

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Remember Howard Hughes' $28,000,000 flying boat?

The eight-engine behemoth, called the world's largest airplane, isn't flying but its millionaire owner, plane and movie maker Hughes, says it will again at some indefinite future time.

In the last year Hughes has built a new hangar over the 200-ton plywood plane and a new cradle under it at its drydock at Terminal Island, Los Angeles harbor.

His men have repaired damage to ribs inside the tail assembly which Hughes disclosed late in 1948. He never commented on rumors that sabotage entered into this damage.

A spokesman said that when Hughes is satisfied with improvements and adjustments he will resume taxi tests on the water, then make flight tests, but he has given no indication of when that may be.

The huge plane, with a 320-foot wingspread, was started nearly eight years ago and completed after the war. The government put $18,000,000 into it and Hughes, $10,000,000. It was the subject of an extensive Senate investigation two years ago.

The plane flew once, in November, 1947. Hughes was making taxi tests in the harbor and unexpectedly took it up. It flew at 70 feet above the water for about a mile.

Fort Worth Police Identify Fire Victim

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Police identified by fingerprints a man found burned to death Friday as Howard A. Brooks, 52, who listed his address variously as Lufkin and Huntington, Texas, as well as Fort Worth.

The man was discovered face down in the ashes of a campfire on the bank of the Trinity River.

Sooner Drys Blacklist 'Wet' Forces

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — Reaction from public figures "blacklisted as wets" by Oklahoma United Drys ranged from a cry of "unfair" to a mere shrug of the shoulders.

"Most unfair and untrue," commented Secretary of State Wilburn Cartwright, a Democratic candidate for state auditor. He was declared friendly to the wets because he ruled last year that an initiative petition calling for the prohibition repeal election had insufficient signatures.

The blast came in the "Oklahoma Dry," a prohibition campaign publication, which slapped the wet label on more than half the state legislature and several candidates for statewide office.

Drys have proclaimed they are out to elect county and state officials sympathetic to their cause. Fifty thousand copies of the publication were mailed to church and dry leaders.

Auto Strike Loss to Hit Million-Mark

DETROIT — (AP) — Direct losses due to the Chrysler strike will pass the one billion dollar mark Monday, Automotive News asserted Friday.

The various Chrysler plants have been idle since Jan. 25. The trade paper said that regardless of the outcome of current negotiations it would be impossible for them to reopen next Monday.

Automotive News estimates that through Saturday direct losses growing out of the shutdown amounted to $994,509,680. Another $20,000,000 it adds, will be lost Monday.

Itemizing the losses, the paper says:

"The $994,509,680 includes the following components: $700,000,000 representing average value of the 350,000 lost cars and trucks; $212,000,000 in lost purchases of Chrysler's 6,500 suppliers; $61,509,680 in lost wages to the 89,000 Chrysler workers, and $21,000,000 in lost wages to the 50,000 idled supplier employes (after unemployment compensation benefits.)

"The one-billion-dollar Chrysler loss is not an automotive strike record. That distinction is held by the General Motors strike of 1945-46, which lasted for 16 weeks and one day and cost directly-affected parties $1,257,400,000."

Community Concert Week Begins Today

Today marks the beginning of community concert week in Pampa and vicinity, Dr. Douglas E. Nelson, president of the Pampa Community Concert Association, said.

Workers will enroll new members throughout the week so the 1950-51 artist bookings can be made at 3 p. m. Saturday in the City Commission Room.

The campaign will be opened at 6 p. m. tomorrow at a workers' dinner at the Holy Souls Catholic Church Parish Hall. John Lyons, Chicago, field representative of Community Concert Service, will attend and present the film, "A Carnegie Hall in Every Town."

"Usually renewals have been handled during community concert week," Dr. Nelson said, "but this year most of the renewals were secured at the March 23 concert."

While a canvass will be made in Pampa and in neighboring towns, Mrs. Carl J. Wright, secretary, said she or an assistant will be at the Southwestern Public Service Company between 9:15 a. m. and 5 p. m. Tuesday through Friday to accept memberships. Prospective members also may reach her there, between 9 a. m. and noon Saturday.

"No box-office tickets will be sold for any of the concerts," Mrs. Wright said. The artists who appear in the series are selected according to the number of subscriptions that are obtained during the drive."

Interest in the concerts has been widespread throughout Pampa during the time they have been held here. Some of the artists who have appeared here include Bartlett and Robertson, Jean Watson, Mona Paulee, the Don Cossacks, Patricia Travers, Svetlova, Rosario and Antonio, Bary Ensemble, Dallas Symphony, Slavenska, Graudans, Revelers, DePaur Infantry Chorus, Grand Opera Quartet, Columbia Concert Trio, John Sebastian, St. Louis Sinfonietta, Abby Simon, Walter Hautzig, John Carter, Zadel Skolovsky, Erica Morini and Virginia MacWatters.

No memberships will be accepted after the close of the campaign at noon Saturday. The Executive Committee will meet at the City Commission Room Saturday afternoon to select forthcoming artists.

Drive workers are invited to attend the Saturday meeting, Mrs. Wright said. The committee is open for suggestions from association members for this season's artists.

Airplane Thief Sent to Prison

DANVILLE, Ill. — (AP) — An airplane thief has been sent to Federal Prison at Terre Haute, Ind. for five years after Indiana authorities identified him as a robbery suspect who broke jail last August.

The young man identified himself as Arthur Prior Jr., 25, of Tulsa, March 21 when he pleaded guilty of a Dyer Act violation in district court. He admitted stealing the plane at Amarillo and flying it to Mt. Carmel, Ill.

His FBI fingerprint records were those of Kenneth Discus, charged with three armed robberies last July, who slugged a guard and escaped from the county jail at New Albany, Ind., August 24, 1949.

Food for Canary Is Proved Potent

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Nobody was more surprised than Rudolpho Laue, he told the judge, when the birdseed he scattered for his canary grew up to become marijuana.

Laue said he bought the seed in a market, put it among cactus plants he kept in pots at home. The canary, which he allowed to fly about the house, apparently didn't find very many of them. Police said when they looked in all they saw was marijuana plants.

Laue, 23, tearfully told the court he didn't know marijuana from a tobacco leaf. The court acquitted him of a charge of possessing marijuana, but told him henceforth to be more careful of his birdseed.

EASTER

Christ from the tomb as the Light of the world.

Easter morning Protestant services in St. Andrew's in Jerusalem Churchyard were to be broadcast by shortwave to the United States and Canada.

More than 100,000 pilgrims thronged the streets of Rome where the climax of the Easter observance will come when Pope Pius XII celebrates a pontifical mass at St. Peter's.

At its end, from the central loggia of the basilica, Pope Pius will give his apostolic blessing to the city and the world.

In Washington, D. C., where the hopes of millions in the politically divided world are turned, 250,000 visitors are expected for the day. Many were there not only for Easter but also for the delayed Cherry Blossom Festival.

Police in New York marshaled a force of 639 just to handle the Easter Parade on Fifth Avenue — always a colorful event. Thousands wearing their most festive attire, traditionally throng the midtown Manhattan area in the vicinity of St. Patrick's Cathedral.

At Fredericksburg, Texas, a legend dating from Indian days will be re-enacted in the lighting of Easter fires in the surrounding hills.

Accident Victim's Rites Scheduled

CANADIAN — (Special) — Funeral services for Arthur Hendrix, 39, electrocuted April 7 at Perryton while working with a seismograph crew, will be held at 4 p. m. today from the Canadian Baptist Church with the Rev. Taft Holloway officiating.

Burial will be at Sulphur, Okla. at 3 p.m. tomorrow. The Stickley Funeral Home of Canadian has charge of arrangements.

Clothing Valued At $49,000 Taken

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — (AP) — Burglars walked out the front door of a swank downtown men's clothing store Saturday with an estimated $49,500 in Easter merchandise.

Clyde Halk, owner-operator of Clyde's Man Shop, said the thieves pried open the front door during the night and stole 700 pairs of men's slacks, priced at $42.50 each, 150 suits, ranging from $150 to $175 each in price; and 180 ties marked at $6 to $20 each.

McCarran Criticizes Crime Probe Deadline

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator McCarran said Saturday the Senate Rules Committee had "destroyed the effectiveness" of a proposed nation-wide crime investigation by fixing a July 31 deadline for the inquiry.

The Nevada Democrat, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, urged that the Senate approve a $50,000 inquiry into organized gambling and rackets without a time limit.

West Europe Nations Want Eastern Trade

By WES GALLAGHER

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — Western European countries want freer trade with Soviet Russia and her Eastern European satellites.

A request for relaxation of the barriers imposed by the United States under the Marshall Plan is expected to come up at the May conference of French, British and American foreign ministers in London.

Authoritative sources say several of the more industrialized Western European countires are anxious to lift some of the bars on trade with their traditional markets to the east because they cannot find markets for their manufactures elsewhere.

Many American European aid officials are said to back this claim. They believe the State Department blacklist on potential war materials is doing more economic harm than good to Europe's rehabilitation.

This view is supported by the argument that American taxpayers, through the Marshall Plan, have to make up the deficits created by the ban on this age-old East-West trade.

Informants here said the ministers are expected also to discuss these other problems:

1. U.S. demands for Western European nations to drop the trade and tariff walls that separate each other.

2. U.S. pressure on West European nations to bring Germany quickly into their political and economic organizations, and to give the Bonn government more voice in its foreign affairs.

3. Proposals for a unified American, British and French policy on German unity to meet Soviet propaganda claims.

4. New discussions of ways and means to end the state of war with Germany.

Any liberalization of East-West trade would directly aid West Germany, whose industrial production has its natural market in East Europe.

And in counter demands for liberalizing Western Europe's trade, the United States claims West Germany has opened its trade doors westward, but Western European countries have not retaliated.

Unless trade liberalization is exerted one way or the other, West Germany may have to crawl back into its controlled economy shell.

Former Actress Sues for Injury

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Former Actress Kathlyn Williams has filed suit for $136,615 damages against the estate of Mrs. Mary E. Rose, charging that she was restrained from leaving an auto before it crashed and severed her right leg last Dec. 29. Mrs. Rose was killed in the accident.

Miss Williams says that Mrs. Rose knew the car's brakes were faulty but refused to make repairs before the party came home from Las Vegas, Nev. She also claims Mrs. Rose held her arm to prevent her from jumping out of the car before it went out of control on a highway curve. A chauffeur was driving, Miss Williams said.

Lamesa Slaying Trial Is Slated

LAMESA — (AP) — Victor F. (Jack) Rogers will go to trial May 1 on a charge of fatally beating a city policeman here March 29.

Mac Wassell, one of Rogers' court appointed attorneys, said Judge Louis B. Reed set the date. He said the defense probably will ask for a change of venue Monday.

Judge Reed is to hear an application for a writ of habeas corpus April 13.

Rogers is charged in the death of Claud Johnson.

Service, American diplomat, was arrested five years ago in a case based on alleged illegal removal of secret documents from government files. McCarthy said Joseph Grew insisted on Service's prosecution, but he was never indicted, and was re-hired by Acheson, who succeeded to Grew's post as undersecretary. Then, McCarthy said, Service was "put in charge of personnel and placements in the Far Eastern division."

Service was arrested in 1945 in espionage conspiracy charges but was exonerated.

The only Republican in the race is Ben Guill, like Rogers a Pampa man. The 40-year-old business man and former teacher plans to visit every county in the district, basing his campaign on opposition to what he calls administration socialistic tendencies.

J. Blake Timmons, Amarillo state legislator, won endorsement last week by the Texas Joint Railway Labor Legislative Board. The 33-year-old Air Force veteran was the only candidate to win endorsement at the Fort Worth meeting of the railroaders.

LeRoy LaMaster of Perryton, 31-year-old member of a prominent Ochiltree County ranch family, is taking his first political swim. His organization already is complete in his home county. His slogan: "young enough to do something — old enough to know something."

Collins Howard, Childress attorney and former county attorney and county judge, also has been on the road. Older than some of his opponents, he said "in these critical times I feel the nation needs men of mature judgment and with experience in public affairs."

Others in the race are H. J. Bice of Amarillo, Talma Smith of Clarendon, and RoRnald Davis, coordinator of Veterans Vocational School at Childress and first Childress candidate to announce.

ECA to Halt Payment of Gift Charges

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Economic Cooperation Administration said Saturday it will stop paying shipping costs on American gift packages to Britain, Germany, The Netherlands and France after July 1.

The recovery agency said its freight and parcel post subsidy payments have dropped 14 percent in the past two years, reflecting a decline in gift shipments as Europe's economy has improved. The arrangement has cut eight cents from the 14-cent parcel post rate and up to 2.5 cents from ocean freight.

Sister of Egyptian Monarch Is Married

Princess Faikah was married in a simple ceremony before Appellate Judge C. J. Godell to Fouad Sadek of Cairo, Egypt.

Stalled Car Starts Blaze; Auto Burned

SOUTH RIVER, N.J. — (AP) — Stephen Preffack of East Brunswick was driving along a back road here when the car's wheels stuck in the sand.

Then, police said, Preffack, attempting to get the car loose, spun the wheels until the tires caught fire.

The fire set nearby brush aflame. The brush fire spread to the car. The 1950 auto, which police said Preffack borrowed from a friend, was destroyed.

Congressional Race Filing Deadline Is Set by Judges

AMARILLO — Potential candidates for the May 6 special congressional election have until 10 a.m. Monday, April 17, to file for a place on the ballot with each of the 28 county judges of the 18th U. S. Congressional District.

The ruling was made early Friday afternoon by a hand raising vote of 27 of the 28 judges in the Potter County Court Room here.

The county judges were faced with complying with laws which do not exist in the Texas election code and had virtually to draw up an impromptu law, one that was agreeable to at least the majority of counties represented.

Judge Eugene Jordan of Potter County presided.

The county jurists called on Lewis Nordyke, political editor of the Amarillo Globe-News, to explain what he knew about the existing law and conditions and what could be done about holding a special congressional election.

Nordyke had little more information than the judges. The judges had no information because there are no laws on the statute books to cover the contingency of a special congressional election.

According to the only information available — the Nordyke report — neither did the attorney general nor the secretary of state.

Most of the confusion hung on the 20-day absentee voting law —whether it had to be enforced, or how soon the filing deadline had to be set in order to comply with the 20-day rule; the drawing for places on the ballot; and the position it would put candidates in if the deadline was set too early.

After an hour the judges agreed to dispense with the full 20 days of absentee voting and set the deadline for April 17. They also agreed to have the county judge, sheriff and county clerk of each county draw for candidates' positions on the ballot, order the ballots printed immediately and permit absentee voting to begin as soon as the ballots were in the hands of the county clerks. The three-day deadline prior to election day remains in force.

Outside of that, all county judges will immediately go through with the formalities of ordering the election and posting notices in each county voting precinct.

Tomorrow was first suggested as the deadline but arguments that candidates could not make out their applications, draw up copies of the loyalty oath, required by a recently enacted state law, sign each one and get it through the mails to each judge by that time, won and the later date was chosen.

Several of the judges voiced concern over the ability of some candidates to get in under the wire due to such short time. Finally Judge O. M. Goodpasture of Hall County stated that too much concern was being voiced for the welfare of the candidates. Said Goodpasture, "this election is not for the benefit of the candidates but for the benefit of the voters and if the election was considered along this line all technicalities can be swept aside because there could be no fraud under such conditions."

Present from Gray County were County Judge Bruce Parker and County Clerk Charlie Thut. Judge A. D. Smith of Parmer County was the only judge absent when the roll was called.

Industrial Week Observance Termed Success by Pampans

Texas Industrial Week was deemed a success by Chamber of Commerce officials. The special week went off as scheduled with many Pampans participating in the four-phase program.

The first phase was a series of advertisements in The News sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and various business concerns. Pampa's carbon black industry was saluted Monday. Plants pictured in The News were Coltexo, Columbian Plants 5 and 6, Cabot Schafer, Cabot-Kingsmill, General Atlas, Cabot-Bowers and Peerless.

Texas Industrial Week tribute Tuesday went to local gasoline plants. Firms pictured included Coltexo, Portland, Phillips-Gray, Cargray, Shell No. 15, Cities Service and Skelly-Kingsmill.

Agricultural processing plants received the spotlight Wednesday. Firms included in the special industrial week salute were E. F. Tubbs Grain Co., Plains Creamery, Barnett-Wilkinson Grain Co., Sunshine Dairy Foods, Kimbell Milling Co., Pampa Baking Co., Fisher-Panhandle Grain Co. and Panhandle Baking Co.

In Thursday's advertisement, special recognition went to Pampa's machine shops, including Pampa Machine Co., Maurer Machinery Co., Baash-Ross Tool Co., Boynton Tool Co., Jones-Everett Machine Co., Lunsford Bit Shop and Cabot Shops, Inc.

Presentation of special programs at noon civic clubs was another phase of Texas Industrial Week. Bob Clements, Amarillo, president of Texas Manufacturers Association, attended the Rotary Club meeting and presented a brief address on the importance of Texas industry.

Radio programs Monday through Friday was a phase of the special week. Owners and executives of local manufacturing concerns were interviewed on the programs.

Local Texas Industrial Week arrangements were made by the Manufacture Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The Committee is headed by Ralph Julliard. Committeemen are Fred Thompson, Ben Guill, R. G. Hughes, C. A. Huff, Ewing Williams, Joe Key, Charles Wooley and J. W. Garman.

Derby Auto Wheels Made Before 1948 Are Not Usable

Safety was the motivating factor in the decision of the Rules Committee when they adopted this rule last fall at Akron, Ohio.

In case you are not sure of the identity of the old wheels that are banned, the 1946 wheels were painted yellow and the 1947 wheels were painted gold. Hence, all yellow and gold commercially made wheels are prohibited. The 1948, '49 and '50 wheels, (Editor's Note: Goodrich, Firestone made) that may be used are painted red.

Remember, boys, if you buy official Soap Box Derby wheels, you will find the words "Official Soap Box Derby Tire" on the rubber tire. The wheels must not be repainted, nor can any paint be removed. The bearings must not be tampered with. The wheels must be used just as they are.

The only exceptions to this rule are that balancing-holes in the wheel discs may be drilled, and the holes may then be sealed with transparent tape. Wheels may be run in by hand or by power.

Wheels from small vehicles in popular use, such as coaster wagons, tricycles, baby carriages, and the like may be used, provided they are no more than 12 inches in diameter. But it is prohibited to use home-made wheels, or wheels from commercial units such as factory trucks, hospital stretchers, industrial hand trucks or trailers.

Scottish Rite Masons Hold Banquet Rites

The Top o' Texas Scottish Rite Association assembled Friday at 7 p.m. in the Masonic Hall, to observe the Mystic Banquet as prescribed by the rite for Maundy Thursday.

Safety Fence Is Completed In Shamrock

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Construction of a 400-foot safety fence fronting the grade school on Highway 83 was completed last week under the supervision of Jack Taylor of the Texas Highway Department.

The safety feature was brought about through cooperation between school officials and the highway department.

It is constructed of all steel wire mesh mounted on steel poles. All play equipment and ball grounds are safely guarded by the fence and children have been instructed to remain within the fenced area during play periods.

During the morning, noon, and evening turn-out periods, all crossings over the highway are patrolled. School officials expect the new safety fence to practically eliminate the possibilities of a youngster darting out in front of an oncoming automobile while attempting to recover a lost baseball or football.

All efforts are being made by city officials to slow the traffic down as it passes the school grounds. The increase in traffic over Highway 83 has been enough to justify the construction of the safety fence as an additional life-saving measure.

Edmondsons Buy El Paso Baseball Club for $32,000

Phone Call Closes Deal

R. L. Edmondson, former owner of the Pampa Oilers baseball club, announced late last night that he had verbally agreed to purchase the El Paso Texans, of the Arizona-Texas League. He telephoned the former owner of the Texans, Jack Corbett, stating that he was accepting Corbett's established price for the club, reportedly $32,000.

Edmondson will go to El Paso either today or tomorrow.

About the only part of the transaction remaining is for the City Council to approve the transfer of the lease on the ball park to Edmondson, which it is expected will be approved without delay.

