

Galveston Storm Described By Former Resident

The Galveston storm of 1943 was comparable in intensity to those of 1900 and 1915. This was indicated in a letter to Mrs. W. O. Richards of Wellington from her daughter, Mrs. Ray Wall, of Galveston. The letter follows:

"Well, we have lived through one now that is as famous as the 1900 and 1915 storms. Fortunately the wind came from a different direction to what most storms do, so there was no high tide. The town was flooded—but from rain water. It simply fell in sheets.

I will go back to the general background and give you a history of it as it happened. We knew that there was a storm in the Gulf, so we tied the shutters and closed up everything and went to work as usual. About 11:00 the reports came of alarming nature, and we went home. By the time I got home the wind was so strong that I could hardly stand up but I got the car put up and got myself in the house. I was soaking wet. By then the wind was beginning to moan and scream. I drew the bath tub full of water and all the cooking utensils and put out the pilots on the heater and oven. Lee and Polly were out of town and I had the place to myself. The water began to come in around the windows and over the windows and under the doors, and I mopped. I had to move the bed and take all the curtains and shades down. The house shook until the ash trays slid off the tables and I had to move the glass ware back to keep it from falling out of the china closet. I never seemed afraid. But I guess I was for when it was all over I was completely exhausted—and not all from mopping water. We got by swell. The flue blew off, the big tree in front blew down and the back fence was leaning, the paper in the whole house except in the kitchen was all spotted. The bedroom is very bad—but in comparison to some of the town, that was nothing. The roofs of so many houses blew off or partly off and all the furniture and clothes are wet and ruined. Our feeling is one of gratitude. Ray got home about 7:00. I was not looking for him at all, but the bay was not very rough and the boats got across without any trouble. But he waded water waist deep getting home. I was surely glad to see him. Todd's was real.

41-Year-Old Gunner Prisoner Of Germans

Staff Sgt. Maurice Crain, former New York newspaper man and famous in the United States Air Forces because of his advanced age—41—was safe with six of his flying comrades has been reported as being safe in a Nazi prison camp.

Crain, the brother-in-law of Mrs. Newton Crain, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Bell of Wellington, had previously been reported missing in action. Last Saturday the Red Cross announced that he and six other members of the Flying Fortress "Mary Ruth" survived their crash in German territory and had been taken prisoners.

Six communities of Collingsworth County need to report to the AAA office for their land measured for conservation payments. Millard Brown pointed out this week that Midway, Shinnery, Dodson, Fresno, Swearingen, Rolla and Wellington have been measured.

Dates for farmers in the other communities range from August 2 to August 18. There is no penalty for failure to observe the dates, but it can and probably will cause a delay in the payments of the conservation benefits.

This year the communities are grouped by letters and not by their old and familiar names. For instance, some of those that have been measured are community A. This includes Midway and Shinnery. Community B consists of Dodson and Fresno.

The dates and the initial letter of others follow:
E. August 2, 3 and 4—Cross Roads, Lillie, Salt Fork.
F. August 5-6—Quail.
G. August 7-9—Ring, Marella.
H. August 9-10—Dozier, Lone Mound, Abra.
I. August 11-12-13—Sammor.

C. A. Faulk Dies August 2, After Long Illness

Charles A. Faulk, 80, died at his home in Wellington Monday, August 2, after having been ill for three years. Some ten days ago he was stricken with paralysis and never regained consciousness.

Funeral services were held at the Chapel of the Kelso Funeral Home Tuesday morning with Rev. H. H. Kinkeade in charge. Interment will be made in the Clover cemetery.

Mr. Faulk was born in Sweden Sept. 22, 1862. When he was seven years old his parents moved to the United States and settled in Missouri. He lived there until 1906 at which time he bought a ranch in New Mexico near Melrose. After spending 22 years on this ranch he traded it to W. M. Cook in 1928 and has been operating the business in Wellington until he became ill and his daughter and son-in-law moved here to help him with the business.

Mr. Faulk was a member of the Presbyterian Church and of the Modern Woodmen of the World. His wife died five years ago. He is survived by one son, Ernest A. Faulk of Independence, Kansas, one daughter, Mrs. E. C. Pease of Wellington, and a sister, Mrs. Josie M. Suter of Phoenix, Arizona.

Mr. Faulk was a quiet retiring man.

Chapman Remodels Interior Of Store On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chapman completed redecorating the interior of their newsstand and confectionery this week. Both the wall and the ceiling have been painted white which increases the illumination and has added to the appearance of their place of business.

This week also marks the 30th anniversary of the founding of the place of business. Before starting his store in Wellington, Mr. Chapman farmed in the county, and he recalls that he made three bales of cotton on 100 acres in 1913 and this caused him to decide to go into some other business.

Three Streets Improved Here

The City of Wellington completed retopping work on three streets last week. Streets on which the work was done were West Ave., Fifteenth Street and the south part of East Avenue. Bura Handley estimated that the total cost of the project to be $2,300.

Wellington Schools Plan Full Schedule Despite War

Consumption Of Water Reaches All Time High

Consumption of water reached an all-time high last week, according to Bura Handley, water works superintendent. On Tuesday, July 27, 483,900 gallons were used and the pumping for other days was over the 450,000 mark. There is plenty of water in the wells, but at the present time the pumping facilities are being used to capacity during the day.

The desire of many people who are trying to save their victory gardens during the intense heat is one of the factors to which the increase is attributed. Thus far the city has been able to maintain constant pressure in all parts of town and it is believed that the supply will be ample for all purposes. The thermometer has been ranging between 104 and 110 for the past ten days.

Rockets To Start Practice Sept. 1

Coach Al Duncan said that football practice will not start until September 1 in spite of the fact that the school term will open on August 15. Rules of the Interscholastic League prevent us from starting practice before a certain date regardless of the time school starts. Coach Duncan indicated, however, that prospective members of the squad would be encouraged to take calisthenics in order to put themselves in shape for the fall season. He said that he was well pleased with the prospective squad for the 1943 season. Since a number of conference schools have dropped football, the Rockets face one of the hardest potential schedules of their entire season. Besides the conference schedule, games have been slated with Crowley, White Deer, Perryton, Canadian and Phillips.

Scouts Improving Southeast Part Of City Park

Boy Scouts of Troop 32 are collecting rock for the purpose of improving the southeast corner of the city park. Sandy Parsons, Jr., who has been in charge of the troop during the summer months in the absence of Lee Lehmburg, regular scout master, says that this part of the park has been assigned to Troop 32 in accordance with the official plan for improving the park.

During the last few weeks the Scouts have been hauling rock. The plan is to put down rock sidewalks and a curb around this part of the park. Later they will build a stone house for a meeting place and plan to put out shrubs and flowers.

More Sacrifices Lie Ahead Says Worley

Predicting a longer war and greater sacrifices than that which he said the average citizen visualizes, Congressman Eugene Worley spoke before the Kiwanis Club Friday and again on the courthouse lawn Saturday. It was his first appearance in Wellington since his election in 1940.

"I am not optimistic over the prospects of the war ending soon," Worley said. In reporting on the progress of the war, Worley mentioned the victory in Africa and the approaching victory in Sicily, but he cautioned his audiences to remember that this was only the beginning of a long and bloody struggle which must be completed before Germany is defeated.

He pointed out that Germany had been selected as the number one enemy, because it is the most

Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Johnson are conducting a revival at the Nazarene Church in Dodson. Services are held each evening at 9 o'clock and will continue until August 15. The meeting is proving successful and there were eight conversions at the Sunday morning services.

