Y Banquet Tickets Go On Public Sale

Tickets for the annual YMCA membership banquet were released for public sale this morning, after a week of giving the membership first opportunity to make purchases. The tickets are available at the YMCA, according to Dan Krausse, president.

The annual banquet will be held Jan. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the Goliad Junior High School gymnasium. Adult ducats are $2.25 and children's tickets are $1.25.

Krausse reminded residents that many persons were disappointed last year by waiting too late to make purchases. He urged that orders be placed early to insure availability of seats.

Also, he pointed out that the banquet this year will honor James M. Hardy, general secretary who has accepted a position with another association. A brief testimonial by Y organizations is planned.

Speaker for the banquet will be Nicholas T. Goncharoff, outstanding YMCA speaker. A native of Russia, he is now associated with the Y organization as World Service secretary for international education.

His work has carried him throughout the world and he has worked in many phases of the Y program. Local association workers Clyde McMahon and Arnold Marshall have heard Goncharoff speak and both urge residents to hear him.

Demos Seek To Push Bills Kennedy Pledged To Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders have started a drive to get through Congress the first of the social welfare bills President-elect John F. Kennedy has pledged to back.

No. 1 is the depressed areas bill. It was learned today that Senate Democratic leaders will give it the "S.1." ticket as the first Senate bill introduced this year.

The measure again will be offered by Sen. Paul Douglas, D.-Ill., and will be similar to another bill of his in the last Congress, passed by the Senate, watered down by the House, and vetoed by President Eisenhower.

Among other measures on the Kennedy list sure to follow are medical care for the aged tied to Social Security, raising the minimum wage and federal aid to schools.

But before they buckle down to business both House and Senate were embroiled today in their perennial fights over matters pertaining to civil rights legislation.

In the Senate, the fight centered on a proposed rules change to make it easier to halt a filibuster—the ancient weapon of the South to death.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., has proposed that three-fifths of the Senate—60 senators—could vote to cut off debate. At present a two-thirds majority of all present and voting is needed.

Another proposal is to cut the requirement to a simply majority of 51 senators. That is backed by Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Thomas H. Kuch R-Calif.

Southern senators spoke sharply against any rules change and prepared an arsenal of parliamentary moves to fight it. The new majority leader, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, said he hoped the issue can be settled this week.

In the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn and other Democratic leaders are determined to curb the power of a Southern Democratic-Republican coalition in the Rules Committee that often has blocked liberal legislation.

"The only question," said one, "is whether it is done painlessly or the hard way. It is going to be done, one way or the other."

The hard way would be to remove Rep. William Colmer, D-Miss., from the committee and replace him with a liberal. He is one of the two Southerners who vote with Republicans on the committee.

Another way would be to increase the size of the committee and pack it with liberals.

'Harassment' Forced Break, U.N. Is Told

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States today accused Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro of deliberately forcing the break of U.S.-Cuban relations by a strategy of harassment.

U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth told the U.N. Security Council the United States had worked hard to prevent "the leaders of Cuba from choking off our friendly relations but that is what they seemed determined to do."

Wadsworth spoke shortly after the council met to consider Cuban charges that the United States is planning an invasion of Cuba. He began by referring to Tuesday night's decision by the White House to break diplomatic relations with the Castro regime.

PROVES CHARGES

Before the meeting Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa told a reporter that the U.S. decision had proved the Cuban charges. Commenting on the break of relations, he said: "It proves my charges."

Wadsworth called the charges false and hysterical."

He said they were a fresh reminder of "the strategy of harassment by which they brought us—I really think on purpose—to last night's decision."

"Over nearly two years," Wadsworth said, "they have piled insult upon injury to a point where our diplomacy could not function any more."

Forecasting the tone of the American reply, a U.S. spokesman called the charges "the latest in a series of lies" by the government of Prime Minister Fidel Castro. It is the second time Cuba has accused the United States before the United Nations of invasion plans.

ON HAND

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa was on hand to press the new charges before the 11-nation council. He said in a written complaint last Saturday that the United States was about to "perpetrate, within a few hours, direct military aggression" against Cuba.

The U.S. delegation after consultation with council members was reported confident Roa would find little support except from the Soviet Union.

Most council members professed to be puzzled by Cuba's motives in bringing before the United Nations a third set of charges of aggression against the United States.

When the Security Council heard Cuba's charges of economic aggression last July, it voted 9 to 0, with the Soviet Union and Poland abstaining, to shunt the case to the Organization of American States (OAS).

Cuba failed last October in efforts to get its charges that the United States was planning a large-scale invasion debated before the full U.N. Assembly. The 21-nation Steering Committee voted 12-3 to send the complaint to the Political Committee, where it is awaiting debate when the Assembly reconvenes next March.

So far no U.N. body has found a basis for Cuba's charges.

U. S. Breaks Cuban Ties; 'Limit Reached'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has broken U.S. diplomatic relations with Fidel Castro's Cuban regime, declaring "the limit has now been reached . . . to what the United States in self respect can endure."

The President said "our sympathy goes out to the people of Cuba now suffering under the yoke of a dictator."

The White House announcement of the break-off Tuesday night marked rock bottom in a downward plunge of U.S.-Cuban relations that started soon after Castro's capture of power two years ago. Castro's anti-United States attacks and his surge to the Communist camp have mounted over the months.

The bearded Cuban leader reacted to Eisenhower's statement by saying, 'We are alert." He called his Cabinet into emergency session, then sent a note to the U.S. Embassy guaranteeing safety of all remaining Americans.

BASE NOT AFFECTED

A State Department spokesman said the break did not affect the big U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay in Cuba. Castro has made threats against the base. The United States says it holds an unbreakable, no-time-limit lease on the installation.

Eisenhower served notice last Nov. 1 that the United States "will take whatever steps may be appropriate to defend the base."

President-elect John F. Kennedy declined comment on the diplomatic break. He was given advance word on the President's action.

(The New York Times said today that Secretary of State Christian A. Herter asked Dean Rusk, Kennedy's choice for secretary of state, in advance whether the incoming Democratic administration did not feel that it could participate in the decision, a Washington dispatch to the Times added.)

The end to U.S.-Cuban relations had been long expected. Yet it was dramatic. The break cut Washington-Havana ties for the first time since America's fighting men had freed Cuba from Spain at the turn of the century.

The last straw snapping Washington's forebearance policy was Castro's demand, delivered to the U.S. Embassy in Havana early Tuesday that all but 11 of the U.S. diplomats get out of Cuba within 48 hours.

American authorities from Eisenhower down saw this as a calculated insult. They figured the U.S. Embassy could hardly operate with only 11 men—fewer than the number of guards alone needed for the 10-story embassy building.

ECHOES HEARD

Repercussions spread widely from the break-off.

In Havana the ranking U. S. diplomat, Charge d'Affaires Daniel J. Braddock, and 10 of his top aides planned to remain a few days to take care of pending matters and transfer the care of U.S. relations to Swiss Ambassador Walter Rossi. Other members of Braddock's staff were boarding a ferry sailing today for West Palm Beach, Fla.

Cuban diplomats in this country likewise were under expulsion because of the break. State Department officials said these totaled about 100, including about 10 at the Cuban Embassy in Washington and 90 at 13 Cuban consulates in other cities throughout the United States.

Castro named the Communist Czechoslovak Embassy to handle future Cuban dealings in Washington.

Castro's two years of anti-American activity had been highlighted by freewheeling accusations, growing intimacy with the Communist bloc including acceptance of arms aid and seizure of about a billion dollars worth of U.S.-owned property in Cuba.

SLOW REACTION

Washington has reacted slowly. It repeatedly denied Castro's charges, protested his growing involvement with the Reds, withdrew economic aid, and finally ended U.S. purchases of Cuban sugar and banned shipment of American goods to Cuba.

The American Embassy staff had been kept on in Havana to hold open a channel of communication with the Castro regime, to report to Washington Cuban developments and to grant visas to Cubans wanting to come to the United States.

U.S. officials believe Castro was angered by the U.S. reporting and by the heavy flight of Cubans to Yankeeland.

The U.S. Embassy had been granting about 1,500 visas a month. About 50,000 Cubans seek to leave for America. The visa service was suspended Tuesday.

U.S. authorities were considering a means of treating future Cuban arrivals in this country as refugees, processing them for temporary admission after they get here.

Aliens Begin Registration

Alien registration has started slowly, Postmaster Elmer Boatler said today. However, this is normal, for usually the rush for registration forms occurs toward the end of the month.

All aliens in the United States are required by law to register during the month of January. Those who may temporarily be out of the country or not within reach of the forms must register immediately when they can obtain the forms. Meanwhile, all aliens are urged to obtain the forms at the post office and to return them at once to the U.S. Service.

Jet Crash Near Lubbock Kills 2

The craft was from Reese Air Force Base, 10 miles west of Lubbock.

Names of the victims were not released immediately.

Riot In Gallery Causes Recess At U.N. Meeting

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — An anti-Cuba demonstration broke out in the public gallery of the U.N. Security Council today during a speech by Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa. The outbreak forced a recess in the council meeting.

U.N. guards quickly moved in on the demonstrators as they heckled the Cuban foreign minister, but when the shouting persisted the council president, Ambassador Omar Loutfi of the United Arab Republic, ordered a recess.

Roa had just begun presenting Cuba's charges that a U.S. invasion of Cuba is imminent. Roa said Tuesday night's break of U.S.-Cuban relations would contribute to the increasing tension.

Just at this point, shouts broke out in the crowded gallery. The demonstrators yelling in Spanish such words as "murderer," "Liar" and "Communist."

The meeting was resumed after 10 minutes.

Eight of the demonstrators were ejected by U.N. guards. They said they were members of the Cuban Revolutionary Front, a Cuban exile group opposed to Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Roa took the floor after the United States had accused Castro of deliberately forcing the breach of relations between the two countries.

Atom Device Under Test For Army

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — A new-style nuclear reactor blew up Tuesday night, killed three men and touched off a high level of deadly radiation in a building at one of America's major atomic testing stations.

The Atomic Energy Commission quickly sealed off the area and said there was no danger to other parts of the station or Idaho Falls, a city of 34,000 persons 40 miles away.

But the building itself was so "radioactively hot" that only one of the three bodies could be recovered in the first nine hours after the blast.

A team of radiological experts, eerie looking in their baggy white suits with heavy protective shoes, gloves and mask, shuttled in and out of the building to inspect damage, and test the radiation.

They went in one at a time and could stay only minutes. The AEC said it would send airplanes aloft to check the level and direction of radiation. A southwest wind, however, was blowing at the time and would take any radiation over barren wastelands away from populated areas.

MILITARY PERSONNEL

The three victims, identified only as an Air Force man and two Army men, were operating the reactor known as "Stationary Low Power Reactor No. 1." It is a prototype of a small mobile reactor being developed for use by the Army in remote areas.

The accident occurred at 9:30 p.m. The three men killed were the only ones in the building. At least 60 are on duty there in the daytime.

It was the first fatal accident in 11 years of operation at the National Reactor Testing Station, a major AEC installation.

It may be weeks before the AEC knows exactly what happened. But a spokesman said it apparently was a chemical explosion.

About 4,500 permanent employes work at the station west of here and the AEC said it planned no changes in their schedules today.

DEVELOPMENT SITE

The engine for America's first atomic submarine was developed at the site and tests are now being conducted there on a variety of projects, including the power plant for an atomic airplane.

The radiological crew members who entered the metal building pieced together this picture of the explosion:

The experimental reactor, being developed as a portable source of electric power and heat for the armed forces, apparently "blew its top."

The reactor and the boiling water in which it is immersed are housed in a metal shell which was not penetrated. This is capped by a metal cover through which fuel and control rods run to reach the enriched uranium core of the reactor.

The reactor is housed in the basement, where the explosion apparently occurred. The blast did not appear to have penetrated above the basement. The exterior of the building was not damaged.

GUESS WORK

The AEC said any theories on the cause of the explosion would be purely guesswork pending the report of a group of investigators being flown from Washington, D.C.

However, the AEC spokesmen said it probably was a chemical explosion, possibly caused by a reaction between aluminum components of the reactor and the boiling water.

Reporter, State Agent Describe Beaumont As Vice, Crime Hotbed

BEAUMONT (AP) — A crusading reporter related today that an assistant district attorney issued an apparent friendly warning that "you're liable to get hurt, or worse" if he continued his stories of Beaumont and Port Arthur vice.

The newspaperman also said he saw teen-agers buying drinks over open bars, and finding prostitutes as young as 17 years at the saloons.

The reporter, Allen R. Wegemar, 34, testified before the General Investigating Committee of the Texas House of Representatives.

VICE EMPIRE

Committee members have charged that a wealthy vice empire is entrenched in Beaumont and Port Arthur. A committee hearing on conditions in Southeast Texas opened today.

Wegemar at the time—1955—was courthouse reporter for the Beaumont Enterprise and Journal. He is police reporter for the San Antonio News and Express now.

Here was the story Wegemar told:

He wangled an invitation to the swank Spindletop Club on the Port Arthur-Beaumont highway.

Before going there, he was drinking a cup of coffee when James McGrath, then an assistant district attorney, sat down beside him and said, "I hear you're doing some checking."

The reporter said he was.

"It wouldn't be wise," Wegemar quoted McGrath as saying. "You don't know what you're getting into."

A day after his story on the Spindletop appeared, "I found a sudden chill at the courthouse," said Wegemar.

And he added, McGrath told him, in a friendly manner:

"You don't know what you're dealing with. It's bigger than you think. I know if you continue along this line, you're liable to get hurt, or worse."

NOTHING DONE

Wegemar said he filed felony gambling charges against a man he identified only as O. B. (Slim) Griffin and testified before the grand jury. He said the grand jury later no-billed Griffin and in a formal statement declared the reporter's stories on alleged vice involving teen-agers was without foundation.

He said he also went before the grand jury to testify about gambling and drinking by teen-agers but was not permitted to present many details.

After that, related Wegemer, he decided to probe the existence of prostitution.

"I had beat my head against a legal stone wall and I figured this whole thing (his crusade) was going to collapse without a shot in the arm," he told the legislative committee.

In one evening, he testified, he visited 16 houses of prostitution in Port Arthur and Beaumont where liquor was sold over the bar. He said he would have visited more except that he ran out of "time and money."

YOUNG GIRLS

"At least half or more of the girls working in these places were not more than 17 to 18 years old," he said.

He said his next move after this survey of the houses was to file criminal complaints against 11 of the places. He said "nothing to this date" has been done about his charges.

Wegemar related that he went before the Beaumont City Council to try to get action. Also at the session was City Police Chief Jim Mulligan.

The council thanked him, said Wegemar, and then Mulligan made a statement that said "in effect, that to his knowledge, there was no organized gambling or prostitution or sale of liquor to teenagers in the county. He said I (Wegemar) simply must be mistaken."

MYSTERY WITNESS

Earlier, an unidentified state police intelligence agent named nine clubs in the two cities where he said he witnessed bets being taken and paid, and listed five hotels in Port Arthur as places where he saw prostitutes.

The mystery witness testified before the General Investigating Committee of the Texas House of Representatives. He identified himself only as an intelligence agent of the Public Safety Department.

He said he spent most of October and November in Jefferson County inquiring into crime conditions.

He said he saw bookmaking, bets made and paid, ticker tape sports reporting, and blackboards listing the odds on sports events, primarily football games.

The agent said the clubs in Beaumont were the Bowie, Texas, Yukon, Rich's and Liberal and the Oyster Bar. All but the Oyster Bar were raided in December

Tickets Ready For SA Banquet

Boyce House, of "Texas Brags" fame, will speak at the annual Salvation Army banquet Jan. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the HCJC Student Union building, according to Bob Bradbury, chairman of the banquet planning committee.

The advisory board met Tuesday to formulate plans for the forthcoming banquet.

A civic endeavor promoted to inform the public about the various Salvation Army activities, the banquet is held each year as a report to the community and is open to the public.

Tickets go on sale today for $1.75 at the Chamber of Commerce, HCJC business office, Security State Bank and Big Spring High School. Each member of the advisory board will also have tickets for sale to the banquet.

9 Directors For Y Named

Final counting of ballots in the election of nine directors to the YMCA board was completed this morning.

Elected to three year terms were Pete Cook, Mrs. Curtis Driver, Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, Dan Krausse, Dr. P. D. O'Brien, Ike Robb, Frosty Robison, Mrs. Lee Rogers, and O. S. Womack.

Dr. H. F. Schwarzenbach was elected to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Bill Neal.

R. H. Weaver, chairman of the nominating committee, made the announcement this morning. He said new officers will be nominated during the Jan. 10 meeting of the board. The new president will name three additional board members for one year terms.

Weaver said 366 ballots were counted in the holiday election.

