

Nixon Gets Public Endorsement By Ike

New Voting Referee Plan Slated In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — House civil rights quarters drafted today what they called a strengthened version of the administration's voting referee plan.

It would, they said, provide for Negroes or other minority citizens to cast their ballots even though their rights to vote was under challenge. The bill would be introduced and passed on later.

Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York, Democratic floor leader for the civil rights forces, said the proposal had been accepted by Republican members, administration spokesmen and Democrats who Tuesday pushed a broad new voting rights plan.

The injection of the new plan Tuesday sent the House into a parliamentary spin and at one point temporarily knocked from the pending bill virtually all voting enforcement. However, the referee proposal was quickly restored as the pending business.

Today's new idea was an effort to get all civil rights backers behind one plan.

A House decision on the issue was in prospect before nightfall. In another development in the rights battle, President Eisenhower reaffirmed at a news conference his support for the administration's seven-point program. Eisenhower said he hoped the Senate would put in any parts of his program that might be left out of the House bill.

Eisenhower, in his news conference remarks about civil rights legislation, also got in an admonition against violence in racial matters.

He said violence didn't achieve anything. He also said he believes there are certain proper and constitutional demonstrations that can be made by minorities to show their desire for equality.

The Eisenhower administration plan for court-appointed referees to help Negroes or other minority citizens exercise their voting rights was temporarily jettisoned Tuesday.

A liberal Democratic move for a broader proposal picked up surprising strength. It would have substituted for the referees a system using, essentially, officers appointed by the President.

Southern opponents of any new civil rights legislation swung into action, seeing a chance to split apart Democratic and Republican supporters of tighter voting laws.

The Southerners threw their weight first one way, then another.

Dust Drifts From State; Freeze Hits

By The Associated Press

Fog reduced visibility to zero in the Brownsville area Wednesday morning but the dust that filled the skies over Texas Tuesday drifted out of the state.

The dust blew in from West Texas Tuesday and passed through North Central and Northeast Texas. By early Wednesday the dust had drifted eastward out of the state or had settled.

Fog formed around Alice Wednesday and extended southward into Brownsville.

High clouds covered the Texas Panhandle and extended southward into the Midland area. The rest of the state had clear to partly cloudy skies.

Temperatures early Wednesday ranged from a freezing 24 degrees at Lubbock to 58 at Laredo. Amarillo had 29, Dalhart 25, Childress 29, Wichita Falls 27 and Mineral Wells 31, to list the points with freezing temperatures.

Amarillo had blowing dust mixed with snow Tuesday and Lubbock had winds clocked at more than 60 miles per hour. Visibility was cut to 1 1/2 miles at Lubbock by the dust which cut visibility to a half mile at Childress.

The high temperature Tuesday ranged from 45 degrees at Dalhart to 86 at Laredo.

There was little moisture during the day. Longview received .10 inches. Beaumont 1.02, Corpus Christi and Fort Worth .02 and Waco and Wichita Falls .01. Traces fell at a half dozen points.

The five-day forecast issued Wednesday calls for temperatures 5 to 10 degrees below normal in Eastern and Central Texas with precipitation moderate to heavy in showers about Thursday and Friday.

Temperatures are expected to be 4 to 8 degrees below normal in Western Texas with precipitation very light in a few showers.

There was a light rain Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Reds Propose Armed Forces Cut In Russia, China, U. S.

By TOM OCHILTREE

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union today proposed that the United States, the U.S.S.R. and Red China cut their armed forces to 1,700,000 men each within 10 months.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin made the proposal to the 10-nation disarmament conference at a closed session during which the five Western allies formally submitted their three-stage plan to halt the arms race. The Western plan was made public Tuesday and got a chilly reception from the Soviets.

The Soviet plan—which has not been formally put before the conference—is based on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal to the U. N. General Assembly last September that all nations disarm completely within a four-year period.

Zorin said the Soviet plan also calls for disarmament in three stages. Paralleling the troop cuts for the three biggest powers, he proposed that Britain and France reduce their armed forces to 650,000 men each.

The United States now has about 2 1/2 million men in uniform. The U.S.S.R. says it has 3,623,000, but Khrushchev has announced 1,200,000 will be demobilized within the next year or so.

China cut its armed forces to 1,700,000 men in its army and an air force large enough to man 2,000 jets.

The Western plan calls for the United States and Soviet Union to hold their forces to 2 1/2 million men each in the first stage, and to cut them to 2,100,000 in the second stage, with corresponding reduction in other countries. The plan sets no timetable for the stages.

Zorin told a news conference after the session that the disarmament would be supervised by an international control organization.

and an inspection system. In previous disarmament negotiations, however, Soviet and Western ideas of an adequate control system have been far apart.

In the second stage of the Soviet plan, said Zorin, all armed forces would be disbanded and all foreign bases would be liquidated. This could be completed within two years, he said.

In the third stage all types of nuclear weapons would be destroyed.

The Soviet delegate said his government would insist that all nuclear weapon tests be banned "even before an agreement on disarmament is implemented."

The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union have been negotiating in Geneva for 16 months for a ban on nuclear tests. The United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada.

Zorin threw cold water on the Western proposal at Tuesday's opening meeting, calling it unrealistic and impractical.

Zorin labeled the Western plan an obstacle rather than an aid to disarmament. But British and American sources made clear they would insist on full discussion of their plan.

Japanese Airliner, Sabre Jet Collide

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese airliner carrying 28 passengers and a Japanese air force Sabre jet collided tonight on the runway at Komaki air base, in central Japan. Three passengers were reported dead and 19 injured. Five of the injured were reported in serious condition.

A spokesman for All Nippon Airways in Tokyo said a DC-8 of the line landed on the runway after a flight from Tokyo and was turned to go to the unloading area when the Sabre jet crashed into its tail.

Adenauer, Ike In Agreement On German Policy Procedure

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer were reported in basic agreement today on the major policy lines which the West should follow in negotiating German issues with the Soviet Union.

The negotiations are being prepared as part of the Big Four summit meeting in Paris next May.

Eisenhower scheduled a morning news conference at which he was certain to be questioned about his 1 1/2-hour meeting with Adenauer Tuesday.

The chancellor was guest of honor at a National Press Club luncheon where he was due to speak and respond to questions.

Prior to the Press Club session Adenauer arranged to meet with labor leaders and with Dean Acheson, secretary of state under former President Truman.

Adenauer's foreign minister, Heinrich von Brandt, said following the "discussion" at the White House and State Department: "I am leaving the State Department convinced there are no differences between Bonn and Washington as regards all decisive questions."

Adenauer, on his way to Tokyo.

The 84-year-old chancellor is known to feel that the U.S. position regarding Germany is being weakened by the position of the Western powers in West Berlin.

Still Backs Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower publicly endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon today as his choice for the Republican presidential nomination.

Eisenhower made plain at a news conference that he supports Nixon, who at this point has no opposition for the nomination.

The President was asked about published reports that at a dinner Saturday night he indirectly tapped the vice president as his choice to succeed him in the White House.

The reporter was alluding to the annual dinner of the Gridiron Club, an organization of newsmen. Eisenhower spoke there but the club rules specify that "reports are never present."

Nevertheless, some news writers who did not attend the dinner got word that Eisenhower had in effect endorsed Nixon. They wrote dispatches saying so.

When the matter of these published reports was brought up today, Eisenhower chuckled and said that at the dinner he actually had been referring to geographical areas at the dinner table.

His suggestion was that he had not actually endorsed Nixon there. But when he went on to say that if anyone is wondering whether he has any preference or bias as to a choice for the GOP presidential nomination, the answer very definitely is yes.

"A little later he made it crystal clear that his preference is Nixon."

That happened when a reporter asked whether he had Nixon in mind in talking about whether he had any bias in the matter.

In reply the President fired a question of his own. It was: "Was there any doubt in your mind?"

Eisenhower's reference to geographical areas at the dinner table related to the stories drawing the inference he had endorsed Nixon at the Gridiron dinner. The stories said he had suggested that those at the head table move a couple of places — which would have put Nixon in Eisenhower's seat.

At his first news conference in a month, Eisenhower also dealt with these other topics.

SEGREGATION — Commenting on Negroes demonstrating against segregation practices in the South, Eisenhower said he deplored the use of any violence intended to prevent Negroes from exercising their constitutional rights.

Last Hopes Gone For Lost Miners

By ROBERT E. MILLER

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — Until today the first body searchers held some hope that the 18 men trapped in a hidden coal mine 22 miles off might still be alive.

By early today the bodies of 13 had been hauled out of the gas-filled passageways and the last vest of hope for the others was gone.

But the search went on.

Somewhere in the dark honeycomb of tunnels were the other members of the digging party imprisoned March 8 by a cave-in and fire nearly three miles from the mine opening.

Two in the original group of 20 scrambled to safety moments after discovery of the fire, apparently touched off when falling slate snapped an electric trolley wire.

He and nearly 200 others labored and groped in the rubble strewn tunnels in the hope that the men had chosen to wait it out in one of the three refuge areas.

The rescuers had battled the mud and smoke, sloshed through knee-deep water and struggled with a makeshift ventilating system around the clock.

The first body was found sprawled alone. Twelve others were in two nearby boxes.

State and company officials withheld the names of those first found dead until all 18 of the men could be accounted for. Among the 18 was W. K. Donaldson, 55, a company safety inspector.

He scheduled a committee meeting for Thursday night to decide the next steps against segregation.

But local religious leaders, representing nearly every faith, announced Tuesday night that businessmen and military forces met had agreed "to serve all customers with their regular courtesy."

A joint statement of the religious leaders said it was hoped "that within a month many other business firms would join in this program of integration."

Burns said, "It's a great gesture of the religious leaders and it is an example of practical Christianity. I am very grateful, and I feel that all San Antonio Negroes are happy at the development."

Permission For Marriage Granted

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II formally gave her permission today to the marriage of her sister, Princess Margaret, to Anthony Armstrong-Jones, The Queen's approval of the May 6 marriage is a formality under the provisions of the Royal Marriages Act, a statute binding persons in immediate succession to the throne.

At least 7 and perhaps up to 11 persons were reported to be in the line in election victory. All but one died in a seven-hour battle between police, Democrats and students at Masan, 250 miles south of Seoul.

Rhee's Forces In Decisive Victory

By GENE KRAMER

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Syngman Rhee's forces won the presidency and vice presidency of South Korea today in a landslide after a bloody election the opposition charged was rigged. The anti-Rhee Democratic party promised a court contest.

Post-election violence flared anew as demonstrators, disgruntled with the outcome of the voting, scuffled today with police in front of the Democrats' Seoul headquarters.

San Antonio Lunch Counter Integrated

Represented at the meeting were Catholic, Baptist and Methodist groups, including a representative of Archbishop Robert B. Lucy of the predominantly Catholic religion in this city of more than 1 million persons.

Meanwhile, at Austin, University of Texas President Louis Wilson and Negro students who met with him Tuesday had little comment on the hour discussions.

San Antonio Lunch Counter Integrated

San Antonio (AP) — The first lunch counter in downtown San Antonio was integrated without incident today.

The S. H. Kress Co. opened its lunch counter on an integrated basis this morning and within a few minutes, about 20 whites and four Negroes were served. There was no disturbance. The Negroes sat at one end of the lunch space and the whites at the other.

San Antonio Lunch Counter Integrated

San Antonio (AP) — The first lunch counter in downtown San Antonio was integrated without incident today.

The S. H. Kress Co. opened its lunch counter on an integrated basis this morning and within a few minutes, about 20 whites and four Negroes were served. There was no disturbance. The Negroes sat at one end of the lunch space and the whites at the other.

A number of lunch counter operators met with religious leaders of the city Tuesday and decided on the integration policy. A quiet, joint meeting of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People called the action "a practical approach to Christianity."

The youth director of the local National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, Harry Y. Burns, last Sunday delivered an ultimatum to San Antonio retailers that demonstrations would start unless their lunch counters were integrated.

