Leroy Ressell Enters Race for Representative

A three-way race developed in area politics this week with the announcement that Leroy Ressell of Knox County will seek election as representative of the 83rd Legislative District.

Already announced for the post were Ed Cloud of Haskell County, the incumbent, and Donnell Dickson of Baylor County.

A graduate of Knox City High School and the University of Texas, Ressell lives with his parents in the Sunset community. He worked in the 55th Legislature and in the two called special sessions which followed.

The candidate's formal statemen to voters in the district is published elsewhere in The Herald.

Insurance Agency Changes Hands

T. E. Robbins, who has sold insurance in the Knox City-O'-Brien area since moving here March 15, 1918, announced this week that he has sold the remainder of his insurance accounts to J. M. Averitt & Son of Knox City.

He had previously sold his Knox City accounts to the same firm.

While Mr. Robbins' insurance business has been extensive, it has not occupied all his time. He served as cashier of the First State Bank in O'Brien, and when the bank sold and was moved to Knox City as the Guaranty State Bank, later changed to Citizens State, Mr. Robbins also moved as cashier and vice-president. He dropped the vice-presidency because he did not like the "double duty", and served as cashier until elected president, a position he held from 1934 to 1943.

In announcing his retirement from the insurance business Mr. Robbins said, "Having reached 77 years of age, I feel it is time I retired, I know I am leaving my insurance customers in good hands, and that the Averitts will give them good service."

He added that he plans to spend his time on his farm home between Knox City and O'Brien, "watching television and holding open house for my friends."

In keeping with the first National Library Week, March 16-22, Mrs. Philip Colehour has called a meeting for 4 p. m. Sunday, March 16, to discuss plans for the organization of a city library, she said Tuesday.

Mrs. Colehour is Knox County Public School Librarian. She recently met with Mayor Otis Harbert and members of the city commission to seek a location for a library. The commission agreed to lend the use of the second floor of the old city hall to be used.

Mrs. Colehour invited all persons interested in a public city library to attend Sunday's meeting.

"Wake Up and Read" is the slogan for the first observance of National Library Week. School students in the county will be given ribbons advertising the week, and posters will be displayed by Mrs. Colehour in each school.

Super-Duper Cellar Planned at O'Brien

The O'Brien Community Circle, which functions as a parent-teacher association, voted Monday night to finance the construction of a storm cellar capable of housing the entire student body and faculty of the O'Brien School. Supt. Elvin Mathis said the cellar would have a capacity of about 200 people.

The O'Brien school was narrowly missed by the tornado which struck the Knox City O'Brien area in March, 1953. Classes were in session at the time and the students took shelter in the hallway.

Mathis did not indicate when construction will begin.

O'Brien Circle to Sponsor Talent Show Here Friday

Final plans for the talent show sponsored by the O'Brien Community Circle were made at a meeting of the circle Monday night. The program will be presented at the Knox City auditorium tomorrow (Friday) night beginning at 8:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Truett Hester, program chairman, said awards will be presented to first and second place winners in three divisions —pre-school children through the fifth grade, sixth grade through high school, and adults. Prizes in each division will be $3.00 for first place and $2.00 for second place.

Admission will be 25 and 50 cents. There is no entry fee for contestants, but contestants must pay admission, Mrs. Hester said.

Proceeds from the program will be used to finance projects that will benefit the school. Everyone was urged to attend.

Eighth Grader Wins Spelling Contest

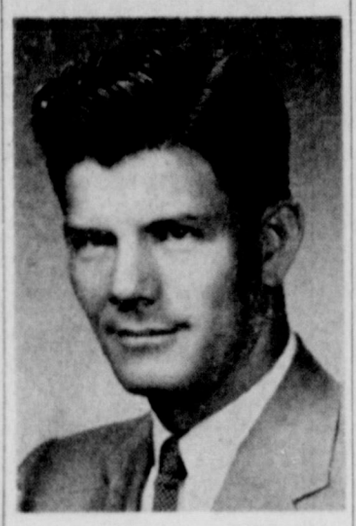

Sue Shelton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Shelton, will represent the Knox City school in the County Spelling Bee at the Munday Junior High School Saturday. She is an 8th grade student.