Belgium Breaks Back Of Strike In Brussels

BRUSSELS (AP)—The Belgian government today appeared to have broken the back of the 16-day-old strike in Brussels. But the Socialist-led unions fought doggedly on in many parts of the country.

Union efforts to close the capital's department stores flopped badly this morning when determined policemen shooed away between 200 and 300 pickets.

The pickets—about 40 per cent of them women—walked meekly away.

Postal deliveries also improved in the capital. Streetcars and buses seemed to be as plentiful as in normal times.

The Socialist newspaper "Le Peuple" claimed that 200,000 persons demonstrated throughout Belgium Tuesday against Prime Minister Gaston Eyskens' austerity program of higher taxes and lower social security benefits. The government estimated the total at 75,000, a figure given credence by the 9,000 turnout in Brussels.

With the government coalition parties—the Social Christians and Conservative liberals — backing him, the prime minister won four votes on various motions Tuesday in Parliament. Eyskens' backers considered them votes of confidence.

Antwerp, Belgium's biggest port, remained partially paralyzed but a department store strike fizzled there also.

But in Soignies, near the southern industrial city of Charleroi, police broke up rowdy demonstrations with bayonets. In Liege and at Namur most stores remained shut and transport was at a near standstill.

U.S. Arranges Exodus, Urges All Americans To Leave Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—The U.S. Embassy today made arrangements for the speedy exodus of Americans from Cuba and urged all to depart in the wake of President Eisenhower's decision to break diplomatic relations with the Fidel Castro government.

The first wave of departing diplomats and other Americans was expected this afternoon.

An unusually courteous note from the Cuban government, however, suggested there was no need for haste. It pledged the "most absolute guarantees" of safety for all American citizens —residents, tourists and diplomats alike.

The note, delivered after the Cabinet in an emergency meeting had considered the White House announcement of the break, also offered to extend the 48-hour period given all but 11 members of the embassy staff to get out of Cuba. The 48-hour period expires this afternoon.

It further emphasized the amenities by offering "in concordance with the norms of international right, every kind of facility" for the removal of the embassy's office equipment and other property.

The Castro government said it in turn would withdraw its diplomatic personnel from the United States as speedily as possible and turn its representation in the United States over to Communist Czechoslovakia's diplomats.

The American colony in Cuba is estimated at between 500 and 2,000. The embassy urged all to leave unless they have "compelling reasons" to remain.

There was no immediate rush of agitated Americans to the embassy, however, and many were expected to remain in Cuba. Several small American businesses have escaped the nationalization that has wiped out most of the billion-dollar American investment in Cuba. A number of Americans still here are married to Cubans and have lived here for years.

A dozen or so Americans are in jail on various charges, awaiting determination of their cases. Several others are serving prison sentences.

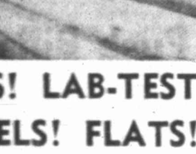

Eight correspondents for news services, newspapers or magazines are among those remaining.

Most of the Americans in Cuba had expected the break in relations for some time. The bulk of the American colony already had left, because they had lost their businesses.

It seemed inevitable that the break would heighten Castro pressure for a termination of the U.S. lease on the Guantanamo naval base on the southeast coast.

Alger Says Lyndon 'Falsified The Truth'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Bruce Alger told a news conference Tuesday that Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson "falsified the truth."

Alger also said he believed the vice president-elect "has sold out right and left on issues, whether on civil rights or other matters."

Johnson, told of Alger's blast of criticism, declined comment.

Alger, who called the news conference soon after Johnson resigned as U.S. senator from Texas, said the Texan falsified the truth regarding the election campaign incident in which Johnson and his wife reportedly were spat upon and roughed up in a Dallas hotel lobby.

Alger was asked whether he thought his role, as one of those who carried an anti-Johnson banner in the hubbub, had lost votes for the Republicans.

Texas' lone Republican congressman replied that most newspaper accounts of the incident were inaccurate and unfair and that they may have influenced some people to either vote for the Democrats or, at least, not vote Republican.

The Republican party carried Dallas County, where the event occurred, by more than 60,000 votes.

"Lyndon Johnson had his usual presence of mind," Alger said in launching a personal attack on the vice president-elect, "but the question arises about his falsifying. At no time was there any spitting or hair-pulling.

"The violence was at no time like it is at a football weekend there in the same lobby."

Then, referring to what he said had been direct newspaper quotations by Johnson, the Dallas congressman added:

"He did this at the expense of falsifying the truth."

Commenting on the banner he had carried, which referred to Johnson as a "Yankee socialist," Alger said that he thought the only way it could be improved would be to substitute "Northern" for "Yankee."

He said Johnson "tries to be on both sides" of controversial issues. He added, "I think Lyndon Johnson has sold out right and left on issues whether on civil rights or other matters."

Johnson, who entered Congress in 1937 as a member of the House, takes his oath as vice president on Jan. 20. He resigned Tuesday as a member of the Senate. His resignation came a few hours after he was sworn in for a new term.

The vice president-elect is expected to spend most of his time in the capital until he takes over the vice presidency.

Belgian 'Revolutions' Never Come Before Lunch

By EDDY GILMORE

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—"In Belgium," said one of the strike-beset country's citizens, "no revolutions start after lunchtime."

That comment is borne out by the current Socialist demonstrations against the government's proposed austerity program of higher taxes and lower social benefits.

This capital city has erupted in violence three times in the past week.

Angry men have marched through the stately boulevards, shouting "to the gallows" with Prime Minister Gaston Eyskens.

Enough plate glass to fill the windows of 20 American main streets has been smashed.

Saber-wielding mounted policemen twice charged noisy mobs of demonstrators.

But everybody stopped for lunch.

Last Thursday, 15,000 strikers surged through the streets of this beautiful city. They hurled brickbats, stones, and steel nuts and bolts at hundreds of plate glass windows.

About noon the demonstration dispersed and everybody went home to lunch. A conservative newspaper said most of them drove away in their own automobiles.

The next day 5,000 or so charged through the streets. Many of them knocked off when the clock on the ancient town hall sounded the hour for feeding.

Several thousand hadn't had enough. They surged up to the Sabena Airlines terminal and began pegging away at the inviting plate glass windows. Police charged. A man was shot and fatally wounded by a bystander who said he got excited.

The demonstration suddenly collapsed, and again everyone seemed to go home to lunch. A few hours later the cafes and bars near the scene of gunshot, blood and police saber charges were full of music and dancing couples.

Nobody ever comes back for battle after the midday meal.

"We're the bourgeoise of the world," said one young man. "Examine our history. We revolted against the Dutch in 1830—but it was in broad daylight. And I'll bet you it was before lunch."

FCC Approves Public Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission granted a request Tuesday for a public hearing on a permit to Waco Broadcasting Corp. for a new 99.9-megacycle FM radio station in Waco, Tex.

The permit, issued in November without hearing, was protested by Centex Radio Co., operating Waco station KEFC-FM, which said the new station would be in direct competition with it for listeners and revenue in the Waco area. FCC declined to suspend the grant pending the hearing.

The commission received this new application:

Midland, Tex.—Moran Broadcasting Co., (John Edgar Moran), Midland National Bank Bldg., Midland, for a new FM station on 93.3 megacycles.

Crosby To Learn Support Payments

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dennis Crosby expects to learn today how much he will pay for support of a 3-year-old girl born out of wedlock.

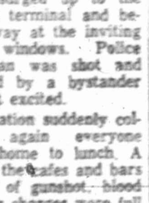

A lawyer told the court Tuesday that Dennis should contribute $700 a month. He said the child's mother has $2.50 and is 22 cents overdrawn at the bank.

Attorney Milton Zerin, representing Marilyn Miller Scott, said crooner Bing Crosby's son is worth $750,000.

This Is It!

What is the pearl of great price? This was not known by the man of the parable (Mat. 13:45, 46) when he started out. But being alert to the things of real value, he recognized it when he found it.

The pearl of great price is the truth of the gospel. Christ came that men "might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." Jno. 10:10. But to be His disciples indeed, and to be made free by Him, we must continue in His word, and come to know the truth. So says John 8:31, 32.

"The wise man said, "Buy the truth, and sell it not." Prov. 23:23.

It is at the price of study, and continued study, that men come to know the truth. II Tim. 2:15; Jno. 8:31, 32.

Come and study the Bible with us. Mid-week meeting tomorrow, 7:30 p.m. The sermon, "Two Salvations," is based on an Old Testament story. Question period follows. —Adv.

On Guard In Vientiane

Rightwing troops manned an armored car and patrolled the streets of Vientiane after driving leftwing forces of Capt. Kong Le from Laos' administrative capital during fighting last month. The Laos government said Communist forces seized Laos' strategic plain over the weekend, creating a threat to Vientiane and Luang Prabang, the royal capital.

Lyndon May Rule Demo Policy Talks In Powerful New Role

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prospect he will preside over Senate Democratic policy discussions appeared today to pave the way for Lyndon Baines Johnson to play a powerful political role in the new Congress.

Johnson, who resigned as a Texas senator Tuesday, passed along his majority leadership to Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana. Johnson will become vice president Jan. 20.

Elected to the leadership post, Mansfield promptly startled the Democratic senators by announcing he will invite Johnson at times to preside over both Democratic caucuses and policy committee meetings.

Vice presidents, members of the executive branch, ordinarily don't sit in on such sessions. Vice President Richard M. Nixon rarely attended Senate Republican policy committee meetings and then only on special invitation. He never presided.

An hour and a half of uproar in the closed door Democratic caucus ended in a 46-17 vote in support of Mansfield's proposal. But it left the action open to a variety of interpretations.

Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., said "the decision means that Sen. Johnson will continue as majority leader of the Senate."

Johnson did not comment publicly on the conference action. He has told friends he wants to participate as fully as possible in Democratic matters but has no intention of infringing on Mansfield's authority as majority leader.

Johnson regards the invitation to preside over meetings as a gracious gesture to an incoming vice president of the same party.

Johnson told his colleagues at the caucus session that he didn't want to go on as majority leader until Jan. 20, as he could have.

He said Mansfield will confront "a totally new set of problems" and urged cooperation with the new leader.

Mansfield said the action was an honor for Johnson and recognition of past services. He noted Johnson won't have a vote in the meetings.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Mansfield's new assistant leader, said there was precedent for the action. He said the late Vice President Alben Barkley had presided over similar sessions. Other senators said Barkley sat in on some meetings but never took the gavel.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., who voted against the proposal, said he thinks Johnson's influence on party policy will be the same, whether he presides or doesn't.

"But to preside gives the appearance of power," he said, "and after all, the appearance of power is about all we have left in the Senate.

Publisher Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Samuel Levitas, 66, executive editor of the New Leader Magazine, a liberal, anti-Communist publication, died Tuesday. Levitas was born in Kiev, Russia, and came to the United States as a young man. He went back to Russia in 1917 but returned in 1923 after being imprisoned by both White Russians and Communists. He had been with the New Leader since 1930.

Dawson SCS District Lists Major Problems

LAMESA (SC) — Four major problems, including attitude and understanding of people, were listed in an annual report of the Dawson County Soil Conservation District supervisors released here recently. The report also listed district improvements, a financial statement and a resume of progress made during 1960.

The report indicated that many of the district farmers and ranchers are not willing to carry out a complete soil conservation job although they will readily admit to the resultant benefits. On the whole, however, the report indicated many are doing an excellent job.

Due to many absentee-land owners, application of conservation practices is often slowed down in the area and financial condition of some of the farmers keep them from applying needed work. Lack of funds was also cited as an area difficulty.

Some of the best results from soil conservation included:

Spraying of Shinoak on the Tom and M. S. Estes ranch has doubled and tripled the production of desired forage. It also decreased the death losses due to these plants from 20 to 30 per cent.

Planting and harvesting alfalfa on the W. E. Davis farm has provided a good cash crop and improved the soil.

The 177 acres of Blackwell switchgrass on the Victor McGee farm has provided adequate cover for the protection of land from wind erosion.

Elwyn Scitern planted 15 acres of Blackwell switchgrass and it is up to a good stand. He has also over-seeded his feed land with Austrian winter peas for soil improvement.

Current assets of the district were listed at $7,155; fixed assets were $1,637 and liabilities were listed at zero. Net worth of the Dawson unit was $8,792.

SPECTACULAR FIRE

McALLEN, Tex. (AP)—A spectacular fire which attracted thousands of spectators Tuesday destroyed the Tom-O-Tex Corporation packing shed.

Police Seeking Killer Of Model

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Police today pressed a manhunt for a Negro who slashed to death a pretty young modeling student in her bedroom.

Donna Trussell, a cousin of 1960 Miss America Lynda Lee Mead, was slain just a few hours before she was to return to New York, where she was trying to launch an acting career. It was her 18th birthday.

Another cousin stumbled on the slaying Tuesday and fled in terror. Police later found Miss Trussell's nude body in her bedroom.

Her father said it "looked like a slaughterhouse.

The coroner's office said the girl died from multiple stab wounds of the chest, throat and abdomen.

Capt. Myron Weysham, homicide division chief, said the killer probably was scratched on the face or neck and cut on the right thumb.

Police questioned three Negroes picked up near the scene.

Lynn Bulliard, 25, cousin of Miss Trussell, said she dropped by to wish her a happy birthday and saw her struggling with a Negro.

She said she was no more than 10 feet from the death struggle. A TV set was knocked down and a heater pulled from the wall.

"Part of her clothes were off and she was lying on the floor," Miss Bulliard said. "I didn't know what to do. I don't think he even saw me there was so much noise. I ran down the stairs and out to Allen."

Allen Rothbart of New York had accompanied Miss Bulliard and waited outside. He said he saw the assailant flee on a bicycle, carrying a bundle of clothing under his arm.

Warm Trend In Cold Areas

By The Associated Press

Freezing weather prevailed in the major part of the country today but a warming trend was indicated over most of the chilled areas.

Below zero temperatures were reported in only a few spots outside the mountain areas as the warmer air spread into the Rocky Mountain region and headed eastward.

The mercury dropped to only 11 above in International Falls, Minn., after a couple of mornings of 30 below readings. At Fraser, in the Colorado Rockies, the low was -19 but in Madison, Wis., the mercury climbed from -4 to 5 above during the early morning. Some areas in Montana reported above freezing marks.

The below freezing band covered all sections except the extreme southern part of the country, along the Pacific and along the Atlantic Coast as far north as Virginia.

Light snow and snow flurries fell during the night and morning in the Great Lakes region, eastern parts of the Ohio Valley and the northern Appalachians. Snow squalls hit western and central New York, with heavy falls in some areas. Six inches was reported in Hamburg, a village south of Buffalo, which reported three inches. A heavy blanket covered a 30-mile stretch from Depew, near Buffalo, to Leroy, cutting the speed on the New York Thruway from the normal 60 to 35 m.p.h.

Mobile Orders Sunday Closings

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Starting next Sunday, the Mobile County grand jury has ordered arrest of any business man who violates the states Sunday closing law.

The law exempts drugstores, service stations, delicatessens and some other businesses. Some grocers have said this was not fair in view of the wide variety of exempt businesses. The grocers said they plan to remain open as long as such businesses do.

Hollywood Marriages Get Off To Usual Bad Start

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood marriages, seldom ranked alongside Gibraltar as symbols of durability, will be about as turbulent as ever in 1961, if events of the new year are any indication.

Tuesday alone, three well known entertainment figures were involved in divorce actions.

Actress Joan Fontaine divorced film producer Collier Young after testifying "he drank a very great deal, was not warm or affectionate or attentive."

Miss Fontaine, 43, and Young, 52, married in 1952. Both had been married twice previously—she to actor Brian Aherne and producer William Dozier, and Young to actresses Valerie Young and Ida Lupino.

Singer Margaret Whiting, 35, separated for a year from John Richard Moore, sued him for divorce in Santa Monica. Moore, 34, executive of a motion picture equipment company, is charged with cruelty. The couple married in 1958.

Also in Santa Monica, singer Mel (the Velvet Fog) Torme's wife filed a cross-complaint to his petition for annulment or divorce. Phyllis Arlene Torme, 30, a former model, married the 35-year-old singer four years ago.

Torme, in his annulment petition, said his divorce from a previous wife, actress Candy Toxton, was invalid when he married Phyllis. He said Phyllis and another woman hit him on the head when he went home last week to pick up some personal effects. He asked that she be restrained from molesting him, and she asked the same thing in her complaint.

Big Spring Truck Driver Is Selected 'Knight Of Road'

A Big Spring truck driver, M. O. (Jack) Griffith, has been selected as the most representative Hobbs Knight of the Road for Region Four of the Department of Public Safety, with headquarters in Midland.

Announcement of the selection was made Wednesday by Capt. C. W. Bell, Midland, head of the License and Weight Service for the 49-county Region Four.

Each year, one professional truck driver, who has performed an outstanding act of courtesy or assistance to the public on the highways, is chosen from each of the six DPS regions in the state.

