Philadelphian, July 28—A slight, gray-haired man—wary, he said, from "fighting the inevitable"—Tuesday gave up his legal battle against returning to an Iowa prison farm from which he escaped 21 years ago.

McFall vs. Albritton Parish - Anderson Hawkins and Suttle

Standing beside the woman he married two years after his escape and with whom he has since lived an exemplary life, Clarence Arters, 55-year-old ship's cook, told Judge Byron A. Milner he no longer wished to oppose extradition.

McFall vs. Albritton Parish - Anderson Hawkins and Suttle

Arters had served 13 months of a one-to-five year sentence, for automobile theft when he fled from the prison farm at Clive, Iowa. He was arrested last March after a routine fingerprinting.

McFall vs. Albritton Parish - Anderson Hawkins and Suttle

"The thing for me to do, as I see it," he told the court, "is to go back there and pay whatever debt I owe society."

McFall vs. Albritton Parish - Anderson Hawkins and Suttle

Judge Milner declared that "it's a disgrace for a man who has led the exemplary life you have led after a single slip to have to return to prison." But he added: "I've done all I can for you and if you are sure this is what you want to do, I will allow the application for withdrawal of habeas corpus proceedings initiated by your counsel."

McFall vs. Albritton Parish - Anderson Hawkins and Suttle

Tears streamed down Arter's cheeks as he thanked the judge and others for their help. His wife wept, too, as they parted, yet she declared:

McFall vs. Albritton Parish - Anderson Hawkins and Suttle

"I am glad he is going to get this thing over with. I only hope he won't become bitter while he is out there without us to bolster him up."

Two of their six children, whose ages range from 5 to 16, sat with neighbors in the rear of the courtroom throughout the proceedings.

Capt. Ray Scott, assistant warden of the Iowa state prison, was here to take Arters back to Iowa. Arters faces the possibility of having to serve an additional five years for breaking prison, in addition to completing his original sentence.

Burk-Iowa Park Dry Up County Liquor and Beer Sales Continue 30 Days

The distinction, enviable or unenviable according to one's point of view, of being Texas' largest dry city, was attained by Wichita Falls Saturday when its voters decreed, 5,779 to 5,491 that the sale of all intoxicating liquors be forbidden.

Wichita Falls, for whom wetness was once upon a time a tradition, gave the wets a narrow majority, one that was swiftly overcome by returns from the rural precincts and the lesser cities.

Four years ago the county voted wet, 5,411 to 5,141, the percentage of wet votes being 51. Saturday the wet percentage was a fraction under 49. In the 1938 contest the wets carried 28 of the 44 precincts. Saturday they carried 22 of the county's 48 precincts.

The county, as a result of the election, will become legally dry 30 days after the county commissioners court makes the official canvass of the returns. County Judge G. H. McNeely said Saturday night the court would probably convene in special session for this purpose next Friday.

LOOK FOR SUGAR SUPPLIES AS TURN FOR WORSE

Washington, July 28—The Office Administration, re-estimated sugar shortages in Cuba and Texas, said Tuesday that submarine warfare and diversion of the outlook had caused the shortage of sugar supplies from Puerto Rico to "take a turn for the worse."

The drastic drop in re-estimated stocks in the Gulf area is attributable to submarine warfare and diversion of the outlook had caused the shortage of sugar supplies from Puerto Rico to "take a turn for the worse."

At the same time, OPA ordered beet sugar refineries to discontinue shipments into the six New England states, New Jersey, Delaware, and the eastern portions of New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia, effective Wednesday, except to fulfill previous contracts.

McFall vs. Albritton Parish - Anderson Hawkins and Suttle

The supply situation in the Northeast is now "somewhat better than earlier in the year," OPA explained, and need for emergency shipments from the West has decreased. However, OPA qualified this with the observation that "the uncertainties of the shipping situation may at some later date make it necessary to again direct shipments of sugar into this area from the West."

OPA also announced that it authorized shipments of beet sugar into Eastern Kentucky and Tennessee.

Still Free From War

Especially now do we need to gain the humble words of the poet, Burns, when he wrote of the gift of seeing ourselves as others would see us; especially now do we need to obtain a vision of ourselves as seen through a stranger's eyes. W. J. Haley, an English journalist has done just this. He has looked at America in war and his impressions are full of meaning for an America that means to carry through the spirit of victory.

Perhaps we have and always will be a complacent nation with the beauty of our South and the wonders of our West. Perhaps the fertility of our central and northern sections and the magnificence of our Eastern cities has made us a nation glorified far above the ranks of defeatism. But in many measures we are incomplete and we have not tasted grimness and futility. Our railroads have not yet been scarred and torn assunder by bombs, our wooded hills and productive plains have not yet been scarred and torn. Our cities continue to be lighted to the skies and our children have orange juice and milk. Our spirit is undaunted by the fact that we are not hungry—that pork and steak still is plentiful in our butcher shops. We are a vast America but we have not suffered yet, as the remaining world has suffered. We are mobilizing America but our beautiful homes are yet intact and our every day living has not been swayed much from normalcy.

"I have seen wasted materials and wasted men. I have seen castions of a community making war, yet being far from total war." So it is we are seen through the eyes of another—an Englishman that knows something of the destruction of his own country. So we are seen as an industrial nation of vast resources with an indeterminate national spirit, but have we come to full realization of the actual sacrifices of total war. We have not accepted the fact that "strength next year or the year after will be futile if we do not all have the strength now."

