Two-Week Closing Of Coal Mines Set

Lewis Orders Miners Out In Protest Against Official Appointed By HST

By HAROLD W. WARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 11—John L. Lewis, preparing for another contract battle with mine operators, today ordered a two-week shutdown of coal mines east of the Mississippi, beginning Monday.

He summoned some 400,000 soft and hard coal miners to leave the diggings in protest against President Truman's nomination of Dr. James Boyd as director of the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

He also said the shutdown would be a memorial for men killed and injured in the mines.

Contract Expires June 30

He said nothin gabout the fact that negotiations are coming up for a new contract to replace the one expiring June 30. But anything that tends to reduce the amount of already-mined coal will help Lewis put more pressure on the operators. The present piles above ground are estimated by the Bureau of Mines at 70,000,000 tons, or about a 45-day supply. This is the highest spring - time coal pile since 1942.

Operator spokesmen were quick to call the shutdown a strike, called in "contempt" of the contract terms. Lewis himself declared the contract sanctioned such memorial periods.

Some producers indicated they would welcome the shutdown, in view of the current marketing slump, due to a mild winter in the east and other factors.

First reaction on Capitol Hill was that there was nothing to be alarmed about, in view of the large supply of mined coal. Some Congress members felt the Lewis action would improve the chances that Dr. Boyd would be confirmed by the Senate.

Boyd, Australian-born mineral expert and one-time dean of the Colorado School of Mines, was named by Mr. Truman nearly two years ago, but Lewis opposed him, and the Senate has yet to confirm him. Meantime Boyd has been serving in the office, but has drawn no pay since Dec. 19, 1947.

Spring Floods Hit Nebraska

(By International News Service)

RIVERS in southeast Nebraska and northeast Montana went on a spring rampage Friday forcing 125 Beatrice, Neb., families to evacuate and contributing to at least one death.

(Meanwhile, snow dusted 16 states from Minnesota to New England Friday and frost was forecast for northern Florida as the nation's unusual weather continued, the Associated Press said.)

Homes Are Looted

At Albion, Neb., Robert E. Logsdon was killed when dynamite charges exploded prematurely at an ice jam on the Beaver river.

The Big Blue river spilled over its banks at Beatrice, and evacuated homes became targets for looters. Other families were forced to flee their dwellings at Norfolk, Neb., on the Elkhorn river.

The Elkhorn reached a record stage of 13.6 feet at Norfolk, and the city's agricultural levee broke. However, this only slightly increased the flooding.

More Damage Seen

At Beemer, Neb., 30 miles downstream from Norfolk, residents struggled with an ice jam.

A weather bureau observer predicted flooding during the next two days from Neligh to Scribern, Neb., on the Elkhorn.

In Montana, the Yellowstone river surged over its banks and flooded 5,000 acres of lowlands. Hugh chunks of ice, broken away by the raging waters, were borne along to the icy Missouri.

Ice jams filled the Yellowstone and authorities feared all Montana land between the Missouri and Yellowstone would be flooded unless the frozen walls break up.

Flood warnings were issued in northern California after the season's heaviest rainstorm drenched the area, threatening to send the Russian river over its banks, the Associated Press said.)

Another storm, still 1,300 miles offshore Friday night, was expected to strike the West coast by early Saturday.

Rain, sleet and snow heckled Massachusetts, Rhode Island and

Youth Hunted As Slayer Of Dean

CLEBURNE, March 11. (AP)—A handsome, dark - haired youth, sought for murder in the mysterious slaying of his guardian, Dr. John Lord, was described today as a boy who could "move in on your heart faster than any kid I ever saw."

Arthur Clayton Hester, 18-year-old ward of the Texas Christian university dean, was charged with murder today by Sheriff Houston Walling. A search for young Hester was started.

The description of Hester was given at Corsicana by Moyne L. Kelly, superintendent of the State Orphans home where Hester was once enrolled. He said Hester had a "wonderful personality."

Car Is Found

Dr. Lord, 70, a muscular, heavy-set man, was found dead in his home near here yesterday. His head bore several deep gashes. A weapon was not found.

Hester disappeared last Tuesday after Dr. Lord, dean of the graduate school at TCU in nearby Fort Worth, failed to show up at his office.

Lord's automobile, a four-door sedan, missing from the garage, was recovered today at Coahoma, Tex., where it was left for repairs last Tuesday night by two youths.

Garage owner J. B. Martin said the boys abandoned the car at his garage and went separate ways.

A youth was picked up in El Paso today as a suspect in the case. He was arrested in the Army YMCA. Officers said he was eliminated as a suspect after questioning.

He had been retained after W.

HST's Civil Rights Fight Appears Lost

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 11—Southern filibusters won major victories on two Senate test votes Friday night—and Democratic leaders conceded the Truman civil rights program may be as good as defeated.

The Senate, with 23 Republicans joining the Dixie men, overturned a ruling by Vice President Barkley that a two-thirds majority can end the present southern filibuster, now 12 days old.

The chamber did this by upholding Senator Russell (D-Ga.), in an appeal from the vice president's decision. The vote was 46 to 41.

Future Course Uncertain

Just a few minutes earlier the southerners, battling to save the right of filibuster so they can talk the civil rights bills to death, had won another round. By the same 46 to 41 vote, the chamber turned down a motion by Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, to lay Russell's appeal on the table.

The administration could, if it chose, press on with its effort to break the filibuster by day-and-night sessions designed to wear the southerners down. But in view of the magnitude of this task, and the fact that other major legislation is upcoming, it was uncertain whether this course would be taken.

Senator Myers (Pa.), deputy Democratic leader of the Senate, asked Lucas whether Friday night's test might not be the "only vote we may have on civil rights at this session."

"That's a very good probability," Lucas replied.

However, another administration lieutenant told a reporter that President Truman "wants this fought out to a finish." He indicated that Senate leaders might already have been in touch with the President, who is vacationing in Key West, Fla.

Before the Senate recessed until Saturday, there was a howling argument. Lucas and Myers angrily chided Republicans, saying they claimed to be for civil rights, but many voted to nullify Barkley's ruling.

This brought a shouted protest

House Defeats GOP Rent Plan

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—House Democratic leaders today defeated a Republican effort to continue rent controls only 90 days more, then put off until Tuesday a final vote on an administration bill extending the curbs 15 months.

Postponement of the showdown came after nearly eight hours of heated debate, highlighted by these developments:

1. Rejection of the GOP's 90-day extension plan by a vote of 178 to 163.

2. Adoption of an amendment by Rep. Brown (D-Ga) to assure landlords so far as practicable, a "reasonable return on reasonable value" of their rental property. This was approved 246 to 31.

Delay Is Ordered

3. Elimination of a provision which would have put apartment hotels back under price ceilings. Under the present law the curbs apply only to hostelries which do not provide the "usual hotel services." The change was adopted by a vote of 174 to 98.

The Democratic leadership then ordered the delay on final action, saying that votes on pending amendments and three scheduled roll calls would have forced the

Major Atlantic Pact Work Ends; Terms To Be Published Friday

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 11—North Atlantic pact envoys virtually concluded conferences on the historic document Friday and announced that its terms will be published next Friday.

Pact ambassadors, after conferring with Secretary of State Acheson for two and one-quarter hours, decided tentatively that member nations will send their foreign ministers to Washington to sign the treaty the first week in April.

No definite date has yet been fixed for the signing ceremony, although it was intimated that it might be April 4.

Friday's meeting—which followed a conference between Acheson and Danish Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen—brought alliance discussions to a practical close, although there may be a final meeting next Tuesday. Belgian Ambassador Baron Silvercruys, his country's pact envoy, said:

"We had a very good meeting. We took up various points and polished the text. You might say we gave it the beauty treatment."

Similar statements were made by British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks and French Ambassador

Area Exhibits Slated Today

Attention of South Plains 4-H and FFA boys will be held today by three livestock shows in as many counties, with the Lubbock county show to be staged at Slaton, the Lynn county show at Tahoka and Hale county's show being held at Hale Center.

All three livestock shows are preliminaries to the 16th annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock show to be held at the fairgrounds here on March 21, 22 and 23.

The eighth annual Lubbock county stock show, which will be staged in the football stadium in northwest Slaton, will get under way this morning. All entries must be in by 10 a. m., it has been announced, and judging is to start at 2 p. m.

Calf Scramble Slated

Ray C. Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department of Texas Technological college, will judge all livestock in the following classes: Gilts, barrows, sows, pig litters, fat lambs, calves and others, depending on entries.

Special feature of the show this year, as in years past, will be the calf scramble, in which ten calves are turned loose. The boys entering will be broken down according to age into various classes.

Many of the calves being shown in this year's show are those caught last year in the calf scramble, it was announced.

Cash Prizes For Winners

The Lubbock county show is open to all Lubbock county boys of the Future Farmers of America and 4-H clubs, plus students of Wilson school district in Lynn county.

Cash prizes will be awarded to winners of the first six places in all classes, and ribbons will be awarded in all classes and divisions to the first five high placings.

In addition, $25 war bonds are being awarded by civic clubs of Lubbock and Slaton to grand champion winners, best groups and

$1,000,000 Gas Fire Is Raging In Gulf

NEW ORLEANS, March 11. (AP)—A tremendous gas fumes fire roared several hundred feet into the sky at the mouth of the Mississippi river tonight, after an explosion caused by a tideland oil drilling rig striking an unexpected gas strata.

Shell Oil company officials said one man was burned but not seriously, and that the crew of about 12 escaped to safety in motorboats.

They estimated damage at $1,000,000.

The large oil-drilling barge, expensive equipment and a LSM craft anchored alongside as a tanker burned.

The explosion occurred about 2 p. m. No word was received until some time later when the crew reached the tiny village of Venice, far south of New Orleans on the river.

The Coast Guard said shipping was not in danger. The location is in the Gulf of Mexico about a mile and a half from the Pass A Loutre entrance to the mouth of the Mississippi.

Lubbock School Enrollment Figures Again Show Gain

Interest Reported At All-Time High

Cash Backing Sought For Fat Stock Show

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

LUBBOCK interest and support are at an all-time high for the 16th annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock show to be held at the Fairgrounds here March 21-23.

This was the consensus late Friday of finance committee members who devoted the day to soliciting pledges to the fund which will guarantee premiums above market prices for calves, pigs and lambs exhibited in the show and sold at auction on the final day.

This additional money will go to the 4-H club and FFA boys of 29 Lubbock area counties, including three in New Mexico, who literally have hand-raised the livestock to be shown and sold. Even if the boys do not win prizes and ribbons, they will receive tidy sums of extra cash because of the auction sale premiums.

Reports Encouraging

More than 75 Lubbock business and professional men were on the teams which participated in the solicitations. Only a few reported results of their efforts late Friday to Finance Chairman J. Lawrence Green or Show Secretary George Bond, assistant manager of the chamber of commerce.

But the reports received, the officials said, were the most encouraging for any first day of any financial drive since the show was established under chamber of commerce sponsorship.

Heading the list among those making first day reports was the team comprised of Forrest L. Lindsey and Wayne (Micky) Henly. They reported pledges totaling $220. Every prospect assigned them contributed, including five pledging for the first time.

At Least $3,500 Sought

The committee is seeking a minimum of $3,500 to absorb the differences between the premiums paid at the auction and the price at which the stock will bring on the market during the succeeding few days. Usually in the past, not all the pledge money has been required. In such cases, the surplus is prorated back to those making pledges.

While the finance committee members, working in pairs, have until next Friday to complete their assignments, Green and Bond asked them to make progress reports from day to day, if practical, before that time.

"We particularly would like to have reports not later than noon today so as to give us some idea just where we stand," Green said. They should be made to Bond at the chamber of commerce, telephone 4666.

Refusals Are Few

Solicitations started immediately after a coffee-and-doughnuts kickoff in the Hilton hotel Friday morning. The attendance, exceeding 75, was the largest of any finance committee meeting in stock show history.

Proceedings were brief. Members received instructions and supplies, were paired into teams and assigned prospects. Nearly all started solicitations at once, and first reports were received by Bond at the chamber of commerce within an hour.

According to the first day reports, more than 90 per cent of those invited to make pledges did

Floyd Courthouse Damaged By Fire

FLOYDADA, March 11 (Special) "Mopping up" operations literally were underway late today in the Floyd county courthouse, after an early-morning fire destroyed the third-floor and superstructure of the building and caused an estimated $170,000 damage.

Approximately 15 persons worked all day mopping, and bailing out a carpet of water one to seven inches deep which flooded the first and second floors and basement of the courthouse. The water had been sprayed on the upper section of the building by firemen who staged a successful two-hour battle to halt flames which broke out at about 6 a. m. today.

To Set Up New Offices

Practically all damage below the top floor was caused by water.

Emergency steps were taken this afternoon to establish temporary county offices. County commissioners, in a special meeting, designated an office in the agricultural building, located on the courthouse grounds, as the commissioners court office. The fair and agriculture buildings

Total Of $30,000 In Bonds Set In Case

Money Reported Taken At Gunpoint; 14 Cases Of Liquor Also 'Missing'

THREE Lubbock young men were held at midnight in lieu of bonds totaling $30,000 in connection with six charges of robbery with firearms.

They were:

Gaylon Brand, 18, of 2318 Nineteenth; Bruce LeMaire, 20, and Harry LeMaire, 22, both of 2405 Fifteenth.

Each was charged in two cases. They were accused of having taken $95 from W. T. Bridges, about 36, and Baxter Thomas, about 36, each of whom gave their address as 1639 Nineteenth.

The charges accused the three defendants of having exhibited a pistol in connection with robbery.

Several Cases Of Liquor Taken

In connection with investigation into the case, officials announced that two of the three suspects admitted that several cases of liquor were taken.

Officials said they had received informal complaints that hijacking of liquor had been going on here rather frequently lately, in each case among bootleggers. Reluctance of one bootlegger to appear against another in court had left officers with only one possibility of breaking into the so-called liquor hijacking ring—"catching those responsible when in the act." There was no indication that the trio was in any way connected with such cases, however.

D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, accepted the complaints. Charges were sworn to by Thomas and Bridges, and prepared by District Attorney Lloyd Croslin. Bond of $5,000 in each case was set by Robertson in binding the defendants over to an April 4 grand jury to report to 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue.

Maximum penalties provided in such cases are death in the electric chair or life imprisonment, officials said.

Arrested Friday Afternoon

The three men were arrested at 5:20 p. m. Friday when found in a car at Eighth and College Ave., by Sheriff Grady Harrist, Ranger Capt. Bob Crowder and Ranger Raymond Waters.

An investigation that included the taking of statements from three of the suspects—signing of two of them—continued under combined efforts of the liquor control board, the Rangers, the sheriff's department, and the district attorney's department.

Bruce LeMaire and Brand were those who executed signed statements to Croslin, assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr and assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars.

They related that they took approximately a case of whisky and two of beer after acompanying Thomas and Bridges in Bridges' car to a point near the Texas Tech water tower on Fourth.

They later went with their victims into the country west of Lubbock, returned to the city and induced Bridges to drive to a residence at Nineteenth and Ave. J, where they said Bridges broke a window pane, opened a window and handed out several other cases of whisky.

The investigating officers said they believed a total of approximately 14 cases of whisky of an approximate value of $766 had been taken over a period that commenced at approximately 10:30 p. m. Thursday night and ended at approximately 4:30 a. m. Friday.

Denied Having Weapon

In addition, the signed statements said, money found in Bridges' car when it had stopped on Fourth was divided between the three suspects.

All those questioned denied they had any weapon in their car.

The two statements that had been signed related that the suspects were drinking and driving around in a borrowed car. Bruce LeMaire said they decided to get more liquor.

At College and Ninth, he said, the three saw a car driven by Bridges, so stopped the occupants and asked what they had in their car. Bridges handed Harry LeMaire a bottle he had been drinking from, it was related, after Harry had said he wanted their

Blending Technique Discussed

Effective Schemes In Color Acquired By Three Methods

Any of three methods may be used in securing an effective color scheme for interior decoration, Miss Clara Dudley of Yonkers, N.Y., told women attending the first of her series of lectures on interior decorating yesterday afternoon.

Sponsored by the Casey Carpet company, Miss Dudley will speak again at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. today at the Hilton hotel. The sessions are open to the public, but persons who wish to go are asked to call the carpet company to make reservations.

