New construction estimate closes at $6.1 million

Snyder's building year has closed out with some $6.1 million worth of new construction reported locally for the past 12-month period.

City of Snyder officials maintain such records in conjunction with the city's fiscal year, which runs Oct. 1 through Sept. 30.

The 1983 figure equaled some $1.3 million less than that reported this time last year when $7.4 million worth of building permits were issued.

Exact figures for both respectively are $6,106,635 and $7,446,338.

Even though less than the previous year, the 12-month period produced a steady growth in the city with the construction or application of 48 new single family residences; the new Eastridge apartment complex; and 14 new commercial business buildings.

In addition, one major project finalized this summer did not appear on the building tally since the building permit is still to be applied for.

This involves the senior citizen housing area to be named Golden Terrace Village. It will consist of 24 housing units of one and two-bedroom design and is expected to be built using some $633,000 in federally secured loans.

Other year-end building tallies include 85 mobile home move-ins; 75 carport and other accessory buildings; 30 major alterations or additions to dwellings; and nine major alterations or additions to commercial business buildings.

The month of September included a flurry of building activity — with 29 permits issued — but no new construction of a sizeable nature. While construction estimates exceeded $1 million during high months, the September total here reached just more than $261,000.

The month included two permit applications for new single family residences. The first was applied for by Mrs. Tommy Clemment, planning to build a 1,500 sq. ft. residence at 4112 Kerrville. David Strunk also applied for a 768 sq. ft. structure at 1509 39th St.

Eleven permits were issued for mobile homes during the month, a new construction estimate equaling almost $161,000.

Four slain in hangar

SHERMAN, Texas (AP) — Three men whose friendship grew with their love of ultralight aircraft were killed execution-style with a bullet in the head and another friend was shot to death as he ran from a hangar where they were to sell one of the small, noisy and colorful aircraft.

Authorities, who declined to speculate on a motive, said preliminary autopsy reports showed three of the men were shot twice in the head and the fourth — who may have surprised the killer — was shot five times as he apparently ran for his life.

"We know we've got four dead people. And we know a .22 was probably used ... and that's about it," said Grayson County Sheriff Jack Driscoll.

"It is not like when somebody walks into a 7-Eleven and shoots a clerk in the head. You know what the motive is then. ... It's the money. With something like this, you don't know. There is no reason," said Driscoll.

Three of the four had gone to the hangar Saturday at a North Texas ranch to discuss selling one of the single-seat, motorized hang gliders to a fifth person.

Driscoll said ranch owner Bob Tate, 51; Grayson County deputy sheriff Philip Good, 29; and Jerry Brown, 51, were shot in the head and their bodies were found covered by a carpet a few feet away from pools of blood on the floor and a card table.

He said the fourth man, former Sherman police officer Ronald Mayes, 37, may have walked in on the slayings and tried to run for his life. Mayes' body had been dragged almost 9 feet and was lying face down in a pool of blood against the side door. He had been shot five times, including once in the head.

A friend of Mayes, who asked not to be identified, said they had talked during the week about the execution-style slayings of five people abducted from a fast-food restaurant in Kilgore.

