Graveling Dirt Streets Gets Under Way Tuesday

Laying a gravel coat on Wellington's dirt streets started Tuesday, March 8, and the work will continue through the spring and into the summer months, City Manager Glen Taylor has announced.

Eventually we want to get all the dirt streets graveled and we will do as much work as we can now," Taylor said. The city is securing its gravel from a pit on Leon Hartman's farm about 10 miles west of town.

The work Tuesday started on Ennis Street and approximately two blocks was completed on the first day. Streets of that width require about 6 loads of gravel for each block.

A factor in the number of blocks that can be graveled will be the amount of gravel that is available from the Hartman pit.

This is one of two projects the city has under way with work being done by city employees.

The other is the fire station, on which only a few days work on the metal inner walls before doors and windows are put in. The city is building this on a pay-as-you-go basis, and the outside walls will be bricked at a later date, with the brick harmonizing with the rock Bura Handley Community Center.

"My problem right now is getting everybody well from the flu ," Taylor said, adding that work had to stop on the fire station when the gravel work started.

During the city council meeting Monday, March 7, Mayor Ralph Owens explained efforts that are under way to reopen the Ritz Theater or to secure a new one. Owens appointed a committee to work on this with Councilman Lyndon Crelia as chairman and Henry Wells, Mrs. Bob Goforth and Mrs. Gorman Owens as members. They are due to meet with John McConnell of Hobart and Mangum, Okla., owner of

Fourmentin Has Third Place Heifer

A Limousine heifer exhibited by Patricia Fourmentin in the Houston Livestock Show placed third in the Junior Heifer Calf class judging late last week.

Patricia brought her heifer home and will feed it for the next year. She plans to return it to the 1984 Houston Livestock Show to be entered as a summer yearling heifer, said Don Reeves, extension agent.

Three beef steers were also exhibited at the Houston show but none placed, Reeves reported.

Darvin Nix had a Hereford, Barry Long a Limousin, and Patricia a Chianina.

These calves were sold in the Livestock Show steer sale at the end of last week, but results of the sale have not been received here, the extension agent said.

"The Houston Show probably had the most good steers in one place in a long time. Around 2,000 showed up," Reeves commented.

Exhibitors and adults at the show were Barry Long and his father, Benson Long, Darvin Nix and his father, Jerry Nix; Patricia Fourmentin and her father, Richard Fourmentin.

Bloodmobile Sets March 31 Visit

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Wellington Thursday, March 31, when Collingsworth residents are asked to give 80 units of blood, Mrs. Lynn Wright, president of Collingsworth General Hospital Auxiliary has announced.

Several changes have been made in the visit format. The bloodmobile will be here for three and one half hours with a 9-bed capacity. This is shorter time, but with greater bed capacity than in the past. Hours will be announced.

"We will need at least 100 donors in order to reach our quota," said Mrs. Wright.

There will be three visits to Wellington by the Bloodmobile this year. The January 1983 visit was in reality the last 1982 scheduled trip which had to be postponed due to weather.

There will be another Bloodmobile visit in the late summer and a third still later in the year.

Pam Webb, consultant with the Red River Red Cross Blood Services, Wichita Falls, will meet with the Kiwanis Club on March 25, and also will confer with high school students.

Collingsworth General Hospital secures its entire supply of blood and blood derivities from the Red Cross Blood services unit at Wichita Falls, but it is part of the agreement that the county will in turn supply a specified amount of blood upon each of the bloodmobile visits.

In stressing the need for blood, Mrs. Wright said:

"Every minute, more than 25 units of blood or specialized blood components are transfused. That's nearly 37,000 units each day. With its voluntary blood donations, the American Red Cross Blood Services fulfills the blood needs of some 130 million Americans - half the total U.S. population! The Red Cross Blood Services is based on the philosophy that blood should be available to all persons who need this life-supporting substance, regardless of ability to donate, place of residence, race, economic status, or membership in a specific

Jury Finds Watts Guilty Friday Night

A 100th District Court jury on Friday evening, March 4 found Carroll Wayne Watts guilty of attempted capital murder and in the punishment phase of the week-long trial set his sentence at 20 years in the Texas Department of Corrections.

Watts remains in Collingsworth County jail pending his being taken to the Texas Department of corrections.

George Harwood of Amarillo, Watts attorney, gave verbal notice of appeal immediately after the sentence was read.

He said in a statement Tuesday evening that he will file a written motion for a new trial for Watts, and if this is rejected by District Judge Robert Montgomery, who heard the case, then he (Harwood) will file a written motion of appeal to the 7th Court of Appeals in Amarillo.