Use Contrasting Colors

Harmonious color schemes may be worked out by the "blending" technique—by selecting two colors and using them with intermediate tones, such as working from yellow through yellow green to green. A more dominant combination will be obtained by using contrasting colors, as red and green or violet and chartreuse. An effective combination is found when the blending technique is used throughout the room, with bright touches of a contrasting color in lamp shades and occasional chairs, Miss Dudley said.

The speaker suggested that carpets be chosen first in the redecoration process, because they are a relatively permanent part of the room and because they, reaching to all four walls, are a dominant part of the room. Rugs, upholstery and draperies can all be used to find color scheme keys, she said.

Miss Dudley illustrated her talk with "before and after" shots of a series of rooms, and with harmonizing samples of rugs, upholstery fabrics, draperies, wall paper and paint.

Tech Board To Take Up WAA Grant Of Pantex Plant April 11

A contract approved by the War Assets Administration transferring Pantex Ordnance plant near Amarillo to Texas Technological college will be considered at the April 11 meeting of the college board of directors.

ATTRACTIVE TERMS' SOUGHT

U.S. Oil Firms Fear Loans To Mexico Would Be Unprofitable

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 11 — Whether or not the Mexican government is successful in current attempts to secure a United States loan for its oil industry, the "big guns" of the private companies in this country are keeping their hands in their pockets for the time being at least, regarding Mexican oil investments.

This stand was made clear at a luncheon meeting here this week when George Freyermuth, manager of public relations for the Standard Oil Co. (N.J.) discussed his company's policy toward investment in Mexican oil development. His remarks were of interest in view of the current visit in Washington of Antonio Bermudez of Juarez, head of Pemex, - who will confer with House and Senate committees on a possible American oil loan.

Firm States Conditions

"Standard has sought three conditions before making foreign investments," Freyermuth explained. They are:

1. A proper legal position, including the right to do business in a country, clear property titles, etc.

2. Management control over the expenditure of the company's own money.

3. Possibility of making a reasonable profit.

Under the present law, Freyermuth declared; American companies are prohibited from engaging in exploitation of Mexican resources, and further, there is nothing to indicate private companies would have control of the money they would spend. "In every case I've heard of, Mexico wants control," he added. Since profits have not been discussed to any extent and the entire picture is cloudy, "From our point of view, none of the terms have been settled."

"If terms are made to invite American capital in on an attractive basis, we would be interested," the public relations expert said.

Motor Fuel Problem Discussed

Whether the car manufacturers or the oil industry is to blame for the fact that the public is not yet driving "jet-propelled" automobiles, is pretty much of a "hen and the egg" problem, Freyermuth said in his general discussion of matters of interest in the oil field.

Asked "what had become of the high-powered motors built to use high octane gas with tremendous increases in speed and performance that were promised in the glorious postwar period," Freyermuth said your answer would usually depend on whether you were talking to a car salesman or an oil man. The former would say that the auto industry has engines ready to go whenever the oil people will supply the right kind of fuel, and vice versa.

Although a spokesman for the oil people, Freyermuth cheerfully volunteered that "engine development is now ahead of high-octane gas specialization" because the oil industry has been concentrating since end of World War II on building up reserve supplies. General motors, he said, has announced that it has a 12½-1 compression motor ready to put into use as soon as it is practicable.

"The gas companies' problem is that it is terribly expensive to improve the quality of motor fuel," he explained. "As a matter of fact, the cost of high-octane for automotive use would be so high that it would offset savings in the lower-compression engines. Someday a compromise may be reached but the time is not now."

Discussing the gasoline price situation, Freyermuth said he believes they will remain about where they are for the time being, which is contrast to the outlook a few months ago and the situation in other product prices.

"Prices are coming down, but gasoline will be the last one of the oil prices to be lowered and I'm not saying gasoline will come down at all," he remarked.

However, oil prices are precarious. Only cutbacks in allowables in past months prevented imports from breaking prices sharply, a fact admitted by Ernest O. Thompson, Texas Railroad commission chairman.

Against this background, some antitrust activity by the Justice department timed to come just ahead of the spring tide of automobile traffic, well might send gasoline prices downward.

The President's demand for price control powers may be at least partially resporisible for postponing price cuts on petroleum products; and on the other hand the Justice department may drop a match somewhere that will shake down oil prices everywhere.

Report Reveals Slot Machines In California Run By Racketeers

SACRAMENTO, March 11. (U.P.) The California Crime commission reported Friday that slot machines in the state are controlled by a nationwide organization of racketeers with headquarters in Chicago and New York.

The commission, appointed by Gov. Earl Warren in 1947, said in a "progress report" on its investigation of slot machines and punchboards that:

1. There was "positive evidence of criminal organization" controlling California's slot machines.

2. The "reputed head" of the racket was Frank Costello of New York, the "lord of the underworld," and that Eddie Vogel of Illinois, "a member of the Capone syndicate of Chicago," was somewhere near the top.

The report said it appeared "certain that the distribution and operation of the slot machines is wholly in the hands of racketeers in all parts of the country" who paid 10 to 20 per cent of their profits for "protection."

"Four hundred million dollars is being spent annually by the slot machine racketeers for bribery and corruption of public and executive officers," the report charged.

Hockley County Park Bond Election Slated

LEVELLAND, Mar. 11 (Special) A county-wide $325,000 parks bonds election will be held Saturday in Hockley county.

The bonds, if voted, would provide funds for construction of parks in Anton, Levelland, Ropesville and Sundown.

Of the total, $154,000 would go to Levelland, $72,500 to Sundown, and $49,000 each to Ropesville and Ahton. An additional $10,000 would be used for buildings on the park sites, such as caretakers' living quarters and equipment sheds.

Also to be voted on Saturday is a proposed tax reallocation, which would provide for maintenance funds for the four parks.

The move to establish the parks has been sponsored by the Levelland Chamber of Commerce. W. J. O'Connor is chairman of the park system committee of the organization.

Nursery Conference Group Hears Requirements For Children's Toys

Toys for children three years and younger should be safe, sturdy and sanitary, Miss Ethel Jane Kramer of Nashville, Tenn., preschool specialist with the general board of education of the Methodist church, said in the nursery conference at First Methodist church Friday.

Discussing religious education for nursery-age children, she said, "We live the Bible in nursery class and the words come later."

Mrs. Uel D. Crosby, director of children's work in the Northwest Texas conference of the Methodist church, presided at the meeting, which was attended by approximately 60 teachers and parents of nursery-age children.

Churches represented were First, Asbury, St. John's East Broadway and Overton Methodist churches in Lubbock, Methodist churches of Morton, Center Plains, Muleshoe, Progress, Sudan, Slaton, Levelland, Ralls, Abernathy, Hale Center, Idalou and Wolfforth, and the First Christian church in Lubbock.

U.S. Population At Record 147,946,000

WASHINGTON, March 11. (U.P.) The U.S. population hit a record high of 147,946,000 at the start of 1949, the Census bureau estimated Friday.

This was a gain of 12.4 per cent since 1940 when the last formal census was taken. The new figure showed a gain of 2,512,000 in 1948.

The largest gain in any year since 1940 was reported for 1947 when the population rose by 2,739,00 persons.

The new estimate included members of the armed forces here and abroad. The civilian population in the United States on Jan. 1 was estimated at 146,463,00.

About 91 per cent of the 1948 gain was attributed to a growing ratio of births to deaths. The other 9 per cent reflected an increase in immigration.

Discovery Of New Oil Producing Horizon Made In Cochran County

A new oil producing horizon has been discovered in the Landon field area of extreme south-central Cochran county by Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 2 Edwards, offset to the Landon pool which missed the regular Strawn-Pennsylvanian pay and drilled ahead for a wildcat test.

The venture drillstem tested a lime and chert formation at 10,827-872 feet for 150 minutes, using a 1,800-foot water blanket. The water blanket showed at the surface in 55 minutes, followed 20 minutes later by flowing oil.

Turned To Test Tank

The well flowed to pits for 24 minutes, then was turned to a test tank for 60 minutes. In the hour of flowing to tanks, it made 66.42 barrels of oil, cut six-tenths of one per cent basic sediment. Size of choke was not learned.

Gravity of the petroleum was 38.5 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was approximately 250-1. There was no water. Operator was coring ahead, probably to test the thickness of the current strata.

This oil formation has been tentatively identified as Devonian, thought by some geologists to be the same type of structure which produces in the Crossroads field of extreme Northeast Lea county, N. M. Tentative top of the Devonian was called on 10,755 feet.

This pay opener is 660 feet from north and 528 feet from west lines of section 13, block L, psl survey.

Testing Continuing

Consecutive drillstem testing of the north-central Scurry county Ellenburger was continuing at Humble No. 1-B Moore, possible discovery from the deep zone 10 miles north and slightly west of Snyder.

The last examination completed was at 8,281-8,321 feet, with the tool open 35 minutes. Recovery was 10 feet of slightly oil and gas cut mud, with no water.

Operator has made hole to 8,341 feet and was running another Ellenburger drillstem test.

Location is 1,880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 492, block 97, H&TC survey.

Murchison & Fikes, No. 17-C Elliott, wildcat in southwest Yoakum county, in the southwest side of the Wasson-5,100 field, and 1,312 feet from south and 1,070 feet from east lines of section 632, block D, John H. Gibson survey, swabbed 40 barrels of oil in 10 hours from perforated section at 8,703-13 feet.

The project is on a plugged back depth of 8,730 feet in lime. It drilled to a total depth of 11,209 feet in granite and has tested from that point back up to the present zone of operations.

The oil recovered on the latest test is the best show for production so far developed. Swabbing is continuing.

Will Drill Ahead

Plymouth Oil company No. 1 Sims, south-central Garza county wildcat to 8,500 feet to test into the Ellenburger, and located 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 8, block 2, T&NO survey, was to drill ahead from 5,575 feet in after running a one and one-half hour drillstem test in the lower Permian at 5,495-5,575 feet.

There was a strong blow of air during the investigation. Recovery was 1,000 feet of drilling fluid and 2,100 feet of gas cut salt water. There were no indications of oil.

Gulf Oil corporation was making production tests of the Wolfcamp-Permian one-half mile west of the Shafter Lake field in North-Central Andrews county with its No. 1-KK University, 330 feet from south and east lines of section 14, block 13, University survey.

Following a 500-gallon acid injection in the Wolfcamp oil formation, the well kicked off and flowed 24 hours through a ½-inch choke, producing 435 barrels of clean oil. Tests were continuing. Total depth is 8,550 feet.

Kansas Authorities Seek Three Gunmen Who Terrorized Young Pupils, Ransacked School

TURNER, Kan., March 11 (INS)—Three gunmen today terrorized some 40 rural elementary school students and authorities threw up road blocks in the Turner area in an effort to intercept them.

The desperadoes escaped in a black automobile after ransacking Sinai grade school, about three miles from Turner. Authorities said the men threatened the teacher and students at gunpoint.

Meanwhile, Sheriff Roy Ferguson said he was unable to link three men seen at a service station several miles from the school with the incident.

A service station attendant said he reported the men because they answered the description of the desperadoes.

The owner of the automobile was found to be a former veterans hospital inmate.

The gunmen were reported to be wearing clothes similar to those issued inmates of veterans hospitals, but a check of nearby institutions disclosed no inmates had escaped.

The bandits invaded the school shortly after classes started and frightened the students to the point of hysteria.

A woman living near the school told authorities three men in a black car, came to her home early today and asked directions to the Sinai school.

She said she refused to give the directions because she noticed two of the men had revolvers stuck in their belts.

The woman, who was not identified for reasons of safety, said the men wore "reddish trousers with dark coats."

Man Drowns As Motorboat Capsizes On Lake Near Gilmer

GILMER, March 11 (AP)—Jessie Monroe Hays, 55, of Longview, employe of the Amerada Petroleum company, drowned at noon today when his motorboat capsized on Barton's lake, four miles east of Gilmer.

Hays and his wife and daughter, Mrs. E. P. Harrison of Longview were fishing when the boat capsized. The wife and daughter were rescued by G. W. Barnett and Tom Belew of Kilgore and revived by the Gilmer Fire department which administered artificial respiration.

Members of the fire department found Hays' body 30 minutes after the accident.

Mrs. Hays and her daughter were taken to a Gladewater hospital.

Hays had been a resident of Gregg county for 18 years.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. M. W. Cline of Kilgore; and several brothers and sisters in Oklahoma.

Portland Business Takes Slump When Papers Shut Down

PORTLAND, Ore., March 11 (U.P.)—Prizefight promoters went out of business and the baby-sitting industry hit hard times today as a direct result of the three-weeks' closure of Portland' major daily newspapers.

Although a basis for settlement of the 21-day AFL pressmen's strike against the Portland Oregonian and the Oregon Journal has been reached, neither newspaper has published since Feb. 18.

The Journal said it did not expect to publish before Sunday because of production problems.

As the shutdown progressed in its latter stages, the impact was felt with deepening effect on the entire business life of the city.

Tex Salkeld, Portland fight promoter said: "It's closed me down."

"I tried one show a week ago without the newspapers and I lost $1,500," he said. "It's impossible to get your show over to the public without newspapers, so I'm going dark until it's over."

Young parents, deprived of the long classified list of baby sitters, were staying home at night with their children. Some neighborhood groups of parents compiled their own emergency listings of baby sitters.

The Portland Retail Trade bureau said there had been a continuing, general slump in business throughout the metropolitan area due to lack of newspaper advertising.

Thursday's inspection of restroom and fountain facilities in Lubbock public schools disclosed that conditions are "fair to good" throughout the school system.

Superintendent R. W. Matthews, to whom an inspection report was submitted, said that in a few instances there is a need for improvement and for minor repairs.

Committees composed of school officials and Parent-Teacher association representatives, working in groups of three for each school, Thursday visited all schools in the system to inspect facilities.

New Soviet Budget Shows Hike In Military Spending Program

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The new Russian budget, studied in the light of information from Russian sources which has been assembled in the United States over a 25-year period, indicates that Soviet military expenditures this year will equal and possibly exceed those of the entire western powers.

The American sources of this information cannot be identified lest their pipelines to Russia be uncovered, but their authority is unquestionable.

Comparison Is Difficult

Exact comparison between Russian and western military budgets are almost impossible. Ruble expenditures have little meaning in Russia itself because of the many differences in price-making, wage payments and subsidies in many industries. Although pegged at 19 cents in Russia, the ruble is not convertible in international exchange.

A vast proportion of all Russian expenditure goes into new plants and machinery either directly designed for or easily convertible to war purposes. This is also true in the west, where general industrial strength is recognized as a part of military potential. But in the countries where industrialization has reached a vastly higher level, there is a much smaller proportion of new plant construction with an eye to possible war.

The United States and other countries also have hidden budgets for war purposes, such as for various parts of the atomic energy program and for espionage.

But the U. S. military budget, according to information obtained during the 25-year study, is incomparably more open and realistic than the Russian.

Reds Hide War Funds

The $15,000,000,000 allocated to the U. S. armed forces this year covers almost all direct military items, including everything from adding machines and chairs in the Pentagon to planes, tanks, roads and strictly military research. It includes $525,000,000 for stockpiling strategic materials, a project which in Russia would be handled by other departments.

On the other hand, if Russia still follows her standard budgetary practices (and there is evidence she does), her $15,000,000,000 for the armed forces in 1949 represents little more than a salary, housing, food and upkeep fund for the army.

Planes, tanks and atomic plants come from the $30,000,000,000 item in her budget "for the national economy." Research comes under "education."

The "national economy" item also covers plants producing purely consumer goods.

My American sources say, that while expenditures under this item have been jumping upward in the past three years, consumer goods production has not increased at anything like a comparable pace, despite Russian propaganda to the contrary.

They say that allocations under the "national economy" item give a definite "Hitlerian form" to Russian industry. Plants, for instance, are primarily designed to produce tanks, and then put to immediate use making farm tractors. Or tanks and tractors may be made side by side in the same plant.