R. L. EDMONDSON, SR.

The rumored deal was first reported in The Pampa News last Sunday. Since that time the Edmondsons have been visiting in El Paso and looking over the club and its property. They returned to Pampa Friday to think over the proposition.

Edmondson, Jr.

Meanwhile, the Associated Press reports that the El Paso club and the Juarez club of the same league, are batting with George Trautman, president of the minor leagues.

Jack Corbett, owner of the El Paso club of the Class C Arizona-Texas League, says Monday he will file suit in federal court seeking an injunction to prevent George Trautman from nullifying the contract of one of his players.

Julio Ramirez, owner of the Juarez, Mexico, club in the same league, says he'll do the same. Only he hasn't made up his mind whether his suit will be in Mexican Federal Court or the U. S. court here.

Both Corbett and Ramirez will ask in their suits by what authority Trautman, commissioner of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, can nullify the contracts.

The planned suits stem from action by Trautman Friday in nullifying contracts of several players in several leagues. He found the players whose contracts he voided were still under contractural obligation to Mexican League teams and that American clubs "are chargeable with having such knowledge."

Under a pact between U. S. and Mexican baseball each will not sign players under contract to the other. This pact ended the "raids" that raged for several years by the Mexican League.

Jim Ferrier Leading Masters' Golf Meet

AUGUSTA, Ga. — (AP) — Jim Ferrier's erratically concocted 73 on the third round was good enough to keep him in front in the Masters' Tournament Saturday as Ben Hogan three-putted on the 18th green to lose his chance for a tie.

After three rounds, the big, Australian-born Ferrier had a total of 210, six strokes under par for the long, testing Augusta National course. Hogan, the convalescent clouter from Texas and Hersey Pa., was second with 212 and two other Texans, Byron Nelson and Jimmy Demaret, were two strokes further back.

Only these four and Sammy Snead, last year's winner who came in with 215, appeared to have any chance of winning as the pressure, the course and the gallery of about 10,000 took its toll of the rest of the field.

Par for the 6,900 yard, rolling National course is 36-36—72, and with the pins placed in difficult positions on the big, tricky greens, it took real golf to beat that figure Saturday. The weather was the only thing better than on the first two days. It was warm and sunny, with very little breeze.

National Open Champion Cary Middlecoff of Ormond Beach, Fla., had a 68, the best round of the day, which left him trailing with 219. Nelson had a 69, as did Clayton Heafner.

Hogan, who had to soak his legs in hot water Friday night to improve circulation and stop the swelling that has troubled him since his near-fatal automobile accident last year, came in with a sound 71 despite difficulty on the final green.

Detroit and Cincy Lead

By The Associated Press

If springtime form to date holds true for the impending major league baseball season — which it usually doesn't — it'll be Cincinnati against Detroit in the world series.

Cincinnati, the National League's perennial power in the sunshine belt, tops the 16 major league clubs in the mythical Grapefruit League with a 15-8 record for a .652 percentage.

Red Rolfe's Tigers, regarded as the American League dark horse, lead that circuit with a .611 mark on 11 victories and seven setbacks. Figures, including games of Friday night, embrace only those games against major league opposition.

Here's the current exhibition standings. Figures include games of Friday night and are for games against major league opposition only. Figures in parenthesis denote last year's regular season finish.

AMERICAN LEAGUE	W	L	PCT.
Detroit (4)	11	7	.611
Philadelphia (5)	6	4	.600
Cleveland (3)	11	9	.550
St. Louis (7)	9	9	.500
New York (1)	11	13	.458
Boston (2)	9	11	.450
Chicago (6)	4	6	.400
Washington (8)	5	9	.357
NATIONAL LEAGUE
Cincinnati (7)	15	8	.652
Brooklyn (1)	7	5	.583
Chicago (8)	10	8	.556
Pittsburgh (6)	8	8	.500
Philadelphia (3)	8	8	.500
New York (5)	9	11	.435
St. Louis (2)	10	13	.435
Boston (4)	9	13	.409

Detroit has shown a distinct liking for American League opposition, winning all of its eight starts. On the other hand, the Tigers sport a 3-7 figure against National League foes.

Cincinnati has displayed little preference. The Rhinelanders hold a 6-4 edge on clubs in its own league and a 9-4 bulge over American League teams.

Boys Club Boxers to Meet Clarendon Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Junior High Gymnasium Pampa boxing fans will have their first opportunity to see the local Boys Club boxing team in action. The local club has had to fight out of town all season because of inability to obtain a building in which to hold the bouts. Now, with the season almost at an end, the Junior High School has been made available for two nights. Wednesday the Boys Club faces Panhandle here.

So far this season the local fighters have defeated Panhandle twice, and Kress and Clarendon once each. They lost to Lefors twice, Shamrock and Wellington once each and fought the Shamrock team to a draw in another meeting.

Clarendon finished second in the district boxing tournament at Wellington last weekend, being

Fighting on the Pampa squad, coached by T. J. Watt, will be Thomas Grantham, Keith Kelly, Jimmy Bennett, Bobby Wilhelm, Waymon McPherson, Billy Ed Cooper, Ronnie James, Gary Wilhelm, Gary Watt, Dickie James, Carson Watt, Leon Kelley, Dick Murray, J. G. Smith, Frank Smith, Tommy White and Elmer Cox.

Referee for the matches will be Eugene Cooper, former state Golden Glove champion from Pampa.

White Deer 2nd In Greenbelt

CHILDRESS — (Special) Amarillo's Golden Sandie tracksters raced off with the Greenbelt Relays championship here Friday night with a total of 49 points as compared to Phillips and White Deer, who tied for second with 12 1-2. Wichita Falls finished with 10, Childress 7 1-2, Hamlin 6, Memphis 6, Shamrock 5, Wellington 3, Turkey 2 and Vernon 1.

Tom Horn, White Deer's brilliant distance man, set a new half-mile record and Tommy Moore, Phillips, established a new time for the 220-yard dash.

In the pole vault Earl Tarbet of Shamrock finished third and Oliver McLemore of Shamrock took second in the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet 10 1-4 inches.

White Deer finished second in the mile relay and Dale Imel of White Deer finished second in the mile run. Joe Sparkman of Childress broke Imel's mark of 4:45.3 set last season when he raced the distance in 4:45.0.

Pafko Has Troubles

SHREVEPORT, La. — (AP) — Andy Pafko, the only Chicago Cub player certain of a starting assignment for the 1950 season, may not be in uniform for the April 18 opener in Chicago. The 29-year-old centerfielder is suffering with tonsilitis and surgery is in the offing. He played three innings Friday night against Dallas and got the first hit of the evening. The Cubs won, 7-3.

Of the 134 horses eligible for the Kentucky Derby this year, 61 are still racing in the ownership of the people who bred and raised them.

Bobby Lane, Doak Walker Are Reunited

NEW YORK — (AP) Bobby Layne and Doak Walker, two of the greatest names in Southwestern football, will be reunited in professional ranks next fall. Walker recently signed a contract with Detroit. Saturday Layne was swapped to Detroit by the New York Yanks.

They were stars together at Highland Park High School of Dallas where both made all-state. Layne finished a year ahead of the Doaker, however.

Bobby went to Texas to win fame as quarterback and ace passer of the Longhorns and also to star as a pitcher on the baseball team.

Walker had planned to go to Texas but changed his mind at the last minute and entered Southern Methodist.

In 1945 Layne and Walker met when Texas played Southern Methodist. Both were top stars but Layne got the better of the argument that day as Texas beat SMU on Bobby's passing and rolled on to the Southwest Conference championship.

Walker was in the Army in 1946 when Layne continued as the star of the Longhorns. In 1947 Walker returned and the two clashed in the season's big game with Walker coming off best as SMU won 14-13.

Layne finished at Texas in the spring of 1948 and went to the Chicago Bears of the National Professional Football League. Walker played at Southern Methodist in 1947, 1948 and 1949 and was three times all-America.

Walker signed a three-year contract with Detroit at a reported $20,00 0a season. Layne received a like amount when he signed with the Bears but since then has been with the New York Bulldogs where he played last year. Then he was traded to the Yanks in what was called pro football's biggest deal.

Bobby was traded for Camp Wilson, former Hardin-Simmons star fullback, in the deal that sent him to Detroit.

Oilers Meeting Lamesa Today

Return Home Thursday to Battle Dukes

This afternoon the Pampa Oilers really get into the swing of the exhibition season when they play the Lamesa Lobos in a game that opens a week of activity that sees the Oilers playing six games.

After today's contest the Oilers will shove off to Abilene to engage the Cuban Blue Sox tomorrow night and then they hit the road for home to play the Albuquerque Dukes here next Thursday. On Friday they will go to Borger, on Saturday Amarillo comes here and on Sunday the Gassers move into town for the final game of the exhibition season. On Wednesday, the 19th, the Oilers open the championship season at Lubbock, opening at home on the 21st.

In today's game the probable pitchers for the Oilers will be George Payte and Joe Prucha, with possibly Ray Cassidy seeing some duty. Tomorrow at Abilene it will probably be Johnny Martin, if he can shake off his sore arm, and Merlin Hubbard and possibly George Payte.

The starting lineup for the Lobos this afternoon, selected by Manager Jay Haney, will be as follows: Pedro Santiago, rf; Haney, 1b; Glenn Selbo, ss; Jodie Beeler, 2b; Roman Loyko, lf; Billy Capps, 3b; Frank Calo, c; Dan Pinto, cf, and a pitcher that hadn't been selected.

For the Oilers it will be Bob Rose, 2b; Ernie Velasquez, ss; Homer Matney, cf; Virgil Richardson, 1b; Joe Fortin, rf; Don Ricketson, 3b; Wally Dunkoyich, lf; Jerry Squires, c, and the pitcher.

Manager Grover Seitz hasn't made any changes in the roster of the Oilers as yet, but it is known that he is dickering for another ace starting hurler and also for a boy that is capable of playing either infield or outfield. Perhaps by the time the club returns from the southern trip there may be some developments on one player or the other.

Jim Martin, husky first string catcher who underwent a tonsillectomy last Monday, is nearly ready to go again and should see some action in the Oilers' last exhibition contests.

Elsewhere around the league today the Oklahoma City Indians play at Abilene, Albuquerque plays at Roswell, Amarillo plays in Lubbock, Borger plays in Midland, and Clovis plays at Tucumcari.

So far this spring the Oilers have a 2-1 record, defeating Amarillo and Southwestern, Okla., Tech and losing to the Vernon Dusters.

Ponder Winner At Tanforan

SAN BRUNO, Calif. — (AP) — Calumet's Ponder won the $10,000 added Marchbank Handicap at Tanforan Saturday, defeating On Trust and Boomerang Boy in a three horse race.

Ponder ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1.45 flat.

Last year's Kentucky Derby winner won by three quarters of a length to pay $3.10. There were no place and show payoffs.

Harvester Golfers Qualify For Regional Tournament

The Pampa Harvester golf team took second place in the district golf meet at Amarillo Friday afternoon, being edged out of first spot by the Amarillo Sandies, 314 to 316. As the two top clubs in each district are permitted to go to the regional meet, the Harvesters will also go to Lubbock April 22 to try and gain entry to the state tournament, the first ever held in the Interscholastic League.

Already entered in the Lubbock regional are Midland and Lubbock, who qualified last week. Midland is reportedly the hottest Schoolboy golf team in the state and it is favored to win the regional event.

In Friday's competition at Amarillo's Country Club the Harvesters and Amarillo both entered two teams and Plainview and Borger one each.

Don Hill, Amarillo, was medalist for the day with a blazing 69. Next best round was fired by Pampa's Jimmy Howard, who carded a 76, followed by another Harvester, Richard Miller, with a 78.

In singles play, John Friauf, representing the Harvesters, came in last with a 96. First place went to Hill. Kenneth Shields of Plainview was second with a 78 and Paul Kamplan, Borger, third with 88.

Complete results were as follows:

FIRST TEAM:

PAMPA — Jimmy Howard, 76; Tommy Cox, 82; Richard Miller, 78, Jack Cox, 80. Total, 316.

AMARILLO — Don Hill 69, Bill Colvin, 83; Sam Mitchell, 86; Jim Baker, 76. Total, 314.

PAMPA — Richard Prigmore, 85; Charles Austin, 94; Ronnie Samples, 87; John Bell, 103. Total 369.

Baksi Seeks Heavy Shot

NEW YORK — (AP) — "This time I'm not going to miss the boat."

It was Joe Baksi talking. The 217-pound ex-coal miner from Kulpmont, Pa., had just stopped handsome Bernie Reynolds of Fairfield, Conn., in two minutes seven seconds of the seventh round at St. Nicholas Arena.

He wore the 24-year-old Reynolds down with a vicious head and body attack and ended the scheduled ten-rounder with left hooks to the mid sections in the seventh.

The first decked Reynolds for eight and referee Ruby Goldstein didn't even bother to count after the second.

Big Joe was jubilant.

"This time I'm not going to kick away any chances," said Baksi. "I lost my chance at Joe Louis in '47 because I didn't train for Olie Tandberg."

Tandberg beat Baksi in Sweden.

"Now I'm going to work and work. This is my last chance and I plan to go right to the top. I'll want a few more bouts, then give me Rocky Marciano and then Ezzard Charles (the NBA champion)."

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hause---News Sports Editor

QUESTION: How many big league players, still active, have hit over 200 big league home runs?

TODAY OPENS a week of action for the Oilers that will give the fans a better opportunity of judging just how strong the club will be this year. The Oilers will play six games between today and next Sunday night, all of them against West Texas-New Mexico League clubs. While none of the clubs are definitely settled on their rosters for 1950, these exhibition games will still offer some good comparisons.

Lamesa released a pair of its veterans from last season Friday. Leo Rheingans, an outfielder, and Stan Grzywacz, righthanded hurler, were handed their outright releases. Grzywacz will be remembered as much for his unpronounceable name as for his fighting personality, though he seems to be a very amicable gent most of the time. Last season he was accused a couple of times of throwing "dusters" at the batters and wound up on the winning end of a couple of punching brawls.

Down in Lubbock the Hubbers have just completed signing the Moore brothers to Hubber contracts. Two weeks ago the Hubbers inked Don Moore, slugging utility man, after he failed to receive a contract from Lamesa. Friday they signed Wilcy Moore, fleet-footed, good fielding centerfielder who played for Clovis last season.

Wilcy was purchased by the Cubs last season and after a trial with the Chicago Club's Des Moines farm team, he was sold to Lubbock. He is a brother of big Don, both boys being from Muleshoe.

While these changes have been going on there has been a discussion going on about the Lamesa Lobos preparing to sign a Negro player. Whether the West Texas-New Mexico League is ready to overlook the color line is the question.

"Irish" Matthews, sports editor of the Lamesa Reporter, discussed this problem in one of his columns last week. He claims the Lobos have a chance to hire a spectacular Negro first baseman, filling a spot where the Lobos most need help now. He describes the colored player as an outstanding player last year with a colored unit.

A cafe poll was taken by Matthews on the question and the verdict rendered at Lamesa was 34 for the employment of the Negro and 5 against.

Matthews' verdict is in accord with ours. He wrote, "If there is such a sensational Negro rookie, and he is willing to come here with the understanding of what criticism is in store for him, we are willing to see him given a chance regardless of what the other clubs say."

There is no reason to draw the color line in our league anymore than in the major leagues. It took quite a while before the majors would chance hiring a colored performer, and since they did the players that have been selected became some of the most outstanding in the game.

While our league runs through the South, where the color line is supposed to be strongest, whenever the Dodgers played exhibitions in the South or Southwest they always managed to draw huge crowds without any trouble arising over the playing of the Negroes.

If they are going to allow clubs to import players from out of the country, such as Abilene has done (and they are not even citizens of the United States), why bar these native-born citizens from participating in our national pastime?

Skelly Thinclads Set for Meet

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — The Skellytown Grade School track team, coached by Bert Isbell, will be entered in the District 1-B all-grade school event at White Deer next Saturday afternoon.

Pull ups (chinning): James Oates, Billy Mosteller, Wendell Powell.

There will also be a junior volleyball tournament at the same time with both boys and girls teams competing.

Newhouser Happy

Hal has had a mysterious sore arm. But after a half hour's work in batting practice at Montgomery Friday he was encouraged.

"I threw hard for the first time. It didn't pain me at all," he said. "It's the best news I've had."

Texas Blooms Baseball This Week

(By The Associated Press)

Texas' professional baseball blooms all over the place this week.

Four of the eight leagues in which this state has clubs will open the season. The others swing into action next week.

It's the biggest — and probably will be the whackiest because of that fact — in Texas history.

Forty-seven clubs will play in Texas, making the Lone Star state the national leader. Texas this year takes over the top spot in America, having two more clubs than North Carolina, which until now had led the nation. North Carolina boasts 45 clubs this time.

The storied Class AA Texas League, fifth oldest professional baseball circuit in the United States — only the National, International, Southern and Western are older — starts its fifty-fifth campaign Tuesday.

Also, the Rio Grande Valley League, raised to Class C this year, and the Class D Longhorn League open Tuesday.

Wednesday, the Gulf Coast League, a Class C circuit, starts its first race.

April 18 the Class B Big State League and Class C East Texas and Arizona-Texas leagues begin the campaign.

The last league to start is the Class C West Texas-New Mexico which opens April 19.

The eight leagues in which Texas has 47 of the 60 clubs drew 5,082,474 in attendance last year. The Texas clubs drew 3,765,486 of it.

There is every reason to believe that this will be exceeded by more than a half-million this season since there are six more Texas clubs than last year. The new Gulf Coast League, with four Texas teams, and the Rio Grande Valley League, expanding from six to eight, should make this possible.

Pirates Happy Over Showing of Rookie Pettit

NEW ORLEANS, La. — (AP) — Paul Pettit, the Pittsburgh Pirates' $100,000 bonus pitcher, has a lot to learn but his baseball teachers are certain he has the stuff to make the Bucs' gamble look good.

Both Manager Hugh Luby of the Pirates' New Orleans farm club—where Pettit will play this season — and Pirate scout Ben Tincup insist the 18-year-old California schoolboy has plenty of poise but not enough pitching savvy—yet!

They say they weren't too disappointed when Pettit gave up six runs in the first inning of an exhibition against the Pittsburgh club Thursday. After that letup the youngster settled down and didn't allow a run as he faced 11 National Leaguers in the next three innings.

Prior to his appearance against the Bucs, Pettit had appeared in three exhibition tilts. He pitched 13 innings, allowing only seven hits and no runs.

Under baseball's bonus rule Pettit must be called up by the Bucs next season.

"I am banking on him to be a winner both here and for the Pirates," said Tincup, who has been assigned to help Luby watch over Pettit. This is what Tincup thinks of him:

"He has a lot to learn. But he is absorbing the stuff slow and sure."

One-third of America's surfaced highways now have stripes running down the middle.

Texas League Opens Up 55th Year in High Spirits Tuesday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS — (AP) — The ancient Texas League embarks on its fifty-fifth journey Tuesday night with prospects of an opening day attendance record for just one-half of the show.

Driving Dick Burnett, whose oil millions have gone into the Dallas franchise, not only expects to set a new one-club opening mark but to furnish the impetus for an all-time first day for the entire league.

There will be four games but the spotlight is on Dallas where nine major league greats join forces with the youthful, hustling Eagle club in an effort to pack the gigantic Cotton Bowl with its 75,000 yawning seats.

Already 30,000 tickets have been sold for the Dallas-Tulsa opening game and Burnett hopes there will be enough more to set an all-time record for professional baseball, including the major leagues.

The record is 73,163 hung up at Cleveland in 1948. The minor league record is 50,000 made at Jersey City.

The Texas League opening day record, for one club is 16,018 set in 1930 by Fort Worth. This mark already is eclipsed by Dallas with its advance sale.

The opening games Tuesday night are Tulsa at Dallas, San Antonio at Beaumont, Oklahoma City at Fort Worth and Houston at Shreveport. Beaumont expects 7,000, Shreveport looks for 10,000 and Fort Worth predicts 8,500. The Texas League opening attending record — for eight games —is 70,424 set in 1928.