Harwood indicated that he intends to take the case through whatever courts are necessary, saying that should an appeal from the 7th judicial court be needed, the case would be appealed to the court of criminal appeals in Austin.

District attorney David McCoy, who went immediately from this trial into another major trial in Clarendon Monday morning, declared:

"I was very, very pleased with the jury's verdict. He (Watts) has had a past history of problems with the law and people stood up and said 'we're tired of it.' "

Watts was accused of firing gun shots at Gene Denton, deputy sheriff at the time, but who has since left the sheriff's department, and Constable Wilson Porter on Oct. 3, 1981.

The prosecution established that Watts had been the man who had been shooting and also that he had pointed a gun at several teenagers and that he had treatened to kill one of them.

According to testimony introduced, the youth, Truett Owens, saw Watts with a gun at the Butler Locker Plant and notified officers at the jail. According to testimony, Watts then

Reynolds Death Under Investigation

The investigation is continuing in the death of James Franklin (Jimmy) Reynolds, whose body was found early Sunday, March 6, in a burned house on his farm southeast of Wellington, Sheriff Kenneth Maxwell said Tuesday night.

"There are a few things I need to find out," said the sheriff.

"There is no suspicion of any foul play as far as we can determine now," Sheriff Maxwell continued. "Every indication points toward suicide."

A burned .38 calibre handgun from which one bullet had been fired was found near his body according to Maxwell. Maxwell called many of the reports of the incident that are circulating "speculation."

Reynolds was known to be suffering from a coronary condition and had to retire from farming several years ago due to health problems.

Dr. Ralph Erdmann, forensic pathologist from Childress, conducted the autopsy and said late Tuesday that positive identification of the body found in the burned ruins of the house was made through a comparison of x-rays of the body with x-rays on file in Collingsworth General Hospital which were made available for the investigation.

Dr. Erdmann said Tuesday night his official report "will be sent Wednesday and be in the judge's (Jim Ingram) hands day after tomorrow."

Judge Ingram said he will not issue his official finding until after the autopsy report is received.

Clifford A. Rowell of the State Fire Marshall's regional office in Lubbock was called in an effort to determine how the fire started that destroyed the Reynolds house and Jimmy Reynolds pickup parked beside it.

He is due to give a report to Maxwell.

The first report of the fire was received by the Sheriff's Department at 3:43 a.m. Sunday, and Maxwell dispatched a department unit to check. When the unit saw that it was a structural fire, Wellington Volunteer Fire Department was called and an effort was begun to contact Reynolds at his home in Wellington.

Maxwell, who knew Reynolds well, was familiar with his habits and Reynolds was a cousin of Mrs. Maxwell.

Because of high wind, the house was almost consumed by the time firemen could reach the scene. "The fire was so intense and hot that it was several hours before his body could be removed," said Sheriff Maxwell.

Two members of Reynolds family had been in Taylor told the council that Bill McMorries, an Amarillo engineering firm used by the city, presently has under study the proposed rate hike sought by Lone Star Gas. McMorries is doing similar work for a number of towns in which Lone Star is seeking customer rate increases.

group.

"Red Cross Blood Services has two major objectives: 1) to meet the blood needs of people in the 57 regional areas which Red Cross serves, and 2) to help meet the blood needs of Americans nationwide. To accomplish these two objectives, Red Cross Blood Services needs volunteer blood donors who are willing and medically able to donate blood.

Community responsibility makes each eligible person equally responsible for meeting not only his family's blood needs but also the blood needs of his community. Each person needs to accept this responsibility and help provide blood for those who need it. Be a part of your community - give blood the next time your bloodmobile is in town!" she continued.

contact with him Saturday evening, according to the sheriff. He had supper with an aunt, Mrs. Ruby Harris, and about 8:30 talked with an uncle, Buford Chandler. The sheriff said that neither noticed anything that they did not consider normal.

Reynolds was highly respected among those who knew him and had no known enemies.

Reynolds was a native of Collingsworth County and life long resident. Born March 20, 1932, he was the son of the late J.R. Reynolds and Leona Chandler Reynolds. His home was 1301 Dallas Street.

He attended Dodson Schools and moved into Wellington a number of years ago with his parents.

Besides farming operations, Reynolds had been employed by R.H. Tyler during the time his Weather Scan operations were in Wellington.

He belonged to the Church of Christ, and was formerly active in a Citizen Band Radio Club and Motorcycle Club.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Kelso Chapel with Don Stone, Church of Christ minister officiating. Burial was in the family plot in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Hme.

Pall bearers were Tommy Lewis, Jerry Lewis, Hezze Jones, Jerry Duncan, Kenneth Foster and Aubrey Baggett.

