TEXAS COTTON PLANTERS SEE ROSEATE YEAR

FEDERAL CASH TO AID FARMERS IS READY TO BE LOANED

DALLAS, Nov. 14. (AP)—With $473,000 cash at their call and as "much more as needed" available, Texas cotton farmers today faced the future with well-founded hopes of a reasonable profit from their 1929 crop.

The money, first loan of the Federal Farm board to the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association, was placed on deposit in a Dallas bank yesterday. At the same time, Harry Williams, manager of the association, in Washington conferring with the board, announced that as much more money as needed would be available.

Requests Four In

That farmers from every section were taking advantage of the opportunity was indicated by the large number of requests made to the association by men ready to ship their cotton. Lynn Stokes, president of the bureau's cotton pool, said receipts already were approximately 100,000 bales within 15,000 bales of last year's total, and requests for information were being received by mail, wire and telephone.

The farmer wishing to share in the association's loan must first sign a marketing agreement with the association, ship his cotton as instructed, and then draw the first advance, of approximately $60 a bale, according to E. H. Lindester, assistant secretary of the association. After the cotton is weighed and classified, the second advance may be drawn, depending on the cotton.

Advances Limited

Advances will be supplemented by further payments when the cotton is sold if the association succeeds in its intention of obtaining better prices. The total advances will equal $0.16 1-4 per pound on the basis of middling seven-eighths staple minus freight and handling expense, the assistant secretary said.

GOOD'S CONDITION REGARDED SERIOUS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—Dr. Joel T. Boone, White House physician, announced at 9 a. m. today the condition of J. Edgar Hoover, Secretary of War, who is in a serious condition following an appendicitis operation, was "as good as could be expected."

Army surgeons attending the War Secretary noted with some apprehension that his temperature had risen slightly this morning. This was not considered particularly alarming as it was said the patient's temperature might rise as a natural defensive measure on the part of the body as a reaction from the operation.

The critical nature of the Secretary's condition was not minimized by his surgeons and constant contact was kept by the White House with his bedroom so President Hoover could be kept informed.

KENTUCKY LAD LOSES APPEAL

COURT SAYS IT CAN'T
ACT FOR 14-YEAR
OLD SLAYER

(By Associated Press)

PRESTONBURGH, Ky., Nov. 14.—A 14-year-old Kentucky boy convicted of the killing of a neighbor during a family quarrel and sentenced to 21 years in the reform school and penitentiary, lost in his battle to obtain freedom today when the Court of Appeals at Frankfort, Ky., upheld the sentence.

"The youth is greatly to be pitied," said the decision of the appellate court, "but we are without power to disturb the verdict."

Was Family Fight
The quarrel in which the fatal shooting was committed, was between the Hall family and the family of Ralph Mullins.

The youth in his murder trial here, January 30, 1928, testified that the fight occurred midway between the two homes and he fired only after Mullins had fired a shot at his mother, two more at the boy himself, and a fourth shot at a negro boy.

Bennie's mother, two sisters, and his negro playmate, all face charges of willful murder. They will be given separate trials, their cases being set for hearing January 20, 1930.

Texas Lad Charged In Father's Death

CENTER, Nov. 14 (AP)—The case of a 19-year-old boy who committed patricide, he said, for love of his mother, was set for trial today.

Tracy Lovett, 19, was out on $1,000 bail on a murder charge. Tracy shot his father, R. T. Lovett, 55, to death Monday night.

The boy told Sheriff H. H. Burns the father repeatedly had abused the mother while intoxicated.

Monday night, his story ran, Lovett again began bullying the woman, refusing to stop at the youth's warning and, instead, striking him over the head.

Tracy answered that four pistol bullets.

LAW IS UPHOLD

AUSTIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—The four-year gasoline tax law passed by the first legislature is not unconstitutional even though it should be decided that other are exempted from its provisions, in the opinion of Rice M. Tilly, assistant attorney general.

Tilly made that comment on a statement by Wayne Somerville, Wichita county attorney, to the effect he would seek to have the law declared unconstitutional on grounds it imposed a tax on counties and cities.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The big man held the Tinymites tight, but didn't squeeze with all his might. He knew that that would hurt them and he wasn't really mean. A real good scare would do them good and so he scared as best he could by shouting very loudly and creating a scene.

His voice then broke out very strong, as he exclaimed, "If I'm not wrong, you little fellows ate the food that I had for my lunch. I saw you when you jumped right out of my big pail. There's not a doubt that you had planned your little trick. It was a naughty bunch."

"Now, what am I to do with you? You must admit that it is true that you deserve some punishment. I guess I spank you good. And then again you're pretty small. That wouldn't seem quite fair at all. I'm much too big to do it and I hardly think I should."

Then Scouty spoke up with a plea. "Oh, Mister Big Man, can't you see that we are very sorry and we'll never do it again? You see, we're only little boys who like to play and make much noise. All little fellows seem to get in trouble now and then."

"Ah, ha, I have it," said the man.

"I've thought of quite a clever plan. I'll take you all right to my hut and put you all to work. You took my lunch, so very quick you'll cook another meal real slick. I will not harm a one of you unless you start to shirk."

So, to the little hut they went and about a half an hour was spent in getting good things ready for the great big man to eat. Around the stove one Tiny hopped. They all worked till they almost dropped. The big man watched them. Then he said, "This ought to be a treat."

'DADDY' OF OIL TOWN
WANTS OFFICIALS ELECTED

(By Associated Press)

BORGER, Nov. 14.—A. P. Borger, the man who cut 240 acres of rock plains into town lots for 30,000 persons who came here in one of the world's greatest oil booms in 1926, last night assumed the role of leader for a "democratic" city government, in opposition to the martial law appointees of Governor Dan Moody.

Borger asserted he was not an aspirant for political office, nor were his associates in the move to replace the appointive city officials with elected commissioners.

Efforts Defeated
Defeated today in preliminary efforts for a special election when a petition bearing more than 200 names was rejected by County Judge H. M. Hood, Borger announced he would "fight the case to a finish." He said he was not seeking publicity, but was anxious to take leadership in a cause he felt the citizens would support, but were either "afraid" to take the lead or else didn't know how to do it.

Borger was not certain what the next step would be in the attempt to get elective officials to replace those appointed during martial law. His attorneys, he said, had "five or six" courses open.

The petitioners have declined to name possible candidates for a new city government should the election become a fact. Borger indicated present plans depended upon secrecy, with only a few knowing what step would be taken next.

THOUSANDS SEEK CURES AT CEMETERY

GRAVE OF PRIEST MADE SHRINE FOR CROWDS

(By Associated Press)

MALDEN, Mass., Nov. 14.—William Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, today visited the grave in Holy Cross cemetery of Rev. Patrick J. Power, which for two weeks past has been the shrine of pilgrims from New England and Canada seeking relief from bodily ills.

The Cardinal arrived unannounced after the little crowd of several hundred which gathered outside the cemetery gates before dawn had swollen to many thousands. He stood silently aside watching the crippled, maimed and blind file to the grave in a seemingly endless line to pray for a moment, snatch a handful of earth and depart. He said he had come merely to observe and that his visit had no official significance.

Before noon the crowd that had visited the cemetery was estimated as being more than 30,000 and thousands of others, continued to come until caretakers finally closed the gates for the night.

Cemetery officials first became aware of extraordinary interest in Power's grave several weeks ago. Rumors of miraculous cures became widespread and the crowds of pilgrims increased in size, until two weeks ago, it was necessary for the cemetery officials to enlist police aid in keeping the line in order.

Over the week-end it was estimated that more than 200,000 persons had visited the shrine.

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE assures the freedom of the press—Public opinion has been freed from the tyranny which denied it the right to pass judgment on public questions.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

JAIL-BREAK

Found guilty of aiding a prisoner to escape, Mrs. Mary Stahl was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary by a jury yesterday evening in 72nd district court, before Judge Homer L. Pharr.

She was charged by grand jury indictment in connection with the jail break of Leroy Kizer, alias J. B. Brown, and Mrs. Bessie Phillips.

The jury's verdict was returned at 6:40 o'clock, after 40 minutes of deliberation.

Kizer Gets Seven Years
Kizer, found guilty of robbery with firearms, was sentenced to seven years Tuesday afternoon.

On the witness stand Mrs. Stahl claimed that she was married to Kizer last March 7. Assistant District Attorney Burton S. Burks produced a record showing that she was divorced from Albert Stahl last October 28.

Will Ernest, deputy sheriff and jailer, testified that Mrs. Stahl visited Kizer on Wednesday before the jail break on Friday, October 18. He said that he did not see her give the gun to Kizer, however.

Thelma Bailey, who accompanied Mrs. Stahl to the jail when the latter visited, stated that Mrs. Stahl had a gun under her dress.

ALIENATION OF AFFECTIONS SUIT, WITH MILLION DOLLAR PRIZE, OPENS IN WACO

(By Associated Press)

WACO, Nov. 14.—A letter alleged to have been written by Pio Crespi to Mrs. Willard Wigley, was introduced by deposition and read in court here yesterday in the Willard Wigley versus Pio Crespi suit for $1,000,000 charging alienation of his wife's affections.