Thursday the clubs change stands for openers at Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Beaumont and Houston with Dallas at Oklahoma City, Fort Worth at Tulsa, San Antonio at Beaumont and Shreveport at Houston.

At Dallas, Dizzy Dean, the last major league pitcher to win 30 games — that was 1934 for the St. Louis Cardinals — will be throwing his "high hard one" again. Dean will be on the mound when the nine "old men" of major league glory take the field to play to the first Tulsa batter. Behind the plate will be Mickey Cochrane. Charlie Grimm, present Dallas manager; Charley Gehringer, Travis Jackson and Home Run Baker will be the outfield with Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and Duffie Lewis in the outfield.

There'll be ceremonies. At 7:30 p.m. Governor Allan Shivers of Texas will speak with John Ben Shepperd, Texas secretary of state and citizen of Gladewater, responding in behalf of Burnett. Burnett is a Gladewater man. The Kilgore College Rangerettes, a group of East Texas beauties, and the Kilgore College band will put on a show. The game starts at 8 p.m.

Governors Roy Turner of Oklahoma and Sidney McMath of Arkansas have been invited to attend the game. The Arkansas angle comes from the fact that much of Burnett's oil holdings are in that state.

As for the Texas League race, Fort Worth and Tulsa are the general choices to fight it out for first place. Fort Worth led over the full season route last year. Tulsa won the pennant in the playoffs.

Beaumont, which has finished in the cellar the last three campaigns, is being picked to get into the first division this year. Mostly it's on the basis of a gaudy spring exhibition record in which the Roughnecks have won all but one game, beating Dallas, Houston and San Antonio every time.

Also, Beaumont this year has one of the most famous names in baseball as manager. He is Rogers Hornsby.

The campaign starts with four new managers — Hornsby at Beaumont, Grimm at Dallas, Don Heffner at San Antonio and Kemp Wickes at Houston. Returnees are Bobby Bragan at Fort Worth, Al Vincent at Tulsa, Joe Vosmik at Oklahoma City and Francis Parker at Shreveport.

President J. Alvin Gardner has predicted the league will go over the 2,000,000 attendance mark again this year. Last season it showed 2,007,927. Gardner had indicated at first that he thought the total would reach 2,500,000 but after considering that San Antonio probably would have one of its weaker clubs, that there has been a big drought in parts of Texas and that business is down in most localities, hedged on his forecast.

The league office announced these umpiring assignments for the opening (starting time in parentheses):

Tulsa at Dallas (8 p.m.) — Chester Fowler, Fred Sigler and Frank Secory.

Oklahoma City at Fort Worth (8:15 p.m.) — Bill Wilson, K. P. (Frenchy) Arceneaux and Troy Sharp.

Houston at Shreveport (8:15 p.m.)—Mike Williamson, Andy Andrews and Frank Capps.

Pampa All-Stars Top Lefors Team

The Pampa All-Stars softball team, entered in the AAU regulated Panhandle Softball League, played an exhibition game Friday night under the lights at Lefors, meeting the Holloway Station team. The All-Stars came out with an 11-1 victory.

Pitching chores for the locals were handled by Truman Cooper and Manager John Wilde. Cooper allowed one hit and fanned seven in four innings and Wilde hurled three hitless innings and fanned six.

Tomorrow night at 6 o'clock the All-Stars will play a practice game at Lions' Club Park with the General Atlas club entered in the Pampa City Softball League. The league season for the All-Stars opens on May 1.

Greens Gossip

By HOGAN O'SNEAD

Well, the Pampa High School golfers missed capturing the district title by two strokes Friday. Amarillo's Sandies compiled a total of 314 strokes for the eighteen hole route, an average of 78 1/2 strokes per player. Pampa's team of Jimmy Howard, Tom and Jackie Cox and Richard Miller had a total of 316, an average of 79 strokes per player. So you see, Johnny Austin's boys almost turned the trick.

They are more determined than ever to beat Amarillo, and I heard them telling Austin that they were definitely going to beat Amarillo at the Lubbock High School Invitational next Saturday at Lubbock. Good luck! I hope you do it — Johnny really wants a victory over Amarillo before school closes.

John Friauf played the singles for the Harvesters and had some bad lake trouble. I never did find out whether he hit three or four balls into the ducks. How many was it, John?

The second team for Pampa, Richard Prigmore, Charles Austin, Ronnie Samples and John Bells, turned in a total of 257 strokes, which gives them an average of 89 1/4. You know what? Those averages I've been figuring are for kids, and they aren't half bad, are they?

The Women's Golf Association met last Wednesday and held its weekly tournament. This week it was a three-hole handicap event with Miriam Luedders winning the first flight and Joyce Watkins the second flight winner. They had another good representation, with about 25 women out. Keep firing girls.

I haven't been able to get too much gossip for this week's column because of the high winds. So I'm going to print a few words about golf etiquette. As all of you know, who play golf at the PCC, you have been permitted to play in large groups unless the course is awfully crowded. Well, I have heard people come in and complain to Johnny that they were held up all the way by one or two groups who would not wave them through.

I'm not going to mention any names or groups who are guilty of this because a lot of us are, but don't you think it would be proper golf etiquette to step aside and wave the faster group through? Let's try it and see if everybody isn't happier. Incidentally, the foursome rule for the summer will go in effect very shortly.

Another thing, there are a few people who play golf at the local layout who drive into groups in front of them. Sportsmen and sportswomen, this practice must stop or someone is going to be seriously injured. Please don't hit that ball if you think you may possibly drive into the group ahead of you. A minute or two of waiting may save a life or serious injury. Golf balls travel awfully fast and numerous deaths have been caused by the little white pellets. Think it over.

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — Can Casey Stengel do it again? Can the aging New York Yankees win another for the "miracle man" manager of 1949?

Let's sum up a few arguments pro and con.

On the "yes" side:

The Yanks still have that strong "bench" that won for them last year. Joe DiMaggio, despite the usual scare stories, is ready to go. Jerry Coleman, a rookie unknown last spring, is an established big league second baseman. The pitching looks strong with Allie Reynolds, Ed Lopat and Tommy Byrne showing particularly good form. There seems to be no overconfidence, no tendency to rest on last year's laurels. Oh yes, Joe Page is still around, too.

Now on the "no" side:

Tommy Henrich, hobbled by a knee injury, missed most of the training grind. It still is not certain that he will be able to open the season. Bobby Brown reported late after finishing med school and may not be ready to jump from the barrier at full speed. Pitcher Jack Sanford has shown little to make up for the $100,000 he cost over a year ago. Bob Porterfield, despite a couple of fine efforts, remains a question mark because of his old arm trouble. Most important of all, the stand pat club is a year older.

You see there's a delicate balance between the two sides. Last year Stengel's inspired moves tipped the scales the right way. Old Case never made the wrong move. If he jerked a starter, Page always mowed 'em down. If he replaced an outfielder with a better thrower, the next batter would hit a fly to that field and a man would be cut down at the plate with a perfect peg.

It may be asking too much for a man to never make a wrong move two years running. Old Case would be the first to admit he was lucky in some spots.

As matters stand, the Yankee infield would open with Henrich on first, if he is able. If not, Joe Collins, a lefthander who got plenty of work in the spring games, would take over. Coleman on second, dependable Phil Rizzuto on short and Bobby Brown and Billy Johnson alternating at third against right and lefthanded pitching.

DiMaggio is the only outfielder sure of a regular job. Stengel may wind up alternating Gene Woodling and Johnny Lindell in left and Cliff Mapes and Hank Bauer in right. That's what he did last summer with his two-platoon system.

Yogi Berra, of course, is the No. 1 catcher. He'll do most of the heavy duty with help from Charley Silvera. One of the others, Ralph Houk or Gus Niarhos, will be traded to some other big league club.

Stengel has four regular starting pitchers in Allie Reynolds, Vic Raschi, Ed Lopat and Tommy Byrne. Porterfield will be the fifth if he has no more arm trouble. For relief it's Page. All the regulars, except Raschi, looked good in training.

We've Saluted Our Industries

THE PAST week Pampa luncheon organizations, the Chamber of Commerce, the Pampa Daily News and Radio Station KPDN have made a united salute to the industries of the Top o' Texas area.

During that time, which was observed as Texas Manufacturers Week, it has been the idea to give a finger-to-finger accounting of all those industries which serve as a backbone of our local economy.

While we have known all along that they play a vital part, we did not each day of the year pledge ourselves to back and promote those industries. Though we are always ready to do so, we did not do that for we didn't think about it.

Each Top o' Texan the next twelve months and through the months of the ensuing years should resolve to strengthen local industry by promoting it in every way possible. It should not take a special "week" for us to support that which supports us.

Buy Your Season Concert Ticket

THE COMMUNITY CONCERT Association is now selling memberships for the 1950-51 season. Deadline has been set for next Saturday noon.

This is a commendable organization. Its primary purpose is to bring to our community the same type of concert artists that one may see in the metropolitan cities.

Around 500 memberships have been sold for the coming season. Association directors would like to see another 500. The bigger the membership, the better the artists will be.

Last year there were 737 adult and 185 student memberships. The association hopes to exceed those numbers this year.

Membership in the association assures Pampans of good musical entertainment. The auditorium is easily accessible — no subways to ride, or jammed street cars. Become a member if you are not already one.

So They Say

Our political life is predicated on openness. We do not believe any group of men is adequate or wise enough to operate without scrutiny or criticism. We know that the only way to avoid error is to detect it, that the only way to detect it is to be free to inquire.
—Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer.

The nation's defenses today are far better than a year ago and getting better all the time.
—Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

The man who seeks to gain political advantage from personal attack on a secretary of state is a man who seeks political advantage from damage to his country.
—Henry L. Stimson, former secretary of state and secretary of war.

To face the dangers of a very tough world, what we need is not to be overwhelmed with these dangers, but to understand them.
—David E. Lilienthal, former AEC chairman.

U.N. Group May Find Out Truth About Russians

By JOHN FISHER

Stalin suffered a fresh propaganda setback a few days ago, when the United Nations organized a special committee to survey and expose slavery as practiced in modern society.

The charge that bondage of varied degrees exists behind the Iron Curtain has been proved again and again by refugees and governments-in-exile. But the United Nations investigators will bring together all the latest documents and evidence. Their report should open the eyes of those who had assumed that previous stories of servitude were exaggerations.

Readers of this column already are familiar with accounts about mass deportations of harassed Balts, Ukrainians, Volga Gemans and Caucasian and Crimean Russians. Anti-Communists from Stalin's satellites and East Germany also are being herded into concentration camps.

Soviet documents in the possession of United Nations delegates record that last year thousands of people were condemned for their political beliefs and shipped to the East Germany uranium mines and to forced labor colonies in East Siberia and Central Asia.

TIED FOR LIFE

But in addition to these stricken victims, millions of so-called free folk have their liberties so curtailed that they are in fact prisoners.

For example, no Estonian railroadman, even if he is a Communist Party member, can in his lifetime change his job. Hence despite poverty, no one willingly takes up railroading. Workers are drawn from the compulsorily enrolled students of transportation trade schools.

The Russians are leaving no stone unturned in an effort to force stubborn Baltic peasants to merge their private holdings into collectivist farms.

Back in 1945 the Moscow invaders, in order to court popularity, cut up the fields belonging to the big estates. They gave each new small owner a Russian deed guaranteeing him land in perpetual tenure.

Now whenever a farmer shows the collectivist agents this signed and sealed Moscow promise, his act is considered grounds for deportation. So off he goes to Siberian serfdom for relying on a solemn pledge made to him by the Kremlin.

OFF TO SIBERIA!

As the number of so-called criminals and traitors decreases through deportations, the need for a new supply of forced labor grows. Hence Red bosses must always invent new offenses. Lithuanians are now packed into box cars and sent to Asia for the sole reason that they received letters from relatives in the United States.

Correspondence from the West is handled in a special manner. A letter is scanned by local censors, delivered by messenger and the recipient made to sign a receipt. That receipt is virtually his death warrant. To have an American cousin ask no more than a question about the health of grandmother may condemn the receiver to years of slavery in an Arctic timber camp.

The Russians are now using Baltic Communist college and high school students as slave traders. The youngsters are given the authority to draw up the lists of persons for deportation. To curry favor with the MVD they often turn in teachers, relatives — even parents — who have in some way offended them. Fellow pupils caught humming a "capitalist dance tune" or decent girls, who refuse to be seduced are tagged for the work colonies.

SUCCUMB TO COMMUNISM

Underground agents with whom I have talked recently express growing anxiety over the fate of the doomed. They not only shudder at the thought of the physical torture which the prisoners must endure. They fear that slaves, especially impressionable youth, will succumb to communism as their only escape from misery.

A pious German girl fled from a camp in Silesia to the American zone in Germany. She said that during the first months of imprisonment Christian young people gathered in secret with her for religious meetings and to offer spiritual communion. They sang hymns to keep up their courage.

After three or four years had elapsed girls commenced to complain, "We have been praying for release all this time and nothing has happened. We are losing our youth. Why shouldn't we give in to the Communists and have a little fun in life?"

And some forsook their faith and became mistresses of their guards for the sake of a warm house and extra food.

In Baltic countries Russian masters now permit a wife, whose husband has disappeared in a deportation, to rewed without formalities. Pretty wives, to save themselves from unwanted attention from local Reds or from forced marriages to Soviet Army officers, often contract fictitious marriages with trustworthy patriots with the understanding that the ties are not binding and that the pair will separate as soon as freedom comes or the husband returns.

AVOID STIGMA

Less Spartan wives, whose husbands have been deported or killed, often wed Red bigwigs or Russian military men. This makes it possible for them to avoid the stigma and the loss of privileges that are the fate of relatives of the "enemies of the people."

The bewildered women also imagine that the marriage will provide them with a few luxuries. But it does not work out as they had hoped. One who wed a Soviet colonel confessed bitterly, "I only longed for a better life. Now I have two of his children and endure as much drudgery and abuse as before."

Others are even more disillusioned. During the large-scale deportations in Latvia last year, Russian soldiers rounded up people by city blocks and carried off everyone, including many of the newly-married opportunist wives of minor Communist bureaucrats. These wretched outcasts now suffer all the rigors of slavery plus the hatred of their fellow prisoners.

The division among slave camp inmates in Iron Curtain countries lately has been increased as men and women Communists suspected of Titoism and Trotsky deviations, arrive in droves. The newcomers are maltreated by their orthodox Communist guards and are shunned by their non-Communist companions in misery.

When the United Nations committee reports more of the truth about Soviet bondage, the world will have even more convincing proof of the Red terror and what it would mean to humanity if the diabolical system survives or spreads.

Gracie Says

By GRACIE ALLEN

A Parisian haberdasher claims that "three out of four Frenchmen wear only the tops of their pajamas and have slept pajama-pantsless for many, many months."

I'll admit that's interesting information, but it would really help the U. N. settle world affairs to know why they won't wear the pants.

For instance, George told me about a man who's so knock-kneed he has to wear boxing gloves on his knees to keep them from bumping when he walks in his sleep.

A man like that has a good excuse — he couldn't get pajama pants on over the boxing gloves. So, if three out of four Frenchmen are that knock-kneed they should say so and stop hinting around.

Woman Defending Americanism Answers Bishop

Today I continue to quote from Miss McMurtry's answer to Bishop Edward L. Parsons of St. Luke's church in San Francisco, California regarding the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. I quote:

"And in my opinion of your continual stressing of prevention of war with Russia is that it is a 'front' to conceal your Federal Council's activities toward the overthrow of our own Republic and substitution of a totalitarian, communistic, welfare state. I remember that during World War II, the Federal Council was cited to appear before the Un-American Activities Committee on the charge of subversive activities. But President Roosevelt had it hushed up—it being one of several times when he conceded American principles of right and wrong to Stalin's. The Federal Council's interest in Communist principles has been the same throughout its history.

"And I would like to ask, what are churches doing mixed up in politics, anyway? Churches have religious freedom, but don't I remember something about the separation of Church and State?

"Also, - that to believe in laissez faire, is to believe in God and Freedom. There are only two kinds of Government. The kind our Founding Fathers started America on—where all men were born free, with as little Government as was possible, according to the moral state of the people. Its foundation was built on 'solid rock', being based on the motto 'In God We Trust'. The other kind of Government is the age-old European brand of one group or individual dominating or taking care of the rest of the people. Its foundation is built 'on sand' as history's pages of the rise and fall of nations can attest. Your welfare state belongs to the 'built on sand' group.

"I wonder when you pray, do you say 'Thy will be done'? It seems to me with your views, you could only say, 'The Federal Council's will be done.'

"I was raised to some extent in the Episcopal Church. Through circumstances, I have not been a regular attendant. But I like its service—I have always thought of it as my church. I have thought that some day, I might become a member. But I thank God, I never have. I consider the Federal Council a very bad guide to any one's thinking.' If I were a member now, I would most certainly withdraw my name. I would not care to be represented by your 'able consecrated, Christian men' who have brought shame on the good name of the Episcopal Church. The Federal Council has given the Catholics every right in the world to say, that it simply doesn't work for every man to be 'his own Pope'.

I remain, Sincerely
Imogen McMurtry."

RISING UNEMPLOYMENT

(Chicago Daily Tribune)

The number of unemployed in February broke all records back to July, 1941. This number will be reduced slightly as out of door work opens up, but in June and July the labor supply will be increased permanently by those graduating into employment and temporarily by others seeking vacation jobs.

The number unemployed seems certain to go over the 5 million mark by summer even if the business curve does not turn downward as it did right after the Truman election. The cause of the downturn then was the fear that the radical legislative program he had advocated in some of his speeches would be adopted. By late spring of last year, when it was clear that congress would refuse to pass nearly all of the Truman measures, business activity rallied vigorously.

With the congressional election coming up in the fall, it is possible that business men may hesitate until they see how that turns out before embarking on new expansion plans. This, coupled with the end of the shortages of automobiles and other consumer durables, may send the unemployment index up a million or two.

The first impact of unemployment is borne by the unemployment benefit funds. These funds reached an all-time high of 8½ billions late in 1948. Since that time, benefit payments have exceeded tax collections by about a billion dollars. In January the disbursements totaled 185 million dollars, or at the annual rate of 2¼ billion dollars, compared with receipts of a billion in good years.

Payments could continue quite a few years at this rate without exhausting the reserves. Unemployment benefits are intended only to tide workers over between jobs and are limited to six months in any year. The insurance does not attack the causes of unemployment, whatever they may be.

The labor union solution for unemployment is higher wages. Union officials have asserted that the existence of a large army of unemployed means that industries are not paying out enough in wages to buy all of the goods the American people are capable of producing. The unions seek to remedy this by getting their own pay boosted.

Higher wages mean higher selling prices. If not enough goods can be sold to employ all the people at prevailing prices, not more but less goods will be sold if the prices are made higher. The way to sell more goods and create more demand for labor is to get costs down. That can be done without cutting wages only if people work harder or at least more effectively. Moreover, in each industry there are some companies barely breaking even. Any increases in their costs would close them up or at least force them to lay off some of their help.

Governments find a solution for unemployment in inflation. That was Roosevelt's way and it is Truman's. For quite a while the government has been working on what it calls a "depressed area program." A depressed area has been defined as a community where 12 per cent of the people are out of work. The aid given to depressed areas so far has been of little effect. About all that it has done has been to get people to stay where jobs are scarce rather than to move on to places where jobs are plentiful. Sensing the ineffectiveness of the "depressed area" approach, the administration is getting up nerve to bring back the WPA under a new and catchy name. Communities are to be urged to find projects on which the shovel leaning will not be too conspicuous, to be financed by dollars the treasury pump will supply. Inflation doesn't solve unemployment, it just hides it.

The third solution for unemployment is the business approach. It consists of enabling private enterprise to create jobs and in making it profitable to do so. A reduction of corporation income taxes would allow corporations to carry out plans which they cannot finance because of shortage of capital. It would make some operations profitable which now are not.