The six are honored with a banquet in Austin, sponsored jointly by the Department of Public Safety, the Texas Safety Association and Hobbs Trailers, Inc., to be held on Feb. 10. One of the six is chosen as the state's outstanding Knight of the Road.

Griffith, a driver for the Eagle Transport Co., Big Spring, was selected to represent the region for assistance at a traffic collision Aug. 8 about 17 miles north of Sterling City on U.S. 87.

Griffith, who was driving a truck tractor and tank semi-trailer, was among the first persons to arrive at the scene of a head-on collision.

Visibility at the time had been limited by a rain storm, and a car driven by Mrs. Thelma Ruff, San Antonio, was involved in a collision with another vehicle at a curve in the road.

Mrs. Ruff was accompanied by her five-year-old twin children, Janice and James. When Griffith arrived at the scene, he saw that the two wrecked vehicles were blocking the roadway, with the possibility of other vehicles plowing into the wreckage.

LIGHTS FLASHING

Authorities said Griffith parked his truck on the grade with signal lights flashing, thus in a position to alert approaching vehicles of the hazard. Griffith discovered one of the children already had died of injuries suffered in the mishap and that the mother and other child were injured seriously.

The mother and dead child were taken to a Sterling City Hospital, but Griffith remained with the other child, still in the wreckage, to prevent bystanders from moving the youngster. He administered first aid.

Griffith then assisted in the removal of the child—who received a compound fracture of the leg and severe abdominal and head injuries—from the wreckage when an ambulance arrived, so as not to cause further injury. The DPS reports that Griffith remained at the scene and directed traffic until another victim could be removed and the wreckage cleared from the highway.

Capt. Bell, in his recommendation of Griffith for the Regional Award to Col. Joe S. Fletcher, assistant director of the DPS in Austin, pointed out:

"Patrolmen who investigated the accident state that Griffith's 'take charge' action in posting persons at the scene to direct traffic probably averted other collisions. And his calmness in taking charge of administering first aid at the scene possibly saved one child's life and almost surely prevented further injury."

HERE SINCE 1950

Griffith, who resides at 1403 Wood, is married and has five children—Mrs. Ikie Rupard and Dawn, Darwin and Janice Griffith, all of Big Spring. He has been a resident of Big Spring since 1950, moving from Sweetwater, and has driven in excess of 2,000,000 miles without a chargeable accident.

A deacon in the Northside Baptist Church, Griffith has been active in Scouting and other civic work. He has been a professional driver 25 years.

Sims To Speak To Local Lodge

O. L. Sims, San Angelo, who holds practically all Masonic honors, will be the speaker at the obligation night ceremonies at Masonic Lodge 1340 here Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Sims graduated from the University of Texas with a degree in civil engineering but joined his father in farming and ranching. He pioneered in use of heavy equipment in road building while a county commissioner in Concho County. He also served as judge of that county and put in time in the Texas House of Representatives and helped draft the act creating the Texas Highway Commission. He also was one of the founders of the Texas Good Roads Association.

He is twice pastmaster of the Paint Rock Lodge No. 613, twice past patron of OES chapter there, thrice district deputy grand master; a member of chapter, council and commandery of the York Rite Masonry. He is a charter member of Suez Temple at San Angelo, received the 32nd degree of the Scottish Rite at Dallas, was decorated with rank of Knight Commander by the Dallas bodies and was rated a 33rd degree Mason in Washington, D.C. last year.

Three Wrecks Are Reported

Three wrecks, involving five automobiles and a utility pole, were investigated by police Tuesday. Only one person was injured.

The first occurred around 2 p.m. at 2nd and Scurry when a car driven by Betty H. Trantham, 906 Scurry, was in collision with another driven by Walter Goodwin, Old Highway 80. There were no injuries reported. The second was at 3:50 p.m. in the 900 block of W. 3rd involving cars driven by Linda Childress of Sterling City, and John Edward Nutt, Big Spring.

Marvin T. Erhardt, 401 Washington, struck a utility pole at 8th and Caylor Drive shortly after 8 p.m. He was taken to a local hospital in a private car where he was treated for cuts and abrasions, police said.

Thefts Reported

Two thefts were investigated by police in the past 24 hours, one a "500" Brownie movie camera, and the other a 17-inch G. E. television set, with antenna. James Jay, 602 W. 4th, reported the movie camera stolen, but had no idea when it was taken. Jerry Fuqua, 200 Wright, said he went for a ride about 9 p.m. Monday, and when he returned home at 10:30 p.m., the TV set was gone. Police had no leads on the two thefts Wednesday morning.

Fails To Appear For Habeas Corpus Hearing Today

Mamie Lee Foster failed to appear Tuesday for her habeas corpus proceedings in 118th District Court, and Judge Ralph W. Caton entered judgment nisi for forfeiture of the bond Thursday.

She had been held under a complaint which her attorney, George T. Thomas, charged was not properly executed. Following filing of the petition for a writ of habeas corpus, bond of $1,000 was posted. She must appear at the next term of court to show cause why the bond should not be forfeited.

Under a rule of law which dates back to the writing of the Texas Constitution, Sheriff Miller Harris was obliged to call Mamie Lee Foster's name to the four winds, instructing her to come into court. When she did not appear, the judgment of bond forfeiture was entered. The court did not rule on the habeas corpus petition since there was nothing to be heard.

Funeral Pends For Mrs. Fletcher

Mrs. W. M. Fletcher, 87, sister of DeWitt Davis and Sid Davis, died early Wednesday in Mineral Wells. She had been an invalid for the past two years.

Mrs. Fletcher was the widow of the late W. M. Fletcher, who served as county commissioner from precinct No. 4. They made their home in the Center Point community.

Besides the two brothers here, she leaves three sisters, Mrs. J. M. Montgomery and Mrs. J. C. Caldwell, Rotan, and Mrs. Kate Hines, Mineral Wells. Several nephews and nieces here also survive. Arrangements are pending.

CRIME

Club on the Beaumont-Port Arthur highway.

In Port Arthur, he said, the places were Jones' Sports Returns and the Keyhole Club.

The agent named five hotels in Port Arthur where he said he saw prostitutes and viewed mixed drinks sold.

He named them as the Villa, Midship, New Ace and Pilot Hotels and the Green House.

David Witts of Dallas, attorney for the committee, said the committee hoped to investigate Friday whether protection and payoffs occurred. Tomorrow's testimony will center on how vice affects the communities.

A minor disruption occurred as witnesses were sworn in. An attorney for four said they would not take the oath unless he were allowed to represent them. Later, the committee said the attorney could be present, and the four men were sworn.

NO NAME

Witts refused to identify the intelligence agent by name.

Witts banned pictures and pleaded with reporters not even to describe the witness, lest his usefulness as an undercover agent be broken.

One of the men refusing to be sworn was the district supervisor of the Texas Liquor Control Board, El Roy Mauldin Jr.

Approximately 40 witnesses appeared in the hearing room as the committee called for all to be sworn in a mass ceremony.

But attorney Quentin Keith, representing four witnesses, including Mauldin, interrupted to say his quartet would not be sworn until the committee agreed for them to have his counsel while testifying.

Keith, in addition to representing Mauldin, also is attorney for N. H. Helms, Paul K. Collette and Eugene De Frates.

Eight persons subpoenaed by the committee have not been found.

BREAKDOWN

In advance of the hearing, the committee chairman, Rep. M. J. Murray of Harlingen, said a breakdown in local law enforcement has occurred in Southeast Texas.

Known to have received subpoenas were Judge Owen M. Lord, who presides over the only criminal district court in Jefferson County; Dist. Atty. Ramie H. Griffin and Constable Reagan Baker, whose precinct embraces all of Beaumont.

Committee spokesmen said state agents had been unable to find Sheriff C. H. Meyer to serve a summons but he presumably would turn up before the hearing ends. Meyer is one of nearly 20 public officials who already have appeared voluntarily for questioning at closed sessions of the lawmakers.

FINANCIAL RECORDS

The House group called on each to produce records of his tax payments and other financial dealings for the past five years.

This new probe parallels one conducted by the same legislative group hundreds of miles across the state last March at Amarillo, in the Texas Panhandle. In testimony there the committee heard a sordid recital of murder threats, gambling payoffs, prostitute recruiting and other unsavory tie-ups between public officials and known criminals.

As a result of the hearing last spring, a county judge resigned his office and a grand jury indicted half a dozen men on assorted criminal charges.

In Beaumont, the House committee disclosed undercover state agents had been quietly gathering evidence after Texas Rangers staged Dec. 3 gambling raids on seven clubs—one a plush establishment on the Baeumont-Port Arthur highway and six in downtown Beaumont. These led to felony gaming or bookmaking charges against 21 men, now free under bond to await grand jury action. Two dozen others netted in the raids paid misdemeanor gambling fines.

Rep. Tom James of Dallas said the crusading legislative group, of which he is vice chairman, figures illegal gambling and bookmaking alone gross $2½ to $3 million a year in this vicinity. He asserted all forms of vice appeared to flourish under "virtual immunity from prosecution" in this petrochemical industry and merchant shipping center.

233 Diphtheria Cases During Year

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Health Department said today 233 cases of diphtheria were reported to it by local physicians in 1960, making it the worst year for the disease since 1955, when 260 cases were reported.

The total was swelled by the 64 cases reported in December from Hale County, in which Plainview suffered a siege of the disease in epidemic proportion.

No other county reported a greater than usual number of cases last month. The December state total was 104 cases. Some 60 cases were reported during the last week in December.

The five year median is 163 cases per year.

Meeting at the College Heights School, the pack studied and discussed the South American countries, their theme for this month, according to Mrs. C. O. Trantham, Den mother.

Jack Flies To N. Y. To Confer On Cuba

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy flies to New York today to confer with his defense chief, Robert S. McNamara, against the critical background of broken Cuban-U.S. relations.

Plans for the Kennedy meeting with the secretary of defense-designate were announced in advance of the Eisenhower administration's severing of diplomatic relations with the Fidel Castro regime. But that development Tuesday night seems almost certain to get prime attention.

The session also appears likely to deal in part with the tense situation in Communist-threatened Laos.

Kennedy, who during the campaign was critical of Republican handling of the Cuban problem, had no comment on President Eisenhower's order ending relations. The President-elect's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said Kennedy was informed of the decision in advance.

Kennedy got the word from the man who will be his secretary of state, Dean Rusk. Rusk has been maintaining close liaison with the State Department on both the Cuban and the Laotian situations.

An aspect of the Cuban crisis likely to concern Kennedy and McNamara is the future of the big and strategically important American naval base at Guantanamo in Cuba. In Washington Tuesday night, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty declined to answer questions about the base.

In the campaign last year, Kennedy called at one point for a U.S. pledge of aid to anti-Castro forces, within and outside of Cuba. Republicans assailed this as dangerous and irresponsible. Kennedy said he had not meant intervention, only moral support.

The President - elect, ending a Palm Beach stay which began Dec. 16, arranged a mid-afternoon departure aboard a regularly scheduled commercial airline jet.

In advance of the trip north, Kennedy filled two more Defense Department positions.

He announced today the appointment of Cyrus Roberts Vance as the department's general counsel. Vance 43, a Democrat, is a New York lawyer who served in 1957-60 as special counsel to a Senate Preparedness Investigating subcommittee which looked into the satellite and missile programs and held hearings on the defense and space programs generally.

Vance also was consulting counsel to the special Senate Committee which helped draft the National Space Act in 1958.

Area Showmen Win In Odessa

Horse show events were the scheduled features Wednesday at the Odessa annual Sand Hills Hereford and Quarter Horse Show and Rodeo. Judging of registered Quarter Horse stallions began at 8 a.m., and senior registered cutting events started at 1 p.m., with world champion animals entered in the events.

The world's championship rodeo continues at 8 p.m. each night, with final prize money to be distributed at the close of the show Saturday night.

L. F. Hodges, rancher of Sterling City, who has been taking sheep to the Odessa show since it started, took top honors in the registered Rambouillet sheep judging Monday afternoon. His ewes took both championship and reserve championship ratings. Hodges' son, Clinton, and the Sterling City vocational teacher, Fred Igo, showed the champion ewes.

Hodges also took first with his exhibitor's flock, second with his entries in the sire events, and his son, Clinton, took first with his producer's pen. Beside the champion and reserve, he took first with a ewe lamb and third with a ram lamb.

In the club division fat lamb show, H. K. Elrod, Howard County FFA, won third. More than 100 entries were competing in this part of the show.

Magill Faces Second Charge

A second charge of robbery has been filed against Robert Magill in connection with the hijacking of Vicky's Liquor Store here Friday evening.

Previously Justice of Peace Jess Slaughter had set $20,000 bond on a charge of robbery by firearms, and Magill is still in Howard County jail in lieu of that figure. The new count charges him with robbery by assault on Ben Long.

Andrews Officers Pick Up Creel

Virgil L. Creel, under indictment here on a charge of passing a worthless check, was released Wednesday to Andrews County authorities.

Judge Ralph W. Caton set his bond at $1,500 Tuesday on the bill of indictment returned in the October term. He had been charg with passing a worthless check in excess of $50 to the Christensen's Boot Shop. He had been unable to post the bond here when Andrews sheriff's officers took him in custody.

Mrs. Thomas Hosts Zinn Circle

Members of the Mary Zinn Circle of First Methodist Church met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Clyde Thomas Sr., with Mrs. Ella Wade as cohostess.

Mrs. W. A. Laswell gave the program on "Heritage and Horizon in Home Missions." Also on the program were Mrs. W. A. Miller and Mrs. H. H. Stephens who developed their subject, "Looking Backward - Think Forward," by a skit in the form of a television broadcast. They portrayed the characters of Mrs. Long Year and Mrs. New Comer.

Mrs. Miller led the prayer and Mrs. C. E. Shive read the scripture, Psalm 16.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, from a table covered by a linen cloth with lace inserts and centered with a crystal bowl holding poinsettias.

Eleven members attended.

Fight Reported

A fight apparently took place at the Ace of Clubs, West Highway 80, Tuesday night, and a man was treated for cuts and abrasions about the head at the Howard County Hospital Foundation. Police said no charges were filed by the man.

Damage Suit Asks $110,000

Damages aggregating $110,000 were asked in a suit filed in 118th District Court today.

Doris Ann Beam filed the claim against William Lewis Brown Jr. in connection with a collision on US 80 on Aug. 11, 1960. Plaintiff, suing individually and as next best friend for Doris Beam, alleges that her daughter, a passenger in a car driven by John T. Winters, was injured when their car was rammed from the rear by one driven by Brown. She asked $35,000 in damages and $75,000 in loss of earning power.

Rocky Asks More Spending

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller called today for increased state spending that would send his budget toward a record $2.5 billion, largely because of added funds for education, highways and the aged.

The Republican governor recommended that the GOP-controlled legislature grant a 10 per cent refund in personal income taxes levied by the state.

Rockefeller, who will seek re-election in 1962, made his recommendations in his annual message to the opening session of the New York Legislature.

Rockefeller raised income taxes after taking office in 1959 and instituted a payroll withholding system.

The revenue from income taxes for fiscal 1960-61 is expected to total more than $900 million, compared with $565 million in 1958-59. The refund the governor proposed today would total $90 million.

The governor's plans include:

A $100-million program to combat unemployment by attracting new industry to hard-hit areas; a $40-million increase in medical care for the aged; a major boost in highway and other public-works projects; and more scholarships for high school graduates.

Girl Scouts Name Officers

Girl Scout Troop 340 appointed new officers at their regular meeting Tuesday evening, according to Mrs. Lee Burklow, Troop leader.

Officers elected include: Betty Jordan, president Ronda Holland, vice president, Nancy McEvers, secretary, Ann Pope, treasurer and Vicki Cofer, reporter.

The girls plan to prepare a meal for the entire troop at their next regular meeting and all members are urged to attend.

Robbery Attempt Lodged On Awtry

Charges of attempted armed robbery were lodged with Justice of Peace Jess Slaughter against Jackie Ernest Awtry on Wednesday.

The complaint was signed by Jack Jones, city policeman, and alleged that the defendant had attempted an armed robbery on Delbert North on Jan. 1.

Witnesses Claim Airliners Tried No Evasive Movements

NEW YORK (AP) — A Civil Aeronautics Board inquiry was told today that seven witnesses reported seeing the collision of a United Air Lines jet and a Trans World Airlines Super Constellation here on Dec. 16 and that neither plane appeared to be taking evasive action.

A report was read by George R. Baker, CAB air safety investigator, at the start of a CAB hearing into the plane collision over Staten Island that killed all 128 persons aboard the two planes and eight on the ground.

Baker's report summarized interviews with 125 persons. The witnesses said both aircraft appeared to be in low-level flight and most of them reported that the UAL plane appeared to contact the right side of the TWA ship.