Survivors include two aunts, Mrs. Ruby Harris of Wellington and Mrs. Alva Wood of Arlington; two uncles, Buford Chandler of Wellington and Floyd Chandler of Amarillo.

chased Owens to Caldwell Real Estate, until the teenager was able to escape to a nearby house.

"We then introduced evidence that he had been to the Veterans of Foreign Wars and had told Earl Janes that he was going to shoot a cop. We introduced evidence that they (Denton and Porter) had chased him at high speed and he had shot at them 6 times, and struck their vehicle twice," said the District Attorney.

The officers shot out the back tire of Watts pickup at a speed described at 115 miles per hour, he added.

At this point, the prosecution rested its case.

The defense introduced its insanity plea, described as "due to a psychotic organic brain syndrome and temporal lobal epilepsy which rendered him unable to determine right from wrong and therefore legally insance at the time the offense was committed."

Among the witnesses presented by the defense were Dr. Leon Morris and Dr. Jack Tomlinson, Wichita Falls psychiatris, who saw Watts in June.

"The jury chose to discount our testimony and find Mr. Watts guilty, They gave little consideration to this. We filed for probation but the jury chose to disregard that," said Harwood.

Hudson Discusses Energy Ethics for DAR Chapter

Tommy Hudson, manager of West Texas Utilities Co., was the guest speaker when La Paisana Chapter, Daughters of the AMerican Revolution met Monday, March 7.

Mrs. J.D. Coleman was the hostess and Mrs. Boyd Derryberry, regent, presided at the meeting.

Hudson spoke on "Energy Ethics", discussing ways of saving energy and the problems of the utility companies.

He explained that 62% of the cost of electricity is fuel and there have been fluctuations in the price of gas. However, West Texas Utilities is in a better position because of a favorable contract with the Haskell Gathering Co. and the coal powered plant in Vernon.

Utility companies as well as many state officials are in favor of appointed members of the Public Utility Commission, as partisan politics should have no concern in regulation. The problem of energy should be considered from the long range viewpoint.

Hudson described ways by which the consumer can conserve energy by installing storm windows, insulation and the use of energy saving appliances. New homes can be designed to make use of solar energy.

Hudson concluded by saying that every one should be aware of the problems, not only of the present, but of the 21st century.

Mrs. R.A. McNett gave the defense report, stressing the significance of the military buildup in Afghanistan.

Present for the meeting were Miss Maudie Coffee, Mrs. Dan Henard, Mrs. W.L. White, Mrs. Louise Templeton, Mrs. Jack Davis, Mrs. Bura Handley, Mrs. John McDowell, Mrs. McNett, Mrs. H.H. Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch Speaker for Midway EHC

Mrs. Elise Wilson was hostess to Midway Extension Homemakers Club Wednesday, March 2. Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch presented a report on the Extension Homemaker state meeting in El Paso, then presented the program which contained many facts relating to women.

"We have had more than three million population increase in the last 10 years, and women make up 42% of the work force today," she told the group.

By 1990 only one woman out of four will stay at home. At the same time women's salaries are too low, sometimes being only 60 percent of that received by men for the same work.

"Women have to make choices," said Mrs. Barjenbruch. "They have to work because of changes in our life style."

Mrs. David Peters, president, was in charge of the meeting, Mrs. Wilson read the devotional and Mrs. Bill Cason gave the opening prayer.

Members answered roll call by naming something money can't buy.

Plans were made for the March 15 program by Mrs. Lora Stephens. This will be from 7 to 8 p.m. in Bura Handley Community Center on "Color Me Beautiful."

The next Midway club meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Brown at 1 p.m. March 16.

This will be a tasting bee.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Russell Hill, Mrs. Pauline Masten, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Donald Curry, Mrs. Edna Rudy, Mrs. Annie Caison, Mrs. Bill Cason, Mrs. Mamie Terry, Mrs. Herbert Duncan, Mrs. Louise Smith, Mrs. Erma Kersten, Miss Nancy Bigby, Mrs. Barjenbruch, Mrs. Dorothy McGuirk and the hostess, Mrs. Wilson.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

DEFINING COMMUNITY

AUSTIN – Texas is a very large and diverse state. This fact adds much to our appeal but can also provide for some problems. Through the fine judges in the Panhandle and South Plains, it has come to our attention that currently there is a discrepancy in the way in which our state's courts and juries define what is obscene and what is not.

It seems that when defining obscenity, the Texas Penal Code requires juries to use "contemporary community standards" as a benchmark. This sounds very reasonable, as opinions vary between communities as to what is obscene.