He scheduled a committee meeting for Thursday night to decide the next steps against segregation.

But local religious leaders, representing nearly every faith, announced Tuesday night that businessmen and military forces met had agreed "to serve all customers with their regular courtesy."

A joint statement of the religious leaders said it was hoped "that within a month many other business firms would join in this program of integration."

Burns said, "It's a great gesture of the religious leaders and it is an example of practical Christianity. I am very grateful, and I feel that all San Antonio Negroes are happy at the development."

Represented at the meeting were Catholic, Baptist and Methodist groups, including a representative of Archbishop Robert B. Lucy of the predominantly Catholic religion in this city of more than 1 million persons.

Meanwhile, at Austin, University of Texas President Louis Wilson and Negro students who met with him Tuesday had little comment on the hour discussions.

Wilson said, "I thought we had a very sensible discussion."

A Negro coed from Beaumont, Doris Price, said a group of 45 white and Negro students drafted a resolution after conferring with Wilson which expressed the view that "the meeting was unsatisfactory to the group."

About 40 students at the 18,500-student University of Texas at Austin staged a demonstration in protest at alleged inadequate housing for Negro students and a university policy that allows no Negroes on athletic teams or on stage dramatic groups.

In another development, Dallas School Board President Edwin Rippy said anticipated circulation of petitions calling for a school integration vote had been delayed.

Rippy said the board probably would defer a decision on whether to seek a vote on integration until it knows when the Dallas school case comes up again in federal court.

U. S. Dist. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson said Tuesday a decision on the new Dallas public school integration hearing probably would come later in the week.

He said he would confer with Dallas school board counsel and Negro lawyers in a hearing date.

Negroes staged two more sit-down protests against integrated lunch counters in Galveston, but there was no report of further demonstrations in Houston.

Most of the Galveston demonstrators appeared to be of high school age and some wore Negro high school jackets. The lunch counters were closed while they were in the stores.

Houston's Mayor Lewis Cutler warned Tuesday that persons taking part in lunch counter sit-downs may be arrested if the demonstrations continue.

The mayor said the protest demonstrations are in violation of unlawful assembly statutes of Texas.

Cutler said the owner of a store has the legal right to determine customers he will serve.

...Sit-down demonstrations have been held at six lunch counters and only one has reopened.

Don't Just See Black -- Use It!

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

When in doubt about home decor colors, try black.

If you don't, you're in the minority, says Michael Cree, president of the National Society of Interior Designers.

"It may be hard to believe, but black is America's favorite color in the home," he explains. "Almost any home has a touch of black in its rooms. And it is a color the amateur decorator shouldn't overlook because it is as useful and practical in the home as the little black dress is in the closet."

Try to persuade a woman to put black into a sofa, and she may retel, he points out. It may seem like an awful lot of black in the room. Yet people are not really afraid to use black on a large area such as a floor, in other accessories or in furniture woods such as black lacquer. They use black marble and black plastic table tops without hesitation.

"Black is a more universal color than white, either as an accent or a primary part of the color scheme. It can be used so beautifully that it should be incorporated with other room colors to achieve a different look. Try black, lettuce green and azure blue for a beautiful combination. Red, black and white can be striking. Lacquer, red, pale yellow and black can be stunning."

There is a trend toward sophistication in furnishings, he says, and one of his forecasts is that we shall see more steel furniture this year.

"Copies of antique steel furniture, such as pieces made for Napoleon's army is one of the new trends."

Greer has collected some of the original pieces.

"One of my prizes is a desk chair of steel that folds up and fits into a case like an umbrella. It was originally a camping chair made for a general in Napoleon's army," he says.

Designers are combining the new trend to handsome homes. The consumer is educated to better things and expects more of us these days. The press has educated them to new fashions in home furnishings, and they want to keep abreast of the times. But the homemaker should ask her decorator or designer for written contracts to prevent headaches later," he says.

Mrs. W. McLaughlin Hostess To Palette Club

The Palette Club met Thursday afternoon at the Martha Ann Woman's Club, with Mrs. W. A. McLaughlin as hostess.

The program consisted of an interesting watercolor demonstration by Mrs. Verba Logan. She had on display some watercolor work owned by Mrs. R. E. Patterson and done by her sister, Mrs. Myra Acosta of Las Vegas, Nev.

The club voted in favor of sponsoring an exhibit of some of Emily Guthrie Smith's work. Mrs. Smith is a well known Texas artist, and at present is an art instructor at the Fort Worth Museum. The exhibit will hang for two weeks the later part of April.

New Baptist Circle Holds Installation

Installation services for the new Training Circle of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church were held in the home of Mrs. Derald Lambert, 3727 Avenue U, Tuesday, at 9:30 a.m.

Thome of the service was "What's In A Name" with Mrs. Homer Godair, president of the WMS, acting as the installing officer. The purpose of the service was to impress those taking responsibilities with the importance of the work they are to do.

Mrs. Lambert, chairman, was installed "Mrs. I. M. Tactful" stressing the use of tact in dealing with her members.

Mrs. Joe Adams, co-chairman, accepted the new name, "Mrs. Phil Inn". Her duty being as the name implies. Mrs. Wayne Glass, henceforth "Mrs. Will Record" was cautioned to make accurate records as secretary. Mrs. Wayne Bethel as program chairman, took the name of "Mrs. Constance Seymour". Bible study chairman, Mrs. Ray Courtney was given the name "Mrs. E. A. Light", and Mrs. Bob Pollard taking the name "Mrs. Avery Land" as mission study chairman set her goal to inform the circle of the missionary needs of the world.

"Mrs. Bea Quick", nee Mrs. Gary Hill was installed community missions chairman. Mrs. John Nichols as social chairman drew the name "Mrs. Minnie Fellowship". She was reminded to plan socials that would honor God. The prayer of dedication was taken from Numbers 6:24-26.

This circle will meet each Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Joe Adams, 3742 Highland Drive.

DKG Chapter Meets With Mrs. P. Sweatt

On Saturday, March 12, at 2:30 p.m. the Delta Kappa Gamma chapter of the Epilota Gamma met in the home of Mrs. Paul Sweatt at 811 with 17 members present.

The program "Appraisal of the Teacher Training Program" was under the direction of Mrs. Verle Lattimer of Lamesa. "How Effectively are Training Programs Preparing Teachers?" was presented by Mrs. Mable Kinder of Welch.

Due to the illness of Mr. J. C. Coates, Paul Sweatt discussed "What Type of In-Service Program Have Proved Most Beneficial?" Marcus Sweat rendered "Little Brown Jug" and "Twelfth Street Rag" on the accordion.

Sandwiches, pineapple cake, nuts, lime punch and coffee were served to the following:

Mrs. Don Hackney, Vivian Hatch, Aline Cox, Marion Kelly, Jimmie Hanson, Ruby Standafer, Anna Kittler, Jewel Fleming, Alma Wiggins, Verle Lattimer, an Miss Mary Lassiter and Lorene Brumley all of Lamesa. Mesdames Vada Mitchell, Mable Kinder, and Sara Jo Covey of Welch.

The next meeting will be a salad supper held in the home of Jimmie Hanson of Lamesa on April 9.

GOT A LARD CAN?

Nothing provides a better storage place for sweaters during the summer months than a large size tin lard can. Enamel the outside to match the color scheme of room in which it will be placed and paste a miniature sweater on the center of the front, one that has been cut from felt. Be sure that sweaters are absolutely clean and moth proofed than fold them neatly in the can. Place the lid on tightly and place the can in bedroom closet or basement.

Travel Without Clothes To Make Room For Souvenirs

BY INEZ ROBB

Travel agencies and allied industries are busy predicting that for Americans and their distant kin, 1960 will be the biggest tourist year in history.

It could be by far the most interesting, too, if a sensible suggestion in a recent travel section of The New York Times catches on among travelers going abroad.

Anyone who has ever flown an ocean knows the agonizing reappraisal of raiment that constitutes packing and repacking and weighing and reweighing to keep the luggage weight within authorized limits. And then the subtle satisfaction of concealing knickknacks and odds and ends on the body itself. Anyone who can't secrete an extra twenty pounds on his person isn't even trying. Why, an adequate assortment of costume jewelry alone can weigh that much.

But the Times goes to the heart of the problem with a dandy suggestion. The whole meat of the matter is contained in the headline, which I quote:

"Making Room For More Souvenirs

One Way to Avoid Excess Baggage

In Europe Is to Send Clothes Home"

The solution of this problem is so simple it is not surprising that it took years to define. There can be no doubt that this is one of the most practical suggestions ever made to the American traveler, whose pack-rat instinct is challenged the moment he steps on foreign shores.

What American among us has not tried to aid a fellow citizen, at the end of a European tour, to stomp and squeeze his souvenirs into his bursting baggage, slide into several layers of clothing, pockets bulging with treasures, and finally houndwork the airport scales and personnel?

Certainly, one solution is to send clothes home. But I believe that the Times has not gone far enough. The real answer is not to take clothes in the first place. A tourist who perfected the bikini would surely not balk at such a practical plan as to enable the American tourist to buy still more souvenirs.

And there is no real problem about pockets: a tourist can always carry his credit cards in his hat.

Furthermore, the rejection of clothes on the part of the American tourist could eliminate one more area of misunderstanding on the international scene. If you read anything, even the funnies, you know that no other facet of the American tourist is so irritating to others, even his fellow countrymen, as his clothes.

The plumage of the American male is always too bright. His neckties cause universal pain or, if he doesn't wear 'em, ties, that is, his tail-free Hawaiian sport shirts generate horror. His shorts are too long; his slacks are too short. Even when he shaves, he is apt to be dismissed as a beak.

As for the American female tourist! Words fail nobody. She offends all sensibilities with her flowered hats, her print dresses, her white Oxford, her huge handbag and her bobby socks. She is scornfully dismissed as a "frump" -- even if she wears a little black dress, a little black pump, a little black beanie, little white gloves and carries a little white bag. She can't win. If she only realized it, she would be better off without clothes, even as the Times suggest.

It is my honest conviction that nudism is inevitable within this century, and it is not just because of the bikini and short shorts. It is into his bursting baggage, slide into several layers of clothing, pockets bulging with treasures, and finally houndwork the airport scales and personnel?

Certainly, one solution is to send can accommodate souvenirs, the whole travel world will ring with the glad cry, "Take 'em off!"

Arms Session Has Filibuster Of Own

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Southern fight against a civil rights bill and the 10-nation disarmament talks which opened in Geneva Tuesday have one thing in common: a filibuster.

The disarmament talks are just the latest in a series. Some of the people doing the talking at Geneva are new. But the spirit is the same. The West and the Communist world got into a cat-and-dog fight right at the start.

The West sent the Communists a copy of its disarmament plan Monday, on the eve of the opening, so they could examine it. They did. Valerian Zorin, the Soviet deputy-foreign minister, opened the talks by denouncing the plan. It can hardly be called new. It's a collection of previous Western proposals based on this central idea: that before there can be any real disarmament there must be a fool-proof inspection system to prevent cheating.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev presented the Communist plan last Sept. 18 when he was in this country and addressed the United Nations. He wanted disarmament in four years. The West offered no time limit.

But Khrushchev talked of disarmament first and a control system next. The West wouldn't buy that. It isn't likely to buy it now. The Soviets have looked on the West's proposed inspection system as a kind of spy network.

So this much is predictable.

1. The two sides will haggle, getting nowhere, at least until the end of the summit meeting which opens in Paris May 18.

2. Since there is great skepticism the summit will accomplish anything, the disarmament talks are hardly apt to pick up speed after the summit.

3. Judging from past performance, the two sides may still be talking a year from now.

It's important for both—in the eyes of the rest of the world—to slam or appear to slam a door on disarmament altogether.

So what seems reasonable to expect is a group of grown men haranguing one another days on end, with neither side really budging.

