Jacky Nichols and Landol Frazier made the All-Tournament team. Others doing a fine job during the tournament include Clint Summers who played outstanding defense; and Steve Hutton, the other guard looked good on defense. This pair constantly bothered the opposing teams with their pressing and ball stealing. Hutton stole the ball three times in the championship game which resulted in scores for the Bobcats.

Bob Bradford and Dicky Dyer split playing time in the fifth position. Bradford scored nine points in each of the first two games. Dicky did a good job on rebounding.

Dimmitt met Ralls in the first game of the tourney on Thursday. The victorious Bobcats played over the Ralls defense for 58 points.

The score was tied 13-13 at the end of the first period. Dimmitt forged ahead 34-26 at the half. Still maintaining their lead, the 'Cats

Kent Birdwell Announces For Tax Assessor-Collector

I, Kent Birdwell, wish to announce my candidacy for reelection to the office of Tax Assessor-Collector of Castro County, Texas, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held on May 2, 1964.

In making this announcement to the people of Castro County, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you for the cooperation and kind regards you have shown me during the past 5 years that I have been your Tax Assessor-Collector.

During these past 5 years I have strived for an equitable assessment of the property in this county and if I am elected to continue in this office I will constantly work to improve the services rendered by the office. I will continue to discharge the duties of the office in a courteous, business-like, and efficient manner to the best of my ability. If there are areas where you feel our services could be improved upon I would welcome your constructive criticism for I realize the best, most efficient service is what you have a right to expect from all public servants.

Since January, February, and March are three of our busiest months in this office, it is going to be rather difficult, if not impossible for me to get out of the office long enough to get around over the county and see each one of you personally before the time of the election on May 2nd. Therefore, I hope that you whom I do not get to see personally will accept this as an earnest solicitation of your support of my candidacy for reelection to the office of Tax Assessor-Collector of Castro County, Texas. I will make every effort to warrant your support and confidence with good service.

Sincerely,
Kent Birdwell

BILLY PATTON

Northside Church Of Christ Has New Minister

Northside Church of Christ announces the recent arrival of their new minister, Billy Patton.

The minister took over his pastoral duties December 1, 1963. Patton and his wife, Linda claim their home as Savannah, Georgia where they resided for six years.

The young minister spent 2 1/2 years as pastor of the Church of Christ in Hardesville, South Carolina.

Patton, a native Texan, was born in Lueders and graduated from Leuders High School. He spent four years serving with the U.S. Air Force. He received his first class airman rating.

The minister and his wife are home at 714 S.W. 6th.

Price Support Deadline Set January 31

Farmers who expect to place wheat, oats, barley, rye, grain sorghum, soybeans, peanuts, and dry edible beans produced in 1963 under price support loans or purchase agreements have only a short time until the deadline of January 31, according to Charley E. Hill, County ASC Manager.

Mr. Hill issued the reminder because early applications will avoid delays that could occur near the deadline. The producer who expects to place farm-stored grain under loan can expect that the necessary inspection of the storage building and testing of samples for grade and moisture content will take several days.

When the commodity is stored in a commercial warehouse, somewhat less time is required to process the loan.

APPLICATIONS FOR RELEASED ALLOTMENT—

March 4, 1964 has been set as the final date to file an application for an increase in cotton allotment from released allotments.

March 25, 1964 has been set on the final date for the County Committee to reapportion released cotton acreage.

March 4, 1964 has been set as the final date for the producers to release cotton acreage allotments which they do not intend to plant.

Shropshires Move To Shallowater

Kenneth Shropshire and his family will be leaving a large gap in the community activities of Dimmitt as he moves to Shallowater to assume his new duties as cashier of the Shallowater First State Bank.

Shropshire has served as scoutmaster for three years putting the struggling Troop 267 on its feet and headed toward a successful scouting program. The Troop sponsored by Lions Club has seen many activities including outings to place such as Tres Ritos, Oasis State Park and Cloudercroft, N.M.

The enthusiastic Scoutmaster gave of his time and himself to make an outstanding scout troop here.

With the assistance of Dan Nelson, Larry Glassmeyer, Don Parsons and the scoutmaster, the Dimmitt scouts have learned to take care of themselves, render first aid and help each other.

Integrity, good citizenship, and high character are some of the qualities imported to the Scouts through the leadership of Kenneth Shropshire.

The Scoutmaster stated Sunday afternoon, "We have a successful troop, I believe and a good troop." The Scoutmaster was acknowledged by his troop in a going away service conducted by Eagle Scout Ronnie Huckabay at 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

The Scouts showed their appreciation for the fine leadership of Kenneth Shropshire by honoring him with a short ceremony. He was also presented a gift from Troop 267.

According to Shropshire, his successor has not been chosen yet. In conclusion Shropshire commented:

PONY League Boys Needed

There has been widespread interest in sponsoring a PONY League Baseball program in Dimmitt this summer for boys between 13 and 14 years of age. The League is a National organization and has all the benefits of Little League Baseball including entering tournament play at the end of the season.