The local contest was held last Thursday, with Supt. Chas. E. Silk as pronouncer and Mrs. Philip Colehour as judge. The county bee, directed by County Supt. Merick McGaughey, will be held at 10:30 a. m. Saturday, and the winner will represent the county in the regional contest at Wichita Falls, April 19. Winner of the regional contest will receive an expense-paid trip to Washington, D. C. to participate in the National Spelling Bee June 9-14.

Sue's alternate will be third grader Olie Ray Garrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Garrison, who last year amazed spelling bee officials with his ability. Thursday Olie Ray was the last contestant to "spell down," stumbling on "invitation." Other contestants in the order they were eliminated, and the words they missed, were:

Baptist Revival to Begin Here Sunday

A 45-minute service for working people and school students and teachers will be held at 7 o'clock each week day morning during the revival meeting at the First Baptist Church which begins Sunday, March 16

Rev. Billy Frazier, pastor of the church, hopes every person in those groups will make a special effort to attend the early morning services. "What better way to begin a day," he said.

Rev. George McDaniel (Mack) Cole, young pastor of the First Baptist Church in Snyder, will be the evangelist. Song leader will be Roy Austin, student at Hardin-Simmons, Abilene, now serving the local church as youth and music director.

Rev. Cole is vice-president of Baptist General Convention of Texas, the youngest man ever elected to the office. He has pastored at Notrees, Breckenridge, Pasadena, Mineral Wells, Anna, and Lampasas, and served at Snyder since Sept., 1954.

He has been "guest speaker" at Baylor University, Hardin-Simmons University, Mary-Hardin Baylor College, and Wayland College, besides engagements at numerous church organizations over the state.

Before he reached 30 years of age, he was named to make a trip to Jamaica for an evangelistic crusade. He later visited mission fields in parts of South America and Central America.

Rev. Cole was born March 6, 1926, the son of a Baptist preacher. He is a graduate of Rufugio High School, Hardin-Simmons University, and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Other services during the revival, which will continue through Sunday, March 22, are morning worship at 10 o'clock; prayer service at 7 p. m.; and evangelistic services at 7:30 p. m.

Local Woman's Brother Dies in Abilene Sunday

Funeral services for Alvy Reuben Couch, brother of Mrs. H. E. Wall of Knox City, were held at University Baptist Church in Abilene at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday with Rev. Sterling Price, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Couch, longtime Haskell resident and former Weinert banker, died at Hendrick Memorial Hospital Sunday after suffering a cerebral hemorrage several days ago. He was 74.

He had been a resident of Abilene since 1940, moving there from Haskell County. From 1910 to 1932, Mr. Couch was with the bank at Weinert. Both he and his wife, the former Ethel Kinnard, are members of well known Haskell County families. Her father was a judge, and he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Couch.

Mr. Couch was born in Coleman County, Jan. 27, 1884, and moved to Haskell County with his parents when he was only eight months old. All together, he lived in the county 56 years.

He attended Baylor University during his youth. He and Miss Kinnard were married June 15, 1910, at Haskell.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Earl E. Taylor of Barnsdall, Okla., and Mrs. Joe G. Winstead of Oklahoma City; one son, Alvy R. Couch Jr. of Jasper; two brothers, E. R. Couch and G. R. Couch, both of Haskell; two sisters, Mrs. L. B. Hammers of Houston and Mrs. Wall of Knox City; and six grandchildren.

Burial was in the Willow Cemetery, where graveside rites were held at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Heaviest Snow Of Winter Falls Here Wednesday

Knox Citians were greeted Wednesday morning by the area's heaviest snowfall of the winter, which was measured at 7 inches by Weatherman Horace Finley.