The elimination of double taxation of corporations—taxing both the business and the owners of the business as if they were separate income streams—would be especially effective. Cutting taxes on any individual income to a maximum of 50 per cent would create funds available for investment in new business concerns which have not been able to obtain adequate equity financing in recent years. Ending rent control would result in diverting risk capital into a sadly neglected field, rental housing.

The World In His Pocket

National Whirligig

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — No recent incident has shattered the political morale of the Truman-for-1952 clique at Washington so violently as the willingness of Democratic legislators on Capitol Hill to boost the 1951 national defense budget over White House protests on the sole recommendation of General "Ike" Eisenhower.

Although almost every knowing politician now believes that the World War II commander is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination two years hence, with Mr. Truman as a possible opponent, even economy-minded Democrats in House and Senate prefer the Eisenhower to the Truman-Johnson estimate of military needs.

SUPPORT — Carl Vinson of Georgia, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, endorsed the Columbia president's proposal for a minimum increase of $500 million. Senator John L. McClellan, Arkansas Democrat and a penny-pincher, said that "if Eisenhower thinks we should spend more money, Congress will take his word and provide it."

It is probable that even such opponents of the administration's spending proclivities as Senators Byrd of Virginia and George of Georgia will support the Eisenhower boost, even in the face of Truman - Johnson opposition. Both men insist that their $13 billion total is sufficient for today's needs.

SIGNIFICANCE — Truman politicos' sole consolation is that Eisenhower let them down so easily. He asked only a $500 to $600 million increase for the air forces, for Alaskan defenses, for expanding our intelligence system and further experimentation on new weapons. But he made clear that, in his opinion, a satisfactory budget should have been nearer $15 billion than the White House figure.

But the overal lpolitical significance is that, despite the political threat to Mr. Truman's reelection embodied in the general's prestige and personality, prominent Democrats built up a prospective GOP nominee instead of "tearing him down."

COALITION — The welcome which congressional Democrats extended to the leader of our European forces assumes greater significance for reasons still generally unknown but, to their chagrin, available to the Truman - for - 1952 campfire buddies. Originating among leading Southern figures of prominence, there is widespread talk of a "coalition" movement for Eisenhower's nomination and election.

It would be no surprise if, when the moment is opportune, the idea were openly advanced by two former members of Roosevelt-Truman Cabinets now nursing their grievances — personal, ideological and political—against the so-called "Fair Deal." Another Truman enemy likely to join the movement is that eminent adviser to presidents, Bernard M. Baruch.

In fact, General Eisenhower has told members of Congress that he has discussed with the former financier such problems as stockpiling and industrial mobilization for war. That revelation also disturbed the Trumanites, in view of the bitter break between the president and Mr. Baruch, who refused to give a nickel to the Truman election fund in 1948.

VOTES — The "coalition" scheme has been projected beyond the 1952 campaign, assuming that General Eisenhower should be the Republican - Southern Democratic nominee and emerge triumphant. It contemplates the selection of a "coalition" Cabinet for conduct of the "cold war" and progressive preparation for a shooting engagement.

Moscow would undoubtedly denounce an Eisenhower nomination as a sign that the U.S. was putting on its war paint. But GOP strategists, perhaps correctly, figure that such a Soviet attack and inevitable vituperation of the general would pile up votes for him.

INDEPENDENCE — Several serious defections among erstwhile Truman enthusiasts underwrite Republican leaders' private belief that it would be disadvantageous for their party to capture either branch of Congress in the November elections. They want to saddle President Truman with another two-year responsibility for making good on the all-things-to-all men role he assumed in 1948, and on the promises he has made since entering the White House.

The Chicago Defender, a leading Negro newspaper, recently expressed its disillusionment with the administration's inability to wrest civil rights legislation from a Democratic legislature. Smaller organizations and organs of the colored race are also breaking away.

At their recent convention here, the Americans for Democratic Action, the Roosevelt and radical annex of the national Democratic group, hinted at its dissatisfaction with lack of accomplishment at Washington. Over the objection of presidential cronies, it reversed its 1949 endorsement, asserting its full independence of any political faction and striking out all eulogistic references to the party in power.

PLEDGES — Labor union spokesmen around the country exhibit similar restlessness over failure to repeal or modify the Taft-Hartley Act. Social welfare groups ask when their program, including national health insurance and an aid-to-education bill, will be enacted. All of these direct-action advocates are growing weary of promises and denunciations of "hostile interests."

The Republicans realize that they would spoil this picture if they took over Congress next year, especially as they would enjoy only nominal control because of a few dissenters in their own ranks. It would be smarter, in their opinion, to let Mr. Truman or any other Democratic nominee in 1952 explain why a Democratic Congress failed to fulfill party pledges for four long years.

Note: So far the only major measures to become law at this session are repeal of colored margarine taxes and aid to Korea. Neither was a partisan proposition.

On His Own

By GORDON MARTIN

There is quite a change in Junior in his senior college year, for in just a month or two he will begin a new career. When he's home for weekend visits, he is quiet and subdued, and no longer does he have a sophomore attitude. He is thinking of the day when he will have to stand alone, for commencement time is nearing and he'll soon be on his own.

Heading up his list of problems is his need to land a job, and he faces competition from the graduating mob. But he has some likely prospects and he speaks of house and home, and he wants to settle down where once he had the urge to roam. Then his parents hide their knowing smiles and counsel with their son, who would really like to ask if two can live as cheap as one.

And they think it's fine that Junior knows he's got to make his mark, and no longer thinks that life is just a joyous, carefree lark. It recalls a score of years ago when they too made their start, so they help him with his problems with an understanding heart. Though they dread the thought of losing him, they proudly hear him plan, for they know they've reared a youngster who has now become a man.

The Doctor Says

BY EDWIN J. JORDAN, MD

WRITTEN FOR NEA

Great progress has been made in the medical care and in the understanding of children who are crippled, deformed or handicapped by injury or disease. A number of voluntary organizations have helped immensely. Today many of these youngsters can be helped to take a more normal part in the mental and physical activities in which others of the same age indulge.

It is encouraging to realize, too, that play as well as work has been so much improved for the handicapped. Camping in the summer has been one of the great delights of many children for years. Now the camping experience (adjusted to the particular needs of the youngsters) can be provided for more and more of the handicapped and crippled.

For example, the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults (11 South LaSalle Street, Chicago 3, Illinois) in co-operation with the American Camping Association (343 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois) has informed me that either organization would be willing to supply information on camps for crippled children which are located in many parts of the continent.

These camps are not exclusively the privilege of the rich. Through the generosity of many public-spirited citizens, it is often possible to send children who need it to some of these camps under scholarships or partial scholarships.

It is particularly appropriate to call attention to this service and to the other great work for handicapped youngsters which the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults has done now when the Easter Seal campaign is underway.

SPECIAL DIABETIC CAMPS

Other organizations also have an interest in camps for handicapped youngsters. There are a number of camps which are designed particularly for children with diabetes. Youngsters suffering from this condition can profit greatly from a properly conducted camp experience.

I am gratified, therefore, to be able to report that the American Diabetes Association (1 Nevis Street, Brooklyn 17, New York) has also offered its services as a clearing house for information on diabetic camps.

Certainly all children should have a camp experience if it can be arranged. Certainly, too, there are special needs for those who cannot take part in all forms of strenuous camp life. Generous help in supporting camps such as those mentioned, and in making it possible for deserving children of modest means to attend these camps, is worthy of ungrudging support. Although we may get tired of giving, it is hard to think of any cause more worth-while.

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)— Film industry leaders have scheduled a secret war council meeting to discuss the growing television threat. The meeting was called following a private Paramount survey of New York City which revealed that TV set ownership cuts family theater attendance by 20 to 30 per cent. An earlier survey, taken in Washington, showed video families' attendance was down as much as 74 per cent. Hollywood, at last, has been startled out of its complacent attitude toward the new medium.

Washington.....by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Anti-Communist labor war on the waterfronts of Europe, to insure unloading of North Atlantic Pact military aid supplies from America, has been pledged in Washington by officials of the new International Confederation of Free Trade Unions — ICFTU.

These assurances are given by J. H. Oldenbroeck of The Netherlands, secretary general of ICFTU, and Omer Becu of Belgium, secretary of the European International Transport Workers Federation. The two European labor leaders met in Washington last week with representatives of the American Federation of Labor, Congress of Industrial Organizations, United Mine Workers and the Railroad Brotherhoods, to plan anti-Communist strategy.

First shipment of U. S. Army supplies for Europe was loaded at New York Port of Embarkation March 31. It is bound for Italy, but port of destination has not been announced. First Naval supplies left Norfolk, Va., aboard the French aircraft carrier Dixmude. First Air Force aid for Europe was the more recent flight of B-29's to England.

Major objective of the Communist-dominated labor unions in Western Europe today is to prevent the unloading of these arms from the United States. The counterattack to this propaganda has already begun, says Mr. Oldenbroeck.

CONTROL "HIRING HALLS"

Statements in favor of the arms aid program have been issued to dock workers in the principal European ports. Efforts have been made to have the waterfront unions vote on this question. Heads of the Communist-dominated unions have tried to block these referenda.

They have thus far been able to block balloting because they control the European equivalents to the American "hiring halls," which supply waterfront labor in both France and Italy. Anti-Communists are now trying to force the election of new union officials to run the hiring halls, so that anti-Communist workers will be assigned to handle military cargo, and prevent sabotage.

Omer Bercu of the International Transport Workers says this will be an all-out fight in the European ports. An international Vigilance Committee of six longshoremen and seamen has been named to direct operations for all Europe. Regional committees have been set up for Atlantic, Baltic and Mediterranean ports. Local committees are in every port.

"We will use the same tactics the Communists use," says Bercu. "We will not allow our people to be beaten. We intend to fight back. People along the waterfronts have been misled. We have already been successful in Cherbourg and Marseilles."

The situation in Italy is peculiar, says Mr. Bercu. Arms shipments have been scheduled to go into Genoa, which is Communist controlled. One of Bercu's purposes in visiting Washington is to persuade U. S. officials to ship through Naples, even though cargo there would have to be unloaded on lighters, instead of at dockside.

In Naples, Bercu declares, the Communist labor leader Di Stefano — who was a fascist under Mussolini — tried to get longshoremen to adopt a resolution against unloading arms. The resolution was thrown out and so was Di Stefano.

UNDER RED CONTROL

The Communist hold over the port of Genoa is maintained through four big cooperatives which enable laboring people to buy necessities of life at low prices. "It would take a hero," says Bercu, to go into Genoa at this time to organize anti-Communist unions. He could not live."

Communists have been trying to gain control of the port in Antwerp ever since Belgium was liberated from the Germans, Mr. Bercu declares. In this effort they have used every trick they could muster. They have pulled strikes against Marshall Plan cargo in Bordeaux, claiming it was military aid, forcing the ship to unload at Antwerp.

They have had fellow-travelers in Denmark declare that arms shipments would not be unloaded at Copenhagen. They have quoted Harry Bridges, U. S. Longshoremen's leader and president of the maritime branch of World Federation of Trade Unions, against the handling of Marshall Plan supplies. All such statements have been used to propagandise European workers.

Anti-Communist forces are using the same kind of arguments in reverse. They are quoting the recent declarations of seven U. S. maritime unions, in support of arms aid to Europe, to show the working people of Europe that American labor unions are with them.

Girl Scout Group Will Hold Combined Spring Meet May 5.

The next Pampa Girl Scout Association meeting has been scheduled for 9:30 a.m. May 5, at the Girl Scout House. At a Board of Directors meeting Friday, it was decided the association meet will be combined with the May board meeting. Coffee will be served and all registered Scouters of the association are invited.

The spring association meeting has been held at Camp Sullivan during the past few years. However, a better attendance probably will result if the meeting is held in Pampa, Mrs. Glenn Radcliff, association president, said.

A lengthy discussion was held concerning the enlargement of the association to become an area council. Since the group was organized, both White Deer and Wheeler troops have been accepted into the association. No action was taken on the enlargement program.

Mrs. Radcliff read the resignation of Mrs. Dan Glaxner, who has served as secretary of the board.

The board voted to send Mrs. H. F. McDonald, Jr., executive, and Mrs. Burl Lewter, Troop 19 leader, to Wilburton, Okla., April 24-29, to attend a day camp course. Mrs. McDonald will serve as director at this year's day camp and Mrs. Lewter will be counselor.

Mrs. Alzeta Taylor, Borger Girl Scout executive, requested the use of Camp Sullivan for overnights and troop camps. The board granted the request.

Mrs. O. L. Statton, Organizational Committee chairman, announced two Negro troops are being organized. One circle of the First Methodist Church has donated money to help finance the troops.

April Output Of Cars Seen As 615,300

DETROIT — (AP) — Car and truck production in the United States this month may top 615,200 units, Ward's Automotive Reports said.

The agency said the estimate includes an assumption Chrysler plants, closed since Jan. 25, will be back in production by April 17.

United States factories produced 621,910 vehicles in April, 1949, and factory shipment of 657,664 units was reported by the Automobile Manufacturers' Association for August last year.

Ward's estimated last week's United States output at 108,734 cars and 24,767 trucks. The week before, 108,432 cars and 24,987 trucks were built in the United States. In the comprable week a year ago 100,660 cars and 25,505 trucks were assembled.

Friday Proves Unlucky Day Without '13th'

OAKLAND — (AP) — Rudolph C. Thurmann is convinced Friday should have been the 13th.

The 48-year-old business executive's car was sideswiped. He chased the hit-runner at 60 miles an hour, cornered the culprit's sedan.

Three men leaped from the car, slugged Thurmann, dumped him in the gutter. He got up, dashed in front of the trio's car. They tried to run him down. Thurmann clung to the front fender until he could shove out of danger.

Mrs. Thurmann, who watched the whole thing, called police.

Shamrock Legion Auxiliary Holds Luncheon Meet

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Fifty-five Legionnaires and their wives and guests turned out to attend the regular covered dish luncheon of the Legion Auxiliary Tuesday night.

A business meeting was held immediately following the dinner at which time Mrs. Harry Clay and Mrs. Jack Stroup were elected delegates to the forthcoming 18th District American Legion Convention. The convention will be held in Pampa. After the business meeting, the group played bingo, and saw a movie of the St. Patrick's Day parade, presented by Dr. Theo Nichols.

Shamrock Easter Egg Hunt Scheduled at 3 P.M. Today

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The annual American Legion Easter egg hunt is scheduled for today at 3 p.m. The eggs are to be hidden in the field south of Radio Station KEVA on U. S. Highway 83 for the white children of the community. At the same time, another detail of Legionnaires and their wives are to hide eggs for the colored children just across the Ft. Worth and Denver tracks north of Third street.

All children 12 years old or under are invited to attend the hunt. Baxter Purcell, chairman of the Child Welfare Program for the local post, has directed plans for the hunt, assisted by Messrs. and Mmes. W. H. Dial, Robert Laycock, Jimmy Tallant, Jack Stroup, J. Byron Brown, and Dr. and Mrs. Theo Nichols.

Fine, Sentence Assessed Here

George Richard Ibison, Pampa, pleaded guilty this Friday in county court and was fined $50 and costs on a charge of driving while intoxicated. County Judge Bruce Parker gave him a 30-day jail sentence and revoked his driver's license for one year.

The arresting officer stated he picked him up yesterday following a report that Ibison was fighting on S. Cuyler. The man drove away in his car, however, just as police arrived. The officer gave chase and arrested Ibison a short time later in front of Goff Automotive Repair Shop, 409 S. Russell, according to testimony.

Sunray Income on Shares Down $1.01

TULSA — Sunray Oil Corporation's net income for 1949 was equal to $1.77 per share of common stock, it was announced today by release of the company's audited financial statement. This compares with $2.78 per share earned in 1948, and the reduction is in line with the petroleum industry's general performance last year.

Although the company's gross operating income, net income, and share earnings showed a recession from the record high levels of 1948, they were the second best in the company's history; exceeded only by the peak 1948 year. Sunray reported 1949 gross operating income of $58,485,000 and net income of $10,846,000 against corresponding figures $65,527,000 and $15,644,000 for the preceding fiscal year.

Due primarily to proration in Texas where the largest portion of reserves are located, production declined to a figure of 10,729,000 barrels of crude oil and distillate, against 12,337,430 the previous year.

It is being reported to Sunray stockholders that following the purchase of approximately 47 percent of the outstanding stock of Barnsdall Oil Company, that plans are being actively worked on for a merger of Barnsdall into Sunray and that stockholders of both companies will receive full description of both financial and physical details approximately within the next 30 days.

Submarine Service to Mark 50th Anniversary Tuesday

NORFOLK, Va. — (AP) — The submarine service of the United States Navy will observe its 50th anniversary next Tuesday, at a time when:

(1) The submersible, a top strategic trump card, is influencing decisions at political conference tables.

(2) The "silent service" is getting top attention in our Navy's planning rooms.

And the submarine service, Atlantic Fleet headquarters said, is marking its anniversary "by eyeing a past that saw it break the back of an enemy power's navy and by girding for the potent future Navy chiefs see for it."

On April 11, 1900, migrant Irish schoolmaster John Holland became the first pioneer in submarine development to see his craft accepted by the Navy. Forerunner of today's submersible, its 54-foot hull displaced only 74 tons.

Submarine squadrons, nested alongside mother ships at Atlantic and Pacific bases, will observe the service's golden jubilee by preparing for coming war games.

Submarine and antisubmarine teams are pitted against one another in a race for command of the seas. Used as elusive undersea prowlers to polish up "our own submarine stalking tactics, a growing number of our boats are streamlined, high speed 'guppys' of great submerged endurance — ultra hard to detect," fleet headquarters explained.

"This changing of an always tough game of hide and seek into a needle in the haystack affair," it added, "has caused much head scratching among the Navy's scientists and tacticians who must reckon with the growing Russian underwater fleet, which has similar subs.

"Numbering 75 active boats, our service is less than a third as large as the Soviet's, however."

Submarines, by showing themselves able to launch guided missiles, have become a threat to land targets as well as to sea commerce.

Development of atomic propulsion, which naval experts say would mean virtually unlimited endurance for submarines, is now being pushed. Also under study is an improved diesel engine that breathes its own exhaust gases.

Fleet spokesmen said the Navy, "though hard pressed for funds, has given the near desperate search for a means to checkmate any potential foreign sub menace to our shores its top priority stamp."

A hint that a solution is near came recently from Rear Adm. C. B. Momsen, who masterminds the Navy's counter submarine program.

Yet, testing their weapons in Caribbean sea exercises last month, the surface fleet was dismayed to find the German-perfected snorkel type submarine still had a decided edge on the score sheet. "Enemy" undersea forays took a heavy theoretical toll of warships, but surface hunters declared such maneuvers were more than a box score proposition.

Though the manpower of the United States' wartime submarine force totaled less than two percent of the entire Navy's manpower, it sat on Japan's doorstep, whittled down her Navy and cut her ocean supply lines by accounting for more than half of all her merchant ship losses.

Cattle Released In Train Mishap

FARGO, Okla. —(AP)— Several hundred cattle were turned loose in the plains country near the Texas-Oklahoma border last night by a train wreck.

Officials blamed buckling of the wheel assembly of two of the derailed cars for the wreck.

Berlin Allies Organize Own General Staff

BERLIN — (AP) — The Western powers in Berlin have organized an Allied General Staff to spring into action in any emergency.

This was disclosed in an interview by Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. commandant in the divided city.

In some respects the new American-British-French staff resembles wartime SHAEF — Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Expeditionary Force. There is no overall commander but the post is reserved for such appointment in the event of genuine aggression.

Taylor said there had always been a need for such a general staff and that the attitude of the East German Communists had stepped up its organization.

He said the staff's primary task is to plan the suppression of any "putsch" tactics that might be forthcoming from the East. The staff came into being after the Communists threatened to use a youth march of a half million East Germans to storm the city May 27-30, and spread disorder and fear. Since then the Communists have taken a milder tone in their plans for the end of next month.

The Berlin allied staff has four divisions: G-1, a committee of American, French and British political experts who exchange ideas on this branch of the cold war; G-2, the Western intelligence officers; G-3, the security unit made up of the military police and combat troops; G-4, psychological warfare.