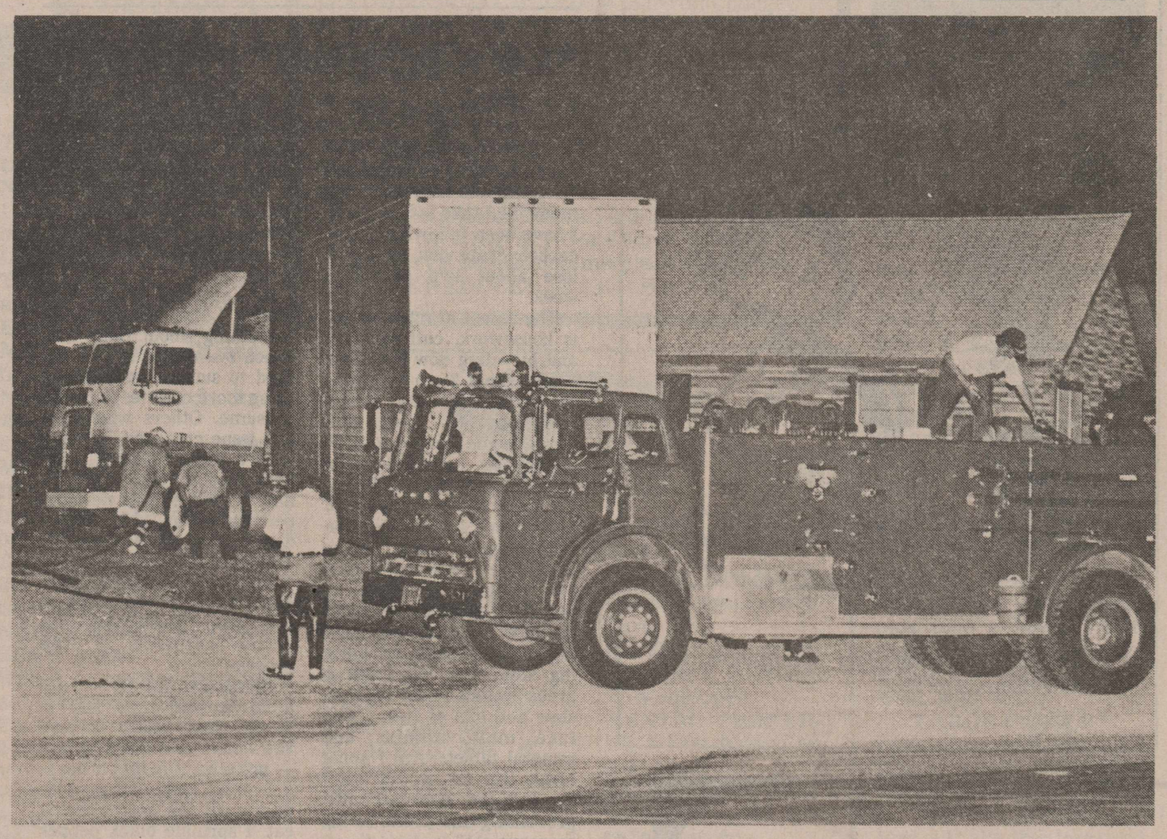

Driscoll said the bodies, which were taken to Dallas for autopsy, "were all warm. ... It had not been long."

He said investigators found 11 .22 caliber shell casings scattered around the hangar.

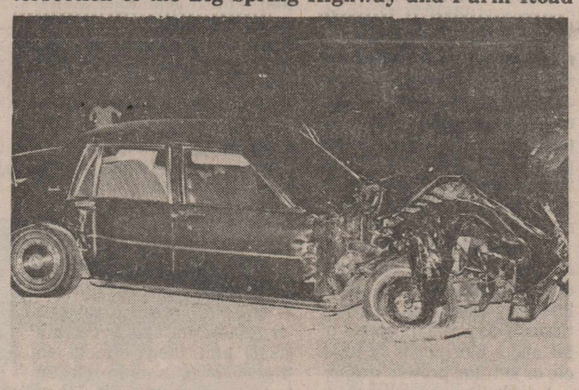

Investigators also found money ranging from $13 to $100 in the men's wallets and all still wore their jewelry, Driscoll said.

Relatives said an ultralight aircraft was missing from the hangar. And Driscoll said several people told investigators there should have been more than one plane in the hangar.

"I understand you could take one down and put it in a compact position in two hours," said Driscoll. He said the main hangar doors were locked but a side door was not.

NO SERIOUS INJURIES — 15-year-old K'ana Scott of Ira, driver of this late model Chevrolet (below), escaped serious injury after her car was struck by a tractor trailer rig (top) as she attempted to cross the intersection of the Big Spring Highway and Farm Road 1606 in Ira. The wreck occurred shortly after 7 p.m. Sunday. The truck jackknifed and skidded to a stop just inches from the Ralph Lindsey residence. (SDN Staff Photo)

Ira girl hurt in collision

A 15-year-old Ira High School student was reportedly home and doing well Monday morning following a major two vehicle accident at the intersection of Farm Road 1606 and Big Spring Highway shortly after 7 p.m. Sunday.

K'ana Scott of Ira was taken from the scene of the mishap to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by units of Aid Ambulance-Snyder around 7:45 p.m. where she was treated for what were reported to be back and neck injuries sustained in the mishap.

Scott was the driver and sole occupant of a late model Chevrolet sedan headed east on the farm to market road. It was struck by a 1971 White Freightliner as she crossed the intersection.

The truck, owned by the Frost Bakery of Odessa, was north bound on the Big Spring Highway at the time of the mishap. The driver of the truck, which jackknifed and skidded about 100 feet before coming to rest just inches from the Ralph Lindsey residence, was not injured.

Units of the Snyder Fire Department were summoned to the scene to wash down diesel spilled from a ruptured fuel tank on the truck.

Walker struck

A 70-year-old Snyder man was listed in good condition in Cogdell Memorial Hospital Monday morning after being struck by a hit-and-run driver shortly after 1 a.m. Sunday.

According to police reports, James Thomas Herrington of 1111 26th St. was walking in the 1300 Block of 17th St. when he was struck by a car which fled the scene of the mishap.

Herrington was taken to Codgell Memorial Hospital by units of Aid Ambulance-Snyder suffering from what was termed a possible broken left arm.

New phone plan is WTC bid item

The board of trustees for Western Texas College will again consider bids for a new campus-wide phone system Monday during the regular October meeting of the board.

Bids on these were tabled at the September meeting pending further study.

In addition, several new bid items are included on the board's agenda for action. These include bids related to the 1984-85 college catalog; a television for a WTC dormitory; maintenance supplies; and a microfilm cabinet.

Trustees will also select an energy engineering firm to complete an energy audit at the campus — part of a Department of Energy funded program to pinpoint energy saving measures.

Cowboy songs set for fun, histories

By Deanie Francis Mills

"We talk a while and play a while," says Dr. Thomas Isern about his upcoming program with Dr. James Hoy at the Scurry County Museum Saturday.

The program — slated to begin at 1 p.m. — is part of the upcoming celebration of the American cowboy "Where the Buffalo Roamed," sponsored by the museum.

