Lions JamBree Saturday Night

The next monthly Floydada Lions JamBree will be held this Saturday night, January 4, in the Massie Activity Center. Show starts at 7:30 p.m.

The "Plowboys," a country and western group from Paducah, will join the regular group and "Brio," Floydada's high school rock group, has been invited to play also.

The show is very informal and admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for high school and under. All proceeds go toward the purchase of a good public address system for the MAC. Area musicians who have participated in past shows will be back again. This is a monthly affair for the Lions Club.

Commissioners Split

In a called meeting Tuesday morning the Floyd County Commissioners Court split voted on a cent raise per mile allowance for the sheriff and his deputies.

Judge J.K. Holmes broke the tie vote and voted in favor of an increase from 12 cents to 13 cents per mile to run the sheriff and deputies autos.

The sheriff and deputies had asked for 15 cents per mile and salary raises more than previously approved for the January 1, 1975 10% raise for all county officials.

Commissioners Bob Jarrett and Jack Lackey voted against the cent raise.

EMERGENCY AREA

In other business the commissioners voted to send the following letter to Governor Dolph Briscoe. If Floyd County is designated as an "emergency area" Floyd farmers may be able to borrow money to put in another crop from the Government at a lower rate of interest.

The letter reads:

"Dear Governor,

The enclosed information is from Floyd County with regards to the severe drought conditions from October 1973 through July 31, 1974; hailstones during growing season of 1974 and excessive rainfall and below normal temperatures from about August 1974 through November 1974.

We request that you use the attached information to request that Floyd County be designated an emergency area by the secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Signed by Commissioners Court

The commissioners also voted to accept bids to build a 50 x 100 foot barn at 303 E. Mississippi in Floydada to replace the existing barn.

Weather Hurts Crop Income

By Wendell Tooley

Prosperity. . . .or the lack of prosperity goes in Floyd County as the farmer goes. Looking back to 1974, Floyd farmers were adversely affected by weather that was too dry. . . .then too wet.

The result was poor wheat, grain sorghum, cotton crops.

Although wheat and grain sorghum prices hit all time highs, cotton continued to slump from harvest time right into the end of the year.

Looking at the front pages of the Hesperian for the year month by month, there was both good and bad news, we feel that there was more good than bad. . . .so let's take a month by month look back at 1974.

Some Cotton Going Into Government Loan

A Floyd County farmer needs to sell his cotton to pay his debts, and yet he would like to hold it until the price goes better. What is his best plan for achieving the sale and yet having a chance for rising markets?

To date around 40 Floyd farmers have put their cotton in the government loan program. Government loan price is 27.05 per pound strict low middling, 1 1/16" staple and from 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire.

ASCS office manager Tom Moore said the price for Floyd cotton was running from 13c to 27c per pound.

Only cost for putting cotton in the loan is 25c per bale and the deadline is May 31. Buyer of the cotton, should it come out of the loan, will pay 9.375 interest.

SEED PRICE GOOD

Only bright spot on the cotton picture seems to be the good price of cotton seed. . . which is more than paying for the ginning.

Three Injured In Auto Accident

Marcellus Collins, Leon Barnes and Michael Curry were all hospitalized Sunday when the Volkswagen in which they were riding crashed almost head on with a Chevrolet Carryall driven by Freddy Parson.

Floydada police chief Tom Hopper said the accident happened about 12:29 p.m. in broad daylight, on wide 12th street (Silverton Highway) near the rodeo grounds.

There were also three persons in the Carryall, but none hospitalized. Chief Hopper said no charges had been filed because he had not been able to question the hospitalized driver of the Volkswagen.

Her honor attendants were Miss Tani Murrah of Muleshoe, Texas, and Miss Gail Clark of Tucson, Arizona. They wore long buttercup yellow princess styled gowns and large yellow picture hats of lace. Children enjoyed a Christmas party in the gym at the Neighborhood Center Monday, December 23. A Christmas tree, donated by the Fire Department was piled with a gift and a Christmas stocking, filled with fruit, candy and nuts, for each child present. The children played games in the balloon decorated gym. Mrs. Sunny McDonald played the harpsichord to accompany the children as they sang Christmas Carols. The children were seated in front of a Manger scene to hear the Christmas story told by Mrs. McDonald.

Refreshments of punch, Christmas cookies and candy canes were served. 60 gifts and stockings were given. 'Crosbyton Plan' Laid Before Residents

CROSBYTON (Special)—Senior architectural students from Texas Tech University last week presented the final version of the "Crosbyton Plan" to residents here.

The plan is designed to give city officials and residents ideas for orderly development of the city, and spark ideas to stimulate growth and development.

Dudley Thompson, who directed students, pointed to "creeping decay" that residents hardly notice.

Thompson suggested that securing additional outside payrolls would be a key to future growth. He suggested more research to determine how much revenue is being lost when residents shop outside the Crosbyton business community.

Three versions of the Crosbyton plan were presented. Each would result in wholesale change in the physical structure of Crosbyton. A "pedestrian type" business district was suggested, with a mini-mall effect and no access streets leading into the sector.

Other proposals include a new library, a day care center, an industrial park in the north portion of Crosbyton, additional recreational facilities including a "light recreational area" for senior citizens, and multiple family housing.

Either of the plans would require "several years for implementation," not to mention the investment involved, Thompson explained.

One idea which received approval from many residents was drainage of lakes surrounding the city into one central lake near the city park. This would be done by connecting the lakes with tile pipes and establishing city storm drains.

Discussing social problems, one of Thompson's students stressed that "goals must be established to benefit all citizens of Crosbyton. . .and now is the time to correct these problems."

