Heavy rains soak area

The pounding rain that inundated Iowa Park and the surrounding area Tuesday was viewed with mixed emotions among homeowners and farmers as they witnessed the largest single downpour here in eight years.

Some flooding of homes in low lying areas was reported, and wheat harvest was stalled for about another week.

On the otherhand, Tuesday's torrential rain was just what the doctor ordered for lakes, stock ponds and grazing pastures.

It was the most substantial deluge Iowa park residents had seen since August 14-15 in 1971 when 13.74 inches were recorded at the Texas A&M Experiment Farm south of here during the two-day rain.

This week's rain delivered about half as much moisture with 7.1 inches recorded at the experiment farm. Tuesday's rain pushes this year's rainfall total to 19.32 inches, well above the 9.90 inch mark recorded at this time last year.

Actual amounts of moisture recorded from Tuesday's activity varied significantly. Six inches were recorded at the Robert Wilcox farm northwest of town. Southwest of town Louie McCarthy recorded 5.30 inches. West of town Pete May measured 5.50 inches, and northeast of town Clarence Mahler recorded 5.00 inches.

While the drenching proved something of a nightmare for some homeowners and farmers, it was a blessing in disguise to Iowa Park's municipal water reservoirs.

Lake Iowa Park, the middle lake in Iowa Park's chain of three reservoirs, was up six feet by Wednesday morning. Wednesday morning's reading was 1,034 feet as compared to the 1,028.3 foot reading taken May 29.

Buffalo Lake was up visibly, but authorities were unable to get an accurate reading.

Gordon Lake was pouring over the spillway.

The gentle rains that began falling about dark Monday night had turned to pounding torrents by Tuesday morning and continued into the afternoon. By noon water had covered the front porches of some homes.

By early afternoon minor flooding was reported in the northeast part of town and in Garden Valley Addition.

Not unlike many other residents, Mrs. Eddy White at 103 E. Garden witnessed water standing seven to eight inches deep in her backyard. The White's kitchen, a bedroom and hallway were flooded.

Some residents were able to hold the rising water at bay with brooms and mops, but several reported flooded foundations and water seeping through the walls.

Beverly Younger of 1209 S. Wall was in Wichita Falls during the heavy rains. Her vehicle was hit broadside in an intersection and she lost the car.

Even if she had had her car, she might have found it hard to get home via the Old Iowa Park Road which was closed at three intersections between here and FM 369 because of high water. FM 367 was closed a half of a mile east of FM 369.

And while it didn't take long for smart fishermen to fill their stringers at Lake Gordon, one catfish was banked by sheer misfortune.

Larry Colipher, a service technician for Lone Star Gas was reading meters on East Pecan in the south part of town when he spied a catfish floundering in the middle of the street.

It wasn't any prize winning mammoth catfish, but a good illustration of how hard and fast the water came.

While stalled autos dotted some streets, when the water receded there were visible signs of more lasting damage to the streets.

The rushing waters left numerous potholes in city streets, already in a worsening condition from winter ice storms.

Weather watchers agreed the rain stopped and the sunshine broke through the sky in midafternoon Tuesday just before more serious damage seemed imminent.

Drainage problems at many locations and in the Valley Farms area surfaced again.

It appeared this area's wheat harvest was about to begin in earnest on Monday, but Don Decker, Wichita County agriculture extension agent, said the rains would delay harvest until next week.

The area around Iowa Park was hardest hit in the county, Decker said, noting most of the wheat was still standing and could be harvested. He said wheat growers were graced that the rain had not been accompanied by high winds that would have laid more wheat over.

Most of the excessive losses were spotted south of Iowa Park in low lying fields, Decker said.

The rain came at an unfortunate time for cotton farmers, who had just completed planting.

The heavy moisture will force the replanting of half the county's cotton crop because the tight red soil will crust. Decker said some cotton farmers will try to get a stand by going over their fields with a rotary hoe to break the soil's crust.

There was extensive damage to fences along areas of creeks and draws that flowed far beyond their banks.

However, the rains brought welcomed relief to dwindling water supplies in stock ponds, Decker said. The rains were ideal for pasture ranges and vegetable gardens, Decker added.