Here are the expenditures under the "national economy" and "armed forces" items of the Russian budget since 1923, with figures in billions of rubles:

	National Economy	Armed Forces
Five year period
1923-27	7.4	2.8
1928-32	53.9	4.9
1933-37	181	47
1938-40	170.4	118.2
(Figures for early war years unavailable.)
1945 (last war year)	30	128
1946	103.9	72.6
1947	132.7	56.4
1948	149	66
1949	159	79

Figures Compared

It is interesting to note the 1928-32 peacetime figures as compared with the 1928-32 "national economy" figure, when all was peaceful, was seven times larger than for the 1923-27 period, and the armed forces figure only twice as large. In the 1938-40 triennium, with preparedness out in the open, the "national economy" figure was smaller than for the preceding five-year period, and the "armed forces" figure more than twice as large. In the "cold war" period, both are jumping.

Although exact figures are not available, except for the U. S. $15,000,000,000 and Britain's $3,000,000,000, there are indications that expenditures of the western powers in 1949 will run about $21 billion.

The 25-year survey indicates to its compilers that more than half of the Russian "national economy" fund actually goes for military purposes. Half would be $15,000,000,000. Add that to the announced $15,000,000,000 for the armed forces and you get a figure which seems likely to cover both the direct and indirect expenditures of both the United States and all western Europe.

Brooklyn Woman Pleads Innocent To Charge Of Espionage; Soviet Official Still Held

NEW YORK, March 11 (INS) — Judith Coplon, Brooklyn - born employe of the Justice department, pleaded innocent to espionage charges today but her alleged Soviet accomplice refused to to answer to the indictment.

The 27-year-old Barnard college graduate was released under $20,000 bail pending trial, tentatively set for April 1.

Valentin A. Gubitchev, 32-year-old Soviet employe who was seized by FBI agents with Miss Coplon last Friday, limited himself to a brief address to the court, insisting he is entitled to diplomatic immunity.

Second Hearing Set

A second hearing was set for the engineer - diplomat Monday morning in New York federal court and he was returned to a detention cell in lieu of $100,000 bail.

Miss Coplon, employed as a political analyst by the Justice department, spoke in a near whisper as she pleaded not guilty to three counts of the indictment naming her as a co-conspirator with Gubitchev.

Gubitchev, who has been suspended from his $6,000-a-year UN engineering post, addressed the court in Russian, through an interpreter.

Judge Calls Charge "Grave"

Federal Judge Simon Rifkind urged Gubitchev to engage a lawyer, but the defendant declined.

Usually when a defendant declines to enter a plea, the court enters an automatic not guilty plea. In this case, however, Judge Rifkind said the charges are "too grave" for hasty action and decided on another hearing Monday for the Soviet citizen.

Miss Coplon and Gubitchev were indicted yesterday by New York's federal grand jury probing Communist espionage.

They are charged with engaging in a conspiracy to pass on to "a foreign power" confidential documents stolen from Justice department files.

Russian Answers Court

Gubitchev told the court:

"I consider myself a foreigner and a member of the diplomatic service. I believe the charges against me are a provocation to pursue certain aims. Therefore I will refuse to answer the questions of the court."

He had been asked by the court whether he had obtained a lawyer or could afford one. He replied "no" to both questions.

Then he made his claim of immunity.

Secretary of State Acheson Wednesday said the United States did not recognize his claim.

Judge Rifkind told the Russian: "The charges are grave. You need an attorney because you are not familiar with your rights or how to conduct yourself in defense.

Two Persons Dead, Third Hurt In Family Affray At Austin

AUSTIN, March 11 (AP) — One person was shot to death, another died of a slashed throat, and a third was critically wounded in a family affray on the state hospital grounds today.

Dead were James Arthur McKenzie, 54, employed by the hospital as a carpenter, and Gladys Johnson, 39-year-old negro patient. McKenzie's wife, Emma, 51, was wounded critically by a shot in the head.

Justice of the Peace Travis Blakeslee returned a verdict of "homicide in the patient's death and suicide in the death of McKenzie."

Hospital authorities said Mrs. McKenzie and Gladys Johnson were at the door of a dormitory when they met McKenzie. The shooting began in a scuffle that followed between the man and wife. McKenzie ran around the side of the building. He was found there with his throat cut, a blood-stained pocket knife beside him.

A .38-calibre revolver was found at the scene of the shooting.

Train Robber Says Hold-Up Planned On 'Spur Of Moment'

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—George L. Ashton, 21-year-old confessed train robber, said today he and his buddy decided "on the spur of the moment" to hold up the Baltimore and Ohio's streamlined "Ambassador."

While his accomplice, Luman Ramsdell, 23, lay critically wounded in a Washington hospital, Ashton told newsmen how the pair robbed passengers aboard the "Ambassador" near Martinsburg, W. Va., Wednesday night.

Argued With Steward

He said the holdup could be traced to an argument they had with a club car steward because "we didn't like the drink he gave us."

"We went back to our seats in one of the coaches and got our guns out of our suitcases," he said. "Then we came back to the club car and held up the steward.

"We didn't plan to hold up the rest of the people. That came on the spur of the moment. We didn't even ask each other about it. We just both started going through the club car, holding up the passengers. Then we went through the other cars."

"When they gave us some lip, we slugged 'em just to let 'em know we meant business."

Held Up Tavern

Ashton said he and Ramsdell, both ex-convicts, took $75 or something like that" from passengers before fleeing the train. They subsequently held up a tavern, stole a car, evaded a police cordon and ended up on a Washington-bound bus. The suspicious bus driver notified police when he pulled into the Washington terminal that the desperadoes had left the bus a short time before.

The pair were cornered in a local pawnshop where they were buying clothes and luggage. When the officers asked for identification, Ramsdell started to draw his gun, but he was felled by a police bullet that pierced his liver.

Birmingham Appeal Trial Of Senator Taylor Continued

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 11 (INS)—The appeal trial of Senator Glenn Taylor of Idaho was continued a second time today by Jefferson county (Birmingham) circuit Judge George Lewis Bailes.

The former Progressive party running mate of Henry Wallace faces charges of disorderly conduct and interference with an officer in the performance of his duty.

The charges were the result of a struggle Taylor had with a Birmingham police officer during his visit to the city, May 1, 1948.

Sen. Taylor attempted to push past the officer who stood by a door marked "for negroes only" in the building where the Idaho senator was scheduled to speak before a negro audience. The officer was enforcing the city segregation law in preventing Taylor from passing through the colored entrance.

Ninth Round Right Hook Floors Boxer

(Special To The Avalanche)

EL PASO, March, March 11—Jean Mougin, the "Blond Tiger" of France, halted the upward motion of Lubbock's Bill Henderson here tonight before 1,500 fans when he scored a ninth round knockout at 1:59 of their scheduled 10-round main event.

Up until the time Henderson ran into a buzz saw right to the chin, the fight had been nearly even. Unofficial scorecards at ringside gave Mougin four rounds, Henderson three and one even.

It was the Frenchman's twelfth victory in 15 fights since coming to the United States with Marcel Cerdan, world's middleweight champion. And it was the Texas Tech student's first loss in 15 pro fights.

Mougin Was Favorite

Mougin entered the ring an odds-on favorite because of his tremendous edge in experience. He lost the lightweight championship of France in his last fight before coming to this country and was a more seasoned campaigner.

But Henderson surprised the doughty Parisian and his manager, Andre Dupre, former handler of Cerdan and other great fighters. The Lubbock boy fought gamely and tried hard, winning the second round and coming back to take the seventh and eighth.

Mougin carried the fight on his superior experience, gaining points by solid left jabs to Henderson's head and body. He was dropped for a compulsory eight count in the second canto by Henderson, but it was the only time he was really in danger. After that he forced the fighting, scoring almost two blows to one.

In the ninth—and final—heat, Mougin located Henderson and sent him down for a nine count from which the Lubbock boy barely was able to get up. He rushed across the ring to drop Henderson for an eight and when the Tech student gamely got to his feet, Mougin landed a right hook flush to the jaw that left Henderson out cold.

The count reached seven when the referee stopped, walked over and raised Mougin's hand in victory.

Henderson appeared out on his feet in the fifth canto, possibly from a cut on the top of the head received when the two fighters bumped heads early in the fight. But he recovered to fight gamely.

Boys Club Holds First Fight Card

Leather was flying hot and fast last night at Boys Club as 10 boxing matches were unreeled before a large crowd of 296 members and 304 guests.

The boys were matched according to ability and weight by Coach Glen White, former Golden Gloves fighter, who has been directing the workouts of the boys.

More Bouts Friday

The referee of the bouts was O. J. "Bo" Sexton, and judges were members of the club, Earl Ince, sr., Ralph Quest, and W. B. Smith. Timekeepers were C. B. Hardin and Leroy Eager, and Earl Ince, jr., served as announcer. Next Friday 10 more bouts are scheduled at 7:30, and basketball letters will be awarded to members of the Boys Club teams.

In what would appear to be a badly matched fight, 70-pound Charles Thomas walked off with a 3-0 decision over Jack Richardson, 108. The little scrapper went to work with the opening bell and gave the fans a good show in downing the heavier boy.

In another, match, James Williams, 99, overcame a 25-pound weight disadvantage to defeat Maxwell Nolan, 124, in another fast-moving match.

Three technical knockouts were made during the evening. Joe Williams, 110, pounded out a third round TKO over Fritz Stanley. Cricket Shirley, 69, stopped Bobby Vaughn, 73, in the second round of their fight by the TKO route, and Referee Sexton declared Norlan Daugherty, 112, the winner over Nolan Vincent, 118, in the third round.

One Split Decision

Only in one match was a split decision given by the judges. That was their 2-1 decision by Ray Thornton, 114, over Jack Godfrey, 120.

Buddy Shirley, 54, defeated Buddy Mayfield, 69. Jimmie Godfrey, 79, downed Derrill Odorizzi, 77. Proving too much for Dwayne Erving, 101, was Buddy Neal, 111, with a 10-pound advantage.

Don Pendergrass, 80, and Wayne Pendergrass, 85, forgot about being brothers in the match which Wayne won, 3-0.

Westerner Baseball First Team Wins Intra-Squad Tilt From B's

In an intra-squad game Friday, the Westerner first team rallied in the last half of the final inning to defeat the B team, 9-6, after the second team had gone ahead, 6-5, with a six-run splurge in their half of the inning.

Pitcher Morris Turner, who gave up the six runs on six hits, knocked a home run to right field with Norman Bantz aboard to put the winners ahead. Two more runs crossed the plate on a triple by Charles Galey, with Jessie Fullerton on base, and a three base blow by Bob Brown before Coach Fred Taylor stopped the activities.

Errors were plentiful on both sides, and the boys have plenty of work ahead of them before they will be ready for district competition. The first team scored three runs without getting a single hit, the runs coming on walks and errors.

In five full innings of play only three hits were registered, two of them by the second team, but in the sixth inning the first team got three safe blows, and the B team came through with six. In the game a total of 11 walks were issued by hurlers on both sides.

In the final inning three extra-base knocks were made by each team. Galey, Brown, and Turner made the hits for the winners, and Dan Adkisson hit a double, Jimmy Burgess a triple, and Bob Rooker a homer for the losers. Dean White hit a triple for the losers, and Jimmy Sexton collected two hits out of three trips to the plate. Bob Brown got on base four times out of four times at bat, twice on hits and twice by walks.

Coach Taylor used his entire pitching staff in the game, working each boy two innings.

Seeing action for the first team were Powell Hinson, Fullerton, Galey, Brown, Jimmy Richards, Jim Wilson, Garnet Reeves, Bantz, Jimmy Hamilton, Bennie Day, and Berry Allen.

Starting for the second team were Turner, Adkisson, Rooker, Sexton, Neil Sikes, Burgess, White, Merle Burchett, and Jack McCabe. Mac Taylor and Wilson served as relief pitchers.

NIT Basketball Play Will Open At Garden Today

NEW YORK, Mar. 11 (AP)—The annual National Invitation Basketball tournament opens at Madison Square Garden tomorrow with two double-headers designed to cut the unprecedented field of a dozen teams down to its normal ration of eight.

The inclusion of four New York clubs, greatest quantity of home talent ever entered in this post-season dribble derby, swelled the entry list to unusual proportions and made four extra games necessary.

Tournament officials who threw open the gates to the Gotham quartet spotted all four local entries on the opening program with no guarantee that any would be left after the first day's firing ceases.

In the opening game San Francisco university with a record of 21 victories and five defeats, takes on Manhattan college (18-7). The second half of the matinee pits Bradley university (25-6) against New York university (12-7).

Bowing Green (21-6) meets St. John's (15-8) in the first game tomorrow night, followed by Loyola of Chicago (22-5) against City College of New York (17-7).

The four seeded teams make their first appearance Monday, when another day-night program is slated. In order, they are Kentucky (29-1), St. Louis (22-3), Utah (24-7), and Western Kentucky (25-3). All were handed first-round byes.

Kentucky meets Loyola-CCNY winner and Western Kentucky the Bradley-NYU winner Monday afternoon. St. Louis will play the survivor of the Bowling Green-St. John's contest and Utah the San Francisco - Manhattan victor Monday night.

Monday's play will reduce the field to four teams for the semi-finals March 17. The finals are scheduled Saturday night March 19, with the semi-final losers meeting for third place.

Bowling Congress Rejects Amendment

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 11. (AP)—The American Bowling Congress rejected Friday an amendment to open its membership to all races.

Delegates to the ABC convention by voice vote turned down the amendment that called for deletion of the words "Individuals of the white male race" from the ABC constitution.

It was the third straight year that the ABC delegates rejected the amendment.

The Rev. Charles Carow of Brooklyn, N. Y., sponsor of the amendment, announced following the vote that he was withdrawing from further action in the matter.

Majors Open Exhibition Season Today With 16 Tussles Carded

TAMPA, Fla., March 11 (AP) — Baseball opens its "Grapefruit league" season tomorrow with eight games. All 16 majors face big league opposition in their exhibitions.

Prize pairings find the world champion Cleveland Indians meeting Leo Durocher's New York Giants at Tucson, Ariz., and the National league champion Boston Braves tangling with the youthful Brooklyn Dodgers at Miami.

The ancient New York Yankee-St. Louis Cardinals feud will be rekindled at St. Petersburg. They play the first two contests of their annual best-of-seven series tomorrow and Sunday. Joe DiMaggio, troubled by his sore heel, probably will miss the opening pair.

Joe McCarthy's Boston Red Sox take their first game exercise with the Cincinnati Reds, starting their first full season under Bucky Walters. They open at Sarasota, Fla., tomorrow and return to Tampa for the Sunday game.

Red Rolfe makes his debut as Detroit manager in a two-game set with the Philadelphia Phillies, handled by Eddie Sawyer for his first full campaign. These two teams have been among the hardest workers in Florida and should be closest to actual game competition. They play at Clearwater, Fla., the Phils' base, tomorrow, and shift to the Tigers' lair at Lakeland, Fla., Sunday.

Elderly Connie Mack starts his 49th season as Philadelphia's skipper when he leads his "surprise team of 1948" against Washington in a two-game series at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Pittsburgh's Bill Meyer sends his gang against the Chicago Cubs at San Bernardino, Calif., tomorrow and at Los Angeles Sunday. Meyer was named manager of the year last season for his excellent job of directing the pitcher-poor Bucs. It will be the Cubs' first chance to shake off the embarrassment of their cellar finish.

Onslow Makes Debut

Jack Onslow, another Rookie manager, makes his bow when his Chicago White Sox meet the St. Louis Browns at Hollywood, Calif., tomorrow and at Burbank, Calif., Sunday.

There is unusual interest in the Braves-Dodgers games because of the appearance of Jackie Robinson and Roy Campanella in the Dodger lineup. Before the Dodgers reach home their team, with its two negro regulars, will have played in Texas, Oklahoma, Georgia and North and South Carolina.

The Giants-Indians pairing is the first of a 16-game series that finds the clubs returning home to wind up in the Polo Grounds, April 16-17. They play at Tucson, the Cleveland base, tomorrow and move over to Giants' diggings at Phoenix, Ariz., Sunday.

Before the training season is over the teams will play 341 games, 205 of them with other major league teams.

TIGERS' ART HOUTTEMAN INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP

LAKELAND, Fla., Mareh 11 (INS) Art Houtteman, promising young Detroit Tigers pitcher, was in a serious condition at a Lakeland hospital today from injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

The 21-year-old hurler suffered what physicians termed "a bad skull fracture" and other injuries when his convertible car collided with a five-ton fruit truck in Lakeland's downtown section last night.