Main purpose of sponsoring this league is for boys that have finished their Little League eligibility to have a chance to continue to play baseball.

"There must be at least four teams in order to get a Sanction Application, so we are asking that all boys living in the Dimmitt School District that was born between August 1, 1949 and July 31, 1951 who are interested in playing PONY League baseball to sign up now so we will know if there is enough interested boys to field a League," says Jimmie Chapman.

Any boy or parents interested in the above program is asked to sign up at the present time with Jimmie Chapman at the Castro County News or at 401 North Broadway. Two sponsors have already agreed to sponsor one team each and with everybody's help and cooperation, this program can easily be put into operation.

"Let us emphasize that we need the signature of every boy planning to play PONY League ball to sign up within the next two weeks so further plans can be made or dropped as the situation justifies," concluded Chapman.

Farmers Urged To Pick Up Tax Guide

If you are a farmer you will make a mistake if you don't get a free copy of the "Farmer's Tax Guide." This booklet is available at the Internal Revenue Service offices and at your County Agent's office.

It's also prepared in plain old down-to-earth language that a farmer can understand. A little time ploughing through this booklet will help you reap some tax savings.

CASTRO COUNTY'S large money crop of grain sorghum will be discussed thoroughly tonight in the annual meeting of the Castro County Grain Sorghum Producers Association at 7:30 p.m. in the Junior High auditorium. See story.

Walter Rogers' WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

THE BURDENS CONFRONTING THE PRESIDENT—

As we turn the corner into the new year, each of us looks down the long road marked "1964" to take a reading on what lies ahead in our personal and professional futures, and in the future of our Nation. No man in the United States can look forward to a more imposing array of problems, a greater mental and physical burden, than those which face the President. Having been thrust suddenly into the world's most critical leadership position by the assassination of President Kennedy, President Johnson faces challenges of a magnitude and delicacy ever before faced by a U. S. President.

I have every confidence that President Johnson will meet these challenges with courage, intelligence, and imagination. In meeting his responsibilities, the President will be as aware as any other American that this is an election year and that political considerations require that he establish a record in his own name before November. But the obligation for a President of the United States to perform well goes far beyond purely political considerations; in these times, the very survival of the Nation and the Free World can hinge on how well a President meets the challenges that are his alone to meet.

President Johnson, looking down the 1964 road, can find his resources tested in an endless parade of problems involving our relations with the world: Cuba continues under armed Communist domination, a Red Thorn in the side of the Western Hemisphere; the costly and near stalemate war continues in South Viet Nam—a war bringing a rising toll of American casualties; South American countries are under the eroding subversive pressures of Cuban, Russian, and Red Chinese brands of communism; France, under De Gaulle's "France comes first" leadership, poses problems for the solidity of the Atlantic Alliance; Italy's new government contains the threat of growing neutralism in that country and more problems for NATO; the political storm is rising in Britain, with an election showdown between Conservative and Labor parties likely to come this spring; Berlin remains a Cold War tinderbox, as does the continued division of Germany; the European Common Market creates new trade challenges for the United States; our balance-of-payments deficit, created primarily because of our commitment to stand off Communist thrusts beyond our shores, defies easy solution; the threat exists that France and Red China will soon become members of the "nuclear Clubs" Russian subversion is again posing threats to new states of Africa; tensions are rising in the Mid-East; the so-called "non-aligned" nations are resisting firm ties to either the Free or Communist worlds while seeking the favors each can bestow, and thereby are creating new problems in the delicate power balance. There are other problems no less vexing than these and each requires that the President of the United States give close and judicious attention.

Domestic problems, all permeated with controversy, include tax reduction and reform; civil rights; the level of defense spending and the assignment of defense expenditures; farm problems (including wheat); medical care legislation; aid to education; unemployment; and many others. The foreign aid program, under constant fire for a number of years and sure to remain mired in dispute, could be termed a program half domestic

MISS ANNABEL TAYLOR

Taylor-Hyatt To Exchange Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Taylor announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Annabel, to Berle Hyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hyatt of Dimmitt.

Miss Taylor, who is a graduate of Dimmitt High School and attended Amarillo College, is employed by the Dimmitt Wheat Growers.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Dimmitt High School and is in the Armed Service, stationed at Fort Polk, Louisiana.

The double ring ceremony will be performed February 14 in the home of the bride's parents.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Bobby Hudson Serving Aboard USS Salisbury

and half foreign in nature. The importance of proposals regarded as purely domestic is heightened by the absolute necessity of the United States to maintain its economic stability so as to be able to work in the world from a position of strength.

But foreign affairs policies, programs, and strategies are paramount considerations for a President who, by the Constitution, is charged to function as the chief architect of American foreign policy. With the other Presidents who have held that lonely post in the years since World War II, President Lyndon Johnson is well aware that a serious mistake in foreign policy could mean the incineration of the Northern Hemisphere. Despite a phalanx of advisers and staff assistants and experts of ever kind, the final decisions in the foreign policy area remain the President's to make. It is hard, hard, hard—and very lonely work.