Mrs. Breedlove Dies Saturday In Wellington

Funeral services for Mrs. A. A. Breedlove were held Sunday, August 1, at the First Baptist Church in Wellington with Rev. H. H. Kinkeade in charge of the services.

Mrs. Breedlove, who had been in poor health for the past ten years, died at her home here Saturday, July 31. Pall bearers were Jess Young, Joe Compton, Dodson James, T. W. Devenport, Chester Moore and Barney Jones. Flower bearers were Helen and Ellen Adkins, Gertrude Elliott and Wilma Lee Breedlove, all of whom were granddaughters, and Lucille Batson, Mrs. J. C. Dean, Mrs. S. R. Edmonson, Mrs. Ola Wall, Mrs. B. F. Ford, Mrs. R. S. Montague, Mrs. Johanna Glasgow and Mrs. Oma Murry. Burial was in the old Wellington cemetery.

Mrs. Breedlove was born Oct. 23, 1887 at Adair, Kentucky. While she was a child her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Selby, moved to Texas.

On December 29, 1889 she was married to A. A. Breedlove in Belton, Texas. To this union nine children were born, eight of whom are still living.

At an early age she was converted and joined the Baptist Church and was an active worker until ten years ago at which time she became ill. Her unflinching kindness and her patience won the love of her neighbors and her devotion to her children and her church were an inspiration to those who knew her.

She is survived by her husband and eight children. They are: Mrs. Emma Adkins of Vinson, Oklahoma; Mrs. Mildred Cunningham.

Plans have been completed for one of the most intensive courses of study in the history of the Wellington Schools, according to Logan Cummings, superintendent. "Despite the handicaps imposed by wartime conditions, we hope to have a most successful school year," Mr. Cummings said. "We feel that it is our duty to keep the school standards up to the highest possible point, and I am extremely gratified to know that we have such an able and experienced group of teachers for the 1943 and 44 session."

Registration is to be held Thursday and Friday, August 12 and 13. Seniors will register Thursday morning. Juniors will register Thursday afternoon. Sophomores will register Friday morning and Freshmen on Friday afternoon. Junior High School and East Ward will enroll on Friday, August 13. The grades of 6, 7, and 8 are included in Junior High and those from 1 to 5 are included in East Ward.

School buses, Mr. Cummings said, will not run on Thursday, but they will run on Friday, August 13. All the bus routes will be practically the same as last year, except the bus that operated through Midway and Bean Hill. This bus will start in the Shinnery district and will follow practically the same route as it did when the Shinnery students previously came to school in Wellington. These routes are tentative and will be subject to change.

An additional bus has been added to relieve the Cross Roads bus of part of its run. This new bus will serve the Houselog students who live on the east side of Buck Creek. This extra bus was made possible when the entire Cross Roads school contracted into Wellington. This will afford better bus service to Cross Roads, Wilmulcer and Houselog districts making shorter bus routes and less time on the bus for the students.

Substantial improvements have been made in the Wellington school plant during the summer months. The office floors have been sanded and the wall painted. In addition the floors of the home economics building have been sanded and the tables varnished, and the floors in every building have been worked over. A new roof has been put on the East Ward building. The football field has been kept watered during the summer months and the turf is in good shape.

Furthermore, many new books have been added to the library, Mr. Cummings said.

The complete list of teachers follows:

High School: R. R. Percival, principal; Hattie D. Wells, dean of girls; Miss Delia Cowans, Miss Katherine Schellenberg, Miss Loeva Pierce, Alfred Duncan, Miss Bonnie Jean Smith, Mrs. Abbie Burch, Mrs. Irene Harris, Kinard Smith, Howard L. Ezell, B. O. Wilson, Tom Henry, and one teacher to be elected.

Junior High: L. C. Lehmburg, principal; Mrs. L. C. Lehmburg, Mrs. Ruth Barton, Mrs. Jewell Richards, Mrs. William Barjenbruch, Miss Marie Puckett, Miss Rama Camp, Mrs. H. H. Kinkeade, one to be elected.

Stock Feeders Can Help Solve Protein Problem

Seven important steps that livestock producers themselves should take to insure better distribution and utilization of the limited protein concentrate supply this season, as outlined by A. L. Ward, Educational Director, National Cottonseed Products Association, are:

1—Each producer of cottonseed, peanuts or other raw materials, should see to it that his seed moves promptly to the crushing mill in order that it may be converted into feed products, oil for food, and other products needed in the war.

2—Ask for, and use, only the minimum amount of feed that you must have for your livestock.

3—Adjust your livestock numbers to the feed shortage so that sudden drouth, cold, or other conditions, will not find you with more than you can feed or handle. Heavy culling now is important also to supply meat needed by our Armed Forces, civilians and allies.

4—Help protein to move in an orderly manner. Do not ask for, or expect, a year's supply in August, or in any other single month. Cooperate with your mill manager in a program that will give you feed through the season as needed—not too far in advance of your needs.

5—Follow carefully the emergency feeding recommendations that College, Experiment Station and Extension authorities have drafted in most States. These practical recommendations for each State's conditions may be obtained through County Agents, teachers and others.

6—If you can possibly do so, raise more protein in the form of legume hays, green winter pasture and other feedstuffs.

7—Save protein by saving your livestock—prevent death losses. Better care, sanitation and disease prevention, that prevent losses of weight or deaths, help to reduce waste of protein. Get rid of animals that don't use feed efficiently, then give those you keep every opportunity to produce more meat and milk per pound of feed.

Norwood To Open School Cafeteria

The Samnorwood School Cafeteria will begin operation Monday, August 2, the opening day of school, Earl R. Ponder, superintendent, announced Tuesday. As school will be in session almost all of the opening day, Mr. Ponder asked that the school children bring their lunches or come prepared to eat at the school cafeteria or elsewhere.

Regarding the cafeteria, he has made the following statement:

"We hope the children and patrons will cooperate with us to such an extent that we may make the cafeteria service even better than it was last year. We hope to keep the price of lunches down to ten cents and at the same time give the school children plenty of the kind of food that is best for them. Perhaps the food will not always be what they like best, but it will be nourishing.

"Miss Lillie Mae Armstrong is chairman of the committee in charge of the selection of food for the lunch room.

"We especially request that parents urge their children to eat a full meal, instead of buying soda pop and candy for dinner, then suffer later in the day from not having had enough food.

"The lunch room takes time of the teachers to help carry out this program that will be for the best interest of the children and patrons, but each one is giving this time gladly.

"We welcome your suggestions and ask for your cooperation."

Mr. Ponder also requested the patrons having green vegetables or fruit for sale to contact the school.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN SERVICE

North Africa
June 28, 1943

Dear Deck:

Just want to tell you I received my first issue of the Wellington Leader and want to thank you more than words can express. Needless to tell you how much I enjoy reading it. I showed the Leader to an English lad who works with me and he was amazed that a small city like ours had such a grand paper. He has been asking me many questions beforehand about our little city. When I tell the French population that I am from Texas, the first thing they think of is cowboys. They get the idea from American movies which are shown here.

As hard as it is, I am trying to get myself adjusted to this side of the "pond." I was surprised, however, with the development of this country. Nice farm homes, good roads, and beautiful buildings, especially in the larger cities. I have been to three large cities since I've been here.

I want to thank you again, Deck, and hope I will see you and the rest of my friends again some day and soon.

Sincerely,
Sgt. John Shadid.