But we have taken great strides and our men and women have the zeal of great quest. We have the radio, the newspaper, and the screen to express our sentiments and the strength of their impact is unlimited. We may say and direct unmolested the freedom we possess—we may express the justice we believe. But we are being observed through the eyes of others and in spite of our apparent negligence, our thoughtlessness, our complacency, the words of the journalist come to us confident and not in the least critical or disappointing. We are America—an English speaking people so "help the enemy who dares to stand up against the implacable righteousness, the as-yet-uncoordinated fury of a continent bent on peace but forced by the deepest impulses of all to go to war."

Why The Tragedy?

The allied nations are simply going to have to rub the mist from their eyes and view the situation in the light of "bitter" truth. Now, why was the Pearl Harbor tragedy—why is it the Axis have surged with such force into Egypt—why such "tactical mistakes" in Libya—Why? A very few months ago we were merely reading about John L. Lewis and doing nothing concerning labor disturbances, and we were listening to isolationists declare that "it is their war, not ours." Now we are going to have to take it because we have been fooled, misled, and all these things that happen to people who are susceptible and too mild. England too, was unconcerned about her industrial fields but displayed interest in the events leading to the crowning of her king and believing that her navy was protection enough until the resounding of bombs awoke her to new meaning.

We are beginning to see that a number of years of dirty work has been under foot and who is to be blamed? We have had the work of sabotage within our own nation and what have we done about it—until recently? We listened to those isolationists and were foolish enough to believe we could put a single strand of barbed wire around our states and bask in the sun of security. We have just decided lately that long ago we should have prepared for a rubber shortage and practically just now we have realized we must save, and produce, and save.

Sevastopol fell, so did Singapore. The defenders of both were brave and held to the last but the facts are not all clear. World affairs have been handled haphazardly and through incompetent hands; they have been rendered to the unknowing public in the forms of the tragedies we are now facing. We are the ones to fight this war, to save, to give, and to do without—we are the ones to know and see that all is done the wisest way.

Opportunity! New Aspirations

Opportunities do exist today and will continue to exist to the person with initiative enough to search through to their source. Opportunity! New aspirations! To the man with self-denial, honesty, intelligence, and courage there are always new worlds to conquer, not territorially speaking, but in the sense of new fields of endeavor in work still undone. We are not at the peak of competition by any means and no matter how depressive circumstances seem, there is still something at the top for the one who guides his own destiny, skillfully and thoughtfully. What are the prospects of the World—the United States—of all individuals? Well, what do you think?

Burkburnett History

As revealed by the files of The Star 10 years ago.

The first Community night program to be held this season will be tonight, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. A stage will be erected and seats arranged on Ave C near the Corner Drug Store. The main feature of the program will be a band concert by the Burkburnett Community Band.

The First State Bank of Grandfield, Okla., was robbed at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon by two bandits. The cashier and stenographer were kidnaped but were allowed to leave the car after they had been taken a short distance south of the town according to reports reaching Burkburnett shortly after noon Thursday. As bank officials had not made a check-up, the amount taken could not be determined.

Mesdames Henry Grace and Horace Gotcher accompanied by their husbands, took their B.T.S. class composed of 10 year old children on a sunrise picnic to the City Water Works Tuesday morning. A good breakfast was served and games were played.

Alvis Swan, 20, of Burkburnett lies in a very serious condition as a result of a fight at a dance about four miles northwest of Burkburnett Wednesday night. He has a definite fracture of the skull on the right side and a bad laceration above the left eye. At 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon his condition was considered grave.

The furniture and hardware business of Collier Bros. in Burkburnett was recently incorporated and is now being operated as Collier Bros., Incorporated, of Texas.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Sunday night fire did some damage to the news stand of the Oil City News Stand. The cigar and cigarette stock and cases were badly damaged. The store has been closed since that time awaiting an insurance adjustment.

August Stamp List Includes Fresh Fruit

Blue stamp foods listed for August and announced today by David G. Guthrie Jr., area supervisor, Agricultural Marketing Administration, include a number of fresh fruits and all fresh vegetables, thus offering participants a healthful and varied hot weather diet. Fresh pears have been added to the August list of Stamp Program foods which are those obtainable nationally by participants in areas where the program is in operation.

By placing fresh fruits on the list, producers will have a broader outlet and greater assurance of a fair return during the period in which pears will be in heaviest abundance. Also pears will be a palatable addition to the variety of foods made available.

With this addition, the complete list of Blue Stamp foods issued by the Agricultural Marketing Administration for August 1 through August 31 in all stamp program areas is as follows: fresh pears, peaches, plums, apples and oranges, all fresh vegetables including Irish and sweet potatoes, shell eggs, butter, corn meal, hominy (corn) grits, dried edible beans, wheat flour, enriched wheat flour, self-rising flour, enriched self-rising flour, and whole wheat (Graham) flour.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 2.

The Golden text is: "Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you" (II Corinthians 13:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him" (I John 4:16).