However, because this definition is so broad, our appellate courts have decided that the "community" spoken of is the entire state of Texas. A jury of local people must decide if the questionable materials are acceptable somewhere in our community; Texas. If they are, then they must be acceptable everywhere in Texas. Because of this, at a trial in our District when someone is charged with selling obscene material, it is admissible in court to show that similar material is sold every day hundreds of miles away in Houston. We do not feel that this is right.

To get back to what we feel is the true meaning of this term, community standards, we have introduced a bill in the Texas Senate which will define community standards as being those standards in the county in which the alleged offense occurred.

This change will allow juries to decide what is obscene in their county and not have to be subject to what is thought elsewhere in Texas. This measure does not in anyway define obsenity or restrict the sale of use of anything; it only allows the people in the individual counties to decide what they want sold in their local stores. We feel that this was the intent of the law and we are trying to get back to it so Texans can decide what type of community they will live and raise their children in.

Texas is large and diverse, and we all share from the many beneficial factors this state offers. However, we feel that the counties should not suffer because of this diversity by having contrary opinions forced upon them. We want to know what you feel about this. Please write Senator Bill Sarpalius, Box 12068, Texas Capitol, Austin, Texas, 78711 or call (512) 475-3222.

A Word on the Word with Jim Powell

If I Ask God, He Speaks to Me

"If I ask the Lord to speak to my heart, He's going to do it. He shows me His Word and speaks to me."

No, Lydia Parker of Lawrence, Kansas, doesn't hear little voices. She is describing the way in which she finds direction for life by reading the Bible.

"The Bible's the only place where we can find out what God has for our lives. If you don't read the Word, you're not going to know God's will. And if you don't know God's will you're going to have a lot more problems than if you are reading God's Word and obeying what it says.

"He says that His Word is profitable for reproof and correction and teaching and training. If I don't have training, then I'm not going to know what to do and I'm not going to accomplish what God wants me to accomplish. "If you want to know God's will," Lydia says, "read the Bible."

Are you trying to find purpose and direction for your life? Would you like to know God's will? Reading the Bible will help. If you need help getting started, write for a free, no-obligation Gospel of John from the Christian Bible Society, Nashville, TN 37210.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—As state officials nervously await the effects of a new recession on Texas, eyes turned towards the Rio Grande Valley last week for clues of its momentum.

The Legislature, facing the prospect of solving the state's problems with too few dollars, must contend with some big money issues in the next few weeks. The Valley, because of its proximity to Mexico, suffers double when hard times hit both nations simultaneously. Today's indications are grim.

According to Texas Employment Commission figures released last week, unemployment in the Valley has reached over 20 percent.

Joblessness is highest in Laredo at 27.3 percent. The McAllen - Pharr - Edinburg area has 20.5 percent unemployment, and Brownsville - Harlingen - San Benito copes with 17.7 percent without jobs.

Last Sunday the Texas United Farm Workers threatened to strike if minimum wages do not improve. The group held its fifth annual convention in Pharr. Texas minimum wage law assures farmworkers receive at least $1.40 per hour.

Politicians do not ignore the growing political clout of Hispanics, particularly concentrated in the Valley. In November Gov. Mark White got more than double the number of Hispanic votes received by John Hill four years earlier.

Illegal Aliens

During a recent trip to the Valley, White discovered many businesses there have suffered 80 percent declines in revenue and unemployment has hit nearly every family.

The political attention of the Hispanics has turned from local issues to the government unemployment policies.

The constant flow of people across the border always serves to keep the job market lower than the rest of the state. Lately, following devaluation of the peso and the drop in world oil prices, the situation has reached emergency proportions.

In Washington last week, White called for the first time penalties for employers who hire workers who have entered the nation illegally.

Special Relief

White said the penalties are necessary to get a grip on unemployment in Texas, and the state's business community which is faced with another tax to bail out the declining unemployment benefits fund seems to go along with him.

White appealed to the federal government for "special relief" in the form of social services, job funds, small business loans, loan guarantees, educational aids and special insurance to hold off mortgage foreclosure.

The Reagan administration sent word to White that it has no plans to provide assistance and that the Valley's problem cannot really be solved without some economic recovery in Mexico.

Senate Action

In the Legislature, meanwhile, action continued in the Senate while the House still refused to suspend rules and begin voting on bills.

Among legislation approved in the Senate last week:

—A bill prohibiting candidate swapping such as the Republicans did in the 1982 primary elections. Last year the Republican Committee selected candidates to replace persons bowing out of the state agriculture commissioner and treasurer races. This bill would leave a party's slot vacant, if a candidate resigned.