Both Hoy and Isern will perform also during the 6 p.m. barbecue planned at the Scurry County Coliseum as part of White Buffalo Day activities here.

The two men, who co-write a syndicated newspaper column "Plains Folk," describe their program as "talking" about cowboy music. This includes how it evolved, the "cross-over" between blues, Western and folk music, the legends behind the songs and their singers.

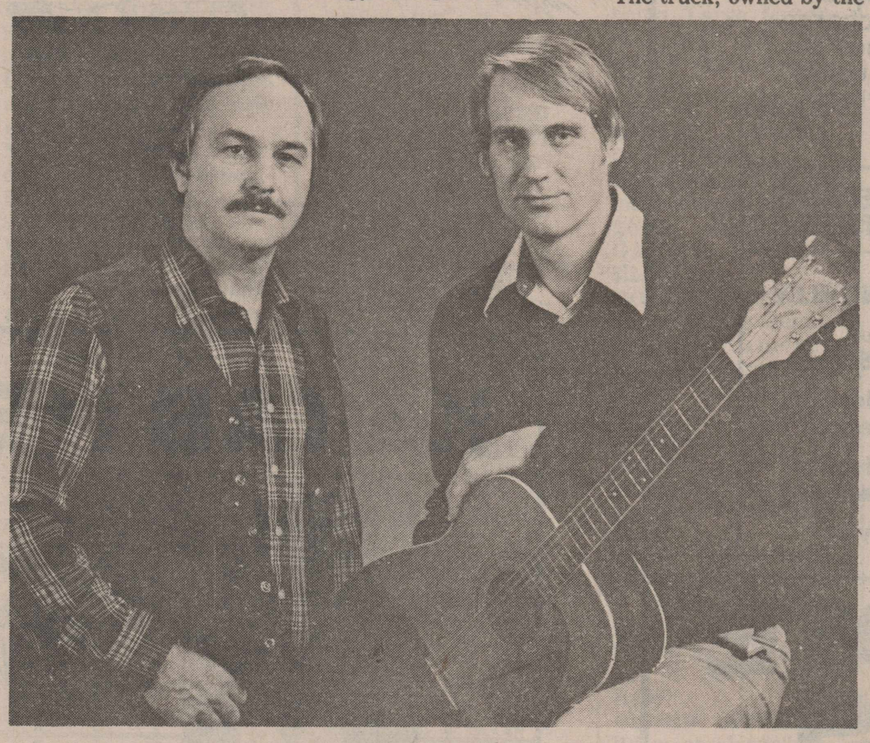

Along with the "talking," the men sing the songs, accompanying themselves on the guitar.

"Bob Wills, for example, got the idea for his music from the popular swing tunes of his day — the Thirties and Forties," said Isern during a sneak preview of their show. "He blended swing music with Western folk to create Western swing.

"Tex Ritter, you know, was a cowboy actor long before he was a singer, and he started the whole line of 'singing cowboy's," he notes.

Hoy emphasizes that their program, entitled "Cowboys and Ploughboys: Folksongs of the Plains," is not a scholarly presentation, but an entertaining show

Biathlon slated Saturday

White Buffalo Day activies planned Saturday include the first ever biathlon event in Snyder, the Buffalo Stampede.

In the past, the Buffalo Stampede has consisted of fun runs only, but has been expanded this year to include the twin biathlon events of a 32-mile bike ride followed by a six-mile run.

"Fun" events are scheduled also to include a two-mile run and a 10-mile bike ride.

There is no charge for either the fun ride or run. Biathlon entrants will be charged a $10 fee. This entry will include a special Buffalo Stampede Biathlon T-shirt valued at $8.

The T-shit will be offered to other participants as

In Brief

James Watts resigns post

WASHINGTON (AP) — James Watt, the victim of a mouth that misfired once too often, will give up his job as interior secretary as soon as a replacement can be found by the president and confirmed by the Senate. The search begins today.

Watt gave up an 18-day struggle to hold onto his Cabinet post Sunday but vowed to never abandon his crusade for "spiritual freedom and political liberty."

Standing in a California cow pasture, Watt read his resignation letter to a small band of reporters Sunday, his voice quavering at times. His wife stood at his side, holding the reins of their horses.

President Reagan accepted the resignation "reluctantly" and an aide said the president hoped to nominate a successor in one to two weeks.

"The time has come," Watt said. "It is my view that my usefulness to you in this administration has come to an end."

Reagan praised Watt for the "outstanding" job he had done managing the country's natural resources and said his "dedication to public service and his accomplishments as secretary of the interior will long be remembered."

In other action, the court postponed until next Friday any action regarding the county's nomination for directors to the Scurry County Appraisal District board. These nominations are now scheduled for a special meeting at 10 a.m. Friday.

Woman earns Nobel in medicine

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The 1983 Nobel Prize in medicine was awarded today to Barbara McClintock, an American whose pioneering research in genetics more than 30 years ago gained recognition only in recent years.

Miss McClintock, an 81-year old professor emeritus, is still active at Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory on Long Island, N.Y.

She becomes the third woman to receive a Nobel Prize in medicine. The most recent also was an American, Rosalyn Yalow, who shared the prize in 1977.