J. A. Gordon Is Injured In Fall At Russell, Okla.

J. A. Gordon of Wellington was painfully injured Friday night, July 23, in a fall at the home of a brother-in-law, A. F. Jolley near Russell, Okla.

The accident occurred about 11 p. m. when Mr. Gordon stepped off a porch, slipped, and fell on a rock walk. His right hip was injured.

X-ray pictures showed that no bones were broken although his injuries were worse than it was at first believed. At present, he is not yet able to walk.

Mr. Gordon has been returned to his home here.

Cottonseed Use As Feed Costly And Wasteful

Present relative prices of cottonseed, grain and cottonseed meal would make the use of cottonseed as a feed a most wasteful practice and make more acute the present shortage of protein, A. L. Ward, Educational Director, National Cottonseed Products Association, Dallas, warned today in connection with reports that some farmers are considering holding cottonseed for feeding to livestock.

"Cottonseed is not a protein feed, because of the oil, hull and linter content," Ward said. "Feeding trials at Experiment Stations indicate that cottonseed is more of a carbohydrate feed than a protein feed, and therefore may replace part of the grain in the ration; but farmers would do better to use any of the grains, which cost less than the price they will receive for cottonseed. By selling a ton of cottonseed, a farmer will obtain enough to buy more than a ton of grain, and he will not be reducing the available supply of protein feed and products needed in the war effort."

"These facts proved by Experiment Stations are most important to farmers, can save them thousands of dollars, make it possible to produce more milk and meat from the available grain, and increase the supply of cottonseed meal which is produced from cottonseed."

Four basic products one from cottonseed—cottonseed meal (or cake), cottonseed oil, cottonseed hulls and cotton linters—he explained. Cotton linters make smokeless powder and other explosives, plastics for fighting planes, and other war materials, and the government expects to use at least 75 per cent of all linters for war purposes. Cottonseed oil is one of the major fats produced in the United States. Fats already are rationed and housewives are saving them to overcome the shortage which will become more critical if any large volume of fat-producing material is withheld or wasted.

"I do not believe any farmer who knows these facts will want to take the financial loss to himself, to say nothing of the loss to the war effort, that he takes when he fails to sell his cottonseed and holds it for feeding livestock," Ward said.

Southwestern Life Gains 12 Million

A gain of more than $12,000,000 in insurance in force for the first six months of 1943—greatest recorded for any similar period since 1929—was the record announced to directors of Southwestern Life Insurance Company by G. F. O'Donnell of Dallas, president, at their July meeting. The gain was reported in information received here today by the Southwestern Life representative, J. T. Forbis.

President O'Donnell announced that the company now has more than $435,000,000 of insurance in force on the lives of Texas citizens.

The company observed its 40th anniversary as a Texas business on July 4, having been chartered and begun business on that date in 1903.

135 Books Are Collected In Local Drive

Approximately 135 books and 300 magazines have been collected for the station hospital at the Childress Army Air Field, S. R. Pinkston, who was in charge of the drive, said Wednesday morning.

Sponsoring the collection of these was the Wellington Rotary Club.

"We want to express our sincere thanks to every person who donated either books or magazines. If you could know just how much these things mean to the men confined to the hospital, there would be no doubt in your mind that you have done a good thing," Mr. Pinkston said.

"The club is well pleased with the response here. You are interested in the welfare of these men, and both they and the officers stationed at the hospital appreciate it."

The drive was concluded Friday, when Boy Scouts of Wellington conducted a house to house drive over the city picking up books local citizens wished to donate. A part of the books and magazines have already been delivered to the hospital. The remainder will be taken over within a few days.

"Come, be blessed and be happy", says the hospitable Icelander when he meets a stranger. That's a warm way of putting it, but no more friendly than the way American soldiers say it. ## Famous Old XIT Ranch Headquarters Sold

By ALBERT LAW

DALHART.—One of the most historic spots in Texas has changed owners.

Buffalo Springs, the original No. 1 division headquarters of the famed three-million acre XIT Ranch, which became the largest in the world under fence, has been sold to C. D. Shamburger, Wichita Falls lumberman and rancher.

The sale has been announced in Dalhart by Cecil C. Jones, Texas Panhandle overseer for the Capitol Freehold Land Trust with headquarters in Chicago. Jones' offices are in Dalhart.

Shamburger takes possession in 60 days and presumably will add the 8,600 acres that go along with the old headquarters to the S. A. L. Morgan and other ranches that he has accumulated in that area. Charlie Dyke is the Shamburger ranch foreman.

The main residence, the weather-beaten bunk house, and portions of the corrals and sheds at the Springs, 40 miles north of Dalhart, are the oldest structures in Dallam County.

They were built in the early 1880's, nearly 20 years before Dalhart was founded in 1901. They antedated the first railroad to cross the Northwest Texas Panhandle. The Burlington System, comprising the Ft. Worth & Denver and Colorado & Southern, built through the Texas Panhandle into New Mexico and Colorado about 1887.

The XIT ranch became one of the most famous in the world because of the unprecedented circumstances surrounding it. Texas, the largest state in the union, traded this ranch, which became the largest in the world under fence, for a capitol building which is the largest state capitol on the North American continent and with a dome towering seven feet higher than the capitol dome in Washington.

Fire destroyed the old Texas capitol Nov. 9, 1881. A special legislative session, called by Gov. Oran M. Roberts, struck a bargain with Charles B. and John V. Farwell, brothers and Chicago financiers, under which they would build a $3,000,000 capitol at Austin and accept three million acres in payment.

By ox-power and a specially-built railroad, Burnet County's famous red granite was transported to Austin for the historic structure which is still the seat of government.

The Farwell's borrowed money in England to develop the ranch, and on this fact probably hangs the myth that the ranch belonged to Englishmen. The debt was liquidated in 1909.

In 1885 the first cattle, long of leg and horn, rolled onto the XIT. Thousands of hoofs drummed along the trail, and the Longhorns were pushed on to the No. 1 division headquarters at Buffalo Springs. Once the ranch ran 150,000 cattle.

Ab Blocker, a Tom Green County trail driver, rolled the first trail herd up to the Springs a July morning in 1885. Another driver had been ahead of him, but that last night the wily Blocker had roused his men, swung his herd in a wide circle around the other man and about dawn arrived at his destination.

H. H. (Barbecue) Campbell, first general XIT manager who once ordered a carload of brown cigarette papers for his cowhands, still hadn't decided on a brand.

"It's got to be run with a straight iron," Campbell told Blocker, "and it's got to be one rustlers can't burn over."

Blocker studied a few moments then scratched out an "XIT" in the dust of the Spring's corrals. "Git to brandin'" Campbell yelled.

Blocker, now 87 and still living near Freer, Tex., burned the first XIT on a cow critter.

The original three million acres covered portions of ten counties—Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Palmer, Castro, Bailey, Lamb, Cochran, and Hockley. This fact probably has helped perpetuate the myth that XIT stands for "Ten in Texas."

Blocker was asked about that when he attended the Annual XIT Reunion at Dalhart several years ago. He said XIT didn't mean "Ten in Texas," "Such an idea," he said, "never entered my mind when I scratched out the brand that old Barbecue accepted."

In its entirety the ranch sprawled from the old Yellow House headquarters, near what is now

GOBMANDOS

Keeping fingers and toes from being trampled is one of the jobs these Coast Guardsmen learn while taking the invasion and commando course at Brigantine, S. J., as they clamber up and down a 15-foot landing net.

Lubbock, northward to the Oklahoma Panhandle line in an irregular strip about 30 miles wide.