"The DC8 then appeared to continue straight on with no change of direction," the report added.

Except for the few witnesses who saw the two planes prior to the collision, the report said, most of them were attracted to the scene by the noise of the impact.

The report said most witnesses described the collision sound as being similar to that of a "jet breaking the sound barrier" and some said it was a grinding or crunching sound.

The report said that the Constellation "pitched up and the tail came off" following the collision and fire was seen to engulf the fuselage around the wing section.

Most witnesses agreed that there was no explosion.

Baker's report was described as having been gathered by CAB investigators and also by officials of the two airlines involved in the crash, all of whom acted jointly.

The CAB has said the inquiry, being held in a ballroom of a Brooklyn hotel, will be "one of the biggest ever." Scores of witnesses are on call.

Not one crew member, not one passenger survived the fiery crash. The jet was headed for Idlewild Airport from Chicago; the Super-Constellation was bound for La Guardia Field from Dayton and Columbus, Ohio.

The propeller plane crashed in Staten Island. No one besides its occupants was killed. The jet plunged into downtown Brooklyn about a mile and a half from the scene of the inquiry. Eight persons were killed and many others injured on the ground.

E. R. Quesada, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, has maintained that the people who manage air traffic patterns do not let the New York area's flying space get "inherently dangerous." In that case, then by what deadly combination of circumstances did the two planes collide when they were scheduled to stay miles apart?

Was it a failure of equipment, of a single man, of several men, or want of clear-cut rules governing approach speeds and circling style?

Investigators re-flew the jet's approach three times last week for hints, aided by readings from an automatic flight recorder taken from the wrecked plane. The readings are expected to be made public at the hearing, along with the findings of a score of teams of crash sleuths.

The city's radio station, WNYC, plans to broadcast the entire hearing, and other radio and television stations will cover highlights of the proceedings.

Council Makes Appointments

LAMESA (SC)—Reappointment of members to the county airport board and city health office were approved along with Pioneer Natural Gas company's petition for a rate increase by City Council here Monday.

The gas hike was okayed on third and final reading, but will not become effective until March 1 or after. Dr. Douglas B. Black was named to serve one more year as the city health officer and Ben Allen was reappointed to the airport board for a two-year term.

The city attorney was authorized to discuss with claimants, or attornies, two claims for $99 and $50,524 which resulted in similar accidents on Dec. 16 and 17, 1960. Both individuals alleged damages when their vehicles struck a manhole cover in the south section of the city.

Installation of 20 street lights and a replat of the Travis Street addition were also authorized by the council. The group called for bids for cleaning and painting of three elevated water storage tanks.

DEAR ABBY

FEATHERS?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to a good-looking truck driver for ten years. I am not the suspicious type, but listen to this: The other night he came off the road with two long scratches on his left hip. They were fairly deep scratches, yet neither his shorts nor trousers were ripped.

When I asked him how it happened, he said it was probably from a feather in the bed. Now, Abby, I love my husband and I am not looking for any trouble, but do they still have feather beds in modern motels? And could anyone get scratched like this from a feather?

NOT STUPID

DEAR NOT: It's unlikely that the scratches came from a feather. It was probably the whole chick. Keep your eyes open.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: What do you tell your friends and relatives when they ask you what your husband gave you for your 10th wedding anniversary? He's not the thoughtful type, but he's a swell guy.

OVERLOOKED

DEAR OVERLOOKED: Tell them he gave you ten wonderful years.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am the most heart-broken girl in the world. My mother gave away Snowball, my kitty, because she scratched my hand when I was putting a doll's diaper on her. It was an accident, I'm sure. Please, Abby, tell my mother I'll do anything to get Snowball back. When I was in school yesterday she gave him to the egg man to take to his farm.

WET PILLOW (I am 10)

DEAR WET PILLOW: I am appealing to your mother to please get Snowball back. But, honey, Snowball scratched you on purr-puss. Never try to put a diaper over a fur coat.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I would like to be an airline hostess. I have heard that one has to be a nurse first. I have also heard that one must be a certain height and weight and must remain unmarried. Is this true?

WANTS TO FLY

DEAR WANTS: Phone the local office of the airline for which you wish to fly. There you will learn where to write for the information you seek.

Clouds Move Across Texas

By The Associated Press

Cloudy weather started moving from the coastal area northward across Texas Wednesday as a slight warming trend began in the northern part of the state.

Skies were cloudy over South Central Texas and the Lower Rio Grande Valley and northwestward into the Midland-Big Spring areas. The U.S. Weather Bureau said the cloudiness would continue to move north and northwest during the day.

Light rains fell in the Lower Rio Grande Valley Tuesday. The heaviest reported rainfall was .29 inch at Brownsville.

Freezing temperatures before dawn extended as far south as Lufkin and Waco. Readings ranged from 14 degrees at Dalhart to 51 at Brownsville.

Maximum temperatures Tuesday afternoon ranged from 44 at Wink to 58 at Houston.

The forecasts called for increasing cloudiness over the state, slightly higher temperatures in the northern section and occasional light rain or drizzle in the extreme south portion of South Central Texas.

Toll Lowest Since 1953

CHICAGO (AP) — The New Year's weekend traffic accidents claimed 338 lives, but the toll was the lowest for a three-day New Year's holiday since 1953, when 317 traffic deaths were counted.

Fires claimed 66 lives from 6 p.m. last Friday to midnight Monday (local time), and miscellaneous accidents accounted for 78 more deaths, for an over-all accidental death toll of 482.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated 340 traffic fatalities for the extended weekend, said probably 14,000 more motorists and pedestrians suffered disabling injuries during the holiday period.

The record toll for a three-day New Year's holiday is 374, set last year. During the recent three-day Christmas holiday, 488 persons were killed in traffic accidents.

Court Begins '61 With New Chief Justice

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Supreme Court began its 1961 term today with one new member and a new chief justice.

Robert W. Calvert presided following swearing-in ceremonies Tuesday which elevated him to the court's highest post and which made Zollie Steakley a new associate justice.

Standing room only crowds in the court's new chamber first watched Calvert as he took the oath from retiring Chief Justice J. E. Hickman.

Then Calvert inducted Associate Justices Clyde Smith and Joe Greenhill for their new six-year terms. In another ceremony Tuesday afternoon, a jampacked audience watched Steakley take the oath of office.

Steakley, former secretary of state, was appointed by Gov. Price Daniel to the vacancy created when Calvert moved up by election as chief justice after serving as an associate for more than 10 years.

Actually, Steakley was the only new member coming to the court.

The order of the judges' seating was ceremoniously rearranged in accordance with the custom that places the senior member to the right of the chief justice. In this instance, Associate Justice Meade F. Griffin was the only member not to move, because of his seniority.

Large delegations from Hillsboro, Corsicana and Sweetwater attended the ceremonies. Calvert is a graduate of the State Orphans Home at Corsicana, practiced law and served as district attorney at Hillsboro. Steakley practiced law at Sweetwater.

Among those present also for Steakley's induction were Gov. and Mrs. Daniel. Daniel and Steakley are close personal and political friends.

Break Long In Coming But Many Saw It As Inevitable

By HAROLD K. MILKS

HAVANA (AP)—The break in diplomatic relations between the United States and Fidel Castro's Cuba was long in coming but many here for a long time believed it was inevitable.

Observers said it appeared the bearded revolutionary had no intention of getting along with Washington almost from the time he came out of the hills of eastern Cuba to take power two years ago.

Why Castro took this aggressive stand is disputed here. But a majority of foreign diplomats in Havana agree that the Castro regime never opened the way for normal diplomatic relations with the United States.

After he flew to the United States early in 1959, Castro is said to have expressed resentment to intimates over his failure to meet either President Eisenhower or Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. He expected Eisenhower and Herter to make overtures to him, telling his associates he could not seek such meetings himself and "still face my people."

Nearly a year after this visit, two American reporters were booted out of Cuba after reporting Castro had expressed willingness to meet Eisenhower or Herter in the interests of peace.

Castro said he could not have made this overture because it would have been misunderstood as a sign of weakness on his part. Veteran reporters interpreted this as a sign Castro wanted relations with the United States only on his own terms—if at all.

Castro's seizure of the billion-dollar American investment in Cuba was pushed vigorously, accompanied by violent propaganda blasts at American "monopolists" and "economic imperialism". Attempts by the U.S. government to discuss compensation were brushed aside or ignored.

U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal—a veteran career diplomat with a reputation for getting along with Latin American leaders—found himself completely stymied.

It took Bonsal months to arrange a meeting with Castro in an effort to smooth relations—and then nothing came of it.

When anti-Castro activity broke out in Havana, the rift in U.S.-Cuban relations grew into a wide breach.

For most of 1960 the United States and Cuba had diplomatic relations in name only.

Castro officials repeatedly disregarded normal diplomatic practices. Several American Embassy officials, normally given diplomatic immunity, were arrested.

Castro blamed the United States for the bad relations, charging Washington committed repeated aggression against Cuba and supported anti-Castro forces.

The United States said Castro was at fault, claiming he and his regime were engaging in an anti-American propaganda campaign that shamed the German experts of Hitler's day and were systematically driving American interests out of Cuba.

Repeatedly during the last 12 months, one crisis after another threatened a rupture of relations.

Longhorns Shaded By Lamesa, 62-31

LAMESA—The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes spanked the Big Spring Steers, 62-31, in a basketball game here Tuesday night, the second time this season coach O. W. Follis' charges have turned the trick.

The Tornadoes exactly doubled the Steers' score in each half.

The Tornadoes also doubled the Steers' point aggregate the first half, having led at that point 36-18. Coach Delnor Poss of Big Spring said his team hit less than 20 per cent of its shots from the field.

The defeat left Big Spring with a 9-9 won-lost record for the year. The Steers play one more game before they launch conference play, meeting Snyder in Snyder on Friday night.

Gene Westmoreland led Lamesa in scoring with 14 points. Two of his teammates also hit in double figures.

For Big Spring, Ross Reagan set the pace with 13 points while Dick Ebling had 11 for the Longhorns.

Lamesa had to go all out in the B game before winning, 31-29. In that one, the Dogies led at half time, 13-11.

Jeff Brown got hot for Big Spring, scoring 15 points.

Texas Tech Upsets Ponies, 70-68, In S'west Opener

By The Associated Press

Del Ray Mounts broke through a Southern Methodist stall to give Texas Tech an upset 70-68 triumph in opening the Southwest Conference championship race Tuesday night.

Texas A&M walloped Texas Christian 82-69 in the other game on the opening schedule.

The remaining four members of the league get going Wednesday night with favored Arkansas meeting defending champion Texas at Austin and Baylor clashing with Rice at Houston.

The Baylor-Rice game originally was scheduled for Tuesday night but was changed several weeks ago.

Tech's victory over SMU got the race off on the usual footing—the favored team seldom comes through. But the Methodists couldn't hold a 46-33 lead they built up in the first half. A six-minute period in which they couldn't buy a point allowed Tech to recoup.

The Mustangs were ahead by three points when they went into a stall. The irrepressible Mounts wouldn't go for that—he broke through for a layup to pull within a point and then looped in another field goal to put Tech ahead to stay.

Texas Tech Coach Polk Robinson credited a zone defense he put in in the last half to the Southern Methodist downfall. He said the zone was necessary to ease the pressure of 16 fouls picked up in the first 20 minutes.

Steve Strange of SMU led the point-makers with 25. Mounts was runner-up with 21.

Texas A&M was leading Texas Christian only 40-37 at the half but quickly pulled away and at one time led by 23. The Stanley twins—Pat and Don—combined defensive efforts to limit the Texas Christian scoring ace, Jerry Cobb, to nine points.

Carroll Broussard, meanwhile, was pitching in 29 for the Aggies. He also had 13 rebounds. Pat Stanley scored 20 points.

Tennessee St. Leads Small College Poll

By The Associated Press

Tennessee State, rolling up 11 straight victories after a season-opening loss, today was rated No. 1 among the nation's small college basketball teams in The Associated Press' first weekly poll.

With six members reporting among the AP's eight-man board of experts, representing each of the NCAA districts, Tennessee State drew three first place votes for a slight edge over unbeaten Hofstra (9-0) and a clear decision over unbeaten Mississippi Southern (9-0).

Tennessee State totaled 57 points on the basis of 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, and so on down to one point for 10th place. Hofstra, located at Hempstead, N.Y., received two first place votes and 53 points.

Mississippi Southern, winning 24 in a row over two seasons for the longest current streak among major or small teams, failed to receive a first place vote, but totaled 25 points for third place.

Tennessee State, a 79-77 loser to Jackson (Miss.) College in the season's first game; Hofstra and Evansville were the only clubs to draw first place votes. Evansville, the NCAA college division champion the past two years, has only a 4-7 record after playing several major teams, but was ranked No. 4 with 20 votes.

Prairie View (9-0) and Southern Illinois (7-3) tied for fifth in the voting, based on games through Monday, with Southwest Texas (9-2), Kentucky Wesleyan (5-4), Grambling (13-2) and Westminster, Pa., (7-1) filling out the top 10.

The leaders, with won-lost records through Jan. 2 and first place votes in parentheses (votes on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

1.	Tenn. State	(3) (11-1)	57
2.	Hofstra	(2) (9-0)	53
3.	Miss. Southern	(9-0)	25
4.	Evansville	(1) (4-7)	20
5.	Prairie View	(9-0)	19
6.	So. Illinois	(7-3)	19
7.	SW Texas	(9-2)	16
8.	Ky. Wesleyan	(5-4)	15
9.	Grambling	(13-2)	14
10.	Westminster, Pa.	(7-1)	12

Others receiving votes: Wittenberg, American U., Buffalo, Los Angeles State, Louisiana College, Kirksville, Belmont-Abbey, Mount St. Mary's, Norfolk William & Mary, Randolph-Macon, South Dakota State, Iowa Teachers, Maryland State, LeMoyne, Augsburg, Westminster, Utah, Lamar Tech, Youngstown.

Sands Cagers In Big Sweep

ACKERLY—Sands swept three basketball games from Dawson here Tuesday night.

In the feature attraction, the A boys turned back the visitors by a score of 50-32. Dan Shortes scored 12 points for the winners. In that one, the Mustangs led all the way.

Van Kountz' Sands girls also won, 51-15. Jeanette Ray scored 19 points for Sands while Brenda Woods followed with 14 and Wanda Carroll had 12. Florence Allen led Dawson with nine.

Sands led at the end of the opening period, 15-5, at half time, 29-9, and at the termination of Round Three, 40-13.

Sands also won the boys' B game, 31-21. Ronnie Gaskins counted ten points as the Sands leader while Goode had 11 for Dawson.

Four Sands teams, including two representing junior high, play Flower Grove here Thursday. The first game begins at 5 p.m.

Boys' game:

SANDS (50)—Menix 3-1-5; Wasson 2-0-4; Coleman 2-0-4; Hall 4-3-10; Bearden 3-2-8; Shortes 5-2-12; Fortune 1-4-6; Rasberry 1-0-2; Smith 0-0-0; Taylor 0-1-1; Kemp 0-0-0; Newsom 0-0-0. Totals 19-12-50.

Four Albany Boys Named

By The Associated Press

Albany showed why it won the Class A schoolboy football championship when the all-state team was picked by the Texas Sports Writers Association. Four Albany players made it.

Rocky Hill, the brilliant Albany end, was almost a unanimous choice, getting 73 of a possible 75 points. He was repeating on the all-state team.

T. G. Wilie, tackle; Bill Stapp, guard, and Johnny Agan, halfback, were the other Albany players landing on the selection.

Runner-up Crosby and semi-finalist Stinnett each got two spots on the 12-man team. John Ray Dillard of Crosby tied for an end post with Mainess Gibson of Stinnett. John White of Crosby made the center post and Donny Anderson of Stinnett got a backfield spot.

John Barfield of Rogers was placed at tackle, Clayton Downing of Lindale at guard and Russell Wayt of White Oak and Wesley Cummings of Crowell at backfield posts.

Arnette Honored As Top Athlete

DALLAS (AP) — Jay Arnette, who climaxed a great athletic career at the University of Texas with a trip to the Olympic Games, was named Amateur Athlete of the Year by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

Arnette, both a baseball and basketball star, got 367 points to win the honor with ease. He received 46 first place votes.

E. J. Holub, Texas Tech's great center in football, was second with 291 points and Bob Lilly, the All-America tackle from Texas Christian, was third with 249.

Humberto Barrera of Robstown, Texas' first boxer to make the Olympics team, got 223 points and Al Lawrence, University of Houston distance runner, polled 146.

There were writein votes for Joan Spillane, Spring Branch swimmer, and Tut Bartzen, captain of the U. S. Davis Cup team from Dallas.

Arnette played on the United States Olympics basketball team that didn't lose a game.