West Berlin authorities, including Police Chief Johannes Stumm, take part in deliberations of these four divisions.

Stumm's police are counted upon to crush any German Communist violence, but a force of 7,500 American, British and French troops stand behind them ready to be called if things get out of control.

There are 9,000 West police available for the three sectors with a total popuiation of 2,200,000. The Soviet sector, with a population of almost 1,000,000 has its Communist police estimated at more than 15,000.

SOCK SUPPER, TEXAS STYLE—Wheeler Countians and their guests gathered at Briscoe school house Friday night for something new in the way of box suppers—a "sock supper" wherein large socks were filled with various homemade delicacies. Sparked by the antics of Shelby Pettit, well-known farm auctioneer, the sock supper had all the spirit, fun and over-eating of the traditional event so popular among the friendly residents and even friendlier politicians of Wheeler County—the supper being given to introduce voters and their offspring to political candidates and vice versa. In the top left picture, small fry show evident pleasure in the surprise packages—socks, that is. Bottom left—There may be a little difference in how the seat fits, but you can bet there isn't much difference in appetites as Thurman Rives sits with two young friends. Sharon Hudson is hiding behind Rives. The youngster in front is busy swallowing a mouthful of food and got away before he could be identified. Top right—Harold L. Callan, Wheeler, splurged and successfully bid on two pairs of socks and, as a result, the residents of three towns got together to empty the footwear. Lottie Murray, left, is a Briscoe school girl, and Mrs. W. A. Finsterwald is a Mobeetie housewife. (News Photos and Engravings)

'Missing Link' Claimed Found

PRETORIA, South Africa —(AP)—An anthropologist said two jaws believed to have belonged to a small type of ancient man have been discovered in the caves of Northern Transvaal, indicating there is no longer a missing link between man and ape.

Prof. Robert Broom, in expounding on finds at Swartkrans, said in an interview:

"The conclusion is we have a Group F ape man from which man is descended and we now have a higher type of ape man so nearly human we cannot say he is not a man.

"Added to this we also have two jaws of what we believe to be a small type of true man. There are apparently no links missing. We have the whole series."

Prof. Broom said the story had been pieced together from 25 years of searching which produced first the distinct ape man at Taungs; second, a nearly human figure found in the caves of Makapan and third, the jaws of the true little man.

Army Reveals Reserve Plan

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army has disclosed details of its plan to achieve by 1956 the minimum force of organized reserves deemed necessary in an emergency to round out 25 divisions and provide the nucleus for 25 more.

The units that would be rounded out immediately in an emergency are the 10 existing divisions of the Regular Army and 15 of the 27 existing National Guard divisions. Together with the remaining Guard divisions and the contemplated skeleton divisions of reserves, they would give the Army the trained framework for a total of 62 divisions.

Karl R. Bendetsen, assistant secretary of the Army, told reporters the program depends on the lawmakers providing funds for costs at a rate rising from $115,000,000 in the pending budget to a peak of $180,000,000 in 1956 and an average of $153,000,000 a year thereafter.

An Army statement on the program said 146,000 officers and 956,900 enlisted personnel would be necessary to bring required units of the Organized Reserve to full strength.

14 Girl Scouts Get First Aid Course Awards

Fourteen Girl Scouts of Troop 28 have been awarded Red Cross junior first aid certificates, Mrs. James Clauder, Red Cross executive, said yesterday.

Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald presented the instruction during the first part of March, completing the course March 14.

"First aid courses of this nature will be presented to other Scout troops," Mrs. Clauder said, "so young Pampans will be better prepared to help members of their family when emergencies arise."

ROOSEVELT GRANDSON ENGAGED TO MARRY

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Young Curtis (Buzzie) Roosevelt, a familiar figure around the White House during the 1930's, is engaged to the daughter of a Douglas Aircraft Corp. executive.

Buzzie, grandson of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is 20, blond, and a student at Loyola University here. He is the son of Anna Roosevelt, the president's daughter, by her first husband, Curtis Dall, Sr.

Miss Edwards was schooled at Stevens College, Columbia, Mo., and at Marlborough, Vt. Her mother, prominent in Los Angeles society, said Robin met young Roosevelt last October at the home of mutual friends.

About 40 guests attended Friday's engagement party. They included John Roosevelt, youngest son of the late president, and his wife; Buzzie's mother, and Mrs. Clara Edwards, grandmother of the bride-elect. A place was set also for the James Roosevelts, but he wired that he couldn't break away from campaigning for the governorship of California.

As a child, Buzzie and his sister, Anna Eleanor (Sistie) Dall, were familiar figures on the White House premises. They would frolic about the lawns and bring great joy to their grandparents. No Christmas was complete without Buzzie and Sistie, known as the "White House darlings."

Sistie, who now goes by the grownup name of Eleanor, was married two years ago to Van H. Seagraves of Oregon City, Ore., a Republican. Buzzie is the latest of the Roosevelt family to approach matrimony.

No plans have been made as yet for the wedding, but Mrs. Edwards indicated it may come off in June.

High School Thespians Are Presented in Assembly Play

Members of the Pampa High School Thespian Society at Thursday's assembly program presented a timely play, "The Boy Who Discovered Easter," a three-scene drama by Elizabeth McFadden.

Based on Raymond MacDonald Alden's story, "The Boy Who Discovered the Spring," the play was skillfully presented by four members of the newly - formed Thespian Society, which is an organization composed of students who have had parts in stage productions.

Jimmy Baines and Dick Green had the main parts in the play, portraying a doctor who had just lost his son and a young cripple who had never been to the country.

Dallas Man Killed As Fire Sweeps Home

DALLAS — (AP) — Pete Hoover, 40, burned to death Friday night in a fire that swept his small frame house.

Friday Not So Good For Busy Firemen

Firemen Get Two Alarms In Canadian

CANADIAN —(Special)— Two alarms in one day gave the Canadian Volunteer Fire Department a good workout Friday after a week of no alarms.

The first alarm, at 11:20 a. m., took the firemen to the Nick Johnson property at First and Hobart Streets, occupied by the C. S. Matherly family. The fire, originating in the kitchen, was extinguished before it could spread to the other rooms.

Fire Chief Carl Zybach estimated the damage at $300 to $400 depending largely on the extent of damage to the refrigerator.

The second alarm came about 4:20 p. m., when a boy who was cleaning up the vacant lot on Kingman, once occupied by Albert Bernson's Garage, lost control of a trash fire.

The fire consumed an old outbuilding at the rear of an adjoining lot and had ignited a telephone pole before firemen were called.

No Finer List of Names On Earth!

If you had in your hand a list of all the people in the world who own and ride in Cadillac cars, we think you'd agree that you could search in vain for another list of equal size—and greater distinction.

Cadillac is the great common meeting ground for the world's distinguished people. Wherever the car is available, it has become almost the automatic companion for outstanding personal achievement.

And yet, such is the magic of Cadillac's manufacturing ingenuity, that this internationally distinguished car is available at a price which makes it a great practical value.

The lowest-priced Cadillac model—the lovely "Sixty-One"—actually costs less than certain models of numerous other makes of cars.

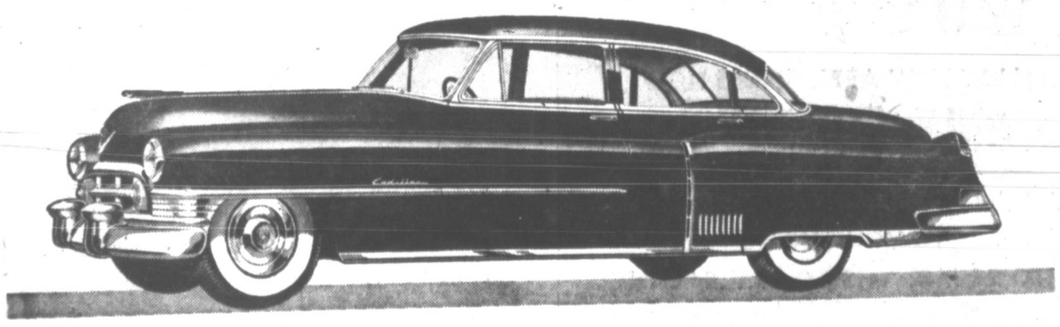

The great Cadillac engine is so economical to operate that gasoline mileage actually approaches that of the smallest, most economical cars. In a recent officially-supervised economy run, three Cadillac cars averaged better than twenty-two miles to the gallon for 751 miles!

And there is simply no practical limit to the car's endurance. It is merely a question of how long you wish to keep it and drive it. The full lifespan of a Cadillac has never been accurately measured.

In view of all this, isn't it the part of wisdom to add your own name to the list of those who own this distinguished car?

This is a wonderful year for moving up to Cadillac. The car has never been so beautiful, so luxurious—so utterly thrilling to ride in and drive. It is an everlasting satisfaction to utilize and possess.

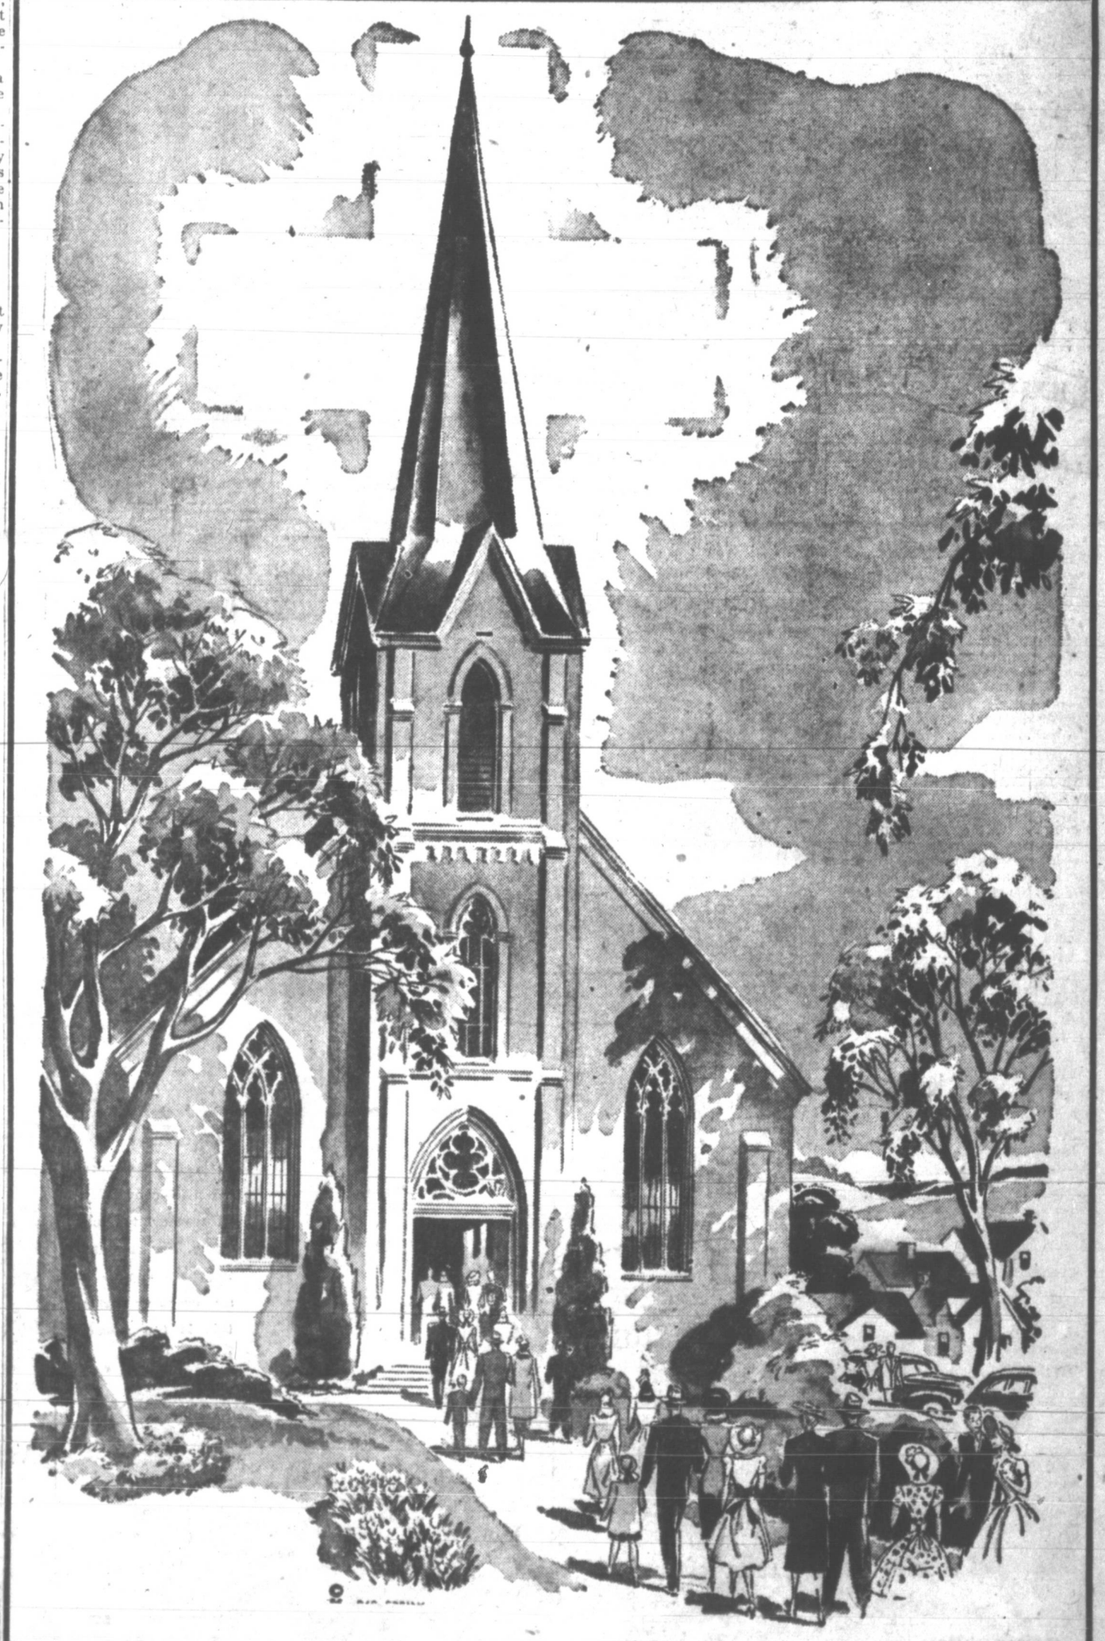

Better come in and talk it over. We'd be most happy to see you—any time. But please bear in mind that every day you delay will cost you its price in pleasure and satisfaction. Why not come in today?

LAST WEEK WAS Texas Manufacturers' Week and everyone has been paying tribute to industries in Pampa, and I think us Mamas deserve some of this acclaim. A PLEASANT INTERLUDE to a busy morning was the Woodrow Wilson radio program. Those little fourth and fifth graders are the future high school choir (which incidentally brought home honors from Dallas last week). Anyway, these youngsters did well by "I Can Do the Sum," that sparkling little number by Victor Herbert. Didn't catch the name of their director, but she deserves a pat on the back.

PAMPA'S PROUD when "homefolks" make good. That presentation of "Our Town" Tuesday night was about the best I've seen and it was directed by Bill Hutchison who graduated from our high school about four years ago. The local 20-30 Club brought the West Texas State College production here. He has been cast as Feste in Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" and I understand Gene Garrison also has a part in that May production.

THE GREEN WOOD PANELING in a room at 822 Somerville is eye-catching. (Peeping Peg doesn't miss a thing). That's the Ell McCarley home, and I bet they have a youngster who collects match folders 'cuz they're hanging on the wall. I'd be so happy he collected inanimate match covers instead of glass jars crawling alive with red ants, grass snakes or horned toads. 'Course none of this latter collection would "hurt a flea," or so I'm told.

The Ivan Noblitts are a welcome addition to Pampa ... his folks are the W. E. Noblitts and we're glad this Pampan is back ... the younger Noblitts are from Amarillo ... The D. L. Parkers are favorites of ours ... Enjoyed the opening of the Maytag place ... the gray and yellow color scheme is pleasant ... so is the friendly atmosphere which exists there ... Wish I could get my "ivy" to grow like the one I saw recently in Dr. Zachry's office ... Can you imagine that hamburgers are selling for 15 cents in Pampa again ... I read it in The News ... Mrs. Vernon Hobbs is nice to share a traffic light with ... And isn't her young daughter growing up into a personable young woman ... Katherine Steele is just back from KC and now I hear that the whole Steele family is off for the Mile High City (Denver) for the holidays.

What's Cookin' In Gray County HD Club Work

By MARY ANNE DUKE

HOME FREEZERS: Seventeen of the 23 Home Demonstration Club members of the Wayside Club have home freezers and use them, according to Mrs. A. B. Carruth, vice president of the club. In the last three months the Wayside Club members have frozen 857 pounds of meat, 54 No. 2 cans of frozen cake, 23 pies, and 82 pounds of butter. Grandview Club's record is second in the preservation of meat by freezing. Mrs. J. M. McCracken, vice president, reports 2365 pounds of meat frozen so far this year.

Mrs. Henry Urbanczyk reports that Bell Club members have frozen 857 pounds of meat, 34 pounds of fish, 8 pounds of butter, and 28 frozen desserts.

Mrs. A. C. Crawford, vice president of the Worthwhile Club, reports 927 pounds of meat frozen.

Hopkins club members have frozen only 170 pounds of meat, according to Mrs. B. V. Brummett.

This makes a grand total of 7586 pounds of meat frozen, 54 pounds of fish, and 90 pounds of butter frozen in the last three months.

FREEZERS: Families who are thinking of buying a home freezer often ask which is the better choice, the upright or the chest type. The upright or vertical style opens like a refrigerator and the chest type, which is often called the horizontal style, has a lid which opens from the top.

Each type has some advantage over the other. The upright type is more conveninet for some families and others find the chest type more staisfactory. One of the advantages of the upright freezer is that it takes up less floor space than the chest type of the same capacity, but you must allow for space in front of the freezer for the door to swing out. However, although the upright freezer doesn't take up so much floor space, it does put more weight on each square foot of the floor than the chest type. Sometimes it is necessary to put extra supports under the flooring to take care of the weight.

At a first glance, the upright type seems to offer the same convenience in reaching food stored that a refrigerator does. But when the freezer is full so that all the shelves are packed, you have no convenient place to put the packages in front while getting those from the rear.

Some of the upright home freezers have drawers to overcome this difficulty, but drawers take up storage space. And some

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

By MRS. FRANK FATA
Public Relations Chairman

TROOP 1

Linda Bonny, Troop 1, included her Girl Scout troop in on her birthday by bringing cake to the last meeting. The girls sang songs and worked on their current project. They voted to send flowers to their mascot, little Irma Henson, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Henson, who has been in the hospital with pneumonia.

Also present were Mrs. Loyd Henson and Mrs. Louis Bonny.

TROOP 34

Brownie Troop 34 hiked from Woodrow Wilson to the city park where an Easter egg hunt was enjoyed by all. Sarah McNeill found the treasure egg and was awarded 25 cents as prize. Each Brownie had a sandwich and drink before starting on the return hike.

TROOP 22

Badge work is lots of fun. Just ask any Girl Scout from Troop 22. This troop is working on the Game Badge at present. Branching off from ping pong, to tennis at the park and hunting Easter eggs to climax a perfect meeting. Ann Price won the prize for finding the most eggs. After returning to the Presbyterian Church a business meeting was held. Mrs. Dick Sullins, Mrs. R. E. Burns and Mrs. M. K. Williams served refreshments to: Carolyn Anderwald, Barbara Ann Arney, Phylliss Ann Burns, Jan Dyer, Celia Fowler, Gaynell Grundy, Barbara Hoover, Sherry Dian Hyatt, Carolyn Lane, Mildred Langford, Eulene Moore, Vicky Osborne, Brenda Sue Parker, Ann Price, Jeneane Price, Sandra Sullins, Frances Wade, and Sandra Williams. Leaders are Mrs. Harold Osborne, Mrs. W. E. Moore and Mrs. Walter Hyatt.