The ranch began to sell off its cattle about 1912, and then began to sell its acreage so that now the unsold portion is less than ten per cent of the original total. However, the Capitol Freehold Land Trust is still run by heirs of the original owners.

The Springs got their name from the fact that perpetual springs feed a small stream that meanders past the ancient headquarters. This water supply has never failed, even in the Panhandle's most searing droughts.

Wilbur Depauw Gets Promotion

Chief Wilbur L. Depauw started work at Pantex on April 24, 1942, when the plant was in its first stages of construction. At that time he worked as a regular guard, and his duties consisted each day of nine hours of walking his post.

He was a conscientious guard and was promoted to Sergeant of Guards after a few months. In this position he was over 33 to 40 regular guards. His ability to work with his fellow men merited him the appointment of Lieutenant and he was promoted to Captain of Guards on March 15, 1943. He worked in the capacity of Captain of Guards for two months, at which time he was made Executive Officer, and from Executive Officer he was promoted to Chief of Guard Department on August 1, 1943.

This is the highest position to be obtained in this department, and having worked up to this position from that of a regular guard, Chief Depauw has acquired quite a name for himself at Pantex.

Miss Rhunell Fielding left last Friday for Dallas where she will visit her sisters, Mrs. Bob Johnson and Mrs. F. C. Ford, for a few days.

It's Down Where The North Begins

AUSTIN.—Where does the North begin? At the equator, of course.

That question is answered in a new government film which the University of Texas Visual Instruction Bureau has added to its stock, for circulation to Texas schools, civic and community groups.

Called "Down Where the North Begins," this film tells the story of Ecuador—its geography, history and customs.

Another new motion picture, "Venezuela Moves Ahead," also comes from the same government agency, Officer of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs.

Galveston Storm -

ly damaged. The houses just collapsed. The wind was a straight wind and if the foundations were weak they just tumbled in and many of them did. I do not see how there could have been so much damage and no one killed in the houses. It was terrible about the men on the Engineer's barge. People have simply had so many storm reports in the past years and no storm has come until we paid no attention to the warnings. We did not even turn on our radio to get the report in the morning. Some of the girls who work for Ray called him and asked about staying at home and he called them "cream puffs." Lots of people are blaming the weather bureau, but I think we are to blame for none of us paid any attention to the warnings—besides tying the shutters and getting a supply of candles.

But the worst part of a storm is the aftermath. It is a mess. Our school building was the worst damaged. The roof blew off just over my office and you ought to see it. All my cabinets were full of water—my typewriter may be ruined. I do not know whether it can be fixed or not. We have sent it in and the man said that was his 100th wet machine. We worked until afternoon yesterday and we were all exhausted, so Mr. Graham sent us home and I went home and canned 12 pints of tomatoes that Polly's mother had sent us. Ray did not work yesterday afternoon so he put up the shades and curtains and propped up the tree and cleaned up part of the yard. We came back to work this morning and my finger nails are all broken and my hands are a mess but we have a lot of the soiled, sodden mess out. The water was off only 24 hours and our telephone came on last night, but no electricity and no sign of any. I would give a dollar and I do not mean maybe for a little glass of ice water. No lights and more than no refrigeration. All restaurants are closed and there is no milk except for babies and no eggs and no fresh eats of any kind. I have enough to eat if we just could have a cool drink. And an electric fan would not be a miss in this hot office. I had intended to quit work yesterday but from present indications I will be back some of next week until I can get the things in my office in a decent shape.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN SERVICE

Ft. Knox, Ky.
July 30, 1943

Dear Deck,

Just a line to tell you how much my husband and I enjoy The Leader. We read every line in it and then go back and read it again. Being so far from home makes it nice to read home town news. Just like a visit home.

Every week we read about some of the boys from Wellington who are stationed at Ft. Knox. I guess I'm just unlucky but I've never been able to run across any of them. Every time I go any where I look at every soldier trying to see some one I know. I had several letters from Billy Hatch before he went to Texas. He said he was coming over as soon as his basic training was over but he left for Texas. Since we have quarters on the post, I'd like to extend an invitation to any of the kids from home to visit us at any time they can. We'd be so proud to have any of them. We live at 21-A-Daviess Ave., Goldville, which is located by Godman Field where my husband is stationed. I thought maybe if I wrote you and you printed the letter that the boys who get The Leader would see it.

I was so sorry to hear and read about the death of L. D. Stone and Olen Goodner. You never know who will be next.

Well, Deck, here's hoping that some of the kids read this letter in the paper and come over. Even though we've been away from Wellington for sometime, it's still home and how nice it would be to come back there again soon to see everyone.

Always,
Tech. Sgt. and Mrs.
James E. Oice

P. S. People will probably remember me better as Ola B. Killingsworth.

(Editor's Note: The following letter was written by Ray Beattie from North Africa to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Beattie, Rt. 2, Wellington, Texas.)

Dear Folks:
I will try and answer your letters I have gotten. I also have gotten several papers since we have moved. We have our hospital set up and running now. It surely gets hot here.

I will try to tell you some of the places I have been, or all I can tell of. I visited Oran, Africa, which was a very interesting place. The Arabs are what beats me the way they live and do things. I don't think they have changed since Christ was here. If they have it is very little.

I will be very glad when the day comes when we all can come home. You write as often as you can and I will try and do the same. Tell Jay I got his letter.

Love,
Ray.

Kin Send Many Packages To War Prisoners

"Stalag," "Dulag" or "Oflag," might be just three more German words to most people but to hundreds of American families they mean the addresses where their brothers, husbands or fathers are held prisoners of war in German camps. Stalag is an abbreviation of a German word meaning a prison camp for privates, Oflag is a permanent officers' prison camp, and Dulag is a transient camp. But whatever the camp, it is such an address on the labels furnished next of kin of captured United States personnel by the office of provost marshal general which enables them to mail parcels to their brothers and husbands.

Italian prison camps are designated by P. G. and P. M., followed by a designating number. The P. M. is an area and the P. G. is a specific camp.

Through April 30, 1943, the American Red Cross had been informed of the dispatch of 31,889 parcels from Geneva to American soldiers in German and Italian prison camps.

The standard American Red Cross prisoner of war food parcel contains powdered whole milk, oleomargarine fortified with vitamin A, American cheese, pork luncheon meat, corned beef, liver pate, salmon, dried prunes, orange concentrate, army biscuits, sugar, coffee, chocolate, cigarettes and soap. Each parcel weighs eleven pounds, more than eight of which are food.

The International Red Cross has been instructed to dispatch sufficient standard American Red Cross food parcels so that one may be distributed each week to each United States prisoner. Other United Nations prisoners of war receive American Red Cross food parcels, which are purchased by foreign Red Cross societies, governments in exile and private relief organizations. Parcels for American prisoners are paid for by the army and navy.

New regulations have been issued by which close relatives of United Nations prisoners of war may send standard food parcels to identified prisoners in Europe through the American Red Cross. These regulations, now effective, can be obtained from local Red Cross chapters, and cover prisoners of Belgian, Polish, Yugoslav, Norwegian, Dutch, Greek and other nationalities. Prisoners held by Japan are not included in the new regulations, due to present lack of transportation facilities to the far east.

In addition to food parcels delivered each week, articles of clothing and other supplies are delivered to Americans in prison camps as they are needed. In March, 1943, the following distribution of such articles was reported by the international committee to the American Red Cross: 900 overcoats, 1,308 pairs of shoes, 1,325 shirts, 1,280 undershirts, 1,306 shorts, 2,280 pairs of socks, 2,660 handkerchiefs, 185 trousers, 130 army caps, 130 gloves, one case disinfectant, 100 toilet sanitary articles.