The snow started falling about midnight and blanketed the ground by daybreak, and continued falling in heavy flurries Wednesday morning. By nightfall it had melted from the sidewalks and streets, but the ground was still covered this morning.

The snow furnished .78 inch moisture, which added to .70 received last week end, brought the total since last Thursday up to 1.48 inches. The year's total so far is 3.67, compared to 3.70 on the same date last year.

Truscott Baptists Plan Homecoming

Forthcoming events at the Truscott Baptist Church were announced this week by the pastor, Rev. E. W. (Jack) Davis.

The annual church homecoming is slated for Easter Sunday, April 6. The day's activities will include preaching by Rev. E. G. New of Arkansas and Rev. J. W. English of Glen Rose, both former pastors. Song leaders will be Mrs. Tom Westbrook and L. D. Hickman, and Mrs. Owen New will be pianist.

Dinner will be served on the church grounds, followed by a community singing at 2 p. m.

"We are trying to bring the old timers, the young at heart and the youth together again," the pastor said. He urged everyone to attend the homecoming.

Also scheduled for Easter Sunday is a sunrise service at 5:30 a. m., and an Easter egg hunt in the afternoon.

A Spring revival will begin at the church Monday, April 7, and continue through April 13. Evangelist will be Rev. K. E. Woolley, pastor of the Benjamin Baptist Church, and Rev. Bill Hall, pastor of the Gilliland Baptist Church, will be song evangelist.

The public was urged to attend the meeting.

O'Brien Meets Quota In Red Cross Drive

Bert Davis, O'Brien community chairman of the 1958 Red Cross Fund drive, said his community reached its quota in only a few hours.

The drive began in Haskell County last Tuesday morning. By noon, Davis had reported a full quota of $490. The community led all other towns in the county in reaching its goal.

Six O'Brien citizens were killed and many homes damaged and demolished when a tornado struck this area March 13, 1953. The Red Cross sent personnel to the area to aid the stricken families and helped rebuild a number of homes.

Davis expressed his appreciation to O'Brien citizens for their cooperation in the fund drive.

Plans for incorporating the O'Brien community under the general laws of the state were launched at a public meeting Tuesday night at the Fellowship Hall in O'Brien.

Those attending signed a petition requesting Haskell County Judge Alfred Turnbow to call an election on the question of incorporating.

Dwight Gothard, who presided, said the community's desire to incorporate is caused primarily by the need for a water and sewer system. If the election carries plans are to operate under the aldermanic form of city government, consisting of a mayor and five councilmen.

Population of O'Brien in the 1950 census was 300, and Gothard estimated it is still about the same. Each fall, however, the population increases manyfold due to the influx of laborers for the cotton harvest.

Many communities in the state smaller than O'Brien are incorporated, the smallest being Belcherville in Montague County, with a population of 31.

Although the O'Brien group had consulted with Ransom Galloway, who is handling bonds for the O'Brien school district, the move to incorporate is not connected in any way with the school building program, it was stated.

Others present at the meeting, all of whom signed the petition requesting an election, were Ford Waldrip, A. A. Cox, A. R. Matura, Edgar Stanfield, Mrs. A. A. Cox, Mrs. Ford Waldrip, R. T. Carney, Grady Ellis, Bill Johnston, Dwight Griffin, S. N. Reed and C. B. Banner.

Judge Turnbow did not indicate when the election will be called.

Bula Drops Benjamin In Regional Tourney

Bula staged a third-quarter rally to stop Benjamin, 55-52, in the Region 1-B girls basketball tournament at Canyon Friday night.

Benjamin held a 44-35 lead midway of the third period but Bula made nine straight points to knot the county at 44-44 and won going away.

Benjamin's sharp-shooting twins, Glinda and Linda Cox, made 24 and 20 points, respectively, but high scorer of the game was Betty Hallford of Bula with 29 points.