While Crespi, in his deposition, did not admit writing "that letter" and denied that it was re-delivered to him later the court admitted it for reading to the jury in the first deposition of that of the defendant over the objections of the defense counsel.

Crespi Testimony Read
The case was opened with Crespi's deposition taken in New York Sept. 10, 1928. The letter read to the jury is alleged to have been written about March 1927 when Crespi was stopping at the Ritz-Carlton hotel.

Mrs. Willard Wigley now Mrs. Pio Crespi obtained her divorce from her first husband on Nov. 5, 1927, the same day on which Mrs. Lois E. Crespi's divorce was granted, both decrees being granted in fifty-fourth district court.

Sent To Oklahoma
This letter, over which considerable argument resulted, is alleged to have been sent Mrs. Florence Wigley (as she is called throughout the case) while she was a guest of the Hardy Hills in Norman, Okla.

Today's session began with reading of the deposition of a number of Wacoans.

Pio Crespi, in his deposition given September of 1928, testified he was then 47 years of age, had lived in Waco 29 years before his removal to Dallas. He maintained a cotton office here until July of 1927. He is, said his deposition, a native Italian, having come to America in 1904, and naturalized in 1917.

BUSINESS AND PROPERTIES

HILTON HOTELS, Inc., a Delaware Corporation, is a holding company organized November, 1928, to take over the entire Capital Stock of then existing corporations, Hilton Hotel Company (Dallas), which began operation in August, 1927; Abilene Hilton Hotel Company, which began operation in October, 1927; The McCoy Operating Company of Wichita Falls, operating the Mitchell Hotel, acquired in March, 1928, and the Waco Hilton Hotel Company, which began operation in July, 1928, to which were added in June, 1929, the San Angelo Hilton Hotel Company, and in July, 1929, the Plainview Hilton Hotel Company. These six existing subsidiary corporations operate six new, modern, popular priced hotels in Texas, located in substantial and progressive communities. All of the Capital Stock of each subsidiary corporation is owned by the new Hilton Hotels, Inc., except $10,000.00 of the Preferred Capital Stock of Dallas Hilton Hotel Company, and $7,000.00 of Plainview Hilton Hotel Company, which will be retired. EARNINGS

The four Hotels in operation during the fiscal year 1928-29, ending August 31, 1929, showed actual earnings of $176,220.42, after the deduction of Federal income taxes, available for depreciation and dividends. The first complete fiscal year for the San Angelo Hilton and the Plainview Hilton will be 1929-30. During the year 1929-30, there will be added the Lubbock Hilton Hotel, to be completed by January 1st, 1930; the Marlin Hilton Hotel, to be completed during the summer of 1930, and the El Paso Hilton, to be completed during the fall of 1930. Earnings for the fiscal year ending August 31st, 1930, based on past experience, after the deduction of Federal income taxes, are estimated available for depreciation and dividends, $120,400.00. Upon the completion of this financing, November 1st, 1930, if the company completes existing optional contracts for the erection, purchase and leasing of certain hotels, the earnings after deduction of Federal income taxes, available for depreciation and dividends, are estimated at $168,700.00, for the fiscal year 1930-31, or $7.18 per share, in which earnings, all stock will participate equally. Ground rentals alone, on hotels now in operation and under construction are conservatively estimated at $149,000.00, which assures a definite income of nearly $2.00 per share on the entire capital stock to be outstanding. All estimates are conservative and are based entirely upon actual operating experience of the past few years, and since opportunities for expansion are being continually offered to the Company, these earnings may be augmented greatly from projects not yet under contract.

PURPOSES OF THIS ISSUE

The proceeds received from the sale of this Capital Stock will be used for the further expansion of Hilton Hotels. This financing makes possible the addition of at least Fourteen Hundred (1,400) rooms. Many attractive offers for the acquisition of Hotels in large, strategically located cities await the securing of this additional capital by the Company.

PROVISIONS OF THE ISSUE

There is only one class of stock of the Company, all of which, including this issue, is common, voting, non-convertible stock, and is not subject to call. This stock is also offered on the deferred payment plan, the advantages of which are obvious.

DIVIDENDS

Dividends have been paid monthly at the equivalent rate of twenty-five cents per share per month on the outstanding stock. It is contemplated that the rate of payment will be continued and that the stock being sold in this issue will be placed on a similar or higher basis when issued. Dividends are exempt from the present normal Federal income tax.

PILLOWS MAY BE MODERNISTIC IN DESIGN, COLOR

Two applique-embroidery pillows designed by the Italian artist, Aurelio Ciamini, received great acclaim when exhibited in the International Exhibition in Venice, Italy. Above: The Madonna and Child, with a chapel in the background. Below: The Lady with a Veil, a very modern pillow with its quaintly humorous expression.

Living and Loving

I have always wondered if I could live right with my counsel unhappy couple to stay together, if possible, and maintain a home for the children. In some cases, I suppose, it is not right, for the home where constant quarreling is going on is hardly the place to bring up children. The poor little things are liable to be nervous wrecks at the very least.

Now comes a letter from a girl who was the child of quarrelsome parents who finally were divorced, and I reiterate what I have said before, that if it is possible at all, parents should sink their personal differences and try hard to keep the home together and make it as harmonious as possible for the children's sake.

DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: Have you a daughter? You must have, because only a mother could look at things as broadmindedly as you do. I am 19. My parents hated each other when they married. Then they were divorced when I was four and my brother three. So I have raised my brother and myself, too. The result was that at 14 I knew as much as a married woman and I was wild. I was headed straight for destruction. I smoked, petted and drank. I never was drunk, but it would eventually have ended in that.

"Then I met my husband. I was 16, he was 27. He made me stop drinking and smoking. I wasn't going with him at the time. He also told me I was a big girl and my dresses belonged down to my knees at least.

"At first I hated him. Now he is my husband and we are thinking seriously of buying a home. I am as happy. I never long for dances and things any more. I was hectic at first not being able to go to dances, but now I don't care.

"I get a crazy streak once in awhile and Jack takes me to a show. Then I get over it. People gave me three months to stick it. It is two years and we are still as much in love as ever. If I had a home I might have waited a little longer before I set sail on the sea of matrimony, but I am older mentally than most girls of my age.

"My case is an example of children of divorce. Mother and father, please, oh, please, think and think hard before getting a divorce. If you know what a miserable life you are going to cause your children you would.

"A CHILD OF DIVORCE." No, I haven't a daughter, dear, but I've always wanted one, so that may be the reason I sound motherly—if I do, as I hope I do. I hope you will always be happy as you now are.

New Face Powder Makes A Big Hit

Wouldn't you, too, like a face powder that will keep shine away—stay on longer—spread smoothly—not clog the pores—and always be so pure and fine? It is made by a new French Process and is called MELO-GLO. It is surely a wonderful Face Powder. Just try MELO-GLO—John Halsey Drug Store.

VENICE, Italy, Nov. 14.—Sofa pillows are the latest articles to be touched by the magic wand of modern art.

Old-fashioned patchwork is made contemporary, under the name of "aplique embroidery."

Curtains, wall panels, bed and sofa covers and now pillows are made entirely of "aplique embroidery."

Achieving Contrast. Varied kinds of silks are used to produce contrasts and enhance certain effects. Different embroidery stitches join the bits of silk.

It is charming pick-up work for a woman with leisure and the production of one of these pillows can give her the same joy of artistic expression as can a composition on canvas.

Naive and quaint is the Madonna, made of exquisitely soft, colors against a background of silver lame. The Madonna's face is egg-shell satin, her garments lustrous ciel blue, and both hers and the bambino's headrests are of gold, while the little one's hands and feet are gleaming flesh colored. There are seven or eight different embroidery stitches working out their features, their decorations and the little chapel in the background. Such details as the expression of the mouth, the finger nails and hair are exquisitely done.

"A Lady With a Veil." Another pillow is "A Lady With a Veil." It is very modern, both in its execution and the amusing picture it makes. Scotch plaid satin head-dress and kerchief are very decorative against a beige velvet background. The full puff sleeves and the bodice of her frock are several shades of green. Her lips are heavily rouged. Chenille pom-poms and fancy ribbons are cleverly applied to give her that veil for which the picture is named. One eye is mysteriously veiled. The other eye is fascinatingly revealed and somewhat elongated and penetrating in its gaze because of the mascara lashes, done in silk.

It is a sad sight now in Italy to work out pictures of one's favorite member of the family and do it in patchwork. Or one can go to a museum and copy a masterpiece picture and try scissors, thread and one's own eye in reproducing oils in silk and satin.

ago I started going with a young man who said he liked me better than any other girl he ever went with. We went together steady until he went away to work. He wrote a few letters and then quit. He came back again this fall and now he goes with all kinds of girls. He is 17 and I'm 19.

"He drinks once in awhile and that I hate very much. I wish you would advise me as to how I should treat him, because he says he loves me now enough to marry me, but still he does those things that he knows I don't like.

"He has only been with me twice since the last week in August. How can I get him to realize he is living a wrong life and how can I get him to go with me more?

"BROKEN HEARTED DOLLIE." If you have emphatically told him that you do not approve of drinking you can do no more about that. You can't get him to go with you more unless he grows more fond of you than he is at present. He certainly does not love you enough to marry you when he has only been with you twice since August.