Hula Bowl Game Has The Stars

HONOLULU (AP)—Led by six All-America linemen, some of the nation's top collegiate football stars will clash here Sunday in the 15th annual Hula Bowl at Honolulu Stadium.

Joe Kuharich of Notre Dame coaches the East All-Stars and Jim Owens of the Rose Bowl champion Washington Huskies will handle the West.

This year's Hula Bowl has only collegiate stars. In the past, many professional players also competed.

Thirty-six universities and colleges are represented on the squads. Each line boasts three All-America players. On the East are guard Tom Brown of Minnesota, tackle Ken Rice of Auburn and end Mike Ditka of Pittsburgh. On the West are tackle Bob Lilly of Texas Christian, end Dan LaRose of Missouri and center Roy Mckasson of Washington.

The rosters included: Tackles Bob Lilly, TCU, and Jerry Mays, SMU; guards Monte Lee, Texas, and Rufus King, Rice; center Arvie Martin, TCU; and back Glynn Gregory, SMU.

A. Heyman Paces Duke To Top Nat'l Rating

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Art Heyman, one New Yorker who Frank McGuire couldn't nail, continues to drive Duke's Blue Devils to a solid national rating while establishing himself as one of the top sophomores of the new college basketball season.

A hero both on and off the court, the 19-year-old, 6-foot-5, 205-pound crew cut from Rockville, Centre, N.Y., fired 28 points and boosted his season's average to 23.4 Tuesday night as eighth-rated Duke whipped Navy 78-63 for its 10th victory in 11 games.

Seven of those 28 were game-breakers, reeled off in succession in the closing minutes by Heyman, who shunned bids from McGuire's North Carolina Tar Heels and (by family count) 48 other major schools to enroll at Duke after a whirlwind career at Long Island's Oceanside High School.

The 28 points represented a record for the new Greensboro, N.C., Coliseum and earned Heyman an award as the game's outstanding player.

Coincidentally, one of Heyman's Rockville Center neighbors—soph John Punger of North Carolina State—played a key role in Tuesday night's college activity that also saw Vanderbilt stretch its two-season win streak to 11, Virginia Tech establish itself as the team to beat in the West Virginia-dominated Southern Conference, and touted Georgia Tech right itself just in time for the start of the Southeastern Conference season.

Punger, who broke into North Carolina State's starting lineup last week, scored 25 points—19 in the first half—as the Wolfpack routed Virginia 94-71 in an Atlantic Coast Conference test. Vanderbilt, with an 80-57 romp over Sewanee; and 6-foot-6 Chris Smith fired 19 points and grabbed 26 rebounds as VPI made it 3-0 in Southern Conference doings, 73-63 over The Citadel. The Citadel earlier whipped West Virginia, which has monopolized the conference championships for years. In another Southern conference game, Jerry Smith's 24 points led Furman (8-2) over William and Mary 78-56.

Georgia Tech, runner-up to Auburn for the SEC title last year with most of its top team intact, squared its record at 5-5 with an 85-65 whipping of South Carolina behind a 27-point burst by Roger Kaiser.

In opening firing in the Southwest Conference race, Texas A&M got 29 points and 13 rebounds from Carroll Broussard in an 82-69 triumph over TCU; and Del Ray Mounts triggered Texas Tech from a 13-point deficit to a 70-68 upset of SMU, first Tech victory over the Mustangs in 13 years. Mounts had 21 points, 12 in the second half rally.

Temple (10-1) made it eight in a row, 101-69 over Scranton, behind Bruce Drysdale's 31 points, and Fred Moses had 31 points and Larry Jones 28 as Oklahoma City (7-4) thumped West Texas State 89-74.

Frank Burgess of Gonzaga, the Nation's No. 1 scorer with a 32-point average, managed only 17 in a 72-63 victory over Whitworth, and Houston, with Ted Luckenbill scoring 23, downed Lamar Tech 100-73.

Santa Clara (9-4) thrashed College of the Pacific 71-38 in a West Coast Athletic Conference game, and Stanford handed Fordham (3-6) its fourth straight loss on a West Coast jaunt, 59-44.

No Shortage Of Fish

Two Big Spring men, Ernest (Dutch) Holland, left, and Harold Broughton are shown with 50 white bass they caught in the waters of the North Concho Lake near San Angelo recently. The fish weighed from a pound and a half to four pounds each. The total catch came to 83 pounds.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Sports dialogue:

JACK DEMPSEY:

"The fight game's dead. It was already dying, but after this Washington thing (the investigation led by Sen. Kefauver), it's all washed up . . . That guy from Sweden (Ingemar Johansson) can't fight and this guy over here (Floyd Patterson) can't fight and there's nobody else that can fight . . . The commissions got boxing in this mess. They're nothing but a bunch of guys looking for a shot at some publicity. They're politicians or front men or hangers-on or just some guys that like to have a title. They never made a decision. They're afraid to. They don't run boxing. They don't know anything about it. That's why it's in the shape it's in and all these creeps are in it. The commissioners can't do anything about that because they've got no authority in the first place."

* * * *

"Has it occurred to anyone that our state high school champions the past season were the A, B, C and D of football? Albany won in A, Brownwood in AAA, Corpus Christi Miller in AAAA and Denver City in Class AA."

* * * *

JESSE OUTLAR, Atlanta writer:

"If Gene Autry isn't careful, Walter O'Malley will own Champion before negotiations between the new (Los Angeles) Angels and the Dodgers are completed."

* * * *

DAVE CAMPBELL, Waco scribe:

"You can hear reports that Jim Myers will raid the football staffs of UCLA and Tennessee to get the men he needs to fill the gaps on the Texas A&M football staff, caused by the recent resignations of Willie Zapalac and Matt Lair. Incidentally, it has been pretty well established that Myers and the Aggie athletic council, in recent contract discussions, were unable to come to an agreement. Jim would have liked to have had a two-year extension (he helped recruiting, he says) but the council refused to give anything that couldn't quickly be dissolved upon request of either party. Myers' contract has one more year to run."

* * * *

BOBBY DODD, coach at Georgia Tech:

"The handwriting may be on the wall for college football if it doesn't move quickly to satisfy the public's demands. When the day comes that we settle our integration problems in the South, that's when the professionals will come down here. It's the only thing holding them back now. When Atlanta gets a professional team and when Jacksonville gets one, that's when you and I will have to worry. As an example of the fans' interest, I refer you to the West Coast, UCLA played before 25,000 there one Saturday and the Los Angeles Rams played before 85,000 the next. The pro rules are tailored toward throwing the ball and producing exciting football. That's what the fans want to see. We have great passers in college but we find they can't play defense and we have to take them out. We have great field goal kickers but they have to kick at a target ten feet farther back than the pros do. Our ends have to be able to play both ways. The pros have fast halfbacks playing end on offense."

* * * *

BILLY PEARSON, the former jockey, who made a fortune on TV as an expert on art:

"The spill that changed my life produced a six-months hospital stretch. A fellow rider, the late Jackie Westrope, brought me an art book on quilts as a gag. Having nothing else to do, I devoured the art book. I got more along the same line. I developed a photographic mind on art. I could remember the names of obscure 16th century Italian artists . . . and their paintings."

SAYS A SCRIBE

Iowa Would Have Been Stronger

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Minnesota is the slowest team the Big Ten has sent to the Rose Bowl in the last 15 years, a Los Angeles sports columnist said today.

Another columnist said the Big Ten would have been better off if it had sent Iowa.

Mel Durslag of the Examiner had this comment on the Gophers' 17-7 loss to Washington: "Watching Minnesota clomp ponderously about the grass last Monday, you had trouble envisioning this group as the top-ranked collegiate team in America.

"Some of its backers insisted lamely that the Gophers at the start merely got left in their holes, but it's an immutable fact that even when they got to running they didn't show enough speed to catch a porcupine.

"Of all the Big Ten teams we have seen in the bowl the last 15 years, Minnesota is easily the slowest afoot. And if this club was able to take the measure this season of its Midwestern kin, you pause to worry about the future of the Big Ten."

Sports editor Paul Zimmerman of the Times wrote: "This department was castigated by Gopher grads for our temerity in suggesting the AAWU (Athletic Association of Western Universities) could do better in inviting the (Iowa) Hawkeyes — If they must turn to the Big Ten.

"After what happened in the Rose Bowl, it hardly can be denied that Iowa could have made a better game of it. For example, it was not until the final quarter that the Minnesotans completed a pass. That is, to their own man.

"All things considered, muchmaligned Western football came out of the bowl game smelling like a Rose. Washington's impressive win wasn't the only thing. Duke's victory in the Cotton Bowl, after (suffering) a sound thrashing by UCLA, 27 to 6, didn't hurt matters."

Cage Seminar Is Scheduled Today

Pete Cook, well known Big Spring basketball official, will conduct a seminar for coaches and officials at the YMCA, starting at 5 p.m. today.

Those planning to enter teams in any of the Y leagues, plus those individuals who will serve as arbiters in the leagues, have an open invitation to be in attendance.

THE NEEDLESS WAR

Bad-Tempered Nation In No Mood For Compromise

Editor's Note — Ordinarily in the United States, a political convention gives opposing factions a chance to blow off steam. Instead of this, the 1860 Democratic convention built up an unendurable pressure. In the second of four articles, a famous historian explains how this exception to the rule prepared the path to war.

By BRUCE CATTON
Written For The Associated Press

Compromise is an unpopular word. It seems to mean that you are rather wishy-washy—you don't have the courage of your convictions, you won't dig in your heels for a final stand.

But we do need to remember that compromise is what enables democracy to work. It enables us to face up to questions which, left to themselves, would become explosive.

In 1860 nobody tried to find a compromise over the slavery issue—nobody seemed willing even to talk over the possibility of a compromise—and there was no compromise.

The Democrats, holding their convention in Charleston, S.C., promptly got into a dog-fight that wrecked the party beyond repair.

Here was the party that offered the brightest hope for a solution, simply because it was the one truly national party at that time. It was strong in the North and the South alike; it embraced all shades of feeling in regard to slavery, and its leading candidate for the nomination, Sen. Stephen A. Douglas, of Illinois, was eagerly trying to find a middle-of-the-road approach.

STRANGE NOTION

Douglas had the strange notion that the country had important things to do and that it ought to get on with the job without wasting all of its energies in the argument over slavery; he said quite frankly that he himself did not care whether slavery was voted up or down, just as long as it was somehow disposed of.

That was exactly Sen. Douglas's problem. He wanted a compromise approach at a time when nobody wanted to compromise. He was in an old-fashioned political fight, involving nothing much loftier than a struggle for party control; but he was also caught up in the fact that too many people had taken extreme positions and refused to hear any talk of compromise. Consider what the senator from Illinois was up against.

Leaders from the cotton South wanted a flat declaration, in the party platform and from the lips of the candidate, in favor of the extreme pro-slavery position—slavery was untouchable, and the question of restraining or modifying the institution in any way must not even be discussed.

BROAD STATEMENT

Douglas and the Northern Democrats would accept nothing of the kind. They wanted a broad statement of the kind which ordinarily is dear to the politician's heart—something that would mean almost anything anyone wanted it to mean, on the ground that if this problem could just be sidetracked for a few years it would eventually come down to manageable proportions. Under pressure from Southern pro-slavery extremists, they were also under pressure from Northern anti-slavery extremists. Somewhere between the extremes, they believed, the coming election could be won.

Usually, in such a situation, a political convention blows off steam for a time and then works something out. This time that proved impossible; instead of blowing off steam, this convention built up an unendurable pressure—and, in the end, broke squarely in half. The Northern half of the party nominated Sen. Douglas, and the Southern half nominated John C. Breckinridge of Kentucky. It immediately became obvious that as a result the Republicans were going to win the election.

SINGLE PURPOSE

The Republicans guided themselves accordingly. Convening in Chicago, they did not bother with much debate. Declaring flatly that slavery was wrong and must eventually go, they nominated Abraham Lincoln and set out, with immense singleness of purpose, to pick up the victory which the Democrats had dropped in their laps.

Now another party took form—the Constitutional Union party, which wanted to preserve the Union and nominated John Bell of Tennessee, with a platform calling simply for reverence to the Constitution and the federal union—a creed to which almost anybody could subscribe. And then the campaign got under way.

The campaign shed no light whatever, because nobody wanted to talk about the one shattering issue.

NO SPEECHES

Lincoln refused to make any speeches at all, on the ground that his position already was clear. Bell upheld the Constitution and expressed the hope that brothers would not quarrel. Breckinridge defied anyone to show that he had ever said one word against the Union and then lapsed into a silence as all-embracing as Lincoln's. Sen. Douglas did try to make a debate out of it; he made many speeches, the substance of them being that it would be absurd to break up the Union when there was more important work to do. Apparently nobody paid much attention.

In any case, neither the political conventions nor the campaign brought any real discussion of the underlying issue. There were many speeches and editorials, most of them consisting simply of denunciations of the opposition. Political marching clubs were formed, to parade and cheer and make music. Nowhere in the record of that 1860 campaign can you find any real effort by anybody to bring the terrible problem out into the open and explore the possibilities of a settlement.

The Southern extremists said that if the anti-slavery crowd won the election the Southern states would secede; the Northern extremists said that this was nonsense—just empty talk raised for political effect. Lincoln kept silent. The Constitutional Union party deplored all of the angry talk, and Sen. Douglas—the only candidate who really got on the stump and tried to make a campaign of it—found that in the North he was running against Lincoln, and in the South against Breckinridge.

In the end, of course, Lincoln was elected, with a solid electoral majority and a solid minority of the popular vote. But the trouble now was that this election, with everything that had gone before, had simply brought things to a head instead of providing a solution for anything.

Judge Delays Murder Trial

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Judge J. W. Summers Tuesday postponed the murder trial of Dennis Woodbury and Joan Franklin, charged in the narcotics robbery-slaying of a Tyler druggist, until next March. The defense asked for the continuance.

Woodbury, 27, a San Antonio ex-convict, and the Franklin woman, 28, are charged in the death of W. S. Carpenter, 42, of Tyler. His bullet-riddled body was found in a clump of bushes near Lufkin in early November of last year. They are held without bond in the Angelina County jail.

Paper Calls Ike Liar Over Laos

MOSCOW (AP)—Izvestia represented the Eisenhower administration Tuesday night as deliberately lying about Communist intervention in Laos.

The government newspaper said word that Communist forces had invaded Laos was a Washington invention "so false and clumsy that America's allies, especially Britain, refuse to support it."

AUSTIN (AP)—K. K. Woodley is the new presiding judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

He was named by members of the state's highest court in criminal matters Tuesday, succeeding Judge W. A. Morrison.

Judge W. T. McDonald of Bryan becomes a new member of the court today. He was elected to the post succeeding Judge Lloyd W. Davidson, and took the oath of office Monday.

The Court of Criminal Appeals names its own presiding judge. By contrast, the chief justice of the State Supreme Court is elected by the people of the state.

Petrochemical Complex Is Planned By Monsanto

HOUSTON (AP)—A huge petrochemical complex that will include, one of the world's largest ethylene plants will be built by the Monsanto Chemical Co. on a 3,000-acre site on Chocolate Bayou near Alvin, Tex.

Charles H. Sommer, president of Monsanto, said Tuesday the plant will employ 400 persons with an annual payroll of $3 million. He declined to say how much the plant will cost, but petrochemical experts in Houston estimated the construction cost at $80 million to $100 million.

Sommer said the plant will be started by early summer and finished in 1962.

He said the Brazoria County plant will be capable of making 500 million pounds of ethylene a year. Ethylene is used to make plastics and synthetic rubber. Polyethylene, one of the best known plastics, is used in packaging and making squeeze bottles.

Most of the plant's output will be used by other operating units of Monsanto, Sommer said. Monsanto already has a large plant at Texas City, about 25 miles away.

Kennedy Is Leading Newsmaker Of 1960

The Newsmaker of the year selections are made in strict accordance with the ballots returning by the 3,800 radio and newspaper members of The Associated Press. News editors are asked annually to vote on the "top news personalities" of the year. Votes do not necessarily mean support or approval of the winners' policies or actions. The ballot does identify the men who made the news of 1960 in their respective fields.

By CHARLES STAFFORD
AP Newsfeatures Writer

John Fitzgerald Kennedy has won again.

News editors of Associated Press member newspapers and radio and television stations across the nation have chosen the youngest President-elect in the nation's history as "Newsmaker of 1960."

WERNHER VON BRAUN

GEORGE ROMNEY

ALLEN DRURY

His election in the poll was by a much wider margin than in the presidential balloting.

Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet prime minister who made plenty of headlines of another sort, came in second in the editors' judgment.

Newsmen chased in the wake of the tousled senator from Massachusetts almost from the moment the year began as he fought against odds for the presidency.