TROOP 14

Troop 14's new officers are Heidi Schneider, president; Thera Warner, vice president; Judy Newsom, secretary; Patsy Kay Huffhines, treasurer.

This meeting was the last for Troop 14 as Brownies. The troop was eager, excited and most serious about entering their second period in Girl Scouting.

A candlelight investiture ceremony was very impressive as the girls "flew up." As each girl

'Is Communism Democratic' Topic Of Lively Speech for Allegro

TRAVIS LIVELY

"Is Communism Democratic" was the topic of Travis C. Lively's talk at the Twentieth Century Allegro Guest Day Tea in the City Club Rooms.

Mr. Lively stressed the strong influence of religion in the democratic form of government. He said "Under totalitarianism the concept of law is the will of the ruler. We hold law is properly based on moral order and justice. We, as Americans, have obtained world achievement without forsaking our spiritual morals. Communism is nothing other than a materialistic religion with an economic goal." Mr. Lively began his talk with excerpts from the lives of Sophocles and Cicero, bringing it up to date with quotations from Benjamin Franklin's speech at the Constitutional Convention and George Washington's farewell address. These were just a few of Mr. Lively's illustrations of great men who realized the necessity of spiritual guidance. His talk was concluded with the thought of the important part women now play in world affairs. Mrs. Howard Vineyard was in charge of the program.

Arrangements of yellow jonquils decorated the room. The serving table was covered with a yellow cloth under net. Fern and blue daisies roped the edge of the table, and a foam bunny dressed in an Easter bonnet of yellow roses was used as the centerpiece.

Refreshments of wagonwheel and lady-finger sandwiches were served with punch. Mrs. James Evans presided at the punch bowl.

Miss JoAnn Lungsford played musical selections while the guests were being served. Mrs. J. W. Garman II was chairman of the refreshment committee, assisted by Mrs. Evans and Miss Jean Chisholm.

Brownie Troop 15 entertained members of Troop 9 at an Easter egg hunt at the First Presbyterian Church. First prize was won by Martha Marsh.

The egg hunt was followed by games played in the church basement, with a mock style show presented as a surprise stunt by the hostesses, Sheila Nelson, Karen Pieratt, Rebecca Oden, Janet Osborne, Karen Capps and Jocelyn Morgan. Prizes were given for costumes, and went to Jocelyn Morgan and Karen Capps. Prize in another game went to a member of a visiting troop, Virginia Worrell.

The group was then instructed in two folk dances, "Put Your Little Foot" and "The Jessie Polka," by Mrs. H. H. Hahn. Recorded music was used.

Punch, cake and nuts were served from a lace covered table which was centered with daisies and lollipop favors.

Ann Bybee, Glenda Finkelstein, Barbara Holt, Linda Lander, Sharron Osborne, Kay Priest, Mildred Radcliff, Bennie Lou Stephens, Jan Whittle and Mary Williams, and Mrs. Myles Morgan, Mrs. Doyle Osborne and Mrs. Elmer Radcliff, leaders of Troop 15 and Mrs. Omar Bybee, committee chairman.

Bridal Shower Is Compliment to Mrs. Holleman

White carnations and blue iris decorated the home, carrying out the chosen colors of the honoree. Mrs. Holleman was presented with a corsage of white carnations tied with blue ribbon.

Presiding at the silver coffee service was Mrs. Oz Engle, while Miss Kandy Kelley poured cocoa and served cake. Miss Jean Chisholm registered the guests. Individual cakes were served. They were iced in white and lettered in blue "JoAnn and Ovie." Blue and white mints were also served.

Guests registering were Mmes. Sallie Harris, Dean Alexander, Brownfield; C. V. Wilkerson, Josephine Young, Carl Stone, Rueben May, J. H. Jones, Rush Gallman, Alvin Jordan, E. C. Dudley, Virgil Romack, Conner Howell, Herbert Gallman, H. L. Meers, Via Wells, Reva Tomlin, G. C. Cargile and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson.

Mmes. H. T. Beckham, Nora Dalton, M. E. Lewis, Robert McGahan, W. E. Black, H. W. Burnett, Clarence Broadhurst, and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Duncan, G. H. Kyle, Bess Matherson, O. C. Rickard, L. C. Long, J. O. Russell, Bill Clark, E. E. McNutt, W. H. Rowe, Jim Goff, W. B. Neel, John Hennig, Mrs. Coene Smith of Wheeler and Mrs. Joe McCord, Mrs. Jerome McCord and Mrs. C. V. McCord, all of Wheeler.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCord, Borger; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lewis and son, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Berl Rutherford, George Boozer, T. C. Kitchens, Miss Dreka Rowe, Miss Lynonda Smith, Miss Mildred Pierce, Miss Maurine Jones of Beaumont and Miss Jewell Beckham.

Sauteed chicken livers served with scrambled eggs and garnished with parsley make a festive dish for Sunday brunch. Mushrooms may be cooked with the livers if desired.

Mrs. McKinney Elected Delegate To Convention

Mrs. C. L. McKinney, president-elect of the Varietas Club, was elected delegate to the seventh district convention of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Memphis on April 27-27-29.

Mrs. Dow King was chosen as alternate.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. J. C. McWilliams, 1318 Mary Ellen.

Mrs. Ralph Thomas, president, conducted a short business session. Club members voted in favor of a fall reception for incoming club presidents. Mrs. J. G. Doggett gave a report from a recent meeting of the Council of Clubs.

Mrs. S. C. Evans discussed "The Government Housing Program." Mrs. H. T. Hampton's topic was "Spiritual Life in the Home," and Mrs. J. C. McWilliams spoke on "Family Chores for the Modern Child."

Each members was given a set of questions for a quiz, led by Mrs. J. G. Cargile, on "What Kind of a Home Executive Are You?"

Other members present were Mmes. Henry H. Butler, H. P. Dosier, Lee Harrah, E. J. Haslam, J. E. Kirchman, Horace McBee, W. H. Moseley, Luther Pierson, Ralph Thomas, Sherman White, Frank Wilson, and one guest, Mrs. Wilson Boyd of McLean.

Dr. Maria Chavez To Speak to AAUW Tomorrow Evening

Dr. Maria Chavez of the University of Mexico will be guest speaker at the Fellowship meeting of the American Association of University Women Monday night in the City Club Room at 7:30.

Dr. Chavez was a featured speaker at the AAUW Regional Convention held in Wichita, Kans., last week. Mrs. N. Dudley Steele was a delegate from the Pampa chapter.

Dr. Chavez will now make a tour through Texas, visiting local branches all this month, by arrangement of the AAUW's exchange program. Similar tours are made in Mexico each year by selected Texas AAUW members. Pampa will be the visitor's first stop in Texas. From here she will go to the Amarillo branch and then on to Lubbock and Abilene.

Dr. Chavez is at present librarian at the University of Mexico. She has a Bachelor's Degree from Pratt Institute at Syracuse, N. Y., and botoh a Mastre's and Ph. D. Degrees from the University of Mexico.

Monday night's AAUW meeting, at which Dr. Chavez will speak on "Education in Mexico," will be open to the public. AAUW members will also bring guests, according to Mrs. Ray Salmon, local AAUW president.

Miss Reba Prince Becomes Bride Of C. M. Porter in Church Rites

Miss Reba Prince, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Prince, 800 East Denver, and Carl M. Porter of Tahlequah, Okla., were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony Thursday evening, April 6, in the Calvary Baptist Church. The Rev. Collins Webb read the wedding rites at 8 o'clock.

The altar was banked with gladioli backed with a large candle log of white candles. Candles were lighted by Misses Teddy Jean Brown and Patricia Brown, cousins of the bride.

Mrs. W. L. Ayers, pianist, played several selections and the traditional wedding marches. She accompanied Mrs. W. D. Clonts, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a soft powder blue suit with white accessories and matching pearls and earrings. She carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of white split carnations, and also carried a white lace handkerchief. She carried out the tradition of something old, her grandmother's wedding band; something borrowed, the Bible, belonging to Mrs. Charene Stucker; something blue, her blue gabardine suit, which she made herself. She also wore a sixpence in her shoe for good luck.

Mrs. D. T. Stewart, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of split carnations. Thomas Stewart, brother of the bride, served as best man.

Mrs. Clyde Prince, mother of the bride, wore a royal blue crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink split carnations.

Mrs. Porter is a senior in the Pampa High School, and will graduate in the spring. Mr. Porter is a senior in college.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the wedding a reception was given in the home of the bride's parents, with relatives and friends attending.

The three-tier wedding cake was baked by a friend of the bride, Mrs. R. O. Clements. It was topped with a miniature bridal couple. Mrs. A. C. Brown served punch from a crystal bowl and Mrs. R. O. Clements served the cake.

Miss Helen Kiser Will Attend Meeting Of Gamma Alpha Chi

Miss Helen Kiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kiser, 1309 Christine, will attend the national convention of Gamma Alpha Chi, national honorary and professional fraternity for women in advertising in Iowa City, Iowa, April 14 and 15.

Miss Kiser will be the delegate from the Gamma Alpha Chi chapter at the University of Oklahoma in Norman, where she is a junior majoring in journalism.

Old Ireland Is Represented at Family Reunion

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lightholder and two children, who recently came to this country from their native Dublin, Ire.; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sullivan, Lovington and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Rice, all of Lovington, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bratcher and Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Sullivan Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sullivan, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sullivan, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Porter, Pampa.

Also Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Doran, Hobbs, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Linton, Vernon; H. F. Frost, Cortez, Colo.; Mrs. W. E. Sullivan, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Sullivan, Levelland; Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Wilson, Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jenkins, Levelland; Mr. and Mrs. Redge Austin, Wheeler; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Daugherty, Electra; and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McGinnis, Pampa.

The occasion was also in honor of Mrs. W. E. Sullivan's 76th birthday.

Church Group Elects

Mrs. Everett Butler was installed as president; Mrs. Tom Tipps, membership vice president; Mrs. Fred Carver, ministries; Mrs. D. A. Brown, fellowship; Mrs. Bud Johnson, assistant; Mrs. Jeff Bearden, stewardship; Mrs. Jim Arndt, secretary and publicity; Mrs. Grace Leith, Mrs. Lee Marler and Mrs. M. C. Dunivin, group captains.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. D. A. Brown, president, and monthly reports were given by officers and group captains. The class history was read by Mrs. Collette Webster.

Mrs. Owen Johnson was installing officer. Each new officer was handed a small cross, each a different color, signifying the duty of the various officers. Scriptures were taken from I Kings 17-8-16 and II Corinthians 8-5. The new officers will serve for the next six months.

Mrs. Roy Lewis accepted the request of the class to be permanent class teacher. Mrs. J. A. Meek, the former teacher, resigned because of ill health.

MISS BETTY JEAN MOSLEY

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Betty Jean Mosley was made at a breakfast in the home of her mother, Mrs. Ruth Mosley, 922 Duncan. Miss Mosley and Bill Garrett will be married in the First Baptist Church on June 9. Mr. Garrett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Garrett, 413 Rose.

Mrs. Bob Rose, sister of the bride-to-be, registered the guests as they entered. Hostesss were Mrs. Mosley and Mrs. Claude Wilson.

Breakfast was served from a long table covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a wedding ring arrangement of blue candytuft, and yellow daises. The flowers surrounded a bridesbook announcing the date, "June 9, 1950" in blue on one side, and "Betty and Bill" on the other.

Small lace miniature baskets of yellow and blue flowers were given as favors. They also bore the message "Betty and Bill, June 9, 1950." Napkins were yellow lettered in blue.

When packing a lunchbox send along a sweet sandwich occasionally as part of the dessert. Cream cheese and pineapple jam makes a fine filling for nut bread; cream cheese and currant or grape jelly is delicious between raisin bread. Make fruit the other part of the dessert.

Lefors WSCS Meets For Business, Study

LEFORS—(Special)—The WSCS of the Methodist Church met at 2:30 p. m. at the church, Wednesday.

Mrs. Madge Page, president, directed the business meeting, during which it was decided to give a baby membership to Lyman Maurice Upham. Plans were completed for the men's supper which was given that night.

The program opened with the singing of "My Hope is Built," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lawson Shaw. Mrs. Arlie Carpenter gave the devotional, which was followed by the singing of "God of Grace and God of Glory." Mrs. W. C. Breining gave the first talk on the program on "Japan—Today and Tomorrow." Mrs. Carpenter was in charge of the program and also gave a talk.

Those present besides those already mentioned were Mesdames R. H. Campbell, Bernard Johnson, B. D. Vaughn, Neal Jordan, Lee Roy Spence, Lyman Upham and Dan Johnson.

BROWNIE TROOP FIFTEEN

Musical Program Given by Lefors High School Chorus

LEFORS — (Special) — The high school girls' chorus presented a program of sacred, secular, and popular music at 2 p.m. in the high school auditorium Wednesday. Miss Fae Robertson directed the chorus, and Miss Geraldine Dunn accompanied the numbers sung by the entire group. The numbers given by the sextet and quartette were accompanied by Miss Robertson.

The songs that were sung by the chorus were "Off to Dreamland," a lullaby; "Comfort Ye My People," a hymn; "Wishes"; "Gianina Mia," an Italian love song; "Message of Spring"; "Road to Romany" taken from the theme of Hungarian Dance No. 6, by Brahms; and "Calm as the Night," a love song taken from the German song by that name. The sextet, composed of Barbara Chastain, Wanda Rickman, Betty Lu Pulliam, Wanda Vaughn, Shirley Perkins, and Rebecca Breining, sang "In the Still of the Night"; "Grandma," a novelty number; "The Night Has A Thousand Eyes"; and "Pass That Peace Pipe." A quartette composed of Miss Breining, Miss Vaughn, Jimmy Boggs, and Joe Rice sang "April Showers," an old-time Al Jolson favorite.

The girls' chorus is planning to participate in the musical festival at Canyon next Friday, April 14. The sextet will also enter competition.

Jackson Discusses 'Soil Conservation' Before HD Council

W. B. Jackson discussed "Soil Conservation in Gray County" when the board members of the Gray County Soil Conservation district and the county agents and the assistant county agent were guests at the regular meeting of the Gray County Home Demonstration Council.

Soil conservation, stated Mr. Jackson, was organized in Gray County in 1946. He said HD Club women can help by voting and by influencing their husbands to vote and take part in the work of soil conservation.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. H. B. Taylor, Jr., president. Mrs. A. M. Nash led the recreation. Mrs. Charles Warminski, yearbook chairman, announced work would soon begin on the 1951 yearbook.

The 4-H Club sponsor, Mrs. Ernest Edwards, asked if HD members would donate cookies for the 4-H Club girls' clothing review, which is to be May 13. Mrs. J. M. Keel, Mrs. C. A. Jones, and Mrs. Roy Tinsley were appointed to help Mrs. Edwards with the review.

Five club presidents gave reports of the month's club work. The council voted to have a fair this fall. Mrs. Taylor announced that each club is to pay $4.08 for film to be used in visual aid work.

WHAT'S COOKIN'

of the chest types have baskets for lifting out food. These baskets are handy unless they become too heavy to lift out easily. And, like the drawers in the upright freezers, they too take up some of the storage space.

Because cold air is heavier than warm air, a freezer that opens on top has a natural advantage over one with a side opening, in holding the cold air and thus saving fuel. In trying to overcome this disadvantage manufacturers of upright freezers have had to construct them differently from chest freezers. This generally makes the initial cost of a properly constructed freezer higher than that of a chest freezer of the same size. However, the operating cost of both the upright home freezer and the chest type is said to be about the same.

It is advisable to take measurements before buying a home freezer to make sure not only that the freezer will fit the place chosen for it, but also that you can get it there. Be sure it can be moved through doors, halls or around corners where necessary. And be sure the floor is strong enough to support it when filled to capacity.

Ambulance Has More Trouble Than Victim

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (AP) — When an ambulance picked up Henry Bryant after he was stabbed on a downtown street, he thought his troubles were over.

No. 2 broke down before reaching the injured man. No. 3 was summoned, but the driver misunderstood the address and never showed up.

Bryant finally made the operating room in ambulance No. 4, dispatched by the same company that first gave him a lift.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The modest little Missourian has changed since that eventful day five years ago when he tip-toed into the presidency.

Harry S. Truman is far more self-confident now as he tussles with world problems and a Congress that still won't let him have his way on a lot of things.

It was April 12, 1945 — five years ago next Wednesday — that Franklin D. Roosevelt died and Mr. Truman picked up the reins of government. Tears in his eyes, the one-time farm boy told reporters the next day:

"I don't know if any of you fellows ever had a load of hay or a bull fall on you. But last night the whole weight of the moon and the stars fell on me. If you fellows ever pray, please pray for me."

He hadn't wanted to be president. He hadn't wanted to be vice president, or even a U. S. senator. But there he was in the White House, and undoubtedly awed a bit by it all.

Now it is with pride that he says he is president of the United States, that it is he who will make this, that or the other decision. It isn't a cockiness, exactly, but there isn't any question that Harry Truman believes he is big enough for the job of president.

He resented it and fought back when there were suggestions in the 1948 campaign that he wasn't big enough. Possibly what built up his self-assurance as much as anything was his underdog victory that gave him the presidency in his own right and not as a hand-me-down.

At first, when he moved into the White House, he said over and over again he wished President Roosevelt still lived. He adopted the Roosevelt New Deal and legislative program as his own. He adopted the Roosevelt foreign policy.

Now he has branched out on his own. The New Deal has become what he calls the "Fair Deal" and what some Republicans call socialism. Foreign policy now bears the Truman stamp — the imprint of the "Truman Doctrine" of helping weak nations ward off communism.

It was the Truman administration that produced the Marshall Plan and the Atlantic Pact, to stiffen the economic and military backbones of nations shuddering in the shadow of Red Russia.

Yet there have been signs of cracks developing in the widely heralded bi-partisan foreign policy.

Some Senate Republicans have pointed a scalping knife at Secretary of State Acheson. Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) keeps repeating charges, though he has produced no definite proof, that Communists have infested the State Department.

House Republicans with Democratic help have been mauling a bill to continue Marshall Plan aid and embark on a new program of helping underdeveloped countries.

Mr. Truman has been fighting back. He is standing firmly behind Acheson. He says McCarthy is the Kremlin's "greatest asset." He has cautioned the House against taking steps he said might point in the direction of World War 3.

And before long the president may set out on a whistle stop rail trip to talk with the people and see whether they are with him. In this congressional election year there may be a miniature version of his "give-'em-hell" campaign of '48.

Two years ago the Republican-controlled 80th Congress was his special target. This year it probably won't be the Democratic controlled 81st but the Republicans in it.

Yet Democrats have helped hold back or kill all sorts of administration bills to such an extent that the 81st Congress may treat the Truman program almost as roughly as the 80th did.

In general the foreign affairs and national defense parts of the president's program have fared better in Congress than legislation for a program at home.

It was in September, 1945, that Mr. Truman first submitted to Congress a major legislative program of his own. It was a 21-point program and more points were added later.

Many of those points will are on the waiting list although the president keeps on plugging for them time after time.

Congress approved:

Heavy spending for defense stockpiling of strategic materials, foreign economic andmilitar y aid, a peactime draft continuation of reciprocal trade pacts, an armed forces unification law;

A government reorganization program, help for farmers, repeal of federal oleomargarine taxes, a boost in the national minimum wage, a low-cost housing program, modified rent control.

On the waiting list and likely to stay there:

A tax boost (even a moderate one), compulsory health insurriver valley developments, repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law, bigger benefits for the unemployed, civi rights legislation, universal military training, extension of the draft.

Thus the record shows that like all presidents Mr. Truman has been having his ups and downs in reaching for "a better life at home and a better world for future generations."

"The job, the full job, can and will be done."

Russians Expect American Attack, Repatriates Say

HOF, Germany — (AP) — Returning German war prisoners say that people in Russia expect an attack from the United States soon, perhaps even this year.

"They seem to expect attack by America to come this year. Many predicted it would come this April."