And, finally, my dear, a boy of 17 is too young to be married. You are too young to talk of marriage, so my advice to you is to play about with other boy friends and let this kid alone until he gets a bit older.

DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am a reader of your column and would like some advice. I am a boy 18 years old. I've been going with a girl 17, but she seems to be losing interest in me, although she doesn't show it to me, but it comes through other people.

"Of late she has been going with another fellow who tries to keep her away from me by telling her lies about me. Can you tell me how to win her back and keep her?

"JIMMY." I am afraid I can't Jimmy, if she is such a fickle friend that she believes the lies, I'd get interested in another girl, if possible, and see how she responds to that.

DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I live with a sister whom I love dearly. I am a girl of 17 and very much in love with a young man two years my senior. We have been going together steady for about a year, but are not allowed to go to parties or any place at night, not even to church.

"I don't like to do anything. She tells me not to, but I don't think we are treated fair. Please tell me what to do about it?"

Be patient a little longer, Priss, and Sis will come around. She still thinks of you as a little girl and feels very responsible for you. She'll wake up soon that you are getting to be a young lady and must be allowed more privileges.

Those present were Mesdames and Messrs. Henry Moore, Jack Bowers, J. R. Johnson of Carthage, Mo., Earl Bowers, Miss Margaret Elkins, of Breckenridge and Robert Moore.

Announcing

a revolutionizing Motor Oil, a new principle and a Challenge

the Challenge

Several years ago, the exclusive North American patent rights on the Germ Process were acquired by this Company. It was evolved and patented by two British scientists after exhaustive chemical and physical laboratory tests.

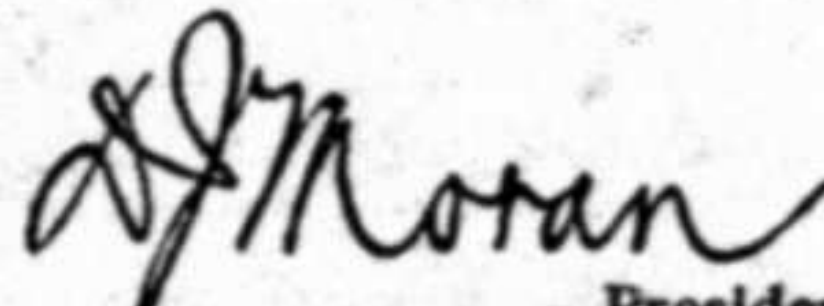

Germ Process oils were revolutionary in that they met every requirement, through special characteristics, for each type of internal combustion motor. These scientists, by the Germ Process, eradicated the prevalent weaknesses existent in motor oils regardless of their base.

This Company has made innumerable laboratory and road tests, under every conceivable condition, over the past seven years, and we are now prepared to state definitely that your motor oil problem is solved by the Germ-Processed Motor Oils.

By comparison, our tests prove that the "Germ Essence" creates the only safe motor oil under all conditions and at all times operates at the highest obtainable efficiency.

We are now prepared to meet any challenge of competitors. I confidently believe that Conoco Germ-Processed Paraffin Base Motor Oils are superior to any other motor oils made from any crude by any process.

More than twenty thousand outlets are now prepared to offer to the public such a motor oil for the discriminating buyer, and for a technical problem which has always been recognized but not solved until now.

President,
CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY

Here are our Claims for Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil— Check against the oil you are now using

1 Under the Germ patents . . . exclusive to CONOCO for North America . . . there is imparted to CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil an "oiliness" which is responsible for its greater lubricating value, greater film strength, greater penetrativeness, greater adhesiveness, greater tenacity, greater permanence, greater stability, greater stamina and a more nearly perfect compression seal than any other oil on the American market.

Because of this affinity for metal—this actually combining with the metal itself, CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil never leaves the bearings. Where other oils drain out and leave the surface dry, Germ-Processed oil penetrates the metal surface, forming a film that adheres for months. This "carry-over" film—this always present film gives ample lubrication to all parts needing it when a cold motor is started, until such time as oil from the crank case can reach them.

2 This remarkable and exclusive feature of CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil is reinforced by the fact that these oils are refined from only carefully selected paraffin base crudes by the most modern and scientific methods known to the petroleum technologist. Patented processes are used to remove all objectionable elements, leaving a perfectly balanced, stable product that is 100% lubricating oil. Thousands of tests demonstrate its remarkable resistance to corrosion.

The majority of motor oils never receive this degree of refining. None ever exceed it.

3 Increased gasoline mileage and improved motor performance are realized through the use of this new oil. The exclusive CONOCO Germ Process so adds to the "oiliness" of this lubricant that metal-against-metal friction is eliminated, even in motor starting after all oil ordinarily would have drained from the motor into the crankcase. The perfect sealing qualities of the CONOCO fracture-proof film insures a high compression efficiency that results in greatly increased motor performance. Marked improvements in power, speed, acceleration and flexibility are noticeable.

4 Due to the Germ Process and the select, premium, paraffin base crude stocks used, CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil positively does not break down under the most intense cylinder wall heat. A climb, high speed, heavy load, temperature extremes—none of these strains cause this oil to heat sufficiently to actually burn, break down or evaporate to any appreciable degree. By comparison with many oils on the market, you may confidently expect a saving in oil consumption up to 50%.

5 Automotive engineers agree that 40% to 60% of all motor wear occurs during the starting period. This destructive wear is definitely reduced by the use of CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil. Ordinary oil, thinned by heat and dilution, drains down past the piston rings when the motor is stopped, leaving little or no protecting film. On starting the motor, a considerable time is required for the oil to reach all bearings and working surfaces. Under adverse conditions, such as winter temperatures, this time may be from 15 to 20 minutes or even longer.

Since CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil never leaves the bearings and working surfaces, it is always there under any and all conditions to provide needed lubrication until the normal supply of oil arrives.

6 Unlike other oils dilution does not impair the "oiliness" value of CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil.

7 CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil retains its fluidity at sub-zero temperatures. No practical operating conditions in winter will affect its immediate lubricating value at the first touch of the electric starter.

We invite you to enjoy the many additional miles of pleasure your motor car owes you by using this amazing new motor oil regularly. You will find it today at all stations displaying the CONOCO Red Triangle.

BARRY HOLTON'S PACK ARRIVES FOR GRID COMBAT FRIDAY

IN THE REALM OF SPORTS
WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

Although Brownsville, Breckenridge and Amarillo stand out as the leading contenders for the current interscholastic League football title, the struggle this week will center around the Waco-Cleburne game at Waco, figured to settle the championship of District Four. The Waco Tigers were hard pushed in their clash with Corsicana two weeks ago to win by the slender margin of 6 to 0, while Cleburne was much more impressive in its triumph over Temple on the week before. The fact that the Tigers will be playing on the Cotton Palace gridiron gives Waco a slight advantage.

The decisive victory of Breckenridge over the Abilene Eagles last week gives P. E. Shetter's charges the inside track in the Oil Belt. Only Ranger and San Angelo remain for the Backaroos to hurdle before they can clinch the title, and Oil Belt fans hold little doubt as to their ability to do this in decisive fashion.

Brownsville has its district race sewed up and is likely to encounter stiff opposition when it encounters the winner of District 7, probably Port Arthur. The 1928 state finalists showed surprising strength last week by trouncing the supposed powerful Beaumont eleven, 24 to 0. John Reagan of Houston and Ball High of Galveston are yet to be decided in this district, but neither appear to hold a chance with Port Arthur.

Disgruntled football fans of this city, who have written numerous unsigned letters deploring the ill success of the Tech football eleven may get considerable satisfaction out of the following episode signed by four well-known business men:

Dear Sir: We have talked with quite a number of Matador fans that expressed their opinion as to the Matador's troubles. We would like very much to see the Tech get into the Southwestern conference if they were developed into a winning club, but we could not have them there now and be the laughing stock of the state. Our Matadores have a husky bench fully as fast and we know as smart as any team you will find in the state, so why can't they win?

We have nothing to say against the team, they do all they know how to do. We have watched their fighting spirit and the latest footballers they display and admire it, but without the technical preparation this is worth nothing against a bunch of well drilled huskies.

We will contend that the Matadores have the material to develop into a dreamed team even in the Southwestern conference, but we do not think however that the attendance has anything to do with the plays performed on the field. There is a weakness somewhere, and a bad one. Point it out for yourself. It could be more than one place so when this weakness is remedied we will have a team of Matadors that all West Texas will be proud of and when this is done there is no doubt but what they will get the crowd.

A club should be organized to get the high-school stars of this section for Tech, which includes the best on the Lubbock, Slalom, Post, Lamesa and Amarillo teams as well as a number of other teams of this section and all over the state.

Let's get together and have a better Texas Tech grid machine. Yours very sincerely,
J. R. JONES,
C. C. HUNT,
JACK PIPKIN,
P. G. EVANS.