TOO WET NOW—Wheat harvest was just on the brink of beginning in earnest when the area was inundated Tuesday. This wheat was being combined on the Dewey Spruiell farm east of town Monday afternoon, just a few hours before the rains came. Agriculturalists estimated harvest could resume by the first of next week providing there are no more rains.

Speeding tops court docket

Increased activity in Iowa Park's municipal court apparently crested during the last session with 47 convictions recorded.

Monday's municipal court session resulted in the largest number of convictions since police instituted a crack down on traffic violators several weeks ago.

Of the 47 convictions recorded Monday, 38 were for speeding.

Twenty-four convictions were upheld May 24, 35 on the May 17 docket and 27 on the May 10 docket.

But it appears the police department's activity has slowed—or drivers are slowing—because today's docket contains only 29 cases.

In other police action this week, an Iowa Park woman became the target of the fuel crunch.

Mrs. M.G. Moore, 107 W. Texas, told police yesterday that someone stole 20 gallons of gasoline from her parked pickup.

Utility rate increases on agenda

Members of the Iowa Park city council are preparing for a lengthy and involved meeting Monday, after a three-week layoff since their last meeting.

To begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers, the meeting will be highlighted by rate increase proposals for both electricity and natural gas and issues involving water.

Both Texas Electric Service Co. and Lone Star Gas Co. have filed rate increase proposals at city hall since the last meeting.

Aldermen will discuss the rate increase submitted by Wichita Falls, which will be supplying as much as two-million gallons of treated water per day under a new agreement. The rate contract was modified in language by the council at its last meeting and a response to that change will be discussed by the local government.

In connection with the increased rate Wichita Falls will be charging for water, Steve Morath, city administrator, will ask permission to negotiate a rate increase for the Wichita Valley Water Supply Corporation, which purchases water from Iowa Park for its customers.

Other items expected to be on Monday's agenda are:

- * Updating storm warning system and modify existing fire warning system;

- * Establish an ordinance setting fines on unauthorized (non city resident) persons dumping trash in city containers;

- * A representative of the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department will discuss purchase of an emergency van for the department;

- * Award a bid to sell a police department cruiser.

Band director to be hired

School trustees are expected to approve a contract for a new high school band director when the board meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building.

Former junior high band director Greg Miller, who has instructed at Roscoe since leaving three years ago, has agreed to take the job recently vacated by David Mooney, according to Supt. Faris Nowell.

Two items on Tuesday's agenda has to do with the new education bill passed by the state legislature. One is an overall discussion of the bill and how it will affect the local district.

Lawyers want money from Johnson grain sales

Attorneys involved in the Bobby Johnson bankruptcy suit will go before a federal court on June 21 seeking almost $153,000 to cover legal fees and expenses.

Seven law firms have applied for reimbursement from funds acquired from the sale of grain contained in Johnson's warehouse facilities.

The sale of grain netted more than $700,000 and interest brought the figure up to around $800,000, said Perry Wesbrooks, a Wichita Falls attorney representing claimants and creditors.

Earlier, $500,000 was distributed to grain farmers who had suffered losses through their dealings with Johnson family businesses.

That leaves about $300,000 from grain sales which could be used to pay off the lawyers.

The seven legal firms seeking reimbursement are asking for a combined $152,791.83. The notice filed in a Wichita Falls federal court asks that after fees and expenses for lawyers is determined, the balance of the grain proceeds be distributed to grain farmers who Johnson owed.

Money available for distribution does not include the $225,000 represented by the grain warehouse bond which is involved in a separate law suit.

Wesbrooks, of the Wichita Falls legal firm of Schenk and Wesbrooks, is seeking the largest settlement among the lawyers who have filed for reimbursement. Schenk and Wesbrooks are asking for $38,288.

Wesbrooks, who filed the first suit which has resulted in a multiplicity of other suits, estimated he had spent 800 hours on the case.

Other law firms representing claimants and creditors and the fees they are seeking include Douthitt, Mitchell and Paul $21,722; and Neal and Oliver, Nealy, Mason and Snodgrass $5,625.

Bankruptcy receiver James Dugger is seeking $16,426.

Attorneys for the debtors, Garrett, Settle and Callaway, have asked to be reimbursed $27,131.

Attorney for the receiver seeking reimbursement include Gilbert and Colvin $28,460, and Theodore Mack $15,136.