Three companions — none of them squad members — also were hurt in the accident.

Houtteman's injuries dealt a severe blow to the Tigers' pennant hopes and cast a pall of sorrow over the Detroit training camp.

He was one of the most popular players on the squad and was regarded as an up - and - coming mound star.

Houtteman's condition was so critical this morning that last rites of the Catholic church were administered.

The pitcher was unconscious most of the morning but regained his senses during one brief period.

His fellow teammates feared the worst, howevr, and remembered that hard luck has dogged his trail throughout his baseball career.

In game after game bad breaks cost him a victory and the entire league talked of his tough luck. And some of the players called him "Hard Luck Houtteman."

Polly Riley Wins Florida East Coast Women's Tourney

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 11 (AP)—Polly Riley of Fort Worth won the Florida east coast women's golf tournament today by defeating Pay Devany of Grosse Ile, Mich., 3 and 2.

In taking her second consecutive victory in the event, Miss Riley also gained a second leg on the Mrs. William R. Kenan, jr., cup. Victory in three consecutive tournaments gives a player permanent possession of the trophy.

Brackenridge Is Winner In First Round Of Meet

HOUSTON, March 11 (AP)—The tall Brackenridge Eagles of San Antonio fought off a fourth quarter North Dallas rally tonight to defeat the Bulldogs, 33-32, in the first round of the Big City Conference basketball tournament.

The victory sends Brackenridge into tomorrow's semi-finals along with Paschal of Fort Worth and San Jacinto of Houston, afternoon winners.

Paschal won over Sunset of Dallas, 53 to 45, and San Jacinto upset Lanier of San Antonio, 57-43.

North Dallas, trailing by eight points at the end of the third quarter, twice pulled within one point of Brackenridge in the last two minutes of play.

Six Footers Are Used

Brackenridge, making use of five of its players who are over six feet tall, led all the way after knotting the count at 2-2.

Center Kenneth Albert and forward Wyatt Driskell, scoring 14 points between them, sent the Eagles into a 20-11 halftime advantage.

Chris Shaw, reserve Eagle center, aided the North Dallas cause as the second half opened by shooting at the wrong goal, and the Dallas city champions then spurted and reduced their deficit to 20-22.

Brackenridge still led, 31-24, mid-way in the final period before successive goals by the Bulldogs' Don Hanks, Hammon Brown and Calvin Axtell made it 30-31.

Billy Paul Powell got loose a crip for Brackenridge, and substitute Avon Malone matched it with a long shot for North Dallas.

Both Paschal and San Jacinto came from behind in the second quarter before turning in convincing victories.

Scaling High Scorer

Scaling, who was the afternoon's high scorer with 17 points sent the Panthers into the lead for the first time, 12 to 12, in the early seconds of the second period.

The lead changed five times before Paschal moved into a 24 to 20 half time advantage.

Sunset closed in at 24-24 in the second half, but Scaling, and Kenneth Cochran took command quickly and the Panthers soared to a 36-28 lead at the three-quarter mark.

Paschal, in scoring its twenty second win without a defeat this season, would have run away from the Bisons had not forward Fred Hodge scored five field goals in the closing minutes. He was Sunset's high scorer with 14 points.

Slender Oree (Buzzy) Bryan, a 5-foot, 11-inch guard, led San Jacinto's Golden Bears in their second half drive to victory and his 16 points led the scorers.

Kerrville's Daniels Steals Show

Corpus Christi Leads In Border Olympics

LAREDO, March 11 (AP) — The Corpus Christi Buccaneers led the way in preliminaries of the high school division of the Border Olympics today, but a Kerrville football star—Billy Ed Daniels—stole the show as an individual performer.

Daniels ran 100 yards in 9.9 and did the 220-yard dash in 22.3—just one-tenth of a second over the Border Olympics record of 22.2 set in 1944 by Charley Parker of Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio). His century mark was two-tenths of a second slower than the record hung up in 1942 by Parker.

Corpus Christi, sparked by its brilliant Bobby Dean who led his heat in the 100 in 10 flat, and ripped off the low hurdles in 23.5, landed 12 places in tomorrow afternoon's finals. Brackenridge of San Antonio got 11 spots and San Antonio Tech 10. Kerrville was next in line with seven.

Close to a record was the 21 feet 6¼ inches made by S. N. Meeks of Thomas Jefferson in the broad jump. It lacked only one-fourth of an inch equaling the mark set in 1947 by Arturo Ochoa of Laredo.

Jimmy Patterson of Odessa had the best time in the high hurdles preliminaries with 15.5. Reg Dorsett of Alice, another outstanding performer, shared the lead in the pole vault with Joe Pat Cooper of Burbank (San Antonio) and Jack Stovall of Kerrville at 10 feet.

Wright Paces Discus

Bobby Wright of Alice topped the discus throwers with 142 feet, 9 inches. Six qualified at 5 feet 6½ inches in the high jump. They were Wesley Richey of Burbank (San Antonio), Tom Ward of Galveston, Joe Carson of Corpus Christi, Bob Cavazos of Kingsville, Donnie Smith of Kerrville and Lawrence Riojah of San Antonio Tech.

J. E. Franks of Santa Fe paced the 440-yard dash qualifiers with a time of 53.4. James Jones of Laredo was No. 1 in the shot put with 46 feet 8 inches. The San Antonio Tech 440-yard relay team was the fastest with 44.6. Gerald Thompson of Brackenridge led the way in the 880-yard run with a time of 2:05.7.

Lucio Garcia of Ingleside had the best time in the mile run with 4:47 and the Corpus Christi mile relay team led with a time of 3:35.8.

Brownsville qualified for 15 places in eight of nine events to become favorite to win the Junior college division.

Led by chunky Carl Otsuki, who qualified in three events, the Scorpions indicated they would carry off honors not only through manpower but through individual brilliance.

San Antonio Qualifies

San Antonio qualified for 11 places in the junior college preliminaries with Kilgore next in line with 10. Trials were not held in the pole vault, 440-yard relay, 880-yard run, mile run and mile relay.

Otsuki, a Japanese-American led the 220-yard dash qualifiers with a time of 22.5 and headed the second fastest heat in the 100-yard dash with a time of 10.2. He also broadjumped 19 feet 8 inches and was fourth. He will run on the sprint relay team, too.

Mervin Carter of San Antonio did the high hurdles in 15.8 for the best time in that event. Ross Youngs of San Antonio topped the 100-yard dash with 10.1. Willie Valls of Laredo and Carter each did the low hurdles in 26.4 for the best time of the day. Jack Arnold of San Antonio had the best time in the 440 with 52.8. Bobby Cross of Kilgore led the shot putters with 38 feet 9¾ inches. George Green of San Antonio topped the discus throwers with 115 feet 8½ inches and Bob Weidig of Schreiner was out front in the broad jump with 20 feet ¾ inch. Eight qualified in the high jump at 5 feet 6½ inches.

If San Antonio should win the meet it would furnish an unusual angle—this school doesn't have a practice place of its own and it is the school's first year in track.

Schreiner qualified for seven places, Edinburg six, Del Mar of Corpus Christi and Laredo five each and Odessa one.

Whiteface Wins In Six-School Track Tourney

WHITEFACE, March 11. (Special)—Track and field men from Whiteface High school racked up a total of 39½ points here Friday to capture first honors in an invitational meet between Whiteface, Seagraves, Muleshoe, Levelland, Littlefield and Morton High schools.

The high point men were Davis of Whiteface, with 13½ points; Jackson, Seagraves, 9½ points; Padgett, Whiteface, 9 points and Dickerson, Whiteface, 7½ points.

Hurd of Levelland copped 120 high hurdle honors, in 18.7 seconds. The 100 yard dash went to Askew of Littlefield in :10.7 and the 440 yard dash was taken by Roundtree of Seagraves in :59.6.

The 220 yard low hurdles event went to Whiteface's Davis in :25.6, Seagraves' team ran the 440 yard relay in :49.2 and the 880 yard run was won by Goff of Littlefield in two minutes, 23.3 seconds.

G. Waldop of Levelland ran the 220 yard dash in 24 seconds flat. Mile run honors went to Padgett of Whiteface, with a record of 5 minutes, 16.8 seconds. Seagraves High gained the mile relay in 4 minutes, 3.2 seconds.

In the pole vault event, Davis of Whiteface soared through the air to 10 feet, two inches. High jump honors went to Dickerson and Padgett, who tied at 5 feet, four inches.

Broad jump event went to Spivey of Muleshoe at 17 feet, 10¼ inches. Worley of Levelland threw the shot-put 37 feet, 2¾ inches. Loullen of Muleshoe threw the discus, 99 feet, six inches in the final event of the tourney.

Three Charged In Armed Robbery Here; Investigation Continues

whisky. Bridges then gave Harry his car keys, it was related, but when Bridges was told that his car's trunk would be burst in, Bridges suggested that all drive some place else—that all would be caught where they were.

Bridges, after reaching the water tower, allegedly took the back seat out of his car, where the first whisky and the beer were found. Bruce said he ran his hand under the front seat and found a billfold "full of money."

The statement added that the LeMaire brothers got into Bridges' car with Bridges and Thomas before driving out Fourth, and that Brand followed in the borrowed car. That seating arrangement was kept up when the two cars drove back to College and over to Nineteenth and thence westward into the country, it was related. The three suspects were demanding and looking for a whisky cache, it was explained.

Harry LeMaire did the driving, Bruce said. He quoted Harry as explaining to Thomas and Bridges that he (Harry) was just out of the insane asylum and could "get by with anything."

There was a .30-.30 rifle in the floor of the car following, Bruce further said.

Threat Reported Made

Off the Brownfield highway Harry was alleged to have stopped the car and told Bridges to get out. Brand was parked behind. Harry told Bridges he was going to "knock hell out of him" if he didn't take him to a whisky cache, the statement continued. Bridges agreed, it was related.

After the liquor had been loaded at the Nineteenth address—Thomas helping to put it in the cars as Bridges passed it out the window—Bruce said he got into the other car with Brand, who took him into the south part of town and told him to get out. Brand drove away alone and unloaded the whisky and returned to pick him up, Bruce explained.

They then drove to where Harry remained in the car with Bridges and Thomas, Bruce said.

Brand's statement was much alike. Brand added that Harry then gave Bridges his keys, but declined to return the money, then drove away.

It was related that the three then went to a tourist court and spent the night. The money was divided there.

It was indicated that charges would be filed today as outgrowth of Bridges' claiming of the whisky.

Bridges has been here "some time," officials said, but Thomas was represented to have just arrived here for a visit from Los Angeles. Neither has any "record," officials said.

Officials said at midnight that approximately 20 officers had "worked on this case at some stage or the other—and may keep at it, the way it looks."

It was announced late in the night that a pistol was found in the car where the three men were arrested, but that it was in possession of another man. That fourth person will be charged today with illegally carrying a pistol, it was said.

Coal Mining Halt

after a conference with his 30 district presidents, released a brief announcement through an aide.

"This period of inaction," it said, "will emphasize the mine workers' opposition to one Boyd, an incompetent, unqualified person who has usurped the office and functions of director of the Federal Bureau of Mines without Senate confirmation, as required by statute."

"Concurrently the mine workers will mourn the unnecessary slaughter of 55,115 men killed and injured in the calendar year 1948 during Boyd's incumbency of his usurped office. Meanwhile the mine workers will pray for relief from the monstrous and grotesque injustice of an ignorant and incompetent Boyd having the power to decide they should live or continue to die in the mines."

Lewis' objection to the Boyd appointment, as expressed by UMW Secretary-Treasurer John Owens at a Senate hearing last Monday, is that he never was a coal miner.

The shutdown, effective Monday, March 14, will continue until Monday, March 28. This would mean the loss of approximately 20,000,000 tons of soft coal in the next two weeks at recent production rates.

The idle miners will get no compensation from the union during the holiday, the organization having a standing policy of paying no strike benefits.

John D. Battle, executive vice president of the National Coal association, said:

"Lewis' action is in keeping with his contempt not only for his contract but demonstrates his desire to dictate federal appointments to high office."

Senators Told Federal Workers Destroyed Valuable Records

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—A witness told senators today that "disgruntled" federal workers facing discharge in an economy wave threw away records useful in collection $26,000,000 in back debts owed the Maritime commission.

K. E. Harris, acting chief of the commission's internal control branch, said the loss from the destroyed papers would be very small, however, since "we were able to secure duplicate copies."

Senator Mundt (R-SD) said the workers had committed a serious crime.

Harris appeared before a Senate Expenditures subcommittee, which is digging into the commission's back-log of unbilled accounts, some said to date back to 1942.

best showmanship in both the FFA and 4-H clubs.

The Lubbock county show has been formally organized this year with 15 directors in addition to the officers. Officers for this year are: Robert H. Davis, president; Jess M. Johnson, vice president; P. G. Meading, secretary-treasurer; A. C. Strickland, show superintendent; and Joe Jones, assistant superintendent.

LYNN COUNTY STOCK SHOW TO OPEN TODAY

TAHOKA, March 11 (Special)—The annual Lynn county livestock show will begin in Tahoka today with more than 200 head of livestock expected to be entered.

Officials of the show which is sponsored by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce and the Tahoka Rotary club, said that baby beef, fat barrows and fat lambs would be judged.

T. L. Leach of Texas Tech will begin the swine judging at 10 a. m. this morning. Roy Botkin, Ward Eakin and Charley Lichey are superintendents of the barrow division.

George Claud Wells, superintendent of the beef division, said that calves would not be judged until Saturday afternoon. L. M. Hargrave, also of Texas Tech, will select the winners in that division.

Lamb judging will also be held Saturday afternoon under the direction of Frank Parris and Hubert Tankersley.

More than $300 worth of cash prizes will be awarded to the winner in the different classes of each division.

HALE COUNTY SHOW IS SCHEDULED TODAY

HALE CENTER, March 11 (Spl.)—More than 20 Hale Center and Cotton Center 4-H club boys and Future Farmers of America chapter members will exhibit livestock and poultry here in the annual project show for young farmers of the two Hale county communities Saturday, Lee B. Carter, Hale Center vocational agriculture instructor, has said.

Superintendents of the divisions of the show were elected early this week as follows: Swine — Neal Burnett, Cotton Center, superintendent; Billy Don Teeter, Hale Center, assistant; Dairy Cattle—Bennie Shackelford, Hale Center, superintendent; Gerald Elkins, Cotton Center, assistant; Beef Cattle—John St. Clair, Cotton Center, superintendent; Avis Robertson, Hale Center, asistant. Sheep and poultry superintendents were not named, but there will likely be entries in those divisions, Carter said.

Cash prizes totaling about $200 will be awarded winners placing in 11 classes, $7.50 being top prize to be paid to first places in all classes. Merchants in Hale Center and Cotton Center have contributed cash to the premium list, and merchandise for attendance prizes.

ler sedan, was stopped Thursday by the California State Highway patrol when it was being driven by Smart, Davidson had learned through federal and California state officials. Another man, believed a hitchhiker, also was in the car. The two were held at Modesto, Calif.

Admits Stealing Keys

The car was stolen from J. L. Shipley of Buckeye, Ariz., who reported the case to the Lubbock police.

Smart, according to information Davidson learned from California officials and teletype messages to FBI officials here, allegedly admitted that he "stole the keys" of Shipley's car from Shipley's hotel room here.

He said Shipley picked him up at Lovington, N. M., and that the two men rode here together. When Shipley went to his room to sleep, Smart is alleged to have said he took the keys, got the car out of storage and headed for California, picking up the other man in New Mexico. He denied taking $150 from Shipley person, another charged lodged by Shipley.

Charge Was Filed

Davidson had filed a car theft case against Smart Thursday afternoon, but indicated yesterday prosecution probably would be deferred to federal authorities, particularly since Shipley lives in another state.

Police said that Ellen Harris, a negro woman, was treated at Chatman hospital last night, after lye water was reported to have been thrown in her face and eyes by another woman.

Severe burns of the face, with the possibility of damage to the woman's sight, resulted, the attending physician said.

No arrest was made pending filing of charges by the injured party, it was announced.

North Atlantic Pact

Henri Bonnet.