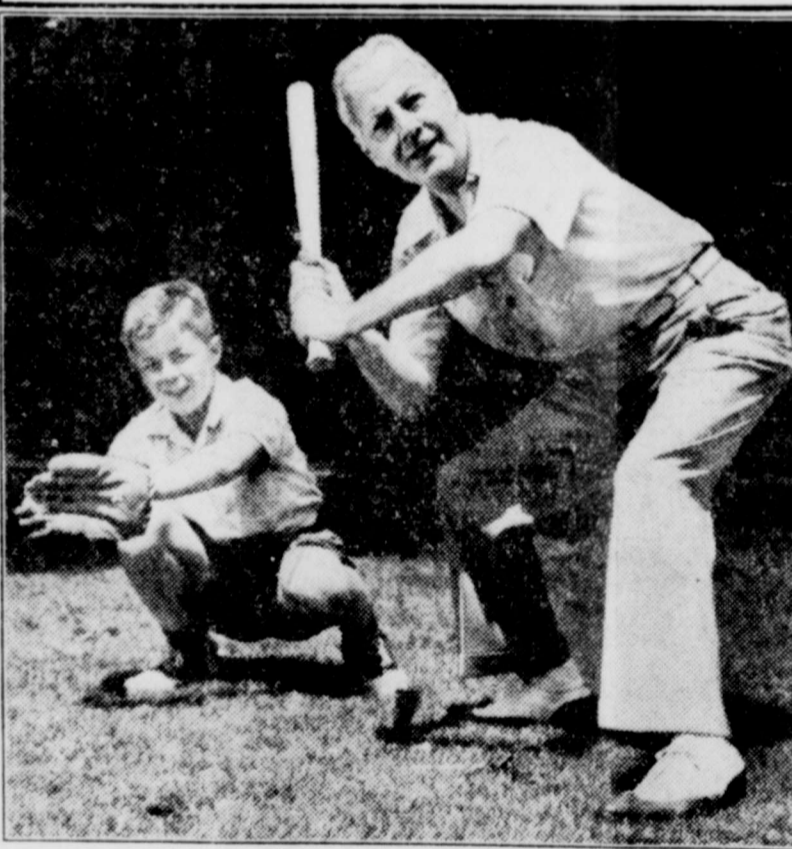

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. These are His attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle, Love." (page 275).

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Batter up! Baseball games in the back yard are excellent material for any picture diary of life at your home.

HAVE you ever thought of snapping one section of your snapshot album to pictures taken around the home? It might be titled, "The Four Seasons At The Smiths." And right now would be an excellent time to start such a picture diary. What better time is there to begin anything than this season of the year?

How would such a section be handled? Well, I'd suggest that you commence with a few general views of the house. That will start your collection by showing your home and where the series to follow is taking place.

Next, it would be a wise plan to introduce the principal characters in the picture story you're going to tell. Make a good informal portrait of every member of the family—including yourself. Then you can turn your full attention to picturing the four seasons at your home.

For instance, this year your family has probably started a Victory

Garden. Make some pictures of that, with Dad and the rest of the family working in it—perhaps admiring the first vegetables which have appeared.

Next, why don't you show the family getting the house ready for the summer? Everything that happens at your home—from bringing the chairs out onto the lawn, to putting up the screen door and washing the windows—is suitable subject matter for snapshots. And if you photograph revealing activities of that sort, you'll soon create a broad picture of your family's mode of life.

Finally, carry the project right on through the seasons. Jot down picture ideas as you see them, or better yet, have your camera ready for action and make the picture right away. If you take advantage of all your opportunities, you'll have a truly enviable collection of home snapshots by the time June arrives again. John van Gulder

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To: Martha Adkins, Defendant,
Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable 78th District Court of Wichita County at the Court House thereof, in Wichita Falls, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 31st day of August A. D. 1942, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 16th day of July A. D. 1942, in this cause numbered 37233-B on the docket of said court and styled B. L. Adkins, Plaintiff, vs. Martha Adkins, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: Being a suit for divorce, wherein plaintiff alleges marriage to defendant on January 26, 1938, that by reason of cruel, harsh and tyrannical treatment of defendant toward plaintiff, he separated from her in January, 1939, since which time they have not lived together, that such conduct of plaintiff renders their further living together insupportable, that no children were born to said union. Plaintiff sues for divorce and for such other relief as he may show himself entitled.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs. Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at Wichita Falls, Texas, this 16th day of July A. D. 1942.

Attest:
GLENN HAYNES, Clerk,

RUSSIAN FRONT:

'Terrible Days'
The gravity of the Russian situation could not be underestimated and no attempt was made to belittle its seriousness. Germany's report of the fall of Rostov emphasized the crisis.

As the sorely pressed Russians guarding the approaches to the Caucasus and the Volga river had fallen back before the million-man German army smashing its way southeast down the Don river valley, the Soviet army organ, Red Star, said frankly: "Terrible days face the country." "Terrible days face the fighting men of Russia to emulate the example of 28 Red soldiers, who in the defense of Moscow last winter, died fighting a tank charge with little more than their bare hands."
The speed of the new Nazi drive against the Reds' celebrated defense-in-depth technique was believed to be due to the Germans' use of a crushing, mass maneuver which employed monster tanks, armored trains, heavy mortars and an unprecedented concentration of air power.

Only comforting note in the bleak picture was the success of Russian soldiers in regaining ground far to the north in their counter-offensive around Voronezh. By turning the Nazis back here, Marshal Timoshenko might be able to take some of the pressure off Red forces in the deep South who had fought with their backs to the wall in defense of Rostov.

U. S. CASUALTIES:

Show War's Trend
Casualty figures released by the Office of War Information revealed that the navy's losses since Pearl Harbor were 15 times greater than for the entire span of World War I.

The OWI's statistics disclosed naval casualties thus far totaling 12,143 compared with 871 in the first World war. The current casualties included 3,420 killed; 1,051 wounded and 7,051 missing. Those of World War I included 356 killed in action; 58 died of wounds and 456 lost at sea.

