"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

Back in our more youthful days, we used to hear that statement quite often. Seems like we had to memorize a poem or something that contained the words, but it's slipped from our memory now.

Anyway, it seems to apply today just as it did yesteryear.

Applying it to rains, that statement goes good for the wheat farmer but not so good for the cotton farmer.

Wheat land is in fine shape, and prospects for winter grazing are looking up every day.

Cotton land is wet—and so is the cotton.

Cotton pullers got in just two days of work last week, and from all indications their funds are running low.

The rain again Sunday didn't help them much, but delayed their getting into the fields. And farmers whose fields are "white unto harvest" aren't too happy about the situation.

One farmer remarked to us Monday: "Man, if it rains much longer, there's no use for me to gather my cotton."

The wind that blew briskly from the north Monday caused a majority of people to don coats and jackets for the first time. In daytime, that is. We were among them.

Coats were pretty much in style at the football game Friday night.

One fan remarked that he almost literally froze at the game, but his heart sure warmed up to the Moguls—who seemed to be playing an inspired game.

Although Albany handed our team a licking, it took the final quarter for them to do it. That brand of "catch up" ball which the Lions had to play in defeating our Moguls gave local fans a thrill and gained admiration for our team.

It's kinda cool to be talking about a swimming pool.

But next summer, it's going to be a different story, and the youth of Munday will be looking for a place for swimming parties.

Will that place be Munday?

A young fellow asked us several days ago if the swimming pool would be completed by next summer.

That we don't know, but hopes are that Munday will eventually have a swimming pool for its youth, and older one, too, if they want to use it.

The thing is in the planning stage, but it will take lots of planning and working and financing to get the project completed.

But with as many people and organizations interested as there seems to be, a swimming pool is a possibility and a very likely one.

But it will take a lot of dough. The planning group think they could save quite a sum of money through donated labor, etc. Some of the group expressed willingness to put in some free labor on the project.

As we said, the organizations represented at the planning meeting can put the deal over.

They are such organizations as: Munday P.T. A., Munday Study Club, Munday Lions Club, Chamber of Commerce, City Council and Munday Fire Department. Working together and pulling together, they could accomplish much.

The rain has ceased, and happy farmers and pickers are back in the fields. Cotton is expected to be overflying the gins in a few days.

Moguls To Take Last Road Trip On Friday Night

The last road trip for the Munday Moguls will be taken Friday night when they journey to Roby for another battle with the Lions—the Roby Lions this time.

Both teams will be smarting under defeats of last week, and both will be fighting to add a victory to their side of the ledger. While the Albany Lions were downing the Moguls, 27 to 18, the Roby Lions were taking a 20 to 12 defeat at the hands of the Merkel Badgers.

Following their brand of inspired football last Friday night, more than the usual number of local fans are expected to make the journey with the Moguls.

The three remaining games for the Moguls after this week will be played at home. They are with Roscoe on November 6, Haskell on November 13, and Merkel on November 20.

Munday Officer Chutes To Safety From Jet Plane

Lieut. Arledge Suggs of Munday parachuted to safety when he jumped from a disabled F94C jet fighter plane over Falmouth, Mass., last Tuesday night.

First news of Lieut. Suggs' narrow escape from death was received by local people over the radio early Wednesday morning. Details of the plane's crash and Suggs' safety jump have not been learned.

Relatives here talked with Suggs' wife Wednesday morning and gained what details were available. One report reaching here was that the plane caught fire.

Suggs, and his co-pilot were the only occupants of the plane, and Suggs ordered the co-pilot to bail out before he quit the disabled plane. Relatives learned that Lieut. Suggs was not injured, except for bruises and scratches received in the chute landing.

The co-pilot had not been located Wednesday morning.

Lieut. Suggs, who is stationed at Otis Air Force Base, Mass., was home last week to attend the funeral of his father, R. F. Suggs.

Methodist Youth Observe Hallowe'en In Unique Manner

Hallowe'en was observed in a rather unusual manner by the youth of the First Methodist Church in Munday. Last evening the youth had a "Trick or Treat" Hallowe'en Party but instead of following the usual practices the group went from house to house of the church members demanding a package of clothing for Korea! The party was part of the annual drive of the church to get together good clothes to send to the needy of the world. The youth came to the church at 6:45 and organized for the clothing pick-up and then returned to the church for games and refreshments after completing their job.

The clothing drive is conducted under the leadership of Mrs. W. R. Moore, who is the chairman of the supplies of the W. S. C. S. The clothes will be shipped through the Church World Service Organization to assure that the clothes get to the people who really need them. Church World Service is the relief organization of the National Council of Churches which represents over 40 of the major denominations of the United States.

Only good, clean clothes are included in the shipment. Packages which were not picked up last evening by the youth should be brought to the church sometime before Sunday evening. Individuals in the community who would like to do so through some other church or organization are invited to bring their packages to the Methodist Church sometime this week end.

Miss Joyce Michels, who is attending NTSC, Denton, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Michels.