And so, I would urge all Americans regardless of political party or political convictions to respect the President and his office and the opportunity of his duties to recognize the Constitutional obligation that is his to formulate a program of legislation and to lead the Nation's foreign policy; to acknowledge the love he shares with us for our country; to acknowledge his boundless desire to see our country prosper in continued safety and full sovereignty; to support those programs we can support—but to support or reject in a spirit of good will and with a willingness to examine the opposing point of view; and of course, to pray to Divine Providence that our President will continue to have his guidance and be strengthened thereby.

Letters To Josephine

Dear Josephine,
I have a problem that bugs me. I have fourth period lunch and I always get in line before it is very crowded.

Many times I have seen teachers come in late and go up to the front of the line to get their lunch. They have as much time to eat as the person does at the end of the line. Most of the kids would like to be served as soon as they arrive in the lunch room, but they are courteous enough to wait their turn.

The teachers often get onto kids for letting other kids come in front of them. The teachers complain about this not being gentleman-like. They say that we should be ashamed of ourselves and if they ever catch us doing it again we will be punished; then they go to the front of the line.

To me the teachers are human beings just like the students; so I think they should have to stand in line like the students.

Please commit on this problem. Thank You.

Sir Chester the Peeved

Dear Peeved,
First of all you need to learn to spell comment.

In some ways I agree with you that the teachers should practice what they preach. On the other hand though they do have priority over the students. So, actually there is little we can do about this except maybe giving them a hard time in the classrooms.

Your friend,
Josephine

Dear Josephine,

I have a problem. Here in our school most of the popular girls wear tight, sexy clothes. Now do not get me wrong, I am fairly attractive and have a fair figure. In my church our religion states that we must wear simple, straight lines, dark clothes and must wear our hair in certain styles and use no make-up. All of this makes me very unpopular. Please help me for I want to be like the other girls.

Sad Sue

First, you do not want to be like the rest of the girls. Your religion says nothing about your personality and charm, so use these tactics and do your best to make yourself attractive, but do stick to your religion. Remember, the little flirts are just played around with: it's the girl with the real principles that the boys want.

Your friend,
Josephine

Journalism: A Busy Class

Since the Christmas Holidays the journalism class has been a very busy class.

The students have been trying to identify all the students in the South Grade School, the North Grade School and the Jr. High School.

We must have them all identified, the pages set up and typed, and ready for shipment by January 28, 1964.

We would like to thank each of the teachers who helped us to identify the students.

Santa's Gifts

You would have thought that by now, people would have forgotten Christmas, but it seems that a few people are still bragging about what jolly Saint Nick brought them.

Frankly, I think Santa must have been overworked this year; because for Christmas, he brought Miss Littlepage a new red suit and some pillows, I think he must be intending for her to ride on that sleigh with him next year. I hope she isn't allergic to whiskers.

Donnie Stokes, if nothing else, got a lot of enjoyment for Christmas. Wasn't that he whom I saw holding all of those little girls on his knee and letting them tell him what they wanted for Christmas? If I know Donnie, "little" girls weren't the only kind he was holding.

I don't know whether this could exactly be called a Christmas present, but I think Mrs. Downing must have gotten a tiny baby crib recently, I wonder what she is planning to do with it.?

Poor Josephine, our misguided lovelorn column writer, didn't have a very Merry Christmas, it seems that one of her readers found out her secret and sent her a black-mail letter for Christmas. The letter threatened to expose her, for she has been going to a psychiatrist recently and who would write to someone that can't figure out her own problems! However don't fear; Josephine straightened the whole matter out and is now paying Suzie Davis ten dollars a week to keep quiet.

Jim Axe got a lovely gift for Christmas this year, and it just goes to show how much good little boys are rewarded. He wasn't one of those boys that did not shave for weeks, but instead shaved regularly and as a result got an electric shaver. Now my secret source of information tells me Jim wasn't shaving as a matter of pride in his appearance, but merely because he knows that any girl prefers an "Aqua Velva Man".

Johnnie Linn takes great pride in his Christmas gift, for it is practical as well as convenient. It seems that a few undesirable characters have been letting the air out of his bicycle tires, so Santa took pity on him and brought him a can of automatic flat-fixer. All you do is attach the can to the tire and presto, a new tire. Of course, Santa was very mean to the culprits of the tire escapade and only brought them a box of nails. Knowing these boys, they will probably find a good use for these too. After all, Santa only gave Johnnie one can.

Fredia Anderson, that well known mathematician, didn't receive any trig problems for Christmas, but instead got a bright orange suit. You should see her in it; she looks like she just stepped from the Sunkist factory in Florida.

Sharon Lilley received for her enjoyment a song entitled "Do You Miss Me Tonight." No, Santa didn't bring this, but of course you know who did.