Rasmussen, who flew to the United States to determine conditions under which his nation may become the ninth participating pact country, spent 35 minutes with Acheson. The Danish statesman declared afterward:

Denmark's Decision Expected

"I hope that Denmark's decision will be taken in the very near future."

Top diplomatic sources said last-minute instructions from the home governments of Britain, Canada, France, Holland, Norway, Belgium and Luxembourg call for minor changes in the pact's language.

Final moves toward completion of the pact in Washington followed a virtual call by Italy's Communist party for industrial sabotage to balk the Rome government from joining the alliance.

Action by the Communists came as Parliament gave Premier Alcide De Gasperi an initial vote of confidence on his decision to take such a step.

Motion Rejected

The Chamber of Deputies backed up the premier by a 311 to 165 vote rejecting a delaying motion by a left Socialist leader allied with the Communists. The motion was to refer the pact controversy to the foreign affairs committee.

High quarters said that no decision has been reached to ask Italy to become an original pact signatory, and that such a step is unlikely, although friendly nations will be asked to join after the pact gets under operation.

Meanwhile, it has been decided to present to Congress soon an estimate of the likely cost to the U.S. of the military aid which will be supplied to European alliance participants to assure their security.

Cost Estimated

This cost has been estimated by informed quarters as one and one-half to two billion dollars for the first year.

Rasmussen said he planned to return to Copenhagen the middle of next week and report immediately to his parliament. He anticipated that debate would begin at once.

The Dane said his talk with the secretary of state Friday was "of a preliminary nature." He explained that he expects to see Acheson and other State department officials frequently during the next week.

U.S. armed aid to Denmark was one of the questions taken up Friday, but Rasmussen said that in the main the conversation was general. He added:

Political Situation Discussed

"I tried to explain to Mr. Acheson the political situation in Denmark."

The foreign minister's labor government actually is a minority government, as the Social Democrats failed to win a clear majority of the seats in the lower house in Denmark's last election.

Rasmussen said that Norway's decision to join the North Atlantic pact naturally "had a lot of influence" on Danish thinking. He noted the geographical proximity of the two countries, as well as the common Scandinavian ties which bind them together.

Asked if the question of Greenland had been raised, Rasmussen said "Not today." The United States has had bases on this Danish possession since the war. The U.S. is interested in retaining them. Until recently, the Danes were inclined to close them down.

Seattle Man Able To Eat 'Anything' After Unusual Diet

(By The Associated Press)

SEATTLE, March 11—Here's a fellow who had a duodenal ulcer for 12 years and who says he can now eat chili, sauerkraut and weiners and wash it down with beer.

Sounds like a lot of cabbage juice?

It is, he insists. It is.

Ronald A. Simpson, the man afflicted with the ulcer, and his machinist friend Wilson Sides, invented a cabbage press which would extract the juice from the vegetable's cellulose-guarded cells.

Then he went to Dr. Walter L. Voegtlin, who put him on a carefully watched regime of a quart of cabbage juice a day. Seven days later, x-days were taken after Simpson had been drinking seven ounces of cabbage juice five times a day. They showed no evidence of the ulcer that had doubled him up for 12 years.

Embittered Man Kills Self Outside Senate

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—A 69-year-old man shot himself to death today outside the United States Senate chamber because he was "shamed" by the world's lack of progress "morally, ethically and politically."

He was "pained" too, said Thomas C. Williams of Buffalo, N. Y., in two lengthy notes, at:

"The greed, selfishness, deceit and downright ignorance of some trade union bosses, the selfishness and obtuseness of some swollen profits seeking employers, the apathy of some clergymen . . . I am ashamed of 'pork barrel politicians.'"

The shooting occurred at 1:50 p. m. (CST) in a corridor adjoining the Senate spectators' gallery.

Senate Locked In Filibuster

The Senate was locked in an 11-day-old filibuster debate.

Williams stood outside the gallery for an hour. Suddenly he pulled out a pistol and shot himself in the chest. A half hour later he was dead.

One note found among his personal effects was a long, rambling missive addressed to the Associated Press. In it, Williams indicated he had long been grieving for his wife, who died 20 years ago.

"When she died, half of myself—the better half—died too," he wrote.

The typewritten letter explained his act was prompted by "shame" over what he termed the "stupidity, ignorance, greed and corruption of many politicians."

GOP Plan Defeated

House into an extra long night session.

Rep. Halleck (R-Ind), a Republican leader, told reporters:

"I think they (Democratic leaders) are a little panicky. All those votes were very, very close. Of course, this bill already bears only slight resemblance to the rent bill the administration asked for."

Although the Democrats did not succeed in pushing their measure through to a conclusive vote today they were pleased—and relieved—that they had turned back the GOP drive to cut the extension period to three months.

"It was a very hard fight," acting Speaker McCormack (D-Mass) said.

"The major fight is won," he added.

But the victory came only by a mighty slim margin—and only after the hard-pressed administration forces had offered to lift controls on more than 100 areas if Congress agrees to extend the government's general authority to set rent ceilings.

Bolstered by that vote lure, House Democratic leaders managed to keep enough of their forces in line to defeat the GOP's 90-day extension plan. They pushed ahead then for a final vote on the pending measure to extend the rent law 15 months.

The House measure already was far short of what the administration asked: A two year renewal with greater enforcement powers.

The world wheat crop last year was about 4 per cent above the pre-war average.

Youth Hunted

A. Pittenger, a Dallas attorney, told El Paso detectives that a hitchhiker he picked up at Pecos aroused his suspicions. Pecos is between here and El Paso.

When Pittenger looked at the suspect at police headquarters in El Paso he said that the youth was not the one he gave a lift.

"He told me he was an adopted son and his father was a professor at TCU," Pittenger told El Paso detectives.

"The hitchhiker said he had driven a Kaiser automobile belonging to his father and had burned out the clutch at Big Spring (near Coahoma).

"The young man said he had been adopted from an orphanage at Corsicana. He seemed broke," the Dallas lawyer said.

El Paso officers began a new search for the hitchhiker Pittenger described.

At Big Spring, a hitchhiker wearing a red wig was reported by G. E. Broughton, a farmer.

Robbery Motive Studied

He told Jess Slaughter, a juvenile officer, that he picked up the wig-wearing hitchhiker yesterday near Weatherford, west of Fort Worth, and let him ride as far as Big Spring.

Broughton said the young man removed his wig, revealing black hair.

The boy was nervous and uncommunicative, Broughton reported.

Dr. Lord lived in a rambling old house near here and drove to and from TCU. The house is in the process of being remodeled. The dean and young Hester slept across the hall from each other.

A wallet belonging to Dr. Lord was found empty. A robbery motive was considered.

Dr. Lord's body was found by two TCU students, Bill Marshall and John Dekker, both 21.

They said that the house showed evidence of a terrific struggle. The house is in a sparsely settled community near Burleson, 12 miles south of Fort Worth.

Dr. Lord obtained Hester's release from the Corsicana home in 1945. Hester served for a while in the Navy and attended school in Fort Worth.

RITES FOR DR. LORD ARE SCHEDULED MONDAY

FORT WORTH, March 11 (AP)—Services for Dr. John Lord will be held at 10:30 a.m., Monday in University Christian church, while all activities on the grief stricken TCU campus come to a halt. Dr. Lord was slain at his farm home near Burleson Tuesday.

The arrangements for the funeral were announced this afternoon by President M. E. Sadler of TCU after a meeting in his office with Mrs. Dorothy Phillips of San Antonio, Dr. Lord's sister-in-law, at whose home the slain professor was a frequent visitor.

School will be suspended from 10 a.m., until noon Monday, Sadler announced, out of respect to the memory of the head of the Department of Government and dean of the graduate school, who last fall began his 29th year as a TCU faculty member. The flag on the campus flew at half staff today.

The memorial address will be delivered by Rev. L. D. Anderson, pastor of First Christian church and chairman of the board of the university. Rev. Mr. Anderson and Dr. Lord were long time intimate friends, Sadler said.

Dr. Thomas Richardson, director of student personnel, will accompany the body to Morehead, Ky., for burial alongside of Mrs. Lord who died in 1939.

Funeral services are pending.

The revival, with the theme "A Charge to Keep," has been in session for the past week and will continue through next week, Rev. Dawson said.

Southern Solons Win Major Tests

from Republican leader Wherry of Nebraska, and others, who argued that Barkley's method was illegal; that the way to curb filibusters was to change the Senate rules.

Senator Baldwin (R-Conn.) demanded to know whether Lucas planned to go on with the fight to outlaw the filibusters by tightening the rules.

The GOP senator shouted that the only way to do this was by continuous night and day sessions.

"We want to see this thing settled," Baldwin yelled, asking if Lucas would push ahead now or lay the fight aside.

GOP's Yell Protests

Lucas made no direct answer other than to say he must consult other senators before disclosing his strategy.

Vice President Barkley banged his gavel furiously trying to keep the Senate in order and finally announced a recess.

Republicans yelled in protest, raising their hands and shouting for a roll call vote.

Barkley finally counted the raised hands, ordered the roll call and the Senate formally quit for the second time.

Meanwhile, Senator McGrath of Rhode Island, Democratic national chairman, said it doesn't appear that the President will get along with this Congress any beter than he did with the Republican-controlled 80th.

(Both Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson voted to override Barkley's ruling.)

Heavy Blow To Truman

On the "Meet the Press" radio program over MBS, he declared both parties should be "ashamed" of those who voted to overrule Barkley.

There is a "long summer ahead of us and we are not going to surrender on civil rights," he said.

A long day of hot argument culminated in Friday night's voting.

This was a heavy blow to the Truman administration, which has been battling for a change in Senate rules so filibusters can be curbed.

Southerners, fighting to retain the filibuster weapon so they can talk President Truman's civil rights legislation to death, were jubilant. They figured they had the anti-lynch, anti-poll tax and other civil rights legislation as good as whipped.

Train Of Events Given

The parliamentary tangle that led up to the test was complicated. This was the sequence of events:

1. Last year Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), then the presiding officer, decided that under the rules no limit can be clamped on debate on a motion.

2. Eleven days ago Leader Lucas moved to take up a proposal, sponsored by northern Democrats and Republicans, to change the rules so two-thirds of those present could limit any debate. The southerners started filibustering.

3. Last night Vice President Barkley ruled that, even without a change in rules, a two-thirds majority could limit debate on Lucas' motion.

GOPs Join Southerners

4. Senator Russell (D-Ga), leading the southern forces, appealed Barkley's ruling to the Senate membership.

5. Lucas moved tonight to lay Russell's appeal on the table.

It was this last-named Lucas motion which was beaten down.

The southerners were joined tonight by a number of Republicans including several who have declared themselves in favor of civil rights and a curb on filibusters. They argued that if filibusters are to be ended, it should be done through a change in the rules, not by an interpretation of the rules by the presiding officer.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said Vice President Barkley's decision was like "writing the rules of the game while the runner is between third base and home."

But Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) declared that senators must not become "slaves to rules" and impotent to carry on their task of legislating.

"Our parliamentary government stands in grave danger at this hour," O'Mahoney said.

Senator George (D-Ga) said: "Rules are the shelter and protection of the minority. If you do not constantly strengthen minorities, you are heading toward a government that has no minorities."

Lucas answered, with a shout, that George talked about protecting the rights of minorities in the Senate, but made no mention of minority groups outside the Senate.

"Civil rights!" Lucas said. "That's the issue here and you know it."

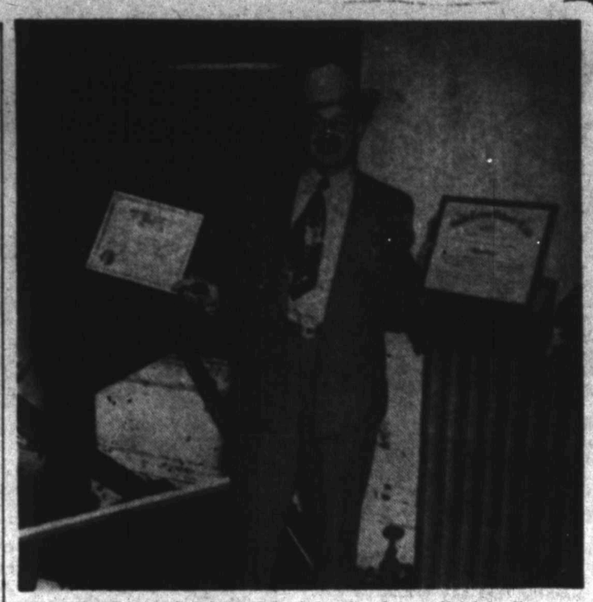

Spectators Jam Galleries

Spectators jammed the Senate galleries as the showdown neared.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) arguing against Barkley's ruling, said he favors a change in Senate rules so that a two-thirds vote could limit debate on any legislative procedure.

But, he said, it should be done by "due process of law" and not by a ruling from the chair.

But he told his colleagues that the Senate's rules "as they exist and as they have been clinched by precedent should not be changed by the interpretive action of the presiding officer—even with the sanction of a transient majority."

Floyd Courthouse

were not damaged.

A temporary tax assessor-collector's office was set up in the same building, in what was formerly the home demonstration club kitchen.

No arrangements have been made regarding location of other offices damaged in the fire.

One Fireman Injured

Smoke continued to pour from the upper part of the courthouse late today, as a crew remained on duty to guard against a new outbreak of fire.

The $170,000 loss estimate was made by Fire Marshal Carl Rodgers. Much of the amount probably will be covered by insurance, as the courthouse reportedly was insured for $200,000, and its contents for $25,000. Contents losses, however, were expected to exceed the $25,000 figure.

Because of the fire-proof-type structure of the lower section of the building, and of the combined efforts of 25 firemen of the Floydada, Lockney and Plainview fire departments, damage to the main section of the courthouse was held to a minimum.

Only one slight injury was reported. Fred Lambert, a Floydada fireman, suffered a bruised arm when he was thrown by a high-pressure water hose which got out of control.

The blaze was discovered at 6:10 a. m. by John Green, building janitor. He immediately notified Sheriff Leland Hart, who turned in the fire alarm.

The Floydada fire department was at the scene within 10 minutes, and was supplemented by the arrivals of the Lockney and Plainview fire departments at 6:40 and 7:05 o'clock, respectively.

The fire was brought under control by 8 o'clock, but it was some time before all rooms in the courthouse could be inspected.

The third-floor section of the building, which currently was undergoing a $10,000 remodeling job, was almost completely destroyed, according to Homer Steen, editor of the The Floyd County Hesperian, local newspaper.

The third floor housed the grand jury room, petit jury room, and several other rooms used for various purposes. No supplies or records of importance were stored there.

Extensive water damage resulted in the lower floors, particularly the second.

The office of Alton B. Chapman, district judge of the 110th judicial district, apparently was the most severely damaged. A loss of most of Judge Chapman's notes and briefs accumulated during the last 20 years was reported, in addition to considerable damage to his law library.

Others Less Seriously Damaged

The second-floor offices of District Clerk Mary L. McPherson, County Surveyor Walter D. Newell, and District Attorney John B. Stapleton all apparently were in fair condition, a preliminary examination indicated. Also, the second-floor Farm Security office escaped serious damage.

There was water damage to all rooms of the first floor, which includes offices of the sheriff, welfare office, county judge, county clerk, and county tax assessor - collector. However, losses were not thought to be heavy.

James F. Potts, state highway department resident engineer with offices in the basement, reported that one set of plans in his office was damaged to some extent. County School Superintendent Clarence Guffee, also with offices in the basement, said most of his records appeared to be in good condition.

Completed In 1912

The courthouse was completed in 1912 at a cost of $98,000. At the time, the building contractor described it as "practically fireproof." Its survival in today's blaze proved it so. Local observers said the lower section of the building was saved largely because of its concrete-and-steel construction.

A large part of today's loss was in equipment, supplies and records.

Also important in keeping losses at a minimum was the work of the three fire departments. The assistance of the Lockney department, under Fire Chief W. F. Carthel, and the Plainview group, under Fire Chief A. M. Hamilton was most helpful, observers stated. The work of all three departments was praised by the early-morning crowd of 200 persons who witnessed the fire.

The round dome of the courthouse recently had been replaced by a pyramid-shaped tower erected during the remodeling of the upper section of the building. Co-contractors for the repair job are S. F. Conner and Sam E. Thurmon. Thurmon, incidentally, first came to Floydada as a workman on one of the construction crews for the building of the courthouse. He has since made his permanent home here, while engaged in the building contracting business.