Former Munday Man Named Attorney Of Wheeler County

Guy Hardin, young Shamrock lawyer and son of Mrs. Nell Campbell of Munday, has been appointed county attorney of Wheeler County, according to D. A. Hunt, county judge.

The appointment will run until January 1, 1955, with Hardin completing the unexpired term of Homer L. Moss, who resigned in February to enter private practice. Another appointee, Edward L. Poole, resigned effective October 15, to become associated with a law firm in Amarillo.

Hardin was graduated from Baylor University, Waco, in the spring of 1949, and went to Shamrock in September of that year to begin law practice with M. Reynolds. He has maintained his own office in Shamrock since his partner retired in November, 1952.

Oil Activities

Lions Get Into Trouble, But Win From The Moguls

Munday's courageous Moguls dished out plenty of trouble for the visiting Albany Lions here Friday night, although the Lions maintained their District 8-A conference standing by a 27-18 victory over the battling Moguls.

First to hit pay dirt in the saw battle was Waymon Tidwell, who went 17 yards on an off tackle jaunt for the Moguls in the first quarter, and the Lions found themselves trailing the underdogs. Munday's try for extra point failed.

Albany then grabbed the lead when Albert Burton sauntered 55 yards in the same quarter to gain pay dirt and then converted, making the score 7-6.

The Moguls put the Lions in trailing position again when Glen Amerson flipped a 35-yard pass to Gene Haynie for a touchdown. But the Lions were back in the lead 13-12 a few minutes later when Bill Booker went two yards on a quarterback sneak. The half ended that way.

Early in the third the Moguls again threw a scare into Albany when Amerson tossed another pass, this time to Terry Harrison for 20 yards and a T. D., and the Moguls were leading 18-13. Burton put his Lions in front again in the same period with a four-yard plunge over the goal and added the extra point, making the score stand 20-13.

The fighting Moguls were held scoreless in the final stanza, but Albany blocked a Mogul punt on the six yard line, and Book-over scored on a keeper play, Burton added the extra point.

Thus the Moguls lost another conference battle, but maintained admiration in the hearts of all their fans for they really played their hearts out to hold the highly-rated Lions at bay during most of the game.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Briley of Sweetwater and Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Kirby of Roscoe were recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Watkins.

First Frost Of Season Reported Here On Tuesday

There was "frost on the pumpkin" last Tuesday morning!

It's the first time we've had frost this fall, but those early-risers stated we sure had it.

"There was frost showing on the rooftops and on the tops of cars," they said. If you didn't get up ahead of the sun, you probably didn't see it.

The frost was a light one, and it disappeared quickly when the sun came out. In short while it appeared to be just another heavy dew.

Few plants in town showed results of the frost's visitation, and it is not believed to have done any damage.

11-Point Elk Killed By Munday Hunters

Tuesday morning a pair of antlers that looked like a brush pile was being displayed from the top of a Knox County pickup. The "big spread" belonged to some local hunters.

Jasper Beavers and Raymond Lyles returned that day from a five-day hunting trip to Pagosa Springs, Colorado.

They shot one four-point deer and a 11-point bull elk, which they estimated weighing 1,100 pounds, and dressed out 435 pounds. The antlers they were showing were once displayed by this proud elk.

They made their kill near camp. They reported heavy snow in that area, but they were not snowed in.

Several other hunters have been returning from Colorado this week, bringing their kill back with them.

GOT THEIR DEER, TOO

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Mills and son, Alex, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Hume Fuller returned early Wednesday morning from a few days deer hunt in Durango, Colo., bringing back their limit of four deer.

While in Durango Mr. and Mrs. Phillips visited with her brothers, Otis and Ellis Spann, and their families. They reported a wonderful time and beautiful weather.

PARENTS OF SON

ATTENTION MOTORISTS

Did you ever stop to think "why do we have law enforcement officers?" The answer is a simple one. We need police officers to protect us—from other people and if we are honest about it, even from ourselves.

Take the case of the traffic officers for instance, when he arrests an intoxicated driver, he does it so that other motorists on the street or the highway will not be endangered by someone who cannot drive safely. That is the sole purpose behind the work of the traffic officers. Every arrest he makes or warning he gives is to protect the safety of the public. If you have gotten a traffic ticket for some moving traffic violation, the officer actually did you a favor. Maybe you did not look at it that way, but you should have! It cost you money, true, but at the same time, it reminded you that you had done something that was dangerous to you and to the other motorists.

Every traffic law in the State of Texas was made in an effort to protect the people. Did you ever think about it in that light? If you break a traffic law, you have done an unsafe act; if the act was not unsafe, there would not be a law prohibiting it. If a motorist runs a red light and is not seen by a policeman, he hasn't hurt the policeman, he has simply risked his own safety. If he is caught and fined and as a result becomes a better driver, then the policeman actually did that driver a good deed. That one small fine may keep that man from killing or injuring himself and others in an accident later on.