Miss McClintock, who will be awarded about $190,000, was cited by the faculty of Sweden's Karolinska Institute "for her discovery of mobile genetic elements."

Born in Hartford, Conn., in 1902, she was honored chiefly for her discovery of genetic elements in corn more than 30 years ago, the awarding panel said. The discovery also had a bearing on research of viruses carrying diseases.

"McClintock's experiments were carried out with great ingenuity and intellectual stringency. They reveal a whole world of previously unknown genetic phenomena," the Karolinska medical faculty explained in its statement accompanying the award.

In 1981, 30 years after making her most important discovery while working alone in a small laboratory, Miss McClintock won the $15,000 Lasker Award, the most prestigious American prize for medical research. She also won an award of $60,000 a year from the MacArthur Foundation.

Volunteers needed for VIVA projects

"Make someone's day special by becoming a VIVA volunteer," says Mary Farris, volunteer services coordinator at the Scurry County Senior Center.

Any county resident 60 years of age or older is a candidate for VIVA membership, Mrs. Farris points out. VIVA stands for Very Important Volunteers in Action.

"In looking at the needs in the community, I am finding that our senior citizens are much in demand to lend a loving, caring hand," Mrs. Farris said. "For example, our school teachers do such good work with our children and there are times when they could use help. There are also a few hours a week that outside help is needed in our nursing care centers, for those people need and enjoy someone coming in to help make a routine day special.

"Volunteering is one of the most rewarding activities you can find," Mrs. Farris continued. "We would like to have more senior citizens in our volunteer group, and I would be happy to talk to prospective volunteers about the kind of work they would like you to do."

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb,M.D.

Slow weight-loss

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have a weight problem. I am 53 years old and the only medicine I take is Premarin. I have been following a low-carbohydrate diet to try to lose about two pounds a week.

The extent of my exercise is housework, cutting grass and bicycling now and then. I take about 25 to 30 grams of carbohydrates daily. According to some diet books, some people lose 20 pounds or more the first month. Is this possible?

I also went to the extent of purchasing an ear stimulator which I think is an expensive fraud. In the past two months I have lost 16 pounds. I started at 185 and am now 169, but I am holding and don't seem to be losing any more. All I eat is green lettuce salad or coleslaw and lots of fish. I also take multi-vitamins and mineral tablets. Am I going about this the wrong way? Or are the hormone pills preventing me from losing more weight?

Would you please tell me if this is all I can expect? My goal is 30 pounds, which seems like a mountain.

DEAR READER — Congratulations. It is tough to lose weight slowly and, if anything, you are losing too fast. Those exaggerated claims about weight loss never say pounds of fat, just pounds — and most of the pounds are from water loss that comes right back when you return to eating a normal diet.

If you starved and ate nothing, which I certainly don't recommend, you would lose only about one pound of tissue a day, a half pound of fat and a half pound of muscle or similar protein tissue.

I don't like your diet. You need to develop a balanced low-calorie diet. Then you can follow it thereafter and not regain the weight. As it is now, you will probably gain your fat back when you return to a more balanced eating plan. And I would like to see more of your fat loss related to an increase in exercise that becomes a permanent part of your lifestyle.

As explained in The Health Letter 20-10, Doing Something About Body Fat, which I am sending you, the road to success is based on using more calories than you consume. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

And an ear stimulator or other devices only work if you stop consuming too many calories in the process.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 45-year-old man and in fairly good health. I love raw onions and black pepper — not always in that order.

I have raw onions with nearly all the sandwiches I eat. I sprinkle black pepper with all my meals. Are these two habits good or bad for your health?

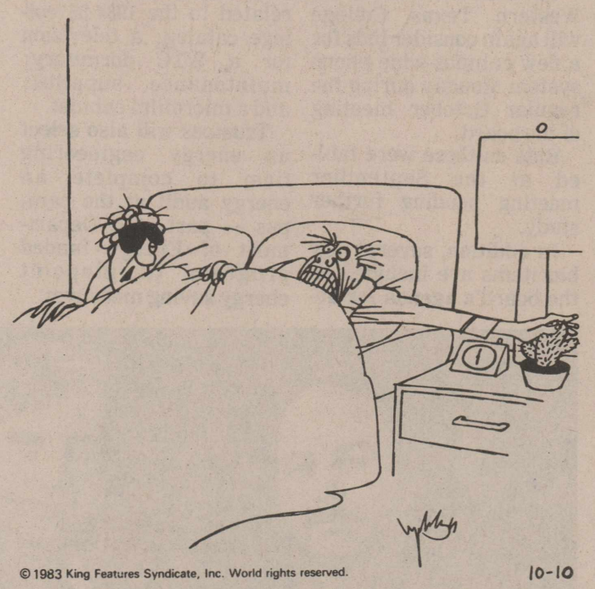

DEAR READER — You have heard the saying, "One man's meat is another man's poison." That certainly applies to most spices, including onions, garlic and black pepper.

If they don't cause you to have symptoms of indigestion, they are not likely to cause you any harm. Some people who have digestive complaints from acidity to excessive gas, bloating and colon symptoms find that spices aggravate or cause the condition.