LIONS CLUB VOTES TO SPONSOR LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL HERE

The action was taken after John Waddell, chairman of a committee named last week to investigate the feasibility of the project, had reported on the committee's findings. Other members of the committee are Don Reeves and Charles Reese.

Waddell said the parking area at the Greyhound Athletic Field is available as a site for the diamond. Some light poles are already up, and West Texas Utilities has tentatively promised some help in lighting the field.

Club president Paul Hoge asked the committee to work out further details of the project and report back to the club.

Program at the club meeting Wednesday was furnished by members of the Knox City Junior Band, directed by W. J. Morris. The program was the second furnished by the school as part of the Public Schools Week observance.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEXAS. — State's fiscal cupboard is bare at the moment. By the end of the month it'll probably be about $20,000,000 short, says State Treasurer Jesse James.

Texas' treasury has been runing in the red during spring months for several years. Situation corrects itself sometime after April when sizable state tax payments come in. For more than a decade the state has come out solidly in the black by the end of each fiscal period.

This year Treasurer James predicts incoming revenue will wipe out the deficit by May or June.

But there's a difference this year. Lagging oil revenues have choked off a sizable hunk of expected tax income. Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, the state's official income estimator, sees another—and worse—deficit by next fall. By the end of the present budget period in August, 1959, he estimates the state will have spent $32,000,000 "on the cuff."

This estimate holds even if oil production picks up within the next few months.

Meanwhile, state banks are still cashing the state's warrants and holding them until the state gets money in to pay them.

A PENNY SAVED — With an eye on the state's depleted coffers, the Legislative Budget Board is asking state departments to look for ways to pare expenses.

Board's letter calls on department heads to "review . . . each activity in your organization to determine if there is anything that can be eliminated without detriment to the citizens of Texas."

DEFENSE NEED CITED — It won't be just Texas that will suffer if oil importing continues, says Railroad Commission Chairman Olin Culberson.

In an Austin speech to members of Texas Service Stations Associated, Culberson took the usual swat at imports for draining some $1,000,000 a day from Texas economy.

But above this, he said, is the danger to national security if the domestic oil industry is stragled and the country becomes dependent on oil fields "half a world away."

"It's suicidal," said Culberson.

He doesn't see prospect of cheaper gasoline from imports, said the Railroad Commissioner. Europeans, who get all their oil from the Middle East, pay from 80 cents to $1.10 per gallon, he said.

NO TREND YET — Texas Employment Commission's latest report showed a slight drop in number of jobless—from 79,604 to 79,079.

But the change was not enough to indicate a "turning point," the hoped-for spring upswing in job activities.

DIFFERENCE IN VIEW — Texas Supreme Court is considering the arguments of rival groups of optometrists who don't see eye to eye on advertising.

One group, associated with Texas State Optical, contends a law passed by the last Legislature prohibits eye glass advertisements mentioning price. Opponents from Lee Optical declare the section of the law limiting advertising is unconstitutional because it wasn't mentioned in the caption bill.

Suit is part of a long history of legal maneuvering between competiting optometry firms.

LOAN STUDY SET — Small loan study group of the Legislative Council will hold a series of fact-finding hearings over the state. First will be April 4 in Houston.

Numerous organizations and officials have, for some years, called for an overhaul of loan laws, charging that small borrowers have been exploited. State Junior Bar of Texas set the "loan shark problem" as its principle target at its recent meeting in Austin.

Sen. Abraham Kazen, chairman of the study committee, said any interested person or persons with information or recommendations is invited to appear before the committee.

ANNUAL SESSIONS URGED —House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock wants Texas voters to approve a proposed constitutional amendment to provide annual sessions of the Legislature.

Carr is campaigning over the state for re-election to the speakership. Voter approval of annual sessions also is being urged.

Budgeting on an annual basis would be much more business-like and efficient, he said, than on the present two-year plan.

'TAIN'T THAT TAINTED — No point in throwing away money, says the GOP, even if it's "tainted" oil money.