A T. C. U. victory over the Texas University Longhorns at Austin Saturday will write history for the Southwestern conference. The Frogs have never won a conference championship and throughout the 12 years of competition with Texas, has never been able to defeat the Longhorns. Their best efforts against the Steers was the scoreless deadlock played in 1927. If the Frogs are able to now out the Longhorns, they will be strong favorites to cop the rag. This performance would undoubtedly bring national fame to Francis Schmidt, the new Purple mentor, who is coaching his first year at T. C. U. Matty Bell, former T. C. U. coach, who transferred his affections to Texas A. and M. this year, has suffered three straight conference setbacks at Aggie land, losing all three by close margins. The Farmers have been so far the hard luck team of the conference, and Bell appears to be the goat.

"On to Lubbock" is the war cry at Wichita Falls this week as the Coyote enters marshal his forces to ride the special train here Friday for the annual clash between the rival District One teams. Developments in the race during the past two weeks have served to increase interest in the Coyote city and many Wichita Falls believe the Holton aggregation will win their two remaining games with Lubbock and Amarillo. The Wichita mentor is outspoken in his belief that the Coyotes will win the district championship if the captain can clinch here with the Westerners. He considers the Lubbock game as the key to the ultimate fate of his team, so far as district competition is concerned, and it remains a certainty that the Pack will take the field tomorrow with blood in their eyes.

Approximately 2000 Wichita fans are expected to ride the "On to Lubbock" special which leaves the

COYOTE ENTRY WORKS OUT ON LOCAL GROUND

LAST PRACTICE TO BE HELD HERE TODAY BY VISITORS

Fully aware of the hard battle that awaits them Friday afternoon, twenty Wichita Falls High school Coyotes, accompanied by their commander, Barry Holton, landed here early today, fit and ready for their District One skirmish with the Lubbock Westerners.

Spurred by their great showing in defeating the Vernon Lions, 14-3, the snarling Pack are here with their fangs bared to avenge the 21-0 defeat handed them by the 1928 Westerners.

Praises His Team
"My boys have shown a remarkable improvement within the last two weeks," Coach Holton said this morning, "and I can promise you that they will fight the tar out of those Westerners out there tomorrow. Except for Skeen, who has a broken nose, the squad is in perfect condition. I regard Lubbock as a stronger football machine than Amarillo, but anything can happen."

Eight squad members will be on the special train that will arrive here tomorrow from Wichita, running the number of Coyotes in town to 25. The 36-piece Wichita high school band will also be on the special.

The Westerners braved a cold wind Wednesday afternoon to take their last hard workout before they go into the skirmish with the Pack tomorrow. Working on the field adjacent to the high school building, the locals were given two full hours of fundamental drill before they plunged into a scrimmage against Wichita plays. A light session this afternoon will put the Gold and Black warriors in the pink of condition for their important District One encounter.

Characterized by Head Coach, Henry Franks as the "hardest fight of the season," not excepting the Amarillo game, the battle in the Matadores arena tomorrow promises to be the most thrilling high school contest staged here this year. Deep respect for the ability of Coach Holton and the style of play employed by the former Trinity and Notre Dame mentor has caused Western coaches to drive their charges at a furious pace in preparation for the clash with the Coyotes.

Shifts Are Made
Shifts in the Westerner lineup effected since the Amarillo clash will be given a severe test in tomorrow's game. Close followers of the club believe that the change of Yancy Price from end to halfback will add considerable punch to the Western attack. Smith and Lawson, all-time backs who have been out for some time, took their regular turn Wednesday in scrimmage and appear ready for real action against the Pack.

Examination of the Wichita roster reveals that the Coyotes have a decided weight advantage over the Lubbock aggregation. A stalwart forward wall, led by the 160-pound Coyote captain, Hodgkins, is made up of a crew of huskies from end to end. Wichita's backfield combination of Dickey, Elliott, Lee and Holton is light but unusually fast.

Classes at the high school will begin at 8 o'clock Friday morning to enable the student body to meet the Coyote special which arrives here at 12:30. The high school pep squad and band will lead the demonstration. A large number of cars have been provided to take the Wichita visitors to and from the game.

The following Wichita players were included in the squad that arrived here this morning at 8:30: Allen, Beaty, B. Castanien, J. Castanien, Cor, Daniels, Davis, Dickey, Dixon, Elliott, Fowler, Hodgkins, Holden, Holton, Hutchison, Kelly, King, Lee, Malone, Morris, Norwood, Ray, Skeen, Smith and Withrow.

The "City That Faith Built" at 5:30 Friday morning and arrives here at 12:30. Superintendent M. H. Duncan informs us that a royal welcome will be extended the Coyote delegation when it arrives. The high school band and pep squad will be on hand when the special rolls into town, and cars will be furnished visitors during their stay in the city.

'Rover Boy' Hornsby Has Found Big League Niche

SHIFT OF BELL MAKES IT LOOK LIKE CUBS WILL KEEP RAJAH

BY WILLIAM RITTS
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The migrations of Rogers Hornsby, leading Rover Boy of the National league, at last seem to be definitely ended.

Unless an upheaval in the inner circle of the Chicago Cubs takes place, Hornsby will emerge next spring from a winter's hibernation still wearing the shaggy habiliments of the Little Bears.

This will set a precedent and overthrow tradition. It has been Rogers' habit for the last three seasons to appear for play in a foreign uniform.

Changes of his baseball allegiance came so rapidly that Hornsby was always in imminent danger, through absent-mindedness, of donning the wrong uniform and laying himself open to attack as a spy by irate home fans.

Long Time Fails
But all this is over for Rogers if the acquisition by the Cubs of Lester Bell, hard-hitting third baseman of the Braves, can be taken as a tip.

Rogers and Lester are bosom pals. They were close friends in St. Louis (see "The Rover Boys on the Mississippi"; Or Winning for Dear Old Sam Bressan). Hornsby, taking a liking to Bell, showed the lad how to develop his playing ability when he came to the Cardinals. Lester, in turn, admired his hero. Hornsby, the premier batsman of the National.

But cruel fate interfered with this beautiful friendship. After Hornsby drove the Cards to a pennant and a world's championship in 1926, he was traded to New York, the Cardinals management having become cold toward his talents.

Driven apart by circumstance (see "The Rover Boys' Darkest Hour"; or Our Hero on Broadway"), Bell could not mourn the loss of his pal throughout 1927 while Rogers was becoming acclimated to the chilly eastern atmosphere.

There followed a second amazing Hornsby deal in which the Rajah was shunted to the Boston Braves after playing like a demon for the Giants all season. Hornsby made the best of it and shortly after the 1928 season had begun he became manager and was able to put through a deal which brought his old pal, Les Bell, to the Braves ("The Rover Boys at Bunker Hill"; or Life Among the Lowly Tribes of Boston).

The Card management was not moved altogether by altruistic motives in permitting the pals to be together again. Bell, following Hornsby's departure, showed a marked decline in his style of play and it was thought in Boston that Rogers could bring Lester back to his old form.

United Again
Enter Joe McCarthy, Cubs manager, upon the scene. Joe figured he needed just one man to round out a pennant combination and that man was Hornsby. By the simple expedient of waving a handsome check before the eyes of Hornsby's employers, the deal was put through and Hornsby came to Chicago while Lester remained behind ("The Rover Boys as Friendly Foes"; or Playthings of Fate).

Throughout the 1929 season it looked as though Les might have to end his days as a Brave, but the war saved him from the horrible fate when the Cubs proved too weak at third in the world series. The Cardinals have now obtained Bell and with friend Rogers at hand, Lester may prove a tower of strength in the Club infield.

With a rosiest future before them, we will now leave our heroes. For further adventures see "The Rover Boys on Lake Michigan"; or Strange Adventures Among the Pineapple Thickets.

Trade of Lester Bell, his close friend, to Chicago Cubs by Boston Braves, is seen as indication that Rogers Hornsby, Cubs ace infielder, will remain in Windy City for another season, ending his traveling which saw him a Red Bird, Giant, Indian Brave and a Bear Cub, all in four seasons.

GRID NOTES FROM OVER THE STATE

STAR BACKS OF TEXAS TO BE SEEN SATURDAY

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Opportunity will be had Saturday to compare the southwest conferences four "super" backs, Dexter Shelley, Longhorn powerhouse, and Howard Grubbs, astute T. C. U. field general, will clash at Austin, Weidman Mason, Southern Methodist's sophomore brilliant, faces his old friend, Jake Wilson, Baylor's rubber ball, across the lines at Dallas. This quartet of backfield talent might not be the best in the conference, but a majority of critics who have seen them perform think so. Each is a triple-threat, excepting Grubbs. He does not kick, but he can run and pass with the best of them and has a football brain. The way he directs the Frog attack is a treat. He has an amazing faculty for detecting flaws in an opposing defense.

LOOK TO SHELLEY
Shelley is due to be at his best this week, providing he gets a dry field for his end runs and off-tackle smashes. Baylor got his number last week. Such a capable back does not figure to have two off-days in a row, however. If his interference can take him out and shake him loose, something it could not do in the mud, he might turn in some runs to electrify the crowd. Much of his thunder has been stolen by Nona Rees, Longhorn quarter back, the last two weeks.

DUEL IS EXPECTED
The Wilson-Mason duel bears an interesting angle. They were teammates at Waco High school in 1926. Mason was the better player in those days, but he will have to do some playing to prove it Saturday. There is no doubt "Speedy" is the backbone of the Mustang eleven, both on offense and defense. It is equally true the black-haired title Wilson holds Baylor's title hope in his twinkling legs and upon the point of his good right toe. With-out the two stars, neither team would be a serious contender. Their presence in the rival line-ups assures a spectacular battle when the Bear and Mustang meet at Dallas. The winner, no few observers believe, will capture the conference crown.