The same type of standard food parcel is distributed weekly to all American prisoners of war, and is paid for by the United States army and navy. Private parcels may be sent direct to American prisoners whose next of kin reside in the United States, to whom labels are issued by the office of the provost marshal general, war department, Washington, D. C., or by any individual to whom the next of kin transfers his label. Labels issued by the department of war services, Ottawa, Canada, to next of kin in the United States of captured members of the Canadian forces authorize the sending of a private parcel each ninety days.

The American Red Cross does not accept contributions for the standard food parcels for United States prisoners, but does accept unrestricted contributions for general relief to United States prisoners, applying to such funds to the purchase and shipment of medical supplies, cigarettes, tobacco and other comfort articles not provided by the army and navy.

The new regulations do not apply to civilians living in enemy occupied countries.

Texas Women Give Silk

AUSTIN.—Enough silk and nylon to make 140,000 powder bags for three-inch naval guns were contained in hosiery collected and shipped to war production points from Texas up to June 16, the state salvage committee reported.

Cotton Acreage Far Below Expected Total

WASHINGTON.—The agriculture department reported recently that there were 21,995,000 acres of cotton in cultivation on July 1, a reduction of 1,307,000 acres from last year.

The department did not estimate 1943 production. But a normal yield of 215 pounds of lint cotton per acre would result in a crop slightly less than 10,000,000 bales—nearly 3,000,000 bales less than last year.

The acreage was 505,000 under the 1943 goal and more than 25 per cent less than the 1932-41 average, the department reported.

Assuming a ten-year average abandonment of acreage, an acreage of 21,576,000 was indicated for harvest this year. That would be the smallest year since 1895.

Reduced acreages from last year were reported for all states except Mississippi where the increase was approximately two per cent, and North Carolina where the increase was a fraction of one per cent.

Texas reported a reduction of 380,000 acres, Oklahoma 292,000 acres, Georgia 155,000 acres, Alabama 152,000 acres, and Arkansas 101,000 acres. The department said a large part of the acreage decrease in Oklahoma and Arkansas was due to flood losses during May and early June.

Giving New Look To Old Shoes Is Shoeman's Problem

TULSA, Okla.—Shoe rationing has added another service to the duties of footwear repair shops.

That is re-styling. Ever since the shoe "freeze" last February, local repairmen say, people have been ransacking attics for castoff shoes and bringing them to repairmen.

They want the shoes made to look like something that was purchased with the aid of stamp No. 17.

The women have been loading the shops with shoes with the pointed toes and French heels of the 1930-35 period, many only slightly worn.

The girls want the toes cut out, the heels changed, and the uppers re-styled. Generally, with a few changes here and there, the repairmen are able to oblige.

National Debt 140 Billion

The federal government broke all records for spending money in the fiscal year which ended Wednesday, yet failed to spend it as fast as the budget provided for.

In these historic 12 months, the treasury laid out more than $80,000,000,000. Tanks, planes, ships and all other war costs accounted for $71,500,000,000. The budget had set aside $74,000,000,000 for war purposes.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Commodity Credit Corporation, and other governmental corporations operated at a loss (difference between expenses and revenues), of about $2,100,000,000, according to the treasury books, compared to an expected loss provided for in the budget of $5,041,000,000.

The gap between revenues and expenses left plenty of room for the sale of war bonds to finance the deficit. The treasury borrowed enough during the year to run the public debt from about $76,000,000,000 to more than $140,000,000,000.

Editorial

Collingsworth just as many other agricultural communities has a traditional neighborliness. Many stories have been published in The Leader in other years and months of neighbors helping a farm family in distress and of communities joining together for a more efficient use of their combined talents.

For that reason The Leader feels that its readers may be interested in similar happenings elsewhere. Here are some of the examples:

Although rural women are as busy now as they have ever been in their lives, they still find time to be good neighbors, says Bess Edwards, assistant state home demonstration agent for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Mrs. Carl Anderson, Dallas County home demonstration club woman, who has helped others through answering 92 telephone calls—most of them about food preservation. And on numerous occasions, Mrs. Anderson has loaned her pressure cooker and sealer, teaching her neighbors how to use this equipment properly.

Recently Mrs. Margaret Yost of San Benito heard of two tomato fields soon to be plowed. She rounded up some neighboring women and took them to the fields, where they picked enough tomatoes to save 10 gallons of juice and 175 No. 2 cans of the fruit. Both the owner of the tomatoes and Mrs. Yost were being good neighbors, Miss Edwards says, saving food that otherwise would have been wasted.

Mrs. C. B. Smith of Kleberg County can testify that her fellow club members are good neighbors. When the Smiths burned recently, women in the community provided a "shower" of dishes, towels, and glassware to make the new home—a converted barn—more livable.

Neighborhood leaders in Floyd County have been helping meet the labor situation. Not long ago J. C. Ginn learned that three of his neighbors needed hands to help with the wheat harvest. Through Mr. Ginn's efforts, four extra men soon were at work in the fields, saving Mr. Ginn's neighbors 109 miles of travel and loss of time from the farm.

These friendly instances of co-operation make for efficiency, sufficiency and peace in the individual community. From the results in their own community farm people should be the first to recognize the importance of being good neighbors with

Other Editors Say

• Those Who Speak The Truth

The real truth is spoken more often today by small ministers, country newspaper editors and some radio commentators than it is by men who move in more impressive circles. These men who work in the humbler situations are more independent. They express themselves with a greater freedom. They have no fear of offending political leaders and being deprived of patronage or having their source of information closed to them by powerful offenders. They are the grass roots voice of the nation.—Fairfield Recorder.

• Canning Forges Ahead

Scurry County people may think The Times has stressed the idea of home canning this year for victory a little strongly, but the fact cannot be denied that those who can all the home grown foods produced will be in the head of the parade during the next 12 months.

The canning centers in operation at Hermleigh and Ira testify to the fact food conservation this year is more important than at any time in our history. Food conservation, whether it be saving of black-eyed peas, pinto beans, cucumbers or corn, will be of vital importance during the next five to 10 years—especially in view of the fact America will have to feed, one way or the other, a great portion of the world.—Scurry County Times.

• Memento

And concerning wartime conditions generally, John Olson suggests that we ought to keep the backs of ration books and some sample copies of various involved government forms and make a scrapbook to show the grandkiddies to illustrate our lecture on the good old bureaucratic days. But the horrid thought pops up that the grandchildren could probably tell us, "That was only the beginning."—The Hereford Brand.

• Feet

Ed Bishop of the Dalhart Texan picked up this poem by Theodore F. McManus: Beware the deadly sitting habit, Or, if you sit, be like the rabbit, Who keepeth even on the jump By springs concealed beneath his rump. A little giner 'neat the tail Will oft for lack of brains avail. Eschew the dull and slothful seat And move about with willing feet. Man was not made to sit a-trance And press and and press and press his pants. But rather, with an open mind, To circulate among his kind, And so, my son, avoid the snare Which lurks within a cushioned chair. To run like hell, it has been found, Both feet must be upon the ground.

• A Long Hard Row Ahead

So well do we love victory and so soon do we forget defeat that too many of us are indulging in false optimism regarding the war.

The territory we have recovered from Japan, compared to that taken from us and our allies, is as a turnip patch to a sixty section ranch.