Texas Republican State Committee, meeting in Austin, voted to use $100,000 raised by National Committeeman Jack Porter for its state budget. National GOP wouldn't touch the money after Eastern newspapers headlined Porter's fund-seeking letter which reminded Texas oil and gas men they needed GOP support to pass the natural gas bill.

State committee gave Porter a vote of confidence in a resolution saying that New Dealers had distorted his intent.

FARMERS ADVISED TO PLAN NOW FOR IRRIGATION THIS SUMMER

"This is no time to forget about irrigation equipment," cautions Charles M. Hohn, research agricultural engineer, Texas A. and M. College System. "If you have been considering irrigation in the past, don't abandon the ideas just because we have soil-moisture now.

"Depending on present soil-moisture to make a crop is like trying to operate through the year on a bank balance which you don't replenish from time to time.

"True, we get rains occasionally during the growing season—and they just might be enough—but experience shows that the timing usually isn't the best for crop growth and production."

Hohn cites the 1957 crop year, during which the Brazos River bottom near Texas A. and M. received 57 inches of rain (the average annual rainfall in the area is about 38 inches) but tests showed irrigation was needed for profitable farming.

Most crop plans only take significant amounts of water from the top three feet or less of the soil, Hohn said. Any water which has percolated below that level plays little part in plant growth. At the best, that top three feet of soil can hold only a comparatively few inches of water, and not all of that is available to the plant without placing it under stress.

Evapotranspiration (evaporation and plant use, or 'transpiration') takes from .15 to .40 inch of water per day from the soil during summer growing seasons. Even a six-inch rain doesn't last long under such conditions.

Lack of water at certain times during the plant's life can cost the farmer a great deal of money, even during wet years, Hohn says. This is particularly noticeable in cotton, where great numbers of blooms and potential blooms fail to follow through as fruit; at least part of this probably is due to lack of sufficient moisture during critical times.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Smith left Friday for Sundown to spend several weeks with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lee.

Vehicle Inspections Reported Lagging As Deadline Nears

Out of 425,000 vehicles registered in Region No. 5, only forty-four percent have visited safety inspection stations and obtained their1958 safety inspection stickers, it was announced today by Major R. A. Crowder, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"All registered vehicles in Texas must be inspected by April 15 and have an inspection sticker on the windshield, Major Crowder said. He stated that there will be no extension of the April 15 deadline and advised motorists who have not had their cars inspected to do so now, before long lines start forming. "In the past, many people have waited until the last few days of the inspection period to have their vehicles inspected and have had to wait in long lines at inspection stations", Major Crowder said. An inspection of the motor number, brakes, head lights, tail lamps, stop lights, horn, windshield wipers, and mirror will be made as part of the inspection as required by law.

According to the records of Captain Alan Johnson, of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service of the DPS there are 4,123 vehicles registered in Knox county and only 1,330 or 32% of the vehicles have been inspected to date Captain Johnson had the same advice for motorists as did Major Crowder. He stated "By having your vehicles inspected today, you will be driving a safer vehicle". Johnson suggested that all motorists check their vehicle and see if they have a current inspection sticker on the windshieud and if not to have their vehicle inspected today in order to avoid the last minute rush.

Farmers Eligible For All Benfits of Social Security

Erton F. Tate, district manager of the Wichita Falls social security office, points out that the purpose of social security for farmers is the same as social security for other working people and their families. Social security insurance old-age benefits are intended to replace part of the income lost because of lower earnings or loss of earnings due to retirement.

Tate stated that the farmer who has no earnings after he becomes entitled to his social security payments may receive his benefits regularly. Even though a farmer did not retire after he applied for the social security payments, he may receive the benefits for all months if his earnings for the year are not more than $1200. The farmer whose earnings are more than $1200 may still receive benefits for some months if his earnings for the year do not exceed $2080, or if his farm work has been seasonal and he did not work in some months.

Tate pointed out that all farmers who have applied for the social security payments and who were not yet age 72 by February 1st must report to the social security office if their earnings for the year are more than $1200.