The trail took them into the hills of heavily-Protestant West Virginia where Roman Catholic Kennedy won an impressive primary election victory over Sen. Hubert Humphrey. It took them to Los Angeles where he gained the Democratic nomination over the opposition of prominent leaders in his own party, including ex-President Harry Truman and the man who became his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

It took them backstage as he argued campaign issues with his opponent, Vice President Richard Nixon, in the historic television debates. It took them, in fact, into most of the 50 states in one of the most widely-traveled campaigns of all time.

Kennedy's victory, in its closeness one of the most exciting in the nation's history, sent to the White House the youngest elected President in history and the first Roman Catholic.

Khrushchev, the unpredictable Russian premier and last year's top newsmaker, had to settle this year for first place in the foreign affairs category.

And, indeed, Khrushchev had a busy year: promoting a summit conference, getting it, and then breaking it up before it got started in his anger over the American U-2 spy plane incident. He broke into headlines again with his visit to the United Nations General Assembly meeting where he (1) groused bitterly over his confinement to New York City, (2) proposed anew his old disarmament plan, (3) demanded reorganization of the United Nations, and (4) pounded his desk with his shoe in protest during a speech by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Other winners in the Associated Press survey of its 3,800 newspaper, radio and television members were: Religion, Pope John XXIII; business and industry, George Romney; science, Wernher Von Braun; labor, James Hoffa; literature, Allen Drury; entertainment, the late Clark Gable, and sports, Floyd Patterson.

Pope John won the religion category for the third straight year, but it was a rather narrow victory over evangelist Billy Graham. The Pope made headlines with his early December meeting with the Rev. Geoffrey Fisher, archbishop of Canterbury, head of the Anglican Church, and spiritual adviser to Britain's Queen Elizabeth. Graham took his Crusade for Christ to Africa.

George Romney, president of American Motors, is also a third-year winner in business and industry, thanks to the continued success of his firm. Romney in 1960 saw his advocacy of compact-ness in American automobiles gain even more converts.

German-born Wernher Von Braun won the balloting in the science category for the fourth straight year. This adopted son of the United States has become a symbol of the nation's space program.

The labor winner, Jimmy Hoffa, was in and out of the news all year in his running feud with the government monitors supervising the affairs of his Teamsters Union. Near year's end, he was indicted on a charge of mail fraud.

"Advise and Consent," a fascinating novel of the United States Senate at work, won the literature division for author Allen Drury. Drury's book was at or near the top of the best seller list from the beginning of the year to the end.

Death came to Clark Gable, and newsmen regard his death as the end of an era in motion pictures. Partly in recognition of this, they named the durable movie actor, long a box office favorite, newsmaker of the year in entertainment.

Floyd Patterson's knockout of Ingemar Johansson to regain the heavyweight boxing crown also gave him the title of top newsmaker in sports. But it was a close decision over Casey Stengel, who regained the American League

Baptists Push Sunday Closings

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A growing demand by churchmen in Texas that businessmen close their stores on Sundays was accented here as the Baptist General Convention of Texas stepped up the drive.

In recent years, pastors of several denominations have asked stores be closed on Sundays in Houston, San Antonio and Fort Worth.

The action here Tuesday came when 6,200 letters to Texas Baptist pastors and laymen were mailed. They urged the recipients to cooperate in the campaign.

The letters were mailed in response to a request by the State Baptist Brotherhood Executive Committee and were signed by Dr. L. H. Tapscott, secretary of the Brotherhood Department of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Ends 9 Years In Jail On Child Support Charge

WOODLAND, Calif. (AP)—Former Kansas farmer Fred Block, 67, who spend the last nine years in jail here rather than make child support payments to his ex-wife, left rather reluctantly Tuesday.

He hitched a ride to nearby Sacramento with a reporter, saying he is "getting out of the State of California."

"I may go back to Kansas," he said.

But Superior Court Judge Chester C. McDonald made sure Block would return at least once by setting a Jan. 16 hearing on disposition of $1,100 in Social Security checks that accumulated while Block was in jail.

It has cost Yolo County $11,340 to keep Block in jail. The daughter for whom the original support payments were intended has grown up and married.

A Devotional For Today

He went his way, and published throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him. (Luke 8:39.)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, forgive us for keeping the good news of Christ to ourselves. Give us the inward desire to tell the news and the necessary boldness to proclaim it. Help us to tell it faithfully, lovingly, and effectively. In the name of Jesus Christ, the author of our faith. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

An Important Job

Among the new faces at the courthouse is that of Bob Darland, who has assumed his duties as the first appointee as juvenile officer by the special juvenile board.

While the juvenile board as an approach to dealing with the increasing juvenile program is not new, it is relatively new to Howard County. County, city and school authorities, as well as representatives from several youth agencies made a statewide survey and concluded this offered the most constructive approach to getting at the roots of the matter. More than a year ago the board was finally created here and set up a list of specifications, and it was under this program that the board named its first officer.

As opposed to custodial or investigative functions, the emphasis is to be upon curative or rehabilitative and upon preventative action. This is not to say that the office will not be involved in investigative work connected with juvenile cases, but the creative part of the job will be in going into the homes and working closely with parents and others to get to the core of the case. If this can be done with understanding and persistence, there is a good chance of cutting such cases off the repeat list. This will mean less heartbreak, less cost to property owners who might otherwise be offended, less cost to the taxpayer in repeat situations, and one more individual restored to a potential place as a contributing citizen. This is not an easy task; in fact it is a delicate one, and it warrants the help and cooperation of every one concerned.

Lesson To Be Learned

Word from Plainview on Tuesday was to the effect that for the first time since Dec. 16 that city had not had a new case of diphtheria reported. Since Nov. 2, there have been 78 cases of this malady, and one of these resulted in death.

School authorities estimated that about 99 per cent of the 4,000 junior high and elementary school children returning to classes today had been vaccinated. Those who could not establish proof of vaccination were sent home. On the high school level, where vaccination was voluntary, 94 per cent had been vaccinated.

Plainview has taken stringent measures to deal with this problem, and while a minute few might object, the relatively rapid control of this alarming outbreak is proof that stern measures have paid off.

How did this epidemic get started in Plainview? One child, coming down with an "angry throat," came in contact with others, and so it went. It is the sort of thing that could happen anywhere—could happen right here—if there is not a proper degree of immunization available to break the chain of infection.

The lesson of Plainview's misfortune should not be lost on the rest of us. Prompt sounding of the alarm through health reports can focus attention upon incipient threats to the public health. When this occurs, all concerned should be alerted to action. The time to put out forest fires is when they are still smouldering campfires.

Foreign Advice Aid For The Reds

WASHINGTON—Soviet Russia and Red China have just revealed that during the past year they have had extensive failures of their crops, allegedly due to weather. Our State Department, however, thinks the reports are a cover-up for mismanagement of the agricultural problem.

But this is the season which advice is freely given, and the new year is a time to share one's wisdom—if it can be so described—with both the Red Chinese and the Soviets.

For be it known that the "prestige" of Red China and of the Soviet Union has reached a new low in the rest of the world. Everywhere the dispatches and radio broadcasts tell of the crop failures. In democratic countries, of course, a drop of even a few points in "prestige" is highly important and calls for decisive action—maybe a change in administration.

Perhaps the best suggestion under the circumstances is that an election be held at once in Red China and in the Soviet Union, so as to restore the lost "prestige." In this country, when the "prestige" barometer goes down and something bad develops in the farm problem, it is considered advisable to get a new broom to sweep things clean.

THE MERE FACT that the people of Red China and of the Soviet Union haven't had any free elections before should not be discouraging. There always has to be a first time. Besides, even the President-elect of the United States, John F. Kennedy, deems a "farm crisis" important enough for a major conference to be held on the subject in New York City this very week. He hasn't called any such major conference on the state of the world, though ominous news seems to be coming in from Laos and Southeast Asia as well as from the Congo and other trouble centers.

Although Red China claims that weather was responsible for the crop failure, official weather observers in Asia who are not Communists say it isn't so. They testify that rainfall has been normal and that Central China, which the Reds say didn't have any rain for nine months, really had better than normal moisture.

Now, this is a first-class issue for a political campaign. They could even have a "great debate" on whether rain did or did not fall and who was responsible for the alleged shortage of moisture. Our State Department says, for instance, that much of the grain actually was harvested and is being exported so that Red China can get some foreign currencies with which to buy industrial machinery.

IF THE RUSSIAN people had an election campaign like that in the western counties, it might be possible to find out why Vladimir Matskevich—the Russian "Benson"—was made the goat. Maybe like our own Benson, he had some sound arguments on his side. Indeed, leaders in Poland say the greatest failure there has been in the attempt to get the support of the peasants, who have successfully resisted collectivization on the farms. There are indications that the same thing is happening inside the Soviet Union and the satellite countries. Thus, the Hungarian peasants forced their Communist regime to resort to what are called "capitalistic practices" to encourage production on the farms. Private areas have been assigned to farmers, who are thus permitted to satisfy a profit motive.

If capitalist incentives can infiltrate the Communist world, certainly some democratic practices like national elections might some day have a chance, too.

MAYBE THE TIME has arrived for America to come to the rescue with a big "foreign aid" program. Here, for instance, is a "bold and imaginative idea" which this writer, in the gift-giving spirit of the holiday season, happened to think of over the weekend. Why not make our huge farm surplus available to the distraught millions of people in Red China and in the Soviet Union?

Mr. Benson will be out of a job in three weeks, but he knows a great deal about the agricultural problems behind the Iron Curtain. It certainly wouldn't hurt to have him head up a team of agricultural advisers, which might include the farm expert of Iowa who entertained Nikita Khrushchev on his visit here in 1959.

There's only one string to be attached. Not a bushel of grain or a single farm adviser should be forthcoming until the people of the Soviet Union insist upon an unrestricted right to vote in an election, so that they may pick men and policies of their own. For what profiteth it a nation to send a "sputnik" to the moon if it can't at will make rain fall from the heavens?

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Now that pressures of election - year politics have diminished, perhaps Congress will face up to the pressing need for revision of laws designed to handle strikes.

A good many proposals to cope with this problem have been offered since the end of the steel strike.

1. Limitations on government intervention. The aim is to encourage the full use of collective bargaining — yet give the government sufficient means to act when the public health and safety demands.

2. Flexibility. A number of alternate courses would be permitted the President, depending on the nature and severity of the strike. These might range, for example, from the early use of a presidential fact-finding panel to imposition of an injunction to halt a strike, perhaps even government seizure of a critical industry.

Boards of inquiry might be empowered by the President to make a simple report of the facts — or might be asked to assess blame and recommend settlement terms. One advantage of a fexible approach would be that labor and management would be kept on edge as to the form of intervention and thus be stimulated to reach their own settlement.

3. Public representation. Especially since the nation's experience with the steel strike, we believe there is widespread acknowledgement of the public's right to be represented as "the third voice" in major industrial negotiations.

4. Individual industry responsibility. Labor and management should be persuaded to work out their own procedures for preventing strikes. Only if these failed would government intervention become necessary.

Will Mansfield Still Be Boss?

WASHINGTON (AP) — There'll be less razzle-dazzle in the Senate which has just substituted a plain John for a glamor boy. But the question puzzling Washington is whether the glamor boy will still be boss.

The Senate Democrats Tuesday picked Mike Mansfield, 57, of Montana, thin of face and plainly dressed, as their leader to succeed the spectacular Lyndon Johnson, '52, who on Jan. 20 becomes vice president.

Mansfield had been Johnson's chief assistant and gets his full blessing. He will be responsible for steering President-elect John F. Kennedy's programs through the Senate. Johnson, as vice president, will preside over Senate sessions. Mansfield said he will invite Johnson at times to preside over party caucuses and policy committee meetings.

USUALLY A VICE president—at least so far as his work in the Senate goes—is a shadowy figure who stays in the background. The floor leader, in this case, Mansfield, is the boss.

It remains to be seen whether Johnson, for whom Kennedy will find plenty of outside work, will remain subdued in the vice president's chair or try to pull the strings to make Mansfield dance.

Mansfield, one-time Marine, one-time college professor of history and political science, is the kind of man you might overlook in a crowd.

The bustling Johnson, who is always so well-groomed he seems to shine, sometimes seemed to run the Senate by sleight-of-hand.

Johnson, considered by many the ablest Senate leader of the century, did favors for senators and called on them to pay back in votes when he needed them.

OR HE'D GET things done by working out agreements behind the scenes before voting time.

But the real reason for Johnson's success — there are some who question how successful he was in getting through any really substantial legislation — lay in this: He was a middle-roader and a compromiser.

This fitted in nicely with the prevailing mood of the other 99 senators who range from liberal to reactionary but are mostly middle-road conservatives who, by experience, learned they can't have everything their way and accept compromise.

Mansfield is a middle-roader, too. Otherwise, it's doubtful he'd be Johnson's man for the job. But he has one advantage over Johnson starting out.

Johnson was leader in a Senate where Democrats were in a majority but had to deal with a Republican president, Dwight D. Eisenhower, who always held the threat of veto.

Mansfield leads a Senate where the Democrats still are a majority but will have a Democratic president not only pushing for Democratic programs but anxious to sign them into law.

Mansfield isn't a patsy and may well stiff-arm Johnson if the latter tries to climb into his pasture. And, even though he's Democratic leader, Mansfield could still balk at some Kennedy programs.

The Lobster Trick

NEW YORK (AP)—Night people know a kinship rare to day people.

As our civilization grows more complex, more and more people have to work odd hours to keep it operating.

To the sailor at sea, the pilot in the air, the lifeguard at the beach, the professional athlete in the stadium, the lion tamer and the clown in the circus, Saturday and Sunday are just two more days in the week.

And to about one-sixth of America's laboring millions duty begins after the sun goes down. They earn their paychecks in the dark.

They clean the offices, guard the streets, collect the garbage, keep the home fires burning while most of us sleep. They prepare our day for living while we slumber.

If you have never worked at night—if you have always worked a 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. day—you have missed a great adventure in living.

The advantage is comradeship on the job. You get the feeling of unity a platoon enjoys in war. There is a freemasonry that doesn't quite exist on a day job.

In the newspaper world the overnight tour of duty is known as "the lobster trick." No one knows for sure how the term originated. One theory is that it was coined by a forgotten ironic newsman in the Gay Nineties who had to arrive at his desk at midnight when the playboys of that era were sitting down to their lobster and champagne.

But whoever works the lobster trick knows a joy foreign to the peasants prisoned by the sunbeam hours.

For three years long ago I worked from midnight until 8 o'clock in the morning, and never in my life since have I known quite the same sense of freedom.

Night brings a mystic union to those who work through it together. They are knit by the bond of the unusual. They are separate from the rest of sleeping mankind. They are superior. They are alive and awake. They belong to each other. And they know it.

There is small tension and little hurry. The job is there to do, and there is leisure to do it well.

No one leans over your shoulder. You are on your own. The big boss is at home adrift in drowze. The straw boss is just one of the boys. He has to be. Otherwise he would be impossibly lonely. No one likes to be lonely at night, even when he is working.

The night worker feels the pity of a king to a serf as he hands over the sovereignty of the office to the haggard, sleepy-eyed day worker who replaces him, the serf whose duty is just beginning.

The night worker has quelled one of mankind's oldest foes—the darkness. His duty behind him, he washes his face and hands, puts on his hat and coat and steps into the bright sunshine of the new day, as free and proud as a lark tilting at heaven.

He is different from other people.

To Your Good Health

For Sleeplessness, Read A Good Book

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Doctor: I have been examined by a few doctors and they tell me there is nothing wrong with me. My trouble is that I do not sleep and am tired all day. I go to bed tired and still cannot fall asleep. What can I do?—John W."

I don't, of course, know a blessed thing about you, except what is in your letter. But let me guess.

You are a nervous type of individual. You don't do hard physical labor. You're a worrier.

When you go to bed (tired), you relax a bit physically, and before you know it, you have started to think about the things you did today, and the things you will have to do tomorrow—the decisions you will have to make, whether you ought to buy a new refrigerator now or wait another six months, and what somebody really meant by what he said at lunch.

You may not be unhappy: You may lie awake thinking about the good things that are going to happen to you—the money you are going to make, or a trip you have in mind, or how you are going to improve your business.

But it's your mind that keeps whirling and buzzing. As a matter of fact, you might put it this way: You have an INTERESTING mind, and an inquiring, probably worrying, mind.

You enjoy using your mind, your imagination and your worry cells. So you lie awake, and toss, and think.

What to do about it? Well, if you got a job loading cement blocks onto trucks, or swinging a sledge all day, or some really heavy physical labor like that, you'd be physically tired enough so you'd go to sleep fast enough at night.

But obviously, that's not a practical solution for us in these days of desk jobs, automation, and positions that eat up our nervous energy but not our physical energy.