Remember a stalemate in the Pacific is the ultimate aim of Japan and one in Europe would be victory for Hitler.—W. R. Rutherford in The Moore County News.

other nations. Few things are as important to the future of farm people as fair trade with the rest of the world.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

Hibiscus flaunts its big, crimson blossoms down in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and bougainvillea's light purple is all around. Thousands and thousands of orange and grapefruit trees line the highway and, in season, are radiant in blossoms and fruit. Then there are olive trees and lemon trees as well as palm trees of contrasting kinds—one a chunky "explosion" of dense green leaves, the other a slim and graceful trunk crowned with foliage.

Then there are mocking-birds and butterflies, the Gulf of Mexico and the Rio Grande with "a foreign land only a step away."

With this tropical wonderland of beauty, perfume and song in Texas, nevertheless it is estimated that only a million out of our 6,500,000 inhabitants have ever visited the region. It is probable that more of the inhabitants of the upper half of the State have viewed much more distant but less charming Southern California.

This should not be. Texans should see their own Magic Valley at their first opportunity.

Jim Grisham, Dallas attorney who used to practice law in West Texas, has a droll sort of wit. One day, a young lawyer of the oil boom town who had very little learning or experience, met Grisham and exclaimed, "I've just been paid a thousand-dollar fee to represent a man accused of murder. If you were me, what would you do?" Grisham solemnly answered, "I would use part of the fee to hire me a good lawyer." Afterward, he related, "You know that fellow walked away, downright mad. I never could figure out why."

There once was a man from Nantucket Who kept all his cash in a bucket; But his daughter, named Nan, Eloped with a man And, as for the bucket, Nantucket.

Father followed the pair to Pawtucket— The groom and the bride and the bucket; And he said to the man He was welcome to Nan But as for the bucket, Pawtucket.

A favorite bit of philosophy: "No gentleman will offend me; no other can."

Odd Bits Of News

Production at Texas cement plants during May totaled 925,000 barrels, a 7.3 per cent gain over April, but still slightly below the May, 1942, figure, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Texans are really writing letters to boost the morale of Texas soldiers and sailors. A recent survey shows that postal receipts in 43 major Texas cities for the first half of 1943 totaled $12,016,868, a 28.6 per cent gain over the first six months of 1942.

Texas building permits for the first half of 1943 are down 64 per cent below figures for the first six months of 1942, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Third War Loan Drive

Fifteen billion dollars is the goal for the Third War Loan which President Roosevelt has proclaimed will be launched September 9. In his proclamation the President said, "Our need for money now is greater than ever, and will continue to grow until the very day that Victory is won; so we must ask far more sacrifice, far more co-operation than ever before."

Army Photo Service

The Army's radio photo service, which made it possible for the public to see newspaper pictures of the assault on Sicily on the same day that the invasion was launched, will be augmented in the immediate future by the same type of transmission from the South Pacific theatre, the War Department has announced. Personnel of the U. S. Army Signal Corps, with their equipment, are now in Australia, finishing preparation for the new service.

Supply Of Fats, Oils

Despite heavy wartime demands on the supply of edible fats and oils (principally lard, butter, shortening, and margarine), 44 pounds per capita—about 5 pounds less than in 1942—will be made available to American civilians during the 12 months ending June 30, 1944, the War Food Administration has announced. Of the total civilian allocation, approximately 9 ounces per week per capita will be available for direct purchases, and an additional 4 1-2 ounces for indirect consumption in such items as restaurant meals, bakery products, mayonnaise, etc.

With other living costs relatively stable, a drop in fresh vegetables and butter prices cut the cost of living for city workers by 0.2 percent in the month ending June 15—the first month to show a reduction since a year before Pearl Harbor, the U. S. Department of Labor reported recently. Food prices as a whole, making up over 40 percent of the cost of living index, declined 0.8 percent. The cost of living index now stands at 124.8 percent of the 1935-39 average. Food prices are 45 percent above January 1941 and more than 16 percent above May 1942.

Cost Of Living Drops

Home Canners Warned
 Home canners have been warned by the U. S. Department of Agriculture against the use of "canning powders" and other chemical preservatives. W. G. Campbell, Commissioner of the Federal Food and Drug Administration, said that use of some of the "canning powders," includes boric acid and its compounds and substances like metabisulfite which yield sulfur dioxide when brought in contact with an acid-reacting food product. The safe way for the home canner is to process foods adequately with heat and not to use chemical preservatives. For safety's sake, rely on thorough heat sterilization.

Point Reduction

The provision permitting retailers to make emergency reductions in the point values of rationed meats, fats and dairy products in imminent danger of spoiling, which was to expire July 31, has been extended indefinitely, OPA has announced.

Storage Of Potatoes

Arrangements have been completed to provide additional storage facilities for handling the late crop of 1943 Irish potatoes, the War Food Administration has announced. WPB has approved the allocation of materials for the construction of storage facilities sufficient to take care of 15 million bushels of potatoes. Farmers should apply to their County War Boards for approval to begin construction.

Fewer New Tires

Smaller quotas of new passenger car tires for August and larger quotas of used and recapped tires have been announced by OPA, based on rationing allotments assigned for the month by the Office of Rubber Director. The August quota of Grade 1 tires is the lowest since last April. OPA officials warned that drivers who are eligible for new tires may have to accept used or recapped types as long as the quota of new tires is low.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

With Virginia on her vacation something has to be put in this space; so you find this column written at an earlier time. Here is hoping that by the time we print the last run Wednesday the weather will be different.

Dr. E. W. Jones came by to ask me if I were going to attend the big barbecue F. O. Masten is throwing Wednesday afternoon. I told him that I had not been invited, but that if I could wind up my business that I would go without an invitation. But the prospects look dark right at this time.

John Jones repeated his old remark that this county could promise more and make less and promise less and make more than any place he knew, but he did not express an opinion as to what kind of a year it would be. Corbett Ford says the crops are still holding up although he admits they are needing rain. He says that ten days ago both feed and cotton were wilting badly. Although the heat did not let up the feed got greener and started heading out. Corbett thinks this is the difference between having a bottom season and not having one. His theory is that the tap roots have gone on down through the hard pan to lower moisture.

Lt. Caffee has not yet found a large dog to be a companion for his little girl. Can't someone who has a puppy of a large breed or a young dog help out on this.

I had been intending to buy a turkey this fall, but I read that the Government wanted the first 10,000,000 pounds of turkey meat for the men in the Armed Forces. That is o.k. with me. I can do without turkey for years if it means anything to the boys in the Aleutians, the Southern Pacific, North Africa or Sicily.

So I have contracted with Joe Baumgardner for a goose for next Thanksgiving. The weight is to be 16 pounds or more and the price has been set. My wife does not like to dip the grease off a goose and I may have to pick it, but I do have a goose on the way.

This publicity may start a rush to the Joe Baumgardner farm, just like the one that has been taking place at B. W. Boardman's over his peaches. It was a sight to behold. In other years people might remember Mr. Boardman. He sold his fine peaches at $2.50 a bushel. My wife sent a few to a friend in Amarillo and they phoned down the day they arrived and wanted to know if they could get any more of such quality. Peaches of a much inferior grade were selling at $4.50 a bushel off the truck and for $6.00 a bushel at the retail stores. Peaches are not worth that much money, but people have gone hog wild over peaches. It is just like the onions of 1919 and the potatoes this spring.

Mrs. Noel Cudd and Tom Bryant have been running the only so-called taxis in Wellington. Now they have received a notice that they must paste a sign on their passenger cars two and one-half inches high. If they do this they cannot use the car for any personal reasons. Furthermore they cannot haul anyone outside of the city limits. They had been taking a number of men in the Armed Forces out to their farm homes. Now they must quit, or they will have no car with which to conduct their own business.