To keep snug at night, Edna Slough asked Santa for a nice warm pair of wool pajamas, but Santa in his old age, forgot and brought her and electric blanket instead.

Oh, and for any of you who read the list of Christmas wishes, Arnold Acker did get that little black book he wanted so much. The only trouble was that Santa couldn't read the letter, and instead of getting the one with girl's names in it, he received a copy of "Poe's Short Stories".

Well, I could just go on and on about the many Christmas gifts the students got, but as you see I'm running out of space.

If you received an unusual gift, just let me know and I'll be sure to write about it.

Pope Paul Makes Historic Journey To Holy Land

For the first time in history, a Pope has visited the Holy land, and for the first time in five centuries he has confided with a patriarch of the Orthodox Church.

The year 1964 is a milestone in the history of Christianity, because Pope Paul has been the first Pope ever to visit the Holy Land. The first stop in the Pope's tour of the Holy Land was Jerusalem, a city divided between Israel and Jordan, and a sacred spot to three religions. Here the Pope received a tumultuous welcome from the crowds along the streets as he traveled along the route of the Cross, the route along with Jesus carried the cross to the spot of his crucifixion. The welcome was so tremendous that the Pope was not able to deliver a speech he had prepared. Later, he held Mass at the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, in Jerusalem. He then toured other parts of Palestine, visiting the Jordan River and Bethlehem, the city of Christ's birth. While the Pope was in the Holy Land, he met with a patriarch of the Greek Orthodox Church. This is the first meeting of its kind in five centuries.

Students Protest

The Panama Canal Zone is once again causing trouble and future dangers for America, and the question is asked whether or not the American authorities in Panama are going to merely stand by while Panama takes over the canal.

Some of these questions have been brought out in the open by a small revolt in an American high school, Balboa high school. Last Tuesday morning a group of high school and junior college students ran up a small U. S. flag on the pole in front of the high school. It was taken down and confiscated by school officials. This authority to take down the American flag was given last December 31 when Governor Robert J. Fleming, Jr., of the Canal Zone, announced that a joint display of the flags would be observed at sixteen sites beginning Jan. 2, at other sites, the display of the U. S. flag would be discontinued. One of these no-flag sites was Balboa High School.

This trouble was started by high school students when they went ahead and flew the American flag; thus removing the Panamanian flag. There were reports that officials planned to remove the flag-pole during the night, but it is reported that this was not done. What will happen next is not known. It is definitely known that Panama wants to take over the Canal zone, but it is also known that America at any costs should not give up the Canal Zone; thus many Americans are wondering whether or not we are giving up unnecessary authority to the Panama government.

Snooper

Well, since the Christmas holidays, Dimmitt and the surrounding area has been really jumping and from the looks of things will keep on that way.

Some of the things that has happened will try to be captioned by us.

For a start, ask Donna Carmichael and Wynette Wilde how Palo Duro Park and the Canyon City jail looks after dark.

We would like to apologize to Kay Hilburn for not mentioning the injury she received the last day of school before Christmas. The headlines would have read, "Local Girl Mobbed In The Hall."

Ask Valeria Millsap if she has the fastest and hottest Chrysler in Dimmitt. Is it really true you out ran Jackie Dunn?

Larry Scoggin seems to be having trouble staying in Bookkeeping class lately. Does Miss Britten let you walk in the hall anytime you want to?

We would like to congratulate our two famous musicians—Robert McLean and Dennis Lytle on their promotion in the last week. Keep up the good work.

Ask Sharon Lilley, Val Millsap, Carlanne Calvert, Nancy Hays, La Dawn Kemp, and Sue Boothe the jokes they have been telling in Journalism. They won't tell the boys so it makes us wonder.

David Vaughan and Sue Hendrix have a beautiful set of matching sweaters, that they received from Santa Claus.

Ricki Goodwin, the youngest hubcap thief in Dimmitt, is going out of business according to our dearly beloved lawman, Fearless Freddy.

Sue Boothe, why were you stopped by the night watchman, Friday night?

Back to our dear bookkeeper, Larry. Why won't you speak to Miss Britten? Everything will work out all right, but until then let's all enjoy the silence.

Personalities Of The Week

Our spotlight shines this week on two new students in D.H.S. They are Charles and Steven Harris. They are the only two children of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Harris. Charles and Steven are originally from Mineola, Texas, but in 1959, they moved to Albuquerque, New Mexico, and to Belen, New Mexico, on June 1, 1963. December first they moved to Dimmitt. Mr. Harris is manager of Piggly wiggly.

Charles, a 17 year old junior, is taking English III, Speech, Chemistry, and American History. His favorites are: car—Chevy color—deep purple; food - steak.

Steve, who is a 14 year old freshman is taking English I, Algebra I, Physical Science, P.E. and Civics. His favorites are: car—Chevy; color—Green; food—roast beef.

They both enjoy model rocketry. Their first impression of Dimmitt was that it was a nice, friendly town. They were very impressed with the new school, and thought the students very friendly.