Another repatriated prisoner of war, Herbert Scheffrath, said "Communist propaganda has apparently succeeded in convincing the Russian population America wants war."

Hundreds of German prisoners, who had been held on war crimes charges, have been arriving from Siberian work camps in the last few days.. German officials said they had been notified to expect 50,000 returnees in the next two months.

Texans Organize Armored Division

AUSTIN — (AP) — Organization of the 49th Armored Division of the Texas National Guard has been completed, State Adjutant General K. L. Berry reported.

Federal recognition of Company D, 148th Armored Infantry Battalion, Jacksonville, brought the division to full strength. The 49th is one of two armored divisions organized in the postwar National Guard. The other is the 50th Armored Division of New Jersey.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 40 POUNDS

"Before taking Barcentrate, my weight was 250 pounds. After taking seven bottles my weight is now 210 and I feel so much better, thanks to Barcentrate." Signed, Mrs. L. M. Robinson, Seabrook, Texas.

Easter Notes

When you and your family attend Easter Sunday Services, thrill to the young voices lifted in hymns of breath-taking beauty . . . music and poetry that have come through many centuries, from many distant places—yet in a sense, from only one.

Join in these prayers . . . fill your heart with them. And when you leave, ponder AGAIN their magnificence . . . and resolve not to deny yourself of them. Resolve to return on the next Sunday, and every Sunday . . .each week, to submit yourself to their power in bringing joy and confidence to your every-day living.

Marriage Loses No Glamor For Cuddles Sakall, Wife

By BOB THOMAS

It is the story of Mr. and Mrs. S. Z. Sakall — he's known to movie fans as Cuddles. Their devotion to each other hasn't dimmed in 29 years of marriage.

The story is there for Hollywood to film, but that will never happen. The movie minds seem to believe that love ends with marriage. Besides, they'd say, there's no glamor in a middle-aged couple.

Somehow the Sakalls still find their marriage glamorous. She accompanies her husband to the studio every working day.

"She never goes on the set, though," said the multi-chinned actor with a cherubic smile. "She stays in my dressing room and waits for me.

"Oh, she has plenty to do. She takes care of all my correspondence. You can't imagine all the mail that has to be answered."

The actor has been in Hollywood since 1939 and readily admits that film acting is the most overpaid profession. Not that he minds —"otherwise I couldn't have a house in Palm Springs."

But he added: "we mustn't let ourselves feel we are as important as our big salaries indicate."

WHITE DEER — (Special) — White Deer High School presenting "The Cathedral Clock," won first place in the Interscholastic League one-act play contest held here Thursday evening, in the grade school auditorium, and will represent District 3-B in the regional contest at Lubbock, April 21.

Claude High School's presentation of "A Young Man's Fancy" was the only other entry.

Named on the all-star cast were Tom Horn, who played the role of the blind man in "The Cathedral Clock;" Dorothy Barnett, the wife; and Dickie Ingram, the husband. Other members of the White Deer cast were Nancy Ford as the child, and Ramona Hightower as the blind man's better self.

In "A Young Man's Fancy," the characters were portrayed by Coritha McAdams, Joline Wilmoth, Joe Blakeney, Buddy Campbell, Thurman Brown, and Joyce Hess.

Miss Paula Frazier, speech instructor at Canadian High School, was the critic judge; and Miss Gertrude Golladay was chairman of the contest.

Texan's Patience Rewarded By Promise of New Church

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

He moved to Dallas eight years ago. Back in 1947 when son Mickey was 3 and son Johnny was 2 Algie figured in was time they started to Sunday school.

But church was eight miles away. "A lot of trouble getting those kids dressed and eight miles to Sunday school," Choate explained.

So he decided he would get a church started in his own neighborhood. And here is the story he told us of how he did it:

"First I got a list of Presbyterians in my neighborhood, about 60 of them and began knocking on doors and asking if they were interested in founding a church. Then my wife and I had a meeting in our home. Only two people came. But we kept on with the meetings — Thursday nights — and every time more and more people showed up. The meetings were a combination of worship services and organization meetings.

"Finally we had 43 people. We met around at various houses, sometimes in back yards. And we approached the Dallas Presbytery to find out how to go about organizing a church. The Presbytery said it would help and sent representatives to our meetings.

"On a Sunday in September, 1947, we had our first official meeting in a school and auditorium. A young preacher was there and we had services. Various churches started lending us preachers. We met in the auditorium and them moved to a private dance hall, setting up folding chairs on the dance floor.

"We left the dance hall finally and rented an empty store building in our neighborhood for $100 per month. We still meet there. Our first regular preacher came in January 1948 — Charles Tucker was his name and he left to go to Bowie, Texas. Our new preacher is A. H. Craft who came from Shreveport.

"We still meet in the store building. Have seven Sunday school classes and Johnny and Mickey go regularly."

But that isn't all the story:

Besides paying operating expenses, the 150 members of the empty store church saved $11,000 in three years. The Presbytery contributed a four and one-half acre plot in the neighborhood and $22,500 toward raising a $56,000 red brick building.

You can be sure that Deacon Algie Choate was on hand when ground-breaking ceremonies were held this week for the Covenant Presbyterian Church. For Sunday school had come to his children.

The letter "S" is said to be the most frequently used capital initial letter in the English language.

Young Boys Held in Theft

Parents should keep a closer eye on their children's activities, H. A. Doggett, juvenile officer, advised yesterday, when citing a case concerning two local teenage boys.

During the earlier part of the week the boys took about four dollars from lockers at Baash-Ross Tool Company, 423 S. Gray, after requesting the use of the rest room, he said.

One of the boys, an eighth grader at Pampa Junior High School, played hookey to stage the robbery with his companion, who has quit school. After getting the money the boys went to Amarillo to spend it, Doggett said.

Doggett caught the boys, who were identified at Baash-Ross, and turned them over to County Judge Bruce Parker, who will decide the outcome of the case.

Ola Gregory Seeks Re-election

Ola Gregory, county treasurer, today authorized The Pampa Daily News to announce her candidacy for re-election to the office of county treasurer, subject to the Democratic Primaries.

Miss Gregory pledges the same efficient and courteous service to the people of Gray County as she has given in the past and feels that the ever-increasing duties of the treasurer call for a person of experience and that she is well qualified by virtue of her past record of service both as county treasurer and as deputy county clerk previous to her election as treasurer.

Miss Gregory says she intends to meet as many voters as possible during her campaign and solicits the vote and influence of all the voters in the county.

Defendant Punished Enough, Court Says

During an argument that followed, she testified in recorder's court, Dogcatcher J. W. Gooding and his helper slammed the dog wagon door on her hand.

Also she had to pay $6 each to get her two cockers out of the canine pokey.

Memories of Tunisia Fight Haunt Man Who Was There

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Insomnia comes rarely into my life — except in the daytime.

But the other night midnight found me still wakeful in bed. Counting sheep is no good to put me to sleep as I dislike mutton too intensely, whether it is on a plate or leaping a fence.

Gradually the tentacles of something I thought I had all but forgotten — that time in Tunisia — began to spread dreamily through my drowsy brain. And there unrolled this parade of buried memories:

Africa, a black hulk on a phosphorescent sea . . . the first sight of blood, on hands cut by coral rocks as we clambered ashore on a beach north of Casablanca . . . the first sight of death, the body of a young lieutenant, all but breached by a shell, his legs dangling from the rear of a hay cart . . . he had been singing on shipboard ten hours before . . .

A hospital in Northern Tunisia in January and a Brooklyn private suffering from hysterical paralysis of the right arm . . . he was a young Jewish boy who had bayonetted two Germans to save his life but who hated killing so much his arm would no longer work . . . "one of the men fell in the mud and cried in German for his mother," he said . . .

Shivering at night in a trench dug in the desert under cold stars . . . a tank captain, just before moving forward in a sacrificial assignment to cover the retreat at Kasserine Gap . . . he was bitter and he said, "why don't you tell the people at home the truth . . . they haven't given us enough men or weapons here to hold the Nazis." . . . I never saw him again . . .

The heart-gripping panic at seeing a Messerschmitt flip down out of low clouds and come head on at you, guns blazing . . . the dazed relief at climbing out of a ditch, moments later, weak-kneed but knowing for the first time how wonderful it is to be really alive . . . when someone is trying to take life from you . . .

The dawnlight of 1950, seven years after Tunisia, streamed through my window and found me still awake. I wonder how many other men who saw that campaign are remembering it in this way this spring?

In war, as in love, it is your first campaign that stays bone deep in your memory. And Tunisia was our introduction to the sweetheart with the lipless kiss.

Consumer Purchases Take Moderate Rise

NEW YORK — (AP) — Last minute Easter shopping this week accompanied a moderate rise in consumer buying, Dun & Bradstreet reported.

For the week ended Wednesday the survey said: "dollar volume for the nation was practically steady with the level in the comparable week in 1949." Easter is a week earlier this year than in 1949.

Total retail dollar volume for the week ended Wednesday was estimated at 2 percent higher to 2 percent lower than a year ago. Percentage changes by regions include Southwest unchanged to up 4.

Conservation Expert Says Worst Ended

FORT WORTH — (AP) — The worst of the dust storms in East Texas and Oklahoma should be over by April 15, a government expert said Friday.

Regional Director Louis P. Merrill of the Soil Conservation Service added:

"Severe land damage has not been extensive, although in the two states nearly a million acres have suffered moderate damage by the high winds."

In the latter half of April, he said, the dust storms probably will decline in both frequency and intensity. The gusty spring winds which scoop up topsoil usually diminish in mid-April.

In the peanut producing areas from Gainesville southwest to Dublin, 43,500 acres were severely damaged by winds in the last two weeks of March. This amounts to nearly half the acreage reported severly damaged in the entire two-state wind erosion area. About 12,000 acres in the Lamesa area also suffered severe damage.

Altogether 942,200 acres have been subjected to moderate to severe damage in both states, an increase of 166,000 acres over the March 15 report.

Oklahoma reported a 20,000-acre decline in acreage without protection against wind while Texas farmland without adequate protection increased by 156,000 acres. This left the acreage in both states without sufficient cover at 2,468,000.

Merrill said wheat in the plains areas of Texas and Oklahoma still is dying from both dry weather and insects and that the Panhandle of Oklahoma, especially the extreme west portion, is "among the most critical areas." Half the wheat in the Western Oklahoma Panhandle is dead and the rest, even should rain come, would make poor yields.

Merrill said farmers in the Goodwell, Okla., area are increasing the dust hazard by plowing up dead wheat.

The soil conservation director said the dust storms have proved effectiveness of stubble mulch tillage, contour cultivation cover and soil improving crops, terracing, strip-cropping and good grass management as protection against dust storms. He said many farmers are making an earnest effort to return threatened land to grass.

9-Year-Old Sole Heir to $9,000,000

MARTINEZ, Calif. —(AP)— Nine-year-old William Thornton White III, a blue-eyed boy who likes baseball, has been named sole heir to a $9,000,000 estate.

The huge windfall was revealed in a petition for probate of the will of Mrs. Katherine Brown Irvine, 62, the boy's grandmother, who died last Sunday. It probably will be whittled down to about $4,000,000 by state and federal inheritance taxes.

Young William is the son of William Thornton White, Jr., 38. The father resides at Mrs. Irvine's estate near here. White was Mrs. Irvine's son by a former marriage.

Mrs. Irvine left fast land holdings in Moraga Valley near here, in Montana and at Santa Ana, Calif.

She stated in the will that the estate is left for the lad's exclusive benefit. She specifically excluded the boy's mother and sister, saying they were adequately provided for by other means. His father was named executor.

Mrs. Irvine divorced her first husband, William Thornton White, Sr., a wealthy Oakland lumber man, in 1908. In 1931 she married James Irvine, multimillionaire California and Montana landowner, who left her an estate of $9,373,378 when he died in 1947.

Coal Men Stewing In Imported Oil

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— Coal men are stewing in oil — foreign oil.

They see a threat to their industry and to the national economy in growing imports of oil.

Coal sources charge the United States is importing more oil than it can use. The result, they contend, is a "dumping" process that captures some coal markets and depresses prices in others.

A report by the Petroleum Imports Committee of the National Bituminous Coal Advisory Council stresses what it thinks oil imports are doing to the U.S. fuel structure.

The council, a joint group of government and industry leaders, was told:

"The oil imports program will tend to weaken instead of strengthen the country's fuel structure. Its effects will be to depress American petroleum and coal production, and to discourage advancement in synthetic oil output.

"What it will do is make America unnecessarily dependent on foreign oil supply and, at the same time, without proper safeguards in case import flow is blocked or reduced."

The committee is quick to agree the nation should develop foreign oil supplies since there are definite limits to American resources.

And that's what hurts King Coal.

Coal men contend their industry has become a very expensive, highly organized and extensively mechanized process. It requires a large and skillful labor force. If residual oil continues to squeeze coal out of its markets, the coal industry won't be in shape to supply a giant's share of U.S. fuel needs if an emergency shuts off oil imports.

Committee members predict oil imports will increase "in a volume not required by supply reasons." They cite these reasons:

1. Imports rise as American interests advance the development of foreign fields. There is a desire to realize enough return to cover capital investment.
2. It costs less to explore for oil abroad and less to produce it.
3. U.S. companies, operating overseas, want to keep loyalty payments high to foreign governments. That way they protect their concessions by keeping those governments happy.
4. The federal government encourages American activity in foreign oil fields.
5. World markets for oil controlled by American interests have shrunk recently because other countries have boosted their own oil production.

THE DRILLER'S LOG

By BUD ANDERSON

At least one oil industry representative in the Texas gubernatorial race was out of the running last week.

Olin Culberson, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, dropped from the running last Wednesday following a slight heart attack. Culberson was admitted to the Seton Hospital, Austin, for what he though was flu. Upon examination, however, it was found the conservation official had suffered the heart attack.

His physician advised him to withdraw from the race since the strain of conducting a political campaign could possibly endanger his life. This leaves the field open for Waco's Caso March and present governor, Allan Shivers.

One wildcat was abandoned in Hansford County by Phillips Petroleum Co. The company abandoned its No. 1 Dix in Sec. 4, Blk. 3, three miles east of the No. 1 Willclo for deep production after tests from 8,500 feet failed to show any presence of oil or gas. Operators plugged back to 3,180 feet to complete the well as a regular field producer. Tests earlier at this zone showed a gas potential of 1,750 MCF. At any rate the venture was not a total loss.

Elsewhere in the Panhandle: L. A. Helms has staked a tentative location in Armstrong County. Contract specified location by April 1. Site for the No. 1 Cobb is 660 feet from S and W lines Sec. 10, Blk. 1, TWNG survey. No definite information is available on contractor or proposed depth of the venture.

First steps have been taken by the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association in preparation for the group's annual meeting to be held May 17, in the Herring Hotel, Amarillo.

The executive committee, Thursday named Cecil O'Brien to head the general arrangements committee. A. D. Weatherly was appointed vice chairman of the committee and chairman of the entertainment committee.

Directors of the organization for the coming year are to be selected May 11 when the association meets to make final arrangements for the annual meeting.

Nominating committee was named Thursday with E. J. Dunigan, Jr., chairman. Other members are Cecil O'Brien, Gene Green and Jake Phillips.

Program committee consists of R. C. Kay, Ray Johnson, Lawrence Hagy and Jake Garman; Entertainment committee: A. D. Weatherly, chairman and John O'Brien, Lester Wiles, O. Dale Smith, Hap Johnson and Cedar Puckett.

Ground leveling is underway on Shell's gasoline stripper plant in the Elk City field in Bechham County, Okla. Actual construction on the $4,500,000 plant is expected to get underway in the near future.

Ruling Speeded on Grayco Transfer

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A decision will be speeded on a joint application of Independent Natural Gas Co. and Northern Natural Gas Co. concerning Texas facilities, the Power Commission says.

The agency said Friday that after April 17, the date set by the examiner for filing briefs, the case will go directly to the commission for a decision.

The companies have asked the commission to reach a decision before May 1 by omitting intermediate procedure.

Independent, bought March 15 by Gene Green and Hugh Burdette of Pampa from Phillips Petroleum Co., wants to sell Northern the Grayco compressor station and a 21-mile pipeline from the station to a connection with Northern's facilities in Carson County near Skellytown.

The two companies, Independent and Northern Natural, applied for permission to transfer the plant and line last March 27.

Under present arrangements, Independent buys gas from Phillips for sale to Northern Natural. The gas is then transmitted to Northern's Skellytown booster plant and then sent to Eastern and Midwestern markets.

The sale by Independent, if approved by the Power Commission, would enable Northern to buy gas directly from Phillips.

Canada, U.S. Rig Totals Up 43 Units

DALLAS — Increased development of oil fields in West Texas and New Mexico boosted drilling activity in that area to an all time peak for the week of April 3 and was reflected in a net gain of 43 rotary rigs in all areas of the United States and Canada.

The total for the week of 2,078 units, as reported to American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, by Hughes Tool Co., compares with 2,035 a week ago, 2,042 a month ago and with 2,094 for the comparable week in 1949.

Pacific Coast, 132, down 3; Oklahoma, 248, down 1; Kansas, 121, up 1; Rocky Mountain, 65 down 2; Canada 70, up 12; Ark-La-Tex, 119, up 3; West Texas and New Mexico, 732, up 32; Gulf Coast, 497, down 10; Illinois, 94, up 11.

NGA Discussion to Center on LP Gas

FT. WORTH — The program of the 29th annual convention of the Natural Gasoline Association of America, scheduled for April 24-26, will feature discussions of the handling and marketing of liquefied petroleum gasses.

Of particularly timely interest will be the paper "Underground Storage of LP-Gases" by C. R. Williams, vice president, and C. B. Johnson, chief engineer of the Chicago Corporation, Corpus Christi. The paper will present details of the successful storage and withdrawal of the gases in liquid phase from a depleted underground resvoir.

Other discussions on the marketing, handling, and general operation methods concerned with liquefied petroleum gases will be discusssed at the convention.

Grebes are usually called "dabchicks," "dildappers," "hell divers" and "water witches." They are diving birds related to the loon family.

Texas Totals Continue to Move Upward

Eighty-seven dry holes were reported.

Scurry Wells Flow 1,818 Barrels Daily

Two Cities Service Oil Co. completions for the Diamond M pool of Scurry County, Texas, were reported with flowing potentials totaling 1,818 barrels of oil daily.

Largest of the wells was McLaughlin B No. 1, a development well in this Canyon Reef pool which was good for an initial of 1,536 barrels daily at a total depth of 6,766 feet.

GAMA Committee Members Appointed

Appointment of four new members of the National Committee for LP-Gas Promotion by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Asso. has been announced by H. Leigh Whitelaw, managing director. They are Lee A. Brand, Empire Stove Co., Belleville, Ill., who has been elected chairman of the committee; Bruce R. Tritton, American Stove Co., St. Louis, Mo.; L. R. Mendelson, The Hotstream Heater Co., Cleveland, O., and F. D. Hart, Temco, Inc., Nashville, Tenn.

The men were named to the committee directing the national LP-Gas promotional program following a recent decision by the group to increase its size by asking the three sponsoring organizations — GAMA, Liquefied Petroleum Gas Asso. and Natural Gasoline Asso. of America — to double their representation.

Thompson Stresses Need Of Allowance for Reserves

SWAMP WELL—This is an airview of a newly-completed oil well in the swamps, about two miles from Beaumont on the Orange County side of the Neches River. It is the East Beaumont Townsite No. 1, drilled by John Mecom, Houston oil operator. All equipment and drilling crews were transported to the site by water. Closest production is famed Spindletop, about five miles west. (AP Photo)

Thompson Makes Pampa Address at API April 18

That the depletion allowance is an absolute necessity to the oil and gas industry is to be the contention of Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson when he appears in Pampa April 18.

Thompson is to be featured speaker at a meeting of Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the Jr. High School.

Thompson, commanding general of the Texas National Guard and a veteran of two world wars, has, in the past, stressed the need of the 27 1-2 percent depletion allowance in insuring adequete reserves of oil and gas in the time of war.