Millard Brown of the local AAA office says that they have sent out letters to the farmers instructing them of the dates that they should come in and have their land measured for the conservation payments. He is of the opinion that a lot of farmers don't read these letters, but he does think that they might read a story in the paper. Definite dates have been set for farmers of Cross Roads, Lillie, Salt Fork, Quail, Ring, Marella, Dozier, Lone Mound, Abra, Sam-sonwood, Lutie and Aberdeen. If you live in any of these communities you should read the story in another part of this paper.

While traveling from Fort Warren to Camp Forrest, Pvt. Harrell had a three-hour layover in Chicago. To him it was a most pleasant one, as the people were so unusually nice to the soldiers and tried to make them feel happy and gay while in their city.

Can This Summer's Crops for next winter's meals . . .

More really good, nutritious meals for your family this winter—more meals for everybody. Canning home produce adds another service stripe to the records of our home-front fighters. The government needs enormous quantities of canned goods to feed the men in our armed forces; some people have no facilities for gardens of their own. Patriotic garden owners are relieving the pressure of demands for canned foods by providing reserve supplies of delicious, home-canned food-stuffs for themselves this year. You'll gain by helping others.

"Those doggoned kids!"

Give 'em a screw-driver and a pair of pliers and they'll make anything run! * *

ON the hot desert sands of North Africa the colonel's "kids" found a broken-down tank, abandoned long before they arrived. They were told it couldn't be fixed. That was a dare to boys who loved machinery—they'd fixed everything from washing machines to tractors. They worked on the old tank . . . and eventually it grunted, lurched, and roared across the field!

* * *

That's a true story. We have a hunch some of those boys were West Texas youngsters—it sounds just like 'em! It's typical of boys you know in your home town. Remember how they took that old jalopy? They made it run! And the ancient farm tractor? They kept it going years after you thought it was ready for the junk pile.

Folks in West Texas want to make things run. We've all got in the habit of rolling up our sleeves and pitching in when there's a job to do. Call it free enterprise . . . or initiative. It's the spirit that has made America great.

The folks in our company have that sort of spirit. Years ago they saw a need for electricity that was more plentiful and dependable than ever before. Transmission lines extending into the most remote spots in West Texas, bringing good, cheap electric service to both large and small towns alike, were the answer to that need, they believed. They pitched in—built the lines and the power plants. They got the job done.

Today, although plagued by shortages of help and materials, they're making this electric system work. They've got the know-how to keep it running . . . without rationing . . . and without increased cost to you!

Canning Center Provides Place For Saving Food For The Home Front Fighters

Keep Vitamins In Home Canned Tomatoes

The tomato rates respect because it is chockful of vitamins (A and C), those invisible spark plugs that keep one feeling fit.

Because tomatoes are an important food, it is imperative that every one not needed for immediate use be saved by canning, but they must be canned right, else there will be little or no vitamin

C left in them. Undue exposure to air after the skins are removed and over-cooking in an uncovered container destroy vitamin C. This is one reason that tomatoes should be prepared and canned as quickly as possible. Usually whole tomatoes have more food value than tomato juice, partly because a considerable amount of vitamin A is lost in the pulp that fails to go through the strainer when the juice is made, but mainly because greater exposure to air destroys vitamin C.

If you want first-class canned tomatoes, use freshly gathered, firm-ripe, sound fruit—one small bad spot can ruin a whole batch. Wash the tomatoes before scalding; scald a few at a time. Remove all core, slip off the skins, and cut away green spots. Pack the tomatoes tight into clean hot jars—this is best done by pressing each tomato down with a wooden spoon. Add salt to season to suit your taste—the usual amount is one teaspoon to the quart. Seal jars according to manufacturer's instructions and process 35 minutes in hot water bath. If tomatoes are not fresh from the garden, process 45 minutes.

No juice can be better than the fruit from which it is made, so be sure to use strictly fresh, firm-ripe, red tomatoes, which are free from all decay. Wash well and cut away any green spots or weather cracks. Weather cracks are those splits that form around the stem ends when hot sunshine follows a hard rain. Such tomatoes are unfit for canning or juice unless used immediately after picking. Leave the tomatoes whole and steam or bake them until they are soft; then press through a fine sieve, preferably a cone-shaped one; reheat the juice to simmering; pour into sterilized jars and process 30 minutes at simmering. The pulp will separate from the juice unless a very fine sieve is used or if too much heat is applied at any time. Oh, so you boil the juice in an open kettle until it is thick? Well, that's a fine way to get rid of most of those precious vitamins.

The best tasting juice is that made by pressing whole home canned tomatoes through a sieve just before serving. Any seasonings liked may be added before canning but the juice will be better if seasonings, except salt, are added when the juice is opened for serving, and even the salt may be left out.

Members of the Abra Home Demonstration Club and their families enjoyed a picnic supper last Thursday night at the Abra School house. A delicious picnic supper was followed by homemade ice cream.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN SERVICE

North Africa July 18th, 1943

Dear Deck: Was just looking over the Wellington Leader, of Pvt. Raper's, and was certainly glad to see one, as it brings back old memories.

I noticed the article asking for photographs of the county men in service, so happen to have one, and thought I would send it to you, as it might interest some of my relatives there to know where I am.

Well Deck, there is nothing that I can tell you that would get by, except it sure is getting hot over here. If you have room for this little note, would appreciate you printing this.

With kindest personal regards, I am

As ever, S-Sgt. Marvin Richards P. S. Have lost the snap-shot, will send letter anyway.

San Diego, Calif. July 27, 1943

Dear Mr. Wells and Staff:

I thought I would drop you a few lines to let you know that I am another boy in the service from Collingsworth County. You may not know me personally, but you probably know my parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Shaw of Amarillo, but formerly of the Aberdeen community, where I lived for 17 years.

I spent my high school years at Samnorwood, I really enjoy seeing all my schoolmates and teachers pictures in the paper that are now in the Service. The picture of Mr. E. A. Peck was so much help to me. He was my teacher at Samnorwood. Also the picture of J. C. Young of the U. S. Coast Guard was good.

I would like to receive your paper so I can keep up with the whereabouts of my mates and to know the news of Collingsworth County.

I will close now as it is getting late and I have to go to school tomorrow.

Yours truly, James F. Shaw Williamsburg, Va. July 27, 1943

Dear Deck, I thought I would drop you a line to let you know how much I enjoy The Leader. There is not a word that I don't read in it. The old home paper makes me feel pretty good. Boys from all over the U. S. come around to my bunk to read it.

The boys up north are a little hard to get along with, but a few Texans changed their mind. They were always running the state down, saying it was the hottest state in the country. If it is then Virginia is not in the Union for this state has Texas beat a long ways. I was never in a hotter place than this. I am moving tomorrow and maybe it will be cooler where I am going.

Oh yes, I forgot to tell you I was promoted about two weeks ago to seaman second class. I went on my first liberty Thursday, saw Williamsburg. It wasn't worth much as a town so I came back to camp and went to a show. We have cheap shows here, the price is only five cents. We all have the best shows.

It looks like I will be in the laundry business when the war is over, for I am getting a good start at it. We do all our washing, then roll them ourself and an iron is never near them.

I saw where school is going to start next month. I bet a lot of the boys and girls hate it.

I have written all the news, except the chow, we never get enough to eat but yet, we are all gaining weight.