HM IV Girls Make Field Trips

Wednesday, January 8, 1964, the third period Homemaking IV class of eleven girls and their teacher, Mrs. Snider, rushed out of school and headed for their cars. Where were they going? To Merle Norman Studio where Mrs. Hance demonstrated complexion care and make-up for college use.

The homemaking IV class is studying charm and the selection and use of accessories to make complete ensembles.

On Friday, again rushing for their cars, the class went to Cobb's where Mrs. Beecher spoke on the selection of hats and bags and showed the new spring fashions.

F.H.A.

The F. H. A. executive committee met January 6, 1964 with Eva Giles presiding. Suggestions were presented for themes for the Best Beau Banquet. It was decided to wait until a later date to choose the theme so that more thought could be given.

The senior officers of both clubs worked on the nominations for next years officers.

The F.H.A. met again on January 10, 1964 and selected "An Affair To Remember" as the theme for the banquet.

Further work was done on the nominations for next years officers and the meeting was adjourned.

Exams — Ugghhhh

As the 250 students of Dimmitt High School are well aware of, semester exams are now half over. I cannot stress the importance of good grades on these exams, for they count one fourth of your semester grade. If you can not pass the semester tests chances are that you will not or cannot pass for the semester, so please everyone, if you haven't already, study for these tests and try to make the highest grade possible.

There has been some comment as to the exams being all on Thursday and Friday. The reason for this is, every student has to take the exams and if there was a schedule like there has been in years past, kids would forget the time of their test, so the higher authorities of D.H.S. decided it would be better all the way around if we took the tests during the class periods as usual. Also, since we are not allowed to leave the premises and there would be no teacher available to keep a study hall, there was nothing else to do but have the tests on a regular school day schedule.

Dimmitt Takes Double-header From Floydada

The mighty Dimmitt Bobcats slipped by the powerful Floydada Whirlwinds Tuesday night with a 74-73 victory. Jacky Nichols led the Bobcats to victory as he netted 32 points.

The Dimmitt Bobbies also proved successful as they slipped by the Floydada Ferns 46-45 Tuesday night. Sharon Lilley led the Bobbies with 34 points.

The Dimmitt Bobcats and the Bobbies will enter the Floydada tournament Friday and results will be given in next week's sports section.

Our Campus

An awaited Congratulations, goes to Mr. and Mrs. Fuquay on being the proud parents of a new 7½ pound boy. His name is Duane Danley Fuquay. They will call him Duane.

Do I hear wedding bells?? Yes, we have two girls who have recently received those big diamonds. Sandra Lively is engaged to Benny Coleman of Cotton Center. Francis Glidewell is the fiancée of Gary Hathaway of Dimmitt.

The freshman class has a new member, Consuela Casas from El Paso.

It seems a check was found made out to Valeria Millsap for $24 for hot-rod-riding by Dale Leinen's wife? How about this Valeria and Dale?

Well, we all experienced the awful feeling of getting back into the old school grind after the short holidays. We do hope that everyone had a very Merry Christmas and well have a very rewarding and prosperous New Year!! Let's start it off by resolving to make good grades this next semester and doing the best we can, O.K.?

The junior class described their beatnik party held last Friday night as: "Cool, Man, Cool!" We would like to take this opportunity to express our congratulations to both the boy's and girl's basketball teams for the fine work they have displayed this season and over the holidays. Keep up the good work, teams!

Surrender of 12,500 Union troops to Stonewall Jackson at Harper's Ferry was the largest in U. S. history prior to Corregidor.

Have A Cigar

The day of arrival has finally come! The time of waiting is over for the Alvis Fuquays. A bouncing baby boy was born in Hereford, Texas, Friday, January 10, 1964 at 7:30 a.m. He is named Duane Danley, and he weighed in at seven and one-half pounds.

As the news rushed through the school, some of the remarks heard were, "we'll all have to wear sunglasses to school for a month to keep from being blinded by Father Fuquay's beaming smile." Another was, "I wish he would hurry and come back to school; I'd like to have a cigar!" The feeling of the whole Student Body is one of excitement for the new parents.

We sincerely hope that Duane will never give his father any more trouble than we, the students of Dimmitt High, have given him. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Fuquay and best wishes to Duane.

Student Senate News

On January 8, 1964, the Student Senate met with Jim Axe presiding. The first business discussed was the need of the American Heritage Assembly Committee to work on its scheduled programs.

There was a good collection of goods for the Christmas box for needy families. The Student Senate would like to thank the Student Body for its contributions.

Mrs. Joyce Brown sent the needed information about the Scrapbook Contest. We must send this information to 460 schools in Texas.

The meeting was adjourned.