Perhaps the best thing that can be said for the disarmament talks at this point is that at least the West and the Communist world are sitting down together, talking, which seems to be an improvement on previous frozen-faced silence.

Team Finds Marriage Aids Career

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—An elderly woman once told Phil Ford and Mimi Hines, "Love is like old lace—so easily torn, but so hard to repair."

The two young comics, a husband and wife team, in show business, have borne this in mind ever since.

"We try not to hurt each other in the little things," said Phil. "Sometimes it's the small wounds that never heal."

Phil started in San Francisco as a song-and-dance man at the age of 11. Mimi was only 12—just past pigtails—when they began as a singer in a Vancouver supper club.

Eight years ago they met in an Anchorage, Alaska, night club and decided to team up in a comedy act. They were married in 1954.

Life was hurried, hectic, but happy in the next few years as they toured through dozens of small night clubs in the United States and Canada, polishing their act, learning how to deal with every type of audience.

"Looking back, I can't say they were hard times," said Phil. "We kept busy. We weren't nationally known. We were"—he smiled—"a very successful unknown act."

They now earn up to $10,000 a week, and their annual income is about $200,000—or higher.

They still have to live out of a suitcase. But success hasn't so far dented their happiness, as it often does with husband-wife teams. They feel being married is a help rather than a handicap in their mutual career.

"I deem it a very great help," said Mimi positively. "Being in love and having a certain rapport is good for your sense of humor."

"You have to love each other if you do comedy together. Otherwise you're almost sure to break up in time."

The bridge sprawled out in front of me for perhaps half a city block, and a steady traffic of motor vehicles, children, and cars shuffled back and forth over the span, some weaving their ways back to El Paso, while others hacked their way into the jumbled jungle known as Juarez. The footpathway measured a about four feet x 1/2 city block and was enclosed by meshed steel wiring, which served little purpose other than keeping over-excited individuals from taking haphazard swan dives into a powdery Rio Grande. Stith-Led Bonnies Now In Semifinals

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Invitation Tournament takes a 24-hour breather today while the basketball gentry savors the day of little Sam Stith, who has fired streaking St. Bonaventure into the semifinals along with top-seeded Bradley, Utah State and Providence.

Sam's savoring it, too. "Oh, man, it was delicious," he said Tuesday night after scoring a tournament high of 37 points in the Bonnies' 106-71 rout of defending champion St. John's. Sam, a chunky 6-2 bundle of speed, has scored 64 points in St. Bonaventure's two NIT victories so far. Boston And Philly Slate Best 4-Of-7

BOSTON (AP) — Defending champion Boston and Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain and Co. tonight open a best-four-of-seven series for a spot in the finals of the National Basketball Assn. playoffs.

The winner goes against the victor in the Western Division St. Louis-Minneapolis series for the NBA title.

Boston, by virtue of its superior season record, good health and the advantage of a home court to-night, rated as a favorite both for the opening game and the series. The biggest threat is Chamberlain, the 7-foot-1 rookie giant, and the NBA's most valuable player, who pulled the Warriors from an also-ran last season to a top contender this year. On the way to a second-place finish, he established eight new league marks.

After tonight's game, the scene shifts to Philadelphia Friday night; back to Boston Saturday afternoon for a nationally televised struggle, then back to Philadelphia again.

BOWLING SCORES

As the Men's City Bowling League roars into the final and deciding stretch, McAllister Van Lines has virtually clinched a first-place finish by spurring out to a 167-point lead over State Farm Insurance and Mulvihill Trucking, who are tied for the second spot. Those are the teams battling for the honors in the Tuesday Division of play.

McAllister strengthened its already commanding lead by clipping Scott Humble Service Station 40, with Mulvihill bouncing into a second place tie by defeating Town & Country Bowl 3-2. State Farm, last week's undisputed holder of the second slot, was rudely shaken by Beacon Motor Lodge, a team which came up to win 3 points.

Things are nipper and tucker in Thursday's kiegling, though, with Gladson & Ostrick Drilling sporting a 21-point pad over Everett's Studio. Gladson picked up 3 1/2 points in its match against Fina Studios, while Everett's slipped slightly in spitting with Knights of Columbus. Phillips, 46, a close third in the division, muffed their change to move into second as they split their match against the Snyder Police Department.

Snyderman's Headquarters rolled the high series of 2091 for the week, while McAllister turned in the high team game of 1031.

Individual high series was shared by Bob Zetman (Mulvihill) and C. E. Green (Petroleum Dehydrating), both of whom had 576. Jerry Jackson of Sportsman's and Mitch Jackson of M&R Construction followed with 560 and 553 respectively.

Green edged out Zetman in the high game category, 225-222. Close behind were Stan Ostrick (220) and Jackson (219).

Rubberized Track Talked

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California's track men of the future may flash to new records over a rubberized, all-weather running track that could be retrofitted like a tire.

"It has great possibilities," said Frank B. Durkee of the State Division of Architecture, including: Little or no maintenance; a tough, waterproof surface which would remain uniform throughout a year, permitting better evaluation of each athlete's performance; greater acceleration for runners. The state Tuesday called for bids on the track, to be built at Humboldt State College on California's rainy north coast. It's expected to cost about $145,000, and is believed to be first of its kind.

The conventional clay cinder track, gets too mushy in the winter and needs considerable costly maintenance, Durkee said. The new quarter-mile track would be built of a rubberized, resilient asphalt mixture consisting of about equal part of asphalt, rubber and sand.

Spikes don't stick in the self-sealing substance, Durkee said.

De John Aiming For Knockout Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP)—The odds-makers are saying Mike De John will need a knockout to defeat highly ranked heavyweight Zora Foley, the favorite in tonight's 10-round televised bout at the Arena.

De John, who has 27 knockouts to his credit in 48 professional bouts (6-7-1), says he is just the man who can do it. "Just one good shot is all I might need to make those odds look foolish," said De John, a 212-pounder from Syracuse, N. Y.

Foley, from Chandler, Ariz., weighs 200 and is ranked by Ring magazine as the No. 1 contender for Ingemar Johansson's title. He has won 52 of his 56 professional fights, 30 of them by knockouts.

De John is ranked seventh. The fight will be nationally televised (ABC 10 p.m. EST).

Cancelled Contest Set Again Today

High winds forced postponement of yesterday's scheduled baseball game between Snyder's Tigers and the Tom S. Lubbock Westerners, and it has been re-set for this afternoon.

The tilt will get underway at 4:15, and will be reeled off on the Towle Park field. On the hill for Snyder will be veteran right hander Norman Gladson, winner of both Tiger victories to Bonnie Greenfield, 1b; Bobba Fleming, 3b; Jerry Gutierrez, 1b; Ronnie Wiley, c; and Gladson p.

Coach Speedy Moffett's nine will go into the game with a 2-2 record for the young season, having downed Abilene and Big Spring, while losing to Monterey Lubbock twice. Tom S. is 2-1 for the campaign, sporting wins over Big Spring and Midland, with a single loss to Midland marring their otherwise clean slate.

Starting for the Tigers will be Spencer Dyer, ss; Steve Free, 2b; Mike Moffett, c; Franklin Moore, 1b; Bonnie Greenfield, 1b; Bobba Fleming, 3b; Jerry Gutierrez, 1b; Ronnie Wiley, c; and Gladson p.

The Westerners of Coach Earl Parker will have going for them the following: Dick Pinkston, c; Larry Mitchell, 1b; Buzzy Henderson, 2b; Gary Dement, ss; Dennis Hoy, 3b; Mike Webb, Gary Knowles and Jerry Balch, of; and Elmore, p.

IN TV WEDDING OF THE YEAR ABC, NCAA Pledge College Grid Vows

By JIM KENSIL

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's football-playing colleges can look forward to a guaranteed record 6 1/2 million dollars from television revenue in the next two seasons. But perhaps benefitting even more from Tuesday's rich contract between the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. and the American Broadcasting Co. will be the American Football League.

It was the first two-year contract the NCAA ever awarded to a television network, and nearly tripled the previous high of $2,200,000 bid by NBC for the 1959 season. No figures were disclosed by the NCAA or ABC, but the Associated Press learned that the ABC bid outstripped the National Broadcasting Co.'s offer by nearly a million dollars. NBC bid $3,300,000 for the 1960-61 season.

A Columbia Broadcasting System spokesman said CBS did not bid for the college games which will be televised on 13 dates each of the next two seasons. NBC had gained the rights to the college games each year during the last decade, except in 1954. ABC last heavily on the NCAA-controlled program that year and the network had not bothered to bid several times since.

The switch by the colleges leaves the current football TV lineup this way: CBS has the National Football League and ABC the college games. NBC has no thing to offer advertisers for the highly competitive weekend fall TV sports market.

That's where the American Football League comes in. The AFL has been leaning toward ABC in contract negotiations for the assumption that NBC money was in college football and CBS cash in the NFL. Now the AFL suddenly becomes extremely desirable to NBC and if the new pro football league plays its cards right, it may pull off a much fatter deal than was possible previously.

Any network dealing with the AFL will deal directly with the league, rather than with individual teams as had been the NFL method. Under the AFL constitution all teams share equally in TV revenue.

The amount paid by ABC was not surprising in that the 1960-61 NCAA season is the most attractive ever offered.

It gives the network control of both nine national and four regional dates each season. Previously the network has no control over regional games. The regions have also been expanded into only three national segments. Previously they often were broken down into as many as eight, the number of NCAA districts.

ABC now can guarantee a sponsor for football on its Saturday straightaway.

Snyder Girls Nipped By Big Spring, 24-19

BIG SPRING—Snyder's Tigresses fell victim to a late rally on the part of Big Spring here last night in dropping a tight 24-19 non-district contest.

Snyder led throughout the game, having also held a halftime lead of 13-10, but were overtaken and beaten in the last minute and a half of play.

Helen Iverson nailed down the bulk of the Tigresses' scoring power for the evening. She represented the team's high point server with 8, and was also high point girl in the scoring column with 11 to her credit.

Snyder's girls also took it on the chin in a preliminary "B" game, going under before the Big Springers by 48-15.

Pacing the Tigresses in scoring for the contest was Jackie McNabb.

Judge Named To Succeed Neuberger

The races for the court positions were non-partisan. Lusk said he only once ran on the Demo-

"I ran for the Legislature in 1936,"

Some Democrats were nettled by Lusk's appointment, saying Neuberger's widow, Maurine, should have been given the post. But Mrs. Neuberger, who has entered the race to succeed her husband for a six-year term, said the appointment was a sound one, and added: "Judge Lusk is recognized as one of the most scholarly and capable of Oregon's Supreme Court judges."

Negro Paid For Land

Mayor John T. Biernie said the house will be used as a clubroom and the land for a playground. Creve Coeur is a suburb of St. Louis. It has 2,040 residents, including Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.)

Beverly Aadland's Appearance Is Off

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—
Beverly Aadland, the late Errol Flynn's 17-year-old protegee, won't make a scheduled personal appearance in Long Beach.

She was to have appeared at a theater to play a movie produced by Flynn, "Cuban Rebel Girls," in which she had an important part. But the theater cancelled Miss Aadland's appearance "in the interest of her safety" after getting many protests. PTA and church groups said her appearance would set a bad example for other teen-age girls.

Miss Aadland was with Flynn
when he died of a heart attack in Vancouver, B.C. last year.

Elias Riggs, an American missionary, translated the Bible into Bulgarian in 1871.

Quiz Whiz Needs A Job

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Teddy Nadler, the St. Louis clerk who won $254,000 on television quiz shows, is trying to get a $13-a-day job as a census taker.

"I'm broke," said Nadler. "I need money."

To get the job which will last for about two weeks, he must pass a vocabulary and map reading test.

"I understand it's a tough job and a tough test," he said. "I hope I can pass."