Persons who desire information or assistance in social security matters are invited to meet with the representative who will be in Knox City at the Old City Hall on Wednesday, April 16th at 10:00 a. m.

Home Gardens Popular in Texas

A good home garden can mean a sizeable saving in the family food budget and can provide a source of high quality, "garden fresh" vegetables for which there is just no substitute.

The county extension workers of Texas reported 499,910 home gardens in the state in 1957, of which 268,000 were grown in towns or cities, according to Bluefford Hancock, extension horticulturist.

Growing a garden is a way to relax—a hobby that can have pleasant and satisfying results to some people, while to others it is an important part of the family food budget, points out Hancock.

But regardless of the purpose of growing a garden, there are certain rules that should be followed to get the most out of it, he says.

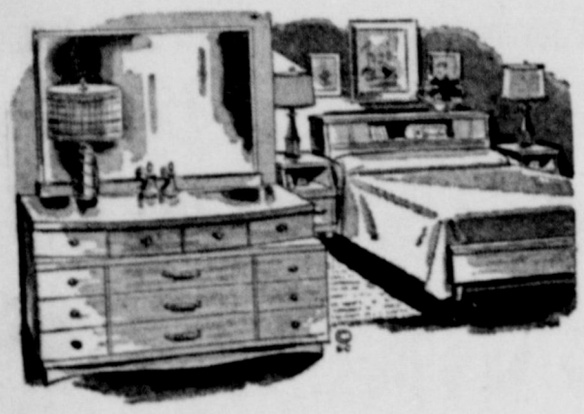

First, plan the garden in advance, advises the horticulturist. Develop a complete plan of procedure to follow.

Keep the garden small enough to give it good care, and it will produce a surprising amount of vegetables. Remember, it is a lot easier to plant a garden than it is to control weeds and care for it later—so, don't over-plant.

Make a heavy application of organic matter and commercial fertilizer, suggests Hancock. Excessive rains in 1957 have brought about some leaching of plant nutrients from the soil, particularly from the lighter, sand soils. Heavy applications of well-rotted organic matter to the garden site will help improve the physical condition of the soil and will supply some nutrient elements over a long period of time. Adequate applications of commercial fertilizer will help furnish a quickly-available source of nutrients.

Some other points stressed by Hancock are plant a variety of crops; obtain seed of adopted varieties; treat all seed with a protectant; and make a succession of plantings to provide vegetables for a longer period.

O'Brien Sets Track Meet

The O'Brien Invitational track meet will be held March 24, according to Coach Charles Yarbrough.

A limited number of invitations will be made to the meet this year due to a lack of dressing room facilities since the burning of the O'Brien school.

The O'Brien team also has accepted invitations to the Rochester meet March 22 and the Brazos River Relays at Leuders on March 29. The District 14-B meet will be at Rochester on April 12.

O'Brien began track workouts this week after advancing to the bi-district round in basketball. Danny Walsworth, all-state basketball performer, is the only returning trackman who scored in the district meet last year.

Walsworth placed second in the pole vault, third in the low hurdles and fourth in the high hurdles. He tied for third in the pole vault at regional.

'Susan Steps Out' To Be Presented By Junior Class

Susan is played by Martha Reed. She and her family have moved into a community, where Mrs. Albright and Susan are trying to gain recognition. Susan, who has been most popular in her old community and high school, tries desperately to regain her standing in the new community. She writes to a Mr. Dunberry,played by Richard Poteet, for a donation to help build a school gymnasium. Publicity and recognition flourish when she receives a $5,000 check from him.

The Dixieland Hotshots, directed by E. H. Tankersley, Jr., will give a 30-minute concert preceding curtain time at 8.

Schools to Vote On Change to 8-Man Football

Some area schools that have been playing six-man football will switch to the eight-man version of the game, Supt Elvin Mathis of O'Brien said Tuesday.

Each district will decide whether to use six-man or eight-man squads this year, but next year a statewide vote will be held and the game will be uniform over the state.