The hearing on the proposed plan of arrangement is slated for 2 p.m. June 21 in Judge John Ford's Wichita Falls Federal Building courtroom.

Wesbrooks indicated the June 21 proceeding is only another chapter in the continuing bankruptcy courtroom proceedings which he thinks will not be complete for another year.

The involuntary bankruptcy proceedings against Johnson and his family's businesses surfaced two and a half years ago when Johnson allegedly fell from a fishing boat and drowned in the Texas Gulf of Mexico.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation subsequently discovered Johnson had not drowned and was seen in the Northwestern United States.

Johnson's brother, H.C. Johnson was sentenced to 16 years in prison for issuing false grain warehouse receipts and remains incarcerated at a federal facility at El Reno, Okla.

Weight loss book reviewed

Mrs. George Boles read an article by Dr. Lawrence Lamb on "Weight Loss" for the TOPS Club program Monday night.

She noted that he advised those who are trying to lose weight of the danger of getting hooked on bathroom scales, stating that they only told one how much he weighed and not where he had lost weight. He stressed that the purpose of losing weight was to eliminate excess body fat and advised exercise to keep from losing muscle mass.

Mrs. Boles was the TOPS queen and Mrs. C.O. Dodd was the KOPS queen for the week.

Mrs. Don Wynn was in charge of business. Members told what they planned to do within the next two weeks to lose the weight that they desired to lose.

Cook of the Week

Each week as different cooks submit their recipes we are reminded more and more how many rely on the liberal use of spices to add new flair and excitement to a wide variety of foods. Their use seems to be limited only by the imagination and their irresistible scent wafts through the house to whet appetites even while the food is cooking.

Judy (Mrs. Robert) Jones' recipes this week give a hint as to how she uses garlic, oregano, cumin and ginger to enhance the flavor of dried beans. Thrifty New Englanders knew the value of the dried beans and how to make the most of the dietary food. Despite the fact that they have in some cases doubled or tripled in price, they are still one of the most nutritious of budget foods, and are versatile enough to be the basis for many satisfying main dishes.

Judy has taught Home-making Home and Family Living at Iowa Park High School for two years. She received a BS degree in home economics from Baylor University at Waco where she was graduated magna cum laude. She was a member of Kappa Omicron Phi, an honor society, Baylor Home Economics Association, and Texas Home Economics Students Section. She was graduated from Eastern Hills High School at Fort Worth.

Judy and Robert Jones are members of First Baptist Church in Wichita Falls where they both sing in the choir and teach third grade in Sunday School. He is an electrical engineer for Texas Electric Co. Her hobbies include working in the yard, sewing and needle point.

Inflation affects your electric bill even more than your grocery bill.

Every time you go to the grocery store you can see what inflation's doing to your food bill. But because you don't buy electricity by the can, you probably don't realize how inflation affects the cost of electricity.

Fuel costs are up, particularly natural gas. Equipment costs are up. Power lines, transformers and poles cost us more every day. Just like milk costs you more every day.

The millions of dollars we must borrow to build plants to ensure your electricity needs in the future are costing us more.

The cost of building these plants is higher, too, because of inflation. And because of the time and money it takes to comply with an ever-increasing number of government regulations. The longer it takes to build, the more inflation takes its toll.

Inflation, overregula-

tion and rising fuel costs are all making your electricity cost you more. But by using electricity wisely you can do your part in keeping that cost down in your home.

At Texas Electric, we want you to know what you're paying for.

Lone Star files for rate increase

Lone Star Gas Company's local manager, H.R. Burch, Monday filed an application for a gas service rate increase which would raise residential customers' bills about 80 cents per month during summer months and $2.80 per month during winter months, based on average monthly consumption of 8,000 cubic feet.

Texas Electric Service Company filed a week earlier for a rate increase.

Burch said the company needs $68,456 of additional revenues to meet its costs of operation and to earn an adequate return on the company's rate base in Iowa Park. For the 12 months ended September 30, 1978, based on adjusted revenues and expenses, Lone Star reportedly earned a 2.91 percent rate of return on its fair value rate base. Burch said rising costs are the reason why the company's earnings are deficient.

The largest single cost of the utility's operations throughout its pipeline network to 533 cities and towns in Texas is the cost of purchased natural gas, climbing more than 70 percent since 1971, when the company's average cost was 18 cents per thousand cubic feet, to today's cost of approximately $1.7487.