Nadler, who has a photographic memory, ground out answers to difficult questions steadily from working his two sets of quiz shows. His answers sounded as if they were pouring out of a recording machine, which is what some persons claim Nadler virtually does.

When his television appearances ended, Nadler couldn't find work. He says he has had "a lot of doctor bills and some bad callers who gave me bad advice."

Some time ago, Nadler, who lives in suburban University City with his wife and three sons, predicted he would be broke in short order unless he got a job quickly.

The Census Bureau office will test Nadler and 75 other applicants Thursday. Officials described the test as simple.

Nadler said he has been "working around the house" since he left show business. He was a $70-a-week government clerk before he became famous on the quiz shows.

"If I pass the test, I'm going to be an ordinary census taker," said Nadler. "I'm just plain old 'Teddy' Nadler now. I'm tired of all this publicity."

5 Victims Of Crash Rescued

ELY, Nev. (AP)—Wind, snow and ice smacked a light airplane onto the slope of a Nevada Mountain, but all five aboard survived and were rescued after more than two days of subzero weather.

A helicopter from Hill Air Force Base in Utah brought the five—members of the same family—from the snowy mountain to the warmth of this community. It was a difficult task.

"We had taken off Sunday in good weather, and as we were flying along, we suddenly were weathered in. I mean, really weathered—we couldn't see much at all," Stoddard told newsmen.

"My windshield was iced and visibility was bad. My wife saw a few trees in front of us as we were moving along on instruments."

"I pulled back on the stick and we cleared the mountain, but the next thing I knew, I was caught in a downdraft."

"I tried to pancake it into the snow."

He did.

The small, twin-engine Piper Apache stayed upright as it sliced into the snow, but the sudden deceleration threw Stoddard against the windshield and knocked out some of his teeth.

"I hurt my back, too. A physician at the Ely Hospital said his backbone suffered a compression fracture near the base of the spine."

His wife Helen, 45, suffered a break in the same region.

The doctor said they appeared to be no damage to the nerve trunk, the spinal cord which runs inside the backbone, in either case.

He described their injuries as serious but not critical.

The other three persons were less seriously hurt.

Randy Cumble, 6, was quite excited about it all. He had a birthday party in the disabled plane stop the mountain Monday.

Present was a sweater, which could not have been more appropriate. Temperatures dropped to 15 below zero.

Randy said he loved the helicopter ride, his first.

Randy's mother, Mrs. Horace Cumble, 28, said "When the plane came down the door was sprung, so I got out and packed snow in all the cracks in an effort to keep the wind from roaring through."

Mrs. Cumble, wife of an Anchorage policeman, is a daughter of the Stoddards.

The five were on their way to help celebrate the 80th birthday of Stoddard's mother, Mrs. L. B. Douglas, in Tucson, Arizona.

The fifth person in the plane was Mrs. Joseph V. Lee, 70, of Heyburn, Idaho. She is Stoddard's aunt.

LOCAL WOMEN'S KIN ON PLANE

Mrs. Horace Cumble, who was one of the passengers on the small plane which crashed landed in Nevada, is the sister-in-law of two Snyderites.

Mrs. R. L. Tuggle, and Mrs. T. E. Shoemaker.

Mrs. Tuggle and Mrs. Shoemaker first learned this morning that their sister-in-law and her young son were safe. They had tried in vain to contact their brother, Horace Cumble, in Alaska. They were elated this morning when they were informed by the Daily News that Mrs. Cumble and Randy were not seriously hurt in the mishap.

"It certainly is a relief," said Mrs. Tuggle. "We tried all day yesterday to get some word about our sister-in-law."

Wes Stoddard, 50, a veteran bush pilot from Anchorage, Alaska, was pilot of the downed plane.

Rescued Reds Are Resting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Four Soviet sailors who drifted weeks on the Pacific Ocean were still too tired today to use the keys to the city presented by Mayor George Christopher.

The quartet, picked up March 7 by the USS Kearsarge after they had been blown out to sea off Etofofo island in the Kuriles on Jan. 17, are resting in a hotel. They declined Christopher's offer of a city car for sightseeing, saying they were too tired.

The four are Petty Officer Victor Ziganashin, 22; Philip G. Popovskiy, 20; Ivan V. Fedotov, 21; and Anatole V. Kruchkovskiy, 20.

The Kearsarge put them ashore via helicopter Tuesday and they were greeted with embraces by Soviet Embassy second secretary Anatole A. Kardashev.

Texans Are Top Bidders

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Top bidders in New Mexico's monthly sale of state oil and gas leases Tuesday were from Midland, Texas.

The transactions brought the state $355,280.

In the sealed bid phase, Texaco Inc. of Midland paid $155.43 an acre for a total of 25,169.93 acres in the east half of the southwest quarter of Section 31 township 12, about 10 miles southwest of Monahans.

In the oral bidding, the best per acre bid was $141.38 turned in by Ralph Lowe of Midland. He paid $51,000 for Sections 5 and 6 of Township 12, about 25 miles southwest of Lovington.

Brownsville To Replace Manager

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—The city commission said Tuesday it would replace Gene Gatlin as city manager.

The news, in a joint statement issued by the commission, came as a surprise. Mayor J. C. George denied last week that Gatlin would be replaced.

The statement said the future of Brownsville "called for a city manager of broader and more diversified experience." Gatlin was not immediately available for comment.

Gatlin came here in February 1959 from a similar post at Edinburg, Texas.

Acress Divorces Trombone Player

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Her husband today knew precisely how to spend most of his time at musical jam sessions, television actress Roxanne Berard testified. She said this led her to the conclusion that marriage to a musician was "just jam and no bread."

Miss Berard, 23, won a divorce Tuesday from Willie Dennis, 36, a trombone player, after testifying: "My husband would leave to play and forget to come home."

Gen. Stewart Has Grade B Props For Pentagon Show

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—A grade B movie on an austere budget could provide better props than Brig. Gen. James Stewart has for working his two sets of active duty in the Pentagon Air Force headquarters.

The temporary desk assigned to the tall, taciturn actor is pushed up against the desks of another brigadier general and a colonel.

It has no telephone. The pen doesn't work.

There is a tray of paper clips, a desk blotter, and a large pamphlet describing the administrative organization of the United States Air Force.

The offices of the director of public information are on an inside ring of the gigantic Pentagon building. The view from the window includes a concrete wall and a row of windows across the way.

Reserve officers have "mobilization assignments," the job they would be assigned in event of war. Stewart's assignment is deputy director of information. He is getting on-the-job training.

Supervising is Maj. Gen. Arno H. Luehman, USAF director of information. Stewart is the stand-in for Brig. Gen. E. B. LeBlanc, the regular deputy director of information.

The Air Force apparently is grim in its determination to give the actor a cram course in the art of public relations. There is a detailed schedule which looks like a film-shooting script. It carries Stewart through a score of briefings, meetings and conferences.

He hears about chains of command, press releases, photographic problems, training films, magazines and books and even how Hollywood productions can be useful or distasteful to the United States Air Force.

Stewart sits in staff conferences where the public relations experts tell each other how high policy should or shouldn't be translated into news announcements, or how to cope with "flips"—the Pentagon word for a tempest in a teapot.

This is all new for a man whose peace-time job is acting in movies and whose wartime assignment was to fly bombers. But he says he likes it.

Military briefings aren't new to Stewart. He says that during the past few years he has been on active duty several times at the USAF's Strategic Air Command headquarters at Omaha.

To his colleagues in the Pentagon he is just General Stewart. The place is full of generals.

Sheriff Has Hog Roundup

PRINCETON, Mo. (AP)—"Who-o-o-o, pig, soot!"

This mournful wail is not unfamiliar to northeast Missouri but it would have startled any native who ventured forth on U.S. Highway 136 east of here Tuesday night.

Crawling along the snow-packed road came a patrol car, red light flashing. At frequent intervals, the hog call sounded from inside.

Calling the hogs was Sheriff Clay Delamater. Answering the call were 100 hogs. They trailed Delamater's car a mile and a half from the scene of a truck wreck to a livestock barn here. Behind the hogs came seven autos, whose drivers volunteered for the roundup.

The truck was carrying 118 hogs from Unionville, Mo., to Kansas City when it overturned during a snow storm.

Escapes Charged Cost Of Return

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Now an escaped prisoner, if captured, he can be charged the cost of bringing him back behind bars.

Take the case of burglar Ronald Miles, who escaped Massachusetts Reformatory in 1958. He was arrested at Jefferson City, Mo.

Superior Court Judge Frank J. Donahue Tuesday ordered Miles to pay $591 in $50 monthly installments the cost of returning him to Massachusetts. Repayment begins after he completes a five-year term for burglary.

Paper, School Seek Channel

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—The Corpus Christi Caller-Times and the University of Corpus Christi plan to file for television channel 3 here.

The newspaper, through a wholly-owned subsidiary, and the Baptist college will seek a share-time permit, under which each would have its own license, studios and call letters. They would use the same transmitter and frequency.

Conway Craig, publisher of the Caller-Times, said the joint application would assure educators that part of the time made available by the new channel would always be for educational purposes.

The Federal Communications Commission in January moved channel 3 from Nuevo Laredo to Corpus Christi, and at that time turned down an application to reserve the new channel exclusively for educational purposes.

AF Sergeant Involved In Dope Count

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist Chinese authorities said today an American Air Force sergeant was involved in the alleged smuggling of almost $600,000 worth of narcotics into Formosa.

The U.S. command in Formosa identified the sergeant as James L. Miller, 35, of Waco, Tex., at the time of the air section of the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG).

The smuggling ring, in which 35 Chinese were reportedly involved, was smashed about eight weeks ago.

The U.S. command said Miller was "still under investigation for various suspected offenses against the uniform code of military justice, including the suspected offense of illegal trafficking in narcotics."

If U.S. authorities decide there is ground for action, Miller will be tried by an American military court. U.S. servicemen in Formosa are not subject to trial by Chinese courts.

Formosa's police headquarters quoted Miller as saying smuggling operations began in the summer

Many Attend Rites For Slaying Victims

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP)—An overflow crowd attended joint funeral services Tuesday for two young cousins shot to death last Friday while babysitting.

About 300 relatives and friends attended the services for Penny Qualls, 13, and Linda Qualls, 12.

Henry Clay Warth, 29, has been charged with slaying the girls as they sat with last children. His attorneys said they will ask a mental examination for him.

Police said Warth, an expert marks man, signed a statement saying he shot the girls after a round of drinking. He gave no reason except he had "an urge" to kill.

Hospital Goes On Twin Binge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—St. Francis Memorial Hospital is on a twin binge.

Twins, for the third time in three days, were delivered in the hospital's maternity unit Tuesday.

Helen Jones, the hospital's community relations director, said only seven sets of twins were born at St. Francis all last year.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem."

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dynal)—discovered by a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in proprietary or patented form under the name Preparation H.

New Voting Referee Plan Slated In House

WASHINGTON (AP)—House civil rights quarters drafted today a plan for a new voting referee plan.

It would, they said, provide for Negroes or other minority citizens to cast their ballots even though their rights to vote were under challenge. The ballots would be impounded and passed on later.

Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York, Democratic floor leader for the civil rights forces, said the proposal had been accepted by Republican members, administration spokesmen and Democrats who Tuesday pushed a broad new voting rights plan.

The injection of the new plan today sent the House into a parliamentary spin and at one point temporarily knocked from the pending bill virtually all voting enforcement. However, the referee proposal was quickly reattached as the pending business.

Today's new idea was an effort to get all civil rights backers behind one plan.

A House decision on the issue was in prospect before nightfall.

In another development in the rights battle, President Eisenhower reaffirmed at a news conference his support for the administration's seven-point program. Eisenhower said he hoped the Senate would put in any parts of his program that might be left out of the House bill.

Eisenhower, in his news conference remarks about civil rights legislation, also got in an admonition against violence in racial matters.