For substitutes, there are such things as brisk walking, shopwork in the basement, bowling, swimming, gymnastics and the like. Get PHYSICALLY tired.

Or for another idea, do NOT in a sense drug yourself with an entire evening of sitting and watching television, and then expect to be ready for bed. You may get bored and tired, but you won't get tired in the sense of having used up energy. So spend two or three hours on some engrossing hobby. Stamps, whittling, model-making, it doesn't matter. Or spend the evening in some game that requires tense attention, whether it's contract bridge or cribbage.

A warm glass of milk at bedtime helps many people relax. A warm bath also often helps. After that, if you climb in bed and still find your mind racing so fast you can't sleep, I strongly recommend some "hard" reading —not a murder mystery or a western—but history, a technical book, or whatever. Read something that demands all your attention. Pretty soon you'll begin to tire—and go to sleep.

Along the way, you'll get some useful reading done.

I'm trying, you see, to steer you away from sleeping pills. The world is changing. We don't live the way our fathers and grandfathers did. We aren't as physically tired. But we can tire ourselves, for sleep purposes, with hard mental effort, too. Try it, please.

Diet isn't involved. Griseofulvin has been extremely effective in destroying some, but by no means all, types of fungus infection.

Around The Rim

Perilous And Popular Predictions

A year ago there was some crystal ball gazing with the arrival of a new decade, but it seems to me that with the background of a decenial census, we ought to be in a better position to make our forecasts.

I'd like to know what you seriously think this decade will bring to Big Spring, Howard County and this immediate area.

Let me trout out a few of Pickle's Popular and Perilous Prognostications for what used to be called the Sizzling or Soaring Sixties.

First off, the Sixties won't be as wildly expansive as we almost deluded ourselves into believing; neither will they be as slow as our cautious beginning. Before this year is out things will begin to point upward.

WE WILL BE IN AN enviable position for our water resources. A second lake will be impounded on the Colorado River below Colorado City, for the simple reason that it must be.

This will help with industrial advance, although it won't be a magic key within itself. Cosden will add new components, and it is likely that it will attract others. It has the leadership, the boldness, the ability.

Automotive transport will gain with the development of IS 20 and divided traffic for U.S. 87. We will add 150 miles of county lateral roads and perhaps a third that much state lateral roads. We will develop at least one more railroad overpass. Rail traffic will undergo some changes, perhaps with new approaches for fast comfortable passenger traffic competitive with bus schedules. Buses will become bigger, roomier and add more of the semi-luxuries. The county airport will increase in importance; a new terminal will be raised toward the end of the decade; runways may be lengthened.

WEBB AFB WILL keep highly active, even though the format may change shades and directions from time to time.

At least one junior high and three new elementary schools will be built, and several others will have additional classrooms. There is a bare possibility of a second high school. Howard County Junior College will increase its physical facilities and at least double its enrollment.

The state hospital will receive substantial additions in plant, the VA some to a much lesser degree. Webb will get a new base hospital. One of the four private hospitals will begin to emerge as the core for a large community medical center.

Churches will become more functional, particularly in their educational plant, and they will begin to serve as family centers embracing a variety of activities. The YMCA will add to its facilities to meet greater demands. So will other progressive agencies.

THE BUSINESS DISTRICT will finally spill from its present confines and move southward down Main, pulling adjacent streets behind. New downtown plants will provide as much in the way of parking as they do in merchandising space. Commercial building will finally accelerate in the mid-60's. There will be numerous business casualties, particularly those ignoring modern methods, but surviving stores will be brighter, more aggressive. There will be a modest increase in wholesaling.

The city will enlarge its water plant and distribution and its sewer treatment facilities, pay more attention to arterial traffic facilities, will add two or three fire stations, enlarge the police force. Much more attention will be given our parks.

RESIDENTIAL BUILDING will maintain a steady pace and trends will be markedly toward more functional architecture. We will see more larger homes. Although lawn sizes will shrink, outdoor and casual living will increase.

Present trends in agriculture will continue, that is farms will increase in size and decrease in number, and there will be a further drop in cultivated acreage. This means that new emphasis will be put on livestock feeding and processing. Mesquite smoking could become as much a trademark of this area's meat as hickory smoking is elsewhere.

Speaking of smoke—these are my pipe dreams. What about yours?

Saved – By The Price Tag!

My husband came home the other day with a look of sly triumph in his eyes and announced that at long last some genius had invented a form of motorized transportation that even I could manage.

I maintained a dignified silence at this overt reference to my inability to drive any kind of motor vehicle; indeed, to my shakes at the very thought of having to drive a car.

"At last my days as a chauffeur are over," he said, as he settled down with the evening newspaper.

With difficulty, I still held my peace or, maybe, tongue.

"Don't I remember hearing you boast that you were a whiz on roller skates?" he asked, trying another gambit.

"I DON'T REMEMBER boasting about it," I replied, "although the truth is that I could race the socks off any kid in the block!"

"Too bad there weren't any Roller Derbies in those days," the head of the clan said. "But I can see a great future for you anyway. I can see you setting new records almost any time now."

"All right. I bite. What is it?" I asked.

"Motorized roller skates," he said. "Plain old roller skates updated with a little motor and a fuel tank. I have been reading about them. I plan to buy a pair for you.

"That will relieve me of the necessity of driving you to the dressmaker or tooling uptown to that little bakery where they make those brioche you can't do without on Sunday morning," he continued.

"I am a free man," he said, and settled back with the sports section.

"BUT I HAVEN'T been on skates for 35 years," I cried, in panic. "And you know I can't manage any machinery, not any at all!

"Machinery hates me," I hurried on. "It really does. Remember how the floor waxer took a chunk out of my ankle the last time I touched it. Remember it cost $27 to fix the vacuum sweeper the time I—

"Yes, yes, but you know how to skate," my spouse insisted. "You never forget skills like that, learned in childhood. They stick with you to your dying day."

"That'll be it—my dying day—the day you get me on skates with a motor and gasoline and gears to shift. It'll be the death of me, with trees running into me—"

"KEEP OUT OF parks," he said heartlessly. "And I don't think these motorized skates have gears. The prospectus doesn't mention them. All you have to do is strap the skates on your feet, a one-horsepower gas motor on your back, and be off.

"You cruise at 17 miles an hour," he continued, "and when you want to show people your dust, you can get up to 35 miles per hour. And there is fuel capacity for a 30-mile ride, or enough to get those brioche twice over."

"I am going to give up brioche," I said suddenly. "I thought you liked them, too. And I am not going to wear a motor and a gas tank on my back. I'll go by bus. I'll take the subway. I'll walk. I'll stay home."

"Love's old sweet song. I've heard it all before," said the head of the house.

"HOW MUCH DO these skates cost?" I asked.

"They retail at $249.50," he answered. "Oh, darling," I cried, and sweet relief flowed back into my being, "I knew you were joking. A man named Robb might part with $249.50 for a Rolls Royce, but not for roller skates."

There was just a rattle out of the newspaper.

"Dear, would you mind driving me over to that antique shop on University Place?" I asked, a few minutes later.

"Yes, I would," he said, "but what time do you want to go?"

Goldberg In Crucial Spot

Arthur J. Goldberg could become one of the most influential and important members of President-elect John F. Kennedy's Cabinet, or one of the most controversial. Around him, domestic economic policy will pivot.

The Secretary of Labor is the advocate in government of Samuel Gompers' one-word immortalization of what every worker wants—"more." But Goldberg may be forced — by world economics — to argue against higher and ever higher wages in order to get the American worker "more."

This would be quite a switch for the man who was general counsel to the United Steelworkers and strategist in the successful strike for higher pay in '59.

GOLDBERG MAY HAVE to deal with his former colleagues in labor unions in this wise: "Look, we can't go on raising wages. We'll price ourselves out of world markets. We'll invite increased imports. We've got to stay competitive."

International economics has closed in on America. Kennedy can't change that. Goldberg can't change it. Nor can such militant labor leaders as George Meany, head of the AFL-CIO, or Walter Reuther, whose United Auto Workers' contract with the automobile companies expires this year.

The sellers' market of the early postwar years is gone. West Germany, Great Britain, Italy, France and Japan produce competitively with the U.S. The Soviet Union has become a major producer and, intermittently, a competitor. Periodically, as with aluminum, it dumps excess supplies on world markets—sending prices down, causing unsettlement. The buyers' market is here.

FOREIGN PRODUCTS, notably automobiles, typewriters, sewing machines, cameras, some types of steel, have priced themselves into this market. Many American companies are expanding foreign plants. They want to be able to take advantage of lower-priced labor abroad—to sell either here or elsewhere.

As Secretary of Labor, Goldberg can be expected to propose legislation to retrain and rehabilitate workers whose jobs are thieved by economic change. Society can't force a coal miner to learn another trade or move to other work, but at least it can offer him help and opportunity.

All economists agree that "real income" —what the worker buys—is the true determinant of living standards, not how much he gets per hour.

The new administration will have to try to raise real income without weakening our capacity to export, without bringing on demands for higher tariffs and quotas, and without reincarnating the economic nationalism inspired by the Great Depression. (Even now the Amalgamated Clothing Workers threatens to boycott Japanese imports of men's suits.)

AS I READ THE economic stars, Goldberg's biggest job, as an ex-labor leader, will be to sell labor leaders on more for the money, not more in the pay check. He'll become, for labor's sake, an advocate of increased productivity — better pay through lower prices and higher quality.

If any man can, he can do it. Labor leaders never felt at home with President Eisenhower. But Kennedy will be talking to "his own people." And so will Goldberg.

Jess Richard Coker Weds Houston Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Richard Coker will make a home in Houston following their marriage, Dec. 22, in the Fairhaven Methodist Church of that city.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Coker, 1710 Morrison; the bride is the former Judith Ann Mercer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mercer, Houston.

Candles and greenery decorated the altar before which the vows were repeated.

Silk taffeta with lace and seed pearls fashioned the bridal gown, and the bride carried a white prayer book topped with orchids and lily of the valley.

Tradition was honored in the something old, which was a ring of her grandmother; something new, the gift from the bridegroom, a diamond drop necklace, a blue garter and birthday penny in a slipper.

Cathey Young was maid of honor; bridesmaids were Jane Hopson and Sandra Brown; Beck Mercer, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

Jerry Vandiver of Wichita Falls was best man; groomsmen were Bob Jenkins, Jim Bennett and John O'Banion of Austin; ushers were Jim Patterson of Houston and Barton Bruce of Baytown.

A reception in the church banquet room honored the couple following the ceremony, and Alice Nann Coker, sister of the bridegroom, was at the guest register.

The bride is a graduate of Houston High School and attended the University of Texas where she was a member of Chi Omega Sorority.

A graduate of Wichita Falls High School, the bridegroom is now a student at the University of Houston. For two years he was a student at the University of Texas where he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

MRS. JESS RICHARD COKER

Community Mission Day Observed Tuesday

Circle members of the Baptist Temple carried on their community missions work Tuesday by visiting various rest homes and shut-ins. Music and devotions were presented for the patients in the homes.

EVAN HOLMES CIRCLE

The home of Mrs. A. W. Page was the meeting place Tuesday morning of the Evan Holmes Circle of Baptist Temple.

Mrs. W. L. Sandridge gave the devotion from Hebrews, which was followed by a prayer led by Mrs. H. M. Jarratt.

Plans were discussed for the Royal Service program which will be given at the church Jan. 10. Mrs. Robert Heinze, program chairman, is in charge of the program.

The missionary prayer calendar was read by Mrs. Page who also led the prayer for the missionaries.

Following the business session the group of seven visited patients in the Jenkins Rest Home.

DOUGLAS CIRCLE

Visitstion of two members of the extension circle of Baptist Temple was enjoyed by four members of the Douglas Circle of that church.

The group met at the church Tuesday morning before going to the homes of the members. In each home a devotion was given by Mrs. Stanley Harbin.

FISHER CIRCLE

Meeting at the home of Mrs. Rex Edwards, Tuesday morning, members of the Fisher Circle, made a trip to Unger Rest Home in observance of their community mission program.

Five women gathered for the project, with a devotion given by Mrs. D. C. Boren; Mrs. Robert Hill led a session of songs and offered the dismissal prayer.

Mrs. Womack Is Program Leader

Mrs. Royce Womack was in charge of the program "Heritage and Horizons" for the Tuesday morning meeting of the Wesley Methodist WSCS at the church.

Mrs. Skeet Foresyth opened the meeting with a prayer.

Assisting Mrs. Womack with the program were Mrs. Glyn Mitchel and Mrs. Jerry Allen. Mrs. E. R. Cawthron gave the devotion on "The New Year and The New Life."

Mrs. Womack led the closing prayer, and refreshments were served to 13.

The next meeting of the group will be Tuesday morning at 9:30 when they will have the study "Heritage and Horizons in Home Missions."

Safety Is Topic For P-TA Group

A program based on safety was presented for the P-TA City Council when members met Tuesday morning at College Heights.

Patrolman Bob Dugan discussed "Safety in the City"; Mrs. Jack Alexander spoke on the topic, "Safety in the Home", and Mrs. H. H. Rutherford selected the subject, "Safety in the School".

W. C. Blankenship opened the meeting with a prayer. Mrs. H. H. Stephens announced that the Mothers' March of Dines will be held Jan. 26, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Mrs. J. H. Homan announced that all procedure courses should be finished by Jan. 15. The next meeting of the group is set for February.

Presbyterian Group Has General Meet

The Women of the First Presbyterian Church met at the church Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Don Farley led the opening prayer after which a devotion was given by Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach. Plans for the Mission of Friendship were made by the group.

The Kings Daughters Circle will serve the dinner for the January meeting of the men's fellowship, and the Ella Barrick Circle will serve sandwiches to the young people during the month.

Mrs. Farley gave Marion A. Boggs' report regarding objectives and challenges of the church.

The meeting was closed with the Mizpah.

Former Residents Have A Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Rosser Jr. of Midland are parents of a daughter, born Jan. 2 in Midland. They are former residents of Big Spring.

The baby, who has been named Diana Lyn, weighed 5 pounds 12 ounces. Grandparents are Sgt. and Mrs. William Rosser of Shreveport, La., also former Big Spring residents, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Touchstone, 2111 Runnels.

Ever Ready Club

The Ever Ready Civic and Art Club will meet at 8 p.m. tonight with Almanda Mart.

Rebekahs Set Installation

Rebekah Lodges met Tuesday evening at their respective halls to bring to a close the year's work and make plans for installation of officers at the next gathering.

JOHN A. KEE

Mrs. Garland Land completed her term as noble grand of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge at the meeting of the group Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Land's project of providing new regalia for the lodge was successful along with the furnishing of the ante-room and the women's lounge.

Mrs. O. G. Burns presented Mrs. Land with a gift of silver on behalf of the lodge members.

In her retiring speech, each officer was recognized by Mrs. Land and presented with a token gift.

During the business session a report was given by the auditing committee, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cole and Mrs. Burns.

On Jan. 10, at 8 p.m. the lodge will have a formal, public installation of incoming officers when Mrs. Irene Dempsey will become noble grand and Mrs. Horace J. Smith, vice grand. Mrs. C. A. McDonald, lodge deputy, and installing staff will conduct the rites.

Members are to meet at 7:15 p.m. on that date for a brief business session prior to the installation.

Hostesses to the 35 attending were Mrs. Land, Mrs. John Fry, Mrs. L. L. Robertson and Mrs. Burns.

BIG SPRING REBEKAH

Plans were made Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge for the installation of new officers at the next session.

At that time, Mrs. Harvey Harris will take office as noble grand; Mrs. J. E. Brown will be installed as vice grand.

Twenty-nine were present for the meeting and gave reports on the visits to ill members.

Spaders Club

The Spaders Garden Club will meet Thursday at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Bruce Frazier, Virginia and Cedar Ridge. This is a change in the regularly scheduled meeting place.

WMS Circle Has Program Tuesday

Alcoholism was the basis of study for members of the Kathryn White Circle of Vincent Baptist Church Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Jack Brown.

Mrs. Henry Moates brought the devotion; Mrs. Robert Johnson, leader of the program, was assisted by Mrs. J. R. Redman, Mrs. Nathan Stalcup and Mrs. Gene Lockhart. Mrs. J. M. Wilson read the missionary prayer calendar.

Eleven members attended with six members of the Sunbeams; the next meeting is slated for the home of Mrs. E. R. Williamson, Jan. 10, at 9:30 a.m.

New Emphasis Placed On Lighting In Homes

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Pleasing light in all rooms is the aim of the average home seeker and builder. But with the greater use of glass in the home, more emphasis must be placed on the decorative aspects of these areas for evening drama as well as daytime charm.

New treatments were given to enormous windows of model apartments in a new building at Kips Bay in New York. Members of the American Institute of Decorators tackled the problem and designed windows so that any degree of light could be had. And when the light was closed off the window treatments enhanced the room decor.