The best way to resolve the question about certain foods and their effects on digestion is simply on an individual basis. If they bother you, don't use them. If they don't and you like them, enjoy them.

"That's not the alarm... that's the cactus..."

Paul Harvey

The dust has settled now. The righteous indignation has been ventilated.

It is all right now to say, "Bully for you, Chuck Lichenstein!"

Not since General Tony McAuliffe responded to a surrender ultimatum during the Battle of the Belgian Bulge with the one word, "Nuts!"

Not since then has any ranking American expressed our national consensus so succinctly...

Until September 18, 1983, when our U.N. Ambassador Charles Lichenstein invited the Soviets to get out of the United States and to take the whole United Nations with them!

Monumentally refreshing candor!

The knee-jerk reaction from some U.N. employees and some one-wordly members of Congress was righteous wrath, demands that Chuck Lichenstein be fired.

The State Department disavowed his remark, called it "a personal comment," not an "official" one.

But most Americans I've heard from think he should be decorated instead.

The Wall Street Journal implicitly suggested, "Chuck Lichenstein for President."

Our ambassador never once raised his voice.

Instead, in quiet, measured phrases he wryly told the Soviets if they don't like it in the United States they don't have to stay here; they can leave anytime.

"And we," said Lichenstein, "will be down at the dockside waving a fond farewell as you sail off into the sunset."

Make no mistake, those words had to have a sobering effect on Moscow. For the U.N. has been holding open all our doors for them.

With U.N. credentials, any Soviet spy can careen about Manhattan streets ignoring traffic laws.

Indeed, their motorists are protected by our police at our expense.

The Soviet U.N. mission, off limits to us, can maintain elaborate electronics surveillance of public media and private phone calls — including our government communications.

And from that U.N. base KGB agents roam at will gathering secrets — recruiting.

The disproportionate assessment paid by American taxpayers for maintaining the U.N. in the U.S. is paying for the care and feeding of a Trojan horse within our gates.

Ambassador Lichenstein has no illusions about the Soviets accepting his invitation. They have everything to gain from maintaining this beachhead on our East river, this continuing, 24-hour-a-day intrustion on "American air space."

"geared to a general audience."

Isern grew up on a farm in Central Kansas, where "tractor music" first sparked his interest. He writes and lectures extensively on the history of farming and ranching. Hoy was raised on a stock ranch in the Flint Hills of Kansas, where he has been involved for years in rodeo, particularly roping. He also writes and lectures on subjects ranging from the history of cattle guards to rodeo history.

In their newspaper column, "Plains Folk," they discuss items ranging from harvest hands to Rocky Mountain Oysters. Both are employed by Emporia State University in Emporia, Kan., where Isern is the director of research and grants and Hoy a professor of English.

Their program will be a part of a symposium sponsored by the Scurry County Museum celebrating the American cowboy in literature, music, history art, folklore and contemporary culture. It is made possible in part by a grant from the Texas Committee for the Humanities, a state program for the National Endowment for the Humanities.

BSP program on human behavior

"Human Behavior" was the title of the program presented by Cyndee Gayle to members of Beta Sigma Phi Oct. 5 at the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Mrs. Gayle used a recorded tape on problem solving and communication along with exercise sheets to stimulate discussion on the subject.

Members worked in small groups on exercises dealing with "I-messages" and "You-messages." The subject matter was specifically geared to communication with children. In closing members discussed ways of establishing faith between children and adults so that lines of communication can be open.

Dena Ellis, president, conducted the business meeting beginning with the Opening Ritual by candlelight.

Cyndee Gayle read the minutes and Brenda Hedges gave the treasurer's report. The ways and means report was given by Twila Polk. She discussed the upcoming Christmas paper sales. Carolyn Limmer, program chairman, gave a report on the program and hostesses for Oct. 18. A report on the recent western dance was given by dance chairman, Brenda Hedges. Jean Rico reported to the group about Lambda Kappa's service projects. The business meeting was concluded with Wanda Early reading from the book of Beta Sigma Phi.

Hostesses were Jean Rico and Carlyon Glaze.

Dear Abby

Fire Prevention Takes Year-Round Commitment

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1983 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR READERS: Last year in the United States, 6,020 civilians and 117 firefighters died in fires, and approximately 300,000 civilians plus 100,000 firefighters were seriously injured. The total loss in property alone came to $6.4 billion.

In Canada there were 669 fire-related deaths last year, none of which were firefighters. The property damage was approximately $999 million.

This is Fire Prevention Week, and although fires occur throughout the year, each season has its own special fire hazards. Here are some tips for all seasons:

FALL: If you enjoy camping, select a tent made of flame-resistant fabric. Pack a reliable flashlight with plenty of extra batteries to light the inside of your tent — never use matches or candles. When building a campfire, place it downwind of your tent. And never try to hasten the burning by using gasoline or other flammable liquid starters.

If you use your fireplace, have your chimney professionally cleaned in the fall to make sure it's in good condition for the coming season.

WINTER: More fires occur during winter than in any other season. The reasons: home heating and the holiday season.