He said violence didn't achieve anything. He also said he believes there are certain proper and constitutional demonstrations that can be made by minorities to show their desire for equality.

The divisions among House backers of civil rights legislation as to form got them into deep difficulties Tuesday.

The Eisenhower administration plan for court-appointed referees to help Negroes or other minority citizens exercise their voting rights was temporarily jettisoned Tuesday.

A liberal Democratic move for a broader proposal picked up surprising strength. It would have substituted for the referees a system using enrolling officers appointed by the President.

Southern opponents of any new civil rights legislation swung into action, seeing a chance to split apart Democratic and Republican supporters of tighter voting laws.

The Southerners threw their weight first one way, then another.

The substitute was voted in as a replacement for the administration plan, then was pitched out. When the players untangled themselves, the Eisenhower plan, slightly modified form, was again before the House and everybody called time out until today.

Dust Drifts From State; Freeze Hits

By The Associated Press

Fog reduced visibility to zero in the Brownsville area Wednesday morning but the dust that filled the skies over Texas Tuesday drifted out of the state.

The dust blew in from West Texas Tuesday and passed through North Central and Northeast Texas. By early Wednesday the dust had drifted eastward out of the state or had settled.

Fog formed around Alice Wednesday and extended southward into Brownsville.

High clouds covered the Texas Panhandle and extended southward into the Midland area. The rest of the state had clear to partly cloudy skies.

Temperatures early Wednesday ranged from a freezing 24 degrees at Lubbock to 58 at Laredo, Amarillo had 29, Dalhart 28, Childress 29, Wichita Falls 27 and Mineral Wells 31, to list the points with freezing temperatures.

Amarillo had blowing dust mixed with snow Tuesday and Lubbock had winds clocked at more than 60 miles per hour. Visibility was cut to 1/4 miles at Lubbock and to 1/2 miles at Childress.

The high temperature Tuesday ranged from 45 degrees at Dalhart to 86 at Laredo.

There was little moisture during the day. Longview received 10 inches. Beaumont 1.03, Corpus Christi and Fort Worth .02 and Waco and Wichita Falls .01. Traces fell at a half dozen places.

The five-day forecast issued Wednesday calls for temperatures 5 to 10 degrees below normal in Eastern and Central Texas with precipitation moderate to heavy in showers about Thursday and Sunday.

Temperatures are expected to be 4 to 8 degrees below normal in Western Texas with precipitation very light in a few showers.

Still Backs Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower publicly endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon today as his choice for the Republican presidential nomination, the President was asked about a new conference that he supports Nixon, who at this point has no opposition for the nomination.

The President was asked about a dinner Saturday night he indirectly tapped the vice president as his choice to succeed him in the White House.

The reporter was alluding to the annual dinner of the Gridiron Club, an organization of newsmen. Eisenhower spoke there but the club rules specify that "reporters are never present."

Nevertheless, some news writers who did not attend the dinner got word that Eisenhower had in effect endorsed Nixon. They wrote dispatches saying so.

When the matter of these published reports was brought up today, Eisenhower chuckled and said that at the dinner he actually had been referring to geographical areas at the dinner table.

His suggestion was that he had not actually endorsed Nixon there. But when he went on to say that if anyone is wondering whether he has any preference or bias as to a choice for the GOP presidential nomination, the answer very definitely is yes.

A little later he made it crystal clear that his preference is Nixon.

That happened when a reporter asked whether he had Nixon in mind in talking about whether he had any bias in the matter.

In reply, the President fired a question of his own. It was: Was there any doubt in your mind?

Eisenhower's reference to geographical areas at the dinner table related to the stories drawing the inference he had endorsed Nixon at the Gridiron dinner. The stories said he had suggested that those at the head table move a couple of places—which would have put Nixon in Eisenhower's seat.

At his first news conference in a month, Eisenhower also dealt with these other topics.

SEGREGATION—Commenting on Negroes demonstrating against segregation practices in the South, Eisenhower said he deplores the use of any violence intended to prevent Negroes from exercising their constitutional rights.

So long as such demonstrations are orderly he sees no objection to them, the President said.

He took the position that violence in any form will not advance the cause for minorities.

His remarks were against the background of big-scale jailing of Negroes who have demonstrated against segregation of the races in restaurants and other places in the South.

The President emphasized that he was talking about what he called orderly marching in an effort to secure constitutional rights. Such marching and demonstrating has been recognized as constitutional for many years, Eisenhower said.

CIVIL RIGHTS—Eisenhower reaffirmed his support of the administration's seven-point civil rights bill.

The President asserted he wants the best civil rights bill he can get. Without saying so specifically, he indicated he will press for restoration in the Senate of any section of the administration bill scuttled by the House.

RACIAL CONFERENCES—Eisenhower once again rejected the idea of a White House conference dealing with racial strife, but he said every city in the South ought to arrange for conferences to deal with this problem.

There already is too much Washington talk, he said, and there which should be handled locally, the President said.

POLITICS—Eisenhower left the door open for an invitation from the Republican National Committee for him to make ed keynote address at the party's national convention opening July 25 in Chicago.

In reply to a question, the President said he has not at this time been invited to make the address. He said that if he is asked to help the party in any way, he certainly will do so. But he added there are certain limits to a President's activity in this area.

Eisenhower was asked whether he agreed with the prediction of some Democrats that Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts will win the Democratic presidential nomination. One such prediction had been attributed to Paul M. Butler, the Democratic national chairman.

With a smile, Eisenhower replied he was going to make no prediction regarding the outcome of the election.

As for demands from some Democrats that Butler resign if he actually did predict the outcome in his party, Eisenhower chuckled and said that if the Democrats have troubles, he is not going to help them out.

KHRUSHCHEV—Eisenhower said he has no agreement with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev against rocking the boat as a newsmen put it in advance of the Paris summit conference in May and the U.S. presidential election in November.

Eisenhower stated that Khrushchev never had said to him that he has no intention of stirring up trouble between now and those two events.

Reds Propose Armed Forces Cut In Russia, China, U. S.

By TOM OCHILTREE

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union today proposed that the United States, the U.S.S.R. and Red China cut their armed forces to 1,700,000 men each within 18 months.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin made the proposal to the 10-nation disarmament conference at a closed session during which the five Western allies formally submitted their three-stage plan to halt the arms race. The Western plan was made public Tuesday and got a chilly reception from the Soviets.

The Soviet plan—which has not been formally put before the conference—is based on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal to the U. N. General Assembly last September that all nations disarm completely within a four-year period.

Zorin said the Soviet plan also calls for disarmament in three stages. Paralleling the troop cuts for the three big powers, he proposed that Britain and France reduce their armed forces to 650,000 men each.

The United States now has about 2 1/2 million men in uniform. The U.S.S.R. says it has 1,623,000, but Khrushchev has announced 1,300,000 will be demobilized within the next year or so. U. S. military officials estimate Red China has 2,600,000 men in its army and an air force large enough to man 2,000 jets.

The Western plan calls for the United States and Soviet Union to hold their forces to 2 1/2 million men each in the first stage, and to cut them to 2,100,000 in the second stage, with corresponding reductions in other countries. The plan sets no timetable for the stage.

Zorin told a news conference after the session that under the Soviet plan, all stages of disarmament would be supervised by an international control organization and an inspection system. In previous disarmament negotiations, however, Soviet and Western ideas of an adequate control system have been far apart.

In the second stage of the Soviet plan, said Zorin, all armed forces would be disbanded and all foreign bases would be liquidated. This could be completed within two years, he said.

In the third stage all types of nuclear weapons would be destroyed.

The Soviet delegate said his government would insist that all nuclear weapon tests be banned "even before an agreement on disarmament is implemented."

The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union have been negotiating in Geneva for 16 months for a ban on nuclear tests. The talks have deadlocked.

The Western plan was submitted to the conference by British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore on behalf of his own government, the United States, France, Italy and Canada.

Zorin threw cold water on the Western proposal at Tuesday's opening meeting, calling it unrealistic and impractical.

Zorin labeled the Western plan an obstacle rather than an aid to disarmament. But British and American sources made clear they would insist on full discussion of their plan.

The Western delegates refrained at the onset from criticizing Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposed four-year timetable for total world disarmament, but they reacted sharply to Zorin's remarks.

U. S. Ambassador Frederick M. Eaton made it plain reductions in weapons and military forces must be accompanied by safe international controls to insure compliance.

Japanese Airliner, Sabre Jet Collide

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese airliner carrying 28 passengers and a Japanese air force Sabre jet collided tonight on the runway at Komaki air base, in central Japan.

Three passengers were reported dead and 19 injured. Five of the injured were reported in serious condition.

A spokesman for All Nippon Airways in Tokyo said a DCJ of the airline landed on the runway after a flight from Tokyo and was turning to go to the unloading area when the Sabre jet crashed into its tail.

Adenauer, Ike In Agreement On German Policy Procedure

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer were reported in basic agreement today on the major policy lines which the West should follow in negotiating German issues with the Soviet Union.

The negotiations are being prepared as part of the Big Four summit meeting in Paris next May.

Eisenhower scheduled a morning news conference at which he was certain to be questioned about his 14-hour meeting with Adenauer Tuesday.

The chancellor was guest of honor at a National Press Club luncheon where he was due to speak and respond to questions.

Prior to the Press Club session Adenauer arranged to meet with labor leaders and with Dean Acheson, secretary of state under former President Truman.

Adenauer's foreign minister, Heinrich von Brandt, said following the discussions at the White House and State Department: "I am leaving the State Department convinced there are no differences between Bonn and Washington as regards all decisive questions."

Adenauer, on his way to Tokyo.

came here to seek assurance that the President was dead set against negotiating any summit agreement with the Soviet Union at the expense of the position of the Western powers in West Berlin.

The 84-year-old chancellor is known to feel that the present arrangement whereby U.S. British and French forces on the scene guarantee the independence of West Berlin cannot be improved upon by any negotiated agreement.

U. S. officials said the President gave assurance that there would be no compromise on basic protection for the position of West Berlin as a Western city surrounded by East Germany.

A joint statement issued following the White House meeting said that Eisenhower and Adenauer "asserted their determination to try to achieve 'the reunification of Germany in peace and freedom.'"

"They further agreed," the statement said, "that the preservation of the freedom of the people of West Berlin, and their right of self-determination, must underlie any future agreement affecting the city."

fourth four-year term with a record popular vote.

This time the 84-year-old president's powerful Liberal Party machine succeeded in electing Naompo to the vice presidency. Lee, 63, overwhelmingly defeated John M. Chang of the Democrats, who had bested Lee in the 1956 vice presidential race by 200,000 votes.

The vice presidential race was of major importance because of the possibility the aged president might not live out his term. But Rhee is much more vigorous than Lee, who has difficulty speaking and walking and has rarely left his home in the past two years. He reportedly has a nerve disorder as well as rheumatism.

RetURNS from 176 of South Korea's 187 counting districts gave Rhee 8,940,823 votes, Lee 7,797,940 and Chang 1,800,863.

For re-election Rhee needed votes from one-third of the nation's 11,194,400 voters. His total was far above the 5,046,437 votes he polled in 1956, when he was opposed by another dead Democratic leader and a since-outlawed party.

Several hundred thousand invalid ballots were cast in Seoul, apparently for the dead Democratic President, whose name remained on the ballot. The total for Chough was not disclosed.

Rhee and Lee will be inaugurated Aug. 15. Should Rhee die before then, Chang as incumbent vice president would succeed him and a new election would be called. Rhee will be 85 on March 26.

Rhee and Lee were in seclusion when they issued victory statements. Chang angrily denounced the election as "the worst we have ever seen" and said his party would file suit within 30 days seeking to invalidate the election.

Chang said the Democrats have more than 1,000 exhibits showing fraud in the election, including ballot box stuffing and the ouster of hundreds of Democratic poll observers.