Two other great individual stars will tie up in the Dallas struggle, Captain "Choc" Sanders of the Mustangs and Bokey Koch, of Baylor. Both were chosen all-conference guards last season and appear destined to win the honor again this year. Each plays left guard, however, so there will be little direct contact. Malcolm Powell, the "Ponies" all-conference center of 1928, also will be in the fray. There promises to be some great play around the center of the line.

Purdue Keeps Busy
Purdue has cleared all obstacles with little difficulty, but Coach Jimmy Phelan is drilling his squad with strategy prepared especially for Iowa. Purdue has exhibited a great running attack, built around Welch, Harmon and Yunevich, as well as a capable passing offense, with Harmon doing the tossing. In addition to this, Phelan has worked out variations of both forms of assault, with Welch figuring prominently.

Purdue also is expected to break out a new passing game against Minnesota at Minneapolis Saturday. Coach Harry Kipke has spent most of the week smoothing his passing game and will turn it loose in an effort to take the brown jug back to Ann Arbor. Affairs at Minnesota are not so bright. Brockmeyer, half-back star, and Clarence Munn, sophomore tackle, have not recovered from injuries suffered at Iowa last week, and may not be in shape to play against Michigan.

Injuries also are all too plentiful at Illinois, and Coach Bob Zuppke has indicated he will send a backfield composed of Doug Mills, a quarter and three sophomore backs, against Chicago Saturday. Art Schultz was sent to fullback yesterday after Fritz Humbert sprained an ankle. Root and Evans are choices for the halfback posts. Coach A. A. Stutz of Chicago has devoted most of the Maroon practice sessions to defensive measures, especially against Illinois end runs. He gave out four new plays yesterday, but indicated they might not be used until the Washington game a week from Saturday.

BIG TEN WILL BEAR DOWN ON PENNANT RACE

GREAT PASSING DRIVE IS EXPECTED FROM MICHIGAN U.

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—What Purdue and Iowa have used to overcome Western conference opponents this season is not all they have in the way of football trickery, but everything they know will go on display Saturday at LaFayette when they meet in the vital game of the Big Ten day.

After dropping its first conference game to Ohio State, Iowa speeded up, beat Illinois and conquered Wisconsin and Minnesota. The Hawkeyes, however, did not show a great variety of offensive stuff until they hit Minnesota last week. Even then Coach Burt Ingerson's eleven did little with forward passing. All during this week, however, Ingerson has polished an aerial offensive, held in reserve for just such a test as the Purdue game. The Boiler-makers, already aware of the power of the Iowa running game led by Captain Bill Glassgow and Oran Pace, probably will find themselves with added worries from forward passes.

Purdue has cleared all obstacles with little difficulty, but Coach Jimmy Phelan is drilling his squad with strategy prepared especially for Iowa. Purdue has exhibited a great running attack, built around Welch, Harmon and Yunevich, as well as a capable passing offense, with Harmon doing the tossing. Coach Harry Kipke has spent most of the week smoothing his passing game and will turn it loose in an effort to take the brown jug back to Ann Arbor. Affairs at Minnesota are not so bright. Brockmeyer, half-back star, and Clarence Munn, sophomore tackle, have not recovered from injuries suffered at Iowa last week, and may not be in shape to play against Michigan.

Injuries also are all too plentiful at Illinois, and Coach Bob Zuppke has indicated he will send a backfield composed of Doug Mills, a quarter and three sophomore backs, against Chicago Saturday. Art Schultz was sent to fullback yesterday after Fritz Humbert sprained an ankle. Root and Evans are choices for the halfback posts. Coach A. A. Stutz of Chicago has devoted most of the Maroon practice sessions to defensive measures, especially against Illinois end runs. He gave out four new plays yesterday, but indicated they might not be used until the Washington game a week from Saturday.

COLD WIND NO HANDICAP TO PICADORS TRAINING FOR TILT WITH CAT ELEVEN

Wednesday's cold north wind speeded up practice for the Texas Tech freshmen as Coach Rhodes Ingerton sent his charges through another brisk workout in preparation for their engagement here Saturday afternoon with the Abilene Christian college reserves.

Coach Rhodes Ingerton's freshman squad of Texas Tech were undaunted by the continued cold spell Wednesday afternoon, the Picadors going through a brisk session on the college field in preparation for their encounter here Saturday afternoon with the Abilene Christian college reserves.

It will be the first home appearance of the freshman gridsters, who lost to the Cadets of New Mexico Military Institute in a hard battle at Russell. Against the Soldiers Coach Ingerton's forces were complete masters from the standpoint of running plays, but succumbed to an overhead attack that netted three touchdowns.

Squad Works Hard
Despite the fact that the Picadors have had little toward which they might look forward, the squad has been working hard.

A victory over Iowa will leave Purdue in the lead in the championship race to LaFayette for the first time, and preparation is going forward with grim determination.

HUMBERT FUGAZY, ONCE BEATEN BY RICKARD IN FIGHT TO CONTROL GOTHAM BOXING, MAY SOON SUCCEED OLD ENEMY

BY EDWARD J. BEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—The old order changeth, giving place to the new in such striking fashion that the late Tex Rickard, if he could ever visit again the boxing scenes he once dominated, would hardly know them.

Humbert J. Fugazy was once Rickard's business enemy, his rival for supremacy in the field of cauliflowering, and when the tall Texan fought he buried the knife to the hilt. In the end Tex conquered Humbert, drove him to Brooklyn to promote his summer shows, and lifted Madison Square Garden to such successful heights that the little Italian could never procure the necessary backing for an indoor arena.

Swap Is Made
Today Fugazy is the toast of the "millionaires" of whom Rickard was so proud. Through his pleasant associations with Bill Carey, successor to the presidency of the Garden, and Frank Bruen, the general manager, Humbert came to dicker with the Garden and ended by turning over to them two of the most precious cauliflower chaffs in the heavyweight sock market.

For a sum generally estimated at $65,000, Fugazy sold to the Garden the one contract for Max Schmeling's services recognized by the New York State Athletic commission as taking precedent over all others. He further gave up his contracts with Victorio Campolo, the giant Gauchito of the Argentine, and bought off the three year contract of Gustave Leneve, the manager whose squabbles with his charge sent Victorio lurching back to South America, determined never to come north again.

Monopoly Is Seen
The deal not only gave the Garden a monopoly on the major heavyweights but indicated Fugazy himself has come to the end of his bitter, single-handed struggle to get somewhere in the fight business. Indications are more than strong that some new reorganization of the Garden personnel will ultimately find Humbert in the driver's seat that once was Rickard's. Bruen is expected to become president of the organization with Carey stepping back to the chairmanship of the board of directors.

NEW PLAN TO STRENGTHEN FOREIGN DIPLOMATIC SERVICE LAID BY HOOVER

BY JAMES L. WEST
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—President Hoover has matured his plan strengthening the front line trench of American diplomacy in Latin-America subject to the approval of Congress in the form of an increased appropriation of slightly under two millions of dollars.

Included in the general program of improving the foreign service, which the Chief Executive outlined in his Armistice day speech, is the strengthening also of the far eastern, near eastern and other services by making these posts more attractive to trained diplomats and business men who might be induced to serve the government.

Results From Tour
The present move of the administration results directly from Mr. Hoover's Good Will tour of Central and South America during which he became convinced of the necessity for early action and for a complete study of the whole situation in the diplomatic service.

For a number of reasons the government has found it difficult always to obtain the services of the very best men for some of the posts in the tropical countries although there was a full appreciation by officials of the importance of the work to be done by American representatives in those countries.

Private Income Needed
In many instances the appointment of career men became out of the question because they were unable to supplement their salaries out of private income as many American diplomatic representatives are obliged to do in order to maintain the prestige of their country.

Men out of the government service seeking diplomatic posts usually wanted what they regarded as more important assignments and it was a rare thing that those most desirable from a governmental standpoint could be convinced of the high character of the work which

RELIGION TOPIC FOR PARLEY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 14 (AP)—Catholic, Jew and Protestant sat down together at Harvard yesterday to discuss the causes and effects of religious intolerance in the first seminar of its kind ever held in New England. Rabbis, Priests and Protestant clergymen were among the 400 persons who took part.

A Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard, opened the session. He traced briefly the history of religious enmities and said: "Is mankind doomed forever to have its love linked with its hatred, its best with its worst propensities?" "Our problem for the future is to arouse religious fervor without religious rancor."

PLAN FOR CONVENTION TO BE HELD HERE ON CARLSBAD ROAD

The Lubbock Board of City Development in session this morning agreed to entertain visitors to the district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in this city tomorrow with a luncheon.

A. E. Davis, manager of the local chamber, has mailed out invitations to chambers of commerce in all counties composing district 2 of the regional body. In addition to chamber of commerce secretaries and officials in the various cities, a large representation of business men interested in West Texas affairs is expected.

Plan Highway Meet

The highway committee of the Board of City Development, together with Tom White and J. H. Hankins, directors of the Carlsbad Cavern Highway association, were instructed to make arrangements to handle this city's reception when the highway association convenes in this city November 25.