I would be glad to hear from any of my friends that want to write to a Seabee. Will be looking for The Leader soon.

Love, Don Smith.

CARD OF THANKS

Adventures of THE TOTTIES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

THE hound hitched to the wagon was a crazy acting dog, because it ran around in circles till the wagon near upset. "Let's try and catch him," Dotty cried. "Perhaps, then, we can take a ride atop that funny wagon. It will hold us all. I'll bet."

AND so they all watched for a while. Then Dotty shouted, with a smile. "He's slowing down. He's panting! I am going to pet his head. I wish we had some dog food, so the old dog could be fed."

"Give him a cracker. There are still some left and he can have his fill," said Duncy. Then the dog sat down and Dotty walked right up. "I'm going to unhitch you," said she. "Hold still and you soon will be free." Wee Duncy held a cracker out. Of course this pleased the pup.

"My goodness, he's a hungry hound. I'll bet that's why he ran around," cried Coppy. "He was looking for a bit of food to eat." The dog then licked kind Duncy's hand. "You see, he seems to understand," said Duncy, "that we're friendly, 'cause we've given him a treat."

The funny wagon stood nearby. Soon all the bunch heard Windy cry. "Say, what's the matter with this dog? I wonder what he's spied?"

"He's barking at the wagon, now. I wish that one of us knew how to open up the wagon so's to see what is inside."

(The Totties get the wagon open in the next story.)

Plant Volunteers Save Steaks-To-Be They Harvest Oats For Douglas Employe-Farmer

(The following article was published by The Tulsa Airview, a publication devoted to the activities of the employees of Douglas Aircraft workers at Tulsa. H. C. "Tex" Bennett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bennett of Lutie and a brother of Lucille Bennett of Wellington. Bennett formerly lived in this county until a few years ago when he went to California to work for Douglas Aircraft.)

By JEAN SHAFTER

"It makes you feel mighty good," says Tex Bennett, Aircraft worker and farmer, "when a bunch of guys volunteer to spend their only day off out under the broiling sun baling oats."

"You know that America's good neighbor policy is still good at home, too."

Tex, whose initials H. C. are known to no one but his family, operates a 100-acre farm in addition to working a full eight-hour shift in the Raw Stock department of Douglas Aircraft Plant at Tulsa, Oklahoma.

And he had a serious problem, one doubly serious in these rationed days: he had 50 acres of oats more than ready for harvest, and farm labor wasn't to be had.

For a while he feared the oats would rot in the fields, and that his 35 head of beefsteak-making cattle would suffer next winter.

That was until men in his department volunteered to spend Sunday helping him harvest, and to spend as many evenings afterwards as it took to get the job done.

Neighbors Help

Early Sunday morning they arrived at the Bennett farm; workmen who had already put in 48 hours at essential war work ready to put in more hours to help feed the armed forces.

Wives also came along to help tiny Mrs. Bennett in the kitchen. Tex, who stands a solid six feet two inches and who weighs 220 pounds without an ounce of fat, proved to be an organization genius. Each man was put to a different task which moved the work along rapidly and smoothly.

Tex, making the most of his opportunity, was everywhere at once. Stripped to the waist, his huge chest and shoulders already deeply tanned, he gave a hand wherever it was needed.

Works Barefoot

He said he usually worked barefoot, but wore shoes to make the others feel at home. By 1 p. m., the wives had prepared a regulation harvest Sunday dinner: fried chicken, mashed potatoes, gravy—and everything that goes with it.

By evening, just as the visiting farm hands finished 250 bales of oats, Tex's five year old son, Texas Jim, rode out on his pony to tell them there were four gallons of home-made ice cream ready. That finished the harvesting in short order, and they did the same to the ice cream.

Bennett, who was transferred to Tulsa from the Santa Monica plant, grew up on a farm in Collingsworth County and had always wanted a place of his own, but hadn't found just what he wanted until he moved to Oklahoma.

He meant only to improve the place gradually and work it thoroughly, perhaps, after the war.

Then came the food shortage. The country needed more meat. Farmers were begged to do their utmost to supply a tremendous new demand.

Tex knew about cattle and about farming. "Maybe," he thought, "I can help a little with the food situation and still keep on with my job at the plant."

Six More Hours

So he plowed up all the loco weeds and put in crops. He bought 24 head of beef cattle. It meant working six extra hours each day. It meant he wouldn't have much spare time to fix up his house, but he felt it was worth it.

That's the reason he hurries home every afternoon and spends every hour until dark working in the fields, taking care of his stock, or weeding his three-acre victory garden. After dark he milks the cows. He milks again in the morning before he starts for work.

Tiny Mrs. Bennett, who weighs about 100 pounds, takes care of the housework and all the canning. They plan to can about 400 quarts.

Bennett's 13-year-old daughter, Betty Jean, runs the tractor when she is not in school.

Five-year-old Texas Jim spends most of his days on his pony.

Monday morning all the aircraft workers were back at work none the worse except for a few stiff muscles and a good sunburn. And Tex had the feed for his cattle.

The Army now has a new simplified foot measuring machine which measures both feet at once and assures a more accurate fit of soldiers' shoes.

How time flies! Only a few more months until it'll be time to start wishing it was summer again.

The composer who wrote "Home Sweet Home" was probably thinking of the difficulties of wartime vacation travel.

Each student must pay an ink fee of 25 cents when he enrolls. Students may not take more than four major subjects. That is, no one student can take more than four full credit courses. It is possible that a straight A student may be able to get approval on another course if it is needed for graduation and the student is mature enough to need to graduate.

All students in the high school must take physical education. This is required by state law. Exemptions can be granted only upon a certificate from a doctor saying that the student should not take physical education.

we could win the war on the battlefronts and lose it on the home front. "If we allow inflation to get out of hand, we will be committing financial suicide," he said. In this connection he mentioned John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers whom he said were interested only in securing higher wages regardless of the effect this might have on the war effort.

One of the most interesting points in Congressman Worley's speech and one which has not been mentioned in the press as much as the other items he discussed concerned poison gas. "We have millions of dollars invested in poison gas," he said. "It is much more deadly than any that Japan or Germany have in their possession. We do not intend to use it unless they use it first; but they know we have it and that is the reason they have not used it up to the present time."

Worley used the item of poison gas as an illustration in explaining that every war brought tremendous waste. He frankly admitted that there was great waste in this war, but he contended that it was better to have too much rather than have too little and be too late.

In this same vein he mentioned the war contracts. He pointed out that manufacturers, contractors and other firms had to be guaranteed against going broke. The only agency that could do this was the Government. As a result wages in war centers mounted higher and higher. This is the reason that farm laborers have been attracted to war centers. But the production of war materials such as arms and ammunition should and must come first.

Congressman Worley, in closing, called upon the co-operation of every person, whether he is a farmer, business man or a laborer, in helping win the war. He said through whole-hearted co-operation of each and every one, we can end the conflict sooner and bring our boys back to their homes.

At the Kiwanis Club meeting, Congressman Worley was introduced by Judge Howard Riggs, who briefly reviewed his political career from the time he served as a state representative in Austin to the present. Guests at the special meeting of the Kiwanis Club were: F. O. Masten, L. A. Manzer, Lee C. O'Neil, S. R. Pinkston, T. J. Way, V. P. Robertson, Mrs. Mack Saied, Jack Hurst, Ben Hurst, Rev. Hubert Thomson, B. W. Beard, Pink Sullivan and J. B. Castleberry.

Judge Riggs also introduced Congressman Worley Saturday afternoon at which time he spoke on the courthouse lawn.