If you use a portable heater, be sure it is placed away from combustibles — draperies, furniture, paper, etc. Remember, the surface heat of some portable heaters may reach 500 degrees, so keep a careful watch on your children and warn them to keep away from heaters. Hospitals are treating an increasing number of patients with burns resulting from contact with the outside surface of some portable heaters.

For a Merry Christmas, choose a Christmas tree that does not have shedding needles, and keep it standing in water while it is in the house. If you choose an artificial tree, choose one that is flame-resistant.

After holiday parties, before retiring, check your ashtrays for smoldering cigarette butts, and carefully examine all upholstered chairs and sofas to make sure that no "live" cigarette butts have fallen between the cushions. Remember, most house fires occur between 8 p.m. and 8 a.m., when people are sleeping.

SPRING: Take spring cleaning seriously — clean out your attic, basement, garage and workshop. Throw out trash, especially combustibles like rags, newspapers, magazines, boxes and scraps of wood. Never smoke while fueling gas-powered lawn mowers or chain saws. If you must store gasoline, store it in a ventilated area in a can designed especially for that purpose. And store oily rags and paint in a cool place in tightly sealed metal containers.

SUMMER: When cooking out, never use flammable liquids near live coals. An explosion or flash fire could result. When you've finished with cooking, soak the coals with water and make absolutely sure they're out when you leave. Smoldering coals that appear to be "dead" can reignite as much as a day later! If you use a propane gas grill, always have the lighted match in position before turning on the gas.

Some tips for all seasons:

Never smoke in bed.

Never leave invalids or small children alone in the house — not even for "a few minutes."

Never use flammable liquids for dry-cleaning indoors.

Have periodic fire drills in your home to be sure everyone knows what to do in case of fire.

Keep easy-to-use fire extinguishers in your kitchen, cottage, back bedrooms and on your boat. And if you can afford smoke detectors, install them and be sure they are always dust-free and in working order.

The phone number of your fire department should be taped to every telephone in your house. If it isn't, should a fire occur, don't waste time trying to find it; get out, and call from a neighbor's house. And once you are out, stay out. No treasure is worth risking your life for.

It took less than three minutes to read this column. Was it worth it? I hope so.

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

Oswald: "You played in the special rubber bridge game at the New York Cavendish Club recently. How about some hands from that game?"

Jim: "Here's one that caused a lot of discussion. North and South were two good players. Needless to say they were unhappy with the result. Each one blamed his partner."

Oswald: "Actually there is a 10 percent play for the slam. If East holds Q-x or singleton queen of trumps, the slam makes. The first bidding problem came at North's third bid. Mary Zita (Mrs. Oswald Jacoby), who checks these columns, says that North should bid three no-trump rather than that obscure three-spade cue-bid and that South should have passed right there."

Jim: "South made that suggestion also, but North felt and still feels that if he had bid three no-trump, South would have gone to four diamonds."

Oswald: "You have already given me the South player's name. I am sure he would have bid over three no-trump, but maybe he would simply have bid four hearts, which North would have passed."

Jim: "North's bid of three spades was made by most of the experts who were asked about it. I was one of those who favored it, but Mother has changed my mind. He should have bid three no-trump."

Oswald: "Now we come to South's jump to six. A bid of five should have been enough with his hand."

Getting support at the college

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

Just a few notes and quotes of interest.

Western Texas College men's basketball coach Barry Davis said the Westerners are shaping up well for this year but he's still working to weed out high school habits of the freshmen.

"We're trying to fit our young kids in...get them playing with us," he said. "They've all been used to dominating the ball in high school and most of them didn't play much man-to-man defense. Basically we're just teaching them (college) fundamentals."

Davis also pointed out that former WTC All-American Paul Pressey, who now plays for the Milwaukee Bucks of the NBA, has joined the WTC Booster Club. Pressey is married to former Duster standout Liz Hooper.

"I think that says a lot for the school and the community," said Davis. "Former players like Paul haven't forgotten their ties here."

WTC also has two former students working in athletics, Phil Spradlin, who played with Pressey, and men's golf coach and athletic director Dave Foster.

Rice University reports that starting roverback Richard Crayton, a Snyder High School ex, is the Owl's third leading tackler with 30 tackles, 26 of them unassisted. Former Sweetwater player Everett Todd, a defensive end, leads the team with 55.

Finally, I was disheartened to learn the bleachers at Moffett Field won't be covered for next season. With most of the other proposals approved and under construction, it seems kind of like building a nice home and not paving the driveway.

I've always thought shaded bleachers might entice fans out of their cars and into the stands. Maybe, maybe not.

Maybe what I should do is be happy with what we've got. I'll admit I'm one of those people who are seldom satisfied when it comes to athletics or the education of our youth. I've always believed in first class facilities and better pay for teachers. The old saying "You pay for what you get," doesn't apply as well to anything else.

Speaking strictly of athletics and athletic facilities - this is the sports page, afterall - I'd hope to see a lot of changes. Tiger Stadium could use a facelift all the way around. Better bleachers, a new press box, new lights. And the school definitely needs a new track...it's among the worst in the district, if not the worst.

But shoot. We're only talking about our kids here. And if we didn't have it any better, why should they?