The army's losses in the present war, were placed at 19,767. These included 902 killed; 1,413 wounded and 17,452 missing. That the Philippine Scouts trained under General MacArthur had given a heroic account of themselves was indicated by casualties listing 479 killed; 754 wounded and 11,000 missing.

Casualties for all services were placed at 44,413.
"The bulk of the army casualties fall into the category of missing," the OWI said.

FEMINE ARMY:

WAAC Trains Hard
Every morning at 5:45 a. m. from now until next November 9, 800 members of the newly organized Women's Auxiliary Army corps will leap from their army cots to begin a crowded day of drills, lectures and training at their camp at Fort Des Moines, Iowa.
By November 9, America's first feminine army of occupation will begin to spread out to 19 forts throughout the country to relieve men in the armed forces for active combat duty.

Scrambled Eggs:

Harlem is planning a monument up there in honor of Pvt. Joe Louis . . . The Rockefeller have hired two cops to guard the tomatoes in their Victory Garden . . . The Dry Dock Savings Bank permits depositors to sign or endorse checks with thumbprints. For those who can't write . . . Sounds like a Hitchcock movie, but the lads on a local newspaper claim it happened. A reporter covering a trial three weeks ago walked out of the courtroom and hasn't been seen or heard of since . . . You get an idea of how taut the war has made everybody's nerves when Lucius Beebe finds fault with Elsa Maxwell's grammar.

Years ago Clark Gable angered the knit-wear makers when he stripped to show he wore no undershirt. The movies made it up to the knitters in "The Male Animal." Henry Fonda peels down to a gym shirt . . . Somebody mentioned that Lefty O'Doul, the old major-leaguer, had taught Gary Cooper how to be a left-handed expert in "The Pride of the Yankees" flicker, where he plays the role of Lou Gehrig. Which led one Giant fan to cackle that "out-side of Joe Gordon—Gary is the only Yank that's hitting!" . . . Unconscious quip on King Peter at the ball game. The king, said a caption writer, "soon got into the spirit of the game. He left after four innings" . . . Bill Saroyan, who hasn't had a play on Broadway this year, has received more publicity than those who have presented hit attractions.

Things to waste paper about: First movietown was criticized for making films about the war—war-mongers, etc. Now they are being scolded because they don't make enough war pictures . . . Perhaps another reason you never heard any more twaddle about stopping "B" pictures is that Bs make almost as much as As . . . Add little ironies: The cast of soldiers in "This Is the Army" (who get $50 per month) find it swell pay for acting. Most of them appeared in turkeys which rarely allowed them to average that much . . . Vaudeville probably will never really bloom again. Because new talent aims for the networks where salaries are huskier and where there are no one-night stands—or irritable inn-keepers.

Those debating radio shows (not you, Town Hall Meeting) will never be as popular as silk hosiery on shapely legs. Depend too much on tedious statistics for their arguments . . . We can remember all the way back when Broadwayites were groaning that the dimout would hurt show business, which has never been healthier in summer-time . . . Don't get the idea that all soap operas on the radio are corny. A few are well written. "Against the Storm," frixample . . . The short about the American soldier, directed by Garson Kanin, with Spencer Tracy doing the commentary, makes thrills waltz along your spine . . . Tin Pan Alley is in a slump. Not one of the song-smiths has thieved a Tchaikowsky melody in six months.

Midtown Vignette: A girl ankled into the office of a magazine editor and sobbed a hard luck tale of no coin, no job, no friends . . . "If I had only one good looking dress," she said, "I'd have a chance of getting a job. Why is it everybody will bet on horses, but nobody will bet on a human being?" . . . Touched by her plight, he asked her what he could do . . . "Just give me a chance," she told him, "buy me a wardrobe and you'll never regret it" . . . That was three months ago—and he paid the bills for a complete layout of apparel for her . . . Today, she is one of the high-priced models—smiling from newsstands and shop windows at you. The other night she looked at him in the Stork Club—and turned away without even a hello . . . He sent her a note which read: "I'm back to betting on horses. The other day I bet $50 on Whirlaway. He lost—but after the race—he waved and said 'Hello!'"

Oop: Reader's Digest pats Sir Wilmot Lewis for saying: "Dorothy Thompson has discovered the secret of perpetual emotion."
Well, most of us have said that about Kath Hepburn and Tallulah Bankhead—but wotta short memory the Digest editors have. They ran a piece in May, 1940, by Katharine Best titled: "Perpetual Emotion."