Decision on whether this year's playoff games will be a six-man or eight-man will be made at coaching school at McMurry College in Abilene the week of July 27.

District 4 has already been polled, Mathis said, and voted to continue the six-man game. However District 3, which includes Guthrie and Jayton, has indicated a preference for eight-man teams, as has District 13, which includes Oklaunion.

Streams In Desert Places

By Ozelle Stephens

When you have laid aside all malice, guile, hypocrisy, envies, evil speaking, when you have desired the sincere milk of the word which cause you to grow, when you have tasted of it you will know the Lord is gracious. You will understand Luke when he said, "And all bear witness and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth." (Luke 4:22).

When you have believed the word in your heart it becomes a part of you. It Streams through you as grace that is poured into your lips.

Meditate and you will find Jesus both precious and sweet every moment of your life.

Farmers May Use Optional Method Of Reporting Tax

Farmers, who will shortly be filing a combined Federal income tax and social security return for 1957, are reminded that they have an optional method of reporting their farm income that no other businessman has, Erton F. Tate, district social security manager at Wichita Falls, Texas announced today. Every farmer needs to keep accurate records to determine whether his farming operations are profitable and to help him prepare his income tax returns.

Only items that represent income from farming operations should be included on his social security report. Rental income when the landlord does not "materially participate" in the farm management and sales of dairy, breeding or work animals should not be included. Farm expense items including depreciation and taxes must be deducted from gross receipts in arriving at net earnings, the law permits a farmer with a gross income of $188 or less to use either his actual net earnings or 2/3 of his gross farm income for social security purposes provided the gross is as much as $66. If his gross income exceeds $188, but his net earnings are less than $1200, he may report his net earnings as $1200. This method may be used by farm partners as well as individual farm operators. It applies to farmers who keep their books on the accrual basis and those who use the cash method as well as farmers who use a fiscal year in reporting farm income.

Anyone desiring additional information on social security can meet the representative who will be in Knox City at the Old City Hall on the morning of March 12.

Ressell Makes Formal Statement to Voters

To the people of the 83rd Legislative District:

I would like to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for Representative of this district.

My great-grandfather, James Partridge, was one of the early settlers of Knox County, and I have lived in Knox County all of my life with the exception of the time spent in school and in the U. S. Air Force. I am now 27 years of age and reside in the Sunset community near Munday, Texas.

I am a graduate of Knox City High School and The University of Texas and feel that my educational background fully qualifies me to represent the people of the district adequately.

Also, having worked in the 55th Legislature and the two special called sessions which followed, I feel that I have learned enough of the legislative procedure to fully represent the people.

Since this area has always been my home I have the welfare of the people of this district as my main consideration in running for this office. I feel that the people are entitled to representation in the State Legislature which can only be brought to them by a young, aggressive person.

I am in favor of legislation which will benefit our schools, farmers, and businessmen and, if elected, my representation will be based fully on the opinions expressed to me by the people of the district.

It has been some time since there has been a Representative from Knox County and even though I feel that all countries in this Legislative District are entitled to equal representation, I do think that it is time for Knox County to have an elected Representative.

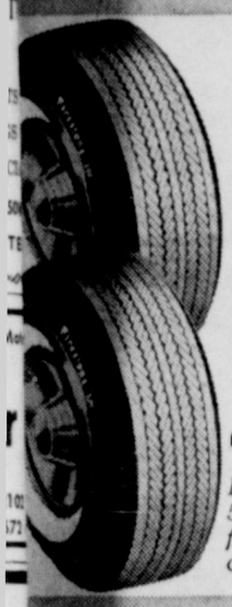

I feel that my youth, as well as my educational and business background, fully qualifies me to represent the people of this district in a manner best suited to their interests, and I will appreciate your vote in the Democratic Primary in July.

I will attempt to see as many of you as possible before the election to make your acquaintance and to discuss prospective legislation.