—A special windshield decal for persons who get a court order to drive after their license has been suspended.

—Taking the governor completely out of the parole process. Presently the governor can revoke paroles and must endorse parole decisions made by a state board.

—Strengthening the identification requirements to prevent sale of alcoholic beverages to minors. To avoid liability, a seller would have to ask to see a valid drivers license or other ID card.

House Action

In the House, a bill to end annual car inspections by Rep. Jim Horn, R-Denton, placed the sponsor at odds with the director of the Department of Public Safety.

Horn said car inspections are slap-dash affairs which often force motorists to pay for expensive unnecessary repairs. He wants DPS officers to perform on-the-road spot checks of cars instead.

Opposition came quickly from DPS director Jim Adams, who said the bill would result in more traffic deaths.

Horn also proposed to double fees for drivers licenses.

Speaker Lewis

House Speaker Gib Lewis admitted last week he failed to reveal business partnerships with three beer and liquor distributors on his official financial disclosure for 1981. Lewis said the corrections will appear in his 1982 statement, due next month.

The toe-stubber for Lewis comes just days after advocates of DWI reform accused him of sabotaging two of their bills.

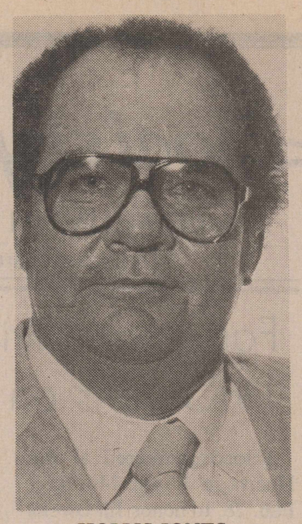

One of the business partnerships involves the owning and leasing of airplanes, and Lewis leases planes for his political travels out of his officeholder account.

"I am a stockholder in the corporation that owns the aircraft. I lease from myself," he said.

WHS Tennis Team Wins Vernon Tourney

On its first outing this year, Wellington High School tennis team brought home the first place trophy awarded by the Vernon invitational tennis meet Friday and Saturday March 4 and 5 with both boys and girls winning included in determining the tournament champion, Wellington had 36 points. Second place winners, Burkburnett had 16.

Wellington's Lynn Bartlett won the boys singles and Shanna Urban the girls singles.

The Skyrocket doubles team of Wade Williams and Jamie McKay won the boys doubles and the girls doubles team of Belinda Crelia and Carla Nunnelley was second.

This year's team is basically the same as the 1982 team with only Jannon Thomason and Brent Long being lost by graduation, according to Ronny Williams, coach.

"We're off to a real good start, but we'll have to keep improving to compete well in our district. It's going to be real tough this year," he said.

Back this year is Lynn Bartlett, a boys singles regional qualifier the last two years.

In boys dougles, Wade Williams and Jamie McKay were regional qualifiers last year.

There is considerable strength in the girls teams also.

Williams considers Quanah and Memphis strong in District 2-AA with Panhandle an unknown since they returned to the district only this year. Other teams, besides Wellington, are Shamrock and Clarendon.

Outcome of the Vernon tournament:

BOYS SINGLES

Scott Cochran, WHS, defeated Junior Watson of Lakeview 6-3, in the first round, then won over Tom Clark of Burkburnett 6-2, 6-1. Cochran lost in the quarter-finals to Baker of Crowell 7-5, 7-5.

Barry Moseley won 6-1, 6-1 over Barry Kizer of Iowa Park in the first round, then defeated Troy Pratt of Benjamin 6-1, 6-2. He lost in the semi-finals to Greg Bailey of Vernon 6-3, 6-2.

Also in the first round, Bartlett won 6-2, 6-0 over Robert Brown of Elk City, Okla., then won 6-1, 6-1 over Mark Cook of Iowa Park. In the quarter-finals, he defeated Greg Rhul of Burkburnett 7-5, 6-1, 6-7. He beat Greg Bailey of Vernon 6-2, 6-4 in the semi-finals.

Bartlett met Ted Moore in the finals and won over Burkburnett 6-3, 6-2.

GIRLS SINGLES

Vanda Wood, one of the younger players, lost to Cindy Lunney of Iowa Park 4-6, 6-7, in the first round of girls singles.

In the first round, Shanna Urban defeated Monica Molloy of Lakeview 6-0, 6-1 then defeated Tina Swark of Elk City 6-2, 6-3. She took the next round from Melissa Reynolds of Burkburnett 6-2, 6-3.

In the semi-finals, Shanna defeated Melissa Baustest of Chillicothe 6-2, 6-1 and went on to defeat Yvette Spencer of Elk City 6-3, 7-5 in the finals and take the girls championship.