Boosters to meet

Snyder Football Booster Club is scheduled to meet tonight at 7 in the high school cafeteria.

A game film of the Snyder-Lamesa contest will be shown.

Everyone interested in Snyder Tiger football is urged to attend.

Tigers vie in Lubbock; come away with victory

LUBBOCK -- Playing with six freshmen girls and seven boys, Snyder won the C division first place trophy in the Lubbock Invitational Tournament over the weekend.

Snyder boasted 41 entries in three divisions. Seniors Chris Wiman and James Melott participated in the A division. Snyder entered six sophomore and junior girls in the B division.

Freshman Michael Risenhoover played some outstanding tennis to win first place in the C division of boy's singles. He won five matches before nailing a 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 victory over Perry Prudehome of Big Spring in the finals.

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) - Ronnie Black came from three strokes off the pace to catch Sam Torrance, then dropped a birdie putt on the fourth playoff hole to win the $250,000 Southern Open Golf Tournament Sunday.

Cowboys do it one more time

by The Associated Press

Somehow, they do it. Every week, the Dallas Cowboys do it.

This time, though, even the Dallas players were wondering whether they'd pull out another comeback victory.

And, of course, they did.

Rafael Septien booted a 42-yard field goal with 4:38 gone in overtime Sunday to lead the National Football League's only unbeaten team to a 27-24 decision over winless Tampa Bay. In all six of their victories this season, the Cowboys have come from behind. None of those rallies was more improbable - or more dramatic - than this one.

"We can't even lose if we try," said Septien, who had missed a 50-yard attempt earlier in the overtime, only to be roughed by Tampa Bay's Thomas Morris, giving Dallas the ball on the 28. "I was feeling terrible because I missed my first shot."

Dallas trailed 24-17 in the final moments and was deep in Bucs territory when quarterback Danny White was intercepted in the end zone by Cedric Brown. But the Cowboys forced a punt, taking the ball with 79 seconds left on their own 26.

White hit Ron Springs three times, then passed to Timmy Newsome on the left sideline. Newsome tightroped the final 35 yards of the 52-yard scoring play to tie it with 47 seconds left.

"It was amazing ... a miracle," said Cowboys Coach Tom Landry.

Elsewhere, it was Buffalo 38, Miami 35, also in OT; Cleveland 10, the New York Jets 7; New Orleans 19, Atlanta 17; the Los Angeles Rams 10, San Francisco 7; the Los Angeles Raiders 21, Kansas City 20; San Diego 28, Seattle 21; Washington 38, St. Louis 14; Denver 26, Houston 14; Minnesota 23, Chicago 14; Lions 38, Green Bay 14; Colts 12, Patriots 7, and Philadelphia 17, the New York Giants 13.

Tonight, Pittsburgh is at Cincinnati.

Bills 38, Dolphins 35

Joe Ferguson riddled th NFL's No. 1 defens against the pass for fiv touchdown passes and 41 yards. He hit Byrc Franklin for two TDs an also found Joe Cribbs for pair of scores, includin the tying touchdown fro the 1 wth 23 seconds to go.

Joe Danelo hit a 36-yar field goal at 13:58 of O after Miami's Uwe vo Schamman missed from 5 and 43 yards in the extra session.

Browns 10, Jets 7

Matt Bahr' 44-yard field goal - helped by a gusting wind listed at 16 mph -as time ran out moved the Browns to the top of the American Conference Central Division. Cleveland's touchdown came on Bobby Jones' spectacular first-half reception of Brian Sipe's 32-yard pass. The Jets' Richard Todd connected with Bruce Harper on a 15-yard TD toss with 1:28 to go.

Saints 19, Falcons 17

New Orleans, at 4-2 off to the best start in its 17-year history, got a game-winning field goal from Morten Andersen for the second time this season. Andersen, who beat Chicago in overtime earlier this year, kicked a 35-yard field goal as time expired. He had four field goals in all.

The Saints had been shutout in their last two trips to Atlanta.

Rams 10, 49ers 7

The 49ers went into the game as the highest scoring team in the NFL but managed only a 3-yard touchdown run by Roger Craig with 4:52 left. Eric Dickerson, the NFL's leading rusher, picked up 142 yards and the visiting Rams' only touchdown. Chuck Nelson kicked a 41-yard field goal for LA and Ivory Sully blocked Ray Wersching's last-second field goal attempt.

Raiders 21, Chiefs 20

Marcus Allen recovered teammate Frank Hawkins' fumble in the Kansas City end zone with 8:29 remaining to lift the host Raiders over KC. Hawkins was hit around the Kansas City 1 and the ball rolled into the end zone, where Allen fell on it, capping a comeback from a 14-0 deficit.

The Raiders, 5-1, marched 46 yards on six plays for the winning touchdown. Hawkins gained 29 yards on four carries in the drive, which was aided by a defensive holding penalty and an offside penalty against the Chiefs.

Chargers 28, Seahawks 21

At San Diego, the Seahawks blew a 21-0 margin. The much-maligned Chargers defense got the clinching score when Andre Young streaked 40 yards with an intercepted pass with 2:04 to go.