Why not start looking upon the traffic policeman and highway patrolman as a friend? If a man saved you life, you'd count him as a friend, wouldn't you? If a patrolman arrests a drunk driver or a driver of a car without headlights five miles down the road from you, then he has protected you from having to risk your life when you would have met them farther down the road. He has done the same thing when he stops you and tells you that the tail light on your car is not working. He may have prevented your death or injury when a car ran you down from behind, unable to see your car because your tail light was not working. Simple? Yes, but important!

The law enforcement officer is your servant. He works long, hard, thankless hours every day for moderate or inadequate pay.

Take the advice of your Texas Safety Association and let your police department know that you appreciate their efforts and can count on you for your support and cooperation. Pay them a visit, ask questions and learn more about the

GOVERNMENT MUST TAKE FIRST

Governor Hugh Gregg of New Hampshire recently said, "Remember this: No government, federal or state, can give you anything which it has not first taken from you."

It might seem that so undeniable a proposition would be known to anyone. But it is plain that, a great many of us still cherish the illusion that government can give us all kinds of services and benefits at little or no cost to us.

Actually, of course, we get back from government much less than what it takes from us. Waste and extravagance are the great depreciators of our tax dollars.

WHY ADVERTISE?

The following is reprinted from the Wynne, Arkansas, Progress:

"The late William Wrigley was once riding with a friend in a crack express train from New York to Chicago. His companion was curious to know why the magnate continued to spend so much money on advertising.

"Your gum is known all over the world," he said. "Why don't you save the millions you are spending on advertising?"

"Wrigley pondered a second and then asked, 'How fast is this train going?'

"About 60 miles per hour," replied the other.

"Then," asked Wrigley, 'why doesn't the railway company remove the engine and let the train travel on its own momentum?'

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

FRANKLINVILLE, N. J., SENTINEL: "The death of nine children in one day, recently in discarded refrigerators, provided shocking evidence that the danger . . . is still a very real one. Despite the fact that every death in a discarded refrigerator is inexcusable, they continue to occur because of the irresponsibility of adults."

BABYLON, NEW YORK EAGLE: "It is axiomatic that when people support the government, they control the government. That is what we as a free nation have always demanded and gloried in. Now, however, the exact opposite, also axiomatic, is spreading, and has been for 20 years: When government supports the people it will control them. That's the last thing we want to happen because it leads to dictatorship and tyranny."

WHAT CREED HAS CHRIST'S CHURCH?

A creed is a setting forth of what one believes. Jesus Christ is the creed of His church; He is the article of faith; a confession of faith in Him is the confession of the members of that church.

The article of faith, not articles, but article of faith of the church Jesus built is found in John 20:30-31: "Many other signs therefore did Jesus in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book; but there are written, that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye may have life in his name." Article of Faith: Jesus for it is in Him we believe.

The confession of faith of the members of the church that Jesus built will be found in Romans 10:9-10: "Because if thou shalt confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord, and shalt believe in thy heart that God raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved: for with heart man believeth unto righteousness and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." This is the same confession made by the eunuch to Phillip when he requested baptism of Phillip, "I believe that Jesus is the Son of God." Acts 8:37. This is all the Lord desires; it should be sufficient for us as a confession of faith.

The church discipline and manual of church government of the church that belongs to Jesus is the New Testament. The apostle Paul said, "Every scripture is inspired of God and is profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be complete, furnished completely unto every good work." 1 Tim. 3:16-17. Any discipline containing more contains too much. If it contains less, it contains too little. If it contains the same, why have it. The New Testament is the creed or discipline of the New Testament church. We need not nor desire another.

Interesting people, these writing fellows!

Charles Dickens wrote his novels in installments and the copies of one issue of the magazine would be out while the author was racing to write the next installment. Edgar Allan Poe read the first installment of "Barnaby Rudge" and then sat down and wrote a letter, telling how the novel would end. Dickens replied, "The Devil must have told you that because nobody but the devil and I knew."

The former Texan, O. Henry, agreed to write a story each week for the Sunday New York World. Being ever in need of money, he would obtain an advance and then the editor had his troubles in getting the story. So he adopted the rule that, until some part of the story was written and on his desk, there would be no advance. Whereupon O. Henry would sit down and write two or three sprightly paragraphs about this-and-that, and send them down as the opening of a new story, and the advance would be granted. When he did write the actual story, the "Introduction" had no particular connection with it—which may solve a mystery that has been in the minds of some of you O. Henry fans.

Ben Thompson, gambler and gunfighter, was marshal of Austin. A drunken cowboy, who did not recognize Ben, knocked his hat off and then as Ben drew his pistol, took refuge behind a post with only one ear showing. Thompson notched his ear with a bullet.

But Ben's most remarkable shooting took place in an Austin saloon. The proprietor and the bartender opened fire across the bar. Thompson killed the proprietor, whereupon the bartender ducked out of sight. Ben, calculating where the man's head was, fired through the heavy bar and fatally wounded him.