The directors authorized appointment of a committee to formulate plans for the annual traveling men's banquet to be held here next spring or summer.

A. B. Davis, manager, was named by the board to attend a meeting in Amarillo next Saturday, in response to an invitation from the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce that this city be represented at an assembly to work out ways and means of securing a State park in Palo Duro canyon.

Jap Naval Demands Are Not Approved

TOKYO, Nov. 14 (AP)—Although official confirmation was unavailable, it was learned authoritatively today that Japan's claims for 70 percent of American strength in cruisers carrying 8-inch guns have met with a discouraging reception both in London and in Washington. Recent diplomatic correspondence from those capitals has been a closely guarded secret at the foreign office, but this afternoon's papers gave prominence to reports of an Anglo-American tendency to reject the Japanese ratio claim.

Four Are Killed In Automobile Mishap

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 14 (AP)—Three men and a woman were killed instantly today when their automobile ran into a moving freight train here.

The dead, James Trimble, Columbus, Ohio; William Carmichael, Marshall; Karl A. Kircherer, Indianapolis; Maude Ellis, Indianapolis.

The four were returning to Indianapolis in Kircherer's automobile when the accident occurred.

Ministers Acquit Pastor Of Charge

PAMPA, Nov. 14 (AP)—In secret conclave a jury of ministers has exonerated a fellow minister, the Rev. J. A. Sorensen, of the Methodist church of Knox City, of charges of "improper advances" preferred against him by a young lady.

The action was taken at the Northwest Texas conference here and announced last night by the conference. Dr. J. W. Hunt of Abilene, who headed the defense, declared the charges were "framed up."

D. B. Dock, retiring presiding elder of the Lubbock district, was presented with an expensively bound Bible and was eulogized by Dr. E. W. Dodson, of Brownwood.

During a bread war at Liverpool, England, recently, the price got down to 11 cents for two two-pound loaves.

FOR ULTRA SMART EVENTS

Frances Clyne, New York dressmaker, says: Costumes for the opera this winter are real. For the opera is quite the most formal evening entertainment one can attend. One must think of such a costume as a single ensemble. No gown alone is quite adequate. The wrap is quite as important as the gown. The ensemble pictured is a broad-based, fine as lace and pliable as silk. The gown has a smartly cut overskirt cut in one with the front section of the gown which ruffles and dips in the back. The coat has a flaring skirt portion and is lavishly colored in white fox.

BY FRANCES CLYNE
Fashion Writer for Central Press
NEW YORK

Costumes for the opera this winter are real in their beauty and elegance, as they should be in this luxury age in which we live.

For the opera is quite the most formal evening entertainment one can attend. The costume should be in keeping with the atmosphere of costly jewels, exquisite perfumes, white gloves and high-heeled shoes and the blaze of lights.

Of course costumes for the opera are glamorous! All real things have that inherent quality. Opera ensembles epitomize glamor.

The first consideration in planning a gown and wrap for the opera or "fire night" at the theater, is to realize that they must be thought of as a single ensemble. No gown alone is adequate. For white lights play upon one the moment she enters the lobby. Her wrap is quite as important as the gown that is revealed when she is seated and her wrap thrown back.

Color, fabric and line are the three ingredients that go to make up the perfect opera outfit. Black is favored by many women. Black is an excellent choice when in doubt or when one is limited and can have only one costume. But this winter color blazes forth in lovely pastel shades for every tone of the spectrum. And since color can do so much for the hair, the eyes, the skin and one's general charm, it seems a pity not to select some light color for this, the princess of all evening costumes.

Color Parade At Opera
There are certain greens that make a blond's skin infinitely fair and lovely. Certain yellows and pale blues and dawn pinks bring out the raven beauty of dark locks. And for those who wear the new, clear, hard medium tones of green, blue, yellow and pink the opera is the place to put them on parade.

The although of the moment is the princess one. Costs follow the

The why of a clear skin
A clear, smooth, lovely skin speaks of rich, red blood within. It is Nature's outward reflection of internal healthfulness.

Men and women, both, justly covet admiration and all may expect such satisfaction to its fullest extent if they are the possessors of a clear, unblemished skin.

If you are unfortunate in this respect you owe it to yourself and friends to remove the cause. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired.

More important still, strong healthy blood nourishes the body and fights against infection and disease.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping people regain and retain their strength and charm. It promotes healthy body building. It increases the number of red-blood-cells. All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

YOUTHFULNESS and BEAUTY

are dependent upon a strong body—
firm flesh—
a clear skin

NOTHING is more beautiful, more inspiring, more glorious than the supreme manifestation of Nature in the human body. Those sparkling eyes, that clear skin, that firm flesh, and that vigor of action denoting vitality, bespeak loveliness and internal healthfulness.

And so, is it not our birthright to be masters over our own bodies? To be sure not much is said openly about personal handicaps—skin blemishes—sallow complexion—but secretly they influence many important affairs.

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of skin blemishes, lack of appetite, flabby flesh and loss of energy as an indication that the body's power of resistance is low—that there is a deficiency of red-blood-cells.

This is why so many thousands, seeking youthfulness and beauty, have taken a course of S.S.S. It helps Nature restore the blood to its normal state. Without plenty of rich, red-blood-cells there would be no strong, sturdy, powerful men or beautiful, healthy women.

CONSERVATION AND EDUCATION TALKS FEATURE DAY AT CLUBWOMEN'S MEET

(By Associated Press)

MINERAL WELLS, Nov. 14—Discussions of educational and conservation phases of Texas and the report of the resolutions committee featured the fourth day session of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs here.

Among resolutions offered and adopted today was one asking legislative appropriations for the purchase of land adjacent to the Alamo in San Antonio. Another urged the purchase and maintenance of state parks in the Davis mountains, the Palo Duro Canyon and at Lake Cardo. Miss Frank A. Thompson of Corpus Christi was chairman of the resolutions committee.

Caldwell Speaks

The educational conference was presided over by Mrs. M. H. Hagaman of Ranger. Rush M. Caldwell of Dallas, president of the Texas State Teachers' association, addressed the assembly on "The Function of Civic Organizations As Open Forums."

The speaker pointed out that in the interest of education civic organizations should function as open forums, and that rural schools should function as community centers in the same interest.

Following a report on motion pictures, in which certain demands were made for better pictures, J. J. Chickland of San Antonio was introduced by Mrs. J. K. Beretta of San Antonio, chairman of the Motion Pictures committee. The theme was "Are Motion Pictures Conductive to Crime." That crime is less rampant in "movie-minded" cities is proof this form of entertainment is not at the root of the evil, Chickland said.

Reports Given

Two minute reports were made on waterways, natural scenery, bill board restrictions, forestry, birds, gardens and flowers, highway tree planting, community service, soils and minerals, historic spots and buildings and preservation of wild life.

T. W. Davidson, of Dallas, addressed the meeting on the subject of parks and play grounds, and endorsed the resolution referring to the purchase of three major parks.

Dr. C. S. Spots, dean of the school of law at Southern Methodist university, spoke on the subject, "America, The Spendthrift Nation." He deplored the lack of conservation of Texas natural resources. The timber situation especially, he said, was grave. He also discussed flood control measures.

The Perfect Wife has written. She wants to know what I think of her system for keeping a Happy Home, and also if she had better break her friendship with a cynical older woman who trusts no man.

The Perfect Wife has only been married five months, so can't be said to be very experienced. Yet if she maintains her present attitude of love and tolerance she has a very good chance indeed of remaining to the end of the story.

I'd like to return your letter to you, Pauline, and let you put it safely away. Five years from now I'd like you to take it out and read it and see how you feel about it then. Then put it away for another five and again read it, and every five or ten years thereafter.

It would interest you to recall how you felt five months after marriage.

"DEAR VIRGINIA: I am a bride of five months. When I married I planned on being a pal, a wife, a sweetheart, a good cook and not a nag. My fiancée was a year my senior. I am 20.

"Since my marriage I have entertained his friends, serving delicious dinners, adhered closely to 'shutting my mouth' to stop a quarrel, and even let him go to shows alone when I did not care to see those particular shows.

Switzerland is taking an interest in commodity-vending slot machines made in America.

There is no reason why you should not be two happy kids, loving one another and having a grand time years from now, Pauline. It depends on you both—on your continued love and tolerance and ability to make the best of things as you have to face them, and keeping close to one another in understanding.

Your system is a very good one, of course, so why pay attention to the woman friend? She has grown to distrust one man and, through him, all men, but that need not influence you. She is to be pitied.

The reason why I advise you to keep your letter and read it over occasionally, is to enable you to check up on yourself. To see if you are keeping your resolutions of trust and good temper. You undoubtedly will slip occasionally; you will not always be the Perfect Wife, as I dubbed you in the first of this article—and I did not mean that sarcastically, my dear—but that need only make you more tolerant of others, realizing that you, too, have weaknesses.

WORRIED RACY: Just go on your way and pay no attention to an opinion of my system and of the woman friend.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I have been reading about 'Still Waiting' and would like to tell him he is a real man. I have been out with several different types of men, but none seem the least bit interested in church or Sunday school. It seems a real treat to hear of one who has such a splendid record.