Agricultural '64 Prospects Bright

Texas farmers and ranchmen with the necessary resources—land, capital, labor and the managerial ability to combine them into an efficiently operating unit—should have a good year in 1964, believes John G. McHaney, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Here are his reasons. Economic activity for the nation is expected to continue at a high level during 1964 Consumer incomes after taxes are running about 5 percent above 1962 now and further gains are expected in 1964. Too, automobile sales, home building, appliance sales are expected to register further gains as are expenditures for new plants and equipment. Expenditures for goods and services by federal, state and local governments will increase in 1964 and they now account for about a fifth of the gross national product, McHaney explains.

He points out, however, that the general economic activity will depend to a great extent upon the timing and extent of the proposed tax cut.

The domestic market for agricultural products looks good, says the economist. The immediate outlook for agricultural exports is about the best ever, he adds. Total exports of farm products for 1963-64 is likely to be near $6 billion if the proposed grain sales to Soviet bloc countries materialize. Farm output continues to rise and 1963 is expected to set a record high for the sixth consecutive year. With average growing conditions, farm output in '64 will remain high and could set a new record, says McHaney.

The cost-price squeeze will still be an important factor in farm income, but with so many farmers also doing off-farm work, per capita personal income of all people living on farms from all sources is expected to be near the 1963 record level.

The outlook calls for further increases in farm assets, chiefly due to the continued rise in farm land values. Though farm debts also continue to increase, the equities of farmers and other farm property owners are increasing at a faster rate, says McHaney.

Diamond cutting dates back to the discovery in 1465 that diamonds could be polished by diamond dust.

BAPTIST MEN'S DAY

JANUARY 26, 1964

Special Men's Day Planned At Lee St. Baptist

The spotlight will focus on men when members of Lee Street Baptist Church observe Baptist Men's Day Sunday, January 26.

Announcement of the special emphasis was made by the Rev. Allen Owens, pastor of the Church at 2nd and Lee.

Lee Street Baptist Church is one of an estimated 15,000 churches throughout the Southern Baptist Convention which will recognize their men for past service on this special day.

Observance of Baptist Men's Day as an annual event began in Baptist churches in 1933. It was known then as Laymen's Day. The name was changed officially last year to Baptist Men's Day to include all the men, including the pastor.

Among the features planned at Lee Street Baptist Church involving men will be a breakfast, Christian testimonies, recognition service and men's chorus.

Sponsor of this special day is the Brotherhood of Lee Street Baptist Church. Troy Schuder is Brotherhood president.

MOVE TO DIMMITT

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Schumacher and children have moved to Dimmitt and are residing at 603 N.W. 8th. Mr. Schumacher is employed at Western Ammonia plant.

Jaycee Jake Says

Following the long holiday just passed, the Jaycees have begun a new year with a bang. New projects as well as old will be upcoming within a few short weeks.

New projects include a drive to collect grain for Boys Ranch. Area chairman in charge of this is Don Parsons. Truman Touchstone is the local chairman. Last year, this area gathered up 800,000 pounds. Our goal for this year is a million pounds. The boys at Boys Ranch use one million pounds of grain annually for livestock feeding. The time designated to deliver this grain to the Ranch will be the last weekend in January.

Within the next two weeks the three new hangars located near the new runway will be completed. Also in the making is the completion of the sale of light bulbs which will be conducted soon.

The Jaycees in cooperation with the Dimmitt Young Farmers are in the process of selecting an outstanding young farmer from this county. The county winner will be announced as soon as the selection board makes its choice. The winner will then be represented in a state contest to be held in Fredericksburg, March 20.

At the last meeting two new officers were elected to fill two unexpired positions. Horace Henley of "Henleys 66" was elected vice-president replacing Rayphard Smithson who has been appointed State Director of this region. Jim Ross, local attorney associated with Swain Burkett was elected secretary replacing Gary Huffines who is now working at Quitaque as depot agent.

Smithson was in Austin last week attending a banquet honoring the "Five Outstanding Young Texans." While in Austin they attended a mock legislative session at the capitol sponsored by the Austin Jaycees.

Mass Media In Democracy To Be Discussed At UT

The role of mass media in a democracy will be discussed at The University of Texas Feb. 13-14 by a French scholar, a former presidential press secretary and a Harvard University law professor.

The three will speak in the second annual lectures on Law and the Free Society, sponsored by the University Law School.

The speakers and their topics include: —Dr. Henri Peyre, Sterling professor of French at Yale University, "The Responsibility of the Mass Media: Past and Present," February 13.

James C. Hagerty, former press secretary to President Eisenhower and now an American Broadcasting Company executive in New York City, "A Democratic Government and the Public's Right to Know," Feb. 14.

Dr. Louis L. Jaffe, Byrne professor of administrative law at Harvard, "Public Regulation of Mass Media," February 14.

A panel composed of newsmen and University faculty and staff members from the fields of journalism, radio-television, government and psychology will hold a question-and-answer session following lectures on both days.

The 1964 lectures are made possible by a $1,950 grant from the Sperry and Hutchinson Company as part of a program for "the betterment of advanced education and general public enlightenment."