A bank sign in an Oklahoma town, "Service—Silence—Safety." Service and safety I could understand—but silence? However, my friends would say that silence is one word I've never understood, anyhow.

Signs On Highway For Motorists And Pedestrians, Too

"Signs of Life" are for pedestrians as well as motorists.

This point was emphasized today by Col. E. B. Tilley, Services Advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation, Houston, and President of the Texas Safety Association with the Department of Public Safety.

"Many people seem to think that 'Signs of Life'—traffic signs, signals and pavement markings—are placed there for the use of drivers only," he said. "Actually, they are intended to guide and protect the pedestrian as well."

If pedestrians would heed these signs—obey traffic lights at intersections and signals at railroad crossings—a lot of lives would be saved, according to Col. Tilley.

"One out of four traffic victims is a pedestrian," he said, "and more than half the people killed in city traffic are pedestrians."

"Among the factors contributing to these fatalities," Col. Tilley said, "are crossing at intersections against the signal, crossing intersections diagonally, and crossing between intersections."

"Certainly many deaths could be avoided if pedestrians crossed streets at the proper places, and obeyed traffic 'Signs of Life' where they are provided," Col. Tilley pointed out.

"The August slogan of the Texas Safety Association and the Department of Public Safety, 'Signs of Life'—Know Them, Obey Them! is an important message for everyone," he said. "Whether walking or driving it applies, and the person who follows it may be saving his own life."

Inside Wash-Up Room

ON THE farm, there usually is a building available for the installation of a wash-up house—a building within another, so to speak.

Glance at the illustration, and the simple construction of such a private room within the barn, machine shed, garage, or back porch will be evident. Actually, all that's needed is a framework of 2 by 4-inch lumber, spaced 16" apart to form the boundaries of the wash-up room, and some panels of 1/4" tempered Presdwood.

The panels are easily nailed into place to form the room within a larger one. They are moisture-resistant and will stand considerable abrasion.

A shower may be made from a hoghead barrel and piping, as shown, or by a similar method which could well include heated water.

ALL FARMERS HAVE A BIG STAKE IN TWO WAY TRADE

FOREIGN TRADE IS ESSENTIAL TO PEACE AND PROSPERITY

Farm Bureau is for international cooperation on a sound basis of two-way trade. Farmers must have customers to sell agricultural products, both here and abroad. The production from one out of every ten acres found outside of the United States in 1951. But this market is shrinking. If this market is lost permanently, net farm income will be lowered. Farm Bureau is asking Congress to set up a bi-partisan commission to help solve foreign export problems. Already a number of Farm Bureau recommendations related to foreign trade have been approved by Congress.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants Scientists To Develop New Chemical To Make Weeds Taste Good To Cows

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has a passably good idea this week, but we don't look for anything to come of it.

Dear editor:

I know that scientists are pretty busy these days, one set working on makin the hydrogen bomb more deadly, another set working on makin it less; others working on higher octane gasoline to make cars run faster, others working on ways of slowin motorists down; one group working on better bomb-proof shelters, another on guided missiles that will penetrate the same shelters; but I was wonderin why some scientists don't spend a little more time workin on a problem I have in mind.

I have about given up hopes of the experts workin out a breed of cattle than can thrive on weeds and thistles, but I have not given up the weeds and thistles.

It doesn't seem to make any difference how dry it gets, weeds and thistles keep right on growin. They seem to have a secret of bein home on this earth, regardless of the weather, and I would like to see some scientists work on them.

What I want that scientists to do is figure out a chemical you can spray on weeds and thistles to make them taste good to a cow.

I was talkin to a cattelman the other day and he said he at least had the satisfaction of knowin his cows were paid for, but another one ruined his day by pointin out a paid-for cow can be a liability the same as a mortgaged one, on account of they won't last more than a few days without something to eat. With cows worth 6 cents per pound, and hay 1 cent a pound, anybody can figure how small a haystack she has to eat before she's eaten her worth in feed, and two days after she finishes she'll still be as hungry as she was when she started.

So instead of scientists workin to kill em, I'd like to have one you can spray on the same principle of salad dressin or lettuce, and the cows will go for em.

I don't know what the nutrition count on a weed is, but it gets the same sunshine and grows out of the same earth cultivated plants do and I notice cattle will eat em when they're young and tender. Seems to me there ought to be a chemical maybe left over as a by-product from an atom bomb or a nylon dress which scientists could use to spray on weeds and make em come out as desirable as a green salad. People are always talking about findin new grasses, but

New '54 Chryslers Set New Standards Of Power, Luxury

Gene W. Harrell of Harrell's Motor and Equipment recently returned from Fort Worth, where he attended one of a series of 25 nation-wide meetings being held by the Chrysler Division of Chrysler Corporation, to preview the new 1954 Chrysler.

The new model went on display at Harrell's on Thursday morning, October 29.

"The completely redesigned Chryslers for 1954 introduce new high-horsepower FirePower engines—the most powerful and efficient passenger car engines in America today—plus many major engineering advancements combined with the smartest, most beautiful exteriors and interiors in Chrysler's 29-year history," Harrell said.