Burch added that, despite recent cost increases to customers, natural gas is still, by comparison, the cheapest energy source available.

"Though the customer may not realize it, rates adequate to provide Lone Star an equitable return help assure the customer adequate service for his needs, whether in the home, the office, the hospital, school or factory," Burch concluded.

Under the present rate, residential users averaging 8,000 cubic feet per month are paying $21.69.

As I See It....

"We have one of the most modern sewer systems, municipally owned, that is to be found in any city in this part of the state. . .

"The city administration has done a great work during this year in cleaning our city up, and deserves especial credit for same. . .

"Set out magnificent trees in the present city park, and established another park in the east part of the city. This you will recall is one of the aims set out at our annual banquet one year ago. . .

"Completed some of the finest residences in Northwest Texas. A city that appeals to home builders in an ideal city. . .

"Secured a reduction in Fire Insurance rates that will save the citizens practically the entire amount paid in taxes for the interest and retiring of the water improvement bonds. . .

"Voted bonds and completed one of the most modernly equipped high school buildings to be found in a city this size anywhere. . . Our schools enjoy an enviable reputation due to the able superintending faculty, and progressive programs of our board of education citizenship. . .

Do these sound familiar? They could have been made at Iowa Park during any of the recent years. But they weren't.

They are part of the late Mayor's report, made at the 29, 1923 third annual banquet of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce, which was held in conjunction opening of W.F. George High School.

A copy of the program was sent to Mayor Johnny Crawford by Tinky (Van Horn) Short, now a resident of Fort Worth. She commented "As you can see, some of the same problems are still confronting the city today; which only goes to show, things don't change, people do!"

Mr. Pace painted a glowing forecast of agriculture in the Wichita Valley, with the recent advent of irrigation ditches having been constructed on the north side of the Wichita River. In fact, the Chamber's slogan then was "Iowa Park, The Gateway to the Big Irrigated Valley."

The speaker also pointed out that the first community fair, which later grew into the Texas-Oklahoma Fair, "drew large numbers from all parts of the county, and was a stimulus in all agricultural lines. The mere thought of making a splendid record was a challenge to the citizens."

No, Mrs. Short, problems don't change too much. And thank you for reminding us.

events held here in those days, the Tom L. Burnett Rodeo and pageant of Progress.

Two dollar figures were used in Mr. Pace's address. The new sewer system to which he referred cost $50,000. And a third the cost of the new $90,000 high school building was donated "by one of the big-hearted, progressive citizens and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W.F. George."

Oh, in Mr. Pace's perspective for 1924, he had "Keep working for a modern City Hall and Fire Station, and for modern fire fighting apparatus."

Well, the city council will advertise for bids to remodel our present city hall sometime this month. We have a new fire station, but on Monday night's city council agenda is an appearance by a volunteer fireman who will discuss a vehicle for the department.

No, Mrs. Short, problems don't change too much. And thank you for reminding us.

Local blood donors reach levels

Two Iowa Park blood donors reached gallon levels when the Red Cross Bloodmobile was here Tuesday of last week.

Vern Horsky, 903 Dosia, completed his third gallon level, and Spencer Copeland, 701 S. Victoria, his first.

"The need for blood following the April 10 tornado brought an immediate response from many regular Iowa Park donors," commented N.D. Hodson, local drive chairman.

"These regular donors were ineligible to contribute on the May 29th Bloodmobile visit because the required 56 days had not elapsed," he said.

Hodson also pointed out that summer vacation for high school students also discouraged their participation.

But he said he was pleased 40 donors gave blood, though the goal for Iowa Park is 75 pints.

"It is hoped that there will be a larger turnout on the next visit, July 31," Hodson said.

Hodson recognized the volunteer work contributed by two nurses, Pansy Bowerman and Marilyn Perry, as well as Joan Robinson and Wanda Singer and members of ESA: Lynn Bleeker, Glenda Hall, Margie Faulkner, Sandra McDonald, Millie Jones, Betty Dyer and Connie Hrnecirik.