Leroy Ressell

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Tankersley, Jr., Jimmy and Lynelle, and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Tankersely were in Wichita Falls Monday night to attend a concert by the Blackburn Brothers Quartet of Amarillo.

Teachers Named To District Posts

Three local teachers won recognition at the annual meeting of the Oilbelt District, Texas State Teachers Association, in Abilene Friday and Saturday.

Supt. Chas. E. Silk was elected delegate to the state convention which will be held in Austin in November. He was elected by the House of Delegates of which he was a member.

Mrs. E. F. Branton, elementary principal, was elected vice-president of the English group, and Mrs. Ottis Cash, high school English teacher, was elected treasurer of the same group.

All Knox City teachers attended the meeting. Classes here were dismissed Friday.

The first general session began at 10 a. m. Friday in Abilene High School auditorium, opening with a musical program by the host band. A. E. Wells, Abilene superintendent, gave the welcome address.

Mrs. Sadie Ray Powell, president of the association, brought greetings from TSTA, and Supt. C. L. Yarbrough of Snyder brought greetings from the National Education Association. Principal speaker was Dr. Ernest O. Melby, professor of education, Michigan State University.

Luncheon meetings were held at 12:15 Friday with sectional meetings beginning at 2.

At the evening general session, Frank McIntyre, public relations director of California Teachers Association, spoke, using as his subject "Building a Better Mousetrap."

Supt. Silk said the House of Delegates voted two changes in future district meetings. Sectional meetings will be held on Friday and Saturday meetings will be dispensed with. The other change involves the meeting of the delegates which, in the future, will be held on Thursday night prior to the general session on Friday. Members voted on the changes on a two year basis. Supt. M. J. Kirby of Vera was also on the House of Delegates.

The delegates recommended that the annual meeting of the state association, which is now held at Thanksgiving time, be held at some other time, preferably in the spring.

Senior Class Hears Midwestern Professor

They talked to the class about college life and entrance requirements. A question and answer period followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Angle and Gary spent the week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Q. C. Davis and Mrs. J. C. Angle. Mrs. Davis and Judy Angle, who had visited her grandparents here the past month, returned home with them Sunday. The Angles moved this week into a new 3-bedroom home which they recently purchased.

Fertilizers Should Be Bought by Grade

The real cost of any fertilizer is measured in terms of the per unit cost of plant nutrients applied to the soil. So, before farmers buy a fertilizer, they should look at the grade analysis and see if the same quantity of plant nutrients can be obtained cheaper in a higher analysis fertilizer, advises Bill Bennett, extension soil chemist.

The grade analysis can give a farmer this information because it tells how much nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium each bag of mixed fertilizer contains, he adds. For example, a hundred pound bag of 5-10-5 contains five pounds of nitrogen, 10 pounds of phosphoric oxide and five pounds of potash. A hundred pound bag of 10-20-10 contains 10 pounds of nitrogen, 20 of phosphorus and 10 of potash.

These two grades of fertilizer contain the same ratio of nutrients, points out Bennett, but the latter contains twice as much in each 100 pound sack. So, even though the 10-20-10 costs more per ton, it is normally cheaper in the long run because of the quantity of plant nutrients which is obtained.

The cost per unit of plant nutrients is not the only way high analysis fertilizers are usually cheaper than low analysis fertilizers. When one sack of 10-20-10 can substitute for two sacks of 5-10-5, transportation costs are reduced. Not only would transportation costs be lower, but application costs would be less since less fertilizer is needed to supply the same quantity of plant nutrients.

So, low analysis fertilizers cost less per ton, but high analysis fertilizers are usually cheaper in the long run because the cost per unit of plant nutrients is lower, concluded Bennett.

Mrs. W. N. Smith is recuperating at the home of a daughter, Mrs. C. Westerfield, at 3700 Bertrose Ave., Ft. Worth, after spending a month in Harris Hospital. She underwent surgery at the hospital for the removal of two malignant tumors.