Rhee's Forces In Decisive Victory

By GENE KRAMER

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Syngman Rhee's forces won the presidency and vice presidency of South Korea today in a landslide after a bloody election the opposition charged was rigged. The anti-Rhee Democratic party promised a court contest.

Post-election violence flared anew as demonstrators, disgruntled with the outcome of the voting, scuffled today with police in front of the Democrats' Seoul headquarters.

At least 7 and perhaps up to 11 persons were reported killed Tuesday in election violence. All but one died in a seven-hour battle between police, Democrats and students at Masan, 250 miles south of Seoul.

Rhee, whose Democratic party opponent died a month ago after a stomach operation, won his

Last Hopes Gone For Lost Miners

By ROBERT E. MILLER

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP)—Until they found the first body, searchers held some hope that the 18 men trapped in Holden coal mine 22 men still to be alive.

By early today the bodies of 13 had been hauled out of the gas-filled passageways and the last wish of hope for the others was gone.

But the search went on.

Somewhere in the dank honeycomb of tunnels were the other members of the digging party imprisoned March 8 by a cave-in and fire nearly three miles from the mine opening.

Two in the original group of 20 scrambled to safety moments after discovery of the fire, apparently touched off when falling slate snapped an electric trolley wire.

Jack Matheson of nearby Holden, W. Va., in the rescue team, said death by asphyxiation came early for the men in the Island Creek Coal Co. eight miles from the Kentucky border.

It might have been caused by smoke from the fire or by poison coal-gas permeating the abandoned mine section to which the victims had fled.

Passing up three carved-out rooms in which they might have sealed themselves off from the deadly fumes until help came, they had dashed for an opening in the abandoned section. But there was no opening. It had been barred within recent weeks by the crumbling walls and low ceiling in that part of the mine.

"There's no doubt," said Matheson, 34, a former section boss of the mine, "that they've been dead since a few hours after the fire."

He and nearly 200 others labored and groped in the rubble strewn tunnels in the hope that the men had chosen to wait it out in one of the three refuge areas.

The rescuers had battled the smog and sloughed through knee-deep water and struggled with a makeshift ventilating system around the clock.

The first body was found sprawled alone. Twelve others were two nearby heaps.

State and company officials withheld the names of those first found dead until all 18 of the men could be accounted for. Among them was W. K. Davidson, 55, a company safety inspector.

San Antonio Lunch Counter Integrated

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The first lunch counter in downtown San Antonio was integrated without incident today.

The S. H. Kress Co. opened its lunch counter on an integrated basis this morning and within a few minutes, about 20 whites and four Negroes were served. There was no disturbance. The Negroes sat at one end of the lunch space and the whites at the other.

A number of lunch counter operators met with religious leaders of the city Tuesday and decided on the integration policy. A quietly jubilant leader of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People called the action "A practical approach to Christianity."

The youth director of the local National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, Harry V. Burns, last Sunday delivered an ultimatum to San Antonio retailers that demonstrations would be held unless their lunch counters were integrated.

He scheduled a committee meeting for Thursday night to decide the next steps against segregation.

But local religious leaders, representing nearly every faith, announced Tuesday night that businessmen with whom they met had agreed "to serve all customers with their regular courtesy."

A joint statement of the religious leaders said it was hoped "that within a month many other business firms would join in this program of integration."

Burns said, "It's a great gesture of the religious leaders and it is an example of practical Christianity. I am very grateful and I feel that all San Antonio Negroes are happy at the development."

Permission Granted Marriage

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II formally gave her permission today to the marriage of her sister, Princess Margaret, to Anthony Armstrong-Jones, The Queen's approval of the May 6 marriage is a formality under the provisions of the Royal Marriages Act, a statute binding persons in immediate succession to the throne.

Represented at the meeting were Catholic, Baptist and Methodist groups, including a representative of Archbishop Robert B. Lucy of the predominant Catholic religion in this city of more than a half million persons.

Meanwhile, at Austin University of Texas, President Logan Wilson and Negro students who met with him Tuesday had little comment on the 3-hour discussions.

Wilson said, "I thought we had a very sensible discussion."

A Negro crowd from Beaumont, Doris Price, said a group of 45 white and Negro students drafted a resolution after conferring with Wilson, which expressed the view that "the meeting was unsatisfactory to the group."

About 40 students at the 18,500-student university have been picketing the campus in protest at alleged inadequate housing for Negro students and a university policy that allows no Negroes on athletic teams or on stage dramatic groups.

In another development, Dallas School Board President Edwin Rippy said anticipated circulation of petitions calling for a school integration vote had been delayed.

Rippy said the board probably would defer a decision on whether to seek a vote on integration until it knows when the Dallas school case comes up again in federal court.

U. S. Dist. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson said Tuesday a decision on the next Dallas public school integration hearing probably would come later in the week.

He said he would confer with Dallas school board counsel and Negro lawyers to fix a hearing date.

Negroes staged two more sit-down protests against integrated lunch counters in Galveston, but there was no report of further demonstrations in Houston.

Most of the Galveston demonstrators appeared to be of high school age and some wore Negro high school jackets. The lunch counters were closed while they were in the store.

Houston's Mayor Lewis Cutler warned Tuesday that persons taking part in lunch counter sit-downs may be arrested if the demonstrations continue.

The mayor said the protest demonstrations are in violation of unlawful assembly statutes of Texas.

Cutler said the owner of a store has the legal right to determine customers he will serve.

Sit-down demonstrations have been held at six lunch counters, and only one has reopened.

AT WAR WITH INSECTS—Dicky Hardee (right), Texas Tech agriculture senior from Snyder, has been awarded a $2,148 graduate research assistantship at the Cornell University to study livestock pests next year. With him is James Eschle (left), of Groom, Tech senior, who has a similar award waiting for him at the University of Wisconsin. They are among five Tech agricultural entomology students to be offered assistantship positions. (Texas Tech Photo)

Snyderite Gets Research Grant

LUBBOCK — Graduate research assistantships totaling more than $10,000 have been awarded to five senior Texas Tech entomology majors by three universities.

Dr. Don W. Ashdown, who directs agricultural entomology courses at Tech, said the men have accepted research assistantships at Cornell University, the University of Wisconsin and Louisiana State University.

Accepted for graduate study at Cornell University are Dicky Hardee, senior from Snyder, and James Marshall, senior from Claiborne. Hardee has been awarded a $2,376 assistantship grant, plus tuition, while he works toward a M. S. degree in entomology. Marshall will receive a $2,592 assistantship grant and tuition while working toward a Ph.D. degree in entomology.

Louisiana State University has awarded assistantship grants of $1,926, plus tuition, each to Albert McMahon, senior from Tennessee Colony, and Merrill Swanson, senior from El Campo. Both will work toward M. S. degrees in entomology. McMahon will specialize in stored-grain insects while Swanson plans research on insects carrying

Daniel Appearing In West Texas

AMARILLO AP—Gov. Price Daniel planned two appearances in this West Texas center today.

The governor was to address a Chamber of Commerce luncheon and dedicate a memorial at Palo Duro High School to the pioneers who traveled the Fort Smith-Santa Fe road in the 1840s.

He is to speak at Shamrock in the eastern Panhandle tonight kicking off the annual St. Patrick's Day celebration.

He goes to Dumas Thursday to address the installation banquet of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Winter Lands New Blow In Midwest

The Associated Press

A blustery snowstorm landed another wintry blow today at broad areas in the Midwest, already pumpled from a month of heavy snow and unseasonable cold.

The new storm, powered by easterly winds of 20 to 35 m.p.h., dumped heavy snow from eastern Kansas and northern Missouri as it swept northeastward.

The fresh snow fell atop a covering more than a foot high in many places in Kansas, northern Missouri, southern Nebraska and southern Iowa.

Heavy snow warnings were issued from northern Missouri northward through Iowa and into southeastern Minnesota and eastward across Illinois and parts of Wisconsin, Indiana and lower Michigan.

The severe late winter storm kept schools closed in many areas. Office and factories also shut down in some sections. Driving conditions throughout the snow belt were hazardous and travel was sharply curtailed.

At least six traffic deaths were blamed on the stormy weather in Kansas. Traffic was halted on U.S. 75 north of Topeka because of cars and blowing, drifting snow.

Thunderstorms rumbled across the southern Gulf states, with lo-

Conservative Plan Differs With Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—New cracks showed up today in the structure of Republican unity-Vice President Richard M. Nixon has been laboring so hard to build.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) outlined in a Senate speech Tuesday a GOP conservative's idea of what the foreign policy program should be. It differed sharply with policies pursued by President Eisenhower.

Goldwater, who heads the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, had what he called "hard counsel" for both Eisenhower and Nixon. In some quarters his blast was interpreted as a warning that conservatives will demand a strong voice in writing the party platform for foreign affairs.

Goldwater advocated breaking off relations and negotiations with the Soviet Union. He proposed staging a "test of wills" in which he said could end in war—with the Soviets under conditions and in a location picked by the United States. He urged "risks on our terms, instead of on Communist terms."

There were more Goldwater suggestions. But these were enough to draw the fire of Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ia.), who calls himself a liberal. He said Goldwater's proposals sounded a lot like those which former Sen. William F. Knowland of California, once the GOP floor leader, used to make in the Senate.

Cooper said in an interview that "the worst thing that could happen right now would be to withdraw American recognition of Russia and to refuse to negotiate."

"I agree with Sen. Goldwater that world tensions are caused only by the Russians and they could relax them at any time they chose," he said. "But the world is in danger because of those tensions and the only possible way to settle the issues is by negotiation."

Cooper said world opinion would not support American refusal to deal further with the Soviets, a view in which Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) concurred.

Aiken, a Senate Foreign Relations committee member who lists himself as a liberal, said he doesn't think Eisenhower or Nixon will follow Goldwater's advice on that score.

"I think the majority of Republicans recognize that we are going to have to continue to deal with a nation with which we disagree," Aiken said.

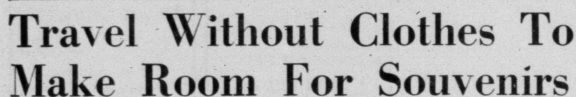

Goldwater admittedly aimed his remarks at Eisenhower. He said he had been writing his speech for some time and wanted to get it on the record before the forthcoming summit meeting. He said he would be happy if he impressed Nixon with his ideas.

In the vice president's camp the Goldwater speech apparently was regarded as another symptom of the conservative-liberal split in the party Nixon has been trying to heal.

Fluvanna Slates Homecoming June 11

The Fluvanna School Homecoming has been set for June 11, 1966. The homecoming is held every five years.

Mrs. Mary Kingston, chairman of the invitation committee, requests that everyone send her lists of any Fluvanna "exes" so the mailing lists can be brought up to date.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

It was a semi-sunny, but brisk and blustery afternoon. The trees had the look as if they would give their favorite right limb to be able to bud out, but feared the consequences should they make the bold move. So they merely sat there, rooted and quaking, hiding their time.

The bridge sprawled out in front of me for perhaps half a city block, and a steady traffic of men, women, children, and cars shuttled back and forth over the span, some weaving their ways back to El Paso, while others hopped the ways into the jungle known as Juarez. The footpassageway measured about four feet x 1/2 city block and was enclosed by meshed steel siding, which served little purpose other than keeping over-excited individuals from taking haphazard swan dives into a powder-dry Rio Grande. "Rio" means river and "gran" means big, neither of which are justified in reference to this international trifle.

As The Sun Pulls Away From The Shore . . .

JUAREZ, with its dirty, shoulder-to-shoulder little excuses for shops and buildings, writhed on the other side of the connecting thoroughfare. Every vice known to man flourishes there openly with very little law being enforced there other than the law of the jungle. Every shopkeeper has the "best bargains in town, senior," as each steals his respective wares from none but the most exclusive places.