This allowance which Congress set up in 1926 allows oil men to deduct the lesser of 27 1-2 percent of their gross profits or 50 percent of net from income taxation. The allowance was made to compensate for the loss or depletion of resources.

Oil men have long contended this allowance was necessary if the development of new reserves was to continue. Since wildcatting is such an expensive enterprise and the number of failures so high, the men engaged in the industry insist some allowance must be made if the nation is to have oil. They say without depletion allowance oil reserves soon would be depleted; not because the resource had been used up, but because no operator would financially be able to exploit fully old fields or explore for or develop new ones.

This is the contention of Thompson. He stated before the House Ways and Means Committee recently, some type incentive must be provided operators if the nation's oil industry was to continue its courageous drilling program. The 27 1-2 percent depletion allowance provides this incentive, says Thompson.

He says if the United States is to have any degree of security, there must be an adequate supply of oil. Oil, he says, is ammunition. In defense, oil is a prime mover.

"A virile, active, prosperous domestic oil producing industry must carry out a tremendous drilling program during peacetime to supply the nation during war," he added.

Thompson, during committee hearing on depletion allowance, quoted the late Secretary of Defense, James V. Forrestal, as saying the nation must have two million barrels per day extra oil producing capacity above peacetime requirements. He says the nation doesn't have this reserve yet.

"The proposed saving of $200,000,000 by the government, put forward by the Treasury Department by cutting the allowance from 27 1-2 to 15 percent would be poor economy.

"Why tamper with a system which has twice in a generation brought forth a drilling program, and has made oil available in such quantities that we have been able to win two wars?

"Men venture in risky drilling for the reward which follows success. Remove the rewards and our domestic supply in oil will shrivel and we will become dependent upon foreign oil. Foreign oil, of course, could be denied us."

"I have heard it testified by high military officers that the Persian Gulf oil fields could not be counted upon by us," he said, "if war should come.

He added he strongly advised against changing the depletion allowance or reducing it in any way.

Crude Purchasers Expected to Make Request To Commission for Increased May Allowables

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON —(AP)— Texas oil purchasers are expected to ask this week for increased crude production in May.

Early estimates indicate May demand will be heavier than in April when a 130,000 barrel daily increase in crude output was authorized by the state's oil and gas regulatory commission.

It will be a busy week for the commission. Three days earlier a hearing is to be held on means of stopping wasteful flaring—burning in the open field—of butane and propane gases.

Last year the commission carried out an intensive campaign to reduce the flaring of oil well or casinghead gas to an absolute minimum.

Anticipated May demand increases come despite gasoline stocks having reached an all-time high of 135,586,000 barrels last Saturday, up 180,000 from the previous week.

Crude handled by refineries last week averaged 5,470,000 barrels daily, only 1000 barrels above the previous week but 201,000 over the same week last year. A year ago the oil industry had seen the Texas commission order a fourth consecutive monthly cutback in crude production.

Domestic crude output, however, still is well below a year ago. Production last week averaged 4,872,950 barrels. A year earlier the average was 5,129,800 barrels daily.

The demand increase forecast also is being made without opponents of heavy imports of foreign oil having acknowledged any definite progress in their campaigns.

Sharp increases in foreign oil imports have received most of the blame for the long string of cutbacks that began for Texas crude production in January last year.

This month's increase in allowables was the first hike since 1948 except for a brief period late last summer when predictions of increased domestic demand proved to be inaccurate.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla) said in Washington Wednesday the domestic industry has 1,000,000 barrels of producible oil shut in.

He was commenting on a statement by Willard Thorp, assistant secretary of state, that domestic oil is not being injured by the heavy flow of foreign oil into the United States.

Thorp, while testifying before a House Interstate Commerce subcommittee, had strongly defended the high level of imports.

Thorp's comment also indicated the inaccuracy of another prediction made within oil industry circles that the State Department is in disagreement with the White House on the imports squabble.

Only a few weeks ago there were widespread forecasts President Truman would take action to end any imports threat to the domestic industry.

The Independent Refiners Association of America last month asked the commission to consider placing under proration regulations all liquid hydrocarbons obtained from gas.

Commission Chairman William J. Murray, Jr., earlier had suggested there might be need for establishing allowables for natural gasoline output.

Natural gasoline production in Texas has increased rapidly the past year and recently passed the 3,000,000 barrels daily mark.

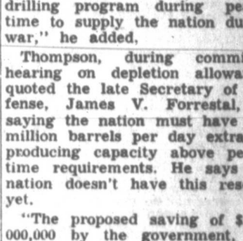

Admiral Denfeld to Speak at LP Meet

Admiral Louis Denfeld, USN, former chief of Naval Operations, heads the list of speakers scheduled to address the Convention and Trade Show of the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Assoc. in Chicago May 8-11. Admiral Denfeld, who, before his recent retirement, was the focal point of a frontpage Washington dispute over the armed forces unification program, will speak at a luncheon May 8.

The 1950 LPGA conclave will be held in the Palmer House. Attendance is expected to exceed by a substantial margin the record 1,500 registration of last year. Members and non-members alike have been cordially invited to attend by W. A. Schuette, Hausgas, Inc., Washington, Mo., chairman of arrangements. Si G. Darling, president, Darlingas, Inc., Pratt, Kans., LPGA president, will preside.

Income to Indians and the federal government from oil wells and mines leased on federal property in 1948 totaled $34,250,000.

Slight Increase Noted in Panhandle Totals; New Oil Production Declines

While a slight increase was noted in number of new locations and new oil completions, potentials in the Panhandle last week took a second slump, this time to 805 barrels. The preceding week's figure was 900 barrels while the total for the final week in March reached 1,394 barrels.

Area operators last week staked 19 new locations and finaled 12 compared to the previous week's 16 locations and 10 completions. Two wells were plugged last week but no new gas wells were reported completed.

AWAY

I cannot say and I will not say
That he is dead—he is just away.
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be since he lingers there.
And you—O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and glad return
Think of him as faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of him still as the same, I say:
He is not dead—he is just away.

E. E. WOLFE

I wish to take this means of expressing my deep appreciation to all those who in anyway helped me in the sudden and untimely death of my beloved husband, E. E. Wolfe who passed away March 31. To our many friends throughout the oil country, Borger and Pampa, who paid their respects at this time, in beautiful floral offerings, words of condolence and to those who prepared and served food in our home I am indeed grateful. The Rebecca Lodge and American Legion and Auxiliary of Pampa and Borger.

I wish to especially express my gratitude to those at Highland Hospital, to Mr. Landers, Mrs. Finney and the efficient and courteous staff of nurses and to Drs. Purviance, Key and Bonner who did everything medical science and tender care could do for my husband and who tenderly cared for me when I needed them, I shall always be grateful.

I am also mindful of the beautiful last rites, the sermon by Rev. E. H. Martin of McCullough Methodist Church, the quartet by Mary Jane Emmerson, Shirley Emmerson, Jackie Timmons and Elberta Costner. Also the Pallbearers who served and the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

May God bless each of you.
Mrs. E. E. Wolfe.

Late Meeting House Cut Short by Janitor

BETHESDA, Md. — (AP) — The Montgomery County Civic Federation is looking around for a new meeting place — one where it can meet until after 11 p.m.

It has been meeting in the Bethesda Elementary School auditorium, but the janitor has lowered the boom. When a meeting started running to around midnight he began cutting off the lights, one by one. He said he had to get up early in the morning and needed his sleep. School authorities upheld him.

Maryland Stevedore Too Tough for Truck

BALTIMORE —(AP)— Maryland stevedores are tough.

FINGERPRINTS Don't Lie

By Rupert Hughes

Copyright 1950 by Rupert Hughes
Dist. by NEA SERVICE, INC.

XXVIII

"This place was made for burglary," he told Police Detective James Stivers. "With all these trees and shrubs crowding right up to the walls there's perfect concealment. It's not even sporting enough for a self-respecting second-story man to try."

He leaned out farther, and motioned for Stivers to join him.

"Look down there, Stivers," he said. "It looks as if some bad sport had tried it—not a second-story man, perhaps, but some half-story worker."

Stivers craned his neck and saw footprints in the soft earth of the flower bed that ran along the walk. There were broken shrubs, as if someone had jumped up and caught the ledge of the window from which the police detective and the private detective looked out.

"He caught the ledge here," Queripel pointed out, "kicked about a little and hoisted himself. Yes—you can just see the smudges of the tips of his toes against the house wall."

"That's right! I see 'em!" Stivers chortled. "We could take a moulage impression of those footprints down there, and they'll be a big help in identifying the man who climbed in this window."

Queripel laughed softly: "They look like the big feet of a flattie, like Pete Kelso. Paul Moody has very small feet for so large a man."

Stivers added an item. "And I noted that when Moody walked into his studio just before we arrested him he had on tennis shoes. Those soles down there are wide and flat. I think I can just make out the design of a rubber heel."

They drew their heads back in the window and looked at each other with the glowing eyes of hounds on a fresh scent. Then Stivers' spirits fell.

"If he left any fingerprints on this window sill, he probably rubbed them off as he clambered in. And by sitting here, we've finished the work. But we'll try anyway."

• • •

HE dusted powder liberally over the broad sill and up along the sides of the casement, and went over it with his brushes. Here and there were little swirls of blurred patterns, but nothing nearly enough complete to serve.

"If he gripped this sill when he climbed in and over, the tips of his fingers ought to show right here."

In a new hope, Stivers threw powder on the under-side of the sill and brushed it with care while he kept a flashlight on the surface.

As subtly as night changes to dawn, as delicately as the stars slip through a fleeting fog, eight little clusters of patterns appeared delicately there. And they glowed like stars in Stivers' hungry eyes.

Pushing his camera close, the police detective photographed each of the four-print groups. Then he lifted them away on two tapes. Studying them, he said:

"I'd swear they're Kelso's. They're not Moody's certainly, and I studied Kelso's so carefully I think I remember them. Anyway, I'll see to it that he doesn't steal these. Now let's look for more."

They moved about cautiously. There was a table near the window and on its varnished surface their keen eyes found vague traces of touch. A little powder, a little brushwork, and there was the whole flat of a big right hand, a perfect palmprint, the whole length of the fingers with the tips under light pressure.

While Stivers was getting his camera ready to photograph it and his tapes ready for lifting and his labels for writing, Queripel drifted through the other room, the scene of the murder, hunting for what he might find.

Queripel was not looking for anything in particular, but he needed something more than he had in order to prove his theory that Pete Kelso had murdered Wendell Palmer.

And as usual, he found what he was looking for.

• • •

AS one will, in a house dark, untenanted and hushed with the spell of recent death, Queripel went on tiptoes with the stealth of a thief, with a silence like the passage of the ghost of the dead man if he were now revisiting, as Hamlet's father did, the scene of "the deep damnation of his taking-off."

Queripel was not the only one moving with a ghostlike tread; for, as he reached the door of the back room where Stivers was working, his eye was caught and carried across the hall by the slow opening of a door that plainly led down to the basement.

Martin Queripel fell back into the shadow of the heavy portieres which hung by the door, and saw to his consternation the dark and sullen face of an unknown man peer through the basement door.

The intruder seemed uncertain as to which way to turn first; then he moved along the hall, toward the library where Wendell Palmer's body had been found. He froze as the sudden loud and joyous voice of Detective James Stivers rang through the air.

"Kelso!" Stivers cried.

I'M OUT OF POLITICS

I dont aim to run for anything and Ill tell you why—if ever real estate dealer is going to run for some public office, then Im going to make some money—while they're spending somebody elses money solicitating your votes, Im going to be selling real estate—even Ben Guill hus come out for congress on the republican ticket—Ben ought to no better—Texas aint never elected a republican yet from this district—were to far south—I read Bens coming out announcement and it sounded like the editorial page of the Pampa Daily News—Im an old man now, but you no as far back as I can remember this country has been going to hell (you can pardon that word but it's the only one that will fit)—in fact I was six years old before I learned the government was bankrupt, and its been bankrupt ever since—everybody in public office was a low down thieving no good crook, and taxes was so high nobody could make a dollar—and it was all on account of the republicans or democrats, whichever happened to be in office at the time.

—Ive about decided the American people dont no when they're well off—theres a lot of us who wont be satisfield until we can get another good depression going—was talking to an old boy the other day and he was of the opinion that the country had gone to the dogs—he was cussing everything in general—said he paid the goernment over 400 dollars last year, and he was getting good and tired of the way things were going up in Washington—I can remember several years back when this same old boy was working for 25.00 per month, and he bought his own groceries—that was in the good old days when the stock market was going down at the rate of a billion a minute, and some big shot politican by the name of Charlie Dawes said all the country needed was a good five cent cigar.

—Do you want to invest in a sure thing while opportunity nocks—its a cat ranch and its being organized here in Pampa—there will be 100,000 cats, and each cat will average twelve kittens a year—cat skins sell for 30 cents a hide, and 100 men can skin 5000 cats a day—(We figure a net profit of $10,000 a day.)—We'll establish a rat ranch next door with a million rats, and the rats breed faster than the cats, so we'll have four rats to feed each cat everyday, and the rats can eat the cat carcasses—in fact by feeding the rats to the cats and the cats to the rats we figure that the hides wont cost us nothing—if your interested in this get in touch with old man Miller down at the news as he give me this listing.

Anybody need a good small adding machine—weve got one down here that we want to sell—its a Victor, and its hand operated—I tried to talk the boys out of buying the new electric one, as this one would of served the purpose, but they complained about the little one making them tired working the handle back and forth—if your interested come by the office and look at it—they'll probally sell it for a bargain—

—the boats been sold so please quit phoning me at all hours of the night—I wanted to trade it for a trailor but didnt have a chance—Mr. Smith down at the Smith Plumbing Co. read the ad on it before breakfast and he jumped in his car and come right on out to the house—thats the first time I ever sold a boat to a man in his night-gown.

—Remember that nice little 2 bedroom house with all the extras that I advertised last Sunday—well I bought it myself, and Im going to sell it on a GI loan—your down payment will be just what it costs you to take out the loan which Im guessing will run a little over 200 dollars—if you can qualify for a GI and want to buy it, you can go ahead and move in the house and pay me a little rent until your loan is closed—thats fair enough isn't it—this house is really a honey—all the ceilings are textoned—the living room is full carpeted—ever room is air condi—every room has its individual heat control—has two large picture windows—in fact everything is brand new, and its never been lived in.

—Ive got two new listings here on three bedroom homes in the 7500.00 class—both owners are moving from Pampa, so there wont be any trade—both are well located on the pavement and I consider them a good buy—Ive also got a pretty good duplex on W. Francis that I can sell worth the money.

Folks if you ever need the services of a up and coming Real Estate broker, Im your man—my business is good—in fact to good—Im a working myself to death—Im here to stay, and I dont aim to change professions—its true that I dont sell a house a day like I used to, because in them days you didnt have to use any salesmanship—people bought them because they didnt have any other choice—they had to have a roof over their head—But its different now—youve got to no your real estate—youve got to no values—youve got to do a lot of figuring on how to finance something—in fact youve got to no what your doing if you get the seller the top dollar for his property, and satisfy the buyer that he is making a good buy—We maintain a large office right here in downtown Pampa with three main telephone lines and six phones—were active and were progressive and weve got a awful overhead—give us a ring if you need our services—they'es a deal in this office all the time.

BEN IS IN THE RUNNING

for Congress now—In it 100%, and he's out to win—and he's GOING to win I bet, cause all of us who know him believe he's honest and straight-forward, smart as a Philadelphia Lawyer and a fighter for what he believes is right—But Ben and all his friends have got to get out and tell a lot of people who don't know these things, and he's gonna be awful busy—And since Ben's just a plain old working boy with no cash piled up, this White Deer Realty business has got to go on while he's out stumpin'—he and his family have got to live for the next month, even if he a Republican—And Besides, he can't very well sell real estate in Washington—so I'm taking over from here on—If Ben wins I'll have a good business by myself—If somethin' awful happens and he don't, I'll have me a partner—so I can't lose, it seems to me—Old Mickey Ledrick has been a punk kid running around here for a long time and he can use a fast buck as well as the next man, so how about some listings from you folks with something to sell—and how about selling some of you people some good houses and business property while Ben is kissing babies and makin speeches and gettin' lots of votes—We've got some nice property right now, priced about right for this day of age, and I'll sure be glad to show it to you, and work on you for a vote at the same time—I'm no dern Republican myself, but I've about decided I'm no dern Democrat either, IF what they've got up in Washington now is Demotcrats, which me and a lot of old-time Democrats are beginning to doubt—Think it over, but whichever way you're gonna vote, we can sell the real estate, so give us a try—now.

CHICKEN UNDER GLASS—David Steele of El Dorado, Kan., holds an 8-week-old chicken which was raised in a 5-gallon glass bottle. Put in the bottle when only a few days old, the chicken now weighs an estimated 2¼ pounds and appears normal and healthy. A small round hole in the bottle allows the pullet to reach water and feed dishes hung from outside of bottle.

Stiffening Censorship Cited In Associated Press Report

NEW YORK — (AP) — New restrictions, including a stiffening censorship, are hampering free, objective news coverage in many areas of the world, the Associated Press management says.

Executive Director Kent Cooper and General Manager Frank J. Starzel said in their annual report that erection of additional news barriers corresponded with a broadening of the areas of political conflict.

The report was distributed to members of the Associated Press, worldwide news gathering cooperative, in advance of the annual membership meeting to be held in New York April 24.

"The world made little progress toward peace and understanding among nations in 1949," the report said. "Correspondingly, the path of free, objective news coverage did not become smoother.

"As the areas of political conflict broadened, so the areas of mistrust of unhampered reporting broadened. The spread of Communist domination brought a corresponding spread in the territories which barred free journalistic endeavor.

Censorship restrictions were stiffened, not relaxed; news barriers, notably in China and eastern Europe, were erected to keep reporters from gaining access to news coverage. Even in the western world, there was no noticeable lightening of restrictive burdens; indeed, there were instances of additional harassment. The trend was toward official secrecy, off-the-record confidences, anonymous statements.

"All this made it more difficult for Associated Press men to get at the truth. Yet, despite all obstacles, they succeeded in telling the essentials of the news.

"We expect, of course, to persist in efforts to keep open the channels of news available to us, and to reopen those now closed. We expect to pursue the battle for freedom of news with all diligence. But it must be said that it is impossible from this point to see much light ahead; there is little prospect that our job will become easier in the months to come."

The reports said that "mounting costs and the march of communism" put a heavy strain on the AP"s distribution of news broad. The AP serves more than 1200 newspapers and radio stations in 67 foreign countries.

Knight Says Texaco Strike Is Unchanged

DENVER —(AP)— O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers International Union, said last week that there is no change in the union strike in five Texas Company plants — but that new pension arrangements have been made with Sinclair and Panhandle-Eastern Pipeline Company.

About 8,000 union workmen in refineries at Casper, Wyo., Port Arthur and Port Neches, Texas, and Lawrenceville and Lockport, Ill., are affected by a shutdown which began Tuesday night. Main point of dispute is the CIO group's request for an expanded pension plan.

Knight said some 20,000 workers of Sinclair and its subsidiaries will benefit from the new Sinclair pension plan which calls for:

1. A monthly minimum pension of $125 for employes retiring at 65 with 20 years service.
2. Employes with as much as 10 years service will have a vested interest in money contributed to the fund by the company even though they leave the company before retirement age.

The agreement with Panhandle - Eastern entails minimum monthly pensions of $150 which would be paid to all employes retiring at 65 who have 20 years service and all those employed with the company before Jan. 1, 1940, regardless of length of service.

The company will pay all costs of the plan.

Pampan Eligible for Phillips Service Award

George O. Lain, 111 West Brown, is eligible this month to receive an award for 25 years service with Phillips Petroleum Company.

Lain joined Phillips as a roustabout in Archer County, in 1925. His entire service with the company has been as roustabout and oil pumper, the job he holds now in the South Pampa area of the Texas Panhandle district.

The prompt, complete and accurate answering of all official inquiries made by census officials should be regarded as one of the requirements of good citizenship and an exercise in fundamental democracy.

—President Truman.