"I, like him, am popular with the girls, but the fellows seem to want some one who is not interested in the vital things of life. Just remember, 'Still Waiting,' every day holds some new experiences, and maybe tomorrow you may meet the one for whom you have waited. Good luck to you.

Brady Is Awaiting Grand Jury Action

AUSTIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—From his cell in jail, John W. Brady, silver-haired jurist, today awaited the report of a grand jury called presumably to inquire into the death of Miss Lehlia Highsmith, stabbed to death in front of her boarding house Saturday night.

The former member of the third Court of Civil Appeals has been held in jail without bail since his arrest the night of the stabbing. His attorneys said Judge Brady had been on a drinking party. He has been held without bond pending action by the grand jury.

TWO THOUSAND FATHERS AND SONS TO MEET IN BANQUET PROGRAM TUESDAY

Fathers will step from pinnacles of business attainment into the hearts of boyland at the Texas Tech gymnasium next Tuesday night, when paternal men and their sons face each other at the annual county-wide Father and Son banquet, which starts at 7 o'clock.
At least 2,000 boys are expected to gather for the occasion, according to George Dupree, general chair-and group singing, games and other items will prevail.

"Boys who have no fathers are just as welcome as those who have," the chairman stressed. "The main idea of the meeting is to have the boys there and this is one time of the year when the future business men of our country will be honored guests."

Grant is Chairman
Homer Grant was elected chairman of a committee to find men who will be hosts to boys without fathers. M. H. Duncan will report the names of such boys and urge them to be present. All of these boys will be at the court house at 8:15 o'clock Tuesday evening and transportation will be provided, Mr. Grant said.

Tentative plans for the banquet were made last night at a meeting in the office of Mr. Dupree. Alex McDonald will be chairman of the "eats" committee; Ray L. G. H.

Williams; K. N. Clapp will have charge of games and amusements; A. C. Jackson was selected treasurer; Charles Whitacre heads the committee on personal invitations; Dr. G. H. Aker and A. B. Davis compose the publicity committee; J. A. Raley will have charge of the ticket sales committee; John Dorman is in charge of registration, and M. H. Duncan and James Kilpatrick will arrange a formal program.

LAMESA HOST TO BAPTISTS

MORE THAN 600 HEAR REPORTS OF CHURCH ORGANIZATION

(By Associated Press)
LAMESA, Nov. 14.—Swinging into the second day of their annual convention here, delegates to the Baptist State Missionary association heard reports of committees and addresses yesterday.
The annual introductory sermon was delivered by the Reverend R. N. Davis, of Norman, Okla.

With more than six hundred already here, delegates were still arriving in Lamesa yesterday, all roads being in good shape for auto traffic.

Dallas Gets Meet
Dallas will be host to the missionary society next year. The association voted yesterday to hold the annual session in the East Dallas Baptist church.

A report was made last night by Dr. L. S. Ballard, of Richardson, corresponding secretary of the state association.

Two reports will hold the attention of delegates during a greater part of today's session. These will be from the Jacksonville Baptist college trustees and trustees of the Texas Baptists orphanage.

By speeding through all pending business, the convention hopes to be in shape for adjournment by Friday afternoon. A night session will be held, however, if the earlier adjournment proves impractical.

MILLIONAIRE MOTHER WINS OVER DAD IN FIGHT FOR SONS

By NEA Service.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 14.—It's a long way from a lonely farmhouse in the Tennessee hills to the Gold Coast mansion of a Chicago multimillionaire, but Troy and Norman Weems, whose combined ages total only 14, are about to make it in one jump.

Troy and Norman have been the subjects of a bitter battle between two angry women, a father who is a soldier in the regular army and a stepfather who is a millionaire. But the two youngsters—you call them a pair of Cinderellas if they weren't freckle-faced little boys—want to be ready to exchange comparative poverty for riches.

Their father is Troy Weems Sr., a sergeant in the regular army at Fort Benning, Ga. Their mother divorced from Sergeant Weems several years ago, is now Mrs. Franklin S. Harding, wife of the wealthy Chicago furniture manufacturer.

Married Soldier

Just After War
The father and mother were married in Nashville just after the war. A few years later they separated, and the two children went to live with Weems' parents. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weems, on their farm near Strawberry Plains, 10 miles from here. A divorce followed.

Then, a couple of years ago, the boys' mother met Harding. The elderly millionaire fell in love with her and they were married. She promptly found herself mistress of a palatial Chicago home and extensive funds. But there was one thing her happiness lacked—she wanted her children.

The grandparents on the little Tennessee farm would not give them up, however. Harding, about that time, was sued for breach of promise by Anne Livingston of Tulsa, Okla., and a jury awarded her $25,000 damages. The grandparents declared Harding was not a proper person to have the care of the boys, and refused to part with them.

Court Awards

Boys To Mother
Mrs. Harding went to court, and the other day was given an order putting the children in her care. When she went to the farm to get them, there were spirited words, however, and before she left with the children Mrs. Harding's hair had been thoroughly pulled and her face had been slapped by her former mother-in-law. Nevertheless, she got her children and took them to her hotel.

A habeas corpus action for the recovery of the boys was filed by the grandparents, but Mrs. Harding was confident of defeating this and prepared to go back to Chicago with her sons.

She quickly exchanged their farm overalls for expensive clothing, and prepared for them to enjoy the luxury that their new home will offer them. Mrs. Harding says her wealthy husband has revised his will so that the boys will be assured of a good education if he dies before they are grown.

Harding has thrown his full support behind his young wife's move to get her children and has even made trips to Tennessee.

Above are Troy and Norman Weems with their mother, Mrs. Harding, dressed in the new clothes she bought for them immediately after she had obtained the boys by court order. Below they are pictured with Mrs. Joe Weems, their grandmother, as they appeared at the latter's farm home.

MELLON ANNOUNCES PLANS TO REDUCE INCOME TAX; ASKS CONGRESS TO AID

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Secretary Mellon announced last night that, with the approval of President Hoover, he would recommend to Congress a reduction of approximately $160,000,000 in the income taxes to be collected next year.

The probable program calls for a one per cent reduction of the normal tax on individual and corporate incomes, applicable to the 1929 earnings.

"That is to say," said the Treasury head's formal statement, "on the first $4,000 of taxable income the rate will be reduced from one and one-half per cent to one-half of one per cent; on the second $4,000 from three per cent to two per cent; and one the balance, the present five per cent rate will be reduced to four per cent."

Resolution Hoped For
Mellon said it was hoped the reduction "would take the form of a joint resolution of Congress, thus permitting prompt action by both Houses by avoiding a general revision of the revenue law."

He revealed the proposal had been discussed with republican and democratic leaders in both the Senate and the House and said they had "tentatively approved the proposed recommendation."

UNDERPASS IS STARTED ON H

FOUR OR FIVE MONTHS WILL SEE JOB DONE, IS BELIEF

With construction work already started, promise is given that the new $212,467 underpass on Avenue H, north Lubbock, will be completed within the next four or five months, providing favorable weather prevails.

Detour signs have been posted by the city and crossings must be made at the Broadway underpass, or Avenue M through "Little Juarez," or on College avenue.

Contract to City Firm
Contract for construction of the subway was let October 7 to the Panhandle Construction company of this city.

The new underpass will be 971 feet long, as compared with the Broadway structure of 1,040 feet.

Storm sewer in the subway will be 21 inches in diameter to care for possible drainage into it. It will run from the subway to the canyon north of the city.

Young, second vice commander; Earl Merrill, third vice commander; Paul Hardwick, post adjutant; Glenn Hess, finance officer; Dr. E. F. George, historian; Vaughn Wilson, chaplain; O. B. Conley, sergeant-at-arms; Benjamin Kucera, service officer; Lt. H. E. Killin, Americanization officer; Voyt Williams, mess sergeant.

DENIES ROBBERY CHARGE

HOUSTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—R. H. Harper, 28, barber, took the witness stand in Criminal District court yesterday and denied any knowledge of the $150 payroll robbery of E. H. Henschke, assistant treasurer of the Houston Packing company, on a street car here October 11. Harper's denial followed testimony of Leo Minson and Jimmy Merriman, indicted jointly with him for robbery by assault in the holdup, that the trio planned the robbery the day before and that Harper carried them to the point where they caught the street car and furnished a pistol to Merriman.

ORIENT SUIT IS RECALLED

STOCKHOLDERS AGAIN TURN ON ACTIONS OF KEMPER

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—James C. Ayer of New York and other former holders of more than $1,000,000 in collateral gold notes of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad company have started suit in Federal court against William I. Kemper of Kansas City, for some years receiver of the Orient, prior to its sale to the Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe railroad last year.

Technically, the case is an application by the noteholders for leave to propound additional questions to Mr. Kemper and to elicit facts regarding his operations. Prior to the present action, 166 interrogatories were answered, while this suit asks for more.

Investors Discouraged
The complaint alleges that for some time previous to 1924 the affairs of the Orient were at low ebb, and the gold notes, secured by a first lien of the entire system, were greatly depreciated. It is alleged that the noteholders, discouraged by the possibility of loss of the entire investment.