ARMY SECRETARY GIVES REPORT

U.S. Will Not Sacrifice Rights, Principles To Reds, Royall Says

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall said today the United States will do "everything possible to avoid war" with Russia but will not surrender American rights or principles in any dealings with the Soviet Union.

Referring directly to Russia, Royall said "it is difficult to deal with a nation which has no compunction against the use of threats and force and oppression to attain its desire."

He made the statement in reviewing the Berlin crisis in his anunal report on Army activities. But he did not confine his condemnation of Russian tactics to the Berlin situation. He wrote:

"The future of the Berlin situation—just as the future of other situations involving the Soviet Union—is hard to prophesy. We cannot and will not surrender our rights nor our principles. We will continue to do everything decently possible to avoid war."

Royall repeated charges previously made by this government that Russia is doing everything possible "short of war" to drive U. S. forces from Berlin and thus "diminish American influence in Europe and in the world." And he echoed this government's determination to stay in Berlin, come what may.

Royall also accused the Russians of "duplicity and falsification of facts" in dealing with other powers on the question of Germany and Berlin. He said Soviet representatives have "continually violated their solemn agreements," have "totally ignored" promises made by Russian Premier Josef Stalin and have altered signed agreements by "improper interpretation."

"It has been apparent," he said, "that the Soviet authorities have had no intention either of respecting past agreements or of composing the growing differences.

At one point, Royall hinted that the situation was so delicate that a mistake in policy decisions might have resulted in war.

Asserting that policy decisions have been made jointly by the Army and State departments, he wrote:

"'The effort has been to stand firmly for American rights without being truculent. Often the decisions have been close ones where an error on either side was entirely possible. Fortunately, up to this time war has been avoided and America's position has been maintained."

Royall gave a large share of the credit to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor in Germany, whose "judgment, as well as his administration, have been practically flawless."

He also singled out the Air Force for praise, saying its airlift service to Berlin has created "a great and favorable impression throughout Europe."

Royall's review of the Berlin crisis highlighted his report on Army activities from July 1, 1947 to Nov. 30, 1948.

He reiterated that the Army hopes "eventually" to be "relieved of all responsibility for occupation in all parts of the world." He said definite plans had been made to turn the German military government over to the State department, "but the Berlin situation caused a postponement of this change."

Oil Fever Grips Canadian As Test Well Goes Deeper

CANADIAN, March 11. (U.P.)—The county seat of a domain boasting more cattle than persons has found oil fever pushing talk of stock out of the picture Friday.

H. S. Wilbur, president of the First National bank at Canadian, reported more than $500,000 in drafts for oil leases were out for collection. The drafts are payable as quickly as abstracts are approved.

Many land owners reported receiving royalty checks of $100 an acre on land up to 15 miles from the Sinclair-Prairie well on the Lips ranch in Roberts county. The Lips well is past the 9,000 depth and drilling continues.

UMT Bill Shelved For Balance Of Session

WASHINGTON, March 11 (INS) — Chairman Vinson (D-Ga), of the House Armed Services committee, announced today the group has shelved for the present session President Truman's request for universal military training legislation.

Vinson also disclosed that the committee soon will launch an "inquiry" into "all the facts and cost" of the military draft law, which expires June 29, 1950.

The Georgian told the House Rules committee "there will be no UMT bill considered by the Armed Services committee at this session of Congress."

Vinson at the same time declared that in accordance with the President's instructions the Army will be required to reduce its strength by 42,000 men by next June 30.

The chairman explained that the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 provides funds for an Army of 667,000 men. Present strength is 709,000.

Four Passengers Injured As Train Leaves Rails In Virginia

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., March 11 (INS) — Four passengers on a Seaboard Airline train, the Silver Comet, suffered minor injuries today when part of the crack streamliner was derailed near Fredericksburg.

Railway officials blamed the accident on a split switch.

New Cease-Fire Pact Is Signed

RHODES, March 11 (INS)—Israel and Trans-Jordan signed a formal cease-fire agreement today amid a distinct coolness caused by reports that their troops clashed near the strategic Trans-Jordan port of Aqaba at the head of the Red sea.

The cease-fire, greeted with relief by acting UN mediator Dr. Ralph J. Bunche and his staff, is effective immediately. It is intended to serve until a general armistice supersedes it.

It binds both sides not to attack each other but there are no restrictions on troop movements within the territory occupied by either Israel or Trans-Jordan.

Official Admits "Brush"

The movement of Israeli forces southward in the Negev tip of southeastern Palestine to the gulf of Aqaba is what produced the Trans-Jordan reports of fighting — and the resulting coolness among the delegates negotiating at the Greek island of Rhodes.

(Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharet—formerly Shertok—admitted in Tel Aviv that what he termed a "brush" with Trans-Jordan troops had occurred. He said Israeli forces now have occupied all the Negev territory they regard as their own. This means they are on the Gulf of Aqaba near the Trans-Jordan port where British troops are stationed.)

The Israeli-Trans-Jordan cease-fire agreement extends the already effective Jerusalem area cease-fire from a point northwest of Jerusalem southward to the Gulf of Aqaba.

It does not include the so-called Nablus - Tulkarm - Jenin triangle northwest of Jerusalem, where Iraqi troops are stationed.

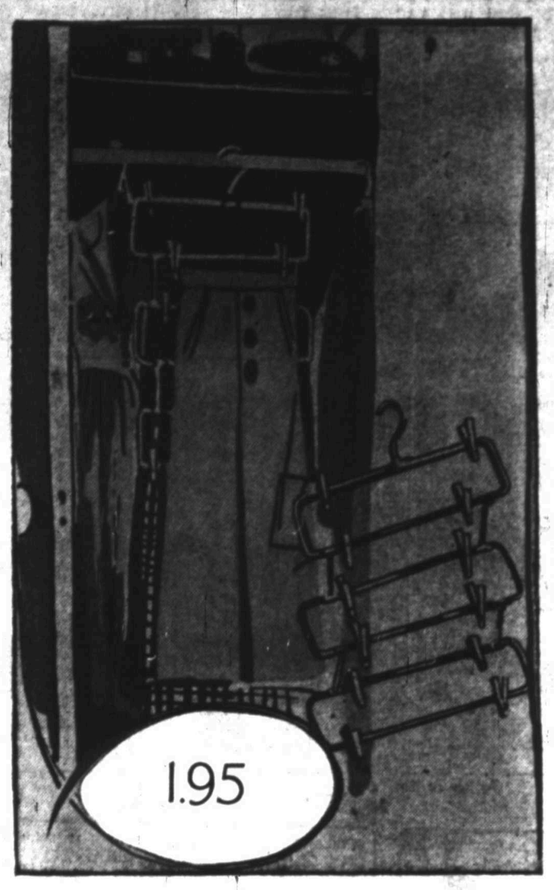

Under the terms, troops are not to pass over lines held by the other nation. The UN is given the right to complete supervision of the cease-fire.

Lockney High School Agriculture Department Gets Tractor, Pump

LOCKNEY, March 11. (Special) An industrial D-1 Case farm type tractor and an eight-inch irrigation pump powered by a 40-horsepower electric motor recently have been acquired by Lockney high school for use in the school's vocational agriculture department.

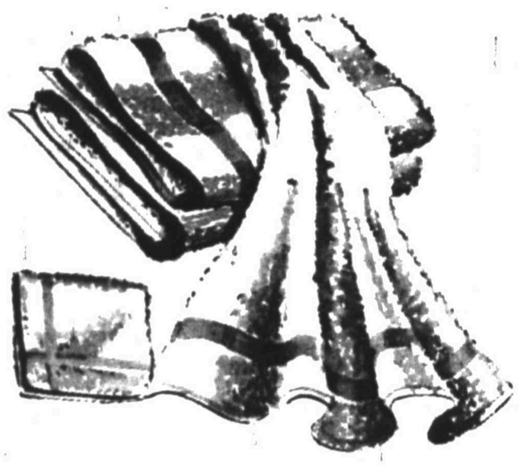

Negotiations are now underway to obtain rent-free use of a 44-acre plot of ground located near the school, Supt. Sidney Reeves has announced. This land, with the equipment recently acquired, will be farmed by students in agriculture classes at the school. Emphasis probably will be placed on cotton and row crops, and on cultivation and production of garden vegetables suitable for canning and for use in the two school lunchrooms, Reeves said.

The vocational agriculture department is under the direction of F. L. Montandon, Texas Tech graduate.

Solution Seen To New Problem

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 11—Bank loans to cover the state's shortage in teacher salary aid last spring were illegal but the legislature can straighten out all except interest on the loans, Attorney General Price Daniel held today.

In a 13-page opinion, Daniel said that interest cannot be paid on loans still pending settlement.

"We haven't gone into the matter of recovering interest already paid," he elaborated later.

House Asks Opinion

The opinion was requested by the House of Representatives which had questioned constitutionality of a Senate bill to provide $3,000,000 to cover the 1947-48 deficit in the state fund.

The loan procedure was recommended to school districts by Gov. Beauford H. Jester when the salary fund ran dry last year. He promised banks that an appropriation to cover the deficit would be his number one emergency recommendation to the legislature. In that manner, the governor said, a special session of the legislature could be avoided.

Daniel said in his opinion that it was "unfortunate" that banks stand to lose their interest.

Declared Unconstitutional

". . . The banks and the governor were attempting to satisfy a commendable need, but no matter how commendable, such debts were not according to law and their commendability or expediency is no reason for us to ignore the law in deciding the constitutionality now presented," he said.

The attorney general noted that most of the bank loans have already been repaid under an "unauthorized" procedure.

When the second half of the money appropriated for the biennium was paid last September by the state to the school districts, most districts used part of the money to cover their 1947-48 deficits.

Loans which have not been paid, he said, can be settled in a lawful manner if the banks, teachers and school districts restore their positions to the status occupied before the unauthorized loans and then allow the districts to pay the teachers whatever is remaining due under their contracts.

Urges Rewriting Of Bill

Daniel said that since most of the loans have already been repaid and the deficit actually transferred to the current year by the unauthorized use of current funds, the pending Senate bill should be rewritten to make the additional fund available for the current year rather than for the year already ended.

The Senate bill is by Senator

Prejudice Claimed In Treason Case

Defense Demands New Trial For 'Sally;' Penalty Not Set

WASHINGTON, March 11 (INS) Defense Counsel James J. Laughlin today demanded a new trial for Mildred E (Axis Sally) Gillars, convicted of treason yesterday by a federal court jury.

Laughlin contended the guilty verdict was contrary to the evidence and that Judge Edward M. Curran made grave errors in his conduct of the trial.

The defense motion, set forth in a 10-page document, will be argued by Laughlin and Prosecutor John M. Kelley before sentence is imposed on Miss Gillars.

Sentencing Not Set

Curran has not indicated when he will pronounce sentence, but Laughlin said he expects it a week from today.

The 48-year-old American-born woman was found guilty on only one count of an eight-count indictment listing "overt acts" of tseason arising from her wartime broadcasts for Nazi Germany.

She is in the District of Columbia jail awaiting sentence.

Miss Gillars faces a sentence ranging from five years imprisonment to death. There is little likelihood, however, that she will receive the supreme penalty.

She is also subject to loss of citizenship and a $10,000 fine. The fine, however, is meaningless in-

Charges Denied By Texas Solons

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

THREE RIVERS, March 11—The House committee investigating the Felix Longoria incident was accused here Friday of having already made up its mind there was no racial discrimination involved.

The charge came from Gus C. Garcia, of San Antonio, attorney for Mrs. Beatrice Longoria, widow of the Latin-American soldier killed in action on Luzon.

Longoria was reburied in Arlington National cemetery Feb. 16 after a Three Rivers funeral director "discouraged" the use of his chapel for the services.

Charge Is Denied

"If the committee has already decided that denying the use of the chapel because Longoria was of Mexican descent is not discrimination," Garcia said, "then we are wasting our time here."

"We have not made up our mind," said Rep. Cecil Storey of Longview, committee chairman. "That is why we are still investigating."

Rep. Tom Cheatham of Cuero protested that "Garcia has no right to put this committee on the witness stand."

Garcia requested a ruling on whether the committee would consider the Longoria incident a case of racial discrimination "if the preponderance of evidence shows the chapel was denied because of Longoria's national ancestry."

May Call New Session

Storey said he would consult other members of the committee and give a ruling Saturday morning.

The investigation goes into its third day of formal testimony at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Storey said it was likely the committee would recess about noon Saturday. He said he might call another meeting in Austin next week.

Garcia's exchange of words with the committee members came while Mrs. Beatrice Longoria was on the witness stand.

The soldier's daughter, Adelita, aged 9, sat silently beside her mother.

Drunk Driving Trial To Continue Today

A drunk driving case, naming Earl Wager Tucker, was being heard late Friday before Judge Walter Davies and a county court jury, but court recessed until 9 a. m. today when the trial will continue, County Attorney Waggoner Carr said.

The charge against Tucker grew out of a Nov. 6 collision near the Lubbock county line on the Lubbock-Littlefield highway.

Earlier, a jury in county court had returned a verdict of innocent in the trial of a feed law violation charge naming Ralph Keeton. The defendant was represented by James Milam, of the law firm of Crenshaw, Dupree, Milam and Crenshaw.

Two fines, totaling $325, and court costs were assessed in county court Friday morning against Bud Curtis, who pleaded guilty of two charges of liquor law violation.

A fine of $10 and court costs were assessed against N. G. Anderson, who pleaded guilty of check law violation.

Harvey Knight, about 35, pleaded innocent of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle and posted trial appearance bond of $500.

GAS USED TO SAFEGUARD MONEY

Lubbock Merchants, Disturbed By Burglaries, Improve Safes

By ELLEN MILLER
Avalanche Staff Writer

Lubbock merchants, disturbed last year by a wave of major safe burglaries, have quietly been making their safes safer, a survey discloses.

The problem — to find a safe that burglars could neither open nor carry away—is believed solved by a number of large store operators by recent installation of relatively small strong boxes, sunk in concrete floors.

Sunken Safe Popular

One popular safe of this type is a 14-inch cube of one-inch tempered steel, sunk in concrete to its depth, it is reported. It is considered virtually burglar-proof because any would-be thief would have to tear up the floor to remove it, or, if he chose to burn his way in with a torch, the steel would become so hot that whatever currency was inside would be ashes by the time entry was gained.

However, for those who do not plan the purchase of new safes in the immediate future, installation of tear gas bombs can also be an effective means of discouraging burglars. One type of bomb may be attached to the inside of the safe, to explode when the door is opened. A newer type bomb is designed to be attached to the combination, and contains two units of gas. One is extremely volatile, strong enough to foil any immediate attempt to rob, and the other unit contains a long-lasting type gas that would prevent the burglar's returning later in the night.

Whether or not lights are an effective means of protection varies with the situation, according to Lubbock police. If a strong light is beamed on a safe by the front window of a building in a well-patrolled area, it is believed to offer some protection. On the other hand, it was pointed out, a light on a safe by a back door is a virtual invitation to a burglar.

Police stressed that the man who hides his safe as a protection is, at the same time, making it impossible for them to detect robbery while on routine patrols.

Police here also expressed their

FARMERS of the South Plains have direct, pocketbook interest in attempts being made in Congress to repeal taxes and other regulations which discriminate against margarines in favor of butter. Anything which restricts the sales of margarine reduces the demand for, and price of cottonseed oil.

Dozens of measures have been proposed which, according to their authors, would correct present inequities. Some would do that. Others described as "compromises" would place margarines at an even worse disadvantage in their relationship to butter than exists now. Probably the most flagrant of these "compromise" frauds is one introduced by Rep. August Andresen, from the heart of the Minnesota butter producing region, and supported with all possible vigor by the powerful butter lobby.

Under existing laws, yellow margarine can be bought by the housewife. She has to pay an unfair tax for it. But she can buy it. Under Andresen's bill, the sale or shipment of colored margarines would be wholly forbidden. The gist of Andresen's argument is that, if yellow margarine is offered for sale, even in plainly labelled packages, the housewife will be too stupid to distinguish between it and butter.

The real idea of the Andresen bill is, of course, that many shoppers would buy butter—much of which is colored artificially, — rather than go to the trouble of coloring margarine.