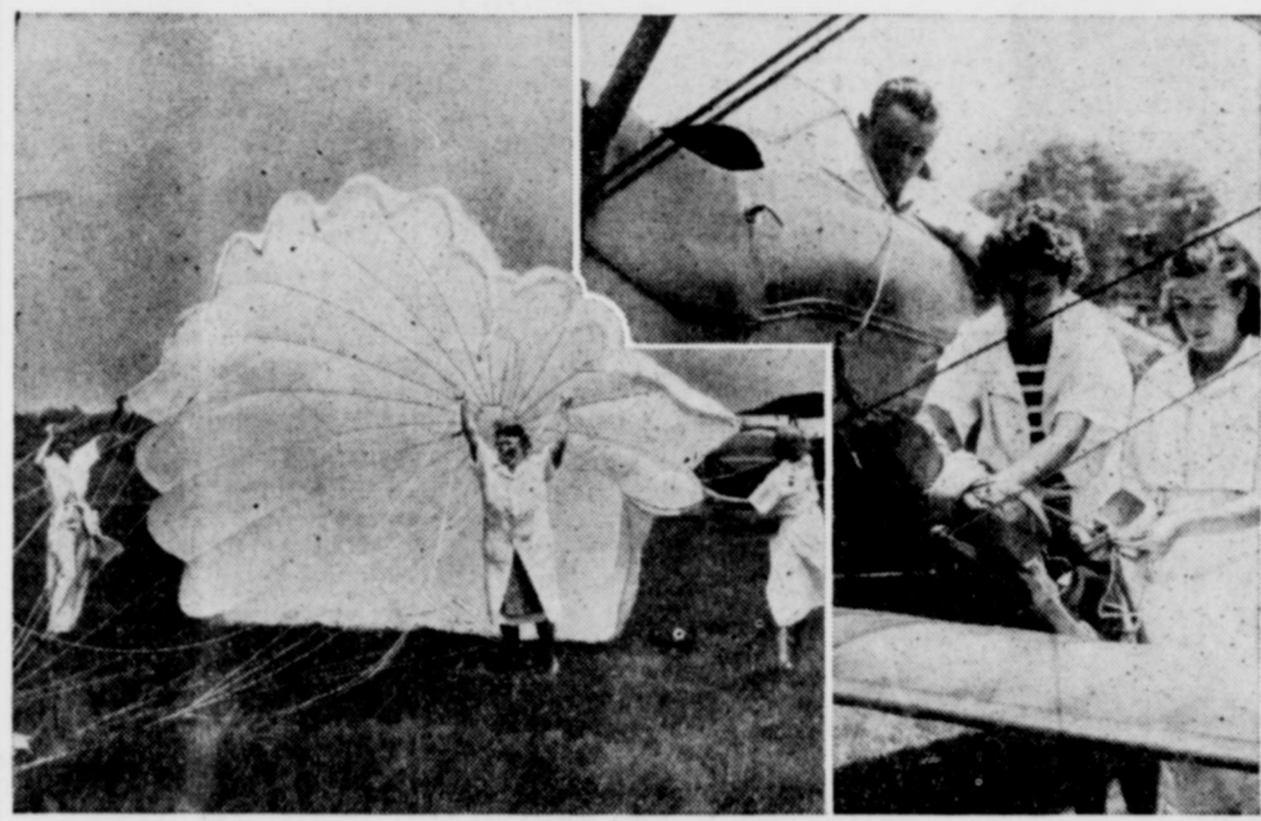

New York Heartbeat: Faces About Town: Fannie Hurst at 7:15 ayem in the park airing her pups . . . William Holden, of the moompitches, in his soldier uniform . . . The Ray Bolgers showing some of the troops from Fort Broadway Theater the Stork cub . . . The woman with the deer on leash . . . Jan Struther, author of "Mrs. Miniver," in the Biltmore Fountain Room . . . Harry Hopkins, with two newspaper men, talking only about his betrothed . . . Greta Garbo on a bike in Central Park.

Feminine 'Chute Packers See Work Tested

Pilot Robert Bitner, pilot of the testing ship, receives the 'chutes. Picture at left shows the completion of a successful test jump. The students struggle to deflate the billowing silk so as to pack it again.

Greetings to Leader of 'Fighting French' 'Bluebeard Tower'

Gen. Charles De Gaulle, left, leader of the "Fighting French" (formerly the Free French) shakes the hand of Lieut. Gen. D. D. Eisenhower, U. S. commander for the European theater on the celebration of Bastille day in London. Adm. H. R. Stark, commander of the U. S. naval forces in European waters (center) looks on.

A force of U. S. marines at Bourne Field, U. S. marine air station, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, looks down on the sunny Caribbean from "Bluebeard's Tower." The turret is all that remains of a fortress which legend says was the retreat of the fabled character.

Paul Revere Rides Again

Paul Revere, 25, of Braintree, Mass., lineal descendant of the famous patriot of the same name, is now a buck private in Uncle Sam's army, having been sworn in recently in the presence of cheering troops. He then toured the camp on Duffy, 101st cavalry horse, before donning his uniform. Above, Paul bids adieu to Duffy and takes over with jeep.

Medical officers have long recognized tobacco as an aid to morale among our armed forces. Surveys among the men themselves have shown that tobacco is their favorite gift. If you have a friend or relative in the Army, Navy, Marines, or Coast Guard who smokes a pipe or rolls his own, nothing would be more appreciated than a pound of his favorite tobacco. Prince Albert, the world's largest-selling smoking tobacco, in the pound can be recommended by local dealers as an ideal gift for men in the service.—Adv.

Give Up 'Makeshift' Constipation Remedies!

Why fool with constipation? Why try to combat the trouble after it has already made you miserable?
It may well be that your constipation is caused by too little "bulk food" in your diet. For medical science warns that lack of "bulk" is one of the commonest causes of constipation.
If yours is this kind of constipation, those purges and cathartics can give you, at best, only temporary relief. Eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, on the other hand, corrects the cause by supplying the "bulk food" you lack and must have! Enjoy this crisp, crunchy cereal daily, drink plenty of water, and like so many others, you'll "Join the Regulars!" ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is not helped by this simple treatment, see a doctor.

Kidneys Must Work Well-

For You To Feel Well
24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.
If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.
Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.
Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

Burk Burnett, Texas,
July 28, 1942.
Dear Burk Star,
In a recent dry ar-
ness of several men including one from
to this advertisement
that our boys had lost
because they were
and also a statement
can't want a drunken ght for us.
These remarks were dry campaign or not I believe these remarks
an unpatriotic utterance ever be made on our part.

ers raise old Billy-hell because they couldn't get all the Coca-Colas as usual and didn't like it at all because the soldier camp had all they could drink. They raised the roof when sugar was rationed, and are now mad at everybody because they can't have new tires so that they can snoop around the so-called Honky Tonks to see what they are missing.