In addition the new FirePower V-8's and new, colorful styling, outstanding engineering features designed for luxurious performance include the new PowerFlite fully automatic transmission—fully proved by use in 1953 Imperials—a new Airtemp air conditioning unit, full time power steering and power brakes, new anti-roll front suspension and new "solid feel" ride, all of which add up to a new high in driver control.

"These cars, I am sure, will set the new standards for automotive excellence," Harrell said. "They are the most luxurious cars Chrysler has ever produced and incorporate improvements which assure Chrysler having 'America's First Family of Fine Cars.'"

I'd rather figure out a way to use the stuff we already got.

I just noticed one of my cows finished off 15 cents worth of hay.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

It's the Principal of the Thing!

Every autumn our High School has a contest to see who can get the most ads for The Recorder—the school magazine. The winner becomes honorary Principal for a day.

Skip Roberts won last week, and his first (and only) official act as "Principal" of the school was to announce in a loud, clear voice: "I hereby declare today a school holiday!"

Knowing Miss Gilbert, the real principal, it was no surprise to me that she laughed as hard as anybody else... and said to go right ahead.

From where I sit, it's no wonder our youngsters think Miss Gilbert's such a wonderful person (even though they know they'll have to make up that day). Her tolerance, her friendly way with people of all ages reflect in everything she does. For instance, at my house Miss Gilbert prefers tea but always respects my preference for a glass of beer. As a real person... in any community, Miss Gilbert belongs at "the head of the class."

HOW LONG WILL DROUTHY RANGES TAKE TO RECUPERATE

Three factors of prime importance determine how long overgrazed south and west Texas ranges will take to recover from the drouth.

According to A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, research conducted by Leo B. Merrill at the Sonora Experiment Station shows it depends upon the drain of past grazing, the kinds of grasses on the pastures and grazing management after rains. These factors were recently concluded following grass revival tests to determine the effect of three years' severe drouth on native grass cover.

After the application of 4 1/2 inches of moisture to designated test plots, grass plants which did not green up after three weeks were considered dead. A check of the plots showed bunch grasses withstood drouth conditions much better than other grass types. Sideoats grama suffered only 3 per cent loss while silver chuestem and Wright threeawn showed a loss of 15 and 55 percent, respectively. No loss of little bluestem was observed. Curly mesquite in pure stands suffered 88 percent loss for all stocking rates.

These tests emphasize that light grazing and deferment must be followed several years if ranges are to recover their former grazing capacity, says Walker. Ranchmen should let the plants make some top growth and increase crown size before they are heavily grazed. This will also deepen the root system, the specialist says.

The goal for helping grasslands recuperate should be to have a good cover of the best kind of grass, Walker added.

TREATING PEACH TREES FOR BORERS

More peach trees are killed by the regular peach tree borer, or by the twig borer, or both combined than all other things combined in the Munday area. Hence it behooves every person who owns one or more peach trees to treat the trees on time and at the proper time. Below you will find the 4 best methods used at present for control of borers, either in peach trees, or other trees. These methods of control are listed in order of their effectiveness or importance:

(1). PROPYLENE DICHLORIDE EMULSION

Time: Any time after the leaves are shed, and the temperature is above 45 degrees F., and the ground is not too wet. (November till April.)

How: 1. Clear grass and weeds from around tree trunk. 2. Build ground level above where the borers are working in the trunk. Apply 1/2 pint of diluted propylene dichloride to mound around the tree, if 4 years old or older. For trees 2 to 4 years old use 1/4 pint. One year old use 1/8 pint. 3. Cover the liquid with a few shovels of earth.

(2). ETHELENE DICHLORIDE

Same instructions as for Propylene Dichloride (above) except amount for each tree. Over 4 years old use 1/2 pint. For trees 2 to 4 years old use 1/4 pint. 1 year old use 1/8 pint.

(3). PARADICHLOROBENZENE (Crystals)

Time: October 15 to November 20.

How? Clean grass and weeds from around tree. Dig up soil 3 to 4 inches deep, and 12 to 15 inches wide around each tree. Pulverize soil. Dig a small trench with fingers two inches from the tree all around the tree. Cover trench with fine pulverized dirt. Then build mound of dirt about 4 to 6 inches high around the tree, cone shape. Let stand six weeks. Then tear down the cone of dirt, even with the ground.

(4). DDT POWDER (Wettable)

ASBESTOS SIDING AN ECONOMY FACTOR

Low Cost Home Comes in Smart Package

A packaged home, complete with equipped kitchen, (range, refrigerator, washing machine and cabinets), attached garage and maintenance-saving asbestos-cement siding shingles, has been produced to sell for $10,300, including land, in the big Ruskin Heights development in Kansas City, Mo. Folding partitions between dining room, living area and one bedroom make it possible to open three rooms into one. Asbestos siding, one of the economy features which keep the cost low, is noncombustible and therefore fireproof. It comes in a wide range of attractive colors. The development will have homes for 2,000 families, several churches and a 29-acre shopping center.