He suggested that all three ethnic segments—Anglo, Mexican-American and black—should have strong representation in city government and planning.

Other ideas included seeking more jobs for local residents, possible rerouting of at least one highway and a wind-powered energy system.

Thompson and students will draft a final version of the plan and make it available for use by Crosbyton and other South Plains towns.

The Crosbyton project entailed two semesters of work by Tech students and was sponsored by the City of Crosbyton and the South Plains Association of Governments.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Foreign Countries Cancelling Cotton Contracts

NEW YORK (Special) — The recently passed Trade Reform Act may encourage Far Eastern countries to fulfill their contracts with United States cotton exporters, the president of the National Cotton Council said here today.

William E. Reid of New York pointed out that cancellation of cotton sales contracts by developing countries would be a violation of certain conditions set forth in the act.

He noted that one section of the law provides that the President can allow exports from a developing country to enter the U.S. free of any tariff so long as that country in turn gives U.S. products "equitable and reasonable access to its markets."

The specific question of cotton sales contract cancellation was raised on the Senate floor by Sen. Paul J. Fannin (R-Ariz.), who said some textile manufacturers in developing countries have repudiated earlier sales agreements now that world cotton market prices have declined. He noted that U.S. exporters had fulfilled their contracts the previous year when the situation was reversed.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.), floor manager of the trade bill, assured the Arizona senator that cancellation of cotton sales contracts by developing countries would constitute a failure to provide the U.S. with the market access specified in the act.

WELL, our Texas Longhorns didn't look too sharp in their football game with Auburn Monday night. I surely hope the Baylor Bears fare better. Since this is being written Tuesday, their game will be won or lost by Thursday when the Hesperian hits the streets. If people didn't realize how gleeful Baptist folks are over Baylor being in the Cotton Bowl, all they had to do was scan Sunday's Dallas Morning News. The First Baptist Church of Dallas, the largest church of its denomination in the world, took out a full page ad to let everyone know that it joined thousands of other Baptists in welcoming Baylor University to the Cotton Bowl. The ad also reminded that Baylor coach Grant Teaff would be the guest speaker at the church worship Sunday. Not to be outdone the Park Cities Baptist Church in Dallas was attended by both Baylor and Penn State players and the church ran a full page ad to issue its welcome. On a smaller scale the Baptist Foundation of Texas took out a quarter page ad in the Dallas paper.

HAVE any of you ever read a copy of Crickett? It's a lively and literate magazine for children. No, I'm not going through my second childhood, I just happened to glance through one in an office and a recipe on elephant stew caught my eye. It was included in an 11 year old's letter to the editor. It calls for one elephant, salt and pepper and two rabbits. Cut elephant into bitesize pieces (this usually takes two months). Add enough gravy to cover (about 500 gallons). Cook over kerosene stove for five weeks at 450. This will serve about 400 people; if more people show up for dinner, the rabbits must be added. However, you have to be careful, as most people don't like hare in their food. Like Linkletter said, "Kids say the darndest things".

In another letter to the editor, a 10 year old authoress advised the magazine staff that she was hard at work on her second novel about her life!

The magazine, published monthly, holds a story, poem and drawing contests, letters to the editor column and the Letter Box. It's an amazing magazine telling the whole generation of talented and enterprising youngsters.

TIRED of all the holiday foods? Try something different starting with breakfast. Take halves of canned pears and top each with fresh orange segments. Place in shallow baking dish and add ½ cup pear syrup. Top filled pear halves with a brown sugar-butter-cinnamon mixture. Broil until bubbly. It's a great call to breakfast.

Stuffin' Stuff — Hollow out radishes and fill with cheese spread. . .Stuff baked apples with nuts, dates and figs. . .Stuff celery with peanut butter and top with either raisins, peanuts, sour cream, jam or garlic salt. Don't go 'ug' before you try it!

Try buffet onions for a spicy touch with your main meal. Thinly slice one large sweet onion and one large cucumber. Separate onion slices into rings. Arrange on shallow dish and sprinkle with salt and freshly ground pepper. Combine one cup sour cream, two tablespoons lemon juice and two tablespoons vinegar. Pour over onion and cucumber. Serve chilled. Makes six servings.

For dessert, fold drained canned fruit cocktail, toasted flaked coconut and a little grated orange rind into sweetened whipped cream. Spoon into baked cream puff shells and serve sprinkled with powdered sugar.

OVERHEARD: Two women discussing the high rate of divorce in the country. "I wouldn't think of divorcing my husband," declared one. "Why, he's just like one of the family!"

-SIN (Part 1)

The Bible takes sin very serious writers thereof as they were inspir the Holy Spirit, have a keen aware of its heinousness, awesome guilt tragedy. They look upon it as no than a condition of dreadful estra ment from God. And he who deni or ignores it neither knows God no Word let alone what sin is. The makes light of sin that he might r the sinner. Sin and insensitivity increase together.

Sin is not defined in terms of someone thinks or allows nor is si fined in terms of a "taboo" of some but rather as "transgression of law, disobedience to God, deviation His Truth, and missing the ma standard God has set as well as c short of duty and His glory."

Sin comes due to our inability (c willingness) to control the sensuo fections, and selfishness as well a of Bible knowledge which brings of fear and love for God.

It's practice brings fear, shame, separation from God, seeking self tification, slavery, a curse and toward God and man. The guilty science brings a seeking to justify retaliation, accusing others, unbea guilt and desire to hide it from ot

God does not intend for man to ha live in and with sin or guilt, his so and shed his blood to prove it.