Yes, these people don't realize that these boys are the best in the world, because they are our boys. They are not drunkards as some of these shallow-minded people would have you believe that we should take some of the pleasures away from them who cannot fight their fight, because they have had a drink or two.
If these so-called uplifters would try some of their own members, yes, members of their own churches, I mean those who holler the loudest, for I am sure you will find there are some darn rotten ones, who raise their voices loudest on Sunday and on Monday they talk the loudest in the beer tavern or on the street or parked on the highway and believe me, I know.

So let's not jump on the soldier who is willing to fight and die for us. Let them have some pleasure in life. Let's help them in all ways possible to uphold the moral of our fighting men, and believe me, they will make the best fighters in the world. Don't stab them in the back. I have never done anything for a soldier that I ever regretted and they are as welcome at my home as my own son.
He, too, will soon be there and I want everybody to treat him the same. Personally, I love the uniform and all it stands for and believe me, I know what I speak of.
One person told me that if I keep my attitude towards helping the cause of these boys that it would break my business. Well, if the stand I am taking for these boys will break my business, I certainly don't want any, because I'll fight for these boys and all they stand for.

I am not an ardent dry, in fact,
that issue does not bother me in the least. All I ask is to leave the soldier out of your dirty politics. They have no way to defend themselves, unless you go where you belong, and that is where Hitler is, and if they encounter you there, they will give you all that's coming to you. And besides Hitler could pin a medal on you.
S. E. MARCHAND.

Crops Reported In Good Condition

Production of most 1942 Texas crops will be greater than the 1930-39 average, the Crop Reporting Board of the U. S. Department of Agriculture said last week on the basis of July 1 crop reports.

Exceptions to the large-crop prospects were oats and barley.
Oats were severely damaged by weather and greenbugs during the winter and spring and barley suffered to a smaller degree.

Most of the increases were due expanded acreage. The peanut crop will include harvest of 1-134,000 acres as against 398,000 acres in 1941, and the peanut harvest will also boost the total hay harvest.

Wheat Crop Second
The wheat crop of 47,180,000 bushels will run second only to the bumper crop of 1931 when more than 67,000,000 bushels were harvested. Corn was up about 10 per cent to 31,170,000 bushels.

The rice crop of 22,464,000 bushels indicated by the reports more than doubles the ten year average and is a new record crop.

A "fair" crop of peaches and an "excellent" crop of pears was indicated. Pecans were short in most sections. Citrus fruit condition was above last year.

Despite more than seasonal declines during June, cattle and sheep ranges were said to be generally adequate.

Texas cattle were generally in grass fat flesh; condition of sheep declined 4 points during the month.

"Wing Tips" Aids
Your Air I. Q.

Answering everyday questions about modern American fighting planes and men in interesting pictorial fashion, "Wing Tips," a two-column art feature with an authentic Army Air Forces background, will be published in the Star, beginning in the current issue.

The two-column drawings will answer such questions as these:
(1) Before pulling rip cord, how fast does an aviator fall after jumping from his disabled plane?

(2) What role does the sun play
in air battles? (3) If a plane weighs 10,000 pounds in level flight, what is its apparent weight in a steep turn? (4) How many triggers does a pilot need to fire four machine guns?

These and many more interesting questions about military aviation will be answered in the series. All emphasized with completely authentic drawings made at Randolph Field, America's famous "West Point of the Air,"
headquarters of the Gulf Coast
Army Air Forces Training Center. The training center includes forty flight training schools, instructing aviation cadets as future pilots, bombardiers, navigators, and gunners.

A new "Wing Tip" feature will be published in the Star each week.

DOESN'T BOTHER HIM
Most people had enough trouble with geometry in one year of high school without going through life continually reminded of it. But a 14-year old negro boy in Memphis, Tenn.—name of Geometry Lee—says he has no desire to change his name.

Allred-O'Daniel

cated he may have a statement to make in a day or two.

Moody supporters, who want the former Governor who ran third in the Saturday primary to come out in favor of Allred, have been representing to him that both he and Allred had a common objective, the elimination of O'Daniel from the Senate so that there will be more co-operation with the Administration in the war effort.

Moody has given no definite reply to any and all who have been contacting him, but he is keenly interested. He received 176,916 votes, according to Monday's tabulation by the Texas Election Bureau.

In the meantime, Allred leaders are confident they will win in the runoff in spite of the heavy lead polled by O'Daniel, and in Houston, Allred, Claud Wild, his campaign manager and others are now laying plans for the campaign, and expect to adopt some new strategies. However, the war will continue to be a big issue,

and will be stressed by Allred.

No word has come from O'Daniel
as to his runoff campaign plans, but observers predict he will not repeat his statement that the war is no issue and the President needs no help, which he employed in his first speeches of the first primary contest. Anyway, he will not have a teammate running for gubernatorial nomination
this time.

Congressman Lyndon Johnson,
who in 1941 ran against O'Daniel
for the Senate, to fill the unexpired term caused by the death of Morris Shappard, arrived in Austin Monday, after a stop in Houston, where he conferred with Allred.

Will they BUILD THAT FACTORY
HERE?