Texas A&M College recommends the above methods. —EARL R. PONDER.

COTTON HARVEST SEASON SHORTENED BY MACHINES

Mechanical cotton harvesters threaten to make cotton gins a bottleneck to the cotton industry. This is caused by a greater amount of cotton being harvested in a shorter season than by hand picking.

Already capacity of gins frequently is inadequate to keep abreast of harvesting at the peak of hand picking. And, as the shift from hand to mechanical gathering increases a balance established over the years between the size of the cotton crop and its rate of harvesting and ginning is further overthrown.

In a study conducted recently by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station to determine the effects of mechanical harvesting on the ginning business, ginner and growers alike agree that farm storage of seed cotton is the most logical way to relieve gin load during the busy season. The study initiated by J. M. Ward and W. E. Paulson, department of agricultural economics and sociology, Texas A. & M. College, College Station, and D. L. Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock Experiment Station, was confined largely to the High Plains since machine stripping has been widely adopted in that area.

Three possible methods of easing the condition were considered. Storage fields on farms won't out over storage of seed cotton at gins and in farm buildings. Very few ginner's favored gin storage because of fire danger. Growers on the Plains in 1949 and 1951 chose full-scale stripping and farm storage over other possible solutions. As much as 90 per cent of the storage was on the ground in the cotton fields.

In further tests at the Lubbock Station field stored cotton received one inch of rain and an additional two inches artificially applied with no decline in grade.

Results of the study are reported in bulletin 765, STORING OF SEED COTTON, and is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Pruning Damaged Trees

STORMY weather, ice and snow may have damaged the trees on your property. The time to make repairs is as soon as the weather permits.

If a large branch has ripped off, it probably tore out a long strip of wood and some bark. Trim off this area, smoothing off the wound, and then paint it with an antiseptic tic paint. For small wounds, you can use shellac and grafting wax. Work this mixture in so that no cracks remain. For breaks more than two inches in diameter, buy a ready-mixed, medicated paint. The illustration, from Family Handyman, shows the proper procedure for removing large branches which have been damaged. Make the cuts in the order of the numbers. Cut 2 joins cut 1, preventing a tearing wound. Later, remove the stump at cut 3. This system prevents the weight of the branch from causing more damage when it falls. Finally, treat the stub with antiseptic paint.

Miss Darilek And H. J. Schumacher Wed In Megargel

Herman Joseph Schumacher and his bride, the former Miss Dorothy Marie Darilek, have established residence in Wichita Falls following their recent marriage.

The newlyweds recited nuptial vows during a ceremony performed in the Church of Assumption (Catholic) in Megargel. Officiant was the pastor, Rev. Theo Francis. Mrs. Jimmy Cuba, organist, and Miss Georgia Cuba, soloist, presented a program of traditional nuptial music.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Darilek of Megargel, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white satin and lace gown and a waist-length veil which was attached to a headdress of orange blossoms. She carried an arrangement of white carnations atop a white satin prayer book.

For her role as maid of honor, Miss Evelyn Vecera of Megargel wore a lime gown of taffeta and net. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and wore a head-dress of pink net. A similar costume in orchid was worn by Miss Mary Schumacher, bridesmaid.

Albert Schumacher of Rhineland was best man for his brother. Other masculine members of the wedding party were Wesley Darilek, Victor Darilek and Alvis Schumacher.

Assisting during the postnuptial reception, which was held in the home of the bride's parents, were Mrs. Anita Hons and Miss Mary Frances Tucker. The newlyweds also were honored with a dance.

When Mr. Schumacher and his bride left for a wedding trip to the Wichita Mountains near Lawton, Okla., she was wearing a blue costume with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The bride was graduated from Megargel High School where she was a member of the Future Homemakers of America and was named sweetheart of the Future Farmers of America. The groom, who is the son of Mrs. Emma Schumacher of Rhineland, was graduated from school in Rhineland. He recently was discharged from the United States Army in Korea after serving 14 months in Korea with an engineers' battalion.

Tests conducted at the Spur Experiment Station show that moisture penetration was doubled on cropland when cotton burrs were spread on the land. The mechanization of cotton harvesting is making more of this material available each year. Plenty of organic matter in the soil is an aid for fighting drought.

Boys Are Best Crop On This Farm

Good citizens in the form of healthy young men comprise the main crop raised by William "Pop" McGurk, seen above with a sampling of his pupil-assistants in "class" on the farm they operate for St. Vincent's Children's Home at Freeport, Ill.

The 160-acre farm, which supplies food for the orphanage's 250 children and 90 elderly folk at an institution for the aged, is operated by modern methods which teach the boys practical lessons in economical investment, labor-saving practices and high production.