Homemakers who look for new ideas for glass expanse or picture windows should avoid either leaving them too bare or treating them too heavily with cornices or fabrics, it would seem.

Ethyl Alper who believes "large windows are treated less heavily today," decorated an apartment for an Italian bachelor, one in the series of international room schemes. The enormous windows are highlighted by a series of arches linked together placed in front of them. The arches go to the ceiling, making the room look larger and giving the illusion of a Roman vista.

The arches were made of compressed wood, about one-half inch wide, covered by Mediterranean blue silk. The large windows are draped handsomely in white silk shantung, over chic window shades.

"When one uses a sheer fabric at the window, shades are important for privacy," says Mrs. Alper, who used nubby white linen and cotton shades with a trim of blue picot-edge ribbon applied with a bond adhesive. The blue matches the arches and the hexagonal vinyl tiles on the floor.

Decorators, too, are emphasizing the importance of thinking of windows as an integral part of the room decor.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Eugene Stephenson use three sets of window-screening devices in a living room decorated with a Danish background. They used a white and natural Danish linen in floor to ceiling draperies, low curtains suspended from handsome walnut rods, and fabric-laminated roller shades.

Stephenson, an expert on lighting in decoration, used illuminated cornices that incorporated a series of ovals, avoiding a heavy effect by day, but creating interesting texture and shadow patterns across the living room at night.

New Point Of View

Decorator Ethyl Alper, A. I. D. uses arches of compressed wood covered in Mediterranean blue silk, draperies of white silk shantung over chic window shades trimmed with blue picot-edge ribbon to highlight these large windows in apartment furnished in Italian style.

Yearbooks Completed By Club

New yearbooks were completed by members of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. C. R. McClenny.

Roll call was answered by each member telling what she planned to do during the year to help the club.

Mrs. H. S. Hanson, in presenting a devotion, read a poem, "The Parson Speaks."

Refreshments were served to 12, and the next hostess was announced as Mrs. F. O. Sorrells, 301 Dixie; she will entertain on Jan. 17 at 2 p.m.

Daughter Born To Truman Masons

Melinda Dee is the name chosen for the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Mason, 1405 Stanford. The baby, the second of the new year, arrived at 10:12 a.m., Jan. 1 at Malone Hogan Foundation Hospital.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Grady McCrary and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Mason are the paternal grandparents.

GA Meets Tuesday

A study of the Navajo Indians in Arizona was made by members of the Beverly Blake GA of Baptist Temple Tuesday afternoon at the church. Puzzles and a map were used to develop the program, given under the direction of Mrs. A. T. Boren. Susan Collier will be hostess for the next session, slated for Tuesday at the church.

Elbow HD Club

Members of the Elbow Home Demonstration Club will meet at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Russell Christenson, 2103 Warren. This is a change in the place of meeting originally announced by the group.

Communism Is Study Of Club

The challenge of communism was discussed for members of the 1955 Hyperion Club when they met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. D. Harris.

Mrs. E. L. Whatley introduced the subject with an explanation of Russia's challenge to the United States, and she completed the program with a discussion of the scare campaign being waged by the U.S.S.R.

The educational system at each level was described by Mrs. Bill Johnson, who emphasized the respect given the school property and other public installations in Russia.

Mrs. Travis Carlton, with her topic, "The Reds Are Back in Hollywood", told of the invasion of the television field by the Communists after they were investigated in the movie industry. She read a list of those actors and actresses listed on the un-American Activities list, and then turned the session back to Mrs. Whatley.

Eighteen attended with Mrs. Joe Gunning introduced as a new member.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. J. G. Lewis, Marcy Drive, Feb. 7.

Baptist Circles Take Leadership Training

Leadership training courses are being followed by members of the East Fourth Baptist WMS circles at their meetings, with discussions being presented by various women.

KATE MORRISON

Mrs. Corine Hollis opened the session of the Kate Morrison Circle with prayer Tuesday afternoon at the church, and the training course was presented by Mrs. Rufus Davidson; she also read the missionary calendar.

Plans were made for serving refreshments this morning to patients at the VA Hospital; this is a regular activity of the circles with each taking one month for the service.

MOLLIE PHILLIPS

The Mollie Phillips Circle met Tuesday morning at the church for the leadership course given by Mrs. B. D. Rice. Mrs. R. E. Wilson offered the opening prayer, and Mrs. Rice dismissed the five attending with a prayer.

ANITA LOWE

Following the presentation of the course at the church Tuesday morning, members of the Anita Lowe Circle made visits to homes of absentees.

Police Disperse Mexican Students

IGUALA, Mex. (AP)—Local police Tuesday night dispersed a student demonstration against the governor of Guerrero, Raul Caballero Aburto.

Seven students were injured and 10 arrested.

This was the first demonstration against the local government since the one in Chilpancingo last Friday when 15 people died and 40 were injured as federal troops shot in a crowd of 2,000.

Meanwhile, reports from Mexico City indicate a special investigating commission from the federal senate will report today on their findings after a two-day inquiry in Chilpancingo.

Tuesday's demonstrators called for the resignation of the governor.

They accused him of having exploited his position for personal gain, while supporting a great number of relatives at key government posts.

U.S. To Accept Peaceful Solution To Laos Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States held the door open today to a satisfactory political solution to the civil war in Laos, but maintained a posture of military readiness if called upon to defend the tiny Southeast Asian kingdom.

Authorities here said there is little doubt extensive Soviet and Communist North Vietnamese participation in military operations against the royal Laos government are timed to catch the United States at a period of maximum disdavantage.

The outgoing administration of President Eisenhower turns over responsibility to President-elect John F. Kennedy in a scant 16 days. Officials believe the Communists are seeking to exploit any advantage they can find in the meantime.

The State Department Tuesday put on the record the Soviet and North Vietnamese airlift of arms to Communist forces in Laos. In a statement it cited 184 observed flights by Soviet transport planes carrying war materiel to rebel forces. The bulk of the arms deliveries went to Vang Vieng, a rebel concentration point about 60 miles north of Vientiane.

In addition substantial numbers of North Vietnamese military personnel were said to have been parachuted into the area.

"If we are awaiting a political solution and the Soviets are taking military steps it does not bode well for the future of Laos," snapped Chairman Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on the Far East. The congressional group was given a two-hour secret briefing by Acting Assistant Secretary of State John M. Steeves.

Zablocki predicted action by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) if the situation worsened.

State Department press officer Joseph Reap said the reconvening of the International Control Commsision for Laos is one of several possibilities which the United States had been discussing in consultations with other governments.

Indian diplomatic sources here reported some improvement in the chances for working out a negotiated settlement of the Laos dispute. India, Poland and Canada made up the International Control Commission which supervised a cease-fire in Laos until 1958.

Newcomers At Senate

Infant Rites Held Today

Berlinda Lopez Quintana, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Lees Quintana, 1010 NW 2nd, died Monday at 11 p.m. She was born June 30, 1960, in Big Spring.

Services were to be held today at 11 a.m. in the City Cemetery under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. Graveside rites will be said by the Rev. Aulae Gutierrez, pastor of the Mexican Baptist Church.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Leos Quintana, Big Spring; one brother, Valentine Quintana, Big Spring; four sisters, Ina, Irene, Louise and Elinda, all of Big Spring.

Scouters To Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Boy Scout Lone Star District operating committees and the executive board is set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Cosden Country Club. Among plans to be discussed are those for Scout Week observance and the Cub Pow Wow. There also will be a membership report. The district completed the year with 1,429 boy members, or 42 less than the previous year.

Break Will Affect Other U.S.-Cuban Factors, Also

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Here's how the U.S. diplomatic break with Cuba will affect other relations between the two countries:

Communications: "We have no notice to halt telephone calls, in either direction, and we'll continue on the present basis," said Mead B. Ferris, divisional traffic manager for Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Transportation: Pan American World Airways said it would add one flight to its regular two daily flights to Cuba "because reservations show there will be a need for it." National Airlines, which makes three weekend flights only, said it was undecided whether it would continue service.

Finance: "The break will mean little to the banks," said Comer Kimball, president of the First National Bank of Miami.

Government Affairs: All 12 Cuban embassies and consulates in this country will close.

Mail: Letters and packages travel between the United States and Cuba under the Pan American Union agreement and it is the practice for countries to continue an exchange even if diplomatic relations are broken.

Refugees: "It is impossible to tell at this early hour what our Immigration Service attitude will be toward refugees fleeing Cuba," said Edward W. Ahrens, regional director.

Trade: The flow of truck farm produce from Cuba to the United States will be a first to suffer. United States ships have been carrying the crops, according to Joseph Fortier, supervising U.S. customs agent, and they "will not take the chance because they have no protection in Cuban ports."

Union Message Not In Person

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will not deliver personally his final State of the Union message to Congress on Jan. 12.

The White House also gave dates for two other presidential messages, the budget Jan. 16 and the economic report Jan. 18.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower is seriously considering a farewell radio and TV talk before he leaves office Jan. 20.

Arrested Here

A man wanted by police in Missouri was arrested by Big Spring police at 701 Nolan Tuesday night and lodged in the city jail. Charles James is wanted on a charge of theft of $700 and signed a waiver for extradition to Missouri.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
January 23, 1961

On July 8, 1947, the City Commission of the City of Big Spring, Howard County, Texas, adopted a Zoning Ordinance which divided the Municipality into Districts and regulated within such Districts the location and use of buildings, structures and land; the height and size of buildings, the yards and open spaces, and the density of population. Studies by the Planning and Zoning Commission and other citizens indicate that amendments, changes and expansion of the City make it appropriate to revise the regulations adopted on July 8, 1947.

For the purpose of considering such changes and revisions, a Public Hearing will be held at the City Auditorium on January 23, 1961, at 7:30 p.m. by the Planning and Zoning Commission of the City of Big Spring. A copy of the Revised Zoning Ordinance, and a copy of the proposed Zoning District Map may be examined in the Office of the Director of Public Works between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. on Monday through Friday, January 9-13 and January 16-20, 1961.

AS AN INTERESTED PROPERTY OWNER, YOU ARE URGED TO ATTEND THIS HEARING.

Signed:
HORACE B. REAGAN, CHAIRMAN
PLANNING AND ZONING COMMISSION

LEGAL NOTICE

A Zoning Ordinance repealing the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Big Spring, Texas, as passed and approved by the City Commission on July 8, 1947, together with all amendments thereto and enacting and adopting in lieu thereof a new Zoning Ordinance and Zoning District Maps, dividing the area within the corporate boundaries of the City of Big Spring into districts in accordance with a comprehensive plan; defining certain terms; regulating the location, size, height, bulk and use of buildings in such respective districts; fixing building lines for each respective district; fixing the percentage of any lot or tract of land to be occupied in the various districts; regulating the size of alleys, courts and open spaces in each particular district; regulating the density of structures, buildings, industry and residences and the erection, repair and alteration of all buildings and structures in each particular district; adopting a Zoning District Map and making it a part of this Ordinance; providing for the location and outline of all districts on said maps and making all figures, letters, markings and symbols on said maps a part of this Ordinance; creating a Board of Adjustment and defining its powers and duties; providing a penalty for violations of this Ordinance; authorizing publication of the descriptive caption and penalty clause hereof; containing a saving clause; and preserving rights in pending litigation and violations under existing ordinances.

Legate Implicated In India Spy Case

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Hindustan Times reported today that confessions by Indian government employes charged with espionage have implicated an official of the Soviet Embassy.

Police reportedly arrested eight Indians, including employes of the Foreign and Defense ministeries, who were involved in separate spying operations for the Soviet Union, a Western European country and a neighboring country.

Uncommon Conductor

Thirty-year-old Lorin Maazel leads his orchestra through a rehearsal in Berlin. Maazel's performances conducting "Lohengrin" at the Wagner Festival in Bayreuth, Germany, drew wide acclaim.

Conductor Wants 'Uncommon' Men

BAYREUTH, Germany, (AP)—Lorin Maazel, at 30 the youngest conductor to perform at Bayreuth's famed Wagner Festival, believes that what the world needs more than anything else is uncommon men.

"The age of the common man," Maazel observes, "makes genius difficult."

Whether Maazel considers himself a genius is an open question. He chose not to discuss it in a recent interview. There is no doubt, however, that he regards himself as uncommon.

He has reason.

At the age of 11, he was leading the NBC Symphony Orchestra on invitation from old maestro Arturo Toscanini.

He is also one of those rare artists who plays the solo instrument in a violin concerto and conducts the accompanying orchestra at the same time.

GREAT GAIN

The French magazine, "Jours de Paris" described Maazel earlier this year as "a god of 30 years." The influential German newspaper "Die Welt" called him "a great gain for the Wagner Festival and one of the most striking representatives of the younger generation."

Although he was born in Paris and now makes his home in Rome, Maazel is an American citizen and he doesn't like being called an expatriate.

"I'm an American," he says. "I just happen to be over here."

His father was studying singing in Paris when Maazel was born in 1930. The boy returned to the United States four years later, living in Los Angeles and Pittsburgh before coming abroad to stay in 1954.

Since then, he has played concerts and conducted orchestras all over Western Europe.

HOME 23 DAYS

"I live in Rome," he observes laconically, "but I was home only 23 days last year."

Maazel has been one of the chief attractions at the Bayreuth Festival, which dates back to 1876. The theater was designed by Richard Wagner himself to give what the outspoken composer wanted as a proper forum for his operas.

The young American conducted the opera "Lohengrin" seven times during last year's festival. No other opera was given more than four performances.

"It is a great challenge to conduct here," Maazel says. "You sit in one of the most famous conductors' chairs anywhere on earth. Every great conductor has sat in that chair."

Challenge or not, Maazel is not one to be jittery. He has conducted Italian opera in Rome, French opera in Paris, Mexican opera in Mexico and so on.

TO MOSCOW?

"The only thing left for me, I suppose," he grins, "is to perform 'Boris Goudonov' in Moscow."

Maazel was chosen to conduct "Lohengrin," one of the most mystically romantic of all operas, by Wieland and Wolfgang Wagner, grandsons of the composer and managers of the Bayreuth Festival.

His performances have been widely acclaimed in the German press. Maazel's reading of the opera is severe and grand, with a minimum of sentimentality. Wild, foot-pounding applause has greeted each of his performances.

"It is most extraordinary, this festival," Maazel says. "Performers come from many countries and have little time to rehearse, but there is no backbiting at all. It is a truly joint effort."

REALLY A PIT

To conduct at Bayreuth, he adds, is an eerie experience. This is because the orchestra is really located in a pit, 60 feet below the level of the auditorium. Wagner designed it that way so that his booming orchestral chords would not drown out the singers.

"Somehow," Maazel said, "You feel those 1,800 people behind you even more when you can't see them."

Maazel has no favorites in the music world.

"Art must be universal," he says.

"I was brought up on the old masters, Bach and the Italian baroque school. This is the perfect background for all music. I don't believe in the old at the expense of the new or the new at the expense of the old."

"Yes," adds his wife. "In Paris he is called a French stylist. In Rome he is called an Italian stylist and here he is called a German stylist."

Week's Oil Production Up

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Oil production in the United States ended for 1960 in a good increase last week with most of it coming from Oklahoma and Kansas, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Average daily production of crude oil and lease condensate was 7,166,175 barrels for the week ending Dec. 31, an increase of 40,790 barrels per day over the previous week according to a Journal survey.

Oklahoma had production of 584,000 barrels a day, a gain of 29,700, while Kansas averaged 298,100, up 8,590 barrels daily.

States with production about the same as the previous week included Arkansas at 74,550. Texas, which had a 9-day schedule in December, averaged about 2,590,000 barrels daily.

Louisiana produced about 1,103,000 barrels and New Mexico about 300,500 barrels daily.

December Hits High In Deaths

LAMESA (SC)—Two accidental and three infant deaths helped the December total to establish a high mark for the year in Dawson County, Peace Justice Arthur Standefer reported recently.

Standefer said that the total number of deaths during the month was 20, the highest of the year. The previous top figure was 17, in July.

Births declined for the first time in a four-month period, hitting 51 in December. Highest monthly birth figure during 1960 was in September when 59 were listed.

Total births for 1960 reached 551, compared with 158 deaths.

Both of the accidental deaths were attributed to vehicle accidents.

Lake Takes Over Secretary Office

AUSTIN (AP)—P. Frank Lake took office Tuesday as Texas secretary of state, succeeding Zollie Steakley who also was sworn in as an associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

In his first official act, Steakley administered Lake's oath of office. The afternoon ceremony took place in Gov. Price Daniel's office. Daniel, who appointed Lake, was present.

Lake, 41, was an assistant attorney general from 1948 to 1952 while Daniel was state attorney general. He was assistant secretary of state under Steakley for the three years Steakley held the office.