TODAY, industry is again expanding—looking for locations for new factories and new branches... considering the advantages and disadvantages of every site proposed.

Naturally, all of us hope that some of these new industries will decide to move here—to add to our payrolls... to increase working opportunities
... to make a wider choice of jobs... and above all to contribute to the general welfare of the city and of each and every one who lives here.

And what is the first question a plant owner asks today about a city under consideration? It is, "WHAT ARE THE CONDITIONS IN THAT CITY?"

By that he means what is the attitude of the people as a whole toward industry? Do they have good city government and good schools? Are taxes equitable? Are the city's business men progressive? Are its citizens fair and reasonable and anxious to work together harmoniously?

Make no mistake about it—cities quickly establish reputations just as people do. Thus, every citizen has a tremendous influence on the future of his home city and on his own opportunities to earn and prosper.

Ask yourself today: "What can I do to help make this city a more inviting field for industry?" Then help build public opinion solidly behind those who believe in maintaining harmonious relations—for a greater prosperity.

Garden—Fresh Vegetables Bring Health to Your Table (See Recipes Below.)

Summer Salads

Salads with summertime meals form a perfect alliance bringing your family precious pep-giving minerals and vitamins. Vitamins A, B, and C are well represented in crisp celery, golden skinned carrots, rosy cheeked tomatoes, green glowing cucumbers and lettuce. Dress them up with a light liquid salad oil blended with seasonings to bring out the hidden flavoring of the vegetables, and you have a perfect warm weather meal.

*Tossed Garden Salad

Wash and drain dry your favorite salad greens—such as lettuce, romaine, watercress or endive; a combination of two or more may be used. Cut or break into pieces and combine with portions of diced celery, cucumber, green pepper, radishes and minced onion. Chill thoroughly. Then place in a salad bowl; add Basic French Dressing and bits of tomato. Toss lightly until well blended. This type of salad may also be served with just an oil and vinegar combination as a dressing.

Basic French Dressing.

(Makes 1/2 cup)
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon sugar
 1/4 teaspoon paprika
 Dash white pepper
 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
 1/2 cup mild salad oil
 1/4 cup cider vinegar or lemon juice

Combine first five ingredients in a jar and blend well. Add vinegar, cover and shake; add oil and shake again thoroughly. Just before using, shake again. Or simply mix ingredients together in a bowl and beat with mixer until well blended.

Leftover meats and vegetables served daintily in lettuce cups make tempting main dishes for lunch or supper. Have a hot soup, potato chips, thin bread and butter sandwiches and fresh fruit to serve with salad. The next three salads are perfect as a main course.

Veal Salad, Summer Style.

(Serves 6)
 2 cups cold veal, diced
 1 cup string beans or celery or both
 6 hard-cooked eggs
 Salt and pepper
 4 tablespoons salad oil
 1 1/2 tablespoons vinegar
 3 tomatoes
 Mayonnaise
 Lettuce and parsley

Chop eggs coarsely, combine with veal, oil, vinegar, salt and pepper. Let stand 30 minutes. Add mayonnaise to moisten. Arrange salad in a mound and garnish.

Jellied Green Pea Salad.

(Serves 6)
 1 tablespoon gelatin
 1/4 cup cold water
 1/2 cup pea liquor

Save Washing Time: So many new demands are being made on your time these days, it is wise to make the best possible use of each minute. One way is in how you use your washing machine.

For instance, long washing is not necessarily good washing, and it wastes time. Soap undergoes a chemical change after it has been used a little while, suds "break down" and the suds is actually deposited again on the fabric. Then it is practically impossible to get the articles clean.

Only individual experimentation can show how short to keep the washing of each load, and yet be thorough. Tests have revealed one woman taking only half the time of another to wash a practically identical washing, yet doing it better.

Twenty-minute soaking hastens washing by loosening soil. Then remove water by wringing the articles into the first washer full of sudsy water of the right temperature.

Copper flashing around pipes, dormer windows and the edges of roofs never needs painting. But copper is now on the priority list. If you have or are installing galvanized flashing, remember that it should be examined frequently and kept covered with paint.

A good way to utilize stale bread is to make crisp rusks to eat with butter and cheese. Break up the bread into fairly equal sizes, dip into a little sweetened milk, and bake in a warm oven until dry and crisp.

To increase the amount of frosting for custards, puddings, etc., without increasing the amount of material used, take the whites of the eggs you saved, beat them as usual and drop the mixture into a saucepan of boiling water. It will instantly rise to the top and will make a large amount of very light white frosting. Spread at once and serve.

Chopped ripe olives with the merest dash of garlic make a pungent filling for small white bread sandwiches to be toasted and served with cocktails.

SHE LOVED A SPY by SYLVIA TAYLOR

THE STORY SO FAR: Joan Leland, secretary, in love with handsome Karl Miller, night club owner, is horrified and disillusioned...

Now continue with the story.

CHAPTER XVII

"And you? Don't you want to go home?" Mulford asked Joan.

"I understand, and I'll take him of course. But, Joan, I think you should go too. I'm really shocked at this situation..."

"I have a very good idea, and if I'm wrong it's going to be tough on all of us."

"Please come down, Paul," she begged. "I must talk with you."

"The most wonderful thing has happened! Arthur Mulford is here! I used to work for him before I got my job with Karl..."

"Yes! How did you know?" "Very simple deduction, darling," Paul laughed. "I read it in your eyes..."

"I know you're doing this for my sake, Paul, and I appreciate it, really I do."