Taxi drivers yell "Taxi!" and as you pass them confide to you in hushed and confidential tones that they and they alone "know where to find some nice Little urchins with cone-shaped cylinders mounted on the ends of walloofed and scrambled in the river bottom for any bits of monetary refuse which the tourists might not fit to throw away. None were getting rich at it, but each was in a take-over business for himself, which can't be measured in terms of dollars, cents, pesos, or centavos. Only gratification and satisfaction.

Absorb by the river bottom busybody bonus babies. I almost tripped over a mesquite-enchanted old hombre who was curled up the full breadth of the narrow passage. He had found a warm, sunny spot, protected from the somewhat sharp wind, and—fortified with an overdose of alcohol—lay there dreaming of bygone bottles of tequila, completely oblivious to the stream of people who found it necessary to step, leapfrog, or flatfoot over him. Happiness is where you find it.

giris". An old man sits with crossed legs and plays on a harp which has been missing, singing in a creaky old-man monotone. Flies swarm over foodstuffs in the open air holes-in-the-wall, struggling and fighting with their dirty, blood-soaked fingers for a foothold on an exposed pork roast.

Two dogs fight near a clogged-up drain for possession of a dried tamale husk.

Which is "par for the course" in this infested border cubby-hole.

... And Our Boat Sinks Slowly In the West

MAKING A 90 DEGREE LEFT TURN on Avenida Something-Or-Other, I come onto the Plaza de Toros, which is a very established goal, and buy a ticket for the shady side of the arena, which was a miscalculation. Those tabs sell slightly higher, and in SUMMERTIME would be worth the difference, but not so in late winter. For sunny Juarez was also cold that day. Too cold for shady-side comfort.

Having sat down to view the spectacle, the primarily brass band (which is live—not canned) burps out a typically halititious-type dittie, the entrance of the matadors, toreros, pleaders, and so-forth-dors.

Then the arena is cleared, a gate is opened, and the charge is in to his demise. He is beheaded, humiliated and massacred, in that order.

Stith-Led Bonnies Now In Semifinals

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The National Invitation Tournament takes a 24-hour breather today while the basketball gentry savors the play of little Sam Stith, who has fired streaking St. Bonaventure into the semifinals along with top-seeded Bradley, Utah State and Providence.

Sam's savoring it, too. "Oh, man, it was delicious," he said Tuesday night after scoring a tournament high of 37 points in the Bonnies' 106-71 rout of defending champion St. John's. Sam, a chunky 6-foot-7 bundle of speed, has scored 64 points in St. Bonaventure's two NIT victories so far. With his ball-hawking, and floor generalship added in, he's overshadowing his more publicized brother, Tom, the nation's

Boston And Philly Slate Best 4-Of-7

BOSTON (AP) — Defending champion Boston and Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain and Co. tonight open a best-four-of-seven series for a spot in the finals of the National Basketball Assn. playoffs.

The winner goes against the victor in the Western Division St. Louis-Minneapolis series for the NBA title.

Boston, by virtue of its superior season record, good health and the advantage of a home court to night, rated as a favorite both for the opening game and the series. The biggest threat is Chamberlain, the 7-foot-1 rookie giant, and the NBA's most valuable player, who pulled the Warriors from an also-ran last season to a top contender this year. On the way to a second-place finish, he established eight new league marks. After tonight's game, the scene shifts to Philadelphia Friday night, back to Boston Saturday afternoon for a nationally televised struggle, then back to Philadelphia again.

BOBBO SCORES

As the Men's City Bowling League roars into the final and deciding stretch, McAllister Van Lines has virtually clinched a first-place finish by spurring out to a 103-point lead over State Farm Insurance and Muslewhite Trucking, who are tied for the second spot. Those are the teams battling for the honors in the Tuesday Division of play.

McAllister strengthened its already commanding lead by clipping Scott Humble Service Station 4-0, with Muslewhite bouncing into a second place tie by drawing Town & Country Bowl 3-1. State Farm last week's undisputed holder of the second slot, was rudely shaken by Beacon Motor Lodge, a team which came up to win 2 points.

Things are nipper and tucker in Thursday's kiegling, though, with Gladson & Ostrick Drilling sporting a 2 1/2 point pad over Everett's Studio. Gladson picked up 2 1/2 points in its match against Fina Stations, while Everett's slipped slightly in splitting with Knights of Columbus. Phillips '66, a close third in the division, muffed their chance to move into second as they split their match against the Snyder Police Department.

Sportsman's Headquarters rolled the high series of 2001 for the week, while McAllister turned in the high team game of 1031.

Individual high series was shared by Bob Zetman (Muslewhite) and C. E. Green (Petroleum Dehydrating), both of whom had 576. Jerry Jackson of M&R Construction followed with 560 and 553 respectively. Green edged out Zetman in the high game category, 225-222. Close behind were Stan Ostrick (220) and Jackson (219).

Rubberized Track Talked

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California's track men of the future may flash to new records over a rubberized, all-weather running track that could be retrofitted like a tire.

"It has great possibilities," said Frank B. Durkee of the State Division of Architecture, including: Little or no maintenance; a tough, waterproof surface which would remain uniform throughout a season, permitting better evaluation of each athlete's performance; greater acceleration for runners. The state Tuesday called for bids on the track, to be built at Humboldt State College on California's rainy north coast. It's expected to cost about $145,000, and is believed to be the first of its kind.

The conventional clay cinder track gets too mushy in the winter and needs considerable costly maintenance, Durkee said. The new quarter-mile track would be a rubberized, resilient asphalt mixture consisting of about equal part of asphalt, rubber and sand. Spikes don't stick in the self-sealing substance, Durkee said.

De John Aiming For Knockout Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP)—The odds-makers are saying Mike De John will need a knockout to defeat highly ranked heavyweight Zora Foley, the favorite in tonight's 10-pound televised bout at the Arena. And De John, who has 27 knockouts to his credit in 48 professional bouts (9-7-1), says he is just the man who can do it.

"Just one good shot is all I might need to make those odds look foolish," said De John, a 212-pounder from Syracuse, N. Y. Foley, from Chandler, Ariz., weighs 200 and is ranked by Ring magazine as the No. 1 contender for Ingemar Johansson's title. He has won 32 of his 36 professional fights, 30 of them by knockouts. De John is ranked seventh. The fight will be nationally televised—ABC 10 p.m. EST.

Cancelled Contest Set Again Today

High winds forced postponement of yesterday's scheduled baseball game between Snyder's Tigers and the Tom S. Lubbock Westenders, and it has been re-set for this afternoon.

The tilt will get underway at 4:15, and will be reeled-off at the Towle Park field. On the hill for Snyder will be veteran right hander Norman Gladson, winner of both Tiger victories to date. Opposing him will be southpaw Herschel Guthrie. Coach Speedy Moffett's nine will go into the game with a 2-2 record for the young season, having downed Abilene and Big Spring, while losing to Monterey Lubbock twice. Tom S. is 2-1 for the campaign, sporting wins over Big Spring and Midland, with a single loss to Midland marring their otherwise clean slate.

Starting for the Tigers will be Spencer Dyer, ss; Steve Free, 2b; Mike Moffett, cf; Franklin Moore, rf; Bonnie Greenfield, lb; Bubba Fleming, 3b; Jerry Guthrie, if; Ronnie Wylie, c; and Gladson, p. The Westenders of Coach Earl Parker will have going for them the following: Mike Pinkston, c; Larry Mitchell, 1b; Buzzy Hender-

IN TV WEDDING OF THE YEAR ABC, NCAA Pledge College Grid Vows

By JIM McENALLY

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The national football-playing colleges can look forward to a guaranteed record 6 1/2 million dollars from television revenue in the next two seasons. But perhaps benefitting even more from Tuesday's rich contract between the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. and the American Broadcasting Co. will be the first two-year contract the NCAA ever awarded to a television network, and nearly tripled the previous high of $2,200,000 bid by NBC for the 1959 season. No figures were disclosed by the NCAA or ABC, but The Associated Press learned that the ABC bid outstripped the National Broadcasting Co.'s offer by nearly a million dollars. NBC bid $3,300,000, the AP learned.

A Columbia Broadcasting System spokesman said CBS did not bid for the college games which will be televised on 13 dates each of the next two seasons.

NBC had gained the rights to the college games each year during the last decade, except in 1954. ABC lost heavily on the NCAA-controlled program that year and the network had not bothered to bid several times since.

The switch by the colleges leaves the current football TV lineup this way: CBS has the National Football League and ABC the college games. NBC has no highly competitive weekend fall days and Thanksgiving for two straight years.

TV sports market
That's where the American Football League comes in. The AFL has been leaning toward ABC in contract negotiations on the assumption that NBC money was in college football and CBS cash in the NFL.

Now the AFL suddenly becomes extremely desirable to NBC and if the new pro football league plays its cards right, it may pull off a much fatter deal than was possible previously.

Any network dealing with the AFL will deal directly with the league, rather than with individual teams as has been the NFL method. Under the AFL constitution all teams share equally in TV revenue.

The amount paid by ABC was not surprising in that the 1960-61 NFL plan is the most attractive ever offered.

It gives the network control of both nine national and four regional dates each season. Previously the network has no control over regional games. The regions have also been expanded into only three national segments. Previously they often were broken down into as many as eight, the number of NCAA districts.

ABC now can guarantee a spon-

Couple To Adopt Brilliant Child

OLD BRIDGE, N.J. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Combs went ahead today with plans to adopt their brilliant 4-year-old foster child, Alice Marie, following a surprise state decision clearing the way.

"I'm so completely happy," Combs said after the New Jersey Board of Child Welfare Tuesday announced its contention that the girl was too intellectually gifted for her foster parents to raise.

Dark-haired, bright-eyed Alice scampered joyfully for photographs around the trim home—the center of attention although she didn't know why.

Combs credited "the press and public opinion" with bringing a

Lawyers In Annual Poll

AUSTIN (AP)—The annual political poll of Texas lawyers released Tuesday showed Robert Calvert as the favorite for chief justice of the State Supreme Court and Lloyd Davidson for re-election to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The results of the poll, from ballots mailed Feb. 13, were announced without comment.

Calvert, now an associate justice, received 4,231 votes for advancement to chief justice, and Robert Hughes 2,573.

In the three-man court of criminal appeals race the lawyers were asked to list first and second choices. Davidson received 2,569 votes as first choice, Jim Bowmer 1,967 and W. T. McDonald 847. McDonald received 2,425 second choice ballots, Bowmer 1,913 and Davidson 1,075.

A number of lawyers indicated a first choice but no second choices. These incomplete ballots showed another 772 first choice votes for Davidson, 389 for Bowmer and 160 for McDonald.

Cool Weather Due For Next Five Days

DALLAS (AP)—The Weather Bureau issued today this 5-day forecast for March 16-20:

Eastern and Central Texas: Temperatures 5 to 10 degrees below normal. Colder Thursday or Friday. Precipitation moderate to heavy in showers about Thursday and Sunday.

Western Texas: Temperatures 4 to 8 degrees below normal. Colder Thursday, warming trend weak Friday. Precipitation light or none. A few showers.

Quiz Whiz Needs A Job

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Teddy Nadler, the St. Louis clerk who won $24,000 on a television quiz show, is trying to get a $13-a-day job as a census taker.

"I'm broke," said Nadler. "I need money."

To get the job which will last for about two weeks, he must pass a vocabulary and map reading test.

"I understand it's a tough job and a tough test," he said. "I hope I can pass."

Nadler, who has a photographic memory, ground out answers to difficult questions steadily from 1956 through 1959 on TV quiz shows. His answers sounded as if they were pouring out of a recording machine, which is what some persons claim Nadler virtually is.

When his television appearances ended, Nadler couldn't find work. He says he has had "a lot of" disreputable and some bad callers, who gave him bad advice.

Some time ago, Nadler, who lives in suburban University City with his wife and three sons, predicted he would be broke in short order unless he got a job quickly.

The Census Bureau office will test Nadler and 75 other applicants Thursday. Officials described the test as simple.