The Holstein herd is handled in a loose-housing dairy set-up installed in two non-combustible Quonset buildings, shown in the lower picture. Working in and around them, the boys learn the importance of cleanliness, sanitation, proper feeding and milking operations, keeping production records and artificial insemination. Another Quonset functions for machinery storage and maintenance. This cuts equipment depreciation costs and provides room for instruction in machinery care.

Boys of high school age are "Pop's" farm helpers, for he believes in letting them learn by "do-how" instead of just "tell-how." They take turns on the morning shift, and those who aren't participating on athletic teams or in other activity handle the afternoon shift.

"You can bet your boots farming's worth while," Pop says, "especially when you've raised crops of boys like ours."

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Note to hunters: Deer season opens November 16. That gives you eighteen days to resolve to take it easy this year with the .30-30 or the shotgun. Look before you shoot, and shoot where you look.

State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox checked statistical tables today and announced that shooting accidents had claimed the lives of 187 people last year. That's more deaths than was dealt out by typhoid, scarlet fever, smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, measles, typhus, malaria, pellagra, and encephalitis combined for the same period of time.

"It's getting so that hunting seasons are almost as hard on the hunters as they are on the game," the health official commented.

How many of those 187 deaths occurred during the hunting season he didn't say. But with thousands of Nimrods taking to pastures for deer and turkey, it's safe to bet the number was needlessly high.

So why not agree with yourself or other members of your hunting party that this year you will: Never carry a loaded gun in your car.

Never lay a gun aside with the safety catch off.

Never let your finger rest on the trigger, or even inside the trigger guard—until you take aim at the target.

Never point the gun at anything you don't intend to shoot.

Never mix fire water with fire-power.

Never drag a gun through a fence. Put it over before you climb through.

Never shoot a gun without first checking to see if the bore is clear of obstructions.

Never shoot at noises in the brush. Remember that when wildlife is being stalked it seldom makes a noise that you can hear.

Remember, too, that guns can become toys of death for inquisitive youngsters. Unload yours before you get home.

Resting—After a Long, Hard Day!

Twenty minutes ago, the man you see in this picture came out of a long and harassing conference—tired, tense and with a bit of a headache.

And he said to himself—"I'll take the long way home tonight, and drive out by the waterfront, and let the Cadillac relax me!"

And that's just what he's doing.

If you own a 1953 Cadillac, you know exactly what's taking place. But if you don't—let's see what happens as he climbs into the driver's seat and lets his wonderful car begin its magic.

It's relaxing just to sit there—and look out over that long, beautiful hood into the beckoning distance.

The seat cushions hold him in buoyant comfort; the slender wheel fits naturally into his hands; great areas of glass surround him and let each glance reveal a panorama.

And, of course, he's proud—for it's an endless satisfaction to command such a respected possession.

And now comes the great lift to his spirits: He touches the key, and hears that deep-throated response so characteristic of a Cadillac engine—and, in an instant, he's off for a wonderful, wonderful hour!

Steering is no more than a gesture . . . the lightest touch on the throttle gets immediate action—smooth, quick and positive . . . the brakes are easy and certain under his foot.

So he just sits back and rolls along—with the soft sound of the wind for a lullaby—and the beautiful view for a tonic—resting, relaxing, at peace with the world!

His wife will never suspect, as he wheels into the driveway, that he was a tired and tense and weary husband just one short hour ago.

That's one of the nicest things about a Cadillac. It's a proven therapeutic for a work-weary man!

Try it, soon, at the end of a long, hard day. We'll furnish the car. You name the time and place.

FORT WORTH—The belief that the essential peak of cattle movement had passed was further enhanced by the lighter runs of cattle and calves around the major marketing circle Monday.

This factor, coupled with rains over much of the Southwest, was enough to spring a stirring rally in prices that wreathed the faces of cowmen with smiles all over the stockyards here.

While the advance was uneven and some sales showed more climb than others, the general picture was one of climbing prices. Sales 50c to $1 per hundred above last week's close were the rule.

Some spots were up considerably more. As an example there were 113 small calves of 202 pounds at Fort Worth Monday shipped from the Kokernot Ranch at Alpine. These calves drew $20. Mates to them a week ago sold at $15.50 with a trim. While the general advance was not so pronounced as this case, it was typical of the way the stocker trade came to life on the heels of the rain.

Reports of rain from sections of the winter wheat grazing areas could be expected to revive speculative interest in cows, calves and yearlings suitable for such pastures. Some open weather could bring up the green stuff in jig time.

While the runup in prices was most noteworthy on the cattle and calves, other species shared the better tone.

Hogs drew steady to 75 cents higher prices, small butchers and shippers setting a fast pace and buying most of the top hogs 50c to 75c above last week's close.

In the sheep barn, slaughter lambs and slaughter yearlings were strong to 50c or more higher. Some spots were $1 or more above the close last week, the kind and condition considered. Feeder lambs drew strong prices. Old ewes were strong to 50c up.

Pomona, California dealer Bill Shadoff (at left) and owned, designed and driven by Mal Hooper (right) of Los Angeles, turns up 6,000 r.p.m. with a 12.5 to 1 compression ratio. It weighs 1,800 lbs. and is 39 inches high and 56 inches wide.