BOYS DOUBLES

Todd Roberson and Scott Shepard defeated Burnett and Skelton of Burkburnett 7-5, 4-6 and 7-6 in the first round, then took the quarter finals 6-3, 7-5 from Dusty Byers and Molloy of Lakeview.

Meanwhile, the other Wellington boys doubles team of Wade Williams and Jamie McKay won over Dodson and Wilkerson of Vernon 6-1, 6-2.

In the next round, the semi-finals, the two Wellington teams met with Williams and McKay winning 6-1, 7-5, over Roberson and Shepard.

Williams and McKay won the finals from Villanueva and Molloy of Lakeview 6-3, 6-4.

GIRLS DOUBLES

The Rockette doubles team of Cathy Crelia and Lori Lacy defeated Simmons and Carroll of Burkburnett 6-1, 6-2 in the first round then defeated Ekern and Gerald of Vernon 7-5, 7-5.

In the semi-finals, Cathy and Lori lost to Connor and Pollock of Benjamin 6-2, 6-2.

The other Rockette girls doubles team of Belinda Crelia and Carla Nunnelley defeated Miexne (Williams says this is correct) 7-6, 6-1 in the first round and defeated Martin and Kenney of Burkburnett 6-2, 6-0 in the semi-finals.

They lost the finals to Connor and Pollock of Benjamin 6-1, 6-3.

The WHS tennis team will travel to Quanah March 18-19 for their next tournament. They will follow this with the Amarillo Relays April 1 and 2.

On the next weekend, Wellington will host the District 2-A UIL Tennis meet on Wednesday, April 6 and Friday, April 8.

This split date was necessary because the girls track meet is on Thursday, April 7, and some Rockettes are participating in both sports.

St. Patrick's Celebration Set at Shamrock

BY BILL HOWE

SHAMROCK--Irishmen by the thousands, most sporting Donegal beards, with Irish colleens on their arms, are bound for Shamrock to join in the shenanigans honoring the great St. Patrick. And, of course, they'll be wearin' o' the green and thinking it, too, to carry out this year's celebration theme.

Shamrock, population 3200, located in the dry and dusty portion of the Eastern Panhandle, will turn green as the Emerald Isle itself the weekend of March 18-20 as an expected 25,000 visitors join with the homefolk to insure an enthusiastic and successful celebration.

The biggest St. Patrick's party held anywhere outside Ireland is headed up this year by James Lunsford, general chairman.

A pre-St. Patrick's Banquet featuring Mike Morrow, Executive Director of the Association of Texas Professional Educators, will open the celebration Friday night, March 18, at National Guard Armory.

The real celebrating starts Saturday morning, March 19, with an old settlers reunion, the hour-long St. Patrick's Celebration Parade led by the green-clad Shamrock High School Irish Band, followed by Donegal Beard judging, the Miss Irish Rose Contest, street carnival, team and calf roping, math contest and mud drag racing, a new feature of the Irish Party this year.

The annual St. Patrick's Celebration dance at National Guard Armory, featuring the unique music of the "West Texas Express," will begin at 9:00 p.m. A dance for teens has been planned at the old Grand Slam Motor Company building on West Highway 66.

Shamrock Ministerial Alliance will host a program at High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. presenting Johnny Ray Watson.

It all began in 1938, when the late Glenn Truax talked Shamrock Booster Club into sponsoring a St. Patrick's Celebration to honor the name of the town, after the senior play for that year had been cancelled.

Hedging Workshop Slated

Mike Williamson, associate director of Texas Farm Bureau's Commodity Activities Department, will conduct a hedging workshop March 15 at 8 p.m. according to Collingsworth County Farm Bureau President Benton Wauer. Wauer said the workshop is designed to give a basic understanding of what commodity futures markets are and how they work, and to show what information can be obtained from following commodity futures market. The program is designed for a two-hour classroom setting for a group of 15 to 30 people.

For further information, contact Tom Allison at the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau office, Wellington.

This meeting is sponsored by the County Farm Bureau.

Late Filings Bring New Faces

Late filings in the city and school elections have brought new faces before the voters. These elections will be held Saturday, April 2, with absentee balloting to begin Monday, March 14.

WELLINGTON ISD

Two candidates are seeking the two places on the Wellington School Board, according to Tommie Watts, tax assessor-collector.

Dan Langford filed on the last day, Wednesday, March 2, to have his name placed on the ballot.

Frances Schmidt had filed earlier in the week. She is the wife of Adolf Schmidt.