Nadler said he has been "working around the house" since he left show business. He was a $70-a-week government clerk before he became famous on the quiz shows.

"If I pass the test, I'm going to be an ordinary census taker," said Nadler. "I'm just plain old Teddy Nadler now. I'm tired of all this publicity."

5 Victims Of Crash Rescued

ELY, Nev. (AP)—Wind, snow and ice smacked a light airplane onto the slope of a Nevada Mountain, but all five aboard survived and were rescued after more than two days of sub-zero weather.

A helicopter from Hill Air Force Base in Utah brought the five—all members of the same family—from the snowy mountain to the warmth of this community. It was a difficult task.

"We had taken off Sunday in good weather, and as we were flying along we suddenly were weathered in—I mean, really weathered—we couldn't see much at all," Stoddard told newspapermen.

"My windshield was iced and visibility was bad. My wife saw a few trees in front of us as we were moving along on instruments."

"I pulled back on the stick and we cleared the mountain, but the next thing I knew, I was caught in a downdraft."

"I tried to pancake it into the snow."

LOCAL WOMEN'S KIN ON PLANE

Mrs. Horace Cumbe, who was one of the passengers on the small plane which crashed landed in Nevada, is the sister-in-law of two Snyderites, Mrs. R. L. Tuggle and Mrs. T. F. Shoemaker.

Mrs. Tuggle and Mrs. Shoemaker first learned this morning that their sister-in-law and her young son were safe. They had tried in vain to contact their brother, Horace Cumbe, in Alaska. They were elated this morning when they were informed by the Daily News that Mrs. Cumbe and Randy were not seriously hurt in the mishap.

"It certainly is a relief," said Mrs. Tuggle. "We tried all day yesterday to get some word about our sister-in-law."

Wes Stoddard, 50, a veteran bush pilot from Anchorage, Alaska, was pilot of the downed plane.

He described their injuries as serious but not critical.

The other three persons were less seriously hurt.

Randy Cumbe, 6, was quite excited about it all. He had a birthday party in the disabled plane atop the mountain Monday. His present was a sweater, which could not have been more appropriate. Temperatures dropped to 15 below zero.

Randy said he loved the helicopter ride, his first.

Randy's mother, Mrs. Horace Cumbe, 28, said "When the plane came down the door was sprung, so I got out and passed snow in all the cracks in an effort to keep the wind from roaring through."

Mrs. Cumbe, wife of an Anchorage policeman, is a daughter of the Stoddards.

The five were on their way to help celebrate the 80th birthday of Stoddard's mother, Mrs. L. B. Douglas, in Tucson, Arizona.

The fifth person in the plane was Mrs. Joseph V. Lee, 70, of Eufora, Idaho. She is Stoddard's aunt.

RUSSIAN SAILORS AT INTERVIEW—Wearing U. S. Navy pants and shirts, the four young Russian sailors who survived 49 days adrift in the North Pacific before they were rescued by the carrier USS Keokuk, sit very stiff during an American-style news conference aboard the carrier. Newsmen and photographers were flown by the Navy to the carrier which was 300 miles from San Francisco. Left to right are: Philip G. Gen. Stewart Has Grade B Props For Pentagon Show

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A grade B movie on an austere budget could provide better props than Brig. Gen. James Stewart has for working his two weeks of active duty in the Pentagon Air Force headquarters.

The temporary desk assigned to the tall, taciturn actor is pushed up against the desks of another brigadier general and a colonel.

It has no telephone. The pen doesn't work.

There is a tray of paper clips, a desk blotter, and a large pamphlet describing the administrative organization of the United States Air Force.

The offices of the director of public information are on an inside ring of the gigantic Pentagon building. The view from the window includes a concrete wall and a row of windows across the way.

Reserve officers have "mobilization assignments," the job they would be assigned in event of war. Stewart's assignment is deputy director of information. He is getting on-the-job training.

Supervising is Maj. Gen. Arno H. Luehman, USAF director of information. Stewart is the stand-in for Brig. Gen. E. B. LeBaillie, the regular deputy director of information.

The Air Force apparently is grim in its determination to give the actor a cram course in the art of public relations. There is a detailed schedule which looks like a film-shooting script. It carries Stewart through a score of briefings, meetings and conferences.

He hears about chains of command, press releases, photographic problems, training films, magazine ads and books and even how Hollywood productions can be useful or distasteful to the United States Air Force.

Stewart sits in on staff conferences where the public relations experts tell each other how high policy should or shouldn't be translated into news announcements, or how to cope with "flaps"—the Pentagon word for a tempest in a teapot.

This is all new for a man whose peacetime job is acting in movies and whose wartime assignment was to fly bombers. But he says he likes it.

Military briefings aren't new to Stewart. He says that during the past few years he has been on active duty several times at the USAF's Strategic Air Command headquarters at Omaha.

To his colleagues in the Pentagon, he is just General Stewart. The place is full of generals.

Motherwell Faces 2nd Murder Count

DOWNIEVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Convicted of one murder Tuesday night, Larry Lord Motherwell today found himself the target of prosecution efforts to send him to the gas chamber by also proving he murdered his second wife and defective child as well.

The 42-year-old Washington, D.C., construction worker was convicted by a Sierra County jury of murdering Pearl Putney.

wealthy 72-year-old Washington widow, in 1958 after chauffeuring her across the country on a "last fling" tour.

Shortly after the jury of nine women and three men brought in the verdict and had been told to return Monday at 10 a.m. to determine Motherwell's sentence—death or life imprisonment—his co-prosecutors announced they would seek the death penalty by showing that Motherwell murdered his second wife, Sarah, and their mongrel child, Heather.

A half-dozen witnesses would be brought from Frederick, Md., said Dist. Atty. Gordon I. Smith and Asst. State Atty. Gen. Lynn Compton.

The burden of proof no longer will be upon us. We merely present it (the evidence) to the jury and let them decide," said Compton.

Motherwell's chief defense attorney, John T. Reges of Washington, indicated an appeal would be automatic.

"We didn't expect to win at this level," he told a reporter.

"I wasn't what I expected," said Motherwell as he was led away to a suicide watch at the county jail.

His second wife, Sarah, was found floating face up in the bathtub of their Clydesdale Place apartment in Washington on Nov. 8, 1953. The death was ruled accidental.

Motherwell was left with their mongrel child, Heather, whose body was found in a pet cemetery near Frederick, Md. Nov. 19, 1958. During the search for Mrs. Putney, Motherwell said the child had strangled to death June 24, 1954, and that he had buried her in a panic. A grand jury refused to indict him.

The jury deliberated seven hours—out for lunch, dinner and re-reading of evidence—after Judge Warren Steel charged them to return the two verdicts: acquittal or first degree murder.

They were considering a mass of purely circumstantial evidence in the month-long trial. Motherwell admitted he had been a liar, a con man and a Luthario but insisted he was innocent. No direct evidence was produced that he killed Mrs. Putney, or that anyone today knows precisely how or where she died. Her bones were found Aug. 15, 1959, scattered along a logging road 27 miles east of here in Turner's Canyon. The skull was identified through dental work.

His defense consisted of his claim that he did not know what happened to Mrs. Putney after Aug. 15, 1958, when he left her in Las Vegas, Nev.

U. S. Seeks Five Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has demanded immediate return of five B26 medium bombers which it claims the Dominican government acquired illegally.

Informed authorities who disclosed this today said the five American-built planes, rebuilt twin-engine models used during World War II, have shown up as part of the Dominican air force although arms shipments have been banned to the Caribbean area for two years.

The aircraft were shipped by a Miami exporter last year with assurances they were going to Chile to be used in aerial photography work. Chilean authorities report the planes never arrived.

After months of investigation, U.S. officials say they have traced the planes to the Dominican Republic. They also have what they believe is evidence that Dominican air force actively collaborated in the mysterious maneuvering that acquired the planes.

The State Department is understood to have sent a formal note to the Dominican Republic asking that the aircraft be sent back to the United States.

Paper, School Seek Channel

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—The Corpus Christi Caller-Times and the University of Corpus Christi plan to file for television channel 3 here.

The newspaper, through a wholly-owned subsidiary, and the Baptist college will seek a share-time permit, under which each would have its own license, studios and call letters. They would use the same transmitter and frequency.

Conway Craig, publisher of the Caller-Times, said the joint application would assure educators that part of the time made available by the new channel would always be for educational purposes.

The Federal Communications Commission in January moved channel 3 from Nuevo Laredo to Corpus Christi, and at that time turned down an application to reserve the new channel exclusively for educational purposes.

British inventor Frederick Walton successfully made the first inflatable in the early 1800s. He also came up with the name "Inflatable" as the floor, covering is mostly oxidized lined oil.

Rescued Reds Are Resting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Four Soviet sailors who drifted seven weeks on the Pacific Ocean were still too tired today to use the keys to the city presented by Mayor George Christopher.

The quartet, picked up March 7 by the USS Kearsarge after they had been blown out to sea off Etorofu Island in the Kuriles on Jan. 17, are resting in a motel. The declined Christopher's offer of a city car for sightseeing, saying they were too tired.

The four are Petty Officer Victor Ziganov, 22; Philip G. Poplavski, 20; Ivan Y. Fedotov, 21; and Anatole F. Kruchkovski, 20.

The Kearsarge put them ashore via helicopter Tuesday and they were greeted with embraces by Soviet Embassy second secretary Anatol A. Kardashev.

Sheriff Has Hog Roundup

PRINCETON, Mo. (AP)—"Who-o-o, pig, sootie!"

This mournful wail is not unfamiliar to northeast Missouri but it would have startled any native who ventured forth on U.S. Highway 136 east of here Tuesday night.

Crawling along the snow-packed road came a pair of cars, red light flashing. At frequent intervals, the hog call sounded from inside.

Calling the hogs was Sheriff Clay Delameter. Answering the call were 102 hogs. They trailed Delameter's car a mile and a half from the scene of a truck wreck to a livestock barn here. Behind the hogs came seven autos, whose drivers volunteered for the roundup.

The truck was carrying 118 hogs from Unionville, Mo., to Kansas City when it overturned during a snow storm.

Escapes Charged Cost Of Return

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Now an escaped prisoner, if captured, can be charged the cost of bringing him back behind bars.

Take the case of burglar Ronald Mules, who escaped Massachusetts Reformatory in 1958. He was arrested at Jefferson City, Mo.

Superior Court Judge Frank J. Donahue Tuesday ordered Mules to pay $591 in $50 monthly installments the cost of returning him to Massachusetts. Repayment begins after he completes a five-year term for burglary.

Actress Divorces Trombone Player

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Her husband spent most of his time at musical jam sessions, television actress Roxanne Berard testified. She said this led her to the conclusion that marriage to a musician was "just jam and no bread."

Miss Berard, 23, won a divorce Tuesday from Willie Dennis, 36, a trombone player, after testifying: "My husband would leave to play and forget to come home."

Texans Are Top Bidders

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Top bidders in New Mexico's monthly sale of state oil and gas leases Tuesday were from Midland, Tex.

The transactions brought the state $335,280.

In the sealed bid phase, Tetaco Inc. of Midland paid $157,431 an acre for a total of $25,169.93 for acreage in the east half of the southwest quarter of Section 31, township, about 10 miles southwest of Monument.

In the oral bidding the best per acre bid was $141.38 turned in by Ralph Lowe of Midland. He paid $31,000 for Sections 5 and 4 of Township 17, about 25 miles southwest of Lovington.

Brownsville To Replace Manager

BROWNVILLE (AP)—The city commission said Tuesday it would replace Gene Gatlin as city manager.

The news, in a joint statement issued by the commission, came as a surprise. Mayor J. C. George denied last week that Gatlin would be replaced.

The statement said the future of Brownsville "called for a city manager of broader and more diversified experience." Gatlin was not immediately available for comment.

Gatlin came here in February 1959 from a similar post at Edinburg, Tex.