Donors included Wilbert Wynn, Stanley Wright, Wayne Williams, Michael Williams, Carolyn Sue Williams, Ray Stubbs, Charles Smith, Danny Skinner, Robert Sefcik, Faye McAllister, Bud Mercer, Kathryn Mattis, Chris Lester, Clarice Lee, Linda Lawson, Timothy Kaspar, Peggy Kaspar, Millicent Jones, Kenny Jones, and Sam Hunter. Also Wanda Hunter, Tim Hunter, Horsk, Janice Harris, Kay Hamilton, Kenneth Garrett, Bill Gilmore, Cecil Gilmore, Ray Fortner, Norma Fortner, Billy Dyer, Copeland, Joannetta Copeland, Robert Birdett, John Bennett, Paul Arrington, Marion Anderson, Charles Anderson and Jimmy Alsip.

Wichita Falls construction affects home building

Construction of new homes has apparently come to a screeching halt in Iowa park, apparently a spinoff of the Wichita Falls tornado rebuilding effort.

Not one permit was issued by the Iowa Park city hall during May for construction of a new home. Permits for minor construction and remodeling amounted to $23,210 for the month.

May's permit total brought the year's permits to $402,267, less than half the $858,885 reported for the same five-month period of 1978.

Realtors indicate the demand for construction labor is so great in Wichita Falls, where homes damaged and destroyed by the April 10 tornado number well into the thousands, has drained all help needed to build here.

Three mobile homes have been located in Iowa Park by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), for which no permit fee was required since they are on a temporary basis.

Permits issued during May include: Robert Cook, 1400 N. Victoria, mobile home, $15,000;

Bobby R. Andrews, 800 N. Jackson, alteration, $60;

Billy J. McNeely, 312 W. Clara, storage building, $500;

The current energy shortage apparently does not apply to Texas high school students involved in University Interscholastic League activities.

Participation in the athletic, literary and academic, and music programs reached record highs in 1978-79, reinforcing the long-standing contention that one of two graduating seniors in Texas has taken part in a UIL activity during his high school career.

"Certainly, the UIL has had its problems the past year, with the numerous court cases and occasional one-sided press coverage," said Dr. Bailey Marshall, League director. "But I would be remiss to emphasize the negative and overlook the positive aspects of our programs."

"More students were involved in UIL activities this past year than ever before and this participation by students on a fair and equal basis has been and remains our ultimate goal: This is the reason the UIL exists," he added.

Across the board, participation by schools remained stable, with the exception of girls' basketball, which increased by 55 schools. Football, girls' volleyball, boys' basketball, swimming and track and field remained on a per-school participation basis near their 1977-78 marks.

Individual participation, however, continued its upward surge, with more than 42,000 playing football, 10,000 and 23,000 in boys' and girls' track respectively, and 23,000 and 19,000 in boys' and girls' basketball respectively.

Elsewhere, participation in boys' baseball neared the 16,000 mark, while more than 20,000 took part in boys' and girls' tennis. Approximately 8,000 participated in boys' golf and 4,000 in girls' golf. Swimming figures reached 3,500 for the boys' and 2,500 for the girls', while cross country boys' and girls' totals sped near the 600 plus mark.

In the UIL music program, some 71,000 took part in choral competition while 40,000 participated in the solo and ensemble contest, and a whopping 215,000 joined bands and orchestras in UIL contests.

Participation in the UIL literary and academic contests was equally as impressive:

"The University Interscholastic League embraces more than a half-million participants and anytime you're working with a program having the scope this one has, you must operate under a system of uniformly enforced rules and regulations," Dr. Marshall said. "The school administrators and educators of Texas have voted for and support rules governing inter-school competition. To abandon these rules would be detrimental to the educational benefits of the overall program."

"It is wise to keep in mind that Texas school people, with the support and counsel of their local patrons, have built the UIL into the most outstanding organization of its kind."

Grain STORAGE

Dear Neighbor,

For the past twenty-two years, we at McClendon's have had the privilege to serve your feed, seed and fertilizer needs. Without your help and support we could not have expanded into the Grain and Elevator business.

April 13th, 1978 we purchased the former Robert Johnson Grain Elevator in Iowa Park. Last year was our first year to serve the farmers and ranchers in this area in the grain elevator business. That first year was quite an experience for us. We just about had to learn the elevator business from scratch, but we also received a great deal of help and suggestions from many of you. This helped very much and we really were thankful for the help.