The Langfords have two young daughters in school; the Schmidts have two sons.

Neither has held a public office.

The retiring trustees, Harold Wayne Moore and Willie O'Rear did not seek re-election.

CITY OF WELLINGTON

The Rev. C.R. Hankins, filed Wednesday afternoon, March 2, to have his name placed on the ballot for one of the two city council places that will be filled on the April 2 election.

The two incumbent council members, John Rainey and Sam McGill, and Mayor Ralph Owens had filed earlier.

Although Rev. Hankins has retired from the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference, he continues to serve as pastor of Glen Davis Memorial Methodist Church, Dozier.

He lived out of the county 20 years, while he was studying for the ministry in Abilene and Dallas, and while he was pastor of churches in Northwest Texas and the Panhandle.

He and his wife, the late Merle Hankins, moved from their ranch in the Aberdeen Community, where she was reared, into Wellington about three years ago.

SAMNORWOOD SCHOOL

Three candidates are seeking the two places to be filled on the Samnorwood School Board.

Byron Bell filed Wednesday, March 2, to have his named placed on the ballot.

Ray Dwyer, who was filling an unexpired term, and Monty McCloy filed for re-election.

HOSPITAL BOARD

The three incumbents whose term on Collingsworth General Hospital Board whose terms expire have filed for re-election. Mrs. H.H. Bowen said Tuesday, March 8, as the filing deadline passed. They will be voted on in the April 2 election.

These are Mrs. Bowen (Corky), Dr. J.M. Orr, and Yates Parker.

Absentee voting in this, as in the other elections will begin Monday, March 14 and the last day to cast an absentee vote will be Tuesday, March 29.

There will be voting boxes at Wellington, Dodson, Samnorwood and Quail. This is the only county-wide election to be voted on in the April 2 election.

The term of office is two years.

March 11 Deadline for PIK

The next step in the program will come with the opening of the whole base bids on Friday, March 18.

After the March 11 deadline, the county ASCS committee will send a report of the acres signed up to the Department of Agriculture, and on Thursday, March 17, USDA will notify the county committee how many whole base bids can be made, Weatherly explained.

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block Monday urged West Texas cotton farmers to sign up for the payment in kind (PIK) program before the March 11th deadline for signup passes. Block spoke directly to the area farmers over a telephone hookup with a Lubbock agricultural radio program.

Block noted that this year's cotton carryover, at 8 to 8½ million bales, stood at more than twice the level desirable for raising prices to farmers. Even with a good nationwide participation in PIK and rising domestic demand and export, the carryover on August 1, 1984 could total over 6 million bales.

Without the PIK program carryover stocks should well amount to 9½ million bales, a level of stocks that could depress prices for several marketing years.

Although cotton prices have risen since President Reagan announced PIK in Dallas on January 11th, economists do not expect the rise to hold, and they predict that prices will stay at earlier lower level, unless stocks diminsh appreciatively.

Block noted PIK ojectives: "Reduce production, reduce surplus stocks, and bring supply more in line with demand. Farm prices should firm, if cotton buyers realize that the PIK program will reduce stocks, and as carryovers reach an acceptable level, prices should rise with demand." John Ford, USDA's Deputy Assistant Secretary for Marketing and Inspection Services, and Charles Cunningham, Deputy Director of ASCS's Analysis Division, both West Texas natives appeared later in the day at the Lamesa Cotton Growers Annual Meeting in Lamesa, Texas.

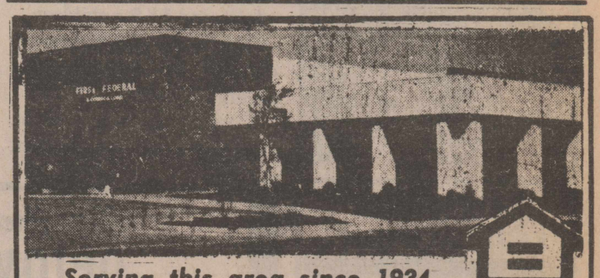

Ford said: "Secretary Block has wisely stated the pressing need for West Texas and Rolling Plains cotton farmers to join their fellow farmers and neighbors in the PIK program. This cotton carryover problem is critical. PIK is the essential and vital first step to price recovery for cotton farmers."

Henards to Attend PCA Anniversary

STAMFORD, Texas - Production Credit Associations (PCAs) across the nation begin celebrating their 50th anniversary at a meeting in Kansas City, Mo., March 10-11.