And there's a disturbing possibility that the butter lobby may succeed in their maneuvers unless the masses who are interested in fair play and a cheaper—but wholly nutritious—spread than butter make their indignant protests heard by the membership of Congress.

A Good Start

SENATOR Lyndon Johnson made the sort of impression which will enhance his prestige and consequent usefulness as a senator in his first speech before the upper house against the anti-filibuster resolution.

He didn't start sprouting oratory practically the instant he hit the Senate floor, as did the unlamented ex-Senator O'Daniel. He had the good taste and common sense to wait awhile. As anyone who knows anything about Washington can attest, this undoubtedly impressed senators of longer service. They detest few things more than a grandstanding freshman showoff.

Lyndon Johnson avoided a "fire-eating" speech reminiscent of the late Bilbo and Huey Long. Its logic and eloquence were more remindful of the Clays and Calhouns. He appealed to intelligence, not passion.

He branded the anti-filibuster resolution for what it is: An attempt to limit senatorial freedom of speech. In that vein, these few excerpts illustrate the thesis of his argument:

"If I could send into countries behind the Iron Curtain one freedom, and only one, I would send this very freedom we are attempting to disown here—the right of unlimited debate in their legislative chambers. It would go merely as a seed, but the harvest would be bountiful; for, by planting this bit of freedom, we would see all freedoms grow as they never have grown before on the soil of Eastern Europe."

Probably the entire text of the address is available to those requesting it by addressing a note or card to Senator Johnson in care of the Senate Office Building. It is convincing as evidence that Texas now has a junior senator who represents our State with ability and dignity.

Another Trapped Cow

Pop Goes The Queen

By BOB WADE and BILL MILLER
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover, quiz show winners of an expense-paid week at a swank desert resort, are visited by an armed man as they dress in their cottage for dinner. This man, Homer Anglin, leaves, after saying he made a mistake. Dining at an exclusive cafe where waiters are in Arab costume, Johnny receives a Queen of Diamonds on which is written "Your deal." While searching for the waiter who left the card in place of a check, Mr. Barselou, the owner, takes them into the kitchen. The door to the alley opens, there's a blast of a gun and a man stumbles into Johnny's arms. It's Anglin, the man who visited the cottage. Anglin dies muttering to Johnny: "You already got it."

"DEAD all right," Lieutenant Lay said and got up from beside the body. Barselou, the Conovers, the cooks behind their now-cool stoves and two tan-uniformed policemen waited for him to work a miracle.

The second in command of the Azure police department stood with his bowed legs apart and scowled at the wall. He was a lanky man in his middle thirties with a horse face and arms too long for his body. He needed a shave.

The scowl swung on John Henry. "Mr. Barselou seems to have the idea that you knew him." Conover shook his head and kept silent. Sin still leaned against him, but she wasn't about to be sick any more and her tilted eyes were sharply alive. "Doesn't matter," Lay rasped. "He's not hard to identify. Name's Anglin." He kept watching John Henry.

When the scowl began to fade, the young man thought it was safe to ask, "who was he?"

"Oh, he hung around town a lot. Did lots of jobs. Been lots of different things. Prospected some." He glanced at the sand that had spilled on the immaculate floor from Anglin's clothes. "Was a guide once in a while. Used to deal faro over in Las Vegas—or so I heard."

"Lieutenant—" Barselou interposed from where he was fiddling with a meat grinder. "Maybe that has something to do with the murder. A man like that is bound to make enemies."

"Maybe. A grudge killing. Some bozo he's double-crossed — or cheated at cards. Then again, Mr. Barselou—" Lay gave a macabre grin "—this killing's right up your alley."

Barselou didn't smile.

SIN said in a very small voice, "Whoever it was, he was pretty persistent."

"I don't get you, Mrs. Conover."

"Well, he was shot in the shoulder too, wasn't he?"

"Doesn't mean anything. Most guys with guns can't shoot worth beans, anyway."

"What's Mr. Anglin been doing recently?" John Henry asked.

"Glad to have the visitors take an interest in our crimes," Lay muttered sarcastically. Then he considered. "Not sure that I know. I can't keep track of everybody in town. We didn't have any reason to keep tabs on Anglin — until now." He knelt by the dead man again.

Barselou gave the meat grinder a whirl. "Just a suggestion, Lieutenant, but a careful search of his clothes—"

Lay, already rummaging through the dead man's pockets, didn't bother to look up and Barselou let his voice trail off. He eased forward to stand near the body watchfully. The black automatic, familiar to the Conovers, came out first, to be placed on the shiny linoleum. A dirty handkerchief, a small compass and a notebook, pocket-size and with all the pages blank, joined the gun on the floor. After a thorough search, the pile also included a few coins, a half-empty pack of cigarets, a box of pocket matches and a wallet. The wallet contained a driver's license made out to Homer Anglin, $19 in currency, a Social Security card and nothing else.

LAY got up and rubbed his knees, Barselou bit his lip and tapped the police officer's shoulder, drawing him to one side.

Sin sighed. "Do you think we can go now?"

"Shouldn't be long now," her husband said off-hand. He was trying to read lips across the kitchen.

"Why don't you ask the lieutenant if it's okay? I need some fresh air pretty bad."

Lieutenant Lay came ambling back. "Say, Conover, when you told your story why didn't you tell me that Anglin said something to you before he died?"

"He didn't."

"Barselou says—"

John Henry's temper flared. "Barselou's got a lot of ideas. Why doesn't he have one about that waiter of his that started us on the whole thing?"

The police ambulance clanged outside in the alley, its siren dying to a groan. John Henry guessed the expression on Lay's ugly face was supposed to pass as a grin. At least, after the noise had died down, Lay said, "Oh, we all have ideas." And he let the Conovers go.

As they walked down the alley, John Henry said, "Whew!"

Sin slid her hand under his arm and agreed. "Was that the adventure you wanted with your dinner?"

"No," he admitted morosely. "I didn't want to see anybody get hurt. It never seems that bad in stories. When people in stories stumble into a murder, they always come up with a clue."

Sin moved closer to him and nodded silently.

"Darn!" said John Henry.

"What's the trouble, honey?"

"Tripped."

He kicked some soft trash aside and they walked on.

The soft trash was an Arab burnoose. Lieutenant Lay didn't find it, either.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

THE TELEPHONE rang.

"Hello, Erich. This is Bill."

Bill is short for Bela Zaboli, the fellow who draws the Popeye comic strip and lives a couple of miles from me.

"Are you doing anything this evening?" he went on.

"Nothing special."

"Fine. Want to make $2048?"

"Do I want to make $2048?" I echoed. "I'd be interested in making $48 or even $4.80."

BRANDEIS

"All right," he said. "I'll be over at your house around eight and you come along with me to the Joneses' house (Name fictitious). There will be several other people and each of us puts up a dollar. We'll get coffee and doughnuts and have a lot of fun. Its something new. It's called the ------"

"Wait a minute," I interrupted, "it's called the Pyramid Friendship Club, isn't it?"

"Yes, how did you know?"

"Because," I explained, "I just got through talking to the District Attorney about it and he explained the whole business to me. It's the biggest sucker game in the world and I'll bet you fifty or five hundred to one that neither you nor anybody else will ever get $2048 or $20.48 out of it."

However, Bill accepted my invitation to come over anyway and to let me explain the whole sucker game to him.

Undoubtedly this Pyramid Friendship Club thing has come to your community by now and I do hope that you haven't fallen for the most colossal hoax since the old chain letter game ran its course.

As I told Bill, I queried the District Attorney about it, because there had been a lot of talk about prosecuting the originators of the scheme in our community.

The D. A. told me frankly that it would be difficut to convict anybody under the lottery law or any other code that he knew of.

THEY HAD tried to get convictions in Hollywood and other cities, he told me, but they had not had much luck.

Unfortunately, as he said, there is no anti-sucker law and nobody has yet been put in jail simply for being a d--n fool.

I couldn't explain the racket to you if I tried. I had it explained to me with diagrams, with mathematics and what not. I don't get it yet.

But I do know this: They tell you that you can make $2048 in a few weeks in this racket.

Actually, if 12,000 people in your community went in on it, only six members would get paid off after attending some 250 meetings. The other 11,994 would get plenty of coffee and doughnuts, but they wouldn't get more than just a few dollars out of the Pyramid Friendship club.

If you want to be a sucker or have no other way to meet people, by all means join your Pyramid Friendship Club.

I am sure the authorities won't be able to put you in jail.

Notwithstanding all the laws in the world, no authority on earth has yet been able to do away with two human instincts—gambling and sex.

SHORTER WORK WEEK

Lewis Plans Demands

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Inauguration of the first thirty-hour week in a major American industry will be demanded by John L. Lewis when the president of the United Mine Workers negotiates a new contract with the coal operators in late April and May.

He may lard this demand with insistence on a wage increase, but that question will be injected only to strengthen his bargaining power at a time of year when coal supplies above ground will be plentiful, and when summer consumption is at a low point.

TUCKER

As Mr. Lewis was the first to win a welfare-and-pension plan for his 400,000 miners at the expense of the operators and consumers, so he hopes to pioneer in establishing the thirty-hour week in the domestic economy.

With the almost miraculous expansion of the nation's productive facilities and talent during and since the war, he believes that purchasing power and demand can be maintained only by lowering working hours without any reduction in pay.

STRATEGIC: He points out that the system has worked in his own industry. Despite a cut in the work week to thirty-five hours, together with a drop in the number of miners, they are producing the same amount of coal each year—600,000,000 tons—that they did many years ago. Mechanization and greater efficiency resulting from less overwork and physical strain is his answer.

John L. is also looking toward the future, however, when increased use of other forms of energy, possibly atomic power, will narrow the market for coal. Partially as the result of new competition, the supply of coal now on hand—100,000,000 tons—is the greatest in history.

Mr. Lewis is also thinking in terms of labor union politics. The A F of L and C I O leaders only now are catching up with him in demanding welfare and pension payments for their members. He won those benefits several years ago. Now he needs a new victory to keep him ahead of the parade, and the 30-hour week will be his next strategic move.

BOASTFUL: John Thomas Taylor, the veteran Washington legislative agent for the American Legion's national headquarters, shocked a breakfast group of Congressmen and guests with his amazingly brash and boastful admission that he was the ablest "lobbyist" on Capitol Hill. He sounded off at a recent meeting of New Jersey members that had assembled to discuss G.I. rehabilitation problems.

"They call me a lobbyist," said the ruddy-faced, roly-poly Legion representative, "and I admit it. I am proud to be known as a lobbyist. In fact, I wrote the general pensions bill which the Rules Committee will report favorably sooner or later. And, despite the Administration's opposition, it is going to be passed by an overwhelming vote. The veterans want it, and they are all behind it except for a few left-wing groups."

REBUKE: Listeners got the impression that Mr. Taylor was giving them strict warning to expect reprisals at the polls if they did not support the measure. He has informed friends that he looks for the House-Senate leadership to surrender to his demands, despite President Truman's estimate that the eventual cost of several millions annually will dent the Treasury.

Veterans Administrator Carl Gray did not refer to the pension bill but his remarks were interpreted as an indirect rebuke to Taylor. He explained that he had to be "neutral with respect to various veterans' programs for the reason that I represent all the veterans."

CRITICIZED: Although he is a fellow-Missourian, House Appropriations Chairman Clarence Cannon sharply criticized President Truman's heavy budget requests and his spending program behind the doors of a recent meeting of his committee. And the first major appropriation measure reported by this group, for the Treasury and Post Office departments, slashed Administration requests by a cool $100,000,000.

"We have got to cut and cut and cut," warned Mr. Cannon after the full committee had approved the P.O.-Treasury reduction unanimously. "If we don't bankruptcy faces the United States. And if that should happen, Stalin will win the 'cold war' without firing a shot because we will be an insolvent nation."

ALLY: Chairman Cannon had a sympathetic ally in the chairman of the Treasury-Post Office Subcommittee. He is Representative J. Vaughan Gary of Virginia, a henchman of Senator Harry F. Byrd, the most zealous advocate of federal economy on Capitol Hill. Ranking Republican, and also a non-spender, is Gordon Canfield of New Jersey.

Commenting on Mr. Cannon's anti-extravagance warning, several members remarked that "he can pinch a penny as hard as John Taber." As the man who sponsored reductions in the 1947 and 1948 budgets, Mr. Taber was the principal target of Truman denunciations in last year's campaign.

QUOTE: Senate Majority Leader Scott W. Lucas of Illinois did not send the Democrats off to a good start in the anti-filibuster campaign when he opened discussion with the reminder that Alexander Hamilton and the late Henry Cabot Lodge had favored limitation of debate.

"Cannot the Senator quote some good Democrats on that point?" interjected "Dick" Russell of Georgia, Southern strategist in the cloture battle.

SECRECY ON POLICIES SCORED

Dulles Sounds Timely Warning

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—In these critical times, when the peace of the world is at stake, it is still true that those entrusted with management of our foreign policy do not take the American people sufficiently into their confidence. Foreign affairs continue to be too much a top-drawer, top-secret business.

Currently, in illustration, are the North Atlantic Alliance and the accompanying project for us to arm western European nations. They embody one of the most delicate and vital decisions in our history. Yet they are vague to most of our people on the eve of their presentation to Congress as an almost-accomplished fact, and under a sort of emergency pressure for ratification.

STOKES

Dulles Reveals Details

For another current illustration, it may be pointed out that it was not President Truman or Secretary of State Acheson or any government official, but John Foster Dulles, a private citizen who is an American delegate to the United Nations General Assembly, who revealed something that the American people should know in a speech to the third National Conference on Churches and World Order, sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches, at Cleveland.

"So far as it is humanly possible to judge," he said, "the Soviet government, under conditions now prevailing, does not contemplate the use of war as an instrument of its national policy. I do not know any responsible high official, military or civilian, in this government or any government who believes that the Soviet state now plans conquest by open military aggression."

Mr. Dulles speaks with authority because he keeps in constant touch with officials in charge of our foreign policy in connection with his UN assignment, as well as with those of other nations. He performed a public service in making this statement, though it should not have been necessary for him to have to do it. His reassurance is in contrast with the silence of our top government officials who, instead, have let all sorts of loose talk and military and naval bluster go on unchecked in recent weeks.

Mr. Dulles frankly recognized the familiar tactics of the Russians with which he has had to cope so often and with which we must continue to cope. But there is a difference between them and war, and thus far we have held our own, or better, in Russia's chosen strategy.

He also issued a warning that should be driven home at this time to Congress and our people.

We should not, he counseled, let our fellowship with Western Europe, and particularly Scandinavia, appear to bring our military might "directly to Russia's border," which is what is envisaged in the program to arm Western Europe. Norway will be a party to the North Atlantic Alliance and so, presumably, would be eligible for U. S. military aid. Russia would use its Army if it felt its homeland was menaced, Mr. Dulles feels sure.

Military Influence Hit

"It would indeed involve a high tribute to Soviet leaders to assume that under these circumstances they would exercise more self-control than would our people under comparable circumstances as for example, if the Soviet Union had military arrangements with a country at our border."

That is plain common sense which we often fail to exercise in a blind refusal to put ourselves in the position of other nations and take a look from their viewpoint. It was timely as well as courageous for Mr. Dulles to remind us of that simple matter of human psychology. He also had some very sensible things to say about the danger of too much military influence in our foreign policy.

"If," he said, "we try to give the military the responsibility of preserving peace, they are apt to muff it because it is not the kind of responsibility for which they are trained. Furthermore, history shows that whenever a nation has a great military establishment it is under a powerful temptation to rely on the use, or the pressure, of that power to gain its ends. The greater a nation's military establishment is, the greater should be the gulf between its military leaders and those who make its national policy."

His whole speech should be widely circulated because of its calm sense and sanity in a time when hysteria seems to be the order. It should be required reading, too, in our State and Defense departments—and at the White House.

Mary Queen of Scots had a watch in a case shaped like a skull.

New Trial Asked

as much as she has declared herself a pauper.

Laughlin charged that Curran's instructions to the jury were "inflamatory" and "prejudicial" and he asserted that the trial was conducted with a "circus atmosphere."

He also declared that Curran "violated accepted judicial practice" in having a meeting with prosecution lawyers without the knowledge of the defense.