Silently they filed out of the plane and at Mulford's command entered a waiting automobile, followed by the bewildered Thomas.

"I came because we are at last on the trail. Because we're being taken straight to the heart of the spy ring."

"I have a very good idea, and if I'm wrong it's going to be tough on all of us."

"I understand, and I'll take him of course. But, Joan, I think you should go too. I'm really shocked at this situation..."

Such a Racket Couldn't Be Kept From Landlord

The landlord was showing a prospective tenant the premises. Everything seemed to be satisfactory, when the landlord spoke up. "You know, we keep it very quiet and orderly here," he said. "Do you have any children?"

"No, just my wife and myself," was the reply. "Do you have a piano, a radio, or a phonograph?"

"No," "Do you play any musical instruments?" "No." "Do you have a cat, or dog, or a parrot?"

"No, but I feel that in all fairness I must tell you my fountain pen scratches when I write with it."

Card Of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the loving kindness and thoughtfulness of our many friends and neighbors during the death of our infant son.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Eastman.

Judge C. M. McFarland Thanks Voters

C. M. McFARLAND

With a humble and contrite heart, I thank the voters of Wichita County for the wonderful vote of confidence I received.

The unofficial count shows I received a clear majority in 24 of the 48 boxes in the county, and a strong plurality in 13 others. I attribute this overwhelming vote to the loyal support of my many thousands of friends. To me it is an inspiration—a call for the highest and best service of which I am capable. If elected I shall meet that call.

I want here, to express my high appreciation of the clean, courteous and high minded campaign conducted by my friend Bill Wood, I commend him for it, and congratulate him on the splendid vote he received.

There is as I see it, but one issue in my race for State Representative, District 111, Place 1, and that is: "Who best can serve Wichita County in the crisis we face?"

With four men in the race, 47% of the voters of Wichita County answered that question in my favor on July 25th. I bespeak their continued support. To all others, I urge thoughtful, prayerful consideration of the issue, and solicit their support on my record of

C. M. McFarland.

Navy To Enlist 250 Men Monthly

Enough men to equal the crew of a destroyer now building will be enlisted from the Wichita Falls Navy recruiting district each month during August and September, Chief J. C. Hemrick recruiter in charge of this district announced today. The district includes Archer, Baylor, Childress, Clay, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman, Jack, King, Knox, Montague, Throckmorton, Wilbarger, Wichita and Young counties.

Sponsoring the campaign to enlist at least 250 men from this district each month will be American Legion Posts and civic organizations in each county. Committees have been organized and supplied with Navy recruiting literature. Individual members will be designated "Volunteer Navy Recruiter."

A monthly quota of volunteer enlistments for naval service has been assigned each county based on population. Exact figures on complements of naval vessels are secret, Chief Hamrick said, but certain figures may be used for recruiting purposes. In the Houston Navy recruiting district, comprising the Southern half of Texas a recent slogan was "Wanted, 1,000 Volunteers for Replacement of the Cruiser Houston."

Wichita County with a population of 73,604, is asked to furnish 68 volunteers each of the two months. The recruiting slogan for this county is "Wichita County Navy Enlistments Shall Equal the Gunnery Force of a Destroyer."

King County with a population of 1,066 and a quota of 2 men per month will have for a review ten years of honorable intelligent public service.

I urge everyone to vote. It is a high privilege. And this year, when men are shedding their life blood on world wide battlefields to preserve that privilege, it becomes a sacred duty. Let us all perform that solemn duty by voting according to the dictates of our conscience, and for the good of the State.

C. M. McFarland.

Harvey Hawkins Thanks Voters

I have the kindest feeling toward all, and to those who did not vote for me last Saturday, may I say that your vote in the second primary on August 22nd, will be greatly appreciated.

Harvey F. Hawkins.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

One of Lincoln's favorite poems: If you are too weak to journey Up the mountain, steep and high, You can stand within the valley While the multitudes go by— You can chant in happy measure, As they slowly pass along— Though they may forget the singer, They will not forget the song.

If you can not in the conflict Prove yourself a soldier true; If where fire and smoke are thickest, There's no work for you to do— When the battlefield is silent, You can go with careful tread; You can bear away the wounded, You can cover up the dead.

Do not then stand idly waiting For some greater work to do; Fortune is a lazy goddess— She will never come to you. Go and toil in any vineyard, Do not fear to do or dare— If you want a field of labor, You can find it anywhere.

An editor's little daughter came home from Sunday school with an illustrated card in her hand. "What is it?" her mother asked. "Oh," said the child, "just an advertisement about heaven."

Col. C. A. Studer of Canadian in his rodeo association publication, "Round-up", has this modern fable:

Once upon a time there was a mama cow, a papa cow and a little boy cow, and they were happy—until one day the little boy cow wandered away. The papa cow and the mama cow started searching for the little fellow, looking carefully in every crevice and behind all of the hills. They searched all day and walked many miles, but found no trace of their wandering boy.

Finally, just as the sun was setting in the west, they came to a huge bluff. The mama cow looked out across the vast expanse and many, many miles away she saw their little boy grazing contentedly in the valley below.

Amazed, they stood a few seconds and looked at him. Then the mama cow turned to the papa cow and said, "That goes to show just how far a little bull will go."

Proverbs of France (when France could be philosophically witty): Speak little and well if you would be esteemed as a man of merit. Patience is bitter but its fruit is sweet. There are no miracles to the man who does not believe in them.

And to the "country editors" of Texas and to all you folks, much obliged for the aid and support you gave Boyce House during the recent campaign.