Quarterback Dan Fouts - playing his third game with a broken wrist - ignited the 21-point second-half rally by hitting Bobby Duckworth for a 59-yard TD in the third quarter.

Redskins 38, Cardinals 14

Washington continued to roll, winning on the road for the eighth straight time. Joe Theismann passed for two scores and John Riggins ran for three while moving into fifth place on the all-time rushing list.

The Redskins took advantage of four St. Louis turnovers and seven penalties.

Broncos 26, Oilers 14

Houston lost its 13th straight as visiting Denver, ranked 28th in the NFL in total offense with an average of 245 yards, had 262 at the half. Steve DeBerg, replacing John Elway at quarterback, threw for two scores, Rich Karlis kicked four field goals and Sammy Winder rushed for 165 yards.

Texas-Nebraska both win

by The Associated Press

Top-rated Nebraska and runner-up Texas both trailed 10-7 at one time, but the Cornhuskers won the hard way against unranked Oklahoma State, while the Longhorns went on a third-period stampede to trounce eighth-ranked Oklahoma.

The question thus arises whether there will be any change at the top of the Associated Press poll, where Nebraska has been a unanimous No. 1 for the last two weeks and has held down the top spot in each poll this season.

"We can't worry about the poll now," Texas Coach Fred Akers said following Saturday's impressive 28-18 licking of Oklahoma. "Check with us in four or five weeks. We can't retire because we've won four ballgames."

Nebraska's Tom Osborne isn't worrying, either. In fact, he said he was happy to see his Cornhuskers extended in their 14-10 Big Eight Conference triumph over previously unbeaten Oklahoma State.

"Maybe we learned something," said Osborne, whose 102nd career victory made him Nebraska's winningest coach, surpassing Hall of Famer Bob Devaney. "Everyone's been saying we're unbeatable and we wanted a close game like this. We showed that a team can't win ballgames with only one phase of its game."

The Cornhuskers had outgunned five previous victims 289-56. This time, their defense came to the rescue, holding Oklahoma State to three first downs and 85 yards in the second half and not permitting the Cowboys to cross midfield in the final two periods until only eight seconds remained.

In their annual brawl in Dallas, Texas struck for three touchdowns in the third period, capped by freshman Edwin Simmons' 67-yard burst, and trimmed Oklahoma, which was held to 197 yards - Marcus Dupree rushed for just 50 on 14 attempts - and was flagged 11 times for illegal procedure.

Texas managed to stay close despite three first-half fumbles.

In the only upset involving the Top Twenty, defending national champion Penn State got even after an 0-3 start. The Nittany Lions piled up a 34-7 lead on third-ranked Alabama and then survived a three-touchdown rally in the fourth quarter for a controversial 34-28 victory over the Crimson Tide, which lost for the first time in five games under Coach Ray Perkins.

Although replays showed otherwise, the officials ruled that Preston Gothard did not have possession of an apparent 4-yard touchdown pass from Walter Lewis that would have tied the score with seconds left and given Alabama a chance for a winning conversion attempt. However, a penalty against Penn State gave the Tide another shot at the 2-yard line. This time, however, Kerry Goode's run was stopped by tackle Greg Gattuso and cornerback Mark Fruehan.

WTC 2nd, 5th at rodeo

ALPINE -- Western Texas College men's team placed second while its women's squad was fifth in the Sul Ross State University NIRA Rodeo, held here over the weekend.

C.J. Urbanek won both goes and the average in steer wrestling with times of 4.5 and 6.6 seconds. WTC had four steer wrestlers back to the short round; Donnie Yorks who won second in the long go with a 5.0 run, Glenn Jordan, 6.7 in the long go and Todd Whatley, who was 7.1. Urbanek was the only one to place, however.

Sul Ross won the men's team race with 493 points. Western had 200 for second while New Mexico Junior College polled 165 points for third. Vernon Regional JC and Tarleton State University had 55 points each and Eastern New Mexico garnered 50.

Sul Ross also won the women's division with 230 points. Eastern New Mexico was second with 140, followed by Tarleton with 105, Howard College with 100 and WTC with 90.

Van Hale of WTC scored 72 points to win third in the long go and 71 points to win second in the short go of the saddle bronc riding. Hale, from Snyder, finished second in the average. Shane Smith made the short go, but failed to place.

Randy McPhaul turned a 10.9 in the calf roping long go to win fourth. He came back in the short go with a time of 14.0 to place third. He also took third in the average.

WTC had four of the top 10 short-round bull riders. Shane Smith and Ray Sutherland scored 77 points in the long go to split third and fourth. Smith, Hale and Dale Gideon all bucked off in the short go, but Sutherland marked 77 again to win second. He also took second in the average.

In the ladies events, Kellie Kyle won third in the long go with a time of 17.72 in the barrel race. She ran another 17.72 to win third in the short go and placed third in the average.

Kyle also reached the short go in the break-away roping, but did not place.

Judy Cox lassoed a calf in 4.4 in the short go of the break-a-way to take third. She was fourth in the average. Canita Cass was fifth in the long go, goat tying, with a time of 10.6. She did not place in the short-go or the average.

Western continues rodeo action this weekend, traveling to the Vernon Regional Junior College Rodeo in Vernon.