Dr. Peyre was born in Paris and educated at the Sorbonne. He taught at universities in France, the U. S., Egypt and Argentina, joining the Yale faculty in 1939.

Hagerty was President Eisenhower's press secretary from 1953 to 1961. Previously he was a New York Times staff member and secretary to New York Gov. Thomas Dewey.

Dr. Jaffe earned bachelor's and doctoral degrees in law from Harvard. He joined the faculty there in 1950 after heading the University of Buffalo law school and holding several federal legal jobs.

Jessie Andrews, first woman to get a degree at the University of Texas, taught there from 1888 to 1918.

Horst Leicht Sends Letter

The Isaacs received the following letter from Horst H. Leicht, former exchange student in U.S.A. Leicht present address is 7118 Kunzelsau, Ernst-Schmid-Straße 14, West Germany.

Kunzelsau, 12-15-63

Dear Isaacs,

With best wishes for a merry Christmas and every happiness in the New Year.

Sincerely Horst H. Leicht

You will probably be quite surprised to hear from me after such a long period of silence, but I still do remember you and of course that wonderful visit to your neat little town and those vast plains of Texas. I have got a colourful sight of myself sitting on a big horse. I usually boast myself of having been galloping all the time while being in Texas. I have been extremely busy during the past year. At the moment, I am preparing for my university-entrance exam. I wonder, why it did not end up in a madhouse so far. I intend to be a lawyer to enter the German Diplomatic Service. In this respect, my stay in the USA was a very fruitful one, thanks to you and all those Americans who want to contribute their share to peace in the world through AFS. May God Bless you all!

Anhalt, Texas, in Comal County, is named from the German word meaning stopping place.

Fertilizer Use

Fertilizer is one of the modern wonders of our age. It makes plants grow better. It helps build up the soil. It makes farming more profitable. It makes farmers more prosperous.

All of this is true if fertilizer is used right!

This column is dedicated to the profitable and efficient use of fertilizer. Through this column, I hope to provide information on fertilizer use which will result in greater profits. This can be brought about by a basic understanding of the fundamentals of soil fertility and plant nutrition. If an individual knows and understands more about fertilizer use, he will make better use of the product.

The key to profitable fertilizer use is the right amount of the right kind applied at the right time and with the right method. Do one thing wrong and profits will be less.

Profits from fertilizer use will be affected by many factors. Water supply, soil type, past fertilizer use, past cropping history, past yields and physical condition of the soil are just a few. Insects, diseases and weeds could be listed. And the list could grow. All of these factors affect yield potential. To get the most profits from fertilizer, use rates suited for the yield potential of your soil. If water is short and reduces yield potential, fertilizer rates should be low. If water supply is good and yield potential is high, the fertilizer rate should be high.

Planned fertility programs which fit the soil, plant and yield potential will mean more profits from fertilizer.

As this column progresses with time, I would appreciate any suggestions you have on making it more effective and on subjects that need to be discussed.

Garden Club Hears Bennett

Dr. William F. Bennett of Western Ammonia discussed "How Soil PH Affects Availability of Plant Nutrients" at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Dimmitt Garden Club. PH is used to determine the value given in the soil, as a thermometer is used to determine degree of cold or hot.

Some nutrients needed by the soil are nitrogen, iron, sulfur, phosphorus, calcium, magnesium and others. Dr. Bennett told the group straw or cotton burs, dry or packed with nitrogen or nutrients, added to the soil will provide good organic matter. He said, "You may get leaflets on soil conditions from Charles Hotel's office, county agent."

Other facts Bennett discussed were nitrogen affects the vegetative growth, phosphorus affects the flowers, and potash keeps the other two chemicals in balance. Mrs. Bob DuLaney presided at the business session. The Club decided to send $10 to the School for the Blind. The Club plans to add book No. 2 on Table Settings For Flowers Shows to the Library.

Mrs. Sid Sheffy acted as hostess in the absence of Mrs. Charles Vandiver and Mrs. Ellis, Cookies and coffee were served to 15 members and one guest, Mrs. Bennett and speaker, Dr. Bennett.

Now is the time to fertilize trees—fruit and other.

Connally Declares Public Schools Week In Texas

Special observance of increased emphasis on our education system has been marked annually for fourteen years by a Public Schools Week in Texas.

During this period, parents are encouraged to visit the public schools, and all citizens are urged through special programs to recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education. Our goal is to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, and to achieve this our citizens are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with their school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

Never before in our history has there been a greater need for educated leadership. As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period of March 2-6, 1964, as PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK in Texas.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 16th day of Dec., 1963.

John Connally
Governor of Texas

Weed Control Discussed

A new pre-emergence sorghum herbicide for grain grown for feed or seed will be ready for farm use on the Plains this coming season. The herbicide, propazine, will eliminate cultivation under certain conditions, reports A. L. Wiese, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station agronomist. Until late in 1963 the herbicide was approved for use only on grain sorghum grown for seed.