We are now starting our second year and from what we have learned of that first year, we are going to do our very best in making sure we serve you, large or small, to the best of our ability.

We will be buying and selling grain, or if some want open or government storage, Cargill Burris Milling Co., Inc. in Ft. Worth, will handle our wheat storage needs.

Our pledges to you and your combine people are:

1. Unload your trucks as fast as possible.
2. Be accurate on your weights and grade of wheat.
3. Stay open as late at night as necessary to prevent the combine machines from closing down.
4. Pay competitive prices for grain at all times.

We would welcome your stopping in and visiting anytime at the elevator or feed store and we want you to know that your business is always appreciated here at McClendon's.

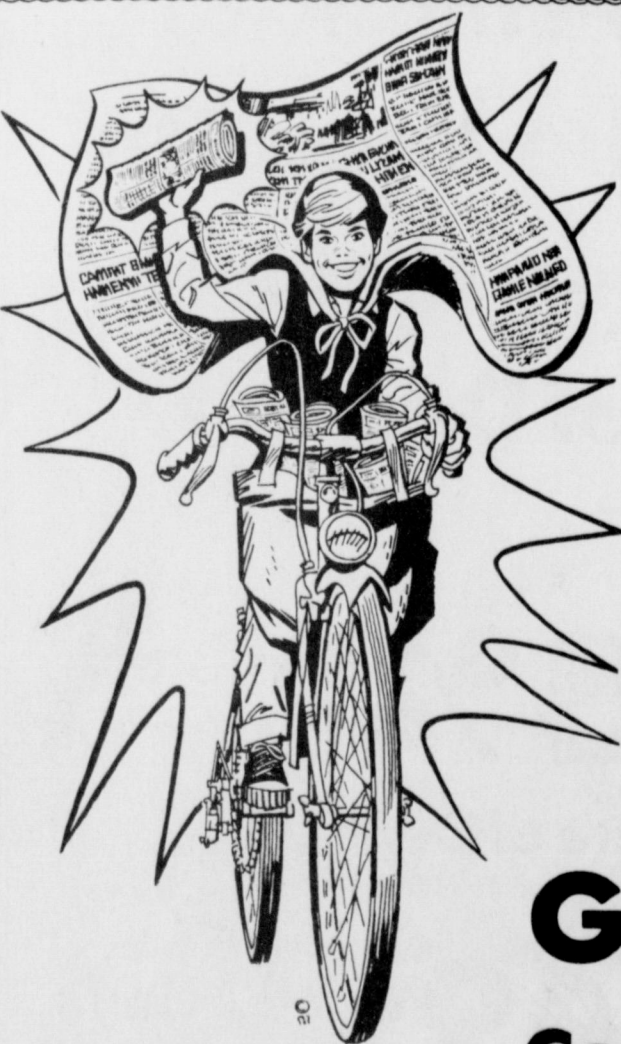

Thank you,

Jim McClendon

New officers of the Noon Lions Club will be installed during ceremonies Monday evening at the First Christian Church.

To begin at 7 p.m., the event will be ladies night, and the club's regular Tuesday luncheon meeting will not be held.

Program for Tuesday's meeting was Dr. Helen Berrier, a psychologist with Region IX Service Center, who spoke on problems many victims of the Wichita Falls tornado are facing.

Dr. Berrier, herself, was a victim.

City slates clean-up drive; personnel big meeting issue

The Holliday City Council and a group of concerned citizens embarked on an effort to clean up the town, and the council averted three possible personnel changes at its Monday night meeting.

In the wake of the April election and a subsequent special election, Monday night marked the first regular council meeting in several weeks where all the council posts were filled.

Among the persons encountered at Monday night's meeting was one of the unsuccessful mayoral candidates, Mary Nell Killian, who was there to try and follow through on one of her campaign platform pledges. Joined by three other ladies, Mrs. Killian called Holliday "the filthiest, ugliest town there ever was" and asked the council to launch a clean-up campaign.

After discussion on legalities of forcing property owners to clean up around houses, businesses and vacant lots, the council set aside June 17-23 as clean-up week here.

Mayor Tom Hall and the contingent of ladies will organize the campaign.

The council explained legal steps are being taken to condemn abandoned structures. Letters are being sent out to 105 vehicle owners who are violating the junk car ordinance, the council said.