Defense Charges Errors

The defense counsel said the judge erred on a long list of separate points involving the admission of evidence offered by the prosecution and the exclusion of evidence offered by the defense.

He said that Curran's attitude toward Miss Gillars was "one of a prejudicial nature." All questions put by the judge, he contended, were beneficial to the prosecution. The judge, he said, took no steps favorable to the defense.

Laughlin said the use of the testimony of three German witnesses in proving the charge against Miss Gillars was "an insult to the decent persons of the United States."

STOCKS STAGE RALLY

NEW YORK, March 11 (AP)—A sharp rally in rail issues today carried the stock market higher.

Rails made their best advance in more than three months with gains of fractions to nearly 6 points among the leaders.

Steels, motors and oils shared in the forward movement with advances running from fractions to more than 2 points. There were generous gains elsewhere in the list, and declines were scattered.

The rally broke a week-long period of dullness marked by a low volume of trading and small price changes.

Some Wall Street sources saw in the performance the beginning of the long awaited spring rally and pointed to the fact that the rails are expected to spearhead the drive from their very low levels of recent weeks.

Volume was 1,070,000 shares, a considerable jump from yesterday's 630,000 and the best since Feb. 7.

A considerable portion of the volume was in Commonwealth and Southern, the day's most active issue with 130,000 shares traded. Much of this was in blocks of 10,000 and 15,000 shares. It closed at 3⅝, up ⅛, a new high for the year.

The second most active issue was Northern States power which closed at 8¼ up ⅛, also a new high. The Securities and Exchange commission gave Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beane and Associates permission to make a secondary offering of 304,646 shares. Their price will be 8½ plus the equivalent of the New York Stock Exchange commission.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .7 of a point, the best daily gain since Jan. 3. It stood at 61.4, its highest point in more than a month.

Among the better gains were Nickel Plate 3½, Santa Fe 3, Southern Pacific 1¼, Northern Pacific 1, U. S. Steel 1½, Youngstown Sheet and Tube 1½, General Motors ½, Chrysler ½, Studebaker ½, Skelly Oil 1½, Standard Oil (NJ) ½, Socony Vacuum ½, American Telephone ½, American Power and Light ½ (both most active issue), General Electric ½, International Paper 1, Phillip Morris ½, Montgomery Ward ½, Radio Corp. ½, and Kennecott ½.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 11. (AP)—A mid-morning selling flurry left grains, soybeans and lard with fairly large losses on the board of trade today. The market recovered a bit from its extreme lows, but did not show any great rallying ability.

Corn lost more than 3 cents while wheat was down as much as 4 cents when the day's lows were touched. Oats and rye followed the downturn in other commodities.

Reports that more wheat was moving out of producing areas in the Southwest, an expansion in bookings of cash corn to more than 100,000 bushels and an easier tone in the soybean oil market contributed to a generally bearish atmosphere.

Wheat closed 2 to 3⅜ lower, May $2.12⅝-2.14. Corn was 1¼-2⅛ lower, May $1.30¼-1.30, oats were ⅛-⅝ lower, May 66⅝-¾, rye was ½-1¼ lower, May $1.57⅛, soybeans were 4 to 5½ lower, March $2.32¾-2.30, and lard was 20 to 30 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $12.15.

Rivers home.

"I was mortified and hurt," the widow said. "I told Felix's family and they were not satisfied and they did not like the arrangements either."

Mrs. Longoria said she went to Dr. Hector P. Garcia, president of the American GI forum in Corpus Christi.

"I gave him authority to see if he could get the chapel," she said, "and if he could not make other arrangements for the funeral."

R. E. Smith of Houston, chairman of the Good Neighbor commission, was another witness Friday. He said the commission tried to have the soldier buried in Texas, Three Rivers if possible, because it would have been "a good Texas solution to an objectionable problem."

Fire-Fighters Watch Helplessly As Home Burns Near Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, March 11 (AP) — Two small booster trucks and a score of volunteer fire-fighters stood by helplessly this afternoon as the $50,000 colonial-type home of Chester Haltom went up in flames a mile and a half north of Haltom City on the Denton highway.

Most of the prized possessions of the Haltom family were saved but the home was a complete loss. Built in 1938 at an approximate cost of $25,000, it had been appraised recently at $50,00, Haltom said.

The blaze, which began under the southwest corner of the roof where a crew of tinners had been working an hour before, was discovered about 4:30 p. m. by Mrs. Porter Brown, a sister of Haltom who lives next door.

First use of the coiled spring in watches is credited to Robert Hooke, about 1660.

'KILLER CAR' Sentence Of 'Death' Decreed For Auto

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 11 (INS) — A South Bend court set a precedent today by passing a "death" penalty on an automobile involved in investigation of a pedestrian's death.

City Court Judge Leon E. Kowalski passed the sentence calling for destruction of the car following presentation of evidence that the 1929 model auto was in such bad mechanical condition that a mechanic halted tests on it.

The police report said the mechanic, asked to make a driving test, refused to drive the vehicle, listing it as "unfit to drive."

The 19-year-old driver of the car was fined a total of $110 for driving without a license. He and his mother, owner of the vehicle, agreed to its sentence to the junkyard.

Protestant Meet Fails To Reach Decision On 'Talks' With Vatican

CLEVELAND, March 11 (AP) — Delegates at a conference representing 35,000,000 American Protestants came to no decision today on holding a meeting between top world Protestant leaders and the Vatican on religious freedoms.

They referred the matter to the executive committee of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America which meets in New York next week. A four-day meeting here on moral influences in international affairs was sponsored by one of the council's sections.

Specifically, the conference referred the idea of Vatican-Protestant meetings to the committee without recommendation because of "insufficient time" to study the proposal. The subject of Catholicism touched off hot debate on the floor.

Just before the final session closed, the subject was reopened and the conference endorsed the statement of the World Council of Churches on religious freedom, previously made public.

Dr. O. Frederick Nolde of Lutheran Theological seminary, Philadelphia, introduced the resolution on the Protestant-Vatican meeting.

Diver Reports Finding Bones Of Nazi Prisoners In Corinth Canal

NEW YORK, March 11 (AP) — A deep sea diver said today he had found the bones of thousands of Nazi political prisoners — Jews and Spaniards—on the floor of the Corinth canal.

The diver, William Smythe, said the victims were herded into box-cars and whole freight trains were run off bridge approaches to the canals.

The Corinth canal was designed by Emperor Nero to connect the Ionian and Aegean seas.

Smythe, 49, and a professional diver 21 years, arrived on the American export liner Excambion after 17 months in Greece.

The husky diver's job abroad was to clear out the ports of Piraeus and Salonika and the Corinth canal. The Germans dynamited them and they were filled with the debris of war.

"I worked among skeletons and bones often when I was on the bottom," he related. Human bones brought up by dredges were taken out to deep water. They were too mixed up with debris and muck for other burial."

Sales Show Decline In Four Major Texas Cities Past Week

DALLAS, March 11. (U.P.)—Department store sales decreased in four major Texas cities for the week ended March 5 compared to a year ago, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas reported today.

Houston reported a 12 per cent drop, San Antonio 10 per cent and Dallas and Fort Worth six per cent each. For the four weeks, declines of 11 per cent were reported at San Antonio, eight at Houston, three at Dallas and two at Fort Worth.

With one exception, decreases have been noted each week this year. However, using a weekly sales index of 100 for an average week during the 1935-39 period, department store sales are running three times higher today.

PAVIA TO GET BANNER

VENICE. (AP)—At the national students' meeting in Perugia the centuries-old banner of Pavia University disappeared. It was sighted a few days later on the Venice University of Commerce's main balcony, exhibited as a students' trophy. Earlier police had been informed of the disappearance of the banner. But an agreement between the two universities settled the matter: Pavia students will send a delegation to Venice and get back their ancient banner, after tendering a good many rounds of white wine to the Venetian "conquerors."

AERIAL TANKERS
U.S. Has Two Units For Air Refueling

TUCSON, March 11 (AP)—The U.S. Air Force now has two air refueling squadrons—aerial tankers that make nonstop world circling flights possible.

Davis-Monthan Air Force base officials today revealed one of the squadrons is based here, the other at Roswell, N. M.

Capt. George M. Lockhart, operations officer of the 43rd Air Refueling squadron, says completion of the recent nonstop world trip by "Lucky Lady II" does not terminate air refueling operations.

"Rather, they will be stepped up," Capt. Lockhart said.

The "Lucky Lady II," A B-50 bomber, last week flew around the world in 94 hours without a stop.

All B-50's can be converted so that they may be refueled in the air, Capt. Lockhart revealed.

Drinking At Army Posts Is Protested

WASHINGTON, March 11 (Special) — Protests from El Paso and Greenville about drinking on Army posts have prompted Sen. Tom Connally of Texas to request the War department for an explanation.

This is the second such protest received recently about Fort Bliss. Biggs field, El Paso, is also mentioned in the complaint.

A preliminary report on the El Paso situation has been sent to Connally already but another and final report is now being prepared for him, the Army replied.

From Greenville came a protest from Methodist Young people of Wesley Methodist church. They did not specify which post, but complained in general "about drinking on Army posts."

The latest protest involving the El Paso area came from the Rev. B. F. Bennett of Emanuel Baptist church. Previously the complaint of a resident there was partially retracted, Connally's office said, in a report to Dr. Herschel Ford, president of the Ministerial alliance.

In its preliminary report, the Army denied that there was excessive drinking at Fort Bliss and referred the Biggs field matter to the Air Forces. The Army said it was much better to permit drinking, done only in officers' clubs and non-commissioned officers' clubs, on the post where the amount and personnel could be controlled than to prohibit its use and thus encourage persons to go across the border into Mexican night clubs to indulge. The Army also replied that no hard liquor was served in post exchanges on Army posts but only beer, porter, and ale of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content.

opinion that most of the safe burglars here have been amateurs, as shown by their carrying the safes away to be cracked at leisure, rather than opening them on the spot.

These amateures could be foiled much of the time by installation of tempered steel safes which cannot be opened by an ordinary acetylene torch, local safe dealers suggested.

G. C. Morris of Greenville. It passed the Senate over protests of a number of senators who questioned its constitutionality. When it got to the House, that body decided to hold it for the attorney general's opinion.

Daniel said that under his suggested procedure a constitutional amendment would not be required to set things straight.

In a later prepared statement, Gov. Jester said he was happy that the attorney general had "pointed out a way" to see that teachers in state aid schools be paid salaries due them.

IS MY DOCTOR GIVING ME THE TRUE FACTS?

Misrepresentations by Political Powers of Organized Allopathy (M.D.'s)

THEY SAY: Dr. Miller, President of Texas Medical Association: "Under the Laws of Texas today you have no legal guarantee that this man treating you is qualified to do so."

ANSWER: Why should the proponents of the present Basic Science Law make a ridiculous, unfair statement of this kind. Have they never read the Medical Practice Act operating since 1907?

IN THEIR PROPOSED Minimum Standards Bill they state that it is not too much to ask anyone practicing the healing art to be examined in the Basic Sciences.

Dr. Miller says technically the Basic Science subjects are these: "Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry, Bacteriology, Pathology, Hygiene and Public Health."

ANSWER: Are they so misinformed that they do not know the present State Medical Board exaxmines in these subjects: Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry, Bacteriology, Pathology, Hygiene, AND ALSO Histology, Diagnosis, Surgery, Obstetrics, Gynecology and Medical Jurisprudence?

Will the Medical Doctors Please explain how the patient's health will be better protected by requiring a young qualified doctor to take the same examinations twice by two boards? Who is going to pay this unnecessary expense for him?

The Sponsors of the so called "Basic Science" or Minimum Standards Act say they want the Public to be sure that all Practitioners of the Healing Arts have at least a minimum education.

ANSWER: Are they so misinformed that they do not know that the present law requires two years of College work plus four years of eight months each in a Reputable Medical School?

The Sponsors of Basic Science or Minimum Standards have advertised in the Public Press that this will be a fair bill because no Chiropractor, Naturopath or Osteopath will be a member of this board.

ANSWER: Why didn't they also exclude Allopaths (M.D.'s)? For the perfectly clear reason that they will have two M.D.'s from the faculty of a medical school on this Board although they are not in active practice.

The Allopaths (M.D.'s) state that the Minimum Standards Law (Basic Science) will control the practice of unlicensed Doctors in Texas.

ANSWER: It is absurd to contend that a new law with less police power could be enforced as well as the present medical laws, which have protected the public health of Texas for more than 40 years.

Dr. Tate Miller, President of the Texas Medical Association, stated in a recent Broadcast that all he could say of other types of doctors or branches of the Healing Arts studying the Basic Sciences was that their catalogues Say they do.

Here is a comparison of the Education Background of Osteopathic and Medical Physicians. Schools approved by American Osteopathic Association must require: Minimum of 2 years premedical college work (as must all approved M. D. Schools). We list a comparison of Osteopathic education as required by the Six approved Osteopathic Colleges and Harvard Medical College (M.D.'s) in their required subjects:

	Standards of Osteopathic College Requirements Are:	Harvard Medical School (M.D.'s) Requirements Are:
1. Anatomy, including Embryology and Histology	814 hours	440 hours
2. Physiology	264 hours	232 hours
3. Biochemistry	198 hours	232 hours
4. Pathology, Bacteriology and Immunology	572 hours	479 hours
5. Pharmacology	220 hours	129 hours
6. Hygiene and Sanitation	176 hours	124 hours
7. General Medicine	1,166 hours	1,219 hours
8. General Surgery	770 hours	705 hours
9. Obstetrics and Gynecology	220 hours	317 hours
	4,400 hours	3,877 hours

TOTAL HOURS required by Osteopathic Schools, 4,400.
Total Hours required by Harvard Medical School (M.D.'s) 3,877.

The Osteopathic Schools Are Inspected Yearly by the Bureau of Colleges-

Do the M. D. Schools have similar requirements for inspecting colleges? NO.

Every Osteopathic Physician and Surgeon in Texas has a license to practice Medicine and Surgery which is identical to the license under which the M.D.'s practice.

How long will the people, whose generous subscriptions and gifts have built the big hospitals of our state, allow the M. D.'s to dominate these institutions and bar qualified Osteopathic Physicians and their patients from these tax-free instituions? M.D.'s, do you want Educational Standards or Monopoly?

Can an M.D. get a license in the state of Texas without being examined by an Osteopathic Physician and Surgeon? NO—Every applicant to practice Medicine and Surgery in Texas must be examined by a board composed of six Allopaths, two Eclectics, one Homeopath (all M.D.'s—a total of nine M.D.'s)—and three Osteopaths.

Can a Chiropractor, Naturopath or graduate of any other School of Medicine obtain a license to practice in Texas?

YES—If he has two years pre-college work, four years of eight months each in his School and passes the present Medical examination.

Can the Legislature create special privilege for any School of Practice?

The answer is NO. The Texas Constitution says: "The Legislature may pass Laws prescribing the qualifications of practitioners of Medicine in this state, and to punish persons for Mal-Practice, But No Preference Shall Ever Be Given by Law to Any Schools of Medicine."

THE MINIMUM STANDARDS OR BASIC SCIENCE BILL SHOULD BE OPPOSED FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS:

The Composition of the board would be monopolistic in favor of the M.D.'s No other school represented on proposed board.

It would restrict the licensing of qualified physicians between States by reciprocity. The Medical Board during the last two years has licensed over seven hundred Doctors who had qualified themselves in other States. Under the proposed Basic Science Law none of these men could be licensed in Texas.

Arkansas and New Mexico have Basic Science Boards. They are short of qualified Doctors because of this act. Do you think the health of the people in Arkansas and New Mexico is any better than the people of Texas have enjoyed?

It would place qualified Doctors in double jeopardy—they would have to take the same subjects by two Boards.

Medical publications have repeatedly plugged for this bill as a screen to keep out Osteopathic Physicians.

It is the first step on the part of the M. D.'s to change the present Medical Practice Act to one that they can control for selfish reasons.

Only a very limited number of qualified physicians (M. D.'s) of Texas realize what the Medical Practice Act is, nor do they realize what the Minimum Standards Act will do to the Health of the Public in the Future. As a matter of fact, the chances are that not 5% of the M. D.'s in Texas have even read the new proposed Basic Science Law. As a clarification, ask your own Doctor if he has read the proposed Basic Science Law.