$17 to $22, and common and medium sorts sold from $10 to $16, some shelly kinds below $10. Fat cows drew $9.50 to $12, and canners and cutters sold from $6 to $9.50. Bulls sold from $7 to $13.

Good and choice fat calves sold from $13 to $17, with some outstanding heavies of around 600 pounds to $18 to $20. Common and medium slaughter calves drew $9 to $13, with culls at $7 to $8.

Good and choice stocker calves sold mostly from $14 to $18, with a few lightweights to $20. Stocker cows drew $7 to $12.50. Stocker and feeder steers and yearlings sold from $10 to $16.

Good and choice butcher hogs sold at $22 to $22.25 on weights of 190 to 240 pounds and other good hogs sold from $20 to $21.75. Sows cashed at $19 to $21.

Good and choice slaughter lambs cashed at $15.50 to $17, and good shorn lambs sold at $16.50 down. Stocker and feeder lambs cashed at $10 to $13. Medium and lower grade lambs cashed at $8 to $15.

Old ewes sold from $5 to $5.75, some solid-mouthed ewes to $6.50. Yearling muttons sold from $10 to $14, old wethers drew $6 to $8. Old bucks sold at $2 to $2.50.

While stockmen are jubilant over the rains and the improved market, we'll bet that none of them breathed a bigger sigh of relief than Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The pressure has been building up on him hour by hour and the Cattleade organized by the Farmers' Union was a climax that was highly unpleasant for Benson.

Some observers feel that Benson will either have to back down from his previous opposition to high supports or resign in short order. Some Washington observers feel like his tenure of office has only a matter of weeks to run.

However, personal friends say that Benson is not the type to become dismayed and quit under fire. Certainly right now he is getting the test of a life time.

Texas Cattle Prices May Dip To Lower Level

Texas livestock producers face the coming winter with a forecast that cattle prices will remain low compared with a year ago during the next few months and may dip even lower.

Despite this outlook, says John G. McHaney, assistant extension economist, reduced cattle inventories should stabilize the market during the next few years.

Prices of Texas cattle markets dropped 56 percent between April 1951 and July 1953. At mid-year producers were receiving 82 percent of parity compared with 152 percent in April 1951, the all time high. Cattle prices are today more in line with other agricultural products than they were several years ago, McHaney says.

Favorable grain and roughage supplies caused the nations' producers to add about 4 million head to inventories during 1950. The following year price ceilings served as a stimulus for cattle-men to hold on to their beef animals and 5.5 million more animals were on farms by the end of 1951. That year cattle slaughter hit its lowest ebb in 10 years. Calf slaughter dropped to the lowest point in 18 years.

Record cattle numbers followed by the unprecedented drought has been responsible for increased marketings and, thus, lower prices paid to producers.

The weather holds a direct bearing on the price outlook in the future, McHaney says. With the exception of seasonal fluctuations, the market should level off and prices should become stabilized unless drouth conditions and other weather factors necessitates speeded marketing, he points out.

If the demand for beef weakens, cattle prices will further decline. Also, concludes McHaney, any downward trend in pork and lamb prices in the years ahead will lower cattle prices.

DISEASE DOLLAR LOSSES

An uncontrolled livestock disease can be just as destructive as an uncontrolled forest fire.

Livestock diseases have been smoldering since long before the domestication of the animal. In these days of concentrated meat animal production, the threat of livestock disease grows more alarming—taking a big bite out of the grower's profits.

The extent of this problem can be illustrated by a partial list of a few of the better known livestock diseases and their corresponding dollar loss.

Brucellosis, a disease which affects both animal and man, costs the industry in excess of $86 million annually. Mastitis presents an estimated yearly bill of $100 million and hog cholera costs livestock agriculture approximately $50 million.

Not even conservative loss estimates have been attempted with such diseases as anthrax, foot and mouth, pneumonia, shipping fever, swine erysipelas, X-disease, black leg, atrophic rhinitis, anaplasmosis and ketosis, to name a few. If we could determine it accurately, the loss would be staggering.

One agriculturist has hazarded a guess. Dr. L. M. Hutchins, of Purdue University, said, "Based on animal population figures and average values per head, animal agriculture failed to realize a potential gross income of $2,791,000,000 in 1951 as a result of death losses alone."

These figures point up the value of strict sanitation measures on the farm. Good sanitation is the first step in breaking the disease chain. Today's antibiotics, potent drugs, vaccines, and improved feed supplements have accomplished a great deal. However, they have a steep uphill battle if they are not used in conjunction with a sound farm sanitation program.

A sound disease-preventive program should not be regarded as an expensive burden. Rather, it is an investment like that of a fence for livestock. This sanitary fence is a necessity for keeping diseases out and livestock in good health.

The Texas Department of Agriculture at Austin has prepared a chart of recommended disinfectants for combatting prevalent diseases which affect livestock. A copy will be mailed upon request.