Wiese says propazine will be most useful on irrigated fields where weeds have been difficult to control by mechanical means. The herbicide also will be beneficial to farmers in the Blacklands and Gulf Coast regions.

Propazine is a wettable powder and must be applied in 25 to 40 gallons of water per treated acre. Considerable agitation is required or the material will settle to the bottom of the spray tank. A pump with a return capacity of 10 gallons per minute is satisfactory for agitation with a four-row rig.

Application must be made to the soil immediately after planting. Rain then leaches it into the root zone. If rainfall occurs before chemical application, weeds may germinate and grow through the propazine on the soil surface.

The biggest advantage of propazine is it controls both grasses and broadleaf weeds. A second advantage is even if chemical drift occurs during application it is not toxic to cotton. Propazine is dependable, Wiese continues, because it will work well even if rain does not follow soon after application.

This residual action is also the biggest disadvantage of propazine. Susceptible crops cannot be grown for 18 months after application of the herbicide. The only crops which can be grown successfully the year following propazine applications are corn and sorghum. Because of the long residual period, propazine use is not advised on dryland fields in west and north-west Texas.

Research with propazine on the High Plains was initiated by Wiese in 1958. Since then about 25 chemicals have been tested as possible sorghum pre-emergence herbicides. None have proved as effective as propazine. Because of favorable results in test plots, propazine has been applied to field-size plots on two farms each year since 1961. Average yields of grain were 6090, 5830, and 5620 pounds per acre for areas receiving 1, 2 and 3 pounds per acre of propazine. Where cultivation alone was used for weed control, yields averaged 5710 pounds per acre.

Suggested rates of propazine application for the High Plains area are two pounds per acre on the silty clay loam soils for control of both grasses and broadleaf weeds, says Extension Agronomist Billy Gunter. If careless weed or pigweed are the only weeds present, one pound per acre broadcast is sufficient for season-long control. (Goat heads will not be controlled with one pound per acre.) In fields where the soil type is fine sandy loam or coarser, propazine on fields of pure sand be-

Gunter says, one pound per acre should be the maximum rate applied. It is not advisable to use cause serious injury to the crop may result.

The most profitable use of propazine on the High Plains will be for weed control in narrow-row sorghum. Sorghum planted in 10 inch rows is difficult to weed mechanically but will produce up to 1,000 pounds per acre more than sorghum planted in 4-inch rows.

A Chemical Weed Control Program has been scheduled for Monday night, Jan. 27, according to Charles Hottel, County Agent. Dr. Wiese and others will be on the program. Further information on the program will be given the News at a later date.

Japan Removes Grain Sorghum Import Restriction

Japanese Minister of Agriculture, Munemori Akagi announced in Tokyo today that import restrictions are being removed from U. S. Grain Sorghum, effective January 11.

County Grain Sorghum Producers said that work such as this toward removing barriers against grain sorghum in International Markets is an important phase of the Association's program for producers.

Bill Nelson, Executive Vice President of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association in Amarillo, said that negotiations for the forward step in Japan have been underway since 1960, and were finalized this week by Bill Hattori, the Association's representative in Japan through the U. S. Feed Grains Council. Nelson said this now means that Japan feed manufacturers can import any amount of any type and quality of grain sorghum they wish without a license or protective duty being required by the Japanese Government.

In the past, because U. S. Grain Sorghum had been cheaper than some local grown feed grains and potatoes and beet products for the manufacture of alcohol, both duties and quantity restrictions had been in effect to protect local producers of those commodities.

Since market development work was started in Japan by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association the export market there has increased from zero in 1960 to 100,000 tons in 1961, 300,000 tons in 1962, 500,000 tons in 1963 and 800,000 tons is in prospect for 1964 market year.

World exports of grain sorghum reached the record level of 112 million bushels in 1963 - up some 10 million bushels over the previous year.

Firemen Elect 1964 Officers

On-the-job injuries result from a psychological process, a study of some 300 industrial accidents indicates.

Analysis of case histories, according to a recent report by the American Medical Association, revealed certain patterns of behavior preceding mishaps.

In fact, these patterns were so sharply defined it may be possible, with further study, to predict and therefore prevent such accidents.

"Before the accident occurs," reports a current article in the AMA Journal, "there is a state of conflict and anxiety within the patient."

As a result of this condition the worker finds a self-destructive, injury-producing act which causes his "death" as a worker. From this moment the patient reacts exactly as do other psychiatrically ill people, except for the character of his symptom. Instead of having a presenting complaint of anxiety, depression, or other classical psychiatric symptom, he has the physical disorder which is the result of his accident."

Typical behavior before accidents reflects many skilled workers suddenly doing things which even novices would not make the mistake of doing. Often, safety rules are broken and several infractions frequently occur at the same time.

For example, workers received injury after repeatedly walking through well-recognized and marked danger areas without wearing protective helmets. When asked to explain this conduct, the workers gave reasons that were "vague, or even silly, in every case."