Personnel issues claimed a large portion of Monday night's meeting which eventually led to an executive session. Police Chief Don Pennington, citing economic reasons for seeking other employment, submitted a letter of resignation.

But the council persuaded Pennington to stay after granting him a $100 monthly salary increase. At a previous meeting, the council gave Pennington a $50 monthly pay raise plus $50 monthly for his wife who dispatches and does police secretarial work.

Pennington said the only reason he contemplated leaving was because of financial reasons, but expressed satisfaction with the $200 additional income to his family approved by the council.

Mayor Hall reported former water superintendent Hershel McDaniel wants to return to his old municipal job; however, the council unanimously nixed the proposal voting to retain Elvin Hoover as water superintendent.

Hall also asked if the council would reconsider hiring Evon Carter to assume her old duties as city secretary. The proposal died on the floor for lack of a motion.

Laverne Slatton has been designated interim city secretary until a full-time city secretary-administrator is hired. Her assistant is Elizabeth Gorman.

Councilmen voted to hire Danny Teafatiller as a general maintenance worker at $3.75 per hour on a 90-day trial.

The council hired Pete Snyder as dump ground superintendent. The contract calls for Snyder to be paid $400 monthly. Snyder recently retired as a city maintenance worker.

Requested salary adjustments for city workers was tabled by the council until after the new budget is completed in July.

In other business Monday night the council voted to hike its water and sewer tapping fees.

The cost of a water tap was raised to $60, and a sewer tap now will cost $75. The council voted to charge $100 additional for any sewer tap requiring lines in excess of 50 feet.

In the same motion the council voted to add $45 to fees charged for water and sewer tap services in housing developments.

Ernest Andrews, city engineer, reported that it appears the council will be able to open bids on its water and sewer projects in about a month.

Councilmen voted to have a new electrical switch box installed in the fire truck garage next to city hall.

They voted to purchase a new adding machine and a 3.5 horsepower water pump.

Finnell: session successful

State Rep. Charles Finnell assessed the recently completed 66th session of the Texas Legislature, and found it "successful, for the most part."

"Our district was treated fairly by the legislature," Finnell said, "and I feel the state as a whole fared quite well this session."

Finnell stated that "without a doubt," the most memorable event this session was the disastrous tornado which struck the district.

While the disaster resulted in some legislation,

Finnell was also instrumental in the passage of such major bills of local interest as the ratification of the Red River Compact, the Wichita County Hospital District bill, and a bill creating the office of District Attorney for the 97th Judicial District (Archer, Clay and Montague Counties).

Curlees to observe golden anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Willie F. Curlee of Holliday will be honored Saturday at a reception to mark their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Hosts will be the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Eastman of Holliday and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Curlee of Honolulu, Hawaii.

Friends are invited to call between 1 and 4 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church, Holliday.

The grandchildren of the couple, Mike, Michelle and Jeff Eastman; Steve and Scott Curlee and Mrs. Donna Coats and Mrs. Laverne Gaffney will serve as reception assistants. In addition to the seven grandchildren, the Curlees' two great-grandchildren will also be present.

Willie Curlee of Iowa Park and Inez Stone of Clara Community, were married June 8, 1929, in the home of the Church of Christ minister in Iowa Park. They moved to Holliday in 1931, where he was employed in the oil fields for a time.

The Curlees then opened a grocery store and snack bar across the street from the Holliday School. He was later appointed tax collector for the Holliday school district and was a school bus driver. He retired in February, 1972, but they maintain their home in Holliday.

Mr. and Mrs. Curlee are active in the Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star, and are members of the Wichita Wagons, a recreational

Tornado victim to receive limb

Norma Wright of Wichita Falls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.Y. Gorman of Holliday, is to be transferred to a Houston hospital for therapy and to be fitted with an artificial left leg which she lost in the tornado.

Mrs. Wright, owner of Treasure Cove in the French Village Shopping Center in Wichita Falls, was caught outside her business when the storm struck.

She suffered a broken right leg and left arm, and her left leg had to be amputated.

She is one of 12 persons who remain hospitalized because of injuries sustained in the giant twister, Mrs. Gorman said.

Chief cited

Don Pennington, Holliday police chief, was presented a citation of appreciation by the Wichita Falls Police Department for his aid to that city during the tornado.