A national observance to be attended by PCA directors, presidents and guests, the meeting will revolve around the theme "Lending Strength for Fifty Years." Spokesmen expect approximately 4,500 people Chairman W.J. Boykin, Northfield; Vice Chairman W.H. Williams, Spur; B.H. DeBusk, Anson; Dan Henard, Jr., Wellington; and Garon B. Tidwell, Munday. R.C. "Clif" Cobb, association president, also is planning to attend.

Mrs. Henard will attend.

President Ronald Reagan is expected to deliver the keynote address following the noon luncheon, March 11. Secretary of Agriculture John Block will be the featured speaker at the general session. Paul Harvey has been confirmed as the major speaker for the afternoon program.

The Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Texas, which last year provided $2.5 billion in loan funds to PCAs and Other Financing Institutions (OFIs) in the state, will hold its annual meeting in conjunction with the national celebration. This year's featured speaker will be Marvin R. Duncan, vice president and economist with the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City.

As a gift to American agriculture, PCAs of the nation have contracted the Battelle Memorial Institute in Columbus, Ohio, to conduct a study on the future of agriculture. Battelle is an internationally acclaimed, nonprofit research firm and is one of the largest privately funded research institutes in the world.

A book and film based on the results of the study will be presented at the meeting.

Rolling Plains PCA is one of 30 PCAs in Texas. Collectively they serve more than 16,000 agricultural producers and acquatic harvesters. Last year more than $2 billion was loaned through Texas PCAs.

PCAs have been a source of agricultural loans since 1933. Nationally they serve the credit needs of more than 380,000 farmers, ranchers and commercial fishermen, with more than $22 billion in loans outstanding.

GOLF AT WILLOW CREEK

by Mary Sanford

Things have started to swing, golf swing that is, at the Wellington Country Club. The Willow Creek Women's Golf Association had its first covered dish business luncheon Wednesday, March 2, launching the golfing season.

Eugena Sherman is the new president. Working with her are Karen Caison, vice-president and tournament chairman; Edna Wooldridge, secretary-treasurer. To round out the slate, Bennie Sullivan and Betty Cochran will serve as board members. Eugena appointed and announced the following committees to serve: Telephone: Mary Nell Holton and Lou Mabery; tournament and handicap: Karen Caison, Betty Cochran, Lyna Hurst, Patsy Martin, and Bennie Sullivan; local ladies day: Lyna Hurst and Billie Holton; publicity, Mary Sanford; social: Martha Morris and Katie Davis.

With all these hard working, enthusiastic people, this should be a good golf season. All activities and tournaments have not yet been definitely set, but the Greenbelt Round Robin will be one of them.

Karen met with Women's Golf Association representatives from Memphis, Clarendon, Childress, Shamrock and Canadian in Memphis March 5 to work out round robin schedules.

These best-ball (scrambles) tournaments are spaced from three to five weeks apart, one in each town. The fees are set at this meeting as are the prize limits.

Locally, the Wednesday meeting ended with awards presented by Lyna to the following:

November 3: Bennie for low puts, Patsy for most puts and Mary Nell for most of one number, probably threes.

February 2: Betty and Billie tied for low. Don't know whether to shout for Betty or moan for Billie. Eugena chipped in that day and I lucked out for most puts. Maybe Patsy and I should exchange putters with Bennie. After the business meeting, the women adjourned to the golf course. I am happy to report that I finally found the ball with my club this week. Naturally, I found the water a couple of times too. It was a beaufiful golf day and we hope to be having many more from now on.

Cancer Society Lists Services

The American Cancer Society in Collingsworth announced today that it has a variety of services available to cancer patients without charge.

"Many people are unaware of all the services we can provide right here in this town," Sandy St. John, Field Representative for Amarillo and the Eastern Panhandle said. "And all that is required in most cases is written permission from the patient's physician."

Loan equipment such as hospital beds, wheel chairs, commode chairs and walkers are available as well as expendable items including dressings, hospital gowns, bed pads, pillows and other items.

"These are all in addition to our basic information and referral services," said Ms. St. John. "And, depending on location, we also have several rehabilitation programs including Reach to Recovery for mastectomees, esophageal speech lessons for laryngectomees. ostomy rehabilitation and related patient and family support groups."

The concept for these rehabilitation programs is the volunteer-to-patient relationship," added Ms. St. John. "We have many volunteers who are themselves former patients and who are specifically trained by the Society to help other patients and even their families adjust to living with cancer."

Ms. St. John cited that when most people think of the American Cancer Society, they relate the name to cancer research. "While it is true the ACS funds millions of dollars for cancer research, we are also a community-based organization providing many local services. These patient services as well as education materials of all types are just a few of the ways we can help."

Anyone needing more information on these services may call St. John at 353-4306 at the ACS office in Amarillo.