In 1924, it was pointed out, conditions began to mend and that prior heavy operating expenses were succeeded by earnings, which gradually increased. This improvement was well known to the receiver, it was alleged, but he bought from the investors large amounts of notes exceeding one million dollars at prices ranging from ten to twenty-five cents on the dollar without appraising them of the improved conditions.

Sold to Santa Fe
It is charged that the receiver, acting in his individual capacity, sold all the notes purchased by him, or stock acquired in exchange for them to the Santa Fe at a price netting him a profit of $1,750 on each $1,000 note.

Mr. Ayer charges that, relying on Kemper's representations, he sold his $24,000 notes, originally purchased at par, for only $3,000 and that Kemper, within a year, sold them for the stock rights based on them at a net profit of $45,000.

WRANGLING OVER HIGHWAY 53 MARKS HEARING TODAY BEFORE COURT HERE

that a county-wide election be called to vote bonds for paving Highways 7, 9 and 53 through the county. A meeting of the Lubbock County Good Roads association general committee was called by its chairman, Charles F. O'Neill, for 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Want West Road

Whether or not a compromise can be reached between the Slaton and Lubbock representatives can not be known. Indications are, however, that the Lubbock committee will stick to their original desire for an election in road District Number two, which will include the Levelland road west of Lubbock, designated as State Highway Number 124. It is their contention that this highway is about as important as any and that because of potential oil field development in Cochran county it will become the most important within the next year or so.

That he would not vote for any bond issue until the location of 53 is settled, was the declaration of J. H. Goodpasture, Carlisle community resident. As to attitude of other residents of his section he could not say. He admitted, upon cross examination by W. D. Benson, that he would vote against any bond issue unless he was personally satisfied as to the location of the route on 53.

Against State Action

C. H. Quinby's testimony was to the effect that the location of all highways should be settled, through-out their entire course across the county.

county, before bonds are voted to pave them. He objected to the methods the State Highway Department is purported to have used in changing the designation of 53's route.

Charges were made that the Highway commission went back on its agreement pertaining to 53 and Commissioner W. L. Brashear of Idalou, and a number of those attending the hearing wrangled back and forth upon this question.

Judge Robert H. Bean stated, "the sooner we vote these bonds the better we know where these roads will be definitely located. It is the law and if we wait it means we will have to wait until the law is changed."

Benson Asks Questions

W. D. Benson asked if those bringing the injunction suit against the Highway commission on the change of 53 from Avenue H to Broadway, would vote for this election, should it be decided by the courts to route the road out Broadway, provided the Broadway proponents would vote favorably, regardless of whether or not the routing selected was out Avenue H. He said to Abernathy:

"You and your crowd tied the last election to the Avenue H route and would not leave it up to the Highway department."

Several popped questions to Abernathy and he answered that he was not on the stand, but that he would answer any and all questions when he did get on the stand.

Goodrich Interrogates

J. H. Goodrich, of Lubbock, propounded numerous questions to witnesses on the 53 squabble, but only twice did Commissioner J. T. Pinkston, of Slaton, ask regarding whether or not witnesses considered Slaton voters responsible for defeat of the past two elections.

J. H. Hankins interrupted the wrangling, with: "We're not building roads, gentlemen, by all this talk. We are not here to try and settle the 53 question. Let us all be fair-minded and hold this election. Let's quit swapping words." He was cheered.

Judge Nordyke, the last of this morning's witnesses, reviewed actions pertaining to the 53 routing, both here and at Austin before the Highway commission. His belief was expressed that the election should not be called until the 53 question is settled. Of the three petition before the court he seemed to favor the district plan, however. When quizzed by Brewer, of Slaton, about the attitude of voters in that city, he said:

"I believe that if 7 and 9 are built, Slaton would not vote for any more bonds. I doubt if you could get even as many as 14 votes for any more paving, later on."

Nordyke's answer to the routing of 53 through Idalou brought the declaration from him that he did not believe the naming of that town on the petition or election notice would be sufficient to keep the Highway department from changing the road and missing Idalou, if it saw fit.

O'Neill and others explained that the bond money could not be paid out by the county commissioners for any road that would not go through Idalou. Nordyke differed.

Favorable Report Given Heflin Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—A resolution by Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, to investigate speculative activities on the New York, Chicago, and New Orleans Cotton exchanges was ordered favorably reported to the Senate today by its audit committee.

Heflin had asked that the inquiry include the possible effect on cotton prices of trading on the New York Stock exchange, but the committee decided to confine it to cotton exchanges.

Chairman Densen said he would ask the Senate to take immediate action.

Youth Is Held As Officer's Slayer

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 14. (AP)—Police today announced they had identified the slayer of Roy Fordyce, Spokane police detective shot to death in a hotel here yesterday, as Robert M. Landis, 16, of Minneapolis. Landis admitted he had served a term in a reformatory and was wanted as a parole violator.

The youth shot and killed Detective Fordyce while being searched for concealed weapons. He himself was shot through the right arm by Detective George Bradley, Fordyce's companion.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. TIME TURNS BACK, TOMBSTONE CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Nov. 14—The picturesque west of the old frontier days has come to life once more, pushing back the mists of 50 dead years to bring to the Tombstone of 1929 the glory, the lawless excitement and the general, all-around, roaring hell-raising of the days that used to be.

Tombstone, fallen on quieter days since the decadence of the mines, was itself once more, if only for a week. For seven days Tombstone celebrated; and if the celebration didn't leave the headaches and the gunshot wounds that the old-time celebrations used to leave, it stirred Tombstone to make its last fight for the final remnant of its old-time prestige.

Now that the shooting and the whoopee have died away—and this, by the way, is the country where the word "whoopie" was invented—Tombstone is fighting to retain its last distinction, aside from its famous, picturesque name—the right to hold the county seat of Cochise county.

Old-Timers Return
The old-timers came back to Tombstone in droves for the celebration. They called it "Hellorado week," and they made it as much like the old days as they could, with hundreds of awed tourists looking on. The bars were all open. The old honky-tonks were fixed up again, and the dance halls, with short-skirted charmers, went day and night. No automobiles were allowed in the town. People who wanted to ride had to go horseback, mount swaying buckboards or climb into musty stage coaches that had not been used since McKinley was president.

It was a great time while it lasted. The long main street, gaudy behind false fronts and ancient signboards that made it look just as it used to look in the days when Tombstone was a magic word, had the acrid smell of gunpowder from morning to night, as revolvers kept going off in the hands of jubilant citizens.

They re-enacted the famous old feud between the Earps and the Clantons, in which three men were shot to death and two more were wounded. Back in 1881 they put on a replica of the famous Modoc stage coach holdup they had a parade of old-time stage coaches and wagons; they had three performances daily in the old "Bird Cage," which once was the bright and shining haven for dusty, dry-throated prospectors from all of Arizona.

So Tombstone came into its own once more, if only for a week. Now the gunpowder has gone drifting away, leaving the Arizona air clear and unclouded once more; and Tombstone, having glanced back into the past, is bucking down to work once more. Riches, glory, thrills, fame—these are gone; but Tombstone—what's left of it—does want to keep that Cochise county seat.

Stomach Disorders First Revealed by Coated Tongue

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90% of all sickness starts with stomach and bowel trouble.

A coated tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders which lead to so many kinds of serious illness. It tells why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

Coating on the tongue is a sign that you need Tanlac—the medicine which has helped thousands who were physical wrecks from stomach and bowel troubles—who had "tried everything" in vain and about given up hope.

BIG PLANE, FOR TRANS-OCEANIC HOPS, PLANNED BY GERMANS, AMERICANS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 14 (AP)—New York to London in six hours in an airplane accommodating 500 passengers and a crew of 101 is a possibility of the near future, according to Harry R. Westcott, president of an engineering firm here, who said yesterday his firm has been asked to bid on structural work for the plane.

The gigantic aircraft, Westcott said, would have twelve 1,000 cost of $5,000,000 each. His firm will submit bids within 30 days.

The gigantic aircraft, Westcott said, would have twelve 1,000 horsepower motors, and would be designed to overcome wind resistance at an extremely high altitude.

Beyond the fact that German engineers are advising an American concern on motive power, Westcott would divulge no further information. He said he had seen drawings for the plane, and that plans call for construction of two of them.

METHODISTS HALT LAYMAN'S EFFORT TO LEARN CHURCH'S POLITICAL COST

ATLANTA, Nov. 14—The North Georgia conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, yesterday, disposed with little debate the question of church participation in politics laid by Judge Clement Sutton, a layman, and Dr. Rembert G. Smith, a minister, both of Washington, Ga.

Judge Sutton gained the floor and attempted to read a memorial, but the conference overwhelmingly voted to table the question when Bishop W. B. Beauchamp, presiding, ruled him out of order in that portion of the paper dealing with the rights of a steward and a member of the conference to obtain information concerning alleged expenditures by the Board of Temperance and Social Service during the 1928 Presidential campaign.

Alderson, W. Va. In addition she was fined $5,000. Both penalties were the result of her recent conviction of aiding in falsification of the income tax return of Dorothy Mackall, screen actress.

The fact he believed was one of the greatest barriers preventing mutual understanding between the Mexican people and those of the United States.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Of all known drugs creomulsion is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to crocodile, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the crocodile goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble, and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu.
